6 Which reading materials from exercise 5 do you read for pleasure; for work; for your studies? Make three lists.
Effective Reading

During your course, you will do a lot of reading. It is essential that you learn how to be an effective and efficient reader in order to make the best of your study time. Learning to be a good reader takes practice. You need to develop different strategies or methods of reading.

Skimming

Sometimes you will read just to get a general idea of a text. This is skimming. First, identify your reason for reading, for example, to decide whether an article meets your needs, or perhaps to understand a writer's attitude. To do this, read the text very quickly. Don't worry about reading and understanding everything. Instead, look particularly at the first and last paragraphs, and the first and last sentences of paragraphs. These often summarize the main points.

Scanning

Sometimes you will read quickly to find particular pieces of information, for example, a statistic, a date, a person's name, or the name of a place. Again, you do not need to read every word to find this information. Instead, scan the text using a finger or a pencil to move quickly through the words. You could time yourself to see how long it takes you to find the information. Always try to improve your speed.

Intensive reading

Sometimes you read for every detail, for example, a description of a process, the results of a scientific study, or a set literature text. To do this, take your time. Stop and think about what you are reading. Have you understood the text? You may need to read the text more than once, in order to make notes or highlight important points for future reference. This is called intensive reading or study reading.

Extensive reading

Sometimes you will read for pleasure—perhaps as extra research, or purely for interest. You may concentrate, but you don't have to worry about detail. This is extensive reading.

We do not always read the same kinds of texts in the same way, and we often use more than one method of reading for a single text. Your reason for reading will help you decide how to read.
WRITING  A host family

1 Imagine you are going abroad to do a short course and are going to live with a host family. What information would you give them and what information would you want? Think about:

- dates
- food
- personal information
- transport
- computer access
- hobbies

2 Burcu Sancak, a Turkish student, is writing to her host family. Read her email. Tick (✓) the items from exercise 1 that she mentions.

Accommodation message

From: Burcu Sancak [bsancak@mailnet.com.tr]
To: Mr and Mrs Baker
Subject: Accommodation

Sent: 16 July 2007

Dear Mr and Mrs Baker,

I'm very happy to accept your offer of accommodation. I'm really excited about coming to London for the first time to do an English course.

I am in my last year of school and next year I want to go to university to study English Language and Literature. At the moment I am preparing for my final exams, so I'm working very hard. When I'm not so busy, I spend a lot of time reading, but I also enjoy sports. I play basketball for my school team once a week. I also enjoy swimming. Is there a sports club with a swimming pool near your house?

As I mentioned in my last email, my course starts on 24th July but I'm coming two days earlier and my plane arrives at Heathrow on the 22nd at 14.25. Could you tell me the best way of getting from the airport to your house?

I hope to hear from you soon and I'm really looking forward to seeing you in London.

Best wishes,

Burcu Sancak

Writing an informal email

4 Imagine you are going to stay with a family for a short course. Write them an email. Write about 100 words.

- Say you accept their offer of a room.
- Tell them about your studies and your hobbies.
- Give them information about your arrival.
- Ask for information you would like.

Check your work carefully. Give it to another student to check again.
1 Put the following words into alphabetical order as quickly as you can.
Compare your order with a partner.

brainstorm, skin, question, accommodation, dictionary, biography, student, vocabulary, writing, punctuation, scan, pronunciation, computer, technology, study, voice, keyboard.

2 Read Study Skill Here is an entry from the Oxford Student's Dictionary.
Label the parts of the entry 1–5 using the words in the box.

3 Look at the word card. What five pieces of information does it give you about the word study?

4 Make word cards for the underlined words in 1–6. Use your dictionary.

| 1 I am studying Chemical Engineering. |
| 2 We scan a timetable to get the information we want. |
| 3 Correct punctuation is very important in good writing. |
| 4 Always check in a dictionary if you are not sure about how a word is spelt. |
| 5 A biography is the story of someone's life. |
| 6 Novels, plays, and poetry are examples of literature. |

STUDY SKILL Recording vocabulary (1)

It is important to keep a record of new vocabulary. You may wish to keep these records in a vocabulary notebook or in a special vocabulary file on the computer.

Wherever you record new vocabulary, it is helpful to note more than the translation. Also note, for example:

- the pronunciation
- the stressed syllables
- part of speech
- associated words and grammar, e.g. a biography of someone

10 Unit 2 • Where in the world ...?
The Republic of Singapore is an island in South-East Asia, just 137km north of the Equator. It became an independent city-state in 1965. Singapore has few natural resources. However, it developed a strong economy and is a popular tourist destination. People come here for its fabulous shopping, the famous Singapore Zoo, and its beautiful man-made beaches. Singapore has a rich mixture of people and many languages are spoken here, including Malay, English, Mandarin, and Tamil.

The Kingdom of Morocco is a country in North Africa. It has the Atlantic Ocean to the west, the Mediterranean Sea to the north, Algeria to the east, and Western Sahara to the south. It became an independent kingdom in 1956. Its economy depends on mining and tourism. Morocco's attractions include the historic city of Fez, the wonderful beaches on the Atlantic and Mediterranean, and the Sahara Desert. Arabic is the official language, although French is often used for business.

Wales is in northern Europe. It is part of the United Kingdom. It borders England to the east, and has the Irish Sea on the west. Wales was ruled by England for many centuries, but in 1999 its own National Assembly was created. Farming and tourism are important parts of its economy. Tourists come to Wales to see its many ancient castles, to walk and climb in its beautiful mountains, or to walk along its wild coastline. Although most people speak English, both Welsh and English are the official languages.

STUDY SKILL  Brainstorming ideas

Before you write, think about the topic. Work with a partner or in a group.

- Use a diagram to help you organize your thoughts.
- Decide on topic areas, and think of examples.
- Write notes and single words on the diagram.
- Don't discard any ideas or thoughts at this stage.
- Don't worry about what is more or less important at this stage.

When you finish brainstorming ideas, choose which ideas you want to use in your writing, and decide on a logical order for them.

2 Complete the paragraph about France. Use information from the diagram in exercise 1.

FRANCE — SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE!

France is a large country in ___________. It has ___________ with many countries, including Germany, Italy, and Spain. It was ruled by a king. However, after the revolution in ___________, it became a republic.

France has good natural resources, such as water and ___________. Farming, car manufacturing, and ___________ are other important parts of its economy. The capital of France is Paris, which lies on the River Seine. Many tourists stay in the city to see the ___________ Tower, or to visit the world-famous Louvre Museum and the many other attractions. There are also lots of other things to do outside Paris. You can go skiing in the ___________, visit ___________, or go swimming in the Mediterranean. Although the official language is French, many people speak a little English. So, whatever your interests and wherever you come from, France has something for you.
3 Look back at the text on page 12. Write the topic areas from the box next to numbers 1–5 in the order they appear in the text.

languages   attractions   geography   important date(s)   economy

1 _____  2 _____  3 _____  4 _____  5 _____

4 With a partner, quickly brainstorm ideas about your country. Write your ideas on a diagram. Use the topic areas from exercise 3.

5 Read Study Skill Underline other examples of but, however, and although in the three texts on page 11.

STUDY SKILL Linking ideas (I)

Linking ideas in a clear and logical way is part of good writing. Use but, however, and although to contrast two ideas.

Look at sentences a and b. Compare the way but, however, and although are used to link them. What differences are there?

a The official language is French.

b Many people speak a little English.

The official language is French, but many people speak a little English.

The official language is French. However, many people speak a little English.

Although the official language is French, many people speak a little English.

The official language is French, although many people speak a little English.

6 Link the pairs of sentences using the word in brackets.

1 Many people think that Sydney is the capital of Australia. Canberra is really the capital. (but)

2 The Amazon is the longest river in South America. The Nile is the longest river in the world. (however)

3 Mount Everest is the highest mountain in the world. It is not the most difficult to climb. (although)

4 It is very hot in the Sahara during the day. It can be very cold at night. (although)

Writing a description of my country

7 Write a paragraph of about 150 words describing your country. Use your ideas from exercise 4. Link them using but, however, and although.
1 Put the words in the box into two groups. Then organize them in order of size (smallest → biggest) or speed (slowest → fastest).

bicycle  sea  ocean  aeroplane  space rocket  lake  car  pond

A synonym is a word or phrase that has the same meaning as another word or phrase.
An antonym is a word or a phrase that means the opposite of another word or phrase.

STUDY SKILL Recording vocabulary (2)

Recording words in groups can make them easier to remember. You can use:
- diagrams like the ones in this unit
- a scale as in exercise 1
- synonyms and antonyms as in exercise 2
- a picture with labels as in exercise 3.

Continue to add new words to each group as you learn them.
1 Go back through Unit 2. Add examples to the table. Write the definite article

A free flight to Dubai

A twenty-three-year-old Dutch student has enjoyed a short but unexpected holiday in Dubai. Mr Frank Vreede, a business student, had taken a part-time job at Schiphol Airport to help pay for his studies. He worked as a baggage handler and was responsible for loading the suitcases into the hold of passenger planes.

Last Friday night, after an exhausting day in the university library preparing for his final exams, Frank was loading a plane at the airport. He was waiting for the next baggage truck to arrive and he felt tired. He decided to have a quick rest, so he sat down in the hold of the plane and shut his eyes – just for a moment.

However, while he was sleeping, the plane took off. An hour later, Frank woke up and was horrified to discover that the plane was in the air. There was a terrible noise from the engines, and he tried not to panic. It was dark, uncomfortable and very, very cold. Frank knew the flight would be long because it was an airline from the Middle East. He also knew he could not survive the freezing temperatures. It was an impossible situation.

He decided to make as much noise as possible. He banged on the ceiling of the baggage hold and shouted at the top of his voice. Luckily, a passenger heard the noise and called a flight attendant, who immediately informed the pilot. Once the captain understood what was happening, he ordered hot air to be pumped into the hold.

When the plane arrived at Dubai International Airport, an ambulance was waiting to take a very cold and frightened Mr Vreede to hospital. Doctors examined him, but he was unhurt and was allowed to leave after a few hours. News spread quickly about this ‘stowaway’. The Managing Director of one of Dubai’s top hotels offered him a free room for the weekend. ‘He must have wanted to come to Dubai very much if he was prepared to travel in the hold!’ joked the MD.

‘Everyone’s been so kind,’ said Mr Vreede. ‘I’m really enjoying my stay in Dubai and I’m getting a lot of rest, so I won’t fall asleep on the job again!’

When Frank returned to Schiphol Airport on Monday, his friends and relatives were overjoyed to see him. ‘When he didn’t come home after his evening shift on Friday, I called the airport – but nobody had seen him for hours,’ his mother said to reporters. Frank explained that he was very lucky because it is possible to die of cold in the hold of an aircraft. He apologized to his boss for sleeping at work instead of working, and promised it would not happen again. ‘During the flight I was petrified. I thought I was going to die!’ said Mr Vreede. ‘I wouldn’t want to do it again. Next time, I’ll catch a regular flight!’
2 Read Study Skill Make questions about the article. Use the question words in the box.

| Why ...? | Where ...? | Who ...? | When ...? | What ...? | How ...? |

Why wasn't it a free flight?

STUDY SKILL Predicting content

Predicting the content of a text prepares you for what you are about to read. Being well-prepared helps comprehension.

Before you read a text:
- look at the title
- look at any pictures

Use these to get an idea of what the text is about. Ask some questions (Who? Where? Why? etc.) to help you predict the content and to focus on the information you need.

3 Skim the text to get a general idea of the story. Were your ideas right? Does the text answer your questions?

4 Read the article more slowly and answer the questions.
1 Who is the article about?
2 What other people are mentioned in the article?
3 Where did the events happen?
4 When did the events happen?
5 What was the problem?
6 How was the problem solved?

Compare your answers with a partner.

5 Read Study Skill Copy the table. Guess the meaning of the words in bold in the article A Free Flight to Dubai. Use the part of speech and the context to help.

STUDY SKILL Meaning from context

Texts often contain words we don't know. Looking up every word takes time and slows down your reading.

To help you guess the meaning from the context:
- look at the words and sentences around the unknown word.
- identify the part of speech.
- use your knowledge of the world (what you already know about the situation).
- think about whether the word has a generally negative or positive meaning.
- replace the unknown word with another word with a similar meaning and check that it makes sense in the sentence.

Unit 3 · Newspaper articles 17
WRITING  Mistaken identity

1 Look at paragraph 1 of the newspaper article A Case of Mistaken Identity on page 19. Separate it into six sentences. Punctuate the sentences correctly.

STUDY SKILL  Sentences
- write short, clear sentences.
- join ideas and sentences using linking words, for example, however, after, etc. (see page 13).
- punctuate correctly using capital letters, full stops, question marks, and exclamation marks.

2 Complete paragraph 2 of the article using the words in the box.

after  and  unfortunately  but  because  so

3 Read the beginnings of paragraphs 3 and 4 of the article. Choose which sentences, a or b, from 1–5 belong to each paragraph. Write the paragraphs.

1 a Then the car stopped in front of a large conference centre. Paragraph 3 b He told John that everything was ready for him. Paragraph 4 2 a Mr Taylor jumped out of the car with his briefcase and rushed into the centre.
   b 'Follow me, please,' he said.
3 a John Taylor got up, checked his tie was straight, and picked up his briefcase.
   b There, to his relief, he was greeted in English by the conference organizer.
4 a He followed the organizer out of the room.
   b 'Welcome to Paris, Mr Taylor,' said the smartly-dressed organizer and he led John Taylor down a long corridor and into a small room.
5 a After giving Mr Taylor a coffee, the organizer went off to make sure everything was ready.
   b The organizer opened a door and led John Taylor into a large hall full of ... schoolchildren!

4 Look at the next two paragraphs. Which is paragraph 5? Which is paragraph 6?

STUDY SKILL  Paragraphs
To help your writing flow:
- group ideas on the same topic together in a paragraph.
- make sure there is a clear link between the content of one paragraph and the next.

5 Read paragraph 1 of the article again. Find an example of the: Present Perfect, Past Simple, Past Continuous, and Past Perfect.

STUDY SKILL  Varying the structure
Interesting writing often contains a variety of tenses.
For example:
- Past Simple – It was a comfortable flight.
- Past Continuous – He was loading a plane at the airport.
- Present Perfect – He has been to France before.
- Past Perfect – He had taken a part-time job at the airport.
A case of mistaken identity

1. Have you ever been mistaken for someone else last week Mr John Taylor, an Australian businessman, went to Paris for an important meeting he was sent by the Australian government to give a speech to French businessmen and women it was to encourage more trade it was, therefore, a very important speech and Mr Taylor had prepared it carefully at the same time a Mr Paul Taylor was also travelling on the same flight to Paris.

2. It was a comfortable flight 1__________ his plane arrived on time. John Taylor was expecting a driver to pick him up from the airport. 2________ going through customs and immigration control, he went to find the driver. He saw a man who was holding a sign saying 'Mr Taylor'. 3________ he introduced himself. The driver replied in French. 4________, Mr Taylor did not speak French, 5________ he did understand the words 'hotel' and 'seminar'. 6________ the meeting was early that morning, John Taylor decided to go straight to the seminar. He nodded his head at the driver and repeated 'seminar'.

3. While the car was speeding through Paris, Mr Taylor went through his notes one more time.

4. The organizer returned a few minutes later.

Paragraph

This case of mistaken identity was quickly noticed and put right. Both Mr Taylors, Paul and John, were put into taxis and driven at great speed to their correct meetings. Fortunately, both presentations were hugely successful, as they discovered when they were seated next to each other on the flight back to Australia!

Paragraph

John Taylor looked around in horror at the children. Then he heard the organizer asking them to welcome Mr Paul Taylor. He was going to tell them about kangaroo farming in Australia! Meanwhile, on the other side of the city, Mr Paul Taylor was also in a large hall full of people. Paul, dressed in blue jeans and cowboy boots, was staring in horror at 200 smartly-suited businessmen and women.

<tr>

</tbody>
</table>

STUDY SKILL  Antonyms from prefixes

The antonyms of some words can be made by adding a prefix such as un-, in-, im-, for example, successful/ unsuccessful. In other cases, the antonym is a completely different word, for example, good/bad.

When you look up a new word in the dictionary, make a note of its antonym.

| un-     |  |
|---------|  |
| in-     |  |
| il-     |  |

INNOVATIONS

THE SILENT PLANE

Annoyance from aeroplane noise could be a thing of the past as plans are announced to design a silent aircraft. The aim is to reduce the noise from a plane so that city-dwellers will no longer hear it passing overhead once it has left the airport.

This noise reduction will be achieved in three main ways. Firstly, the plane is being designed as a single, wide wing. Secondly, the engines will be placed above the wing, inside the plane, rather than under the wings and outside, and thirdly the airplane will be flown differently, for example at a reduced speed when it is near the airport.

The aircraft is just a design concept at the moment and many technological challenges will have to be met before we have silent planes overhead.

THE CAR THAT DRIVES ITSELF

A __________ It can steer itself and control its speed. This is the latest development in the long history of the automobile industry.

B __________ The first is a radar sensor in the front of the car. It scans the road in front of the car, looking for other vehicles. It then speeds the car up or slows it down according to the traffic conditions. The second device is a camera below the rear-view mirror which watches the white lines in the road. It uses these lines as a guide to steering the car.

C __________ Firstly, the system can only work on motorways, and secondly, they still need a driver. If the driver doesn’t touch the steering wheel every 10 seconds, the devices can stop working.

D __________ They are already working on new models that will be able to drive on city roads. So, perhaps one day soon, we will be able to jump into our cars and sleep or read a book as we are driven to work!

Opinions and Questions: the Readers Write!

Sir,

Is anyone else fed up with their home computer? I bought one to make my life easier and it has done exactly the opposite! Everyone told me that it would be easy to set up. ‘A child could do it!’ they said. So, I tried and it has been a disaster. It crashes constantly and instead of saving me time, I seem to spend all my free time trying to make it work. If this is an example of modern technology, give me an old-fashioned typewriter anytime.

Yours

W.F. Campbell (Mr)

Dear Sir,

I strongly disagree with the previous correspondent about the quality of photographs from digital cameras. Perhaps for the professional photographer, an old-fashioned camera is better, but for most of us a digital camera is ideal. You can preview your photos, edit them, and then only download the ones you want. What’s more, you can send them to your family and friends at once. Brilliant!

Yours faithfully,

Paula Adams

Sir,

I am writing to ask for some advice about memory sticks. I use mine to keep a copy of my data, in case something goes wrong with my computer. However, I was told that memory sticks are unreliable and are easily damaged by anything magnetic, or by going through scanners, at airports, for example. Could you please clarify for me whether this is true? I have a new job that requires me to travel regularly, and I was hoping to take my memory stick on trips.

Yours,

A. Jefcoate

<tr>
<td>Can make a call at any time, anywhere.</td>
<td>Annoying in a public place e.g. in a restaurant.</td>

2 Read the essay. Did you have the same ideas?

Mobile phones

A Mobile phones are now part of our everyday lives. Most people find them essential and could not manage without them. However, there are also some drawbacks to owning and using a mobile phone.

B There are three main advantages to having mobile phones. Firstly, there is the convenience of being able to make or receive a phone call at any time and in any place. Secondly, they are essential for keeping in touch with family and friends. Parents worried about their children can always ring them to check they are safe, and children can let their family know if they are going to be late home. Finally, mobile phones can save lives. For example, if there is an accident, help can be called immediately, wherever the accident takes place.

C On the other hand, there are significant problems with the use of mobile phones. In the first place, using mobile phones can cause accidents, for instance, when people are driving and using their phone at the same time. In addition, the loud use of mobile phones in public places such as restaurants and cinemas is rude and can be very irritating for other people. Lastly, there has been an increase in street crime directly related to mobile phones. People have been attacked and their phones stolen from them.

D In conclusion, I believe that, despite the disadvantages, mobile phones are essential to modern life and that the advantages to owning one are far greater than the disadvantages.

3 Consider the purpose of each paragraph. Which paragraph A, B, C, or D... ?

- says why mobile phone use can be a good thing.
- introduces the subject.
- concludes and gives the writer’s opinion.
- says why mobile phone use can be a bad thing.

STUDY SKILL  Organizing ideas (1)

When writing an essay where you have to give two sides of an argument:

- organize your ideas into arguments for and arguments against, and give some examples.
- write a paragraph for, and a paragraph against, giving your ideas in alogical order.
- write an introduction and a conclusion. Give your personal opinion in the conclusion.

STUDY SKILL  Linking ideas (2)

To help the reader understand your writing and follow your ideas, link short, simple ideas. Use:

- firstly, secondly, ... for more than one argument or idea
- however (see Study Skill p13), on the other hand, despite ... for a contrast between two ideas
- for instance, for example, ...
  for an example to illustrate an idea
- in conclusion, to sum up, ...
  for the final comment
5 Read the essay title. Do you agree or disagree with it?
Discuss with a partner.

Access to satellite and Internet television does more harm than good.

6 Divide arguments 1–6 into those that support the essay title (against satellite Internet TV), and those that disagree with it (for satellite Internet TV). Add one more argument to each list.

1 People (especially children) have access to programmes with unsuitable content.
2 It gives people access to programmes around the world — the opportunity to learn about other cultures.
3 A huge choice of programmes is available — something for every interest, for example sport, music, film, documentary channels.
4 More access to TV encourages people (especially children) to watch more TV, so there is less time for hobbies or family.
5 Programmes in other languages, for example English, can support language learning.
6 The programmes available may not be culturally appropriate.

Writing a discursive essay

7 Complete the essay using the arguments from exercise 6. Link ideas with words and phrases from exercise 4. Follow the organization in the box. Write about 200 words.

Title Access to satellite and Internet television does more harm than good.

Introduction
Many people have strong feelings about the value of television, especially now that programmes are available through satellite and over the Internet. There are those who suggest that increased access to these programmes does more harm than good. However, there are those who insist that it is a good thing.

Paragraph 2 satellite and Internet TV does harm + examples

Paragraph 3 satellite and Internet TV is good + examples

Paragraph 4 conclusion and your opinion
VOCABULARY DEVELOPMENT  Varying vocabulary (1)

1 Match the linking words or phrases with their synonyms.

1. finally  a. but
2. firstly  b. for instance
3. for example  c. in contrast
4. however  d. in the first place
5. in conclusion  e. lastly
6. on the other hand  f. to conclude

2 Replace the word(s) in bold in each sentence with a synonym from the box.

1. There are three disadvantages to your suggestion.
2. Smoking at work has been outlawed in many countries.
3. Most car owners believe their car is necessary for their work and leisure.
4. If there has been a car accident, you should call the police straight away.
5. There has been a huge increase in mobile phone ownership.

3 Read Study Skill Use your dictionary to find synonyms for these words from the unit.

STUDY SKILL Avoiding repetition (1)

To avoid sounding repetitive in your writing, try not to use the same words too often. Where possible, use a synonym. A good dictionary will often give you a synonym within the definition of a word, or the symbol SYN next to a word with the same meaning.

- finally (finally adv. 1 after a long time or delay: It was getting dark when the phone finally took off. [SYN] eventually 2 used to introduce the last in a list of things: Finally, I would like to say how much we have all enjoyed this evening. [SYN] lastly 3 in a definite way so that sth will not be changed: We haven't decided finally who will get the job yet.)

| ideal | wonderful | manufacture | automobile | accelerate | steal | rude | discover |

4 Replace the words in bold in the paragraph with synonyms. Use your dictionary to help.

Smart cards, that is, credit cards, mobile phone SIM cards, and so on, which contain a very small computer microprocessor, have their origins in the 1970s. A Frenchman, Roland Moreno, manufactured a circuit that could store electronic data. Since then, this idea has grown into a multi-billion-dollar business.
EVIEW

Look at the essay titles. Brainstorm and write down three arguments for and three arguments against each title.

Using computers saves a lot of time.
Cars should be banned from city centres.
Young people spend too much time playing computer games.
People have become too dependent on modern technology.

Write a topic sentence which states the main idea for each paragraph below.

Laptop computers

Many people now travel the world on business and they need to be able to use a computer at all times. Firstly, it is important that they can write and answer important emails when they are away from their offices. Secondly, having a laptop means that people don’t waste time when they are travelling as they can work while they are on a plane or train, for example. Lastly, a laptop can also help busy businessmen and women to relax. They can listen to music or even watch their favourite movie while they are hundreds of kilometres from home!

Voice-controlled technology

Already some people have installed voice-controlled technology in their homes. They use their mobile phones to ‘tell’ their lights to switch on, or to ‘order’ their television to turn off. However, in the future more and more of us will be using this technology to control our heating, our lighting and security in our homes. Perhaps one day we will be able to ‘tell’ our ovens to cook our dinners!

Divide the vocabulary from Unit 4 into two topics: cars and aeroplanes.

airport fly motorways plane rear-view mirror steering wheel traffic wing

Add four of the words in the box to the two topics. Use your dictionary to help. Record these words in groups using a method from the Study Skill box on page 14.

accelerator brakes clutch cockpit

Nancy,
Are you going to the conference in Istanbul next week? I'm giving a paper on the first day and chairing the plenary on the second day! It would be great to see a familiar face in the audience. If not, I'll send you a copy of my paper on 'English as a World Language' and you can tell me what you think. Any criticism welcome! The programme looks great—we've even got some sightseeing arranged each day. I'm really looking forward to visiting the Blue Mosque—I've only ever seen photos of it. Don't forget to let me know if you'll be there.

STUDY SKILL  Suffixes

Identify the part of speech of a word (verb, noun, adjective, or adverb) to help you understand the meaning and develop your vocabulary. For example:

- inform (v), information (n), informal (adj), informally (adv)

Suffixes give you clues to the part of speech, for example:
- -tion, -ism, -ment, -ity, -ness are noun suffixes, for example, invitation.
- -al, -ful, -able are adjective suffixes, for example, international.
- -ly is an adverb suffix, for example, formally.

STUDY SKILL  Prefixes

Adding a prefix changes the meaning of a word. Each prefix has a different meaning and can be found as a separate entry in the dictionary. For example:

mis- means wrong or not e.g. misunderstand.
bi- means two or twice, e.g. biannual (twice a year).

STUDY SKILL  Making notes

Take time to make good notes. They will help you to organize, record, and remember important information you have read. Use your notes to prepare for essay writing, for doing revision, and for sitting exams.

To find and mark relevant information:
- ask yourself what information you need.
- read and underline/highlight relevant information in the text (use different colours to represent different types of information, for example, blue for man-made causes, yellow for natural causes).
- rewrite the information as notes.

To organize your notes:
- use bullet points, headings, and numbering.

To be concise:
- don’t write full sentences. Leave out words that are not central to understanding/meaning:
  articles (a, an, the)  the verb ‘to be’ prepositions (in, at, on)  auxiliary verbs (has sent)
- use some simple abbreviations and symbols:
  e.g. (for example)  .: (therefore)
  .: (because)  = (equals/means)
  → (leads to)
Air pollution

Air pollution is a major problem all over the world today. Probably the single biggest contributor to the problem is the motor vehicle. However, there are many other man-made sources, such as industrial factories, power stations, mining, building, and the burning of fossil fuels and wood in homes around the world. There are natural sources of air pollution too; volcanoes and forest fires produce a lot of pollutants. However, it is the increasing number and use of motor vehicles that is doing the most damage, and logically, where there are more cars, there is more pollution, that is, in the major cities of the world. Some of the most polluted cities include Beijing, Mexico City, Athens, Moscow, and Mumbai.

Health problem

This problem of increased pollution in the major cities of the world has led to an increase in the number of studies done to look at the effects on our health. The results so far are not very reassuring. In fact, air pollution may be a much greater danger to our health than scientists believed before. A 20-year study of residents of a Cairo suburb shows that the tiny particles in polluted air could lead to three times as many long-term health problems as was previously thought. A connection between the number of particles in the air and health is suggested by Dr Razia of Cairo University. He and his colleagues collected data on 25,000 residents of Cairo over two decades. They found that as the number of tiny particles, those less than 2.5 microns in diameter increased, so did the risk of dying from health problems such as heart attacks and lung cancer.

Traffic and asthma

Other studies show a similar link between traffic pollution and ill health. A second group of researchers in Ottawa, Canada, reported that children living near busy roads were more likely to develop asthma. They studied the health of 250 children in different Canadian cities. The results suggest a strong connection between how close a child lives to traffic and the possibility of that child developing asthma and other similar diseases. It is clear from these studies and others that the time has come to start reducing the levels of air pollution in our cities for the sake of our children and future generations.

Read Study Skill

Read the report again. Are the statements expressed as fact (F) or speculation (S) in the text?

1. Growing car use is causing the most damage.  F
2. More pollution in big cities has resulted in more studies being done.  F
3. Polluted air is more dangerous than people thought.  F
4. Small particles in dirty air cause three times as many health problems.  F
5. The results of the Canadian studies prove there is a link between a child living close to traffic and getting asthma.  F
6. All these studies show that it is important to reduce air pollution for the next generation.  F

STUDY SKILL Interpreting meaning

Most academic and scientific articles express facts (what happened) and speculate (guess). It is important to be able to distinguish uncertainty and speculation from fact.

Uncertainty and speculation can be expressed using:
- may, could, might before the main verb, e.g.
  Air pollution may be a much greater danger to our health ...
  Polluted air could lead to three times as many ... problems.
- verbs such as believe, claim, think, hope, seem, e.g.
  Dr Razia believes there is a connection between the number of particles in the air and health.
- words and phrases, e.g.
  possibly, probably, it is possible
School dinner scandal

The results of a study into what 10,000 primary school children, that is, children aged five to eleven, ate in a day shocked the researchers. They believe it shows that children's diets are getting worse and that this might cause health problems in the future. It shows that 49 per cent of the children had eaten chips, which had been cooked in oil. Less than half had eaten a vegetable or a piece of fruit in the last 24 hours and, most shockingly, only one in ten children had eaten fish. As Dr G. Bennett, the author of the study, concluded (2006, p191) ‘Poor eating habits in early childhood can lead to health problems in later life. It is therefore essential to ensure that children eat properly.’

Summary

Research into 10,000 primary pupils' daily diet revealed that just under half had eaten chips, fewer than 50% had had either vegetables or fruit, and only 10% of the children had eaten fish.
Focus on Science

Scientists on the decline

As science becomes increasingly important in our daily lives, so the shortage of scientists gets greater. The number of students going to university to study pure and applied sciences is decreasing by about five per cent each year. This, in turn, leads to a drop in the number of people able to be science teachers in schools. This shortage of science teachers, unsurprisingly, leads to fewer school children studying science, and even fewer going on to university. Prominent scientists believe that one of the reasons is that science is undervalued in society: people do not discuss the latest scientific breakthrough in the same way they would discuss the latest bestseller. It could also be because scientists starting their professional lives are often poorly paid. However, some scientists think that the reason is a distrust of scientists because of the claims for 'breakthroughs' and 'cures' for diseases which do not actually happen. Whatever the reason, young people must be encouraged to study science. The world needs scientists.

5 Read Study Skill Write sentences in your own words using your notes. Do not look back at the text Scientists on the decline.

There is an annual fall of around five per cent in the number of people studying science in higher education.

STUDY SKILL Paraphrasing and summarizing

You often need to use other sources, for example other people's work, in your own essays and reports. This can be done by:

- paraphrasing information, that is, rewriting information in your own words. Use synonyms wherever possible (see Study Skill Unit 4 p26).
- summarizing the information, that is, linking the main points in your own words.

NOTE You may quote directly from the piece of work, but it is essential to give the source of the quote and its author, e.g.

... Dr G. Bennett, the author of the study, concluded (2006, p191) 'Poor eating habits in early childhood can lead to health problems in later life.'

The use of other people's work 'word for word' without saying you have done so (plagiarizing) is strictly not allowed.

Scientists believe the first shoes were worn about 30,000 years ago. When shoes are worn, the toe bones get weaker. There is evidence that humans 30,000 years ago had toes which were weaker than those of their ancestors. This, the scientists claim, is because they started wearing shoes.

Brightly-coloured fruit and vegetables, like carrots and oranges, could protect against diseases such as arthritis. These vegetables and fruit contain vitamin C and other elements which work against the disease. So, if you enjoy eating lots of oranges, you could also be helping your body to fight disease.

The ancient origins of tuberculosis

Scientists used to believe tuberculosis (TB) was just tens of thousands of years old, but studies of ancient skeletons suggest the disease existed in East Africa three million years ago. Scientists hope to use this new information in their fight against TB, as this disease kills three million people a year.

Always consider carefully the most appropriate way to organize the information in your writing.
When writing, a biography, for example, it is usual to follow a chronological order, that is, time order.

Nelson Mandela  —  most famous politician in the world
- actively involved in the African National Congress and the fight against apartheid — the separation of black and white people
- became first democratically elected president of South Africa in 1994
- Mandela — born in South Africa in 1918 — became the most famous statesman in the world.
- retired from politics in 2004, moved back to Qunu — he was born there
- was released from prison after 27 years in 1990, won the Nobel Peace Prize — shared with President de Klerk

5 Use the information from exercise 4 to write a short biography of Mandela (approximately 100 words). Use relative pronouns.

Writing from research
6 Write a biography of a famous person from your academic field or from your country (150 words). Research five central facts: birth, early life, career, what he/she is most famous for, what he/she is doing today, and add extra information.

READING Computers

1. Discuss with a partner how often you use a computer to:
   - download music/games/films
   - send an email
   - write an essay
   - do research
   - shop on line

2. Read the description of a computer. Label the diagrams using the words in the box.

   CPU  CD/DVD burner  USB port  VDU (monitor) mouse  keyboard  scanner  printer  webcam memory  key  speakers

A computer is made up of several main parts. Obviously, the most important is the CPU, or central processing unit. This is the part that houses the computer memory and processing chips, in other words, the computer’s brain. Most CPUs now have a CD and/or DVD burner, that is, a device for recording onto a CD or DVD, already built into the unit. They also have USB ports, that is to say, sockets where you plug in other devices, e.g. your scanner or memory key. Most CPUs have software, i.e. computer programs, already loaded when you buy the computer, but many people like to add other programs to personalize their computer. Other necessary parts of any computer system are the monitor or screen, the mouse, and the keyboard.

STUDY SKILL Rephrasing and explaining

In technological or scientific texts, some words are often rephrased or explained:

... a CD burner, that is, a device for recording onto CD.

... hardware, i.e. the machinery of a computer. or Sometimes an example is given instead. Look out for:

... software e.g. anti-virus programs, ...

... for example

Computers under attack

Every time you turn on your computer and connect to the Internet, there is a possibility of attack! It could come via an email from a friend, a software program or music you download, or even from a CD-ROM you are using.

The most common source of danger is a 'virus', that is, a program that hides itself in documents or software, and then attacks your computer. Sometimes, these are not too serious. They can even be funny, but sometimes they are so serious that they crash the computer, in other words, they stop the computer working. Consequently, some companies and even government departments have had to close while they try to find and destroy a virus. This can cost millions of dollars.

One type of virus, known as a 'Trojan Horse', is designed to get your credit card details or bank passwords. Once it has this information, it is sent to organizations that steal your money from your bank or use your credit card to buy things.

Another danger is 'spyware'. Like the Trojan Horse, it hides inside your computer so that you don’t know it is there. It might not do any damage, but it collects information about you, for example, what you buy online or what music you download. It then sends this to commercial companies.

A more common, but less dangerous, problem is 'spam', or unwanted advertising. When it first appeared, nobody worried about it, but now it is out of control: more than 50% of all email messages in the world are junk mail, or spam. Unfortunately, some people are now using spam to trick people and to get money from them. This is called 'phishing'. The simplest phishing trick is to send an email promising that you will get rich. However, to get this money, you must first send your bank details. Of course, they take the money from your bank and you certainly don’t get rich!

Therefore, next time you’re online, make sure your anti-virus program is up-to-date and never give anyone your bank details!

4 Read the article Computers Under Attack. Match terms 1–5 with definitions a–e.

1. phishing        a. a hidden program that can destroy data
2. spam             b. a program that can be designed to steal personal information
3. spyware          c. advertising emails
4. Trojan horse     d. a program that steals money by tricking people into giving away personal information
5. virus            e. a program that is hidden and can be used to get information about users’ online buying habits

STUDY SKILL Avoiding repetition (2)

Pronouns are used instead of repeating the same words. Understanding what pronouns refer to helps you understand a text.

- it replaces a singular noun or noun phrase, e.g.,
  I bought a new computer. The new computer it was expensive.

- they replaces a plural noun or noun phrase, e.g.,
  I bought some new computer games. The new computer games they are great fun.

- this summarizes previous information and adds new information, e.g.,
  You should install an anti-virus program. Installing an antivirus program this will protect your computer.

Using pronouns also makes a text more cohesive, or connected.
WRITING  IT – benefits and drawbacks

1 Read the paragraph The Benefits of Wireless Technology slowly and carefully. Use the information to complete the notes.

The benefits of wireless technology

A breakthrough in computer design could lead to computer technology being available in the poorest parts of the world. An IT company has developed a laptop computer that will only cost $100. It has all the functions of an ordinary computer including WiFi and 1GB of storage. Since the price will be low, the designers hope that the laptop will be available to children in poorer parts of the world. The computer is powered by turning a handle and, as a result, it does not need an electricity supply or batteries. This should make it even more attractive to schools in the developing world.

Wind-up _____

IT company $$100$$

Low price: good for children in ____ countries

All functions e.g. WiFi / 1GB storage

Powered ____: no electricity ____ required

2 Write simple sentences using the completed notes from exercise 1. Do not look back at the paragraph.

An IT company has produced a laptop for just $100.

3 Read Study Skill. Link the sentences using the words and phrases in brackets.

1 Many people do not back up their computer files. They lose a lot of data. (so)
2 Many users don't empty their mailboxes. They may have problems downloading their mail. (as a result)
3 There is a serious threat from viruses. Many people install an anti-virus program. (because)
4 Many employees do not know how to use basic programs effectively. Many companies offer IT training. (Consequently)
5 People use copies of programs. Manufacturers put in secret codes to detect copies. (since)

4 Link your sentences from exercise 2 using words and phrases from the Study Skill box.

Writing from notes

5 Read Study Skill. Use the notes to write a paragraph about computer crime.

Computer Crime

1 Number computer networks $$\uparrow$$: $$\uparrow$$ opportunity for crime $$\uparrow$$
2 Number people buying online $$\uparrow$$ $$\uparrow$$ criminals steal (e.g. credit cards)
3 IT experts make networks secure $$\therefore$$ criminal gangs hire own experts
4 $$\therefore$$ need $$\uparrow$$ online security + better systems to protect users

STUDY SKILL Linking ideas (3)

To connect ideas that show the cause and result, use linking words and phrases.

- For cause, use because, as, since:
  People in some parts of the world cannot afford computers since/as/because they are too expensive.

- For result, use as a result, consequently, therefore, so:
  He didn't have an antivirus program, and as a result, a virus attacked his computer.
  Consequently, the senders of spam have become more sophisticated.

STUDY SKILL Coherent writing

To write up your notes in a natural and coherent style:

- make good notes (see Study Skill page 34)
- write simple sentences, and join them using linking words and phrases (see Study Skill pages 13, 24, and 48)
- use synonyms and pronouns to avoid repetition (see Study Skill pages 26, and 47)

READING How things work

1 Work with a partner. Read the sentences describing the benefits of five inventions. What inventions do they refer to?
   1 The sound quality is good and you can move freely as you speak.
   2 Connect to the Internet without plugging it into a phone line.
   3 You don’t have to get out of the car – just press a button and drive in.
   4 You can listen for the baby crying from a different room.
   5 Use this to download music and take it with you wherever you go.

2 What makes the inventions work? skim the title and paragraph 1 of the text on page 53 to check. Were you right?

3 Read Study Skill Read paragraph 2 of the text. Answer the questions.

STUDY SKILL Intensive reading

Students often read intensively in order to make notes, or fully understand what they are reading.

To focus on the detail of what you are reading:
- ask yourself why you are reading and what you need from your reading. skim the text including the title and any diagrams or tables, to get an overview.
- read the material from beginning to end. Circle words and phrases you don’t know, but don’t stop reading to look them up.
- read the material more slowly and underline/highlight the main ideas. Then make notes (see Study Skill p34) – if the text is very difficult, read it two or three more times before making notes.
- go back to the new vocabulary you circled. If necessary, look up the words in a dictionary. Record them appropriately (see Study Skill p8).

1 What makes the ‘voice waves’ stronger?
2 What sends out the ‘radio waves’?
3 What picks up the ‘radio waves’?
4 What are the ‘radio waves’ turned back into at first?

4 Find the words in the box in paragraph 2 and underline them. If necessary, check the meanings in a dictionary.

   amplifier  headphones  large aerials radio waves  receiving aerials  voice waves (x2)

5 Look at the diagram in the text. What does it show?
6 Read the text again. Label the diagram using the words from exercise 4. Compare your labelled diagram with a partner’s.
The old-fashioned secret behind modern technology

1. Have you heard of Guglielmo Marconi? He is said to have invented radio at the end of the nineteenth century. Until television became widespread, radio was one of the basic means of communication and entertainment. The simple transistor radio may seem a little old-fashioned in these days of mobile phones, laptop computers, and iPods. However, radio waves, which are invisible and undetectable to humans, have changed the world completely. When you use a mobile or cordless phone, a wireless network for your laptop, or switch TV channels by remote control, you are using radio waves.

2. So, how does it work? Let's take a radio programme as an example. Firstly, in the studio the voices and music are turned into electronic signals, called 'voice waves'. Next, they are made stronger by passing them through an amplifier. These stronger waves are called 'carrier waves' and they are passed to large aerials. Then the aerials send out these waves, which are now called 'radio waves'. These are subsequently picked up by a receiving aerial, in this case, the one on your radio. After this, the radio waves go through a reverse process. They are first turned back into voice waves, then passed through another amplifier, and finally sent out through speakers or headphones. The result is your favourite music or the latest news!

7. Read Study Skill Look again at paragraph 2 of the text and underline eight sequencing words or expressions.

READING International tourism

1 Work with a partner. Discuss the questions.
   1 When do most visitors come to your country?
   2 Where do most visitors to your country come from?
   3 What is the most popular destination for visitors?
   4 Where do you go for your holidays?

2 Skim the graph, bar chart, and text on page 59. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)? Correct the false sentences.
   1 Paragraph 1 of the text describes the bar chart.
   2 Paragraph 2 of the text talks about tourist destinations.
   3 The graph shows the number of international tourists in 2005.
   4 The bar chart shows the top twelve tourist destinations in the world.
   5 Both diagrams show numbers in millions.

3 Complete the text International Tourism using information from the graph and chart.

STUDY SKILL Interpreting data

Many scientific and academic texts contain statistics. These are often illustrated in graphs or charts.
Referring to graphs and charts while you are reading will help you to understand the text, and interpret the statistical data better.
- Skim the titles of the text and graphs and charts to get a general idea.
- Read the description of the horizontal and vertical data.
- Look at the graph or bar chart. Ask yourself questions:
  What is the general picture or trend?
  Are there any unexpected points?
- As you read the text, refer to the appropriate part of the diagram.
  Compare the information in the text with the information in the graphs and charts.

4 Discuss the questions with a partner.
   1 Have you been to any of these ten places?
   2 Which country or countries would you like to visit?
1. This graph shows the number of international tourists in millions, from January to December 2005. At the start of the year, there were approximately international tourists. There was a drop of about 30% to the second most liked holiday spot, the USA, with about 47 million visitors. In place was Spain, with around 43 million tourists a year. This was followed by , the UK, and China. There were fewer visitors to Poland and , in seventh and eighth place respectively; only about million to each country. The ninth and tenth places were taken by Canada and Hungary. They received about tourists each.

STUDY SKILL Describing a graph or chart

Students are often required to transform data from a graph or chart into text.

Always:
- say what the graph or chart shows.
- describe the main changes.
- summarize the major trends and/or high and low points.
- Vary the vocabulary you use.

Writing about data

5 Use the Internet or reference books to research one of the topics:
- the number of tourists to your country in the last three to five years.
- the number of men and women in your country in three different years.

Draw a graph or chart to show the data, and write a description.
REVIEW

1 Read the description of a graph. Replace the words in bold with synonyms from the unit.

The graph shows the average cost of a one-week holiday for a family of four people from 1995 until 2005. In 1995 the average cost of a holiday was $500. This increased dramatically in 1996 to $700 and then remained stable for the next year. However, in 1998 there was a slight drop to about $650. This was followed by a steady rise over the next two years to $800 by 2000. Between 2000 and 2003, the price rose dramatically again to $1,500. It remained steady at this level in 2004 and then there was an increase to a peak of $1,750 in 2005.

Overall, the graph shows that there has been a continual increase in the price of family holidays except for a slight fall in 1998.

2 Write a paragraph describing the graph.

3 Use the Internet or reference books to find out in which country/countries the languages are spoken?

New Headway Academic Skills is a three-level series aimed at students in higher education who need English for their academic studies. The course focuses on reading, writing, and study skills, including those required for vocabulary development and for undertaking research.

New Headway Academic Skills is designed to be used either alongside the world-renowned New Headway main course editions, or as a complement to any other general English course.

The New Headway Academic Skills series includes:

- a wide range of topics relevant to students in higher education
- development of the specific skills required for academic reading, including skimming, scanning, intensive reading, topic sentences, and prediction
- guided as well as freer practice in writing skills, including such features as planning, coherence, cohesive devices, and checking written work
- final writing tasks that reflect different academic text types
- strategies to help students deal with unknown words, and organize, record, vary, and build their vocabulary
- guidance in undertaking basic research, both on the Internet and from books, and in recording and acknowledging sources

For use alongside New Headway Academic Skills – Level 2, we recommend the Oxford Student's Dictionary of English.
