The bug, the boy, and the bear want to paint a picture.
The bear has a big brush. He paints something big.

The boy’s brush is not as big as the bear’s. He paints something smaller.
The bug has a tiny brush. He paints something smaller.

They paint for a long time.
The bear hangs the picture on the wall.

Then the bug, the bear, and the boy sit down to look at it.
They are pleased.
