What is a MyLab?
A MyLab is a Learning Management System – an online platform that enables learners and teachers to manage the learning process via a number of online tools such as automatic marking, the recording of grades in a gradebook and the ability to customise a course.

How can I get the most out of MyGrammarLab?

To the Student:
If you are using MyGrammarLab in class, your teacher will tell you which units to study and which exercises to do.

If you are using MyGrammarLab for self study, you can work through the book from Module 1 to Module 20. Or you can choose a grammar point that you want to study and go to a specific unit. Here is a good way to study a complete module:

The modules in the book start with a text such as an advert, an email or a magazine article. The text introduces the grammar for the module. The grammar is highlighted in the text, and then there is a short exercise. The exercise shows you the units you need to study in order to learn more about the main grammar points.

Look for this instruction at the bottom of the first page of each module. Take the diagnostic test then click on the feedback button to see which unit to go to for more information and practice.

The grammar information is on the left in the book. The practice exercises are on the right. It is therefore easy to check and read the grammar while you are doing the exercises.

For more information about the grammar, go online to watch the grammar videos in each unit and listen to your grammar teacher.

If you would like more grammar and listening practice, you can listen to the correct answers for some of the practice exercises in the book. Look for this symbol: [Listen and check]. If you have the book with answer key, you can check all the answers at the back of the book.

Look for this instruction at the end of the practice exercises in the book. All the online exercises are different to the exercises in the book. They are marked automatically. Your grades are recorded in your own gradebook.

Look for this symbol on the grammar information pages in the book: [Information]. This means that there is some information on a pronunciation point. Go online to hear the information and practise the pronunciation.

Look for this instruction at the end of the practice exercises in the book. The online progress tests show you if you have understood the grammar points in the units that you have studied. If your grade is low, do the catch-up exercises online. If your grade is good, you probably don’t need to do these.

For practice away from your computer, download the catch-up exercises questions to your mobile phone. You can create your own practice tests. Go to www.mygrammabarl.com to download.

At the end of each module there is a two-page review section. The review exercises bring together all the grammar points in the module.

At the end of each module, there is also a test. The test shows you how much you know and if you need more practice.

Look for this instruction at the end of the exit test in the book.
To the Teacher:
If you are using MyGrammarLab with a class of students, you can either work through the book from the first to the last module, or you can select the areas that you would like your students to focus on.
You can work through a module as outlined on the previous page – but as a teacher, you are able to assign tests and view all the scores from your class in one gradebook. This will enable you to see at a glance which areas are difficult for your students – and will let you know which of your students are falling behind.

For pronunciation practice in class, audio CDs are available. The disk and track number for each explanation are given in the book. Look for this symbol:

All tests (diagnostic, progress and exit) are hidden from students. Assign these when you want your class to take the test. Marking is automatic – as is the reporting of grades into the class gradebook.

Some practice exercises – such as written tasks - require teacher marking. These are hidden from your students so you should only assign these if you want them to submit their answers to you for marking. The grades are reported automatically into the gradebook.

- We can use a lot of in positive and negative sentences and questions:
  Lewis has got a lot of friends.
  We haven't got a lot of time.
  Are there a lot of students from Japan?

- We usually use much and many in negative sentences and questions:
  Hurry up! We haven't got much time.
  Are there many students from Japan?

NATURAL ENGLISH In everyday English, we don't use much or many in positive sentences. We prefer a lot of:
There are a lot of tourists here in the summer.

2 much, many, a lot without a noun

We can use much and many without a noun, when it is clear what we are talking about:
Why don't you buy it? It doesn't cost much.
‘Can I have some of your sweets?’ ‘No, I haven't got many.’

When we use a lot without a noun, we don't need of:
We learned a lot in today's lesson.

3 how much? or how many?

- We use how much and how many to ask about an exact amount or number.
  We use how much with uncountable nouns:
  How much sugar do I need?

- We use how many with countable nouns:
  How many bedrooms are there in the hotel?

- We use how much to ask about prices:
  How much is it? It's fifteen euros.
  How much does it cost? It costs ten dollars.

9 a little, a few, too much, too many, not enough

1 a little, a few

| a little  | + uncountable nouns | I think this soup needs a little salt. |
| a few     | + plural nouns      | There are a few cafés near my house.  |

We use a little to talk about a small amount. The exact amount is not important: Food often tastes better when you add a little salt to it.

We use a few to talk about a small number. The exact number is not important: We’ve got a few friends in the village.

In everyday English, we don’t often use a little + noun.

We prefer a bit of + noun.

‘Sit down and have a cup of coffee.’ ‘OK, I’ve got a bit of time.’

We can use a little and a few without a noun, when it is clear what we are talking about:

‘Would you like some milk in your coffee?’ ‘Yes, please, a little.’

‘Have you got any friends on Facebook?’ ‘Yes, a few.’

2 too much, too many, not enough

| too much  | + uncountable nouns | Don’t put too much pepper in the soup. |
| too many  | + plural nouns      | I feel sick. I ate too many cakes.    |
| not enough | + uncountable nouns | I haven’t got enough money to buy a car. There aren’t enough eggs to make a cake. |

Too much and too many have a negative meaning. They mean ‘more than we want’:

Let’s go to another café. There are too many people here.

We made too much food for the party. No one was hungry.

It’s bad to eat too many burgers.

Not enough is the opposite of too much/too many. It means ‘less/fewer than we want’:

We can’t buy that car. We haven’t got enough money!

The party was boring. There weren’t enough people there.

We haven’t got enough bread. We haven’t got enough eggs.

Subject: Hi there!

So, we had a little party last weekend. You know, just a little friends at our house.
There was a lot of talking and laughing, a bit dancing and few party games. But we made enough food – I felt ill the next day!
Well, it’s only two days before we move to the USA now! It’s too much time and there are too much things that we need to do – packing and cleaning the house.
Come and visit us – we know we won’t have much friends in the States.
Love,
Annabel

All of the teachers at our school are good.

Both (of these) salads look delicious.

Can I have some of that chocolate cake?

We can also use all the/both the in the same way as all of the/both of the:

✓ All (of) the students in the class are working hard.

⚠ But we don’t use the other words in this way:

✗ Some the students in the class are working hard.

✓ Some of the students in the class are working hard.

3 all, most, some, etc. + verb

After a plural noun we use a plural verb:

Most vegetables are cheap. Most mobile phones take photographs.

After an uncountable noun we use a singular verb:

All fruit is good for you. Some of his advice is useful.

⚠ No and none mean ‘not any’. We use a positive verb after them:

✗ None of the advice he gave wasn’t useful.

✓ None of the advice he gave was useful.

2 Possessive adjectives

Possessive adjectives tell us who things belong to. We put them before a noun:

- Jenny is Christina and Michael Brown’s daughter. → Jenny is their daughter.
- Jenny’s brother is called David. → Her brother is called David.

The possessive adjective depends on the noun it replaces, NOT the noun that follows it:

- John’s father = his father
- John’s mother = his mother (× her mother)
- Mary’s father = her father (× his father)
- Mary’s mother = her mother

We also use possessive adjectives with parts of the body:

- The children closed their eyes and listened to the story.
- I’m tired and my legs hurt.

Look at the difference between its and it’s:

- I like Thailand. It’s a beautiful country. (it is)
- Thailand is famous for its beautiful beaches. (the beaches of Thailand)

3 Possessive pronouns

We can use possessive pronouns instead of a possessive adjective + noun:

- Is that your mobile phone? → Is that yours?
- No, it isn’t my mobile phone. → No, it isn’t mine.
- It’s Clara’s mobile phone. → It’s hers.
- Can we borrow your umbrella? We forgot to bring ours. (our umbrella)

We don’t use a, an, the or apostrophes (’) with possessive adjectives and pronouns:

- × That pen is her’s. ✓ That pen is hers.
- × This bedroom is the mine. ✓ This bedroom is mine.

4 Whose?

We often use Whose? instead of ‘Who does it belong to?’:

- *Whose phone is this?’ ‘It’s Clara’s.’
- *Whose are these?’ ‘I don’t know – they aren’t mine.’

We had a terrible experience a few weeks ago. One evening, a friend of ours had dinner with us, and we drove him to the station after our meal. We were quite late for his train so we left the house in a hurry, and I forgot to turn off the cooker. When we got from the station, the kitchen was ! We were shocked but then we called the fire service. They arrived almost and put the fire out. We were lucky that they put the fire out to save our kitchen – there wasn't much damage, so everything was OK.

my hobbies and interests

I love sport, especially cycling. On Saturdays I sometimes go to the market to buy new sports clothes - it's cheaper than the shops in town - those fashionable shops are too expensive for me! On Sundays I go cycling with my friends. I think it's a brilliant hobby. It's a good way to get healthy and it isn't as expensive as going to a gym. There's some beautiful countryside outside my town and we usually go there. There are a lot of hills and it's really exciting when you cycle down them! My friend Zak is younger than me, but he cycles well. In fact he's the fastest cyclist in our group.

Forming adjectives from nouns/verbs ➤ Unit 106.1

2 Before nouns

⚠ Adjectives always come before a noun:

× a-dress blue ✓ a blue dress

⚠ We can put two or more adjectives before a noun. We don’t usually use and between the adjectives:

× a beautiful and red dress ✓ a beautiful red dress

We put opinion adjectives (e.g. beautiful, fantastic, friendly) BEFORE other adjectives:

a fantastic red dress, a friendly French student, a beautiful old painting

We put nationality adjectives (e.g. Spanish, Russian) AFTER most other adjectives:

an expensive Italian car, a young Russian student, a blue Chinese plate

We always put material words (e.g. cotton, silk) next to the noun:

a Chinese silk dress, some old cotton sheets, a red leather handbag

3 After verbs

We can use adjectives after the verb be:

That dress is beautiful. (= It is a beautiful dress.)

We can also use adjectives after verbs like appear, feel, look, taste and seem:

I feel happy today! That dress looks beautiful. Her new neighbours seem nice.

We use and between two adjectives after a verb:

That maths exam was long and difficult.

Types of adverb

Harry Royston repairs beautiful old watches in his free time. He works slowly and carefully because the watches are valuable.

Adverbs describe how, when or where someone does something. There are many different types of adverbs, eg:

<td>Linda works in a bank.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>direction (which way)</td>
<td>left, right, straight, on</td>
<td>Turn right at the end of the street.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Adverbs of degree ➤ Unit 34

Most adverbs of manner add -ly to the adjective:
| careful → carefully, slow → slowly, perfect → perfectly, bad → badly |

But adjectives ending in -y, change y to i and add -ly:
| easy → easily, happy → happily |

⚠️ The words friendly, lovely, silly and lonely end in -ly but they are adjectives, not adverbs. We can’t make them into adverbs, so we say ‘in a ... way’:
❌ She smiled at me friendly.
✔️ She smiled at me in a friendly way.

2 Irregular adverbs

Fast, hard, late and early are adverbs and adjectives. We don’t add -ly to them:
Sven owns a fast car. (fast = adjective)

⚠️ He drives fastly.
✔️ He drives fast. (fast = adverb)

⚠️ Good is an adjective. The adverb for good is well:
❌ She plays tennis good.
✔️ She plays tennis well.
1 Complete the sentences. Use the correct words and phrases from the box. \( \text{42.57} \) Listen and check.

0 My grandmother fell over \( \text{last week} \). She hurt her leg so now she can only walk \( \text{slowly} \).

2 Remember to answer the questions \( \text{last week} \) and stop writing \( \text{carefully} \) of the test.

3 I went \( \text{upstairs} \) with the electrician and we looked at the broken light \( \text{in a friendly way} \).

5 Go to the end of the road and turn \( \text{slowly} \) at the traffic lights. If you walk \( \text{slowly} \), you'll get there in about five minutes.

2 \text{GRAMMAR IN USE} \) Complete the story using a form of the words in brackets ( ). Be careful, one of the words you need is not an adverb.

When he was a small boy, Zack loved cars. So, as soon as he was seventeen, he began taking driving lessons. He learned \( \text{quickly} \) \( \text{quick} \) and became a \( \text{good} \) driver. After ten lessons he took his driving test. During the test he drove \( \text{perfect} \) and he passed it \( \text{easy} \). Zack's parents were very pleased and decided to buy him a car. Zack always drove \( \text{good} \) and he usually drove \( \text{slow} \). But Zack had a problem. He always woke up \( \text{late} \) in the mornings. He hated being late for college. Now he had a car, Zack was sure he was \( \text{never} \) going to be late for college again. But, of course, the very first day he had his new car Zack was late again. So he got up \( \text{quick} \), rushed to his car and drove to college very \( \text{fast} \). But there was a police car on the road and the police officer stopped him for driving \( \text{bad} \). As a result, he lost his driving licence just one week after passing his test!

3 Change the adjectives to adverbs and write the sentences again. \( \text{42.58} \) Listen and check.

0 Clare is a slow driver. \( \text{Clare drives slowly.} \)

1 Michael is a hard worker. \( \text{Michael works hard.} \)

4 Antonio is a skilful painter. \( \text{Antonio paints skilfully.} \)

5 My aunt is a quiet speaker. \( \text{My aunt speaks quietly.} \)

6 Emelda and Maureen are brilliant cooks. \( \text{Emelda and Maureen cook brilliantly.} \)

4 Complete the sentences so they are true for you.

0 \( \text{I never drive} \) fast. \( \text{2 I never drive} \) badly. \( \text{4 I can} \) easily.

1 \( \text{I never drive} \) well. \( \text{3 I never drive} \) late.
Chrissie usually watches football on Saturdays. She shouts loudly when her team plays well.

1 After the verb
We usually put adverbs of manner (e.g. well, badly, quickly, slowly, quietly, loudly, easily, happily, carefully, perfectly) after the verb:
Chrissie shouts loudly when her team plays well.
If there is an object after the verb, we put the adverb after the object:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Object</th>
<th>Adverb</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>He</td>
<td>plays</td>
<td>well</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He</td>
<td>plays</td>
<td>football</td>
<td>well</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2 Before the verb
We use adverbs of frequency to say how often we do something:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>always</th>
<th>usually</th>
<th>often</th>
<th>sometimes</th>
<th>not often</th>
<th>hardly ever</th>
<th>rarely</th>
<th>never</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

We put these adverbs BEFORE present simple and past simple verbs:
I never eat toast for breakfast. She hardly ever plays tennis. We always walked to school.

But we put them AFTER:
- the verb be:
  She is always late for work. We are often very busy.
- an auxiliary verb or modal verb (e.g. have, will, can or must):
  I have never watched a football match. You can usually get tickets on the Internet.

3 At the end of the sentence
We usually put adverbs of place (e.g. here, there, at the café) and time (e.g. yesterday, on Saturday, immediately, last week, every day, twice a month) at the end of the sentence:
Do you have your lunch at the café? We go to the cinema twice a month.
Chrissie watches football on Saturdays.

For most adjectives with two syllables we use more + adjective:
This new computer is more useful than my old one.
My mobile is more modern than Emily’s.

For adjectives with three or four syllables we always use more + adjective:
Modern computer games are more exciting. Gold is more expensive than silver.

⚠️ We don’t add -er to these adjectives.
× Mobile phones are usefuller than cameras.
✓ Mobile phones are more useful than cameras.

⚠️ We don’t use more with an adjective that is already comparative:
× Charlotte is more taller than Susie.
✓ Charlotte is taller than Susie.

عنا Pronunciation ➤ 1.07

2 Use

We use comparative adjectives when we compare two people/things.

⚠️ We usually use than after comparative adjectives:
✓ Modern machines are smaller than old ones.
× Modern machines are smaller old ones.

⚠️ We use me, her, etc., not I, she, etc. after than:
Maria is taller than Anna.
× Maria is taller than she.
✓ Maria is taller than her.

But we can use I, he, she, etc. if we put am/is/are after the subject pronoun:
Maria is taller than she is.

For most adjectives with two or more syllables (e.g. useful, difficult, expensive) we use the most + adjective:

Eejanaika is the most exciting roller coaster. My mobile phone is the most useful thing I own.

The opposite of the most is the least. We usually use the least with adjectives with two or more syllables: Excuse me. Which is the least expensive phone you sell?

These adjectives have irregular superlative forms:

bad → worst, good → best, far → farthest/furthest

× He's the most good student in the class. ✓ He's the best student in the class.

2 Use

We use superlative adjectives when we compare one person/thing with several others.

We use the before superlative adjectives:

After superlative adjectives we use in before the names of places and groups:

× Eejanaika is the most exciting roller coaster of the world.

We can also use my/your/his, etc. before superlative adjectives:

Jenny is my oldest friend. What is your happiest memory?

We often use superlative adjectives + I've ever ..., you've ever ..., etc. to talk about our experiences:

That was the best book I've ever read. What's the most expensive thing you've ever bought?

⚠️ We don’t add -s to the main verb in questions and negatives.
❌ Where does he work? ✓ Where does he work?

2 Use

We use the present simple for things that happen regularly:
David goes to work by bus. The bus stops outside his house.
‘Do you drink a lot of coffee?’ ‘Yes, I do, but my parents only drink tea.’

When we talk about when or how often we do regular activities we can use
• time expressions (e.g. every day/evening/weekend, at the weekend, on Mondays/Sundays, once a week/month/year):
  Do you come here every day? I go on holiday once a year.

⚠️ Look at the word order:
✓ On Sundays, we go to our grandparents’ house for lunch.
✓ We go to our grandparents’ house for lunch on Sundays.
❌ We go on Sundays to our grandparents’ house for lunch.
• adverbs of frequency (e.g. never, often, always). We usually put these BEFORE the verb:
  We usually start at eight o’clock.
  ‘Do you drive to work?’ ‘No, we always take public transport. We never drive.’

⚠️ With the verb be we put the adverb AFTER the verb:
❌ She often is late. ✓ She’s often late.

He was driving west on US Highway 466 when another car crashed into him at a junction. He wasn’t wearing a seat belt and when the crash happened, he died immediately.

1 Form
We add -ed to most verbs to make the past simple:

- watch → watched, finish → finished
- die → died, live → lived, like → liked
- stop → stopped, plan → planned, travel → travelled
- carry → carried, study → studied

Spelling rules for regular verbs ➔ page 316

The pronunciation of the -ed ending depends on the sound that comes before it.

Some verbs are irregular. They do not form the past simple with -ed:

- buy → bought, do → did, have (got) → had (got),
- go → went, hit → hit, leave → left,
- make → made, put → put, say → said, take → took,

We use the past simple to talk about:

- a single finished action in the past:
  I went to the dentist yesterday.
  I passed my exam last week.

- a repeated action in the past:
  I called your mobile five times yesterday.

We often use time expressions (e.g. yesterday, in 2002, last year) to say when something happened:

<tbody>

2 Use
We use the present perfect to talk about past experiences in our lives. It is not important when they happened:
John has worked in several gyms. I've travelled a lot.

We can use before, once, twice, several times, etc. to say how often:
I haven't visited the gym before but I've stayed at this hotel several times. My parents have visited the United States once.

We often use ever to ask about past experiences. It means 'in your life':
'Have you ever played golf?' 'Yes, several times.'
'Has she ever tasted Japanese food?' 'Only once.'

We use never in negative sentences. It means 'not in your life':
I've never played golf. She's never cooked Italian food.

⚠️ We put ever and never BEFORE the past participle:
× 'Have you stayed ever in a Hilton Hotel?'
✓ 'Have you ever stayed in a Hilton hotel?'
× 'I've stayed never in any hotels!'
✓ 'I've never stayed in any hotels!'

3 Superlatives
We often use the present perfect with superlative adjectives (➤ Unit 31):

2 Use

We use the present perfect

- to talk about things that happened a short time ago and that have a result now:
  I've broken my leg. (It’s broken now.)
  Your sister has arrived. (She’s here now.)
  The post has come. (There’s a letter for you.)
  They've gone out. (They aren’t here.)

With the past simple, the results are also in the past:
I broke my leg last year and didn’t play football from August to October.
My sister arrived late and missed the beginning of the film.

- to introduce new information:
  ‘Julian has passed his driving test.’ ‘Oh, that’s good news!’
  The US President has arrived in London.

When we give more details about these events, we use the past simple:
Julian has passed his driving test. He took it yesterday.
The US President has arrived in London. He flew here from Washington last night.

3 been and gone

Been is the past participle of be. Gone is the past participle of go:
I’ve been tired all day. (And I’m still tired now.)
Fran has gone to the doctor’s. (And she’s still there now.)

But we use been as the past participle of go when it means ‘has gone and come back’:
My parents have been to New Zealand. (They have visited it in the past and have returned.)
My parents have gone to New Zealand on holiday. (They are there now.)
Practice

1 Write the past participles of these verbs. Use the list on page 314 to help you.

4 Write two sentences for each set of words below.

0 famous footballer / buy / a royal palace / pay £2 million for it

A famous footballer has bought a royal palace. He paid £2 million for it.

1 US President / arrive / in Moscow / plane / land / two hours ago

2 TV star David Walliams / swim / English Channel for charity / take eleven hours

3 J K Rowling / write / a new book / finish it / twenty-four hours ago

.................
Present perfect with just, already, yet

1 just

We use just with the present perfect to talk about things that happened a short time ago:

- The plane has just landed. (a few minutes ago)
- The play has just started – you can’t go in now.

We put just before the past participle:

- X The match has finished just.
- X The match just has finished.
- ✓ The match has just finished.

2 already, yet

We can use already and yet with the present perfect.

- Already means ‘before now’. We use it in positive sentences when something happens before you expect it:

  You’ve missed the match. It’s already finished.

  We usually put already before the past participle:

  - Graham’s train has already arrived.
  - You don’t need to wash the dishes. I’ve already done them.

- Yet means ‘by now’. We use it in questions to ask about something we are expecting to happen:

  Has the six o’clock train arrived yet? It’s five past six and I haven’t seen it.

  We also use yet in negative sentences when we expected something to happen before now:

  - Our burgers haven’t come yet. We ordered them nearly half an hour ago!

  We usually put yet at the end of a question or negative statement:

  Has the match finished yet?
  I haven’t read this book yet.

- We don’t use yet in positive sentences or already in negative sentences:

  - X I’ve paid for the meal yet. ✓ I’ve already paid for the meal.
  - X The parcel hasn’t arrived already. ✓ The parcel hasn’t arrived yet.

But she is most famous for the longest race – the marathon. She has (2) won the London Marathon three times. She had a baby earlier this year and has (3) returned to competitions – only a month ago – but she has (4) won an important race, the New York Marathon. 53 Present perfect with for, since, etc.

1 for/since

<table>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(John left school and started work here.)</td>
<td>(John still works here.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>↦ John has worked here for five years.</td>

- Use for + a period of time

Present perfect continuous ➔ Unit 55

Have you seen Ian this morning? (It is still morning.)
I’ve worked forty hours this week. (The week has not finished.)

Compare the present perfect and past simple
- present perfect:
  - I've made several phone calls this morning. (It is still morning.)
- past simple:
  - I made several phone calls this morning.
  (It is now afternoon/evening – the morning has finished.)

⚠️ After when or what time in questions, we use the past simple not the present perfect:
=X When have you bought your car? ✔ When did you buy your car?
=X What time have you arrived? ✔ What time did you arrive?

We form the present perfect continuous with have + been + the -ing form of the verb.

2 Use

We use the present perfect continuous to talk about an action or situation that started in the past and is still happening now. We often use for and since with the present perfect continuous:

I've been waiting in this queue for three hours!

It is different from the present perfect because we usually use the continuous for a temporary action or situation, not for a situation that we think is permanent.

Compare:

present continuous → present perfect continuous (temporary)
I'm training for the race. I've been training for it for six months.

Are you waiting for the bus? Yes. I've been waiting for it for an hour/since three o'clock.

present simple → present perfect (permanent)
I live in Istanbul. I've lived there for twenty years.

'Do you know Alan?' 'Yes, I've known him all my life.'

We often use the present perfect continuous to explain a present situation:

'They look tired.' 'Well, they've been running for more than two hours.'

'Your Spanish is good.' 'Thanks, I've been studying it for two years now.'

X I live here for five months. ✓ I've been living here for five months.

2 Uses with some verbs

We can use some verbs (e.g. live, work, teach, study with for or since) in the present perfect or present perfect continuous. They mean almost the same:

We've lived in this house since we got married.

or We've been living in this house since we got married.

Philip has taught geography at Durham University for fifteen years.

or Philip has been teaching geography at Durham University for fifteen years.

⚠️ We don't use the present perfect continuous with some verbs (e.g. understand, know, want, be). We use the present perfect:

- Carly has been knowing Jason for two years.
- Carly has known Jason for two years.
- I've been being much happier recently.
- I've been much happier recently.

2 Future plans

We use going to to talk about our future plans:

I'm going to apply for a new job.

Carol isn't going to be at the meeting.

Are you going to come to the party?

We often use time expressions (e.g. tomorrow, next week, on Monday) with going to:

I'm going to see Manchester United on Saturday.

They're not going to have a summer holiday this year.

What are you going to do this evening?

NATURAL ENGLISH It is possible to use going to + go/come:

I'm going to go shopping this afternoon.

But the present continuous (► Unit 59) is more common:

I'm going shopping this afternoon.

I'm coming to London on Tuesday.

3 Things we expect to happen

We also use going to to talk about things we expect to happen in the future because of something we know or can see NOW:

I'm not going to finish this copying by three o'clock! (because it's 2.51 and there's a lot to do)

I'm going to be late for work. (because I'm in a traffic jam now)

It's going to rain. (because the sky is dark and full of clouds now)

Subject: Work is boring!

Hi Tess,
I'm writing this from work. As usual there's nothing for me to do. It's so boring here. I know this company isn't making very much money at the moment so I don't think it has a very good future. The manager doesn't like me very much, and I really don't like any of my colleagues. In fact I think I might look on the Internet and see if there are any other jobs around here.

See you soon,
Debbie

0 Debbie's going to stay in this job for several years. F
1 The manager is going to give Debbie a pay increase.
2 Debbie's going to look for another job.
3 The company is going to be successful in the future.
4 Debbie's going to make some good friends in the office.

2 Certain/possible future

We use will to talk about things that are certain to happen in the future:

My mother will be fifty in May.

There will be elections next year.

China will soon be the world’s richest country.

We also use will to say what we think will happen in the future:

In the future people will live and work in space.

Clare won’t be late, she’s always on time.

We can use probably and definitely to say how sure we are:

I’ll definitely pass the test. (I’m sure this will happen.)

We’ll probably go to Spain next summer. (I think this will happen, but I’m not sure.)

We usually put these adverbs after will but before won’t:

We’ll probably go to Spain. We definitely won’t go to Portugal.

3 Decisions, offers, promises and warnings

We use will when we decide to do something while we are speaking – something that we didn’t plan:

‘Mr Baxter isn’t here at the moment. Can I take a message?’ ‘No thanks. I’ll call again later.’ ‘Do you want to watch the midnight movie?’ ‘No, I’m tired. I think I’ll go to bed now.’

NATURAL ENGLISH We often use I (don’t) think + will:

I’m tired. I think I’ll go to bed now.

It’s quite early. I don’t think I’ll go to bed yet.

We also use will to make offers, promises and warnings:

We’ll take you to the hospital. I’ll work harder next year. Don’t eat so much – you’ll get fat! Leave now or you’ll miss the train.

Pronunciation ➤ 1.23

4 shall

It is possible to use shall to mean will after I and we. But in everyday English we only use shall to offer or suggest something:

It’s hot in here. Shall I open a window? Shall we get the earlier train?
Practice

1 Complete the sentences with will and words from the box.

0 My grandfather will be ninety years old next April.
1 This year the summer sales a week earlier than usual.
2 the same course next year?
3 Next year the school holiday for seven weeks instead of six.
4 I’m afraid the library open during the holiday.
5 a certificate when you pass the exam.

2 The words in brackets () are missing from the sentences. Put them in the correct position.

Miss Watts, we have any homework tonight? (will)
I will start a diet next month. (definitely)
I think I’ll have any ice cream today. (don’t)
Manchester United will win the cup this year. (probably)
Don’t buy any food at the airport – it cost a fortune. (‘ll)
You can try phoning her this evening but I don’t she will be at home. (think)

3 Match the two parts of the sentences. Then complete the sentences with will, ‘ll or won’t.

Future with present continuous and present simple

1 Present continuous

We use the present continuous to talk about things that we have already arranged to do:
I'm giving a talk at the sales meeting next Wednesday.

David sent me a text message. He's meeting us at six o'clock.

What are you doing this weekend? I'm going to the theatre.

We usually give the time/period or date:
I'm seeing the dentist at half-past eleven on Thursday.

NATURAL ENGLISH We often use the present continuous to give the reason why we can't do something in the future:

Can you come to lunch on Sunday?
I'm afraid I can't come. I'm working on Sunday.

Form and use of the present continuous ➤ Unit 39

2 Present simple

We can use the present simple with a time or date to talk about future events that are on a timetable or programme:

The train leaves London at 10.25 and arrives in Bristol at 11.50. It stops in Swindon at 11.15.

When do your classes finish?
They finish on December the 5th.

⚠️ We don't use the present simple for things we have arranged to do; we use the present continuous or going to:

✖ We meet our friends this evening. ✓ We're meeting our friends this evening.

Form and use of the present simple ➤ Unit 37

3 after, when, as soon as, etc.

We use the present simple not will to talk about the future after when, as soon as, before, after and until:

✖ As soon as I get there, I'll phone you. ✓ As soon as I get there, I'll phone you.

✖ I'll see you when I'll arrive. ✓ I'll see you when I arrive.

NATURAL ENGLISH When we ask someone about their plans for the evening or the weekend (the near future), it is more common to use the present continuous than going to:
What are you doing this weekend?
Are you doing anything tonight?

3 Immediate decisions

⚠️ We use will for immediate decisions, not the present simple or going to:

| X OK. I get the torch. | ✔ OK. I’ll get the torch. |
| The light isn’t working. | OK. I’m going to get the torch. |

Compare going to for plans and will for immediate decisions:
‘My football shirt’s dirty.’
‘Don’t worry. I’m going to do some washing this afternoon so I’ll put your shirt in the machine.’
(I’ve already planned to do some washing.)

Hi Danny,

Don’t worry about breakfast because we (stop) at a motorway café at nine o’clock, so we can eat then. In fact, according to the programme, we (spend) half an hour at the Loch Ness Monster exhibition in the afternoon.

It often rains in the Highlands at this time of year so it (probably / rain) tomorrow, but I (not take) an umbrella – I don’t want to carry it around all day! I don’t know what time the tour ends but it (be) dark by seven o’clock, so I think we (be) home by then.

See you tomorrow. Michaela ✉️

Have to and need to are different from most modal verbs. They change after he/she/it and use do/does in questions and negatives, like all main verbs.

2 have to or need to?

We use have to

- when it is important to do something because there is a rule or a law:
  You have to put a card down. (It's a rule of the game.)
  Cars have to pay to cross the bridge. Do you have to be a member to use the gym?

- when it is necessary to do something; we cannot choose not to do it:
  I have to get up early tomorrow – the train leaves at 6.45 a.m.

We use need to

- when we think something is necessary or a good idea:
  I need to earn some more money. She needs to talk to her doctor.

- when something is necessary for our body or health:
  I need to go to bed early tonight – I'm very tired. You need to drink more water.

NATURAL ENGLISH In everyday English we often use the short form have got to (‘vel’s got to).

It means the same as have to:
I've got to get up early tomorrow to catch the train.

3 don’t have to or don’t need to?

We use don’t have to and don’t need to when it is NOT necessary to do something:
Cyclists don’t have to/need to pay to cross the bridge – there’s no charge for bicycles. We don’t have to/need to get up early tomorrow – it’s Sunday.

⚠️ It is possible to use needn't for don't need to. We use it with the infinitive without to:
❌ You needn't to pay. I've got enough money. ✔ You needn't pay. I've got enough money.

Dear Paul and Susie,

The weather here is fantastic and the beach is lovely. Our hotel would be fine if it wasn’t so close to the airport. But when planes take off, the noise is awful. Anyway, we’ve asked the local rep, Janine, to change our hotel.

Hope all is well,
Gary and Miranda

To: Terry.Walton@sunandfun
From: Janine Forster

Terry

Two guests here have complained about the noise in their hotel (the 3-star Mirasol) and they want to move to another hotel. But the only hotel with space is the Don Carlos, which is 5-star. If we moved them there, it would cost us €100 a day extra. What should I do?

Janine Forster (Representative, Torremolinos)

To: Janine Forster
From: Terry.Walton@sunandfun

Janine

If guests in a 3-star hotel complain about noise, we move them to another 3-star hotel - we don’t move them to a 5-star hotel. In this situation I suggest you offer the guests a free ticket for meals at the hotel restaurant. I’m sure they will be happy if you offer them free meals. I’m coming to Torremolinos tomorrow so when I get to the office, I’ll give you the tickets.

Best wishes, Terry (Area Manager)

2. Now read the sentences. Choose the correct words in italics.

When we are talking about real situations in the present, BOTH verbs are in the present tense. Notice the position of the comma (,):

If you put the card in, the lights come on.

If we write the result first, a comma is not necessary:

The lights come on if you put the card in.

Plants die if they don’t get water.

2 Use

We use if or when + present tenses

- to talk about real situations:
  If you turn the key, the engine starts.

- to say that one event always follows another:
  When I go to bed late, I feel tired the next day.

- to describe rules:
  If a player drops the ball, he/she is out.

NATURAL ENGLISH When we are speaking to someone, we often use the if part of the sentence alone:

‘Do you like curry?’ ‘Yes, if it’s not too spicy.’

We use if + the imperative to give instructions or advice:

If it’s raining, take an umbrella.

⚠️ Notice that we don’t repeat the subject:

If you want more information, you look on our website.

✔️ If you want more information, look on our website.

⚠️ We don’t use to alter please:

If you need anything, please to call reception.

✔️ If you need anything, please call reception.

⚠️ But we use the present tense after if, not will or won't.

❌ If you will call me before six o'clock, I won't be at home.

✔️ If you call me before six o'clock, I won't be at home.

2 Possible and certain future situations

We use the first conditional to talk about a POSSIBLE future action or situation:
If you give me some money, I'll get some ice creams. (You might give me some money.)
If the tickets are too expensive, we won't buy them. (The tickets might be too expensive.)
Sue's parents will give her a car if she passes the exam. (Sue might pass the exam.)

We can use when if a future action or situation is CERTAIN:
When I arrive at the airport, I'll phone you. (I will arrive at the airport.)
Jane will start work as a nurse when she finishes the course. (She will finish the course.)

Future situations with when, until, as soon as, etc. ➤ Unit 94.2

3 Offers and warnings

We can also use the first conditional

- to offer or suggest something:
  If you get the shopping, I'll wash the car.
  I'll pay for dinner if you pay for lunch.

- to warn someone not to do something:
  If you arrive late, we'll go without you. (Don't arrive late.)
  If you make any more noise, I'll call the police. (Don't make any more noise.)

Subject: Holiday!

Hi Carla

We’re at the airport, but our plane isn’t here yet. I’m a bit worried because if
(0) it isn’t (not be) on time, (1) we (miss) our bus to Faro.

Then (2) we (not get) to the hotel tonight! Anyway, when the plane
(3) arrives (arrive), (4) I (send) you a text message. We’re really excited about the holiday. Franco wants to go surfing but he says

(5) he (not do) it if (6) I (not go) with him! But you know I’m no good at water sports. Anyway, it will be great to try all the local food.

If the hotel restaurant (7) (be) nice, (8) we (eat) there. One more thing, I forgot to ask you about watering the garden. If
(9) you (water) the plants while we’re away, (10) I (feed) your cat when you go on holiday in May. Does that sound OK?

<td>I'd (I would) stay there.</td>

<tr>
<td>If I bought a motorbike,</td>
<td>I wouldn't (I would not) take the bus to work.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We use the second conditional to describe a situation that we are imagining in the present or the future.

⚠️ We use the past tense after if:
× If I have lots of money, I'd stay there. ✓ If I had lots of money, I'd stay there.

NATURAL ENGLISH We use the short forms 'd and wouldn't in spoken English and in informal written English.

2 Use

We use the second conditional

• for future situations that probably won't happen:
  If I won the race, I'd get a prize.
  If Carla got the job, she wouldn't be able to live here anymore.

• for present situations that are not possible:
  If David was here, he'd enjoy this film. (He isn't here.)
  If I had wings, I'd fly all over the world. (I don't have wings.)

What would you do if you weren't a student? (You are a student.)

<td>for something that might happen: If you give me some money, I'll get some ice creams.</td>
<td>for something that probably won't happen or is not possible: If you gave me a million dollars, I'd stop work.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

After if + I/he/she/it, we can use was or were:
If I was/were the president, I would reduce taxes. She'd love this place if she was/were here.

3 if I were/was you ...

We often say if I were/was you, I'd ... to give advice:
If I were you, I'd send him a text message. (= I think you should send a text message.)
There's always a big queue so I'd get there early if I were you.
(= I think you should get there early.)

Subject: Holiday ideas

Hi Terri,

Thanks for sending me those holiday brochures. I've looked at them and I've also found some interesting websites, so I've got a few ideas for our holiday. Shall we go at the beginning of June? If we leave then, we'll have good weather and it won't be too busy. I know you wanted to go in July but if we went then, it would be much more expensive. Let me know.

You mentioned camping in France but I'm not sure about that. It would be easier if I had my own tent. I know your brother has a lot of camping equipment. Do you think he will lend us a tent if you ask him?

Your other idea was a cycling trip. That would be great if I had a good bike! Anyway, I'll send you some more ideas later today.

Word order and sentence patterns

Before you start

1 Read the texts. Look at the highlighted grammar examples.

WEATHER WARNING
Warning of a storm tonight from approximately 17.00. Expect 30mm rain. Do not drive unless necessary.

STORM AT BRIGHAM-ON-SEA
HEAVY RAIN AND WINDS at 125km/h caused problems in Brigham yesterday evening. The storm started in the early evening and continued for most of the night.

Dear Dad,
I'm sending you this photo of the sea last night. We had an awful storm. I watched it all from the bedroom window - it's great to be so close to the sea, but it can be frightening, too! The storm started at about five o'clock and it rained heavily all evening. There is a 150-year-old sea wall in Brigham. Have you ever seen it? But luckily it was OK after the storm. I was lucky with that photo - I waited for a really big wave, and finally one came. I'm going to show it to my art class next week!

2 Now read the sentences. Choose the correct words in italics.
The highlighted grammar examples will help you.

1 We waited the bus / for the bus from 8.00 to 8.50!
2 Heavy rain caused difficulties / Difficulties caused heavy rain on the roads.
3 Rome is wonderful! Have you / You have ever been there?
4 The storm will get worse tonight. Do not / You do not go out after midnight if you don't have to.

Word order in statements

1 Subject + verb (+ object)
A statement contains a subject and a verb. It can also contain an object and other phrases. We put a full stop (.) at the end of a statement.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>VERB</th>
<th>OBJECT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>don’t know</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paul</td>
<td>is reading</td>
<td>a magazine.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The dry weather</td>
<td>caused</td>
<td>a lot of problems.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If we change the position of the subject and the object, the meaning of the sentence changes:

subject verb object
The boy hit the ball.

verb object subject
The ball hit the boy.

A few verbs have adjectives after them instead of an object (e.g. be, look, seem, smell, taste):
Melanie is very angry.
That looks delicious!

Adjectives after verbs ➪ Unit 25.3

We often use the -ing form of a verb as the subject of the sentence. Here, it is like a noun:
Swimming is good for you.
Driving in fog can be dangerous.

2 Subject + verb (no object)
Some verbs never have an object (e.g. arrive, come, go, happen, rain, land, wait).

⚠️ Remember to put the subject BEFORE the verb:

X Then arrived my friends and we had lunch.
✓ Then my friends arrived and we had lunch.

Other verbs can have an object, but do not always need one:
I’m reading a magazine. I’m reading.
Our team has just won the game! Our team has just won!

3 Building a sentence

<td>in Beijing</td>
<td>in June.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The workmen</td>
<td>cleared</td>
<td>the snow</td>
<td>from the streets</td>
<td>early this morning.</td>

This word order is the normal order for the parts of a sentence. If there is an adverb of manner, too, we put it before place or time:

manner place time
He played well at the game on Saturday.

2 GRAMMAR IN USE Read the text. Write the underlined words in the correct order.

EXTREME WEATHER IN BRITAIN
In July 2005 there was a very bad storm in Birmingham. It injured nineteen people and (0) a lot of damage caused to buildings. This is what Cathy Mead, a teacher from Birmingham, said:
I work in Dudley Park School. I was (1) on Thursday afternoon in the classroom. It was (2) heavily raining and then it went very dark. The wind became stronger and the building started to shake. The children all (3) scared looked, so I moved them into the middle of the classroom. Then I left them (4) for a while alone, and I went (5) for a few minutes outside, to see what was happening. It was amazing – (6) a car lifted the wind in the street and then it fell to the ground again, then (7) started a tree to fall. I went back into the school, we closed the doors and sat with the children. We waited until the storm passed, then we left (8) at about four o'clock the school. I went home and, luckily, my house was OK.

3 Write the words and phrases in the normal order. Then write a second sentence that is true for you.

0 ate for lunch Vicki a huge pizza
Vicki ate a huge pizza for lunch. .......... I had a cheese sandwich for my lunch. .......... 1 at the supermarket works Patrick on Saturday mornings

73 Word order in questions and imperatives

1 Questions

Question forms can be

- be + subject: Are you happy?  Was she late yesterday?
- auxiliary/modal verb + subject + main verb: Do you understand?

Questions can also contain an object and other phrases. We usually put a question mark (?) at the end of a question.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AUXILIARY / MODAL VERB</th>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>MAIN VERB</th>
<th>OBJECT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Can</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Did</td>
<td>it</td>
<td>snow</td>
<td>last winter?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Modal verbs ➤ Module 9  More on questions ➤ Units 77 and 78

2 Imperatives

We use the infinitive form for imperatives. We use don’t + infinitive to make a negative imperative. We sometimes put an exclamation mark (!) at the end of an imperative, to make it stronger.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>POSITIVE</th>
<th>NEGATIVE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Come in!</td>
<td>Don’t worry.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Take a seat.</td>
<td>Don’t forget your keys!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stop talking!</td>
<td>Don’t start writing yet.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠ You listen to me. I’m talking. (This is not polite.)
✓ Listen to me. I’m talking.

We use imperatives to:

- give orders: Stand up!
- give instructions: Mix the eggs and milk together.
- give warnings: Don’t go out in this weather. It’s horrible.
- offer something: Have a biscuit.
- ask for something: Pass the salt, please.

In public signs, we don’t use imperatives:

⚠ Don’t smoke;
✓ No smoking
⚠ Don’t park;
✓ No parking

74 Verbs with two objects

1 Person + thing
Some verbs can have two objects; one is usually a person and the other is usually a thing. Some verbs with two objects are: bring, buy, give, make, lend, offer, pay, send, show, teach, tell, throw, write.

We usually put the person object first:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>VERB</th>
<th>OBJECT (person)</th>
<th>OBJECT (thing)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>We</td>
<td>bought</td>
<td>the children/them</td>
<td>some boots.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harry</td>
<td>sent</td>
<td>Sally/her</td>
<td>some flowers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lianne</td>
<td>showed</td>
<td>Mike/him</td>
<td>her new laptop.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jasmine</td>
<td>didn’t tell</td>
<td>the students/them</td>
<td>a story.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ We don’t use for or to when the person object comes first:
❌ Harry sent to Sally/her some flowers.
✅ Harry sent Sally/her some flowers.

2 Thing + person
We can also put the ‘thing’ object first. Then we need to use for or to:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>VERB</th>
<th>OBJECT (thing)</th>
<th>PREPOSITION + OBJECT (person)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>We</td>
<td>bought</td>
<td>some boots</td>
<td>for the children/for them.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harry</td>
<td>sent</td>
<td>some flowers</td>
<td>to Sally/to her.</td>

It snowed all night and it took a long time to clear the roads in the morning.

1 it as a subject
We can use it as a subject pronoun, to talk about a noun we have already mentioned:

There was an awful storm last night. It damaged the roof.

But often it has no real meaning, e.g. It’s raining. We use it + be:

- with an adjective, to describe a general situation: I love living in Cambridge. It’s nice here.
- to talk about time: What time is it? It’s ten o’clock. What time will it be when we arrive?
- to talk about days and dates: What day is it? It’s Monday. It was my birthday yesterday.
- to describe distances: It’s five kilometres from home to the station. It’s 200 kilometres away.
- to talk about the weather: It’s raining. It isn’t cold. It takes five minutes, two hours, etc. when we talk about how long we need to do something: ‘How long does it take to get to the airport?’ It takes about an hour.’ It took a long time to clear the roads in the morning.

2 it as an object
We also use it as an object pronoun to talk about a noun we have already mentioned:

There was a lot of snow yesterday. The children enjoyed playing in it.

3 it’s + adjective/noun + to
We often use an adjective or noun after be + infinitive with to:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>it + be</th>
<th>ADJECTIVE</th>
<th>INFINITIVE</th>
<th>it + be</th>
<th>NOUN</th>
<th>INFINITIVE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>it’s</td>
<td>nice</td>
<td>to see you.</td>
<td>It was</td>
<td>a mistake</td>
<td>to accept this job.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>it isn’t</td>
<td>easy</td>
<td>to find our house.</td>
<td>It will be</td>
<td>a shame</td>
<td>to miss your wedding.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

4 there and it
We use there + be to give new information. We use it to say more about that information.

There’s somebody at the door. It’s the postman.

There’s some soup on the cooker. It’s tomato soup.

We don’t use it to say where something is or when something happened. We use there:

× It was a lot of snow last night. ✓ There was a lot of snow last night.

After who, when, where or why in questions, we need a verb:
Who is the best actor in the film?
Why did the Romans come to Britain?

⚠️ We cannot put a noun after them:
× Where place does the president live?
✓ Where does the president live?

2 Wh- questions + prepositions

If there is a verb + preposition in a statement, we often need to use the preposition at the end of a wh- question:
They're talking about the director. → Who are they talking about?

⚠ Angelo is writing to his friend. × Who is Angelo writing?
✓ Who is Angelo writing to?

But with when and where questions, we don't usually put a preposition at the end of the question:
I was born in London. Where were you born?
I was born on 30 August. When were you born?
I'm going to the cinema. Where are you going?

⚠️ But we say: 'Where are you from?' 'I'm from Moscow.'

2 which or what?
Which and what both ask about things and ideas.

- We use which when we are thinking of a small number of things:
  Which colour do you want for the bedroom, blue, green or grey?
  Which languages do you speak?

  We can also use which (but not what) to ask about people:
  Which member of the band do you like most?

  We do not need a noun if it is clear what we are asking about:
  'I speak four languages.' 'Really? Which do you speak?'

- What asks about more things than which. We often use what without a noun:
  What's your favourite colour? What's on at the cinema this week? What does this thing do?

  We can also use a noun after what: What instrument do you play?

3 Common uses of what

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>to ask about a person's work</th>
<th>What + do + noun + do?</th>
<th>What does your husband do? He's a builder.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>to ask about likes and dislikes</td>
<td>What + do + noun + like?</td>
<td>What kind of films does Jonathan like? He likes South American films.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ We don’t use like in the answer to What is he like?:
  🗢️ He’s like very clever. ✓ He's very clever.

4 who or whose?
We use who to ask about people: Who did you see at the party last night?

We use whose (with or without a noun) to ask about possessions and relationships:
*Whose is that bag on the table? (= Who does the bag belong to?)
Whose sister is she? (= Who is her sister?)

⚠️ Who’s and whose sound the same, but they are different. Who's means who is or who has:
Who's washing up today? (who is)  Who's seen the latest copy of 'Hello' magazine? (who has)
Practice

1 These questions all come from a conversation at a party. Choose the correct wh- word in each one.

0 Who / What was your favourite teacher? 5 Whose / What was she like?
1 What / Which did you study? 6 What / Which year did you graduate, 2007 or 2009?
2 Which / What is your name? 7 Who / Whose was your tutor for maths?
3 Which / What do you do now? 8 Whose / Who's group were you in for physics?
4 Which / Who university did you go to?

2 GRAMMAR IN USE Now complete the conversation with questions from Exercise 1.

JANE It's a good party, isn't it?  JANE I didn't have her. (3) ........
BETH Yes. Alison always has good parties.  BETH She was really good. (4) ........
JANE How long have you known her?  BETH It was Jack Granger. I didn't like him.
BETH For years. We met at university.  BETH No, I had him, too. He wasn't very good. (5) ........
JANE Really? (0) ....
BETH Kent University.
JANE That's interesting. I went there, too. (1) ........
BETH Maths and physics.
JANE I studied physics, too. (2) ........
BETH Simone Allen's group.
JANE I teach now - I work in a school in London. How about you?
BETH I write computer programs - mostly for games.

3 GRAMMAR IN USE Read about Penny Knight. Then write questions for the answers below. Use the wh- word in brackets ( ). GRAMMAR IN USE Listen and check.

I'm Lucy and the person I admire most is Penny Knight. She's my aunt but she's only five years older than me - she's my grandparents' youngest daughter. She's great - she's really friendly and lively, and she's very clever, too. She works for the games company Nintendo and designs computer games. She's married to Ryan - he's a sports teacher so she keeps fit.

0 Who is Penny Knight? ........................................... She's Lucy's aunt. (who)
1 .............................................................................. She's Lucy's grandparents' daughter. (whose)
2 .............................................................................. She's very friendly and clever. (what)
3 .............................................................................. Nintendo. (which)
4 .............................................................................. She designs computer games. (what)
5 .............................................................................. A sports teacher called Ryan. (who)

4 Correct the mistakes in these questions. Then write true answers.

0 Whose do you do? ........................................... I'm a student. ...........................................
1 Who's class are you in? ...........................................
2 Who school/college do you go to? ...........................................
3 Which are you studying now? ...........................................
4 Whose do you live with? ...........................................
5 Which do you like doing? ...........................................
1 how

The wh- word how can ask about a lot of different things. We use it to ask about:
- the way we do something:
  How do I open this bottle?  How do we get to your house?  How do you open the doors?
- other things, eg:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>health (how + be)</th>
<th>How are you?</th>
<th>I’m fine, thanks.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How’s your father now?</td>
<td>He’s feeling better, thanks.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>opinion (how + be)</td>
<td>How’s the soup?</td>
<td>It’s delicious.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How was the party?</td>
<td>It was great. I enjoyed it.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>news about a person’s life</td>
<td>How’s it going?</td>
<td>Fine, everything’s OK.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How did the exam go?</td>
<td>Fantastic! I passed!</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2 how + adjective

We use how before adjectives to ask about age, measurements and size:
How old is Tracey? She’s seven. / She’s seven years old.
How long is the Nile? It’s 6650 kilometres long.
How tall is the CNN Tower? It’s 553 metres tall.
How deep is the swimming pool? It’s two metres deep.
How big is the village? Not very big, only about 4000 people live there.

⚠️ With exact measurements, we include the adjectives tall, high, long, wide, deep in the answer. Look at the word order:
- ✗ The CNN Tower is tall 553 metres.  ✓ The CNN Tower is 553 metres tall.

⚠️ The answer to a question asking How old ... ? is different:
- ✗ My daughter is seven old.  ✓ My daughter is seven years old.  ✓ My daughter is seven years old.

3 Other common questions with how

We also use how to ask about:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>length of time</th>
<th>How long is the flight?</th>
<th>It’s four hours.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>distance</td>
<td>How far is the station from here?</td>
<td>It’s half a mile.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>speed</td>
<td>How fast does it go?</td>
<td>Very fast, 250 kilometres an hour!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>frequency</td>
<td>How often should I take the medicine?</td>
<td>Twice a day.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>number</td>
<td>How many people live on the island?</td>
<td>Three thousand.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>amount</td>
<td>How much water is left?</td>
<td>Five bottles.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>price</td>
<td>How much was the car?</td>
<td>It was really expensive!</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ We don’t use adverbs (e.g. fast, often) after measurements in answers:
- ✗ It goes at 250 kilometres an hour fast.  ✓ It goes at 250 kilometres an hour.

how much? or how many? ➤ Unit 8.3
Practice

GORDON LAWRENCE has worked on maglev trains for nearly 30 years. In this interview he talks to Chris Anderson.

I want to know...
0 if you are well. How are you?
1 the price of this book.
2 the age of your baby.
3 the length of the flight.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>How many friends</td>

In object questions, the wh- word is the object of the verb. The order of the question is object + auxiliary + subject + verb.

Notice the answer: Who did Robin help? Mandy

3 Subject and object questions

Compare these subject and object questions:

- Subject:
  - What eats birds? Cats eat birds.

- Object:

⚠ Don’t confuse subject and object questions:

- ✗ What means ‘statement’? ✓ What does ‘statement’ mean?

⚠ We use a singular verb after who, what and whose in subject questions:

- ✗ Who live in that old house? ✓ Who lives in that old house?

I'm in the last year of my medical course. I'm finding things very difficult. This year I'm spending most of my time in the hospital. It's an interesting course and I enjoy studying, but our tutors make us work all day in the hospital and then expect us to study in the evening. They don't let us have any free time! I had time to go out with my friends in previous years. But now I have to spend all my free time in the library. I don't want to lose my friends, but I don't want to fail my exams either!
What can I do?

Sally posted Saturday November 6
Everyone knows that medical degrees are difficult. But you shouldn't feel bad about it. If you can continue working for the next few months, you will soon be a doctor with a wonderful future ahead of you. Talk to your friends – explain the situation to them and arrange to see them at the weekends instead of the evenings.
And don't forget to get plenty of sleep!
Let us know what happens.

Verb + object + infinitive; make and let

Professor Maclean teaches student nurses to ask all the right questions.

1 Verb + object + infinitive
After some verbs, we can put an infinitive alone, or we can put an object before the infinitive:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>VERB</th>
<th>OBJECT</th>
<th>INFINITIVE WITH to</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lucy</td>
<td>wants</td>
<td>to go to university.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carol</td>
<td>wants</td>
<td>her daughter to go to university.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carol</td>
<td>would like</td>
<td>her</td>
<td>to go to university.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other examples of verbs like this are: ask, expect, help and need:
She asked me to phone her. She asked to see the doctor.

We don’t use that … after these verbs:
X Do you want that we bring some food to the party?
✓ Do you want us to bring some food to the party?

But some verbs ALWAYS have an object before the infinitive (e.g. advise, allow, invite, teach, tell, order, warn):
Professor Maclean teaches student nurses to ask all the right questions.

X The teacher told to be quiet. ✓ The teacher told us to be quiet.

We can make these sentences negative. We put not after the object and before to:
The teacher told us not to make a noise. The doctor advised him not to smoke.

2 make and let
After make and let, we put an object + the infinitive without to:
The cold weather made the lake freeze. (= The cold weather caused the lake to freeze.)

X Our teacher made us to do extra homework.
✓ Our teacher made us do extra homework. (= She forced us to do extra homework.)

X Our teacher let us to leave early.
✓ Our teacher let us leave early. (= She allowed us to leave early.)

Look at the difference between let + object + infinitive and let’s + infinitive:
Our teacher let us leave early. (= Our teacher allowed us to leave early.)
Let’s leave early today. (= I suggest that we leave early today.)

DANIEL FULTON is a special kind of doctor – his clients are people who have mental problems. He uses the ideas of the famous doctor and writer Sigmund Freud. Freud's ideas helped us understand how the human mind works.

1 Verb changes in reported statements

We use reported statements when we tell someone what another person has said. We usually use a past tense verb to report them:
I'm getting the 9.30 train. → She said that she was getting the 9.30 train.

After the past tense said, we usually change the tense of the person's words.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The person's words</th>
<th>The reported statement</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>present simple</td>
<td></td>

</tbody>
</table>
| 'I'm really hungry.' | She said that she was really hungry.
| 'I have a gun.'    | He said that he had a gun.            |
| present continuous |                         |
| 'The team's playing badly.' | He said that the team was playing badly. |
| past simple         |                         |
| could             | She said that she could do that.
| would             | He said that he would use the gun.
| must              | She said that we must/had to be quiet. |

Some verbs do not change in reported statements: could, should, ought to, would, might: 'I might go shopping later.' → She said she might go shopping later.

2 Reporting the past simple and present perfect

After the past simple and present perfect, we often use had + the -ed (past participle) form of the verb, e.g. had/hadn't finished. (This is called the past perfect tense.)

2 tell, ask and advise
When we report instructions, requests and advice, we can use tell, ask and advise.
With these verbs, we use the infinitive with to:
'Be quiet!' ➤ She told me to be quiet.

We put not BEFORE the infinitive with to:
'Don't touch the oven!' ➤ X She told me don't touch the oven. ✓ She told me not to touch the oven.

• instructions:
  TEACHER 'Don't talk during the lesson!' ➤ Our teacher told us not to talk during the lesson.

• requests:
  MOTHER 'Please phone home, Anna.' ➤ Anna's mother asked her to phone home.

• advice:
  DOCTOR 'I think you should see a specialist.' ➤ Jack's doctor advised him to see a specialist.

Indirect questions

1 Use

We use indirect questions to ask for information in a polite way, eg:
Can/could you tell me ...? Do you know ...? I'd like to know ...
Excuse me, could you tell me where the nearest bank is?

2 Wh- questions

In indirect questions the subject of the verb comes after the wh- word and before the verb.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DIRECT QUESTION</th>
<th>INDIRECT QUESTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>What time is it?</td>
<td>Do you know what time it is?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Where is the English exam?</td>
<td>Can you tell me where the English exam is?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How much are these jeans?</td>
<td>I'd like to know how much these jeans are</td>

<td>Do you know where Neil has gone?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ Can you tell me where is the station? ✅ Can you tell me where the station is?

3 Wh- questions with do, does and did

In indirect questions, we do not use do, does or did after the wh- word. We use the normal verb form for positive sentences:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DIRECT QUESTION</th>
<th>INDIRECT QUESTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Where does he live?</td>
<td>Do you know where he lives?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How often do you go shopping?</td>
<td>Could you tell me how often you go shopping?</td>

<td>Where did they go for their holiday?</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ I'd like to know what did he say. ✅ I'd like to know what he said.

4 Yes/No questions (Is ...? Do ...? Have ...? Will ...? etc.)

In indirect questions, we use if or whether + subject and the normal verb form for positive sentences:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DIRECT QUESTION</th>
<th>INDIRECT QUESTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Is there a petrol station near here?</td>
<td>Could you tell me if there is a petrol station near here?</td>

1. Read the text from a film magazine. Look at the highlighted grammar examples.

KING KONG

EVERYONE KNOWS this famous view. It shows the building which was once the tallest in the world. The Empire State Building became famous around the world because of the movie King Kong. Clearly this is the 1933 film, not the one from 2005! In the movie, a film director can’t find an actress for his new movie — a film he wants to make on a mysterious island. Finally, he finds a young woman who agrees to work for him, and they go to the island. When they get there, they realise that there is great danger — there is a huge gorilla on the island who kills people in the forest where he lives.

But the gorilla takes the woman from the city and runs away with her, and protects her from other animals. The people who have come from New York catch him and take him back there, which is very sad. In the final scene he carries the girl that he ran away with to the top of the Empire State Building. Of course, when you watch the film, you believe that he is going to kill the girl, but in fact he puts her down gently and then falls from the building and dies. The 1933 film was very successful — this was the reason why they made another one in 2005.

2. Now read the sentences. Choose the correct words in italics. The highlighted grammar examples will help you.

Director Peter Jackson filmed the three movies which form the Lord of the Rings series in his home country, New Zealand.

1 Relative clauses

We can use relative clauses to make two sentences into one sentence:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TWO SENTENCES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sentence 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This is my brother.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There are three movies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I've got a new mobile phone.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sentence 2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He lives in Japan.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They form the 'Lord of the Rings' series.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>It takes brilliant photos.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ONE SENTENCE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Main clause</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This is my brother.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There are three movies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I've got a new mobile phone.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Relative clause</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>who lives in Japan.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>which form the 'Lord of the Rings' series.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>that takes brilliant photos.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The relative clause gives us more information about the person or thing in the main clause.

2 who, which, that

We introduce a relative clause with a relative pronoun (who, which, or that):

- who is for a relative clause about people:
  - Alexander Graham Bell was the man who invented the telephone.
  - Do you know the woman who works at the cinema?
- which is for a relative clause about animals or things (but not people):
  - The horse which won the race has died. I've bought a new computer which cost £800.
- that we can use that for people, animals and things:
  - I've contacted all the students that took the exam. It's a phone that plays music.

⚠️ In a relative clause, who, which, or that REPLACES he, she, it, etc, or a noun:

- ✗ Jose is the man who lives next door.
- ✓ Jose is the man who lives next door.
- ✗ We don't go to restaurants which they serve meat.
- ✓ We don't go to restaurants which serve meat.

Basildon Park is a house which often appears in films. It's the house which they used in Pride and Prejudice.

1 Relative pronoun as subject

Look at these sentences:

Basildon Park is a house. Basildon Park often appears in films.

Basildon Park is a house which often appears in films.

Here, which = the subject of appears. It replaces the noun Basildon Park in the second sentence.

2 Relative pronoun as object

Now look at these sentences:

Basildon Park is a house. They used the house in ‘Pride and Prejudice’.

Basildon Park is the house which they used in ‘Pride and Prejudice’.

Here, which = the object of used.

We can also use who and that in this way:

The teacher who I like most is my music teacher.

Alex is the guy that I met yesterday.

NATURAL ENGLISH We often use relative clauses without which, who or that when they are the object of the verb:

Basildon Park is the house they used in ‘Pride and Prejudice’.

The teacher I like most is my music teacher.

Alex is the guy I met yesterday.

⚠ Don’t repeat the noun or pronoun:

The house they used in the film it was called Basildon Park.

✔ The house they used in the film was called Basildon Park.

⚠ We need the relative pronoun when it is the subject:

Basildon Park is a house which often appears in films.

✔ Basildon Park is a house which often appears in films.
Practice

1 Put a line through the relative pronoun if it is not necessary. Listen and check.

5 Harrison's? Is that the tour company which you used for your last holiday?
6 Is James McAvoy the actor who was in Atonement?

2 GRAMMAR IN USE Complete the conversation with relative pronouns, but only if they are necessary.

   Sally’s just bought the car that goes really fast.

6 We saw the woman. We met her at Ginny’s party last year.
   We saw the woman who we met at Ginny’s party last year.
1 Prepositions in relative clauses

Verbs often have prepositions after them (e.g. look for, talk about, go to).
In relative clauses, we usually put the preposition at the end of the clause:
I'm looking for a book. → This is the book (that) I'm looking for.
I was talking about Maria. → Maria is the woman (who) I was talking about.
We went to that beach. → That is the beach (which) we went to.

2 when, where, why

We can also use when, where and why for relative clauses
• When is for a relative clause about time, days, years, etc:
  We met on the day when I passed my final exam.
• Where is for a relative clause about places:
  That's the bank where Joan works.
• Why is for a relative clause about reason:
  She's working. That's the reason why she can't come.

There is always a subject after when, where or why. It is a different subject from the one in the main clause:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>main clause subject</th>
<th>relative clause subject</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
That's the building where we do our exams.

A When the relative clause begins with when or where, we do not include a place or time preposition:
× September 20th is the day when we got married on.
✓ September 20th is the day when we got married.
× That's the house where we spent our childhood in.
✓ That's the house where we spent our childhood.

3 Using which to make a comment

We can use which to make a comment on the idea in a clause:
For the scene of Gandhi's funeral, there were over 300,000 people, which is amazing.
(The fact that there were over 300,000 people is amazing.)
We took the children to the seaside on Sunday, which was really relaxing.
(Taking the children to the seaside was really relaxing.)

With these relative clauses we need a comma (,) before which.

Review MODULE 15

1 UNITS 89 AND 90 There are five more mistakes in the email. Find and correct them.

Hi Simon

How are things? We haven’t spoken for a while so I thought I’d write a quick e-mail. Did Anna get the job she wanted it?
We’re fine. I’ve just had my 30th birthday and David gave me a ring that it belonged to his grandmother – it’s really lovely. He had to go to the hospital again about his leg, but he didn’t see the doctor which he saw last time, so he had to repeat everything for the new doctor! It’s six months since he had the accident what caused the problems.
I’ve just bought a new laptop. In the end I got the one that which you told me about. It’s really good and I think it will be useful for those business trips who I need a laptop for, because it’s very easy to carry.
Write back when you can – let’s try to see each other during the summer.

Police Report
June 10 2007 East 46th Street Apt 217
Watching Al Padrone
9.30 Police officer Haynes and I arrived at 9.30 and set up the equipment. We had to watch carefully because Apartment 217 is about 50 feet away across the street. No action.
13.15 Woman X arrived at Apartment 217. She rang the bell but no one opened the door. While she was waiting, she smoked a cigarette, then she made a call on her mobile. In the end, she walked away.
18.30 Al Padrone and woman X arrived at the apartment, but from different directions. Before going in, the woman pointed up at the window where we were sitting. Haynes waved at her, so I think they know we are here.
20.00 There was a knock at our door. Haynes opened it and came back with two pizzas. When I looked across at Apartment 217, both Al and the woman were waving at us and laughing. I think we have a problem.

1 and, but and or

We can use and, but and or to join two clauses. We put them between the clauses:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SENTENCE 1</th>
<th>LINKING WORD</th>
<th>SENTENCE 2</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I've washed up</td>
<td>and</td>
<td>I've put the dishes away.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I've washed up</td>
<td>but</td>
<td>I haven't put the dishes away.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I can wash up</td>
<td>or</td>
<td>I can put the dishes away.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

After and and or we don’t need to repeat the subject (I, he, you, etc.) or the auxiliary/modal verb:

I’ve washed up and (I've) put the dishes away.
I can wash up or (I can) put the dishes away.

We don’t need to repeat the verb if it is the same in both clauses:

I've made a cake and (I've made) some biscuits.
Would you like tea or (would you like) coffee?

We repeat the subject (I, he, you, etc.) after but:
I'd like to come but I haven't finished my homework yet.

2 both ... and, either ... or

We use both ... and and either ... or to make and/or stronger.

- both ... and is for two similar ideas:
  Hilary speaks French and Japanese.
  Hilary speaks both French and Japanese.
  We can go shopping and see the film. We've got time.
  We can both go shopping and see the film. We've got time.

- either ... or is for two choices:

93 because, so, so that

Why do you want to join the police, Andrew?

Because I think it's a very interesting job.

Any other reasons?

Yes, so that I can help people.

1 because

Because joins two sentences and explains why:
Everyone loves Johnny Depp. He's a brilliant actor.
Everyone loves Johnny Depp because he's a brilliant actor.

We use because of + noun:
All the trains are late because of the bad weather.

⚠️ But we cannot use because of + noun and verb:
Ｘ All the trains are late because of it is snowing.
✓ All the trains are late because of the snow.

We can use because and because of at the beginning of a sentence. When we do this, we put a comma (,) after the first clause:
Because he's a brilliant actor, everyone loves him.
Because of the bad weather, all the trains are late.

2 so

So gives the result of something:
Lucia didn't work hard so she failed her Spanish exam.
Summers are getting hotter so different types of plants are growing.

3 so that, to + infinitive

We use so that to say why a person does something. Can and could often come after so that:
Andrew wants to join the police so that he can help people.
She worked really hard so that she could go to university.

We can also use to + infinitive instead of so that:
I'm joining the police so that I can help people.
I'm joining the police to help people.

NATURAL ENGLISH In everyday English, to + infinitive is more common than so that:
Liz has gone to the shops so that she can buy some bread.
→ Liz has gone to the shops to buy some bread.

Linking words for time

1 Common linking words for time

We use linking words (e.g. when, before, after, until, while) to talk about time.

- We use when, before, after to show the order of events:
  I’ll call you when we get back from our holiday.
  I locked the back door before I went to bed.
  I went to bed after I locked the back door.

- We can also use when, while and until to talk about a period of time:
  We heard the news when we were in France.
  Wait here until I get back.

  I broke my arm while I was playing tennis.

Look at the difference between while and during:
  I broke my arm while I was playing tennis. (while + verb)
  I broke my arm during a game of tennis. (during + noun)

- as soon as means ‘immediately when’:
  Please call us as soon as you arrive.

2 Future time

When we are talking about the future, we use a PRESENT tense after when, before, after, until, as soon as. We don’t use will or going to:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FUTURE TENSE</th>
<th>LINKING WORD</th>
<th>PRESENT TENSE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I think I’ll get a good job</td>
<td>when</td>
<td>I finish this course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She will come and see us</td>
<td>before</td>
<td>she leaves.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We’re going to have a long holiday</td>
<td>after</td>
<td>he gets out of hospital.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Will you wait</td>
<td>until</td>
<td>I come home?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They’ll call us</td>
<td>as soon as</td>
<td>they have any news.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

⚠️ They’ll call us as soon as they will have any news.
✔ They’ll call us as soon as they have any news.

3 Commas

If a linking word begins the sentence, we use a comma. We don’t use a comma if the linking word is in the middle of the sentence:

As soon as they have any news, they’ll call us. (comma)

They’ll call us as soon as they have any news. (no comma)
Practice

1 Which action comes first in these sentences? Which comes second? Write 1 or 2 in the brackets ( ).

3 We had a big party ( ) after I passed my driving test ( ).
4 Don’t worry about washing the dishes – we can do that ( ) after you leave ( ).

- we left home

0 We had to go out .
1 The phone rang .

3 I won't try to find a job. I'll finish my course. (before)

4 The interview finished. I called my wife. (as soon as)

5 You finish using the CD. Remove it from the computer. (after)
'Well, you see officer, first a rabbit ran across the road and I stopped quickly.
Then the car behind me stopped and almost hit me, but after that, another car came up really fast and hit the car behind me.
That hit my car and pushed it into the tree.
Then another car came up too fast and another, and in the end, there were six cars there!'

1 Describing events in the past
When we describe the order of events in the past, we use the linking words first, then, after that and in the end.
• We use first for the first event:
  First a rabbit ran across the road ...
• We use then and after that for more events. We usually use then before after that:
  ... then the car behind me stopped ... after that, another car ...
• We use in the end for the last event of many, or to mean after a long time:
  In the end, there were six cars there. In the end, we got our luggage back from the airline.

In writing we often use after + -ing and before + -ing to describe the order of events.

Compare:
I went to bed after I locked the back door.
→ Mycroft went to bed after locking the back door.
I decided to travel before I went to university.
→ Many school leavers travel before going to university.

Don't use the infinitive to after before and after:
✗ Always check the oil in your car before to drive a long way.
✓ Always check the oil in your car before driving a long way.

before and after  ➤ Unit 94.1

NATURAL ENGLISH Don't use too many linking words together because it can sound unnatural:
✗ First I got up, then I had a shower. After that I had breakfast and then I went to get the bus ...
✓ First I got up and had a shower. Then I had breakfast and went to get the bus ...

2 Giving instructions
We often use the linking words first, next, then, finally to give instructions:
First, take six eggs, ... Next, put a little butter in a pan.

We use finally for the last instruction, not in the end:
First, boil some milk in the pan. Then add the chocolate powder to the milk and mix. Finally, pour it into a cup and enjoy it!

ABU SIMBEL

THE TEMPLE OF ABU SIMBEL is more than three thousand years old. The king of Egypt, Ramesses II, had the temple built in 1265 BC after he won a battle. The huge building was cut from the side of a mountain next to the River Nile.

For many centuries the temple was buried under sand until it was discovered by Europeans in 1811. In the 1960s the river water around the temple began to rise. People thought it might flood the temple. So in 1964 the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) started a project to save the temple. A team of international engineers was formed. The engineers had the building cut into small pieces by local workers. Then the stone pieces were taken to a new place high above the river and they were put into position.

Now the pieces of stone have been joined together and the temple has been saved from the rising water. Today it can be visited by anybody who is interested in Ancient Egypt and the amazing achievements of modern engineering.

They opened the bridge in 1992. (active, bridge = the object)

The bridge was opened in 1992. (passive, bridge = the subject)

⚠️ We don’t make passives from verbs that don’t have objects (e.g. come, arrive, happen, wait):

✘ I was grown up in a small village. ✓ I grew up in a small village.

⚠️ Born is always passive:

2 Use

We usually use an active verb when we are interested in the person who does the action:

Santiago Calatrava designed the Alamillo Bridge.

We use a passive verb

• when we are more interested in the action than the person who did it:
  The bridge was opened in 1992.

• when we don’t know the person:
  Julia’s handbag was stolen. (We don’t know who stole it.)

• when the action is a law or rule:
  Smoking is not allowed in this building.

3 Passive + by

We can say:

Santiago Calatrava designed the bridge, or The bridge was designed by Santiago Calatrava.

× All the questions must to be answered.

✓ All the questions must be answered.

1 UNITS 96 AND 97 Read about Hampton Court Palace, then use the information to complete the sentences below. The information you need is underlined.

THE STORY OF Hampton Court Palace

In 1514 Thomas Wolsey, King Henry VIII’s most important and richest minister, bought a large piece of land in Hampton Court on the River Thames, just west of London. Over the next ten years he built an enormous palace on the land. In 1525 Wolsey gave the palace to the king and since that time the palace has belonged to the kings and queens of England. Henry’s daughter Queen Elizabeth I used the palace during the later sixteenth century.

In 1689 King William III decided the palace was too old-fashioned and he asked Sir Christopher Wren to design a new section. William was Dutch and he created a Dutch garden in front of the new part of the palace.

Queen Victoria didn’t like the palace and she didn’t want to live there. So in 1838 she opened the palace for ordinary people to visit.

The government repaired the palace and gardens in the 1990s. Today the royal family doesn’t use Hampton Court, so the public can visit the palace.

2 Adjective + noun
Some adjectives and nouns go together:
a strong swimmer = a person who can swim very well a good driver = a person who can drive very well (X a strong driver)

Here are some common examples:
smart clothes, a smart suit, a tall building, a high wall, a heavy smoker, heavy rain, a light meal/lunch/dinner, a strong smell, a hard worker
I usually have a light meal at lunchtime.
You should wear a smart suit for that job interview.

These are often different in other languages, so it is best to check in a good dictionary.

3 Adjective + preposition
We often use a preposition after an adjective and before the noun that follows it:

<table>

Look at the word order in questions:
Are you complaining about the camera? Which camera are you complaining about?
What are you looking at?

If there is a verb after the preposition, we use the -ing form:

X I’m thinking of buy a new car. ✓ I’m thinking of buying a new car.

We don’t use to after the verbs ask, answer, call, phone and thank:

X Please phone to me later. ✓ Please phone me later.

We don’t use about after discuss:

X We discussed about the weather. ✓ We discussed the weather.

3 Verb + to/about

1 Verb + adverb
A phrasal verb is a verb + an adverb/preposition, e.g. take + off (= take off). It usually has a different meaning from the verb alone:
It's cold. You should take a jumper with you.
It's warm. I'm going to take off my jumper. (take off = remove)
In formal English we often use a different verb with the same meaning as the phrasal verb:
Why don't you take off your shoes? (informal) = Please remove your shoes. (formal)

2 Phrasal verbs with an object
Many phrasal verbs have an object:
Please take off your shoes.
If the object is a noun, we can put it before or after the adverb/preposition:
Please put your jacket on. Please put on your jacket.

But we always put pronoun objects (e.g. it, him, them) between the verb and adverb/preposition:
× Put-on-it. √ Put it on.

Here are some common phrasal verbs that have an object:

| bring/give/put something back | pick somebody up (= collect somebody and take them somewhere) |
| fill something in (= complete a form) | put something down |
| find something out (= get information) | put something on |
| give something up (= stop a habit, activity or job) | switch/turn something on/off |
| let somebody in | take something away |
| look something up (= find in a book, etc.) | take something off |
| pick something up | turn something down (= reduce the sound) |
| write something down |

It's dark in here. Can you turn on the lights?
I'll take your computer away today and I'll bring it back on Friday.
Liz is on a diet so she's giving up chocolate.

3 Phrasal verbs without an object
Some phrasal verbs have no object:

| come back | come in | get out | get up | go away | go back | go in | go out | grow up | hurry up |
| lie down | look round | look out (= be careful) | sit down | stand up | turn around | wake up |

Hurry up! We're late. I usually wake up early. Look out! A car's coming.

105 Forming nouns

1 Nouns that end in -er, -or, -ant/-ent and -ist

These nouns are often people and their jobs (e.g. a teacher, a dentist):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>VERB OR NOUN</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>= PERSON/JOB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>teach</td>
<td>-er</td>
<td>teacher</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>drive</td>
<td>-er</td>
<td>driver</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>build</td>
<td>-er</td>
<td>builder</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>visit</td>
<td>-or</td>
<td>visitor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>act</td>
<td>-or</td>
<td>actor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>assist</td>
<td>-ant/-ent</td>
<td>assistant</td>

<td>-ist</td>
<td>artist</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>journal</td>
<td>-ist</td>
<td>journalist</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cycle</td>
<td>-ist</td>
<td>cyclist</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Some nouns that end in -er are things, not people:
cook = a machine that cooks things photocopier = a machine that makes copies

2 Nouns that end in -ese, -(i)an and -ish

These nouns are often nationalities and/or languages. They are also used as adjectives:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>COUNTRY</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>= NATIONALITY/LANGUAGE/ADJECTIVE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>China</td>
<td>-ese</td>
<td>Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Japan</td>
<td>-ese</td>
<td>Japanese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Portugal</td>
<td>-ese</td>
<td>Portuguese</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Italy</td>
<td>-(i)an</td>
<td>Italian, Russian, Hungarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Russia</td>
<td>-(i)an</td>
<td>Russian, English</td>

<td>-ish</td>
<td>Spanish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poland</td>
<td>-ish</td>
<td>Polish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweden</td>
<td>-ish</td>
<td>Swedish</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The names of some languages and nationalities do not follow these patterns (e.g. The Netherlands → Dutch, Greece → Greek, Thailand → Thai).

3 Nouns that end in -ment, -(t)ion, -ation and -sion

We make these nouns from verbs:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>VERB</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>= NOUN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>move</td>
<td>-ment</td>
<td>movement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>argue</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

<td>education</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>produce</td>
<td>-tion</td>
<td>production</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>examine</td>
<td>-tion</td>
<td>examination</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>invite</td>
<td>-tion</td>
<td>invitation</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>-tion</td>
<td>information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>discuss</td>
<td>-sion</td>
<td>discussion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>decide</td>
<td>-sion</td>
<td>decision</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

4 Nouns that end in -ness, -ity and -ance/-ence

We make these nouns from adjectives:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ADJECTIVE</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>= NOUN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>happy</td>
<td>-ness</td>
<td>happiness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dark</td>
<td>-ness</td>
<td>darkness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ill</td>
<td>-ness</td>
<td>illness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>able</td>
<td>-ity</td>
<td>ability</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>active</td>
<td>-ity</td>
<td>activity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>national</td>
<td>-ity</td>
<td>nationality</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>important</td>
<td>-ance</td>
<td>importance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>distant</td>
<td>-ance</td>
<td>distance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>independent</td>
<td>-ence</td>
<td>independence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>different</td>
<td>-ence</td>
<td>difference</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>silent</td>
<td>-ence</td>
<td>silence</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The spelling often changes when we add letters to a word that ends with a vowel or -y: cycle → cyclist, study → student, decide → decision, argue → argument, happy → happiness

Forming compound nouns and adjectives

1 Compound nouns
A compound noun is a noun made from two words. The first noun is usually singular.
We sometimes write compound nouns as one word (e.g. newspaper, supermarket) and sometimes as two separate words (e.g. car park, ice cream). It is best to check the correct form in a dictionary.
We can make compound nouns by adding a noun, verb or adjective to a noun:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>noun + noun</th>
<th>bedroom</th>
<th>clothes shop</th>
<th>furniture shop</th>
<th>record shop</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>noun + verb-er</td>
<td>DVD player</td>
<td>dishwasher</td>
<td>taxi driver</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>noun + verb-ing</td>
<td>ice-skating</td>
<td>snowboarding</td>
<td>horse-riding</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>verb-ing + noun</td>
<td>shopping centre</td>
<td>washing machine</td>
<td>living room</td>
<td>swimming pool</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjective + noun</td>
<td>best friend</td>
<td>grandfather</td>
<td>supermarket</td>
<td>whiteboard</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The stress is usually on the first syllable:
living room, traffic jam, horse-riding, grandfather

Pronunciation ➤ 1.36
The first word usually gives more information about the second word. It can tell us:
- What kind of thing?
a bathroom (= a room with a bath)
a clothes shop (= a shop which sells clothes)
- What kind of person?
a history teacher (= a person who teaches history)
a taxi driver (= a person who drives taxis)
- What is its purpose?
a washing machine (= a machine for washing clothes)
a tennis ball (= a ball for playing tennis)

2 Compound adjectives
Compound adjectives are made from nouns, adjectives, verbs and adverbs. They usually have a hyphen (-) between the two words when they come before a noun:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>number/measurement + noun</th>
<th>three-hour</th>
<th>two-day</th>
<th>two-kilometre</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>16th-century</td>
<td>250-gramme</td>
<td>600-dollar</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjective + noun</td>
<td>half-price</td>
<td>half-hour</td>
<td>full-time</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>part-time</td>
<td>ten-year-old</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adverb + participle verb</td>
<td>high-quality</td>
<td>high-speed</td>
<td>low-price</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>low-calorie</td>
<td>well-known</td>
<td>well-paid</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>self + verb/adjective/noun</td>
<td>centrally-heated</td>
<td>self-employed</td>
<td>self-service</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A compound adjective gives us information about the noun that follows it:
We had a three-hour exam. (an exam that lasted for three hours)
We went on the high-speed train. (the train that travels at high speed)
I’d like a well-paid job. (a job which pays me a lot of money)

⚠️ The noun in these adjectives is always singular:
× He’s a ten-years-old boy. ✔ He’s a ten-year-old boy.
× It was a three-hours-film. ✔ It was a three-hour film.
Practice

1 Match the two parts of the sentences. Listen and check.

0 Our neighbours have got a swimming A calorie diet.
1 Why don’t you ask the taxi B known actress?
2 Is there a washing C pool in their garden.
3 Last year we went snow D speed train to Madrid?

5 She’s on a special low- F boarding in Switzerland.
6 Did you catch the high- G teacher at the local school.
7 Is she related to that well- H driver for directions?

2 GRAMMAR IN USE Choose the correct words in italics in the text.

The story of IKEA
IKEA is one of the most famous (0) shops of furniture (furniture shops) in the world. It has more than 300 stores and employs over 100,000 people. It was started by Ingvar Kamprad in Sweden in 1943. The store is (1) well-known / very known for its (2) cheap-price / low-price furniture which customers have to put together at home. This is much cheaper than ordinary furniture. IKEA sells about 12,000 products; it has something for every room in the house – for (3) livings / living rooms, kitchens, bathrooms, dining rooms and (4) bedrooms / sleeping rooms. All the stores are very large and (5) self-service / serving-yourself. They have enormous (6) car / cars parks. Shopping at IKEA is popular with families because every store has a safe place for children to play and a cheap restaurant. So if you get tired of shopping you can get a cup of coffee or an (7) ice cream / ices cream. It’s like a huge (8) central-shopping / shopping centre inside one shop!

3 Each sentence contains a part of a compound word, but the other part is missing. Find the incomplete words. Then write the whole compound word. Listen and check.

1 Uncle Gerald doesn’t work for a company – he’s self .........................

GABY: Yes, it was excellent. It was in their garden and the weather was great. The food was great too. And she got lots of presents.
JIM: Did she? I'm not surprised, really. She's very popular.
GABY: Mmm. The only problem was that Paul wasn't there, you know, their son. He refused to come.
JIM: That's awful! Why?
GABY: Don't know. Elaine didn't want to talk about it. But I've never liked Paul really.
JIM: No, neither have I. He always seems unfriendly. Anyway, I'm glad the party went well.
GABY: I am, too. Now, you're coming to dinner tomorrow evening, right?

Question tags always use short forms: ... isn't he? ... don't you?

⚠️ We always match the tag with the statement:

× He's English, no?  × He's English, isn't it?  ✓ He's English, isn't he?

⚠️ We can't make a question tag with am, so we use are:

× amn't-I  ✓ aren't I

2 Use

We add a question tag to change a statement into a question (Unit 77.1).

We can use question tags:

- to ask for information. We say these tags with a rising intonation (↗):

  I can get a bus from here, can't I? (I don't know the answer – I haven't taken a bus from here.)

  You aren't coming to the wedding in those jeans, are you? (I don't know, but I hope not.)

- to ask for agreement, when we think we know the answer. We say these tags with a falling intonation (↘):

  It's really hot today, isn't it? (I think it's hot and I want you to agree.)

  You haven't seen that film yet, have you? (I think you haven't.)

We answer question tags with yes/no, a short answer and other information if necessary:

'I can get a bus from here, can't I?' 'Yes, you can. The next one is in ten minutes.'

'The bus leaves at six o'clock, doesn't it?' 'Yes, that's right.'

3 Change the questions into statements and question tags. Listen and check.

1 Were you at the same school as Paul?
2 Is there going to be food at the party?
3 Am I included in the invitation?
4 Will you come home by twelve o’clock?
5 Did you tell Fran about the party?

Paul didn’t tell you about the party, did he?

You weren’t?

There isn’t?

I am?

You will?

You didn’t?
1 too, so ...

We use too after a positive verb to agree with someone or to add information:
'I'm cold.' 'I am, too.'
'Sophie passed the exam!' 'Nat did, too.'

We can say the same thing with so, but so comes before the verb and the verb comes before the subject:
'I'm cold.' 'So am I.'
'We love skiing.' 'So do we.'
'He went to Greece.' 'So did she.'
'I've got an interview.' 'So have I.'
'I'd love to try that restaurant.' 'So would I.'

We always put the verb before the subject, and we don't repeat the main verb:
'I passed the exam!' × 'So did I pass!' × 'So I passed!' × 'So I did!'
✓ 'So did I!'

2 either, neither ...

We use either after a negative verb to agree with someone or to add information:
'I'm not getting up yet.' 'I'm not either.'
'My mum doesn't like that programme.' 'My mum doesn't either.'

We can say the same thing with neither, but neither comes before a positive verb and the verb comes before the subject:
'I'm not getting up yet.' 'Neither am I.'
'I don't like this cold weather.' 'Neither do I.'
'She can't swim yet.' 'Neither can he.'
'We've never been to Egypt.' 'Neither have we.'
'I mustn't be late again.' 'Neither must I.'

3 Disagreeing with people

We can disagree or say that something is different with short answers like this:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>POSITIVE</th>
<th>NEGATIVE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>'This music's too loud!'</td>
<td>'I haven't finished my homework yet.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'I like spicy food.'</td>
<td>'Oh, I have.' (not I've)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'No, it isn't!'</td>
<td>'Oh, I don't.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'Oh, I don't.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NATURAL ENGLISH We often use Oh before we disagree. It sounds a little more polite:
'I want to go sightseeing today.' 'Oh, I don't. Let's go to the beach again.'

1 That's/How + adjective
We can use That's + an adjective when we think something is very good, very bad or very surprising:
'Jeremy has just asked me to marry him!' 'That's wonderful!'
'My mobile phone was stolen yesterday.' 'Oh, that's awful!'

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>GOOD</th>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SURPRISING</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>That's crazy! amazing! incredible!</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We can also use How + an adjective:
'Last night we heard a knock at the door, but there was no one there.'
'How strange! Was it the wind?'
'She's angry and she's not speaking to me.' 'How silly!'

2 What a/an + (adjective) + noun
We use What a/an + (adjective) + noun when we are disappointed, annoyed, surprised or very pleased:
'We can't come to your party next week, I'm afraid.' 'Oh, what a pity! I'm sure you'd enjoy it.'
'Karen phoned to say she's coming home for the summer.' 'What a lovely surprise!'

</tr>
<tr>
<td>a (fantastic) idea!</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a (wonderful) day!</td>
<td>a pain! (= That's annoying!)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We need a noun in exclamations with what. We don’t use what + adjective;
we use That's or How:
X What fantastic! ✓ That's fantastic!

3 Really?, No!, Wow!
There are also some single words which we use when something is surprising:
'Wow! That's fantastic!'
'I've just got a pay rise of €2,000 a year.' 'No! What a surprise!'
'Really? Lucky you.'

⚠️ We use Wow! only for something good. No! and Really? can be used for good or bad news:
X 'Wow! I'm really sorry.'
✓ 'No! I'm really sorry.'
✓ 'Really? I can't believe that ...'

1 Weak vowels

Weak vowels are vowels that we do not stress (say strongly). The two weak vowels are /ə/ and /ɪ/:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WEAK</th>
<th>STRONG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a/an</td>
<td>/ə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>the</td>
<td>/ðə/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>of</td>
<td>/ɔv/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>at</td>
<td>/ɔt/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>can</td>
<td>/kən/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>was</td>
<td>/wɔz/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>been</td>
<td>/bɛn/</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We usually use weak vowels in ‘grammar’ words, e.g. the, a, an, prepositions and auxiliary verbs.

2 Weak forms in prepositions

Most short prepositions are weak when we are speaking:
I’m going to /tə/ the cinema. Dimitri is from /friːm/ Greece. He’s at /æt/ the doctor’s.

We usually use the weak form of to /tə/ in going to and used to:
Are you going to /tə/ phone the cinema?
We used to /tə/ get the school bus at 8.00 in the morning.

Pronunciation ➤ 1.40

3 Weak forms in other words

- a/the: We usually pronounce a/an and the with /ə/:
  a book, an apple, the garden
  But when a vowel sound comes after the, we pronounce the with /ɪ/:
  the apple
- was/were /wɔz/ /wəz/:
  Was it hot in Corfu? There were a lot of insects.
- that /ðæt/:
  Do you think that everyone’s ready?
  But when we use that to ask about something or choose something, it is always strong:
  What’s that? I’d like that one, please.
- than /ðæn/:
  We also use weak forms in comparative and superlative adjectives:
  cheaper /-ə/ cheapest /-ɪst/
  The restaurants are cheaper here than in London.
  But the cheapest restaurants are in the country.
- been /bɛn/:
  We usually pronounce been with the weak form /ɪ/:
  We’ve been to the theatre. Have you ever been to India?
- can /kən/:
  We usually pronounce can as /kæn/ in statements and questions.
  Karen can play the piano. Can Karen play the piano?
  We use the strong form /kæn/ in short answers:
  Yes, she can.
  The negative can’t is usually strong /kænt/ in most varieties of British English:
  Karen can’t play the guitar.

1 Speaking

There are a lot of differences between the way we speak English and the way we write it.

- We usually use short forms when we are speaking:

  So, we’re ready for your birthday dinner now, right?
  I think so, don’t you Jonas?
  Yeah, I'll have some beans.

- We don’t always use pronouns (I, you, etc.) or auxiliary verbs (do, is, etc.):
  I don’t know, Mum. \(\rightarrow\) Don’t know, Mum.
  Are you coming to the party? \(\rightarrow\) You coming to the party?
  It’s hot today, isn’t it? \(\rightarrow\) Hot today, isn’t it?

  We only do this when we are talking to people we know very well.
  We don’t do this in writing.

- We can use an extra word, (right? or OK?) when we want to check something:
  We’re ready for dinner now, right?
  We’ll order the taxi for seven o’clock, OK?

  We usually use right? to check that what we are saying is correct.
  We usually use OK? to check that an arrangement is good for the person we are speaking to.

2 Listening

When we are listening to someone speaking, we often make noises or say things to show we are listening:

‘You know your friend Jake …’ ‘Mmm …’
‘I’ve got tickets for the match on Saturday …’ ‘Really?’ ‘Yeah. Do you want one?’

Yeah is a very informal way of saying yes.
Practice

I've just seen a brilliant film – The Hostel. Well, you know me. I love horror films! I think it's the most frightened film I've ever seen. There was a huge queue, we had to wait for twenty-five minutes to get into the cinema – very boring! But it was worth it. In the middle of the movie my friend Jake screamed! And the ending is really surprising. But I won't tell you about it!

By the way, how was your trip to Durham? Was it interesting?

I'm getting very excited about your visit here next month. I can't wait! And Janice is very pleased because she hasn't seen you for a long time ...

You know I’ve always wanted to study chemistry – well, I’ve just had great news. The university has given me a place on the chemistry course! I’ve decided to do the four-year course – it should be really interesting. The course starts in October and I’ve arranged to stay in one of the student houses near the college.
I can’t afford to pay the fees myself so my parents have promised to help me. And I can get a student loan as well. Uncle Jim has offered to give me a job in his office during the summer, so I expect to make some money then.
By the way, we’re having a party here next weekend.
Would you like to come? You can bring Helen if you like. Everyone here would love to meet her!
