Magic letters e and i

When we put e at the end of a word ending in consonant + vowel + consonant we don’t pronounce the e, but it often changes the vowel in a magical way. Listen to these sounds and words.

1. hat /hæt/ → hate /hæt/
2. kit /kɪt/ → kite /kɪt/
3. pet /pɛt/ → Pete /pɛt/
4. rob /rɒb/ → robe /rɒb/
5. cut /kʌt/ → cute /kʌt/

Listen to the words in exercise 1 again and choose the correct rule.
1. The magic e makes the short vowels change into the alphabet letter sounds a, e, i, o and u.
2. The magic e makes the vowels change from long vowels into short vowel sounds.

Look at the words and mark them S (short vowel) or A (alphabet letter sound). Then listen and check your answers.

1. angry S
2. big S
3. bottle
4. computer
5. home
6. letter
7. make
8. sun
9. these
10. time

Look at the words and mark them S (short vowel) or A (alphabet letter sound). Then listen and check your answers.

1. hat /hæt/ → hating /hæt/
2. not /nɒt/ → notice /nɒt/
3. bit /bɪt/ → biting /bɪt/
4. cub /kʌb/ → cubic /kʌb/

The letter i often changes short vowels in the same way. Listen to the words.

Read the rules and then write the -er, -est or -ing form of the words.

Magic e and i change short vowels into long vowels.

To keep the vowel short when we add -er, -est or -ing to words ending in consonant + short vowel + consonant we must double the final consonant (x 2) before adding -er, -est or -ing.

Listen and practise the pairs of words in exercise 5.
Silent letter clover

1. Look at the clover leaves. Which words below them have got silent letters? Listen and cross out the silent letters. Be careful – some words haven’t got silent letters!

12. /w/ wet

1. /v/ is a voiced consonant. Bite your bottom lip with your top teeth and push air out to make this sound.
2. /w/ is a short form of the long vowel sound /u/. Put a pencil in your mouth and put your lips round it. Take the pencil out and keep your lips round. Push air out to make this sound.

Read the instructions and practise saying the pairs of words in exercise 1.

Listen to the sentences. Then tick the correct answer, a or b, each time.

1. Do you like veils / Wales?
   a. No, but I like hats.
   b. No, but I like Scotland.
2. Tell me about that vine / wine.
   a. We planted it in the garden last year.
   b. It's cold, white, sweet and German.
3. Is this your veal / wheel?
   a. No, I'm having fish.
   b. No. It's for Kate's car.
4. Are you interested in the vest / west?
   a. No, I want to buy a shirt.
   b. No, in the east. I love Asia.
5. You're not listening. I said 'vet' / 'wet'.
   a. Oh, I thought you said she was a doctor.
   b. Oh, I thought you said it was cold, but dry.
6. I can't read your writing - is this 'V' / 'we'?
   a. No, it's 'U'.
   b. No, it's 'me'.

Work in pairs. Take turns to start different dialogues from exercise 3. Your partner must listen and reply each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.

Listen to these silly sentences and practise reading them aloud.

1. We want some lovely winter weather!
2. Why was Victor visiting Wanda on Wednesday?
3. Will's Venezuelan waistcoat was wonderful.
4. Wally won't wash Vinnie the whale.
5. Vera loves videoing Wayne on Valentine's day.
6. Vanessa and Val revised very well last weekend.
Look at the street map of Letterton. Read the instructions and play the game.

1. Work in pairs. One of you is Student A, the other is Student B.
   Student A: Anna, Bob, Cathy, Donna, Eric, and Frank live in flats. Put the first letters of their names where you want in the numbered flats (the circles) on the map. (Write only one letter in each place!) DON'T show your map to your partner.
   Student B: Gary, Harry, Izzy, Jessy, Keith, and Lily live in houses. Put the first letters of their names where you want in the numbered houses (the squares) on the map. (Write only one letter in each place!) DON'T show your map to your partner.

2. Get together with your partner.
   Student A: You must find the houses where Gary, Harry, Izzy, Jessy, Kevin, and Lily live.
   Student B: You must find the flats where Anna, Bob, Cathy, and Donna, Eric, and Frank live.

3. Take it in turns to ask and answer about your Letterton Street maps. Use the dialogue to help you.
   A: Where does Gary live?
   B: In a house on the corner of West Avenue and Wales Road. Where does Anna live?
   A: In a flat on the corner of Veils Road and Veedon Way.

4. Complete your map with your partner’s answers. Write the letters in the correct flats or houses.

5. When you finish, compare your maps. Could you send and receive all the addresses correctly? If not, practice the problem words in exercise 1 again.

KEY: ○ = FLATS, □ = HOUSES
Find Pharoah's jewels

Listen to these trios of words. In the words on the left the final sound is /n/. In the words in the middle the final sound is /ŋ/. In the words on the right the final sound is /ŋk/. Can you hear the difference?

1. /n/ sun
2. /ŋ/ sung
3. /ŋk/ sunk
4. /n/ ban
5. /ŋ/ bang
6. /ŋk/ bank
7. /n/ ran
8. /ŋ/ rang
9. /ŋ/ rank
10. /n/ win
11. /ŋ/ wing
12. /ŋ/ wink
13. /n/ thin
14. /ŋ/ thing
15. /ŋk/ think
Read the instructions and practice saying the trios of words in exercise 1.

1. Put your tongue up to touch the top of your mouth and push air through your nose to make the sound /n/.
2. Put your tongue back as if you are going to make the sound /k/. With your tongue in this position try to say /n/. The sound that comes out will be /ŋ/.
3. First make the sound /ŋ/, then add /k/ at the end. This is the sound /ŋk/.

Listen to the words and circle the correct pictures.

1. [Pictures of various objects]
2. [Pictures of various objects]
3. [Pictures of various objects]
4. [Pictures of various objects]
5. [Pictures of various objects]
6. [Pictures of various objects]
7. [Pictures of various objects]
8. [Pictures of various objects]
9. [Pictures of various objects]
10. [Pictures of various objects]

Work in pairs. Take turns to say different words from exercise 1. Your partner must listen and point to the correct picture each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.

Your teacher will give you two Dead Pharaoh Grid pages. Read the instructions and play the game.

1. Mark one of the Dead Pharaoh grids Send and the other Receive.
2. You have eight jewels to put in the coffin, on the body or next to it. Draw them where you want on your Send page.
   Your jewels look like this on the picture: 🕊️ = 🕊️
3. Work in pairs. DON'T show your Send page to your partner. You must find your partner's jewels. Take it in turns to say the co-ordinates (word and number) for different squares on the grid. For example, ban 3 = the square in the 2nd row and 3rd column. Use the dialogue to help you.
   A: Is there a jewel in sun 8?
   B: Sun 8? Yes, there is. Is there a jewel in sun 6?
   A: Sun 6? No, there isn't.
4. Complete your Receive page with your partner's answers. Mark the correct squares with a X or a O.
   X = there is a jewel on this square
   O = there is nothing on this square
   Who can be first to find all their partner's jewels?
5. When you finish, compare your Send and Receive pages. Could you send and receive all the co-ordinates correctly? If not, practise saying the problem words in exercise 1 again.
Monster maze

Listen to these pairs of words. In the words on the left the first sound is a vowel. In the words on the right the first sound is /h/. Can you hear the difference?

1. no h owl /h/ howl
2. no h air /h/ hair
3. no h eat /h/ heat
4. no h eels /h/ heels
5. no h eye /h/ high
6. no h art /h/ heart

Read the instructions and practise saying the pairs of words in exercise 1.

1. There is no /h/ sound at the start of the words beginning with a vowel.
2. /h/ is a voiceless consonant. Open your mouth and push air out to make this sound.

Listen to the pairs of words. Circle the word you hear each time.

1. That's a loud owl / h owl.
2. What nice air / h air!
3. Can you eat / h eat it up?
4. I've never liked eels / h eels.
5. Did you say 'eye' / h 'high'?
6. She's a famous art / h heart specialist.

Work in pairs. Take turns to say different words from exercise 1. Your partner must listen and say without 'h' or with 'h' each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.
Help the hero Theseus go through the maze and find the monster he must fight. Listen and follow the directions. Mark the route on the map. Which monster does he meet?

Your teacher will give you a Monster Maze. Read the instructions and play the game.

1. Work in pairs. Choose 4 magic words from exercise 1. Write them below. DON'T show your partner your Magic Word List.

2. Decide which monster you are sending your partner to meet. Write its name below, but DON'T show your partner.

3. Take it in turns to give Monster Maze directions, using your 4 magic words. Listen and mark the route your partner tells you.

4. When you finish, compare your Monster Mazes and Magic Words. Could you send and receive the instructions correctly? If not, practise saying the words in exercise 1 again.
1. Walk into the maze. Go to point 1. Listen to the magic word. If you hear a vowel at the beginning go left, if you hear an 'h' at the beginning go right.
(Say your Magic Word 1)

2. Now go to point 2 in front of you. Listen to the magic word. If you hear a vowel at the beginning go left, if you hear an 'h' at the beginning go right.
(Say your Magic Word 2)

3. Now go to point 3 in front of you. Listen to the magic word. If you hear a vowel at the beginning go left, if you hear an 'h' at the beginning go right.
(Say your Magic Word 3)

4. Now go to point 4 in front of you. Listen to the magic word. If you hear a vowel at the beginning go left, if you hear an 'h' at the beginning go right.
(Say your Magic Word 4)

5. Which monster do you meet?
Get the goblins

Listen to these trios of words. In the words in column 1 the first sound is /ɪ/. In the words in column 2 the first sound is /dʒ/. In the words in column 3 the first sound is /ʃ/. Can you hear the difference?
Read the instructions and practise saying the trios of words in exercise 1.

1. Spread your lips to make the sound /j/. With your mouth in this position make a short sound at the start of each word. (Don't touch the top of your mouth with your tongue!) This is the sound /j/.

2. /dʒ/ is a short voiced consonant. First make the sound /d/. Then add the sound /ʒ/ as in 'television'.

3. /ʃ/ is a short voiceless consonant. First make the sound /ʃ/. Then add the sound /ʃ/ as in 'she'.

Listen and circle the word you hear each time.

1. yolk / joke / choke
2. yes / Jess / chess
3. yin / gin / chin
4. years / jeers / cheers
5. use / Jews / choose

Work in pairs. Take turns to say different words from exercise 1. Your partner must listen and point to the picture each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.

Your teacher will give you two Elf Palace Map pages. Read the instructions and play the game.

1. Mark one of the Elf Palace Map pages Send and the other Receive. Some goblins want to kidnap Ella the Elf Princess from her Palace. They have cloaks that make them invisible, but Ella can see them in her magic mirror.

2. You have 7 goblins. Draw them where you want on your Send page. Your goblins look like this on the map.

3. Now work in pairs. DON'T show your Send page to your partner. You must find your partner's goblins. Take it in turns to say the co-ordinates (word and number) for different squares on the map. For example, years 6 = the square in the 6th row and 6th column.

4. Complete your Receive page with your partner's answers. Mark the correct squares with a X or a O. X - there is a dead goblin on this square. O - there is nothing on this square. Who can be first to get all their partner's goblins?

5. When you finish, compare your Send and Receive pages. Could you send and receive all the co-ordinates correctly? If not, practice saying the problem words in exercise 1 again.

Thought bubble dictation

Listen to the trios of words and circle the correct answers.

1. The underlined sounds in den, then and Zen are voiced / voiceless.
2. The underlined sounds in sick, thick and sick are voiced / voiceless.
3. For the sounds in 1 and 4 / 2 and 5 / 3 and 6 you put your tongue between your teeth.
4. For the sounds in 1 and 4 / 2 and 5 / 3 and 6 your tongue touches the top of your mouth.
5. For the sounds in 1 and 4 / 2 and 5 / 3 and 6 your tongue is curled up in your mouth.

Practise saying the trios of words in exercise 1. Pay attention to the voiced and voiceless sounds, and to where you put your tongue.

Listen and circle the word you hear twice each time.

1. den / then 3. then / Zen 5. tick / thick 7. thick / sick

Work in pairs. Take turns to say different words from exercise 1. Your partner must listen and point to the picture each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.

Listen and practise saying the words and phrases. Pay attention to the underlined sounds.

1. his/her dog 4. having dinner 7. going judo
2. his/her sister 5. leather clothes 8. his/her tenth birthday
3. his/her brother 6. getting thinner 9. swimming on Thursday
Your teacher will give you two Thought Bubble Grid pages. Listen and practise saying the names from the grid.

1. Mark one of the Thought bubble dictation grids: Send and the other Receive.

2. On your Send page write the nine phrases from exercise 5 in the nine thought bubbles. Put one phrase in each bubble.

3. Now work in groups of three with two speakers (A and B) and one sound police officer (C). DON'T show your Send page to your speaking partner. Ask and answer about your Thought bubble dictation grids. Use the dialogue to help you.
   A: What's Cathy thinking about in your grid?
   B: 'Her brother'. What's Cathy thinking about in your grid?
   A: 'Having dinner'. What have you got in Zack's thought bubble?
   B: 'Swimming on Thursday'. What have you got in Zack's thought bubble?

4. Complete your Receive page with your speaking partner's answers. Write the words in the correct shapes.

5. Student C is the Sound Police Officer. Listen to your classmates carefully. Every time one of your classmates says one of the six sounds correctly, you put a tick next to his or her name in the table. The sounds are: /æ/, /ə/, /ɔ/, /æ/, /ɒ/, /ɑ/.

6. When you finish, check with the Sound Police Officer. Who said most of the sounds correctly? If you made mistakes, practise saying the problem words in exercise 1 again.

7. Play the game again with a different person as the Sound Police Officer.

Number fun

1. Listen to these pairs of numbers and complete the stress rules (1-2) below.
   1 thirty thirteen  5 seventy seventeen
   2 forty fourteen  6 eighty eighteen
   3 fifty fifteen  7 ninety nineteen
   4 sixty sixteen
   1 The stress in -ty numbers is usually Oo/oo.
   2 The stress in -teen numbers is usually Oo/oo.

2. Listen to the sentences and circle the numbers you hear.
   1 Bob Brown lives at number 90 / 19 Hill Road.
   2 Today Emily Jones is 80 / 18.
   3 Let's meet at 1.50 / 4.15.
   4 What's the answer to question 30 / 13?
   5 And the winning ticket is blue number 60 / 16.
   7 My lucky number is 70 / 17.
   8 You're in room 30 / 13.

3. Work in pairs. Take it in turns to say the sentences in exercise 2 aloud, choosing one of the numbers. Listen and point each time to the numbers you hear. Your partner must say if you are correct or not.

4. Listen to sentences 1-5 and complete the stress rule.
   1 That's seventeen euros, please.
   2 There were thirteen people at the party.
   3 Wait a minute...eighteen, nineteen, twenty!
   4 Is that house number fifteen or sixteen?
   5 He's fourteen years old.

When we count, compare, or put a noun after a -teen number, the stress in the -teen number is Oo/oo.

5. Listen and practise saying the sentences in exercise 4. Pay attention to the stress of the -teen words.

6. Listen to the numbers. Colour the shapes in puzzle A of the numbers that you hear. What other number do the coloured shapes show?

7. Read the instructions and complete puzzle B.
   1 Work out the -ty and -teen numbered shapes that make another number in the puzzle. Write them down in a list.
   2 Work in pairs. Student A: Dictate the numbers on your list to student B. Student B: Colour the shapes in puzzle B with the numbers you hear. What number does the puzzle show?
   3 Then Student B dictates the numbers and A listens and colours the shapes in the puzzle. What number does the puzzle show?
Can I present you with a present?

Read the sentences and mark the underlined words V (verb) or N (noun). Then listen and pay attention to the stress in the underlined words.

1. I am here to present the school prizes.
2. I got a lovely birthday present from Aunt Jane.
3. Many Arab countries export oil.
4. Whisky is an important Scottish export.
5. Can you record that programme for me?
6. He broke the 100 metres world record last year.
7. Don't desert me! I need you.
8. The Sahara desert is in North Africa.
9. Please don't refuse my help.
10. There's a bin for refuse outside the door.
11. I object! I really can't agree with this plan.
12. That's a strange object. What is it?

Complete the stress rules.

1. In two-syllable verbs the stress is usually Oo / oO.
2. In two-syllable nouns the stress is usually Oo / oO.

Practise saying the sentences in exercise 1 with the correct stress on the underlined words.

Listen to these words and mark them V (verb) or N (noun), depending on the stress.

1. record
2. desert
3. export
4. present
5. object
6. refuse

Work in pairs. Take turns to say different words from exercise 4. Your partner must listen and say noun or verb each time. Tell your partner when he/she is correct.
Steve Strong and Walter Weak (1)

1. Listen to the dialogues. Pay attention to the underlined verbs.

1. A: Can I see you at two?
   B: Yes, you can.

2. C: Has he got a tattoo?
   D: Yes, he has.

3. E: Have you dyed your hair blue?
   F: Yes, I have.

4. G: Does he work at the zoo?
   H: Yes, he does.

5. I: Do you hate having flu?
   J: Yes, I do.

6. K: Are your friends coming too?
   L: Yes, they are.

7. M: Were you waiting for Sue?
   N: Yes, we were.

8. O: Was that phone call for you?
   P: Yes, it was.

Complete the rules.

1. When verbs start a long sentence and do not have a stress they usually sound weak / strong.

2. When verbs end a short sentence and have a stress they usually sound weak / strong.
Listen to the strong and weak form of the verbs. Practise saying them.

Work in pairs. Practise reading the dialogues in exercise 1 aloud. Pay attention to the strong and weak forms of the verbs.

TIP
When people speak quickly they often use weak form verbs. If you know how they sound, it can help your listening.

Verbs often sound weak in the middle of sentences, too. You will hear each sentence twice, once with a strong verb and once with a weak verb. Listen and complete the table with strong or weak.

</tbody>
</table>

TIP
If you use strong form verbs when you speak, it will slow you down, and people may think you are rude or feeling angry. We use strong verb forms when we want to emphasise words.

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 5 aloud, sometimes with a strong verb, sometimes with a weak verb. Listen to your partner and say each time strong or weak.
Steve Strong and Walter Weak (2)

Listen to the dialogues. Pay attention to the underlined prepositions.

1 A: Where's that from?  B: It's from the garden shed.
3 E: Who did you talk to?  F: I talked to Fred.
4 G: What are you looking at?  H: I'm looking at your bed.

Complete the rules.
1 When prepositions come at the end of a question and have a stress they usually sound weak /strong.
2 When prepositions come in the middle of a sentence and do not have a stress they usually sound weak /strong.

Listen to the strong and weak form of the prepositions. Practise saying them.

Work in pairs. Practise reading the dialogues in exercise 1 aloud. Pay attention to the strong and weak pronunciation of the prepositions.

Listen to the sentences. Pay attention to the weak form of the prepositions.

Now listen to some foreign students saying the same sentences. Do they pronounce the prepositions correctly with weak forms? Mark them correct or incorrect.

If you use strong form prepositions in the middle of sentences when you speak, it will slow you down.

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 6 aloud. Listen and say each time if the pronunciation of the preposition is correct.

6 Do you come from Poland? ........................................
7 Did you speak to your teacher? .................................
8 Are you here for the summer? ..................................
Are you free tonight?

Listen to the conversation between Calvin the cave boy and Carla the cave girl. One of the sounds they use /ə/ is called 'schwa'. Schwa is a very common sound in English. It is underlined in the dialogue.

Are you free at nine o'clock tonight?

Look! Don't bother me! Please go away!

Listen to these sentences. Pay attention to the stressed words and the underlined words with the weak vowel sound schwa /ə/.

1. I've got an appointment at the hairdresser's at ten.
2. I'm meeting Sue for coffee at eleven.
3. I'm going for lunch with Aunt Jane at one.
4. I'm going to the swimming pool with Joe at three.
5. I'm seeing the dentist at seven for a check up.

Match up the sentence halves to make rules for sentence stress and schwa in sentences.

1. Content words (giving important information in a sentence like what? where? when? who? why?) a can have the sound /ə/ in them on unstressed syllables.
2. Words like articles and prepositions (which don't give important information in a sentence) b are stressed.
3. Content words with more than one syllable c are often pronounced with the sound /ə/ when people speak quickly.

Say the sentences in exercise 2. Pay attention to the stresses and the schwas.

Listen to the sentences. Mark the stresses like this ☼. Underline the schwa sounds.

1. He's staying at home tonight to revise for the test tomorrow.
2. She's going skating with Peter this Saturday.
3. We're meeting at nine o'clock in front of the cinema.
4. They're having a party at their house on Friday.
5. I'm away on holiday from the first to the fifteenth of August.

Practise saying the sentences in exercise 5 aloud. Pay attention to the stresses and the schwas.
The rhythm of the band

1. Listen to the poem and mark the stresses.

Old Mr Sand is a one-man band.
You hear him everywhere.
Use the word stress of each instrument
To match it with its pair.

2. Complete the sentences about the poem below.

1. Lines 1 and 3 have three / four sentence stresses (or 'beats').
2. Lines 2 and 4 have three / four sentence stresses (or 'beats').

3. Say the poem in exercise 1 aloud rhythmically. Clap your hands or snap your fingers on the beats.

4. Listen to the names of Mr Sand's instruments and put them in the correct place in the table according to the word stress. Then listen and check your answers.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word stress</th>
<th>Instrument 1</th>
<th>Instrument 2</th>
</tr>

<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o.O</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o.Oo</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

5. Now listen and say the whole poem rhythmically with the instrument names.

Old Mr Sand is a one-man band.
You hear him everywhere.
Use the word stress of each instrument
To match it with its pair:
O and O.
Oo go with Oo.
Oo is like oO.

OoO matches with Ooo.
oOo are paired with oOo.
ooo has its pair ooO.
oOo together with oOoo.
That's the rhythm of the band.
Clap or snap it with your hand.
The rhythm of the one-man band.
Internet café

Ian the internet café waiter is checking the email addresses of his friends in the café. He made lots of mistakes when he wrote them earlier. Listen and underline the stress on the email addresses where his friends correct him.

1. kasia.popko@fastfrog.pl
2. theo.prodromou@mailbird.gr
3. helga.kaufmann@surfarcat.at
4. dieter.braun@digimouse.de
5. joelle.dubois@webchicken.fr
6. fabio.fonzo@cyberdog.it

---

Read the rules and play the game.

1. Work in groups and sit in a circle round a desk. On a piece of paper invent an email address for yourself.
2. Keep a copy of your address and pass the piece of paper to your right.
3. On the new piece of paper in front of you write a completely false email address above the real one.
4. Now ask the person on your left their email address using one false part.
5. Your partner must correct you putting the stress in the right place on their real address.
6. Take it in turns to answer the person on your right and ask the person on your left. Change the false piece of the address using corrective stress each time.
Tasteless Terry

1. Listen to the three sentences. Pay attention to the tune - or 'intonation' - each time. Where does the voice go up? Where does it go down? Choose the correct intonation pattern each time.

   1. a) I'd like a shirt, please.
      b) I'd like a shirt, please.
   2. a) I'd like a shirt and a tie, please.
      b) I'd like a shirt and a tie, please.
   3. a) I'd like a shirt, a tie and a jacket, please.
      b) I'd like a shirt, a tie and a jacket, please.

2. Complete the list intonation rule.
   When we list things the intonation goes up / down on the last thing in the list but up / down on all the things before the last.

3. Listen and say the sentences in exercise 1. Pay attention to the intonation.

4. Listen to some people playing the Tasteless Terry game. Mark the correct intonation over the underlined words.

   Student 1: Tasteless Terry's wearing a red shirt.
   Student 2: Tasteless Terry's wearing a red shirt and a green tie.
   Student 3: Tasteless Terry's wearing a red shirt, a green tie and a brown jacket.
   Student 4: Tasteless Terry's wearing a red shirt, a green tie, a brown jacket and purple jeans.
   Student 5: Tasteless Terry's wearing a red shirt, a green tie, a brown jacket, purple jeans and pink trainers.

5. Listen and say the sentences in exercise 4. Pay attention to the intonation.
Listen and repeat the words.

black  blue  brown  green  grey  orange  pink  purple  red  white  yellow cap  hat

scarf  T-shirt

shorts  trousers

gloves  boots

sandals  socks

Work in groups. Read the rules and then use the words in exercise 6 to play the Tasteless Terry game. Pay attention to the intonation.

1. Student 1 says a sentence similar to the first sentence in exercise 4.
2. Student 2 repeats the sentence and adds a new piece of clothing.
3. Continue around the group taking it in turns to add a new piece of clothing at the end of the sentence. What's the longest sentence you can remember?
4. Repeat the game. This time, students who forget or make a mistake are out of the game. The winner is the student who doesn't forget or make a mistake.
Job hunting

Listen to the phone conversation. Pay attention to the intonation in the questions and the answers.

Harry: Hello. Can I help you?
Steve: Yes. Is that Henderson's Holiday Camp?
Harry: Yes, it is. Are you ringing about the job advertisement?
Steve: Yes, I am. I'm Steve Somerville by the way.
Harry: Right, Steve, and I'm Harry Henderson. Have you got any relevant experience?
Steve: Yes, I have. I worked washing dishes in my uncle's restaurant last summer.
Harry: Good. That sounds perfect. Can you come for an interview today?
Steve: Yes, I can. Is that at 10 Green Street?
Harry: That's right. Shall we say at three o'clock?
Steve: Yes. Thanks. Goodbye, Mr Henderson.
Harry: Goodbye.

Complete the intonation rules.

1) In Yes/No questions the intonation goes up/down at the end.

2) In statements the intonation goes up/down at the end.

Listen to the mini-dialogues and mark the intonation on the questions and the statements.

1 A: Are you here for the summer job?
   B: Yes, I am.

2 A: Please come in.
   B: Thank you.

3 B: Am I late?
   A: Was your appointment for three?

4 A: Do sit down.
   B: Thanks.

5 A: Did you phone earlier?
   B: Yes, I did.

6 A: Is your name Eric Everton?
   B: No, it isn't.

7 A: I'm Steve Somerville.
   B: Is that S-O-M-E-V-I-L-L-E?

8 A: Can you start next week?
   B: Yes, of course.

Work in pairs. Read the mini-dialogues in exercise 3 aloud paying attention to the intonation.
Listen to the intonation in the questions.

A Wh- questions
1. Where are you?
2. What have you bought?
3. Who's with you?
4. When are you coming home?

B Yes/No questions
5. Are you in the butcher's?
6. Have you bought some sausages?
7. Is Jenny with you?
8. Are you coming home at eleven o'clock?

Complete the question intonation rules.

1. In Wh- questions the intonation usually goes up / down at the end.
2. In Yes/No questions the intonation usually goes up / down at the end.

Practise saying the questions in exercise 1 with the correct intonation.
Imagine you are shopping and complete the Questionnaire. Don’t show it to your classmates!

Listen and practice the dialogues with a partner. Pay attention to the question intonation.

Cathy: Are you in the butcher’s?
Peter: Yes, I am.
Cathy: Have you bought any sausages?
Peter: Yes, I have.
Cathy: Is Jenny with you?
Peter: Yes, she is.
Cathy: Is Billy with you?
Peter: Yes, he is.
Cathy: Are you coming home at eleven o’clock?
Peter: Yes, I am.

Cathy: Are you in the butcher’s?
Nora: No, I’m not.
Cathy: Have you bought any sausages?
Nora: No, I haven’t.
Cathy: Is Jenny with you?
Nora: No, she isn’t.
Cathy: Is Billy with you?
Nora: No, he isn’t.
Cathy: Are you coming home at eleven o’clock?
Nora: No, I’m not.

Take it in turns to ask Yes/No questions to find out about your partner’s Shopping Questionnaire information. Use the dialogues in exercise 5 to help you. Write the answers in the grid. Who can complete it first?

<table>

Now change partners. Ask Wh-questions to find out quickly about your new partner’s conversation with his/her previous partner. Pay attention to the Wh-question intonation.

1. Where was your partner? .............................................
2. What five things had he/she bought? ..............................
3. Who was with him/her? ..............................................
4. When was he/she coming home? ......................................
Fred Sure and Rita Unsure

Fred is very sure of himself. He always knows the answer before he asks the question. Listen to these sentences. Pay attention to the tune - or 'intonation' - each time. Does Fred's voice go up or down at the end? Choose the correct intonation pattern.

1. a You're from Poland, aren't you?
   b You're from Poland, aren't you?

2. a You name's Jack, isn't it?
   b You name's Jack, isn't it?

3. a You live in Warsaw, don't you?
   b You live in Warsaw, don't you?

Listen and say the sentences in exercise 1. Pay attention to the intonation.

Rita isn't very sure of herself. She never remembers things and often has to ask the same question many times. Listen to these sentences. Pay attention to the tune - or 'intonation' - each time. Does Rita's voice go up or down at the end? Choose the correct intonation pattern then practice saying the sentences.

1. a You're from Poland, aren't you?
   b You're from Poland, aren't you?

2. a You name's Jack, isn't it?
   b You name's Jack, isn't it?

3. a You live in Warsaw, don't you?
   b You live in Warsaw, don't you?

Complete the rules.

1. When you are sure, the intonation goes up / down in the question tag. You simply want someone to agree with you.

2. When you aren't sure, the intonation goes up / down in the question tag. You are really asking a question.

Listen to some people saying question tag sentences. Mark the intonation R if it rises like Rita's, or F if it falls like Fred's.

1. You like pizza, don't you?
   You like pizza, don't you?
   2. You don't like fish, do you?
   3. You're 16, aren't you?
   4. You aren't ill, are you?
   5. You've got a motorbike, haven't you?
   6. You haven't got a computer, have you?
   7. You can swim, can't you?
   8. You can't speak French, can you?

Listen and practise the sentences in exercise 5. Pay attention to the intonation.

Work in pairs. Take it in turns to say a sentence from exercise 5. Take care with the intonation of the question tag. Your partner must listen to the intonation and say if you are sure or unsure.
Polite Polly and Rude Rupert

Listen to the Polite Polly asking her parents to do things for her. Then listen to Rude Rupert asking his parents to do the same things for him.

1 Can you make me a sandwich, please?
2 Could you help me with my homework?
3 Would you mind letting me use the computer?

Answer the questions.

1 Do you think Polly’s parents will be happy to help her?
   a Yes, probably.  b No, probably not.

2 Do you think Rupert’s parents will be happy to help him?
   a Yes, probably.  b No, probably not.

Complete the intonation and stress rules for polite and rude requests.

1 If you start high, go down at the end, and don’t put heavy stresses on all the words in a request, you will sound polite and pleasant / rude and angry.
   e.g. Could you open the window?

2 If you start low, go up at the end, and put heavy stresses on all the words in a request you will sound polite and pleasant / rude and angry.
   e.g. Could you open the window?

Now listen to Mum and Dad asking Polly and Rupert to do things. Mark each request P (polite) or R (rude).

1 Would you mind turning that radio down?  5 Could you play with that ball outside?
2 Can you tidy your bedroom, please?  6 Would you mind changing channels?
3 Could you get off the phone soon?  7 Could you keep the noise down?
4 Can you clear the table, please?  8 Would you mind closing your door?

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a request from exercise 4 aloud. Listen and say each time if the intonation and stress sounds polite or rude.
When people speak quickly they link the consonant sound at the end of one word with the vowel sound at the start of the next word. Listen.

Listen and mark the links in these DVD titles.
1. The Lord of the Rings
2. Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Sea
3. Gangs of New York
4. Charley's Angels
5. Artificial Intelligence
6. Wyatt Earp

Listen to this dialogue and read the information.
"I found this one in a second-hand shop last week."
"Really?"

Listen and cross out the unpronounced /t/ and /d/ sounds in these film titles.
1. The Lost World
2. Around the World in Eighty Days
3. Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde
4. The Secret Garden
5. David Copperfield
6. The Lost Samurai

Listen to the dialogue and read the information.
We add in a linking /ij/ when the vowel /iː/ ends one word and the next word starts with a vowel sound. For example:
The /ij/ Excisor
We add in a linking /uw/ when a rounded vowel (/uː/ /uw/) ends one word and the next word starts with a vowel sound. For example: Romeo /uw/ and Juliet.

Listen and add linking /ij/ and /uw/ in these film titles.
1. The Elephant Man
2. Catch Me If You Can
3. Much Ado About Nothing
4. Charlie and the Chocolate Factory
5. The Invisible Man
6. Mickey Blue Eyes

People will understand you if you don't use linking when you speak, but linking helps you to speak faster and more smoothly. It is very important to understand linking in order to improve your listening skills.

Work in pairs. Take turns to read DVD titles from exercises 2, 4 and 6 aloud, sometimes with linking and sometimes with no linking. Listen and say each time if your partner is using linking or not.
Have we run out of petrol?

1. Have we run out of petrol?
2. You've put off the wedding again.
3. They get on with each other very well.
4. She turned up at four o'clock.
5. I came across it in a jumble sale.
6. He goes in for every competition.

Match the meanings in the box with the phrasal verbs in bold in the sentences below.

- arrived unexpectedly
- enters
- found
- like and agree with
- used all of the
- postponed

Match the sentences 1-6 in exercise 1 with the pictures (a-f).
Read the information. Then listen and mark the links in the sentences in exercise 1.

When people speak quickly, they link the consonant sound at the end of one word with the vowel sound at the start of the next word. For example: run_out_of.

Match the meanings in the box with the phrasal verbs in bold in the sentences below.

1. The number of students in each class went down last term. ..........fell.......... experienced fell invented rejected cancelled extinguished

2. She turned down Andy's invitation. ..........

3. They called the concert off. ..........

4. The firemen put the fire out. ..........

5. We went through some bad times last December! ..........

6. He made the whole thing up. ..........

Read the information and then listen and cross out the unpronounced t and d sounds in the sentences in exercise 4.

Sometimes we don't pronounce the letters t or d when they come at the end of a word and the next word starts with a consonant. For example: went_down

Match the meanings in the box with the phrasal verbs in bold in the sentences below.

1. Prices go up all the time. ..........rise..........
   disappear continue rise
   mat (by chance)
   enter escaping

2. I go away to the countryside every weekend. ..........

3. I ran into my uncle at the party. ..........

4. Look! That boy on the motorbike's getting away! ..........

5. I wouldn't go into the old library at night! ..........

6. Go on trying and you'll do it in the end. ..........

Read the information and then listen and mark the extra /ɪ/ and /w/ sounds in the sentences in exercise 6.

1. We add in a linking /ɪ/ when a spread vowel ( /ʌ:/ or /ʊ:/ ) ends one word and the next word starts with a vowel sound. For example: away  /ɪ/ on holiday

   TIP

   People will understand you if you don't use linking when you speak, but linking helps you to speak faster and more smoothly. It is very important to understand linking in order to improve your listening skills.

2. We add in a linking /w/ when a rounded vowel ( /ɔː:/ or /uː:/ ) ends one word and the next word starts with a vowel sound. For example: go /w/ up

Work in pairs. Take turns to read the sentences from exercises 1, 4 and 6 aloud, sometimes with linking and sometimes with no linking. Listen and say each time if your partner is using linking or not.
Fred Formal and Ian Informal

In formal speech and writing we don't use contractions. Listen and complete Fred Formal's speech.

1. I like to say thank you to the Mayor of Newton for inviting me today.
2. Here of course to open this new museum.
3. I visited many museums in my life and I remember a better one.
4. With great pleasure therefore that I declare this museum open.

In informal speech and writing we usually use contractions. Listen to Ian Informal's speech and write the contractions in the gaps below.

1. I like to say thanks to all my fans for coming to see me at the airport.
2. Here to give a concert in London.
3. Visited Britain once before, fifteen years ago, but I was very young and I remember much about it.
4. Going to be a great concert!

Listen and write the sentences with contractions.

1. You should not smoke.
2. There is a zoo near our town.
3. It will be ready tomorrow.
4. I did not like it.
5. Who is that?
6. Do not worry.
7. They had met years ago.
8. You must not panic.
9. Who would like ice cream?
10. She has not arrived yet.

Tip
People will understand you if you don't use contractions when you speak, but contractions help you to speak faster and more smoothly. It is very important to understand contractions in order to improve your listening skills.

Work in pairs. Take turns to read sentences from exercise 3 aloud, sometimes with contractions and sometimes without contractions. Listen and say each time if your partner is using contractions or not.
How many syllables?

' Syllables ' are the parts of a word when you say it. The word syll-a-ble, for example, has got three parts. Read the information and then listen to the words. Can you hear the difference?

Americans usually pronounce all the syllables in long words.

Standard British English speakers often miss out a syllable to make long words shorter.

1. Dictionary has 4 syllables in American English.
2. Dictionary has 3 syllables in British English.

Listen to these words in British English. Cross out the silent syllables.

1. uncomfortable 3. medicine 5. miserable 7. restaurant 9. mathematical
2. camera 4. history 6. mystery 8. documentary 10. literature

Listen to the words in exercise 2 in American English. Can you hear how all the syllables are sounded?

Read and match the pictures with the sentences. Then listen and mark the pronunciation A (American) or B (British). Use the underlined words to help you decide.

1. This jacket is very uncomfortable. A B
2. Is that my camera? A B
3. I'd like some cough medicine, please. A B
4. He's studying French history. A B
5. Don't be so miserable! A B
6. She likes mystery stories. A B
7. What a lovely Polish restaurant! A B
8. This is a great documentary. A B
9. He was a mathematical genius. A B
10. I love Greek literature. A B

Work-in-pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 4 aloud, sometimes with American pronunciation and sometimes with British pronunciation. Listen to the syllables in the underlined word and say each time if your partner is using American or British English.
Are you bored?

Americans often pronounce the letter r when in Standard British English it is silent. Listen to Amy and Brett saying these words. Can you hear the difference?

I'm Brett. I'm from the United Kingdom.

1 fur
2 four
3 bored
4 card
5 thirsty
6 star

I'm Amy. I'm from the United States.

NOTE: Irish and Scottish speakers also use sounded r.

Listen to different people saying these words, once with silent r and once with sounded r. Mark the order you hear the words: 1 = first, 2 = second.

<table>

</tbody>
</table>

Listen to people saying these sentences. Mark them A (American) or B (British). Use the sound of r in the underlined words to decide.

1 Is that a real fox fur?        (A) B
2 Let's meet at four.           A B
3 Look at that star!            A B
4 He's bored.                   A B
5 I'd like some Christmas cards, please. A B
6 She's thirsty.                A B
7 This is a fake fur coat.      A B
8 She's an old Hollywood star.  A B
9 This is my business card.     A B
10 My nephew's four today.      A B

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 3 aloud, sometimes with sounded r, sometimes with silent r. Listen and say each time if your partner is using American or British pronunciation.

In British English we sound the final r in a word when the next word in the sentence starts with a vowel sound (a, e, i, o, u). Listen to these silly sentences. Pay attention to the linking r sounds.

1 Carla's here in Krakow for a fortnight.
2 Arthur English wants to buy four elephants.
3 Would you like a pear or a banana for elevenses?

Poor Uncle Fred has got sore ears.
My guitar is under Ernest's rubber octopus.
Dear Aunt Agatha, where are all your paper aeroplanes?

Practise saying the silly sentences in exercise 5 aloud. Take care with the linking r sounds.
I’m Australian?

Intonation is the 'music' of a sentence. There is rising intonation and falling intonation.

Listen to Alec and Belinda talking about intonation in Australia and Britain.

Listen and mark the intonation in these sentences.

1. I’m Alec.
2. I’m Australian.
3. I’m from Sydney.
4. I’m Belinda.
5. I’m British.
6. I’m from London.

NOTE: People from Wales also use rising intonation for statements.

Listen to these statements. Are the speakers British or Australian? Mark the intonation rising or falling to help you decide.

<table>

</table>

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 3 aloud, paying attention to the intonation at the end. Listen and say each time if your partner is using Australian or British intonation.

Read the information and then listen and mark these sentences? (question/surprise) or . (statement).

Sometimes in modern British English, people use statement word order with rising intonation to ask a question or show surprise.

<table>

</tbody>
</table>

Work in pairs. Take turns to read a sentence from exercise 5 aloud, paying attention to the intonation at the end. Listen and say each time if your partner is asking a question/showing surprise or making a statement.
'Elp me 'Arry

Read the information and then listen to Carl and Bella saying the words (1-8). Can you hear the difference?

I'm Carl. I'm a Cockney. Cockneys are from the East End of London. They don't say the letter 'h' at the start of words.

I'm Bella British. I'm not a Cockney. In Standard British English 'h' is usually pronounced /h/.

1 help  5 hot
2 hungry 6 hot
3 home  7 horse
4 happy  8 hospital

NOTE: In Standard British English words like hour, honest, and hear have a silent 'h'.

Listen to different people saying these words, once with /h/ and once without /h/. Mark the order you hear the words: 1 = first, 2 = second.

What's dis?

Read the information and then listen to Jimmy and Emily saying the words (1-8). Can you hear the difference?

I'm Jimmy from Jamaica. Jamaican people say the letters TH as a /t/ or /d/ sound.

I'm Emily. I'm English. In standard British English these letters are pronounced with the tongue between the teeth as /θ/ or /ð/.

1 this  5 thirsty
2 that  6 think
3 mother  7 nothing
4 with  8 south

NOTE: People from Ireland also use /t/ or /d/ for th.
