in-tern·ship /ˈɪntərˌʃiːp/ n. [C] the period of time when an intern works, or the particular job s/he does: an internship in a law firm in·ter·per·son·al /ˌɪntərˈpɜːsənəl/ adj. involving relationships between people: interpersonal skills in·ter·plan·e·tar·y /ˌɪntərˈpleɪnərərē/ adj. [only before noun] happening or done between the PLANETS in·ter·play /ˈɪntərˌpleɪ/ n [U] the way that two people or things affect each other: the interplay between man and nature in·ter·po·late /ˈɪntərˌpɔːlət/ v. [T] (formal) to put additional words, ideas, information, etc. into something such as a piece of writing ➔ insert —interpolation /ˌɪntərˌpɔːləˈʃən/ n. [C]

in·ter·pre·t /ˈɪntərˌprɛt/ v. 1 [I,T] to change words spoken in one language into another ➔ TRANSLATE: Gina spoke enough Spanish to be able to interpret for me. 2 [T] to explain or decide on the meaning of an event, statement, etc.: His silence was interpreted as guilt. | A judge’s main role is to interpret the law. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French interpréter, from Latin interpretari, from interprets “someone who explains or translates”] in·ter·pre·ta·tion /ˌɪntərˈprɛtəˈʃən/ n. [C,U] an explanation for an event, someone’s actions, etc.: This is only one scientist’s interpretation of the data; other scientists see it differently.

in·ter·pre·t·er /ˌɪntərˈprɛtər/ n. [C] someone who changes the spoken words of one language into another ➔ TRANSLATOR in·ter·pre·t·ive /ˌɪntərˈprɛtətɪv/ n. ➔ IN·TER·PRE·TIVE ➔ in·ter·pre·tive /ˌɪntərˈprɛtətɪv/ adj. 1 relating to, explaining, or understanding the meaning of something: an interpretive lecture on the park’s geology 2 relating to how feelings are expressed through music, dance, art, etc.: interpretive dance in·ter·ra·cial /ˌɪntərˈrɛʃəl/ adj. between different races of people: an interracial marriage in·ter·re·lat·ed /ˌɪntərˈrɛltəd/ adj. things that are interrelated all have an effect on each other in·ter·ro·gate /ˌɪntərˈrɔɡət/ v. [T] to ask someone a lot of questions, sometimes in a threatening way: Police are interrogating the suspect now. ➔ INTERROGATOR n. [C] ➔ INTERROGATION /ˌɪntərˈrɔɡeɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

[THESAURUS] ask, question, inquire ➔ ASK interrogative

in-ter-rog-a-tive /ˌɪntəˈrɒɡətɪv/ n 1 the form of a sentence or verb that is used for asking questions

—interruption /ˌɪntəˈrʌpʃən/ n [C,U]: Work on the bridge continued without interruption, several interruptions in the schedule interstate /ˌɪntəˈstɛit/ n 1 [L] to stop someone from speaking by suddenly saying or doing something: Sorry, I didn’t mean to interrupt you. One guy in the front row kept interrupting during Kay’s talk. 2 [T] to stop a process or activity for a short time: The war interrupted the supply of oil.

interrupt /ɪnˈtɜːrprɪt/ v 1 [L,T] to stop someone from speaking by suddenly saying or doing something: Sorry, I didn’t mean to interrupt you.

interruption /ɪnˈtɜːrprɪʃən/ n [C,U]: Work on the bridge continued without interruption, several interruptions in the schedule intersection /ˌɪntəˈSEKʃən/ n [C] the place where two roads, lines, etc. meet and go across each other interview /ɪnˈtərvjuː/ n 1 [C] an occasion when someone famous is asked questions about his/her life, opinions, etc.: The former president gave an interview to Barbara Walters (she answered her questions). 2 [C] an interview with several sports stars 3 [C] also job interview a formal meeting in which someone is asked questions, usually to find out if she is good enough for a job: I have an interview for a job as a project manager tomorrow. [Origin: 1500—1600 Early French entrevue, from entrevoir “to see each other, meet”] interviewer /ɪnˈtərvjuːr/ n [C]

interweave /ɪnˈtɜːrvwiː/ v (past tense interwove /ɪnˈtɜːrvəʊ/) past participle interwoven /ɪnˈtɜːrvəʊn/ [C,U] to put two things together in a close or intimate way: The histories of the two countries are closely interwoven.

intestine /ɪnˈtestɪn/ n [C] biology the long tube that takes food from your stomach out of your body: bacteria that live in the intestines, the large intestine (=the lower part of the intestines, in which water is removed from waste food as it passes through) and the small intestine (=the long tube that food goes through after it has passed through your stomach) (1400—1500 French intestin, from Latin intestinum, from intestus “inside”) see picture at ORGAN —intestinal adj intimate /ɪnˈtɪmət/ adj 1 having a close personal relationship with someone: intimate: the intimacy of good friends intimate /ɪnˈtɪmət/ adj 1 having a close personal relationship with someone: a party for a few intimate friends 2 (formal) relating to sex: The virus can only be transmitted through intimate contact 3 relating to very private or personal matters: intimate secrets [Origin: 1500—1600 Late Latin, past participle of intimare “to put in, announce,” from Latin intimus “furthest inside”) —intimately adv intervene /ɪnˈtɜːrvɪn/ v [I] (formal) to make someone understand what you mean without saying it directly intervention /ɪnˈtɜːrwɛnʃən/ n [C] (formal) an indirect or unclear sign that something is true or may happen: The narrator gives strong intimations that Johnson is unreliable.

in·tim·i·date /inˈtiməˌdeɪt/ v [T] to make someone afraid, often by using threats, so that she does what you want. —intimidation /inˈtiməˈdeɪʃən/ n [U] in·tim·i·date·ed /inˈtiməˌdeɪd/ adj feeling worried or afraid because you are in a difficult situation: Ben felt intimidated by the older boys.

in·tim·id·at·ing /inˈtiməˌdeɪtɪŋ/ adj making you feel worried and less confident: Interviews can be an intimidating experience.

in·to /ˈɪntəʊ/ prep.
1 in order to be inside something or in a place: Amy went into the next room.
2 into a particular form: Amy put the fish back into the water.
3 in a particular situation or physical form: Make the bread dough into a ball (=the shape of a ball).
4 into a museum.
5 into a particular direction: Look into my eyes.
6 at or until a particular time: We talked long into the night.

in·tol·er·a·ble /ˈɪn.tələrəbəl/ adj too difficult, bad, or painful for you to bear: intolerable conditions —intolerably adv

in·tol·er·ant /ˈɪn.tələrənt/ adj not willing to accept ways of thinking and behaving that are different from your own: He’s very intolerant of other people’s political opinions. —intolerance n [U] ➔ prejudice in·to·na·tion /ˈɪntəˌneɪʃən, -ˈtoʊ-/ n [C,U] ENG.

LANG. ARTS the rise and fall in the level of your voice when you speak in·tox·ic·at·ed /ɪnˈtroʊsɪkətɪd/ adj (formal) 1 drunk: He was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

2 happy and excited because of success, love, power, etc.: intoxicating adj. —intoxication /ɪnˈtroʊsɪkəˈʃən/ n [U]

in·trac·ta·ble /ɪnˈtræktəbəl/ adj (formal) very difficult to deal with or solve: an intractable problem —intractability /ɪnˈtræktəbɪlɪtɪ/ n [U] —intransigently adv

in·tra·mu·ral /ɪnˈtraʊmərəl/ adj intended for the students of one school: intramural sports in·trans·i·gent /ɪnˈtrænsɪdʒənt, -ˈtræs-/ adj (formal) unwilling to change your ideas or behavior in a way that seems unreasonable, or showing this quality: intransient attitudes —intransigence n [U] —intransigently adv in·trans·i·tive /ɪnˈtrænsɪtɪv, -ˈtræs-/ adj. ENG.

LANG. ARTS in grammar, an intransitive verb has a subject but no object. In the sentence “They arrived early,” “arrive” is an intransitive verb. ➔ transitive in·tra·ve·nous /ɪnˌtrəˈvɛnəs/ adj in or connected to a vein (=a tube that takes blood to your heart) ➔ v: an intravenous injection —intravenously adv in·trepid /ɪnˈtrɪpd/ adj (literary) willing to do dangerous things or go to dangerous places: intrepid travelers in·tri·ca·cy /ɪnˈtrɪkəsɪ/ n. the intricacies of sth the complicated details of something: You need an expert to help you with the intricacies of the tax system. 2 [U] the state of containing a lot of parts or details: the intricacy of the plot in·tri·cate /ɪnˈtrɪkət/ adj containing a lot of parts or details: an intricate pattern [ORIGIN: 1400—1350 Latin, past participle of intricare “to mix up in a complicated way,” from intricare “small unimportant things, things that get in your way”] in·tri·gue /ɪnˈtrɪg/ v [T] to interest someone a lot, especially by being strange or mysterious: I was intrigued by her story.

in·tri·gued /ɪnˈtrɪɡɪd/ adj. very interesting because it is strange or mysterious: an intriguing new book —intriguingly adv

in·tri·guing adj. being part of the basic nature or character of someone or something: the intrinsic value of good behavior

Meaning is intrinsic to a piece of writing; it is not wholly decided by the reader. —intrinsically adv in·tri·o·us /ˈɪntroʊ/ adj. (plural introus [C] (informal) a short part at the beginning of a song, piece of writing, etc. ➔ introduction in·tri·duce /ɪnˌtrɪdəs/ v [T] 1 if you introduce people to each other, you tell them each other’s name for the first time ➔ introduction: Al, let me introduce you to my parents. | Have you two been introduced yet? 2 to make a change, plan, product, etc. happen, exist, or be available for the first time ➔ introduction: Over 60 new computer models were introduced last year. 3 introduce sb to sth to show someone something or tell him/her about it for the first time: My aunt introduced me to cooking when I was 12. 4 to speak at the beginning of a television program, public speech, etc. to say what will happen next ➔ introduction [origin: 1400–1500 Latin introducere, from duce “to lead”] in·tro·duc·tion /ˌɪntrəˈdʌkʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the act of making a change, plan, product, etc. happen, exist, or be available for the first time ➔ introduction: the introduction of new drugs. 2 [C] the act of telling two people each other’s names when they meet for the first time ➔ introduce 3 [C] a written or spoken explanation at the beginning of a book or speech ➔ introduce in·tro·duc·to·ry /ˌɪntrəˈdʌktərē/ adj. relating to the beginning of a book, speech, course, etc.: the introductory chapter in·tru·vert·ed /ˌɪntrəˈvɜrtd/ adv. thinking a lot about your own problems, interests, etc. and not wanting to be with other people 📚 shy ➔ introverted ➔ introvert n. [C] in·tru·trude /ˌɪntrəˈtrudd/ v. [I] to go into a place or get involved in a situation where you are not wanted: Newspaper stories often intrude into people’s private lives. ➔ ENTER in·tru·dor /ˌɪntrəˈdrudər/ n. [C] someone who enters a building or area where s/he is not supposed to be in·tru·sion /ˌɪntrəˈz̩ʃən/ n. [C,U] an unwanted person, event, etc. that interrupts or annoys you: Some people feared the government’s intrusion into their personal lives. ➔ intrusive /ˌɪntrəˈstrʌvəl/ adj.

in·tu·i·tion /ˌɪntəˈʃən/ n. [C,U] the ability to understand or know that something is true, based on your feelings rather than facts: Trust your intuition if you feel a situation is unsafe. [origin: 1400–1500 Late Latin intuitio, from Latin intuiti “to look at, think about”] in·tu·i·tive /ˌɪntəˈtɪv/ adj. based on feelings rather than facts: an intuitive understanding of the problem ➔ intuitively adv.

in·nu·it /ˈɪnjuːɪt/ n. the Inuit [plural] a group of people who live in places such as northern Canada, Greenland, Alaska, and eastern Siberia ➔ Inuit adj.

in·un·date /ˈɪnənˌdeɪt/ v. [T] 1 to be inundated with/by sth to receive so much of something that you cannot deal with all of it: We were inundated with requests for tickets. 2 [formal] to flood a place [origin: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of inunda, from unda “wave”] ➔ inundation /ˌɪnənˈdeɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

in·u·suc·tive /ɪnˈvɛktɪv/ adj. impolite and insulting words that someone says when s/he is very angry in·ven·tion /ɪnˈvɛntʃən/ n. [U] formal impolite and insulting words that someone says when s/he is very angry in·ven·tive /ɪnˈvɛntɪv/ adj. ➔ invent

in·vade /ɪnˈvɛd/ v. [T, I] 1 to enter a place using military force ➔ invade: the invasion of Normandy ➔ attack 2 the arrival of people or things at a place where they are not wanted ➔ invade: Ron has tried everything to get rid of the invasion of ants in his kitchen. 3 invasion of privacy a situation in which someone tries to find out about someone else’s personal life, in a way that is upsetting and often illegal ➔ invasive /ˈɪnˌvɛrsɪv/ adj.

in·var·i·a·ble /ɪnˈvɛrəbəl/ adj. extremely useful ➔ valuable: Your advice has been invaluable.

in·vise·ble /ɪnˈvɪzəbəl/ adj. schooling a situation in which someone tries to find out about someone else’s personal life, in a way that is upsetting and often illegal ➔ invisible /ˈɪnˌvɪzəbl/ adj.

in·vade /ɪnˈvɛd/ v. [T, I] 1 to enter a place using military force ➔ invade: the invasion of Normandy ➔ attack 2 the arrival of people or things at a place where they are not wanted ➔ invade: Ron has tried everything to get rid of the invasion of ants in his kitchen. 3 invasion of privacy a situation in which someone tries to find out about someone else’s personal life, in a way that is upsetting and often illegal ➔ invasive /ˈɪnˌvɛrsɪv/ adj.

in·val·i·date /ɪnˈvɛləd/ v. ➔ invalid

in·val·i·date /ɪnˈvɛləd/ v. ➔ invalid

in·val·i·date /ɪnˈvɛləd/ v. ➔ invalid

in·val·i·date /ɪnˈvɛləd/ v. ➔ invalid

in·val·i·date /ɪnˈvɛləd/ v. ➔ invalid
in·ver·t (in'vərt) v. 1 [T] to give money to a company, bank, etc., or to buy something, in order to get a profit later ➔ INVESTMENT: He recommended investing in stocks and bonds. | Greg invested his life savings in high-tech companies. 2 [T] to use a lot of time or effort to make something succeed: How much time are you prepared to invest in this project? 3 [T] to give someone power or a position: By the power invested in me, I pronounce you man and wife. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian investire “to dress, invest,” from Latin, “to dress,” from vestis “piece of clothing”] —in·vest·or n. [C]: investors in the local property market invest sb/sth with sth phr v. (formal) to make someone or something seem to have a particular quality or character: He invested his reply with scorn.

in-vest·ti·gate (in’vest-tə-gät) v. [I,T] to try to find out the truth about something, for example a crime, accident, etc.: Police are currently investigating the case. | I heard a noise and went downstairs to investigate. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of investigare “to follow the track of,” from vestigium “track”] —in·vest·i·ga·tor n. [C]: police investigators

in·ves·to·ga·tion (in’vəst-tə-ga’shən) n. [U] an official attempt to find out the reasons for something, such as a crime or scientific problem: an investigation into the plane crash | The issue is still under investigation (being investigated). | a thorough investigation of the incident in·ves·ti·gate (in’vəst-ə-gät) v. [I] to think of an idea, story, etc. that is not true, especially an unusual one: an inventive cook in·vent·ive (in’vəntiv) adj. able to think of new and interesting ideas; an inventive cook in·ven·tive-ness (in’vəntiv-nəs) n. [U] the act of inventing something, or the thing that is invented ➔ in·vent·or: The 20th century was a time when new inventions changed our lives. | The invention of television 2[C] an idea, story, etc. that is not true in·ven·tor (in’vəntər) n. [C] someone who has invented something in·ven·to·ry (in’vən-tərē) n. (plural inventories) 1 [U] all the goods in a store 2[C,U] a list of all the things in a place: The store will be closed on Friday to take inventory (=make a list of its goods).

in·verse (in’vərs) adj. in inverse proportion/relation etc. to sth getting larger as something else gets smaller, or getting smaller as something else gets larger —in·re·vers·i·ly adv in·vers·e (in’vərs) adj. 1 [Singular] MATH a number that is related to another number because an inverse operation has been done 2 [formal] the complete opposite of something in·verse·op·er·ation (in’vərs-əpə-rā’shən) n. [C] MATH a mathematical operation that does the opposite of another operation. For example, addition is the inverse operation of SUBTRACTION, and subtraction is the inverse operation of addition.

in·vert (in’vərt/v) v. [T] (formal) to put something in the opposite position, especially by turning it upside down —in·ver·sion (in’vər-zhən) n. [C,U] in·ver·to·brate (in’vər-tə-brät) n. [C]: invertebrate ➔ ver·te·brate —in·ver·to·brate adj.

in·vest (in’vest/v) v. 1 [I,T] to give money to a company, bank, etc., or to buy something, in order to get a profit later ➔ INVESTMENT: He recommended investing in stocks and bonds. | Greg invested his life savings in high-tech companies. 2 [T] to use a lot of time or effort to make something succeed: How much time are you prepared to invest in this project? 3 [T] to give involve /ɪnˈvəlv/ v. [T] 1 to include or affect someone or something: The riot involved 45 prisoners. 2 to ask or allow someone to take part in something: To improve kids' health, efforts should be made to involve them in sports activities. 3 to include something as a necessary part or result of something else: Taking the job involves moving to Texas. [origin: 1500–1400 Latin involvere “to wrap,” from volvere “to roll”] in-volved /ɪnˈvəlvəd/ adj. 1 taking part in an activity or event: I don’t want to get involved in her personal problems. 2 Parents need to be involved with their children’s education. 3 being a necessary part of an activity, event, etc.: I hate the red tape involved in getting any project approved by the managers. 3 difficult to understand because it is complicated or has a lot of parts: a long involved answer 4 be involved with sb to be having a sexual relationship with someone.

in-volve-ment /ɪnˈvəlvəmənt/ n. [U] the act of taking part in an activity or event: Brian’s involvement in local politics has made a difference in our community. 2 the difference between kids who do well in school and those who don’t is often parental involvement.

in-vul-ner-a-ble /ɪnˈvʌlnərəbl/ adj. not easy to harm, hurt, or attack in-ward /ɪnˈwɔːrd/ adj. 1 felt in your own mind, but not expressed to other people (ant.) outward 2 on or toward the inside of something —inwardly adv. Ginny was inwardly disappointed that she hadn’t seen him at the party.

inwardly /ɪnˈwɔːrdli/ adv. only before nouns in-ward-ly /ɪnˈwɔːrdli/ adv. inwardly disappointed that she hadn’t seen him at the party.

inwards /ɪnwards/ adv. toward the inside (ant.) outward

in-voke /ɪnˈvəʊk/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to use a law, principle, etc. to support your opinions or actions: The reporter invoked the First Amendment when she refused to name her sources. 2 to make a particularly idea, image, or feeling appear in people’s minds: Her singing style invokes Billie Holiday, the great jazz singer. 3 (literary) to ask for help from someone, especially a god: St. Anthony is invoked against starvation.

in-vo-ke /ɪnˈvəʊk/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to use a law, principle, etc. to support your opinions or actions: The reporter invoked the First Amendment when she refused to name her sources. 2 to make a particularly idea, image, or feeling appear in people’s minds: Her singing style invokes Billie Holiday, the great jazz singer. 3 (literary) to ask for help from someone, especially a god: St. Anthony is invoked against starvation.

in-vo-ke /ɪnˈvəʊk/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to use a law, principle, etc. to support your opinions or actions: The reporter invoked the First Amendment when she refused to name her sources. 2 to make a particularly idea, image, or feeling appear in people’s minds: Her singing style invokes Billie Holiday, the great jazz singer. 3 (literary) to ask for help from someone, especially a god: St. Anthony is invoked against starvation.

in-vo-ke /ɪnˈvəʊk/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to use a law, principle, etc. to support your opinions or actions: The reporter invoked the First Amendment when she refused to name her sources. 2 to make a particularly idea, image, or feeling appear in people’s minds: Her singing style invokes Billie Holiday, the great jazz singer. 3 (literary) to ask for help from someone, especially a god: St. Anthony is invoked against starvation.

in-vo-ke /ɪnˈvəʊk/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to use a law, principle, etc. to support your opinions or actions: The reporter invoked the First Amendment when she refused to name her sources. 2 to make a particularly idea, image, or feeling appear in people’s minds: Her singing style invokes Billie Holiday, the great jazz singer. 3 (literary) to ask for help from someone, especially a god: St. Anthony is invoked against starvation.
irrepressible
irreproachable

ir-re-proa-cho-ka-ble /ɛrɪˈprɛrkəbəl/ adj (formal) so good that you cannot criticize it: Her behavior was irreproachable.

ir-re-sist-i-ble /ɪrɪˈstɪstəbəl/ adj. 1 so attractive or desirable that you cannot stop yourself from wanting it: The dessert looks irresistible. 2 The offer of so much money would be irresistible to most people. 2 too strong or powerful to be stopped: an irresistible urge to cry —irresistibly adv.

ir-re-spec-tive /ɪrɪˈspektrɪv/ adv. irrespective of sth used in order to show that a particular fact does not affect a situation at all: Anyone can play, irrespective of age.

ir-re-spon-si-ble /ɪrɪˈspɒnsəbl/ adj. doing careless things without thinking about the possible bad results: It was irresponsible of John to leave the kids alone. —irresponsibly adv. —irresponsibility n. [U]

ir-re-ver-si-ble /ɪrɪˈverəsəbl/ not showing enough respect for organizations, beliefs, etc.: an irrespective sense of humor —irresponsibly adv.

ir-re-ver-sive /ɪrɪˈvɜrsɪv/ adj. something that has irreversible damage, change, etc. cannot be changed back to how it was before:
irrevocably adv.

ir-ri-ga-tion /ɪrɪˈreɪɡəʃən/ n. [U]: an agricultural irrigation system ir-ri-ta-ble /ɪrɪˈrɪteɪəbl/ adj. easily annoyed or made angry: He’s always irritable in the morning.

—irritably adv. —irritability n. [U] ir-ri-tant /ɪrɪˈrɪtənt/ n. [C] (formal) 1 something that makes you feel angry or annoyed: Traffic noise is a constant irritant in the city. 2 a substance that makes part of your body painful and sore ir-ri-tate /ɪrɪˈrɪteɪt/ v. [T] 1 to make someone angry or annoyed: Her voice really irritates me.

ir-ri-ta-tion /ɪrɪˈrɪteɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the feeling of being annoyed, or something that makes you feel this way: Tim made no secret of his irritation with me. 2 [U] a painful sore feeling on a part of your body

IRS n. the IRS the Internal Revenue Service the government organization in the U.S. that deals with taxes

is n. 1 z, s, cz; strong iz to the third person singular of the present tense of it. is-lam /ɪzˈlæm, ɪzˈlʊm, ˈɪzlʊm/ n. [U] the Muslim religion, which was started by Muhammad and whose holy book is the Koran [Origin: 1600—1700 Arabic islam “obeying (the will of God)”] —Islamic /ɪzˈlʊmɪk, ɪzˈlʊm/ adj.
is-lan-d /ˈaɪələnd/ n. [C] a piece of land completely surrounded by water: a hotel development on the island | the island of St. Kitts [Origin: Old English igtland, from ig “island” + land] is-lan-d-er /ˈaɪələndər/ n. [C] someone who lives on an island isle /aɪl/ n. [C] an island, used in poetry or in names of islands is-n’t /ɪzˈnɒt/ v. the short form of “is not”: That isn’t true.

irri-tate /ɪrɪˈtæt/ v. 1 to make or keep one person or thing separate from others: The town was isolated by the floods. Computers seem to have isolated us from one another. 2 to separate something from other things so that it can be examined, studied, or dealt with by itself: It is difficult to isolate and measure the effect that this has had on the business.

is-o-lat-e /ɪsəˈleɪt/ v. [T] 1 far away from other things; an isolated farm 2 feeling alone or unable to meet or speak to other people: New mothers often feel isolated. 3 an isolated case/example etc. a case, example, etc. that happens only once: an isolated case of the disease | The violence was an isolated incident. [Origin: 1700—1800 French isolé, from Italian isolato, from isola “island”] is-o-la-tion /ɪsəˈleɪʃən/ n. [U] 1 the state of being separate from other places, things, or people: the city’s geographical isolation (=its location far away from other cities) 2 in isolation separately: These events cannot be examined in isolation from one another. 3 a feeling of being lonely and unable to meet or talk to other people: I buried the isolation I felt by working harder than ever.

is-o-la-tion-ism /ɪsəˈleɪʃənɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICAL beliefs or actions that are based on the political idea that your country should not be involved in the affairs of other countries: America’s isolationism before World War I —isolationist
n. [C] —isolationist adj.
is-o-mer /ˈaɪəsˌmər/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY one of two or more chemical compounds that have the same number of the same types of atoms, but different chemical structures and qualities
i-so·ce·les \(\text{təsəsələs}\) /trəpˌi-zōd/ n [C] MATH a TRAPEZOID in which the two angles at its base are the same size, and the two sides that are not parallel are the same length

i-so·ce·les tri·an·gle /trəsəsələsˈtriˌanɡəl/ n [C] MATH a TRIANGLE in which two of the sides are the same length, and the two angles at the base are the same size → see picture at TRIANGLE

i-so·ton·ic /ˈaɪˌsoʊˌtɒnɪk/ adj. CHEMISTRY an ISO- TONIC SOLUTION has the same amount of a substance DISSOLVED in it as another solution that you are comparing it to

i-so·to·pe /ˈaɪˌsoʊˌtoʊp/ n [C] CHEMISTRY one of two or more atoms of a CHEMICAL ELEMENT that have the same number of protons but a different number of NEUTRONS [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 ISO- “equal” + GREEK topos “place”]

is·sue /ɪˈsuː/ n. [C] 1 a subject or problem that people discuss: We should raise the issue (=begin to discuss it) at our next meeting. | the controversial issue of abortion | Safety is the most important issue. 2 a magazine, newspaper, etc. printed for a particular day, week, month, or year: the April issue of Vogue 3 make an issue (out) of sth to argue about something 4 at issue (formal) being discussed or considered: An issue is whether the Senator improperly used campaign funds. 5 take issue with sb/sth to disagree or argue with someone about something: He took issue with Mayor Farrell’s statement. 6 not be the issue to not be the problem or subject that you are concerned about: Money is not the issue here. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French isisr “to come out, go out,” from Latin egress, from ire “to go”]

issue /ɪˈsuː/ v. [T] 1 to officially make a statement or give a warning: The President is expected to issue a statement later today. 2 to officially provide or produce something: Every player was issued with a new uniform. issue from sth phe v (formal) if something issues from a place or thing, it comes out of it: Blood issued from the wound.

isth·mus /ɪsθˈməs/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a narrow piece of land with water on both sides, that connects two larger areas of land

IT n. [U] INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY it /ɪt/ pron. [used as a subject or object] 1 a thing, situation, or idea that has been mentioned or is known about: “Did you bring your umbrella?” “No, I left it at home.” | “Where’s the bread?” “It’s (it is) on the shelf.” | In the summer, it must be beautiful here. 2 the situation that someone is in now: I can’t stand it any longer. I’m resigning. | How’s it going, Bob? (where are you?) 3 used as the subject or object of a sentence when the real subject or object is later in the sentence: It costs less to drive than to take the bus. 4 used with the verb “be” to talk about the weather, time, distance, etc.: It’s raining. 5 It’s only a few miles from here to the beach. 6 used in order to emphasize one piece of information in a sentence: I don’t know who took your book, but it wasn’t me. | It was last year at this time that they went to Australia. 6 used as the subject of the words “seem,” “appear,” “look,” and “happen”: It seemed like she was angry. 7 it’s... used in order to give the name of a person or thing when it is not already known: “What’s that?” “It’s a pen.” | “Who’s on the phone?” “It’s Jill.” 8 used in order to talk about a child or animal when you do not know what sex s/he is: “Marilyn had a baby.” “Is it a boy or girl?” [ORIGIN: Old English hit] → that’s it at that?

i·tal·ian /ɪ’təlɪən/ adj. 1 relating to or coming from Italy 2 relating to the Italian language

Italian /ɪ’təlɪən/ n. [U] the language used in Italy 2 [C] someone from Italy

i·tal·ics /ɪ’təlɪks, aɪ-/, [plural] a type of printed letters that lean to the right: This example is printed in ITALICS. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin italicus “Italian,” because these letters were introduced by a 16th-century Italian printer, Aldus Manutius]

itch /ɪtʃ/ v. [I,T] if part of your body itches, you have an unpleasant feeling on your skin that makes you want to rub it with your nails: My back is itching. 2 be itching to do sth (informal) want to do something very much, as soon as possible: Ian’s been itching to try out his new bike.

itch /ɪtʃ/ n. [C] 1 an unpleasant feeling on your skin that makes you want to rub it with your nails 2 (informal) a strong desire to do or have something: an itch to do something different itch·y /ɪtʃi/ adj. (comparative itchier, superlative itchiest) 1 if part of your body is itchy, it feels unpleasant and you want to rub it: My eyes are really itchy. 2 itchy clothes make your skin feel unpleasant and you want to rub it —itchiness n. [U]

It’d /ɪt/ adj. the short form of “it would”: It’d be easier if we both did it. 2 the short form of “it had”: It’d been raining since Sunday.

i·tem /ˈaɪtm/ n. [C] 1 a single thing in a set, itemize

2 a piece of news in the newspaper or on television: I saw an item about the kidnapping in the paper.

itemize /'aɪtɪmaɪz/ v. [T] to write down all of the parts of something in a list —itemized adj.

iterative /'ɪt.a.tɪv/ adj. repeating a mathematical process or set of instructions for a computer program until a particular result is achieved: an iterative process itinerary /aɪt.ɪn.ɪr.i.tɪn/ n. (plural itineraries) [C] a plan of a trip, usually including the places you want to see it'll /'ɪt/1 the short form of “it will” : It’ll be nice to see Martha again.

its /ɪts/ possessive adj. belonging or relating to a thing, situation, person, or idea that has been mentioned or is known about: The tree has lost all of its leaves.

itself /'ɪtself/ pron. 1 the reflexive form of “it”: The cat was licking itself. 2 in itself only the thing mentioned, and not anything else: We’re proud you finished the race. That in itself is an accomplishment.

itsy-bitsy /'ɪtsi.ɪt.ɪz/ adj. very small

IUD n. [C] intrauterine device a small plastic or metal object placed in a woman’s uterus to prevent her from having a baby

IV n. [C] intravenous medical equipment that is used for putting liquid directly into your body ivory /'aɪv.əri/ n. [U] 1 the hard smooth yellow-white substance from the tusk (=long teeth) of an elephant 2 a pale yellow-white color —ivory adj.

I’ve /aɪv/ the short form of “I have”: I’ve seen you somewhere before.

ivy /'aɪv/i. [U] a climbing plant with dark green shiny leaves ➔ poison ivy

Ivy League adj. relating to a small group of old respected colleges in the northeast of the U.S.: an Ivy League graduate —Ivy League n. [singular] crowded jails
black spots from Central and South America edge withal of sharp points: (South American languages) two-year jewelry and ORNAMENT
"cage"

is to guard a prison or prisoners by things, usually because you have seen them or done them too much

1

v.
[1] to put someone in jail
[2] (informal) completely full of people or things: a cereal jam-packed with vitamins
[3] a situation in which something is stuck somewhere: a jam in the fax machine

The stupid door's jammed again.

Our wedding anniversary

His keys were jangling in his pocket.

Jane Doe, I'm in a jam — could you do me a favor?

Jan-i-tor /'dʒɛntər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to clean and take care of a large building: the school janitor

Jan-uary /'dʒənjuəri/ (written abbreviation Jan.) n. [C,U] the first month of the year, between December and February: Our wedding anniversary is on January 6th. | The baby's due sometime in January. | Mom was 60 last January. | I'm going to visit him next January. | [Origin: 1200—1300 Latin Januarius, from Janus, ancient Roman god of doors, gates, and new beginnings]

Jap-a-ne-se /'dʒəpsəniz/ adj. 1 relating to or coming from Japan 2 relating to the Japanese language

Japanese a language used in Japan jar

jar1 /ˈdʒər/ n. [C] 1 a round glass container with a lid, used for storing food 2 the amount of food contained in a jar. There’s half a jar of peanut butter left. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old Provençal jarra, from Arabic jarrah “pot for carrying water”]

jar2 v. (jarred, jarring) [L.T] 1 to shock someone, especially by making an unpleasant noise: The alarm jarred her awake. 2 to shake or hit something with enough force to damage it or make it become loose: Alice jarred her knee when she jumped off the wall.

jar·gon /ˈdʒərɡən/ n. [U] technical words and phrases used by people in a particular profession that are difficult for other people to understand: medical/legal/technical jargon jaun·diced /ˈdʒɔnˌdaɪsd/ adj. showing that you are suffering from jaundice jaunt /dʒaʊnt/ n. [C] a short trip for pleasure jaun·ty /dʒaʊnti/ adj. showing that you feel confident and cheerful —jauntily adv.

jav·e·lin /ˈdʒævəlɪn, -vlɪn/ n. 1 [U] a sport in which you throw a javelin (a long pointed stick) as far as you can 2 [C] the stick used in this sport jaw /dʒɔː/ n. 1 [C] one of the two bones that form your mouth and that have all your teeth: a broken jaw ➔ see picture on page A3 2 sb’s jaw dropped used in order to say that someone looked very surprised or shocked: Sam’s jaw dropped when Katy walked into the room. 3 jaws [plural] the mouth of a person or animal, especially a dangerous animal [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French jère] jay·walk·ing /ˈdʒeɪˌwɔːkɪŋ/ n. [U] the action of walking across a street in an area that is not marked for walking —jaywalker n.

jazz1 /dʒæz/ n. [U] 1 a type of popular music that usually has a strong beat and parts for performers to play alone 2 and all that jazz (spoken) and things like that: I’m sick of rules, responsibilities, and all that jazz.

jazz2 v.

jazz at  up obv v. (informal) to make something more exciting and interesting: You could jazz up that shirt with some accessories.

jazzed /dʒæzd/ adj. (spoken) excited jazz·y /ˈdʒæzi/ adj. (comparative jazzier, superlative jazziest) 1 bright, colorful, and easily noticed: a jazzy tie 2 similar to the style of jazz music

jeal·ous /ˈdʒeləs/ adj. 1 feeling angry or unhappy because someone else has a quality, thing, or ability that you wish you had ➔ envious: Diane was jealous of me because I got better grades. 2 feeling angry or unhappy because someone you love is paying attention to another person, or because another person is showing too much interest in someone you love: It used to make me jealous when he danced with other women. | a jealous husband

jeal·ous·y /ˈdʒeləsi/ n. [U] the feeling of being jealous jeans /dʒeɪnz/ n. plural a popular type of pants made from denim: a pair of jeans. [Origin: 1800—1900 jeen “strong cotton cloth” (15—21 centuries), from Genoa, early form of the name Genova, Italian city where the cloth was first made] ➔ see picture at CLOTHES

Jeep /dʒɛp/ n. [C] (trademark) a type of car made to travel over rough ground jeer /dʒɪər/ v. [L.T] to shout, speak, or laugh in order to annoy or frighten someone you dislike: The crowd jeered at the speaker. —jeer n. [C] jeez /dʒiːz/ interjection said in order to express sudden feelings such as surprise, anger, or shock

Je·ho·vah /ˈdʒiːhoʊˈvɑː/ n. a name for God in the OLD TESTAMENT (=first part of the Bible)

Je·hovah’s Wit·ness /ˌdʒiːhoʊˈvɑːz ˌwɪtnɛs/ n. [C] a member of a religious organization that believes the end of the world will happen soon and sends its members to people’s houses to try to persuade them to join

Je·June /dʒiːˈdʒuːn/ adj. (formal) 1 ideas and behavior that are jejune are too simple or childish: jejune philosophical ideals 2 writing or speech that is jejune is boring because it does not have any interesting details or humor jell /dʒɛl/ v. [I] another spelling of gel.

Jell-O /dʒɛlˈoʊ/ n. [U] (trademark) a soft solid substance made from gelatin and sweet fruit juice or gelatin and sugar that is thickened with hot water and used as a dessert. Jell-O is also used in Jell-O pudding.

jel·ly·fish /ˈdʒel.i.fɪʃ/ n. [C] a large marine animal with many long tentacles that hang from its body jeop·a·ry /ˈdʒeɪpərri/ n. [T] to risk losing or destroying something that is valuable or important: Jack was too worried about jeopardizing his career to say anything.

jeop·a·ry /ˈdʒeɪpərri/ n. in jeopardy in danger of being lost or destroyed: My job is in jeopardy. [Origin: 1300—1400 Anglo-French juparti, from Old French jeu parti “divided game, uncertainty”] jerk /dʒɜːk/ v. 1 [T] to move with a quick movement, or to make something move this way: He jerked his head around to see her. 2 [I,T] to pull something suddenly and quickly: Tom jerked open the door.

jerk sb around give v. (informal) to waste someone’s time or deliberately makes things difficult for him/her: Don’t jerk me around.

jerk2 n. [C] 1 (informal) someone, especially a man, who is stupid or who does things that annoy or hurt other people: What a jerk! 2 a quick movement, especially a pulling movement: He pulled the cord with a jerk. —jerky adj jerk-y /ˈdʒɜːki/ n. [U] pieces of dried meat, usually with a salty or spicy taste jer-sey /ˈdʒɜːzɪ/ n. (plural jerseys) [C] a shirt worn as part of a sports uniform jest /dʒɛst/ n. in jest intending to be funny: The comment was made in jest.

jest-er /dʒɛstər/ n. [C] a man employed in past times to entertain important people with jokes, stories, etc.

Je-sus /dʒɪˈsʌs/ also Jesus Christ n. the man who Christians believe to be the son of God, and whose life and teaching Christianity is based on jet1 /dʒet/ n. [C] 1 a fast airplane with a jet engine 2 a narrow stream of liquid or gas that comes quickly out of a small hole, or the hole itself: a strong jet of water jet2 v. (jetteted, jetting) [I] (informal) to travel in an airplane: He jetted off to Paris yesterday.

jet-engine n. [C] an engine that forces out a stream of hot air and gases, used in airplanes jet lag n. [U] the feeling of being very tired after traveling a long distance in an airplane —jet-lagged adj jet-pro-pelled adj using a jet engine for power —jet propulsion n. [U] jet set n. [singular] rich and fashionable people who travel a lot —jet setter n. [C] jet-tion-son /dʒetʃəˈsʌn, -sən/ v. [T] 1 to get rid of someone or something, or decide not to use him/her anymore: They’re not likely to jettison their star player just because he’s injured. 2 to throw things away, especially from a moving airplane or ship jet-ty /ˈdʒɛti/ n. (plural jetties) [C] 1 a wide wall built out into the water, as protection against large waves 2 a wharf jew-el /dʒuːəl/ n. [C] a small valuable stone, such as a diamond 2 jewels [plural] jewelry [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French juel, from jeu “game, play”] jew-el-ed /ˈdʒuːəld/ adj decorated with valuable stones jew-el-er /dʒuːələr/ n. [C] someone who buys, sells, makes, or repairs jewelry jew-el-ry /dʒuːəlri/ n. [U] small decorations you wear that are usually made from gold, silver, and jewels, such as rings and necklaces jew-ish /ˈdʒuːɪʃ/ adj relating to Judaism —Jew n. [C] jibe1 /dʒaɪb/ n. [C] another spelling of gib

jibe2 v. [I] if two statements, actions, etc. jibe with each other, they agree or make sense together: Your statement to the police does not jibe with the facts.

jif-fy /dʒɪfi/ n. (spoken) in a jiffy very soon: I’ll be back in a jiffy.

jig /dʒɪɡ/ n. [C] a type of quick dance, or the music for this dance jig-ger /dʒɪɡər/ n. [C] a unit for measuring alcohol, equal to 1.5 ounces jig-gle /dʒɪɡl/ v. [I,T] to move from side to side with short quick movements, or to make something do this jig-saw puzzle /dʒɪɡˈsɔʊ pəˈzɔl/ n. [C] a picture cut into many small pieces that you try to fit together for fun ji-had /dʒɪˈhɑːd/ n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a holy struggle to defend the Muslim faith against people, organizations, governments, etc. who are believed to be against Islam

jilt /dʒɪlt/ v. [T] to suddenly end a relationship with someone: His girlfriend jilted him. —jilted adj

Jim Crow /dʒɪm kroʊ/ HISTORY a system of laws and practices used in the U.S. until the 1960s, that treated African-American people unfairly and separated them from white people → SEGREGATION: One Jim Crow law said that separate railroad cars had to be provided for white and black passengers.

jinx1 /dʒɪŋks/ n. [singular] someone or something that brings bad luck, or a period of bad luck that results from this jinx2 /dʒɪŋkst/ v. [I,T] to make someone have bad luck: I don’t want to talk about winning —I’m afraid I’ll jinx myself. —jinxed adj jit-ter-s /dʒɪtərs/ n. the jitters the feeling of being nervous and anxious, especially before an important event: I always get the jitters before I go on stage jitter-y /dʒɪtəri/ adj worried and nervous: The recession has made consumers jittery.

jive1 /dʒaɪv/ v. 1 sth doesn’t jive with (sth) (informal) to seem so strange or unusual that something does not make sense: The newspaper report doesn’t jive with the story on TV. 2 [I] (slang) to try to make someone believe something that is not true: You’re jiving me!

jive2 n. 1 [C,U] a very fast type of dance, often performed to fast JAZZ music 2 [U] (slang) statements that you do not believe are true: Don’t you go giving me any of that jive!
job /dʒɔːb/ n. [C]
1 WORK work that you do regularly in order to earn money: She applied for a job at the bank. | a part-time/full-time job | Sassy got a job as a legal secretary. | He quit/lost his job so he could go back to school. | I lost my job last week. | It is not your age which is important; it is your ability to do the job.

THESAURUS
Your job is the particular work you do regularly to earn money. Work is used in a more general way to talk about employment or the activities involved in it: I started work when I was 18. Employment is a slightly formal word for any work that you do to earn money: He’s been looking for employment for six months.

Position or post are more formal words for a job in a particular organization: How long have you been in your current position?

Occupation is used mainly on official forms to mean your job: Please give your name, age, and occupation.

A profession is a job for which you need special education and training: the legal profession Your career is the work you do for most of your life; I’m interested in a career in journalism.

A vocation is a feeling that the purpose of your life is to do a particular job, or the job itself: I accepted that nursing was both my job and my vocation.

USAGE
Do not say “What is your job?” or “What is your work?” Say “What do you do?” or “What kind of work do you do?”

2 on the job while doing work or at work: Our reporters are on the job now. | All our employees get on-the-job training.

3 DUTY a particular duty or responsibility that you have: It’s my job to take care of my little brother. | Robots can carry out a wide variety of jobs in factories.

4 IMPROVE STH something you do to fix or improve something: The car needs a paint job. | a nose job (=an operation to change the shape of your nose)

5 STH YOU MUST DO a piece of work you must do, usually without being paid: I have a lot of odd jobs (=different things) to do on Saturday.

6 do a good/great/bad etc. job to do something well or badly

7 Good job! (spoken) used to tell someone that she has done something well

8 KIND OF THING also jobby (spoken) used in order to say that something is of a particular type: His new computer’s one of those little portable jobs.

9 do the job (informal) to make something have the result that you want or need: A little more glue should do the job.

10 CRIME (informal) a crime such as robbing a bank

11 COMPUTER an action done by a computer: a print job jock /dʒɔk/ n. [C] (informal) a student who plays a lot of sports jockey /dʒəki/ n. (plural jockeys) | C someone who rides horses in races jockey² v. jockey for position to try to be in the best position or situation jock-strap /dʒəkstræp/ n. [C] underwear that men wear to support their sex organs when playing sports joc-u-lar /dʒəkˈyələr/ adj. (formal) joking or humorous — jocularity /dʒəkˈyələrɪtɪ/ n. [U]

jog /dʒɒg/ v. (jogged, jogging) 1 [I] to run slowly and in a steady way, especially for exercise: Julie jogs every morning. | see picture on page A9 | 2 jog sb’s memory to make someone remember something: This picture might jog your memory. | 3 [T] to knock or push something lightly by mistake: Someone jogged my elbow and I dropped the plate.

jog² n. [singular] a slow steady run, especially for exercise: Let’s go for a jog.

jogging /dʒɒgɪŋ/ n. [U] the activity of running as a way of exercising: We went jogging in Central Park.

john /dʒɔn/ n. [C] (spoken, informal) a toilet

John Doe n. LAW a name used in legal forms, documents, etc. when a man’s name is not known join /dʒɔɪn/ v. 1 [I,T] to become a member of an organization, society, or group: Mary joined the gym last month. | It doesn’t cost anything to join. | 2 [I,T] also join in to begin to take part in an activity that other people are involved in: Joining a political campaign is a great experience. | 3 [I,T] to do something together with someone else: Why don’t you join us for dinner? | Please join with me in welcoming tonight’s speaker. | 4 [I,T] to connect or fasten things together, or to be connected: the place where the two roads join

THESAURUS
fasten, attach, secure, glue, tape, staple, clip, tie, button (up), zip (up) ➔ FASTEN

5 join hands if two or more people join hands, they hold each other’s hands [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French joindre, from Latin jungere]

joint¹ /dʒɔɪnt/ adj. 1 involving two or more people, or owned or shared by them: They have to reach a joint decision. | a joint bank account | “Who cooked dinner?” “It was a joint effort (=we did it together).” 2 joint resolution POLITICS a decision or law agreed by both houses of the U.S. Congress and signed by the President —jointly adv: The company is jointly owned by Time Warner and Disney.

joint² n. [C] 1 a part of the body where two bones meet, that can bend: the knee joint 2 (slang) a place, especially a bar, club, or restaurant: a joke /dʒoʊk/ n. [C] 1 something funny that you say or do to make people laugh. Let me tell you a joke.

THESAURUS

2 informal a situation that is so silly or unreasonable that it makes you angry: What a joke that meeting was.

COLOCATIONS

COLLOCATIONS

inside joke – a joke that only a few people with knowledge about a particular subject or event will understand running joke – a joke that continues or is repeated over a long period of time practical joke – a trick that is intended to surprise someone or make other people laugh at him/her dirty joke – a joke that is about sex sick joke – a joke that is very cruel or disgusting jolt /dʒoʊlt/ v. [I,T] to move suddenly and roughly, or to make someone or something do this: The earthquake jolted southern California.

THE SAURUS

RECORD

2 a magazine or newspaper for people who are interested in a particular subject: The Wall Street Journal.

The report was published in a medical journal.

JOY

joy /dʒɔi/ n. [C] 1 great happiness and pleasure, or something that gives you this feeling: She laughed with joy at the news.

Almost jumped for joy (=I was very happy).

JOYFUL

joyful /dʒɔɪfl/ adj. very happy, or likely to make people very happy: Joyful laughter – joyfully adv.
joyride /ˈdʒɔɪrɪd/ n [C] a fast dangerous drive in a car, often after someone has stolen it for fun —joyriding n. [U] —joyrider n. [C] joy-stick /ˈdʒɔɪ.stɪk/ n. [C] a handle that you use in order to control something such as an aircraft or a computer game ⇒ see picture on page A6

JPEG /ˈdʒeɪ.ɡep/ n. [C] it Joint Photograph Experts Group a type of computer file that contains pictures, photographs, or other images ⇒ MPEG judge /dʒʌdʒ/ v. [T] to decide in court whether someone is guilty: I,T to form an opinion about someone in judgment /ˈdʒudʒmənt/ n. 1 [C,U] an opinion that you form after thinking about something: It's still too early to make a judgment about the quality of her work. | In my judgment (in my opinion), John is the best candidate. 2 [U] the ability to make decisions about situations or people: good/bad judgment | I trust your judgment. 3 [C,U] an official decision given by a judge or a court of law. 4 judgment call a decision you have to make yourself because there are no fixed rules in a situation judgmental /ˈdʒudʒməntl/ adj. too quick to form opinions and criticize other people

Judgment Day n. a time after death when everyone is judged by God, according to some religions judicial /ˈdʒudʒəˈlɪʃəl/ adj. relating to a court of law, judges, etc.: the judicial system judiciary /ˈdʒudʒəˈri/ n. [singular] politics the part of a government that decides whether laws are good and whether people have disobeyed these laws judicial review n. [U] law a process in which a court decides if a law, another court's decision, or an official action is right or constitutional judiciary /ˈdʒudʒəˈri/ n. the judges, judges, etc. form part of the system of government [origin: 1400—1500 Latin judicarius, from judicium] ju-agi /ˈdʒoʊdʒə/ n. a Japanese method of juggling work and children, in which you try to throw your opponent onto the ground, usually done as a sport [origin: 1800—1900 a Japanese word meaning "gentle way" jug /dʒʊdʒ/ n. [C] a large deep container for liquids that has a narrow opening and a handle jug-gle /dʒʊdʒ/ v. 1 [T] to keep three or more objects moving through the air by throwing and catching them very quickly 2 [T] to try to fit two or more jobs, activities, etc. into your life: It's hard trying to juggle work and children. [origin: 1300—1400 juggler (11—21 centuries), from Old French juggleur, from Latin joculare “to make fun”] —jug-gler n. [C] jug-ular /dʒʊdʒəˈlɑr/ n. [C] go for the jugular (informal) to criticize or attack someone very strongly 2 biology the large vein in your neck that takes blood from your head to your heart juice /dʒuːs/ n. 1 [C,U] the liquid that comes from juke box /ˈdʒuːk bɑks/n [C] a machine in bars, restaurants, etc. that plays music when you put money in it

July /ˈdʒuːlɪ/ n [C,U] the seventh month of the year, between June and August: The package arrived on July 3rd. | Henry started working here in July. | We’re getting married next July. | I Haven’t heard from him since last July. (Origin: 1100—1200 Latin Julius, from Gaius Julius Caesar who was born in this month)

jumble /ˈdʒʌmbəl/ n [singular] a messy mixture of things: a jumble of papers —jumble v [T]

jump /dʒʌmp/ v

1 Up [I,T] to push yourself suddenly up in the air using your legs, or to go across or over something by doing this: A fan tried to jump onto the stage. | Lyle was jumping up and down (=jumping many times) and waving his arms.

2 down [I] to let yourself drop from a place that is above the ground: During the fire, two people jumped out of a window.

3 move fast [I] to move quickly or suddenly in a particular direction: Paul jumped up to answer the door.

4 in surprise/fear [I] to make a sudden movement because you are surprised or frightened: The sudden ring of the telephone made us jump.

5 increase [I] if a number or amount jumps, it increases suddenly and by a large amount: Profits jumped 20% last month.

6 jump down sb’s throat [informal] to suddenly speak angrily to someone: All I did was ask a question, and he jumped down my throat!

7 jump to conclusions to form an opinion about something before you have all the facts

8 jump the gun to start doing something too soon, especially without thinking about it carefully: I know you wanted to tell Bill the news yourself, but I’m afraid I jumped the gun.

jump at sb’s throat v. (informal) to eagerly accept the chance to do something: Ruth jumped at the chance to study at Harvard.

jump drive n. [C] a USB drive jump er /dʒʌmpər/ n [C] 1 a dress without sleeves, usually worn over a shirt 2 a person or animal that jumps jumper cables n. [plural] thick wires used to connect the batteries (battery) of two cars, in order to start one car that has lost power jump rope n. [C] a long piece of rope that you pass over your head and under your feet as you jump, either as a game or for exercise —jump rope v [I] —see picture at JUMP jump-start v. [T] 1 to help a process or activity start or become more successful: The government has made efforts to jump-start the economy. 2 to start a car whose battery has lost power by connecting it to another battery jump suit /dʒʌmpsət/ n [C] a single piece of clothing like a shirt attached to a pair of pants, worn especially by women jump y /dʒʌmpə/ adj worried or excited because you are expecting something bad to happen junk /dʒʌŋk/ n. [U] informal food that is not healthy because it has a lot of fat or sugar junk food /dʒʌŋk fud/ n. [U] informal food that is not healthy because it has a lot of fat or sugar junk mail /dʒʌŋk mɛl/ n. [U] mail that advertisers send to people who do not want it junk yard /dʒʌŋk 'yard/ n. [C] a business that buys old cars, broken furniture, etc. and sells the parts of them that can be used again, or the place where this business keeps these things jun·ta /dʒʊntə/ n. [C] a military government that has gained power by using force

jury /dʒʊrɪ/ n. [pl. juries] 1 LAW a group of 12 people who listen to details of a case in court and decide whether someone is guilty or not 2 a group of people chosen to judge a competition

jur·is·pru·dence /dʒʊrɪs'prudns/ n. [U] LAW the science or study of law

jur·or /dʒʊrər/ n. [C] a member of a jury

jur·is·dic·tion /dʒʊrɪs'dɪkʃən/ n. [U] LAW the right to use an official power to make legal decisions, or the area where this right exists: a matter outside the court’s jurisdiction

June /dʒʊn/ (written abbreviation Jun.) n. [C] the sixth month of the year, between May and July: Can you come to our party on June 24th? | Janet was born in June. | The movie will be released next June. | I graduated last June. [Origin: 1200—1300 French juiun, from Latin Ianuus]

jun·gle /dʒʌŋɡl/ n. [C] a thick tropical forest with many large plants that grow very close together [Origin: 1700—1800 Hindi jangal “forest,” from Sanskrit jangala]

jun·ior /dʒʊnɪər/ adj. (written abbreviation Jr.) used after the name of a man who has the same name as his father ➔ senior junior n. [C] 1 a student in the third year of high school or college ➔ student 2 be two/five/ten etc. years sb’s junior to be two, five, etc. years younger than someone else junior adj. [only before noun] younger, less experienced, or of a lower rank ➔ senior: the junior senator from Georgia ➔ position junior college n. [C] a college where students can study for two years ➔ community college junior high school also junior high n. [C] a school in the U.S. and Canada for students who are between 12 and 14 or 15 years old ➔ middle school, high school junk food /dʒʊŋk fud/ n. [U] informal food that is not healthy because it has a lot of fat or sugar

junk food /dʒʊŋk fud/ n. [U] informal food that is not healthy because it has a lot of fat or sugar

junk yard /dʒʊŋk 'yard/ n. [C] a business that buys old cars, broken furniture, etc. and sells the parts of them that can be used again, or the place where this business keeps these things jun·ta /dʒʊntə/ n. [C] a military government that has gained power by using force

Ju·pi·ter /dʒʊpɪtər/ n. PHYSICS the largest planet, which is fifth from the Sun ➔ see picture at solar system

jur·is·dic·tion /dʒʊrɪs'dɪkʃən/ n. [U] LAW the right to use an official power to make legal decisions, or the area where this right exists: a matter outside the court’s jurisdiction justifiable

jus·ti·fi·a·ble /jəsˈtiːfəbəl/ or jus·ti·fied /jəsˈtiːfaɪd/ adj. morally right and fair (ANT: unjust: a just punishment)

justification

justifiable adj. having an acceptable explanation or reason: Your complaints are certainly justified. —justifiably adv.

justification n. [C] LAW a good and acceptable reason for doing something: There is no justification for terrorism. They argued, with some justification, that the law was unconstitutional.

justifiable adj. morally right and fair (ANT: unjust)

justification n. [C] LAW a good and acceptable reason for doing something: There is no justification for terrorism. They argued, with some justification, that the law was unconstitutional.

justice of the Peace n. [C] LAW someone who judges less serious cases in small courts of law and can perform marriage ceremonies justified

justified adj. having an acceptable explanation or reason: Your complaints are certainly justified. —justifiably adv.

justification n. [C] LAW a good and acceptable reason for doing something: There is no justification for terrorism. They argued, with some justification, that the law was unconstitutional.

justification n. [C] LAW a good and acceptable reason for doing something: There is no justification for terrorism. They argued, with some justification, that the law was unconstitutional.

justifiable adj. morally right and fair (ANT: unjust)

justification n. [C] LAW a good and acceptable reason for doing something: There is no justification for terrorism. They argued, with some justification, that the law was unconstitutional.

justifiable adj. having an acceptable explanation or reason: Your complaints are certainly justified. —justifiably adv.

justified adj. having an acceptable explanation or reason: Your complaints are certainly justified. —justifiably adv.

keep /kiːp/ v. (past tense and past participle kept /kept/)

1. NOT GIVE BACK [T] to have something and not give it back to the person who had it before: You can keep that sweater—it's too small for me.

2. NOT LOSE [T] to continue to have something and not lose it or get rid of it: They're keeping the house in Colorado and selling this one. | I've kept her photograph all these years.

3. NOT CHANGE/MOVE [linking verb] to continue to be in a particular condition or place and not change or move: She's staying. This blanket should help you keep warm. | Keep still so I can cut your hair.

4. MAKE SB/STH NOT CHANGE OR MOVE [T] to make someone or something continue to be in a particular state, situation, or place: They kept him in jail for two weeks. | It's hard to keep the house clean with three kids. | Her son kept her waiting for an hour. | I don't know what's keeping her. It's 8:00 already. | Keep those kids out of my yard!

5. KEEP ON doing sth to continue doing something, or repeat an action many times: If he keeps on growing like this, he'll be taller than Dad soon. | Keep driving—I'll tell you when we're almost there.

6. STORE STH [T] to leave something in one particular place so that you can find it easily: I keep my keys in the top drawer of my dresser.

---

keel /kiːl/ stay/remain on an even keel

7. keep an even keel to continue doing the things you always do, or feeling the way you always feel, without any sudden changes

8. keep going (spoken) used to encourage someone who is doing something and to tell them to continue: Keep going, you're doing fine.

9. keep your promise/word to do what you have promised to do: The President kept his promise to appoint more women to his cabinet.

10. keep sth quiet/keep quiet about sth to not say anything in order to avoid complaining, telling a secret, or causing problems: I'll tell you what happened, but you have to keep it quiet.

11. keep sb posted to continue to tell someone the most recent news about someone or something: Keep me posted—I'd like to know about any changes.

12. FOOD [if] if food keeps, it stays fresh enough to still be eaten: How long do you think this milk will keep? [OriGIne: Old English cepan]

---

keel /kiːl/ /keɪl/ n. [C] shish kebab

13. kebab [SHISH KEBAB] can be used for a particular purpose

14. keel over phr. v. to fall over sideways: Rob looked as if he were ready to keel over.

15. keep warm or move

16. keen /kɪn/ adj. 1. very interested in something, or eager to do it: Most people are keen to do a job well. | I was never very keen on science. 2. a keen sense of smell, sight, or hearing is an extremely good ability to smell, etc.

---

keeep /kip/ v. (past tense and past participle kept /kept/)

17. KEPT past tense and past participle

18. keen on

19. keen /kɪn/ adj. formal

20. keen to

---

keen /kɪn/ adv.

21. keep still

---

keen /kɪn/ phr. v.:

22. keep (on) doing sth to continue doing something: Keep at until you get it right.

23. keep (sb/sth) away phr. v.

24. keep (sb/sth) from doing sth to prevent someone or something from doing this: Keep away from the fire. | Mom kept us away from school for a week.

25. keep (sb/sth) off phr. v.

26. keep (sb/sth) from doing sth to prevent someone from doing something or prevent something from happening: She had to cover her mouth to keep from laughing. | Put foil over the pie to keep it from burning.

27. keep (sb/sth) out of phr. v.

28. keep (sb/sth) to try not to become involved with something: My father warned us to keep out of trouble.
keep to

1. keep to v.
   - keep to v. to continue to do, use, or talk about one thing and not change: You're better off keeping to the main roads. [Malay kept the same strategy throughout the game.
   - keep sth to yourself something that you know or think: You're better off keeping this to yourself.

keep·sake

- A specially shaped piece of metal that you put into a lock in order to lock or unlock a door, start a car, etc.: I can't find my car keys.

keg

- A special metal pot used for boiling and pouring water.

keep·ing

- To move as fast as someone else: I can't keep up!

Kelvin

- Water boils at 373.15 K.

kernel

- A small yellow part of corn that you eat.

keep up

1. keep up v. to continue to do, use, or talk about something: to keep up with changes in computer technology.
2. keep up v. to prevent someone from sleeping: The shortage of supplies is keeping us up all night.
3. keep up v. to move as fast as someone else: I can't keep up!
4. keep up v. to make something continue: Keep up the good work!
5. keep up v. to learn as fast or do as much as other people: I can't keep up!

keep to... for keeps

- To keep something for a long time: I'll keep this for keeps.

keep... up

- To keep something up: I'll keep the ticket here for safe keeping.

kennel

- A place where dogs are held or kept: The kennel is where the dogs sleep.

keep up with

- To keep up with something: I can't keep up with all the changes in computer technology.

key·board

- A set of seven musical notes that have a particular base note, or the quality of sound notes: the key of G.

key

- A very important and necessary for success or to understand something: a key player.

key·note

- A keynote speech: I gave a keynote speech at the conference.

key·ring

- A metal ring that you keep keys on: I carried my keys on a keyring.

kick

- To hit something with your foot: Kyle collapsed on the floor while kicking.
- To make something continue: Keep kicking me! She kicked the pile of books over.
- To move one or both of your legs with short quick movements as if you are hitting something with your foot: a baby kicking its legs.
- To make something continue: I love kicking and screaming.

kick the... (informal)

- To stop doing something: 3 kick the habit.

kick yourself

- To make a mistake or missed an opportunity: I wanted to kick myself when I missed the train. to kick myself for forgetting her name. 5 kick the bucket (humorous) to die kick around phr. v. 1 kick sth ↔ around (informal) to think about something a lot or get people’s opinions about it before making a decision: We’ve been kicking around the idea of getting a dog. 2 kick sb ↔ around (informal) to treat someone badly or unfairly: He won’t be kicking me around anymore!

kick back phr. v. (informal) to relax: I thought I’d kick back and watch some TV.

kick in phr. v. 1 (informal) to begin to have an effect: Those pills should kick in any time now. 2 kick in sth (informal) to join with others to give money or help with something: Everyone kicked in $5 for gas. 3 kick sth ↔ in to kick something so hard that it breaks open: The police had to kick the door in.

kick off ↔ off phr. v. (informal) to start, or to make an event start: The festivities will kick off with a barbecue dinner.

kick sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to dismiss someone, or to make him/her leave a place: Sean was kicked out of school for cheating.

kick v. 1 (C) an act of hitting something with your foot: If the gate won’t open, just give it a good kick (=kick it hard). 2 (informal) a strong feeling of excitement or pleasure: I get a real kick out of watching my two cats play. She started stealing for kicks. 3 be on a health/wine/swimming etc. kick (informal) to have a strong new interest in something kick-back /ˈkɪkbæk/ n. [C,U] money that you pay someone for secretly or dishonestly helping you to make money (bribe) kick-off /ˈkɪk-ˌɔf/ n. [C,U] the time when a game of football or soccer starts, or the first kick that starts it: Kickoff is at 3:00.

kid¹ n. [C] 1 (informal) a child: Kim is really good with kids. She’s loved animals since she was a little kid.

kid² v. (kidded, kidding) (informal) 1 [i.T] to say something that is not true, especially as a joke: Don’t get mad. I was just kidding.

2 [T] to make something stop or fail, or turn off the power to something: Nothing that the doctor gives me kicks the pain. A group of bankers persuaded lawmakers to kill the proposal. 3 [i.T] (informal) to be very angry at someone: My wife will kill me if I don’t get home soon. 4 sth is killing me (spoken) used to say that a part of your body is hurting a lot: My head is killing me. 5 kill time (informal) to do something that is not very useful or interesting while you are waiting for something to happen: We hung out at the mall to kill time. 6 kill two birds with one stone to achieve two things with one action kill sb ↔ off phr. v. to cause the death of a lot of living things: Pollution is rapidly killing off marine life in the lake.

kill n. 1 [singular] an animal killed by another animal, especially for food: The lion dragged its kill into the bushes. 2 [usually singular] the act of killing a hunted animal: The hawk swooped in for the kill.

kill-er /ˈkɪlr/ n. [C] a person, animal, or thing that kills or has killed: Police are still looking for the girl’s killer.
killer adj [only before noun] 1 (slang) very attractive or very good: That looks like a killer movie. 2 very harmful or likely to kill you: a killer landslide kill-ing /ˈkɪlɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 a murder: a series of brutal killings 2 make a killing (informal) to make a lot of money very quickly: They planned to make a killing on the stock market.

kiln /ˈkɪln/ n. [C] a special oven for baking clay pots, bricks, etc. [Origin: 700–800 Latin cultina "kitchen," from coquere "to cook"]

kil-o-byte /ˈkɪləˌbiːt/ n. [C] if a unit for measuring computer information, equal to 1,024 bytes kil-o-cal-o-rie /ˈkɪləˌkæləri/ n. [C] PHYSICS (written abbreviation kcal) a unit of heat. It equals the amount of heat needed to increase the temperature of one kilogram of water by 1°C kil-o-gram /ˈkɪləˌɡræm/ also kilo n. [C] PHYSICS (written abbreviation kg) a unit for measuring weight, equal to 1,000 grams kil-o-meter /ˈkɪləˌmiːtər/ , ‘kɪloˌmiːtər/ n. [C] (written abbreviation km) a unit for measuring length, equal to 1,000 meters kil-o-watt /ˈkɪləˌwɔt/ n. [C] PHYSICS (written abbreviation kW) a unit for measuring electrical power, equal to 1,000 watts kilt /kɪlt/ n. [C] a type of wool skirt with a pattern of lines and squares on it, traditionally worn by Scottish men

kil-ter /ˈkɪltər/ n. out of kilter also off kilter if something is out of kilter, it is not working the way it should be or not doing what it should ki-mo-no /ˈkiːmoʊˌnoʊ/ n. (plural kimonos) [C] a traditional piece of Japanese clothing like a long coat, that is worn at special ceremonies kin /kɪn/ n. [plural] 1 next of kin (formal) your most closely related family 2 (old-fashioned) your family kind adj 1 a short form of “kind of,” used in writing to show how people sound when they speak: I'm kinda tired.

kind-der-garten /ˈkaɪndərˌɡɑrtn/ n. -garten/ n. [C] a class for young children who are about five years old that prepares them for school → NURSERY SCHOOL [Origin: 1800–1900 German "chil- dren’s garden"] kind-heard adj kind and generous: a kind-hearted woman kind-ly adj [only before noun] 1 in a kind way generously: Mr. Thomas has kindly offered to let us use his car. 2 not take kindly to sth to be annoyed or upset by something that someone says or does: He didn’t take kindly to having his picture taken. 3 (spoken) a word meaning “please,” often used when you are annoyed: Would you kindly close that door?

kind-ness /ˈkaɪndnəs/ n. [C,U] kind behavior, or a kind action: We were overwhelmed by the kindness of the local people.

kind-dred /ˈkaɪndrɪd/ adj a kindred spirit someone who thinks and feels the way you do kin-etic /ˈkaɪnətɪk/ adj 1 kinetic art/ sculpture/painting etc. ENG, LANG, ARTS art that has moving parts 2 PHYSICS relating to movement: the kinetic properties of each gas kinetic energy

kinetic energy n. [U] PHYSICS the energy that a moving object has as a result of its own movement ➔ POTENTIAL ENERGY: A rock rolling down a hill contains kinetic energy.

kinetic theory n. [U] PHYSICS a scientific theory used to describe and explain the behavior and properties of gases, based on the idea that all matter consists of particles which are continuously moving around very quickly, and that energy and momentum are produced when particles hit each other

king /ˈkiːŋ/ n. [C] 1 a man who is the ruler of a country because he is from a royal family ➔ QUEEN: the king of Spain | King Edward

kingdom /ˈkiːndəm/ n. [C] 1 POLITICS a country ruled by a king or queen 2 the animal/plant/ mineral kingdom BIOLOGY the three parts into which scientists divide the natural world 3 BIOLOGY one of the six large groups into which scientists divide plants and animals

king-pin /ˈkiːŋ.pɪn/ n. [C] the most important person in a group: a drug kingpin

king-size also king-sized adj. very large, and usually the largest of its type: a king-size bed kink /ˈkɪŋk/ n. [C] 1 a twist in something that is normally straight: the hose has a kink in it. 2 work out the kinks to solve all the problems in a plan, situation, etc.

kinky /ˈkɪŋki/ adj. (informal) 1 someone who is kinky, or who does kinky things, has strange ways of getting sexual excitement 2 kinky hair has a lot of tight curls kiosk /ˈkoʊsk/ n. [C] a small building where you can buy things such as newspapers or tickets [Origin: 1800—1900 French kiosque, from Turkish kösk “small building for sitting in”] kiss² n. [C] an act of kissing: come here and give me a kiss.

kiss³ /ˈkɪs/ v. 1 [T] to touch someone with your lips as a greeting, or to show love: they stood on the beach and kissed. She kissed me on the cheek. He leaned forward and kissed her goodnight. 2 kiss sb goodbye (spoken) used in order to say that someone will lose his/her chance to get or do something: if you don’t start working harder, you can kiss medical school goodbye. [Origin: Old English cyssan]

kiss² /kɪs/ n. [U] decorations, movies, etc. that seem to be cheap and without style, and often amuse people because of this ➔ kit sch, kitsch adj.

kit-ten /ˈkɪt.ɪn/ n. [C] a young cat [Origin: 1300—1400 From an unrecorded Old North French caton, from cat “cat,” from Late Latin cattus]

kit-ty /ˈkɪti/ n. (plural kitties) [C] 1 (spoken) also kit-ty-cat /ˈkɪti.kaʊt/ a word meaning a cat, used especially by children or when calling to a cat: here, kitty kitty! 2 [usually singular] the money that people have collected for a particular purpose kit-ty-corner adv. kitty-corner from sth on the other side of the street, and slightly to the left or the right, from a place: his store is kitty-corner from the bank.

ki-wi /ˈki.wi/ also kiwi fruit [C] a soft green fruit with small black seeds and a thin brown skin ➔ see picture on page 454

K the abbreviation of KU KLUX KLAN

Kleen-ex /ˈkliːn.iks/ n. [C,U] (trademark) a piece of soft thin paper, used especially for blowing your nose

klutz /ˈklʌts/ n. [C] (informal) someone who often drops things and falls easily [Origin: 1900—2000 Yiddish klo tz, klutz, from German Klotz “large piece of wood”] ➔ klutzry adj.

km the written abbreviation of KILOMETER

knack /næk/ n. [singular] (informal) a natural ability to do something well: knight has almost had a knack for teaching.

knapsack /ˈnæpsæk/ n. [C] a bag that you carry on your shoulders ➔ backpack [Origin: 1600—1700 Low German knappen or Dutch knapper “food bag”]

knead /nɛd/ v. [T] to press DOUGH (= mixture of flour, water, etc. for making bread) many times with your hands ➔ see picture on page A5

knee /ni/ n. [C] 1 the joint where your leg bends: a knee injury | he actually got down on his knees and asked me to forgive him ➔ see picture on page... knee⁰ v. [T] to hit someone with your knee: Victor knelled him in the stomach.

knee-cap /'nikæp/ n. [C] the bone at the front of your knee → see picture on page A3 knee-deep adj. 1 a) deep enough to reach your knees b) in something that is deep enough to reach your knees: The trails were knee-deep in snow. 2 knee-deep in sth (informal) very involved in something, or greatly affected by something that you cannot avoid: Ralph lost his job, and we ended up knee-deep in debt.

knee-high adj. tall enough to reach your knees: knee-high water knee-high water

knee-jerk adj. 1 a) deep enough to reach your knees b) in something that is deep enough to reach your knees: The trails were knee-deep in snow. 2 knee-deep in sth (informal) very involved in something, or greatly affected by something that you cannot avoid: Ralph lost his job, and we ended up knee-deep in debt.

knit⁰ v. (past tense and past participle knit or knitted, present participle knitting) [I,T] 1 to make clothes out of yarn (wick thread) using knitting needles or a special machine: She’s knitting me a sweater. 2 to join people, things, or ideas more closely, or to be closely related: The broken bone should knit together smoothly. | a tightly/closely knit community 3 knit your brows to show you are worried, thinking hard, etc. by moving your eyebrows together [Origin: Old English cnir-tan]

knob /nɔb/ n. [C] one of the two long sticks that you use to knit something → see picture at knit![1]

knob-by /'nɔbɪ/ adj. with hard parts that stick out from under the surface of something: knobby knees

knock! /nɔk/ v. 1 [I] to hit a door or window with your closed hand in order to attract the attention of the people inside: I’ve been knocking at the door for five minutes. 2 [I,T] to hit someone or something with a quick hard hit, so that he, she, or it moves or falls down: The ball was knocked loose, out of his hands. | A car knocked into a pole in the parking lot. 3 knock sb unconscious to hit someone so hard that s/he becomes unconscious

knobes /nɔvz/ n. the plural of KNIFE

knob- by /'nɔbɪ/ adj. with hard parts that stick out from under the surface of something: knobby knees

SPOKEN PHRASES

4 knock it off used in order to tell someone to stop doing something because it is annoying you 5 knock some sense into sb to make someone learn to behave in a more sensible way: Maybe getting arrested will knock some sense into him. 6 knock on wood an expression that is used after a statement about something good, in order to prevent your luck from becoming bad: I haven’t had a cold all winter, knock on wood.

7 [T] to criticize someone or something, especially in an unfair or annoying way: The mayor took every opportunity to knock his opponent.

criticize, attack, find fault with, be disparaging about sb/sth knock back v (informal) to drink a large amount of alcohol very quickly: He knocked back a few beers.

knock sb/sth down v 1 to hit or push someone so that he falls to the ground: The horse knocked Laura down while she was cleaning the stable. 2 to destroy a building or structure: My elementary school was knocked down so a mall could be built. 3 (informal) to reduce the price of something: The new stove we bought was knocked down from $800 to $550.

knock off v (informal) 1 to stop working: We decided to knock off around 3. 2 knock sb/sth off to reduce the price of something by a particular amount: I got him to knock $10 off the regular price.

knock out v 1 knock sb ↔ out to make someone become unconscious: He knocked out his opponent in the fifth round. 2 knock sb/sth ↔ out to defeat a person or team in a competition so that he, she, or it cannot continue to take part in the competition: Indiana knocked Kentucky out of the tournament. 3 knock yourself out (informal) to work very hard in order to do something well, especially so that you are very tired when you finish: He’s been knocking himself out trying to find a job.

knock sb/sth ↔ over v to hit or push someone or something so that he, she, or it falls down: Scott knocked the lamp over.

knock [C] 1 the sound of something hard hitting a hard surface: a loud knock at the door 2 the action of something hard hitting your body: a knock on the head 3 take a knock (informal) to have some bad luck or trouble: Lee’s taken quite a few hard knocks lately.

knock-knack/ /n [C] a piece of metal on an outside door, that you use to knock loudly knock-out /nəuk-ʌut/ [C] 1 an act of hitting your opponent so hard in BOXING that he falls down and cannot get up again 2 (old-fashioned, informal) a woman who is very attractive knoll /nɔl/ [n] a small round hill knot /nʌt/ [n] 1 a place where two ends or pieces of rope, string, etc. have been tied together: Her Brownie troop is learning how to tie knots. 2 many hairs, threads, etc. that are twisted together 3 a hard round place in a piece of wood where a branch once joined the tree 4 a tight painful place in a muscle, or a tight uncomfortable feeling in your stomach: a knot in my back 5 My stomach is in knots. 5 tie the knot (informal) to get married 6 a small group of people standing close together 7 a unit for measuring the speed of a ship that is about 1.853 meters per hour [Origin: Old English cnotta] knock v (knotted, knotting) 1 [T] to tie together two ends or pieces of rope, string, etc. 2 [I,T] if hairs, threads, etc. knot, or if something knots them, they become twisted together know v (past tense knew/ /nuːt/ past participle known /nuːn/) 1 HAVE INFORMATION [I,T] to have information about something: Do you know the answer to this question? 2 I don’t know much about art. We don’t know what we’re supposed to be doing. 3 Did you know that Andy was fired? He wants to know (=wants to be told) what happened.

BE SURE [I,T] to be sure about something: “Is Bob coming?” “I don’t know.” 1 I knew that she didn’t like him. Barry didn’t know what to say. 3 BE FAMILIAR WITH SB/STH [T] to be familiar with a person, place, system, etc.: She knows the city pretty well. 1 I’ve known Jack since we were in the army. 2 He said he’d like to get to know us better (would like to know more about us)

REALIZE [I] to realize or understand something: I don’t think he knows how stupid he sounds. 1 I know exactly what you mean. 2 You know full/ perfectly well what I’m talking about.

KNOW WHAT [I,T] to be able to recognize someone or something: She knew it was Gail by her voice (=she recognized Gail because of her voice).

know better to be wise or experienced enough to avoid making mistakes: He should have known better than to trust Rich.

know your way around to be familiar with a place, organization, system, etc. so that you can use it effectively

8 you know a) said when you cannot quickly think of what to say next, but you want to keep someone’s attention: And then I told him he could, you know, call me whenever he wants. 2 said when you are trying to explain something by giving more information: I have some clothes for Matthew, you know, for the baby, if Carrie wants them. 3 said when you begin talking about a subject: You know, I spoke to Eric last night. 4 said in order to check if someone understands what you are saying: I can’t stand it when people are late, you know?

9 I know a) used to agree with someone or to say that you feel the same way: “That meeting was so boring!” “I know – I couldn’t wait to get out of there.” 2 said when you suddenly have an idea or think of the answer to a problem: I know, let’s ask Luis for a ride. 3 as far as I know said when you think something is true, but you are not sure: As far as I know, Bethany left at 6:00. 11 you never know used to say that you are not sure what will happen: You never know, you might win!

[Origin: Old English knewan]

know of sb/sth phr. v.
1. to have been told or to have read about someone or something, but not know much about him, her, or it: I only know of him – I’ve never met him.
2. used to ask for or give advice: Do you know of any good restaurants around here?

3. not that I know of used in order to say that the answer to a question is “No,” but that there may be facts you do not know about: “Does Chris smoke?” “Not that I know of.”

know n. in the know having more information than most people about something: Those in the know say that gas prices will be going up.

know-how n. informal knowledge, practical ability, or skill.

knowing-ly /noun(ə)l/ adv. 1 deliberately: He’d never knowingly hurt you. 2 in a way that shows you know all about something: Tara nould knewingly.

know-it-all n. (informal, disapproving) who behaves as if he knows everything.

knowable /ˈnəulədʒəbəl/ adj. knowing a lot: Steve’s very knowledgeable about politics.

known /nəun/ v. the past participle of know known² adj. known about, especially by many people: a known criminal.

knuckle /ˈnʌkəl/ n. [C] one of the joints in your fingers ➔ see picture at HAND.

knuckle² v. knuckle under phr. v. (informal) to accept someone’s authority or orders without wanting to: She refused to knuckle under to company regulations.

KO the abbreviation of KNOCKOUT

koala /ˈkoʊələ/ also koala bear n. [C] an Australian animal like a small bear that climbs trees and eats leaves ➔ see picture at MARSUPIAL.

Koran /ˈkoʊrən/ also -rən/ n. the Koran the holy book of the Muslim religion [Origin: 1600—1700 Arabic qu'ran, from qura'a “to read”]

Korean² n. 1. [U] the language used in Korea 2. [C] someone from Korea.

kosher /ˈkou̯ʃər/ adj. 1. kosher food is prepared according to Jewish law 2. kosher restaurants or stores sell food prepared in this way. 3. (informal) honest and legal, or socially acceptable: I don’t think the way she broke up with him was kosher.

kow-tow /ˈkau̯təʊ/ v. [L] (informal, disapproving) to be too eager to please or obey someone who has more power than you: I don’t like the way this president kowtows to big business. [Origin: 1800—1900 Chinese ke tou “to hit your head;” because when you bow very low you hit your head on the floor]

Krem-lin /ˈkremlən/ n. the Kremlin the government of Russia and the former USSR, or the buildings that are this government’s offices.

KS the written abbreviation of KANSAS

ku-dos /ˈkədoʊs/ n. [C] (informal, disapproving) admiration and respect that you get for being important or doing something important.

Ku Klux Klan /ˈku kloks ˈklæn/ (abbreviation KKK) n. the Ku Klux Klan a U.S. political organization, whose members are Protestant white people, which believes that people of other races or religions should not have any power or influence in American society.

kung fu /ˈk隐约 ′fu/ n. [U] an ancient Chinese fighting art in which you attack people with your feet and hands.

KW PHYSICS the written abbreviation of KILOWATT

Kwan-zaa /ˈkwənˌzə/ n. [C,U] a holiday celebrated by some African-Americans between December 26 and January 1

KY the written abbreviation of KENTUCKY

---

L

L 1. [l] 1. the TWELFTH letter of the English alphabet 2. the number 50 in the system of ROMAN NUMERALS

LA 1. the written abbreviation of LOUISIANA 2. L.A. Los Angeles

lab /ˈleɪb/ n. [C] (informal) 1. a LABORATORY: a research lab at Columbia University 2. a LABORATORY

label n. 1. a paper piece of or other material that is attached to something and has information about that thing printed on it: a beer label | Always read the instructions on the label. | The label should give clear information about how... much salt and fat is in the product. 2 a famous name that represents a company that is selling a product: Fischer recorded two albums for the Victor label. 3 a word or phrase that is used in order to describe someone or something: As a writer, he’s proud of his “liberal” label. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French “long narrow piece of cloth”]

label v [T] 1 to attach a label to something or write information on something: Make sure your charts are clearly labeled. 2 to use a particular word or phrase in order to describe someone: No one wants to be labeled a racist. | The principal labeled his behavior as inappropriate.

lab-or-er /l@'bOri@s n [C] 1 a person whose job involves a lot of physical work: a laborer set up the scaffolding. 2 a man who works for an employer: The laborer was paid the going rate.

la-bor-er-y /l@bOra'tOri/ n (plural laboratories) a special room or building in which scientists do tests and research [Origin: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin laboratorium, from Latin laborare “to work”]

lab-or-camp n[C] a place where prisoners are forced to do hard physical work

Labor Day n. a public holiday in the U.S. and Canada on the first Monday in September

la-bo-ri-ous /'la'bori@s/ adj needing to be done slowly, and with a lot of effort: Filmmaking can be a laborious process.

labor-union n [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE an organization that represents the ordinary workers in a particular trade or profession, especially in meetings with employers lab-ra-dor /'labra'dor/ n [C] a large dog with black or yellow fur

lab-y-rinth /'la'bri inh/ n [C] a MAZE

lace 1 /læs/ n [U] a type of fine cloth made with patterns of very small holes: lace curtains 2 [C] usually plural a string that is pulled through special holes in shoes or clothing and tied, in order to pull the edges together and fasten them ➔ see picture at SHOE [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French lâce “net, string,” from Latin laqueus “trap”] lace 2 also lace up v. [T] to pull something together by tying a lace: Paul laced up his boots.

lac-er-a-tion /'læsə'ræʃən/ n. [C] a serious cut in your skin or flesh

lack 1 /læk/ adj the state of not having something, or of not having enough of it: a lack of interest | The project was canceled for lack of money (=because there was not enough). [Origin: 1200—1300 Middle Dutch laten] lack 2 v [T] to not have something, or to not have enough of it: She’s talented but lacks experience.

lack-ing /'lækIn/ adj 1 not having enough of a particular thing or quality: No one said she was lacking in determination. 2 not existing or available: Information about the cause of the crash was lacking.

lac-quer /'lækər/ n [U] a clear substance painted on wood or metal to give it a hard shiny surface — lacquered adj: a lacquered box

lac-tose /'læktəs/ n [U] CHEMISTRY a type of sugar found in milk ➔ FRUCTOSE, GLUCOSE, SUCROSE

lac-y /'leIsi/ adj: decorated with LACE, or looking like lace: black lace underwear

lad /læd/ n [C] (old-fashioned) a boy or young man lad-der /'lædər/ n [C] 1 a piece of equipment used for climbing up to high places, consisting of two long bars connected with rungs (=steps): The painter climbed up the ladder. 2 the jobs you have to do in an organization in order to gradually become more powerful or important: Stevens worked his way to the top of the corporate ladder. [Origin: Old English hlæðer]

lad-en /'lædən/ adj carrying or containing a lot of something: The table was laden with food.

la-dies’ room n [C] a room in a public building with toilets for women la-dle /'lædə/ n [C] a deep spoon with a long handle ➔ lidel v [T]: I ladled soup into bowls.

la-dy /'lædi/ n (plural ladies) [C] a word meaning a woman, used in order to be polite: Ladies and gentlemen, thank you for coming this evening. | a little old lady [Origin: Old English hlafdfige, from hlaf “bread” + dige “one who kneads”]

la-dy-bug /'lædi'bɒg/ n [C] a small round insect that is red with black spots lag 1 /læg/ v (lagged, lagging) [I] to move or... develop more slowly than other things or people: Students’ test scores are lagging behind last year’s.

lag^2 n. [C] a delay between two events ➔ JET LAG la·goon /laˈɡoʊn/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES an area of ocean that is not very deep, and is nearly separated from the ocean by rocks, sand, or CORAL laid /lād/ v. the past tense and past participle of LAY laid·back adj. relaxed and not seeming to worry about anything: He’s a pretty laid-back guy.

SEE SYNONYMS AT CALM

calm, relaxed, easygoing, mellow ➔ CALM lain /lān/ v. the past participle of LIE lair /lār/ n. [C] the place where a wild animal hides and sleeps: a wolf’s lair laissez·faire /ləˈzəzˌfrā/ adj. ⌠see picture on page A11 ⌡ECONOMICS the principle that the government should not control or interfere with businesses or the economy lake /lāk/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of water surrounded by land: We’re going swimming in the lake. [Lake Michigan] [origin: 1200—1300 Old French lac, from Latin lacus] ➔ see picture on page A11

lamp /lāmp/ n, “to shine” ➔ see picture an object that produces light by using electricity, oil, or gas; a desk lamp [Greek: lampes, from Latin lam·pa, “to shine”] ➔ see picture at LIGHT lamp·shade /læmˈʃeид/ n. [C] a cover put over the top of a lamp for decoration and in order to make the light less bright

LAN /læn, ′læn/ n. [C] 1 local area network a small network of computers connected to each other within the same building or organization, so that people who work there can see and use the same information lance /læns/ n. [C] a long thin pointed weapon used in past times by soldiers on horses land^1 /lænd/ n. 1 [U] the ground, especially when owned by someone and used for buildings or farming ➔ EARTH, SOIL: A mall is being built on the land near the lake. | 5,000 acres of agricultural land ➔ GROUND^2 2 [U] the solid dry part of the Earth’s surface: Frogs live on land and in the water. ➔ EARTH 3 [C] (literary) a country or place: a faraway land [origin: Old English] ➔ COUNTRY land^2 v. 1 [I,T] if an airplane lands, or if a pilot lands an airplane, the airplane moves down until it is safely on the ground (try take off: My flight landed in Chicago an hour late.

ARRIVE ➔ arrive, get to, reach, get in, come in

2 [I] to fall or come down onto something after moving through the air: Chris slipped and landed on his back. 3 [T] to finally succeed in getting a particular job, contract, or deal: Kelly landed a job with a big law firm. 4 [I] to arrive somewhere in a boat, airplane, etc.: The immigrants landed in New York. 5 [T] to put someone or something on land from an airplane or boat: They landed 1,200 troops on the beach.

land bridge n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a narrow piece of land that connects two large areas of land: People and animals migrated eastwards across the land bridge that is now covered by the Bering Sea.

land·fill /lændˈfil/ n. [C] a place where waste is buried in large amounts land·form /lændˈfɔːrm/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a natural physical feature of the Earth’s surface, for example a mountain or valley land grant n. [C] a gift of public land from the government, usually used to build something such as a college, railroad, or HIGHWAY land·ing /lændˈɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 the floor at the top of a set of stairs 2 the action of arriving on land, or of making something such as an airplane or boat come onto land  ➔ TAKOFF: an emergency landing (≡ a sudden landing made by an airplane because it is having trouble) land’ing gear  n. [U] an aircraft’s wheels and wheel supports land’ing pad  n. [C] the area where a HELICOPTER comes down to earth land’ing strip  n. [C] a special road on which an airplane lands, especially one not at an airport ➔ RUNWAY land’land’ed/ /land,led/ a woman who owns a building or other property and rents it to people land’lock/ /landl/ adj. surrounded by land: a landlocked country land’lord  /landloudrd/ n. [C] someone who owns a building or other property and rents it to other people land’mark/ /landmark/ n. [C] something that helps you recognize where you are, such as a famous building 1 one of the most important events, changes, or discoveries that influences someone or something: The treaty is an important landmark in U.S.-Mexico relations.

land’mine  /landmain/ n. [C] a type of bomb hidden in the ground that explodes when someone walks or drives over it land’own’er  /landounr/ n. [C] someone who owns a large amount of land land’redis布u’tion  n. [U] a process in which land is taken away from people who own large farms and given to people who do not have any land at all or have very little land land’reform  n. [C/U] POLITICS actions that are taken, especially by a government, to divide up farm land so that more people own some of it land’scape  /landskip/ n. [C] 1 a view across an area of land, including hills, forests, fields, etc. ➔ SCENERY: the beautiful landscape of Sonoma Valley 2 a photograph or painting of a landscape ➔ see picture at PAINTING land’scape’ ➔ v. [T] to arrange where the plants should grow in a park, yard, or garden—landscaping  n. [U] land’slide  /landslaid/ n. [C] 1 the sudden falling of a lot of soil and rocks down the side of a hill, cliff, or mountain: Part of Highway 101 is blocked by a landside. 2 a victory in which a person or political party wins a lot more votes than the others in an election: The president was re-elected in/by a landslide.

lane  /len/ n. [C] 1 one of the parts of a main road that is divided by painted lines: We drove in the fast/slow lane (≡ the lane that is fastest left or farthest right). 2 a narrow country road lan’guage  /læŋgw/ n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a system of words, phrases, and grammar, used by people who live in a country or area to communicate with each other: the English language | Her native language (=the first language she learned) is Tagalog. “Do you speak any foreign languages?” “Yes, I speak Japanese.”

dialect – a form of a language that is spoken in one area, which is different from the way it is spoken in other areas: Cantonese is only one of many Chinese dialects.

accent – a way of pronouncing words that someone has because of where s/he was born or lives: She has a strong Southern accent.

tongue – a particular language: Winnie started school knowing only her native tongue.

vernacular (formal) – the language or dialect that ordinary people in a country or area speak, especially when this is not the official language: Much of the comedian’s material is performed in the black vernacular.

lingo (informal) – a language, especially a foreign one: I’ve picked up some of the lingo, enough to be polite.

slang – very informal and sometimes offensive language, used especially by people who belong to a particular group: Mudbugs is Louisiana slang for crawfish.

jargon – technical words and phrases used by people in a particular profession: a document full of legal jargon.

terminology (formal) – the technical words or expressions that are used in a particular subject: the basic terminology used by geologists

2 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the use of words, grammar, etc. to communicate with other people: language skills

3 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the kind of words that someone uses, or that are used when talking or writing about a particular subject: the language of business | poetic language | bad language (=words that people consider offensive)

4 [C/U] IT a system of instructions used in computer programs

5 [C/U] any system of signs, movements, sounds, etc. that are used to express meanings or feelings: the language of music [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French langue “tongue, language,” from Latin lingua] lan’guage’lab oratory also “language lab  n. [C] a room in a school or college where students can listen to TAPES of a foreign language and practice speaking it lan’gui’d  /læŋgw/ adj. (literary) moving slowly and weakly, but in an attractive way lan’gui sh /læŋgw/ v. [I] to be prevented from developing, improving, or being dealt with: The case has languished for years in the courts.

lan’ky  /læŋki/ adj. someone who is lanky is very tall and thin lan’tern /læntən/ n. [C] a type of lamp you can lan’emis  /læntəm/ n. [C] a type of lamp you can

lan’emis  /læntəm/ n. [C] a type of lamp you can carry that usually has a metal frame and glass sides ➔ see picture at LIGHT lapse1 /læps/ n. [C] 1 the upper part of your legs when you are sitting down: The little girl was sitting on her mother’s lap. 2 a single trip around a race track or between the two ends of a pool: Patty swims 30 laps a day.

lapse2 v. (lapped, lapping) 1 [T] if water laps something, or laps against something, it touches something with small waves: Listen to the sound of the lake lapping against the shore. 2 [T] also lap up to drink using quick movements of the tongue: a cat lapping milk.
lap sth. up phr. v. (disapproving) to enjoy or believe something without criticizing or doubting it at all: She’s flattering him and he’s just lapping it up!

la-pel /ləˈpel/ n. [C] the front part of a coat or JACKET that is attached to the collar and folds back on both sides lapse1 /læps/ n. [C] 1 a short period of time when you forget something, do not pay attention, or fail to do something you should: a memory lapse. 2 the period of time between two events: There was a lapse of ten years before they met again.

lapse2 v. [I] to end, especially because an agreed time limit is finished: The insurance policy has lapsed.
lapse into sth. phr. v. 1 to start behaving or speaking in a very different way, especially one that is more normal or usual for you: Without thinking, he lapsed into Spanish. 2 to become very quiet, less active, or unconscious: She lapsed into silence.
lap-top /ˈlæptəp/ also laptop computer n. [C] a small computer that you can carry with you ➔ see picture on page A6 lar-ce·ny /ˈlɑrˌsē/ n. [U] LAW the crime of stealing something lard /ˈlɑrd/ n. [U] LARD the thick white fat from pigs, used in cooking large /lɑrɡ/ adj. 1 big, or bigger than usual in size, number, or amount [AND small]: a large pepperoni PIZZA | What’s the largest city in Canada? ➔ big, huge, enormous, vast, gigantic, massive, immense, colossal ➔ BIG

2 a large person is tall and often fat: Aunt Betsy was a very large woman.

large·ly adv. mostly or mainly: The delay was largely due to bad weather.
large·scale adj. involving a lot of people, effort, money, supplies, etc.: large-scale unemployment lar·gesse, larg·es·ses /lɑrˈduːsəz, -ˈdʒes/ n. [U] (for- mal) the quality or act of being generous and giving money or gifts to people who have less than you, or the money or gifts that you give ➔ GENEROSITY: The museum thanked him for his largess.
lark /lɑrk/ n. [C] a small wild brown bird that sings and has long pointed wings lar·va /ˈlɑrvə/ n. (plural larvae /ˈlɑrvə/ı) [BIOLOGY] a young insect with a soft tube-shaped body that will become an insect with wings ➔ see picture on page A2 lar·yn·ges /ˈlɑrnɪŋgζz/ n. a plural of LARYNX lar·yn·gi·tis /ˈlɑrnɪŋɡətɪs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY an illness in which your throat and larynx are swollen, making it difficult for you to talk lar·yn·x /ˈlɑrnɪks/ n. (plural larynges /ˈlɑrnɪŋgζz/ or larynxes) [C] BIOLOGY the part of your throat from which your voice is produced [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Modern Latin, Greek] ➔ see picture at LUNG lar·sa·gni /ˈlɑrsənɡə/ n. [C] U.S. a type of Italian food made with flat pieces of PASTA, meat or vegetables, and cheese las·civ·i·ous /lɑsˈsɪvəs/ adj. (disapproving) showing a very strong sexual desire las·er /ˈlɛzər/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that produces a powerful narrow beam of light, or the beam of light itself: laser surgery | a laser beam [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 From “light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation”] lash1 /læʃ/ v. 1 [T] to hit someone very hard with a whip, stick, etc. 2 [T] to tie something tightly to something else using a rope: The branches were lashed together. 3 [I,T] to hit sharply against something: Waves lashed against the rocks.
lash out phr. v. 1 to suddenly speak loudly and angrily: He lashed out at critics. 2 to suddenly try to hit someone with a lot of violent uncontrolled movements
It has been difficult to achieve lasting peace in the Middle East.

Usage
Use last to mean "the one that happened most recently" or "the one before the present one": my last visit to Florida | my last boyfriend
Use latest to mean "new and most recent": the latest news | the latest version of the software

Thesaurus
previous – happening or existing before the particular event, time, or thing mentioned: Sales were higher than in the previous year.
further – happening or existing before, but now, the former owner of the property

2 at the end, after everyone or everything else: The last part of the song is sad. | He’s the last person I’d ask for help (=I do not want to ask him).
3 remaining after all others have gone: The last guests were just putting on their coats. | Do you want the last piece of cake?
4 on its last legs likely to fail or break: The truck was on its last legs.
5 have the last word to make the last statement in an argument, which gives you an advantage

Last adv 1 most recently before now: When did you see her last? 2 after everything or everyone else: Harris is going to speak last.
3 last but not least said when making a final statement, to show that it is just as important as your other statements: Last but not least, I’d like to thank my mother.

Last n. proo [C] 1 the last the person or thing that comes after all the others: Joe was the last of nine children (=she was born last). | Les was the last to go to bed that night. 2 at (long) last if something happens at last, it happens after you have waited a long time: At last, we were able to afford a house. 3 the day/week/year before last the day, week, etc. before the one that has just finished: 4 the last I/we saw (informal) used when telling someone the most recent news that you know: The last we heard, Paul was in Brazil. 5 the last of sth the remaining part of something: This is the last of the paint.

Late adj 1 arriving, happening, or done after the expected time: Sorry I’m late. I got stuck in traffic. | Peggy was late for school. | a late breakfast Is it too late to send in my forms?

Usage
Use late to mean "the one that happened most recently" or "the one before the present one": my last visit to Florida | my last boyfriend
Use latest to mean "new and most recent": the latest news | the latest version of the software

LAST-MINUTE adj [only before noun] happening or done as late as possible within a process, event, or activity: a last-minute decision

Last name n [C] your family’s name, which in English comes after your other names ➔ FIRST NAME, MIDDLE NAME

Last letter phr v (informal) if you latch onto an idea, style, phrase, etc., you think it is so good, important, etc. that you start using it too late night adj 1 happening or occurring after the expected time: the late show on TV.

Last minute adj [only before noun] happening or done as late as possible within a process, event, or activity: a last-minute decision

Thesaurus
overdue – not done or happening when expected: He recently paid two overdue tax bills.
be delayed – to be made late by something: The flight was delayed by bad weather.
be late – to be late because of something that has happened: Sorry I’m late – I got held up.
be belated – happening or arriving late, used about things or actions: a belated birthday card

2 near the end of a period of time: The house was built in the late 19th century. 3 happening at night, especially when most people are asleep: I watched the late show on TV.
4 paid or given back after the arranged time: I had to pay a fee because my payment was late.
5 [only before noun] (familiar)} dead: Marion and her late husband bought the house back in 1975. [Origin: Old English læt]

late adv. 1 after the usual or expected time: I probably won’t be home until late. | Our flight arrived two hours late. 2 near the end of a period of time: late in the afternoon | Would you ever take a walk late at night?

late-ly /lætlɪ/ adv. recently: It hasn’t rained much lately. | Lately, I’ve been really busy. → RECENTLY

lat·ent /ˈleɪənt/ adj. present but not yet noticeable, active, or completely developed: latent racism

la·ter /ˈlætər/ adv. 1 after the present time or a time you talking about: I’ll see you later. | They met in July, and two months later they got married. → AFTER 2 later on at some time in the future, or after something else: That’s a decision we can make later on.

la·te·ly /ˈlætəli/ adv. 1 coming in the future, or after something else: This will be decided at a later time/date. → SUCCEEDING

la·tex /ˈlætɛks/ n. (=plastic) Either glass or plastic would be effective, but the latter (plastic) weighs less.

Latin 1. n. an old language that is now used mostly for legal, scientific, or medical words
2. n. [U] an ancient language that is now used mostly for legal, scientific, or medical words: Latin American adj

la·ti·no /ləˈtinoʊ/ n. (plural Latinos) [C] a person in the U.S. whose family comes from a country in Latin America —Latina adj

Latin A mer·i·ca n. the land including Mexico, Central America, and South America —Latin American adj

la·ti·ti·de /ˈlætə(ti)ˌdud/ n. 1. [C] (U) Earth sciences the distance north or south of the equator, measured in degrees → compare longitude → see picture at globe 2. [U] (formal) freedom to do or say what you like: Students now have greater latitude in choosing their classes. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin latitudo, from latus “wide”] —latitudinal adj

la·trine /ləˈtrɪn/ n. [C] a toilet that is outside at a camp or military area

la·tent /ˈleɪənt/ adj. present but not yet noticeable, active, or completely developed: latent racism

la·ter /ˈlætər/ adv. 1 after the present time or a time you talking about: I’ll see you later. | They met in July, and two months later they got married. → AFTER 2 later on at some time in the future, or after something else: That’s a decision we can make later on.

la·te·ly /ˈlætəli/ adv. recently: It hasn’t rained much lately. | Lately, I’ve been really busy. → RECENTLY

la·tex /ˈlætɛks/ n. (=plastic) Either glass or plastic would be effective, but the latter (plastic) weighs less.

lau·d·a·bie /ˈlaʊdəbli/ adj. formal deserving praise or admiration lau·d·a·to·ry /ˈlaʊdətroʊrɪ/ adj. formal expressing praise or admiration: laudatory comments about his work

laugh 1. v. [l.] to make a sound with your voice, usually while smiling, because you think something is funny → LAUGHTER, SMILE: How come no one ever laughs at my jokes? | The story made me laugh so hard I started crying. | Nancy and I burst out laughing (=suddenly started laughing).

laugh at sb/sth phr. v. to make unkind or funny laugh

Remarks about someone: If I told them my real feelings, they would just laugh at me.

laugh 6 n. 1 [C] the sound you make when you laugh ➔ smile: a loud laugh 2 have the last laugh to finally be successful after someone has criticized or defeated you laughable /ˈlʌfəbəl/ adj. impossible to be treated seriously because of being so silly, bad, or difficult to believe ➔ ridiculous laughing-stock /ˈlɑːfɪŋ,streɪk/ n. [C] someone who has done something silly or stupid, and whom people make jokes about and laugh at in a way that is not nice laugh-ter /ˈlɑːftrə/ n. [U] the action of laughing, or the sound of people laughing: Everyone burst into laughter (started laughing). | The audience roared with laughter.

launch†1 /ˈlɑːntʃ, ˈlʌntʃ/ v. [T] 1 to start something new, such as an activity, plan, or profession: The movie launched his acting career. 2 to send a weapon or a space vehicle into the sky or into space 3 to put a boat or ship into the water [origin: 1300–1400 old north French lancier, from Late Latin lanceur “to throw a lance”] launch into at times v. to suddenly start describing something or criticizing something: He launched into the story of his life.

launch†2 n. [C] an occasion at which a new product is shown or made available launch pad /ˈlɑːntʃ, ˈlʌntʃ/ n. [C] the area from which a space vehicle, rocket, etc. is sent into space launch-on /ˈlaʊnʌn/ n. [U] a plant with purple flowers that have a strong pleasant smell 2 [U] a pale purple color [origin: 1300–1400 Anglo-French lavendre, from Medieval Latin lavandula]

lav-ish†1 /ˈlɑːvɪʃ/ adj. very generous and often expensive or complicated: lavish gifts | He is lavish with his praise.

lavish†2 v. lavish at on sb. phr. v. to give someone a lot of something good: They lavish a lot of attention on their children.

law /laʊ/ n. 1 [singular, U] the system of rules that people in a country, city, or state must obey ➔ legal: Drunk driving is against the law (illegal). | He never intended to break the law (=do something illegal). 2 [C] a rule that people in a particular country, city, or local area must obey: Under a new law, drivers may not use cell phones.

law-abiding adj. respectful of the law and obeying it lawful /ˈlɑːfʊl/ adj. considered by the government or courts of law to be legal lawless /ˈlɑːwli/ adj. not obeying the law, or not controlled by law lawn /lɔːn/ n. [C] an area of ground around a house or in a park that is covered with grass: I should mow the lawn (=cut the grass) today. [origin: 1500–1600 Old French launde “open space between woods”] lawn mower, lawn-mower /ˈlɔːnmɔːr/ n. [C] a machine that you use to cut the grass law of demand n. the law of demand economics an idea which says that people will buy more of a product when its price decreases and buy less of a product when its price increases ➔ law of supply law of inertia n. the law of inertia PHYSICS another name for NEWTON’S FIRST LAW law of reflection n. the law of reflection PHYSICS a scientific rule which says that when a RAY of light hits a surface and then REFLECTS (=is sent back) off that surface, the angle between the light and the surface is the same when it hits as when it reflects off law of supply n. the law of supply ECONOMICS an idea which says that when the demand for a product stays the same, an increase in supply leads to a lower price, and a decrease in supply leads to a higher price ➔ LAW OF DEMAND law school n. [C.U] a part of a university or a special school where you study to become a lawyer after you get your B.A.

law-suit /ˈlaʊsət/ n. [C] a problem or complaint that someone brings to a court of law to be settled, especially for money: They have filed a lawsuit against the builders.
law-yer /ˈlɔʊər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to advise people about laws, write formal agreements, or represent people in court (SYN attorney) lax /læks/ adj. not strict or careful about standards of behavior, work, safety, etc.: The airport has been criticized for lax security ➔ STRICT —LAXITY n. [U] lax-a-tive /ˈlæksətɪv/ n. [C] a medicine or something that you eat that makes your bowel movements empty easily —LAXATIVE adj.

lax·a·tive

lay1 /leɪ/ v. (past tense and past participle laid) 1 [T] to put someone or something carefully into a particular position: Lay the peppers on the chicken. | Martha laid the baby down.

 Usage
Lay means to put something down in a flat position: They laid the map on the table.
Lieu has two different meanings:
– to be in or move into a flat position on the floor, a bed, etc.: She was lying on a sofa. The past tense for this meaning of lie is lay: He lay on the bed.
– to say something that is not true: I know that he’s lying. The past tense for this meaning of lie is lied: She lied because she didn’t want to make him unhappy.

2 lay bricks/carpet/cable etc. to put or attach something in the correct place, especially onto something flat or under the ground: laying down a new bedroom carpet 3 [I,T] if a bird, insect, etc. lays eggs, it produces them from its body 4 lay a finger/hand on sb to hurt someone, especially to hit him/her: He never laid a finger on her.

lay blame/criticize/emphasis etc. (formal) to blame, criticize, emphasize, etc. 5 lay yourself open to blame/criticism etc. to do something that makes you likely to be blamed, criticized, etc.
lay sth ↔ down phr. v. to officially state rules, methods, etc. that someone must obey or use: The rules have already been laid down.
lay into sb phr. v. (informal) to attack someone physically or criticize him/her angrily: You should have heard Dad laying into Tommy.

lay off phr. v. 1 lay sb ↔ off to stop employing someone, especially when there is not much work to do: 500 auto workers were laid off. 2 lay off sth (spoken) to stop doing, having, or using something: Don’t you think you should lay off alcohol for a while? 3 lay off sb to stop annoying, hurting, or criticizing someone: Lay off him, he’s just a kid.
lay sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to spread something out: Pam laid her dress out on the bed. 2 (informal) to explain or describe a plan, idea, etc.: The mayor laid out her budget proposal at Tuesday’s meeting.
lay up phr. v. be laid up (with sth) to have to stay in bed because you are sick or injured: He’s laid up with a broken collarbone.

lay2 /leɪ/ v. the past tense of LIE lay3 /leɪ/ adj. [only before noun] not trained in a particular profession or subject: a lay preacher lay-a-way /ˈleɪәw/ n. [U] a way of buying goods in which the goods are kept by the seller for a small amount of money until the full price is paid lay-off /ˈleɪəf/ n. [C] 1 an amount of a substance that covers all of a surface: a layer of dust on the desk. 2 something that is placed on or between other things: several layers of clothing | The lower layer of rock is normally older than the upper layer.

layer /ˈleɪər/ n. [T] to put something down in layers: The lemon cake is layered with raspberries on top.
lay·er·man /ˈleɪərˌmən/ n. [C] someone who is not trained in a particular subject or type of work: He has written a book on astronomy for the layman (=people in general).

lay-o-ver /ˈleɪəvər/ n. [C] a short stay somewhere between parts of a trip: We’ll have a two-hour layover in Dallas.
lay-per·son /ˈleɪəpərən/ n. [C] a word meaning a LAYMAN that is used when the person could be a man or a woman la•zy /ˈleɪzi/ adj. (comparative lazier, superlative laziest) 1 not liking to do work or to make an effort: the laziest boy in the class | I’ve gotten a little lazy about cooking.

THE SAURUS

idle (old-fashioned) – lazy and wasting time when there is work to do: In the story, Jack is an idle boy who would rather play than work.

indolent (formal) – lazy and living a comfortable life: The news startled him out of his state of indolent contentment.
shiftless – lazy and not at all interested in working; Some politicians seem to think that anyone who doesn’t have a job is shiftless.
slack – lazy and not taking enough care to do things correctly; Some of the students were slack, not bothering to even turn in their homework.
slothful (literary) – lazy and not doing the things you ought to do: She told slothful Americans to get out and exercise.

2 a lazy time is spent relaxing: lazy summer afternoons lb the written abbreviation of pound [origin: 1300—1400 Latin libra “pound”]

lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) v (past tense and past participle led/led) 1 make \(\text{I/it}\) to take a person or animal to a place by going with or in front of the person or animal: Isabel led us up/down some narrow stairs and into a small room. | We led the horses along the river.

lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) n 1 [singular] the position or situation of being in front of, or better than, everyone else in a race or competition: Lewis is still in the lead. | Michael Phelps has taken the lead (=moved into the front position in a race). 2 [singular] the distance, number of points, etc. by which one competitor is ahead of another: The Bulls lead over the Celtics at halftime. 3 [C] a piece of information that may help you to make a discovery or find the answer to a problem: Police are pursuing all leads. 4 [C] the main acting part in a play, movie, etc., or the main singer, dancer, etc. in a group: Who has the lead in the school play? | The lead guitarist lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) v 1 to come before something: In the days leading up to the election, campaigners increased the number of phone calls to voters. 2 to gradually introduce a subject into a conversation: He made some remarks that were obviously leading up to a request for money.

lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) n 1 [U] a soft gray-blue metal that melts easily 2 [C,U] the substance in a pencil that makes the marks when you write

lead-off /ˈlid-\text{of\/o}\text{f}/ v to make someone believe something that is not true: I thought he was in love with me, but he was just leading me on.

lead to sth v to make something happen or exist as a result of something else: Opening the new lumber mill has led to the creation of 200 jobs.

lead up to sth v 1 to come before something: In the days leading up to the election, campaigners increased the number of phone calls to voters. 2 to gradually introduce a subject into a conversation: He made some remarks that were obviously leading up to a request for money.

lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) n 1 [singular] the position or situation of being in front of, or better than, everyone else in a race or competition: Lewis is still in the lead. | Michael Phelps has taken the lead (=moved into the front position in a race). 2 [singular] the distance, number of points, etc. by which one competitor is ahead of another: The Bulls lead over the Celtics at halftime. 3 [C] a piece of information that may help you to make a discovery or find the answer to a problem: Police are pursuing all leads. 4 [C] the main acting part in a play, movie, etc., or the main singer, dancer, etc. in a group: Who has the lead in the school play? | The lead guitarist lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) v 1 to come before something: In the days leading up to the election, campaigners increased the number of phone calls to voters. 2 to gradually introduce a subject into a conversation: He made some remarks that were obviously leading up to a request for money.

lead\(\text{led}/\text{led}\) n 1 [U] a soft gray-blue metal that melts easily 2 [C,U] the substance in a pencil that makes the marks when you write

lead-off /ˈlid-\text{of\/o}\text{f}/ v to make someone believe something that is not true: I thought he was in love with me, but he was just leading me on.

lead to sth v to make something happen or exist as a result of something else: Opening the new lumber mill has led to the creation of 200 jobs.

lead up to sth v 1 to come before something: In the days leading up to the election, campaigned increased the number of phone calls to voters. 2 to gradually introduce a subject into a conversation: He made some remarks that were obviously leading up to a request for money.
Question a question asked in a way that makes you give a particular answer

Leading indicators n [plural] ECONOMICS a list of important economic things that are likely to change over time, printed every month by the U.S. government and used as a sign of what is likely to happen in the U.S. economy

Leaf /leɪf/ n (plural leaves /leɪvz/) 1 [C] one of the flat green parts of a plant that are joined to its stem or branches: There are still some leaves on the tree. ➔ see picture at plant 2 [C] a part of the top of a table that can be added to make the table larger 3 [U] gold or silver in a very thin sheet ➔ turn over a new leaf at turn

Leaf v leaf through 3sth phr. v to turn the pages of a book quickly, without reading it carefully

Leaflet /ˈliːflət/ n [C] a small piece of printed paper that gives information or advertises something

Leafy /ˈliːfi/ adj having a lot of leaves: green leafy vegetables

League /liːg/ n [C] 1 a group of sports teams or players who play games against each other to see who is best: major league baseball 2 a group of people or countries that have joined together because they have similar aims, political beliefs, etc.: the League of Nations 3 not in the same league/out of sb’s league not having the same abilities or qualities as someone or something else: He knows a lot more than I do – he’s way out of my league.

Leak /liːk/ v 1 [T] to let a liquid or gas in or out of a hole or crack: Somebody’s car must be leaking oil. The roof’s leaking! 2 [I] to pass through a hole or crack: Gas was leaking out of the pipes.

3 [T] to deliberately give secret information to a newspaper, television company, etc.: Details of the President’s speech were leaked to reporters.

 Leak out phr. v if secret information leaks out, a lot of people find out about it

Leak n [C] 1 a small hole that lets liquid or gas flow into or out of something: a leak in the water pipe

2 a situation in which someone has secret information and gives it to someone else: leaks from the White House

Leaky /ˈliːki/ adj having a hole or crack so that liquid or gas can pass through: a leaky faucet

Lean /liːn/ v 1 [I] to move or bend your body in a particular position: He leaned over and kissed his wife. 2 [I] to support yourself or be supported in a position that is not straight or upright: Brad was leaning on/against a wall. ➔ see picture on page

Lean year 3 [T] to put something in a sloping position against something else: Dad leaned the ladder against the wall.

Lean on sb/sth phr. v to get support and encouragement from someone: I know I can always lean on my friends.

Lean toward 3sth phr. v to tend to agree with or support a particular set of opinions, beliefs, etc.: Most of the church’s members lean toward the political right.

Lean vlean 1 thin in a healthy and attractive way: She is lean and athletic-looking.

2 lean meat does not have much fat on it 3 difficult as a result of bad economic conditions or lack of money: a lean year for the business

Leanings /ˈliːnɪŋz/ n [C] a tendency to prefer or agree with a particular set of beliefs, opinions, etc.: liberal leanings

Leap /liːp/ v (past tense and past participle leaped or leapt /ˈlept/) 1 [I] to jump high into the air or over something: One by one, the kids were leaping into the river.

2 to move very quickly and with a lot of energy: Jon leaped up to answer the phone.

Leap at 3sth phr. v to accept an opportunity very eagerly: The manager needed an assistant, and Paula leaped at the chance. [Origin: Old English hleapan]

Leap n 1 [C] a big jump 2 by/in leaps and bounds very quickly: Your English is improving in leaps and bounds.

Leapfrog /ˈlipfrɒɡ/ n. [U] a children’s game in which someone bends over and someone else jumps over him/her

Leap year 3 [C] a year when February has 29 days instead of 28, which happens every four years

learn /lərn/ v. 1 [l.T] to gain knowledge of a subject or of how to do something, through experience or study: Lisa’s learning Spanish. I’d like to learn (how) to sew. We’ve been learning about electricity in school.

learning curve n. [C] the rate at which you learn a new skill: I like my new job, but it’s been a steep learning curve (=I had to learn a lot very quickly).

leather /ˈleɪθər/ n. [U] animal skin that has been treated to preserve it, and is used for making shoes, etc. ➔ suede: a leather belt [Origin: Old English læþer].

leather-y /ˈleɪθ(ə)r.i/ adj. hard and stiff like leather: leathery skin.

leaven /lɪv/ v. (past tense and past participle leaved /ˈliːvd/; present participle leavening) 1 GO AWAY [l.T] to go away from a place or person: Jones quickly left the room. I’m leaving for (going to) Milwaukee in an hour. 2 GO AWAY [l.T] to go away from a place, often for a long time or permanently: The kids have gone away to summer camp. His husband went away and left her.

leave off – to stop doing something: What time do you set off? 2 drive off/away – to leave somewhere in a car: She got into her car and drove off.
take off - if a plane takes off, it leaves the ground and goes up into the sky: The plane took off two hours late.
deport (formal) - if a plane, train or bus departs, it leaves a place: The next train will depart at 10.30.
withdraw - if an army withdraws from a place, it leaves: U.S. forces will start to withdraw at the beginning of April.
Leave your boyfriend/wife, etc.
split up with - to end your relationship with your boyfriend, wife, etc.: She split up with her boyfriend after she saw him with another girl.
walk out on sb - to suddenly end your relationship with someone in a way that seems unfair and unkind: Her first husband walked out on her after just two years of marriage.
leave your job or school ➔ QUIT

2 leave sb alone (spoken) used in order to tell someone to stop annoying or upsetting someone else: Just stop asking questions and leave me alone.
3 leave sth alone (spoken) used in order to tell someone to stop touching something: You.
5 leave that alone - you’ll break it!
3 when you leave a place:
4 leave when you are not there:
5 something stay in a particular state, place, or position:
6 leave at that ➔ QUIT
7 leave it at that (spoken) to not say or do anything more about a situation: He’s not going - let’s just leave it at that.
8 leave a mark/stain etc. to make a mark, stain, etc. that remains afterward: Make sure that you don’t leave any footprints.
9 leave a lot to be desired to be very unsatisfactory: Though the play leaves a lot to be desired, the costumes are beautiful.
10 from where sb left off from the place where you stopped: Tomorrow, we’ll start the reading from where we left off.

leech /li:ʃ/ n. [C] a small soft creature that attaches itself to an animal in order to drink its blood leek /lik/ n. [C] a vegetable with long straight green leaves, that tastes like an onion leer /lir/ v. [I] to look at someone in an unpleasant way that shows that you think s/he is sexually attractive —leer n. [C] leery /'lɛri/ adj. worried and unable to trust someone or something: The girl was leery of strangers.

lee-way /'liiwe/ n. [U] freedom to do things in the way you want to: Students have some leeway in what they can write about.

left /lef/ adj. 1 your left side is the side of your body that contains your heart and right leg. 2 on the same side of something as your left side and right: Our house is the first one on the left side of the street.

left-hand /lef/ adj. toward the left side: Turn left at the next street.

left-handed /lef/ adj. 1 someone who is left-handed uses his/her left hand to do most things. 2 done with the left hand: a left-handed throw: 3 made to be used with the left hand: left-handed scissors left-overs /lef/ˈɔvərzi/ n. [plural] food that remains at the end of a meal and is kept to be eaten later left-wing /lef/ˈwaɪŋ/ adj. POLITICS a left-wing person or group supports the ideas and beliefs of SOCIALISM or COMMUNISM

left field /lef/ˈfiːld/ n. [INFORMAL] the area in baseball on the left side of the OUTFIELD

left-handed /lef/ˈhænd/ adj. 1 on the left side of something: the top left-hand drawer

leg /leg/ n. 1 BODY PART [C] one of the two long parts of your body that you use to stand or walk, or a similar part on an animal or insect: How did you hurt your leg? Mia was sitting with her legs crossed. She fell and broke her left/right leg. → see picture on page A2 2 FURNITURE [C] one of the upright parts that support a piece of furniture: a table leg 3 PANTS [C] the part of your pants that covers your leg 4 FOOD [C,U] the leg of an animal eaten as food: roast leg of lamb 5 TRIP/RACE ETC. [C] a part of a long trip, race, process, etc. that is done one part at a time: She started the last leg of the tour last week.

6 TRIANGLE [C] MATH one of the two sides of a TRIANGLE that meet and form an angle of 90°

7 legged having a particular number or type of legs: a three-legged cat

8 leg room space in which to put your legs comfortably when you are sitting in a car, theater, etc.: There wasn’t enough leg room.

9 not have a leg to stand on (informal) to be in a situation where you cannot prove or legally support what you say [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old Norse leggr] on its last legs at LAST leg-a-cy /ˈleɡəsē/ n. (plural legacies) [C] 1 a situation that exists as a result of things that happened at an earlier time: Racial tension in the country is a legacy of slavery. 2 LAW money or property that you receive from someone after s/he dies

legal /ˈliɡəl/ adj. 1 allowed, ordered, or approved by law: ¡illegal! Is it legal to park here overnight? A legal agreement | Divorce finally became legal there in 1992. 2 relating to the law: the legal system | If you don’t pay soon, we’ll be forced to take legal action (go to court). | Teachers are legally responsible for the care of students. —legality /ˈliɡələtē/ n. [U]: The legality of his actions has been questioned.

legalize /ˈliɡəlaɪz/ v. [T] to make something legal that was not legal before: a campaign to legalize marijuana —legalization /ˈliɡəlaɪzəʃən/ n. [U] legal-end /ˈleɡəlˌend/ n. [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS an old well-known story, often about brave people or adventures, or all stories of this kind: the legend of King Arthur legal-end-a-ry /ˈleɡəlˌendəri/ adj. 1 famous and admired: the legendary baseball player Joe DiMaggio

2 talked or read about in legends leg-er-de-main /ˈleɡərdəˈmein/ n. [U] (old-fashioned) skilful use of your hands when performing tricks leg-gings /ˈleɡɡinz/ n. (plural) women’s pants that stretch to fit the shape of the body leg-il-ble /ˈleɡələbl/ adj. written or printed clearly enough for you to read [ANT] illegible: His writing was barely legible. —legibly adv.

leg·it /ˈlidʒɪt/ adj. a fair or reasonable reason for doing something:
She has legitimate reason for being late.

lend /lend/ v. to let someone borrow money or something that belongs to him/her for a short time: Could you lend me your bike?

lent /lent/ v. the past tense and past participle of LEND lent /lent/ v. to let someone borrow money or something that belongs to him/her for a short time: Could you lend me your bike?

lent /lent/ v. to let someone borrow money or something that belongs to him/her for a short time: Could you lend me your bike?

leg·is·la·tion /ˈledʒəˌleɪʃən/ n. [U] laws: Legislation can be an extremely lengthy process.

leg·is·la·tor /ˈledʒəˌlætər/ n. [C] politicians who have the power to make or change laws: an elected government official who is involved in making laws: an elected government official who is involved in making laws: a new legislation to address the problem. 2 The legislators will have no legislative power.

leg·is·la·tive /ˈledʒəˌleɪtəv/ adj. relating to laws or to making laws: the legislative branch of government | The legislature passed a law moving the election to April.

length·en /ˈlɛnən/ v. to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer: to make something longer:

lentil

le·o /ˈleɪ.o/ n. [U] the fifth sign of the zodiac, represented by a lion. 2 [C] someone born between July 23 and August 22 leap·ard /ˈlepərd/ n. [C] a large wild cat with yellow fur and black spots, from Africa and southern Asia. [origin: 1200–1300 Old French leupardus, from Greek, from leon “lion” + pardos “leopard”] le·o·tard /ˈliːətɑːrd/ n. [C] a tight-fitting piece of women’s clothing that covers the body from the neck to the top of the legs, worn especially while exercising. [origin: 1830–70, French trapeze artist who invented it]

lep·ro·sy /ˈlepərøsi/ n. [U] a serious infectious disease in which someone’s flesh is gradually destroyed. —leprous /ˈlepərəs/ adj.

les·bi·an /ˈlezbiən/ n. [C] a woman who is sexually attracted to other women —homosexual, gay les·sion /ˈlesΨn/ n. [C] 1 biology a wound or a sore infected area on someone’s skin. Many workers developed skin lesions from handling fiberglass. 2 medicine a dangerous change in part of someone’s body such as his/her lungs or brain, caused by injury or illness; brain lesions found in Alzheimer’s patients less /les/ adj. [the comparative of “little”] 1 a smaller amount, or to a smaller degree 2 less and less gradually becoming smaller in amount or degree: We seem to be spending less and less time together. 3 no less than sth used to emphasize that an amount or number is large; I watched him eat no less than three pizzas. 4 nothing less than sth used to emphasize how serious or important something is: Her death was nothing less than a tragedy.

lessen /ˈlesn/ v. [T] to become smaller in size, amount, importance, or value, or to make something do this —reduce: A low-fat diet can lessen the risk of heart disease.

less·er /ˈlesər/ adj. 1 (formal) not as large, as important, or as much as something else: The same is true for Argentina, and to a lesser extent Chile. 2 the lesser of two evils the less bad or harmful of two bad choices —lesser adv.: a lesser-known artist less·son /ˈlesn/ n. [C] 1 a period of time in which someone is taught a particular subject or skill: I have a guitar lesson today. | Hannah is taking cooking lessons from a professional chef.

let /let/ v. (past tense and past participle let, present participle letting) 1 [T] to allow someone to do something, or allow something to happen: I wanted to go but my mother wouldn’t let me. | Don’t pick up the phone – let the answering machine get it. | Let me finish this, then we can go.

let go of to stop holding someone or something: You can let go of my hand when we’ve crossed the street. 3 let sb go a) to allow a person or animal to leave a place where they have been kept: The police let her go after two hours. b) to dismiss someone from his/her job: I’m afraid we have to let you go. 4 let sb know to tell someone something: Could you let me know when you’re done? 5 let alone used to say that because one thing does not happen, is not true, etc. another thing cannot possibly happen or be true: I don’t have $10, let alone $10,000. 6 let sth go/pass to decide not to react to something bad or annoying that someone has said or done: I’ll let it go this time, but don’t let it happen again. 7 let sb/sth alone to stop annoying someone, asking questions, or trying to change things: Your mother’s had a hard day, so just let her be.

SPoken Phrases

8 let’s is the short form of “let us,” used when you want to suggest that someone or a group of people do something with you: I'm hungry; let's eat. | Let's not talk about this right now. 9 let's see 4) said when you are going to try to do something: Let's see if Andy's home. b) said when you pause because you cannot remember or find something: Now let's see, where did I put it? c) said to ask someone to show you something: "I got a new dress." "Really? Let's see." 10 let's hope (that) said when you hope something is true or will happen: Let's hope she didn't hear what we were saying. 11 let me do sth said when you are offering to help someone: Let me carry that for you. 12 let me tell you said to emphasize a statement: It was a really great party, let me tell you.

[Orig: Old English lætan]

let sb ↔ down phr. v. to make someone feel disappointed because you have behaved badly or have not done what you said you would do → let down let sb/sth ↔ in phr. v. 1 to open the door of a room, building, etc. so that someone can come in: She unlocked the door to let him in. 2 to allow light, water, etc. to enter a place: The door opened letting in a gust of wind. 3 let sb in on sth to tell someone a secret: I'll let you in on a little secret.

let sb ↔ into sth phr. v. to allow someone to come into a room or building: Security guards refused to let reporters into the building.

let sb ↔ off phr. v. to not punish someone, or to not make him/her do something: The police officer let us off with a warning.

let on phr. v. to behave in a way that shows you know a secret: Don't let on (that) you know!

let out phr. v. 1 let sb ↔ out to allow someone to leave a building, room, etc.: Let the dog out, please. 2 if a school, college, movie, etc. lets out, it ends, and people can leave: School lets out at 3:30. 3 let sth ↔ out to allow light, air, etc. to leave a place: Close the door — you're letting all the heat out. 4 let out a scream/cry etc. to make a sound, especially a loud one let up phr. v. if rain or snow lets up, it stops or there is less of it → let up let-down /'lɛtduːn/ n. [singulär] informal something that makes you feel disappointed because it is not as good as you expected → disappointment: Our hotel was a big letdown.

le-thal /'leθəl/ adj. able to kill someone: a lethal dose of heroin [Orig: 1500—1600 Latin lethālis, from Greek, from lethargos "forgetful, lazy"] —lethargy /'leθərɡi/ n. [U]

let's /lɛts/ the short form of "let us," used especially to make a suggestion: I'm hungry. Let's eat! Let's stay home tonight. → let let-ter /'letər/ n. [C] 1 a written message that you put into an envelope and send to someone by mail: Ken wrote a letter to the local newspaper. Can you mail this letter on your way to work? 2 one of the signs in writing that represents a sound in speech: There are 26 letters in the English alphabet. 3 to the letter exactly: He followed their instructions to the letter. [Orig: 1200—1300 Old French lettre, from Latin littera] let-ter-head /'lɛtərˌhed/ n. 1 [U] paper that has the name and address of a person or business printed at the top of it 2 [C] the name and address of a person or business printed at the top of a piece of paper let-tuce /'lɛtʃuː/ n. [CU] a round green vegetable with large thin leaves, eaten raw in salads [Orig: 1200—1300 Old French laitue, plural of látine, from Latin lactuca, from luc "milk," because of its milky juice] → see picture at VEGETABLE let-up /'lɛtsʌp/ n. [singulär, U] a pause or a reduction in a difficult, dangerous, or tiring activity: We drove 24 hours straight without letup (=without stopping).

leu-ke-mia /lu'kɪmɪə/ n. [U] a serious disease that affects the blood and that can cause death [Orig: 1800—1900 Greek leukos "white" + -mia (from haima "blood")]

lev-e/ /'levi/ n. [C] a special wall built to stop a river from flooding lev-el1 /'levəl/ n. [C] 1 the amount or degree of something, as compared to another amount or degree: a high/low level of risk 2 the temperature will stay at these levels until Friday. 2 the height or position of something in relation to the ground or another thing: Check the water level in the radiator. 3 Hang the picture at eye level (=at the same height as your eyes). 4 sea level 3 a standard of skill or ability in a particular subject, sport, etc.: Students are given an exam to determine their level. 5 Few athletes can compete at this level. 4 a particular position in a system that has different ranks: The decision will be made at local/state/ federal etc. level. 6 high-level talks (discussions between important people) 5 a floor in a building that has several floors: Housewares is on Level 3. 6 a tool used for checking if a surface is flat lev-el2 adj. 1 flat and not sloping, with no surface higher than the rest: The floor isn't level.

lev-el3 v. [T] 1 to knock down or completely destroy a building or area: An earthquake leveled several buildings in the city. 2 level a charge/ accusation/criticism etc. to publicly criticize someone or say s/he is responsible for a crime, mistake, etc.: Dunn leveled one criticism after another at the university. 3 to make a surface flat and smooth: Level the ground before laying the turf.

level off/out phr. v. to stop going up or down, and continue at the same height or amount: The plane climbed to 20,000 feet, then leveled off. | Oil prices have leveled off at $55 a barrel.

level with abbr. v (informal) to speak honestly with someone and tell him/her what you really think.

level-headed adj calm and sensible in making judgments or decisions.

levy /ˈlevi/ · n [C] 1 a stick or handle attached to a machine, that you move to make the machine work 2 a long thin piece of metal, wood, etc. that you put under a heavy object in order to lift it —levy v [T] levy-age /ˈlevərdʒ/ · ‘li-ə [U] influence that you can use to make people do what you want; Small businesses have less leverage in dealing with banks.

lev-iate /ˈleviˌʃət/ v [I] to rise and float in the air as if by magic —levitation /ˌleviˈteɪʃən/ n. [U]

levi-ty /ˈlevəti/ n. [U] (formal) the quality of telling jokes and having fun instead of being serious.

levy /ˈlevi/ · n (levies) levy a tax/charge etc. to officially make someone pay a tax, etc.: A 15% tax is levied on most hotel services.

levy /ˈlevi/ · n (plural levies) [C] an additional sum of money, usually paid as a tax: A new levy on agricultural imports will be introduced.

lewed /ˈhjuːd/ adj. using rude words or movements that make someone think of sex; lewd jokes lex-i-cal /ˈlekzɪkl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to words.

lex-i-con /ˈlekสิก dayn/ · n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS all the words used in a language or by people in a particular group, profession, etc. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a book containing lists of words and their meanings [origin: 16th—17th Late Greek lexi- kon, from lexikos “of words,” from Greek lexis “word, speech.”] li-abil-i-ty /ˌlaɪəˈbiləti/ · n. (plural liabilities) 1 [U] LAW legal responsibility for something, especially for paying money that is owed, or for damage or injury. The company has admitted liability for the accident. 2 [C] usually singular someone or something that is likely to cause you problems. He became a liability to the team. 3 liabilities [plural] ECONOMICS the amount of debt that a company owes → ASSET li-a-ble /ˌlaɪəˈbəl/ adj. 1 be liable to do sth to be likely to do something, behave in a particular way, or be treated in a particular way: Wayne and I are liable to start arguing if we discuss politics. 2 LAW legally responsible for the cost of something: The university was not held liable for the damage done by its students.

li-a-son /ˈliəˌsən/ · n. [C] someone who talks to different people, departments, groups, etc. and tells each of them about what the others are doing; He’s the liaison between the ruler and the local people. 2 [C] a secret sexual relationship. 3 [singular, U] a working relationship between two groups, companies, etc.

li-ar /ˈlaɪər/ · n. [C] someone who tells lies.

li-bel /ˈlaɪbəl/ · n. [C] LAW the act of writing or printing untrue statements about someone, so that other people are likely to have a bad opinion of him/her; He is suing the magazine for libel. [origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin libellus, from liber “book”] —libel v [T] liberal /ˈlɪbərəl/ · adj. 1 willing to understand or respect the different behavior, ideas, etc. of other people; ANTI conservative: a liberal attitude toward sex; The role of the media is important in a liberal society. 2 POLITICS supporting political ideas that include more involvement by the government in business and people’s lives, and willing to accept people’s differences and changes in society; ANTI conservative: the liberal wing of the Democratic party. 3 POLITICS allowing people or organizations a lot of political, economic, or social freedom; a liberal democracy; The party supports a more liberal policy on crime and punishment. 4 (formal) given in large amounts; a liberal donation [origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin liberālis, from liber “free”] liberal /ˈlɪbərəl/ · n. [C] POLITICS someone with liberal opinions or principles; ANTI conservative: Liberals want Congress to introduce more programs to relieve child poverty.

liberal · adj. plural subjects that develop someone’s general knowledge and ability to think, rather than technical skills.

liberal /ˈlɪbərəl/ · n. [U] liberal opinions and principles, especially on social and political subjects; → CONSERVATISM liberal-ize /ˈlɪbərəˌlaɪz/ v. [T] to make a system, laws, or moral attitudes less strict: Both candidates promised to liberalize trade policies.

liberal-ly /ˈlɪbərəˌli/ adv. 1 in large amounts: The story was liberally illustrated with photographs. 2 with liberal ideas or opinions; a liberally-minded politician liberal-ate /ˈlɪbərəˌreɪt/ v [T] 1 to free someone from feelings or situations that make his/her life difficult: These gadgets liberated housewives from many hard chores. 2 to free prisoners, a city, a country, etc. from someone’s control; The city was liberated by the Allies in 1944. —liberator /ˈlɪbərəˌreɪtər/ n. [C] —liberation /ˌlɪbərəˈteɪʃən/ n. [U]; the liberation of Eastern Europe; Some human rights violations may have occurred immediately after the liberation of the country.

liberal-ate /ˈlɪbərəˌreɪt/ v [T] adj. free to do the things you want, and not controlled by rules or other people. The 1960s saw the beginning of a new liberated and permissive attitude.

lib·er·tar·i·an /ˌlibərˈtərēən/ n [C] someone who believes strongly that people should be free to live with little or no government involvement in their lives —libertarian adj.

lib·er·ty /ˈlibər ti/ n (plural liberties) 1 [U] the freedom to do what you want without having to ask permission from people in authority: principles of liberty and democracy 2 [C, usually plural] a particular legal right: civil liberties 3 be at liberty to do sth to have the right or permission to do something: I'm not at liberty to say where I was at the moment. 4 take the liberty of doing sth to do something without asking permission because you do not think it will upset or offend anyone: I took the liberty of inviting Jeff along. [Origin: 1300—1400 French liberté, from Latin libertas, from liber “free”] li·bi·do /ˌlɪbɪˈdoʊ/ n (plural libidos) [C,U] someone’s desire to have sex

Li·bra·zog /ˈlaɪbrəˌzɒɡ/ n [U] the seventh sign of the zodiac, represented by a scale. 2 [C] someone born between September 23 and October 23

li·brar·i·an /ˌlɪbrəˈrɪən/ n [C] someone who works in a library li·brary /ˈlɪbrəri/ n [C] a room or building containing books that you can borrow or read there. [Origin: 1300—1400 Medieval Latin librarium, from Latin liber “book”]

lic·en·ce /ˈlɪsəns/ n 1 [C] an official document that gives you permission to own something or do something: a driver’s license | He was charged with possessing firearms without a license. | The Tennessee Valley Authority applied for a license to operate the nuclear facility. 2 [U] (formal) freedom to do or say whatever you want: He thinks because he’s famous he has license to be rude. | Teachers should be allowed greater license in choosing their teaching materials. 3 [U] the way in which a writer or painter changes the facts of the real world to make his/her story, description, or picture of events more interesting or more beautiful: The novelist allows herself considerable poetic license in his description of the town.

license⁵ v [T] to give official permission for someone to own or do something: Williams is not licensed to practice law in New York. | Medical personnel must be licensed by the state.

li·cen·sed /ˈlɪsənstid/ adj having official permission to own or do something: He had completed his studies to become licensed as a surveyor.

'license plate n [C] one of the signs with numbers and letters on it at the front and back of your car li·cen·tious /ˈlɪsənʃəs/ adj (literary) sexually immoral or not controlling behavior in an acceptable way: licentious books —licentiousness n. [U] lick¹ /lik/ v [T] 1 to move your tongue across the surface of something in order to taste it, clean it, etc.: Judy’s dog jumped up to lick her face. 2 (informal) to defeat an opponent or solve a problem: “It looks like we have the fire licked,” said Chief Grafton. [Origin: Old English lician] lick² n [C, usually singular] an act of licking something: Can I have a lick of your ice cream cone?

lick·ing /ˈlɪkɪŋ/ n [singular] (informal) 1 a severe beating as a punishment 2 a heavy defeat in a sports competition lic·o·rice /ˈlɪkərɪs/ n [U] a type of strong-tasting black or red candy. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Late Latin liqueuritā, from Latin glycyrhiza, from Greek, from glykys “sweet” + rhiza “root”] lid /lɪd/ n [C] 1 a cover for a pot, box, or other container: He carefully lifted the lid of the box.

lie¹ /laɪ/ v (past tense lay, past participle lain /lain/; present participle lying) [I] 1 a) to be in a position in which your body is flat on the floor, a bed, etc.: We lay on the beach all day. | I lay awake worrying. b) also lie down to put yourself in this position: I’m going upstairs to lie down. 2 to be in a particular place or position: The town lies to the east of the lake. | The ship had lain on the ocean floor for decades. 3 used to say where something such as a reason or answer can be found: Mitchell’s charm lies in his sense of humor. 4 to be or remain in a particular condition or position: The city lay in ruins. | The letters lay hidden in her attic for forty years. 5 lie low to remain hidden when someone is trying to find you: Weaver decided to lie low at his sister’s house. 6 lie ahead if something lies ahead, it is going to happen in the future: There are difficulties that lie ahead. ➔ not take sth lying down at take¹

lie² v (past tense and past participle lied /laɪt/; present participle lying) [I] to deliberately tell someone something that is not true: She’s lying about her age. | Don’t lie to me!

lie·li·en /ˈlaɪlɪən/ n, ve [C] 1 to keep a lid on sth (informal) to control a situation so that it does not become worse: Police try to keep a lid on crime in the area. 2 an eyelid. [Origin: Old English hlit] lie·ri·cist /ˈlaɪriˌsɪst/ n [C] a writer of lyrics for songs or poems. [Origin: 1920—25 from a combination of the names of the English composers Ralph Vaughan Williams and Roger Quilter] lie·to·ry /ˈlaɪtərē/ adj (literary) 1 to invent, compose, imagine, etc. in order to deceive: “What’ll you tell your mother?” “I’ll make something up.” —synonyms: make sth up — ANTonym: true tell (sb) a lie – to lie: Did he make a mistake, or did he tell a lie?

invent – to think of an idea, story, etc. that is not true; if I can't find a reason, I'll invent one.
measle – to make someone believe something that is not true by giving him/her false or incomplete information: The ads were accused of misleading consumers.
deceive – to make someone believe something that is not true: In order to deceive the enemy, our troops first headed north, away from the bridge.
perjure yourself/commit perjury (formal) – to tell a lie in a court of law: Company executives may have perjured themselves in sworn testimony to Congress.
falsity – to change figures, records, etc. so that they contain false information. Apparently, he falsified the records in order to steal the money.

lie\(3\) n. [C] something that you say or write that you know is not true: I've never known him to tell lies.

THESSERUS

fib (informal) – a small unimportant lie white lie – a small lie that you tell someone, usually to avoid hurting his/her feelings.
story – an excuse, explanation, or lie.
falsehood (formal) – a statement that is not true.
fabrication (formal) – a story, piece of information, etc. that you make up in order to deceive someone.

slander (formal) – something untrue that is said about someone which could harm the opinion people have of him/her.
libel (formal) – something untrue that is written about someone which could harm the opinion people have of him/her.

perjury (formal) – the crime of telling a lie in a court of law.

lieutenant n. [C] a fairly low rank in the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marines, or an officer who has this rank. lieu-t enant n. [C] a) a fairly low rank in the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marines, or an officer who has this rank. b) a fairly high rank in the police force, or an officer who has this rank.

life /laɪf/ n. [plural lives /laɪvz/]

1 PERIOD OF LIFE (C,U) the period of time between someone’s birth and death: Charles lived in New York City all his life. It was the happiest day of my life. She spent her life helping others. I’ve never felt better in my life.

2 BEING ALIVE (C,U) the state of being alive: Surgery could save her life. Firemen risked their lives (said something during which they could have been killed) to save him. Tragically, she took her own life (killed herself).

3 WAY OF LIVING (C,U) all the experiences and activities that are typical of a particular way of living: How’s life in Japan? He’s spent most of his working life (=time spent working) with one company. Married life has been an adjustment. Violence is a way of life for many teenagers.

4 EXPERIENCES (C) the type of experience that someone has during his/her life: Tia had a full and happy life. She wanted to save her son from a life of crime. Then he started telling me his life story (=all the things that happened in his life).

5 LIVING THINGS (C) biology living things such as people, animals, or plants: Do you think there is life on other planets?

6 PRIVATE/SEX/SOCIAL ETC. LIFE activities in your life that are private, relate to sex, are done with friends, etc.: I don’t have much time for a social life.

7 MOVEMENT (U) activity or movement: We looked around for any signs of life. Katie was young and full of life (=very cheerful and active).

8 EXISTENCE (U) human existence, and all the things that can happen during someone’s life: Life can be hard sometimes.

9 PRISON (U) also life in prison a LIFE SENTENCE: The defendants were sentenced to life.

10 REAL LIFE what really happens rather than what only happens in stories or someone’s imagination: Things like that don’t happen in real life.

11 QUALITY OF LIFE the level or quality of health, success, and comfort in someone’s life: Crime affects everyone’s quality of life.

12 WORKING/EXISTING (singular) the period of time during which something exists or continues to happen: long-life batteries

13 bring sb/sth to life a) to make someone or something else: Doctors fought to bring the baby back to life. b) to make something more exciting or interesting: The movie really brings 19th-century New York to life.

spoken phrases

14 that’s life said when something bad has happened that you must accept: Life is too short said when telling someone that something is not important enough to worry about: Life’s too short to hold grudges.

16 get a life! used to tell someone you think she is boring.

17 not on your life! used to say that you will definitely not do something.

18 for the life of me said when you cannot do something, even when you try very hard: I can’t remember her name for the life of me!

[Origin: Old English līf]
such as his/her health, whether s/he smokes, etc., used to calculate the risk of insuring that person life-guard /'laɪfɡɑrd/  n  [C] someone whose job is to help swimmers who are in danger at the beach or a pool life in.surance  n  [U] a type of insurance that someone buys so that when s/he dies, his/her family will receive money life jacket  n  [C] a piece of equipment that you wear around your chest to prevent you from sinking in the water life-less /'laɪflɛs/  adj  1 (literary) dead, or seeming to be dead: His lifeless body was discovered in the river.  ➔ dead  2 lacking excitement, activity, or interest: The team’s performance was dull and lifeless.

life-like /'laɪflaɪk/  adj  very much like a real person or thing; a lifelike statue life-line /'laɪflain/  n  [C] something that someone depends on completely: This campaign is his life-line.

life-long /'laɪflɔŋ/  adj  continuing all through your life: lifelong friends life-sav.er /'laɪflɛsə/  n  [C] someone or something that helps you avoid a difficult or bad situation life 'sentence  n  [C] the punishment of sending someone to prison for the rest of his/her life life-size also life-sized adj  a life-size model, picture, etc. is the same size as the person or object it represents life-style /'laɪflaɪst/  n  [C] the way someone lives, including his/her work and activities, and what things s/he owns: an active, healthy lifestyle life sup.port  n  [U] machines or methods that keep someone who is extremely sick alive life-threat.ening adj  a life-threatening illness, injury, or situation could cause a person to die life-time /'laɪftaɪm/  n  [C] the period of time during which someone is alive: During her lifetime, she had witnessed two world wars.

life vest  n  [C] a life jacket light /laɪt/  n  1 light to see [U] the energy from the Sun, a lamp, etc. that allows you to see things: Light was streaming in through the window.  ➔ The light is better over here.

2 ELECTRIC LIGHT [C] something such as a lamp that uses electricity: Can you turn/on the lights off/on for me?

3 TRAFFIC [C] one of a set of red, green, and yellow lights used for controlling traffic: Turn left at the next light.  ➔ He was fined for running a red light (=driving past a red light).

4 ON A VEHICLE [C] one of the lights on a car, bicycle, etc., especially the headlights

5 a light a match or lighter that you use to light a cigarette: Excuse me, do you have a light?

6 come to light/be brought to light if new information comes to light, it becomes known: New evidence has come to light since the trial.

7 in light of sth because of something: The highway has been closed in light of heavy snow.

8 in a new/different/bad etc. light if someone or something is seen or shown in a new, different, etc. light, people begin to have a different opinion of him, her, or it: A recent biography shows the actor in a new light.

9 shed/throw/cast light on sth to provide new information about something so it is easier to understand: This sheds some light on the cause of the disease.

10 light at the end of the tunnel something that gives you hope that a bad situation will end soon

11 see the light to suddenly realize and understand something: We’re hoping that one of these days he’ll see the light and quit drinking.  ➔ Old English leofste give me a lift to the nearest gas station?  2 give sb/sth a lift to make someone feel happier, or to make something more successful: Lower interest rates should give the economy a lift.  3 a movement in which something is lifted or raised lift-off  n  [CU] the moment when a vehicle that is about to travel in space leaves the ground  ➔ TAKE-OFF

light  588

light² adj 1 COLOR a light color is pale and not dark and dark: a light blue dress

THESAURUS
pale – a pale color has more white in it than usual: a dress made of pale yellow silk pastel – having a soft light color: She was knitting a baby blanket in pastel blue yarn.
faded – having lost color, for example by being washed many times or by being left out in the Sun: a pair of faded jeans soft – soft colors are not too bright: Use soft colors if you want the room to feel calm.

2 WEIGHT not weighing very much (ANT) heavy: My new cell phone is lighter than my old one.
3 CLOTHES light clothes are thin and not very warm: a light sweater
4 ROOM if a room or building is light, a lot of light from the Sun gets into it: The house was light and airy.
5 TOUCH very gentle and soft: She gave him a light kiss on the cheek.
6 FOOD a) having less fat or fewer CALORIES than usual: light cream cheese b) not having a strong taste: a light wine
7 NOT SERIOUS not serious in meaning or style: light reading
8 WIND blowing without much force ➔ STRONG: a light breeze 9 It/is/gets light used to say that there is enough natural light outside to see by: It was still light when we got home.
10 SMALL AMOUNT small in amount, or less than you expected: Traffic was lighter than usual today.
11 make light of sth to joke about something, or to treat it as if it were not important light³ v (past tense and past participle lit /ˈlaɪt/ or lighted) 1 [T] to start burning, or to make something do this: Derek stopped to light a cigarette. 2 [T] to give light to something: The room is lit by candles. 3 light up vb 1 to become bright, or to make something bright: Fireworks lit up the night sky. 2 if your face or eyes light up, you show that you are pleased or excited: Paula’s eyes lit up when she saw all of her presents. 3 (informal) to light a cigarette light forth adv travel light to travel without carrying too many clothes, etc.

light bulb n. [C] the glass object in a lamp, that produces light light-en /ˈlaɪtən/ v. 1 [T] to reduce the amount of work, worry, debt, etc. that someone has: Hiring extra men will lighten the load. 2 [T] to become brighter, or make something become brighter (ANT) darker: At 5 a.m., the sky started to lighten. 3 lighten up! (spoken) used in order to tell someone not to be so serious about something: Hey, lighten up! It was just a joke. 4 [T] to reduce the weight of something, or to become less heavy light-weight /ˈlaɪtweɪt/ adj. 1 weighing less than average: a lightweight computer 2 showing a lack of serious thought: a lightweight novel lightweight² n. [C] (disapproving) 1 someone who you do not think has the ability to think about serious or difficult subjects. 2 someone who has no importance or influence: a political lightweight light-year n. [C] PHYSICS the distance that light travels in one year lik-a-bile /ˈlaɪkəbəl/ adj. likeable people are nice, and are easy to like like /laɪk/ prep. 1 similar in some way to something else: You two are behaving just like children. | I’d love a car like yours. | Ken looks like his brother. | It tastes like chicken. | Was the movie anything like the book (=was it similar in any way)? | There’s nothing like (=there is nothing better than) a day at the beach. 2 typical of a particular person: It’s not like Dad to be late (=it is unusual that Dad is late). 3 (nonstandard) used to give an example of something: [He is] such as: Foods like spinach and broccoli are high in iron. 4 what is sb/sth like? used when asking someone to describe or give his/her opinion on a person or thing: What’s the new house like?

SPOKEN PHRASES
5 like this/so said when showing someone how to do something or how something is done: He was leaning against the wall, like this. 6 more like said when giving a number that you think is more correct than the one already mentioned: “He’s been in there for 15 minutes.” “More like half an hour!”

GRAMMAR
like, such as Many teachers think that using like to give an example is wrong. It is better to use such as: Companies such as Toyota and General Motors are developing electric cars.

like² v. [T] 1 to enjoy something, or think that someone or something is nice or good: [not] dislike: Do you like Mexican food? | I like Billy a lot. | He really likes camping. | Pam doesn’t like to walk home late at night. | Mom doesn’t like it when we argue.

SPOKEN PHRASES
3 I/she etc. would like used to say politely what someone wants: I’d like a large pizza with mushrooms. | He’d like to know how much it will cost. | We would like you to be there if you can. 4 Would you like …? used to ask someone if she wants something: Would you like some more coffee? 5 How do you like sth? used to ask someone for his/her opinion of something: “How did you like the movie?” “It was okay.” 6 whether you) like it or not used to emphasize that something bad is true or will happen and cannot be changed: They expect us to work together; whether we like it or not.

THESAURUS
enjoy, love, relish ➔ enjoy

2 to prefer that something is done in one particular way or at one particular time rather than another: Jim likes to get to the airport early. | How do you like your hamburger cooked?

SPOKEN PHRASES
3 I/she etc. would like used to say politely what someone wants: I’d like a large pizza with mushrooms. | He’d like to know how much it will cost. | We would like you to be there if you can. 4 Would you like …? used to ask someone if she wants something: Would you like some more coffee? 5 How do you like sth? used to ask someone for his/her opinion of something: “How did you like the movie?” “It was okay.” 6 whether you) like it or not used to emphasize that something bad is true or will happen and cannot be changed: They expect us to work together; whether we like it or not.

[Origin: Old English lician]

GRAMMAR
Do not say “I am liking it” or “I am liking to do it.” Say “I like it” or “I like to do it.” Do not say “I am liking very much this town.” Say “I like this town very much.”

like³ adv. (spoken, nonstandard) 1 I’m like/he’s like/Bob’s like etc. a) used in order to tell someone the exact words someone used: He asked if he could use my car and I was like, no way. b) said when describing an event, feeling, or person, when it is difficult to describe or when you use a noise instead of a word: He was like, hush (she was really surprised)? | We were like, oh no (=we realized something was wrong)! | 2 said when you pause because you do not know what to say, you are embarrassed, etc.: Would it be OK if I, like, called you up sometime? 3 said in order to give an example: My neighbor’s driving me crazy. Like last night I had to tell him to turn his radio down. 4 said when what you are saying is not exact: It was like 9 o’clock and she still wasn’t home. 5 said in order to emphasize something: That’s like so stupid.

like⁴ conjunction 1 (nonstandard) as if: He acts like he owns the place. 2 (informal) like I said/told you/was saying said when you are repeating something you have already said: Like I said, we’ll be there around ten. 3 in the same way as: I don’t want you to turn out like your father.

like⁵ adj. 1 (formal) similar in some way: a chance to meet people of like minds (who think in a similar way)

LIKE SIMILAR

THESAURUS
enjoy, love, relish ➔ enjoy

2 -like typical of, or similar to something: moving with car-like grace like⁶ n. sb’s likes and dislikes all the things you like and do not like like--li-hood /laɪklɪˌhʊd/ n. [singular, U] 1 how likely something is to happen: The likelihood of being burglarized is very low. 2 in all likelihood almost definitely like-ly /laɪklɪ/ adj. something that is likely will probably happen or is probably true: It’s likely to rain tomorrow. | Young drivers are more likely to have accidents than older drivers. —likely adv.: I’d very likely have done the same thing.

like-·minded adj. having similar interests and opinions lik-en /ˈlaɪkən/ v. liken sb/sth to sb/sth phr. v. (formal) to say that someone or something is similar to someone or something else: She likened the new hospital to a five-star hotel.

like-ness /laɪklɒs/ n. 1 [U] the quality of being similar in appearance to someone or something else: a strong likeness to his father. 2 [C] the image of someone in a painting or photograph: It’s a good likeness of Eva.

like-wise /ˈlaɪkwizoʊ/ adv. 1 (formal) in the same way: I fastened my seat belt and told the kids to do likewise. | Saturn was once thought to be unique, but we now know that Jupiter, Uranus, and Neptune likewise have rings. 2 (spoken) said in order to return someone’s greeting or polite remark: “It’s great to see you.” “Likewise.”

lik-ing /lækɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 liking for sb/sth the feeling when you like someone or something: He always had a liking for whiskey. 2 take a liking to sb (informal) to begin to like someone or something li·lac /ˈlaɪlæk/ n. [C] a small tree with pale purple or white flowers 2 [U] a pale purple color [Origin: 1600—1700 Early French, from Arabic nilak, from Persian nilak “bluish”] —nilak adj.

lift /lɪft/ n. [singular] the pleasant rise and fall in the sound of someone’s voice or a piece of music lil·y /ˈlɪli/ n. (plural lilies) [C] a plant with large white flowers that are usually bell-shaped li·ma bean /ˈlɪma, ˈbɪni/ n. [C] a pale green flat bean limb /ˈlɪmb/ n. [C] 1 a large branch of a tree 2 be/go out on a limb to do something risky without any help or support 3 an arm or leg lim·bo /ˈlɪmboʊ/ n. be in limbo to be in an uncertain situation in which it is difficult to know what to do: I’m in limbo until I know which college I’m going to.

lime /ˈlaɪm/ n. 1 [C] a bright green fruit with a sour taste, or the tree this grows on ➔ see picture on page 314 2 [U] a white substance used especially for making CEMENT —lime·light /ˈlɪmlaɪt/ n. the limelight the attention someone gets from newspapers and television [Origin: 1800—1900 lime + light; because originally the light was produced by burning lime] lim·er·ick /ˈlɪmərɪk/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a humorous short poem with five lines lime·stone /ˈlaɪməsˈtoun/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a type of rock that contains CALCIUM, often used to make buildings

lim·it /ˈlɪmɪt/ n. [C] 1 the greatest or least amount, number, etc. that is allowed or is possible: a 65 mph speed limit | There is a limit on the time you have to complete the test. | There’s no limit to her potential. | Set a limit before you go shopping | Our finances are stretched to the limit (we do not have any more money to spend). 2 the furthest point or edge of a place, often one that must not be passed: Los Angeles city limits 3 off limits beyond the area where someone is allowed to go: The beach is off limits after dark. 4 within limits within the time, level, amount, etc. considered acceptable: Employees can dress how they like – within limits.

lim·it /ˈlɪmɪt/ v. [T] 1 to stop an amount or number from increasing beyond a particular point: Class size is limited to 30. 2 to allow someone to use only a particular amount of something: Try to limit yourself to a glass of wine per night. 3 to exist or happen only in a particular place or group: The damage was limited to the roof. ➔ limiting adj.

lim·i·ta·tion /ˈlɪməˌteɪʃn/ n. 1 [C,U] the act or process of controlling or reducing something: a nuclear limitation treaty | new limitations on parking. 2 limitations [plural] things that limit how good something can be: Computers have their limitations.

lim·it·ed /ˈlɪmɪtɪd/ adj. not very great in amount, number, degree, etc.: The organization has very limited resources. ➔ there are only a limited number of tickets available.

limited govern·ment n. [U] POLITICS a principle in the U.S. Constitution which says that the only powers the government should have are the powers the Constitution gives it.

limited point of view n. [singular] ENG. LANG. ARTS the style of telling a story in which the NARRATOR (=person telling the story) tells you what only one character or a limited number of characters experience, think, and feel ➔ OMNISCIENT POINT OF VIEW lim·o /ˈlaɪməʊ/ n. (plural limos) (informal) [C] a limousine lim·ou·sine /ˈlaɪməsɪn/ n. [C] a big expensive car, driven by someone who is paid to drive [Origin: 1900—2000 French “covering for the driver of a horse-drawn vehicle (as worn in Limousin),” from Limousin area of France] limp /lɪmp/ adj. not strong or firm: The dog’s body went limp as the drug took effect. limp2 n. [I] to walk with difficulty because one leg is hurt ➔ walk3 limp3 n. [C] the way someone walks when s/he is limping: After my surgery, I walked with a limp.

lim·pid /ˈlɪmpɪd/ adj. (literary) clear or transparent: a limpid little stream in the woods —limpid·ly adv. —limpid·ness n. [U] —limpid·i·ty /ˈlɪmpɪdəti/ n. [U]

linch·pin /ˈlɪntʃpɪn/ n. the linchpin of sth the most important person or thing in a group, system, etc., on which everything depends: My mother is the linchpin of the family.

line /laɪn/ n. 1 LONG THIN MARK [C] a long thin, usually continuous mark on a surface: She drew a line on the map to show him how to get to the museum. ➔ DOTTED LINE

THESAURUS

stripe — a long narrow line of color: a tie with thin blue and white stripes streak — a colored line or thin mark, especially one that is not straight or has been made accidentally: a streak of blood ran down his arm band — a narrow area of color that is different from the areas around it: The fish has a black band on its fin.

2 LIMIT/END [C] a long thin mark used to show a limit or end of something: You’re supposed to park between the white lines. | crossing the finish line

→ finish line
3 PEOPLE/THINGS [C] a row of people or things: a line of cars | We stood/waited in line for more than two hours.
4 DIRECTION [C] the direction something travels, or the imaginary path between two points in space: Light travels in a straight line.
5 COMPUTER on line if using a computer that is connected to the Internet or a computer system to get information or communicate with other people: You can buy airline tickets on line. | online
6 LAND [C] an imaginary line on the surface of the Earth, for example one showing where one state or area of land stops and another begins: I didn’t stop driving until I crossed the state line. | lines of latitude/longitude
7 line of action/thought/reasoning etc. a way or method of doing something or thinking about something: That line of thinking will get you into trouble.
8 WAY OF DOING STH [C] a way of thinking about or doing something: This meeting will be organized along the same lines (=in the same way) as the last one.
9 be out of line (informal) to say or do something that is not acceptable in a particular situation: I thought what Kenny said was way out of line.
10 be in line with sth if one thing is in line with another, they are similar to each other, or they operate in a similar way: The company’s actions are in line with state laws.
11 ON SB’S FACE [C] a line on the skin of someone’s face: He had wrinkles. There were fine lines around her eyes.
12 PLAY/POEM ETC. [C] a) ENG. LANG. ARTS a line of words in a poem, film, song, etc. b) ENG. LANG. ARTS the words of a play or performance that an actor learns: He has trouble remembering his lines.
13 PHONE [C] a telephone wire or connection | (TELEPHONE, PHONE: We were on the line (=on the phone) for almost two hours.) You’ll have to try again later – the line’s busy (=someone is already using it).
14 RAILROAD [C] a track that a train travels along: a railroad line
15 WAR [C] the edge of an area that is controlled by an army, where soldiers stay and try to prevent their enemy from moving forward: a raid inside enemy lines 16 be (first/second/next etc.) in line for sth to be very likely to be the first, next, etc. person to get something: Carl is next in line for a raise.
17 PRODUCTS [C] ECONOMICS a type of goods for sale in a store: a new line of computers
18 COMPANY [C] a company that provides a system for moving goods by road, water, or air: a large shipping line 19 SHAPE [C] usually plural the outer shape of something long or tall: the car’s smooth, elegant lines
20 the line a CLOTHESLINE 21 FAMILY [singular] the people that came or existed before you in your family: She comes from a long line of politicians.
22 SPORTS [C] a row of players with a particular purpose in a sport such as football: the Bears’ defensive line
23 FISHING [C] a strong thin string, used to catch fish: draw the line (at sth) at draw 1. Poverty LINE, read between the lines at READ, somewhere along the line/way at SOMEWHERE line² v [T] 1 to cover the inside of something with something else: We lined the box with newspaper. 2 to form rows along the edge of something: Thousands of fans lined the streets.
line up phr.v. 1 line sb/sth ↔ up to make a row, or arrange people or things in a row: Customers lined up hours before the show. 2 line sb/sth ↔ up to make arrangements so that something will happen or someone will be available for an event: They’ve lined up some dancers for the show.
line-e-age /ˈlainiədʒ/ n [C,U] (formal) the way in which members of a family are related to other members who lived in past times line-ear /ˈlainiər/ adj. 1 consisting of lines, or in the form of a straight line: a linear drawing 2 related to length: linear measurements 3 involving a series of connected events, ideas, etc. that develop in stages linear equation n [C] MATH an equation that appears as a straight line when it is represented on a graph linear ‘function n [C] MATH a mathematical function, that can be represented by a linear equation, in which the variables are multiplied only by constants and not by themselves, and are combined only by addition and subtraction linear ‘perspective n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a method for making a picture appear to have distance and depth by having a series of straight lines from the edge that come together at a single point on the horizon (=line far away where the land or ocean seems to meet the sky). The shape and size of each object in the picture is then drawn in relation to its position along one of these lines.

line-back-er /'lain,bækər/ n. [C,U] a football player whose job is to tackle the member of the other team who has the ball lined /lained/ adj. 1 a skirt, coat, etc. that is lined has a piece of material covering the inside: a fur-lined coat 2 lined paper has straight lines printed on it

line-man /'lainmən/ n. [plural liners /-mən/] [C] a player who plays in the front line of a football team

lin-en /'laini/ n. [U] 1 sheets, tablecloths, etc.: bed/table linens 2 cloth used to make high quality clothes, home decorations, etc.

lin-er /'lainər/ n. [C] 1 a large ship for carrying people: an ocean liner ➔ see picture at TRANSPORTATION, AIRLINER. 2 a piece of material used inside something in order to protect it line-up /'lainap/ n. [C] 1 a set of events, programs, performers, etc. arranged to follow each other: The lineup of performers included Madonna and Diana Ross. 2 a group of people arranged in a row by the police so that a person who saw a crime can try to recognize the criminal ➔ STARTING LINEUP

ling-er /'lɪnɡə/ v. [I] 1 to stay somewhere for a little longer, especially because you do not want to leave: We found a small café where we could linger over our coffee. 2 also linger on if a smell, memory, etc. lingers, it does not disappear for a long time: The smell of smoke lingered for days.

lin-ger-ine /'lɪnɡərɪn, ˈlɪndʒər-ɪn/ n. [U] women’s underwear

lin-ger-ing /'lɪnɡərɪŋ/ adj. slow to finish or disappear: lingering questions about the murder

lin-go /'lɪŋɡoʊ/ n. [C usually singular] (informal) 1 words used only by a group of people who do a particular job or activity: computer lingo line /'lайн/ n. 1 a word or phrase that describes it. In the sentence "She seems friendly," "seems" is the linking verb. 2 a word or phrase that connects the subject of a sentence to a verb. 3 a word or phrase that connects two ideas or parts of a sentence: Educational success is strongly linked to social class.

link /'lɪŋk/ n. [C] 1 a relationship or connection between two or more events, people, ideas, etc.: the link between poverty and crime. 2 one of the rings in a chain ➔ satellite/telephone/rail etc. link something that makes communication or travel between two places possible: The administration is trying to improve road links in the south of the country. 4 if a word or picture on a website or computer document that will take you to another page or document if you click on it: Click on a link to explore other related websites. ➔ CUFF LINK link-age /'lɪŋkɪdʒ/ n. [C,U] a link or connection between two things: It is claimed that there is a linkage between violence on TV and violence in the home.

linking verb n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a verb that connects the subject of a sentence to a word or phrase that describes it. In the sentence "She seems friendly," "seems" is the linking verb.

li-no-le·um /'lɪnəʊləm/ n. a substance used to cover a floor

lip /lɪp/ n. [C] 1 one of the two edges of your mouth where your skin is redder or darker: a kiss on the lips ➔ see picture on page A3. 2 the top edge of a container such as a bowl or cup: 3 my lips are sealed (spoken) said when promising someone that you will not tell a secret: 4 thin-lipped/full-lipped etc. with lips that are thin, round, etc. 5 pay/give lip service to sth to say that you support or agree with something, without doing anything to prove this [Origins: Old English lippa]

lip gloss n. [C,U] a substance used to make lips look very shiny lip-read /lɪp riːd/ v. [T] to watch someone’s lips move in order to understand what s/he is saying, especially because you cannot hear ➔ lip-reading lip-stick /lɪp stɪk/ n. [C,U] a substance used for adding color to your lips, or a small tube containing this lip sync /ˈlipˌsɪŋk/ v. [T] to pretend to sing by moving your lips at the same time as a recording is being played liq·ue·fy /ˈlɪkwəˌfai/ v. (liquefied, liquefies) [T,T] (formal) to become liquid, or make something become liquid li·queur /ˈlɪkwər/ n. [EU] a strong sweet alcoholic drink usually drunk after a meal liq·ui·date /ˈlɪkwəˌdaɪt/ v. [T,T] ECONOMICS to close a business or company and sell the things that belong to it, in order to pay a debt —liquidation /ˈlɪkwəˌdeɪʃən/ n. [C] ECONOMICS li·quid·i·ty /ˈlɪkwɪdəti/ n. [U] ECONOMICS a situation in which a business or a person has enough money to pay debts or owns goods that can be sold to pay debts liq·uid ·'Pap·er n. [U] (trademark) white liquid that is used to correct mistakes in writing and TYPING liq·uor /ˈlɪkwər/ n. [EU] a strong alcoholic drink such as WHISKEY (origin: 1200–1300 Old French licour, from Latin liquor, from liqueur “to flow as a liquid”) li·qua·tor store n. [C] a store where alcohol is sold lisp /lɪsp/ n. [C] someone who has a lisp pronunciation “s” sounds like “th” —lisp v. [T,T]

list /lɪst/ n. [C] a set of names, things, numbers, etc. written one below the other: a list of questions | Make a list of the things you’ll need. | a shopping list | Is my name on the list? ▶ Don’t say “in the list.”

Types of lists
- grocery list or shopping list – a list of food you need to buy
- mailing list – a list of people who are all sent information or advertising material by mail or email
- price list – a printed list of a company’s goods or services, and their prices
- checklist – a list of things you need to check
- waiting list – a list of people who want something but will have to wait for it
- guest list – a list of people invited somewhere list /lɪst/ v. [T] to write a list, or mention things one after the other: Each Monday the newspaper lists the ten most popular films.

listen /ˈlɪsn/ v. [I] to pay attention to what someone is saying or to something that you hear: This is very important, so I need you to listen. | Have you listened to this CD? ▶ 2 (spoken) used to tell someone to pay attention to what you are saying: Listen, can I call you back later? ▶ 3 to consider what someone says to you and accept his/her advice: I told him it was dangerous, but he wouldn’t listen. [origin: Old English hlīsnan]

listen for /ˈlɪsnər/ phr. v. to pay attention so that you are sure you will hear a sound: He put down the paper and listened for the telephone.

listen in phr. v. to listen to what someone is saying without him/her knowing it: I think someone’s listening in on the other phone.

listen up phr. v. (spoken) used in order to get people’s attention so they will hear what you are going to say: OK, people, listen up. I’m only going to say this once.

list·ten·er /ˈlɪstənər/ n. [C] 1 someone who listens, especially to the radio ▶ VIEWER 2 a good listener someone who listens in a patient and sympathetic way to other people list·ing /ˈlɪstɪŋ/ n. [C] something that is on a list 2 listings [plural] lists of movies, plays, and other events, with the times and places at which they will happen list·less /ˈlɪstlɪs/ adj. feeling tired and not interested in things lit·ter /ˈlɪtər/ v. the past tense and past participle of LIGHT lit·ter·al /ˈlɪtərəl/ adj. having light or burning: a brightly-lit hallway lit·a·ny /ˈlɪtənˈeɪ/ n. a litany of sth a long list of problems, questions, complaints, etc.

lite /ˈlɪt/ adj. a way of spelling “light”, often used as part of the name of food or drink that has fewer CALORIES than usual: lite beer li·ter /ˈlɪtər/ n. [C] (written abbreviation l) a unit for measuring liquids, equal to 2.12 PINTS or 0.26 gallons: a liter of vodka [origin: 1700–1800 French litre, from Medieval Latin litra, a measure, from Greek, a weight] lit·er·a·cy /ˈlɪtərəsɪ/ n. [U] the ability to read and write lit·er·al /ˈlɪtərəl/ adj. the literal meaning of a word or expression is its basic or original meaning ▶ FIGURATIVE: a literal interpretation of the Bible lit·er·al·ly /ˈlɪtərəlɪ/ adv. 1 according to the most basic meaning of a word or expression: There are literally millions of students in these programs. 2 (spoken) used in order to emphasize something you have just said: The program has moved literally thousands of homeless people off the streets. ▶ 3 take sb/sth literally to think that a word or statement is literal when it is not: Lou was joking, but Sara took it literally.

lit·er·al·ly /ˈlɪtərəli/ adv. 1 according to the most basic meaning of a word or expression: There are literally millions of students in these programs. 2 (spoken) used in order to emphasize something you have just said: The program has moved literally thousands of homeless people off the streets. ▶ 3 take sb/sth literally to think that a word or statement is literal when it is not: Lou was joking, but Sara took it literally.

lit·er·ar·y /ˈlɪtərəri/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS regarding to literature: a literary critic lit·er·a·ture /ˈlɪtərətʃər/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS books, plays, etc. that are considered to be very good and important: the great classics of lithium

litt·i·gant  /lɪtɪˈɡænt/ n. [U] LAW someone who is making a claim against someone else, or defending himself or herself against a claim in a court of law

litt·i·ga·tion  /lɪtɪˈɡeɪʃən/ n. [U] LAW the process of taking legal case to a court of law —litigate litt·mus  /lɪtˈməs/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a chemical that turns red when touched by acid, and blue when touched by an ALKALI litt·us, papa·r·us  n. [U] CHEMISTRY paper containing litmus, used to test whether a chemical is an acid or an ALKALI litt·us, test  n. 1 (singular) a single action, situation, or quality that allows you to measure someone’s attitude, beliefs, etc.: The elections will be a litmus test of the political mood in the U.S. 2 [C] CHEMISTRY a test in which litmus paper is used to find out whether a chemical is an acid or an ALKALI litt·ter·er  /lɪtˈtərər/ n. 1 [U] pieces of waste paper, etc. that people leave on the ground in public places

litt·ter·er  /lɪtˈtərər/ n. 1 [L] to leave pieces of waste paper, etc. on the ground in a public place: The sign says: “Please Do Not Litter.” 2 [T] if a lot of things litter a place, they are spread all over it in a messy way: The floor was littered with clothes.

litt·ter·ise  /lɪtˈtərɪz/ adj. 1 small in size: a little house live·a·ble, live·a·ble  /ˈlɪvəb(ə)l/ adj. good enough to live in, but not very good live·er  /ˈlɪvər/ v. 1 [I] to be alive or to continue to stay alive: My grandmother lived to be 88. | Thorêt lived in the mid-1800s. 2 [I] to have your home in a particular place: Where do you live? | I live in Boston. | They live on Bergen Street. | Kitty still lives at home (=lives with her parents). 3 [I,T] to have a particular type of life, or to live in a particular way: We earn enough to live comfortably. | Children living in poverty [Origins: Old English libban]

live sth down  phr. v. not live sth down to not be able to make people forget about something bad or embarrassing you have done: You’ll never live this evening down!

live for sb/sth  phr. v. to consider someone or something to be the most important thing in your life: She lives for her children.

live off sb/sth  phr. v. to get your food or money... from someone or something other than a job: He’s living off money from his investments.

live on (live on sth) to have a particular amount of money to buy food and other necessary things: I don’t know how he can live on $600 a month.

1. live on (live on sth) to eat a lot of a particular kind of food: These animals live on insects.
2. live through (live through sth) to experience difficult or dangerous conditions and continue living: Don’t expect to live through the war.
3. live together (live together) to live with another person in a sexual relationship without being married: Charles could never live up to his father’s expectations.
4. live up to (live up to sth) to experience difficult or dangerous conditions and continue living: Sometimes I want to give up city living and move to the country.
5. lived (lived) 1. not dead or artificial
6. living (living) 1. [only before noun] alive now living things (=animals and plants).

living room (living room) the main room in a house, where you relax, watch television, etc.

living will (living will) a document that explains what legal and medical decisions should be made for you if you are too sick to make them yourself.

lizard (lizard) 1. a reptile that has rough skin, four short legs, and a long tail.
2. lama (lama) 1. a large South American animal with thick hair like wool and a long neck.

load (load) 1. a large quantity of something that is carried by a person, a vehicle, etc.
2. load up to put a load of something on or into a vehicle or container: They loaded their luggage into the car.
3. the loaded gun (=a gun that is loaded with bullets or powder)
4. loaded (loaded) 1. containing bullets or powder: an loaded gun
5. loaded down with to carry too many things or do too much work: Fanny was loaded down with work.

loaded truck (loaded truck) a truck carrying a load of something: a loaded truck liver (liver) 1. an organ in your body that cleans your blood → see picture at organ

2. the liver (the liver) a large organ in your body that cleans your blood: The liver acts as a filter and removes waste products from the blood.

livelier (livelier) a more lively or exciting version of a word: a livelier version of the story liveliness (liveliness) the state of being lively or full of energy and activity: a lively debate → liveliness live (live) 1. if something is broadcast live, it is broadcast on television or radio as it actually happens: The pictures were broadcast live across the world.

2. performing in front of people: The band is playing live in Houston this week.
3. live (live) 1. very active and cheerful: very lively
2. very exciting and interesting: a lively debate live off (live off sth) to make something without being married: Tim’s living with a girl he met in college.

living language (living language) a language that is currently spoken and used by people: metalanguage load (load) 1. a large quantity of something that is carried by a person or a machine: a load of wood

2. a large南路 quantity of something that is carried by a person or a machine: a load of wood
3. a large amount or number of something: a load of laundry
4. load (load) 1. a large quantity of something that is carried by a person or a machine: a load of wood
5. a large South American animal with thick hair like wool and a long neck.

living (living) 1. [only before noun] alive now

living room (living room) the main room in a house, where you relax, watch television, etc.
loaf

4 loaded question a question that is unfair because it makes you give a particular answer. 5 loaded with sth full of a particular quality, or containing a lot of something: a cake loaded with nuts loaf /'louf/ n. (plural loaves /'louvz/) [C] bread that is shaped and baked in one large piece; a loaf of bread [Origin: Old English hlaf] → see picture at BREAD

loafer /'loufe/ n. [C] (trademark) a flat leather shoe without laces loan /'louan/ n. 1 [C] an amount of money that you borrow from a bank: We'll take out a loan to buy the car. I'll be paying off the loan for at least five years. 2 on loan being borrowed: The book is on loan from the library. 3 (singular) the act of lending something [Origin: 1100—1200 Old Norse lan] loan vb. [T] to lend someone something, especially money: Can you loan me $20 until Friday?

loan shark n. [C] (disapproving) someone who lends money to people and charges a very high rate of interest loath /'louθ/ v. be loath to do sth (formal) to be unwilling to do something loathsome /'louθsəm/ n. (louθ-/) adj. (formal) very unpleasant or disgusting loaves /'louvz/ n. the plural of LOAF

lob /ləb/ v. (lobbed, lobbing) [T] to throw or hit a ball so that it moves slowly in a high curve lobby /'ləbɪ/ n. (plural lobbies) [C] 1 a large hall inside the entrance of a building: waiting in the hotel lobby. 2 a group of people who try to persuade the government to change or approve a particular law: the environmental lobby [Origin: 1500—1600 Medieval Latin lobium "covered way for walking"] lobby vb. [T] to try to persuade the government to change or approve a particular law; a group lobbying for/against the law lobbying /lo'biŋ/ n. [U] POLITICS the activity of trying to persuade someone with political power to change a law so that it is more favorable to a particular group of people lobbyist /'ləbiʃt/ n. [C] POLITICS someone whose paid job involves trying to persuade people with political power to change a law so that it is more favorable to the group of people that he or she represents lobe /ˈlou/ n. [C] your earlobe lobster /ˈlʌbstər/ n. [C,U] an ocean animal with eight legs, a shell, and two large claws, or the meat of this animal lobbying for/against the law an interest group trying to persuade the government to change or approve a particular law lobbying /ˈlʌbɪŋ/ n. [U] the activity of trying to persuade someone with political power to change or persuade a particular government to change or approve a particular law lobbyist /ˈlʌbɪst/ n. [C] a person whose paid job involves trying to persuade people with political power to change a law so that it is more favorable to a particular group of people in areas where there are a lot of people. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of locare “to place,” from locus]

location /loʊˈkərən/ n. 1 [C] a particular place or position: His apartment is in a really good location. 2 [C] a map showing the location of the school. The climate of an area partly depends on its geographical location.

lock /lɑk/ v. 1 [T] to be fastened with a lock, or to fasten something with a lock: Unlock the door when you leave. 2 lock sb up/away/in etc. to put someone in prison. 3 lock sth up/away/in to prevent someone from leaving a place by locking the door. 4 lock sb out to prevent someone from entering a place by locking the door. 5 lock up 1 [informal] lock sb up to put someone in prison. 2 lock into sth to become set in one position and be unable to move: The brakes locked and we skidded.

lock /rɑk/ n. 1 [C] a small round box in which you put a picture of someone who makes and repairs locks.

lock-et /lɑkˈɪt/ n. [C] a piece of jewelry like a small round box in which you put a picture of someone, worn on a chain around your neck.

lock-in /lɑkˈɪn/ v. [T] to make an official record of events, facts, etc., especially on a ship or airplane. 2 [IT] to cut down trees.

lock-off /lɑkˈɑf/ v. it to stop using a computer or computer system by typing (TYPE) a special word.

lock-on /lɑkˈɑn/ v. it to start using a computer or computer system by typing (TYPE) a special word.

lock-up /lɑkˈʌp/ n. 1 [C] a small cupboard with a lock where you leave books, clothes, etc., especially at school or when you are playing sports.

log cabin n. [C] a small house made of logs. loggerheads

log·ger·heads /ˈlɒɡəˌhɛdz, ˈlɑː/ n [C] to disagree very strongly with someone: [Oriigen: 1800—1900 loggerhead “stupid person, large head, type of heavy tool” (16—20 centuries), from logger “block of wood” (16—18 centuries) + head] log·ging /ˈlɑːɡɪŋ, ˈlɑː/ n [U] the industry of cutting down trees for wood, paper, etc.

log·ic /ˈlɑːжɪk (AC) n [U] 1 a set of sensible and correct reasons: There is no logic in releasing criminals just because the prisons are crowded. | The logic behind that statement is faulty. 2 the science or study of thinking carefully about something, using formal methods: Logic was invented by the ancient Greeks over 3,000 years ago. [Oriigen: 1300—1400 French logique, from Latin logica, from Greek logos “speech, word, reason”]

log·i·cal /ˈlɑːжɪkəl (AC) adj 1 seeming reasonable and sensible (ANT illogical): It’s the logical place to build a new supermarket. | Is there a logical explanation for this unusual weather? 2 based on the rules of logic: a logical conclusion | Finding a new scientific theory is a creative act, not a process of logical analysis. —logically adv.

lo·gi·cian /ˌlɑːжɪˈkjæn (AC) n [C] someone who studies or is skilled in logic: This is a problem that has puzzled logicians for centuries.

lo·gis·tics /ˌlɑːжɪsˈtɪks, ˈlɑː- n the logistics of sth the practical organizing that is needed to make a complicated plan or activity successful —logistical adj —logistically adv.

log·jam /ˈlɑːɡdʒəm, ˈlɑː- n [C] a lot of problems or other things that are preventing something from being done: a logjam of work lo·go /ˈlɑːɡoʊ/ n (plural logos) [C] a small design that is the official sign of a company or organization loin·cloth /ˈloɪnklɒθ/ n [C] a piece of cloth that men in some hot countries wear around their waist loins /ˈloɪnz/ n (plural) (literary) the part of the body below your waist where the sexual organs are lo·ti·ter /ˈloʊtər/ v [I] to stand in a public place without having a reason to be there loll /lɒl/ v [I] 1 to sit or lie in a lazy or relaxed way: We spent the afternoon lolling around on the beach. 2 if someone’s head or tongue lollis, it hangs down lol·li·pop /ˈlɒliˌpɒp, ˈlɒl-/ n [C] a hard candy on the end of a stick lon·er /ˈloʊnər/ n [C] someone who wants to be alone or who has no friends lon·some /ˈloʊnsməʊn adj LONELY

long /lɒŋ/ adj 1 MEASUREMENT measuring a great length, distance, or time (ANT short): long hair | There was a long line at the bank. | The meeting was too long. | It takes a long time to drive to work. 2 PARTICULAR LENGTH having a particular length: The snake was at least three feet long. 3 TIME continuing for a particular amount of time: How long is the movie? | O’Keeffe lived long enough to see her artwork become successful.

—lengthy —continuing for a long time, especially so that you have to wait before you can do something: Finding the right job can be a lengthy process.

long·run·ning —use this about arguments, battles, events, or performances: The two families have been involved in a long-running argument over land.

last·ing —strong enough to continue for a long time: They formed a lasting friendship when they were in college.

pro·long·ed —continuing for much longer than people expected: He was absent from school for prolonged periods.

long·winded —too long and using too many words; in a way that is boring or confusing: a long-winded explanation in·termin·able —much too long in a way that is extremely boring: The movie was interminable, and I couldn’t wait till it ended.

seem·ing long seeming too long in time or distance because you are tired, bored, etc.: It’s been a long day.

long·hours a large amount of time: She spent long hours working at the computer.

book/list/name etc. a long book, list, etc. has a lot of pages, details, etc.

long·week·end three days, including Saturday and Sunday, when you do not have to go to work or school.

in· the long run when something is finished, or at a later time: All our hard work will be worth it in the long run.

Clo·thes covering all of your arms or legs (ANT short): a long skirt | a long-sleeved shirt [Origin: Old English long, lang]

—long adj 1 for a long time: Have you been waiting long? 2 long before/after for a long time before or after a particular time or event: The farm was sold long before you were born. 3 for a long time: Have you known the Garretts for very long? 4 as long as if: You can go, as long as you’re back by four o’clock. 5 no longer also not any longer used in order to show that something happened in the past, but does not happen now: Mr. Allen no longer works for the company. 6 so long (spoken) goodbye | 7 before long soon: It will be Christmas before long.
long\^3 vb [I] (informal) to want something very much: The children longed to get outside.

long-distance adj [only before noun] 1 a long-distance telephone call is to a place that is far away (not local) 2 traveling, running, etc. between two places that are far away from each other: long-distance flights —long-distance adv long division n [C] MATH a method of dividing one large number by another large number long-drawn-out adj [only before noun] continuing for a longer time than is necessary: a long-drawn-out discussion longevity /lɔn'ジvətI, lɔn-tI n [U] (formal) long life long-hand /lɔn'hænd/ n [U] writing full words by hand rather than using a machine such as a computer long-ing /lɔŋ'جير/ n [singular, U] a strong feeling of wanting someone or something very much: a longing for peace —longing adj —longingly adv longitude /lɔŋ'tId/ n [C] U a position on the Earth measured in degrees east or west of an imaginary line from the top of the Earth to the bottom: [origin: 1300—1400 Latin longitudo “length,” from longus “long”] —longitudinal /lɔŋ'tIduN-AL/ adj ➔ compare Latitude ➔ see picture of GLOBE long johns n [plural] (informal) warm underwear that covers your legs long jump n [U] a sport in which you jump as far as possible long-lasting adj continuing for a long time: hopes for a long-lasting peace in the region | long-lasting batteries long-lived /lɔŋ'livd/ adj living or existing for a long time long-lost adj [only before noun] lost or not seen for a long time: a long-lost friend long-range adj [usually before noun] 1 relating to a time that continues far into the future: long-range development plans 2 covering a long distance: a long-range missile long-running adj [usually before noun] having existed or happened for a long time: a long-running TV show longshoreman /lɔŋ'shɔrmAn, lɔŋ'shɔrmAn/ n (plural longshoremen) [C] someone whose job is to load and unload ships long shot n [C usually singular] (informal) 1 someone or something with very little chance of success: It’s a long shot, but I may as well apply. 2 not by a long shot not at all, or not nearly: This isn’t over, not by a long shot.

long-standing adj having continued or existed for a long time: a long-standing agreement between the two countries long-suffering adj [usually before noun] patient in spite of problems or unhappiness long-term adj continuing for a long period of time into the future ➔ short-term: The long-term effects of the drug are not known. ➔ in the long/short term at term

long-time /lɔŋ'tIml/ adj [only before noun] having existed for a long time, or having had a particular position for a long time: a long-time friend of the family | long-time residents of Tokama Park long-winded adj continuing to talk for too long in a way that is boring: a long-winded speech look /luk/ vb 1 [I] to turn your eyes toward something so that you can see it: I didn’t see it. I wasn’t looking. | “I have to go,” Mel said, looking at his watch.

look-1 /lUk/ vb 1 [I] to make or become very good: The cake looked really good look-2 /lUk/ vb 1 [I] to study carefully: I looked at the map look-out /lUk/-ot/ vb [I] to look carefully: The children gaped at her.

look-up /lUk/-up/ vb [I] to search something in a dictionary or thesaurus: I looked up the word.

look over /lUk/-ar/ vb [I] to examine something very carefully: I look over the car look through /lUk/-thrU/ vb [I] to read through a book: I look through the newspaper lookafter /lUk/-afTer/ vb [I] to care for someone who needs help: She looked after her sick brother look back /lUk/-bæk/ vb [I] to think about a period of your life: I look back on my school days with fondness look forward /lUk/-fSent/ vb [I] to think about the future with happiness: I look forward to my vacation look out /lUk/-ot/ vb 1 [I] to watch carefully and be ready for danger: Look out for that car looked at /lUk/-at/ vb 1 [I] to see something with your eyes: I looked at the picture looked over /lUk/-ar/ vb 1 [I] to examine something carefully: I looked over the car looked through /lUk/-thrU/ vb 1 [I] to read through something: I looked through the newspaper long-term effects of the drag are not known. ➔ in the long/short term at term

USAGE

You look at a picture, person, thing, etc. because you want to: She was looking at some old photographs.

You see something without planning to: I saw two men running out of the building.

You watch TV, a movie, a game, or something that happens for a period of time: He’s watching the baseball game. | The kids are watching TV.

You can also say that you saw a movie, a program, etc., but you cannot say “see television”: I saw a really good movie last night.

THESAURUS

glance – to look at someone or something for a short time and then look quickly away: Kevin glanced at the clock peek/peep – to quickly look at something, especially something you are not supposed to see: I peeked through the curtains, trying to see if they were home.

peer – to look very carefully, especially because you cannot see something well: Hansen peered through the windshield at the street signs.

stare – to look at someone or something for a long time, especially without realizing that you are doing it: He stood staring out into the street.

gaze – to look at someone or something for a long time, often without realizing that you are doing it: Helen gazed out the window at the shimmering water.

gape – to look at something for a long time, usually with your mouth open, because you are very shocked or surprised: She backed away as the children gaped at her.

regard (formal) – to look at someone or something, especially in a particular way: He regarded her steadily.

search – to look carefully for something: We searched the whole house for the keys.

try to find sb/sth – to look for someone or something
look

something, especially when this is difficult: He’s been trying to find a job for several months.

hunt for sb/sth – to look in a lot of places for someone or something: I always seem to be hunting for my keys.

seek (formal) – to try to find someone or something: The new graduates are seeking employment.

go through sth – to examine something very thoroughly when looking for something: Security officers went through our bags.

have a look for sb/sth (spoken) – to look quickly for someone or something: I think I put it in the kitchen drawer, I’ll take a look.

3 [linking verb] to seem to be something, especially by having a particular appearance: You look nice/good in that dress. | He looks like he hasn’t slept for days. | Gina and Ron looked very happy.

look around

next year.

in the future:

Paul helps look after his two younger

something:

look at phr.v. to think about something that happened in the past: Looking back, is my mistake.

look down on about something that happened in the past: back, is my mistake.

look for sb/sth phr.v. 1 to try to find a particular type of thing or person that you need or want: How long have you been looking for a job? 2 be looking for trouble/a fight (informal) to be behaving in a way that makes it likely that problems or a fight will happen look forward to sth phr.v. to be excited and happy about something that is going to happen: We’re really looking forward to skiing in Tahoe.

look into sth phr.v. to try to find out the truth about something: The FBI will look into the cause of the fire.

look on phr.v. 1 to watch something, without being involved in it: Children ran through the playground as their mothers looked on. 2 look on/upon sth to think about something in a particular way: My family looks on divorce as a sin.

look out to pay attention to what is happening around you: Look out! There’s a car coming.

look at sth/sth ↔ over phr.v. 1 to examine something or someone quickly: Can you look over my résumé before I send it? 2 look through phr.v. 1 look through sth to look for something in a pile of papers, a drawer, someone’s pockets, etc.: I found her looking through my old letters. 2 look right through sb to pretend that you have not seen someone look up phr.v. 1 if a situation is looking up, it is becoming better: Things are looking up for me. 2 look sth ↔ up to try to find information in a book, on a computer, etc.: If you don’t know the word, look it up. 3 look sb ↔ up to visit someone you know, especially when you go to the place where s/he lives for another reason: Don’t forget to look up my parents when you’re in Boston.

look up to sb/phr.v. to admire and respect someone: Everybody looks up to him.

look2 n. 1 [C usually singular] an act of looking at something: Let me take/have a look at that map again. 2 [C] an expression that you make with your eyes or face to show how you feel: She gave me an angry look. 3 [C] the appearance of someone or something: I don’t like the look of that bruisé – maybe you should see a doctor. 4 looks [plural] how attractive someone is: He’s got his father’s good looks.

look-a-like /luk-ə-liːk/ n. [C] (informal) someone who looks very similar to someone else, especially someone famous: a Madonna lookalike look-out /lʊk-əʊt/ n. 1 be on the lookout (for sb/sth) to continuously watch a place or pay attention to a situation because you are looking for someone or something: Be on the lookout for snakes. 2 [C] someone whose duty is to watch carefully for danger, or the place where s/he does this look1 /lʊk/ v. 1 to appear as a large unclear threatening shape: The mountain loomed in front of us. 2 if a problem or difficult situation looms, it is likely to happen soon: The report warns that a crisis in the airline industry is looming.

look large to seem important, worrying, and difficult to look something large

to look

overs

looking for someone

look around

look

after

sth

look out

look

at

sth

look for sth/sth

look into

look

on

look out

look

up

look

a-like

look out

look

large
avoid: Fear of failure loomed large in his mind.

loom² n. [C] a frame or machine used for weaving cloth loony /ˈluːni/ adj. (informal) extremely silly or crazy loop² /ləʊp/ n. 1 [C] a shape like a curve or a circle, or a line, piece of wire, string, etc. that has this shape: belt loops (= cloth loops used for holding a belt on pants) 2 be out of the loop to not be part of a group of people that has information and makes decisions about something loose² /lʊs/ v. [T] to make a loop, or to make something into a loop loop-hole /ˈluːp.həʊl/ n. [C] a small mistake in a law or rule that makes it possible to legally avoid doing what the law says: tax loopholes loose³ /lʊs/ adj.

1 NOT FIRMLY ATTACHED not firmly attached to something: a loose screw The buttons on my shirt are coming loose.
2 NOT TIED/FASTENED not tied or fastened very tightly: My shoe laces are loose.
3 CLOTHES loose clothes are big and do not fit tightly on your body (SYN baggy)
4 NOT CONTROLLED free from being controlled in a CAGE, prison, or institution: Two of the prisoners broke loose from the guards. Don’t let your dog loose on the beach.
5 not exact: a loose translation/interpretation
6 loose ends parts of something such as work or an agreement that have not yet been completed: I have to tie up a few loose ends before we go away.
7 loose cannon someone who cannot be trusted because s/he says or does things you do not want him/her to do.
8 NOT MORAL (old-fashioned) behaving in a way that is considered to be sexually immoral: The film portrayed her as a loose woman. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old Norse lauss] —loosely adv.: A towel was loosely wrapped around his neck.

loose⁴ n. on the loose if a criminal is on the loose, s/he has escaped from prison loose-leaf adj. [only before noun] having pages that can be put in or taken out easily: a loose-leaf notebook loosen /ˈluːzn/ v. [I,T] to become less tight or less firmly attached to something, or to make something do this: He loosened his tie. The screws in the shelf had loosened.

loosen /ˈluːzn/ v. [I,T] to become more relaxed and feel less worried, or to make someone feel this way: Claire loosened up after she’d had a drink. 2 if your muscles loosen up, or if you loosen them up, they stop feeling stiff loot² /lʊt/ v. [I,T] to steal things, especially from stores that have been damaged in a war or RIOT: Businesses were looted and burned in the riot.

—looting n. [U] —looter n. [C] loot³ n. [U] goods that are stolen by thieves or taken by soldiers who have won a battle loaf /ləʊf/ v. (lopped. lopping) [T] also lope off to cut part of something off lope /ˈluːp/ v. [I] (literary) to run easily using long steps loose-ends /ˈluːs.es/ adj. having one side that is heavier, larger, or lower than the other side: a lopsided smile loquacious /ˈluː.kwə.ʃəs/ adj. (formal) a loquacious person likes to talk a lot, sometimes too much —loquaciousness also loquacity /ˈluː.kwə.sə.tɪs/ n. [U]

Lord /lɔːd/ n. [C] 1 also the Lord a title used for God or Jesus Christ 2 good/oh/my Lord! (spoken) said when you are surprised, worried, or angry lore /ˈlɔr/ n. [U] knowledge and TRADITIONS that people learn from other people rather than from books lose /lʊz/ v. (past tense and past participle lost /ˈlɒst/, present participle losing)

1 NOT FIND [T] to be unable to find someone or something: Danny’s always losing his keys.

2 NOT HAVE [I] to stop having something important that you need: Michelle lost her job. Anna’s family lost everything in the war.

3 NOT WIN [I,T] to not win a game, argument, war, etc.: We lost to the Red Sox 5–0. | Sanders lost the election by 371 votes.

4 HAVE LESS [T] to have less of something than before: I need to lose weight. She’s lost a lot of blood.

5 lose your sight/memory/voice etc. to stop being able to see, remember things, talk, etc.

6 STOP HAVING A QUALITY [T] to no longer have a particular quality, belief, attitude, etc.: The kids were losing interest in the game. | Jake lost his temper/cool (=became angry) and started shouting. | He lost control of the car and drove into a ditch.

7 lose an arm/leg etc. to have a serious injury in which your arm, leg, etc. is cut off

8 lose your balance to become unsteady, especially so that you fall

9 lose your husband/mother/other etc. if you lose your husband, mother, etc., s/he dies: Michael lost his wife to cancer. | Janet lost the baby (=the baby died before being born).

10 lose your life to die: 5,000 soldiers lost their lives.

11 WASTE [T] to waste time or opportunities: Pam loser

lost no time in finding a new boyfriend. | You lost your chance! 12 lose sb (informal) to confuse someone when explaining something to him/her: You’ve lost me. Can you repeat that?

13 have nothing to lose if you have nothing to lose, it is worth taking a risk because you cannot make your situation any worse: You might as well apply for the job – you’ve got nothing to lose.

14 lose touch (with sb/sth) a) to not speak to, see, or write to someone for so long that you do not know where s/he is: I’ve lost touch with all my high school friends. b) to not know the most recent information about a particular place, situation, event, etc.: He’s lost touch with his Mexican culture.

15 lose it (spoken) a) to suddenly start shouting, laughing, or crying a lot because you think something is very bad, funny, or wrong: When he started criticizing me again, I just completely lost it. b) to become crazy

16 lose your mind (informal) to go crazy or to stop behaving sensibly: What are you doing on the roof?

17 lose sight of sth to forget about the most important part of something you are doing: We can’t lose sight of our goals.

18 lose your touch to stop having a special ability or skill

19 lose heart to stop having a special ability or skill

20 lose touch to stop having a special ability or skill

21 lose your appetite to not feel like eating something important such as a job because someone else gets it: He lost out on a scholarship because his grades were low. [Origin: Old English losian “to destroy or be destroyed, to lose”] loser /'luzəl/ n. [C] 1 someone who does not win: a bad/sore loser (someone who becomes too upset when s/he loses) 2 informal, (disapproving) someone who is never successful in life, work, or society: Pam’s boyfriend is such a loser!

loss /lɒs/ n. [C,U] the fact of not having something any longer, or the action of losing something: weight loss | the loss of innocence | job losses

2 [C,U] ECONOMICS money that has been lost by a company, government, person, etc.: The auto industry reported losses of $10 million last year. 3 [C] an occasion when you do not win a game: a record of 3 wins and 4 losses so far this season 4 [C,U] the death of someone: Troops suffered heavy losses (=many deaths) in the first battle. 5 [singular, U] the sadness you feel or disadvantage you have because someone or something leaves: She felt a great sense of loss when her son left home. 6 be at a loss to not know what you should do or say: I’m at a loss to explain what happened. 7 it’s sb’s loss (spoken) said when you think someone is stupid for not taking a good opportunity: Well, if he doesn’t want to come, it’s his loss.

lost /lɒst/ adj 1 not knowing where you are or how to find your way: We got lost driving around the city.

lost! /lɒst/ adj 1 not knowing where you are or how to find your way: We got lost driving around the city.

USAGE
Use lost in order to describe something that someone cannot find, or someone who does not know where s/he is: a lost ball | We took a wrong turn and got lost.

Use missing in order to describe someone or something you have been looking for, especially when the situation is serious: We’re still trying to locate the missing money. I searched the two missing boys.

lost² v the past tense and past participle of lose lost-and-found n. [singular] an office used for keeping things that people have lost until their owners can get them

lot /lɒt/ n. 1 a lot also lots (informal) a) a large amount, quantity, or number of something: A lot of people at work have the flu. | Mrs. Ruiz has lots of money. 2 a lot of times (usually or often) we just sat and talked. b) much: You’ll get there a lot quicker if you drive. 2 have a lot on your mind to have many problems you are thinking about 3 a lot of people are thinking about 3 [C] an area of land used especially for building on ➔ parking lot

a lot of, much, many
In negative sentences, you can use much or many instead of a lot of.

Much is used with uncountable nouns: We never had much money.

Many is used with plural noun forms: There weren’t many women musicians in those days.

A lot of can be used with both types of noun: I don’t have a lot of time. | She doesn’t have a lot of friends.
loud·speak·er n. [C,U] a liquid mixture that you put on your skin in order to make it soft or to protect it: hand lotion [Old English: 1300—1400 Latin lotio “act of washing”; from lavare “to wash”] lot·tery /ˈlɔtəri/ n. (plural lotteries) [C] a game of chance in which people buy tickets in order to try to win a lot of money: Maybe I’ll win the lottery.

loud⁴ /laʊd/ adj. 1 making a lot of noise [ANT] quiet, soft: The TV’s too loud!

LOUDER, LOUDEST

noisy – making a lot of noise, or full of noise: a classroom full of noisy kids | a noisy bar rowdy – behaving in a noisy and uncontrolled way: rowdy football fans thunderous – extremely loud: thunderous applause deafening – very loud, so that you cannot hear anything else: a deafening roar ear-splitting – painfully loud: The Saints scored and the crowd erupted in an ear-splitting din.
shrill – a shrill sound is high and unpleasant: a shrill voice raucous – a raucous voice or noise is very loud and unpleasant: a raucous laugh resounding – a resounding noise is loud and clear and seems to continue for a few seconds: a resounding cheer sonorous (formal) – having a deep pleasantly loud sound: the singer’s sonorous voice ➔ QUIET³

2 (disapproving) loud clothes are too brightly colored [Origin: Old English hlud] — loudly adv.

loud⁵ adv. loudly: Can you talk a little louder, please? ➔ out loud at OUI³ loud-mouth n. [C] (disapproving) someone who talks too much, too loudly, and often in an offensive way — loud-mouthed adj.

loud-speak·er /ˈlaʊdˌspəkər/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that makes messages loud enough to be heard in a public place lounge¹ /ˈlaʊndʒ/ n. [C] a room in a public building where people can relax, sit down, or drink: We were watching TV in the student lounge.

lounge² v. [I] to stand or sit in a lazy way: We were lounging by the pool.

louse¹ /laʊz/ n. (plural lice /laɪs/) [C] a very small insect that lives on the skin and hair of animals and people louse² v. louse sth ↔ up phr. v. to make a mistake or do something badly, especially so that it affects other people: I don’t want to louse things up in our relationship.

lousy /ˈlaʊzli/ adj. (informal) very bad: What lousy weather! | I’m still feeling pretty lousy (feel feeling ill).

LOUSIER, LOUSIEST

bad, awful, terrible, horrible, horrendous, atrocious, abysmal ➔ BAD³

lov·a·ble /ˈlaʊvəbəl/ adj. easy to love: a lovable child love¹ /ˈlaʊv/ v. [T] 1 to care very much about someone, especially a member of your family or a close friend: It’s incredible how much she loves those two kids.

THE SAURUS

If you are infatuated with someone, you have unreasonably strong feelings of love for him/her. If you have a crush on someone, you have a strong feeling of love for him/her, but it usually only continues for a short time: Carrie has a crush on her brother’s best friend. If you are crazy about someone, you love him/her very much, especially in a way that you cannot control. If you are devoted to someone, you love him/her and are loyal to him/her: He has always been devoted to his wife. If you are devoted to someone, you love him/her very much and show this by your actions: They absolutely dote on their little boy. If you adore someone, you love him/her very much and are proud of him/her: She adores her grandchildren. ➔ HATE³

2 to have a strong feeling of caring for and liking someone, combined with sexual attraction: I love you, Betty. | Tom was the only man she had ever really loved. 3 to like something very much, or enjoy doing something very much: Tom loves to read. | I love being out in the woods. | Mom really loved her new dress.

THE SAURUS

enjoy, like, relish ➔ ENJOY

love² n. 1 [U] a strong romantic feeling for someone: He is in love with Laura. They fell in love. | It was love at first sight. 2 [U] the strong feeling of caring very much about someone or something: a mother’s love for her child. 3 [C-U] something that you like very much, or that you enjoy doing very much: his love of music. 4 [C] someone whom you have romantic feelings about: Mike was my first love. 5 make love (to/with sb) to have sex with someone you love 6 love/lots of love/all my love (informal) written at the end of a letter to a friend, parent, husband, etc.: Take care. Lots of love, Dad.

love·affair n. [C] a romantic sexual relationship: a secret love affair love·ly /ˈlaʊvli/ adj. very nice, beautiful, or enjoyable: Thank you for a lovely evening.

lov·er /ˈlaʊvər/ n. [C] a sexual partner, usually someone whom you are not married to: His wife love seat

had many lovers. | a pair of young lovers 2 someone who enjoys something very much: music lovers love seat n [C] a small sofa for two people love-sick /ˈlaʊv-sɪk/ adj sad because the person you love is not with you or does not love you loving /ˈloʊvɪŋ/ adj very caring: a wonderful, loving husband

low /ˈloʊ/ adj 1 not high, or not far above the ground (ANT: high): Move the toots onto a lower shelf. | a low ceiling | low clouds 2 small in degree or amount (ANT: high): low temperatures | Their profits were lower than expected. 3, or below an acceptable standard (ANT: high): a low grade in math | a low opinion of his work 4 if a supply is low, you have used almost all of it: We’re running/ getting low on gas. 5 unhappy: I’ve been feeling pretty low since he left.

low·ly /ˈloʊli/ adv (disapproving) low, you have used almost all of it: We’re running/ getting low on gas. 5 unhappy: I’ve been feeling pretty low since he left.

SYN lower

low·er /ˈloʊər/ adj 1 not high, or not far above the ground (ANT: high): The helicopters seemed to be flying very low.

low·ly /ˈloʊli/ adv (disapproving) low, you have used almost all of it: We’re running/ getting low on gas. 5 unhappy: I’ve been feeling pretty low since he left.

low·er·case /ˈloʊərˌkeɪs/ n [U] letters written in their small form, such as a b, c, etc. (ANT: upper-case) lower·class n the lower class SOCIAL SCIENCE the group of people in society who have less money, power, or education than anyone else.

lower·class adj: a lower-class family lower·court n [C] LAW any court whose decisions can be considered and changed by a higher court (ANT: inferior court ➔ superior court lowest common de·nominator n [C,U] MATH the smallest number that the denominators (=bottom numbers) of a group of fractions can be divided into exactly low·fat adj low-fat food has very little fat: low-fat milk | a low-fat diet low·key adj not intended to attract a lot of attention: The reception was very low-key.

low·lands /ˈloʊəlændz/ n [plural] EARTH SCIENCES an area of land that is lower than the land around it: highlands: the Bolivian lowlands — lowland adj: (only before noun): a tropical lowland rainforest — lowlander n. [C] low·life n [C] (informal) someone who is involved in crime or who is bad —low-life adj low·ly /ˈloʊli/ adj in rank or importance low·lying adj 1 low-lying land is not much higher than the level of the ocean 2 not very high: low-lying fog low·pressure n [U] EARTH SCIENCES a large area in the sky where there is low air pressure, which usually causes wet weather low·tide n [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES the time when the ocean is at its lowest level (ANT: high tide ➔ see picture at tide)

loyal /ˈlɔɪəl/ adj always supporting a particular person, set of beliefs, or country (ANT: disloyal): a loyal friend | The army has remained loyal to the government. (ORIGIN: 1300–1600 Old French leial, from Latin legalis, from lex “law”) loyal·ist /ˈlɔɪəlist/ n [C] 1 someone who continues to support a government or country when a lot of people want to change it; 2 loyalist HISTORY an American who supported the British during the Revolutionary War loyal·ity /ˈlɔɪələti/ n (plural loyalties) 1 [U] the quality of being loyal to a particular person, set of beliefs, or country: The company demands loyalty from its workers. 2 [C usually plural] a feeling of wanting to help and encourage someone or something: political loyalties

loz·enge /ˈloʊzəndʒ/ n. [C] a small candy that has medicine in it

LSAT /ˈlæt/ n. [C] (trademark) Law School Admission Test an examination taken by students who have completed a first degree and want to go to law school.

LSD n. [U] an illegal drug that makes people have hallucinations.

lube /luːb/ v. [T] (informal) to lubricate the parts of a car’s engine.

lu-bri-cant /luˈbri,kænt/ n. [C/U] a substance such as oil that is used on things that rub together, making them move more smoothly and easily.

lu-cid /ˈluːsɪd/ adj. 1 clearly expressed and easy to understand: a lucid speech. 2 able to think clearly and understand what is happening around you: He was rarely lucid during his long illness.

lucky /ˈlʌki/ adj. /lukˈki/ adv. /lukˈki/ n. [U] 1 success or something good that happens by chance: Have you had any luck finding a new roommate? | Wish me luck! | Good luck with your interview!

USAGE

You can use have with luck only when luck has something before it such as “bad,” “good,” or “any.” He’s had a lot of bad luck recently. Or you can use be with lucky. She’s lucky to be alive. You cannot say you “have luck to do something.”

2 the way in which good or bad things happen to people by chance: I’ve had nothing but good/had luck since moving here. 3 be in luck/be out of luck to get or not get something that you want: You’re in luck – there’s one ticket left! 4 just my luck (spoken) said when you are disappointed but not surprised that something bad has happened: Just my luck! The guys just left. 5 better luck next time (spoken) said when you hope that someone will be more successful the next time s/he tries to do something: [Origin: 1400–1500 Middle Dutch luk] → tough/tough luck at tough tough

luck2 v. luck out abbr. v. (informal) to be lucky: I lucked out and got an A.

lucky /ˈlʌki/ adj. (comparative luckier, superlative luckiest) 1 having good luck: not unlucky: He’s lucky to be alive. | “I just got the last bus.” “That was lucky!” | see USAGE box at luck fortunate lucky; It was fortunate that no one was injured in the accident. I a fortunate coincidence fortutous (formal) lucky and happening by chance: He made a fortutous discovery. miraculous extremely lucky, especially because you would never have expected something bad to happen to you: The woman had a miraculous escape after her car overturned on the freeway. auspicious (formal) an auspicious moment or start makes people feel hopeful that good things will happen: The candidate could not have hoped for a more auspicious start to an election campaign.

USAGE

2 bringing good luck: 7 is my lucky number. —luckily adv.: Luckily, no one was hurt.

lu-cra-tive /ˈluːkrətɪv/ adj. (formal) making you earn a lot of money: lucrative business deals.

ludicrous /ˈluːdɪkruːs/ adj. silly, wrong, and unreasonable (syn) ridiculous [Origin: 1600–1700 Latin ludicus “playful,” from ludus “play”].

lug /luːg/ v. (lugged, lugging) [T] (informal) to pull or carry something that is very heavy: We lugged our suitcases up to our room.

THESAURUS

carry, tote, cart, haul, schlep lug-gage /ˈluːɡɪdʒ/ n. [U] the bags, etc. carried by people who are traveling (syn) baggage: We had lost our luggage.

GRAMMAR

Luggage does not have a plural form. You can say some luggage, any luggage, or a piece of luggage: Do you have any more luggage?

lu-gu-ri-ous /luːˈɡɜːriəs/ adj. (literary) very sad and serious.

luk-e-warm /ˈluːkəwɔːrn/ adj. a liquid that is lukewarm is only slightly warm → HOT 2 not showing very much interest or excitement: His idea got only a lukewarm response from the committee.

luky /ˈlʌki/ v. [T] 1 to make someone feel calm or sleepy: Singing softly, she lulled us to sleep. 2 to make someone feel so safe and confident that you can easily deceive him/her: She was lulled into believing that there was no danger.

lull /ˈlʊl/ n. [C] a short period when there is less activity or noise than usual: a lull in the conversation.

lul-la-by /ˈluːləˌbeɪ/ n. (plural lullabies) [C] a song that you sing to children in order to make them calm and sleepy [Origin: 1500–1600 from lulu, a sound used to make a child sleepy + by (as-vby-bvo)].

numb-er /ˈnʌmbər/ n. [U] trees that are cut down and used as wood for building.

num-berr /ˈnʌmbər/ v. [I] to move in a slow awkward way, usually because you are heavy.

num-berr-jack /ˈnʌmbərˌdʒæk/ n. [C] someone whose job it is to cut down trees for wood.

num-ber-nary /ˈnʌmbərˌnəri/ n. (plural luminaries) [C] someone who is famous and respected because of his/her knowledge or skills.
luminous

lu-mi-nous /luˈmənəs/ adj. able to shine in the dark without being lit: luminous paint

lump1 /lʌmp/ n. 1 [C] a small piece of something solid that does not have a definite shape: a lump of clay

2 [C] a hard swollen area on someone’s skin or in his/her body. 3 a lump in your throat the tight feeling in your throat that happens when you want to cry lump2 v. [T] to put two or more different people or things together and consider them as a single group: Do you think I can lump these ideas into one paragraph?

lump'sum n. [C] an amount of money given in a single payment lumpy /ˈlʌmpi/ adj. (comparative lumpier; superlative lumpiest) having lumps and therefore not smooth: a lumpy mattress lu-na-cy /ˈluːnəsi/ n. [U] actions or behavior that seem very stupid and unreasonable lu-nar /ˈluːnər/ adj. relating to the moon: a lunar eclipse lu-na-tic /ˈluːnətɪk/ n. [C] someone who behaves in a crazy, stupid, or very strange way [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French lunatique, from Late Latin lunaticus, from Latin luna “moon;” because people thought mental illness was caused by the moon] — lunatic adj.

lunch /lʌntʃ/ n. [C,U] a meal eaten in the middle of the day, or that time of day: What do you want for lunch?  |  When do you usually eat lunch?  |  We've already had lunch.  |  I'll see you at lunch.  |  school lunches for children [Origin: 1800–1900 lunchen]

COLLOCATIONS

have/eat lunch  |  to eat a particular food for lunch
go out for lunch  |  to go to eat lunch in a restaurant take sb out to lunch  |  to take someone to a restaurant for lunch and pay the bill be at lunch  |  to not be working because you are having lunch break for lunch  |  to stop working in order to eat lunch
(brown) bag lunch  |  (also) sack lunch  |  food, for example a sandwich, that you take to work or school for meal

lunch·eon /ˈlʌntʃən/ n. [C,U] (formal) lunch

lunch·time /ˈlʌntʃtaɪm/ n. [C,U] the time in the middle of the day when people usually eat lunch: Is it lunchtime yet?  |  I usually go for a walk at lunchtime.

lunch /lʌŋ/ n. [C] biology one of two organs in your body that you use for breathing [Origin: Old English] lunge /lʌŋg/ v. [I] to make a sudden forceful movement toward someone or something: She suddenly lunged at me. — lunge n. [C] lunch1 /ˈlʌntʃ/ v. [I] to walk or move in an unsteady or uncontrolled way lunch2 n. 1 [C] a sudden movement. 2 leave sb in the lunch to leave someone at a time when you should stay and help him/her lure /lʊər/ v. [T] to persuade someone to do something by making it seem attractive, exciting, etc.: Another company tried to lure him over by offering more money.

lure2 n. 1 [C usually singular, U] something that attracts people, or the quality of being able to do this: the lure of power and money 2 [C] an object used in order to attract animals or fish so that they can be caught lu·rid /ˈluːrid/ adj. (disapproving) a description, story, etc. that is lurid is deliberately shocking and involves sex or violence: the lurid details of the murder [Origin: 1600–1700 Latin luridus “pale yellow,” from luna “pale yellow”] lurk /lɜrk/ v. [I] 1 to wait somewhere secretly, usually before doing something bad: men lurking in the alley 2 if you lurk in a chat room on the Internet, you read what other people are writing to each other, but you do not write any messages yourself lus·cious /ˈluːʃəs/ adj. extremely good to eat: luscious ripe strawberries [Origin: 1300–1400 licentious (14–17 centuries), from delicious] lush1 /lʊʃ/ adj. having lots of very green and healthy plants or leaves: New Zealand is a country of lush green hills.

lushy /‘lusti/ adj (informal) someone who drinks too much alcohol lust /lust/ n. [C] a very strong feeling of sexual desire, or a strong desire for something such as power or money: his lust for power lust for/after sb/sth n. phr. v. 1 to have a strong feeling of sexual desire for someone 2 to want something very much, especially something you do not really need: Ever since I can remember, I’ve lusted for a Chevrolet Corvette.

lustily /‘lösti/ adv

lust·y /‘lusti/ adj (literary) strong and healthy (syn powerful): the lusty cry of a newborn baby —lustily adv

Lu·ther·an /‘luthərən/ adj. relating to the Protestant church that follows the ideas of Martin Luther —Lutheran n. [C] lux·u·ri·ant /‘lʊskjuərənt/ adj. healthy and growing thickly and strongly lux·u·ri·ate /‘lʊskjuərət/ v. luxuriate in in phr. v. to relax and enjoy the pleasure you feel: She luxuriated in the hot bath.

lux·u·ri·ous /‘lʊskjuərəs, lʊ‘skjuərəs/ adj. very comfortable, beautiful, and expensive: a luxurious hotel lux·u·rious /‘lʊskjuərəs/ adj. from Latin luxuria “very great comfort and pleasure that one gets from expenses and luxuries”

Ly·cra /‘laɪkrə/ n. [sing, C] a stretchy fabric that is used especially for making tight-fitting sports clothes

Ly·ric /‘laɪrɪk/ adj. (literary) strange, frightening, and relating to death or injury: a macabre tale | macabre humor

Mac·a·bra·tivism /‘mækəbrətɪvɪzəm/ n. [C] a sweet white nut that grows on a tropical tree, or the tree that produces this nut

Mac·a·ca·bo·ma·chili·a /ˌmækəˈkæboʊmaˌkiliə/ n. [C] a chemical that makes your eyes and skin sting painfully, which some people carry to defend themselves

Mac·a·ca·bo·mas·sa /ˌmækəˈkæbəməˈsɑː/ n. [C] a large knife with a broad heavy blade, used as a tool for cutting or as a weapon

Mac·a·ca·bo·mas·sa /ˌmækəˈkæbəməˈsɑː/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that uses power such as electricity to do a machine

particular job: a washing/sewing machine | Just hit that button to stop the machine. I left a message on her machine (answering machine).

thesaurus

appliance – a machine that is used in the home: kitchen appliances such as refrigerators device – a piece of equipment that is usually small and usually electronic, that does a special job: A seismograph is a device that measures earthquake activity gadget – a small piece of equipment that makes a particular job easier to do: a new gadget for opening wine bottles mechanism – a part of a machine that does a particular job: a car’s steering mechanism contraption – a piece of equipment that looks strange: What does that contraption do?

2 If a computer: My machine just crashed again. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French, Latin machina, from Greek mechna, from mechos “way of doing things”] machine v. [T] to make or shape something, especially metal parts, using a machine machine gun n. [C] a gun that fires a lot of bullets very quickly machine-readable adj. if able to be understood and used by a computer: machine-readable text machine-ery /ˈmāʃnərē/ n. [U] 1 machines, especially large ones: farm machinery | You shouldn’t drive or operate heavy machinery while taking this medication. 2 the parts inside a machine that make it work 3 an official system or set of processes for organizing or achieving something: The machinery of the law works slowly.

machine-ist /māˈʃnəst/ n. [C] someone who operates or makes machines macho /ˈmætʃou/ adj. (informal) a man who is macho has qualities such as strength that are typical of men, but is not sensitive or sympathetic [Origin: 1900—2000 Spanish “male,” from Latin mascu- lus]

mackerel /ˈmekərəl/ n. [C/U] a common sea fish that has a strong odor, or the meat from this fish

mackerel /ˈmekərəl/ n. [C/U] a common sea fish that has a strong odor, or the meat from this fish

mackerel /ˈmekərəl/ n. [C/U] a common sea fish that has a strong odor, or the meat from this fish

mackerel /ˈmekərəl/ n. [C/U] a common sea fish that has a strong odor, or the meat from this fish

madder /ˈmædəd/ adj. (comparative madder, superlative maddest) 1 (informal) angry: Are you still mad at me? | You make me so mad! | Lucy got mad and told us all to leave.

thesaurus

angry, annoyed, irritated, livid, furious, indignant, irate, outraged, resentful | angry

2 do sth like mad (informal) to do something as quickly as you can: Carlos was writing like mad at the end of the exam. 3 behaving in a wild uncontrolled way, without thinking about what you are doing: We made a mad dash for (=ran wildly toward) the door. 4 power-mad/money-mad etc. only thinking about power, money, etc.: a power-mad dictator [Origin: Old English gemæd]

mad-am /ˈmædəm/ n. 1 Dear Madam used at the beginning of a business letter to a woman whose name you do not know 2 Madam President/Ambassador etc. used to address a woman who has an important official position 3 a woman who is in charge of a brothel. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French ma dame “my lady”]

mad-den-ing /ˈmædənɪŋ, ˈmædənɪŋ/ adj. very annoying: maddening behavior

made /ˈmɛrd/ v. 1 the past tense and past participle of make 2 be made of sth to be produced from a particular substance or material: The frame is made of silver.

made /ˈmɛrd/ v. 1 the past tense and past participle of make 2 be made of sth to be produced from a particular substance or material: The frame is made of silver.

3 be made for each other (informal) to be completely suitable for each other, especially as husband and wife: I think Anna and Juan were made for each other. 4 sb has (got) it made (informal) to have everything that you need for a happy life or to be successful mad-house /ˈmædhaus/ n. [C] a place that is very busy and noisy

mad-ly /ˈmædli/ adv. 1 madly in love (with sb) very much in love 2 in a wild uncontrolled way: Shoppers were rushing madly through the store.

mad-man /ˈmædˌmæn, ˈmædˌmæn/ n. [C] a place that is very busy and noisy

mad-ly /ˈmædli/ adv. 1 madly in love (with sb) very much in love 2 in a wild uncontrolled way: Shoppers were rushing madly through the store.

mad-money /ˈmædmʌn/ n. [U] very stupid and often dangerous: It’s madness to spend that kind of money on a car.

Madonna /ˈmædənə/ n. 1 the Madonna Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ in the Christian religion. 2 [C] a picture or figure of the Madonna mad-som /ˈmæ兹mən/ n. [C] (literary) a situation full of events that you cannot control or strong emotions that make people feel confused or frightened maestro /ˈmæstrə/ n. (plural maestros) [C] someone who can do something very well, especially a musician

Mafia /ˈmæfə/ n. the Mafia a large organization of criminals who control many illegal activities mag·a·zine /ma'gəzən/ n. [C] 1 a large thin book with a paper cover, that contains news stories, articles, photographs, etc. and is sold weekly or monthly: a fashion/computer/news magazine | He subscribes to several magazines. 2 a magazine article 2 the part of a gun that holds the bullets [Origin: 1500—1600 Early French, “building where things are stored,” from Old Provençal, from Arabic makhzin, plural of makizin “storehouse”] ma·gen·ta /ma'jeŋtə/ adj. 1 a dark purple-red color [Origin: 1800—1900 Magenta, town in Italy where the substance the color is made from was discovered] —magenta adj.

mag·got /'mæɡtɑt/ n. [C] the larva (young insect) of a fly, that lives in decaying food or flesh mag·ic /'mædʒɪk/ n. 1 a special power that makes strange or impossible things happen: Do you believe in magic?

THE THESAURUS

witchcraft - the use of magic, usually to do bad things: Hundreds of women were accused of witchcraft in the 1600s.

sorcery - magic, especially evil magic: In the 18th and 19th centuries, missionaries sometimes suspected Native Americans of sorcery.

black magic - magic that is believed to use the power of the Devil for evil purposes: tales of black magic and adventure spell - a piece of magic that someone does, or the special words or ceremonies used in making it happen: An evil witch cast a spell on him, turning him into a beast.

curse - magic words that bring someone bad luck: People believed the pharaoh would put a curse on anyone who broke into the tomb.

the occult - the knowledge and study of magic and spirits: stories that deal with the occult voodoo - magical beliefs and practices used as a form of religion, especially in parts of Africa, Latin America, and the Caribbean: Folks say she’s worked a voodoo spell on him.

2 the skill of doing tricks that look like magic, or the tricks themselves 3 an attractive quality that makes someone or something interesting or exciting: Christmas has lost some of its magic for me over the years. [Origin: 1300—1400 French magique, from Latin magicus, from Greek magos “person with magic powers”] mag·ic·al /'mædʒɪkəl/ adj. [only before noun] 1 a magic word or object has special powers that make strange or impossible things happen: a magic sword | a book of magic spells 2 relating to the skill of doing tricks that look like magic: He performed some magic tricks to keep us amused.

mag·ic·al·ly /ˌmædʒɪkəlI/ adv. 1 very enjoyable and exciting, in a strange or special way: a magical evening beneath the stars 2 containing magic, or done using magic: magical powers —magically adv.

ma·gi·cian /'mɑdʒɪʃən/ n. [C] someone who entertains people by doing magic tricks

Magic Marker n. [C.U.] (trademark) a large pen with a thick soft point mag·is·trate /'mædʒəstrit/ n. (C) someone who judges less serious crimes in a court of law [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin magistratus, from magister “master”] mag·ma /'mæɡmə/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES hot melted rock below the surface of the Earth → see picture at VOLCANO

Mag·na·Carta /ˌmæɡnəˈkɑːtə/ n. a document, signed by King John of England in 1215, which established the rights of NOBLES, the church, and free citizens and limited the power of the king mag·nan·i·mity /'mæɡnənəˈmɪti/ n. 1 a quality that someone has that makes other people feel strongly attracted to him/her mag·net·ism /ˈmæɡnɪtɪzəm/ n. 1 PHYSICS a piece of iron or steel that can make other metal objects move toward it: 2 a person or place that attracts many other people or things: The city has become a magnet for many new industries. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French magnet, from Latin magnes, from Greek magnes (lithos) “(stone) of Magnesia,” ancient city in Turkey] mag·net·ic /ˈmæɡnətɪk/ adj. 1 PHYSICS having the power of a magnet: The compass needle points to the magnetic North Pole. 2 magnetic tape/ disk etc. if a special tape, etc. that contains electronic information which can be read by a computer or other machine 3 magnetic personality a quality that someone has that makes other people feel strongly attracted to him/her mag·net·ic·field /ˈmæɡnətɪkˈfɪld/ n. [C] PHYSICS an area around an object that has magnetic power: the Earth’s magnetic field mag·net·ic·ism /ˈmæɡnətɪkɪzəm/ n. [U] 1 a quality that makes other people feel attracted to you: Raul’s natural magnetism 2 PHYSICS the power that a magnet has to attract things mag·net·ize /ˈmæɡnətɪz/ v. [T] PHYSICS to make iron or steel able to pull other pieces of metal toward itself mag·nific·en·cy /ˌmæɡnɪfɪˈsænti/ n. 1 very impressive because of being big, beautiful, etc.: The view was magnificent. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin magnificus “very impressive, excellent,” from magnus “great”] —magnificence n. [U] magnify

magnify /ˈmægnəˌfaɪ/ v. [T] (magnified, magnifies) 1 to make something appear larger than it is: A microscope magnifies the image so you can see the cells. 2 to make something seem more important or worse than it really is: The reports tend to magnify the risks involved.

magnifying glass n. [C] a round piece of glass with a handle, that magnifies things when you look through it ➔ see picture at MAGNIFY magnifying glass /ˈmægnəˌfaɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 how large or important something is: I hadn’t realized the magnitude of the problem. 2 EARTH SCIENCES how strong an EARTHQUAKE is 3 PHYSICS how bright a star is magnolia /ˌmægˈnɒliə/ n. [C] a tree or a bush with large white, yellow, pink, or purple sweet-smelling flowers magnify /ˈmægnɪˌfaɪ/ v. [T] to send a letter, package, etc. to someone: I’ll mail it to you tomorrow. 2 it to send a document to someone using a computer ➔ email: Can you mail it to me as an attachment?

mail /meɪl/ n. 1 a box, usually outside a house, where someone’s letters are delivered or collected 2 a special box outdoors or at a POST OFFICE, where you mail letters 3 if the part of a computer’s memory where email messages are stored mailing list n. [C] a list of people’s names and addresses that a company keeps in order to send information or advertisements to them: We have more than 1,000 names on our mailing list mailman /ˈmeɪlmæn/ n. [plural mailmen /-men, -mons] [C] a man who delivers mail to people’s houses mail order n. [U] a method of buying and selling in which you buy goods from a company that sends them by mail: a mail order catalog main /meɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to injure someone very seriously and often permanently: The accident maimed her for life.

main /meɪn/ adj [only before noun] 1 bigger or more important than all other things, ideas, etc. of the same kind: Let’s meet by the main entrance. | My main goal is to compete in the Olympics. | He left the job because of money—at least that was the main reason. 2 the main thing (slogan) used in order to say what the most important thing is in a situation: As long as you’re not hurt, that’s the main thing main /meɪn/ n. [C] a large pipe carrying water or gas, that is connected to people’s houses by smaller pipes: a frozen water main main clause n. [C] ENG, LANG, ARTS a clause that can form a sentence on its own ➔ independent clause mainframe /ˈmeɪnmfrɔm/ n. [C] if a large computer that can work very fast and that a lot of people can use at the same time mainland /ˈmeɪnlænd, -lænd/ n the mainland EARTH SCIENCES the main area of land that forms a country, as compared to islands near it that are also part of that country ➔ mainland adj.: mainland China mainly /ˈmeɪnli/ adv used in order to mention the main part or cause of something, the main reason for something, etc.: Students in our program are mainly from Asia. | Their diet consists mainly of rice and beans. | I don’t go out much, mainly because I have to look after the kids.

The school is in a largely black neighborhood. From the beginning, James has focused on making dinner. I'm making dinner. She made the curtains herself.

The Green Party is still outside the mainstream in British and American politics. The overwhelming majority of the population are against global warming. Fewer students choose economics majors in college, from Latin majoris, "large, great." Better controlled must be maintained close ties. Strong controls must be maintained over important wildlife habitats.

I've always been depressed. When they broke up, he was majorly depressed. The Green Party is still outside the mainstream in British and American politics. The overwhelming majority of the population are against global warming. Fewer students choose economics majors in college, from Latin majoris, "large, great."

When they broke up, he was majorly depressed.

The Green Party is still outside the mainstream in British and American politics. The overwhelming majority of the population are against global warming. Fewer students choose economics majors in college, from Latin majoris, "large, great."

When they broke up, he was majorly depressed.

The Green Party is still outside the mainstream in British and American politics. The overwhelming majority of the population are against global warming. Fewer students choose economics majors in college, from Latin majoris, "large, great."

When they broke up, he was majorly depressed.

The Green Party is still outside the mainstream in British and American politics. The overwhelming majority of the population are against global warming. Fewer students choose economics majors in college, from Latin majoris, "large, great."

When they broke up, he was majorly depressed.
make

manufacture – to make things in large quantities in factories: The vast majority of American consumer goods are manufactured in China.

build – to make a house, tunnel, bridge, etc.: John and his father built the cabin themselves.

construct – to make something, especially something large, solid, and strong, by putting parts together: The roof frames were constructed from thick, heavy timbers.

create – to make something new and original in art, music, fashion, etc.: Picasso created a completely new style of painting.

generate – to produce electricity or power: The building uses solar panels to generate electricity.

2 DO STH [T] used before some nouns to show that someone does the action of the noun: Maybe they made a mistake. [We’ve] finally made a decision. Do you want to make an appointment with the doctor?

3 CAUSE [T] to cause a particular state or situation to happen: Thanks for listening – you’ve really made me feel better. [

That button makes the machine stop. What made you decide to become a lawyer? ❍ Don’t say “What made you to decide to become a lawyer?” ❍

4 FORCE [T] to force someone to do something: Mom, make Billy stop it! I wasn’t hungry, but I made myself eat something.

THE SAURUS

cause, bring about sth, result in sth, trigger, prompt ➔ CAUSE

4 FORCE [T] to force someone to do something: Mom, make Billy stop it! I wasn’t hungry, but I made myself eat something.

THE SAURUS

force, coerce, compel, impel, pressure ➔ FORCE

5 EARN MONEY [T] to earn or get money: He’s working Saturdays to make some extra money.

THE SAURUS

earn, get, be/get paid ➔ EARN

6 NUMBER [linking verb] math to be a particular number or amount when added together: 2 and 2 make 4. If you include us, that makes eight people for dinner.

7 make time (for sb/sth) to leave enough time to do something: She always makes time for exercise.

8 BE SUITABLE [linking verb] to have the qualities that are necessary for a particular job, use, or purpose: John will make a good father. [Sonia’s life would make a good movie.*

9 make a difference to cause a change, especially one that improves a situation: Having a car has made a big difference in our lives.

10 make it a) to arrive somewhere: We just made it to the hospital before the baby arrived. b) to be able to go to an event, meeting, etc.: I’m sorry I can’t make it to your play. c) to be successful in a particular business or activity: He’s made it big (=has been very successful) in Hollywood. d) to live after a serious illness or injury, or to deal with a very difficult situation: Mom made it through the operation all right.

11 make the bed to pull the sheets and BLANKETS over a bed to make it look neat when you are not sleeping in it

12 that makes two of us (spoken) used in order to say that you feel the same way that someone else does: “I’m so tired!” “Yeah, that makes two of us.”

13 make or break to cause either great success or failure: The first year can make or break a new business.

14 make do to manage to do something using the things you already have, even though they are not exactly what you want: We’ll have to make do with a quick sandwich.

15 make believe to pretend that something is true, especially as a game: [Origin: Old English macian ➔ be made for | make a difference | make all the difference at DIFFERENCE, make love at LOVE, make sense at SENSE, make the best of at BEST, make friends (with sb) at FRIEND, make up your mind at MIND]

make for sth phr. v.

1 to go toward a place: We made for the exit.

2 to have a particular result or effect: It should make for an interesting evening. [Origin: Old English macian ➔ be made for] make sth ↔ into sth phr. v. to change something into something else: We can make your room into a study.

make sth of sb/sth phr. v.

1 to have a particular opinion about someone or something, or a particular way of understanding something: I really don’t know what to make of him.

2 make the most of sth to use an opportunity in a way that gives you as much advantage as possible: I want to make the most of the time I have left in Europe.

3 make too much of sth to treat a situation as if it is more important than it really is: He doesn’t like to make too much of his birthday. ➔ make a fool of yourself at FOOL make off with *sth phr. v. to steal something: They made off with our TV.

make out phr. v.

1 make (sth ↔) out to be able to hear, see, or understand something: I can’t make out what the sign says.

2 make a check out to sb to write a check so that the money is paid to a particular person, company, store, etc.

3 make out (that) (informal) to say that something is true when it is not: The situation was never as bad as the media made out.

4 how did sb make out . . .? (spoken) used in order to ask if someone did something well: “How did you make out in the interview?” “I think it went well.”

5 (spoken) to kiss and touch someone in a sexual way make up phr. v.
1 make (sth ↔) up to invent a story, explanation, etc. in order to deceive someone: Ron made up an excuse so his mother wouldn’t be mad.
2 make (sth ↔) up to produce a new story, song, game, etc.: “What are you singing?” “I don’t know— I just made it up.”
3 make up sth to combine together to form a substance, group, system, etc.: the rocks and minerals that make up the Earth’s outer layer | Women make up 60% of our employees.
4 make up sth to add to an amount in order to bring it up to the level that is needed: We’re going to have to charge more to make up the difference.
5 make (sth ↔) up to work at times when you do not usually work because you have not done enough work at some other time: I have to leave early, but I’ll make up the time/work tomorrow.
6 make (sb ↔) up to put makeup on someone’s face in order to make him/her look better or different: They made him up to look like an old man.
7 make it up to sb to do something good for someone because you feel responsible for something bad that happened to him/her: I’m sorry I forgot! I promise I’ll make it up to you.
8 make up to become friends with someone again, after you have had an argument: Have you two made up?

make up for at or responsible for making decisions, stopping arguments, etc. in order to deceive someone: made up for temporary use when you need something and there is nothing better available: a makeshift table made from boxes makeup n.

1 [C] a product made by a particular company: “What make is your car?” “It’s a Chevy.”
2 [U] substances such as powder, creams, and lipstick that some people, usually women or actors, put on their faces: I waited for Ginny to put on her makeup.

mal-adj.
1 failing; not usual, but imaginary: the making of the movie.
2 in the making in the process of being made or produced: The deal was 11 months in the making.
3 have the makings of sth to have the qualities or skills needed to become a particular type of person or thing: Sandy has the makings of a good doctor.

male n.
1 [C] a product made by a particular company: “What make is your car?” “It’s a Chevy.”
2 [U] substances such as powder, creams, and lipstick that some people, usually women or actors, put on their faces: I waited for Ginny to put on her makeup.
2 [singular] all the parts, members, or qualities that make up something: We haven’t yet been told what the makeup of the new government will be (who the members will be).

malign v.
1 [trans.] the process or business of making something: He wrote a book about the making of the movie.
2 in the making in the process of being made or produced: The deal was 11 months in the making.
3 have the makings of sth to have the qualities or skills needed to become a particular type of person or thing: Sandy has the makings of a good doctor.
malignant

mal·ig·nant /məˈlɪɡənt/ adj. BIOLOGY a malignant TUMOR (=a group of growing cells) contains CANCER and may kill someone [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin, present participle of malignari, from Latin malignus, from male “badly” + gignī “to be born”] —malignancy n. [U]

mall /mɔ:l/ n. [C] a very large building with a lot of stores in it [VOX SHOPPING MALL] ➔ STRIP MALL: Suzy’s at the mall. | Do you want to go to the mall? [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 mall “long path used for playing a game called "pall-mall"” (17—19 centuries)]

mal·lard /ˈmælərd/ n. [C] a type of common wild duck mal·le·a·ble /mælˈliəbəl/ adj. 1 something that is malleable is easy to press, pull, or bend into a new shape: a malleable metal 2 (formal) someone who is malleable is easily influenced or changed by people mal·let /ˈmælət/ n. [C] a wooden hammer mal-nour·ished /mælˈnɔːrɪʃt/ adj. sick or weak because of not eating enough food, or because of not eating good food mal·nu·tri·tion /ˌmælnəˈtʃən/ n. [U] illness or weakness as a result of being malnourished mal·prac·tice /ˌmælˈpræksɪs/ n. [U] LAW the act of failing to do a professional duty, or of making a mistake while doing it malt /mɔlt/ n. 1 [C] a drink made from milk, malt powder, ice cream, and something such as chocolate 2 [U] grain, usually barley, that is used for making beer, whiskey, etc.

mal·ted /ˈmæltid/ also malted milk n. [C] a malt drink mal·treat /ˈmætlrit/ v. [T] (formal) to treat an animal or person cruelly ➔ maitreatment n. [U] ma·ma /ˈmæmə/ n. [C] (informal) a mother [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 From the sounds made by a baby] ma·ma’s boy n. [C] (informal, disapproving) a boy or man that people think is weak because his mother is too protective of him mam·mal /ˈmæməl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the group of animals, including humans, that drink milk from their mother’s breasts when they are young [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Late Latin mamma- “of the breast,” from Latin mamma “breast”] mam·ma·ry gland /ˈmæmrə ri ˈɡlænd/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of a woman’s breast that produces milk, or a similar part of a female animal mam·mo·gram /ˈmæməˌɡræm/ n. [C] an X-RAY picture of a woman’s breast mam·moth /ˈmæməθ/ adj. very large: Replacing the bridge will be a mammoth construction project man /mæn/ n. (plural men /mɛn/) 1 MALE [C] an adult male human ➔ WOMAN: Carl is a really nice man. | A group of middle-aged men came into the restaurant.

THE SAURUS

guy (informal) — a man: He’s such a great guy. | One of the guys at work is from Mexico.
gentleman — a polite word for a man, often used in formal situations: Good evening, ladies and gentlemen.
fellow (old-fashioned) — a man: a nice young fellow boy — a young male person, usually a child or a teenager: I took the boys swimming. | a teenage boy | The gang, including a boy of 10, had all been at the party.
youth — a teenage boy or young man: He teaches at a school for troubled youths in San Diego.

male (formal) — a man, used especially by researchers or the police: The suspect is a young white male ➔ WOMAN

2 STRONG/BRAVE [C] usually singular a man who has the qualities that people think a man should have, such as being brave, strong, etc.: If someone has something to say, be a man and speak up.

3 ALL PEOPLE [U] all people, both male and female, considered as a group: This is one of the worst diseases known to man.

4 PERSON [C] (old-fashioned) a person, either male or female: All men are equal in the eyes of the law.

THE SAURUS

Man can mean “people in general”: Man has always tried to understand the stars.

Mankind means “all people, considered as a group”: the darkest time in the history of mankind Some people think that using man and mankind in this way seems to not include women. To avoid this problem, you can use people to mean “people in general” and humankind instead of mankind: People have always tried to understand the stars. | the darkest time in the history of humankind

5 WORKER [C] a man who does a job for you, usually repairing something: The telephone man is supposed to come this morning.

6 SOLDIER [C] usually plural a soldier, SAILOR, police officer, etc. who has a low rank: General Lee ordered his men to retreat.

7 WHAT SB LIKES [C] used in order to say that a man likes, or likes doing, a particular thing: a gambling man | He’s a meat and potatoes man (=likes eating plain traditional food).

8 GAMES [C] one of the pieces you use in a game such as CHESS

9 man and wife (formal) to be or become married: I now pronounce you man and wife (=you are now officially married).

SPOKEN PHRASES

10 [C] used in order to speak to someone, especially an adult male: Hey, man! How’re you doing?
11 my man said by some men when talking to a male friend

[Origin: Old English]

man v (manned, manning) [T] to use or operate a vehicle, piece of equipment, etc.: the astronauts who manned the first spacecraft → MANNED manage v [interjection] used in order to emphasize what you are saying: Oh man! I’m going to be really late.

manageable adj stages.

management /manaˈdʒmənt/ n [U] the act or process of controlling and organizing the work of a company or organization and the people who work for it: He studied Business Management. 2 [singular, U] the people who are in charge of controlling and organizing a company or organization: The management has agreed to talk with our union. | a member of the senior management team

manager /ˈmeɪndʒər/ n [C] someone who directs the work of something such as a business, organization, department, etc.: That meal was terrible – I want to speak to the manager! | the manager of the store | the general/sales/marketing etc. manager

man-a-ge-rial /ˈmeɪndʒərəl/ adj relating to the job of being a manager: good managerial skills

Man-darin /ˈmændərɪn/ n [U] the official language of China

man-date /ˈmændət/ n [C] (formal) an official order given to a person or organization to do something 2 [C] POLITICS the right or power that a government has to do something, which it has after winning an election or vote: The governor was elected with a clear mandate to raise taxes. 3 [C] U POLITICS the power given to one country to govern another country, or the country that is being governed: Lebanon became a French mandate after World War I. → MANDATE v [T]

man-da-to-ry /ˈmændətərɪ/ adj something that is mandatory must be done: mandatory safety inspections mandate /ˈmændət/ n [C] the long hair on the back of a horse’s neck, or around the face and neck of a male lion maneuver /ˈmeɪnjuːvər/ n [C] a skillful movement or carefully planned action, especially to avoid something or go around it: basic skiing maneuvers 2 maneuvers [plural] a military exercise like a battle, used for training soldiers maneuver v [I,T] to move or turn skillfully, or to move or turn something skillfully: It was hard to maneuver the piano through the door.

maneuver-able /ˈmeɪnjuːvərəbəl/ adj easy to move or turn man-ger /ˈmeɪndʒər/ n [C] a long open container that horses, cows, etc. eat from man-gle /ˈmæŋɡl/ v [T] to damage something badly by crushing or twisting it: The car was badly mangled in the accident.

man-go /ˈmæŋɡoʊ/ n [C] (plural mangoes or mangos) a sweet juicy tropical fruit with a large seed [Origin: 1500—1600 Portuguese manga, from Tamil man-kay] → see picture on page 414

man-grove /ˈmæŋɡroʊv/ n [C] a tropical tree that grows in or near water and grows new roots from its branches man-y /ˈmeɪni/ adj looking old, dirty, and in bad condition man-age-ment /ˈmeɪndʒəmənt/ n [U] the qualities that people think a man should have: He felt the need to prove his manhood. 2 (formal) the state of being a man rather than a boy man-hunt /ˈmænhaʊnt/ n [C] an organized search, usually for a criminal man-i-a /ˈmæniə/ n [C,U] 1 a very strong desire for or interest in something, especially among a lot of people 2 a type of mental illness in which someone is extremely excited and active man-iac /ˈmæniək/ n [C] (unformal) 1 someone who is not responsible and behaves in a stupid or dangerous way: He drives like a maniac. 2 someone who is considered strange because he/she is too involved or interested in something: a sex maniac man-i-cal /ˈmæni kal/ adj behaving as if you are crazy: manic laughter man-ic /ˈmænik/ adj behaving in a very excited and often anxious way: She had a lot of manic energy.

manicure /ˈmænɪkjʊr/ n. [C,U] a treatment for the hands and fingernails that includes cleaning, cutting, etc. → pedicure [origin: 1800–1900 French, manus “hand” + cura “care”]

—manicure v. [T] —manicurist n. [C]

manifest /ˈmænɪfəst/ v. (formal) manifest itself if something manifests itself, it appears or becomes easy to see: The disease can manifest itself in many ways.

manifest /ˈmænɪfəst/ adj. (formal) plain and easy to see → manifestly adv.: The rules are manifestly unfair.

manifest error of judgment n. [C] a clearly wrong decision or choice: The moves he made were clear examples of his manifest error of judgment.

manifestation /ˈmænɪfæstæʃən/ n. [C] a very clear sign that a particular situation or feeling exists: These latest distortions are a clear manifestation of growing unhappiness.

manifestly adv. → manifestly adj.: The disease can manifest itself in many ways.

manipulate /ˈmænipjʊleɪt/ v. (formal) skillfully handle, control, or move something: He knew how to manipulate people. → manipulately adj.: He was typically manipulatory.

manipulative /ˈmænipjʊlətɪv/ adj. well-mannered/ bad-mannered etc. (formal) polite or not polite to other people: a nice mild-mannered young man

manly /ˈmænli/ adj. having qualities such as strength or courage that are considered to be typical of a man → manliness n. [U] man·tra /ˈmantrə/ n. [C] a repeated word or sound, used as a prayer or to help people meditate.

man·u·al /ˈmานوʊˈæl/ adj 1 manual work involves using your hands or your physical strength rather than your mind: He makes a living doing manual labor. | People in manual occupations have a lower life expectancy. 2 operated or done by hand or without the help of electricity, a computer, etc.: a manual pump | It would take too long to do a manual search of all the data. 3 relating to how well you use your hands to do or make things: manual skills | [Origin: 1400—1500 French manuéal, from Latin manus “hand”] —manually adv.

manu·fact·ure1 /ˌmænɪˈfæktʃər/ v. [T] ECONOMICS to use machines to make goods, usually in large numbers: I work for a company that manufactures aircraft engine parts. [Origin: 1500—1600 French, Latin manus factus “made by hand”] man·u·fact·u·rer /ˌmænɪˈfæktʃər/ n. [C] a person who makes goods, usually in large numbers: the world’s largest shoe manufacturer man·u·fact·ur·ing /ˌmænɪˈfæktʃʊrɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the process of making goods, usually in large numbers man·u·fac·tur·er /ˌmænɪˈfæktʃər/ n. [C] a company that makes goods, usually in large numbers: the world’s largest shoe manufacturer man·u·fac·tur·ing /ˌmænɪˈfæktʃʊrɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the process of making goods in factories ma·nure /ˈmənər/ n. [U] waste matter from animals that is put into the soil to produce better crops man·u·script /ˈmænəˌskrɪpt/ n. [C] 1 a book or piece of writing before it is printed: She sent a 250-page manuscript to the publisher. 2 an old book written by hand before printing was invented: an ancient Chinese manuscript [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin manus scriptus “written by hand”] ma·ny /ˈmæni/ adj. (comparative more, superlative most) 1 a large number of people or things: Don’t have many friends. 2 How many people are in your class? There aren’t many tickets left. Many of the staff work part-time. I’ve missed too many days off work (more than I should) already. Why did you bring so many pencils? | see Grammar box at LOT

map /mæp/ n. [C] a drawing of an area or country showing rivers, roads, cities, etc.: a map of Texas | a street/city map | Do you see Smith Street on the map? [Origin: 1500—1600 Medieval Latin mappa, from Latin, “cloth, towel”]

Thesaurus

make, produce, build, construct ➔ MAKE2

manu·facture2 n. [U] ECONOMICS the process of making goods, usually in large numbers mar·a·thon /ˈmærəθən/ n. [C] a race in which a lot/lots — a large amount, quantity, or number of something: There are lots of other kids to play with in the neighborhood. He has a lot of money. plenty — a large amount that is enough or more than enough: Make sure you eat plenty of fruits and vegetables.

num·e·rous (formal) — many, but able to be counted: There have been numerous studies showing that obese people do not necessarily overeat. count·less/innumerable (formal) very many: He had spent countless hours playing video games.

a multi·tude of sb/sth (formal) — a very large number of things or people: I had never seen such a multitude of stars.

a ple·thora of sth (formal) — a very large number of something: a plethora of diet books my·ri·ad (formal) a very large number of something, or being a large number of something: the myriad plants and animal species that live in the forest

2 as many the same number: There weren’t as many people at the meeting as we hoped. 3 a good/great many (formal) a large number: A great many men died in that battle. [Origin: Old English many]

map1 /mæp/ v. (mapped, mapping) [T] to make a map of a particular area map sth ↔ out (phr. v.) to plan something carefully: His future had been mapped out by his parents.

map·pe·al /ˈmæpəl/ n. [C,U] a tree in northern countries that has leaves with many points, or the wood from this tree ➔ see picture on page A10 ma·quette /ˈmeɪkət/ n. [C] ARTS a small model or drawing that an artist produces in preparation for making a SCULPTURE mar /mær/ v. (past tense and past participle marred) present participle marring (written) to make something less attractive or enjoyable (by) spoil: His good looks were marred by a scar along his cheek.

mar-a·thon /ˈmærəθən/ n. [C] a race in which Mar·di Gras / March / marble

Marathon / margin

march

March / margarine

who march while they play instruments

the third month of the year, between February and April:

small colored glass ball that children roll along the surface at the side of a printed page:

next March played by children using marbles building, very long time:

about 25 miles from the battlefield of Marathon

1800—1900

500—500 B.C.

Mr. Hawthorne stood up, turned around, marched out the front door.

the Union army marched across the field.

2 to walk quickly because you are angry or determined:

Mrs. Hawthorne stood up, turned around, and marched out the front door.

3 to walk somewhere in a large group to protest about something:

The group plans to march on the White House next week.

marching band

a group of musicians who march while they play instruments

Mar·di Gras / mardi gras / n.

the day before Lent, or the music, dancing, etc. that celebrate this day mare / mær/ n.

a female horse or donkey mar·ga·rine / marˈɡərən/ n.

a yellow food that is similar to butter [Origin: 1800—1900 French margaron “pearl”] mar·gin / mɑrˈdʒən/ n.

1 the empty space at the side of a printed page: I wrote some notes in the margin.

2 ECONOMICS the difference in the number of votes, points, etc. that exists between the winners and the losers of an election or competition: Polls show the senator leading by a wide margin (= a lot of votes).

The bill was approved by a margin of 45 votes.

3 margin of error the degree to which a calculation can be wrong without affecting the final result 4 the difference between what a business pays for something and what they sell it for profit margin [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin margo “border”] mar-gin-al / mɑrˈdʒənl/ adj.

small in importance or amount: The film was a marginal success.

The figures show a marginal rise in the rate of inflation.

—marginally adv.: The population of New Hampshire is only marginally larger than that of the city of Detroit.

mar-gin-al ‘cost’ [C] ECONOMICS the additional cost of producing one more of a particular product or thing mar-gin-al ‘revenue’ [C] ECONOMICS the additional money a business earns from selling one more of a particular product, which can be equal to or greater than the selling price of the product mar-i-jua-nə / mɑrˈiʒwənə/ n. [U] an illegal drug in the form of dried leaves that people smoke mar-i-na / mɑrˈrɪnə/ n. [C] a small area of water where people keep boats used for pleasure mar-i-nate / mɑrˈrɪnət/ v. [T] to put meat or fish in a mixture of oil, wine, spices, etc. before you cook it: Marinate the chicken in soy sauce for one hour.

mar-i-net / mɑrˈrɪnət/ n. [C] relating to the ocean and the animals and plants that live there: marine life (animals and fish that live in the ocean) [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin marinus, from mare “sea”] mar-i-ne / mɑrˈrɪn/ n. [C] someone who is in the Marines mar-i-ner / mɑrˈrɪnər/ n. [C] (literary) a sailor

Ma·ri·nes / mɑrˈrɪnəz/ also Marine Corps n. the military organization of the U.S. consisting of soldiers who are on ships mar-i-o-net / mɑrˈrɪənət/ n. [C] a toy that looks like a person, animal, etc. that is moved by pulling strings attached to its body mar-i-tal / mɑrˈtæl/ adj. relating to marriage: marital problems [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin maritalis, from maritus “husband”] mar-i-ter-mal / mɑrˈtərməl/ adj. 1 relating to the ocean or ships: the maritime industry 2 near the ocean: the maritime provinces [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin maritimius, from mare “sea”] mark /mɑːrk/ v 1 [T] to make a sign, shape, or word on something using a pen or pencil: Check the envelopes that are marked “urgent” first. | The boxes are all marked with my name. 2 [T] to show where something is or was: The grave is marked by a stone cross. 3 [T] if a particular year, month, or week marks an important event, the event happened on that date during a previous year: This year marks the company’s 50th anniversary. 4 [T] to grade a student’s work. 5 [UT] to make a mark on something in a way that spoils or damages it: The heels of his boots had marked the floor.

mark sth ↔ mark down pbr. v. to reduce the price of things that are being sold: Books have been marked down by 25%. ➔ MARKDOWN mark sth ↔ mark up pbr. v. to increase the price of something, so that you sell it for more than you paid for it ➔ MARKUP

mark /mɑːrk/ n [C]
1 DIRTY SPOT a spot or small dirty area on something that spoils its appearance: What are these black marks on the couch?

Types of dirty marks
- STAIN a mark that is difficult to remove: an ink stain on the shirt pocket
- SPOT a small mark: a grease spot on his shirt
- SMUDGE a dirty mark, made when something is rubbed against a surface: a smudge of paint on her cheek
- SMEAR a mark that is left when a substance is spread on a surface: There was a smear of blood on the chair

Types of marks on someone’s skin
- BLEMISH a mark on your skin that spoils its appearance
- BRUISE a purple or brown mark on your skin that you get because you have fallen or been hit
- SCAR a permanent mark on your skin, caused by a cut or by something that burns you
- PIMPLE a small raised red mark or lump on your skin that teenagers often have
- ZIT (informal) a pimple
- WART a small hard raised mark on your skin caused by a virus (≈ living thing that causes an infectious illness)
- BLISTER a small area of skin that is swollen and full of liquid because it has been rubbed or burned
- FRECKLE one of several small light brown marks on someone’s skin

Types of marks on someone’s skin
- MOLE a small usually brown mark on the skin that is often slightly higher than the skin around it

2 DAMAGE a small damaged area on someone or something: Her injuries included scratch marks on her face.

3 WRITING a sign or shape that is written or printed: She made a mark on the map to show where her house was.

4 make/leave your mark to become successful or famous: He first made his mark as a pianist playing with Miles Davis.

5 a mark of sth a sign that something is true or exists: We’d like to give you this gift as a mark of our respect.

6 be off the mark/be wide of the mark to be incorrect: My estimate was way off the mark.

7 on your mark(s), get set, go! (spoken) said in order to start a race mark-down /ˈmarkdaʊn/ n [C] a reduction in the price of something marked /mɑːkt/ adj very easy to notice: a marked improvement ➔ markedly /ˈmarkli/ adv.

mark-er /ˈmɑːkər/ n [C] 1 an object, sign, etc. that shows the position of something: a marker at the edge of the football field

2 a large pen with a thick point ➔ MAGIC MARKER market /ˈmɑːkt/ n

1 PLACE TO BUY/SELL [C] a) an area outside where people buy and sell goods, food, etc.: We buy all our vegetables from the farmers’ market. b) a GROCERY STORE ➔ SUPERMARKET

2 the market ECONOMICS the STOCK MARKET

3 on the market ECONOMICS available for someone to buy: Our house has been on the market for a year now.

4 country/area [C] ECONOMICS a particular country or area where a company sells its goods: our biggest OVERSEAS/DEVELOPED MARKET the Japanese market

5 buyers [singular] ECONOMICS the number or kind of people who want to buy something: The market for used cars in the U.S. is getting smaller: the youth market

6 buying and selling [C] ECONOMICS the activity of buying and selling goods, services, etc.: Manufacturers are competing in an increasingly global market. | The housing market is beginning to recover. | the world’s financial markets

7 the job/labor market the number of people looking for work or the number of jobs available

8 be in the market for sth to be interested in buying something: I’m in the market for a new car.

9 a buyer/seller’s market ECONOMICS a time that is better for buyers because prices are low, or better for sellers because prices are high [origin: 1100—1200 Old North French, Latin mercatum “buying and selling, marketplace,” from mercari “to buy and sell,” from mercx “things to sell”] ➔ corner the market at corner ➔ BLACK MARKET, FLEA MARKET, FREE MARKET market /ˈmɑːkt/ v [T] ECONOMICS to try to persuade someone to buy something by advertising it in a particular way: The game is being marketed as a learning toy. ➔ MARKETER n [C] marketable /ˈmɑːktəbəl/ adj marketable goods, skills, etc. are easy to sell because people want them: The program is designed to provide students with real MARKETABLE SKILLS.

marketability /ˈmɑːktəbəlɪtɪ/ n [U] market economy

market e·con·omy n. [C] ECONOMICS an economic system in which companies are not controlled by the government and decisions about what to produce or sell are based on profit market forces n. [plural] ECONOMICS the conditions that exist when business and trade are not controlled by the government, which affect the level of prices and pay at a particular time market·ing /markˈtɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the activity of deciding how to advertise a product, what price to charge for it, etc., or the type of job in which you do this: a large marketing campaign | Reed works in marketing.

mar·ket·place /ˈmɑrɪtɪkˌplɛs/ n. 1 the marketplace ECONOMICS the business of buying and selling goods in competition with other companies 2 [C] a market market value n. [C,U] ECONOMICS the value of a product, building, etc. based on the price at which people are willing to pay for it, rather than the cost of producing it or building it 2 ECONOMICS the total value of all the shares on a stock market, or the value of the stock of a particular company mark·ing /markˈɪŋ/ n. [C usually plural] 1 marks painted or written on something: line markings on the highway 2 the colored patterns and shapes on an animal’s fur or skin: a cat with black and gray markings mark·smen /ˈmɑrksmən/ n. (plural marksmen /-ˌmɑn/) [C] someone who can shoot very well mark·up /markˌʌp/ n. [C] ECONOMICS an increase in the price of something: The usual retail markup is 50%.

mar·ma·lade /ˈmɑrmaˌlæd/ n. [U] a jam made with fruit such as oranges [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Portuguese marmelada “jam made from quinces,” from marmelo “quince”] ma·rooned /ˈmɑrəʊnd/ n. [U] a very dark red-brown color [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French marron “chestnut”] —ma·roon adj ma·rooned /ˈmɑrəʊnd/ adj. if you are marooned somewhere, you are in a place from which you cannot leave, and there are no people to help you: The climbers were marooned on the mountain for three days.

mar·quees /ˈmɑrkjuːz/ n. [C] a large sign on a theater that gives the name of the movie or play mar·riage /ˈmærɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] the relationship between two people who are married, or the state of being married: a long and happy marriage | She felt she wasn’t ready for marriage. | She has two children from a previous marriage.

COLOCATIONS

a happy/good marriage
an unhappy/broken/troubled/failed/loveless marriage sb’s marriage breaks up – someone’s marriage ends because of problems and disagreement the breakup of sb’s marriage – the end of someone’s marriage sb’s marriage ends in divorce – a proposal of marriage – an occasion when one person asks another person to marry him or her.

a mixed/interracial marriage – a marriage between people of different races an arranged marriage – a marriage in which your parents choose the person you marry

2 [C] the ceremony in which two people get married (SYN wedding)

mar·ried /ˈmɑrɪd/ adj. having a husband or a wife: How long have you been married? | Agnes and I have decided to get married. | Helen is married to a lawyer. — MARRY

mar·ry v. (married, marries) 1 [I,T] to become someone’s husband or wife: I’ve asked Linda to marry me. | My uncle didn’t marry until he was 50. | We got married last July. | She married young (at a young age). • Don’t say “married with.” • 2 [T] to perform the ceremony at which two people get married: Rabbi Feingold will marry us. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 French marier, from Latin maritare, from maritus “husband”] marry into 3th phr. v. to join a family by marrying someone who belongs to it: She married into a rich family.

Mars /ˈmɑrz/ n. PHYSICS the fourth planet from the Sun ➔ see picture of SOLAR SYSTEM marsh /ˈmɑrʃ/ n. [C,U] an area of low ground that is soft and wet ➔ SWAMP — marshy adj mar·shal /ˈmɑrʃəl/ n. [C] 1 a police officer in the U.S. whose job is to make sure that people obey an order that has been given by a court of law: a U.S. marshal 2 the officer in charge of a city’s fire-fighting department: the fire marshal Mar·shal v. marshal your resources/forces etc. to organize things or people so that they are used in the most effective way marsh-mal·low /ˈmarsfl.meləʊ/ n. [C,U] a very soft white candy made of sugar

Mar·su·pi·al /ˈmɑːrskəpəl/ n. [C,U] a type of animal that carries its baby in a pouch of skin on its body mart. Mart /mart/ n. [C] a market or MALL, used especially in the names of stores: Wall-Mart Stores Inc. | There wasn’t a Pepsi machine or a convenience mart in sight. martial /ˈmɑːrtʃəl/ adj. related to war and fighting [Origin: 1300–1400 Latin mārtialis “of Mars,” from Mars, god of war] martial 'art n. [C usually plural] a sport such as kARate, in which you fight with your hands and feet martial 'law n. [U] politics a situation in which the army takes control of an area and many citizens’ rights are taken away, especially because of fighting against the government: The country has been under martial law since the attempted coup.
Mar·tian /ˈmɑːrtʃiən/ n. [C] an imaginary creature from Mars Mar·tian Lu·ther King Day /ˌmɑːrtʃiən ˈluːθər/ a public holiday in the U.S. on the third Monday in January, when people remember Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.
mar·tyr /ˈmɑːtrər/ n. [C] someone who dies for his/her religious or political beliefs, and whose death makes people believe more strongly in those beliefs —mar·tyr·ry v. [T] —mart·tyr·dom n. [U] mar·vel /ˈmɑːvəl/ v. [I,T] to feel surprise or admiration for the quality of something: We mar·vel·ed at her courage.
marvel2 n. [C] something or someone that is extremely impressive: Laser surgery is one of the marvels of modern medicine.
mar·vel·ous /ˈmɑːvələs/ adj. extremely good, enjoyable, or impressive: You are doing a marvelous job. | a marvelous opportunity Marx·is·m /ˈmaːrkəzəm/ n. [U] a political system based on Karl Marx’s ideas that explains the changes in history as the result of the struggle between social classes —Marx·ist n. [C] masc. the written abbreviation of MASCULINE mas·car·a /ˈmɑːskərə/ n. [U] a dark substance that you use to color your EYELASHES mas·cot /ˈmɑːskɑːt/ n. [C] an animal, toy, etc. that represents a team or organization, and is thought to bring it good luck [Origin: 1800–1900 French mascotte, from Provençal mascost, from masco “woman with magic powers”] mas·cu·line /ˈmɑːskələn/ adj. 1 having qualities that are considered to be typical of men ➔ FEMININE: a masculine voice 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a masculine noun or pronoun has a form that means it relates to a male, such as “widower” or “him” ➔ FEMININE mas·cu·lin·i·ty /ˈmɑːskəlɪnɪti/ n. [U] qualities that are considered typical of a man ➔ FEMININE mash /mæʃ/ v. [T] to crush something, such as food that has been cooked, until it is soft: Mash the potatoes until they’re smooth.
mask /mɑːsk/ n. [C] something that covers all or part of your face, to protect or hide it: a ski mask | The attackers wore masks. ➔ GAS MASK mask2 v. [T] 1 to hide the truth about a situation, about how you feel: Small children find it hard to mask their emotions.

masonry
masquerade

mas-quer-a-de /mas,kwər-i-təd/ n. [C] a formal dance or party where people wear masks and unusual clothes masquerade2 v. [I] to pretend to be someone or something else: Two men masquerading as police officers robbed a local bank.

mass1 /mas/ n. 1 [C] a large amount or quantity of something: The train wreck was a mass of twisted steel. 2 [singular] a large crowd: a mass of people. 3 Mass [C,U] the main religious ceremony in some Christian churches, especially the Roman Catholic Church. 4 the masses [plural] all the ordinary people in a society.

mass2 adj. involving or intended for a large number of people: weapons of mass destruction | a mass grave mass3 v. [I,T] to come together in a large group, or to make people or things do this: Troops are massing at the border.

massa-{r} /kasə/ n. [C,U] the killing of a lot of people, especially people who cannot defend themselves: the massacre of 17 unnamed peasants massacre6 v. [T] to kill a lot of people, especially people who cannot defend themselves: Government troops massacred hundreds of students.

mass-produce adj. produced in large numbers using machinery, so that each object is the same and can be sold cheaply: The computers will be mass-produced in Korea.

mass media n. the mass media all the people and organizations that provide information and news for the public, including television, radio, and newspapers mass murderer n. [C] someone who has murdered a lot of people mass number n. [C] PHYSICS the total number of protons and neutrons in the nucleus (≈central part) of an atom.

master1 adj. 1 master copy/list/tape etc. the original thing from which copies are made | master plumber/chef etc. someone who is very skilled at doing a particular job | most important or main: the master bedroom master2 v. T] to learn something so well that you understand it completely and have no difficulty with it: It only took him a few months to master French.

master key v. [T] a key that will open all the doors of a building mastermind n. [C, usually singular] someone who organizes a complicated plan, especially a criminal plan: the mastermind behind the bombings master of Arts n. an M.A. master of ceremonies n. [C, usually singular] someone who introduces speakers or performers at a social or public occasion

Master of Science n. an M.S.

master-piece /ˈmaʊsərˌpiːs/ n. [C] a work of art, piece of writing, music, etc. that is of the highest quality master’s degree also master’s n. [C] a university degree that you get by studying for one or two years after your first degree mature y /ˈmaʊtəri/ n. [U] complete control or power over someone or something: Shakespeare’s mastery of the English language mat /mat/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of thick material that covers part of a floor | 2 a piece of thick soft material used in some activities for people to sit on, fall onto, etc.

masturbation /ˈmæstərˌbeɪʃən/ n. [C] someone who fights and tries to kill a bull during a bullfight
match /ˈmætʃ/ n. 1 [C] a small wooden or paper stick with a special substance at the top, used to light a fire, cigarette, etc.: a box of matches | He lit/struck a match so we could see. 2 [C] a game or sports event: a tennis/boxing/soccer match | a semi-final match against South Korea 3 be no match for sb to be much less strong, fast, etc. than an opponent: Our defense was no match for theirs. 4 a shouting match a loud argument

match v. 1 [T] if one thing matches another, or if two things match, they look good together because they have a similar color, pattern, etc.: We found a carpet to match the curtains in this room. | Do these socks match? 2 [T] if two things match, or if one matches the other, they look or seem the same: Police say the murder weapon matches a knife belonging to the suspect. 3 [T] to be appropriate for a particular person, thing, or situation: We'll try to help you find a job to match your skills. 4 [T] to put two people or things together that are somehow related to each other: Match the title of each book with its author. 5 [T] to be equal to something in value, size, or quality: His ambition was matched by a devotion to his family.

match up phr. v. 1 to be of a similar level or of similar quality to something: If the product doesn't match up to our standards, we don't sell it. 2 to belong with or fit together with something: The edges of the cloth don't match up.

match-book /ˈmætʃbʊk/ n. [C] a small piece of thick folded paper containing paper matches match-box /ˈmætʃbɒks/ n. [C] a small box containing matches match-ing /ˈmætʃɪŋ/ adj. having the same color, style, or pattern as something else: She wore a green skirt with a matching jacket.

match-less /ˈmætʃlɪs/ adj. (formal) better than all other things of the same kind match-mak-er /ˈmætʃˌmækər/ n. [C] someone who tries to find the right person for someone else to marry —matchmaking n. [U]

mate /meɪt/ n. [C] 1 office/band/locker etc. someone you work with, do an activity with, or share something with —classmate, roommate. 2 a husband, wife, or sexual partner, used especially in magazines: He’s still searching for the perfect mate. 3 biology: the sexual partner of an animal 4 one of a pair of objects: I can’t find the mate to this glove.

mate v. [I] biology: if animals mate, they have sex to produce babies: The male mates with several females.

materialize /ˈmɛtrəlaɪz/ v. [T] to happen or appear in the way that you expected: The student maternal protest failed to materialize/never materialized (=did not happen). 2 to appear in an unexpected and strange way: A man materialized from the shadows.

maternal /ˈmeɪtrənəl/ adj.

1 typical of the way a good mother feels or acts ➔ paternal: maternal feelings

2 maternal grandfather/aunt etc. your mother’s father, sister, etc.

maternity leave n.[U] time that a woman is allowed away from her job when she has a baby: Karen’s still on maternity leave.

maternity ward n.[C] a department in a hospital where a woman is cared for after having a baby math /ˈmeɪθ/ n.[U] (informal) the study or science of numbers and of the structure and measurement of shapes related to or using mathematics: a mathematical equation mathematical /ˈmeɪθəmətɪkəl/ adj.

someone who studies or teaches mathematics mathematical /ˈmeɪθəmətɪkəl/ n.[U] mathematician /ˈmeɪθəmətʃən/ n.[C] a woman who has the most influence or power in a family or social group ➔ patriarch —matrarchal /ˌmeɪtrərˈɑːkəl/ adj.

matrarchy /ˌmeɪtrəˈɑːkri/ n.[U] SOCIAL SCIENCE a social system in which women hold all the power ➔ patriarchy matriculate /ˈmeɪtrɪkəl/ v.[I] (formal) to officially begin studying at a school or college: He majored in theater after matriculating to Northwestern. —matriculation /ˌmeɪtrɪkəˈleɪʃən/ n.[U] matrimony /ˈmeɪtrɪməni/ n.[U]

the state of being married [Origins: 1200—1300 Old French matrenome, from Latin matrimonium "being a mother, marriage"] —matrimonial /ˌmeɪtrəˈmənjəl/ adj.

matrix /ˈmeɪtrɪks/ n. (plural matrices /-ˈtræsɪz/ or matrixes) [C] MATH an arrangement of numbers, letters, or signs on a grid (=background of regular crossed lines), used in mathematics, science, etc.

matron /ˈmeɪtrən/ n.[C] (literary) an older married woman matronly /ˈmeɪtrənli/ adj. a polite word to describe a woman who is not thin, young, or attractive matte /ˈmeɪt/ adj. matte paint, color, or photographs are not shiny mat-ted /ˈmeɪtɪd/ adj. mattted hair or fur is twisted and stuck together mature /ˈmeɪtər/ adj.

2 matters [plural] a situation that you are in or have been describing: She tried to apologize, but that only made matters worse.  It didn’t help matters (=made the situation worse) when the money failed to arrive.

matured /ˈmeɪtərd/ adj.

matter /ˈmeɪtər/ n.[C] a subject, topic, theme, issue

> SUBJECT

1 SUBJECT/SITUATION [C] a subject or situation that you have to think about or deal with: I need to speak with you about a serious matter. The argument was strictly a private/personal matter: matters of public concern Whether he is guilty is a matter for the jury to decide. financial matters > subject, topic, theme, issue natural

2 matters [plural] a situation that you are in or have been describing: She tried to apologize, but that only made matters worse. It didn’t help matters (=made the situation worse) when the money failed to arrive.

natural adj.

6 no matter how/where/what etc. used to say that something is not working normally, someone seems upset or sick, or something looks wrong: What’s the matter? Why are you crying? Is there something the matter with the car?

as a matter of fact said when giving a surprising or unexpected answer to a question or statement: “Have you ever been to Paris?” “As a matter of fact, I just came from there.”

the fact of the matter is (that) used when saying what you think is really true concerning a situation: The fact of the matter is the company has had financial problems for years.

natural adj.

6 no matter how/where/what etc. used to say that something is not working normally, someone seems upset or sick, or something looks wrong: What’s the matter? Why are you crying? Is there something the matter with the car?

as a matter of fact said when giving a surprising or unexpected answer to a question or statement: “Have you ever been to Paris?” “As a matter of fact, I just came from there.”

the fact of the matter is (that) used when saying what you think is really true concerning a situation: The fact of the matter is the company has had financial problems for years.

natural adj.

6 no matter how/where/what etc. used to say that something is not working normally, someone seems upset or sick, or something looks wrong: What’s the matter? Why are you crying? Is there something the matter with the car?

as a matter of fact said when giving a surprising or unexpected answer to a question or statement: “Have you ever been to Paris?” “As a matter of fact, I just came from there.”

the fact of the matter is (that) used when saying what you think is really true concerning a situation: The fact of the matter is the company has had financial problems for years.

natural adj.
only have to do a particular thing, or do something in a particular way, in order to be successful: I have a place to stay. Now it's just a matter of booking my flight.

12 a matter of opinion used to say that people have different opinions about something

13 a matter of life and death a very dangerous or serious situation

14 a matter of seconds/days/inches etc. only a few seconds, days, inches, etc. The bullet missed him by a matter of inches.

15 for that matter used to say that what you have said about one thing is also true about another: We don't have a TV yet, or even a bed for that matter.

matter2 v [I] 1 to be important, or to have an effect on what happens: Money is the only thing that matters to him. | Does it matter which road I take? | No matter how much suntan lotion I put on, I still burn.

2 it doesn't matter (spoken) a used to say that you do not care which one of two things you have: "Do you want tea or coffee?" "Oh, it doesn't matter." b used to tell someone you are not angry or upset: "I lost the book you loaned me." "It doesn't matter -- I have another copy."

—matter-of-fact adj showing no emotion when you are talking about something, especially something exciting, frightening, upsetting, etc.: Jerry was very matter-of-fact about this.

—matter-of-factly adv.

mat-tress /ˈmɑtərɪs/ n. [C] the soft part of a bed that you lie on [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French maturer, from Arabic matur "place where something is thrown"] ma-ture1 /ˈmaʊtər/ v [I] 1 behaving in a reasonable way like an adult -- used especially about a child or young person (ANT) immature: She's young, but she's very mature for her age. 2 fully grown and developed: Eagles aren't sexually mature until age five. | mature wine The human brain isn't fully mature until about age 25. 3 a polite way of describing someone who is not young anymore [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin maturus]

ma-ture2 (AC) v [I] 1 to begin to behave in a reasonable way like an adult: Pat's matured a lot since going to college. | Biology to become fully grown or developed: The fly matures in only seven days. | It will mature into a small tree. | Girls tend to mature more quickly than boys, both physically and emotionally. 3 Economics if a financial arrangement, such as a bond or policy, matures, it becomes ready to be paid —maturity n. [U]: Scientists studied the maturation of the seeds under different weather conditions.

ma-tur-i-ty /ˈmaʊtərɪtɪ/ n. [C] 1 the quality of behaving in a sensible way like an adult: He has a lot of maturity. 2 Biology the time when a person, animal, or plant is fully grown or developed: Rabbits reach maturity in only five weeks. | Few of the plants grew to maturity. 3 Economics the time when a financial arrangement, such as a bond or policy, is ready to be paid: With these particular bonds, interest is paid at maturity.

mav-er-ick /ˈmeɪvərɪk/ n. [C] someone who thinks or behaves in a way that is different from most people: a political maverick [ORIGIN: 1803—70], U.S. cattle owner who did not mark some of his young cattle —maverick adj.

mawk-ish /ˈmeɪkʃəs/ adj showing too much emotion in a way that is embarrassing (ANT) sentiment- al: He writes movingly about his wife without becoming mawkish. —mawkishly adv. —mawkishness n. [U]

max1 /ˈmæks/ v. [T] 1 to increase something as much as possible (ANT) minimize: We want to maximize the services available to our customers. | The company’s main function is to maximize profit. 2 if to click on a special part of a window on a computer screen so that it becomes as big as the screen (ANT) minimize: Users...
will need to maximize the window to see the full picture.

max·i·mum /ˌmæksəˈməm/ adj. the maximum amount, quantity, speed, etc. is the largest that is possible or allowed. minimum/ˌmɪnəm/ n. The maximum height of these trees is 25 feet. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin maximus “greatest,” from magnus “great”]

maximum /ˈmeɪkəm/ n. [C usually singular] the largest number, amount, etc. that is possible or is allowed. minimum/ˈmɪnəm/ n. The road was designed for a maximum of 35,000 vehicles a day. | The country’s agricultural policies force farmers to exploit their land for the maximum.

May /meɪ/ n. [C,U] the fifth month of the year, beginning of a sentence: May be· day

May·day /meɪˈdeɪ/ n. [U] traditionally celebrate the arrival of spring.

may /meɪ/ modal verb 1 used to talk about what is or was possible → MIGHT: You may have to come back next week. | This may not be enough money. ➔ Don’t say “may not.” ➔ 2 may 1 ...? (spoken) used to ask politely if you can do something: May I borrow your pen? | May I please speak to Carl? 3 (formal) used to say that someone is allowed to do something: You may start writing on your test forms now. 4 may ..., but ... used to say that although one thing is true, something else which seems very different is also true: This may taste bad, but it’s good for you. 5 may as well → might as well at MIGHT!

GRAMMAR

May is not used in questions about possible events or situations. Use might instead: Might there be a connection between these two things?

may·be /ˈmeɪbə/ adv. 1 used to say that something may be true or may happen, but that you are not sure (BYPO) perhaps: Maybe Anna’s stuck in traffic. | “Will you be there tomorrow night?” “Maybe.” | Maybe this wasn’t such a good idea. | Maybe you’re right, but maybe not.

USAGE

Use maybe to talk about something that is possible, especially as a way of suggesting or explaining something. Maybe usually goes at the beginning of a sentence: Maybe we can get together this weekend.

May be is a modal verb followed by “be,” used to show that something is possible but not sure: We may be getting together this weekend.

2 used to make a suggestion: Maybe Jeff could help you.

May Day /meɪˈdeɪ/ n. the first day of May, when people traditionally celebrate the arrival of spring may·day /meɪˈdeɪ/ n. [C usually singular] a radio signal used to ask for help when a ship or airplane is in danger [Origin: 1900—2000 French m’aider “help me”]

may·hem /meɪˈhɛm/ n. [U] an extremely confused situation in which people are very frightened or excited: There was complete mayhem after the explosion.

may·o /ˈmeɪəʊ/ n. [U] (spoken) mayonnaise may·on·naise /ˌmeɪəˈnəʊz/ n. [U] a thick white sauce made of egg and oil [Origin: 1800—1900 French]

may·or /ˈmeɪər/ n. [C] someone who is elected to lead the government of a town or city

THE SAURUS

may·be politician, president, congressman/congresswoman, senator, governor → POLITICIAN

maze /meɪz/ n. [C] 1 a maze of streets/tunnels etc. a complicated and confusing arrangement of streets, etc. 2 something that is complicated and difficult to understand: a maze of rules/laws/regulations 3 a specially designed system of paths that is difficult to find your way through, which people go to for fun [Origin: 1200—1300 maze “to confuse”]

M.B.A. n. [C] Master of Business Administration a graduate degree that teaches you the skills you need to be in charge of a business

MC the abbreviation of MASTER of CEREMONIES

MCAT /ɛmˈkeɪt/ n. [C] (trademark) Medical College Admission Test an examination taken by students who have completed a first degree and want to go to medical school

Mc·Coy /ɛmˌkeɪ/ n. the real McCoy (informal) something that is real and not a copy

MD the written abbreviation of MARYLAND

M.D. n. [C] DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

ME the written abbreviation of MAINE

me /mi/ pron. 1 the object form of “I”: Cathy called me last night. | Give it to me. 2 me too (spoken) said when you agree with someone, or are going to do the same thing as s/he is: “I’m hungry!” “Me too.” 3 me neither (spoken) said when you agree with a negative statement someone has just made: “I don’t like fruitcake.” “Me neither.”

mead·ow /ˈmeɪdou/ n. [C] a field with wild grass and flowers mea·ger /ˈmiːdʒər/ adj. very small in amount: a meager salary [Origin: 1300—1400 French *maigre, from Latin maigres “thin”] meal /mɪl/ n. [C] a particular time when you eat food, or the food that is eaten then: Would you like wine with your meal? | Don’t eat a heavy meal before going to bed. | We had a nice meal. [Origin: Old English meal “time, meal”]

COLOCATIONS
- evening meal – dinner or supper
- main meal – the most important and largest meal you eat during a day
- three/four/five-course meal – a large meal that has three, etc. courses (separate parts of a meal)
- light/quick meal – a small meal decent/good/full meal – a large meal with good food
- have/eat a meal
- cook/prepare/make a meal
- go (out) for a meal – to go to a restaurant to eat
- ask sb out for a meal also take sb out for a meal – to ask someone to come to a restaurant with you to eat, or to take someone there

THESARUS

Types of meals
- breakfast – a meal that you eat in the morning lunch – a meal that you eat in the middle of the day
- brunch – a meal that you eat in the late morning, instead of breakfast or lunch dinner/supper – a meal that you eat in the evening
- picnic – a meal that you eat outdoors, consisting of food that you cook or prepare earlier barbecue – a meal that you cook and eat outdoors
- Parts of a large meal
- appetizer – a small dish of food served at the beginning of a meal
- hors d’œuvre – a small amount of food that is served before people sit down at the table for the main meal
- main course/entrée – the main part of a meal
- side dish – food eaten with the main course
- dessert – sweet food eaten at the end of the meal ➔ CO LLOCATIONS meal-time /ˈmiltaɪm/ n. [C] a time during the day when you have a meal

mean1 /mi:n/ v. (past tense and past participle meant /mɛnt/) [T] 1 to have or represent a particular meaning: What does inoculate mean? | This light means you’re running low on fuel. | Don’t say “is meaning.” ➔ 2 to intend a particular meaning when you say something: I said Monday but I meant Tuesday. | I just meant that we need to think carefully about our options. | Don’t say “I am meaning.” ➔ 3 to intend to do something or intend that someone else should do something: I’ve been meaning to ask you something. | He says he didn’t mean for her to get hurt. 4 to have a particular result: An airline strike meant that he was stuck in Athens for another week.

SPOKEN PHRASES

5 I mean a) said when you want to explain or give an example of something, or when you stop to think about what to say next: She’s always late for work. I mean, yesterday she showed up at 10:30. b) said when you want to quickly correct what you have just said: She played the violin. I mean the viola. 6 (do) you mean ...? said when you are checking that you understand something that someone has said: You mean you want me to call you, or will you call me? 7 (do) you know what I mean? said when you are asking someone if s/he understands you: He wore a hat like the one Sherlock Holmes had. You know what I mean? 8 I know what you mean used to tell someone that you understand or agree with what s/he is saying: “I’m so tired of his complaining.” “I know what you mean.” 9 I see what you mean used to tell someone that you now understand what s/he has been saying 10 what do you mean (…)? a) said when you do not understand someone b) said when you are very surprised or annoyed by something someone has said: What do you mean, you sold the car?

11 sb/sth means sth (to sb) used to say that someone or something is very important to someone: It would mean a lot to your father if you offered to help. 12 sb means business to be determined to do something: You have to be strict about the rules so they know you mean business. 13 sth was meant to be used to say that you think a situation was certain to happen and that no one could have prevented it: Our marriage was never meant to be. [Or case: Old English menan] mean2 adj. 1 cruel or not kind: Why do you say such mean things to me? | Don’t be mean to your sister. | It was mean of you not to invite her.

THESARUS

cruel – deliberately making someone suffer or feel unhappy: Kids can be very cruel to each other unkind – treating people in a way that makes them unhappy or hurts their feelings: She never says an unkind word.

nasty – not kind and not pleasant, often deliberately: Their neighbors were really nasty.

thoughtless – not thinking about the needs and feelings of other people: a thoughtless remark spiteful – being unkind deliberately in order to annoy or upset someone: Her reaction was spiteful.

abusive – using cruel words or physical violence: an abusive father vicious – very cruel and deliberately trying to upset someone: a vicious rumor malicious (formal) – showing a desire to harm or upset someone: malicious gossip

2 no mean feat/trick/achievement etc. something that is very difficult to do, so that someone who does it deserves to be admired: It was no mean achievement for a woman to become a doctor in 1920. 3 a mean sth (informal) used to say that something is very good or someone is very good at doing something: Ray plays a mean game of tennis. 4 MATH average: The mean age of the men in the study was 47.

mean² n. 1 means [plural] a method, system, object, etc. that is used as a way of achieving a result: We’ll use any means we can to raise the money. [ My bicycle is my main means of transportation. ] The oil is transported by means of ( =using) a pipeline. 2 means [plural] ECONOMICS the money or income that you have. They don’t have the means to buy a car | Try to live within your means (=only spending what you can afford). | a man of means (=who is rich) 3 by all means (spoken) used to mean “of course” when politely allowing someone to do something or agreeing with a suggestion: “Can I invite Clarence?” “Oh, by all means.” 4 by no means (formal) not at all: The results are by no means certain. 5 a means to an end something that you do only to achieve a result, not because you want to do it: This job is just a means to an end. 6 the mean MATH the average amount, figure, or value ➔ MEDIAN, MODE: The mean of 7, 9, and 14 is 10.

meander /miˈændər/ v. [I] to move in a slow, relaxed way, not in any particular direction: I spent the afternoon meandering through the city. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin maeanders, from Greek, from Maiaandros (now Menderes), river in Turkey] meaning /ˈmɛnɪŋ/ n. 1 [C,U] the thing, idea, feeling, etc. that a word, phrase, or sign represents: I don’t understand the meaning of this word. 2 [C,U] the thoughts or ideas that someone wants you to understand from what s/he says, does, writes, etc.: The exact meaning of the king’s statement was not clear. 3 [U] the importance that something has in a particular situation: Until today, I hadn’t realized the full meaning of what had happened. 4 (not) the meaning of sth to have, or not have, experience and understanding of a particular situation or feeling: Those kids don’t know the meaning of hard work.

meaningful /ˈmɛnɪŋfəl/ adj. 1 serious, useful, or important: a meaningful relationship | a meaningful work 2 easy to understand: The data isn’t very meaningful to anyone but a scientist. 3 a meaningful look | smile etc. a look that clearly expresses the way someone feels meaningless /ˈmɛnɪŋləs/ adj. having no purpose or importance and therefore not worth doing or having: a meaningless job | a statistic that is completely/failingly/absolutely meaningless mean /ˈmɛnt/ v. the past tense and past participle of MEAN meantime /ˈmiːntəm/ n. in the meantime in the period of time between now and a future event, or between two events in the past: We want to buy a house, but in the meantime we’re renting the apartment.

meantime /ˈmiːntəm/ adv. while something else is happening, or in the time between two events: I was in the kitchen cleaning up. Meanwhile, Ray was in the living room watching TV.

measles /ˈmiːzəlz/ also the measles n. [U] an infectious illness in which you have a fever and small red spots on your face and body measurably /ˈmiːzərəbli/ adv. 1 able to be measured: A manager should set measurable goals. 2 important or large enough to have an effect: The changes have not achieved any measurable results. ➔ measurably adv.

measure sb/sth against sth phr. v. to judge someone or something by comparing him, her, or it to another person or thing measure up phr. v. to be good enough to do a particular job or to reach a particular standard: The test will allow us to see how our students measure up.

measure² n. 1 [C] an official action that is intended to deal with a problem: Congress passed a measure to control spending today. | We have taken measures to limit smoking to one area in the building. | Officials said they were satisfied with security measures. 2 a measure of sth an amount of something good or something that you want: Over time, they developed a measure of trust. 3 be a measure of sth (formal) to be a sign of the importance, strength, etc. of something: Profits are often used as a measure of a company’s success. 4 [C,U] a system or unit for measuring the weight, length, etc. of something: A kilo is a measure of weight.

measure of ‘spread also MEASURE OF VARIABILITY, MEASURE OF VARIATION n. [C] MATH a measurement used to show how statistical information is spread across particular data meat /meit/ n. [U] the flesh of animals and birds eaten as food: She never eats meat on Fridays. | red meat (=dark meat such as beef) | white meat (=pale meat such as chicken) [ORIGIN: Old English mete "food"] mechanic /mekˈnɪk/ n. [plural] MATH three standard units of measurement used when examining and describing DATA. The units are called the MEAN (=used to show the average quantity), and the MEDIAN (=used to show the middle quantity).

mechanical /məˈkənɪkl/ adj. 1 RELAT related to the way in which something works, or the process by which it is done: the mechanisms of the brain | a mechanism for measuring employee performance |

mechanically adv.

mechanized /məˈkiːnəd/ adj. using machines instead of people or animals: a highly mechanized factory —mechanize v. [T] 1 mechanical device n. a round flat piece of metal given to someone who has won a competition or who has done something brave: He won an Olympic gold medal.

mechanist /meʃˈɪst/ n. [C] someone who has won a medal in a competition: a gold/silver/bronze medallist mechanization /məˈkiːnəˈzeɪʃən/ n. the science that deals with machines instead of people or animals: the mechanisms of the brain mechanisms of center n. [plural] MATH (=used to show the most frequent quantity), the MEAN (=used to show the average quantity), the MEDIAN (=used to show the middle quantity).

mechanism /məˈkənɪzəm/ n. 1 mechanical device 2 a way in which something works, or the process by which it is done: the mechanisms of the brain | a mechanism for measuring employee performance | mechanics /məˈkənɪks/ n. [U] mechanical device

mechanically adv.

mechanics of doing sth n. the way in which something works or is done: The mechanics of bookkeeping can be complex. Medication mechanics, mechanics of doing sth v. to try to help two groups, countries, etc. to stop arguing and make an agreement: The court had to mediate between Hassel and his neighbors. He will be mediating talks between the two sides. —mediation /ˈmiːdiəʃən/ n. [U] mediator /ˈmiːdeɪtər/ n. someone who helps people, groups, countries, etc. to end an argument and reach an agreement medical /ˈmiːdɪkal/ adj. relating to medicine and the treatment of disease or injury: medical school [The clinic provides free medical care] | new types of medical treatment | the medical profession (=doctors, nurses, etc.) | More funding is needed for medical research. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French médical, from Late Latin medicus, from Latin medicus "doctor"] —medically adv.

medical care /ˈmiːdɪkəl kər/ n. [U] a system by which the government helps to pay the cost of medical treatment for poor people medical device n. a round flat piece of metal given to someone who has won a competition or who has done something brave: He won an Olympic gold medal.

medical school n. [CU] a part of a university, where people study to become doctors mechanically adv.

medicated

med-i-ca-ted /ˈmedɪˌkeɪtɪd/ adj containing medicine: medicated shampoo med-i-ca-tion /ˈmedɪˌkeɪʃən/ n. [C.U] medicine given to people who are sick: Are you taking any medication? He’s on medication for his heart.

med-i-cin-e /ˈmedɪˌsɪn/ n. 1 [C.U] a substance used for treating illness: Remember to take your medicine. Medicines should be kept away from children.

med-i-cle-nal /ˈmedɪˌkənəl/ adj helping to cure illness or disease: The herbs are used for medicinal purposes.

med-i-cine /ˈmedɪˌsɪn/ n. 1 [C.U] a substance used for treating illness: Remember to take your medicine. Medicines should be kept away from children.

medium /ˈmiːdɪəm/ n. 1 (plural media /ˈmiːdɪə/ or mediæ /ˈmiːdiə/) a way of communicating or expressing something: The Internet is a powerful advertising medium. In the modern age, television is the primary medium of communication. 2 (plural media) the material, paints, etc. that an artist uses: This sculptor’s favorite medium is wood. 3 (plural mediums) someone who claims to speak to dead people and receive messages from them.

medium-sized /ˈmiːdɪəmˌsaɪzd/ adj not small, but not large either: medium-sized apples | a medium-size city med-ley /ˈmedli/ n. (plural medleys) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS tunes from different songs that are played one after the other as a single piece of music: a medley of folk songs med-i-cal school /ˈmedɪskɔl/ n. [C.U] (informal) a MEDICAL SCHOOL me-dul·la ob·lon·ga·ta /ˌmeɪdlə ˈəbləŋɡətə/ n. [singular] BIOLOGY the lowest part of your brain, where it connects with your SPINAL CORD. The medulla oblongata controls your breathing and the flow of blood to and from your heart.

meek /ˈmiːk/ adj very quiet and gentle, and not willing to argue —meekly adv. —meekness n.

meet /miːt/ v. (past tense and past participle met /ˈmiːt/) 1 SEE SB FOR THE FIRST TIME [I,T] to see and talk to someone for the first time, or to be introduced to someone: Mike and Sara met in college. When did we first meet? I saw Jim’s wife once, but I never met her.

2 BE IN THE SAME PLACE [I,T] to come to the same place as someone else because you have arranged to find him/her there: Let’s meet for lunch tomorrow. I could meet you at the coffee shop at 11.

med-i-tate /ˈmedəˌteɪt/ v. [I] to make yourself very calm by relaxing completely, and thinking only about one thing such as a sound or a religious idea —meditation /ˌmedəˌteɪʃən/ n. [U] med-i-ta-tive /ˈmedəˌtətɪv/ adj thinking deeply and seriously about something, or showing that you are doing this: He was in a meditative mood.

Med-i-ter-ra-ne-an /ˌmedəˌtərəˈniən/ n. the Mediterranean EARTH SCIENCES the areas of land surrounding the Mediterranean Sea (=sea between northern Africa and southern Europe), and the islands in it —Mediterranean adj.

medium-sized /ˈmiːdɪəmˌsaɪzd/ adj of middle size or amount: “What size do you wear?” “Medium.” Cook the soup over medium heat for 30 minutes. A man of medium height | The study focused on medium-sized cities.
by which a cell divides to become two cells, each new cell having only half the number of chromosomes of the original cell. During meiosis, the paired genes separate to form sperm or eggs.

meiosis /ˈmiʊəsis/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the process melt /mɛlt/ v. 1 [T] to change something from solid to liquid by heating. | Melt the butter, and add the chopped onion. | see picture on page 632 2 [I] to suddenly feel love or sympathy: My heart melted when I saw her crying. 3 melt in your mouth if food melts in your mouth, it is smooth and tastes good [Origin: Old English meltan]

melt away /mɛlt əˈweɪ/ phr. v. to disappear quickly and easily: He began to exercise regularly, and the weight melted away.

mellow /ˈmɛloʊ/ adj. 1 having a pleasant tune or a pleasant sound like music: a sweet mellow voice | mellow wine 2 friendly, relaxed, and calm: mellowed over the years 3 mellower, mellowest (also mellower) adj. 1 to become more relaxed and calm, or to make someone do this: She’s mellowed over the years 2 to mix or combine two or more different things together 3 to disappear quickly and easily: mellowed away 4 to make something or someone seem less important or less serious: mellow out melt down /mɛlt ˈdaʊn/ v. phr. to reduce something to its simplest form: We melted the metal down to make the shapes.

melted /ˈmɛltɪd/ adj. having or showing emotions that are strong and uncontrolled: a melted voice

melted /ˈmɛltɪd/ adj. having or showing emotions that are strong and uncontrolled: a melted voice

melt down /mɛlt ˈdaʊn/ v. phr. to reduce something to its simplest form: We melted the metal down to make the shapes.
melt-down /ˈmelt daʊn/ n. [C,U] a very dangerous situation in which the material in a nuclear reactor melts and burns through its container, allowing radioactivity to escape.

melting pot n. [C] a place where people from different races, countries, or social classes come and live together. People always refer to America as a melting pot.

member /ˈmiːbər/ n. [C] 1 someone who has joined a particular club, group, or organization: Are you a member of the French club? 2 Ben treats his dog like a member of the family. | Frank has been a staff member for 20 years. 1 one of a group of similar people or things: Cats and tigers are members of the same species. [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French membre, from Latin membrum] 2 [plural] all the members of a club, group, or organization: The membership will vote for a chairman tonight.

membrane /ˈmɪmbrən/ n. [C,U] biology a very thin substance similar to skin, that covers or connects parts of the body: The cell membrane has been damaged. | the membrane that covers the spinal cord | the nuclear membrane (a layer covering the nucleus of a living cell) see picture at cell.

memorial /ˈmɪmərɪəl/ adj. formal, making you expect something dangerous or bad: a menacing laugh memorial Day n. a U.S. national holiday on the last Monday in May, when people remember soldiers who were killed in wars.

memorialize /ˈmɪmərɪzaɪz/ v. [T] to learn and remember words, music, or other information: You should have your lines memorized by Friday.

memorabilia n. plural memorabilia things that you keep or collect because they relate to a famous person, event, or time: sports memorabilia memorandum /ˌmɛməˈrændəm/ n. (plural memoranda /ˌmɛməˈrændə/ or memorandums) [C] (formal) a memo memorize /ˈmɛməraɪz/ v. to remember words, music, or other information: You should have your lines memorized by Friday.

memory card n. [C,U] a small piece of electronic equipment inside a digital camera, a cell phone, or a small computer that you carry with you, used for storing photographs or information memory stick n. [C] (trademark) a small piece of equipment for storing information, that connects into a computer using a USB port. A Memory Stick can be removed and carried easily, and will fit into other computers.

memory /ˈmɛməri/ n. the plural of man menacing /ˈmɛnəsɪŋ/ adj. making you expect something dangerous or bad: a menacing laugh menace /ˈmɛnəs/ n. 1 [C] something or someone that is dangerous or extremely annoying: That man is a menace to society. 2 [U] a threatening quality or manner: There was real menace in her voice. [Origin: 1300–1400 French, Latin minacia, from minimi “to threaten”] me·ni·al /ˈmenəˌnal/ adj. [literary] a collection of animals kept primarily or privately for people to see men·dard /ˈmendərd/ n. [C] (literary) a collection of animals kept primarily or privately for people to see mend¹ /mend/ v. 1 [T] to repair a tear or hole in a piece of clothing: You’d better mend that shirt.

mend² n. be on the mend to be getting better after an illness men-da·cious /menˈdeʃəs/ adj. (formal) not truthful: The evidence was planted by mendacious police. —mendaciously adv.

men-di·cant or der /mɛnˈdɪkænt/ adj. [archaic] who live a holy life according to religious rules) who completely depend on the money or gifts that people give to them in order to live —mendicant adv.: mendicant monks me-ni·al /ˈmiːniəl/ adj. (disapproving) menial work is boring and needs no skill me-nin·ges /maˈnindʒiz/ n. [plural] BIOLOGY membranes (=substance like very thin skin) that completely cover and protect the brain and the spinal cord men-o·pause /ˈmiːnoʊpəʊz/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the time when a woman stops menstruating me-no·rah /ˈmiːnərɔː/ n. [C] a special CANDLE-STICK that holds seven CANDLES, used in Jewish ceremonies

'men's room n. [C] a room in a public place with toilets for men men·su·late /ˈmɛnsʃuːl, -ˈstrəlt/ v. [I] BIOLOGY when a woman menstruates every month, blood flows from her body —menstrual adj. menstruation men·tal /ˈmɛntl/ adj. [only before noun] relating to the mind, or happening in the mind: He has a history of severe mental problems. | Mental illness often runs in families. | The doctors were worried about her mental health. | I’m a little concerned about Jeremy’s mental state. | I made a mental note (made an effort to remember) to call Julie. | He conducted important research into the mental development of children. | Men: Why We Say Men's Room

men-tal·i·ty /ˈmɛntələti/ n. (plural mentalities) [C,U] a particular type of attitude or way of thinking: The crowd was gripped by a mob mentality. | The study investigates the mentality of people who commit violent crimes.

men-thol /ˈmɛnthoʊl, -ˈθəl/ n. [U] a substance that smells and tastes like MINT, used in medicine, candy, and cigarettes men-tion¹ /ˈmiːnʃən/ v. [T] to say or write about something in a few words: | I mentioned the idea to Joan, and she seemed to like it. | Helen mentioned (that) she had been feeling depressed.

men-tion² n. [C,U] the act of mentioning someone or something: Palmer was referring to an article in the Times.

men-tor /ˈmentər, -ˈtər/ n. [C] an experienced person who advises and helps a less experienced person: | Mentor, adviser of Odysseus’s son Telemachus in the ancient Greek Odyssey by Homer men·tor·ing /ˈmentərɪŋ/ n. [U] a system of using people who have a lot of experience and knowledge to advise other people

men-u /ˈmɛnjuː/ n. [C] 1 a list of all the kinds of food that are available in a restaurant: Can we see a menu, please? 2 the most popular dish on the menu ➔ RESTAURANT 2 It a list of things on a computer screen which you can ask the computer to do: Go to the Edit menu and select Copy. | a pull-down menu ➔ a list of choices which appears when you CLICK on a place on the screen.

2 don’t mention it (spoken) used in order to say in a friendly way that there is no need for someone to thank you: “Thanks for helping me out.” “Don’t mention it.” 3 not to mention sth said when you are adding a piece of information that emphasizes what you have been saying: He already has two houses and two cars, not to mention the boat.

mention³ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁴ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁵ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁶ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁷ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁸ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention⁹ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹⁰ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹¹ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹² n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹³ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹⁴ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹⁵ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹⁶ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.

mention¹⁷ n. [C] the act of mentioning someone or something in a conversation or piece of writing: | Any mention of the accident upset her. | The report made no mention of any financial difficulties.
meow

me-ow /miˈoʊ/ n. [C] the crying sound that a cat makes —meow v. [I] mer-can-ti-lism /ˈmərˌkənˌtəlˌizəm/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the idea that trade produces wealth, exports (goods sold to other countries) should be encouraged, and imports (goods bought from other countries) should be restricted mer-cenary2 adj. (disapproving) only interested in making money, and not caring about whether your actions are right or wrong mer-chan-dise /ˈmərˌtʃənˌdaɪz, -ˌdaɪz/ n. [U] ECONOMICS things that are for sale in stores: Several thousand dollars’ worth of merchandise was stolen.

mer-chant /ˈmərˌtʃaʊnt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who buys and sells large quantities of goods: a wine merchant mer-cy /ˈmərˌsə/ n. the mercy of the people who work on these ships mer-cer-ful2 adj. kind to people, rather than being cruel mer-cer-ful-ly /ˈmərˌsərfləl/ adv. fortunately, because a situation could have been much worse: At least her death was mercifully quick.

mer-cer-ize /ˈmərˌsərəˌzaɪz/ v. [I] to make something small or unimportant have a big effect: The mere thought of food made her feel sick.

me-ri-cy /ˈməriˌsaɪ/ n. [C] U SUFFIX to a word meaning: The word “mercy” is an example of a word that has the suffix “-cy” added to it. It means “the act of mercy.”

mer-ri-er /ˈmerɪrər/ adj. (comparative) more merciful mer-rifi-er /ˈmerɪrɪfiər/ adj. (superlative) most merciful me-ri-ful-ly /ˈməriˌfələl/ adv. fortunately, because a situation could have been much worse: At least her death was mercifully quick.

mer-ri-fy /ˈmərˌrɪfi/ v. (formal) to make someone become completely interested in something: The kids sat mesmerized in front of the TV.

mes-mer-ize /ˈmesəˌmərəˌzaɪz/ v. [T] to make someone become completely interested in something: The kids sat mesmerized in front of the TV.

mes-o-sphere /ˌmesəˌsfer/ n. the mesosphere EARTH SCIENCES the outer layer of the Earth’s lower atmosphere, from about 30 to 50 miles above the Earth —see picture at ATMOSPHERE

mes-o-zoi-c /ˌmesəˌzoʊəˈkɑː/ n. the Mesozoic EARTH SCIENCES the period of time in the Earth’s history, from about 250 million until about 65
A page of the dictionary is shown with various definitions and examples for the word "mess". The page contains definitions and usage notes for terms related to the concept of "mess", such as "messy", "messed up", "clean up", "messed with", and others. It also includes definitions and phrases for "metallic", "metal", "metallurgy", "metal pipe", "metal dector", and "metallic". The page is from a dictionary, likely a formal one, and includes examples of usage in sentences.
something else that has similar qualities, without using the words “like” or “as.” For example, the phrase “a river of tears” is a metaphor.

meth·a·done  /ˌmeθəˈdɑʊn/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a drug that is often given to people who are trying to stop taking heroin.

meth·a·dose  /ˌmeθəˈdoʊs/ n. [U] a planned way of doing something: I think we should try again using a different method.

methodolo·gy  /ˌmethəˈdɒlədʒi/ n. (plu·ral methodologies) [C,U] a set of methods and principles used when studying a particular subject or doing a particular type of work: More recently, studies have attempted to refine their research methodologies.

me·te·or·ite  /ˌmiːtroʊˈraɪtɪ/ n. [C,U] a small piece of rock or similar material in space. When a meteoroid enters the Earth’s ATMOSPHERE (without air surrounding the Earth), it becomes a meteor, and if it reaches the surface of the Earth, it is called a meteorite.

me·te·or·ic  /ˌmiːtroʊˈrɪk/ adj. happening very suddenly and usually continuing for only a short time: his meteoric rise to fame.
middle

The written abbreviation of METTLER

adj: the New York metropolitan area metrical /me’təl/ n. [U] (literary) courage and determination [OED] valor: an outstanding soldier who proved his mettle in battle many times

Mexican /meh-sek-kan/ adj: relating to or coming from Mexico mexican /meh-sek-kan/ n. [C] someone from Mexico

mez-za-nine /meh-zuh-nine/ n. [C] the floor or balcony just above the main floor in a theater, hotel, store, etc.

mg the written abbreviation of MILLIGRAM

MI the written abbreviation of MICHIGAN mi-carn /maik-ruhn/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a mineral that separates easily into small flat transparent pieces of rock, often used to make electrical instruments mice /maik-s/ n. the plural of MOUSE mi-crobe /maik-ruh-b/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an extremely small living creature that cannot be seen without a MICROSCOPE [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 micro- + Greek bios “life”] mi-cro-bi-o-lo-gy /maik-roh-bi-oh-LOH-je/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the scientific study of very small living things —microbiologist n. [C] mi-cro-brew-er-y /maik-ruh-brew-er-ee/ n. [plural microbreweries] [C] a small company that makes beer to sell, and often has a restaurant where its beer is served mi-cro-chip /maik-ruh-CHIP/ n. [C] a computer CHIP mi-cro-clim-a-te /maik-ruh-klim-uh-t/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES the general weather patterns in a small area, which are different from the weather patterns in the surrounding area mi-cro-cosm /maik-ruh-kohz-am/ n. [C,U] a small group, society, etc. that has the same qualities as a much larger one —macrocosm: San José’s mix of people is a microcosm of America.

mi-cro-fiche /maik-ruh-fich/ n. [C,U] a sheet of microfilm that can be read using a special machine, especially in a library mi-cro-film /maik-ruh-film/ n. [C,U] film used for making very small photographs of important documents, newspapers, maps, etc.

mi-cro-ga-na-sim /maik-ruh-gahn-uh-sim/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an extremely small living creature that cannot be seen without a microscope mi-cro-phone /maik-ruh-foun/ n. [C] a piece of electrical equipment that makes your voice sound louder when you hold it in front of your mouth while you are singing, giving a speech, etc.: Please speak clearly into the microphone.

mi-cro-pro-ces-sor /maik-ruh-pruh-sess-er/ n. [C] the main CHIP in a computer that controls most of its operations mi-cro-scope /maik-ruh-skouhp/ n. [C] a scientific instrument that makes extremely small things appear large enough to be seen: We looked at the insects under a microscope.

mi-cro-scop-ic /maik-ruh-skuhp-ik/ adj: extremely small; microscopic organisms mi-cro-wave /maik-ruh-wiv/ n. [C] 1 also microwave oven a type of oven that cooks food very quickly by using electric waves instead of heat 2 PHYSICS a very short electric wave used especially for cooking food, sending radio messages, and in RADAR microwave oven /maik-ruh-wiv-uh-nuhn/ n. an especially small type of oven that cooks food very quickly by using electric waves instead of heat microwave /maik-ruh-wiv/ v. [T] to cook something in a microwave mid-air /mid-uh/ n. in midair in the air or sky: The plane exploded in midair —midair adj: only before noun: a midair collision mid-day /mid-day/ n. [U] the middle of the day, around 12:00 p.m. [SYN] noon —midnight n. the middle of the night middle /mid/ n. 1 the middle the part that is nearest the center of something, and furthest from the sides, edges, top, bottom, etc. [SYN] center: Tom’s the guy in the middle. | Hannah’s toys were in the middle of the floor. | Why’s your car parked right in the middle of the road? 2 the middle the part that is between the beginning and the end of a period of time or an event, story, etc.: I fell asleep in the middle of class. 3 be in the middle of (doing) something to be busy doing something: Can I call you back later? I’m right in the middle of cooking dinner. [ORIGIN: Old English middei]

middle /mid/ adj: only before noun: 1 nearest to the center of something: The socks are in the middle drawer. | The middle lane was blocked off because of an accident. 2 half way through an event, action, or period of time, or between the beginning... and the end: 1 I missed the middle act of the play. 3 middle child/daughter/brother etc. the child, daughter, brother, etc. who is between the oldest and the youngest.

middle-aged adj: belonging or relating to the period of your life when you are about 45 to 65 years old: a middle-aged woman —middle age n. [U]

Middle Ages n: the Middle Ages HISTRY: the period in European history between the 5th and 15th centuries A.D.

Middle America n: 1 the MIDWEST 2 SOCIAL SCIENCE: average Americans who have traditional ideas and beliefs middle class n: the middle class also the middle classes a) SOCIAL SCIENCE: the group of people in society who are neither rich nor poor, especially people who are educated and work in professional jobs —lower class, upper class, working class b) HISTORY: in the past, the social class in Europe between noble people who owned land and peasants (=poor farmers), which included people who made or bought and sold things —middle-class adj.: middle-class families middle ear n: [singular] BIOLOGY: the central part of the ear, between the EARDRUM and the COCHLEA. The middle ear contains parts that make the movement of the sound waves stronger.

Middle East n: the Middle East the part of Asia that is between the Mediterranean Sea and the Arabian Sea, including countries such as Turkey and Iran —Far East —Middle Eastern adj.

middle finger n: [C] the longest finger in the middle of the five fingers on your hand —see picture at hand middle man /ˈmɪdlˌmæn/ n: [plural middlemen /-ˌmɛni/ /ˌmɪdlˌmen/ /-ˌmen/ /-ˌmɛn/] [C] someone who buys things in order to sell them to someone else, or who helps to arrange business deals for other people middle name n: [C] the name that, in English, comes between your first name and your family name middle-of-the-road adj: middle-of-the-road ideas, opinions, etc. are not extreme, so many people agree with them middle school n: [C] a school in the U.S. for students between the ages of 11 and 14 mid-et /ˈmɪdɪt/ n: [C] (offensive) a person who is very small because his/her body has not grown correctly mid-life crisis /ˌmɪdləˌkraɪsɪs/ n: [C usually singular] the worry and lack of confidence that some people feel when they are about 40 or 50 years old mid-night /ˈmɪdnɪt/ n: [U] 12 o’clock at night —noon, midnight: We arrived at midnight. | I fell asleep a little after/before midnight.

mid-point of a segment /ˌmɪdpɔɪnt əˈseɡmənt/ n: [C] MATH: a point that is in the middle of a segment (=line connecting two points), so that the segment is divided into two parts of equal length mid-riff /ˈmɪdrɪf/ n: [C] (formal) the front part of the body between your chest and your waist midst /ˈmɪdst/ n: in the midst of sth in the middle of something such as an event, situation, place, or group: The city is in the midst of a crisis.

mid-term /ˈmɪdˌtɜːm/ n: 1 [C] an examination that students take in the middle of a SEMESTER: I have a biology mid-term on Friday. —UNIVERSITY 2 [U] POLITICS: the middle of the period when an elected government has power —mid-term adj.

mid-way /ˌmɪdˈweɪ/ adj., adv. at the middle point between two places, or in the middle of a period of time or an event: There’s a gas station midway between here and Fresno. | He went silent midway through his speech.

mid-week /ˌmɪdˈwɛk/ adj., adv. on one of the middle days of the week, such as Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday: mid-week classes

Mid-west /ˌmɪdˈwest/ n: the Midwest the central northern area of the U.S. —Midwestern /ˈmɪdˈwestən/ adj.

mid-wife /ˈmɪdwɪft/ n: (plural midwives /-ˌwaɪvz/ /-ˌwɪvz/) [C] a specially trained nurse, usually a woman, whose job is to help women when they are having a baby miffed /ˈmɪft/ adj. (informal) annoyed

might /maɪt/ modal verb 1 used in order to talk about what was or is possible: I might be able to get free tickets. | They might not come until tomorrow morning. | She might have tried calling, but I’ve been out. 2 used instead of “may” when reporting what someone said or thought: I thought he might still be mad at me. 3 might as well (spoken) used to suggest that someone should do something because there is no good reason to do anything else: You might as well go fishing with your brother as sit around here all day. 4 used in order to give advice or make a suggestion: You might try calling the store. | You might want to get your blood pressure checked.

mighty /ˈmiːti/ n: [U] (literary) strength and power: She tried with all her might to push him away.

mighty adj.: strong and powerful: mighty warriors migrant /ˈmɪɡr@nt/ n: [C] someone who goes to another area or country, especially in migrant labor /ˈmɪɡr@nt ˈləbər/ n: [C] work, especially seasonal work done by migrant workers migrant worker /ˈmɪɡr@nt ˈwɜːkər/ n: [C] a person who works as a migrant labor order to find work • IMMIGRANT, EMIGRANT; migrant workers V Texas has a large population of migrant and seasonal farm laborers. 2 a bird or animal that travels from one part of the world to another, especially in the fall and spring: Most species of geese are migrants.

mi·grate /ˈmigrət/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 if birds or animals migrate, they travel to a different part of the world, especially in the fall and spring: More than 2 million ducks migrate to the lake each fall. 2 to go to another area or country for a short time, usually in order to find a place to live or work: During the 1980s, over 27 million people migrated from rural to urban areas. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin, past participle of migrare] • IMMIGRATE mi·gra·tion /ˌmigrəˈkeiʃən/ (Ac) n. [Cu] the action of a large group of birds, animals, or people moving from one area or country to another; the yearly migration of geese] The railroads were built to make migration and settlement easier: —migratory /ˌmigrəˈtərē/ adj.

mike /ˈmāk/ n. [C] (informal) a MICROPHONE mild /ˈmild/ adj. 1 not too severe or serious: a mild case of the flu mild criticism 2 not strong-tasting or spicy: mild cheddar cheese 3 if the weather is mild, it is not too cold or wet and not too hot: a mild winter 4 if a soap or beauty product is mild, it is gentle to your skin, hair, etc.

mil·deW /ˈmilˌdē/ n. [U] a white or gray substance that grows on walls and other surfaces in warm, slightly wet places —mildewed adj.

mil·dly /ˈmildli/ adv. 1 slightly: McKee was only mildly interested. 2 to put it mildly (spoken) said when you are saying something bad or severe in the most polite way that you can: We were not welcome there, to put it mildly. 3 in a gentle way without being angry: “Perhaps,” he answered mildly.

mil·e /ˈmil/ n. [C] 1 a unit for measuring distance, equal to 5,280 feet or about 1,609 meters: Mark jogs at least five miles a day. 2 we’re only a few hundred miles from Atlanta. 2 miles (informal) a very long distance: We walked for miles without seeing anyone. 3 talk a mile a minute (spoken) to talk very quickly without stopping [Origin: Old English meli, from Latin milia passum “thousands of paces”]

mil·e-age /ˈmilədʒ/ n. 1 [singular, U] the number of miles that a car has traveled since it was made or since a particular time: a used car with low mileage 2 [U] the number of miles a car can travel using each gallon of gasoline: Our car gets really good mileage (“=a lot of miles per gallon.” 3 get a lot of mileage out of sth to make something be as useful for you as it can be: I’ve gotten a lot of mileage out of that old joke.

mil·e·stone /ˈmiləˌstoun/ n. [C] a very important event in the development of something: a milestone in automotive history mi·lieu /ˌmilēˈyo/ n. (plural milieus) [Cu] (formal) all the things and people that surround you and influence you mi·l·i·tary /ˈmilətərē/ adj. 1 military the military organization of a country, such as the army and navy: My father is in the military. 2 in some countries women are not allowed to join the military.

mi·lit·i·a /ˈmilətēə/ n. [C] a group of people trained as soldiers who are not members of the permanent army mil·k /ˈmilk/ n. [U] 1 a white liquid that people drink, which is usually produced by cows or goats: a glass of milk. Would you like milk in your coffee? —milk sb/sth for sth to make something be as useful for you as it can be: I’ve gotten a lot of mileage out of that old joke.

mil·ky /ˈmilkē/ adj. 1 water or a liquid that is milky is not clear and looks like milk. 2 milky skin is white and smooth Milky Way

Milky Way n. 1. the Milky Way PHYSICS the pale white band made up of large numbers of stars, that you can see across the sky at night mill1 [mil/ n. [C] 1. a large machine used for crushing food such as corn, grain, or coffee into a powder 2. a building where materials such as paper, steel, or cotton cloth are made 3. a small machine used for crushing pepper or coffee (ONION: 1.2 Old English mylen, from Latin mola “mill, millstone”) mill2 v. [T] to crush grains in a mill mill around phr v. (informal) if a lot of people are milling around, they are moving around a place without any particular purpose: Students were milling around waiting for their pictures to be taken.

mil-len-ni-um /ma'leniəm/ n. (plural millennia) [C] 1. a period of 1,000 years 2. the time when a new 1,000-year period begins: the start of the new millennium mil-li-gram /ˈmɪlɪɡræm/ n. [C] (written abbreviation mg) a unit for measuring weight, equal to 1/1,000th of a gram mil-li-li-ter /ˈmɪlɪlɪtər/ n. [C] (written abbreviation ml) a unit for measuring liquids, equal to 1/1,000th of a liter mil-li-me-ter /ˈmɪlɪmiətər/ n. [C] (written abbreviation mm) a unit for measuring length, equal to 1/1,000th of a meter mil-lion /ˈmɪljən/ number 1. 1,000,000: $350 million 2. 4 million people 3. Don’t say “4 million of people.” 4. millions an extremely large number of people or things: I’ve heard that excuse a million times. 5. not/never in a million years (spoken) said in order to emphasize how impossible or unlikely something is: I never would have guessed in a million years. 6. one in a million the best of all possible people or things: People like Sue are one in a million. (source: 1500—1400 French; Old Italian milione, from mille “thousand” —milleth /ˈmɪlɪθ/ number mil-lion-aire /ˈmɪljənər/ n. [C] someone who is very rich and has at least one million dollars mime1 [ˈmaɪm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an actor who performs without using words, or a performance in which no words are used mime2 v. [I,I] to perform using actions and movements without any words: She stretched out her arms, miming a swimmer.

mim-ic1 [ˈmɪmɪk/ v. (past tense and past participle mimicked, present participle mimicking) [T] 1. to copy the way someone speaks, moves, or behaves, usually to make people laugh: Lily mimicked Sue’s Boston accent. 2. to behave or operate in exactly the same way as someone or something else: The drug mimics the action of the body’s own chemicals. —mimicry n. [U] mimic2 n. [C] a person or animal that is good at mimicking someone’s voice, appearance, etc. or something such as the sound of a machine

min. 1. the written abbreviation of minimum 2. the written abbreviation of minute or minutes mince /ˈmɛns/ v. [T] to cut food into extremely small pieces: Mince the onion and garlic. 2. not mince words to say exactly what you think, even if this may offend people: Stella has never been one to mince words. 3. [<il] to walk, using very small steps and moving your hips a lot mince-meat /ˈmɛnsmeɪt/ n. [U] a sweet mixture of apples, dried fruit, and spices, but no meat, used in pies mind1 [maɪnd/ n. 1. BRAIN [CU] your thoughts, or the part of your brain used for thinking and imagining things: Grandma’s mind is as sharp as ever. 2. What kind of plans did you have in mind (=what have you thought of doing)? 3. What’s on your mind (=what are you thinking about)?

2 change your mind to change your opinions or decision about something: If you change your mind and want to come, give us a call.

3 make up your mind to decide something, or become very determined to do something: Have you made up your mind which college you want to go to? Once she made up her mind to go, there was no stopping her.

4 cross/enter your mind if something crosses your mind, you think about it for a short period: It never crossed my mind that she might be unhappy.

5 be out of your mind (informal) to behave in a crazy or stupid way: Are you out of your mind?

6 go out of your mind/lose your mind (informal) to start to become mentally ill or behave in a crazy way: I’m going to lose my mind if I don’t find a new apartment soon.

7 on your mind if something is on your mind, you are thinking or worrying about it a lot: Sorry I didn’t call, but I’ve had a lot on my mind lately. Is there something on your mind?

8 have sb/sth in mind to have an idea about who or what you want for a particular purpose: Did you have anyone in mind for the job?

9 with sb/sth in mind while thinking about someone or something or considering that person or thing: Racing cars weren’t built with safety in mind.

10 come/spring to mind if something comes to mind, you suddenly think of it: She was so nervous she just started saying whatever came to mind.

11 state/frame of mind the way you are feeling, such as how happy or sad you are: I have to be in the right frame of mind before a game.

12–minded having a particular attitude, or believing that a particular thing is important: He was a mean, narrow–closed–minded old man (=he did not accept other ideas and opinions). politically–minded students

13 keep/bear sth in mind to remember something: Keep in mind that the bank will be closed tomorrow.

14 no one in his/her right mind (informal) no one who is sensible: No woman in her right mind would walk alone at night around here.

15 have/keep an open mind to be willing to accept new ideas and opinions: The mayor promises to keep an open mind on the issue of new schools.

16 take/get/keep your mind off sth to make you stop thinking about something: Dad needs a vacation to take his mind off work.

17 keep your mind on sth to keep paying attention to something, even if you want to think about something else: He could hardly keep his mind on what she was saying.

18 put your mind to sth to decide to do something and use a lot of effort in order to succeed: You can’t win if you just put your mind to it. [Origin: Old English gemyn] ➔ ONE-TRACK MIND, sth blows your mind ➔ BLOW, slip your mind at SLIP

mind² v. 1 [I,T] to feel annoyed, worried, or angry about something: Do you mind if I open the window? | Chicago’s a nice place to live if you don’t mind cold winters. | He doesn’t mind sleeping on the couch. | She doesn’t mind that her book has not been selling well.

2 do/would you mind used to ask politely if you can do something or if someone will do something: Do you mind if I use your phone? | Would you mind waiting here a minute? | 3 mind your own business to not ask questions about a situation that does not involve you, often used to tell someone rudely not to do this: Why doesn’t she mind her own business? | 4 I wouldn’t mind (doing) sth said when you would like something or would like to do something: I wouldn’t mind living in Minneapolis.

5 mind your manners to behave or speak in a polite way ➔ never mind at NEVER 'mind-boggling' adj. (informal) very difficult to imagine because of being so big, strange, or complicated: The number of insects living in the rainforest is mind-boggling.

mindful /ˈmɑːndfəl/ adj. behaving in a way that shows you remember a rule or fact: Mindful of the guide’s warning, they returned before dark.

mindless /ˈmɑːndli less/ adj. 1 so simple that you do not have to think about what you are doing: mindless work. 2 stupid and without any purpose: mindlessness n [U] mind-set /ˈmɑːndset/ n [C usually singular] someone’s general attitude, and the way in which s/he thinks about things and makes decisions

mine¹ /maɪn/ pron. the thing or things belonging or relating to the person who is speaking: Theresa’s coat is black. Mine is blue. | He doesn’t have a car, so I let him borrow mine. | Tom’s a good friend of mine.

mine² n. [C] 1 a type of bomb that is hidden just below the ground or under water, which explodes when someone or something touches it. 2 a deep hole or holes in the ground, from which gold, coal, etc. is dug: coal/gold etc. mines mine³ v. 1 [I,T] to dig into the ground in order to get gold, coal, etc.: men mining for gold. 2 [T] to hide bombs under the ground or in the ocean: The beaches were heavily mined.

'mine-field' /ˈmɑːn fɪld/ n. [C] 1 an area of land that has mines hidden in it. 2 a situation in which there are many hidden dangers: The issue is a political minefield.

'mine-er' /ˈmɑːnər/ n. [C] someone who works in a mine: a coal miner

'mine-ral' /ˈmɪnərəl/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a natural substance such as coal, rock, or salt that is present in the Earth: an area rich in minerals. 2 CHEMISTRY a substance such as CALCIUM or iron that is present in some foods and that is important for good health: Milk is full of valuable vitamins and minerals.

'miner-al ,water' n. [C,U] water that comes from underground and contains minerals

'mingle' /ˈmɪŋgl/ v. 1 [I,T] to meet and talk with a lot of different people at a social event: Reporters mingled with movie stars at the awards ceremony. 2 [I,T] if smells, sounds, feelings, etc. mingle, they combine with each other: anger mingled with disappointment and fear

'mini- /ˈmɪnɪ/ adj. (informal) small compared with others of the same type: a minivan | a mini-market (=a small food store)

'mini-a-ture' /ˈmɪnə tr/ n. 'mɪni ə tʃə rə, 'mɪnɪ ə tʃərə adjective. very small: a miniature camera

'mini-a-ture' /ˈmɪnə tr/ n. [C] 1 something that has the same appearance as someone or something, but is much smaller: This painting is a miniature of the one in the museum. 2 in miniature exactly like someone or something but much smaller: She has her mother’s face in miniature.

'mini-a-ture' /ˈmɪnə tr/ n. [C] a golf game, played for fun, in which you hit a small ball through passages, over small bridges and hills, etc.

'min-i-mal' /ˈmɪnə mel/ adj. very small in degree or amount: The damage caused by the fire was minimal. | Desert plants will stay healthy even with minimal watering. —minimally adv.

'min-i-mize' /ˈmɪnə mай z ə, ˈmɪnіˌmай z ə v. [T] 1 to make the degree or amount of something as small as possible: To minimize the risk of getting heart disease, eat well and exercise daily. 2 it to make a document or program on your computer very small when you are not using it but still want to keep it open: Click on the top of the window to minimize it.

'min-i-mum' /ˈmɪnə məm/ adj. the minimum number, amount, or degree is the smallest that it is possible to have (ant) maximum: You will need to make a minimum payment of $50 a month. | The factory owners wanted to get a minimum price fixed for their goods. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin minimum “smallest”]
minimum

minimum2 n [C usually singular] the smallest number, amount, or degree that it is possible to have (ant) maximum: Jim works a minimum of (at least) 50 hours a week. | Costs were kept to a minimum. | We must try to keep the use of pesticides to an absolute minimum.

minimum ‘wage n [singular, U] the lowest amount of money that can legally be paid per hour to a worker. Most four million Americans earn the minimum wage.

mining /ˈmɪnɪŋ/ n [U] the action or industry of digging gold, coal, etc. out of the ground min-i-se ries /ɪˈmɪnɪəriːz/ n (plural miniseries) [C] a television drama that is divided into several parts and shown on different nights min-i-skirt /ɪˈmɪnɪˌskɜːrt/ n [C] a very short skirt min-is-ter /ˌmɪnɪsˈtəːr/ n [C] 1 a religious leader in some Christian churches ➔ priest 2 a politician who is in charge of a government department in some countries: the Minister of Defense [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French ministre, from Latin minister “servant”]

min-is-te-ri-al /ˌmɪnɪsˈtɜːriəl/ adj relating to a minister, or done by a minister: The project was approved at ministerial level.

min-is-try /ˌmɪnɪstrɪ/ n (plural ministries) 1 the ministry the profession of being a church leader: Our son entered the ministry (=became a minister) two years ago. 2 [C usually singular] the work done by a religious leader 3 [C] a government department in some countries: the Foreign Ministry [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin ministerium, from minister “servant”]

min-i-vehicle /ˌmɪnɪˌvɛərəl/ n [C] a large vehicle with seats for six or more people ➔ see picture at transportation mink /mɪŋk/ n [C] a small animal with soft brown fur, or the valuable fur from this animal: a mink coat min-now /ˈmɪnəʊ/ n [C] a very small fish that lives in rivers, lakes, etc.

mi-nor1 /ˈmɪnər/ adj 1 small and not very important or serious, especially when compared with other things (ant) major: minor surgery | We made a few minor changes to the plan. | It’s only a minor injury. | Most of the changes in the law were relatively minor. ➔ Don’t say “minor than.” ➔ 2 ING. LANG. ARTS based on a musical scale in which the third note of the related major scale has been lowered by a half step [Origin: 1200—1300 Latin “smaller”] minor2 n [C] 1 LAW someone who is not old enough to be considered legally responsible for his/her actions: It’s illegal to sell cigarettes to minors.

minimum

minimum

minimum

minor

minor in 5th plr v to study a second main subject as part of your college degree: I’m minoring in history.

mi-nor-i-ty /ˈmɪnɔrəti/ n (plural minorities) 1 [C usually plural] a group of people of a different race or religion than most people in a country, or someone in one of these groups: ethnic/racial/religious minorities | The law prevents discrimination against minorities. 2 [singular] a small part of a larger group of people or things ➔ majority: Only a small minority of senators were in favor of a tax increase. | Opposition came from a small but vocal minority. 3 be in the minority to be less in number than any other group: Male teachers are very much in the minority at public schools.

minority2 adj relating to a group of people who do not have the same opinion, religion, race, etc. as most of the larger group that they are in: help for minority groups | minority students minor league n the minor leagues also the Minor Leagues the groups of teams that form the lower levels of American professional sports, especially baseball ➔ major leagues ➔ minor league team min-strel /ˈmɪnstrəl/ n [C] 1 a white singer or dancer who tried to look like an African-American person, and who performed in shows in the early part of the 20th century 2 a singer or musician in the Middle Ages mint /mɪnt/ n [C] 1 a candy with a strong fresh taste 2 [U] a plant with strong fresh-tasting leaves, used in cooking and making medicine ➔ peppermint 3 [C] a place where coins are officially made mint2 adj in mint condition looking new and in perfect condition: a 1957 Chevy in mint condition mint3 v [T] to make a coin mint-y /ˈmɪntɪ/ adj tasting or smelling of mint

mi-nus /ˈmɪnəs/ prep. 1 MATH used in mathematics when you subtract one number from another ➔ plus: 17 minus 5 is 12 (17 – 5 = 12) | the value of your assets minus tax ➔ calculate 2 (informal) without something that would normally be there: He came back from skate park minus a couple of front teeth.

minus2 n [C] 1 MATH a minus sign 2 something bad about a situation ➔ plus: There are pluses and minuses to living in a big city.

minus3 adj 1 A minus/B minus etc. a grade used in a system of judging a student’s work. A minus is lower than A, but higher than B plus. ➔ plus 2 minus 5/20/30 etc. less than zero, especially less than zero degrees in temperature → below: At night the temperature can go as low as minus 30.

minuscule /minəskyəl/ adj. extremely small: Her allowance is minuscule. a minuscule amount of food

ˈmi-nusˌsəɡən n. [C] MATH a sign (−) showing that a number is less than zero, or that the second of two numbers is to be subtracted from the first minute /ˈmiənt/ n. 1 [C] a period of time equal to 60 seconds; Ethel’s train arrives in 15 minutes. three minutes to/before 4:00 | 12 minutes after/past one 2 [C] a very short period of time: For a minute I thought he was serious. I’ll be ready in a minute. 3 wait a minute/just a minute/hold on a minute (spoken) a) used to ask someone to wait a short period of time while you do something: “Are you coming with us?” “Yes. Just a minute.” b) used when you want to tell someone that you do not agree with something she has said or done: Wait a minute – you said my car would be ready by 5:00! 4 last minute at the last possible time, just before something must be done or completed: Frank changed his mind at the last minute and decided to come after all. 5 the minute (that) as soon as: I knew it was Jill the minute I heard her voice. 6 any minute (now) (spoken) very soon: She should be here any minute now. 7 minutes plural an official written record of what is said and decided at a meeting. 8 [C] MATH one of the 60 parts into which a degree of an angle can be divided. It can be shown as a symbol after a number. For example, 78° 52’ means 78 degrees 52 minutes.

minute² /ˈmaɪnət/ adj. 1 extremely small: You only need a minute amount.

ˈmi-nət/ n. 2 paying attention to the smallest things or parts: Johnson explained the plan in minute detail.

miracle /ˈmaɪrkəl/ n. [C] 1 something lucky that happens when you did not expect it to happen or did not think it was possible: It’s a miracle (that) you weren’t killed! the country’s economic miracle 2 an action or event believed to be caused by God, which is impossible according to the ordinary laws of nature miracle cure/drug an effective treatment for a serious medical illness miraculously adv.

mirage /ˈmaɪræʒ/ n. [C] something you think you see that is not actually there, caused by hot air in a desert mire /ˈmaɪrə/ v. be mired in sth a) to be in a very difficult situation: an economy mired in recession. b) to be stuck in deep mud mirror¹ /ˈmaɪərə/ n. [C] 1 a piece of special flat glass that you can look at and see yourself in: the bathroom mirror a rearview mirror (= a mirror in a car, for looking behind you) He looked at himself in the mirror. 2 mirror image a system or pattern that is almost exactly the same as another one: This year’s election is a mirror image of the one in 1984. [Origins: 1200—1300 Old French mirour, from mirror “to look at,” from Latin mirare] mirror² v. [T] to represent or be very similar to something else: The election results mirrored public opinion.

mirth /məθ/ n. [U] (literary) happiness and laughter mis-ad-ven-ture /ˌmaɪsədˈvɛntʃər/ n. [C, U] bad luck or an accident mis-ap-propri-ate /ˌmaɪsəˈprɒpriət/ v. [T] (formal) dishonestly take something, especially money, that a company, organization, etc. has trusted you to keep safe —misappropriation /ˌmaɪsəˈprɒpriəʃən/ n. [U]

misc. the written abbreviation of MISCELLANEOUS

misc-cal-late /ˌmaɪsɪkəˈleɪt/ v. 1 to make a mistake in deciding how long something will take to do, how much money you will need, etc.: We miscalculated the time it would take to drive to Long Island. 2 to make a mistake when you are judging a situation: Republicans seem to have miscalculated the mayor’s popularity. —miscalculation /ˌmaɪsɪkəˈleɪʃən/ n. [C] miscarriage /ˌmaɪsəˈkɑːri/ n. [C-U] 1 the act of accidentally giving birth too early for the baby to live → ABORTION: She had a miscarriage and nearly died. 2 miscarriage of justice a situation in which someone is wrongly punished by a court of law for something she did not do miscar-ry /ˌmaɪsəˈkɑːri/ v. (miscarried, miscarriages) [I] to accidentally give birth to a baby too early for him/her to live miscel-la-ne-ous /ˌmaɪsələˈnɛs/ adj. made up of many different things or people that do not seem to be related to each other: a stack of miscellaneous papers mis-chief /ˈmaɪstʃə/ n. [U] bad behavior, especially by children, that causes trouble or damage but no serious harm: A group of kids were running around and making mischief (→ behaving in a way that causes trouble). Sports kept me out of mischief when I was growing up. [Origins: 1200—1300 Old French meschief “something bad that happens”] mischievous /ˈmɪʃiəvəs/ adj. a mischievous child likes to have fun by playing tricks on people or doing things to annoy or embarrass them.

mischievously adv. He smiled mischievously.

miscible /ˈmɪsɪbəl/ adj. CHEMISTRY miscible liquids or gases are able to mix and combine together completely into one liquid or gas. IMPLIES IMmiscible: Miscible liquids such as water and ethanol will diffuse (mix together).

mis-con-cep-tion /ˌmɪskənˈsepʃən/ n. [C,U] an idea that is wrong or untrue, but that people still believe: It’s a misconception that red meat cannot be part of a healthy diet.

mis-con-duct /ˌmɪskənˈdʌkt/ n. [U] (formal) bad: We had a few mishaps, nothing serious.

miscible liquidss ucha sw ater and ethanol will diffuse (mix together) and are able to mix and combine together.

mis-guid-ed /ˈmɪsɡwaɪd/ adj. 1 intended to be helpful but actually making a situation worse: a misguided attempt to impress her boss. 2 wrong because of being based on a wrong understanding of a situation: He became a teacher on the misguided belief that the hours were short.

mis-hand-le /ˈmɪshəndl/ v. [T] to deal with a situation badly, or not skillfully: The government mishandled the crisis.

mis-in-form /ˌmɪsɪnˈfɔːrm/ v. [T] to give someone information that is not correct: Patients were misinformed about their treatment.

mis-in-ter-pre-t /ˌmɪsɪnˈtərprət/ [Ac] v. [T] to not understand the correct meaning of something that someone says or does: They may misinterpret your actions as a sign of weakness.

mis-lead /ˈmɪzəld/ v. (past tense and past participle misled) [T] to make someone believe something that is not true by giving him/her false or incomplete information: a deliberate attempt to mislead the public.

mis-led-ly /ˈmɪzədli/ adv. likely to make someone believe something that is not true: Statistics can be very misleading.

mis-man-age /ˈmɪzəməndʒ/ v. [T] if someone mismanages something s/he is in charge of, s/he deals with it badly: This project’s been completely mishandled.

mis-match /ˈmɪzmætʃ/ n. [C] a combination of things or people that do not work well together or are not appropriate for each other: There seems to be a mismatch between skills and jobs.

mis-lay /ˈmɪzləɪ/ v. make sth up, tell (sb) a lie, invent, deceive, perjure yourself/commit perjury, falsify = LIE2 mis-match- ed /ˈmɪzmætʃt/ adj. when the snowstorm hit.

mis-og-nyn /ˌmɪsəˈdʒənɪst/ n. [C] (formal) a man who hates women —misogynistic /ˈmɪsədʒənɪstɪk/ adj.
mis-place /'mɪspleɪs/ v [T] to put something somewhere and then forget where you put it: I've misplaced my glasses again.

mis-placed /'mɪspleɪst/ adj. misplaced feelings of trust, love, etc. are inappropriate because the person that you have these feelings for does not deserve them: a misplaced sense of loyalty.

mis-print /'mɪsprɪnt/ n [C] a mistake in a book, magazine, etc.

mis-pro-nounce /'mɪsprənəʊns/ v [T] to pronounce a word or name wrongly —mispronunciation /'mɪsprənəʊnsɪʃən/ n [C.U] mis-quote /'mɪskwəut/ v [T] to make a mistake in reporting what someone else has said or written: Morales claims the magazine misquoted him.

mis-read /'mɪsriːt/ v (past tense and past participle misread /'mɪsriːd/) [T] 1 to make a wrong judgment about a situation or person —misinterpret: The UN badly misread the situation. 2 to read something in the wrong way: I misread the schedule and missed my bus.

mis-rep-re-sent /'mɪsprepərəsent/ v [T] to deliberately give a wrong description of someone’s opinions or of a situation: She misrepresents our aims have been misrepresented in the press. —misrepresentation /'mɪsprepərəsentəʃən/ n [C.U]

miss1 /mɪs/ v 1 [T] to not go somewhere or do something, especially when you want to but cannot: Sorry I missed your call. She didn’t want to miss a chance/opportunity to work in Hollywood. 2 [T] to be too late for something: By the time we got there, we’d missed the beginning of the movie. | You’ll miss your plane/train/bus unless you leave now. 3 [T] to feel sad because you are not with a particular person, or because you no longer have something or are no longer doing something: Did you miss me while I was gone? | I miss living in London. 4 [T] to not hit or catch something: She missed at the target but missed. | Jackson missed an easy catch and the A’s scored. 5 miss the point to not understand the main point of what someone is saying 6 [T] to not see, hear, or notice something: Jody found an error that everyone else had missed. | It’s a big red house with a small pond in front – you can’t miss it. 7 [T] to notice that something or someone is not in the place you expect him, her, or it to be: I didn’t miss my key until I got home. 8 miss the boat (informal) to fail to take an opportunity that will give you an advantage: Investors who failed to buy the stock when it was first listed have missed the boat.

miss out pvr. v. to not have the chance to do something that you enjoy: You’re the one who’ll miss out if you don’t come. | She got married very young, and now she feels she’s missing out on life.

miss2 n 1 Miss Smith Jones etc. used in front of the family name of a woman who is not married in order to speak to her politely, write to her, or talk about her —Mrs., Ms. 2 [C] a failed attempt to hit, catch, or hold something 3 used to speak politely to a young woman when you do not know her name: Excuse me, miss, you’ve dropped your umbrella.

mis-shap-en /'mɪsʃæpən/ adj. 1 not the normal or natural shape: He was born with a misshapen spine.

mis-sie /'mɪsɪ/ n [C] 1 a weapon that can fly over long distances and that explodes when it hits something: a nuclear missile. 2 [formal] an object that is thrown at someone in order to hurt him/her.

miss-ing /'mɪsɪŋ/ adj. 1 something or someone that is missing is not in the place where you would normally expect him, her, or it to be: Police are still searching for the missing child. | A button on his shirt was missing. | $200 was missing from my desk drawer.

2 not included, although it ought to have been: Why is my name missing from the list? 3 missing in action a soldier who is missing in action has not been seen after a battle, and is probably dead.

mis-sion /'mɪʃən/ n [C] 1 an important job that someone has been given to do: His mission was to help the president win re-election. 2 a group of people who are sent by their government to another country for a particular purpose: a Canadian trade mission to Japan. 3 the purpose or the most important aim of an organization: Each school’s central mission should be to teach reading, writing, and arithmetic.

misspell /'mɪsˌspɛl/ v [T] to spell a word incorrectly —misspelling n [C.U] mist /mɪst/ n [C.U] cloud that is close to the Use lost in order to describe something that someone cannot find, or someone who does not know where s/he is: a lost ball! We took a wrong turn and got lost. Use missing in order to describe someone or something you have been looking for, especially when the situation is serious: We’re still trying to locate the missing money.

USAGE

THE SAU S

goal, aim, objective, target —goal

4 something that you feel you must do because it is your duty: She feels her mission in life is to help poor people. 5 a special trip made by a spacecraft or military airplane: a mission to Mars. 6 the work of a missionary, or a building where s/he does this work (origin: 1500–1600 Latin missio “act of sending,” from mittere “to send, throw.”) mist

2 something you do that you later realize was not the right thing to do: Marrying him was a big mistake. | I made the mistake of giving him my phone number. | We need to start learning from our mistakes.

3 by mistake if you do something by mistake, you do it without intending to: I brought the wrong book home by mistake. | [Origin: 1300–1400 Old Norse mistraka]

mistake2 n. (past tense mistook /ˈmɪstʊk/, past participle mistaken /ˈmɪstɪkən/) mistake sb/sth for sb/sth v. to think that one person or thing is someone or something else: I mistook him for his brother.

mistaken /ˈmɪstɪn/ adj. wrong about something: I think the party is next week, but I might be mistaken. | We bought the rug in Turkey, if I’m not mistaken.

mistakenly adv.

mistake /ˈmɪstrɪk/ n. 1 the full form of Mr. 2 (spoken, old-fashioned) said in order to speak to a man when you do not know his name → sir: Hey, mister, is this your wallet?

mistletoe /ˈmɪstəˌtoʊ/ n. [U] a plant with small white berries that is often used as a decoration at Christmas.

mistaken /ˈmɪsten/ adj. failure to understand something or a question, situation, or instruction: I think you misunderstood me and I am at fault.

mistakenly adv.

mistake /ˈmɪstrɪk/ v. to use something in the wrong way or for the wrong purpose: If you mix sugar and pepper, you will ruin the dish.

misuse /ˈmɪsjuːz/ v. [T] to use something in the wrong way or for the wrong purpose: He faces a charge of misusing state funds for his re-election campaign.

mite /ˈmaɪt/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a very small insect that lives in plants, carpets, etc.; dust mites 2 a mite (old-fashioned) a little: The hotel was a mite expensive.

mixture /ˈmɪʃərətʃ/ n. 1 misis /ˈmaɪsɪs/ n. [C] a woman who has authority over servants or animals → MISTRESS

mix /ˈmɪks/ v. 1 [T] if you mix two or more substances, or if they mix, they combine to become a single substance: Oil and water don’t mix. | Mix

mix /ˈmɪks/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the process by which a cell divides to become two cells, each new cell having the same number of chromosomes as the original cell → MEIOSIS mitigate /ˈmɪtɪɡeɪt/ v. [T] to reduce the severity of something: The government has mitigated the cuts in healthcare.

mitigate /ˈmɪtɪɡeɪt/ v. [T] if you mitigate a problem, you reduce the severity of something: The government has mitigated the cuts in healthcare.

mite /ˈmaɪt/ n. [C] a type of leather glove used for catching a ball in baseball 2 a glove made of thick material, worn to protect your hand: an oven mitt mitigate /ˈmɪtɪɡeɪt/ v. [T] to reduce the severity of something: The government has mitigated the cuts in healthcare.

mix /ˈmɪks/ v. 1 [T] if you mix two or more substances, or if they mix, they combine to become a single substance: Oil and water don’t mix. | Mix
the butter and sugar together, and then add the milk. | Mix the beans thoroughly with the sauce.

thesaurus

mix – to combine two or more things together, or to be joined together with another thing:

Combine the ingredients and beat until smooth.

stir – to mix a liquid or food by moving a spoon around in it: Reduce the heat and stir until thickened.

blend – to mix together soft or liquid substances to form a single smooth substance: Blend the yogurt with fresh fruit for a wonderful drink.

activity: I don’t want my kids getting mixed up in drugs.

If you get mixed up with bad influence on you: those people, you’ll end up in jail.

up in sth

in a situation or to attack him/her: Some protesters attacked the police.

mixed blessing

They were a mixed group, predominantly young, but there were some older people too.

We had mixed feelings about moving to New York.

Took many people were giving her advice and mixing her up.

There was a mixed blessing.

types of things or people:

- other children.
- other things.
- other people.
- other ideas, groups of things, etc.
- another person or thing:
  - eggs and sugar with an electric mixer.
  - eggs and milk.

the particular combination of any things that form a group:

There was a strange mixture of people at Larry’s party.

2 [U] to combine two or more different activities, ideas, groups of things, etc.: Their music mixes jazz and rock.

I don’t mix business with pleasure.

mixed up with sb

- to mix together to make something: Beat the eggs and sugar with an electric mixer.
- with sb to be involved with someone who has a bad influence on you: If you get mixed up with those people, you’ll end up in jail.
- in sth to be involved in an illegal or dishonest activity: I don’t want my kids getting mixed up in drugs.

sing

- to make something:
  - to join two or more things together, or to be joined together with another thing:
    - the particular combination of things that form a group: There was a strange mixture of people at Larry’s party.
  - to combine two or more different activities, ideas, groups of things, etc.
  - one consisting of many different types of things or people: a can of mixed nuts
  - made up of different things or people that form a group:
    - a combination of substances that you mix together to make something: cake mixture made by mixing several substances together:
      - the cake mixture into a pan and bake it for 45 minutes.

to be unsure

- to be unsure about whether you like or agree with something:
  - to make something:
    - to mix two or more different things, substances, etc. that are used or put together: Doctors use a combination of drugs to combat the disease.
    - to mix two or more things: The salad dressing is an interesting blend of oil, vinegar, and spices.
    - a chemical compound is a substance that consists of two or more different substances: Carbon dioxide is a common compound found in the air.
    - a liquid mixed with a solid or a gas: a weak sugar solution to change the way

- to change the way something that is good for mixing different substances together: Beat the eggs and sugar with an electric mixer.

- to change the way something is good:
  - to make something:
    - a lot of people in it: The beach was mobbed with people.
  - to join two or more things together, or to be joined together with another thing:
    - a large noisy crowd, especially one that is angry and violent: A mob of protesters attacked the police.
    - a large noisy crowd, especially one that is angry and violent: A mob of protesters attacked the police. | The thieves were lynched by an angry mob.

- a large noisy crowd, especially one that is angry and violent: A mob of protesters attacked the police.

- a large noisy crowd, especially one that is angry and violent: A mob of protesters attacked the police. | The thieves were lynched by an angry mob.

- to move or be moved easily:
  - I’m much more mobile now that I have a car.

mobile

- to move or be moved easily: I’m much more mobile now that I have a car.

- to move or be moved easily:
  - I’m much more mobile now that I have a car.
mobile
Latin mobilis, from moveo “to move” —mobility məˈbilətē  n. [U]: elderly people with limited mobility mo·bi·lize /məˈbīˌlīz/ v. [T] 1 to gather together, or be brought together, in order to work to achieve something difficult: Forces have been mobilized to defend the capital. 2 mobilize support/opposition to encourage people to support or oppose something —mobilization /ˈmōbələˌzāˈshən/ n. [U] mob·ster /ˈmōb斯特/ n. [C] (informal) a member of the Mafia moc·ca·sin /ˈmōkəˌsən/ n. [C]: a flat comfortable shoe made of soft leather [origin: 1600—1700 Virginia Algonquian mockastin] mock /mōk/ v. [I, T] to laugh at someone or something and try to make him, her, or it seem stupid, especially by copying his, her, or its actions or speech: Wilson mocked Joe’s southern accent. | Are you mocking me? —mockingly adv.
mock adj. not real: a mock debate | mock horror/ surprise mock·ery /məˈkərē/ n. 1 a make a mockery of sth to make something such as a plan or system seem completely useless or ineffective: The trial made a mockery of justice. 2 [U] the act of laughing at someone or something and trying to make him, her, or it seem stupid or silly mock·ing·bird /ˈmōkəŋˌbərd/ n. [C] an American bird that copies the songs of other birds modal verb also modal adj. [C] (eng. lang. arts in grammar, a verb that is used with other verbs to change their meaning by expressing ideas such as possibility, permission, or intention. In English, the modals are “can,” “could,” “may,” “might,” “shall,” “should,” “will,” “would,” “must,” “ought to,” “used to,” “have to,” and “had better.” —auxiliary verb mode /mōd/ n. [C] (formal) a particular way of behaving or living, or doing something: a very efficient mode of transportation | artists use various modes of expression, such as painting and poetry. 2 [plural] math the middle number in a set of numbers that are arranged in order of size —mean, median mod·el /ˈmōdəl/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to show clothes, hair styles, etc. by wearing them and being photographed: a top fashion model 2 a small copy of a vehicle, building, machine, etc., especially one that can be put together from separate parts: They showed us a model of the building. 3 someone who is employed by an artist or photographer in order to be painted or photographed 4 a person or thing that is a perfect example of something good and is therefore worth copying: It served as a model for other cities. | Shelly’s essay is a model of care and neatness. —role model 5 a particular type or design of a vehicle, machine, weapon, etc.: Ford has two new models coming out in October.

6 science a description of a system or structure that is used to help people understand similar systems or structures: early astronomers constructed a model of the universe in purely geometric terms.
model adj. 1 model airplane/train/car etc. a small copy of an airplane, etc., especially one that can be put together from separate parts 2 model wife/employee/school etc. a person or thing that is a perfect example of its type model v. 1 [I, T] to wear clothes in order to show them to possible buyers 2 [I, T] to be employed by an artist or photographer in order to be painted or photographed 3 [I] to copy a system or way of doing something: Their education system is modeled on the French one. 4 model yourself after sb to try to be like someone else because you admire him/her: The young singer modeled himself after Frank Sinatra. 5 [T] to make small objects from materials such as wood or clay mod·el·ing /ˌmōdəlˈing/ n. [U] 1 the work of a fashion model: a career in modeling 2 the activity of making models or objects: clay modeling mod·ern·ist /ˌmōdərnˈist/ n. [C] a piece of electronic equipment that allows information from one computer to be sent along telephone wires to another computer —internet mod·erate /ˈmōdərət/ adj. 1 neither very big nor very small, very hot nor very cold, very fast nor very slow, etc.: a moderate temperature | moderate exercise can reduce the risk of heart disease. 2 having opinions or beliefs, especially about politics, that are not extreme and that most people consider reasonable: a moderate Republican/Democrat | moderate voters mod·er·ate·ly /ˈmōdərətli/ adv. fairly but not very: a moderately successful company mod·er·a·tion /ˌmōdəˈrāshən/ n. 1 in moderation if you do something in moderation, you do not do it too much: You’ve got to learn to drink in moderation. 2 [U] (formal) control of your behavior, so that you keep your actions, feelings, habits, etc. within reasonable or sensible limits the·sa·rus /ˈθeərəs/ n. type, kind, sort, category, brand, make → type

MO
modern

/ˈmɒdən/ adj 1 belonging to the present time or the most recent time: modern American history Computers are an essential part of modern life. The country is suffering one of its worst economic crises in modern times.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v (modified, modifies) [T] to make small changes to something in order to improve it: The car’s been modified to go faster. Many of these ideas, in modified form, still interest scientists today.

modernly

/ˈmɒdənlɪ/ adv: the modernization of the railroads

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v to change, alter, adapt, adjust, revise, amend: to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.

modernize

/ˈmɒdənaɪz/ v [T] to change something so that it is more modern, by using new equipment or methods: We’re modernizing the whole house, starting with a new bathroom.
mold /ˈmould/ n. 1 [U] a soft green or black substance that grows on old food and on objects that are in warm, slightly wet places 2 [C] a hollow container that you pour liquid into, so that when the liquid becomes solid, it takes the shape of the container: a candle mold shaped like a star.

moldy /ˈmouldi/ adj. covered with mold; moldy bread mole /ˈmoul/ n. [C] 1 a small brown mark on the skin that is sometimes slightly higher than the skin around it.

mole- /ˈmoul/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY one or more atoms that form the smallest unit of a particular substance: a single water molecule. [Origin: 1700—1800 French molecule, from Latin moles "mass"] —molecular /ˈməʊləˌkjʊlær/ adj.

mo·lest /ˈmoʊlst/ v. [T] 1 to shape a solid substance by pressing or rolling it, or by putting it into a mold: a figure of a man molded out of clay 2 to influence the way someone's character or attitudes develop: I try to take young athletes and mold them into team players.

mold·ing /ˈmɔldɪŋ/ n. [C,U] a thin line of stone, wood, plastic, etc. used as decoration around the edge of something such as a wall, car, or piece of furniture mold·ing /ˈmɔldɪŋ/ v. [T] to cover something, for example a wall, car, or piece of furniture with mold: a wall, car, or piece of furniture with mold.

mold·y /ˈmɔldi/ adj. covered with mold: moldy bread

mole· /ˈmoul/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small animal with brown fur that lives in holes in the ground, and that cannot see well, to see picture at RODENT. 3 someone who works for an organization, especially a government, in order to secretly give information about it to its enemy. 4 also mol chemistry an amount of a substance that contains 6.0225 x 10^23 atoms, molecules, etc., which is equal to the number of atoms in 12 grams of CARBON-12.

mole·cule /ˈmoulˌkyʊəl/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY one or more atoms that form the smallest unit of a particular substance: a single water molecule. [Origin: 1700—1800 French molecule, from Latin moles "mass"] —molecular /ˈməʊləˌkjʊlær/ adj.

mom·ent /ˈməʊmənt/ n. [C] 1 a very short period of time: a minute: Robert paused for a moment. I'll be back in a moment. Could you wait just a moment? He was here a moment ago. Denise arrived moments later. 2 a particular point in time: Just at that moment, Shelly came in. I knew it was you the moment (that) I heard your voice. He said he loved her the moment (that) he met her. At that very exact, precise moment, the phone rang. 3 at the moment: now. Japanese food is popular at the moment. 4 any moment soon: The attack could come at any moment. 5 for the moment: used in order to say that something is happening now but will probably change in the future: For the moment, she decided not to argue. 6 a particular period of time when you have a chance to do something: It was her big moment (important chance). She took a deep breath and began to play. I spoke out against sexism, but now she has to choose her moments (= choose the best time) carefully.

mo·men·tar·i·ly /ˈmoʊməntərəˈliː/ adv. for a very short time: The car slowed down momentarily. very soon: I'll be with you momentarily.

mo·men·tar·y /ˈmoʊməntərɪ/ adj. continuing for a very short time: a momentary silence mo·men·tos·us /ˈmoʊməntəs, mə-ˌlətəs/ adj. a momentous event, occasion, decision, etc. is very important, especially because of the effects it will have in the future: the momentous events of the past year mo·men·tum /ˈmoʊməntəm/ n. 1 the ability to keep increasing, developing, or being more successful: Leconte won the first set, then seemed to lose momentum. Cellular phone use has gained/gathered momentum in the past few years. 2 the force that makes a moving object keep moving: I'd gained/gathered so much momentum (= moved faster and faster) that I couldn't stop. Origin: 1600—1700 Latin "momentum, moment." From move(r) "to move."

mom·ma /ˈməmə/ n. [C] (spoken) mother mom·my /ˈmomɪ/ n. (plural mommies) [C] (spoken) mother —RELATIVE mon·arch /ˈmonərk/ n. [C] a king or queen. [Origin: 1400—1500 Late Latin monarcha, from Greek, from mon- + archos (from archein "to rule") mon·arch·ies /ˈmonərklɪz/ n. (plural monarchies) 1 [U] the system in which a country is ruled by a king or queen.

mom·ent /ˈməʊmənt/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a process in which a bird or animal loses its hair, feathers, skin, or shell so that new hair, etc. can grow 2 [C] a country that is ruled by a king or queen

mon-as-ter-y /mənəˈsteri/ n (plural monasteries) [C] a building or group of buildings in which monks live ➔ convent [Origin: 1300—1400 Late Latin monasterium, from Greek, from monastein “to live alone”]

mo-nas-tic /məˈnæstɪk/ adj relating to monks or a monastery

Mon-day /ˈmʌndeɪ/ Mon., -day (written abbreviation Mon.) n (plural Mondays) [C,U] the second day of the week, between Sunday and Tuesday: The results will be announced Monday. | We’ll see you next Monday. | Kelly arrived last Monday. | I’ll call you first thing Monday morning. [Origin: from Old English monaa disgusted “day of the moon”]

mon-e-tary /ˈmɒnəteri/ adj. ECONOMICS relating to money, especially all the money in a particular country: France’s monetary policy

mon-ey /ˈmɒni/ n [U] 1 what you earn by working and in use to buy things, for example coins or special pieces of paper ➔ cash, currency: $250 is a lot of money. | the amount of money California spends on schools | Teachers don’t make enough money. | We’re trying to save enough money for a trip to Europe. | Women tend to spend their money on their families. | I forgot my wallet—do you have enough money to pay for the meal? | Buying a used truck is a waste of money. | The raffle is to raise money for the school. | Plumbers can make good money (=good wages). | a business that is losing money (=earning less money than it spends)

SPOKEN PHRASES
4 this/that kind of money a phrase meaning a lot of money, used when you think something costs too much, when someone earns a lot more than other people, etc.: The rent was $5,250, and I just don’t have that kind of money. | 5 pay good money for sth to spend a lot of money on something: I paid good money for those shoes! | 6 for my money used when giving your opinion about something, to emphasize that you believe it strongly: For my money, Williams was a much better ballplayer. | 7 put your money where your mouth is to show by your actions that you really believe what you say: The legislature needs to put its money where its mouth is regarding the environment. | 8 money is no object in order to say that you can spend as much money as you want to on something

MO-NY

THE SAURUS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Types of money</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>bill — paper money: a $20 bill</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>coin — metal money: old coins</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>penny — a coin worth 1 cent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nickel — a coin worth 5 cents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dime — a coin worth 10 cents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>quarter — a coin worth 25 cents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cash — money in the form of coins and bills: I didn’t have enough cash, so I paid by check</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>change — money in the form of coins: Do you have any change for the phone?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>currency — the money used in a particular country: He had $500 worth of Japanese currency</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2 all the money that a person, country, or organization owns: Is Ed just marrying her for her money? | I think he made his money on the stock market. | 3 get your money’s worth to think that something you have paid to do or see was worth the price that you paid: Fans should get their money’s worth |

SPRANK PHRASES
4 this/that kind of money monkey bars

how to do it correctly: They should stop monkeying around with the tax system.

mon·o monop•o•ly

mon•o•cot•y•le•don

mon•o•mer

mon•o•nu•cle•o•sis

mon•o•chro•mat•ic

monkey bars

mo•no•mi•al

m@'nApl@'lIstIk adj monosyllabic word has only one syllabic response mo•no•ny

monosyn-
Talking about months

Use in to talk about a month but not about a particular date in that month: The concert is on August 29th. She finishes school on the nineteenth of July.

You can use next to talk about a month in the year after the present one: They’re getting married next June.

You can also use this or this coming to talk about a month in the very near future: This coming October, my daughter turns 15.

You can use last to talk about a month before the present one: She left last October.

You can also use this or this past to talk about a month in the very recent past: He returned to Los Angeles this past July.

mood /ˈmoud/ n. [C] the way you feel at a particular time: You’re certainly in a good mood today.

mood /ˈmoud/ adj. (comparative moodier, superlative moodiest) 1 (disapproving) someone who is moody becomes angry or sad quickly: a moody teenager 2 making people feel sad, worried, or frightened: the song’s moody lyrics

moon /ˈmoun/ n. 1 the Moon also the moon PHYSICS the round object that shines in the sky at night: The moon rose over the frozen lake. 2 the craters on the surface of the Moon ➔ SPACE ➔ see picture at SOLAR SYSTEM 3 [singular] the shape of this object as it appears at a particular time: There’s no moon tonight (=it cannot be seen). 4 [full moon] (the moon when it looks completely round) 5 the new moon (=the moon when it first appears again in the sky as a thin crescent) 6 [C] PHYSICS a large round object that moves around PLANETS other than the Earth: Saturn has several moons. [Origin: Old English mona] ➔ once in a blue moon at once!

moonlight /'mounlIt/ adj. made brighter by the light of the moon: a beautiful moonlit night

moonshine /ˈmounʃain/ n. [U] (informal) strong alcohol that is produced illegally mop /mɒp/ n. [C] a large amount of thick messy hair: a mop of curly hair mop /mɒp/ v. (mopped; mopping) [T] 1 to wash a floor with a wet mop mop /ˈmʊp/ adj. (comparative; superlative) ➔ clean, do the housework, vacuum, sweep (up), scrub ➔ clean.

2 to remove liquid from a surface by rubbing it with a cloth or something soft; He mopped his face with a napkin.

mop sth ↔ up pbr. v. to clean liquid off a surface using a mop, cloth, or something soft: We mopped up the spill with a rag.

mope /moup/ also mope around v. [I] to pity yourself and feel sad, without trying to be happier: Jack just moped around the house all day feeling guilty.

mo·ped /mo·péd/ n. [C] a vehicle like a bicycle with a small engine mo·raine /mo·rān/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES rock, sand, clay, etc. that is pushed along in front of a glacier when it moves forward, and that is left in place when the glacier melts mor·al1 /mor·əl, ‘morəl/ adj. [usually before noun] 1 relating to the principles of what is right and wrong behavior, and the difference between good and evil (immoral: a moral issue such as the death penalty) [There are doubts about his ethical and moral standards/values. | a moral responsibility/obligation/duty to help the poor. 2 moral support encourage that you give by expressing approval or interest, rather than by giving practical help: I went along to offer moral support. 3 moral victory a situation in which you show that your beliefs are right and fair, even if you do not win. 4 always behaving in a way that is based on strong principles about what is right and wrong: a moral man mor·al2 n. 1 morals [plural] principles or standards of good behavior, especially in matters of sex: You’re dealing with someone who has no morals or ethics.

THE THESAURUS

ethics – moral rules or principles of behavior for deciding what is right and wrong: Corporations should learn to care about ethics as much as profit standards – moral principles about what kind of behavior and attitudes are acceptable: Are the country’s moral standards lower than in the past?

values – your beliefs about what is right and wrong, or about what is important in life: Children should learn values from their parents.

principles – a set of rules or ideas about what is right and wrong that influences how you behave: He tries to live according to his Christian principles.

scrapes – a belief about what is right and wrong that prevents you from doing something bad: No one should set aside their moral scrapes when they go to work.

mores (formal) – the customs, social behavior, and moral values of a particular group: During the 1960s, American sexual mores began to change.

2 (C) a practical lesson about how to behave that you learn from a story or from something that happens to you: The moral of the story is that crime doesn’t pay.

mo·rale /məˈraːl/ n. [U] a person’s or group’s morale is how good, bad, or confident they feel about their situation: The employees’ morale is low/high (bad/good).

mor·al·ist·ic /ˌmorəlˈis-tik/ ·mor·əl/- adj. (disapproving) having very strong beliefs about what is right and wrong, and about how people should behave: …moralist /ˌmorəl-list/, ‘morəl/- n. [C] mo·ral·i·ty /ˌmorəl-ə-te/ n. [U] 1 beliefs or ideas about what is right and wrong, and about how people should behave: declining standards of morality. 2 the degree to which something is right or acceptable: a discussion on the morality of the death penalty mor·al·ize /morəlˈaɪz, ‘morəl-/ v. [I] (disapproving) to tell other people your ideas about right and wrong behavior, and about how people should behave mor·al·ly /morəl-ˈleɪ/, ‘morəl-/- adv. 1 according to moral principles about what is right and wrong: It wasn’t against the law, but it was morally wrong. 2 in a way that is good and right: He tried to act morally.

mor·a·lis·a·tion /ˌmorəlisˈe-ˈkeɪ-shən/ n. 1 a complicated and confusing situation that is very difficult to get out of: the country’s economic morass. 2 a complicated amount of information: a morass of details mor·a·tory /ˌmorəˈter-ər-ə/ adj. (usually singular) 1 a complicated and confusing situation that is very difficult to get out of: the country’s economic morass. 2 an official announcement stopping an activity for a period of time: a moratorium on nuclear weapons testing mor·bid /morˈbrid/ adj. (disapproving) having a strong interest in unpleasant subjects, especially death: The newspapers printed all the morbid details of the murder. [Origine: 1600—1700 Latin morbus “diseased,” from morbus “illness”] – morbidly adv.

mor·bi·lit·y /ˌmor-ə-bre-ˈle-tē/ n. 1 [used before an adjective or adverb to form the comparative] having a quality that is exaggerated or extreme: The second test was more difficult. It was more expensive than I thought it would be. People change careers much/a lot far more frequently now. Teenagers rely more and more on their friends. | Children are no more likely than adults to develop the disease. 2 happening a greater number of times, or for longer: …I promised I’d help more in the house. We see our grandchildren more than we used to. | He’s been working a lot more lately. 3 not ... any more used in order to show that something that used to happen or be true does not happen or is not true now → anymore: Sarah doesn’t live here anymore. → once more at once

mor·bi·li·ty /ˌmor-ə-bre-ˈle-tē/ n. 1 greater amount or number: More new jobs were created than were lost in the industry. The bus was more than two hours late. | More and more schools have their own website. 2 an additional number or amount: Would you like some mor·gon /mɔˈrɒn/ n. [C] someone who is very stupid — mor·nian /mɔrˈnɪk/ adj.
mor·ph /mɔr/ v. 1 [L] (T) it to make one image gradually change into a different image by using a computer, or to gradually change into a different image 2 [L] (informal) to gradually change into something different: At that time, I was morphing into being a single mom.
mor·ph·eme /mɔrˈfɪm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the smallest unit of language that has meaning, consisting of a word or part of a word that cannot be divided without losing its meaning. For example, “gun” contains one morpheme, but “gunfighter” contains three: “gun,” “fight,” and “-er.” → PHO·NEME mor·ph·ine /mɔrˈfɪn/ n. [U] a powerful drug used for stopping pain [Origin: 1800—1900 French Morpheus ancient Roman god of sleep] mor·ph·o·logy /mɔrˈfələdʒi/ n. [U] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of the morphemes of a language and of the way in which they are joined together to make words → SYNTAX 2 BIOLOGY the scientific study of how animals, plants, and their parts are formed Morse code /ˈmɔrs ˈkɔd/ n. [U] a system of sending messages in which the alphabet is represented by short and long signals of sound or light mor·sel /ˈmɔrsəl/ n. [C] a small piece of food: a morsel of bread mor·tal /ˈmɔrtəl/ adj. 1 not living forever (NOT IMMORTAL) immortal: mortal creatures 2 mortal injuries/blow/danger etc. injuries, etc. that will cause death or are likely to cause death 3 mortal fear/terror/dread extreme fear [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin mortālis, from mors “death.”] — mortally adv. He was mortally wounded.
mortal2 n. 1 lesser/ordinary/mere mortals (humorous) an expression meaning ordinary people, as compared with people who are more important or more powerful 2 [C] (literary) a human mor·tal·i·ty /mɔrˈtɔlɪti/ n. [U] also mortality rate the number of deaths during a particular period of time among a particular group of people or from a particular cause: a decrease in the infant mortality rate (=the rate at which babies die) 2 the condition of being human and having to die mor·tar /ˈmɔrtər/ n. 1 [C] a heavy gun that fires explosives in a high curve 2 [U] a mixture of lime, sand, and water, used in building for sticking bricks or stones together mor·row /mɔrˈoʊ/ adv. (literary) unhappy, silent, and in a bad mood — mor·osely /mɔrˈəsəli/ adv.
mo·rose /moˈrɒs/ adj. (literary) unhappy, silent, and in a bad mood — morosely adv.
more coffee? I have somea few/many etc. more phone calls to make. | Is there any more cake? | We had no more questions. | We had 5/12/20 more people at the meeting than we expected. | Scott needed to see more of his father.
more or less almost: This report says more or less the same thing as the other one.
more·over /mɔrˈəʊvər/ adv. (formal) a word meaning “in addition to this” that is used in order to add information to something that has just been said: The rent is reasonable, and, moreover, it’s close to work.
mo·res /ˈmɔrəs/ n. [plural] (formal) the CUSTOMS, social behavior, and moral values of a particular group: American social mores mor·gue /mɔrˈg/ n. [C] a building or room where dead bodies are kept before they are buried or burned Mor·mon /mɔrˈmən/ adj. relating to a religious organization called The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, that has strict moral rules such as not allowing its members to drink alcohol and coffee — Mormon n. [C] — Mormonism n. [U] morn·ing /mɔrnɪŋ/ n. 1 [C,U] the early part of the day, especially from when the Sun rises until the middle of the day: I got a letter from Wayne this morning. | The freeway is usually jammed in the morning. | Andy woke up at twobthree etc. in the morning (during the night). | the TV programs that are on Saturday/Tuesday etc. morning | a meeting tomorrow/tomorrow morning | a sunny/cloudy/foggy etc. morning | I had my morning coffee/walk/routine etc. (=coffee, etc. that you have in the morning) 2 (Good) Morning (spoken) said in order to greet someone when you meet him/her in the morning; Morning, Rick.
morn·ing sick·ness n. [U] a feeling of sickness that some women have when they are PREGNANT mo·ron /mɔˈrɒn/ n. [C] someone who is very stupid — mor·nic /mɔrˈnɪk/ adj.
most
1 quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
2 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.

mortarboard
n. [U] ECONOMICS a cap with a flat square top that you wear when you graduate from a high school, college, or university.

mortar
n. [U] ECONOMICS an agreement in which you borrow money from a bank in order to buy a house, and pay back the money over a period of years: We took out a bigger mortgage (=borrowed money) to pay for the work on the house. | a mortgage on the farm. 2 ECONOMICS the amount of money lent on a mortgage: a mortgage of $100,000. [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French mort “dead” + gage “promise”] mortification

n. [U] mortifying extremely embarrassed or ashamed: He was mortified by his mistake.

mosaic
n. [U] a pattern or picture made by fitting together small pieces of colored stone, glass, etc.

mosquito
n. [pl. mosquitoes] [C,U] an insect similar to a fly, that usually flies at night, especially toward lights ➔ see picture at BUTTERFLY

mosquito
n. [pl. mosquitoes] [C] a small flying insect that bites and sucks the blood of people and animals, making you itch and sometimes spreading diseases [Origins: 1300—1600 Spanish mosca “fly,” from Latin musca]

mosaic
n. [U] a small flat green or yellow plant that looks like fern and often grows on trees and rocks —mosser adj.

most
adv. 1 [used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative] having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. | She has graduated from a high school, college, or university. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to arrange funerals and prepare bodies before they are buried.

mosque
n. [C] a building where Muslims go to have religious services [Origins: 1300—1500 Old French mosquee, from Old Spanish mezquita, from Arabic sajada “to lie face downward”]

most
adv. 1 [(used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative) having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
3 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.

most
adv. 1 [(used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative) having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
3 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.

most
adv. 1 [(used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative) having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
3 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.

most
adv. 1 [(used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative) having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
3 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.

most
adv. 1 [(used before an adjective or adverb to form the superlative) having the greatest amount of a particular quality: Basketball is the most popular sport. | She has lived in France, Italy, and, most recently, Spain. | the most powerful man in the world. 2 to a greater degree, or more times than anything else: Which do you like most? | It’s been challenging, but most of all, it’s been fun. 3 (spoken, informal) almost: We eat at Joe’s most every weekend.

most
quantifier [the superlative of “many” and “much”] 1 almost all of the people or things in a group ➔ MAJORITY: Most of the books were old. | Polls show that most Americans don’t eat enough fruit. 2 a larger amount or number than anyone or anything else: Which class has the most children? | The team that scores the most points wins.
3 the largest number or amount possible: How can we get the most power from the engine? 4 at (the) most used in order to say that a number or amount will not be larger than you say: It’ll take twenty minutes at the most. 5 for the most part used in order to say that something is generally true but not completely true: For the most part, they did a pretty good job. 6 make the most of sth/get the most out of sth to get the greatest possible advantage from a situation: It’s your only chance, so make the most of it.
motion /ˈmōtən/ n. [C] 1 the activity of a mother taking care of her children mother /ˈmʌðər/ v. [T] 1 to give someone directions or to give someone something:

motherboard /ˈmʌðərbɔrd/ n. [C] a main circuit board inside a computer motherhood /ˈmʌðərˌhʊd/ n. [U] the state of being a mother mothering /ˈmʌðərɪŋ/ n. [U] the activity of a mother taking care of her children mother-in-law n. (plural mothers-in-law) [C] the mother of your husband or wife motherly /ˈmʌðərli/ adj. typical of a kind or concerned mother: The teacher was a motherly woman.

Mother /ˈmʌðər/ n. [U] an expression used in order to talk about the Earth, its weather, and the living creatures and plants on it mother-ofpearl n. [U] a pale-colored smooth shiny substance on the inside of some shells, used for making buttons, jewelry, etc.

Mother’s Day n. a holiday in honor of mothers, celebrated in the U.S. and Canada on the second Sunday of May mother-to-be n. (plural mothers-to-be) [C] a woman who is going to have a baby mo-tif /ˈməʊtɪf/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an idea, subject, or pattern that is regularly repeated and developed in a book, movie, work of art, etc.

motion /ˈməʊʃən/ n. 1 [U] the process of moving, or the way that someone or something moves: the gentle rolling motion of the ship motile /ˈməʊtəli/ adj. (disapproving) a motley crew/bunch/assortment etc. a group of people or other things that do not seem to belong together motor /ˈmʌtər/ n. 1 using power provided by an engine: a motor vehicle 2 relating to the way muscles are controlled: a child’s motor skills motorbike /ˈmʌtərkabaɪk/ n. [C] a motorcycle, especially a small one see picture at TRANSPORTATION motorcade /ˈmʌtərkæd/ n. [C] a group of cars and other vehicles that travel together and surround a very important person's car motorhome /ˈmʌtərhəʊm/ n. [C] a large vehicle with beds, a kitchen, etc. in it, used for traveling with RV see MOBILE HOME motorist /ˈmʌtərist/ n. [C] (formal) someone who drives a car motorized /ˈmʌtəraɪzd/ adj. having an engine, especially when something does not usually have an engine: a motorized wheelchair motor scooter n. [C] a SCOOTER motor vehicle n. [C] (formal) a car, bus, truck, etc.

motley /ˈmʌtli/ adj. covered with spots of light and dark colors of different shapes: motled skin motto /ˈmʌtəʊ/ n. (plural mottoes) [C] a short statement that expresses the aims or beliefs of a group or a person mount /mənt/ v. 1 [I] also mount up to increase gradually in size, degree, or amount → MOUNTING: His debts continued to mount up. 2 [T] to plan, organize, and begin an event or a course of action: The gallery mounted an exhibition of Weston’s photographs. 3 [U] (formal) to get on a horse or bicycle and dismount 4 [T] (formal) to go up something such as a set of stairs; He mounted the steps and shook hands with Bianchi. 5 be mounted on sth to be attached to something and supported by: paintings mounted on the wall [origin: 1200—1300 Old French monter “to go up,” from Latin monere “to warn”] mount /mənt/ n. 1 Mount part of the name of a mountain: Mount Everest 2 [C] (literary) an animal, especially a horse, that you ride on mountain bike n. [C] a strong bicycle with wide thick tires that you can ride on rough ground mountain biking n. [U] the activity of riding a mountain bike on rough ground → see picture on page A4 mountaineering /məuˈtɛnɪərɪŋ/ n. [C] an outdoor activity in which you climb mountains—mountaineer n. [C] mountain goat n. [C] a type of goat that lives in the western mountains of North America mountain lion n. [C] a COUGAR mountainous /məuˈtɛnəs/ adj. having a lot of mountains: a mountainous region of Europe mountain side /məuˈtɛnənˌsайд/ n. [C] the side of a mountain mountain top /məuˈtɛnənˌtɒp/ n. [C] the top part of a mountain

Mountie /məuˈtɛni/ n. [C] a member of the national police force of Canada mounting /məuˈtɛnɪŋ/ adj. gradually increasing or becoming worse: There was mounting pressure from the country’s political leaders.

mourn /mɔːrn/ v. [T] to feel very sad because someone has died, and show this in the way you behave: The whole country mourned Kennedy’s death. She was still mourning for her sister.

mourner /ˈmɔːrnər/ n. [C] (written) someone who attends a funeral, especially a relative of the dead person mournful /ˈmɔːrnfl/ adj. (literary) very sad: slow mournful music mourning /ˈmɔːrnɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 great sadness because someone has died: People wore black as a sign of mourning. 2 be in mourning to be very sad because someone has died: She’s still in mourning for her son.

mouse /mɔs/ n. 1 [plural: mouses or mice /maʊz/ or mouse /maʊs/] a small object connected to a computer by a wire, that you move with your hand to give instructions to the computer → see picture on page A6 2 [plural: mice] a small furry animal with a long tail and a pointed nose that lives in buildings or in fields [origin: Old English mus] → see picture at RODENT mouse pad n. [C] a small piece of flat material on which you move a computer mouse → see picture on page A6 mousse /ˈmɔs/ n. [U] 1 a cold sweet food made from a mixture of cream, eggs, and fruit or chocolate: chocolate mousse 2 a slightly sticky substance that you put in your hair to make it look thicker or to hold it in place

mous-tache /ˈmʌstəʃ, maʊstiʃ/ n. [C] a MUSTACHE mousy /ˈmɔsɪ, -zɪ/ adj. (disapproving) 1 mousy hair is a dull brownish-gray color 2 a mousy girl or woman is small, quiet, not interesting, and not attractive mouth /mɔt/ n. (plural: mouths /ˌmɔtθz/) 1 the part of your face that you use for speaking and eating: his round face and wide mouth 2 the beginnings of a smile touched the corners of her mouth. Don’t talk with your mouth full (fill of food). → see picture on page A3 2 open/shut your mouth to start to speak, or to stop speaking: Shut your mouth, Tonya! 3 He was afraid to open his mouth during the meeting. 3 keep your mouth shut (informal) to not say what you are thinking, or not tell someone a secret: I was getting really mad, but I kept my mouth shut. 4 an opening, entrance, or way out: the mouth of a river (where it joins the ocean) → the mouth of a jar 5 big mouth (informal) someone who is a big mouth or has a big mouth often says things that s/he should not say: 6 make your mouth water if food makes your mouth water, it smells or looks so good you want to eat it immediately → MOUTH-WATERING 7 open-mouthed/wide-mouthed etc. with an open, wide, etc. mouth [origin: Old English maut] → shoot your mouth off at SHOOT mouth /mɔt/ v. [T] to move your lips as if you are saying words, but without making any sound: Kim looked at me and mouthed, “It’s O.K.” → BAD-MOUTH mouthing off {v.} (informal) to talk angrily or rudely to someone: a boxer mouthing off to his opponent mouthful {n.} [C] an amount of food or drink that you put into your mouth at one time: He swallowed a mouthful of coffee.

mouth-piece {n.} [C] 1 the part of a musical instrument, telephone, etc. that you put in your mouth or next to your mouth 2 a person, newspaper, etc. that expresses the opinions of a government or a political organization, especially without ever criticizing these opinions: The newspaper is the mouthpiece of the ruling party.

mouth-wash {n.} [U] a liquid you can use to make your mouth smell fresh or to get rid of an infection in your mouth mouth-watering {adj.} food that is mouth-watering looks or smells extremely good move1 {v.} [I,T] to change from one place or position to another, or to make something do this ➔ motion: Molly sat down and refused to move. | Could you move your car, please? | Put moved closer to/toward her. | She moved slowly/quickly etc. to the door. | The kids were moving around the classroom, choosing activities.

move2 {v.} [I,T] to change to a different job, class, etc., or to make someone do this: He moved easily from teaching into administration. | Some students were moved into the intermediate class.

move away {v.} to go to live in a different area: I lost touch with her when her family moved away.

move in {v.} 1 also move into to start living in a new house (any) move out: When are you moving into your new house? 2 to start living with someone in the same house: After her father died, she moved in with her aunt. | Al and Bridget have moved in together.

move on {v.} 1 to leave your present job, class, or activity and start doing something else: After 12 years as principal here, Garcia will move on to a new school this fall. 2 to leave a place where you have been staying or doing something in order to continue to another place: We stayed in Singapore for a few days and then decided to move on.

move over {v.} to start talking or writing about a new subject in a speech, book, discussion, etc.: Before we move on, does anyone have any questions?

moving {adj.} 1 to develop in your life, and change your relationships, interests, activities, etc.: Harry left you a year ago; it’s time for you to move on. 2 to progress, improve, or become more modern as time passes: By the time the software was ready, the market had moved on.

move out {v.} to leave the house where you are living in order to go to live somewhere else (any) move in: When did Bob move out? | I moved out of my folk’s place when I turned 18.

move up {v.} to get a better job, or change to a more advanced group, higher rank, or higher level: Students have to pass oral and written exams before moving up. | Moving up the economic ladder is everyone’s dream.

move2 {n.} [C] 1 something that you decide to do in order to achieve something or make progress: The White House says the statement is a move toward peace. | I’m not sure that’s a good/bad/wise etc. move. | The government made no move to end the conflict. 2 an action in which someone moves in a particular direction: dancers practicing their moves | Grover made a move toward the door. | They watched us, but made no move to stop us. 3 be on the move to travel or move a lot: These little fish are always on the move. 4 get a move on (spoken) said when you want someone to hurry: Get a move on, or we’ll be late! 5 the process of leaving the place where you live or work and going to live or work somewhere else: We visited Seattle several times before deciding to make the move. 6 the act of changing the position movement

move-ment /ˈmuvmənt/ n. 1 [C,U] an action in which something or someone changes position or moves from one place to another: the dancer’s graceful movements | troop movements in the desert | the movement of goods across the border 2 [C] a group of people who share the same ideas or beliefs and work together to achieve a particular aim: the civil rights/lnti-war/feminist etc. movement | the movement for democracy 3 [C] a change or development in a situation or in people’s attitudes or behavior: a movement away from/ toward fairness in employment 4 [C] one of the main parts into which a piece of music such as a symphony is divided 5 [C] the moving parts of a piece of machinery, especially a clock 6 [C] (formal) the action of getting rid of waste matter from your bowels

mov·er /ˈmuvər/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to help people move from one house to another | mover and shaker an important person who has power and influence over what happens in a situation

mov·ie /ˈmuvə/ n. [C] 1 a story that is told using sound and moving pictures | film: I was watching a movie on television when the phone rang. | I’ve seen that movie twice. | She appeared in several TV movies.

THESAURUS

Types of movies
feature film – a movie made to be shown in movie theaters comedy – a movie intended to make people laugh romantic comedy – a movie about love that is intended to make the people who watch it feel happy thriller – an exciting movie about murder or serious crimes western – a movie with cowboys in it action movie – a movie that has lots of fighting, explosions, etc.
horror movie – a frightening movie about ghosts, murders, etc.
science fiction movie – a movie about imaginary events in the future or in outer space animated movie/cartoon – a movie with characters that are drawn or made using a computer flick (informal) – a movie: an action flick | a movie, especially one that people think is very good or important: a foreign film

People who make movies actor – a man or woman who acts in a movie actress – a woman who acts in a movie star – a famous actor or actress director – the person who tells the actors and actresses in a movie what to do producer – the person who makes the arrangements for a movie to be made and controls the movie’s budget (=the money available to make the film) film/movie crew – the people operating the camera, lights, etc. who help the director make a movie

2 the movies the theater where you go to watch a movie: Do you want to go to the movies with us?

‘movie star n. [C] a famous movie actor or actress ‘movie theater n. [C] a building where you go to watch movies mov·ing /ˈmuvɪŋ/ adj. 1 making you feel strong emotions, especially sadness or sympathy: a moving story | a deeply moving experience

THESAURUS

emotional, touching, poignant, emotive, sentimental, schmalzy → emotional

2 [only before noun] changing from one position to another: the moving parts of an engine | fast/slow moving traffic | movingly adv. She spoke movingly about her father’s last days.

mov·ing·van n. [C] a large vehicle used for moving furniture from one house to another mow /məʊ/ v. (past tense mowed, past participle mowed or mown /ˈmʌʊn/) [T] to cut grass with a machine: When are you going to mow the lawn?

THESAURUS

cut, trim, snip → cut

mow sb down phr. v. to kill people or knock them down, especially in large numbers: soldiers mowed down by machine-gun fire mow·er /ˈməʊər/ n. [C] a LAWN MOWER

MP3 /ˈem pi /ˈmʌpi/ n. [C] a type of computer FILE containing recorded music

MP3 player n. [C] a small piece of equipment used to play MP3 music files → see picture on page A6

MPEG /ˈem pieg/ n. [C] IT Moving Picture Experts Group a type of computer FILE that contains sound and VIDEO → |PEG mpg miles per gallon – used when describing the amount of gasoline used by a car: a car that gets 35 mpg mph miles per hour – used when describing the speed of a vehicle: a 65 mph speed limit

Mr. /ˈmɜːtsər/ 1 Mr. Smith/Jones etc. used before a man’s family name to be polite when you are speaking to him, writing to him, or talking about him 2 a title used when speaking to a man in an official position: Mr. Chairman | Mr. President 3 Mr. Right (informal) a man who would be the perfect husband for a particular woman: Jill’s still looking for Mr. Right.

MRI n. 1 [U] magnetic resonance imaging the use of strong MAGNETIC FIELDS to make an image of the inside of the body 2 [C] a picture of the much

the written abbreviation of MESSANGER

MRS. "mrsiz/ Mrs. Smith/Jones etc. used before a married woman’s family name to be polite when you are speaking to her, writing to her, or talking about her ➔ MISS, MS.

MS the written abbreviation of MISSISSIPPI

Ms. /miz/ Ms. Smith/Jones etc. used before a woman’s family name when she does not want to be called “Mrs.” or “Miss,” or when you do not know whether she is married or not

M.S. M.Sc. n [C] Master of Science a university degree in science that you can earn after your first degree ➔ M.A.

MSG n [U] a chemical that is added to food to make it taste better

MT the written abbreviation of MONTANA

Mt. the written abbreviation of MOUNT: Mt. Everest

much1 /muk/ adv. 1 [used before comparatives or superlatives] a lot: I’m feeling much better. | This one is much higher/bigger/longer etc. | The job was much more difficult than I expected. | He was driving much too fast. 2 too much/so much/very much/how much etc. used in order to talk about the amount or degree to which someone does something or something happens: Thank you very much! | How much farther is it? | He’s feeling so much better today. 3 not... much a) only a little or hardly at all: “Did you enjoy it?” “No, not much.” | She isn’t much younger than me. | Rob didn’t like the movie very much. b) used in order to say that something does not happen very often: Kids don’t play outside as much as they used to. ➔ see Grammar box at LOT 4 much like/as sth also much the same (as sth) used in order to say that something is very similar to something else: It tastes very much like butter. 5 much less used in order to say that one thing is even less true or less possible than another: You’ll never see him in a tie, much less a suit.

much2 quantifier 1 [“much” is used mainly in questions and negatives] a lot of something: Was there much traffic? | We don’t have much time. | The storm will bring rain to much of the state. 2 how much used in order to ask or talk about the amount or cost of something: How much were the groceries (“what did they cost?”) It is not clear how much of the crime problem is gang-related. 3 so much/ too much used in order to talk about an amount that is very large, especially one that is larger than it should be: There was so much smoke we couldn’t see anything. | Ray drinks too much. 4 not much/ nothing much used in order to say that something is not important, interesting, good, etc.: “What’s going on?” “Not much.” | I didn’t think much of the book (=I didn’t like it). 5 as much (…) as an amount that is equal and not less: I hope you have as much fun as we did. | Just try to eat as much as you can. 6 so much for sth (spoken) said when a particular idea, idea, statement, etc. was not useful or did not produce the result that was hoped for: She wouldn’t discuss it. So much for trying to compromise. 7 be too much for sb to be too difficult for someone: The stairs were too much for her.

much, a lot of

In sentences that are not negative and not questions, use a lot of rather than much: She has a lot of money. Do not say “She has much money.” ➔ LOT much, a lot of something such as dirt, mud, or another sticky substance: the much near the water’s edge much-rak-er /muk, rēkər/ n [C] (disapproving) a writer for a newspaper who tells the public about the bad things that important or famous people have done or are supposed to have done —muckraking n [U], a.

much-cus /myukəs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a sticky liquid produced by parts of your body such as your nose —mucous a.

mud /mud/ n. 1 wet earth that is soft and sticky: His boots were covered in mud. 2 sb’s name is mud (spoken) said when people are annoyed at someone because s/he has caused trouble mud-dle /mudld/ v. muddle through (sth) phr. v. to continue doing something even though it is confusing or difficult mud-dle /mudld/ n. [C] a state in which things are confused, not organized correctly, or done badly: a bureaucratic muddle mud-died /mudld/ adj. confused, messy, or not organized correctly: a muddled line between reality and fantasy mud-dy /mudd/ adj. covered with mud, or containing mud: muddy boots | muddy water muddle

muffle

muffle
muffler
—muffled adj.: the muffled sound of a TV in the next room mul-fle[r] /'mulflər/ n. [C] 1 a piece of equipment on a vehicle that makes the noise from the engine quieter 2 (old-fashioned) a SCAFF mul·ga /'məlgə/ n. [C] a large cup with straight sides and a handle: a mug of coffee mug·gy /'məgə/ adj. (mugged, mugging) [T] to attack and rob someone in a public place: She was mugged in front of her apartment.

mug·ging n. [U] mul·ti·cul·tu·ral /'multəˌkəlˈtərəl/ adj. involving several different countries, companies, etc.

mul·ti·cul·tu·ral·ism /'multəˌkəlˈtərəlˌizəm/ n. [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE the belief that it is important and right to include and respect people who have come to a country from many other countries, and who may be a different race or religion or have different customs than most of the people in their own country —mul·ti·cul·tu·ral·ist /'multəˌkəlˈtərəlist/ n. [C] mul·ti·far·i·ous /'multəˌfərəs/ adj. of very many different kinds: He hired assistants to help with these multifarious projects.

mul·ti·far·i·ous·ly adv. —mul·ti·far·i·ous·ness n. [U] mul·ti·lat·er·al /'multəˌlætərəl/ adj. involving several different countries, companies, etc.

mul·ti·lat·e·ral·i·ty /'multəˌlætərəˈlɪti/ n. [U] BILATERAL, UNILATERAL: a multilateral agreement to stop the fighting mul·ti·na·tion·al /'multəˌnæʃənəl/ adj. 1 ECO·NO·MICS a multinational company has offices, businesses, etc. in several different countries mul·ti·pli·ca·tion /'multəˌpləˈkeIˌkeIʃən/ n. [U] 1 MATH a method of calculating in which you multiply numbers 2 (formal) a large increase in the size, amount, or number of something mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'multəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'multəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·ple 'choic·e adj. a multiple choice test or question shows several possible answers and you must choose the correct one mul·ti·ple /'məltəpl/ n. (multiplies, multiplied) 1 ECO·NO·MICS a movie theater that has several rooms in which different movies are shown mul·ti·ple·ty /'məltəˈplətI/ n. (multipliactions, multiplied) 1 MATH a method of calculating in which you multiply numbers 2 (formal) a large increase in the size, amount, or number of something mul·ti·pli·ca·tion /'məltəˌpləˈkeIˌkeIʃən/ n. [U] mul·ti·pli·ca·tion /'məltəˌpləˈkeIˌkeIʃən/ n. [U] 1 MATH a method of calculating in which you multiply numbers 2 (formal) a large increase in the size, amount, or number of something

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˈeɪʃənəl/ adj.

mul·ti·pli·ca·tion·al·i·ty /'məltəˌpləˌkeIˌkeIˌeɪʃənəˈlɪti/ n. [U] 1 MATH a number that can be divided by a smaller number an exact number of times. For example, 20 is a multiple of 4 and 5.
many different uses or purposes: a multipurpose room mumble /ˈmʌmbl/ v (mumified) mum·mif·ied (mum·mies) [T] to preserve a dead body by putting special oils on it and wrapping it with cloth municipality /ˈmjuːnɪsɪpəlɪti/ n. [U] (informal) something that is difficult to understand or that makes no sense: legal mumbo-jumbo mumps /mʌmps/ n. the mumps an infectious illness in which your throat swells and becomes painful munch /mʌntʃ/ v. [T] to eat something in a noisy way: The kids were munching on popcorn.

munch-ies /ˈmʌntʃi/ n. [plural] (informal) 1 have the munchies to feel hungry, especially for food such as cookies or POTATO CHIPS 2 foods such as cookies or POTATO CHIPS that are served at a party mud·dane /ˈmʌndən/ adj. ordinary and not interesting or exciting (syn. boring) Initially, the job was pretty mundane. —mundanely adv mu·nie·c·ial /ˈmyuˌnɛsəˈʃəl/ adj. relating to the government of a town or city: municipal elections mu·nie·c·ial·ty /ˈmyuˌnɛsəˈteɪt/ n. (plural municipalities) [C] a town or city that has its own government mu·nif·i·cent /ˈmyuˌnɪfəsənt/ adj. (formal) very generous: a munificent gift —munificence n [U] —munificently adv mu·ni·tions /ˈmyuˌnɛʃən/ n. [plural] military supplies such as bombs and large guns mul·i·tar·ial /ˈmʊlətiˌteərəl/ adj. involving many different races of people; multi-racial mul·ti·la·tude /ˈmʌltəˌlɑːtərəl/ a multitude of sb/sth a very large number of people or things: a multitude of possible interpretations mum·bo·jum·bo /ˈmʌmbəˌdʒʌmbə/ n. [U] to say something too quietly or not clearly enough, so that other people cannot understand you: He mumbled something and left mum·mi·fy /ˈmʌməˌfai/ v. [T] to turn into a mummy, that is, to turn a dead body into a mummy: mum·my /ˈmʌmə/ n. (plural mummies) a body that has been preserved and often wrapped in cloth, especially for food such as cookies or POTATO CHIPS munch·ies /ˈmʌntʃi/ n. (plural) 1 POTATO CHIP, 2 MUSHROOM, 3 MUSHROOM, 4 mushroom

mur·der·ous /ˈmɜrdərəs/ adj. very dangerous or violent and likely to kill someone: He went into a murderous rage.

mur·ky /ˈmɜrkə/ adj. (comparative murkier, superlative murkiest) dark and difficult to see through: murky water mur·mur /ˈmɜrmər/ v. [T] to say something in a soft quiet voice: He softly murmured her name.

mur·mur·ing /ˈmɜrmərɪŋ/ n. [C/U] murmur2 n. [C] 1 a soft quiet sound made by someone's voice: She answered in a low murmur 2 a murmuring of approval/dissent/disbelief etc. approval, etc. that is expressed in a soft or quiet way

mus·cle /ˈmʌskəl/ n. 1 [C/U] BIOLOGY one of the pieces of flesh inside your body that join bones together and make your body move: stomach/leg/thigh etc. muscles | Weightlifting will strengthen your muscles. | I think I've pulled a muscle (strained a muscle). 2 military/political etc. muscle military, etc. power or influence 3 [U] physical strength and power: It takes muscle to move a piano. 4 not move a muscle to not move at all

mus·cu·lar /ˈmʌskjuələr/ adj. 1 having a lot of big muscles: strong muscular arms 2 related to or affecting the muscles: a muscular disease muse /ˈmjuːz/ v. [I] (formal) to imagine or think a lot about something mu·sus /ˈmyuˌzəs/ n. [plural] a building where important objects are kept and shown to the public: the Museum of Modern Art [origin: 1600—1700 Latin, Greek Mouseion, from Mousea] muscle /ˈmʌskəl/ n. [sing/Pl. U] a soft food that is part solid and part liquid mush·room /ˈmʌʃrəm/ n. [C] one of several kinds of FUNGUS with stems and round tops, some of which can be eaten and some of which are poisonous [origin: 1400—1500 French mousier, from Latin mussero] see picture at VEGE mushroom2 v. [I] to grow in size or numbers very mushroom cloud

quickly: The city’s population has mushroomed to over one million.

mushroom cloud /n/ [C] a large cloud shaped like a mushroom that is caused by a nuclear explosion

mush-y /ˈməʃə/ adj 1 soft and wet: a mushy banana 2 expressing love in a silly way: He gets all mushy when he’s around you. | mushy love stories

music /ˈmjuːzɪk/ n [U] 1 the arrangement of sounds made by instruments or voices in a way that is pleasant or exciting: What kind of music does your band play? | pop/country/classical etc. music: I like to listen to music. | My favorite piece of music is Bach’s “Magnificat.” | Why don’t you put some music on (= turn on the radio or start playing a CD)?

musician /ˈmjuːzɪʃən/ n [C] someone who plays a musical instrument very well or as a job: classical musicians musical /ˈmjuːzɪkl/ adj 1 like a mushroom that is caused by a nuclear explosion 2 expressing love in a silly way: He gets all mushy when he’s around you. | mushy love stories must /mʌst/ n [C] a type of gun used in past times

Muslim /ˈmʊzləm, ˈmʊz- ˈmus-/ adj relating to Islam [origin: 1600–1700 an Arabic word meaning “someone who surrenders (to God)"

— Muslim n [C]

muss /mʌs/ v [T] (informal) to make something messy, especially hair musel /ˈmɑːsəl/ n [C] a small sea animal with a black shell and a soft body that can be eaten → see picture at shellfish

must¹ /mʌst/ strong must¹ modal verb (negative short form mustn’t) 1 (past tense had to) used in order to say that something is necessary because of a rule, or because it is the best thing to do: The $60 passport fee must accompany your application. | It’s getting late – I really must go. → see Grammar box at have to

2 (past tense must have) used in order to say that something is very likely to be true: George must be almost 80 years old now. | We must have gone the wrong way. 3 used in order to suggest that someone do something: You must see his new film.

must² /mʌs/ n a must (informal) something that you must do or must have: The Greens Cookbook is a must for any serious vegetarian.

mustache /ˈməstəʃ/ n [C] hair that grows on a man’s upper lip [origin: 1500–1600 French moustache, from Italian mustaccio, from Medieval Greek moustaki “art of the Muses”] mustache /ˈmɑːstəʃ/ adj [only before noun] relating to music or consisting of music: musical instruments 2 good at playing or singing music: I wasn’t very musical as a child. — musically adv musical² n [C] eng. lang. arts a play or movie that uses songs and music to tell a story → theater musicalian /ˈmjuːzɪkljən/ n [C] someone who plays a musical instrument very well or as a job: classical musicians musk /ˈmɑːsk/ n [U] a strong-smelling substance used to make perfume — musky adj must-ket /ˈmɑːskət/ n [C] a type of gun used in past times must-n’t /ˈmɑːstənt/ modal verb the short form of “must not”: You mustn’t forget to tell her what I said.

musty /ˈmɑːstɪ/ adj having a wet unpleasant smell: musty old books mu·tab·le ˈmyu-tə-bəl adj. (formal) able or likely to change (ANT) immutable —mu·tab·il·i·ty ˈmyu-tə-bəl-i-tē n. [U] mu·tan·t ˈmyu-tənt n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal or plant that is different from others of the same kind because of a change in its GENES —mu·tan·t·ic ˈmyu-tənt-i-k adj.

mu·tate ˈmyu-tät v. [I] BIOLOGY if an animal or plant mutates, it becomes different from others of the same kind because of a change in its GENES —mu·ta·tion ˈmyu-ta-shən n. [C,U] mu·te ˈmyoot v. [T] to make a sound quieter, or to make it disappear completely: I usually mute the TV during the commercials. —mu·tely ˈmyoot-lē adv.

mu·ted ˈmyoottəd adj. unable to speak —mu·te·ly ˈmyoot-lē adv.

mu·ted /ˈmyʊtəd/ adj. 1 muted criticism/response etc. criticism, etc. that is not expressed strongly 2 quieter than usual: the muted sound of snoring from the next room 3 a muted color is less bright than usual mu·ti·late ˈmyoo-tə-lät v. [T] to damage someone or something severely, especially by removing part of it: bodies mutilated in the explosion —mu·ti·la·tion ˈmyoo-tə-lä-shən n. [C,U] mu·ti·nous /ˈmyootənəs/ adj. involved in a mutiny: mutinous soldiers mu·ti·ny /ˈmyootənē/ n. (plural mutinies) [C,U] a situation in which soldiers or sailors refuse to obey someone in authority and try to take control for themselves —mu·ti·nous ˈmyootənəs adj.

mu·it ˈmyoot n. [C] (informal) a dog that does not belong to a particular breed mu·ter·ter /ˈmətər-ər/ v. [I,T] to speak in a quiet voice, especially when you are complaining about something but do not want other people to hear you: What are you muttering about?

mu·ton·ton /ˈmətən-tən/ n. [U] the meat from a sheep [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French moton “(male) sheep”]

mu·tu·al ˈmyoo-təl adj. 1 a feeling that is mutual is felt by two or more people toward one another: A good marriage is marked by mutual respect. | European nations can live together in a spirit of mutual trust. | There is a need to promote mutual understanding between people of different faiths. 2 mutual agreement/consent a situation in which two or more people both agree to something: He has left the company by mutual agreement. 3 shared by two or more people: We were introduced by a mutual friend (=someone we both know). | Members of the organization share a mutual interest in science. 4 the feeling is mutual (spoken) said when you have the same feeling about someone as s/he has toward you: “You really drive me crazy sometimes!” “The feeling’s mutual!” [Origin: 1400—1500 French mutuel, from Latin mutuus “lent, borrowed, mutual”] —mu·tu·al·i·ty ˈmyoo-təl-ə-tē n. [U]

mu·tu·al·ly ˈmyoo-təl-ē adv. 1 done, felt, or experienced by two or more people: They have mutually agreed to go their separate ways. | a solution that was mutually beneficial to both sides 2 mutually exclusive if two ideas, beliefs, etc. are mutually exclusive, they cannot both exist or be true at the same time: The beliefs of Christians and atheists are mutually exclusive.

mu·zak /ˈmyʊzək/ n. [U] (trademark) recorded music that is played continuously in airports, offices, etc.

mu·zle /ˈmyoozəl/ n. 1 the nose and mouth of an animal, especially a dog or horse — Bild its appearance completely: I usually mute the TV during the commercials.

my·self ˈmīzəlf pron. 1 used by the person speaking or writing to show that s/he is affected by his/her own action: I made myself a cup of coffee. | I blame myself for what has happened. 2 used in order to emphasize “I” or “me”: They say it’s a beautiful place, but I myself have never been there. 3 (all by myself a) without help: Look, Mommy—I tied my shoes all by myself! 4 (all to myself for my own use: I had the whole swimming pool to mystical adj. strange and difficult to explain or understand: the mysterious disappearance of our neighbor mystification n. catching someone doing something illegal: The police nabbed him for speeding.

mystical adj. mystifying something that is difficult to explain or understand: There’s an air of mystery about him that intrigues people. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin mysterium, from Greek, from mystos “keeping silent”] mystify v. mystified, mystifies to make someone feel confused and unable to explain or understand something: a case that mystified the police —mystifying adj.

mystic n. (plural mystics) 1 [C] something that is difficult to explain or understand: The location of the stolen money remains a mystery. | It won’t be easy to solve the mystery. 2 [C] a story, especially about a murder, in which events are not explained until the end: the Sherlock Holmes mystery stories 3 [U] a quality that makes something or someone seem strange, interesting, and difficult to explain or understand: There’s an air of mystery about him that intrigues people. [Origin: 1000—1100 Latin mysterium, from Greek, from mystos “keeping silent”]

nail

nail brush n [C] a small stiff brush used for cleaning your nails 'nail file n [C] a thin piece of metal with a rough surface, used for shaping your nails naive

naive adj lacking any experience of life, so that you believe most people are honest and kind and that only good things will happen to you. INNOCENT: a naive young girl naively adv

naiveté n

naked

naked adj 1 not wearing any clothes: The child was running naked through the backyard. | He was stark naked (completely naked).

nakedness n [U] —nakedly adv naked eye

naked eye n 1 if you can see something with the naked eye, you can see it without using something such as a TELESCOPE to help you: On a clear night, many other planets are visible to the naked eye. —nakedness n [U] —nakedly adv

name

name n 1 [C] the word that someone or something is called or known by: My first name is Vera and my last name is Stern. | They called him by his first name (she used his first name when talking to him). | Please write your full name (=complete name) and address. | I can’t remember the name of the hotel. | They don’t have a name for the baby yet.

name a big/famous/household name (=someone who is famous: the biggest names in Hollywood) 3 [singular] the opinion that people have about a person, company, etc. (=reputation): He has given baseball a bad name (=made people have a bad opinion about it). | He is determined to clear his family’s good name (=make people respect them again). 4 be in sb’s name to officially belong to someone: The house is in my wife’s name. 5 (do sth) in the name of science/religion etc. to use science, religion, etc. as the reason for doing something, even if it is wrong 6 call sb names to say something insulting to someone: the name of the game the most important thing or quality in a particular activity [Origin: Old English nama]

name v [T] 1 to give someone or something a particular name: They named their son Jacob. | We named the baby Henry, after his grandfather (=gave him the same name as his grandfather). | RFK Stadium was named for Robert F. Kennedy (=it was given his name to show respect for him). 2 to say what the name of someone or something is: He refused to name his clients. | Wells was named as the leading suspect. 3 to officially choose someone for a particular job: Roy Johnson was named as the new manager. 4 you name it (spoken) said after a list of things to mean that there are many more that you could mention: Beer, whiskey, wine – you name it and I’ve got it! 5 name names to give the names of people who are involved in something, especially something wrong or something they want to hide: She did not name names, but I think she was referring to Richard.

name-calling n [U] the act of using an unpleasant or insulting word to describe someone in order to hurt or embarrass him/her name-drop ping n [neum,drupn/ n [U] (disproving) the act of mentioning the name of a famous or important person to make it seem that you know them well —namedrop v [I] name-less /`neimlis/ adj 1 not known by a name (Sp) anonymous: a gift from a nameless businessman 2 sb who shall remain nameless (spoken) used when you want to say that someone has done something wrong, but without saying his/her name 3 having no name: millions of nameless stars name-ly /`neimli/ adv used when saying the name of the person or thing you are talking about: The movie won two Oscars, namely “Best Actor” and “Best Director.”

name-sake n [C] a person or something that has the same name as someone or something else name tag n [C] a small sign with your name on nanny

*nan*ny /ˈnaːni/ n. (plural nannies) [C] a woman whose job is to take care of a family’s children, usually in the children’s own home.

narrow

*na*rrow /ˈnærəʊ/ adj. 1 only measuring a small distance from side to side: an narrow street 2 narrow defeat/victory etc., a defeat, victory, etc., that is achieved with difficulty or happens by only a small amount: France finished in first place after a narrow victory over Brazil. | Bush won the election by a narrow margin (=by a very small amount). 3 (disapproving) a narrow attitude or way of looking at a situation is too limited and does not consider enough possibilities: She has a very narrow view of life. 4 narrow escape an occasion when you just avoid something bad or dangerous that almost happens to you: [Origin: Old English nes琼] — narrower /ˈnærər/ adj. — narrowest /ˈnəːrɪst/ adj.

narrow-minded

narrow-minded /ˈnærəʊˌminded/ adj. (disapproving) not willing to accept ideas or beliefs that are new and different — PREJUDICED narrow-sighted /ˈnærəʊˌsaɪtnɪt/ adj. having too much admiration for your own appearance or abilities — narcissism /ˈnærɪsɪzəm/ n. [U] — narcissist /ˈnærɪsɪst/ n. [C] national importance 2 [only before noun] owned or controlled by the government: Yosemite National Park national n [C] someone who is a citizen of one country but is living in another country ➔ ALIEN, CITIZEN: a Korean national living in the U.S.

national anthem n [C] the official song of a nation that is sung or played at public occasions nationalism /na·ti·o·n·al·i·z·m/ˈnæʃənəlzəm,ˌlizəm/ n [U] 1 POLITICS the belief that your country is better than any other country. 2 POLITICS the desire by a group of people of the same race or origin to have their own country: the rise of nationalism in Eastern Europe nationalist /na·ti·o·n·al·is·t/ˈnæʃənəlist/ adj: POLITICS wanting to become politically independent, or wanting to remain this way ➔ nationalist n [C]: Québécois nationalists nationalistic /na·ti·o·n·al·is·tic/ˈnæʃənəlistɪk/ adj: believing that your country is better than other countries ➔ PATRIOTIC nationality /na·ti·o·n·al·i·ty/ˈnæʃənəlitɪ/ n (plural nationalities) [C][U] 1 the legal right of belonging to a particular country ➔ citizenship: He has British/Swiss etc. nationality. 2 Don’t say “My nationality is Mexican/Swedish etc.” Say “I come from Mexico/Sweden etc.” ➔ 2 a large group of people who have the same race, language, or culture. There are children of many different nationalities at our school.

nationalize /na·ti·o·n·al·i·ze/ˈnæʃənəlaɪz/ v [T] ECONOMICS if a government nationalizes a large company or an industry, it buys it or takes control of it ➔ PRIVATIZE nationalize /na·ti·o·n·al·i·ze/ˈnæʃənəlaɪz/ v [T] ➔ by or to everyone in a nation: a series of nationally televised debates national monument n [C] a building or a special place that is protected by the government for people to visit national security n [U] the ways in which a country protects its citizens or keeps its secrets safe, for example by having a strong army nationalize /na·ti·o·n·al·i·ze/ˈnæʃənəlaɪz/ v [T] ➔ happening or existing in every part of a nation: nationwide price increases ➔ nationwide adv: The brewery employs about 3,000 people nationwide.

nationalize /na·ti·o·n·al·i·ze/ˈnæʃənəlaɪz/ v [T] everywhere, all over sth, throughout sth, worldwide ➔ EVERYWHERE national 1 /na·tiv/ adj 1 native country/land etc: the place where you were born: He returned to his native Poland. 2 native Californian/New Yorker etc: someone who was born in California, etc. 3 growing, living, or produced in a particular area: a plant native to Ecuador ➔ native language/tongue the language you first learned to speak national 2 n [C] 1 someone who was born in a particular country: Andrea is a native of Brazil. 2 [usually plural] a word used by white people in the past to refer to the people who lived in Africa, America, etc. before Europeans arrived. Many people now consider this word offensive.

Native American n [C] someone who belongs to one of the tribes who were living in North America before the Europeans arrived ➔ Native American adj national /ˈnætərəl/ adj 1 normal and usual: what you would expect in a particular situation ➔ unnatural: It’s only natural to have doubts before your wedding. 2 existing in nature, not caused, made, or controlled by people: earthquakes and other natural disasters ➔ natural phenomenon (something unusual that happens naturally) natural wild — used about flowers, plants, and animals that are not controlled by people: Wild dogs roamed the streets.

natural pure — used about food or drink that has not had anything added to it: pure orange juice natural orga nic — used about fruit, vegetables, meat, etc. that is produced without using chemicals: organic tomatoes natural 1 [only before noun] having a particular skill or ability without being taught: a natural athlete ➔ 4 behaving in a way that is normal and shows you are relaxed and not trying to pretend: Just be natural — you’ll do fine. ➔ naturalness n [U] natural 2 n [U] ➔ to be very good at doing something without being taught natural gas n [U] gas used for cooking or heating that is taken from under the earth or ocean natural history n [U] EARTH SCIENCES the study of plants, animals, and minerals natural 1 /ˈnætərəl/ adj: a style of art or literature that tries to show the world and people exactly as they are ➔ naturalist n [C] EARTH SCIENCES someone who studies plants, animals, and other living things naturalize /ˈnætərəlaɪz/ v [T] usually passive to officially make someone who was born outside a particular country a legal citizen of that country naturalized a naturalized person who becomes a citizen of a country that s/he was not born in ➔ naturalization /ˈnætərələˌzeɪʃən/ n [U] natural law

670

"natural 'law n. [C,U] SOCIAL SCIENCE a rule or set of nau·seous /'nOS@s, -Z@s/ adj. 1 feeling that you rules for moral behavior that people naturally believe in, rather than laws made by governments or religious laws

N

are going to VOMIT : I suddenly felt nauseous. 2 (literary) making you feel that you are going to VOMIT : nauseous odors nat·u·ral·ly /'nætS@r@li/ adv. 1 in a way that nau·ti·cal /'nOÔIk@l/ adj. relating to ships or sailyou would expect: Naturally, you’ll want to discuss ing: a distance of 300 nautical miles [ORIGIN:
this with your wife. | Naturally enough, she wants 1500—1600 Latin nauticus, from Greek, from her child to grow up fit and strong. 2 (spoken) nautes “sailor,” from naus “ship”] —nautically used in order to agree with what someone has said, adv.
or to answer “Of course” to a question: “Are you na·val /'neIv@l/ adj. relating to the navy: a naval excited to be home?” “Naturally.” 3 as a natural battle feature or quality, not made or done by people:
Allison’s hair is naturally curly. | Golf seemed to na·vel /'neIv@l/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small hollow or come naturally to him (=he was good at it without raised place in the middle of your stomach

SYN belly button being taught). 4 in a relaxed manner, without trying to look or sound different from usual: Just nav·i·ga·ble /'nævIg@b@l/ adj. a river, lake, etc. speak naturally and pretend the microphone isn’t that is navigable is deep and wide enough for ships to travel on
there. | Try to act naturally.
nav·i·gate
/'næv@"geIt/ v. 1 [I,T] to plan the way "natural 'resource n. [C usually plural] things such as land, minerals, energy, etc. that exist in a a car, ship, or airplane travels to a place, using a map: Rick usually drives and I navigate. 2 [I,T] IT country to find your way around a particular WEBSITE , or to "natural se'lection n. [U] BIOLOGY the process by move from one website to another: The university’s which only the plants and animals that are naturally website is really easy to navigate. 3 [I,T] to find appropriate for life in their environment will con- your way through a complicated system, set of tinue to live rules, etc.: A social worker is helping Kelly navina·ture /'neItSø/ n. 1 [U] everything that exists gate the legal system. 4 [T] to sail a boat or ship in the world that is not made or controlled by along a river or other area of water [ORIGIN:
humans, such as animals, plants, weather, etc.: All 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of navigare, navis “ship”] —navigation
of these minerals are found in nature. | the forces from of nature (=wind, rain, etc.) | a nature walk/ /"næv@'geIS@n/ n. [U] trail 2 [C,U] the character or particular qualities of nav·i·ga·tor /'næv@"geIÔø/ n. [C] the officer on a someone or something: He was an optimist by ship or aircraft who plans the way along which it nature. | The nature of my work requires a lot of travels traveling. | Of course she’s jealous – it’s human na·vy /'neIvi/ n. (plural navies) 1 also Navy [C nature (=the feelings and qualities that all people usually singular] the part of a country’s military have). 3 [singular] a particular type of thing: He forces that is organized for fighting a war at sea provided support of a financial nature. 4 let ➔ AIR FORCE , ARMY , MARINES : My dad was 20 when nature take its course to allow events to happen he joined the navy. | Frank is in the navy. 2 [U] without doing anything to change the results ➔ SEC- navy blue [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French OND NATURE
navie “group of ships,” from Latin navigia 'nature re"serve n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES an area of “ships”] land in which animals and plants are protected "navy 'blue adj. very dark blue —navy blue n. naught /nOt/ n. [U] (old-fashioned) nothing: All [U] NBC n. National Broadcasting Company one their plans came to naught (=failed).
of the national television and radio companies in naugh·ty /'nOÔi/ adj. (comparative naughtier, the U.S. superlative naughtiest) a naughty child behaves badly and is rude or does not obey adults NC the written abbreviation of NORTH CAROLINA
—naughtiness n. [U] —naughtily adv.
NCAA n. National Collegiate Athletic Assonau·se·a /'nOzi@, 'nOZ@, 'nOS@/ n. [U] (formal) ciation the organization that is in charge of sports the feeling you have when you think you are going at American colleges and universities to VOMIT [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, Greek NCO n. [C] Noncommissioned Officer a soldier nausia “seasickness,” from nautes “sailor,” such as a CORPORAL or SERGEANT from naus “ship”]
ND the written abbreviation of NORTH DAKOTA nau·se·at·ed /'nOzi"eIÔId/ adj. feeling that you NE 1 the written abbreviation of NORTHare going to VOMIT : When I was pregnant, I felt EAST 2 the written abbreviation of NEBRASKA nauseated all the time. —nauseate v. [T] neap tide /'nip taId/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a TIDE nau·se·at·ing /'nOzi"eIÔIÎ/ adj. making you feel in which the rise and fall of the level of the ocean is that you are going to VOMIT : the nauseating smell smaller than normal, that takes place at the first and of cigar smoke
third quarters of the moon ➔ SPRING TIDE


near¹ /naər/ adv. prep. 1 only a short distance from someone or something: Why don't we meet near the library? | I'd like to live nearer to the ocean. | Is there a bank near here?

USAGE
Near and close are both used to talk about short distances between things. Near can be followed directly by a noun: Is the hotel near the beach? Close cannot be followed directly by a noun. Close must be followed by the preposition "to" and then a noun. They live close to the park.

near² adj. 1 only a short distance from someone or something: The nearest town (=the town that is the closest) is 20 miles away. 2 very close to having a particular quality or being a particular thing: His explanation is as near to the truth as we'll get. 3 in the near future at a time that is not very far in the future: We will have a new teacher joining us in the near future. 4 near miss a situation in which something almost hits something else near-by /nərˈbeɪ/ adj. [only before noun] not far away: Rita was taken to a nearby hospital.

near-ly /ˈnɛrli/ adj. almost, but not completely or exactly: It took me nearly five hours to write the essay. | Nearly all of our students go on to college. The team is not nearly as good as it could have been.

near-sight-ed /ˈnɛərˌsaɪtɪd/ adj. unable to see things clearly unless they are close to you. (am) far-sighted. — near-sightedness n [U]

neat /niːt/ adj. 1 (spoken) very good, enjoyable, interesting, etc.: What a neat idea! | He's a really neat guy. 2 carefully arranged and not messy: Chris looked neat and well shaven. | They keep their house neat and clean. 3 a neat person does not like his/her things or house to be messy. 4 simple and effective: a neat solution to the problem. — neatly adv. — neatness n [U]

neb-ula /ˈnebəla/ n (plural nebulae or nebulas -ˈləʊ/ -luː) [C]. 1 PHYSICS a mass of gas and dust among the stars, that looks similar to a bright cloud in the sky at night. 2 PHYSICS a GALAXY (=large group of stars) that looks like a bright cloud in the sky at night (orig.: 1600—1700 Latin "mist, cloud").

neb-ulous /ˈnebələs/ adj. (formal) 1 not clear or exact at all: vague. The guidance the students were given was fairly nebulous. 2 a nebulous shape cannot be seen clearly and has no definite edges. — nebulously adv. — nebulousness n. [U] nec-es-sar-i-ly /ˈnɛksəˌsɛrəli/ adv. not necessarily used to say that something may not be true or may not always happen, even if it might be reasonable to expect it to: Expensive restaurants do not necessarily have the best food.

nec-es-sar-y /ˈnɛksəˌsɛrə/ adj. 1 needed in order for you to do something or have something: ESSENTIAL: Will you make all the necessary arrangements? | Don't call me unless it's absolutely necessary. | He will do anything necessary to win. | It might be necessary for me to have an operation. | We're prepared to go to war, if necessary.

necessary — important and necessary: Education is essential if you want a good job. vital — extremely important and necessary: He was accused of withholding vital information from the police. mandatory — if something is mandatory, it must be done because of a rule or law: Parents do not want school uniform to become mandatory.
necessitate

compulsory – if something is compulsory, you must do it: Service in the army was compulsory. requisite (formal) – needed for a particular purpose: He lacked the requisite skills for the job. indispensable (formal) – something or someone that is indispensable is so important or useful that something cannot be done without that person or thing: The accounting program is indispensable for small businesses.

2 a necessary evil something bad or unpleasant that you have to accept in order to achieve what you want: He regarded work as a necessary evil. [Origin: 1300–1400 Latin necessarius, from nescire “necessary;” from ne- “not” + cedere “to give up”] ne-ces-si-tate /ˈnɛsəsət/ v [T] (formal) to make something necessary

ne-ces-si-ty /ˈnɛsəsəti/ n (plural necessities) 1 [C] something that you need to have or that must happen: a car is an absolute necessity in the suburbs. a valid driver’s license is a necessity for renting a car. basic necessities like food and shelter 2 [U] the fact of something being necessary: Many parents are questioning the necessity of standardized tests. She went back to work, but only out of necessity.

neck1 /nek/ n [C] 1 the part of your body that joins your head to your shoulders: She was wearing a gold chain around her neck. | Swans have long slender necks. 2 V-neck/open-neck if a piece of clothing is V-necked, open-necked, etc., it has that type of neck: a V-neck sweater | an open-necked shirt 3 the long narrow part of something such as a bottle or a musical instrument 4 neck and neck (informal) if two people, teams, etc. are neck and neck in a competition, they both have an equal chance of winning 5 in this neck of the woods (informal) in this area or part of the country: What are you doing in this neck of the woods? 6 be up to your neck in something (informal) to be in a very difficult situation, or to be very busy doing something: Mason is up to his neck in debt. [Origins: Old English hecnecco]

neck2 v [I] (informal, old-fashioned) if two people neck, they kiss for a long time in a sexual way necklace /ˈneklɑːs/ n [C] a piece of jewelry that hangs around your neck: a pearl necklace ➔ see picture at JEWELRY neckline /ˈneklɪn/ n [C] the shape made by the edge of a woman’s dress, shirt, etc. around or below the neck: a low neckline necktie /ˈnektaɪ/ n [C] (formal) a tie nectar /ˈnekta(r)/ n [U] 1 thick juice made from some fruits: peach nectar 2 the sweet liquid that BEES collect from flowers ne-ta-ri-né, ne-ta-ri-né /ˈnɛtəriːn/ n [C] a round juicy yellow-red fruit that has a large rough seed and smooth skin nèe /ˈnɛ/ adj. used in order to show the family name that a woman had before she was married: Lorna Brown, née Wilson

need1 /nɛd/ v [T] 1 to feel that you must have or do something, or that something is necessary: I need a vacation. | What do you need the money for? | He knows exactly what needs to be done. David, I need you to pick up the dry cleaning. Affordable housing is badly/desperately needed in the city.

THE SA URUS

could use sth/could do with sth (spoken) – to need or want something: Let’s stop. I could use a rest.

be desperate for sth – to need something urgently: a little boy who is desperate for attention can’t do without sth – to be unable to manage without something: I can’t do without my morning coffee.

be dependent on sth/to be dependent on something or someone: The refugees are dependent on outside food supplies:

require – to need something in order to be successful: This sport requires a lot of skill and strength.

2 to have to do something: There’s something I need to tell you. | Do we need to bring anything? | You don’t need to make a reservation.

 USAGE

Use must not or mustn’t when saying that someone should not do something: You mustn’t tell anyone about this. Must not is quite formal and is used mainly in written English.

Use don’t have to when saying that it is not necessary for someone to do something: You don’t have to stay if you don’t want to ➔ MUST1

3 sb does not need sth (spoken) used in order to say that something will make someone’s life more difficult: “He’s always questioning everything I do.” “Yeah, you don’t need that.” [Origin: Old English nided, need]

need2 n. 1 [singular] a situation in which something must be done, especially to improve the situation: I’ve never felt the need to diet. | There is no need to apologize. | A need for change | There’s an urgent need for more nurses. | We will work all night if need be (if it is necessary). 2 [C] usually plural something that you need in order to be healthy, comfortable, successful, etc.: We aim to meet the needs of our customers. | Children with special needs ➔ physical or learning problems. 3 in need of sth needing attention, help, money, etc.: a large population in need of doctors 4 in need not having enough food or money: We’re collecting donations for families in need.

nee-dle /ˈnɪdl/ n. 1 a small thin piece of steel used for sewing, that has a point at one end and a hole at the other end: a needle and thread 2 the sharp hollow metal part on the end of a SYRINGE: Drug users are at risk when they share needles. 3 a small thin pointed leaf, especially from a PINE tree  see picture at PLANT. 4 the very small pointed part in a RECORD PLAYER, that picks up sound from the records  5 thus is looking for a needle in a haystack used in order to say that something is almost impossible to find [Origin: Old English needle] needle v [T] to deliberately annoy someone by making a lot of unkind remarks or stupid jokes

needless /níd-ləs/ adj. 1 needless to say used when you are telling someone something that s/he probably already knows or expects: Needless to say, with four children we’re always busy. 2 not necessary, and often easily avoided: Why take needless risks? —needlessly adv.

needlework /níd-lərkwərk/ n. [U] the activity or art of sewing, or things made by sewing needy /níd/ adj. 1 having very little food or money: a needy family neediest /níd-est/ adj. 1 to have the most need: the neediest people who do not have enough food or money

e nefarious /nə'fəriəs, -ar-l/ adj. (formal) evil or criminal: a nefarious plot to kill the mayor negate /nə'géit/ v [T] to prevent something from having any effect: The decision would effectively negate last year’s Supreme Court ruling. [The drug’s side effects negate any possible benefit to the patient. [Origin: Latin, past participle of negare ] —negatably adv.

negate v [T] to prevent something from having any effect: The decision would effectively negate last year’s Supreme Court ruling. [The drug’s side effects negate any possible benefit to the patient. [Origin: Latin, past participle of negare ] —negatably adv.

neglect /nə'glɛkt/ v [T] 1 to not pay enough attention to someone or something, or to not take care of him, her, or it very well: Each year, 700,000 children are abused or neglected. 2 to not do something, or forget to do it, especially because you are lazy or careless: Sarah neglected to tell us of the change in plans. —neglected adj.

neglect n [U] 1 failure to take care of something or someone well: cases of child abuse or neglect 2 the condition something or someone is in when he, she, or it has not been taken care of: inner cities in a state of neglect neglectful /nə'glɛkt-fəl/ adj. (formal) not taking care of something or someone very well: neglectful parents negligible /nə'gliʒəbl/ adj. too slight or insignificant to have any effect —negligibly adv.

negligence /nə'gliʒəns/ n. [U] the failure to do something that you are responsible for in a careful enough way, so that something bad happens or may happen: They’re suing the doctor for negligence.

negligent /nə'gliʒənt/ adj. not being careful enough about something that you are doing, so that serious mistakes are made: The company had been negligent in its safety procedures. —negligently adv.

negligently /nə'gliʒəntli/ adv. not being careful enough about something that you are doing, so that serious mistakes are made: The company had been negligent in its safety procedures. —negligently adv.

negligence /nə'gliʒəns/ n. [U] the failure to do something that you are responsible for in a careful enough way, so that something bad happens or may happen: They’re suing the doctor for negligence.

negligent /nə'gliʒənt/ adj. not being careful enough about something that you are doing, so that serious mistakes are made: The company had been negligent in its safety procedures. —negligently adv.

neglect /nə'glɛkt/ v [T] to prevent something from having any effect: The decision would effectively negate last year’s Supreme Court ruling. [The drug’s side effects negate any possible benefit to the patient. [Origin: Latin, past participle of negare ] —negatably adv.

negligible /nə'gliʒəbl/ adj. too slight or insignificant to have any effect —negligibly adv.

negotiate /nə'ɡətē/ 1 [əɡ'seit] vb. 1 [T] to discuss something in order to reach an agreement: UN representatives are trying to negotiate a ceasefire. [The government refuses to negotiate with terrorists. 2 [T] to succeed in getting past or over a difficult place on a road, path, etc.: an old man carefully negotiating the steps [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of negotiari “to do business”] —negotiator n [C] negotiation /nə'ɡətāʃən/ n. 1 [U] official discussions between two groups who are trying to agree on something: We can’t discuss the details because they are still under negotiation. [Baseball owners have begun negotiations with the players’ union. ] budget negotiations between the White House and Congress

Negro /ˈnɛgroʊ/ n. (plural Negroes) [C] (old-fashioned) a word used in the past for a black person. This word is now considered offensive. [Origin: 1500—1600 Spanish, Portuguese, from negro “black,” from Latin niger] —Negro adj.

neigh /ni/ vb. [I] to make a loud sound like a horse negligible /nə'gliʒəbl/ adj. too slight or insignificant to have any effect —negligibly adv.

neighbor

neigh·bor /ˈnɛbər/ n [C] 1 someone who lives in a house or apartment very near you: The Nelsons are our next-door neighbors (=they live in the house next to ours). 2 someone who is sitting or standing next to you: Discuss the questions with your neighbor. 3 a country that has a border with another country: Germany and its European neighbors ([Old English neahgēþuhr].

neigh·bor·hood /ˈnɛbərˌhoȯd/ n [C] 1 a small area of a town, or the people who live there: a nice neighborhood in Boston. /a neighborhood school. Are there any good restaurants in the neighborhood? (lit this area of town)?

neighbor·ing /ɛˈnɪbərɪŋ/ adj near, close, not far away), nearby, within walking distance (of sth), local → NEAR neigh·bor·ly /ˈnɛbərli/ adj friendly and helpful toward your neighbors → neighborliness n [U]

neither1 /nɪˈðər/ n (used after 'nor' as a singular noun): another country: Germany and its European neighbors. /[neither of two people or things] either one or the other of two people or things → EITHER, NONE: Neither of them understood what she was saying. /Neither leader would admit to being wrong.

neither2 adj used in order to agree with a negative statement that someone has made, or to add a negative statement to one that has just been made: "I don’t like coffee." "Neither do I." / Bill can’t sing at all, and neither can his brother. / "I haven’t seen Greg in a long time." "Me neither."

neither3 conjunction neither ... nor ... used when mentioning two statements, facts, actions, etc. that are not true or possible: Neither his mother nor his father spoke English. / The equipment is neither accurate nor safe.

ne·o·con·ser·va·tive /ˌniəʊkənˈsɜːrvətɪv/ adj [usually before noun] POLITICS supporting political ideas that include strict moral behavior and the importance of being responsible for your own actions and not being dependent on the government → neoconservative n [C]

Ne·o·lith·ic /ˌniəˈlɪθɪk/ adj EARTH SCIENCES relating to the last period of the stone age, about 10,000 years ago, when people began to live together in small groups and make stone tools and weapons: Neolithic art → Paleolithic ne·o·o·gism /ˈniəˌɔdʒɪzəm/ n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a new word or expression, or a word used with a new meaning.

ne·on /ˈniːən/ n [U] CHEMISTRY a gas that shines brightly when electricity goes through it, used in lights and signs: neon lights ne·o·phyte /ˈniəˌfɑt/ n [C] someone who has just started to learn a particular skill, art, job, etc.: a collection of CDs for jazz neophytes to listen to → neophyte adj. [only before noun]

neph·ew /ˈnɛʃəʊ/ n [C] the son of your brother or sister, or the son of your husband’s or wife’s brother or sister → NIECE → RELATIVE

ne·pō·ism /ˈnɛpəˌɪzəm/ n [U] (disapproving) the practice of giving the best jobs to members of your family when you are in a position of power

Nep·tune /ˈnɛptuːn/ n PHYSICS the eighth planet from the Sun → see picture at solar system nerd /nɜrd/ n [C] (informal) someone who is not fashionable and does not know how to behave in social situations: a computer nerd (=someone who is interested only in computers) → nerdy adj.

nerve /nɜrv/ n [U] 1 [U] the ability to stay calm in a dangerous, difficult, or frightening situation: It takes a lot of nerve to give a speech in front of so many people. / He would’ve won if he hadn’t lost his nerve (=suddenly become very nervous).

nerve·a·dope /ˈnɜrviˌdɑp/ n [C] (informal) someone who is not fashionable and does not know how to behave in social situations: a computer nerd (=someone who is interested only in computers) → nerdy adj.

2 nerves (plural) the feeling of being nervous because you are worried or a little frightened: “What’s wrong?” “It’s just nerves. My exam is tomorrow.” 3 [C] BIOLOGY one of the thin parts like threads inside your body that help control your movements, and along which your brain sends and receives feelings of heat, cold, pain, etc.: He has some nerve damage in his left hand. Get on sb’s nerves (informal) to annoy someone, especially by doing something again and again: Joyce’s complaining is getting on my nerves. 5 have the nerve to do sth (informal) to be rude without being ashamed or embarrassed about it: He had the nerve to criticize my cooking. 6 hit/touch/strike a (raw) nerve (informal) to mention something that people feel strongly about or that upsets people: I must have hit a raw nerve by asking him about his ex-wife. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin nervus] nerve·rack·ing, nerve·wrack·ing adj very worrying or frightening: a nerve-racking wait for test results

ner·vous /ˈnɜrvəs/ adj. 1 worried or frightened about something, and unable to relax: Sam’s nervous about taking his driving test again. / Would you stop staring? You’re making me nervous. / nervous laughter | By the time I got to the interview, I was a nervous wreck (=was extremely nervous).
nervous [n. [C usually singular] BIOLOGY the system of nerves in your body, through which you feel pain, heat, etc. and control your movements nervous system n. [C usually singular] BIOLOGY the system of nerves in your body, through which you feel pain, heat, etc. and control your movements nervous breakdown n. [C] a mental illness in which someone becomes extremely anxious and tired and cannot live and work normally: He almost had suffered a nervous breakdown last year.

nervous system n. [C usually singular] BIOLOGY the system of nerves in your body, through which you feel pain, heat, etc. and control your movements nest n. [C] 1 a hollow place made or chosen by a bird to lay its eggs in and to live in: The robins were building a nest in our backyard. 2 a place where insects or small animals live: a hornet's nest 3 leave/fly the nest (informal) to leave your parents' house when you are an adult [Origin: Old English] nest v. [I] to build or use a nest: owls nesting in a tree hole nest egg n. [C] an amount of money that you have saved nestle /ˈnestl/ v. [I,T] to move into a comfortable position by pressing against someone or something: She nestled her head against his shoulder. 2 [I] (literary) to be in a position that is protected from wind, rain, etc.: a village nestling among the hills nesting n. [I,T] a material made of strings, wires, or threads woven across each other with regular spaces between them: a fishing net 2 [C usually singular] a net used in particular games: The ball went straight into the net. 3 the Net the internet: I read about it on the Net.

net v. (netted net-ting) [T] 1 to earn a particular amount of money as a profit after paying taxes ➔ gross: Last year, they netted $52,000.

net adj. [only before noun] 1 ECONOMICS a net amount of money is the amount that remains after things such as taxes, etc. have been taken away ➔ GROSS: a net profit/loss of $500,000. 2 net weight the weight of something without its container 3 net worth ECONOMICS the value of a company or business after all its debts have been taken away from its profits, and the things it owns 4 net result the final result, after all the effects are known: The net result of the policy was higher prices in the stores.

net-i-quette, Netiquette /ˈnetɪk/ n. [U] the commonly accepted rules for polite behavior when communicating with other people on the Internet

net-ting /ˈnetɪŋ/ n. [U] material consisting of string, wire, etc. that has been woven into a net nettle /ˈnetl/ n. [C] a wild plant with rough leaves that sting you

net-work1 /ˈnetwɜːk/ AC n. [C] 1 a group of radio or television stations that broadcasts many of the same programs in different parts of the country: the four biggest TV networks 2 if a set of computers that are connected to each other so that they can share information: network administrators | I wasn't able to log on to the network. | Three-quarters of the traffic on their network consisted of emails. 3 a system of lines, tubes, wires, roads, etc. that cross each other and are connected to each other: the freeway network | the network of blood vessels in the body. | The GPS system is based on a network of 24 satellites sending out radio signals. 4 a group of people, organizations, etc. that are connected or that work together: Trina had developed a good network of business contacts.

net-work2 v. 1 [I] to meet other people who do the same type of work, in order to share information, help each other, etc.: Conferences can be a great opportunity to network. 2 [T] to connect several computers together so that they can share information: This system allows you to network all your computers.

net-work-ing /ˈnetwɜːkɪŋ/ AC n. [U] the practice of meeting other people who do the same type of work, in order to share information, help each other, etc.: Networking may give you the opportunity to find another job.

neuro-log-ic-al /ˌnjʊərəˈlɑːdʒɪkəl/ adj. neurology the scientific study of the nervous system and the diseases that are related to it ➔ neurologist n. [C] ➔ neurological /ˌnjʊərəˈlɑːdʒɪkl/ adj.

neuro-n /ˈnjuːrən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a type of cell in the nervous system that sends messages to muscles, the brain, and other parts of the body [Origin: 1800—1900 Greek "nervē"] neuro-sis /ˈnjuːroʊsɪs/ n. (plural neuroses /ˈnjuːrəsɪz/) [C,U] a mental illness that makes someone worried or frightened in an unreasonable way neuro-tic /ˈnuːrətɪk/ adj. 1 unreasonably anxious or afraid: My aunt is neurotic about cleanliness. 2 relating to a neurosis: neurotic disorders ➔ neurotically adv. ➔ neurotic n. [C] neut-e-ral /ˈnuːtərəl/ adj. ENG, LANG, ARTS in English grammar, a neuter PRONOUN such as "it" relates to... something that has no sex, or does not show the sex of the person or animal that it relates to [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin “neither,” from ne- “not” + uter “which of two”] neutralize /nuːˈtrælɪzaɪ/ v [T] BIOLOGY to remove part of the sex organs of a male animal so that it cannot produce babies ➔ SPAY neutral /ˈnjuːtrəl/ adj 1 not supporting either side in an argument, competition, or war: Switzerland was neutral during World War II. | The French government acted as a neutral observer during the talks. 2 not showing any strong feelings or opinions: “I see,” she said in a neutral tone. 3 a neutral color such as gray or brown is not strong or bright: Neutral tones give the room a feeling of space.

neutral-i-ty /nuˈtrəli ti/ n [U] the position of the gears of a car or machine when it will not move forward or backward: Start the car in neutral.

neutral-ly /nuˈtrələti/ adv [U] the state of not supporting either side in an argument, competition, or war: Switzerland was determined to maintain its traditional neutrality.

neutral-ize /nuˈtrəlai/ v [T] to prevent something from having any effect: Air freshener can help neutralize pet odors. | Higher taxes will neutralize increased wages. —neutralization /nuˈtrəlai zai/ n [U]

neuter /nuːˈtʃər/ n [C] PHYSICS a part of an atom that has no electrical charge. [Origin: 1900—2000 Probably from neutral] ➔ see picture at ATOM

never /ˈnevər/ adv 1 not at any time, or not once: I’ve never been to Hawaii. | We waited until 11:00, but they never came. | I’ll never make that mistake again. | I never knew (=I did not know until now) that you played the guitar!

never (spoken) – used to emphasize that you mean never: I’ll never forgive him.

not in a million years (spoken) – used to say that something is completely impossible: She wouldn’t go without me – not in a million years!

not once – used to show that you are surprised or annoyed, or to emphasize something: Craig didn’t phone all week – not once! ➔ OFTEN, RARELY, SOMETIMES

2 never mind (spoken) used in order to tell someone that something was not important or that you do not want to say something again: “What did you say?” “Never mind, it doesn’t matter.” 3 you never know (spoken) used in order to say that something that seems unlikely could happen: You never know, maybe you’ll win.

never before a verb, unless the verb is “be”: I never thought that this would happen. | He’s never late.
If there are two or more verbs together, never comes after the first one: She has never wanted to live anywhere else.

never-the-less /ˈnevərθəlis/ adv in spite of what has just been mentioned: I know he’s telling the truth. Nevertheless, I don’t trust him.

new /nuː/ adj 1 recently made, built, invented, or developed (ant: old) The city is building a new football stadium. | Can the new drugs help her? | technology that is completely new

new (adj) 1 recently purchased: I bought a new car. | 2 recently bought: Do you like my new dress? 3 not used or owned by anyone before (adj) used: A used car costs a lot less than a new one. | a brand new (=completely new) CD player 4 not experienced by someone before: Do you like your new teacher? | Learning a new language is always a challenge. | The idea was new to me. 5 having recently arrived in a place, or started a different job or activity: Are you a new student here? | Charlie is new to the area and eager to meet people. | It’s hard being the new kid on the block (=the newest person in a job, school, etc.). 6 recently discovered: new evidence | a new planet 7 what’s new? (spoken) used as a friendly greeting to ask what is happening in someone’s life [in] Old English niwe ➔ newness n [U]

New Age adj relating to a set of beliefs about religion, medicine, and ways of life that are not part of traditional Western religions, etc.

new-bie /ˈnuːbi/ n [C] (informal, humorous) someone who has just started doing something, especially using the Internet or computers ➔ beginner

new-born /ˈnuːbɔrn/ n [A] a baby that has recently been born ➔ new-born baby /ˈnuːbɔrn/ adj

new-com-er /ˈnuːkəmər/ n [C] someone who has recently arrived somewhere or recently started a particular activity: a newcomer to the real estate business

new-fangled /ˈnuːfæŋgld/ adj [only before noun] (disapproving) newfangled ideas, machines, etc. have been recently invented but seem complicated or unnecessary: newfangled ideas about raising children new·ly

adv. newly elected/formed etc. elected, etc. very recently: the newly appointed chairman

THESAURUS
recently, just, lately

new·ly-weds

n. [plural] a man and a woman who have recently gotten married news

n. 1 [U] information about something that has happened recently: Have you heard (‘t=received) any news about your job application? | I have some good/bad news for you. | We were shocked by the news that Tom had left his wife. | I don’t know how I’m going to break the news to her (‘t=news, much to be said about something bad that has happened). | an interesting piece of news 2 [U] reports of recent events in the newspapers or on the radio or television: There is more news of fighting in the area | a news story/report/item on the plane crash | local/national/international news | 20 years ago, environmental issues rarely made the news (=were reported in newspapers, etc.). 3 the news a regular television or radio program that gives you reports of recent events: the 11 o’clock news | We usually watch the evening news. | The teachers’ strike was on the news. 4 that’s news to me (spoken) said when you are surprised or annoyed because you were not told something earlier: The meeting’s been canceled? That’s news to me.

GRAMMAR
News is always followed by a singular verb: The news was good. You can say some news, any news, etc. or a piece of news: I have some news for you.

‘news agency

n. [C] a company that supplies reports on recent events to newspapers, television, and radio

‘news bulletin

n. [C] a very short news program about something important that has just happened, that is broadcast suddenly in the middle of a television or radio program

news·cast

n. [C] a news program on television or the radio news·cast·er

n. [C] someone who reads the news on television or the radio news·let·ter

n. [C] a short written report of news about a club, organization, or particular subject, that is sent regularly to people: our church newsletter news·pa·per

n. 1 [C] also a paper a set of large folded sheets of paper containing news, pictures, advertisements, etc. that is printed and sold daily or weekly: the local newspaper | I saw your picture in the newspaper. | a newspaper article

THESAURUS
Newspapers in general
the papers, the press, the media (=newspapers, TV, radio, etc.)

tableoid – a newspaper that has small pages, a lot of photographs, short stories, and not much serious news broadsheet – a serious newspaper printed on large sheets of paper Parts of a newspaper front page – the first page, which usually contains the most important news sports/entertainment/food etc. sections – the set of pages dealing with sports, entertainment, etc.
the comics page/the funny pages – the page with many different cartoons editorial/opinion/op-ed page – the page or pages in which the editor and other people express their opinions about the news, rather than just giving facts headlines – the titles of newspaper articles, printed in large letters above the article, and which usually show the most important pieces of news article – a piece of writing about a particular subject report – a piece of writing in a newspaper about an event story – a report in a newspaper about a recent event column – an article on a particular subject or by a particular writer, that appears regularly People who write newspapers editor – the person who is in charge of a newspaper, magazine, etc. and decides what should be included in it, or the person who prepares an article for printing by deciding what to include and checking for mistakes reporter – someone whose job is to report on events for a newspaper or magazine, or on television or the radio journalist – someone who writes reports for newspapers and magazines correspondent – someone whose job is to report news from a distant area or about a particular subject columnist – someone who writes articles, especially about a particular subject, that appear regularly

2 [U] sheets of paper from old newspapers: We packed the dishes in newspapers.

news·print

n. [U] cheap paper used mostly for printing newspapers news·stand

n. [C] a place on a street where newspapers are sold news·wor·thy

adj. important or interesting enough to be reported as news: news-worthy events news·y

adj. (informal) a newy letter is from a friend or relative and contains a lot of information about him/her newt

n. [C] a small animal with a long body, four legs, and a tail, that lives in water
New Testament

New Testament n. the New Testament, the part of the Bible that is about Jesus Christ’s life and what he taught ➔ Old Testament newton /’nautn/ n. [C] PHYSICS (written abbreviation N) a unit for measuring force. One newton is equal to the force needed to make an object that weighs one kilogram move at a speed that increases every second by one meter a second.

Newton’s First Law n. PHYSICS a scientific rule which says that an object will not start to move, or will not move forward faster, unless it is made to do so by an outside force.

ew wave n. [C usually singular] people who are trying to introduce new ideas in music, movies, art, politics, etc.: \textit{a new wave of Hong Kong filmmakers}

New World n. the New World. HISTORY North, Central, and South America, used when talking about the time that Europeans first discovered these areas.

new year n. [C] 1 New Year also New Year’s the time when you celebrate the beginning of the year: \textit{Happy New Year!} | Have you made any New Year’s resolutions (=promises to improve yourself)? 2 the new year the year after the present year, especially at the beginning of it: \textit{We’re opening three new stores in the new year.}

New Year’s Day n. a holiday on January 1, the first day of the year in Western countries.

New Year’s ‘Eve n. a holiday on December 31, the last day of the year in Western countries, when many people have parties to celebrate the start of the new year.

next adj. /’nekst/ [determiner, adj. 1 the next day, time, event, etc. is the one that happens after the present one: \textit{The next flight leaves in 45 minutes.} | They returned to New York the next day. | Next time (=when this happens again), be more careful. | See you next week. | School starts next Monday. | Don’t say “the next Monday/month/year, etc.”]

THE SAURUS

following — immediately after the one you have just been talking about: \textit{The following day, she invited me to dinner.}

subsequent (formal) – coming after or following something else: In subsequent years, Dr. Kim devoted all of his time to research.

succeeding (formal) – coming after something else: In the succeeding weeks, he gradually grew stronger. later – coming in the future, or after something else: We’ll discuss this at a later time.

ensuing (formal) – happening after something, often as a result of it: He realized, in the ensuing silence, that he had said the wrong thing.

2 the next place is the one closest to where you are now: \textit{Turn left at the next corner.} | the people at the next table.

3 the next person or thing on a list, in a series, etc. is the one that comes after the present one: \textit{Who’s the next person in line?} | Read the next two chapters by Friday.

4 the next best thing the thing or situation that is almost as good as the one you really want: \textit{If we can’t be together, talking on the phone is the next best thing.}

next² adv. /’nekst/ 1 immediately afterward: \textit{What should we do next?} | First, write your name at the top of the page. Next, read the instructions.

THE SAURUS

after, afterward, later, subsequently ➔ AFTER

2 next to sb/sth very close to someone or something, with nothing in between: \textit{I sat next to a really nice lady on the plane.} | The baby sleeps in the room next to ours.

3 next to nothing very little: \textit{Phil earns next to nothing.} | 4 next to impossible very difficult: \textit{It’s next to impossible to get tickets for the game.}

next³ pron. /’nekst/ 1 the person or thing in a list, series, etc. that comes after the person or thing you are dealing with now: \textit{What’s next on the shopping list?} | \textit{We’re next in line.} 2 the day/week etc. after next the day, week, etc. that follows the next one: \textit{The week after next is our spring break.}

next ‘door adv. in the room, building, etc. that is next to the person or thing you are dealing with now: \textit{Our next-door neighbor will take care of the cats for us.}

next of kin n. [U] your closest living relative or relatives, for example your mother, father, son, or daughter: \textit{The victim will not be named until her next of kin are informed.}

NFC n. National Football Conference a group of teams that is part of the NFL.

NFL n. National Football League the organization that is in charge of professional football in the U.S.

NH the written abbreviation of NEW HAMPSHIRE

NHL n. National Hockey League the organization that is in charge of professional hockey in the U.S. and Canada.

nibble /’nibbl/ v. [T] to eat a small amount of food by taking very small bites: \textit{Guests were nibbling on cheese and crackers.} —nibble n. [C]

THE SAURUS

eat, pick at, ingest ➔ EAT

nice /’nais/ adj. 1 good, pleasant, attractive, or enjoyable: \textit{Did you have a nice time last night?} | That’s a nice sweater. | Their apartment is much nicer than ours. | You look nice today. | It’s nice to see you again. | It would be nice if Chris could come. | It’s really nice out (=the weather is good) today. | Let’s sit by the fire where it’s nice and warm.

THE SAURUS

enjoyable – used for describing something that gives you pleasure because it is interesting, exciting, etc.: \textit{an enjoyable day at the beach} 2 friendly or kind: Matt is a really nice guy; It was nice of you to stop by; Be nice to your little sister!

THESAURUS

kind, considerate, thoughtful, caring, warm-hearted, sympathetic → kind

3 (it's) nice to meet you: a polite phrase used when you meet someone for the first time nice·ly /nɪs·li/ adv. 1 in a satisfactory, pleasing, or skillful way: Belinda is always so nicely dressed (=wearing attractive clothes). 2 His arm is healing nicely. 2 in a polite or friendly way: I'm sure he'll help if you ask him nicely.

niceness /ˈnɪsəs/ n. [U] —niceness n. 1 ([U] —niceness n. 1) the state of being nice; a pleasant quality: His friendliness is one of his nicest qualities.

nice·ly·look·ing /ˈnɪs·li·lɒk·ɪŋ/ adj. fairly attractive: He's a really nice-looking guy. → attractive nice·ly·dress·ed /ˈnɪs·li·drɪs·əd/ adj. well: Belinda is always so nicely dressed (=wearing attractive clothes).

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.

nice·ly·do·ing /ˈnɪs·li·dɔɪŋ/ adj. or n. [U] doing something well: She was doing her job very nicely.
night light

night light n. [C] a small not very bright light, often used in a child’s room at night, so that she will not be afraid of the dark night-ly /ˈnaɪtlɪ adj., adv. happening every night: the nightly news. | The restaurant is open nightly.

night-mare /ˈnaɪtmɑr/ n. [C] 1 a very frightening dream: I still have terrible nightmares about the accident. 2 (informal) a person, thing, situation, etc. that is very bad or very difficult to deal with: Living with my parents again would be a total nightmare! —nightmarish adj.

night owl n. [C] (informal) someone who enjoys being awake or working late at night night school n. [U] classes taught at night, for people who work during the day: I was working every day and going to night school.

night-stand /ˈnaɪtstænd/ also night table n. [C] a small table beside a bed night-time /ˈnaɪt-taim/ n. [U] the time during the night when the sky is dark (24HR) daytime ni-hil-ism /ˈniaɪlɪzəm, ‘naɪ-ˈlɪz-əm/ n. [U] the belief that nothing in life has any meaning or value, and that all social and political institutions should be destroyed. —nihilist n. [C] —nihilistic adj.

nil /nɪl/ n. [U] (formal) nothing or zero: His chances of winning the election are absolutely virtually nil.

nimble /ˈnɪmbəl/ adj. able to move quickly and skillfully (SYN) agile: nimble fingers nim-bus /ˈnimboʊs/ n. (plural nimbi or nimbi) (SYN) STRATUS a dark cloud that may bring rain or snow → CIRRUS, cumulonimbus, cumulus, stratus nin-com-poop /ˈninˌkɑmpu/ n. [C] (old-fashioned, informal) a stupid person (SYN) idiot nine /naɪn/ noun 1 9 2 nine o’clock: I have to be in the office by nine. | The store opens at nine. 3 nine years old: Larry will be nine next July. | [Origin: Old English nigon] nine-teen /ˈnaɪntiːn/ noun 1/9 2 nine-tieth number nine-to-five adj. adv. from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., the hours that most people work in an office: I work nine-to-five most days, a nine-to-five job nine-ty /ˈnaɪnti/ number 1 90 2 the nineties a) the years between 1990 and 1999 b) the numbers between 90 and 99, especially when used for measuring temperatures 3 be in your nineties to be between 90 and 99 years old —ninetieth /ˈnaɪntiθ/ number ninth /ˈnaɪntθ/ number 1 9th 2 9/9 nip nip v. (nipped, nipping) 1 [T] to bite someone or something with small sharp bites, or to try to do this: This stupid dog keeps nipping at my ankles. 2 nip sth in the bud to prevent something from becoming a problem by stopping it as soon as it starts nip² n. [C] a small sharp bite nip-ple /ˈnɪpəl/ n. [C] 1 the dark raised circle in the middle of a woman’s breast that a baby sucks in order to get milk. 2 one of the two dark raised circles on a man’s chest 3 the small piece of rubber on the end of a baby’s bottle nip-py /ˈnɪpɪ/ adj. (informal) weather that is nippy is a little cold (SYN) chilly ni-ra-na, Nirvana /ˈnɪrɑːva/, nir-/n/ [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE the final state of complete knowledge and understanding that is the aim of believers in Buddhism [Origins: 1800—1900 Sanskrit nīs- “out” + vā “it blows”] nit /nɪt/ n. [C] the egg of a louse (=small insect) nit-pick-ing /ˈnɪtpɪkɪŋ/ n. [U] (informal, disapproving) the act of criticizing people about unimportant details —nitpick v. [I] —nitpicking adj.

ni-tro-gen /ˈnaɪtərədʒən/ n. [U] (symbol N) CHEMISTRY a chemical compound that is mainly used for improving the soil that crops are grown in nit-ty-grit-ty /ˈnɪtɪˌgrɪtɪ/ n. (pl.) (SYN) the written abbreviation of nitty-gritty (informal) the basic and practical facts and details of an agreement or activity: Let’s get down to the nitty-gritty and work out the cost.

nit-wit /ˈnɪtˌwɪt/ n. [C] (informal) a silly stupid person nix /nɪks/ v. [T] (informal) to answer no to something or refuse something: They immediately nixed my idea.

NJ the written abbreviation of NEW JERSEY

NM the written abbreviation of NEW MEXICO

no¹ /nəʊ/ adv. 1 said in order to give a negative reply to a question, offer, or request (SYN) yes: “Is she married?” “No, she’s not.” | “Do you want some more coffee?” “No thanks.” | When I asked him, he said no. 2 (spoken) said when you disagree with a statement (SYN) yes: “Gary’s weird.” “No, he’s just shy.” “(spoken) said when you do not want someone to do something (SYN) yes: No, Jimmy, don’t touch that.

no² determiner 1 not any, or not at all: There was no evidence that a crime had been committed. | There’s no more milk. | He had no intention of returning the money. | There’s no reason to be afraid. 2 used on a sign in order to show that something is not allowed: No smoking | No pets → no good at good², in no time at time³ no³ n. (plural noes) [C usually singular] a negative answer or decision: Her answer was a definite no.

no. (plural nos.) the written abbreviation of NUMBER nomenclature

no-bil-i-ty /ˈnou bɪlɪti/ n. 1 the nobility the group of people in particular countries who have the highest social class and have special titles. 2 [U] the quality of being noble

no-ble /ˈnou bəl/ adj. 1 morally good or generous in a way that should be admired. The money is going to a noble cause. | a noble ideal/good. 2 belonging to the group of people in particular countries who have the highest social class and special titles: noble families —nobly adv.

no-bles also no-bles-man /ˈnou bəlɪmən/, no-bles-wom-an /ˈnou bəlɪwʊmən/ n. (plural noblemen /-mən/, noblewomen /-ˌwʊmən/) [C] someone who belongs to the nobility no-ble gas n. [C] CHEMISTRY a gas that is an ELEMENT and that combines with only a small number of other gases or not at all no-body1 /ˈnou bədi/ n., -bdy pro n. no person (Syn no one: I knocked on the door, but nobody answered.

no-body2 n. (plural nobodies) [C] someone who is not important, successful, or famous no-brainer n. [C] usually singular (informal) something that you do not have to think about because it is easy to understand: The decision is a no-brainer — take the job.

nocturnal /ˈnɒktərnəl/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY nocturnal animals are active at night. 2 (formal) happening at night [Origin: 1400—1500 Late Latin nocturnus “by night,” from nox “night”]

nod /nəd/ v. (nodded, nodding) 1 [U] to move your head up and down, especially to show that you agree with or understand something: Dora nodded her head in agreement. | He nodded and smiled. 2 [I] to move your head up and down once toward someone or something, in order to greet someone or to give him/her a sign to do something: I nodded to the waiter and asked for the bill. | “Sally’s in there,” Jim said, nodding toward the door. —nod n. [C]: He gave a nod of agreement.

nod off phr. v. to begin to sleep, often without intending to: His speech was so boring I kept nodding off.

node /ˈnəʊd/ n. [C] 1 MATH a place where lines in a network, GRAPH, etc. meet or join. 2 BIOLOGY a LYMPH NODE no-fault adj. [only before noun] 1 no-fault car insurance will pay for the damage done in an accident, even if you caused the accident. 2 a no-fault DIVORCE does not blame either the husband or the wife.

no-frills adj. [only before noun] without any features that are not completely necessary: a no-frills airline noh /nəʊ/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a type of traditional Japanese musical play noise /nəʊz/ n. [C,U] a sound or sounds that is or are too loud, annoying, or not intended: the noise of the traffic | You’re making too much noise. | Do you hear that squeaking noise? | There was a lot of noise outside.

noise-less /ˈnəʊzlɪs/ adj. (literary) not making any sound —noiselessly adv.

noise pol-lu-tion n. [U] very loud continuous noise in the environment, that is considered unpleasant and harmful to people noi-some /ˈnəʊsəm/ adj. (literary) extremely bad, ugly, etc.: The poor were forced to live in noisome slums.

noi-sy /ˈnəʊzi/ adj. (comparative noisier, superlative noisiest) making a lot of noise, or full of noise: a noisy crowd | a noisy restaurant | Their lawn mower is really noisy. —noisily adv.

no-mad /ˈnəʊmæd/ n. [C] 1 a member of a tribe that travels from place to place, especially to find food for their animals: the desert nomads. 2 someone who often travels from place to place, or who changes jobs, homes, etc. often —nomadic /ˈnəʊmædɪk/ adj.: nomadic tribes no-man’s land n. [singular, U] land that no one owns or controls, especially between two opposing armies no-men-cla-ture /nəʊmənˈklətʃər/ n. [C,U] SCIENCE a system of naming things nominal /ˈnəʊmənl/ adj. 1 a nominal price/fee/sum etc. a small amount of money: You can get the new telephone service for a nominal fee. 2 nominal leader/head etc. someone who has the title of leader, etc. but does not actually do that job nominal /ˈnəʊmənəl/ adj (formal) officially described as something or as doing something, although the truth may be different: The country is nominally Catholic.

nominate /ˈnɒmənɪteɪt/ v [T] 1 to officially choose someone so that she can be one of the competitors in an election, competition, etc.: Ferraro was the first woman to be nominated for the job of vice president. 2 to choose someone for a particular job or position: Margaret was nominated (as) club representative.

nomination /ˈnɒmɪnéʃn/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of officially choosing someone to be a competitor in an election, competition, etc., or the official choice: Who will get the Republican nomination for president? 2 the act of choosing someone for a particular job, or the person chosen: Judge Howard’s nomination to the United States Supreme Court | The Senate voted to confirm his nomination as defense secretary.

nominate /ˈnɒmɪnət/ v [I, T] 1 to officially choose someone so that she can be one of the competitors in an election, competition, etc.: The Democratic Party’s presidential nominee.

non-aggression /ˈnɒnəɡriːznɪʃən/ n. [U] the state of not fighting or attacking: a nonaggression pact/treaty (= a promise not to attack another country)

non-alcoholic /ˌnɒnəˈkɒləhɪk/ adj. nonalcoholic drinks do not contain any alcohol: nonalcoholic beer nonchalant /ˌnɒnʃəˈlænt/ adj. calm and not seeming interested in or worried about anything: She tried to look nonchalant. —nonchalantly adv.

non-committal /ˌnɒnməˈkɪml/ adj. (formal) not giving a definite answer, or not willing to express your opinions: The lawyer was noncommittal about his chances of going to prison. —noncommittally adv.

non-conformist /ˌnɒnkrəˈfɒrnɪst/ n. [C] someone who deliberately does not accept the beliefs and ways of behaving that most people in a society accept: Nonconformists are not tolerated in corporate environments.

non-count /ˌnɒnˈkaʊnt/ adj. noncount noun ENG.L ANG. ARTS an UNCOUNTABLE noun non-dairy /ˌnɒndɛəri/ adj. containing no milk, and used instead of a product that contains milk: non-dairy creamer.

non-denominational /ˌnɒnˌdɛnəˈmɪʃənl/ adj. not related to a particular religion or religious group: a non-denominational chapel non-decree /ˌnɒndɪˈskriː/ adj. not having any noticeable or interesting qualities: a nondecree man in a plain gray suit non-effect /ˌnɒnɪˈfɛkt/ n. [C] someone who deliberately does not accept the beliefs and ways of behaving that most people in a society accept: Nonconformists are not tolerated in corporate environments.

non-effect /ˌnɒnɪˈfɛkt/ n. [C] someone who deliberately does not accept the beliefs and ways of behaving that most people in a society accept: Nonconformists are not tolerated in corporate environments. non-in-ter-ven-tion /ˌnamɪnˈtɜːr.vənʃən/ n. [U] the refusal of a government to become involved in the affairs of other countries non-lin-e-ar pro-gres-sion /ˌnɑːn.lɪn.iər prəˈɡres.ʃən/ also non-linear ‘sequence n. [C] a series of numbers, for example 1, 3, 4, 8, with different increases between them. If you showed them on a graph, they would not form a straight line. ➔ arithmetic sequence, geometric sequence non-native ‘speaker n. [C] someone who has learned a particular language as a foreign language non-no n. (plural no-nos or no-nos) (informal) something that is not allowed, or not socially acceptable: Chewing gum during a job interview is a definite no-no.

non-nonsense adj. very practical, direct, and unwilling to waste time: a no-nonsense attitude toward work non-pay-ment /ˌnɑːn.ˈpeɪmənt/ n. [U] economics failure to pay bills, taxes, or debts: nonpayment of rent non-plussed /ˌnɑːn.ˈplʌst/ adj. so surprised that you do not know what to say or do

NON-PROFIT /ˌnɑːn.prəˈfaɪt/ adj. economics a non-profit organization, school, hospital, etc. uses the money it earns to help people instead of making a profit, and therefore does not have to pay taxes non-profit n. [C]: Danson works for a Seattle nonprofit.

non-pro-lif-er-a-tion /ˌnɑːn.ˈprɒlɪfər.əˈʃən/ n. [U] the act of limiting the number of nuclear or chemical weapons that are being made across the world

non-refund-able /ˌnɑːn.ˈrɛfəndəbəl/ adj. if something you buy is nonrefundable, you cannot get your money back after you have paid for it: nonrefundable airline tickets non-renew-a-ble /ˌnɑːn.ˈrɪnuzəbəl/ adj. nonrenewable types of energy, such as coal or gas, cannot be replaced after they have been used (ant) renewable: Demand for many nonrenewable resources is still growing.

non-re-si-dent /ˌnɑːn.ˈrezdənt/ n. [C] someone who does not live permanently in a particular place or country non-re-stric-tive clause /ˌnɑːn.ˈstrɪktɪv ˈklaʊs/ also nonrestrictive ‘relative clause n. [C] languages a clause that gives additional information about a particular person or thing, rather than saying which person or thing is being mentioned. For example, in the sentence “Perry, who is 22, worked at the company,” the phrase “who is 22” is a nonrestrictive clause.

non-sec-tar-i-an /ˌnɑːn.ˈsɛktər.iən/ adj. not relating to a particular religion or religious group (ant) sectarian: a nonsectarian charity non-sense /ˈnɑːnsəns/ n. -səns/ n. [U] 1 ideas, statements, or opinions that are not true or that seem very stupid: That’s complete/hot/latter nonsense! 2 behavior that is stupid and annoying: She won’t take any nonsense from the kids in her class. 3 speech or writing that has no meaning or cannot be understood: nonsense words —nonsensical /ˈnɑːnsənsɪkəl/ adj.

don se-qui-tur /ˌnɑːn.ˈsɛkwɪtər/ n. [C] (formal) a statement that does not seem related to the statements that were made before it [origin: 1500—1600 Latin “it does not follow”] non-smoker /ˌnɑːn.ˈsmɔːkər/ n. [C] someone who does not smoke non-smoking /ˌnɑːn.ˈsmɔːkɪŋ/ adj. a non-smoking area, building, etc. is one where people are not allowed to smoke non-standard /ˌnɑːn.ˈstændərd/ adj. eng. lang. arts nonstandard words, expressions, or pronunciations are usually considered incorrect by educated speakers of a language ➔ standard non-stop /ˌnɑːn.ˈstɑːp/ adj. nonstop pans have a special surface inside that food will not stick to non-violence /ˌnɑːn.ˈvɪələns/ n. [U] the practice of opposing a government without fighting, for example by not obeying laws noo-dle /ˈnuːdəl/ n. [C] usually plural a long thin piece of soft food made from flour, water, and usually eggs, that is cooked by being boiled: egg noodles noon /nuːn/ n. [U] 12 o’clock in the middle of the day ➔ midday: Lunch will be right at noon. 2 the gallery is open from noon to 5:00 p.m. [origin: Old English noon “ninth hour from sunrise,” from Latin nonus “ninth”] noo-dle /ˈnuːdəl/ n. [C] a circle of a rope that becomes tighter as it is pulled, used for killing someone by hanging nope /noʊp/ adv. (spoken, informal) no: “Aren’t you hungry?” “Nope.” nor·mal·ly /norˈmələli/ adv. (informal) normally goose

nor·mal·i·ty /norˈmələti/ n.
normal
no·place, 'no place /ˈnoupləs/ adj. (informal) nowhere nor /nɔr/; strong nor conjunction

1 neither ... nor used in order to show that not one of a set of facts, people, qualities, actions, etc. is true: My mother’s family was neither rich nor poor. | Neither Julie nor Mark said anything. 2 (formal) used after a negative statement when adding another negative statement: She didn’t reply, nor did she look at him.

norm /nɔrml/ (ə) n. [C] the usual or generally accepted way of doing something: Working at home is becoming the norm for many employees. the social/cultural norms of American society Kerouac’s style of writing was a departure from the norm.

nor·mal /ˈnɔrml/ adj. 1 usual, typical, or expected: The store is open during normal business hours. | It’s normal to feel nervous when you start a new job. | Under normal circumstances, such children grow into healthy adults.

nor·mal·cy /norˈməlθi/ n.

north /nɔrθ/ n. [singular, U] 1 the direction toward the top of the world, or to the left of someone facing the rising Sun: Which way is north? 2 the north the northern part of a country, state, etc.: My relatives live in the north of the state. 3 the North the part of the U.S. east of the Mississippi River and north of Washington, D.C. [Origin: Old English]

nor.1, North /ˈnɔrθ/ n. [singular, U]

nor·mal·ly /nɔrˈmələli/ adv. 1 usually: I normally go to bed around 11. | Normally, it takes me about 20 minutes to get to work. 2 in the usual or expected way: Try to relax and breathe normally. | The engine began to run normally again.

Norse /ˈnɔrs/ adj. relating to the people of ancient Scandinavia or their language: Norse mythology northeast^2 adj., adv. in, from, or toward the northeast: traveling northeast | a northeast wind north-er-ly /nɔrθəˈli/ adj. 1 in or toward the north: sailing in a northerly direction 2 a northerly wind comes from the north north-ern /nɔrθəˈni/ adj. in or from the north part of an area, country, state, etc.: northern California ➔ see USAGE box at NORTH^1 north-ern-er, Northerner /nɔrθəˈniər/ n. [C] someone who comes from the northern part of a country Northern 'Lights n. the Northern Lights EARTH SCIENCES bands of colored lights that are seen in the night sky in the most northern parts of the world north-ern-most /nɔrθəˈniːməst/ adj. farthest north: the northernmost tip of Maine North Pole n. the North Pole EARTH SCIENCES the most northern point on the surface of the Earth, or the area around it ➔ see picture at GLOBE north-ward /nɔrθwərd/ adj., adv. toward the north north-west /nɔrθwɛst/ n. [U] 1 the direction that is exactly between north and west ➔ see picture at NORTH^1 2 the northwest the northwest part of a country, state, etc. 3 the Northwest the area of the U.S. that includes the states of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington —northwestern adj.
northwest^2 adj., adv. in, from, or toward the northwest: driving northwest | a northwest wind nose^1 /nəʊz/ n. [C]
1 FACE the part of your face that you use for smelling and breathing; a broken nose | He took out a tissue and blew his nose (=cleared it by blowing).  | Don’t pick your nose (=clean it with your finger). ➔ see picture on page A3
2 sb’s nose is running/sb has a runny nose if someone’s nose is running or if s/he has a runny nose, liquid is slowly coming out of it because s/he has a cold
3 red-nosed/long-nosed etc. having a nose that is red, long, etc.
4 (right) under sb’s nose so close to someone that s/he should notice but does not: Lynn’s husband had been having an affair right under her nose.
5 stick/poke your nose into sth (informal) to show much interest in private matters that do not concern you: Jana’s always sticking her nose into other people’s business.
6 keep your nose out of sth (informal) to avoid becoming involved in a situation that should not involve you
7 look down your nose at sb (informal) to think that you are much better than someone else
8 turn your nose up at sth (informal) to refuse to accept something because you do not think it is good enough for you 9 on the nose (informal) exactly: Tanya guessed the price right on the nose.

10 AIRPLANE the pointed front end of an airplane, rocket, etc.
11 keep your nose to the grindstone to continue working very hard, without stopping to rest [ORIGIN: Old English nosa] ➔ pay through the nose at PA^2 nose^2 v. [I,T] to move forward, or move something forward, slowly and carefully: The ship nosed forward.
nose around (ath) phr. v. to try to find out private information about someone or something: Why were you nosing around my office?
nose-bleed /nəʊzblɪd/ n. [C] blood that is coming out of your nose: Bill has a nosebleed.
nose-dive /nəʊzdʌv/ n. [C] 1 a sudden drop in amount, price, rate, etc.: The company’s profits took a nosedive last year. 2 a sudden steep drop by an airplane, with its front end pointing toward the ground —nosedive v. [I] nose job n. [C] (informal) a medical operation on someone’s nose in order to improve its appearance no-show n. [C] (informal) someone who does not arrive at a place or event where s/he was expected to be: The first baseman has been a no-show at spring training.
nos-tal·gia /nɒsˈtælɡə/ n. [U] the slightly sad feeling you have when you remember happy events from the past: nostalgia for the good old days [Origin: 1700—1800 Modern Latin, Greek nostos “returning home” + algos “pain”] ➔ nostalgic adj. —nostalgically adv.
nos-tril /nɒzˈtrɪl/ n. [C] one of the two holes at the end of your nose, through which you breathe ➔ see picture on page A3 not /nɒt/ adv. 1 used in order to make a word, statement, or question negative ➔ no: The museum is not open on Mondays. | She’s not a very nice person. | I don’t (=do not) smoke. 2 used instead of a whole phrase to mean the opposite of what has been mentioned before it: No one knows if the story is true or not. | “Is Mark still sick?” “I hope not.” 3 used in order to make a word or phrase have the opposite meaning: The food is not very good there. | Not a lot/not much (=little) is known about the disease. | Most of the hotels were not that cheap (=they were fairly expensive). 4 not only in addition to being or doing something: She’s not only funny, she’s also smart. 5 not a sth/not one sth not any person or thing sth no: Not one of the students knew the answer. | There wasn’t (=was not) a cloud in the sky. 6 not bad! (spoken) said when you want to praise something, or when something is better than you expected: “See, I got a B+ on my test!” “Not bad!” 7 not that... used before a negative sentence: Sarah has a new boyfriend – not that I care (=I do not care).
notable /ˈnəʊtəbl/ adj. [usually before noun] important, interesting, or unusual enough to be noticed: Freeman is the most notable player on the Texas team. | Most teachers agreed with the principal, with a few notable exceptions (=a few teachers did not).

notably /ˈnəʊtəblɪ/ adv. especially or particularly; Some politicians, most notably the President, refused to comment.

notarize /ˈnəʊtəraɪz/ v. [T] if a document is notarized, a notary puts an official stamp on it: Have these witness statements been notarized?

notarized /ˈnəʊtəraɪzd/ adj. a notarized statement notary /ˈnəʊtəri/ n. (plural notaries) also notary public [C] law someone who has the legal power to make a signed document official notation /ˈnəʊtəteɪʃən/ n. [C] in history class?

note /ˈnəʊt/ n. 1 [C] a short informal letter: I wrote/sent Tina a note to thank her for helping. | Renee wasn’t there, so we left a note on her door. 2 [C] something that you write down in order to remind you of something: She made a note of my new address. 3 notes [plural] information that a student writes down during a class, from a book, etc., so she will remember it: Did you take any notes (wrote them) in history class? 4 [C] Eng. Lang. Arts a particular musical sound or pitch, or the sign in written music that represents this. 5 take note of (stb) to pay careful attention to something: Take note of the instructions at the top of the page. 6 [singular] a particular quality or feeling that you notice in a particular person or situation: You could hear a note of weariness in her voice. | The story ended on a happy note. 7 stb/sth of note (formal) someone or something that is important or famous: a writer of note noted /ˈnəʊtɪd/ adj. well-known or famous: a noted author note-paper /ˈnəʊtpɛpər/ n. [U] paper used for writing letters or notes

note-worthy /ˈnəʊtwɜːði/ adj. (formal) important or interesting enough to deserve your attention: It is noteworthy that the recommendations have already been implemented in California’s state schools.

nothing /ˈnʌθɪŋ/ pron. 1 not anything or no thing: There’s nothing in the bag. | I know nothing about her family. | Nothing you can say will change my mind. | There was nothing else the doctors could do. | 1 I have nothing against New York (=I have no reason for not liking it) —I just don’t want to live there. 2 something that you do not consider to be important or interesting: There’s nothing on TV tonight. | 1 I have nothing to wear to the wedding. 3 zero: The Red Sox won the game three nothing (=the Red Sox had 3; the other team had no points). 4 for nothing a) without getting the results you expected or wanted: We drove all the way down there for nothing b) without paying or being paid: My dad said he’d fix it for nothing. 5 have nothing to do with sb/sth a) if something has nothing to do with a fact or situation, it is not related to that fact or situation: She claims that the timing of the bill has nothing to do with her coming election. b) if someone has nothing to do with a situation or person, s/he is not involved in that situation or with that person: “What happened?” “I don’t know. I had nothing to do with it.” 6 nothing special having no very good or very bad qualities: The play was good, but nothing special. 7 nothing but sth only: We’ve had nothing but rain for two weeks now. | He’s nothing but trouble.

nothing much (spoken) very little: “What did you do last weekend?” “Oh, nothing much.”

nothing else (spoken) other than: “Nothing but sth” also be nothing short of sth if something is nothing less than or nothing short of a particular quality, then it has that quality: She thought his ideas were nothing less than ridiculous.

notion /əˈnəʊʃən/ n. [C] an idea that someone has: The notion that the world is round. | The notion that there is a God.

notion of sth the idea that: The notion of having a garden.

NOTE-BOOK /ˈnəʊtbʊk/ n. [C] 1 a book of plain paper in which you write notes 2 its a small computer that is about the size of a book note down to write something down so you will remember it: He noted my telephone number.

notebook /ˈnəʊtbʊk/ n. [C] a book of plain paper in which you write notes note-pen /ˈnəʊtpɛn/ n. a short pen that you use to write notes notice 2 n [C] a written or printed statement that gives information or a warning to people: Put the notice up here so everyone can see it. 2 [U] information or a warning about something that will happen: You must give the bank three days’/two weeks’/a month’s notice before closing the account. 3 take notice (of sb/sth) to pay attention to someone or something: Critics are really starting to take notice of Gwen’s poetry. | Mother kept talking, but nobody took any notice. 4 give notice/hand in your notice to tell your employer that you will be leaving your job soon. 5 on short notice without much warning, so that you have only a short time to do something: It will be hard to find a substitute teacher on such short notice. 6 until further notice from now until another change is announced: The store will be closed until further notice.

noteworthy /noʊ’tɜːrɪəl/ adj easy to notice: There’s been a noticeable improvement in your work. —noticeably adv.

noticeable /noʊ’tɜːrəbl/ adj: eye-catching noticeably /noʊ’tɜːrəbli/ adv: to tell someone something formally or officially: Have you notified the police?

notion /nəˈʃən/ n [C] an idea, belief, or opinion about something, especially one that you think is wrong: She rejects the notion that women are weaker than men. | People can have very different notions of what is right or good in a situation. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin notio, from notus “known”] notorious /nəˈtrəriəs/ adj famous for something bad: The city is notorious for rainy weather. | a notorious criminal —notoriously adv: Their statistics are notoriously unreliable.

not-withstanding /nɔtˈwɪðstændɪŋ/ prep (formal) if something is true notwithstanding something else, it is true even though the other thing has happened: Their friendship notwithstanding, the two senators have very different ideas. | Notwithstanding his youth, his poetry was mature and profound.

noun /nəʊn/ n [C] eng. lang. arts in grammar, a word or group of words that represents a person, place, thing, quality, action, or idea. In the sentence “Pollution is a problem in some cities,” “pollution,” “problem,” and “cities” are nouns. [Origin: 1300—1400 Anglo-French “name, noun,” from Old French nom, from Latin nomen].

nourish /nɔrɪʃ/ v [T] to give a person or plant the food that is needed in order to live, grow, and be healthy: healthy well-nourished children nourishment /nɔrɪʃmənt/ n [U] (formal) food that is nourishing makes you strong and healthy: a nourishing meal novel /ˈnʌvəl/ n [C] phys. a star that explodes and suddenly becomes much brighter for a short time: supernova novel adj new, different, and unusual: a novel idea novelist /ˈnʌvəlɪst/ n [C] eng. lang. arts someone who writes novels novel /ˈnʌvəl/ n [C] eng. lang. arts a story that is shorter than a novel, but longer than a short story novel adj the quality of being new, different, and unusual: It was fun for a while, but the novelty wore off (=it became boring). 2 [C] something new and unusual that attracts people’s attention and interest: I remember when the Internet was still a novelty.

November n. [C,U] the eleventh month of the year, between October and December. The festival starts on November 6th. | Valerie’s turning 30 in November. | Ben will be three years old next November. | The project began last November.

[ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French Novembre, from Latin November, from novem “nine,” because it was the ninth month of the ancient Roman year]

nov-ice /ˈnɔvəs/ n. [C] someone who has just begun learning a skill or activity: I’m still a novice at chess.

No-vocain /ˈnouvakem/ n. [U] (trademark) a drug used in order to stop pain during a small operation or treatment, especially on your teeth.

now1 adv. 1 at the present time: Where is Heather working now? | Judy should have been home by now (=before now). | Mom says we have to be home by 9:00 from now on (=starting now and continuing into the future). | Let’s leave the boxes in the closet for now (=for a short time).

now2 adv. also now that conjunction because or after something has happened: I don’t see as much of Mona now that she’s married.

now-a-days /ˌnɔuzdi/ adv. in the present, compared to what happened in past times: There’s a lot more violence on television nowadays.

no-where /ˈnouwər/ adv. 1 not any place: There was nowhere to sit. | There are plants on the island that grow nowhere else (=in no other place).

3 be nowhere to be seen/found also to be nowhere in sight to be impossible to find: We looked everywhere, but the money was nowhere to be found. 4 nowhere near a) far from a particular place: Buffalo is in New York State, but it’s nowhere near New York City. b) not at all: They’ve sold a lot of bikes, but nowhere near as many as they needed to. 5 out of/from nowhere happening or appearing suddenly and without warning: The car came out of nowhere, and just missed hitting her.

nox-i-ous /ˈnɔksəs/ adj. (formal) harmful or poisonous; a noxious gas [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin noxius, from noxa “harm”]

noz-zle /ˈnɔzəl/ n. [C] a short tube attached to the end of a pipe or hose, that controls the flow of liquid coming out

November n. National Public Radio a company in the U.S. that broadcasts radio programs without advertisements nowhere adv. 1 not in any place or location: He was nowhere near New York City. 2 not at all: They’ve sold a lot of bikes, but nowhere near as many as they needed to. 3 not at all: They’ve sold a lot of bikes, but nowhere near as many as they needed to. 4 out of/from nowhere happening or appearing suddenly and without warning: The car came out of nowhere, and just missed hitting her.

nu-car /ˈnuklər/ adj. 1 relating to or involving the use of nuclear weapons: nuclear war. 2 PHYSICS using nuclear power, or relating to nuclear energy: a nuclear submarine | a nuclear reactor. 3 PHYSICS relating to the NUCLEUS (=central part) of an atom: nuclear physics nu-clear dis-arm-ment n. [U] the activity of getting rid of NUCLEAR WEAPONS nu-clear en-er-gy n. [U] PHYSICS the powerful force that is produced when the NUCLEUS of an atom is either split or joined to another atom nu-clear family n. [C] a family that has a father, mother, and children. ➔ EXTENDED FAMILY nu-clear fis-sion n. [U] PHYSICS the splitting of the NUCLEUS of an atom, that results in a lot of power being produced nu-clear fus-sion n. [U] PHYSICS a nuclear reaction in which the NUCLEI (=central parts) of light atoms join with the nuclei of heavier atoms, which produces power without any waste nu-clear pow-er n. [U] power, usually in the form of electricity, produced from nuclear energy.

nuclear reaction n. [C] PHYSICS a process in which the parts of the nucleus (central part) of an atom become arranged in a different way to form new substances.

nuclear reactor n. [C] a large machine that produces nuclear energy, especially as a means of producing electricity.

nuclear waste n. [U] waste from nuclear reactors, which is radioactive.

nuclear weapon n. [C] a very powerful weapon that uses nuclear energy to destroy large areas.

nucleus n. (plural nuclei) [C] BIOL.-PHYSICS a small round body of protein and RNA (an important chemical that exists in all living things) contained in the nucleus of most cells. It is involved in making proteins. → see picture at cell.

nucleon n. [C] PHYSICS a proton or a neutron.

nuclide n. (plural nuclides) [C] PHYSICS the central part of an atom.

nudist n. [C] 1 PHYSICS the central part of an atom. 2 BIOL.-PHYSICS the central part of a living cell.

nude adj. nude, undressed, bare, having nothing on, not having anything on → NAKED.

nude n. 1 in the nude without wearing any clothes: sleeping in the nude. 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a painting or statue of someone who is not wearing clothes.

nudge v. [T] to push someone or something gently, especially with your elbow: Ken nudged me and said, “Look, there’s Cindy.”

nudist n. [C] someone who enjoys not wearing any clothes because she believes it is natural and healthy. —nudist adj.

NUCLEUS n. 1 TEAM. Moore and Lane form the nucleus of the team. [Origin: 1700—1800 Latin “center of a living thing.”] → see picture at cell.

nuisance n. (plural nuisances) [C] LAW one or something that annoys you or causes problems: Jon made a nuisance of himself at Rachel’s birthday party.

nuke v. [T] (informal) 1 to attack a place using nuclear weapons. 2 (spoken) to cook food in a microwave.

nuke n. [C] usually plural, informal) a nuclear weapon.

null and void adj. (also nullified, nullifies) [T] LAW to state officially that something will have no legal force: The election results were nullified because of voter fraud.

nunnery n. [C] a nun’s house or community.

numb v. [T] 1 to make someone unable to feel anything: The cold wind numbed my face. 2 to lose feeling in your fingers or toes.

numeral n. (plural numerals) [C] a word or sign that represents an amount or quantity: Pick any number between one and ten. Add the numbers 7, 4, and 3. an odd number (≠2, 4, 6, 8, etc.) an even number (=2, 3, 5, 7, etc.)

number v. 1 to give a number to something that is part of a set or list: Number the items from... numeral

one to ten. 2 if people or things number a particular amount, that is how many there are: The crowd numbered around 20,000. 3 sb's/sth's days are numbered used in order to say that someone or something cannot live or continue much longer: These injuries mean his days as a player are numbered.

numeral /ˈnərməl, ˈnʌrməl/ n [C] a written sign that represents a number, such as 5, 22, etc.

numerator /ˈnjuːmərətor/ n [C] the number above the line in a fraction. For example, in the fraction ⅔, 3 is the numerator.

numeral /ˈnʌmərəl, ˈnjuːmərəl/ adj expressed in numbers, or relating to numbers: Are the pages in numerical order (=numbered 1, 2, 3, etc.)? numerically adv.

numerous /ˈnjuːmərəs/ adj (formal) many: We discussed the plans on numerous occasions.

numerous /ˈnjuːmərəs/ adj (informal) many, a large number, a lot/lots, plenty, countless, innumerable, myriad → MANY nun /nʌn/ n [C] a woman who is a member of a group of women who live together in a convent → MONK nuptials /ˈnʌptɪəlz/ n [plural] (formal) a wedding nurse /nɜːs/ n [C] someone whose job is to take care of people who are sick or injured, usually in a hospital: The nurse is coming to give you an injection. (Origin: 1200—1300 Old French nurce, from Latin nutritus, from Latin nutrire “to nourish”) nurse /nɜːs/ v [T] to take care of people who are sick or injured: Michael nursed his wife back to health. 2 [T] to rest a part of your body when you have an illness or injury, so you will get better: He’s nursing a sprained ankle. 3 [L/T] to breast-feed nursery /ˈnɜːsəri/ n (plural nurseries) [C] 1 a place where plants and trees are grown and sold 2 (old-fashioned) a bedroom for a baby nursery rhyme /ˈnɜːsəri rʌm/ n [C] a short well-known song or poem for children nursery school /ˈnɜːsəri skoul/ n [C] a school for children from three to five years old → KINDERGARTEN, PRESCHOOL nursing /ˈnɜːsɪŋ/ n [U] the job of taking care of people who are sick, injured, or very old: Joanne plans to go into nursing.

nursing home /ˈnɜːsɪŋ həʊm/ n [C] a place where people who are too old or sick to take care of themselves can live → RETIREMENT HOME nurture /ˈnɜːtʃər/ v [T] (formal) 1 to feed and take care of a child or a plant while it is growing: children nurtured by loving parents 2 to help a plan, idea, feeling, etc. develop: Reading to your child helps nurture a love of books.

nurture /ˈnɜːtʃər/ n [U] (formal) the education and care that are given to a child who is growing and developing nut /nʌt/ n [C] 1 a large seed that you can eat that usually grows in a hard brown shell: a cashew nut 2 a small piece of metal with a hole in the middle, that is screwed onto a bolt to fasten things together: Use a wrench to loosen the nut. 3 golf/ opera etc. nut (informal) someone who is very interested in golf, etc.: a golf nut 4 (informal) someone who is crazy or behaves strangely 5 the nuts and bolts of sth the practical details of a subject, plan, job, etc. (Origin: Old English bnute) nut-cracker /ˈnʌt krækər/ n [C] a tool for cracking the shells of nuts nutmeg /ˈnʌtmɛɡ/ n [U] a brown powder used as a spice to give a particular taste to food (Origin: 1200—1300 Old Provençal noz muscade “musk nut”) nutrient /ˈnjuːtriənt/ n [C] BIOLOGY a chemical or food that helps plants, animals, or people to live and grow: Humans take nutrients from the soil. (Origin: 1600—1700 Latin, present participle of nutrire “to feed, nourish”) nutrional /ˈnjuːtriʃənl/ adj: food that has little nutritional value → nutritionally adv.

nutritious /ˈnjuːtrɪʃəs/ adj food that is nutritious: It has a lot of substances that your body needs to stay healthy and grow nuts /nʌts/ adj (informal) crazy, silly, or angry: His stupid comments drive me nuts (=annoy me very much).

nutshell /ˈnʌtʃəl/ n [C] 1 (to put it) in a nutshell (informal) used in order to show that you are going to give the main facts about something in a way that is short and clear 2 the hard outer part of a nut nutty /ˈnʌtʃi/ adj 1 tasting like nuts: a nutty flavor 2 (informal) crazy: a nutty idea nylon /ˈnɔln/ v [L/T] gently rub your face or head against someone in a loving way: When I took him from his crib, he nuzzled his head into my neck.

NV the written abbreviation of NEVADA

NW the written abbreviation of NORTHWEST

NY the written abbreviation of NEW YORK nylon /ˈnɔln/ n [U] a strong artificial material that is used for making plastic, cloth, rope, etc.: a colorful nylon tent 2 nyons [plural] a piece of clothing that women wear on their legs, that is very thin and made of nylon nymph /ˈnɪmpf/ n [C] 1 one of the spirits of nature who appears in the form of a young girl, in ancient Greek and Roman stories 2 BIOLOGY the larva of some insects, that looks like the adult but without full wings, and that develops into the adult without passing through any other stages nympherucon /ˈnɪmpərʊkɑːn/ n. [C] a woman who wants to have sex often, usually with a lot of different men —nymphomaniac /ˈnɪmpθəmənəʊɪk/ n. [U] ob-durate /ˈəbdərət/ adj. (formal) very determined not to change your beliefs or feelings, in a way that seems unreasonable —obduracy n. [U] obeisy /ˈəbəsɪ/ v. (obeyed, obeys) to obey: an obedient child —obediently adv.

obesity /ˈobeɪsəti/ n. fat, overweight, big, heavy, large, corpulent, rotund —fat

object

_a_ a place with trees and water in a desert _oat_ a grain that is eaten by people and animals —_oat_ adj. [only before noun]: hot oat cereal _oath_ a formal and serious promise that someone in an official position makes to do his or her job well because of loyalty to his or her country: The president took the oath of office for his second presidential term.

_oatmeal_ crushed oats that are boiled and eaten for breakfast, or used in cooking

obfuscate /ˈɒbfəskeɪt/ v. (obfuscated, obfuscating) to deliberately make something unclear or difficult to understand: The manual is written in technical language that obfuscates the safety warnings.

object /ˈɑbʒɛkt/ n. 1 [C] a thing that you can see, hold, or touch: a small metal object _a_ the purpose of a plan, action, or activity: The object of the game is to improve children’s math skills.

_o_ an object of desire/pity etc. someone or something that you desire, pity, object 692
e tc. 4 [C] a) ENGL. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the person or thing that is affected by the action of the verb, for example “door” in the sentence “Sheila closed the door.” b) ENGL. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the person who is involved in the result of an action, for example “her” in the sentence “I gave her a book.” c) ENGL. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the person or thing that is connected by a preposition to another word, for example “table” in the sentence “We sat at the table.”

ob-ject 1/ˈobjɪk(ə)ʃən/ n [C] a) to say that you do not like or approve of something: Reynolds objected to the plan. b) [C] a reason you give for not approving of an idea or plan: The group has strong objections to the death penalty. | Several Senators raised objections (=they objected) to the bill.

CO LLOCATIONS
have an objection: I have no objection to comedians making fun of politicians. raise an objection: Opponents of the plan have raised other objections. state an objection: The President stated three main objections to the legislation. voice an objection: The church has voiced strong objections to the movie. make an objection: She was granted bail after the prosecution made no objection. lodge/register an objection (formal) (=make one: Players have registered their strong objection to the new contracts.

THESAURUS
opposition, antagonism, hostility, antipathy → OPPOSITION ob-ject-ive /ˈobjɪk(t)ɪv/ adj likely to offend material that some people may find objectionable.

ob-ject-ive /ˈobjɪk(t)ɪv/ adj not influenced by your own feelings, beliefs, or ideas | subjective: objective news reporting | Students must try to be objective when doing an experiment. —objectively adv: We need to look at the situation objectively. | Scientists prefer to make judgments about things they can objectively measure. —objectivity /ˈobjɪk(t)ɪvɪtɪ/ n [U]

ob-li-ga-ted /ˈɒblɪɡətɪd/ adj be/feel obliged (to do sth) to feel that it is your duty to do something: I don’t want them to feel obliged to pay for dinner.

ob-li-ga-tion /ˈɒblɪɡəʃən/ n [C] U a moral or legal duty to do something: Every father has an obligation to take care of his child. | You are under no obligation to (=do not have to) answer these questions.

ob-li-ga-tion /ˈɒblɪɡəʃən/ adj (formal) having to be done because of a law, rule, etc. | obligatory ob-li-gate /ˈɒblɪɡeɪt/ v. 1 be/feel obliged (to do sth) to feel that it is your duty to do something: You shouldn’t feel obliged to work overtime. 2 [I,T] (formal) to do something that someone has asked you to do: He asked to borrow my car, and I was happy/glad to oblige. 3 (I’m/we’re) much obliged (spoken, old-fashioned) said in order to thank someone very politely [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French obligier, from Latin obligare, from ligare “to tie”] ob-li-gate /ˈɒblɪɡeɪt/ adj willing and eager to help: a cheerful and obliging woman —obligingly adv.

ob-li-que /ˈɒblɪk/ adj. 1 (formal) not expressed in a direct way | indirect: She made an oblique reference to his drinking problem. 2 an oblique line is sloping: see picture at LINE ob-literate /ˈɒblɪtərət/ v. /ˈɒblɪtəreɪt/ v [T] to destroy something completely: Large areas of the city were obliterated during World War II. —obliteration /ˌɒblɪtərəˈʃən/ n [U]

ob-liv-i-ous /ˌɒblɪvɪəs/ adj not knowing about or not noticing something happening around you | unaware: She seemed completely oblivious to the danger.

ob-long /ˈɒblɒŋ/ adj having a shape that is longer than it is wide: an oblong mirror [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin oblongus, from ob- “toward” + longus “long”] —oblong /ˈɒblɒŋ/ n [C] ob-no-xious /ˌɑbˈnoʊkʃəs/ adj very offensive or rude: Her friends were loud and obnoxious. [Origin: 1600—1650 Latin obnoxius, from noxa “harm”] —obnoxiously adv.

ob-scene /ˈɑbˈsiːn/, ə- /ˈɑbˈsiːn/ adj 1 offensive and shocking in a sexual way: obscene photographs | He made an obscene gesture. 2 extremely immoral or unfair: Some players earn obscene amounts of money.

ob-scen-i-ty /ˌɑbˈsiːnəti/ n (plural obscenities) 1 [C usually plural] a sexually offensive word or action: kids shouting obscenities 2 [U] offensive

ob-scen-i-ty /ˌɑbˈsiːnəti/ n (plural obscenities) 1 [C usually plural] a sexually offensive word or action: kids shouting obscenities 2 [U] offensive language or behavior involving sex, especially in a book, play, etc.: laws against obscenity ob·suc·re /ab'skعر/ adj. 1 unclear or difficult to understand: Jarvis didn’t like the plan for some obscure reason. 2 known about only by a few people: an obscure poet

ob·suc·re v. [T] 1 to prevent something from being seen or heard clearly: Parts of the coast were obscured by fog. 2 to make something difficult to know or understand: Recent successes have obscured the fact that the company is still in trouble.

ob·scur·i·ty /ab'sکریتی/ n. (plural obscurities) 1 [U] the state of not being known or remembered: O’Brien retired from politics and died in obscurity. 2 [C]U something that is difficult to understand, or the quality of being difficult to understand ob·se·qui·ous /ab'sکفز/ adj. too eager to please people and agree with them: The waiter was helpful but not obsequious. —obsequiously adv.

ob·ser·v·a·ble /ab'zکرسول/ adj. able to be seen or noticed ob·ser·v·a·nce /ab'zکرسن/ n. [U] the practice of obeying laws or doing something because it is part of a religion or custom: Stores were closed in observance of Christmas.

ob·serv·ant /ab'zکرسنت/ adj. 1 good or quick at noticing things: I can see you're very observant. 2 obeying laws, religious rules, etc.: observer Hindus

ob·ser·va·tion /ab'زکرسان/ n. [C,U] the act or process of carefully watching someone or something, or one of the facts you learn from doing this: The psychologist’s theories are based on his observation of children’s behavior. [The patient is under close observation (being continuously watched).] 2 [C]U a remark about something that you have noticed: I’d like to make an observation.

ob·serv·a·to·ry /ab'sکرسورا/ adj. 1 pertaining to or characterized by the act of observing. 2 group of teenagers ob·serve /ab'زکرس/ v. [T] 1 to watch someone or something carefully: The police have been observing his movements.

ob·struc·tion /ab'sکترکس/ n. [C] something that makes it difficult for you to succeed: Lack of confidence can be a big obstacle to success. 2 something that blocks your way, so that you must go around it: an obstacle in the road [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin obstruction, from obstrue “to stand in the way, stand in front of”]

ob·stur·cate /ab'sکترکت/ v. [I] 1 to block a road, path, passage, or someone’s view of something: The truck was on its side, obstructing two lanes of traffic. 2 to try to prevent someone from doing something by making it difficult: Federal officers accused Robbins of obstructing their investigation. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin obsturare “to block in the way”] —obstructive adj.
obstruction /ˈɒbrəstrʌkʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] something that blocks a road, passage, tube, etc., or the fact of blocking a road, etc.: The accident caused an obstruction on the freeway. 2 [U] the act of preventing something from happening: Powell could be charged with obstruction of justice.

obtain /ˈəʊbteɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to get something that you want: Information about passports can be obtained from the embassy. | Weisner is hoping to obtain funding for a second study of the children. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French obtir, from Latin obtinere "to hold on to, own, obtain"] obtainable /ˈəʊbteɪnəbəl/ adj. able to be obtained: The application form is obtainable from the secretary.

they're /ˈəʊbstrʌkʃən/ adj. (formal) noticeable in a bad or annoying way [unobtrusive]: The waitresses were friendly but never obtrusive.

obtuse /ˈəʊbtjʊs/ adj. (formal) stupid or slow to understand something.

obtuse angle n. [C] MATH an angle between 90° and 180° → see picture at ANGLE² obtuse triangle n. [C] MATH a triangle with one angle that is between 90 and 180 degrees.

obvious /ˈəʊvərviəs/ adj. easy to notice or understand: the obvious choice | It was obvious (that) he hadn't actually read the book. | The need for change seemed obvious to everyone. | The need to recycle glass and other materials is obvious. [Origin: 1500–1600 Latin obviam "in the way"]

obviously /ˈəʊvərviəslɪ/ adv. used when something is easily noticed or understood: Obviously, I was scared. | Patrick is obviously a good father.

occasion /ˈəʊkeɪʃn/ n. 1 [C] a time when something happens: I met with him on several occasions. 2 [C] an important event or ceremony: We're saving the champagne for a special occasion. | a joyous/happy/solemn etc. occasion.

occurrence /ˈəʊkərəns/ n. 1 [C] an occurrence happening: event, occurrence, affair, happening → EVENT occasion, sometimes, but not often: Craig helps out on occasion. 4 [U] a cause or reason to do something: I'm sure we will have occasion to discuss this further.

occasionally /ˈəʊkəsənəlɪ/ adv. sometimes, but not regularly or often: We occasionally see each other. | Heat the soup, stirring occasionally.

occupation /əˈkɒspəʃən/ n. the occupation the knowledge and study of magic and spirits → occult adj.

occupant /əˈkɒpsənt/ n. the occupant of a building or other space for living or working: The new college dormitory is ready for occupancy.

occupancy /əˈkɒpsənsi/ n. 1 [C] (formal) someone's use of a building, room, etc., or who is in it at a particular time: a letter addressed to the occupant | The occupants of the condominium were unhappy with the rise in rent.

occupational /əˈkɒpsənəl/ adj. 1 [C] (formal) a job or profession → EMPLOYMENT, WORK: the occupations available to women | Workers in low-paid occupations often suffer from poor health.

occupation /əˈkɒpsən/ n. 1 [C] the occupation of Britain. | London became an important town during the Roman occupation of Britain. 3 [C] (formal) a way of spending your time: One of his childhood occupations was collecting baseball cards.

occupy /əˈkɒpj/ v. (occupied, occupies) [T] 1 to live, work, stay, etc. in a particular place: Salem Press occupies the seventh floor of the building. 2 if something occupies you or your time, you are busy doing it: Work occupies most of my day. | Only six percent of police time is occupied with criminal incidents. 3 to fill a particular amount of space: Family photos occupied almost...
occur /ˈɔkjur/ v. (occurred, occurring) [I (formal)] 1 to happen, especially without being planned first [syn] take place: Earthquakes occur without any warning signs. 2 to exist or be present in a particular place: The disease mainly occurs in young children. 3 Chromium and nickel occur commonly in areas which are also rich in magnesium. 4 The disease mainly occurs in young children, from cutaneous "scorpion," from okto "eight" + pous "foot" odds /ˈɔdəs/ n. [plural oddities] 1 a small thing that has little value 2 odds against all the odds (in spite of difficulties). 3 at odds (with sb) disagreeing with someone: Mark's account of what happened is at odds with Dan's.

odd /ˈɔd/ adj. 1 different from what is expected or normal [.syn] strange: an odd guy | It's odd that she hasn't phoned by now.
was stupid of me to say that. 2 used in order to show that something is a part of something else: the first part of the story | the tips of your fingers 3 used in order to show that something belongs to or relates to someone or something: an old shirt of his | a friend of Bobby’s 4 used with words that show a particular type of group: a bunch of grapes | a herd of elephants 5 used in order to show an amount or measurement: a cup of coffee | lots of room | a drop of water 6 used in order to show that someone or something is from a larger group: That’s one of her best poems | members of a rock group 7 used in dates: the 23rd of January, 2004 8 (spoken) used in giving the time, to mean “before”: It’s ten of five (=ten minutes before 5:00). 9 used when giving the name of something: the city of New Orleans | the game of chess 10 used when giving the reason for or the cause of something: She died of cancer. 11 used in order to say what something is about or what type of thing it is: Do you know the story of Tom Thumb? | the problem of crime in schools 13 used in order to show direction or distance: I live just north of here. | The school is within a mile of the park (=it is less than a mile from the park). 14 used after nouns describing actions, to show to whom the action is done or who did the action: the testing of river water for chemicals | the crying of a child 15 (literary) made from: a dress of pure silk 16 written, made, produced, etc. by someone or something: the early plays of Shakespeare 17 used in order to say where someone lives: the people of Malaysia [Origin: Old English] → of course at course off [/?f?/ adv. prep. adj. 1 away from or out of a place or position: She waved and drove off. | Get your feet off the couch! | He took his shoes off. | The bus stopped, and she got off. 2 a machine, light, etc. that is off is not working or operating | off on: Why are all the lights off? | Turn the lights off when you leave. | Does the machine shut itself off? 3 lower in price: You get 10%/15% off if you buy $100 worth of groceries. 4 how far away something is, or how much time there is between now and a future event: Spring is still a long way off. | mountains way off in the distance 5 away from a particular place: Oak Hills – isn’t that off Route 290? | a hotel just off the main street 6 not at work or school because you are sick or on vacation: Dave’s off tomorrow. | Monday is my day off. | I’m taking the day/week off. 7 if an event is off, it will not now take place: The wedding’s off. 8 not as good as usual: Sales are a little off, compared with last year. 9 not correct or not of good quality: His calculations are off by 20%. 10 have an off day/week etc. (spoken) to have a day, week, etc. when you are not doing something as well as you usually do 11 off and on and off for short periods of time, but not regularly: We’ve been going out together for two years, off and on. → WELL-OFF off-balance adj. [not before noun] 1 in an unsteady position and likely to fall: He staggered back, off-balance. 2 catch/throw sb off-balance to surprise or shock someone because she is not prepared: American forces were caught off-balance by the tactics.

off-beat / ?f?b?t/ adj. (informal) unusual and not what people expect, in an interesting way: an off-beat style of comedy offend /?f?nd/ v. 1 [T] to make someone angry or upset: Offensive: The senator’s remarks offended many women. 2 [I] LAw to do something that is a crime offender /?f?nd?r/ n. [C] Law someone who is guilty of a crime: As a first-time offender, Joe received a fine.

defensive adj. 1 used or intended for attacking: defensive weapons | 2 very insulting and likely to upset people: offensive jokes

tactless → RUDE

offensive n. 1 [C] Law a crime: Driving and driving is a serious offense. | Anyone charged with a criminal offense is entitled to a trial. | programs to prevent teenagers from committing more serious offenses 2 no offense (spoken) said in order to show that you hope what you are saying will not offend someone: No offense, but how old are you? 3 take offense/cause offense to feel offended or to offend someone: Many women took offense at the tone of his speech.

offense /?f?ns/ n. 1 [U] the action of trying to get points and win in a sports game, or the group of players responsible for doing this (ANT: defense): The team needs to work on their offense.

offensive adj. 1 [of·fens·ive] adj. 1 used or intended for attacking (ANT: defensive): offensive weapons: 2 very insulting and likely to upset people (ANT: offensive jokes)

offensive n. 1 [of·fens·ive] n. 1 [C] an attack made on a place by an army: a military offensive | 2 be/go on the offensive also take the offensive to attack or criticize people offer v. /?f?r/ offer v. 1 [T] to say that you are willing to give something to someone, or to hold something out to someone so that she can take it: Can I offer you a drink? | Did they offer you the job? | They offered us $175,000 for the house. | The company offers scholarships to inner-city students. | Stewart offers advice/help/support to women in this difficult position. 2 [I] to say that you are willing to do something: She didn’t even offer to help. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French offrir, from Latin offerre, from ob “to” + ferre “to carry”] offer n. 1 [C] a statement that you are willing to give something to someone or do something for someone: an offer of help | a job offer

offering /′/əf/
1 someone who has a responsible position in an organization: senior bank officials
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

official /′/əf/
1 [C] someone who has a responsible position in an organization: senior bank officials
2 someone in authority, especially the government: an official investigation | The governor was on an official visit to Mexico.

of·fer·ing /′/əf/
1 thing that is offered, especially a religious ceremony 2 money: $5 million

off·hand /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 said or done without thinking, or said in a way that makes something seem unimportant: an offhand remark
2 something that is offered, especially an amount of money: The company made an offer of $5 million for the site.

off·hand·ly /′/əf/
1 publicly and formally: The new bridge was officially opened this morning.
2 according to what you say publicly, even though this may not be true: Officially, they are not counted as unemployed.
Oftentimes the situation can get out of control.

We go out for coffee every so often.

Fathers don't see their children much after a divorce.

Every so often, things come back to us.

We sold old and new books.

We sell old and new books.
omnivore /ˈɒmnaɪvər/ n [C] BIOLOGY an animal that eats both plants and other animals ➔ CARNIVORE, HERBIVORE [Origin: 1800–1800 Latin omnivorus, from omni “all” + vorus, from vorare “to eat”] on /ɒn/ prep, adv. 1 touching, being supported by, or hanging from something: I got mad on my pants. | pictures hanging on the wall | a child sitting on her dad’s shoulders 2 if you have a piece of clothing on, you are wearing it: He came to the door with his coat on. 3 in a particular place or area of land: The answer is on page 44. | They built a fence on our land. 4 at the side of something such as a street, road, or river: a restaurant on the river | the stores on Rodeo Drive 5 at some time during a particular day: Is there a meeting on Monday? | a party on her birthday | On May 10, Jo had a baby girl. 6 continuing without stopping: Go on, Cheryl. What happened next? | The peace talks dragged on (=continued slowly) for months. 7 forward or ahead, toward a particular place: We drove on to Kansas City. | You guys go on without me. 8 later or after a particular time: From that day onward, he started eating healthy foods and exercising. 9 being broadcast by a television or radio station, or recorded on something: Keilir’s program on the radio 10 about a particular subject: a book on China

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>THESAURUS</th>
<th>about, concerning, regarding</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 11 used in order to show who or what is affected by an action: a new tax on imported wine | The divorce was hard on Jill. | medical testing done on rats | a report done on the computer | I cut myself on a piece of glass. 13 in a particular direction: The Mayor was sitting on my right. 14 in or into a vehicle such as a bus, airplane, train, etc.: Did you sleep on the plane? | I got on at Vine Street. 15 taking part in an activity or traveling somewhere: They met on a trip to Spain. 16 included in a team or group, or in a list: She’s on the volleyball team. | an item on the agenda 17 operating or working | [ANT] off: The TV was on. | Turn on the light. 18 taking a medicine or drugs: She’s on antibiotics. 19 have/carry sth on you (informal) to have something with you now: Do you have a pen on you? 20 (spoken) used in order to say that someone is paying for something: Dinner’s on me tonight. 21 if an event is on, it will happen: There’s a jazz festival on this weekend. 22 (informal) if something bad happens on someone, it happens when s/he is not expecting it: You can’t just quit on me! ➔ HEAD-ON, later on at LATER | on and off at OFF

once /ʌns/ adv 1 on one occasion, or at a time in the past: I’ve only met her once. | I ran 21 miles. | He tried skiing once before, but he didn’t like it. 2 once a week/year etc. one time every week, year, etc. as a regular activity: She goes to the gym once a week. 3 (every) once in a while sometimes, but not often: We see each other every once in a while. 4 once more one more time (BY AGAIN: I’ll call him once more, but then we have to leave. 5 at once a) at the same time: I can’t do two things at once! b) (formal) immediately or without waiting: I recognized him at once. 6 all at once a) suddenly: All at once, the room went quiet. b) at the same time: A lot of things needed to be dealt with all at once. 7 in the past, but not now: They were once good friends. 8 for once (spoken) used in order to say that something should happen more often: For once, try telling me the truth. 9 once and for all definitely and finally: Let’s settle this once and for all. 10 once upon a time a long time ago – used at the beginning of children’s stories 11 once in a blue moon very rarely: He comes to see us once in a blue moon.

once² conjunction from the time something happens: Once you try this, you’ll never want to stop.

on-com-ing /ˈɒnˌkəmɪŋ/ /ˌɒn-ˈkəmɪŋ/ adv coming car/traffic etc. a car, etc. that is coming toward you one /vaʊn/ number 1 1 2 one o’clock: I have a meeting at one. 3 one year old: Katie’s almost one. [Origin: Old English an] one³ pron. 1 someone or something that has been mentioned or is known about: “Do you have a bike?” “No, but I’m getting one for my birthday.” 3 Which one? “Which candy bar do you want?” “This one.” Jane’s the one with the red hair. 2 one by one if people do something one by one, first one person does it, then the next, etc.: One by one, the passengers got off the bus. 3 one after the other one after another if events or actions happen one after the other, they happen without much time between them: He’s had one problem after another this year. 4 [all in one] if someone or something is many different things all in one, s/he or it is all those things: This is a TV, radio, and VCR all in one. 5 (formal) a) people in general: One must be careful to keep exact records. b) (old-fashioned) used in order to mean “1”: One is tempted to ignore the whole problem.

one⁴ determinant 1 used to emphasize a particular person or thing: One reason I like the house is because of the big kitchen. | One of the children is sick. ➔ Don’t say “One of the children are sick.” 2 one day/afternoon etc. a) a particular day, etc. in the past: There was one week in April when we had two feet of snow. | b) any day, etc. in the future: We should go for a meal one evening. 3 for one thing used in order to introduce a reason for what you have just said: 4 (spoken) used in order to emphasize your description of someone or something: That is one cute kid!
one /'wʌn/ n [C] a piece of paper money worth $1: Do you have five ones?

one another pron (formal) each other one-dimen'sional adj a one-dimensional character in a book, movie, etc. does not seem like a real person because she has only one quality ➔ three-dimensional one-liner n [C] a very short joke ➔ gag one-night 'stand n [C] an occasion when two people have sex, but do not intend to meet each other again one-of-a-kind adj special because no one or nothing else is like him, her, or it: one-of-a-kind handmade carpets one-on-one adj between only you and one other person: one-on-one English lessons → one-on-one adv

on'er'ous /'ənərəs, 'o-nə-rəs/ (formal) difficult and tiring: an onerous task one-sided adj 1 considering or showing only one side of a question, subject, etc. in a way that is unfair: a one-sided account of the war 2 an activity or competition that is one-sided is one in which one person or team is much stronger or does more than the other: a one-sided football game one-time /'wʌntaɪm/ adj former: a one-time TV star one-to-one adj 1 between only two people: one-to-one talks 2 matching one other person, thing, etc. exactly: a one-to-one correspondence between sound and symbol one-track 'mind n have a one-track mind (disapproving) to think about only one thing all the time one-way adj 1 moving or allowing movement in only one direction: one-way traffic ➔ a one-way street ➔ one-way ticket is for taking a trip from one place to another, but not back again ➔ round-trip on-going /'ɒnɡəʊɪŋ, 'ʌn-/ adj continuing: ongoing discussions on-ion /'ənɪən/ n [C,U] a round white vegetable with brown, red, or white skin and many layers, that has a strong taste and smell [origin: 1100—1200 Old French oignon, from Latin unio] ➔ see picture of Vegetable on-line /'ɒnˌlaɪn/, 'ʌn-/ adj, adv 1 it connected to other computers through the Internet, or available through the Internet ➔ off-line: All the city’s schools will begin using the Internet by the end of the year ➔ Internet 2 it directly connected to or controlled by a computer ➔ off-line: an online printer on-look'er /'ɒnˌlʊkər, 'ʌn-/ n [C] someone who watches something happening without being involved in it: A crowd of onlookers had gathered at the scene of the accident.

only /'ənəli/ adv 1 not more than a particular amount, number, age, etc., especially when this is unusual: Tammy was only 9 months old when she started walking. 2 nothing or no one except the person or thing mentioned: You’re only wearing a T-shirt. No wonder you’re cold. 3 parking for restaurant customers only ➔ in one place, situation, or way and no other, or for one reason and no other: You can only exit through this door. 4 The contract will be renewed only if the work has been done to the correct standard. 5 lasting security will come to the region only when → the two sides make peace. 6 not very important, serious, good, etc. compared to something else: The job’s interesting, but it’s only temporary. 7 I was only kidding. 8 only too … (also) used in order to say that something is even better, worse, or more surprising than what you have just said: Math is not only easy for her, it’s fun. 9 (formal) no earlier than a particular time: Congress passed the law only last year. 10 She Finally tapped his shoulder, and only then did he look up. 11 if only (adv) used in order to give a reason for something, and say that it is not the best one: He was thinking about joining the navy, if only to get away from his parents. ➔ 12 b) used in order to express a strong wish: If only they’d let us know in time! 13 only too very or completely: He was only too ready to leave.

only adj 1 used in order to say that there is one person, thing, or group in a particular situation and no others: [spoken] Walking is the only exercise I get. 2 He’s the only one who did a good job. 3 an only child a child who does not have any brothers or sisters only adj conjunction except that ➔ but: I’d help, only I’m really busy that day.

on-o-mat-o-poe'-ia /'ɔnəmətəˈpіə/ n [U] ENG. LANG. Arts the use of words that sound like the thing that they are describing, such as ‘hiss’ or ‘boom’ [origin: 1500—1600 Late Latin, Greek onoma-topoeia, from onoma “name” + poiein “to make”] on-ramp n [C] a road for driving onto a highway or freeway ➔ off-ramp on-set /ˈɒnˌset,ˌɑn-/ n the onset of sth: the beginning of something, especially something bad: the onset of a bad cold on-slaught /'ɒnslɑt,ˌɑn-/ n (C usually singular) a very strong attack or criticism on-the-job adj [only before noun] while working, or at work: on-the-job training on-to/onto before consonants /'ɒntə/, 'ən-; before vowels and strong /ɒntu, 'ʌn-/ prep 1 used in order to show movement to a position on a surface, area, or object: The cat leaped onto the table. 2 turn onto River Road. 3 Claire jumped out/back/over onto the sidewalk. 4 be onto sb (informal) to know who did something wrong or illegal: Briggs knew the cops were onto him.

oo·dles /’oudlz/ n. (informal) oodles of sth a large amount of something: She earns oodles of money.

oops /’oups/ v. (ups/ intersection) said when someone has fallen, dropped something, or made a small mistake:Oops! I spilled the milk.

ooze /’ouz/ v. [I,T] 1 if a liquid oozes from something, it flows from it very slowly: Blood was oozing from the cut. 2 (informal) to show a lot of a particular quality: Leo positively oozes charm.

o·pal /’oupal/ n. [C,U] a white stone with changing colors in it, used in jewelry

o·paque /’oupeik/ adj. 1 difficult to see through (and) transparent 2 hard to understand [Origin: Old English]

open1 /’oupen/ adj. 1 open to show all of a particular quality: Leo positively oozes charm.

3 open also open up v. 1 [I,T] to move something so that something is not closed or covered, or to be moved in this way: Dan’s opening his birthday presents. 2 a door that opens automatically: Meg opened her eyes wide. 3 She opened the curtains. 4 Open up the window, will you?

open up phr.v. 1 to become spread out: I opened the map. 2 to become open to the public: The museum is open daily.

open2 n. (out) in the open a) outdoors b) not hidden or secret. The truth is finally out in the open.

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. also open up v. 1 [I,T] to move something so that something is not closed or covered, or to be moved in this way: Dan’s opening his birthday presents. 2 a door that opens automatically: Meg opened her eyes wide. 3 She opened the curtains. 4 Open up the window, will you?

USAGE
Do not use open and close to talk about things that use electricity or things that provide water or gas. Use turn on/off instead: Can you turn off the stove? I turned off the TV.

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something

open3 adj. also open up v. 1 [I,T] to move something so that something is not closed or covered, or to be moved in this way: Dan’s opening his birthday presents. 2 a door that opens automatically: Meg opened her eyes wide. 3 She opened the curtains. 4 Open up the window, will you?

USAGE
Do not use open and close to talk about things that use electricity or things that provide water or gas. Use turn on/off instead: Can you turn off the stove? I turned off the TV.

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something open3 n. (out) in the open a) outdoors b) not hidden or secret.

USAGE
Do not use open and close to talk about things that use electricity or things that provide water or gas. Use turn on/off instead: Can you turn off the stove? I turned off the TV.

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something

TRADITIONAL MEANING
1 open adj. 2 if a store, bank, or public building opens at a particular time, it begins to allow people inside at that time: What time does the bookstore open on Sundays? 3 if something is new or not fully available to be used or visited: Snowplows were out opening up the streets. 4 open fire (on sb/sth) to start shooting at someone or something open-air adj outdoor: open-air concerts open-ended adj without a definite ending time, rules, or an answer: an open-ended investigation open-ended question n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a question that does not have a single definite answer or result open-er /ˈoʊpənər/ n [C] 1 a tool or machine used in order to open letters, bottles, or cans: a can opener. 2 the first of a series of things such as sports games: the season opener against the Celtics open-heart surgery n [U] a medical operation in which doctors operate on someone’s heart open house n [C] 1 an occasion when a school or business allows the public to come in and see the work that is done there. 2 a party that you can come to or leave at any time during a particular period open-ing /ˈoʊpənɪŋ/ n [C] 1 an occasion when a new business, building, etc. is ready for use: the opening of the exhibition. 2 the beginning of something: the opening of the concert season. 3 a job or position that is available: job openings for high school graduates. 4 a hole or space in something: an opening in the fence

THE THESAURUS
hole, space, gap, crack

5 a chance to do or say something: This provides an opening for you to praise the student’s effort.

opening adj 1 first or beginning: the opening paragraph. 2 Are you going to opening night (=the first night of a new play, movie, etc.)?
open-ly /ˈoʊpənli/ adv honestly and not secretly: They talk openly about their problems.
open-minded adj willing to consider and accept new ideas, opinions, etc. —open-mindedness n [U] open-ness /ˈoʊpənnəs/ n [U] 1 the quality of being honest and not keeping things secret: the openess of a small child. 2 the quality of being willing to accept new ideas or people: the country’s openness to change opera /oʊˈpərə/ n [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical play in which all of the words are sung, or these plays considered as a form of art —MUSICAL → THEATER [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Italian, from Latin “works,” plural of opus] —operatic opera-tic /oʊˈpərətɪk/ adj operable /ˈoʊpərəbl/ adj 1 able to be treated by a medical operation (ANT) inoperable: The cancer is operable. 2 working and ready to use (ANT) inoperable: an operable machine operate /oʊˈpərət/ v 1 [T] if a machine operates or you operate it, it works or you make it work: technicians who are trained to operate the scanning equipment. 2 [I] to cut open someone’s body in order to repair or remove a part that is damaged: Surgeons operated on his knee. 3 [I,T] if a business or organization operates, or if you operate it, it is organized to do its work: an agreement to build and operate a cellular phone network. 4 [I,T] if a system, process, or service operates, or if you operate it, it works or has a particular purpose: How does the new security system operate? 5 The cloth operates as a filter.

operating system n [C] if a system in a computer that helps all the programs to work opera-tion /oʊˈpərəʃən/ n 1 [C] the process of cutting into someone’s body to repair or remove a part that is damaged: a knee operation. 2 [C] a set of planned actions or activities for a particular purpose: a rescue operation. 3 [U] the way the parts of a machine or system work together: Wear protective glasses when the machine is in operation. 4 [C,U] a business or company, or the work of a business: The company is expanding its overseas operations. A literacy program has been in operation (=been working) for ten years. 5 [C] if an action done by a computer: a machine performing millions of operations per second. 6 [U] the way something such as a law has an effect or achieves a result: the operation of the tax laws oper-a-tional /oʊˈpərətənl/ adj 1 working and ready to be used: The system is now fully operational. 2 relating to the operation of a business, government, etc.: operational costs —operationally adv opera-tive /oʊˈpərətɪv/ adj oper-a-tor /oʊˈpərətər/ n [C] someone who does work that is secret in some way: a CIA operative oph-tha-mol-o-gist /ˌɒfθəˈmɔːlədʒɪst/ n [C,U] the medical study of the eyes and diseases that affect them opinion /əˈpɪnjən/ n 1 [C,U] your ideas or beliefs about a particular subject: What’s your opinion on/at the death penalty? 2 Teachers were not asked their opinions about the curriculum. —opinionated adj opinionated

my opinion, getting a divorce is too easy. | people who aren’t afraid to express/give their opinions | Polls are taken to discover public opinion (=what ordinary people think about something).

OPPOSITION

view – your opinion about something: What are your views about global warming? point of view – a particular way of thinking about or judging something. The story is told from the man’s point of view.
position – used especially about the opinion of a government or organization: The president has made his position perfectly clear.
stance – an opinion that is stated publicly: What is your stance on abortion?
attitude – your opinions and feelings about something: if you go into the game with a positive attitude, you have more chance of winning. | the French attitude toward food sentiment (formal) – an opinion or feeling that you have about something: Public sentiment against the war grew steadily over the next year.

oppose /əˈpouz/ v. [T] to disagree strongly with an idea or action: A local group opposes the plan for environmental reasons.

opposed /əˈpouzd/ adj 1 disagreeing strongly with someone or something, or feeling strongly that someone or something is wrong: militants who are opposed to the peace process | groups that are strongly opposed to abortion 2 as opposed to sb/sth used in order to show that two things are different from each other: The teaching is geared to practical problems, as opposed to theory.

opposing /əˈpouznɪŋ/ adj 1 opposing teams, groups, etc. are competing, arguing, etc. with each other 2 opposing ideas, opinions, etc. are completely different from each other opposite /əˈpouzɪt/ n. [C] a person or thing that is completely different from someone or something else: Hot and cold are opposites. | Most people think work and play are the opposite of each other. | the exact opposite of the truth | He said he’d do one thing, and then did the opposite.

opposite1 oppo- site /əˈpouzɪt, -st/ n. [C] a person or thing that is completely different from someone or something else: Hot and cold are opposites. | Most people think work and play are the opposite of each other. | the exact opposite of the truth | He said he’d do one thing, and then did the opposite.

opposite2 adj 1 completely different: Roy walked off in the opposite direction. | the two men are at opposite ends of the political spectrum 2 facing something or directly across from something: a building on the opposite side of the river 3 the opposite sex the other sex. If you are a man, women are the opposite sex.

opposite3 prep, adv if one thing or person is opposite another, they are facing each other: the wall opposite the door | He’s moved into the house opposite.

opposite ‘angles n. [plural] MATH two equal angles that are formed when two lines cross, and which are opposite each other → see picture at angle opportunity /əˈpjuətɪnɪ ty/ /əˈpjuətɪn/ n. (plural opportunities) 1 an occasion when it is possible for you to do something → CHANCE: Children will get/have an opportunity to try several different sports. | The program gives students the/an opportunity to see live drama. | I’d like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped me. | Under the law, women were guaranteed equal opportunities (=chances to do things that are equal to men’s chances). | This is a great/good opportunity for investors.

An opportunity comes along/up or arises. | You have/gotten the opportunity to do something.
You take/seize/use an opportunity by doing something when you have the chance to do it. A wasted/lost/missed opportunity is a good opportunity that you did not take. An ideal/perfect/unique/golden opportunity is one that is very good or special, and may not happen again.
A rare opportunity is one that does not happen very often.

2 a chance to get a job: There are good opportunities for graduates in your field.
residents' opposition to plans for a new highway | There was stiff/strong/intense opposition from the teachers' union.

op·ti·cian /əˈptəˌsēən/ n. [C] 1 someone who treats eyes for problems like nearsightedness, farsightedness, or cataracts. 2 someone who designs computer graphics op·pres·sion /əˈpresən/ n. [U] the act of oppressing someone, or the state of being oppressed op·pres·sive /əˈpresəv/ adj. cruel and unfair: oppressive heat op·tion /əˈpʃən/ [C] 1 a choice you can make in a particular situation: career options. 2 keep/leave your options open to wait before making a decision: Leave your options open until you have the results of the test. 3 Economics the right to buy or sell something in the future: stock options. All employees are given an option on 100 shares of stock. [Origin: 1500–1600 French, Latin optio “free choice”] op·to·m·e·trist /əˈptəməˈtrist/ n. [C] someone who is trained to check eyesight.

op·tional /əˈptənəl/ adj. something that is optional is something you do not need to do or have, but can choose if you want it: an optional philosophy course. Students can attend an optional philosophy course.

opt out v. to choose not to join in a group or system: Parents can opt out of the public school system by home schooling.

opt out of v. to choose not to join in a group or system: Parents can opt out of the public school system by home schooling.

opt·i·mism /əˈptəməˈmizəm/ n. [U] 1 a tendency to believe that good things will happen: optimistic about the future. 2 optimism about the country’s economic future. The results give reason to be optimistic about the country’s economic future. The results give reason to be optimistic about the country’s economic future. The results give reason to be optimistic about the country’s economic future. The results give reason to be optimistic about the country’s economic future.

opt·i·mist /əˈptəməˈmīst/ n. [C] someone who believes that good things will happen: optimistic about the team’s chances of winning.

opt·i·mist·ic /əˈptəməˈmīstık/ adj. believing that good things will happen in the future: optimistic about the team’s chances of winning. Police remain optimistic that the child will be found. —optimistically adv.

oracle /əˈrəkl/ [C] 1 History someone the ancient Greeks believed could communicate with the gods, who gave advice to people or told them what would happen in the future. 2 History the holy place where an oracle could be found. [Origin: 1300–1400 French, Latin oraculum, from orare; ORATION] oral

oral1 /’ɔːral/ adj. 1 spoken, not written: an oral report 2 relating to the mouth: oral hygiene [Origin: Latin oralis, from Latin os “mouth”] oral2 n. [C] a test in a university in which questions and answers are spoken rather than written orange /’ɔrɪndʒ, ’ɔr- n/ 1 [C] a round fruit that has sweet juice and thick skin which you do not eat: orange juice → see picture on page 414 2 [U] the color of an orange [Origin: 1500–1500 Old French, Arabic naranj, from Sanskrit narangi “orange tree”] —orange adj.

orangutan /’ɔræŋɡu̯tæn, also ’ɔræŋ-gu̯tæn/ n. [C] a large ape that has long arms and long orange-brown hair [Origin: 1600–1700 Malay orang hutan “man of the forest”] → see picture at ape oration /’ɔrəʃən, ɔr- n/ n. [C] a formal public speech oratorio /’ɔrətɔrɪ, ’ɔr- n/ n. [C] (formal) someone who makes speeches and is good at persuading people ornament /’ɔrnəmənt/ n. [U] the skill of making public speeches orbit /’ɔrbɪt/ n. [C] PHYSICS the path traveled by an object that is moving around a larger object: the Moon’s orbit around the Earth [Origin: 1500–1600 Latin orbita “wheel-track”] —orbital adj. → see picture at Apollo orchard /’ɔr̩təfəl/ n. [U] the space below the stage in a theater where the musicians sit → see picture at theater orchestrate /’ɔrkestrət/ v. [T] to organize an important event or a complicated plan, especially secretly: Was the rebellion orchestrated by the army?

orchid /’ɔrkɪd/ n. [C] a tropical, often brightly colored flower with three petals ordain /’ɔrdeɪn/ v. [T] to officially make someone a religious leader → ORDINATION: John was ordained a priest.

ordain /’ɔrdɪn/ n. [C] a very bad experience that continues for a long time: She had to go through a terrible ordeal. [Origin: Old English ordel “trial, judgment”]

order1 /’ɔrdr/ n. 1 in order (for sb/sth) to do sth so that something can happen, or so that someone can do something: In order for you to graduate next year, you’ll have to go to summer school. | Plants need light in order to live.

ordnance /’ɔrdnəns/ n. (U) the way that several things are arranged, organized, or put on a list: Are all the slides in order? | The names were written in alphabetical order. | I think these pages are out of order (not correctly arranged). | State the main points in order of importance. | We’ve got to get our finances in order (=organize them).

request /’rɛskɪt/ n. [C] a request for goods from a company or for food in a restaurant, or the goods or food that you ask for: We’ve received more orders for car alarms this year than ever before. | The school’s just placed an order for more books. | May I take your order? (=used to ask what a customer in a restaurant wants?) | Your order will be ready soon.

sustain /’səsten/ v. [T] to keep going: The grass needs to be watered in order to grow.

order2 /’ɔrdər/ n. 1 economic situation at a particular time: the present economic order animals/plants /’ænɪmlz/ n. [C] one of the groups into which scientists divide animals and plants. An order is larger than a family but smaller than a class. → in short order at short ordinarily /ˈɔrdərəni/ adv. 1 peaceful or behaving well: Please leave the building in an orderly fashion. 2 arranged or organized in a neat way: an orderly desk ordinary /ˈɔrdərəri/ adj. 1 average or usual, and not different or special in any way: Art should be part of ordinary life.  It was just an ordinary day.

TREASURY

ordered pair n. [C] MATH two numbers that are used to represent a point on a grid. The first number shows which horizontal line the grid point is on, and the second number shows which vertical line it is on.

orderly /ˈɔrdərli/ adj. 1 I wish she’d stop ordering me around.

ordered list n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a list of names alphabetically.

ORDER An instrument in a cell that has a particular purpose: a leaf, for example, has several structures in a cell that has a particular purpose, similar to the different purposes that organs have in the body. The NUCLEUS is an organelle.

organized /ˈɔrdərizd/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY living, or relating to living things, and containing CARBON in some form. ORGANIC: Organic matter such as leaves, grass, and vegetable peelings can be used as compost. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY: The study of compounds that contain CARBON. Usually, organic chemistry deals with substances that are related to life processes.

orderly /ˈɔrdərli/ adj. 1 to tell someone what to do, in a way that is annoying: I wish she’d stop ordering me around.

ORDAIN v. 1 to ask a company to make or send you something: They’ve ordered a new carpet for the bedroom. 3 to tell someone that she must do something: The judge ordered him to pay $1 million. 4 to arrange something in a particular way: Order the list of names alphabetically.

organ /ˈɔrgən/ n. [C] 1 a part of the body of an animal or plant that has a particular purpose: an organ transplant. 2 a large musical instrument like a piano, with large pipes to make the sound, or an electric instrument that makes similar sounds [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French organe, from Latin, from Greek organon “tool, instrument”].

organism /ˈɔrɡənɪzm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a living thing: a microscopic organism.

organon /ˈɔrgənən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a large musical instrument like a piano, with large pipes to make the sound, or an electric instrument that makes similar sounds [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French organe, from Latin, from Greek organon “tool, instrument”].

organic /ˈɔrɡənik/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY living, or relating to living things, and containing CARBON in some form. ORGANIC: Organic matter such as leaves, grass, and vegetable peelings can be used as compost. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY: The study of compounds that contain CARBON. Usually, organic chemistry deals with substances that are related to life processes.

organism /ˈɔrɡənɪzm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a living thing: a microscopic organism.

organometallic /ˌɔrɡəˈmɛtəlɪk/ adj. having or containing an organometallic compound.

organometallic compound n. an organic compound that contains a metal or transition metal.
organist

organist /ˈɔrganɪst// n. [C] someone who plays the organ or·ga·ni·za·tion /ˌɔrɡəˈnaɪzaʃən// n. 1 [C] a group, such as a club or business, that has been formed for a particular purpose: student organizations | a non-profit organization

THESAURUS

institution – a large important organization such as a bank or university institute – an organization that has a particular purpose, such as scientific or educational work association – an organization for people who do the same kind of work or have the same interests (political) party – an organization of people with the same political aims club/society – an organization for people who share an interest union – an organization formed by workers in order to protect their rights agency – an organization, especially within a government, that does a specific job

2 [U] the act of planning and arranging things effectively: Anne is responsible for the organization of the reception.
3 [U] the way in which the different parts of a system are arranged and work together; I still need to work on the organization of my essay. —organizational adj.

or·ga·nize /ˈɔrgənaɪz// v. 1 [T] to plan or arrange something: I agreed to help organize the company picnic. | Organize your ideas on paper before you write your essay. 2 [I,T] to form a UNION (an organization that protects workers' rights), or persuade people to join one or·ga·nized /ˈɔrgənaɪzd// adj. 1 planned or arranged in an effective way: Her presentation was well organized.

THESAURUS

efficient – working well, without wasting time or energy: an energy efficient refrigerator | efficient workers well-run – organized efficiently: a well-run hotel businesslike – sensible and practical in the way you do things: a businesslike attitude

2 an organized person is able to plan and arrange things in an effective way: | need to get more organized. 3 an organized activity is arranged for and done by many people: organized religion organized /ˈɔrganɪzd// adj. illegal activities involving powerful well-organized groups of criminals → MAFIA or·ga·nizer /ˈɔrgəˌnaɪzər// n. [C] someone who organizes an event or group of people: The organizers had expected about 50,000 people to attend the event.

or·gas·m /ˈɔrgəzm// n. [C,U] the moment when you have the greatest sexual pleasure during sex

org·gy /ˈɔrgzi// n. (plural orgies) [C] a wild party with a lot of sexual activity or·ient /ˈɔrɪənt// n. the Orient (old-fashioned) the eastern part of the world, especially China and Japan or·ient /ˈɔrɪənt// v. [T] 1 to make someone familiar with a place or situation: It takes a while to orient yourself in a new city. | There are several organizations which exist to help orient new students. 2 to find your position using a map or a COMPASS [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of oriri “to rise”] or·ien·tal /ˌɔrɪəntəl// adj. 1 relating to the eastern part of the world, especially China or Japan (old-fashioned) a word for someone from Asia, now considered offensive → ASIAN or·ien·ta·tion /ˌɔrɪəntəˈteɪʃən// n. 1 [C,U] the beliefs, aims, or interests that a person or group chooses to have: their political orientation. 2 [U] training and preparation for a new job or activity: It's orientation week for new students. 3 sexual orientation the fact of being HETEROSEXUAL or HOMOSEXUAL: Discrimination on the grounds of sexual orientation is still far too widespread. 4 [C] the direction in which something faces: This chapter deals with the orientation of the Earth's magnetic field.

or·i·gen /ˈɔrɪdʒən// n. 1 when, where, or how something began: a word of Latin origin | The theory explains the origins of the universe.

THESAURUS

source – the thing, place, or person that you get something from: Tourism is the country's main source of income. | a source of energy root – the most important reason or cause of something, especially a problem or something bad: The root of the problem is money etymology – the origin of a word, or the study of the origins of words in general: What is the etymology of the word ‘sugar’?

birthplace – the place where someone, especially someone famous, was born: We visited Martin Luther King's birthplace in Atlanta

2 the country, race, or social class from which someone comes: Nine percent of the city's population is of Hispanic origin. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French origine, from Latin origo, from oriri “to rise”] or·ig·i·nal /ˈɔrɪdʒənəl// adj. [only before noun] first or earliest: Our original plan was to go to Florida. | The original version of the song is much better.

THESAURUS

new, recent, modern, fresh, latest → NEW

2 completely new and different: Steve comes up... with a lot of original ideas. | Her writing is truly original. 3 [only before noun] not copied, or not based on something else: an original screenplay original adj n. [C] a painting, document, etc. that is not a copy: I'll keep a copy of the lease and you can have the original.

-origin al-ty /ə'trɪdʒəl-əl-ti/ n. [U] the quality of being completely new and different: Marie's work shows a lot of originality.

-orig-inal-ly /ə'trɪdʒəl-aɪl/ adv. in the beginning: I'm originally from Texas. | Originally, we hoped to be finished by June.

-origin ate /ə'trɪdʒətɪ/ v. [I] (formal) to start to develop in a particular place or from a particular situation: The custom of having a Christmas tree originated in Germany.

-origin al-ly /ə'trɪdʒəl-aɪl/ adv. (informal) behaving in an unreasonable and angry way

-origin at o-logy /ə'trɪdʒətəl-ər-ja-jeɪ/ n. [U] the scientific study of birds [Origin: 1600—1700 Modern Latin ornithologia, from Greek ornithos "bird"] —ornithologist n. [C]

-orphan /ər'fæn/ n. [C] a child whose parents are dead

-orphan age /ər'fænʒ/ n. [C] a place where orphans live

-or-tho-don-tist /ər'θədən-tɪst/ n. [C] a dentist who makes teeth straight when they have not been growing correctly [Origin: 1900—2000 ortho- (from Greek orthos "straight, correct") + Greek odous "tooth"] —orthodontics n. [U] —orthodontic adj.

-or-tho-dox /ər'θədɒks/ adj 1 officially accepted, or considered to be normal by most people: orthodox methods of treating disease

-or-tho-doxy /ər'θədəksi/ n. [C] a teaching or principle that is held to be true and correct: religious, devout, pious, god-fearing, practicing

-orth o-doxy /ər'thɒdəski/ n. [C] 1 the Orthodox Church one of the Christian churches in eastern Europe and parts of Asia

-or-tho-pan-dic draw-ing /ər'thɒpændɪk ˈdrɔɪnɪŋ/ n. | also or-thogonal pro-jection /ər'thəgənl proˈdʒekʃən/ n. [C] MATH a drawing that shows what a three-dimensional object looks like when you look at it directly from different directions (usually the top, the front, and one side), or a drawing that shows a collection of views of the different sides

-or-tho-rha phy /ərθəˈreɪfɪli/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the system for spelling words in a language, or the way in which a word is spelled

-or-tho-pan-dy /ərθəˈpændɪ/ n. [C] a place where orphans live

-orphan age /ər'fænʒ/ n. [C] a place where orphans live Ostrich

very hostile way toward someone, and do not allow him/her to be part of a group: He was ostracized by the other students. [Orig.: 1800—1900 Greek ostrakizein "to send away by voting with broken pieces of pot," from ostrakon "broken piece of pot"]

Ostrich /'astrI/ n. [C] a very large African bird with long legs, that runs very quickly but cannot fly.

Other /'Aðə/ adj. 1 used in order to mean one or more of the rest of a group of people or things, when you have already mentioned one person or thing: I could do it, but none of the other boys in the class could. | Here's one sock, but where's the other one? 2 used in order to mean someone or something that is different from, or exists in addition to, the person or thing you have already mentioned: He shares an apartment with [already mentioned:] someone or thing:

Otherwise /'Aðə/ adv. 1 used to say that someone should do something: We ought to give Jane a call. | You ought to be ashamed of yourself. 2 used in order to say that you expect something to happen or be true: The weather ought to be nice there in October.

Ounce /'Auns/ n. [C] 1 (written abbreviation oz) a unit for measuring weight, equal to 1/16 of a pound or 28.35 grams. 2 an ounce of truth/sense etc. a small amount of a particular quality: Don't you have even an ounce of sense?

Our /Aur/ adj. or pron. belonging or relating to the person who is speaking and one or more other people: We don't have curtains on our windows. | Our daughter is in college.

Ourselves /Aurselfz, Ar-ə/ pron. the thing or things belonging or relating to the person who is speaking and one or more other people: "Whose car is that?" | "It's ours." | They have their tickets, but ours haven't come yet.

Other /'Aðə/ pron. 1 one or more people or things that form the rest that you are talking about: We ate one pizza and froze the others. | It looks like all the others have left. | Some MP3 players are better than others. 2 someone/something etc. or other used when you cannot be certain or definite about what you are saying: We'll get the money somehow or other.

Otherwise /'Aðə/ adv. 1 a word meaning "if not," used when there will be a bad result if something does not happen: You'd better go now, otherwise you'll be late.

Outside /'Auts/ adv. 1 away from the inside of a place or container (ANT in: Close the door on your way out. | The keys must have fallen out of my pocket. 2 away from the place where you usually are, such as home or work (ANT in: Did anyone call while I was out? | He asked me out for dinner tonight (=invited me to dinner). | We eat out (=eat in a restaurant) all the time.

Ought to /'A不可思议ʊt/ strong 'stʌt/ modal verb 1 used to say that someone should do something: We ought to give Jane a call. | You ought to be ashamed of yourself. 2 used in order to say that you expect something to happen or be true: The weather ought to be nice there in October.
Democrats out! 8 He may face prosecution when he is out of office. 8 used in order to say that something has appeared: It looks like the sun is finally going to come out. 9 out loud done in a way so that people can hear your voice: parents reading out loud to their kids. 10 available to be bought: Morrison has a new book out this month. 11 (spoken) not possible: “Where should we go?” “Well, skiing’s out because it costs too much.” 12 be out for sth/be out to do sth (informal) to intend to do or get something: Don’t listen to Danny – he’s just out to get attention. 13 (informal) a) asleep: Billy was out like a light by 6:00. b) not conscious: You must have hit him pretty hard – he’s out cold. 14 a player in a game who is out is no longer allowed to play, or has lost one of his/her chances to get a point. 15 clothes or styles that are out are no longer fashionable 16 someone who is out has told people that s/he is homosexual 17 if the tide is out, the ocean is at its lowest level out prep. 1 from inside something, or through something: He was looking out the window at the beach. 2 out of a) from a particular place or time: I got a Coke out of the refrigerator. A nail was sticking out of the wall. b) from a larger group of the same kind: Three out of four dentists recommend the toothpaste. c) out of all the kids in her class. c) having none of something that you had before: We’re almost out of gas. d) used in order to show what something is made from: a box made out of wood 3 out of it (informal) not able to think clearly because you are very tired, drunk, etc.: I’m really out of it today. 4 out of the way finished: Good. Now that’s out of the way, we can start working.

out n. 1 [C] an act of making a player in baseball lose the chance to get a run. 2 an out (informal) an excuse for not doing something: I’m busy Sunday, so that gives me an out.

out-age /'autærɪdʒ/ n. [C] a period of time when a service, especially the electricity supply, is not provided: a power outage out-and-out adj. [only before noun] having all the qualities of a particular type of person or thing: (not) complete: an out-and-out lie out-back /'autə'baʊk/ n. the outback the Australian countryside far away from cities, where few people live out-bid /'autə'baid/ v. (past tense and past participle outbidding) [T] to offer more money than someone else for something that you want to buy out-bound /'autə'baʊnd/ adj. moving away from you or away from a city, country, etc.: outbound flights out-break /'autə'breɪk/ n. [C] the start or sudden appearance of something bad such as a war or disease: an outbreak of malaria out-burst /'autə'bɜːst/ n. [C] a sudden powerful expression of strong emotion: an angry outburst out-cast /'autə'kæst/ n. [C] someone who is not accepted by other people: a social outcast out-class /'autə'klɑːs/ v. [T] to be much better than someone or something else out-come /'autə'kʌm/ n. [singular] the final result of a meeting, process, etc.: We were eager to know what the outcome of the experiment would be. 1 Several factors influenced the outcome of the war.

out-cry /'autə'kraɪ/ n. [singular, U] an angry protest by a lot of people: There was a public outcry against the war.

out-date /'autə'deɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle outdated) [T] to become no longer useful or modern: The textbooks were outdated and needed to be replaced.

out-door /'autə'dɔːr/ adj. [only before noun] happening, existing, or used outside and not in a building (ANY) indoor: outdoor activities | an outdoor swimming pool out-doors /'autə'dɔːz/ adv. outside, not inside a building (ANY) indoors: I prefer working outdoors.

out-door-sy /'autə'dɔːri/ adj. (informal) someone who is outdoorsy enjoys outdoor activities, such as hiking and camping out-er /'autər/ adj. [only before noun] 1 on the outside of something (ANY) inner: Peel off the outer leaves of lettuce. 2 far from the middle of something (ANY) inner: the outer suburbs out-er-most /'autərˌmɔːst/ adj. [only before noun] farthest from the middle (ANY) innermost: the outermost planets out-er-space /'autərˌspēs/ n. [U] the space outside the Earth’s air, where the stars and planets are out-field /'autəfɪld/ n. [singular] the part of a baseball field that is farthest from the player who is batting (BATT) —outfielder n. [C] out-fit /'autəfɪt/ n. [C] 1 a set of clothes worn together: She bought a new outfit for the party. 2 (informal) a group of people who work Thesaurus: sociable, extroverted, gregarious → SOCIABLE

1 the outgoing president/CEO etc. someone who is finishing a job as president, etc. [only before noun] going out from or leaving a place outgrowing /'aUt§'groU/ n. [C] a natural result of something: Crime is often an outgrowth of poverty.

out-house /'aUÔIÎhaus/ n. [C] a small building over a hole in the ground, that is used as a toilet outing /'aUÔIÎt/ n. [C] a short enjoyable trip for a group of people: a Sunday outing to the park outlandish /'aUt§laUdIs/ adj. strange and unusual: outlandish clothes outlaw /'aUt§'law/ v. [T] to continue to exist or do something longer than someone else: The whole point of the game is to outlaw your opponent.

outlawed /'aUt§'lawd/ v. [T] to say officially that something is illegal: The agreement outlawed chemical weapons.

outlawed /'aUt§'lawd/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a criminal who is hiding from the police outlay /'aUt§'leE/ n. (plural outlays) [CU] an amount of money that is spent for a particular purpose: There will be an initial outlay of $2,500 for tools and equipment.

outlet /'aUt§'let, '-let/ n. [C] 1 a place on a wall where you can connect electrical equipment to the electricity supply 2 a store that sells things for less than the usual price: an outlet mall 3 a way of expressing or getting rid of strong feelings: I use judo as an outlet for stress 4 a way out through which something such as a liquid or gas can flow outlining /'aUt§'laUIn/ n. [C] the main ideas or facts about something, without all the details: Here is an outline of the company’s plan. 2 [C] a plan for a piece of writing in which each new idea is separately written down: The teacher wants an outline of our essays by Friday. 3 [C-U] a line around the edge of something that shows its shape outpoured /'aUt§'pûr/ v. [T] 1 to describe the main ideas or facts about something, but not all the details: The president outlined his peace plan for the Middle East. 2 to draw or put a line around the edge of something to show its shape: We could see the huge ferris wheel outlined in colored lights.

out-patient /'aUt§'paIEnt/ n. [C] someone who goes to the hospital for treatment, but does not stay there → INPATIENT out-performed /'aUt§'peIPorm/ v. [T] to do something better than other things or people out-place-ment /'aUt§'pleIsm@nt/ n. [U] a service that a company provides to help its workers find other jobs when it cannot continue to employ them out-pour-ing /'aUt§'pûrIn/ n. [C] a large amount of something that is produced suddenly, such as strong emotions, ideas, or help: an outpouring of grief out-pu-t /'aUt§'pût/ n. [C-U] ECONOMICS the amount of work, goods, etc. produced by someone or something (syn. production): Economic output is down 10% this year. In the manufacturing sector, smaller firms account for a quarter of the total outset /ˈaʊt- / n. [C,U] a feeling of great anger or shock, or something that causes this: a deep sense of moral outrage | The prices they charge are an outrage!

outrage /ˈaʊtrɪdʒ/ n. [C] someone who does not belong to a particular group, organization, etc.: Corran is a Washington outsider who has never been in office before.

outside /ˈaʊt-saɪd/ n. [plural] the parts of a city or town that are farthest from the center: He lived on the outskirts of town.

outrageous /ˈaʊtrədʒəs/ adj. very shocking or unreasonable; outrageously lies —outrageously adv.

outrage /ˈaʊtrɪdʒ/ n. [C] the practice of trying to help people with particular problems, especially through an organization: the church's community outreach program.

outright /ˈaʊtrɪt/ adj. [only before noun] 1 complete and total: an outright refusal 2 clear and direct: an outright lie outright /ˈaʊtrɪt/ adv. 1 clearly and directly: Nadine laughed outright at the suggestion. 2 buy/own sth outright to own something such as a house completely because you have paid the full price with your own money.

outrun /ˈaʊtrʌn/ v. (past tense outran l-ˈraʊn, past participle outrun, present participle outrunning) [T] 1 to run faster or farther than someone 2 to develop more quickly than something else: The company's spending was outrunning its income.

outset /ˈaʊtset/ n. at/from the outset at or from the beginning of an event or process: The rules were agreed at the outset of the game.

outshine /ˈaʊtʃaɪn/ v. (past tense and past participle outshone l-ˈʃaʊn) [T] to be much better at something than someone else.

outside /ˈaʊtsaɪd/ adj. prep also outside of 1 not inside a building or room, but near it (sit inside): Mom, can I go outside and play? | He left an envelope outside my door. 2 beyond the limits of a city, country, etc.: We live just outside Pittsburgh. 3 beyond the limits of a situation, activity, etc.: Teachers can't control what students do outside school. | I'm afraid that subject is outside the scope of this discussion.

outside /ˈaʊtsaɪd/ adj. [only before noun] 1 not inside a building: We turned off the outside lights. 2 involving people who do not belong to the same group or organization as you: We may need some outside help. 3 the outside world the rest of the world: Since the attack, the city has been cut off from the outside world. 4 outside interests things that you do or are interested in that are not related to your work.

outside /ˈaʊtsaɪd/ n. 1 the outside the outer part or surface of something (sit inside): They painted the outside of the building pink. | From the outside, the house looked very nice. 2 on the outside used in order to describe the way someone or something appears to be: Their marriage seemed so perfect on the outside.

outsid-er /ˈaʊtsaɪdər/ n. [C] someone who does not belong to a particular group, organization, etc.: Corran is a Washington outsider who has never been in office before.

outs-ists /ˈaʊtsɪsts/ n. [plural] the parts of a city or town that are farthest from the center: He lived on the outskirts of town.

outlast /ˈaʊtlɑːst/ v. [T] to gain an advantage over someone using tricks or your intelligence.

outsourc-ing /ˈaʊtsɔːrɪŋ/ n. [U] Economics the practice of using workers from outside a company, or of buying supplies, parts, etc. from another company instead of producing them yourself.

outspe-aker /ˈaʊtspleɪkə/ n. expressing your opinions honestly and directly, even if they shock or offend other people: an outspoken critic of the program —outspeaking adj.

outspect-ing /ˈaʊtspektɪŋ/ v. [T] to be very happy.

outward /ˈaʊt(wɜːrd)/ adj. 1 relating to how people, things, etc. seem to be rather than how they are (sit inward): Amy answered with a look of outward calm. 2 going away from a place, or toward the outside: The outward flight was bumpy.

outwardly /ˈaʊt(wɜːrdli)/ adv. according to how people, things, etc. seem to be rather than how they are (sit inwardly): Outwardly, he seems to be very happy.

outweigh /ˈaʊtwɛɪn/ v. [T] to be more important or valuable than something else: The advantages far outweigh the disadvantages.

outwit /ˈaʊtwɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle outwitted, present participle outwitting) [T] out-smart oval /ˈoʊvəl/ n. the plural of ovum

O-val /ˈoʊvəl/ n. [C] a shape that is like a circle, but longer than it is wide —see picture at shape oval /ˈoʊvəl/ adj.

Oval Office

THESSAURUS shape, square, circle, semicircle, triangle, rectangle, cylinder → SHAPE

Oval Office n. the Oval Office the office of the U.S. President, in the White House in Washington, D.C.

over /'oʊvər/ prep. 1 above or higher than something, without touching it (NOT under). I leaned over the desk. | The sign over the door said "No Exit." | The bull went way over (as long way above) my head. 2 moving across the top of something, or from one side of it to the other. We walked over the hill. | One of the men jumped over the counter and grabbed the money. 3 on something or someone so that he, she, or it is covered. I put the blanket over the baby. 4 more than a particular amount, number, or age: Mike makes over $100,000 a year. | The game is designed for children over seven years old. 5 during: Where did you go over summer vacation? 6 down from the edge of something: Hang the towel over the back of the chair. 7 be/get over sth to feel better after being sick or upset: He’s mad, but he’ll get over it. 8 about or concerning something: They had an argument over who would take the car. 9 using the telephone or a radio: The salesman explained it to me over the phone. → all over at all2 over /'oʊvər/ adj. 1 finished: The game's over – Dallas won.

over3 adj. 1 finished: The game’s over – Dallas won.

over4 adj. 1 [past tense overcame /'əʊvrəm/; past participle overcome] to succeed in controlling a feeling or problem: She managed to overcome her fear of flying. 2 [T] to make someone very emotional, sick, or weak: She was overcome with grief. 3 [T] to fight and win against someone or something: Union troops finally overcame rebel forces in the south.

over5 adj. 1 including everything: The overall cost of the trip is $500. | The overall level of unemployment is approximately 12% of the population.

over6 adv. 1 generally: Overall, the situation looks good. | Overall, females performed better than males in tests. 2 including everything: Inflation is growing at 3% a year overall. | Although there are now women in positions of power, their numbers overall are still few.

over7 adj. 1 [singular] heavy cotton pants with a piece that covers your chest, held up by two bands that go over your shoulders → see picture at CLOTHES

over8 adj. 1 (disapproving) always trying to control other people without considering their feelings or needs /st/ domineering

over9 adj. 1 [informal, with the] covering or doing too much: Some of the managers are overburdened with work. | the overburdened court system over10 adj. 1 dark because of clouds: a gray overcast sky

over11 adj. 1 (past tense overcame /'əʊvrəm/; past participle overcome) to succeed in controlling a feeling or problem: I’m trying to overcome my fear of flying. 2 [T] to make someone very emotional, sick, or weak: She was overcome with grief. | Charles was overcome with anger.

over12 adj. 1 [past tense overcame /'əʊvrəm/; past participle overcome] to succeed in controlling a feeling or problem: I’m trying to overcome my fear of flying. 2 [T] to make someone very emotional, sick, or weak: She was overcome with grief. | Charles was overcome with anger.

over13 adj. 1 [plural ovaries] (正式) the part of a female that produces eggs over14 adj. 1 [plural ovaries] (正式) if people give someone an ovation, they clap their hands to show approval: The performance received a standing ovation (=people stood up and clapped their hands).

over15 adj. 1 [formal] relating to the ovaries: ovarian cancer

over16 adj. 1 [formal] relating to the ovaries: ovarian cancer overdo overcrowd overdose overflow overextend overdone
overdue overestimate overeaten overdrawn
overdone
overdraw
overdue
overdrawn
overdraw
overdue

overload
overgrown overhand overhang overheat overland overlap overlook overjoyed overkill overload
overlook

---

overcompensates [v] [U] to try to correct a weakness or mistake by doing too much of the opposite thing: She overcompensates for her shyness by talking too much.

overcompensation [n] [U] overcrowded [adj] filled with too many people or things: an overcrowded bus overdo [v] (past tense overdid, past participle overdone) [U] to do or use too much of something: When exercising, you have to be careful not to overdo it.

overdone [adj] cooked too much:

overdrawn [adj] having spent more money than you have in the bank, so you owe the bank money: If you are overdrawn, there’s a $50 fee to pay.

overdue [adj] 1 not done or happening when expected 2 overdue: an overdue library book overestimate [v] to think that someone or something is larger, more expensive, or more important than he, she, or it really is: Rosa had overestimated the strength of her opponent. The importance of education cannot be overestimated (it is very important).

overestimate [n] [C]: The figure of 30% is clearly an overestimate.

overextend [v] [T] to try to do too much or use too much of something, causing problems: Even with extra people working, they’re overextending themselves.

overextended [adj]

overflow [v] [T] 1 if a liquid or river overflows, it goes over the edges of the container or place where it is: The sink was overflowing with water. 2 if people overflow a place, or if a place overflows with people, there are too many people to fit into it overflow [n] [C,U] the people, water, etc. that cannot be contained in a place because it is already full: The overflow of people from the concert was standing outside in the street.

overload [v] [T] 1 to load something with too many things or people: Don’t overload the washing machine with clothes. 2 to give someone too much work to do 3 to damage an electrical system by causing too much electricity to flow through it overlook [v] [T] 1 to not notice something, or to not realize how important it is: It’s... easy to overlook mistakes when reading your own writing. 2 to forgive someone’s mistake, bad behavior, etc.: I can’t overlook his drinking any longer. 3 to have a view of something from above: Our room overlooked the beach.

over-
- overrun /əˈvɜːrən/ v (past tense overrun /əˈrun/; past participle overrun /əˈraʊn/) [T] to spread over a place quickly and in great numbers: During the summer the town is overrun with tourists.
- over-seas /əˈvɜːrsɪs/ adj, adv. to or in a foreign country that is across the ocean > OVERSEAS: overseas travel. Apparel retailers in the U.S. buy roughly half their merchandise overseas each year.
- over-see /əˈvɜːrˌsi/ v (past tense oversaw /əˈswɔː/; past participle overseen /əˈsʊn/) [T] to watch a group of workers to be sure that a piece of work is done correctly > SUPERVISE: Bentley is overseeing the project. > OVERSEE: oversaw /əˈsʊr/ n [C]
- over-shad-ow /əˈvɜːrˌʃədəʊ/ v [T] to make someone seem less important: His work has been overshadowed by that of newer writers.
- over-look /əˈvɜːrləʊk/ v. past tense and past participle overlooked /əˈvɜːrlʊkt/ [T] to defeat someone because you are stronger
- overnight /əˈvɜːr나ɪt/ adv. for or during the night: She’s staying overnight at a friend’s house. 2 (informal) suddenly: You can’t expect to lose the weight overnight.
- over-rid-en /əˈvɜːrɪdən/ v. past tense and past participle overriden /əˈvɜːrɪdən/ [T] to defeat someone because you are stronger
- over-stated /əˈvɜːrstɛttɪd/ v (disapproving) to make a problem or situation seem more simple than it really is, by ignoring important facts > OVERSTATE: overestimated, overestimated (oversimpified, oversimplifies) [T] (disapproving) to make a problem or situation seem more simple than it really is, by ignoring important facts
- over-see /əˈvɜːrˌsi/ v. past tense and past participle overseen /əˈsʊn/ [T] to watch a group of workers to be sure that a piece of work is done correctly
- over-sight /əˈvɜːrˌsɪt/ n. function > OVERSIGHT FUNCTION: politics an official check by a special government committee of the decisions made by the executive branch of the U.S. government to make sure that the government acted legally and correctly
- over-simp-lify /əˈvɜːrsɪmpləfai/ v (over-simplified, oversimplified) [T] (disapproving) to make a problem or situation seem more simple than it really is, by ignoring important facts
- over-see /əˈvɜːrˌsi/ v. past tense and past participle overspent /əˈspent/ [T] to spend more money than you can afford
- over-state /əˈvɜːrstɛtɪ/ v [T] to talk about something in a way that makes it seem more important, serious, etc. than it really is > EXAGGERATE: OVERSTATE: a child’s need for a routine cannot be overstated (it is very important).
- over-step /əˈvɜːrstɛp/ v (overstepped, overstepping) [T] to go beyond an acceptable limit: Wilson has clearly overstepped his authority.
- over-take /əˈvɜːrtək/ v (past tense overtook /əˈtɔk/; past participle overtaken /əˈtɛrkən/) [T] 1 to have a sudden strong effect on someone: He was overtaken by exhaustion. 2 to develop or increase more quickly than someone or something else: DVDs rapidly overtook video.
over-the-counter adj. over-the-counter medicines can be bought without a prescription (=written order) from a doctor overthrow /ˈouvərθɔːr/ v. (past tense overthrow /ˈouvərθɔːr/, past participle overthrown /ˈouvərθɔːn/) [T] to remove a leader or government from power by force: Rebel forces have made an attempt to overthrow the government. —overthrow /ˈouvərθɔːr/ n. [U] over-time /ˈouvərtaim/ n. [U] time that you work on your job in addition to your usual working hours: Tom’s been working/doing a lot of overtime lately.

overlook /ˈouvərləʊk/ v. the past tense of overlook overture /ˈouvərtoʊr/ n. 1 a piece of music written as an introduction to a longer musical piece, especially an opera: 2 [usually plural] an attempt to be friendly with a person, group, or country: They began making overtures to the Japanese government.

overturn /ˈouvərturn/ v. 1 [I,T] if something overturns, or you overturn it, it turns upside down or falls over on its side: an overturned car 2 overturn a ruling/verdict/law etc. to change a decision made by a court so that it becomes the opposite of what it was before overview /ˈouvərvju/ n. [C] a short description of a subject or situation, that gives the main ideas without explaining all the details: The article gave an overview of developments in the Middle East.

overweight /ˈouvərwɛɪtʃ/ adj. too heavy or too fat: He was 10/20 etc. pounds overweight.

overwhelm /ˈouvərwelm/ v. 1 [I] if work, a problem, etc. overpowers someone, it is too much or too difficult to deal with: Maia is a sensitive child who is overwhelmed by the demands of school. 2 if a feeling overwhelms someone, s/he feels it very strongly: I was overwhelmed by/with grief. —overwhelmed adj.

overwhelming adj. 1 affecting someone very strongly: an overwhelming sense of guilt 2 extremely large or great: an overwhelming number/majority of voters —overwhelmingly adv.

overworked /ˈouvərwɜːkt/ adj. working too much and for too long: an overworked teacher —overwork /ˈouvərwɜːk/ n. [U] ovule /ˈəʊvjuːl/ n. [C] biology a very small structure in plants that develops into a seed after the plant has been fertilized ovum /ˈəʊvʊm/ n. (plural ova /ˈəʊvəʊ/) [C] biology an egg, especially one that develops inside a woman’s or a female animal’s body ow /əʊ/ interjection said in order to show that something hurts you: Ow! That hurt!

owe /əʊv/ v. [T] 1 to need to pay someone because s/he has allowed you to borrow money: Bob owes me $20. 2 how much do you still owe on your college loans?

owing to prep. (formal) because of: Greely was unable to accept the job, owing to a serious illness.

owl /əʊlv/ n. [C] a bird that hunts at night and has large eyes and a loud call: see picture at nocturnal own1 /əʊn/ determiner, pron. 1 belonging to or done by a particular person and no one else: his own car 2 (all) on your own a) alone: Many older people still live on their own. b) without help: It’s a decision you have to make on your own.

own2 v. [T] to legally have something because you bought it or have been given it: possess: The city owns the buildings.

ox /əks/ n. (plural oxen /ˈəksn/) [C] a male cow that has had part of its sex organs removed ox-i-da-tion /ˌɔksəˈdeɪʃən/ n. [U] chemistry the process in which a chemical combines with oxygen, losing one or more electrons oxide /ˈɔksaɪd/ n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a substance that is produced when a substance is combined with oxygen ox·i·dize /ˈɒksɪdɪz/ v. [T] CHEMISTRY to combine with oxygen, or to make something combine with oxygen, especially in a way that causes RUST CHEMISTRY to lose ELECTRONS or make another chemical compound lose electrons ox·y·gen /ˈɒksɪdʒən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol O) a gas in the air that has no color, smell, or taste, and that all plants and animals need in order to live [Origin: 1700—1800 French oxygène, from Greek οξύς “sharp, acid” + French -gène “forming;” because it was believed that oxygen forms part of all acids] ox·y·mo·ron /ˌɔksɪˈmɔrən/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a combination of words that seem to mean the opposite of each other, such as “new classics” oys·ter /ˈoʊstər/ n. [C] U.S. a small sea animal that has a shell and can produce a jewel called a PEARL, or the meat of this animal = see picture at SHELLFISH

o·zone /ˈoʊzuən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a poisonous blue gas that is a type of oxygen

o·zone·layer n. [singular] EARTH SCIENCES a layer of ozone above the Earth that prevents harmful RADIATION from the Sun from reaching the Earth’s surface pace /peis/ n. 1 [singular] the speed or rate at which something happens or is done: We started walking uphill at a steady/slow/rapid/fast etc.

pace. | Students are encouraged to work at their own pace.

pace of life – the amount of activity in people’s lives and how busy they are pace of change/reform/growth – how quickly change, reform, or growth happens at your own pace – at a pace that is comfortable for you at a rapid/slow/steady etc. pace at a snail’s pace – very slowly keep up the pace – continue to do something or happen as quickly as before keep pace with sth – do something at the same speed or rate as something else

2 keep pace (with sb/sth) to move or change as fast as something or someone else pace² v. [T] 1 to walk first in one direction and then in another, again and again, when you are waiting or worried about something: Darren paced back and forth in the waiting room. 2 pace yourself to do something at a steady speed so you do not get tired too quickly pace·mak·er /ˈpeɪsˌmɛrkər/ n. [C] a very small machine that is attached to someone’s heart to help it beat regularly

Pa·cif·ic /ˈpeɪsɪfɪk/ n. [U] (spoken) a short form of Pacific Time, the TIME ZONE in the western part of the U.S.

Pa·cif·ic adj. (literary) peaceful, loving peace, or helping peace to happen: a pacific settlement to the argument

Pa·cific·ocean n. the Pacific Ocean, the Pacific the large ocean between Asia and Australia in the west, and North and South America in the east

Pa·cific·Rim n. the Pacific Rim the land and islands that are around the edges of the Pacific Ocean, especially in Asia pac·i·fi·er /ˈpæsəˌfɪər/ n. [C] a plastic or rubber object that a baby sucks on so that she does not cry pac·i·fi·sm /ˈpæsəˌfɪzəm/ n. [U] the belief that all wars and forms of violence are wrong — pacifist n. [C] pac·i·fy /ˈpæsəˌfai/ v. (pacified, pacifies) [T] to make someone calm and quiet after s/he has been angry or upset, or to make a group or area peaceful: “You’re right,” Rita said, in order to pacify him.

pack /pak/ v. 1 [T] also pack up to put things into boxes, SUITCASES, bags, etc. in order to take or store them somewhere: The Olsons packed their bags/suitcases. | I still need to pack tonight. | They packed up and moved back to Tucson. | eggs packed in cartons 2 [T] if a crowd of people packs a place, there are so many of them that the place is too full: 50,000 fans packed the stadium. 3 [T] to cover, fill, or surround something closely with material to protect it: Pack some newspaper around the bottles. 4 [T] to press soil, snow, etc.
down firmly: Pack the soil firmly around the roots.

pack sb/sth in phr. v. (informal) to fit a lot of people, information, ideas, etc. into a limited space: Any movie starring Brad Pitt always packs in the fans. 2 pack it in (informal) to stop doing something: Mike was ready to pack it in for the night.

pack sb/sth off phr. v. (informal) to send someone or something away quickly, especially in order to get rid of him/her: Our folks packed us off to camp every summer.

pack up phr. v. to take things away: The theater was packed.

packaging n. 1 a large area of ice floating in the ocean, formed by smaller pieces of fans.

2 people, information, ideas, etc. into a limited space: Mike was ready to pack it in for the night.

package n. 1 a group of things that are sold or offered together: Meat is packaged in boxes and wrapped in paper, especially for expense accounts.

2 a group of people: A pack of reporters was yelling questions. 4 several things wrapped or tied together to make them easy to sell, carry, or send: a pack of three T-shirts | a six-pack of beer

pack-aging /'pækɪŋ/ n. 1 something packed into a box and wrapped in paper, especially for mailing 2 the box, bag, etc. that food is put into in order to be sold: Nutrition information is listed on the side of the package. 3 a set of related things or services that are sold or offered together: a new software package | a financial aid package for students package v. [T] 1 to put something in a special package, ready to be sold or sent: Meat is packaged and dated in this area here. 2 to try to make an idea, person, etc. seem interesting or attractive so that people will like it or buy it: The company is packaging the band to appeal to teenage girls.

pack-aging /'pækɪŋ/ n. [U] the container or material that a product is sold in: cardboard packaging packed adj. extremely full of people or things: The theater was packed. | The forest is tightly/densely/closely packed with pine trees.

packed with pine trees.

2 if you are packed, you have put everything you need into boxes or SUITCASES before going on a trip pack-er /'pækər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to pack things that are to be moved or sold pack-et /'pækɪt/ n. [C] 1 a small envelope containing something: a packet of sugar 2 a quantity of information that is sent as a single unit from one computer to another on a network or on the Internet pack ice n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of ice floating in the ocean, formed by smaller pieces joining together when the ocean is very cold pack-ing /'pækɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the act of putting things into boxes, cans, SUITCASES, etc. so that you can send or take them somewhere: I've still got to do my packing. 2 paper, plastic, cloth, etc. used for packing things pack rat n. [C] (informal) someone who collects and stores things that she does not really need pact /pækt/ n. [C] a formal or serious agreement between two groups, nations, or people: The U.S. signed a trade pact with Canada. | We made a pact to help each other out. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French pacte, from Latin pactum, from pacisci “to agree”] pad /pæd/ n. 1 a thick piece of soft material, used for protecting or cleaning something, or for making something more comfortable: the helmets and pads of a football player | a heating pad 2 many sheets of paper fastened together, used for writing or drawing: a sketch pad launch pad

pad v. (padded, padding) 1 [I] to walk softly and quietly: The cat padded across the floor. 2 [T] to fill or cover something with a soft material in order to protect it or make it more comfortable 3 [T] (informal) to add something unnecessary to a document or speech to make it longer, or to a price to make it higher: He was padding his expense accounts.

pad-ded /'pæddɪd/ adj. filled or covered with a soft material: a padded jacket pad-ding /'pædɪŋ/ n. [U] material that fills or covers something to make it softer or more comfortable pad-dle /'pædl/ n. [C] 1 a short pole with a wide flat end, used for moving a small boat along | OAR 2 an object used for hitting the ball in PING-PONG, consisting of a round flat top on a short handle paddle v. [I,T] to move a small boat through water, using a paddle 2 [T] to hit a child with a piece of wood as a punishment paddle

pad-dy /'pædi/ also rice paddies [plural] n. [C] a field in which rice is grown in water pad-lock /'pædlək/ n. [C] a lock with a curved bar at the top that you can put on a door, bicycle, etc. —padlock v. [T] see picture at LOCK pagan adj. one who does not believe in any of the main modern religions of the world [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin paganus, from Latin, “someone who lives in the country”]

—pagan n. [C]

page /peɪdʒ/ n. 1 one side of a sheet of paper in a book, newspaper, etc., or the sheet of paper itself: Do the exercises on page 10 for homework. | The story was on the front page of every newspaper. | Callie turned the page and continued reading. 2 all the writing and pictures that you can see at one time on a computer screen: a web

PACKET!
These patients suffer from shoulder/chest/back pain. People take medicine to ease/relieve the pain. The feeling you have when you are sad, upset, etc.: The acting in the movie was so bad that it was painful to watch. There is no painless way to learn another language. A terrible, severe, intense, or unbearable pain is very bad. If you have pain in your shoulder/chest/back pain. As soon as I stood up, I felt the pain. Eczema is a skin condition that can leave your skin raw and itchy. A container with a handle, used for carrying liquids or by children when playing on the beach: a pail of water. A colored liquid that you use to put paint on a surface: a coat of paint. A colored sub stance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. A colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The feeling of unhappiness you have when you are sad, upset, etc.: Children feel a lot of pain when their parents divorce. People can be painfully cruel to each other. It was painfully obvious that she wasn’t well. A color or a layer of paint. A colored medicine that reduces or removes pain. A word for a pain that continues but is not very strong is an ache. To press a special key on a computer that makes the screen show the page after or before the one you are reading.

pag·er /ˈpeɪdʒər/ n. [O] a young person who works in a government office for a short time in order to gain experience. [Origin: (1) 1500—1600 French, Latin pagina] pag·eant /ˈpeɪdʒənt/ n. [C] 1 a competition for young women in which their beauty and other qualities are judged: a beauty pageant 2 a public show or ceremony that usually shows an event in a country's history. pag·eant·ry /ˈpeɪdʒəntri/ n. [U] (formal) impressive ceremonies or events, involving many people wearing special clothes: the pageantry of a royal wedding. pag·er /ˈpeɪdʒər/ n. [C] a beeper.

pa·go·da /ˈpəɡədə/ n. [C] an Asian temple that has several levels, with a decorated roof at each level. [Origin: 1500—1600 Portuguese pagode] paid /peɪd/ v. to press a special key on a computer that makes the screen show the page after or before the one you are reading. pag·eant /ˈpeɪdʒənt/ n. [C] 1 a competition for young women in which their beauty and other qualities are judged: a beauty pageant 2 a public show or ceremony that usually shows an event in history. pag·eant·ry /ˈpeɪdʒəntri/ n. [U] (formal) impressive ceremonies or events, involving many people wearing special clothes: the pageantry of a royal wedding. pag·er /ˈpeɪdʒər/ n. [C] a beeper.

paid /peɪd/ v. to press a special key on a computer that makes the screen show the page after or before the one you are reading.

page down/up phr. v. to press a special key on a computer that makes the screen show the page after or before the one you are reading.

pail /pɛl/ n. [C] 1 a container with a handle, used for carrying liquids or by children when playing on the beach: a pail of water 2 a container used for carrying or holding something: a garbage pail 3 a lunch pail. pain /peɪn/ n. 1 [C,U] the feeling you have when part of your body hurts: Soldiers lay groaning in pain (feeling pain) on the ground. She was given drugs to ease/relieve the pain (= make it hurt less). These patients suffer from shoulder/chest/back pain. As soon as I stood up, I felt the pain. 2 be a pain (in the neck/butt) (spoken) to be very annoying: This pain is a pain to wash. 3 [C,U] the feeling of unhappiness you have when you are sad, upset, etc.: Children feel a lot of pain when their parents divorce.

paint /peɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

pains·tak·ing /ˈpeɪnstəkeɪŋ/ adj. very careful and thorough: painstaking research. painting /ˈpeɪntɪŋ/ n. 1 a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

paint /ˈpeɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

paint /ˈpeɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

paint /ˈpeɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

paint /ˈpeɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.

paint /ˈpeɪnt/ n. 1 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 2 [C,U] a colored substance in a small tube or block, used for painting pictures: a set of oil paints. 3 [U] a colored liquid that you put on a surface to make it a particular color: a can of yellow paint. The kitchen needs a fresh coat of paint (layer of paint). 4 take pains to do sth to make a special effort to do something: I took great pains not to upset them. 5 be at pains to do sth (formal) to be very careful to do something: I, T. to put paint on a surface: How much will it cost to paint the house? The door had been painted.
been painted blue. | the freshly painted (recently painted) walls 2 to make a picture of someone or something using paint. He painted a portrait of Allen's wife. 3 paint a picture/portrait of sth to describe something in a particular way: The report paints a grim picture of family life.

paint-brush /ˈpeɪntˈbrʌʃ/ n. [C] a special brush used for painting pictures or for painting rooms, houses, etc. → see picture at brush paint-er /ˈpeɪntər/ n. [C] 1 someone who paints pictures; artist: a landscape painter 2 someone whose job is painting houses, rooms, etc.

painting /ˈpeɪntɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a painted picture: a painting of Thomas Jefferson (=what shows Thomas Jefferson) | a painting by Mondrian (=painted by him)

2 [U] the act or skill of making a picture using paint: Monet's style of painting

3 [U] the act of covering a wall, house, etc. with paint paint thinner n. [U] a liquid that you add to paint to make it less thick

painting /ˈpeɪntɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a painted picture: a painting of Thomas Jefferson (=what shows Thomas Jefferson) | a painting by Mondrian (=painted by him)

2 [U] the act or skill of making a picture using paint: Monet's style of painting

3 [U] the act of covering a wall, house, etc. with paint

paint thinner n. [U] a liquid that you add to paint to make it less thick

pair /per/ n. (plural pairs or pair) [C] 1 something made of two similar parts that are joined together: a pair of scissors | two pairs of jeans | a pair of glasses 2 two things of the same kind that are used together: a pair of earrings | She has 12 pairs of shoes! 3 two people who are standing or doing something together: a pair of dancers | Work in pairs (=in groups of two) on the next exercise. [Origin: 1300—1300 Old French, from Latin paria "equal things"] pair also pair up v. [I,T] to form or be put into groups of two: We were each paired with a new-comer to help with training.

pair (together) off phr. v. to come together or bring two people together: The guests paired off for the first dance.

pajamas /ˈpeɪdʒəməz, ˈpɛdʒəˌmɛz/ n. plural a pair of loose pants and a loose shirt that you wear in bed [Origin: 1800—1900 Hindi pajama (singular), from Persian pa "leg" + jama "piece of clothing"] pal /pæl/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a close friend: a college pal [Origin: 1600—1700 Romany phal, phal "brother, friend," from Sanskrit bhvatr "brother"] → PEN PAL palace /ˈpeɪlɪs/ n. [C] a large house where a king or queen officially lives: Buckingham Palace in England [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French palais, from Latin palatium, from Palatium the Palatine Hill in Rome where the ruler’s palace was] palatable /ˈpælətəbl/ adj. (formal) 1 palatable food or drinks have an acceptable taste: a palatable wine 2 an idea, suggestion, etc. that is palatable is acceptable: Can they come up with a plan that is more palatable to local residents?

palate /ˈpeɪlt/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY the top inside part of the mouth 2 (usually singular) (formal) someone’s ability to taste things: The flavors must please the palate.

palatial /ˈpælətʃəl/ adj. very large and beautifully decorated: a palatial hotel pale /pæl/ adj. 1 having a much lighter skin color than usual because you are sick, frightened, etc.: Her father looked pale and nervous. 2 a pale color has more white in it than usual: pale green walls [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin pallidus]

pale v. [I] 1 pale in/by comparison to seem less important, good, etc. when compared to something else: Recent economic problems pale in comparison with those of the 1930s. 2 pale into insignificance to seem much less important when compared to something else: All our troubles paled into insignificance when we heard about the war. 3 (literary) if you pale, your face becomes much whiter than usual because you are sick, frightened, etc.
Paleolithic

Pa-le-o-lith-ic, paleolithic /pəˈlɪθɪk/ adj.
Earth Sciences relating to the earliest period of the stone age (the period many thousands of years ago when people made stone tools and weapons): the Paleolithic era → NEOLITHIC pa-le-on-to-log-y /pəˈlɪənəˌtɒlədʒi/ -log- n. [U] Earth Sciences the study of fossils (=ancient animals and plants that have been preserved in rock) [Origin: 1800—1900 paleo- + Greek ona “living things” + English -ology] → paleontologist n. [C]

Pa-le-o-zo-ic /pəˈlɪəzθəˌsɪk/ adj.: the Paleozoic period → CENOZOIC, MESOZOIC, PRECAMBRIAN

pal·l·et /ˈpʌlət/ n. [C] 1 a board with a curved edge and a hole for the thumb, on a painter mixes colors. 2 the particular set of colors a painter uses: a bright palette pal·i·n·o·drome /ˈpʌlənˌdrəʊm/ n. [C] Eng. Lang. Arts a word or phrase such as “deed” or “level,” which is the same when you read it backward

pall¹ /ˈpɔl/ n. 1 [C] a low dark cloud of smoke, dust, etc.: a pall of black smoke 2 [singular] something that spoils an event or occasion that should have been happy: The drug scandal cast a pall over (=spoiled the happy feelings at) the Olympics.

pall² v. [l] (literary) to become less interesting or enjoyable: Gradually, the novelty of city life began to pall.

pall·bear·er /ˈpɔlˌbɛər/ n. [C] someone who helps to carry a CASKET (=a box with a dead body inside) at a funeral pal·let·tine /ˈpʌlitənt/ n. [C] a large flat wooden frame on which heavy goods can be lifted, stored, or moved pal·li·ate /ˈpɔlərɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make a bad situation or illness better, but not make it go away completely → palliation /ˈpɔləˈʃɪən/ n. [U] → palliative adj.: cancer patients receiving palliative care

THE THESAURUS
relieve, ease, lessen, soothe, alleviate → REDUCE pal·lid /ˈpɔlɪld/ adj. (literary) looking pale and unhealthy: palid skin pal·lor /ˈpɔlər/ n. [singular] (literary) a pale unhealthy color of your skin or face palm¹ /ˈpaʊm/ n. [C] 1 the inside surface of your hand between the base of your fingers and your wrist: The boy held a penny in the palm of his hand. → see picture at HAND² 2 a palm tree

palm² v. [T]

palm sth. ↔ off phr. v. to persuade someone to accept or buy something, especially by deceiving him/her

Palm ‘Sunday n. the Sunday before Easter in Christian religions palm-top /ˈpʌmtɒp/ n. [C] a very small computer that you can hold in your hand palm tree n. [C] a tall tropical tree with large pointed leaves at its top that grows near beaches or in deserts → see picture on page 10 pal·pa·ble /ˈpʌpəbəl/ adj. (formal) easily and clearly noticed: Rosanne’s disappointment was palpable. → palpably adv.

pal·pi·ta·tions /ˈpʌpɪˌteɪʃənz/ n. [plural] irregular or extremely fast beating of your heart pal·try /ˈpɔltri/ adj. (disapproving) too small to be useful or important: a paltry pay raise pan·mer /ˈpæmɜːr/ n. (T) to give someone a lot of care and attention, sometimes in a way that is bad for him/her: a pampered dog pan·phi·let /ˈpænfɪlɪt/ n. [C] a very thin book with paper covers, giving information about something

pan¹ /ˈpæn/ n. [C] 1 a round metal container used for cooking, usually with a handle: a large pan of boiling water | pots and pans | a frying pan 2 a metal container used for baking food, or the food that this contains: Spoon half the batter into a greased pan. | a pan of sweet rolls 3 a container with low sides, used for holding liquids: an oil pan [Origin: Old English panne

pan² v. (panned, panning) 1 [T] (written) to strongly criticize a movie, play, etc. in a newspaper or on television or radio: The critics panned his first play. 2 [T] to move a camera while taking a picture, or follow a moving object with a camera: The camera panned across the crowd. 3 [I] to wash soil in a pan in order to separate gold from it: Men were panning for gold in the stream.

pan out phr. v. (informal) to happen or develop in the expected way: I got a few job interviews, but nothing panned out.

pan·a·ce·a /ˈpænəˌsɪə/ n. [C] usually singular something that people think will make everything better or cure any illness: Money is not a panacea for the problems in our schools, but it can help.

THE THESAURUS
solution, answer, cure, remedy → SOLUTION

pa·naché /pəˈnæʃ/ -nché/ n. [U] a way of doing things that is exciting and makes them seem easy: Mr. Seaton danced with real panché.

pan·cake /ˈpænkɛk/ n. [C] a flat round type of bread made from flour, milk, and eggs that is cooked in a pan and eaten for breakfast pan·cre·as /ˌpæŋkˈkriəs/ n. [C] Biology a gland in your body that helps your body to use the food you eat [Origin: 1500—1600 Modern Latin, Greek pankreas, from pan- “all” + kreas “flesh”] → pancreatic /ˌpæŋkˈkriətɪk/ adj.

pan·da /ˈpænda/ n. [C] a large black and white animal, similar to a bear, that lives in China pan-dem.ic /pænˈdemɪk/ n. [C] an illness or disease that affects the population of a very large area; PANDEMIC; the virus that caused the deadly Spanish flu pandemic in 1918 —panemic adj.: New strains of influenza could cause pandemic disease.

pan-de-mo-ni-um /pænˈdeʊməniəm/ n. [U] a situation in which there is a lot of noise and movement because people are angry, frightened, excited, etc.: For the next hour, there was pandemonium in the auditorium. [Orig.: 1600—1700 Panandaemonium city of evil spirits in the poem Paradise Lost (1667) by John Milton, from Greek pan- “all” + daimon “evil spirit”]

pan-der /pændər/ v. pander to sb/sth [Br,Col] (disapproving) to try to please someone by doing what s/he wants you to do, even though you know this is wrong: Do we want a president who panders to big business?

pane /pæn/ n. [C] 1 a piece of glass in a window or door: a window pane | a pane of glass

pan-el /pæn/ n. [C] 1 a group of people who are chosen to discuss something, decide something, or answer questions: Six congressmen are on the panel looking into the issue. | a panel of experts An independent review panel was set up to investigate the complaints. 2 a flat sheet of wood, glass, etc. that fits into a frame to form part of a door, wall, or ceiling: an oak door with three panels 3 instrument/control panel the place in an airplane, boat, etc. where the instruments or controls are

panel² v. [T] to cover or decorate something such as a wall with flat pieces of wood, glass, etc.: an oak-paneled room pan-el-ing /pænˈelɪŋ/ n. [U] wood in long pieces that is used for covering walls, etc.: pine paneling pan-el-ist /pænˈelɪst/ n. [C] a member of a panel, especially on a radio or television program

pang /pæŋ/ n. [C] a sudden strong and unpleasant feeling: strong hunger pangs | a pang of regret pan-hand-le1 /pæn,handli/ v. [I] to ask people for money in the streets (Syn beg —panhandler n. [C] pan-handle² n. [C] a thin piece of land that is joined to a larger area: the Texas panhandle pan-ic /pænık/ n. [C,U] 1 a sudden feeling of fear or anxiety that makes you do things without thinking carefully about them: People fled the area in panic. 2 The announcement caused widespread panic. [Orig.: 1600—1700 French panique “caused by panic,” from Greek panikos, from Pan ancient Greek god of nature, who caused great fear]

panic² v. (past tense and past participle panicked) present participle panicking [T] to suddenly feel so frightened that you do things without thinking clearly, or to make someone feel this way: Johnson panicked and ran. | Don’t panic (=stay calm) —we’re getting you out of there right now.

panic-stricken adj. so frightened that you cannot think clearly: Panic-stricken parents swarmed around the school.

pan-o-ra-ma /pænəˈræmə/ n. [C] an impressive view over a wide area of land: a panoramic view of the valley pan-sy /pænsɪ/ n. (plural pansies) [C] a small flat brightly colored garden flower pant /pænt/ n. [I] to breathe quickly with short noisy breaths, especially after exercising or because it is hot: Eddie was panting with the effort of the climb.

pantan-ic adj. [only before noun] relating to, or part of, a pair of pants: We rolled up our pant legs and waded in the creek.

pan-the-ism /pænˈθiːzəm/ n. [U] the religious idea that God is present in all natural things in the universe pan-ther /pænθər/ n. [C] a large wild black cat that is good at hunting pant-ies /pæntɪz/ n. (plural panties) [C] a piece of women’s underwear that covers the area between the waist and the top of the legs see picture at CLOTHES pan-to-mime /pæntəˈmaɪm/ n. [C,U] a method of performing using only actions and not words, or a play performed using this method pan-try /pæntri/ n. (plural pantries) [C] a small room near a kitchen, where food, dishes, etc. are kept pants /pænts/ n. (plural) a piece of clothing that covers you from your waist to your feet and has a separate part for each leg: a black pair of pants | He put it in his pants pocket. [Orig.: 1800—1900 pantaloons] see picture at CLOTHES

pant-suit /pæntʃʊt/ n. [C] a women’s suit consisting of a JACKET and matching pants pan-ty-hose /pæntɪˈhoʊz/ n. (plural pantyhose) [C] a very thin piece of women’s clothing that covers the legs from the feet to the waist, usually worn with dresses or skirts pan-ty-lin-er /pæntɪˈlɪnə/ n. [C] a piece of women’s clothing that covers the legs from the feet to the waist, usually worn with dresses or skirts paparazzi /pəˈpaːrətsi/ n. (plural) people who take photographs of famous people by following papaya /'pæpəræ/ n [C] a sweet juicy tropical fruit with many small seeds inside it paperweight /pærə'weit/ n 1 [U] material in the form of thin sheets, used for writing or drawing, wrapping things, etc.: Her letter was written on blue paper.

2 [C] a piece of wax/tissue/wrapping etc. paper
3 [C] a newspaper: Have you seen today's paper?

paperback /'pæpər'bæk/ n [C] a book with a stiff paper cover: Her novel's available in paperback.

paper boy n [C] a boy who delivers newspapers to people's houses paper clip n [C] a small piece of curved wire used for holding sheets of paper together paper girl n [C] a girl who delivers newspapers to people's houses paperweight /'pæpərweɪt/ n [C] a small heavy object that you put on top of papers so that they stay on a desk paperwork /'pæpərwɜːk/ n [U] 1 work such as writing letters or reports, which must be done but is not very interesting: Social workers have far too much paperwork to do.

2 the documents that you need for a business deal, a trip, etc.: I went to the insurance office to fill out the paperwork.

papier-mâché /'pæpərmæʃ/ n [U] a soft substance made from a mixture of paper, water, and glue, which becomes hard when it dries

Pap smear /'pæp smɔːr/ n [C] a medical test that takes cells from a woman's cervix and examines them for signs of cancer par /'pær/ n 1 be on a par (with sth) to be of the same standard as something else: Their military forces are on a par with ours.

2 not be up to par also be below par to be less good or well than usual: Several students are not performing up to par.
3 be par for the course to be what you would normally expect to happen: "Lisa was late again." "That's par for the course."
4 [U] the number of strokes a good player should take to hit the ball into a hole in golf parable /'pærə'bæl/ n [C] a short simple story that teaches a moral or religious lesson parachute /'pærəkjuːt/ n [C] a curved shape that looks like the curve a ball makes when it is thrown high in the air and comes down a short distance away. It is formed by a plane (=flat surface) crossing through the side of a cone, so that the distances from the curve to fixed points inside and outside the curve are always the same.

parabola /'pærəˈboʊlə/ n [C] a piece of writing or a speech by someone who has studied a particular subject: Einstein's first paper on relativity wallpaper /'wɔːlpər/ n [C] wallpaper [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French papier, from Latin papyrus] paper clip v [T] to decorate the walls of a room by covering them with wallpaper paperback v [T] to publish a book as a paperback

paper boy n [C] a boy who delivers newspapers to people's houses

paper clip n [C] a small piece of curved wire used for holding sheets of paper together

paper girl n [C] a girl who delivers newspapers to people's houses paperweight v [T] to make something that is attached to the back of someone who jumps out of an airplane, which makes him/her fall slowly and safely to the ground parachute v 1 [I] to jump from an airplane using a parachute: A group of soldiers parachuted into the field during the night.

2 [I] to drop something from an airplane with a parachute: Supplies were parachuted into the area.

parade /'pærəd/ n [C] 1 a public celebration when musical bands, decorated vehicles, etc. move down the street: The Rose Parade is always held on New Year's Day.
2 a military ceremony in which soldiers stand or march together so that they can be examined: calets on parade parade v 1 [I] to march together to celebrate or protest something: Peace demonstrators paraded through/along/ in the streets.

2 [I] (disapproving) to walk around an area in order to attract attention: A couple of teenage girls were parading around the pool in their bikinis.
3 [I] to show someone to the public, especially in order to prove that you have control or power over him/her. The prisoners were paraded in front of the TV cameras. | to show a particular quality or possession in order to make something notice you: Young athletes will get a chance to parade their skills.

par-a-digm /ˈpərəˌdaɪm/ [AE] n. [C] (formal) a model or typical example of something that explains an idea or process very clearly: The Holocaust of World War II is a paragon of evil. | Pius XII remained the paradigm of what a pope should be. [Origin: 1400—1500 Late Latin paradigma, from Greek paradeigma, from paradeiknymai “to show side by side”] —paradigmatic adj.

par-a-die /ˈpərəˌdaɪ/ n. [U] a place or situation that is extremely pleasant, beautiful, or enjoyable: an island paradise | a place that has everything you need to do a particular activity: This mall is a shopper’s paradise.

par-a-doct /ˈpərəˌdɑks/ n. [C] a statement or situation that seems strange or impossible because it contains two ideas or qualities that are very different but are both true: It’s a paradox that such a very rich country has so many extremely poor people. —paradoxical adj. —paradoxically adv.

par-a-fin /ˈpərəˌfɪn/ n. [U] a soft white substance used for making candles.

par-a-gon /ˈpərəˌɡɒn/ n. [C] someone who is a perfect example of something; Alice was a paragon of worthy virtue.

par-a-graph /ˈpərəˌɡrɑf/ [AC] n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a group of several sentences that start on a new line and deal with one idea in a piece of writing. | I’ve only read the first paragraph of the article. | Your closing paragraph should sum up your argument. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French, Medieval Latin, from Greek, from paraphrasis “to write beside”] par-a-keet /ˈpərəˌkiːt/ n. [C] a small brightly colored bird with a long tail, that is often kept as a pet. [Origin: 1500—1600 Spanish periquito, from Old French perroquet]

par-a-le-al /ˈpərəˌliəl/ n. [C] a relationship or similarity between two things, especially things that happen or exist in different places or at different times: The article draws a parallel between the political situation now and the situation in the 1930s (it shows how they are similar). | The administration would like us to see parallels with World War II in today’s conflict. | The close parallels between the two stories suggest that they come from the same source.

par-a-leaf /ˈpərəˌliːf/ n. [C] 1 a relationship or similarity between two things, especially things that happen or exist in different places or at different times: The article draws a parallel between the political situation now and the situation in the 1930s (it shows how they are similar). | The administration would like us to see parallels with World War II in today’s conflict. | The close parallels between the two stories suggest that they come from the same source. 2 an imaginary line drawn on a map of the Earth that is parallel to the equator. The 42nd parallel is the northern border of Pennsylvania. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin parallelus, from Greek parallelēs, from para “beside” + allelon “of one another”]

par-allel /ˈpərəˌlel/ adj. 1 two lines that are parallel to each other are the same distance apart along their whole length: a street parallel to the railroad | Draw parallel lines from the top to the bottom of the page. → see picture at line. 2 similar and happening at the same time; two parallel murder investigations | The novel has two parallel story lines.

par-allel v. [T] (formal) to be very similar to something else: The movie’s plot closely parallels a play by Shakespeare. | The increase in the bird’s population has been paralleled elsewhere.

par-allel circuit /ˈpərəˌlelˌsɜːrɪt/ n. [C] PHYSICS an electrical circuit (=complete circle that an electric current travels in) in which electricity travels to each light or switch by a straight line, without going through other lights, etc. → SERIES CIRCUIT par-al-lel-ism /ˈpərəˌlelɪzəm/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the use of sentences or phrases that have similar Grammatical structures in writing or poetry.

par-al-lel-gram /ˈpərəˌlelˌɡræm/ n. [C] MATH a flat shape with four straight sides, in which each side is the same length as the side parallel to it → see picture at polygon par-al-lel-ist /ˈpərəˌlelɪst/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a way of connecting different ideas in a piece of writing or a speech by expressing them in the same Grammatical structure.

par-al-y-sis /ˌpərəˈleɪsɪs/ n. [U] 1 the loss of the ability to move or feel part of your body: Such injuries can cause permanent paralysis. 2 a lack of ability to operate correctly or to do anything: Congress’s lack of cooperation with the White House has caused political paralysis.

par-a-lyze /ˈpərəˌlaɪz/ v. [T] 1 to make someone lose the ability to move part of his/her body, or to feel anything in it: 2 to make something or someone unable to operate normally: Heavy snow has paralyzed several cities in the eastern states. | He was paralyzed by fear. —paralyzed adj.: The stroke left him paralyzed and unable to feed himself.

par-a-med-ic /ˈpərəˌmedɪk/ n. [C] someone who usually works in an ambulance, and is trained to help sick or injured people but is not a doctor or nurse.

par-a-met-er /ˌpərəˈmeɪtər/ [AE] n. [C] usually plural a limit that controls the way that something should be done: Congress will decide on parameters for the investigation. | Business parameters are set by the market and the customers’ demands. [Origin: 1600—1700 Modern Latin par-a—“beside” + Greek metron “measure”] par-a-mil-li-tary /ˌpərəˌmɪləˈterɪ/ adj. organized like an army, but not part of the legal military forces of a country: extremist paramilitary groups —paramilitary n. [C] par-a-mount /ˈpærəˌmɔnt/ adj more important than anything else: The needs of the customer should be paramount.

par-a-noid /ˈpærəˈnɔɪd/ adj 1 believing unreasonably that you cannot trust other people, or that they are trying to harm you: All the stress about job losses is making me a little paranoid. 2 suffering from a mental illness that makes you believe that other people are trying to harm you —paranoia /ˈpærəˈnɔɪrə/ n. [U] par-a-pher-na-lia /ˈpærəˌfɛrˌnəliə, ˌfərˈnɛliə/ n. [U] a lot of small things that belong to someone or that are used for a particular activity; photographic paraphernalia [Origin: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin, Greek parapherna “things brought to a marriage by a woman apart from the agreed amount of money”] par-a-phrase /ˈpærəˌfrefrɛs/ v. [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to express what someone has written or said in a way that is shorter or easier to understand: Write a paragraph that paraphrases the story. —paraphrase n. [C] par-a-plegic /ˈpærəˈplɛdʒɪk/ n. [C] someone who is unable to move the lower part of his/her body par-a-site /ˈpærəˌsæt/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a plant or animal that lives on or in another plant or animal and gets food from it. 2 (disapproving) a lazy person who does not work but depends on other people —parasitic /ˈpærəˈsɪtɪk/ adj par-a-sol /ˈpærəˌsɔl/ n. [C] a type of umbrella used for protection from the Sun par-a-sport /ˈpærəˌspɔrt/ n. [C] a soldier who is trained to jump out of an airplane using a parachute par-cell /ˈpærəˌsɛl/ n. [C] 1 a package 2 an area of land that is part of a larger area that has been divided: a 50-acre parcel in the foothills parcel v

parcel sth ↔ out phr. v to divide or share something among several people or groups: The foundation receives the money, then parcelles it out to various projects.

parcel post n. [U] the slowest and cheapest way of sending packages by mail in the U.S.

parced /part/ adj 1 (literary) extremely dry: parced fields 2 be parced (informal) to be very thirsty: I'm parced!

pardon /ˈpɑrdən/ v. [T] 1 pardon me (spoken) a used in order to politely say sorry after you have made an impolite sound such as a burp or a yawn  b used in order to politely say sorry when you have accidently pushed someone, interrupted him/her, etc.: Oh, pardon me, I didn't realize you were on the phone.  c also Pardon? used in order to politely ask someone to repeat what s/he has just said because you did not hear it correctly  d used in order to politely get someone’s attention in order to ask a question: Pardon me, do you know what time it is? e used before you politely correct someone or disagree with him/her: Pardon me, but I don't think that's true. 2 to officially allow someone to be free without being punished, although a court has decided s/he is guilty of a crime: Before he could serve his full term, he was pardoned by the governor. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French pardonner, from Late Latin perdonaure “to give freely”] pardoned /ˈpɑrdənd/ adj 1 an official order allowing someone to be free without being punished, although a court has decided s/he is guilty of a crime: The governor was persuaded to grantgive Davis a pardon. 2 beg your pardon at Beg par-don-able /ˈpɑrdənəbl/ adj (formal) possible to forgive or excuse: a pardonable error pare /pər/ v. [T] to cut off the thin outer part of a fruit or vegetable: Pare the apples and slice them into chunks.

pare sth ↔ down phr. v to gradually reduce an amount or number: Production costs have to be pared down.

parent /ˈpɛrənt/ n. [C] the father or mother of a person or animal: My parents are coming to visit next week.  Many single parents (=who do not live with their child’s other parent) cannot afford childcare. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French, Latin, present participle of parere “to give birth to”] —parental /ˈpɛrəntəl/ adj: parental rights par-ent-age /ˈpɛrəntɪdʒ/ n. [C] someone’s parents and the country they are from: children of French-Canadian parentage par-en-the-sis /ˈpɑrənθiˌsɪs/ n. (plural parentheses /pərəˈθiˌsiːz/ [C] usually plural] ENG. LANG. ARTS one of the marks ( ), used in writing to separate additional information from the main information: The numbers in parentheses refer to page numbers. [Origin: 1500—1600 Late Latin, Greek, from parentithenai “to put in”] par-ent-hood /ˈpɛrəntˌhʊd/, -l n. [U] the state of being a parent: They felt that they were not yet ready for parenthood.

par-ri-al /ˈpɑrərɪəl/ adj 1 a person, organization, country, etc. that is hated and avoided by others: The regime was treated as an international pariah and subjected to international sanctions.

parish /ˈpɑrɪʃ/ n. 1 [C] the area that a priest in some Christian churches is responsible for 2 the parish the members of a particular church —parishioner /ˈpɑrɪʃənər/ n. [C] par-ty /ˈpɑrti/ n. [U] the state of being equal, especially having equal pay, rights, or power: Our employees are demanding parity with other workers in the industry.

park 1 /park/ n [C] 1 a large open area with grass and trees in a town, where people can walk, play games, etc.: We went for a walk in the park. | a park bench | Central Park 2 a large area of land in the country, that has been kept in its natural state to protect the plants and animals there: a state/national park 3 a field where baseball is played: Fenway Park | [origin: 1200—1300 Old French parc, from Medieval Latin parricus] ➔ amusement park; ball park; theme park; trailer park

park 2 v. [I,T] to put a car or other vehicle in a particular place for a period of time: Is it okay if I park here? | Park yourself in the back lot ➔ drive

parking n. 1 the act of parking a car: The sign said “No Parking.” | The spaces in which you can leave a car: Parking is available on Lenox Street. | We found a parking space/place near the door.

parking garage n. [C] a building with several floors where cars can be parked: an underground parking garage

parking lot n [C] an open area where cars can be parked

parking meter n [C] a machine that you put money into when you park your car next to it

park-way n [C] a wide road, usually with grass and trees in the middle or along the sides

parlay v [HOL] [parlied, parleys] 1 to join together to make something: One of the pieces or features of the jigsaw puzzle was missing. ➔ parleys, parlayed

parlayed v. (parlayed, parleys) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parody v (parodied, parodies) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parole n [U] LAW permission for someone to leave prison before the end of his/her sentence. People who are on parole must behave well and report regularly to the police or other authority. If they do not, they are sent back to prison: He was released on parole after serving five years. | She is appearing before the parole board (the official group that can give a prisoner parole) next week. | [origin: 1400—1500 French “speech, word, word of honor,” from Late Latin parabolā] ➔ parole

parquet n [C] a beauty salon/parlorformance or a piece of writing or music that copies a particular well-known style in a funny way: a parody of a romance novel

parochial adj 1 relating to a particular church: a parochial school (=a private school that is run by a particular church) | (disapproving) only interested in the things that affect you and your local area: Brian has a very parochial world view.

patience n. [U] the ability to wait for something to happen: She has a lot of patience.

part 1 /part/ n 1 OF A WHOLE [C,U] one of the pieces or features of something, such as an object, place, event, or period of time: Which part of town do you live in? | The best/worst part of the movie was the ending. | Getting Dad to agree will be the hard/easy part. | A large/good part of the country, that has been kept in its natural state to protect the plants and animals there: a state/national park 2 (old-fashioned) a room in a house, that has comfortable chairs and is used for meeting guests

parme-san /pərma'zen/ also Parmesan cheese n [U] a hard strong-tasting Italian cheese | [origin: 1500—1600 French “of Parmi,” city in Italy where the cheese was first made]

parking lot n [C] a place where cars can be parked: parking garage

parking garage n [C] a building with several floors where cars can be parked: an underground parking garage

parking lot n [C] an open area where cars can be parked

parking meter n [C] a machine that you put money into when you park your car next to it

park-way n [C] a wide road, usually with grass and trees in the middle or along the sides

parlay v [HOL] [parlied, parleys] 1 to join together to make something: One of the pieces or features of the jigsaw puzzle was missing. ➔ parleys, parlayed

parlayed v. (parlayed, parleys) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parody v (parodied, parodies) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parole n [U] LAW permission for someone to leave prison before the end of his/her sentence. People who are on parole must behave well and report regularly to the police or other authority. If they do not, they are sent back to prison: He was released on parole after serving five years. | She is appearing before the parole board (the official group that can give a prisoner parole) next week. | [origin: 1400—1500 French “speech, word, word of honor,” from Late Latin parabolā] ➔ parole

parquet n [C] a beauty salon/parlorformance or a piece of writing or music that copies a particular well-known style in a funny way: a parody of a romance novel

parochial adj 1 relating to a particular church: a parochial school (=a private school that is run by a particular church) | (disapproving) only interested in the things that affect you and your local area: Brian has a very parochial world view.

patience n. [U] the ability to wait for something to happen: She has a lot of patience.

part 1 /part/ n 1 OF A WHOLE [C,U] one of the pieces or features of something, such as an object, place, event, or period of time: Which part of town do you live in? | The best/worst part of the movie was the ending. | Getting Dad to agree will be the hard/easy part. | A large/good part of the country, that has been kept in its natural state to protect the plants and animals there: a state/national park 2 (old-fashioned) a room in a house, that has comfortable chairs and is used for meeting guests

parme-san /pərma'zen/ also Parmesan cheese n [U] a hard strong-tasting Italian cheese | [origin: 1500—1600 French “of Parmi,” city in Italy where the cheese was first made]

parking lot n [C] a place where cars can be parked: parking garage

parking garage n [C] a building with several floors where cars can be parked: an underground parking garage

parking lot n [C] an open area where cars can be parked

parking meter n [C] a machine that you put money into when you park your car next to it

park-way n [C] a wide road, usually with grass and trees in the middle or along the sides

parlay v [HOL] [parlied, parleys] 1 to join together to make something: One of the pieces or features of the jigsaw puzzle was missing. ➔ parleys, parlayed

parlayed v. (parlayed, parleys) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parody v (parodied, parodies) [T] to copy someone’s style or attitude in a funny way

parole n [U] LAW permission for someone to leave prison before the end of his/her sentence. People who are on parole must behave well and report regularly to the police or other authority. If they do not, they are sent back to prison: He was released on parole after serving five years. | She is appearing before the parole board (the official group that can give a prisoner parole) next week. | [origin: 1400—1500 French “speech, word, word of honor,” from Late Latin parabolā] ➔ parole

parquet n [C] a beauty salon/parlorformance or a piece of writing or music that copies a particular well-known style in a funny way: a parody of a romance novel

parochial adj 1 relating to a particular church: a parochial school (=a private school that is run by a particular church) | (disapproving) only interested in the things that affect you and your local area: Brian has a very parochial world view.

patience n. [U] the ability to wait for something to happen: She has a lot of patience.
part – a part of something that is different from or divided from the whole: Teenagers form a distinct segment of the market for this product.

portion – a part of something larger: The newspaper printed only a small portion of the interview.

chapter – one of the parts that a book is divided into: I’ve read the first two chapters.

scene – one of the parts that a play or movie is divided into: the opening scene | a love scene department – one part of a large organization, which is responsible for a particular kind of work: the marketing department stage, step, phase, point, round ➔ STAGE

1 SEPARATE PIECE [C usually plural] one of the separate pieces that a machine or piece of equipment is made of: Do you sell parts for Ford cars? 2 play/have a part (in sth) to be one of several things that make something happen or be successful: The college’s excellent reputation played a big/important/major part in her decision to go there. 3 take part to be involved in an activity, event, etc. together with other people: SYNO. participate: Ten runners took part in the race. 4 WHAT SB DID [C,U] what someone did in an activity, especially one that was shared by several people: We’d like to thank Walter for his part in organizing the concert. | It was a huge mistake on her part (=that she made). 5 IN A PLAY/MOVIE [C] the words and actions of a particular character in a play, movie, etc., performed by an actor: Kessler played/had the part of Hamlet. 6 QUANTITY [C] used to say how much of each particular substance there is or should be in a mixture containing two or more substances: Mix two parts sand to one part cement. 7 HAIR [C] the line on your head made by dividing your hair with a comb 8 for the most part also in large part mostly, in most places, or most of the time: She is, for the most part, a fair person. 9 in part (formal) but not completely: The accident was due in part to the bad weather.

part

part 1. [I,f] to pull the two sides of something apart, or to move apart in this way, making a space in the middle: He parted the curtains and looked out into the street. 2 [I] (formal) to separate from someone, or end a relationship with him/her: Sharon and I parted on friendly terms. 3 [I] if you part your hair, you comb some of your hair in one direction and the rest in the other direction 4 part company a) to separate from someone, or end a relationship with someone: Dick parted company with Rogers after a property deal that lost money. b) to no longer agree with someone 5 part with sth phr v. to get rid of something although you do not want to: She couldn’t bear to part with the dress.

part 3. adv. part sth, part sth if something is part one thing, another part, it consists of both those things: The English test is part written, part spoken.

parti	ial /ˈpɑːtʃəl/ adj. 1 not complete: The airline released a partial list of the flight’s passengers. 2 be partial to sth (formal) to like something very much: The Beatles are partial to country music. 3 unfairly supporting one person or one side against another: unimpartial parti	-ali	ty /ˌpɑːrʃəˈlæti/ n. [U] unfair support of one person or group more than another parti	-ly /ˈpɑːtʃəli/ adv. not completely: He’s only partially to blame.

parti	-ci-pate /ˈpɑːtʃəˌpeɪt/ v. [I,l] to take part in an activity or event: If you’d like to participate, send us your name and address. | Thanks to everyone who participated in the festival. | It is only in a democracy that all citizens participate equally. | [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of participare, from participis “taking part”]

parti	-ci-pa
tion /ˈpɑːtʃəˌpeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] the act of taking part in something: The suspect was charged with participation in an illegal organization.

parti	-ci-pa-to ry /ˈpɑːtʃəˈpeɪtəri/ adj. [usually before noun] (formal) a participatory way of organizing something, making decisions, etc. in one that involves everyone who will be affected: Participatory management involves workers as well as managers.

parti	-ci-pa
ble /ˈpɑːtʃəˈspəbl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS using a participle, or having the form of a participle: a participial phrase | participial structures parti	-ci-ple /ˈpɑːtʃəˈspaɪl/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the form of a verb, usually ending in “-ing” or “-ed,” that is used in compounds to make verb tenses, or as an adjective or GERUND ➔ PAST PARTICIPLE, PRESENT PARTICIPLE

parti
ti-cl	le /ˈpɑːtʃəkəl/ n. [C] 1 a very small piece of something: dust particles 2 PHYSICS one of the very small pieces of matter that an atom consists of: particles such as protons and electrons 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS an adverb or PREPOSITION that combines with a verb to form a PHRASAL VERB

parti
ti-
tu-la
r /ˈpɑːtʃəˌtyʊlər/ adj. 1 [only before noun] a particular thing or person is the one that you are talking about, and not any other: There’s one particular song I’ve been trying to find. | Consumers can easily find out how much caffeine a particular product contains. 2 [only before noun] special or important enough to mention separately: Police say there was no particular reason why the victim was attacked. | There was nothing in the letter of particular importance. 3 very careful about choosing exactly what you like, and not particular adj. in particular special or specific: Is there anything/something in particular I can help you with?

particul arly /pa*tikju*larli/ adv. especially: We are hoping to expand our business, particularly in China. 2 not particularly a) not very: She’s not particularly pretty. b) (spoken) not very much, or not really: “Do you like cats?” “No, not particularly.”

party n. (plural parties) 1 an occasion when people meet together to enjoy themselves by eating, drinking, dancing, etc.: We’ve having/giving/throwing a party on Saturday. 2 an organization of people with the same political aims, that you can vote for in elections: the Democratic Party. 3 a group of people that has been organized in order to do something: A search party parties v. [T] to divide a country, room, or building into two or more parts

partly adv. to some degree, but not completely: The accident was partly my fault. | The company’s success is partly due to a strong economy. | The forecast is for partly cloudy skies.

partner n. 1 someone with whom you do a particular activity, for example, dancing, or playing a game against two other people: my tennis partner. 2 one of the owners of a business: She’s a partner in a law firm. 3 one of two people who are married, or who live together and have a sexual relationship: Discuss your worries with your partner. | In some cultures, parents choose the marriage partner for their daughter.

parties v. [T] to divide a country, room, or building into two or more parts

particularly adv. in particular special or specific: Is there anything/something in particular I can help you with?

partnership n. 1 [U] the state of being a partner, especially in business: We’ve been in partnership with them for five years. | One big advantage of partnership is the ability to share decision-making and risk-taking. 2 [C] a relationship in which two or more people, organizations, etc. work together to achieve something: a partnership between the college and the local business community. | Leaders of the two countries worked in close partnership throughout the 20th century. 3 [C] economics a business owned by two or more partners: There is always some compromise involved in operating any business partnership.

partisan adj. partisan showing support for a particular political party, plan, or leader: a well-known partisan of the democratic movement in China. 2 history a member of an armed group that fights against an enemy that has taken control of its country: Italian partisans fought against the Nazis during World War II.

partridge n. an af at brown bird with a short tail, that some people shoot as a sport or for food.

partition v. [T] to divide a country, room, or building into two or more parts

partly adv. to some degree, but not completely: The accident was partly my fault. | The company’s success is partly due to a strong economy. | The forecast is for partly cloudy skies.
was formed to find the missing girl. | Foster, party of six, your table is ready. 4 (formal) one of the people or groups involved in an argument, agreement, etc., especially a legal one: The two parties will meet to discuss a settlement. 5 party animal (informal) someone who enjoys parties a lot [Out of 1200—1300 Old French partie “part, party,” from partir “to divide”]

pass1 /pæs/ v. 1 GO PAST [I,T] also pass by to move to a particular point, object, person, etc. and go past him, her, or it: Angie waved at me as she passed. | A car passed us doing at least 90 miles an hour. | Angie waved at me as she passed. | We were out partying until 4 a.m. | Carla made some comment about my passed on to her. | The road passes through some pretty little towns. | She was just passing through (=traveling through a place) on her way to Miami.

Usage
Passed is the past tense and past participle of the verb pass: We've just passed the time house. Past is an adjective or noun that is used to talk about a period of time before now: The past year has been very difficult. Things that happened in the past. Past is also an adverb and a preposition used in order to describe something’s movement or position in relation to other things: She drove past us on her way to work. | The hotel is just past the church.

2 MOVE IN A DIRECTION [I] to move from one place to another, following a particular direction: We passed through Texas on our way to Mexico. | A plane passed over the fields.

3 GO THROUGH/Across ETC. [I,T] to go across, through, around, etc. something else, or to make something do this: The road passes through some pretty little towns. | She was just passing through (=traveling through a place) on her way to Miami. | Pass the rope around the tree.

4 GIVE [T] to take something and put it in some-one's hand: Pass me a napkin? | Pass the salt.

5 SPORTS [I,T] to kick, throw, or hit a ball or another object to another member of your team: My dad taught me how to pass a football.

6 TIME a) [I] if time passes, it goes by: A year passed before I learned the truth. b) [I] to spend time in a particular way: I cleaned my apartment to pass the time.

7 TEST/CLASS a) [I,T] to succeed in a test or class (try fail): You'll never pass if you don't start studying. b) [T] to officially decide that someone has passed a test (try fail): Do you think Mrs. Cox will pass us?

8 LAW/DECISION [T] to officially accept a law or proposal, especially by voting: The motion was passed, 15 votes to 3.

pass2 v. (partied, parties) [I] (informal) to enjoy yourself, especially by drinking alcohol, eating, dancing, etc.: We were out partying until 4 a.m.

Usage
Passed is the past tense and past participle of the verb pass: We've just passed the time house. Past is an adjective or noun that is used to talk about a period of time before now: The past year has been very difficult. Things that happened in the past. Past is also an adverb and a preposition used in order to describe something’s movement or position in relation to other things: She drove past us on her way to work. | The hotel is just past the church.

2 MOVE IN A DIRECTION [I] to move from one place to another, following a particular direction: We passed through Texas on our way to Mexico. | A plane passed over the fields.

3 GO THROUGH/Across ETC. [I,T] to go across, through, around, etc. something else, or to make something do this: The road passes through some pretty little towns. | She was just passing through (=traveling through a place) on her way to Miami. | Pass the rope around the tree.

4 GIVE [T] to take something and put it in some-one's hand: Pass me a napkin? | Pass the salt.

5 SPORTS [I,T] to kick, throw, or hit a ball or another object to another member of your team: My dad taught me how to pass a football.

Usage
Passed is the past tense and past participle of the verb pass: We've just passed the time house. Past is an adjective or noun that is used to talk about a period of time before now: The past year has been very difficult. Things that happened in the past. Past is also an adverb and a preposition used in order to describe something’s movement or position in relation to other things: She drove past us on her way to work. | The hotel is just past the church.

2 MOVE IN A DIRECTION [I] to move from one place to another, following a particular direction: We passed through Texas on our way to Mexico. | A plane passed over the fields.

3 GO THROUGH/Across ETC. [I,T] to go across, through, around, etc. something else, or to make something do this: The road passes through some pretty little towns. | She was just passing through (=traveling through a place) on her way to Miami. | Pass the rope around the tree.

4 GIVE [T] to take something and put it in some-one's hand: Pass me a napkin? | Pass the salt.

5 SPORTS [I,T] to kick, throw, or hit a ball or another object to another member of your team: My dad taught me how to pass a football.

Usage
Passed is the past tense and past participle of the verb pass: We've just passed the time house. Past is an adjective or noun that is used to talk about a period of time before now: The past year has been very difficult. Things that happened in the past. Past is also an adverb and a preposition used in order to describe something’s movement or position in relation to other things: She drove past us on her way to work. | The hotel is just past the church.

2 MOVE IN A DIRECTION [I] to move from one place to another, following a particular direction: We passed through Texas on our way to Mexico. | A plane passed over the fields.

3 GO THROUGH/Across ETC. [I,T] to go across, through, around, etc. something else, or to make something do this: The road passes through some pretty little towns. | She was just passing through (=traveling through a place) on her way to Miami. | Pass the rope around the tree.

4 GIVE [T] to take something and put it in some-one's hand: Pass me a napkin? | Pass the salt.

5 SPORTS [I,T] to kick, throw, or hit a ball or another object to another member of your team: My dad taught me how to pass a football.
2 to give something to someone else: Take one and pass the rest on to the next person.

pass out \(ˈpa\lt\) \(ə\) \(ˈot\) \(ə\) n 1 to become unconscious 2 pass sth \(ˈpə\lt\) \(ə\) \(ˈst\) \(h\) \(ə\) out to give something to each one of a group of people: Please pass out the dictionaries to the class.

THESAURUS
give out, hand out, share, distribute ➔ give pass sb \(ˈpə\lt\) \(ə\) \(ˈs\) \(b\) over \(ə\) \(ˈov\) \(ə\) v n, if you pass over someone for a job, you give the job to someone else who is younger or lower in the organization than s/he is pass sth \(ˈpə\lt\) \(ə\) \(ˈst\) \(h\) \(ə\) up \(ə\) \(ˈup\) v pass up a chance/opportunity/to offer etc. to not use a chance to do something: I couldn’t pass up an opportunity to meet the president.

pass 1 \(n\) [C] 1 the act of kicking, throwing, or hitting a ball or other object to another member of your team during a game: a 30-yard pass 2 an official document that proves you are allowed to enter a building or travel on something without paying: a bus pass / a museum pass 3 a road or path that goes between mountains to the other side: a narrow mountain pass 4 make a pass at sb (informal) to try to kiss or touch another person with the intention of having sex with him/her

THESAURUS
satisfactory, good enough, acceptable, all right/okay, reasonable, respectable, adequate ➔ satisfactory passable /ˈpæsəbəl/ \( adj\) 1 (formal) good enough to be acceptable, but not very good: All speaks passable Spanish.

passage /ˈpæsij/ \( n\) [C] also passage-way /ˈpæsij,weɪ/ a narrow area with walls on each side that connects one room or place to another: a dark passage at the back of the building 2 [C] a short part of a book, poem, speech, piece of music, etc.: a passage from the Bible 3 [U] the process of having a new law accepted by Congress or a similar organization: Supporters say that passage of the bill will reduce crime. 4 [U] (formal) the action of going across, over, or along something: The bridge isn’t strong enough to allow the passage of heavy vehicles. 5 [C] a tube in your body that air or liquid can pass through: nasal passages 6 the passage of time the passing of time: Her condition improved with the passage of time.

pass-book /ˈpæsbʊk/ n [C] a book for keeping a record of the money you put into and take out of your bank account passé /ˈpæsə/ \( adj\) no longer modern or fashionable: a writing style that has become passé passenger /ˈpæsəndʒər/ \( n\) [C] someone who is traveling in a car, airplane, boat, etc., but is not driving it: There were only a few other passengers.

Police found a gun under the car’s passenger seat (= the seat next to the driver).

pass-er-by /ˈpæsərˌbaɪ/ \( n\) (plural passersby) \[C\] someone who is walking past a place by chance: Several passersby saw the accident.

pass-ing /ˈpæspɪŋ/ \( adj\) 1 going past: A passing motorist gave her a ride. 2 continuing or lasting for only a short time: He gave the report only a passing glance. (It’s just a passing fad.

passing 1 \( n\) in passing if you say something in passing, you mention it while you are mainly talking about something else: The actress mentioned in passing that she had once worked in a factory. 2 [U] (formal) someone’s death – used in order to avoid saying this directly pass-sion /ˈpæʃən/ \( n\) 1 [C,U] a very strongly felt emotion, especially of love, hatred, or anger: He spoke with passion about the situation in his country. [her passion for two men] 2 [C] a strong liking for something: a passion for golf pass-ion-ate /ˈpæʃənət/ \( adj\) showing passion, or full of passion: a passionate kiss / a passionate speech ➔ passionately \( adv\)

THESAURUS
enthusiastic, eager, ardent, zealous ➔ ENTHUSIASTIC passive1 /ˈpæsɪv/ \( adj\) 1 tending to accept situations or things that other people do, without attempting to change or fight against them: “I’m a very passive person,” she admitted. 2 not actively involved in something that is happening: Children tend to learn more in an active situation, rather than a passive one. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin passivus, from pati “to suffer”] ➔ passively \( adv\) ➔ passivity /ˈpæsɪvəti/ \( n\) [U] passive2 \( n\) the passive (voice) \[Eng. Lang. Arts\] in grammar, in the passive voice, the action of the verb has an effect on the subject of the sentence. It is shown in English by the verb “be” followed by a past participle. In the sentence “Oranges are grown in California,” the verb is in the passive voice. ➔ ACTIVE: Change the verbs in the following sentences into the passive.

passive ‘smoking \( n\) [U] the act of breathing in smoke from someone else’s cigarette, pipe, etc., although you do not want to pass-o-ver /ˈpæsəˌvər/ \( n\) an important Jewish holiday in the spring, when people remember the escape of the Jews from Egypt [origin: 1500—1600 Translation of Hebrew pesah “to pass without aching;” because, according to the Bible, God did not kill Jewish children when he killed children of other races] pass-port /ˈpæspɔrt/ \( n\) [C] a small official document given by a government to a citizen, which proves who that person is and allows them to leave the country and enter other countries

COLLOCATIONS
A passport holder is the person who a passport belongs to.
password
If you travel to a foreign country, you must show your passport at immigration (the place in an airport, at a border, etc. where officials check your documents) when you enter the country and may have/get your passport stamped. A valid passport is officially acceptable. A passport that has expired is too old to be acceptable.

password /ˈpaʊərˌwɜrd/ n. [C] 1 a secret group of letters or numbers that you must type into a computer before you can use a system or program: Enter your username and password. I’ve forgotten my password. 2 a secret word or phrase that you must use before being allowed to enter a place that is guarded.
paste /ˈpaʊst/ adj. 1 [only before noun] having happened, existed, or been experienced before now: He knew from past experience not to argue. 2 [only before noun] a little earlier than the present or up until now: Tom’s been out of town for the past week. 3 [only before noun] having come to an end: The time for discussion is past. 4 [only before noun] achieving something in the past, or holding an important position in the past: He’s a past president of the club.
past tense /ˈpaʊst/ n. 1 the past the time that existed before now, and the things that happened during that time: People travel more now than they did in the past. 2 the past tense in grammar, the tense of a verb that shows that an action was completed before another event or time in the past. In the sentence “I had finished my breakfast before Rick called,” “had finished” is in the past tense.
past time /ˈpaʊst/ n. [C] something enjoyable that you do when you are not working: His pastimes include watching TV and reading.
pastoral /ˈpeɪstral/ adj. 1 social science relating to the duties of a priest, minister, etc. toward the members of his/her religious group: Father Murphy made pastoral visits to all the older members of his congregation. 2 an important position in the past: former pastor “someone who takes care of sheep” pastoral care /ˈpeɪstral/ adj. 1 social science relating to the duties of a priest, minister, etc. toward the members of his/her religious group: Father Murphy made pastoral visits to all the older members of his congregation. 2 an important position in the past: former pastor “someone who takes care of sheep”
past time /ˈpaʊst/ n. [C] something enjoyable that you do when you are not working: His pastimes include watching TV and reading.
past time /ˈpaʊst/ n. [C] something enjoyable that you do when you are not working: His pastimes include watching TV and reading.

password /ˈpaʊərˌwɜrd/ n. [C] 1 a secret group of letters or numbers that you must type into a computer before you can use a system or program: Enter your username and password. I’ve forgotten my password. 2 a secret word or phrase that you must use before being allowed to enter a place that is guarded.
paste /ˈpaʊst/ adj. 1 [only before noun] having happened, existed, or been experienced before now: He knew from past experience not to argue. 2 [only before noun] a little earlier than the present or up until now: Tom’s been out of town for the past week. 3 [only before noun] having come to an end: The time for discussion is past. 4 [only before noun] achieving something in the past, or holding an important position in the past: He’s a past president of the club.
past tense /ˈpaʊst/ n. 1 the past the time that existed before now, and the things that happened during that time: People travel more now than they did in the past. 2 the past tense in grammar, the tense of a verb that shows that an action was completed before another event or time in the past. In the sentence “I had finished my breakfast before Rick called,” “had finished” is in the past tense.
past time /ˈpaʊst/ n. [C] something enjoyable that you do when you are not working: His pastimes include watching TV and reading.
pastoral /ˈpeɪstral/ adj. 1 social science relating to the duties of a priest, minister, etc. toward the members of his/her religious group: Father Murphy made pastoral visits to all the older members of his congregation. 2 an important position in the past: former pastor “someone who takes care of sheep” pastoral care /ˈpeɪstral/ adj. 1 social science relating to the duties of a priest, minister, etc. toward the members of his/her religious group: Father Murphy made pastoral visits to all the older members of his congregation. 2 an important position in the past: former pastor “someone who takes care of sheep”

A valid passport is officially acceptable. A passport that has expired is too old to be acceptable.
sentence “We walked to school yesterday,” “walked” is in the past tense.

pat·tous /pəstəs/ n. [C,U] land that is covered with grass and is used for cattle, sheep, etc. to eat past·y /pəsˈti/ adj. looking very pale and unhealthy: a pasty face pat1/ /pæt/ v. (patted, patting) 1 [T] to touch someone or something lightly again and again, with your hand flat: He knelt down to pat the dog.

3 pat sb yourself on the back (informal) to praise someone or yourself for doing something well pat2 n. [C] 1 an act of touching someone or something with your hand flat, especially in a friendly way: She gave the little boy a pat on the head.

2 a pat on the back (informal) praise for something that you have done well: Alex deserves a pat on the back for all his hard work.

3 a pat of butter a small flat piece of butter pat3 adv. have sth down pat to know something thoroughly so that you can say it, perform it, etc. without thinking about it patch1 /pætʃ/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of material used for covering a hole in something, especially clothes: There were patches on the elbows of his jacket. 2 a part of an area that is different or looks different from the parts that surround it: We finally found a patch of grass to sit down on.

3 a small area of ground for growing fruit or vegetables: a cabbage patch patch2 also patch up v. [T] to put a small piece of material over a hole, especially in a piece of clothing patch sth up phr. v. 1 to end an argument and become friendly with someone: I've patched things up with my girlfriend.

2 to fix something quickly but not carefully: We patched up his wound until we could get him to a hospital.

patchwork /pætʃwɜrk/ n. [U] a type of sewing in which many different-colored pieces of cloth are sewn together to make one large piece: a patchwork quilt patchy /pætʃ/ adj. 1 happening or existing in some areas but not in others: patchy fog. 2 not complete enough to be useful: My knowledge of biology is pretty patchy.

pât·tée /pəˈtɛt, pæ-ə/ n. [U] a thick smooth food made from meat or fish, that you spread on bread pa·tel·la /pəˈtelə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY your kneecap pa·tent1 /ˈpeɪtənt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a special document that gives you the right to make or sell a new invention or product that no one else is allowed to copy for a set period of time: The designers took out a patent on the machine.

patent2 v. [T] to obtain a patent for a new invention or product: He developed and patented a device that is still used around the world in steel production.

patent3 adj. (formal) clear and easy to notice [obvious: a patent lie patent·feather n. [U] thin shiny leather that is usually black pa·tent·ly /pəˈtentli/ adv. (formal) patently obvious/false/unfair etc. completely clear, untrue, unfair, etc., in a way that anyone can notice: patently offensive language pa·ter·nal /pəˈternəl/ adj. 1 typical of the way a father feels or acts ➔ MATERNAL. 2 paternal grandmother/uncle etc. your father’s mother, brother, etc. ➔ MATERNAL [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin paternus “of a father,” from pater “father”] ➔ paternalistically adv pa·ter·nal·ism /pəˈternəlɪzəm/ n. [U] LAW the state of being a father ➔ MATERNITY path /pæθ/ n. (plural paths /pæθz, pæθz/) [C] 1 a track that people walk along over an area of ground: a path through the woods | I followed the path until I came to the river. 2 a way through something, made by opening a space to allow you to move forward: The police cleared a path through the crowd. | There was a truck blocking our path. 3 the direction or line along which someone or something moves: The storm destroyed everything in its path. [ORIGIN: Old English path]

pa·thet·ic /pəˈθɛtɪk/ adj. very bad, useless, or weak: Vicky made a pathetic attempt to apologize. ➔ pathetically adv path·o·gen /pæθˈoʊɡən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a living thing, such as a VIRUS, that can cause disease path·o·log·i·cal /pæθˈɑlɑɡɪkəl/ adj. 1 pathological behavior or feelings are unreasonable and impossible to control: a pathological liar. 2 a mental or physical condition that is pathological is caused by disease: a pathological condition pa·thol·ogy /pəˈθɑlədʒi, pæ-/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the study of the causes and effects of diseases —pathologist n. [C] pa·thos /pæθəs/ n. [U] (literary) the quality that a person or a situation has that makes you feel pity and sadness: The pathos of the play is reminiscent of Shakespeare or Chekhov.

path·way /pæθˈweɪ/ n. [C] a path pa·ti·en·ce /pəˈtɛns/ n. [U] the ability to wait calmly for a long time, or deal with difficulties without becoming annoyed or anxious ➔ patience: Finally, I lost my patience with him and started shouting. | The kids are beginning to try my patience (= make me stop being patient). | She has no patience for people who make excuses.

pa·ti·ent1 /ˈpeɪʃənt/ n. [C] someone who is getting medical treatment; cancer patients | Dr. Ross is very popular with his patients.

patient adj. able to wait calmly for a long time or to deal with difficulties without becoming annoyed or anxious | impatient: Be patient— I’ll be off the phone in a minute. —patiently adv.: Simpson waited patiently for his chance.

pat·i·o /patrē-ō/ n. (plural patios) [C] a flat hard area next to a house, where people can sit outside: Sylvia was sitting out on the patio. | [Onion: 1800—1900 Spanish]

pa·tri·arch /pa-trē-ərk/ n. [C] (formal) a man who is respected as the head of a family or tribe | MATRIARCH

pa·tri·arch·al /pa-trē-ər-kəl/ adj. typical of a patriarch: high class of people who governed in ancient Rome | PATRIARCH pa·tri·arch·al·ly adv. relating to being a patriarch, or typical of a patriarch pa·tri·arch·y /pa-trē-ər-chē/ n. [U] a social system in which men hold all the power | PATRIARCHY

pa·tri·cian /pa-trē-sē-ən/ n. [C] (formal) 1 someone who is from the highest class in society aristocratic: his patrician background | PATRICIAN

pa·tri·cian·al /pa-trē-sē-əl/ adj. having the appearance, behavior, way of speaking, etc. that is typical of people from the highest social class aristocratic: his patrician background | PATRICIAN

pa·tri·lin·e·al /pa-trē-lin-əl/ adj. SOCIAL SCIENCE a patrilineal society is one in which connections between the fathers and sons are regarded as the most important | PATRILINEAL

pa·tri·ot /pa-trē-ət/ n. [C] (approving) someone who loves his/her country and is willing to defend it | PATRIOT

pa·tri·ot·ic /pa-trē-ət-ik/ adj. (approving) having or expressing a great love of your country; a patriotic citizen | PATRIOTIC pa·tripat·ric·ian /pa-trē-pat-rē-ən/ n. [U]

pat·rol /pə-trool/ v. (patrolled, patrolling) [I,T] to regularly check an area in order to prevent problems or crime: Two tanks patrolled the city center | PATROL

pat·rol·er /pə-trool-ər/ n. [C] a police car that drives around the streets of a city | PATROLER pat·rol·ing /pə-troo-lîng/ adj.

pat·rol·man /pə-troolmən/ n. (plural patrolmen -man) [C] a police officer who patrols a particular area | PATROLMAN

pa·tron /pə-trōn/ n. [C] 1 someone who supports an organization, artist, musical performer, etc., by giving money: a patron of the arts | PATRON pa·tron·age /pə-trōn-ij/ n. [U] the support that you give a particular store, restaurant, company, etc. by buying their goods or using their services: Thank you for your patronage. | PATRONAGE

pa·tron·ize /pə-trōn-īz/ v. [T] 1 (disapproving) to talk to someone in a way that seems friendly but shows that you think s/he is less important or intelligent than you: Don’t patronize me. | PATRONIZE

pa·tron·ize·ment /pə-trōn-īz-ment/ n. [U] someone who uses a particular store, restaurant, company, etc. | PATRONIZEMENT

pa·tron·iz·ing /pə-trōn-īz-ən/ adj. (disapproving) talking to someone or treating someone as if you think s/he is less important or intelligent than you: a patronizing attitude | PATRONIZING

pat·ton /pə-tən/ n. 1 [singular] the sound of something lightly hitting a hard surface again and again: the pattern of footsteps | PATTON

pat·tern /pə-tərn/ n. [C] 1 the regular way in which something happens, develops, or is done: patterns of behavior | PATTERNS

pat·ter /pə-tər/ v. [T] a regular repeated arrangement of shapes, colors, lines, etc.: a pattern of red and white squares | PATTERNS

pauch·ic·ty /pə-uch-ət/ n. a/the pauchicity of sth (formal) less than is needed of something: a pauchicity of evidence | PAUCHICITY

paunch /pəntʃ, pántʃ/ n. [C] a man’s fat stomach | PAUNCH pa·tric·ian·al·ly adv.}{

pat·ter·ning /pə-tər-ning/ n. [U] a pattern used for decorating something: curtains with a floral design | PATTERNING

mot·if /mət-If/ n. [C] a shape that you copy onto cloth, paper, etc., when making something, especially clothing: a skirt pattern | MOTIF

pat·ton·ed /pə-tən-dəd/ adj. decorated with a pattern: a gold and black patterned tie | PATTERNED pat·ty /pə-tē/ n. (plural patties) [C] a round flat piece of cooked meat or other food: beef patties | PATTY

pau·ci·ty /pə-sē-tē/ n. a/the paucity of sth (formal) less than is needed of something: a paucity of evidence | PAUCITY

The Thesaurus provided is a list of synonyms and antonyms for words in the text. The entries are arranged alphabetically, and each entry includes a brief definition and an example sentence. The example sentences are intended to illustrate the usage of the word in context.
pau·per /ˈpɔːpər/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) someone who is very poor

pause1 /ˈpaʊz/ v. 1 [I] to stop speaking or doing something for a short time before starting again: Tom paused for a moment, and then asked, "So what should I do?" | Amanda paused to admire the view.

pave /pæv/ v. [T] 1 to cover a path, road, etc. with a hard level surface such as CONCRETE: 2 pave the way to do something that will make an event, development, etc. possible in the future: Galileo’s achievements paved the way for Newton’s scientific laws.

pave·ment /ˈpævment/ n. [U] the hard surface of a road: As she fell off the bike, her arm hit the pavement.

pav·ilion /ˈpɑvəlɪən/ n. [C] a structure built in a park or at a fair, and used as a place for public entertainment, exhibitions, etc.

paving stone /ˈpævɪŋ stʌn/ n. [C] one of the flat pieces of stone used to make a hard surface to walk on paw1 /pɔː/ n. [C] an animal’s foot that has nails or CLAWS: a lion’s paw ➔ see picture on page A2

paw2 v. [I,T] 1 if an animal paws something, it touches the thing with its paw: The dog’s pawing at the door again. 2 (informal) to touch someone in a way that is too rough or too sexual: He kept trying to paw me in the car.

pawnt /ˈpɔːnt/ n. [U] one of the eight smallest and least valuable pieces in the game of CHESS 2 someone who is used by a more powerful person or group: We’re just pawns in a big political game.

pawn3 v. [T] to leave a valuable object with a pawnbroker in order to borrow money pawn-bro-ker /ˈpɔːnbroʊkər/ n. [C] someone whose business is to lend people money in exchange for valuable objects

pay1 /peɪ/ v. (past tense and past participle paid, third person singular pays) 1 GIVE MONEY [T] to give someone money for something in order to buy it, or for something s/he has done for you: They ran off without paying. | Have you paid the babysitter yet? | The company’s paying for my plane tickets. | The government agreed to pay them for their land in the east. | How much did you pay for those shoes? | You can pay by check. 2 BILL/DEBT [T] to give a person, company, etc. the money that you owe for a bill or debt: We need to pay the electricity bill soon.

pay2 /peɪ/ v. (past tense and past participle paid, third person singular pays) 1 GIVE MONEY [I,T] to give someone money for something in order to buy it, or for something s/he has done for you: They ran off without paying. | Have you paid the babysitter yet? | The company’s paying for my plane tickets. | The government agreed to pay them for their land in the east. | How much did you pay for those shoes? | You can pay by check.

2 BILL/DEBT [T] to give a person, company, etc. the money that you owe for a bill or debt: We need to pay the electricity bill soon.

3 JOB [T] to give someone money for the job s/he does: How much do they pay you? | Plumbers get paid $40 an hour. | workers who are well/highly/poorly paid

4 pay attention (to sb/sth) to carefully listen to or watch someone or something, or to be careful about what you are doing: Sorry, I wasn’t paying attention. What did you say?

5 pay a visit to sb also pay sb a visit to go see a particular person: It’s about time you paid a visit to the dentist.

6 pay sb a compliment to say nice things about someone’s appearance, behavior, etc.

7 pay your way to pay for your bills, food, etc. without needing to use anyone else’s money: She paid her own way through law school.

8 GOOD RESULT [I] to be worth doing, and result in an advantage for you: Crime doesn’t pay. | It pays to be on time.

9 PROFIT [I] ECONOMICS if a shop or business pays, it makes a profit: We worked hard but couldn’t make the business pay.

10 pay tribute to sb/sth to show how much you admire or respect someone or something

11 pay your respects (to sb) (formal) to greet someone politely or visit a place, especially in order to say or show that you are sorry that someone has died: Sam came over to pay his respects to the family.

12 pay your dues to work at the lowest levels of a profession or organization in order to earn the right to move up to a better position

13 pay through the nose (for sb) (informal) to pay far too much money for something ➔ pay/give lip service at lip pay sb/sth ↔ back phr v to give someone the money that you owe him/her [ref] repay: Can I borrow $10? I’ll pay you back tomorrow.

pay for sth phr v. to suffer or be punished for doing something: If you drink any more, you’ll be paying for it in the morning.

pay sth ↔ in also pay sth into sth phr v. to put money into a bank account: The check was paid into your account on Friday. | How much do you pay in each month?

pay off phr v. 1 pay sth ↔ off to pay all the money that you owe for something: We’ve finally paid off the mortgage. 2 if something that you try to do pays off, it is successful after a long time: My efforts finally paid off when they called me in for an interview. 3 pay sb ↔ off to give someone money so that s/he will not tell people about something illegal or dishonest pay sth ↔ out phr v. to pay a lot of money for something: Last year, $123 million was paid out in health benefits.

pay up phr v. (informal) to pay all the money that you owe pay

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Definition</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>pay·ment /ˈpeɪmənt/ n</td>
<td>1 [C] an amount of money that must be paid or has been paid: How much are your car/house/loan payments?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay·load /ˈpeɪləʊd/ n</td>
<td>The payload of a vehicle or aircraft is the amount of goods or passengers carried by a vehicle or aircraft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay· dirt /ˈpeɪ dirt/ n</td>
<td>Pay dirt is a term used to describe money that is earned through work or effort.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay·able /ˈpeɪəbl/ adj</td>
<td>Payable is used to describe something that is due to be paid.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay·check /ˈpeɪtʃek/ n</td>
<td>A paycheck is a document that shows how much money someone has earned.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay·day /ˈpeɪdeɪ/ n</td>
<td>Payday is the day on which someone is paid their salary.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay· out /ˈpeɪ ʌt/ v</td>
<td>Paying out money is the act of giving someone money.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay· off /ˈpeɪ əf/ n</td>
<td>Paying off a debt means paying all of the money that is owed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay· phone /ˈpeɪf ən/ n</td>
<td>A public telephone that you can use when you put in coins or a credit card number.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pay· roll /ˈpeɪrəʊl/ n</td>
<td>Payroll refers to the total amount of money that a company pays to its employees.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Collocations

- base pay – the pay that you always receive, without payment for any extra hours
- overtime pay – payment for extra hours that you work
- take-home pay – the money you receive after tax, etc. has been taken away
- vacation pay – payment for the time when you are on vacation
- sick pay – payment for the times when you are sick and not at work

Thesaurus

- income – money that you receive from working, investments, etc.: families on a low income
- salary – the pay that professional people such as teachers or lawyers earn every year: a salary of $34,000 a year

Payroll

- wages – the pay that someone earns every hour or every week: Her wages barely cover the rent.
- earnings – all the money that you earn by working: Record your earnings on the income tax form.
- bonus – money added to someone’s pay, especially as a reward for good work: The company offers performance bonuses to every employee.
- remuneration (formal) – the pay that someone receives for his or her work: The work was hard and the remuneration was low.

Payable

- payable to sb – a form that pays a person a certain amount of money: pay the check payable to Al’s Service Station (=write this name on the check).

Paycheck

- check – a document that shows how much money someone has earned: a weekly paycheck.

Payday

- day – the day when you get your paycheck.

Pay dirt

- dirt (informal) – a term used to describe the amount of money that someone has earned: to make pay dirt when they found the aircraft’s flight recorder.

Payee

- person who should be paid money, especially by check: The payee of the check was Al’s Service Station.

Payload

- the amount of goods or passengers carried by a vehicle or aircraft: the payload of a vehicle or aircraft is the amount of goods or passengers carried by a vehicle or aircraft.

Payment

- amount of money that must be paid or has been paid: How much are your car/house/loan payments? | He couldn’t afford to make the payments on his house. | She agreed to repay the loan in monthly payments of $200. | The act of paying: Late payment will result in a $10 fine.

Peace Corps

- the Peace Corps is a U.S. government organization that helps poorer countries by sending volunteers to teach skills in education, health, farming, etc.

Peaceful

- calm, quiet, and without problems or excitement: It’s peaceful out here in the woods.

Politically Correct

- not liking to argue, or not causing any arguments or fights: peacable subjects who paid their taxes and posed no threat to public order —peaceably adv.
2 not fighting a war, or deliberately not being violent: a peaceful relationship between countries | a peaceful protest —peacefully adv.

peace-keep-ing /′pisˌ kepəŋ/ adj: trying to prevent fighting or violence: peacekeeping troops —peacekeeper n. [C] peace-maker /′pisˈmeIkər/ n. [C] someone who tries to persuade people or countries to stop fighting peace-time /′pis-tarm/ n. [U] a period of time when a country is not fighting a war —wartime peach /′pit/ n. 1 [C] a round juicy yellow-red fruit that has a large rough seed and skin that feels fuzzy, or the tree that it grows on —see picture on page 414 2 [U] a pale pink-orange color [origin: 1200—1300 Old French pêche from Latin persicus “Persian”] pea-cock /′piˈkək/ n. [C] a large bird, the male of which has long blue and green tail feathers peak /′pi:k/ n. 1 the time when someone or something is biggest, most successful, or best: Trenton is now at the peak of his career. | The company’s profits reached a peak in 1992. 2 the pointed top of a mountain, or a mountain with a pointed top: the Alps’ snow-covered peaks —see picture on page A11 peak2 v. [I] to become the biggest, most successful, or best that someone or something can be: In the 1950s, Chicago’s population peaked at around 3.6 million.

peal /′pi:l/ n. [C] (literary) a sudden loud repeated sound, such as laughter, thunder, or bells ringing: I could hear peals of laughter coming from upstairs. —peal v. [I] pea-nut /′piənət/ n. 1 [C] a small nut you can eat that has a soft light brown shell —peanuts [plural] (informal) a very small amount of money: I’m tired of working for peanuts. 2 peanut butter n. [U] a soft food made from crushed peanuts, usually eaten on bread: a peanut butter and jelly sandwich pear /′pɛər/ n. [C] a sweet juicy fruit with a round wide bottom that becomes thinner on top near the stem, or the tree on which it grows —see picture at FRUIT pearl /′pɛərl/ n. [C] a valuable small white round object, that forms inside an oyster and is used in jewelry: a pearl necklace peas-ant /′pezənt/ n. [C] a poor farmer who owns or rents a small amount of land, either in past times or in poor countries —peas-ant·ry /′pezəntri/ n. the peasantry all the peasants of a particular country: The land tax was bitterly resented by the peasantry.

pea·nut·ties /′piənət′tιz/ n. pl. (informal) relating to methods of teaching —pedagogy /′pedəˈgədʒi/ n. [U] ped·a·l /′pɛdəl/ n. [C] the part of a bicycle, car, or motorcycle that you push with your foot in order to make it move: the gas pedal [origin: 1600—1700 French pédale, from Italian, from Latin pedalis “of the foot”] —see picture at BICYCLE peda·l·i·ty /′pɛdəˌlɪ ti/ n. pl. -ties (disapproving) paying too much attention to small details and rules: The book is fascinating, although some readers will find it pedantic.

ped·di·dye /′pɛdədəl/ v. [T] to go from place to place trying to sell something, especially something illegal or cheap: Eric was caught peddling drugs. —ped·di·ler /′pɛdələr/ n. [C] ped·es·tal /′pɛdəstəl/ n. [C] the base on which a statue of a pillar stands —pedestal (disapproving) to admire someone so pedestrian

much that you treat him/her or talk about him/her as though s/he is perfect pe-des-tri-an /pəˈdestriən/ n. [C] someone who is walking instead of driving a car, riding a bicycle, etc. [Orig: 1700—1800 Latin pedestal “going on foot,” from pes “foot”] pedestrian2 adj. (formal) ordinary, and not very interesting or exciting: I thought the orchestra’s overall performance was poor and the choice of music was fairly pedestrian.

pe-di-a-tri-cian /ˌpi-diˈətrɪʃən/ n. [C] a doctor who treats children ➔ DOCTOR pe-di-at-rics /ˌpi-diˈætɪks/ n. [U] the area of medicine that deals with children and their illnesses ped-i-cure /ˈpi.dɪ.kjʊər/ n. [C,U] a treatment for the feet that includes cleaning them and cutting the TOENAILS ➔ MANICURE

ped-i-gree /ˈpi.dɪ.ɡri/ n. [C,U] the parents and other past family members of an animal or person, or the written record of them ➔ pedigree adj.: a pedigree Great Dane pee /pi/ v. [I] (informal) to pass liquid waste from your body ➔ URINATE ➔ PEE peek1 /pi.k/ v. [I] to quickly look at something, especially something you are not supposed to see: Paula opened the box and peeked inside.

THESAURUS

look, glance, peek, peer ➔

LOOK1

2 to appear from behind or under something: The sun finally peeped out from behind the clouds.

peep2 n. [C] 1 [usually singular] a sound: I didn’t hear a peep out of the kids all afternoon. 2 [usually singular] a quick or secret look at something: Did you get a peep at the audience?

peep-hole /ˈpi.ˌphoʊl/ n. [C] a small hole in a door that you can look through peeping Tom /ˈpi.ˈpiŋ/ n. [C] someone who secretly watches people, especially people who are taking off their clothes

peer1 /pər/ n. sb’s peer someone who is the same age as another person, or who has the same type of job, rank, etc.: Barton has gained the respect of his peers.

peer2 v. [I] to look very carefully, especially because you cannot see something well: Harris peered into the dark closet.

THESAURUS

look, glance, peek, peer ➔

LOOK1

peer group n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a group of people who are the same age, are from the same social class, or have the same type of job, etc.: Peer groups and popular culture both have a strong influence on teenage children.

peer-less /ˈpiərliʃ/ adj. (formal) better than anyone or anything else: B.B. King’s peerless guitar playing peer .pressure n. [U] the strong feeling that young people have that they should do the same things that their peers are doing: It can be difficult to give in to peer pressure ➔ (do something just because other people are doing it).

peeve /piiv/ n. pet peeve (informal) something that always annoys you, but that may not annoy other people: One of my pet peeves is people being late for meetings.

peg1 /pɛɡ/ n. [C] 1 a short piece of wood or metal that fits into a hole or is fastened to a wall, and can be used for fastening furniture together, for hanging things, etc.: a coat peg. 2 also tent peg a pointed piece of wood or metal used for keeping a tent attached to the ground

peg2 v. (pegged pegging) [T] 1 to believe or say that someone has a particular type of character: Teachers had him pegged as a troublemaker. 2 ECONOMICS to set prices, salaries, etc. in relation to a particular value: loan payment rates that are pegged to the national rates

THESAURUS

cut, chop (up), slice, dice, carve, shred, grate ➔ CUT3

2 [T] to remove a thin outside layer from the surface of an object: Peel the labels off/from the jars before recycling. 3 [I] if skin, paper, or paint is peeling, it is loose and coming off in small thin pieces. I got sunburned and now my face is peeling.

peel v. [I] ➔ peel ➔ peel ➔ to take off your clothes, especially if they are wet or tight: He peeled off his damp uniform and stepped into the shower.

peel1 n. [U] the thick skin of a fruit or vegetable, such as an orange, a potato, or a BANANA: orange peel ➔ see picture on page 414

peel-ings /ˈpi.ˌlnz/ n. [plural] pieces of skin that have been removed from a fruit or vegetable: carrot peelings pejor-a-tive /peˈdʒərətiv/ · -ˈdʒər-ə/ adj. (formal) a pejorative word or phrase is used in order to insult someone or to show disapproval [Origin: 1800–1900 Late Latin pejorativeness, past participle of pejorare “to make worse,” from pejor “worse”] pel-i-can /ˈpeləkən/ n. [C] a large bird that catches fish for food and holds them in the part of its large beak that is shaped like a bag [Origin: 1000–1100 Late Latin pelecanus, from Greek] pel-let /ˈpelit/ n. [C] a small hard ball made from metal, ice, paper, food, etc.

pel-luc-i-d /ˈpeləˌlucid/ adj. (literary) very clear, so that it can be seen through easily or understood easily ➔ translucent: the pelucid air of the mountains pelt1 /pelt/ v. [T] to attack someone by throwing a lot of things at him/her: Two kids were pelting each other with snowballs.

pelt2 n. [C] BIOLOGY the skin of a dead animal with the fur or hair still on it pel-vis /ˈpelvɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the set of large wide curved bones at the base of your spine, to which your legs are joined [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French pelvis “feather, pen,” from Latin penne “feather”]

pen1 /ˈpen/ n. 1 [C] an instrument used for writing and drawing in ink: a ballpoint pen | Write your essays in pen (=using a pen), not pencil. 2 [C] a small area surrounded by a fence that farm animals are kept in ➔ pigpen [Origin: (1) 1200–1300 Old French pene “feather, pen,” from Latin penne “feather”]

pen2 v. (penned, penning) [T] (literary) to write a letter, note, etc. with a pen ➔ write pen sb/sth in/up phr. v. to prevent a person or animal from leaving an enclosed area: The protesters were kept penned up behind the fence.

pe-nal /ˈpɛnəl/ adj. 1 LAW relating to the legal punishment of criminals: the penal system 2 penal offense LAW a crime pen-al-code n. [C] a set of laws and the punishments for not obeying these laws pe-nal-ize /ˈpɛnəlz/ · -ˈlız/ v. [V] 1 to punish someone or treat him/her unfairly: I’m being penalized for something that isn’t my fault. 2 to punish a player or sports team by giving an advantage to the other team: The Bears were penalized for taking too much time.

pe-nil-ty /ˈpɛnəl-ti/ n. (plural penalties) [C] LAW a punishment for not obeying a law, rule, or legal agreement: The maximum penalty for the crime is five years in prison. | He was given the death penalty (=killed as a punishment).

pen-an-ce /ˈpɛnəns/ n. [C,U] (literary) a punishment that you accept, especially for religious reasons, to show that you are sorry for doing a bad thing pen-chant /ˈpɛntʃənt/ n. [C] a liking for something that you do as a habit: Bill has a penchant for fast cars.

pen-cil1 /ˈpɛnsəl/ n. [C] a thing that you use for writing and drawing, made of wood containing a black or colored center: Do the math problems in pencil (=using a pencil), not pen. | a sharp pencil [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French pencel “paintbrush,” from Latin penicillus “little tail”] pen-cil2 v. [T] to write something with a pencil or make a mark with a pencil pencil sb/sth in phr. v. to make an arrangement for a meeting or other event, knowing that it might have to be changed later: I’ll pencil in a meeting for next Tuesday.

pen-cil-sharpener n. [C] an object with a small blade inside it, used for making the pointed end of a pencil sharp pen-dant /ˈpɛndənt/ n. [C] a jewel or small decoration that hangs from a necklace: a diamond pendant pen-ding /ˈpɛndɪŋ/ · -ɪŋ/ v. (pended, pending) [formal] until something happens, or while something happens: The decision has been delayed pending further research.

pen-dable /ˈpɛndəbl/ adj. (formal) not yet decided, agreed on, or finished: Their divorce is still pending.

pen-du-lum /ˈpɛndələm/ n. [C] a long stick with a weight on the end of it that hangs down and swings from side to side, especially in a large clock [Origin: 1600–1700 Modern Latin, Latin pendulius from pendere “to hang”] pen-e-trate /ˈpɛnəˌtreɪt/ v. [T] to enter something or pass through it, especially when this is difficult: bullets that can penetrate metal | Explorers penetrated deep into unknown regions.

pen-e-trat-ing /ˈpɛnəˌtreɪtɪŋ/ adj. 1 penetrating eyes/look/gaze etc. someone who has penetrating eyes, etc. seems able to see what another person is thinking 2 a penetrating noise or voice is so loud that you hear it very clearly 3 showing an ability to understand things quickly and completely: a penetrating mind pen-guin /ˈpɛŋgwɪn/ n. [C] a large black and white Antarctic sea bird that cannot fly but uses its wings for swimming pen-i-cil-lin /ˈpɛnəsɪlɪn/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a substance used as a medicine to destroy bacteria peninsula pen-nin-su-læ /'pænɪnsəlæ/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a piece of land that is almost completely surrounded by water [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin paeninsula, from paene “almost” + insula “island”] → peninsular adj pen-nis /'pɛnsɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the outer sex organ of a male pen-i-tent /'pɛnitənt/ adj (literary) feeling sorry about doing something bad, and showing you do not intend to do it again → penitence n [U] pen-i-tent-ri-és /-'pɛnitəntriəz/ n. (plural penitentries) [C] a prison; the state penitentiary pen-knife /'pɛnknif/ n. (plural penknives /-nɪvz/) [C] a POCKET KNIFE

'pen name n. [C] a name used by a writer instead of his/her real name (ypo pseudonym pen-nant /'pɛnnænt/ n. [C] a long pointed flag used by schools, sports teams, etc., or on ships as a sign pen-ni-less /'pɛnɪlɪs/ adj having no money pen-ny /'pɛnɪ/ n. (plural pennies) [C] 1 a coin worth one cent (=1/100 of a dollar), used in the U.S. and Canada → money, coin, nickel, dime, quarter → money

2 not a penny no money at all: I don’t owe her a penny! 3 every (last) penny all of your money: He spent every penny on his car. (The new carpet wasn’t cheap, but it was worth every penny (=I am happy I bought it).

'pen pal n. [C] someone to whom you write letters in order to become his/her friend pen-sion /'pɛnsʃən/ n. [C] the money that a company pays regularly to someone after she retires (=stops working after reaching a particular age): Howe draws a yearly pension of $15,000.

pension fund n. [C] ECONOMICS a large amount of money that a company, organization, etc. INVESTs and uses for paying pensions pension plan n. [C] ECONOMICS a system organized by a company for paying pensions to its workers when they RETIRE (=stop working after reaching a particular age) pen-sive /'pɛnsɪv/ adj (literary) thinking about something a lot and seeming slightly sad [Origin: 1300—1400 French pensif, from penser “to think”]

Pen-ta-gon /'pɛntəɡɔn/ n. the Pentagon the U.S. government building in Washington, D.C. from which the army, navy, etc. are controlled, or the military officers who work in this building pentagon n. [C] MATH a flat shape with five sides and five angles [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin, from Greek pentagonon, from pente “five” + gonia “angle”] → pentagonal /'pɛntəɡənl/ adj. see picture at POLYGON pen-ta-m-e-ter /-'pɛntəmətər/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a line of poetry with five main beats → IAMBIC PENTAMETER pen-tah-lon /'pɛntəθəlon, -lən/ n. [singular] a sports competition consisting of five different sports → DECATHLON, HEPTATHLON

Pen-ta-co-tsal /'pɛn'tækstəsl/ adj relating to the Christian church whose members believe that the spirit of God can help them to cure diseases and pray in special languages → Pentecostal n [C] pent-house /'pɛnthɔus/ n. [C] a very expensive and comfortable apartment on the top floor of a tall building pent-up adj pent-up emotions are not expressed for a long time: pent-up anger and frustration pe-nul-ti-mate /'pɛnəlˈtɪmət/ adj [only before noun] (formal) next to the last: the penultimate game of the season [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin ultimus, from paene “almost” + ultimus “last”] pe-nus-ri-ous /'pɛnərʊs/ adj (formal) very poor → poor pen-on /'pɛnən/ n. [C] (informal) someone who works at a boring or physically hard job for low pay: the office peons pee-ple /'pipl/ n. 1 [plural] the usual plural form of PERSON: I like the people I work with. 2 the people [plural] all the ordinary people in a country or a state: The mayor should remember that he was elected to serve the people.

the public – ordinary people, not people who work for the government or other special organizations: It’s the job of the media to inform the public.

society – all the people who live in a country: responsible members of society the human race/mankind/humankind – all the people in the world, considered as a group: the origins of the human race populace (formal) – the ordinary people living in a country: Surveys say that almost 90% of the American populace believe in God.

population – the number of people or animals living in a particular area, country, etc.: What’s the population of Los Angeles? The planet’s rapid population growth

3 [plural] people in general, or people other than yourself: People sometimes make fun of my name. 4 Computer people seem to speak a language of their own.

the man, mankind, humankind → MAN

4 of all people (spoken) used in order to say that someone is the only person who you would not have expected to do something: You of all people people² n (U) (informal) physical energy —peppy adj.
pepper² v [T] 1 to scatter things all over or all through something: The article is peppered with quotations. 2 to put pepper in food per cent² adj, adv. 1 (symbol %) equal to a particular amount out of every hundred: What percentage of the population is elderly? 2 A small large percentage of students receive financial aid.
pep-per·mint /'pEpø"mInt/ n. [C,U] a candy that has a taste like peppermint pep·pe·ro·ni /'pEp@'roUni/ n. [U] a spicy dry Italian sausage pep·per·mint /'pEpø'mInt/ n. 1 [U] a mint plant with sweet-smelling strong-tasting leaves, used in making candy, tea, and medicine 2 [C] a candy that has a taste like peppermint per·co·la·tor /'pøkælOtər/ n. [C.U] a device for filtering a hot liquid through a material that has small holes in it per·cep·tion /'pøsEpʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the way you understand something and your beliefs about what it is like: A child’s perception of the world is not the same as an adult’s. There’s a perception that Margaret is not an effective leader. We need to challenge many popular perceptions of old age. 2 [U] the way you use your sight, hearing, feeling, taste, or smell to notice things: drugs that alter perception One theory is that caffeine somehow counteracts the perception of pain. 3 [U] the natural ability to understand or notice something quickly: I was impressed by her perception and her grasp of the facts.
per·cep·ti·ble /'pøsEpktəbl/ adj (formal) noticeable imperceptible: The sound was barely perceptible.
per·cep·tion /'pøsEpʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the way you understand something and your beliefs about what it is like: A child’s perception of the world is not the same as an adult’s. There’s a perception that Margaret is not an effective leader. We need to challenge many popular perceptions of old age. 2 [U] the way you use your sight, hearing, feeling, taste, or smell to notice things: drugs that alter perception One theory is that caffeine somehow counteracts the perception of pain. 3 [U] the natural ability to understand or notice something quickly: I was impressed by her perception and her grasp of the facts.
per·ce·ive /'pøsEsv/ AC v. [T] (formal) 1 to understand or think about something in a particular way: The government was widely perceived as corrupt. Investors will pull out if they perceive that the economy is failing. 2 to notice something that is difficult to notice: The sound is too high to be perceived by humans. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French percevoir, from Latin percipere] —perceived adj: This proposal addresses a widely perceived need to expand health care for children.
per·cent·age /'pøsEktʃə/ n. 1 [C,U] a particular amount out of every hundred: What percentage of the population is elderly? A small large percentage of students receive financial aid. 2 [C usually singular] economics a share of profits equal to a particular amount in every dollar: He gets a percentage for every book that is sold.
per·ce·ive /'pøsEsv/ AC v. [T] (formal) 1 to understand or think about something in a particular way: The government was widely perceived as corrupt. Investors will pull out if they perceive that the economy is failing. 2 to notice something that is difficult to notice: The sound is too high to be perceived by humans. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French percevoir, from Latin percipere] —perceived adj: This proposal addresses a widely perceived need to expand health care for children.
coffee is made by passing hot water again and again through crushed coffee beans.

perfect /pərˈfekt/ adj. 1 completely and without any mistakes or problems: Your English is perfect. 2 as good as possible, or the best of its kind: John was in perfect health. 3 exactly right for a particular purpose: This rug's perfect for the living room. 4 used in order to emphasize what you are saying: Why did you give your phone number to a stranger? 5 nobody's perfect: Yes, I made a mistake—nobody's perfect.

per·fect·i·on /pərˈfekʃən/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the process of making something perfect: the perfection of his golf swing.

per·fect·ion·ist /pərˈfekʃənɪst/ n. [C] someone who is not satisfied with anything unless it is completely perfect: You look fine. Don't be such a perfectionist.

per·fect·ly /pərˈfektlɪ/ adv. 1 used in order to emphasize what you are saying: It’s perfectly normal to feel nervous before a performance. They had thrown away a perfectly good stereo. 2 in a perfect way: She speaks English perfectly. is traveling in a curved path through space around the Earth is nearest the Earth → see picture at APOLLO peril /ˈpɛr(ə)l/ n. (literary) 1 [U] danger of being harmed or killed: Everyone feared that the sailors were in great peril.

2 the perils of sth the dangers involved in a particular activity: the perils of drug use period /ˈpɛrij/ adj. periodic writing that shows the end of a sentence or an abbreviation:

periodical /ˈpɛrɪˈdɪkəl/ adj. happening again and again, usually at regular times: Dale gets periodic headaches. | Periodic reforms of the voting system took place during the 19th century.

periodic /ˈpɛrɪˈdɪk/ adj. a specially arranged list of the ELEMENTS (≠simple chemical substances) permanent /ˈpɛrɪmənt/ adj. continuing to exist for a long time or for all time (≠temporal): There was no permanent damage to the muscle. | The UN Security Council has five permanent members. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, permanently

present participle of permanent “to stay until the end” —permanent adj. ['perˌmen-tən] • 1 [U] (for a very long time: Do you plan to live here permanently?) • The accident left him permanently disabled. adverb always, all the time/the whole time • always , forever, for life, for good • ALWAYS (always, forever, for life, for good) permanent press [U] a way of treating cloth so that it stays smooth, or cloth that has been treated in this way permanent \(\text{per}-\text{man}-\text{ent}\) \(\text{press}\) [n. ] [U] the act of allowing someone to do something: The smell of smoke permeated the house. | A feeling of sadness permeates his music.

permeate [v. ] [T] (formal) to spread through every part of something: The smell of smoke permeated the house. | A feeling of sadness permeates his music.

permanently [adv. ] always, forever, for life, for good • ALWAYS (always, forever, for life, for good) permit [n. ] [C] a permitter | permission n. • someone who does something illegal • permanent (adj.) continuing forever or for a long time: the perpetual noise of the machinery | her perpetual complaining —perpetually adv. • per'-pet'-u'-a'-li'-ty • per'-pet'-u'-a'-tion • per'-pet'-u'-a'-tor • per'-pet'-u'-ate [v. ] [T] (formal) to do something that is wrong or illegal: crimes perpetrated by young people [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of perpetuare “to achieve something”] perpetrator [n. ] [C] someone who does something illegal perspective [n. ] • paid off and she got the job.

perspective [n. ] • paid off and she got the job.

persistent [adj. ] • Claudia’s persistence or other people oppose it: with tough times.

persecution [n. ] • persecutor • persecute [v. ] [T] to persecute someone: a writer persecuted for criticizing the government [Origin: 1400—1500 French persécuter, from Latin persecutus, past participle of persequi “to pursue, follow”] —persecutor [n. ] [C] persecute [v. ] [T] to persecute someone: a writer persecuted for criticizing the government [Origin: 1400—1500 French persécuter, from Latin persecutus, past participle of persequi “to pursue, follow”] —persecutor [n. ] [C] perspective • perspective • persevere [v. ] [I] to persevere to overcome his reading problems.

persevere [v. ] [I] (approving) to continue trying to do something difficult in a determined way: The team has persevered through a lot of tough times.

perspective • perspective • persevere [v. ] [I] (approving) to continue trying to do something difficult in a determined way: The team has persevered through a lot of tough times.

perspective • perspective • persevere [v. ] [I] (approving) to continue trying to do something difficult in a determined way: The team has persevered through a lot of tough times.

perspective • perspective • persevere [v. ] [I] (approving) to continue trying to do something difficult in a determined way: The team has persevered through a lot of tough times.

perspective • perspective • persevere [v. ] [I] (approving) to continue trying to do something difficult in a determined way: The team has persevered through a lot of tough times.
continues to exist or happen, especially for longer than is usual or desirable: The bank needed to act because of the persistence of high inflation.

persistent /pəˈsɪstənt/ adj 1 continuing to exist or happen, especially for longer than is usual or desirable: persistent problems | There have been persistent rumors that the chairman is going to quit. 2 continuing to do something even though it is difficult or other people oppose it: You have to be persistent if you want to get a job. —persistently adv: He persistently denies doing anything wrong.

person /ˈpɜrsən/ n (plural people /ˈpipl/) [C] 1 a man, woman, or child: Diane is a really generous person. 2 more than one man, woman, or child —used only in official language: Police are looking for the person or persons responsible for her death. 3 people —many men, women, and children: In this meaning, people is the plural of person: There were about 100 people at the wedding. 4 people —a particular race or group that lives in a particular country; In this meaning, the plural is peoples: the peoples of the Caribbean

2 in person if you do something in person, you do it when you are in a place, not by sending a letter or using the telephone: You'll have to apply for your passport in person. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French persone, from Latin persona “actor’s mask, character in a play, person*”] ➔ first person, second person, third person persona /pəˈsɔrənə/ n [C] 1 plural personas or personae —(plural) the way you behave when you are with other people: You always wonder how different movie stars are from their public personas. 2 (plural personae) ENGL. ARTS the character or voice that narrates (tells) the story in a book, movie, etc.: The author used the persona of a teenage girl to tell the story. 3 (plural personae) ENGL. ARTS any of the characters in a book, play, etc.

personable /pəˈsɔnəbəl/ adj having a pleasant way of talking and behaving person-al /ˈpɜrsənəl/ adj

1 RELATING TO YOU [only before noun] belonging or relating to one particular person, rather than to other people or to people in general: Please keep all bags and other personal belongings with you. | I know from personal experience how difficult this kind of work can be. | My personal opinion is that we began the project too late. 2 PRIVATE private and concerning only you: Can I ask you a personal question? | He won't talk about his personal life. | Beth had a lot of personal problems at that time.

personals /ˈpɜrsənəls/ n the personals [plural] a part of a newspaper in which people can have private messages printed
PERSONALITY

persona non grata /pəˈsō.nəˌnȯn grəˈta/ n. [U] 1 (formal) someone who is not welcome in a particular place or in a particular group: After the court case, he found himself persona non grata in the business community. 2 POLITICS a diplomat (=government representative) who has been ordered to leave the country where he or she has been sent to work. [Origins: 1800—1900 Latin “person not acceptable”] perspicacious /pərˈspikəʃəs/ adj. (formal) good at judging and understanding people and situations, or showing this quality; a perspicacious critic personification /pərˈsənəˌfəˈsishən/ n. 1 the personification of something that someone has: My mother has the personification of kindness. An example of that quality: lot of a particular quality, so that she is used as an example of that quality: Mrs. Grant is the personification of justice as a woman holding scales perspective /pərˈspektif/ n. 1 a particular point of view; a particular way of thinking about something: A broader perspective on Third World development. 2 the ability to think about something sensibly, so that it does not seem worse than it is: I think Tony’s lost all sense of perspective. You’ve got to keep things in perspective.

persuasion /pərˈswəzhən/ n. 1 the act or skill of persuading someone to do something: The act or ability to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: Members of the jury were not persuaded by the lawyer’s arguments. She’ll only take me back if I can persuade her (that) I’ve changed. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin persuadere, from suadere “to advise”]

persuasive /pərˈswəziv/ adj. able to influence other people to believe or do something: Erín can be very persuasive. It was not a very persuasive argument.

persuade /pərˈswəd/ v. [T] 1 to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: The lawyer tried to persuade the jury to come to a different conclusion.

persuader /pərˈswədər/ n. 1 someone who is good at persuading others: A salesperson is a persuasive speaker.

persuasive /pərˈswəziv/ adj. able to influence other people to believe or do something: Erín can be very persuasive. It was not a very persuasive argument.

persuasion /pərˈswəzhən/ n. 1 the act or skill of persuading someone to do something: The act or ability to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: Members of the jury were not persuaded by the lawyer’s arguments. She’ll only take me back if I can persuade her (that) I’ve changed. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin persuadere, from suadere “to advise”]

persuasion /pərˈswəzhən/ n. 1 the act or skill of persuading someone to do something: The act or ability to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: Members of the jury were not persuaded by the lawyer’s arguments. She’ll only take me back if I can persuade her (that) I’ve changed. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin persuadere, from suadere “to advise”]

persuader /pərˈswədər/ n. 1 someone who is good at persuading others: A salesperson is a persuasive speaker.

persuasive /pərˈswəziv/ adj. able to influence other people to believe or do something: Erín can be very persuasive. It was not a very persuasive argument.

persuade /pərˈswəd/ v. [T] 1 to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: The lawyer tried to persuade the jury to come to a different conclusion.

persuader /pərˈswədər/ n. 1 someone who is good at persuading others: A salesperson is a persuasive speaker.

persuasive /pərˈswəziv/ adj. able to influence other people to believe or do something: Erín can be very persuasive. It was not a very persuasive argument.

persuade /pərˈswəd/ v. [T] 1 to make someone believe something or feel sure about something; [SYN] convince: The lawyer tried to persuade the jury to come to a different conclusion.
pe·ruse /pəˈruːz/ v. [T] (formal or humorous) to read something in a careful way: Anne looked at the book he’d been perusing. —perusal n. [C,U] per·vade /poʊˈvæd/ v. [T] (formal) to spread through all parts of something: A feeling of hopelessness pervaded the country.

per·va·sive /poʊˈvæsɪv/ adj. existing or spreading everywhere: the pervasive influence of violence on TV per·verse /poʊˈvɜːrs/ adj. behaving in an unreasonable way by doing the opposite of what people want you to do: He takes perverse pleasure in arguing with everyone.

per·ver·sion /poʊˈvɜːrʒən/ n. [C,U] 1 a type of sexual behavior that is considered unnatural and unacceptable 2 the act of changing something so that it is no longer right, reasonable, or true: a perversion of the truth per·vert1 /poʊˈvɜːrt/ v. [T] to change someone or something in a harmful way: Athletes who cheat by taking drugs are perverting traditional Olympic values.

per·vert2 /poʊˈvɜːrt/ n. [C,U] someone whose sexual behavior is considered unnatural and unacceptable per·vert·ed /poʊˈvɜːrtɪd/ adj. 1 relating to unacceptable and unnatural sexual thoughts or behavior 2 morally wrong or unnatural: perverted logic pes·ky /ˈpeski/ adj. (informal) annoying and causing trouble: Those pesky kids!

pes·si·mis·m /ˈpesəˌmɪzəm/ n. [U] a tendency to believe that bad things will happen and optimism; a feeling of pessimism about the future [Origin: 1700—1800 French pessimisme, from Latin pessimus “worst”] pes·si·mist /ˈpesəmɪst/ n. [C] someone who always expects that bad things will happen

pes·si·mist·ic /ˈpesəˌmɪstɪk/ adj. expecting that bad things will happen or that a situation will have a bad result: optimist: Jonathan is pessimistic about his chances.

pet1 /pɛt/ n. [C] an animal that you keep at home: Do you have any pets? ➔ TEACHER’S PET pet2 v. (petted, petting) [T] to touch and move your hand gently over an animal’s fur: Our cat loves being petted. ➔ see picture on page A8 pet·al /ˈpɛtəl/ n. [C] the colored part of a flower that is shaped like a leaf: rose petals ➔ see picture at FLOWER pet·i·tion /pɛˈtɪʃən/ v. [L,T] to formally ask someone in authority to do something, especially by sending him/her a petition: Residents are petitioning against a new prison in the area. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin petitio, from petere “to try to get or find”] pet·i·tion·ar·y /pɛˈtɪʃənərɪ/ adj. of a petition: a petitionary right pet·i·tie·tive /pɛˈtɪʃətɪv/ adj. (approving) a woman who is petite and thin in an attractive way pet·er /ˈpɛtər/ v. to gradually become smaller, fewer, quieter, etc. and then no longer exist or happen: After a few minutes, the conversation began to peter out.

pet·i·ole /ˈpɛtɪˌoʊl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a thin narrow part of a plant, that supports a leaf and keeps it attached to the stem pet·i·tion·ing /pɛˈtɪʃənɪŋ/ adj. (approving) a woman who is petite and thin in an attractive way pet·i·tion·ist /pɛˈtɪʃənɪst/ n. [C] a piece of paper that asks someone in authority to do or change something, and is Petri dish

signed by a lot of people: Will you sign our petition?

[petri dish] n. [C] SCIENCE a small clear dish with a cover, especially by scientists for growing BACTERIA pet·ri·fied /ˌpetrəˌfaɪd/ adj. 1 extremely frightened: I’m absolutely petrified of dogs.

2 petrified wood wood that has changed into stone over millions of years [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French pétrifier, from Greek petra “rock”]

—petrify v. [T]

pet·ro·chem·i·cal /petrəˈkiːmɪkəl/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a chemical substance obtained from petroleum or natural gas: the petrochemical industry pet·rol·e·um /ˌpetrəˈliːəm/ n. [U] oil that is obtained from below the surface of the Earth and is used in order to make GASOLINE and other chemical substances; petroleum-based products pet·ty /ˈpəti/ adj. 1 something that is petty is not serious or important: Don’t bother me with petty details. 2 someone who is petty cares too much about things that are not very important or serious: Sometimes he’s so petty about money (=he thinks too much about exactly how much people owe him). 3 petty crime a crime that is not serious, for example stealing things that are not expensive —pettiness n. [U] petty ‘cash n. [U] money that is kept in an office for making small payments petty ‘officer, Petty Officer n. [C] an officer who has the lowest rank in the navy pet·u·lant /ˌpetjuˈlənt/ adj. behaving in an impatient and angry way for no reason at all, like a child: My ex-husband is behaving like a petulant child. —petulantly adv. —petulance n. [U] pew1 /pjuː/ n. [C] a long wooden seat in a church

pew2 /ˈpiːə/ n. [U] a gray metal made by mixing LEAD and TIN

PG n. [C,U] parental guidance — used in order to show that a movie may include parts that are not suitable for young children

PG-13 /ˈpiː dʒiː ˈpiː tiːν/ n. [C,U] parental guidance-13 — used in order to show that a movie may include parts that are not suitable for children under the age of 13

pH /piːθ/ also pH’ value n. [C] usually singular CHEMISTRY a number on a scale of numbers from 0 to 14, that shows how acid or ALKALINE a substance is phag·o·cyte /ˌfæɡəˈsaɪt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a blood cell that protects the body by destroying harmful BACTERIA, VIRUSES, etc.

phal·lic /ˈfeɪlɪk/ adj. like a PENIS, or relating to the PENIS phal·lus /ˈfeɪləs/ n. [C] the male sex organ, or a model of it phant·om /ˈfæntəm/ n. [C] (literary) 1 a GHOST 2 something that exists only in your imagination

phar·ao·hoh /ˈfɛrəoʊ/ n. [C] a ruler of ancient Egypt phar·ma·ceu·ti·cal /ˌfɛrəˈsiːtɪkəl/ n. [C usually plural] CHEMISTRY a medicine or drug [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin pharmaceuticus, from Greek pharmakeuein “to give drugs”] —pharmaceutical adj. [only before noun]: large pharmaceutical companies phar·ma·ci·ist /ˌfɛrməˈsaɪst/ n. [C] someone whose job is to prepare drugs and medicines in a store or hospital phar·ma·co·log·i·cal /ˌfɛrməˈkɔˌləɡəkəl/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY the scientific study of drugs and medicines —pharmacologist n. [C] phar·ma·cy /ˌfɛrməˈsaɪ/ n. [U] a store, or a part of a store, where medicines are prepared and sold [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin pharmacia “giving drugs,” from Greek, from pharmakeuein “to give drugs”]

phar·yng·es /ˌfɛrmɪŋɡəz/ n. [plural pharynges] [C] BIOLOGY the tube that goes from the back of your mouth to your ESOPHAGUS

phase1 /feɪtʃ/ n. [C] 1 one of the stages of a process of development or change: The first phase of renovation should be finished by January. | The work will be carried out in phases. | Your child is just going through a phase.

phase2 v. [T] PHYSICS one of the changes in the appearance of the moon or a PLANET when it is seen from the Earth — in phase/out of phase PHYSICS two or more waves of sound, light, energy, etc. are in phase if their highest parts and lowest parts reach the same place at the same time. They are out of phase if these points do not match. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Modern Latin phasis, from Greek, “appearance of a star, phase of the moon”]

ph.D. /ˌpiː ˈɛntʃ/ n. [C] Doctor of Philosophy the highest university degree that can be earned, or someone who has this degree pheasant /ˈfɛzənt/ n. [C,U] a large colorful bird with a long tail that is hunted for food and sport, or the meat from this bird [origin: 1200—1300 Anglo-French feisant, from Latin, from Greek phasianos, from Phasis ancient river in Asia] phenomenal /fɪnəˈmənl/ adj. very great or impressive: New York’s phenomenal success in reducing crime | The growth in California’s population during this period was phenomenal.

phenomenon /fɪnəˈmənən/ n. (plural phenomena /-ˌmənə/) [C] 1 something that happens or exists in society, science, or other areas of life that is unusual or difficult to understand: Homelessness is not a new phenomenon. | Natural phenomena such as earthquakes | Language is a social and cultural phenomenon.

phenomenously adv. phenomenally popular philosophical /fɪləˈsoʊfɪkəl/ adj. relating to philosophy: a philosophical discussion | The debate never became philosophical.

philosophically adv. 1 relating to philosophy: a philosophical discussion | The debate never became philosophical.

philosopher /fɪləˈsoʊfər/ n. [C] someone who studies or teaches philosophy: ancient Greek philosophers philosophical /fɪləˈsoʊfɪkəl/ adj. 1 relating to philosophy: a philosophical discussion | The debate never became philosophical. | Anderson remains philosophical about his defeat.

philosophically adv. 1 relating to philosophy: a philosophical discussion | The debate never became philosophical.

philosophize /fɪləˈsoʊfaɪz/ v. [i] to talk or think about important subjects and ideas in a serious way phone

again. When you finish speaking on the phone, hang up (= put the receiver down) ➔ CELL PHONE phone² v [I,T] to talk to someone using a phone ➔ call: Several people phoned the radio station to complain.

phone book n [C] a book containing an alphabetical list of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all the people and businesses that have a telephone in the area

phone booth n [C] a partly enclosed structure containing a telephone that the public can use phone card n [C] a special card that you buy and use to make phone calls on a public phone phone·nome /f’snimɪ/ n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of the smallest speech sound that can be used to make one word different from another word, such as the “b” and the “p” in “big” and “pig” ➔ phonemic /f’snimɪk/ adj ➔ MORPHHEME

phone·ics /f’snɪmɪks/ n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the study and description of the phonemes of languages phone·net·ic /f’nɛtɪk/ adj ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to the sounds of human speech: a phonetic alphabet (= one that uses signs to represent the sounds) ➔ phonetic ➔ phonetics phone·net·ics /f’nɛtɪks/ n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the science and study of speech sounds phon·ics /f’nɪks/ n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a method of teaching people to read in which they are taught to recognize the sounds that letters represent

photo·graph /ˌfoʊˈɡrɑːf/ n [C] (old-fashioned) a RECORD PLAYER

photo·nol·o·gy /ˌfoʊˈnəʊlədʒi/ n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of the system of speech sounds in a language, or the system of sounds itself ➔ phonological /ˌfoʊnəˈlədʒɪkəl/ adj ➔ phonologically adv

photo·ny /ˌfoʊˈni/ adj (informal) false or not real, and intended to deceive someone ➔ fake: Dirk gave the cops a phony address. ➔ phon·ny /ˈfəni/ interjection (old-fashioned) used in order to express strong disbelief or disappointment phos·phate /ˌfɑsˈfɔːt/ n [C] CHEMISTRY one of the various forms of a salt of phosphorus, used in industry ➔ phosphoric /ˌfɑsˈfɔrɪk, -fər-/ adj

photo·zone /ˌfoʊˈtɔːzn/ n the photic zone BIOLOGY the upper layer of an ocean or a lake where there is enough light from the Sun for PHOTOSYNTHESIS to take place

photo·to /ˌfoʊˈtoʊ/ n [C] (informal) a photograph: Who’s the girl in this photo? ➔ photo of ➔ photo·to·copy /ˌfoʊˈtɒki/ n [C] a machine that quickly copies documents onto paper by phototographing them

photo·to·copy /ˌfoʊˈtɒki/ n (plural photocopies) [C] a copy of a document made by a photocopier: Make a photocopy of this article for me. ➔ photocopy v [T]

photo·to·graph /ˌfoʊˈtoʊˌɡrɑːf/ n [C] a picture that is made using a camera. The book includes more than 100 color photographs. | an old photograph of my grandfather | Visitors are not allowed to take photographs. | [Origin: 1800—1900 photograph + -graph (from Greek phos “light” + graphein “to write”)] → PICTURE photograph v [T] to take a photograph of someone or something: She was photographed by Vogue.

photographer n [C] someone who takes photographs, especially as a job: a news photographer

photographic adj 1 relating to photographs: a photographic image 2 photographic memory an ability that some people have to remember exactly every detail of something they have seen

photography n [U] the art, profession, or process of producing photographs or the scenes in movies: fashion photography phrase n [U] an expression that is different from the usual meaning of each word

phrasal verb n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a group of words without a main verb that together make a subject, an object, or a verb tense. In the sentence “We have a brand new car,” “a brand new car” is a noun phrase. To CLAUSE, SENTENCE [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin phrasis, from Greek, from phrasin “to point out, explain, tell”] physiology n [U] the science that deals with the study of how the bodies of living things that can be seen, tasted, felt, etc.: (=the way you look) The world is governed by physical laws. 6 SCIENCE a science such as PHYSICS or CHEMISTRY, that studies things that are not living ORGANIC: physical chemistry [Origin: 1400—1500 Middle Latin physica, from Latin physis, from Greek physis “of nature”]

---

Thesaurus

art, painting, drawing, sculpture, pottery, ceramics → ART

photograph n [U] the art, profession, or process of producing photographs or the scenes in movies: fashion photography

photographer n [C] someone who takes photographs, especially as a job: a news photographer

photographic adj 1 relating to photographs: a photographic image 2 photographic memory an ability that some people have to remember exactly every detail of something they have seen

phrase n [U] an expression that is different from the usual meaning of each word

phrasal verb n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a group of words without a main verb that together make a subject, an object, or a verb tense. In the sentence “We have a brand new car,” “a brand new car” is a noun phrase. To CLAUSE, SENTENCE [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin phrasis, from Greek, from phrasin “to point out, explain, tell”] physiology n [U] the science that deals with the study of how the bodies of living things that can be seen, tasted, felt, etc.: (=the way you look) The world is governed by physical laws. 6 SCIENCE a science such as PHYSICS or CHEMISTRY, that studies things that are not living ORGANIC: physical chemistry [Origin: 1400—1500 Middle Latin physica, from Latin physis, from Greek physis “of nature”]

---

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>S</th>
<th>E</th>
<th>T</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>photograph</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>photographer</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>photographic</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>phrase</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>phrasal verb</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>physiology</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
physiotherapy

living things work —physiological physical therapy /ˌfizˈiɵθərəpi/ n [U] physique /ˈfizik/ n. [C] the shape, size, and appearance of someone's body: a man with a powerful physique phyto-plankton /ˌfɪtəʊˈplæŋktən/ n [U] pi /ˈpiː/ n [U] MATH a number, about 3.1416, that is represented by the Greek letter (π) and is equal to the distance around a circle divided by its width. Pi is used to calculate the area of a circle.

pi-ano /ˈpiʊnəʊ/ n [C] a large musical instrument that you play by pressing the keys (=narrow black and white bars) —pianist n [C]

pick /pɪk/ v [T]

1 CHOOSE to choose someone or something from a group of people or things: In the end, Katie picked the blue dress. | Have you picked a date for the wedding yet? | He picked the Giants to win the division. | The board picked Kertzman as the man to run the company. | She can pick and choose her jobs (she can choose only the ones she likes).

2 FLOWER/FRUIT to pull off or break off a flower, fruit, etc. from a plant or tree: We're going out to the farm on Saturday to pick apples. | Amy picked a bunch of flowers from her garden.

3 REMOVE/PULL OFF to remove small things from something, or to pull off small pieces from something: She got up and started picking dishes off the table. | Michael, stop picking your nose (=cleaning the inside of it with your finger).

4 pick your way through/across/among etc. sth to move carefully through an area, choosing exactly where to walk or drive: Rescue workers picked their way through the rubble.

5 pick a fight (with sb) to deliberately begin an argument or fight with someone: Adam's always picking fights with the younger kids.

6 pick sb's pocket to quietly steal something from someone's pocket, bag, etc.

7 pick sb's brain(s) to ask someone who knows a lot about a subject for information or advice about it: Can I pick your brains about a legal issue?

8 pick a lock to open something that is not a key to unlock a door, window, etc. —pick/pocket pick at sth v. v.

to eat only a small amount of your food because you do not feel hungry or do not like the food: I was so nervous I could only pick at my lunch.

pick sth ↔ off v.

to shoot people or animals one at a time from a long distance away: Snipers were picking off anyone who came outdoors.

pick on sb v.

to treat someone in a way that is not kind: Greg, stop picking on your sister!

pick sth ↔ out v.

1 to choose someone or something carefully from a group: We had a lot of fun picking out a present for Leslie's baby.

2 to recognize someone or something in a group of people or things: The victim was able to pick out her attacker from a police lineup.

pick sth ↔ over v.

to examine a group of things carefully in order to choose the ones you want: Wash and pick over the beans.

pick up v.

1 LIFT UP pick sth ↔ up to lift something or someone up: Pick me up, Daddy! | I picked up the phone (=answered the phone) just as it stopped ringing. | He knelt down to pick up his keys. —see picture on page A9

2 GET BETTER pick sth ↔ up to go somewhere, usually in a vehicle, in order to get someone or something: I'll pick up my stuff around six, okay? | What time should we pick you up at the airport?

3 BUY pick sth ↔ up to buy something: Will you pick up some dinner for our way home? | The company is picking up the bill (paying) for my computer.

4 PICKUP pick sth ↔ up to put things away neatly, or to clean a place by doing this: Straighten your room and pick all those papers up. | Pick up the living room, please. | He never picks up after himself (puts away the things he has used).

5 GET BETTER to improve: Sales should pick up before Christmas.

6 INCREASE pick up (sth) to increase or get faster: The car was gradually picking up speed (=going faster). | The wind had picked up considerably.

7 LEARN pick sth ↔ up to learn something without much effort by watching or listening to other people: I picked up some Korean when I was in the army.

8 ILLNESS pick sth ↔ up to get an illness from someone, or to become sick: She's picked up a cold from a child at school.

9 NOTICE pick sth ↔ up to notice, smell, or hear something, especially when this is difficult: The dogs were able to pick up the scent.

10 RADIO/SIGNS pick sth ↔ up if a machine picks up a sound, movement, or signal, it is able to notice it or receive it: We didn't pick anything up on radar. | Our TV doesn't pick up channel 26 very well.

11 START AGAIN pick (sth) ↔ up to begin a conversation, meeting, etc. again, starting from the point where it stopped earlier: We’ll pick up where we left off after lunch.

12 POLICE pick sb ↔ up if the police pick someone up, they find him/her and take him/her to the police station: Carr was picked up and taken in for questioning.

13 SEX pick sb ↔ up to talk to someone you do not know because you want to have sex with him/her: Some guy at the bar was trying to pick up Audrey.

14 pick up the pieces (of sth) to get a situation back to normal after something bad has happened: Republicans will try to pick up the pieces after major losses in the last election.

pick up on sth pro v. to notice something about the way someone is behaving, especially when it is not easy to notice: Children quickly pick up on tensions between their parents.

pick n. 1 (U) choice: There are four kinds of cake, so you can take your pick. | She’ll be able to have her pick of colleges (=choose any one she wants). 2 the pick of sth (informal) the best thing or things in a group: The Doles will get the pick of the puppies. 3 [C] a pickaxe 4 [C] a small flat object that you use for playing an instrument such as a guitar pickax /'pIkæks/ n. [C] a large tool that you use for breaking up the ground. It consists of a curved iron bar with a sharp point on each end, and a long handle.

pick-er /'pIkər/ n. [C] a person or machine that picks things such as fruit, cotton, etc.

picket v. 1 /'pIk/ also 'picket line n. [C] a group or line of people who picket a factory, store, etc.: Two workers were hurt today trying to cross the picket line (=trying to work during a strike).

picketet /'pIkIt/ v. [T] to stand or march in front of a factory, store, etc. to protest something, or to stop people from going in to work during a strike (=time when a group of workers refuse to work): Protesters are still picketing outside the White House gates.

picket, fence n. [C] a fence made of a line of strong pointed sticks fastened in the ground pickle /'pIkəl/ n. 1 [C] a CUMBER pre- served in VINEGAR or salt water, or a piece of this: a dill pickle 2 be in a pickle (old-fashioned) to be in a difficult situation pickles /'pIkItz/ adj. pickled pickle v. [T] to preserve food in VINEGAR or salt water —pickled adj. pickled pick-me-up n. [C] (informal) something that makes you feel cheerful or gives you more energy, especially a drink or medicine pick-pocket /'pIk'pækt/ n. [C] someone who steals things from people’s pockets, especially in a crowd pick-up /'pIkAp/ n. 1 [C] also pickup truck a small truck with low sides that is used for carrying goods 2 [C] an occasion when someone or something is taken away from a place: There is a regular garbage pickup on Tuesdays. 3 [U] the ability of a car to reach a high speed in a short time: My old car didn’t have much pickup. 4 [C] an increase or improvement in something: a pickup in sales pick-y /'pIkI/ adj. (comparative pickier, superlative pickiest) (informal, disapproving) someone who is picky is difficult to make happy because s/he only likes certain things or is very particular picnic v. (past tense and past participle picnicked, present participle picnicking) [I] to have a picnic pic-to-ri-al /'pIktrIəl/ adj. relating to or using pictures: a pictorial history of Montana draw/paint a picture of your house. a group of tourists taking pictures (=stalking photographers) —Leo’s picture (=photograph of him) is in the newspaper.

THE SAURUS

picture — a picture that is drawn quickly painting — a picture made using paint snapshot — a photograph that is taken quickly portrait — a painting, drawing, or photograph of a person cartoon — a funny drawing in a newspaper or magazine that tells a story or a joke caricature — a funny drawing of someone that makes a particular feature of his/her face or body look bigger, worse, etc. than it really is illustration — a picture in a book poster — a large picture printed on paper, used in order to advertise something or as a decoration on a wall draw — a picture seen on a screen, or a formal word for what is in a picture — CAMERA drawing, doodle, comic strip — DRAWING picture — a regular increase or improvement in something: a pickup in sales draw/paint a picture of your house. a group of tourists taking pictures (=stalking photographers) —Leo’s picture (=photograph of him) is in the newspaper.

2 SITUATION [singular] the general situation in a place, organization, etc.; The political picture has greatly changed since March. | You’re missing the big/bigger/wider picture (the situation considered as a whole).

3 DESCRIPTION [C usually singular] a description that gives you an idea of what something is like: To get a better picture of how the company is doing, look at sales. | The book paints a clear picture of life in ancient Rome.

4 to be in/out of the picture (informal) to be involved or not be involved in a situation: With his main rival out of the picture, the mayor has a chance of winning the election.

5 ON A SCREEN [C] the image that you see on a television or in a movie: Something’s wrong with the picture.

6 get the picture (spoken) to understand something: I don’t want you around here any more — get the picture!
picture

7 MOVIE [C] (old-fashioned) a movie: Grandma loved going to the pictures. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin picture, from pictus, past participle of pingere “to paint”] picture2 v [T] 1 to imagine something, especially by making an image in your mind: I can still picture him standing there with his uniform on. 2 I can’t picture myself as a mother.

picture book n [C] a children’s story book that has a lot of pictures in it picture book2 n [C] a small and unimportant: a piddling amount of money pie /ple/ n. 1 [C] U A food usually made with fruit baked inside a covering of pastry: a piece/slice of apple pie 2 as easy as pie (informal) very easy 3 a piece/share/slice of the pie (informal) a share of something such as money or profit: Landers wants a bigger slice of the pie. 4 pie in the sky (informal) a good plan or promise that you do not think will happen: Hope of a cure is just pie in the sky.

piece /pi/ n. [C]

1 PART OF A WHOLE a part of something that has been separated, broken, or cut off from the rest of it: Do you want a piece of pizza? 2 pieces of broken glass everywhere. [The vase lay in pieces (in small parts) on the floor.] 3 cut the chicken into pieces, and put it in a roasting pan.

piece2 v

1 to use all the facts or information that you have in order to understand a situation: Police are still trying to piece together a motive for the shooting. 2 to put all the parts of something back into the correct position or order piece-meal /pi:]mæl/ adv, adj happening or done slowly in separate stages that are not planned or related: Changes were introduced in piecemeal fashion. 3 The house was filled with old furniture they’d bought piecemeal.

piece-work /pi:]wɜk/ n. [U] work for which you are paid according to the number of things you produce rather than the number of hours you work pie chart n. [C] MATH a circle divided into several parts that shows how big the different parts of a total amount are see picture at chart1 pier /pi/ n. [C] 1 a structure that is built out into the water so that boats can stop next to it or people can walk along it: We were standing at the end of the pier, watching the boats. 2 a thick stone, wooden, or metal post used for supporting something such as a bridge pierce /pɜrs/ v. [T] 1 to make a hole in or through something, using an object with a sharp point: Tiffany’s getting her ears pierced (having a hole put in her ears for wearing jewelry). | A bullet pierced his body.

pile

2 (literary) if light or sound pierces something, you suddenly see or hear it: The car's headlights pierced the darkness.

piercing /ˈpɪrʃɪŋ/ adj 1 a piercing sound is high, loud, and not nice to listen to: a piercing cry/scream

2 a piercing wind is very cold pigeon /ˈpɪdʒən/ n. [U] respect for God and religion, shown in the way you behave pig /ˈpɪɡ/ n. [C] 1 a farm animal with short legs, a fat body, and a curled tail. Pigs are kept for their meat. 2 (spoken) an impolite word meaning someone who eats too much, is very dirty, or is offensive in some way: You ate all the pizza, you pig.

piglet /ˈpɪɡlɪt/ n. [C] an young pig piggy bank n. [C] a small container, sometimes in the shape of a pig, used especially by children for saving coins pig-sty /ˈpɪɡstʌɪ/ n. [C] a place on a farm where pigs are kept pine /ˈpɪn/ n. [C] a large fish that eats other fish and lives in rivers and lakes pile /ˈpɜːl/ n. (plural pile) a large mass of things collected or thrown together in the shape of a small hill: huge piles of garbage | a pile of snow | He raked the leaves into small piles.

2 [C] a neat collection of similar things put one on top of the other: a pile of folded clothes | 3 piles of sth/a pile of sth (informal) a lot of something: I have piles of work to do tonight. | She’s making piles of money at her new job.

pile up v. 1 [T] also pile up to make a pile by collecting things together: A lot of dishes had piled up in the sink. | 2 [T] to fill something or cover a surface with a lot of something: a plate piled high with spaghetti | pile in/into sth phr. v. (informal) if a group of people pile into a place or vehicle, they all try to get into it quickly and at the same time: We all piled into the car and left. | pile out phr. v. (informal) if a group of people pile out of a place or vehicle, they all try to get out of it quickly and at the same time: As soon as we stopped, the kids piled out and ran to the beach.
pile up /ˈpiːljuː/ phr. v. to become larger in quantity or amount, in a way that is difficult to manage: Debts from the business were piling up quickly.

pile-up /ˈpaɪləp/ n. [C] a traffic accident involving many vehicles: a 16-car pileup

Thesaurus
- accident, crash, collision, wreck pil-fer /ˈpɪləfər/ v. [T] to steal things that are not worth much: He was caught pilfering from the office.

Thesaurus
- steal, burglarize, rob, shoplift, rip off

pil-grim /ˈpɪlgrɪm/ n. [C] a religious person who travels a long way to a holy place: [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French pellegrin, from Latin peregrinus "foreigner"] pil-grim-age /ˈpɪlgrɪmɪdʒ/ n. [C,U] a trip to a holy place for a religious reason: Every year, about two million Muslims make the pilgrimage to Mecca. — TRAVEL

pil-ling /ˈpɪlɪŋ/ n. [C] a heavy post made of wood, cement, or metal, used for supporting a building or bridge pill /pɪl/ n. [C] 1. a small solid piece of medicine that you swallow: She’s taking pills to control her blood pressure. 2. sleeping pills

Thesaurus
- medicine, tablet, capsule, drug, medication, prescription — MEDICINE

2 the pill a pill regularly taken by some women in order to avoid having babies: Maris has been on the pill for years now. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin pilula, from pilis “ball”]

pil-lage /ˈpɪlɪdʒ/ v. [I,T] if soldiers pillage a place in a war, they steal a lot of things and do a lot of damage

pil-lar /ˈpɪlər/ n. [C] 1. a tall solid post used as a support for part of a building: Eight massive stone pillars supported the roof. 2. a pillar of the community/church etc. an active and important member of a group, organization, etc.

pillow /ˈpɪləʊ/ n. [C] a cloth bag filled with soft material that you put under your head when you sleep [Origin: Old English pyle, from Latin pulvisinus] — see picture at BED pillow-case /ˈpɪləʊˌkeɪs/ n. [C] a cloth cover for a pillow pilot /ˈpɪlət/ n. [C] 1. someone who operates the controls of an aircraft or spacecraft: an airline pilot 2. a television program that is made in order to test whether people like it and would watch it again in the future 3. pilot program/project/study etc. a test that is done to see if an idea or product will be successful [Origin: 1500—1600 French pilote, from Italian pedota, from Greek pedon “our”] — pilot v. [T] pilot light n. [C] a small gas flame that burns all the time and is used for lighting larger gas burners.

pimp /pɪmp/ n. [C] a man who makes money by controlling prostitutes (=women who have sex with men for money) pimp-ple /ˈpɪmppl/ n. [C] a small raised red spot on your skin, especially on your face — pimply adj.

Thesaurus
- blemish, bruise, scar, zit, wart, blister, freckle, mole — MARK

PIN /pɪn/ n. Personal Identification Number a number that you use when you get money from a machine using a plastic card pin1 /pɪn/ n. [C] 1. a short thin piece of metal with a sharp point at one end, used especially for fastening pieces of cloth together 2. a piece of metal, sometimes containing jewels, that you fasten to your clothes to wear as a decoration 3. one of the bottle-shaped objects that you try to knock down in a game of bowling 4. a thin piece of metal used to fasten things together, especially broken bones: He has to have pins put in his ankle. [Origin: Old English pinan] — CLOTHESPIN, PINS AND NEEDLES, ROLLING PIN, SAFETY PIN pin2 v. (pinned, pinning) 1. [T] to fasten something somewhere, or join things together with a pin or pins: Can you pin this announcement on the bulletin board for me? 2. pin your hopes on sth/stb to hope that something will happen or someone will help you because all your plans depend on this: I hope she’s not pinning all her hopes on winning. 3. [T] to make someone unable to move by putting a lot of pressure or weight on him/her: He pinned her arms to her sides. 4. He was pinned under the car.

pinch /pɪntʃ, pɪntʃ/ v. 1. [T] to make someone decide something or tell you what the decision is: I couldn’t pin him down to a definite date for the meeting. 2. to understand something clearly or be able to describe exactly what it is: I can’t pin down his accent.

pinball /ˈpɪnbɔːl/ n. [U] a game played on a machine with a sloping board. You push buttons to try to keep a ball from rolling off the board: a pinball machine pin-cer /ˈpɪnʃər, ˈpɪnʃər/ n. [C] one of the pair of CLAWS (=sharp curved nails) that some insects and SHELLFISH have — see picture on page A2 pinch1 /pɪntʃ/ v. 1. [T] to press a part of someone’s skin very tightly between your finger and thumb: She leaned over and pinched his cheeks. — see picture on page A2 2. [I,T] if your clothes, shoes, etc. pinch you, they are too tight and hurt you

pinch2 /ˈpɪntʃ/ v. 1. [T] to pinch something and remove it from it: pinch pennies to be careful to spend as little money as possible pinch^2 n. [C] 1 pinch of salt/pepper etc. a small amount of salt, pepper, etc. that you can hold between your finger and thumb 2 an act of pinching someone: She gave him a pinch on the cheek. 3 in a pinch if necessary in a difficult or urgent situation: I have room for four more people, five in a pinch.

pinched /ˈpɪntʃt/ adj. 1 not having enough money to do what you want: financially pinched schools 2 a pinched face looks thin and unhealthy, for example because the person is sick, cold, or tired pinch-hit v. [I] 1 to bat instead of another player in a game of baseball 2 to do something for someone else because she is suddenly not able to do it: Could you pinch-hit for Larry in the meeting today? — pinch-hitter n. [C] pin-cush-ion /ˈpaɪnˌkʌʃən/ n. [C] a small soft object into which you stick pins until you need to use them pine^1 /ˈpaɪn/ also pine tree n. [C,U] a tree with long leaves shaped like needles, or the wood of this tree [Origin: 1000—1100 Latin pinus] pine^2 also pine away v. [I] to gradually become weaker, less active, and less healthy because you are very unhappy pine for sth/brth phr. v. to be unhappy because you cannot be with a person, be in a place, or experience something that happened in the past again: Ten years after Amanda left, he was still pining for her.

pine-apple /ˈpaɪnəp(ə)l/ n. [C,U] a large yellow-brown tropical fruit, or its sweet yellow flesh — see picture on page 414 pine cone n. [C] the brown seed container of the pine ping /pɪŋ/ n. [C] a short high ringing sound — ping v. [I] ping-pong, Ping Pong /ˈpɪŋpæŋ, ˈpɪŋpɒŋ/ n. [U] (trademark) an indoor game played on a large table, in which two people use paddles to hit a small ball to each other across a low net [S99] table tennis pink /pɪŋk/ adj. pale red: a pink dress — pink n. [C,U] pink-ie, pinky /ˈpɪŋki/ n. (plural pinkies) [C] the smallest finger on your hand — see picture at HAND pink ‘slip n. [C] (informal) a written warning telling you that your job is going to end because there is not enough work pin-na-cle /ˈpɪnəkl/ n. 1 [singular] the most successful, powerful, or exciting part of something: It took Carlson only eight years to reach the pinnacle of his profession. 2 [C] EARTH SCIENCES the top of a high mountain 3 [C] a pointed stone decoration like a small tower on top of a church or castle pin-point^1 /ˈpɪnˌpɔɪnt/ v. [T] to say exactly what something is, or exactly where someone or something is: It was impossible to pinpoint the cause of the crash. | Can you pin-point where you last saw him?

pin-point^2 adj. with pinpoint accuracy very exactly: the plane’s ability to drop bombs with pinpoint accuracy pin-point^3 n. [C] a very small area or amount of something: a tiny pin-point of light pin-prick /ˈpaɪnˌprɪk/ n. [C] a very small hole or mark in something, like one made by a pin pins and needles n. 1 [U] an uncomfortable feeling that you get, especially when you have not moved part of your body for a long time and the supply of blood has stopped flowing correctly: 2 be on pins and needles to be very nervous: Mom’s been on pins and needles waiting to hear from you.

pin-stripe /ˈpaɪnstrɛp/ n. [C] one of the thin light-colored lines that form a pattern on dark cloth: a blue pin-stripe suit — pin-striped adj.

pint /ˈpaɪnt/ n. [C] a unit for measuring liquid, equal to 2 cups or 0.4732 liters: a pint of milk pin-up /ˈpaɪnʌp/ n. [C] 1 a picture of an attractive or famous person, often a woman wearing little clothing 2 someone who appears in one of these pictures pi-o-neer /ˌpaɪəˈnɪər/ n. [C] 1 one of the first people to do something that other people will later develop or continue to do; one of the pioneers of the personal computer industry 2 one of the first people to travel to a new or unknown place and begin living there, farming, etc. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French pionnier “soldier,” from pion] pioneer^2 v. [T] to be the first person to do, invent, or use something: a hospital pioneering a new type of surgery pi-ous /ˈpaɪəs/ adj. having strong religious beliefs, and showing this in the way you behave pipe^1 /paɪp/ n. [C] 1 a tube through which a liquid or gas flows: a water pipe 2 a thing used for smoking tobacco, consisting of a small tube with a container shaped like a bowl at one end: Harry stood on the porch, smoking his pipe. 3 one of the metal tubes that air is forced through in an organ 4 a simple musical instrument like a tube, that you blow through pipe^2 v. [T] to send a liquid or gas through a pipe to another place: oil piped from Alaska pipe down phr. v. (spoken) to stop talking or making a noise, and become calmer and less excited: Pipe down! I’m trying to listen to this!

pipe up phr. v. (informal) to suddenly say something, especially when you have been quiet until then: Dennis piped up, saying he didn’t agree.
pipe dream n [C] a hope, idea, plan, etc. that will probably never work or happen: Money and fame — isn’t that all a pipe dream?

pipe-line /ˈpaɪp-lain/ n [C] 1 a long line of connecting pipes, used for carrying gas, oil, etc. over long distances. 2 be in the pipeline if a plan, idea, or event is in the pipeline, it is still being prepared, but it will happen or be completed soon.

pi-pet-té /ˈpiːpɛt/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a thin glass tube for sucking up exact amounts of liquid, used especially in chemistry pip-ing /ˈpiːpɪŋ/ n. 1 several pipes, or a system of pipes, used for carrying a liquid or gas: copper piping. 2 thin cloth corks used as decorations on clothes and furniture pip-squeak /ˈpipskwɪk/ n. [C] (spoken, old-fashioned) someone you think is not worth attention or respect, especially because s/he is small or young: Shut up, you little pipsqueak!

pi-quant /piˈkwænt, -ˈkwɪnt/ adj (formal) 1 having a pleasantly spicy taste: a piquant chili sauce. 2 interesting and exciting: piquant photos of life in Paris. — pi-quant-ly adv — pi-quant-ness n pi-que1 /piːk/ v. [T] 1 pique sb’s interest/curiosity to make someone very interested in something: Ember’s life story piqued the public’s interest. 2 (formal) to make someone feel annoyed or upset pi-que2 n. [U] (formal) a feeling of being annoyed or upset: Greta left in a fit of pique.

pi-ra-cy /ˈpɪrəsɪ/ n. 1 the act of illegally copying and selling books, tapes, videos, computer programs, etc.: software piracy. 2 the crime of attacking and stealing from ships at sea pi-ra-na /ˈpɪrəna,-ˈrɑːnə/ n. [C] a South American fish with sharp teeth that lives in rivers and eats flesh pi-rate1 /ˈpɪrət/ n. 1 someone who sails on the oceans, attacking other boats and stealing things from them. 2 someone who illegally copies and sells another person’s work: We’re losing thousands of dollars to video pirates. [origin: 1200–1300 Latin pirata, from Greek peírétai, from peírein “to attack”] pi-rate2 v. [T] to illegally copy and sell another person’s work: pirated CDs pirouette /ˈpɪrʊˌɛt/ n. [C] a dance movement in which the dancer turns very quickly, standing on one toe or the front part of one foot — pirouette v. [I]

Pis-cis /pɪˈsɪs/ n. 1 [U] the twelfth sign of the zodiac, represented by two fish. 2 [C] someone born between February 19 and March 20 pis-ta-chio /ˈpɪstəˌʃiʊ/ n. (plural pistachios) [C] a small green nut pis-tol /ˈpɪstəl/ n. [C] a small gun that you can use with one hand. [origin: 1500–1600 French pistole, from German, from Czech pístal “pipe”] pis-ton /ˈpɪstən/ n. [C] a part of an engine, consisting of a short solid piece of metal inside a tube, that moves up and down to make the other parts of the engine move pit1 /pɪt/ n. 1 HOLE [C] a hole in the ground, especially one made by digging: a barbecue pit. 2 MARK [C] a small hollow mark in the surface of something: There are tiny scratches and pits on the windshield.

MESSY PLACE [singular (spoken)] a house or room that is dirty, messy, or in bad condition: Erica’s house is a total pit! 4 be the pits (spoken) to be very bad: My job is the pits.

5 in the pit of your stomach if you have a feeling in the pit of your stomach, you have a sick or tight feeling in your stomach, usually because you are nervous or afraid: The strange noises gave her a funny feeling in the pit of her stomach.

6 IN FRUIT [BIOLOGY] the single large hard seed in some fruits: a peach pit — see picture on page 414

7 FOR CARS the pit/pits [C] a place beside a racetrack where a race car can quickly get more gas or be repaired

8 an orchestra pit

9 a MINE2

pit2 v. (pitted, pitting) [T] 1 to take out the single large hard seed inside some fruits. 2 to put small marks or holes in the surface of something: The disease had pitted and scarred his skin.

pit sb/sth against sb/sth [T] v. to test your strength, ability, power, etc. against someone else: This week’s big game pits Houston against Miami.

pi-ta /ˈpiːtə/ also pita bread [n. (C, U)] a type of flat bread that can be opened so you can put food into it pit bull also pit bull ‘terrier [n. [C, U]] a short dog that is extremely strong and often violent pitch1 /ˈpɪtʃ/ v. 1 BASEBALL [I,T] to aim and throw the ball to the batter in baseball: Who’s pitching for the Red Sox today? | He pitched three innings in Monday night’s game.

2 THROW [T] to throw something, especially with a lot of force: Carl tore up Amy’s letter and pitched it into the fire.

3 FALL [I,T] to fall suddenly and heavily in a particular direction, or to make someone or something fall in this way: A sudden stop pitched her into the windshield. | Daley pitched forward and fell from the stage.

4 VOICE/MUSIC [T] to make a sound be produced at a particular level: The song is pitched too high for me.
pitch a tent to set up a tent
SELL/PERSUADE [IUT (informal) to try to persuade someone to buy or do something: The meeting is your chance to pitch your ideas to the boss.
SAY/WRITE [I] to aim a product, film, etc. at a particular group of people, or to describe something in a particular way in order to sell it: a TV show pitched at children SHIP/PLANE [J] If a ship or an aircraft pitches, it moves up and down in an uncontrolled way with the movement of the water or air pitch in phr. v. (informal) to join others and help with an activity: If we all pitch in, it won’t take very long to finish.
pitch 1 n. 1 [C] a throw of the ball to the BATTER in baseball. The first pitch was a strike. 2 [C] how high or low someone’s voice is 3 [C.U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note, or how high or low a musical note is: The high notes rang out on pitch. 4 [C] (informal) the things someone says in order to persuade people to buy or do something: a sales pitch 5 [singular, U] the strength of your feelings or opinions about something: Their excitement rose to fever pitch (= very excited level). 6 [U] a dark sticky substance that is used on roofs, the bottoms of ships, etc. to stop water coming through pitch black adj. completely black or dark: She turned off the lights, and suddenly it was pitch black.
pitcher /'pitʃər/ n. [C] 1 a container used for holding and pouring liquids, with a handle and a spout (shaped part for pouring): a pitcher of beer 2 the baseball player who throws the ball to the BATTER pitchfork /'pitʃfɔrk/ n. [C] a farm tool with a long handle and two or three long curved metal points, used especially for lifting hay (=dried cut grass) pitiful /'pɪtɪfʊl/ adj. (literary) making you feel pity: a pitiful cry pity /'pɪtɪ/ v. (lit.) to feel sympathy for someone because s/he is in a bad situation: I pity anyone who has to live with Sherry.
pity 2 n. 1 [U] sympathy you feel for someone who is suffering or unhappy: I don’t need your pity! 2 [singular] used to show that you are disappointed about something and you wish things could happen differently: It’s a pity (that) so much time was wasted. 3 “We’re leaving tomorrow.” “What a pity!” 3 take/have pity on sb to feel sympathy for someone and do something to help him/her [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French pité, from Latin pietas “piety, pity”] point [v. I] T to try to persuade someone to do something: The meeting is at pitch. He doesn’t appear to have any pitch for the victims of the war. 2 [singular] used to show that you are disappointed about something and you wish things could happen differently: It’s a pity (that) so much time was wasted. | “We’re leaving tomorrow.” “What a pity!” 3 take/have pity on sb to feel sympathy for someone and do something to help him/her [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French pité, from Latin pietas “piety, pity”] point 1 n. 1 [C] a central point or pin on which something balances or turns 2 also pivot the most important idea or event on which all the other parts of a plan, situation, process, etc. are based pivot 2 v. [L.T] to turn or balance on a central point, or to make something do this: The table-top pivots on two metal pins.
pivot on sth phr. v. to depend on or be planned around one important thing, event, idea, etc.: Her future pivoted on their answer.
pivotal /'pɪvətəl/ adj. a pivotal time, event, or person has a very important effect on the way something develops: Parker played a pivotal role in getting the deal.
pixel /'piksəl/ n. [C] it the smallest unit of an image on a computer screen pixmap /'piksɪm/ n. [C] a very small imaginary creature with magic powers that looks like a person pizza /'piːtsə/ n. [C.U] a thin flat round bread, baked with TOMATO, cheese, and usually vegetables or meat on top: a slice of pizza [Origin: 1800—1900 Italian “pie”] placemat /'pleɪmæt/ n. [C] a large sign or advertisement that you carry or put on a wall place /'pleɪs/ n. [C] 1 AREA/SPACE/BUILDING etc. any space or area, for example a particular point on a surface or a room, building, town, city, etc.: Keep your money place in a safe place. [a beautiful place surrounded by mountains] She was born in a place called Black River Falls. [The water is 30 feet deep in places (=in some areas)] a sore place on my knee position – the exact place where someone or something is, in relation to other things: We need to know the enemy's position.

THESAURUS

spot (informal) – a place, especially a pleasant one where you spend time: It's a favorite spot for picnics.
point – an exact place, for example on a map: At this point the path gets narrower.
location – the place where a hotel, store, office, etc. is, or where a movie is made: The apartment's in an ideal location.
site – a place where something is going to be built, or where something important happened: the site for the new airport; an archaeological site scene – a place where an accident or crime happened: Firefighters arrived at the scene within minutes.

2 WHERE DO YOU DO STH a building or area that is used for, or is suitable for, a particular purpose or activity: I spent 20 minutes trying to find a place to park. [a place of worship (=a church, mosque, etc.)] There's a nice Korean place (=a restaurant) on the corner. [Mexico's a great place for a vacation.] A library is no place for a party.

3 take place to happen: The earthquake took place at about 5:00 this morning.

4 WHERE SB LIVES (informal) the house, apartment, or room where someone lives: I'm going over to Jeff's place (=this house) for dinner. [For months I've been looking for a new place to live.] a place (=his house)

5 SEAT/POSITION IN LINE a space where you can sit, or a position in a line: Is this place taken (=being used)? Can you save my place (=not let anyone else use it)?

6 RIGHT POSITION/ORDER the right or usual position or order: Put the CDs back in their place. [By six o'clock, everything was in place for the party.]

7 in place of sb/sth instead of someone or something: Try using mixed herbs in place of salt on vegetables.

8 in sb's place used when talking about what you would do if you were in someone else's situation: What would you do in my place?

9 IMPORTANCE the importance or position that someone or something has, compared to other people or things: No one could take her place (=be as important or loved as she is). [Carlo has friends in high places (=with important ranks in society).] By the 1950s, cars had taken the place of (=were used instead of) trains. [There will always be a place for you here (=position for you to have).]

10 RIGHT OCCASION the right occasion or situation: This isn't the place to talk business.

11 first/second/third etc. place first, second, etc. position in a race or competition: Jerry finished in third place.

12 in the first/second/third place (spoken) used in order to introduce a series of points in an argument or discussion: Well, in the first place, I can't afford it, and in the second place, I'm not really interested.

13 all over the place (informal) everywhere: There were children all over the place!

14 it is not sb's place (to do sth) if it is not your place to do something, you do not have the duty or right to do it: It's not her place to tell me how to raise my kids.

15 out of place not appropriate for or comfortable in a particular situation: I felt really out of place at Cindy's wedding.

16 put sb in his/her place to show someone that she is not as important, intelligent, etc. as she thinks she is.

17 go places (informal) to become successful: Work hard and you could really go places.

18 also Place used in the names of short streets: I live at 114 Seaview Place.

place v. [T] 1 to put something somewhere, especially with care: Seth placed his trophy on the top shelf. [She placed the money in a large brown envelope.] 2 to put someone or something in a particular situation: You'll be placed with the advanced students. [This places me in a very difficult position.] 3 to decide that someone or something is important or valuable: Your father has placed great trust in you. 4 can't place sb to recognize someone, but be unable to remember where you have met him/her before: I know the name, but I can't quite place her. 5 to arrange for something to be done: The police department placed an order for six new cars. [He placed an ad/advertisement in the local paper. 6 to find a job or place to live for someone: The agency had placed her in a local firm. He was later placed with a foster family.

pla-ce-bo /pla'sibou/ n. (plural placebos) [C] BIOLOGY a harmless substance such as water, that is given to a patient instead of medicine without telling him/her it is not a medicine, often as part of a test. [Origin: 1700—1800 Latin “I shall please,” from placeve] place-ment /'pleIsment/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of finding a place for someone to live, work, or go to college: a job placement [the college placement office (=where you help find work)] 2 the act of putting something or someone in a position: He wasn't satisfied with the furniture placement. [You'll need to take a placement test (=test that decides which level of class you can take).] place-name /'pleIsneIm/ n. [C] the name of a particular city, mountain, etc.

pla-centa /pla'sentə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an organ that forms inside a woman's uterus to feed a baby that has not been born yet plac-id /'plæskid/ adj. calm and peaceful: There was a placid expression on her face. [the placid waters of the lake —placidly adj plagia-rism /ˈplæɡ.ɪəˌrɪzəm/ n [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the act of using someone else’s words, ideas, or work and pretending they are your own, or the words, etc. themselves. She was accused of plagiarism in writing her thesis. | an article full of plagiarisms [ORIGIN: 1600—700 plagiarious “plagiarism” (17—19 centuries), from Latin plagiarus “thief”] — plagiarist n [C] plagiarize /ˈplæɡ.ɪəˌraɪz/ v [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to take someone else’s words, ideas, etc. and copy them, pretending that they are your own: The teacher accused me of having plagiarized.

plague /ˈpleɪdʒ/ n 1 [C,U] any disease that causes death and spreads quickly to a large number of people. 2 a plague of rats/locusts etc. a very large and dangerous number of rats, etc.

plague /ˈpleɪdʒ/ v [T] to make someone suffer over a long period of time, or to cause trouble again and again: Gloria had always been plagued by ill health.

plaid /ˈplæd/ n [C,U] a pattern of crossed lines and squares, used especially on cloth — plaid adj: a plaid work shirt

plain /ˈpleɪn/ adj 1 very clear, and easy to understand or recognize: It’s quite plain that you don’t agree. | Why don’t you tell me in plain English (=without using technical or difficult words)? 2 without anything added or without decoration (BYN): simple: plain yogurt | a plain blue suit | a sheet of plain paper (=paper with no lines on it) 3 showing clearly and honestly what you think about something: Albright was known for her plain speaking. 4 a woman or girl who is plain is simply or without decoration — see, hear, or understand: Tony was plainly nervous as he began his speech. 2 simply or without decoration: a plainly dressed young girl

plain-clothes /ˈplɛɪnkləʊz/ n [C,U] plainclothes police wear ordinary clothes so that they can work without being recognized plainly /ˈpleɪnli/ adv 1 in a way that is easy to see, hear, or understand: Tony was plainly nervous as he began his speech. 2 simply or without decoration: a plainly dressed young girl

plain-tiff /ˈplɛntɪf/ n [C] LAW the person who brings a legal action against another person in a civil court (excerpt of law that deals with the affairs of private citizens rather than crime) — defendant

plain-tive /ˈplɛntɪv/ adj (literary) a plaintive sound is high, like someone crying, and sounds sad: the plaintive cry of the wolf

plan /ˈplæn/ n [C] 1 something that you have decided to do or achieve: She has no plans to retire. | Brown’s plans for the future | We made plans to go out and see him in the fall. | Do you have any plans for Friday night?

plan /ˈplæn/ v (planned, planning) 1 [T,L] also plan out to think about something you want to do, and how you will do it: Mary’s planning a 21st birthday party for her son. | Most problems can be avoided by careful/good planning. 2 [T] to intend to do something: How long do you plan on staying? | David plans to work part-time. 3 [T] to think about something you are going to make or build, and decide what it will look like: Planning a small garden is often difficult.

plane /ˈpleɪn/ n [C] 1 a vehicle that flies in the air and has wings and at least one engine (BYN): airplane | What time does your plane take off? | The plane landed at O’Hare Airport. | My son held my hand as we boarded the plane. 2 a level or standard of thought, conversation, etc.: a higher plane of intellectual curiosity 3 a tool that has a flat bottom with a sharp blade in it, used for making wooden surfaces smooth | 4 MATH a completely flat surface in geometry planet /ˈplænt/ n [C] 1 physics a very large round object in space, that moves around a star, such as the Sun: Mercury is the smallest planet. | 2 the planet the Earth: weapons capable of destroying the planet | the richest goldmine on the planet [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French planete, from Late Latin planeta, from Greek plan·et ary /plan·ə·ter·i·əl/ adj. planetary /plan·ə·ter·i·əl/ [C] a building where lights on a curved ceiling show the movements of planets and stars plan·e·tar·i·um /plan·ə·ter·i·əm/ n. [C] a building where lights on a curved ceiling show the movements of planets and stars plan·k·ton /plæktən/ n. [U] BIOLOGY very small plants and animals that live in the ocean and are eaten by fish [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 German, Greek, from planktos "wandering," from planateis "to wander"] plan·ner /plænər/ n. [C] someone who plans something, especially someone who plans the way cities grow and develop: city planners | He works as a financial planner.

plant1 /plænt/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a living thing that has leaves and roots and grows in the ground, especially one that is smaller than a tree → HOUSEPLANT: a plant that grows well in the shade | a bean plant. 2 ECONOMICS a factory and all its equipment: a manufacturing plant

plant2 v. [T] 1 to put plants or seeds in the ground to grow: Plant tomatoes in a sunny place. | a hillside planted with pine trees. 2 (informal) to hide stolen or illegal goods in someone's clothes, bags, room, etc. in order to make him/her seem guilty of a crime: The police were accused of planting evidence against him. 3 to put something firmly somewhere: He stood, his feet planted slightly apart. 4 plant an idea/doubt/suspicion (in sb's mind) to mention something that makes someone begin to have an idea, doubt, etc.: Don't plant ideas in the boy's head! — planting n. [C,U]

Plan·ta·tion /plan·ətən/ n. [C] 1 a large farm, especially in a hot country, where a single crop such as tea, cotton, or sugar is grown: a rubber plantation. 2 HISTORY in the past, a large farm in the U.S. South that used slaves to grow cotton, tobacco, etc.

plant·er /plæntər/ n. [C] 1 a container in which plants are grown 2 someone who owns or is in charge of a plantation plaque /plæk/ n. 1 [C] a piece of flat metal or stone with writing on it: A bronze plaque on the house read: "Walt Whitman was born here." 2 [U] BIOLOGY a harmful substance that forms on your teeth, that BACTERIA can live and grow in [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French, Dutch plak, from plakken "to stick"] plas·ma /plazmə/ n. [U] 1 BIOLOGY the yellowish liquid part of the blood that contains the blood cells. 2 PHYSICS a gas that exists at very high pressure but is considered a liquid because of its low density. temperatures, for example in stars, which consists of ions and electrons.

plate /plæt/ n. [U] a substance used for covering walls and ceilings to give them a smooth surface.

plaster /ˈpleɪstər/ n. 1 to spread or stick something all over a surface so that it is thickly covered: a wall plastered with posters 2 to cover a surface with plaster plasterboard /ˈpleɪstərbɔːd/ n. [U] a mixture of a white powder and water that dries quickly, used especially for making statutes or molds.

plastic /ˈplæstɪk/ adj. 1 made of plastic: a plastic bag | plastic cups ➔ see picture at MATERIAL 2 (disapproving) seeming artificial or not natural: a plastic smile | plastic-tasting food 3 a plastic substance such as clay can be formed into many different shapes and then keeps the shape until someone changes it plastic surgery n. [U] the medical practice of changing the appearance of people’s faces or bodies, either to improve their appearance or to repair injuries.

plate /ˈpleɪt/ n. 1 [C] a flat, usually round dish that you eat from or serve food on: a china plate | Even Jon cleaned his plate (=ate all the food that was on his plate). 2 [C] also plateful /ˈplætʃʊl/ the amount of food on a plate ➔ DISH: a plate of scrambled eggs and toast 3 [C] a flat piece of metal, glass, bone, etc.: A brass plate on the door had the director’s name on it. 4 gold/silver etc. plate [U] ordinary metal with a thin covering of gold, silver, etc. 5 [C] (informal) a LICENSE PLATE: New Jersey plates 6 [singular] the place where the person hitting the ball stands in the sport of baseball: Reid stepped up to the plate, swung, and hit the ball. 7 [C] a thin piece of plastic with false teeth in it plaque /ˈpleɪtʃ/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a large area of flat land that is higher than the land around it 2 a period during which the level or amount of something does not change: I had reached a plateau in my career. ➔ see picture on page A11 ➔plateau n. [I] plateau /ˈpleɪtəʊ/ adj. gold-plated/silver-plated/brass-plated etc. covered with a thin layer of gold, silver, or other metal: a silver-plated spoon

plate glass n. [U] clear glass made in large thick sheets, used especially in store windows ➔plate-glass adj.: a plate-glass window platelet /ˈpleɪtliːt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a type of cell in your blood that helps it to clot (=become solid) when you bleed, so that you stop bleeding

plate tectonics n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a scientific idea that explains how movement in the very large sheets of rock that form the surface of the Earth produces mountains and causes volcanoes and EARTHQUAKES, etc. ➔ TECTONIC PLATE

platform /ˈplætrəm/ n. 1 a raised structure for people to stand or work on: He climbed onto the wooden platform and began to speak. | an oil platform 2 POLITICS the main ideas and aims of a political party, especially the ones that they state just before an election: Tax cuts may be included in the party platform for the next election. 3 if the type of computer system or software that someone uses: a multimedia platform 4 a chance for someone to express his/her opinions: He used the TV interview as a platform for his views on education. 5 the place in a railroad station or SUBWAY where you get on and off a train: We were waiting on the platform.

plating /ˈpleɪtɪŋ/ n. [U] a thin layer of metal that covers another metal surface: silver plating platonic /ˈplætənɪk/ adj. a relationship that is platonic is friendly, but not sexual play /pleɪ/ n. (played, plays) 1 SPORT/GAME a) [U] to take part or compete in a game or sport: men playing poker | Kara played... play

basketball in college. | Garcia plays for the Hornets. | The 49ers are playing the Vikings on Saturday (=they are competing against the Vikings). b) [T] to use a particular piece, card, person, etc. in a game or sport: Coach Nelson will play Williams at quarterback.

2 CHILDREN/TOYS [T] to do things that you enjoy, especially to pretend things or use toys: a little girl who likes playing with dolls | Outside, the kids were playing tag/catch/house etc. | Parents need to spend time just playing with their children.

3 MUSIC a) [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to perform a piece of music on an instrument: The band played for 10,000 people at the Newport Festival. | Matt plays drums. b) [T] to make a radio, STEREO, etc. produce sounds, especially music: a story tape to play for the kids in the car | an entertainment center capable of playing CDs, DVDs and games

4 play a part/role to have an effect or influence on something: Police believe he may have played a role in the boy’s death.

5 THEATER/MOVIE a) [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to act as one of the characters in a movie, television, or theater performance: Kidman plays the role/part of Virginia Woolf in the movie. | He plays a shy, nervous man. b) [I] to be performed or shown at a theater, etc.: Where’s the movie playing?

6 BEHAVE (linking verb) [T] (informal) to behave in a particular way, or pretend to have a particular quality, in order to achieve something: If he asks, just play dumb (=pretend you do not know the answer). | The accusation that scientists are playing God (=be using their knowledge to change the world in a way that has not been planned). | Doctors warned parents to play it safe (=do the safest thing) by immunizing their children. | Tracy forced herself to play it cool (=stay calm and not be too eager) with Brad.

7 play ball a) to throw, hit, kick, or catch a ball as a game or activity: Don’t play ball in the street. b) (informal) to agree to do something that someone wants you to do: They threatened to stop advertising if the magazine didn’t play ball.

8 play a trick/joke/prank on sb to do something to surprise or deceive someone, and make other people laugh

9 play tricks (on you) if your mind, memory, sight, etc. plays tricks on you, you feel confused and not sure about what is happening

10 play it by ear (informal) to decide what to do as things happen, instead of planning anything: We’ll see what the weather’s like and play it by ear.

11 play sth by ear to be able to play music after you have heard it instead of by reading the notes

12 play games (disapproving) to not be serious about what you are doing, or not say what you really think, especially in a way that tricks or deceives other people: Stop playing games and just tell me what you want.

13 play with fire to do something that could have a very bad result: If you invest in high-risk stocks, you’re playing with fire.

14 play your cards right to behave in an effective way in a situation, in order to get what you want: If you play your cards right, eventually you’ll get promoted.

15 play second fiddle to sb/sth to be involved in an activity, but not be as important as the main person or group that is involved in it [Origin: Old English pielen]

GRAMMAR

Do not use a preposition or “the” after play when you are talking about playing a game or sport: They’re playing football. Do not say “They’re playing at football” or “They’re playing the football.” Always use “the” after the verb play and before the names of musical instruments: Anna plays the piano.

play around phr. v. 1 to spend time having fun, but without having a particular purpose: I didn’t get good grades because I played around a lot. 2 (informal) to have a sexual relationship with someone who is not your husband or wife play sth ↔ back phr. v. to let someone hear or see again something that has been recorded on a TAPE, VIDEO, etc.: Body rewound the tape and played it back.

play sth ↔ down phr. v. to make something seem less important or bad than it really is. The White House tried to play down the latest economic figures.

play on sth phr. v. to use a feeling or idea in order to get what you want, often in an unfair way: His campaign plays on people’s fear of crime.

play sth ↔ up phr. v. to make something seem better or more important than it really is: The town has played up its location to attract tourists.

play with sth phr. v. 1 to keep touching or moving something: Stop playing with the remote control! 2 also play around with sth to organize or think about something in different ways, to see what works: I’ve been playing with the design of the newsletter.

play phr. v. a) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a story that is written to be performed by actors, especially in a theater: a play by Shakespeare | a play about two men on trial for murder | Each year, the drama department puts on/performers a play in the spring. b) [C,U] the actions of the people who are playing a game or sport: On the next play, Johnson ran fifteen yards for a touchdown. c) [U] the things that people, especially children, do for fun, such as using toys: the shouts of children at play | Children learn through play | a play area with slides and swings d) [U] the effect or influence of something: All of these factors are at play (=having an effect) in any human relationship. | Cultural differences come into play (=begun to have an effect) when trying to sell a product in a foreign country. | A complex system of muscles is brought into play (=begun to be used) for each body movement.

5 play on words a use of a word or phrase play·ful /play·fəl/ adj. 1 playful tunes 2 playful children tumbling in the snow play·ful·ly adv. play·ful·ness n.
play·ful·ty n.
play·ful·ty /play·fəl·ti/ n. [C] a soft substance like colored clay, used by children for making shapes play·er /play·ər/ n. 1 someone who plays a game, sport, or musical instrument: a piano player | a basketball player 2 one of the people, companies, organizations, etc. that is involved in a situation: a major/dominant key player in the stock market 3 a CD/record/cassette etc. player a machine that is used to play CDs, etc.
play·ful·ly adv. 1 intended to be fun rather than serious, or showing that you are having fun: playful tunes | She gave him a playful poke. 2 very active and happy: playful children tumbling in the snow — play·ful·ness n. (U) play·ground /play·grəund/ n. [C] an area where children can play, especially at a school or in a park, that often has special equipment that children can climb on, ride on, etc.
play·house /play·hous/ n. 1 a theater, often used as part of a theater’s name: the Pasadena Playhouse 2 a small structure like a house, that children can play in play·in·g card n. [C] a CARD play·ing field n. 1 [C] a large piece of ground with particular areas marked on it for playing football, baseball, etc. 2 a level playing field a situation in which different people, companies, countries, etc. can all compete fairly with each other because no one has special advantages: Canada limits election spending in an attempt to create a level playing field.
play·mate /play·meit/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a friend you play with when you are a child play·off /play·off/ n. [C usually plural] a game or series of games played by the best teams or players in a sports competition, in order to decide the final winner: The Chicago Cubs are in the playoffs.
play·pen /play·pen/ n. [C] an enclosed area like an open box with a net or wooden bars around it, in which very young children can play safely play·room /play·rʊm/ n. [C] a room for children to play in play·time /play·taim/ n. [U] a period of time during which a child can play: Don’t let TV take up too much playtime. play·wright /play·raitht/ n. [C] ENG., LANG., ARTS someone who writes plays pla·za /pləza, -pləsə/ n. [C] an outdoor public place, usually with a lot of stores and small businesses plea /pli/ n. [C] 1 a request that is urgent and full of emotion: a plea for help | They made a plea for more resources. 2 LAW a statement by someone in a court of law saying whether she is guilty or not: The defendant entered a plea of “not guilty.”
plea·bar·gain v. [I] LAW to avoid punishment for a serious crime by agreeing to say you are guilty of a less serious one plead /plid/ v. 1 [past tense and past participle pleaded] to ask for something you want very much, in an urgent and emotional way (with beg) | Mother pleaded with Dad to be gentler with us. | He pleaded for forgiveness.
pleas·ant /pliəznt/ adj. 1 enjoyable, nice, or good: It had been a pleasant evening. | a pleasant surprise pleas·ant·ly adv. We were pleasantly surprised by how welcoming everyone was.
pleas·ant·ry /pliəzəntri/ n. [plural: pleasantries] [C] (formal) something that you say in order to be polite please1 /pliz/ interjection 1 used in order to be polite when asking someone to do something: Patty, sit down, please. | Could you please hold the line? 2 used in order to be polite when asking for something: Can I have a cookie, please? | Can I pleasing (adj.) 1 (formal) giving pleasure, enjoyment, or satisfaction: a pleasing flavor 2 [U] an activity or experience that you enjoy very much: Chocolate is one of my chief pleasures.

pleasure (n.) 1 a feeling of happiness, satisfaction, or enjoyment 2 [U] a large amount of something: It's a pleasure to finally meet you.

pleasingly (adv.) 1 in a way that is pleasant or enjoyable: He took pleasure in his work.

pleasingly (adv.) 2 with pleasure 3 [U] a lot/ lots, a multitude of sb/sth, a plethora of sth, myriad —MANY

pleasure (n.) —HAPPY

pleased (adj.) 1 happy or satisfied: Your mom will be really pleased.
2 (I'm) pleased to meet you.

pledge (v.) 1 to make a formal, usually public, promise: Canada pledged to provide medical aid.

pledge (n.) 1 the Pledge of Allegiance pledge (v.) 2 to make someone formally promise something: Employees were pledged to secrecy.

pleasure (n.) —HAPPY

pleasureable (adj.) 1 able: pleasurable activities pleasureful (adj.) 2 pleasant to the eye (=nice to look at).

pleasure (n.) —HAPPY

plenty (n.) 1 an official statement said by Americans in which they promise to be loyal to the United States. It is usually said by children every morning at school.

plenty (adv.) 1 more than enough in amount or number: a plentiful supply plenty (n.) —HAPPY

pleasureable (adj.) 1 able to bend wire or cutting it: pliers pleasureful (adj.) 2 (spelled s) a flat fold in a piece of clothing —pleat pleasureful (adj.) 1 a serious promise or agreement to do something or give money to something: a pledge of support pleasureful (adj.) 2 someone who promises to become a member of a college fraternity or sorority pleasureful (v.) 1 to make a formal, usually public, promise: Canada pledged to provide medical aid.

pleasureful (n.) 1 a large amount of something: Hunters in the 1800s found a plenty of beaver.

pleasureful (adj.) 2 more than enough pleasureful (adv.) 1 somewhat

pleasureful (n.) —HAPPY

pleasureful (v.) 1 to make someone formally promise something: Employees were pledged to secrecy.

pleasureful (adj.) 1 able to bend without breaking or cracking (SYN: flexible) pleasureful (n.) 1 a large metal tool used for bending wire or cutting it: a pair of pliers

pleasureful (n.) —HAPPY

plenty (n.) —HAPPY

pleasureful (v.) 1 to move or do something very slowly, especially in a way that is boring or that shows you are tired: We plopped uphill. | The movie plods along without very much ever happening. —plodding adj.

plop1 /plɒp/ v (plopped, plopping) [L.T] to sit down, fall down, or drop something somewhere in a careless way: Jaime plopped down on the bed. | I plopped a couple of ice cubes into a glass.

plop2 n. [C] the sound made by something when it falls or is dropped into liquid plot1 /plɒt/ n [C] 1 the events that form the main story of a book, movie, or play: The movie has a very complicated plot. 2 a secret plan you make with other people to do something illegal or harmful: a plot to kill the President

plot2 v (plotted, plotting) 1 [L.T] to make a secret plan, especially one intended to harm a particular person or organization: The group had plotted to smuggle explosives into the country. | Rebels plotted against the dictator. 2 [T] also plot out to make lines and marks on a chart or map that represent facts, numbers, etc.: These graphs plot the company’s progress.

plow1 /plɔː/ n [C] 1 a large piece of equipment used on farms that cuts up the surface of the ground so that seeds can be planted 2 (informal) a snow-plow plow2 v. 1 [L.T] to use a plow in order to cut earth, push snow off streets, etc.: newly plowed fields 2 [T] to move with a lot of effort or force: A ship plowed through the waves.

plow ahead phr.v. to continue to do something in spite of difficulties or opposition: She was silent, but I plowed ahead with my questions.

plow sth.  back phr.v. to use money that you have earned from a business to make the business bigger and more successful: Profits are plowed back into equipment and training.

plow into sth. phr.v. to hit something hard with a car, truck, etc.: We plowed into a parked car.

plow through sth. phr.v. to read or look at all of something even though it is difficult, long, or boring: Investigators plowed through the phone records.

ploy /ˈpləʊ/ n. (plural plys) [C] a way of tricking someone in order to gain an advantage: It was just a ploy to advance his political career.

pluck1 /plʌk/ v. [T] 1 to pull something quickly in order to remove it: She put flowers plucked from the garden into a vase. | She plucks her eyebrows (=pulls out hairs from the edges of them). 2 to take someone away from a place or situation: Rescue teams plucked people from the rooftops as the water rose. 3 pluck up the courage to make yourself be brave or confident enough to do something: I finally plucked up the courage to ask for a raise. 4 to pull the feathers off a chicken or other bird before cooking it 5 to quickly pull the strings of a musical instrument pluck2 n. [U] (old-fashioned) courage and determination to do something that is difficult: It takes a lot of pluck to do what he’s done. —plucky adj.

plug1 /plʌg/ n. [C] 1 the small object at the end of a wire, that is used for connecting a piece of electrical equipment to a socket (=supply of electricity) 2 a round flat piece of rubber, used for blocking the hole in a bathtub or sink 3 (informal) a way of advertising a book, movie, etc. by talking about it on a radio or television program plug2 v (plugged, plugging) [T] 1 also plug up to fill a hole or block it: The drain was plugged up with paper. 2 to advertise a book, movie, etc. by talking about it on a radio or television program: Susan was on the show to plug her new novel.

plug away phr.v. to continue working hard at something: Scientists have been plugging away at the problem.

plug sth.  in phr.v. to connect a piece of electrical equipment to a socket (=supply of electricity) 2 unplugged: Is the TV plugged in? 3 plug sth. into sth. phr.v. to connect one piece of electrical equipment to another: Can you plug the speakers into the stereo for me?

plum /plʌm/ n. [C] 1 a soft round usually purple fruit with a single large seed, or the tree on which it grows 2 a plum job/role/assignment plum-age /ˈplʌmɪdʒ/ n. [U] (formal) the feathers covering a bird’s body plumb /plʌm/ adv (spoken, informal) exactly or completely: He’s plumb crazy. | Sorry, I just plumb forgot.

plumb-er /ˈplʌmbər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to repair water pipes, sinks, toilets, etc. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French plommer “worker in lead,” from Latin plumbarius, from plumbus “lead,” because water pipes were originally made of lead] plumb-ing /ˈplʌmɪŋ/ n. [U] the system of water pipes in a house or building plume /plʌm/ n. [C] 1 a small cloud of smoke, dust, gas, etc.: Plumes of black smoke were coming from the garage. 2 a large feather plummet /ˈplʌmɪt/ v. [I] 1 to suddenly and quickly decrease in value: House prices have plummeted. 2 to fall suddenly and very quickly from a very plump

high place: The plane plummeted to the ground.

plump1 /plump/ adj. 1 attractively round and slightly fat; plump juicy strawberries 2 fat —used in order to be polte: He was 67, short, and a little plump.

plump2 also plump up v. [T] to make a pillow rounder and softer by shaking or hitting it plunder /'plunərd/ v. [I,T] to steal money or property from a place while fighting in a war: The Vikings invaded and plundered the town.

plunge /'plunj/ v. [I,T] to suddenly sit down: Grover plunged into the river.

plunk /plönk/ n. [U] things that are stolen during an attack or war.

plunge1 /'plunj/ v. 1 [I,T] to move, fall, or be thrown or pushed suddenly forward or downward: The plane plunged into the Atlantic shortly after takeoff. 2 [I] to suddenly decrease in amount or value: The stock market plunged more than 1,200 points.

plunge (abruptly) into sth phr. v. to suddenly experience a bad or difficult situation, or to make someone or something do this: The company was plunged into bankruptcy.

plunge2 n. 1 take the plunge to decide to do something risky, usually after delaying or worrying about it: Deming took the plunge and started his own business. 2 [C] a sudden decrease in amount, or a sudden fall plunge up phr. v. to continue giving someone the same thing: She was plunge uped on the TV.

plunge down phr. v. to spend a lot of money for something: He plunked down $30 for a box of chocolates.

plu·per·fect ˌpluˈpərفةkt/ n. the pluperfect ENG. LANG. ARTS THE PAST PERFECT plu·ral /ˈplurəl/ n. the plural ENG. LANG. ARTS IN grammar, the form of a word that represents more than one person or thing. For example, “dogs” is the plural of “dog.” —plural adj.: a plural noun/verb plu·ral·i·ty /ˌpluˈrələtι/ n. (plural pluralities) [C,U] the largest number of votes in an election, especially when this is less than the total number of votes that all the other people or parties have received plus1 /ˈpluːz/ (Ac) prep. used when one number or amount is added to another: Three plus six equals nine (3 + 6 = 9). 2 [Ac] to calculate [origin: 1500—1600 Latin “more” (adjective and adverb)] plus2 (Ac) conjunction and also: He’s going to college, plus he’s working 20 hours a week.

plus3 (Ac) adj., adv. 1 A plus/B plus/C plus etc. a grade used in a system of marking students’ work. For example, a C plus is higher than a C, but lower than a B minus. 2 greater than zero or a particular amount [minus: a temperature of plus 12°] She makes $50,000 a year plus. 3 plus or minus used in order to say that a number may be more or less by a certain amount: The poll’s margin of error was plus or minus 3 percentage points. 4 plus sizes sizes for women’s clothes that are larger than regular sizes plus4 n. [C] 1 MATH a plus sign 2 something that is an advantage or a quality that you think is good: The restaurant’s location is a big/major plus.

plush /ˈpluʃ/ adj. comfortable, expensive, and of good quality: a plush resort plus size n. [U] a type of cloth with a thick soft surface: a plush rabbit plus sign n. [C] MATH the sign (+)

Plu-to /ˈpluːtoʊ/ n. PHYSICS an object in space that was considered to be the smallest PLANET until 2006, when scientists decided that it was a DWARF PLANET rather than a planet plu·to·ni·um /ˌpləˈtoʊniəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY symbol Pu a metal that is an ELEMENT and is used for producing NUCLEAR power ply /plai/ n. [U] a unit for measuring the thickness of thread, rope, plywood, etc. based on the number of threads or layers that it has: two/three-ply etc. toilet paper ply1 v. (plied plies) 1 ply your trade/craft (written) to work at your business or special skill: He is now in his eighties, but still plying his trade. 2 [lit] (literary) a boat or vehicle that plies between two places travels to those two places regularly ply2 ab with sth phr. v. to continue giving someone large amounts of something, especially food and drinks ply-wood /ˈplɔ(l)əˌwud/ n. [U] a material made of thin sheets of wood stuck together to form a hard board p.m. used when talking about times that are between NOON and MIDNIGHT: I get off work at 5:30 p.m. [origin: 1600—1700 Latin post meridiem “after noon”]

PMS n. [U] premenstrual syndrome the uncomfortable physical and emotional feelings that many women have before their PERIOD starts pneu·mat·ic /ˈnjuːməˌtɪk/ adj. 1 filled with air: a pneumatic tire 2 able to work using air pressure: a pneumatic drill —pneumatically adv.

pneu-mo-nia /nuˈmənərə/ n. [U] a serious illness that affects your lungs and makes it difficult to breathe.

P.O. the written abbreviation of POST OFFICE

P.O. Box /ˈpou ˈboks/ n. [C] post office box a box in a post office that has a special number, to which you can have mail sent instead of to your home.

P.O.W. n. [C] PRISONER OF WAR: a P.O.W. camp poach /ˈpaʊtʃ/ v. [T] to cook food such as eggs or fish in a small amount of boiling liquid. 2 [U] to illegally catch or shoot animals, birds, or fish, especially from private land poacher /ˈpouʃər/ n. [C] someone who illegally catches or shoots animals, birds, or fish, especially on private land pocket /ˈpəkɪt/ 1 a small bag sewn into or onto shirts, coats, pants, or skirts, that you can put keys, money, etc. in: a key in his pants pocket. 2 the amount of money you have that you can spend: Over $20 million was taken out of the pockets of American taxpayers. a corporation with deep pockets (=a lot of money). 3 a small bag or piece of material that is attached to something such as a car seat, used for holding maps, magazines, etc. 4 a small area or amount that is different from what surrounds it: pockets of poverty in the city [origin: 1400—1500 Old North French pokète, frompoke “bag”] pocketbook /ˈpəkɪtbʊk/ n. [C] 1 a small notebook used for holding maps, magazines, etc. that the seeds grow in. 2 (old-fashioned) a WALLET OR PURSE pocketful /ˈpəkɪtfʊl/ n. [C] the amount that will fill a pocket, or a large amount: a pocketful of small change pocket knife /ˈpəkɪt n. [C] a small knife with a blade that you can fold into its handle pod /ˈpɑd/ n. [C] 1 the long green part of plants such as beans and peas that the seeds grow in. 2 a group of sea animals, such as whales and dolphins, that swim together pod-cast /ˈpɑdkaʊst/ n. [C] 1 a television or radio show in digital form, that you can download from a website and watch or listen to on equipment such as an MP3 PLAYER or podcasting n. [U] pod-i-a-trist /ˈpɑdiətrɪst/ n. [C] a doctor who takes care of people’s feet and treats foot diseases pod-ium /ˈpɑdiəm/ n. [C] 1 a tall narrow desk that you stand behind when giving a speech to a lot of people: Several speakers took the podium (=spoke from it) that night. 2 a small raised area for a performer, speaker, or musical conductor to stand on po-em /ˈpoʊəm/ n. [C] a piece of writing that expresses emotions, experiences, and ideas, especially in short lines using words that rhyme (=have a particular pattern of sounds). [origin: 1400—1500 French poème, from Latin, from Greek poiein “to make, create”] po-iet /ˈpouɪt/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who writes poems po-et-ess /ˈpoʊɪtɛs/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) ENG. LANG. ARTS a female poet po-et-ic /ˈpoʊɪtɪk/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to poetry, or typical of poetry: poetic language. 2 graceful and expressing deep emotions: a poetic and powerful ballet —poetically adv po-et-ic justice n. [U] a situation in which someone who has done something bad suffers in a way that you think she deserves po-et-ic license n. [U] the freedom to change facts, not obey grammar rules, etc. because you are writing poetry or making art po-et-ry /ˈpouærɪ/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS poems, or the art of writing them —PROSE: a book of Emily Dickinson’s poetry po-grom /ˈpoʊɡrɒm/ n. [C] a planned killing of large numbers of people, especially Jews, done for reasons of race or religion —genocide poign-ant /ˈpəʊɪnt/ adj. making you feel sad or full of pity; a simple melody and poignant lyrics [origin: 1300—1400 French, present participle of poindre “to prick, sting,” from Latin pungere] —poignancy n. [U] —poignantly adv

poin-set-ti-a /ˈpɔɪntɛtɪə/ n. [C] a plant with groups of large bright red or white leaves that look like flowers point /ˈpɔɪnt/ n. 1 ONE IDEA [C] a single fact, idea, or opinion in an argument or discussion: There were a lot of good points in his speech. | I made that point at a staff meeting last week. | I didn’t like his attitude, but I could see his point (undenounce his idea). | I had to admit that he had a point (his opinion is correct). 2 MAIN IDEA the point the main meaning or idea in something that is said or done: Come on, Charlie, get to the point (=say your idea directly)! | The point is (that) he had been proven wrong. | What’s your point, Rob? | I think you’re missing the point (=do not understand the most important thing). | He’s a nice guy, but that’s beside the point. The important/main/crucial point is that no one is wholly good or wholly evil. 3 PURPOSE [U] the purpose or aim of doing something: The whole point of traveling is to experience new things. | There's no point in continuing.

▶ Don't say "There's no point to continue."

4 IN TIME/DEVELOPMENT [C] a specific moment, time, or stage in something's development: At this/that point, Moore decided to tell him. | She had reached the point where she knew something had to change. | It's a good starting point for any future negotiations. | the turning point in the investigation (=the time when it changed)

5 PLACE [C] a particular position or place: the point where two lines cross each other

6 QUALITY [C] a particular quality or feature that someone or something has: Teachers try to focus on a learner's strong points (=best qualities or abilities), and then work on his or her weak points.

7 GAME/SPORT [C] a unit used for showing the score in a game or sport: The Rams beat the Giants by six points.

8 IN NUMBERS [C] MATH the sign (.) used for separating a whole number from the DECIMALS that follow it: four point five percent (=4.5%).

9 MEASURE [C] a measure on a scale: Stocks were down 12 points today at 8,098.

10 the high/low point of sth the best or worst part of something, or the best or worst moment: It was the high point of their trip.

11 SHARP END [C] the sharp end of something (SYN) tip: the point of a needle.

12 up to a point partly, but not completely: He believed her story, up to a point.

13 make a point of doing sth to deliberately do something: Don makes a point of spending Saturdays with his kids.

14 SMALL SPOT [C] a very small spot: a tiny point of light.

15 LAND [C] a long thin piece of land that stretches out into the ocean

16 to the point only talking about the most important facts or ideas: Your business letters should be short and to the point.

17 the point of no return a stage in a process or activity when it becomes impossible to stop it or do something different: We've reached the point of no return, so we might as well finish the project.

point 2 → [I] to show someone something by holding your finger out toward it: John pointed toward two of the players. | "That's my car," she said, pointing at a white Ford.
▶ see picture on page 49.
2 [T] to aim something, or to be aimed, in a particular direction: He pointed a gun at the old man's head. | Dzens of cameras were pointed toward them. | What time is it when the hand points to the 8, and the big hand points to the 12?
3 [T] to show someone which direction to go: There should be signs pointing the way to the beach.

point man n [C usually singular] 1 a soldier who goes ahead of a group to see if there is any danger 2 someone who is in charge of a particular subject in a company or organization: the administration's point man on health care point of view n [C] 1 a particular way of... poison /pouz/ n. [U] 1 a substance that can kill you or make you sick if you eat it, breathe it, etc.; rat poison 2 a person, feeling, idea, etc. that makes you behave badly or makes you feel very unhappy: Hatred is a poison for the soul. [Orig. 1200—1300 Old French “drink, poisonous drink, poison,” from Latin potio]

poisonous /poiznəs/ adj. containing poison or producing poison: a poisonous chemical | poisonous snakes — poisonously adv. harmful, toxic, detrimental, damaging, destructive ➔ HARMFUL poison ivy n. [U] a plant with an oily substance on its leaves that makes your skin hurt and itch if you touch it poison oak n. [U] a plant that has leaves that make your skin hurt and itch poisonously /poiznəsli/ adv.

poison·ing /pouziŋ/ n. [U] an illness that is caused by swallowing, touching, or breathing a poisonous substance: The children were suffering from food/fell poisoning.

poke /pouk/ v. 1 [T] to quickly push your finger or some other pointed object into something or someone: Polly poked me in the ribs. | David poked at the campfire with a stick. ➔ see picture on page A8

poke along phr. v. [informal] to move or travel slowly poke around phr. v. to look for something, especially by moving things: I began poking around in the cupboard.

Polaroid /poʊləˈroʊd/ n. [C] a camera that uses a special film to produce a photograph very quickly, or a photograph taken with this kind of camera polar /ˈpɔlər/ adj. 1 EARTH SCIENCES relating to the North Pole or the South Pole: polar ice 2 polar opposite someone or something that is completely opposite to another person or thing in character or style: Presidents Kennedy and Johnson were polar opposites in terms of style and background.

polar bear n. [C] a large white bear that lives near the North Pole polarize /poʊləˈraɪz/ v. [L.T] (formal) to divide into two opposing groups, or to make people do this: The trial polarized the city. ➔ polarization /ˌpouələˈraɪzən/ n. [U] polaroid /poʊləˈroʊd/ n. [C] (trademark) a camera that uses a special film to produce a photograph very quickly, or a photograph taken with this kind of camera polar zone n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES one of the two parts of the Earth that are near the NORTH POLE and the SOUTH POLE, where the weather is always very cold ➔ TEMPERATE ZONE, TROPICS

Pole /poul/ [C] someone from Poland

pole n. [C] 1 a long stick or post: a telephone pole (=holding up telephone wires outside) | a fishing pole. 2 earth sciences the most northern and southern point on a planet: an expedition to the North Pole 3 be poles apart to be very different from someone or something else: The two classes were poles apart in atmosphere. 4 physics one of two points at the end of a magnet where its power is strongest. 5 physics one of the two points at which wires can be attached to a battery in order to use its electricity.

po·lem·ic /pou'laim/ n. [C,U] strong arguments that criticize or defend a particular idea, opinion, or person — po·lem·ical adj.

pole vault n. the pole vault a sport in which you jump over a high bar using a special long pole — pole vaulter n. [C]

po·lice /pou'lis/ n.s 1 the police an official organization whose job is to catch criminals, make sure that people obey the law, and protect people and property: Her neighbors called the police.

po·lice state n. [C] politics a country where the government strictly controls most of the activities of its citizens — thesaurus pol·i·cy /pou'lis/ n. 1 (plural policies) 1 [C,U] a way of doing things that has been officially agreed and chosen by a political party, business, or organization: our foreign/economic/immigration etc. policy | the company’s policy on maternity leave | government officials who make policy | monetary policy | a leading authority on welfare policies 2 [C] a written agreement with an insurance company: a health insurance policy 3 [C] a particular principle that you believe in: It’s my policy not to gossip. [origin: (2) 1500—1600 French police “document, certificate,” from Old Italian polizia, from Greek apodeixis “proof”]

po·li·si·on·al /pou'liseI'nol/ adj. relating to or coming from Poland

Polish /po'lish/ n. 1 [U] the language used in Poland 2 the Polish plural] the people of Poland

po·lish /pou'lish/ v. [T] to make something smooth, bright, and shiny by rubbing it: He polished his shoes each night.

pol·ish /po'lish/ n. 1 a liquid, powder, or other substance that you rub into a surface to make it shiny: furniture polish | shoe polish 2 [U] a high level of skill and style in the way someone performs, writes, or behaves: Meeting new people will help you social polish. 3 [singular] the smooth shiny appearance of something, that is produced by polishing ➔ NAIL POLISH

po·lish·ed /po'lishd/ adj. 1 shiny because of being rubbed with polish: highly polished wood 2 done with great skill and style, or doing something with skill and style: a polished performance | a polished ballet dancer 3 polite and confident: a polished and sophisticated woman

po·lit·ic /po'lytic/ n. [C,U] political science — thesaurus

po·lice /pou'lis/ n. 1 a male police officer 2 a female police officer 3 (plural policewomen) 1 [C] a female police officer

po·lic·e·man /pou'lis'man/ n. (plural policemen) [C] a male police officer po·lic·e·woman /pou'lis'wou'man/ n. (plural policewomen) [C] a female police officer

po·li·ol·o·gy /pou'lou'IjI/ n. [U] 1 a branch of knowledge that deals with a particular subject or problem: political science

pol·i·te /po'lait/ adj. behaving or speaking in a way that is correct for the social situation you are in, or showing good manners: polite young people | It's not polite to talk with your mouth full. | a polite smile. | Len sipped at his drink to be polite. | They weren't just making polite conversation; they really wanted to know. —politely adv. —politeness n. [U]

THE SA URUS

have good manners — to behave in a polite way in social situations: Parents want to teach their children to have good manners.

well-behaved — behaving in a polite or socially acceptable way: My kids are generally well-behaved.

courteous — polite and respectful: You should be courteous to other drivers.

civil — polite but not very friendly: I know you don't like him, but try to be civil.

po·lit·i·cal /po'litikəl/ adj. 1 relating to the government, politics, and the public affairs of a country:
The U.S. has two main political parties. | the political issues that are important to senior citizens. 2 relating to the way that different people or groups have power within a system, organization, etc.: He was promoted for political reasons. 3 [not before noun] interested in or active in politics:
Mike’s never been political. —politically adv.:
She’s becoming more politically active.

politically correct (abbreviation P.C.) adj.: politically correct language, behavior, and attitudes are carefully chosen so that they do not offend or insult anyone —political correctness n. [U] political 'prisoner n. [C] someone who is put in prison because s/he criticizes the government political 'science also poli sci (informal) n. [U] the study of politics and government po·lit·i·ci·an /po'litisən/ n. [C] someone who works in politics, especially an elected member of the government

THE SA URUS

president — someone who is elected to be the official leader of a country that does not have a king or queen congressman/congresswoman — someone who is elected to be in Congress senator — someone who is elected to be a member of the Senate governor — someone who is elected to lead the government of a state

mayor — someone who is elected to lead the government of a town or city ➔ GOVERNMENT po·lit·i·ci·zation /po'litisəzən/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or more involved in politics: The Olympic Games should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

poli·tics /pə'lɪtɪks/ n. [U] ideas and activities relating to gaining and using power in a country, city, etc.: an important figure in American politics
a debate about local/national/international

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

poli·tics /pə'lɪtɪks/ n. [U] ideas and activities relating to gaining and using power in a country,
city, etc.: an important figure in American politics
a debate about local/national/international

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games
should not be politicized. — politicization adj.

pol·i·ti·cize /pə'litɪsəz/ v. [T] to make a situation, position, or organization more political or
more involved in politics: The Olympic Games should not be politicized. — politicization adj.
pollutant

pol-lu-tant /polˈlutənt/ n [C] a substance that makes air, water, soil, etc. dangerously dirty pol-lute /polˈlut/ v [T] to make air, water, soil, etc. dangerously dirty: Toxic waste is polluting the air/ocean/environment. —polluter n [C]

pol-lu-ted /polˈlʊtɪd/ adj full of pollution: heavily/highly/badly polluted air

THE SAURUS

dirty, filthy, soiled pol-lu-tion /polˈluʃən/ n [U] 1 the process of polluting a place: Toxic waste is a major cause of pollution. ➔ environment 2 substances that pollute a place: a plan to reduce pollution

po-lo /ˈpouloʊ/ n [U] an outdoor game played between two teams riding horses, who use long wooden hammers to hit a small ball ➔ water polo

polo shirt n [C] a shirt with short sleeves and a collar, usually made of cotton pol-y-es-ter /poˈliːestər/ n [U] an artificial material used especially to make cloth: a polyester suit pol-y-eth-yl-e ne /ˌpoʊˌliːθəlɪˈni/ n [U] a strong light plastic used for making bags, small containers, etc.

po-ly-ga-my /poʊˈliːgəmi/ n [U] the practice of having more than one husband or wife at the same time ➔ polygamous adj ➔ polygaminist n [C]

pol-y-gon /poʊˈliːgən/ n [C] a flat shape with three or more straight sides ➔ octagon ➔ pentagon ➔ decagon ➔ heptagon ➔ hexagon ➔ heptagon —a flat shape with seven sides and seven angles octagon —a flat shape with eight sides and eight angles decagon —a flat shape with ten sides and ten angles dodecagon —a flat shape with twelve sides and twelve angles

THE SAURUS

pentagon —a flat shape with five sides and five angles hexagon —a flat shape with six sides and six angles pol-y-graph /ˌpɔliˈgræf/ n [C] a lie detector: The suspect later passed a polygraph test.

pol-y-he-dron /ˌpɔliˈhedrən/ n [C] 1 math a solid shape with many sides, each of which is a polygon

pol-y-mer /ˌpɔliˈmer/ n [C] chemistry a chemical compound that has a simple structure of large molecules pol-y-no-mial /ˌpɔliˈnəʊmɪəl/ n [C] math in algebra, a mathematical expression consisting of two or more monomials (a single group of numbers or letters) added together or subtracted from each other. For example, 7x – 4x + 1 or 3x³ + 2x² + x – 5 are polynomials. ➔ polynomial adj: a polynomial equation pol-y-pod /ˌpɔliˈpɔd/ n [C] 1 biology a small lump that grows inside someone’s body and is caused by an illness ➔ biology a sea animal that has a body like a tube, and tentacles around an opening in its body that it uses both for eating and for getting rid of waste: a coral polyp [origin: 1300—1400 French polype, from Latin polypus “octopus,” from Greek, from poly- “many” + pous “foot”]

pol-y-sac-char-ide /ˌpɔliˌsækˈhɑrɪd/ n [C] biology a carbohydrate consisting of simple sugar molecules that have joined together ➔ monosaccharide pol-y-syl-lab-ic /ˌpɔliˈsɪləbɪk/ adj eng. lang. arts a polysyllabic word contains more than three syllables ➔ disyllabic, monosyllabic pol-y-technic /ˌpɔliˈteknɪk/ n [C] a college where you can study technical or scientific subjects

pol-y-the-ism /ˌpɔliˈθiːəsm/ n [U] social science the belief that there is more than one god ➔ polytheistic adj: polytheistic faiths, such as hinduism pol-y-un-sat-ur-at-ed /ˌpɔliˈənˌsətərəd/ adj polysaturated fats or oils come from vegetables and plants, and are considered to be better for your health than animal fats ➔ saturated fat

pom-e-gran-ate /ˈpɑmˌgrænət/ n [C] a round fruit with thick red skin and many juicy red seeds that you can eat pomp /pɒmp/ n [U] (formal) all the impressive clothes, decorations, music, etc. that are traditional for an important public ceremony

pom-pom /ˈpɔmpɔm/ also pom-pon /ˈpɔmpɔn/ n [C] 1 a large round ball of loose plastic strings connected to a handle, used by cheerleaders ➔ a small wool ball used as a decoration on clothing, especially hats pomp-ous /ˈpɒmpəs/ adj (disapproving) trying to make people think you are important, especially by using a lot of formal words: pompous politicians —pomposity /pəˈmɒspəti/ n. [U]

poncho /ˈpɒntʃoʊ/ n. (plural ponchos) [C] a type of coat that is made from a single piece of thick cloth, with a hole in the middle for your head, and sometimes a hood (=cover for your head) [Origin: 1700—1800 American Spanish, Araucanian (a group of South American languages) pond /ˈpaʊnd/ n. [C] a small area of fresh water that is smaller than a lake [Origin: 1200—1300 Old English pund, from Latin ponēre] ponder /ˈpʌndər/ v. [T] (formal) to spend time thinking carefully and seriously about something: Travers took a deep breath as he pondered the question. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French ponderer “to weigh,” from Latin ponderare, from pondus “weight”] ponderous /ˈpʌndərəs/ adj. 1 moving slowly or awkwardly because of being very big and heavy: an elephant’s ponderous walk 2 boring and too serious: His films are ponderous.

pony /ˈpaʊni/ n. (plural ponies) [C] a small horse poor /pɜər/ adj. 1 having very little money and not many possessions: She comes from a poor family. | a poor country

pool /pʊl/ n. 1 [C] also swimming pool a structure that has been specially built and filled with water so that people can swim or play in it: They have a nice pool in their backyard. 2 [U] a game in which you use a stick to hit numbered balls into holes in the sides and corners of a table: Let’s play/hit some pool. 3 pool of blood/water/oil etc. a small area of liquid on a surface: Creighton lay there in a pool of blood. 4 pool of light a small area of light shining on something 5 [C] a small area of still water in the ground: Mosquitoes breed in stagnant pools of water. 6 [C] a group of people who are available to work or to do an activity when they are needed: a pool of volunteers | a jury pool 7 [C] a group of things or an amount of money that is owned or shared by a group of people: Banks lend money from the huge pool of money that people have saved with them.

pool² v. [T] to combine your money, ideas, skills, etc. with those of other people so that you can all use them: If we pool our resources, we can start our own business.

pool hall n. [C] a building where people go to play pool pool table n. [C] a cloth-covered table with pockets at the corners and sides, used for playing pool poop /pʊp/ n. [singular, U] (spoken) solid waste from your bowels, or the act of passing waste: dog poop pooped v. [past tense] to pass solid waste from your bowels poopied /ˈpʊpipt/ also pooped 'out adj. (spoken) very tired: I’m pooped!

pooper scooper /ˈpʌpuːr skʌpər/ n. [C] (informal) a small shovel and a container, used by dog owners for removing their dogs’ solid waste from the streets

4 pool of light a small area of light shining on something

5 [C] a small area of still water in the ground: Mosquitoes breed in stagnant pools of water.

poor

THERSESARUS

needy – having very little food or money: The program provides health care to needy families.

destitute (formal) – having no money, no place to live, no food, etc.: The Depression left many farmers completely destitute.

impovery (formal) – very poor: an impoverished neighborhood in Chicago broke – not having any money for a period of time: I’m broke and I need a job.

impoverished (formal) – having very little money, especially over a long period of time: an impoverished student indigent (formal) – not having much money or many possessions: The funding is for indigent hospital patients.

penurious (formal) – lacking money and therefore poor: my penurious financial status poverty-stricken (written) – extremely poor: a poverty-stricken neighborhood underprivileged – poor and not having the advantages of most other people in society: The center helps underprivileged children.

deprived – not having the things that are poor·ly /ˈpɔrlɪ/ adv: a poorly lit room pop1 /ˈpɒp/ (popped popping) v. (past tense) to suddenly make a short sound like a small explosion, especially when something bursts, or to make something do this: Jody squeezed the balloon until it popped.

pop·corn /ˈpɑpknɔr/ n. a type of corn that swells and bursts open when heated, usually eaten warm with butter and salt

2 the poor people who are poor: The charity distributes food to the poor. 3 not as good as it could be or should be: The soil in this part of the country is poor. 4 [only before noun] (spoken) said in order to show pity for someone because s/he is unlucky, unhappy, etc.: Poor Stacy – her mother’s very sick. 5 not good at doing something; a poor student [origin: 1100—1200 Old French povre, from Latin pauper] pop·lar /ˈpɒplər/ adj. a very tall thin tree that grows very fast → see picture on page 510 pop·u·lace /ˈpɒpjuˌləs/ n. [C] a very tall thin tree that grows very fast → see picture on page 510

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific pop·u·lous /ˈpɒpjuˌləs/ adj. [plural poppies] [C] a brightly colored flower, usually red, with small black seeds pop quiz n. [C] a short test that is given without any warning in order to check that students have been studying pop·u·li·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlɪti/ n. [C] (trademark) frozen fruit juice on a stick pop·u·lar /ˈpɑpjuˌlər/ adj. 1 liked by a lot of people: His movies have become very popular. 2 the most popular kid in school. 3 popular woman.

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific pop·u·lar·o·ny /ˈpɑpjuˌlərəni/ n. the ordinary people living in a country

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·o·ny /ˈpɑpjuˌlərəni/ n. the ordinary people living in a country

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·o·ny /ˈpɑpjuˌlərəni/ n. the ordinary people living in a country

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·o·ny /ˈpɑpjuˌlərəni/ n. the ordinary people living in a country

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific

pop·u·lar·i·ty /ˈpɑpjuˌlærəti/ n. the ways in which people’s personal problems are dealt with on television or in books, but which are not considered scientific pop-u-lous /pɒˈpʊləs/ adj (formal) having a large population: the most populous country in Africa

pop-up n [C] 1 [C] 1 a window, often containing an advertisement, that suddenly appears on a computer screen when you are looking at a website —pop-up adj [only before noun]: Google does not allow pop-up ads of any kind on its site.

por-ce-lain /pɔrˈsɛlən/ n [U] a hard shiny white substance that is used for making expensive plates, cups, etc., or objects made of this porch /pɔrtʃ/ n [C] a structure built onto a house at its front or back entrance, with a floor and roof but no walls [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French porche, from Latin porticus, from porta “gate”]

por-cu-pine /pɔrˈkyəˌpən/ n [C] an animal with long sharp needle-like parts growing all over its back and sides pore1 /pɔr/ n [C] one of the small holes in your skin or in a leaf, that liquid can pass through

pore2 v

pore over sth phr v to read or look at something very carefully for a long time: We spent all day poreing over wedding magazines.

pork /pɔrk/ n [U] 1 the meat from pigs: pork chops 2 (slang, disapproving) government money spent in a particular area in order to get political advantages [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French porc: “pig,” from Latin porcus]

por-nog-ra-phy /pɔrˈnɔɡrəfə/ also porn /pɔrn/ n [U] magazines, movies, etc. that show sexual acts and images in a way that is intended to make people feel sexually excited —pornographer n.

po-rous /pɔrˈəʊs/ adj allowing liquid, air, etc. to pass through slowly: porous soil por-roi-se /pɔrˈroʊs/ n [C] a large sea animal, similar to a DOLPHIN, that breathes air

por-rige /pɔrˈrɪdʒ, ’pa-ɪ/ n [U] cooked OATMEAL

port /pɔrt/ n 1 [C,U] a place where ships can be loaded and unloaded: The ship was back in port after a week at sea. 2 [C] a town or city with a harbor: the port of Veracruz 3 [C] a place on the outside of a computer where you can connect another piece of equipment, such as a printer 4 [U] a strong sweet Portuguese wine 5 [U] the left side of a ship or aircraft when you are looking toward the front —port-a-ble /pɔrˈtæbəl/ adj light and easily carried or moved: a portable phone/computer —port-able /pɔrˈtəbl/ n [C]

pop-u-la-tion /ˌpɒpʃəˈleɪʃən/ n [C] 1 the number of people or animals living in a particular area, country, etc.: What’s the population of New York? There was a population explosion (a sudden large increase in population) between 1944 and 1964 in the U.S. 2 all of the people who live in a particular area or share a particular condition: Most of the population of Canada lives fairly near the U.S. border. | Florida has a large Hispanic population.

port-fo-li-o /pɔrˈfɔliə/ n 1 a collection of pictures or other pieces of work by an artist, photographer, etc.: You’ll need to submit a portfolio of your work along with your application. 2 ECONOMICS a collection of stock owned by a particular person or company: an investment portfolio [Origin: 1700—1800 Italian portafoglio, from portare “to carry” + foglio “leaf, sheet”]

port-hole /pɔrˈθəul/ n [C] a small window on the side of a ship or airplane port-ly /pɔrˈlɪ/ n (plural portly/ies) adj [often with a preceding adjective]: He’s a portly man por-tend /pɔrˈtɛnd/ v [T] (literary) to be a sign that something is going to happen, especially something bad: Do these strange events portend some great disaster?

port-ent /pɔrˈtɛnt/ n [C] (literary) a sign or warning that something is going to happen: I hope their cooperation is a portent of the future. —omen port-er /pɔrˈtər/ n [C] 1 someone whose job is to carry travelers’ bags at airports, hotels, etc. 2 someone whose job is to take care of the part of a train where people sleep

port-for-mal or port-for-mal-ly adv [formal]: 1 a large flat case used especially for carrying pictures, documents, etc. 2 ING. LANG. ARTS a collection of pictures or other pieces of work by an artist, photographer, etc.

por-tion /pɔrˈʃən/ n (formal) 1 a small or large amount of food for one person, especially when served in a restaurant: Do you have children’s portions? 2 a amount of food for one person, especially when served in a restaurant: Do you have children’s portions? 3 a share of something such as blame or a duty: Both drivers must bear a portion of the blame.

port-ion2 v

portion sth out phr v to divide something into... parts and give them to several people: Land was portioned out to new settlers.

por·trait /ˈpɔːtret/ n [C] 1 a painting, drawing, or photograph of a person: a family portrait ➔ see picture at PAINTING

2 a description of someone or something in a book, movie, etc.: The movie is a portrait of life in Harlem in the 1940s.

por·trait·ure /ˈpɔːtrɪtʃ/ [U] (formal) the art of painting or drawing pictures of people.

por·tray·al /ˈpɔːtrɪəl/ n 1 portrayal of someone or something in a particular way, according to your opinion of him/her: Each candidate portrayed himself as an enemy of big business.

2 to describe or represent something or someone: The movie portrays the life of Charlie Chaplin.

Portuguese /ˈpɔːtjɪs/ adj relating to or coming from Portugal

Portuguese /ˈpɔːtʃ/ n 1 [U] the language of Portugal, Brazil, and some other countries 2 the Portuguese [plural] the people of Portugal

pose /poʊz/ v 1 pose a problem/threat/challenge etc. to exist in a way that may cause a problem, danger, difficulty, etc.: Nuclear waste poses a threat to the environment. 2 [IT] to sit or stand in a particular position in order to be photographed or painted, or to make someone do this: The astronauts posed for pictures near the shuttle.

3 pose a question to ask a question that needs to be thought about carefully: Nielsen’s essay poses some tough questions.

4 pose as sb to pretend to be someone else in order to deceive people: The thief got in by posing as a repairman.

poser /poʊzәr/ n [C] someone who pretends to have a quality or social position she does not have, in order to seem impressive to other people

posh /pɑːʃ/ adj expensive and used by rich people: a posh hotel

po·si·tion /ˈpɔːzəʃən/ n

1 STANDING/SITTING [C] the way someone stands, sits, or lies, or the direction in which an object is pointing: You should be in a comfortable position when driving.  This exercise is done in a sitting/standing/kneeling position.

2 SITUATION [C usually singular] the situation that someone or something is in: The company is in a dangerous financial position right now. I’m not sure what I would do if I were in your position. I’m afraid I’m not in a position to help you (do not have the power or money to help you).

3 OPINION [C] an opinion about a particular subject: The senator has changed his position on abortion.

4 PLACE [CU] the place where someone or something is, in relation to other things: Help me put the furniture back in position. The army took up strategic positions around the capital.

5 JOB [C] a job: He decided to give up his position as coach of the football team.

Describing types of positions

senior – used about someone who has an important position in a company or organization: a senior executive chief – used about someone who has the most important or one of the most important positions in a company or organization, used especially in job titles: the company’s chief financial officer high-ranking – used about someone who has a high position in an organization such as the police, the army, or the government: high-ranking military officers top – used about someone who is in a very high position in a large company or organization, or someone in an important profession, for example a lawyer or a doctor, who is very successful in his/her job: the top executives of some of the country’s biggest corporations one of the agency’s top lawyers

junior – used about someone who does not have an important position or who has less experience than someone doing the same job: the junior senator from Mississippi

assistant – an assistant manager, director, editor, etc. has a position just below a manager, etc.: the store’s assistant manager job, work, employment, post, occupation ➔ job

6 RANK [C] the level or rank someone has in a society or organization: Ask someone in a position of authority. | a study on the position of minorities in our society.
17 SPORTS | C] the area where someone plays in a sport, or the type of actions s/he is responsible for doing in a game: “What position do you play?” “Second base.”
8 RACE/COMPETITION | [C.U] the place of someone or something in a race or competition in relation to the other people or things (own place): Palti has moved into first/second/third etc. position.
position | v. [T] to put something or someone in a particular place: Police positioned themselves around the bank.

pos-i-tive | /pəˈzətɪv/ | adj. 1 [not before noun] very sure that something is right or true: “Are you sure you don’t want a drink?” “Positive.” | I’m positive that I told her to meet us here at 2 o’clock.

2 hopeful and confident, and thinking about what is good in a situation rather than what is bad (ant) negative: The president sounded very positive about the state of the economy. | I always try to have a positive attitude.
3 good or useful (ant) negative: At least something positive has come out of the situation. | Living abroad has been a positive experience for Jim.
4 expressing support, agreement, or approval (ant) negative: So far, we’ve had mostly positive reactions to the new show.
5 a medical or scientific test that is positive shows signs of what is being looked for (ant) negative: He was banned after testing positive for drugs.
6 her pregnancy test came back/up/out positive.
7 MATH a positive number or quantity is higher than zero, (+) is the positive sign. (ant) negative: If you square any number, it gives you a positive number.
8 PHYSICS having the type of electrical charge that is carried by protons, shown by a (+) sign on a battery (ant) negative: Each battery has a positive and negative terminal.
9 BIOLOGY having rhesus factor in your blood (ant) negative: His blood type is AB positive.

positive | n. [C] a quality or feature that is good or useful (ant) negative: You can find positives in any situation.

pos-i-tive-ly | /pəˈzətɪvli/ | adv. 1 (informal) used in order to emphasize what you are saying: Some patients positively enjoy being in the hospital.
2 in a way that shows you agree with something and want it to succeed: News of the changes was received positively.
3 in a way that leaves no doubt: Don’t tell anyone unless you’re positively certain you can trust them.
4 PHYSICS having the type of electrical charge that is carried by protons: A positively charged ion has lost some electrons.

possible | /ˈpɒsəb(ə)l/ | adj. 1 as long/much/soon etc. as possible as long, much, etc. as you can:
2 able to be done, or likely to happen, exist, or be true → impossible: icy conditions are possible along the coast.

pos-itive-ron | /ˈpəzɪtɪvtrɑːn/ | n. [C] PHYSICS a particle (=very small piece of matter) that has the same mass as an electron but has a positive electrical charge.

pos-se ss | /ˈpɒsɪs/ | n. [C] 1 a group of men gathered together in past times by a sheriff (=local law officer) to help catch criminals. 2 (informal) someone’s group of friends – used especially by young people.

pos-ses-se ss | /pəˈzɛsɪ/ | v. [T] to own or have something: Neither of them possessed a credit card. | Bauer was charged with possessing illegal weapons.

2 what possessed sb (to do sth)? (spoken) said when you cannot understand why someone did something stupid: What possessed you to buy such an expensive gift? | [Origin: 1300–1400] Old French possesseur, from Latin possidere] —possessor n. [C]

pos-ses-sive | /ˈpəzɪsɪv/ | adj. (disapproving) wanting someone to have feelings of love or friendship only for you: I love Dave, but he’s very possessive.
2 unwilling to let other people use something you own: As a child, she was very possessive of her toys.

possessive | n. the possessive ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a word such as “my,” “its,” “their,” etc., used in order to show that one thing or person belongs to another thing or person, or is related to that thing or person —possessive adj.: a possessive adjective pos-si-bil-i-ty | /ˌpɒsəˈbɪləti/ | n. (plural possibilities) 1 [C.U] if there is a possibility that something is true or that something will happen, it might be true or it might happen: There’s always the possibility (that) we may all lose our jobs.

2 [C] an opportunity to do something, or something that can be done or tried: We want to explore all the possibilities.
3 the almost endless possibilities for sales growth program on a Macintosh? Computer technology now makes it possible for people to work at home. This is the best/worst possible result (it can be no better or worse). Would it be possible (for sb) to do sth? (spoken) said when asking politely if you can do or have something: Would it be possible to exchange these gloves? Whenever/wherever possible every time you have an opportunity to do something: She visits her grandmother whenever possible. [Origin: 1300—1400 French, Latin possibleis, from posse “to be able”]

possibly 780

postal _service_ n. the postal service the public service for carrying letters, packages, etc. from one part of the country to another post-card /ˈpoustraːd/ n. [C] a card, often with a picture on the front, that can be sent in the mail without an envelope: Send me a postcard while you’re away.

post-date /ˈpoustrət/ v. [T] to write a check with a date that is later than the actual date, so that it cannot be used until that time

post-er /ˈpoustrə/ n. [C] a large printed notice, picture, etc. used in order to advertise something or as a decoration: a poster of Bob Marley

post-it /ˈpouseatɪ/ n. [U] a small piece of paper that sticks to things, used for leaving notes for people

post-man /ˈpoustmæn/ n. (plural postmen /-mən/) [C] a mailman post-mark /ˈpoustrəmk/ n. [C] an official mark made on a letter, package, etc. that shows the place and time it was sent: postmark v. [T]: The card is postmarked Dec. 2.

post-mas-ter /ˈpoustrəmɑːstər/ n. [C] the person in charge of a post office

post-mortem /ˈpoustrəmaʊtəm/ n. [C] an examination of a dead body to discover why the person died post-office n. [C] a place where you can buy stamps, and send letters, packages, etc.

post-office box n. [C] a P.O. box

post-par-tum /ˈpoustrəpærəm/ adj. relating to the time just after a woman has a baby: postpartum depression post-pone /ˈpoustrəpoun/ v. [T] to change an event to a later time or date: cancel: The game was postponed because of rain. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin postpone, from post “after” + ponere “to put”: postponement n. [C.U]

THE SAURUS

`advertisement, commercial, billboard ➔ ADVERTISEMENT picture, sketch, painting, snapshot, portrait, cartoon, caricature, illustration ➔ PICTURE`

pos-te-ri-or /ˈpoustəriər/ n. [C] the part of the body you sit on post·card /ˈpoustrəd/ n. (formal) a stamp

post·age /ˈpoustrədʒ/ n. [U] the money charged for sending a letter, package, etc. by mail: Please add $3.95 for postage and handling (=the charge for packing and sending something you have bought).

postage stamp n. [C] (formal) a stamp

post·al /ˈpoustrəl/ adj. relating to the official mail system that takes letters from one place to another: postal workers

post·date /ˈpoustrət/ v. [T] to write a check with a date that is later than the actual date, so that it cannot be used until that time

post·er /ˈpoustrə/ n. [C] a large printed notice, picture, etc. used in order to advertise something or as a decoration: a poster of Bob Marley

post·er·ty /ˈpoustrəti/ adj. happening after someone’s death: a posthumous award

post·age /ˈpoustrədʒ/ n. [C] the money charged for sending a letter, package, etc. by mail: Please add $3.95 for postage and handling (=the charge for packing and sending something you have bought).

post·age stamp n. [C] (formal) a stamp

post·al /ˈpoustrəl/ adj. relating to the official mail system that takes letters from one place to another: postal workers postscript /ˈpɔːstskrɪpt/ (written abbreviation P.S.) n. [C] a message written at the end of a letter below the place where you sign your name (origin: 1500—1600 modern Latin postscriptum, from Latin postscribere “to write after”) postulate /ˈpɔːstjuːlət/ v. [T] (formal) to suggest that something might have happened or might be true posture /ˈpɔːstʃuːr/ n. [C,U] the position you hold your body in when you sit or stand: Poor posture can lead to back trouble.

postwar /ˈpɔːstwar/ adj. [only before noun] happening or existing after a war: postwar prosperity potato /ˈpɔːtətəʊ/ n. (plural potatoes) [C,U] a small bunch of flowers pot potbellied /ˈpɔːtbellɪd/ adj. likely to develop into a particular type of person or thing in the future: Brush regularly and avoid potential problems with your teeth.

potential /ˈpɔːtʃuːəl/ adj. likely to develop into a particular type of person or thing in the future: Brush regularly and avoid potential problems with your teeth. | potential customers/buyers | Today, acid rain is a potential threat to crops in the region. (origin: 1300—1400 late Latin potentialis, from Latin potentia “power”) postscript /ˈpɔːstskrɪpt/ n. [C] a message written at the end of a letter below the place where you sign your name (origin: 1500—1600 modern Latin postscriptum, from Latin postscribere “to write after”) pot /ˈpɔːt/ n. 1 [C] a container used for cooking, that is round, deep, and usually made of metal, or the amount this container holds ➔ jar, pan, saucepan: pots and pans | a pot of soup 2 [C] a container with a handle and a small tube for pouring, used for making coffee or tea ➔ jug: a coffee pot 3 [C] a container for a plant (informal) flowerpot: The plant needs a new pot. 4 go to pot (informal) if an organization or a place goes to pot, its condition worsens because no one takes care of it: The farm has gone to pot since my uncle died. 5 the pot (informal) all the money that people have risked in a game of cards 6 [U] (informal) marijuana (origin: old English pot)

pot5 /ˈpɔt/ v. (potted, potting) [T] to put a plant in a pot filled with soil potable /ˈpɔtəbəl/ adj. (formal) potable water is safe to drink potassium /ˈpɔtəskəm/ n. [U] chemistry (symbol K) a silver-white soft metal that is an element and is used in making soaps and fertilizers (origin: 1800—1900 modern Latin, English potash) potato chip n. [C] one of many thin hard pieces of potato that have been cooked in oil, and that are sold in packages: a bag of potato chips potbelly /ˈpɔtˌbɛli/ n. (plural potbellies) [C] a large round stomach that sticks out ➔ potbellied potent /ˈpɔtənt/ adj. powerful and effective: a potent weapons system | potent drugs potentiate /ˈpɔtəntɪət/ v. [T] (literary) a ruler with direct power over his people poultry /ˈpoultri/ n. [U] birds such as chickens, that are kept on farms for supplying eggs and meat, or the meat from these birds pour /ˈpouər/ v. [I] to suddenly jump on a person or animal after waiting to catch him, her, or it: He pounced on my back, forcing me to the ground.

pounce on sb/sth phr. v. to criticize someone’s mistakes or ideas very quickly and eagerly: Republicans quickly pounced on the president’s proposal.

pound /paʊnd/ n. [C] 1 (written abbreviation lb) a unit for measuring weight, equal to 16 OUNCES or 453.6 grams: a pound of apples | Jim weighs 175 pounds. | She’s lost/gained ten pounds this year (=her weight has gone down or up by 10 pounds). 2 the pound a place where lost dogs and cats are kept until the owner claims them | the standard unit of money in the U.K. and some other countries: It cost three pounds. | a ten-pound note

pound2 /ˈpaʊnd/ v. 1 [T] to hit something several times to make a lot of noise, damage it, make it lie flat, etc.: Thomas pounded on the desk with his fist. | The man suddenly began pounding his head against the wall. | The women pounded the grain to make flour. | pounded on: to attack a place continuously for a long time with bombs: Enemy guns pounded the city until morning. 2 [T] if your heart pounds, it beats very quickly: 4 [I] if your heart pounds, it beats very quickly: 4 [I] if your heart pounds, it beats very quickly 4 [I] if your heart pounds, it beats very quickly pound cake /ˈpaʊnd kək/ n. [C] a heavy cake made from flour, sugar, eggs, and butter

pour /pɔːr/ v. 1 [T] to make a liquid or a substance such as salt or sand flow out of or into something: She poured coffee for everyone. | Could you pour me a glass of lemonade, please?  2 [I] (written abbreviation fl oz) to pour water or other liquid into a container or onto something: Oil leaked from the damaged tank. 3 [I] to flow quickly and in large amounts: Fuel poured out of the plane.

pout /paʊt/ v. [I,T] to push out your lower lip because you are annoyed, or in order to look sexually attractive: Stop pouting; you’re not going, and that’s final. —pout n. [C]

pov-ery /ˈpouvəri/ n. [U] the situation or experience of being poor: families living in poverty | I was shocked by the abject/extreme poverty that I saw.

poverty line also poverty level, poverty threshold n. [C] ECONOMICS the income below which someone is officially considered to be very poor and in need of help: Fifteen percent of the city’s residents live below the poverty level.

poverty-stricken adj. extremely poor: a poverty-stricken neighborhood pow-der1 /ˈpaʊdər/ n. [C,U] a dry substance in the form of very small grains: talcum powder | baking powder (Origins: 1200—1300 Old French poudre, from Latin pulvis “dust”)

powder2 /ˈpaʊdər/ n. 1 to put powder on your skin 2 powder your nose a phrase meaning to go to the toilet, used by women in order to be polite pow-dered /ˈpaʊdərd/ adj. produced or sold in the form of powder: powdered milk powder room /ˈpaʊdər roʊm/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a polite phrase meaning a women’s public toilet pow-der-y /ˈpaʊdəri/ adj. like powder, or easily broken into powder: powdery snow pow-er /ˈpaʊər/ n. 1 CONTROL SB/STH [U] the ability or right to control people or events: powerful, powerless: We all felt that the chairman had too much power. power n. 1sth adj. up phr. v. to make a machine start working: Never move a computer while it is powered up.

power base n. [C] the group of people in a particular area that supports a politician or leader pow-er-boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n. [C] a boat with a powerful engine that is used for racing pow-er-ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj. 1 able to control and influence events and other people’s actions: a meeting of the world’s most powerful leaders 2 the most powerful political party in the country power cut (=time when there is no electricity) n.
power failure/pow·ermi·sion/ n.
powerful political party in the country powerful engine that is used for racing power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.
power·less /ˈpaʊərlIs/ adj. unable to stop or control something because you do not have the power, strength, or right to do so: The small group of soldiers was powerless to stop the attack.

NATURAL ABILITY [C,U] a natural or special ability to do something: the power of sight/speech
She has the power to make an audience laugh or cry.
do everything in your power to do everything that you are able or allowed to do: I did everything in my power to save her.
a power struggle a situation in which groups or leaders try to defeat each other and get complete control.
earning/purchasing etc. power ECONOMICS the ability to earn money, buy things, etc.: the purchasing power of middle-class teenagers be in sb's power to be in a situation in which someone has control over you the powers that be (informal) the people who have positions of authority, and whose decisions affect your life: The hardest part will be persuading the powers that be at City Hall to agree. to the power of 3/4/5 etc. MATH if a number is increased to the power of three, four, five, etc., it is multiplied by itself three, four, five, etc. times solar-powered/nuclear-powered etc. working or moving by means of the Sun, etc.; a battery-powered flashlight
(1) to supply power to a vehicle or machine: Can a car be powered by solar energy? (2) [L] to do something quickly and with a lot of strength: North Carolina powered its way through the tournament.

COUNTRY [C] a country that is very strong and important: Germany is a major industrial power in Europe. a meeting of world powers (=the strongest countries in the world)

COUNTRY [C,U] the legal right or authority to do something: Congress has the power to declare war. Only the police have the power of arrest.

rural/solar/wind power n.

ENERGY [U] PHYSICS energy such as electricity, that can be used to make a machine, car, etc. work: The plane lost power and had to make an emergency landing. The storm caused a power failure/cut (=time when there is no electricity) in our area. The area uses electricity produced by nuclear/solar/wind power.

AUTHORITY [C,U] the legal right or authority to do something: Congress has the legal right to do things for someone else in his/her business or personal life, or the document that gives this right

POWER 1. 2 having a lot of power, strength, or force: a powerful engine | a powerful man | a powerful explosion 3 having a strong effect on someone's feelings or ideas: a powerful speech | a powerful argument against eating meat 4 having a strong effect on your body: a powerful drug/medicine —powerfully adv.

pow·er·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
pow·er·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.
pow·er·less /ˈpaʊərlIs/ adj.

power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.

PR n. 1 [U] PUBLIC RELATIONS 2 the written abbreviation of Puerto Rico powerful political party in the country

power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.

power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·full /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.

power·power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.

power·power·boat /ˈpaʊərˌboʊt/ n.
power·house /ˈpaʊərˌhoʊs/ n.
power·ful /ˈpaʊərfl/ adj.
practicable

/prækˈtɪkəb(ə)l/ adj. (formal) possible in a particular situation: The only practicable course of action is to sell the company.

practical adjective 1 relating to real situations and events rather than ideas: Do you have a lot of practical experience as a mechanic? I deal with practical matters, like finding people places to stay. 2 practical plans, methods, etc. are likely to succeed or be effective: Is that a practical solution to the problem? Treganowan’s book gives practical advice for keeping your car on the road. 3 a practical person is good at dealing with problems and making decisions based on what is possible and what will really work: Be practical—at least wait for the storm to pass. 4 useful, or appropriate for a particular purpose: practical gifts, such as clothes | a practical car for a family 5 for all practical purposes used in order to describe what the real effect of a situation is: For all practical purposes, the election is over (we already know who the winner is).

practicality /prækˈtɪkælɪti/ n. 1 practicalities (plural) the real facts of a situation, rather than ideas about how it might be: The practicalities of raising children can be quite different from what the books say. 2 [U] how appropriate something is, and whether it will work: You need to think about comfort and practicality when choosing walking shoes.

practical joke n. [C] a trick that is intended to surprise someone and make other people laugh —practical joker n. [C] practically /prækˈtɪkli/ adv. 1 (spoken) almost: Practically everyone was there. She practically jumped out of her chair. I’ve read practically all of his books. 2 in a sensible way: Vasko just doesn’t think practically.

practicism /prækˈtɪsɪz(ə)m/ n. 1 SKILL a) [U] regular activity that you do in order to improve a skill or ability: It takes a lot of practice to be a good piano player. Your English will improve with practice. b) [C,U] the period of time in which you do this: football/choir etc. practice 2 STH THAT IS USUALLY DONE [C,U] a) something that people do often and in a particular way: It’s common/standard/normal practice to do the payroll in this way. b) something that you do often because of your religion or your society’s tradition (379) custom: The practice of kissing someone as a greeting is common in other countries.

practitioner /prækˈtɪʃ(ə)n/ n. 1 a practicing doctor/lawyer/architect etc. someone who is working as a doctor, lawyer, etc. 2 a practicing doctor/lawyer/architect etc. someone who is trained to do a particular type of work that involves a lot of skill: a tax practitioner | a medical practitioner | This sort of surgery can only be undertaken by highly skilled practitioners.

pragmatism /præɡˈmætɪz(ə)m/ n. [U] a tendency to deal with problems in a pragmatic way —pragmatist n. [C] prairie /ˈprɛri/ n [C] a large area of flat land in North America that is covered in grass prairie dog n [C] a North American animal with a short tail, that lives in holes on a prairie praise /ˈpreɪz/ v [T] 1 to say publicly that someone has done something well or that you admire him/her: Mr. Ronner praised Jill for the quality of her work. 2 a highly praised speech praise worthy adj (formal) – to praise someone or something publicly or formally: The children were commended for their behavior.

preach /prɪtʃ/ v 1 [T] to give a speech, usually in a church, about a religious subject: The minister preaches to large crowds every Sunday. 2 [T] to talk about how good or important something is and to try to persuade other people to do or accept it: He’s always preaching the value/virtue/gospel etc. of hard work. 3 [i] to give advice in a way that annoys people: I wish you would stop preaching at me like this.

preacher /prɪˈtʃɪə/ n [C] someone who talks about religious subjects, usually in a church preach-y /prɪtʃɪ/ adj (informal) trying very hard to persuade people to accept a particular opinion, in a way that annoys them: I don’t like the preachy tone in her writing.

pre-am-ble /priˈæmbəl/ n [C] (formal) a statement at the beginning of a book, speech, etc.: the preamble to the Constitution pre-ar ranged /prɪˈreɪndʒt/ adj planned before: We can have a driver pick you up at a prearranged time.

pre-cam-bri-an /priˈkæmbriən/ n the Precambrian earth sciences the period of time in the Earth’s history from when the hard outer surface of the Earth first formed about 4,600 million years ago until about 570 million years ago when simple forms of life first appeared on the Earth —Precambrian adj: Precambrian rock ➔ CENOZOIC, MESOZOIC, PALEozoIC prec a rious /ˈpriˌkæriəs/ adj. 1 something that could fall: We had to cross a precarious rope bridge. —precariously adv

pre-cau·tion /prɪˈkəʃən/ n [C] something that you do to prevent something bad or dangerous from happening: safety precautions | People were warned to stay inside as a precaution. | You have to take precautions when working with chemicals.

pre-cau·tion ary /prɪˈkəʃənərɪ/ adj: done as a precaution: The doctors have put him in the hospital as a precautionary measure.

pre·cede /prɪˈsid/ v [A] (v) to happen or exist before something else: The fire was preceded by a loud explosion. [Origin: 1300—1400 French précéder, from Latin praecedere “to go in front”]

pre·ce·den ce /prɪˈsɛdəns/ n take/have precedence over sth to be more important or urgent than something else: This project takes precedence over everything else. | Federal laws take precedence over local laws.

pre·ce·dent /prɪˈsɛdent/ n [C] an action or official decision that is used as an example for a similar action or decision at a later time: The trial pre·ce·die·ing /prɛ'sidɪŋ/ ˈprɪsɪdɪŋ/ (ˈprɪsi-dɪŋ) adj [only before noun] (formal) happening or coming before something else: The events of the preceding week worried him. | The preceding chapter discussed the economic effects of slavery in the Southern states.

pre·ce·p·i·tate /prɛˈsɪpət/ n [C] (formal) a rule that helps you decide how to think or behave in a situation: basic moral precepts descriptions are very important to you because they remind you of people or events in your life: The events of the preceding week impressed by the clarity and precision of his arguments. | precision adj: precision bombing | The factory produces precision instruments such as microscopes.

pre·ce·p·i·ta·tion /prɛˈsɪpəteɪʃən/ n [C] (scientific) a process that is happening or has happened:

pre·ce·p·i·tous /prɛˈsɪpətəs/ adj (formal) 1 very sudden: a precipitous drop/decline in property values | 2 dangerously high or steep: precipitous cliffs

pre·co·cious /preˈkɑsiəs/ adj 1 original: a precocious little girl | 2 showing skill or intelligence at an early age, or before it is usual: a precocious child shows skill or intelligence at an early age, or before it is usual: He is a precocious child in his ability to learn new things.

pre·cise /prɛˈsaɪs/ adj 1 exact or correct in every detail: The precise cause of the accident is unknown. | What is the precise location of the ship? | At that precise moment, the telephone rang. | a precise figure/number/amount | No method of measuring intelligence can be precise. 2 to be precise used when you add exact details about something: He was born in April, on the 4th to be precise. [Origin: 1500—1600 French précis, from Latin praecisus, from praecidere “to cut off”]

pre·cise·ly /prɛˈsaɪli/ adv 1 exactly or correctly: I do not remember precisely what happened. | at precisely 4 o’clock | Often, the children who need help most are precisely those who are afraid to ask for it. 2 (spoken) used in order to agree with what someone has just said: “So Clark is responsible for the mistake.” “Precisely.”

pre·ci·sion /prɛˈʃən/ n (U) the quality of being very exact: The weight of an atom can be measured with great precision. | The audience was impressed by the clarity and precision of his arguments. | —precision adj: precision bombing | The factory produces precision instruments such as microscopes.

pre·cise·ness /prɛˈsaɪnəs/ n [C] the quality of being precise:

pre·clu·de /prɛˈkluːd/ v [T] (formal) to prevent something or make it impossible to happen: Poor eyesight may preclude you from driving.

pre·co·cu·ous /prɛˈkɑsəs/ adj a precocious child shows skill or intelligence at a young age, or before it is usual: He is a precocious child in his ability to learn new things.

precious /ˈpreʃəs/ adj 1 very valuable, priceless, worth a lot of money: The weight of an atom can be measured with great precision. | The audience was impressed by the clarity and precision of his arguments. | —precision adj: precision bombing | The factory produces precision instruments such as microscopes.

precious little/few very little or very few: We had precious little time to prepare for the trip.

prec·i·pice /prɛˈsɪpɪs/ n [C] a very steep side of a mountain or cliff prec·i·p·i·ta·tion /prɛˈsɪpəteɪʃən/ n [C] (scientific) a process that is happening or has happened:

pre·ci·p·i·tous /prɛˈsɪpətəs/ adj (formal) 1 very sudden: a precipitous drop/decline in property values | 2 dangerously high or steep: precipitous cliffs
The new computer is similar to its predecessors, but even faster. [Origin: 1300–1400 French prédécesseurs, from Late Latin, from Latin pre “before” + decedere “to go away, leave your job”].

increase their share of sales in a market and to force competitors out of the market.

My predecessor worked here for ten years.

something such as a machine or system that existed before another one: The new computer is similar to its predecessors, but even faster.

1 SOCIAL SCIENCE the belief that God or Fate has decided everything that will happen and that no one can change this.

2 SOCIAL SCIENCE the belief in some Christian churches that God decided before the beginning of the world who would go to heaven and who would not.

something that is predestined is certain to happen and cannot be changed.

decided or arranged before: The doors unlock at a predetermined time.

a difficult situation in which you do not know what is the best thing to do: It was Raoul who got us in this predicament in the first place.

grammar, a predication is lectures and seminars.

the part of a sentence that has the main verb, and that tells what the subject is doing or describes the subject. In the sentence “He ran out of the house,” “ran out of the house” is the predicate.

in grammar, a predicative adjective or phrase comes after a verb and describes the subject, such as “sad” in “She is sad.”

v [T] to say that something will happen before it happens: The newspapers are predicting a close election. | Analysts predict that college costs will continue to rise. | It’s difficult to predict exactly what the effects will be. [Origin: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of prædicere “to say beforehand”] something bad is about to happen: He had a premonition of impending danger.

behavior or happening in a way that you expect: You’re so predictable! | The ending of the movie was too predictable. | The disease develops in a way that follows a predictable pattern. | The results of the experiment were highly predictable.

adj behaving or happening in a way that you expect: You’re so predictable! | The ending of the movie was too predictable. | The disease develops in a way that follows a predictable pattern. | The results of the experiment were highly predictable.

adj predicts of something that is going to happen, or the act of making statements of this kind: It’s hard to make a prediction about who will win. | predictions of climate change. | Despite all our modern technology, weather prediction is still unreliable.

a tendency to like a particular kind of person or thing: a predilection for apple pie.

a tendency to behave in a particular way or suffer from a particular health problem: a predisposition to/toward skin cancer.

if there is a predominance of one type of thing or person in a group, there are more of them than any other type of person or thing: the predominance of male students in the class.

the most power or importance in a particular group or area: American predominance in world economics. | Rival supermarkets are constantly fighting to achieve predominance.

more powerful, common, or noticeable than others: Racism in American society is a predominant theme in Wright’s novels. | The predominant mode of instruction is lectures and seminars. | These two political parties were predominant in the 19th century.

mostly or mainly: a predominantly middle-class neighborhood. | Throughout this region, the economy is based predominantly on agriculture.

v [I] to have the most importance, or to be the most in number: Democrats predominate in this district. | Sometimes, passing tests predominates over the importance of learning.

(informal) a premature baby.

much more important or powerful than all others in a particular group: a preeminent political figure.
preempt /priˈempt/ v [T] to make something one is about to do unnecessary or not effective, by doing something else first: Approval of the plan would preempt the strike. —preemptive adj: a preemptive attack preen /priˈn/ v 1 [I.T] if a bird preens, or preens itself, it cleans itself and makes its feathers smooth 2 preen yourself (disapproving) to spend a lot of time making yourself look good: He’s always preening himself in the mirror.

pre-existing /ˌprɪˈɛksɪstɪŋ/ adj [only before noun] existing already, or before something else: a pre-existing medical condition prefabricated /ˈprɪfæbrɪkətɪd/ adj built from parts made in a factory and put together somewhere else: prefabricated homes preface 1 /ˈprɛfrəs/ n [C,U] an introduction at the beginning of a book or speech: the preface to the novel preface 2 v [T] (formal) to say or do something first before saying or doing something else: He prefaced his remarks with an expression of thanks to the audience.

prefer /priˈfɜːr/ v (preferred, preferring) [T] 1 to like someone or something more than someone or something else: Which color do you prefer? | Many companies prefer to hire young workers. | I would prefer not to talk about it at the moment. | She prefers walking to driving. 2 I would prefer it if (spoken) used in order to tell someone politely not to do something: I’d prefer it if you didn’t smoke in the house. [origin: 1300—1400 French préférer, from Latin praeferre “to put in front, prefer”] preferable /ˈprɪfərəbl/ adj or better or more appropriate: Anything is preferable to war.

preferably /ˈprɪfərəbli/ adv used in order to show which person, thing, place, or idea you think would be the best choice: You should see a doctor, preferably a specialist.

preference /ˈprɛfrəns, -ˈfərs/ n 1 [C,U] if someone has a preference for something, she likes it more than another thing: We have always had a preference for small cars. | It’s a matter of personal preference. 2 give/show preference (to sb) to treat someone better than you treat other people: Doctors should give preference to patients who are seriously ill.

preferential /ˌprɛfrɛnʃəl/ adj treating one person or group better than others: Why should she get preferential treatment?

prefix /ˈprɪfiks/ n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a group of letters that is added to the beginning of a word in order to make a new word, such as “mis-” in “misunderstand” → SUFFIX [origin: 1600—1700 Latin præfixum, from Latin præfìgere “to fasten before”] pregnancy /ˈprɛɡnənsi/ n (plural pregnancies) [C,U] the condition of being pregnant, or the period of time when a woman is pregnant: You should not drink alcohol during your pregnancy. | a pregnancy test pregnant /ˈprɛɡnənt/ adj 1 having a baby that has not been born yet, growing in your body: a pregnant woman | She’s three months pregnant. | Marie got pregnant soon after the wedding. | She’s pregnant with her first child. 2 a pregnant silence/pause (literary) a silence or pause that is full of meaning or emotion [origin: 1400—1500 Latin praegnans, from praegnus, from præ-, “before” + gnatus “born”] preheat /ˈprɪhɪt/ v [T] to heat an oven to a particular temperature before cooking food in it prejudice /ˌprɪdʒuˈɪs/ n [C] prejudice against single mothers [origin: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin praedictio, from judicium “judgment”]

Types of prejudice

1 racism – unfair treatment of people because they belong to a different race: accusations of police brutality and racism discrimination – the practice of treating one group of people differently from another in an unfair way: She accused the company of sexual discrimination.
intolerance – the fact of not being willing to accept ways of thinking or behaving that are different from your own: religious intolerance bigotry – behavior or beliefs that show that you have unreasonable opinions, especially about race or religion: In the 1930s, bigotry against immigrants increased.
sexism – the belief that one sex, especially the female sex, is weaker, less intelligent, or less important than the other, especially when this results in someone being treated unfairly: The armed forces have worked to reduce sexism in their policies.

homophobia – hatred and fear of homosexuals: Homophobia is common, and had been the cause of some serious crimes.
anti-Semitism – a strong feeling of hatred toward Jewish people: Is anti-Semitism on the rise in America and Europe?

People who are prejudiced racist – someone who believes that people of his/her own race are better than others, and treats people of other races unfairly: When he expressed his opinion, he was branded a racist.

bigot – someone who has strong unreasonable opinions, especially about race or religion: He was known to be a bigot.

prejudice2 v. [T] to influence someone so that s/he has an unfair opinion about someone or something before s/he knows all the facts: Watson’s wild appearance may prejudice the jury against him.

prejudiced adj. having an unfair feeling or prejudice for someone who is of a different race, sex, religion, etc.: Kurt is so prejudiced against gay people!

preliminary2 n. (plural preliminaries) [C usually plural] something that is done at the beginning of an activity, event, etc., often in order to prepare for it: the preliminaries of the competition prelude /prɪˈluːd/ n. 1 be a prelude to sth to happen just before something else, often as an introduction to it: The attack may be a prelude to full-scale war. 2 [C] a short piece of music that comes before a large musical piece: Chopin’s preludes.

premarital /priˈmærɪtəl/ adj. happening or existing before marriage: premarital sex.

prema-ture /prɪˈmeɪtʃuər/ adj. happening too early or before the right time: The baby was born prematurely.

premeditated murder /prɪˈmedɪteɪtɪd mɜːrdr/ n. (informal) a murder planned and done deliberately: a premeditated murder – premeditation /prɪˈmedɪteɪʃən/ n. [U] premenstrual /priˈmenstrʊəl/ adj. happening just before a woman’s Period (= monthly flow of blood) premenstrual syndrome n. [U] PMS premier2 adj. (formal) best or most important: a premier wine from California premiere, première /priˈmɪr/ n. [C] the leader of a government premier wine from California ready to be used: The rooms still need to be prepared for the guests. | You need to prepare the soil before planting the seeds.

---

THE SAURUS

get sth ready — to prepare something for what you are going to do: I've been getting everything ready for the party.

set sth up — to make a piece of equipment ready to be used: Kim's setting up the computer in the meeting room.

make preparations — to prepare for an important event: They spent six months making preparations for the trip.

---

Prepared

pre·par·ed·ness (n. /pri'pərdn/ [U]) the state of being prepared for something: military preparedness pre·pon·der·ance (n. /pri'pəndərns/ [U]) a large number or amount of one type of thing or person in a group than of any other type: There's a preponderance of women in the orchestra.

prep·a·ra·tion (n. /prɛpərərən/ [C]) in grammar, a word or phrase that is used before a noun, e.g., pronoun, or gerund to show place, time, direction, etc. In the phrase "at the bank," "at" is a preposition. —prepositional adj.: a prepositional phrase

prepositional 'phrase (n. /pri'pəsəfərs/ [C]) in grammar, a phrase consisting of a preposition and the noun, e.g., pronoun, or gerund following it, such as "in bed" or "about traveling" pre·pos·sess·ing (adj. [formal]) looking attractive or pleasant: He was small and not prepossessing.

pre·pos·ter·ous (adj. [completely unreasonable or silly] absurd: That's a preposterous story! [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin prae-posterus “with the back part in front”]

pre-py /pre'pi/ adj. (informal) preppy styles or clothes are very neat and conservative in a way that is typical of people who go to expensive private schools

prep school n. [C] (informal) a private school that prepares students for college pre·quel /pri'kwəl/ n. [C] a book or movie that tells the story of what happened before the story told in a previous popular book or movie

pre-reg·is·ter /'pri'regəzistər/ v. [I] to put your name on a list for a particular course of study, school, etc. before the official time to do so —preregistration /'prɛrəgərə'zɛstrən/ n. [U]

pre-reg·ui·site /'pri'rekwaizit/ n. [C] something that is necessary before something else can happen or be done: A degree in biology is a prerequisite for the job.

pre·rog·a·tive /'pri'regətɪv/ n. [C] a special right that someone has: If you want to leave early, that’s your prerogative.

pres·age /'prezəg/ n. [C] to imagine or know what will happen in the future: He was small and not prepossessing.

pres·crip·tion /'prɛsəkrɪʃən/ n. [C] a piece of paper on which a doctor writes what medicine a sick person should have, or the medicine itself: a prescription for painkillers

---

pre·scribe /prɪˈskriːsb/ v. [T] 1 to say what medicine or treatment a sick person should have: Doctors commonly prescribe steroids for children with asthma. 2 to state officially what should be done in a particular situation: a punishment prescribed by the law [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin prae scribere “to write at the beginning, order”] pre·scrip·tive /prɪˈskrɪpʃəv/ adj. (formal) saying how something should be done or what someone should do presence /ˈprɛzənst/ n. 1 [U] the state of being present in a particular place or absence: The ambassador’s presence at the reception was a surprise. | Tests revealed the presence of poison in the blood. 2 in sb’s presence/in the presence of sb with someone, or in the same place as him/her: Everyone was afraid to voice an opinion in his presence. | He blushed whenever he was in the presence of women. 3 [singular] a group of people, especially the army or the police, who are in a place to watch or control what is happening: the American military presence in Vietnam | There’s a heavy police presence at the embassy. 4 have the presence of mind to do sth to have the ability to deal with a dangerous situation calmly and quickly: Bill had the presence of mind to call 911 after the fire started. 5 make your presence felt to have a strong effect on other people or situations: Hanley has made his presence felt at the company. 6 [U] the ability to appear impressive to people with your appearance or manner: As an actor, he has a powerful stage presence.

present /ˈprɛzənt/, /ˈprɛz@nt/ v. 1 to give to someone, especially at an official or public occasion: Mr. Davis presented the winning team with a gold cap. | The painting was presented to the court by Conor’s lawyer. 3 present yourself the way you present yourself is the way you talk and behave when you meet new people: She presents herself as confident and experienced. 4 to cause something such as a problem or difficulty to happen or exist: The heavy rains presented a new difficulty for the rescue workers. 5 to give a performance in a theater, etc., or broadcast it on television or radio: The Roxi is presenting a production of “Waiting for Godot” this week. 6 (formal) to introduce someone formally to someone else: May I present my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benning.

presently /ˈprɛzəntli/ adv. 1 at this time: I presently live in Berlin. 2 (old-fashioned) in a short time: The doctor will see you presently.

presently /ˈprɛzəntli/ adv. (formal) 1 at this time: I presently live in Berlin. 2 (old-fashioned) in a short time: The doctor will see you presently.
or someone from being harmed, destroyed, or changed too much: The group is dedicated to preserving historic buildings. | We want to preserve as much open land as possible.

THESSAUROUS
- protect, guard, safeguard, give/off er/provide protection, conserve → PROTECT

2 to add something to food so that it will stay in good condition for a long time: Cucumbers preserved in vinegar are called pickles.

preserve
1 1. [C] an area of land or water in which animals, fish, or trees are protected: Yellowstone was the nation’s first wilderness preserve.
2 [singular] an activity that only one particular group of people can do, or a place that only those people can use: Politics is no longer the preserve of wealthy white males.
3 preserves [plural] a sweet food such as 1AM, made from large pieces of fruit boiled with sugar: strawberry preserve pre-side /prəˈzaɪdər/ v ([I] to be in charge of a formal meeting, ceremony, important situation, etc.: Judge Baxter presided over the trial.

pre-sid-en-cy /prɪˈzɪdənsi/ n (plural presidencies) [C] the job of being a president, or the period of time when someone is a president: He decided to run for the presidency.

pre-sident /prɪˈzɛdənt/ n
1 the official leader of a country that does not have a king or queen: the President of Mexico | President Lincoln

2 someone who is in charge of a business, bank, club, college, etc.: the President of Brown University (origin: 1300–1400 French président, from Latin, present participle of praesidire “to sit in front of, guard, preside over”)

THESSAUROUS
- politician, congressmen/congresswoman, senator, governor, mayor → POLITICIAN

3 presses [plural] pieces of fruit boiled with sugar:
- strawberry preserve
- Stone was the nation’s first wilderness preserve.

press
1 [WITH FINGER] [T] to push something with your finger in order to make a machine start, a bell ring, etc.: What happens if I press this button? | Mrs. Mott pressed the doorbell again.
2 [PRESS AGAINST] [T] to push something firmly against a surface: He pressed some money into her hand. | Their faces were pressed against the window.
3 [IRON] [T] to make clothes smooth using heat: I need to have this suit cleaned and pressed.
4 press charges to say officially that someone has done something illegal so that a court must decide if s/he is guilty:
5 persuade [T] to try very hard to persuade someone to do something or tell you something: He pressed me to accept the job. | Detectives had been pressing him for details.
6 move [I] to move in a particular direction by pushing: The crowd pressed forward to see what was happening.
7 heavy weight [T] to put pressure or weight on something to make it flat, crush it, etc.: a machine for pressing grapes

THESSAUROUS
- squash → to press something and damage it by making it flat: Put the tomatoes where they won’t get squashed.
- crush → to press something very hard so that it is broken or destroyed: His leg was crushed in the accident.
- mash → to press fruit or cooked vegetables until they are soft and smooth: Mash the potatoes well.
- grind → to press something into powder using a special machine: Can you grind the coffee beans?
- squeeze → to press something from both sides, usually with your fingers: Squeeze the toothpaste tube from the bottom.
- fresh-squeezed orange juice
- compress [formal] → to press something so that it takes up less space: The pump compresses the air, forcing it through a tube into the tire.
- compact [formal] → to press something together so that it becomes smaller or more solid: The machine compacts household trash.

press on/ ahead [phr. v] to continue doing something without stopping: The army crossed the river and pressed on to the border.

press
2 n
1 the press newspapers, magazines, etc., or the people who work for them: the freedom of the press | Mary’s new play is getting the attention of the national/local press.
2 good/bad press the praise or criticism that is given to someone by newspapers, radio, or television: I don’t think Kurt deserves all the bad press that he’s getting.

press: 3 [C] a business that prints and sometimes sells books: the University Press press conference: 5 [C] a meeting at which someone makes official statements to people who write news reports: The Governor held a press conference last night.

press corps: 6 [C] a group of people who usually write the news reports that come from a particular place: the White House press corps pressured /presard/ adj. feeling a lot of worry because of the number of things that you have to do. Her job makes her feel pressured all the time.

pressured /presərd/ adj. feeling a lot of worry because of the number of things that you have to do. Her job makes her feel pressured all the time.

pressure group: 2 [C] a group of people or an organization that tries to influence what the public thinks about things, and what the government does about things pressurized /preˈzərəzd/ adj. if an aircraft is pressurized, the air pressure inside it is similar to the pressure on the ground press·ture /ˈprɛsər/ n. [U] if you have pressure, you are respected and admired because of your job or something that you have achieved: My present job has a certain amount of prestige attached to it.

press·tig·i·ous /ˈprɛstəɡəs/ adj. admired or respected as one of the best and most important: a prestigious award for writers

press·tig·ious /ˈprɛstəɡəs/ adj. admired or respected as one of the best and most important: a prestigious award for writers pressure /ˈprɛsər/ n. [C] the amount of force that is put on something by the force of one thing or by the weight of another: The pressure of the force of the wind on the building made it crash down.

pressures of /ˈprɛsrəz/ v. [T] to force something to work or perform: The pressures of modern life cause problems.

pressures of /ˈprɛsrəz/ v. [T] to force something to work or perform: The pressures of modern life cause problems.

press·ure·ful·ly /ˈprɛsrərfləli/ adv. in a way that is forceful: He is spoken to pressure·ful·ly.

press·ure·ful·ly /ˈprɛsrərfləli/ adv. in a way that is forceful: He is spoken to pressure·ful·ly.

press·ure·ful·ly /ˈprɛsrərfləli/ adv. in a way that is forceful: He is spoken to pressure·ful·ly.

press·ure·ful·ly /ˈprɛsrərfləli/ adv. in a way that is forceful: He is spoken to pressure·ful·ly.
pretend

(that) everything is OK. 2 to imagine that something is true or real, as a game: Let’s pretend (that) we’re on the moon!

pretend² adj a word meaning imaginary, used especially by children, or when talking to children: We sang songs around a pretend campfire.

pretext /prɛtɛks/ n 1 [singular, U] an attempt to pretend that something is true: Kevin made no pretext of being surprised. | We had to keep up the pretext that we were married. 2 under false pretenses if you do something under false pretenses, you do it by pretending that something is true when it is not: He entered the country on a Japanese passport obtained under false pretenses.

pretend·ly adv very; extremely: He pretended to be upset.

pretense /prɛtɛns/ n 1 an attempt to pretend that something is true: Made no pretense of being interested. 2 under false pretenses if you do something under false pretenses, you do it by pretending that something is true when it is not: Under false pretenses, you do it by pretending it’s not a pretty picture.

preten·tious /prɛtɛnˈʃəs/ adj trying to seem more important, rich, or intelligent than you really are: There were a bunch of pretentious people at the gallery opening.

pretext /prɛtɛks/ n 1 [C] a false reason that is given for doing something, in order to hide the real reason: He got into the building on the pretext of checking the heating.

pre·text·less /prɛtɛkˈtɛls/ adj 1 fairly, but not completely: I thought the test was pretty easy. | “How are you feeling?” “Oh, pretty good.” | That car was going pretty quickly.

pret·er·ite /prɛtɛrɪt/ n the preterite pret·er·ite·ly /prɛtɪrɪtli/ adv the preterite preterite /prɛtɛrət/ n 1 [singular, U] the formal present tense of a verb; the past participle of a verb used as an adjective: The disease is more prevalent among young people.

present /prɛzɛnt/ n 1 a person or thing that is present: We had two women present at the meeting. 2 the act of presenting: She presented her case to the judge.

present·ed /prɛzɛntd/ v past tense of present present·a·tion /prɛzɛnˈteɪʃən/ n 1 a formal speech or performance: She gave a presentation on the history of the company. 2 the appearance of something: The front of the house was beautifully presented.

pre·vail·ing /prɛvɛlɪŋ/ adj prevailing prevailing wind the direction in which the wind usually blows over a particular area at a particular time prevail·ly /prɛvɛlɪli/ adv prevailing prev·ail·ment /prɛvɛlmənt/ n 1 [U] the act of prevailing, something the actions that you take in order to prevent something: crime prevention | the prevention of accidents prevent·able /prɛvɛntəbəl/ adj preventable diseases prevent·ion /prɛvɛntəʃən/ n 1 [U] the act of preventing something, or the actions that you take in order to prevent something: crime prevention | the prevention of accidents predict·ive /prɛdɪˈtɪv/ adj intended to prevent something you do not want to happen: preventive medicine | treatment to prevent people from becoming sick pre·view /prɛvɪvə/ n 1 an occasion when you see a movie, play, etc. before it is shown to the public prevent·able ·pre·ven·ta·tive /prɛvɛntəˈtɪv/ adj preventable diseases

pre·vi·ous /prɛvɪəs/ adj former: previous generations | the previous history of the company pre·vi·ous·ly /prɛvɪəsli/ adv before now, or before a particular time: She previously worked...

2. They were determined to have a child at any price.

4. at Bank of Boston. Previously, people had believed that the sun orbited around the Earth.

pre-war /prɪˈwɜːr/ adj., adv. happening or existing before a war, especially World War I or World War II: the country’s prewar population prey /pri/ n. 1 [U] an animal that is hunted and eaten by another animal: On TV, a tiger stalked its prey. 2 fall prey to sth to be affected by something unpleasant: More teenagers are falling prey to gang violence.

price v. prey on sb/sth for v. 1 if an animal or bird preys on another animal or bird, it hunts and eats it. 2 to try to influence or deceive weaker people: The police issued a warning about dishonest salesmen who prey on old people.

price n. 1 [C,U] the amount of money that must be paid in order to buy something: What’s the price of this book? 2 stock prices fell yesterday. We could rent a car or take the train—there’s almost no difference in price. 3 price cuts companies that are competing against each other reduce the prices of products or services they sell, because each company is trying to get the most customers.

price-ey, pricey /ˈprɪsɛɪ/ adj. (informal) expensive: a pricey restaurant

price-less /ˈprɪsəls/ adj. so valuable that you cannot calculate a financial value: priceless antiques

price-index n. [C] ECONOMICS a list of particular goods and services, showing how much their prices change each month. It is used as a way of measuring inflation (=the rate at which prices increase over a period of time).
or something that is very important to someone: Ken’s new car is his pride and joy. 5 swallow your pride to ignore your feelings of pride and do something that seems necessary, even though you do not want to do it: You’re just going to have to swallow your pride and apologize.

prime /pri:m/ adj. very formal in the way you behave, and easily shocked by anything rude: Janet’s much too prim and proper to laugh at a joke like that. —primly adv.

primacy /pri'm@li/ [C] the state of being the thing or person with the most importance or authority: No one ever questioned the primacy of the church.

pri-1mal /'praI'mEv@l/ [AC] adj. mainly: We do sell paintings, but this is primarily a furniture store. | Natural gas consists primarily of methane.

primary /pri'm@ri, -pri'm@r@/ [C] the main medical help that you get, unless your doctor decides that you need to see a specialist (=doctor with special skills) primary care n. [U] the main medical help that you get, unless your doctor decides that you need to see a specialist (=doctor with special skills) primary cell n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of equipment that makes electricity from the energy that is produced when two or more chemicals are mixed together. This process can only happen once, and when the electricity is used up, the cell is dead. (SYN) voltaic cell primary color n. [C] one of the three colors — red, yellow, and blue — that you can mix together to make any other color primary concern n. relating to the education of children: Our primary concern is the safety of the children.

primary education n. [C] EDUCATION the education of children who are between 5 and 11 years old; primary education [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin primarius, from primus “first”] primary election n. [C] POLICS an election in the U.S. in which people vote to decide who will be their political party’s candidate for a political position

primary election n. [C] POLICS an election in the U.S. in which people vote to decide who will be their political party’s candidate for a political position primary number n. [C] MATH a number that can only be divided by itself and the number one primary source n. [C] HISTORY a written or spoken description of an event by someone who was actually there when it happened —> SECONDARY SOURCE primary school n. [C] EDUCATION an ELEMENTARY SCHOOL prime minister n. [C] the leader of the government in countries that have a PARLIAMENT principal /'pris@ntl/ [C] the largest number of people are watching television primate /'pri'm@t/ [C] BIOLOGY a member of the group of MAMMALS that includes humans and monkeys primarily adv. to a simple way of life that existed in the past, or to an early stage in the development of humans or animals: primitive societies

primate /'pri'm@t/ [C] BIOLOGY a member of the group of MAMMALS that includes humans and monkeys

primal /'praIm@l/ [AC] adj. (only before noun) primal feelings are basic and seem to come from ancient times when humans were more like animals: primal instincts primitive /'praIm@tiv/ adj. belonging to the earliest time in the existence of the Earth or the universe: primeval forests prime time n. [U] the time in the evening when the largest number of people are watching television primate /'pri'm@t/ [C] the largest number of people are watching television

prime time n. [U] the time in the evening when the largest number of people are watching television primeval /'praIm@vl/ adj. EARTH SCIENCES belonging to the earliest time in the existence of the Earth or the universe; primeval forests primary /pri'm@ri, -pri'm@r@/ [C] the largest number of people are watching television primate /'pri'm@t/ [C] BIOLOGY a member of the group of MAMMALS that includes humans and monkeys

pri-1mal /'praI'mEv@l/ [AC] adj. mainly: We do sell paintings, but this is primarily a furniture store. | Natural gas consists primarily of methane.

primary cell n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of equipment that makes electricity from the energy that is produced when two or more chemicals are mixed together. This process can only happen once, and when the electricity is used up, the cell is dead. (SYN) voltaic cell
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Definition</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>principled</td>
<td>adj. having strong beliefs about what is morally right and wrong: a strongly/highly principled woman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>principal</td>
<td>adj. most important</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>principle</td>
<td>adj. most important</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>print</td>
<td>v. to produce words, numbers, or pictures on paper, using a machine that puts ink onto the surface: The books are printed in China.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>printer</td>
<td>n. someone who owns or works in a printing business</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>printing</td>
<td>n. writing that has been printed in books, newspapers, etc.: The print is awfully small.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>printout</td>
<td>n. a page containing printed text or images</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>print shop</td>
<td>n. a business that specializes in printing</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> printing press

n [C] a machine that prints newspapers, books, etc.

print-out

/ˈprɪntaʊt/ n [C/U] paper with printed information on it, produced by a computer printer

pri-or

/ˈprɪər/ adj (formal) 1 prior to sth: the week prior to the election | The AIDS virus may not have existed prior to the 1960s. 2 [only before noun] done, planned, or existing earlier than something else | [Greek: 1700—1800 Latin “earlier, older, higher in rank,” from Latin pri “before”]

prioritize

/prəˈraɪəˌteɪz/ v [T] to deal with something important first, or to list several things, problems, etc. in order of importance: Ask your boss to prioritize your projects. | The city needs to prioritize the needs of children in the budget. —prioritization /ˌprɪərəˈteɪʃən/ n. [U]

prisoner of war

n. (plural prisoners of war) (abbreviation P.O.W.) a member of the military who is caught by the enemy during a war and kept as a prisoner

pris-on

/[prɪəˈson/ n. 1 a large building where people are kept as a punishment for a crime, or while waiting to go to court for their trial: He spent ten months in prison. | Williams was sent to prison for rape. | a prison sentence/term (=time that must be spent in prison)

escape from prison: He was killed while trying to escape from prison. ➔ CRIME, CRIMINAL

PUNISHMENT

pris-on-er

/ˈprɪzənər/ n. 1 someone who is kept in a prison as a punishment for a crime | pris-on-convict | 2 someone who is taken by force and kept somewhere, for example during a war: Six soldiers were taken prisoner. | They kept/held her for three months.

THESAURUS

captive – someone who is kept as a prisoner, especially in a war: The rebels are holding 54 captives.

hostage – someone who is kept as a prisoner by an enemy, so that the other side will do what the enemy demands: The group demanded that four prisoners be released in exchange for the hostages.

prisoner of war – the ones you feel most strongly and keep secret: Reporters invade the privacy of celebrities.

private – known or felt only by you, and not talked about or shown to anyone else: Dreams may reveal our secret desires.

personal – concerning only you: He asked a lot of personal questions.

innermost – your innermost feelings, desires, etc. are the ones you feel most strongly and keep private: Collins expressed her innermost feelings in her poetry.

intimate – relating to very private or personal matters: all my intimate secrets.

be none of sb’s business – if something is none of your business, it is private and you should not ask about it: It’s none of your business what I do in my free time. ➔ SECRET

3 not relating to, owned by, or paid for by the government (9th) public: a private college 4 separate from your work or your official position, and not related to it: Should reporters be privy to the private lives of politicians? 5 quiet and without lots of people: Is there a private corner where we can talk? —privately adv: Is there someplace we can talk privately?

private¹ n 1 in private without other people listening or watching: Miss Schultz, I need to speak to you in private. 2 [C] a soldier of the lowest rank in the Army or the Marines private enterprise n [U] economics the economic system in which private businesses can compete and the government does not control industry private investigator also private detective, private eye (informal) n [C] someone whom you pay to do things such as look for information or missing people, or follow someone and report on what s/he does private parts also privates /prɪˈvætɪz/ n [plural] the sex organs – used in order to avoid naming them directly private school n [C] a school that is not supported by government money, where education must be paid for by the children’s parents → public school private school /praɪˈvɛtskɔ trick/ also private school [U] 3 n [C] a special advantage that is given only to one person or group of people: These soldiers were given special privileges. 4 [U] good health care should not just be a privilege of the wealthy, 2 [singular] something that you are lucky to have the chance to do, and that you enjoy very much: It’s been a privilege to meet you, sir. 3 I had the privilege of working with some very interesting people. 3 [U] a situation in which people who are rich or of a high social class have many more advantages than other people: a life of wealth and privilege —privileged adj privilege¹ /ˈprɪvɪdʒ/ adj (formal) 1 be privy to sth to share secret knowledge of something: I was not privy to the discussion.

privilege² n [plural privileges] [C] (old-fashioned) an outhouse → toilet prize¹ /praɪz/ n [C] something that is given to someone who is successful in a competition, race, game of chance, etc.: Her roses won first second third prize at the flower show. 2 [C] something that is given to someone who has done something good: By 1922, the Pulitzer Prize for fiction prize² adj 1 good enough to win a prize or to have won a prize: prize cattle 2 prize money money that is given to the person who wins a competition, race, etc.

prize² v [T] to think that someone or something is very important or valuable: He gave her a necklace that his mother had prized.

prized /praɪzd/ adj 1 very important or valuable to someone: Education is highly prized. 2 [all her most prized possessions were lost in the fire] prize fight /ˈpraɪzfɪt/ n [C] a boxing match in which the competitors are paid —prizefighter n [C] pro /prəʊ/ n (plural pros) C [U] 1 (informal) a professional: a golf pro 2 something that is an advantage: We discussed the pros and cons (=the advantages and disadvantages) of starting our own business. —pro adj: pro basketball pro-act·ive /prəˈæktɪv/ adj: taking action to influence events in advance, rather than dealing with things after they happen: We need to adopt a more proactive approach to the problem of global warming pro-a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊə ˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·ble /ˌprəʊbəˈbəl/ adj: likely to happen, exist, or be true: It is probable that both genes and the environment play a role in the disease. 2 the probable cause of the accident

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·ble /ˌprəʊbəˈbəl/ adj: likely to happen, exist, or be true: It is probable that both genes and the environment play a role in the disease. 2 the probable cause of the accident

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.

prob·a·bil·i·ty /ˌprəʊbəˈbɪləti/ n. (plural probabilities) 1 [singular, U] how likely it is that something will happen, exist, or be true: the probability of delay (=a high probability of success) 2 in all probability very probably: There will, in all probability, be parts that you do not understand. 3 [singular] something that is likely to happen or exist: War is a real probability unless the talks succeed. 4 [CU] math how likely something is to happen, measured in a mathematical calculation: The blood test shows a 99.4 percent probability that Hill is the child’s father.
probe  n. [C] 1 a long thin instrument that doctors and scientists use to examine parts of the body. 2 a SPACECRAFT without people in it that is sent into space to collect information → SPACE 3 (written) a process of asking many questions in order to find the truth about something probe-ty  /proʊbəti/ n. [U] (formal) completely moral behavior: a man known for his probity problem  n. [C] 1 a difficult situation or person that has to be dealt with or thought about: I’ve been having a few problems with my car. | There are problems with the equipment. | The governor has done nothing to solve these problems. | Is there a drug problem in the school? | You can’t get yourself there on time, that’s your problem. | Unemployment remains a serious problem. * Don’t say “an important problem.” ↔ setback – a problem that stops you from making progress: The space program suffered a major setback when the space shuttle, Discovery, exploded.

THE SAURUS

difficulty – a problem or something that causes trouble: the country’s financial difficulties snag (informal) – a problem, especially one that you had not expected: The project has hit a major snag.
hitch – a small problem that delays or prevents something: There have been a few last-minute hitches.
trouble – when something does not work in the way it should: The plane developed engine trouble.
hassle (spoken) – a situation that is annoying because it causes problems: I wish clothes shopping was less of a hassle. | You get the smoky barbecue flavor without the hassle of getting a fire started.
flaw, bug, fault ↔ DEFECT

2 something wrong with your health or with part of your body; a woman with serious health problems: He has a back/heart/knee etc. problem. 3 a question that must be answered, especially one relating to numbers or facts: The test will have 20 algebra problems.

SPOKEN PHRASES

4 no problem a) used in order to say that you are very willing to do something: “Can you help?” “Sure, no problem.” b) used after someone has thanked you or said you are sorry: “Thanks a lot.” “Oh, no problem.” 5 that’s your/his/their etc. problem used in order to say that someone else is responsible for dealing with a situation, not you: If you don’t get yourself there on time, that’s your problem. 6 what’s your problem? used in order to ask someone what is wrong, in a way that shows you think s/he is not being reasonable: Look, what’s your problem? It’s my decision!

[Origin: 1300—1400 French problème, from Latin problema, from Greek, “something thrown forward”]

probe-at-ic  /prəˈbæt̬ɪk/ adj. full of problems and difficult to deal with: Painkillers can be problematic when combined with other medicines. → problematically adv.

pro bo-no  /prouˈbounəʊ/ adj. LAW used to describe work that someone, especially a lawyer, does without getting paid for it: Turner has agreed to handle the case on a pro bono basis.

pro-car-y-ote  /prouˈkæriəʊt/ n. [C] another spelling of PROCARYOTE pro-ce-dure  /prəˈsidər/ n. [C,U] a way of doing something, especially the correct or normal way → PROCEDURE: What is the procedure for dealing with a fire? | Officials must follow the correct procedure. | a common medical procedure —procedural adj.

pro-ceed  /praˈsid/ v. [I] 1 to continue to do something that has already been planned or started: We will proceed with the negotiations. | The project seemed to be proceeding smoothly. 2 proceed to do sth to do something next: He took out his wallet, and proceeded to count out enough money to pay for the meal. 3 (formal) to move in a particular direction: Please proceed to the nearest exit. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French proceder, from Latin procedere (to go forward)]

pro-ceed-ings  /prəˈsidɪŋz, proʊˈsid-/ n. [plural] 1 an event or series of actions: A crowd gathered to watch the proceedings. 2 LAW actions taken in a court of law or in a legal case: legal proceedings pro-ceeds  /prəˈsidz/ n. [plural] the money that has been gained from doing something or selling something: The proceeds from the carnival will go to local children’s charities.

pro-cess  /prəˈprɛs, prəˈprɛs/ v. [I] 1 presses, prou-/prou- /adj. [C,U] 1 a series of actions, developments, or changes that happen naturally: the aging process | the natural process of evolution | Describe some of the key processes that occur in plant and animal cells. 2 a series of actions that someone does to achieve a particular result: the peace process | Medical research is a slow process. | The process of applying to a college is often very time-consuming. 3 be in the process of doing sth to have started doing something and not yet be finished: Gradey is in the process of collecting data for the study. 4 in the process while you are doing something or something is happening: I spilled my coffee, burning myself in the process. 5 a system or a treatment of materials that is used for producing goods: an industrial process [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French process, from Latin processus, from procedere (to go forward)] process  /prəˈproʊs/ v. [T] 1 to deal with information in an official way: This department processes mail order requests, 2 to make food, materials, or goods ready to be used or sold, for example by preserving or improving them in some way. In the early 1900s, companies began to process food and distribute it using the railroads. 3 IT to put information into a computer to be examined —processed adj.: processed cheese —processing n. [U] pro·ces·sion /ˈprəˌsəʃən/ n. [C] 1 a line of people or vehicles moving slowly as part of a ceremony ➔ PARADE: a funeral procession 2 several people or things of the same kind, appearing or happening one after the other: a procession of legal experts pro·ces·sor /ˈprəˌsəsər/ n. [C] a CPU ➔ FOOD PROCESSOR pro·choice adj. believing that women have a right to have an abortion ➔ PRO-LIFE pro·claim /ˈprəˌkləm, ˈprəˌkləm/ v. [T] (formal) to say officially or publicly that something is true or exists: In 1949, Israel proclaimed its independence.

pro·clam·a·tion /ˌprəkləˈmeɪʃən/ n. [C] an official public statement about something important: the Emancipation Proclamation (=the speech about freeing the slaves in the U.S. in 1863) pro·ci·ly·ti /ˈprəˌsəvələti/ n. (plural proclivities) [C] (formal) a tendency to behave in a particular way, or like a particular thing, especially something bad: Does watching violent TV shows produce a proclivity for violence?

pro·cras·ti·nate /ˈprəˌkræstəˌneit/ v. [I] to delay doing something that you ought to do: People tend to procrastinate about paperwork. [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of procrastinare, from cras “tomorrow”]

—procrastinator n. [C] —procrastination n. [U] pr@’kristəˌnet/ v. [I,T] (formal) to produce children or baby animals —procreation n. [U] pro·cre·ate /ˈprəˌkrɪrət/ v. [I,T] (formal) to obtain something, especially something that is difficult to get: Senator Craven helped to procure funding to build the new library. —procurement n. [U]

prod /prəd/ v. (prod|ed, prod|ing) [I,T] 1 POKE 2 to strongly encourage someone to do something, especially when she is lazy or not willing: Her parents are having to prod her into completing her homework.

pro·di·gious /ˈprəˌdiɡəs/ adj. (formal) very large or skillful in a surprising or impressive way: The Internet contains prodigious amounts of information. —prodigiously adv.

prod·i·gious /ˈprəˌdiɡəs/ adj. (plural prodigies) [C] a young person who has a great natural ability in a subject or skill ➔ GENIUS: Mozart was a child prodigy. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin prodigium “sign telling the future, monster”] pro·duce /ˈprəˌdəs/ v. [T] 1 to grow something or make it naturally ➔ PRODUCT, PRODUCTION: Cotton is produced in the southern states. Trees produce carbon dioxide. 2 to make something happen or develop, or have a particular result or effect: The drag can produce side effects in some people. 3 to show something so it can be seen or considered: Officer Ryan asked the suspect to produce his driver’s license. 4 to make something, especially using an industrial process ➔ PRODUCT: the costs of producing goods and services prod·uc·er /ˈprəˌdəsər/ n. [C] IT to a CPU ➔ FOOD PROCESSOR prod·uc·tion /ˈprəˌdʌkʃən/ n. 1 process of making or growing things, or the amount that is produced: Steel production has decreased by 35%. 2 [C,U] a play, movie, etc. that is produced for the public, or the process of producing it: a new Broadway production of “My Fair Lady” prod·uc·tive /ˈprəˌdəktiv/ adj. producing or achieving a lot ➔ UNPRODUCTIVE: productive prod·igiously /ˈprəˌdiɡəsli/ adv.

productivity

land | Some workers become more/less productive under this system. —productively adv.

produc-tiv-i-ty /prədəkˈtivətē, prə-/ n [U] the rate at which goods are produced, and the amount produced; ways of increasing/raising/improving productivity prof /prof/ n 1 [C] (spoken) a professor 2 Prof, the written abbreviation of professor pro-fane /proˈfein, prə-/ adj showing a lack of respect for God or for holy things, by using rude words or religious words wrongly; → obscene; profane language pro-fan-i-ty /proˈfænətē, prə-/ n (plural profanities) [C] a swear word, or a religious word used wrongly, that shows a lack of respect for God or for holy things → obscenity pro-fess /prəˈfes, prə-/ v [T] (formal) 1 to say that you do something or are something, often when it is not really true. 2 to express a personal feeling or belief openly. Soon, Frank was professing his love and asking her to marry him. → professed adj.

pro-fes-sion /prəˈfeshən, prə-/ n 1 [C] a job that needs special education and training; professions such as nursing or teaching: He’s a lawyer by profession (=as his job).

profes-sio-nal /prəˈfeshənal/ n 1 [C] someone who works in a job that needs special education and training: a health care professional 2 someone who earns money by doing a job, sport, or activity that other people do just for enjoyment: amateur; professional; 3 relating to a job that needs special education and training: You should speak to a lawyer for professional advice. 4 showing that someone has been well trained and is good at his/her work: This report looks very professional. → professionally adv.: The service uses volunteers rather than professionally trained staff.

profes-sion-al /prəˈfeshənal/ adj 1 doing a job, sport, or activity for money (A): professional athletes 2 professional sports are played by people who are paid (A): professional hockey; 3 relating to a job that needs special education and training: You should speak to a lawyer for professional advice. 4 showing that someone has been well trained and is good at his/her work: This report looks very professional. → professionally adv.: The service uses volunteers rather than professionally trained staff.

profes-sion-al-ism /prəˈfeshənalizəm/ n [C] the skill and high standards of behavior expected of a professional person; Gossiping about your co-workers shows a lack of professionalism.

profes-sor /prəˈfesər/ n [C] a teacher at a university or college, especially one who has a high rank; Thank you, Professor Drexler; a history professor; a professor of economics prof-er /ˈprɛfər/ v [T] (formal) to offer something to someone prof-er-i-ty /ˈprɛfərətii/ n [U] the ability to do something with a high level of skill: a student’s proficiency in math 2 The classes were geared to our level of proficiency.

prof-i-ta-bil-i-ty /prəˌfɪtəˈbɪləti/ n (plural proficiencies) [C] when it is not really true prof-i-ta-ble /prəˈfɪtəbəl/ adj producing a profit or a useful result: The company has had a profitable year. → profitably adv.

pr@f@ssor supplies began to run low, some merchants were criticized for profiteering.

profit profit margin n. [C] ECONOMICS the difference between the cost of producing something and the price you sell it at to make a profit profit motive n. [U] ECONOMICS the desire to make money, which is the reason why a person or business wants to take part in a business activity profit sharing n. [U] ECONOMICS a system in which workers are allowed to share some of their company’s profits program

 programmers
 program	v. (programmed, programming) [T] 1 to set a machine to operate in a particular way: I programmed the VCR to record that movie you wanted. 2 be programmed if a person or animal is programmed socially or biologically to do something, he, she, or it does it without thinking: Our bodies seem programmed to want the types and amounts of foods we need. 3 it to give a set of instructions to a computer to make it do a particular job: The computer is programmed to play chess.

pro-gram-mer /proˌgramər/ n. [C] if someone whose job is to write programs for computers pro-gram-ming /proˈɡramɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 television or radio programs, or the planning of these broadcasts: children’s programming 2 if the activity of writing programs for computers, or something written by a programmer pro-gress /ˈprəɡrəs/ n. [plural, U] (formal) 1 to develop, improve, or become more complete over a period of time: Work on the new building progressed quickly. 2 if an activity, event, time, etc. progresses, it continues and time passes: As the talks progressed, a deal became certain. 3 movement toward a place: The ship made slow progress through the rough sea. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of progressi “to go forward”] pro-gress1 /ˈprəɡrəs/ v. [I] 1 to develop, improve, or become more complete over a period of time: Work on the new building progressed quickly. 2 if an activity, event, time, etc. progresses, it continues and time passes: As the talks progressed, a deal became certain. 3 movement toward a place: The ship made slow progress through the rough sea. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of progressi “to go forward”] pro-gress2 /ˈprəɡrəs/ v. [T] 1 to say that an action is illegal or not allowed, especially officially: Smoking is strictly prohibited. 2 stores are prohibited from selling alcohol to people under 21. 3 Many countries prohibit the use of cell phones while driving.

prohibitively adv.

prohibi-tion /prəˈhɪbjən/ n. [singular, U] a set of rules or laws preventing people from doing or buying something: The cost of the trip was prohibitive (=too high). —prohibitively adv.

prohibitive /prəˈhɪbjətɪv/ adj. preventing people from doing or buying something: The cost of the trip was prohibitive (=too high). —prohibitively adv.
project

project /ˈprəˌdʒekt, -dʒekt/ (Ako) n. 1 [C] a carefully planned piece of work: the new highway project | Her research project involves studying people with cancer. The project aims to provide an analysis of children’s emotions. 2 the projects [plural] (informal) HOUSING PROJECTS [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin projectum, from the past participle of proiciere “to throw forward”]

pro·ject /ˌprəˈdʒekt/ v. 1 [T] to calculate or plan what will happen in the future, using the information you have now: The new freeway is projected to cost $230 million. | A national tour is projected for 2010. | The company projected an annual growth rate of 3%. 2 [T] to make other people have a particular idea about you: Jim always projects an image of self-confidence. 3 [I,T] to speak or sing loudly enough to be heard by everyone in a big room or theater 4 [T] to make the picture of a movie, photograph, etc. appear in a larger form on a screen or flat surface 5 [I,T] to stick out beyond an edge or surface: The roof projects over the driveway. 6 [T] (formal) to make something move up or forward with great force

pro·jec·tile /ˌprəˈdʒéktil/ n. [C] an object that is thrown or fired from a weapon

pro·jec·tion /ˌprəˈdʒekʃən/ (Ako) n. 1 [C] a statement about something you think will happen, based on the information you have now: this year’s sales projections | The graph shows a projection of housing needs over the next 10 years. 2 [C] something that sticks out beyond an edge or surface 3 [C,U] the act of making a movie, photograph, etc. appear on a screen, or the image itself: film projection

pro·jec·tion·ist /ˌprəˈdʒekʃənist/ n. [C] someone whose job is to operate a projector pro·jec·tor /ˌprəˈdʒektor/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that uses light to make a movie, photograph, etc. appear on a screen pro·kar·y·ote /ˌprəˌkær|iˈoʊt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a type of living thing whose cells do not have a NUCLEUS (=central part). Most prokaryotes, for example BACTERIA, have only one cell.

---

pro·kary·otic /ˌprəˌkær|iˈtɪk/ adj.: prokaryotic cell structure

pro·le·tar·i·at /ˌprəˌlətəˈrɪət/ n. [C] PEOPLE the people in a society who are poor, own no property, etc. —proletarian adj.

pro·le·tar·i·at·ic /ˌprəˌlətəˈrɪətɪk/ adj.

---

prom·ise /ˈprəmɪs/ n. [C] to say that something is going to happen: promissory note | I promised Barbara (that) I’d meet her after work. | I promise (that) I’ll never do that again. | Both candidates promised to get tougher on crime. | I’ve already promised them a ride to the dance.

---

prom·i·nent /ˈprəmɪnənt/ adj. 1 famous or important: a prominent biotech company 2 large and striking: prominent cheekbones 3 a prominent place/position somewhere that is easily seen: Condoleezza Rice rose to prominence (=became famous) during George W. Bush’s administration.

---

prom·i·nent·ly /ˌprəmɪnəntli/ adv.

---

prom·ise /ˈprəmɪs/ v. 1 [T] to tell someone that you will definitely do something, or that something will definitely happen: Police have promised a full investigation. | I promised Barbara (that) I’d meet her after work. | I promise (that) I’ll never do that again. | Both candidates promised to get tougher on crime. | I’ve already promised them a ride to the dance.

---

prom·is·cu·ous /ˈprəmɪskuəs/ adj. (formal) having sex with a lot of people —promiscuity /ˌprəmɪsˈkuəti/ n. [U]

prom·ise /ˈprəmɪs/ v. 1 [T] to tell someone very sincerely that you will do something: He gave us his word and I believe him. promise /prəˈmɔːr/ n. [C] 1 a move to a better, more responsible position at work; She received a promotion to lieutenant. 2 an activity intended to advertise a product or event, or the thing that is being advertised: a sales promotion promotional /prəˈməʊʃənl/ adj. promotional products and activities are made or organized in order to advertise something prompt /prɑmpət/ v. 1 [T] to make someone do something, or to help him/her remember to do it: The changes prompted several people to resign from the committee in protest.

promise in public promise /prəˈmɔːr/ v. 1 [T] to make a serious promise, often to yourself: She vowed that she would never drink alcohol again.

promise /prəˈmɔːr/ adv. 1 to make a promise anything (spoken) used in order to tell someone that you will try to do what s/he wants, but you may not be able to do it [Origin: 1300—1400 Medieval Latin promtare, from Latin promptus, from the past participle of promovere “to bring out”] promise /prəˈmɔːr/ n. 1 [C] a statement that you will definitely do something: She made a promise to take care of her neighbor’s dog. 2 [not do what I said I would do]: Has the president kept his promise to increase funding for education? 3 [a promise of help] 2 [U] signs that someone or someone will be good or successful: He shows a lot of promise as a writer.

promise /prəˈmɔːr/ ing /prəˈmɔːrɪŋ/ adj. showing that someone or something is likely to be successful in the future: a promising young singer —promisingly adv.

promise /prəˈmɔːr/ on the one hand (informal) a PROMOTION prom- on- to- ry /prəˈmɔnˌtər/ n. (plural promontories) [C] EARTH SCIENCES a high piece of land that goes out into the ocean promote /prəˈməʊt/ /AC v. [T] 1 to help something develop and be successful: The bureau’s job is to promote tourism to the area. 2 [AC] a balanced diet promotes good health. 3 to give someone a better, more responsible position at work (esp. demote: Ted was promoted to senior sales manager. 4 to advertise a product or event: The author went on a national tour to promote the book.

promote /prəˈməʊt/ er /prəˈməʊtər/ /AC n. [C] someone whose job is to arrange large public events such as concerts or sports games promotional /prəˈməʊʃənl/ adj. promotional products and activities are made or organized in order to advertise something pro-announce-ment /pra‘nounsment/ n. [C] (formal) an official public statement pron-to /ˈprontəʊ/ adv. (spoken) quickly or immediately – used especially when you are annoyed: Get in the house, pronto!

pro-nun-ci-a-tion /ˌprənənˈsaɪən/ n. 1 [C,U] the way in which a language or a particular word is pronounced: the correct pronunciation of English words. 2 [singular, U] a particular person’s way of pronouncing a word or words prop /prɒp/ v. (propelled, propelling) [T] 1 to make someone achieve something, or to make something happen or develop: Pearl Harbor was the attack that propelled America into World War II. 2 to move, drive, or push something forward: Paddle wheel ships were propelled by steam.

prop-er /ˈprəpər/ adj. 1 correct, or right for a particular situation: You need the proper tools for the job.

prop-er-ty /ˈprəpərti/ n. [U] 1 facts, information, documents, etc. that prove something to be true: There is no proof that the suspect was home when he said he was. 2 Drivers should carry proof of insurance. 3 [U] a measurement of how much alcohol is in a drink. For example, 40 proof is 20% alcohol. 4 [C] a test in mathematics of whether a calculation is correct, or a list of reasons that shows a theorem (=statement) in geometry to be true prop-read /ˈprəprɪd/ v. (past tense and past participle propread /-rɪd/) [T] to read something in order to correct any mistakes in it – propreader n. [C] prop /prɒp/ n. 1 [U] 1 something to hold in a position: Steel poles prop up the crumbling walls. 2 an object placed under or against something to hold it in a position. 3 an object such as a book, weapon, etc. used by actors in a play or movie prop-a-gan-da /prəˈpægənda/ n. [U] information that is false or which emphasizes just one part of a situation, used by a government or other group to make people agree with them: Soviet propaganda about the evils of capitalism – propagandist n. [C] – propagate v. [T] prop-a-gate /ˈpræpəˌget/ v. (formal) 1 [T] to share ideas, information, or beliefs with many people. 2 [T] biology to grow or produce new plants, or to make a plant do this – propagation n. [U] pro-pane /ˈprəpən/ n. [U] a colorless gas used for cooking and heating pro-pel /ˈprəpəl/ v. (propelled, propelling) [T] 1 to make someone achieve something, or to make something happen or develop: Pearl Harbor... prophecy /prəˈfəski/ n (plural prophecies) [C] a statement that tells what will happen in the future, often made by someone with religious or magical power prophesy /prəˈfa-səl/ v (prophesied prophecies) [I,T] to use religious or magical knowledge to say what will happen in the future proportion /prəˈpərSHən/ n (plural proportions) 1 the relationship between the amounts, numbers, or sizes of different things, as 32 is to 24; 2 the relationship between the size or shape of the different parts of a thing: The situation is more serious than it really is; 3 the proportion of something: There is a debate over the propriety of spanking children.

proportionate /prəˈpərSHət/ adj correctly saying what will happen in the future: His words turned out to be prophetic.

proponent /prəˈpoʊnənt/ n [C] someone who supports something or persuades people to do something: The Founding Fathers supported the proposition that all people are created equal under the law.

proposal /prəˈpəulpəl/ n [C] 1 a statement that tells what will happen in the future, and teaches people what will happen in the future and teaches people what will happen in the future and teaches people what will happen in the future and teaches people what will happen in the future and teaches people what will happen in the future and teaches people what will happen in the future.

prophecy 2 v [T] to officially suggest that something be done: Smith proposes that the rules be changed.

propose /prəˈpəulpəl/ v 1 [T] to officially suggest that something be done: Smith proposes that the rules be changed. 2 [I] to ask someone to marry you: Has he proposed yet? 3 [T] (formal) to intend to do something: What does the candidate propose to do about unemployment?

proposition /prəˈpəulpəl/ n [C] 1 a statement in which you express a judgment or opinion: The Founding Fathers supported the proposition that all people are created equal under the law. 2 an offer, plan, or idea, especially in business or politics: Jack went to Robards with a proposition.

proprietary /prəˈprəpiərē/ adj (formal) information or products that are proprietary can only be known about or sold by a particular company.

proprietary /prəˈprəpiərē/ adj (formal) an owner of a business.

proprietor /prəˈprəpiərər/ n [C] (formal) an owner of a business.

proprietor /prəˈprəpiərər/ n [C] (formal) an owner of a business.

propriety /prəˈprəpiərētē/ n (plural proprieties) 1 the correct relationship between the size or shape of each of the different parts of something: Her head seems large in proportion to her thin figure. 2 get/blow things out of proportion to react to a situation as if it is worse or more serious than it really is: 6 sense of proportion the ability to judge what is most important in a situation 7 [U] MATH a mathematical statement showing that the relationship is the same between two pairs of numbers, as in the statement "6 is to 2 as 32 is to 24".

proportionate /prəˈpərSHət/ adj also proportionate /prəˈpərSHət/ staying in a particular relationship with another thing in size, amount, or importance: The number of Representatives each state has is proportional to its population. Inner cities have more than a proportionate share of social problems.

proposal /prəˈpəulpəl/ n 1 [C] a plan or idea that is officially suggested for someone to consider, or the act of suggesting this: a proposal to raise bus fares.

proscribe /prəˈskri/ v to officially forbid, not allow/permit/let, ban, prohibit, bar: The Founding Fathers supported the proposition that all people are created equal under the law.

propose /prəˈpəulpəl/ v 1 [T] to officially suggest that something be done: Smith proposes that the rules be changed. 2 [I] to ask someone to marry you: Has he proposed yet? 3 [T] (formal) to intend to do something: What does the candidate propose to do about unemployment?

propose /prəˈpəulpəl/ v 1 [T] to officially suggest that something be done: Smith proposes that the rules be changed. 2 [I] to ask someone to marry you: Has he proposed yet? 3 [T] (formal) to intend to do something: What does the candidate propose to do about unemployment?
prose /priːs/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS written language in its usual form, not as poetry pros-e-cute /prəʊsˈkjuːt/ v. [I,T] to say officially that you think someone is guilty of a crime and must be judged by a court of law: He was prosecuted for theft.

pros-e-cution /prəʊsˈkjʊʃən/ n. 1 the prosecution LAW the lawyers who try to prove in a court of law that someone is guilty of a crime → DEFENSE: His ex-partner will appear as a witness for the prosecution. → COURT 2 [C,U] LAW the process or act of prosecuting someone pros-e-cu-tor /prəʊsˈkjʊtər/ n. [C] LAW a lawyer who is trying to prove in a court of law that someone is guilty of a crime → DISTRICT ATTORNEY pros-ec-tive /prəsˈɛktɪv/ adj. 1 likely to do a particular thing: a prospective buyer for the house 2 likely to happen: the prospective annual costs pros-e-cus-trate /ˌprɔsəˈkəstreɪt/ v. [T] lying flat on the ground with your face down, in order to show praise or respect pro-tag-o-nist /prəʊtəˈɡəʊnɪst/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the main character in a play, movie, or story pro-tean /ˈprəʊtʃən, prəʊˈtʃæn/ adj. (literary) having the ability to change your appearance or behavior again and again: an actor’s protean talents pro-tec-tive /prəˈtɛktɪv/ adj. something that protects someone or something: environmental protections | the protection of civil rights | a hat offers/provides/gives protection against the sun

pro-tec-tion /prəˈtekʃən/ n. [C,U] something that protects someone or something, or the act of protecting something: environmental protection | the protection of civil rights | a hat offers/provides/gives protection against the sun pro-tec-tion-ism /prəˈtekʃənɪzəm/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the practice in which a government tries to protect an industry in its own country by putting a tax on foreign goods entering the country —protectionist adj., n. [C] pro-tec-tive /prəˈtekтив/ adj. 1 used or intended for protection: a crab’s protective shell 2 wanting to protect someone from danger or harm: She’s fiercely protective of her children.

pro-tec-tor-ate /prəˈtektrət/ n. [C] POLITICS a country with its own government, that is protected and controlled by a more powerful country protest /ˈprəʊtɛst/ n. 1 [C] a strong complaint that shows you disagree with something that you think is wrong or unfair: Alvarez led a protest against the board’s decision. | He cleaned his room without protest. 2 do sth under protest to do something in a way that shows you do not want to do it because you think it is wrong or unfair protestor /ˈprəʊtɛstər/ n. [C] someone who takes part in a public event to show his/her opposition to something: anti-war protesters protein /proʊˈtein/ n. 1 [sing., U] the system of rules for the correct way to behave on official occasions: Even touching the Queen is a breach of protocol (=it is not allowed). 2 [C] an official statement of the rules that a group of countries have agreed to follow in dealing with a particular problem: the Montreal Protocol on greenhouse gases [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French protocole, from Late Greek protokollon “first page of a document”] protocol /ˈprəʊtəkəl/ n. 1 [C] PHYSICS a part in the nucleus of an atom, that has a positive electrical charge [Origin: 1800—1900 Greek “first thing,” from protos “first”] —see picture at ATOM pro-to-type /ˈprəʊtaɪp/ n. [C] a model of a new car, machine, etc., used in order to test the design before it is produced in large numbers pro-tract-ed /ˈprəʊtræktɪd, ˈpraʊ- adj. continuing for a long time, usually longer than necessary: a protracted strike pro-trac-tor /ˈprəʊtræktər, ˈpraʊ- n. [C] a flat tool shaped like a half circle, used for measuring and drawing angles proud /prəʊd/ adj. 1 feeling pleased because you think that something you have achieved or are connected with is very good: PRIDE: My husband and I are very proud of her. | We’re proud to announce the birth of our son. | I’m proud (that) the team’s done so well. 2 (disapproving) thinking that you are better, more important, more skillful, etc. than other people proudly adv. —PRIDE

prove /pruːv/ v. (past tense proved, past participle proved or proven) [T] 1 to show that something is definitely true: PROOF: They have enough evidence to prove that she is guilty. | I know he’s innocent, and I’m going to prove it to you. 2 to show over time that someone or something has a particular quality: Any delay will prove costly. | The weather proved to be beautiful. 3 prove yourself also prove sth to sb to show that you are able to do something well: At seventeen years old, she had yet to prove herself on the pro golf... proven

proven adj. shown to be real or true: a proven method of learning prov·er·b n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a short statement that most people know, that contains advice about life. For example, “A penny saved is a penny earned” is a proverb.

pro·vi·sion n. [C,U] 1 the thing that provides something: The charity provides shelter for the homeless. 2 a person or company that provides a service: a health-care provider. 2 someone who supports a family pro·vi·sion·al adj. provision(al) adj. 1 of or relating to a provision: a provisional government. 2 used in order to say that something will only happen if another thing happens first: Talks will take place in July, provided that enough progress has been made.

pro·vi·sion·al·ly adv. provisionally adv.

pro·vi·si·on·al·ly adv. provisionally adv.

pro·vi·sion·ed also provision·ed v. [T] 1 to give or supply something to someone: The charity provides shelter for the homeless. 2 to make plans in order to deal with something that might happen in the future: The hotel is examining ways to provide for the disabled.

pro·vi·sion·e·ry n. [U] 1 a store or shop for food and household supplies: a supermarket.

pro·vi·sion·ize v. provisionized v. to turn something into a form or style that is used by making it more formal or more detailed: to provisionize a contract.

pro·vi·sion·ize·ment n. provisional adj. 1 pertaining to or being something intended to exist for only a short time: a provisional government. 2 used to mean “not formally” or “in a provisional way”: a provisional file.

pro·vi·sion·ize·ment n. provisional adj. 1 pertaining to or being something intended to exist for only a short time: a provisional government. 2 used to mean “not formally” or “in a provisional way”: a provisional file.

pro·vi·so·nally adv. provisionally adv.

pro·vi·so·nally adv. provisionally adv.

pro·vi·sion·on·al adj. provision(al) adj. 1 of or relating to a provision: a condition in an agreement or law: the provisions of the treaty. 2 [C] a condition in an agreement or law: the provisions of the treaty. 3 provisions [plural] adj. provisions of [plurals] (formal) something that you say must happen before another thing is allowed to happen: Tom’s grandson inherited his money with the proviso that he go to college.

pro·vi·sion·on·al adj. provision(al) adj. 1 of or relating to a provision: a condition in an agreement or law: the provisions of the treaty. 2 [C] a condition in an agreement or law: the provisions of the treaty. 3 provisions [plural] adj. provisions of [plurals] (formal) something that you say must happen before another thing is allowed to happen: Tom’s grandson inherited his money with the proviso that he go to college.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.

pro·vi·voc·i·tive adj. provocative adj. 1 intending to make someone angry or cause a lot of discussion: provocative comments. 2 intending to make someone sexually excited: a provocative dress.
attitude that makes you avoid unnecessary risks: The situation demanded prudence.

prudent /ˈprudənt/ adj. sensible and careful, especially by avoiding risks that are not necessary: It would not be prudent to invest all of your money in the same place.

prune /prun/ also prune back v. [T] to cut some of the branches of a tree or bush to make it grow better prune n. [C] a dried plum (type of fruit)

pru·rent /pruˈrənt/ adj. (formal) showing too much interest in sex pry /pri/ v. (pried, pries) 1 [T] to force something open, or to force it away from something else: They finally pried the window open. 2 [I] to try to find out details about someone’s private life in an impolite way: I don’t want to pry, but I need to ask you one or two questions.

P.S. n. [C] postscript a note that you add to the end of a letter, that gives more information psalm /ˈsælpəm/ n. [C] a song or poem praising God pseu·do·nym /ˈsaɪdəˌnɒm/ n. [C] a name used by someone, especially a writer, instead of his/her real name [origin: 1800—1900 French pseudonyme, from Greek pseudonymos, from pseudē “false” + onoma “name”] psych /ˈsækh/ n. psychology, the science of psychology:

psych ab ‡ out phr. v. (informal) to do or say things that will make your opponent feel nervous or confused: He would psyche out opponents by screaming and jumping up and down before each game.

psych ‡ yourself up phr. v. (informal) to build up your confidence before doing something difficult by telling yourself or someone else that you can do it. Soldiers have to psyche themselves up for combat.

psychic /ˈsæktɪk/ adj. relating to strange events involving the power of the human mind: a mysterious psychic phenomenon | She clairvoyantly has psychic powers. 2 someone who is psychic has the ability to know what other people are thinking or what will happen in the future. 3 affecting the mind rather than the body: psychic pain/scar/wound | people who are in psychic pain psychic n. [C] someone who has psychic powers such as the ability to know what will happen in the future psychiatrist /ˈsɛkɪətrɪst, səˈtɛrɪst/ n. [C] a doctor who studies and treats mental illness ➔ psychiatrist psychiatry /ˈsɛkɪətrɪ-/, -trē- er-ē/ n. [U] the study of the mind and how it works: a professor of psychology 2 [U] the science of psychology:

psychoanalysis /ˈsaɪkəˈænəlɪz/, -ənəlɪˈsɪs/ n. [C] a method of treating mental illness by talking to someone who is likely to behave in a violent or crazy way psychological /ˌsaɪkəˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. relating to what people’s minds work and the way this affects their behavior: The patient has a history of psychological problems. 2 relating to the science of psychology: a psychological test ➔ psychologically adv.: psychologically disturbed patients psychology /ˌsaɪkəˈlɒdʒi/ n. [U] the study of the mind and how it works: a professor of psychology psychopath /ˈsɛkɪपˌθæt/ n. [C] someone who has a mental illness that makes him/her behave in a violent or criminal way ➔ psychopathic /ˌsaɪkəˈpæθɪk/ adj.

psychotic /ˈsɛkɪtɪk/ adj. relating to mental illness, or resulting from it: psychotic behavior ➔ psychotic n. [C] ➔ crazy
PTA

n. [C] Parent-Teacher Association an organization of teachers and parents that works to improve a particular school pub·li·ca·tion /publiˈkeɪʃən/ n. [U] the act of making something known to the public: The authorities tried to stop the publication of the test results.

PTA 812

pub·li·cist /ˈpʌblɪkɪst/ n. [U] someone whose job is to make sure that famous people or new products, movies, books, etc. get a lot of publicity pub·li·cism /ˈpʌblɪkaɪzəm/ n. 1 [C] someone who is well known because s/he is on television or in the newspapers a lot pub·li·cize /ˈpʌblɪsaɪz/ v. [T] to tell people about a new movie, book, event, etc.: a well-publicized movie pub·li·cous /ˈpʌblɪkəs/ adj. 1 relating to the ordinary people in a country or city: We acted out of concern for public welfare. | The judge ruled that allowing the broadcast of the trial would be in the public interest. | The mayor seems to have public opinion on his side. 2 available for anyone to use and private: a public restroom | public transportation 3 relating to the government and the services that it provides and private: It has been eight years since she was elected to public office (= a job in the government). | Republicans want to cut public spending (= money the government spends on roads, hospitals, etc.). 4 known about by most people: Last night the name of the killer was made public. 5 intended for anyone to know, see, or hear and private: public display of affection/emotion/anger etc. (= showing your emotions so that everyone can see) 6 go public to tell everyone about something that was secret: They finally went public with news of their engagement. [Origin: 1400—1500 French publique, from Latin publicus] 7 to tell people

pub·lic·ly /ˈpʌblɪkli/ adv. 1 in a way that is intended for anyone to know, see, or hear: None of the players were willing to comment publicly. | Lozansky was jailed for publicly criticizing the government. 2 by the government, as part of its services: The hospitals are publicly operated in cities, suburbs, and rural areas. 3 Economics a company that is publicly owned has sold stock in it to the public. 4 among the ordinary people in a country or city: publicly elected bodies

pub·lic·ly /ˈpʌblɪkli/ adv. 1 in a way that is intended for anyone to know, see, or hear: None of the players were willing to comment publicly. | Lozansky was jailed for publicly criticizing the government. 2 by the government, as part of its services: The hospitals are publicly operated in cities, suburbs, and rural areas. 3 Economics a company that is publicly owned has sold stock in it to the public. 4 among the ordinary people in a country or city: publicly elected bodies

pub·lic·ly /ˈpʌblɪkli/ adv. 1 in a way that is intended for anyone to know, see, or hear: None of the players were willing to comment publicly. | Lozansky was jailed for publicly criticizing the government. 2 by the government, as part of its services: The hospitals are publicly operated in cities, suburbs, and rural areas. 3 Economics a company that is publicly owned has sold stock in it to the public. 4 among the ordinary people in a country or city: publicly elected bodies

pub·lic·ly /ˈpʌblɪkli/ adv. 1 in a way that is intended for anyone to know, see, or hear: None of the players were willing to comment publicly. | Lozansky was jailed for publicly criticizing the government. 2 by the government, as part of its services: The hospitals are publicly operated in cities, suburbs, and rural areas. 3 Economics a company that is publicly owned has sold stock in it to the public. 4 among the ordinary people in a country or city: publicly elected bodies
pub·lish /pəˈblɪʃ/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] to arrange for a book, magazine, etc. to be written, printed, and sold: Huckleberry Finn was first published in 1884. | We publish mainly educational materials. 2 [T] if a newspaper, magazine, etc. publishes something such as a letter, it prints it for people to read: The article was published in the Los Angeles Times. 3 [T] to make official information available for everyone to use: New guidelines for social studies education were published this year. [Origin: 1300—1400 French publier, from Latin publicare “to make public, publish”] —publishing n. [U]: I work in publishing.

pub·li·she·r /pəˈblɪʃər/ n. [C] a person or company that arranges the writing, printing, and sale of books, newspapers, etc.

puck /pʊk/ n. [C] a hard flat circular piece of rubber that you hit with a stick in the game of hockey puck·er /ˈpuːkər/ or puck·er up v. 1 [I,T] (informal) if your mouth puckers, or if you pucker it, your lips are pulled together tightly, for example because you are going to kiss someone 2 [I] if cloth puckers, it gets folds in it so that it is no longer flat —puckered adj.

pu·d·ding /ˈpudɪŋ/ n. [C,U] a thick sweet creamy food made with milk, eggs, sugar, and flour, that is eaten cold: chocolate pudding [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French boudin, from Latin botellus “sausage”] pu·d·de·ly /ˈpʌdli/ n. [C] a small pool of rain on a road, path, etc.: Children were splashing in the puddles.

pu·d·gy /ˈpʌdʒi/ adj. fatter than usual: short pudgy fingers —pudginess n. [U]

Pueb·lo /ˈpwɛbləʊ/ n. a group of Native American tribes from the southwest U.S., who built homes made of adobe —Pueblo adj.

pueblo n. [C] 1 a small town or group of Native American homes in the southwest U.S., usually with more than one level, made of stone or adobe (=building material made from earth and straw) 2 a small town in the southwest U.S.

pu·er·ile /ˌpyʊərəˈliːl/ -ishly adj. (formal) silly and stupid (of children; puerile humor)

puff /pʊf/ v. 1 [I,T] to breathe in and out while smoking a cigarette, pipe, etc.: William sat there puffing on his pipe. 2 [I] to breathe quickly and with difficulty after running, carrying something heavy, etc.: Max was puffing heavily after climbing the stairs. 3 [I,T] to blow steam or smoke out of something: The boiler was puffing thick black smoke.

puff sth ↔ out prep. v. to make something bigger by filling it with air: The frog had its throat puffed out.

pull1 /pʊl/ v. 1 MOVE TOWARD YOU [I,T] to use your hands to move something toward you OR push: Mom, Sara’s pulling my hair! When I count to three, start pulling. | Wilson quickly pulled the door open/shut. | Help me pull the trunk into the corner.

—tug — to pull something suddenly, especially several times with small movements: The little boy was tugging at her sleeve.

drag — to pull something somewhere, usually along the ground: I dragged the chair upstairs.
pull

haul – to pull something heavy, often using a rope: Fishermen hauled in their nets.

tow – to pull another vehicle or boat: Some pickup trucks were towing trailers.

heave – to pull or lift something very heavy, especially with one movement: We managed to heave the piano into position. → PUSH

2 REMOVE [T] to remove something from its place, especially by using force: She has to have her wisdom teeth pulled. | The baby’s pulled everything out of the cupboards.

3 MAKE STH FOLLOW YOU [I,T] to use a rope, chain, your hands, etc. to make something move behind you in the direction you are moving: Grant pulled away from the curb.

4 PULL [T] to use force to move your body somewhere: The car was pulling a camper behind it.

MUSCLE [T] to injure a muscle by stretching it too much during physical activity: Martinez pulled a groin muscle and had to leave the game.

5 PULL sb’s leg (informal) to tell someone something that is not true, as a joke: I think he was just pulling your leg.

6 PULL strings to secretly use your influence with important people in order to get something or to help someone: Barry pulled some strings and got us tickets for the football game.

7 MOVE YOUR BODY a) [I,T] to move your body or part of your body away from someone or something: She pulled away from him in horror. b) [T] to use force to move your body somewhere: The kids pulled themselves up onto the platform.

8 CLOTHING [I,T] to put on or take off clothing, usually quickly: He pulled off his gloves and placed them on the dresser.

9 PULL your weight to do your share of the work: If you don’t start pulling your weight around here, you’ll be fired!

10 PULL a stunt/trick/joke/prank (informal) to do something that annoys or harms other people: Don’t you ever pull a stunt like that again!

11 TRICK [T] (spoken) to deceive or trick someone: What are you trying to pull? Are you trying to pull a fast one on me?

12 PULL the strings to control something, especially when you are not the person who is supposed to be controlling it: Who is really pulling the strings in the White House?

13 SWITCH [T] to move a control such as a switch or trigger toward you to make a piece of equipment work: She raised the gun and pulled the trigger.

14 GUN/KNIFE [T] to take out a gun or knife ready to use it: Suddenly the man pulled a gun and began shooting.

15 PULL the rug out from under sb to suddenly take away something that someone was depending on to achieve what s/he wanted

PULL sth ↔ apart phr. v. to separate something into two or more pieces or groups: Loosen the roots and gently pull the plants apart. | the ethnic problems that pulled Yugoslavia apart

PULL AWAY phr. v. 1 to move ahead of a competitor by going faster or being more successful: Chicago pulled away in the third quarter to win 107–76. 2 to start to drive away from the place where your car was stopped: Grant pulled away from the curb.

PULL sth ↔ down phr. v. to start to drive away from the place where your car was stopped: Grant pulled away from the curb.

PULL for sb phr. v. (informal) to encourage a person or team to succeed: Which team are you pulling for?

PULL IN phr. v. 1 pull (sth ↔) in to move a car into a particular space and stop it: Kevin pulled in behind me and parked. 2 pull sth ↔ in (informal) if you pull in a lot of money, you earn it

PULL OFF phr. v. 1 pull sth ↔ off (informal) to succeed in doing something difficult: Crue expects to win the fight, but no one else thinks he can pull it off. 2 pull off sth to leave a road in order to stop or to turn into another road

PULL OUT phr. v. 1 to drive a car onto a road from where you have stopped 2 to get out of a bad situation or dangerous place: Investors pulled out, selling all their shares. 3 pull sb/sth ↔ out to get someone out of a bad situation or dangerous place: We plan to pull our troops out of the area.

PULL (sb/sth ↔) OVER phr. v. to drive to the side of a road and stop your car, or to make someone do this: We didn’t realize we were speeding until the highway patrol pulled us over.

PULL THROUGH phr. v. 1 pull sth through (sth) to stay alive after a serious injury or illness, or to help someone do this: We all prayed that he would pull through. 2 pull through sth to continue to live or exist after being in a difficult or upsetting situation: The city managed to pull through its financial crisis.

PULL TOGETHER phr. v. 1 to work hard with other people to achieve something: After the hurricane, neighbors pulled together to help each other. 2 pull yourself together (informal) to force yourself to stop being nervous, afraid, or disorganized: A year after the accident, she’s finally starting to pull herself together.

PULL UP phr. v. 1 to stop the vehicle you are driving: A red Buick pulled up at the stop lights. 2 pull up a chair/stool etc. to get a chair and sit down near someone who is already sitting

PULL n. 1 [C] an act of using force to move something toward you or in the same direction as you are going: Give the rope a good pull. 2 [C usually singular] a strong force such as GRAVITY, that makes things move in a particular direction: the pull of the ocean’s tide pulp

pul·mo·nar·y /pul'mo,nar'é/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to or affecting the lungs: pulmonary disease | the pulmonary vein/artery (≈tubes that carry blood from the heart to the lungs) pulp /pulp/ n. 1 the soft inside part of a fruit or vegetable: Cut the melon in half and scoop out the pulp. 2 a very soft substance that is almost liquid: Mash the bananas to a pulp. 3. Timber is grown for wood pulp, which is used for making paper. 3. beat sb to a pulp (informal) to hit someone until when she is seriously injured

pulp fiction

pull-up n. informal (1) 1400—1500 Middle Low German pumpe or Middle Dutch pomp pump v. 1 [T] to make liquid or gas move in a particular direction, using a pump: That’s the machine that pumps water into the fields. 2 [I] to move liquid very quickly in and out or up and down: His heart was pumping fast. 3 pump sb (about sth) (informal) to ask someone a lot of questions in order to find out information. 4 pump iron (informal) to do exercise by lifting heavy weights pump sb into sth phr. v. pump money into sth (informal) to spend a lot of money on something such as a project: He had to pump $10,000 of his own money into the company.

pump up phr. v. 1 to remove liquid from something using a pump: We had to pump the basement out after the pipes burst. 2 to produce or supply something in large amounts: I pump out a new novel every year.

pulp fiction

punch

punch v. 1 to hit someone or something hard with your fist (=closed hand): Bill was suspended from school for punching another student. 2 to make a hole in something using a metal tool or other sharp object: The conductor came along and punched our tickets.

punch n. informal 1 a heavy dark brown bread pumpkin /pum'pkin/ n. [C/U] a very large orange fruit that grows on the ground, or the inside of this eaten as food: pumpkin pie (=tubes that carry blood from the heart to the lungs)

punch

punch v. informal (1) 1400—1500 Middle Low German pumpe or Middle Dutch pomp pump

pump n. 1 a machine that forces liquid or gas into or out of something: a water/fuel/gas etc. pump | an air/a bicycle pump | see picture at bicycle. 2 a woman’s plain shoe that does not fasten: a pair of black pumps. 3 also gas pump a machine at a gas station, used to put gasoline into a car [origin: (1) 1400—1500 Middle Low German pumpe or Middle Dutch pomp]
punch

punch out phr. v. to record the time that you leave work by putting a card into a special machine punch5 n. 1 [C] a quick strong hit made with your fist (closed hand): a punch in the stomach 2 [U] a drink made from fruit juice, sugar, water, and sometimes alcohol: fruit punch 3 [C] a metal tool for cutting holes or for pushing something into a small hole 4 [U] a strong effective quality that makes people interested: We need something to give the ad campaign some punch.

punchbag n. 1 [C] a heavy leather bag that hangs from a rope, that is punched for exercise 2 use sb as a punching bag (informal) to hit someone hard, or to criticize someone a lot, even though s/he has done nothing wrong punchline, punch-line n. [C] the last few words of a joke or story that make it funny or surprising

punctilious /ˈpʌŋktɪliəs/ adj. (formal) very careful to behave correctly and keep exactly to rules: her punctilious attention to instructions —punctiliously adv. —punctiliousness n. [U] punctual /ˈpʌŋktʃuəl/ adj. arriving, happening, etc. at exactly the time that has been arranged: My boss demands that we be punctual for work.

punctuality /ˈpʌŋktʃuəlɪtɪ/ n. [U] punctuate /ˈpʌŋktʃjuːt/ v. [T] 1 ENGLISH ARTS to divide written work into sentences, phrases, etc. using commas, periods, etc. 2 be punctuated by/with sth to be interrupted many times by something: The president’s speech was punctuated by occasional cheers.

punctuation /ˈpʌŋktʃuəʃən/ n. [U] ENGLISH ARTS the way that punctuation marks are used in a piece of writing punctuation mark n. [C] ENGLISH ARTS a sign, such as a comma or question mark, that is used in dividing a piece of writing into sentences, phrases, etc.

puncture1 /ˈpʌŋktʃər/ n. [C] a small hole made when something is punctured puncture2 v. [I,T] to make a small hole in some-ting, so that air or liquid can get out: One bullet punctured his lung.

punt /pənt/ v. [T] to make a long kick that you make after dropping the ball from your hands
—punt v. [I,T]

punisher /ˈpʌnɪʃər/ n. [C] a person who uses corporal punishment to discipline children.

punish /ˈpʌnɪʃ/ v. [T] to make someone suffer because s/he has done something wrong or broken the law: We will catch the people responsible for this crime, and we will punish them. 1 Don’t punish him for one small mistake. 2 Any student caught destroying school property will be severely punished. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French punir, from Latin punire, from poena, from Greek poine “payment, punishment”] punish able /ˈpʌnɪʃəbl/ adj. deserving legal punishment: Murder is punishable by life imprisonment.

punish-able /ˈpʌnɪʃəbl/ adj. difficult, tiring, or extreme: a punishing walk punish-ment /ˈpʌnɪʃmənt/ n. 1 [C] something that is done to punish someone: Mason wants tougher punishments for youths involved with gangs. 2 A year in prison seems like a harsh/severe punishment for a minor offense. 3 Don’t say “strict strong punishments.”

sentence — a punishment given by a judge in a court: a prison sentence 1 He faces a death sentence (execution as punishment for a crime).

penalty — a punishment given to someone who has broken a law, rule, or agreement: Drug dealers face severe penalties. 1 The prosecution will seek the death penalty (=death as punishment for a crime) for the murderer.

fine — an amount of money that you must pay as a punishment for breaking a rule or law: I got a fine for speeding.

community service — unpaid work helping other people that someone does as punishment for a crime: He was ordered to do 60 hours of community service.

corporal punishment — the act of punishing someone by hitting him/her: Corporal punishment is illegal in schools.

capital punishment — the practice of killing someone as punishment for a crime

2 [U] the act of punishing someone, or the process of being punished: The terrorists will not escape punishment. 2 As punishment, Marshall had to stay after school.

punitive /ˈpʌnɪtɪv/ adj. intended as punishment. The company will seek punitive damages (money that a court orders someone to pay as a punishment) related to the fraud conviction.

punk /ˈpʌŋk/ n. 1 [U] also punk rock a type of loud music popular in the late 1970s and 1980s 2 [C] (informal) a boy or young man who likes to start fights, do things that are illegal, etc. 3 [C] also punk rocker someone who likes punk music and wears things that are typical of it, such as torn clothes, metal chains, and colored hair punk rock /ˈpʌŋk rɒk/ n. [C] in football, a long kick that you make after dropping the ball from your hands

—punt v. [I,T]

pu·ny /ˈpyuni/ adj. small, thin, and weak: a puny little kid pup /ˈpʌp/ n. [C] 1 a puppy 2 a young seal or otter pup·pa /ˈpypə/ n. (plural pupas or pupae /-pi/ [C] BIOLOGY a young insect that is at the stage of its development in which it does not eat and is protected inside a special cover, before it becomes an adult —pupal adj.

pup·pi·l·i /ˈpypəˌpilə/ n. [C] (formal) a child or young person in school → STUDENT 2 BIOLOGY the small black round area in the middle of your eye → see picture at eye [ORIGIN: (1) 1300–1400 French pupille, from Latin pupillae "young boy who is looked after"] pup·pet·ry /ˈpypəˌtrɪ/ n. 1 forms with puppets → puppet show 2 the activity of making puppets pup·py /ˈpʌpi/ n. (plural puppies) [C] a young dog puppy love n. [U] a young boy’s or girl’s romantic love for someone, that people do not think of as serious pur-chase1 /ˈpɜːtʃəs/ (Ac v. [T] formal to buy something: The couple recently purchased a $4 million mansion in Beverly Hills. | Tickets may be purchased from the box office. | There is a growing demand to purchase goods on credit. | Eighty percent of men’s clothing is purchased by women. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French purchacier “to try to get,” from chacier “to run after and try to catch”] —purchaser n [C]

purchase2 n. (formal) 1 [C/U] the act of buying something: Please have your credit card ready when making your purchase. | The law requires a five-day waiting period for the purchase of handguns. | A personal computer is often a family’s third-biggest purchase after the house and the car. 2 [C] something that has been bought: The store will deliver your purchases.

pure /ˈpyʊər/ adj. 1 not mixed with anything else (any) impure: rings made of pure gold | pure wool blankets → NATURAL 2 [only before noun] complete: a smile of pure joy | It was pure chance that we were there at the same time. 3 clean, without anything harmful or unhealthy (any) impure: pure drinking water | In the mountains, the air is pure. 4 pure and simple used to emphasize that there is only one thing involved or worth considering: This was murder, pure and simple. 5 (literary) without any sexual experience or evil thoughts pu·rée /ˈpyʊrə/ n. [CU] food that is boiled or crushed until it is almost a liquid: tomato purée —purée v. [T]

pu·rify /ˈpyʊrəˌfaɪ/ adv. completely and only: He did it for purely selfish reasons. | We met purely by chance.

pur·ga·to·ry /ˈpɜːrɡəˌtɔrɪ/ n. [U] 1 Purgatory a place where, according to Roman Catholic beliefs, the souls of dead people must suffer for the bad things they have done, until they are good enough to enter heaven 2 a place, situation, or time when you suffer a lot pur·ge /ˈpɜːdʒ/ v. [T] 1 to force people to leave a place or organization because the people in power do not like them: The army was purged of anyone the government considered dangerous. 2 (formal) to get rid of something bad that is in your body 3 (literary) to remove bad feelings: We must purge ourselves of hatred. —purge n. [C] pur·if·i·ca·tion /pərɪˈfɪkəʃən/ n. [C/U] to remove the dirty or unwanted parts from something: The water should be purified before drinking. —purification v. [T] pur·if·ist /ˈpɜːrɪˌfɪst/ n. [C] someone who has very strict ideas about what is right or correct in a particular subject pur·it·an /ˈpɜːrɪtən, -ɹən/ n. [C] 1 someone with strict moral views who thinks that pleasures such as sex or drinking alcohol are wrong 2 Puritan HISTORY a member of a Protestant religious group in the 16th and 17th centuries, who wanted to make religion simpler pur·it·i·cal·ly /ˌpɜːrɪˈtiːkəli/ adj. (disapproving) having strict attitudes about religion and moral behavior: a puritanical and deeply religious woman pur·ri·ty /ˈpɜːrɪti/ n. [U] the quality or state of being pure: the purity of the water | religious purity pur·ple /ˈpɜːpəl/ n. [U] a dark color made from red mixed with blue [ORIGIN: 900–1000 Latin pur·pura, from Greek porphyra type of shellfish Purple Heart

from which purple coloring was obtained

—purple adj.

Purple ‘Heart’ n. [C] a medal given to U.S. soldiers who have been wounded in battle pur-port /paʊrˈpɔːrt/ v. [T] (formal) to claim to be or do something, even if this is not true: He purports to be the son of the wealthy Italian banker. | The painting is purported to be the work of Monet.

—purportedly adv.

pur-pose /ˈpɜrˌpəs/ n. 1 [C] the thing that an event, process, or activity is supposed to achieve: The purpose of this exercise is to increase your strength. | For the purposes of the report, low income was defined as $30,000 a year for a family of four. | He came here with the purpose of carrying out the attack. 2 on purpose deliberately: Firefighters believe the fire was started on purpose. 3 [U] determination to succeed in what you want to do: She came back from vacation with a new sense of purpose.

pur-pose-ful /paʊrˈpəsfl/ adj. having a clear aim or purpose (*see determined): She kept walking, with long, purposeful strides.

pur-pose-ly /paʊrˈpəsli/ adv. deliberately: They purposely left him out of the discussion.

THESAURUS
 deliberately on purpose, intentionally → DELIBERATELY purr /pɜːr/ v. [I] if a cat purrs, it makes a soft low sound in its throat to show that it is pleased —purr n. [C] purse1 /pɜːs/ n. [C] a bag used by women to carry money and personal things: I think my glasses are still in my purse. —see picture at BAG 2 control/hold the purse strings to control the money in a family, company, etc. —[Origin: 1200—1300 Late Latin bursa “bag (for money)”] purse2 v. purse your lips to bring your lips together tightly in a circle, especially to show disapproval pur-ser /ˈpɜːsər/ n. [C] an officer who is responsible for the money on a ship and is in charge of the passengers’ rooms, comfort, etc.

pur-sue /pɜːs/ v. [T] 1 to continue doing an activity or trying to achieve something over a long time: He left home to pursue a career in acting. | Students should pursue their own interests, as well as do their school work. | The program allows adult learners to pursue their studies in their own time. 2 to chase or follow someone or something in order to catch him, her, or it: A police car pursued the suspect along Nordheff Blvd.

THESAURUS
 follow, chase, run after → FOLLOW

3 pursue the matter/question/argument to continue trying to ask about, find out about, or persuade someone about a particular subject: The company plans to pursue the matter in court. —[Origin: 1300—1400 Anglo-French pursuir, from Old French poursuir, from Latin prossequi “to follow and try to catch”]

pur-suit /paʊrˈsɔːt/ n. 1 [U] the act of chasing or following someone: With the officers in (hot) pursuit (=following close behind), Parker pulled off the freeway and ran into the woods. 2 [U] (formal) the act of trying to achieve something in a determined way: the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness | People are having to move to other areas in pursuit of work. 3 [C usually plural] (formal) an activity that you spend a lot of time doing: Nancy enjoys outdoor pursuits.

pur-vey-or /paʊrˈveɪər/ n. [C] (formal) a business that supplies information, goods, or services: purveyors of fine cheeses pur-sue /pɜːs/ v. 1 MOVE [I, T] to move a person or thing away from you by pressing him, her, or it with your hands (and) pull: A couple of guys were pushing an old Volkswagen down the street. | Lisa pushed Amy into the pool. | She tried to push him away. | Can you push harder? It’s not moving. —[see picture on page A9] 2 MAKE STH START/STOP [I, T] to press a button, switch, etc. to make a machine start or stop working: Push the green button to start the engine. 3 TRY TO GET PAST SB [I, T] to move somewhere by pushing people away from you: Heather pushed past us without speaking. | People were trying to push their way to the front. 4 PERSUADE [I, T] to try to persuade someone to accept or do something: The agency is pushing to increase U.S. exports. | Concerned citizens are pushing for stricter gun controls. | My parents pushed me into going to college. 5 WORK HARD [I, T] to make someone work very hard: Royce has been pushing himself too much lately. | Coach Koepple pushes his players pretty hard. 6 INCREASE/DECREASE [I, T] to increase or decrease an amount, number, or value: New medical technology has pushed the cost of health care up.

7 DRUGS [T] (informal) to sell illegal drugs

8 push your luck/push it (informal) to do something or ask for something again, when this is likely to annoy someone or be risky: I want to ask my boss for another day off, but I don’t want to push my luck. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French pulsare “to hit, push,” from Latin pulsare, from pellere “to drive, hit”] push ahead phr. v.

to continue with a plan or activity in a determined way: The airport is pushing ahead with its program to expand.

push sb ↔ around phr. v.
(informal) to tell someone what to do in a rude or threatening way: Don’t let your boss push you around.

push on phr. v.
to continue traveling somewhere or doing an activity: The others stopped for a rest, but I pushed on to the top of the mountain. | Even with disagreement growing, they decided to push on with the negotiations.

push sth ↔ through phr. v.
to get a plan, law, etc. officially accepted, especially quickly: The governor pushed through a measure to increase the state sales tax.

push+ n. [C usually singular] 1 the act of pushing someone or something: Just give the door a push if it’s stuck. 2 an attempt to get or achieve something: Eastern Europe then started a push to modernize its economies. | a push for longer prison terms 3 if/when push comes to shove when or if a situation becomes extremely difficult: If push comes to shove, I can always rent out the house.

push-er /ˈpʊsər/ n. [C] (informal) someone who sells illegal drugs push-o-ver /ˈpʊʃəvər/ n. (informal) to be a push-over to be easy to persuade, influence, or defeat push-up n. [C] an exercise in which you lie on the floor facing the ground, and push yourself up with your arms: I can only do about twenty push-ups.

push-y /ˈpʊʃi/ adj. (disapproving) so determined to succeed and get what you want that you behave in a rude way: pushy salespeople puss-y-cat /ˈpʊsə,keɪt/ n. [C] 1 a word meaning cat, used by children, or when speaking to children. 2 (informal) someone who is kind and gentle: Jake’s a real pussycat once you get to know him.

puss-y-foot /ˈpʊsɪˌfʊt/ v. [I] (informal) to be too careful and afraid to do something: Stop pussying around and decide!
9 put faith/confidence/trust etc. in sb/sth to trust or believe in someone or something: These people put little trust in doctors. [Old English putian] ➔ put your mind to sth  put sth •• across one’s mind put sth •• across pbr. v.

1 to explain your ideas, beliefs, etc. in a way that people can understand: I had a hard time putting my message across to the students.

put sth •• aside pbr. v.
1 to ignore a problem or disagreement because you want to achieve something: Try to put your feelings aside and look at the facts.

put sth •• away pbr. v.
1 to put something in the place where it is usually kept: Could you put the dishes away before you go to bed?

put sth •• back pbr. v.
1 to put things or people in the place or situation they were before: Put the milk back in the fridge.

put down pbr. v.
1 put sth •• down to put something you are holding onto a surface: She put her case down on the floor. ➔ see picture on page A9

2 put sb •• down (informal) to criticize someone and make him/her feel silly or stupid: Her father is always putting her down.

3 put sth •• down (informal) to write something on a piece of paper: I put down that I’d be available to work on Saturdays.

4 put sth/sth •• down to use force to stop people who are fighting against a government: Soldiers were sent to put down the rebellion.

put sth •• forward pbr. v.
1 to suggest a plan, idea, etc.: The treaty was put forward by the Dutch.

2 put sth •• in pbr. v.
1 to put a piece of equipment somewhere and connect it so that it is ready to be used: We had to have a new furnace put in.

2 to spend time or effort doing something: Doug is putting in a lot of hours at work (he is working a lot).

3 to ask for something in an official way: Sawyer put in his expenses claim last week. | Jones put in a request for a transfer to our Dallas office.

put sth into sth pbr. v.
1 to make money available to be used for a particular purpose: The company plans to put more money into computer technology.

2 put energy/effort/enthusiasm etc. into sth to use energy, etc. when you are doing something: Koskoff put a lot of time and effort into this project.

3 put sth into action/effect/practice to start using something such as a plan: The college hopes to put the changes into effect by August 1.

put off pbr. v.
1 put sth •• off to delay something, or to delay doing something: Many Americans put off filling out their tax forms as long as possible. | We’ve decided to put off our trip to Europe until next year.

2 put sth •• on pbr. v.
1 to put a piece of clothing on your body ➔ take off: Put your coat on — it’s cold.

2 put sth •• on sth to do something that affects or influences something else: The government put a freeze on the construction of new nuclear power plants (they stopped it).

3 put on weight/5 pounds etc. to become fatter and heavier

4 to make a piece of equipment begin working: It’s cold in here. Why don’t you put on the heat?

5 to begin to play a record, tape, video, etc.: Let’s put on some music.

6 to use makeup, etc. on your skin: I hardly ever put on lipstick.

7 to arrange an event, concert, play, etc., or to perform in one: The orchestra is putting on a concert for charity.

8 to start cooking something: Let me just put the potatoes on.

put out pbr. v.
1 put sth •• out to make a fire, cigarette, etc. stop burning: It took nearly three hours to put out the fire.

2 put sth •• out to produce something, such as a book, record, movie, etc.: They’ve put out three books now on vegetarian cooking.

3 put sth •• out to place things where people can find and use them: I’m just going to put out cold cuts, bread, and stuff for lunch.

4 put sth •• out to put something outside the house: Has anybody put the trash out yet?

5 put sth •• out to broadcast or produce something for people to read or listen to: The company has put out a statement saying that they will replace all the defective products.

6 put sb •• out to make more work or cause problems for someone: Will it put you out if I bring another guest?

7 put your hand/foot/arm out to move your hand, etc. away from your body: Jack put out his foot and tripped her.

put through pbr. v.
1 put sb through sth to make someone do something that is very bad or difficult: My father’s drinking problem put my mother through hell.

2 put sb through school/college/university to pay for someone to go to school, etc.: He worked part-time to put himself through school.

3 put sb through to connect someone to someone else on the telephone put sth to sb pbr. v.

1 to suggest something such as a plan to a person or group: The proposal was put to the committee on January 9.
put th ··· together phr. v.
1 to build or fix something by joining its different parts together: The store will put the bicycle together for you.
2 to prepare or produce something by collecting pieces of information, ideas, etc.: Franklin has put together a program to help families in need.
3 put together combined: He earns more than the rest of us put together.

put up phr. v.
1 put up ··· to build something such as a wall or building, or to raise something so that it is upright: The developers plan to put up a 15-story office building.
2 put up ··· to attach a picture, etc., to a wall or decorate things, so people can see them: Stores are already putting up Christmas decorations.
3 put sth up for sale/discussion/review etc. to make something available to be sold, discussed, etc.: We put our house up for sale.
4 put ··· up (informal) to let someone stay in your house: I can put Jared up for the night.
5 put up money/$500/$3 million etc. to give money to be used for a particular purpose: Further put up $42,000 in prize money for the contest.

put up resistance/a fight/a struggle to argue against or oppose something in a determined way, or to fight against someone who is attacking you: Opponents of the bill are putting up a good fight in the Assembly.

put up sb/sth at all phr. v. to accept a bad situation or person without complaining: I'm not going to put up with being treated like that.

put-down n. [C] (informal) something you say that is intended to make someone feel stupid and unimportant putrefy /'putrəfi/ v. (putrefied, putrefies) [L.T] (formal) to decay and smell very bad putrid /'putrid/ adj. decaying and smelling very bad putt /'pʊt/ v. [L.T] to hit a golf ball gently a short distance along the ground toward the hole —putt n. [C] putter /'pʊtər/ v. [I] to spend time doing things that are not very important, in a relaxed way: He's been puttering around the yard all morning.

putty /'pʊti/ n. [U] a soft substance that becomes hard when it dries, used especially for fixing glass into window frames put up on adj. be/feel put upon to think that other people are treating you unfairly by expecting you to do too much puzzle /'pʌzl/ n. [C] 1 a game or toy that has a lot of pieces that you have to fit together: a 500-piece jigsaw puzzle 2 a game in which you have to think hard to answer a difficult question or solve a problem: a book of crossword puzzles 3 something that is difficult to understand or explain: The way the stock market works has always been a puzzle to me.

puzzled /'pʌzld/ adj. confused and unable to understand something: a puzzled look puzzling /'pʌzlɪŋ/ adj. difficult to understand: a puzzling question | I find his work puzzling.

pygmy /'pɪgmɪ/ n. (plural pygmies) [C] 1 also Pygmy someone who belongs to a race of very small people from parts of Asia and Africa 2 a very small type of animal: a pygmy rabbit pyramid /'pɪrəmɪd/ n. [C] 1 a large stone building with a flat base and sides shaped like triangles that form a point at the top see picture at SHAPE 2 something that has this shape pyre /'pɜːri/ n. [C] a high pile of wood on which a dead body is placed to be burned in a funeral ceremony: a funeral pyre

Pyrex /'pɑːrɛks/ n. [U] (trademark) a special type of strong glass that does not break at high temperatures and is used for making cooking dishes

Pythagorean Theorem /piθəɡrəˈrɪən/ n. MATH a rule for calculating the length of one side of a RIGHT TRIANGLE (=one with one angle of 90°), that states that the SQUARE of the Q, q /ˈkuː/ the 17th letter of the English alphabet Q., q., the written abbreviation of QUESTION q PHYSICS a sign for heat Q-tip /ˈkuː.tɪp/ n. [C] (trademark) a small thin stick with soft cotton at each end, used for cleaning parts of your body that are small, such as your ears quack /ˈkwæk/ v. [I] to make the sound that ducks make quack2 n. [C] 1 (informal) someone who pretends to be a doctor 2 the sound a duck makes quad /ˈkwæd/ n. [informal] 1 a square open area with buildings all around it, especially in a school or college 2 quadruplets [plural] QUADRUPLE quad-ran-gle /ˈkwɔːdrənɡəl/ n. [C] 1 a flat shape that has four straight sides 2 a quad quad-rant /ˈkwɔːdrənt/ n. [C] 1 MATH a quarter of a circle 2 a quarter of an area, especially of land: the town's southwest quadrant 3 a tool for measuring angles 4 MATH one of four equal parts into which a PLANE is divided by two straight lines that cross each other at an angle of 90 degrees [Origin: 1300–1400 Latin quadrans “fourth part”] quad-rat-ic e-qua-tion /ˈkwɔːdrətɪk ɪˈkwɛɪʒən/ n. [C] MATH an EQUATION which includes numbers or quantities multiplied by themselves, for example $a^2 + bx + c = y$ quad-ric-esps /ˈkwɔːdrəsɪps/ n. [plural] BIOLOGY the large muscle at the front of your THIGH quad-ri-lat-er-al /ˈkwɔːdlətərəl/ n. [C] MATH a flat shape with four straight sides —quadrilateral adj.
quad-ri-ple-gic /ˈkwɔːdrɪplɪdʒɪk/ n. [C] someone who is permanently unable to move any part of his/her body below his/her neck —quadriliping adj.
quad-ru-ped /ˈkwɔːdrʊpɛd/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal that has four feet quad-ru-ple /ˈkwɔːdrʊpəl/ v. [I,T] to increase and become four times as big or as high, or to make something do this: The city’s population has quadrupled since the 1990s.
quadrupelement2 adj., quantifier four times as big, as many, or as much: quadruple the normal dose quadruplet /ˈkwɔːdrʊplɛt/ n. [C] one of four babies born at the same time to the same mother quag-mire /ˈkwæɡmaɪr/ , /ˈkwæɡ-ˈl/ n. [C] 1 a difficult or complicated situation: Vietnam became a political and military quagmire. 2 an area of soft wet muddy ground quail /ˈkwɛl/ n. [C,U] a small fat bird with a short tail that is hunted and shot for food and sport, or the meat from this bird quaint /ˈkwɛnt/ adj. unusual and attractive, especially in an old-fashioned way: a quaint little restaurant quake /ˈkwæk/ v. [I] 1 to shake, usually because you are afraid: He quaked in terror. 2 if the earth, a building, etc. quakes, it shakes violently quake2 n. [C] (informal) an EARTHQUAKE Quak-er /ˈkwækər/ n. [C] a member of the Society of Friends, a Christian religious group that opposes violence, has no religious leaders or ceremonies, and holds its religious meetings in silence —Quaker adj.
qual-i-fi-ca-tion /ˌkwɔːləˈfɪkeɪʃən/ n. 1 [C usually plural] a skill, personal quality, or type of experience that makes you right for a particular job or position: What are the key qualifications for the presidency? 2 [C,U] the official standard that must be achieved in order to do a job, enter a sports competition, etc., or the achievement of this standard: The injury puts her qualification for the Olympic swimming team into doubt. 3 educational qualifications [C,U] something that you add to a statement to limit its effect or meaning: You have the right to refuse without qualification.
qual-i-fied /ˌkwɔːləˈfaɪd/ adj. 1 having the right knowledge, experience, skills, etc. for a particular job: a qualified teacher 2 [usually before noun] qualified approval, agreement, etc. is limited in some way because you do not completely agree: Is it worth the money? The answer is a qualified yes.
qual-i-fi-er /ˌkwɔːləˈfɪər/ n. [C] 1 someone who has reached the necessary standard for entering a competition 2 qualified, qualifies a word or phrase that limits or adds to the meaning of another word or phrase. In the phrase “her new red bike,” “new” and “red” are qualifiers.
qual-i-fy /ˌkwɔːləˈfaɪ/ v. (qualified, qualifies) 1 [I] to pass an examination, or reach the standard of knowledge or skill that you need in order to do something: I qualified as a pilot. 2 [I,T] to have the right to have or do something, or to give someone this right: They qualify for food stamps. 3 [I] to have all the necessary qualities to be considered a particular thing: The organization qualifies as a charity. 4 [I] to add something to what has already been said, in order to limit its effect or meaning: Let me qualify that statement.

quality /ˈkwɒlɪtɪ/ n. (plural qualities) 1 [C,U] the degree to which something is good or bad: today’s air quality | The quality of education they received was on the whole fairly good. | high- low-quality recording equipment | These new drugs may improve the quality of life for cancer sufferers. 2 [C usually plural] something that someone has as part of his/her character, especially good things → characteristic: She has many of the qualities he lacks. | leadership qualities | the qualities of honesty and independence

quanta /ˈkwɑːntə/ n. (plural quanta) 1 [C,U] the smallest unit that can be used to measure something such as light or energy. For example, a quantum of light is a photon.

quantum leap n. [C] a very large and important improvement quantum mechanics also quantum physics n. [U] the scientific study of the way that atoms and the parts of an atom behave and how they affect each other quantum theory n. [singular] physics the scientific idea that energy, especially light, travels in very small separate pieces, not in a continuous form, used to explain how atoms and the parts of an atom behave quatrain /ˈkwərən,ˈkwɔrən/ n. [C,U] a time when a person or animal is kept apart from others in case he, she, or it has a disease: The dogs were kept in quarantine for three months. [Origin: 1600—1700 Italian quarantina “period of forty days,” from Old French quarante “forty”] quarantined /ˈkwɔrəntəd/ v. [T] (quarterly) to be in quarantine quarantined /ˈkwɔrəntəd/ v. [I] (quarantined) to quarantined for quarantine /kwɔrəntin, kwɔrənti/ v. [T] 1 an angry argument: He’d had a quarrel with his wife. | a quarrel over money 2 (formal) a reason to dislike someone or disagree with an idea, decision, etc.: We have no quarrel with the court’s decision. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French querelle “complaint,” from Latin querela, from querer “to complain”] quarrelled /kwɔrəl/ v. [I] (quarrelled) to quarrelled for quarrel /kwɔrl, kwɔrəl/ v. [T] (quarrelled) to quarrel over quarrelled /kwɔrəl/ v. [I] (quarrelled) to quarrelled over quarrelled /kwɔrl/ v. [I] (quarrelled) to quarrelled over quarrelsome /kwɔrəlsəm, kwɔrl-/ adj. too ready to argue about things quarry /ˈkwɔrri, kwɔrri/ n. (plural quarries) 1 [C] a place where large amounts of stone, sand, etc. are dug out of the ground 2 an animal or person that you are hunting or chasing [Origin: (1) 1300—1400 Old French quarriere “square stone,” from Latin quadrum “square”]

quartic /kwɔrət, kwɔrət/ n. [C] a unit for measuring liquid, equal to 2 pints or 0.9463 liters: a quart of milk quartet /kwɔrət/ n. [C] 1 one of four equal parts into which something can be divided → half, third, third: Cut the sandwiches into quarters. | A quartet of Canada’s population is French-speaking. | three-quarters of (575%) the country’s voters | a period of fifteen minutes: Can you be ready in a quarter (of an hour)? | It’s a quarter to/after five (=15 minutes before or after 5 o’clock). | The unloading took three-quarters of an hour (≈45 quarters [ plural quarter] the house or rooms where you live, especially if you are a servant or in the army: Upstairs were spacious living quarters.

quarterback /ˈkwɔrtaβæk/ n. [C] the player in football who directs the offense and throws the ball.

quarter-final /ˈkwɔrtafl/ n. [C] one of the set of four games near the end of a competition, whose winners play in the two semifinals.

quarterly /ˈkwɔrtaII/ adj. adv. produced or happening four times a year, a quarterly report.

quarter note /ˈkwɔrtaII/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that continues for a quarter of the length of a whole note → half note.

quartet /ˈkwɔrtet/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS four singers or musicians who perform together: a woodwind/string/brass quartet 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a piece of music written for four performers 3 a group of four things or people.

quartile /ˈkwɔrtail/ n. [C] 1 MATH one of four equal parts that a set of numbers representing facts or measurements can be divided into 2 MATH one of the three values dividing a set of numbers representing facts or measurements into four equal parts.

quartz /ˈkwɔr茨/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a hard mineral substance that is used in making electronic watches and clocks.

quasar /ˈkwɔzɑr/ n. [C] PHYSICS a very bright, very distant object similar to a star.

quash /kwɑʃ/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to officially state that a judgment or decision is no longer legal or correct: The judge quashed the decision of a lower court. 2 to say or do something to stop something from continuing: an attempt to quash rumors.

quaver /kwɔv/ v. [I,T] if your voice quavers, it is trembling as you speak, especially because you are nervous.

quay /kei, ki/ n. [C] a place where boats can be tied up or loaded.

queue /kwεIz/ n. [C] 1 also Queen the female ruler of a country who is from a royal family, or the wife of a king: Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain 2 a long series of people or things waiting to be served or dealt with.

queue-expression /kwεIzɪprɛзиʃən/ n. [C] a sentence or phrase used in order to ask for information (any) answer: Can I ask you a question? Does anyone have any questions? Questions about health habits: I'm not sure I can answer that question.

queen-size /kwεIznIz/ adj. larger than the standard size: a queen-size bed.

queue/ˈkwεIznIz/ adj. (old-fashioned) strange: a queer expression.

quell /kwεIl/ v. [T] 1 to make a violent situation end: The military were sent in to quell the rioting. 2 to stop feelings of doubt, worry, and anxiety from getting stronger: I struggled to quell my sense of panic.

queue /kwεIl/ v. quench your thirst if a drink quenches your thirst, it makes you stop feeling thirsty.

querulous /kwεrələs/ adj. (formal) complaining all the time in an annoying way: a querulous tone of self-pity in her voice → querulously adv. → querulousness n. [U] query /ˈkwεrI/ n. (plural queries) [C] (formal) a question: Staff members will be available to answer your queries. → query v. [T] queen /kwεln/ n. [C] (literary) a long search for something: quest v. [I] question /kwεst/ n. [C] 1 a sentence or phrase used in order to ask for information: Questions about health habits: I’m not sure I can answer that question.

question /kwεst/ n. [C] 1 a subject or problem that needs to be discussed or dealt with: the issue of what should be done with nuclear waste has not been satisfactorily answered. Their actions raise the question of whether they should be treated as war criminals. 3 a feeling of doubt about something: The accuracy of the data has been called into question (people have doubts about it). There is no question that teachers prefer smaller classes. 4 without question a) definitely: The most beautiful fish here is, without question, the angelfish. b) without complaining or...
questioning  /kwɪsˈtʃənɪŋ/ n. the process of asking questions: A witness is currently undergoing questioning.

questioning  /kwɪstʃənɪŋ/ adj. a questioning look or expression shows that you need more information or that you doubt something question  /kwɪstʃən/ v. [T] 1 to ask someone questions, especially about a crime: Police are questioning three men about the murder. 2 to have or express doubts about whether something is true, good, or necessary: Are you questioning my honesty? Fans are questioning whether the team can win.

questionable  /kwɪstʃənəbl/ adj. 1 not likely to be good, honest, or morally correct: questionable business activities 2 not certain, or possibly not correct: It is questionable whether the tests are worthwhile.

questionable  /kwɪstʃənəbl/ adj. used in writing at the end of a question to show that you need more information or that something is out of the question, it is definitely not possible or not allowed: Ticket prices are so high that going to the game is out of the question.

quick  /kwɪk/ adj. 1 quick actions or events continue for, or are done, in a short time: I'll just take a quick shower first. a quick response 2 moving or doing something fast: I promise I'll be quick. | People are quick to complain but slow to help. 3 able to learn and understand things in a short time: Carolyn's a quick learner. [Origin: Old English cwic “alive”] quick  /kwɪk/ adv. (spoken, nonstandard) quickly: Come quick! Larry's on TV! It was all over pretty quick.

quick  /kwɪk/ n. [U] (written) to become quicker, or to make something do this: Elaine quickened her pace (=walked faster).

quick  /kwɪk/ adj. (informal) happening or done quickly: a quickie divorce (=one that is done cheaply and quickly) — quickie n [C]

quick  /kwɪk/ adj. 1 fast, or done in a short amount of time: Don't eat too quickly. | Firefighters quickly put out the blaze.

quicksand  /kwɪksænd/ n. [C,U] wet sand that is dangerous because it pulls you down into it if you walk on it.

quick-witted  /kwɪkˈwɪtɪd/ adj. able to understand things quickly and say things that are funny and smart quid pro quo  /kwɪd prəʊ ˈkwʊoʊ/ n. [C] (formal) something that you give or do in exchange for something else, especially when this arrangement is not official quiet  /kwɪt/ adj. 1 not making much noise: Be quiet! I'm on the phone. | a quiet car | The classroom suddenly became quiet.

quiet  /kwɪt/ adj. used to describe a quiet voice or sound:

- low — a low voice or sound is quiet and deep: A low humming noise was coming from the refrigerator.
- soft — quiet in a way that is pleasant: He spoke with a soft southern accent.
- muffled — a muffled sound is very difficult to hear: the muffled sound of voices in the next room
- hushed — if people speak in hushed tones, they speak with quiet voices, especially so that other quiet

people cannot hear them. They huddled together in a corner, speaking in hushed tones.

inaudible – too quiet to be heard: We were so far away from the stage that the actors were inaudible. ➔ LOUD

2 not busy, or not full of people or activity: a quiet neighborhood Finaly, the house was quiet. Business has been really quiet recently.

Words to describe a quiet place calm – quiet and without activity or trouble: The streets remained calm again after last week’s riots.

tranquil/peaceful – quiet in a way that is pleasant and relaxing: a tranquil spot for a picnic sleepy – quiet with very little happening: a sleepy little town still – quiet and calm, without any movement: The forest was completely still ➔ CALM

3 not speaking, or not likely to say much: a quiet, hard-working boy. Why are you so quiet tonight?

➔ keep (sth) quiet at KEEP quietly ➔ adv. 1 without making much or any noise: Ron shut the door quietly.

“I’m sorry,” he said quietly. 2 in a way that does not attract attention: The council has been quietly preparing for the changes.

qui-eti-ly /kwɒˈtiːli/ adv. 1 without making much or any notice. I'm sorry, he said quietly. 2 in a way that does not attract attention. The council has been quietly preparing for the changes.

quilt /kwɪlt/ n. 1 a thick cover for a bed, made by sewing two layers of cloth together with a filling of cloth or feathers: a patchwork quilt [Ori-gin: 1200—1300 Old French cuilte, from Latin culcitā “mattress”] quilt-ed /kwɪltɪd/ adj. quilted cloth consists of layers held together by lines of stitches that cross each other quilt-es-sen-tial /kwɪlˈtɛnsʃəl/ adj. being a perfect example of a particular type of person or thing: New York is the quintessential big city. ➔ quintessential adv. ➔ quintessence /kwɪntˈɛnsəs/ n. [U] quinet /kwɪnˈtɛt/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS five singers or musicians who perform together quintu-plet /kwɪnˈtjuːpl/ n. [C] one of five babies who are born at the same time to the same mother quip /kwɪp/ v. (quipped, quipping) [I] to make an amusing remark ➔ quip n. [C] ➔ Joke quirk /kwɜrk/ n. [C] 1 a strange habit or feature that someone or something has: a quirk in the law. 2 something strange that happens by chance:

Years later, by a strange quirk of fate, she met him again on a plane.

quirky /kwɜrki/ adj. slightly strange or unusual: a quirky comedy quit /kwɪt/ v. (quit quitting) [I] (informal) to leave a job, school, etc., usually without finishing it, especially because you are annoyed or unhappy: He quit school when he was 16. Betty quit her job to stay home with the children.

➔ give up – to stop doing something, or stop trying to do something: She gave up her job to care for her aging parents.

retire – to officially leave your job or position: Three board members have resigned.

withdraw – to stop going to school or stop an activity before you have finished it: Tucker dropped out of high school when he was 16.

quits /kwɪts/ adj. (informal) call it quits to stop doing something: Baid will call it quits after two terms as mayor.

quitter /kwɪtər/ n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who stops doing a job, activity, or duty because it becomes difficult quirv-ed /kwɪrv/ v. [I] to shake slightly because you are angry, upset, or anxious: Diana’s voice quivered with emotion.

➔ shake ➔ SHAKES

shake, tremble, shiver, Race

Race /rās/ n. [C] a competition for power, a prize, or a political position: the presidential race. 4 [C] a situation in which one group tries to obtain or achieve something before another group does: the race to put a man on the moon. 5 a race against time a situation in which something difficult must be done before a particular time. 6 the races an event at which horses are raced against each other.

Race /rās/ n. [plural] the relationship between two groups of people who are from different races but who live in the same city, country, or area.

Racism /rāˈsizəm/ n. [U] 1 unfair treatment of people, or violence against them, because they belong to a different race from yours: the struggle against racism and poverty. 2 the belief that some races of people are better than others.

The survey was given to people of different races and ages. The people who live in the same city, country, or area are called the city home. The Navajo tribe is the second largest in the U.S. The native peoples of the world’s top athletes.

Racetrack /ˈræs-træk/ n. [C] a track around which runners, cars, horses, etc. race.

Racial /ˈrēʒəl/ adj. 1 relating to the relationships between different groups of people: a fight against racial discrimination. 2 relating to people’s race: racial groups. Racially adv.: a racially motivated attack.

Racing /ˈræsɪŋ/ n. horse/car/bicycle etc. racing: the sport of racing horses, cars, etc.

Rush /rūsh/ v. 1 [I,T] to try to do something very quickly, especially because there is little time or you want to be the first: Doctors raced to solve this medical mystery. 4 [I] if your heart or mind races, it is working harder and faster than usual: Her mind was racing would David be there? 5 [I,T] if an engine races, or you race it, its parts are moving too fast.

Rush adj. 1 run, sprint, dash, tear: Run! rush adv.: rush in.

Race relations n. the relationship between two groups of people who are from different races but who live in the same city, country, or area.

Rack /rāk/ n. [C] a frame or shelf for holding things, usually with bars or hooks: a coat rack. 1 rack your brain(s) to think very hard or for a long time: 2 to make someone feel great physical or mental pain: Afterwards, he was racked with guilt and shame.

Rack adj. 1 rack-and-pinion: to make the value, amount, or level of something increase: They racked up a nine-game winning streak.

Racket /ˈrækt/ n. 1 [singular] informal: a loud noise: Laura was making a terrible racket in the kitchen. 2 [C] a thing used for hitting the ball in games such as tennis, consisting of a light stick with a circle filled with tight strings at the top: The insurance racket. [Origin: (2) 1500—1600 French raquette, from Italian racchetta, from Arabic rahab “front of the hand”]

Racketeer /ˈræktər/ n. [C] also racketeer: informal: a dishonest way of obtaining money sometimes used about an ordinary business: to show that you think it is somehow unfair: the insurance racket.

Racy /ˈrās/ adj. exciting in a sexual way.

Radar /ˈrādr/ n. [U] a piece of equipment that uses radio waves to find the position of things and watch their movement, or the process of doing this: The missile didn’t show up on radar.

Radial tire /ˈrādēəl/ also radial: a car tire with wires inside the rubber to make it stronger and safer.

Radiance /ˈrādians/ n. [U] 1 soft shining light: the moon’s radiance. 2 great happiness or love that shows in the way someone looks: the radiance of youth.

Radiant /ˈrādēənt/ adj. 1 full of happiness and love, in a way that shows in your face: a radiant smile. 2 Physics sending out light or heat: radiantly adv.: radiantly.

Randall /ˈrändəl/ v. 1 [I,T] if someone radiates a feeling or quality, or if it radiates from him/her, s/he shows it in a way that is easy to see.
Janine radiates confidence. 2 [i.T] if something radiates light or heat, or if light or heat radiates, it is sent out in all directions: The fireplace radiated a comforting warmth. 3 [i.T] to spread out from a central point: The pain radiated down his leg.

Radiation /ˌrədiˈeɪʃən/ n [U] 1 energy in the form of heat or light sent out as waves that you cannot see ➔ RADIOACTIVE: cancer treated with radiation 2 a form of energy that comes from natural processes, which in large amounts is harmful to living things ➔ RADIOACTIVE: radiation exposure

Radiator /ˈrædiətər/ n [C] 1 the part of a car or airplane that stops the engine from getting too hot 2 a piece of equipment used for heating a room, consisting of a hollow metal container fastened to a wall, through which hot water passes

Radi-cal /ˈrædiˌkəl/ adj 1 thorough and complete, so that something is very different: radical changes in family life ➔ These proposals may sound radical, but we need to do far more to decrease pollution. 2 relating to a political or social idea that is very different from what exists now, or supporting these ideas: Radical demonstrators clashed with riot police. [Origin: 1300—1400 Late Latin radix "root"] —radically adv; a radically different idea

Radical /ˈrædiˌkəl/ n [C] someone who wants thorough and complete social and political change ➔ radicalism n [U]

Radical equation n [C] MATH an equation containing one or more radical expressions

Radical expression n [C] MATH a set of numbers or letters that have a radical sign (√) before them in an equation

Radical sign n [C] MATH a mathematical sign (√) that appears before a number or letter, showing that you must find its square root. If there is a small number before the sign, for example $\sqrt[3]{2}$, you must find that particular root, in this case the CUBE root.

Radical /ˈrædiˌkəld/ n [C] MATH the number or letter that appears after a radical sign, for example 3 in $\sqrt{3}$

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ n the plural of radius

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ n [plural radios] 1 [C,U] a piece of electronic equipment that you use to listen to music or programs that are broadcast, or the programs themselves: the latest hits on the radio ➔ Kelly was listening to the radio. 2 [U] the activity of making and broadcasting programs that can be heard on a radio: He’d like a job in radio. ➔ a San Diego radio station 3 [C,U] a piece of electronic equipment that can send and receive spoken messages, or the sending or receiving of these messages: We’ve lost radio contact.

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ v (radioed, radios, radioing) [i.T] to send a message using a radio: The ship radioed for help.

Radioactive /ˌrædiəˈækтив/ adj 1 PHYSICS containing or producing radiation: Plutonium is highly radioactive. ➔ radioactive waste 2 PHYSICS relating to or caused by radiation: radioactive decay

Radiation /ˌrædiˈeɪʃən/ n [U] PHYSICS the sending out of radiation, when the nucleus (central part) of an atom has broken apart

Radiography /ˌrædiˈəgræfi/ n [U] SCIENCE the process of taking X-RAY photographs of the inside of someone’s body for medical purposes

Radioactive isotope /ˌrædiəˈæktyʊəˌsəʊtəʊp/ n [C] PHYSICS an isotope (=one of the different possible forms of a RADIOACTIVE atom)

Radio-oligist /ˌrædiəˌələˈdʒɪst/ n [C] a hospital doctor who is trained in the use of RADIATION to find out what is causing an illness and to treat people

Radiotherapy /ˌrædiəˈθɛrəpɪ/ n [U] the study of the use of RADIATION and X-RAYS in medical treatment

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ n [C] MATH a piece of equipment that receives RADIO WAVES coming from space, which scientists use to find the exact position of stars and other objects in space

Radiotherapy /ˌrædiəˈθɛrəpɪ/ n [U] the treatment of illnesses using RADIATION

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ n [C] a small red or white root that has a slightly hot taste and is eaten raw as a vegetable

Radioisotope /ˌrædiəˌəsɪˈtəʊp/ n [C] CHEMISTRY (symbol Ra) a RADIOACTIVE white metal that is an ELEMENT, used in the treatment of diseases such as CANCER

Radioactivity /ˌrædiəˈækτɪvɪtɪ/ n [U] PHYSICS the characteristic of a RADIOACTIVE substance ➔ Radioactivity is a measure of the amount of radioactive material: the presence of radioactive substances in the environment ➔ the radiation levels in the area

Radio /ˈrædiəʊ/ n [C] a way of competition or game in which people buy tickets with numbers on them in order to try to win prizes

Raffle /ˈræfl/ n [C] a type of competition or game in which people buy tickets with numbers on them in order to try to win prizes

Raffle /ˈræfl/ n [C] a small flat rubber boat filled with air: He helped her onto the life raft ➔ (used when a boat sinks). 2 a flat floating structure, usually made of pieces of wood tied together, used as a boat 3 a raft of sth a large number of things or a large amount of something: A whole raft of popular players will attend.

Rafter /ˈræfrtə/ n [C] one of the large sloping pieces of wood that form the structure of a roof raffiti

rafting /əˈraftɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport of traveling down a fast-flowing river in a rubber raft rag /ræg/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of old cloth: a dirty rag 2 in rags wearing old torn clothes 3 from rags to riches becoming very rich after starting your life very poor rag /ræg/ v. (ragged. ragging) rag on sb phr. v. (spoken, informal) 1 to make jokes and laugh at someone in order to embarrass him/her (syn. tease 2) to criticize someone in an angry way: The coach was ragging on me for missing my free throws.

ragged /ˈrægd/ adj. looking messy and wearing dirty torn clothes: a ragged army ragged breathing to think about it: The coach was ragging on me for missing my free throws.

raggedy /ˈrægdʒi/ n. [C,U] a strong feeling of anger that you cannot control: She was shaking with rage. [origin: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin rabies “anger, wildness,” from rabere “to be wild with anger”] rage /rædʒ/ v. [I] 1 to continue happening with great force or violence; The rioting raged for four days. a raging blizzard 2 to feel extremely angry about something, and to show this in the way you behave or speak: Tom raged at himself for having been so stupid.

ragged /ˈrægd/ also ragged-ly /ˈrægdli/ adj. torn and in bad condition: a ragged shirt 2 not straight or neat, but with rough uneven edges: a ragged beard 3 wearing clothes that are old, torn, and dirty: ragged children 4 not regular or smooth, or not done together: ragged breathing rag-tag /ˈrægtag/ adj. looking messy and wearing dirty torn clothes: a ragtag army rag-time /ˈrægtaim/ n. [U] a type of Jazz music with a quick strong beat, popular in the U.S. in the early 1900s raid /reɪd/ n. [C] 1 a short attack on a place by soldiers, airplanes, or ships, intended to cause damage but not to take control: an air raid 2 a sudden visit by the police to search for something illegal: an FBI raid on the apartment raid /reɪd/ v. [T] 1 if the police raid a place, they enter it suddenly to search for something illegal: Police raided his home and seized his computer. 2 (informal) to take or use something that does not belong to you: Governors have raided education budgets to pay for more prisons. 3 the kids raided the refrigerator after school (=ate a lot of food from it). 4 (informal) to go into a place and steal things —raider n. [C] rail /reɪl/ n. 1 [C] a bar that is fastened along or around something, especially to keep you from falling, hang something on, etc.: Tourists stood at the rail taking pictures of the falls. 2 [U] a railroad system: The city is promoting light rail (=a railroad that only carries passengers) as an alternative to cars. 3 [C] one of the two long metal tracks attached to the ground, that trains move along railroad /ˈreɪlroʊd/ n. 1 [U] a method of traveling or moving things around using trains, and things relating to this: Livestock is shipped by railroad, a railroad station 2 [C] the tracks and ground that a train travels on 3 [C] a company that owns trains and tracks; the Southern Pacific railroad 4 the railroad the system of trains, and all the companies, work, equipment, etc. relating to it: My grandfather worked on for the railroad all his life.

railroad v. [T] to force or persuade someone to do something without giving him/her enough time to think about it: The workers were railroaded into signing the agreement.

rain /reɪn/ n. 1 [U] water that falls in small drops from clouds in the sky: I hate going out in the rain. | He walked through the pouring/driving/heavy rain (=a lot of rain). | A light rain (=a small amount of rain) fell on the crowd. see picture at WATER CYCLE railings [plural] a short fence consisting of upright bars or lengths of wood or metal supported by upright posts, which keeps people from falling over an edge, supports them going up stairs, etc.: the porch railing railroaded /ˈreɪlroʊd/ v. [I] (formal) to complain angrily about something that you think is unfair: Business leaders have been railing against the proposed tax increases.

rainy /ˈreɪni/ adj. also rainings [plural] a short fence consisting of upright bars or lengths of wood or metal supported by upright posts, which keeps people from falling over an edge, supports them going up stairs, etc.: the porch railing rail /reɪl/ v. [I] to make as sudden attack on a place by soldiers, airplanes, or ships, intended to cause damage but not to take control: an air raid rainy /ˈreɪni/ n. [C] one of the two long metal tracks attached to the ground, that trains move along rail /reɪl/ n. [C] a bar that is fastened along or around something, especially to keep you from falling, hang something on, etc.: Tourists stood at the rail taking pictures of the falls. 2 [U] a railroad system: The city is promoting light rail (=a railroad that only carries passengers) as an alternative to cars. 3 [C] one of the two long metal tracks attached to the ground, that trains move along rainy /ˈreɪni/ v. [I] if it rains, drops of water fall from clouds in the sky: Is it still raining? | It suddenly started raining hard (=raining a lot).

rainbow n. [C, U] a large curve of different colors that can appear in the sky when there is both Sun and rain.

rain check n. [C] take a rain check (spoken) used in order to say that you would like to accept an invitation or offer later, but you cannot right now: I'm sorry, but I'm busy on Saturday – can I take a rain check? 2 a piece of paper that allows you to buy something at a special price, given to people when the thing they want to buy is not available. 3 a ticket for an outdoor event, game, etc. that you can use again if the event has to stop because of rain.

raincoat n. [C] a coat that you wear to protect yourself from the rain.

raindrop n. [C] a single drop of rain.

rainfall n. [C, U] the amount of rain that falls on an area in a particular time: six inches of annual rainfall.

rainforest n. [C] an area of thick forest with tall trees that are very close together, growing in a place where it rains a lot.

rainstorm n. [C] a storm with a lot of rain and strong winds.

rainwater n. [C, U] water that has fallen as rain.

rainy adj. 1 having a lot of rain: a rainy weekend. 2 rainy day a difficult time when you will need money that you do not need now: We have a little extra money saved for a rainy day.

raise1 v. [T] 1 move or lift something to a higher position or to an upright position: Raise your hand if you know the answer. 2 increase to increase an amount, number, or level: She hopes the story will raise awareness of mental illness (increase people’s understanding of it). In my family, no one ever raised their voices (spoke loudly and angrily).

raise2 n. [C] an increase in the money you earn: a raise of $100 a month.

rake1 n. [C] a tool used for removing dead leaves from areas of grass or making soil level.

rake2 v. [T] also rake up to move a rake across a surface in order to remove dead leaves from an area of grass or make the soil level.
to move something such as a gun or a light across an area: Soldiers raked the building with gunfire.

3 rake your fingers/nails to pull your fingers or nails through something or across a surface: She raked his face with her nails.

4 rake sb over the coals to speak angrily to someone who has done something wrong rake sth ↔ in phr. v. (informal) to earn a lot of money without trying very hard: One lawyer raked in $3.5 million on a case.

rally 1 pl. rally n. (plural rallies) [C] 1 a large public meeting to support a political idea, sports event, etc.: a campaign rally 2 an occasion when something becomes stronger or better again, after a period of weakness or defeat: The Miami Heat rallied to beat the Chicago Bulls.

rally around sb/sth phr. v. if a group of people rally around, they all try to help you in a difficult situation: Her friends all rallied around when her father died.

RAM 1ram/ n. [U] random access memory if the part of a computer that keeps information for a short time so that it can be used immediately ram 1ram/ v. (rammed ramming) 1 [I,T] to run or drive into something, or to push something using a lot of force: A truck rammed into a line of cars. We had to turn hard to starboard to avoid ramming the ship. 2 ram sth down sb's throat to try to make someone accept an idea or opinion by repeating it again and again ram sth ↔ through phr. v. to try to make someone accept something, without giving him/her time to consider it carefully: Democrats were trying to ram the bill through Congress.

ram 2 n. [C] a fully grown male sheep

Ram-a-dan 1ram-o-dan/ n. the ninth month of the Muslim year, during which no food may be eaten during the hours of the day when it is light ramble 1ram-bol/ v. [I] 1 to talk in a way that is not clearly organized, and move from one subject to another in a confusing way: His speeches tend to ramble. 2 to go on a walk for pleasure ramble on phr. v. to talk or write for a long time in a way that other people think is boring: Sara rambled on about her trip.

ramble 2 n. [C] a long walk for pleasure rambling 1ram-blin/ adj. 1 speech or writing that is rambling is very long and does not seem to have any clear organization or purpose: a long rambling letter 2 a building that is rambling has an irregular shape and covers a large area: a rambling old house ram-bunc-tious 1ram-bunk-tis/ adj. noisy, full of energy, and behaving in a way that cannot be controlled: a ramabunctious kid ram-i-fi-ca-tion 1ram-fi-ka-shan/ n. [C usually plural] (formal) a result of something you do, that affects things in a way that you may not have expected: What are the ramifications of oil prices rising so quickly?

ramp 1 ramp/ n. [C] 1 a road for driving onto or off a large main road 2 a slope that has been built to connect two places that are at different levels: ramps for wheelchair users ram-page 1ram-pe*d/ v. to behave wildly or violently, especially in groups: Rioters rampaged through the city, destroying property.

ramp-ant 1ram-pant/ adj. spread across or affecting a large area, and difficult to control: rampant inflation — rampantly adv ram-rod 1ram-rod/ n. ramrod stiff/straight sitting or standing with your back straight and your body stiff ram-shack-le 1ram-shak-ol/ adj. badly built and needing to be repaired: a ramshackle farm house ran 1ran/ v. the past tense of run ranch 1ranch/ n. [C] a very large farm where cattle, horses, or sheep are raised [origin: 1800–1900 Mexican Spanish rancho, from Spanish, ‘camp, small building, small farm’] ranch-er 1ranch-or/ n. [C] someone who owns or works on a ranch: a cattle rancher — ranch ↔ v. [I] — ranching n. [U] ranch house n. [C] a type of house built on one level, with a roof that does not slope much rancho 1rancho/ n. [C] a ranch in the southwest U.S.

ran-cid 1ran-seid/ adj. food such as milk, butter, or meat that is rancid smells or tastes unpleasant because it is no longer fresh: rancid butter ran-cor 1ran-cor/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of hatred, especially when you cannot forgive someone rancorous 1ran-cor-as/ adj.

R & B n. [U] rhythm and blues a type of popular music that is a mixture of blues and jazz

R & D n. [U] research and development the part of a business concerned with studying new ideas and planning new products random 1ran-dom/ adj. 1 happening or chosen without any definite plan, aim, or pattern: a random sample of 635 patients 2 at random in a completely unplanned way: The winning numbers will be chosen at random. — randomly adv: The lottery numbers are randomly chosen.

random access memory n. [U] if RAM range /rændʒ/ n. 1 a range 2 range of mountains or hills; the Cascade Range see picture on page A11 3 a range of similar products made by a particular company or available in a particular store; a new range of mountain bikes 4 the distance at which a weapon can hit something; short-range ballistic missiles 5 the limits within which amounts, levels, ages, etc. can be different from each other: games for the 8–12 age range 6 a range of cards to choose from 7 a range of similar products or items; an array of products or items 8 range of vision 9 the distance at which a weapon can hit something; short-range ballistic missiles 10 range of motion 11 the limits to the position or level that someone has or should have on a list, based on quality or importance: people with a range of skills 12 range of values, levels, ages, etc. can be different from each other: games for the 8–12 age range 13 the limits within which amounts, levels, ages, etc. can be different from each other: games for the 8–12 age range 14 range of vision 15 the limits within which amounts, levels, ages, etc. can be different from each other: games for the 8–12 age range 16 range of values, levels, ages, etc. can be different from each other: games for the 8–12 age range random /ˈrændəm/ adj. 1 not fixed and can be any of several amounts) whose value cannot be known certainly, but can be described using a mathematical calculation 2 random selection 3 random number generator rest and relaxation /ˈrest ənd ˌrælashənəl/ n. [U] a vacation given to people in the army, navy, etc. after a long time of hard work or during a war

R & R /ˈreIndZæ/ n. [U] rest and relaxation

Ranger /ˈreIndZæ/ n. 1 a person whose job is to watch and take care of a forest or area of public land and the people and animals that use it: a park ranger 2 a person who is employed to look after people or animals in a particular area: a park ranger rank /ræŋk/ 1 [I] to have a particular position in a list of people or things that are put in order of quality or importance: The team is ranked fourth in the city. 2 [T] to decide the position someone or something should have on a list, based on quality or importance: The wines are ranked by quality and price. 3 adj. having a very strong and unpleasant smell or taste: rank meat rank-and-file /′ræŋk ənd ˈfɪl/ n. the ordinary members of an organization rather than the leaders ranking /ˈreIndGɪŋ/ 1 [I] to have a particular position in a list of people or things that are put in order of quality or importance: The team is ranked fourth in the city. 2 [T] to decide the position someone or something should have on a list, based on quality or importance: The wines are ranked by quality and price. 3 adj. a ranking person has a high position in an organization, or is one of the best at an activity: the ranking officer rannkle /ˈræŋkəl/ v. [I] to talk or complain in an loud excited confused way: She ranted about the misleading claims of diet books. —rant /rænt/ v. 1 to talk or complain in a loud excited confused way: She ranted about the misleading claims of diet books. 2 to speak in a place very thoroughly: She ransacked her closet for something to wear. 3 to go through a place stealing things and causing damage: The victim's house had been ransacked. 2 to search a place very thoroughly: She ransacked her closet for something to wear.

ransom /ˈreIndsɔm/ n. 1 [U] an amount of money paid to free someone who is held as a prisoner: a ransom note 2 the kidnappers demanded $200,000 in ransom. —ransom /rænsəm/ v. 1 to talk or complain in an loud excited confused way: She ranted about the misleading claims of diet books. 2 to search a place very thoroughly: She ransacked her closet for something to wear.

rapping /ˈræpiŋ/ n. 1 [U] also ‘rap music’ a type of popular music in which the words are not sung, but spoken in time to music with a steady beat 2 [C] a quick light hit or knock: a rap on the door 3 [singular] blame or punishment for a mistake or crime: a murder rap 4 He got himself a good lawyer to beat the rap (≈avoid punishment). 5 I’d rather drive while he reads the map, so I don’t have to take the rap (≈be blamed) for getting lost. 4 get a bad/burn rap (informal) to be unfairly criticized, or to be treated badly: Diet food has gotten a bad rap for the way it tastes.

rape /ræp/ n. 1 [I,T] to hit or knock something quickly and lightly: Henry rapped on the door.

rap /ˌræp/ v. 1 [tapped, rapping] to hit or knock something quickly and lightly: Henry rapped on the door. 2 v. to scan or quickly read or repeat the words of: He rapped out the words.
rape

THE SAURUS

hit, beat, strike, knock, bang, tap → hit

2 [T] to criticize or blame someone: The movie was rapped by critics for its violence. 3 [I] to say the words of a rap song rape² /ræp/ v. [T] to force someone to have sex, especially by using violence rape³ n. 1 [C,U] the crime of forcing someone to have sex, especially by using violence; a rape victim 2 [singular] unnecessary destruction, especially of the environment: the rape of our rain forests rapt /ræpt/ adj done very quickly, or happening in a short time (syn fast, quick); rapid population growth [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin rapidus “seizing, sweeping away” from rapere “to seize”] —rapidly adv: Technology is rapidly changing. —rapidity /ræpəˈdɪstri/ n. [U] rapt-ids /ræpɪdz/ n. [plural] part of a river where the water looks white because it is moving very fast over rocks rapid /ˈræpɪd/ n. [singular] a system of trains, buses, etc. for moving people around a city ramp /ræmp/ n. [C] someone who has forced someone else to have sex, especially by using violence rap-er /ræpər/ n. [C] someone who speaks the words of a rap song rapp-er /ræˈpər/ n. [singular] U friendly agreement and understanding between people: She’s a very good teacher, who has a rapport with her students.

rap-pro-ché-men-t /ræpˈpriːˌmen t/ n. [singular, U] (formal) the establishment of good relations between two countries or groups of people, after a time of unfriendly relations: the U.S. rapprochement with China in the 1970s rapt /ræpt/ adj so interested in something that you do not notice anything else: The children listened with rapt attention.

rapt-ure /ræptʃər/ n.[U] great excitement, pleasure, and happiness: He looked with rapturous rapture at her face. —rapturous adj.

rare /rɛər/ adj 1 not seen or found very often, or not happening very often (and) common: a rare form of cancer | It is rare for her to miss school.

USAGE

Use rare when something is valuable and there is not much of it: a rare coin worth a lot of money. Use scarce when there is not enough of something available at a particular time: During the war, food was scarce.

2 meat that is rare has only been cooked for a short time and is still red [Origin: (1) 1400—1500 Latin rarus]

THE SAURUS

hit, beat, strike, knock, bang, tap → hit

rare-fac-tion /rɛrˈfækʃən/ n. [U] PHYSICS a process in which the pressure of a gas decreases (ant) compression rare-ly /rɛrˈli/ adv. not often (and) frequently: She’s rarely home.

rare-ly /rɛrˈli/ adv. not very often: I go to the movies, but not very often.

rare-ly /rɛrˈli/ adv. hardly ever — almost never: The kids hardly ever call (telephone) me.

rare-ly /rɛrˈli/ adv. — frequently: We seldom see her nowadays.

infrequently — not happening often: She visited her parents only infrequently. ➔ NEVER, OFTEN, SOMETIMES rare-ing /ˈrɛrɪŋ/ adj. raring to go (informal) very eager to start an activity: We got up early, raring to go.

rare-ly /rɛrˈli/ adv. be a rarity to not happen or exist very often: In 1973, women lawyers were a rarity.

rascal /ˈræskəl/ n. [C] (humorous) a child who behaves badly but whom you still like rash /ræʃ/ adj done too quickly without thinking carefully first, or behaving in this way: rash promises | a rash young man

THE SAURUS

impulsive, hotheaded, impetuous, hasty, spontaneous, precipitate → IMPULSIVE rash /ræʃ/ n. 1 [C] a lot of red spots on someone’s skin, caused by an illness or a reaction to food, plants, medicine, etc. 2 a rash of sth (informal) a large number of unpleasant events, changes, etc. within a short time: There’s been a rash of injuries on the team.

rasp-ber-ry /ræzˈberi/ n. (plural raspberries) [C] a soft sweet red Berry ➔ see picture on page 414

rasy-p /ræsəˈpɪl/ adj. making a rough unpleasant sound: his raspy voice ➔ raspy v. [I] ➔ raspy n. [singular]

rat² /ræt/ n. [C] 1 an animal that looks like a large mouse with a long tail 2 (informal) someone who has been disloyal to you or has deceived you: That rat Bruce just did it for the money. [Origin: Old English rīt] ➔ RAT RACE

rat² /ræt/ n. [C] the number of times something happens over a period of time: a country with a low birth/unemployment/crime etc. rate | an area with a low/high rate of crime 2 a charge or payment set according to a standard scale: The Federal Reserve lowered interest rates today. | the hourly rate of pay 3 the speed at which something happens over a period of time: Children learn at different rates.
Car thefts have increased at an alarming rate.
4 at any rate (spoken) used when you are giving one definite fact in a situation that is not sure or not satisfactory: He’s what, 17? At any rate, he’s old enough to go on his own.
5 at this rate (spoken) used in order to say what will happen if things continue to happen in the same way: At this rate, we’ll never afford a vacation.
6 first-rate/second-rate/third-rate of good, very bad quality: a third-rate movie rate² v. 1 [T] to have a particular opinion about the value or worth of someone or something: 98% rated him a weak leader. 2 X-rated/rated R etc. used in order to show that a movie has been officially approved for people of a particular age to see 3 [T] (informal) to deserve something: You all rate a big thank-you for your work.

rather² adv. 1 rather than a phrase meaning instead of, used when you are comparing two things or situations: We usually travel by train, rather than by plane. 2 would rather used when you would prefer to do or have one thing more than another: I hate sitting doing nothing; I’d rather be busy. 3 Dave would rather have a dog than a cat, but I like cats. 4 “Why don’t you come here?” “I’d rather not.” 3 [formal] used in order to give more correct or specific information about what you have said: Lucy, or Susie rather, asked me to come tonight. 4 fairly, or to some degree: The photograph is rather blurred.

rating² v. [T] to control the supply of something by allowing people to have only a limited amount of it: Gas may have to be rationed in the future.

rationalize v. [I] to make a justification or explanation that makes a thought, action, or feeling appear reasonable: The driver rationalized by saying that his dog needed exercise.

ratification /ˌrætɪˈfi-kəntʃən/ n. [U] 1 POLICIES the act of giving official approval to an agreement: Ratification of the treaty led to a reduction in nuclear weapons. 2 POLICIES the act of approving an amendment to the U.S. constitution.

rate /ˈreɪt/ n. 1 [C] a level on a scale that shows how popular, good, important, etc. someone or something is: The governor’s approval rating is high. 2 [singular] a letter that shows what age someone should be before s/he can see a particular movie, television show, etc.: The movie received an R rating. 3 the ratings [plural] a list that shows which movies, television programs, etc. are the most popular: The show finished 20th in the ratings.

ratify /ˈreɪtɪ-ˌfai/ v. [T] to make something legally or officially approved for people of a particular age to see: After that shows what age someone or something is: the act of approving something: the act of approving for people of a particular age to see.

ratified /ˌrætɪd/ past participle of ratify.

cost, expense, price, charge, fee, fare → COST¹ rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·tle·snake

ra·vine

ra·ven

rational

rational number

rat·tle

rau·cous

rav·age

rave

rav·ish·ing

rat·t reaction  [ri'ækʃ(ə)n]  n. 1 [singular, U] a change in someone’s attitudes, behavior, etc. that happens because she disapproves of the way things were done in the past: The attitudes of my generation are a reaction against the selfish values of the 1980s.

reactionary  [ri'ækʃ(ə)nar-]  adj. (disapproving) strongly opposed to social or political change: Reactionaries protested against giving civil rights to all citizens.

reaches millions of homes.

within reach (of sth)  a) within a distance that you can easily travel: We live within easy reach of the city. b) also in reach able to be achieved or gotten with the skills, power, money, etc. that you have: An agreement is within reach.

beyond reach/out of reach  also in reach to be big enough, long enough, etc. to get to a particular level or point: a) [C] a measuring instrument reads a particular number, etc. in a particular way: Oxygen is a highly reactive gas.

react to the news? | The audience reacted by shouting and booing. 2 to become ill when a chemical or drug goes into your body, or when you eat a particular food: Health workers sometimes react to the latex in gloves. 3 chemistry if a chemical substance reacts, it changes when mixed with another substance: The calcium reacts with sulfur in the atmosphere. 4 if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

react against sth  phr. v. to show that you do not like or agree with something by deliberately doing the opposite: He reacted against his religious upbringing. | Feminists reacted against the limitations of women's traditional roles.

react against sth  phr. v. to show that you do not like or agree with something by deliberately doing the opposite: He reacted against his religious upbringing. | Feminists reacted against the limitations of women's traditional roles.

read  [ri:d]  v. [tense and past participle read] 1 [T] to look at written words, numbers, or signs and understand what they mean: Children start learning to read in kindergarten. | She sat reading a magazine. | I can’t read music.

The movie could be read as dangerous happens: an athlete with quick reactions 4 [singular] a change in someone’s attitudes, behavior, etc. that happens because she disapproves of the way things were done in the past: The attitudes of my generation are a reaction against the selfish values of the 1980s. 5 [C,U] chemistry a change that happens when two or more chemical substances are mixed together: A chemical reaction takes place in the soil.

THE SAURUS

reach  [ri:ʃ]  n. 1 [singular, U] the distance that you can stretch out your arm to touch something: My arm floated away, but my hand reached. 2 [C] to use your arm to stretch out and touch something: I reached out to the TV program.

reach for  to swing quickly in a particular way: a) a) [C] if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

reach out/in/out of reach  a) to reach somewhere quickly: He reached out to the TV program. b) also in reach able to be achieved or gotten with the skills, power, money, etc. that you have: An agreement is within reach.

beyond reach/out of reach  also in reach to be big enough, long enough, etc. to get to a particular level or point: a) [C] a measuring instrument reads a particular number, etc. in a particular way: Oxygen is a highly reactive gas.

react to the news? | The audience reacted by shouting and booing. 2 to become ill when a chemical or drug goes into your body, or when you eat a particular food: Health workers sometimes react to the latex in gloves. 3 chemistry if a chemical substance reacts, it changes when mixed with another substance: The calcium reacts with sulfur in the atmosphere. 4 if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

react against sth  phr. v. to show that you do not like or agree with something by deliberately doing the opposite: He reacted against his religious upbringing. | Feminists reacted against the limitations of women's traditional roles.

read  [ri:d]  v. [tense and past participle read] 1 [T] to look at written words, numbers, or signs and understand what they mean: Children start learning to read in kindergarten. | She sat reading a magazine. | I can’t read music.

The movie could be read as dangerous happens: an athlete with quick reactions 4 [singular] a change in someone’s attitudes, behavior, etc. that happens because she disapproves of the way things were done in the past: The attitudes of my generation are a reaction against the selfish values of the 1980s. 5 [C,U] chemistry a change that happens when two or more chemical substances are mixed together: A chemical reaction takes place in the soil.

THE SAURUS

reach  [ri:ʃ]  n. 1 [singular, U] the distance that you can stretch out your arm to touch something: My arm floated away, but my hand reached. 2 [C] to use your arm to stretch out and touch something: I reached out to the TV program.

reach for  to swing quickly in a particular way: a) a) [C] if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

reach out/in/out of reach  a) to reach somewhere quickly: He reached out to the TV program. b) also in reach able to be achieved or gotten with the skills, power, money, etc. that you have: An agreement is within reach.

beyond reach/out of reach  also in reach to be big enough, long enough, etc. to get to a particular level or point: a) [C] a measuring instrument reads a particular number, etc. in a particular way: Oxygen is a highly reactive gas.

react to the news? | The audience reacted by shouting and booing. 2 to become ill when a chemical or drug goes into your body, or when you eat a particular food: Health workers sometimes react to the latex in gloves. 3 chemistry if a chemical substance reacts, it changes when mixed with another substance: The calcium reacts with sulfur in the atmosphere. 4 if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

react against sth  phr. v. to show that you do not like or agree with something by deliberately doing the opposite: He reacted against his religious upbringing. | Feminists reacted against the limitations of women's traditional roles.

read  [ri:d]  v. [tense and past participle read] 1 [T] to look at written words, numbers, or signs and understand what they mean: Children start learning to read in kindergarten. | She sat reading a magazine. | I can’t read music.

The movie could be read as dangerous happens: an athlete with quick reactions 4 [singular] a change in someone’s attitudes, behavior, etc. that happens because she disapproves of the way things were done in the past: The attitudes of my generation are a reaction against the selfish values of the 1980s. 5 [C,U] chemistry a change that happens when two or more chemical substances are mixed together: A chemical reaction takes place in the soil.

THE SAURUS

reach  [ri:ʃ]  n. 1 [singular, U] the distance that you can stretch out your arm to touch something: My arm floated away, but my hand reached. 2 [C] to use your arm to stretch out and touch something: I reached out to the TV program.

reach for  to swing quickly in a particular way: a) a) [C] if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

reach out/in/out of reach  a) to reach somewhere quickly: He reached out to the TV program. b) also in reach able to be achieved or gotten with the skills, power, money, etc. that you have: An agreement is within reach.

beyond reach/out of reach  also in reach to be big enough, long enough, etc. to get to a particular level or point: a) [C] a measuring instrument reads a particular number, etc. in a particular way: Oxygen is a highly reactive gas.

react to the news? | The audience reacted by shouting and booing. 2 to become ill when a chemical or drug goes into your body, or when you eat a particular food: Health workers sometimes react to the latex in gloves. 3 chemistry if a chemical substance reacts, it changes when mixed with another substance: The calcium reacts with sulfur in the atmosphere. 4 if a machine or a piece of equipment reacts, it performs a particular action because of what is happening in or around it: The thermometer is very accurate, reacting to very small temperature differences.

react against sth  phr. v. to show that you do not like or agree with something by deliberately doing the opposite: He reacted against his religious upbringing. | Feminists reacted against the limitations of women's traditional roles.

read  [ri:d]  v. [tense and past participle read] 1 [T] to look at written words, numbers, or signs and understand what they mean: Children start learning to read in kindergarten. | She sat reading a magazine. | I can’t read music.

The movie could be read as

dangerous happens: an athlete with quick reactions 4 [singular] a change in someone’s attitudes, behavior, etc. that happens because she disapproves of the way things were done in the past: The attitudes of my generation are a reaction against the selfish values of the 1980s. 5 [C,U] chemistry a change that happens when two or more chemical substances are mixed together: A chemical reaction takes place in the soil.
a protest against the Catholic Church. 8 well-read having read a lot of books [origin: Old English readan] read into sth phr. v. to think that a situation, action, etc. means more than it really does: People shouldn’t read too much into the court’s decision.

read out phr. v. to read and say words that are written down, so that people can hear: He read out the name of the winner.

read up on sth phr. v. to read a lot about something so that you know a lot about it: Patients should try to read up on their illness.

ready-made adj. already prepared and ready to be used immediately: ready-made curtains

real adj. 1 not imaginary but actually existing: The new system has real advantages. 2 a very real danger possibility risk of an explosion. 3 [only before noun] true and not pretended: What’s the real reason you were late? 4 not false or artificial (colloq): fake: real leather | I don’t want a plastic Christmas tree – I want the real thing (=a real Christmas tree).

real estate prices fell again last year.

real life the world that people actually live in, as opposed to an imaginary one: Things don’t happen like that in the real world.

SPOKEN PHRASES

6 said when something is the way you think it should be: Now that’s real coffee! 7 real live used in order to emphasize how rare or unusual something is: Wow! A real live movie star! 8 are you for real? used when you are very surprised or shocked by something that someone has done or said: 9 for real seriously, not just pretending: He quit smoking? For real? 10 get real! used in order to tell someone that s/he is being silly or unreasonable: Get real! He’ll never make the team. 11 keep it real (slang) something young people say when they mean to behave in an honest way and not pretend to be different from how they really are.

[origin: 1400—1500 Old French, Medieval Latin reale “of things (in law),” from Latin res “thing”] real² adv. (spoken, nonstandard) very: I’m real sorry!

real estate n. [U] 1 property such as houses or land: Real estate prices fell again last year. 2 the business of selling houses or land real estate agent n. [C] someone whose job is to sell houses or land real-ism n. [U] 1 the ability to deal with situations in a practical or sensible way: 2 the quality of seeming real: The program’s bleak realism made it seem very authentic. 3 also Realism a style of art and literature in which everything is shown or described as it really is in life real-ist n. [C] someone who thinks in a realistic way readable

read·a·ble /‘ridəbəl/ adj. 1 interesting, enjoyable, or easy to read: a very readable book 2 clear and able to be read ➔ MACHINE-READABLE read·er /‘ridər/ n. [C] 1 someone who reads a lot, or reads in a particular way: an avid voracious reader (=someone who likes to read a lot) | a book for young readers | a fast/ slow reader 2 someone who reads a particular book, newspaper, etc.: a newspaper with 30,000 readers read·er·ship /‘ridəرشɪp/ n. [C,U] the people who read a particular newspaper, magazine, etc.

read·i·ly /‘rɛdɪli/ adv. 1 quickly and easily: The information is readily available on the Internet. 2 quickly, willingly, and without complaining: Chip readily agreed to help.

read·i·ness /‘rɛdɪnəs/ n. 1 [singular/ U] willingness to do something: I admire his readiness to help people. 2 [U] the state of being prepared and ready for something that might happen: The army was standing by in readiness for an attack.

read·ing /‘rɛdɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] the activity of looking at and understanding written words: Paula loves reading. 2 [U] the books, articles, etc. that you read: I have a lot of reading to do for class. 3 [light reading] easy to read and not very serious. 4 [close reading] the act of reading something: a close reading of the book 5 [C] a number or amount shown on a measuring instrument: The man came to take a reading from the electric meter. 6 [C] an occasion when something is read to people: a poetry reading

read·adj ust /‘rɛdəʤəst/ ➔ v. 1 [I] to change the way you do things because of a new job, situation, or way of life: After living in the dorms, I needed time to readjust to life at home. | After leaving the army, soldiers often struggle to readjust. 2 [T] to make a small change to something, or move something to a new position: We lifted him up and readjusted the back of the chair. | The figures had to be slightly readjusted. ➔ readjustment n. [C,U]

read·only /‘ridə‘ɒli/ adj. [not before noun] 1 someone who is ready is prepared or able to do something: Aren’t you ready yet? | We’re just about ready to eat. | Go get ready for bed. | I don’t think he’s ready for marriage yet. 2 something that is ready has been prepared and can be used, eaten, etc. immediately: Is supper ready? | The computer is now set up and ready to use. 3 is everything ready for the party? | I’ve got to get a room ready for our guests. | Have your passport ready when you go through immigration. 3 willing or likely to do something: She’s always ready to help. [origin: 1100—1200 Old English ræde “prepared”] read·y /‘rɛdɪ/ adj. 1 already prepared and ready to be used immediately: ready-made curtains read-out /‘rɛdəut/ n. [C] a record of information produced by a computer, that is shown on a screen or in print read-y /‘rɛdɪ/ adj. [not before noun] 1 someone real·is·tic /ri'lis tik/ adj. 1 practical and sensible, or dealing with situations in this way: You have to be realistic about your chances of winning. (realize that you may not win.) realistic goals (as sensible ones, that can be achieved) 2 showing things as they are in real life: His paintings are so realistic they look like photographs.

real·is·tic·ally /ri'lis tik ə l/ adv. 1 in a realistic way: We can’t realistically hope for any improvement so soon. 2 in a way that is very similar to real life: a realistically drawn picture re·al·i·za·tion /ri'la I z a ʃ n/ n. [plural realities] 1 [C,U] what is true or what actually happens, not what is imagined or not real: Crime is one of the realities of living in the city. She refuses to face reality. 2 the reality is that we can’t depend on him. 3 in reality used in order to say that something is different from what seems to be true: reality/make sth areality reality/make sth areality make sth a reality to begin to exist or happen, or to make something do this: Frank’s dream of opening a restaurant became a reality last May. 4 reality check (informal) an occasion when you consider the facts of a situation, as opposed to what you would like or what you have imagined re·al·i·ze /ri'la I z/ v. 1 [T] to know or understand the importance of something that you did not know before: Do you realize (that) you’ve an hour late? 2 [I,T] (said) to realize something: It was only later that I realized my mistake.

2 realize a hope/goal/dream etc. to achieve something you have been hoping to achieve 3 sb’s (worst) fears were realized used in order to say that the thing that you were afraid of has actually happened: Morris’s worst fears were realized when the police came to his door.

real·ly /'ri l e/ adv. 1 very or very much: Tom’s a really nice guy. His letter really irritated me. I’m really, really sorry. 2 used when you are talking about what actually happened or is true, rather than what people might wrongly think: Kevin’s not really his brother. What do you really think?

SPOKEN PHRASES

3 used in order to emphasize something you are saying: I really don’t mind. No, really. I’m fine.

Don’t worry. 4 really? used when you are surprised about or interested in what someone has said: “Meg’s getting married.” “Really? When?” 5 not really used in order to say “no,” especially when something is not completely true: “Are you hungry yet?” “Not really.” 6 (yeah) really used in order to agree with someone: “Greg can be such a jerk sometimes.” “Yeah, really.”

real·num·ber n. [C,U] MATH any number that is not the square root of a negative number real·time n. [MATH] any number that is not the square root of a negative number

Real·tor /ri'rlr ə/ n. [C] (trademark) a REAL ESTATE agent who belongs to the National Association of Realtors real·ty /ri'rl t i/ n. [C] REAL ESTATE

ream /ri'm/ n. 1 reams of sth (informal) a lot of something: He took reams of notes. 2 [C] 500 sheets of paper rea·p /rip/ v. 1 [T] to get something good because of the hard work that you have done: Paula is starting to reap the benefits of all her hard work. 2 [I,T] to cut and gather a crop of grain rear /ri'ru/ n. [C] 1 the rear the back part of an object, vehicle, building, etc.: There are more seats at the rear of the theater. 2 also rear end (informal) the part of your body that you sit on 3 bring up the rear to be at the back of a line or group of people that is moving forward: The kids came around the corner, with Donny bringing up the rear.

rear·up v. 1 [T] to care for a person, animal, or plant until he, she, or it is fully grown (by) raise: She reared seven children by herself. 2 [I,T] also rear up if an animal rears, it rises up on its back legs: The horse reared and threw me off.

rear·ad /'ri r e d/ adv. [only before noun] relating to the back of something: the rear wheels of the car | the rear entrance of the hospital rear·end n. [C] (spoken) the part of your body that you sit on rear·end v. [T] (informal) to hit the back of someone’s car with another car: Someone reared-end us on the freeway.

re·ar·range /ri'rz re n ə dʒ/ v. [T] to change the position or order of things: We rearranged the furniture in the living room. —re·ar·range·ment n. [C,U] rear·view mir·ror /ri'ru və 'mirə/ n. [C] the mirror in a car that you use to see what is behind you.

A number of reasons why people develop heart disease. One of the reasons (that) she came to Boston is her family.

- explanation - a reason that you give for why something happened or why you did something; is there any explanation for his behavior?
- excuse - a reason that you give for why you did something bad: I hope she has a good excuse for being late again.
- motive - a reason that makes someone do something, especially something bad: The police have found no motive for the attack.
- rationale (formal) - the reasons and principles on which a decision, plan, etc. is based: What is the Pope's rationale for not allowing women to be priests?
- grounds - a good reason for doing, believing, or saying something; Abusive behavior is grounds for divorce.

2 [C,U] a fact that makes it right or fair to do something: There is no reason to panic. | You had every reason to be suspicious. | He won't be reasonable - you can't expect her to do all the work on her own! | He seemed like a reasonable guy. | FAIR

reason [ˈreɪzn] n. 1 [C] the cause or fact that explains why something happens or exists: Did he give any reason for quitting? | There are many reasons why people develop heart disease. One of the reasons (that) she came to Boston is her family.

- related to the process of thinking carefully about something in order to make a judgment: What's the reasoning behind this proposal? ➔ INDIRECT REASONING
- reasoning behind an answer: "I'm sure we can find an answer," Steve said reasonably.

- explanation - a reason that you give for why something happened or why you did something; is there any explanation for his behavior?
- excuse - a reason that you give for why you did something bad: I hope she has a good excuse for being late again.
- motive - a reason that makes someone do something, especially something bad: The police have found no motive for the attack.
- rationale (formal) - the reasons and principles on which a decision, plan, etc. is based: What is the Pope's rationale for not allowing women to be priests?
- grounds - a good reason for doing, believing, or saying something; Abusive behavior is grounds for divorce.

2 [C,U] a fact that makes it right or fair to do something: There is no reason to panic. | You had every reason to be suspicious. | He won't be reasonable - you can't expect her to do all the work on her own! | He seemed like a reasonable guy. | FAIR

reason [ˈreɪzn] n. 1 [C] the cause or fact that explains why something happens or exists: Did he give any reason for quitting? | There are many reasons why people develop heart disease. One of the reasons (that) she came to Boston is her family.

- related to the process of thinking carefully about something in order to make a judgment: What's the reasoning behind this proposal? ➔ INDIRECT REASONING
- reasoning behind an answer: "I'm sure we can find an answer," Steve said reasonably.
rebounds, it moves quickly back after hitting something solid: The ball rebounded off the hoop. 2 to increase again after decreasing (by recover): Oil prices rebounded this week.

re-bound /raɪˈbaʊnd/ n. on the rebound if someone is on the rebound, s/he has recently stopped being in a romantic relationship, and is likely to start another romantic relationship soon

re-buff /raɪˈbaft/ v. [T] (formal) to be unkind to someone who is trying to be friendly or helpful — rebuff n. [C] re-build /raɪˈbɪld/ v. (past tense and past participle rebuilt /ˈbɪlt/ [T] 1 to build something again, after it has been damaged or destroyed: The freeway system was quickly rebuilt after the earthquake.

re-but /raɪˈbɪt/ v. (rebutted, rebutting) [T] (formal) to give reasons to show that a statement or a legal charge that has been made against you is false — rebuttal /raɪˈbɪtl/ n. [C] re-cal-ci-trant /raɪˈkælsɪtrænt/ adj. (formal) refusing to obey or be controlled, even after being punished — recalcitrance n. [U]

re-call /raɪˈkɔl/ v. [T] 1 to remember something: I don’t recall meeting him. 2 formal to recall meeting (that) we had problems finding the place. 2 if a company recalls a product, it asks people to return the product because something is wrong with it

re-call /raɪˈkɔl/ v. [I] 1 [U] the ability to remember something you have learned or experienced: She has total recall (=ability to remember everything) of what she has read. 2 [C] a situation in which a company recalls a product

re-can-til /raɪˈkæntɪl/ v. [I,T] (formal) to say publicly that you no longer have a particular religious or political belief

re-cap /raɪˈkep/ n. [C usually singular] (informal) the act of repeating the main points of something that has just been said: And now for a recap of tonight’s news. — recap /raɪˈkep/ v. [I,T]

re-cap-it-u-late /raɪˈkapəˌleɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to repeat the main points of something that has just been said = recap — recapitulation /raɪˈkæpɪtəˌleɪʃən/ [C,U]

re-cap-ture /raɪˈkæptʃər/ v. [T] 1 to make someone experience or feel something again: The movie recaptures the innocence of childhood. 2 to catch a prisoner or animal that has escaped re·cede /riˈsid/ v. [I] 1 if something is receding, it gets further and further away until it disappears: The sound of her footsteps receded into the distance. 2 if your hair recedes, you gradually lose the hair at the front of your head: He has a receding hairline.

receipt n. 1 a piece of paper that shows that you have received money or goods: Keep your receipts for tax purposes. 2 credit card receipts n. (formal) the act of receiving something: The contract becomes valid upon receipt of (=when we receive) your letter.

repair n. 1 a piece of paper that shows that you have received money or goods: Keep your receipts for tax purposes. 2 credit card receipts n. (formal) the act of receiving something: The contract becomes valid upon receipt of (=when we receive) your letter.

To make something strong and successful again: We try to help drug addicts rehabilitate.

A rebuttal is a charge that has been made against you is false — rebuttal /raɪˈbɪtl/ n. [C]

Receivier – used to say that something happened officially: He received an award from the college.

Recived – used to say that something happened officially: Her first novel was well received (=people said it was good).

Recent – used to say that something happened recently: I haven’t been to the movies lately.

Recently – used to say that something happened recently, or that something was made, done, etc.
reception recession receptive recipe receptionist receptacle

eyes are excessive.
out of recession.
to other people’s suggestions.
an unusual: going when there is less business activity, trade, etc. than people when they arrive at an office whose job is to answer the telephone and help where visitors who are arriving in a hotel or large organization go first.

receptionist /ri'sepʃənɪst/ n. [C] someone whose job is to answer the telephone and help people when they arrive at an office.

recession /ri'seʃən/ n. 1 [C] a large formal party to celebrate something or to welcome someone: a wedding reception | a reception for the visiting professors 2 [C] usually singular a way of reacting to a person or idea that shows what you think of him, her, or it: He got a warm reception (=a friendly greeting) from the crowd. 3 [U] the quality of the sound of your radio or the picture of your television: My TV gets good/poor reception.

a reception desk/area the desk or area where visitors who are arriving in a hotel or large building, etc., when it has never been used or has reclaimed lost luggage 2 to make land able to be used for farming, building, etc., when it has never been used or has not been used for a while: Large areas of land will be reclaimed for a new airport. —reclamation /rɪk'leɪʃən/ n. [U] recline /rɪ'klaɪn/ v. 1 to lie or sit back in a relaxed way:

The front seats of the car recline.

2 [I] to lie or sit back in a relaxed way:
People reclined on the grass in the sunshine.

recharge /rɪ'tʃɑrdʒ/ v. [T] to put a new supply of electricity into a battery —rechargeable adj.

reception /rɪ'seʃən/ n. 1 [C] a set of instructions that tells you how to cook something: recipes from a vegetarian cookbook | a recipe for chocolate cake.

2 be a recipe for sth (informal) to be likely to cause a particular result: Inviting Paul and his ex-wife to the party was a recipe for disaster.

reception /rɪ'sepʃən/ n. [C] someone who receives something: Bauer has been the recipient of many honors.

a reciprocal agreement, relationship, etc., is one where two groups of people do or give the same things to each other [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin reciprocus “returning the same way,” from re- “back” + pro- “forward”] to do or give something because something similar has been done or given to you:

a public performance of a piece of music or poetry, usually by one person: a piano recital.

to say something such as a poem, story, etc. that you know by memory —recitation /rɪ'seʃənət/ n. [C,U] reckless /rɪk'leɪs/ adj. not caring about danger or the bad results of your behavior, or showing this quality: reckless driving —recklessly adv.

reckon /rɪk'n/ v. [T] 1 to guess a number, amount, etc. without calculating it exactly: The software company reckons it will sell 2.5 million units this year. 2 [spoken] to think or suppose: I reckon they’ll be late.

reckon with sb/sth phr. v. to consider a possible problem when you think about the future: The new team is a force to be reckoned with (=something to consider seriously).

reckoning /rɪk'nɪŋ/ n. [U] calculation that is not exact: By my reckoning, we should be there by now.

claim /rɪk'leɪm/ v. [T] 1 to ask for something to be given back to you: reclaimg lost luggage.

2 to make land able to be used for farming, building, etc., when it has never been used or has not been used for a while: Large areas of land will be reclaimed for a new airport. —reclamation /rɪk'leɪʃən/ n. [U] clinch /rɪk'n/ v. 1 [T] to push the back of a seat or chair so that it slopes backward, so that you can lean back in it: The front seats of the car recline. 2 [I] to lie or sit back in a relaxed way: People reclined on the grass in the sunshine.

fuse /fjuːz/ n. 1 someone who chooses to live alone, and avoids seeing or talking to other people: Hudson became a recluse after her husband’s death. [Origins: 1100—1200 Old French reclus “shut up,” from Late Latin redicludere “to shut up” —reclusive /rɪk'luːsɪv/ adj.: the reclusive novelist Thomas Pynchon rejection /rɪk'neʃən/ n. [C] (singular; U) public admiration and thanks for someone’s work or achievements: She was given an award in recognition of 25 years of service. 2 [singular] U the act of realizing and accepting that something is important or true: There is a growing recognition of the importance of early childhood education. 3 [U] the act of recognizing someone or something: He looked past me with no sign of recognition. | The city had changed beyond recognition (so much that I could not recognize it).

rec-og-nize /rɛkJənˌzaɪ/ v [T] 1 to realize when you see someone that you know him/her because you have seen him/her before: He’d lost so much weight I hardly recognized him! | Social workers have been trained to recognize the signs of child abuse. 2 to accept officially that an organization, government, etc. is legal: The UN has refused to recognize the new government. 3 to accept and admit that something is true or real: It’s important to recognize that stress can affect your health. 4 to thank someone officially for something: The UN has refused to recognize the new government. | recommendation /rɪˈkɒmendəʃən/ n. 1 a suggestion that someone or something is appropriate or useful for a particular situation: We took the tour on a friend’s recommendation. 2 also letter of recommendation a letter which states that someone would be a good person to do a job, study at a college, etc.: Can you write a recommendation for me?

recon-noiter /rɪˈkɒnəʊɪtər/ v [I] 1 to move back suddenly from something that you do not like or are afraid of: Emily recoiled at the sight of the snake.

re-construct /rɪˈkɒnstrʌkt/ v [T] 1 to advise someone to do something: Dentists recommend that you change your toothbrush every few months. | We strongly recommend buying a bicycle helmet.

recon-struct /rɪˈkɒnstrʌkt/ v [T] 1 to produce a complete description of something that happened by collecting pieces of information: Police have reconstructed the events leading up to the crime. 2 to build something again after it has been destroyed or damaged.

recon-struct-ive /rɪˈkɒnstrʌktɪv/ adj. [only before noun] a reconstructive operation is one done to make a part of someone’s body the right shape, record for example after a bad injury: reconstructive surgery

re·cord1 /rɛˈkɔrd/ n. 1 [C/U] information about something or someone, which is either written on paper or stored on a computer: keep a record of how much you spend on this trip. 2 [medical records] This summer has been the dryest on record (=that has been written in records).

re·cord2 /rɛˈkɔrd/ v. 1 [T] to write information down so that it can be looked at in the future: All the events were recorded. 2 [T] to store music, sound, television programs, etc. on tape or disks, so that people can listen to them or watch them again: The group has just recorded a new album. 3 [T] to measure the size, speed, temperature, etc. of something so that it can be seen record-breaking adj. better, higher, faster, etc. than anything done before: record-breaking temperatures re·cord·er /rɛˈkɔrdər/ n. 1 [C] a tape recorder 2 a small wooden musical instrument shaped like a tube, that you play by blowing into it re·cord·ing /rɛˈkɔrdɪŋ/ n. [C] a piece of music, speech, etc. that has been recorded: a recording of Vivaldi’s “Gloria” record label n. [C] a company that records and produces a singer’s, group of musicians’, etc. music record player n. [C] a piece of equipment for playing records re·count1 /rɪˈkaʊnt/ v. [T] (formal) to tell a story or describe a series of events re·count2 /rɪˈkaʊnt/ n. [C] a process of counting votes again re·cou·pe /rɪˈkʌp/ v. [T] to get back money you have lost or spent re·course /rɪˈkɔrs/ n. [U] (formal) something you can do to help yourself in a difficult situation, or the act of doing this: The police had no recourse but to shoot (shooting was their only choice).

re·cov·er /rɪˈkʌvər/ v. 1 [I] to get better after an illness, injury, shock, etc.: My uncle is recovering from a heart attack. 2 [I] to return to a normal condition after a period of trouble or difficulty: The economy will take years to recover. 3 [T] to get back something that was taken from you, lost, or almost destroyed: The stolen paintings have been recovered. 4 [T] to get back your ability to control your feelings or your body: He never recovered the use of his arm. [Origin: 1300—1300 Old French recover, from Latin recuperare, from capere “to take”] re·cov·er·y /rɪˈkʌvərɪ/ n. 1 [singular/U] the process of getting better after an illness, injury, etc.: His recovery from the knee injury has been slow. 2 [singular/U] the process of returning to a normal condition after a period of trouble or difficulty: economic recovery 3 [U] the act of getting back something that is lost, stolen, or owed: the recovery of the stolen jewels re·cre·ate /rɪˈkɹeɪt/ v. [T] to make something exist again or be experienced again: The zoo tries to recreate the animals’ natural habitats.

re·crui·t /rɪˈkrjuːt/ n. 1 [U] an activity that you do for pleasure or fun: outdoor recreation 2 [formal] a situation in which people blame each other, or the things they say when they are blaming each other re·crui·tation /rɪˈkrjuːtəɪʃən/ n. [C/U] the process of recruiting new people to work in a company, join an organization, do a job, etc.: The coaches are visiting high schools in order to recruit new players. 3 [formal] a new growth, new soldiers, from Old French recoit “to grow up again” re·crui·ta·ment /rɪˈkrjuːtarmənt/ n. [U] —recruit n. [U] —recruiter n. [C] recruit n. [C] someone who has recently joined a company or an organization: You could tell he was a new recruit.

re·tan·gle /rɛkˌtɑŋgl/ n. [C] a shape with four straight sides, two of which are usually longer that you give someone who is visiting you

Red Cross n an international organization that helps people who are suffering as a result of war, floods, disease, etc.

Red den n /red/ n [T] to become red, or to make something do this

Red-dec-o-rate /rɪdɪkʃərɪt/ v [T] to change the way a room looks by painting, changing the furniture, etc.

Red-deem /rɪdɪm/ v [T] (formal) 1 redeem yourself to do something to improve other people’s opinion of you, after you have behaved badly or failed 2 to exchange a piece of paper representing an amount of money for the money that it is worth: You can redeem the coupon at any store. 3 redeeming quality/value etc a good quality, etc. that keeps someone or something from being completely bad or wrong: Maybe she has redeeming qualities, but I can’t see them. 4 to make something less bad: Nothing could redeem this awful movie. — redeemable adj

Red-demp-tion /rɪˈdɛmptʃən/ n. [U] 1 past/ beyond redemption too bad to be saved or improved 2 the state of being freed from the power of evil, believed by Christians to be made possible by Jesus Christ

Red-eye n [U] (informal) an airplane with passengers on it that flies at night and arrives early in the morning: I took the red-eye from Chicago to Seattle.

Red flag n [C] something that shows or warns you that something might be wrong, illegal, etc.

Red-handed adj catch sb red-handed (informal) to catch someone at the moment when s/he is doing something wrong: She was caught red-handed taking money from the register.

Red-head /ˈrɛdɪd/ n. [C] someone who has red hair

Red ’herring n. [C] a fact or idea that is not important but is introduced in order to take your attention away from something that is important, especially in a story

Red-hot adj extremely hot: red-hot metal

Red-di-rec-t /ˌridɪˈrekst/ -di-rec-t/ -di-rec-t- /ˈredɪˈrekst/ v [T] to send something in a different direction, or use something for a different purpose: She needs to redirect her energy into something more useful.

Red-dis-tri-bu-tion /ˌrɛdɪsˈtrɪbjʊʃən/ n. [U] the act of sharing something between people in a way that is different from the past: the redistribution of wealth/income/land etc. — redistribute /ˌrɛdɪsˈtrɪbjʊt/ v [T]: One of the purposes of taxes is to redistribute some wealth to the poor.

Red-light district n. [C] the area of a city where there are many prostitutes red meat  n. [U] dark-colored meat such as beef red neck  n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who lives in a country area, is not educated, and has strong unreasonable opinions redo  v. (past tense redid /-d/; past participle redone) to do something again: You'll have to redo this essay. redouble  v. to greatly increase your efforts as you try to do something redoubtable  adj. (literary) someone who is redoubtable is a person you respect or fear: formidable: No one would argue with this redoubtable professor.
redress  v. (formal) to correct something that is wrong, not equal, or unfair.
redshift  n. [U] physics a change in the light given off by an object such as a star in space, in which the light appears more red as the object is moving away from the person looking at it → blue shift red tape  n. official rules that seem unnecessary and that delay action: The new policies are intended to cut red tape.
reduce  v. (T) to make something become less in amount, size, price, etc.: Reduce the heat and simmer the rice for another 10 minutes.
reel  n. [C] 1 a line of sharp rocks or a raised area of sand near the surface of the ocean reek  v. [I] to have a strong bad smell: His breath reeked of garlic. reel  v. [C] 1 a round object onto which things such as film or string for fishing can be wound reel off  v. (informal) to repeat a lot of information quickly and easily: Andy can reel off the names of all the state capitals.
re-elect  v. [T] to elect someone again re-enact  v. [T] to perform the actions of a story, crime, etc. that happened in the past: In church, the smaller children re-enacted the Christmas story.
re-entry  n. (plural reentries) [C,U] an act of entering a place or situation again: The spacecraft made a safe reentry into the Earth’s atmosphere.

ref /rɪf/ n [C] (spoken) a referee

re·fer /rɪˈfɜːr/ v [transitive, intransitive] to refer to sb/sth to mention or speak about someone or something: Rachel didn’t mention names, but everyone knew who she was referring to. [He likes to be referred to as “Doctor Mills.”] 2 refer to sb/sth to look at a book, map, piece of paper, etc. for information: Refer to page 14 for instructions. 3 refer to sb/sth if a statement, number, report, etc. refers to someone or something, it is about that person or thing: The blue line on the graph refers to sales. 4 refer sb/sth to sb/sth to send someone or something to another place or person for information, advice, or a decision: My doctor referred me to a specialist.

re·fe·ree /rɪˈfɪri/ n. [C] someone who makes sure that the rules are followed during a game in sports such as football, basketball, or BOXING

Referee and umpire mean the same but are used for different sports.

Use referee when you are talking about football, soccer, ice hockey, basketball, boxing, wrestling, or volleyball.

Use umpire when you are talking about baseball or tennis.

re·fe·re·es /rɪˈfɜːrɪz/ v [plural] to be the referee for a game re·fe·rence /rɪˈfɜːrəns/ n. 1 [C] something you say or write that mentions another person or thing: Her writing is full of references to Chicago. 2 [C] the act of looking at something for information, or the book, magazine, etc. you get the information from: I’ll keep a copy of the document for future reference. 3 the reference section of a book, article, etc. comes from: a list of references at the end of the article re·fe·rence book n. [C] a book such as a dictionary that you look at to find information → BOOK re·fe·rence ,lib·ra·ry also re·fe·re·nec·ies n. [C] a public library, or a room in a library, that contains reference books that you can use but not take away re·fe·ren·du·m /rɪˈfɜːrəndəm/ n. (plural referendums) [C,U] politics an occasion when you vote in order to make a decision about a particular subject, rather than voting for a person: In Quebec, the party is campaigning for a referendum on independence.

re·fe·ral /rɪˈfɜːrəl, -ˈfɜːr-/ n. [C] an act of sending someone or something to another place for help, information, etc.: The doctor will give you a referral to a specialist.

ref·ill /rɪˈfɪl/ v. [T] to fill something again: A waiter refilled our glasses. —refill /rɪˈfɪl/ n. [C]: Would you like a refill?

re·fi·nan·ce /rɪˈfɪnəns, rɪˈfənəns/ v. [T] to replace a loan that you have with another loan: We plan to refinance our mortgage.

re·fine /rɪˈfɪn/ (rɪˈfɪn/ or rɪˈfɪn/) v. [T] 1 to make a substance more pure using an industrial process: The sugar is refined and then shipped abroad. 2 to improve a method, plan, system, etc. by making small changes to it: Refine your analysis as you get more data.

re·fin·ed /rɪˈfɪnd/ adj. 1 made more pure using an industrial process: refined flour 2 improved and made more effective: a more refined technique 3 polite and well-educated

re·fin·ment /rɪˈfɪnmənt/ (rɪˈfɪnmənt/) n. 1 [U] the process of improving something or making a substance more pure: the refinement of sugar | the refinement of their economic theories 2 [C] a change to an existing product, plan, system, etc. that improves it: We’ve added a number of refinements to the design. 3 [U] the quality of being polite and well-educated re·fin·ish /rɪˈfɪnɪʃ/ v. [T] to give the surface of something, especially wood, a new appearance by painting or polishing it: The hardwood floors were sanded and refinished.

re·flect /rɪˈflekt/ v. 1 be reflected in sb/sth if an object, person, view, etc. is reflected in a mirror or in the water, you can see the person or thing in it: We could see the mountains reflected in the lake. 2 [T] if a surface reflects light, heat, or sound, it sends back the light, etc. that hits it: Wear something white – it reflects the heat. 3 [T] to show or be a sign of a particular situation, idea, or feeling: The fact that people are living longer is reflected in the latest census statistics. 4 [I] to think carefully: Please take some time to reflect on our offer. [Origins: 1300–1400 Latin reflectere “to bend back,” from reflect “to bend to”] reflect on sb/sth v. to influence people’s opinion of something or even danger, especially in a bad way: Some children’s behavior reflects badly on their parents.

re·flec·tion /rɪˈfleksən/ n. 1 [C] an image that is reflected in a mirror, glass, or water: We looked at our reflections in the pool. 2 [C,U] careful thought, or an idea or opinion based on this: The book includes the writer’s reflections on America in the 1920s, when he was a boy. 3 [singular] thinking about a particular subject, rather than voting for a person: I realized she was right. 4 [singular] something that shows, or is a sign of, a particular situation, fact, or feeling: The rise in crime is a reflection of a violent society. 5 [singular] the light or heat that is reflected from something re-flec-tive /ˈrefliktiv/ adj. 1 a reflective surface reflects light: reflective tape 2 thinking quietly, or showing that you are doing this: He was in a reflective mood.

re-flex·tor /ˈreflektər/ n. [C] a small piece of plastic that reflects light → see picture at bicycle re-flex /ˈrefleks/ n. [C usually plural] a sudden physical reaction that you have without thinking about it: Basketball players tend to have good reflexes (=the ability to react quickly).

re-flex·ive /ˈreflektív/ adj. Eng. Lang. Arts, reflexive in grammar, a reflexive verb or pronoun refers back to the person or thing that does the action. In the sentence "I enjoyed myself," "myself" is reflexive.

re-form /ˈrefɔrəm/ n. [C/U] a change made to an organization or system in order to improve it: the reform of the legal system → economic/political/educational reform re-form·er /ˈrefɔrərmər/ n. [C] someone who works hard to make a lot of changes in order to improve a government or society re-form·school /ˈrefɔrmskuːl/ n. [C] a special school where young people who have broken the law are sent re-fract /ˈrefrækt/ v. [I,T] physics to change the direction of light or sound, for example when light goes from the air into a liquid or through a transparent substance: Light is refracted when it hits the surface of the water.

re-frac-tion /ˈrefrækʃən/ n. [U] physics a change in the direction of light or sound, for example when it goes from the air into a liquid or through a transparent substance re-frain /ˈrefreɪn/ v. [I] (formal) to stop yourself from doing something: Please refrain from smoking. [origin: 1300–1400 Old French refréner, from froun "bridle" (a leather band used by a rider to control a horse)] re-frain·er /ˈreɪfriːnər/ n. [C] Eng. Lang. Arts part of a song that is repeated, especially at the end of each verse re-fresh /ˈrefrɛʃ/ v. 1 [T] to make someone feel less tired or hot: A shower will refresh you. 2 refresh sb’s memory to say something that makes someone remember something: Please refresh my memory — what was your last job? —refreshed adj.

re-fresh·er /ˈrefrɛʃər/ n. [C] a training class that teaches you about new developments in a subject or skill you have already studied or learned re-fresh·ing /ˈrefrɛʃɪŋ/ adj. 1 making you feel less tired or less hot: a refreshing drink. 2 pleasantly different from what is familiar and boring: The movie is a refreshing change from the usual Hollywood blockbusters. —refreshingly adv.

re-fresh·ment /ˈrefrɛʃmənt/ n. [C] usually plural) food and drinks that are provided at a meeting, party, sports event, etc.: Refreshments will be served after the concert. 2 [U] food and drinks in general re-fried beans /ˌrɛfrɪdˈbɛinz/ n. [plural] a Mexican dish in which beans that have already been cooked are crushed and fried with spices re-frig·er·ate /ˌrɛfrɪɡərət/ v. to keep cold by electricity: a fridge re-frig·er·a·tion /ˌrɛfrɪɡərəˈʃən/ n. [U] As hower will refresh you.

re-frig·er·a·tor /ˌrɛfrɪɡərəˈtɔr/ n. [C] a large piece of kitchen equipment used for keeping food and drinks cold, shaped like a metal cupboard and kept cold by electricity.

re-fuel /ˌrɛfiːəl/ v. [I,T] to fill a vehicle or airplane with fuel again before it continues on a trip re-fuge /ˈreɪfjuːɡ/ n. [C/U] a place that provides protection or shelter from bad weather or danger: About 50 families have taken refuge (sought protection) in a Red Cross shelter. We sought refuge (=looked for protection) from the 110-degree heat.

re-fug·ue /ˌreɪfjuːɡ/ n. [C] someone who has been forced to leave his/her country, especially during a war: Refugees were streaming across the border. refugee camps re-fund /ˌrɛfʌnd/ n. [C] an amount of money that is given back to you if you are not satisfied with the goods or services you have paid for: If you're not completely satisfied, we'll give you a refund. —refund /ˌrɛfʌnd/ v [T] re-furb·ish /ˌrɛfɜːbɪʃ/ v. [T] to repair and improve a building: The hotel was recently refurbished. —refurbishment /ˌrɛfɜːbɪʃmənt/ n. [C/U] re-fus·al /ˌrɛfjuːzəl/ n. [C,U] an act of saying or regard

re·fuse

re·fuse

re·fuse

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard

regard
regionalism /ˈrɛɡənlɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICS loyalty to a particular part of a country and the desire for it to be more politically independent registrar /ˈreɡɪstrər/ n. 1 [C] a book containing an official list or record of something: He signed the register at the hotel. 2 [C] the place where the warm or cool air of a heating system comes into a room, with a metal cover you can open or close register /ˈreɡɪstr/ v. 1 [T] to record a name, details about something, etc. on an official list: The car is registered in my sister’s name. 2 [I, T] to officially arrange to attend a particular school, university, or course (876) enroll: How many students have registered for Beginning Japanese? 3 [T] (formal) to express a feeling or opinion about something: Her face registered surprise and shock. 4 [I, T] if an instrument registers an amount, or if an amount registers on it, the instrument shows or records that amount: The thermometer registered 74°F.

registered ‘mail n. [U] a service in which the post office records the time when your mail is sent and delivered germinated nurse (abbreviation RN) n. [C] someone who has been trained and is officially allowed to work as a nurse regular /ˈrɛɡəl/ adj. 1 [C,U] someone who is in charge of official records, especially in a college regularization /ˈrɛɡələrɪzəʃən/ n. [C] the process of officially arranging to attend a particular school, university, or class (876) enrollment 2 [U] the act of recording names and details on an official list: laws requiring the registration of handguns 3 [C] an official piece of paper containing details about a vehicle and the name of its owner: May I see your license and registration, Ma’am?

regularity /ˈrɛɡələrəti/ n. (plural regularities) [C] a place where official records are kept regress /rɪˈɡrɛs/ v. [I] to go back to an earlier, less developed state (629) progress —regression /rɪˈɡreʃən/ n. [U] regret /rɪˈɡreɪt/ v. (regretted, regretting) [T]. 1 to feel sorry about something you have done and wish you had not done it: We’ve always regretted selling that car. 2 He regrets that he never went to college. 3 You’ll regret it if you leave your job now. 2 (formal) [not in progressive] to be sorry and sad about a situation: I regret that I will be unable to attend.

regretful adj.

regrettable adj. something that is regrettable is something that you wish had not happened: a regrettable mistake regroup /rɪˈɡruːp/ v. [I,T] to form a group again in order to be more effective, or to make people do this: The party needs time to regroup politically.

regularly adv. 1 REPEATED happening every hour, every week, every month, etc., usually with the same amount of time in between: His heartbeat is strong and regular. 2 We hear from him on a regular basis. 3 Planes were taking off at regular intervals.

region /ˈrɛɡɪn/ n. [C] a part of a country or a country: the region of the United States regularly adv. 1 [USUAL] fixed or frequent: annual or regular, etc.: She sends a letter regularly.

regularly adv. 2 (OFTEN) happening or doing something very often: He’s one of our regular customers. 3 Regular exercise will help you lose weight.

regularly adv. 3 USUAL normal or usual: She’s not our regular babysitter.

ordinary, without any special features or qualities: He’s just a regular guy.

regularly adv. 5 NORMAL SIZE of standard size: fries and a regular Coke.

regularly adv. 6 EVENLY SHAPED evenly shaped, with parts or sides of equal size: regular features (=an evenly shaped face)

regularity /ˈrɛɡələrəti/ n. (plural regularities) [C] a place where official records are kept regular verb or noun: the verb “walk” is regular, but “be” is not.

regularly adv. 7 GRAMMAR ENG. LANG. ARTS a regular verb or noun changes its forms in the same way as most verbs or nouns. The verb “walk” is regular, but “be” is not.

regularly adv. 8 LEGAL: A customer who goes to the same store, restaurant, etc, very often: The bartender knows all the regulars by name.

regularly adv. 9 [U] gas that contains LEAD regularly adv. 10 often, a lot, frequently, repeatedly regularly adv. 11 [OFTEN] to control an activity or process, usually by having rules: The use of these drugs is strictly regulated.

to make a machine or your body work at a particular speed, temperature, etc.: People sweat to regulate their body heat.

reg·u·la·tion /ˈreɡələˈteɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] an official rule or order: safety regulations | There seem to be so many rules and regulations.

2 [C,U] Economics government control over the sale of particular goods or services in a country, or official limits on particular goods coming into or going out of a country: The total amount of bank credit is restricted by federal government regulations | the regulation of trade re·im·burse /rɪˈimˌbɜːs/ v. (T) (formal) to pay money back to someone: The company will reimburse you for your travel expenses.

—reimbursement /rɪˈimbərəmənt/ n. U re·in·force /rɪˈɪnfrɔrs/ v. (T) to make something stronger, such as a part of a building, a piece of clothing, etc.: The concrete wall is reinforced with steel rods.

re·in·deer /rɪˈɛnˌdər/ n. [plural reindeer, plural] a long narrow band of leather that is fastened around a horse’s head in order to control it | 2 give sb (a) free rein to give someone complete freedom to say or do things the way she wants to | 3 keep a tight rein on sb/sth to control someone or something strictly: The government is trying to keep a tight rein on public spending. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French renne, from Latin renne, from tenere “to hold”]

re·in·force·ment /rɪˈɪnfrɔrsˌmənt/ n. [plural] the act of doing something to make an opinion, statement, feeling, etc. stronger: Parents should give their children positive reinforcement when their behavior is good (praise them so that they will behave well again). 2 reinforcements [plural] more soldiers or police who are sent to help make a group stronger: The police called for reinforcements. 3 [U] the act of making something stronger: The bridge needs some structural reinforcement.

re·in·stal·le·ment /rɪˈɛnˌstələmənt/ n. [plural] the act of doing something to make an opinion, statement, feeling, etc. stronger: Parents should give their children positive reinforcement when their behavior is good (praise them so that they will behave well again). 2 reinforcements [plural] more soldiers or police who are sent to help make a group stronger: The police called for reinforcements. 3 [U] the act of making something stronger: The bridge needs some structural reinforcement.

re·in·state /rɪˈɛnˌstæt/ v. [T] 1 to put someone back into a job that she had before: Two employees who were wrongfully fired will be reinstated. 2 if a law, system, or practice is reinstated, it begins to be used after not being used —reinstatement n. [C,U]

EMPIRE during a particular period of its history reign1 /reɪn/ n. 1 [C] the period of time during which someone rules a country: the reign of Queen Anne 2 [singular] a period of time during which someone is in control of an organization, business, etc.: his four-year reign as team coach 3 reign of terror a period during which a government, army, etc. uses violence to control people [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French regne, from Latin regnum, from rex “king”] re·gur·gi·tate /rɪˈgɜrɡətət/ v. (I,T) to become when they are reincarnated

reg·u·la·tor /ˈreɡələtər/ n. [plural] an official or something that makes sure that an activity, etc. is being done properly: A regulatory commission for controlling the temperature, speed, etc. that you have heard or read without understanding them clearly yourself

2 [C] a type of deer with long horns that lives in very cold places re·gul·a·to·ry /ˈreɡəˌlaːtərɪ/ n. [plural] the purpose of controlling an activity or process, especially by rules: the Nuclear Regulatory Commission

reg·u·la·tion /ˈreɡəˌleɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] the regulation of trade re·hears·al /ˈrɛhərsəl/ n. 1 [C] a period of time or a particular occasion when all the people in a play, concert, etc. practice it before giving a public performance: a rehearsal for “Romeo and Juliet” re·hearse /rɪˈhɛərs/ v. [I,T] to practice something such as a play or concert before giving a public performance: They rehearsed the scene in her dressing room. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French rehercer, from herce “farm tool for breaking up soil”]

THERESAUS
practice, work on sth ➔ rejection

re·ject /riˈdʒekt/ (Ac) v [T] (formal) to think about or perform something again in a slightly different way, especially to understand it in a new way: The book reinterprets the Dracula legend.

—reinterpretation /riˌiŋˈter-ˌpiər-tən-ˈSHən/ n [C,U]

re·in·vent /riˌin-vənt/ v [T] 1 reinvent yourself to completely change your appearance and image: To stay popular, pop stars must often reinvent themselves. 2 to make changes to an existing idea, method, system, etc. in order to improve it or make it more modern: The changes are an attempt to reinvent the American educational system. 3 reinvent the wheel (informal) to waste time trying to find a way of doing something, when someone else has already discovered the best way to do it.

re·in·ter·pret /riˌin-tərˈprät/ v. [T] (literary) to feel or show that you are very happy —rejoicing n [U] re·join /riˈdʒən/ v [T] to return to a group or person: She rejoined her friends in the lobby.

re·join·der /riˈdʒən-dr/ n (formal) a reply, especially one that is rude

re·ju·ve·nate /riˈdʒəvəˌnet/ v [T] 1 to make someone feel or look young and strong again: After a workout, I feel rejuvenated. 2 to make a system or place better again: the rejuvenated downtown area —rejuvenation /riˌdʒəvəˌnéshən/ n [singular, U] re·kin·dle /riˈkindl/ v [T] to make someone have a particular feeling, thought, etc. again: Was this a chance to rekindle an old romance?

re-lapse /riˈlaps/ n [C,U] a situation in which someone feels sick again after seeming to improve: He’s had a relapse. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of relaps “to slide back”] —relapse v [I] re·late /riˈleIt/ v [T] 1 to tell someone about something related to a particular subject: How does this job relate to your career goals? 2 [I] to be concerned with or directly connected to a particular subject: Does this job relate to your career goals?

re·lapse /riˈleIS@n/ n [C,U] a situation in which someone stops trying to find a way of doing something, when someone else has already discovered the best way to do it.

re-lay /riˈleIt/ v [T] to show or prove an association between two or more things: I don’t understand how the two ideas relate.

re·late to sb/sth phr v to understand how someone feels: I find it hard to relate to kids.

re·la·ted /riˈleIt-təd/ adj connected by similar ideas or dealing with similar subjects: Police believe the murders are related. | Lung cancer and other diseases are related to smoking. | Politics and economics are closely related.

re·ject /riˈdʒekkt/ (Ac) n [C] 1 a product that is thrown away because it is damaged or imperfect 2 (spoken) someone who is not accepted or liked by other people

re·ject·ion /riˈdʒekʃən/ (Ac) n [C,U] 1 [C,U] the act of not accepting something: The council’s rejection of the proposal was unexpected. | She received many rejections before the novel was published. 2 [U] a situation in which someone stops giving you love or attention: fear of rejection 3 [U] a situation in which your body rejects an organ re·joice /riˈdʒəs/ v [I] (literary) to feel or show that you are very happy —rejoicing n [U]

re·join /riˈdʒən/ v [T] to return to a group or person: She rejoined her friends in the lobby.

re·join·der /riˈdʒən-dr/ n (formal) a reply, especially one that is rude

re·ju·ve·nate /riˈdʒəvəˌnet/ v [T] 1 to make someone feel or look young and strong again: After a workout, I feel rejuvenated. 2 to make a system or place better again: the rejuvenated downtown area —rejuvenation /riˌdʒəvəˌnéshən/ n [singular, U]

re·kin·dle /riˈkindl/ v [T] to make someone have a particular feeling, thought, etc. again: Was this a chance to rekindle an old romance?
in relation to the population. 2 relations [plural] official connections and attitudes between countries, organizations, groups, etc.: Are the relations between the staff and students good? | Israel’s relations with its Arab neighbors | The U.S. has maintained diplomatic relations with Laos. 3 [C,U] a connection between two things: Is there any relation between the medication he was taking and his death? | This case bears no relation to (is not connected with or similar to) the Goldman trial. 4 [C] a member of your family

relative /ri'le'tiiv/ n. 1 [C] a member of your family: a close relative (=mother, brother, cousin, etc.) | distant relatives (=second or third cousins, etc., that you rarely see)

relative (adj.) 1 having a particular quality when compared with something else: The 1950s were a time of relative peace/calm/prosperity for the country. 2 relative to sth relating to or compared with a particular subject: Demand for corn is low relative to the supply.

relative ‘clause’ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a part of a sentence that has a verb in it and is joined to the rest of the sentence by a RELATIVE PRONOUN. In the sentence “The dress that I bought is too small,” “that I bought” is the relative clause.

relative ‘pronoun’ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a PRONOUN such as “who,” “which,” or “that,” which connects a relative clause to the rest of the sentence. In the sentence “The dress that I bought is too small,” “that” is the relative pronoun.

relative ‘theory’ /ri'le'tiivri/ n. [U] PHYSICS the relationship between time, space, and movement: Einstein’s theory of relativity

relax /re'leks/ v. 1 [I,T] to become more calm and less worried, especially by resting or doing something enjoyable, or to make someone do this: What do you do to relax? | Taking long, deep, regular breaths can help to relax you. 2 [I,T] if a part of your body relaxes, or if you relax it, it becomes less stiff and tight: Try to relax your neck. | Let your muscles relax. 3 [T] to make rules, controls, etc. less strict: Are there plans to relax the law? | [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin relaxare “to loosen,” from laxus “loose”]

relaxation /ri'leksa'shun/ n. 1 [C,U] the state of being relaxed in your mind and body, or the process of becoming this way: I like to cook for relaxation. 2 [U] the process of making rules, controls, etc. less strict: the relaxation of travel restrictions relaxed /re'leksad/ adj. 1 calm and not worried or angry: He looked much more relaxed when I saw him last week.

relaxing /re'leksing/ adj, making you feel calm: relaxing music

relay /ri'leI/ v. (replied, relayed) 1 to send a message or information from one person, thing, or place to another person, thing, or place: Could you relay the message to Mary for me? 2 [n. assembly] a race in which each member of a team runs or swims part of the distance

release /re'leIs/ 1 to allow someone to be free after you have kept him/her somewhere: Three hostages were released this morning. | With this type of operation, patients are usually released from the hospital the same day. 2 to stop holding something: He released her arm when she screamed. 3 to let news or information be known publicly: Details of the crime have not been released. 4 to make a movie, record, etc. available for people to buy or see: The movie will be released in time for Christmas. | [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French releesier, from Latin relare “to loosen”]

release (n.) 1 [singular] the act of allowing someone to be free after s/he has been kept somewhere: After his release from prison, he worked as a carpenter. 2 [C] a new movie, record, etc. that is available for people to see or buy: the singer’s latest release 3 [U] a feeling that you are free from worry or pain: a sense of emotional release | [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin relaxare “to loosen”] relativity /ri'leksat/ n. 1 [C] the state in which two or more things are related to each other: The study looked at the relationship between pay and performance at work.

relate /ri'leit/ v. 1 [I,T] a situation or attitude that is relaxed is informal and not strict: There’s a relaxed atmosphere in class.

relation /ri'leifn/ n. 1 a relationship or comparison between two or more things: a relationship between time, space, and movement: Einstein’s theory of relativity 2 [C] the state in which two or more things are related: a sexual relationship | He’s much happier now that he’s in a relationship. 3 [C,U] the way in which two or more things are related to each other: The study looked at the relationship between pay and performance at work.

relationship /ri'leifn/ n. 1 a connection between two things: Is there any relation between the medication he was taking and his death? | This case bears no relation to (is not connected with or similar to) the Goldman trial. 4 [C] a member of your family

relatives /ri'leifz/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a member of your family: a close relative (=mother, brother, cousin, etc.) | distant relatives (=second or third cousins, etc., that you rarely see)

relatives /ri'leifz/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a member of your family: a close relative (=mother, brother, cousin, etc.) | distant relatives (=second or third cousins, etc., that you rarely see)

relatives /ri'leifz/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a member of your family: a close relative (=mother, brother, cousin, etc.) | distant relatives (=second or third cousins, etc., that you rarely see)

relatives /ri'leifz/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a member of your family: a close relative (=mother, brother, cousin, etc.) | distant relatives (=second or third cousins, etc., that you rarely see) that you refused to let him/her do before. At last, her father relented and she moved into her own apartment. [Orig: 108–1400 Latin lent, meaning “to bend.”] re-lent-less ɪrˈlɛntlɪs adj 1 if something bad is relentless, it continues without stopping or getting less severe: There’s the relentless pressure on top athletes. 2 someone who is relentless continues to do something in a determined way: We will be relentless in our pursuit of criminals. —relentlessly adv.

re-lia-ble ɪrˈliəbəl adj 1 a reliable person or thing can be trusted or depended on: You should buy a reputable, reliable car. 2 our babysitter is very reliable. —reliability n.

re-lie-f /rɪˈlaɪf/ n. 1 [C] a relief from something bad did not happen or is finished. —relieved adj. 2 to feel relieved: It was relieved to be out of the hospital. | We were relieved that Brian was home safe.

re-lie-fe ɪrˈliːf/ v. 1 to relieve someone by giving them something they need: The school gave the children food, clothing, and books. 2 to take something unwanted away: The farmer put a medicine to relieve pain. 3 [U] the reduction of pain: a medicine for pain relief. 4 [C] the condition of being relieved of something: He was in great relief when the woman left.

re-lie-veɪt /rɪˈleɪvɪt/ v. ɪˈliːvɪt/ 1 to relieve something from heaviness or by doing something difficult. —reliever n. 2 to replace someone else at a job or duty: The guards are relieved at six o’clock.

re-lig-i-ous /rɪˈlɪdʒəs/ adj 1 regularly and thoroughly or completely: He exercises regularly. 2 a religious belief: We don’t share the same religious beliefs. 3 believing strongly in religion and obeying its rules: a very religious woman.

re-lig-i-ously /rɪˈlɪdʒəsli/ adv 1 to do something with a religious belief: He was practicing his religion. 2 in a way that is related to religion: a religiously diverse country (one with many different religions).

re-lin-quent /rɪˈlɪŋkwənt/ v. ɪˈlɪŋkwənt/ 1 [T] (formal) to give up your position, power, rights, etc. 2 [T] to enjoy something or like it: Jamie didn’t relish the idea of getting up early.

re-lish /rɪˈlish/ n. 1 [C] a sauce made of pickled vegetables and spices. 2 a great enjoyment of something: Barry ate with great relish.

re-live /rɪˈlɪv/ v. ɪˈlɪv/ 1 to experience something again that happened in past times, or to remember it clearly: I’m focusing on the future, not reliving the past. 2 to pretend to have been somewhere: I’d relive the year I went to Paris.

re-load /rɪˈloʊd/ v. ɪˈloʊd/ 1 to put something into a container again, especially a gun. 2 to replace someone else at a job or duty: The guards are relieved at six o’clock.
re·mains re·ly re·main·ing re·main re·mar·ry remark re·mark·a·bly re·make re·mand re·main·der re·mark·a·ble re·main·der (of sb) the remainder of something else has gone or been dealt with: the remainder of the semester re·main·ing re·main·ing adj still left when other similar things or people have gone or been dealt with: The remaining puppies were given away.

re·mains re·mains n plural 1 the parts of something that are left after the rest has been destroyed: We visited the remains of the temple. 2 (formal) a person’s body after s/he has died re·make re·make v [C] a movie or song that has the same story as one that was made before: a remake of "The Wizard of Oz" — re·make re·make v re·mand re·mand v [T] 1 LAW if a court remands someone, it sends him/her to prison to wait for a trial: The prosecutor asked the judge to remand Nelson into federal custody. 2 (infml) to send a case to be dealt with in another court re·mark re·mark v [T] to say something, especially your opinion about something: One woman remarked that he was handsome. (Several people remarked out/upon the poor service.

re·mark·a·ble re·mark·a·ble adj very unusual or remarkable in a way that deserves attention or praise: Josephine was a truly remarkable woman.
re·mark·a·ly re·mark·a·ly adv in a way that is surprisingly: Charlotte and her cousin look remarkably similar.
re·mar·ry re·marry v (remarried, remarries) [T,U] to marry again: After her husband’s death, Carol never remarried. — re·marriage n [C,U] re·mas·ter re·mas·ter v [T] to improve the quality of a movie or musical recording, using a computer re·me·di·al re·me·di·al adj 1 remedial class/education etc, a special class, etc. for students who are having difficulty learning something 2 (formal) intended to provide a cure or improvement in something rem·e·dy rem·e·dy n plural remedies) [C] 1 a successful way of dealing with a problem: a remedy for unemployment re·mem·ber re·mem·ber v [I,T] to have a picture or idea in your mind of people, events, etc. from the past: Do you remember that guy Anthony from school? I don’t remember meeting her before. | I remember (that) he had a broken leg that summer. Mr. Daniels has lived there for as long as I can remember. 2 [I,T] to bring information or facts that you know back into your mind: She suddenly remembered (that) she had to go to the dentist. | I can’t remember her phone number. 3 [I,T] to not forget to do something: Remember to get some milk at the store today! 4 [T] to think about someone who has died, with special respect and honor: On Memorial Day, we remember those who have died in wars. 5 be remem·bered for/as sth to be famous for something important that you did [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French rememberer, from Latin memor “remembering”] re·mem·brance re·mem·brance n 1 the act of remembering and giving honor to someone who has died: She planted a tree in remembrance of her husband.

re·mind re·mind v [T] to make someone remember something s/he must do or something s/he needs to know: Remind me to take a bottle of wine to the party.
re·mem·brance re·mem·brance n [U] the act of remembering and giving honor to someone who has died: She planted a tree in remembrance of her husband.
re·mind re·mind v [T] to make someone remember something that she must do: Remind me to tell you the story sometime. | Let me call Frank to remind him that we’re picking him up at 8:00. — see USAGE box at REMEMBER rem·e·dy re·dy sb of sb/th n: v to seem similar to someone or something else: Carl reminds me of his father.

re·mind·er /ˈremənda(ə)r/ n. [C] something that makes you notice or remember something else: a painful reminder of the war rem·i·nis·cence /ˈremənəsnəns/ v. [I] to talk or think about pleasant events in your past: We sat reminiscing about our college days. —reminiscence n. [C,U] rem·i·nis·cent /ˈremənəsnənt/ adj. reminiscent of sth reminding you of something: His voice is reminiscent of Frank Sinatra’s.

re·mit·tance /ˈremətəns/ n. (formal) the act of sending money by mail, or the amount of money that is sent voiced that you use to control a television, video, etc. from a distance ➔ TELEVISION remov·able /ˈreməvəbl/ adj. able to be removed: a child’s bed with removable railings

re·move /ˈrɪmvoʊ/ v. [T] 1 to take something away from, out of, or off the place where it is: He removed his glasses and rubbed his eyes. | Remove the pan from the oven to cool.

Informal ways of saying “remove” take off—to remove clothing: She began to take off her clothes.

tear off—to remove part of a piece of paper or cloth by tearing it: Tear off the coupon below.

break off—to remove a part of something by breaking it: Ted broke off a piece of chocolate. cut off—to remove a part of something by cutting it: Tree surgeons cut off the dead branches.
cut out—to remove a part of something by cutting around it: The kids were cutting pictures out of magazines.
scoop off—to remove something using a knife or sharp tool: We began by scraping off the wallpaper.

wipe off/up—to remove dirt, liquid, etc. with a cloth: He wiped the sweat off his forehead. Julie wiped up the spilled milk.
rub off—to remove dirt, marks, etc. with a cloth or brush: He rubbed off some of the rust.

More formal ways of saying “remove” erase—to remove writing from paper, recorded sounds from tape, or information from a computer’s memory: Write in pencil so you can erase your mistakes.

efface (formal) — to remove something so that it cannot be seen or noticed: The country has tried to efface the incident, and it is not mentioned in textbooks.

expunge (formal) — to deliberately remove something such as a name or piece of information from a piece of writing: The arrest and charge were later expunged from his record.

removal of aew interest or development in something that has not been popular: the renaissance in women’s sports rename /riˈnem/ (for work someone has done) renamed [RENOUNCE] renormalize /riˈnɔːməlaɪz/ (formal) a rental car rental properties rental adj available to be rented, or being rented; a rental car rental properties renounce /riˈnaʊns/ v [T] to say publicly that you no longer believe in or support something: We absolutely renounce all forms of terrorism.
renown /riˈnaʊn/ n [U] the quality of being famous and admired because of some special skill or achievement: an artist of great renown renowned /riˈnaʊnd/ adj known and admired by a lot of people as famous; a renowned architect | She was renowned for her beauty.
renovation /riˌnəʊˈveɪʃən/ n [C] a change, alter, reform, restructure ∴ CHANGE renovate /ˈrɛnovət/ v [T] to repair something such as a building so that it is in good condition again [Origin: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of renovare, from novare “to make new”] renown /riˈnaʊn/ adj famous, well-known, legendary, celebrated, noted, distinguished, eminent ∴ FAMOUS rent /rɛnt/ v [I] to pay money regularly to live in a place that belongs to someone else: They’re renting an apartment near the beach. | I rented for years before buying a place.
rental /rɛntəl/ n [C] an arrangement to meet someone at a particular time and place, or the place where you meet: a midnight rendezvous with her lover —rendezvous v [I] an arrangement to meet rendezvous /rəˈdɛzhvəz/ n [C] an arrangement to meet someone at a particular time and place, or the place where you meet: a midnight rendezvous with her lover —rendezvous v [I] render /rɛnər/ v. [T] to give someone something: It is the jury’s responsibility to render a fair verdict. | payment for services rendered (for work someone has done) renovation /riˌnəʊˈveɪʃən/ n [C] the particular way a painting, story, etc. is expressed render /rɛnər/ v. [T] to give someone something: It is the jury’s responsibility to render a fair verdict. | payment for services rendered (for work someone has done)
render /rɛnər/ v. [T] to give someone something: It is the jury’s responsibility to render a fair verdict. | payment for services rendered (for work someone has done) renovate /ˈrɛnovət/ v [T] to repair something such as a building so that it is in good condition again [Origin: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of renovare, from novare “to make new”] rep /rep/ n. [C] (informal) someone who represents an organization or a company and its products representative: a sales rep repair /ri'peə/ v. [T] to fix something that is broken or damaged: They’re doing repairs on the bridge. The roof is badly in need of repair. | It’s damaged beyond repair (so damaged that it cannot be repaired). 2 in good/bad repair (formal) in good or bad condition reparation /ri'pærəʃən/ n. [C.U] payment made to someone for damage, injury, etc.

repatriate /ri'patəreit/ v. [T] to officially end a law: In 1933, Prohibition was finally repealed. —repatriation /ri'patəreitən/ n. [U] repay /ri'peɪ/ v. [T] to do or say something again:

repent /ri'pent/ adj. done or happening again and again. He has repeatedly denied the rumor.

repel /ri'pel/ v. (repelled, repelling) [T] to use force to make someone who is attacking you go away: Tear gas was used to repel the rioters. 2 [T] if something repels you, you dislike it a lot and want to avoid it repellent /ri'pelənt/ n. [C.U] a substance that keeps insects away from you: mosquito repellent repentant /ri'pentənt/ adj. sorowful for something that you have done, especially something that breaks a religious law: unrepentant repentantly adv. His apology was sincerely repentant.

repeatedly adv. He has repeatedly denied the rumor.

repetition /ri'pætʃən/ n. (plural repititions /ri'pætʃəniz/) saying or doing the same thing many times.

repeat /ri'pi:t/ v. (past tense and past participle repaid) 1 to say or do something again:

repeat /ri'pi:t/ v. [T] to officially end a law: In 1933, Prohibition was finally repealed. —repeat n. [U] repetitive exercises /ri'petətɪv ɪkˈserɪsɪz/ recurrent, continuous, often excessive physical exercises repetitious speech /ri'petətʃəs spriːtʃ/ adj. saying or doing the same thing many times, so that people become bored.

repertoire /ri'pərətrɪ/ n. [C.U] a particular type of thing: a TV repairman repertory /ri'pərətɔːri/ n. [C.U] all the plays, pieces of music, etc. that a performer or group can perform repast /repəst/ n. [C usually singular] any of this or that result, consequences, aftereffects —result* /riˈzuːlt/rephrase  /ˈrēfrizh/ v. [T] to express something in different words so that its meaning is clearer or more acceptable: Let me rephrase the question.

replay  /ˈriˌplei/ v. [I] 1 to start doing something, or being used instead of another person or thing: Typewriters have been replaced by computers. 2 to remove someone from his/her job or something from its place, and put a different person or thing there: They have replaced thousands of full-time workers with part-timers. 3 to buy something that is newer or better, in order to use it instead of something that is old or broken: The tires need to be replaced. 4 to put something back in its correct place: Please replace the books when you are finished.

replacing  /ˈrēpləsing/ n. [C] someone or something that replaces another person or thing: We're waiting for Mr. Dunley's replacement.

reply  /ˈrēpli/ v. [I] 1 to answer someone's question, or to express an opinion or idea: Deagal replied: “Of course,” she replied. 2 to make something again, so that you get the same result or make an exact copy: Scientists are trying to replicate Hudson’s experiment.

replication  /ˈreplɪˌkeɪʃən/ n. 1 the process by which a cell or DNA (substance in a cell, that contains genetic information) makes an exact copy of itself: During replication, each strand of DNA generates a new strand. 2 a piece of writing in which someone carefully examines a particular subject: a book report or an environmental impact report. 3 the noise of an explosion or shot replication /ˈrepliˌkeɪʃən/ n. [U] biology the process by which a cell or DNA (substance in a cell, that contains genetic information) makes an exact copy of itself: During replication, each strand of DNA generates a new strand.

replay /ˈrepli/ v. (replied, replies) [I,T] to answer someone by saying or writing something: “Of course,” she replied. | He never replied to our letters. | Draper replied that he had not known what would happen.

replenish  /ˈrēplenˌiʃ/ v. [I] to put new supplies into something, or to fill something again: [Origin: 1600–1700 Old French replanfr, from Latin replayus, “full”] —replenishment n. [U] replete  /ˈrēpli̇t/ adj. full of something: a new car replete with leather seats replica /ˈreplıka/ n. [C] a very good copy of a piece of art, a building, etc. [Origin: 1800–1900 Italian “something repeated,” from Latin repleare, “to fill”] replicate /ˈrepləˌkeit/ v. [T] to do or make something again, so that you get the same result or make an exact copy: Scientists are trying to replicate Hudson’s experiment.

report  /ˈrēpərt/ v. [I,T] to tell someone about something, especially in newspapers and on television: The Daily Gazette reported the story. A journalist reporting on the election wrote the story. [T] to tell someone in authority that a crime or accident has happened: Three boys were reported missing. | Only 4% of burglaries are reported to police. 4 [T] to tell someone, especially your manager, about what has been happening or what you are doing, as part of your job: Each naval station reports to an admiral. 5 [I] to state officially to someone in authority that you have arrived in a place: Visitors should report to reception. | One of the soldiers had not reported for duty. 6 [T] to complain officially about someone to people in authority: A customer reported her to her supervisor.

report back  phr. v. to bring someone information that s/he asked you to find: The committee reported back to Congress.

report card  n. [C] a written statement by teachers about a child’s work at school reportedly  /ˌrēpəˈtərdli/ adv. according to what someone says, but when it is not known for certain: Two soldiers reportedly were injured.

reporters  /ˈrēpərəz/ n. (plural reporters) [C] someone whose job is to write or tell about events in a newspaper or on radio or television: A newspaper reporter.

reporter  /ˈrēpərər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to write or tell about events in a newspaper or on radio or television: A newspaper reporter.

report pose  /ˈrēptoʊz/ n. [U] (formal) a place where things are kept safely: a repository for nuclear waste reporter  /ˈrēpərər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to write or tell about events in a newspaper or on radio or television: A newspaper reporter.

repossession  /ˈrēpəˈzeshən/ n. [U] (plural repossessiones) [C] (formal) A place where things are kept safely: a repository for nuclear waste represent  /ˌrēpərən/ v. [I] to do things or speak officially for someone else, or to express his/her views or opinions: She represents the 5th congressional district of Texas. They want a school board that represents their educational values. 2 [linking verb] to form or be something: The talks represent a significant step toward peace. 3 [T] to be a sign or mark for something else: [equiv] stand for: The green triangles on the map represent campgrounds. 4 [T] if art represents something, it shows or means a thing or idea: Paintings representing heaven and hell were common in medieval art. 5 [T] to describe someone or something in a particular way, especially in a way that is not true: The author was criticized for the way he represents women.

re·pres·sion /ˌrɪprɛzənʃən/ n 1 [U] the state of having someone to speak, vote, or make decisions for you: There is no representation on the council for the Hispanic community. 2 [U] the state of being present in a place, or of taking part in something: The representation of minorities among the faculty should be increased. 3 [C] something, for example a painting or a sign, that shows or describes something else: The model is a representation of a water molecule.

re·pre·sen·ta·tive /ˌrɪprɪˈsentətɪv/ adj 1 like other members of the same group: [equiv] typical: The sample is representative of the total population. 2 relating to a system of government in which people elect other people to represent them: representative democracy rep·ress /rɪˈpres/ v [T] 1 to stop yourself from expressing a feeling, remembering something, or doing something you want to do: Boys learn to repress their need to cry. 2 to control people by using force re·press·ed /rɪˈpresəd/ adj (disapproving) having feelings or desires that you do not express re·pres·sion /rɪˈpresənʃən/ n [U] the use of force to control people: Stalin’s repression of religious groups. 2 the action of stopping yourself from feeling an emotion, or the state of having done this re·pres·sive /rɪˈpresəv/ adj controlling people in a cruel and severe way: a repressive society re·pri·v ecl /rɪˈprɪv/ n [C] 1 a delay before something bad happens or continues: a reprieve from the pain 2 an official order that prevents a prisoner from being killed as a punishment → PARDON

—re·prive v [T]

rep·ri·mand /rɪˈprɪmænd/ v [T] to tell someone officially that she has done something wrong: He was reprimanded for failing to do his duty.

—re·prize /rɪˈprɪz/ n [C,U] a violent action that punishes your enemy for something bad that she has done re·pro·duc·tion /ˌrɪprəˈdʌkʃən/ n 1 [U] biology the act or process of producing babies, young animals, or plants: We studied the reproduction and diet of the elephants in the forest. 2 [C,U] the act of copying something such as a book or painting, or the copy itself: a reproduction of Homer’s painting re·pro·duc·tive /ˌrɪprəˈdʌktɪv/ adj biology relating to the process of producing babies, young animals, or plants: the reproductive system of mammals representation /ˌrɪprɛzenˈteɪʃən/ n 2 [U] biology conditions that prevent one reproductive population from breeding with another, for example a physical difference between creatures or when a river, ocean, or mountain, etc. separates them re·pro·duce /rɪˈprɪdʌs/ v [T] (formal) to criticize someone for doing something bad rep·tile /rɪˈptəl/ n [C] biology a type of animal, such as a snake or lizard, that lays eggs, and whose body temperature changes according to the temperature around it [origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Late Latin reptilis “creeping,” from Latin reperire “to creep”] → reptilian /rɪˈpɛtɪliən/ adj re·pub·lic /ˌrɪˈpʌblɪk/ n [C] politics a country governed by elected representatives and led by a president → MONARCHY [origin: 1500—1600 French république, from Latin respublica, from res “thing” + publica “public”] re·pub·li·can /ˌrɪˈpʌblɪkən/ adj 1 republican politics relating to or supporting the Republican Party of the U.S. → DEMOCRATIC: a Republican... candidate for the Senate 2 politics relating to or supporting a system of government that is not led by a king or queen and is elected by the people: a republican government —republican adj. 1 republican n. [C] 1 republican politics a member or supporter of the Republican Party of the U.S. → democrat 2 politics someone who believes in government by elected representatives only, with no king or queen

Republican Party n. the Republican Party politics one of the two main political parties of the U.S. → Democratic Party

re-pu-di-ate /rɪˈpjuːdiˌeɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to refuse to accept or continue with something, especially because you disagree strongly with it (example: The senator repudiated the allegation =statement saying that someone has done something wrong or illegal). —repudiation /rɪˈpjuːdiˈeɪʃən/ n. [U] repug-nance /rɪˈpʌɡnəns/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of strong dislike repugnant /rɪˈpʌɡnənt/ adj. very unpleasant and offensive: Slavery is morally repugnant re-pulse /rɪˈpʌls/ v. [T] 1 if something or someone repulses you, you think that he, she, or it is so unpleasant that it makes you feel sick: The terrorist attacks repulsed the nation. 2 to defeat a military attack re-pul-sion /rɪˈpʌlʃən/ n. 1 [singular, U] a sick feeling that you get from seeing or thinking about something extremely unpleasant 2 [U] physics the electric or magnetic force by which one object pushes another one away from it re-pul-sive /rɪˈpʌlsɪv/ adj. extremely unpleasant, so that you almost feel sick: a repulsive crime re-pu-ta-ble /rɪˈpjuːtəbəl/ adj. respected for being honest and doing good work: a reputable construction company re-pu-ta-tion /rɪˈpjuːtəʃən/ n. [C] the opinion that people have of someone or something because of what has happened in the past: Denver has a reputation as a livable city. 2 a reputation for honesty re-pu-te /rɪˈpjuːt/ n. [U] (formal) reputation: a pianist of great repute re-pu-ted /rɪˈpjuːtəd/ adj. (formal) according to what most people think or say: He is reputed to be a millionaire. —reputedly adv.

re-quest /rɪˈkwest/ n. [C] the act of asking for something politely or formally: a request for more funding —request v. [T] The Citizenship and Immigration Service rejected his request to remain in the U.S. 2 the governor of New Orleans made an official request for aid. | a formal/polite/written request | Drinks are available on request (=if you ask for them). 2 (of Vulgar Latin, from requere to “try to find, need”)

request2 v. [T] to ask for something politely or formally: She requested that everyone attend a meeting at 2 p.m. | Harris requested permission/information/aid.

re-pub-lican /rɪˈpʌblɪkən/ adj. 1 republican government 2 (formal) supporting a system of government that is not led by a king or queen and is elected by the people: republicanism n. [U] U.S. only, with no king or queen politics one of the two main political parties of the U.S. → democrat 2 politics someone who believes in government by elected representatives only, with no king or queen

Re-public-an Party n. the Republican Party politics one of the two main political parties of the U.S. → Democratic Party

request2 v. [T] to ask for something politely or formally: She requested that everyone attend a meeting at 2 p.m. | Harris requested permission/information/aid.

re-quire /rɪˈkwaɪər/ v. [T] 1 to need something: The program requires 16 megabytes of memory. 2 (formal) to demand officially that someone do something because of a law or rule: Doctors are required to report certain serious diseases. 3 The law requires that the milk be pasteurized. [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French requierre, from Vulgar Latin requaerere “to try to find, need”] re-quire-ment /rɪˈkwaɪərment/ n. [C] 1 something that someone needs or asks for: The refugees’ main requirements are food and shelter. 2 something that must be done because of a rule or law: English 4 is a requirement for English majors (=they must take this class). 3 the legal requirements regarding marriage req-ui-site /rɪˈkwaɪəsət/ adj. (formal) needed for a particular purpose req-ui-sition /rɪˈkwaɪəʃən/ n. [C,U] (formal) an official demand to have something, usually made by the army —requisition v. [T] re-route /rɪˈroʊt/ n. [C] a television program or a movie that is being shown again: reruns of “Friends” — rerun /rɪˈrʊn/ v. [T] to make vehicles, aircraft, etc. go a different way from the way they usually go: Traffic has been rerouted across the bridge.

re-run /rɪˈrʊn/ n. [C] a television program or a movie that is being shown again: reruns of “Friends” — rerun /rɪˈrʊn/ v. [T] re-sale /rɪˈseiəl/ n. [U] the state of being sold again: the resale value of the house re-sched-u-le /rɪˈskɛdʃəl/ v. [T] to arrange for something to happen at a different time from the time that was originally planned: The meeting will be rescheduled for March 19.

re-scind /rɪˈsɪnd/ v. [T] to officially end a law, agreement, or decision rescue /resˈkyoo/ v. [T] to save someone or something from harm or danger: Survivors of the crash were rescued by helicopter. | He rescued two people from the fire. —rescue n [C]

rescue² n. [C,U] an act of saving someone or something from harm or danger: a rescue mission/operation | A nearby boat came to the rescue (=saved or helped someone).

re·search /riˈzərf/ n. [U] a serious study of a subject, that is intended to discover new facts about it: scientific research on/into heart disease | Holmes is doing research (=finding information) for a book on the Middle Ages. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French recherech, from recercher “to find out about something thoroughly”]

re·sem·ble /riˈzɛmbəl/ v. [T] to look like, or be similar to, someone or something: She resembles her mother in many ways. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French resemblar, from sembler “to be like, seem,” from Latin similare “to copy”] re·sent /riˈzent/ v. [T] to feel angry and upset about something that you think is unfair: The law was bitterly/deeply resented by voters. [Origin: 1500—1600 French ressentir “to feel strongly about,” from sentir “to feel,” from Latin sentire] re·sent·ful /riˈzentfəl adj. feeling angry and upset about something that you think is unfair: a resentful look res·erva·tion /resərˈveiʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] an arrangement that you make so that a place in a hotel, on an airplane, etc. is kept for you to use: a plane reservation | Have you made reservations at the restaurant yet? 2 [C,U] a feeling of doubt because you do not agree completely with a plan, idea, etc.: They have serious reservations about the proposal. 3 [C] an area of land in the U.S. that is kept separate, especially an area for Native Americans to live on re·serve /riˈzərv/ v. [T] 1 to arrange for a place in a hotel, on an airplane, etc. to be kept for you to use: I’d like to reserve a table for 8:00. 2 to keep something separate so that it can be used for a particular purpose: a parking space reserved for the disabled [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French reservar, from Latin reservere “to keep back”]

re·serve² n. 1 [C usually plural] an amount of something that is kept to be used if it is needed: oil reserves | A month’s supply of food is kept in reserve for emergencies. 2 [U] the quality of not liking to express your emotions or talk about your problems ➔ SHYNESS: John’s natural reserve 3 [C] EARTH SCIENCES an area of land where wild animals, plants, etc. are protected: a wetlands reserve 4 [U] also reserves [plural] a military force that a country has in addition to its usual army re·ser·voir /riˈzərvər/ n. 1 EARTH SCIENCES a special lake where water is stored to be used by people in a city 2 a large amount of... something that has not been used yet: a reservoir of oil beneath the desert

re-shuf-\[file /riˈʃufəl/ n [T] to REorganize something re-side /riˈzaid/ v [I] (formal) to live in a particular place [Origin: 1400—1500 French résider, from Latin residerē “to sit back, remain, stay,” from sedere “to sit”]

res-i-dence /ˈrezədəns/ n [C] 1 [U] the place where you live: a private residence

| THE SA URUS |
|  abode  ➔ HOME |

---

2 [U] the state of living in a place: What is your usual place of residence?  3 in residence living or working in a place: the job of artist/poet etc. in residence at UCLA

res-i-den-cy /ˈrezədənsi/ n [U] 1 a period of time during which a doctor receives special training in a particular type of medicine 2 the state of living in a place, or legal permission to live in a country: After five years of residency, you may apply for citizenship.

res-i-dent /ˈrezədent/ n [C] 1 someone who lives in a particular place: a park for local residents 2 a doctor working at a hospital where s/he is being trained resi-den-tial /ˈrezədenʃəl/ adj 1 working regularly for a particular organization, and sometimes living in the place where you work: She had a job as the resident nurse at the resort. 2 living in a place: noncitizens who are lawfully resident in this country

resi-den-ty /ˈrezədenˈtē/ n [C,U] a residential area consists of private houses, with no offices or businesses: a typical house in a residential neighborhood 2 relating to homes, or people who live in homes, rather than to businesses: electricity prices for residential customers

re-sid-u-al /riˈzidəyal/ adj. (formal) remaining after a process, event, etc. is finished: the residual effects of radiation exposure

re-sid-ual /ˈrezədɪəl/ n [C,U] a substance that remains after something else has disappeared or been removed: an oily residue

re-sign /riˈzanz/ v. 1 [I,T] to officially leave your job or position: Burton resigned from the company yesterday.

| THE SA URUS |
|  quit, give up, retire  ➔ QUIT |

2 resign yourself to (doing) sth to accept something that is unpleasant but cannot be changed: I resigned myself to paying the fees. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French resigner, from Latin resignāre “to unseal, cancel, give back”]

res-i-gna-tion /ˌrezəˈɡneʃən/ n [C,U] the act of resigning, or a written statement to say you are doing this: Morris handed in/submitted his resignation (= gave his resignation to the manager), 2 [U] the feeling of accepting an unpleasant situation that you cannot change: I could hear the resignation in his voice.

re-signed /riˈzanzd/ adj accepting an unpleasant situation that you cannot change, or showing that you feel this: patients who seem resigned to the pain | a resigned voice/look

re-sil-\[i\]ent /rI’ziIn/ adj 1 able to become strong, happy, or successful again after a difficult situation or event: a resilient economy 2 strong and not easily damaged by being pulled, pressed, etc.: resilient materials —resilience n. [U] res-in /ˈrezən/ n. 1 [U] a thick sticky liquid that comes from some trees 2 [C,U] a chemical substance used for making plastics

re-sist /rI’zist/ v. 1 [T] to stop yourself from having something that you like or doing something that you want to do: I couldn’t resist the temptation to peek. 2 [U] to not accept changes, or to try to prevent changes from happening: People generally resist change. 3 [LT] to use force to stop something from happening: The suspect resisted arrest. 4 [T] to not be changed or harmed by something: Vitamin C is supposed to help you resist colds. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin resistere, from sistere “to stop”]

re-sist-ance /rI’ziInd/ n. 1 [singular, U] a refusal to accept new ideas or changes: people’s resistance to change | The plan met with resistance from the U.S. ambassador. 2 [singular, U] fighting against someone or something: a resistance fighter

resi-stant /rI’ziInt/ adj. 1 not easily harmed or damaged by something: flame-resistant pajamas 2 unwilling to accept something: companies that are resistant to change

re-sis-tor /rI’ziIntər/ n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of wire or other material used for increasing electrical resistance

res-o-lu-tion /ˌrezəˈluːʃən/ n. 1 [C] POLITICS a formal or official decision agreed on by a group, especially after a vote: A Congressional resolution allowed the U.S. to enter the war. 2 [singular, U] the final solution to a problem or difficulty: This method means that children can find a resolution to their differences without adult help. 3 [C] a promise that you make to yourself to do something: Have you made any New Year’s resolutions? 4 [U]
the quality of having strong beliefs and determination: his resolution to continue 5 [C|U] the power of a telescope, camera, TELESCOPE, etc. to give a clear picture of things: a high-resolution telescope 6 [C] POLITICS a formal decision or statement from the U.S. SENATE or the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, that does not have the force of law and does not need to be signed by the American president 7 [singular] ENG. LANG. ARTS the point near the end of a story, book, play, etc. when the CONFLICT between important characters or forces that have opposed each other during the story is fully dealt with res-olve′ /ɪ(r)ˈzɔlv/ AC v. 1 [T] to find an answer to a problem or a way of dealing with it: The training helps children resolve conflicts without fighting. 2 [I] to resolve their differences (stop arguing and become friendly again) with the help of a counselor. 2 [I] to make a definite decision to do something: I resolved to lose weight.

resolve′ n. [U] (formal) strong determination to succeed in doing something: His words only strengthened her resolve to persevere.

res-o-nant′ /rɪˈzənənt/ adj. having a deep clear loud sound that continues for a long time: a resonant voice —resonance n. [U] res-o-nate′ /rɪˈzeɪnət/ v. [I] 1 to make a deep clear loud sound that continues for a long time. 2 if an event or idea resonates with people, it seems important to them or means a lot to them re-sort′ /rɪˈzɜːrt/ n. 1 [C] a place where many people can go for a vacation, with hotels, swimming pools, etc.: a beach resort 2 last resort what you will do if everything else fails: As a last resort, doctors will try an experimental drug.

re-sound′ /rɪˈzɔʊnd/ v. 1 to be full of sound: The room resounded with laughter. 2 if a sound resounds, it continues loudly and clearly for a long time re-sound-ing′ /rɪˈzɔʊndɪŋ/ adj. 1 a resounding noise is loud and clear: a resounding crash re-source′ /rɪˈsɜːrs, rɪˈsɜːr/ AC n. 1 [C usually plural] something such as land, minerals, or natural energy that exists in a country and can be used in order to increase its wealth: natural resources such as timber and oil 2 [C] something that can be used in order to make a job or activity easier, especially by providing information: an electronic resource for lesson plans 3 resources plural all the money, property, skills, etc. that you have available to use: the organization’s financial resources 4 [C] 1600—1700 French ressourdre “to rise again, relieve,” from Latin resurgere —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-spect′ /rɪˈspekt/ n. 1 [U] the attitude of believing that something or someone is important, and so being careful not to be rude or not to harm him, her, or it (and) disrespect: In Japan, people show more respect to the elderly. 1 These kids have no respect for other people’s property. 2 Out of respect for the flag, you should stand. 2 [U] admiration for someone because of his/her knowledge, skill, personal qualities, etc.: I have a lot of respect for this team. 3 Earhart had earned the respect of the other pilots. 3 in one respect/in some respects/in every respect used in order to say that something is true in one way, in some ways, or in every way: In some respects, very little has changed. 4 respects plural (formal) polite greetings: Give my respects to your parents. 5 pay your (last/ final) respects to go to a funeral to show that you liked and respected someone 6 with (all due) respect (formal) used before disagreeing with someone when you want to be polite: With all due respect, I don’t think that will work. 7 with respect to sb (formal) relating to a particular thing, or relating to something that has just been mentioned —SYN regarding: The article examines what the Bible says with respect to marriage.

re-spect-ful′ /rɪˈspektfʊl/ AC adj. to admire someone because of his/her knowledge, skill, personal qualities, etc.: The students like and respect him.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-tip′ /rɪˈspekt/ v. 1 [T] to admire someone because of his/her knowledge, skill, personal qualities, etc.: The students like and respect him.

res-o-nant′ /rɪˈzənənt/ adj. having a deep clear loud sound that continues for a long time: a resonant voice —resonance n. [U] re-spect-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.

re-source-ful′ /rɪˈsɜːrsfʊl/ AC adj. good at finding ways to deal with problems effectively: a resourceful leader —resourcefulness n.
The students take responsibility for planning their projects. The federal government has responsibility for enforcing immigration laws. Something that you have a duty to do, be in charge of, or take care of: a single parent trying to balance work and family responsibilities. No one has accepted/taken responsibility for the bombing. The people responsible for the murder. Can parents be held responsible when their children commit a crime? In charge of or taking care of something: The Forest Service is responsible for fighting fires in national forests. Mills is responsible for a budget of over $5 million. Sensible and able to be trusted: a responsible young man. Responsible job/post a job in which the ability to make good judgments and decisions is needed. Be responsible to someone that person is in charge of your work and you must explain your actions to him/her. People because of your work, skills, etc.: widely respected musician. Admired by many people because of your work, skills, etc.: highly respected. Feeling or showing respect; respectful. The dollar and yen rose 2% and 3% respectively. The process of breathing. A piece of equipment that covers the nose and mouth and helps someone to breathe. A short time when something bad stops happening: a brief respite.

rest1 /rest/ n. 1. the part of a group, thing, etc. that is left after everything else has been used, dealt with, etc.: I’ll read you the rest tomorrow night. Each child does a dance while the rest watch. He will have to take the medication for the rest of his life. A period of time when you can relax or sleep: You’d better get some rest. Put/set sb’s mind at rest to make someone feel less anxious or worried. Stop moving: The ball came to rest near the hole. Lay/put sth to rest to stop people from believing, talking, or worrying about something: He has put rest speculation that he would run for president. The rest of their projects.

rest2 /rest/ v. 1. [I] to stop doing something and relax or sleep: I usually rest for a while after lunch. Rest your feet/legs/eyes etc. to stop using a part of your body for a period of time because it is feeling sore or tired: The snow is so bright you have to close your eyes to rest them. To support an object or part of your body by putting it on or against something: The baby rested his head on my shoulder. To stop moving: The ball came to rest near the hole. To put something to put something to rest: He put the debate to rest.

rest3 /rest/ n. 1. [U] to stop doing something and relax or sleep: I usually rest for a while after lunch. Rest your feet/legs/eyes etc. to stop using a part of your body for a period of time because it is feeling sore or tired: The snow is so bright you have to close your eyes to rest them. To support an object or part of your body by putting it on or against something: The baby rested his head on my shoulder. To stop moving: The ball came to rest near the hole. To put something to rest: He put the debate to rest.

rest4 /rest/ n. 1. [U] to stop doing something and relax or sleep: I usually rest for a while after lunch. Rest your feet/legs/eyes etc. to stop using a part of your body for a period of time because it is feeling sore or tired: The snow is so bright you have to close your eyes to rest them. To support an object or part of your body by putting it on or against something: The baby rested his head on my shoulder. To stop moving: The ball came to rest near the hole. To put something to rest: He put the debate to rest.
rest assured (that) (formal) used in order to tell someone not to worry because what you say is true: You can rest assured that we’ll do all we can. 5 sb will not rest until... (literary) if someone will not rest until something happens, s/he will not be satisfied until it happens. 6 [I] if a dead person rests somewhere, s/he is buried there.

rest on/upon ati phr. v. (formal) to depend on or be based on something: Their chance of going to the playoffs rests on this game.

rest assured (that) phr. v. [T] to make something exist again or return to its former state: You can rest assured that we’ll do all we can.

restate /rɪˈstɛɪt/ v. [C,U] to say something again in a different way, so that it is clearer or more strongly expressed: Jackson restated his intention to retire.

restraining (noun) adj. behavior that is restrained is calm and controlled restrain /rɪˈstrɛɪn/ v. [T] 1 to prevent someone from doing something, often by using physical force: They attacked a policeman who tried to restrain them from driving drunk. 2 to control or limit something: Raising prices should restrain consumer spending.

restore /rɪˈstɜːr/ v. [T] 1 to make something exist again or return to its former state: The army was called in to restore order. 2 to repair something so that it is in its original condition: They’re restoring a Victorian house.

restful /ˈrɛstfəl/ adj. peaceful and quiet: a restful weekend rest home n. [C] a NURSING HOME restorative /rɪˈstərətɪv/ adj. stopping people from doing something, or limiting what they can do: restrictive trade policies restrictive clause also restrictive relative clause n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a part of a sentence that says exactly which person or thing is meant. For example, in “the man who came to dinner,” the phrase “who came to dinner” is a restrictive clause because it tells someone exactly which man you mean.

restroom /rɪˈstrʊm/ n. [C] a room with a toilet, in a public place such as a restaurant or theater: Employees must wash their hands after using the restroom.
re·struc·ture /rɛˈstrʌktʃər/ v [T] to change the way in which something such as a business or system is organized: companies that are cutting jobs and restructuring — restructuring n. [U] re·sur·face /rˌərsərˈfɑːs/ v [I] to appear again: The issue resurfaced again during the last election. 2 [I] to come back up to the surface of the water — resurfacer n.

re·sur·rect /rəˈsərık/ v [I, T] to come back to life after death: The fire resulted in the death of two children. — resurrection n. [C, U] re·ta·il /rəˈteɪəl/ n [U] the sale of goods in stores to people for their own use — wholesaler n. [C] The Republican retained control of Congress. 2 to keep facts in your memory: She retains most of what she reads. — retention n. [U] The retention of good employees is vital for a healthy corporation.

re·ta·il·er /rəˈteɪələr/ n [C] ECONOMICS someone who sells goods to the public, using as a store — wholesaler n. [C] The Republican retained control of Congress.

re·tail·ler /rəˈteɪlər/ n [C] ECONOMICS someone who sells goods to the public, using as a store — wholesaler n. [C] The Republican retained control of Congress.

re·take /rəˈteɪk/ v (past tense retook/ˈtʊk/ past participle retaken/ˈteɪkən/) [T] 1 to get control of something again: Rebels have retaken the city. 2 to take a test or class again because you failed it before — retake n. [C, U] The Republican retained control of Congress.

re·ta·i·ate /rəˈteɪət/ v [I] to do something bad to someone because s/he has done something bad.
people can live, where various services are provided such as food, social activities, and medical care. A group of helpers or caregivers, usually retired people, have stopped working, usually because they are old: a _retirement home_.

The victims’ families have shot the retiring president/manager etc. A president, etc. who is soon going to retire.

To reply quickly, in an angry or humorous way: “None of your business!” he retorted.

To express anger or humor: a _retrivial_.

The act of deciding to do what you have planned, because it seems too difficult or not popular: _The president seems to be retiring from his pledge to cut taxes._

A mountain retreat.

A type of dog that can be trained to find and bring back birds that its owner has shot.
re·tro·spec·tive /retro’spektiv/ adj. a law or decision that is retrospective is effective from a particular date in the past: a retrospective pay increase —retroactively adv.

re·tro·spect /retro’spekt/ n. in retrospect thinking back to a time in the past, and knowing more now than you did then: In retrospect, I should have left him much earlier.

re·tro·spec·tive /retro’spektiv/ adj. relating to or thinking about the past: a retrospective look at Capra’s movies ret-ro·vi·rus /retro’vaorəs/ n. [C] biology a virus (=very small living thing that causes an infectious illness) that holds its genetic information in the chemical substance RNA rather than in DNA: No one has yet produced a vaccine for the retrovirus that causes AIDS.

re·turn /rə’turn/ v.
1 go back [I] to go or come back to a place where you were before: Kevin has just returned from Texas. Are you planning to return to Spain? She didn’t return until after 8 o’clock. Don’t say “return back.”

2 previous state [I] to be in a previous state or condition again: Her heartbeat returned to normal. Will the Democrats return to power in the next election?

3 give back [T] to give something back, or put something back in its place: I have to return these books to the library. It didn’t fit, so I returned it (=I took it back to the store).

4 happen again [I] to happen or exist again: Take two of these pills if the pain returns.

5 start again [I] to go back to an activity, discussion, etc. that was stopped or interrupted: He smiled and returned to his book. Hannah returned to work part-time.

6 do sth similar [T] to react to something someone has done by doing something similar: Why didn’t you return my call? Lisa returned his smile.

7 return a verdict if a jury returns a verdict, they say whether someone is guilty or not

8 money [T] if an investment returns a particular amount of money, that is how much profit it produces return², n.

1 going back [singular, U] the act of going or coming back to a place where you were before: Jefferson’s return from France. I want you to have dinner ready on/upon my return (=when I come back).

2 giving sth back [U] the act of giving, putting, or sending something back: the safe return of the prisoners of war

3 changing back [singular] a change back to a previous state or situation: We must prevent a return to Communist rule.

4 sth happening again [singular, U] the fact of something happening to or exist again: the return of spring

5 sth starting again [singular, U] the act of starting an activity, discussion, etc. again after stopping for a time: her return to full-time work

6 profit [U] also returns [plural] economics the amount of profit you receive from money you have invested (=used to buy things such as stock, goods, or property, etc.). Most people get fairly low returns from their personal investments. These investments bring a high rate of return (=level of profit).

7 computer [U] the key that you press on a computer at the end of an instruction or to move to a new line (go) enter

8 in return (for sth) in exchange for, or as payment for something: One student does childcare in return for room and board.

9 statement [C] a statement or set of figures given as a reply to an official demand: a tax return re·u·ni·fy /ri’yuñəfəl/ v. (reunified, reunifies) [T] to join the parts of something together again, especially a country that was divided —reunification /ri’yuñəfəkʃən/ [U]: the reunification of Germany

re·un·ion /ri’yuñən/ n. 1 [C] a meeting of people who have not met for a long time: a high school reunion | a family reunion 2 [U] the state of being brought together again after a period of being separated: a day of reunion with friends re·u·nite /ri’yuñənt/ v. [I, T] to come together again, or to be brought together again after a period of being separated: The children were reunited with their families.

Rev., the written abbreviation of REVEREND rev¹ [rev] n. [C, usually plural] (informal) one revolution of an engine rev² also rev up [v. (revved, revving)] [I, T] if you rev an engine, or if it revs, it works faster revamp /ri’væmp/ [v. [T] (informal) to change something in order to improve it: a promise to revamp the welfare system re·veal /ri’v’il/ [T] to show something that was previously hidden: The magician pulled off the covering to reveal a black box. 2 to make something known that was previously secret: The company has not revealed the name of the prospective buyer. The report revealed that many children were not reading at grade level. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French rivelere “to uncover”] re·vealing /ri’v’ilinɡ/ [adj] 1 showing something about someone’s character, thoughts, or feelings: a revealing comment 2 revealing clothes show parts of your body that are usually kept covered re·vel /ri’vel/ v. revel in sth phrase to enjoy something very much: Bobby reveled in my undivided attention.

re·və·la·tion /ri’vələʃən/ n. [C, U] a surprising and previously secret fact that suddenly becomes known, or the act of making this fact known: strange revelations about her past [revelations that two senior officers had lied in court] reverse 1 /rɪˈvɜːs/ n. [C] someone who is enjoying singing, dancing, etc., in a noisy way rev·er·ald /ˈrevələd/ n. [U] wild noisy dancing, eating, drinking, etc., usually to celebrate something re·venge1 /rɪˈvɑːnɡ/ n. [U] something you do in order to punish someone who has harmed or offended you: The voters took revenge on election day. He vowed that someday he would get revenge. revenge2 v. [T] to punish someone who has harmed or offended you ➔ Avenge rev·e·nue /rɪˈvənuː/ [AC] n. [U] 1 money that is earned by a company: The company earns $30 billion in annual revenue. 2 money that the government receives from tax [origin: 1400–1500 French, past participle of revenir “to return”] re·ver·ber·ate /rɪˈvɜːbərɪt/ v. [I] 1 if a loud sound reverberates, it is heard many times as it is sent back from different surfaces: Their voices reverberated around the empty church. 2 to have a strong effect that continues for a long time: News of the verdict reverberated through the city. [origin: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of reverberare “to hit back, repel,” from verberare “to hit”] ➔ reverberation /rɪˈvɜːbərəˈʃən/ n. [C,U] re·ver·e·sion /rɪˈvɜːʃən/ n. (s) formal to greatly respect and admire someone ➔ Admire re·ver·e·sion·al /rɪˈvɜːʃənəl/ adj. 1 respecting and admiring the use in the title of a minister in a Christian church: Reverend Larson re·ver·e·sion·ist /rɪˈvɜːʃənɪst/ n. [C,U] a state of imagining or thinking about pleasant things ➔ Daydream re·ver·sal /rɪˈvɜːsəl/ [AC] n. [C,U] the act of changing an arrangement, process, or action in order to do the opposite: a reversal of the court’s decision. ➔ Reversal 1 /rɪˈvɜːrl/ v. 1 [T] to change something, such as a decision, judgment, or process, so that it is the opposite of what it was before: The court reversed the original ruling. 2 [I,T] to move backward, especially in a vehicle ➔ Back up 3 [T] to turn something over, so that it shows the back of it or so that it faces the opposite way: The image in the mirror is reversed. reverse2 n. 1 the reverse the opposite: Some people get sleepy after one drink, for others it’s the reverse. 2 in reverse done in the opposite way or with the opposite effect: We went from the east coast to the west coast last year, and did the trip in reverse this year. 3 [U] the control in a vehicle that makes it go backward: I started the car and put it in reverse. reverse3 adj. opposite to what is usual or to what has just been stated: She answered their questions in reverse order. re·verse·discrimi·na·tion /rɪˈvɜːrsɪdˌkraɪnəˈʃən/ n. [U] the practice of giving a particular number of jobs, places at university, etc. to people who are often treated unfairly because of their race, sex, etc. ➔ Affirmative Action re·ver·sal·i·ble /rɪˈvɜːsələbəl/ adj. 1 if something that has changed is reversible, the thing that was changed can be changed back to the way it was before: Are the effects of the decision reversible? 2 a piece of clothing that is reversible can be worn with the part that is normally on the inside showing on the outside: a reversible coat re·ver·sible re·ac·tion /rɪˈvɜːsəbəl reˈækʃən/ n. [C] Chemistry a chemical reaction in which the substance that the reaction has produced is able to react again to return to its original state re·ver·sible·re·ac·tion·al /rɪˈvɜːsəbəl reˈækʃənəl/ adj. re·ver·sis·ion·ist /rɪˈvɜːʃənɪst/ n. [C] someone who writes articles that give his/her opinion about new books, plays, movies, etc. ➔ Review re·view·er /rɪˈvjuːər/ n. [C] a column reviewing computer software. ➔ Review 1 /rɪˈvjuː/ v. 1 [T] to examine, consider, and judge a situation or process carefully: The policy is being reviewed by federal wildlife officials. 2 [I,T] to write an article describing and judging a new book, play, movie, etc.: He writes a column reviewing computer software. ➔ Review 2 /rɪˈvjuːəl/ v. [T] (formal) to express hatred of someone or something re·vise·lve·sion·al /rɪˈvɜːsələl/ adj. 1 to change your opinions, plans, etc. because of new information or ideas: Plans for the building are being revised. 2 Eng. Lang. Arts to improve a piece of writing: revolve /rɪˈvɒlv/ v. [T] to spin around a central point, or to make something do this: The wheels began to revolve slowly. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin revolvere “to roll back, cause to return,” from volvere “to roll”] revolting adj.: a revolving door revolve around sb/sth to have something as a main subject or purpose:

revolt /rɪˈvɔlt/ n. [C] a refusal to obey a government, law, etc., often using violence against it {spin} rebel → REVOLUTION: Rebels in the south revolted against the government. 2 [T] to make you feel sick and shocked → REVOLUTION: The idea revolted me. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French révoluter, from Latin revolvere “to live again”]

revolt against an unfair tax The people rose in revolt. a slave revolt in 1791

revolt around sb/sth to completely change the way people think or do things: His work revolutionized the treatment of this disease.

revolutionaries n. (plural revolutionaries) [C] someone who joins in or supports a political or social revolution revolutionary adj.: completely new and different: a revolutionary new treatment for cancer 2 POLITICS relating to a political or social revolution: a revolutionary army revolutionize /rɪˈvɔlvaɪz/ v. [T] to completely change a ruler or political system by using force or violence: the American Revolution revive /rɪˈvaɪv/ v. [T] to make something become strong, active, or popular again: something becomes active, strong, or popular again: a revival of “Oklahoma!”

revival /rɪˈvaɪvəl/ n. 1 [C] a process in which something becomes active, strong, or popular again: a revival of interest in traditional crafts 2 [C] a new performance of a play that has not been performed for a long time: a revival of “Oklahoma!” 3 [C] also revival meeting a public religious meeting that is intended to make people interested in Christianity revive /rɪˈvaɪv/ v. 1 [I,T] to become conscious, healthy, or strong, or to make someone or something do this: measures to revive a sagging economy 2 [T] to bring something back into use or existence: The workshop will help revive the ancient craft of storytelling. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French revivre, from Latin revivere “to live again”] revolt /rɪˈvɔlt/ v. [I] to refuse to obey a government, law, etc., often using violence against it {spin} rebel → REVOLUTION: Rebels in the south revolted against the government. 2 [T] to make you feel sick and shocked → REVOLUTION: The idea revolted me. [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French révoluter, from Latin revolvere “to live again”]

revolt against an unfair tax The people rose in revolt. a slave revolt in 1791

revolt around sb/sth to completely change the way people think or do things: His work revolutionized the treatment of this disease.

revolting adj.: completely new and different: a revolutionary new treatment for cancer 2 POLITICS relating to a political or social revolution: a revolutionary army revolutionary adj.: completely new and different: a revolutionary new treatment for cancer 2 POLITICS relating to a political or social revolution: a revolutionary army

revolutionize /rɪˈvɔlvaɪz/ v. [T] to completely change a ruler or political system by using force or violence: the American Revolution

revival /rɪˈvaɪvəl/ n. 1 [C] a process in which something becomes active, strong, or popular again: a revival of interest in traditional crafts 2 [C] a new performance of a play that has not been performed for a long time: a revival of “Oklahoma!” 3 [C] also revival meeting a public religious meeting that is intended to make people interested in Christianity revive /rɪˈvaɪv/ v. 1 [I,T] to become conscious, healthy, or strong, or to make someone or something do this: measures to revive a sagging economy 2 [T] to bring something back into use or existence: The workshop will help revive the ancient craft of storytelling. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French revivre, from Latin revivere “to live again”]

Jest’s life has revolved around basketball. 2 revolve around 3th to move in circles around something: The moon revolves around the earth.

Rewar·d·ing n. [C] a type of small gun that you hold in one hand

Rew·rite n. [C] a show in a theater that includes singing, dancing, and telling jokes

Rew·wind n. [U] a strong feeling of shock and strong dislike

Rew·word n. [CU] something that you get because you have done something good or helpful or have worked hard ➔ AWARD, PRIZE: The police are offering a reward for information.

Rew·ward v. [T] to give something to someone because s/he has done something good or helpful or has worked for it: They rewarded him with a free ticket.

Rew·ward·ing adj making you feel happy and satisfied: a rewarding job

Rew·wind v. (past tense and past participle rewound) [T] to make a TAPE go back to the beginning

Rew·work v. [T] to change or improve a plan, piece of music, story, etc.: He spent some time reworking the last paragraph.

Rew·rite v. (past tense rewrote, past participle rewritten) [T] to write something again using different words, in order to make it clearer or more effective ➔ rewrite /'rɪ'raɪt/ n. [C]

Rhap·so·dize /'ræpsə'daɪz/ v. [I] to talk about something in an eager, excited, and approving way: Helen rhapsodized about the wild strawberries she had found.

Rhap·so·dy /'ræpsədi/ n. (plural rhapsodies) [C] ENGL. LANG. ARTS a piece of music that is written to express emotion, and does not have a regular form

Rhe·sus fac·tor /'raɪsəs 'fæktə/ n. [singular] BIOLOGY a substance that some people have in their red blood cells

Rhet·o·ric /'rɛtərɪk/ n. [U] 1 speech or writing that sounds impressive, but is not actually sincere or very useful: slick speeches and political rhetoric. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the art of speaking or writing in order to persuade people or to produce an impressive effect: The poem is deliberately direct, with far fewer rhetorical devices (=particular examples of rhetorical language) than in his early work. 3 the president’s rhetorical skills [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French rhétoric, from Latin, from Greek rhetorike, from rhetor “public speaker,” from etrein “to say, speak”] ➔ rhetorically adv

Rhe·to·ri·cal ques·tion n. [C] a question that you ask as a way of making a statement, without expecting an answer

Re·ma·tism /rəˈmeɪtɪz/ n. [U] a disease that makes your joints or muscles painful and stiff

Re·nected /ˈrɛnɪktid/ n. [CU] a jewel made from glass or rock, that is intended to look like a DIAMOND

Re·no·er·os /ˈrɛnəˌnuːəs/ also rhino /ˈraɪnoʊ/ n. [C] a large heavy animal with thick rough skin and one or two horns on its nose [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Latin, Greek, from rhis “nose” + keras “horn”]

Re·do·den·ron /ˌroʊəˈdɛnərən/ n. [C] a large bush with groups of red, purple, pink, or white flowers [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Modern Latin, Greek, from rhodon “rose” + dendron “tree”]

Rom·bo·id /ˈrɒmbəʊd/ n. [C] MATH a PARALLELLOGRAM in which the opposite sides are equal and the adjacent sides are not equal

Rom·bus /ˈrɒmbəs/ n. [C] MATH a flat shape with four equal straight sides, especially a shape that is not a square ➔ see picture at POLYGON

Rhub·arb /ˈrʌbər/ n. [U] a plant with long thick red stems that are cooked and eaten as a fruit [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French reubarbe, from Medieval Latin rubarbarum, from rho “rhubarb” (from Greek) + barbarus “foreign”]

Rhy·me /ˈraɪm/ v. 1 [I] ENGL. LANG. ARTS if two words or lines of poetry rhyme, they end with the same sound: “House” rhymes with “mouse.” 2 [T] ENGL. LANG. ARTS to put two or more words together to make them rhyme: You can’t rhyme “box” with “bucks.”

Rhy·me n. 1 [U] ENGL. LANG. ARTS the use of words that rhyme in poetry, especially at the ends of lines: Parts of Shakespeare’s plays are written in rhyme. 2 [C] ENGL. LANG. ARTS a short poem or song, especially for children, using words that rhyme ➔ NURSERY RHYME 3 [C] a word that ends with the same sound as another word: I can’t find a rhyme for “donkey.” 4 rhyme or reason used in negative statements to say there does not seem to be a sensible reason for something: There seemed to be no rhyme or reason to the court’s decision. 5 the facts were presented one after the other, without rhyme or reason.

Rhythm /ˈraɪθəm/ n. [CU] ENGL. LANG. ARTS a regular repeated pattern of sounds in music, speech, etc.: the rhythm of the music [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin rhythmus, from Greek, from rhein “to flow”]

Rhythm and blues n. [U] R & B

Rhyth·mic /ˈrʌθrɪmɪk/ adj having rhythm: a rhythmic swinging motion

Rhode Island /ˌroʊdɪ səˈɪslənd/ the written abbreviation of RHODE ISLAND

Rib /rɪb/ n. [C] 1 one of the 12 pairs of curved bones that surround your lungs, or one of the similar bones in an animal ➔ see picture on page A3 2 a piece of meat that includes an animal’s rib: barbecued ribs ribbed $\text{v}$ (ri\-b@d) adj having a pattern of raised lines: a ribbed sweater rib

rib

ribbon $\text{n}$ [C,U] a long narrow piece of cloth, used for tying things or as a decoration: Her breadcrumbs were tied with bright red ribbons.

rib cage $\text{n}$ [C] BIOLOGY the structure of ribs around your lungs and heart ribosome $\text{n}$ [C] BIOLOGY a small part of every living cell, consisting of PROTEIN and the chemical substance ribosomal RNA. Ribosomes change AMINO ACIDS into PROTEIN.

rice $\text{n}$ [U] a white or brown grain grown in wet fields that is eaten after it has been boiled paddy $\text{n}$ [C] a PADDY rich $\text{adj}$ 1 having a lot of money or valuable possessions 2 one of the richest women in America 3 a rich and powerful nation 4 a bright young lawyer who wants to get rich ride $\text{v}$ (ri\-d@) 1 to travel on a horse, or on a bicycle, and make it move along: He rode his bike to school. 2 to travel in a car, train, or other vehicle: We rode rich $\text{adj}$ 1 in a beautiful or expensive way: a richly colored window 2 large amounts: Their efforts were richly rewarded. 3 richly deserve to completely deserve something: They got the punishment they so richly deserved.

ride

ride

1. When you are not driving: I'll go riding on a horse.
2. To arrange something so that it will do something in a particular way: She rigged a mosquito net over the bed.
3. In informal: a large truck ridiculous adj. 1. Silly or unreasonable: That's ridiculous! I never met him.

2. Morally correct, or done according to the law: He did it right.
3. Proper: I am right to report him to the police.

right

1. Correct or true: You were right — it's really busy tonight.
2. On the right, which is the side of the body that has the hand most people write with:
3. In the right place at the right time: to be in a place or position where something useful becomes available or is being offered.

right

1. Morally correct, or done according to the law: Was I right to report him to the police?
6. Said in order to agree with what someone says, to answer “yes” to a question, or when you remember something or are reminded of it: “You’re Steve?” “That’s right.”
7. Said in order to ridicule

1. Laughter, or remarks intended to make someone or something seem stupid: The other children made her an object of ridicule.
2. To laugh at a person, idea, etc., or to make unkind remarks about him, her, or it: At the time, his ideas were ridiculed.
3. Silly or unreasonable: That's ridiculous! I never even met him.

riffler

1. A long gun that you hold up to your shoulder to shoot: “to cut grooves on the inside of something, especially a gun barrel” (17–21 centuries), from Old French rifer “to cut into a surface, steal”.

riff

1. A series of notes in popular music
2. A long area of high land, especially at the top of a mountain:
3. A ridge overlooking the valley:
4. A large structure used for digging to find oil:

rifle

1. A crack or narrow opening in a large piece of rock, group of clouds, etc.
2. A valley with very steep sides, formed by the cracking and moving of the Earth’s surface.

ridge

1. A large area of high land, especially at the top of a mountain:
2. A long area of high land, especially at the top of a mountain:
3. A ridge overlooking the valley:

ridiculous

1. Silly or unreasonable: That's ridiculous! I never even met him.
2. Morally correct, or done according to the law: He did it right.
3. Proper: I am right to report him to the police.

ride

1. To go riding: Let’s go riding.
2. With stuff full of something bad: The office is rife with rumors.
3. A series of notes in popular music

rifle

1. A long gun that you hold up to your shoulder to shoot: “to cut grooves on the inside of something, especially a gun barrel” (17–21 centuries), from Old French rifer “to cut into a surface, steal”.

rift

1. A serious disagreement: a growing rift between the two countries
2. A crack or narrow opening in a large piece of rock, group of clouds, etc.

rivet

1. To arrange or influence the result of an election, competition, etc., or the price that will be charged for something: The opposition charged that the election had been rigged.
2. To dishonestly arrange or influence the result of an election, competition, etc., or the price that will be charged for something: The opposition charged that the election had been rigged.

ripen

1. To ripen a rip in a car, rain, or other vehicle:
2. To ripen a rip in a car, rain, or other vehicle:

right

1. Correct or true: You were right — it’s really busy tonight.
2. On the right, which is the side of the body that has the hand most people write with:
3. In the right place at the right time: to be in a place or position where something useful becomes available or is being offered.

right

1. Morally correct, or done according to the law: Was I right to report him to the police?
6. Said in order to agree with what someone says, to answer “yes” to a question, or when you remember something or are reminded of it: “You’re Steve?” “That’s right.”
7. Said in order to check if what you have said is correct: There’s a meeting at two, right? 8 yeah, right said when you do not believe what has just been said: He says, “I’ll call you,” and I’m like, “yeah, right.” 9 used in order to check that someone understands and agrees with what you have said: If people are comfortable, they’re more likely to talk, right?

[righ(t)ous adj 1 righteous indignation/anger etc. strong feelings of anger when you think a situation is not morally right or fair 2 (literary) morally good and fair; a righteous man —righteousness n. —righteously adv.]

[righ(t) field n. [singular] the area in baseball in the right side of the outfield

[righ(t)ful '/raItfel adj according to what is legally and morally correct: Racism denied them their rightful place in society. —rightfully adv.]

[righ(t)hand adj. 1 on your right side: Make a right-hand turn. 2 sb’s right-hand man the person who supports and helps someone the most, especially in his/her job

[righ(t)handed adj. 1 someone who is right-handed uses his/her right hand for most things 2 done with the right hand: right-handed pitching —right-handed adv.

[righ(t)ly '/raItli adv. correctly, or for a good reason: The book has rightly been called “an American Classic.”] The organization decided, rightly or wrongly, that the problem was limited.

[righ(t) of ‘way n. (plural rights of way) 1 [U] the right to drive into or across a road before other vehicles: You have the right of way at this intersection. 2 [C,U] the right to go across private land, or a place where you can do this

[righ(t) `triangle also right-angled `triangle n. [C] MATH a triangle in which the angle opposite the longest side measures 90° — see picture at TRIANGLE

[righ(t)`wing adj. POLITICS a right-wing person or group supports the ideas and beliefs of CAPITALISM (left-wing: a left-wing newspaper —right-winger n. [singular] [righ(t)id '/raId adj. 1 rigid methods, systems, etc. are very strict and difficult to change (any flexible; parents who set rigid rules]

[righ(t)idly adv. —rigidity '/raIdI©di©li n. [U]

[righ(t)ma-role '/raItm®ro©li n. [singular, U] a set of actions that seems silly: the rigmarole of filling out all these forms [Origin: 1700—1800 rigman roll “document containing a long list, used in a game called “ragman”” (15—18 centuries)]

[righ(t)or '/raItor n. 1 [U] the action of taking great care and being thorough in making sure that something is correct: students who lack intellectual rigor 2 the rigors of sth the problems and rigor mortis

difficulties of a situation: the rigors of a Canadian winter

ríg-or-ous/ˈrɪgərəs/adj 1 careful and thorough: rigorous safety checks

THESAURUS
strict, tough, firm, stringent

➔ strikT

2 very strict or severe: rigorous education standards—rigorously adv.

ril/raɪl also riel up v. [T] (informal) to make someone very angry rim/raɪm n [C] 1 the outside edge of something, especially something circular such as a glass: the rim of the Grand Canyon

THESAURUS
edge, border, boundary, perimeter, margin, hem, curb ➔ EDGE

2 rimmed with a particular type of rim: gold-rimmed glasses rind/raɪnd/ n [C,U] the thick outer skin of some foods, such as cheese or fruit

ring1/raɪŋ n [C] 1 a piece of jewelry that you wear on your finger: a wedding ring | a diamond ring ➔ see picture of JEWELRY 2 a circular line or mark: a dirty ring around the tub 3 an object in the shape of a circle: a key ring 4 a group of people or things arranged in a circle: a ring of young birch trees 5 a group of people who illegally control a business or criminal activity: a drug ring 6 the sound made by a bell, or the act of making this sound: a ring at the door ➔ see picture on page A7 7 a small square area where people box or wrestle, or the large circular area surrounded by seats at a CIRCUS [origin: (1) Old English ring]

ring2 v (past tense rang /raŋ/, past participle rung /raŋ/) 1 [I,T] to make a bell make a sound, especially to call someone’s attention to you: Benjy rang the doorbell. 2 [I] if a bell rings, it makes a noise: The telephone’s ringing. 3 [I] if your ears ring, they are filled with a continuous sound that only you can hear → 4 ring a bell (informal) if something rings a bell, you think you have heard it before: Frank Gordon— the name rings a bell, but I can’t be sure. 5 not ring true if something does not ring true, you do not believe it: None of these explanations rang true.

ring out phr.v. if a voice, bell, etc. rings out, it makes a loud and clear sound: Shots rang out from the schoolyard.

ring up phr.v to press buttons on a CASH REGISTER to record how much money needs to be put inside it: She rang up our purchases.

ring3 v (past tense and past participle ringed) [T] to surround something: a house ringed by trees ring-lea-dEr /ˈrɪŋˌlɪdz/ n. [C] someone who leads a group that is doing something illegal or wrong ringlet /ˈrɪŋlɪt/ n. [C] a long curl of hair that hangs down ring-side /ˈrɪŋsaɪd/ n. [singular] the area nearest to the performance in a CIRCUS or BOXING match: a ringside seat ring-worm /ˈrɪŋwɜːm/ n. [U] a common disease that gives you red rough circles on your skin rind /ˈraɪnd/ n. [C] a building with a specially prepared area with a smooth surface where you can SKATE: an ice rink ringleader /ˈrɪŋliˌdər/ n. [C] someone very angry ring bell v. to press buttons on a CASH REGISTER to record how much money needs to be put inside it: She rang up our purchases.

ringworm n. a common disease that gives you red rough circles on your skin riptide n. a rippling current of water riptide off phr.v to separate something by pulling it apart: His family was ripped apart by the murder.

rip /rɪp/ v. [T] to tear something, or be torn, quickly and violently: Dave ripped his jacket on the fence. | Don’t pull on it; it'll rip. | I ripped a sheet of paper from my notebook. | Impatiently, Sue ripped the letter open.

rip off phr.v. to charge someone too much money for something: The cab driver tried to rip me off! 2 rip sb ↔ off to steal something: Someone ripped off the liquor store.

rip through phr.v. to move through a place quickly and violently: typhoons that rip through the islands rip·off n. [C] a long tear or cut ripe /rip/ adj. 1 ripe food or crops are ready to eat: ripe peaches. 2 be ripe for sth to be in the right condition for something: The company is weak and ripe for a takeover. 3 the time is ripe (for sth) used in order to say it is the right time for something to happen: She’ll grab for power when the time is ripe. 4 ripe old age if you live to a ripe old age, you are very old when you die [Origin: Old English] —ripeness n. [U] rip-en /ˈrɪpən/ v. [I,T] to become ripe, or to make something do this rip-off, rip-off /ˌripəfl/ n. [C] (spoken) 1 something that is unreasonably expensive, and makes you feel cheated: Most diet products are a complete ripoff. 2 a piece of music or art or a movie that copies something else without admitting it rip·ple /ˈrɪp(ə)l/ v. 1 [I,T] to move in small waves, or to make something do this: a soft breeze rippled the wheat. 2 [I] to make a noise like water that is flowing gently: water rippling over rocks. 3 [I] to pass from one person to the next like a wave: Laughter rippled through/around the crowd.

ripple /ˈrɪpəl/ n. [C] 1 a small low wave on the surface of a liquid: ripples on the pond. 2 a feeling or sound that spreads through a person or group because of something that happens: A ripple of laughter ran through the audience. 3 ripple effect a situation in which one action causes another, which then causes a third, etc.
rise /raɪs/ v (past tense rose /raʊz/; past participle risen /ˈrɪzn/) [I] 1 INCREASE to increase in number, amount, quality, or value [ANT: fall]: Ocean temperatures are rising. 2 [singular] the achievement of importance, success, or power [ANT: fall]: a book about his rise to fame/power/prominence. 3 give rise to sth to be the reason something happens or begins to exist: The book’s popularity gave rise to a number of imitations. 4 [C] a movement upward: the rise and fall of her chest as she breathed. 5 [C] an upward slope; a slight rise in the road. 6 get a rise out of sb (informal) to make someone annoyed or embar- rassed by making a joke about him/her ris·er /ˈraɪzər/ n. 1 early/late riser someone who usually wakes up very early or very late 2 risers [plural] a set of steps for a group of people to stand on risk /rɪsk/ n. 1 [C] the chance that something bad may happen: the risk of injury to workers. There was a risk (that) the herd would stampede. There is no risk to public health. 2 Healthy eating reduces the risk of cancer.

Rise is not followed by an object: The balloon rose high into the air.
risqué /risˈkeɪ/ adj. slightly shocking because it is about sex or something else: a risqué joke, remark, etc. that is informal and amusing, with a slight suggestion of indecency.

rival /ˈrɪvəl/ n. [C] a person, group, or organization that you compete with: a business rival [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin rivalis “someone who uses the same stream as another, rival in love,” from rivus “stream”].

rivalry /ˈrɪvəlri/ n. (plural rivalries) [C,U] competition over a long period of time: sibling rivalry | the rivalry between the two teams.
main street – a road in the middle of a town where many stores, offices, etc. are.

avenue – a road in a town, often with trees on each side.

lane – a narrow road in the country, or one of the two or three parallel areas on a road which are divided by painted lines to keep traffic apart.

the main drag (informal) – the main road through a town.

highway – a very wide road for traveling fast over long distances.

freeway/expressway – a very wide road in a city or between cities, on which cars can travel very fast without stopping.

toll road – a road that you pay to use.

turnpike – a large road for fast traffic that you pay to use.

road trip a) traveling for a long distance, especially in a car: We've been on the road since 7:00 a.m. b) if a sports team, group of actors, etc. are on the road, they are traveling to different places playing games or giving performances: Oregon had two losses on the road.

road to success/recovery etc. an occasion when a sports team travels far from its home or other places to play:

on the road outside a city:

a road that is used by vehicles:

a place where the police are blocking the road to stop traffic: Police put up roadblocks to catch drunk drivers.

road-block /ˈrɔdbloʊk/ n. [C] 1 something that stops the progress of a plan: Lack of education is a roadblock to success. 2 a place where the police are blocking the road to stop traffic: Police put up roadblocks to catch drunk drivers.

road-house /ˈrɔdhaus/ n. [C] a restaurant or bar on a road outside a city.

road-kill /ˈrɔdki/ n. [U (informal)] animals that are killed by cars on a road or highway.

road-run-ner /ˈrɔdrʌnər/ n. [C] a small bird that runs very fast and lives in the southwest U.S.

road-side /ˈrɔdsəd/ n. [singular] the edge of a road: a roadside restaurant.

road trip n. [C] 1 a long trip in a car, taken for pleasure. 2 an occasion when a sports team travels to other places to play: a four-game road trip.

road-way /ˈrɔdweɪ/ n. [singular] the part of the road that is used by vehicles.

roam /roʊm/ v. [I,T] to walk or travel for a long time with no clear purpose: Buffalo roamed the prairie. I spent the summer roaming around through Europe.

roar /rɔər/ v. [I] to make a deep, very loud noise: lions roaring | jets roared overhead. 2 [I] if a vehicle roars somewhere, it moves very quickly and in a noisy way: Two motorcycles roared down the street. 3 [I,T] to say something or laugh with a loud voice: “What are you doing?” he roared. The audience roared with laughter.

roar n. [C] a deep loud continuous sound: a roar of laughter | the roar of the engine.

roaring /ˈrɔərɪŋ/ adj. roaring fire a fire that burns with a lot of flames and heat.

roast /rəʊst/ v. [T] to cook meat or vegetables in an oven or over a fire.

roast n. [C] 1 a large piece of roasted meat. 2 an outdoor party at which food is cooked on an open fire: a hot dog roast. 3 an occasion at which people celebrate someone by telling funny stories and giving speeches about him/her.

roast adj. having been roasted: roast beef.

rob /rəʊb/ v. (robbed, robbing) [T] to steal money or things from a person, bank, etc.: The boys robbed a convenience store.

robbery /rəˈbɜri/ n. (plural robberies) [C] the crime of stealing money or things from a person or place: Most home robberies are drug-related. | the armed robbery (=robbery using a gun) of a bank.

robe /rəʊb/ n. [C] a long loose piece of clothing: pajamas and a robe | a judge's black robe.

rob-in /ˈroʊbɪn/ n. [C] a common wild bird with a red chest and brown back: Robin redbreast “robin,” from Robin, form of the male name Robert.

robot /ˈrəʊbot/ n. [C] a machine that can move and do some of the work of a person, and is controlled by a computer: industrial robots | robotic.

robotic /ˈrəʊbotɪk/ adj.

robotics /ˈrəʊbɒtɪks/ n. [U] SCIENCE the study of how robots are made and used.

rock /rɑk/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a type of stone that forms part of the Earth’s surface: a tunnel cut through solid rock. 2 [C] a large piece of stone: A ship hit the rocks in the storm. He sat on a rock by the river, fishing. 3 [U] also rock music a type of popular modern music with a strong loud beat, played on guitars and drums: a rock band | a rock and roll star. concert 4 be between a rock and a hard place to have a choice between two things, both of which are unpleasant 5 on the rocks a) alcoholic drinks that are served on the rocks have ice in them b) a relationship or marriage that is on the rocks is failing [Origin: (2) 1900—2000 Old English 'roccian]

rock v. 1 [T] to move gently, leaning from one side to the other, or to make something do this: She rocked the cradle until the baby slept. | Hilda rocked back and forth, crying. | The boat rocked gently. 2 [T] to make the people in a place feel very shocked or surprised: a city rocked by violence 3 rock the boat (informal) to cause problems for other members of a group by criticizing something or trying to change the way something is done 4 sb/sth rocks (spoken) said in order to show that you strongly approve of someone or something rock and roll n. [U] another spelling of ROCK’N’ROLL

rock bottom n. hit/reach rock bottom (informal) to become as bad as something can possibly be: By June, their marriage had hit rock bottom.

rock-bottom adj. rock-bottom prices are as low as they can possibly be rock cycle n. the rock cycle EARTH SCIENCES the series of events in which rocks are formed, changed, destroyed, and formed again as the result of different natural processes rockerc 1 [C] a ROCKING CHAIR 2 be off your rocker (spoken) to be crazy rocket n. 1 a vehicle used for traveling or carrying things into space, which is shaped like a big tube 2 a weapon shaped like a big tube ➔ MISSILE: They began firing rockets at the ship. 3 a type of FIREWORK [Origin: 1600—1700 Italian roccetta “small stick used in spinning thread,” from rocca “stick used in spinning”] rocket v. 1 [I] to move somewhere very fast: Her serve rocketed over the net. 2 to achieve a successful position very quickly: The song rocketed to number one in the charts. 3 also rocket up if a price or amount rockets, it increases quickly and suddenly: The company’s shares rocketed up 46%.

rocking chair n. [C] a chair that has two curved pieces of wood fixed under it, so that it ROCKS ➔ see picture at SEAT rocking horse n. [C] a toy horse for children that ROCKS when you sit on it rock’n’roll n. [U] a type of music with a strong loud beat, played on GUITARS and drums, that first became popular in the 1950s rocky adj. 1 covered with rocks, or made of rock: the rocky coast of Maine 2 (informal) a relationship or situation that is rocky is difficult and may not continue or be successful: The team has gotten off to a rocky start this season.

ro-den n. [C] BIOLOGY one of a group of small animals with long sharp front teeth, such as rats or rabbits [Origin: 1800—1900 Latin, present participle of rodere “to chew with the front teeth”] rodeo n. (plural rodeos) [C] a competition in which COWBOYS ride wild horses and catch cattle with ropes [Origin: 1800—1900 Spanish rodar “to surround”] roe n. [C] fish eggs eaten as a food rogue adj. [only before noun] a rogue person or organization does not follow the usual rules or methods, and often causes trouble: The government is concerned about rogue states that may have nuclear weapons.

rogue n. [C] (old-fashioned) a man who often behaves in a slightly bad or dishonest way, but whom people still like roguish adj. typical of a rogue, or behaving like a rogue: the actor’s roguish image role n. 1 the position, job, or purpose that someone or something has in a particular situation or activity: The company has played a major role in medical research over the years. | He has traditional views about the role of women in society. | Parents should take an active role in their child’s education. 2 Eng. 1800—1850 the character played by an actor: Who will play the role of Dorothy? | Kate has a leading/starring role in the movie. [Origin: 1600—1700 French rôle “roll, role,” from Old French role “rolled up document”] role model n. [C] someone whose behavior or attitude people try to copy because they admire him/her: She’s a good/bad/positive role model for teenagers.

role-play n. [C,U] an exercise in which you behave in the way that someone else would behave in a particular situation: ideas for classroom role-plays —role-play v. [I,T] roll 1 [roul] v.

1 ROUND OBJECT [I,T] to move by turning over and over, or from side to side, or to make something do this: The ball rolled down the street. | One of the eggs rolled off the counter. | Roll the chicken breasts in flour ➔ ROLL
2 PERSON/ANIMAL [I,T] also roll over to turn your body over when you are lying down, or to turn someone else’s body over: We tried to roll him onto his side. | Beth’s dog has been rolling in the mud.
3 SHAPE OF TUBE/BALL [I,T] to make something into the shape of a tube or ball: Roll the dough into small balls.
4 STH WITH WHEELS [I,T] to move on wheels, or to make something that has wheels move: The sun was starting to roll backwards. | The waitress rolled the dessert cart over to our table.
5 MAKE STH FLAT [I,T] also roll out to make something flat by moving something round and heavy over it: Roll the pie crust thin. ➔ see picture on page 45
6 DROP OF LIQUID [I] to move over a surface smoothly without stopping: A tear rolled down her cheek.
7 roll your eyes to move your eyes around and up to show that you think someone or something is stupid
8 WAVES/CLOUDS [I] to move continuously in a particular direction: We watched the waves rolling onto the beach. | We could see the fog starting to roll in.
9 GAME [I,T] if you roll DICE, you throw them as part of a game
10 SOUND [I] if a drum or THUNDER rolls, it makes a long deep sound 11 MACHINE/CAMERA [I] if a machine such as a movie camera or a PRINTING PRESS rolls, it operates: Quiet! The cameras are rolling!
12 (all) rolled into one including several things in one thing: The class was a history, art, and language course all rolled into one.

SPoken Phrases
13 be ready to roll used in order to say that you are ready to do something or go somewhere: After months of planning, we were finally ready to roll.
14 let’s roll used in order to suggest to a group of people that you all begin doing something or go somewhere

15 be rolling in money/dough/cash/it to have or earn a lot of money roll around phr. v. (informal) if a regular time or event rolls around, it arrives or happens again: By the time Friday night rolled around, we were too tired to go out.

roll back phr. v. to reduce the price of something: a promise to roll back taxes roll down phr. v.
roll a window down to open a car window roll in phr. v. (informal) 1 to arrive in large numbers or quantities: Investors will expect profits to start rolling in soon. 2 to arrive later than expected: They finally rolled in at 4:00.
roll up phr. v.
1 roll sth up to curl something so that it is in the shape of a ball or a tube: Painters arrived and rolled up the carpet.
2 roll your sleeves up to start doing a job even though it is difficult or you do not want to do it
3 roll a window up to close a car window

roll 2 n. [C] 1 a piece of paper, film, money, etc. that has been curled into the shape of a tube: I need to buy a roll of film. | rolls of toilet paper 2 a small round LOAF of bread for one person: The soup comes with a roll.
3 an official list of the names of people at a meeting, in a class, etc. ➔ ROLL CALL, HONOR ROLL 4 be on a roll (informal) to be having a lot of success with what you are trying to do: I don’t want to stop playing – I’m on a roll! 5 a thick layer of skin or fat, usually just below your waist: the rolls of fat on his stomach 6 a long deep sound: There was a roll of thunder and then the rain started coming down. 7 an action of throwing DICE as part of a game roll call n. [C,U] the act of reading out an official list of names to check who is present at a meeting or in a class roll-er /rəʊlər/ n. [C] 1 a tube-shaped piece of wood, metal, etc. that can be rolled over and over: paint rollers 2 a CURLER

Roller-er blade /rəʊlərˌblæd/ n. [C] (trademark) a special boot with a single row of wheels fixed under it that you wear for skating ➔ ROLLER SKATE —rollerblading n. [U] roller.coaster n. [C] 1 a track with sudden steep slopes and curves, that people ride on in special cars at FAIRS and AMUSEMENT PARKS 2 a situation that is impossible to control because it keeps changing very quickly: I feel like I’m on an emotional roller coaster.

roller skate n. [C] a special boot with four wheels fixed under it that you wear for skating ➔ rollerskate v. [I] —rollerskating n. [U] roll-lick-ing /rəʊlɪŋk/ adj. [only before noun] noisy and cheerful: a rolling good time rolling

rolling /ˈrəʊlɪŋ/ adj. rolling hills have many long gentle slopes rolling pin n. [C] a long tube-shaped piece of wood used for making pastry flat and thin before you cook it ro·ly-po·ly /ˌroʊli ˈpouli/ adj. a roly-poly person is short and fat

ROM /ˈrɒm/ n. [U] a read-only memory the part of a computer where permanent instructions and information are stored

Ro·man Cath·olic /ˌroʊmən ˈkæθəlɪk/ adj. relating to the part of the Christian religion whose leader is the Pope: the Roman Catholic Church

Ro·man•ti•cism /ˌroʊmənˈtɪsəm/ n. [U] 1 a romantic relationship between two people who love each other: a summer romance 2 [C] Eng. (arts) a story, book, or movie about two people who fall in love with each other 3 [U] the feeling of excitement and adventure that is related to a particular place, activity, etc.: the romance of traveling to distant places [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French romans "French, something written in French," from Latin romanticus "Roman"]

Ro·man·num•eral /ˌroʊmən ˈnjuːmərəl/ n. [C] a number in a system that uses combinations of the letters I, V, X, L, C, D or | to represent numbers: XXVII is the Roman numeral for 27.

ro·man·tic•ic /ˌroʊmənˈtæstɪk/ adj. 1 showing strong feelings of love: "Paul gave me roses for our anniversary." "How romantic." 2 involving feelings of love: I’m not ready for a romantic relationship 3 a romantic story or movie is about love: a new romantic comedy 4 (disapproving) romantic ideas are not practical because they are based on how you would like things to be rather than how they really are (disapproving) realistic: the romantic notion that Christmas shopping is a magical event —romantically adv. They were never romantically involved.

Ro·man·tic•ic /ˌroʊmənˈtæstɪk/ adj. 1 someone who shows strong feelings of love and likes doing things that are related to love, such as buying flowers, presents, etc. 2 someone who is not practical and bases his/her actions too much on an imagined idea of the world

ro·man•ti•cism /ˌroʊmənˈtæstɪzəm/ n. [U] Eng. (arts) a way of writing or painting that was popular in the late 18th and early 19th centuries, in which feelings and wild natural beauty were considered more important than anything else

ro·man·ti•cize /ˌroʊməntɪˈsایz/ v. [T] to talk or think about things in a way that makes them seem more attractive than they really are: a romanticized idea of country life romp /ˈrɒmp/ v. [I] 1 to play in a noisy way by running, jumping, etc.: They could hear the children romping around upstairs. 2 to win a race, competition, election, etc. very easily —romp n. [C]: the Yankees ’12–1 romp over the Red Sox roof /roʊf, ruːf/ n. [C] 1 the part of a building or vehicle that covers the top of it: They finally found the cat up on the roof. 2 The roof is leaking. 3 We can probably strap the bikes to the roof of the car. 2 the top of a passage under the ground: The roof of the tunnel suddenly collapsed. 3 the roof of your mouth the top part of the inside of your mouth 4 a roof over your head a place to live: I may not have a job, but at least I’ve got a roof over my head. 5 under one roof/under the same roof in the same building or house: If we’re going to live under the same roof, we need to get along.

Roof /ruːf/ n. [U] 1 to put a roof on a building: a house roofed with tiles roof-ing /ˈruːfɪŋ/ n. [U] material for making or covering roofs roof-top /ˈruːftɒp/ n. [C] the top surface of a building: People were standing on rooftops to watch the parade.

room-ie /ˈrʊmi,ˈrʊmɪ/ n. [C] someone who has just started doing a job or playing a professional sport, and has little experience: a rookie policeman room /rʊm, ruːm/ n. [C] 1 a part of the inside of a building that has its own walls, floor, and ceiling: The room is quite big. 2 the living room/dining room | a hotel/motel room | Amanda, can you clean up your room (=your bedroom), please? 2 [U] enough space for a particular purpose: There isn’t any more room in the closet. 3 Save room for dessert! 4 The kids don’t have much room to play in the yard. 3 [U] the possibility that something may exist or will happen: I always try to make room for exercise. 4 (singular) all the people in a room: The whole room started singing "Happy Birthday." [Origin: Old English rum] room 2 v. room with sb to share the room that you live in with someone, for example at college room and 'board n. [U] a room to sleep in, and meals: Room and board at school costs $600 a month.

room-mate /ˈrʊm-mət/ n. [C] someone with whom you share a room, apartment, or house: college roommates room-service n. [U] a service provided by a hotel, by which food, drinks, etc. can be brought to a guest’s room: We decided to order room service.

room-y /ˈrʊmi,ˈrʊmɪ/ adj. with plenty of space inside: a roomy car roost /rʊst/ n. [C] a place where birds rest and sleep —roost v. [I] roost-er /ˈrʊstər/ n. [C] a male chicken root /rʊt, ruːt/ n. [C] 1 PLANT the part of a plant or tree that grows under the ground: Cover the roots with plenty of soil.

2 PROBLEM the basic or main part of a problem or idea: The love of money is the root of all evil. | The root causes of crime. | A good mechanic will get to the root of the problem.

THE Dictionary

3 roots [plural] the origin or main part of something such as a CUSTOM, law, activity, etc. from which other things have developed. Jazz has its roots in African music.

4 sb’s roots someone’s connection with a place because s/he was born there or his/her family lived there. She’s proud of her Polish roots.

5 put down roots to start to feel that a place is your home.

6 TOOTH/HAIR BIOLOGY the part of a tooth, hair, etc. that is fixed to the rest of the body.

7 take root a) if an idea takes root, people begin to accept or believe it: helping democracy take root b) if a plant takes root, it grows into the ground.

8 LANGUAGE also root word ENGL. LANG. ARTS a word that is used as a base to make other longer words by adding a PREFIX or a SUFFIX to it. For example, “undrinkable” includes the root “drink.”

9 MATHEMATICS the root of a number is a smaller number that, when it is multiplied by itself a particular number of times, equals the number that you have: 2 is the fourth root of 16 (=2 × 2 × 2 × 2 = 16). [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old Norse rot] ➔ SQUARE ROOT, CUBE ROOT, GRASS ROOTS

root

1 be rooted in sth to have developed from something and be strongly influenced by it. The country’s problems are rooted in a series of economic blunders.

2 [I] to search for something by moving things around: I rooted through my purse for a pen and paper.

3 [U] to grow roots, or to fix a plant firmly by its roots: The bulbs will root in spring.

root sb phr v (informal) to support and encourage someone to succeed in a competition, test, or difficult situation: We’re all rooting for you, Bill.

root sth • • • out phr v to find out where a particular problem exists and get rid of it: efforts to root out corruption in the police force.

‘root’ beer n [C/U] a sweet non-alcoholic drink made from the roots of some plants.

‘root’ hair n [C] BIOLOGY one of very many small hairs that stick out from the surface of a plant’s root.

root-less ‘turtles’ adj having nowhere that you feel is really your home.

rope [rouип] 1 [C/U] very strong thick string, made by twisting together many threads: They tied a piece of rope around my waist and pulled me up. 2 the ropes [plural] the things someone needs to know in order to do a job: I spent the first month learning the ropes. | New employees are assigned a buddy to show them the ropes. 3 be at/near the end of your rope to have no more strength or ability to deal with a difficult situation.

rope

1 v [T] to tie things together using rope: Harvey roped his horse to a nearby tree. | The climbers were roped together for safety.

2 sb • • in/into sth phr v (informal) to persuade someone to help you in a job or activity: My wife and I have been roped into going to this fund-raising dinner.

3 sb • • off phr v to surround an area with ropes in order to separate it from another area: Police roped off the area of the robbery.

rose

1 [rouз/ -z] n [C] a common sweet-smelling flower that grows on a bush that has THORNS (=sharp points on a stem): a dozen sweet roses [ORIGIN: Old English, Latin rosa]

2 v the past tense of rise.

Rosh Ha-sha-nah [roz hа’ja-na] n [U] Jewish New Year, in late September or early October.

roster [royстə] n [C] 1 a list of the names of people on a sports team, in an organization, etc.: the company’s roster of top executives. | Williams took Carney’s place on the Miami Dolphin roster. 2 a list of people’s names showing the jobs they must do and when they must do them [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Dutch rooster “frame for cooking things on list,” from rooster “to roost”]

rot

1 frut v (rotted, rotting) [I/T] to decay by a gradual natural process, or to make something do this: (to) decompose: Sugar rots your teeth, old buildings that were left to rot.

2 n [U] the natural process of decaying, or the part of something that has decayed: a tree full of rot.

rotate

1 v [T] to turn around a fixed point, or to make something do this: The Earth rotates every 24 hours. | Rotate the handle to the right.

rotte

1 adj turning in a circle around a fixed point, like a wheel.

2 [I/T] if a job rotates, or if people rotate jobs, they each do the job for a fixed period of time: We try to rotate the boring jobs.

roots

1 [C/U] a sweet-smelling flower that grows on a bush that has THORNS (=sharp points on a stem).
ROTTC

[Origin: 1600—1700 Latin, past participle of rote from rotare “wheel”] —rotation

/rot/ər/ adj/ n. [C.U.]: crop rotation

ROTC /rot'si, ar ə tə ti 'si/ n. Reserve Officers Training Corps an organization that trains students to be U.S. army officers rote /ro't/ n. learn sth by rote to learn something by repeating it until you remember it, without really understanding it

ro-tis-ser-ié /ro'tissarē/ n. [C] a piece of equipment for cooking meat by turning it around and around on a metal rod

ro-tor /ro'tor/ n. [C] the part of a machine that turns around on a fixed point rot·ten /ro'tən/ adj 1 badly decayed: rotten apples 2 (informal) very bad: I’m a rotten cook. She felt rotten about having to fire him. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old Norse rotan]

ro-tun·da /ro'tənda/ n. [C] a round building or hall, especially one with a dome

rou·ge /roo/'j/ n. [U] pink or red powder or cream that women put on their cheeks.

rou·gh /ro'f/ adj 1 having an uneven surface

rou·g·h·en /ro'fən/ adj 1 badly decayed: rotten apples 2 (informal) very bad: I’m a rotten cook. She felt rotten about having to fire him. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old Norse rotan]

rou·g·h·i·ly /ro'fli/ adv 1 not exactly rough·ly /ro'fli/ adv 1 not exactly rough·shod /rof'sad/ adv ride roughshod over sb/sth to behave in a way that ignores other people’s feelings or opinions

rou·lette /ro'let/ n. [U] a game in which people try to win money by guessing which hole a small ball on a spinning wheel will fall into.

rou·nd /round/ adj 1 shaped like a circle or a ball: a round table | a tree with round berries | the baby’s round cheeks

rou·nd·ed /round'd/ adj 1 to change an exact figure to a figure that is not exact: Let’s make it a round number—$50. [In round numbers (=to the nearest 10, 100, 1,000, etc.), we supply 50% of the trucks in the area. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French rount, from Latin rotundus] —roundness n. [U]

rou·nd·s /roundz/ n. [C] 1 CONNECTED EVENTS a number of events that are related: the latest round of peace talks

rou·ts /routs/ n. [plor] the usual visits or checks that someone makes as part of his/her job, especially a doctor: The thief was discovered by a security guard who was making his rounds.

rou·tine /rout/n. [C] 1 to go around something such as a bend or the corner of a building: The Porsche rounded the bend at 120 mph. 2 to make something round: The edges of the counter have been rounded to make them safer.

rou·tine /rout/n. [C] 1 to go around something such as a bend or the corner of a building: The Porsche rounded the bend at 120 mph. 2 to make something round: The edges of the counter have been rounded to make them safer.

rou·tine /rout/n. [C] 1 to go around something such as a bend or the corner of a building: The Porsche rounded the bend at 120 mph. 2 to make something round: The edges of the counter have been rounded to make them safer.

rou·tine /rout/n. [C] 1 to go around something such as a bend or the corner of a building: The Porsche rounded the bend at 120 mph. 2 to make something round: The edges of the counter have been rounded to make them safer.

rou·tine /rout/n. [C] 1 to go around something such as a bend or the corner of a building: The Porsche rounded the bend at 120 mph. 2 to make something round: The edges of the counter have been rounded to make them safer.
cake served with vanilla ice cream rounded out the meal.

round up phr. v. 1 round sb ↔ up to find and gather together a group of people or things: Police rounded up 20 people for questioning. 2 round sb ↔ up to increase an exact figure to the next highest whole number round² adj. around → all year round at year round-a-bout /'raudəbaʊt/ adj. [only before noun] not done in the shortest most direct way: a roundabout route to avoid heavy traffic.

round 'character also rounded character n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a character (=person) in a book, movie, etc. with many features or qualities, who is interesting and often has an effect on the way the story develops → FLAT CHARACTER round-the-clock adv. all the time, both day and night: round-the-clock hospital care.

round-trip adj. a round-trip ticket is for taking a trip from one place to another and back again (NOT one-way → round trip n [C] round-up /'raudʌp/ n [C] 1 an occasion when a lot of people or animals are brought together, often by force: a roundup of criminal suspects 2 a short description of the main parts of the news, on the radio or on television.

rouse /raʊz/ v [T] 1 to make someone want to do something: The speech roused King’s supporters to action. 2 (formal) to wake up, or wake someone up rousing /'raʊzɪŋ/ adj. making people feel excited and eager to do something: a rousing speech roul /raʊl/ v [T] to defeat someone completely → rout n [C] route¹ /rout, raʊt/ n [C] 1 the way from one place to another: What is the shortest route from Memphis to Atlanta? 2 the most direct route home → We had to take a longer route because of the snow. 3 a particular road or direction that something follows to get from one place to another: the parade route 4 a way of doing something or achieving a particular result: This school has chosen a different route to establishing discipline. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French, Vulgar Latin rupta (via) “broken way,” from Latin ruptere “broken”] route² v [T] to send something or someone by a particular route → EN ROUTE: All the military supplies were routed through Turkey.

router /'rəʊtər/ n [C] IT a piece of electronic equipment that sends messages between different computers or between different networks very quickly routine¹ /rəʊˈtiːn/ n [C] 1 the usual or normal way in which you do things: Harry doesn’t like any change in his daily routine. 2 a series of movements performed one after the other: an exercise routine routine² adj. 1 regular and usual: a routine medical test 2 ordinary and boring: a routine job → routinely adv.

rousing /'raʊzɪŋ/ adj. travelling or moving from one place to another: a rousing report ound-up /rəʊp/ n [C] 1 a line of things or people next to each other: a row of houses 2 children standing in a row 3 a line of seats in a theater, large room, etc.: I sat in the front row. 3 three/four etc. in a row happening three times, four times, etc. in exactly the same way or with the same result: We’ve lost four games in a row.

round² v [I,T] to make a boat move by using oars: Slowly, she rowed across the lake.

row·boat /'rəʊboʊt/ n [C] a small boat that you move by using oars → see picture at TRANSPORTATION row·dy /'rəʊdi/ adj. behaving in a noisy way that is not controlled: a group of rowdy children → rowdyness n [U] row·house /'rəʊhaʊs/ n [C] a house that is part of a line of houses that are joined to each other → HOUSE row·ing /'rəʊɪŋ/ n [U] the sport or activity of making a boat move through water using oars → see picture on page A4

roy·al /'rəʊəl/ adj. relating to or belonging to a king or queen: the royal family → Old French royaal, from Latin regalius roy·al·ty /'rəʊəlti/ n [plural royalties] 1 [C usually plural] ECONOMICS payments made to the writer of a book or piece of music 2 [U] members of a royal family rpm revolutions per minute a measurement of the speed at which an engine turns

RNA BIOLOGY the abbreviation of RIBOSOMAL RNA

RSI n [U] repetitive strain injury pain in your hands or arms caused by doing the same movement many times, especially typing (TYPE)

RSVP an abbreviation that is written on invitations in order to ask someone to reply [Origin: 1800—1900 French répondre, s’il vous plaît “please reply”] rub¹ /rʌb/ v (rubbed, rubbing) [I,T] 1 to move your hand, a cloth, etc. over a surface while pressing against it: Laura took off her glasses and rubbed her eyes. The stain will come out if you rub harder. 2 Can you rub some lotion on my back, please?

rub² /rʌb/ n [U] touch, feel, stroke, scratch, pat, pet, caress → TOUCH rub·bing /'rʌbɪŋ/ n [U] 1 a piece of electronic equipment that sends messages between different computers or between different networks very quickly rub·row·dy /'rʌbrɒdi/ adv. very noisy → rowdy rub·row·dy·ness /'rʌbrɒdiŋ/ n [U] being very noisy → rowdy rub·son·ry /'rʌbəʊnəri/ n [U] CURIOSITY the act of rubbing something against something else, to bring out or to cause a reaction: The cat was rubbing against my legs. They were rubbing their hands together trying to stay warm. 3 rub it in (informal) to remind someone of something embarrassing that rub

you know s/he wants to forget: Okay, I was wrong — there's no need to keep rubbing it in! 4 rub sb the wrong way (informal) if someone rubs you the wrong way, she annoys you, usually without intending to 5 rub shoulders with sb also rub elbows with sb (informal) to meet and spend time with important or famous people rub off on sb (informal) if a feeling, quality, or habit rubs off on someone, s/he starts to have it because someone else has it: Her positive attitude seemed to rub off on everyone.

rub1 n [C] an act of rubbing something or someone: Could you give me a back rub?

rubber /rubər/ n 1 [U] a substance used for making tires, boots, etc. that is made from chemicals or the liquid that comes out of tropical trees: rubber gloves ➔ see picture at MATERIAL 2 [C] (informal) a CONDOM rubber band n [C] a thin circular piece of rubber used to hold things together.

rubber-neck /rubərnɛk/ n 1 [C] (informal) to look around at something such as an accident while you are driving or walking past rubber-stamp v [T] (disapproving) to give official approval to something without really thinking about it rubbery /rubərɪ/ adj looking or feeling like rubber rubbish /rʌbɪʃ/ n [U] GARBAGE rubble /rʌbl/ n [U] broken stones or bricks from a building, wall, etc. that has been destroyed: a pile of rubble rub-down /rʌbdaʊnt/ n give sb a rubdown to give someone a MASSAGE in order to make him/her relax, especially after exercise

rubella /rʌbələ/ n [U] (formal) GERMAN MEASLES rubidium /rʌbidjuːm/ n [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Rb) a soft silver-white metal that is an ELEMENT rubric /rʌbrɪk/ n [C] 1 (formal) a title for a group of things that all have the same particular qualities 2 ENG., LANG., ARTS the title written at the top of a piece of writing 3 (formal) a set of rules that are used to judge something ruby /rʌbɪ/ n (plural rubies) [C,U] a dark red jewel, or the color of this jewel [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French rubis, rubi, from Latin rubēus "reddish"] ➔ ruby adj ruckus /rʌkəs/ n [singular] (informal) a noisy argument or confused situation: What's all the ruckus about?

rudimentary /rʊdərɪmətɔri/ adj: rudimentary knowledge of geometry rudiment /rʊdɪmənt/ n [plural] (formal) the most basic parts of a subject: I learned the rudiments of the language before visiting Mexico.

rue /ru/ v [T] (literary) to wish that you had not done something: She'll rue the day that she met him.

rufus /rʌfeɪəs/ adj showing that you wish something had not happened but you accept it: a rueful smile — ruefully adv ruffle /ˈrʌfl/ v [T] 1 to make a smooth surface uneven or messy: He reached over and ruffled my hair. 2 to offend, annoy, or upset someone: I don't want to ruffle his feathers (upset him).

ruff

rudimentary /rʊdərɪmətɔri/ adj: rudimentary knowledge of geometry

rugby /rʌɡbɪ/ n [U] an outdoor game played by two teams with an Oval ball that you kick or carry [Origin: 1800—1900 Rugby School in England, where the game is said to have been invented] rugged /ˈrʌɡd/ adj 1 land that is rugged is rough and uneven, with a lot of rocks: a rugged terrain full of wildlife 2 a man who is rugged is attractive and has strong features that may not be perfect: his rugged good looks ru·in·ous  ru·nous

v. [T] 1 to spoil or destroy something completely: The new road will ruin the countryside. | One stupid comment had ruined everything. 2 [U] Economics to make someone lose all his/her money: A long strike would ruin the company. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French ruin, from Latin ruina]

ruin  ruin
n. 1 [U] Economics a situation in which someone loses his/her social position or money, especially because of a business failure: small businesses facing financial ruin 2 [C] also ruins [plural] the part of a building that is left after the rest has been destroyed: the ruins of the temple 3 be/ lie in ruins to be badly damaged or destroyed: The country’s economy is in ruins. 4 fall into ruin if something falls into ruin, it becomes damaged or destroyed because no one is taking care of it: The 18th-century mansion has fallen into ruin.

ru-in·ous  ru·inous
adj. causing great destruction or loss of money: a ruinous decision

rule  rul
n. 1 [C] an official instruction that says how something is to be done or what is allowed, especially in a game, organization, or job: Erin knows the rules of the game. | strict rules about what you can wear | If you follow the rules, you won’t get into trouble. | Well, that’s what happens if you break the rules (=disobey them). | It’s against the rules to pick up the ball (=it is not allowed). | Can’t we bend the rules (=allow something that is usually not allowed) just this once?

THESAURUS
law – a rule that people in a particular country, city, or state must obey: The law requires motorcyclists to wear helmets.
regulation – an official rule or order: environmental regulations on air pollution restriction – a rule or set of laws that limits what you can do or what is allowed to happen: new restrictions on immigration guidelines – rules or instructions about the best way to do something: the Department of Health’s guidelines for a healthy diet statute (formal) – a law or rule: a federal statute prohibiting sex discrimination code – a set of rules, laws, or principles that tells people how to behave: the school’s dress code precept (formal) – a general rule or idea that helps you decide how to think or behave in a situation: our basic moral precepts

rule  rul
v. 1 [T] to have the official power to control a country and its people: The king ruled for 30 years. | Alexander the Great ruled over a huge empire. 2 [T] to make an official decision about something such as a legal problem: The judge ruled that the mother should have custody of the children. | The Supreme Court has not ruled on the case yet. 3 [T] if a feeling or desire rules someone, it controls his/her life, so that she does not have time for other things: Don’t let your job rule your life. 4 sb/sth rules (spoken) used in order to say that the team, school, place, etc. mentioned is better than any other: Jefferson High rules!

ruled  rul\d\d\d  adj. ruled paper has parallel lines printed across it ru·ling  rul\\n

n. 1 [C] someone such as a king who has official power over a country and its people ru·men  r\m\n

n. (plural rumens or rumina /r\-m\n\n\n\n/ [C] Biology a separate enclosed part in the stomach of an animal such as a cow, that stores and partly changes food the animal has just eaten, before passing it into the other part of the stomach rump /ræmp/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of an animal's back that is just above its legs rumpled /rʌmpled/ adj. rumpled hair, clothes, etc. are messy run1 /rʌn/ v. (past tense ran, past participle running)
1. MOVE [I] to move very quickly, moving your legs faster than when you walk: If we run, we can still catch the bus. | I ran down the stairs as fast as I could. | Billy ran over to the playground. | Stephen came running into the house. ➔ see picture on page 42

2. BE IN CHARGE OF STH [T] to control, organize, or operate a business, organization, etc.: Ann runs a restaurant in Atlanta. | The hotel is well run/badly run.

3. IN A RACE [I,T] to run in a race: I'm running in a marathon at the end of this month.

4. GO SOMEWHERE QUICKLY [I] (spoken) to go somewhere quickly, either walking or in a car: I need to run out to my car — I left my books in it. | I need to run to the store for some milk.

5. MACHINES [I,T] if a machine runs, or if you run it, it is operating: The radio runs on/off batteries (=uses batteries to work). | I forgot to run the dishwasher. | Nate left the engine running. | We should have the telescope up and running (=work-ing) by the weekend.

6. COMPUTER [T] to start or use a computer program: You can run this software on any PC.

7. BE RUNNING LATE to be doing things late: Sorry you had to wait — I've been running late all day.

8. ELECTION [I] POLITICS to try to be elected: It looks like he is going to run for president. | Johnstone is running against Pershing.

9. NEWS/STORIES/ADVERTISEMENTS [I,T] to print or broadcast a story, etc.: What does it cost to run an ad in the local paper? | They ran the item on the 6 o'clock news.

10. RUN a check/test/experiment etc. to arrange for someone or something to be checked or tested: The doctors say they need to run a few tests first.

11. MONEY/NUMBERS [I,T] to be at a particular level, length, amount, price, etc.: Unemployment is running at 5%. | The cost of repairs could run to $50.

12. WATER/LIQUIDS [I] to flow: Tears ran down her face. | Who left the water running (=still flowing from a pipe)? | My nose is running (=liquid is coming out).

13. HAPPEN [I] to happen in a particular way or for a particular time: The play ran for (=was performed for) two years. | The teacher kept things running smoothly.

14. STH LONG [I,T] if something long such as a road or wire runs in a particular direction, that is its position, or that is where you put it: Developers want to run a road right through his farm. | Run the cables under the carpet.

15. BUSES/TRAINS [I] to take people from one place to another: The bus doesn't run on Sunday. | The trains should run on time (=arrive and leave at the correct time).

16. BE RUNNING SHORT OF STH also BE RUNNING LOW ON STH to have very little of something left: I'm running low on money.

17. TOUCH [T] to touch something by moving your hand along its surface: She ran her fingers through her hair.

18. STH RUNS IN THE FAMILY if something such as a quality, disease, or skill runs in the family, many people in that family have it

19. RUN DRUGS/GUNS to bring drugs or guns illegally into a country in order to sell them

20. COLOR [I] if color or makeup runs, it spreads from one area of cloth or skin to another when it gets wet.

21. HOLE IN CLOTHES [I] if a hole in pashmina runs, it gets longer in a straight line

22. BE RUNNING A TEMPERATURE/FEVER to have a body temperature that is higher than normal because you are sick

23. FEELING [I] if thoughts or feelings run through you, you feel them in a very strong way: I felt a sharp pain run down my leg. [Origin: Old English rinnan] run across sb/sth phr. v.
to meet or find someone or something by chance: I ran across some old love letters the other day.
run after sb/sth phr. v.
to chase someone or something: She started to leave, but Smith ran after her.
run around phr. v.
to be very busy doing many small jobs: She’s been running around all day getting things ready for the wedding.
run away phr. v.
1 to leave a place in order to escape from someone or something: Kathy ran away from home at the age of 16.
2 to try to avoid an unpleasant situation: You can’t run away from your problems.
run sth by sb phr. v.
to tell someone about something so that s/he can give you his/her opinion: Can you run that by me again (=repeat what you said because I did not understand)?
run down phr. v.
1 run sb/sth down to hit a person or animal with a car while you are driving, and kill or injure him, her, or it: A drunk driver ran down a 14-year-old girl.
2 run sb/sth ↔ down to gradually lose power, or to make something do this: Don’t leave it switched on – you’ll run down the batteries.
3 run sb/sth ↔ down (informal) to criticize someone or something: Her boyfriend’s always running her down.
run into phr. v.
1 run into sb (informal) to meet someone by chance: I ran into him in town.
2 run into sb/sth to hit someone or something with a car: He lost control and ran into another car.
3 run into trouble/problems/debt etc. to begin to have trouble, problems, etc.: She ran into trouble when she couldn’t pay the hospital bills.
run off phr. v.
1 to leave your husband or wife and live with or marry someone else: Her husband had run off, leaving her and the children.
2 run sth ↔ off to quickly print copies of something: I’ll need to run off 100 copies of this.
run off with sb phr. v.
1 run off with sb to go away with someone because you are having a sexual relationship with him/her and other people do not approve: Her husband ran off with an old girlfriend.
2 run off with sth to steal something and leave on foot: A thief ran off with her cell phone.
run out phr. v.
1 to use all of something, so that there is none left: We’ve run out of sugar. I’m running out of ideas.
2 if something is running out, there will soon be none left: They need to make a deal, but time is running out.
3 to come to the end of a period of time when something is allowed to be done or used: My membership runs out in September.
run sb/sth ↔ over phr. v.
to hit someone or something with a car or other vehicle, and drive over him, her, or it: My dog was run over by a car.
run through sth phr. v.
1 to read, check, or practice something quickly: I’d like to run through the agenda with you before the meeting.
2 if a quality or feature runs through something, it exists in all parts of it: a theme which runs through the book.
run up sth phr. v.
to spend or borrow so much money that you have a lot to pay back: We ran up a huge phone bill.
run up against sth phr. v.
to suddenly have to deal with a problem when you are trying to do something: The school board has run up against opposition to its proposals.
run2 n.
1 ON FOOT [C] a period of time spent running, the act of running, or a distance that you run: He usually goes for a run before breakfast. It was still running, but we decided to make a run for the car: a 5-mile run.
2 in the short/long run in the near future, or later in the future: I think in the long run you’ll be happier without him.
3 BASEBALL [C] a point in a baseball game: The Cubs scored three runs in the sixth inning.
4 be on the run a) to be trying to escape from someone, especially the police: He’s been on the run from the police for years. b) to be very busy doing a lot of different things and going to different places: It’s hard to eat well when you’re on the run all day.
5 PLAY/MOVIE ETC. [C] a period of time during which a play, movie, or television show is shown or performed regularly: The play starts an eight-week run on Friday.
6 a run of good/bad luck several lucky or unlucky things happening quickly one right after another: Losing my job was the start of a run of bad luck that year.
7 a run on sth a situation in which a lot of people take their money out of a bank or buy a lot of one particular thing at the same time: There’s always a run on chocolates and flowers on Mother’s Day.
8 ELECTION [C usually singular] an attempt to be elected: Turner is making his first run for public office.
9 HOLE IN CLOTHES [C] a long hole in a pair of pantyhose.
10 make a run for it to suddenly start running in order to escape
11 have the run of sth to be allowed to go anywhere or do anything in a place: We had the run of the house for the weekend.
12 REGULAR TRIP [C usually singular] a regular trip made by a person or a vehicle that carries a lot of people: the daily ferry run.
13 give sb a run for his/her money to make an opponent or competitor work very hard to beat you:
The White Sox gave the A’s a run for their money, but lost in the ninth inning.

run-around /ˈrʌnˌrɔ:nd/ n. give sb the run-around (informal) to deliberately avoid giving someone the information or help s/he has asked for; I keep calling to find out about my insurance, but they just keep giving me the runaround.

run-away /ˈrʌnˌweɪ/ n. [C] someone, especially a child, who has left home or the place where s/he is supposed to be runaway adj. [only before noun] 1 a runaway vehicle is out of control 2 happening quickly and suddenly: The movie was a runaway success.

run-down adj. 1 in very bad condition: 2 a run-down motel 2 [not before noun] someone who is run-down is very tired and not very healthy: He’s been feeling run-down lately.

run v. the past participle of king run /ˈrʌn/ n. [singular] a quick report or explanation of a situation, event, etc.: Can you give me a rundown on what happened while I was gone?

run on /ˈrʊn ən/ v. to deliberately avoid giving someone information or help they have asked for.

run on /ˈrʊn ən/ adj. not special or interesting SYN: ordinary: a run-of-the-mill job run off /ˈrʊn əf/ n. [C] POLITICS an election or competition that is arranged when there is no clear winner of the first one. 2 [U] EARTH SCIENCES rain or other liquid that flows off the land into rivers and lakes ➔ see picture at WATER CYCLE run of the mill adj. not special or interesting SYN: ordinary: a run-of-the-mill job run on sentence n. [C] a sentence that has two main CLAUSES without connecting words or correct PUNCTUATION run through n. [C] a short practice before a test:

run up n. the run-up to sth the period of time just before an important event: Most stores are hiring more staff in the run-up to Christmas.

run way /ˈrʌnweɪ/ n. [C] a very long surface like a wide road, that aircraft leave from and come down on rupture v. to break or burst, or to make something do this: An oil pipeline ruptured early this morning.

rural /ˈrjurəl/ adj. relating to country areas rather than the city SYN: urban: a peaceful rural setting [Origin: 1400–1500 Old French, Latin rurālis, from rur “open land”] rush /rʌʃ/ n. [C] (formal) something you do in order to make something happen quickly: David rushed into the room. [There’s no need to rush – we have plenty of time.]

rush /rʌʃ/ v. [I,T] to move somewhere or do something very quickly: Everyone was rushing to catch the last bus.

run v. to go somewhere as fast as you can: Carter raced downstairs.

rush /rʌʃ/ v. to run somewhere very fast, especially only a short distance: I dashed into my bedroom and grabbed my notebook.

rural /ˈrjurəl/ adj. something you do in order to make something happen quickly: David rushed into the room. [There’s no need to rush – we have plenty of time.]

run v. to go somewhere as fast as you can: Carter raced downstairs.

rush /rʌʃ/ n. [C] something you do in order to make something happen quickly: David rushed into the room. [There’s no need to rush – we have plenty of time.]

rush /rʌʃ/ v. to run somewhere very fast, especially only a short distance: I dashed into my bedroom and grabbed my notebook.

rush /rʌʃ/ v. to move somewhere or do something very quickly: David rushed into the room. [There’s no need to rush – we have plenty of time.]

rush /rʌʃ/ v. to go somewhere as fast as you can: Carter raced downstairs.

rush /rʌʃ/ v. to run somewhere very fast, especially only a short distance: I dashed into my bedroom and grabbed my notebook.
not much time: People hurried into stores to escape the rain.
charge — to move quickly forward: The boys charged up the trail, laughing and yelling.
speed — to move very fast, used about cars, trains, etc., or the people traveling in them: The train sped toward San Francisco. hasten (formal) — to move or do something quickly or without delay: Mr. Samuels hastened toward him → run

2 [T] to take or send something somewhere very quickly: We had to rush Helen to the hospital. 3 [I,T] to do or decide something too quickly, without taking the time to think carefully, or to make someone do this: Don’t rush me – let me think. My mother’s worried that I’m rushing into getting married.
rush around phr. v. to try to do a lot of things quickly in a short period of time rush sth • through phr. v. to get something such as a new law approved more quickly than usual

rush 2 n. 1 [singular] a sudden fast movement of things or people: There was a rush for the door. 2 [singular, U] a situation in which you need to hurry, especially because a lot of people want to do or get something: We have plenty of time — there’s no rush. | I can’t stop — I’m in a rush. | There’s a big rush to get tickets. 3 the rush the time when a place or group of people are very busy: the Christmas rush 4 [singular] a sudden strong feeling: Mark felt a rush of anger.

‘rush hour’ n. [C,U] the time of day when there are a lot of vehicles on the road because people are going to and from work: rush hour traffic

Russian 1 /ˈrʌʃnə/ adj. 1 relating to or coming from Russia. 2 relating to the Russian language

Russian 2 n. [U] the language used in Russia rust 1 /rʌst/ n. [U] the reddish-brown substance that forms on iron, steel, etc., when it gets wet rust 2 v. [I,T] to become covered with rust, or to make something do this: a lock that has rusted shut rustic /ˈrʌstɪk/ adj. simple and old-fashioned in a way that is attractive and typical of the countryside: a rustic mountain cabin rustle /ˈrʌstl/ v. [I,T] if leaves, papers, etc. rustle, or if you rustle them, they make a soft noise as they rub against each other rustle sth • up phr. v. to find or make something quickly, especially food for a meal rustle 2 n. [singular] the noise made when something rustles: the rustle of dry leaves → see picture on page A7 rust-proof /ˈrʌstprəuf/ adj. metal that is rustproof will not rust rusty /ˈrʌsti/ adj. 1 covered with rust: rusty nails 2 if a skill that you have is rusty, you are not as good at something as you used to be because you have not practiced it for a long time: My tennis is a little rusty.

rut /rʌtʃ/ n. 1 in a rut (informal) living or working in a situation that does not change, and so is boring: I was stuck in a rut and decided to look for a new job. 2 [C] a deep narrow track left in the ground by a wheel ru-ta-ba-ga /ˈruːtaˌbeɪɡə/ n. [C] a large round yellow vegetable that grows under the ground → rotabag ruthless /ˈruːθlɪs/ adj. not caring if you have to harm other people to get what you want: a ruthless dictator ruthless determination — ruthlessly adv. — ruthlessness n. [U]

RV n. [C] recreational vehicle a large vehicle with cooking equipment, beds, etc., that a family uses for traveling or camping rye /rɑː/ n. [U] a type of grain that is used for making bread and whiskey (=alcohol) making coats, or the small animal this fur comes from.

sab-o-tage /səˈbəˌtāj/ v. [T] 1 to secretly damage or destroy something so that an enemy cannot use it; Soldiers sabotaged road and rail lines. 2 to deliberately spoil someone’s plans because you do not want him/her to succeed; Outside forces are trying to sabotage the Middle East peace process. [Origin: 1800—1900 French saboter “to walk along noisily, do work badly, sabotage,” from sabot “wooden shoe”]

—saboteur /səˈbəˌtər/ n. [C]

sabotage n. [U] deliberate damage done to equipment, vehicles, etc., in order to prevent an enemy or opponent from using them: an act of sabotage at the factory.

sac /sæk/ n. [C] Biology a part shaped like a small bag inside a plant or animal, that contains air or liquid.

sac-cane /sækˈkæn/ n. [U] a chemical substance that tastes very sweet and is used instead of sugar. [Origin: 1800—1900 Latin saccharum “sugar,” from Greek sakcharon, from Sanskrit sarkara “small stones, sugars”]

sac-cane-ry /sækˈkænri/ n. adj. very romantic or involving a lot of emotion, in a way that seems silly and not sincere; a saccharine view of motherhood sack /sæk/ n. [C] 1 a large bag made of strong cloth, plastic, or paper in which you carry or keep things: a sack of potatoes. 2 also sackful the amount that a sack can contain. [Origin: Old English sacu, from Latin saccus, from Greek sakkoς “bag, sackcloth”]

—hit the sack /hɪt ˈsæk/ v. hit the sack /hɪt ˈsæk/ to knock down the sack

sack v. [T] 1 to steal and destroy things in a city that has been defeated by an army; The Vandals sacked Rome in 455 A.D. 2 to knock down the quarterback in football.

sack out /sæk ˈaʊt/ v. informally to go to sleep: Karl was sacked out on the sofa.

sac-ra-ment /səˈkraˌmənt/ n. [C] an important Christian ceremony such as marriage or communion.

sac-red /səˈkrɪd/ adj. 1 relating to a god or religion, and believed to be holy; The temple is one of the most sacred places for Hindus. | sacred textbook/writing 2 extremely important or greatly respected; Human life is sacred. [Origin: 1300—1400 Past participle of sacre “to make holy” (13—17 centuries), from Old French sacer]

sacred cow n. [C] (disapproving) a belief, object, etc. that is so important to someone that she will not let anyone criticize or change it.

sac-rifice /səˈkrɪf/ v. [səˈkrɪf] /səˈkrɪf/ səˈkrɪf/ n. [C, U] 1 something that you decide not to have or not to do in order to get something that is more important: Her parents made a lot of sacrifices to put her through college. 2 the act of offering something to a god, or an object or animal that is killed in order to be offered to a god —sacrificial /səˈkrɪfəli/ adj.

sacrifice v. [T] 1 to willingly stop having or doing something in order to get something that is more important: Ellis sacrificed a high-paying legal career to work in the inner city. | Anger was willing to sacrifice his life for his country. 2 to offer something to a god as part of a ceremony, often by killing it.

sac-ref-les /səˈkrɪfli/ adj. something that is sacrilegious is considered to be so important that no one is allowed to criticize or change it: Marriage no longer seems to be sacrosanct. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin sacrosanctus, probably from sacro sanctus “made holy by religious ceremonies”] sac-ro-sanct /səˈkrʊsæŋkt/ adj. something that is sacrosanct is considered to be so important that no one is allowed to criticize or change it: Marriage no longer seems to be sacrosanct. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin sacrosanctus, probably from sacro sanctus “made holy by religious ceremonies”]

sad /sæd/ adj. (comparative sadder, superlative saddest) 1 unhappy, especially because something unpleasant has happened: (207) happy: Ted looked tired and sad. | We were sad to see him go. | a sad face

sadness n. [singular, U] 1 a sad event, story, etc. makes you feel unhappy: sad news. | It was a sad day for us all. | a story with a sad ending. | It’s sad that James couldn’t come. | 3 very bad or unacceptable: The house was in a sad state of neglect. | It’s sad that these patients don’t get the help they need. [Origin: Old English sad “having had enough”]

sad-den /sædˈdən/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone feel sad or disappointed: We were deeply saddened by her death. saddle /ˈsædl/ n. [C] 1 a seat made of leather that is put on a horse’s back so that you can ride it 2 a seat on a bicycle or a motorcycle saddle v. [T] also saddle up to put a saddle on a horse saddle sb with sth give someone a job, problem, etc. that is difficult or boring: small businesses saddled with debts saddlebag /ˈsædəlˌbæɡ/ n. [C] a bag that you carry things in, that is attached to a saddle on a horse or a bicycle safeguard v. [T] also safeguard sb from sth protect someone or something from possible dangers or problems: safeguard against the exploitation of children sadly /ˈsædli/ adv. 1 in a way that shows you are sad: Jimmy nodded sadly. 2 in a way that you wish were not true: Unfortunately: Sadly, most small businesses fail in the first year.

safari /ˈsæfəri/ n. 1 a trip through the country areas of Africa in order to watch wild animals: tourists on safari in Zaire [Origin: 1800-1900 Arabic sahara "of a trip"] safety /ˈseɪfəti/ n. 1 the state of being safe from danger or harm: Some students are concerned about safety on campus. 2 how safe someone or something is: Police have expressed fears for the girl’s safety. [People have questioned the safety of the fireworks show.]

safety belt n. [C] a seat belt safety net n. [C] 1 social security a system or arrangement that helps people if they get into a difficult situation or have serious problems: a safety net for the country’s poorest people. 2 a large net that is placed below someone who is performing high above the ground, to catch him/her if she falls. 3 economics actions taken by a government to help or protect companies or financial institutions that have serious financial problems.

safety pin n. [C] 1 a curved metal pin for fastening things together. The point of the pin fits into a cover so that it cannot hurt you.

safety valve n. [C] 1 something you do that allows you to express strong feelings such as anger without doing any harm: Exercise is a good safety valve for stress. 2 a part of a machine that allows gas, steam, etc. to be let out when the pressure is too high.

sagebrush /ˈsægbruːʃ/ n. [C] small bush with a strong smell, that grows on dry land in western North America.
said (v. past tense and past participle of SAV) 1 [U] used when giving more information about someone or something that has just been mentioned: The said robbery happened about 5:00.

sail (v. 1 [I] to travel across an area of water in a boat or ship: Melville sailed to Hawaii. 2 [U] to direct or control the movement of a boat or ship: We sailed the boat along the coast. 3 [I]) to start a trip by boat or ship: We sailed at high tide. The Dawn Princess will sail from San Juan.

sail through sth phr v. to succeed in doing something very easily sailboat (n. [C]) a small boat with one or more sails sailing (n. [U]) the sport of traveling through water in a sailboat → see picture on page A4 sailor (n. 1) an American whose job is to sell things: Sally got a job as a saleslady in Nordstrom’s sum-sales clerk (n. [C]) someone who sells things in a store sales manager (n. [plural salesmen]) [C] a man whose job is to sell things: a used car salesman salesperson (n. [plural salespersons]) [C] someone whose job is to sell things sales rep (n. [C]) someone who travels around selling his/her company’s products sales slip (n. [C]) a small piece of paper that you are given in a store when you buy something → receipt sales tax (n. [C]) ECONOMICS a tax that you pay in addition to the cost of something you are buying saleswoman (n. [plural saleswomen]) [C] a woman whose job is selling things salient (adj. [formal]) most noticeable or important: the salient points of the plan → salience (n. [U]) salt·wa·ter /sal·wätər/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY containing or consisting of salt: a saline solution (=liquid with salt in it) [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin salinus, from sal “salt”] — saline n. [U] sal·i·va·tion /sal·ə va·ˈtən/ n. [C] (formal) a word or phrase used to greet someone at the beginning of a letter or speech, such as “Dear Mr. Roberts” sal·u·tate /saləˈtaɪt/ v. [IT] to move your right hand to your head in order to show respect to an officer in the Army, Navy, etc.: He turned around and saluted the captain. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin salutare, from salus “health, safety, greeting”] sal·u·tare /səˈlaʊtər/ m. [L] CHEMISTRY the amount of salt which something contains sal·va·ge /ˈsælvədʒ/ v. [T] to save something from a situation in which other things have already been damaged, destroyed, or lost: He’s trying to salvage his political reputation.

sal·va·ge /ˈsælvədʒ/ n. [U] the act of salvaging something, or the things that are salvaged sal·va·tion /ˈsælvəˈteɪʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 the state of being saved from evil by God, according to the Christian religion 2 something that prevents danger, loss, or failure: Education seemed their best chance of salvation.
Sal·va·tion ’Army n. the Salvation Army a Christian organization that tries to help poor people sal·ve /ˈsælv/ v. [T] to save or make something less painful —salve n. [T] sal·vo /ˈsælvə/ n. (plural salvos) [C] (formal) 1 one of a series of actions or statements, especially in a situation in which people are arguing: the opening salvo of the election campaign 2 the act of shooting several guns in a battle or as part of a ceremony Sa·mar·i·tan /səˈmɑrətən/ n. also good Samari·tan n. [C] someone who helps you when you have problems [Origin: 1600—1700 Anglo-French salmoun, from Latin salmone “large hali”] same /səm/ adj. [only before noun] 1 a) one particular person, place, etc. and not a different one: We work at the same place. [Their birthdays are on the same day. b) used in order to say that two or more people, things, etc. are exactly like each other: My identical twin: I told him the same thing.] 2 at the same time if two things happen at the same time, they happen together: I wanted to laugh and cry at the same time. 3 the same old [informal, disapproving] something that you have heard many times same

before: politicians repeating the same old promises. 5 same difference (spoken) used in order to say that different actions, behavior, etc. have the same result: "Should I e-mail them or fax a letter?" 6 by the same token in the same way or for the same reasons: Some mothers are committed to their careers. By the same token, some fathers want to spend more time with their families. 7 be in the same boat to be in the same difficult situation that someone else is in.

same

Do not say "a same." Say "the same sort of": I'd like the same sort of car as that.

same²

1 the same

a) used in order to say that two or more people, actions, or things are exactly like each other: Thanks – I'd do the same for you sometime. [The houses look the same, but one's slightly larger.]
b) used in order to say that a particular person or thing does not change: It won't be the same without you. ["How's Danny?" “Oh, he's the same as ever.”

2 (and the) same to you! (spoken) used as a reply to a greeting, or as an angry reply to a rude remark: "Happy New Year!" "Same to you!"

3 same here (spoken) said in order to tell someone that you feel the same way as him/her: "I'd love to see you again." "Same here."

same-ness

[U] a boring lack of variety, or the quality of being very similar to something else: the sameness of the landscape same-sex

adj. same-sex marriage/relationship etc. a marriage, etc. between two men or two women sample

1 a small part or amount of something that is examined or used in order to find out what the rest is like: Do you have a sample of your work? [a blood/urine/tissue sample (one that a doctor examines for a disease)] a free sample of shampoo 2 a group of people who have been chosen to give information by answering questions: a random sample of 500 college students 3 a small part of a song from a CD or record that is used in a new song [origin: 1200—1300 Old French exemplum]

sample²

1 to taste a food or drink, go to a place, try an activity, etc. in order to see what it is like: We sampled several kinds of cheese. 2 to choose some people from a larger group in order to ask them questions: A quarter of the people sampled were college-educated. 3 to use a small part of a song from a CD or record in a new song —sampling n [C]

sampling method n [C] math one of several methods that can be used to collect information about people. The methods are different from each other in the way they choose the people to collect information about.

same-u-raj sam-urai /ˈsaɪmʊˌraɪ/ n (plural samurais) [C]history a member of a powerful military class in Japan in past times sanc-ti-fy /ˈsæŋktɪfaɪ/ v (sanc-ti-fies) [T] to make something holy sanc-ti-mo-nious /ˈsæŋktɪmoʊniəs/ adj (disapproving) behaving as if you are morally better than other people

sanc-tion /ˈsæŋktʃən/ n 1 sanctions [plural] official orders or laws stopping trade, communication, etc. with another country, as a way of forcing its leaders to make political changes: Trade sanctions were imposed on South Africa before apartheid ended. | U.S. sanctions against Cuba 2 [U] official permission, approval, or acceptance: The protest march was held without government sanction. 3 [C] something, such as a punishment, that makes people obey a rule or law: Sex outside of marriage was punished by powerful social sanctions.

sanc-tion² v [T] (formal) to officially accept or allow something: The UN refused to sanction the use of force.

thesaurus

allow, let, permit, authorize ➔ allow, pass, endorse ➔ approve sanc-ti-ty /ˈsæŋktʃəti/ n the sanctity of the quality that makes something so important that it must be respected and preserved: the sanctity of marriage sanc-tu-ar-y /ˈsæŋktʃʊəri/ n (plural sanctuaries) 1 [C,U] a peaceful place that is safe and provides protection, especially for people who are in danger: The rebel leader took sanctuary in an embassy. 2 [C] an area for birds or animals where they are protected and cannot be hunted 3 [C] the room where Christian religious services take place [origin: 1300—1400 Old French sanctuaire, from Late Latin sanctuarium, from Latin sanctus “holy”] sanc-tum /ˈsæŋktəm/ n 1 the inner sanctum (hilarious) a place that only a few important people are allowed to enter 2 [C] a holy place inside a temple sand /sænd/ n [U] the substance that forms deserts and beaches, and consists of many small grains of rock [origin: Old English]

sand²

1 to make a surface smooth by rubbing it with SANDPAPER or a special piece of equipment 2 to put sand on a frozen road to make it safer sandal /sændəl/ n [C] a light open shoe that you wear in warm weather [origin: 1300—1400 Latin sandaliun, from Greek, from sandalon] ➔ see picture at SHOE sand-bag /ˈsændˌbæg/ n [C] a bag filled with sand, used for protection from floods, explosions, etc.

sand-bank /ˈsændbæŋk/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a raised area of sand in a river, ocean, etc.
sand-blast /ˈsændbłæst/ v. [T] to clean or polish metal, stone, glass, etc. with a machine that sends out a powerful stream of sand sand-box /ˈsændbɔks/ n. [C] a special area of sand for children to play in sand-castle /ˈsændkæsəl/ n. [C] a small model of a castle made out of sand, usually by children on a beach sand dune /ˈsænd dun/ n. [C] DUNE sand-man /ˈsændmæn/ n. [singular] a man in children’s stories who makes children sleep by putting sand in their eyes sand-paper /ˈsænd,peəpər/ n. [U] strong paper covered on one side with sand or another rough substance, used for rubbing wood in order to make it smooth —sandpaper v. [T] sand-piper /ˈsænd,peɪpər/ n. [C] a small bird with long legs and a long beak, that lives by the ocean sand-storm /ˈsændstɔrm/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a storm in the desert in which sand is blown around by strong winds sandwich /ˈsændwɪʃ/ n. [C] two pieces of bread with cheese, meat, egg, etc. between them, usually eaten for LUNCH: tuna fish sandwiches [Origin: 1700–1800 Earl of Sandwich (1718–92), who ate sandwiches so that he could continue gambling without leaving the table] sandwich v. to be sandwiched between sth to be in a very small space between two other things: a motorcycle sandwiched between two vans sandy /ˈsændi/ adj. 1. covered with sand: a sandy beach 2. sandy hair is dark BLONDIE sane /ˈseɪn/ adj. 1. able to think in a normal and reasonable way (adj) reasonable 2. reasonable and based on sensible thinking: a sane solution to a difficult problem sang /sæŋ/ v. the past tense of SING sand-guine /ˈsændgwaɪn/ adj. (formal) happy and hopeful about the future [SYN] optimistic: Smith’s lawyers aren’t very sanguine about the outcome of the trial. [Origin: 1300–1400 French sanguïn, from sanguïn “blood”] San-ita
t
ti
tum /ˈsænəˌteɪʃn/ n. [U] the protection of public health by removing and treating waste, dirty water, etc.
san-i-ty /ˈsaːnɪteɪ/ n. [U] the ability to think in a normal and reasonable way: I went away for the weekend to try and keep my sanity. 2. the condition of being mentally healthy: I feared for my mother’s fragile sanity. | She wondered if she was losing her sanity.
sank /sæŋk/ v. the past tense of SINK San-ta Claus /ˈsæntə klɔzl/ also Santa n. an old man with red clothes and a long white beard, who children believe brings them presents at Christmas [Origin: 1700–1800 Dutch Sinterklaas, from Sint Nikolaas “Saint Nicholas,” patron saint of children] sap /ˈsæp/ n. 1. [U] BIOLOGY the substance like water that carries food through a plant. 2. [C] a saprophytic person who is easy to deceive or treat badly sapped v. (sapped) sapping, sapped, sapping to gradually make something weak or destroy it: The heat and humidity sapped my strength.
sap-ling /ˈsæplɪŋ/ n. [C] a young tree ➔ see picture at PLANT sap-phire /ˈsæpfər/ n. [C, U] a transparent bright blue jewel [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French safir, from Latin, from Hebrew safir, from Sanskrit sanipriya “dear to the planet Saturn”] sap-py /ˈsæppi/ adj. (disapproving) expressing love and emotions in a way that seems silly: a sappy love song sap-wood /ˈsæpwʊd/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the younger outer wood in a tree, that is not as dark or hard as the wood in the middle, through which water, SAP, and other liquids are moved around the plant Sa-ran Wrap /ˈsærən ˈræp/ n. [U] (trademark) thin transparent plastic used for wrapping food sar-casm /ˈsɑːrˌkæzəm/ n. [U] a way of speaking or writing in which you say the opposite of what you really mean in order to make an unkind joke or to show that you are annoyed: There was a hint of sarcasm (=a little sarcasm) in his letter. | His voice dripped with sarcasm (=showed a lot of sarcasm). [Origin: 1500–1600 French sarcasme, from Late Latin, from Greek sarkázein “to tear flesh, bite your lip angrily, sneer”] sar-cas-tic /ˈsɑːrˌkæstɪk/ adj. using sarcasm: He can be very sarcastic. ➔ sarcastically adv.
Sar·coph·a·gus
/sarˈkɒfəɡəs/ n (plural sar·coph·a·gus) a decorated stone box for a dead body, used in ancient times → MUMMY

Sar·dine
/sarˈdɪn/ n 1 [C] a young HERRING (=a type of fish), or the meat from this fish, usually sold in cans 2 be packed like sardines to be packed tightly together in a small space

Sar·dan·i·o·nique
/sarˈdɑːniˌkwɑː/ adj speaking or smiling in an unpleasant way that shows you do not have a good opinion of someone or something [Origin: 1600—1700 French sardanioxide, from Greek sardanios, from sardanion; influenced by Sar·danion “Sardinian,” because of a plant from Sardinia (an Italian island) which causes the face to twist into as smile]

Sar·din·i·a /səˈdərniə/ n [C] an Italian island) which causes the face to twist into a smile

Sar·ri
/səˈrɪ/ n [C] a type of loose clothing worn by many Indian and Bangladeshi women, and some Pakistani women

SASE n [C] self-addressed stamped envelope an envelope that you put your name, address, and a stamp on, so that someone else can send you something

Sash
/sæʃ/ n [C] 1 a long piece of cloth that you wear around your waist like a belt: a white dress with a blue sash 2 a long piece of cloth that you wear over one shoulder and across your chest as a sign of a special honor [Origin: 1500—1600 Arabic slush “fine cloth”]

Sass
/sæs/ v [T] (spoken) to talk in a rude way to someone you should respect: Don’t sass me, young lady! —sassy adj

Sassy
/sæsɪ/ adj (informal) 1 a saucy child is rude to someone s/he should respect 2 a saucy woman is confident and does not really care what other people think about her

SAT n [C] (trademark) Scholastic Aptitude Test an examination that high school students take before they go to college

Sat·a·tan
/sætəˈtæn/ n. the Devil, considered to be the main evil power and God’s opponent

Sat·a·tic
/sætəˈtɪk/ adj. 1 relating to practices that treat the Devil like a god: satanic rites 2 (literary) extremely cruel or evil: satanic laughter

Sa·tan·is·m
/sætəˈnɪzəm/ n [U] the practice of treating the Devil like a god —satanist n [C]

Sat·el·ite
/sætəˈlaɪt/ n [C] 1 a machine that has been sent into space and goes around the Earth in order to send and receive electronic information: a live broadcast coming in byrial satellite | a satellite communications network ➔ SPACE 2 PHYSICS a natural object such as the moon that moves around a PLANET ➔ see picture at APOGEE 3 a country, town, or organization that is controlled by or is dependent on another larger one: the former Soviet satellites of eastern Europe [Origin: 1500—1600 French, Latin satelles “personal servant or guard”]

Sat·i·ate
/sætɪˈeɪt/ v. [T usually passive] (literary) to completely satisfy a desire or need for something, for example food: They rested, sated with the big meal. —satiated adj. —satiety n

Sat·i·fy /sætɪˈfaɪ/ v [sætˈɪfɪ] adj smooth, shiny, and soft like satin: satiny material

Sat·ire
/sætəˈraɪ/ n [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a way of criticizing someone or something, in which you show his, her, or its faults in a funny way: a comedian who does political satire | a satire of the movie industry 2 (C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a play, story, etc. written in this way —satirical /ˌsætəˈrɪkal/ adj. —satirically adv

Sat·i·rist
/sætəˈrɪst/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who writes satire

Sat·ir·ize
/sætɪˈraɪz/ v [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to use satire to make people see someone’s or something’s faults: a movie satirizing the fashion industry

Sat·is·fac·tion /sætɪsˈfækʃən/ n [U] the practice of treating the Devil like a god —satisfaction n [C] the satisfaction of knowing that I was right 2 [U] the act of getting something you want, need, or have demanded: the satisfaction of basic physical needs 3 to sb's satisfaction as well or completely as someone wants: I'm not sure I can answer that question to your satisfaction.

sat·is·fac·to·ry /sətˈɪfɪkərɪ/ adj. good enough for a particular situation or purpose, or good enough to please you (unsatisfactory) satisfying: a satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides

THE SAU RUS

satisfactory for a particular purpose or situation: satisfactory explanation | the act of getting something you want, agreement that is satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.

satisfactory explanation | Progress has been satisfactory. | a satisfactory result | an agreement that is satisfactory to both sides.
savage

savage v. [T] 1 to criticize someone or something very severely; a movie savaged by the critics. 2 if an animal savages someone, it attacks him/her, and causes serious injuries

sav-age-ry n. [U] extremely cruel and violent behavior sa-van-na, savannah /sə'vænə/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large flat area of land covered in grass in a warm part of the world save n. /sev/ v.

1 FROM HARM/DANGER [T] to make someone or something safe from danger, harm, or destruction: We are working to save the rain forest from destruction. 2 MONEY [T] also save up to keep money so that you can use it later: We’re trying to save money to buy a house. 3 NOT WASTE [T] to use less time, money, energy, etc. so that you do not waste any: We’ll save time if we take a cab. 4 TO USE LATER 5 HELP TO AVOID unnecessary for him/her to do something that is inconvenient or difficult: If you could pick up Lori’s birthday cake, it would save meat rip to the bakery. 6 COLLECT [T] to save the company money. 7 KEEP FOR SB [T] to keep something so that you can use or enjoy it in the future: I’m saving this bottle of champagne for a special occasion.

5 HELP TO AVOID [T] to help someone by making it unnecessary for him/her to do something that is inconvenient or difficult: If you could pick up Lori’s birthday cake, it would save meat rip to the bakery.

6 COLLECT [T] to keep all the objects of a particular kind that you can find so that they can be used for a special purpose: I’m saving all the bottles and cans for recycling.

7 KEEP FOR SB [T] to stop people from using something so that it is available for someone else: We’ll save some dinner for you. Will you save me a seat?

8 COMPUTER [T] [T] to make a computer keep the work that you have done on it: Don’t forget to save before you close the file. 9 SPORT [T] to stop the other team from scoring a goal in games such as soccer or hockey.

10 saving grace the one good thing that makes someone or something acceptable: His sense of humor was his only saving grace. 11 lose/save face at face to avoid wasting something by using as little as possible of it: We turn the heat down during the day to save on electricity.

save on at v. to avoid wasting something by using as little as possible of it: We turn the heat down during the day to save on electricity. (Origin: 1200—1300 Old French salver, from Late Latin salvere, from Latin salus)

save² n. [C] an action by the goalkeeper in soccer, hockey, etc. that prevents the other team from getting a point sav·er /'sevər/ n. 1 time-saver/money-saver/energy-saver etc. something that prevents loss or waste: Shopping by mail is a great time-saver. 2 [C] someone who saves money in a bank savings /'sevinz/ n. 1 savings [plural] all the money that you have saved, especially in a bank: She lost their life savings in a Vegas casino. 2 [C] an amount of something that you have not used or do not have to spend: Enjoy 25% savings on our regular prices. A saving of $15

'savings account n. [C] ECONOMICS a bank account that pays interest on the money you have in it

'savings bank n. [C] ECONOMICS a business similar to a bank where you can save money, and that also lends money for things such as houses

'savings and loan (abbreviation S&L) n. [C] ECONOMICS a business similar to a bank where you can save money, and that also lends money for things such as houses

'saving grace v. [T] to make an activity or experience last as long as you can, because you are enjoying every moment of it: Drink it slowly and savor every drop.

savor v. [T] xxvi sunday savourer from savour

'savory adj. savory food has a pleasant spicy or salty smell or taste: savory snacks (Origin: 1200—1300 Old French savour, past participle of savourer, from savour)

sav·vy /'sevI/ n. [U] practical knowledge and ability: marketing savvy —savvy adj. a savvy businesswoman saw v. /sez/ the past tense of see saw² n. [C] a tool that has a flat blade with a row of sharp points, used for cutting wood saw³ v. (past tense sawed, past participle sawed or sawn /'sən/) [T] to cut something using a saw: We decided to saw off the lower branches of the apple tree. 1 cut saw-dust /'sezdʌst/ n. [U] very small pieces of wood that are left when you cut wood with a saw saw-mill /'sʌməl/ n. [C] a factory where trees are cut into boards sawn /'sən/ v. a past participle of saw² sax /seks/ n. [C] (informal) a saxophone sax-o-phone /'seksə,foun/ n. [C] a metal musical instrument that you play by blowing into it and pressing special keys (Origin: 1800—1900 French, from Adolphe Sax (1814—94), Belgian musician who invented the instrument)

say v. /sez/ (past tense and past participle said /'sez/) 1 EXPRESS TH [T] to express a thought or feeling in words: “I’m so tired,” she said. 2 [I] to express oneself: He said (that) he’d call back. 3 [T] to express something: | Tom didn’t say why he was angry. | That was a nice/mean/strange thing to say. | What did you say to them?
as much a smen. saying is and do not want him/her to be angry: situation in which you are arguing with someone you are trying to explain what you mean in a way for ten minutes. 9 what do you say? used in order to ask someone if s/he agrees with a suggestion: What do you say we all go to a movie? 13 you can say that again used in order to say that you completely agree with someone: "It’s cold in here." “You can say that again.” 14 say when used when you want someone to tell you when you have given him/her the correct amount of something, especially a drink.

USAGE
Say cannot have a person as its object. Do not use “say me.” Use “tell me” instead. Compare these sentences: He said that he was tired. | He told me that he was tired.

THESaurus
mention – to say something but without giving many details: He mentioned something about a past state (formal) – to give a piece of information or your opinion, especially by saying it clearly: The witness stated that he had never seen the woman before. utter (literary) – to say something: No one uttered a word. express – to say how you feel about something: It’s hard to express how I felt.

2 PRONOUNCE [T] to pronounce a word or sound: How do you say your last name?

3 WITHOUT WORDS [T, T] to express something without using words: What is Hopper trying to say in this painting? | Her smile says it all (=her smile expresses her happiness).

4 GIVE INFORMATION [T] to give information in writing, pictures, or numbers: The clock said quarter after six. | The instructions say (that) you cook it for ten minutes.

5 sth goes without saying used when what you have said or written is so clear that it really did not need to be stated: It goes without saying that a well-rested person is a better worker.

6 say to yourself to think something: I was worried about it, but I said to myself, “You can do this.”

7 to say the least used when what you have said could have been stated much more strongly: The house needs work, to say the least.

8 having said that used before saying something that makes the opinion you have given seem less strong: The movie is poorly made, but having said that, it's still a cute picture to take the kids to.

9 that is to say used before describing what you mean in more detail or more clearly: Things still aren’t equal. That is to say, women still are not paid as much as men.

SPOKEN PHRASES
10 be saying used in phrases to emphasize that you are trying to explain what you mean in a way that someone will understand better, especially in a situation in which you are arguing with someone and do not want him/her to be angry: All I’m saying is that he should have been more careful. | I’m not saying it’s a bad idea, just that we need to think about it. | I’m just saying it would be easier if we made a copy. | Maybe if you stopped shouting at him, he might actually tell you what’s wrong. (do you) know what I’m saying (=do you understand me)?

11 [T] to suggest or suppose that something might happen or might be true: Say you were going to an interview. What would you wear? | Let’s say they don’t approve our plan. What do we do then?

12 what do you say? used in order to ask someone if s/he agrees with a suggestion: What do you say we all go to a movie? 13 you can say that again used in order to say that you completely agree with someone: "It’s cold in here." “You can say that again.”

14 say when used when you want someone to tell you when you have given him/her the correct amount of something, especially a drink.

scalding

S

SC the written abbreviation of SOUTH CAROLINA.

scab /skæb/ n. [C] 1 a hard layer of dried blood that forms over a cut or wound. 2 (informal) an insulting word for someone who works in a place where other people are on strike (=refusing to work because of a disagreement with an employer).

scads /skædz/ n. plural (informal) large numbers or quantities of something.

scaffold /ˈskeɪfəld/ or /ˈskeɪfəld/ n. [C] 1 a structure built next to a building or high wall, for people to stand on while they work on the building or wall. 2 a structure used in past times for killing criminals by hanging them from it. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old North French escaldier, from Vulgar Latin catafallicum "stage, platform, scaffold").

scaffold-ing /ˈskeɪfəldɪŋ/ n. [U] poles and boards that are built into a structure for people to stand on when they are working on a high wall or the outside of a building.

scald /skɔld/ v. [T] to burn yourself with hot liquid or steam. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old North French escalder, from Late Latin excauldrire "to wash in warm water"] scald-ing /ˈskɔldɪŋ/ adj., adv. extremely hot: scalding hot coffee. scale

scale /skel/ n
1 SIZE [singular, U] the size or level of something, when compared to what is normal: The scale of the problem soon became clear.
2 MEASURING SYSTEM [C usually singular] a system for measuring the force, speed, amount, etc. of something, or for comparing it with something else: The earthquake measured 7 on the Richter scale. Your performance will be judged on a scale of 1 to 10.
3 RANGE [C usually singular] the whole range of different types of people, things, ideas, etc. from the lowest level to the highest: Some rural schools have 50 students while at the other end of the scale are city schools with 5,000 students.
4 FOR WEIGHING [C] a machine or piece of equipment for weighing people or objects: The nurse asked me to get on the scale.
5 MEASURING MARKS [C] a set of marks with regular spaces between them on an instrument that is used for measuring: a ruler with a metric scale
6 MAP/DRAWING [C,U] the relationship between the size of a map, drawing, or model and the actual size of the place or thing that it represents: a scale of 1 inch to the mile
7 MUSIC [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a series of musical notes that have a fixed order and become gradually higher or lower in pitch
8 ON FISH [C usually plural] one of the small flat pieces of hard skin that cover the bodies of fish, snakes, etc.: see picture on page A2 scale /skel/ v [T] to climb to the top of something that is high: They scaled a 40-foot wall and escaped.

scaling /'skeling/ back/down on the scale v to reduce the size of something such as an organization or plan: Military operations in the area have been scaled down.

caleng tri-angle /'skelin t'rengl/ n [C] MATH a triangle with three sides that are all different lengths: see picture at TRIANGLE cal-lion /'skeylan/ n [C] a small white onion with a small round end and a long green stem that you eat raw: see green onion cal-top /'skelap/, 'skelap/ n [C] a small sea animal that has a hard flat shell, or the meat from this animal cal-oped /'skelapt/, 'ska-lad/ adj cloth or objects that have scolloped edges are cut in a series of small curves as a decoration scalf /skel/ n [C] BIOLOGY the skin on the top of your head, where your hair grows cal-2 v [T] 1 (informal) to buy tickets for an event and sell them again at a much higher price: 2 to cut the scalp off a dead enemy as a sign of victory scalpel /skælpel/ n [C] a small and very sharp knife used by doctors during operations scalp-er /skælpər/ n [C] someone who makes money by buying tickets for an event and selling them again at a very high price cal-y /'skelɪ/ adj: 1 an animal that is scaly is covered with small flat pieces of hard skin: 2 scaly skin is dry and rough scam /skæm/ n [C] (informal) a smart but dishonest plan to get money: an insurance scam scam-per /'skæmpər/ v [I] to run with short quick steps, like a small animal: A mouse scampered into its hole.

scan /skæn/ v (scanned, scanning) 1 [I,T] also to scan through to read something quickly in order to understand its main meaning or to find a particular piece of information: 2 scan the streets for Billy. 3 [I] if a machine scans an object or a part of your body, it produces a picture of what is inside: scanner: All luggage has to be scanned at the airport. 4 [T] to copy a picture or piece of writing onto a computer by putting it into a machine attached to the computer: scan into a computer: scan through the report on the plane.

scandal /'skɔndəl/ n [C,U] something that shocks people very much: 2 a scandalous behavior

scand-al-ous /skændəl-əs/ adj completely immoral and shocking: scandalous behavior scand-al-ize /skændəlai/ v [T] to do something that shocks people very much

scand-al-ous /skændəl-əs/ adj completely immoral and shocking: scandalous behavior

scand-al-ous /skændəl-əs/ adj completely immoral and shocking: scandalous behavior

scantry /skæntri/ adj not enough: The story has received scanty attention in the press.

scantily /skæntli/ adv very little in size or amount: a scanty bikini: scantily adv.: scantily dressed scarce /ˈskær/ adj. [C] someone who is blamed for something bad that happens, even if it is not his/her fault: He’s been made a scapegoat for their lack of success. [Origin: 1500—1600 scape (from scape “to get away” (13—20 centuries), from escape) + goat] —scapegoat n. [T] scar1 /ˈskær/ n. [C] 1 a permanent mark on your skin from a cut or wound: The cut will leave a permanent scar.

2 a feeling of fear and sadness that stays with a person after a bad experience: The war has left a deep scar on this community. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French eschara, from Late Latin escara, from Greek]

scar2 v. (scarred, scars) [T] 1 to have or be given a permanent mark on your skin from a cut or wound: The fire had left him scarred for life. 2 if a bad experience scars you, it leaves you with a feeling of sadness and fear that continues for a long time: She was deeply scarred by her father’s suicide.

scarce /ˈskær/ adj. if food, clothing, water, etc. is almost none at all, or very little: The country has scarcely any industry. 2 definitely not, or almost certainly not: Owen is really angry, and you can scarcely blame him.

scarf /skiːf/ n. [U] a piece of material that you wear around your neck, head, or shoulders to keep you warm or to make you look attractive [Origin: 1500—1600 Old North French escarpe, from Old French escherpe “bag hung around the neck”] —see picture at CLOTHES scarf2 v. (slang) to make someone uncertain or nervous so that s/he does not do something s/he was going to do: I’d like to call him, but I don’t want to scare him off.

scarf3 n. (plural scarves /ˈskærvz/) 1 a material that you wear around your neck, head, or shoulders to keep you warm or to make you look attractive. 2 also a piece of material that you wear around your head to keep it warm or to make you look attractive.

scare /skiːr/ v. 1 [T] to make someone feel frightened: I didn’t mean to scare you. 2 We were scared to death (every scared). 3 The alarm scared the life out of me (=scared me very much)! 4 [I] to become frightened: I don’t scare easily, you know. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old Norse skjarr, from skjarrr “shy, fearful”] scare sb/sth off/away phr. v. 1 to make someone or something go away by frightening him, her, or it: A barking dog had scared the attackers away. 2 to make someone uncertain or nervous so that s/he does not do something s/he was going to do: I’d like to call him, but I don’t want to scare him off.

scare sb/sth up phr. v. (spoken) to make something although you have very few things to make it from: I’ll try to scare up some breakfast.

scare2 n. 1 [singular] a sudden feeling of fear: You really gave us a scare. 2 [C] a situation in which a group of people become frightened about something: a bomb scare scare-crow /ˈskærkraʊ/ n. [C] an object made to look like a person, that is put in a field to frighten birds away.

scared /ˈskɛrd/ adj. frightened by something or nervous about something —scared of being frightened by something or nervous about something —scared of afraid: A lot of people are scared of flying. She was scared (that) she might slip and fall on the ice. Steve heard some noise, and he was scared stiff/scared to death (=extremely frightened).

scar·let /ˈskɛrlt/ adj. a very bright red color —scarlet n. [U] —scar·let adj.

scarves /ˈskærvz/ n. a plural of scarf scary /ˈskiːri/ adj. (comparative scarier, superlative scariest) frightening: a scary movie scavenge /ˈskævəndʒ/ v. to search for food or useful objects among things that have been thrown away [Origin: 1600—1700 scavenger (16—21 centuries), from scavenger “tax collector, someone who cleans streets”] —scavenger n. [C] scenario

scenario /sēnərē/ or /ˈsɛnərē/ n. (plural scenarios) [C] a situation that could possibly happen but has not happened yet. Even in the worst-case scenario (=if the worst possible thing happens), we’ll still get the money back. | A likely scenario is that the college will hire a new head coach by June.

scene /ˈsiːn/ n.
1 play/movie [C] Eng. Lang. Arts a part of a play or movie during which the action all happens in one place over a short period of time: She comes on in Act 2, Scene 3. | a love scene
2 accident/crime [singular] the place where an accident or crime happened: Firefighters arrived on the scene within minutes. | the scene of the crime
3 View/Picture [C] a view or picture of a place: a peaceful country scene | Don’t say “There’s a nice scene from my window.” Say “There’s a nice view from my window.”
4 The music/fashion/political etc. scene a particular set of activities and the people who are involved in them: a newcomer to the political scene
5 Argument [C] a loud angry argument, especially in a public place: Sit down and stop making a scene!
6 not sb’s scene (informal) not the type of thing someone likes: Loud parties aren’t my scene.
7 behind the scenes secretly, while other things are happening publicly: People are working hard behind the scenes.
8 set the scene a) to provide the conditions in which an event can happen: This agreement sets the scene for democratic elections. | b) to describe the situation before you begin to tell a story [origin: 1500—1600 French scene, from Latin scena “stage, scene”]

sce·ner·y /sēnərē/ n. [U] 1 the natural features of a place, such as mountains, forests, etc.: What beautiful scenery! | 2 Eng. Lang. Arts the painted background, furniture, etc. used on a theater stage

sce·nic /ˈsēnɪk/ adj. with beautiful views of nature: Let’s take the scenic route home.

scent /sɛnt/ n. [C] 1 a particular smell, especially a pleasant one: the scent of roses | 2 the smell left behind by an animal or person [origin: 1300—1400 Old French sentir “to feel, smell,” from Latin sentire “to feel”]

scent·ed /ˈsɛntəd/ adj. having a pleasant smell: scented soap

schedule /ˈskədʒəl/ or /ˈskədʒəl/ n. 1 [C/U] a plan of what someone is going to do and when she is going to do it: What’s your schedule like on Wednesday? | I have a very busy full/night schedule this week (=I am very busy). | The project is six months behind schedule (=progressing more slowly than planned). | The building was finished ahead of schedule (=earlier than the planned time). | We are right on schedule (=doing things at the planned times).

2 [C] a list showing the times that buses, trains, etc. leave or arrive at a particular place [origin: 1300—1400 Old French cédule “piece of paper, note,” from Late Latin schedula, from Latin scheda “sheet of papyrus”]

schedule /ˈskədʒəl/ v. [T] to plan that something will happen at a particular time: The meeting has been scheduled for Friday. | Another new store is scheduled to open in three weeks.

sche·mat·ic /skiːˈmætɪk/ adj. showing the main parts of something in a simple way: a schematic drawing of a circuit

schematic /ˈsmətɪk/ n. [C] a simple drawing of a structure, especially of an electrical or mechanical system, that shows its main parts scheme /ˈskɛm/ n. [C] 1 a plan, especially to do something bad or illegal: a scheme to avoid paying taxes | 2 a system that you use to organize information, ideas, etc.: a classification scheme that divided the stories by genre | 3 color scheme the different colors in which a room or house is painted schism /ˈskɪzəm/ n. [C/U] (formal) the separation of a group of people into two groups as the result of a disagreement schiz·o·phre·ni·a /ˈskɪzəfoʊnɪə/ n. [U] a serious mental illness in which someone’s thoughts and feelings become separated from what is really happening around him/her [origin: 1900—2000 German schizophrenie, from Greek schizo- “split” + phren “mind”] —schizophrenic schlep /ˈsklep/ v. (schlepped, schlepping) [T] (informal) to carry or pull something heavy: I don’t want to schlep this bag all the way across town. [origin: 1900—2000 Yiddish shleppeyn, from Middle High German schleppen]

schlock /ˈskloʊk/ n. [U] (informal) things that are cheap, bad, or useless

schmaltz /ˈskmɑːltz/ n. [U] (informal, disapproving) dealing with strong emotions such as love and sadness in a way that seems silly: a schmaltzy love song [origin: 1900—2000 German schmaltz: “schmaltzy quality” (20—21 centuries), from Yiddish shnulzn “melted fat”] —schmaltzy schmooze /ˈskmoʊz/ v. [I] (informal, disapproving) to talk about unimportant things at a social event in a friendly way that is not always sincere [origin: 1800—1900 Yiddish shmuesn “to talk”] schmuck  /skælnk/ n. [C] (informal) a stupid person [Origin: 1800—1900 Yiddish šnuk “penis, stupid person,” from German schmuck “decoration.”] schnapps  /snæps/ n. [U] a strong alcoholic drink [Origin: 1800—1900 German schnapps, from Low German snapen “to snap”] scho·lar·ly  /skɔˈlɑrl/ adj. 1 relating to the serious study of a particular subject: a scholarly journal  2 someone who is scholarly spends a lot of time studying, and knows a lot about a particular subject

scho·lar·ship  /skɔˈlæʃ Ip/ n. 1 [C] an amount of money that is given to someone by an organization to help pay for his/her education: a football/music/academic, etc. scholarship  | Michael got a scholarship to college. 2 [U] the knowledge, work, or methods used in serious studying: Burns’s book is a work of great scholarship.

scho·las·tic  /skɔˈlæstIk/ n. (formal) relating to schools or teaching ➔ academic: an excellent scholastic record scho·lar·n·er  /skɔˈlaIn/ n. [U] education at school school  /skɔlj/ n.

1 BUILDING C[U] a place where children are taught: Which school did you go to? (attended)?  | I can get some work done while the kids are at school (=studying in the school building).

2 TIME AT SCHOOL [U] a) the time spent at school: What are you doing after school?  | b) the time during your life when you go to a school: Joanne’s one of my old friends from school.

3 in school attending a school, as opposed to having a job: Are your boys still in school?

4 UNIVERSITY a) [C,U] (informal) a college or university, or the time when you study there: “Where did you go to school?”  | “UC San Diego.”  b) [C] a department that teaches a particular subject at a university: the Harvard School of Law  | I worked my way through law/medical/graduate school.

5 FOR ONE SUBJECT [C,U] a place where a particular subject or skill is taught: an art school

6 TEACHERS/STUDENTS [sing/pl] the students and teachers at a school: The whole school was sorry when she left.

7 ART/IDEAS [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a number of artists, writers, etc. who are considered as a group because their style of work or their ideas are very similar: the Dutch school of painting

8 school of thought an opinion or way of thinking about something that is shared by a group of people: There are many schools of thought on how yoga should be taught.

9 FISH [C] BIOLOGY a large group of fish or other sea creatures that are swimming together: a school of dolphins [Origin: Old English scol, from Latin schola, from Greek schole “discussion, school”] school2 v. [T] (formal) to train or teach someone: The children are schooled in music and art from a very early age.

school·ing  /skɔlIŋ/ n. (formal) education at school science  /ˈsaɪəns/ n. [U] knowledge about the physical world that is based on testing and proving facts, or work that results in this knowledge: the teaching of science and the developments in science and technology 2 [C,U] the study of a particular type of human behavior: political science [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin scientia “knowledge,” from scire “to know”] science fiction n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS books and stories about the future, for example about traveling in time and space ➔ book sci·ent·if·ic  /ˈsaɪəntɪfIk/ adj. 1 relating to science: scientific discoveries  | a scientific experiment 2 using an organized system: We do keep records, but we’re not very scientific about it.

scientific method n. [U] SCIENCE a thorough method for doing scientific study, in which scientists test their ideas about how things work by doing experiments scientific notation n. [U] SCIENCE a way of writing very small and very large numbers. For example, 1x10^2 means one billion or 1,000,000,000; 1x10^-2 means one billionth or 0.000000001.

sci·ent·ist  /ˈsaɪəntɪst/ n. [C] someone who works in science sci·fi  /ˈsaɪəft/ n. [informal] SCIENCE FICTION

sci·en·ti·lat·ing  /ˈsaɪəntɪlɪŋ/ adj. (formal) very interesting, exciting, and impressive; a scintillating speech scis·sors  /ˈsaɪzərz/ n. [plural] a tool for cutting paper, cloth, etc., made of two sharp blades fastened together in the middle, and handles with holes for your finger and thumb: Hand me that pair of scissors, please. [Orig.: 1300—1400 Old French cissors, from Late Latin cissors “cutting tool”] cicera /sklərə/ n [C] BIOLOGY the white outer layer of your eye scoff /skəf, skoʊf/ v [I] to laugh at a person or idea, or to say something in a way that shows you think he, she, or it is stupid: David scoffed at my fears.

scold /skoʊld/ v [T] to tell someone in an angry way that s/he has done something wrong: Mom scolded the boys for taking the candy without asking first. —scolding n [C,U]

THE SAURUS rebuke, admonish, reprimand

➔ CRITICIZE

scoop /skuːp/ n [C] 1 a deep spoon for serving food, or the amount that a scoop contains: two scoops of ice cream 2 an important or exciting news story that is reported by one newspaper, television station, etc. before any of the others know about it scoop² v [T] to pick something up with a scoop, a spoon, or with your curved hand: Cut the melon and scoop out the seeds.

scoot /ˈskʌt/ v [I] (informal) 1 to move to one side, especially to make room for someone or something else: Can you scoot over? 2 to move quickly: Go to bed, Andrew – scoot!

scooter /ˈskʌtər/ n [C] 1 a small two-wheeled vehicle like a bicycle with an engine —see picture at TRANSPORTATION 2 a child’s vehicle with two small wheels, an upright handle, and a narrow board that you stand on with one foot, while the other foot pushes the vehicle along the ground scope /skəʊp/ n [C] 1 the range of things that a subject, activity, book, etc. deals with: A thorough discussion of this subject is beyond the scope of this paper. 2 the opportunity to do or develop something: I want a job with scope for promotion. [Orig.: 1500—1600 Italian scopo “purpose,” from Greek skopos score³ v. 1 [T] to win or earn points in a game, competition, or test: How many goals has he scored this year? 2 [T] to give a particular number of points in a game, competition, or test: The exam will be scored by computer. 3 score points (with sb) (informal) to do or say something to please someone or to make him/her feel respect for you: You’ll score points with your girlfriend if you send her flowers. 4 [T] (slang) to manage to get something such as sex or illegal drugs score-board /ˈskɔːrbɔːrd/ n [C] a sign on which the score of a game is shown as it is played score-card /ˈskɔːrkɑːrd/ n [C] a printed card used for writing the score of a game as it is played scorekeeper /ˈskɔːrkɛpər/ n [C] 1 someone who scores a goal, point, etc. in a game 2 also scorekeeper someone who records the number of points won in a game or competition as it is played scorn¹ /skɔːrn/ n [U] strong criticism of someone or something that you think is stupid or not as good as other people or things: He could barely disguise his scorn for her. —scornful adj scorn² v. [T] (formal) to show in an unwelcome way that you think that a person, idea, or suggestion is stupid or not worth considering: Skinner’s ideas were scorned by many American psychologists.

Scorpio /ˈskɔrpiəʊ/ n. 1 [U] the eighth sign of the zodiac, represented by a scorpion 2 [C] someone born between October 24 and November 21

Scorpio /ˈskɔrpiəʊ/ n. 1 [C] a tropical creature like an insect with a curling tail and a poisonous sting

Scotch /ˈskɑːtʃ/ n [C,U] a type of whiskey (=a strong alcoholic drink) made in Scotland, or a glass of this drink

Scotch tape n. [U] (trademark) sticky thin clear plastic in a long narrow band, used for sticking paper and other light things together

I want a job with scope for promotion.
scour /skəʊr/ v. [T] 1 to search very carefully and thoroughly through an area or a document: Police have scoured the area for evidence. 2 to clean something very thoroughly by rubbing it with a rough material

scouter /ˈskɔːtər/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a soldier who is sent to search an area in front of an army and get information about someone whose job is to look for good sports players, musicians, etc. in order to employ them: a talent scout 3 a member of the Girl Scouts or Boy Scouts [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French escouter “to listen,” from Latin auscultare] scout /skɔʊt/ n. 1 a small piece of paper, cloth, etc.: He wrote his address on a scrap of paper.

scramble /ˈskræmbl/ v. [I,T] 1 to quickly feel around with your fingers in order to find something 2 v. [I,T] to make a unpleasant noise by rubbing roughly against a surface: She couldn’t hear him over the racket of chairs scraping and trays being put away. 3 v. to get enough money for a particular purpose, when this is difficult: We’re trying to scrape together enough money for a vacation.

scrap /ˈskreɪp/ v. [I,T] 1 to remove something from a surface, using the edge of a knife, stick, etc.: Jerry bent to scrape the mud off his boots. 2 v. to rub against a rough surface in a way that causes slight damage or injury, or to make something do this: I scraped my knee on the sidewalk. 3 v. to decide not to do or use something because it is not practical: We’ve decided to scrap the whole idea of renting a cat.

scrap metal /ˈskræp ˈmeɪtl/ n. (metal from old cars, machines, etc. that is melted and used again) scrap paper

THE SAURUS
injury, wound, bruise, contusion, cut, laceration, bump ➔ injury

2 (informal) a situation in which you get into trouble or have difficulties: Harper had had previous scrapes with the law. 3 the noise made when one surface rubs roughly against another: the scrape of chalk on the blackboard

'scratch' n. [U] used paper on which you can write notes, lists, etc.

'scratchy' /'skrætʃi/ adj. (informal, approving) having a determined character and always willing to compete, argue, or fight

'scratch' v. 1 [T] to rub your skin with your nails ➔ itch: Will you scratch my back? 2 Try not to scratch those mosquito bites. ➔ see picture on page A8

THE SAURUS
touch, feel, stroke, rub ➔ touch

2 [T] to cut someone’s skin slightly with your nails or with something sharp: Did the cat scratch you? The tree’s branches had scratched her hands. 3 [T] to damage a surface by pulling something sharp against it: Don’t drag the chair — you’ll scratch the floor. 4 [I] if an animal scratches, it rubs its foot against something, making a noise: The dog kept scratching at the door to be let in. 5 scratch the surface to deal with only a very small part of a subject: He believes that we’ve only scratched the surface of what we can do with the internet. 6 [I] (informal) to stop planning to do something because it is no longer possible or practical: I guess we can scratch that idea. 7 [T] to remove a person or thing from a list: Her name had been scratched from off the list of competitors.

'scratch' n. 1 [C] a long thin cut or mark on the surface of something or on someone’s skin: Where did this scratch on the car come from? 2 from scratch without using anything that was prepared before: I made the cake from scratch. 3 without a scratch (informal) without being injured at all: Stuart was hurt in the accident, but Max escaped without a scratch.

'scratch' v. 1 [I] to make a loud high noise with your voice because you are hurt, frightened, excited, etc.: There was a loud bang and people started screaming. 2 [I] to shout something in a very loud high voice because you are angry or afraid: yeet: I screamed for help. 3 The girls were screaming at each other.

'scream' n. 1 [C] a loud high noise that you make when you are hurt, frightened, excited, etc.: He let out a scream.

THE SAURUS
shout, shriek, yell, bellow, holler ➔ shout

2 [I,T] to shout loudly in a high voice, especially because you are upset: “Get out of my way!” she screeched. 2 [I] if a vehicle screeches, its wheels make a loud high noise: The car screeched to a halt. [Origin: 1500—1600 screech “to screech” (13—20 centuries, from the sound] —screech n. [C]

'scream' v. 1 [C] the flat glass part of a television or a computer, on which you see words, pictures, etc.: a computer with an 18-inch screen | It’s easier to correct your work on screen than on paper. ➔ see picture on page A6 2 [C] a large flat white surface that movies are shown on in a movie theater 3 [singular, U] movies in general: his first appearance on screen | Her play was adapted for the big screen. 4 [C] a wire net that covers an open door or window so that air can get inside a house but insects cannot: screens on the windows | a screen door 5 [C] a piece of furniture like a thin wall that can be moved around and is used for dividing one part of a room from another 6 [C] something that hides a place or thing: The house was hidden behind a screen of bushes. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French escran, from Middle Dutch scherm]

'screaming' v. [T] to do medical tests on people in order to discover whether they have a particular illness: Women over the age of 50 are screened for breast cancer. 2 to find out information about people in order to decide whether they can be trusted in a particular job: People wanting to work with children are thoroughly screened. 3 also screen off to hide or protect something by putting something in front of it: The hedge screens the back yard from the street. 4 screen (your) calls to let your telephone calls be answered by an answering machine, so that you can decide whether or not to talk to the person who calls you 5 to show a movie or television program

'scremy' /'skræmi/ adj. thin and weak: a scrawny little kid

'scream' v. 1 [I] to make a loud high noise with your voice because you are hurt, frightened, excited, etc.: There was a loud bang and a film or television program: a screening of Spielberg's new movie 2 [C.U] medical tests that are done on a lot of people to make sure that they do not have a particular disease: new guidelines on screening for breast cancer 1 The group received mammograms, then follow-up screenings in succeeding months. 3 [U] tests or checks that are done to make sure that people or things are acceptable or useful for a particular purpose: security screening of airline passengers screen-play /'skrɪplɪ/ n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a story written for a movie or a television show

'screen, saver n [C] IT a moving picture that appears on a computer screen while you are not using the computer screen-writer /'skrɪn,raɪtə/ n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who writes screenplays screw /skrʊ/ n 1 [C] a thin pointed piece of metal that you push and turn in order to fasten pieces of wood or metal together ➔ NAIL, SCREW-DRIVER 2 have a screw loose (informal) to be slightly crazy [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French escroce “inner screw, nut,” from Latin scrofa (“female pig”)] screw /skrʊ/ v 1 [T] to fasten one thing to another, using a screw: Screw the shelf to the wall. 2 [T] to fasten or close something by turning it until it cannot be turned any more: Don’t forget to screw the top back on.

screw around phr. v (spoken) to waste time or behave in a silly way: Stop screwing around and get back to work!

screw up phr. v 1 screw ath ⇔ up (informal) to make a bad mistake that ruins what you intended to do: You’d better not screw up again! 2 He’s always screwing everything up. 2 screw ab ⇔ up (informal) to make someone feel extremely unhappy, confused, or anxious, especially for a long time: Carole’s family really screwed her up.

screw-ball /'skrəbɔl/ n [C] (informal) someone who seems very strange, silly, or crazy 2 screwball comedy a film or television program that is funny because silly or crazy things happen screw-driver /'skrʌ,draɪvə/ n [C] a tool that you use to turn screws screwed 'up adj (informal) 1 very unhappy, confused, or anxious because you have had bad experiences in the past. These poor kids, they’re so screwed up from their parents’ divorce. 2 not working, or in a bad condition: My left leg got screwed up playing football.

screw-y /'skrʊɪ/ adj (informal) slightly strange or crazy: a screwy plan scribble /'skrɪbl/ v 1 [T] also scribble down to write something quickly in a messy way: He scribbled down his phone number on a business card. 2 [I] to draw marks that do not mean anything

scruffy /'skrʌfl/ adj dirty and messy: a scruffy kid scribe /skræb/ n [C] someone whose job was to copy or record things by writing them scrimp /skrɪmp/ v scrimp and save to try to save as much money as you can, even though you have very little script /'skrɪpt/ n 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the written form of a speech, play, movie, etc. 2 [C.U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the set of letters used in writing a language [SYN] Alphabet: Arabic script script-ed /'skrɪptɪd/ adj a scripted speech or broadcast has been planned and written down so that it can be read script-ure /'skrɪptʃər/ n 1 [U] also the (Holy) Scripture the Bible 2 [C.U] the holy books of a particular religion —scriptural adj scribble /'skrɪbl/ v [I] to move information up or down a computer screen so that you can read it scruffle /'skrʌfl/ n [C] (informal) someone who hates to spend money [Origin: 1800—1900 Ebenezer Scrooge, character in A Christmas Carol (1843) by Charles Dickens] scribe /skraɪb/ n [C] BIOLOGY the bag of flesh on a man or male animal that contains the testicles scrounge /'skrʌŋʒ/ v (informal) 1 [T] to get money or something you want by asking other people to give it to you instead of earning it or paying for it yourself: We managed to scrounge up enough money to pay the bills. 2 [I] to search for something such as food or supplies: We saw children scrounging around for food in garbage cans.

scrub /skrʌb/ n 1 [U] EARTH SCIENCES low bushes and trees that grow in very dry soil scruff /skrɔf/ n by the scruff of the neck by the back of a person’s or animal’s neck: The cat had a kitten by the scruff of its neck.

scruffy /'skrʌfl/ adj dirty and messy: a scruffy kid
scrumptious

scrup-tious /skræpʃəs/ adj. (informal) food that is scrumptious tastes very good scrunch /skræntʃ/ v scrunched /skræntʃt/ adj [C] to twist and press a piece of paper into a ball scru-pul-ous /skræpjuələs/ adj 1 taking a lot of care to make sure that every detail is correct: This job requires scrupulous attention to detail. 2 careful to be honest and fair —scrupulously adv

scru-ti-nize /ˈskrutəˌnaɪz/ v [T] to examine someone or something very carefully and completely scru-ti-nize

scru-ti-nize /ˈskrutəˌnaɪz/ v [T] to examine, inspect, go through/go over —EXAMINE scru-ti-ny /ˈskrutəˌnaɪ/ n [U] the process of examining something carefully and completely: Closer scrutiny shows that the numbers don’t add up. | The senator’s office later came under scrutiny from the Justice Department.

scru-ti-ny /ˈskrutəˌnaɪ/ n [U] the process of examining something carefully and completely: Closer scrutiny shows that the numbers don’t add up. | The senator’s office later came under scrutiny from the Justice Department.

scu-ba div-ing /ˈskəbəˌdəvɪŋ/ n [U] the sport of swimming under water while breathing from a container of air on your back scuf-fer /ˈskəfər/ v [T] to make a mark on a smooth surface by rubbing something rough against it: I’ve already scuffed my new shoes.

scuf-fle /ˈskəfl/ n [C] a short fight: A policeman was injured in a scuffle with demonstrators yesterday. —scuffle v [T] sculp-tor /ˈskʌltər/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an artist who makes sculptures sculp-ture /ˈskʌlptʃər/ n. 1 [CU] ENG. LANG. ARTS a work of art made from stone, wood, clay, etc.: a bronze sculpture by Peter Helcer 2 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the art of making objects out of stone, wood, clay, etc.; a sculpture class [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin sculptura, from sculptura “to carve”] → ART sculp-tured /ˈskʌlptʃərd/ adj. 1 cut or formed from wood, clay, stone, etc., or decorated with sculptures 2 sculptured muscles/features etc. muscles, etc. that have a smooth attractive shape scum /skʌm/ n [singular, U] the thick dirty substance that forms on the surface of a liquid: a pond covered with green scum scru-ri-ous /ˈskəriəs, ˈskəriəl/ adj (formal) scrupulous remarks, articles, etc. contain damaging and untrue statements about someone scru-r-y /ˈskəri/ (scurried scurries) [I] to move very quickly with small steps: workers scurrying around the factory floor scut-tle /ˈskətl/ v 1 [T] (informal) to ruin someone’s plans or chance of being successful: The issue threatens to scuttle the peace talks. 2 [I] to run quickly with small steps, especially because you are afraid: Eddie scuttled down the hall. 3 [T] to sink a ship, especially in order to prevent it from being used by an enemy scythe /ˈsaɪθ/ n [C] a farming tool with a long curved blade, used for cutting grain or long grass

SD the written abbreviation of SOUTH DAKOTA

SE the written abbreviation of SOUTHEAST sea /siː/ n. 1 [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of salty water that is smaller than an ocean, or that is enclosed by land: the Mediterranean Sea | an inland sea (=a sea that is completely surrounded by land) 2 [singular, U] a word meaning the ocean that is used when talking about traveling in a ship or boat: The boat was heading out to sea (away from land). | four days at sea (on a boat in the ocean) 3 a sea of sth a large number or amount of something: a sea of people 4 the seas (literary) the ocean [ORIGIN: Old English sæ] sea-bed /ˈsiːbɛd/ n. the seabed EARTH SCIENCES the sea floor sea-board /ˈsiːbɔːrd/ n. [C] the east side of the U.S., next to the Atlantic Ocean: the eastern/Atlantic seaboard sea-floor n. the sea floor EARTH SCIENCES the land at the bottom of the sea sea-food /ˈsiːfud/ n. [U] ocean animals such as fish and SHELLFISH that can be eaten sea-gull /ˈsiːɡəl/ n. [C] a common gray and white bird that lives near the ocean and has a loud cry sea-horse /ˈsiːhɔːs/ n. [C] a small sea fish that has a head and neck that look like those of a horse sea-lf /siːl/ n. [C] 1 a large sea animal that has smooth fur, eats fish, and lives around coasts 2 an official mark that is put on documents, objects, etc., in order to prove that they are legal or real: the seal of the Department of Justice 3 a piece of rubber or plastic used on something such as a pipe, machine, or container in order to prevent something such as water or air from going into or out of it: a leak in the rubber seal 4 a piece of paper, plastic, WAX, etc., that you break in order to open a letter or container: Do not use this product if the seal on the bottle is broken. 5 seal of approval if you give something your seal of approval, you say that you accept or approve of it, especially officially: a diet that has the Medical Association’s seal of approval seal up v [T] 1 also seal up to close an entrance, container, or hole with something that stops air, water, etc. from coming in or out of it: Many of the sear /ˈsɪər/

in phr n. to stop something from going out of the thing it is contained in: Fry the steak quickly to seal in the flavor.

sea·man
/ˈsiːmən/, waterman
n. a person whose job is to make and sew clothes

sea-pen /siːpən/ n. a large type of seal that lives on the coasts of the Pacific Ocean seam /siːm/ n. 1 the line where two pieces of cloth have been sewn together 2 earth sciences a layer of a mineral, such as coal, that is under the ground 3 the line where two pieces of metal, wood, etc. have been joined together

sea·man
/ˈsiːmən/, waterman
n. a person whose job is to make and sew clothes

seam·less /ˈsiːmləs/ adj. something that is sealed is completely closed and cannot be opened unless it is broken, cut, or torn: a sealed envelope

sea·level
/ˈsiːlɛvl/ n. [U] the average level of the sea, used as a standard for measuring the height of an area of land, such as a mountain: Its highest ridge is 6,000 feet above sea level.

sea·lion
/ˈsiːlɪən/ n. [C] a large type of seal that lives on the coasts of the Pacific Ocean sea·plan·e /ˈsiːplɛn/ n. [C] an airplane that can land on water search

/ˈsɜːtʃ/ v. 1 [T] to try to find someone or something by looking very carefully: Denise searched her purse for a photo of Ben. | Jackie’s searching for a job. | I searched through the papers on my desk, looking for the receipt.

2 [T] if the police or someone in authority searches you or your house, bags, etc., they look for things you might be hiding: Police searched the house for weapons. 3 [T] if a computer searches for information, especially on the Internet: Try searching the Web for a cheap flight. 4 [I] to try to find an answer or explanation for a difficult problem: The Center is searching for solutions to campus overcrowding.

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·light /ˈsɜːtʃlaɪt/ n. a large bright light used for finding people, vehicles, etc. at night

search·light /ˈsɜːtʃlaɪt/ n. a large bright light used for finding people, vehicles, etc. at night

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

search·ing
/ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ adj. trying hard to find out details, facts, or someone’s feelings and thoughts: searching questions

sea·sick /siːsɪk/ adj. feeling sick because of the movement of a boat or ship — seasickness n. [U]

sea·side /siːsaɪd/ n. relating to the land next to a sea or ocean: a seaside restaurant

sea·son
/siːzn/ n. 1 [C] one of the four main periods in the year, which are winter, spring, summer, and fall: the change of the seasons 2 [C] usually singular a period of time in a year when something happens most often or when something is usually done: The rainy/wet season usually starts in May, the first game of the season (the time when a particular sport is played) the hunting/football/etc. season the holiday season (= the period from Thanksgiving to New Year) 3 be in season if particular vegetables or fruit are in season, it is the time of year when they are ready to be eaten. 4 out of season if someone hunts or catches fish out of season, she is doing it when it is not legal [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French saison, from Latin satio “act of planting seeds”]

season

1. n. a period of time: 6 the 2016–20 seasons 2. n. anything that happens during a particular season: a special season 3. adj. seasonal weather/temperatures: seasonal weather 4. adj. seasonable  seasonal  seasoning 5. n. seasoning 6. adj. seasoned 7. adj. seasonable  sea stack a tall thin upright rock structure in the ocean near an island or large area of land, formed by the gradual effect of the wind and waves moving against the land

sea stack n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a tall thin upright rock structure in the ocean near an island or large area of land, formed by the gradual effect of the wind and waves moving against the land

Lucy sat in the front/back seat. We had great seats at the Giants game.

COLLOCATIONS

back/rear/front seat – the back or front seat in a car driver’s seat – where the driver sits passenger seat – the seat next to the driver’s window/aisle seat – a seat next to the window or aisle on an airplane front row seat – a seat in a theater, stadium, etc. that is closest to the stage, field, etc.
good seat – one in a theater, stadium, etc. from which you can see well empty/vacant seat – one that is not being used book/reserve a seat – to arrange to have a seat in a theater, on an airplane, etc. at a particular time in the future

2 take/have a seat to sit down 3 [C] the part of a chair, bicycle, etc. that you sit on: the toilet seat 4 [C] a position as a member of the government or a group that makes official decisions: Republicans hold a majority of the seats in the Senate. 5 [singular] the part of your pants that you sit on: 6 baby/child/ car/safety seat a special seat that you put in a car for a baby or small child
7 seat of learning/government etc. (formal) a place, usually a city, where a university or government is based seating n. [U] 1 all the seats in a theater, restaurant, etc. 2 the places where people will sit, according to an arrangement: a seating plan for the reception

sea urchin n. [C] a small round sea animal that is covered with sharp points

sea weed n. [U] a common plant that grows in the ocean

sea-buckthorn n. [C] BIOLOGY related to a part of the body that produces special oils

scent n. [C] (spoken) a short form of “smell”: Wait a sec, will you?

seat

1. n. a place where you can sit, especially one in a vehicle, restaurant, theater, etc.: *2 seat next to me had red hair. 3 Please be seated. 4 seat yourself to sit down somewhere 5 to make someone sit in a particular place: The hostess will seat you soon. 6 baby/child/ car/safety seat* a special seat that you put in a car for a baby or small child

2. v. [T] to add salt, pepper, etc. to food in order to make it taste better

sea stack n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a tall thin upright rock structure in the ocean near an island or large area of land, formed by the gradual effect of the wind and waves moving against the land

sea stack n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a tall thin upright rock structure in the ocean near an island or large area of land, formed by the gradual effect of the wind and waves moving against the land

sea stack n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a tall thin upright rock structure in the ocean near an island or large area of land, formed by the gradual effect of the wind and waves moving against the land seat belt n. [C] a strong belt attached to the seat of a car or airplane, that you fasten around yourself for protection in an accident: Please fasten your seat belts.

seat-ing n. [U] 1 all the seats in a theater, restaurant, etc. 2 the places where people will sit, according to an arrangement: a seating plan for the reception

sea urchin n. [C] a small round sea animal that is covered with sharp points

sea weed n. [U] a common plant that grows in the ocean

sea-buckthorn n. [C] BIOLOGY related to a part of the body that produces special oils

scent n. [C] (spoken) a short form of “smell”: Wait a sec, will you?
disagreement: The southern states wanted to secede from the U.S. in the 1850s. —secession se·cess·ion·ist n [C] HISTORY someone who wants an area to formally stop being part of a country, especially someone who wanted the South to stop being part of the U.S. around the time of the CIVIL WAR e·clu·sion n [U] the state of being private and away from other people: The family lives in seclusion.

sec·ond1 /ˈsɛkənd/ number, pron. 1 2nd; something or someone that is after the first one: September 2nd | Jane’s second husband | She came in second in the women’s marathon. 2 another example of the same thing, or another in addition to the one you have: A second woman came into the room. 3 have second thoughts to start having doubts about a decision you have made: I had second thoughts about going to graduate school. 4 a second chance an opportunity to try to do something again, after you failed the first time. 5 be second to none to be better than anyone or anything else: His generosity is second to none.

second2 n 1 [C] a unit for measuring time. There are 60 seconds in a minute: Players have five seconds to take a shot. 2 [C, usually singular] a very short period of time: For a second, I thought he was joking. | I’ll be off the phone in a second. | Just a second, I’m almost ready. 3 seconds plural a) another serving of the same food, after you have eaten your first serving b) goods sold cheaply because they are not perfect: factory seconds [Origin: (1) 1300—1400 Medieval Latin secunda, from secunda pars minuta “second small part, one sixtieth of a minute,” from Latin secundus] sec·ond·ar·y /ˈsɛkəndərē/ adj 1 not as important or valuable as something else: Some of the students behave as though studying is secondary to their social life. 2 developing from something of the same type, or coming from it: a secondary infection 3 relating to secondary schools: secondary education second·ary 'growth n [U] BIOLOGY an additional increase in the width of the roots and stems of large plants or trees which supports the growing plant and helps it develop — PRIMARY GROWTH second·ary 'school n [C] a school that children go to after ELEMENTARY SCHOOL and before college — HIGH SCHOOL second·ary 'source n [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS a book, article, etc. that deals with a piece of literature or a historical event and that can be used to support your ideas in an ESSAY 2 HISTORY a description of an event by someone who was not there when it happened — PRIMARY SOURCE second·ary 'stress n [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the second strongest STRESS that you give to part of a word or sentence when you speak it, for example the “dar” in “secondary.” It is shown in this dictionary by the mark (⊥). — PRIMARY STRESS second 'base n [U] in a game of baseball, the second of the four places that a player must touch before gaining a point second 'class n [U] a way of traveling, especially on trains, that is cheaper but not as comfortable as first class second 'class·adj 1 considered to be less important than other people or things: They treated us like second-class citizens (=people who are not as important as other people in society). 2 relating to cheaper and less comfortable seats on a train, bus, etc.: second-class tickets second 'guess v [T] 1 to criticize something after it has already happened, by saying what should have been done: A lot of people have been second-guessing the police investigation. 2 to try to say what will happen or what someone will do before s/he does it sec·ond·hand /ˈsɛkəndhænd/ adj 1 secondhand clothes, furniture, books, etc. have already been owned or used by someone else: a cheap secondhand car 2 a secondhand report, secondhand information, etc. is told to you by someone who is not the person who originally said it — secondhand adv sec·ond·ly /ˈsɛkəndli/ adv used in order to give a second fact, reason, etc.: Firstly, I need the extra money, and secondly, I like working in a bar.

second 'nature n [U] something you have done so often that you now do it without thinking a lot about it: After you get used to driving a car, it becomes second nature.

second 'person n, the second person ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a form of a verb or PRONOUN that you use to show the person you are speaking to. “You” is a second person pronoun, “you are” is the second person singular of the verb “to be.” — FIRST PERSON, THIRD PERSON second 'rate adj not very good: second-rate artists second wind /ˈsɛkənd wɜnd/ n [singular] a new feeling of energy after you have been working or exercising very hard, and had thought you were too tired to continue se·cre·cy /ˈsɪkriteri/ n [U] the act of keeping something such as information secret, or the state of being secret: She swore him to secrecy (=made him promise to keep a secret). — talks conducted in secrecy se·cret1 /ˈsɪkret/ adj known about by only a few people: The deal was kept secret until the contracts were signed. | He kept his marriage secret from his parents (=he did not tell his parents about it). | secret government files [Origin: 1300—1400 Old English] secret

French, Latin secretus, past participle of secernere "to separate" | —secretly adv. 1 I secretly recorded our conversation.

Thesaurus

Confidential information is secret and not intended to be shown or told to other people: confidential FBI files

Classified information, documents, etc. are kept secret by the government or an organization: a spy who passed classified documents to the enemy

Sensitive information is kept secret because there would be problems if the wrong people knew it: The report contained sensitive information on the situation in Iraq

Covert activities are done secretly, especially by a government or official organization: covert operations run by the CIA

Undercover work is done secretly by the police to find out information: The police mounted an undercover operation to break the drug-smuggling ring.

Clandestine meetings, arrangements, actions, etc. are organized and carried out in secret: a clandestine nuclear weapons program

secret n. [C] 1 something that is kept hidden or that is known about only by a few people: Can you keep a secret (=not tell a secret)? 2 in secret in a private way or place that other people do not know about: The meetings took place in secret.

secretary n. [C] someone who secretly collects information or watches people for a government secretary n. (plural secretaries) [C] 1 someone whose job is to type letters, keep records, arrange meetings, answer telephones, etc. in an office 2 an official who is in charge of a large government department in the U.S.: the Secretary of Defense 3 an official in an organization whose job is to write down notes from meetings, write letters, etc.: the secretary of the PTA secretive adj. behaving in a way that shows you do not want to tell people your thoughts, plans, etc.

secret service n. the Secret Service a U.S. government department whose main purpose is to protect the President

sect n. [C] a group of people who have their own set of beliefs or religious habits, especially a group that has separated from a larger group [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French secte "group, sect," from Latin secta "way of life, type of people"]

secretion n. (=not tell a secret) hide, conceal —HIDE

—secretion /ˈsɛkrəʃən/ n. [C,U]

secretive adj. supporting a particular religious group and its beliefs, or relating to the differences between religious groups: nonsectarian sectarian adj. sectarian violence

sect n. [C] 1 one of the parts that an object, group, place, etc. is divided into: the eastern section of the city, the reference section of the library 2 one of the parts that are then fitted together: the brass section of the orchestra, the poor section of society section n. 1 [T] to separate something into parts section 2 off v. phr. v. to divide an area into parts: The old part of the grayyard had been sectioned off by trees.

secular adj. not religious or not controlled by a religious authority: a secular government secularize v. (secularization) to remove the control or influence of religious groups from a society or an institution secularization /ˈsɛksələrəzən/ n. [U]

secure v. 1 to get or achieve something: secure a job 2 safe and protected from danger: The bank’s deposits remain secure.

secure adj. 1 not likely to change or be at risk: a secure job 2 safe and protected from danger: The bank’s deposits remain secure.

securely adv. 1 The door was securely locked.

secure adj. children who feel secure in their parents’ love —securely adv. 1 to get or achieve something important, especially after a lot of effort: a treaty designed to secure peace secure v. 1 to get or achieve something important, especially after a lot of effort: a treaty designed to secure peace

secure adj. 1 not likely to change or be at risk: a secure job 2 safe and protected from danger: The bank’s deposits remain secure.
secured the border. 3 to fasten or tie something tightly in a particular position: Her ponytail was secured with an elastic band.

THESARUS

- fasten, attach, join, glue, tape, staple, clip, tie, button (up), zip (up) ➔
- FASTER

se-cu-ri-ty /'sɛkjʊrəti/ n. [U] 1 the state of being safe, or the things you do to keep someone or something safe: national security | airport security checks | security cameras | tight security at the conference | the security of Internet purchases 2 protection from change, risks, or bad situations: employees with job security | Rules and order can give a child a sense of security. 3 the guards who protect a business’s buildings, equipment, and workers: The receptionist called security.

sedan /sedən/ n. [C] a large car that has seats for at least four people and has a trunk sediment /sedəmənt/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES the solid material, such as dirt, that settles at the bottom of a liquid sedimentary rock /sedə'məntrɪ rək/ n. EARTH SCIENCES made of the sediment at the bottom of lakes, oceans, etc.: sedimentary rock sedentarius /sedəntəriə/ adj. from Latin sedentarius, from sedere “to sit” sedentary /sedəntəri/ adj. a sedentary job involves sitting down or not moving very much [Origin: 1500–1600 French sédentaire, from Latin sedentarius, from sedere “to sit”] sedentary life /sedəntərē ˈlaɪf/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES being made to sit for a long time: The sedentary life of a building is a result of the design of the building.

sedentary work /sedəntəri ˈwɜːrk/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES work that involves sitting down or not moving very much: Sedentary work is not good for your health.

sedendary /sedənˈdərē/ adj. [plural, sedentary] EARTH SCIENCES made of the sediment at the bottom of lakes, oceans, etc.: sedimentary rock sedentariness /sedəntəˈrɪnəs/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES being sedentary: It is important to avoid sedentariness and to get up and walk around regularly.

sedentary school /sedəntərē ˈscool/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES a school where students sit for a long time: Sedentary schools are not good for students.

sedentary lifestyle /sedəntəˈrɪ stɪˈlɪf/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES being sedentary: It is important to avoid sedentary lifestyles and to get up and walk around regularly.

sedentary work /sedəntərē ˈwɜːrk/ n. [plural, sedentary] EARTH SCIENCES work that involves sitting down or not moving very much: Sedentary work is not good for your health.

sedentary life /sedəntərē ˈlaɪf/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES being made to sit for a long time: The sedentary life of a building is a result of the design of the building.

sedentary occupation /sedəntərē ˈɒkˌjʊərənʃ/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES occupation that involves sitting down or not moving very much: Sedentary occupations are not good for health.

sedentary diet /sedəntərē ˈdaɪt/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES diet that involves sitting down or not moving very much: Sedentary diets are not good for health.

sedentary exercise /sedəntərē ˈɛksərˌsaɪz/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES exercise that involves sitting down or not moving very much: Sedentary exercises are not good for health.

sedentary lifestyle /sedəntəˈrɪ stɪˈlɪf/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES being sedentary: It is important to avoid sedentary lifestyles and to get up and walk around regularly.

see /sɪ/ v. (past tense saw, past participle seen) 1 NOTICE [T] to notice someone or something, using your eyes: He saw her go into the house. | Can I see your ticket, please? | Did you see where the car went off the road? 2 UNDERSTAND [T] to understand or realize something: Do you see how it works? | I could see (that) something was terribly wrong. | (You) see, you have to put in this part first (was used when you are explaining something). | “It goes in the red box.” | “Oh, I see (= I understand).” | At 14, he couldn’t see the point of (=understand the reason for) staying in school. | It’s all coming apart here, see what I mean? see what I’m saying? (was used to check that someone understands) 3 ABILITY TO SEE [T] to be able to use your eyes to look at things and know what they are: I can’t see a thing without my glasses. 4 VISIT/MEET [T] to visit, meet, or have a meeting with someone: I’m seeing Margo and Rod on Saturday. | You ought to see a doctor. 5 FIND OUT [T] to find out information or a fact: Plug it in and see if it’s working. | Marion looked out to see what was happening. | We could see that it was dangerous. 6 WATCH [T] to watch a television program, play, movie, etc.: Karl’s seen “Star Wars” about eight times. 7 CONSIDER [T] to consider someone or something in a particular way: I thought I’d done the right thing, but Bill saw it differently. | Fights on TV can make children see violence as normal. | Well, the way I see it, that school is no worse than any other.

USAGE

You look at a picture, person, thing, etc. because you want to: Hey, look at these jeans.
something something happen  has seen a 1% increase in burglaries. その 1% が増えて その年には それが見られました。 2 can’t/couldn’t seem to do sth used to say that you have tried to do something but cannot do it: I can’t seem to relax. 3 used to make what you are saying less strong or certain, and more polite: She seems to be speaking less strongly now.

seemingly endless road

seem to

seem to say that you are not sure that something is true but may not be true, or that you have not done something but may have done it: She seems to have forgotten the appointment.

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seems to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something used to make what you are saying appear more true but not completely true: He seems to have changed his opinion.

seem to have something

seemly segment

I can’t seem to relax. Holly was almost shaking.

Holly was almost shaking.

Children play, that is balanced in the middle so that the price of the Earth during an earthquake.

The price of the Earth during an earthquake.

seem to be to be so strong or certain, and less polite: She seemed to have forgotten the appointment.

seem to have something

seem to have something used to make what you are saying appear more true but not completely true: He seemed to have changed his opinion.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to have something used to make what you are saying appear more true but not completely true: He seemed to have changed his opinion.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something

seem to relax

seem to relax used to say that you do not feel or look relaxed: She seemed to have settled down now.

seem to have something

seem to have something
person that is chosen (syn: choice) his selection as the Democratic candidate | the selection of a new leader | Make a selection from the list. 2 [C usually singular] a collection of things of one type, especially things for sale: a wide selection of jewelry 3 [C usually singular] a number of things that have been chosen from among a group of things of the same type: a selection of Simon and Garfunkel songs selective /sɛlˈɛktɪv/ (AC) adj. careful about what you choose to do, buy, etc.: a highly selective university selective breeding n. [U] biology the deliberate mating (mate) of two animals in order to produce better animals than existing ones self/sɛlf/ n. (plural selves /sɛlvz/) 1 [C usually singular] the type of person you are, including your character, abilities, etc.: He’s starting to feel like his old/unusual self again (= feel normal again, after feeling bad or sick). 2 [U] your feeling of being a separate person, different from other people: the need for a child to develop a sense of self self-ab-sorbed adj. interested only in yourself and the things that affect you self-appointed adj. (disapproving) giving yourself a duty or job without the agreement of other people: a self-appointed guardian of morality self-assured adj. confident about what you are doing —self-assurance n. [U]

Thesaurus: confident, self-confident, assertive • CONFIDENT self-centered adj. interested only in yourself and not thinking about other people (syn: selfish) a vain, self-centered man self-confident adj. sure that you can do things well, that people like you, etc. (syn: confident —self-confidence n. [U]

Thesaurus: confident, self-assured, assertive • CONFIDENT self-conscious adj. worried and embarrassed about what you look like or what other people think of you: “Hi,” I said, suddenly self-conscious about my accent.

Thesaurus: shy, timid, bashful • SHY self-contained adj. complete in itself and not needing other things to make it work: a self-contained army base self-control n. [U] the ability to control your feelings and behavior even when you are angry, excited, or upset: children learning to exercise self-control self-defeating adj. making a situation have a bad result for you: the self-defeating attempt to stay young self-defense n. [U] the use of force to protect yourself from attack: She shot him in self-defense.

self-de/ni'al n. [U] the practice of not having or doing the things that you enjoy, either because you cannot afford them or for moral or religious reasons self-destructive adj. self-destructive actions are likely to harm or kill the person who is doing them self-discipline n. [U] the ability to make yourself do the things that you ought to do, without someone else making you do them: Working at home takes self-discipline. —self-disciplined adj.

self-effacing adj. (formal) not wanting to attract attention to yourself or your achievements (syn: modest self-employed adj. working for yourself rather than for a company self-esteem n. [U] the feeling of being satisfied with your own abilities, and that you deserve to be liked or respected: Lack of success at school often leads to low/poor self-esteem.

self-evident adj. clearly true and needing no proof (syn: obvious self-explanatory adj. clear and easy to understand, with no need for explanation: The controls are pretty self-explanatory.

self-fulfilling prophecy n. [C] a statement about what will happen in the future, that becomes true because you changed your behavior to make it happen self-government n. [U] politics the government of a country or part of a country by its own citizens, rather than by another country or group self-help n. [U] the use of your own efforts to deal with your problems instead of depending on other people: self-help books self-image n. [C] the idea that you have of your own abilities, appearance, and character: a poor/good/positive self-image self-important adj. (disapproving) thinking you are more important than other people self-improvement n. [U] the activity of trying to learn more skills or deal with your problems better self-indulgent adj. (disapproving) allowing yourself to have or enjoy something that you do not need: He’s irresponsible and self-indulgent. —self-indulgence n. [singular, U] self-inflicted adj. a self-inflicted injury, problem, etc. is one that you have caused yourself: a self-inflicted gunshot wound self-interest n. [U] the state of caring most about what is best for you, and less about what is best for other people: an action that is in the national self-interest selfish /ˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj. (disapproving) caring only about yourself and not about other people (ant: unselfish) Don’t be selfish. —selfishness n. [U] —selfishly adv.

self-less /ˈselflɪs/ adj. caring about other people more than about yourself self-made adj. successful and rich because of your own efforts: a self-made millionaire self-pity n. [U] the feeling of being too sorry for yourself self-portrait n. [C] a picture that you make of yourself self-possession adj. calm and confident because you are in control of your feelings self-preservation n. [U] keeping yourself from being harmed or killed: the instinct for self-preservation self-reliance n. [U] the ability to act and make decisions by yourself without depending on other people —self-reliant adj.
self-respect n. [U] a feeling of confidence and happiness about your abilities, ideas, and character: She needs to regain her confidence and self-respect. —self-respecting adj.
self-restraint n. [U] the ability to control what you do or say in situations that upset you self-righteous adj. (disapproving) very proud and sure that your beliefs, attitudes, etc. are right, in a way that annoys other people self-sacrifice n. [U] (approving) the act of giving up what you need or want in order to help someone else —self-sacrificing adj.
self-satisfied adj. smug self-service also self-serve adj. relating to stores, restaurants, etc. where you get things for yourself, rather than being served: a self-service gas station self-serving adj. (disapproving) showing that you will only do something if it gains you an advantage: self-serving politicians self-styled adj. (disapproving) having given yourself a title, position, etc. without having a right to it: a self-styled expert self-sufficient adj. able to provide all the things you need without help from other people: a country that is self-sufficient in food production —self-sufficiency n. [U] self-supporting adj. able to earn enough money to support yourself: a self-supporting museum sell /sɛl/ v. (past tense and past participle sold /səld/) 1 [I,T] to give something to someone in exchange for money ART buy: I sold him my baseball card collection. | We sold the car for $5,000. | It is illegal to sell alcohol to minors. 2 [I,T] to offer something for people to buy: a store selling hand-crafted jewelry | Avocados sell for only a few cents each in Mexico. 3 [I,T] to make someone want to buy something: Advertisers know that sex sells. 4 [T] to be bought by people: Her novels have sold millions of copies. | Lower-priced homes continue to sell well/badly. 5 [I,T] to try to make someone accept a new plan, idea, etc., or to become accepted: the candidate’s attempts to sell his policies to the voters [Origin: Old English sellan] sell off phr. v. to sell something, especially cheaply, because you need the money or want to get rid of it: The company is selling off everything but its core business.
sell out phr. v. 1 to sell all of something, so that there is none left: The concert is almost sold out. 2 (informal) to do something that is against your beliefs or principles, in order to get power or money: a politician who has sold out to the gun lobby self-er /ˈselfər/ n. [C] 1 a person or company that sells something (ART) buyer 2 good/best/biggest etc. seller a product that a company sells a lot of —BEST-SELLER 'selling point' n. [C] a special feature of a product that will make people want to buy it sell-out /ˈsɛlˈaʊt/ n. [plural singular] 1 a performance, sports event, etc. for which all the tickets have been sold: a sellout crowd 2 (informal) a situation in which someone does not do something he promised, or in which he does something that is against his/her beliefs or principles: Environmental groups labeled the deal a sellout.
selves /ˈselfz/ n. the plural of SELF se-man-tics /ˈsmænətɪks/ n. [U] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the meaning of a word or phrase 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of the meanings of words and phrases —semantic adj.
sem-a-phore /ˈseməfoʊr/ n. [U] a system of sending messages using two flags, that you hold in different positions to represent letters and numbers sem-bullance /ˈsembələns/ n. a/some semblance of sth a condition or quality that is similar to another one: Life was returning to some semblance of normality.
sem-en /ˈsemiən/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the liquid that is produced by the male sex organs and contains SPERM sem-es-ter /ˈseɪmɪstər/ n. [C] one of two periods into which a year at school or college is divided ➔ QUARTER: the spring/fall semester ➔ UNIVERSITY [Origins: 1800—1900 German, Latin semestris “half-yearly,” from sex “six” + mensis “month”] sem-i /ˈsemi/ n. [C] informal 1 a very large heavy truck consisting of two connected parts ➔ a SEMIFINAL sem-i-cir-cle /ˈsemiˌsɜkəl/ n. [C] 1 MATH half a circle ➔ see picture at CIRCLE 2 a group arranged in a curved line: chairs arranged in a semicircle —semicircular /ˌsemiˈsɜkərɪkl/ adj.
semi-circular canal n. [C] BIOLOGY one of three tubes inside your inner ear that gives your brain information about your body’s position and direction and helps to keep you balanced.

semi-colon /semıˈkɔlən/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (:) used in writing to separate independent parts of a sentence or list.

semi-conductor /sɛmɪˈkɒntədər/ n. [C] PHYSICS a substance such as silicon that is used in electronic equipment to allow electricity to pass through it.

semi-final /ˈsemiˌfɪnəl/ adj.

semi-lunar valve /ˈsɛmiljuər vɔlv/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of two small parts in your heart that open and close to prevent blood flowing back into the left and right ventricles.

see picture at heart

semi-nal /ˈsemiˌnæl/ adj. new and important, and influencing the way something develops in the future: Darwin’s seminal work on evolution.

semi-nar /ˈsemiˌnɛr/ n. [C] a short course or a special meeting that people attend in order to study a particular subject: a seminar on effective management.

sen·a·tor /ˈsenətor/ n. [C] a member of the Senate: Senator Feinstein.

sen·a·tor·ial /ˌsenəˈtorəl/ adj.

sen·a·tor·ial /ˌsenəˈtorəl/ adj.

send /send/ v. (past tense and past participle sent /sɛnt/ [T]) 1 to arrange for something to go or be taken to another place, especially by mail: Taryn sent some pictures of the baby. | I sent you an e-mail yesterday. | Do you want me to send a copy to you? | a letter sent by fax 2 to ask or tell someone to go somewhere: The UN is sending troops to the region. | The refugees were sent back to Sudan. | Frank came, but I sent him away. 3 to arrange for someone to go somewhere and stay there: Morrison was sent to jail for five years. 4 send your love/best wishes etc. to ask someone to give your greetings, good wishes, etc. to someone else: Mark sends his love. 5 to make someone or something do something: The blast sent people running for safety. | The film sent me to sleep. [Origin: Old English sendan] send away for sb/sth v. to order something through the mail.

send sb/sth ++ down phr. v. to make something lose value: The news sent shares down.

send for sb/sth v. to ask or order someone to come to you, or that something be brought or mailed to you: An ambulance was sent for. | Send now for your free catalog.

send sb/sth ++ off phr. v. 1 to mail something, usually by mail, to a place where it can be dealt with: Did you send in your application? 2 to send soldiers, police, etc. somewhere to deal with a dangerous situation: The FBI sent in agents to investigate.

send sb/sth ++ out phr. v. 1 to mail something somewhere: She sent off the completed book to her publisher. 2 to make someone go somewhere: We got sent off to camp every summer.

send sb/sth ++ to phr. v. to make something or someone go from one place to various other places: The wedding invitations were sent out weeks ago.

sen·ior·ity /ˈsenəriərəti/ n. (plural seniorities) 1 the state of being older or higher in rank than someone else: a position of seniority

sen·ior·ity /ˈsenəriərəti/ n. (plural seniorities) 1 the state of being older or higher in rank than someone else: a position of seniority.

sen·ior·ity /ˈsenəriərəti/ n. (plural seniorities) 1 the state of being older or higher in rank than someone else: a position of seniority.
sensation /sen'seʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the ability to feel, or a feeling that you get from one of your five senses: Matt had a burning sensation in his arm. | Jerry realized that he had no sensation in his legs. | [C] a feeling that is difficult to describe, caused by a particular event, experience, or memory: I had the strangest sensation that I was being watched. 3 [C] usually singular extreme excitement or interest, or someone or something that causes this: The band's first album caused a sensation among rap fans.

sensational /sen'seʃənl/ adj. very interesting or exciting: a sensational finish to the race. 2 (disapproving) intended to excite or shock people: sensational news stories.

sensible /sen'sabil/ adj. 1 [U] good understanding and judgment, especially about practical things, that allows you to make sensible decisions. "You can't make sense of (understand) the report." b) if something makes sense, there seems to be a good reason for it: Why would she wander off alone? It doesn't make sense. c) to be a sensible thing to do: It makes sense to take care of your health while you're young.

sense /sen/ n. 1 [U] sense of humor the ability to understand and enjoy things that are funny, or to make people laugh: Larry has a great sense of humor.

sense /sens/ n. 1 [U] sense of direction (ability to know where I was). 9 in the sense that used in order to say that something you have just said is true in a particular way: The experiment was a success in the sense that we got the results we were looking for.

sensibility /sen'sibiləti/ n. 3 [pl. sensibilities] (C,U) the way that someone reacts to particular subjects or types of behavior: We apologize if we have offended the sensibilities of our viewers. | our moral sensibility.

sensitive /sen'sativ/ adj. 1 showing good judgment: Come on, be sensible. | a sensible approach to the problem.

sensitive /sen'sitiv/ adj. 2 suitable for a particular purpose, and practical rather than fashionable: Wear sensible shoes. | sensibly adv.

sensory /sen'sorē/ adj. 1 a sensitive person is able to understand the feelings, problems, etc. of other people. | insensitive: a husband who is sensitive to his wife's needs.

sensor /sen'sər/ n. [C] a piece of equipment. that is used to find light, heat, movement, etc., even in very small amounts sen-so-ry /ˈsɛnsərɪ/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to your sense of sight, hearing, smell, taste, or touch: a baby’s sensory perception sen-su-al /ˈsɛnsjʊəl/ adj. relating to physical pleasure, especially sexual pleasure: a sensual massage | She believes that food can be a sensual pleasure. —sensuality /ˈsɛnsjʊələti/ n. [U]

sen-su-ous /ˈsɛnsjʊəs/ adj. pleasing to your sense of sight, hearing, smell, taste, or touch: the sensuous feel of silk | 2 attractive in a sexual way: her sensuous curves sent /ˈsɛnt/ v. the past tense and past participle of send sent-ence1 /ˈsɛntəns/ n. 1 [C] a group of written or spoken words that has a subject and a verb, and expresses a complete thought or asks a question. Sentences written in English begin with a capital letter and end with a period, a question mark, or an exclamation point. 2 a punishment that a judge gives to someone who is guilty of a crime: a 10-year prison sentence | The defendant faces a 28-year sentence (=spending 28 years in prison). 3 a QUESTION MARK that is used to find light, heat, movement, etc., even in very small amounts sent-ence2 v. [T] if a judge sentences someone who is guilty of a crime, s/he gives him/her a punishment: He was sentenced to life in prison for the murder.

sep-ar-at-ed /ˈsepərətɪd/ adj. 1 showing emotions such as love, pity, and sadness too strongly: a sentimental movie | Laurie still gets sentimental about our old house.

two feelings such as pity, love, or sadness that are considered to be too strong or not appropriate for a particular situation: There’s no room for sentiment in business!

sep-ar-a-ble /ˈsepərəbəl/ adj. able to be separated from something else (ANT: inseparable)

sep-a-rate1 /ˈsepərət/ adj. 1 not related to or not affected by something else: He keeps his professional life separate from his private life. 2 different: a word with four separate meanings | My wife and I have separate bank accounts. 3 not joined to each other or touching something else: There is a small smoking area separate from the main dining room. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of separate, from se- “apart” + parare “to prepare, get”] —separately adv

sep-a-rate2 /ˈsepərət/ v. [I,T] to divide or split something into two or more parts, or to make something do this: Ms. Barker separated the class into four groups. | At this point the satellite separates from the rocket.

divide – to separate something into a number of smaller parts: The teacher divided the class into groups.

split – to separate something into two or more groups, parts, etc.: We split the money between us.

break up – to separate something into smaller parts: The phone company was broken up to encourage competition.

segregate – to separate one group of people from others because of race, sex, religion, etc.: Schools were racially segregated.

partition (formal) – to divide a country, room, or building into two or more parts: After World War II, Germany was partitioned into East and West Germany.

apportion (formal) – to decide how something should be divided between various people: The funds are apportioned to each of the schools in the district.

2 [T] to be between two things so that they cannot touch each other or connect to each other: A curtain separated one patient’s area from another. 3 [I] to start to live apart from your husband, wife, or sexual partner: When didusty and Jane separate?

divorce, split up/break up, leave sb ➔ divorce

4 [I,T] to move apart, or to make people do this: Police moved in to separate the crowd. | In the fog, they got separated from the rest of their group.
with your husband, wife, or sexual partner: Her parents are separated.

separation /sepˈrəʃən/ n. 1 [U] (formal) the act of separating or the state of being separate: the separation of powers between Congress and the President 2 [C]U a period of time when two or more people live apart from each other: Separation from the family is hard on children. 3 [C] a situation in which a husband and wife agree to live apart even though they are still married sequence /ˈsɛkwəns/ n. [singular, U] 1 adj. a series of related events, actions, etc. that happen one after the other: 2 n. [plural] a group of events, actions, or things of the same kind that happen one after the other: There has been a series of accidents along this road. 3 n. a set of television or radio programs with the same characters or on the same subject: a new comedy series 4 n. a set of sports games played between the same two teams: the World Series (=in baseball) 5 n. a set of events that led to World War I (1914–1918) 6 n. a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 7 n. a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other in the correct order: a serial killer/rapist etc. someone who commits the same crime several times 8 n. a story that is broadcast or printed in several separate parts on television, in a newspaper, etc.

serial number n. [C] a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number series /ˈsəriəs/ n. 1 a group of events, actions, or things of the same kind that happen one after the other: there has been a series of accidents along this road. 2 a set of television or radio programs with the same characters or on the same subject: a new comedy series 3 a set of sports games played between the same two teams: the World Series (=in baseball) 4 a set of events that led to World War I (1914–1918) 5 a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 6 a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other 7 a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 8 a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other in the correct order: a serial killer/rapist etc. someone who commits the same crime several times 9 a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 10 a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other in the correct order: a serial killer/rapist etc. someone who commits the same crime several times 11 a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 12 a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other in the correct order: a serial killer/rapist etc. someone who commits the same crime several times 13 a number put on things that are produced in large quantities, so that each one has its own different number 14 a number put on things that are arranged or happening one after the other in the correct order: a serial killer/rapist etc. someone who commits the same crime several times serve 1 [sərv] v.

1 FOOD/DRINKS [I,T] to give someone food or drinks as part of a meal: Dinner will be served at 8:00. [The crab was served with melted butter and a slice of lemon.]
2 BE USED [I,T] to be appropriate for a particular purpose: The couch can also serve as a bed. [Critics claim that the weapon serves no useful military purpose.]
3 DO A JOB [I,T] to spend time doing a particular job, especially one that is helpful: Kelly served a three-year term in the Army. [In 1993, Campbell became the first woman to serve as Canada’s prime minister.]
4 PROVIDE STH [T] to provide an area or a group of people with something that they need or use: Its Southwestern Bell subsidiary serves customers in Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas.
5 IN PRISON [T] to spend time in prison: Baxter served a five-year sentence for theft.
6 LEGALLY [T] to officially give or send someone a legal document to appear in court: Jones was served a summons to appear in court.
7 SPORTS [I,T] to start playing a game such as tennis or an economic system in which most people work for businesses that provide services, rather than industries involved in manufacturing (=producing goods)
serve 2 n. [C] the action in a game such as tennis in which you throw the ball into the air and hit it to your opponent server 1 [sərvə] n. [C] 1 if the main computer on a network that controls all the others. 2 someone who brings you food in a restaurant serve 1 [sərv] n.
1 IN A STORE ETC. [U] the help that people who work in a restaurant, hotel, store, etc. give you: The food is terrific but the service is lousy. [the customer service department]
2 WORK DONE [C,U] the work that you do for someone or an organization: He retired after 20 years of service. [You may need the services of a lawyer. She was given an award in honor of her years of service to the Democratic Party.]
3 BUSINESS [C] a business that provides help or does jobs for people rather than producing things: a cleaning service
4 PUBLIC SERVICES things such as hospitals, schools, etc. that are provided by the government for the public to use
5 CEREMONY [C] a formal religious ceremony, especially in a church: The funeral service will be held on Friday.
6 HELP singular, UJ: informal help that you give to someone: “Thank you so much.” “I’m glad to be of service (=to help).” We’re at your service (=available to help). Ma’am.
7 THE SERVICE a country’s military forces, especially considered as a job
8 GOVERNMENT [C] an organization that works for the government: the foreign service
9 SPORTS [C] an act of hitting the ball to your opponent to start a game such as tennis
10 CAR/MACHINE [C] a regular examination of a car or machine to make sure that it works correctly
11 IN SERVICE/OUT OF SERVICE to be available or not available for people to use: Two of the Fire Department’s trucks were out of service for much needed repairs.
serve 2 v. [T] 1 to examine a machine or vehicle and fix it if necessary: When’s the last time you had the car serviced?
serveable /sərvəsəvəl/ adj. ready or able to be used service charge n. [C] an amount of money that is added to the price of something in order to pay for extra services that you use when buying it: For phone orders, there’s a $1 service charge.
service, economy n. [C] ECONOMICS a country or an economic system in which most people work for businesses that provide services, rather than businesses involved in manufacturing (=producing goods) service man /sərvəsmən, -mən/ n. (plural servicemen -men, -men/) [C] a man who is a member of the military service station n. [C] a gas station service woman /sərvəswʊmən/ n. (plural servicewomen -women, -women/) [C] a woman who is a member of the military servile /sərvəl/ adj. (disapproving) very eager to obey and please someone serving /sərvɪŋ/ n. [C] an amount of food that is enough for one person service tude /sərvɪtud/ n. [U] the condition of being a slave or being forced to obey someone session /sɛʃən/ n. [C] 1 a period of time used for a particular purpose, especially by a group of people: a question-and-answer session | teacher-training sessions 2 a formal meeting or group of meetings, especially of a court of law or government organization: The State Court is now in session. 3 a part of the year when classes are given at serpent /ˈsɛrpənt/ n. [C] (literary) a snake [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin, present participle of servoere “to creep”] serrated /ˈsɛrətɪd/ adj. having a sharp edge made of a row of connected V-shaped points: a serrated knife serum /ˈsɜrəm/ n. [C,U] BIOLOGY a liquid containing substances that fight infection or poison, that is put into a sick person’s blood servant /ˈsɜrvənt/ n. [C] someone who is paid to clean someone’s house, cook food for him/her, etc.

serve1 /sərv/ v.
1 food/drinks [I,T] to give someone food or drinks as part of a meal: Dinner will be served at 8:00. [The crab was served with melted butter and a slice of lemon. | Why aren’t you out there serving the guests?]
2 be used [I,T] to be appropriate for a particular purpose: The couch can also serve as a bed. [Critics claim that the weapon serves no useful military purpose.]
3 do a job [I,T] to spend time doing a particular job, especially one that is helpful: Kelly served a three-year term in the Army. [In 1993, Campbell became the first woman to serve as Canada’s prime minister.]
4 provide sth [T] to provide an area or a group of people with something that they need or use: Its Southwestern Bell subsidiary serves customers in Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas.
5 in prison [T] to spend time in prison: Baxter served a five-year sentence for theft.
6 legally [T] to officially give or send someone a legal document to appear in court: Jones was served a summons to appear in court.
7 sports [I,T] to start playing a game such as tennis or an economic system in which most people work for businesses that provide services, rather than industries involved in manufacturing (=producing goods)
serve 2 n. [C] the action in a game such as tennis in which you throw the ball into the air and hit it to your opponent server 1 [sərvə] n. [C] 1 if the main computer on a network that controls all the others. 2 someone who brings you food in a restaurant
serve 1 [sərv] n.
1 in a store etc. [U] the help that people who work in a restaurant, hotel, store, etc. give you: The food is terrific but the service is lousy. [the customer service department]
2 work done [C,U] the work that you do for someone or an organization: He retired after 20 years of service. [You may need the services of a lawyer. She was given an award in honor of her years of service to the Democratic Party.]
3 business [C] a business that provides help or does jobs for people rather than producing things: a cleaning service
4 public services things such as hospitals, schools, etc. that are provided by the government for the public to use
5 ceremony [C] a formal religious ceremony, especially in a church: The funeral service will be held on Friday.
6 help [singular, UJ] informal help that you give to someone: “Thank you so much.” “I’m glad to be of service (=to help).” We’re at your service (=available to help). Ma’am.
7 the service a country’s military forces, especially considered as a job
8 government [C] an organization that works for the government: the foreign service
9 sports [C] an act of hitting the ball to your opponent to start a game such as tennis
10 car/machine [C] a regular examination of a car or machine to make sure that it works correctly
11 in service/out of service to be available or not available for people to use: Two of the Fire Department’s trucks were out of service for much needed repairs.
service 2 v. [T] 1 to examine a machine or vehicle and fix it if necessary: When’s the last time you had the car serviced?

thesaurus repair, fix ➔ repair set

v. (past tense and past participle set present participle setting)
1 PUT 5TH SOMEWHERE [T] to carefully put something down somewhere: Just set that bag down on the floor. | He took off his watch and set it on the dresser.
2 STANDARD [T] to decide something that other things are compared to or measured against: The agency has set standards for water cleanliness. | Parents should set an example for their children (to behave in the way they want their children to behave).
3 PRICE/TIME ETC. [T] to decide that something will happen at a particular time, cost a particular amount, etc.: The judge plans to set a date for the trial. | Officials have not yet set a price on how much the study will cost.
4 CLOCK/MACHINE [T] to move part of a clock or a piece of equipment so that it will do what you want it to do: I set my alarm for 6:30. | Do you know how to set the VCR?
5 START 5TH HAPPENING [IT] to make something start happening or to make someone start doing something: Angry mobs set the building on fire. | Careless campers set fire to the dry brush. | A study by military experts was immediately set in motion. | Volunteers set to work clearing trash from the field.
6 MOVIE/STORY ETC. [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS if a play, movie, story, etc. is set in a place or at a particular time, the action takes place there or then: Clavell's epic novel is set in 17th-century Japan.
7 set a record to run faster, jump higher, etc. than anyone else: He set a new world record in the 100 meters at the games.
8 set the table to put knives, forks, etc. on a table so that you can eat a meal 9 set sb/sth straight to correct something or someone: The company wants to set the record straight (explain the true situation) about its safety procedures.
10 set the stage/scene to make it possible for something to happen: Recent pay cuts set the stage for a strike.
11 SUN/MOON [I] when the Sun or Moon sets, it moves lower in the sky and disappears (set) rise 12 set your mind/sights/heart on (doing) sth to be determined to achieve something or decide that you definitely want to have it: Heath had set her sights on the U.S. Senate seat for Colorado.
13 set foot in/on sth to go into or onto a place: The event is attracting people who have never set foot in a museum.
14 set sb/sth free/loose to allow a person or animal to be free: All the other hostages were finally set free.
15 set sail to start sailing somewhere
16 BECOME SOLID [I] if a substance sets, it becomes hard: The concrete will set within two hours.
17 set sth to music a) ENG. LANG. ARTS to write music for a story or poem: poems set to music by Lloyd Webber b) to arrange something so that it can be done while music plays: exercise routines set to music.
18 set a trap a) to make a trap ready to catch an animal b) to invent a plan that will catch someone doing something wrong: Police set a trap for the thieves.
19 BONE a) [T] to move the ends of a broken bone into position so that they are in the right place to grow together again b) [I] if a broken bone sets, it joins together again 20 HAIR [T] to arrange someone's hair while it is wet, so that it will have a particular style when it is dry set about sth phr. v.

set about (doing) sth to begin doing something: Johnny set about improving his Spanish before his trip.
set sb against sb phr. v.
set sb/sth apart phr. v.
to make someone start to argue or fight with someone else: The civil war set brother against brother.
set sb/sth aside phr. v.
to make someone or something different from or better than other similar people or things: The movie's realistic characters set it apart from other gangster pictures.

set back phr. v.
1 set sb/sth ↔ back to delay the progress or development of someone or something: Officials fear that the incident will set back race relations.
2 set sb back (informal) to cost someone a lot of money: My new stereo set me back $2,000.
3 set sth ↔ down phr. v.
to write about something so that you have a record of it, such as a set of rules: The rules of the game were clearly set down.
4 set sth ↔ back if something unpleasant sets in, it begins and is likely to continue: Winter seems to be setting in likely to continue.

set forth phr. v.
1 set sth ↔ forth (formal) to write or talk about an idea, rule, etc. in a clear and organized way, especially in an official document or speech to set out: the principles set forth in the treaty.
2 (literary) to start a trip (set) out set out phr. v
1 to start a trip, especially a long trip: The couple set out for Fresno at 9:30.
2 set out to do sth deliberately to start doing something in order to achieve a particular result: He set out to make a movie about his experiences in Vietnam.
3 set out sth to write or talk about ideas, rules, etc. in a clear and organized way: He is the first candidate to set out his foreign policy proposals.

set up phr. v
1 set sth up to start a business, organization, business, etc.: The county has set up a special education program for teenage mothers.
2 set sth up to prepare equipment so that it is ready for use: Are the computers ready for the meeting?
3 set sth up to arrange for something to happen: Call the doctor’s office and set up an appointment.
4 set sth up to build or place something somewhere: The police have set up a roadblock.
5 set sth up to deliberately make people think that someone has done something wrong: Hudson accused his partners of setting him up.
6 set up shop to start a business: They set up shop in 1993 in Mason’s basement.

set2 n [C] 1 a group of things that belong together or are related in some way: a set of dishes | a set of rules | a chess set | see picture at COLLECTION 2 a television, a TV set: a TV set

set3 adj 1 only before noun a set time, amount, price, etc. is fixed and is never changed: We meet at a set time each week. | I invest a set amount of money each month.
2 not before noun (informal) ready to do something: If everyone is all set, we’ll start the meeting.
3 be set on/upon/against doing sth (informal) to be very determined about something: Jerry’s dead set against paying the extra money for the trip.
4 in a particular place or position: a castle set on a hill

set-back /set ‘bæk/ n. [C] something that delays your progress or makes things worse than they were: Losing their drummer is a major setback for the band. | The peace talks suffered a setback when fighting resumed this week.

set-ting /setˈtɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 the place where something is or where something happens, and all the things that surround it: a cabin in a mountain setting | the perfect setting for a wedding 2 the position in which you put the controls on a machine or instrument: Turn the microwave to its highest setting. 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS the place or time in which the events in a book, movie, etc. happen: London is the setting for his most recent novel.

settle phr. v
1 END ARGUMENT [I,T] to end an argument or solve a disagreement: an attempt to settle the case/lawsuit | The union finally settled with management after a two-day strike. | They might be willing to settle out of court (=come to an agreement without going to a court of law). | They met recently to try and settle their differences (=agree to stop arguing).
2 COMFORTABLE POSITION [I,T] to move into a comfortable position: Dave settled back and turned on the TV. | Roger settled himself on a park bench for a photograph.
3 DECIDE STH [I] to decide on something, or organize the details of something that will happen in the future: So it’s settled — I’ll meet you in front of the theater at 7:00.
4 IN A NEW PLACE a) [I,T] to go to a place where no people have lived permanently before and start to live there: the men and women who settled Alaska b) [I] to begin to live in a place where you intend to live for a long time: My family moved around a lot but I settled in Los Angeles.
5 SNOW/DUST [I] if snow, dust, etc. settles, it falls to the ground and stays there 6 BILL/DEBT [I] if you settle a bill, account, debt, etc., you pay all the money that you owe.
7 settle a score to do something bad to someone because s/he has done something bad to you
8 STOMACH [I,T] if your stomach settles, or if something settles it, it stops feeling uncomfortable or making you sick.
9 settle your nerves to do something to make yourself stop being nervous or upset: He took a deep breath to settle his nerves.

settle down phr. v
1 settle (sb) down to become quiet and calm, or to make someone quiet and calm: Kids, settle down and eat your dinner. | Sometimes we take the baby for a ride in the car to settle him down.
2 to start living a quiet and calm life in one place, especially when you get married: My parents want me to marry Jim and settle down.
3 to begin to do something and to give it all your attention: When he finally settled down to work, it was 10:30.

settle for phr. v to accept something that is less than what you wanted: We looked at some nice apartments, but we had to settle for the cheapest one.

settle in also settle into phr. v to become happier and more comfortable in a new situation or place: Adam seems to have settled in at his new school.

settle on/upon phr. v to decide or agree on something: They haven’t settled on a name for the baby yet.

set up phr. v (informal) to pay money that you owe for something: I’ll settle up with the bartender, then let’s go.
severance pay /səvərəns/ n. [C.U] payment of money that you owe someone or that someone owes to you: He accepted a financial settlement of $500. [U] the movement of a large number of people into a new place in order to live there: the settlement of the Oklahoma territory. [C.U] Economics 4 a group of houses and buildings where people live, in a place where no group lived before: a Stone Age settlement settlement /sɛtˈmənt/ n. 1 [C.U] an official agreement or decision that ends an argument: The two sides have reached a settlement (made an agreement) in the land dispute. 2 [C.U] Economics a payment of money that you owe someone or that someone owes to you: He accepted a financial settlement of $500. 3 [U] the movement of a large number of people into a new place in order to live there: the settlement of the Oklahoma territory. 4 [C] a group of houses and buildings where people live, in a place where no group lived before: a Stone Age settlement settle /sɛt/ v. set·tle·ment /sɛtˈmənt/ n. 1 [C] someone who goes to live in a new place, usually where there were few people before: early settlers of the American West set up /sɛt/ v. set·up /sɛt/ n. [C usually singular] a way of organizing or arranging something: Do you like the new setup at work? 2 (informal) a dishonest plan that is intended to trick someone: I knew immediately that the whole thing was a setup.

seven /ˈsɛvən/ number 1 7 2 seven o’clock: The movie starts at seven. 3 seven years old: Patty was seven on her last birthday. [Origin: Old English seofen]

seventeen /ˈsɛvəntʃɪn/ number 17 2 1/7 3 be in seventh heaven (informal) to be extremely happy seventeenth number

seventh /ˈsɛvənθ/ number 1 7 2 1/7 3 be in seventh heaven (informal) to be extremely happy seventies a) the years between 1970 and 1979 b) the numbers between 70 and 79, especially when used for measuring temperature: 3 be in your seventies to be aged between 70 and 79: She’s in her early/mid/late seventies. —seventieth /ˈsɛvəntiθ/ number: her seventieth birthday

sever /ˈsɛvər/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to cut through something completely; His finger was severed in the accident. 2 to end a relationship or agreement with someone: They decided to sever ties between the two organizations. —severance n. [U]

several /ˈsɛvərəl/ quantifier a number of people or things that is more than a few, but not a lot: Few called her several times on the phone. I’ve talked to several of my students about this.

severance pay /sɛvərəns, ˈpɛri/ n. [U] money you get from a company that you worked for when they no longer have a job for you serious /ˈsɛvrəs/ adj. 1 very bad or serious: severe injuries | severe problems 2 very strict or extreme: severe criticism | The president’s plan calls for severe penalties for underage criminals. 3 not kind or friendly: a severe look on her face. [Origin: 1500—1600 French sévère, from Latin severus] —severity /sɪˈvɜrəti/ n. [C.U]

severely /sɪˈvɜrli/ adv. very badly or to a great degree: The building was severely damaged in the fire. | She was punished severely for her actions.

sew (past tense sewed, past participle sewn or sewed) [L.T] to use a needle and thread to make or repair clothes, or to attach something such as a button to them: My mother taught me to sew: Can you sew a button on this shirt for me? [Origin: Old English sēwian] —sewing n. [U] ➔ see picture at Knit set up /səˈʌp/ phr. v. (informal) to gain control over a situation so that you are sure to win or get an advantage: The Republicans think they have the election sewn up.

sewage /ˈsjuːdʒ/ n. [U] the waste material and used water that is carried away from houses by sewers: a sewage treatment plant sewer /ˈsjuər/ n. [C] a pipe or passage under the ground that carries away waste material and used water from houses, factories, etc. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French esseweur, from esserwer “to carry away water,” from Vulgar Latin exaquare]

sew (past tense sewed, past participle sewn or sewed) [L.T] to use a needle and thread to make or repair clothes, or to attach something such as a button to them: My mother taught me to sew: Can you sew a button on this shirt for me? [Origin: Old English sēwian] —sewing n. [U] ➔ see picture at Knit

sex /sɛks/ n. 1 [U] Biology the physical activity that people do together in order to produce babies or for pleasure: They believe it’s wrong to have sex before they’re married. | the need to practice safe sex (wear something that will protect you from sexual diseases) 2 [U] Biology the condition of being male or female: I don’t care what sex the baby is, as long as it’s healthy. 3 [C] one of the two groups of people or animals, male and female: He isn’t comfortable with members of the opposite sex (people that are not his own sex). | people of both sexes (men and women)

sex chromosome n. [C] Biology either of the two CHROMOSOMES in humans and some animals that directly influence whether someone is male or female sex drive n. [C usually singular] someone’s ability or need to have sex regularly sex education n. [U] education in schools about sexual activity and sexual relationships sexism /ˈsɛks,ˌsɛksəm/ n. [U] the belief that one sex is weaker, less intelligent, or less important than the other, especially when this results in women being treated unfairly: programs to lessen sexism in the workplace sexist /ˈsɛksɪst/ adj. relating to or showing sexism: sexist remarks —sexist n. [C]

sex life n. [C] someone’s sexual activities

sex symbol n. [C] someone famous who many people think is very sexually attractive sexual /ˈsɛksəl/ adj. 1 relating to sex: sexual harassment n. [U] sexual remarks, looks, or touching done to someone who does not want it, especially from someone s/he works with sexual intercourse n. [U] (formal) the physical act of sex between two people sexuality n. [U] the things people do and feel that are related to their desire or ability to have sex: A person’s sexuality is constrained by the rules of society.

sexy adj. (comparative sexier, superlative sexiest) sexually exciting or attractive: sexy clothes shackle n. (written abbreviation of SERGEANT) a pair of metal rings joined by a chain, that is used for keeping a prisoner’s hands or feet together shack v. (past tense shook, past participle shaken) [T] to move up and down or from side to side shadow n. 1 [C] a dark shape that an object or a person makes on a surface when he, she, or it is between that surface and the light: The sun began to cast long shadows (=make long shadows) across a grassy field. 2 [C] darkness caused when light is prevented from coming into a place: Margaret’s face was half hidden in shadow. He waited in the shadows. 3 without/beyond a shadow of a doubt without any doubt at all: I think he’s guilty beyond a shadow of a doubt. 4 cast a shadow over/on sth to make something seem less attractive or impressive: The scandal cast a shadow over his reputation for the rest of his career.

shadowy adj. 1 shabby, unattractive: a shadowy hotel 2 unfair or wrong: I don’t deserve this kind of shabby treatment. —shabbily adv.

shade n. 1 [C] an area that is cooler and darker because the light of the Sun cannot reach it: SHADOW: Let’s find a table in the shade. 2 [C] something that reduces or blocks light, especially a cover that you pull across a window 3 [C] a particular degree of a color: a darker shade of red 4 shades [plural] (informal) sunglasses 5 shade of meaning/opinion etc. a meaning, etc. that is slightly different from other ones: The word can have many shades of meaning, depending on the context. 6 a shade very slightly, a little bit: The room is a shade too hot for me. [Origins: Old English sceadu] shade v. [T] to protect something from direct light or heat: She used her hand to shade her eyes from the Sun.

side with quick movements, or to make someone or something do this: His hands were shaking. | Shake the bottle before you open it. | She shook him by the shoulders and told him to wake up.

THESaurus

shake

- tremble – to shake because you are frightened or upset: The dog was trembling with fear.
- shiver – to shake because you are very cold: I jumped up and down to stop myself shivering.
- quiver – to shake from side to side: The pile of books wobbled and fell.
- vibrate – to shake continuously with small fast movements: The music was so loud that the whole room vibrated.
- rattle – to shake and make a noise: The windows rattled in the wind.
- wobble

shaken

- to make it more effective
- to make changes to an organization, country, etc. to experience: shakes someone up, s/he is shocked or upset by it:

2 shake your head to move your head from side to side as a way of saying no, or to show disapproval or sadness

3 shake sb’s hand

shake hands (with sb) to hold someone’s hand in your hand and move it up and down, as a greeting or a sign that you have agreed on something if your voice shakes, it sounds unsteady, usually because you are nervous or angry: to make someone feel less confident or certain about something:

This experience has shaken my confidence faith/belief in the legal system.

shake off

from someone by using threats

This experience has someone feel less confident or certain about something that s/he has done:

shakey

adj.

1 weak and unsteady because of illness, old age, or shock: a shaky voice

2 likely to fail or be unsuccessful: a shaky marriage the team got off to a shaky start

(s=they started badly).

3 not solid or firm: a shaky ladder shall

1 formal used in official documents to state an order, law, promise, etc.: The right to a trial by jury shall be preserved.

2 shall I/we? used in order to ask a question, especially as a way of suggesting something:

Shall I turn on the air conditioner?

3 formal used in order to say what will happen in the future: I shall keep her picture always. [Origin: Old English sceal] shallow

measuring only a short distance from the top to the bottom:

a shallow baking dish

The rice is planted in shallow water.

b shallow argument

If he’s only interested in your looks, that shows how shallow he is.

shame

1 someone or something that is wrong

2 guilty or embarrassed that you have after doing something

3 Shame on you! (spoken) used in order to tell someone that s/he should feel ashamed of something that s/he has done: Shame on you, Patrick.

shameless

adj.

not interested in or not showing any understanding of important or serious matters:

Shall I turn on the air conditioner?

shambles

a bunch: a shambles

The apartment was as hambles.

b a bunched thing:

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.

The apartment was as hambles.
shame

trusted you. 4 put sb/sth to shame to be so much better than someone or something else that it makes the other thing seem very bad or ordinary: This party puts my little dinner to shame. 5 loss of honor: His behavior brought shame on the whole family. | There’s no shame in finishing second (=it should not make you feel ashamed).

shame /'ʃeɪm/ n.

shameful /'ʃeɪmfəl/ adj. so bad that someone should not make you feel ashamed.

shamelessly adv.

shameless /'ʃeɪmlis/ adj. not seeming to be ashamed of your bad behavior, although other people think you should be ashamed: a shameless secret liar: an object in the shape of a tube shampoo /'ʃæmpu/ n. (plural shampoos) [C,U] a liquid soap used for washing your hair [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Hindi câpna, from cəpna “to press, to wash something with shampoo”] shanty /ˈšeɪnti/ n. (plural shanties) [C] A small building that has not been built very well shape /ʃeɪp/ n. 1 [C,U] the form that something has, for example round, square, triangular, etc.

shape up phr. v. (informal) 1 to improve your behavior or work: You better shape up, John, or you’re off the team. 2 to make progress in a particular way: The team is starting to shape up nicely.

shaped /ʃeɪpt/ adj. having a particular shape: heart-shaped/star-shaped etc. flowers | a trophy shaped like a football shape·ful /ʃeɪmfəl/ adj.

shape·ly /ʃeɪpli/ adj. having an attractive shape: her long shapely legs share /ʃeə/ v. 1 [T] to have or use something with other people: She shares an office with her boss. | There’s only one book – we’ll have to share. 2 [T] to let someone have or use something that belongs to you: Will you share your toys with Ronnie? 3 [I,T] to divide something between two or more people: I took the cookies to work to share with everybody.

shark

share·crop·ping

sharp

share·hold·er

/ʃeəˈhɔldər/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who owns stock share·crop·ping /ˈʃeərˌkrɔpɪŋ/ n. [U] a type of farming in which the farmer rents the land from the owner and is paid a share of the value of the crop —share·cropper /ˈʃeərˌkrɔpər/ n. [C] share·hold·er /ˈʃeərˌhəʊldər/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who owns stock shark /fɑːrk/ n. [C] a large sea fish with very sharp teeth sharp1 /ʃɑːp/ adj.

1 ABLE TO CUT something that is sharp has a very thin edge or point that can cut things easily (point) dull, blunt: a sharp knife | The blade is razor sharp (=very sharp).

2 DIRECTION a sharp turn or bend changes direction suddenly: a sharp turn in the road | Make a sharp left/right onto Grant Avenue.

3 CHANGE a sharp increase, fall, etc. is very sudden and very big: a sharp rise/increase in prices | a sharp decline/drop in the number of smokers

4 DIFFERENCE clear and definite, so that there is no doubt: The crowd’s support was in sharp contrast (very different) to the criticism he has received lately | a sharp difference of opinion

5 INTELLIGENT able to think and understand things very quickly: She’s a very sharp lawyer. | her sharp wit

6 PAIN sudden and very bad: a sharp pain in my chest

7 REMARK criticizing in a severe and angry way: The proposal has drawn sharp criticism from the president. | He’s known for his sharp tongue.

8 EYES able to see or notice things very easily: Lenny has a sharp eye for detail.

9 CLOTHES attractive and stylish: My grandfather was a sharp dresser (=wore stylish clothes).

10 SOUNDS loud, short, and sudden: a sharp cry

11 PICTURE if an image or picture is sharp, you can see all the details very clearly: a sharp picture on the TV

12 MUSIC a) F/C etc. sharp ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that is a half step higher than the note F, C, etc., and is shown by the sign (#) ➔ FLAT. b) ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that is sharp is played or sung slightly higher than it should be ➔ FLAT

13 TASTE having a strong taste: sharp Cheddar cheese [Origin: Old English scæfan] —sharply adv. —sharpness n. [U]

sharp2 adv. 1 at 8 o’clock/two-thirty etc. sharp at exactly 8:00, 2:30, etc.: I expect you to be here at 10:30 sharp. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS if you sing or play music sharp, you sing or play slightly higher than the correct note so that it sounds bad sharp-en /ʃɑːpˈen/ v. [T] to make something sharper, or become sharper: sharpening a pencil sharp-en·er /ˈʃɑːpənər/ n. [C] a tool or machine that sharpens pencils, knives, etc.

shat·ter /ˈʃætər/ v. [T] to break suddenly into very small pieces, or to make something do this: My cup fell to the floor and shattered.

shar·pen /ʃɑːpˈen/ v. 1 ABLE TO CUT something that is sharp has a very thin edge or point that can cut things easily (point) dull, blunt: a sharp knife | The blade is razor sharp (=very sharp).

2 DIRECTION a sharp turn or bend changes direction suddenly: a sharp turn in the road | Make a sharp left/right onto Grant Avenue.

3 CHANGE a sharp increase, fall, etc. is very sudden and very big: a sharp rise/increase in prices | a sharp decline/drop in the number of smokers

4 DIFFERENCE clear and definite, so that there is no doubt: The crowd’s support was in sharp contrast (very different) to the criticism he has received lately | a sharp difference of opinion

5 INTELLIGENT able to think and understand things very quickly: She’s a very sharp lawyer. | her sharp wit

6 PAIN sudden and very bad: a sharp pain in my chest

7 REMARK criticizing in a severe and angry way: The proposal has drawn sharp criticism from the president. | He’s known for his sharp tongue.

8 EYES able to see or notice things very easily: Lenny has a sharp eye for detail.

9 CLOTHES attractive and stylish: My grandfather was a sharp dresser (=wore stylish clothes).

10 SOUNDS loud, short, and sudden: a sharp cry

11 PICTURE if an image or picture is sharp, you can see all the details very clearly: a sharp picture on the TV

12 MUSIC a) F/C etc. sharp ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that is a half step higher than the note F, C, etc., and is shown by the sign (#) ➔ FLAT. b) ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that is sharp is played or sung slightly higher than it should be ➔ FLAT

13 TASTE having a strong taste: sharp Cheddar cheese [Origin: Old English scæfan] —sharply adv. —sharpness n. [U]

sharp2 adv. 1 at 8 o’clock/two-thirty etc. sharp at exactly 8:00, 2:30, etc.: I expect you to be here at 10:30 sharp. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS if you sing or play music sharp, you sing or play slightly higher than the correct note so that it sounds bad

sharp-en /ʃɑːpˈen/ v. [T] to make something sharper, or become sharper: sharpening a pencil

sharp-en·er /ˈʃɑːpənər/ n. [C] a tool or machine that sharpens pencils, knives, etc.

shat·ter /ˈʃætər/ v. [T] to break suddenly into very small pieces, or to make something do this: My cup fell to the floor and shattered.
shears /ʃɛər/ n. [plural] a tool like a large pair of scissors sheath /ʃeθ/ n. (plural sheaths /ʃeθz/, ʃeaθz/) [C] a cover for the blade of a knife or sword sheaves /ʃi:vz/ n. the plural of SHEAF she'd /ʃed/ 1 the short form of "she had": She'd forgotten to close the door. 2 the short form of "she would": She said she'd love to come.

shed /ʃed/ n. [C] a small building used especially for storing things: a tool shed sheep /ʃi:p/ n. (plural sheep) [C] an arm animal sheepish /ˈʃi:pɪʃ/ adj. uncomfortable or embarrassed because you have done something silly or wrong: Renny apologized, looking sheepish.

sheepishly adv.

sheer /ʃiər/ 1 sheer joy/luck/bliss etc. joy, luck, etc. with no other feeling or quality mixed with it: people dancing and singing with sheer joy. 2 the sheer size/weight/numbers etc. used in order to emphasize that something is very big, heavy, etc.: The most impressive thing about Alaska is its sheer size. 3 a sheer drop, cliff, etc. is extremely steep 4 material that is sheer is fine or thin, so that you can almost see through it sheet /ʃi:t/ n. [C] 1 a large piece of thin cloth that you put on a bed to lie on or under. Have you changed the sheets (=put clean sheets on the bed)? 2 a thin flat piece of something such as paper, metal, or glass: a sheet of paper 3 a large flat area of something such as ice or water that is spread over a surface: The road was covered with a sheet of ice.

sheik, sheikh /ʃiːk, ʃək/ n. [C] 1 an Arab chief or prince 2 a Muslim religious teacher or leader shell /ʃel/ n. (plural shells /ʃelz/) [C] a large flat board attached to a wall, in a frame, etc., that you can put things on: shelves of books | Could you get me that bowl off the top shelf? [Origin: 1300—1400 Middle Low German scheif] she'll /ʃɛl/ the short form of "she will"

shellfish /ˈʃelˌfɪʃ/ n. (plural shellfish) [CU] a small sea or water animal that has a shell, or this animal eaten as a food sheer·ly /ˈʃiərli/ adv.

sheer·ly adv.

sheen /ʃiːn/ n. [singular, U] a smooth shiny appearance sheep·ish /ˈʃiːpɪʃ/ adj.

sheep·ishly adv.

shelter /ˈʃɛltər/ n. 1 [C] a place to live, considered as one of the basic needs of life: providing food and shelter for the homeless 2 [U] a place with a roof over it that protects you from danger or the weather, or the protection that it gives: a bomb shelter | a bus shelter | The family took shelter in the cellar when the tornado hit. 3 [C] a place where people or animals can go if they have no home or are in danger from someone who treats them badly: a shelter for battered women 3 [U] a place to live, considered as one of the basic needs of life: providing food and shelter for the homeless shelter·ing /ˈʃɛltərɪŋ/ adj.

shelving /ˈʃelvɪŋ/ n. [U] a set of shelves, or the material used for them

she·nan·gi·nes /ˈʃənənˌɡənz/ n. [plural] (informal) tricks or slightly dishonest behavior sheep·herd /ˈʃɛpərd/ n. [C] someone whose job is to take care of sheep sheer·est /ˈʃeərɪst/ adj.

she·er·ly adv.

shell·fish /ˈʃelˌfɪʃ/ n. (plural shellfish) [CU] a small sea or water animal that has a shell, or this animal eaten as a food

sheer·ly adv.

shell out /ʃeət/ v. (informal) to pay money for something, often when you do not want to: We had to shell out over $400 to get the car fixed.
scir·geref in, from scir “area with its own government” + gerefa “person in charge of an area” sherry /ˈʃɛri/ n (plural sherries) [C/U] a strong Spanish wine, or a glass of this drink [Origin: 1600—1700] sherries (16—18 centuries), from Xeres (now Jerez), city in southwestern Spain she’s /fiz/ 1 the short form of “she is”. She’s my little sister. 2 the short form of “she has”. She’s invited us to a party.

shield /ʃild/ n [C] 1 something that protects someone or something from being hurt or damaged: police carrying riot shields | the heat shield on a rocket | a broad piece of metal or leather used in past times by soldiers to protect themselves in battle

shield v [T] to protect someone or something from being hurt, damaged, or upset: Of course, you try to shield your children from bad influences. | a hat to shield your face from the sun

shift /ʃɪft/ v [T] to change your opinion or attitude: Washington’s policy toward Taiwan appears to have shifted. 2 to move from one place or position to another, or make something do this: Jan shifted uncomfortably in her seat. | Amos shifted his chair around to get a better look. 3 to change the Gears when you are driving: I pulled away and shifted into second gear.

shift adj [C] 1 a change in the way most people think about something, or in the way something is done: Polls show a shift in public opinion. | the shift from communism to capitalism | 2 one of the periods during each day and night when workers in a factory, hospital, etc. are at work: Lou’s on the night/day shift this week. → GEAR SHIFT shift-less /ʃɪfləs/ adj lazy and not at all interested in working sheen /ʃɪn/ n [C] the front part of your leg between your knee and your foot → see picture on page A4 shine /ʃain/ v (past tense and past participle shone /ʃoun/; present participle shining) [I] 1 to produce light: The Sun was shining. | The bright TV lights were shining in her eyes.

shine n [singular, U] the brightness that something has when light shines on it: Lucy’s dark hair shone in the sun. 2 [I] to look bright and smooth: Dan polished the car until it shone. 3 (past tense and past participle shined) [T] to make something bright by rubbing it: When’s the last time you shined your shoes? 4 [T] to point a light toward a particular place or in a particular direction: Shine the flashlight over there. 5 [I] if your eyes or face shine, they show you are happy 6 [I] to be very good at something: The concert will give young musicians a chance to shine. [Cruises: Old English scire] shiny adj 1 [singular, U] shiny leather boots 2 [C/U] shiny hair → SHIN shiny adj [comparative shinier, superlative shiniest] bright and smooth looking: shiny hair | shiny leather boots ship /ʃɪp/ n [C] 1 a large boat used for carrying people and things on the ocean: a cruise ship | Supplies came by ship.

THE SAURUS

flash – to shine brightly for a very short time: Lightning flashed across the sky.

flicker – to shine with an unsteady light: The candle flickered and went out.

twinkle – to shine in the dark but not very brightly or continuously: stars twinkling in the sky.

glow – to shine with a warm soft light: I could see a lamp glowing in the window.

sparkle – to shine with many small bright points of light: diamonds sparkling in the light.

shimmer – to shine with a soft light that seems to shake slightly: The lake shimmered in the moonlight.

glitter – if something smooth and clean glints, it shines: The silverware had been polished until it glistened.

glint – if something is shiny glints, it reflects light very strongly: The Sun glistened off the windows.

glisten – to shine and look wet or oily: Tears glistened on her cheeks.

2 [I] to look bright and smooth: Dan polished the car until it shone. 3 (past tense and past participle shined) [T] to make something bright by rubbing it: When’s the last time you shined your shoes? 4 [T] to point a light toward a particular place or in a particular direction: Shine the flashlight over here. 5 [I] if your eyes or face shine, they show you are happy 6 [I] to be very good at something: The concert will give young musicians a chance to shine. [Cruises: Old English scire]

THE SAURUS

flash – to shine brightly for a very short time: Lightning flashed across the sky.

twinkle – to shine in the dark but not very brightly or continuously: stars twinkling in the sky.

glow – to shine with a warm soft light: I could see a lamp glowing in the window.

sparkle – to shine with many small bright points of light: diamonds sparkling in the light.

shimmer – to shine with a soft light that seems to shake slightly: The lake shimmered in the moonlight.

glitter – if something smooth and clean glints, it shines: The silverware had been polished until it glistened.

glimmer – if something is shiny glints, it reflects light very strongly: The Sun glistened off the windows.

glisten – to shine and look wet or oily: Tears glistened on her cheeks.

2 [I] to look bright and smooth: Dan polished the car until it shone. 3 (past tense and past participle shined) [T] to make something bright by rubbing it: When’s the last time you shined your shoes? 4 [T] to point a light toward a particular place or in a particular direction: Shine the flashlight over here. 5 [I] if your eyes or face shine, they show you are happy 6 [I] to be very good at something: The concert will give young musicians a chance to shine. [Cruises: Old English scire]
shipload

24 hours. 2 to send or carry something by sea ship-load /'ʃpləd/ n. [C] the number of people or things a ship can carry ship-ment /'ʃpɒmənt/ n. [CU] a load of goods being delivered, or the act of sending them: a shipment of grain | The goods are ready for shipment.

ship-ping /'ʃpiŋ/ n. 1 shipping and handling the price charged for delivering goods: Please add $2.95 to cover shipping and handling. 2 [U] ships considered as a group, or anything that is related to business done by ships: The canal has been closed to shipping.

ship-wreck /'ʃiprɛk/ n. [CU] the destruction of a ship by a storm or an accident, or a ship that has been destroyed in this way: survivors of a shipwreck shipwreck /'ʃiprɛk/ v. be shipwrecked to have been in a ship that has been destroyed by a storm or an accident ship-yard /'ʃpiːrd/ n. [C] a place where ships are built or repaired shirk /ʃɜːrk/ v. [I,T] (formal) to avoid doing something you should do: parents who shirk their duties/responsibilities towards their children shirt /ʃɜːt/ n. [C] a piece of clothing that covers the upper part of your body and your arms, and has a collar and usually buttons down the front ➔ BLOUSE, T-SHIRT: She was wearing a white silk shirt. | I have to wear a shirt and tie to work. [ORIGIN: Old English scyrte] ➔ see picture at CLOTHES shirt-sleeves /ʃɜːt'sliːvz/ n. in (your) shirt-sleeves wearing a shirt but no JACKET shish ke-bab /ʃɪʃ kəˈbæb/ n. [C] small pieces of meat and sometimes vegetables, cooked on a stick shiv-er /ʃɪvər/ v. [I] to shake slightly because you are cold or frightened: Come inside – you’re shivering.

shiver /ˈʃaɪvər/ n. [C] a shaking movement of your body that happens when you are cold or afraid: A shiver ran down my spine (=I felt afraid). ➔ shivery adj.

shoo /ʃu:/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a large group of fish that swim together shock /ʃɒk/ n. 1 [C] usually singular] an unexpected and unpleasant event or piece of news that makes you extremely upset: Rob’s death came as a complete shock to us. 2 [informal] the feeling of surprise and disbelief you have when something unexpected and unpleasant happens: She looked like she was in shock. | the shock of seeing someone in such pain 3 [C] a sudden painful feeling caused by a flow of electricity passing through your body: Ow! The toaster gave me a shock. 4 [U] a medical condition in which someone is very weak, often after an unpleasant experience: The crash victims are suffering from shock. | He is clearly in a state of shock. 5 [C] EARTH SCIENCES shock wave 6 [C] a shock absorber [ORIGIN: (1) French choc, from choquer “to strike against”] shock /ʃɔk/ v. 1 [IT] to make someone feel very surprised, and usually upset or offended: We were shocked to hear of his arrest. 2 [T] to give someone an electric shock —shocked adj.

shock absorber /ʃɔk əˈbɜːrər/ n. [C] a piece of equipment connected to each wheel of a vehicle to make it travel smoothly over uneven ground shock-ing /ˈʃɔkɪŋ/ adj. very offensive or upsetting: a shocking crime shock wave /ʃɔk ˈweɪv/ n. [C] 1 a strong feeling of shock that people have when something bad happens without warning: The news sent shock waves through the world’s stock markets. 2 EARTH SCIENCES a strong movement of air, heat, or the earth from an explosion, EARTHQUAKE, etc.

shod /ʃɔd/ adj. (literary) wearing shoes shoddy /ˈʃoʊdi/ adj. 1 badly or cheaply made, or not done well: shoddy goods 2 unfair and dishonest: He treated me in a pretty shoddy way. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 shoddy “cloth made from reused wool” (19—20 centuries)]

shoe /ʃu:/ n. [C] 1 something that you wear to cover your feet, that is made of leather or some other strong material: a pair of shoes | high-heeled shoes. 2 be in sb’s shoes to be in the situation that someone else is in: I wouldn’t like to be in his shoes when his wife finds out what happened. [ORIGIN: Old English scob] shoe v (past tense and past participle shod) [T] to put a HORSESHOE (=curved piece of metal) on a horse’s foot shoe-horn /ˈʃuːərn/ n [C] a curved piece of plastic or metal that you use to help you put on a shoe on easily shoe-lace /ˈʃuːəls/ n [C] a thin piece of string or leather that you use to tie your shoes shoe-string /ˈʃuːəstrɪŋ/ n on a shoestring done or made without spending very much money: a movie made on a shoestring shone /ʃaʊn/ v past tense and past participle of SHINE shoot /ʃuː/ interjection said in order to tell an annoying child or animal to go away —shoo v [T]: Aunt Betty shoed us out of the kitchen.

shoot-in n [C] usually singular (informal) someone who is expected to win an election or race easily: He looked like a shoot-in to win the election.

shoot v [ʃuʃ / v the past tense of SHAKE shoot-up adj not before noun (spoken) very frightened, shocked, or upset because of something that has happened shoot v (past tense and past participle shot) [ʃʊt] 1 GUN [I,T] to fire a gun at someone, or kill or injure someone with a gun: Stop or I’ll shoot! She pulled out a gun and shot him. Someone on the roof was shooting at her. He had been shot in the leg while trying to escape. One police officer was shot dead in the incident.

2 MOVE QUICKLY [I,T] to move quickly in a particular direction, or to make something move in this way: The fountain shoots water 20 feet into the air. A sharp pain suddenly shot through his right arm.

3 PHOTO/MOVIE [I,T] to take photographs or make a movie: The movie was shot in Rome.

4 SPORTS [I,T] to throw, kick, or hit a ball toward the place where you can make points: We were waiting for him to shoot.

5 shoot (spoken) used in order to tell someone to start speaking: I’ve got a question. Okay, shoot.

6 shoot the breeze (informal) to have a friendly conversation about unimportant things: Cal and I were sitting on the porch, shooting the breeze.

7 shoot your mouth off (informal) to talk too much, especially about your opinions or a secret: Don’t go shooting your mouth off about this.

shoot sb/sth down phr v 1 to destroy an enemy airplane while it is flying: The plane was shot down over the ocean.

2 to say that what someone suggests is wrong or stupid: Terry’s boss shot down all her ideas.

shoot for ath phr v (informal) to try to achieve something: Okay, we’ll shoot for 1:30 (try to do something by then).

shoot up phr v to quickly increase in number, size, or amount: Prices shot up by 60%.
shore

bank – the edge of a river: the banks of the Mississippi river shore² v 1 to support a wall with large pieces of wood, metal, etc. to stop it from falling down 2 to help or support something that is likely to fail or is not working well: The money is needed to shore up the failing bank.

shore-line /ʃɔːrlɪn/ n [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES the land on the edge of a lake, river, or ocean (Shoreline) the island’s rocky shoreline ➔ see picture on page A11 shorn /ʃɔːrn/ v a past participle of shear short³ adv short (of doing) sth without actually doing something: They’ve cut the budget and the workforce – everything short of canceling the project altogether. ➔ cut sth short at CUT, fall short (of sth) at FALL, be running short of sth at RUN, stop short of sth at STOP short⁴ n 1 shorts [plural] a) short pants that end at or above the knees: a pair of shorts b) loose underwear for men (Shorts) boxer shorts 2 in short used when you want to say the most important point in a few words: In short, I don’t think we can do it. 3 for short as a shorter way of saying a name: It’s called the Message Handling System – MHS for short. 4 [C] (informal) a short movie that is shown before the main movie in a theater 5 [C] (informal) a SHORT CIRCUIT short⁵ v [I,T] (informal) to have a bad electrical connection that makes a machine stop working correctly, or to make something do this shortage /ˈʃɔːtɪdʒ/ n [C,U] a situation in which there is not enough of something that people need: food shortages | a SHORTAGE OF medicine short-bread /ˈʃɔːrtˌbriːd/ n [U] a hard sweet cookie made with a lot of butter short-cake /ˈʃɔːrtˌkeɪk/ n [U] cake over which a sweet fruit mixture is poured: strawberry short-cake short-change v [T] 1 to treat someone unfairly by not giving him/her what she deserves: The miners felt short-changed by the new contract. 2 to give back too little money to someone who has paid you for something short-circuit n [C] the failure of an electrical system caused by bad wires or a fault in a connection in the wires short-commenting /ˈʃɔːrtˌkəmɪŋ/ n [C usually plural] a fault in something or someone, that makes it, him, or her less effective: the shortcomings of the new law | shortcomings in his research short-cut n [C] a quicker more direct way of going somewhere: Let’s take a short cut across the beautifu shot of the countryside around Prague b) the view of something in a movie, television program, or photograph: a close-up shot | In the opening shot, we see a man walking down a street.

4 ATTEMPT (informal) an attempt to do something or achieve something: Marty always wanted to take a shot at acting. | I'll give it my best shot (try as hard as possible).

5 DRINK a small amount of a strong alcoholic drink: a shot of whiskey

6 DRUG the act of putting medicine into your body using a needle: Have you had your tetanus shot?

7 a shot in the dark an attempt to guess something without having any facts or definite ideas: My answer to the last question was a complete shot in the dark.

8 like a shot very quickly: He jumped up like a shot and ran to the door.

SOURCED ➔ Introduction

short-lived /ʃɔ:tlɪvd/ adj. existing only a short time: a short-lived fashion short-range /ʃɔ:trɛnʤ/ adj. short-distance short-range weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance shot put /ʃɔt pʊt/ n. [C] a sport in which you throw a heavy metal ball as far as you can — shot putter n [C]

should /ʃud/ strong should/ modal verb 1 used when giving or asking for advice or an opinion: You should have called me right away. | Should I wear my gray dress? | Children shouldn’t (=should not) take candy from strangers.

shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ v. the past tense and past participle of SHOULd shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ n. [C/U] 1 one of the two parts of the body at each side of the neck where the arm is connected: Andy put his arm around his wife’s shoulders. | When we asked him what was wrong, he just shrugged his shoulders (raised them to show that he did not know or care). ➔ see picture on page 91 2 watch/look over sb’s shoulder to watch carefully what someone is doing, sometimes so that you can criticize him/her: I can’t work at the computer when someone is watching over my shoulder. 3 the part of a shirt, coat, etc. that covers your shoulders 4 a shoulder to cry on someone who gives you sympathy: Diane’s always there when I need a shoulder to cry on. 5 an area of ground beside a road where drivers can stop their cars if they are having trouble shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ n. [C] 1 a shorter way of doing something: There are no short cuts to finding a job.

shorten /ʃɔrtən/ v. shorten to become shorter, or to make something shorter: Her name is often shortened to Pat. | It was fall, and the days had begun to shorten.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ adv. slightly shorter: I think my dress is about 2 inches shorter today.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ v. becoming or making something shorter shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ n. [U] fat made from vegetable oil that you mix with flour when making pastry

short-distance /ʃɔrtˈdɪstəns/ adj. short-distance weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance short distance /ˈʃɔrt diʃənst/ n. [C/U] the distance over which someone or something can travel easily or quickly: weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance shorten /ˈʃɔrtən/ n. [C] a list of the most appropriate people for a job, chosen from all the people who were first considered for it short-lived /ʃɔrtˈlɪvd/ adj. existing only a short time: a short-lived fashion short-range /ʃɔrtˈrɛnʤ/ adj. short-distance short-range weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance short-sighted /ʃɔr’tizɪtɪd/ adj. 1 not considering the future effects of something: The company’s decision was short-sighted. | the shortsighted option 2 NEARsighted

shot put /ˈʃɔt pʊt/ n. [C] a sport in which you throw a heavy metal ball as far as you can — shot putter n [C]

should /ʃud/ strong should/ modal verb 1 used when giving or asking for advice or an opinion: You should have called me right away. | Should I wear my gray dress? | Children shouldn’t (=should not) take candy from strangers.

shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ v. the past tense and past participle of SHOULd

shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ n. [C] 1 a shorter way of doing something: There are no short cuts to finding a job.

shorten /ʃɔrtən/ v. shorten to become shorter, or to make something shorter: Her name is often shortened to Pat. | It was fall, and the days had begun to shorten.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ adv. slightly shorter: I think my dress is about 2 inches shorter today.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ v. becoming or making something shorter shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ n. [U] fat made from vegetable oil that you mix with flour when making pastry

short-distance /ʃɔrtˈdɪstəns/ adj. short-distance weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance

short-sighted /ʃɔr’tizɪtɪd/ adj. 1 not considering the future effects of something: The company’s decision was short-sighted. | the shortsighted option 2 NEARsighted

shot put /ˈʃɔt pʊt/ n. [C] a sport in which you throw a heavy metal ball as far as you can — shot putter n [C]

should /ʃud/ strong should/ modal verb 1 used when giving or asking for advice or an opinion: You should have called me right away. | Should I wear my gray dress? | Children shouldn’t (=should not) take candy from strangers.

shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ v. the past tense and past participle of SHOULd

shoulder /ˈʃəʊldər/ n. [C] 1 a shorter way of doing something: There are no short cuts to finding a job.

shorten /ʃɔrtən/ v. shorten to become shorter, or to make something shorter: Her name is often shortened to Pat. | It was fall, and the days had begun to shorten.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ adv. slightly shorter: I think my dress is about 2 inches shorter today.

shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ v. becoming or making something shorter shorten up /ˈʃɔrtən æp/ n. [U] fat made from vegetable oil that you mix with flour when making pastry

short-distance /ʃɔrtˈdɪstəns/ adj. short-distance weapons are designed to travel or be used over a short distance

short-sighted /ʃɔr’tizɪtɪd/ adj. 1 not considering the future effects of something: The company’s decision was short-sighted. | the shortsighted option 2 NEARsighted

shot put /ˈʃɔt pʊt/ n. [C] a sport in which you throw a heavy metal ball as far as you can — shot putter n [C] shoulder bag

shoulder blade

shouldn't should've

shoulder blade

shoulder bag

page A3

flat bones on each side of your back hangs from the shoulder by a long piece of material through the crowd.

sth shout

who is speaking cannot be heard:

She tried to shout if you need any help.

find someone and tell him/her something:

in a loud voice:

thing in a rough or careless way, using your hands or shoulders:

"should have"

"should not"

2 excitement, etc.:

"Get out of the way!" she shouted.

responsibility, duty, etc.: Carrie shouldered the burden of taking care of three young kids alone.

2 shoulder your way through/into etc. to move through a large crowd of people by pushing with your shoulders: He shouldered his way through the crowd.

shoulder bag

shoulder your way through/into etc.

“should have”

“SoU@v

SoUt

v. to shout so that someone who is speaking cannot be heard: She tried to argue, but was quickly shouted down.

shout out

phr. v. to say something suddenly in a loud voice: Don’t shout out the answer.

shout 2

1 [C] a loud call that expresses anger, excitement, etc.: She heard a shout from upstairs.

2 give sb a shout (spoken) to go and find someone and tell him/her something: Give me a shout if you need any help.

shovel

v. 1 [I,T] to dig or move earth, stones, etc. with a shovel: I’m going out to shovel the driveway/sidewalk (=shovel snow from the driveway or sidewalk).

2 shovel sth into/onto sth to put something into a place quickly: He sat at the table shoveling his dinner into his mouth.

show

v. 1 [I,T] to tell someone how to do something or where something is:

I’ll show you the way.

2 [T] (informal) to put something somewhere quickly and carelessly: Just shove those papers into the drawer for now.

stick – to put something somewhere in a careless way. Just stick the books on the table for now.

thrust – to push something somewhere suddenly or forcefully: David thrust his hands into his pockets.

dump – to drop or put something somewhere in a careless way: Don’t just dump your coat on the floor!

cram/jam – to force a lot of something into a small space: Josh crammed his books and coat into his locker.

3 shove it (spoken) an impolite phrase said when you are very annoyed or angry and you do not want to talk to someone any longer: They can take their job and shove it. — shove n. [C] shove off phr. v. to push a boat away from the land, usually with a pole

shov-el

v. 1 [I,T] to push something away from the land, usually with a pole shove off job and shove it.

show off

v. to talk to someone any longer:

3 HOW YOU FEEL [T] to show how you feel by the way that you behave: Alan tried not to show his disappointment.

4 EXPLAIN STh [T] to tell someone how to do something or where something is: I’ll show you what to do. | My grandma showed me how to make cornbread.

3 show it

how to where people

how began

began

show·biz n. [U] (informal) SHOW BUSINESS

\[show\] n. [U] the entertainment industry

\[show-case\] n. [C] an event or situation that is designed to show the good qualities of a person, organization, etc.: a \[showcase\] for new musical talent

\[show-down\] n. [C] a meeting, argument, fight, etc. that will settle a disagreement or competition that has continued for a long time: a \[showdown\] between the top two teams in the league

\[show·er\] n. 1 [I] to wash your whole body while standing under the shower: \[show·er\] too. 3 a short period of rain: \[showers\] are expected later today.

\[show·room\] n. a large room where an organization, government, etc. wants people to see because it is a successful example of what they are doing

\[show·room\] n. [U] a room where a new show opening on Broadway

\[show·room\] n. [plural \[show·rooms\]] n. [C] someone who is good at entertaining people and getting a lot of public attention

\[show·room\] n. [U] the past participle of \[show\]

\[show-off\] n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who always tries to show how smart s/he is or how much skill s/he has so that other people will admire him/her: Don’t be such a show-off!

\[show·piece\] n. [C] something that an organization, government, etc. wants people to see in order to make a particular feeling or quality clear to other people: The army marched through the town in a show of force.

\[show·piece\] n. [C] a collection of things for the public to look at: a \[showing\]

\[show·piece\] n. [C] a large room where you can look at things that are for sale: a \[showroom\]

\[show·piece\] n. [C] very colorful, big, expensive, etc. in a way that attracts people’s attention: a \[showy\] ring

\[shrink\] v. [I] to grow smaller: a \[shrink\]

\[shrapnel\] n. [U] small pieces of metal from a bomb or bullet that has exploded

\[shred\] n. [C] a small thin piece that is torn or cut roughly from something: The kitten had torn/ripped the toy to shreds. 2 a very small amount: There’s no not a shred of evidence against him (there is none at all).

shred2 v (shredded, shredding) [T] 1 to cut or tear something into shreds → see picture at cut?

shred-der /ʃrɛdər/ n [C] a machine that cuts documents into small pieces so that no one can read them.

shredw /ʃrɛd/ adj good at judging what people or situations are really like, especially in a way that makes you successful: a shrewd businesswoman [origin: 1200—1300 shrew in the old meaning “very bad man”] shriek /ʃriːk/ v [I,T] to shout loudly, or to say something in a very loud voice, especially because you are frightened, excited, angry, etc. 2n. shrieking and weeping. | “I’ll kill you,” Anne shrieked at him. —shriek n [C] shrieked adj.: her shriveled hands shroud /ʃraʊd/ v [C] 1 a cloth that is wrapped around a dead person’s body before it is buried. 2 something that hides or covers something: a shroud of fog shroud /ʃraʊd/ n [C] a small bush shrub-bery /ʃrʌbəri/ n [U] shrubs planted close together in a group

shrug /ʃrʌɡ/ v (shragged, shragging) [I,T] to raise and then lower your shoulders in order to show that you do not know something or do not care about something: Dan shrugged and went back to what he was doing. | Melanie shrugged her shoulders. —shrug n [C]: “I don’t know,” he said with a shrug.

shrug sth ↔ off phr. v. to treat something as unimportant and not worry about it: Marge tried to shrug off her failure.

shrunken adj.: her shriveled hands shrunken /ʃrʌŋkən/ adj. having become smaller or been made smaller: a shrunken sweater shudder /ʃʌdər/ v [I] to shake because you are frightened or cold, or because you think something is very unpleasant: She shuddered at the thought. —shudder n [C] shuf-fle /ʃʌfəl/ v 1 [I] to walk slowly and in a noisy way, without lifting your feet off the ground: an old man shuffling across the room. 2 shuffle your feet to keep moving your feet slightly because you are bored or embarrassed: Ernie looked nervous and shuffled his feet. 3 [T] to move something such as papers into a different order or into different positions: Ginny shuffled the papers on her desk. 4 [I,T] to mix playing cards into a different order before playing a game with them shuf-fle-board /ʃʌfəlbɔːrd/ n [U] a game in which you use a long stick to push a flat round shush /ʃəʊ/ v. (shun, shunning) [T] to avoid someone or something deliberately: She shuns publicity.

shunt /ʃaʊnt/ v. [T] to move someone or something to another place or position, especially in a way that seems unfair: Some of the children had been shunted aside into slower classes.

shush /ʃaʊʃ, ʃoʊʃ/ 1 shush! (spoken) said in order to tell someone, especially a child, to be quiet. 2 [T] to tell someone to be quiet: She started to complain, but Betty shushed her.

shut1 /ʃaʊt/ v. (past tense and past participle shut) present participle shutting [I,T] to close something, or to become closed: Do you want me to shut the window? | I heard the door shut. | She leaned back and shut her eyes. [Origin: Old English sceoh] shut sb/sth away phr. v. to put someone or something in a place away from other people: He shut himself away in his office.

shut down phr. v. shut sth ↔ down if a company, factory, machine, etc. shuts down, or if you shut it down, it stops operating: Three nuclear generators were shut down for safety reasons. | How do I shut down this machine?

shut off phr. v. 1 shut sth ↔ off if a machine, tool, etc. shuts off, or if you shut it off, it stops operating: We shut the engine off before it overheated. | The heat shuts off automatically. 2 shut sth ↔ off to prevent goods or supplies from being available or being delivered: Food, oil, and gas supplies were shut off during the fighting. 3 shut yourself off to avoid meeting and talking to other people: After his wife’s death, Pete shut himself off from the rest of the family.

shut out phr. v. 1 shut sb ↔ out to deliberately not let someone join in an activity, process, etc.: Many of the working poor are being shut out of the health care system. 2 shut sth ↔ out to stop yourself from seeing, hearing, or thinking about something: He can shut out the rest of the world when he’s working. 3 shut out sb to defeat an opposing team and prevent them from getting any points: The Blue Jays shut out the Phillies 3–0.

shut up phr. v. 1 shut up! (spoken) said in order to tell someone rudely to stop talking. 2 shut sb up to make someone stop talking or be quiet: I wish I could say something that would calm him down and shut him up.

shut2 adj. [not before noun] not open closed: We heard the door slam shut behind us. | Squeeze your eyes shut.

shut-down /ʃaʊt daʊn/ n. [C] the closing of a factory, business, or piece of machinery: a shut-down of the paper mill

’shut-eye n. [U] (informal) sleep: I really need to get some shut-eye (=go to sleep).

shutter /ʃaʊtər/ n. [C] 1 a wooden or metal cover that can be closed over the outside of a window 2 a part of a camera that opens to let light onto the film shuttle1 v. [T] to travel or move people regularly between two places: The visitors were shuttled between the hotel and the conference center twice a day.

shuttle-cock /ʃaʊtl kɔk/ n. [C] a small light object that you hit over the net in the game of BADMINTON birdie

shy1 /ʃaɪ/ adj. 1 nervous and embarrassed about meeting and speaking to other people, especially people you do not know: As a teenager, I was painfully shy (=extremely shy). | She’s too shy to speak up for herself.

shy2 v. (shies, shyed, shyed) [I] if a horse shies, it makes a sudden movement away from something because it is frightened.

shy away from sth phr. v. to avoid doing something because you are not confident enough about it: Erik had always shied away from speaking in public.

shyness n. [U]

THE SAUSSUR

shy

timid – not brave or confident: She’s a good player, but timid on the court.

bashful – shy and not willing to say very much: Rachel blushed and gave me a bashful smile.

demure (formal) – a girl or woman who is demure is shy, quiet, and always behaves well: Tammy was quiet and demure.

self-conscious – worried and embarrassed about what you look like or what other people think of you: I was too self-conscious to be a good actor.

reserved – not liking to express your emotions or talk about your problems: a quiet, reserved man

introverted – thinking a lot about your own interests, problems, etc., and not liking to be with other people: She was an introverted person who did not become involved in campus activities.

retiring (formal) – not wanting to be with other people: a shy and retiring woman ➔ INSECURE, SOCIABLE

2 sb is not shy about sth used in order to say that someone is very willing to do something or get involved in something: John has strong opinions, and he’s not shy about voicing them. [Origin: Old English sceoh] —shyly adv. She smiled shyly.

—shyness n. [U]

shyness

adj.

shy

shyness

SYNONYMS

SYN

shyness

adj.

shy

shyness

SYNONYMS

SYN

shyness

adj.

shy

shyness

SYNONYMS

SYN

shyness

adj.

shy

shyness

SYNONYMS

SYN

shyness

adj.

shy

shyness

THE SAUSSUR

shy

timid – not brave or confident: She’s a good player, but timid on the court.

bashful – shy and not willing to say very much: Rachel blushed and gave me a bashful smile.

demure (formal) – a girl or woman who is demure is shy, quiet, and always behaves well: Tammy was quiet and demure.

self-conscious – worried and embarrassed about what you look like or what other people think of you: I was too self-conscious to be a good actor.

reserved – not liking to express your emotions or talk about your problems: a quiet, reserved man

introverted – thinking a lot about your own interests, problems, etc., and not liking to be with other people: She was an introverted person who did not become involved in campus activities.

retiring (formal) – not wanting to be with other people: a shy and retiring woman ➔ INSECURE, SOCIABLE

2 sb is not shy about sth used in order to say that someone is very willing to do something or get involved in something: John has strong opinions, and he’s not shy about voicing them. [Origin: Old English sceoh] —shyly adv. She smiled shyly.

—shyness n. [U]

shyness n. [U]

shyness

THE SAUSSUR

shy

timid – not brave or confident: She’s a good player, but timid on the court.

bashful – shy and not willing to say very much: Rachel blushed and gave me a bashful smile.

demure (formal) – a girl or woman who is demure is shy, quiet, and always behaves well: Tammy was quiet and demure.

self-conscious – worried and embarrassed about what you look like or what other people think of you: I was too self-conscious to be a good actor.

reserved – not liking to express your emotions or talk about your problems: a quiet, reserved man

introverted – thinking a lot about your own interests, problems, etc., and not liking to be with other people: She was an introverted person who did not become involved in campus activities.

retiring (formal) – not wanting to be with other people: a shy and retiring woman ➔ INSECURE, SOCIABLE

2 sb is not shy about sth used in order to say that someone is very willing to do something or get involved in something: John has strong opinions, and he’s not shy about voicing them. [Origin: Old English sceoh] —shyly adv. She smiled shyly.

—shyness n. [U]

shyness n. [U]
shyster

sick·le /sɪkəl/ n. [C] (informal) a dishonest person, especially a lawyer or politician sib·ling /ˈsɪblɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] (formal) your brother or sister: All of her siblings are still in Korea. 2 sib·ling rivalry competition between brothers and sisters for the attention of their parents sic /sɪk/ adv. ENG. LANG. ARTS used after a word that you have copied into a piece of writing in order to show that you know it was not spelled or used correctly sick /sɪk/ adj. 1 suffering from a disease or illness: His mother’s very sick. | Everyone ate the same thing, but I was the only one who got sick. | Leslie called in sick (telephoned to say she would not come to work because she was sick) today.

2 [C] a particular illness: common sicknesses such as colds and ear infections ► MORNING SICKNESS sick-o /ˈsɪkəʊ/ n. (plural sicknesses) [C] (informal) someone who gets pleasure from things that most people find disgusting or upsetting: What kind of sicko would write something like that?

sick·pay /ˈsɪkpəʊ/ n. [U] money paid by an employer to a worker who cannot work because of illness side /sайд/ n. [C] 1 PART OF AN AREA one of the two areas that something is divided into: Jim grew up on Detroit’s east side. | They own a house on the other side of the lake. | She tilted her head to one side, considering the question. 2 NEXT TO STH [usually singular] the place or area directly next to someone or something: Stand on this side of me so Dad can get a photo. | Her mother was always at her side in the hospital. 3 side by side a) next to each other: They walked side by side. b) if people live, work, etc. side by side, they do it together, have a good relationship, and help each other: Doctors and scientists are working side by side to find a cure for AIDS. 4 EDGE the part of an object or area that is farthest from the middle, at or near the edge: We pulled over to the side of the road. 5 OF A BUILDING/VEHICLE ETC. a part of something that is not the front, back, top, or bottom: A truck ran into the left side of the bus. 6 OF A THIN OBJECT one of the two surfaces of a thin flat object: You can write on both sides of the paper. 7 FLAT SURFACE one of the flat surfaces of something: A cube has six sides. a) a five-sided shape 8 from side to side moving continuously from right to left: The boat swayed from side to side as waves hit it. 9 from all sides from every direction: enemy gunfire coming from all sides 10 SUBJECT/SITUATION one part of a subject, problem, or situation: I’d like to hear her side of the story. | You should look on the bright side (think about the positive parts of the situation). | Who’s in charge of the creative side of the project? 11 ARGUMENT/WAR ETC. one of the people, groups, teams, or countries opposing each other in an argument, war, etc.: Nancy’s on our side

THE SNAURUS

sick·ness /ˈsɪknəs/ n. 1 [U] the state or feeling of being sick: soldiers suffering from hunger and sickness | motion/sickness etc. sickness (=sickness caused by traveling in a car, boat, etc.)
2 disease, illness
(≡ agrees with us.) | We were on the winning/losing side. | Teachers should never take sides (= support just one person or opinion).

FOOD a dish that you eat in addition to the main dish of a meal in a restaurant [SYN side dish, side order]: I’ll have the roast beef sandwich with a side of fries.

13 on the side a) in addition to your regular job: He runs a little business on the side.

RESULT of an activity, situation, or event side·board /ˌsaɪdˈbaːrd/ n. [C] furniture in a room.

side·line /ˌsaɪdˈlaɪn/ n. [C] or pl. [U] the left or right part of your body from your shoulder to the top of your leg: Turn over and lie on your right side.

side·kicker /ˌsaɪdˈkɪkər/ n. [C] or pl. the left or right of a thing: There’s a history of heart disease on my mother’s side.

side·show /ˌsaɪdˈʃəʊ/ n. [C] a separate small part of a circus or fair, that often has very unusual performers.

side·step /ˌsaɪdˈstæp/ v. (sidestepped, sidestepping) [T] to avoid a difficult question or decision: Congressman Howell sidestepped the reporters’ questions.

side·swipe /ˌsaɪdˈswaɪp/ [T] to hit the side of a car or other vehicle with the side of your car.

side·track /ˌsaɪdˈtræk/ [T] to make someone stop doing or saying something by making him/her interested in something else: I think we’re getting sidetracked from the main issue here.

side·view [mirror] /ˌsaɪdˈvaɪər/ n. [C] a mirror attached to the side of a car.

side·walk /ˌsaɪdˈwɔːk/ n. [C] a hard surface or path for people to walk on along the side of a street.

side·ways /ˌsaɪdˈweɪz/ adv. toward one side, or with the side facing forward: Mel’s car slid sideways as it hit the ice.

side·ing /ˌsaɪdɪŋ/ n. [U] wood, metal, or plastic in long narrow pieces, used for covering the sides of houses: They’ve put new aluminum siding on their home.

sid·de·ly /ˌsaɪdˈdəli/ [T] to walk toward someone or something slowly, as if you do not want to be noticed: Theo sidled up to me with an embarrassed look.

siege /ˈsaɪdʒ/ n. [C] a situation in which an army surrounds a place and stops supplies of food, weapons, etc., from getting in: a city under siege (= surrounded by an army).

si·es·ta /ˌsaɪəˈsta/ n. [C] a short sleep in the afternoon, often taken by people in warm countries [origin: 1600–1700 Spanish, Latin sexta (hora) “sixth hour, noon”].

sieve /sɪv/ n. [C] a kitchen tool that looks like a wire net, used for separating solids from liquids —sieve v. [T]

sift /sɪft/ v. [T] to pour flour, sugar, etc. through a sifter in order to remove large pieces —sift through to examine something very carefully in order to find something: The commission will have...
sight

/vaitst/n. [C] the physical ability to see

-eyeSIGHT [U] the act of seeing something:

-He can’t stand the sight of blood. [I] We caught sight of (suddenly saw) Henry as we turned the corner.

-1 ABILITY TO SEE [U] the act of seeing something: It was a clear, obvious/visible sign.

-2 ACT OF SEEING [singular U] the act of seeing something: He can’t stand the sight of blood. [I] We caught sight of (suddenly saw) Henry as we turned the corner.

-3 STH YOU SEE [C] something you can see, especially if it is something beautiful, unusual, etc.: The Wrigley Building is one of the most famous sights in Chicago. It was a common sight to see children begg ing on the streets.

-4 in/within sight (of sth) a) inside the area that you can see: There was nobody in sight. [I] We camped within sight of the lake.

-5 out of sight (of sth) outside the area that you can see: Keep your car windows rolled up and your valuables out of sight.

-6 not let sb out of your sight to make sure that someone stays near you: Stay here, and don’t let the baby out of your sight.

-7 lose sight of sth to forget an important part of something because you are too concerned about the details: We have lost sight of the fact that the computer is only a tool.

-8 out of sight, out of mind used to say that you will soon forget someone or something if you do not see him, her, or it for a short period of time.

-9 ON A WEAPON [C usually plural] the part of a gun or weapon that helps you aim at something [Oxford: Old English gesiht]

-sight2 v. [T] to see something from a long distance away, especially something you have been looking for: Two bears have been sighted in the area.

-sight-ed /saitid/ adj. able to see (no longer blind)

-sight-ing /saitiŋ/ n. [C] an occasion when something is seen, especially when it is something unusual or rare

-sight-read /sait ri’d/ v (past tense and past participle sight-read /-red/) [T] ENg. LANG. ARTS to play or sing written music that you are looking at for the first time, without practicing it first -sight-see-ing /sait siŋ/ n. [U] the activity of visiting famous or interesting places, especially as a tourist: We went sightseeing and saw a play.

—sightseer n. [C]

-sight word n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word which a reader recognizes immediately as a whole without needing to examine its different parts sign1 /sān/ n. [C] 1 a piece of paper, metal, etc. with words or a picture that gives people information, a warning, or instructions:

-Follow the signs that say “Montlake Bridge.” [I] a no smoking sign

-2 an event, fact, etc. that shows that something exists or is happening, or that it will happen in the future: The house showed no signs of a forced entry. [I] That’s a good/bad sign! [I] Extreme tiredness is an early sign of the disease. [I] There are worrying signs that the agreement will fail.

-clear/obvious/visible sign – one that you can clearly see or understand

-good/positive/encouraging sign – one that tells you that something good might happen

-bad/warning sign – one that tells you that something bad might happen

-early sign – one that shows what is happening at the beginning of a process, situation, etc.

-sure sign – one that proves that something is true

-3 a picture or shape that has a particular meaning [SYN: symbol] A dollar sign looks like “$.” 4 a movement or sound that you make in order to tell someone something: I’m ready to go, he said, giving the crowd a thumbs-up sign.

-5 one of the symbols of the zodiac [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French signe, from Latin signum “mark, sign, image, seal”]

-sign2 v. 1 [I,T] to write your name on a letter or document to show that you wrote it or agree with it, or to make it official: Unsigned the three-year contract.

-2 phr.v. to officially say or show that you agree to or do something: signed the agreement last week. [I] Underneath, she had signed her name.

-3 [I] to tell someone something by using movements: She signed to us to get out of the way.

-sign sth ↔ away phr.v to sign a document that gives your property or legal rights to someone else: The Puyallup Tribe signed away much of their land rights.

-sign for sth phr.v. to sign a document to prove that you have received something: I need you to sign for this package.

-sign (sb) ↔ in phr.v. to write your name or someone’s name in a book when you enter a hotel, an office building, etc.

-sign off phr.v. 1 to officially say or show that you approve of a document, plan, or idea: Both sides signed off on the agreement. 2 to say goodbye at the end of a radio or television broadcast, or at the end of a letter

-sign on phr.v. to agree to work for someone or to do something, and usually to sign a document showing this: Several boys signed on as volunteers.

-sign out phr.v. 1 sign (sb) out to write your name in a book when you leave a hotel, an office building, etc. 2 sign sth ↔ out to write your name on a form or in a book to show that you have taken or borrowed something sign sth ↔ over phr. v. to sign an official document that gives your property or legal rights to someone else: Daley signed over his shares to his partner.

sign up phr. v. 1 sign ab ↔ up if someone is signed up for an organization, she signs a contract and agrees to work for that organization: Navy recruiters want to sign up people with technical abilities. 2 to put your name on a list because you want to take a class, belong to a group, etc.: 500 children have signed up for the music classes.

signal /ˈsɪɡnl/ n. [C] 1 a sound, action, or event that gives information or tells someone to do something: He gave the signal to start. | I phoned, but only got a busy signal (=sound telling you the phone is being used). | The governor is sending signals that he will run for president. 2 physics a series of light waves, sound waves, etc. that carry information or tells something to someone else: signals that are used by people who cannot hear language that uses hand movements instead of spoken words, used by people who cannot hear signifies /ˈsɪgnɪfaɪ/ v. (signified, signifies) [T] 1 to represent, mean, or be a sign of something: The image of a dove signifies peace. | The flag signified that the ship was Japanese. 2 to express a wish, feeling, or opinion by doing something: Everyone nodded to signify their agreement.

signing /ˈsaɪnɪŋ/ n. [U] the act of writing your name on something such as an agreement or a contract: the signing of the peace agreement signatory /ˈsɪgnətəri/ n. [C] one of the people or countries that sign an agreement

signalize /ˈsɪgnəlaɪz/ v. 1 [I,T] to make a movement or sound, without speaking, that gives information or tells someone to do something: Marshall signaled for coffee. 2 [T] to make something clear by what you do or say: Carter has signaled his intention to run for mayor. 3 [T] to be a sign or proof that something is going to happen: Bad behavior may signal a learning problem. 4 [I] to show the direction you intend to turn in a car, by using lights to indicate: Don’t forget to signal before you change lanes.

signature /ˈsɪgnətʃər/ n. [C] your name written the way you usually write it, for example at the end of a letter, on a check, etc.: We need your signature on these documents. ➔ WRITE significant /ˈsɪgnɪfɪkənt/ adj. 1 noticeable or important [GPT]: insignificant: a significant 20th century artist | significant differences between the two groups significan

ty /ˈsɪgnɪfɪkəntɪ/ n. [U] the importance or meaning of something, especially something that might affect you in the future: the historical significance of the battle significantly /ˈsɪgnɪfɪkəntɪli/ adv.

signific
cant /ˈsɪgnəfɪkənt/ n. [C] (humorous) your husband, wife, girlfriend, or boyfriend significantly /ˈsɪgnɪfɪkəntɪli/ adv.

significance /ˈsɪgnɪfɪkəns/ n. 1 the fact or quality of being important or meaningful: the significance of something that might affect you in the future: band, wife, girlfriend, or boyfriend signpost /ˈsɪgnpɔʊst/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 complete quiet because no one is talking, or a period of complete quiet: There was a stunned/awkward/embarrassed etc. silence. | a brief/short/long silence | The family sat eating in silence. 2 [U] complete absence of sound or noise: the silence of space | A blackbird’s call broke the silence.

silenc
er /ˈsaɪlənɪər/ n. [C] a thing that is put on the end of a gun so that it makes less noise when it is fired

silent /ˈsaɪlənt/ adj. 1 not saying anything or making any noise: [synonym]: quiet: silent prayer | The crowd fell silent (became quiet) when the President appeared. 2 failing or refusing to talk about something: Those closest to the actress are remain- ing silent about the affair. 3 [only before noun] a silent movie has pictures but no sound 4 a silent letter in a word is not pronounced [Origin: 1400–1500 Latin, present participle of silere “to be silent”] —silently adv.

silent /ˈsaɪlənt/ adj. 1 not saying anything or making any noise: [synonym]: quiet: silent prayer | The crowd fell silent (became quiet) when the President appeared. 2 failing or refusing to talk about something: Those closest to the actress are remain- ing silent about the affair. 3 [only before noun] a silent movie has pictures but no sound 4 a silent letter in a word is not pronounced [Origin: 1400–1500 Latin, present participle of silere “to be silent”] —silently adv.

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.

silencer /ˈsaɪlənɜər/ n. [C] a device that is put on the end of a gun so that it makes less noise when it is fired silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.

silenc
er /ˈsaɪlənɪər/ n. [C] a thing that is put on the end of a gun so that it makes less noise when it is fired

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ n. [C] 1 something that is used for holding a street sign up 2 something that shows what is happening or what you should do: The employment figures are a key signpost of the economy’s performance.
silk /silk/ n. [CU] a thin thread produced by a silkworm, or the soft, usually shiny cloth made from this thread: a silk shirt silverware /'silvərweər/ n. [C] a type of CATER-PILLAR (sews) that produces silk silver /'sɪlvər/ n. similar /ˈsɪmələr/ adj. soft and smooth like silk: silky fur sill /sɪl/ n. [C] the narrow flat piece of wood at the base of a window frame

sil·ly /ˈsɪlɪ/ adj. (comparative sillier, superlative silliest) not sensible or serious: not sensible or serious: a silly thing to do | You’re being silly. [Orig.: Old English sæelig “happy”] —silliness n. [U] silos /ˈsɪloʊz/ n. (plural silos) 1 a tall round building used for storing grain, animal food, etc. 2 a large structure under the ground from which a MISSILE can be fired silver/sɪlvər/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES sand or mud that is carried by the water in a river, and settles in a bend of the river or in the entrance to a port silverware /ˈsɪlvərweər/ n. [U] objects such as knives, spoons, and forks that are made of silver or a similar metal silverware /ˈsɪlvərweər/ n. [C] a prize made of silver that is given to someone who finishes second in a race or competition silver anniversary /ˈsɪlvər ənˈvɪərē/ n. [C] the date that is exactly 25 years after an important event, especially a wedding silver medal /ˈsɪlvər ˈmedəl/ n. [C] a prize made of silver that is given to someone who finishes second in a race or competition silverware /ˈsɪlvərweər/ n. [C] objects such as knives, spoons, and forks that are made of silver or a similar metal

sim·i·lar·i·ty /ˌsɪməˈlærəti/ n. (plural similarities) [C] the quality of being similar, or a particular way in which things or people are similar: There are similarities with German, but Yiddish is a distinct language. | his similarity to my brother | Discuss the similarities and differences between the two writers.

sim·i·lar·i·ty /ˌsɪməˈlærəti/ n. (plural similarities) [C] the quality of being similar, or a particular way in which things or people are similar: There are similarities with German, but Yiddish is a distinct language. | his similarity to my brother | Discuss the similarities and differences between the two writers.

sim·i·lar·i·ty /ˌsɪməˈlærəti/ n. (plural similarities) [C] the quality of being similar, or a particular way in which things or people are similar: There are similarities with German, but Yiddish is a distinct language. | his similarity to my brother | Discuss the similarities and differences between the two writers.

2 made in a plain style, without a lot of decoration or things that are not necessary: a simple white dress 3 not involving anything else: He plays for the love of music, pure/plain and simple. | The simple fact/truth is we don’t have the money. 4 Don’t say “The fact is simple.” 5 consisting of only one or a few necessary parts: simple tools like a hammer and saw 6 ordinary and not special in any way: I live a very simple life. 6 simple past/present/future ENG. LANG. ARTS a tense of a verb that is not formed with an AUXILIARY such as “have” or “be” [Orig.: 1200—1300 Old French “plain, uncomplicated,” from Latin simplus, from sim- “one” + -plus “multiplied by”] simple interest /ˈsɪmpl ˈɪntərst/ n. [U] ECONOMICS interest that is calculated on the sum of money that you first INVESTED, and does not include the interest it has already earned → COMPOUND INTEREST

SIMPLE-MINDED adj. not able to understand complicated things

SIMPLE SENTENCE n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sentence that consists of one main CLAUSE, for example: “He ate the cake.”

SIMPLI-CITY /ˌsɪmpləˈsɪti/ n. [U] the quality of being simple and not complicated, especially when this is attractive or useful: the simplicity of his writing style. | For simplicity (to make something easy), divide the class into three groups.

SIMPLIFY /ˈsɪmplɪfaɪ/ v. (simplified, simplifies) [T] 1 to make something clearer and easier to do or understand → OVERSIMPLIFY: a promise to simplify the tax forms 2 MATH to change an EQUATION, FRACTION, or other mathematical expression into its simplest form, using ARITHMETIC and ALGEBRA —SIMPLIFICATION /ˌsɪmplɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ n. [U]

SIMPLE-TIC /ˌsɪmplɪˈtɪk/ adj. (disapproving) treating difficult subjects in a way that is too simple: a simplistic view of the problem

SIMPLY /ˈsɪmplɪ/ adv. 1 only (esp. just) You shouldn’t buy something simply because it’s on sale. 2 used in order to emphasize what you are saying: The movie simply isn’t any good. 3 in a way that is easy to understand: To put it simply (=explain it in a simple way), inflation means that prices rise. 4 in a plain and ordinary way: Alanna was dressed quite simply.

SIMULATE /ˌsɪmjuˈleɪt/ v. [T] to make or do something that is not real but looks, sounds, or feels as though it is real: Computer models have simulated conditions on Mars. [Origin: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of simulare “to copy,” from similis “like, similar” —simulator n. [C]: a flight simulator —SIMULATED adj. → ARTIFICIAL

SIMULATION /ˌsɪmjuˈleɪʃən/ n. [C,U] something you do or make in order to practice what you would do in a real situation; a computer simulation used to train airline pilots

SIMULAT-NEOUS /ˌsɪmʊləˈneɪs/ adj. happening or done at exactly the same time: a simultaneous broadcast on TV and radio [Origin: 1600–1700 Medieval Latin simultaneus, from Latin simul “at the same time”] —SIMULTANEOUSLY adv.

SIN /sɪn/ n. 1 [C] something you do that is against religious laws: He confessed his sins to one of the priests. 2 [singular] (informal) something that you do not approve of: It’s a sin to waste food.

SIN /sɪn/ v. (sinned, sinning) [I] to do something wrong that is against religious laws

SIN? the written abbreviation of SINE

SINCE /sɪns/ conjunction, prep., adv. 1 at or from a particular time in the past until now: I haven’t seen him since we graduated from high school. 2 Paul had been waiting since 2 o’clock. 3 His ex-wife has since remarried, but he’s still single. 4 We’ve lived here ever since we got married. 5 He had a car accident in 2002. Since then, he has been unemployed. 6 since the bus leaves at 7 a.m. 7 since when? (spoken) used in questions to show anger or surprise: Since when did you start smoking? → see Grammar box at A60

SINCERE /ˈsɪnsər/ adj. honest and true, or based on what you really feel or believe (vs. insincere: a sincere apology [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin sincerus “clean, pure”])

SINCERELY /ˈsɪnsərli/ adv. 1 in a sincere way: Both men sincerely admired each other’s work. 2 Sincerely/Sincerely yours/Yours sincerely an expression you write at the end of a formal letter before you sign your name

SINE /ˈsaɪn/ n. [C] MATH the fraction that you calculate for an angle in a RIGHT TRIANGLE, by dividing the length of the side opposite the angle by the length of the HYPOTENUSE (=longest side)

SINE-WAVE /ˈsaɪnˌweɪ/ n. [C,U] BIOLOGY a strong cord in the body that connects a muscle to a bone

SING /sɪŋ/ v. (past tense sang /sæŋ/, past participle sung /sʌŋ/) [T] to make musical sounds, songs, etc. with your voice: The kids sang songs about peace. 1 Jana sings in the church choir. 2 [I] if birds sing, they produce high musical sounds —SINGING n. [U]

SING ALONG phr. v. to sing with someone else who is already singing or playing music: Sing along to all your favorite tunes.

SING OUT phr. v. to sing or shout loudly and clearly

SING, the written abbreviation of SINGULAR

SING /sɪŋ/ v. (past tense sang /sæŋ/, past participle sung /sʌŋ/) [T] to burn something slightly on the surface or edge, or to be burned in this way

SING-ER /ˈsɪŋər/ n. [C] someone who sings, especially as a job: an opera singer

SINGLED /ˈsɪŋgld/ adj. 1 only one: We lost the game by a single point. 2 a single sheet of paper 3 not married: Is he single? 4 a club for single men/women 3 single parent/mother/father a mother or father who takes care of her/his children by herself or himself, because s/he is not married 4 used in order to emphasize a separate thing: Smoking is the single most important cause of lung cancer. | This is the single biggest/greatest problem we face. | She visits her mother every single day. 5 intended to be used by only one person → DOUBLE: a single bed → see picture at BED

SINGULAR /ˈsɪŋgəl/ adj. one of a kind: a single flower single

1. A musical recording of only one song: her hit single.
2. A one-dollar bill: Do you have any singles?
3. Singles [plural] people who are not married: a singles bar (where single people can go to drink and meet people).

single file n. [U] a line with one person behind the other: The children walked in single file to the field.

single-handed adv. done by one person with no help from anyone else single market n. [C] ECONOMICS a group of countries in which there is freedom of movement of goods, services, money, and workers, and with an agreement on rules for production and trade. The European Union is a single market.

single-minded adj. having one clear purpose and working hard to achieve it: a single-minded determination to succeed

singly adv. alone, on your own, (all) by yourself, solo, independently, unaided singsong n. [singular] a way of speaking in which your voice keeps rising and falling sinister adj. relating to the singular

sink v. (sank, sunk, sunk) 1. To go down below the surface of water, mud, etc., or to make something do this: The Titanic sank to the bottom of the ocean. Submarines were ordered to sink enemy ships. 2. To get to a lower level: The sun sank beneath the horizon. 3. To become worse: In the 1930s, America sank deeper into the Depression.

sink in phr. v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sink or swim to succeed or fail without help from anyone else

siral n. [C] to spend a lot of money on something: They had sunk thousands into that house.

sinkhole n. [C] to spend a lot of money on something: They had sunk thousands into that house.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] to spend a lot of money on something: They had sunk thousands into that house.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.

sinkhole n. [C] a sports event: [T] to get a basketball or golf ball into a basket or hole

sink in v. if information, facts, etc. sink in, you begin to understand them or realize their full meaning: At first, what she said didn’t really sink in.

sinkhole n. [C] an open container in a kitchen or bathroom that you fill with water to wash dishes, your hands, etc.: There was a pile of dirty dishes in the sink.
sir-loin /ˈsɜːrloʊn/ also sirloin 'steak n. [C,U] a good piece of meat cut from the back of a cow sissy /ˈsɪsɪ/ n. (plural sissies) [C] (informal) a boy that other boys do not approve of because he likes doing things that girls do —sissy adj sister /ˈsɪstr/ n. [C] 1 a girl or woman who has the same parents as you —sister+ brother: Mary is my big/older sister, and Kim is my little/younger sister. —sister adj sisterhood /ˈsɪstrəʊ/ n. [U] a strong loyalty among women who share the same ideas and aims —sisterhood adj sister-in-law n. (plural sisters-in-law) [C] 1 the sister of your husband or wife 2 the wife of your brother, or the wife of your husband’s or wife’s brother sit /sɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle sat /sæt/, present participle sitting)
1 ON A SEAT [] a) to be on a chair, a seat, or the ground with the top half of your body upright and your weight resting on your buttocks: The children sat around her on the floor. | I was sitting at my desk writing a letter. | Sit still (sit without moving) and let me fix your hair. b) also sit down to move to a sitting position after you have been standing: He came and sat beside/next to her. — see picture on page A9
2 OBJECTS/BUILDINGS [] to lie or be in a particular position or condition: Several books sat on the desk. | The house sat empty for two years.
3 NOT DO ANYTHING [] to stay in one place for a long time, especially doing nothing useful: I can’t sit here all day. I have work to do. | He was just sitting there, staring into space.
4 MAKE SB SIT [] also sit sb down to make someone sit somewhere: She sat the boy in a corner.
5 TAKE CARE OF [] to take care of a baby or child while his/her parents are not home [e.g. babysit]
6 sit tight to stay where you are and not move, or to stay in the same situation and not do anything, while you are waiting for something: Investors should sit tight and not panic.
7 not sit well with sb if a situation, plan, etc. does not sit well with someone, she does not like it: A tax raise won’t sit well with the voters.
8 sit on the fence to avoid saying which side of an argument you support or what your opinion is about something 9 MEET [] to have an official meeting: The court sits once a month. —sit adj sit back phr. v.
1 to get into a comfortable position and relax: Just sit back and relax—I’ll make dinner.
2 to make no effort to get involved in something: You can’t just sit back and then complain about what happens.
sit in phr. v.
1 to be present somewhere but not get involved in the activity: I sat in on one of his classes.
2 sit in for sb phr. v. to do a job, go to a meeting, etc. instead of the person who usually does it: He’s sitting in for Sally while she’s gone.
sit on sb phr. v. to be a member of an organization or other official group: Hawkins sits on several committees.
sit on the fence phr. v. to stay where you are and not take part in something until it finishes: Due to injuries, Herrera sat out the last two games.
sit through phr. v.
1 to go to a meeting, performance, etc. and stay until it finishes, even if it is very long or boring: We had to sit through a three-hour meeting this morning.
sit up phr. v.
1 to be in a sitting position or move to a sitting position after you have been lying down: He finally was able to sit up in bed and eat something. | Tommy, sit up straight and stop slouching.
2 to stay awake and not go to bed: He sat up all night reading it.
3 sit up and take notice to suddenly start paying attention to someone or something: Their live gigs became so popular that record companies began to sit up and take notice.
sit-com /ˈsɪt,kɒm/ n. [C,U] a funny television program in which the same characters appear in different situations each week —television adj sit-down adj. 1 a sit-down meal or restaurant is one in which you sit at a table and eat a formal meal 2 sit-down protest/strike etc. politics an occasion when a large group of people protest something by not moving from a particular area until their demands are listened to site /sɪt/ n. [C] 1 a place where something important or interesting happened: the site where the Pilgrims landed | archeological digs at historical sites | the site of an important battle situs /sɪˈtəs/ n. [C] 3 a construction site 4 a place that is used for a particular purpose: a Navajo burial site [origin: 1300–1400 old French, Latin situs, from sineere "to leave, put"] site vb. to be sited to be put or built in a particular place: The zoo is sited in the middle of the city.
sit-in n. [C] politics a protest in which people sit down and refuse to leave a place until their demands are listened to sitter /ˈsɪtər/ n. [C] (spoken) a babysitter sitting /ˈsɪtnɪŋ/ n. at/in one sitting during one continuous period of time when you are sitting in a chair: Morris read the whole book in one sitting.

situated /ˈsɪtjuətɪd/ adj. be situated to be in a particular place or position: The hotel is situated in/near the old market district.

situation /ˈsɪʃuəʃən/ n. [C] a combination of all the things that are happening and all the conditions that exist at a particular time and place: the present economic/political situation in the country | He asked himself what his father would have done in the same situation.

sit-up n. [Cu] exercise for your abdomen that is similar to a crunch: I do sit-ups after dinner.

sitter n. [C] 1] a person who sits about writing or art | a sitter for a photograph 2] a place where children can ride skateboards situation comedy n. [C] a situation comedy sit-up n. [C] usually plural an exercise for your stomach, in which you sit up from a lying position while keeping your feet on the floor six /sɪks/ number 1 6 2 six clock: I get out of class at six. 3 six years old: My folks moved here when I was six. [Origin: Old English] six-pack /ˈsɪkspæk/ n. [C] six bottles or cans of a drink sold together as a set: a six-pack of beer sixteen /ˈsɪksɪtni/ number 16 sixteenth number sixth /sɪksθ/ number 1 6th 2 1/6 sixth sense /ˈsɪksθ sɛns/ n. [singular] a special ability to feel or know something without using any of your five senses [sight, hearing, smelling, taste, or touch] → intuition sixties /ˈsɪksɪti/ number 1 60 2 the sixties a) the years between 1960 and 1969 b) the numbers between 60 and 69, especially when used for measuring temperature → be in your sixties to be aged between 60 and 69: He’s in his early/mid/late sixties. 3 sixtieth /ˈsɪksɪstθ/ number six-a-ble, sizeable /ˈsɪksəbəl/ adj. fairly large: a sizeable crowd size /ˈsaɪz/ v. size sb/sth ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to look at or consider a person or situation and make a judgment about them: He sized up the situation in a glance.

size /ˈsaɪz/ n. 1] the amount or quantity of something: a size of beer 2] a size of medium/medium-sized etc. large, average, etc. in size: a pocket-sized calculator sizeable /ˈsaɪzəbl/ adj. big, large, substantial → BIG size·s·zle /ˈsaɪzəl/ v. to make a sound like water falling on hot metal: bacon sizzling in the pan sit·u·ate /ˈsɪtʃuət/ v. situated in/near in particular place or position: The hotel is situated in/near the old market district.

situation worsens or deteriorates, it becomes worse.

situation improves, it becomes better.

situation improves, it becomes better.

skep·tic·al /ˈskeptɪkəl/ adj. doubting or not believing something: Voters are highly skeptical about/of the proposal. → skepticism sket·cho f each candidate sketch /ˈsketch/ v. 1] to draw a sketching → to make a picture, caricature, illustration sketch /ˈsketch/ n. 1] a short humorous scene that is part of a longer performance: a comedy sketch 2] a short written or spoken description without a lot of details: a brief sketch of each candidate [Origin: 1600–1700 Dutch schets, from Italian schizzo, from schizuse “to splash”] sketch·siz·le /ˈsketchsɪzəl/ n. (spoken) a Babysitter sketchy /ˈsketchi/ adj. unconvincing → DOUBTFUL sketchy /ˈsketchi/ adj. doubting or not believing something: Voters are highly skeptical about/of the proposal. → skepticism

size·s·zle /ˈsaɪzəl/ v. to make a sound like water falling on hot metal: bacon sizzling in the pan

situation /ˈsɪʃuəʃən/ n. [C] a combination of all the things that are happening and all the conditions that exist at a particular time and place: the present economic/political situation in the country | He asked himself what his father would have done in the same situation.

situation /ˈsɪʃuəʃən/ n. [C] a combination of all the things that are happening and all the conditions that exist at a particular time and place: the present economic/political situation in the country | He asked himself what his father would have done in the same situation.
skilled /ˈskɪld/ adj having the training and experience needed to do something well (ant) unskilled: a highly skilled mechanic sketch out /ˈskɛtʃaʊt/ to describe something in a general way, giving the basic ideas: Deming sketched out his plans for the new business.

skid /skɪd/ n plural skids [C] one of a pair of long narrow pieces of wood or plastic that you fasten to boots so you can move easily on snow [Origin: 1700–1800 Norwegian, Old Norse skíth “stick of wood, ski”] skier /ˈskiər/ n plural skiers [C] one of the best people at skiing

skilled /ˈskɪld/ adj having the training and experience needed to do something well (ant) unskilled: a highly skilled mechanic

sketchy /ˈskɛtʃi/ adj not thorough or complete, and not having enough details to be useful: sketchy information skew /ˈskiː/ v plural skews [T] if something skews the result of a test, election, research, etc. it affects the results, making them incorrect: Money is skewing our political system. —skewed adj: Sometimes the data can be badly skewed.

skid marks /ˈskɪd mɑːks/ n plural skid marks [C] marks left when a vehicle skidded on an icy road.

deft /deft/ adj very skillful, especially at artistic or creative things: an accomplished musician talented /ˈtɛləntɪd/ adj very good at doing something because you have a natural ability: He was a talented young player.

gifted /ˈɡɪftɪd/ adj extremely good at doing something because you have a great natural ability: Atwood is one of the most gifted writers of her generation.

deft /def/ v moving in a quick and skillful way: He finished the portrait with a few deft brush strokes.

skim milk n milk that has had most of its fat removed from it skim /skɪm/ v (skimming, skimming) 1 [T] to remove something that is floating on the surface of a liquid: Skim the fat off the soup. 2 [U] to skim through to read something quickly to find the main facts or ideas in it: Helen opened the newspaper and skimmed the headlines.

skim milk n [U] milk that has had most of its fat removed from it skin /skɪn/ n plural skins [C,U] biologically the outer covering of a human’s or animal’s body: her beautiful dark skin | The snake was shedding its skin.

skimp /skɪmp/ v (skimping, skimping) 1 to not use enough money, time, effort, etc. on something, so it is unsuccessful or of bad quality: Don’t skimp on buying good shoes for your children.

skim milk n [U] milk that has had most of its fat removed from it skill /skɪl/ n plural skills [C,U] biologically the natural outer layer of some fruits and vegetables: banana skins skin /skɪn/ n.

1 on a body [C,U] biology the natural outer covering of a human’s or animal’s body: her beautiful dark skin | The snake was shedding its skin.

2 food [C,U] the natural outer layer of some fruits and vegetables: banana skins

3 animal skin [C,U] the skin of an animal used as leather, clothes, etc.: a tiger skin rug skin

4 dark-skinned/smooth-skinned etc. having a particular type or color of skin: a fair-skinned woman

5 LAYER [C,U] a thin solid layer that forms on the top of a liquid such as paint or milk when it gets cool or is left uncovered

6 COMPUTER [C,U] n the way particular information appears on a computer screen, especially when this can be changed quickly and easily

7 get under sb’s skin (informal) to annoy someone, especially by the way you behave: I could tell my comment had gotten under his skin.

8 have thin/thick skin to be easily upset or not easily upset by criticism

9 (do sth) by the skin of your teeth (informal) to succeed in doing something, when you have almost failed to do it: We made it there by the skin of our teeth.

10 make sb’s skin crawl to make someone feel uncomfortable, nervous, or slightly afraid

11 tht is only skin deep used in order to say that something may seem important or effective, but it really is not because it only affects the way things appear: Beauty is only skin deep.

12100—1300 Old Norse "cloud"

13 skip·per /skeptˈpɛr/ n [C] (informal) someone who is in charge of a ship

14 skin·ny /ˈskɪnɪ/ adj very thin, especially in a way that is thin, slim, slender, slight, súperla·tive skinni·er comparative skinni·est superlative skinny

15 skin·head /ˈskɪnˌhɛd/ n [C] a specialiy trained person who carries a gun and whose job is to travel on an airplane and protect it from attack by TERRORISTS (syn) air marshal

16 sky·rock·et /ˈskaɪˌrɔk·ɪt/ n [I] to increase suddenly and by large amounts: Property values have skyrocketed.
slam /slæm/ v. (slammed, slamming) 1 [I,T] if a door, gate, etc. slams, or if someone slams it, it slams loudly with a lot of force: Baxter left the room, slamming the door. 2 [T] to hit something or someone against a surface with a lot of force, or to hit something with a lot of force: Manya slammed the phone down. 3 [T] (informal, written) to criticize someone strongly: Watson was slammed for not acting sooner.

slam dunk n [C] an action in basketball when a player jumps up high and throws the ball down through the basket —slam dunk v [I] slam-der /slændər/ n. [C,U] a spoken statement about someone that is not true and is intended to damage the good opinion that people have of him/her —slander v [T] —slandering adj slap /slæp/ v. 1 [I,T] to to suddenly make someone do something more, pay more money, etc.: In 1990, the U.S. slapped sanctions on Iraq. 3 slap sb on the back to hit someone on the back in a friendly way, often as a way of praising him/her slap stick /slæp strɪk/ n. [U] humorous acting in which the actors fall over, throw things at each other, etc.

slap /slæp/ v. (slapped, slapping) 1 to hit someone quickly with the flat part of your hand 2 a slap in the face an action that seems to be deliberately intended to offend or upset someone: The offer was so low as to be a slap in the face. 3 a slap on the wrist (informal) a punishment that is not very severe slap dash /slæpdæʃ/ adj. careless and done too quickly: a slapdash job slap /slæp/ n. [U] very informal, sometimes offensive, language that is used especially by people who belong to a particular group —slangy adj.

thesaurus

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>language, lingos, jargon, slant</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>language, lingos, jargon, slant</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

slam /slæm/ v. (slammed, slamming) 1 [I,T] if a door, gate, etc. slams, or if someone slams it, it shuts loudly with a lot of force: Baxter left the room, slamming the door. 2 [T] to hit something or someone against a surface with a lot of force, or to hit something with a lot of force: Manya slammed the phone down. 3 [T] (informal, written) to criticize someone strongly: Watson was slammed for not acting sooner.

slam dunk n [C] an action in basketball when a player jumps up high and throws the ball down through the basket —slam dunk v [I] slam-der /slændər/ n. [C,U] a spoken statement about someone that is not true and is intended to damage the good opinion that people have of him/her —slander v [T] —slandering adj

slap /slæp/ v. 1 [I,T] to to suddenly make someone do something more, pay more money, etc.: In 1990, the U.S. slapped sanctions on Iraq. 3 slap sb on the back to hit someone on the back in a friendly way, often as a way of praising him/her

slap stick /slæp strɪk/ n. [U] humorous acting in which the actors fall over, throw things at each other, etc.

slap /slæp/ n. [U] very informal, sometimes offensive, language that is used especially by people who belong to a particular group —slangy adj.

thesaurus

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>language, lingos, jargon, slant</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>language, lingos, jargon, slant</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

slam /slæm/ v. (slammed, slamming) 1 [I,T] if a door, gate, etc. slams, or if someone slams it, it shuts loudly with a lot of force: Baxter left the room, slamming the door. 2 [T] to hit something or someone against a surface with a lot of force, or to hit something with a lot of force: Manya slammed the phone down. 3 [T] (informal, written) to criticize someone strongly: Watson was slammed for not acting sooner.

slam dunk n [C] an action in basketball when a player jumps up high and throws the ball down through the basket —slam dunk v [I] slam-der /slændər/ n. [C,U] a spoken statement about someone that is not true and is intended to damage the good opinion that people have of him/her —slander v [T] —slandering adj

slap /slæp/ v. 1 [I,T] to to suddenly make someone do something more, pay more money, etc.: In 1990, the U.S. slapped sanctions on Iraq. 3 slap sb on the back to hit someone on the back in a friendly way, often as a way of praising him/her

slap stick /slæp strɪk/ n. [U] humorous acting in which the actors fall over, throw things at each other, etc.

slap /slæp/ n. [U] very informal, sometimes offensive, language that is used especially by people who belong to a particular group —slangy adj.
slat /slæt/ n. [C] a thin flat piece of wood, plastic, or metal, used especially in furniture slate /slæt/ n. 1 [U] EARTH SCIENCES a dark gray rock that can be easily split into thin flat pieces 2 [C] POLITICS a list of people that voters can choose in an election slate /v. be slated to do sth/be slated for sth if something is slated to happen, it is planned to happen in the future: The committee is slated to vote on the bill next week. | The corner office buildings are slated for demolition.

slath·er /'slæðər/ v. [inf. to cover something with a thick layer of a soft substance: fresh bread slathered with butter slaugh·ter·house /'slaʊθəʊs/ n. [U] the slaughter of innocent people slaughter /'slaʊðər/ v. 1 to kill a lot of people in a cruel or violent way: Hundreds of innocent civilians had been slaughtered by government troops. 2 to kill an animal for food 3 (informal) to defeat an opponent by a large number of points: New York slaughtered Boston, 11–2. —slaughterer n. [U]: the slaughters of innocent people slaughter·house /'slaʊθəʊs/ n. [C] a building where animals are killed for their meat slave /ˈsləv/ n. 1 someone who is owned by another person and is forced to work without pay for him/her 2 be a slave to/of sth (disapproving) to be so strongly influenced by something that you cannot make your own decisions: a slave to fashion [origin: 1200–1300 Old French esclave, from Medieval Latin sclavus, from Slavus “Slavic person; because in the early Middle Ages many Slavic people in central Europe were slaves] slavery /ˈsləvəri/ n. [U] the system of having slaves, or the condition of being a slave: Slavery was abolished (=officially ended) after the Civil War. They were captured and sold into slavery.

slave·ish /ˈslævɪʃ/ adj. (disapproving) too willing to do what you are told to do or to behave like someone else, without thinking for yourself: slavish devotion to duty slay /slɛɪ/ v. (past tense slew /slɔ/, past participle slain /slɛn/) [T] to kill a person or animal violently: St. George slew the dragon. —slaying n. [C] slaughter /ˈslaʊðər/ n. informal to make people work extremely hard slaughter·house /ˈslaʊθəʊs/ n. [C] a building where animals are killed for their meat slaughter·er /ˈslæðər/ n. [C] a person and is forced to work without pay sleep /slɛp/ v. (past tense slept /slɛpt/) 1 [I] to rest your mind and body by lying down with your eyes closed ➔ ASLEEP: “Did you sleep well?” | He was sleeping soundly when the phone rang. | I couldn’t sleep last night. | If you’re tired, why don’t you sleep late (=sleep until late in the morning) tomorrow? | Goodnight, sleep tight (=sleep well).

2 to sleep on sth (spoken) to not make a decision about something important until the next day 3 [T] to have enough beds for a particular number of people: The tent sleeps six. [origin: Old English sleap] sleep well/badly — to sleep deeply and peacefully sleep like a baby — to sleep deeply and peacefully

2 sleep on it (spoken) to not make a decision about something important until the next day 3 [T] to have enough beds for a particular number of people: The tent sleeps six. [origin: Old English sleep] sleep around phr. v. (disapproving) to have sex with many people without having a serious relationship with any of them sleep in phr. v. to sleep later than usual in the morning: I slept in till 10:00 on Saturday.

sleep over phr. v. to sleep at someone’s house for a night: Mom, can I sleep over at Ann’s tonight?

sleep through phr. v. to continue sleeping while something noisy is happening: How could you have slept through the earthquake?

sleep together phr. v. (informal) if people sleep together, they have sex with each other sleep with sb phr v. (informal) to have sex with someone, especially someone you are not married to: Everyone knows he’s sleeping with Diana.

sleep² n. 1 [U] the natural state of being asleep: He sleeps 8 hours a night. 2 What time did you get to sleep (=start sleeping)? 3 I didn’t get much sleep last night. 4 Ed sometimes talks in his sleep (=while he is sleeping). 5 a period when you are sleeping: You’ll feel better after a good night’s sleep (=a night when you sleep well). 6 A sudden noise woke me from a deep sleep. 7 to go to sleep a) to start sleeping: Katherine went to sleep about 7:00 last night. b) (informal) if a part of your body goes to sleep, you cannot feel it for a short time because it has not been getting enough blood. 8 lose (any) sleep over sth (spoken) to worry about something: If his client goes to jail, he won’t lose any sleep over it. 9 put a dog/cat etc. to sleep: give an animal drugs so that it dies without pain.

sleep-er /ˈslɪpər/ n. C 1 someone who is asleep or who sleeps in a particular way: Sam’s a heavy/light sleeper (=he sleeps well or wakes up easily). 2 a movie, book, etc. that is successful, even though people did not expect it to be.

sleeping bag n. C a large warm bag for sleeping in, especially when camping.

sleeping pill n. C a pill that helps you to sleep.

sleep-less /ˈslɪplɪs/ adj. a sleepless night a night when you are unable to sleep —sleeplessness n. [U] sleep-walk-er /ˈslɪpˌwɔːkər/ n. C someone who walks while s/he is sleeping —sleepwalking n. [U] sleep-y /ˈslɪpI/ adj. (comparative sleepier, superlative sleepiest) 1 tired and ready for sleep: I don’t know why I’m so sleepy. 2 a sleepy place is quiet and without much activity: a sleepy little town.

sleepily adv. —sleepiness n. [U] sleepy-head /ˈslɪpiˌhɛd/ n. C (spoken) someone, especially a child, who looks as if s/he wants to go to sleep: It’s time for bed, sleepyhead.

sleet /slɛt/ n. U freezing rain —sleet v. [I] sleeve /ˈslɛv/ n. 1 [C] the part of a piece of clothing that covers your arm or part of your arm: a blouse with short/f long sleeves 2 long-sleeved/short-sleeved with long or short sleeves: a long-sleeved shirt 3 have sth up your sleeve (informal) to have a secret plan that you are going to use later: Janssen usually has a few surprises up his sleeve. [orig: Old English skies] sleeve-less /ˈslɛvlɪs/ adj. without sleeves: a sleeveless dress.

sleigh /slaɪ/ n. C a large vehicle pulled by animals, used for traveling on snow.

sleight of hand /ˈslaɪt əvˈhænd/ n. U quick skillful movements with your hands when performing magic tricks.

sleender /ˈslɛndər/ adj. thin, graceful, and attractive: long slender fingers.

slept /ˈslept/ v. the past tense and past participle of SLEEP² sleuth /ˈsluθ/ n. C (old-fashioned) someone who tries to find out information about a crime [orig.: 1800—1900 sleuthhound “dog used for tracking people” (14—20 centuries), from sleuth “track” (12 —15 centuries) (from Old Norse sluth) + hound].

slew /slu/ n. a slew of sth (informal) a large number: Her work as a reporter has won her a slew of awards.

slew² v. the past tense of SLEW.

slice¹ /slaɪs/ n. 1 a thin flat piece of bread, meat, etc. cut from a larger piece: a slice of pizza. 2 a part or a piece of something: The German company wants a slice of the U.S. market. 3 a slice of life a film, play, or book which shows life as it really is [orig.: 1400—1500 Old Fr. slice “thin piece broken off,” from esclercier “to splinter”] slice² v. 1 [I] also slice up to cut meat, bread, etc. into thin flat pieces: Could you slice the bread? —see picture at CUT² sliced /ˈslaɪd/ v. [T] to cut something easily with one movement of a sharp knife or edge: Careful! —that blade could slice through your finger.

slick¹ /slɪk/ adj. 1 (disapproving) good at persuading people, often in a way that does not seem honest: a slick salesman. 2 (disapproving) attractive or skillful, but not containing any important or interesting ideas: slick commercials. 3 smooth and slippery: The roads are slick with ice.

slick² n. C an oil slick.

slick³ v. slick sth down/back phr v. to make hair smooth and shiny by putting oil, water, etc. on it.
slide

slide /slaid/ v. (past tense and past participle slid /slid/) 1 [T] to move smoothly over a surface while continuing to touch it, or to move something in this way: children sliding on the ice | She slid the box across the floor | The door slides open automatically. 2 [I] to move somewhere quietly without being noticed, or to move something in this way: She slid out of the room without waking anyone. | He slid the gun into his pocket. 3 [I] ECONOMICS to become lower in value, number, or amount: Car sales slid 0.5% in July. 4 [I] to gradually become worse, or to begin to have a problem: Morrison gradually slid into alcohol and drug abuse. 5 let sth slide (informal) to ignore something: I didn’t agree, but I let it slide. [Origin: Old English slidan]

slide2 n. [C] 1 a large structure for children to slide down while playing 2 a photograph in a frame that you shine a light through to show a picture on a screen or wall: slides of our vacation 3 a decrease in the amount, value, standard, or quality of something: a slide in interest rates | The school is worried about the slide in student performance. 4 EARTH SCIENCES a sudden fall of earth, stones, snow, etc. down a slope: a rock slide. 5 SCIENCE a small thin piece of glass, used for holding something when you look at it under a MICROSCOPE → see picture at MICROSCOPE slide projector n. [C] a piece of equipment that makes slides appear on a screen sliding scale n. [C] a system for calculating how much you pay for taxes, medical treatment, etc., in which the amount that you pay changes according to different conditions: Fees are calculated on a sliding scale.

slight1 /slaat/ adj. 1 small in degree, and not serious or important: a slight delay | a slight increase | a slight headache 2 not the slightest chance/doubt/difference etc. no doubt, chance, etc. at all: I didn’t have the slightest idea who that man was. 3 someone who is slight is thin and delicate: a slight old lady slight2 v. [T] to offend someone by treating him/her rudely: Meg felt slighted at not being invited to the party.

slight3 n. [C] (formal) a remark or action that offends someone: I consider the comment a slight on the quality of our work!

slight-ly /ˈslærli/ adv. 1 a little: She raised her eyebrow slightly. | The official gave a slightly different version of events. | The trip took slightly more than an hour. 2 slightly built having a thin and delicate body slim1 /slim/ adj. 1 attractively thin: tall and slim slim2 v. (slimmed, slimming) slim down gbr. v. 1 to reduce the size or number of something: Apex Co. is slimming down its workforce to cut costs. 2 to become thinner by eating less or exercising more: I’ve been trying to slim down since Christmas. slime /slaim/ n. [U] a thick slippery substance that looks or smells bad

slim3 adj. 1 covered with slime: slimy rocks | trees 2 (informal, disapproving) friendly in a way that does not show sincere: a slimy politician

slip1 /slip/ v. (slipped, slipping) 1 [I] to accidentally slide a short distance quickly, or to fall by sliding in this way: Joan slipped and fell. | Be careful not to slip on the ice. | The knife slipped and cut her finger. → see picture at SLIDE

slip2 [l] to go somewhere, without attracting other people’s attention: I managed to slip out of the office before 5:00. 3 [T] to put something somewhere, or to give someone something quietly or secretly: Dad slipped me $50 when Mom wasn’t looking. 4 [I,T] to put on or take off a piece of clothing quickly and smoothly: I’ll just slip into something more comfortable. 5 [I] to become worse or lower than before (syn fall): Standards have slipped in the restaurant since the head chef left. 6 let sth slip to say something without meaning to, when you had wanted it to be a secret: Lance let it slip that Julie was planning to quit. 7 slip your mind if something slips your mind, you forget to do it: I meant to call you but it completely slipped my mind.
slip out phr.v. if something slips out, you say it without intending to: I’m sorry I spoiled the surprise, it just slipped out.
slip up phr.v. to make a mistake: They slipped up and sent me the wrong form.

slip 1 n. [C] a small or narrow piece of paper: a slip of paper with her phone number on it 2 a slip of the tongue something that you say when you mean to say something else 3 a piece of underwear, similar to a thin dress or skirt, that a woman wears under a dress or skirt 4 give sb the slip (informal) to escape from someone who is chasing you: He gave the police the slip.
slip-knot f’slipkat/ n. [C] a knot that you can make tighter by pulling one of its ends slipped ‘disc n. [C] a painful injury caused when something part between the bones in your back moves out of place slip-per /‘slipar/ n. [C] a light soft shoe that you wear in your house ➔ see picture at SHOE slip-per-y /‘sliparari/ adj. 1 something that is slippery is difficult to hold, walk on, etc. because it is wet or greasy: Careful, the sidewalk’s slippery. 2 a/the slippery slope the beginning of something that will be hard to stop and will develop into something very bad slip-shod /‘sliparsad/ adj. (disapproving) done too quickly and carelessly: slipshod work

’slip-up n. [C] a careless mistake: We cannot afford another slip-up.
slit /‘slat/ v. (past tense and past participle slit, present participle slitting) [T] to make a straight narrow cut in cloth, paper, etc.: Slit the pie crust before baking. —slit n. [C] sli-th-er /‘slatiar/ v. [I] to slide or move across a surface, twisting and moving like a snake sliv-er /‘slaiar/ n. [C] a very small narrow piece of something: a sliver of glass | You can just see a sliver of the ocean from our hotel.
slob /‘slab/ n. [C] (informal) someone who is lazy, dirty, and messy slob-ber /‘slobrar/ v. [I] to let saliva (=liquid produced in your mouth) come out of your mouth and run down: The dog’s slobbered all over the rug!

slog /‘slag/ v. (slogged, slogging) [I,T] to work very hard at something without stopping: I’ve been slogging through a boring 400 page novel. 2 to walk somewhere with difficulty: soldiers slogging through the mud slog-gan /‘slaggaran/ n. [C] a short phrase that is easy to remember, used by politicians, companies that are advertising, etc.: The crowd shouted anti-racist slogans.
slo-f1 /‘slaf/ v. (slopped, slopping) [I,T] to make liquid move around or over the edge of something, or to move in this way: The coffee slopped out of the cup and all over me.
slop 2 n. [U] 1 food waste that is used for feeding animals 2 food that is too soft and tastes bad: I’m not eating that slop!
slope 1 n. [U] a piece of ground or a surface that is higher at one end than the other: a ski slope 2 [singular] the angle at which something slopes: a slope of 30° slope 2 v. [I] if the ground or a surface slopes, it is higher at one end than the other: They looked out over a broad meadow that sloped toward the water.
slop-er /‘slapar/ adj. 1 not done carefully or thoroughly: sloppy work | sloppy handwriting 2 sloppy clothes are loose-fitting and not neat: a sloppy old sweater 3 wet and disgusting: a sloppy kiss —sloppily adv. —sloppiness n. [U] slash /‘slaf/ v. [I] 1 to walk through water or mud in a noisy way: kids sloshing through puddles 2 if a liquid in a container sloshes, it moves against the sides of the container: water sloshing around in the bottom of the boat sloshed /‘slad/ adj. (informal) drunk: Gas was sloshed even before the party started.
slot /‘slat/ n. [C] 1 a long narrow hole made in a surface: Which slot do the coins go in? 2 a short period of time allowed for one particular event on a program: the most popular TV show in its time slot [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French escloir “hollow place in the bone in the middle of the chest”] slot 2 v. (slotted, slotting) [I,T] to put something into a slot, or to go in a slot: The cassette slots in here.
sloth /‘slath/ n. 1 [C] a slow-moving animal from Central and South America 2 [U] (literary) laziness —slothful adj.
slot ma-chine /‘slotmai/ n. 1 [C] a machine in which you put coins so that you can play games or try to win money slooch1 /‘slau/ v. [I] to stand, sit, or walk with your shoulders bent forward in a way that makes you look tired or lazy: Stanley was slounched against the wall, fast asleep.

slooch 2 n. 1 [singular] the position of your body when you slooch 2 be no slooch (informal) to be slovenly

very good or skilful at something: He’s no slouch with a camera.

slow1 /ˈslou̇/ adj. 1 not moving, being done, or happening quickly very fast: The slowest runners started at the back. | They’ve been slow in answering our letter (=took a long time to answer it). | The police were slow to respond (=stook too long to do something). | Progress has been painfully slow (=far too slow).

slow2 v. (sluggishly, sluggishness) [T] 1 moving, working, or reacting more slowly than normal [by] slow: The traffic was sluggish downtown.

slow3 n. [C] a passage for water to flow through, with a gate that can stop the water if necessary slow4 n. (slummed, slumming) 1 ECONOMICS a period when there is a sudden decrease in prices, sales, profits, etc.: a slump in the housing market 2 ECONOMICS a period when there is a reduction in business and many people lose their jobs: an economic slump slow5 n. [C] 1 ECONOMICS a sudden decrease in prices, sales, profits, etc.: a slump in the housing market 2 ECONOMICS a period when there is a reduction in business and many people lose their jobs: an economic slump slow down phr. v. [T] to become slower, or to make someone or something slower: Slow down or you’ll get a speeding ticket. | Dave’s back trouble is slowing him down.

slow up adv. slowly: Can you run a little slower? I can’t keep up.

slowly /ˈslou̇li/ adv. at a slow speed or rate: Doctors slowly removed the bandages from her arm. | Things have begun to change slowly.

slow motion n. [U] movement in a movie or television program shown at a much slower speed than the speed at which it happened: Let’s see a replay of that goal in slow motion.

slow poke /ˈslou̇pʊk/ n. [C] (spoken) someone who moves or does things too slowly

slow-witted adj. not quick to understand things sludge /slʌð/ n. [U] a soft thick substance made of mud, waste, oil, etc.

slug1 /ˈslʌg/ n. [C] 1 a small creature with a soft body, that moves very slowly and eats garden plants 2 (informal) a bullet 3 (informal) a piece of metal used illegally instead of a coin in machines that sell things slug2 v. (slugged, slugging) [T] 1 (informal) to hit someone hard with your closed hand [by] punch: I stood up and he slugged me again. 2 slug it out to argue or fight until someone wins or something has been decided: The two sides are slug it out in court. 3 to hit a baseball hard slug-gish /ˈslʌɡɪʃ/ adj. moving, working, or reacting more slowly than normal [by] slow: The traffic was sluggish downtown.

sluice /sluːs/ n. [C] a passage for water to flow through, with a gate that can stop the water if necessary slump2 v. [T] to wash something with a lot of water slum1 /ˈslʌm/ n. [C] an area of a city with old buildings in very bad condition, where many poor people live: She grew up in the slums of Los Angeles.

slum2 n. [C] an area of a city with old buildings in very bad condition, where many poor people live: She grew up in the slums of Los Angeles.

slum·ber /ˈslʌmbər/ v. [I] (literary) to sleep —slumber n. [sing, plural slumbers] 1 ECONOMICS to suddenly go down in price, value, or number: Car sales have slumped recently. 2 to fall or lean against something because you are not strong enough to stand: He was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car.

slump3 n. [C] 1 ECONOMICS a sudden decrease in prices, sales, profits, etc.: a slump in the housing market 2 ECONOMICS a period when there is a reduction in business and many people lose their jobs: an economic slump

slump4 n. [C] 1 ECONOMICS a sudden decrease in prices, sales, profits, etc.: a slump in the housing market 2 ECONOMICS a period when there is a reduction in business and many people lose their jobs: an economic slump slow start phr. n. 1 a time when a player or team does not play well: The Yankees needed this win to pull them out of a slump. 2 to start playing or working very slowly: The team started the game in a slow start

slowly /ˈslou̇li/ adv. at a slow speed or rate: Doctors slowly removed the bandages from her arm. | Things have begun to change slowly.

slow motion n. [U] movement in a movie or television program shown at a much slower speed than the speed at which it happened: Let’s see a replay of that goal in slow motion.

slow poke /ˈslou̇pʊk/ n. [C] (spoken) someone who moves or does things too slowly

slow-witted adj. not quick to understand things

slug /ˈslʌɡ/ v. (slurred, slurring) [I,T] to speak unclearly without separating words or sounds: After a few drinks, he started to slur his words. 2 [T] to criticize someone or something unfairly slur² n. [C] an unfair criticism, or an offensive remark: racial slurs slurp /ˈslʌrp/ v. [T] to drink a liquid while making a noisy sucking sound — sm 1 slush /ˈslʌʃ n. 1 [U] partly melted snow

sly /ˈslɪl/ adj. (comparative slier or skil er, superlative skil est or skil yest) 1 using tricks and dishonesty to get what you want: He’s sly and greedy. 2 showing that you know something that others do not know: a sly smile. 3 on the sly (informal) secretly doing something you are not supposed to be doing: He’s been seeing someone else on the sly. — slyly adv.

smack¹ /smæk/ v. [T] 1 to hit someone or something, especially with your open hand ➔ PUNCH: She smacked him hard across the face.

smack² n. [C] a hit with your open hand, or a noise like the sound of this: She gave him a smack on the hand.

smack³ adv. (informal) 1 exactly or directly in the middle of something, in front of something, etc.: an old building smack (dash) in the middle of campus. 2 if something goes smack into something, it hits it with a lot of force: The van ran smack into the wall.

small /smɔːl adj. 1 not large in size or amount (small big): a small dark woman. 2 Rhode Island is the smallest state. 3 a store selling small appliances. 4 This jacket is too small.

small-minded adj. (disapproving) only interested in things that affect you, and too willing to judge people according to your own opinions: greedy small-minded people small potatoes adj. (informal) not very big or important: Compared to his salary, mine is small potatoes.

small-scale adj. not involving a lot of people, money, etc.: a small-scale project smart¹ /ˈsmɑːrt/ adj. 1 intelligent or showing good judgment: (not stupid): Jill’s a smart kid. 2 I was smart enough to take advantage of a good opportunity. 3 I don’t think that would be a very smart move (unsensible thing to do).

smart² v. [I] 1 to be upset because someone has offended you: He’s still smarting from the smart aleck

insult. 2 if a part of your body smarts, it hurts with a stinging pain

THE SAURUS

hurt, sting ➔ HURT

smart aleck /ˈsmart ˌælek/ n. [C] (informal) someone who says funny or intelligent things in a rude or annoying way smart card /ˈsmɑrt kɑrd/ n. [C] a small plastic card with an electronic part that records and remembers information smart /ˈsmɑrt/ n. [U] (spoken, informal) intelligence: Julie impressed her boss with her smarts and hard work.

smart-ty-pants /ˈsmɑrtɪ ˈpentz/ n. [C] (humorous) a SMART ALEC smash /smæʃ/ v. 1 [T] to break into many small pieces in a forceful way, or to make something do this by dropping, throwing, or hitting it: The plates smashed on the floor. | Rioters smashed store windows and set fire to cars.

THE SAURUS

break, shatter ➔ BREAK

smash /smæʃ/ v. 2 [I] to hit an object or surface in a forceful way, or to make something do this by dropping, throwing, or hitting it: I smashed the window.

smash hit /ˈsmæʃ hɪt/ n. [C] a very successful new play, movie, song, etc.: the latest Broadway smash smashed /smæʃt/ adj. (informal) drunk

smat-ter-ing /ˈsmætərɪŋ/ n. a smattering of sth a small number or amount of something: a smattering of applause | He has a smattering of French (she knows a little French).

smear /smɛər/ v. 1 [T] to spread a liquid or soft substance on a surface, or to become spread on a surface: Jill smeared lotion on Rick’s back. | The note was damp and the ink had smeared. 2 [T] to spread an untrue story about someone important in order to harm him/her: an attempt to smear the party leadership smear /smɛər/ n. [C] 1 a dirty or oily mark that is left on a surface: There was a smear of blood on the carpet.

2 an untrue story about someone important that is meant to harm him/her

THE SAURUS

MARK ➔ mark, stain, spot, smudge

smeller /ˈsmɛlər/ v. 1 [I] to have a particular smell: The room smelled of fresh bread. | This wine smells like berries. 2 [I] to have an unpleasant smell

THE SAURUS

odor: the odor of alcohol on his breath

smell /ˈsmel/ n. 1 [C] the quality that you recognize by using your nose: the smell of flowers | the strong smell of gasoline | the fresh smell of the ocean

THE SAURUS

aroma – a strong pleasant smell, used especially about food: the aroma of fresh coffee to notice or recognize a smell:”I could smell alcohol on his breath.”

odor: the odor of alcohol on his breath

smell /ˈsmel/ v. 1 to have a particular smell: The room smelled of fresh bread. | This wine smells like berries. 2 [I] to have an unpleasant smell

THE SAURUS

odor: the odor of alcohol on his breath

smell /ˈsmel/ v. 3 [U] the ability to notice or recognize smells: an excellent sense of smell smelly /ˈsmelɪ/ adj. having a strong bad smell: smelly socks smell /ˈsmel/ v. 4 [I,T] to melt a rock that contains metal in order to remove the metal smidge /ˈsmɪdʒ/ n. a smidgen: Add just a smidgen of salt.

smile /ˈsmɑl/ v. 1 [I] to have a happy expression on your face in which your mouth curves up: Keith smiled at me. | a smiling baby grin – to smile continuously with a very big smile: He walked out of the bathroom grinning from ear to ear.

THE SAURUS

smile /ˈsmɑl/ v. 2 [I] to say or express something with a smile: “You’re welcome,” she smiled. —smile /ˈsmɑl/ n. [C]: a big smile

smirk /ˈsmɜrk/ v. [I] to smile in a way that is not nice, and that shows that you are pleased by someone else’s bad luck: Both officers smirked and laughed at him. [Origin: Old English smearcian “to smile”] —smirk /ˈsmɜrk/ n. [C]

THE SAURUS

smile, grin, beam, simper ➔ smoke /smouk/ n. [C] 1 the white, gray, or black gas that is produced by something burning: cigarette smoke. The fire sent up a huge cloud of smoke. 2 [C] an act of smoking a cigarette, etc.: He went outside for a smoke. 3 [C] (informal) a cigarette: Do you have a smoke? 4 go up in smoke (informal) if your plans go up in smoke, you cannot do what you intended to do (Oxford: Old English smoca).

smoke /smouk/ v. 1 [T] to suck or breathe in smoke from a cigarette, pipe, etc., or to do this regularly as a habit: Do you mind if I smoke? [We sat on the porch smoking cigarettes.] I only smoke when I’m drinking. 2 [I] to produce or send out smoke: a smoking chimney. 3 [T] to give fish or meat a special taste by hanging it in smoke: smoked salmon.

smoker /smoukk3/ n. [C] someone who smokes (also nonsmoker). She used to be a heavy smoker (=someone who smokes a lot).

smoke screen n. [C] something that you say or do to hide your real plans or actions.

smoke stack /smoukst3k/ n. [C] a tall chimney at a factory or on a ship.

smoking 'gun n. [C usually singular] (informal) definite proof of who is responsible for something bad or how something really happened.

smoky /smouki/ adj. 1 filled with smoke: a smoky room. 2 producing a lot of smoke: a smoky fire. 3 having the taste, smell, or appearance of smoke: smoky cheese.

smolder /sмолd3r/ v. [I] 1 to burn slowly without a flame: The factory is still smoldering after last night’s blaze. 2 to have strong feelings that are not expressed: Nick left Judy smoldering with anger.

smooch /smouʃ/ v. [I] (informal) if two people smoke, they kiss each other in a romantic way —smooch n. [C] smooth /smouD/ adj. 1 having an even surface, without any Bumps or holes: rough; a smooth road. smooth skin ⇒ see picture at BUMPY smudge /smouʤ/ n. [C] a dirty mark: There was a smudge of lipstick on the cup. —smudgey adj.

smug /smuʒ/ adj. (disapproving) showing that you are very satisfied with how smart, lucky, or good you are: a smug smile —smugly adv.

smuggler /smouʤ3r/ n. [C] drug smugglers —smuggling n. [U] smurf /smouf/ n. [U] (disapproving) books, stories, pictures, etc. that offend some people because they are about sex —smutty adj.; a smutty T.V. show snack /snæk/ n. [C] a small amount of food that you eat between main meals or instead of a meal: I only had time to grab a quick snack. | a bedtime snack → see picture at DINE snack 2 v. [I] to eat a small amount of food between main meals or instead of a meal snack bar n. [C] a place where you can buy snacks sna·fu /ˈsnɑːfu/ n. [C] (informal) a situation in which something does not happen the way it should sna·fu /ˈsnɑːfu/ n. [C] (informal) a disadvantage or problem, especially one that is not very serious: His plans hit a snag when his plane was diverted to Chicago.

THE THESAURUS

problem, setback, difficulty, hitch → PROBLEM

2 a thread that has been accidentally pulled out of a piece of cloth because it has gotten stuck on something sharp or pointed snag 2 v. (snagged, snagging) 1 [I,T] to damage something by getting it stuck on something, or to become damaged in this way: Marty’s fishing line snapped on a tree branch. 2 [T] (informal) to get someone to notice you, or to succeed in getting something that is difficult to get. Can you snag that waiter for me? I snagged two tickets for tonight’s show.

snail /ˈsnæl/ n. [C] 1 a small soft creature that moves very slowly and has a hard shell on its back 2 at a snail’s pace extremely slowly snail mail n. [U] the system of sending letters through the mail, rather than by email snack 1 /ˈsnæk/ n. [C] an animal with a long thin body and no legs: Paul was bitten by a poisonous snake. [Origin: Old English snaec] swalk /ˈsnæk/ n. [C] (literary) to move in long twisting curves: The train snaked its way through the hills.

snap 1 /ˈsnæp/ v. (snapped, snapping) 1 [I,T] if something snaps, or if you snap it, it breaks with a short loud noise: Dry branches snapped under their feet. I snapped the ends off the beans and dropped them into a bowl. | He snapped the chalk in two/half (=into two pieces).

THE THESAURUS

break, shatter, crack → BREAK

2 [I,T] to move into a particular position with a short loud noise, or to make something do this: The pieces just snap together like this. | She snapped her briefcase open/shut. 3 [I,T] to speak quickly in an angry way: I’m sorry I snapped at you. | “Don’t be ridiculous,” she snapped. 4 [I] if a dog snaps at you, it tries to bite you 5 snap your fingers to make a short loud noise by moving a finger quickly across the thumb on the same hand 6 [I] to suddenly become unable to control a strong feeling such as anger or worry: I don’t know what happened – I guess I just snapped. 7 [T] to stop a series of events: Tampa snapped an eight-game losing streak on Saturday.

THE THESAURUS

problem, setback, difficulty, hitch → PROBLEM

snap out of sth phr. v. (informal) to suddenly stop being sad, tired, upset, etc.: Come on, Gary, snap out of it.

snap up phr. v. 1 snap sth ↔ up to buy something immediately, especially because it is very cheap: People initially snapped up shares in dot-com companies. 2 snap sb ↔ up to eagerly take an opportunity to have someone as part of your company, team, etc.: It would shock the hockey world if the Bruins didn’t snap him up.

THE THESAURUS

problem, setback, difficulty, hitch → PROBLEM

1 [singular] a sudden short loud noise, especially of something breaking or closing: I heard a snap, and then the tree just fell over. 2 [C] a small metal object that fastens clothes when you press its two parts together 3 be a snap (informal) to be very easy to do: Making pie crust is a snap. → cold snap at COLD snap 3 adj. snap judgment/decision a judgment or decision made quickly, without careful thought or discussion snap-py /ˈsnæpi/ adj. 1 spoken or written in a short, clear, and often funny way: Keep your answer short and snappy. 2 make it snappy (spoken) in order to tell someone to hurry, in a way that is not polite: Get me a drink, and make it snappy. 3 (informal) snappy clothes are attractive and fashionable: a snappy blue blazer snap-shot /ˈsnæpsɔt/ n. [C] a photograph taken quickly and often not very skillfully

THE THESAURUS

picture, sketch, painting, portrait, cartoon, illustration, poster, image → PICTURE

snare 1 /ˈsnɛr/ n. [C] a trap for catching an animal snare 2 v. [T] 1 to catch an animal using a snare 2 to catch someone, especially by tricking him/her: Last year, State Police in the area snared 257 speeding motorists with their radar guns.

snarl /ˈsnɔrl/ v. 1 [I,T] to speak or say something in an angry way: “Shut up!” he snarled. 2 [I] if an animal snarls, it makes a low angry sound and shows its teeth 3 also snarl up [I,T] if traffic snarls or is snarled, it cannot move 4 [I] if hair, thread, wires, etc. snarl, they become twisted and messy and are difficult to separate — snarl n. [C] snatch /nætʃ/ v. [T] 1 to take something away from someone with a quick violent movement: I saw two kids snatch her purse. 2 to take someone or something away from a place by force: Vargas was snatched from his home by two armed men. 3 to quickly take the opportunity to do something: I managed to snatch an hour’s sleep on the bus.

snatch /nætʃ/ n. a snatch of conversation/song etc. a short and incomplete part of something that you hear snazzy /ˈsnæzɪ/ adj. (informal) very bright, attractive, and fashionable: a snazzy new car sneak /snik/ v. (past tense and past participle sneaked or snuck) 1 [I] to go somewhere quietly and secretly: She snuck out of the house once her parents were asleep. 2 [T] to take something somewhere secretly; He had tried to sneak drugs across the border. 3 sneak a look/glance at sth to look at something quickly and secretly: I sneaked a look at her diary.

sneak up phr. v. to come near someone very quietly, so she does not see or hear you: Don’t sneak up on me like that!

sneak /snik/ n. [C] (informal) someone who does things secretly and cannot be trusted sneaker /ˈsnɪkər/ n. [C] a TENNIS SHOE sneaking /ˈsnɪkɪŋ/ adj. have a sneaking suspicion/feeling (that) to think you know something without being sure: I had a sneaking suspicion that he was lying.

sneakily /ˈsnɪkɪli/ adj. doing things in a secret and often dishonest way sneeze /sniz/ v. [I] to smile or speak in a way that is not nice and shows you have no respect for someone or something: He sneered at her taste in music.

sneeze /sniz/ v. [I] 1 when you sneeze, air suddenly comes out of your nose and mouth in an uncontrolled way, for example when you have a cold: The dust is making me sneeze. I’ve been coughing and sneezing all day. 2 sth is nothing to sneeze at (informal) used in order to say that something is impressive enough to be considered important: With 35 nations involved, the competition is nothing to sneeze at. [Origin: Old English ḥโนsan] —sneeze n. [C] snicker /ˈsnɪkə/ v. [I] to laugh quietly in a way that is not nice at something that is not supposed to be funny —snicker n. [C] snick /ˈsnɪk/ n. [C] (informal) a small piece of information, music, etc.: a few snippets of conversation sniff /snɪf/ v. to refuse something in a proud way: A job with them is nothing to sniff at (esometh ing you should not refuse).

sniff at sth phr. v. to discover or find something by its smell: dogs that sniff out drugs sniffle /ˈsnɪfl/ v. [I] to sniff continuously in order to stop liquid from running out of your nose, especially when you are crying or when you are sick sniq /ˈsnɪfl/ n. the sniffles a slight cold: Max has had the sniffles all week.

snip /snɪp/ v. (snipped, snipping) [I,T] to cut something with scissors, making quick small cuts —snip n. [C] snoop /snʊp/ v. [I] 1 to shoot at people from a hidden position 2 to criticize someone in an unkind way: It’s easier to snipe at someone’s ideas than come up with a solution.

snipe /ˈsnɪp/ v. [sniped, sniping] [C] someone who eats at a job with them is nothing to sniff at (esometh ing you should not refuse).

snoop /ˈsnʊp/ v. [I] to try to find out about someone’s life or activities by secretly looking at his/her things: I caught her snooping in/around my office.

snoopy /ˈsnɒpi/ adj. rude and unfriendly because you think you are better than other people snooze /ˈsnoʊz/ v. [I] informal to sleep for a short time —snooze n. [C] snore /ˈsnɔːr/ v. [I] to make a loud noise each time snorkel

you breathe while you are asleep [origin: 1300—1400 From the sound] — snore n. [C] snorkel1 /′snərkəl/ n. [C] a tube that allows a swimmer to breathe air when his/her face is under water snorkel2 v. [L] to swim using a snorkel — snorkeling n. [U] snort /′snɔrt/ v. [L, T] to make a noise by forcing air out through your nose, especially in order to express anger or when laughing: Olsen snorted at the suggestion. — snort n. [C] snot /′snɑt/ n. [informal] 1 [U] an impolite word for the thick mucus (= liquid) produced in your nose 2 [C] someone who is snotty behaves as though s/he is better than other people snot-nosed adj. snot-nosed kid/brat etc. (informal) an annoying child snot-ty /′snɔt/ adj. (informal) showing that you think you are better than other people snobish: You’re always there with a snotty remark.

snow /′snou/ n. [C] the long nose of some kinds of animals, such as pigs snow1 /′snou/ n. [U] water frozen into soft white pieces that fall like rain in cold weather: Snow was falling on the quiet street. We are expecting six inches of snow. The snow is already melting. High winds and heavy snow (= a lot of snow that is falling) caused chaos on the roads. The rain was turning to light snow.

snow2 v. 1 it snows if it snows, snow falls from the sky: Look, it’s snowing! We got back home before it started snowing. 2 be snowed in to be unable to leave a place because so much snow has fallen: We were snowed in for a week. 3 be snowed under (with sth) (informal) to have more work than you can deal with: I’d love to go, but I’m totally snowed under right now. 4 [T] (informal) to make someone believe or support something that is not true: Even the banks were snowed by this charming common.

snowball /′snəubɔl/ n. [C] a ball made out of snow that someone has pressed together: The kids were having a snowball fight outside.

snowball2 v. [I] if a problem or situation snowballs, it quickly gets bigger or harder to control.

snowboard /′snəubɔrd/ n. [C] a long wide board made of plastic, which people stand on to go down snow-covered hills as a sport snowboarding /′snəo,ba:ardin/ n. [U] the sport of going down snow-covered hills on a snowboard snow-bound /′snəu,ba:ndaʊn/ adj. unable to leave a place because there is too much snow snowdrift /′snəu,drift/ n. [C] an area of deep snow formed by the wind snowfall /′snəufɔl/ n. [C, U] an occasion when snow falls from the sky, or the amount that falls in a particular period of time: a light snowfall snowflake /′snəufleIk/ n. [C] a small soft white piece of frozen water that falls as snow snow job n. [C] (informal) an act of making someone believe something that is not true snowman /′snəumən/ n. (plural snowmen /′men/) [C] a figure of a person made out of snow snowplow /′snəouploʊ/ n. [C] a vehicle or piece of equipment attached to the front of a vehicle, used for pushing snow off roads snowshoe /′snəuwʃu/ n. [C] one of a pair of wide flat frames used for walking on snow without sinking snowstorm /′snəustɔrm/ n. [C] a storm with strong winds and a lot of snow snowy /′snəʊ/ adj. if it snows, the ground is covered with snow or it is falling: a snowy January day snowy /′snəʊ/ adj. for pushing snow off roads snub /′snʌb/ v. (snubbed, snubbing) [T] to be rude to someone, especially by ignoring him/her when you meet. — snub n. [C] snuck /′snʌkt/ v. past tense and past participle of sneak snuff /′snʌf/ v. 1 tobacco made into a powder, which some people breathe in through their noses 2 not be up to snuff (informal) not to be good enough: Her performance just wasn’t up to snuff.

snug /′snʌg/ adj. 1 warm and comfortable: The children were snug and in their beds. 2 clothes that are snug fit fairly tightly — snugly adv.

snuggly /′snʌglı/ adj. 1 used in order to emphasize what you are saying: He was so weak that he could hardly stand up. So many kids come from broken homes these days. 2 used in order to refer back to something that has already been mentioned: If you have not sent in your payment yet, please do so immediately. | “Will I need my coat?” “I don’t think so.” 3 so do I/so is he/she/so would John etc. used in order to say that something is also true about someone else: “I have a lot to do today.” “So do I.” If you’re going to have dessert then so will I. 4 be so to be true or correct: “It belongs to my father.” “Is that so?” | Please say it isn’t so! 5 or so used when you cannot be exact about a number, amount, or period of time: He left a week or so ago. | Dena had five drinks or so. 6 and so on/forth used after a list to show that there are other similar things that could also be mentioned: a room full of old furniture, paintings, rugs, and so forth. 7 be just/exactly so to be arranged neatly, with everything in the right place: Everything has to be just so at Maxine’s dinner parties. 8 so as [not] to do sth (formal) in order to do or not do something: Try to remain calm so as not to alarm anyone.

SPOKEN PHRASES
9 said in order to get someone’s attention, especially in order to ask him/her a question: So, Lisa, how’s the new job going? 10 said when you are making sure that you have understood something: So you aren’t actually leaving until Friday? 11 used with a movement of your hand when you are describing how big, tall, etc. something or someone is, or how to do something: It was about so big. | Then you fold the paper like so. 12 also so what? used in order to say impolitely that you do not think that something is important: “I’m going to tell Mom what you said.” “So?” | Yes, I’m late. So what? 13 (slang) definitely: He is so not the right person for her. 14 so long! used in order to say goodbye. 15 so be it used in order to show that you do not like or agree with something, but you will accept it: If this means delaying the trip, then so be it. 16 so much for sth used to say that something you tried to do did not work, or something that was promised did not happen: Well, so much for getting out of here at five o’clock. 17 so help me also so help me God said in order to emphasize how determined you are: So help me God, I will not let you down.

so² conjunction 1 used in order to show why something happens: I got hungry, so I made a sandwich. ▲ Don’t say “Since I got hungry, so I made a sandwich.” ▲

soak /ˈsoʊk/ v. [T] 1 if you soak something, or if you let it soak, you cover it with liquid for a period of time: Just put that dish in the sink to soak. Soak the beans overnight. 2 to make something completely wet, or to become completely wet. If you don’t take your umbrella, you’re going to get soaked. | The blood had soaked through the bandage.

soaking /ˈsoʊkɪŋ/ adj, soaking ‘wet’ adj: completely wet so-and-so n (plural so-and-sos or so-and-so’s) [U] (spoken) used in order to talk about someone, without saying his/her name: All they care about is whether so-and-so is going to be at the party.

soap /soʊp/ n. 1 [U] the substance that you use with water to wash things, especially your body: a bar of soap | Wash your hands with soap and water. 2 [C] (informal) a SOAP OPERA [Orig: Old English sape]

soap² v. [T] to rub soap on someone or something soap-box /ˈsoʊpbaʊks/ n. be/get on your soapbox (informal, disapproving) to tell people your opinions about something in a loud and forceful way soap opera n. [C] a television or radio story about the daily lives of the same group of people, which is broadcast regularly ➔ TELEVISION soapy /ˈsəʊpi/ adj: containing soap: soapy water soar /sɔːr/ v. [I] 1 to increase quickly to a high level: The temperature soared to 97°. 2 to fly, especially very fast or very high up in the air: birds soaring overhead 3 buildings, mountains, or cliffs, etc. that soar look very tall and impressive: The cliffs soar 500 feet above the ocean. ➔ soaring adj.

sober /ˈsəʊbr/ v. (sobbed, sobbing) [I] to cry while breathing in short sudden bursts: He began sobbing uncontrollably. ➔ sob n. [C] sober² adj. 1 not drunk 2 extremely serious: The scale of the damage is a sober reminder of the power of nature. ➔ soberly adv.

sober³ v. sober (sb •••) up phr v. to gradually become less drunk, or to make someone do this: Some black coffee might sober you up.

sober-ing /ˈsoʊbərɪŋ/ adj: making you feel very serious: a sobering thought sober-ly /ˈsoʊbərli/ adv

sober-ness /ˈsoʊbərni/ n. [U] 1 the condition of not being drunk or not drinking alcohol: Almost half the AA members had two or more years of sobriety. 2 (formal) behavior that shows a serious attitude toward life so-called adj. [only before noun] 1 used in order to show that you think the name that someone or something is called is wrong: these so-called freedom fighters used in order to show that something or someone is usually called a particular name. Only so-called “safe and same” fireworks are allowed.

soc-er /'səkər/ n. [U] a sport played by two teams of 11 players who try to kick a ball into their opponents’ goal. (origin: 1800—1900 association (football); because it was originally played under the rules of the English Football Association)

soc·er·bal /'soSəbəl/ adj. someone who is sociable is friendly and likes to be with other people: I wish my son was a bit more sociable.

so·cial /'səsəl/ adj. 1 social science relating to human society and the way it is organized: social issues such as unemployment and education | The students come from a variety of social classes (=groups of people who have the same social position). 2 relating to meeting people, forming relationships with them, and spending time with them: Ellis always had an active social life. | a range of social events for employees | Children need to develop their social skills. 3 social animals live together in groups, rather than alone (origin: 1600—1700 Latin socialis, from socius “someone you spend time with”) —socially adv. socially acceptable behavior so·cial·climber n. [C] (disapproving) someone who tries very hard to move into a higher social class so·cial·criticism n. [U] social science the act of expressing judgments about the good and bad qualities of a particular society so·cial·de·moc·ra·cy n. 1 [U] politics a political and economic system, especially in many European countries, based on some ideas of socialism combined with democratic principles, such as personal freedom and government by elected representatives. 2 [C] politics a country, especially in Europe, with a government based on this system —social democrat n. [C] so·cial·is·m /'soSəlizəm/ n. [U] politics an economic and political system that tries to give equal opportunities to all people, and in which most businesses belong to the government —capitalism, communism —socialist adj., n. [C] so·cia·lite /'səsələt/ n. [C] a rich person who is well known for going to many fashionable parties so·cial·ize /'səsələz/ v. [I] to spend time with other people in a friendly way: I hate having to socialize with strangers.

so·cial·mo·bil·i·ty n. [U] social science the ability to move easily from one social class to another so·cial·sci·ence n. [C.U] subjects such as history, politics, and economics, or one of these subjects so·cial·se·cu·ry n. [U] economics a U.S. government program into which workers must pay money, that gives money to old people and others who cannot work so·cial·studies n. [plural] social science so·cial·wel·fare n. [U] programs to help people who are poor, do not have jobs, etc.

so·cial·work n. [C] someone who is trained to help people with particular social problems —social work n. [U]

so·ci·ety /'səsəti/ n. (plural societies) 1 [C.U] all the people who live in the same country and share the same laws and customs: a modern industrial society | Children are the least powerful members of society.

so·ci·o·log·is·t /'səsələgist/ n. someone who is trained to study of societies and the behavior of people in them —sociologist n. [C] so·cio·path /'səsəpiθ/ n. [C] someone whose behavior toward other people is strange and possibly dangerous so·ck /sək/ n. [C] 1 a piece of clothing that you wear on your foot inside your shoe: a pair of socks —see picture at clothes. 2 knock/blow sb’s socks off (informal) to surprise and excite someone a lot (origin: 1) old English socc, from Latin soccus “light shoe” so·ck /sək/ v. [T] (informal) to hit someone very hard so·ck·et /səkət/ n. [C] 1 the place in a wall where you can connect electrical equipment to the supply of electricity —outlet 2 the hollow part of something that another part fits into: eye sod  /soʊd/ n. [C,U] a piece of dirt with grass growing on top of it so-da  /ˈsoʊdə/ n. [C,U] a soft drink

Thesaurus

Soft drink, pop, soda pop →

2 also soda water water that contains bubbles, often added to alcoholic drinks [Origin: 1400—1500 Italian, name of a plant from which soda is obtained] sod-den  /ˈsoʊdən/ adj. very wet and heavy: sodden clothing so-di-um  /ˈsoʊdiəm/ n. [U] 1 Chemistry (symbol Na) a silver-white metal that is an element and usually exists in combination with other substances 2 SODIUM CHLORIDE (=salt): a low-sodium diet sodium chloride  n. [U] Chemistry the type of salt that is used in cooking and on foods so-fa  /ˈsoʊfa/ n. [C] a comfortable seat that is wide enough for two or three people to sit on [synonym couch]: She sat down on the sofa. [origin: 1600—1700 Arabic suffah “long seat”] soft  /soʊft/ adj. 1 not hard, firm, or stiff, but easy to press (antonym hard): a soft pillow 2 smooth and pleasant to touch (antonym rough): soft skin  a cat with soft fur 3 a soft sound, voice, or music is quiet and often pleasant to listen to: There was some soft music playing in the background. 4 Her voice was soft and calming.

Thesaurus

→ QUIET

4 soft colors or lights are not too bright (antonym harsh): soft lighting is much more romantic.

Thesaurus

light?  light, pale, pastel, faded →

5 soft drugs are illegal drugs and are considered to be less harmful than some other drugs 6 (informal) a soft job, life, etc. is too easy and does not involve hard work or difficulties 7 (informal) not strict enough or not treating people severely enough when they have done something wrong: The Governor does not want to seem soft on crime. 8 Some of his rivals think he’s gone soft. 9 have a soft spot for sb to like someone 9 a soft touch (informal) someone who is easy to deceive or persuade to do something such as give you money 10 soft water does not contain a lot of minerals and forms bubbles from soap easily [Origin: Old English sooft] —softly adv. —softness n. [U]

Thesaurus

Soft drinks, soft drinks, soft drinks, soft drinks, all mean the same thing. Soft drink is a general word that is used everywhere in the U.S. Soda is used mainly in the Northeast and Southwest. Pop is used mainly in the Midwest and West. Soda pop is fairly old-fashioned, but it is still used in some parts of the U.S., especially in the Midwest.

soft-en  /ˈsɔftən/ v. [T] 1 to become softer, or to make something do this (antonym harden): a lotion that helps to soften your skin 2 to become less severe and more gentle, or to make something do this: His voice softened as he spoke to her. 3 Goldberg tried to soften the blow (make bad news less upsetting) with a joke.

soften sb ↔ up phr. v. to be nice to someone so that she will do something for you soft-en-er  /ˈsɔftənər/ n. [C] a substance that you add to water to make clothes feel soft after washing soft-heart-ed  /ˈsɔftˌhɑːrtɪd/ adj. kind and sympathetic soft-le, softly  /ˈsɔftli/ n. (plural softies) [C] (informal) someone who is very kind and sympathetic, or is easily persuaded: He’s just a big softy really.

soft-spoken  adj. having a quiet gentle voice

Thesaurus

→ QUIT

software  /ˈsɔftwɛr/ n. [U] if the sets of programs that tell a computer how to do a particular job → HARDWARE: She loaded the new software. 2 software programs  a software company soft-wood  /ˈsɔftwʊd/ n. [C,U] wood from trees such as PINE and FIR that is cheap and easy to cut, or a tree with this type of wood → HARDWOOD soft-y  /ˈsɔftI/ n. [C] another spelling of SOFTIE sog-gy  /ˈsɒgI/ adj. very wet and soft: The pie crust was kind of soggy.

soil 1  /soʊl/ n. [C,U] the top layer of the earth in which plants grow: The soil here is very poor. 2 rich, fertile soil [Origin: 1200—1300 Anglo-French “piece of ground,” from Latin solium “seat”]

Thesaurus

→ see picture at PLANT

soil 2  v. [T] (formal) to make something dirty —soiled adj.

sojourn  /ˈsoʊdʒərn/ n. [C] (formal) a period of time that you stay in a place that is not your home —sojourn v. [I] soil-age  /ˈsɔlɪdʒ/ n. [U] a feeling of happiness after having been very sad or upset: After the death of her son, Val found solace in the church.

so-lar  /ˈsoʊlər/ adj. Physics relating to the Sun or the Sun’s power → LUNAR: a solar eclipse 3 solar energy [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin solariis, from sol “Sun”] solar solar cell

solar cell n [C PHYSICS a piece of equipment that can produce electric power from the light from the Sun solar plexus /soʊˈlər plɛksəs/ n [singlu-lar] 1 BIOLOGY a set of nerves inside your chest just above your stomach, that control the way the organs inside your stomach area work 2 the front part of your body below your chest

solar system n the solar system PHYSICS the Earth and all the PLANETS, Moons, etc. that move around the Sun sold /səld/ v the past tense and past participle of SELL.

soldier /ˈsəldər/ 1 to join metal surfaces together or to repair them using melted metal soldier /ˈsəldiər/ n [C] a member of the army, especially someone who is not an officer [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French soldier, from soi-ˈdle “pay,” from Late Latin solidus “gold coin”] see picture at ARMY FORCES soldier v soldier on a v to continue doing something in spite of difficulties: It won’t be easy without him, but we’ll have to soldier on.

sold-out adj if a concert, movie, etc. is sold-out, all the tickets for it have been sold sole /ˈsəul/ /ˈsoʊl/ adj [only before noun] 1 only: He was the sole survivor of the crash. | His sole purpose in going there was to see Rachel. | the sole black member of the jury 2 not shared with anyone else: The women had to take sole responsibility for their children. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French soule, from Latin solus “alone”] sole n 1 [C] the bottom of your foot or shoe: The soles of his feet were perfectly clean. see picture at SHOE 2 [C,U] a flat ocean fish, or the meat from this fish solely /ˈsəʊli/ /ˈsoʊli/ adv only, or not involving anyone or anything else: Scholarships are awarded solely on the basis of financial need.

solemn /ˈsɔləmn/ adj 1 very serious: His face grew solemn. | a solemn ceremony 2 [only before noun] a solemn promise is a promise that you will definitely keep [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French solennus “ceremonial, formal, solemn”] —solemnly adv —solemnity /ˈsɔləmni/ n [U]

solemnize /ˈsɔləmˌnɪz/ v [T] (formal) to ask someone for money, help, or information —sol-men-za-tion /ˈsɔləmənˌzeɪʃən/ n [U] solemnity /ˈsɔləmni/ n [C] 1 (formal) someone who goes from place to place trying to sell goods 2 LAW the main lawyer of a city, town, or government department solicitor /səˈlɪsktər/ n [formal] caring very much about someone’s safety, health, or comfort

solid /ˈsɔləd/ adj 1 firm and usually hard, without spaces or holes: solid rock | The lake in the park is frozen solid. 2 strong and well made: a good solid chair 3 a solid achievement or solid work is of real, practical, and continuing value: Julia has a solid foundation for a career in design. 4 someone or something that is solid can be depended on or trusted: a bank with a solid reputation | The prosecution has no solid evidence. 5 solid gold/silver/oak etc. completely made of gold, etc.: a solid gold necklace 6 (informal) continuous, without any pauses: She didn’t talk to me for three solid weeks.

solidify /ˈsɔlədɪfaɪ/ v [C,U] to become solid, or to make a substance become solid solidly adv —solidity /ˈsɔlədɪtɪ/ n [U]

solidness /ˈsɔlɪdnəs/ n [U] PHYSICS an object or substance that has a firm shape: Water changes from a liquid into a solid when it freezes. 2 solids [plural] food that is not liquid: Is the baby eating solids yet? 3 MATH a shape that has length, width, and height solid state (physics) n [U] the loyalty and support of a group of people that share the same aim or opinions: We are going on strike to show solidarity with the nurses.

solidification /ˌsɔlədəˈfɪkəʃən/ /ˌsəʊlɪdəˈfɪkəʃən/ n [U] to become solid, or to make a substance become solid

solidly adv —solidity /ˈsɔlədɪtɪ/ n [U]

solidify /ˈsɔlədɪfaɪ/ v [C,U] to become solid, or to make a substance become solid solid-state /ˌsɔlədˈsteɪt/ adj (formal, disapproving) concerned only with yourself and the things that affect you yourself: his solipsistic view of the world solid-state /ˌsɔlədˈsteɪt/ n 1 [U] a card game for one player 2 [C] a piece of jewelry that has only one jewel in it: a diamond solitaire ring solidarity /ˈsɔlədərəti/ /ˈsəʊlɪdərəti/ adj 1 [only before noun] a solitary person or thing is the only one in a place: A solitary figure waited by the door. 2 [only before noun] done or experienced without anyone else around: Helena took long solitary walks to the lake. 3 spending a lot of time alone, usually because you like being alone: Hamilton was described as a solitary man.

solitary confinement n. [U] a punishment in which a prisoner is kept alone solitude /ˈsəʊlɪtjuːd/ n. [U] the state of being alone, especially when this is what you enjoy: She spent most of her life in solitude.

solve /sɒlv/ v. [T] 1 to find a way of dealing with a problem or difficult situation: Mike thinks money will solve all his problems. 2 to find the correct answer to a question or problem, or the explanation for something that is difficult to understand: I couldn’t solve the equation. | Police are still trying to solve the crime/case/mystery. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin solvere “to loosen, solve, dissolve, pay”] —solvable adj.

solo /ˈsəʊloʊ/ ad using enough money to pay your debts —solvency n. [U]

solution n. 1 a way of solving a problem or dealing with a difficult situation: the perfect solution to all our problems. | Both sides are trying to find a peaceful solution. | The only solution was to move into a quieter apartment.

some adj. 1 a number of people or things, or an amount of something, when the exact number or amount is not said or shown: Do you want some coffee? | Of course you’ll make some new friends in college.

some pron. 1 a number of people or things, or an amount of something, but not all: The team has some of the best young players in the country. | Some people believe in life after death. | In some cases, the damage can be repaired. | Some (informal) a fairly large amount of something: It was some time before the police finally arrived. [Origin: Old English sum]

some adv. 1 a little more or a little less than a particular number or amount: Some 700 homes were damaged by the storm. 2 some more an somebody /somˈbeidi/ adv. (spoken) some one 7 or something said when you cannot remember or cannot be exact: Maybe I cooked it too long or something. 8 be (really) something used when something is impressive or unusual: It’s really something to see all the hot air balloons taking off together. 9 a little something a small gift that is not very expensive: Here’s a little something for you.

some-time /somˈtiim/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: I’ll call you sometime next week.

some-times /somˈtaimz/ adv. on some occasions, but not always: Sometimes I don’t get home until 9:00 at night. “Do you miss your old school?” “Sometimes.”

some-where /somˈweI/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: Someday I’m going to go to Spain.

some-day /somˈdeI/ adv. at an unknown time in the future: Someday I’m going to go to Spain.

some-ne-ver /somˈnevər/ adv. at an unknown time in the past: I wish I could have been in London then.

some-thing /somˈθing/ pron. a word meaning a particular person, used when you do not know or do not say who that person is (synonym) somebody: Be careful! Someone could get hurt. “Does Mike still live here?” “No, someone else (= a different person) is renting it now.”

some-where /somˈweI/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: Someday I’m going to go to Spain.

some-time /somˈtiim/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: I’ll call you sometime next week.

some-times /somˈtaimz/ adv. on some occasions, but not always: Sometimes I don’t get home until 9:00 at night. “Do you miss your old school?” “Sometimes.”

some-thing /somˈθing/ pron. 1 used to mention a particular thing when you do not know its name, do not know exactly what it is, etc. ➔ anything, everything, nothing: There’s something in my eye. [He said something about a party.] [There’s something wrong (= a problem) with the phone.] [Can you do something about that noise?] [I don’t eat eggs. Could I have something else?] ➔ thing some-place /somˈpleI/ adv. (spoken) some where 7 or something said when you cannot remember or cannot be exact: Maybe I cooked it too long or something. 8 be (really) something used when something is impressive or unusual: It’s really something to see all the hot air balloons taking off together. 9 a little something a small gift that is not very expensive: Here’s a little something for you.

some-time /somˈtiim/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: I’ll call you sometime next week.

some-times /somˈtaimz/ adv. on some occasions, but not always: Sometimes I don’t get home until 9:00 at night. “Do you miss your old school?” “Sometimes.”

some-where /somˈweI/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: Someday I’m going to go to Spain.

some-day /somˈdeI/ adv. at an unknown time in the future: Someday I’m going to go to Spain.

some-ne-ver /somˈnevər/ adv. at an unknown time in the past: I wish I could have been in London then.

some-thing /somˈθing/ pron. a word meaning a particular person, used when you do not know or do not say who that person is (synonym) somebody: Be careful! Someone could get hurt. “Does Mike still live here?” “No, someone else (= a different person) is renting it now.”

some-place /somˈpleI/ adv. (spoken) some where 7 or something said when you cannot remember or cannot be exact: Maybe I cooked it too long or something. 8 be (really) something used when something is impressive or unusual: It’s really something to see all the hot air balloons taking off together. 9 a little something a small gift that is not very expensive: Here’s a little something for you.

some-time /somˈtiim/ adv. at an unknown time in the past or future: I’ll call you sometime next week.

some-times /somˈtaimz/ adv. on some occasions, but not always: Sometimes I don’t get home until 9:00 at night. “Do you miss your old school?” “Sometimes.”

something to eat/drink some food or a drink: We went out for something to eat after the movie. 3 have/ be something to do with sb/sth to be connected with or related to a particular person or thing, but in a way that you are not sure about: I know Steve’s job has something to do with investments. 4 make something of yourself to become successful through your own efforts 5 something like 100/2,000 etc. approximately 100, 2,000, etc.: There are something like 3,000 homeless people in this city. 6 twenty-something/thirty-something (informal) used when someone is between the ages of 20 and 29, 30 and 39, etc., when you do not know exactly Bill was the son of German immigrants. 2 [singular] used by an older person as a friendly way to talk to a boy or young man: What’s your name? [Origin: Old English soun].

son·net /son·na·t/ n. [C] ENGL. ARTS a piece of CLASSICAL MUSIC usually for two instruments, one of which is a piano song /sɒŋ/ n. 1 [C] a short piece of music with words: She sang a song. | a pop/folk/hope song | He suddenly burst/broke into song | instarted singing. 2 [U] songs in general: a celebration of music, song and dance 3 [CU] the musical sounds made by birds [Origin: Old English sōng]

so·na·to /so·nAÔ@/ n. a piece of music for two instruments, one used by an older person as a friendly way to talk to a boy or young man:

soon /suːn/ adv. 1 in a short time from now, or a short time after something has happened: It will be dark soon. | Paul became pregnant soon after they were married.

soon /suːn/ v. [I] 1 to make someone feel calmer and less worried, angry, or upset: Lucy soothed the baby by rocking him in her arms. 2 to make a pain stop hurting as much: A massage would soothe your aching muscles. [Origin: Old English sothan “to prove the truth,” from south “true”] sooth·ing /ˈsoʊθɪŋ/ adj. gentle, soothing music

sop /sɒp/ v. (stopped, stopping) sop ath ↔ up phr. v. to remove a liquid from a surface using something that will absorb the liquid: Jesse sopped up the spilled drink with a towel.

so·phistic·a·tion /ˈsAfmOrIk/ n. the experience of difficult or complicated subjects and therefore able to understand them well: today’s more sophisticated investors made or designed well, and often complicated: a highly sophisticated alarm system [Origin: 1500—1600 Italian soppitazione, Latin, past participle of sophiscare “to deceive with words, hide the true nature of something,” from Latin sophisticus] sop·o·ri·fic /ˈsAp@ˈrIfIk/ adj. highly sophisticated and therefore able to understand them well: today’s more sophisticated investors made or designed well, and often complicated: a highly sophisticated alarm system [Origin: 1500—1600 Italian soppitazione, Latin, past participle of sophiscare “to deceive with words, hide the true nature of something,” from Latin sophisticus]

so·pra·no /soʊˈprænəʊ/ n. (plural sopranos) [C,U] ENGL. ARTS a woman, girl, or young boy singer with a very high voice

sor·bet /ˈsɔrbət/ n. [C,U] a sweet frozen food made from fruit juice, sugar, and water [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French “fruit drink,” from Old Italian sorbetto]

sor·cer·er /ˈsɔrsərər/ n. [C] a man in stories who uses magic [syn. witch]

sor·cer·ess /ˈsɔrsərəs/ n. [C] a woman in stories who uses magic [syn. witch]

sor·did /ˈsɔrdɪd/ adj. involving immoral or dishonest behavior: all the sordid details of the scandal [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin sordidus, from sordis “dirt”]

THE SAURUS

in a minute (spoken) — used when talking about something that will happen within a few minutes: I’ll be ready in a minute.

any minute now (spoken) — used when something will happen in a very short time from now, but you do not know exactly when: The train should be here any minute now.

before long — soon or in a short time: Those two will be getting married before long.

shortly (formal) — soon: Davis made a confession shortly after his arrest.

in the near future — in the next few weeks or months: They promised to contact us again in the near future.

presently (old-fashioned) — in a short time: The doctor will see you presently.

quickly: I’ll get it fixed as soon as possible. | How soon can you get here? 3 as soon as immediately after something has happened: I tried to call you as soon as I heard the news. 4 sooner or later used to say that something will definitely happen, but you are not sure when: She’s bound to find out sooner or later. 5 the sooner...the better used to say that something should happen as quickly as possible: The sooner you finish this report, the better. 6 no sooner had...than used when something has happened almost immediately after something else: No sooner had I stepped in the shower than the phone rang. → would (just) as soon or would soot /suːt/ n. [U] black powder that is produced when something burns soothe /soʊθ/ v. [I] 1 to make someone feel calmer and less worried, angry, or upset: Lucy soothed the baby by rocking him in her arms. 2 to make a pain stop hurting as much: A massage would soothe your aching muscles. [Origin: Old English sothan “to prove the truth,” from south “true”]

THE SAURUS

relieve, ease, lessen, alleviate

→ REDUCE

soothing /ˈsoʊθɪŋ/ adj. gentle, soothing music

THE SAURUS

advanced, modern, high-tech, state-of-the-art, cutting-edge

→ ADVANCED

sophistication /ˌsAfmOrˈkeʃən/ n. [U]

soph-o·mor·ic /səˈfAfmOrɪk/ adj. very silly and unreasonable: sophomoric humor

THE SAURUS

→ sophistication sop·ping /ˈsApɪŋ/ adj. very silly and unreasonable: sophomoric humor

so·pra·no /soʊˈprænəʊ/ n. (plural sopranos) [C,U] ENGL. ARTS a woman, girl, or young boy singer with a very high voice

so·pra·no /soʊˈprænəʊ/ n. (plural sopranos) [C,U] ENGL. ARTS a woman, girl, or young boy singer with a very high voice

so·pra·no /soʊˈprænəʊ/ n. (plural sopranos) [C,U] ENGL. ARTS a woman, girl, or young boy singer with a very high voice

sor·bet /ˈsɔrbət/ n. [C,U] a sweet frozen food made from fruit juice, sugar, and water [Origin: 1500—1600 Old French “fruit drink,” from Old Italian sorbetto]

sor·cer·er /ˈsɔrsərər/ n. [C] a man in stories who uses magic [syn. witch]

sor·cer·ess /ˈsɔrsərəs/ n. [C] a woman in stories who uses magic [syn. witch]

sor·did /ˈsɔrdɪd/ adj. involving immoral or dishonest behavior: all the sordid details of the scandal [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin sordidus, from sordis “dirt”]
sore /sɔr/ adj. 1 painful as a result of a wound, infection, or too much exercise: My knee's a little sore from running yesterday. | a sore throat

2 sore point/spot (with sb) something that is likely to make someone upset or angry if you talk about it: Don't mention marriage — it's a sore point with him. 3 (old-fashioned) upset, angry, or annoyed [Origin: Old English sar] —soreness n. [U].

sorely /ˈsɔrli/ adv. very much: He will be sorely missed by everyone.

sorority /saˌrərəti/ · sor·or·i·ty [C] a club for women at a college or university sorrow /ˈsɔrə/ · sor·row [N.C.U] a feeling of great sadness, or an event that makes you feel great sadness: a time of great/deep sorrow | Our prayers are with you in your time of sorrow. —sorrowful adj.

sor·ry /ˈsɔrri/ adj. 1 sorry/I'm sorry (spoken) a used to tell someone that you feel bad about doing something that has upset or annoyed him/her: I'm really sorry, I didn't mean to hurt your feelings. | "Kevin! Don't do that!" "Sorry." | Sorry about the mess. | I'm sorry (that) I was late. b) used when politely saying something that disappoints or disagrees with someone: I'm sorry — we're not going to be able to come. | I'm sorry to call you so late, but this is important. 2 [not before noun] feeling bad about a situation and wishing it were different: Casey was sorry (that) he had gotten so angry. | I was sorry to hear of your father's death. 3 be/feel sorry for sb to feel pity or sympathy for someone because she is in a bad situation: He was lonely and I felt sorry for him. | Stop feeling sorry for yourself and do something! 4 sorry! (spoken) used to ask someone to repeat something that you have not heard correctly. pardon 5 [only before noun] (informal) very bad: That's the sorriest excuse I've ever heard. [Origin: Old English sarig, from sar; influenced by sorrow] sort /sɔrt/ n. 1 [C] a type or kind of something: What sort of work does he do? | They had all sorts of (=many different kinds of) seafood on the menu.

2 sort of (spoken) used when what you are saying or describing is not very definite or exact: I still feel sort of tired. | “Do you like him then?” “Sort of.” 3 [informal] if a computer does a sort, it arranges a list of things in order sort /sɔrt/ v. [T] to put things in a particular order, or to arrange them in groups according to size, type, etc.: Eggs are sorted according to size. | Applications will be sorted into three piles.

sort through /sɔrt θru/ v. 1 to organize something that is messy, complicated, or in the wrong order: I need to sort out all the paperwork. 2 to deal with a problem: Mike's still trying to sort out his personal life.

soul /sɔl/ n. 1 [C] the part of a person that is not physical and contains his/her thoughts, feelings, character, etc. Many people believe the soul continues to exist after death: the immortality of the human soul | He knew in his soul that Linda was never going to change. 2 [C] a person: There wasn't a soul in sight. 3 [U] a type of popular modern music that often expresses deep emotions, usually performed by black singers and musicians. 4 [U] a special quality that gives something its true character: the soul of the Old Town area 5 [U] a special quality that makes you feel strong emotions: His poetry lacks soul. [Origin: Old English sawól] soul·ful /ˈsəulfəl/ adj. expressing deep, usually sad, emotions: a soulful performance soul·less /ˈsəulfəls/ adj. lacking the qualities that make people feel interest, emotions, or excitement: a soulless suburb

'soul·search·ing /səulˈsɛrˌkhiŋ/ n. [U] the act of carefully examining your thoughts and feelings in order to make a decision: soul-searching questions

sound /saʊnd/ n. 1 [C.U] something that you hear, or something that can be heard: the sound of breaking glass | Turn the sound down/up (=make it quieter or louder) on the TV, will you?

A sound is anything that you can hear: the sound of voices

A noise is usually a loud, unpleasant, or unexpected sound: the deafening noise of overhead planes 2 like the sound of sth to be interested in a plan, idea, what someone says, etc.: “Things will be changing. I don’t like the sound of that.”

3 from the sound of it/things (spoken) according to what you have heard or read about something: From the sound of it, they’re having marriage problems.

4 [C] EARTH SCIENCES a long wide area of water that connects two larger areas of water sound adj. 1 practical, based on good judgment, and likely to produce good results: His advice was sound. | a sound investment 2 in good condition and not damaged in any way 3 of sound mind law not mentally ill sound adv. sound asleep completely asleep sound barrier n. the sound barrier the point where an aircraft reaches the speed of sound sound bite n. [C] a short phrase from a speech or statement that presents an important idea and that is meant to be used on a radio or television news program sound card n. [C] it a circuit board in a computer that makes the computer able to produce sounds sound effects n. [plural] special sounds used in order to make a movie, television show, etc. seem more real soundly /ˈsaundaʊli/ adv. 1 sleep soundly to sleep well and peacefully 2 completely or severely: Washington was soundly defeated sound-proof /ˈsaundprufl/ adj. a soundproof wall, room, etc. is one that sound cannot pass through, into, or out of.

sound-track /ˈsaʊndtræk/ n. [C] the recorded music from a movie: the soundtrack to “The Mission” soup /suːp/ n. [C] U a hot liquid food that often has pieces of meat or vegetables in it: chicken noodle soup | a bowl of soup [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French soupe “piece of bread dipped in liquid, soup”]

'sound, kitchen n. [C] a place where free food is given to people who have no home

'sound, adj. 1 having an acid taste, like the taste of a LEMON: sour apples

'sour noun. 2 milk or other food that is sour is not fresh and has a bad taste and smell: The milk had gone sour. 3 unfriendly or unhappy: a sour expression 4 turn/go sour (informal) to stop being enjoyable, friendly, or satisfactory: Their marriage had turned sour. [ORIGIN: Old English sur]

'source noun. 1 any information: Reliable sources say the company is going bankrupt. | Use sources such as books, magazines, and websites when doing research for your paper. 4 EARTH SCIENCES the place where a stream or river starts [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French source, from sourdre “to rise, spring out,” from Latin surgere “to rise”]

'sour adj. v. [T] to stop being enjoyable, friendly, or satisfactory: Relations between the two countries had soured. 2 [I] to become sour, or to make a food do this

'sour noun. 2 the cause of a problem, or the place where it starts: Technicians located the source of the problem. 3 a person, book, or document that you get information from: Reliable sources say the company is going bankrupt. | Use sources such as books, magazines, and websites when doing research for your paper. 4 EARTH SCIENCES the place where a stream or river starts [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French source, from sourdre “to rise, spring out,” from Latin surgere “to rise”]

'source noun. 1 any information: Reliable sources say the company is going bankrupt. | Use sources such as books, magazines, and websites when doing research for your paper. 4 EARTH SCIENCES the place where a stream or river starts [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French source, from sourdre “to rise, spring out,” from Latin surgere “to rise”]

'southern adj. 1 the direction that is at the bottom of a map of the world, or to the right of someone facing the rising Sun: Which way is south? 2 see picture at NORTH

'south n. South /sauθ/ n. [singular] U 1 the southern part of a country, state, etc.: Rain will spread to the south later today, | the south of France 3 the South the southeastern states of the U.S. [Orig: Old English suth] southward /·sauθwaːrd/ adj., adv. toward the south

Usage
Use north/south/east/west of sth in order to describe where a place is in relation to another place: Memphis is south of St. Louis.

Use in the north/south/east/west, etc. of sth in order to say which part of a place you are talking about: The mountains are in the west of the province.

Use northern/southern/eastern/western, etc. with the name of a place: They have a cabin in northern Ontario. Don't say "in the north of Ontario."
spare

v. [T] to prevent someone from having to do something difficult or unpleasant: I wanted to spare the kids the pain of our divorce.

2 money/time etc. to spare money or time that is left in addition to what you have used or need: We made it to the airport with 10 minutes to spare.

3 to make something such as time, money, or workers available for someone, especially when this is difficult: I guess I can spare a few dollars.

spare

n. [C] an additional key, battery, etc. that you have in addition to the one you usually use, so that it is available if it is needed.

spare

n. [C] the empty area between two things: the spaces between the words | an empty space at the back of the stage.

spasm

v. [spanned, spanning] [T] 1 to include all of a period of time: a career spanning four decades.

2 to include all of a particular area: The Internet spans the globe.

3 to go from one side of something to the other: a bridge spanning the river.

spatial

n. [C] a dog with long hair and long ears [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French espagnol “Spaniard, spaniel,” from Latin Hispanic “Spain.”]

space

v. 1 [T] to arrange objects, events, etc. so that they have an equal amount of space or time between them: Space the plants four inches apart.

2 [I] also space out (slang) to stop paying attention and begin to look in front of you without thinking.

space

n. [U] (informal) very modern: space-age design.

space

n. [C] (informal) someone who is spacey.

space

n. [C] a vehicle that can travel in space.

space

adj. informal

space

n. [C] a spacecraft – used especially in stories.

space

n. [C] a spacecraft for carrying people into space, that can be used more than once.

space

n. [C] a spacey person who does not pay attention, forgets things, and often behaves slightly strangely.

space

n. [C] a shoveling card with one or more black shapes like pointed leaves on it [Origin: (1), (2), (3) 1500—1600 Italian spada or Spanish espada “broad sword” (used as a mark on cards)].

space

n. [U] long thin pieces of pasta that look like strings.

spam

n. [U] email messages that a computer user has not asked for and does not want to read, for example from someone who is advertising something.

spam

v. [U] to send the same email message to many different people who have not asked for it and do not want to read it, usually as a way of advertising something.

span

n. [C] the amount of time during which something continues to exist or happen: Most children have a short attention span.

2 a period of time between two dates or events: Over a span of five years, they planted 10,000 new trees.

span

n. [C] a very small piece of fire coming from a larger fire or from hitting two hard objects together: sparks from the fire.

span

n. [C] a small amount of a feeling or quality: As she spark

spoke, she saw a spark of hope in Tony’s eyes. [Origin: Old English spearan] spark v. [T] to make something start happening: The argument about whether slavery should be abolished or maintained sparked off the American Civil War. [I] to produce sparks sparkle /ˈspɜːrkəl/ v. [I] 1 to shine in small bright flashes: diamonds sparkling in the light spark plug n. [C] a kitchen tool with a wide flat part, used for lifting or spreading food spark plug n. [C] a common small brown or gray bird [Origin: Old English spearn] sparrow n. [C] a small common small brown or gray bird [Origin: Old English spearn] sparse sparingly adj. small in number or amount, and usually scattered over a large area: sparse vegetation [Origin: 1700—1800 Latin sparris “spread out,” from the past participle of spargere “to scatter”] —sparingly adv.: sparsely populated sparta an old-fashioned Biology having cerebral palsy, a disease that prevents someone being able to control his/her muscles spat n. [C] (informal) an argument or disagreement that is not important —sparadically adv.

spat n. [C] relating to the position, size, or shape of things spat-ter /ˈspɛtər/ v. [I,T] if a liquid spatters, or if you spatter it, drops of it fall onto a surface: a t-shirt spattered with paint

spatula /ˈspætələ/ n. [C] a kitchen tool with a wide flat part, used for lifting or spreading food

spatula /ˈspætələ/ n. [C] a kitchen tool with a wide flat part, used for lifting or spreading food

spatulate /ˈspeɪtələt/ v. [I] to make something happen or start to exist: The book “Dracula” has spawned a number of movies. [I] if a fish or frog spawns, it lays a lot of eggs spawn /spɔrn/ v. [T] Biology to remove part of a female animal’s sex organs so that she cannot produce babies (neutral) neuter speak /spik/ v. (past tense spoke /spouk/, past participle spoken /spoukt/) 1 TALK TO SB [I] to talk to someone about something or have a conversation: Hello, can I speak to Mr. Sherwood, please? | Solomon spoke with a reporter. | He spoke of/about his love of the theater. 2 SAY WORDS [I] to use your voice to say words: He spoke very softly.

language [T] to be able to talk in a particular language: My brother speaks French. | Don’t say “My brother speaks in French.” | Can you speak English?

opinion /əˈpɪnjən/ n. [U] to say something that expresses your ideas or opinions: Generally speaking, money issues matter most to voters. | He spoke highly/well of (as said good things about) her.

so to speak (spoken) used in order to say that the words you have used do not have their usual meaning: Being beaten by a 12-year-old took the wind out of my sails, so to speak.

speaking of sb/sth (spoken) used when you want to say more about someone or something that has just been mentioned: Speaking of Jody, how is she?

English?

speak for sb/sth (spoken) used when you want to say more about someone or something that has just been mentioned: Speaking of Jody, how is she?

speak out pron. v. 1 also speak on behalf of sb to express the feelings, thoughts, etc. of another person or group of people: Mr. Miles spoke for all the parents at the school.

2 sth speaks for itself to show something so clearly that no explanation is necessary: Our profits speak for themselves (=our profits show how good or bad our business is).

3 be spoken for to be promised to someone else: This puppy is already spoken for.

speak out pron. v. to say publicly what you think about something, especially as a protest: people speaking out against human rights abuses specialize /spɛˈkæliːz/ v [v l] to limit most of your study, business, etc. to a particular subject or activity: a lawyer who specializes in divorce cases —specialization /ˌspeɪsəˈlɪzaʃən/ n [C U] specialized /ˈspeɪsəˌlɪzd/ adj developed for a particular purpose: soldiers going through specialized training speciality /ˈspeɪsəlɪtɪ/ n 1 for one particular purpose: specially trained dogs used by blind people 2 (spoken) especially: I had it made specially for you.

special prosecutor n [C] law an independent lawyer who is chosen to examine the actions of a government official and find out if they have done anything wrong or illegal specialty /ˈspeɪsəlɪti/ n (plural specialties) [C] 1 a subject that you know a lot about, or a skill that you have: his academic specialty 2 a food or product that is very good, produced in a particular restaurant, area, etc.: The house specialty is chicken enchiladas. 3 a particular product or business that has one purpose or sells one type of thing: specialty magazines

speak up phr.v. 1 (spoken) used in order to ask someone to speak more loudly: Could you speak up please, I can’t hear you. 2 to say publicly what you think about something: If you don’t like what’s happening, speak up!

speaker /ˈspiːkər/ n [C] 1 someone who makes a speech: the guest speaker for the evening 2 the part of a radio, CD player, etc. where the sound comes out — see picture on page A6 3 English/French etc. speaker someone who speaks English, French, etc. 4 also Speaker of the House politics the politician who controls discussions in the U.S. House of Representatives spare /spɑːr/ n [C] a pole with a sharp pointed blade at one end, used as a weapon spear /ˈspiər/ v [T] to push a pointed object such as a fork into something spearhead /ˈspiərhed/ v [T] to lead an attack or an organized action: the troops who spearheaded the rescue mission

special /ˈspɛʃəl/ adj different in some way from what is ordinary or usual, and often better or more important: a special place in the classroom for reading | Give her something special this Christmas. | a dish served on special occasions 2 particularly important to someone and deserving love, attention, etc.: He made me feel special. | her special friends 3 special care/attention etc. more care, attention, etc. than is usual: We try to give special care to the youngest patients. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French especially, from Latin specialis “particular”] specialist /ˈspɛʃəlist/ n [C] 1 someone who knows a lot about a particular subject or has a lot of skill in it: a heart specialist

special education n [U] education for children who have physical or mental problems special effects n [plural] images or sounds that have been produced artificially to be used in a movie or television program specialist /ˈspeʃəlist/ n [C] someone who specialist in: a particular subject or activity: a lawyer who specializes in divorce cases —specialization /ˌspeɪsəˈlɪzaʃən/ n [C U]

specialized /ˈspeɪsəˌlɪzd/ adj developed for a particular purpose: soldiers going through specialized training

speciality /ˈspeɪsəlɪtɪ/ n 1 for one particular purpose: specially trained dogs used by blind people 2 (spoken) especially: I had it made specially for you.

special prosecutor n [C] law an independent lawyer who is chosen to examine the actions of a government official and find out if they have done anything wrong or illegal

specialty /ˈspeɪsəlɪti/ n (plural specialties) [C] 1 a subject that you know a lot about, or a skill that you have: his academic specialty 2 a food or product that is very good, produced in a particular restaurant, area, etc.: The house specialty is chicken enchiladas. 3 a particular product or business that has one purpose or sells one type of thing: specialty magazines

speak up phr.v. 1 (spoken) used in order to ask someone to speak more loudly: Could you speak up please, I can’t hear you. 2 to say publicly what you think about something: If you don’t like what’s happening, speak up!

speaker /ˈspiːkər/ n [C] 1 someone who makes a speech: the guest speaker for the evening 2 the part of a radio, CD player, etc. where the sound comes out — see picture on page A6 3 English/French etc. speaker someone who speaks English, French, etc. 4 also Speaker of the House politics the politician who controls discussions in the U.S. House of Representatives

spare /spɑːr/ n [C] a pole with a sharp pointed blade at one end, used as a weapon

spear /ˈspiər/ v [T] to push a pointed object such as a fork into something

spearhead /ˈspiərhed/ v [T] to lead an attack or an organized action: the troops who spearheaded the rescue mission

special /ˈspɛʃəl/ adj different in some way from what is ordinary or usual, and often better or more important: a special place in the classroom for reading | Give her something special this Christmas. | a dish served on special occasions 2 particularly important to someone and deserving love, attention, etc.: He made me feel special. | her special friends 3 special care/attention etc. more care, attention, etc. than is usual: We try to give special care to the youngest patients. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French especially, from Latin specialis “particular”]

specialist /ˈspɛʃəlist/ n [C] 1 someone who knows a lot about a particular subject or has a lot of skill in it: a heart specialist

special education n [U] education for children who have physical or mental problems special effects n [plural] images or sounds that have been produced artificially to be used in a movie or television program specialist /ˈspɛʃəlist/ n [C] someone who

specialist in: a particular subject or activity: a lawyer who specializes in divorce cases —specialization /ˌspɛɪsəˈlɪzaʃən/ n [C U]

specialized /ˈspɛɪsəˌlɪzd/ adj developed for a particular purpose: soldiers going through specialized training speciality /ˈspɛɪsəlɪtɪ/ n 1 for one particular purpose: specially trained dogs used by blind people 2 (spoken) especially: I had it made specially for you.

special prosecutor n [C] law an independent lawyer who is chosen to examine the actions of a government official and find out if they have done anything wrong or illegal specialty /ˈspɛɪsəlɪti/ n (plural specialties) [C] 1 a subject that you know a lot about, or a skill that you have: his academic specialty 2 a food or product that is very good, produced in a particular restaurant, area, etc.: The house specialty is chicken enchiladas. 3 a particular product or business that has one purpose or sells one type of thing: specialty magazines

speak up phr.v. 1 (spoken) used in order to ask someone to speak more loudly: Could you speak up please, I can’t hear you. 2 to say publicly what you think about something: If you don’t like what’s happening, speak up!

speaker /ˈspiːkər/ n [C] 1 someone who makes a speech: the guest speaker for the evening 2 the part of a radio, CD player, etc. where the sound comes out — see picture on page A6 3 English/French etc. speaker someone who speaks English, French, etc. 4 also Speaker of the House politics the politician who controls discussions in the U.S. House of Representatives

spare /spɑːr/ n [C] a pole with a sharp pointed blade at one end, used as a weapon

spear /ˈspiər/ v [T] to push a pointed object such as a fork into something

spearhead /ˈspiərhed/ v [T] to lead an attack or an organized action: the troops who spearheaded the rescue mission

special /ˈspɛʃəl/ adj different in some way from what is ordinary or usual, and often better or more important: a special place in the classroom for reading | Give her something special this Christmas. | a dish served on special occasions 2 particularly important to someone and deserving love, attention, etc.: He made me feel special. | her special friends 3 special care/attention etc. more care, attention, etc. than is usual: We try to give special care to the youngest patients. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French especially, from Latin specialis “particular”]

specialist /ˈspɛʃəlist/ n [C] 1 someone who knows a lot about a particular subject or has a lot of skill in it: a heart specialist

special education n [U] education for children who have physical or mental problems special effects n [plural] images or sounds that have been produced artificially to be used in a movie or television program

specialist /ˈspɛʃəlist/ n [C] someone who

specialist in: a particular subject or activity: a lawyer who specializes in divorce cases —specialization /ˌspɛɪsəˈlɪzaʃən/ n [C U]

specialized /ˈspɛɪsəˌlɪzd/ adj developed for a particular purpose: soldiers going through specialized training

speciality /ˈspɛɪsəlɪtɪ/ n 1 for one particular purpose: specially trained dogs used by blind people 2 (spoken) especially: I had it made specially for you.
fine specimen of Roman pottery from the 1st Century A.D. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin specere "to look (at)"

specious /spec'od/ adj (formal) seeming to be true or correct, but really false: a specious argument speculate /spek'ê/ v (past tense and past participle speculated /spek'êlad/ adj covered with a lot of small spots or marks: a speck of dust spectacle /spek'teIÔø/ n [C] a very small mark, spot, or piece of something: a speck of dust spectacular /spek'teIÔø/ adj (disapproving) an unusual or strange thing or situation that you see: He got drunk and made a spectacle of himself.

spectacularly /spek'teIÔøli/ adv very impressive or exciting: a spectacular view of the Grand Canyon spectacular\textsuperscript{2} /spek'teIÔø/ n [C] an event or performance that is very big and impressive spectator /spek'teIÔø/ n [C] someone who watches an event, game, etc. → see picture at AUDIENCE speech /spêch/ n 1 [C] a talk, especially a formal one about a particular subject, given to a group of people: a campaign speech 2 [U] the ability to speak, or the way someone speaks: Her speech was slow.

speechless /spêch'liz/ adj unable to speak because you are angry, shocked, upset, etc.: Boyd’s answer left her speechless.

speed /spêd/ n 1 [C,U] how fast something moves or travels: a car traveling at high speed speed\textsuperscript{2} /spêd/ v (past tense and past participle speeded /spêd\textsuperscript{2}/ or speeded) 1 [I] to move or happen quickly: The train sped along/flypast.

speed up \textsuperscript{phr} v to move or happen faster, or to make something do this: an attempt to speed up production 2 [I] to speed up or accelerate speedboat /spêd'bô/ n [C] a small boat with a powerful engine that can go very fast speeding /spêd\textsuperscript{2}/n [U] the act of traveling too fast in a vehicle: Police stopped him for speeding.

speed limit /spêd\textsuperscript{2}\textsuperscript{lim}it/ n [C] the fastest speed that you are allowed to drive on a particular road: a 40 mph speed limit speedometer /spêd\textsuperscript{2}\textsuperscript{om\textsuperscript{e}t}er/ n [C] an instrument in a vehicle that shows how fast it is going speed trap /spêd\textsuperscript{2}\textsuperscript{tr}ap/ n [C] a place on a road where police wait to catch drivers who are going too fast speedy /spêd\textsuperscript{2}/ adj (comparative speedier, superlative speediest) happening or done quickly, or working quickly: a speedy recovery → speedily adv spell /spel/ v 1 [I,T] to form a word by writing or saying the letters in the correct order: My last name is Haines, spelled H-A-I-N-E-S. 2 [C] a list of words that are often spelled wrong. 2 spell trouble: defeat/danger etc. if a situation spells trouble, etc., it makes you expect trouble: Too many tourists could spell danger for the wilderness. 3 [T] if letters spell a word, they form it [origin: 1200—1300 Old French espeller] spell sth • out phr ° v to explain something clearly and in detail: an advert spelling out the dangers of smoking spellbound /ˈspɛlbənd/ adj. extremely interested in something you are listening to: His stories kept/held us spellbound.

spell-check v. [T] a computer program that tells you when you have not spelled a word correctly — spell-check spell-checker n. [C] if a computer program that tells you when you have not spelled a word correctly — spell-check spelling /ˈspɛlɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] Eng. Lang. Arts the ability to spell words in the correct way: His spelling has improved. 2 [C] Eng. Lang. Arts the way that a word is spelled: the correct spelling spelling bee n. [C] a spelling competition done by students spend /spend/ v. (past tense and past participle spent) 1 [I,T] to use your money to buy or pay for something: We spend $150 a week on groceries. Spending their own money teaches kids about budgets. 2 [T] to use time doing a particular activity: I want to spend more time with my family. We spent the day/morning etc. by the pool. [Origin: 1100—1200 Partly from Old French despendre, from Latin dispensare “to weigh out”] spending /ˈspɛndɪŋ/ n. [U] Economics the amount of money spent on something, especially by the government: a cut in defense/public spending spend-thrift /ˈspɛndərθrɪft/ n. [C] someone who spends a lot of money in a careless way spent /spent/ adj. 1 already used and now empty or useless: spent cartridges 2 [literary] extremely tired spend /ˈspɛnd/ v. (past tense and past participle spent) 1 [I,T] to use your money to buy or pay for something: We spend $150 a week on groceries. Spending their own money teaches kids about budgets. 2 [T] to use time doing a particular activity: I want to spend more time with my family. We spent the day/morning etc. by the pool. [Origin: 1100—1200 Partly from Old French despendre, from Latin dispensare “to weigh out”] spend on/over the young prince sphere /ˈspɛər/ n. [C] 1 the shape of a ball: The Earth is a sphere. 2 a particular area of work, interest, knowledge, etc.: women’s sphere of activity. 3 sphere of influence an area of the world or a situation in which a particular country, group, or person can influence what happens. 4 Math a solid object in the shape of a ball, in which every point on the surface is exactly the same distance from the center. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French espere, from Latin sphæra, from Greek sphaira “ball, sphere”] sphere-cal /ˈsfɜːrɪkəl, ˈsfɜːr-/ adj. having a round shape like a ball sphinx /ˈsfɪŋks/ n. [C] an ancient Egyptian image of a lion with a human head spice /ˈspɪs/ n. 1 [C]U a powder or seed taken from plants that is put into food to give it a special taste: herbs and spices. 2 [singular/L] interest or excitement that is added to something: Travel adds spice to your life. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French espice, from Late Latin species “spices”] —spiced adj.

spice up v. [T] 1 to add interest or excitement to something: Graphics spice up your marketing materials. 2 to add spice to food pick-and-span /ˈspɪk ənˈspæn/ phr. [T] very clean and neat spicy /ˈspɪsɪ/ adj. food that is spicy contains a lot of spices: a hot and spicy chili spider /ˈspʌdər/ n. [C] a small creature with eight legs that makes webs (=sticky nets) to catch insects. [Origin: Old English spithra, from spinna] spill\(^1\)/spill/ v. 1 [I.T] if a liquid spills or you spill it, it flows over the edge of a container by accident: I spilled coffee on my shirt. 2 [I] if people spill out of a place, they move out in large groups. 3 spill your guts (informal) to tell someone a lot of personal things, especially because you are upset [ORIGIN: Old English spīllan "to kill, destroy, waste"] spill over prv. v. if a problem or bad situation spills over, it begins to affect other places, people, etc.: There’s a danger that the war will spill over into neighboring countries.

spill\(^2\)/spill/ n. [CU] an act of spilling something, or the amount that is spilled: an oil spill spin\(^1\)/spin/ v. (past tense and past participle spun) 1 [I.T] to turn around and around very quickly, or to make something do this: The ceiling fans were spinning. 2 to spin a tale/yarn/story to tell a story that you have invented spin \(\leftrightarrow\)/spin/ 1 [T] to describe a situation or information in a way that is intended to influence the way people think about it – used especially about what politicians do: In the book, he admits his affair but spins it as best he can. 2 [U] to make cotton, wool, etc. into thread by twisting it together: An oil spill is an act of spilling something, or the amount that is spilled. 3 to spin around, revolve, rotate spin\(^2\)/spin/ adj. long and thin and not strong: spindly legs spinal cable 1 [C] biology the long string of nerves that go from your brain down your back, through your spine → see picture at Brain\(^1\) spindly\(^/spindly/ adj. long and thin and not strong: spindly legs spin doctor n. [C] politics someone who describes a situation in a way that is intended to influence people’s opinions of it: a White House spin doctor spine\(^/spine/ n. 1 also spine column biology the long row of bones down the center of your back → see picture on page A3 2 a stiff sharp point on an animal or plant: cactus spines 3 the part of a book that the pages are attached to spineless\(^/spineless/ adj. lacking courage and determination spine\(^/spine/ n. 1 [C] a simple machine used in past times to make thread spinning wheel n. [C] a simple machine used in past times to make thread spiral\(^/spiral/ v. 1 to move up or down in the shape of a spiral: a leaf spiraling to the ground 2 to gradually but continuously get worse in a way that can’t be controlled: The economy has spiraled downward. 3 to feel his life was spiraling out of control.

spiral\(^/spiral/ n. 1 [C] an act of turning around quickly: the spin of the wheel 2 [singular] politics the way someone, especially a politician, talks about information or a situation, in order to influence the way people think about it → spin doctor: A spokesman tried to put a positive spin on the report. 3 political spin control (the attempt to control the way people think about an event) 4 a short trip in a car for pleasure spiral\(^/spiral/ adj. related to or affecting the spine: a spinal injury spinal column 1 [C] biology the long row of bones down the center of your back, through your spine → see picture at Brain\(^1\) spiral\(^/spiral/ adj. long and thin and not strong: spindly legs spirit-ual /ˈspɪrɪtjuəl/ adj relating to the spirit rather than the body or mind: spiritual health 2 relating to religion: a spiritual leader — spiritually adv.

spit-1 /spɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle spit or spat /ˈspæt/; present participle spitting) [T] to force a small amount of liquid, blood, food, etc. from your mouth: He spat on the ground. [She tasted the drink and immediately spat it out. [Origin: Old English spitter] spit-2 n. 1 [U] (informal) SALIVA. 2 [C] A long thin stick that you put through meat to cook it over a fire spite /spleɪt/ n. informal a feeling of wanting to hurt, annoy, or upset someone: Lois refused to let her ex-husband see the children out of spite (=because of spite).

spite-ful /ˈspleɪtfəl/ adj. being unkind deliberately in order to annoy or upset someone

spill /ˈspɪl/ v. 1 [I,T] if a liquid splashes, or if you splash it, it falls on something or hits against it: He spilled some cold water on his face. | Water splashed down onto the rocks. 2 [I] to move around in water in a noisy way: The children were splashing around in the pool.

spill-2 n. [C] 1 The sound water makes when something hits it: Jerry jumped into the water with a loud splash. → see picture on page A7 2 A mark made by a liquid splashing onto something else: spills of paint on my pants 3 A splash of color a small area of bright color 4 Make a splash (informal) to do something that gets a lot of public attention: The story made a splash in the newspapers.

spill-y /ˈspɪlɪ/ adj. big, bright, and very easy to notice: a splashy tie split /splɪt/ n. [singular] (informal) the sound made when something wet hits a hard surface split-1 /ˈsplætʃ/ v. [I,T] if a liquid splatters, or if someone splatters it, it hits against a surface: rain splattering against the window split-2 /ˈsplæt/ also play out v. [I,T] to spread your fingers, arms, or legs wide apart: He sat with his legs splayed out in front of him.

spine /spʌɪn/ n. [C] biology an organ near your stomach that helps clean your blood and fight against infections splint /ˈspʌnt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a splint used for keeping a broken bone in position → see picture on page A7

spipi-d- /ˈsplɛndɪd/ adj. 1 excellent: a splendid performance 2 beautiful or impressive: a splendid view from the balcony [origin: 1600—1700. Latin splendidus, from splendidus “to shine”] — splendidly adv.

splinter-1 /ˈsplæntər/ n. [C] a small sharp piece of wood, glass, or metal that has broken off of a larger piece: I have a splinter in my finger.

splinter-2 v. [I,T] to break into thin sharp pieces, or to cause something to do this 2 if a group or organization splinters, or if it is splintered by something such as a disagreement, it separates into smaller groups or organizations split /ˈspɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle split; present participle splitting) 1 [I,T] also split up to divide or make something divide into two or more groups, parts, etc.: We’ll split up into three work groups. | Try splitting this section into two.

spoil- /ˈspɔɪl/ v. [I,T] to tear or break something along a straight line, or to be torn or broken in this way: The board had split in two. | One of the boxes had split open. 3 [I,T] if a group of people splits, or if something splits them, they divide into smaller groups after disagreeing strongly about something: It was feared that the issue would split the church. 4 [I] to divide something among two or more people in equal parts: Do you want to split a pizza? | We decided to split the money between us. 5 [I] (informal) to leave a place quickly split-up /ˈspɔɪltəp/ v. [I,T] to end a marriage or a relationship: Eve’s parents split up when she was three.

split-2 n. [C] 1 A long straight hole caused when something breaks or tears: a split in the seam of my skirt 2 A serious disagreement that divides an organization or group of people into smaller groups: a split in the Republican Party split in-fin-itive /ˈspʌtɪnˈfɪnɪtɪv/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a phrase in which you put an adverb or other word between the word “to” and an INFINITIVE (basic form of a verb), for example in “to easily win.” Some people think that this is incorrect English.

split-level adj. a split-level house, room, or... split second

building has floors at different heights in different parts split 'second n. a split second an extremely short period of time: For a split second, I thought I was going to die. —split-second adj.: a split-second decision (=one taken very quickly) split-ting /split/ing/ adj. splitting headache a very painful headache splurge /splz/ v. [i] (informal) to spend more money than you can usually afford: We went shopping and splurged on clothes.

spoil /spoul/ v. 1 [T] to ruin something by making it less attractive, enjoyable, useful, etc.: Don’t let his bad mood spoil your evening. 2 [T] to let a child do or have whatever they want, with the result that they behave badly: We’ve been careful not to spoil our kids. 3 [T] to treat someone in a way that is very kind or too generous: a hotel that spoils its guests. 4 [i] if food spoils, it starts to decay. 1 if food spoils, it starts to decay.

spoke /spok/ v. 1 [T] a piece of a very light substance that is full of small holes and is used for washing or cleaning something. 2 [C] a sea animal with a soft body, from which some sponges are made [Origin: 1000—1100 Latin spongia, from Greek] sponge² v. 1 [T] also sponge down to wash something with a wet sponge. 2 [T] to remove liquid from a surface using a sponge.

spoils /spoils/ n. [plural] things taken by an army from a defeated enemy, or things taken by thieves.

spoil·man /spoul'm@n/ n. (plural speakers) a male spokesperson: a spokesman for the victims’ families spokes-man /spoulks'm@n/ n. (plural spokespeople /spoulks'plsp@pl/) someone who has been chosen to speak officially for a group, organization, government, etc.: a White House spokesperson spokes-wom-an /spoulks'w@m@n/ n. (plural spokeswomen /-w@mn/) a female spokesperson spoon /spoun/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a RHYTHM in poetry in which there are two stressed words or syllables next to each other, as in the phrase “praise Him” sponge¹ /spoun/ n. 1 [C]U] a light cake made with eggs, sugar, and flour but usually no fat spon·y /sp@ndz/ adj. soft and full of holes like a sponge: spongy wet earth spoon cake /spounek/ n. [C,U] a light cake made with eggs, sugar, and flour but usually no fat spoke /spok/ v. [T] to agree to give someone money for a proposal for an event, etc.

spoof /spuf/ n. [C] a funny book, movie, or play, etc. that copies a serious or important book, etc., and makes it seem silly: a spoof onto of Shakespeare’s “Richard III” —spoon v. [T] spook¹ /spuk/ n. [C] (informal) a GHOST

spook² v. [T] (informal) to frighten someone: Being alone all night really spooked me. | The drop in share prices spooked investors.

spook·y /spuki/ adj. (informal) strange or frightening: spooky old house spool /spul/ n. [C] an object shaped like a small wheel that you wind wire, thread, camera film, etc. around spoon¹ /spoun/ n. [C] a tool used for eating, cooking, and serving food, shaped like a small bowl with a long handle [Origin: Old English spoun “piece of wood split off”] spoon² v. [T] to pick up or move food with a spoon: Spoon the sauce over the fish.

spoon·er·ism /spounz'riz@zm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a phrase in which the speaker accidentally exchanges the first sounds of two words, with a funny result. For example, the speaker might say to sports: a store selling sporting goods (esports equipment) | one of the biggest sporting events of the year

sports /'spɔrts/ n 1 relating to sports or used for sports: a sports club | sports equipment 2 on the subject of sports: I like reading the sports pages/section (=win a newspaper).

'sports car n [C] a low fast car, often with a roof that can be folded back

'sports cast /'spɔrts-keɪst/ n [C] a television program of a sports game

'sports jacket also 'sports coat n [C] a man’s comfortable jacket, worn on informal occasions sports-man-ship /'spɔrstmənʃɪp/ n [U] behavior that is fair, honest, and polite in a game or sports competition: We try to teach the kids good sportsmanship.

'sports-wear /'spɔrswɛə/ n [U] clothes that are appropriate for informal occasions

'sport-utility vehicle n [C] an SUV

'sport-y /'spɔrtɪ/ adj (informal) designed to look attractive in a bright informal way: a sporty red car

spot /ˈspɒt/ n 1 1 PLACE a particular place: Oh, sorry, I’m sitting in your spot. | a popular vacation spot | a parking spot 2 COLORED AREA a small round area on a surface, that is a different color from the rest: a white dog with black spots 3 MARK a small mark on something: grease spots | There are spots of blood on his jacket.

'MARK 2 4 on the spot (informal) a immediately: Cathy was offered the job on the spot. b) at the place where something is happening: He lit up a cigar on the spot. 5 APPEARANCE a short appearance or advertisement on TV, radio, etc.: an advertising spot | a guest spot on the Tonight Show 6 POSITION a position in a competition: The top finisher will earn a spot in the U.S. Olympic team. 7 put sb on the spot to deliberately ask someone a question that is difficult or embarrassing to answer 8 bright spot something that is good in a bad situation: Foreign trade is the one bright spot in the economy.

hit the spot at wit?" spot v (spotted spotting) [T] 1 to notice or recognize someone or something that is difficult to see: A helicopter pilot spotted the wreckage of the plane. | She has a good eye for spotting talent. | I spotted something moving in the trees.

see, notice, glimpse/catch a glimpse of sth/ab, catch sight of ab/sth → SEE spot check

2 to give the other player in a game an advantage: Come on, I’ll spot you 10 points if you play.

spot check n [C] an examination of a few things or people in a group, to see whether everything is correct or satisfactory: Health inspectors will make spot checks throughout the state.

spot-less /ˈspɔtliːs/ adj. 1 completely clean: Donna keeps her car spotless. 2 completely honest and good; a spotless reputation spot-light /ˈspɔtlaɪt/ n. 1 [C] a very powerful light that can be directed at someone or something, or at a place in the area, especially when people are performing 2 the spotlight a lot of attention in newspapers, on television, etc.: Russia is back in the media spotlight again.

spot-light-er /ˈspɔtlaɪtər/ n. a person or thing that produces a spotlight spot-ty /ˈspɔtɪ/ adj. good in some parts but not in others: The stock market showed spotty gains.

spouse /ˈspous/ n [C] (formal) a husband or wife 1 [C] (from Latin sponsus “promised (in marriage)”) spout /ˈspou/ n [C] a small pipe on the side of a container that you pour liquid out through spray /ˈspreɪ/ n. 1 [C] if a liquid sprays or fire sprays from somewhere, it comes out very quickly in a powerful stream: A leak spouted from the garden hose. 2 [I] (informal) also spray off to talk a lot in a boring or annoying way: He’s always spouting off about politics.

sprain /ˈsprɛɪn/ v [I] to injure a joint in your body by suddenly twisting it: Any sprained her ankle when she fell. —sprain n [C] spread /spred/ v. 1 [T] if a liquid spreads on, it is forced out of a container, hose, etc. in a stream of very small drops: Spray a little perfume on the backs of your knees too. 2 [I] (informal) if a bird or insect spreads its wings, it stretches them wide: if a group of people spread out, they move apart from each other in order to cover a wide area: If we spread out, it should be easier to find her.

spread n. 1 [singular] the increase in the area or number of people that something has an effect on: the spread of TB 2 [C] a food that you put on bread: cheese/chocolate etc. spread 3 [C] (informal) a large meal for several people on a special occasion: There was a nice spread at the reception after the wedding. 4 [C] a special article or advertisement in a newspaper or magazine: a two-page spread 5 [C] a large farm or ranch: a 500-acre spread spread-sheet /ˈspredʃiːt/ n [C] 1 a computer program that can show and calculate financial information 2 a document that contains rows and columns of numbers that can be used to calculate something spread /ˈspreset/ n. 1 [C] a short period in which you do something that you enjoy, especially spending money or drinking: I see you went on a shopping spree!

sprig /sprij/ n. [C] a small stem or part of a branch with leaves or flowers on it: a sprig of parsley spring /spring/ n. 1 [C,U] the season between winter and summer, when leaves and flowers appear: The park opens in the spring. | I'm going to Cancun this spring. | last next spring (the spring before or after this one) 2 [C] a twisted piece of metal that has been made so that it will return to its original shape after it has been pressed down 3 [C] earth sciences a place where water comes up naturally from the ground: a hot spring 4 [U] the ability of a chair, bed, etc. to return to its normal shape after being pressed down 5 [C] a sudden quick movement or jump in a particular direction spring /spring/ v. (past tense sprang /spring/ also sprung /spring/, past participle sprung /sprung/) [I] 1 to jump or move suddenly and quickly in a particular direction. He turned off the alarm and sprang out of bed. | He sprang to his feet (=stood up suddenly) and rushed after her. | The lid of the box sprang open/shut (=suddenly opened or shut). | The branch sprang back/up (=moved quickly back to its original position or shape) and hit him in the face.

thesaurus jump, skip, hop, leap

2 spring to mind if someone or something springs to mind, you immediately think of him, her, or it: Pam’s name springs to mind as someone who could do the job. 3 spring into action/spring to life to suddenly become active or start doing things: The whole school springs into action at Homecoming. 4 spring for sb’s defense to immediately help someone who is being attacked or criticized: Molly sprang to her daughter’s defense. 5 spring a leak if a boat or a container springs a leak, it begins to let liquid in or out through a crack or hole spring for ssth pbr v. (informal) to pay for something: Carol said she’d spring for lunch.

spring from ssth pbr v. to be caused by something: health problems that spring from living in a cold, wet country spring on ssth pbr v. (informal) to tell someone something or ask him/her to do something when s/he does not expect it and is not ready for it: I’m sorry to have to spring this on you.

spring up pbr v. to suddenly appear or start to exist: All along the railroad, new towns sprang up.

spring-board /spring'bord/ n. [C] 1 something that helps you to start doing something: His computer knowledge provided a springboard for his career. 2 a strong board that bends, used in order to jump high, especially into water spring ‘break n. [C] a vacation from school in the spring that is usually one week long spring ‘chicken n. be no spring chicken (tired) to no longer be young spring ‘fever n. [U] a sudden feeling of energy and wanting to do something new and exciting, that you get in the spring spring tide n. [C] earth sciences a tide in which the rise and fall of the level of the sea is higher than normal, which takes place every two weeks when the moon is new or full ➔ Neap tide spring-time /spring'tam/ n. [U] the time of year when it is spring sprin-gy /spring/ adj. returning quickly to its original shape after being pressed: springy grass sprin-klé /springklé/ n. 1 [T] to scatter small drops of liquid or small pieces of something onto something else: spaghetti sprinkled with parmesan 2 a small piece of food, or a light layer of these: chocolate sprinkles | a sprinkle of grated cheese 2 a light rain sprin-ker /springklér/ n. [C] a piece of equipment used for scattering drops of water on grass sprin/ /spring/ v. [I] to run very fast for a short distance ➔ sprint n. [C] ➔ sprinter n. [C] thesaurus run, dash, tear, race ➔ run sprout /springt/ v. 1 [I,T] biology to start to grow, or produce new leaves, buds, or shoots: a plant sprouting new flowers | seeds beginning to sprout 2 [I] also sprout up to appear suddenly in large numbers: new homes sprouting up in the suburbs sprout /springt/ n. [C] 1 biology a new growth on a plant 2 a bean or other plant that is not fully grown and is eaten in salads: alfalfa sprouts 3 a brussels sprout spruce /springt/ n. [C,U] a tree with short leaves shaped like needles, or the wood of this tree spruce /springt/ v. 1 [I,T] to make yourself or a place look better or neater: I want to spruce up a little before dinner. 2 ➔ spruce up sprung /springt/ v. a past tense and the past participle of SPRING spry /spring/ adj. a spry old person is active and cheerful spud /spud/ n. [C] (informal) a potato spin /spirn/ v. the past tense and past participle of SPRIN spunky /springki/ adj. (informal) brave and full of... energy and determination: the film’s spunky heroine —spunk n. [U]

spur¹ /spər/ n. 1 on the spur of the moment without planning ahead of time: We got married on the spur of the moment. 2 [C] a sharp pointed object attached to the heel of a rider’s boot that she presses against the side of a horse to encourage it to go faster spur² v. (spurred, spurring) [T] 1 to make an improvement or change happen faster: Growth in the city was spurred by cheap housing. 2 also spur sb on to encourage someone to do or continue doing something: Her sister’s success spurred her on to practice harder.

spur·ri·ous /ˈspʊrəriəs/ adj. (formal) not based on correct facts or careful thinking, and so likely to be wrong: spurious arguments [Origin: 1500—1600 Late Latin spuriosus, from Latin (noun), “child of unmarried parents”] spurn /spɔrn/ v. [T] (literary) to refuse to accept something or to refuse to have a relationship with someone, in an unkind way: a spurned lover spurt /spɔr/ v. [I] 1 to flow out suddenly with a lot of force: Blood spurted from his arm. 2 to suddenly move forward very quickly: Liza spurted past the other runners.

spur·ton·ce·ous /ˈspʊrətənsəs/ adj. [C] a stream of liquid, flames, etc. that comes out of something suddenly: Water was coming out of the faucet in spurts (=quickly for short periods). 2 a short sudden increase in activity, effort, or speed: a growth spur spu·ter /ˈspʌtər/ v. 1 [I] if something such as a process stutters, it stops working well or effectively: The country’s economic growth spurted to a halt during 2007. 2 [I] if an engine sputters, it makes sounds like very small explosions, because it is not working correctly: The engine sputtered and died. 3 [I,T] to talk quickly in short confused phrases, especially because you are angry or shocked: “They think I’m a fool,” she sputtered.

spy /spai/ v. (spied spies) [I] to secretly collect information or watch people, usually for a government or company: She hired a private detective to spy on her husband. | He confessed to spying for North Korea. n. [C]: a government spy

squab·ble /ˈskwɑbəl/ v. [I] to argue about something unimportant: What are those kids squabbling about now? —squabbled n. [C] squadrn /ˈskwɔdrn/ n. [C] a car used by police squad·ron /ˈskwɔdrən/ n. [C] a military force consisting of a group of aircraft or ships squall /ˈskwɔl/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a sudden strong wind that brings rain or snow square /ˈskweər/ adj. 1 having four straight equal sides and four 90° angles: a square window. 2 square inch/mile etc. the measurement of an area that is a square shape with sides an inch, mile, etc. long: two square acres of land. 3 like a square in shape forming a 90° angle, or seeming to do this: a square corner. a square jaw. 4 be [all] square if two people are square, they do not owe each other any money: Here’s your $20, so now we’re square. 5 a square meal a complete satisfying meal. 6 a square deal honest and fair treatment from someone: a car dealer that gives customers a square deal. 7 (old-fashioned) honest: I’m being square with you. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French esquarre, from Vulgar Latin exquadra, from exquadrare “to make square”] square² n. [C] 1 a shape with four straight equal sides forming four RIGHT ANGLES —see picture at POLYGON

square³ v. [T] MATH to multiply a number by itself square up phr. v. to pay money that you owe: I’ll get the drinks, and we can square up later.

square⁴ adv. (spoken) SQUARELY squared /ˈskwaːrd/ adj. 3/9/10 etc. squared MATH the number 3, 9, 10, etc. multiplied by itself: 7 squared equals 9.

'square dance n. [C] a type of dance in which four pairs of dancers face each other in a square square·ly /ˈskwɔrli/ adv. 1 exactly or directly: The ball landed squarely in the palm of his hand. 2 completely and with no doubt: The report squeak

1 /skwæk/ v. [I] to make a very short high noise or cry: Is that your chair squeaking? — squeak n. [C]: the squeak of new leather ▶ see picture on page A7 squeaking adj. making very high noises that are not loud: a squeaky voice ▶ squeeze in high, high-pitched, shrill ▶

2 squeaky clean (informal) a) never having done anything morally wrong: The incident has ruined McIntyre’s squeaky clean image. b) completely clean: squeaky clean hair squeal /skwel/ v. [I] to make a long loud high sound or cry: His tires squealed as he swerved around the corner. ▶ children squealing with excitement. 2 squeal on (sb) (informal) to tell the police or someone in authority about someone you know who has done something wrong squeal n. [C] a long loud high sound or cry: squeals of delight squeamish /'skwaimʃ/ adj. easily shocked or upset, or easily made to feel sick by disgusting sights: I couldn’t be a doctor – I’m too squeamish.

squeaky /skwæki/ adj. 1 (C] one of a group of large vegetables with solid flesh and hard skins, such as squashes ▶ see picture at VEGETABLE 2 [U] an indoor game similar to RACKETBALL squelch /skwelʃ/ v. [I] (informal) to stop something from spreading or continuing: Store owners said the law would squelch competition. 2 [I] SQUISH squeeze /skiː(ə) /v. /'skwiːz/ [T] to press something firmly with your fingers or hand: He squeezed Jim’s shoulder gently. 2 [I,T] to twist or press something in order to get liquid out of it: Squeeze some lemon juice onto the salad. ▶ see picture on page A5

SYN squeeze, compress, compact ▶ Press, crush, mash, grind, squish, squash, crush, smash, grind, cram

THESAURUS ▶ press, crush, mash, grind, squeeze, compress, compact ▶ PRESS

2 [I,T] to push yourself or someone else into a small space [T] SQUEEZE. Can you squeeze in next to Rick? She had to squeeze past boxes of books to get to the front door. 4 squeeze sb/sth in (informal) to manage to do something although you are very busy: Professor Lang can squeeze you in at 2:00. 5 squeeze sb/sth out of (st) to not let someone or something take part in something: Some small businesses are being squeezed out of the market. 6 [T] ECONOMICS to strictly limit the amount of money that is available to an organization: a school squeezed by budget cuts [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 squease “to press, squeeze” (15—17 centuries), from Old English cwseas] squirrel

/skwɔrl/ n [C] a small animal with a long furry tail that lives in trees and eats nuts [Origin: 1300—1400 Anglo-French esquirel, from Latin sciuorus, from skeia “shadow” + oura “tail”] → see picture at Rodent

squirt1 /ˈskwɔrt/ v 1 [T] if you squirt liquid or it squirts, it is forced out of a narrow hole in a thin fast stream: Orange juice squirted onto her dress. 2 [T] to hit or cover someone or something with a stream of liquid: The children squirted each other with the hose.
squirt2 n. [C] 1 a thin stream of liquid: a squirt of ketchup 2 (spoken) a word used when speaking to a small child: Hey squirt — it’s time to wake up. squish /ˈskwiʃ/ v 1 [T] (informal) to squash something soft or wet, or to become squashed 2 [I] to make a sucking sound by moving through something soft and wet, such as mud squishy /ˈskwiʃɪ/ adj soft, wet, and easy to squeeze: squishy mud Sr. the written abbreviation of Senior St. 1 the written abbreviation of STREET 2 the written abbreviation of SAINT stab1 /stæb/ v (stabbed, stabbing) 1 [T] to push a sharp object into someone or something: He was stabbed to death in a fight. 2 [I] to stab sb in the back (informal) to do something bad to someone who likes and trusts you (informal) betray stab2 n. 1 [C] an act of stabbing or trying to stab someone: The victim had four stab wounds. 2 take a stab at (doing) sth (informal) to try to do something that is difficult or that you have never done: Carla decided to take a stab at learning to sail.
stab·bing /ˈstæbɪŋ/ n [C] a crime in which someone is stabbed stab·bil·i·ty /ˈstæbɪlɪti/ 1 the condition of not changing very often or suddenly (ANT) instability: a long period of political stability 2 the condition of being strong and steady and not likely to fall or move in an unsafe way (ANT) instability: the structural stability of a building 3 the quality of being mentally and emotionally healthy, so that you are not likely to become mentally ill. Lawyers questioned his emotional stability.
sta·bi·li·ze /ˈstæbɪlɪzaɪ/ v 1 [T] to reach a state where changes no longer happen often or suddenly, or to make something do this → STABLE: The financial markets are finally stabilizing. 2 [T] to make something steady and not likely to fall or move in an unsafe way: A rod is put in to stabilize the broken bone. —stabilization /ˌstæbɪlɪzaˈʃən/ n [U] sta·ble /ˈstæbl/ adj 1 steady and not likely to move: Be careful — the ladder doesn’t look stable. 2 not likely to change often or suddenly: a stable marriage 3 calm, reasonable, and not easy to upset: He was clearly not a very stable person. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French estable, from Latin stabilis, from stare “to stand”] stable2 n. [C] a building where horses are kept stack1 /stæk/ n [C] a neat pile of things: a stack of magazines on the table
THE Thesaurus
pile, heap, mound → PILE stack2 v. 1 [I,T] also stack up to form a neat pile, or to put things into a neat pile: Just stack the dishes in the sink for now; chairs that are designed to stack easily 2 [T] to put piles of things on something: Al has a job stacking shelves in the supermarket.
stack up phr. v. (informal) used to talk about how good something is compared with something else: a new PC that stacks up well against the others on the market sta·di·um /ˈstædiəm/ n (plural stadiums or sta·di·ums /ˈstædiəm/ [C] a building for sports, large rock concerts, etc., consisting of a field surrounded by rows of seats: a football stadium [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin, Greek stadiion “unit of length, race-track”] staff1 /stæf/ n [C,U] the people who work for an organization: a meeting of library staff members | Joan is the only lawyer we have on staff. | Reiter manages a staff of forty: a staff meeting → WORK staff2 v. [T] to be or provide the workers for an organization: a hospital staffed by experienced nurses → staffing n. [U]: staffing costs staff·er /ˈsteɪfər/ n. [C] someone who is paid to work for an organization stag /ˈsteɪɡ/ n. [C] a fully grown male DEER

stage1 /ˈsteɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C] a particular point or time in a process that something or someone reaches before going to the next one: The disease is still in its early stages.  | At this stage (right now) no one is sure what to do next.  | The government has promised elections at some stage in the next 12 months.  | Children go through various stages of development.  | the planning stage of the project

---

THE SAURUS

part – one of the pieces or features of something, such as an event or period of time: The early part of his life was spent in New York.

step – one of a series of actions that you do in order to deal with a problem or achieve something: an important first step toward peace phase – a separate part in a process of development or change: Schools will receive extra funding in both phases of the plan.

point – a specific moment, time, or stage in something’s development: The team is playing better than I thought they would at this point.

round – one of a number of events that are related: the first round of the negotiations

---

2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the raised floor in a theater where actors, singers, musicians, etc. perform | see picture of theater  3 [singular, U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the profession of acting: Lina’s always wanted to be on stage (=be an actor).

THEATRE

4 [C] a place where something important happens: the world political stage

5 s/he’s going through a stage (=informal) used in order to say that someone young will soon stop behaving badly or strangely: 6 stage left/right ENG. LANG. ARTS the left or right side of the stage, from the view of an actor facing the people watching [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French estage, from Latin stare “to stand”] | set the stage/scene at SET

THESTROUS

---

stage2 /ˈsteɪdʒ/ v. [T] 1 to organize a public event: They’re stageing five plays this summer.  | Workers are staging a strike.  | 2 to start doing something again or being successful, after you had stopped or not been successful for some time: After trailing in the polls, he staged a remarkable comeback in the days before the election.

STAGE-coach /ˈsteɪdʒkəʊʃ/ n. [C] a closed vehicle pulled by horses, that carried passengers and mail in past times

stage fright n. [U] nervousness that some people feel before they perform in front of a lot of people stage manager n. [C] someone who is responsible for a theater stage during a performance stag·ger·ing /ˈsteɪɡərɪŋ/ adj. extremely great or surprising: She spends a staggering amount of money on clothes.

stagger /ˈsteɪɡər/ n. [C] an unsteady movement of someone who has difficulty walking staging /ˈsteɪdʒɪŋ/ n. [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the activity or art of performing a play, or the way this is done: a modern staging of “Romeo and Juliet” stagnant /ˈsteɪɡənənt/ adj. 1 stagnant water or air does not move or flow and often smells bad | 2 not changing or improving: Steel production has stayed stagnant.

stal·id /ˈsteɪld/ adj. serious, old-fashioned, and boring: a staid old bachelor stain /ˈsteɪn/ v. [I,T] to accidentally make a colored mark on something, especially one that is difficult to remove, or to be marked in this way: This carpet stains easily. | a tablecloth stained with wine  2 [T] to paint wood with a stain stain /ˈsteɪn/ n. 1 [C] a mark that is difficult to remove: I got coffee stains on my shirt.

stainless steel n. [U] a type of steel that does not rust

stair /ˈsteɪr/ n. 1 stairs [plural] a set of steps built for going from one level of a building to another: Bev ran up/down the stairs.  | Please leave your shoes at the bottom/foot of the stairs.  | 1 I left my briefcase at the top of the stairs. | The office is up one flight of stairs (=set of stairs).  2 [C] one of the steps in a set of stairs: Jane sat on the bottom stair. [ORIGIN: Old English stæger] | downstairs, upstairs

stair·case /ˈsteɪrkeɪs/ n. [C] a set of stairs inside a building, and the structure that supports it

stair·way /ˈsteɪrwэɪ/ n. [C] a set of stairs and the structure that supports it, either inside or outside a building

stake1 /ˈsteɪk/ n. 1 be at stake if something that you value very much is at stake, you will lose it if a plan or action is not successful: The team goes into the game knowing their coach’s job is at stake.  2 have a stake in sth a) to have an important part or share in a business, plan, etc.: Hughes had a 5% stake in the company.  b) if you have a stake in something, you will get advantages... stalagmite /staˈlægmat/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a pointed object that hangs down from the roof of a cave, that is formed gradually by water that contains minerals dropping slowly from the roof → STALAGMITE stalagmite /staˈlægmat/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a pointed object coming up from the floor of a cave, that is formed gradually by water that contains minerals dropping from the roof of the cave → STALACTITE stale /steɪl/ adj. 1 no longer fresh (ADJ) fresh: stale bread 2 no longer interesting: a stale old joke stalemate /ˈsteɪlmæt/ n. [C, U] a situation in which neither side in an argument, battle, etc. can gain an advantage: talks aimed at breaking the stalemate stall /stalk/ v. 1 [T] to follow a person or animal quietly in order to catch, attack, or kill him, her, or it: We know the rapist stalks his victims at night.

2 [I] to walk in a proud or angry way: Sheryl turned and stalked out of the room.

stalker /ˈstæklər/ n. [C] someone who follows and watches someone else over a long period of time, in a way that is annoying or threatening → STALKING stall /stæl/ n. [C] 1 a table or a small store with an open front, especially outdoors, where goods are sold: a market stall 2 a small enclosed private area for washing or using the toilet: a shower/bathroom stall 3 an enclosed area in a building for an animal, especially a horse stall /stɔl/ v. [I, T] 1 if an engine stalls, or you stall it, it suddenly stops working: My car always stalls when it’s cold. 2 (informal) to deliberately delay doing something, or to make someone else do this: Quit stalling and answer my question! I’ll try to stall him for a few minutes.

stallion /ˈstæliən/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a fully grown male horse stalwart /ˈstælwɔːt/ n. [C] someone who strongly supports a particular organization or set of ideas [Origin: Old English stælwætra “useful, strong”] → stalwart adj.: a stalwart supporter stake /steɪk/ n. 1 a property that you or someone else has the right to have or owns: to take a stake in the country’s future. 2 informal a firm or strong belief: I feel they have as taken in the country’s future.

stake out /ˈsteɪkaʊt/ phr.v. → follow, track, tail → FOLLOW 1 to watch a place secretly and continuously: The police have been staking out the club for weeks. 2 informal to prevent something bad from continuing: efforts to stamp out drug abuse stam– /ˈstæm–/ C,U 1 a pollen-producing part of a flower, that produces POLLEN → ANther stam– /ˈstæm–/ U physical or mental strength that lets you continue doing something for a long time without getting tired [Origin: 1700—1800 Latin, plural of stamen “thread, thread of life”] stam– /ˈstæm–/ v. [I, T] to speak with a lot of pauses or to repeat the first letter of some words, either because you have a speech problem or because you are nervous → STUTTER — STAMMER stamping /ˈstæm–ɪŋ/ → FOOD STAMP stamping /ˈstæm–ɪŋ/ v. [I, T] to put a pattern, sign, or letters on something using a special tool: Please stamp the date on all incoming mail.

stamp out /ˈstæmp ˈaʊt/ phr.v. to prevent something bad from continuing: efforts to stamp out drug abuse stamped /ˈstæmpt/ adj. → FOOD STAMP stamped /ˈstæmpt/ v. [I, T] to lift up your foot and put it down hard, or to walk in this way: She stomped out of the room. The audience applauded and stamped their feet. 2 [I] to put a pattern, sign, or letters on something using a special tool: Please stamp the date on all incoming mail.

stampede /ˈstæmpid/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when a large number of animals suddenly start running together 2 a sudden rush by a lot of people who all want to do the same thing or go to the same place [Origin: 1800—1900 American Spanish estampida, from Spanish, “crush”] → STAMPEDE stance /ˈstæns/ n. [C usually singular] 1 an opinion that is stated publicly: the Senator’s tough stance on crime stanch /ˈstæntʃ/ v. [T] STAUNCH stanchion /ˈsteɪntʃən/ n. [C] 1 pole or post that holds a fence, gate, etc. closed stanchi– /ˈstæntʃi–/ adj. → FOOD STAMP stanchi– /ˈstæntʃi–/ v. [T] to put up a fence, gate, etc.: The officer stanchioned the horse.

stanchion post /ˈsteɪntʃən ˈpɔːst/ n. → FOOD STAMP

stanchion post /ˈsteɪntʃən ˈpɔːst/ n. → FOOD STAMP
stand /stænd/ v (past tense and past participle stood /stʌd/)
1. STAND [t] to be on your feet in an upright position: Anna was standing in front of me. | Hundreds of people stood watching. | Could you stand still (=stand without moving) and listen to me? | Don’t just stand there (=stand doing nothing) – help me! | A policeman told everyone to stand back/aside (=move and stand farther away from something).
2. START STANDING [t] also stand up to rise onto your feet after you have been sitting, bending, or lying down: She stood up and put her coat on.
3. BE IN A PLACE/POSITION [I] to be in a place or position, or to put something in a place or position: There’s now a parking lot where the theater once stood. | A lamp stood on the table. | Few houses were left standing after the tornado hit.
4. can’t stand (spoken) to dislike something or someone very much: Dave can’t stand dogs. | Allison can’t stand the sight of blood. | I can’t stand to be around cigarette smoke.
5. IN A STATE/CONDITION [linking verb] to be in a particular state or condition: The kitchen door stood open. | The house has stood empty for 20 years. | Where/How do negotiations stand right now? | The offer, as it stands (=the present offer), is not acceptable.
6. BE GOOD ENOUGH [T] to be good enough or strong enough to remain unharmed or unchanged by something: jeans that can stand the rough wear kids give them | Their marriage has certainly stood the test of time.
7. ACCEPT A SITUATION [T] to be able to accept or deal well with a difficult situation: He could hardly stand the pain.

THESAURUS
- tolerate, accept, put up with

8. HEIGHT [I] to have a particular height: The Eiffel Tower stands 300 meters high.
9. LEVEL/AMOUNT [I] to be at a particular level or amount: The unemployment rate stood at 8% in January.
10. DECISION/OFFER [I] not in progressive) if a decision, offer, etc. stands, it continues to exist or be correct: The court has ruled that the conviction should stand. | My offer of help still stands.
11. OPINION where sb stands if you know where someone stands, or how someone stands on a particular matter, you know what his/her opinion is: Where do you stand on the issue of gun control? | You just never know where you stand with Walter.
12. SUGGEST STH TO SB could stand (spoken) used in order to say that someone should do something or that something should be different: He could stand to lose a little weight.
13. stand a chance (of doing sth) to be likely to succeed in doing something: You don’t stand a chance of going out with her.
14. stand to do sth to be likely to do or have something: The company stands to make more than $12 million on the deal.
15. stand in the way/in sb’s way to prevent someone from doing something, or prevent something from happening or developing: I always encouraged Brian. I didn’t want to stand in his way. | You can’t stand in the way of progress!
16. stand on your own two feet (informal) to be independent and not need help from other people
17. it stands to reason (that) used in order to say that something is clearly true: It stands to reason that children will copy their parents.
18. stand trial to be brought to a court of law to have your case examined and judged
19. stand pat to refuse to change a decision or plan
20. stand on your head/hands to support yourself on your head or hands in an upright position, with your feet in the air [Origin: Old English standan]

stand around pbr. v to stand somewhere and not do anything: Everybody was just standing around talking.

stand back pbr. v to move backward away from something, or stand some distance away from something: Stand back from the edge of the platform.

stand by pbr. v
1. stand by sth to continue to believe that something you said, did, or believed is still correct or true: I stand by what I said earlier.
2. stand by sb to stand loyal to someone and support him/her in a difficult situation: Matt’s parents have stood by him through his drug problem.
3. to be ready to do something: Fire crews are now standing by.
4. to do nothing to help someone, or to not prevent something from happening: People just stood by and watched him being attacked.

stand for sth pbr. v
1. to be a short form of a word or phrase: VA stands for Veterans Administration.
2. to support an idea, principle, etc.: Martin Luther King stood for fairness and racial equality.
3. not stand for sth if someone will not stand for something, she will not allow it to happen: Ms. Smith won’t stand for any nonsense.

stand in for sb pbr. v to do someone else’s job while he or she is away: Karen stood in for me when I was sick.

stand out as phr.
1. to be clearly better than other things or people: Morrison stands out as the most experienced candidate.
2. to be very easy to see or notice: In her red dress, she really stood out in the crowd.

stand up pbr. v
1. to be on your feet, or to rise to your feet: We stood up when the judge came in. | Stand up straight and don’t slouch!
2. to be proven to be true, useful, or strong when tested: The accusations will never stand up in court.
3. stand sb up to not meet someone when you have promised to meet him/her: My date stood me up last night.
stand up for sb/sth phr. v.
to support or defend someone or something when sb or it is being attacked or criticized: Don’t be afraid to stand up for what you believe in.

stand up to sb phr. v.
to be brave and refuse to do or say what someone is trying to make you do or say. He became a kind of hero for standing up to local gangs.

stand1 n. [C] 1 a piece of furniture or equipment for supporting something: a music stand 2 a table or small structure, usually outside or in a large building, used for selling or showing things to people: a hotdog stand 3 [usually singular] an opinion that you state publicly: Bradley was unwilling to take a stand (=say what his opinion was) on the issue. 4 the stand law the place in a court of law where someone sits when the lawyers ask him/her questions: Shaw had lied on the stand (when he was answering questions). 5 will take the stand (=begin answering questions) Friday. 5 an effort to defend yourself or to oppose something: We have to make/take a stand against racism. 6 stands [plural] the place where people sit to watch a sports game stand2 adj. normal or usual: The shoes are standard. 3 standards [plural] moral principles about what kind of behavior or attitudes are acceptable: She has very high moral standards. [Orig: 1100—1200 Old French "battle-flag"] standard1 n. [C,U] a level of quality, skill, or ability that is considered to be acceptable: teachers who have high/low standards | Tricia’s parents set very high standards. | Students have to meet/reach a certain standard or they won’t pass. | national academic/health/environmental standards 2 by ... standards compared to the normal or expected level of something else: By American standards, Rafael’s salary is pretty low. 3 standards [plural] moral principles about what kind of behavior or attitudes are acceptable: She has very high moral standards. [Orig: 1100—1200 Old French "battle-flag"]

standard2 adj. normal or usual: The shoes are available in all standard sizes. | Security checks are now standard practice/procedure.

standard deviation n. [C] MATH in statistics, a calculation which shows how much each value in a set is different from the mean of the values in the set standardize /ˈstændəˌdaɪzaɪd/ v. [T] to make all the things of one particular type the same as each other: national standardized tests —standardization /ˌstændəˌdaɪzaɪˈneɪʃən/ n. [U] standard of living n. (plural standards of living) [C] ECONOMICS the amount of wealth and comfort that a person, group, or country has: a nation with a high/low standard of living stand-by /ˈstændəˌbeɪ/ n. (plural standbys) [C] 1 someone or something that is ready to be used when needed: a stand-by power generator 2 on standby a) ready to be used when needed: The police have been kept on standby in case of trouble. b) if you are on standby for an airplane ticket, you will be allowed to travel if there are any seats that are not being used stand-in n. [C] someone who does the job or takes the place of someone else for a short time standing1 adj. [only before noun] 1 permanently agreed or arranged: We have a standing invitation to use their beach cabin. 2 done from a standing position: a standing ovation (when people stand to CLAP after a performance) standing2 n. [U] someone’s rank or position in a system, organization, etc., based on what other people think of him/her: The scandal damaged the governor’s standing in the polls.

stand-off /ˈstændəˌɒf/ n. [C] a situation in which neither side in a fight or battle can gain an advantage stand-offish /ˈstændəˌɒfɪʃ/ adj. (informal, disapproving) unfriendly and formal stand-out /ˈstændəˌaut/ n. [C] someone who is better at doing something than other people in a group —stand out adj.

stand-point /ˈstændəˌpaʊnt/ n. [C] one way of thinking about a situation [SYN point of view]: Let’s look at this from a practical standpoint.

stand-still /ˈstændəˌstɪl/ n. [singular] a situation in which there is no movement or activity at all: The funeral brought the city to a standstill. | The traffic came to a standstill.

stand-up /ˈstændəˌʌp/ adj. [only before noun] (informal) standup COMEDY involves one person telling jokes as a performance —stand up n. [U] stank /stæŋk/ a past tense of stink stan-z-a /ˈstænざ/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a group of lines that forms part of a poem staple1 /ˈstæpl/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of thin wire that is used in order to hold pieces of paper together 2 a food that is needed and used all the time: staples like flour and rice [Orig: (2) 1300—1400 Middle Dutch stapel “place of trade”] staple2 v. [T] to fasten things together with a staple star1 /ˈstɑr/ n. [C] 1 PHYSICS a very large amount of burning gases in space, that looks like a point of light in the sky at night: I lay on my back and looked up at the stars. | The stars were out (=shining). | The galaxy of stars to which our sun belongs is one of millions of galaxy scattered throughout the universe. —SPACE 2 a famous performer in entertainment or sports: a movie star | By the age of twenty, she was already a big star. 3 a) a shape with five or six points, that is supposed to look like a star in the sky: The U.S. flag's fifty stars represent fifty states. → see picture at SHAPE. b) a mark in the shape of a star, that is used in order to show something is important: I put stars next to the items we still need to buy. 4 (informal) someone who is particularly good at something: Jim is definitely our star player. 5 the star of the show the person who gives the best performance in a play, movie, etc. 6 a mark used in a system for showing how good a hotel or restaurant is: a three-star/four-star/five-star restaurant [Origin: Old English steorra] star·ry 1 a) starry sky: the light of the stars: for a long time: so many stars: the flag's fifty stars represent fifty states. 2 starry-eyed (informal) having a dreamy look: having a starry-eyed teenager star·dom 1 the star power the power that a famous performer has of attracting attention: Star power is measured by the box office draw of a film or TV show. 2 the situation of being a famous performer: She has become a star in the world of fashion.

stare /stɑːr/ v. (stared, staring) [I,T] if a movie, play, etc. stars someone, or if someone stars in a movie, play, etc., that person has one of the main parts in it: a movie starring Bruce Willis | He has also starred in comedies. | Nicole Kidman stars as Emma.

star-board /ˈstɑːrbɔːrd/ n. [U] the right side of a ship or aircraft when you are looking toward the front → PORT starch /ˈstɑr(t)/ n. 1 [C,U] biology a substance in such foods as bread, rice, and potatoes 2 [U] a substance used for making cloth stiff starchy /ˈstɑrki/ adj. starchy foods contain a lot of starch star·dom /ˈstɑːrdɒm/ n. [U] the situation of being a famous performer stare /ˈstɑːr/ v. [I] to look at someone or something for a long time: Sue stared at him in disbelief. | He sat staring into space (looking at nothing for a long time). [Origin: Old English starian] —stare n. [C]: She gave him a hard stare.

star-fish /ˈstɑːrfɪʃ/ (plural starfish) n. [C] a flat sea animal that is shaped like a star stark /stɑːrk/ adj. 1 very simple and severe in appearance: the stark beauty of the desert 2 unpleasantly clear and impossible to avoid: the stark realities of drug addiction —starkly adv.

stark-eyed (informal) not wearing any clothes star·let /ˈstɑːrlɛt/ n. [C] a young actress who plays small parts in movies and is hoping to become famous star·light /ˈstɑːrlaɪt/ n. [U] the light that comes from the stars star·ling /ˈstɑːrlɪŋ/ n. [C] a greenish-black bird that is very common in Europe and North America star·lit /ˈstɑːrlɪt/ adj. (literary) made brighter by the light of the stars: a starlit night star·ry /ˈstɑːrri/ adj. having many stars: a starry sky star·ry·eyed /ˈstɑːrriˌɛd/ (informal) hopeful about things in a way that is silly or unreasonable: a starry-eyed teenager

Stars and 'Stripes n. the Stars and Stripes the flag of the U.S.

Star-Span·gled Ban·ner /ˈstɑːr spæŋgəld/ 'berns/ n. the Star-Spangled Banner the national anthem (=song) of the U.S.

star·studded adj. including many famous performers: a star-studded cast start /stɑːt/ v. 1 begin doing sth [I,T] to begin doing something: Have you started making dinner? | It's starting to rain. | Mark's starting school/college in the fall. | It's late, so we should get started.

2 begin happening [I,T] to begin happening, or to make something do this: The race starts in ten minutes. | The fire was started by a loose wire.

3 business/organization etc. [I,T] also start up to begin a new business or business activity: Brad left his father's company to start a business of his own.

4 trip [I] also start off/out to begin a trip: You'll have to start early if you want to get there by noon.

5 car/engine/machine [I,T] also start up if you start a car or engine, or if it starts, it begins to work: Can't you get that engine started?

6 to start with (spoken) a] used in order to emphasize the first of a list of things you want to mention: There's a lot wrong with those kids — to start with, they're rude. b) at the beginning of a situation: I was nervous to start with, but then I was fine.

7 prices start at/from sth if prices start at or from a particular figure, that is the lowest figure at which you can buy something: Tickets start from $12.

8 road/river [I] if a road, river, etc. starts somewhere, it begins in that place: The Red River starts in New Mexico.

9 move suddenly [I] to move suddenly because you are surprised or afraid [Origin: Old English styrant "to jump"] start off phr. v. to begin an activity: Let's start off by reviewing what we did last week.

start on sth phr. v. to begin working on something: You'd better get started on your homework.

start out phr. v. 1 to begin happening or existing in a particular way, start 994

especially when this changes later: The book started out as a short article.
2 to begin your life, profession, or an important period of time: Laura started out as a teacher, and later got into writing.

start over phr. v.
to start doing something again from the beginning: If you make a mistake, just erase it and start over.

start² n. 1 [C usually singular] the beginning of an activity, event, or situation: Hurry, or we'll miss the start of the show. | They've had problems (right) from the start. | The day got off to a good/bad start. 2 It's a start (informal) used in order to say that something you have achieved may not be impressive, but it will help with a bigger achievement: We only have $2 million of the $60 million needed, but it's a start. 3 for a start (informal) said in order to emphasize the first of a list of facts or opinions: I don't think she'll get the job. She's too young, for a start. 4 [singular] a sudden movement caused by fear or surprise: Ed woke up with a start.

star·ter /ˈstɑːtər/ n. [C] 1 a person, horse, etc. that is in a race when it starts: Of the eight starters, only three finished the race. 2 for starters (informal) used in order to emphasize the first thing in a list: You've spelled the name wrong, for starters.

starting lineup n. [C usually singular] the best players on a sports team, who play when the game begins start·ing /ˈstɑːtɪŋ/ adj. [starting news]

‘starting’ adj. 1 [only before noun] economics start-up costs are related to starting and developing a new business start·up /ˈstɑːtʌp/ adj. 1 [Economics] a new small company: an Internet start-up star·va·tion /ˈstɑːrvəʃən/ n. [U] suffering or death caused by not having enough to eat: people dying of starvation starve /ˈstɑːrv/ v. 1 [T] to suffer or die because you do not have enough to eat, or to make someone do this: Thousands of people could starve to death. 2 starving/starved (spoken) to be very hungry: When do we eat? I'm starving! 3 be starved for/of sth to not be given something very important: That poor kid's just starved for attention.

stash /ʃtæʃ/ v. [T] informal to keep something in a safe, often secret, place: He has money stashed away in a Swiss bank.

stash² n. [C] (informal) an amount of something, especially drugs or money, that is kept in a secret place: a stash of drugs state¹ /ˈsteɪt/ n. 1 [C] the condition that someone or something is in: We are concerned about the state of the economy. | Exercise can improve your state of mind (the way you think and feel). | They found him in a state of shock. | The house was in a sorry state (=in a bad condition). 2 [C] also state politics one of the areas with limited law-making powers that some countries, such as the U.S., are divided into: the state of Oklahoma. 3 [C,U] also state politics a country or its government: a meeting between heads of state | state-owned industries

state² v. [T] (formal) 1 to give a piece of information or your opinion, especially by saying it clearly: Please state your name. | The witness stated that he had never seen the woman before.

state·ly /ˈsteɪli/ adj. impressive in style or size: a stately mansion state·ment /ˈsteɪmənt/ n. [C] a formal or political or government leader, especially one who is known as being wise and fair. —state·manship /ˈsteɪtmənʃip/ n. [U] state·ments /ˈsteɪtməntz/ n. (plural statesmen /ˈsteɪtmən/) [C] politics a political or government leader, especially one who is known as being wise and fair. —state·smanship /ˈsteɪtmənʃip/ n. [U]

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈsteɪliˈnes/ n. [U] national importance

state·ly·ness /ˈste developing: The population of the state has remained static for many years.

static /ˈstætɪk/ (U) 1 PHYSICS noise caused by electricity in the air that spoils the sound on a radio or TV 2 PHYSICS static electricity static electricity n. [U] PHYSICS electricity that is not flowing in a current, but collects on the surface of an object and gives you a small electric shock

station n. 1 a place where public vehicles stop so that passengers can get on and off, goods can be loaded, etc.: a bus/train station 2 a building or place that is a center for a particular type of service or activity: a police station | a gas station 3 a company that broadcasts on radio or television, or its programs that you receive: a radio/TV station 4 [U] your social or professional rank or position, considered in relation to other people: high-status/low-status jobs | Doctors have traditionally enjoyed high social status. 3 the status of sth what is happening at a particular time: No one would comment on the status of her application. (Origin: 1700—1800 Latin, from the past participle of stare “to stand”)

statue n. (C) the legal and social position of a person, group, country, etc.: Please state your name, age and marital status (=whether you are married or not). | the social status of women 2 [U] your social or professional rank or position, considered in relation to other people: high-status/low-status jobs | Doctors have traditionally enjoyed high social status. 3 the status of sth what is happening at a particular time: No one would comment on the status of her application. (Origin: 1700—1800 Latin, from the past participle of stare “to stand”)

statutory /ˈstætərəri/ adj. not moving: a stationary vehicle stationary /ˈstæʃəneri/ adj. not moving: a stationary vehicle stationary /ˈstæʃəneri/ n. [U] special paper for writing letters on, usually with matching envelopes stationary /ˈstæʃəneri/ n. [C] a car with a door at the back, and a lot of space for boxes, cases, etc.

statistics a) [plural] a collection of numbers which represents facts or measurements: Statistics show that the crime rate is falling. | the poverty statistics for New York City b) [U] SCIENCE the science of using numbers to represent facts or measurements: Statistics is a branch of mathematics. 2 [singular] a single number that represents a fact or measurement: Is he aware of the statistic that two out of three marriages fail? —statistical adj.: statistical analyst — statistically adv.

statistician /ˈstætɪstɪʃən/ n. [C] someone who works with statistics

statue /ˈstætju/ n. [C] an object that looks like a person or animal, and is made of stone, metal, etc.: a statue of Abraham Lincoln | the Statue of Liberty stay away phr. v. to not go near someone or something: Stay away from my sister!

stay behind phr. v. to stay in a place after the other people have left stay in phr. v. to stay in your home and not go out: Let’s stay in and watch TV.

stay on phr. v. to continue to do a job or to study after the usual or expected time for leaving: Karen is staying on for a fifth year in college.

stay out phr. v. to remain away from home during the evening or night: She stayed out until midnight.

stay up phr. v. to not go to bed: We stayed up late last night.

1 stay2 n. [C] a short period of time that you spend somewhere: We hope you enjoy your stay.

STD n. [C, U] sexually transmitted disease a disease such as AIDS that is passed from one person to another during sex steal /stedl n. 1 stand sb in good steal to be very useful for someone in the future: a skill that has stood me in good steal as an actor 2 (formal) do sth in sb’s steal to do something instead of someone else steak /stedk n. [C] a thick flat piece of meat or fish steal /stedl v. (stealed, steals) [T] to take something that belongs to someone else without his/her permission: Two local men were arrested for stealing a car. When did you find out your partner was stealing from you?

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to take something that belongs to someone else: Someone had ripped off $3000 worth of stereo equipment.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to move quietly without anyone noticing you [Ori: Old English stelan] steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from someone else: Someone robbed the bank last night.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from someone else: Someone had ripped off $3000 worth of stereo equipment.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not valuable: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from someone else: Someone had ripped off $3000 worth of stereo equipment.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not worth much: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not valuable: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not worth much: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not valuable: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not worth much: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not valuable: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not worth much: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal something from a store by leaving without paying for it: The store loses a lot of money because people shoplift.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal things that are not valuable: He was caught pilfering office supplies.

steal v. (stealed, steals) [T] to steal money or other things from a bank, store, or person: He had been mugged at gunpoint.
shaped easily, consisting of iron and carbon. 2 nerves of steel the ability to be brave and calm in a dangerous or difficult situation [Origin: Old English style, stele].

steel v. steel yourself to prepare yourself to do something unpleasant steel wool n. [U] A rough material made of steel wires, used in order to make surfaces smooth, remove paint, etc.

steely /stil/ adj. extremely strong and determined; a steely expression steep /stɪp/ adj. 1 a road, hill, etc. that is steep goes down or up at a sharp angle 2 a steep increase or rise in something is large and happens quickly 3 (informal) very expensive [Origin: Old English steep “high, steep, deep”] —steeply adv. —steepness n. [U] steep v. [L.T.] 1 be steeped in history/tradition etc. to contain a lot of a particular quality: Yale is an old university steeped in tradition. 2 to put something such as food in a liquid and leave it there for some time: Leave the tea bag steep for two minutes.

steeples /stɛppl/ n. [C] A tall pointed tower on a church steer /stɪər/ v. 1 [L.T] to control the direction that a vehicle goes in: Maria steered while I gave directions. 2 [T] to influence someone’s behavior or the way a situation develops: Helen tried to steer the conversation away from school. 3 [T] to guide someone to a place: Bobby took my arm and steered me into the next room. 4 steer clear of (sb/sth) (informal) to try to avoid someone or something steering /ˈstɪərɪŋ/ n. [U] The parts of a vehicle that allow you to control the direction it goes in: power steering steering wheel n. [C] A wheel that you turn to control the direction a vehicle goes in stellar /ˈstɛlər/ adj. 1 done extremely well: a stellar performance 2 physics relating to the stars stem /stem/ n. [C] Biology a long thin part of a plant, from which leaves or flowers grow see picture of plant.

stem v. (stemmed, stemming) [T] Stem the tide/flow of sth to stop something from spreading or growing; an effort to stem the rising tide of crime stem from sth v. to develop as a result of something else: A lot of her emotional problems stem from her childhood.

stench /stɛŋk/ n. [C] A strong unpleasant smell (syn: stink, odor: the stench of rotting food stencil /ˈstɛnkl/ n. [C] A piece of paper or plastic with patterns or letters cut out of it, which you use for painting patterns or letters onto a surface —stencil v. [T]

step /step/ n. [C]

1 movement the movement you make when you put one foot in front of the other when walking: He took a few steps and then stopped. 1 Jamie took a step forward/back.

2 action one of a series of things that you do in order to deal with a problem or achieve something: We must take steps (=take action) to make sure it never happens again. 1 an important first step toward peace 2 Environmentalists called the change a step in the right direction (=a good thing to do).

3 stair a flat narrow surface, especially one in a series, that you put your foot on when you are going up or down, especially outside a building

4 stage in a process a stage in a process or a position on a scale: The next step will be to interview the selected candidates.

5 dancing a movement of your feet in dancing

6 in step/out of step a) having ideas that are the same as, or different from, other people’s: The president needs to keep in step with public opinion. b) moving your feet in the same way as, or a different way from, people you are walking or marching with

7 sound the sound you make when you take a step

8 music, English, arts the difference in pitch between two musical notes that are separated by one key on a piano (syn: tone [Origin: Old English stæpe]

step v. (stepped, stepping) [I] 1 to move somewhere by putting one foot down in front of the other: Step aside/back and let the doctor through. 2 to bring your foot down on something: Sorry – I didn’t mean to step on your foot.

3 step on it step on the gas (spoken) to drive faster: If you don’t step on it we’ll miss the plane. 4 step on sb’s toes to offend or upset someone, especially by trying to do his/her work.

5 step out of line to behave badly by breaking a rule or disobeying an order step down/aside phr. v. to leave your job or official position because you want to or think you should: He’s decided to step down at the end of the year.

step forward phr. v. to come and offer help: Several volunteers have kindly stepped forward.

step in phr. v. to become involved in a situation, especially to stop trouble: The police stepped in and stopped the fight.

step out phr. v. to go out for a short time: Molly just stepped out – may I take a message?

step one step up phr. v. to increase the amount of an activity or the speed of a process: The airlines are stepping up security checks.

step-brother  /step,broθər/  n.  [C] the son of someone who has married one of your parents.

step-child  /step,tʃild/  n. (plural stepchildren)  [C] a stepdaughter or stepson.

step-daughter  /step,daʊθə/  n.  [C] a daughter that your husband or wife has from a relationship before your marriage.

step-father  /step,fɑθə/  n.  [C] a man who is married to your mother but who is not your father.

step-ladder  /step,lædər/  n.  [C] a LADDER with two sloping parts that are attached at the top so that it can stand without support.

step-mother  /step,mɑθər/  n.  [C] a woman who is married to your father but who is not your mother.

steppes  /step/, the steppes  [U] a large area of land without trees, especially in Russia, parts of Asia, and southeast Europe.

stepped-up  adj. [only before noun] done more quickly or with more effort than before ➔ step up the stepped-up security at the airport.

stepping-stone  /steɪp,steɪn/  n.  1 something that helps you to improve or become more successful: a stepping-stone to a better job.  2 one of a row of stones that you walk on to get across a stream.

step-sister  /step,sɪstə/  n.  [C] the daughter of someone who has married one of your parents.

step-son  /step,sɔn/  n.  [C] a son that your husband or wife has from a relationship before your marriage.

stereo  /ˈstɛriəʊ, ˈstɛriəʊ/  n.  (plural stereos)  [C] 1 a machine for playing records, CDs, etc. that produces sound from two SPEAKERS ➔ see picture on page 16.  2 in stereo if music or a broadcast is in stereo, the sound it makes is directed through two SPEAKERS.

stereo-type  /ˈstɛriəʊ,tɪp, ˈstɛriəʊ/  n.  (disproving) an idea of what a particular type of person is like, especially one which is wrong or unfair: racial stereotypes | stereotypes about women —stereotypical  /ˈstɛriəʊ,tɪp,kæl/  adj.

stereotype  v.  [T] (disproving) to decide, usually unfairly, that some people have particular qualities or abilities because they belong to a particular race, sex, etc.: Too many children’s books stereotype girls as helpless and weak.

sterile  /ˈstɛrɪl/  adj.  1 BIOLOGY unable to have children, INFERTILE fertile.  2 BIOLOGY completely clean and not containing any BACTERIA: a sterile bandage.  3 lacking new ideas or imagination —sterility  /ˈstɛrɪləti/  n.  [U] sterilize  /ˈstɛrɪlɪz/  v.  [T] 1 BIOLOGY to make something completely clean and kill any BACTERIA in it: All the surgical instruments are sterilized before use.  2 BIOLOGY to perform an operation that makes a person or animal unable to have babies —sterilization  /ˌstɛrɪləˈzeɪʃən/  n.  [C,U] sterling  /ˈstɛrlɪŋ/  adj.  sterlling qualities/character/record etc., excellent qualities, characters, etc.

sterling ‘silver  also sterling  n.  [U] a metal that is over 92% pure silver.

sternum  /ˈstɜrnəm/  n.  (plural sternums or sterna)  [C,U] BIOLOGY a BREASTBONE.

stevel唷  /ˈstɛvəl/  v.  [T] to make something to perform an operation that leaves someone healthy and able to perform —sterilization, from Greek stetho- “chest” + French -scope.

stew  /ʃu/  v.  1 to cook something slowly in liquid: stewed tomatoes.

steward  /ˈstjuərd/  n.  1 (old-fashioned) a man who is a FLIGHT ATTENDANT.  2 also shop steward a worker who represents the members of a union —stewardship  /ˈstjuədrɪʃəp/ n.

stewardess  /ˈstjuərdəs/  n.  (old-fashioned) a woman who is a FLIGHT ATTENDANT.

sticke  /stɪk/  v.  (past tense and past participle stuck)  1 [T] to attach something to something else using a sticky substance, or to become attached to a surface: Did you remember to stick a stamp on the envelope?  2 [I] to push a pointed object into something, or to be pushing into something in this way: The nurse stuck an eekle in my arm.  3 [T] to put something somewhere: Just stick your coat on that chair.

stick  /stɪk/  v.  4 [I] if something sticks or is stuck, it is fixed and difficult to move: Hey, this door is stuck.  5 stick in sb’s mind if something sticks in your mind, you remember it well because it was surprising, interesting, etc.  6 stick your neck out (informal) to take the risk of saying or doing something that may be wrong, or that other people may disagree with [Origin: Old English sticien]

stick around phr. v. (informal) to stay in a place or wait somewhere for someone stick by sb phr. v. to help and support someone who is in a difficult situation: My wife has always stuck by me.

stick out phr. v. 1 if part of something sticks out, it comes out further than the rest of a surface or comes out through a hole: Paul’s legs were sticking out from under the car. 2 stick sth ↔ out to deliberately move part of your body forward or push it out: Don’t stick your tongue out at me! 3 stick out (like a sore thumb) (informal) to be easily noticed because of looking very different from everyone or everything else: 4 stick it out (informal) to continue doing something that is difficult, boring, etc.

stick to sb/sth phr. v. 1 to decide what to do, say, or believe, and not change this: That’s my story and I’m sticking to it. 2 stick to your guns to continue to say or do something, although people disagree with you stick together phr. v. (informal) if people stick together, they continue to support each other stick up phr. v. if a part of something sticks up, it is raised up or points upward above a surface stick for sb phr. v. (informal) to defend someone who is being criticized: You’ll have to learn to stick up for yourself.

stick with phr. v. (informal) 1 stick with sb to stay close to someone when there is a risk you could be separated 2 stick with sb/sth to continue supporting someone or doing something: Let’s just stick with the original plan. 3 stick sb with sth to give someone a difficult or unpleasant responsibility: I’ll go as long as I don’t get stuck paying the bill again! 4 stick with it (informal) to continue doing something that is difficult, boring, etc. 5 stick with sb to remain in your memory: One thing he said has stuck with me ever since.

stick 1 n. [C] 1 a long thin piece of wood that has fallen or been cut from a tree 2 a long thin piece of something: a stick of chewing gum 3 a long thin piece of wood or metal that you use for a particular purpose: a walking stick 4 the sticks [plural] (informal) an area that is very far away from a town or city: a kid from the sticks to get the short end of the stick at short stick-er /ˈstɪkr/ n. [C] a small piece of paper or plastic with a picture or writing on it, that you can stick onto something stick-in-the-mud n. [C] someone who is not willing to try anything new, or does not want to go out and have fun stick-ler /ˈstɪklər/ n. be a stickler for rules/punctuality etc. to think that rules, etc. are extremely important, and expect people to follow them stick shift n. [C] a piece of equipment in a car that you move with your hand to control its gears ➔ AUTOMATIC stick-up n. [C] (informal) a situation in which someone steals money from people in a bank, store, etc. by threatening them with a gun

stick-y /ˈstɪklɪ/ adj. 1 made of or covered with a substance that sticks to surfaces: sticky candy | Your hands are sticky. 2 (informal) a sticky situation, question, or problem is difficult to deal with 3 weather that is sticky is very hot and the air feels wet ➔ humid —stickiness n. [U]

stiff /stɪf/ adj. 1 if a part of your body is stiff, your muscles hurt and it is difficult to move: I’ve got a stiff neck. | My back was stiff and sore.

stick v. [T] ( slang) to suddenly stop moving, especially because you are frightened or worried stick n. [C] 1 (slang) the body of a dead person 2 working stiff (informal) an ordinary person who works to earn enough money to live

stiff-en /ˈstɪfn/ v. [I] to suddenly stop moving, especially because you are frightened or worried stick adv. bored/scared/worried stiff (informal) extremely bored, etc.

stick n. [C] 1 (slang) a person who works to earn enough money to live stick adj. very formal: The evening was stiff and formal. 6 a stiff drink a very strong alcoholic drink 7 a stiff wind/breeze a fairly strong wind [Origin: Old English stif] —stiffly adv. —stiffness n. [U] stiff-ly adv. bored/scared/worried stiff (informal) extremely bored, etc.

stick n. [C] 1 (slang) the body of a dead person stick v. [T] (slang) to not pay someone money that you owe him/her or that s/he expects to be given

stiff-en /ˈstɪfn/ v. [I] to suddenly stop moving, especially because you are frightened or worried

stick n. [C] 1 (slang) the body of a dead person

stick v. [T] to stop something from happening, developing, or being expressed: laws that stiff competition —stiffen adj. stiffening heat

stig-ma /ˈstɪgmə/ n. 1 [singular, U] a strong feeling in society that a type of behavior or a particular illness or condition is something to be ashamed of: the stigma attached to mental illness 2 [C] biology the top stiffy part of the female structure of a flower, which receives the pollen that allows it to form new seeds ➔ see picture at flower! [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin “mark, mark burned on the skin,” from Greek, from stizein “to tattoo”] stig-ma-tize /ˈstɪgməˌtaɪz/ v. [T] to make someone feel they should be ashamed of their situation: Single mothers often feel that they are stigmatized by society. —stigmatization /ˌstɪgməˈtaɪzaʃən/ n. [U] still /stɪl/ adv. 1 up to a particular point in time and continuing at that moment: Andy’s still asleep.

still

USAGE

Still is used to say that a situation that began in the past has not changed and is continuing: He still lives with his parents.

Always means "all the time" or "every time": Her house is always clean. I always see him on Tuesdays.

Yet is used in negative sentences and questions to talk about something that you expect to happen, but which has not happened: I haven't finished the book yet. Is Mark back from lunch yet?

GRAMMAR

Use still before a verb unless the verb is "be": She still wants to go. You're still young.

If there are two or more verbs together, still comes after the first one: I can still see him sitting there at his desk.

The Saurus

still

adj.

1. not moving: the still waters of the lake.
2. quiet and calm: keep/stand/stay/keep/still.
3. 3 not windy: a hot still day.
4. 3 not moving: the still waters of the lake.

still-born /ˌstɪlˈbɔrn/ adj. biology born dead.

still life n. (plural still lifes) [C.U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a picture of an arrangement of objects, especially flowers and fruit.

still-ed /ˈstɪld/ adj. stilting writing or speaking is formal and unnatural.

stillts /ˈstɪltz/ n. (plural stillts) a pair of poles you can stand on, used for walking high above the ground.

stim-u-lant /ˈstɪmyələnt/ n. [C] biology a drug or substance that makes you feel more awake and active: Caffeine is a stimulant.

stim-u-late /ˈstɪmyəleɪt/ v. [T] 1. to encourage more of an activity, or to help a process develop faster: The proposed tax cuts should help to stimulate the economy.
2. to make someone going about and interested in something: We hope the project will stimulate students' interest in science.
3. stimulating adj. a stimulating conversation.

stim-u-lus /ˈstɪmyəlus/ n. (plural stimuli /-lai/) [C.U] something that causes a development or reaction: The budget package will give a stimulus to the economy.

stim /ˈstɪm/ v. (past tense and past participle stung /ˈstʌŋ/) [I.T] 1. if an insect or plant stings you, it causes a sharp pain and that part of your body swells: Jamie was stung by a bee. 2. to feel a sudden sharp pain in your eyes, throat, or skin, or to make someone feel this: The antiseptic might sting a little.

stim-er /ˈstɪmər/ n. [C] biology the point on a creature’s body that contains poison, for example on a bee.

stim-ray /ˈstɪmreɪ/ n. [C] a large flat fish that has a long tail like a whip with stingers on it.

stingy /ˈstɪŋdʒi/ adj. not willing to spend money or share something even though you have enough: She’s stingy.

stink /stɪŋk/ v. (past tense stank /ˈstæŋk/ or stunk /ˈstʌŋk/, past participle stunk) [I] 1. to have a very strong bad smell: The dog’s breath stinks! The room stank of cigar smoke.
2. 2sth stinks (spoken) said when you think something is bad or unfair: I think the whole thing stinks.
3. stinky adj.

stink /stɪŋk/ n. [singular] 1. make/cause/raise a stink to complain very strongly about something.
2. a very strong bad smell.

stink-er /ˈstɪŋkər/ n. [C] informal someone who behaves badly.

stink-ing /ˈstɪŋkɪŋ/ adj. having a very strong bad smell: a dump full of stinking garbage.

stint /ˈstɪnt/ n. [C] a period of time that you spend doing something: a five-year stint in the army.

stint /ˈstɪnt/ v. [I] skimp.

stip-end /ˈstɪpænd, -pənd/ n. [C] an amount of money paid regularly to someone such as a priest or student as a salary: a monthly stipend.

stip-u-late /ˌstɪpjuˈleɪt/ v. [T] (formal) if an agreement, law, or rule stipulates something, it must be done: The contract stipulates that we receive 25% of the profits.
stir /stɜːr/ v. (stirred, stirring) 1 [T] to mix a liquid or food by moving a spoon around in it: Could you stir the sauce for me? | Stir the flour into the mixture. ➔ see picture on page 155

2 [T] to move slightly, or to make someone or something do this: Rachel stirred in her sleep. 3 [T] to make someone feel a strong emotion: The killings stirred citizens in her sleep.
stir up sb phr. v to deliberately cause problems or arguments: John was always stirring up trouble. [Origin: Old English *strīpur, *strīpor] stir-fry /stɪrˌfri/ n. [C] usually singular to quickly cook meat, vegetables, etc. in a little oil over very high heat ➔ stir-fried stirrup /ˈstɪrrəp, ˈstrɪrəp/ n. [C] one of the two metal parts on a horse’s saddle that you put your foot in stitch /stɪtʃ/ n. [C] 1 one of the small lines of thread where a piece of cloth has been sewn: tiny stitches in the sleeves 2 a piece of special thread that a doctor uses to sew together a cut or wound: Nancy had 14 stitches in her leg. 3 one of the small circles that you knit when you are making a sweater: 4 in stitches (informal) laughing so much that you cannot stop: Her jokes had us all in stitches. 5 not a stitch (of clothing) (informal) no clothes at all: He stood there without a stitch on.

stitch up phr. v to sew two pieces of cloth together, or to sew something onto a piece of cloth ➔ stitching n [U]

stock /stɒk/ n. 1 [C] a supply of something that is kept to be sold or used later: stocks of canned food in the cupboard | Their new album is now in stock/out of stock (=available or unavailable to be sold). 2 [C] ECONOMICS a share or shares in a company | A liquid made from boiling meat, or vegetables, used especially for making soups: chicken stock 4 take stock (of sth) to think carefully about everything that has happened so that you can decide what to do next: We need to take stock of the situation.

2 v. [T] to have a supply of something available to be sold or used: Do you stock camping equipment?

stock up phr. v to buy a lot of something that you intend to use later: I need to stock up on groceries.

stock-broker /ˈstɑk,broukər/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a person or company whose job is to buy and sell stocks, bonds, etc. for other people ➔ stockbroker n [U] stock-er, -ificate n. [C] ECONOMICS an official document that proves you own stock in a company stock-ex-change n. [C] ECONOMICS the place where stocks, bonds, etc. are bought and sold ➔ stock exchange stock-hold-er /ˈstɑk,hoʊldər/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who owns stock stock-ing /ˈstɑkɪŋ/ n. 1 a very thin close-fitting piece of clothing that covers a woman’s foot and most of her leg: silk stockings 2 a large sock that is hung by the fireplace before Christmas to be filled with presents stock-market n. [C] 1 ECONOMICS the place where stocks, bonds, etc. are bought and sold ➔ stock market 2 the stock market ECONOMICS the business of buying and selling stocks, bonds etc. or their average value: She made a fortune on the stock market. | The stock market keeps going up.

stock-pile /ˈstɑkpaɪl/ n. [C] a large supply of something that you collect in order to use it in the future: a stockpile of weapons ➔ stockpiling stock-s’-still adv. not moving at all stock-y /ˈstɑkəl/ adj. a stocky person is short and heavy and looks strong: a stocky policeman stock-yard /ˈstɑkwaɪrd/ n. [C] a place where cattle are kept before being sold or killed for their meat stock-y /ˈstɑkɪ/ adj. boring, formal, and old-fashioned ➔ stoic sto-i-cal /ˈstoʊɪkl/ adj. not showing your emotions or not complaining when something bad happens to you [Origin: 1500—1600 Stoic “follower of the ancient Greek thinker Zenos, who said that happiness results from accepting what happens in life”] ➔ stoicism stoke /stɔk/ v. [T] 1 to add more wood or fuel to a fire 2 to cause something to increase: High economic growth could stoke inflation.

stoked /ˈstɒkt/ adj. (informal) very happy and excited about something stolen /ˈstɑlən/ n. the part of a plant and produces roots where it touches the ground. New plants grow from those roots. 2 BIOLOGY part of the body wall of some very simple animals that grow together in one place, on which new members of the colony grow sto-ma /ˈstoʊmə/ n. (plural stomas or stomata /ˈstoʊməs/ or -mətə) [C] BIOLOGY one of the many very small stomach

holes on the surface of a leaf, that controls the amount of water and gases that enter and leave the plant stomach /ˈstəmək/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY the organ in your body that digests the food you eat; Sam’s stomach growled (made a noise). Don’t drink on an empty stomach. → see picture at ORGAN. 2 the front part of your body, below your chest. She punched her sister in the stomach. 3 the ability and willingness to do something unpleasant: I didn’t have the stomach to watch him fight. [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French estomach, from Latin stomachus “throat, stomach”] → feel sick to your stomach at sick stomach2 v. [T] to be able to deal with something that is unpleasant: I just can’t stomach moving again.

stomach-ache /ˈstəməsh-ek/ n. [C] a pain in your stomach stomp /ˈstomp/ v. [I] to walk with very heavy steps or put your foot down hard, usually because you are angry stone1 /ˈstoun/ n. 1 [U] EARTH SCIENCES rock, or a hard mineral substance; a stone fireplace. 2 [C] a small rock or a piece of rock. A few of the protesters began throwing stones at the police. 3 [C] a jewel; a ring set with precious stones. 4 [C] BIOLOGY a ball of hard material that can form in an organ such as the kidney or bladder. [Origin: Old English stōn] stone2 adv. stone cold/deaf/dead completely cold, DEAD, or dead stone3 v. [T] to kill or hurt someone by throwing stones at him/her

Stone Age n. the Stone Age HISTORY the very early period in human history, when only stone was used for making tools, weapons, etc. → BRONZE AGE, IRON AGE stoned /ˈstounnd/ adj. (slang) feeling very excited or very relaxed after taking illegal drugs stone-wall /ˈstounwl/ v. [I,T] to deliberately delay doing something or refuse to give information about it: The union is stonewalling on the station about it: delay doing something or refuse to give information stony /ˈstouni/ adj. 1 covered with stones or containing stones. 2 showing no emotion or pity: a stony silence stood /ˈstoud/ v. the past tense and past participle of STAND stool /ˈstul/ n. [C] 1 a seat that has three or four legs, but no back or arms: a piano stool → see picture at SEAT. 2 BIOLOGY a piece of solid waste from the body [Origin: Old English stōl] stoop1 /ˈstoup/ v. [I] 1 to bend your body forward and down: Troy stooped to pick up his pencil. 2 to do something that other people consider to be bad or morally wrong: I never thought you’d stoop so low.

stoop2 n. 1 [singular] if you have a stoop, your shoulders lean forward or seem too round. 2 [C] a set of stairs leading up to a city house, or the flat area at the top of them stop1 /stəp/ v. (stopped, stopping) 1 [I,T] to not continue, or to make someone or something not continue: He finally stopped smoking. The rain’s stopping. Doctors stopped the bleeding. He’s been stopped twice by the police for speeding.

2 [I] to pause during an activity, trip, etc. in order to do something: We stopped for gas in Louisville. 3 Let’s find a place to stop and eat. 4 She stopped to tie her shoe.

stop by phr.v. to make a short visit to a person or place, especially before going somewhere else: It was nice of Judy to stop by. 2 to deliberately make a short visit to a place or person, especially when you are going somewhere else: Let’s stop in at Gary’s on the way home.

stop off phr.v. to quickly visit a place that is on the way to where you are going: I need to stop off at the post office.

stop2 n. 1 [singular] the action of stopping or of being stopped: The taxi came to a stop outside his hotel. 2 [C] a place where you stop during a trip, or the short period you spend at that place: Paris will be the first stop of the tour. 3 [C] a place where a bus or train regularly stops for its passengers: This is my stop. 4 the bus/subway/train stop at 45th Street stop-gap /ˈstoʊgpæp/ n. [C] a solution, plan, person, etc. that you use until you have a better one: a stopgap measure to deal with the parking problem stop-light /ˈstoʊplʌt/ n. [C] a set of red, yellow, and green lights used for controlling traffic stop-over /ˈstoʊpəʊvər/ n. [C] a short time between parts of a trip, especially a long airplane trip: a three-hour stopover in Atlanta stop-page /ˈstoʊp pádʒ/ n. [C] an occasion when workers stop working for a short time as a protest stop-watch /ˈstoʊpwɔtʃ/ n. [C] a watch used for measuring the exact time it takes to do something, such as run a race → see picture at WATCH store /stɔr/ n. [U] the act or state of keeping something in a special place: when it is not being used: the safe storage of chemical weapons | The furniture is in storage.

store1 /stɔr/ n. [C] 1 a place where goods are sold to the public: a street lined with small stores | a grocery/book/shoe etc. store | I’m going to the store (a food store) to get some milk.

store2 v. [T] 1 also store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes storefront /ˈstoʊfrʌnt/ n. [C] 1 the part of a store that faces the street | 2 storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area storehouse /ˈstoʊraʊs/ n. a storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

store-keeper /ˈstoʊrkɪpər/ n. [C] someone who owns or is in charge of a store store-room /ˈstoʊrroʊm/ n. [C] a room where goods are stored storm /ˈstɔrm/ n. [C] 1 a period of bad weather when there is a lot of wind, rain, snow, etc.: a snowstorm | a winter/summer storm

storm1 /ˈstɔrm/ n. [C] 1 a period of bad weather when there is a lot of wind, rain, snow, etc.: a snowstorm | winter/summer storm superstore – a very big store, especially one that has many different types of products, or one that has a lot of one type of product stores that sell goods more cheaply outlet store – a store that sells things for less than the usual price warehouse store – a store that sells things in large amounts at lower prices people who use or work in stores customer – someone who buys the things sold in a store sales assistant/clerk – someone whose job it is to help customers to buy things cashier – someone whose job is to receive and pay out money in a store

2 a supply of something that you keep to use later: secret stores of weapons | 3 be in store to be about to happen to someone: There’s a surprise in store for you!

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.

storekeeper or store keeper – someone who owns or is in charge of a store

store room – a room where goods are stored

store away to put things somewhere and keep them there until you need them: photos stored in shoe boxes

keep, save → keep

2 to keep facts or information in a computer: data stored on the hard drive

storefront church/office/school etc. a small church, etc. in a shopping area

storehouse of information/memory etc. something that contains a lot of information, memories etc.
storm surge

a lot of force: Police officers stormed the building. 2 [I] to go somewhere in a fast noisy way because you are very angry: Jack stormed in, demanding an explanation.

storm surge n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a sudden rise in the level of the sea caused by a tropical storm, which results in large amounts of water flooding the land stormy /ˈstoʊmi/ adj. 1 with rain, strong winds, snow, etc.: stormy weather | a stormy day 2 a stormy relationship or situation is one in which people often feel angry

story /ˈstɔrɪ/ n. (plural stories) [C] 1 a description of an event that is intended to entertain people: a story about/of a | a story of an event that is intended to entertain people: a story short | think something will take too long to explain: a story short (spoken) said when you want to finish explaining something quickly: To make a long story short, she got mad and left. 6 an excuse, explanation, or lie: Do you believe his story? | make a long story short | straight | 3 to sit or stand with your legs on either side of something: Nick straddled a chair. 2 if something straddles a line, road, river, etc., part of it is on one side and part on the other side: a town that straddles the U.S.-Canadian border 3 to include different areas of activity, groups, time, etc.: My research straddles economics and social sciences.

straggly /ˈstrægli/ adj. 1 not bent, curved, or leaning: straight teeth 2 a straight line | long straight hair 3 a straight face a serious expression on your face even though you want to laugh or smile: a straight face 4 one after the other: three straight story | get/three straight straight | get/keep straight (spoken): three straight story (spoken) to correctly understand the facts about a situation without being confused: I can’t keep all their names straight. 6 get straight A’s/B’s etc. to earn the grade “A,” “B,” etc. in all of your school subjects. 7 a straight face a serious expression on your face even though you want to laugh or smile: How did you keep a straight face? 8 (informal) HETEROSEXUAL. 9 alcoholic drinks that are straight do not have any ice, water, etc. added to them 10 (informal) not liking to take risks or do things that are not ordinary, and often following strict moral rules: “What’s his girlfriend like?” ‘She’s pretty straight.”

stove /ˈstouv/ n. [C] 1 a piece of kitchen equipment on which you cook food in pots and pans, and that contains an oven: There’s a pan of rice on the stove. 2 a metal container inside which you burn wood, coal, etc. in order to heat a room: an old wood stove [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Middle Dutch, Middle Low German, “heated room,” from Vulgar Latin extuʃa, from Greek τυφήν “to smoke”] stout /ˈstaut/ adj. 1 fairly fat and heavy 2 brave and determined: a stout defender of human rights stow /ˈstou/ also stow away v. [T] to put something away neatly in a place until you need it again: Please stow all carry-on baggage under your seat.

stow-a-way /ˈstouə.weɪ/ n. [C] someone who hides on an aircraft, ship, etc. in order to travel without paying straight² n. 1 [C] (informal) someone who is heterosexual gay 2 the straight and narrow a sensible and moral way of living straight³ n. [C] MATH an angle that measures exactly 180° ➔ see picture of ANGLE straight·en /`streItn/ v. 1 [L] also straighten out to become straight, or make something straight: She straightened a picture on the wall. 2 [I] also straighten up to make your back straight, or to stand up straight after bending down 3 [T] also straighten up to clean a room that is messy straighten /`streItn/ phr. v. 1 to deal with a difficult situation or solve a problem: I’ll talk to him and see if I can straighten things out. 2 to improve your bad behavior or deal with personal problems, or to help someone do this: He’s back in school and getting himself straightened out.

straighten up phr. v. to start behaving well: You straightened up right now, young man!

straight·for·ward /`streItfɔrward/ adj. 1 simple or easy to understand: The task was relatively/fairly straightforward.

→ THESAURUS ➔ SIMPLE

2 honest and not hiding what you think: a straightforward response

→ THESAURUS ➔ HONEST

straight·jack·et /`streIt`dʒækIt/ n. [C] a special coat for violent or mentally ill people that prevents them from moving their arms strand /`strænd/ n. [C] a single thin piece of thread, hair, wire, etc.: He reached out and brushed a strand of hair away from her face.

strand·ed /`strændd/ adj. needing help because you are unable to move from a particular place: I was stranded at the airport without any money.

strange¹ /`streɪndʒ/ adj. 1 unusual or surprising, in a way that is difficult to understand: a strange incident that puzzled the police 2 funny – a little strange or unusual: I heard a funny noise downstairs 3 peculiar – strange, unfamiliar, or a little surprising: a peculiar taste 4 curious (formal) – strange or unusual: a curious disappearance 5 mysterious – strange in a way that is hard to explain or understand: his mysterious disappearance 6 odd – strange, especially in a way that you disapprove of or cannot understand: It seemed like an odd thing to say.

weird – strange and different from what you are used to: a weird experience I wear clothes in a bizarre way.

bizarre – very unusual and strange in a way that is hard to explain or understand: In a bizarre twist, the judge was later arrested for impersonating a police officer.

eccentric – an eccentric person is strange and strange

1. adj. (not familiar: [U]) it was all alone in a strange country.

2. adj. (unusual or surprising way: [C]) Their son was acting strangely.

3. adj. (no money to spend: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

4. adj. (new and unfamiliar place or situation: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

5. adj. (an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

6. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) The art of leading an army.

7. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

8. adj. (an eccentric old man: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

9. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

10. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

11. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

12. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

13. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

14. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

15. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

16. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

17. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

18. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

19. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

20. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

21. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

22. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

23. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

24. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

25. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

26. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

27. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

28. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

29. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

30. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

31. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

32. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

33. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

34. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

35. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

36. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

37. adj. (an artist who is no stranger to controversy: [C]) It was strangely quiet.

38. adj. (in her home: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

39. adj. (not familiar: [U]) It was strangely quiet.

40. adj. (acting/behaving in an unusual or unfamiliar place: [C]) It was strangely quiet.
stream /strim/ n. [C] 1. a natural flow of water that is smaller than a river; a clear mountain stream [\textit{see picture at RIVER}] 2. a long continuous series of people, vehicles, events, etc.: a stream of cars | a steady/constant stream of complaints 3. a flow of water, gas, smoke, etc.: a stream of warm air [\textit{Origin: Old English}]

stream2 v. 1. [I] to move quickly and continuously in one direction, especially in large amounts: Tears were streaming down his cheeks. People streamed out of the theater. 2. [I] if light streams somewhere, it shines through an opening: Sunlight streamed in through the window. 3. [I] if you stream sound or video, you play it on your computer while it is being downloaded from the Internet, rather than saving it as a file and then playing it.

stream·er /'strimər/ n. [C] a long narrow flag or piece of colored paper used as a decoration for special events.

stream·line /'strimlaIn/ v. 1. to make something have a smooth shape so that it moves easily through the air or water —\textit{streamlined} adj.

street /strit/ n. [C] 1. a road in a town or city with houses, stores, etc. on one or both sides: Be careful crossing the street. | the building down/across/up the street street·car /'strit-`kar/ n. [C] an electric bus that moves along metal tracks in the road.

streetlight /'strit-læt/ also street·lamp /'strit-læmp/ n. [C] a light at the top of a tall post in the street.

\textbf{strength} /stræŋkθ, streŋθ/ n. 1. [\textit{Physical}] [U] the physical power and energy that makes someone strong (\textit{symbol force}) | \textit{weakness}: She hardly had the strength to move. 2. [\textit{Determination}] [U] the quality of being brave or determined in dealing with difficult situations: When she died, I didn’t feel I had the strength to carry on. 3. [\textit{Country/System Etc.}] [U] the power of an organization, country, or system: the military/economic/political strength of the U.S. 4. [\textit{Feeling/Belief Etc.}] [U] how strong a feeling, belief, or relationship is: the strength of her religious beliefs. 5. [\textit{Quality/Ability}] [C] a particular quality or ability that makes someone or something special and effective: the strengths of the argument | her father’s strengths and weaknesses. 6. [\textit{Substance/Mixture}] [U] how strong a substance or mixture is: full-strength pesticide. 7. [\textit{Money}] [U] economics the value of one country’s money compared to other countries’ money: The yen gained in strength against the dollar today. 8. [\textit{Number of People}] [U] the number of people on a team, in an army, etc.: At full strength, the squad has 12 men. 9. on the strength of sth because of something that persuaded or influenced you: She was hired mainly on the strength of her ability to translate Russian. [\textit{Origin: Old English strength}]

\textbf{strengthen} /'strengθən/ v. 1. [T] to become stronger. | Family dinners strengthen your ties/bonds/connections with your children. 2. [I] to make something such as your body or a building stronger: | \textit{Weaken}: The dollar has strengthened against other currencies. | The trade agreement will strengthen the economy.

\textbf{strengtheningly} /strengθəlnı/A ADV using a lot of effort, strength, or determination: strenuously \textbf{strep throat} /strep `θroʊt/ n. [U] (informal) a fairly common medical condition in which your throat is very sore.

\textbf{stress} /stres/ n. 1. [\textit{Continuous}] [C,U] continuous feelings of worry about your work or personal life, that prevent you from relaxing: Baxter’s under a lot of stress at work. | Stress can cause severe health problems. 2. [\textit{Special attention or importance given to an idea or activity}] [\textit{Syn. emphasis}]: He put/laid stress on the need for more teachers. 3. [\textit{Force or pressure on an object}] [C,U] physics the physical force or pressure on an object: Fractures form when the rocks are subjected to stress. 4. [\textit{Eng. Lang. Arts}] the degree of force or loudness with which you say a word or part of a word, or play a note of music: The stress is on the first syllable.
stress\textsuperscript{2} v 1 [T] to emphasize a statement, fact, or idea: Herman stressed that participation is voluntary. | She stressed the need for more health education.

THE SAURUS

\textit{emphasize, highlight, underline, underscore} \rightarrow \textbf{EMPHASIZE}

2 [I] also \textbf{stress out} (spoken) to feel stressed: Terry’s stressing out about his midterms. 3 [T] to say a word or part of a word loudly or with more force, or play a note of music more loudly: The word “basketball” is stressed on the first and third syllable.

\textbf{stressed} /\textit{strEtst}/ [AE] adj 1 also \textbf{stressed out} (spoken) so worried and tired that you cannot relax: I was stressed out and exhausted.

\textbf{stressed} /\textit{strEtst}/ [AC] adj 1 also \textbf{stressed out} (spoken) to reach out your arms, legs, or body to pull something so tightly, press together”

\textbf{stress mark} n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a mark that shows which part of a word is emphasized the most

\textbf{stretch\textsuperscript{1}} /\textit{streCh}/ v 1 [T] also \textbf{stretch out} to become bigger or looser as a result of being pulled, or to make something become bigger or looser by pulling it: My sweater has stretched all out of shape. 2 [T] to reach out your arms, legs, or body to full length: Maxie got up and stretched. | Klein stretched out his hand to Devlin. \rightarrow see picture on page 49 3 [I] to spread out over a large area, or continue for a long period: The line of people stretched around the corner. | The project will probably stretch into next year. 4 [I] if cloth stretches, it changes shape when you pull or wear it, and becomes its original shape when you stop: The shorts stretch to fit. 5 [T] to pull something so that it is tight: Stretch a rope between two trees. 6 \textbf{be stretched} (to the limit) to have hardly enough money, supplies, energy, time, etc. to do something: Our resources are already stretched to the limit. 7 \textbf{stretch your legs} (informal) to go for a walk.

\textbf{stretch\textsuperscript{2}} n 1 [C] an area of water or land: a \textbf{dangerous stretch} of road 2 [C] a continuous period of time: Nurses are working up to 12 hours at a stretch (=without stopping). 3 [C] the action of stretching part of your body 4 [U] the ability of a material to become bigger or longer without tearing 5 \textbf{not by any stretch} (of the imagination) (spoken) used in order to say that something is definitely not true: She’s not fat, by any stretch of the imagination.

\textbf{stretch-er} /\textit{strEtChEr}/ n [C] a covered frame on which you carry someone who is injured or too sick to walk.

\textbf{strew} /\textit{str@w}/ v (past participle \textit{strewn} /\textit{strun}/ or \textit{strewed}) [T] to throw or drop a number of things over an area in a messy way: Papers were strewed all over the floor.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIk@n}/ adj (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adj \hspace{1em} (formal) very badly affected by trouble, illness, sadness, etc.: a woman \textbf{stricken by grief} \rightarrow \textbf{POVERTY-STRIKEN}

\textbf{strict} /\textit{strIkts}/ adv 1 expecting people to obey rules or do what you say: Her parents are very strict.
to emphasize what you are saying: The drug treatment program is strictly voluntary. 4 only for a particular purpose, thing, or person: These bowls are strictly for decoration.

strike\(^1\) /strīk/ v (past tense stroked /strōk/; past participle struck /strīkt/) to walk with quick long steps: He strode across the room.

THESAURUS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Walk</th>
<th>March</th>
<th>Stroll</th>
<th>Amble</th>
<th>Trudge</th>
<th>Limp</th>
<th>Wade</th>
<th>Hike</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

strike\(^2\) n [C] 1 a long step that you make when you walk: 2 make (great) strides to develop or make progress quickly: Doctors have made great strides in treating this type of injury. 3 take sth in stride to deal with a problem calmly without becoming annoyed or upset: Most children take this type of teasing in stride.

strike\(^3\) n (formal) trouble or disagreement between two people or groups: conflict: a period of ethnic/political/marital strife strike\(^4\) n (U) a time when a group of workers deliberately stop working because of a disagreement about pay, working conditions, etc.: The union decided to go on strike. 2 a C a military attack: threats of air strike 3 two/three etc. strikes against a condition, situation, or quality that makes it extremely difficult for someone or something to be successful: Children from poor backgrounds have several strikes against them before even starting school. 4 a C in baseball, an attempt to hit the ball that fails, or a ball that is thrown toward the batter within the correct area, but is not hit strike\(^5\) n [C,U] someone who is not working because s/he is on strike string\(^1\) /strīng/ n [C,U] a strong thread made of several threads twisted together, used for tying things: We tied a string around the box. 2 C a number of similar things or events that happen one after the other: a string of arrests for drug offenses 3 (no) strings attached having no special conditions or limits on an agreement, relationship, etc., or having conditions or limits: They lent him the money with no strings attached. 4 first/second/third string relating to or being a member of a team or group with the highest, second highest, etc. level of skill. string

the second string quarterback  5 a string of pearls/beads etc. a lot of PEARLS, BEADS, etc. on a string  6 [C] one of the long thin pieces of wire that is stretched across a musical instrument to produce sound  7 the strings ENG. LANG. ARTS the people in an ORCHESTRA who play instruments such as the VIOLIN, CELLO, etc.  ➔ control/hold the purse strings at PURSE  ➔ pull the strings at PULL string  ➔ stringent /straɪndʒt/ adj. stringent rules, laws, etc. strictly control something string  ➔ stringy /ˈstrɪŋɡɪ/ adj. 1 food that is stringy has long thin pieces in it that are difficult to eat 2 stringy hair looks like string because it is dirty strip  ➔ stripped /ˈstrɪpɪd, ˈstrɪpɪŋ/ also strip off  1 [I,T] to take off your clothes, or take off someone else’s clothes: He stripped and got into the shower.  1 I stripped off her snowsuit.  2 [T] to remove something that is covering the surface of something else: Strip off the old wallpaper.

strip  ➔ striped /ˈstrɪpəd, ˈstrɪpəd/ adj. having a pattern of stripes: a blue and white striped shirt strip mall  ➔ strip mall n. [C,U] a row of small stores built together, with an area for parking cars in front of it strip-tease  ➔ striptease n. [C,U] the dance that a stripper does strove /ˈstrəʊv/ v. (past tense strove /ˈstrəʊv/ or stroved, past participle striven /ˈstrɪvən/ or strived, present participle striving) [I] (formal) to try very hard to get or do something: teachers who are striving to meet the needs of their students structure 3 [C] something that has been built: a huge steel structure structure4 [Ac] v [T] to arrange something carefully in an organized way: Structure your essay so that your opinions are supported by evidence.

—structured adj: a loosely/carefully/highly structured novel struggle1 /stragl/ v [I] 1 to try very hard to do or achieve something, even though it is difficult: We’re struggling to pay the bills. 2 to fight someone who is attacking you or holding you: She struggled with him, pushing him away. 3 to move somewhere with a lot of difficulty: He struggled up the stairs with the luggage.
struggle2 n [C] 1 a long hard fight for freedom, political rights, etc.: a struggle for equality | a power struggle strut1 /strat/ v (strutted. strutting) [T] to play an instrument such as a guitar by moving your fingers across the strings strum /stram/ v (strummed. strumming) [T] to play an instrument such as a guitar by moving your fingers across the strings stub1 /stabl/ n [C] 1 a short piece of metal or wood used for supporting a part of a bridge, the wing of an aircraft, etc. stub2 v (stubbed. stubbing) [T] to stop a cigarette from burning by pressing the end of it against something stubborn /stöbøn/ adj: a stubborn woman | his stubborn refusal to cooperate stubbornly adv: a stubborn child stubby /stöbi/ adj: stubby fingers stub·ly /strölti/ adv 1 if you feel or believe something strongly, you are very sure and serious about it: I feel strongly that medical records should be kept private. 2 in a way that persuades someone to do something: I strongly urge/advisecourage you to get more facts before deciding. 3 in a way that is easy to notice: The house smelled strongly of gas.
stub·born /stöbøn/ adj: a stubborn child stub·ble /strölt/ n 1 [U] the very short stiff hairs on a man’s face when he has not shaved stub·bo·ly /strölti/ adv: a stubbo·ly adj: see picture at CLEAN-SHAVEN stub·by /stöbi/ adj: short and thick or fat: his stubby fingers stub·by·ness /stöbøni/ n [U] a CEMENT mixture used especially for covering the outside walls of houses stub·by·ness /stöbøni/ n [U] a CEMENT mixture used especially for covering the outside walls of houses stuck-up

window, but it was stuck. | We got stuck in traffic. 2 not able to continue working on something because it is too difficult: Can you help me with this? I'm stuck. 3 not able to get away from a boring or unpleasant situation: I'm stuck at home all day with the kids.

stuck-up adj. (informal) proud and unfriendly because you think you are better than other people proud, conceited, big-headed, vain, arrogant, egotistical, haughty → PROUD

THE SAURUS

stud /stʌd/ n. 1 [C] BIOLOGY an animal, such as a horse, that is kept for breeding, or the use of animals for breeding: a stud farm | The racehorse was retired to stud after a training injury. 2 [C] a small round EARRING 3 [C] ( slang ) a man who is very active sexually 4 [C] a small round piece of metal that is put on a surface for decoration: a leather jacket with silver studs

stud·ded /stʌdɪd/ adj. decorated with a lot of studs or jewels: a bracelet studded with diamonds → STAR-STUDDED

stu·dent /stjuːdənt/ n. [C] 1 someone who is studying at a school, university, etc.: She has 30 students in her class. | Sally’s an A/B/C student (=she earns A’s, etc., etc.). | a first-year law/medical student a business/biology/English etc. major – someone studying a particular subject as his or her main subject at a college or university: Greg is a philosophy major.

THE SAURUS

freshman – a student in the first year of high school or college: My brother is a freshman at the University of Wisconsin.

sophomore – a student in the second year of high school or college junior – a student in the third year of high school or college senior – a student in the last year of high school or college graduate – someone who has successfully completed his/her studies at a school, college, or university: a graduate of Ohio State University undergraduate – a student in the first four years of college, who is working for his/her first degree.

graduate student – someone who is studying after completing an advanced degree such as a Ph.D. or an M.A.

alumni – former students of a school, college, or university: the Ithaca College Alumni Association

2 a student of sth someone who is very interested in a particular subject: He’s obviously an excellent student of human nature.

student ‘body n. [C] all the students in a school, university, etc.

stud·ied /stʌdɪd/ adj. studied behavior is deliberate and intended to have a particular effect on other people: She spoke with a studied politeness.

stu·dio /stjuːdɪəʊ/ n. (plural studios) [C] 1 a room where television and radio programs are made and broadcast, or where music is recorded: a recording studio in Nashville | a studio audience

2 a movie company or the place where movies are made: the big Hollywood studios

3 a room where a painter or photographer works: an art studio

4 also studio apartment a small apartment with one main room

stu·di·ous /stjuːdɪəs/ adj. spending a lot of time reading and studying study /stʌdi/ n. (plural studies) 1 [C] a piece of work that is done to find out more about a particular subject or problem, and that is usually written in a report: Several studies showed the drug can cause birth defects. | a study on/off of 100 patients

THE SAURUS

research, experiment → RESEARCH

2 [U] the process of learning about a subject: the study of ancient history | ways to improve your study skills/habits

3 [C] a room in a house that is used for work or study: 4 studies [plural] the work you do in order to learn about something: She began graduate studies at Berkeley. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French étude, from Latin studium “mental effort, eagerness, study”]

study v. (studied, studies) 1 [I,T] to spend time going to classes, reading, etc. to learn about a subject: I need to study for a midterm. | She studied at Harvard. | I’m studying English/psychology/medicine etc.

THE SAURUS

learn, pick sth up, get the hang of sth, acquire → LEARN

2 [T] to examine something carefully to find out more about it: An accounting firm is studying the problem. | Dr. Brock is studying how the disease affects children.

stuff /stʌf/ n. [U] (informal) 1 a substance or material of any kind: What’s this sticky stuff on the floor? 2 a number of different things: She brought me some books and stuff (=other things). | People still want decent housing, good health care and a bunch of other stuff. 3 sb’s stuff things that belong to someone: You can put your stuff over here for now. | I’ve got to pack my stuff.

THE SAURUS

property, possessions, things, belongings, effects → PROPERTY

4 all the activities that someone does: I have a lot of stuff to do. | He likes biking and skateboarding and stuff like that. | 5 different subjects, information, or ideas: a magazine with a lot of interesting stuff in it [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French estoffe, from estoffe “to provide with things needed”]

stuff v. [T] 1 to push things into a small space quickly: He stuffed some clothes into a bag and left. 2 to fill something until it is full: a pillow stuffed with feathers | Campaign workers stuffed envelopes. 3 to fill a chicken, vegetable, etc. with a mixture of bread, rice, etc. before cooking it.
fill the skin of a dead animal in order to make the animal look alive

stuffed /ˈstʌfd/ adj. 1 [not before noun (informal)] completely full, so that you cannot eat any more: The cake looks great, but I’m stuffed. 2 stuffed animal/toy/hare etc. a toy animal covered and filled with soft material stuffed-up adj. (informal) unable to breathe because you have a cold stuff-y /ˈstʌfi/ adj. 1 not having enough fresh air: The room was hot and stuffy. 2 boring, formal, and old-fashioned: stuffy lawyers stumble /ˈstʌmb(ə)l/ v. (I) 1 to almost fall down while you are walking: Scott stumbled over the steps.

stumbling block n. (C) a problem that prevents you from achieving something: the main stumbling block to passage of the new law

stump /stump/ n. 1 [C] the part of a tree that remains in the ground after the rest has been cut down 2 [C] the part of an arm, leg, etc. that remains when the rest has been cut off 3 [singular] politics a place or occasion when a politician makes a speech to try to gain political support: On the stump, he talked a lot about health care.

stump v. [T] if you are stumped by a question or problem, you are unable to find an answer to it: It’s a question that has stumped everyone. 1 I was completely stumped.

stun /stʌn/ v. (stunned, stunning) [T] 1 to surprise or shock someone so much that s/he does not react: There was a stunned silence. 2 to make someone unconscious for a short time by hitting him/her on the head stung /stʊŋ/ v. the past tense and past participle of sting stunk /stʌŋk/ v. a past tense and past participle of stink stunk v. (stunk, stunk) [T] a state in which you cannot think, see, etc. clearly: We found him in a drunken stupor.

sturdy /ˈstʌdrɪ/ adj. (comparative sturdier, superlative sturdiest) strong and not likely to break or be hurt: sturdy walking shoes

stutter /ˈstʌtə(r)/ v. [T] to speak with difficulty because you repeat the first sound of a word stunt1 /ˈstʌnt/ n. [C] 1 something that is done to attract people’s attention: a publicity stunt 2 a dangerous action that is done to entertain people, usually in a movie: 3 pull a stunt to do something that is silly or that is slightly dangerous: Don’t ever pull a stunt like that again!

stunt2 v. [T] to stop someone or something from growing or developing correctly: Lack of food has stunted their growth.
style

style /ˈstʌli/ [Ae] n 1 [C/U] [ENG. LANG. ARTS] a way of doing, making, painting, etc. something that is typical of a particular period of time, place, or group of people: He’s trying to copy Van Gogh’s style of painting. | architecture in the Gothic style. 2 [C] the particular way that someone behaves, works, or deals with other people: Carolyn has an informal style of teaching. | Yelling at her students is not her style (=is not the way she usually behaves). | I don’t like loud parties – a quiet night at home is more my style (=I prefer quiet nights at home). 3 [C/U] a particular design or fashion for something such as clothes, hair, furniture, etc.: They have over two hundred styles of wallpaper to choose from. | Long hair is in style/out of style (=fashionable or not fashionable). 4 [U] the particular way you do things that makes people admire you: You may not like him, but you have to admit that he has style. | an actor with style. 5 [C,U] [ENG. LANG. ARTS] a particular set of rules for using words, formatting documents, spelling, etc.: It’s not considered good style to use abbreviations in essays. 6 [C] [BIOLOGY] the long thin part of the female structure in a flower, that is between the OVAR and the STIGMA. → see picture at FLOWER. 7 [ORIGIN: 1200—1300] Latin stilus “pointed stick, stylus, style of writing” style /ˈstʌli/ v [T] to cut someone’s hair in a particular way stylish /ˈstʌliʃ/ [Ae] adj attractive in a fashionable way: a very stylish woman | stylish clothes stylistic /ˈstʌlistɪk/ [Ae] adj [ENG. LANG. ARTS] relating to the style of a piece of writing or art: I’ve made a few stylistic changes to your report.

stylistics /ˈstʌlistɪks/ [n.] [L] [ENG. LANG. ARTS] the study of style in written or spoken language stylized /ˈstʌlzd/ [Ae] adj [ENG. LANG. ARTS] designed, written, or drawn in an artificial style that is not natural or like real life: A stylized ocean wave is typical of Greek decoration.

sty-mie /ˈstʌmi/ [v.] [T] (informal) to prevent someone from doing what she has planned or wants to do: The police investigation has been stymied by a lack of witnesses.

suave /ˈswɑv/ adj attractive, confident, and relaxed, but often in a way that is not sincere sub /ˈsʌb/ n [C] 1 (informal) a SUBSTITUTE. 2 a SANDWICH made out of a long LOAF of bread filled with meat, cheese, etc.

subatomic /ˈsʌbətəˈmætɪk/ adj PHYSICS smaller than an atom or existing inside an atom: subatomic particles sub-committee /ˈsʌbkrɪmɪtʃu/ [n] [C] a small group formed from a committee to deal with a particular subject in more detail sub-conscious /ˈsʌbˈkɑnʃəs/ adj sub-conscious thoughts and feelings are in your mind and affect your behavior, but you do not know that they exist. → subconsciously sub-con-ti-nent /ˈsʌbˌkɒnˈtɪnənt/ n [C] [EARTH SCIENCES] a large area of land that forms part of a CONTINENT sub-cul-ture /ˈsʌbˌkʌltʃər/ n [C] a particular group of people in a society whose behavior, beliefs, activities, etc. make them different from the rest of the society: the drug subculture sub-di-vide /ˈsʌbdɪvaid/ [v.] 1 to divide into smaller parts something that is already divided 2 [SUB-DIVISION] [n.]

sub-dued /ˈsʌbduːd/ adj 1 a person or sound that is subdued is unusually quiet: Jason looked subdued after talking to the principal. 2 subdued colors, lights, etc. are less bright than usual

subject /ˈsʌbdʒekt/ [n.] 1 the thing you are talking about or considering in a conversation, discussion, book, movie, etc.: Bashkiriff is the subject of the book. “For Sasha, With Love.” | While we’re on the subject of money, do you have the $10 you owe me? | Stop trying to change the subject (=talk about something else)! | A member of the audience raised the subject (=started talking about it) of the president’s age.

sub-ject /ˈsʌbdʒekt/ v [T] to control someone, especially by using force: The nurses were trying to subdue a violent patient. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French soudark “to lead into bad actions,” from Latin subducere “to force to obey.”

subdued /ˈsʌbduːd/ adj 1 a person or sound that is subdued is unusually quiet: Jason looked subdued after talking to the principal. 2 subdued colors, lights, etc. are less bright than usual subject matter /ˈsʌbdʒektˌmɑːtər/ [n.] 1 something that you study at a school or university: “What’s your favorite subject?” “Science.” → UNIVERSITY. 2 something that you study at a school or university: “What’s your favorite subject?” “Science.” → UNIVERSITY. 3 [ENG. LANG. ARTS] in grammar, a noun, noun phrase, or PRONOUN that usually comes before the verb in a sentence, and represents the person or thing that does the action of the verb. In the sentence “Jean loves her cats,” “Jean” is the subject. → OBJECT. 4 subject matter the subject that is being discussed in a book, shown in a movie or play, etc. 5 science a person or animal that is used in a test or experiment: all the subjects were men between the ages of 18 and 25. 6 English language a subject the thing or person that is shown in a painting or photograph: Degas frequently used dancers as his subjects. 7 politics someone who was born in a country that has a king or queen, or someone who has the legal right to live there: he's a british subject. [origin: 1300—1400 old french, latin subjectus, from subjicere "to put under your control"] subject² adjective be subject to sth a) to be likely to be affected by something: all prices are subject to change. b) to be dependent on something: the deal is subject to approval by the bank. c) if you are subject to a law, you must obey it: congress is subject to the same laws as everyone else.

subject³ /səbˈdʒekt/ v. subject sb/sth to sth phr. v. (formal) to force someone or something to experience something very bad, upsetting, or difficult: police subjected him to hours of questioning.

subjective /səbˈdʒektɪv/ adj. a subjectivity, or photograph: the thing or person that is shown in a painting or photograph: ARTS men between the ages of 18 and 25. his subjects.

to change in "if i were you," the verb "to be" is in the subjunctive, not the present participle. to express doubt, wishes, or possibility. for example, in "if i were you," the verb "to be" is in the subjunctive.

subjective language /səbˈdʒektɪv/ n. c. [eng. lang.] arts in grammar, a verb form used in order to express doubt, wishes, or possibility. for example, in "if i were you," the verb "to be" is in the subjunctive.

subject to /səbˈdʒekt tə/ v. to be subject to sth or someone in authority so that s/he can consider or approve it, or the piece of writing itself: all submissions must be received by the 15th of March.

subjective /səbˈmɪʃən/ [AC] n. 1 [U] the state of being controlled by a powerful person or organization and accepting that you must obey him, her, or it: the prisoners were starved into submission. his submission to what god wanted him to do. 2 [C][U] the act of giving a piece of writing to someone so s/he can consider or approve it, or the piece of writing itself: all submissions must be received by the 15th of march.

subjective /səbˈmɪʃəv/ adj. always willing to obey someone and never disagreeing with him/her: a submissive wife subjective /səbˈmɪt/ [AC] v. (submitted, submitting). 1 [T] to give a plan, piece of writing, etc. to someone in authority so that s/he can consider or approve it: i submitted my plan to the committee yesterday. 2 [I][formal] to obey someone who has power over you, especially because you have no choice: they refused to submit to the kidnapper's demands.

sub or di nate /səbˈɔrdɪneɪt/ [AC] n. [C] (formal) someone who has a lower position or less authority than someone else: a manager who has a good relationship with her subordinates subordinate /səbˈɔrdeɪnt/ adj. less important than something else, or lower in rank or authority: a subordinate position sub or di nate /səbˈɔrdɪneɪt/ n. c. [eng. lang. arts] subordinate clause n. c. [eng. lang. arts] a dependent clause sub om /səbˈəʊm/ v. [T] law to persuade someone to tell lies in a court of law, or to persuade someone to do something else that is illegal, especially for money: subornation /səbˈɔrənʃən/ [n. [U]] subject to /səbˈploʊt/ [n. c. eng. lang. arts] a plot (set of events) that is less important than and separate from the main plot in a story, play, etc.

sub poena /səbˈpoʊnə/ [n. c. law] a legal document ordering someone to come to a court of law and be a witness [origin: 1400—1500 latin sub poena "under punishment" (the first words of the written order)] —subpoena /səbˈploʊnə/ v. [T] subcribe /səbˈskriːb/ v. [I] to pay money regularly to have a newspaper or magazine sent to you, or for a particular service: what magazines do you subscribe to? [households that subscribe to cable TV — subscriber n. [c] subjective to /səbˈploʊt/ v. to agree with or support an idea, opinion, etc.: they obviously don't subscribe to his theory.

sub scrip tion /səbˈskrɪpʃən/ [n. c] an amount of money that you pay regularly to have copies of a

THE SAURUS

subscribe, give in, concede, yield → surrender

THE SAURUS

dive, plunge, sink → dive
TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent subsidy

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY
uncover any new evidence. Subsequent investigations did not uncover any new evidence. [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, present participle of subsequi “to follow closely,” from sequi “to follow”]

subsequent

subsequent
sub·tle·ty /ˈsʌtəl-ti/ n. (plural subtleties) 1 [U] the quality that something has when it has been done in a skillful or intelligent way: the sub·telt·y of the wine’s flavor 2 [C usually plural] something that is important but difficult to notice: The sub·tlet·ies of the story do not translate well into other languages.

sub·tract /ˈsʌb-trækt/ v. [T] MATH to take a number or amount from something larger: If you sub·tract 15 from 25 you get 10. —CALCULATE sub·tract·ion /ˈsʌb-træk-shən/ n. [U] MATH the process of taking a number or amount from a larger number or amount —ADDITION, DIVISION, MULTIPLICATION sub·urb /ˈsʌbərb/ n. [C] an area away from the center of a city, where a lot of people live: We moved to the suburbs last year. 1 a suburb of Chicago [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin suburbium, from arbs “city”]

sub·ur·ban /ˈsʌbər-bən/ adj. relating to a suburb, or in a suburb: suburban life | suburban Miami (the suburbs around Miami)

sub·ur·bi·a /ˈsʌbər-bi-ə/ n. [U] all suburbs in general: life in suburbia sub·ver·sive /ˈsəb-vər-siv/ adj. intending to destroy or damage a government, society, religion, etc.: subversive activities sub·vert /ˈsəb-vərt/ v. [T] POLITICS to try to destroy the power or influence of a government, benefit, etc.

sub·way /ˈsəbwe/ n. (plural subways) [C] a railroad that runs under the ground in cities: a subway station | We took the subway home. —see picture at TRANSPORTATION suc·ceed /səkˈsid/ v. 1 [I] to do what you have tried to do, or to do well in something such as your job and set a target: She gave herself five years to succeed as a writer. 2 [I] to have the result or effect that something is intended to have: Our advertising campaign succeeded in attracting more customers. 3 [I] to be the next person to take a position or do a job after someone else: Mr. Harvey will succeed Mrs. Lincoln as chairman.

suc·ceed·ing /səkˈsid-əŋ/ adj. coming after something else: Sales improved in succeeding years.

suc·cess /səkˈses/ n. 1 [C]U] something that has the result or effect that you intended, or the act of achieving this: suc·cess: We had no success in developing a better engine. 2 [C] someone who does very well in his/her job, classes, in society, etc. —ANT failure: He was not much of a success as a comedian.

suc·cess·ful /səkˈses-fəl/ adj. 1 having the result or effect you intended or unsuccessful: The surgery was completely successful. 2 making or earning a lot of money: a successful businessman | a successful movie — success·fully adv.

suc·cess·ion /səkˈses-ən/ n. 1 in succession happening one after the other: The team has won four championships in succession. 2 a succession of sth a number of people or things that happen or follow one after another: She’s had a succession of rich husbands. 3 [U] the act of taking over an important job, position, etc., or the right to do this suc·cess·ive /səkˈses-əv/ adj. coming or following one after the other: Babe Ruth hit three successive home runs in one game. —su·cess·iv·ly adv.

suc·cess·sor /səkˈses-ər/ n. [C] 1 someone who takes a job or position that was held before by someone else: No one was certain who Mao’s successor would be. 2 (formal) a machine, system, etc. that exists after another one in a process of development: The refrigerator was the successor to the ice box.

suc·cinct /səkˈsɪŋkt/ adj. clearly expressed in a few words: [Origin: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of succingle “to tuck up,” from subj “under, close to” + cingere “to put a belt around”] — succinctly adv.

suc·cu·lent /səkˈkyə-lənt/ adj. juicy and tasting very good: a succulent steak — suc·cul·ence n. [U] suc·cum·ber /səkˈkʌm-bər/ v. 1 [I] to stop opposing someone or something, and allow him, her, or it to take control: Eventually, she suc·cum·bered to his charms. 2 to become very sick or die from an illness: [Origin: 1400—1500 French succomber, from Latin succumbere, from sub- “under, close to” + cumbere “to lie down”] suc·cum·ber·ing /səkˈkʌm-bər-ıŋ/ adj. coming after something else: Sales improved in succeeding years.

suc·cum·ber·ly /səkˈkʌm-bər-əl/ adv. in a way that allows something to happen: She succumbed to temptation.

suc·cum·ber·ing·ly /səkˈkʌm-bər-ıŋ-lē/ adv. in a way that allows something to happen: She succumbed to temptation.

suc·cum·ber·ous /səkˈkʌm-bər-əs/ adj. likely to succumb to a particular thing: She’s a succumbrous thing.

such /sʌtʃ/ determinant, pron. 1 used in order to talk about a person or thing that is like the one that you have just mentioned: Such behavior is not acceptable here. 2 “Did you get the job?” “No such luck (= I wasn’t lucky).” 3 such as used when giving an example of something: big cities such as New York, Tokyo, and London. 4 there’s no such person/thing as sb/sth used in order to say that a particular person or thing does not exist: There’s no such thing as a perfect job. 5 not (…) as such used to say that the word you are using to describe something is not exactly correct: She's not retired as such, she's just taking a long break.

suck /sʌk/ v. 1 [T] to hold something in your mouth and pull it on with your tongue and lips: Don’t suck your thumb, Katie. | Ben was sucking on a piece of candy. 2 [T] to take air, liquid, etc. into your mouth by making your lips form a small hole and using the muscles of your mouth to pull air, liquid, etc. in: Michael put the cigarette to his lips and sucked in the smoke. 3 [T] to pull someone or something with a lot of force to a particular place: A man almost got sucked under by the current. 4 get/be sucked into (doing) sth to become involved in something you do not want to be involved in: I’m not going to get sucked into an argument with you guys. 5 sth sucks (slang) used to say that something is bad, unfair, dishonest, etc.: That movie sucks. [Origin: Old English succan] suck up to sb phr. v. (spoken, disapproving) to say or do a lot of nice things in order to make someone like you or to get what you want: She’s always sucking up to her boss.
suck-er /sʌkər/ n. [C] 1 (informal) someone who is easily tricked: Ellen always was a sucker. 2 be a sucker for sth to like something so much that you cannot refuse it: I’m a sucker for old movies.

sucrose /səkʃruːs/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY the most common form of sugar ➔ FRUCTOSE, GLUCOSE, LACTOSE suction /sʌkʃən/ n. [U] the process of removing air or liquid from a container or space so that another substance can be pulled in, or so that two surfaces stick together sudden /ˈsʌdn/ adj. 1 done or happening quickly or in a way you did not expect: We’ve had a sudden change of plans. | Don’t make any sudden moves around the animals. 2 all of a sudden suddenly: All of a sudden, the lights went out. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French soudain, from Latin subitius, from subitus “sudden”] —suddenness n. [U] sudden-ly /ˈsʌdnli/ adv. quickly and in a way you did not expect: She suddenly realized what she’d done. | Smith died suddenly of a heart attack.

such-and-such /ˈsʌk(ə)n dəl’shə/ n. [plural] the bubbles that form on top of water with soap in it —sudsy adj.
sue /suː/ v. [L.T] LAW to make a legal claim against someone, especially for money, because she has harmed you in some way: She plans to sue the company for $1 million. | Aaron is being sued for fraud.
suf-fer /səˈfər/ v. 1 [T] to feel pain or the effects of something that is not easy to describe: Neil suffered a heart attack last year. | Marnie suffers from headaches. 2 [T] to experience a situation and be badly affected by it: Small businesses are suffering financially right now. | The team suffered its worst defeat in ten years. 3 [I] to become worse in quality: Andy’s work began to suffer after his divorce. —sufferer n. [C] —suffering n. [C.U]: The war has caused so much suffering.
suf-fice /saːfɪs/ v. [I] (formal) to be enough: A light lunch will suffice.
suf-fi-cient /səˈfɪʃənt/ adj. (formal) as much as you need for a particular purpose: Will $100 be sufficient? | They had sufficient evidence to send him to prison. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin, present participle of sufficere “to put under, suffice”] —sufficiency n. (singular, U): Is there a sufficiency of time to analyze the data?

suffocation /ˈsʌfəkəˈkeɪʃən/ n. the process of removing air from the lungs or other body cavities, especially when a person is drowned, in asphyxiation, by asphyxia, by water, by drowning, or by窒息: One firefighter was suffocated by the smoke. 2 be suffocating (informal) to feel uncomfortable because there is not enough fresh air —suffocator /ˈsʌfəkəˈteɪʃən/ n. [U] suffrage /ˈsʌfrɪdʒ/ n. [U] POLITICS the right to vote suffer-get /ˈsʌfərɡət/ n. [C] POLITICS a woman who tried to gain the right to vote for women, especially in the early 20th century sug-AR /ˈsʊɡər/ n. [U] a sweet white or brown substance that is obtained from plants and used for making food and drinks sweet: Do you take sugar in your coffee? [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French sucre, from Medieval Latin sucrum, from 2 to say or show that something may be true: The article suggested that Nachez might run for mayor. [Are you suggesting that I cheated? demonstrate 3 to say that someone or something is suitable for a particular job or purpose recommend: Gina Reed’s name has been suggested for the job.

2 singular(U) a possibility of something: The police said that there was no suggestion of murder.

suggestive /suˈdʒestɪv/ adj. suggesting: a suggestive remark 2 similar to something: The smells from the jars were suggestive of an herb garden in summer.

suicidal /suˈsadəl/ adj. 1 wanting to kill yourself: suicidal thoughts 2 likely to result in death: a suicidal attack suicide /səˈsaɪd/ n. 1 [C] the act of killing yourself: Her brother committed suicide last year. [Did she leave a suicide note (= note or letter saying why she killed herself)?] 2 political/social/ethnic suicide something you do that ruins your job or position in society [Origins: 1600—1700 Latin sui "of oneself" + English -cide, from Latin -caedere "to kill" suit1 /sət/ n. 1 [C] a set of clothes made of the same material, including a jacket with pants or a skirt: a dark gray business suit 2 [C] a piece of clothing or set of clothes used for a special purpose: a bathing suit 3 [C] law a lawsuit: A homeowner filed suit against the county and lost. 4 [C] one of the four types of cards in a set of playing cards suit2 v. [T] 1 to be acceptable or right for a person or situation: It takes time to find a college that will suit your child’s needs. 2 clothes, colors, etc. that suit you make you look attractive: Short hair suits you. 3 to have the right qualities to do something: Lucy’s well/ideally suited for the job. 4 suit yourself (spoken) used to tell someone that she can do whatever she wants to do, even though you are annoyed or upset: “I’m not sure I want to go tonight.” “Suit yourself.”

suitable /suˈtæbl/ adj. right or acceptable for a particular person, purpose, or situation: This book isn’t suitable for young children.

suitably adv. suitably suitcase /suˈtseɪ/ n. 1 a bag or box with a handle, for carrying your clothes and possessions when you travel: She folded up the clothes and packed (=put) them in the suitcase. see picture at case suite /suˈti/ n. [C] 1 a set of expensive rooms in a hotel or large building: the honeymoon suite 2 a suite of offices in West Palm Beach 3 English/Latin Arts a piece of music made up of several short parts: the Nutcracker Suite 3 a group of related computer programs suit up v. phr. v. 1 to put on clothes that are suitable for a job or purpose: She suited up for boxing, and he suited up for football.

sum /sʌm/ n. [C] 1 an amount of money: The city has spent a large sum of money on parks. 2 the sum of $5,000 3 the total when you add two or more numbers together: The sum of 4 and 5 is 9.

summary /səˈmærɪ/ n. 1 a short account or description of the main points: The meeting could be summed up as a complete waste of time.

summarize /səˈmærɪz/ v. [T, T] to give the main information about an event, plan, report, etc., not all the details: The authors summarize their views in the introduction.
summer va
summer school

summer vaca·tion n. [CU] the time during the summer when schools are closed, or a trip you take during this time summer va·cation n. [CU] classes that you can take in the summer at a school or college summer mer·time n. [C,U] the time of year when it is summer summer vaca·tion n. [CU] the time during the summer when schools are closed, or a trip you take during this time summer vaca·tion n. [CU] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·burn /ˈs∧nbɔrn/ n. [U] the condition of having skin that is red and painful from spending too much time in the sun —sunburned adj sun·dai·ly /ˈs∧ndriːli/ adj (written abbreviation Sun.day) daily

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.

sun·day /ˈs∧ndi/ n. [C,U] the first day of the week, between Saturday and Monday; Anna is coming back Sunday.
that come from the Sun: Let’s go out and enjoy the sunshine.
sun-tan /ˈsʌntɑːn/ n. [C] a tan sun-up /ˈsʌnʌp/ n. [U] sunrise su-per-/ˈsuːər/ adj. (informal) extremely good: You guys really did a super job.
super/ ˈsuːər/ n. [C] (spoken) a building superintendent super/ˈsuːər/ adv. (spoken) extremely: a super expensive restaurant Su-per-b/ˈsuːərb/ adj. extremely good: superbly excellent Super Bowl n. a football game played once a year in order to decide which professional team is the best in the U.S.
Su-per-ci-l-i-ous/ˈsuːpərˌsɪliəs/ adj. (formal, disapproving) behaving as if you think that other people are less important than you: She cast a supercilious glance in my direction.
Su-per-fi-cial/ˈsuːpərˌfɪʃəl/ adj. 1 based only on the first things you notice, not on complete knowledge: a superficial understanding of physics 2 affecting only the surface of your skin or the outside part of something, and therefore not serious: She had some superficial cuts on her arm. 3 (disapproving) someone who is superficial does not think about things that are serious or important: She had some superficial cuts on her arm. 4 superficially: in a superficial way
Super-fluous/ˈsuːpərˌfljuəs/ adj. (formal) more than is needed or wanted: unnecessary: superficial details
Su-per-he-ro/ˈsuːpərˌhɪərəʊ/ n. (plural superheros) [C] a character in a comic book, movie, etc. who uses special powers, such as great strength or the ability to fly, to help people
Su-per-high-way/ˈsuːpərˌhɪərweɪ/ n. [C] a very large road on which you can drive fast for long distances Su-per-hu-man/ˈsuːpərˌhuːmən/ adj. using powers that are much greater than those of ordinary people: a superhuman effort to finish the job
Su-per-im-po-si-tion/ˈsuːpərˌɪmpəˌziʃən/ n. [U] Su-per-in-tend-ent/ˈsuːpərɪnˈtɛndənt/ n. [C] 1 someone who is responsible for all the schools in a particular area of the U.S. 2 someone who takes care of an apartment building 3 someone who is responsible for a place, job, activity, etc.
superstitious /səˈpərəˈtɪʃəs/ adj (disapproving) influenced by superstitions.

sup·per·struc·ture /ˈsuːpərstrukʃər/ n [singular, U] a structure that is built on top of the main part of something such as a ship or building.

sup·per·vise /ˈsuːpərˌvɪz/ vi [I,T] to be in charge of an activity or person, and make sure that things are done in the correct way: Griffin closely supervised the research.

sup·per·vis·or /ˈsuːpərˌvɪzər/ n [C] someone who supervises an activity or a person.

sup·ple·ment /ˈsəppləmənt/ n [C] a supplementary vitamins person or organization in order to help pay for the cost of something: He provides financial support to his ex-wife.

sup·ple·men·tal /ˈsəppləˌmentəl/ adj additional: supplementary vitamins.

sup·ple·men·tary /ˈsəppləˌmentərɪ/ adj: supplementary vitamins.

sup·ply /ˈsəpplə/ v [plural supplies] 1 [C,U] ECONOMICS an amount of something that is available to be sold or bought, or the process of providing this → DEMAND: the nation’s fuel supplies. 2 [C,U] an amount of something that is available to be used: the supply of oxygen to the brain.

super·struc·ture, from super- "standing over someone," from super- "above, over" + stare "to stand."
is believed to be true by many people: This is supposed to be the best Chinese restaurant in town.

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 I suppose a) used in order to say that you think something is probably true, although you are not sure: I suppose (that) you’re right. b) used when you are agreeing to let someone do something, especially when you do not really want him/her to do it: “Can we come with you?” “I suppose so.” c) used when saying in an angry way that you think something is true: I suppose that you thought that was funny! 3 suppose/supposing used in order to ask someone to imagine what might happen: Suppose you do get the job. Who’d take care of the kids? 4 what’s that supposed to mean? said when you are annoyed by what someone has just said: “I’ll keep your idea in mind.” “Keep it in mind! What’s that supposed to mean?” 5 do you suppose (that)...? used in order to ask someone’s opinion about something: Do you suppose people will ever live on Mars?

sup-posed /səˈpouzd/ adj used in order to say that what you are talking about is believed to be true, but you do not believe or agree with it yourself: the supposed link between violent movies and crime

sup-pos-ed-ly /səˈpoʊzdli/ adv used when saying what other people say or believe is true, especially when you do not think they are right: He comes from a very wealthy family, supposedly. | How could a supposedly intelligent person make so many mistakes?

sup-po-si-tion /səˈpəʊzɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) something that you think is true even though you are not certain and cannot prove it sup-press /səˈpreʃ/ v [T] 1 to stop people from opposing the government, especially by using force: The army has suppressed the revolt. 2 to control a feeling, so that you do not show it: Andy could barely suppress his anger. 3 to prevent important information or opinions from becoming known: His lawyer suppressed some of the evidence. — suppression /səˈpreʃən/ n [U] su-prem-a-cy /səˈpreməsɪ, su-/ n. [U] a situation in which a group or idea is more powerful or advanced than anything else su-preme /səˈprɪm, su-/ adj 1 having the highest position of power, importance, or influence: the supreme commander of the fleet 2 [only before noun] the greatest possible: He made a supreme effort.

Su-preme ‘Court n. the Supreme Court LAW the court of law with the most authority in the U.S.

su-preme-ly /səˈprɪmlɪ, su-/ adv extremely: a supremely confident athlete sur-charge /sərˈtʃɑrdʒ/ n. [C] money that you have to pay in addition to the basic price of something sure1 /ʃuər,ʃʊər/ adj 1 [not before noun] certain about something: “That’s Sarah’s cousin.” “Are you sure?” 2 sure (that) I had the keys when we left the house. | I’m sure what happened. | Are you always so sure about everything?

sure2 adv 1 sure enough (informal) used in order to say that something has been done: He called to make sure that we got home okay. 2 to do something so that you can be certain of the result: Make sure you get there early. 3 certain to happen or be true: He’s sure to say something stupid. | Investing in the stock market is not a sure thing (=it is risky). 4 be sure of sth to be certain that something will happen: The Giants are now sure of a place in the play-offs. 5 sure of yourself confident about your own abilities and opinions 6 for sure (informal) a) certainly: I think he’s married, but I don’t know for sure. b) used in order to emphasize that something is certain: We’ll always need teachers – that’s for sure. 7 sure thing (spoken) said in order to agree to something: “See you Friday.” “Yeah, sure thing.” [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French sur, from Latin securus, from se “without” + cura “care”]

THESAURUS

certain – completely sure: I’m certain that I turned off the stove. | It now seems certain that the Earth’s climate is starting to change. convinced – completely sure that something is true, especially when you cannot prove it but you have strong feelings about it: She was convinced that her son was innocent. confident – sure that something good will happen, or that you will be able to achieve what you want: We’re confident that we’re going to win. satisfied – sure that something is true, so that you have enough information to make a decision: The insurance company needed to be fully satisfied that the fire had started accidentally. positive – completely sure – used especially when other people seem doubtful: Are you positive about that? have no doubt – to be so certain about something that there are no doubts in your mind: I have no doubt that he will be found. without (a doubt) – used when saying that you are completely sure about something: Tiger Woods is without doubt one of the greatest golfers of all time.

2 make sure (that) a) to check that something is true or that something has been done: He called to make sure that we got home okay. b) to do something so that you can be certain of the result: Make sure you get there early. c) certain to happen or be true: He’s sure to say something stupid. | Investing in the stock market is not a sure thing (=it is risky). 4 be sure of sth to be certain that something will happen: The Giants are now sure of a place in the play-offs. 5 sure of yourself confident about your own abilities and opinions 6 for sure (informal) a) certainly: I think he’s married, but I don’t know for sure. b) used in order to emphasize that something is certain: We’ll always need teachers – that’s for sure. 7 sure thing (spoken) said in order to agree to something: “See you Friday.” “Yeah, sure thing.” [Origin: 1300–1400 Old French sur, from Latin securus, from se “without” + cura “care”]

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 said in order to say yes to someone: “Can I read your paper?” “Sure.” 3 used as a way of replying when someone thanks you: “Hey, thanks for your help.” “Sure.” 4 said in order to emphasize a statement: “Sure, certainly. It is hot out here. 5 used in order to admit that something is true, before you say something very different: Sure, he’s cute, but I’m still not interested.
Surely

Surely adv. 1 used in order to show that you are surprised at something: Surely you’re not leaving so soon? 2 used in order to show that you think something must be true: This will surely result in more problems.

Surety noun [plural sureties] 1 [C] Law money that someone gives as a promise that someone else will come to a court of law. If the person does not come to the court, the person who pays the surety loses some or all of the money. ➔ bail 2 [C] Economics someone who will pay a debt, go to court, etc. if someone else fails to do so

Surf v. 1 to ride on ocean waves standing on a special board. 2 surf the Internet/Net/ Web to look quickly at different places on the Internet for information that interests you ➔ Internet — surfer n. [C] — surfing n. [U]: Didn’t you go surfing at Ventana? ➔ see picture on page 54, channel surf at channelly

Surf noun [plural surfs] 1 [U] the white part that forms on the top of waves as they move toward the shore

Surface noun 1 the outside or top layer of something: the Earth’s surface | leaves floating on the surface of the lake. 2 the surface the qualities that someone or something seems to have until you learn more about him, her, or it: On the surface she seems happy enough. I sensed a lot of tension below/beneath the surface. 3 a flat area, for example on top of a cupboard, on which you can work: a cleaner for all your kitchen surfaces [origin: 1600—1700 French sur- “above” + face “face”]

Surf noun 2 [I] to become known: Rumors have begun to surface in the press. 2 [I] to appear again after being hidden or absent: Three years later he surfaced again. 3 [I] to rise to the surface of water: Whales were surfacing near our boat. 4 [T] to put a surface on a road

Surface noun tension n. [U] Physics the way the molecules in the surface of a liquid stick together so that the surface is held together

Surfboard noun [C] a long special board that you stand on to ride on ocean waves

Surfing noun a surf of sth (formal) an amount of something that is too large or more than you need (η α) excess: The world already has a surfeit of mediocre pianists

Surge v. 1 to suddenly move very quickly in a particular direction: The crowd surged forward. 2 also surge up if an emotion surges or surges up, you begin to feel it very strongly: Rage surged up inside her.

Surge noun 1 [C] a sudden large increase in something: a surge of excitement | a surge in oil prices. 2 a sudden movement of a lot of people

Surgeon noun [plural surgeons] 1 [U] medical treatment in which a doctor cuts open your body to fix or remove something inside: heart surgery | Jenny is having surgery tomorrow. 2 [C] the place where operations are done in a hospital, or the process of performing surgery: Dr. Flint is in surgery right now.

Surprise noun 1 [U] something that is unexpected when you have something unexpected or unusual happens: Bill looked at us in surprise. | To my surprise, she agreed. | It came as no surprise when he left. 2 [C] something that is unexpected or unusual: What a surprise to see you here! | Dad, I have a surprise for you! | a surprise party (=a party given for someone who is not expecting it) 3 catch/take sb by surprise to happen in an unexpected way: The heavy snowfall caught everyone by surprise. [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French, past participle of surprendre “to take over, surprise”]

Surprise v. 1 to make someone feel surprised: Her reaction surprised me. | “Pam got fired.” “It doesn’t surprise me.” 2 to find, catch, or attack someone when she does not expect it: A security guard surprised the robber.

Surprised adj. having a feeling of surprise: Robert looked surprised to see me there. | I’m surprised at how much it costs. We were surprised (that) David got the job.

Surplus noun 1 of something than is needed or used: a surplus of goods. 2 Economics money that a country or company has after it has paid for the things it needs (η α) deficit: a budget surplus

Surplus noun a more than what is needed or used: surplus corn

Surely

Thesaurus doctor, physician, specialist, pediatrician ➔ Doctor shocked – feeling surprised, and often upset or offended: We were all shocked by the news.
astonished – very surprised: Her lawyer was astonished at the verdict.
astounded – very surprised: I was astounded at how bad the play was.
flabbergasted – very surprised and shocked: People were flabbergasted, something like this couldn’t happen.
stunned – too surprised and shocked to speak: We watched in stunned disbelief.

It’s surprising how quickly she finished the job. | A surprising number of people came. | It’s hardly/scarcely surprising that they lost the game. — surprisingly adv.: The test was surprisingly easy.

THESSAURUS

extraordinary – unusual and surprising: He spends an extraordinary amount of money on clothes.
amazing – very surprising or unexpected, and sometimes difficult to believe: It’s amazing how fast some animals can run.
shocking – surprising and upsetting: It is shocking that a policeman could lie to the public.
astonishing – very surprising, and often difficult to believe: The population of the world is growing at an astonishing rate.
astonishing – very surprising, and almost impossible to believe: the astounding success of her second novel staggering – very surprising and shocking, especially because something is so large: a staggering sum of money.

The government will have surrendered. | The man finally surrendered to the police.

stunning – very surprising, and often difficult to believe
— astonishingly adv.: She did not have the right to force others to submit to her views.

THESSAURUS

extraordinary – unusual and surprising: He spends an extraordinary amount of money on clothes.
amazing – very surprising or unexpected, and sometimes difficult to believe: It’s amazing how fast some animals can run.
shocking – surprising and upsetting: It is shocking that a policeman could lie to the public.
astonishing – very surprising, and often difficult to believe: The population of the world is growing at an astonishing rate.
astonishing – very surprising, and almost impossible to believe: the astounding success of her second novel staggering – very surprising and shocking, especially because something is so large: a staggering sum of money.

The government will have surrendered. | The man finally surrendered to the police.

stunning – very surprising, and often difficult to believe
— astonishingly adv.: She did not have the right to force others to submit to her views.

THESSAURUS

extraordinary – unusual and surprising: He spends an extraordinary amount of money on clothes.
amazing – very surprising or unexpected, and sometimes difficult to believe: It’s amazing how fast some animals can run.
shocking – surprising and upsetting: It is shocking that a policeman could lie to the public.
astonishing – very surprising, and often difficult to believe: The population of the world is growing at an astonishing rate.
astonishing – very surprising, and almost impossible to believe: the astounding success of her second novel staggering – very surprising and shocking, especially because something is so large: a staggering sum of money.

The government will have surrendered. | The man finally surrendered to the police.

stunning – very surprising, and often difficult to believe
— astonishingly adv.: She did not have the right to force others to submit to her views.

THESSAURUS

extraordinary – unusual and surprising: He spends an extraordinary amount of money on clothes.
amazing – very surprising or unexpected, and sometimes difficult to believe: It’s amazing how fast some animals can run.
shocking – surprising and upsetting: It is shocking that a policeman could lie to the public.
astonishing – very surprising, and often difficult to believe: The population of the world is growing at an astonishing rate.
astonishing – very surprising, and almost impossible to believe: the astounding success of her second novel staggering – very surprising and shocking, especially because something is so large: a staggering sum of money.

The government will have surrendered. | The man finally surrendered to the police.

stunning – very surprising, and often difficult to believe
— astonishingly adv.: She did not have the right to force others to submit to her views.
susceptible /səˈspektəbəl/ adj. difficult to believe or trust: Her story is highly suspect.
suspect /ˈsəspekt/ n [C] someone who may be guilty of doing something wrong or dishonest: Potter was arrested on suspicion of robbery. | I'm not sure who erased the file, but I have my suspicions.
suspicious /ˈsəspjəs/ adj. making you think that something is probably guilty of doing something wrong or dishonest: I'm suspicious of her intentions. | Her behavior made me suspicious.
survey /ˈsərveɪ/ v [T] 1 to officially stop something from continuing for a period of time: a suspension of military activity. 2 an act of removing someone from a school or job for a short time, in order to punish him/her: a three-day suspension for cheating.
suspending /ˈsəspændəŋ/ v [T] to officially stop something from continuing for a period of time: The bus service has been suspended until further notice.

more than sixty hours a week is not sustainable in the long-term.

sustainable development n. [U] ECONOMICS the practice of limiting how much coal, oil, and other natural materials a country or industry uses, so that they continue to last for a long time.
sustainable adj. continuing for a long time: A sustained effort is needed.

sustenance n. 1 food that is needed in order to live: The buffalo provided sustenance to the Plains Indians. 2 something that helps something to continue: His religion was his sustenance.

SUV n. sport utility vehicle a type of vehicle that is bigger than a car and is made for traveling over rough ground swallow v. [T] (swallowed, swallowing) [I,T] to exchange something you have for something that someone else has: Can I swap seats with you? [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 swap “to hit” (14—19 centuries), from the sound; from the practice of striking the hands together when agreeing a business deal] — swap n. [C] swampy adj. relating to or forming a swamp swamp n. 1 a country or industry uses, the practice of limiting how much coal, oil, and other natural materials a country or industry uses, so that they continue to last for a long time swan n. 1 a common small bird with pointed wings and a tail with two points swarm n. 1 a large group of insects that move together: a swarm of bees swarth·y adj. -i [U] someone who is swarthily dark skinned swat v. [I] to try to influence someone to make a particular decision: Nothing you say will sway her.

sway v. [I] to move slowly from one side to another: palm trees swaying in the breeze 2 the power to rule or influence people: Superstitious beliefs still hold sway in the country.

swear v. [I,T] to use offensive language: Don’t swear in front of the children. I’m sorry I swore at you. 2 [I,T] to promise that you will do something: Do you swear to tell the truth?

swear n. 1 [U] a swinging movement from one side to another: the sway of the ship 2 (literary) the power to rule or influence people: Superstitious beliefs still hold sway in the country.

swear n. 2 [U] a sworn statement.

swear n. 3 [T] (informal) used in order to emphasize that something is true: She swore that she had never seen him before. I swear (to God) I didn’t take sweat·shirt  /swet·shirt/  n.  1] a piece of clothes made of thick soft material, worn especially for sports  → see picture at CLOTHES sweat·suit, sweat·suit  /swet·suit/  n.  [C] a set of clothes made of thick soft material, worn especially for sports  → see picture at CLOTHES swear word  n.  [C] a word that is considered rude or shocking swear·y  /swet·i/  adj. covered with sweat, or smelling like sweat: I felt hot and sweaty.  | sweaty hands sweat·proof  /swet·proof/  adj.  1] also sweep up to clean the dirt from the floor or ground using a BROOM: I’ve just swept the kitchen floor.

sweat·proof  /swet·proof/  adj.  1] also sweep up to clean the dirt from the floor or ground using a BROOM: I’ve just swept the kitchen floor.

sweat·proof  /swet·proof/  adj.  1] also sweep up to clean the dirt from the floor or ground using a BROOM: I’ve just swept the kitchen floor.
sweet-en-er /ˈswɪt-ər, -nər/ n. [C,U] a substance used instead of sugar to make food or drinks taste sweeter. Many diet foods are full of artificial sweeteners.
sweet-heart /ˈswɪt(h)ərt/ n. [C] 1 a way of talking to someone you love: Good night, sweet-heart. 2 (old-fashioned) the person that you love: He married his childhood sweet-heart.
sweet-ie /ˈswɪti/ n. [C] (spoken) 1 a way of talking to someone you love 2 someone who is kind and easy to love: Pat’s such a sweetie!
sweet pota-to n. [C] a root that looks like an orange potato, is yellow inside, and tastes sweet sweets /ˈswɪts/ n. [plural] (informal) sweet food or candy swell1 /swel/ v. (past tense swollen, past participle swollen) 1 [I] also swell up to gradually increase in size, especially because of an injury: My ankle swelled up like a balloon. 2 [I,T] to increase to a much bigger amount or number: The city’s population has swollen to 2 million. 3 swell with pride/anger etc. to feel very proud, angry, etc.
swell2 n. [singular] the movement of the ocean as waves go up and down swell-ing /ˈswɛlnɪŋ/ n. [C,U] an area on your body that becomes larger than usual because of injury or sickness: This medicine should help reduce the swelling.
swell-ter-ing /ˈswɛlteroʊɪŋ/ adj. unpleasantly hot: a sweltering summer day swep-t /ˈswɛpt/ v. the past tense and past participle of sweep swerve /swɜːv/ v. [I] to make a sudden movement to the left or right while moving forward, usually in order to avoid hitting something: Mark swerved to avoid hitting the dog.
swift /swɪft/ adj. happening or moving very quickly: a swift response —swiftly adv.
swig /swɪg/ v. (swigged, swigging) [T] (informal) to drink something by taking large amounts into your mouth —swig n. [C] swill1 /swɪl/ n. [U] food for pigs swill2 /swɪl/ n. [T] to drink a lot of something, especially beer swim1 /swɪm/ v. (past tense swam /swæm/, past participle swum /swʌm/) 1 [I,T] to move through the water, using your arms and legs: Can Lucy swim? 2 He swims 20 laps a day. 3 We used to swim in the lake.
swim2 n. [C] a time when you swim: Would you like to go for a swim after work?
swim-bladder n. [C] biology an air bladder swim-ming pool n. [C] a structure that has been built and filled with water for people to swim in swim-ming suit n. [C] a swimsuit swim-ming trunks n. [plural] a piece of clothing like shorts, worn by men for swimming swim-suit /swɪmsuːt/ n. [C] a piece of clothing worn for swimming swin-dle1 /swɪndl/ v. [T] to get money from someone by tricking or deceiving him/her [origin: Old English schwindel “someone confused or unbalanced”] —swindler n. [C] swindle2 n. [C] a situation in which someone gets money from someone else by tricking him/her swine /swɪn/ n. (plural swine) [C] (old-fashioned) a pig swing1 /swɪŋ/ v. (past tense and past participle swung /swɪŋt/) 1 [I,T] to move backward and forward while hanging from a particular point, or to make something move in this way: They walked hand in hand, swinging their arms. 2 [T] to move smoothly in a curved direction, or to make something move this way: The screen door kept swinging open/shut. 3 [I] if opinions or feelings swing, they change a lot: Her mood swung from happiness to despair.
swing around phr. v. to turn around quickly, or to make something do this: Misch swing around to face her. swing at sb/sth phr. v. to try to hit someone or something with your hand or with an object that you are holding: He swung at the ball and missed. swing by (sth) phr. v. (informal) to quickly visit a person or place before going somewhere else: Can we swing by the store on the way home? swing·board n. 1 a seat hanging from ropes or chains, on which children swing: A bunch of kids were playing on the swings. 2 an attempt to hit someone or something by swinging your arm, an object, etc.: Then he tried to take a swing at me.

swipe/swøp/ v. 1 [T] to swipe at or try to hit someone or something by swinging your arm very quickly 2 [T] (informal) to steal something: Somebody swiped my wallet. 3 [T] to pull a plastic card through a machine that can read the electronic information on it —swipe n. [C] swirl/swɪrl/ v. [T] to turn around and around, or to make something do this: Mist swirled around the mountain peaks. —swirl n. [C] swish/swɪʃ/ v. [T] to move or make something move quickly through the air with a soft sound like a whistle: One cow swished its tail. —swish n. [singular]

Swiss1 n. /swɪs/ adj. relating to or coming from Switzerland

Swiss2 n. /'swɪs/ the Swiss [plural the people of Switzerland, considered as a single group switch1 /swɪtʃ/ v. 1 [T] to change from doing or using one thing to doing or using something else: If you switch to a low-fat diet, your health will improve. 2 [T] to switch from doing or using one subject to another: He switched sides just days before the election. 3 [T] to replace an object with a similar object, especially secretly or accidentally: We must have accidentally switched umbrellas. switch off pht. v. to turn off a machine, radio, light, etc. by using a switch: Be sure to switch off the lights when you leave. switch over pht. v. to start using a different product, system, etc.: More and more people are switching over to Internet banking.

switch2 n. [C] 1 the part that you press or push on a machine, radio, light, etc. so that it starts or stops operating: Where’s the on/off switch? 2 a change from one thing to another: More shoppers are making the switch to organic food.

switch-board /swɪtʃbɔːrd/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that connects all the telephone calls made to or from a particular business, hotel, etc.

swiv·el /'swɪv(ə)l/ also swivel around v. [I,T] to turn around while remaining in the same place, or to make something do this: She wants a chair that swivels.
exist very closely together and depend on each other for particular advantages —biotic

sym·bol /sʌmˈboʊl/ n. 1 a picture, person, object, etc. that represents a particular quality, idea, organization, etc.: The cross is the most important symbol in Christianity. | The dove is a symbol of peace. 2 a letter, number, or sign that represents a sound, amount, chemical substance, etc.: Fe is the chemical symbol for iron. [origin: 1400—1500 Latin symbolum, from Greek symbolon, “proof of who someone is, checked by comparing its other half”] sym·bol·ic /sʌmˈbɔlɪk/ adj. 1 representing a particular idea or quality: A red rose is symbolic of love. 2 important and representing an idea or quality, but not having any real effect: The president’s trip to Russia was mostly symbolic. —symbolically adv.: Fairy tales deal symbolically with the problems of growing up.

sym·bol·ism /sʌmˈboʊlɪzəm/ n. [U] the use of symbols to represent things: There’s a lot of religious symbolism in his paintings.

sym·bol·ize /sʌmˈboʊlaɪz/ v. [T] if something symbolizes a quality, feeling, etc., it represents it: A wedding ring symbolizes a couple’s promises to each other.

sym·me·try /sɪmˈɛtrɪ/ n. [U] the quality of being the same size and shape —symmetrical adj.: Two are exactly the same size and shape. —symmetrically adv.: “I see the board and the city’s largest crime syndicate.”

syn·drome /sɪnˈdrɒm/ n. [plural syndromes /-drəʊsɪz/] [C] an unusual collection of physical or mental conditions that show you have a particular disease.

sym·po·thy /sɪmpəˈθɛ/ n. [plural sympathies] [C] a feeling of support for someone who is sad, hurt, lonely, etc.: I have absolutely no sympathy for students who get caught cheating on tests. | I’m sorry to hear Bill died; you have my deep sympathy. 2 support for someone’s plans, actions, ideas, etc.: I do have some sympathy with their aims.

syn·pho·ny /sɪnˈfɔni/ n. (plural symphonies) [C] Eng. Lang. Arts a long piece of music written for an orchestra. [origin: 1200—1300 Old French symphonie, from Latin symphonia, from Greek, from synphonos “sounding together”]

symp·tom /sɪmˈptəm/ n. [C] 1 a physical condition that shows you may have a particular disease: Common symptoms of diabetes are weight loss and fatigue. 2 a sign that a serious problem exists: Rising crime rates are another symptom of a society in trouble. [origin: 1500—1600 Latin symptomata, from Greek, “something that happens,” symptom = symptomatic /sɪmˈpɑlmətɪk/ adj.

syn·a·gogue /sɪnəˈgɑg/ n. [C] a building where Jewish people go to have religious services. [origin: 1100—1200 Old French synagogue, from Late Latin, from Greek “gathering of people, synagogue”] syn·on·ym /sɪnˈənɪm/ n. [C] a word that is exactly the same or nearly the same meaning as another word in the same language. For example, “sad” and “unhappy” are synonyms. —antonym [U] 1200—1300 Old Latin synonymum, from Greek, from synphonos “symphonous”] syn·on·y·mous /sɪnəˈnɪməs/ adj. 1 having a strong association with another quality, idea, situation, etc.: He thinks that being poor is synonymous with being a criminal. 2 Eng. Lang. Arts two words that are synonymous have the same or nearly the same meaning.

synop·sis /sɪˈnɒpəsɪs/ n. (plural synopses /sɪˈnɒpsɪz/) [C] Eng. Lang. Arts a short description of the main parts of a story. [origin: 1600—1700 Late Latin, Greek, from synopsethai “to be going to see together”] thesaurus —kind, nice, caring, warm-hearted, compassionate → Kind syn·tax /ˌsɪntæks/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the way that words are arranged in order to form sentences or phrases.

syn·the·sis /ˌsɪnθəˈzɪs/ n. (plural syntheses /ˌsɪnθəˈziːz/ [C]) the act of combining several things into a single complete unit, or the combination that is produced [Origin: 1400—1500 Greek syntith- enai “to put together”].

syn·the·sis·ter /ˌsɪnθəˈziːstər/ n. [C] an electronic musical instrument that can produce the sounds of various different musical instruments.

sys·tem·atic /ˈsɪstəmæˈtɪk/ adj. made from artificial substances, not natural ones: synthetic fabrics like acrylic and polyester —synthetically adv.

sys·tem·at·ic /ˈsɪstəmæˈtɪk/ adv. careful, methodical, thorough, meticulous, painstaking —carefully sys·tem·a·tic·al·ly /ˈsɪstəmæˈtɪkələli/ adv. organized carefully and done thoroughly: a systematic approach to training —systematically adv.

ttT

T, t /ti/ the twentieth letter of the English alphabet.

T /ti/ n. to a T (informal) exactly or perfectly: That dress fits you to a T.

tab /tæb/ n. [C] 1 an amount of money that you owe for a meal or drinks you have had, or for a service: Our lunch tab came to $53. | I’ll put it on your tab. | The city is picking up the tab for street repairs (is paying for them).

THE SAURUS bill, check ➔ BILL

2 keep tabs on sb/sth (informal) to carefully watch what someone or something is doing: The police are keeping close tabs on her. 3 a small piece of metal, plastic, or paper that you pull to open a container 4 a small piece of paper, cloth, plastic, etc. that sticks out from the edge of something, so that you can find it more easily tab·by /ˈtæbɪ/ n. (plural tabbies) [C] a cat with light and dark lines on its fur.

ta·ble /ˈteɪbəl/ n. (plural tables) (=put knives, forks, dishes, etc. on a table before a meal) 1 a group of things or parts that work together as a whole for a particular purpose: the public school system 2 a way of organizing or doing something: a filing system 3 a system of government 4 a system sb’s system someone’s body – used when you are talking about its medical or physical condition 5 get sth out of your system (informal) to do something that helps you stop feeling angry, annoyed, or upset 6 the system (informal) the official rules and powerful organizations that restrict what you can do: You can’t beat the system (=avoid or break the rules). 7 the digestive system ta·ble·spoon·ful /ˈteɪbəlsˈpʊf/ n. [C] 1 a piece of furniture with a flat top supported by legs: a picnic table 2 a table at a restaurant: Reserve a table for four and invite your sisters. 3 the whole table (=all the people sitting at a table in a restaurant) 4 turn the tables (on sb) to change a situation completely so that someone loses an advantage and you gain one [Origin: 1100—1200 Old French, Latin tabula “board, list”] ta·ble·spoon·ful /ˈteɪbəlsˈpʊf/ n. [C] 1 a large spoon used for measuring food 2 a large spoon used for eating or serving food.

ta·ble·spoon·ful /ˈteɪbəlsˈpʊf/ n. [C] a food used for covering a table.

thre·es·tle·tis /ˈθɜrəstətɪs/ n. (plural thre·es·tle·ties) MEDICINE a small round piece of medicine that you swallow (=pill) to cure a disease or infection —pill, capsule ➔ MEDICINE

2 a set of pieces of paper for writing on that are guessed together at the top

3 a flat piece of hard clay or stone that has words cut into it

tal·le n. [U] PING-PONG

tab·loid /ˈteɪbɔɪld/ n. [C] a newspaper that has small pages, a lot of photographs, short stories, and not much serious news → BRODSHEET → NEWSPAPER

ta·bo·o /ˈtaɪboʊ/ ta- n. (plural taboos) [C,U] a religious or social custom which means a particular activity or subject must be avoided → taboo adj.; a taboo subject ta·bu·late /ˈteɪbjuˌleɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to arrange facts, numbers, or information together in lists, rows, etc. → tabulation /ˈteɪbjuˌleɪʃən/ n. [U] tac·it /ˈtekst/ adj. tacit agreement, approval, or support is given without anything actually being said: Some people think there is a tacit agreement between the government and industry to not enforce environmental laws. → tacitly adv.

tac·i·turn /ˈtekstərən/ adj. a taciturn person does not talk a lot, and seems unfriendly tack /tæk/ also tack up v. [T] to attach something to a wall, board, etc. using a THUMB TACK

tack sth on [phr. v.] (informal) to add something new to something that is already complete: Joan tucked a few words on the end of my letter.

tack n. 1 [C,U] the way you deal with a particular situation or a method that you use to achieve something: If polite requests don’t work, you’ll have to try a different tack. 2 [C] a THUMB TACK.

tack le 1 /ˈtekstəl/ v. [T] 1 to try to deal with a difficult problem: The program is a new attempt to tackle homelessness.

2 to force someone to the ground to stop him/her from running, especially in football: Edwards was tackled on the play.

tack le 2 n. [C] the act of tackling someone. 2 [C] in football, one of the players who play on the outside of the GUARDS. 3 [U] the equipment used in some sports such as fishing tac·k·y /ˈteksi/ adj. 1 showing that you do not have good judgment about what is fashionable, socially acceptable, etc.: It’s kind of tacky to give her a present that someone else gave you. 2 cheaply made and of bad quality: tacky furniture 3 slightly sticky → tackiness n. [U] ta·co /ˈtakoʊ/ n. (plural tacos) [C] a type of Mexican food made from a TORTILLA, that is folded and filled with meat, beans, etc. [Origin: 1900—2000 Mexican Spanish, Spanish, “wad, snack”]

tact /tækt/ n. [U] the ability to say or do things carefully and politely so that you do not embarrass or upset someone tact·ful /ˈtæktfʊl/ adj. careful not to say or do something that will embarrass or upset someone else (and) tactless: There was no tactful way of saying what he wanted to say. → tactfully adv.

tac·tic /ˈtæktɪk/ n. 1 [C usually plural] a skillfully planned action used for achieving something: aggressive sales tactics 2 tactics [plural] the way in which soldiers, weapons, etc. are arranged in a battle tac·ti·cal /ˈtæktɪkəl/ adj. done in order to help you achieve what you want: His public statement was a tactical move to avoid criticism.

tact·less /ˈtæktɪsl/ adj. carelessly saying or doing things that are likely to upset someone ta·dle /ˈtædl/ v. (spoken) a tad a small amount: Could you turn up the sound just a tad?

ta·pole /ˈtæpdɔʊl/ n. [C] a small creature with a long tail that lives in water and grows into a FROG OR TOAD

tad·dy /ˈtædi/ n. [U] a type of soft CHEWY candy

tag /ˈtæɡ/ n. 1 [C] a small piece of paper, plastic, etc., attached to something to show what it is, who owns it, what it costs, etc.: I can’t find the price tag on these jeans. 2 [U] children’s game in which one player chases and tries to touch the others tag v. (tagged, tagging) [T] to attach a tag to something: Scientists have now tagged most of the bay’s seals.

tag along [phr. v.] (informal) to go somewhere with someone, especially when s/he has not invited you: Do you mind if I tag along?

ta·gai /ˈtaɪgə/ n. the taiga EARTH SCIENCES a forest of PINE trees (=trees with needle-shaped leaves) that stay on the tree in winter) between the TUNDRA and the STEPPES of northern Russia and Asia tail /ˈteɪl/ n. 1 [C] the movable part that sticks out at the back of an animal’s body: The dog wagged its tail. → see picture on page A2. 2 [C] the back part of an aircraft → see picture at AIRPLANE. 3 [C] the end or back part of something, especially something long and thin: the tail of a comet 4 tails a) [plural] a man’s jacket with two long parts that hang down the back, worn to formal events b) [U] the side of a coin that does not have a picture of someone’s head on it

5 the tail end of sth the last part of an event, situation, or period of time: the tail end of the century tail v. [T] (informal) to secretly watch and follow someone such as a criminal tailgate /ˈteɪlɡet/ n. [C] 1 a door at the back of a car or truck that opens out and down 2 a TAILGATE PARTY tailgate /ˈteɪlɡeɪt/ v. to drive too closely to the vehicle in front of you tailgate /ˈteɪlɡeɪt/ n. [C] 1 a party before a sports event or concert, where people eat and drink in the PARKING LOT of the place where the event is happening tail-light /ˈteɪllʌt/ n. [C] one of the two red lights at the back of a vehicle tail-lor /ˈteɪlər/ v. to tailor sth to/for sb to make something so that it is exactly what someone wants or needs: The music class is tailored to children.

tail-lor-′made /ˈteɪlərməd/ adj. 1 exactly right for someone or something: The job seems tailor-made for him. 2 made by a tailor: a tailor-made suit tail-pipe /ˈteɪlpɪp/ n. [C] a part of a car's EXHAUST tail-spin /ˈteɪlspɪn/ n. 1 in into a tailspin in or into a bad situation that keeps getting worse in a way that you cannot control: Raising interest rates could send the economy into a tailspin. 2 [C] an occasion when an airplane falls through the air, with the front pointing down and the back spinning in a circle taint /ˈteɪnt/ v. 1 to make someone or something seem less honest, respectable, or good: Her reputation was tainted by the scandal. 2 to damage something by adding an unwanted substance to it: The blood supplies were tainted with bacteria. —taint n. [C] taint-ed /ˈteɪntɪd/ adj. 1 a tainted substance is not safe because it is spoiled or contains poison: a tainted blood supply 2 affected or influenced by something illegal, dishonest, or morally wrong: tainted witnesses

Tai-wan-ese /ˌtaɪwaˈniːzə/ adj. relating to or coming from Taiwan take /teɪk/ v. (past tense took /tʊk/, past participle taken /ˈteɪkn/) [T] 1 MOVE to move someone or something from one place to another: Merritt was taken by ambulance to the nearest hospital. | Remember to take a jacket with you. | I was going to take some work home. 2 DO STH used with a noun to show that an action is being done: Here, take a look. | I'm going to take a shower first. | Would you mind taking a picture/photo of us? | The new rules take effect May 1. | He took the lead (=went into first place) on the final lap. 3 REMOVE to remove something from a particular place: Can you take the turkey out of the oven for me? 4 STEAL/BORROW to steal something or borrow something without asking someone’s permission: They took all her jewelry. 5 HOLD/PUT to get hold of something in your hands: Let me take your coat. 6 TIME/MONEY/EFFORT if something takes a particular amount of time, money, etc., that amount of time, money, etc. is needed in order for it to happen or succeed: It takes about three days to drive there. It'll take a lot of planning, but I think it can be done. 7 ACCEPT/RECEIVE to accept or receive something: Are you going to take the job? | Do you take Visa? | Take my advice and go see a doctor. | Why should I take the blame? 8 STUDY to study a particular subject: We had to take two years of English. 9 take a test/exam to write or do a test: I’m taking my driving test next week. 10 GET CONTROL to get possession or control of something: Rebel forces have taken control of the airport. | The communists took power in 1948. 11 ACCEPT STH BAD to accept a bad situation without becoming upset: Jeff can’t take the stress. She’s taken a lot of abuse from him. | His constant drinking was hard to take (=difficult to accept). 12 MACHINE/VEHICLE if a vehicle, machine, etc. takes a particular type of gas or battery, etc., you have to use that type of gas, battery, etc. in order for it to work: Most cars take unleaded gas. 13 MEDICINE/DRUG to swallow or inject a medicine or drug: He doesn’t smoke, drink, or take drugs (=use illegal drugs). | Why don’t you take an aspirin or something? 14 TRAVEL to use a car, bus, train, etc. to go somewhere, or to travel using a particular road: I’ll take the subway home. | Take Route 78 to Exit 18. 15 REACT/CONSIDER to react to someone or something or consider him, her, or it in a particular way: He takes his job very seriously. | Have you taken into consideration his points of view? | I didn’t mean for you to take what I said literally. 16 WRITE also take down to write down information: He’s not here; can I take a message? | Let me take down your phone number. 17 FEELINGS/REACTIONS to have a particular feeling or reaction when something happens: His family took the news pretty hard (=were very upset). | She doesn’t seem to take a lot of interest in her kids. 18 MEASURE to measure the amount, level, or rate of something: Sit here and we’ll take your blood pressure. 19 HAVE SPACE FOR SB/STH to have enough space to contain a particular number of people or things: The station wagon takes six people. 20 BUY to decide to buy something: He gave me a discount so I said I’d take it. 21 SIZE to wear a particular size of clothing or shoes: Jim takes an extra large shirt. 22 not take sth lying down to refuse to accept being treated badly 23 take it upon yourself to decide to do something even though no one has asked you to do it:

Parents have taken it upon themselves to raise extra cash for the school.

24 do you take sugar/milk/cream etc.? (spoken) used to ask someone whether s/he likes to have sugar or milk in a drink such as tea or coffee [Origins: 1000—1100 Old Norse takja] → take care at CARE, take care of sb/sth at CARE, take part at PART, take place at PLACE take after sb/sth

take after sb to look or behave like another member of your family: Jenny takes after her dad.

take sth ↔ apart phr. v.
to separate something into all its different parts (ant: put together): Vic took apart the faucet and put it in a new washer.

take sb/sth ↔ away phr. v.
to remove someone or something: One more speeding ticket and your license will be taken away. | He was taken away to begin a four-year prison sentence.

take sb/sth ↔ back phr. v.
1 to admit that you were wrong to say something: All right, I’m sorry, I take it back.
2 to return something to the store where you bought it because it does not fit, is not what you wanted, etc.

take sb/sth ↔ down phr. v.
to remove something from its place, especially by separating it into pieces (ant: put up): We take down the Christmas tree on January 6.

take in phr. v.
1 take sb/sth ↔ in to collect or earn an amount of money: We’ve taken in $700,000 so far for charity.
2 take sb/sth ↔ in to let someone or something stay in your house or a shelter, because she, he, or it has nowhere else to stay: The Humane Society took in almost 38,000 cats and dogs last year.
3 take sth ↔ in to notice, understand, and remember things: Babies take in an amazing amount of information.
4 take sth ↔ in to bring something to a place in order to be repaired: I need to take the car in for a tune-up.
5 take in sth to go to see something, such as a movie, play, etc.: Tourists come to New York to take in the sights.
6 be taken in (by sb) to be deceived by someone who lies to you: Don’t be taken in by his promises.
7 take sth ↔ in to make a piece of clothing fit you by making it narrower: If we take in the waist, the dress will fit you.

take off phr. v.
1 take sth ↔ off to remove something (ant: put on): Your name has been taken off the list. | Take your shoes off in the house.
2 if an aircraft takes off, it rises into the air from the ground (formal) to leave a place: We packed everything in the car and took off.
4 take time/a day/a week etc. off also take time, etc. off work to not go to work for a period of time: I’m taking some time off work to go to the wedding.
5 to suddenly become successful: He died just as his film career was taking off.

take on phr. v.
1 take sb ↔ on to compete or fight against someone: The winner of this game will take on Houston in the championship.
2 take on sth to begin to have a particular quality or appearance: Once we had children, Christmas took on a different sort of importance.
3 take sth ↔ on to start doing some work or to start being responsible for something: Ethel agreed to take on the treasurer’s position.
4 take sb ↔ on to start to employ someone: The team has taken on a new coach.

take out phr. v.
1 take sb out to go with someone to a restaurant, movie, party, etc., and pay for his/her meal and entertainment: We’re taking Sabina out for dinner.
2 take sth ↔ out to arrange to get something from a bank, court, insurance company, etc.: The couple took out a $220,000 mortgage.
3 take sth ↔ out on sb phr. v.
to treat someone badly when you are angry or upset, even though it is not his/her fault: Don’t take it out on me just because you’ve had a bad day.
4 take sth ↔ over phr. v.
to take control of something: His son will take over the business.

take to phr. v.
1 take to sb/sth to start to like someone or something: The two women took to each other right away.
2 take to doing sth to begin doing something regularly: Sandra has taken to getting up early to go jogging.

take up phr. v.
1 take sth ↔ up to begin doing a job or activity: I’ve just taken up tennis.
2 take sth ↔ up to fill a particular amount of time or space: The program takes up a lot of memory on the hard drive. | Our new car takes up the whole garage.
3 take sth ↔ up to begin discussing or considering something: The Senate will take up the bill in the next few weeks.

take sb up on sth phr. v.
to accept an offer, invitation, etc.: A number of students have taken him up on his offer of extra help.

take ↔ with sb phr. v.
to discuss something with someone, especially a complaint or problem: You should take it up with the police.

take ↔ n. [C] 1 an occasion when a scene for a movie or television program is filmed 2 [usually singular] (informal) the amount of money earned by a store or business in a particular period of time take ↔ /teik/ v. the past participle of take take-off /teikˌof/ n. 1 [C/U] the time when an airplane leaves the ground and begins to fly: The plane crashed shortly after takeoff. → see picture at LAND 2 [C] a funny performance that copies the style of a particular show, movie, or performer take-out /ˈteɪk-ət/ n. [C] 1 a meal you buy at a restaurant to eat at home 2 a restaurant that sells this food → take-out adj.

take-over /ˈteɪk-əʊvər/ n. [C] 1 the act of getting control of a company by buying over half of its STOCK 2 the act of getting control of a country or political group, often using force: a military take-over.

tal-cum powder /ˈtælkəm ˈpaʊdər/ n. [U] a powder which you put on your skin after washing to make it smell nice tale /tɛl/ n. [C] a story about imaginary events: a fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen | tales of adventure

THESAURUS story, myth, legend, fable, yarn → STORY talent /ˈtælənt/ n. 1 [C,U] a natural ability to do something well: great musical talent | his talent for painting | Vinny has a real talent for basketball.

THESAURUS flair, gift, aptitude → SKILLFUL

→ SKILLFUL

talented /ˈtæləntɪd/ adj. having a natural ability to do something well: a talented actor

2 [U] a person or people who have talent: The Marlins have some of the best young talent in baseball. [Origin: 1400–1500 talent unit of weight or money in the ancient world (9—21 centuries), from Latin talentum, from Greek talanton; from a story in the Bible in which a man gives talents to his three servants, and two of them use them well] talented adj. having a natural ability to do something well: a talented actor

2 [U] to discuss something with someone, especially something important: I’d like to talk with you in private. | Grandpa never talks about the war. | Those guys are always talking sports/business/politics etc. (=discussing them). 3 talk your way out of something (informal) to use excuses or explanations to escape from a bad situation: My brother always manages to talk his way out of trouble. 4 [I] to give a speech: Professor Wilson will talk on/about the recent election in Canada. 5 [I] to tell someone secret information because you are forced to: Prisoners who refused to talk were shot.

SPoken Phrases

6 talk tough (on sth) to tell people your opinions very strongly: The governor is talking tough on crime. 7 what are you talking about? used when you think what someone has said is stupid or wrong: What are you talking about? I paid you yesterday. 8 we’re you’re talking $500/three days etc. used to tell someone how much something will cost, how long something will take to do, etc.: We’re talking at least ten days to fix the car. 9 talk about funny/stupid/rich etc. said in order to emphasize that something is very funny, stupid, etc.: Talk about lucky. That’s the second time he’s won this week.

talk back phr. v. to rudely answer someone who is older or has more authority than you: Don’t talk back to your father!

talk down to phr. v. to speak to someone as if she is stupid, although she is not: He always explains things but never talked down to me.

talk sb into phr. v. to persuade someone to do something: Maybe I can talk Vicky into driving us to the mall.

talk sb out of phr. v. to persuade someone not to do something: Brenda talked me out of quitting my job.

talk sth ↔ over phr. v. to discuss a problem with someone before deciding what to do talk n. 1 [C] a conversation: Steve and I had a long talk last night. | I need to have a talk with Siconne. 2 talks (plural) formal discussions between governments, organizations, etc.: the latest trade talks 3 [C] a speech: Mr. Mason will be giving a talk on/about the Civil War. 4 [U] news that is not official or not completely true: There was tal·ly  /tækl/ n. [C] a record of how many things are there:

1. a list of yardage scored in a football match
2. a list of the number of goals scored in a hockey match
3. a record of how many things are there:

-tally, -tally  v. [T] to add up something:
1. to add up the scores in a football match
2. to add up the number of goals scored in a hockey match

-tally, -tally  adj.:
1. tallied

used to talk about the height of people and things:
1. a tall man
2. a tall building

v. [T] to make something tall:
1. to make a tree taller
2. to make a building taller

adj.:
1. tall
2. tall

n.
1. a tall tale
2. a tall order
3. a tall story

USAGE
Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. She's only five feet tall.
2. The building is 10 stories tall.

Use tall to talk about other narrow objects:
1. A tall narrow window.
2. A tall narrow vase.

Use tall to talk about buildings:
1. The tallest building in the city.
2. The tallest building in the world.

Use tall to talk about mountains, walls, fences, etc.:
1. The tallest mountain in the world.
2. The tallest wall in the world.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. He's a tall man.
2. She's a tall woman.

Use tall to talk about the height of people and things:
1. The tallest building in the world.
2. The tallest building in the city.

Use tall to talk about how far something is from:
1. The tall grass.
2. The tall trees.

Use tall to talk about how much something is:
1. The tall man.
2. The tall woman.

Use tall to talk about how high something is:
1. The tall building.
2. The tall tree.
tangled /'tæŋgəld/ adj 1 twisted together in a messy way: The phone cord is all tangled up. 2 complicated and confusing: tangled emotions tango /'tæŋgou/ n. (plural tangos) [C] a dance from South America with smooth movements and sudden pauses, or the music for this dance tank /tæŋk/ n. 1 a large container for holding liquid or gas: a fish tank | a car's gas tank 2 a heavy military vehicle with a large gun and metal belts over its wheels [Origin: 1600—1700 Portuguese tanque "poot"]

tankard /tæŋkərd/ n. [C] a large metal cup used for drinking beer

tankard /tæŋkərd/ n. [C] a large metal cup used for drinking beer
tankard /tæŋkərd/ n. [C] a large metal cup used for drinking beer tan-ta-mount /'tæntəmaʊnt/ adv be fantastically mount to sth to be almost the same thing as something else that is bad: His refusal to speak was tantamount to admitting he was guilty.
tan-trum /'tæntrum/ n. [C] if someone, especially a child, throws or has a tantrum, s/he suddenly becomes very angry, noisy, and unreasonable: temper tantrums tao-ism /'təʊəzəm/ , dau-/ [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE a way of thought developed in ancient China, based on the writings of Lao Tzu, emphasizing a natural and simple way of life

tap /tæp/ n 1. [T] to gently hit your fingers or foot against something: Someone was tapping on the window outside. | Caroline tapped her feet in time to the music. | He turned as someone tapped him on the shoulder.  2 [T] to put a tap on someone's telephone: Murray began to suspect that his phone had been tapped.
tap /tæp/ v (tapped tapping) 1 [I,T] to gently hit your fingers or foot against something: Someone was tapping on the window outside. | Caroline tapped her feet in time to the music. | He turned as someone tapped him on the shoulder.  2 [T] to use or take what you need from a supply of something: With the Internet you can tap into information from around the world. | We need to tap the country's natural resources without destroying the environment.  3 [T] to put a tap on someone's tap dance /'tæp dans/ n. [U] a type of dancing in which you wear shoes with pieces of metal on the bottom, which make a sound as you move — tap dance v. [I] tape /tæp/ n. 1 a) [U] a thin narrow band of plastic material used for recording sounds or video pictures → videotape: Did you get the interview on tape (=recorded on tape)? b) [C] a flat plastic case that contains this type of tape: I'll listen to the tape tomorrow. | a blank tape (one with nothing recorded on it)  2 [C,U] a narrow band of sticky material used for sticking things together  3 Scotch tape: A photo was stuck to the wall with tape.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape "videotape: Did you tape the movie?"  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

tape /tæp/ v. 1 [T] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ adj 1 a) [U] to record sounds or pictures onto a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 [T] to stick something onto something else using tape: He has lots of postcards taped to his wall.

tape /tæp/ phr.v. 1 (tape recording) to record sounds or pictures on a tape → videotape: Did you tape the movie?  2 (tape up) to firmly tie a bandage around an injury

[THESAURUS]
hit, knock, bang, rap → HIT

3 [T] also tape up to firmly tie a bandage around an injury tarp /tɑːp/ n. [U] a heavy cloth or piece of thick plastic that water cannot go through, used to protect things from the rain tar·ry /ˈtərri/ (literary) v. (tarried, tarrying) [T] to stay in a place too long, or delay going somewhere tart /tɑːrt/ adj. tart food has a sour taste; tart green apples tart·ed /ˈtaːrtɪd/ v. tarred, tarring [T] to cover something with tar tar·get /ˈtɑːɡət/ n. [C.U] a large hairy brown substance that is produced when tobacco burns tar·get·ted /ˈtɑːɡətɪd/ v. targeted on/at [T] to aim something at someone or something: Are the missiles targeted on/at American cities? 2 to make something have an effect on a limited group or area: Which welfare programs are targeted at the unemployed? 3 to choose a particular person or place to attack: Thieves have targeted smaller banks with less security.

tar·get·less /ˈtɑːɡətlɪs/ adj. —targetlessness n. [U] a hard substance that forms on teeth, damaging them tar·get·line /ˈtɑːɡətlɪn/ n. [C.U] a line that is used to aim something at someone or something: The schools target of $2 million in sales. 2 it will take a lot of hard work to meet (achieve) our target this year.

tar·get·less·ly /ˈtɑːɡətlɪsli/ adv. without a target, usually without a top, usually containing fruit tar·get·less·ly /ˈtɑːɡətlɪsli/ adv. without an aim or result that you try to achieve: We’re trying to reach a target of $2 million in sales. 2 it will take a lot of hard work to meet (achieve) our target this year.

tar·get·less·ly /ˈtɑːɡətlɪsli/ adv. without a top, usually containing fruit

tar·get·less·ly /ˈtɑːɡətlɪsli/ adv. without an aim or result that you try to achieve: We’re trying to reach a target of $2 million in sales. 2 it will take a lot of hard work to meet (achieve) our target this year.
taste /tæst/ n. [C] a bitter/sour/sweet, etc. taste | He no longer has any sense of taste or smell.

thesaurus

- delicious – very good
- sweet – like sugar
- tasty – having a pleasant taste, but not sweet
- sour – like a lemon (=yellow fruit)
- salty – containing a lot of salt
- hot/spicy – containing spices that give you the feeling that your mouth is burning
- bland – not having an interesting taste

2 [C, U] be the kind of things that someone likes: We have similar tastes in clothes. | She never lost her taste for travel. 3 [U] your judgment when you choose clothes, decorations, etc.: She has really good taste in music. 4 [C usually singular] a small amount of a food or drink, eaten to find out what it is like: Here, have a taste and tell me what you think. 5 be in good/bad/poor taste to be appropriate or inappropriate for a particular occasion: The joke was in very bad taste. 6 a taste of sth a short experience of something: The trip gave us a taste of life on board a ship.

taste /tæst/ v. 1 [I] to have a particular type of taste: The chicken tastes really good. | This milk tastes a little sour. ▶ Don’t say “it is tasting.” | ▶ What does the soup taste like (=how would you describe its taste)? 2 [T] to put a small amount of food or drink in your mouth in order to find out what it is like: Taste this and see if it needs more salt. 3 [T] to recognize the taste of a food or drink: My cold’s so bad I can’t taste a thing. ▶ Don’t say “I am not tasting.”

tasteful /tæstfəl/ adj. chosen, decorated, or made with good taste: Frank was dressed in casual but tasteful clothes. —tastefully adv. —tastefully furnished apartment tasteless /tæstləs/ adj. 1 chosen, decorated, or made with bad taste: tasteless jokes 2 tasteless food is unpleasant because it does not have a strong taste taster /tæster/ n. [C] someone whose job is to test the quality of a food or drink by tasting it: wine tasters tasting /tæstɪŋ/ n. [C] an event where you can try different kinds of food and drinks: a cheese tasting tasty /tæstɪ/ adj. having a very good taste: a tasty meal

thesaurus

- delicious, sweet, sour, salty, hot, spicy, bland → TASTE

tattered /tætərd/ adj. old and torn: tattered curtains tatters /tætərz/ n. in tatters a) clothes that are in tatters and old and torn b) completely ruined: All his great plans lay in tatters.

tattle /tætl/ v. [I] if a child tattles, s/he tells a parent or teacher that another child has done something bad tattle-tale /tætəl, tɛl/ n. [C] (spoken) someone who tattles tattoo /tætəʊ/ n. (plural tattoos) [C] a picture, word, etc. that is put permanently onto your skin using a needle and ink: He has a tattoo of a snake on his left arm. [origin: 1700—1800 Tahitian (the language spoken on the Pacific island of Tahiti) tatu] —tattooed adj. —tattoo v. [T] taunt /tɔnt, tɔnt/ v. [T] to try to make someone upset or angry by saying something unkind: The other kids taunted him about his weight. —taunt n. [C]

Bull /bʊl/ n. 1 [U] the second sign of the zodiac, represented by a bull. 2 [C] someone born between April 20 and May 20 taut /tɔt/ adj. 1 stretched tight: a taut rope 2 seeming worried: a taut look on his face —tautly adv.

tautology /tɔtələdʒi/ n. (plural tautologies) [C,U] (technical) a statement in which you say the same thing twice using different words in a way that is not necessary, for example “He sat alone by himself.” —tautological adj. —tautologically adv.

tavern /tɔˈvɛrn/ n. [C] a bar [origin: 1200—1300 Old French taverne, from Latin taberna “small simple building, shop”]

tawdry /tɔˈdri/ adj. cheap and of bad quality: tawdry jewelry —tawdriness n. [U] tawny /ˈtɔni/ adj. having a light gold-brown color: a lion’s tawny fur tax /tæks/ n. [C,U] the money you must pay the government, based on how much you earn, what you buy, where you live, etc.: a 15% tax on cigarettes | Everyone who works pays tax. | The city will have to raise taxes to pay for the roads. | If elected, she promised to cut taxes. | I only earn $25,000 a year after taxes (=after paying tax). | A tax increase/cut [origin: 1200—1300 Old French taxer “to make a judgment about, tax,” from Latin taxare “to feel, make a judgment about, blame”] taxation /tækˈseɪʃən/ n. [U] economics the system of charging taxes, or the money collected from taxes tax base n. [C usually singular] 1 economics all the people and companies who pay tax, and the total amount they pay 2 economics income, goods, and property on which people or companies must pay tax tax-exempt adj. not taxed, or not having to pay tax: tax-exempt savings | a tax-exempt charity taxi /ˈtɛksi/ n. (plural taxis) also taxi-cab /ˈtɛksiˌkæb/ [C] a cab ➔ see picture at TRANSPORTATION taxi /ˈtɛksi/ v. (past tense and past participle taxed, third person singular taxes or taxeds, present participle tax-ing) [I] if an airplane taxis, it moves slowly on the ground before taking off or after landing taxi-der·my /ˈtɛksiˌdɜrmi/ n. [U] the process or skill of filling the body of a dead animal, bird, or fish with a special material so that it looks alive tax·ing /ˈtɛksɪŋ/ adj. needing a lot of effort: a taxing job taxi stand n. [C] a place where taxis wait in order to get passengers tax·on·o·my /ˌtɛksəˈnəmi/ n. (plural taxonomies) [C,U] a system of different groups according to the features that they share, and of giving them names ➔ taxonomic /ˌtɛksəˈnæmɪk/ adj. Both species are members of the same taxonomic family as shrimp.

tax·pay·er /ˈtɛksɨˌpɛər/ n. [C] someone who pays taxes tax·shelter n. [C] a plan or method that allows you to legally avoid paying taxes TB the abbreviation of TUBERCULOSIS tbsp. the written abbreviation of TABLESPOON tea /tiː/ n. 1 a) [C]U a drink made by pouring boiling water onto dried leaves, or a cup of this drink: a cup of tea | We’ll have two teas and a coffee, please. b) [I] dried leaves used for making tea 2 mint/herbal etc. tea a hot drink made by pouring boiling water onto the leaves or flowers of a particular plant [Origin: 1600–1700 Chinese i.e.]
tea bag n. [C] a small paper bag with dried leaves in it, used for making tea teach /tiːʃ/ v. (past tense and past participle taught /tiːtʃt/) 1 [I,U] to give someone lessons, especially in a school or college: | Mr. Rochet has been teaching for 17 years. She teaches math at Jackson High School. | Firstly, we teach the children to read. | All students are taught basic computer skills. | We teach students about the dangers of drugs. 2 [T] to tell or show someone how to do something: Can you teach me one of your card tricks? | My dad taught me (how) to swim. 3 teach sb a lesson (informal) to punish someone for something s/he has done, so that s/he will not want to do it again [Origin: Old English hrēcan “to show, teach”] teach·er /ˈtiːʃər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to teach: my history teacher teacher’s ‘pet n. [C] a child who everyone thinks is the teacher’s favorite student and is therefore disliked by the other students teach·ing /ˈtiːʃɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] the work that a teacher does, or the profession of being a teacher: I’d like to go into teaching (=become a teacher) when I finish college. 2 also teachings plural the moral, religious, or political ideas spread by a particular person or group: the teachings of the Buddha tea·cup /ˈtiːkʌp/ n. [C] a cup that you serve tea in tea·kettle /ˈtiːkɛtl/ n. [C] U a very hard yellowish-brown wood that is used for making ships and good quality furniture, or the tree that this wood comes from team /tiːm/ adj. a group of people who compete against another group in a sport, game, etc.: Which team is winning? | a baseball/football etc. team ➔ GROUP 2 a group of people who are chosen to work together to do a particular job: a team of doctors | The children must work as a team to solve the problem.

team·mate /ˈtiːmmeɪt/ n. [C] someone who plays or works on the same team as you team·player n. [C] someone who works well as a member of a team team·ster /ˈtiːmstər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to drive a truck team·work /ˈtiːmwɜːk/ n. [U] the ability of a group to work well together, or the effort the group makes tea·pot /ˈtiːpat/ n. [C] a container used for serving tea, that has a handle and a SPOUT tear /tɛər/ v. (past tense tore /tɔːr/, past participle torn /tɔːrn/) 1 [I,U] if you tear paper, cloth, etc., or if it tears, you make a hole in it or it breaks into small pieces | You’ve torn your sleeve. | He tore the envelope open. | Oh no, I tore a hole in my jeans! | Someone had torn some pages out of the book. | Be careful, you don’t want your dress to tear! ➔ BREAK 2 [T] to pull something violently by a particular person or group: The storm actually tore the door off its hinges. 3 [I] to move very quickly, often in a careless or dangerous way: Two kids came tearing around the corner.

teacher's pet

run, sprint, dash, race ➔

run

THES AURUS
A teacher is usually someone who works in a school: Marie is a high school teacher.
A teacher can also be someone who helps a person learn something: a guitar teacher
A professor, lecturer, or an instructor teaches in a university or college: A professor has a higher rank than a lecturer or an instructor.
An instructor is also someone who teaches a sport or practical skill such as swimming or driving: a driving instructor ➔ SCHOOL, UNIVERSITY run

THES AURUS
run, sprint, dash, race

run
tear apart  phr. v. 1 tear sth ↔ apart to make a group, organization, etc. start having problems: The scandal is tearing the company apart. 2 tear apart to make someone feel extremely unhappy or upset: It tore me apart to see her leave.

tear sth ↔ down  phr. v. to deliberately destroy a building: The old high school was torn down in the early '90s.

tear into  sb/sth  phr. v. (informal) to strongly criticize someone or something: Then he started tearing into her for spending too much money.

tear ↔ up  phr. v. to tear a piece of paper or cloth into small pieces: He tore up all of Linda's old letters.

1 tear  [ɪər] n. [C] a drop of liquid that comes out of your eyes when you cry: She ran away with tears in her eyes. | Suddenly Brian burst into tears (=started crying).

2 tear  [ɪər] n. [C] a hole in a piece of paper, cloth, etc. where it has been torn: There was a tear in his shirt.

tear-drop  [ˌtɪərdrɒp] n. [C] a single tear tearful  /ˈtɪərfl/ adj. crying or almost crying tease  [tiːz] v. 1 [T] to make jokes about someone in order to embarrass or annoy him/her because you think it is funny: Don't cry. I was just teasing. 2 [I] to comb your hair in the wrong direction so that it looks thicker tease  [teɪs] n. [C] someone who enjoys teasing people tea-spoon  [ˈtiːspʌn] n. [C] 1 [written abbreviation tsp.] a small spoon used for stirring a cup of tea or coffee. 2 a) a special spoon used for measuring food. b) also tea-spoonful  [ˈtiːspʌnfʊl] the amount this spoon holds teat  [tiːt] n. [C] a nipple on a female animal techni-cal  /ˈteknaɪkl/ adj. 1 relating to the practical skills, knowledge, and methods used in science or industry: Technical experts will look into the cause of the crash. 2 relating to a particular subject or profession: a legal document full of technical terms techni-cal-ly  /ˈteknaɪklɪ/ adv. 1 according to the exact details of a rule or law: Technically, he's responsible for fixing all the damage. 2 relating to the way machines are used in science and industry: a technically advanced engine tech-ni-cian  /tekˈnjɪʃn/ n. [C] a skilled scientific or industrial worker: a lab technician tech-nique  /tekˈnɪk/ n. [C] a special skill or way of doing something: new techniques for teaching English | Tiger Woods is regarded as a golfer with excellent technique.

techno-log-i-cal  /tekˈnəlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. The twentieth century was a time of rapid technological change.

techno-log-i-cal-ly  /tekˈnəlɒdʒɪklɪ/ adv. a technically advanced country tec-ton-ic plate  /tekˈtɒnɪk plɪt/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES one of the very large areas of rock that form the surface of the Earth, and that move around in relation to each other in a way that can cause EARTHQUAKES, etc.

teddy bear  /ˈteddi bɛər/ n. [C] a soft toy shaped like a bear (origin: 1900—2000 from Theodore (Teddy) Roosevelt (1858-1919), U.S. president, who liked hunting bears) te-di-ous  /ˈtiːdiəs/ adj. boring, and continuing for a long time: a tedious discussion te-di-um  /ˈtiːdiəm/ n. [U] the quality of being tedious tee  [tiː] n. [C] a small object used for holding a golf ball, or the raised area from which you hit the ball teem  /tiːm/ v. to make full of people or animals that are all moving around: The lake teemed with fish. —teeming adj.: the teeming streets of Cairo teen  /tiːn/ n. [C, plural teens] 1 a teenager (informal) a) a person between 13 and 19 years old: She got married when she was still in her teens. —teen adj.

—teen-age  /ˈtiːnɪdʒi/ adj. between 13 and 19 years old, or relating to someone who is: teenage pregnancy | our teenage son • Don’t say “our son is teenage.”

teen-age  /ˈtiːnɪdʒi/ adj. between 13 and 19 years old tee-shirt  /ˈtiːʃɜrt/ n. [C] a T-SHIRT tee-ter  /ˈtiːtər/ v. [I] 1 to move or stand in an unsteady way: She stood there, teetering in her new high-heeled shoes. 2 be teetering on the brink/edge of a sth to be very likely to become involved in a dangerous situation: The country is teetering on the brink of revolution.

tell /tel/ v (T) [T] to broadcast something on television: Is the game going to be televised?

televis /‘telɪvɪz/ [v] [T] to broadcast something on television: Is the game going to be televised?

televisión /‘telɪsɪvʊn/ also TV n 1 also television set [C] a piece of electronic equipment shaped like a box with a screen, on which you can watch programs: Will you turn on/off the television? 2 [U] the programs that you can watch and listen to on a television: He’s been watching television all day. | What’s on television tonight?

thESAURUS

Types of television programs

- movie/film: There’s a good movie on Channel 7 at 9 o’clock.
- soap opera—a program that is on TV regularly, often every day, about the same group of people
- sitcom—a funny TV program which has the same people in it every week in a different story
- game show—a program in which people play games in order to try and win prizes
- talk show—a program in which people answer questions about themselves
- cartoon—a movie or program that uses characters that are drawn and not real
- drama series—a set of TV programs about the same group of people or about a particular subject, shown regularly; a new drama series about cops and lawyers
- documentary—a program that gives information about a subject
- the news—the 6 o’clock news

topic

When you want to watch TV, you look in the TV guide (a list of TV programs) to see what’s on. When you decide which program/show you want to watch, you turn on the TV, usually by using a remote control. Many people just turn on the TV and change channels (= television stations) until they find a program they want to watch. If you change channels a lot, you can call it channel hopping/surfing. A lot of people have cable TV or satellite TV, which gives them a lot of channels to choose from. People who watch a lot of TV are sometimes called couch potatoes.

3 [U] the activity of making and broadcasting programs on television: a job in television [origin: 1900—2000 French télévision, from Greek telestheikon “seeing a long way,” from telos “far away” + skopein “watcher”]

tell /tel/ v (past tense and past participle told /toul/) 1 INFORMATION [T] to give someone facts or information in speech or writing: Tell Mark (that) I said hi. | Did you tell Jennifer about the party? | Could you tell me how to make that cheesecake? | She wouldn’t tell me why she was angry. | I don’t think he’s telling the truth. | Dad used to tell us bedtime stories.

1 INFORMATION [T] to give someone facts or information in speech or writing: Tell Mark (that) I said hi. | Did you tell Jennifer about the party? | Could you tell me how to make that cheesecake? | She wouldn’t tell me why she was angry. | I don’t think he’s telling the truth. | Dad used to tell us bedtime stories.
There's not telling how long it will take. There's not telling what/how/whether etc. it's cold.

8 recording.

used in order to say that it is impossible to know what has happened or what will happen next: There's no telling how long it will take.

8 all told in total: All told, 40,000 airline workers have lost their jobs this year.

9 STH WRONG [L,T] (spoken) to tell someone in authority about something wrong that someone else has done: I was afraid my little sister would tell on us.

SPOKEN PHRASES

10 (I'll) tell you what said in order to suggest something: Tell you what, call me on Friday, and we'll make plans then.

11 I tell you/I'm telling you/let me tell you said in order to emphasize something: I'm telling you, the gossip in this place is unbelievable!

12 tell me about it said in order to say that you already know how bad something is: “She's so arrogant!” “Yeah, tell me about it.”

13 (I) told you (so) said when someone does something you have warned him/her about, and it has a bad result: I told you. You can't trust her.

14 to tell you the truth said in order to emphasize that you are being honest: I don't know how you cope, to tell you the truth.

15 you never can tell you can never tell used in order to say that you can never be certain about what will happen in the future: They're not likely to win, but you never can tell.

[Origin: Old English tellian]

tell so apart phr. v.
to be able to see the difference between two people or things, even though they are similar: Carol puts the twins in different color booties so you can tell them apart.

tell sb off phr. v.
to talk angrily to someone when she has done something wrong: She told him off in front of the whole office.

tell-er /'telər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to receive and pay out money in a bank tell-ing /'telɪŋ/ adj. a remark that is telling shows what you really think, although you may not intend it to tell-tale /'telət/ adj. clearly showing something has happened or exists, often something that is a secret: What are the telltale signs of drug addiction?

tem·pe·rate /ˈtemprət/ n. [U] (formal) the quality of doing or saying something even though you know it may offend or annoy someone or get you in trouble: He had the temerity to criticize me!

tem·per·a·ment /ˈtemprəmənt/ n. [C,U] the part of your character that makes you likely to be happy, angry, sad, etc.: a baby with a calm temperament tem·per·a·men·tal /ˈtemprəməntəl/ adj. 1 tending to get upset, excited, or angry very easily 2 a temperamental machine does not always work correctly tem·per·er·ance /ˈtemprərəns/ n. [U] the practice of not drinking alcohol tem·per·a·ment·ry /ˈtemprəməntrē/ n. [C] usually singular history a group of people whose aim was to prevent or strictly limit the drinking of alcohol, especially in the late 1800s and early 1900s tem·per·ate /ˈtemprət/ adj. weather or a part of the world that is temperate is never very hot or very cold: a temperate climate tem·per·a·ture /ˈtemprətʃər/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES one of the two parts of the Earth that are between the POLAR ZONES and the TROPIES, where the weather is not usually very hot nor very cold tem·per·a·ture·zone /ˈtemprətʃərˌzoʊn/ n. [C,U] how hot or cold something is: Water freezes at a temperature of 32°F. The temperature rose to 102 tempest /tɛmˈpest/ n. [C] (literary) a violent storm tempestuous /tɛmˈpɛstʃuəs/ adj. always full of strong emotions: a tempestuous relationship template /tɛmˈplæt/ n. [C] 1 a sheet of paper, plastic, or metal in a particular shape, used in order to help you cut other materials in the same shape 2 if a computer document that you use as a model for producing many similar documents tempest /tɛmˈpest/ n. [C] 1 a building where people go to worship in some religions: a Buddhist temple 2 usually plural one of the two fairly flat areas on each side of your forehead [Origin: (1) 800—900 Latin templum] temper /tɛmˈpɛr/ n. (plural tempers) 1 the speed at which something happens [see pace]: the tempo of city life 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the speed at which music is played temporary /tɛmˈpərərē/ adj. existing or happening for only a limited period of time [ant. permanent]: a temporary visa | Linda was employed on a temporary basis. [Origin: (1) 1500—1600 Latin temporarius, from tempus “time”] 2 temporarily /tɛmˈpərərēl/ adv. the library is temporarily closed.

tempt /tɛmpt/ v. 1 [T] to persuade someone to do something by making it seem attractive: They’re offering free gifts to tempt people to join. 2 be tempted to do sth to consider doing something that may not be a good idea: I was tempted to correct him, but I didn’t want to hurt his feelings. 3 tempted fate to say or do something that may cause problems —tempting adj. a tempting offer temporary attachment /tɛmˈpərərē ə tʃəˈtɛnʃən/ n. [CU] 1 a strong desire to have or do something even though you know you should not: I had to resist the temptation to slap her. I finally gave in to temptation and had a cigarette. 2 something that you want to have or do, even though you know you should not: The candy at the check-out counter is a temptation to children.
ten /tɛn/ n. 10 2 ten o’clock: I have a meeting at ten. 3 ten years old: He’s ten next week. [Origin: Old English tiēn] ten,1 /tɛn/ adj. a piece of paper money worth $10 ten,2 /ˌtɛnəˈble/ adj. (formal) 1 a tenable belief, argument, etc. is reasonable and can be defended successfully: The new discovery makes this theory less tenable. 2 a tenable situation can continue because any problems can be dealt with: Continuing to fight in Vietnam no longer seemed tenable.
tenacious /tɛnəˈʃəs/ adj. very determined to do something, and unwilling to stop trying —tenaciously adv. —tenacity /tɛnəˈsɑːti/ n. [U] tenancy /tɛnənsi/ n. (plural tenancies) [C, U] the period of time that someone rents a house, room, etc., or the right to use a house, room, etc. that has been rented tenant /tɛnənt/ n. [C] someone who lives in a house, room, etc. and pays rent to the person who owns it ➔ LANDLORD: The desk was left by the previous tenant.
tenancy farmer n. [C] someone who farms land that is rented from someone else tend /tɛnd/ v. 1 tend to do sth to be likely to do a particular thing: People tend to need less sleep as they get older. 2 [T] also tend to sb/sth to take care of someone or something: Rescue teams were tending to the survivors.
tendency /tɛndənsi/ n. (plural tendencies) 1 if someone or something has a tendency to do something, she is likely to do it: He has a tendency to talk too much. 2 the way in which a situation is beginning to develop or change that is happening to it: There is a tendency for men to marry younger women.
tender /ˈtendər/ adj. 1 gentle in a way that shows love: a tender look. 2 a tender part of your body is painful if someone touches it: My arm is still tender where I bruised it.
tender2 /ˈtendər/ v. [T] (formal) to formally offer something to someone: Maria has tendered her resignation (=officially said that she is going to leave her job).
tender-hearted /ˈtendər ˈhɑrɪtvɪd/ adj. very kind and gentle tender /ˈtendər/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a thick strong part inside your body that connects a muscle to a bone tendril /ˈtendrɪl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a thin curling piece on the stem of a climbing plant, by which the plant fastens to a wall tenement /tɛnəmɛnt/ n. [C] a large building divided into apartments, especially in a poor area of a city tenet /ˈtɛnt/ n. [C] a principle or belief: the tenets of Buddhism tennis /ˈtenɪs/ n. [U] a game in which two or four tennis shoe

people use rackets to hit a ball to each other across a net tennis shoe n [C] a light shoe used for sports ten-or /tenyor/ n 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a male singer with a high voice 2 the tenor of sth (formal) the general meaning or quality of something: the tenor of the president's speech

T

THE S A U RUS

worried, anxious, nervous →

2 tense muscles feel tight and stiff —tensely adv: She leaned forward tensely, listening.

tense2 also tense up v [T] to become tight and stiff, or to make your muscles do this tense3 n [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, one of the forms of a verb that shows actions or states in the past, the present, or in the future. For example, “he studied” is in the past tense, “he studies” is in the present tense, and “he will study” is in the future tense.

tension /tenʃən/ [A] n 1 [C,U] the feeling that exists when people do not trust each other and may suddenly attack each other or start arguing: the racial tension in American society | tension between the union workers and management 2 [U] nervous and anxious feeling: The room was filled with tension as students waited for their exams. 3 [U] tightness or stiffness in a wire, rope, muscle, etc.: Muscle tension can be a sign of stress. 4 [C,U] a difficult situation in which different needs or ideas affect the situation in opposite ways: the tension between preserving civil liberties and increasing national security 5 [C,U] the amount of force that stretches something: How much tension can the wire bear before snapping?

tent /tent/ n [C] a shelter that you can easily move, made of cloth or plastic and supported by poles and ropes: Where should we pitch the tent? (= put up the tent)?

ten-tacle /'tenækəl/ n [C] BIOLOGY one of the long thin parts like arms of a sea creature such as an octopus ten-ta-tive /'tɛntətɪv/ adj 1 not definite or certain: tentative plans 2 done without confidence: a tentative smile —tentatively adv tenth /'tentθ/ number 10th ten-u-ous /'tenjuəs/ adj: a situation or relationship that is tenuous is uncertain, weak, or likely to change: There is only a tenuous connection between the two events. —tenuously adv ten-ure /'tenjuər/ n [U] 1 the right to stay permanently in a teaching job at a university 2 (formal) the period of time when someone has an important job: the Mayor’s tenure in office tee-pee, teepee /'tipə/ n [C] a round tent used by some Native Americans [Origin: 1700—1800 Dakota Sioux tipi, from ti “to live in a place” + pi “to use for”] ten-ν-id /'tenpɪd/ adj tepid liquid is slightly warm te-qui-la /tə'kiːlə/ n [U] a strong alcoholic drink made in Mexico [Origin: 1800—1900 Spanish Tequila area of Mexico]

ter-a-byte /'terəˌbiːt/ n [C] IT a unit for measuring the amount of information a computer can store or use, equal to about a TRILLION BYTES term1 /tɜrm/ n [C] 1 in terms of sth if you explain something in terms of a particular fact or event, you talk about it only in relation to that fact or event and no others: In terms of sales the book hasn't been very successful. 2 in financial/artistic etc. terms if you describe or consider something in financial, etc. terms, you are thinking of it in a financial, etc. way: A million years isn’t a very long time in geological terms.

3 WORD/EXPRESSION a word or expression that has a particular meaning, especially in a technical or scientific subject: I don’t understand these legal/medical/technical terms.

4 CONDITIONS terms [plural] the conditions of an agreement, contract, legal document, etc.: Under the terms of the agreement, the debt will be repaid over twenty years.

5 be on good/bad/friendly etc. terms (with sb) to have a particular type of relationship with someone: He hasn’t been on good terms with his father for years.

6 SCHOOL/COLLEGE one of the periods that a school or college year is divided into: QUARTER, SEMESTER: When does the spring term start?

7 PERIOD OF TIME a fixed period of time during which someone does something or something happens: The president hopes to be elected for a second term. | Reynolds could get a prison term of up to 85 years.

8 be on speaking terms to be able to talk to someone and have a friendly relationship with him/her: We’re barely on speaking terms now.

9 come to terms with sth to understand and deal with a difficult situation: It was hard to come to terms with Marie’s death.

10 in the long/short term during a long or short period from now: The company’s prospects look better in the long term. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French termes “edge, limit, end,” from Latin terminus] term2 v [T] (formal) to use a particular word or phrase to describe something: The meeting could hardly be termed a success.

ter-mi-na-li ty /'tɛrmɪnəlɪti/ n [C] a terminal illness cannot be cured, and causes death: terminal cancer —terminally adv: terminally ill terminal2 n [C] 1 a big building where you go to get onto airplanes, buses, or ships: Our flight leaves from Terminal B. 2 it a computer KEYBOARD and screen connected to a computer that is somewhere else children were terrified of the dog. We were terrified that the bridge would collapse.

thesaurus

frightened, afraid, scared, petrified, fearful ➔ FRIGHTENED

---

terrestrial /təˈrɪstrəl/ adj. 1 [only before noun] relating to land or ocean that is owned or controlled by a particular country: U.S. territorial waters. 2 territorial animals or people closely guard the place they consider to be their own.

thesaurus

area, region ➔ AREA

2 [U] land of a particular type: At that time the western part of America was unexplored territory. 3 [C] land that belongs to a country, but is not a state, province, etc.: the U.S. territory of Guam. 4 [C] the area that an animal considers to be its own. 5 [U] a particular area of experience or knowledge: We are in unfamiliar/uncharted territory (=an area that we do not yet know about) with the new drug. 6 come/go with the territory to be a normal and accepted part of a particular job, situation, place, etc.: You'd better get used to criticism from the press – it comes with the territory. 7 territorial band around a town, from terra "earth, land".

terror /ˈterər/ n. 1 [C] a feeling of extreme fear, or something that causes this: She ran away in terror. 2 [U] violent action for political purposes. a) terrorism: a campaign of terror against the West. b) terrorist attack.

thesaurus

bad, awful, appalling, horrifying, lousy, horrendous, atrocious, abysmal ➔ BAD ➔ horrible, disgusting, revolting, dreadful ➔ HORRIBLE

1 very badly: The team played terribly. 2 extremely: I'm terribly sorry, but the answer is no.

terri-fy /ˈterəfai/ v. (terrified, terrifies) [T] to make someone extremely afraid: The thought of giving a speech terrified her. —terrifying adj. a terrifying experience.

---

test /tɛst/ n. 1 a set of questions or exercises to measure someone's skill or knowledge: I have a test /tɛst/ n. 1 a test is a way to find out if something works, whether it is safe, etc.: In science, we did a test for chemicals in the water. 2 a situation in which the qualities of something are clearly shown: Today’s race is a real test of skill. | Living together will really put their relationship to the test (=find out how good it is).

text /tekst/ v. [T] 1 to measure someone’s skill or knowledge, using a test: We’re being tested on grammar tomorrow. 2 to use or check something to find out if it works or is successful: None of our products is tested on animals. 3 to do a medical check on part of someone’s body: You need to get your eyes tested. They tested her for diabetes. 4 to show how good or strong something is: The next six months will test your powers of leadership.

testament /tekstamənt/ n (formal) a testament to sth something that shows or proves something else very clearly: His latest record is a testament to his growing musical abilities.

test case n. [C] a legal case that makes a particular principle of law clear and is used as a model for similar cases in the future test drive n. [C] an occasion when you drive a car and decide if you want to buy it. —test drive v.

testimonial /testɪməˈnəl/ n (formal) a formal statement about someone’s qualities and character testimonial /testɪˈmoniəl/ n [C] a formal statement about someone’s qualities and character testimonial /testɪˈmɔːniəl/ n [C] a formal statement about someone’s qualities and character testimonies /ˈtestɪmənɪz/ n (plural thalamus) 1 LAW a formal statement of what is true, especially one made in a court of law: In her testimony, Susan denied the allegations. 2 (pl) testimony to sth something that clearly shows or proves that something is true: This achievement is a testimony to your hard work.

testosterone /ˈtestəstərəʊn/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the hormone in men that gives them their male qualities test tube n. [C] SCIENCE a small glass container shaped like a tube that is used in scientific tests testy /ˈtestɪ/ adj impatient and easily annoyed: It had been a long day, and we were all getting a little testy. —testily adv tetanus /ˈtɛtənəs/ /ˈteɪnəs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious disease caused by infection in a cut or wound tether /ˈteθən/ n. [C] a rope or chain that is used to tie something to something else —tether v. [T]

tetrahe dron /ˌtɛtrəhɪˈdrɒn/ n. [C] MATH a solid shape with four sides that are shaped like triangles

Tex-Mex /ˈtɛksˌmɛks/ (adj) [only before noun] (informal) relating to the music, cooking, etc. of Mexican-American people: a Tex-Mex restaurant text /tekst/ n. 1 [U] any written material: The book has pictures but no text. 2 [C] a book or other piece of writing that is related to learning or intended for study. 3 the text of sth the exact wording of something: The entire text of the speech was printed in the newspaper. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French texte, from Latin textus “woven material”] text v. [T] to send someone a text message using a CELL PHONE textbook /ˈtekstbʊk/ n. (also textbook) a textbook example/case of sth) a very clear and typical example of how something should happen or be done textile /ˈtekstɪl/ n. [C] any material that is made by weaving text message n. [C] a written message that you send to someone using a CELL PHONE. —text messaging n. [U] textual /ˈtekstʃʊəl/ adj. relating to a book, story, or article: written: a textual analysis of the poem texture /tekstʃʊər/ n. [C,U] the way that a surface, material, etc. feels when you touch it, and how smooth or rough it looks: fabric with a coarse texture textured /tekstʃʊərd/ adj. having a surface that is not smooth thalamus /ˈθɛləməs/ n. (plural thalami /ˈθɛləmi/) [C] BIOLOGY an area of the brain that sends the information you receive from your eyes, ears, etc. to the CEREBRAL CORTEX

thank /θæŋk/ v. [T] 1 to tell someone that you are pleased and grateful for a gift or for something that she has done: We would like to thank everyone for helping. 2 thank God (spoken) used when you are very glad about something: Thank God no one was hurt! 3 have sb to thank (for sth) (spoken) used in order to say who you are grateful to. I have Phil to thank for getting me my first job.

thankful /ˈθæŋkfəl/ adj. glad and grateful that something good has happened. Our family has a lot to be thankful for. | I'm thankful that no one was hurt. —thankfully adv.: Thankfully, everything turned out all right.

thankless /ˈθæŋkləs/ adj. a thankless job is difficult and you do not get much praise for doing it thanks /θæŋks/ interjection (informal) 1 used to tell someone that you are grateful for something s/he has done for you or given you: [THANKS] thank you: Can I borrow your pen? Thanks. | Thanks for the drink. | Thanks a lot for helping out. 2 (spoken) used when politely answering someone's question about someone or something that has already been mentioned or is already known about —THANKS: I've never seen that movie. | Who told you that? | Those were her exact words. 3 thanks/no thanks (spoken) said in order to accept or refuse something that is offering you: ‘Do you want another cup of coffee?’ “Oh, thanks.”

Thanks-giving /θæŋksˈɡriːvŋ/ n. a holiday in the U.S. and Canada in the fall when families have a large meal together to celebrate and be thankful for food, health, families, etc.

“Thank you” 1 n. plural 1 something that you say or do to show that you are grateful to someone: He left without a word of thanks. 2 thanks to sb/sth because of someone or something: We're late, thanks to you.

Thanks-giving /θæŋksˈɡriːvŋ/ n. a holiday in the U.S. and Canada in the fall when families have a large meal together to celebrate and be thankful for food, health, families, etc.

‘thank you’ interjection 1 said in order to tell someone that you are grateful for something that s/he has done: ‘I really liked the book. Thank you.’ | Thank you very much. | Thank you for the perfume. 2 thank you/no thank you said in order to accept or refuse something that is offering you: ‘Would you like another cookie?’ | No thank you.

‘thank you’ adj. thank you letter/gift/note etc. a letter, gift, etc. that is given to someone to thank him/her for something

‘thank you’ n. [C] usually singular something that you say or do to thank someone for something:
Please accept this gift as a thank you for your support.

that /ðæt/ determiner, pron. (plural those /ðəʊz/) 1 used to talk about someone or something that is far away from you or closer to another person than it is to you ➔ THIS: My office is in that building. | Who are those boys over there? 2 used to talk about someone or something that has already been mentioned or is already known about ➔ THIS: I've never seen that movie. | Who told you that? | Those were her exact words. 3 that/those used after a noun as a RELATIVE PRONOUN, instead of ‘which’ or ‘who’; a ticket that I bought last week | Have you met the couple that moved in next door?

THAT 2 by@: strong @by/ conjunction used after verbs, nouns, and adjectives to introduce a CLAUSE which shows what someone says or thinks, or which states a fact, gives a reason, etc.: The rules state that if the ball hits the line, it's in. | Is it true that the Nelsons are moving? | They're showing the movie that you wanted to see. | Have you gotten the letter that I sent you? ➔ so (THAT) at SO?

that 2 /ðæt/ adv. (spoken) 1 that long/much/big e tc. used when talking about the size of something and showing it with your hands: It's about that long. 2 that good/bad/difficult etc. as good, bad, bad, etc. as someone has already mentioned: I didn't realize things were that bad. 3 not that much/long/big etc. not very much, long, etc.: It won't cost all that much.

thatch /θætʃ/ n. [C/U] dried STRAW used for making roofs —thatched /θætʃd/ past thaw /θəʊ/ v. 1 [I,T] also thaw out if ice or snow thaws or is thawed, it becomes warmer and turns into water (and) freeze: The snow was beginning to thaw. 2 [I,T] also thaw out if frozen food thaws or is thawed, it becomes soft so it is ready to be cooked (and) freeze: 3 [I] to become more friendly and less formal: Relations between the two countries are beginning to thaw.

thaw 2 n. [singular] 1 a period of warm weather during which snow and ice melt: the spring thaw 2 a time when a relationship becomes more friendly

the 1 /ðiː/ before a vowel ðiː; strong ðiː/ definite article 1 used before nouns to show that you are the

talking about a particular person or thing, especially when he, she, or it has already been mentioned or when there is only one, as: the tallest building in the world | the woman I saw yesterday | That's the dress I want. 2 as part of the names of some countries, rivers, oceans, etc.: the United States | the Pacific Ocean 3 used before an adjective to make it into a noun that refers to a particular group of people: the economic gap between the rich and the poor 4 used before a singular noun to show that you are talking about that thing in general: The computer has changed our lives. 5 each or every: He's paid by the hour. 6 used before the names of musical instruments: Kira's learning to play the piano. 7 used in order to talk about a part of the body: The ball hit him right in the eye! 8 used before a particular date or period of time: the 1960s | the third of May 9 used in order to emphasize that someone or something is important or famous: It's definitely the movie to see.

GRAMMAR
Do not use the when you are talking about something in general using an uncountable noun or a plural noun form: Do you like pizza? She gets a lot of email. Use the when you are talking about a particular thing: The pizza was still very hot. The email was from a friend in Boston. Do not use the before the names of airports, train stations, or streets: The plane arrives at Denver airport at 5:30. The train leaves from Grand Central. She lives on Carn Avenue. Use the when you are talking about a particular airport, train station, or street without naming it: We arrived at the airport. The train was just leaving the station. They live on the same street.

the² adv. 1 the... the... used in comparisons to show that two things happen together: The more you practice, the better you'll play. "When do you want this?" "The sooner the better." 2 used in front of the superlative form of adjectives and adverbs to emphasize that something is as big, good, etc. as it is possible to be: He likes you the best.

the-a-ter n. 1 [C] a building with a stage where plays are performed: the Apollo Theater 2 [U] the work of acting in, writing, or organizing plays: She's been working in theater for many years. 3 [C] a building where movies are shown [origin: 1300—1400 Old French théâtre, from Latin, from Greek θέατρον, from thesaurai “to watch”] the-at-ri-cal /θiətrəˈkæl/ adj. 1 relating to the theater: an expensive theatrical production 2 behaving in a way that is intended to make people notice you —theatrics n. [plural]

theif /θiːf/ n. [C] the act or crime of stealing something —theft n. [U] crime, robbery, burglary, shoplifting —CRIME their /θiːr; strong ðiər/ possessive adj. 1 belonging or relating to the people, animals, or things that have been mentioned, or are known about: The guests left their coats on the bed. Their daughter is a teacher. 2 (spoken) used instead of "his" or "hers" after words such as someone, anyone, everyone, etc.: Everybody has their own ideas about it.

theirs /θairs/ pron. 1 the thing or things belonging to or relating to the people or things that have been mentioned, or are known about: When our washing machine broke the neighbors let us use theirs. 2 (spoken) used instead of "his" or "hers" after words such as someone, anyone, everyone, etc.: Okay, get your coats. Does everyone have theirs?

them /θəm, ðəm; strong ðəm/ pron. 1 the object form of "they": Has anybody seen my keys? I can't find them. My friends want me to go out with them tonight. 2 (spoken) used instead of "him" or "her" after words such as someone, anyone, everyone, etc.: If anyone calls, can you tell them to call back later?
theme /ˈθiːm/ n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the main subject or idea in a book, movie, speech, etc.: Love is the main theme of the book.

2 theme music/song/tune music or a song that is always played during a particular television or radio program [Origins: 1200—1300 Latin theema, from Greek, “something laid down, theme”] them·selves /ˈðɛmˌsɛlvz, ˈðɛm-əl/ pron. 1 the reflexive form of “they”: People usually like to talk about themselves. 2 used in order to emphasize the subject or object of a sentence: Doctors themselves admit that the treatment does not always work. 3 (all by themselves a) alone: Many old people live by themselves. b) without help: The kids made cookies all by themselves. 4 (all to themselves) for their own use: The kids had the pool to themselves today.

then1 /ðɛn/ adv. 1 after something has happened: We could have lunch and then go shopping. 2 at a particular time in the past or future: Just then, the phone rang. 3 back then. 3 (spoken) said in order to show that what you are saying is related in some way to what has been said before: “He can’t come on Fridays.” “Then how about Saturday?” 4 So you’re going into nursing then? 4 used in order to say that if one thing is true, the other thing is also true or should be the correct result: “I have to pick Bobby up at school.” “Then you should leave by 2:30.” 5 used in order to add something to what you have just said: He’s really busy at work, and then there’s the new baby too! 6 then and there immediately: I would have given up then and there if my parents hadn’t encouraged me. → but then (again)... at But1, (every) now and then at Now1 then2 /ðɛn/ [only before noun] used when talking about someone who did a job at a particular time in the past: the then-President of the U.S.

the·o·lo·gian /ˌθiːəˈloʊdiən/ n. [C] someone who studies or writes about theology the·o·lo·gy /ˌθiːəˈloʊdʒi/ n. [U] the study of religion —the·o·lo·gi·cal /ˌθiːəˈloʊdʒiˈkal/ adj.

the·o·rem /ˈθeərəm, ˈθiərəm/ n. [C] MATH a statement that can be shown to be true, especially in mathematics the·o·ret·i·cal /ˌθiːəˈretɪkl/ adj. 1 SCIENCE relating to scientific ideas rather than practical situations: theoretical physics 2 a theoretical situation could exist but does not yet exist the·o·ret·i·cally /ˌθiːəˈretɪklɪ/ adv. 1 used to say that something could happen, but it is extremely unlikely: Theoretically, every child should have an equal chance at a good education. 2 according to a theory: Is near light-speed space travel theoretically possible?

the·o·rist /ˈθiːərɪst/ n. also the·o·re·ti·cian /ˌθiːərəˈtɪʃn/ n. [C] someone who develops ideas that explain why particular things happen or are true ther·ap·ist /ˈθɛriəpɪst/ n. also ther·a·peu·tic /θərəˈpyʊtɪk/ adj. 1 relating to the treatment or cure of a disease: therapeutic drugs 2 making you feel calm and relaxed ther·a·peu·tic·al·ly /ˌθɛrəˈpyʊtɪkəlɪ/ adv.

there /ðεər/ pron. there is/are/was/were etc. used in order to say that something exists or happens: There were several people hurt in the accident. | Suddenly, there was a loud crash. | Are there any questions? [Origins: Old English thær]

there2 /θɛər/ adv. 1 in or to a particular place that is not where you are or near you → here: Would you hand me that glass over there? 1 I know Tucson well because I used to live there. 2 The party was almost over by the time I got there (=arrived). 2 at a particular point in time, in a situation, story, etc.: I’ll read this chapter and stop there. 3 if something is there, it exists: The money’s there if you need it. 4 be there (for sb) to be ready to help someone if s/he needs help: My folks are great—they’re always there for me. → then and there at then1 there1 /θɛər/ adv. from Greek, from thema, “something laid down, theme”

the·o·ry /ˈθɪəri/ n. (plural theo·ries) 1 [C] SCIENCE an idea that explains something works, why something happens, etc., especially one that has not yet been proven to be true: Darwin’s theory of evolution | There are different theories about how the brain works. | The theory that light is made up of waves is commonly accepted.

there·a·py /ˌθɛərəˈpi/ n. (plural therapies) 1 [C,U] the treatment of an illness or injury over a fairly long period of time: Ted’s having physical therapy for his back. 2 [U] the treatment or examination of someone’s mental problems by talking to him/her for a long time about his/her feelings: He’s been in therapy for years. —therapist n. [C]: a speech therapist there·a·bout·s /ˈðɛrəˈbaʊts/ · 'ðɛrə baʊts/ adv near a particular number, amount, or time, but not exactly: The chair costs $50 or thereabouts.

there·a·for·e /ˈðɛrəfɔr/ adv (formal) after a particular event or time (see adv. afterward): The store caught fire and closed shortly thereafter.

there·by /θərˈbaɪ/ · ‘θərbaɪ/ adv (formal) with the result that: Expenses were cut 12%, thereby increasing efficiency.

there·in /θərˈɪn/ · ‘θərɪn/ adv (formal) 1 in that place, or in that piece of writing: We have studied the report and the information contained therein. 2 therein lies sth used in order to state the cause of something: The two sides will not talk to each other, and therein lies the problem.

there·of /θərˈəʊf/ · ‘θərəʊf/ adv (formal) relating to something that has just been mentioned: Money, or the lack thereof (lack of money), played a major role in their marital problems.

there·up·on /θərˈə̅pən/ · ‘θərə̅pən/ adv (formal) immediately after something happens and as a result of it ther·ma·l /ˈθɜrməl/ adj 1 PHYSICS relating to or caused by heat: thermal energy 2 thermal clothing is made from special material to keep you warm in very cold weather: thermal underwear ther·mo·dy·nam·ic·s /θɜrməˈdɑːnɪkz/ · ‘θɜrmədɑːnɪkz/ n [U] PHYSICS the science that deals with the relationship between heat and other forms of energy—thermodynamic adj ther·mo·e·ter·s /θɜrməˈeɪtərz/ · ‘θɜrməeɪtərz/ pl n [C] a piece of equipment that measures the temperature of the air, your body, etc. [origin: 1600—1700 French thermomètre, from Greek therme “heat” + French -mètre “meter”] ther·mo·nu·cle·ar fu·sion /θɜrməˈnjuːklər ˈfjuːʒən/ · ‘θɜrmənjuːklər ˈfjuːʒən/ n [U] PHYSICS nuclear fusion that takes place when the nuclei of light atoms, for example those of hydrogen, crash into each other at very high speeds and temperatures

Ther·mos /ˈθɜrməs/ n [C] (trademark) a special container like a bottle that keeps hot drinks hot or cold drinks cold ther·mo·sphere /θɜrməˈsfaɪər/ · ‘θɜrməsfaɪər/ n the thermosphere EARTH SCIENCES the highest layer of the Earth’s upper ATMOSPHERE, which consists of the EXOSPHERE and the IONOSPHERE ther·mo·stat /θɜrməˈsteɪt/ · ‘θɜrməsteɪt/ n [C] an instrument that keeps a room, machine, etc. at a specific temperature the·sau·rus /ˈθɛsəraʊs/ · ‘θɛsəraʊs/ n (plural thesauruses or thesauri /ˈθɛsərəʊ/ or /ˈθɛsəraʊ/ [C]) a book in which words are put into groups with other words that have a similar meaning these /ðɪz/ · ‘ðɪz/ determiner, pron. the plural form of this the·sis /ˈθɛsɪs/ · ‘θɛsɪs/ n (plural theses /ˈθɛsɪz/) · ‘θɛsɪz/ [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS a long piece of writing about a particular subject that you do as part of an advanced university degree, such as a MASTER’S DEGREE: He wrote his thesis on 18th century literature.

2 also thesis statement ENG LANG ARTS the statement in a piece of writing that gives the main idea or the writer's opinion 3 an idea or opinion about something, that you discuss in a formal way or give examples for: His thesis is that large governments no longer work very well. [Orig: 1300—1400 Latin, Greek, "an act of laying down," from Greek tithenai “to put, lay down”]

they /′θeɪ/ pron. 1 the people or things that have already been mentioned or that are already known about: Ken gave me these flowers — aren’t they beautiful? | I stopped at Doris and Ed’s place, but they weren’t home. 2 a particular group or organization, or the people involved in it: Where are they going to build the new highway? | “Naranjas” is what they call oranges in Mexico. 3 they say/ think (spoken) used in order to say what people in general say or think: They say it’s bad luck to spill salt. 4 (spoken) used instead of “he” or “she” after words such as someone, anyone, everyone, etc.: Somebody at work said they saw you at the party.

they’d /′θeɪd/ 1 the short form of “they had”: They’d been missing for three days. 2 the short form of “they would”: They’d like to visit us soon.

they’ll /′θeɪl/ the short form of “they will”: They’ll have to wait.

they’re /′θer/; strong /′θer/ the short form of “they are”: They’re very nice people.

they’ve /′θeɪv/ the short form of “they have”: They’ve been here before.

---

They've been here before.

THICK /′θɪk/ adj. 1 something that is thick is wide and not thin (ANT) thin: a thick piece of bread | a thick layer of paint 2 2 feet thick/12 inches thick etc. used in order to describe how thick something is: The wall is about 16 inches thick. 3 a substance that is thick has very little water in it: thick soup 4 difficult to see through or breathe in: The air was thick with smoke | driving in thick fog 5 growing very close together with not much space in between: a thick forest [He has thick black hair. [Orig: Old English thicce] —thickly adv.

THICK /′θɪk/ n. 1 be in the thick of sth to be involved in the most active, dangerous, etc. part of a situation: U.S. troops are right in the thick of the action. 2 through thick and thin in spite of any difficulties or problems: They stayed married through thick and thin.

---

They've been here before.

THICK /′θɪk/ adj. 1 something that is thick is wide and not thin (ANT) thin: a thick piece of bread | a thick layer of paint 2 2 feet thick/12 inches thick etc. used in order to describe how thick something is: The wall is about 16 inches thick. 3 a substance that is thick has very little water in it: thick soup 4 difficult to see through or breathe in: The air was thick with smoke | driving in thick fog 5 growing very close together with not much space in between: a thick forest [He has thick black hair. [Orig: Old English thicce] —thickly adv.

THICK /′θɪk/ n. 1 be in the thick of sth to be involved in the most active, dangerous, etc. part of a situation: U.S. troops are right in the thick of the action. 2 through thick and thin in spite of any difficulties or problems: They stayed married through thick and thin.

---

They've been here before.
thing /θɪŋ/ n 1 a fact, idea, statement, action, or event: A funny thing happened last week. | That's a terrible thing to say. | I have better things to do with my time. | I kept wondering if I was doing the right thing. 2 used to talk about an object without saying its name, or when you do not know its name: Do you know how to turn this thing off? 3 things [plural] life in general and the way it is affecting people: How are things going at work? | We can't change the way things are. 4 sb's things the things you own or the things you are carrying: Just put your things over there. 5 not know/feel/see etc. a thing to know, feel, see, etc. nothing: It was so dark I couldn't see a thing. 6 there's no such thing (as sth) used in order to emphasize that someone or something does not exist or does not happen: There's no such thing as Santa Claus! 7 the last thing sb wants/expects etc. something that someone does not want, expect, etc., at all: The last thing we wanted was to start a fight. 8 do your own thing (informal) to do what you want, and not what someone else wants you to do

SPOKEN PHRASES 9 the thing is said when explaining a problem or the reason for something: We want to come, but the thing is we can't find a babysitter. 10 for one thing said when giving a reason for something: I don't think she'll get the part – for one thing she can't sing! 11 it's a good thing (that) used in order to say that it is lucky or good that something happened: It's a good thing the drug store's open late. 12 first thing at the beginning of the day or morning: Let's talk about the report first thing in the morning. 13 (it's) just one of those things used in order to say that something that has happened is not someone's fault or could not have been avoided 14 it's (just) one thing after another said when a lot of bad or unlucky things keep happening to you

thing-a-ma-jig /ˈθɪŋəməˌdʒɪdʒ/ n (spoken) said when you cannot remember the real name of the thing you want to mention thin /θɪn/ v (thinned, thinning) [T] to make something thinner, or to become thinner: She has really thick hair, and the hairdresser thinned it a little (=cut it so that there were fewer hairs). | Thin the paint with water.

thin out phr v if a crowd thins out, people gradually leave so there are fewer of them something /ˈsʌmtʃɪŋ/ n C 1 a hard solid thing: a sharp metal object. 2 something – a thing, used especially when you do not know its name or what it is: There's something in my eye.

SPOKEN PHRASES 3 things [plural] life in general and the way it is affecting people: How are things going at work? | We can't change the way things are. 4 sb's things the things you own or the things you are carrying: Just put your things over there. 5 not know/feel/see etc. a thing to know, feel, see, etc. nothing: It was so dark I couldn't see a thing. 6 there's no such thing (as sth) used in order to emphasize that someone or something does not exist or does not happen: There's no such thing as Santa Claus! 7 the last thing sb wants/expects etc. something that someone does not want, expect, etc., at all: The last thing we wanted was to start a fight. 8 do your own thing (informal) to do what you want, and not what someone else wants you to do

SPOKEN PHRASES 9 the thing is said when explaining a problem or the reason for something: We want to come, but the thing is we can't find a babysitter. 10 for one thing said when giving a reason for something: I don't think she'll get the part – for one thing she can't sing! 11 it's a good thing (that) used in order to say that it is lucky or good that something happened: It's a good thing the drug store's open late. 12 first thing at the beginning of the day or morning: Let's talk about the report first thing in the morning. 13 (it's) just one of those things used in order to say that something that has happened is not someone's fault or could not have been avoided 14 it's (just) one thing after another said when a lot of bad or unlucky things keep happening to you

thin out phr v if a crowd thins out, people gradually leave so there are fewer of them

SPOKEN PHRASES 3 things [plural] life in general and the way it is affecting people: How are things going at work? | We can't change the way things are. 4 sb's things the things you own or the things you are carrying: Just put your things over there. 5 not know/feel/see etc. a thing to know, feel, see, etc. nothing: It was so dark I couldn't see a thing. 6 there's no such thing (as sth) used in order to emphasize that someone or something does not exist or does not happen: There's no such thing as Santa Claus! 7 the last thing sb wants/expects etc. something that someone does not want, expect, etc., at all: The last thing we wanted was to start a fight. 8 do your own thing (informal) to do what you want, and not what someone else wants you to do

SPOKEN PHRASES 9 the thing is said when explaining a problem or the reason for something: We want to come, but the thing is we can't find a babysitter. 10 for one thing said when giving a reason for something: I don't think she'll get the part – for one thing she can't sing! 11 it's a good thing (that) used in order to say that it is lucky or good that something happened: It's a good thing the drug store's open late. 12 first thing at the beginning of the day or morning: Let's talk about the report first thing in the morning. 13 (it's) just one of those things used in order to say that something that has happened is not someone's fault or could not have been avoided 14 it's (just) one thing after another said when a lot of bad or unlucky things keep happening to you

thing-a-ma-jig /ˈθɪŋəməˌdʒɪdʒ/ n (spoken) said when you cannot remember the real name of the thing you want to mention

think /θɪŋk/ v (past tense and past participle thought /θəʊt/ 1 [T] to have an opinion about something: I think that New York is a great place to live. | I don't think (that) he likes me (=I think that he does not like me). | What do you think of my new car?

SPOKEN PHRASES 2 [T] to believe that something is true, although you are not sure: I think (that) you're right. | I thought it was going to be sunny. 3 [I] to use your mind to decide something, solve problems, have ideas, etc.: What are you thinking about? | I couldn't think of anything to say. | Just a second, I'm thinking. 4 [I] use your mind to remember something: I can't think of her name. 5 think about/of doing sth to consider the possibility of doing something: I'm thinking about moving to Florida. 6 think of sb to consider the feelings and wishes of another person, rather than just doing what you want: Bill's always thinking of others. 7 think better of sth to decide not to do something that you had intended to do: He reached for his cigarettes and then thought better of it. 8 think nothing of (doing sth) to do something easily that other people consider to be difficult or unusual: Purdey thinks nothing of driving two hours to work every day. 9 think twice to consider a decision very carefully before you decide if you will do it or not: You should think twice before signing the contract. 10 who would have thought? used in order to say that something is very surprising: 3 [I] to use your mind to decide something, solve problems, have ideas, etc.: What are you thinking about? | I couldn't think of anything to say. | Just a second, I'm thinking. 4 [I] use your mind to remember something: I can't think of her name. 5 think about/of doing sth to consider the possibility of doing something: I'm thinking about moving to Florida. 6 think of sb to consider the feelings and wishes of another person, rather than just doing what you want: Bill's always thinking of others. 7 think better of sth to decide not to do something that you had intended to do: He reached for his cigarettes and then thought better of it. 8 think nothing of (doing sth) to do something easily that other people consider to be difficult or unusual: Purdey thinks nothing of driving two hours to work every day. 9 think twice to consider a decision very carefully before you decide if you will do it or not: You should think twice before signing the contract. 10 who would have thought? used in order to say that something is very surprising:
17 you would think (that) also you would have thought (that) used in order to say that you expect something to be true although it is not: You would think someone who can sing that well would take better care of their voice. 18 just think! said when asking someone to imagine or consider something: Just think—tomorrow we’ll be in Hawaii! 19 come to think of it said when you have just remembered something that is related to your conversation: Come to think of it, I did see Rita yesterday.

think back [ˈθɪŋk bæk] phr. v. to think about things that happened in the past: Thinking back, it amazes me we survived on so little money.

think a lot about sth v. to think carefully, considering all the possible problems, results, etc.: The arguments had not been thought out very carefully.

think through v. to consider something carefully before making a decision: Take a few days to think over the offer.

think up v. to produce an idea, plan, etc. that is completely new: Who thinks up the stories for these stupid TV shows?

thinking [ˈθɪŋkɪŋ] n. [U] 1 an opinion about something, or an attitude toward something: They have a different way of thinking about the issue. 2 the activity of using your mind to solve a problem, produce thoughts, etc.: Lance’s quick thinking had saved her life.

think tank n. [C] a committee of people with experience in a particular subject that an organization or government establishes to produce ideas and give advice: a right-wing think tank thin-ly [ˈθɪnli] adv. 1 if something is cut thinly, it is cut into thin pieces: a thinly sliced onion 2 with only a small number of people or things spread over a large area: a thinly populated area thinning [ˈθɪnɪŋ] n. [U] if your hair is thinning, some of it has fallen out

-thin-skinned adj. too easily offended or upset by criticism third /θɜːd/ number 1 3rd 2 1/3 third base n. [U] in baseball, the third place that a player must touch before gaining a point third degree n. give sb the third degree (informal) to ask someone a lot of questions in order to get information from him/her third-degree burn n. [C] a very severe burn that goes through someone’s skin third party n. [singular] LAW someone who is not one of the two main people involved in something, but who is involved in it or affected by it

third person n. [singular] ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS in grammar, a form of a verb or PRONOUN that you use to show the person or thing that is being mentioned. “He,” “she,” “it,” and “they” are all third person pronouns.

third-person narrative/ account/story ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS a story that is told by a third person narrator third-person ‘narrator’ n. [C] ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS someone who tells a story from outside the action of the story and who knows everything that is happening third-rate adj. of very bad quality third World n. the Third World a phrase meaning the poorer countries of the world that do not have developed industries, which some people consider to be offensive thirst /ˈθɜːrst/ n. 1 [singular] the feeling of wanting or needing a drink ➔ HUNGRY: Water is the best drink to quench your thirst (stop you being thirsty). ➔ Don’t say “I have thirst.” say “I am thirsty.” ➔ 2 [U] the state of not having enough to drink: Many of the animals had died of thirst. 3 a thirst for sth a strong need or desire for something: a thirst for knowledge thirsty /ˈθɜːstɪ/ adj. feeling that you want to drink something ➔ HUNGRY: I’m thirsty – can I have a glass of water? — thirstily adv.

thirteen /θɜːrˈtiːn/ number 13 — thirteenth number third /ˈθɜːrd/ number 1 30 2 the thirties a) the years between 1930 and 1939 b) the numbers between 30 and 39, especially when used for measuring temperature 3 be in your thirties to be aged between 30 and 39: She’s in her early/mid/late thirties. — thirtieth /ˈθɜːrtiθ/ number this /ðɪs/ determiner, pronoun (plural these /ðiːz/ ) 1 used to talk about someone or something that is close to you ➔ THAT: My mother gave me this necklace. 2 What should I do with this (=something I am holding and showing you)? 2 used to talk about something that has just been mentioned or is already known about: I’m going to make sure this doesn’t happen again. 3 used to talk about the present time or a time that is close to the present ➔ LAST, NEXT: What are you doing this week? We’ll be seeing Malcolm this Friday (on Friday of the present week). 4 (spoken) used in conversation to mention a particular person or thing: This friend of mine said he could get us tickets. 5 We saw this really cool movie last night. 5 this is... (spoken) used in order to introduce someone to someone else: Nancy, this is my wife, Elaine.

this adj. used when talking about the size, number, degree, or amount of something: I’ve never stayed up this late before. 1 Katie’s about this tall now (said when using your hands to show a size).

thistle /ˈθɪstl/ n. [C] a wild plant with purple flowers and leaves that have sharp points thong /θɔŋ, θɔŋ/ n. 1 thongs (plural) a pair of open summer shoes, held on your feet by a v-shaped band that fits between your toes piece of underwear, or the bottom part of a bikini, that has a single string instead of the back part thorax /ˈθɔːræks/ n. (plural thoraces or thoraxes /-ræz-/) [C] 1 BIOLOGY the part of the body between your neck and your diaphragm (the area above your stomach) 2 BIOLOGY the part of an insect’s body between its head and its abdomen —thoracic /ˈθɔːræsik/ adj.

thorn /ˈθɔrn/ n. 1 [C] a sharp point that grows on a plant, such as a rose 2 a thorn in your side something or someone that annoys you or causes you problems over a long time thorny /ˈθɔrnɪ/ adj. 1 thorny question/problem/issue etc. a question, problem, etc. that is very difficult to deal with 2 having a lot of thorns thorough /ˈθɔːrəʊ/ adj. 1 including every possible detail: The police conducted a thorough search of the property.

thoroughfare /ˈθɔːrəfrɛɪ/ n. your main road through a city thoroughly /ˈθɔːrəli/ adv. 1 completely or very much: Thanks for dinner; I thoroughly enjoyed it. 2 carefully and completely: Rinse the vegetables thoroughly.

those /ðəʊz/ determiner, pron. the plural of that thought /θɔːt/ n. 1 [C] in order to introduce a statement that is surprising, unexpected, or different from your other statements → although: Though Beatrice is almost 40, she still plans to compete. I seem to keep gaining weight even though I’m exercising regularly. 2 used like “but” in order to add a fact or opinion to what you have said: I thought he’d been drinking though I wasn’t completely sure. 3 as though used like “as if” in order to say how something seems or appears: She was stoning at me as though she knew me.

thoughtful /θɔːθfʊl/ adj. 1 serious and quiet because you are thinking about something: a thoughtful look on his face 2 kind and always thinking of things you can do to make other people happy: You have a very thoughtful husband. 3 it was really thoughtful of you to remember my birthday.

thoughtless /θɔːθləs/ adj. not thinking about the needs and feelings of other people: a thoughtless remark thoughts /θɔːθz/ n. pl. (= what you think or remember) 1 I’ve just had a thought. I’ll ask Terry to come. 2 Even the thought of flying scares me. 3 The thought that I might not have a job next year made me nervous. 4 What are your thoughts on the subject? (= what is your opinion)? 5 the act of thinking: She sat at her desk, lost/deep in thought (rethinking so much she didn’t notice anything else). 6 [U] the act of considering something carefully and seriously: You need to give the decision plenty of thought. 7 [C,U] a feeling of caring about someone: Michael never gave any thought to others. 8 You are always in my thoughts (= used in order to tell someone that you think and care about him/her a lot). 9 [U] a way of thinking that is typical of a particular group, period of history, etc.: ancient Greek thought 10 [C,U] an intention or wish: He has no thoughts of running for President.

thoughts on /θɔːθz ɒn/ prep. phr. v. 1 to move through a place by carefully going around things that are in the way: Bikers have to thread their way through traffic, because there’s no safe bike lane.

threads /θrɛdz/ n. 1 [U] a long thin line of cotton, silk, etc. that you use to sew cloth: a needle and thread → see picture at kni$t 2 [singular] the relationship between different parts of a story, explanation, etc.: He lost the thread (= forgot the main part) of his argument.

thread /θrɛd/ adj. clothes, carpets, etc. that are threadbare are very thin because they have been used a lot threadbare /ˈθrɛdbær/ adj.

threadless /ˈθrɛdləs/ adj. not having a job next year made me nervous. 4 What are your thoughts on the subject? (= what is your opinion)? 5 the act of thinking: She sat at her desk, lost/deep in thought (rethinking so much she didn’t notice anything else). 6 [U] the act of considering something carefully and seriously: You need to give the decision plenty of thought. 7 [C,U] a feeling of caring about someone: Michael never gave any thought to others. 8 You are always in my thoughts (= used in order to tell someone that you think and care about him/her a lot). 9 [U] a way of thinking that is typical of a particular group, period of history, etc.: ancient Greek thought 10 [C,U] an intention or wish: He has no thoughts of running for President.

thoughts on /θɔːθz ɒn/ prep. phr. v. 1 to move through a place by carefully going around things that are in the way: Bikers have to thread their way through traffic, because there’s no safe bike lane.

threadbare /ˈθrɛdbær/ adj. clothes, carpets, etc. that are threadbare are very thin because they have been used a lot

threadless /ˈθrɛdləs/ adj. not having a job next year made me nervous. 4 What are your thoughts on the subject? (= what is your opinion)? 5 the act of thinking: She sat at her desk, lost/deep in thought (rethinking so much she didn’t notice anything else). 6 [U] the act of considering something carefully and seriously: You need to give the decision plenty of thought. 7 [C,U] a feeling of caring about someone: Michael never gave any thought to others. 8 You are always in my thoughts (= used in order to tell someone that you think and care about him/her a lot). 9 [U] a way of thinking that is typical of a particular group, period of history, etc.: ancient Greek thought 10 [C,U] an intention or wish: He has no thoughts of running for President.

thoughts on /θɔːθz ɒn/ prep. phr. v. 1 to move through a place by carefully going around things that are in the way: Bikers have to thread their way through traffic, because there’s no safe bike lane.
tell someone that you will cause damage or harm if s/he does not do what you want: He made a threat against my family. [threats of violence] a bomb threat —We received a bomb threat.

threaten /ˈθreɪtn/ v. 1 [T] to say that you will cause someone trouble, pain, etc. if s/he does not do what you want: Sandra threatened to run away from home. | Don’t you threaten me! | 2 [T] to be likely to harm or destroy something: Pollution is threatening the historical buildings of Athens. 3 [I,T] if something unpleasant threatens to happen, it seems likely to happen: The fighting threatens to become a major war.

threatening /ˈθreɪtnɪŋ/ adj. making threats or intended to threaten someone: a threatening letter three /θri/ number 1 3 | three o’clock: I’ll meet you at three. 3 three years old: Mikey didn’t start talking until he was three. [Origin: Old English thrice, three] three-D, 3-D /ˌθriːˈdiː/, /ˈθriːdi/ adj. a three-D movie or picture is made so that it appears to be three-dimensional. —three-D, 3-D n. [U]: a movie in 3-D.

three-dimensional adj. 1 having or seeming to have length, depth, and height. Two-dimensional: a three-dimensional object. 2 Eng. lang. a three-dimensional character in a book, movie, etc. seems like a real person because s/he has many different qualities. —one-dimensional threshold /ˈθreɪʃɔld/ n. 1 on the threshold of sth at the beginning of a new and important event or development: In the 1990s, we were on the threshold of a new period in telecommunications. 2 the level at which something begins to happen or have an effect on something: She has a high/low pain threshold. 3 the entrance to a room, or the area of floor at the entrance.

throw /θru/ v. the past tense of throw thrill /θrɪl/ n. [U] (old-fashioned) wise and careful use of money. —thrifty adj.

‘thrift store n. [C] a store that sells used goods, especially clothes, often in order to get money for a charity.

thrill1 /θrɪl/ n. [C] a strong feeling of excitement and pleasure, or the thing that makes you feel this: For him, nothing beats the thrill of driving a fast car.

thrill2 v. [T] to feel strong excitement and pleasure, or make someone else feel this: His music continues to thrill audiences. —thrilled adj.: We’re thrilled with the results. —thrilling adj.: a thrilling game thrive

throw

through throughout towards through/through throughout

through:

throughout

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:

through:
throw sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to get rid of someone or something that you do not want or need: I threw a lot of stuff out. 2 to make someone leave a place quickly because s/he has behaved badly: Cooper got thrown out of the Navy for taking drugs. 3 if people throw out a plan or suggestion, they refuse to accept it.

throw sth ↔ together phr. v. to make something quickly and not very carefully: How about throwing some sandwiches together?

throw up phr. v. (informal) to vomit throw n. [C] an action in which someone throws something: a good throw to first base throw-a-way /ˈθroʊəˌweɪ/ adj. 1 throwaway remark/line etc. a short remark that is said quickly and without thinking carefully 2 throwaway society a society that wastes things instead of caring about the environment throw-back /ˈθroʊbæk/ n. [C usually singular] something that is similar to something that existed in the past: The machine looks like a throwback to an earlier era.

throw /ˈθroʊ/ v. the past participle of throw thru /θru/ prep., adj. (informal) through thrust /θraʊst/ v. (past tense and past participle thrust) [T] 1 to push something somewhere with a sudden or violent movement: Dean thrust some money into the driver’s hand. 2 [I] to push something somewhere with a sudden or violent movement: The driver’s hand thumped him on the back.

thesaurus

shove, stick → SHOVE

2 to be put in a difficult situation or forced to accept it: The incident thrust the nation into an economic crisis.

thrust n. 1 the thrust the main meaning or most important part of what someone says or does: The main/major/whole thrust of his argument is that all of life is political. 2 [U] physics the force of an engine that makes a car, train, or airplane move forward thru-way /ˈθruˌweɪ/ n. [C] a wide road for fast traffic thud /θuːd/ n. [C] the low sound that is made by a heavy object hitting something else: He landed with a thud. —thud v. [I] thug /θʌɡ/ n. [C] a violent man thumb /θʌm/ n. [C] 1 the short thick finger on the side of your hand that helps you to hold things → see picture at HAND 2 give/get the thumbs up/down to show that you approve or disapprove of something, or that you are ready to do something: His new movie got the thumbs up from the public. 3 be under sb’s thumb if you are under someone’s thumb, s/he controls what you do → rule of thumb at RULE, stick out (like a sore thumb) at STICK OUT thud v. thumb your nose at sb/sth to show that you do not respect rules, laws, someone’s opinion, etc.: Protesters feel the government is thumbing its nose at citizens’ basic rights.

thumb through sth phr. v. to look through a book, magazine, etc. quickly thumb-nail /ˈθʌmˌnɑːl/ n. [C] the nail on your thumb thumb-nail sketch/description a short description that gives only the main facts thumb-tack /θʌmtæk/ n. [C] a short pin with a wide flat top, used for attaching papers to walls thump /θʌmp/ v. 1 [I,T] to make a dull sound by hitting against something: The dog thumped his tail on the floor. 2 [I] if your heart thumps, it beats very quickly because you are frightened or excited 3 [T] (informal) to hit someone: Brasso thumped him on the back. —thump n. [C] thunder /ˈθʌndər/ n. [U] the loud noise that you hear during a storm, usually after a flash of lightning; a storm with thunder and lightning: Suddenly, there was a great clap/crack of thunder.

[origin: Old English thunor]

thunder v. 1 it thunders if it thunders, a loud noise comes from the sky, usually after lightning: The kids came thundering downstairs.

thunder-bolt /ˈθʌndərˌbɔːlt/ n. [C] a flash of lightning that hits something thunder-clap /ˈθʌndərˌklæp/ n. [C] a loud noise of thunder thunder-cloud /ˈθʌndərˌklaʊd/ n. [C] a large dark cloud in a storm thunder-ous /ˈθʌndərəs/ adj. extremely loud: thunderous applause → LOUD thunder-storm /ˈθʌndərˌstɔːrm/ n. [C] a storm with thunder and lightning thunder-struck /ˈθʌndərˌstrʌkt/ adj. extremely surprised or shocked

Thurs-day /ˈθɜːzdɪ, -dəɪ/ (written abbreviation Thurs.) n. [C,U] the fifth day of the week, between Wednesday and Friday: I tried to call you Thursday. Kim is leaving for Chicago on Thursday. He was arrested last Thursday. I made the appointment for next Thursday. Jason arrived late Thursday night. [origin: Old English Thursday, from Thunor god of the sky = day “day”] thus /ðəs/ adv. (formal) 1 as a result of something that you have just mentioned [SYN] so: Traffic will become heavier, thus increasing pollution.

thesaurus

therefore, so, as a result/consequently/as a consequence, hence, thereby, accordingly → THEREFORE

2 in this way: The oil spill could thus contaminate the water supply. Thus far until now: Reviewers have said it’s the best movie thus far this year.
thwart

thwart /ˈ thwart/ [T] to prevent someone from doing what she is trying to do thyroid /ˈ thraʊrd/ also thyroid gland n. [C] BIOLOGY an organ in your neck that produces HOR. MONES (=substances that affect the way your body grows and the way you behave) ti ara /ˈ tɪ ara, tɪ ə rə/ n. [C] a piece of jewelry like a small CROWN tibia /ˈ ti bɪə/ n. (plural tibias or tibiae /-bi-i/) [C] BIOLOGY a bone in the front of your leg ➔ FIBULA tick /tɪk/ n. [C] a sudden movement of a muscle in your face, that you cannot control tick1 /tɪk/ n. [C] 1 the short repeated sound that a clock or watch makes every second 2 a small creature with eight legs that attaches itself to animals and sucks their blood tick2 v. 1 [I] if a clock or watch ticks, it makes a short sound every second ➔ what makes sb tick (informal) the reasons that someone behaves in a particular way tick sb/sth ↔ off phr. v. [I, T] to annoy someone: Her attitude really ticks me off. 2 to tell someone a list of things: McCoy ticked off a list of the speakers.

ticked-off adj. (informal) very annoyed tick·et /ˈ tɪkɪt/ n. [C] 1 a printed piece of paper that shows that you have paid to do something, for example see a movie or travel on an airplane: two tickets to for the Lakers game  a concert/bus/airplane ticket

Types of tickets

one-way ticket – a ticket that lets you go to a place but not back again round-trip ticket – a ticket that lets you go to a place and back again off-peak ticket – a ticket that is cheaper than the usual price because you cannot use it at the busiest times season ticket – a ticket that lets you make the same trip every day for a particular period of time e-ticket – a ticket that you buy over the Internet, which you print from your computer or which you pick up when you arrive at the airport to go on your trip

2 a printed note saying that you must pay money because you have done something illegal while driving or parking your car: a speeding/parking ticket

3 a list of the people supported by a particular political party in an an election: the Democratic ticket

“notice attached to something,” from Old French estiquier “to attach”

ticket2 v. [T] to give someone a ticket for parking his/her car in the wrong place or for driving too fast tick·le /ˈ tɪkl/ v. [T] to move your fingers lightly over someone’s body in order to make him/her laugh: Stop tickling me!

The TESaurus

touch, feel, stroke, rub, scratch, pat, pet, brush, caress ➔ TOUCH

2 [I,T] if something touching your body tickles you, it makes you want to rub your body because it is uncomfortable: Mommy, this blanket tickles. 3 [T] if a situation, remark, etc. tickles you, it amuses or pleases you: Mom will be tickled pink/tickled to death (every pleased) when she hears you’re coming.

tickle2 n. [C] a feeling in your throat that makes you want to cough tickish /ˈ tɪkɪʃ/ adj. 1 someone who is ticklish is very easy to tickle ➔ informal (a ticklish situation or problem must be dealt with very carefully tic-tac-toe /ˈ tɪk tɔk toʊ/ n. [U] a children’s game in which two players draw the marks X and O in a pattern of nine squares, trying to get three in a row

tid-al /ˈ tɪd əl/ adj. relating to the regular rising and falling of the ocean: tidal pools tidal wave n. [C] a very large ocean wave that flows over the land and destroys things tid·bit /ˈ tɪd bit/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of food that tastes good 2 a small piece of interesting information, news, etc.

tide1 /ˈ taid/ n. 1 [C] the regular rising and falling of the level of the ocean: It’s high/low tide. ➔ NEAR TIDE, SPRING TIDE

2 [singular] the way in which events or people’s opinions are developing: The tide has turned, and more jobs are being created than lost. 3 [singular] a large amount of something that is increasing; a rising tide of hate crimes tide2 v. tide sb over phr. v. to help someone deal with a difficult time: Could you lend me $50 to tide me over until payday?

tid·dy /ˈ tید di/ adj. carefully arranged, and not messy tie1 /tai/ v. (past tense and past participle tied, present participle tying, third person singular ties) 1 [I,T] to fasten something or hold it in a particular position using a rope, string, etc.: The dress ties in the back. 2 She tied the scarf around her neck. 3 a dog tied to the fence tie·break·er /ˈtaɪ.b्रɛkər/ n. [C] 1 a long narrow piece of cloth that men wear around their neck, tied in with their shirts • see picture at CLOTHES 2 a relationship between two people, groups, or countries: close family ties /diplomatic/economic/political etc. ties with Japan 3 a piece of string, wire, etc. used in order to fasten or close something such as a bag 4 the result of a game, competition, or election in which two or more people get the same number of points, votes, etc.: The game ended in a tie.

tie-break-er /ˈtaɪ.b्रɛkər/ n. [C] an additional question or point that decides the winner when two people or teams are tied tie·dye /ˈtaɪ.dɛ/ v. [T] to make a pattern on clothing or other material by tying string around it and coloring it with DYE tier /ˈtaɪər/ n. [C] 1 one of several layers or levels that rise up above another: the top tier of seats 2 one of several levels in an organization or system: four tiers of management tiff /ˈtaɪf/ n. [C] a slight argument between friends tig-er /ˈtaɪɡər/ n. [C] a large strong wild cat with orange and black lines on its fur tight1 /ˈtaɪt/ adj. 1 CLOTHES fitting part of your body very closely: These shoes feel too tight. 2 TIGHT SHOES 3 FIRMLY PULLED pulled or stretched firmly: a tight bandage 4 FIRMLY FIXED firmly fixed and difficult to move: Make sure the screws are tight. 5 FIRMLY CONTROLLED controlled very strictly and firmly: Security is tight for the President’s visit. 6 MONEY a) (informal) if money is tight, you do not have enough of it b) (disapproving) someone who is tight tries hard to avoid spending money 7 TIME if time is tight, it is difficult for you to do the things you need to do in the time you have: a tight schedule 8 COMPETITION a tight election, game, competition, etc. is one in which the competitors have an almost equal chance of winning: a tight race for the Senate seat — tightly adv. tight2 adv. very firmly or closely /tɪt/ tightly: Hold tight and don’t let go. 9 Put the lid on tight. 10 tight-fitting jeans tight·en /ˈtaɪt.n/ v. 1 [T] to close or fasten something firmly by turning it: Tighten the clamps in place. 2 [I] if you tighten a rope, wire, STRAP, etc., or if it tightens, it is stretched or pulled until it is tight: I tightened the bindings of the snowshoes. 3 [I] also: tighten up to make a rule, law, or system more strict: The government has tightened border controls. 4 [I] if your muscles or a part of your body tightens, or you tighten it, it becomes stiff: Miguel’s lips tightened in anger. 5 [I] to close firmly around something: Richard tightened his grip on her arm. 6 tighten your belt (informal) to try to spend less money than you usually spend tight·fisted adj. (informal, disapproving) not generous with money /ˈtaɪt.fɪst/ stringy tight·lipped adj. not willing to talk about something tight·rope /ˈtaɪt.rʌp/ n. [C] a rope or wire high above the ground that someone walks along in a CIRCUS

tights /ˈtaɪts/ n. [plural] a piece of women’s clothing made of thick colored material that fits tightly over the feet and legs and goes up to the waist til·de /ˈtɪlda/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a mark (˜) that is placed over the letter “n” in Spanish when it is to be pronounced /n/ 1 tie /taɪ/ n. [C] a thin square piece of baked clay or other material that is used for covering roofs, walls, or floors —tie v. [T] till1 /tɪl/ n. 1 PROPER CONJUNCTION (spoken) until: I was up till 1:00 a.m. till2 v. [T] to prepare land for growing crops till /tɪl/ v. [T] 1 to move into a position where one side is higher than the other, or to make something do this: She listened, her head tilted to one side. 2 if an opinion or situation tilts, or something tilts it, it changes so that people start to prefer one person, belief, or action to others: Public opinion had been tilting toward supporting the war. —tilt n. [C,U] tim·ber /ˈtaɪm.bər/ n. [U] trees that are cut down and used for building or making things time1 /ˈtaɪm/ n. 1 MINUTES/HOURS ETC. [U] the thing that is measured in minutes, hours, years, etc. using clocks: Time seemed to pass/go by very quickly. 2 a three-month period of time time

2 ON THE CLOCK [singular] a particular point in time that is shown on a clock in hours and minutes: What time is it?| Evan is just learning to tell time (=look at a clock to see what time it is).

3 OCCASION [C] an occasion when something happens or someone does something: We visit him two or three times a month. | When was the first/last time you saw Kelly? | It makes me laugh every/each time I see it. | The next time you come, we’ll go to a show. | Smoking is not allowed at any time.

4 HOW OFTEN/HOW LONG [singular, U] a period of time during which something happens or someone does something, used especially to emphasize how often or how long it happens: I used to play tennis all the time (=often). | They seem to spend most of the time arguing (=they argue a lot). | Mandy’s been gone for a long/short time. | Patty whined the whole time (=during all of a period of time). | These pictures were taken some time ago (=a fairly long time ago).

5 WHEN STH HAPPENS [C,U] the particular minute, hour, day, etc. when something happens or someone does something: At that/the time (=at that particular time in the past), few people had cars. | I was really hungry by the time I got home. | We left the building at the same time. | Don’t say “in the same time.” | The program’s on at breakfast/supper time. | You’ve caught me at a bad time (=at a time that is not convenient) – can I call you back later? | This isn’t the right time to ask for a raise.

6 It’s time..., used in order to say when something should be done, should happen, or is expected to happen: It’s time for dinner. | It’s time to go.

7 TIME NEEDED [U] the amount of time that is available or needed to do something: Learning a language takes time (=takes a long time). | I won’t have time to cook dinner. | I want to spend more time with my family. | Come on – stop wasting time. | There is time for questions afterward.

8 be on time to arrive or happen at the correct time or the time that was arranged: The buses are never on time. | Don’t say “be in time.”

9 in time early or soon enough to do something: They arrived in time for dinner. | Don’t say “on time to” or “on time for.”

10 from time to time sometimes, but not regularly or very often: He comes up to visit from time to time.

11 ahead of time before an event or before you need to do something, in order to be prepared: We need to get there ahead of time to get a good seat.

12 at all times always: Keep your hands inside the car at all times.

13 in no time soon or quickly: We’ll be there in no time.

14 it’s about time (spoken) said when you feel strongly that something should happen soon or should already have happened: It’s about time you got a job.

15 half the time if something happens half the time, it happens quite often: Half the time, Alan doesn’t even return her phone calls.

16 when the time comes when you expect to happen actually happens, or when something becomes necessary: She’ll make the right choice when the time comes.

17 one/two etc. at a time allowing only a specific number of things to happen or exist at the same time: You can borrow three books at a time.

18 take your time to do something slowly or carefully without hurrying: Take your time and look over your essay before turning it in.

19 for the time being for a short period of time from now, but not permanently: For the time being, she’s living with her father.

20 good/bad/difficult etc. time a period of time or an occasion when you have experiences that are good, bad, etc.: That was the happiest time of my life. | Did you have a good time at Laura’s?

21 IN HISTORY [C] a particular period in history: It happened in the time of the Romans.

22 times [plural] the present time or a particular period in history, and the ways that people do or did things during that period: modern times | Their technology is 30 years behind the times.

23 time’s up (spoken) said in order to tell people to stop doing something because there is no more time left: Okay, time’s up. Put down your pencils.

24 in time to sth if you do something in time to a piece of music, you do it using the same RHYTHM and speed as the music.

25 do time (informal) to spend time in prison [Origin: Old English time]

2 time? v. [T] 1 to do something or arrange for something to happen at a particular time: The bomb was timed to go off at 3:00. | an ill-timed/well-timed announcement (=one that happens at a bad or good time). 2 to measure how fast someone or something is going, how long it takes to do something, etc.: Christie was timed at 10.02 seconds.

3 time and a half n. [U] one and a half times the normal rate of pay

4 time bomb n. [C] 1 a situation that is likely to become a very serious problem: It’s an environmental time bomb. 2 a bomb that is set to explode at a particular time.

5 time card n. [C] a card on which the hours you have worked are recorded by a machine.

6 time-consuming adj. needing a long time to do: a time-consuming process

7 time frame n. [C] the period of time during which you expect or agree that something will happen or be done

8 time-honored adj. a time-honored method, custom, etc. is one that has existed or worked well for a long time

9 time-keeper n. [ <-tarm, kipér ] [C] someone who officially records how long it takes to do something, especially at a sports event

10 time-less adj. always remaining beautiful, attractive, etc.: timeless melodies

11 time-limit n. [C] the longest time that you are allowed to do something for: There is a time limit for using the library computer.
time·ly /ˈtaɪmli/ adj. done or happening at exactly the right time: a timely decision.

time·ly·ness /ˈtaɪmli·nəs/ n. [U] a quality of being timely time·ly·ly /ˈtaɪmli·lɪ/ adv. in a timely manner time·ly·ness /ˈtaɪmli·nəs/ n. [U] the quality of being timely

·time `off n. [U] time when you are officially allowed not to be at work or studying time `out n. 1 take time out to rest or do something different from your usual job or activities 2 [C] a short time during a sports game when the teams can rest and get instructions from the coach tim·er /ˈtaɪmər/ n. [C] an instrument for measuring time, when you are doing something such as cooking times /ˈtaɪmz/ prep. MATH multiplied by: Two times two equals four.

time·ta·ble /ˈtaɪmətəbəl/ adj. capable of being timed time·ta·ble·ness /ˈtaɪmətəbəl·nəs/ n. [U] the quality of being timeable tim·ing /ˈtaɪmɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] the skill of doing something at exactly the right time: A comedian has to have good/wonderful timing or his jokes will fall flat. 2 [C]U] the time when someone does something or when something happens: the timing of his resignation tim·orous /ˈtaɪmərəs/ adj. (formal) lacking confidence and easily frightened: a timid woman —timorously adv.

tin /ˈtaɪn/ n. [U] a soft white metal used for making cans, building materials, etc.: a tin can tin·der /ˈtaɪndər/ n. [U] material that burns easily, used for lighting fires tine /ˈtaɪn/ n. [C] a pointed part of something that has several points, for example on a fork tin·foil /ˈtaɪnfəl/ n. [U] (old-fashioned) foil tinge /ˈtaɪndʒ/ n. [C] a very small amount of a color, emotion, or quality: a tinge of sadness in her voice | white paint with a yellow tinge —tinged adj.

tin·gle /ˈtaɪŋgl/ v. [I] to feel a slight sting on your skin: My fingers tingled with the cold. —tingle n. [C] tin·ker /ˈtaɪŋkər/ v. [I] (informal) to make small changes to something in order to repair it or improve it: Dad was tinkering with the engine.

tin·kle /ˈtaɪŋkəl/ v. [I] to make high soft ringing sounds: a tinkling bell — tinkly adj.

tin·ny /ˈtaɪni/ adj. a tinnny sound is unpleasant to listen to, and sounds like it is coming from something made of metal: tinnny music tin·sel /ˈtaɪnsəl/ n. [U] thin pieces of shiny silver paper, used especially as Christmas decorations tint /ˈtaɪnt/ n. [C] a small amount of a light color shade: The sky had a pink tint.

tint·v. [T] to change the color of something, especially hair ti·ny /ˈtaɪni/ adj. extremely small: thousands of tiny little flies | a tiny fraction of the budget

THESAURUS
small, little, minute, miniature, minuscule

→ SHY

→ SLY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY

→ SY tirade

ti·rade /ˈtaɪrəd/ n [C] a long angry speech criticizing someone or something: a tirade against/at politics tire1 /ˈtaɪər/ n [C] a thick round piece of rubber that fits around the wheel of a car, bicycle, etc.: I had a flat tire (= all the air went out of it) on the way home.

tire2 v. 1 [T] to become tired, or to make someone feel tired: Even short walks tire her. 2 tire of sth to become bored with something: We never tired of her stories.

tired /ˈtaɪərd/ adj 1 feeling that you want to sleep or rest: I was too tired to move. 2 Ben looks tired out.

TIRELESS /ˈtaɪrlɪs/ adj working very hard in a determined way: tireless worker — tirelessly adv tire·some /tɪrˈsʌm/ adj annoying and boring: Tiring: a tiresome conversation tiring /ˈtaɪərɪŋ/ adj making you feel tired: The trip had been tiring.

tis·sue /ˈtɪsʊ/ n 1 [C] a piece of soft thin paper, used for blowing your nose 2 [U] biology the material forming animal or plant cells: damaged lung tissue tit·for·tat /ˈtɪtˌfɔːrˌtæt/ n [C] (informal) something bad that you do to someone because s/he has done something bad to you tithe /ˈtaɪθ/ n 1 [C] usually plural. 1 social science a particular amount, usually 10% of income; that members of some Christian churches are expected to give to the church 2 history a tax paid to the church, in past times tit·il·late /ˌtɪtɪlˈleɪt/ v [T] to make someone feel excited or interested, especially sexually: TV news seems often meant to titillate you, not inform you.

tit·tle /ˈtaɪtl/ n 1 [C] the name given to a book, painting, play, etc.: What is the title of her new book? 2 [C] (written) a book: this year’s bestselling titles 3 [C] a word or name that describes someone’s rank or position: Her official title is editorial manager. 4 [C] a word such as “Mrs.” “Dr.” “Senator,” etc. that is used before someone’s name to show whether s/he is married or what his/her rank or position is 5 [C] the position of being the winner of an important sports competition: the National League batting title 6 [singular, U] the legal right to own something: Who has the title to this land?

tit·le·role /ˈtaɪlərəl/ n [T] to give a name to a book, play, etc.: The concert was titled “Home for the Holidays.”

title·character /ˈtaɪlətʃərkəl/ n [C] the main character in a play, movie, etc., which is the same as the name of the play.

tit·ter /ˈtaɪtər/ v [T] to laugh quietly, especially in a nervous way — titter n [C] tis·zy /ˈtɪzɪ/ n (informal) in a tizzy feeling nervous, upset, and sometimes confused tLC n [U] (Informal) tender loving care kindness and love that you give to someone when s/he is sick or upset

TN the written abbreviation of TENNESSEE

TNT n [U] a powerful explosive to1 /təʊ/ before vowels to; strong tu/ [used with the basic form of a verb to make the infinitive.] Do not use “to” with modal verbs. 1 used after a verb, noun, or adjective when the infinitive completes its meaning: I’d love to go! It’s starting to rain. The men were told to leave the bar. If you get a chance to see the play, you should. Dad says he’s not ready to retire yet. It’s great to see you! 2 used by itself instead of an infinitive in order to avoid repeating the same verb: You can go if you want to. 3 used after “how,” “where,” “who,” “whom,” “whose,” “which,” “when,” “what,” or “whether”: Can you show me how to do this? Maria didn’t know whether to call Tim or not. 4 used in order to show the purpose of an action: He covered the child to keep her from getting cold. To begin with, let’s look at chapter three. 5 used after “too” and an adjective: It’s too cold to go outside. 6 used after an adjective and “enough”: Are you feeling well enough to go back to work? 7 used after “there is” and a noun: There’s nothing to do here.
to2 prep 1 in order to be in a particular place, event, state, etc.: The drive to the city takes five hours. I couldn’t go to sleep. Are you going to the wedding?

TOWARDS /ˈtɔərdz/ in order to, so (that), for 2 toward or in the direction of a place: She went to the door. 3 threw the ball to me.

toast /təʊst/ n. [C] food that has been heated until it is brown and brown in color toaster /təʊstɚ/ n. [C] a machine used for making toast to-bac-co /təˈbækəʊ/ n. [U] dried brown leaves that are smoked in cigarettes, cigars, etc., or the plant that these come from

to-bog-gan-ing /təˈbɒɡənɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport of sliding down snow-covered hills on a special wooden or plastic board that curves up at the front —to boggan /təˈbɒɡən/ v. [I] T·o·ken·ism /təˈkɑːnɪz/ n. [plural] (informal) clothes, token woman/minority/black etc. adj. 1 a round piece of metal that you use instead of money to pay to use a place where you pay to use a particular road, bridge, etc. 2 something that represents a feeling, fact, event, etc. 3 a token of our appreciation.

to·ken·ism /təˈkɑːnɪz/ n. [plural] (informal) clothes, token woman/minority/black etc. adj. 1 a round piece of metal that you use instead of money to pay to use a place where you pay to use a particular road, bridge, etc. 2 something that represents a feeling, fact, event, etc. 3 a token of our appreciation.

tol·er·able /təˈlɜrəbəl/ adj. 1 something that is tolerable is not very good, but you are able to accept it [not] intolerable. — tolerably adv.

tol·er·ance /təˈlɜrəns/ n. 1 [U] willingness to allow people to do, say, or believe what they want: society's need for religious/racial tolerance 2 [C,U] the degree to which someone or something can suffer pain, difficulty, etc. without being harmed: plants with limited tolerance for/to the cold 3 [C,U] math the amount by which a measurement can be different from what is wanted.

tol·er·ate /təˈlɜrət/ v. [T] to accept something, even though you do not like it: The school will not tolerate sexual harassment. [My stepmother barely tolerated me. —tolerant adj. —toleration /təˈlɜrəʃən/ n. [U] accept — to agree or deal with a situation you do not like but cannot change: She found it hard to accept his death.

stand — to be able to accept or deal well with a difficult situation: It was so noisy in there that I could hardly stand it.

put up with sth — to accept an annoying situation or someone's annoying behavior, without trying to stop it or change it: I don't see how you can put up with the constant noise.

live with sth — to accept a bad situation as a permanent part of your life that you cannot change: Stress is just something you have to learn to live with.

condone (formal) — to accept or allow behavior that most people think is wrong: I cannot condone the use of violence.

toll /təl/ n. [C] 1 [usually singular] the number of people killed or injured at a particular time: The death toll has risen to 83. 2 [usually singular] a bad effect that something has on someone or something over a long period of time: Years of smoking have taken their toll on his health. 3 the money you have to pay to use a particular road, bridge, etc.

toll /təl/ v. [I,T] if a bell tolls, or you toll it, it keeps ringing slowly.

toll-free adj. a toll-free telephone call does not cost any money. Call our toll-free number now.

tom-ah-awk /təˈmɑːhkw/ n. [C] a light ax used by some Native Americans in past times.

to-ma-to /təˈmeɪtoʊ/ n. (plural tomatoes) 1 a soft round red fruit, eaten as a vegetable raw or cooked: a tomato sauce. [Origin: 1600—1700 Spanish tomate, from Nahuatl (a language from Southern Mexico and Central America) tomatl] 2 see picture at VEGETABLE.

tomb /təm/ n. [C] a grave, especially a large one above the ground: the tomb of China's first emperor. [Origin: 1100—1200 Anglo-French tumbe, from Late Latin tumba "pile of earth under which a body is buried"] tom-boy /təmˈbaʊ/ n. [C] a girl who likes to play the same games as boys.

tomb-stone /təmˈstʌm/ n. [C] a GRAVESTONE.

tom-cat /təmˈkæt/ n. [C] a male cat.

tome /təm/ n. [C] (literary) a large heavy book.
tomorrow1 /təˈmaʊrəʊ, ˈmaʊr-/ adv. on or during the day after today: Hanson is leaving tomorrow. [I’ll see you tomorrow morning/afternoon/night. [Origin: Old English to mor- gen, from to “tom” + morgen “morning”] tomorrow2 n [U] 1 the day after today → TODAY, YESTERDAY. Tomorrow is Thursday. 2 the future, especially the near future: the schools of tomorrow. 3 do sth like there’s no tomorrow to do something without worrying about the future: We’re spending money like there’s no tomorrow. tone /təʊn/ n [C] 1 a unit for measuring weight, equal to 2,000 pounds 2 (informal) a very large quantity or weight: Your suitcase weighs a ton! She spent tons of money.
tone1 /təʊn/ n 1 [C,U] the way your voice sounds, which shows how you are feeling or what you mean: Ben’s calm, relaxed tone of voice | “Yes,” she replied, in an amused tone. 2 [singular, U] the general feeling or attitude expressed in a piece of writing, activity, etc.: The argument set the tone (began a feeling that continued) for the evening. 3 [C] the formal tone of her poems 4 [U] the quality of a sound, especially the sound of a musical instrument or someone’s voice 5 [U] how strong and firm your muscles, skin, etc. are: Exercise will improve your muscle tone. 6 [C] a shade of a particular color 7 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the difference in pitch between two musical notes that are separated by one key on the piano [Tune] step.
tone2 also tune up v [‘təʊn] 1 to improve the strength and firmness of your muscles, skin, etc.: Do these exercises to tone your stomach muscles.
tone sth. ↔ down phr. v to make something such as a speech or piece of writing less offensive, exciting, etc.: Advisers told him to tone down his statement.
tone-deaf adj unable to hear the difference between different musical notes.
toner /ˈtɒnər/ n [U] a type of ink that is used in machines that print or copy documents.
tongue /tʌŋ/ n [C] 1 the soft part in your mouth that you can move and that you use for tasting and speaking 2 bite/hold your tongue to stop yourself from saying something: Jim struggled to hold his tongue. 3 a language: your mother/native tongue (=the language you learned as a child). 4 the part of a shoe under the LACES (strings that you tie them with) → a slip of the tongue at slip2, on the tip of your tongue at tip.
tool² v. tool around/along phr. v. (informal) to drive, especially for fun tool-box n. [C] a special box for keeping tools in toot /tut/ v. [T] if a horn toots, or if you toot it, it makes a short sound —toot n. [C] tooth /tuθ/ n. (plural teeth /ˈtiːθ/) 1 one of the hard objects in your mouth that you use for biting and chewing your food: The wolf had fierce eyes and sharp teeth. | Did you brush your teeth (=clean them)? ➔ see picture on page A3 2 one of the pointed parts that sticks out from a comb, saw, etc. 3 fight (sb/sth) tooth and nail to try with a lot of effort and determination to do something: Neighborhood groups fought tooth and nail against the closing of the school. [origin: Old English toþ] ➔ have a sweet tooth at SWEET tooth-ache /ˈtʌbɪk/ n. [C/U] a pain in a tooth tooth-brush /ˈtʌbbrʌʃ/ n. [C] a small brush for cleaning your teeth ➔ see picture at BRUSH!

tooth-paste /ˈtʌpɑːptɑːs/ n. [U] a substance used for cleaning your teeth tooth-pick /ˈtʌθpɪk/ n. [C] a small pointed piece of wood used for removing pieces of food from between your teeth top¹ /tɒp/ n. [C] 1 HIGHEST PART the highest part of something (ANT) bottom: the tops of the mountains | Write your name at the top of the page | an ice cream sundae with nuts on top of it 2 UPPER SURFACE the flat upper surface of an object: The table has a glass top | Photographs of the family were displayed on top of the piano. 3 on top of sth a) in addition to something: On top of everything else, I need $700 to fix my car! b) in control of a situation: He felt alert and on top of things. 4 the top the best, most successful, or most important position in an organization, company, competition, etc.: The people at the top make the decisions. | What do these men, who have reached the top of their professions, have in common? 5 CLOTHING clothing that you wear on the upper part of your body: a pink top 6 COVER a cover for a pen, container, etc., especially something that you push or turn: I can’t get the top off this jar. ➔ THESAURUS cover, lid, cap ➔ COVER²

7 off the top of your head (informal) said without checking the facts: Off the top of my head I’d say there were about 50. 8 at the top of your voice/lungs shouted or sung as loudly as you can

9 TOY a toy that spins and balances on its point when you twist it 10 on top of the world (informal) extremely happy
top² adj. 1 at the top (ANT) bottom: the top button of my shirt 2 best or most successful: a top salesman | the top score ➔ POSITION²
top³ v. (topped, topping) [T] 1 to be higher, better, or more than something: Their profits have topped $5 million this year. 2 be topped by/with sth to have something on top: ice cream topped with maple syrup top sth off phr. v. (informal) to do one final thing before finishing something: She topped it off by being named the most valuable player.
top out phr. v. if something that is increasing tops out, it reaches its highest point and stops rising: The Dow Jones average topped out at 5999.75 today.
top hat n. [C] a man’s tall hat with a flat top, worn in past times ➔ see picture at HAT top-heavy adj. 1 too heavy at the top and therefore likely to fall over: 2 a top-heavy organization has too many managers top-i-c /ˈtɒpɪk/ n. [C] a subject that people talk or write about: The discussion was on the topic of human rights | the main topic of conversation | The environment is a hot topic (=important topic) during this election year. [origin: 1400—1500 Latin Topica “Topics,” from Greek Topika, from topos “of a place, of a useful quotation.” This was the title of a book by the ancient Greek thinker Aristotle.] ➔ TOPIC ➔ THESAURUS subject, theme, issue, matter ➔ SUBJECT² top-i-cal /ˈtɒpɪkəl/ (Ac) adj. relating to something that is important at the present time: The show deals with topical issues. top-i-c-sent-ence n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the sentence in a PARAGRAPH that states the main idea you are writing about top-less /ˈtɒplɛs/ adj. a woman who is topless is not wearing any clothes on the upper part of her body top-most /ˈtɒpmɔːst/ adj. highest: the topmost branches top-notch adj. (informal) having the highest quality or standard: top-notch schools top-o-graph-i-cal /ˈtɒpəˌɡræfɪkəl/ also top-o-graph-i-cal adj. EARTH SCIENCES relating to topography top-o-gra-phy /ˈtɒpəˌɡræfi/ n. [U] 1 EARTH SCIENCES the science of describing or making a map of an area of land 2 EARTH SCIENCES the shape of an area of land, including its hills, valleys, etc. [origin: 1500—1600 Late Latin topographia “description of a place,” from Greek, from topos “a place,” from topo graphein “to describe a place”] ➔ topographer n. [C] top-ping /ˈtɔpɪŋ/ n. [C, U] food that you put on top of other food to make it taste or look better: pizza toppings top-ple /ˈtɔp(ə)l/ v. 1 [T] to fall over, or to make something do this: Several trees toppled over in the storm. 2 [T] to take power away from a leader or government: The scandal could topple the government.

top·sy-tur·vy /ˌtɔpsəˈtɜrvə/ adj. in a state of complete disorder or confusion tor·ment /ˈtɔrmənt/ n. [C, U] severe pain and suffering, or something that causes this tor·ment /ˈtɔrmənt/ v. [T] to make someone suffer a lot of mental or physical pain: He was tormented by guilt. — tormentor n. [C] torn /tɔrn/ v. the past tense of tear tor·no·do /ˈtɔrnoʊdə/ n. (plural tornados) [C] an extremely violent storm consisting of air that spins very quickly (Origin: 1500—1600 Spanish tornada “thunderstorm”)

tor·pe·do /ˈtɔrpədo/ n. (plural torpedoes) [C] a weapon that is fired under the surface of the ocean and explodes when it hits something (Origin: 1700—1800 torpedo type of fish that can produce electricity to protect itself (16—21 centuries), from Latin, “stiffness, numbness, torpedo fish”) — torpedo v. [T] tor·rid /ˈtɔrɪd/ adj. (formal) lazy or sleepy, and with no energy, activity, or excitement: the torpid warmth of the evening. — torpishly adv.

tor·rent /ˈtɔrənt, ˈtɔrənt/ n. 1 a lot of something: a torrent of criticism 2 [C] a large amount of water moving very quickly in a particular direction — torrential /ˈtɔrənt(ə)l, ˈtɔrənt(ə)l/ adj.; torrential rain tor·rid /ˈtɔrəd, ˈtɔrəd/ adj. 1 involving strong emotions, especially sexual excitement: a torrid love affair 2 extremely hot tor·so /ˈtɔrsoʊ/ n. (plural torsos) [C] your body, not including your arms, legs, or head tort /ˈtɔrt, ˈtɔrt/ n. [C] law an action that is wrong but not criminal and can be dealt with in a civil court of law tor·ti·lla /ˈtɔrt̪iˈlə/ n. [C] a thin flat Mexican bread made from cornmeal or flour tor·toise /ˈtɔrtəs/ n. a slow-moving animal that can put its legs and head inside the shell that covers its body (Origin: 1400—1500 Old French tortue, from Vulgar Latin tartarica, from Late Latin tartaricus “of Tartarus, the land of the dead in ancient stories;” because it used to be thought that tortoises and turtles came from hell)

tor·tu·ous /ˈtɔrtjuːəs/ adj. 1 complicated, long, and therefore confusing: a tortuous process 2 a tortuous road has a lot of turns and is difficult to travel on tor·ture /ˈtɔrtər/ v. [T] to deliberately hurt someone in order to force him/her to tell you something, to punish him/her, or to cruel: He was tortured to death in prison.

toss /təs/ v. 1 [T] to throw something without much force: Could you toss me my keys? 2 [T] to move around continuously in a violent or uncontrollable way, or to make something do this: The kite was being tossed by the wind. 3 [T] to toss and turning (changing my position in bed because I could not sleep) all night. 4 [T] also toss out (informal) to get rid of something: “Where’s the newspapers?” “I tossed it.” 4 [T] to cover food in a liquid by moving it around in the liquid: Toss the carrots in melted butter. — toss n. [C] → toss/flip a coin at coin² toss-up /ˈtɔsəp/ n. It’s a toss-up (spoken) said when you do not know which of two things will happen, or which of two things to choose: So far the election is a toss-up.

tot /ˈtɔt/ n. [C] (informal) a small child tot·al /ˈtotəl/ adj. 1 complete, or as great as is possible: Their marriage was a total disaster. 2 total number/amount/cost etc. the number, amount, etc. that is the total: The total cost of the building will be $6 million.

total² /ˈtɔrtəl/ n. [C] the number that you get when you have added everything together: The city spent a total of two million dollars on the library. 1 I was out of work for 34 days in total.
total

v. 1 [linking verb] to add up to a particular amount: Price money totaling $5,000 will be awarded. 2 [T] (informal) to damage a car so badly that it cannot be repaired: Chad totaled his dad’s new Toyota.

 totalitarianism n. U [politics] based on a political system in which people are completely controlled by the government.

totally adv. completely, wholly, utterly. COMPLETELY tote n. [T] (informal) to carry something.

tote bag n. [C] a large bag in which you carry things.

totem pole n. [C] a tall wooden pole with images of animals or faces cut into it, made by some Native American tribes.

total adj. 1 [C] something:

- carry, lug, cart, haul, schlep
- completely, absolutely,
- 'total'
- entirely, wholly, utterly

- carry
- carry

- carry

2 [U] if two things are touching, there is no space in between them: Make sure the wires aren’t touching.

- not touch
- not touch

something: My brother won’t let me touch his bike.

- b) to not eat or drink something: She didn’t touch her breakfast.

- c) to refuse to deal with someone:

- to totally affect someone’s emotions, especially by making him/her feel pity or sympathy

- TOUCHED

- His speech touched everyone.

- 6 touch base to talk to someone in order to find out how she is or what is happening: I wanted to touch base with you before the meeting.

- touch down phr. v. if an aircraft touches down, it lands on the ground.

- touch on/upon phr. v. to cause a bad situation or violent event to begin: The report touched off a fierce debate.

- touch up phr. v. to improve something by making small changes to it: Norma touched up her makeup for the picture.

- touch

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it,

- totalitarianism

- completely controlled by the government

- based on a political system in which people are

- total

- total

- 1070

- made by some Native American tribes

- way

- something

- pole with images of animals or faces cut into it, tour-ism /ˈtʊərɪzɪm/ n. [U] the business of providing tourists with places to stay and things to do: The island depends on tourism for most of its income.

tour-ist /ˈtʊərɪst/ n. [C] someone who visits a place for pleasure: San Francisco is always full of tourists in the summer. | The Statue of Liberty is a major tourist attraction.

tour-na-ment /ˈtʊrnəmənt/ , ˈtoʊr-/ n. [C] a competition in which many players or teams compete against each other until there is one winner tour·ni·quet /ˈtaʊrnɪˌkwɛt/ n. [C] a band of cloth that is twisted tightly around an injured arm or leg to make blood stop coming out tou·sle /ˈtəʊzəl/ , -səl v. [T] to make someone’s hair look messy —tousied adj.

tout /ˈtəʊt/ v. [T] to praise someone or something in order to persuade people that he, she, or it is important or worth a lot: Paul’s band is being touted as the next big thing.

tow·er /ˈtəʊər/ n. 1 a place with houses, stores, offices, etc. where people live and work, that is smaller than a city: a little town on the coast 2 [U] tow·el /ˈtəʊəl/ n. 1 a small towel used for drying something: a bath towel (=for drying yourself) | a dish towel | [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French totile] tow·el·ly /ˈtəʊəlɪ/ adj.

tow·el·off/down v. [T] to dry your body using a towel tow·er·ed /ˈtəʊərɪd/ past of tower tow·er·ing /ˈtəʊərɪŋ/ adj.

tow·n /ˈtaʊn/ n. 1 a place with houses, stores, offices, etc. where people live and work, that is smaller than a city: a little town on the coast 2 [U]
the town or city where you live: How long have you been in town? She’s from out of town (selves in a different town). I’ll be out of town this weekend. 3 [U] the business or shopping center of a town: “Where’s Dad?” “He’s gone into town.” 4 [singular] all the people who live in a particular town: The whole town got involved in the celebrations. 5 [out on the town (informal)] going to restaurants, theaters, etc. for entertainment in the evening: Everyone went out for a night on the town. 6 go to town (on sth) (informal) to do something eagerly and with a lot of energy: The school really went to town on their production of “The Wizard of Oz.” (they did the play well and worked hard on it). [Origin: Old English tun “yard, buildings inside a wall, village, town”] town hall n. [C] a public building used for a town’s local government town-house n. [C] a house in a group of houses that share one or more walls → house town-ship n. [C] an area where people live and work that is organized under a local government towns-people n. [plural] all the people who live in a particular town tow truck n. [C] a strong vehicle that can pull cars behind it tox-ic /ˈtoʊsɪk/ adj. poisonous: toxic chemicals [Origin: 1600—1700 Late Latin toxicus, from Latin toxicum “poison”] → toxicity n. [U] HARMFUL tox-i-cal-o·gy /ˈtoʊsɪkələdʒi/ n. [U] biology the medical study of poisons and their effects toxic ‘waste n. [C,U] waste products from industry that are harmful to people, animals, or the environment tox-in /ˈtoʊsɪn/ n. [C] biology a poisonous substance, especially one made by bacteria toy1 /toʊ/ n. [C] an object for children to play with: Her husband brought home some new toys for the baby. | a toy car | The children were playing with their new toys. toy2 v. toy with phr. v. 1 toy with sth to think about an idea, plan, etc. for a short time and not very seriously: She toyed with the idea of becoming an actress. 2 toy with sb/sth to lie to someone or trick him/her, for example saying that you love him/her when you do not trace1 /treɪz/ v. [T] 1 to study or describe the history, development, or origin of something: He traced his family history (back) to the 17th century. 2 to copy a picture by putting a thin piece of paper over it and drawing the lines that you can see through the paper → draw3 3 to find someone or something that has disappeared: Police are still trying to trace the missing child. trace2 n. 1 [C,U] a sign that someone or something has been in a place: We found no trace of them on the island. | He disappeared without a trace (completely). 2 [C] a very small amount of a substance, quality, emotion, etc. that is difficult to notice: There was a trace of poison in the glass. | a trace of sorrow in his voice trace·element n. [C] chemistry 1 a chemical element that your body needs a very small amount of to live 2 a chemical element that only exists in small amounts on Earth tra-che-a /ˈtrækiə/ n. (plural tracheas or tracheae) [-ki-] [C] biology the tube down which air goes from the throat to the lungs → see picture at lung track1 /træk/ n. 1 keep/lose track of sb/sth to pay attention to someone or something so that you know what is happening, or to fail to do this: She lost track of all the money she spent. 2 be on the right/wrong track to think in a way that is likely to lead to a correct or incorrect result: Keep going, you’re on the right track. 3 for racing [C] a course with a special surface on which people, cars, horses, etc. race 4 sport [U] the sport of running on a track: He ran track in high school. → see picture on page 44 5 be on/off track to be in a state or situation that will lead to success or failure: I feel that my career is back on track now. 6 railroad [C] the two metal lines that a train travels on: railroad tracks → train1 7 tracks [plural] marks on the ground made by a moving animal, person, or vehicle: We saw bear tracks in the mud. 8 song [C] one of the songs or pieces of music on a record: the best track on the album 9 make tracks (informal) to leave somewhere quickly, or hurry when going somewhere → fast track at fast1, off the beaten track/path/at beaten, one-track mind track2 v. [T] 1 to search for a person or animal by following a smell or tracks on the ground: We tracked the moose for hours. 2 to follow the movements of an aircraft or ship by using radar 3 to leave mud or dirt behind you when you walk: Who tracked mud all over the floor? track sb/sth ↔ down phr. v. to find someone or something after searching in different places: We finally were able to track down her parents.
traditional economy

2 the banking/retail/tourist etc. trade the business that comes from or is done by banks, etc. | trade (in) [C] an exchange: Let's make a trade — my frisbee for your baseball. | [C] [U]: a particular job, especially one in which you work with your hands: Jerry's a plumber by trade.

3 if two or more people trade insults or blows, they insult or hit each other trade 3th ↔ in pref v to give something old that you own, such as a car, as part of the payment for something new: I traded my Chevy in for a Honda.

trade on 3th pref v to use a situation or someone's kindness in order to gain an advantage for yourself: She's trading on her father's fame to try to make it in the music business.

trade up pref v to sell something such as a car or house so that you can buy a better car or house

'trade association also 'industry association n. [C] ECONOMICS a nonprofit organization that supports and protects the rights of a particular industry, for example by trying to persuade the government to make changes to certain laws, so that the industry will develop and be successful

'trademark n. [C] ECONOMICS a special word or picture on a product that shows it is made by a particular company, that cannot be used by any other company

'trade-off n. [C] ECONOMICS the act of accepting something that you do not like or giving up an advantage that you have because it allows you to have or achieve something that you want: Inflation often is a trade-off for healthy economic growth.

'trading post n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who buys and sells goods | trading person who buys and sells stocks, bonds, or currency, etc. on a financial market

'trade route n. [C] ECONOMICS a way across land or the ocean used by traders' vehicles, especially ships, in the past

'trade school n. [C] a school where people go in order to learn a particular trade

'trade secret n. [C] a piece of secret information about a particular business, that is only known by the people who work there

'trade war n. [C] ECONOMICS a situation in which companies or countries compete against each other very strongly, and which usually involves governments putting higher taxes on particular goods brought in from another country

'tradition n. [C] something that people have done for a long time, and continue to do: an old family/Jewish/American etc. tradition | This country has a long tradition of welcoming immigrants. | It's a tradition that the groom should not see the bride before the wedding.

'traditional adj. relating to the traditions of a country or group of people: a traditional Irish folk song | traditional Mexican food | It is traditional to exchange gifts at Christmas. | following ideas, methods, etc. that have existed for a long time rather than using traditionalist

new or different ideas or methods [syn] subsistence economy tra-di-tion-alf /tra'difjənl/ n [Ac] 1 someone who likes traditional ideas and does not like change

trafic /trafi:k/ n [U] 1 the vehicles moving along a particular road; We left early to avoid the traffic. | heavy/light traffic (=a small or large amount of traffic) 2 the movement of aircraft, ships, or trains from one place to another: air traffic control traffic jam n [C] a long line of vehicles on the road that cannot move, or that move very slowly: We were stuck in a traffic jam for two hours!

tra-fick-ing /tra'fikkɪŋ/ n drug/arms trafficking the activity of buying and selling illegal drugs or weapons —trafficker n [C] —trafficking v [I,T] traffic light also traffic signal n [C] a set of red, green, and yellow lights used for controlling traffic [syn] light trag-e-dy /tra'джədi/ n (plural tragedies) [C,U] 1 a very sad and shocking event: the tragedy of a child’s death 2 lang. lang. arts a serious play that ends sadly, or this style of writing: Shakespeare's tragedies [origin: 1300—1400 Old French tragédie, from Latin, from Greek trágōdia]

trag-ic /tra'dɪk/ adj very sad and shocking: We heard the news of Holly's tragic death in a plane crash. —tragically adv

trail1 /treɪl/ v 1 [T] also trail behind to be losing a game, competition, or election: The Cowboys are trailing 21–14. 2 [I,T] to pull something behind you, especially along the ground, or to be pulling in this way: The wedding dress trailed on the ground behind her. 3 [I] to follow someone: The two mothers walked along with their kids trailing behind them. 4 [I,T] to follow someone by looking for signs that she has gone in a particular direction trail off gbe v if your voice trails off, it becomes quieter and quieter until it cannot be heard: Her words trailed off as Mrs. Hellman walked into the room.

trail2 n 1 [C] a path across open country or through a forest: a hiking trail in the mountains 2 a trail of blood/clues/destruction etc. a series of marks or signs left behind by someone or something that is moving 3 be on the trail of sb/sth to be looking for a person or information that is difficult to find: He is always on the trail of a big story.

trail-blaz-er /treɪl,bleɪzə/ n [C] (informal) someone who is the first to discover or develop new methods of doing something: She is a trailblazer in the field of medical research.

trail-er /treɪlə/ n [C] 1 a vehicle that can be pulled behind a car, used for living in during a vacation 2 a vehicle that can be pulled behind another vehicle, used for carrying something heavy 3 a short advertisement for a movie or television program trail-er park n [C] an area where trailers are parked and used as people's homes

train1 /treɪn/ n [C] 1 a long vehicle which travels along a railroad carrying people or goods. It consists of a line of carriages pulled by an engine: the train to Detroit | It'll take about 4 hours by train. | I take the train to work. | Harry up or we'll miss our train. — see picture at TRANSPORTATION

2 train of thought a related series of thoughts that are developing in your mind: Sorry, I’ve lost my train of thought. 3 a long line of moving animals, vehicles, or people: a camel train 4 a part of a dress that spreads out over the ground behind the person wearing it

train2 v 1 [I,T] to teach someone or be taught the skills of a particular job or activity: Sally spent two years training as a nurse. | He’s training to be a pilot. 2 [T] to teach an animal to do something or to behave correctly: I've trained the dog to sit. 3 [I,T] to prepare for a sports event by exercising and practicing, or to make someone do this: He is training for the Olympics. — practice —trained adj train-ee /treɪni/ n [C] someone who is being trained for a job: a sales trainee train-er /treɪnə/ n [C] someone whose job is to train people or animals to do something train-ing /treɪnɪŋ/ n [U] 1 the process of teaching or being taught skills for a particular job: Myers has no formal training in music. 2 [U] special physical exercises that you do to stay healthy or prepare for a competition: weight training 3 She’s in training for the Boston Marathon.

trait /treɪt/ n [C] a particular quality in someone’s character [syn] characteristic: His jealousy is one of his worst traits.

THESaurus
characteristic, quality → transaction /trænsˈækʃən/ n. (plural transactions) [C] PHYSICS the curved path of an object that is fired or thrown through the air trampoline /træmplin/ v. [T] to walk somewhere with heavy steps. Kids were tramping through the snow on their way to school.

tramble /træmˈbl/ v. [I,T] 1 to step on something heavily so that you crush it with your feet: One woman was trampled to death by the crowd. 2 to ignore or not care about someone’s rights or feelings: The new rule trampolines on people’s right to free speech.

trampoline /træmpoˈlin, ′træmpəˌlin/ n. [C] a piece of sports equipment that you jump up and down on, made of a sheet of material tightly stretched across a large frame trance /træns/ n. [C] a state in which you seem to be asleep but you are still able to hear and understand what is said to you: He seemed to be in a trance. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French transire, from transiōr “to pass away, become unconscious;” from Latin transire] trance /træns/ n. [C] 1 an exact written or printed copy of something that was said: a transcript of the witness’s testimony 2 an official college document that has a list of the classes you took as a student and the grades you received transfer /trænsˈfɜːr/ n. from one place, job, etc. to another, or to make someone or something do this: After his first year at Valley College he transferred to UCLA. They’re transferring him from accounts to the shipping department. 2 [T] to move money from one account or institution to another: I’d like to transfer $500 to my checking account. 3 [T] LAW to officially give property or money to someone else [Origin: 1550—1600 Latin transferre, from trans “across” + ferre “to carry” —transferrable /trænsˈfɜːrəbl/ adj.: Organization and dealing well with people are skills that are transferrable to any job.

transfer /trænsˈfɜːr/ v. (transferred, transferring) 1 [I,T] to move from one place, job, etc. to another, or to make someone or something do this: After his first year at Valley College he transferred to UCLA. They’re transferring him from accounts to the shipping department. 2 [T] to move money from one account or institution to another: I’d like to transfer $500 to my checking account. 3 [T] LAW to officially give property or money to someone else [Origin: 1550—1600 Latin transferre, from trans “across” + ferre “to carry” —transferrable /trænsˈfɜːrəbl/ adj.: Organization and dealing well with people are skills that are transferrable to any job.

transform /trænsˈfɔːrm/ v. [T] to change the appearance, character, etc. of someone or something completely, especially in a good way: Will the attempt to transform the country into a democracy succeed? —transformation /trænsˈfɔːrmən/ n. [C,U]: the complete transformation of the city transmission /transˈmɪʃən/ n. [C,U] the process of sending or passing something from one place, person, etc. to another: the transmission of disease. 4 [U] (formal) the process of passing information, ideas, customs, etc. between people: The transmission of values from parent to child.

transmit /trænzmit/ v. (transmitted, transmitting) 1 [I,T] to send out electric signals for radio or television. 2 [T] to send or pass something from one place, person, etc. to another: The virus is transmitted through the blood. 3 [T] (formal) to pass knowledge, ideas, customs, etc. from one person or group to another: Schools transmit both knowledge and culture to students. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin transmutere, from trans “across” + mittre “to send.”] transmit-ter /trænzˈmɪtər/ n. (transmitted) equipment that sends out radio or television signals—transmitter/>.

transparent /trænˈspɑːrənt/ adj. 1 if something is transparent, you can see through it: transparent glass. 2 easy to notice and not deceiving anyone: obvious. The ad was a transparent attempt to fool the voters. [Origin: 1400—1500 Medieval Latin, present participle of transpare “to show through,” from Latin trans “through” + parere “to show”] —transparency n. [U] —transparently adv.

transplant /trənˈspɔrnt/ v. [T] to move an organ, piece of skin, etc. from one person’s body to another. 2 to move a plant from one place and put it in another. [Origin: 1400—1500 Late Latin transplantare, from Latin trans “across” + plantare “to plant.”] transplantation /trənˈspɔrntəʃən/ n. [U] a medical operation in which an organ from someone’s body is put into another person, or the organ itself: a heart transplant.

transformer /trænsˈfɔːmər/ n. [C] a piece of equipment for changing electricity from one voltage to another.

transform /trænsfərm/ v. (transformed, transforming) 1 to change speech or writing from one language to another. \(\text{INTERPRET: He translated the book into German.}\) 2 translate into sth if one thing translates into another, the second thing happens as a result of the first: Will more investment translate into more jobs? —translation /trænˈfɔːrmən/ n. [C,U] transLate /trænzˈleɪt/ v. [T] to change speech or writing from one language to another. \(\text{INTERPRET: He translated the book into German.}\) 2 translate into sth if one thing translates into another, the second thing happens as a result of the first: Will more investment translate into more jobs? —translation /trænˈfɔːrmən/ n. [C,U] transient /trænzˈɪənt/ adj. 1 continuing only for a short time: His success was transient. 2 working or staying somewhere for only a short time: transient workers.

transition /trænˈziʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 a period of change from one form or condition to another. The process of changing from one form or condition to another:

transitive /trænsˈɪtɪv/ adj. a transitive verb has an object. In the sentence “She makes her own clothes,” “makes” is a transitive verb.

transform /trænsfərm/ v. (transformed, transforming) 1 to change speech or writing from one language to another. \(\text{INTERPRET: He translated the book into German.}\) 2 translate into sth if one thing translates into another, the second thing happens as a result of the first: Will more investment translate into more jobs? —translation /trænˈfɔːrmən/ n. [C,U] in a vehicle: Helicopters will transport the equipment. (Origin: 1300—1400 Old French transporter, from Latin, from trans “across” + portare “to carry”)

TRANSPORTATION /trænˈpɔrtəʃən/ n [U] 1 a system or method for carrying passengers or goods from one place to another: Buses are the main form of public transportation. 2 the process or business of taking goods from one place to another: the transportation of goods

TRANSPOSE /trænzˈpouz/ v [T] (formal) to change the order or position of two or more words, letters, etc.

TRANSSEXUAL /trænzˈsexjuəl/ n [C] someone who has had a medical operation to become a person of the opposite sex

TRANSVERSE /trænzˈvɜrs/ adj lying or placed across something

TRANSVESTITE /trænzˈvestiθ/ n [C] someone, especially a man, who enjoys dressing like a person of the opposite sex

TRAP /træp/ n [C] 1 a piece of equipment for catching animals: a mouse trap 2 a bad situation from which it is difficult to escape: the deadly trap of drug addiction 3 a trick that is intended to catch someone or make him/her say or do something that s/he did not intend to

TRAP v (trapped, trapping) [T] 1 to prevent someone from escaping from somewhere, especially a dangerous place: Up to 25 people may be trapped in the burning building. 2 to trick someone so that s/he says or does something that s/he did not intend to: The police trapped him into confessing. 3 be/feel trapped to be in a bad situation from which it is difficult to escape: She was trapped in an unhappy marriage. 4 to catch an animal in a trap

TRAP DOOR n [C] a small door that covers an opening in a floor or roof

TRAPEZE /træˈpiz/ n [C] a short bar hanging... trash

trash can n [C] a garbage can trash compactor n [C] a machine used for pressing trash into a small mass trash talk also 'trash , talking n [U] the act of saying rude or insulting things to or about a sports player during a game or competition trashy adj of extremely bad quality: trashy novels trauma n [C,U] a state of extreme shock that is caused by a very bad or frightening experience, or the experience itself: the trauma of divorce [soldiers suffering from trauma [origin: 1600–1700 Greek "wound"]] traumatize /′traʊməˌtɪz/ v [T] to shock someone so badly that s/he is affected by it for a very long time: He was traumatized by his war experiences.

travel v 1 [U] to make a trip from one place to another, especially to distant places: Rick’s traveling across the U.S. with a backpack. | We always travel light (=without taking many bags). | We traveled by bus/train etc. through France. | He spent years traveling the country/world.

travel agency n [C] a business that arranges travel and vacations travel agent n [C] someone who works in a travel agency travel/traveling – the general activity of going from one place to another, especially for long distances and long periods of time: a special ticket for train travel around Europe I haven’t really done much traveling trip – the time spent and the distance traveled in going from one place to another: a trip to the grocery store | They’re planning a trip to Hawaii. journey (normal) – a trip that is long or difficult: the journey across the plains in a covered wagon travels – trips to places that are far away, or the act of moving from place to place over a period of time: her travels in South America voyage – a trip in which you travel by ship or in a spacecraft, used mainly in stories: Columbus’s voyage across the ocean tour – a trip for pleasure, during which you visit several different towns, areas, etc.: a tour of Europe expedition – a long and carefully organized trip, especially to a dangerous or unfamiliar place: Lewis and Clark’s expedition across North America excursion – a short trip to visit a place, usually by a group of people: an all-day excursion to Catalina Island pilgrimage – a trip to a holy place for religious reasons: a pilgrimage to Lourdes

2 travels [plural] trips, especially to places that are far away: She made a lot of friends on her travels.

Ways of traveling

drive or go by car

drive or go by plane

sail or go by boat/ship

take a train/bus/taxi/cab or go by train/bus etc.

walk/hike or go on foot bike or go by bike

Someone who travels traveler – any person who is traveling passenger – someone who is traveling in a car, bus, train, airplane, etc.

tourist – someone who is traveling somewhere for a vacation explorer – someone who travels to places that people have not visited before commuter – someone who travels a long distance to work every day

AIRPORT, JOURNEY, PASSPORT

You can take, make, or go on a trip, journey, or voyage, but you cannot use these verbs with travel

2 [I] to move from one place to person to another: News travels fast in a small town. 3 [I,T] to go a particular distance or at a particular speed: We traveled over 400 miles the first day of our trip.

The bus was traveling at a high speed.

TRAVEL

trapezium

from two ropes high above the ground, used by acrobats trapezoid /′træpəˌzo id/ n [C] a shape with four sides, none of which is parallel with any other side trapper /′træpər/ n [C] someone who traps wild animals for their fur trapping /′træpɪŋ/ n [plural] all the clothes, possessions, etc. that show how rich, famous, or powerful someone is: He has all the trappings of stardom.

trash /′træʃ/ n [U] 1 things that you throw away, such as old food, dirty paper, etc. [garbage: Just put it in the trash. | Will someone please take out the trash (=take it outside the house)?

GARBAGE

2 (informal) something that is of very poor quality: There’s so much trash on TV these days.

trashy adj of extremely bad quality: trashy novels

trav·el /′trævl/ v 1 [T] to destroy something completely: You can’t have parties if your friends are going to trash the place. 2 to criticize someone or something severely: Critics have trashed the movie.

trav·el·er /′trævlər/ n [C] someone who is traveling somewhere trav·el·ing /′trævlɪŋ/ adj someone who is traveling travel agency n [C] a business that arranges travel and vacations

travel agent n [C] someone who works in a travel agency

trav·el·ly /′trævl i/ adj to destroy something completely: He was traumatized by his war experiences.

traveling /′trævlɪŋ/ adj someone who is traveling somewhere travel agency n [C] a business that arranges travel and vacations travel agent n [C] someone who works in a travel agency

travel

trash

trash can trash compactor

trash talk

trashy

trauma

traumatize

travel

travel agency

travel agent

trav·el·y

traveling

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel

travel agency

travel agent

usual

traveling

travel
travel·er /tra'vələr/ n. [C] someone who is on a trip or who travels often travel·er's check /tra'vələrz/ n. [C] a special check that can be exchanged for the money of a foreign country tra·verse /trə'vərs/ v. [I] formal to move across, over, or through something, especially land or water trav·es·ty /trævəstɪ/ n. (plural travesties) [C] something that is very bad because it is not what it should be: The trial was described as a travesty of justice.
trawl /trɔl/ n. [C] a wide net that is pulled along the bottom of the ocean to catch fish —trawl v. [T,U] trawl·er /trɔlər/ n. [C] a fishing boat that uses a trawl tray /treɪ/ n. [C] a flat piece of plastic, metal, or wood with raised edges, that is used for carrying things such as plates, food, etc.
trache·er·ous /trə'kɛərəs/ adj. 1 someone who is treacherous cannot be trusted because s/he secretly intends to harm you 2 extremely dangerous because you cannot see the dangers: Black ice on the roads made driving treacherous.
treach·er·y /trə'kɛəri/ n. [U] actions that are not loyal to someone who trusts you tradd 1 /træd/ v. (past tense trodd, past participle trodden) 1 tread carefully/lightly etc. to be very careful about what you say or do in a difficult situation: It's best to tread lightly when the boss is in a bad mood. 2 tread water to stay floating upright in deep water by moving your legs as if you were riding a bicycle 3 [U] (old-fashioned) to walk or step on something tradd 2 n. 1 [C,U] the pattern of lines on the part of a tire that touches the road 2 [C] the part of a stair that you put your foot on tread·mill /trɛd'mɪl/ n. 1 [C] a piece of exercise equipment that has a large belt around a set of wheels, that you can walk or run on while staying in the same place 2 [singular] work or a way of life that seems very boring because you always have to do the same things trea·son /trɪərəzn/ n. [U] the crime of being disloyal to your country or government, especially by helping its enemies treas·ure /trɛzər/ n. 1 [U] a group of valuable things, such as gold, silver, jewels, etc.: a story about buried treasure 2 [C] a very valuable and important object such as a painting or ancient document: the treasures of the Art Institute of Chicago treasure 2 v. [T] to treat something or someone as very special, important, or valuable: I'll always treasure the memories of this day.
treasure hunt n. [C] a game in which you have to find something that has been hidden by answering questions that are left in different places treas·ur·er /trɛzərər/ n. [C] someone who takes care of the money for an organization treas·ury /trɛzərɪ/ n. (plural treasuries) [C] 1 the money in an organization's accounts 2 a government office that controls a country's money: the Treasury Department treat 1 /trɪt/ v. [T] 1 to behave toward someone in a particular way: Why do you treat me like an idiot? 2 My parents always treated me as an equal. 3 Mr. Parker treats everyone equally/fairly. 2 to consider something in a particular way: You can treat these costs as business expenses. 3 to give someone medical attention for a sickness or injury: Eleven people were treated for minor injuries. 4 to buy or arrange something special for someone: We're treating Mom to dinner for her birthday. 5 to put a special substance on something or use a chemical process in order to protect or clean it: The wood has been treated to make it waterproof.
treat 2 n. 1 [C] something special that you give someone or do for him/her: If you're good, I'll buy you a treat. 2 [singular] an unexpected event that gives you a lot of pleasure: Getting your letter was a real treat. 3 my treat (spoken) used in order to tell someone that you will pay for something: Put away your money – dinner's my treat.
treat·a·ble /trɪə'tæbl/ adj. able to be medically treated: The disease is treatable with antibiotics.
treat·a·tise /trɪə'tɪs/ n. [C] a serious book or article about a particular subject: a treatise on political philosophy treat·ment /trɪt'mənt/ n. 1 [C,U] a method that is intended to cure an injury or sickness: a new treatment for cancer. 2 She was given emergency treatment by paramedics. 2 [U] a particular way of behaving toward someone or of dealing with him/her: Western society's treatment of women has improved. 3 The coach denied giving his son preferential/special treatment. 3 [C,U] a particular way of dealing with or talking about a subject: I didn't think the program gave the issue serious treatment. 4 [U] a process by which something is cleaned, protected, etc.: a waste treatment plant treat·ty /trɪ'ti/ n. (plural treaties) [C] politics a formal written agreement between two or more countries: a peace treaty tre·ble 1 /trɪbəl/ n. [C] En. lang. Arts the upper half of the whole range of musical notes tre·ble 2 v. [L,T] to triple tree /tri/ n. [C] a very tall plant that has a trunk (= thick wooden stem), branches, and leaves: an apple tree. 1 As a kid, I loved to climb trees. [Origin: Old English treow]

Thesaurus

Types of tree

- evergreen – an evergreen tree does not lose its leaves in winter
- deciduous – a deciduous tree loses its leaves in winter

Words

- deciduous
- evergreen

Categories

- Evergreen
- Deciduous

Definitions

- Evergreen: a tree or shrub that retains its leaves throughout the year
- Deciduous: a tree or shrub that sheds its leaves annually or biannually

Examples

- An evergreen tree can be a pine, fir, or spruce.
- A deciduous tree is often a maple, oak, or elm.

Usage

- Use evergreen for trees that remain green all year round, like firs and pines.
- Use deciduous for trees that shed their leaves in the fall, like maples and oaks.
treetop /ˈtrɪtɒp/ n. [C usually plural] the top branches of a tree treacle /ˈtreɪkəl/ n. [U] a thick, syrupy liquid made from cooked down sugar

treetop /ˈtrɪtɒp/ n. [C usually plural] the top branches of a tree treacle /ˈtreɪkəl/ n. [U] a thick, syrupy liquid made from cooked down sugar trib·ute /ˈtriːbət/ n. [C] A sports competition in which you run, swim, and ride a bicycle.

tribe /ˈtreɪb/ n. [C] A social group that consists of people of the same race who have the same beliefs, customs, language, etc. and live in one area ruled by a chief: the tribes of the Amazon jungle.

trib·u·la·tion /ˈtriːbjʊˌləˈeɪʃən/ n. (plural tribulations) A serious trouble or a serious problem.

trib·u·re /ˈtriːbjʊər/ n. [C] To give out to the tribes, pay.

tribal /ˈtriːbəl/ adj. Ruled by a chief: beliefs, customs, language, etc. and live in one area.

tribute to admiration for someone: The concert will be a tribute to Bob Dylan.

trick 1 /trɪk/ n. [C] 1 something you do in order to deceive someone: It was just a trick to get me to agree. 2 something you do to surprise someone and make other people laugh: The kids like playing tricks on the grownups.

trick 2 v. [T] To deceive someone in order to get something from him/her or make him/her do something: Believe me, we’re not trying to trick you. | Clients were tricked into believing he’d invest the money.

trick·er·y /ˈtrɪkərɪ/ n. [U] The use of tricks to deceive or cheat people.

trick·le /ˈtrɪkəl/ v. [I] If liquid trickles somewhere, it flows slowly in drops or in a thin stream:

Sweat trickled down his face. 2 If people, vehicles, goods, etc. trickle somewhere, they move slowly in small groups or amounts: Refugees have begun to trickle across the border. A trickle of blood.

trick or treat v. go trick or treating if children go trick or treating, they put on costumes and go from house to house on Halloween and say “trick or treat” in order to get candy.

trick·ster /ˈtrɪkstər/ n. [C] Someone who deceives or cheats people.

tricky /ˈtrɪki/ adj. (comparative trickier, superlative trickiest) Something that is tricky is difficult to deal with or do because it is complicated and full of problems: Finding out how the trouble started will be tricky.

tric·us·pid valve /ˈtrɪkəsˌpɪd ˈveɪlv/ n. [C] Biology a part of the right side of your heart that opens and closes to allow blood to flow from the right atrium into the right ventricle and prevent blood from flowing back into the atrium.

tri·cil·i·o·n·a·ry /trɪˈsɪliəˌnərɪ/ adj. A weapon with three points that looks like a large fork.

tri·cy·cle /trɪˈsɪkl/ n. [C] A small vehicle, used especially by young children, with one wheel at the front and two wheels at the back.

tri·dent /ˈtrɪdɛnt/ n. [C] A three-pronged spear with a handle, especially by young children, with one wheel at the front and two wheels at the back.

tri·gon·o·metry /trɪˈɡɒnəmətri/ n. [U] The part of mathematics that is concerned with the relationship between the angles and sides of triangles.

trill 1 /trɪl/ n. [C] A musical sound made by quickly repeating two notes that are very similar:

A bird’s trill.

trill 2 v. [I,T] To make something happen: Heavy rain may trigger mudslides. | Peanuts can trigger an allergic reaction in some people.

trig·o·nom·e·try /trɪɡəˈnɒmətri/ n. [U] The part of mathematics that is concerned with the relationship between the angles and sides of triangles.

trig·o·nom·e·try /trɪɡəˈnɒmətri/ n. [U] Mathematics the part of mathematics that is concerned with the relationship between the angles and sides of triangles.

tri·late·ral /trɪˈleɪtrəl/ adj. Including three groups or countries: a trilateral agreement.
trili•on /ˈtrɪliən/ number 1,000,000,000,000 tri•o•gy /ˈtrɪədʒi/ n. (plural trilogies) [C] a group of three books, plays, movies, etc. that have the same subject or characters [origin: 1600—1700 Greek tria toia “group of three plays;” from tri- “three” + -logia “-logy”] trim1 /trim/ v. (trimmed, trimming) [T] 1 to cut a small amount off something, especially to make it look neater: Trim off the excess fat.
   2 to reduce the size or amount of something, especially to save money: The mayor has plans to trim the city’s budget.
trim2 adj thin and healthy looking: a trim figure trim3 n. 1 [singular] an act of cutting something in order to make it look neater: Your beard needs a trim. 2 [singular, U] a decoration around the edges of a car, piece of clothing, etc.: a blue car with white trim tri•mes•ter /trɪˈmɛstər, trɪˈmes-/, tri•no•mi•al /trɪˈnəməl/ n. 1 one of three periods into which a year at school or college is divided. 2 biology one of the three-month periods of a woman’s pregnancy: Many women feel sick during the first trimester of pregnancy. [origin: 1600—1700 Greek trima tois “three” + mensis “month”] trim•mings /trɪˈmɪŋz/ n. all the trimmings all the other types of food that are traditionally served with the main dish of a meal: a turkey dinner with all the trimmings tri•n•i•ty /ˈtrɪni ti/ n. the (Holy) Trinity in the Christian religion, the union of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit in one God tri•n•ket /ˈtrɪpəkt/ n. [C] a piece of jewelry or a small pretty object that is not worth much money tri•no•mi•al /trɪˈnəməl/ n. [C] math a mathematical expression that has three parts connected by the sign + or the sign −, for example x + y + z —trinomial adj.
tri•o /ˈtrɪə/ n. (plural trios) [C] 1 a group of three people or things: a jazz trio 2 a piece of music for three performers trip1 /trɪp/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when you go from one place to another, often to visit a place or person: a trip to the grocery store | I’d met him on my last trip to Japan. They recently took a trip to Florida. | a camping/fishing/ski trip | a week-long business trip —THESAURUS travel, journey, voyage, tour, expedition, excursion, pilgrimage ➔ travel trip2 v. (tripped, tripping) 1 [I] to hit something with your foot by accident so that you fall or almost fall: Jack tripped on/over the bottom step.
—THESAURUS fall, slip, stumble, lose your balance ➔ fall trip3 n. [U] the stomach of a cow or pig, used as food tri•ple /ˈtrɪpl ə/ adj. having three parts, or involving three people or groups: a triple gold medal winner triple2 v. [L.] to increase by three times as much, or to make something do this: The landlord tripled the rent.
tri•plet /ˈtrɪplət/ n. [C] one of three children born at the same time to the same mother trip•li•cate /ˈtrɪplət/ n. in triplicate if a document is written in triplicate, there are three copies of it tri•pod /ˈtrɪpəd/ n. [C] a support with three legs, used for a camera, telescope, etc.
trite /ˈtrɪt/ adj. a trite remark, idea, etc., has been used so often that it seems boring and not sincere tri•um•ph /ˈtrɪəmf/ n. 1 [C] an important success or victory, especially after a difficult struggle: a foreign policy triumph | Fans celebrated San Francisco’s triumph over Cincinnati in the Super Bowl. 2 [U] a feeling of pleasure and satisfaction that you get from success or victory: shouts of triumph —triumphant —thrust adj. a triumphant army —thrust n. [U] to gain a victory or success, especially after a difficult struggle: Good will triumph over evil.
—thrust adj. done or made in order to celebrate a victory or success: a triumphal parade triv•i•a /ˈtrɪvə/ n. [plural] 1 detailed facts about —THESAURUS win, be victorious, prevail ➔ win tri•um•phal /ˈtrɪəmfəl/ adj. done or made in order to celebrate a victory or success: a triumphal parade trouble

1 PROBLEMS [C.U] problems that make something difficult, make you worry, spoil your plans, etc.: They're having some trouble with their car. | We had trouble getting reservations. | a plane with engine trouble \(\text{the company's financial troubles}\) | It took her mind off her troubles.

2 BAD POINT [singular] (spoken) used when saying what is not satisfactory about something or someone or what causes problems: The trouble with you is you don't listen. | There isn't enough time. That's the trouble.

3 in/into/out of trouble a) if someone or something is in trouble, she, he, or it is in a situation that has a lot of problems or that is difficult or dangerous: Their marriage was in trouble. | The agency was in serious/big/deep trouble. b) if someone is in trouble, she has done something which someone will punish him/her for or be angry about: My daughter's gotten into trouble at school. | Joe's in trouble with the police. | After-school activities help kids stay/keep out of trouble.

4 HEALTH [U] (informal) a problem that you have with your health: He has heart/back trouble.

5 EFFORT [U] an amount of effort and time that is needed to do something: She took the trouble to explain it to us again. | "Could you help me carry this?" "Sure, it's no trouble (=I am happy to help)."

6 be asking for trouble (informal) to take risks or do something stupid that is likely to cause problems: You're asking for trouble if you don't get those brakes fixed.

7 ARGUMENT/VIOLENCE [C.U] a situation in which people argue or fight with each other: The police stepped in to stop the troubles outside the courthouse.

trouble v. [T] (formal) 1 if a problem troubles you, it makes you feel worried or upset: His behavior worried her troubled me. 2 to say something or ask someone to do something which may use his/her time or upset him/her: I won't trouble you again.

troubled adj. 1 worried or anxious: Clayton looked troubled.

trousers n. a piece of clothing that covers the lower half of your body and that has a separate part for each leg (jeans)

troupe n. a group of singers, actors, dancers, etc. who work together

trouser n. (plural trousers) a piece of clothing that covers the lower half of your body and that has a separate part for each leg (jeans) trout n. (plural trout) a common river fish, or the meat from this fish troubling adj. worrying: The results raise some troubling questions.

trough n. 1 a long narrow open container that holds water or food for animals 2 economic the lowest point in an economic period that has high and low points, when the total value of all goods and services produced in a country will not fall any further troupe /trɒp/ n. [C] a group of singers, actors, dancers, etc. who work together trousers /trʌzərs/ n. [plural trousers] a piece of clothing that covers the lower half of your body and that has a separate part for each leg (jeans)

trout /trɔʊt/ n. (plural trout) a common river fish, or the meat from this fish trunk /trʌŋk/ n. [C] a small garden tool used for digging truant /trjuːant/ adj. staying away from school without permission [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French "wanderer"] truce /trjuːs/ n. [C] an agreement between two enemies to stop fighting or arguing for a short time: The warring sides have called/declared a truce.

truck /trʌk/ n. [C] a large road vehicle that is used for carrying heavy loads: a truck driver | a garbage/dump/above delivery etc. | truck → pickup → see picture at transportation truck v. [T] to take something somewhere by truck: Food and medicine were trucked in.

truck /trʌk/ n. [C] someone whose job is driving a truck truck farm n. [C] a farm that grows vegetables and fruit for sale directly to customers truck-in /trʌkɪn/ n. [U] the business of taking goods from place to place by truck truck-load /trʌkləʊd/ n. [C] the amount of something that a truck can carry truck stop n. [C] a cheap place to eat and buy gas on a highway, used especially by truck drivers truck-ulent /trʌkɪlənt/ adj. (formal) easily annoyed and always willing to argue with people trudge /trʌdʒ/ v. [I] to walk with slow heavy steps because you are tired, or it is difficult to walk: A group of soldiers trudged up/down the hill.

true adj. 1 based on facts and not imagined or invented (not false): It is true that people are living longer. The movie is based on a true story.

true adj. right, correct → right

true adj. 2 [only before noun] real and correct: the true meaning of Christmas | The house was sold for only a fraction of its true value.

true adj. 3 (spoken) used when admitting that something is a fact: True, he has a college degree, but he doesn’t have enough job experience.

true adj. 4 love/courage/friend etc. love, a friend, etc. that has all the qualities that he, she, or it should have: He’s a true friend.

true adj. 5 come true: if dreams, wishes, etc. come true, they happen: Their wish for a child finally came true.

true adj. 6 faithful and loyal, or doing what you have promised to do: She stayed true to her husband during the trial. | He was true to his word and didn’t say anything to anyone. [Origin: Old English treowe “faithful”]

true adj. 7 faithful, loyal, staunch, steadfast → faithful true-life adj. based on what really happened, and not invented: a true-life adventure true adj. 1 a soft chocolate candy

true adj. 2 a fungus you can eat that grows under the ground true n. [C] a statement that is clearly true, so that there is no need to say it true adj. 1 used in order to emphasize that the way you are describing something is true trun·dle /trʌndl/ v. [T] to play a trundle that beats someone else's card in a game trunk

- n. 1. a large metal tube that is wide at one end 2. a loud noise that an elephant makes
- v. 1. to tell everyone about something you think is important or true: The headlines trumpeted their victory 2. to move slowly on wheels, or to make something do this by pushing it or pulling it
- adj. 1. the thick central wooden stem of a tree that branches grow from: A sign was tacked to a tree trunk. 2. an enclosed space at the back of a car where you can put bags, tools, etc.: Put the suitcases in the trunk. 3. the very long nose of an elephant 4. a large box made of wood or metal, in which clothes, books, etc., are stored or packed for traveling 5. trunks (plural) short pants that men wear when swimming 6. (formal) the main part of your body, not including your head, arms, or legs

trump
- n. 1. a suit or a playing card that is chosen to be of a higher value than the others in a particular card game 2. trump card something that you can use or do in a situation, which gives you an advantage
- v. 1. to play a trump that beats someone else's card in a game 2. to make someone seem guilty of a crime: trumped-up thing 3. to state someone or something as true when it is not: She trumpeted her victory.

trumpet
- n. 1. a musical instrument that you blow into, which consists of a long bent metal tube that is wide at one end 2. the loud noise that an elephant makes
- v. 1. to tell everyone about something you think is important or true: The headlines trumpeted their victory 2. to move slowly on wheels, or to make something do this by pushing it or pulling it trumpet·ed·up adj. made short, or shorter than before: a truncated speech trumpet·ing n. [C] a group of companies that work together to reduce competition: a railroad trust

trust
- n. 1. the belief that you can trust someone 2. an arrangement in which someone legally controls your money or property, usually until you are old enough to use it: $100,000 is being held in trust for his daughter 3. a group of companies that work together to reduce competition: a railroad trust
- adj. 1. someone who plays a trumpet 2. someone who plays a trumpet 3. made short, or shorter than before: a truncated speech 4. made short, or shorter than before: a truncated speech
- v. 1. to believe that someone is honest and will not do anything bad or wrong: I’ve never trusted her. 2. to depend on something and believe it is correct or will work: I trust his judgment. 3. to depend on someone or something: Please try to come early. 4. to give someone something trust·ful adj. giving the true facts about something: truthful answers — trust·fully adv

try
- n. 1. to attempt to do something: Try again when you’re not so tired. 2. to use false information to make someone seem guilty of a crime: trumped-up thing 3. to state someone or something as true when it is not: She trumpeted her victory.
- v. 1. to try to do something, especially something difficult: He was attempting to climb Mt. Everest without oxygen.
- phr. v. 1. to try to do something: I’ll see if I can get you a ticket.
- phr. adv. — to try very hard, even if something is difficult and you are not sure you will succeed: They’ll do their best to get it finished by Friday.

try·a·tive adj. — to try very hard to do something: The company endeavors to satisfy its customers.

trust·ee
- n. 1. someone who plays a trumpet 2. someone who plays a trumpet 3. a group of companies that work together to reduce competition: a railroad trust
- adj. 1. someone who plays a trumpet 2. someone who plays a trumpet 3. a group of companies that work together to reduce competition: a railroad trust
- v. 1. to believe that someone is honest and will not do anything bad or wrong: I’ve never trusted her. 2. to depend on something and believe it is correct or will work: I trust his judgment. 3. to depend on someone or something: Please try to come early. 4. to give someone something

trust·ful·ly adv. — to try very hard to do something: The company endeavors to satisfy its customers.
try

2 [T] to do or use something, go somewhere, taste something, etc, in order to find out if it is useful, successful, or enjoyable: Try logging off and logging on again. [Doctors are trying some new drugs in the cancer battle.] Have you tried Thai food? 3 [T] to examine and judge a person or a legal case in a court of law: Three men were tried for the murder. 4 try sb's patience/nerves/temper etc. to make someone start to feel impatient, nervous, angry, etc.

try sth on phr. v. to put on a piece of clothing to find out if it fits or makes you look attractive: I tried on one of her silk dresses.

try out phr. v. 1 try sth ↔ out to use something such as a method or piece of equipment to find out if it works or is good: Are you going to try out your new bike? 2 to show your skills in an attempt to be chosen as a member of a team, an actor in a play, etc.: Sandra's trying out for the girls' basketball team.

try2 n. (plural tries) [C usually singular] an attempt to do something: It looks hard, but I'll give it a try. Good try, kid.

try-ing /'rə(tr)-ɪŋ/ adj. difficult and unpleasant to deal with: a trying time try-out /'rə(tr)-aut/-n. [C] an occasion when someone shows his/her skills in an attempt to be chosen for a sports team, play, etc. → AUDITION

tsar /tsər, tsər/ n. [C] another spelling of CZAR

T-shirt /'tiːʃərt/-n. [C] a soft cotton shirt, with short sleeves and no collar → see picture at CLOTHES

tsp. the written abbreviation of TEASPOON tsu-na-mi /tsu'nəmɪ/-n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a very large wave which can cause a lot of damage when it reaches land. A tsunami is usually caused by an EARTHQUAKE.

tub /tʌb/-n. [C] 1 a large container in which you sit to wash yourself: She sat in a tub of icy cream. 2 a large round container used for washing things, storing things, etc.

tu-ba /tu'bə/ n. [C] a large metal musical instrument with a wide opening that points straight up, that you play by blowing and that produces very low sounds tu-b by /'təbɪ/-adj. (informal) short and fat tu-b/le /'tʌbl/ n. [C] 1 a pipe made of metal, plastic, glass, etc., especially one that liquids or gases go through: The patients are fed through tubes. 2 a container for a soft substance, that you SQUEEZE to push the substance out: a tube of toothpaste. 3 a tube-shaped part inside your body: a fallopian tube (=part of a woman's organs for having babies) 4 the tube (spoken) the television: What's on the tube? 5 go down the tubes if a situation goes down the tubes, it suddenly becomes bad: Small businesses are going down the tubes.

tu-ber /'tʌbər/-n. [C] BIOLOGY a round swollen part on the stem of some plants, that grows below the ground and from which new plants grow. A potato is a tuber.

tu-ber-cu-lo-sis /tuˈbɜːkələʊˈsɪs/-n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious infectious disease that affects the lungs and other parts of the body.

tu-b/ing /'tʌbɪŋ/-n. [U] tubes, usually connected together in a system: copper tubing tu-bu-lar /'tuːbəl(ə)r/-adj. made of tubes or shaped like a tube tuck1 /tʌk/-v. [T] 1 to push the edge of a cloth or piece of clothing into something so that it stays in place: He tucked in his shirt. 2 to put something in a small space or a safe place: She tucked the money into her pocket. 3 to put an arm, leg, or head close to the body and keep it there: The duck had its head tucked under its wing.

tuck2 n. [C] 1 a fold of cloth sewn flat in a piece of clothing 2 a medical operation to make someone look thinner or younger: a tummy tuck tues-day /ˈtjuːz(ə)deɪ,-dɛɪ/ n. [U] the third day of the week, between Monday and Wednesday: He'll be back Tuesday. Martha is going to St. Louis on Tuesday. I'll see you next Tuesday. 1 We had the exam last Tuesday. 2 The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. [Origin: Old English tiewesdæg, from Tiw god of war + dæg "day"]: tuf t /tʌft/-n. [C] a short thick group of hairs, feathers, grass, etc.: a tuft of hair — tufted adj.

tug1 /tʌɡ/-v. (tugged, tugging) [T,T,T] to pull something suddenly and hard: Alice tugged at my hand.

tug2 n. [C] 1 also tug boat a small strong boat used for pulling ships 2 a sudden strong pull tug-of-war n. [singular] 1 a competition in which two teams pull on the opposite ends of a rope 2 a situation in which two people or groups compete to get or keep the same thing tu-i-tion /ˈtuːəʃ(ə)n/-n. [U] 1 the money you pay for being taught: What is the cost of tuition at a private college? 2 the act of teaching tu-lip /ˈtjuːlɪp/-n. [C] a tall brightly colored garden flower, shaped like a cup [Origin: 1500—1600 Modern Latin tulipa, from Turkish tulbûn "turban;" from the shape of the flower] tum-ble /ˈtʌmbl/ -v. [I,T] 1 to fall or roll in a sudden uncontrolled way: Rocks tumbled down the hillside. 2 to decrease suddenly: Oil prices have tumbled. → tumble n. [C] tu·mor /ˈtʌmbər/ n. [C] a glass with a flat bottom and no handle tu·my /ˈtʌmi/ n. (plural tummies) [C] (informal) stomach – used especially by or to children tu·mor /ˈtʌmər/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a group of cells in the body that grow too quickly and cause sickness or health problems: a brain tumor tu·mult /ˈtʊmlɪt/ n. [C,U] (formal) a state of confusion, excitement, or other strong emotion: the tumult of civil war —tumultuous /ˈtʊmlʊtʃəs/ adj.

tu·na /ˈtʊnә/ n. [C,U] a large common ocean fish, or the meat from this fish, usually sold in cans [Origin: 1800—1900 American Spanish, Spanish atun, from Arabic tuna] tun·dra /ˈtʌndrә/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES the large flat areas of land in northern areas where it is very cold and there are no trees

Tune /tun/ n. 1 [C] a series of musical notes that are nice to listen to: a pretty tune | It’s sung to the tune of “Happy Birthday.” 2 in tune/out of tune playing or singing the correct musical notes, or playing or singing notes that are slightly too high or low: My guitar’s completely out of tune. 3 in tune with sb/sth, out of tune with sb/sth able or unable to realize, understand, or agree with what someone else thinks or wants: Do we want a president who is in tune with ordinary Americans? 4 to the tune of $100/$15 million etc. (informal) used in order to emphasize how large an amount or number is 5 change your tune to suddenly have a different opinion about something tune /tun/ v. 1 to make a musical instrument play in tune: The piano needs to be tuned. 2 to make a television or radio receive broadcasts from a particular CHANNEL or STATION: Stay tuned for more music on KHPI. 3 also tune up to make small changes to an engine so that it works better.

tune in phr. v. 1 to watch or listen to a particular television or radio program, or to make your television or radio receive that program: I tuned in to the Giants’ game. 2 (informal) to realize or understand what is happening or what other people are thinking: Try to tune in to your spouse’s needs.

Tune (sb/sth •••) out phr. v. (informal) to ignore or stop listening to someone or something: It’s hard to tune out the noise in the office sometimes.

tune up phr. v. when musicians tune up, they prepare their instruments so that they play at the same pitch

'tune-up n. [C] an occasion when someone fixes and cleans your car’s engine, or the process of doing this tu·nic /ˈtʌnɪk/ n. [C] 1 a long loose piece of clothing, usually without SLEEVES, worn in the past 2 a woman’s long loose shirt tun·nel /ˈtʌnəl/ n. [C] a passage that has been dug under the ground or through a mountain, usually for cars or trains [Origin: 1400—1500 Old French tonnel “barrel,” from tonne, from Medieval Latin tunna] tunnel /ˈtʊnəl/ n. [I] to dig a tunnel.

tunnel vision n. [U] the tendency to think about only one subject, so that you forget other things that may be important too 2 a condition in which someone’s eyes are damaged so that s/he can only see straight ahead

Tun·per·wa·re /ˈtʌnpәrəwәr/ n. [U] trademark a type of plastic container with a tight lid, used for storing food

tur·ban /ˈtʊrbәn/ n. [C] a long piece of cloth that is worn twisted around the top of your head tur·bine /ˈtʊrbәn/ n. [C] an engine that works when the pressure from a liquid or gas moves a special wheel around tur·bu·lence /ˈtʊrbәluːns/ n. [U] 1 irregular and strong movements of air or water that are caused by the wind: There was a lot of turbulence during the flight. 2 a situation in which people’s thoughts, actions, and emotions are always changing: political turbulence tur·bu·lent /ˈtʊrbәlәnt/ adj. 1 experiencing a lot of sudden changes and often wars or violence: The book is set during the turbulent years before the American Revolution. 2 turbulent winds, oceans, etc. move around a lot with strong movements

tur·dor /ˈtʊrdәr/ n. [C] (informal) a piece of solid brown waste passed from the body

tur·reen /ˈtʊrәn/ n. [C] a large dish with a lid, used especially for serving soup tur·f /ˈtɜrf/ n. [U] 1 grass and soil on the ground’s surface, or an artificial substance made to look like this: thick green turf 2 (informal) an area that someone knows well and feels that s/he controls or owns: Davis’s political turf tur·gid /ˈtɜrgid/ adj. 1 boring and difficult to understand: turgid poetry 2 swollen, especially with liquid tur·key /ˈtɜrkі/ n. [C,U] a bird similar to a chicken but larger, or the meat from this bird [Origin: 1500—1600 Turkey; because the bird looked like the guinea fowl, which was brought into Europe through Turkey] ➔ COLD TURKEY

tur·moil /ˈtʊrmɔil/ n. [singular, U] a state of confusion, excitement, and trouble: In 1967 the country was in racial turmoil.
turn\(^1\) turn\(v\)

1 YOUR BODY [I] to move your body so that you are looking in a different direction: Alison turned and walked away. | Turn around so I can zip you up. | He turned to look behind him.

2 OBJECT [T] to move an object so that it is facing in a different direction: She turned the box around/over to look at the label. | A boat was turned upside down on the beach.

3 DIRECTION [I] a) to go in a new direction when you are walking, driving, etc.: Turn right at the next light. | The weather will turn colder. | The protests turned violent.

   b) if a road, river, etc. turns, it curves and starts to go in a new direction: Further on the river turns east.

4 MOVE AROUND A CENTRAL POINT [I,T] to move around a central point that does not move: The wheels turned slowly.

---

THESAURUSES

twist – to turn something using a circular movement: She twisted her hair up into a bun.

spin – to turn around and around very quickly: Skaters were spinning on the ice.

whirl – to turn around and around very quickly, or to make something do this: the noise of the whirling fans twirl – to turn around and around or to make something do this, especially as part of a dance or performance: Half a dozen couples were twirling to a waltz.

swivel – to turn around while remaining in the same place, or to make something do this: a desk chair that swivels go around – to move in a continuous circular movement: The fans go around to move the air and cool the room.

revolve – to turn around a central point: The wheels began to revolve slowly.

rotate – to turn or move around a particular point: The Earth rotates every 24 hours.

---

5 AGE [linking verb] to become a particular age: Megan’s just turned four.

6 CHANGE [linking verb] to start to have a different quality than before: The weather will turn colder. | The protests turned violent. | His hair is turning gray. | Helen turned bright red (=because she was embarrassed).

7 PAGE [T] to move a page in a book or magazine so that you can see the next one.

8 ATTENTION/THOUGHTS [I,T] to start to think about, deal with, look at, etc. a particular person, thing, or subject, instead of what you were thinking about, etc. before: The reporters turned their attention to Diego. | The conversation turned to events in Eastern Europe.

9 turn your back (on sb/sth) to refuse to help or be involved with someone or something: She wouldn’t turn her back on her friends.

10 turn over a new leaf to decide that you will change your behavior to make it better

11 turn a deaf ear/turn a blind eye to ignore what someone is saying or doing: The administration turned a blind eye to the arms shipments.

---

12 turn sb/sth loose to allow a person or animal to be free to do what she, he, or it wants

13 turn a profit to make a profit to turn your nose up (at sth) at NOSE\(^1\), turn the tables (on sb) at TABLE\(^1\), turn sth upside down at UPSIDE DOWN turn (sb) against sb/sth pht.v. to make someone stop liking or agreeing with someone or something: His experiences in Vietnam turned him against the war.

turn around pht.v.

1 turn (sth ↔) around if a situation, business, game, etc. turns around, or if you turn it around, it changes and starts to become successful or to develop in the way you want: The economy appears to be turning around. | They’ve turned the business around.

2 turn around and say/do sth to say or do something that is unexpected or that seems unreasonable: I don’t want him to turn around and sue us.

turn away pht.v.

1 turn sb ↔ away to refuse to let people into a theater, restaurant, etc. because it is too full: By 6:00, we were turning people away.

2 turn (sb ↔) away to refuse to give sympathy, help, or support: The hospital will never turn a sick child away. | The U.S. cannot just turn away from the world’s problems.

turn back pht.v.

1 turn (sb ↔) back to go in the opposite direction, or to tell someone to do this: Snow covered the trail, and we had to turn back. | The journalists were turned back at the border.

2 turn back to return to doing something in the way it was done before: Once you’ve left her, there will be no turning back. | turn/set the clock back at CLOCK\(^1\)

turn sb/sth ↔ down pht.v.

1 to make a machine such as a television, oven, etc. produce less sound, heat, etc.: Turn the TV down!

2 to refuse an offer, request, or invitation: She was offered promotion, but turned it down.

turn in pht.v.

1 turn sb ↔ in to give something to someone in authority: They turned in a petition with more than 160,000 signatures.

2 turn sb ↔ in to give work that you have done to your teacher: Have you turned in your homework? 3 turn sb ↔ in to tell the police where a criminal is 4 (informal) to go to bed: I think I’ll turn in.

turn (sth) into sth pht.v. to become something different, or to make something or someone do this: The argument turned into a fight. | The witch turned the frog into a prince.

turn off pht.v.

1 turn sth ↔ off to stop a supply of water, electricity, etc., especially so that a machine stops working: Turn off the TV — it’s dinner time.

2 turn off sth to drive off one road and onto another, often a smaller one: We turned off the highway looking for a place to eat.
3 turn sb off to make someone decide that s/he does not like someone or something; Many voters are turned off by politics.

turn on

1 turn sth ↔ on to make the supply of water, electricity, etc. begin to flow through a pipe, machine, etc., so that it starts working: Alice turned on the light.
2 turn on sb to suddenly attack someone physically or by using unpleasant words: “That’s right, cry!” he said, turning on me.

turn out

1 to happen in a particular way, or to have a particular result: Luckily, everything turned out okay/all right/fine/well.
2 turn sth ↔ out if you turn out a light, you push a button to stop the flow of electricity.
3 if people turn out for an event, they get off to a good start: Only about 30 people turned out for the show.
4 turn sth ↔ out to produce or make something: The factory turns out 100,000 trucks a year.
5 turn sb out to make someone leave his/her home.

turn over

1 turn sth ↔ over to sb to give someone the right to own something such as a plan, business, piece of property, or to make him/her responsible for it: Some of the work is being turned over to private firms.
2 turn sb/sth ↔ over to bring a criminal or information to the police or another official organization: Benson was turned over to the FBI yesterday. The documents will be turned over to the IRS.
3 turn over sth if a business turns over a particular amount of money, it makes that amount during a period of time: Turnover.
4 turn to phr. v. to turn to sb to try to get help, advice, or sympathy from someone: Biotechnology firms turned to Wall Street for financing.
5 turn to phr. v. turn to sb for to go to a particular page in a book, magazine, etc.: Turn to page 45.
6 turn to sth to begin thinking about or doing something new: Bateman turned to politics after law school.
7 turn (sth) to sth to become different in some way, or to make something do this: The land is turning to desert.

turn up phr. v.

1 turn sth ↔ up to make a machine such as a radio, oven, etc. produce more sound, heat, etc.: Turn up the radio a little.
2 to be found, especially by chance, after being searched for: The keys turned up in the silverware drawer.
3 turn sth ↔ up to find something by searching for it thoroughly: An inspection of the brakes turned up no defects.
4 to arrive: Danny turned up late as usual.
5 if an opportunity or situation turns up, it happens, especially when you are not expecting it: Don’t worry, a job will turn up soon.

turn* n.

1 CHANGE TO DO STH [C] the time when it is your chance, duty, or right to do something that a group of people are doing, one after another: Whose turn is it to set the table? It’s your turn, Bob.
2 take turns if a group of people take turns doing something, one person does it, then another person does it, etc.: We took turns driving. Take turns on the swing.
3 in turn a) one after another: He spoke to each of the students in turn. b) as a result of something: Interest rates were cut, and in turn, share prices rose.
4 CHANGE DIRECTION [C] a change in the direction you are moving in: Make a left/tight turn at the stop sign.
5 TWO ROADS JOIN [C] a place where a road joins another road: I think we missed our turn. Take the second turn on the left.
6 CHANGE IN EVENTS [C] a sudden or unexpected change that makes a situation develop in a different way: Her health took a turn for the worse/better. Monday’s turn of events was an embarrassment for the administration.
7 MOVE STH [C] the act of turning something: Give the wheel another turn.
8 the turn of the century the beginning of a century.
9 do sb a good turn to help someone.

turn-a-round /ˈtɜrnərənd/ n. [singular] 1 an important and complete change from a bad situation to a good one: Brock has been key to the team’s turnaround. 2 the time it takes to receive something, deal with it, and send it back: What is the turnaround time on maintenance requests?

turn-coat /ˈtɜrnkɔt/ n. [C] someone who stops supporting a political party or group and joins the opposite group.

turning point n. [C] the time when an important change starts to happen: The win was a turning point in his athletic career.

turnip /ˈtɜrnɪp/ n. [C, U] a large round pale yellow or white root, cooked and eaten as a vegetable.

turn-off, turn-off /ˈtɜrnəf/ n. [C] a smaller road that leads off a main road: Take the Ramsey Canyon turnoff.

turn-out /ˈtɜrnəut/ n. [singular] the number of people who go to an event such as a party, meeting, or election: Voter turnout was 93%.

turn-over /ˈtɜrnəuvər/ n. [singular] the amount of money a business earns in a particular period: an annual turnover of $35 million. 2 [U] the rate at which people leave an organization and are replaced by others: The company has a high rate of turnover.

turnpike /ˈtɜrnpaɪk/ n. [C] a main road that you have to pay a toll to use [ORIGIN: 1700—1800] turn signal  n. [C] one of the lights on a vehicle that flash to show which way the vehicle is turning twent /ˈtent/  adj. 12th 2 one of twelve equal parts of something tewty /ˈtwenti/  number 1 20 2 20 years old: She's almost twenty; The twenties a) the years between 1920 and 1929 b) the numbers between 20 and 29, especially when used for measuring temperature 4 sb's twenties the time when someone is 20 to 29 years old: a woman in her early/late twenties [Origin: Old English twelf] —twentieth number twenty /ˈtwenti/  n. (plural twenties) [C] a piece of paper money worth $20

twenty-four/ seven usually written as 24/7 adv. (informal) if something happens twenty-four/seven, it happens all day, every day

twenty-one /ˈtwenti/  n. [U] blackJack twerp /ˈtwerp/  n. [C] (spoken) a stupid or annoying person

twice /twais/adv. two times: I’ve seen that movie twice. | The island is twice the size of Massachusetts. | He makes twice as much money as I do. → two

twid·dle /ˈtwidl/ v. [T] to move your fingers around, or to turn something with them many times, usually because you are bored twig /ˈtwɪg/  n. [C] a very thin branch that grows on a larger branch of a tree

twi·light /ˌtwɪklət/ n. [U] the time between day and night when the sky starts to become dark, or the pale light at this time twin /twin/ n. [C] one of two children who are born at the same time to the same mother: Jenny and Julie are identical twins (=twins who look exactly the same). I have a twin brother.

twine /twain/ n. [U] thick strong string twin·kle v. [L] to twist something, or to twist around something: Morning glories had twined around the fence.

TWIN /twaIn/ n. [C] a couple (of sth) —a pair of shoes, etc.

twist 1 /twist/ v. [I, T] to bend, turn, or wind something using a circular movement, especially something such as wire, hair, or cloth: Twist the ends together. | The sheets were twisted tightly around him. | Twist off the bottle cap (=remove it by twisting).

2 [I] to turn a part of your body around or change your position by turning: He twisted around to look at me. | I twisted my ankle (=hurt it by turning it in the wrong direction) playing soccer.

3 [T] to change the true or intended meaning of someone’s statement (=misrepresent): He accused her of twisting his words for political reasons. 4 [I] if a road, river, etc. twists, it has a lot of curves in it 5 twist sb’s arm (informal) to persuade someone to do something that s/he does not want to do twist·er /twistər/ n. [C] a tool for twisting wires, etc.

twist·ed adj. 2 strange and slightly cruel: a twisted joke twist·er /twistər/ n. [C] (informal) a TORNADO

twit /twit/ n. [C] (spoken) a stupid or silly person twist·ed /twistid/ adj. 1 bent in many directions or turned many times: twisted metal → see picture at BENT twist·s /'twɪz/ n. (plural) (informal) the jet’s twin engines twist·er /twister/ v. [I, T] to continue turning around something: pasta twists 3 a bend in a road, river, etc.

twist·ed /twistid/ adj. 1 bent in many directions or turned many times: twisted metal → see picture at BENT

two /tu/ number 1 2

a pair (of sth) —two shoes

a couple (of sth) —two people twice —two times: I phoned her twice yesterday.

for two —for two people: A table for two, please.

two o’clock: The game begins at two.

two years old: My daughter is two.

two-bit adj. (slang) not very good or important: a two-bit actor two by four n. [C] a long piece of wood that is two inches thick and four inches wide two-di·men·sional adj. flat, having length and height, but no depth → THREE-DIMENSIONAL: a two-dimensional drawing two-faced adj. (informal, disapproving) changing what you say according to who you are talking to, in a way that is not honest or sincere two-fold /ˈtuːfəʊld/ adj. two times as much or as many of something: a twofold increase in cases of TB —twofold adv

two-piece adj. a two-piece suit has a coat and pants that match tyke

ty·pan·ic mem·brane

type

two·some

two·time

two·tone

two·way

two·some tying ty·coon

ty·ing

ty·ke

tym·pan·ic mem·brane

The novels of this type...
tyr-an-ny /ˈtɪrənɪ/ n. (plural tyrannies) 1 [U] strict, unfair, and often cruel control over someone: her husband’s abusive tyranny. 2 [C,U] POLITICS government by a cruel ruler who has complete power: The country suffered decades of tyranny.

ty-rant /ˈtɪrənt/ n. [C] someone, especially a ruler, who uses his/her power in an unfair or cruel way tz-ar /ˈtsaːr/ n. [C] a czar

ug·ly /ˈʌglɪ/ adj. (comparative uglier, superlative ugliest) 1 very unattractive, and not nice to look at: an ugly building | she’s not pretty, but she’s not ugly either

UGLY

ug·li·ness /ˈʌglɪˌnɛs/ n. [U] ugliness “frightening,” from uggr “fear” uh /ə/ interjection said when you are deciding what to say next: Uh, I’m sorry, I’m late.

UHF /ˈʌrɪˌhiːf/ n. [U] ultra-high frequency a range of radio waves that produces very good sound quality uh hu /ˈʌhu/ interjection (informal) used in order to say yes or to show that you understand something: “Is this the one you want?” “Uh huh.”

uh oh /ˈʌh əʊ/ a “oh” interjection (informal) said when you have made a mistake or have realized that something bad has happened: Uh oh, I forgot my keys.

uh uh /ˈʌh əə/ “m’m’/ interjection (informal) used in order to say no: “Did Ann call?” “Uh uh.”

ul·cer /ˈʌlkər/ n. [C] a sore area on your skin or inside your body: a stomach ulcer ul·na /ˈʌlnə/ n. [C] biology one of the two bones in your lower arm, on the side opposite your thumb ul-ti·mate /ˌʌltɪˈmeɪt/ adj. [C,U] 1 an ultimate purpose, aim, reason, etc. is the final and most important one: Her ultimate goal is a career in politics. 2 better, bigger, worse, etc. than all other people or things of the same kind: A Rolls Royce is the ultimate symbol of wealth. 3 the ultimate result of a long process is what happens at the end of it: the ultimate failure of the project 4 an ultimate decision, responsibility, etc. is one that you cannot pass on to someone else: Who has the ultimate authority in the family? [Origins: 1600—1700 Late Latin ultimatus “last,” from ultimare “to come to an end, be last”] ul·tra·sound /ˌʌltəˈsʌnd/ n. [C,U] physics ultrasound

Ul·tra·son·ic /ˌʌltəˈsʌnɪk/ adj. PHYSICS ultrasonic sounds are too high for humans to hear, and ultrasonic sound waves measure more than 20,000 Hertz

Ul·tra·sound /ˌʌltəˈsaʊnd/ n. [C,U] a medical process that uses sound waves to produce images of something inside of your body ul·tra·vi·o·let /ˌʌltrəˈvaɪələt/ adj PHYSICS ultraviolet light cannot be seen but makes your skin darker when you are in the sun um /əm/ interjection said when you are deciding what to say next: Um, yeah, I guess so.
un·bil·i·cal cord /ənˈbilɪkəl/ n [C] BIOLOGY a tube that joins a baby that has not been born yet to its mother um·brage /ˈʌmbrɪdʒ/ n take umbrage (at sth) (formal) to be offended by something that someone has done or said un·br·e·la /ənˈbrelə/ n [C] an object that you hold above your head to protect yourself from the rain: He stood there under his umbrella, watching the rain. [Origin: 1600–1700 Italian ombrello, from Latin umbrellum, from umbra “shade,” shadow”] un·laut /ənˈlaʊt, əm-/) n [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sign written like two periods over a vowel in German and some other languages to show how it is pronounced, for example ü ump /ʌmp/ n [C] (spoken, informal) an umpire un·pi·re /ənˈpaɪər/ n [C] the person who makes sure that the players obey the rules in sports such as baseball and tennis — umpire v [T] REFEREE ump·teenth /ənˈpɜːtn/ , ənˈtiːnθ/ quantifier (informal, disapproving) if something happens for the umpteenth time, it happens too many times: They’re showing “The Wizard of Oz” umpteenth time, it happens too many times:
un·a·dul·ter·a·ted /ənˈʌdəltərətɪd/ adj complete or pure: pure unadulterated pleasure un·af·fect·ed·ed /ənˈɑːfɛktɪd/ (AC) adj not changed or influenced by something: Parts of the city remained unaffected by the fire.
un·aid·ed /ənˈɛɪd/ (AC) adj without help: He could not stand up unaided.

un·a·li·en·a·ble /ənˈælɪnəbəl, -ˌɪnəbə/ adj INalienable un·al·ter·a·ble /ənˈɔːlterəbəl/ adj not able to be changed: an unalterable decision un·am·big·u·ous /ənəˈmɪbʒəs/ adj very clear and not confusing: an unambiguous answer — unambiguously adv un·al·ter·ed /ənˈɔːlterd/ adj not changed or influenced by something: pure unabridged pleasure un·al·ter·a·ble /ənˈɔːlterəbəl/ adj not changing un·am·big·u·ous /ənəˈmɪbʒəs/ adj very clear and not confusing: an unambiguous answer — unambiguously adv
un·apa·proach·a·ble /ənəˈæprəʊʃəbəl/ adj not supporting or loyal to American customs, ideas, etc.
un·as·sum·ing /ənəˈɑːsəmɪŋ/ adj showing no desire for attention — unassumingly adv — unassumingly /ənəˈɑːsəmɪnɪŋ/ adj un·ap·pre·ci·at·ed /ənəˈɑːpriːsɪətɪd/ adj having no one with you: an unaccompanied child un·at·tain·a·ble /ənəˈɑːtˌteɪnəbəl/ adj impossible to achieve: an unattainable goal un·at·tach·ed /ənəˈɑːtəkʃəd/ adj not fastened un·at·tached /ənəˈɑːtəkʃəd/ adj not attached to anything: An officer shot an unarmed man.
un·as·sist·ed /ənəˈɑːsɪstɪd/ (AC) adj without help: She was able to walk unassisted.
un·as·sum·ing /ənəˈɑːsəmɪŋ/ adj quiet and showing no desire for attention — unassuming /ənəˈɑːsəmɪnɪŋ/ adj un·at·tach·ed /ənəˈɑːtəkʃəd/ adj not involved in a romantic relationship — unattached /ənəˈɑːtəkʃəd/ (AC) adj 1 not fastened or connected to anything un·at·tain·a·ble /ənəˈɑːtəkʃəd/ (AC) adj impossible to achieve: an unattainable goal.
un·a·void·a·ble /ˌənəˈvōdəbəl/ adj. left alone without anyone in charge; Do not leave your children unattended.
un·a·tack·ti·ve /ˌənəˈtraktiv/ adj. not physically attractive or beautiful.

un·be·at·a·ble /ˌənˈbitəbəl/ adj. 1 not able to be obtained: The album was previously unavailable on CD. 2 not able or willing to meet with someone: Mr. Foster is unavailable for comment (not able or willing to speak to reporters).
un·a·void·a·ble /ˌənəˈvōdəbəl/ adj. impossible to prevent: an unavoidable delay un·a·ware /ˌənəˈwār/ adj. not noticing or realizing what is happening: He was unaware of his legal rights.
un·a·wa·res /ˌənəˈwārəz/ adv. catch/take s b unawares if something catches you unawares, it happens when you are not prepared for it: Events in the Middle East caught the CIA unawares.
un·bal·anced /ˌənˈbalənt/ adv. 1 slightly crazy: mentally unbalanced 2 an unbalanced report, argument, etc. is unfair because it emphasizes one opinion too much un·be·ar·a·ble /ənˈberəbəl/ adj. too bad, painful, or annoying for you to deal with: Her pain had become unbearable. —unbearably adv.
un·beat·a·ble /ənˈbeйтəbəl/ adj. something that is unbeatable is the best of its kind: unbeatable prices un·beat·en /ənˈbitən/ adj. a team, player, etc. that is unbeaten has not been defeated un·be·liev·a·ble /ənˈblīvəbəl/ adj. 1 used to emphasize how good, bad, surprising, etc. something is: The sound quality of this stereo is unbelievable. | an unbelievable amount of money 2 very difficult to believe and probably not true: Yvonne’s excuse was totally unbelievable. —unbelievably adv.
un·bi·ased /ənˈbāsəd/ adj. unbiased information, opinion, advice, etc. is fair because the person giving it is not influenced by their own or other people’s opinions synonym impartial: We aim to provide a service that is balanced and unbiased. | an unbiased observer un·bri·dled /ənˈbraidəld/ adj. not controlled and too extreme: unbridled anger un·but·ton /ənˈbʌtən/ n. [T] to undo the buttons on a piece of clothing un·cal·led·for /ənˈkældəfər/ adj. behavior or remarks that are uncalled-for are insulting, unfair, or inappropriate un·can·ny /ənˈkænə/ adj. very strange and difficult to explain: The team has an uncanny ability to win close games. —uncannily adv.
un·cer·tain /ənˈsərtn/ adj. 1 feeling doubt about something: I’m uncertain about what to say to her. | She was uncertain of whether to confront him. 2 not clear, definite, or decided: His future with the company is uncertain. 3 in no uncertain terms if you say something in no uncertain terms, you say it in a clear way, without trying to be polite: We were told in no uncertain terms not to come back. —uncertainty n. [C,U]: uncertainty about the future —uncertainly adv.
un·chang·ing /ənˈʧæŋdɪŋ/ adj. always staying the same un·chart·ed /ənˈtʃɑrtɪd/ adj. uncharted territory/waters a situation or activity that you have never experienced or tried before un·check·ed /ənˈtʃɛktəd/ adj. if something bad goes unchecked, it is not controlled or stopped and continues or gets worse: Left unchecked, the disease will spread.
un·civ·i·lized /ənˈsɪvəlaɪzd/ adj. 1 behavior that is uncivilized is rude or socially unacceptable 2 (old-fashioned) societies that are uncivilized have a very simple way of life synonym primitive uncle /ˈʌŋkəl/ n. [C] the brother of your mother or father, or the husband of your aunt: I went to stay with my aunt and uncle for a few days. | Uncle Bill [Origin: Old French, Latin avunculus “mother’s brother”] un·clean /ənˈklin/ adj. dirty un·clear /ənˈkler/ adj. difficult to understand or know about: The terms of the contract are very unclear.
Uncle Sam /ˈʌŋkəl ˈsæm/ n. (informal) the U.S. or U.S. government, usually represented by the figure of a man with a white beard and tall hat Uncle Tom /ˈʌŋkəl ˈtɒm/ n. [C] (disapproving) a black person who is too respectful to white people un·com·fort·a·ble /ənˈkɑmfortəbəl/ adj. not feeling physically comfortable, or not making you feel comfortable: These shoes are uncomfortable. 2 unable to relax because you are embarrassed: I feel uncomfortable silence —uncomfortably adv.
un·com·mon /ənˈkɑmən/ adj. rare or unusual: It is not uncommon for (=it is fairly common for) employees to work sixty hours a week. —uncommonly adv.
uncompro-mising /ˌʌnkəmprəˈmaɪzn/ adj. determined not to change your opinions or intentions: He has always been an uncompromising supporter of gun control.

un-con-cerned /ˌʌnˌkənˈsɜːnd/ adj. not worried about something, or not interested in it: Americans cannot be unconcerned about the problem of the world's poor.

un-con-doned /ˌʌnˌkənˈdɒnd/ adj. not limited by or depending on any conditions: We are demanding the unconditional release of the hostages. —unconditionally adv.

un-con-firmed /ˌʌnˌkənˈfɜːmd/ adj. not proved or supported by official information: There has been an unconfirmed report/rumor etc. of a nuclear accident.

un-con-scion-a-bile /ˌʌnˌkənˈsɪʃənəbəl/ adj. (formal) morally wrong or unacceptable un-con-scious /ˌʌnˌkənˈʃɪsəs/ adj. 1 unable to see, move, feel, etc. because you are not conscious: The car’s driver was knocked unconscious. 2 an unconscious feeling is one that you have without realizing it: subconscious: unconscious feelings of guilt. 3 be unconscious of sth to not realize the effect of something you have said or done: Barh seemed unconscious of the attention her dress was attracting. —unconsciously adv. —unconsciousness n. [U] unconscious 2 n. the sb’s unconscious the part of your mind in which there are thoughts and feelings that you do not realize that you have un-con-stri-tu-tion-al /ˌʌnˌkənʃtrɪˈtʃənəl/ adj. not allowed by the rules that govern a country or organization: The Supreme Court ruled that the law was unconstitutional.

un-con-trol-la-ble /ˌʌnˌkəntəˈrəʊlbəl/ adj. impossible to control or stop: uncontrollable rage un-con-trolled /ˌʌnˌkəntəˈrəʊld/ adj. 1 uncontrollable emotions or behavior continue because no one stops or controls them. 2 without rules or laws: an uncontrolled free market un-con-ven-tion-al /ˌʌnˌkənˈvɛntʃənəl/ adj. very different from the normal way people behave, think, dress, or do things: his unconventional lifestyle un-con-vin-ed /ˌʌnˌkənˈvɪnd/ (Ac) adj. not persuaded that something is right or true: He was unconvinced that the idea would work.

un-cool /ˌʌnˈkʊl/ adj. (slang) not fashionable or acceptable: My parents are hopelessly uncool.

un-co-op-er-a-tive /ˌʌnˈkoʊəˈprɛərətɪv/ adj. not willing to work with or help someone un-count-a-ble /ˌʌnˈkɔntəˈræbl/ adj. uncountable noun ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a noun that has no plural form, such as “water,” “gold,” or “furniture” (Ant) countable un-couth /ˌʌnˈkʌθ/ adj. behaving or speaking in a way that is rude and unacceptable un-cover /ˌʌnˈkʌvər/ v. [T] 1 to discover something that has been kept secret or hidden: Customs officials uncovered a plot to smuggle drugs into the country. 2 to remove the cover from something un-ctuous /ˌʌnˈkjuːəs/ adj. (formal, disapproving) behaving in a way that is not sincere, by being too friendly or praising other people too much, or showing this behavior: He was friendly without being uncouth.

un-cut /ˌʌnˈkʌt/ adj. 1 a movie, book, etc. that is uncut has not been made shorter, for example by having violent or sexual scenes removed. 2 an uncut jewel has not yet been cut into a particular shape un-daunt-ed /ˌʌnˈdəʊntɪd/ adj. not afraid to continue doing something in spite of difficulties or danger: Nelson was undaunted by the opposition to his plan.

un-de-cid-ed /ˌʌnˈdɛsɪdɪd/ adj. not having made a decision about something: Many voters are undecided about which candidate to choose.

un-de-ni-a-ble /ˌʌnˌdeɪnəˈbəl/ adj. definitely true or certain: an undeniable fact —undeniably adv.

un-der /ˌʌnˈdər/ prep. adv. 1 below or at a lower level than something, or covered by it (Ant) over: She’s hiding under the blanket. | The dog was sleeping under the bed. | Lee wore a sweater under his jacket. | He pushed Lonnie’s head under the water. 2 less than a particular age, number, amount, or price (Ant) over: You can’t get a ticket for under $10. | Children six and under can ride the bus for free. | I can’t buy beer – I’m under age (=not old enough). 3 controlled or governed by a particular leader, government, system, etc.: a country under Marxist rule. 4 be under discussion/construction/attack etc. to be in the process of being discussed, built, etc. 5 under way happening or in the process of being done: Construction is already under way on the new airport. 6 affected by a particular influence, condition, or situation: She performs well under pressure. | He was accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol/drugs. 7 if you work under someone, that person is in charge of what you do at work. She had a total staff of ten working under her. 8 according to a particular law, agreement, etc.: Under state law, we are entitled to inspect your accounts. 9 used to say in which part of a book, list, or system you can find particular information: The baby’s records are filed under the mother’s name. —be under the impression (that) at IMPRESSION un-der-a-chiev-er /ˌʌndərəˈtʃɪvər/ n. [C] someone who does not do as well at school or at work as s/he could do if s/he worked harder un·der·rated /ˌʌndərˈreɪtɪd/ adj better than people think or say (ANT overrated: an underrated actor —underrate v [T] un·der·score /ˌʌndərˈskɔːr/ v [T] to emphasize that something is important: The survey underscores the division between rich and poor in America.

un·der·side /ˌʌndərˈsaɪd/ n the underside of sth the bottom side or surface of something under·scored /ˌʌndərˈskɔːrd/ adj

un·der·stand·a·ble /ˌʌndərˈstændəbəl/ adj understandable behavior, reactions, etc. seem reasonable because of the situation you are in: It's understandable that he's a little afraid. | Your anger toward him is perfectly understandable.

un·der·stand·ing /ˌʌndərˈstændɪŋ/ n 1 [sin·gu·lar, U] knowledge of something, based on learning and experience: She has a basic understanding of computers. 2 [sing·u·lar, U] sympathy toward someone's character and behavior: Hurry thanked us for our understanding. 3 [C] an informal private agreement about something: I thought we had come to an understanding about the price. 4 [U] the ability to think and learn un·der·stand /ˌʌndərˈstænd/ v [T] to describe something in a way that makes it seem less important or serious than it really is (ANT overstate: The report understates the severity of the problem.

un·der·stat·ed /ˌʌndərˈstætɪd/ adj (approving) simple in a way that is attractive: I liked the understated decoration of his office.

un·der·state·ment /ˌʌndərˈstætəmənt/ n [C] a statement that is not strong enough to express how good, impressive, bad, etc. something really is: To say the movie was bad is an understatement.

under·stood /ˌʌndərˈstʊd/ v the past tense and past participle of UNDERSTAND un·der·study /ˌʌndərˈstʌdi/ n (plural under·studies) [C] an actor who learns a part in a play so that s/he can act if the usual actor cannot perform un·der·take /ˌʌndərˈteɪk/ v (past tense undertook /ˌʌntʊk/, past participle undertaken /ˌʌntəˈtʌrkən/) 1 to start to do a piece of work, especially one that is long and difficult: The country undertook a massive reform of its legal system. 2 undertake to do sth to promise or agree to do something un·der·ta·ker /ˌʌndərˈteɪkər/ n [C] (old-fashioned) someone whose job is to arrange funerals un·der·ta·king /ˌʌndərˈteɪkɪŋ/ n [C] usually singular) an important job, piece of work, etc. for which you are responsible: Holding the Olympic Games is a massive undertaking.

un·der·tone /ˌʌndərˈtʌn/ n [C] a feeling or quality that exists but which is not easy to notice: an undertone of sadness in her voice un·der·tow /ˌʌndərˈtəʊ/ n [C] a strong current under the ocean’s surface that pulls water away from the shore un·der·wa·ter /ˌʌndərˈwɔːtər/, -ˈwɔːl/ adj [only before noun] below the surface of the water, or able to be used there: an underwater camera —underwater adv

un·der·wear /ˌʌndərˈwɛər/ n [U] clothes that you wear next to your body under your other clothes un·der·weight /ˌʌndərˈwɛɪt/ adj weighing less than is expected or usual (ANT overweight: an underweight baby under·wear /ˌʌndərˈwɛər/ n. [singular] the criminals in a particular place and the activities they are involved in un·de·t er·min·ed /unˈdiˌtərmənd/ adj. not known, decided, or calculated: The cause of death is undetermined.

un·de·vel·oped /ənˈdiːvələpt/ adj. undeveloped land has not been built on or used for a particular purpose.

un·di·min·ished /ənˈdiːmɪnɪʃt/ adj. not weaker or less important than before: His love for her was undiminished.

un·do /ənˈdu/ v. 1 to try to remove the bad effects or damage of something: The courts have tried to undo legal abuses of the past. 2 to change something back to the state or condition it was in before improvements were made: Changing the law will undo decades of progress. 3 to make something happen the opposite way: He’s about to undo what he did.

un·due /ənˈdju/ adj. (formal) more than is reasonable, appropriate, or necessary: The tax creates an undue burden on farmers.

un·do·ing /ənˈduɪŋ/ n. [C,U] (formal) moving or shaped like waves that are rising and falling: the undulating green hills.

un·em·ploy·ment /ənˈɪmpləmənt/ n. [C,U] the condition of not having a job, or the condition of people who have no job: Unemployment remains relatively low.

un·em·ploy·ment rate /rɑːt/ n. [U] the condition of not having a job, or the number of people who do not have a job: Unemployment rate is rising.

un·end·ing /ənˈɛndɪŋ/ adj. something, especially something bad, that is unending seems as if it will continue forever: an unending stream of people.

un·equiv·o·cal /ənəˈvikərəkəl/ adj. (formal) completely clear and definite with no doubts.

un·earth·ly /ənˈɜːθəl/ adj. unnatural: an unearthly greenish light.

un·ec·o·nom·i·cal /ənˈɪkənəməkəl/ adj. using too much effort, money, or materials to make a profit: The project is underwriting an undue burden on farmers.

un·ec·o·nom·i·cal·ly /-kəˈnəməkəli/ adv. not having much education, or showing that someone is not well educated: unemployable.

un·ec·o·nom·i·cal·ness /-kəˈnəməkəlnis/ n. [U] —un·ec·o·nom·i·cal·ly adv.

un·ed·u·cat·ed /ənˈɛdjuˌkeɪtɪd/ adj. not well educated: He is undenied a complete education.

un·egin·der·ing /ənˈɛdʒɪnɪŋ/ adj. not wearing any clothes: He started to get undressed (=take his clothes off).

un·end·ing /ənˈɛndɪŋ/ adj. something, especially something bad, that is unending seems as if it will continue forever: an unending stream of people.

un·ec·o·nom·i·cal /ənəˈvikərəkəl/ adj. (formal) completely clear and definite with no doubts.

un·e·qui·v·o·cal /ənˈɛkwɪvəkəl/ adj. (formal) not having anything on, not have anything on: NAKED unerring /anˈɛrɪŋ/ adj. always right: his unerring judgment unethical /anˈɛθɪkəl/ (adj) considered to be morally wrong: an unethical banking practice uneven /ənˈvɛn/ adj. 1 not flat, smooth, or level: uneven ground 2 not equal or balanced: The racial mix of the school is uneven. 3 good in some parts and bad in others: a music album of uneven quality —unevenly adv.
unexcused /ənˈɪkskjuːd/ adj. unexcused absence an occasion when you are away from school or work without permission unexpected /ənˈɛxpektd/ adj. surprising because of not being expected: the unexpected death of his father —unexpectedly adv.
unexpurgated /ənˈɛkspɜːrɡætɪd/ adj. (formal) an unexpurgated book, play, etc. is complete and has not had parts that might offend people removed —unexpurgatedly adv.
unfailing /ənˈfɛlɪŋ/ adj. always there, even in times of difficulty or trouble: her unfailing kindness unfair /ənˈfɛər/ adj. not right or fair: an unfair decision —unfairly adv. —unfairness n. [U] unfaithful /ənˈfæθfʊl/ adj. someone who is unfaithful has sex with someone who is not his/her wife, husband, or usual partner: Kurt had been unfaithful to his wife on several occasions.
unfairly /ənˈfɛərlɪ/ adv. not based on facts or evidence (esp) wrong: The company insisted that our complaints were unfounded.
unfriendly /ənˈfrendli/ adj. 1 not kind or friendly: The neighbors seemed unfriendly. 2 not helping or wanting a type of person or thing: Many American cities are unfriendly to pedestrians. 3 an unfriendly government or nation is one that opposes yours.
unfurl /ənˈfɔːrl/ v. [T] to unroll and open a flag, sail, etc.
unilateral /ənˌfærəlɪˈterəl/ adj. not based on facts or evidence (esp) wrong: The company insisted that our complaints were unfounded.
unfavorable /ənˈfəvərəbl/ adj. not favorable to someone for something s/he has given to you or done for you unfriendly /ənˈfrænli/ adj. not thanking someone for something that is happening unfeelings /ənˈfɛlɪŋz/ n. [U] cold and unfeeling unfettered /ənˈfɛtərd/ adj. not restricted in any way unfit /ənˈfɪt/ adj. not good enough to do something or to be used for something: That woman is unfit to raise a child! | The land is unfit for cultivation.
unfold /ənˈfɔːld/ v. [I,T] 1 if a story, plan, etc. unfolds, it becomes clearer as you hear or learn more about it: The case began to slowly unfold in court. 2 to open something that was folded: She unfolded the map.
unforeseen /ənˈfɔːrˌsiːn, -ˈsɪn, -ˈsɛn/ adj. unforeseen situation is one that you did not expect to happen: an unforeseen delay | Due to unforeseen circumstances, the play has been canceled.
unforgettable /ənˈfɔːrˌtɛbl/ adj. something that is unforgettable is so beautiful, good, exciting, etc. that you remember it for a long time: an unforgettable sight unforseen /ənˈfɔːrˌsiːn/ adj. happening because of bad luck: an unfortunate accident unhappily /ənˈhæpli/ adv. 2 someone who is unfortunate has something bad happen to him/her: When we entered the room, the teacher was yelling at some unfortunate student. 3 an unfortunate situation, condition, quality, etc. is one that you wish was different: It's unfortunate (that) so few people seem willing to help.
unhappy /ənˈhæpi/ adj. 1 not happy: an unhappy childhood | She had been unhappy for a long time.
unhealthy /ənˈhelθi/ adj. 1 likely to make you sick: unhealthy city air 2 not physically healthy: an unhealthy baby 3 not normal or natural and likely to cause harm: Any obsession is unhealthy.
un-ho-ly /ənˈhɑːlɪ/ adj. 1 an unholy alliance an agreement between two people or organizations who would not normally work together, usually for a bad purpose 2 very great and very bad: We’re in an unholy mess.

un-hook /ənˈhʊk/ v. [T] to unfasten or remove something from a hook

UNICEF /juːˈnɪsɛf/ n. the United Nations Children’s Fund an organization that helps children who suffer from disease, hunger, etc.

uni-corn /juːˈnɪkɔːrn/ n. [C] an imaginary animal like a white horse with a long straight horn on its head uni-den-ti-fied /ənˈaɪərˈdɛntɪfaɪd/ adj. an unidentified person or thing is one that you do not know the name of: an unidentified body uni-fi-ca-tion /juːnɪˈfɪkeɪʃən/ n. [U] the act of combining two or more groups, countries, etc. to make a single group or country: the unification of Germany after the fall of the Berlin Wall

uni-form? /juːˈnɪfɔːrm/ n. [C] 1 a particular type of clothing that the members of an organization wear to work: Here’s a picture of me wearing my football uniform. 2 in uniform a) wearing a uniform b) in, on, etc. from Latin uniformis, from uni- “one” + -formis (from forma “form, shape”) —uniformed adj.: uniformed police officers

uni-form? /juːˈnɪfɔːrm/ adj. things that are uniform are all the same shape, size, etc.: Grade A eggs must be of uniform size. —uniformly adv.: She received uniformly high grades. —uniformity /juːnɪˈfɔːrmiti/ n. [U]: There is no uniformity of opinion on the issue.

uni-fy /juːnɪˈfaɪ/ v. (unified, unified) [T] to make a single unit → unification: Spain was unified in the 16th century. —unified adj.: a unified military leadership uni-lat-er-al /juːnɪˈlætərəl/ adj. a unilateral action or decision is made by only one of the groups involved in a situation without the agreement of the others → bilateral, multilateral: a unilateral ceasefire uni-mag-in-able /ˌʌnimædʒəˈnəbl/ adj. not possible to imagine: unimaginable wealth —imaginably adv.

uni-mag-in-a-ble /ˌʌnimædʒəˈnəbl/ adj. 1 lacking the ability to think of new or unusual ideas 2 ordinary and boring, and not using any new ideas: unimaginative architecture uni-mag-in-a-tive /ˌʌnimædʒəˈnətɪv/ adj. not important uni-mag-in-ised /ˌʌnimædʒəˈnaɪzd/ adj. having formed a union, or belonging to one → unionize v. [T]

uni-que /juːˈnik/ adj. 1 (informal) unusually good and special: The workshop will give participants a unique opportunity to study with an artist. 2 being the only one of its kind: Everyone is unique. 3 unique to sb/sth existing only in a particular place, person, or group, etc.: The issues being discussed here are not unique to the U.S. —uniquely adv.: a uniquely talented artist —uniqueness n. [U]: the uniqueness of each individual person uni-sex /juːˈnɪsɛks/ adj. appropriate for both men and women: a unisex jacket unification

in unison if a group of people do something in unison, they all do it together at the same time.

united

a person or thing that is one whole part of something larger: The family is the smallest social unit. An eight-unit apartment building (=it has eight apartments)

a group of people who work together as part of a larger group: the emergency unit of the hospital an amount of something used as a standard of measurement: The dollar is the basic unit of money in the U.S.

one of the numbered parts into which a textbook (=a book used in schools) is divided a piece of furniture that can be attached to others of the same type: a kitchen unit a piece of equipment that is part of a larger machine: The cooling unit is broken.

a Christian group that does not believe in the Trinity

unit

to join together as one group, or to make people join together in this way, especially in order to achieve something: Congress united behind the President. The deal would unite two of the country’s oldest electronics firms.

unit

involving or done by everyone: Business and government need to make a united effort to clean up the environment.

2. closely joined by sharing feelings, aims, and values: a united community

the United Nations

a state or situation in which people work together to achieve something that they all agree on. The team suffers from a lack of unity.

universal

1. involving everyone in the world or in a particular group: With some exceptions, citizens in the U.S. have universal voting rights.

2. true or appropriate in every situation: a universal truth universe

the universe: all of space, including all the stars and planets university

a school at the highest level, where you study for a degree: college. A graduate of Harvard University university

assistants (TA), who are graduate students in the subject they are teaching. Students must write papers and, in science subjects, do laboratory work, and they take midterm and final exams. Final exams take place at the end of each semester or quarter (=periods of time that the college year is divided into). Students earn credits for each class. Once a student has earned enough credits, s/he graduates and gets a degree (=an academic title).

unjust

fair or reasonable: unjust laws

unjust

done without a good reason: an unjustified attack un-bounded not having limits: an unbounded universe

un-known

1. not known about: An unknown number of rebels are in hiding.

2. not famous: an unknown musician

unknown

n. someone who is not famous: Early in her career, she was still an unknown.

un-lawful not legal

un-leashed

to cause or make something start happening suddenly and with a strong effect: The ceremony unleashed memories of the war.

un-less

used in order to say that something will happen or be true if another thing does not happen or is not true: We can go in my car unless you want to walk. He won’t go to sleep unless you tell him a story.

un-like

1. completely different from another person or thing: Unlike me, she’s intelligent.

2. not typical of someone: It’s unlike Judy to leave without telling us.

un-like-ly

not likely to happen: It’s unlikely (that) I’ll be able to get an earlier flight.

un-like-ly

(adj) not likely to happen: It’s unlikely (that) I’ll be able to get an earlier flight.

The weather is unlikely to improve over the next few days.

un-like-li-ness

n. (U)

un-lim-ited

adj. without any limit: a rental car with unlimited mileage un·list·ed /ənˈlɪstɪd/ adj. not in the list of numbers in the telephone book: an unlisted phone number.

un·load /ənˈləʊd/ v. 1 [T] to remove goods from a vehicle or large container, or to have them removed: I unloaded the dishwasher. | The ship took a long time to unload. 2 [T] (informal) to get rid of something by using it quickly: The warehouse is trying to unload a large quantity of goods at discount prices. 3 [T] to take film out of a camera or bullets out of a gun un·lock /ənˈlʊk/ v. [T] to undo the lock on a door, box, etc.

un·luck·y /ənˈlʌki/ adj. 1 having bad luck: Chicago was unlucky in the final minute of the game. | She’s been unlucky in love (=not able to find someone to love romantically).

un·manned /ənˈmænd/ adj. 1 an unmanned vehicle or building does not have anyone in it: an unmanned spacecraft un·mar·ried /ənˈmɛrəd/ adj. 1 not married un·mas·ked /ənˈmɑːskt/ v. to reveal or uncover something that had been hidden: Julia’s laugh seemed forced and unmasked.

un·mas·ter·ful /ənˈmɑːstaking/ adj. 1 different from normal, especially in a way that is strange or wrong: It’s unnatural for a child to spend so much time alone. 2 seeming false, or not real or natural: Julia’s laugh seemed forced and unnatural.

un·nat·u·ral /ənˈnætʃrəl/ adj. 1 different from what is produced in nature. | MAN-MADE: an unnatural shade of red. 4 different from normal human behavior in a way that seems morally wrong un·net·ted /ənˈnɛtɪd/ adj. without being noticed: She sat unnoticed at the back.

un·ob·serv·ed /ənəˈbɜːvɪd/ adj., adv. not seen, or without being seen: Brett left the meeting unobserved.

un·ob·tru·sive /ənəˈbruːsɪv/ adj. not annoying or not trying to be noticed: an efficient unobtrusive waiter un·oc·cu·pied /ənəˈɔkjuːpid/ adj. not occupied or empty: I have an unplanned pregnancy.

un·paid /ənˈpeɪd/ adj. 1 an unpaid bill or debt has not been paid: unpaid taxes 2 done without getting any money: unpaid work | unpaid leave | time off (=unpaid time away from work)

un·par·al·leled /ənˈpærəˈleld/ adj. (formal) much bigger, better, or worse than anything else: Those years were a time of unparalleled happiness in our lives.

un·planned /ənˈplænd/ adj. not planned or unexpected: an unplanned pregnancy un·pleas·ant /ənˈplezənt/ adj. 1 not pleasant or enjoyable: an unpleasant surprise. 2 not kind or friendly: He said some very unpleasant things.

un·planned /ənˈplænd/ adj. not planned or unexpected: an unplanned pregnancy unplug /ənˈplʌɡ/ v (unplugged, unplugging) [T] to disconnect a piece of electrical equipment by taking its plug out of a socket unplugged /ənˈplʌgd/ adj: if a group of musicians perform unplugged, they perform without electrical instruments unpopular /ənˈpɒpjəluər/ adj: not liked by most people: an unpopular decision | The plans were unpopular with voters.
unpredictable /ənprɪˈdjektəbl/ adj: changing so much that you do not know what to expect: unpredictable weather — unpredictable adj: un-predict-a-ble /ənprɪˈdjektəbl/ n [U]: the unpredictability of her behavior unprepared /ənprɪˈprɛrd/ adj: not ready to deal with something: I was totally unprepared for that question.
unprescribed /ənˈprɛskrɪd/ adj: not prescribed by a doctor: an unprescribed antibiotic unpopular /ənˈpɒpjəluər/ adj: not liked by most people: an unpopular decision | The plans were unpopular with voters.
unplugged /ənˈplʌgd/ adj: never having happened before, or never having happened so much: The Steelers won an unprecedented four Super Bowls in six years.
unpublished /ənˈpʌblɪʃt/ adj: un-pub-lish-ed /ənˈpʌblɪʃt/ written, recorded, or not published: The downtown area is almost unrecognized.
unreal /ənˈrɪəl/ adj: 1 an experience, situation, etc. that is unreal seems so strange that you think you must be imagining it: It seemed unreal to be sitting and talking to someone so famous. 2 not relating to real things that happen: Test questions often deal with unreal situations.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unrelenting /ənˈrɛləntɪŋ/ adj: un-rel-en-ting /ənˈrɛləntɪŋ/ adj: unrelenting in the winter: two days of unrelenting rain.
unquestioned /ənˈkwɛstʃənd/ adj: accepted by everyone: The king had an unquestioned right to ride.
unquote /ənˈkwʊt/ v (spoken) un-quot-ed /ənˈkwʊtɪd/ v (written) unquote... unquote unquote... unravel /ənˈrævəl/ v. 1 [T] to understand or explain something that is very complicated: Detectives are still trying to unravel the mystery surrounding her death. 2 [I] if you unravel threads or if they unravel, they become separated.
unreal /ənˈrɪəl/ adj: 1 an experience, situation, etc. that is unreal seems so strange that you think you must be imagining it: It seemed unreal to be sitting and talking to someone so famous. 2 not relating to real things that happen: Test questions often deal with unreal situations.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unreliable /ənˈriələbl/ adj: unable to be trusted or depended on: unreliable information | My old car is unreliable in the winter.
unreal /ənˈrɪəl/ adj: 1 an experience, situation, etc. that is unreal seems so strange that you think you must be imagining it: It seemed unreal to be sitting and talking to someone so famous. 2 not relating to real things that happen: Test questions often deal with unreal situations.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
unrealistic /ənˈrɪəlistɪk/ adj: unrealistic ideas or hopes are not reasonable or sensible: He has unrealistic expectations about what kind of job he’ll get. | It’s unrealistic to expect her to be happy all the time.
that is unrelieved continues for a long time because nothing happens to change it: unrelieved pain un·re·mit·ting /ˌənəˈmitɪŋ/ adj (formal) continuing for a long time and not likely to stop: unremitting criticism un·re·pent·ant /ˌənərˈpentənt/ adj not ashamed of behavior or beliefs that other people think are wrong: He’s an unrepentant racist.

un·re·quit·ed /ˌənərˈkwɪtɪd/ adj unrequited love romantic love that you feel for someone who does not feel the same love for you un·re·solved /ˌənərˈzɔlvd/ Ac adj an unresolved problem or question has not been answered or solved: There was unresolved conflict between the two men.

un·re·spon·sive /ˌənərˈspɒnsɪv/ adj not reacting to something or not affected by it: The disease is unresponsive to drugs.

un·rest /ˈʌnɪrst/ n [U] a political situation in which people protest or behave violently: Troops are attempting to control the civil/political etc. unrest in the country.

un·re·strained /ˌənərˈstrɛʊmd/ Ac adj not controlled or limited: uncontrolled laughter un·re·strict·ed /ˌənərˈstrɪktɪd/ Ac adj not limited by anyone or anything: an unrestricted choice of doctors un·ri·val·ed /ˌənərˈrævləd/ Ac (formal) better than any other: an unrivaled collection of 19th-century art un·roll /ənˈrəʊl/ v [T] to open something that was in the shape of a ball or tube, and make it flat, or to become open in this way: He unrolled the sleeping bag.

un·ru·ly /ənˈruːli/ adj 1 violent or difficult to control: unruly children 2 unruly hair is messy un·safe /ənˈsɛf/ adj 1 dangerous and likely to cause harm: It’s unsafe to swim in the river. 2 in danger and likely to be harmed: Many people feel unsafe walking alone at night.

un·said /ənˈsed/ adj be left unsaid if something is left unsaid, you do not say it although you think it: Some things are better left unsaid (=it is better not to mention them).

un·san·i·tary /ənˈsænətəri/ adj dirty and likely to cause disease: unsanitary conditions un·sat·is·fac·to·ry /ənˈsætsɪfətoʊri/ adj not good enough: Your work is unsatisfactory.

un·sav·ory /ənˈsævərɪ/ adj bad, dishonest, or morally unacceptable: unsavory business deals un·scathed /ənˈskæð/ adj not hurt by a bad or dangerous situation: The driver came out of the crash unscathed.

un·screw /ənˈskrǔ/ v [T] 1 to open something by twisting it: Turn off the light before unscrewing the bulb. 2 to take the screws out of something un·scrup·u·lous /ənˈskrʊpjuˈləs/ adj behaving in an unfair or dishonest way: an unscrupulous lawyer un·see·son·a·ble /ənˈsɪzənəbl/ adj unseasonably warm/cold/mild etc. used for saying that the weather is warmer, colder, etc. than usual at a particular time of year —unseasonable adj un·seat /ənˈsiːt/ v [T] to remove someone from a position of power: Two candidates are trying to unseat the mayor.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·seen /ənˈsiːn/ adj adv (formal) not noticed or seen: She left the office unseen.

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·set·ted /ənˈsetd/ adj 1 making people feel unsure about what will happen: The country faces an unsettled future. 2 slightly worried, upset, or nervous: The children are feeling unsettled by the divorce.

un·self·ish·ness /ənˈsɛlfɪʃnəs/ n [U]

un·set·tling /ənˈsetlɪŋ/ adj feelings slightly worried or nervous:

un·settle·ment /ˌənəˈsetlɪmənt/ n [C] a situation that is causing someone to feel upset, troubled, or disturbed:

un·set·ly /ənˈsetli/ adj rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·seen /ənˈsiːn/ adj adv (formal) not noticed or seen: She left the office unseen.

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·self·ish·ness /ənˈsɛlfɪʃnəs/ n [U]

un·set·tling /ənˈsetlɪŋ/ adj feelings slightly worried or nervous:

un·settle·ment /ˌənəˈsetlɪmənt/ n [C] a situation that is causing someone to feel upset, troubled, or disturbed:

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·self·ish·ness /ənˈsɛlfɪʃnəs/ n [U]

un·set·tling /ənˈsetlɪŋ/ adj feelings slightly worried or nervous:

un·settle·ment /ˌənəˈsetlɪmənt/ n [C] a situation that is causing someone to feel upset, troubled, or disturbed:

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.

un·seem·ly /ənˈsiːmlɪ/ adj (formal) unseemly behavior is not polite or appropriate: It was considered unseemly for women to smoke.

un·self·ish /ənˈsɛlfɪʃ/ adj caring about other people and thinking about their needs and wishes rather than your own —unselfish adj

un·set·tle /ənˈsetl/ v [T] to make someone feel slightly worried or nervous: Being in a room full of strangers unsettled me.
unsound /ˈʌnˈsɔːnd/ adj: 1 unsound arguments, methods, etc. are not based on fact or reason. 2 an unsound building or structure is in bad condition.

un·swerv·ing /ʌnˈswɜːrvɪŋ/ adj: never changing in spite of difficulties: unservying loyalty un·sym·pa·thetic /ˌʌnsɪmpəˈθɛtɪk/ adj: 1 not kind or helpful to someone who is having problems: sympathetic. The immigration officer was utterly unsympathetic. 2 [not before noun] not willing to support someone’s plans, actions, ideas, etc. sympathetic: The college stands accused of being unsympathetic toward minority students. 3 unsympathetic character/figure etc. ENG. LANG. ARTS someone in a book, play, etc. who most people do not like sympathetic —unsympathetically adv.

un·tan·gle /ʌnˈtaŋɡəl/ v [T] 1 to make things straight that are twisted together: Conditioner helps untangle your hair after you wash it. 2 to understand something that is very complicated un·ten·a·ble /ʌnˈtenəbəl/ adj: unable to be supported: The team seems unstoppable this year.

un·ter·ri·tor·ial /ˈʌnˌtərɪtorɪəl/ adj: uncontrolled or not having a fixed border: most of the territory is open range.

un·te·ri·or·i·ty /ˈʌnˌtəriərɪəti/ n: a territory: The government has no territorial claim in the area.

un·tig·nite·red /ˌʌnˈtaɪɡnaɪtərd/ adj: not proved or true: the unregistrered owner.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not having the facts or information that are needed to understand something: The unexplained phenomenon.

un·touch·a·ble /ˌʌnˈtʌtʃəbəl/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ v: to speak or tell a secret: the untold story.

un·told /ˌʌnˈtɔld/ adj: not being able to touch or handle: the untouchables.
who is untouchable is in such a strong position that she cannot be affected by, or punished for, anything: These drug dealers think they're untouchable.

un·touched /ənˈtuːtʃd/ adj. not changed, affected, or damaged in any way: The town was almost untouched by the war.

un·toward /ənˈtɔrd/ adj. (formal) unexpected, unusual, or not wanted: Neighbors say that nothing untoward had happened on the night of the shooting.

un·tried /ənˈtraɪd/ adj. something that is untried has not yet tested to see whether it is successful: an untried theory

un·true /ənˈtruː/ adj. not based on facts that are correct: [FOO] false un·truth·ful /ənˈtruːθfəl/ adj. dishonest or not true un·used /ənˈyuːzd/ adj. not being used, or never used: unused plane tickets un·used /ənˈyuːzd/ adj. unused to (doing) sth not experienced in dealing with something: She's unused to driving at night.

un·u·su·al /ənˈyuːʒuəl/ adj. different from what is usual or normal: Our team has an unusual number of talented players. | unusual clothes | It's unusual for Dave to be late.

un·u·su·al·ly /ənˈyuːʒuəli/ adv. unusually hot/difficult etc. more hot, difficult, etc. than is usual un·veil /ənˈveɪl/ v. to remove the cover from something as part of a formal ceremony un·veiled /ənˈveɪlɪd/ adj. ENG. ANS. ARTS unvoiced CONSONANTS are produced without moving your vocal cords; for example /d/ and /g/ are voiced consonants, and /t/ and /k/ are unvoiced

un·want·ed /ənˈwɒntɪd/ adj. not wanted or needed: an unwanted pregnancy

un·war·rant·ed /ənˈwɔːrəntɪd/ adj. not being used, etc., so that there is nothing left: unused to (doing) sth not experienced in dealing with something: She's unused to driving at night.

un·wound /ənˈwɔːnd/ v. (past tense and past participle unwound) 1 [t] to relax and stop feeling anxious: Swimming helps me unwind. 2 [t] to undo something that is wrapped or twisted around something else

un·wise /ənˈvaɪz/ adj. not based on good judgment: It would be unwise to make him mad.

un·wit·ting·ly /ənˈwɪtɪŋɡli/ adv. without knowing or realizing something: Several employees unwittingly became involved in illegal activities. | unwitting adj.

un·wor·thy /ənˈwɜːθi/ adj. not deserving respect, attention, etc.: This idea is unworthy of serious consideration.

un·wrap /ənˈræp/ v. (unwrapped, unwrapping) [T] to remove the paper, plastic, etc. that is around something: Brianna was unwrapping her birthday presents.

un·written /ənˈraɪtɪn/ adj. known about and understood by everyone but not written down: an unwritten rule un·yield·ing /ənˈyɪldɪŋ/ adj. (formal) not willing to change your ideas or beliefs: The senator expressed her unyielding support for the president.

un·zip /ənˈziːp/ v. (unzipped, unzipping) [T] to unfasten the zipper on a piece of clothing, bag, etc.

up /ʌp/ adv., prep. 1 toward a higher place or position (up/down): Duncan climbed up into the tree. | Walk up the hill and turn right. | Could you come up here and help us? | Put your hand up if you know the answer. 2 in a higher place or position (up/down): “Where’s Dave?” “He’s up in his room.” | The cat’s up a tree. | A balloon floated up above us. 3 in or to a place that is further along something such as a road or path (up/down): I’m going up the road to see Jill. 4 into an upright or raised position: The choir stood up to sing. | The hair on the dog’s back was sticking up. 5 toward or in the north (up): I’m driving up to see my parents. | His relatives all live up north. 6 very close to someone or something: The cop came up to the car and asked Chad for his license. 7 increasing in loudness, strength, heat, activity, etc. (up/down): Turn up the TV. | Violent crime was up 3% this month. 8 completely done, used, etc., so that there is nothing left: All the space in the basement is filled up. | Eat up your dinner! 9 broken or divided completely: She tore the letter up into tiny pieces. | We’ll split the money up evenly. 10 firmly fastened, covered, or joined: The box was tied up with string. | Her dad covered her up and said goodnight. 11 brought or gathered together: Add up the following numbers. | He gathered up all the pens he could find. 12 toward the place where a river starts: We sailed up the river. 13 above and including a particular number or amount: This movie is suitable for children aged 12 and up. 14 up to sth a) used in order to show the highest amount or level of something, or the latest time something can happen: Up to 10 people are allowed in the elevator at one time. | This offer is valid up to December 15. b) used in order to say or ask what someone is doing: What have you been up to lately? | I'm sure Bob's up to something (doing something secret or bad). c) good enough or well enough to do something: The local police just aren't up to the job (=not good enough to do it). | Do you feel up to a walk today? 15 up and down a) higher and lower: The kids were so excited they were jumping up and down. b) to one end of something and then back again: We walked up and down the street trying to find the house. 16 it's up to you (spoken) said to tell someone that you want him/her to make a decision: "Do you think I should get the dress?" | It's up to you." 17 up close very near someone or something: If you look up close, you can see the cracks. 18 meet/see/know etc. up close to meet someone or experience something that you had previously only read or heard about: I was surprised by how short he was when I met him up close.

up adj. 1 awake: "Sorry, were you in bed?" | "No, I'm still up." 2 if a computer system that is up is working (up) down a level, number, or amount that is up is higher than before (up) down: Profits were up by 4% this year. 4 beating your opponent by a certain number of points (up) down: With 5 minutes left, Boston is up by 8 points. 5 (informal) if a period of time is up, it is finished: I'll give you a signal when the ten minutes are up. 6 be up against sb/sth to have to deal with a difficult situation or fight an opponent: We're up against some of the biggest companies in the world. 7 be up for sth a) to be intended for a particular purpose: The house is up for sale. | The topic will be up for discussion at the meeting. b) (spoken) to be interested in doing something, or willing to do something: Is anybody up for a game of tennis? 8 be up and running if a machine or process is up and running, it is working correctly: The equipment should be up and running in about three weeks. 9 be up before sb/sth to be judged in a court of law: He was up before the grand jury on charges of fraud.

up v. (informal) 1 (upped upping) [T] to increase the amount or level of something: They've upped Don's salary by $2,500. 2 up and do sth to suddenly do something different or surprising: Without saying another word, he up and left.

up-and-coming adj. likely to be successful and popular: an up-and-coming actor upbeat /'ap-bit/ adj. cheerful and making you feel that good things will happen: We remained calm and upbeat about the situation.

up·bray /'Ap-brey/ adj. (not good enough to do it) up·braid /'Ap-bred/ v. [T] (formal) to tell someone angrily that she has done something wrong: I heard a manager upbraiding one of the workers.

up·bring·ing /'Ap-brin-J/ n. [singular, U] the way that your parents care for you and teach you to behave when you are growing up: He had a very strict upbringing.

up·chuck /'Ap-chuk/ v. [I] (spoken, informal) to vomit up·com·ing /'Ap-kəmîng/ adj. happening soon: the upcoming elections up·date /'Ap-dit/ v. [T] 1 to add the most recent information to something: The system needs to be updated. 2 to make something more modern in the way it looks or operates: We need to update our image.

up·date·2 /'Ap-dit/ n. [C] the most recent news about something: an update on the earthquake up·fic·end /'Ap-fik-end/ v. [T] to turn something over so that it is upside down up·front /'Ap-fron/ adj. 1 talking or behaving in a direct and honest way: Jill's always been upfront with him.

up·hold /'Ap-hold/ v. (past tense and past participle upheld /'hupd/ [T] 1 to defend or support a law, system, or principle so that it is not made weaker: They want to uphold family values. 2 [law] if a court upholds a decision that is made by another court, it states that the decision was correct upholster /əˈpʊlstər/, əˈpʊstərl-/ v [T] to cover a chair with material —upholstered adj.

upholster v /əˈpʊlstər/-/n [U] material that is used for covering chairs, or the process of doing this up-keep /ˈʌpkiːp/ n [U] the care that is needed to keep something in good condition: the upkeep of a big house up-lift-ing /əˈpʊltɪŋ/ adj making you feel more cheerful: uplifting music up-on /əˈpʌn, əˈpʊn/ prep (formal) on: We are completely dependent upon your help. | The king was sitting upon the throne.

up-per /ˈʌpər/ [only before noun] 1 in a higher position than something else (ANT) lower: the upper jaw 2 near or at the top of something (ANT) lower: the upper floors of the building 3 more important or higher in rank than other parts in an organization (ANT) lower: upper management 4 have/gain the upper hand to have more power than someone else, so that you are able to control a situation: Rebels have gained the upper hand in some areas.

up-per-case /ˈʌpərkɛs-/ n, plural upperclassmen /mən/ [C] a student in the last two years of high school or college —upper-class adj:

upper-class man /ˈʌpərklaʊzmən/ n 1 the group of people who belong to the highest social class —lower class, middle class, working class —upper-class adj: upper-class communities upper-class-man /ˈʌpərklaʊzmən/ n (plural upperclassmen /mən/) [C] a student in the last two years of high school or college —under-class adj:

upper-most /ˈʌpərməʊst/-adj 1 most important: Your safety is uppermost in my mind (=I think it is most important). 2 highest: the uppermost branches of the tree up-pl-y /ˈʌpplɪ/ adj (spoken, informal) behaving as if you are more important than you really are, or not showing someone enough respect up-right /ˈʌprait/ adj, adv 1 standing, sitting, or pointing straight up: Andy stood upright when he heard the noise. | Please put your seat in an upright position. 2 always behaving in an honest way: upright citizens up-ri-sing /ˈʌpˈrɪsɪŋ/ n [C] an occasion when a large group of people use violence to try to change the rules, laws, etc. in an institution or country: a popular uprising (=by the ordinary people in a country)

up-root /əˈpʊrət/ v, past tense and past participle up-rooted (present participle up-rooting) [T] 1 to pull a plant and its roots out of the ground 2 to make someone leave his/her home and move to a new place, especially when this is difficult: Steven’s new job will mean uprooting the family.

up-scale /əˈpʊskɛl/ adj made for or relating to people from a high social class who have a lot of money: an upscale department store up-set /ˈʌpset/ adj 1 [not before noun] unhappy and worried because something bad or disappointing has happened: What are you so upset about? | He was upset that Helen had lied to him. | When I told him he’d failed, he got very upset.

up-set-ti ng /əˈpʊsettɪŋ/ adj making you feel less happy: upsetting events up-side down adj, adv 1 with the top at the bottom and the bottom at the top: Isn’t that picture upside down? 2 turn sth upside down a) to move a lot of things and make a place messy because you are looking for something: We turned the house upside down looking for my keys. b) to change something completely: Her life had been turned upside down by the accident.

upstage /'ʌ pstæg/ v [T] to do something that takes people's attention away from a more important person or event up-stairs /'ʌ pstərs/ adj., adv. 1 on or toward a higher floor of a building (and downstairs: Her office is upstairs on your right.) the upstairs bathroom 2 the upstairs one or all of the upper floors of a building: Would you like to see the upstairs? up-stand-ing /'ʌ pstændɪŋ/ adj. (formal) honest and responsible: an upstanding citizen up-start /'ʌ pstɑrt/ n [C] someone who is new in his/her job and behaves as if s/he is more important than s/he is up-state /'ʌ pstət/ adj. in or toward the northern part of a state (and downstate: upstate New York — upstate adv.

up-stream /'ʌ pstrɪm/ adv. along a river, in the opposite direction from the way the water is flowing (and downstream — upstream adv.

up-surge /'ʌ pσɜrɡ/ n. [C] a sudden increase: a recent upsurge in car sales up-swing /'ʌ pswɪŋ/ n. [C] an improvement or increase in the level of something: an upswing in the economy | incomes are on the upswing.

up-take /'ʌ ptek/ n be slow/quick on the uptake (informal) to be slow or fast at learning or understanding things up-tight /'ʌ ptɪt/ adj. (informal) behaving in an annoyed way because you are feeling nervous and worried: You shouldn't get so uptight about it.

up-to-date adj. 1 including all the newest information: up-to-date travel information | Doctors must keep up-to-date with medical research. 2 modern or fashionable: the most up-to-date technology | The old system should be brought up-to-date (made modern).

up-to-the-minute adj. including the most recent information, details, etc.: up-to-the-minute news up-town /'ʌ ptəʊn/ adj., adv. to or in the northern area of a city where the richer people live — downtown: The Parkers live uptown.

downstairs

up-turn /'ʌ ptʊrn/ n. [C] a time when business activity is increased and conditions improve (and downturn — upswing: an upturn in oil production up-turned /'ʌ ptʊrnəd, -tərnt/ adj. 1 pointing upward at the end: an upturned nose 2 turned upside down: upturned boxes up-ward /'ʌ pwɔrd/ adj. [only before noun] 1 moving or pointing toward a higher position (and downward: an upward movement of the hand) 2 increasing to a higher level (and downward: the upward trend in house prices upward2 also upwards adv. 1 from a lower place or position to a higher one (and downward: Billy pointed upward at the clouds.) 2 increasing to a higher level (and downward: Salaries have been moving upwards.

u-ra-ni-um /'yuərəniəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a heavy radioactive white metal that is used in producing nuclear energy and weapons u-ra-nus /'yuərənəs, 'yurənəs/ n. PHYSICS the seventh planet from the Sun — see picture at SOLAR SYSTEM ur-bar /'ɔrber/ adj. in or relating to a town or city — rural, suburban: the growth of urban areas | the urban poor [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin urbana "urban, sophisticated," from urbā "city"] ur-bar-ize /'ɔrbərɪza/ v. [T usually passive] 1 SOCIAL SCIENCE to build houses, cities, etc. in the countryside. 2 SOCIAL SCIENCE if a society is urbanized, people live mainly in cities — urbanization /'ɔrbənəˈzeɪʃən/ n. [U] urban re-newal /'ɔrberəˈnu:əl/ n. [U] the process of improving poor city areas by building new houses, stores, etc.

urban sprawl /'ɔrberəˈsprɔːl/ n. [U] the spread of city buildings and houses into an area that was COUNTRYSIDE ur-chin /'ɔrʃɪn/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a small dirty child u-re-ter /'juərətər/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a tube inside the body that carries URINE (=waste liquid produced by the body) from the KIDNEYS to the BLADDER u-re-thra /'juərəθrə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the tube through which URINE (=waste fluid) flows out of the body from the bladders, and also through which the SEAMEN of males flow.

urge /ɜərʤ/ v [T] to strongly advise someone to do something: Cal's family urged him to find another job. | Environmental groups have urged that the land remain undeveloped.

urge sb ++ on phr. v. to encourage someone to try harder, go faster, etc.: Urged on by the crowd, they scored two more goals.

urge sb ++ to phr. v. to try to persuade someone to do something: Urged to try again, he finally got his chance.
urge² n. [C] a strong wish or need: sexual urges | I felt a sudden urge to hit him.
urgent /ˈɜrʒənt/ adj. very important and needing to be dealt with immediately: an urgent message | She’s in urgent need of medical attention. —urgency /ˈɜrʒənsi/ n. [U]: a matter of great urgency —urgently adv. Help is urgently needed.
ureter /ˈyʊərət/ n. [E] BIOLOGY relating to urine or to the parts of your body through which urine passes.
urinate /ˈyʊrɪnət/ v. [I] BIOLOGY to make urine flow out of your body.
urine /ˈyʊrɪn/ n. [U] the liquid waste that comes out of your body when you go to the toilet.
URL n. [C] it uniform resource locator an address for a particular website on the Internet.
urn /ɜːrn/ n. [C] 1 a container that holds and pours a large amount of coffee or tea 2 a decorated container, especially one that is used for holding the ashes of a dead body.
us /əs, strong asl pron. the object form of “we”:
use /ˈyʊs/ v. [I] to use your phone? 1 [I] if you use something, you do something with it for a particular purpose: Can I use your phone? 2 [I] if you are used to something, you have experienced it many times before and it no longer seems surprising, difficult, etc.: Kathy is used to getting up early. 3 [I] if you are used to doing something, you have done it often or regularly in the past but does not happen now: We used to go to the movies every week. 4 [I] to say or write a particular word or phrase: I try not to use bad language around the kids. 5 [I] to take illegal drugs [Origin: 1200–1300 Old French user, from Latin usus, past participle of uti “to use”] used² /ˈyʊzd/ adj. 1 used (spoken) used in order to talk about something is used in order to talk about something 2 used (written) used in order to say that you no longer use something: I can’t fix it anymore. 3 used (spoken) used in order to say that you are going to stop doing something because you do not think it will be successful: It’s no use! I can’t fix this.
useful /ˈyʊsfl/ adj. 1 ACT OF USING STH [singular, U] the act of using something: the use of computers in education 2 WAY STH IS USED [C] a purpose for which something can be used: The drug has many uses. 3 the use of sth the right or ability to use something: Joe’s given me the use of his office. 4 make use of sth to use something that is available in order to achieve something or to get an advantage for yourself: It’s a shame that students don’t make more use of the computer lab. 5 put sth to (good) use to use knowledge, skills, etc. for a particular purpose: The job will give you a chance to put your first-aid training to good use. 6 be (of) no use (to sb) to be completely useless: The books are of no use to me now. 7 it’s no use doing sth (spoken) used in order to tell someone not to do something because it will have no effect: It’s no use arguing with Kathy. She won’t listen. 8 it’s no use (spoken) used in order to say that you are going to stop doing something because you do not think it will be successful: It’s no use! I can’t fix this.
useless /ˈyʊzləs/ adj. to not like or respect someone or something: She has no use for people who are always complaining. 10 be in use being used: The computer room’s in use all morning. 11 for the use of sb for a particular person or group to use: The gym is for the use of employees only. 12 WORDS [C] one of the meanings of a word, or the way that a particular word is used  → USAGE: The use of the word “gay” to mean “happy” is old-fashioned. 13 used² /ˈyuzd/ adj. used cars/clothes/books etc. cars, clothes, etc. that have already had an owner  → secondhand used to ni 1 used to be used to doing sth if you are used to something, you have experienced it many times before and it no longer seems surprising, difficult, etc.: Kathy is used to getting up early. 2 He still hasn’t gotten used to the weather here. 3 used to be used to and get used to are used in order

To talk about being or becoming more comfortable with a situation or activity, so that it does not seem surprising, difficult, etc. anymore: Are you used to the cold winters yet? I can’t get used to living in a big city.

useful /ˈyusəfəl/ adj helping you to do or to get what you want: useful information | It’s useful to make a list before you start. —usefully adv —usefulness n [U]

useless /ˈyusəls/ adj not useful or effective in any way. These scissors are completely totally useless. | It’s useless to complain. —pointlessly adv —pointless adj

user /ˈyuzər/ n [C] someone who uses a product, service, etc.: The CD-ROM allows the user to hear all of the words in the dictionary are pronounced. | Bumps designed for wheelchair users have been added to the building. | Users of cell phones pay more for calls.

user-friendly adj easy to use or operate user-name /ˈyuzərˌnɛm/ n [C] if a name or special word that proves who you are and allows you to enter a computer system or use the Internet usher /ˈyuːʃər/ n [C] someone who shows people to their seats at a theater, wedding, etc.

usher /ˈyuːʃər/ n one (or more) person to take someone into or out of a room or building: His secretary ushered us into the office.

user /ˈyuːsər/ n [C] 1 the same as what happens most of the time or in most situations: Let’s meet at the usual place. | I woke up a little earlier/later than usual. 2 as usual in the way that happens or exists most of the time: They were late, as usual.

user-friendly /ˈyuːsərˌfrendli/ adj used when describing what happens on most occasions or in most situations: We usually go out for dinner on Saturday. | Usually, I just get a sandwich for lunch.

utility /ˈyuːtələti/ n [C] 1 a tool or object that you use to prepare, cook, or eat food: cooking utensils | from Latin utensilis “useful” utility /ˈyuːtələti/ n [C] Biology the organ in a woman or female mammal where babies develop utility /ˈyuːtələti/ n (plural utilities) [C usually plural] a service such as gas or electricity that is provided for people to use: Does the rent include utilities?

utilize /ˈyutəlайz/ v [T] (formal) to use something | [origin: 1800—1900 French utiliser, from Latin usilis “useful”] —utilization /ˈyutələˈziʃən/ n [U]

utmost v [T] (formal) the utmost importance/care/etc., the greatest possible importance, care, etc.: This is a matter of the utmost importance.

Utmost n [singular] 1 to the utmost to the highest limit, extent, degree, etc. possible: The piece challenges singers to the utmost. 2 do your utmost to try as hard as you can in order to achieve something: We’ve done our utmost to make them feel welcome.

U-turn v [T] (literary) to say something: No one uttered a word. | say —utterance n [C]

U-turn /ˈyuː tərn/ n [C] a turn that you make in a vehicle, so that you go back in the direction you came from: She made a U-turn and drove away.

u-vula /ˈjuːvʊlə/ n (plural uvulae or uvula /ˈjuːvʊlə/) [C] Biology a small soft piece of flesh that hangs down from the top of your mouth near your throat 2 (formal) if a position in an organization is vacant, the job is available because no one is doing it 3 if someone has a vacant expression, s/he does not seem to be thinking about anything —vacantly adv.: Cindy was staring vacantly out into empty space.

va·cance /vəˈkeɪns/ n. (U) to leave a seat, room, etc. so that someone else can use it: Guests must vacate their rooms by noon.

va·ca·tion /vəˈkeɪʃən, vaˈ-/ n. 1 [C,U] a time that is spent not working or not at school, especially used to protect people from a disease, that contains a weak form of the virus that causes the disease: a polio vaccine [origin: 1700–1800 Latin vaccinüs “of a cow,” from vacca “cow;” because the substance was originally obtained from sick cows] va·ci·nate /vəˈsəˌneɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to continue to change your opinions, ideas, etc. because you cannot decide between two choices vac·u·ole /vəˈkjʊəl/ n. [C] biology a small space inside a living cell, used for storing water, food, or waste vac·u-ous /vəˈkjʊəs/ adj. (formal) lacking in serious thought or intelligence: a vacuous remark —vacuously adv. —vacuousness n. [U] vac·uum /ˈvækjʊm/ n. 1 [C] a vacuum cleaner 2 [C] physics a space that is completely empty of all air or gas 3 [singular] a situation in which someone or something is missing or lacking: Her husband’s death left a vacuum in her life. [origin: 1500–1600 Latin vacuus “empty”] va·grant /vəˈɡrænt/ n. [C] (formal) someone who has no home or work va·gue /vəɡ/ adj. 1 unclear because someone does not give enough details or say exactly what s/he means: John was a little vague about where he was going. —vague promises to end the war 2 to have a vague idea/feeling, etc. to think that something might be true or that you remember something, although you are not sure va·gues·try /ˈvægjʊstri/ n. plural (formal) unexpected changes in a situation that you cannot control: the vagaries of the weather

va·gi·na /ˈvægənə/ n. [C] biology the passage from a woman’s outer sexual organs to her uterus —vaginal /ˈvægənəl/ adj.

va·grant /ˈvægrənt/ n. [C] (formal) someone who has no home or work

va·gues·try /ˈvægjʊstri/ n. plural (formal) unexpected changes in a situation that you cannot control: the vagaries of the weather

va·gus /ˈvægəs/ adj. (medical) 1 slightly: His heart was a little vagus. —vagus nerve to end the war 2 to have a vague idea/feeling, etc. to think that something might be true or that you remember something, although you are not sure —vaguely adv.

va·lent /ˈvælənt/ adj. 1 (disapproving) too proud of your appearance or your abilities —vanity: Men can be just as vain as women.

va·le·n·cy /ˈvælənˈsəʊ/ n. (plural valencies) [C] chemistry a measure of the ability of atoms to combine to form compounds va·lung /ˈvælɪŋ, fæl-/ n. [C] 1 a card given Valentine’s Day

on Valentine’s Day 2 a name for someone you love or like, who you send a card to on Valentine’s Day: Will you be my valentine?

Valentine’s Day n. a holiday in some countries when people give special cards, candy, or flowers to people they love val-er-¥n/val·er·e/ n. [C] 1 someone who parks your car for you at a hotel or restaurant 2 a male servant who takes care of a man’s clothes, serves his meals, etc.

val-i-ant /ˈvæliənt/ adj. (formal) very brave: a valiant rescue attempt val-i-date /ˈvælidət/ v. [T] (formal) show or prove that something is true or correct: Invalid: a valid passport 2 based on strong reasons or facts: to validate the results of the study will be validated by future research.

val-i-ty /ˈvælətɪ/ n. 1 [C,U] the amount of money that something is worth: the value of the house 2 [C] the importance or usefulness of something: His research was of great value to doctors working with this disease. 3 values [plural] your beliefs about what is right and wrong, or about what is important in life: traditional family values 4 good/great etc. value something that is worth the amount you pay for it [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French, Vulgar Latin valuta, from Latin valere “to be worth, be strong”] val-ue /ˈvælu/ n. 1 [C,U] the amount of money that something is worth: the value of the house 2 [U] the importance or usefulness of something: His research was of great value to doctors working with this disease. 3 [C] someone who deliberately damages things, especially public property 4 good/great etc. value something that is worth the amount you pay for it [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French, Vulgar Latin valuta, from Latin valere “to be worth, be strong”] val-ue·ful /ˈvælufl/ adj. 1 [C] very valuable: an expensive jewel 2 very useful: valuable help, advice, etc. is very useful 3 invaluable: I think we’ve all learned a valuable lesson today.

val-ues /ˈvæluəz/ n. [plural] things that you own that are worth a lot of money, such as jewelry, cameras, etc.: Guests should leave their valuables in the hotel safe.
someone or something completely (syn) beat, conquer variant point /ˈværnətrɪ ˈpoʊnt/ n [C] 1 a good position from which you can see something 2 a way of thinking about things that is influenced by your own situation (syn) point of view vapid /ˈvæpɪd/ adj. (formal) lacking intelligence, interest, or imagination; a vapid TV show

variant /ˈværɪənt, ˈvɛrənt/ n. 1 something that is slightly different from the usual form of something: a spelling variant | The moth is a variant of the species that arrived here from Europe in 1809. —variant adj.

variation /ˌvɛrɪˈeɪʃən, ˌvɛrɪˈɛʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] a difference between similar things, or a change from the usual amount or form of something: variations in prices from store to store | Slight temperature variations are not critical. 2 [C] something that is done in a slightly different way from normal: This is the traditional recipe, but of course there are many variations. | There are several variations of socialism, including communism.

varicosities /ˌværɪˈkɒsətɪz/ n. [plural] a medical condition in which the veins in your leg become swollen and painful varied /ˈvɛrɪd/ adj. including many different types of things or people: a varied diet | This essay discusses the many varied groups in American society.

variegated /ˌværɪˈɡeɪtɪd/ adj. 1 biology a variegated plant, leaf, etc. has different colored marks on it: variegated holly 2 (formal) consisting of a lot of different types of people or things variety show n. [C] a television or radio program or a play that consists of many different performances, especially funny ones vapidness n. [U] —vapidly adv.

vapour /ˈvæpər/ n. [C,U] chemistry many small drops of liquid that float in the air: water vapour vascular /ˈværɪs/ adj. relating to the tubes through which liquids, for example blood, flow in the bodies of animals or in plants vascular tissue n. [U] biology material through which water, sap, and other liquids are carried around a plant vase /ˈvɛərz, ˈvæz/ n. [C] a container used to put flowers in [origin: 1500—1600 French, Latin var “container”] vas·sal /ˈveɪsəl/ n. [C,U] a medical operation that makes a man unable to produce children

Vas-o-line /ˈveɪsəlɪn/ or /ˈveɪsəlin/ n. [U] (trademark) a thick clear substance used on the skin to make it less dry vas-sal /ˈveɪsəl/ n. [C] HISTORY a man in the Middle Ages who was given land to live on by a LORD in return for promising to work or fight for him vast /ˈvæst/ adj. 1 extremely large: vast areas of rainforest

2 the vast majority of (sth) almost all of a group of people or things: [Origin: 1500—1600 Latin vastus “empty, desolate, very large”] vast·ly /ˈvæstli/ adv. very greatly: vastly different opinions vat /væt/ n. [C] a very large container for keeping liquids in vault /vɔːlt/ n. [C] 1 a room with thick walls and a strong door, where money, jewels, etc. are kept safely 2 a room where people from the same family are buried 3 a jump over something vaul·t·ed /ˈvɔːltɪd/ adj. vaulted over v. [T] to jump over something in one movement, using your hands or a pole to help you: He vaulted over the fence and ran off.

veg·e·ta·tion /ˈveɡəˌteɪʃən/ n. plants in general, especially all the plants in one particular area: a meadow with thick vegetation veg·gie /ˈveɪdʒi/ n. [C] usually plural (informal) a vegetable veg·gie·burger /ˈveɪdʒiˌbɜːɡər/ n. (informal) a HAMBURGER, SANDWICH, etc. that is made using vegetables or grain, rather than meat ve·he·ment /ˈviːmənt/ adj. showing very strong feelings or opinions: vehement protests —vehemently adv.: Hof f vehemently denies the accusations.

veil /vɛɪl/ n. [C] 1 a thin piece of material that women wear to cover their faces: a bridal veil 2 a veil of secrecy/silence etc. something that stops, or makes it more difficult to find out about a situation: A veil of mystery surrounded Gomez’s death.

veiled /ˈvɛɪld/ adj. 1 veiled criticism/threats etc. criticisms, threats, etc. that are not said directly 2 be veiled in mystery/secrecy if something is veiled in mystery, secrecy, etc., very little is known about it vein /vɛɪn/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY one of the tubes through which blood flows to your heart from other parts of your body ➔ ARTERY: Death was caused by a wound to the JUGULAR VEIN (the large vein in your neck). 2 BIOLOGY one of the thin lines on a leaf or on the wing of an insect 3 EARTH SCIENCES a thin layer of coal, gold, etc. in rock 4 in a ... vein in a particular style of speaking or writing: Her speech continued in the same vein.

vel·cro /ˈvɛlkrəʊ/ n. [U] (trademark) a material used for fastening shoes, clothes, etc., made from two special pieces of cloth that stick to each other vel·oc·i·ty /ˈvələsəti/ n. (plural velocities) [C,U] PHYSICS the speed at which something moves in a particular direction over a period of time: the velocity of light [Origins: 1500—1600 French vitesse, from Latin velo citas, from velox “fast”] vel·vet /ˈvɛlvɛt/ n. [U] cloth with a soft surface on one side [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French velu cte, from velu “hairy,” from Latin villus “rough hair”] vel·vet·y /ˈvɛlvɪti/ adj. looking, feeling, tasting, or sounding smooth and soft: a velvety voice

ve·na·ca·va /ˈvɪnəˈkeɪvə/ n. [C] biology one of two large tubes that carry blood back to your heart from different parts of your body: the superior vena cava (=tube that returns blood to the heart from the head and the upper part of the body) | the inferior vena cava (=tube that returns blood to the heart from the lower part of the body) ➔ see picture at heart ven·det·ta /ˈvɛndətə/ n. [C] a situation in which one person tries for a long time to harm another person ven·ding ma·chine /ˈvɛndɪŋ ˈmɑːʃən/ n. [C] a machine that you can get cigarettes, candy, drinks, etc. from, by putting in money ven·dor /ˈvɛndər/ n. [C] someone who sells things, especially in the street: street vendors ve·ne·ra·ble /ˈvɛnərəbəl/ adj. (formal) a venerable person or organization is very old and respected: venerable institutions ven·er·ate /ˈvɛnərət/ v. [T] (formal) to treat someone or something with great respect, especially because she, he, or it is old, holy, or connected with the past ve·ne·re·al dis·ease /ˈvɛnərəl dɪˈziː/ n. [C,U] VD

Ve·ne·tian blind /ˈvɛnətʃənˈblænd/ n. [C] a covering for a window, made of long flat bars that can be raised or lowered to let in light ➔ see picture on page A6 ven·ge·ance /ˈvɛndʒəns/ n. [singular, U] 1 something violent or harmful that you do to someone in order to punish him/her for hurting you: a desire for vengeance 2 with a vengeance with much more force or effort than is expected or normal: The Colts started the season with a vengeance, winning three straight games.

ven·ge·ful /ˈvɛndʒfəl/ adj. (literary) very eager to punish someone who has hurt you ven·i·son /ˈvɛnəsən/ n. [U] the meat of a deer

Venn di·a·gram /ˈvɛn daɪəˈgræm/ n. [C] math a picture that shows the relationship between two sets of things by using circles that overlap each other. The part of each set that is the same for both sets is put into the place where the circles cross.

ven·om /ˈvɛnəm/ n. [U] 1 a liquid poison that some snakes, insects, etc. produce 2 extreme anger or hatred: a speech full of venom —venomous adj.

vent /ˈvent/ n. 1 [C] a hole or pipe through which gases, smoke, or liquid can enter or go out: an air... vent  2 give vent to sth (formal) to do something to express a strong feeling vent⁵ v.  [T] to do something to express your feelings, often in a way that is unfair: Jay vented his anger on/at his family.

venti-late  /ven'tl-at/ v.  [T] to let fresh air into a room, building, etc.  [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of ventilare, from ventus “wind”]  —ventilated adj.: Mechanics should work in a well-ventilated space.  —ventilation  /ven'tla'shan/ n. [U] ven-ti-la-tor  /ven'tl@tər/ n. [C] a RESPIRATOR relating to the stomach of an animal or fish  ➔ DORSAL

ven-tril·o·quist  /vøntrI'ləkwIst/ n. [C] a PUPPET that makes the sound seem to come from someone who speaks without using his/her lips, in a way that is unfair: Their behavior sometimes verges on insanity.

ven·tril·o·quist  /vøntrI'ləkwIst/ n. [C] a PUPPET that makes the sound seem to come from someone who speaks without using his/her lips, in a way that is unfair: Their behavior sometimes verges on insanity.

ven·tril·o·quist  /vøntrI'ləkwIst/ n. [C] a PUPPET that makes the sound seem to come from someone who speaks without using his/her lips, in a way that is unfair: Their behavior sometimes verges on insanity.

ver·di·ty  /vør'dəti/ n. [C] LAW an official decision that is made by a JURY in a court of law about whether someone is guilty or not guilty of a crime: Has the jury reached a verdict?  ➔ COURT 1 an official decision or opinion made by a person or group that has authority: The panel will give their verdict tomorrow.  [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Anglo-French, Old French ver “true” + dit “saying, judgment”] verge ¹ /vørdʒ/ n. be on the verge of sth to be about to do something: Andy was on the verge of tears.

verge² v.  verge on/upon sth phr. v. to be very close to a harmful or extreme state: Their behavior sometimes verges on insanity.

ver·i·fy  /vørə'faI/ v. [T] (verified verifies) to find out if a fact, statement, etc. is correct or true: There was no way to verify his story.  [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French verifier, from Medieval Latin verificare, from Latin versus “true”]  —verification  /vørə'faI'shan/ n. [U] ver·i·la·ble  /vørə'laбл/ adj. (formal) used in order to emphasize your description of someone or something: a veritable army of tourists (a very large number of them) ver·min  /vø'mIn/ n. [plural] small animals or insects that are harmful or difficult to control [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French vermin, from Latin vermin “worm”] ver·nac·u·lar  /vø's@'tIl@Ôi/ n. [C] usually singular] ENG. LANG. ARTS the language or DIALECT that ordinary people in a country or area speak, especially when this is not the official language or formal language: Instead of being in Latin, the church service was held in the vernacular.

ver·sen·si·on  /vørsə'nI@n/ n. [C] 1 a copy of something that is slightly different from other forms of vent

it: the original version of the movie | a new version of an old song | Many devout people have objected to each new version of the Bible.

2 a description of an event that is given by one person: I'm not sure I believe Bobby's version of the story.

[Origin: 1500—1600 French, Medieval Latin versio "turning," from Latin versus] versus /vər'səs/ prep. 1 (written abbreviation vs. or v.) used in order to show that two people or teams are against each other in a game or a court case: the Knicks versus the Lakers.

2 used when comparing the advantages of two different things or ideas: It's a question of quantity versus quality.

[Origin: 1400—1500 Medieval Latin "toward, away"]: 1400—1500 Medieval Latin "toward, away" version /vər'sən/ n. [U] 1 a piece of clothing without sleeves that has buttons down the front, worn over a shirt as part of a suit.

2 a piece of special clothing without sleeves that is worn to protect your body: a bulletproof vest.

[Origin: 1600—1700 French veste, from Latin vestis "piece of clothing"] vested /vəstid/ adj. if you have a vested interest in something happening, you have a strong reason for wanting it to happen because you will get money or advantages from it vested interest /vəstid ˈinstərɛst/ n. [C] if you have a vested interest in something happening, you have a strong reason for wanting it to happen because you will get money or advantages from it

vested interest /vəstid ˈinstərɛst/ n. [C] if you have a vested interest in something happening, you have a strong reason for wanting it to happen because you will get money or advantages from it vestibule /vəstıˈb(y)l/ n. [C] (formal) a wide passage or small room inside the front door of a public building veto /vətəʊ/ n. [C] 1 a veto is a refusal to give official permission for something, or the right to refuse to give such permission: the President vetoed the bill.

[Origin: 1600—1700 Latin ab illo "against the will"

vet /vət/ n. [C] 1 a veterinarian is a person who has training to give medical care and treatment to sick animals.

2 (informal) a veteran is somebody who has had a lot of experience in a particular activity: a veteran journalist vet-er-i-nar-i-an /ˈvetərənəriən/ n. (vet), a person who is trained to give medical care and treatment to sick animals: a veterinarian.

vet-er-i-nary /ˈvetərəneri/ n. (vet), relating to the medical care and treatment of sick animals vet-o /ˈvetəʊ/ (past tense and past participle vetoed, third person singular vetoes) [T] politics to officially refuse to allow something to happen, especially something that other people or organizations have agreed: the President vetoed the bill.

[Origin: 1600—1700 Latin "I refuse to allow," from Latin vetus "old" vex /vɛks/ (old-fashioned) to make someone feel annoyed or worried annoy, irritate, bother, irk

Usage
Do not use very with adjectives and adverbs that already have a strong meaning, for example "huge" or "terrible." Say "a huge war," not "a very huge war/terrible war.

You can use really instead: That was a really awful movie.

Do not use very with the comparative form of adjectives: Do not say "This school's very better." Use much instead: This school's much better.

2 not very a) used before a quality to mean exactly the opposite of that quality: She wasn't very happy about working overtime (≠ she was angry).

b) only slightly: "Was the game very exciting?" "Not very." 3 your very own used in order to emphasize that something belongs to one particular person: I finally have my very own bedroom.

4 very much a lot: It didn't cost very much. Don't say "It cost very much." Say "It cost a lot."
VHF

VHF n. [U] very high frequency radio waves that move very quickly and produce good sound quality

VHS n. [U] (trademark) a type of VIDEOTAPE

vi-a /vaɪə, -viə/ prep. 1 traveling through a place on the way to another place: We’re flying to Denver via Chicago. 2 using a particular machine, system, person, etc. to send, receive, or broadcast something: The concert was broadcast around the world via satellite. [Origins: 1600—1700 Latin “by way of,” from via “way”]

vi-a-bi-le /vaɪəbəl/ adj. something that is viable is able to exist or succeed: Solar energy is a viable alternative to coal or gas. | The plan isn’t economically/commercially viable.

vi-a-duct /vaɪədʌkt/ n. [C] a long high bridge across a valley

vi-al /vaɪəl/ n. [C] a very small bottle, usually for liquid medicines vi-be /vaɪb/ n. [C usually plural (informal)] the feeling that a particular person, group, or situation seems to produce and that you react to: I’m getting good/bad vibes from this guy.

vi-brant /vaɪbrent/ adj. 1 exciting, full of energy, and interesting: a vibrant personality. 2 a vibrant color is bright and strong.

vi-brate /vaɪbreɪt/ v. [U] to shake continuously with small fast movements, or to make something do this: The music got louder and the walls began to vibrate.

vi-bration /vaɪbretʃən/ n. [C,U] a continuous slight shaking movement: the vibrations of the plane’s engine vic-ar /vaɪər/ n. [C] a priest in the Church of England or in the Episcopal church vi-car-i-ous /vaɪkəriəs/ adj. experienced by watching or reading about someone else doing something, rather than by doing it yourself: Parents get vicarious pleasure/satisfaction from their children’s success. [Origins: 1600—1700 Latin vicarius “acting in place of another,” from vicis “change, alternation, position”] vice /vaɪs/ n. 1 [U] criminal activities that involve sex or drugs. 2 [C] a bad habit: Smoking is my only vice. 3 [C] a bad or immoral quality in someone’s character: her virtue, the vice of greed vice ’president n. [C] the person who is next in rank to the president of a country. 2 someone who is responsible for a particular part of a company: the vice president of marketing vice squad n. [C] the part of the police force that deals with crimes involving sex or drugs

vi-ce ver·sa /vaɪs ˈvɜːsa, ˈvɜːsə/ adv. used when the opposite of a situation you have just described is also true: Whatever Susie wants, James doesn’t, and vice versa.

vi-cin-i-ty /vaɪsɪnəti/ n. in the vicinity (of sth) in the area around a particular place: The car was found in the vicinity of the bus station.

vi-cious /vaɪʃəs/ adj. 1 violent and dangerous, and likely to hurt someone: a vicious dog. 2 cruel and deliberately trying to upset someone: a vicious rumor.

vi-cis-si·tudes /vaɪsɪsɪˈtjuːdəs/ n. [plural] (formal) the continuous changes and problems that affect a situation or someone’s life: the vicissitudes of married life.

vic-tim /vaɪtɪm/ n. [C] 1 someone who has been hurt or killed by someone or something, or who has been affected by a bad situation: victims of gang violence. 2 an aid program for flood/earthquake/victim(s) 3 something that is badly affected or destroyed by a situation or action: Some small businesses have fallen victim to budget cuts.

vic-tim-ize /vaɪtɪmʌɪz/ v. [T] to deliberately treat someone unfairly vic-tor /vaɪtər/ n. [C] (formal) the winner of a battle or competition

vic-to·ri·ous /vaɪˈtɔriəs/ adj. successful in a battle or competition

vic-to·ry /vaɪˈtɔrɪ/ n. (plural victories) [C,U] the success you achieve by winning a battle, game, election, etc.: Our defeat: Napoleon’s military victories. | the Lakers’ victory over/against the Celtics. | The government has won an important victory. | This ruling represents a victory for all women. [Origins: 1300—1400 Old French victorie, from Latin victoria, from victus, past participle of vincere “to defeat, win”]

vid·eo /ˈvɪdɪəʊ/ n. (plural videos) 1 [C] a copy of a movie or television program that is recorded on VIDEOTAPE → DVD, TAPE: Let’s rent a video tonight. | Has the movie come out on video yet?
2 [C,U] a videotape: Do we have a blank video (=one with nothing recorded on it) anywhere? 3 [U] the process of recording and showing television programs, movies, real events, etc. using video equipment: the use of video in the classroom video adj [only before noun] relating to recording and broadcasting sound and pictures on a videotape ➔ AUDIO: video equipment video cassette recorder n [C] a VCR video disc /ˈvɪdɪəʊ,dɪsk/ n [C] a round flat piece of plastic from which movies can be played in the same way as from a videotape ➔ DVD video game n [C] a game in which you move images on a screen by pressing electronic controls video tape /ˈvɪdɪəʊ,tæp/ n [C] a long narrow band of magnetic material in a plastic container, on which movies, television programs, etc. can be recorded videotape v. [T] to record a movie, television program, etc. on a videotape vie /vɪəv/ v (vied, vying, vies) [I] to compete very hard with someone in order to get something: The two brothers vied for her attention.

view /vjuː/ n 1 [C,U] your belief, opinion, or attitude about something ➔ POINT OF VIEW: We have different views on this issue. 2 Not all her friends shared her views. 3 What are your views about global warming? 4 In my view, our civil liberties are just as important as national security.

thera/saurus

opinion, position, attitude ➔

usage

View is used to talk about all the things you can see from a place: We had a spectacular view of the ocean from the hotel.
other people have a bad opinion of him/her: He was vilified by the press.

vi-la /ˈvila/ n. [C] a big country house vil-age /ˈvɪlɪdʒ/ n. [C] 1 a very small town: My parents live in a small village in Mexico. 2 the village the people who live in the village: The whole village came to the wedding. [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French vîle “farm, village,” from Latin villa] vil-lag-er /ˈvlɪdʒər/ n. [C] someone who lives in a village vil-lain /ˈvɪlɪn/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the main bad character in a movie, play, or story vil-lain-y /ˈvɪlɪnə/ n. [U] (literary) evil or criminal behavior vi-ni-cate /ˈvɪniˌkeɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to prove that what someone said or did was right, especially when many people believe s/he was wrong —vindication /ˌvɪndɪˈkeɪʃən/ n. [U]

vi-nic-tive /ˈvɪnɪkɪtɪv/ adj. deliberately cruel and unfair vi-ne /ˈvɪn/ n. [C] a climbing plant that grows long stems that attach themselves to other plants, trees, buildings, etc.: grape vines vi-neg-ar /ˈvɪnɪgər/ n. [U] a sour-tasting liquid that is made from wine, used for improving the taste of food or preserving it [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French vinaigre, from vin “wine” + aigre “sour”]

vi-ne-ard /ˈvɪnərəd/ n. [C] a piece of land where grapes are grown in order to make wine

Vi-nat-age /ˈvɪnətɪdʒ/ adj. [only before noun] 1 vintage wine is good quality wine that is made in a particular year 2 old and showing high quality: a vintage car vi-nat-age /ˈvɪnətɪdʒ/ n. [C] a particular year or place in which a wine is made, or the wine itself vi-nyl /ˈvɪnəl/ n. [U] a type of strong plastic

vi-o-la /ˈvɪoʊlə/ n. [C] a wooden musical instrument shaped like a violin but larger and with a lower sound

vi-o-late /ˈvɜːrəˌleɪt/ v. [T] LAW to disobey or do something against a law, rule, agreement, etc.: The military action violated international law. | Within less than a year, the agreement had been violated.

vi-o-la-tion /ˌvɜːrəˈleɪʃən/ n. [C] LAW an action that breaks a law, rule, agreement, etc.: human rights violations | traffic violations | What happened was a major violation of international law.

vi-o-lence /ˈvɜːrəˈlens/ n. [U] 1 behavior that is intended to hurt other people physically: There’s too much violence on TV | violence against women. | We condemn any act of violence. 2 extreme force: the violence of a tornado

vi-o-lent /ˈvɜːrələnt/ adj. 1 violent actions are intended to hurt people: an increase in violent crime | The riots ended in the violent deaths of three teenagers. 2 someone who is violent is likely to attack, hurt, or kill other people: a violent and dangerous criminal | The demonstrators suddenly turned violent (=became violent). 3 violent movie/play etc. a movie, play, etc. that shows a lot of violence 4 violent feelings or reactions are strong and very difficult to control: Joe has a violent temper. | a violent coughing fit 5 violent storm/earthquake etc. a storm, earthquake, etc. that happens with a lot of force [Origin: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin violentus]

vi-o-let /ˈvɜːrəlɪt/ n. [C] a small sweet-smelling dark purple flower

vi-o-lin /ˈvɜːrəlɪn/ n. [C] a wooden musical instrument that you hold under your chin and play by pulling a bow (a special stick) across the strings —violinist n. [C]

VIP n. [C] very important person someone who is famous or powerful and is treated with respect

vi-per /ˈvɜːrpər/ n. [C] a small poisonous snake vi-ral /ˈvɜːrəl/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to or caused by a Virus: His viral infection is being treated with antibiotics.

vi-rin /ˈvɜːrɪn/ n. [C] someone who has never had sex vi-rin-ic /ˈvɜːrɪnɪk/ adj. virgin land/forest etc. land, forest, etc. that is still in its natural state and has not been used or changed by people vi-rin-i-ty /ˈvɜːrɪnətɪ/ n. [U] the condition of never having had sex: He was 20 when he lost his virginity (=had sex for the first time).

Vi-rgo /ˈvɜːrɡoʊ/ n. 1 [U] the sixth sign of the Zodiac, represented by a Virgin 2 [C] someone born between August 23 and September 22

vi-ri-ile /ˈvɜːrɪl/ adj. (approving) a man who is virile is strong in a sexually attractive way — vt vi·ro·logy / va’tü’lædʒi/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the scientific study of viruses and the diseases caused by them vir·tu·a·l< adj [only before noun] very nearly a particular thing: The two countries are locked in a virtual state of war. Some scientists claim that the existence of other universes is a virtual certainty. 2 made, done, seen, etc. on the Internet, rather than in the real world: The website allows you to take a virtual tour of the art gallery, → ARTIFICIAL vir·tu·al·ity / va’tü’lætē/ n. [U] IT a virtual change in the distance that is possible to see at a particular time: There is poor visibility on the roads due to heavy fog. 2 The ship set out in good visibility and fairly calm seas.

vir·i·ble / va’ti’bəl/ adj something that is visible can be seen or noticed (not) invisible: The mountains weren’t visible because of the clouds. 2 a visible change in her attitude: On a clear night, the moon’s craters are visible from Earth. [Origin: 1300—1400 Latin visibilis, from visus, past participle of videre “to see”] —visibly adv.: She was visibly upset by the news. 2 When a hive of bees is about to swarm, it becomes visibly agitated.

vi·sion / va’shən/ n. 1 [U] the ability to see (your) sight: Will the operation improve my vision? 2 She has good/poor vision. 3 [C] an idea of what you think something should be like: He had a clear vision of how he hoped the company would develop. 4 The President outlined his vision for the future. 5 The knowledge and imagination that are needed in planning for the future with a clear purpose: We need a leader with vision. [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin visio, from visus, past participle of videre “to see”]

vi·so·nary / va’sənərē/ adj having clear ideas of how the world can be better in the future —visionary n. [C] vis-it / va’sit/ n. 1 [T] to go and spend time with someone: Eric went to Seattle to visit his cousins. 2 [I,T] to go and spend time in a place, especially as a tourist: We want to visit the Grand Canyon on our trip. 3 [T] to look at a website on the Internet: Over 1,000 people visit our site every week. 4 [I] (informal) to talk socially with someone: We watched TV while Mom visited with Mrs. Levinson.

vi·sion·ar·y / va’sənərē/ adj being able to see something that is invisible: Mrs. Levinson.

vis·i·ble / va’ziəbəl/ adj: He was virtually unknown until the 1960s.

vis·i·bil·i·ty / va’ziəbələtē/ n. [U] IT the knowledge that it is possible to see at a particular time: On a clear night, the moon’s craters are visible from Earth.
visitation

visit vt. We’ve just had a visit from the police. 2 (informal) an occasion when you talk socially with someone, or the time you spend doing this: Barbara and I had a nice long visit.

vis-a-tion /ˌvīzəˈteiʃən/ also visualization n. [U] LAW the right that a parent who is divorced has to see his/her children vis-itor /ˈvīzətər/ n. [C] someone who comes to visit a place or a person: a guidebook for visitors to Mexico City. Let’s not bother them now—they have visitors (=people are visiting them).

visor /ˈvaɪzər/ n. [C] 1 the curved part of a hat or helmet that sticks out above your eyes, or a special hat that consists only of this. 2 the part of a helmet that can be lowered to protect your face. 3 a flat object above the front window of a car that you pull down to keep the sun out of your eyes.

visualization n. [U] an extremely important or necessary way: It’s vitally important that you attend the meeting.

vital /ˈvītal/ adj. 1 extremely important or necessary: These computer systems are vital to our business. 2 Regular exercise is vital for your health. 3 Tourism plays a vital role in the country’s economy.

vitality n. [U] life and energy: He has the vitality of a man half his age.

vital-ly /ˌvītəl-əl/ adv. in an extremely important or necessary way: It’s vitally important that you attend the meeting.

vital’ organ n. [C] BIOLOGY a part of your body that is necessary to keep you alive, such as your heart and lungs.

vital statistics n. [plural] facts about people such as their age, race, and whether they are married, especially in official records.

vital statistics n. [C] a chemical substance found in food that is necessary for good health: Oranges are full of vitamin C.

visitation n. [C] socially with someone, or the time you spend doing this: Barbara and I had an ice long visit.

viv’a-cious /vɪˈvɑːʃəs, vɪ-əl/ adj. someone who is vivacious has a lot of life and energy: As a woman, she is vivacious and has a lot of energy and is fun to be with.—vivaciously adv.

viv’a-ids /vɪˈvɑːɪdز/ pl. 1 vivid memories, dreams, descriptions, etc. are so clear that they seem real: He had a vivid picture of her in his mind. 2 vivid imagination an ability to imagine unlikely situations very clearly. 3 vivid colors or patterns are very bright.—vividly adv.

viv’a-ile /ˈvɪvəˈɪl/ n. [C] a type of shirt or sweater with a collar that is shaped like the letter V.

vocal /ˈvɑːkal/ adj. 1 expressing your opinion strongly or loudly: a vocal critic/opponent of the president. 2 relating to the voice: vocal music.—vocally adv.

vocalism /ˈvɑːkəlɪzəm/ n. [U] the practice of operating on animals in order to do scientific tests on them. [Origin: 1700—1800 Latin vivus “alive” + English section “cutting”] voc’als /ˈvɑːkəlz/ pl. all the words in a particular language: English has the largest vocabulary of any language. [Origin: 1500—1600 French vocabulaire, from Latin vocabulum “word, name”] vocal music n. the part of a piece of music that is sung rather than played on an instrument: The song has Maria McKee on vocals.

vocal cords, vocal chords n. [plural] BIOLOGY thin pieces of muscle in your throat that produce sound when you speak or sing.
vo-cal-ist /vəˈkælist/ n. [C] someone who sings, especially with a band vo-ca-tion /ˈvou kæʃən/ n. [C,U] the feeling that the purpose of your life is to do a particular job, or the job itself. Teaching isn’t just a job to her — it’s her vocation.

vo-ca-tional /ˈvou kæʃənæl/ adj vocational school/training/education etc. a school or method of training that teaches you the skills you need to do a particular job vo-ci-fer-ous /vəˈsi fərəs/ adj (formal) loud and determined in expressing your opinions: a vociferous opponent of the plan —vociferously adv vod-cast /ˈvud kæst/ n. [C,U] a podcast that contains video images or pictures vod-ka /ˈvud kə/ n. [U] a strong clear alcoholic drink, first made in Russia vogue /ˈvou g/ n. be in vogue/be the vogue to be fashionable and popular: Long skirts are back in vogue. [Origin: 1500—1600 French “act of rowing, course, fashion,” from Old Italian vogare, “to row”]

voice1 /ˈvɔɪs/ n. 1 [C,U] the sound you make when you speak or sing, or the ability to make this sound: I thought I heard voices downstairs. | Andrea has a really deep voice for a woman. | He called out in a loud voice. | He’s caught a bad cold and lost his voice (= cannot speak). | I can hear you — you don’t have to raise your voice (= speak louder, especially in an angry way). | Keep your voice down (= speak more quietly) — we don’t want to wake everyone up. 2 [C,U] an opinion or wish that is expressed: Wouldn’t parents have a voice in deciding how their children are educated? 3 [singular] a person, organization, newspaper, etc. that expresses the wishes or opinions of a group of people: Dr. King became the voice of the civil rights movement.
4 the voice of reason/experience etc. opinions or ideas that are reasonable, based on experience, etc., or someone who has these ideas: Ben has been the voice of reason throughout the crisis. 5 the active/passive voice Eng. Lang. Arts the form of a verb that shows whether the subject of a sentence does an action or has an action done to it [Origin: 1200—1300 Old French voix, from Latin vox] voice2 v. [T] to tell people your opinions or feelings about a particular subject: We all voiced our concerns about the plan. voiced /ˈvɔɪst/ adj. Eng. Lang. Arts voiced sounds are made using the vocal cords. For example, /l/ and /d/ are voiced consonants. —voiceless voice-less /ˈvɔɪlz/ adj. Eng. Lang. Arts voiceless sounds are made without using the vocal cords. Example: /p/ and /k/ are voiceless consonants.

voice mail n. [U] a system that records telephone calls so that you can listen to them later — answering machine void1 /vɔɪd/ adj. 1 LAW a contract or agreement that is void is officially no longer legal: They were demanding that the elections be declared void. 2 be void of sth (literary) to completely lack something: Her eyes were void of all expression.

void2 n. [C] 1 a feeling of great sadness that you have when someone you love dies or when something important is missing from your life: Work helped to fill the void after his wife died. 2 an empty space where nothing exists void3 v. [T] LAW to make a contract or agreement void so that it has no legal effect: The ruling party voided elections in 14 cities.
vol-a-ble /ˈvɔl əbəl/ adj. 1 a volatile situation is likely to change suddenly and without much warning: 2 someone who is volatile can suddenly become angry or violent: 3 CHEMISTRY a volatile liquid or substance changes easily into a gas —volatility /vələˈtrɪlət/ n. [U] their hands and try not to let it touch the ground. 2 [C] the ball used in this game volt /volt/ n. [C] PHYSICS a unit for measuring the force of an electric current [Origin: 1800—1900 Alessandro Volta] voltaic cell /vol·tə-ik/ n. [C] PHYSICS a primary cell.

voluntary /vəˈlən-tər-i/ adj. done willingly and without being forced or being paid: voluntary work | We’re asking for people to help on a voluntary basis (=without being paid). | The new law is supported by many professionals and voluntary organizations. —voluntarily /vəˈlən-tər-i-li/ adv.

volunteer /vəˈlən-ter/ n. [C] 1 someone who does something without being paid, or who is willing to offer to help someone: We need volunteers to help look for the children. | Most of the relief work was done by volunteers. 2 someone who offers to join the army, navy, or air force

voluptuous /vəlˈpətəs/ adj. very large:

voluntary /vəˈlən-tər-i/ adj. done willingly and without being paid: voluntary work | We’re asking for people to help on a voluntary basis (=without being paid). | The new law is supported by many professionals and voluntary organizations. —voluntarily /vəˈlən-tər-i-ly/ adv.

volunteer /vəˈlən-ter/ n. [C] 1 someone who does something without being paid, or who is willing to offer to help someone: We need volunteers to help look for the children. | Most of the relief work was done by volunteers. 2 someone who offers to join the army, navy, or air force voracious /vərəˈræs/ adj. (formal) wanting to do something a lot, especially eating: He had a voracious appetite. [Origin: 1600—1700 Latin vorax, from vorare “to swallow”] —voraciously /vərəˈræs-i-li/ adv.

vote /voujt/ v. 1 [T] POLITICS to show which person you want to elect or whether you support a plan by raising your hand, marking a paper using a pen or a machine, or clicking on a web page on the Internet: Who did you vote for? | Only Stevens voted against the measure. | If we can’t agree, we’ll have to vote on it. | Congress voted to reduce taxes by 2%. 2 [I] to choose someone or something for a particular prize by voting for him/her: The program was voted best documentary show on television. [Origin: 1200—1300 Latin votum “promise, wish,” from vovere “to promise”]

vouch /vouj/ v. 1 [T] a) POLITICS the total number of votes made in an election or the total number of people who vote: Davis won the election with 57% of the vote. | efforts to win the African American/Irish/Jewish vote (=all the votes of African Americans, Irish people, etc.) b) POLITICS the right to vote: In France, women didn’t get the vote until 1945. 4 vote of confidence the action of showing publicly that you support someone voting booth n. [C] POLITICS an enclosed place where you can vote without being seen

vouch for /vouf/ v. 1 to say that you have a firm belief that something is true or good because of your experience or knowledge of it: I’ll vouch for the accuracy of that report. 2 to say that you believe that someone will behave well and that you will be responsible for his/her behavior, actions, etc.: Don’t worry about Andy—I can vouch for him. vul·ner·a·ble /vəlnərəˈabal/ adj. 1 easy to harm, hurt, or attack (not invulnerable: The army was in a vulnerable position.) She looked so young and vulnerable. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin vulnerabilis, from Latin vulnus "wound"] —vul·ner·a·bil·i·ty /vəlnərəˈabələti/ n. [U] vul·ture /vəltʃər/ n. [C] a large wild bird that eats dead animals

vy·ing /vaiˈing/ v. the present participle of vIE

W, w /ˈdæbljuː, ˈdæbəˈjuː/ 1 the twenty-thirds letter of the English alphabet 2 PHYSICS the written abbreviation of WATT

WA also W, the written abbreviation of west or western

WA the written abbreviation of WASHINGTON

wack-y /ˈwækə/ adj. (informal) silly in an amusing way wad·dle /ˈwældəl/ v. [I] to walk with short steps, swinging from one side to another like a duck —waddle n. [C] wade in/into sth v. [T] to start taking part in a discussion, argument, attack, etc., in a forceful or annoying way: Celebrities waded in to complain about the tabloids.

wade through sth v. [T] to read or deal with a lot of long and boring written work: Preston was wading through a 500-page report.

waff·le /ˈwɔfl/ n. [C] a very thin cookie waffle adj. /ˈwɔflə/ n. [C] a flat bread with a pattern of deep squares, often eaten for breakfast waffle v. [I] (informal) to be unable to decide what action to take: He cannot continue to waffle on this issue.

waft /ˈwɔft/ v. [I,T] to move gently through the air: The smell of bacon wafted up from the kitchen.

wag /wæg/ v. (wagged, wagging) [I,T] 1 if a dog wags its tail, or the tail wags, it shakes from one side to another 2 to move your head, finger, etc., from side to side; especially in order to show disapproval: “Now now,” said Ralph, wagging his finger at the girls. —wag n. [C] wage1 /ˈweɪdʒ/ n. 1 [singular] the amount of money you earn, usually for each hour that you work: He earns a good wage. /an hourly wage/ [the] minimum wage] 2 Don’t say “an annual wage.” Say “an annual salary.” 2 Wages [plural] the money you are paid each day, week, or month: Unskilled workers are paid lower wages.

wage2 /ˈweɪdʒ/ n. 1 [singular] the amount of money you earn, usually for each hour that you work: He earns a good wage. /an hourly wage/ [the] minimum wage] 2 Don’t say “an annual wage.” Say “an annual salary.” 2 Wages [plural] the money you are paid each day, week, or month: Unskilled workers are paid lower wages.

wage3 /ˈweɪdʒ/ n. 1 [singular] the amount of money you earn, usually for each hour that you work: He earns a good wage. /an hourly wage/ [the] minimum wage] 2 Don’t say “an annual wage.” Say “an annual salary.” 2 Wages [plural] the money you are paid each day, week, or month: Unskilled workers are paid lower wages.
wage

wage 1 v [T] to be involved in a war, struggle, or fight against someone or something: The police are waging a campaign/war against drug pushers.

wage-price spiral n [C] ECONOMICS a process in which higher wages lead to an increase in the cost of producing goods, so that prices rise. Wages then have to rise again so that people can buy goods, and this leads to higher and higher prices.

wa·ger /ˈweɪɡər/ n [C] 1 an agreement to risk money on the result of a race, game, etc. (past tense wagered) 2 the money that you risk; a $10 wager wagon train n [C] 1 a strong group of wagons traveling together in past times 2 a small cart with four wheels and a long handle in front, used as a toy for children 3 (informal) a STATION WAGON 4 be on the wagon informal to no longer drink alcohol wagon train n [C] 1 a large group of wagons traveling together in past times wail /weɪl/ v 1 [I] to cry out with a long high sound because you are in pain or very sad: “My money’s gone!” she wailed. 2 [I] to make a long high sound: Sirens were wailing in the distance — wail n [C] wait /wɑːt/ v 1 [I] to do nothing while you are waiting for something to happen, someone to arrive, etc.: I waited around for 10 minutes.

wait on sb phr. v 1 to serve food to someone at his/her table, especially in a restaurant 2 wait on sb hand and foot (humorous) to do everything for someone wait up phr. v 1 to wait for someone to return before you go to bed: Please don’t wait up for me. 2 Wait up! (spoken) used to tell someone to stop and wait for you: Hey, wait up, you guys!

wait 2 n [singular] a period of time in which you wait for something to happen, someone to arrive, etc.: a three-hour wait for our flight They’ll have a long wait.

waiter /ˈwɛtər/ n [C] a man who serves food in a restaurant → RESTAURANT waitress /ˈwɛtrɪs/ n [C] a woman who serves food in a restaurant → RESTAURANT

waitress /ˈwɛtrɪs/ n [C] a woman who serves food at the tables in a restaurant → RESTAURANT

waitress /ˈwɛtrɪs/ n [C] a woman who serves food at the tables in a restaurant → RESTAURANT

waive /wɛv/ v [T] to state officially that a right, rule, etc. can be ignored: She waived her right to a lawyer.

waiver /ˈwɛvər/ n [C] an official statement saying that a right, rule, etc. can be ignored wake /weɪk/ also wake up v (past tense woke /wɒk/) past participle woken /ˈwʊkən/ [T] to stop sleeping, or to make someone stop sleeping: Try not to wake the baby. I woke up early.

wake up to sth phr. v to start to realize and understand a danger, an idea, etc.: The public is just beginning to wake up to the impact of these changes.

wake 2 n [C] 1 in the wake of/in sth’s wake as a result of something: Five councilors resigned in the wake of the scandal. 2 the track or path made behind a car, boat, etc. as it moves along: The car left clouds of dust in its wake. 3 the time before a funeral when people meet to remember the dead person walk /ˈwɔːk/ v. [I,T] (formal) to wake, or to wake someone: The sound had wakened him.

wakening /ˈwɔːkɪŋ/ adj. waking hours/life etc. all the time when you are awake: He spends every waking moment with that girl!

walk /ˈwɔːk/ v. 1 [I,T] to move forward by putting one foot in front of the other: Do you walk to work?  2 [T] to walk through or across a particular area: It’s not safe to walk the streets at night.  3 [T] to walk somewhere with someone: It’s late – I’ll walk you home.  4 walk the dog to take a dog outside to walk.  5 walk all over sb (informal) to treat someone very badly: She lets those kids walk all over her.  6 [I] also walk free (informal) to leave a court of law without being punished or sent to prison.  7 walk the walk (informal) to do the things that a particular type of person is expected to do: She doesn’t call herself a feminist, but she walks the walk.

walk away phr. v. to leave a bad or difficult situation: You can’t just walk away from eight years of marriage!

walk away with phr. v. to win something easily: Bradley won, walking away with $50,000.

walk in on phr. v. to go into a place and accidentally interrupt someone whom you did not expect to be there walk into phr. v. 1 to hit an object accidentally as you are walking: She walked straight into a tree.  2 to become involved in an unpleasant situation without intending to: The soldiers walked into an ambush.  3 to do something that makes you seem stupid: You walked straight into that one!

walk off phr. v. to leave someone by walking away from him/her walk off with phr. v. to steal something, or to take something by mistake: Someone walked off with my new jacket!

walk out phr. v. 1 to stop working or leave a situation as a protest: Most miners have walked out.  2 to leave your husband, wife, etc. suddenly: Mary just walked out on him one day.

walk /ˈwɔːk/ n. 1 [C] a trip that you make by walking: Let’s go for a walk.  1 I like to take a walk after lunch.  1 It’s only a ten-minute/two-mile walk from here.  2 [C] a particular path or route for walking: popular walks in Yellowstone National Park.  3 [singular] the way someone walks: Do you remember that guy with a funny walk?  ➔ WALK of LIFE

walk-er /ˈwɔːkər/ n. 1 a metal frame that old or sick people use to help them walk.  2 someone who is walking, especially at a particular speed, in a particular place, etc.: a nice area for walkers.  3 He’s a fast-walk walker.

walk-ie-talk-ie /ˈwɔːkɪ-ˌtɑːk-ɪ/ n. [C] one of a pair of radios that you can carry with you, and use to speak to the person who has the other radio walk-in adj. big enough for a person to walk inside: a walk-in closet walking stick n. [C] a long thin stick, used to help support you when you walk

Walk-man /ˈwɔːkmæn/ n. [C] (trademark) a small machine that plays TAPES and has HEADPHONES, that you carry with you to listen to music walk of ‘life n. (plural walks of life) [C] the position in society that someone has: The club has members from all walks of life.

walk-on n. [C] a small acting part in a play or movie in which the actor has no words, or an actor who has this part ➔ walk-on adj walk-out /ˈwɔːk-əut/ n. [C] an occasion when people stop working or leave somewhere as a protest: City employees staged a walkout.

walk-up n. [C] (informal) an apartment that you have to walk up the stairs to, because there is no ELEVATOR in the building

walk-way /ˈwɔːk-ˌweɪ/ n. [C] a path, often above the ground, built to connect two parts of a building or two buildings wall /ˈwɔːl/ n. [C] 1 one of the sides of a room or building: Her bedroom walls were covered with posters.  2 an upright structure made of stone or brick, that divides one area from another: the wall surrounding the apartment complex.  3 the side of something hollow, such as a pipe or tube: the walls of the blood vessels.  4 something that prevents you from doing something or going somewhere: A wall of people was blocking my way. [Origin: Old English wæl] ➔ walled adj. have your back to/against the wall at BACK4; drive sb up the wall at DRIVE4 wallet /ˈwɔːlɛt/ n. [C] a small object that you keep money in, that is usually made of leather and that you carry in your pocket or PURSE walk-off /ˈwɔːləf/ v. [T] (informal) to hit someone or something very hard ➔ walkoff n. [C]

walk-off /ˈwɔːləf/ v. [I] (disapproving) to spend too long feeling an emotion, especially a negative emotion: You don't have time to wallow in self-pity. 2 to roll around in mud or water

"wall-paper" /wɔlˈpeɪpər/ n [U] 1 paper that you stick onto the walls of a room in order to decorate it 2 the picture that you have as the background on the screen of a computer

—wall-paper v [T]

"Wall Street" n 1 a street in New York City where the American stock exchange is 2 economics the American stock exchange

"wall-to-wall" adj covering the whole floor; wall-to-wall carpeting

"wal-nut" /ˈwɔlˌnʌt/ n 1 [C] a slightly bitter nut with a large light brown shell, or the tree on which this grows 2 [L] the dark brown wood of this tree wal-rus /ˈwɔlərəs, ˈwɔl-ərəs/ n [C] a large sea animal with two long thick teeth coming down from the sides of its mouth wal-z/ /ˈwɔltz/ n [C] a fairly slow dance with a rhythm consisting of patterns of three beats, or the music for this dance [origin: 1700—1800 German walzer, from waltzen "to roll, dance"] wal-zed/ /ˈwɔltst/ v [I] 1 to dance a waltz 2 (informal, disappearing) to walk somewhere calmly and confidently: Eric waltzed in late again.

wan (wən/ adj) looking pale, weak, or tired: a wan smile wand /ˈwænd/ n [C] a thin stick you hold in your hand to do magic tricks wan-de/ /ˈwændə/ v [I,T] to walk slowly across or around an area, usually without having a clear direction or purpose: We wandered around the city. 2 [I] also wander off to move away from where you are supposed to stay: The kids got bored and started to wander off. 3 [I] to start to talk or write about something not related to the main subject that you were talking or writing about before 4 [I] if your mind, thoughts, etc. wander, you no longer pay attention to something: He began to read, but his mind wandered. [Origin: Old English wændrian] —wanderer n [C] wane1 /ˈweɪn/ v [I] 1 if something such as power, influence, or a feeling wanes, it becomes gradually less strong or less important: My enthusiasm for the project was waning. 2 when the moon wanes, you gradually see less of it [ant: wax] wane2 n on the wane becoming smaller, weaker, or less important: The show’s popularity is on the wane.

wan-gle /ˈwæŋɡəl/ v [T] (informal) to get something by persuading or tricking someone: I managed to wangle an invitation.

wan-na /ˈwɑnə, ˈwɑnə/ n [C] a short form of "want to" or "want a," used in writing to show how people sound when they speak: I don’t wanna go.

wan-na-be /ˈwɑnəbɪ/ n [C] (informal) someone who tries to look, behave, or do something like a famous or popular person: an Elvis wannabe want1 /wɒnt, wɒnt, wɒnt/ v [T] to have a desire or need for something: What do you want for your birthday? 2 This is a team that really wants to win. 3 Do you want me to read you a story? 4 Want (do you want) a drink? 5 I can pick it up on my way to work. 6 if you want (=if you would like that).

want for sth prep v to not have something that you need: Those kids have never wanted for anything. [Origin: 1100—1200 Old Norse vannta] 2 want n [C,U] something that you desire or need but do not have: The feeling for want of food and medicine.

want ad n [C,U] a small advertisement that you put in a newspaper if you want to employ someone to do a job want-ed /ˈwɑntɪd/ adj someone who is wanted is being looked for by the police: He is wanted for murder.

want-ing /ˈwɑntɪŋ/ adj lacking or missing something that is needed: Security procedures were found wanting.

wan-ton /ˈwɑntən, ˈwɑntən/ adj 1 deliberately causing damage or harm for no reason: wanton destruction 2 (old-fashioned) sexually uncontrolled: She felt wanton and wild.

war /wɔr/ n [C,U] 1 a time when two or more countries, or opposing groups within a country, fight each other with soldiers and weapons (ant: peace; World War II) 2 In 1793, England was at war with France. 3 the war with/against Germany 4 the soldiers killed in the war 5 Was it right to go to war (=take part in a war)? 6 the war between the states

—war n [C] history a cruel act done during a warfare — the activity of fighting in a war — used especially when talking about particular methods of fighting: guerrilla warfare fighting — an occasion when people or groups fight each other in a war, in the street, etc.: One thousand people have died since the fighting began.

conflict — fighting or a war: the conflict in the Middle East combat — fighting during a war: The soldiers were wounded in combat action — fighting in a war: He had been killed in action.

hostilities — fighting in a war: the formal cessation of hostilities

2 a struggle to control or stop a bad or illegal activity: the war on/against drugs 3 a situation in which a person or group is fighting for power, influence, or control: a trade war [origin: 1100—1200 Old North French warre, from Old French guerre] —war v [I] war-blé /ˈwɔrblə/ v [I,T] to sing with a high continuous but quickly changing sound, the way a bird does war crime n [C] history a cruel act done during a war, that is illegal under international law — war criminal n [C]

ward1 /wərd/ n [C] 1 a part of a hospital where people who need medical treatment stay: the mater- nity ward (=for women who are having babies) | the children’s ward 2 LAW someone, especially a child, who is under the legal protection of another person or of a court of law 3 POLITICS one of the small areas that a city has been divided into for the purpose of local elections

ward2 v
ward 3th ↔ off phr v to do something to protect yourself from an illness, danger, attack, etc.: a spray to ward off insects warden /ˈwɔːrdən/ n [C] the person in charge of a prison wardrobe /ˈwɜːrdroʊb/ n [C] the clothes that someone has: her large wardrobe ware-house /ˈwerhəʊs/ n [C] a large building for storing large quantities of goods warehouse, store n [C] a type of store that sells things in large amounts at lower prices than normal stores wares /ˈwerz/ n [plural] (written) things that are for sale, usually not in a store: craftspeople selling their wares warr-is /ˌwɔːrɪs/ n [plural] a war, fighting, conflict — war war-game n [C] an activity in which soldiers fight an imaginary battle in order to test military plans war-head /ˈwɔːrhɛd/ n [C] the explosive part at the front of a MISSILE war-like /ˈwɜːrlɪk/ adj threatening war or attack, or seeming to like war: a warlike gesture war-lock /ˈwɜːrlɔk/ n [C] a man who has magic powers, especially to do bad things war-lord /ˈwɔːrlɔrd/ n [C] a leader of an unoffi- cial military or fighting group who controls an area of land

warm1 /wɔːrm/ adj 1 slightly hot, especially in a pleasant way [ANY cool]: Are you warm enough? | warmer weather | a warm bath | They huddled together to keep warm.

THESAURUS hot, lukewarm — HOT

2 able to keep in heat or keep out cold: warm clothes 3 friendly: a warm smile [ORIGIN: Old English wērm]

THESAURUS friendly, cordial, amiable, welcoming — FRIENDLY

— warmly adv

warm2 also warm up v [T,T] to become warm or warmer, or to make someone or something do this: There’s some soup warming up on the stove. — GLOBAL WARMING warm to sb/sth also warm up to sb/sth phr v to begin to like someone or something: Bruce didn’t warm to him as he had to Casey.

warm up phr v 1 to do gentle physical exercises to prepare your body for exercise, singing, etc.: The girls are warming up before the game. 2 warm (3rd ↔) up if a machine or engine warms up, or if you warm it up, becomes ready to work after being turned on warm-blooded adj [BIOLOGY] having a body tem- perature that remains fairly high whether the tempera- ture around it is hot or cold — COLD-BLOODED: Mammals are warm-blooded animals.

warned ‘over adj 1 food that is warmed over has been cooked before and then is heated again for eating 2 an idea or argument that is warmed over has been used before and is no longer interesting or useful warm-hearted adj friendly and kind: a warm- hearted old lady

THESAURUS kind, nice, caring, compassionate, sympathetic — KIND2 warm-mon-ger /ˈwɜːrmˌmɑŋɡər/ n [C] someone who is eager to start a war — warmongering n [U] warmth /ˈwɜːmθ/ n [U] 1 a feeling of being warm: the warmth of the sun 2 friendliness: the warmth of her smile warm-up n [C] a set of gentle exercises that you do to prepare your body for exercise, dancing, singing, etc.

warm /wɔːrm/ v [T,T] to tell someone that something bad or dangerous might happen, so that s/he can avoid it or prevent it: A sign warned of the presence of snakes. | I warned you not to walk home alone. | The label warns that pregnant women should not drink alcohol.

warn-ing /ˈwɜːrɪŋ/ n [CU] something that tells you that something bad or dangerous might happen, so that you can avoid it or prevent it: a warning about the risks involved | The planes attacked without warning. | a warning to women over 50: You’ve been given several warnings already. | Be aware of warning signs (=pain, etc. that shows that an illness is coming) such as tiredness and headaches.

THESAURUS advice, suggestion, recommendation — ADVICE warp /wɔːrp/ v [T,T] 1 to become bent or twisted, or to make something do this: The wood had warped in the heat. 2 to influence someone in a way that has a harmful effect on how s/he thinks or behaves ➔ TIME Warp war-path /ˈwɔrˌpaθ/ n. be on the warpath (horrors) to be angry about something and want to punish someone for it warped /ˈwɔrpt/ adj. 1 someone who is warped has ideas or thoughts that most people think are unpleasant or not normal: a warped sense of humor 2 bent or twisted into the wrong shape: a warped door war speed n. [U] (informal) a very fast speed war-rant1 /ˈwɔrənt/ ‘wɔr- v [T] to be a good enough reason for something to happen or be done ➔ UNWARRANTED: The story doesn’t warrant the attention it’s been given.

warrant2 n. [C] LAW an official paper, signed by a judge, that allows the police to do something, for example ARREST someone or search a building: a warrant for Bryson’s arrest  The local judge issued the warrant.

war-ran-ty /ˈwɔrənti, ‘wɔr-ə n (plural warranties) [C,U] a written promise that a company will fix or replace something if it breaks after you have bought it: The TV comes with a 3-year warranty.

war-ren /ˈwɔrən, ‘wɔr-ə n. [C] 1 a set of holes and passages under the ground, that rabbits live in 2 a lot of narrow passages in a building or between buildings: a warren of corridors war-ring /ˈwɔrəŋg/ adj. fighting in a war: warring factions war-rir-or /ˈwɔrɪər, ‘wɔr-ə n. [C] (literary) a soldier, especially an experienced and skillful one warrior code n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a set of moral rules and principles followed by men, especially those from the highest social class, who live in a society where they are expected to fight if necessary war-ship /ˈwɔrʃip/ n. [C] a navy ship with guns wart /ˈwɔrt/ n. [C] a small hard raised spot on your skin caused by a VIRUS war-time /ˈwɔrtaim/ n. [U] the time during which a war is happening: his wartime experiences war-torn adj. being damaged or destroyed by war: his war-torn homeland war-y /ˈwɔri/ adj. careful and worried about danger or problems: Teach children to be wary of strangers. —warily adv.

was /waz/ strong waz, waz v. the past tense of BE in the first and third person singular wash1 /ˈwɔʃ, wɔʃ/ v. 1 [T] to clean something with water and usually soap: She helped Penny wash the dishes. 2 [I,T] to clean your body with water and usually soap: Wash your hands thoroughly. 3 [I,T] if water, a river, the ocean, etc. washes, it flows somewhere or makes something move somewhere: waves washing against the shore 4 3rd doesn’t wash (spoken) said when you do not believe or accept someone’s explanation, reasons, etc.: His explanation just didn’t wash. 5 wash your hands of sth to refuse to be responsible for something: Congress can’t wash its hands of this. [Origin: Old English wascan] wash sth ↔ down phr. v. 1 to drink something in order to help you swallow food or medicine: He washed down a mouthful of toast with coffee. 2 to clean something using a lot of water: Ted was washing down the driveway.

wash off phr. v. if a substance washes off, you can remove it from the surface of something by washing: Will this paint wash off? 1 if a substance washes out, you can remove it from a material by washing: I don’t know if that ink will wash out. 2 wash sth ↔ out to wash the inside of something: Will you wash out the cups?

wash up phr. v. to wash your hands: Go wash up for supper.

wash2 n. 1 [C,U] clothing, sheets, etc. that have been washed or that need washing: I did three loads of wash. 2 [C] EARTH SCIENCES a river in a desert area that has no water in it most of the time 3 it will all come out in the wash (spoken) said when you think that a problem will be solved without you having to do anything about it ➔ CAR WASH wash-able /ˈwɔʃəbl/ adj. able to be washed without being damaged: a machine washable sweater wash-basin /ˈwɔʃbəsn/ also wash-bowl /ˈwɔʃbəʊl/ n. [C] a SINK wash-cloth /ˈwɔʃklɒθ/ n. [C] a small square piece of cloth that you use to wash yourself washed-out adj. very tired and pale: the old man’s washed-out eyes washed-up adj. (informal) someone who is washed-up is no longer successful: a washed-up rock star wash-er /ˈwɔʃər/ n. [C] 1 a washing machine 2 a small ring of plastic or metal that you put between a NUT and a BOLT, or between two pipes, to make them fit together tightly wash-ing /ˈwɔʃɪŋ/ n. [U] clothes, etc. that need to be washed or have just been washed

The text appears to be a dictionary entry for the word "waste" with various definitions and synonyms, along with usage notes. Here's a structured summary:

waste

v. [T] 1 to use something in a way that is not effective, or to use more of it than you should: Don't waste electricity! | They wasted a lot of time trying to fix it themselves.

2 be wasted on sb if something is wasted on someone, who does not understand it or does not think it is worth anything: The joke was wasted on him.

3 wasted trip.

4 spoken) having drunk too much or taken drugs: Chuck got wasted at Bryan’s party.

adj. not being used effectively, or no longer useful: waste paper wasteful adj. using more than is needed of something, or using it badly, so that it is wasted: wasteful packaging on groceries

wasteland n. [C,U] an area of land that is not or cannot be used for anything: a desert wasteland

waste

n. [C] a machine that washes clothes

wash-room /ˈwɒʃrʊm, ˌrʊm/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a RESTROOM wasn’t /ˈwɒznət/ v. the short form of "was not": He wasn’t there.

WASP, Wasp /ˈwɒsp/, ˈwɒsp/ n. [C] white Anglo-Saxon Protestant a white American whose family was originally from northern Europe, and who is therefore considered to be part of the most powerful group in society

wasp /ˈwɒsp/ n. [C] a black and yellow flying insect similar to a BEE, that can sting you waste basket /ˈwɒst ˌbæskɪt/ n. [C] a container into which you put paper, etc. that you want to get rid of waste paper /ˈwɒst peɪpər, ˌbæskɪt/ n. [C] a WASTEBASKET

watch n. [C] a small clock that you wear on your wrist or carry in your pocket: Scott looked at his watch.

2 [singular] the process of checking a situation or a place carefully so that you always know what is happening and are ready to deal with it: Police kept a 24-hour watch on the house.

3 several soldiers stood watch. | Douglas kept watch while the others slept.

4 be on the watch for sb/sth to be looking and waiting for someone you might see or something that might happen: Be on the watch for pickpockets.

watch v. [I,T] to look at and pay attention to something or someone: Harry was watching the game on TV.

2 watch closely — can you see it moving?

USAGE

You look at a picture, person, thing, etc. because you want to: Hey, look at these jeans.

You see something without planning to: Two people saw him take the bag.

You watch TV, a movie, or something that happens for a period of time: Did you watch the football game last night? The kids are watching TV.

You can also say that you saw a movie, a program, etc., but you cannot say "see television": I saw a great movie on TV last night.

THESSERUS

GARBAGE

garbage, trash, refuse

watch

You look at a picture, person, thing, etc. because you want to: Hey, look at these jeans.

You see something without planning to: Two people saw him take the bag.

You watch TV, a movie, or something that happens for a period of time: Did you watch the football game last night? The kids are watching TV.

You can also say that you saw a movie, a program, etc., but you cannot say "see television": I saw a great movie on TV last night.
employed to guard or protect someone or something, or the fixed period of the day or night when they do this: the night watch | It was my turn to be on watch.

watchdog /ˈwɔtʃdɔɡ/ n. [C] 1 a person or group that makes sure other people follow rules: a consumer watchdog group. 2 a dog that protects someone’s property watchful /ˈwɔtʃfl/ adj. careful to notice what is happening, in order to prevent something bad happening: She learned to bake under the watchful eye of her mother.

watchmaker /ˈwɔtʃmɛrkə/ n. [C] someone who makes and repairs watches and clocks watchman /ˈwɔtʃmɔn/ n. (plural watchmen /-mən/) [C] someone whose job is to guard a building or area: the night watchman watchword /ˈwɔtʃwɜrd/ n. [singular] the main principle or rule that you think about in a particular situation: The school’s watchword is “a community of learners.”

water /ˈwɔtər/ n. 1 [U] the clear colorless liquid that falls from the sky as rain, forms lakes, rivers, and oceans, and is used for drinking, washing, etc.: a drink of water | Mike waded out into the water. | Floods left the area under water. | a cabin with no running water (=water from pipes) | fresh water (=from a lake, river, etc., not from an ocean) | fish ➔ see picture at WATER CYCLE 2 waters [plural] a) EARTH SCIENCES the part of the ocean near or belonging to a particular country: boats fishing in Icelandic waters | b) EARTH SCIENCES the water in a particular lake, river, etc.: The waters of the Amazon flow into the ocean. 3 in/into hot water in a situation in which you have a lot of trouble: My brother got into hot water at school. [Origin: Old English water]

water /ˈwɔtər/ v. 1 [T] to pour water on a plant or seeds in the ground to help them grow 2 [I] if your eyes water, they fill with water because they hurt: Her eyes watered and her throat hurt. 3 [I] if your mouth waters, it fills with water because you see something that looks good to eat water /ˈwɔtər/ v. phr. 1 to make something weaker by adding water: The whiskey had been watered down. 2 to make an idea, statement, etc. less strong so that it does not offend or upset anyone: The bill got watered down in the Senate.

waterbed /ˈwɔtərbɛd/ n. [C] a bed made of rubber or soft plastic and filled with water waterborne /ˈwɔtərbɔrn/ adj. carried by water; waterborne bacteria watercolor /ˈwɔtərkɔlər/ n. [C.U] a special paint mixed with water, or a painting made with these

water cooler n. [C] a WATER FOUNTAIN an object that is waterlogged is so wet it cannot hold any more water watermark /ˈwɔːtərˌmɑːrk/ n [C] 1 a special design on a piece of paper, that you can only see when it is held up to the light. 2 the mark showing the highest level of a lake, river, etc.

watershed /ˈwɔːtərˌʃed/ n 1 [singular] the point at which an important change happens: The beginning of television was a watershed in 20th-century culture. 2 [C] Earth Sciences the high land separating two river systems water-tight /ˈwɔːtərˌtɪt/ adj at the edge of a lake, river, etc.: a waterside restaurant water-tight container waterway /ˈwɔːtərˌweɪ/ n plural waterways [C] an area of water, often part of a river, that ships can go through wax /wæks/ n [U] 1 a thick substance made of fats or oils, used for making things such as candles. 2 a natural sticky substance in your ears wax(ing) /ˈwɔks(ɪ)ŋ/ n 1 [U] to put wax on something to protect it or make it shine. 2 wax romantic/elloquent etc. to talk eagerly about someone or something you admire, especially for a long time.

waxiness /ˈwɔksɪnɪs/ n [U] a waxed surface, or something that has been waxed.

way /weɪ/ n

1 ROAD/PATH [C] the road, path, etc. that you have to follow in order to get to a particular place: Which way should we go? | Could you tell me the way to the police station from here? | Ben knows the way. | I can give you a ride; it’s on my/the way. | Can you move your bag; it’s in the way.

2 make waves (informal) to cause problems: We have a job to finish, so don’t make waves, OK? ≠ heat wave

3 to move your hand, or something you hold in your hand, from side to side as a signal or greeting, or to express something: demonstrators waving their signs | The boys waved at her. | John waved to the waiter, asking for the check. | I waved goodbye. | One of the cops waved me through/away (emoved his hand to show me which way to go). ≠ see picture on page 414

4 [I] if a flag waves, it moves with the wind

5 out of the way ≠ aside

6 radio waves ≠ make waves (informal) to cause problems: We have a job to finish, so don’t make waves, OK? ≠ heat wave
2 way [C] a particular direction: Which way is north? | Face this way, please.

3 method [C] a manner or method of doing something or thinking about something: Is there any way to tell how old it is? | I’d like to tell her in my own way. | Grief does not affect everyone in the same way. | Look at the way that guy’s dressed! | Ryan has a funny way of talking.

4 in a way/in one way used in order to say that something is partly true: In a way, I like working alone better.

5 distance/time [singular] the distance or time between two places or events, especially if it is long: a long way from home | We have a way to go yet before we’re done. | Did he actually come all the way (=the whole distance) from Bali?

6 have/your way to do what you want even if someone else wants something different: They always let that kid get his own way.

7 the way/sb’s way where someone wants to go: There was a big truck in the way (=preventing people from going past). | Get out of my way (=move aside)! | Always let that kid get his own way.

8 get in the way of sth to prevent something from happening: Don’t let your social life get in the way of your studying.

9 come a long way to have developed a lot: Psychiatry has come a long way since the 1920s.

10 be/your way to go to need a lot of time to develop or reach a particular standard: There is a long way to go before democracy is accepted there.

11 under way happening or moving: Building work is scheduled to get under way (=start happening) today.

12 be on the way/its way/sb’s way to be arriving soon or traveling to a place: The check is on its way. | Carla’s already on her way here.

13 way around/up a particular order or position that something should be in: Which way around does this skirt go? | Make sure all the pictures are the right way up.

14 give way to sth if one thing gives way to another thing, this other thing replaces it or controls it: fear gave way to anger

15 go out of your way to do sth to do something that involves making a special effort, especially for someone else: Ben went out of his way to help us.

16 you can’t have it both ways used in order to say that you cannot have the advantages of two different possible decisions

17 make way a) to move to one side so that someone or something can pass b) if one thing makes way for something else, this other thing replaces it: Several houses were torn down to make way for a new fire station.

18 by the way said when you want to begin talking about a new subject that you have just remembered: Oh, by the way, I saw Marie yesterday.

19 no way a) used in order to say that you will definitely not do or allow something: No way am I letting him know about this. | b) used in order to say that you do not believe something or are surprised by it: “She’s 45.” “No way!”

20 that’s the way used in order to tell someone that she is doing something correctly: Keep your arms straight out—that’s the way.

21 way to go used in order to tell someone that she has done something good, or done something very well: → out of the way at out [Origin: Old English way]

way adv. 1 long in distance or time: a boat way out on the lake | a movie made way back before they used sound | 2 way more/bigger/longer etc.: (spoken, informal) a lot more, bigger, longer, etc.: This test was way harder than the last one.

way-lay*/ˈwelə/ v. (past tense and past participle waylaid) [T] to stop someone when she is trying to go somewhere, so that you can talk to him/her, or in order to rob or attack him/her.

way of life n. (plural ways of life) [C] the way someone lives, or the way people in a society usually live: the American way of life way-out adj. (spoken) very modern and strange: I like jazz, but not the way-out stuff.

way-side*/ˈweIsaId/ 1. the person who is speaking and one or more other people: We went to a movie. | We live in Dallas. 2 people in general: We know almost nothing about what causes the disease. | We all dream of being rich one day.

weak [wi:k] adj. 1 not physically strong: He felt weak and dizzy. | a weak heart | Nina was weak from hunger. 2 not strong in character, and easily influenced: He’s weak and indecisive. | 3 not having much ability or skill in a particular activity or subject: I’m good at math, but weak at Latin science. | the team’s weak shooting | 4 not having much power or influence: a weak leader 5 not being good enough to persuade, influence, or interest people: a weak excuse | a weak joke 6 not financially successful: the country’s weak economy 7 containing a lot of water or having little taste: weak tea [Origin: Old Norse veikr] →weakly adv.

weak’ac-id n. [CHEMISTRY] an acid that does not completely separate into ions (=atoms with an electric charge) when it is mixed with water

weak’base n. [CHEMISTRY] a base (=a substance that combines with an acid to form a salt) that does not completely separate into ions (=atoms with an electric charge) when it is mixed with water, and has a low PH.

weak n. [C] CHEMISTRY a liquid that does not allow electricity to travel through it effectively because it does not contain many ions (=atoms with an electric charge)

weak-en /ˈwɛkn/ [T] to become less powerful or physically strong, or to make someone or something do this: The disease has weakened her heart. a country weakened by war 2 to become less determined, or to make someone do this: Nothing could weaken her resolve/determination. 3 if money, the economy, etc. weakens, or if they are weakened, their value is reduced: the country’s weakened economy weak-ling /ˈwikəln/ n. [C] (disapproving) someone who is not physically strong weak-ness /ˈwiknəs/ n. 1 [C] a fault in someone’s character or in a system, organization, design, etc.: What are your strengths and weaknesses? 2 a major weakness in the program. 2 [U] the state of lacking strength in your body or character: weakness in the muscles. 3 [U] lack of power, strength, or influence: moral weakness in our society 4 the weakness of our currency. 4 a weakness for sth if you have a weakness for something, you like it very much even though it may not be good for you: She’s always had a weakness for chocolate.

wealth /welθ/ n. 1 [U] a large amount of money and possessions: their family’s personal wealth 2 the nation’s mineral wealth 2 a wealth of sth a lot of something useful or good: the wealth of information on the Internet wealth-y /ˈwelθi/ adj. (comparative wealthier, superlative wealthiest) 1 having a lot of money or valuable possessions: a very wealthy man 2 the wealthy people who have a lot of money or valuable possessions wear /wɛr/ v. [T] BIOLOGY to gradually stop feeding a baby his/her mother’s milk and start giving him/her ordinary food wear sb off/from sth phr. v. to make someone gradually stop doing something you disapprove of: He’ll need to be weaned off the drug slowly.

be weaned on sth phr. v. to be influenced by something from a very early age: young movie directors who were weaned on MTV videos wear-on /ˈwɛrspən/ n. [C] 1 something that you use to fight with, especially a knife or gun: soldiers carrying their weapons 2 the danger posed by nuclear/chemical/biological weapons 2 an action, piece of information, piece of equipment, etc. that you can use to win or be successful in doing something: a new weapon in the fight against cancer [Origin: Old English weapen] — weaponry n. [U] wear-y /ˈwɛri/ adj. (comparative wearier, superlative weariest) very tired: She was weary of arguing. The nation is weary of war. — wearily adv. — weariness n. [U]

weary /weri/ v. (past tense wore /wɔr/, past participle worn /wɔrn/) 1 [T] to have something on your body, especially clothes or jewelry: Why aren’t you wearing your glasses? 2 a girl wearing a pink sun dress 3 [T] to have your hair in a particular style: Fay wore her hair in braids. 3 [U] to become thinner, weaker, etc. by continued use, or to make something do this: He’s worn a hole in his pants already. 4 [T] to have a particular expression on your face: She was wearing a smile. 5 wear well to remain in good condition after a period of time: Expensive fabrics don’t always wear well. 6 sth is wearing thin (informal) if an excuse, explanation, opinion, etc. is wearing thin, it has been used so often that you no longer believe or accept it 7 wear the pants (informal) to be the person in a family who makes the decisions wear (sth •••) away phr. v. to gradually become thinner, weaker, etc., or to make something do this by using it, rubbing it, etc.: The paint is almost all worn away. The water is gradually wearing away the rock.

wear down phr. v. 1 wear (sth •••) down to gradually become smaller, or to make something do this by using it, rubbing it, etc.: My shoes have worn down at the heel. 2 wear sb ••• down to gradually make someone physically weaker or less determined: The constant stress is wearing her down.

wear off phr. v. if pain or the effect of something wears off, it gradually stops: The anaesthesia was starting to wear off.

wear on phr. v. if time wears on, it passes very slowly, especially because you are bored: It became hotter as the day wore on.

wear out phr. v. 1 wear sth ••• out to become weak, broken, or useless, or to make something do this by using it a lot or for a long time: I think these batteries have worn out. 2 wear sb out to feel extremely tired, or to make someone feel this way: You look really worn out. 3 wear out your welcome to stay at someone’s house longer than she wants you to [Origin: Old English weorlan]

wear 2 n. [U] 1 clothes of a particular type, or worn for a particular activity: evening wear 2 normal damage caused by continuous use over a long period: Check the tires for wear and tear. 3 the amount of use you can expect to get from something: You'll get a lot of use out of a sweater like that.

wear-ri-some /ˈwɛrism/ also wearing /ˈwɛrin/ adj. (formal) making you feel bored, tired, or annoyed: a wearisome task wear-ry /ˈwɛri/ adj. (comparative wearier, superlative weariest) very tired: She was weary of arguing. The nation is weary of war. — wearily adv. — weariness n. [U] weary

weary ² v. (weared, wearies) [L.T.] (formal) to become very tired or no longer enjoy something, or to make someone feel this way: Jacobs was wearied of his job at the bank.

weasel ¹ /ˈwizəl/ n. [C] 1 a small, thin furry animal that kills other small animals 2 (informal) someone who has not been loyal to you or has deceived you weasel² v.

weasel out of sth. ³ v. (informal) to avoid doing something by using dishonest excuses or lies: He’s in court trying to weasel out of his debts.

weather ¹ /ˈweðər/ n. [Singular, U] the temperature and other conditions such as sun, rain, and wind: What’s the weather like today? 1 Our flight was delayed because of bad weather. 2 very cold/warm/hot/dry weather 2 under the weather (informal) slightly sick: I’m feeling a little under the weather. [Origin: Old English wæðer] weather ² v. ² [T] to come through a very difficult situation without failing: Business was bad, but we knew we would weather the storm. 2 [I.T.] if a surface is weathered, the wind, rain, and sun gradually change its appearance: a weathered stone monument. Her face was weathered by the sun.

weather forecast n. [C] a report on the television or radio that says what the weather will be like —weather forecaster n. [C] weather vane n. [C] a metal object attached to the top of a building, that moves to show the direction the wind is blowing weave ¹ /ˈwiv/ v. 1 (past tense wove, past participle woven) to make cloth, a carpet, a basket, etc. by crossing threads or thin pieces under and over each other by hand or on a loom: traditional basket weaving 2 (past tense wove, past participle woven) [T] to put many different ideas, subjects, stories, etc. together and connect them smoothly: Her novels weave together suspense and romance. 3 (past tense and past participle woven) [T] to move somewhere by turning and changing direction a lot: The car was weaving in and out of traffic.

weave² n. [C] the way in which a material is woven, and the pattern formed by this: a fine weave web /ˈweb/ n. 1 the Web n. the system that connects together computers around the world so that people can use and find information on the Internet 2 [C] a net of sticky thin threads made by a spider to catch insects: a spider spinning its web → see picture at spider. 3 a web of sth a closely related set of things that can be very complicated: a web of lies webbed /ˈwebbd/ adj. webbed feet or toes have skin between the toes → see picture on page A2 web-cam /ˈweɪbˌkeɪm/ n. [C] a video camera that is connected to a computer and broadcasts images onto a website → see picture on page A6 web-cast /ˈwebkæst/ v. (past tense and past participle webcast) [I.T.] n. to broadcast an event on the Internet, at the time the event happens web page n. [C] all the information that you can see in one part of a website web-site /ˈwebsaɪt/ n. [C] a place on the Internet where you can find information about something, especially a particular organization: For more information, visit our website. → INTERNET we’d /wɪd/ 1 the short form of “we had”: We’d better go now. 2 the short form of “we would”: We’d rather stay.

wed /wɛd/ v. (past tense and past participle wedded or wed, present participle wedding) 1 [I.T.] (literary) to marry someone 2 be wedded to sth to believe strongly in a particular idea or way of doing things wed-ding /ˈwedɪŋ/ n. [C] a marriage ceremony, especially one with a religious service: Have you been invited to their wedding? 1 a simple wedding reception (= special meal or party after a wedding) 2 a wedding dress/cake/present wedding ring n. [C] a ring that you wear to show that you are married wedge /wɛdʒ/ n. [C] 1 a piece of wood, metal, etc. that has one thick edge and one pointed edge, used for keeping a door open, splitting wood, etc. 2 something shaped like a wedge: a wedge of chocolate cake wedge² v. [T] to force something firmly into a narrow space: We wedged a towel under the door to keep the cold air out. 2 wedge sth open/shut to put something under a door, window, etc., to make it stay open or shut

wed-lock /ˈwedlɒk/ n. (old-fashioned) born out of wedlock if a child is born out of wedlock, his/her parents are not married when s/he is born

Wednes-day /ˈwɛnzdə/ -days (written abbreviation Wed.) n. [C.U] the fourth day of the week, between Tuesday and Thursday: Classes start Wednesday. 1 What time are you coming on Wednesday? 2 I have to work next Wednesday. 3 Eva had surgery last Wednesday. 4 We’re all going out to dinner on Wednesday night. [Origin: Old English wednesdæg, from Woden “Odin” + dæg “day”] wee /wi/ adj. 1 (literary) very small: a wee child 2 the wee hours the early hours of the morning, just after midnight weed² /wɪd/ n. [C] 1 a wild plant that grows where you do not want it to grow: She was pulling weeds in the back yard. 2 like weeds quickly and in large numbers: Housing developments began to spring up like weeds.

weed v. [L] to remove weeds from a place

weed adj. out phr. v. to get rid of people or things that are not very good: Weaker students were weeded out of the program.

week /wik/ n. [C] 1 a period of time equal to seven days, beginning on Sunday and ending on Saturday: I can’t see you this week. | last/next week (=the week before or after this one) 2 any period of time equal to seven days and nights: I’ve been living here for six weeks. | This is the second time the Yankees have lost in a week. | I’ll be back a week from today/tomorrow/Friday (=a week after today, etc.). | Are you busy the week after next (=the week that follows next week)? 3 also work a part of the week when you go to work, usually from Monday to Friday: a 40-hour week | I don’t see the kids much during the week. | [Origin: Old English wīca]

week-day /wikdeɪ/ n. (plural weekdays) [C] any day of the week except Saturday and Sunday week-end /wikend/ [C] Saturday and Sunday: What are you doing this weekend? | Jerry sees the children mainly on weekends. | last/next weekend (=the weekend before or after this one) | We went to the beach over the weekend (=during the weekend).

weekly /ˈwiːkli/ adj. happening or done every week: a weekly radio show | weekly meetings | weekly adj

weight /wɛt/ n. 1 WHAT SEVENTH WEIGHS [U] how heavy someone or something is: She’s always worried about her weight. | Have you lost weight (=become thinner)? | I think he’s put on some weight (=become fatter). | I’m watching my weight (=being careful not to gain weight). 2 HEAVINESS [U] the fact of being heavy: The weight of her boots made it hard for her to run. 3 HEAVY THING [C] something that is heavy: I can’t lift heavy weights because of my bad back. 4 RESPONSIBILITY/WORRY [singular] something that makes you worry: the weight of responsibility Selling the house was a great weight off my mind. 5 IMPORTANCE [U] if something has weight, it is important and influences people: Tina’s opinion doesn’t carry much weight around here. 6 FOR MEASURING QUANTITIES [C] a piece of metal weighing a particular amount that is balanced against something else to measure what it weighs 7 weights [plural] heavy pieces of metal, usually fixed to a metal bar, that people lift to make their muscles bigger | WEIGHTLIFTING | I’ve been lifting weights for years. | pull your weight at pull weight- also weight down v. [T] to add something heavy to something or put a weight on it, especially in order to keep it in place: fishing nets weighted with lead weight-ed /ˈwɛtəd/ adj. giving an advantage or disadvantage to one particular group or activity: The voting system is weighted against the smaller parties.

weight-less /ˈwɛltəs/ adj. having no weight, especially when you are floating in space —weightlessness n. [U]

weight-lift-ing /ˈwɛltlɪtɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport of lifting weights attached to the ends of a bar —weight-lifter n. [C]

weight-y /ˈwɛtɪə/ adj. important and serious: a weighty problem

weird /wɜːrd/ adj. (informal) unusual and strange: I had a really weird dream. | There’s something weird about him. | The weird thing is that no one else seemed to notice.

weird-o /ˈwɜːrdəʊ/ n. (plural weirdos) [C] (spoken) someone who seems strange

well-come /ˈwelkəm/ interjection said in order to greet someone who has just arrived: Welcome to Chicago! | Welcome back – it’s good to see you again. | [Origin: Old English wil-cuma, from wil-cuma “person you are glad to have as a guest”]

1139

welcome
welcome adj. 1 if you are welcome in a place, the other people want you to be there: I had the feeling I wasn’t really welcome. | They did their best to make me feel welcome. 2 if something is welcome, people are pleased that it has happened because it is useful, pleasant, etc.: a welcome suggestion | a welcome breeze on a hot day

SPOKEN PHRASES

3 you’re welcome said in order to reply politely to someone who has just thanked you for something: “Thanks for the coffee.” “You’re welcome.” 4 be welcome to sb/sth used in order to say that someone can be with someone or have something if s/he wants to, because you do not want to: If Rob wants that job, he’s welcome to it! 5 be welcome to do sth used in order to say that someone can do something if s/he wants to: You’re welcome to stay for lunch.

Welcome v [T] 1 to say hello in a friendly way to someone who has just arrived: Jill was welcoming guests at the door. | They welcomed us warmly. 2 to be glad when something happens or is done, or to say that you are glad: We would welcome a change in the law.

Welfare n [C] the way in which you greet someone when she arrives at a place: They gave him a very warm welcome when he returned to work. | wear out your welcome | wear out

Welcoming /welˈkæmɪŋ/ adj. making you feel happy and relaxed: a welcoming smile

Weld /welld/ v [T] to join metal objects to each other by heating them and pressing them together when they are hot —welder n [C]

Welfare /welˈfɛr/ n [C] 1 also Welfare money paid by the government to people who are very poor, not working, sick, etc.: Most of the people in this neighborhood are on welfare. | The study found that 90 percent of welfare recipients are employable. 2 someone’s welfare is his/her health, comfort, and happiness: We’re only concerned with your welfare. | It is our responsibility to look after the welfare of animals.

We’ll /wel/ the short form of “we will”: We’ll have to leave soon.

Well /wel/ adv. (comparative better, superlative best) 1 in a good, successful, or satisfactory way: Did you sleep well? | She doesn’t hear very well. | Is the business doing well? | I hope your party goes well. 2 thoroughly or completely: I don’t know her very well. | Mix the flour and eggs well. 3 as well (as sb/sth) in addition to someone or something else: I’m learning French as well as Italian. 4 may/might/could well used in order to say that something is likely to happen or is likely to be true: What you say may well be true. 5 sb may/might as well do sth (informal) a used in order to say that you will do something even though you do not particularly want to do it: I guess we may as well get started. b) used in order to say that doing something else would have an equally good result: The traffic was so bad we might as well have walked here. 6 very much, or very long in time: I’m well aware of the problem. | It was well after 2:00 by the time we finished.

Well adj. (comparative better, superlative best) 1 healthy: My mother’s not very well. | I’m a lot better, thanks. | I hope you get well soon. → HEALTHY 2 all is well/all is not well (formal) used in order to say that a situation is satisfactory or not satisfactory: All is not well with their marriage. 3 it’s just as well (that) (spoken) used in order to say that things have happened in a way that is lucky or good: It’s just as well I took the train today — I heard the traffic was really bad. 4 it’s/that’s all very well (spoken) used in order to say that you are not happy or satisfied with something: It’s all very well for you to say you’re sorry, but I’ve been waiting here for two hours!

Well interjection 1 used in order to pause before saying something, or to emphasize what you are saying: Well, let’s see now; I could meet you on Thursday. | Well, I mean, you shouldn’t just take things without asking. | “Jim doesn’t want to come.” “Well then, let’s go on our own.” 2 oh well said in order to show that you accept a situation even though it is not a good one: Oh well, at least you did your best. 3 also well, well used in order to express surprise or amusement: Well, so Steve got the job. 4 said in order to connect two parts of a story that you are telling: You know that guy I was telling you about? Well, he’s been arrested! 5 Well? used in order to ask someone to reply to you or tell you what has happened: Well? What did he say?

Well n [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a deep hole in the ground from which water is taken. 2 EARTH SCIENCES a very deep hole in the ground from which oil is taken well also well up v [I] (literary) if a liquid wells up, it rises and may start to flow: Tears began to well up in her eyes.

Well-adjusted adj. emotionally healthy and able to deal well with the problems of life: a happy, well-adjusted child

Well-balanced adj. 1 a well-balanced person is sensible and does not suddenly become angry, upset, etc. 2 a well-balanced meal or diet contains all the things you need to stay healthy

Well-behaved adj. behaving in a polite or socially acceptable way: a well-behaved child → POLITE

Well-being n [U] a feeling of being comfortable, healthy, and happy

Well-brought-up adj. a child who is well-brought-up has been taught to be polite and to behave well

Well-done adj. meat that is well-done has been cooked thoroughly ➔ MEDIUM, RARE: He likes his steak well-done. well-dressed adj wearing attractive fashionable clothes: an attractive well-dressed young woman well-earned adj deserved because you have worked hard: a well-earned vacation well-fed adj having plenty of good food to eat: well-fed children well-groomed adj someone who is well-groomed has a very neat and clean appearance: a well-groomed young man well-heeled adj (informal) rich well-intentioned adj WELL-MEANING well-known adj known by a lot of people: a well-known artist

THE SAURUS

famous, renowned, noted, distinguished, eminent ➔ FAMOUS well-meaning adj intending or intended to be helpful, but often failing or making things worse: well-meaning advice wellness /'weləns/ n [U] the state of being healthy: The gym offers a variety of wellness programs (= programs to help people stay healthy).

well-off adj having enough money to have a very good standard of living: Stella’s family is well-off.

THE SAURUS

rich, wealthy, affluent, well-to-do ➔ RICH

well-paid adj providing or receiving a good salary: a well-paid job | well-paid executives well-read /wel'rid/ adj someone who is well-read has read many books and knows a lot about different subjects well-rounded adj someone who is well-rounded has had a wide variety of experiences in life well-spoken adj able to speak in a clear and polite way well-thought-of adj liked and admired by other people well-timed adj said or done at the most appropriate time: My arrival wasn’t very well-timed.
well-to-do adj rich SYN wealthy: a well-to-do family well-wisher n. [C] someone who does something to show that s/he wants someone to succeed, be healthy, etc.: She received hundreds of cards from well-wishers.

Welsh /wel/ adj relating to or coming from Wales west /west/ n [C] a raised mark on someone’s skin where s/he has been hit

THE SAURUS

a large and confusing number of different details, emotions, etc.: a welter of information went /went/ v the past tense of go went /wɛnt/ v the past tense and past participle of WEEP we’re /wər/ the short form of “we are”: We’re going to the library. were /wεr/ v a past tense of BE weren’t /wεrnt/ “weren’t” v the short form of “were not”: Why didn’t you tell me that you weren’t happy?

were-wolf /ˈwerwʊlf/ n (plural werewolves) [C] a person in stories who changes into a WOLF

west /west/ n. [singular, U] 1 the direction toward which the Sun goes down: Which way is west? ➔ see picture at NORTH 2 the west the western part of a country, state, etc.: Rain will spread to the west later today. | the west of Ireland 3 the West a the part of the U.S. west of the Mississippi River b the countries in North America and the western part of Europe [Origin: Old English]

USAGE

Use north/south/east/west of sth in order to describe where a place is in relation to another place: Chicago is south of Milwaukee.
Use in the north/south/east/west of sth if in order to say which part of a place you are talking about: The mountains are in the west of the province.
Use northern, southern, eastern, western with the name of a place: They have a cabin in northern Ontario.

Don’t say “in the north of Ontario.”

west 1 adj 1 in, to, or facing the west: four miles west of Toronto | the west coast of Florida 2 west wind a wind coming from the west west 2 adv 1 toward the west: Go west on I-90 to Spokane. | The window faces west. 2 out West in or to the western part of the U.S.: My family moved out West to Arizona last year.
west-bound /'westbʌnd/ adj traveling or leading toward the west: westbound traffic | the west-bound lanes of the freeway west-er-ly /'westərli/ adj 1 in or toward the west: sailing in a westerly direction 2 a westerly wind comes from the west west-ern 1 /westərn/ adj 1 in or from the west part of an area, country, state, etc.: western Iowa 2 Western in or from the countries in North America and the western part of Europe: Western technology ➔ see USAGE box at WEST western 2 n. [C] a movie about life in the 19th century in the American West ➔ MOVIE western-er, Westerner /'westənər/ n. [C] someone who comes from the western part of a country or the western HEMISPHERE

Western Europe n. the western part of Europe, including places such as Great Britain and Italy ➔ Western European adj.
west·ern·ized  /ˈwestəˌnarızd/ adj. [only before noun] influenced by and behaving like the people in North America and Western Europe

—west·erm·ized v. [T]

-west·ern·most  /ˈwestərnˌməst/ adj. farthest west: the westernmost part of the island west·ward  /ˈwestwərd/ adj., adv. toward the west wet 1 /wet/ adj. (comparative wetter, superlative wettest) 1 covered in or full of water or another liquid and dry: Try not to get your feet wet. 2 a wet sponge. 3 We were soaking wet (extremely wet). 2 faint. It's very wet outside. 3 not yet dry: wet paint. 4 wet behind the ears (informal) very young and without much experience —wet·ness n. [U] wet 2 v. (past tense and past participle wet or wetted, present participle wetting) 1 to make something wet: Wet this cloth and put it on her forehead. 2 to wet the bed/wet your pants to make your bed or pants wet because you urinated by accident wet·suit  n. [C] a thick piece of clothing, usually made of rubber, that swimmers wear to keep warm when they are in the water we've /wev/ the short form of “we have”: We've got to leave by 6:00.

whack 1 /wæk/ v. [T] (informal) to hit someone or something hard

—thesaurus—

wet·ness  n. [U] the quality of being wet whack 2 n. (informal) 1 out of whack if a machine or system is out of whack, it is not working correctly

—thephrases—

What about sending him an e-mail? b) used in order to introduce a new person or thing into the conversation: What about Patrick? What's he doing nowadays? 8 What's up? used when saying hello to someone you know well: "Hey, Chris! What's up?" 10 what (...) for? a) used in order to ask the reason for something or purpose of something: What's this thing for? b) why: "She's decided to work part-time." "What for?" 11 what if...? a) used in order to ask what will happen, especially when it could be something bad or frightening: What if we get stuck out there in the snow? b) used when making a suggestion: What if you just take that part out of the speech? 12 what's his/her/its name used when talking about a person or thing whose name you cannot immediately remember: Is what's his name still working here? 13 or what? a) used in order to ask if there is another possibility: Are they doing that to save money, or what? b) used in order to show you are impatient when asking a question: Are you coming now, or what? 14 what's what the real facts about a situation that are important to know: She's been working here long enough to know what's what. 15 what's with sb? used in order to ask why someone is behaving strangely or why something strange is happening: What's with Nicky? He seems really mad. 16 what's with s.th? used in order to ask the reason for something: What's with all the sad faces?

[Orig: Old English hwær]
what-calling /'wætfaɪmlɪŋ/ n. [C] (spoken) a word you use when you cannot remember the name of something.

what-ever /'wætwaɪər/ adj. 1 any or all of the things that are wanted, needed, or possible: Just take whatever you need. / He needs whatever help he can get. 2 used in order to say it is not important what happens, what you do, etc. because it does not change the situation: Whatever I say, she always disagrees. 3 ... or whatever (spoken) used in order to refer to other things of the same kind: You can go swimming, scuba diving, or whatever. 4 (spoken) used in order to say that you do not know the exact meaning of something or the exact name of someone or something: Why don’t you invite Steve, or whatever he’s called, to supper? 5 whatever you say/think/want (spoken) used in order to tell someone that you agree with him/her or will do what she wants, especially when you do not really agree or want to do it: “How about camping, just for a change?” “OK, whatever you want.” 6 used as a reply to say that you do not care what is done or chosen, or that the exact details of something do not matter: “What flavor do you want? Strawberry, vanilla...?” “Whatever.”

whatever2 also what-so-ever /'wætsoʊevər/ adv. used in order to emphasize a negative statement: She had no money whatsoever.

what-not /'wætnɔt/ n and whatnot (spoken) an expression used at the end of a list of things when you do not want to give the names of everything: Put all your paper, pencils, and whatnot in this drawer.

wheat /wɛt/ n. [U] a plant that produces a grain used for making flour, or this grain [origin: Old English hwæt] wheedle /'wiːdəl/ v. [T] to persuade someone to do something by saying pleasant things that you do not really mean: She managed to wheedle $15 out of him.

wheel /wɛl/ n. [C] 1 one of the round things under a car, bicycle, etc. that turns and allows it to move: the car’s front/rear wheels — see picture at bicycle 2 a steering wheel: He had fallen asleep at the wheel (=while driving). 3 a flat round part in a machine, that turns when the machine operates: a gear wheel wheel2 v. 1 [T] to move something that has wheels: She wheeled her bike into the garage. 2 [I] to turn around suddenly: Anita wheeled around and started yelling at us. — WHEELED AND DEALING wheelbarrow /'wɛlbərəʊ/ n. [C] a small cart with one wheel in the front and two long handles for pushing it, that you use outdoors to carry things wheelchair /'wɛltaʃə/ n. [C] a chair with wheels, used by people who cannot walk wheelie /'wɛli/ n (dopop a wheelie (informal) to balance on the back wheel of a bicycle or motorcycle that you are riding wheeling and dealing n. [U] activities that involve a lot of complicated and sometimes dishonest deals, especially in politics or business — wheeler-dealer n.

wheeze /wɪz/ v. [I] to breathe with difficulty, making a whistling sound in your chest — wheezy adj.

when /weɪn/ adv. conjunction 1 used when asking what time something will happen: When are we leaving? I’ll tell you when to stop. 2 at or during the time that something happens: He was nine when his father died. I was in the shower when the doorbell rang. The best moment was when Barnes scored the winning goal.

at the time — used in order to talk about a particular time in the past when two things happened at the same time: I couldn’t go to the wedding as I was in New York at the time.

by the time — used in order to say that one thing has or will have already happened when something else happens: By the time a child is five, he will have watched hundreds of hours of television.

by that time — used in order to mention a particular time when something has already happened: She called at six, but by that time we had already left.

3 after or as soon as something happens: I’ll phone you when I get home. 4 even though something is true: Why do you want a new bike when this one is perfectly good? [origin: Old English hwæne] since when at since when-ever /'weɪnər/ adv. conjunction 1 every time: Whenever we come here, we see someone we know. 2 at any time: Come over whenever you want. 3 (spoken) used in order to say that it does not matter when something happens: “Should I come over around six?” “Whenever.”

where /weər/ adv. conjunction 1 at, to, or from a particular place or position: Where do you live? I asked Lucy where she was going. Do you know where my glasses are? 2 used in order to ask or talk about the situation or state of something: Where do you see yourself in ten years? Where do we go from here (=what do we do now)? [origin: Old English hwær] whereabouts1 /'wɛrəbɔːts, _wɛrəbɔːts/ adv. (spoken) used to ask in a general way where a place is: Whereabouts do you live? whereabouts2 /'wɛrəbɔːts/ n [U] the place where someone or something is: His whereabouts are still a mystery.

where-as /'wɛrəz/ conj. weak werez /'wɛrəz/ (AC) conjunction (formal) used in order to say that although something is true of one thing, it is not true of another:
Nowadays the trip takes six hours, whereas it took several weeks. [Stafford had years of experience, whereas Lefkin was new to the job.]

whereby /'wer*bɛd/ adv (formal) by means of which, or according to which: The government passed a law whereby all children receive free education.

where-in /ˈwer*ɪn/ adv, conjunction (formal) in which place or part: The San Francisco house, in which he and his family live, was damaged by the earthquake.

where-upon /ˌwer*əˌpʌn/ conj (formal) after which: One of them called the other a liar, whereupon a fight broke out.

where-ever /ˌwer*ɛvər/ adv, conjunction 1 to or at any place: If you could go wherever you wanted to in the world, where would you go? 2 wherever possible when it is possible to do something: We try to use locally produced food wherever possible.

where-with-all /ˌwer*ɪθə*ɛl/ n the wherewithal to do sth the money or ability you need in order to do something: He just didn’t have the wherewithal to do more with his life.

whet /wɛt/ v (wetted, whetting) whet sb’s appetite (for sth) to make someone want more of something by letting him/her try it or see what it is like whether /ˈweðə*ɛ/ conj 1 used when talking about a choice between different possibilities: He asked her whether she was coming. 2 used in order to say that something definitely will or will not happen in spite of what the situation is: Whether you like it or not, you have to take that test.

whew /hwa/ interjection said when you are surprised, very hot, or feeling glad that something bad did not happen: Whew! That was close!

which /wɪtʃ/ det, pron 1 used in order to ask or state what things you mean when a choice has to be made: Which of these books is yours? Ask him which one he wants.

USAGE

Which and what are both used when you are asking about one thing out of a number of possible things. Use which when the answer is one of a limited set of possible things: Which house does Tom live in? Use what when there are a very large number of possibilities: What’s his name? What is the answer to question 12? Which can be followed by “of,” but what cannot: Which of these dresses do you like best?

2 used in order to show what specific thing or things you mean. This is the book which I told you about. 3 used in order to add more information about something, especially in written language after a comma: The house, which was completed in 1856, was famous for its huge marble staircase. The train only takes two houses, which is quicker than the bus. [Origin: Old English hwile]

which-ever /wɪtʃ*ɛvə/ det, pron 1 used in order to say that it does not matter which person or thing is chosen because the result will be the same: You get the same result whichever way you do it. 2 any of a group of things or people: You can have whichever you like best.

whiff /wɪf/ n. [C] a smell of something that is not strong: As she walked past, I caught a whiff of (smelled) her perfume.

while /waɪl/ n. 1 a while a period of time, especially a short one: Can you wait a while? 2 for a while, I worked in the Sales Department. 3 I’ll be back in a little while. [Origin: Old English hwil]

➔ AWHILE, WORTH YOUR WHILE

while /waɪl/ v. 1 while away the hours/evenings/days etc. to spend time in a pleasant and lazy way: We whiled away the summer evenings talking.

whim-mer /ˈwɪmɪpər/ v. [I] to make low crying sounds because you are sad, frightened, or in pain: The dog ran off whimpering. —whimper n. [C]

whim-si-cal /ˈwɪmzɪkəl/ adj unusual or strange and often amusing; whimsical drawings

whine /waɪn/ v. [I] 1 to complain in a sad annoying voice about something: Stop whining! 2 She was whining about how hard her life is. 3 to make a long high sound because you are in pain or unhappy: The dog was whining at the door.

➔ WHINE, WHERESOEVER

whin-ny /ˈwɪnɪ/ v. (whinnied, whinnies) [I] if a horse whinnies, it makes a high sound whip /wɪp/ n. [C] a long thin piece of rope or leather with a handle, used for making animals move faster, or for hitting people as a punishment

➔ WHIPPING

2 v. (whipped, whipping) 1 [T] to hit a person or animal with a whip. 2 [I] to move suddenly or violently: Bill whipped around to see what was happening. 3 [T] (informal) to move something with a quick sudden movement: He whipped out a gun. 4 whip sb/sth into shape (informal) to make a system, group of people, etc. start to work in an organized way 5 [T] to mix cream or the clear part of an egg very hard until it becomes stiff (Beat) Beat: Whip the cream until thick. whip up prep v. 1 whip sb •• • up to try to make people feel strongly about something: The speech was an attempt to whip up opposition to the plant. 2 whip sth •• • up (informal) to quickly make something to eat: I could whip up a salad. whip-lash /ˈwɪpɪləs/ n [U] a neck injury caused when your head moves forward and back again suddenly and violently, especially in a car accident whip-ping /ˈwɪpɪŋ/ n [C] a punishment given to someone by hitting him/her, especially with a whip whir /wɪər/ v (past tense and past participle whirred, present participle whirling) [I] if a machine whirs, it makes a continuous low sound —whir n. [singular] the whir of a lawnmower whirl /wɜːr/ v. 1 [T] to turn or spin around very quickly, or to make someone or something do this: He whirled her around the dance floor. whirlwind /ˈwɜːrlwɪnd/ 1 a whirl wind romance/tour etc. something that happens much more quickly than usual 2 [C] an extremely strong wind that moves quickly with a circular movement, causing a lot of damage 3 a whirlwind of activity/emotions etc. a situation in which you quickly experience a lot of different activities or emotions one after another whisk /ˈwɪsk/ v [T] 1 to mix liquids, eggs, etc.
very quickly, using a fork or a whisk ➔ Beat, whip: Whisk the yolks and sugar in a bowl. ➔ see picture on page A5 2 to quickly take something or someone somewhere: They whisked her off to the hospital.
whisker /ˈwɪskər/ n [C] 1 a long stiff hairs that grow near the mouth of a cat, mouse, etc. ➔ see picture on page A2 2 whiskers [plural] the hair that grows on a man’s face whiskey /ˈwɪskɪk/ n (plural whiskies or whiskies) [C,U] a strong alcoholic drink made from grain, or a glass of this drink [Origin: 1700—1800 Irish Gaelic uisce beatha “water of life”] whisper /ˈwɪspər/ v 1 [I,T] to speak or say something very quietly, using your breath rather than your voice: He leaned over to whisper someingthing to her. 2 [I] (literary) to make a soft sound: The wind whispered in the trees. —whisperer n. [C]: She spoke in a whisper.
whistle /ˈwɪzəl/ 1 n [I,T] to make a high or musical sound by blowing air out through your lips: Adam whistled tot at me from across the street. 2 [I] to make a high sound by blowing into a whistle: The referee whistled and the game began. 3 [I] to move quickly with a high sound: Bullets were whistling through the air. 4 [I] to make a high sound when air or steam is forced through a small hole: a whistling kettle whistle (on sb) v to blow a whistle at someone white /ˈwaɪt/ adj 1 having the color of milk, salt, or snow: white paint 2 belonging to the race of people with pale skin who were originally from Europe: The suspect is a young white man. 3 looking pale because of illness, strong emotion, etc.: She was dressed completely in white. 2 [C] also White someone who belongs to the race of people with pale skin who were originally from Europe 3 [C,U] the part of an egg which surrounds the yolk and becomes white when cooked white blood cell n [C] BIOLOGY one of the cells in your blood that fights against infection ➔ Red blood cell
white bread adj (informal) relating to people who are white and who have traditional American values, and who are often considered boring: a white-bread suburban family white-collar adj [only before noun] white-collar workers have jobs in offices, banks, etc. rather than jobs in factories, building things, etc. ➔ blue-collar
White House n 1 the White House the official home in Washington, D.C., of the President of the U.S. 2 [singular] the President of the U.S. and the people who advise the President: The election resulted in a Democratic White House. —White House adj: a White House spokesperson white lie n. [C] (informal) a lie that is not very important, especially one that you tell in order to avoid hurting someone’s feelings white light n [U] PHYSICS all the different colors of light in the spectrum mixed together, so that they appear white. Sunlight is an example of white light.
white en /ˈwaɪtən/ v [I,T] to become white, or to make something do this White Pages

White Pages n. the White Pages the white part of a telephone directory, containing the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of people with telephones ➔ yellow pages.

White trash n. [U] (informal) an insulting expression meaning white people who are poor and uneducated.

White-wash [ˈwaɪtˌwɔʃ, -ˈwɔʃ] v. 1 [C usually singular] an attempt to hide the true facts about a serious accident or illegal action: One magazine called the report a whitewash. 2 [U] a white liquid mixture used for painting walls, fences, etc.

White-wa·ter [ˈwaɪtˌwɔtər] n. [U] a part of a river that looks white because the water is flowing very quickly over rocks.

Whit·tie [ˈwaɪti] v. 1 [L.T] to cut a piece of wood into a particular shape by cutting off small pieces 2 [T] also whittle down to gradually make something smaller by taking parts away: I’ve whittled down the list of guests from 30 to 16.

Whittle sth away also whittle away at sth. v. to gradually make something smaller or less effective: Congress has been whittling away at our freedom of speech.

Whiz [ˈwaɪz] v. (whizzed, whizzing, whizzes) [l] (informal) to move very quickly: Marty whizzed past us on his motorbike.

Whiz·kid [ˈwaɪzˌkid] n. [C] (informal) someone who is very skilled at something.

Who /hu/ pron. 1 used in order to ask or talk about which person is involved, or what the name of a person is: Who locked the door? I know who sent you that book. 2 used in order to add more information about someone: That’s the woman who owns the house. She asked her English teacher, who had studied Latin. [Origin: Old English hwæt] (who) n. [U] (interjection) 1 used in order to tell someone to become calmer or do something more slowly. 2 used in order to show that you are surprised or that you think something is impressive.

Who-d /huˈd/ 1 the short form of “who had”: The doctors were treating a young girl who’d been attacked. 2 the short form of “who would”: Who’d know where I can get tickets?

Who·dun·it [ˈhuːdənɪt] n. [C] (informal) a book, movie, etc. about a murder, in which you do not find out who the murderer is until the end.

Who·ev·er [ˈhuːəvər] pron. 1 used in order to talk about someone when you do not know who she is: Whoever did this is in big trouble. 2 used in order to show that it does not matter which person does something: Whoever gets there first can find a table.

Whole /ˈhoul/ n. 1 the whole of sth. all of something: The whole of the morning was wasted. 2 on the whole generally or usually: On the whole, life was much quieter after John left. 3 as a whole used in order to say that all the parts of something are being considered: We must look at our educational system as a whole. 4 [C usually singular] something that consists of a number of parts, but is considered as a single unit: Two halves make a whole. [Origin: Old English hāl “healthy, unhurt, complete”]

Whole1 adj. 1 all of something (by) entire: She drank a whole bottle of wine. 2 the whole thing (everything about a situation) just makes me sick. 2 complete and not divided or broken into parts: Place a whole onion inside the chicken.

Whole·heart·ed [ˈhoulˌhɑrtɪd] adj. involving all your feelings, interest, etc.: You have our wholehearted support. → wholeheartedly adv.

Whole·note [ˈhoulˌnɔt] n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a musical note that continues for as long as two half notes.

Whole·num·ber [ˈhoulˌnʌmər] n. [C] MATH a number such as 0, 1, 2, etc. that is not a fraction.

Whole·sale [ˈhoulˌseɪl] adj. 1 relating to the sale of goods in large quantities, usually at low prices, to people or stores that then sell them to other people ➔ retail: a wholesale price. 2 (disapproving) affecting almost everything or everyone, and often done without any concern for the results: the wholesale destruction of the rainforest. → wholesaler n. [C]

Whole·some [ˈhoulˌsʌm] adj. 1 likely to make you healthy: a good wholesome breakfast. 2 considered to be morally good or acceptable: a nice clean wholesome kid.

Whole·wheat [ˈhoulˌwɛt] adj. whole wheat flour or bread is made using every part of the wheat grain, including the outer layer.

Who’l /huːl/ the short form of “who will”: This is Denise, who’ll be your guide today.

Whol·ly [ˈhoulə] adv. (formal) completely: The club is wholly responsible for the damage.

Whom /huːm/ pron. 1 (formal) the object form of “who”: To whom am I speaking? He spoke to a man with whom he used to work. 2 many/all/some etc. of whom many, all, etc. of the people just mentioned. They had four sons, one of whom died young.

Whoop /huːp, wuːp/ v. [l] to shout loudly and in a happy way ➔ whoop n. [C]

Whoops /ˈhuːps/ interjection said when you make a small mistake, drop something, or fall.

Whoosh [ˈhuːʃ, wuːʃ] v. [l] (informal) to move very fast with a soft rushing sound: Cars whooshed past. → whoosh n. [C]

Who·per [ˈhʌpər] n. [C] (informal) something that is unusually large.
whop·ping /ˈwɒpɪŋ/ adj. [only before noun] informal very large: a whopping 28% increase who·re /ˈhuːr, hʊr/ the short form of "who are": Who’re those two guys?

who’s /ˈhuːz/ 1 the short form of "who is": Who’s sitting next to Josh? 2 the short form of "who has": That’s Karl, the guy who’s studied in Brazil.

whose /huːz/ possessive adj., pron. 1 used in order to ask which person or people a particular thing belongs to: Whose jacket is this? 2 used in order to show the relationship between a person and something that belongs to that person: That’s the man whose house burned down.

who’ve /huːv/ the short form of "who have" why /waɪ/ adv., conjunction 1 for what reason: Why are these books so cheap? 2 Why haven’t you finished it yet? I don’t know why she won’t talk to me. 3 why don’t you/why doesn’t he etc. ...? (spoken) used in order to make a suggestion: Why don’t you try this one? 3 why not? (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone why s/he has not done something: “I haven’t done my homework.” Why not? 3) b) used in order to agree to do something: “Do you want to come along?” “Yeah, why not?”

WI the written abbreviation of wisconsin wick /wɪk/ n. [C] the string on a candle or in an oil lamp, that is burned wick·ed /ˈwɪkɪd/ adj. 1 morally bad or evil: the wicked stepmother in the story of Cinderella wick·er /ˈwɪkər/ n. made from thin dry branches woven together: a wicker basket

wide1 /wɪd/ adj. 1 measuring a large distance from one side to the other: a wide street | The quake was felt over a wide area. 2 measuring a particular distance from one side to the other: The bathtub’s three feet wide and five feet long. 3 including a lot of different people, things, or situations: We offer a wide range of vegetarian dishes. 4 We want to reach a wider audience. 4 happening among many people or in many places: The trial was given wide coverage in the media. 5 We fear that the fighting will develop into a wider conflict. 5 statewide/company-wide etc. affecting all the people in a place: Teen drug use is a citywide problem. 6 wide difference/gap etc. a large and noticeable difference: wide differences of opinion [Origin: Old English wid]

wide2 adv. 1 completely, or as much as possible: Somebody left the door wide open. It was 3 a.m., but I was wide awake. 2 wide open a competition, election, etc. that is wide open can be won by anyone: The presidential race is still wide open. 3 away from the point you were aiming at: His shot went wide.

wide·ly /ˈwɪdli/ adv. 1 in a lot of different places, or by a lot of people: Are these products widely available? 2 Salinger is widely known as the author of “The Catcher in the Rye.” 2 to a large degree: Taxes vary widely from state to state.

wid·en /ˈwɪdən/ v. [T] 1 to become wider, or to make something wider (adj): His eyes widened in fear. 2 The old trail was widened into a road. 2 to become greater or larger, or to make something do this: The gap between low and high incomes began to widen after 1974.

wid·en·s·ed /ˈwɪdənˌsɪd/ adj. happening in many places: the widespread use of illegal drugs 3 This type of fish is widespread throughout South East Asia.

wid·ow /ˈwɪdəʊ/ n. 1 a woman whose husband has died and who has not married again: She’s the widow of the late Thomas Franklin. 2 a widowed mother/father wid·ow·ed /ˈwɪdəʊd/ adj. a widowed person is someone whose husband or wife has died: my widowed mother/father wid·ow·er /ˈwɪdəʊər/ n. 1 a man whose wife has died and who has not married again wid·th /wɪðθ/ n. [C] the distance from one side of something to the other: the width of the window | It’s ten inches in width. ➔ see picture at dimension wield /wɪld/ v. [T] 1 wield power/influence/authority etc. to have a lot of power, influence, etc., and use it: During the Middle Ages, the Church wielded a lot of influence. 2 to hold a weapon or tool that you are going to use wife /waɪf/ n. (plural wives /waɪvz/) [C] the woman that a man is married to ➔ husband: This is my wife Elaine. 1 He had two children with his first wife.

Wi-Fi, wi·fi /ˈwɪfɪ/ tr. mark a way of connecting computers to the Internet or to a network, without using wires wig /wig/ n. [C] artificial hair that you wear on your head ➔ TOUPELE [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 periwig type of wig (16—21 centuries), from Old Italian perrucco "hair, wig"] wiggle /ˈwɪɡlə/ v. [I,T] to make small movements from side to side or up and down, or to make something move this way: Wiggle your toes. ➔ wiggle n. [C] wig-wam /ˈwɪɡwɑːm/ n. [C] a type of tent that was used in past times by some Native Americans [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Abnaki and Massachusetts (Native American languages) wikwam] wik-i /ˈwɪki/ n. [CU] if a web page, or series of web pages, which can be written or changed by the people who use that website wild /ˈwɪld/ adj. 1 wild animals or plants live or grow in a natural state, without being controlled by people ➔ tame: wild horses ➔ NATURAL. 2 showing strong uncontrollable emotions such as excitement, anger, or happiness: a wild look in her eye | wild laughter | The kids were wild with excitement. 3 (spoken) exciting, interesting, or unusual: Sarah’s party was wild. | a wild haircut 4 [only before noun] done or said without knowing all the facts or thinking carefully about them: a wild guess 5 be wild about sb/sth (informal) to like someone or something very much: I’m not too wild about his movies. 6 a wild card in a game can represent any card that you want it to be. 7 a wild area of land is in a completely natural state and does not have farms, towns, etc. on it

wild2 adv. 1 run wild to behave in an uncontrolled way because you have no rules or people to control you. 2 go wild to suddenly become very noisy and active because you are excited or angry: The crowd went wild when the Giants won.

wild3 n. in the wild in an area that is natural and not controlled or changed by people ➔ CAPTIVITY. The reserve gives protection to animals that live in the wild.

wilderness /ˈwɪldərniːs/ n. [singular, U] a large area of land that has never been built on or used for growing crops or raising animals: the Alaskan wilderness wild-goose chase n. [singular] a situation in which you waste a lot of time looking for something that cannot be found wild-life /ˈwɪldlaɪf/ n. [U] animals and plants that live in natural conditions wild-ly /ˈwɪldli/ adv. 1 extremely: Baseball is wildly popular. 2 in a very uncontrolled or excited way: The crowd cheered wildly.

wiles /ˈwɪlz/ n. [plural] things you say or tricks you use in order to persuade someone to do what you want will1 /wɪl, əl/ i. strong will modal verb 1 used in order to make the future tense: Kathy will be there tomorrow. | What time will she get here? | I’ll (=will) go shopping later. 2 used in order to say that you are ready or willing to do something: I’ll do whatever you say. | Vern said he won’t (=will not) work for Joe. 3 used in order to ask someone to do something: Will you do me a favor? 4 used in CONDITIONAL sentences that use the present tense: If it rains, we’ll (=we will) have the barbecue in the clubhouse. 5 used like “can” to show what is possible: This car will seat 5 people. 6 used in order to say what always happens, or what is generally true: Accidents will happen. 7 Will you...? (spoken) used to give an order: Will you shut up?

will2 /wɪl/ n. 1 [CU] the determination to do what you have decided to do: He’s lost the will to live. | a woman of high intelligence and strong will. 2 [C] a legal document that shows who you want to have your money and property after you die: Grandma Stacy left me $7,000 in her will. 3 [singular] what someone wants to happen in a particular situation: No one can force him to stay here against his will (=if he does not want to). 4 at will whenever you want, and in whatever way you want: They can just change their policies at will. 5 where there’s a will there’s a way (spoken) used in order to say that if you are determined enough you will succeed will3 v. [T] 1 to try to make something happen by thinking about it very hard: He shut his eyes, willing her to win. 2 to officially give something to someone after you die: She willed the house to her son.

will-ful, willful /ˈwɪlfəl, ˈwɪlfl/ adj. (disapproving) doing something that you want even though people tell you not to: a willful child ➔ willfully adv.

will-ing /ˈwɪlɪŋ/ adj. 1 be willing to do sth to be prepared to do something: How much are they willing to pay? 2 eager to do something: They were willing participants in the fraud. ➔ willingness n. [U] ➔ willingly adv.

will-low /ˈwɪlʊ/ n. [C] a tree with very long thin branches, that grows near water ➔ see picture on page 10 willow-y /ˈwɪluː/ adj. tall, thin, and graceful will-power /ˈwɪl,pəʊər/ n. [U] the ability to make yourself do something even if it is difficult or unpleasant: I don’t have the willpower to diet.

will-ly-nil-ly /ˈwɪl,ˈniːlɪ/ adj. something that happens to you willily-nilly happens whether you want it to or not will /wɪl/ v. [I] if a plant wilts, it becomes soft and bends because it needs water or is old will-y /ˈwɪlɪ/ adj. good at using tricks in order to get what you want: a wily politician wimp /wɪmp/ n. [C] (informal) someone who is weak and afraid: Don’t be such a wimp. ➔ wimpy adj.

wimp2 v. wimp out phr. v. (spoken) to not do something that you intended to do, because you do not feel brave enough, strong enough, etc.
win /wɪn/ v (past tense and past participle won /wʌn/, present participle winning) 1 [I,T] to be the best or first in a competition, game, election, etc. (ant) lose: Who do you think will win the Super Bowl? | Dad won at chess again. | Marcia's team won by 3 points. | We could not have won the war without them.

THESSAUUS

- come in first – to win a competition, game, etc.
- be/come in first/second etc. place – used to describe someone's position at the end of a race
- be in the lead or be ahead – to be winning at a particular time during a competition
- be victorious (formal) – to be the winner in a battle or competition
- triumph (formal) – to gain a victory or success, especially after a difficult struggle
- prevail (formal) – if a person, idea, or principle prevails, s/he or it achieves success after a struggle
- the winning team/horse etc. – the one that wins
- If you are the champion or you hold the record for something, you are the person who has beaten all other people in a series of competitions.
- win [T] to earn a prize at a competition or game: Thorpe won a gold medal. | I won $200 playing poker. | 3 [T] to get something good because of all your efforts and skill: Dr. Lee's work won her the admiration of scientists worldwide. [Origin: Old English winnaan "to work, fight"]
- win out phr. v. to succeed after being unsuccessful for a long time: Snorer or lazier, good sense will win out.
- win sb ↔ over phr. v. to persuade someone to like you or support you
- win [T] to be the person who has beaten all other people in a series of competitions.
- win [C] a victory or success, especially in a sport: a record of seven wins and six losses
- wince /wɪns/ v. [I] to suddenly change the expression on your face when you see or remember something painful or embarrassing: I still wince at the memory of how badly I sang.
- winch /ˈwɪntʃ/ n. [C] a machine with a rope or chain, used for lifting heavy objects – winch v. [T]
- wind /wɪnd/ n. 1 [C,U] the air outside when you can feel it moving around you: An icy wind blew through the open door. | Expect strong winds and rain tomorrow. | A gust of wind (sea short strong wind) | A cold east/west etc. wind (=from the east, etc.) was blowing.

THESSAUUS

- breeze – a light wind
- gust – a sudden strong movement of wind
- gale – very strong wind – rain; snow

2 get wind of sth to find out about something private or secret 3 [C] your ability to breathe easily: Rae got the wind knocked out of her (ewas hit in the stomach and could not breathe for a short time). 4 the winds the people in an orchestra or band who play musical instruments that you blow into, such as the flute. [Origin: Old English]

wind /wɪnd/ v (past tense and past participle wound /wʌnd/) 1 [I,T] to turn or twist something several times around something else: Don’t wind the cord around the iron. | 2 [T] also wind up to make a machine, toy, clock, etc. work by turning a small handle around several times: I forgot to wind my watch. | 3 [I] if a road, river, etc. winds, it curves or bends many times

- wind down phr. v. to gradually end: The party started winding down after midnight.
- wind up phr. v. 1 to be in a bad situation or place after a lot has happened: Most of them wound up in prison. | 2 wind sb ↔ up to end an activity, meeting, etc.: It’s almost 5:00 – we’d better wind things up. | 3 sb wound up with something to do

Wind-break-er /ˈwɪndbreɪkər/ n. [C] (trade-mark) a type of coat that protects you from the wind wind-chill factor /ˈwɪnd,chlɪfæktər/ n. [U] the effect the wind has in cold weather, making the temperature even colder wind-ed /ˈwɪndɪd/ adj. having difficulty breathing because you have exercised too much or have been hit in the stomach

wind-fall /ˈwɪndfɔːl/ n. [C] an amount of money that you get when you do not expect it wind-ing /ˈwɪndɪŋ/ adj. having bends or curves: a long winding river wind in-stru-ment /ˈwɪnd,ɪnstrəmənt/ n. [C] a musical instrument such as the flute that you play by blowing into it

wind-mill /ˈwɪndmɪl/ n. [C] a tall structure with parts that are turned by the wind, used to crush grain or make electricity

wind-dow /ˈwɪndəʊ/ n. [C] 1 a space or an area of glass in the wall of a building or vehicle, that lets in light: Can I open the window? | He was looking/gazing out the window. | I could see her face in the window (=on the other side of the window). | 2 [T] one of the areas on a computer screen where different programs are operating [Origin: 1200–1300 Old Norse vindauka, from vindur “wind” + auga “eye”]

window,dressing n. [U] 1 an attempt to make something seem better than it really is 2 the art of arranging things in a store window so that they look attractive to customers window-pane /ˈwɪndəʊ,peɪn/ n. [C] a whole piece of glass used in a window window shopping

window _shopping_ n. [u] the activity of looking at goods in store windows without intending to buy them.

wind-dow-shelf /'windu:sl/ n. [c] a shelf at the bottom of a window.

wind-pipe /'windpaip/ n. [c] biology the tube through which air passes from your throat to your lungs.

wind-shield /'windfild/ n. [c] the large window at the front of a vehicle.

windshield wiper s /'windfild w*peer/ n. [c] a mechanism that moves across a windshield to remove rain.

wind-swept /'windswipt/ adj. 1 a place that is windswept is often very windy and has few or no trees or buildings to protect it. 2 made messy by the wind: windswept hair.

wind-y /'windi/ adj. if it is windy, there is a lot of wind: it’s been windy all day. | a windy beach.

wine /wain/ n. [cu] an alcoholic drink made from grapes, or a type of this drink: a glass of red/white wine | a fine selection of wines | [origin: Old English win, from Latin vinum].

wine glass /'waIngl/ n. a tall glass with a thin stem, used for drinking wine.

wine-glass /'waInglaes/ n. [c] a tall glass with a thin stem, used for drinking wine.

wine-ery /'waInri/ n. (plural wineries) [c] a place where wine is made and stored.

wing /'waIn/ n. [c] 1 the part of a bird’s or insect’s body used for flying: the ducks started flapping their wings. ➔ see picture on page A2. 2 one of the large flat parts that stick out of the sides of an airplane and help it stay in the air ➔ see picture at airplane. 3 one of the parts of the large building that is divided into: the east wing of the library. 4 politics a group of people within a political party or other organization who have a particular opinion or aim ➔ left-wing, right-wing: the liberal wing of the Democratic Party. 5 take sb under your wing to help or protect someone younger or less experienced than you. 6 waiting in the wings ready to be used, or ready to do something: at least two potential buyers are waiting in the wings. 7 the wings [plural] the side parts of a stage, where actors are hidden from people watching the play.

wing-tip /'waIn'tip/ n. [c] 1 a type of man’s shoe with a pattern of small holes on the toe. 2 the end of an airplane’s or bird’s wing.

wink /'waInk/ v. [i] to close and open one eye quickly, usually to show that you are joking or being friendly: “Don’t tell Mom,” he said, winking at her. ➔ wink.

windswept /'windswapt/ adj. if it is windy, there is a lot of wind: windswept hair.

windy /'windi/ adj. 1 if it is windy, there is a lot of wind:

wino /'waIno/ n. [plural winos] [informal] someone who drinks a lot of alcohol and lives on the streets.

winning /'waIn*ning/ adj. 1 the winner of something that is likely to be successful: his new movie looks like a winner.

winner /'waIn*ri/ n. [c] 1 someone who wins something: the winner will receive $5,000. | a Nobel Prize winner. 2 the winner of the Boston Marathon. 3 (informal) someone or something that is likely to be successful: his new movie looks like a winner.

window-shelf /'windfild/ n. [c] the large window at the front of a vehicle.

windshield wiper /'windfild w*peer/ n. [c] a mechanism that moves across a windshield to remove rain.

windy /'windi/ adj. if it is windy, there is a lot of wind: it’s been windy all day. | a windy beach.

wine /wain/ n. [cu] an alcoholic drink made from grapes, or a type of this drink: a glass of red/white wine | a fine selection of wines | [origin: Old English win, from Latin vinum].

wine glass /'waIngl/ n. a tall glass with a thin stem, used for drinking wine.

wine-glass /'waInglaes/ n. [c] a tall glass with a thin stem, used for drinking wine.

wing /'waIn/ n. [c] 1 the part of a bird’s or insect’s body used for flying: the ducks started flapping their wings. ➔ see picture on page A2. 2 one of the large flat parts that stick out of the sides of an airplane and help it stay in the air ➔ see picture at airplane. 3 one of the parts of the large building that is divided into: the east wing of the library. 4 politics a group of people within a political party or other organization who have a particular opinion or aim ➔ left-wing, right-wing: the liberal wing of the Democratic Party. 5 take sb under your wing to help or protect someone younger or less experienced than you. 6 waiting in the wings ready to be used, or ready to do something: at least two potential buyers are waiting in the wings. 7 the wings [plural] the side parts of a stage, where actors are hidden from people watching the play.

wing-tip /'waIn'tip/ n. [c] 1 a type of man’s shoe with a pattern of small holes on the toe. 2 the end of an airplane’s or bird’s wing.
wipe out

wipe out phr. v. 1 wipe sb/sth ↔ out to destroy or remove someone or something completely: Fires wiped out half of the city. 2 wipe sb/sth ↔ out (informal) to make you feel extremely tired: All that running wiped me out. 3 (spoken) to fall or hit something when driving a car, riding a bicycle, etc.

wipe sth ↔ up phr. v. to remove liquid from a surface using a cloth: Wipe up this mess!

wire

wire / wrɪə/ n. 1 [U] metal that is long and thin like thread: a wire fence 2 [C] a long thin piece of metal that is used to carry electricity: a telephone wire 3 [C] (old-fashioned) a TELEGRAM wireless

wireless / wrɪəliks/ adj. relating to a system of communication that does not use electrical or telephone wires: wireless Internet connections wiretap

wiretap / wrɪəˈtæp/ v. (wiretapped, wiretapping) [T] to secretly listen to someone’s telephone conversations by attaching electronic equipment to the wires of his/her telephone —wiretap n. [C]

wire-wrapping

wire-wrapping / wrɪəˈwræpɪŋ/ n. [U] the network of wires that form the electrical system in a building, vehicle, or piece of equipment: You need to replace the wiring.

wirey

wirey / wrɪəri/ adj. 1 someone who is wiry is thin but strong 2 wiry hair is stiff and curly wisdom

wisdom / wɪzəm/ n. 1 [U] good judgment and the ability to make wise decisions based on your knowledge and experience 2 question/doubt the wisdom of (doing) sth used to say that you think something is not sensible: Many experts question the wisdom of sending these men to prison.

wisdom tooth

wisdom tooth / wɪzəm ˈtuːθ/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the four large teeth at the back of your mouth that do not grow until you are an adult wise

wise / wɪz/ adj. 1 based on good judgment and experience: It’s wise to leave before the traffic gets too heavy. 2 a wise decision 2 a wise person makes good decisions and gives good advice because s/he has a lot of experience: a wise leader wise guy

wise guy / wɪz ɡai/ n. [C] (informal) an annoying person who thinks that s/he knows more than s/he really does wish

wish / wɪʃ/ v. 1 [T] to want something to happen even though it is unlikely: I wish they’d hurry up! 2 [I/T] (formal) to want to do something: I wish to make a complaint. 3 [T] to say that you hope someone will be happy, successful, lucky, etc.: Wish me luck! 4 I wish (spoken) said when you do not think something is true or possible, but you want it to be: “I’m going to get a role in his new movie.” “Yeah, you wish!”

wish for sth phr. v. to want something to happen, or want to have something, especially when it seems unlikely: If you could have anything, what would you wish for? [Origin: Old English wiscan]

wishful

wishful / wɪʃfʊl/ adj. 1 the act of wishing for something that you want, or the thing that you wish for: Close your eyes and make a wish! 2 Did you get your wish? 2 (formal) a desire for something: It’s important to respect the wishes of the patient. 3 He left school against his parents’ wishes (=his parents did not want him to leave school). I had no wish to see him. 3 best wishes a friendly phrase that you write before your name in cards and letters wish-bone

wish-bone / wɪʃˈbɔːn/ n. [C] a Y-shaped chicken bone that two people pull apart in order to find out who will get his/her wish wishful ‘thinking n. [U] a way of thinking that is based on what you want to happen rather than what is likely to happen

wish-y-washy

wish-y-washy / wɪʃi ˈwɔʃi, -wɔʃi/ adj. (informal, disapproving) a wishy-washy person does not have firm or clear ideas, and seems unable to decide what s/he wants

wishy-washy

wishy-washy / wɪʃiˈwɔʃɪ/ n. [C] 1 a small thin amount of hair, grass, etc.: A wish of hair had escaped from under her hat. 2 a small thin line of smoke or cloud —wishy adj.

wistful

wistful / wɪsˈtʃʊfl/ adj. slightly sad because you cannot have something you want: a wistful expression —wistfully adv.

wit

wit / wɪt/ n. 1 [U] the ability to say things that are funny and smart 2 [C] someone who has this ability 3 wits (plural) your ability to think quickly and make the right decisions: Without a gun, he knew he’d have to rely on his wits. | Somehow, Austin kept his wits about him (=thought quickly and dealt with a difficult situation). 4 be at your wits’ end to be upset because you have tried with everything possible to solve a problem 5 scare sb out of his/her wits to frighten someone very much.

witch /wɪtʃ/ n. [C] a woman who has magic powers, especially to do bad things.

witch-craft /wɪtʃkɑːf/ n. [U] the use of magic, usually to do bad things.

witch hunt n. [C] (disapproving) an attempt to find and punish people whose opinions, political beliefs, etc. are considered to be wrong or dangerous.

with /wɪð/, wɪð/ prep. 1 used in order to show that two or more people or things are together in the same place: She went to the beach with her friends. 2 having, possessing, or carrying something: a boy with a broken arm. 3 where’s the dish with the blue pattern? 4 as a result of something: Connie smiled with pride. 5 including: Your dinner comes with fries. 6 using something, or by means of something: Don’t eat with your fingers! What will you buy with the money? 7 in order to say what covers or fills something: I prefer a pillow filled with feathers. 8 with something, or by means of something: Connie smiled with pride. 9 used to say who or what someone has a particular feeling toward: She’s in love with you. 10 used to say which other person, group, or country is involved in an action or activity: He’s always arguing with his son. 11 the war with Germany 12 at the same rate as something else, and because of it: The wine will get better with age. 13 be with me/you (spoken) to understand what someone is saying: Are you with me? 14 employed by someone: Jack has been with the company for 25 years. 15 used to talk about the position of someone’s body: He stood with his back to the wall.

withdraw /wɪðd्रɔːr/ v. (past tense withdrew, past participle withdrawn, past participle withdrawn ˈdrɔːrn) 1 [T] to take money out of a bank account: He withdrew $200 from his savings account. 2 [T] to stop giving support or money to someone or something: Congress threatened to withdraw support for the space project. 3 [T] to stop taking part in a competition, race, etc., or to leave an organization: She was withdrawn from Winston Academy. 4 [T] if soldiers withdraw from an area, they leave it: American troops were gradually withdrawn. 5 [T] if you withdraw a threat, request, proposal, etc., you say that you no longer intend to do what you said or no longer want what you asked for: We have withdrawn our offer to buy the company.

withdrawal /wɪðdɾɔʊəl/ n. 1 [C] the action of taking money out of a bank account, or the amount you take out: I’d like to make a withdrawal, please. 2 [C] the act of withdrawing. 3 [U] the action of not continuing to give something: Their leader was threatened with the withdrawal of U.S. aid. 4 [U] the act of no longer taking part in an activity or being a member of an organization: Hanson’s withdrawal from the competition surprised everyone. 5 [U] the pain, bad feelings, etc. that someone suffers when she stops regularly taking a drug: Many people have withdrawal symptoms when they quit smoking.

withdrawn /wɪðdɾɔʊn/ adj. quiet, and not wanting to talk to people: As the years passed, he became increasingly withdrawn.

with-er /wɪðər/ also wither away v. [I] 1 if a plant withers, its leaves become dry and it starts to die 2 to become weaker and then disappear: Our morale eventually withered away.

withhold /wɪðhəuld, wɪð-/ v. (past tense and past participle withheld) [T] to refuse to give someone something: They said McShane had withheld information from Congress.

with-in /wɪðɪn/ adj. during the period of time mentioned, or before the period of time ends: The movie should start within the next five minutes. 1 within a month of meeting him, I knew I was in love. 2 less than a certain distance from a particular place: We need a hotel within a mile of the airport. 3 inside an organization, society, or group of people: There have been a lot of changes within the department since I joined. 4 according to particular limits or rules: You must drive within the speed limit.

with-out /wɪðəut, wɪðəut/ adv. prep. 1 not having a particular thing: I can’t see anything without my glasses. 2 they went without food and water for two days. 2 not having someone with you: Why did you leave without me? 3 we can’t finish this job without Jake. 4 not doing a particular thing: He left without saying goodbye. 5 Suddenly, without warning, Griffin turned and ran. 4 not showing a particular emotion: The mayor announced his resignation without bitterness.

with-stand /wɪðəstænd, wɪð-/ v. (past tense and past participle withstood) to not be harmed or affected by something: The buildings have withstood earthquakes since 1916.

wit-ness /wɪtˈnɛs/ n. [C] 1 someone who saw woeful /ˈwʊfəl/ adj. 1 very bad or serious: the woeful state of the economy 2 (literary) very sad: a woeful goodbye —woefully adv.: woefully inadequate facilities

wk. /wʊk/ n. [C] a large round pan, used especially in Chinese cooking woke /wʊk/ v. the past tense of wake woke /ˈwʊk/ v. the past participle of wake wolf /wʊlf/ n. (plural wolves /wʊlvz/) [C] a wild animal similar to a large dog woe (C) an adult female person — man: Who was that woman you were talking to? Ireland’s first woman president | single women 2 [singular] women in general: It’s not safe there for a woman traveling alone. [Origin: Old English wifman, from wif “woman, wife” + man “person”] wonder (C) a feeling of admiration and surprise: They listened to Lisa’s story in with wonder. 2 no wonder (spoken) said when you are not surprised about something: No wonder you feel sick – you ate a whole pizza! 3 [C usually plural] something that is very impressive: the wonders of modern technology wonderful adj. [only before noun] very good and effective: a new wonder drug wonderful adj. extremely good — wonderful adv.

witness /ˈwɪtnɪs/ n. (plural witnesses) [U] a person who sees something and tells about it in court or in other situations witnessed /ˈwɪtnɪst/ v. [T] to see or hear something: She witnessed the accident.

witnesses /ˈwɪtnɪzɪz/ n. (plural) the group of people who see something in court or in other situations witness stand /ˈwɪtnɪs stænd/ n. [C] the place in a court of law where a witness answers questions

wit-ty /ˈwɪtɪ/ adj. (comparative witty, superlative wittest) smart and amusing: a witty young man | a witty response witty adj. — wittier, wittiest wit-li-cism /ˈwɪtlɪˌsɪzəm/ n. [C] a smart and amusing remark wit(t)less /ˈwɪtlɪs/ n. (plural witlesses) a person who is too stupid to be able to understand or do something well woe-be-gone /ˈwʊəbəɡən/ adj. extremely sad: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

woe-be-gone /ˈwʊəbəɡən/ adj. extremely sad: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

woe (C) a feeling of deep sadness or trouble: — woeful adj.

woe-ful /ˈwʊəfəl/ adj. — woefully adv.

woe (C) a feeling of deep sadness or trouble: — woeful adj.

woe (C) a feeling of deep sadness or trouble: — woeful adj.

wobble /ˈwʌbəl/ v. (T) to move from side to side — wobbly adj.: a wobbly chair wo(ken) /ˈwʊken/ adj. — woken /ˈwʊkən/ v.

wo(lf) /ˈwʊlf/ adj. — wolf down v. [T] (informal) to eat something very quickly: She wolfed down a couple of hamburgers.

wo(lf) /ˈwʊlf/ adj. — wolf down v. [T] (informal) to eat something very quickly: She wolfed down a couple of hamburgers.

wo(w) /ˈwʊw/ n. the plural of wife

woe (C) a feeling of deep sadness or trouble: — woeful adj.

woe (C) a feeling of deep sadness or trouble: — woeful adj.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

wonder /ˈwʌndər/ v. (T) to think about something that you are not sure about, and try to guess what is true, what will happen, etc.: I wonder if she knows we’re here. 2 I wonder how Wendy’s feeling today. | We wondered where you’d gone. 2 I was wondering if/whether (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone if s/he would like to do something: We were wondering whether you’d like to come with us. b) used in order to politely ask for something: I was wondering if I could use your phone. 3 to doubt whether someone or something is good or true: I began to wonder about this business of his. 4 to be surprised by something: I wonder why she didn’t call the police.

won’t /wʊnt/ v. the short form of “will not”: Dad won’t like it.
woof /ˈwuːf/ n. 1 to say or do something:

1. [T] the sound a dog makes when it barks
2. [C] the soft thick hair of a sheep, used for making cloth and YARN
3. [U] the parts of a building that are made of wood
4. [C,U] the material that trees are covered with trees
5. [C] a bird that uses its long beak to make holes in trees woody /ˈwʊdi/ adj. looking, smelling, tasting, etc. like wood; woody plants wool /wʊl/ n. [U] a piece of news or a message:

The word is the company’s closing its offices in Houston. | Have you heard any word from your lawyers yet? | The group went on television to spread the word (=tell other people the news) about child abuse. | Many people learned about the band by word of mouth (=because someone told them about the band).

wool·ed /ˈwʊld/ adj. made of wool: wooden bench wool·ens /ˈwʊlnz/ n. [plural] clothes that are made from wool woolly /ˈwʊli/ adj. made of or feeling like wool: a woolly hat word /wɜːd/ n.

1 LANGUAGE PART [C] a group of sounds or letters that have a particular meaning: “Casa” is the Spanish word for “house.” | Write a 500-word essay about your family. | I know the tune, but not the words.
2 SYT SAI D/W RITTEN [C] something that you say or write: Tell us what happened in your own words. | Promise you won’t say a word (=not say anything) about the accident to John.
3 not believe/hear/understand a word used to emphasize that you do not believe or cannot hear any part of what someone is saying: I didn’t understand a word you said.
4 STATEMENT [C] something important that someone says to you: Mr. Gleeson would like a word with you in his office. | Can I give you a word of caution/advice/encouragement etc. (=used when you want to warn someone not to do something, give them some advice, etc.)? | Mr. Martin will now say a few words (=make a short speech).
5 in other words used when you are repeating a statement in a clearer way: Some people aren’t demonstrative. In other words, they don’t express their feelings.
6 NEWS [singular, U] something that you say or write that is important: The word was the company’s closing its offices in Houston. | Have you heard any word from your lawyers yet? | The group went on television to spread the word (=tell other people the news) about child abuse. | Many people learned about the band by word of mouth (=because someone told them about the band).
7 sb’s word someone’s promise or statement that is true: I give you my word; we’ll take good care of him. | I trust him to keep his word. | The money’s all there — take my word for it (=believe what I say is true). | He’s a man of his word (=does what he promises to do).
8 swear/dirty/cuss word a word that is considered to be offensive or shocking by most people
9 word for word in exactly the same words: That’s not what he said word for word, but it’s close.
10 put in a good word for sb to try to help someone get or achieve something by saying good things about him/her to someone else: Could you put in a good word for me with your boss?
11 the last word the last statement in a discussion or argument: She’s not content unless she has the last word.
12 not in so many words not in a direct way: “So Dad said he’d pay for it!” “Not in so many words.”
13 give/say the word to tell someone to start doing something: Don’t move until I give the word.
14 the final word the power to decide whether or how to do something: My boss has the final word on hiring stuff.

word² v. [T] to use words that are carefully chosen work

when saying or writing something: a carefully worded letter word-family n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a group of related words that are all formed from the same base word. For example, the word family of the word “final” includes “finally,” “finalist,” and “finality.”

word-ing /ˈwɜːdɪŋ/ n. [U] the words and phrases used in order to express something: the exact wording of the contract word-processor n. [C] a small computer or computer software that you use for writing

—word-processing n. [U]

word-y /ˈwɜːdi/ adj. (disapproving) using too many words: a wordy explanation wore /wɔːr/ v. the past tense of wear

work /wɜːk/ v

1. DO A JOB [I, T] to do a job in order to earn money, or to do the activities and duties that are part of your job: “Where do you work?”  “I work in the city.”  Heidi works for a law firm in Montreal.  | I used to work at Burger King.  | She works as a bartender in a nightclub.  | He’s working with children who have learning difficulties.  | Are you willing to work nights/weekends etc.?

2. MACHINE/EQUIPMENT
   a) [I] if a machine or piece of equipment works, it does what it is supposed to do: Does anyone know how to work the printer?
   b) [T] to make a machine or piece of equipment do what it is supposed to do: Does anyone know how to work the printer?

3. BE EFFECTIVE [I] to be effective or successful: This plan isn’t going to work.  | I hope this cough medicine works.

4. DO AN ACTIVITY [I] to do something that needs effort in order to achieve a result: He’s working toward a better life for his family.  | She’s been working hard to get the house ready.

5. WORK YOUR WAY THROUGH/to etc. sth a) to move somewhere slowly and with difficulty: He worked his way through the crowd.  b) to achieve something gradually by working: Dave worked his way to the top of the firm.

6. WORK YOUR WAY THROUGH SCHOOL/college to do a job while you are in college because you need the money to help pay for it

7. HAVE AN EFFECT [I] to have a particular effect on someone or something: Unfortunately, her bad grades worked against (=caused problems for) her.  | Your job experience should work in your favor (=help you).

8. MOVE SLOWLY [I,T] to move into a position slowly with many small movements, or to move something in this way: Slowly, he worked the screwdriver into the crack.

9. SHAPE STH [I] if you work a material such as clay, leather, or metal, you bend it, shape it, etc. in order to make something

10. EXERCISE [I] to exercise a muscle or part of your body

11. LAND [T] if you work the land or the soil, you try to grow crops on it [Origin: Old English wyrcan]

work on phr. v

1. work on sth to try to repair, complete, or improve something: Dad’s still working on the car.  | I need to work on my essay.

2. work on sth to try continuously to influence someone, or persuade him/her to do something: work out phr. v

1. if something works out, it gradually stops being a problem: Don’t worry. I’m sure everything will work out fine.

2. to do a set of exercises that make you stronger: Sue works out in the gym twice a week.

3. work at sth to calculate an amount, price, or value: Have you worked out how much we owe them?

4. to cost a particular amount: The hotel works out to/at about $50 a night.

5. work at sth to find a solution to a problem, or make a decision after thinking carefully: He still hasn’t worked out which college he’s going to.

work up phr. v

1. work up sth to gradually prepare yourself for something difficult: I started with 10 laps and now I’ve worked up to 20.

2. work up an appetite/a sweat to do so much exercise that you become very hungry or sweaty

3. work up to sth phr. v

to gradually prepare yourself for something difficult: I started with 10 laps and now I’ve worked up to 20.

work out phr. v

1. work out sth to find a solution to a problem, or make a decision after thinking carefully: He still hasn’t worked out which college he’s going to.

2. to do a set of exercises that make you stronger: Sue works out in the gym twice a week.

3. work out to calculate an amount, price, or value: Have you worked out how much we owe them?

4. to cost a particular amount: The hotel works out to/at about $50 a night.

5. work out sth to find a solution to a problem, or make a decision after thinking carefully: He still hasn’t worked out which college he’s going to.

6. work out to gradually prepare yourself for something difficult: I started with 10 laps and now I’ve worked up to 20.

work n. [U] your job or the activities that you do regularly to earn money: Much of our work involves meeting clients.  | Do you want to go to dinner after work (=after you have finished working)?  | Hurry up, or we’ll be late for work.  | I’ve been out of work (=without a job) for a year.  | Rob’s still looking for work.  | Don’t say “I have a work.”  Say “I have a job.”

workplace n. [C] the place where you do your job: I’ll see you at work on Monday.

work as a noun:

1. [U] physical or mental activity and effort: Looking after children can be hard work.  | Stop talking and get to work (=start working)!  | They’ve done a lot of work on their house.

2. [U] the things you produce for your job, as part of a class, etc.: We’re pleased with your work.  | an excellent piece of work

3. [C] a painting, book, play, piece of music, etc.: great works of art workable /'wɜːkəbəl/ adj: a workable plan or system can be used or done effectively; a workable solution
work-a-ble /'wɜːkəbəl/ adj: a workable plan or system can be used or done effectively; a workable solution work-a-hol-ic /'wɜːkahəlɪk/ n. [C] (informal) someone who spends all his/her time working work-bench /'wɜːkbɛntʃ/ n. [C] a strong table used for working on things with tools work-book /'wɜːkbʊk/ n. [C] a school book with questions and exercises in it worked up adj. (informal) very upset or excited (about something: Don’t get so worked up about your daughter.
work-er /'wɜːkər/ n. [C] 1 someone who works for a company or organization, especially someone who is not a manager. Fifty workers lost their jobs. | a farm worker | someone who works in a particular way: Lisa’s a good/hard/slow etc. worker.
workers’ compen/sation also workers’ comp n. [U] money that a company must pay to a worker who is injured or becomes sick as a result of his/her job work-fare /'wɜːkfɛə/ n. [U] a system under which unemployed people must work before they are given money by the government work-force /'wɜːkfɔːs/ n. [singular] all the people who work in a particular country, industry, or company: There are still more men than women in the workforce.
work-ing /'wɜːknɪŋ/ adj. [only before noun] 1 having a job: a working mother | 2 relating to work: bad working conditions | 3 in working order working correctly and not broken: My watch is still in good working order. | 4 a working knowledge of sth enough practical knowledge about something to use it effectively work-class n. the working class social science the group of people in society who usually do physical work and who do not have much money or power | lower class, middle class, upper class — working-class adj: a working-class neighborhood work-ings /'wɜːknɪŋz/ n. [plural] the way something works: The article explains the workings of government departments. work-load /'wɜːkləʊd/ n. [C] the amount of work that a person is expected to do: a heavy workload (=a lot of work)
work cut out (for you) (informal) used to say that it will be very difficult to do something | 8 work clothes clothes designed for people to work in | 9 the (whole) works spoken everything that is available with something you are buying: a hamburger with the works (=with onions, cheese, etc.) | 10 works [plural] a building where goods are produced or an industrial process takes place: a gas works.
work-man /'wɜːkmən/ n. (plural workmen) [C] someone who does physical work such as building or repairing things work-man-ly /'wɜːkmənlɪ/ adj; skillfully and carefully done, but often in an uninteresting way: a workmanlike performance work-man-ship /'wɜːkmənʃɪp/ n. [U] the skill with which something has been made work-out /'wɜːkəut/ n. [C] a series of physical exercises that you do to keep your body strong and healthy: I started my workout with some stretching exercises. → exercise work-sheet /'wɜːkʃiːt/ n. [C] a piece of paper with questions, exercises, etc. for students work-shop /'wɜːkʃɒp/ n. [C] 1 a room or building where people use tools and machines to make or repair things. | 2 a meeting at which people try to improve their skills by discussing their experiences and doing practical exercises: a writing workshop work-sta-tion /'wɜːkstəˈjeɪn/ n. [C] the part of an office where you work, including your desk, computer, etc.
world /'wɜːld/ n. 1 the world the planet we live on, and all the people, countries, etc. on it: Earth; the world’s longest river | athletes from all over the world/ around the world compete in the Olympics. | The practice is illegal in many parts of the world. → earth
2 society [singular] our society, and the way that people live and behave: I want a better world for my kids. | in an ideal world, you and your sister would get along.
3 area of activity/work [C usually singular] a particular area of activity or work, and the people who are involved in it: the world of sports | the music world
4 countries [singular] a particular group of countries: the Western world/ the industrialized world
5 difference/change [C] used to emphasize that a difference or change is very great: There’s a world of difference between his public and private life. | we’re worlds apart.
6 sb’s life [C] the life and experiences of a particular person or group of people: He lives in a world of his own. | The book explores the writer Hemingway’s world.
7 in the world used in order to emphasize what you are saying: You’re the best dad in the world. | why in the world should I listen to you?
8 the animal/plant/insect world animals, etc. considered as a group
9 another world [C] another planet that is not the Earth: a science fiction novel set on a world light years away from Earth
10 have the best of both worlds to have the advantages of two completely different things 11 out of this world (informal) very good: Their ice cream is out of this world!
12 do sb a world of good (informal) to make someone feel much better: A vacation would do you a world of good.
worse /wør/ adj. 1 unhappy or nervous because you are worrying about someone or something: We were really worried about you! | I got worried when you didn’t call; | People are worried that they may lose their jobs.

worried /′worid/, ′wɔrid/ adj. 1 sb’s world or possessions everything someone owns; 2 knowing a lot about people and society, based on experience: worldly young men worldly /′wɔrli/ adj. among the best in the world: a world-class athlete world-famous adj. known about by people all over the world: a world-famous musician worldly /′wɔrli/ adj. 1 sb’s worldly goods/possessions everything someone owns; 2 knowing a lot about people and society, based on experience: worldly young men world’s /′wɔrlz/ or [plural] /′wɔrli/ n. [C] a powerful country that has a lot of influence in many parts of the world

world record n. [C] the fastest time, longest distance, highest level, etc. that anyone has ever achieved anywhere in the world, especially in a sport: He set a new world record for the marathon. | the 800-meter world record holder

World Series n. the World Series the last series of baseball games that is played each year in order to decide the best professional team in the U.S. and Canada worldwide /′wɔrdwidoʊ/ adj. everywhere in the world; worldwide fame → everywhere

WorldWideWeb (abbreviation WWW) n. the World Wide Web the system that connects computers around the world together so that people can use the world wide web and find information on the Internet (SYN the Web) worm /wɜrm/ n. [C] 1 a small tube-shaped creature with a soft body and no legs that lives in the ground; 2 a type of computer virus that can make copies of itself and destroy information on computers that are connected to each other (OriGIn: Old English wyrgan “snake, worm”) worm /wɔrm/ v. worm your way into/through etc. sth to move slowly through or into a small place or a crowd: My daughter wormed her way into my sleeping bag worm /wɜrm/ v. the past participle of WEAR wormy /′wɔrmi/ adj. 1 a worm object is old and slightly damaged because it has been used a lot: worn-out sneakers worried /′worid/, ′wɔrid/ adj. 1 unhappy or nervous because you are worrying about someone or something: We were really worried about you! | I got worried when you didn’t call; | People are worried that they may lose their jobs.

worried /′worid/, ′wɔrid/ adj. 1 unhappy or nervous because you are worrying about someone or something: We were really worried about you! | I got worried when you didn’t call; | People are worried that they may lose their jobs.
well, or less successfully: Margo sings even worse than I do!

worse adj. something worse: Critics are wrong to say the changes are for the worse (=make things worse).

worst adj. to become worse, or to make something become worse: The weather had worsened.

worse adj. poorer, less successful, or having fewer advantages than you did before: There are a lot of people worse off than I am.

worship v. (past tense and past participle worshiped or worshipped, present participle worshipping or worshipping) 1 [T] to show respect and love for a god, especially by praying in a church, temple, etc.: People have worshipped in this church for hundreds of years. 2 [T] to love and admire someone very much: She worships her grandpa. —worshiper n. [U]: a house of worship (=a church or building where people can pray) —worshipful adj.

worst adj. (the superlative of "bad") worse than anything else of the same type: It was the worst movie I’ve ever seen. The worst snowstorm in years worst adj. 1 the worst someone or something that is worse than all others: This is the worst I’ve ever done on a test. The worst of the storm seemed to be over. 2 at worst if a thing or situation is as bad as it can be: At worst, the repairs will cost you around $700. 3 if (the) worst comes to (the) worst if the worst possible thing happens: If worst comes to worst, we’ll have to sell the house.

worst adj. 1 in the worst way, or most severely: Their city was worst affected by the war. 2 worst of all to say what the worst feature of someone or something is: He is mean, selfish and, worst of all, lazy.

worth adj. 1 be worth sth to have a particular value, especially in money: Our house is worth about $350,000. Each question is worth 4 points. 2 be worth (doing) sth to be helpful, valuable, interesting, or good for you: The Getty Museum is definitely worth a visitworth visiting. It was a lot of hard work, but it was worth it. Stop crying over him. He’s not worth it. It is worth pausing to examine this more closely. It’s worth a try (=you might get what you want if you try doing something). 3 worth your while to be valuable to you because you could gain something you want or need: It’d be worth your while to talk to someone who works there.

worth n. 1. of sth an amount of something based on how much money you spend, how much time you use, etc.: 20 dollars’ worth of gas | a year’s worth of training | 2 [U] the worth of someone or something is how important or useful he, she, or it is: children who have a sense of their own worth | The new computer system has already proved its worth. 3 [U] the worth of something is its value in money: It is difficult to estimate the current worth of the company.

worthless adj. 1 not valuable, not important, or not useful: The data was worthless. 2 a worthless person has no good qualities or useful skills worthwhile adj. if something is worthwhile, it is important or useful, or you gain something from it: All that work finally seemed worthwhile.

worthy adj. 1 good enough to deserve respect, admiration, or attention: a worthy opponent | worthy achievements 2 be worthy of sth (formal) to deserve something: We need a leader who is worthy of respect.

would v. (would, would, would) 1 used as a past tense of "will" when reporting what someone has said or thought: Mr. Thomas said it would be okay to go. She told me she wouldn’t (=would not) come. 2 used when talking about a possible situation or about a situation that does not exist: Dad would be really mad if he knew. I’d (=I would) help you if I could. If you had listened to me, you wouldn’t have gotten in trouble. 3 used in order to say what you intended to do or expected to happen: I thought Caroline would be happy, but she got really mad at me. | Glenn knew he’d (=she would) be tired the next day. 4 used in order to say that something happened regularly in the past: In the evenings, we’d (=we would) read or play games. 5 would not/ wouldn’t used in order to say that someone refused to do something or that something did not happen even though you tried to make it happen: Blair would not answer the question. The door wouldn’t open.

spoken phrases

6 would like/would love used in order to say that you want something: I would love to see your new house! 7 Would you...? said in order to ask for or offer something politely: Would you bring me that broom? Would you like a drink? Would you mind waiting until tomorrow? 8 I wouldn’t/ wouldn’t used in order to give advice: I’d (=I would) try to get there early. I wouldn’t go by myself. If I were you. 9 used before verbs that express what you think, when you want to make an opinion less definite: I would have thought you’d be tired. 10 would sooner/would (just) as soon used when you are saying what you would prefer to happen or be done: I’d just as soon stay in and watch TV. We would rather said when you prefer doing or having one thing instead of another: I would rather take a nice vacation than spend a lot on clothes. that someone has done: You would go and tell the teacher!

would-be adj. would-be actor/robber etc., someone who hopes to have a particular job or intends to do a particular thing wouldn’t /wʊd̪n/ v the short form of “would not”: She wouldn’t answer.

would’ve /wʊd̪v/ v the short form of “would have”: You wouldn’t liked it.

wound /wʊnd/ n [C] 1 an injury, especially a deep cut made in your skin by a knife or bullet; gunshot wounds | Keston suffered/received severe wounds in the attack.

wound up /wʊnd ap/ adj. very angry, nervous, or excited: He got so wound up he couldn’t sleep.

wove /waʊv/ v the past tense of weave woen /wʊvən/ v the past participle of weave wow /wʊ/ v [T] 1 to injure someone, especially with a knife or gun: Two officers were badly/seriously/seriously wounded.

wounded adj. hurt, injure, maim ➔ HURT

wound up /wʊnd ap/ adj. very angry, nervous, or excited: He got so wound up he couldn’t sleep.

wreath /rɛθ/ n [C] an arrangement of flowers and leaves arranged in a circle wrench /wrɛnʃ/ v [T] (informal) 1 to completely spoil something so that it cannot continue in a successful way: His drinking problem wrecked their marriage. 2 to damage something, such as a car or building, so badly that it cannot be repaired wreck /rɛk/ v [T] (informal) 1 to completely spoil something so that it cannot continue in a successful way: His drinking problem wrecked their marriage. 2 to damage something, such as a car or building, so badly that it cannot be repaired

wreath /rɛθ/ n [C] an arrangement of flowers and leaves arranged in a circle

wrench /wrɛnʃ/ n [C] a large tool with a round end, used for turning nuts wrenching /rɛnʃ/ adj. extremely difficult to deal with, and involving strong emotions: a wrenching choice | a gut-wrenching/heart-wrenching story (one that makes you feel strong emotions) wrest /rɛst/ v (formal) wrest sth from sb a) to take away someone’s power or influence b) to violently pull something away from someone wrestle /rɛst/ v [I,T] to fight by holding onto someone and trying to push or pull him/her wrestling 1160

down 2 [i] to try to deal with a difficult problem or emotion: Several cities are wrestling with budget deficits.

wrestling /ˈrɛstlɪŋ/ n. [U] a sport in which you try to throw your opponent to the ground and hold him/her there. —wrestler /ˈrɛstlər/ n. [C] wretch /rɛtʃ/ n. [C] (literary) someone whom you pity wretched /ˈrɛtʃɪd/ adj. extremely unhappy, especially because you are lonely, sick, poor, etc.

wriggle /ˈrɪgl/ v. [I] 1 to twist from side to side with small quick movements, or to move part of your body this way: A small child sat wriggling in her lap. —wriggler n. [C] wring /rɪŋ/ v. (past tense and past participle wrung /rʌŋ/) 1 also wring out to tightly twist wet clothes, sheets, etc. in order to remove water from them 2 to succeed in getting something from someone, after a lot of effort: The company is trying to wring more work from its employees. 3 wring your hands to rub and press your hands together because you are nervous or upset 4 wring sth’s neck to kill an animal or bird, such as a chicken, by twisting its neck wringing /ˈrɪŋɪŋ/ n. 1 go through the wringer (informal) to have an unpleasant or difficult experience 2 [C] a machine used especially in past times for pressing water out of washed clothes wrinkle /ˈrɪŋkl/ n. 1 a line on your face or skin, that you get when you are old 2 a line in cloth, paper, etc. caused by crushing it or accidentally folding it: wrinkles in his shirt wrinkles /ˈrɪŋklz/ n. [U] to form small folds in something such as clothes or skin, or to be shaped in these folds: Linen wrinkles easily. —wrinkled adj.: his wrinkled face wrist /rɪst/ n. [C] the joint between your hand and your arm: She had a silver bracelet on her wrist. —see picture at HAND wristwatch /rɪst-wɔtʃ/ n. [C] a watch that you wear on your wrist write /raɪt/ v. (past tense wrote /raʊt/, past participle written /ˈrɪtɪŋ/) 1 a) [I,T] to produce a new book, story, article, etc.: Bombeck wrote about family life in a funny way. b) [I] to earn money by writing books, plays, articles, etc.: He writes for “The Chronicle.” 2 [I,T] to write a letter to someone: Have you written to Mom yet? 3 [I] to form words, letters, or numbers with a pen or pencil: In kindergarten, kids start learning to write. 4 [I,T] to record information in the memory of a computer, on a disk, etc. [Origin: Old English writan “to scratch, draw, write”] write up phr.v. to reply to someone’s letter by writing a letter and sending it to him/her: Write back soon!

write sth ↔ down phr.v. to write something on a piece of paper: I wrote down her phone number.

write in phr.v. 1 to write a letter to an organization in order to complain, ask for information, or give an opinion 2 write sb ↔ in to add someone’s name to your ballot in order to vote for him/her write off phr.v. 1 write sb ↔ off to decide that someone or something is useless, unimportant, or a failure: Casey had been written off as a “problem student.” 2 write sth ↔ off to decide that a debt will never be paid to you, and officially accept it as a loss write sth ↔ out phr.v. to write all the information that is needed for a list, report, check, etc.: Gina wrote out a check for $820.

write sth ↔ up phr.v. to write something such as a report, article, etc., based on notes you made earlier: Doug is writing up the results of his research.

write-in n. [C] politics a vote that you give someone who is not on the ballot by writing his/her name on it write-off n. [C] an official agreement that someone does not have to pay a debt writer /ˈrɪtər/ n. [C] someone who writes books, stories, etc. in order to earn money: a writer of children’s books | a speech writer write-up n. [C] an opinion about a new book, play, product, etc., that appears in a magazine or newspaper write

writ·ten /ˈrɪtn/ v. [I] to twist your body because you are suffering pain: A soldier was writing in pain/ agony.

writing /ˈrɪtnɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] words that are written or printed: She was wearing a T-shirt with Japanese writing on the back. 2 [U] the particular way someone writes with a pen or pencil (syn) handwriting: her neat writing 3 in writing a promise, agreement, etc. that is in writing has been written down, which proves that it is official 4 [U] the activity or job of writing books, stories, etc.: creative writing | The children were working on a piece of writing. 5 [U] books, stories, and poems in general: European writing from the 1930s 6 writings [plural] the books, stories, poems, etc. that a particular person writes: Mark Twain’s writings written /ˈrɪtnənd/ v. the past participle of write wrong /rˈɔŋ/ adj. 1 not correct, not the one you intended, or not the one you should use (syn) right: You’re wrong – I was there and I know. I bought the wrong size. I got question 4 wrong. You must have dialled the wrong number (=not the telephone number you wanted).

2 not morally right or acceptable (syn) bad (syn) right: He didn’t do anything wrong? | What’s wrong with making a profit? → BAD 3 not suitable (syn) right: It was the wrong time to make such a big decision. I think they’re wrong for each other. → used in order to describe a situation where there are problems, or when someone is sick or unhappy: Ed noticed that there was something wrong, as his son’s grades started slipping. | What’s wrong, Jenny? | What’s wrong with your shoulder? 5 if something is wrong with a vehicle or machine, it is not working correctly: What’s wrong with the phone? 6 be in the wrong place at the wrong time to become involved in a bad situation without intending to: 7 the wrong side of the tracks (informal) a poor part of a town or a poor part of society: The story is about a boy growing up on the wrong side of the tracks. [Ours: 1100—1200 Old Norse ríg “not correct or as planned”]

wrong2 adv. 1 not done in the correct way (syn) right: You spelled my name wrong. 2 go wrong to develop problems and stop being good, successful, useful, etc.: Everything went wrong yesterday. Something has gone wrong with the car. 3 get sth wrong to make a mistake in the way you understand or understand something: I got the answer wrong. | Don’t get me wrong – I like Bennu. I just don’t like what he’s doing.

wrong3 n. 1 [U] behavior that is not morally correct: Parents teach their children the difference between right and wrong. 2 [C] an action, decision, situation, etc. that is not fair: We want a chance to right the wrongs they have suffered (=have a fair solution to an unfair situation). 3 be in the wrong to make a mistake, or deserve the blame for something: 4 sb can do no wrong used in order to say that someone seems to be perfect wrong4 v. [T] (formal) to treat someone unfairly or judge him/her unfairly: They believe that they have been wronged.

wrong-do·ing /ˈrɔŋˌdənɪŋ/ n. [C,U] (formal) illegal actions or immoral behavior → wrongdoer n. [C] wrongful /ˈrɔŋfl/ adj. unfair or illegal: a wrongful death suit → wrongfully adv wrong·ly /ˈrɔŋli/ adv. not correctly, or in a way that is unfair or immoral: He was wrongly accused of fighting.

wrote /rɔt/ v. the past tense of write wrought iron n. [U] long thin pieces of iron formed into shapes: a wrought iron gate wring /rɪŋ/ v. the past tense and past participle of wring wry /rɪ adj. showing in a humorous way that you are not pleased by something: a wry smile

WY the written abbreviation of WEST VIRGINIA

WWW n. IT the written abbreviation of the WORLD WIDE WEB

WY the written abbreviation of WYOMING

WYSIWYG /ˈwaɪzɪˌwɪɡ/ n. [U] what you see is what you get if a way of showing information, a document, etc. on a computer screen in the way that it will look when it is printed X, x /eks/ 1 the 24th letter of the English alphabet 2 the number 10 in the system of ROMAN NUMERALS 3 a mark used to show a kiss: Love, Grandma XXX x /eks/ MATH a sign used in mathematics, representing a number or quantity that is not known but can be calculated: If 3x = 6, then x = 2.

x-axis /eks,eksəs/ n. [C] MATH the line that goes from left to right of a GRAPH ➔ X-AXIS

X-chromosome /eksˌkrıˈzəmən, -ˌkrıˈzəm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a type of CHROMOSOME that exists in pairs in female cells, and with a Y-CHROMOSOME in male cells x-co-ordinate /eksˌkouəˈrɛntid/ n. [singular] MATH the position of a point in relation to the x-axis of a GRAPH ➔ Y-COORDINATE xenobiota /ˈzɛnəˌbaɪətə/ n. [U] an extreme fear or dislike of people from other countries [Origin: 1900–2000 Greek xenos “strange” + phobos “fear”] ➔ xenophobe x-intercept /eksˌɪntəˈsɛpt/ n. [singular] MATH the point where a line crosses the X-AXIS of a GRAPH ➔ Y-INTERCEPT

XL extra large used on clothes to show that a piece of clothing is very big

Xmas /ˈkrısməs, ˈɛksməs/ n. [C,U] informal a written form of the word Christmas

XML n. [U] ➔ Extensible Markup Language a computer language that allows you to write documents in a structure that can be read on different computer systems ➔ HTML, SGML

X-ray /ˈeks rɛɪ/ n. [C] 1 PHYSICS a beam of RADIATION that can go through solid objects and is used for taking photographs of the inside of the body 2 an X-ray photograph taken by doctors in order to search for broken bones, injuries, etc. inside someone’s body: The X-ray showed that her leg was not broken.

X-ray /ˈeks rɛɪ/ v. [X-rayed. X-rays. X-raising] [T] to photograph part of someone’s body using X-rays

X-ray telescope n. [C] PHYSICS a special TELESCOPE that can see the X-rays sent out from distant objects in space, such as stars or BLACK HOLES xylogen /ˈzɛksˌloʊn/ n. [singular. U] BIOLOGY the woody structure that carries water up from the roots to the other parts of the plant xylophone /ˈzɛlkəˌfoʊn/ n. [C] a musical instrument with flat metal bars, that you play by hitting them with a stick

Y, y /waɪ/ the 25th letter of the English alphabet yacht /ˈyaʊt/ n. [C] a large expensive boat used for sailing, racing, and traveling for pleasure [Origin: 1500–1600 Early modern Dutch jachtschiff “hunting ship”] ➔ see picture at TRANSPORTATION

yak /ˈyæk/ n. [C] a long-haired cow from central Asia

yank /yæŋk/ v. (yakked. yakking) [I] (informal) to talk a lot about things that are not serious yard /ˈjɑːrd/ 1 the land around a house, usually covered with grass: The kids were playing in the front/back yard. 2 (written abbreviation yd.) a unit for measuring length, equal to 3 feet or 0.9144 meters: The beach was only a hundred yards from my back door. [Origin: (1) Old English geard “enclosed area”] yard sale n. [C] a sale of used clothes, furniture, toys, etc. from someone’s house that takes place in his/her yard ➔ GARAGE SALE yard-stick /ˈjɑrdˌstɪk/ n. [C] 1 something that you compare another thing with, in order to judge how good or successful it is: He uses his dad’s accomplishments as a yardstick against which to measure his own achievements. 2 a special stick that is exactly one yard long, used for measuring year·mul·ke /ˈjɛrmulˌki/ n. [C] a small round cap worn by some Jewish men yarn /ˈjɔrn/ n. 1 [U] a thick type of thread used for knitting 2 [C] (informal) a long story that is not completely true year·ling /ˈjɛrlɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a young animal, especially a horse, between the ages of one and two yeast /ˈjɛst/ n. [U] a substance used for making bread rise and for producing alcohol in beer or wine eyell /ˈjɛl/ v. [I, T] to shout or say something very loudly because you are angry, excited, or frightened: Don’t yell at me! 2 Someone yelled out the score. | She yelled, “Come back here!” 3 —yell n. [C]

yellow /ˈjɔl/ adj having the same color as lemons or butter: yellow flowers | [Origin: Old English geolu]

yellow·law /ˈjɔləl/ adj yellow law yelp /ˈjɛlp/ v. [I] 1 to make a short high cry like a dog makes, because of pain, excitement, etc. 2 —yelp n. [C] yep /ˈjɛp/ adv. (spoken, informal) yes

yes /ˈjɛs/ adv. (spoken) 1 said in order to give a positive reply to a question, offer, or request: “Is it real gold?” “Yes.” | “Nancy, did you want some pie?” “Yes, please.” | I’m sure Dad will say yes. 2 said in order to agree with a statement: “It’s such a nice day.” “Yes, it is.” 3 said in order to disagree with a negative statement, to say that the opposite is true: “John doesn’t like me anymore.” “Yes, he does!” | “There’s no bread.” “Yes, there is, in the freezer.” 4 said when you have noticed that someone wants your attention: “Linda!” “Yes?” | Yes, sir, how may I help you? 5 said when you are very happy or excited: Yes! I got the job!

yes·ter·day /ˈjɛstədɪ, ‑ˈdɛt/ adv. on or during the day before today: Where did you go yesterday? 2 The recent past:

yesterday /ˈjɛstərdeɪ/ n. [U] 1 the day before today: Did you go to yesterday’s meeting? 2 yet

The problems of yesterday look easy compared with those of today. [Origin: Old English giestran day, from giestran “yesterday” + deg “day”] yet1 /yet/ adv. 1 used in negative statements and questions to mean “at the present time” or “already”: I don’t think she’s awake yet. 2 at some time in the future. She may change her mind yet. 3 in addition to what you have already gotten, done, etc.: He’s made yet another mistake. I’m sorry to ask for help yet again (=one more time after many others). 4 better/worse yet used in order to emphasize that something is even better or worse than the thing mentioned before: Respond by letter, or yet better, a telephone call. 5 in spite of something but: a quiet yet powerful leader yet2 conjunction used in order to introduce a statement that is surprising: an inexpensive yet effective solution | We sent thousands of forms, yet fewer than 50 were returned.

yew /yu:/ n. [C] U a tree or bush with leaves that look like flat needles, or the heavy wood of this tree

Yidlish /ˈyidendʒəl/ n. [U] a language similar to German, used in many places by Jewish people —Yiddish adj.
yield1 /yild/ v. [T] to produce something: One study has yielded some interesting results. 2 [I,T] to allow yourself to be forced or persuaded to do something: The government will never yield to terrorism.

THE DICTIONARY
submit → SURRENDER

3 [I] to allow the traffic from a bigger road to go first 4 [I] to move, bend, or break because of physical pressure yield2 n. [C] 1 the amount of something that is produced, especially crops 2 economics the amount of profit that you receive from a stock or bond

y-in-ter-cept /ˈwɛɪntɹˌɪŋteɪpt/ n. [singular] MATH the point where a line crosses the Y-AXIS of a GRAPh → X-INTERCEPT yippee /ˈjɪp/ interjection said when you are very happy or excited about something

YMCA n. Young Men’s Christian Association an organization that provides places to stay, sports activities, and training for young men, especially in large cities → YWCA yo /ˈjʊəl/ interjection (slang) said in order to greet someone or get his/her attention, or as a reply when someone says your name yo-del /ˈjʊədl/ v. [I] to sing while changing your natural voice to a very high voice and back again many times yo-ga /ˈjʊɡə/ n. [U] a system of exercises in which you control your body and mind [Origin: 1700—1800 Sanskrit “union”] yo-gurt /ˈjʊɡərt/ n. [U] a smooth thick liquid food that tastes slightly sour, made from milk: a bowl of yogurt [Origin: 1600—1700 Turkish] yoke /ˈjʊk/ n. [C] a wooden bar used for joining together two animals, especially cattle, in order to pull heavy loads —yoke v. [T] yo-keI /ˈjʊʊkəl/ n. [C] (humorous) someone from the country who has not experienced living in modern society yolk /ˈjʊlk/ n. [C] U the yellow part in the center of an egg [Origin: Old English geolca, from geol “yellow”] yon-der /ˈjɒndər/ adv., determiner (literary) over there you /yu, yu; strong yu/ pron [used as a subject or object] 1 the person or people someone is speaking or writing to: You must be hungry. 2 Do you want a drink? 2 people in general → ONE: You can’t trust anybody these days. 3 You never know what Jim will say. 3 used with nouns or phrases when you are talking to or calling someone: You jerk! 4 You kids, be quiet! 4 you all (spoken) used instead of “you” when speaking to two or more people: What do you all want to do tonight?

you’d /ˈjʊəd/; yu’d; strong yu’d/ 1 the short form of “you would”: I didn’t think you’d mind. 2 the short form of “you had”: You’d better do what he says.
you’ll /ˈjʊəl/; yu’ll; strong yu’ll/ the short form of “you will”: You’ll have to speak louder.

young1 /ˈjʊŋ/ adj. 1 at an early stage of life or development (ant: old) young children | You’re too young to get married. | a young country

THESAURUS
A small/little child is a very young child. Someone who is youthful seems or is young. Someone who is immature behaves in a way that is not sensible because it is typical of the behavior of someone much younger. Someone who is green is young and lacks experience. Someone who is underage is too young to legally buy alcohol, drive a car, etc. If someone is at a tender age, s/he is very young and easily influenced. → OLD, CHILD

2 seeming or looking younger than you are youthful: You too can have healthier, younger-looking skin. 3 designed or intended for young people: Is this dress too young for me?
young /ˈyʌŋ/ n. 1 the young young people considered as a group 2 [plural] young animals: a turtle and her young young-stér /ˈyʌŋstər/ n. [C] a young person yo-yo /ˈjəʊʊ/ n. [C] a small toy that is made of two circular parts joined together that go up and down a string as you lift your hand up and down yr. the written abbreviation of YEAR

yuc-ca /ˈyʊka/ n. [C] a desert plant with long pointed leaves and a thick stem → see picture on page A10

yuck /ˈyʌk/ interjection said when you think something is unpleasant: Yuck! This tastes horrible! → yucky adj

Yule /ˈyuːl/ n. [C] (lit) Christmas

Yule-tide /ˈyuːltɪd/ n. [U] (lit) the period from just before Christmas until just after it yum /ˈyəm/ interjection said in order to emphasize that you think something tastes good: Yum! Apple pie!

yum-my /ˈyəmmi/ adj. (informal) food that is yummy tastes very good yup-pie /ˈyʌpi/ n. [C] (informal) a young person who only seems interested in having a professional job, earning a lot of money, and buying expensive things [origin: 1900–2000 young urban professional]

YWCA n. Young Women’s Christian Association an organization that provides places to stay, special help, and training for young women, especially in large cities → YWCA
Z

Zen /zen/ also Zen ‘Buddhism n. [U] a type of Buddhism from Japan that emphasizes meditation.

ze-nith /ˈziːnθ/ n. [C usually singular] 1 the highest point in the development of something: This album shows Simon at the zenith of his powers. 2 the highest point that the Sun or a star reaches in the sky.

Zephr·yr /ˈzefər/ n. [C] (literary) a soft gentle wind.

ze·ro /ˈziːroʊ/ number 1 the number 0.

zero 2 n. (spoken) 1 [C usually singular] a short form of ZIP CODE. 2 [U] nothing at all, or zero: We beat them 10–0.

‘zip code’ n. [C] a number that you put below the address on an envelope to help the post office deliver the mail more quickly [Origin: 1900–2000 zone improvement plan].

‘zip file’ n. [C] a computer file that has been made smaller so that it is easy to store and move.

zipped /ˈzɪpt/ v. (past tense) to fasten something using a ZIPPER. Zip up your coat.

zipping /ˈzɪptɪŋ/ phr.v. to go somewhere or do something very quickly: A few cars zipped past us.

zinc /ˈzɪŋk/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Zn) a white metal that is an element. Zinc is used to make brass and to cover and protect objects made of iron.

zip /ˈzɪp/ v. 1 [I] to go somewhere or do something very quickly: A few cars zipped past us. 2 [I] also zip up to close or fasten something using a ZIPPER: Zip up your coat.

20° below zero.

2 SCIENCE the point between – and + on a scale for measuring something, especially temperature. In the Celsius system of measuring temperature, 0 is the point at which water freezes: It was 20° below zero.

zero in on sb/sth phr. v. to aim at one thing, or give special attention to one person or thing: War planes zeroed in on a target.

zest /ˈzɛst/ n. [U] 1 a feeling of eagerness, excitement, and enjoyment: a zest for life 2 the outer skin of an orange or lemon, used in cooking.

zig-gu-rat /ˈzɪgɡuːræt/ n. [C] HISTORY a tall structure with a TEMPLE (a place where people pray to God) on the top, built in ancient Mesopotamia. It has a rectangular base and many levels, each of which is smaller than the one below.

zig-zag /ˈzɪɡzæɡ/ n. [C] a line that looks like a row of Z’s joined together.

zigzagged /ˈzɪɡzɑːd/ v. (past) to move forward in sharp angles, first to the left and then to the right, etc.: The path zigzags across the mountain.

zilch /ˈzɪltʃ/ n. [U] (informal) nothing at all: ‘I’ve looked for jobs everywhere, but come up with zilch.’

zil·lion /ˈzɪlniːəl/ number (informal) an extremely large number or amount: She asked a zillion questions.

zinc /ˈzɪnk/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Zn) a white metal that is an element. Zinc is used to make brass and to cover and protect objects made of iron.

zoom /ˈzuːəm/ v. (informal) 1 to go somewhere or do something very quickly: A red car zoomed past. 2 to increase suddenly and quickly: Inflation zoomed 123%. [Origin: 1800–1900 From the sound] zoom in/out phr. v. if a camera zooms in or out, it makes the object you are taking a photograph of seem closer or farther away.

zoom lens n. [C] a camera lens that moves in order to make the objects you are taking a photograph of seem closer and larger zo-o-plank-ton /ˌzoʊoˈplæŋktən/ n. [U] biology the very small animals floating in water that are part of plankton zuc-chi-ni /zuˈkini/ n. [C] a long smooth dark green vegetable [origin: 1900—2000 Italian zucca “gourd”] ➔ see picture at vegetable zy-gote /ˈzaɪgət/ n. [C] biology a cell that is formed when a female’s egg cell is fertilized [origin: 1800—1900 Greek συγγενής “joined together”]
Zzz used in writing to represent sleep
Contents

Picture Dictionary

Animals A2
Body A3
Sports A4
Kitchen Verbs A5
Computers and Technology A6 Sounds A7
Verbs of Movement (hands) A8
Verbs of Movement (body) A9 Plants and Trees A10
Geographical Features A11
Map of USA A12

Geographical Names A13
Picture Dictionary

Sports

- baseball
- golf
- football
- track
- parachuting
- mountain biking
- rowing
- skiing
- sailing
- swimming
- ice hockey
- gliding
- kayaking
- sailing
- wind surfing
- surfing
- climbing
- ice hockey
- gliding
- kayaking
- sailing
- wind surfing
- surfing
- climbing
- ice hockey
- gliding
- kayaking
- sailing
- wind surfing
- surfing
- climbing
Kitchen Verbs

- beat
- sprinkle
- knead
- whisk
- strain
- crush
- roll/roll out
- pour
- mix
- squeeze
- spread
- stir
Sounds

ring

squeak

creak

bang

buzz

splash

rustle

rattle

crunch

click

fizz

hiss

crackle

sizzle

crack

sizzle

crash

crack

creak

sizzle

crack

creak

squeak
Picture Dictionary

Verbs of Movement (hands)

- flick
- clap
- hold hands
- pinch
- tap
- point
- scratch
- poke
- squeeze
- pet/stroke
- wave
Verbs of Movement (body)

- pick up
- put down
- lift
- carry
- hold
- stretch
- jump
- jump rope
- squat
- kneel
- hop
- crouch
- drag
- climb
- push
- pull
- drop
- jog
- walk
- fall
- sit
- crawl
- tiptoe
- run
- march
- throw
- kick
- punch
- catch Plants and Trees

cactus cedar maple

palm

poplar

willow

holly

redwood/sequoia

bush

fir

yucca
Geographical Features

- ridge
- mountain
- range
- plateau
- gorge
- foothills
- valley
- lake
- cliffs
- delta
- beach
- coastline
- ocean
- peak
- summit
- forest
- fields
- dunes
- delta
- coast
- bay
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Adjective and name of a person from this place</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Afghanistan</td>
<td>Afghan or Afghanistani</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africa</td>
<td>African Africani</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Albania</td>
<td>Albanian Albanian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Algeria</td>
<td>Algerian Algerian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America (=the U.S.)</td>
<td>American American</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>North America</td>
<td>North American North American</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South America</td>
<td>South American South American</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andorra</td>
<td>Andorran Andorran</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Angola</td>
<td>Angolan Angolan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Antarctic</td>
<td>Antarctic Antarctic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Antigua and Barbuda</td>
<td>Antiguan or Barbudan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arctic</td>
<td>Arctic Arctic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Armenia</td>
<td>Armenian Armenian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asia</td>
<td>Asian Asian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlantic</td>
<td>Atlantic Atlantic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Australia</td>
<td>Australian Australian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Austria</td>
<td>Austrian Austrian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Azerbaijan</td>
<td>Azerbaijani Azerbaijani</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bahamas, the</td>
<td>Bahamian Bahamian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bahrain</td>
<td>Bahraini Bahraini</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baltic</td>
<td>Baltic Baltic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bangladesh</td>
<td>Bangladeshi Bangladeshi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barbados</td>
<td>Barbadian Barbadian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belarus (Belorussia)</td>
<td>Belorussian Belorussian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belgium</td>
<td>Belgian Belgian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belize</td>
<td>Belizean Belizean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benin</td>
<td>Beninese Beninese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bermuda</td>
<td>Bermudan Bermudan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bhutan</td>
<td>Bhutanan Bhutanan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bolivia</td>
<td>Bolivian Bolivian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bosnia and Herzegovina</td>
<td>Bosnian Baseball Bosnian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Botswana</td>
<td>Botswanan Botswanan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brazil</td>
<td>Brazilian Brazilian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brunei</td>
<td>Bruneian Bruneian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bulgaria</td>
<td>Bulgarian Bulgarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burkina Faso</td>
<td>Burkina or Burkina</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burma (former name of Myanmar)</td>
<td>Burmese Burmese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burundi</td>
<td>Burundian Burundian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cambodia</td>
<td>Cambodian Cambodian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Adjective and name of a person from this place</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameroon</td>
<td>Cameroonian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Canada</td>
<td>Canadian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cape Verde</td>
<td>Cape Verdean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caribbean</td>
<td>Caribbean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cayman Islands</td>
<td>Cayman Island Islander</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central African Republic</td>
<td>Central African</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chad</td>
<td>Chadian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chile</td>
<td>Chilean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>China</td>
<td>Chinese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colombia</td>
<td>Colombian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Comoro Islands, the Democratic</td>
<td>Comoran</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Congo, the</td>
<td>Congolese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Congo, Republic of</td>
<td>Congolese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Costa Rica</td>
<td>Costa Rican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Croatia</td>
<td>Croatian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuba</td>
<td>Cuban</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cyprus</td>
<td>Cypriot</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Czech Republic, the</td>
<td>Czech</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denmark</td>
<td>Danish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Djibouti</td>
<td>Djiboutian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dominic</td>
<td>Dominican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dominican Republic, the</td>
<td>Dominican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>East Timor</td>
<td>Timorese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ecuador</td>
<td>Ecuadorian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Egypt</td>
<td>Egyptian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>El Salvador</td>
<td>Salvadorian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>England</td>
<td>English</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Equatorial Guinea</td>
<td>Equatorial Guinean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eritrea</td>
<td>Eritrean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Estonia</td>
<td>Estonian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ethiopia</td>
<td>Ethiopian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Europe</td>
<td>European</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fiji</td>
<td>Fijian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Finland</td>
<td>Finnish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>France</td>
<td>French</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gabon</td>
<td>Gambone</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gambia, the</td>
<td>Gambian</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Examples:
- Cameroon: Cameroonian
- Canada: Canadian
- Cape Verde: Cape Verdean
- Caribbean: Caribbean
- Cayman Islands: Cayman Islander
- Central African Republic: Central African
- Chad: Chadian
- Chile: Chilean
- China: Chinese
- Colombia: Colombian
- Comoro Islands, the Democratic Republic of Congo, the: Congolese
- Congo, the Republic of: Congolese
- Costa Rica: Costa Rican
- Croatia: Croatian
- Cuba: Cuban
- Cyprus: Cypriot
- Czech Republic, the: Czech
- Denmark: Danish
- Djibouti: Djiboutian
- Dominica: Dominican
- Dominican Republic, the: Dominican
- East Timor: Timorese
- Ecuador: Ecuadorian
- Egypt: Egyptian
- El Salvador: Salvadorian
- England: English
- Equatorial Guinea: Equatorial Guinean
- Eritrea: Eritrean
- Estonia: Estonian
- Ethiopia: Ethiopian
- Europe: European
- Fiji: Fijian
- Finland: Finnish
- France: French
- Gabon: Gambone
- Gambia, the: Gambian

Additional Information:
- people:
  - Englishwoman
  - the French
  - the English
  - Timorese
  - the Englishwoman
  - the Frenchman
  - the Englishman
  - the Englishwoman
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Adjective and name of a person from this place</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Georgia</td>
<td>Georgian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Germany</td>
<td>German</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ghana</td>
<td>Ghanaian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gibraltar</td>
<td>Gibraltarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Great Britain</td>
<td>British person: Briton, people: the British</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greece</td>
<td>Greek</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenland</td>
<td>Greenlander</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grenada</td>
<td>Grenadian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guatemala</td>
<td>Guatemalan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guyana also</td>
<td>Guianese or Guayanes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holland (another name for The Netherlands)</td>
<td>Dutchman, Dutchwoman people: the Dutch</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Honduras</td>
<td>Honduran</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hong Kong</td>
<td>Hong Kongian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hungary</td>
<td>Hungarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iceland</td>
<td>Icelandic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>India</td>
<td>Indian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indonesia</td>
<td>Indonesian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iran</td>
<td>Iranian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iraq</td>
<td>Irish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ireland, Republic of, the</td>
<td>Irishman, Irishwoman people: the Irish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Israel</td>
<td>Israeli</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Italy</td>
<td>Italian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ivory Coast (former name of Cote d'Ivoire)</td>
<td>Ivorian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jamaica</td>
<td>Jamaican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Japan</td>
<td>Japanese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jordan</td>
<td>Jordanian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kazakhstan</td>
<td>Kazakh</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kenya</td>
<td>Kenyan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kiribati</td>
<td>Kiribatian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Korea, North</td>
<td>North Korean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Korea, South</td>
<td>South Korean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kuwait</td>
<td>Kuwaiti</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kyrgyzstan</td>
<td>Kyrgyz</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laos</td>
<td>Laotian or Lao</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Adjective and name of a person from this place</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Latvia</td>
<td>Latvian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lebanon</td>
<td>Lebanese, Sotho</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lesotho</td>
<td>Mosotho, the Basotho</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liberia</td>
<td>Liberian, the Basotho</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Libya</td>
<td>Libyan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liechtenstein</td>
<td>Liechtensteiner</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lithuania</td>
<td>Lithuanian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Luxemburg</td>
<td>Luxemburger</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Macedonia</td>
<td>Macedonian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Madagascar</td>
<td>Malagasy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malawi</td>
<td>Malawian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malaysia</td>
<td>Malaysian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maldives, the</td>
<td>Maldivian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mali</td>
<td>Malian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malta</td>
<td>Maltese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marshall Islands</td>
<td>Marshall Islander</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mauritania</td>
<td>Mauritanian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mauritius</td>
<td>Mauritian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mediterranean</td>
<td>Mediterranean</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Melanesia</td>
<td>Melanesian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mexico</td>
<td>Mexican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Micronesia</td>
<td>Micronesian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moldova</td>
<td>Moldovan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monaco</td>
<td>Monacan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mongolia</td>
<td>Mongolian or Mongol</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montserrat</td>
<td>Montserratian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morocco</td>
<td>Moroccan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mozambique</td>
<td>Mozambican</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myanmar</td>
<td>Burmese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Namibia</td>
<td>Namibian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nauru</td>
<td>Nauruan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nepal</td>
<td>Nepali</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Netherlands, The</td>
<td>Dutchman, Dutchwoman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Zealand</td>
<td>New Zealander</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicaragua</td>
<td>Nicaraguan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Niger</td>
<td>Nigerien</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Adjective and name of a person from this place</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nigeria</td>
<td>Nigerian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Norway</td>
<td>Norwegian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oman</td>
<td>Omani</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pacific</td>
<td>adj: Pacific</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pakistan</td>
<td>/pæk'tsten/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Palestine</td>
<td>/pælestæn/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Panama</td>
<td>/pænæma/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Papua New Guinea</td>
<td>/pæpyuə nu 'gini/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paraguay</td>
<td>/pærəgwai/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Persia (former name of Iran)</td>
<td>/pəsə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peru</td>
<td>/pora/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philippines</td>
<td>/ Hilapin/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poland</td>
<td>/pooland/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polynesia</td>
<td>/prə'niə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Portugal</td>
<td>/pɔrt'joɡal/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Puerto Rico</td>
<td>/pɔɾtə 'rikou/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Qatar</td>
<td>/katə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Romania</td>
<td>/rou'memio/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Russia (Russian Federation, the)</td>
<td>/ˈrʌʃən fɛdə'reoʃən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rwanda</td>
<td>/ru'əndo/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saint Kitts &amp; Nevis</td>
<td>/seint kɪts ənd niˈvɪs/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saint Lucia</td>
<td>/seint ˈluʃə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saint Vincent and the Grenadines</td>
<td>/seɪnt ˈvɪnsənt ən də ˈɡrenəˌdinz/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samoa</td>
<td>/səˈmoʊə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Marino</td>
<td>/sæn ˈmarɪnəʊ/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>São Tomé &amp; Principe</td>
<td>/soʊ ˈtoʊ meɪ ənd ˈprɪnsəpəʊ/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saudi Arabia</td>
<td>/saʊdi əˈreɪbiə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scotland</td>
<td>/ˈskɔtələnd/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senegal</td>
<td>/ˈsɛnɡəl/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seychelles, the</td>
<td>/ˈsiːʃələz/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sierra Leone</td>
<td>/ˈsɪərə liˈoʊn/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Singapore</td>
<td>/ˈsɪŋɡəpɔr/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slovakia</td>
<td>/ˈslɔʊvəkɪə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slovenia</td>
<td>/ˈslɔʊvənɪə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Solomon Islands, the</td>
<td>/ˈsɔləmən ˈaɪləndz/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Somalia</td>
<td>/ˈsɔmaliə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South Africa</td>
<td>/saʊθ ˈɛfriˈka/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spain</td>
<td>/ˈspaɪn/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Adjective and name of a person from this place</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sri Lanka</td>
<td>Sri Lankan / sri 'laŋkən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sudan</td>
<td>Sudanese / su'dənəz/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surinam, Suriname</td>
<td>Adj: Surinamese / surina'miζə/ person: Surinamer / suri'nəmə /</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swaziland</td>
<td>Swazi / 'swazi/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweden</td>
<td>Adj: Swedish / swidɪʃ/ person: Swede / 'swið/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Switzerland</td>
<td>Swiss / 'swiʃ/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syria</td>
<td>Syrian / 'strɪən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tahiti</td>
<td>Tahitian / tɑ'hiʃən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taiwan</td>
<td>Taiwanese / taiwə'nɪζə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tajikist</td>
<td>Tajik / tu'dʒi̞k/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tanzania</td>
<td>Tanzanian / tænζə'nɪζə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thailand</td>
<td>Thai / tæi/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tibet</td>
<td>Tibetan / tɪbə'tən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Togo</td>
<td>Togolese / tʊgə'lɪζ/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tonga</td>
<td>Tongan / tʊŋən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trinidad and Tobago</td>
<td>Trinidadian or Tobagonian / tɹɪmɪdə'dɪən/or tʊbə'gʊmɪən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tunisia</td>
<td>Tunisian / tu'niʒən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turkey</td>
<td>Turk / tɜk/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turkmenistan</td>
<td>Turkmen / tɜkɪmən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuvalu</td>
<td>Tuvaluan / tu'vælən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uganda</td>
<td>Ugandan / yu'ɡændən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ukraine</td>
<td>Ukrainian / yu'krɛnɪən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United Arab Emirates</td>
<td>Emirati / 'ɛmɪ'rəti/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the United States, the</td>
<td>adj: British / 'britʃ/ person: Briton / 'brɪt'n/ people: the British / a'mɛrtɪkən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uruguay</td>
<td>Uruguayan / yʊ'ɾʊɡəwɜɹən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uzbekistan</td>
<td>Uzbek / uz'bekə,ʃænd/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanuatu</td>
<td>Vanuatuan / və'nɜʋətʃænd/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Venezuela</td>
<td>Venezuelian / vənɜ'veləʃən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vietnam</td>
<td>Vietnamese / vɪnəz'vɪən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wales</td>
<td>Welsh / 'wɛlʃ/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yemen</td>
<td>Yemeni / 'yeməni/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yugoslav</td>
<td>Yugoslavian or Yugoslav / 'jʊɡə'sləvən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zambia</td>
<td>Zambian / 'zæmbiən/)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zimbabwe</td>
<td>Zimbabwean / 'zɪmˈbɜːbweɪən/)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Words Used in the Definitions in this Dictionary

All the definitions in this dictionary have been written using the words on this list. If a definition includes a word that is not on the list, that word is shown in SMALL CAPITAL LETTERS.

The Defining Vocabulary has been carefully chosen after a thorough study of all the well-known frequency lists of English words. Furthermore, only the most common and “central” meanings of the words on the list have actually been used in definitions. We have also used a special computer program that checks every entry to make sure that words from outside the Defining Vocabulary do not appear in definitions.

Restrictions on Part of Speech

For some words on the list, a label such as n. or adj. is shown. This means that this particular word is used in definitions only in the part of speech shown. So anger, for example, is used only as a noun and not as a verb. But if no word class is shown for a word, it can be used in any of its usual parts of speech: answer, for example, is used in definitions both as a noun and as a verb.

Compound Words

Definitions occasionally include compound words formed from words in the Defining Vocabulary, but this is only done if the meaning is completely clear. For example, the word businessman (formed from business and man) is used in some definitions.

Prefixes and Suffixes

The main list is followed by a list of common prefixes and suffixes. These can be added to words on the main list to form derived words, provided the meaning is completely clear. For example, the word nervousness (formed by adding -ness to nervous) is used in some definitions.

Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs formed by combining words in the Defining Vocabulary (for example, put up with) are NOT used in definitions in the dictionary, except in a very small number of cases where the phrasal verb is extremely common and there is no common equivalent. So, for example, give up (as in give up smoking) and take off (as in the plane took off) are occasionally used.

Proper Nouns

The Defining Vocabulary does not include the names of actual places, nationalities, religions, and so on, which are occasionally mentioned in definitions.
A
a abbreviation ability able about above adv., prep. abroad absence absent adj. accept acceptable accident according to account according n. achieve acid across act action n. active adj. activity actor, actress actual actually add addition address adjective admiration admire admit adult advanced advantage adventure n. adverb advertise advertisement advice advise affair affect v. afford afraid after adv., conj., prep. afternoon afterward again against age n. ago agree agreement ahead aim air n. airplane airport alcohol alive all adv., pron., determiner allow almost alone along alphabet already also although always among amount n. amuse amusement amusing adj. an ancient adj. and anger n. angle n. angry animal announce announcement annoy another answer anxiety anxious any anymore anyone anything anywhere apart apartment appear appearance apple appropriate approval approve area argue argument arm army around arrange arrangement arrival arrive art article artificial artist as ash ashamed ask asleep association at atom attach attack attempt attend attention attitude attract attractive authority available average adj., n. avoid awake adj. away adv. awkward B baby back adj., adv., n. background backward(s) adv. bad adj. bag n. bake balance ball n. band n. bank n. bar n. barely base n., v. baseball basic basket basketball bath n. bathtub battle n. be beach beck beam n. bean bear beard n. beat n., v. beautiful beauty because become bed n. beer before begin beginning begin beginning behave behavior behind adj., prep. belief believe bell belong below adv., prep. belt n. bend beneath berry beside(s) best adj., adv., n. better adj., adv. between beyond adv., adv. bicycle n. big adj. bill n. bird birth bite bitter adj. black adj., n. blade blame bled blind block blood n. blow blue board n. boat n. body boil bomb bone n. book n. boot n. border bored boring born borrow both bottle n. bottom n. bowl n. box n. boy brain n. branch brave adj. bread break v. breakfast n. breast n. breath breathe breed brick n. bridge n. bright adj. bring broad adj. broadcast brother brown adj., n. brush bucket n. build v. building bullet bunch n. burn burst bury bus n. bush n. business busy but conj. butter n. button n. buy v. by C cake n. calculate call calm adj. camera camp n., v. can n., v. candy cap n. can capital n. car card n. care careful something sometimes somewhere son song soon sore adj.
sorrow n.
sorry
sort n. soul
sound n., v.
soup
sour adj.
south southern space n.
spade speak
special adj.
specific speech
speed n.
spell spend spin spirit
split v.
spoon
sport(s)
spot spread spring square adj., n.
stage n.
stair
stamp stand v.
standard
star n.
start
state statement
station n.
stay
steady adj.
steal v.
steam n.
steel n.
steep adj.
stem n.
step stick sticky
stiff adj.
still adj., adv.
sting stitch

stomach n.
stone n.
stop store
storm n.
story straight adj.,
adv.
strange stranger stream n.
street strength
stretch v.
strict strike v.
string n.
strong structure n. struggle student study stupid
style n.
subject n.
substance subtract succeed success successful such suck v. sudden suffer
sugar n.
suggest suit suitcase suitable sum n.
summer n.
sun n.
supper
supply n., v.
support suppose sure adj.
surface n.
surprise surround v.
swallow v.
swear
sweep v.
sweet swim swing sword sympathetic sympathy

system

T

table n.
tail n.
take v.
take care of talk tall taste
tax
taxi n.
tea teach team n.
tear v., n.
technical telephone television tell temperature temporary ten(th) tend tendency tennis tense n.

tent terrible terror test than thank that conj., pron., determiner

the theater

their(s)

them

then adv.

there therefore these they thick adj.

thief
thin adj.
thing
think v.
third

dthis pron.,
determiner

thorough

those though

thought

thousand(th)

thread n.
threat threaten three throat through adv.,
prep.
throw thumb n.
ticket n.
tie
tight adj.
time n.
tire n.
tired tiring title to tobacco today

toe n. together
toilet tomorrow tongue

tonight
too tool n.
tooth
top adj., n.
total adj., n.
touch tourist toward tower n.
town
toy n.
tooth
top adj., n.
total adj., n.
touch tourist toward
tower n.
town
toy n.
tooth

U

ugly uncle
under prep.
understand underwear undo uniform n.
union
unit unite universe
unless until up adj., adv.,
prep.
upper adj.
upright adj., adv.
upset v., adj.
upside down
upstairs adj.,
adv.
urgent
us use useful useless
usual

V

vacation
valley valuable adj.
value n.
variety various vegetable vehicle verb
very adv.
victory
view n.
victory
view n.
violence violent
Prefixes and Suffixes that Can Be Used with Words in the Defining Vocabulary

-able
-al
-ance
-ation
-dis
-ed
-ence
-er
-ful
-ic
-ical
-im-
in-
-ing
-ion
-ir-ish
-ity
-ive
-ive
-less
-ly
-ment
-ness
-non-
-resel
-th
-un-
-y