The bear wants to go for a ride. He sits in the wagon.
The boy pulls.
The bug pushes.

The wagon does not move.
The bear is too big.
This time, the bug pulls and the boy pushes.

The wagon still does not move. The bear has an idea.
He gets out of the wagon. He pulls it to the top of a hill.

Then he gets back in. The bug and the boy get in, too.
They all go for a ride.
This reader is a gift from the SeeSaw book club.

SCHOLASTIC
SeeSaw
BOOK CLUB

We help children learn to read.

This Scholastic edition is only available for distribution through the school market.