FOR THE
IELTS EXAMINATION
A WORKBOOK FOR STUDENTS

About this workbook

Introduction

This workbook has been written for students who are planning to sit either the general training or the academic modules of the IELTS exam. It covers some of the main vocabulary points that you will need for, or come across in, the listening, reading, writing and speaking sections of the exam.

We hope that you find the modules in this book useful and that the vocabulary you acquire will help you to achieve the grade you want in the IELTS.

Good luck!

Structure of the IELTS Workbook

Each vocabulary area is presented in the form of a self-contained module with task-based activities which present each vocabulary item in a real context.

- Pages 1-48 focus on general vocabulary items which can be used in all aspects of your English. Some of these are relevant to specific tasks in the IELTS exam (for example, describing how something works, writing a letter or describing a table).

- Pages 49-95 focus on topic-specific vocabulary areas which may be required in the exam (for example, education, business and industry or global problems). Each module consists of three tasks: the first two present vocabulary items in context, and the third gives you the opportunity to review the vocabulary in the form of a gap-fill exercise.

Using the IELTS Workbook

You should not go through the modules mechanically. It is better to choose areas that you are unfamiliar with, or areas that you feel are of specific interest or importance to yourself.

Vocabulary Record Sheet

Remember that you should keep a record of new words and expressions that you learn, and review these from time to time so that they become an active part of your vocabulary. There is a vocabulary record sheet at the back of the book which you can photocopy as many times as you like and use to build up your own personal vocabulary bank.

Extending Your Vocabulary

Also remember that there are other methods of acquiring new vocabulary. For example, you should read as much as possible from a different variety of authentic reading materials (books, newspapers, magazines, etc).

Using an English dictionary

To help you learn English, you should use an English dictionary that can clearly define words, provide information about grammar and give sample sentences to show how words are used in context. You can use any good learner’s English dictionary with this workbook, but it has been written using the material in the English Dictionary for Students (ISBN 1-901659-06-2), published by Peter Collin Publishing (www.petercollin.com).

International English Language Testing System (IELTS)

This workbook has been written to help you improve your vocabulary when working towards the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) examination. The IELTS English examination is administered by the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate, The British Council and IDP Education Australia. For further information, visit the www.ucles.org.uk website.

1. People employed in industry between 1996 and 2000,

6. People employed in industry compared with those in tourism in 1996.

How something works

A. Look at these sentences and decide which object is being described in each one. Use the words in bold to help you. You will find the objects hidden in the word grid at the bottom of the page.

1. The most important part of this object is a strip of two different metals, one on top of the other. As they heat up, both metals expand, but one does it faster than the other. The strip bends and connects with a switch, which turns off the power supply. When the strip cools down, the metals contract and the switch is disconnected. (1 word)

2. This object has several component parts, most of which are made of plastic. A disc inserted into the object spins quickly. At the same time a thin beam of light strikes the disc and converts digital symbols into sounds. These sounds can be increased or decreased in volume by means of a button or dial. (3 words)

3. Liquid and gas are compressed in a hard metal tube. This can be released by pushing or squeezing a button which opens a valve. When the liquid-gas combination leaves the tube and is mixed with oxygen, it rapidly expands. (1 word)

4. This object is mainly made of aluminium. As it moves forward, air flows over two horizontal sections. As it accelerates, a vacuum is formed over the horizontal sections and the object is pulled into the air by the force of this vacuum. (1 word)

5. This object consists of two main parts; one is made mainly of plastic and metal, the other is made mainly of glass. Light enters the glass section and a small door in the device opens up when a button is pressed. At the same time, a smaller window called an aperture adjusts itself to control the amount of light. The light is then absorbed by a sheet of plastic coated in a special chemical. An image is formed and this can then be processed and developed into a two-dimensional paper-based object. (1 word)

6. A sharp blade inside a plastic container rotates very quickly. It chops or grinds anything it touches, which we can then use to produce soup, sauces and dressing. (2 words)

7. This is a very simple object which originated in China. A small piece of paper is lit with a match. It burns away until the flame ignites the chemical compound inside a cardboard tube. The result is a display of light and colour. (1 word)

Phrasal verbs

Phrasal verbs (a verb and a preposition / prepositions combined to form a new expression) are a large and very important area of English vocabulary which many students ignore. There are a lot of them, and many phrasal verbs can have more than one meaning.

Below, on the left, you will see a list of many of the verbs which are used to make phrasal verbs (the most commonly used ones are in bold). On the right you will see the prepositions which can work with these verbs to form phrasal verbs. Use a dictionary to find out which verb / preposition combinations are possible and complete the table at the bottom of the page.

You should try to build up a bank of the phrasal verbs which you are unfamiliar with and which you think are important. On the next page, there is a record sheet which you can photocopy as many times as you like, make a note of phrasal verbs on, and add to your files.

Don't forget that some phrasal verbs use more than one preposition (for example, We ran up against some problems)

'You are never too old to learn'. Do you agree with this statement?

Education is a long process that not only provides us with basic (1)____________________ such as (2)____________________ and (3)____________________, but is also essential in shaping our future lives. From the moment we enter (4)____________________ as small children, and as we progress through (5)____________________ and (6)____________________ education, we are laying the foundations for the life ahead of us. We must (7)____________________ ourselves to work hard so that we can (8)____________________ exams and gain the (9)____________________ we will need to secure a good job. We must also (10)____________________ valuable life skills so that we can fit in and work with those around us. And of course (11)____________________ education helps us to understand how we can stay fit and healthy.

For most people, this process ends when they are in their mid-to-late teens. For others, however, it is the beginning of a lifetime of learning. After they finish school, many progress to (12)____________________ education where they will learn more useful skills such as computer literacy or basic business management. Others will (13)____________________ on a programme of (14)____________________ education at a university where, with hard work, they will have the opportunity to (15)____________________ after three or four years with a well-earned (16)____________________. After that, they may work for a while before opting to study for a (17)____________________ degree - an MA, for example, or a PhD. Alternatively, they may choose to attend an (18)____________________ after work or, if they have a sympathetic employer, obtain (19)____________________ so that they can study during the week. And if they live a long way from a college or university, they might follow a (20)____________________ course using mail and the Internet. In fact, it is largely due to the proliferation of computers that many people, who have not been near a school for many years, have started to study again and can proudly class themselves as (21)____________________ students.

We live in a fascinating and constantly changing world, and we must continually learn and acquire new knowledge if we are to adapt and keep up with changing events. Our schooldays are just the beginning of this process, and we should make the best of every (22)____________________ to develop ourselves, whether we are eighteen or eighty. You are, indeed, never too old to learn.

Interviewer: Welcome to today's programme. Today we will be discussing the 1______________________of television channels to print or say whatever they like? In the studio I have television personality Timothy Blake and 2______________________Rupert Poubelle, multi-millionaire owner of the Daily Views newspaper. Timothy, let's start with you.

T.B.: Thank you. In my opinion, it's time the government imposed stricter 3______________________of the press in order to prevent 4______________________journalists and reporters from making money by 5______________________people. I have often accused Mr Poubelle's organisation of 6______________________- nowadays I can't even sunbathe in my garden without being photographed by his hoardes of 7______________________. They're like vultures. And everything they print about me is lies, complete rubbish.

Interviewer: But isn't it true that the media provides us with valuable 8______________________ and 9_________________, and censorship would deprive us of much of this? Rupert?

R.P.: Of course. Mr. Blake's accusations are unfounded, as are the accusations of 10___________________we have received, and I can safely say that my journalists never pay people money to create stories. We are simply reporting the truth. Of course, if Mr. Blake wants to sue us for 11___________________, he is very welcome to try. But he would be depriving our 12___________________- all eight million of them - of the things they want...

T.B.: You're talking rubbish, as usual, like the pathetic 13___________________you own and use to fill your pockets with dirty money.

Task 3: Now read this essay and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. You may need to change the form of some of the words.

The media plays a valuable role in keeping us informed and entertained. However, many people believe it has too much power and freedom. Discuss your views on this, giving examples and presenting a balanced argument both in favour of, and against, the power and freedom of the media.'

Barely a hundred years ago, if we wanted to stay informed about what was going on in the world, we had to rely on word of mouth or, at best, newspapers. But because communication technology was very basic, the news we received was often days or weeks old.

We still have newspapers, of course, but they have changed almost beyond recognition. Whether we choose to read the 1___________________, with their quality 2___________________of news and other 3___________________by top 4___________________and articles by acclaimed 5___________________, or if we prefer the popular 6___________________, with their lively gossip and colourful stories, we are exposed to a wealth of information barely conceivable at the beginning of the last century.

We also have television and radio. News 7___________________let us know about world events practically as they happen, while sitcoms, chat shows and documentaries, etc. keep us entertained and informed. And there is also the 8___________________, where we can access information from millions of 9___________________around the world which we can then 10___________________onto our own computers.

However, these forms of 11___________________and 12___________________('infotainment' as they are now sometimes collectively called) have their negative side. Famous personalities frequently accuse the 13___________________(and sometimes even respectable papers) of 14___________________by the 15___________________who are determined to get a story at any cost. Newspapers are often accused of 16___________________by angry politicians who dislike reading lies about themselves, and there are frequent accusations of 17___________________, with 18___________________reporters paying people to create stories for their newspapers or television programmes. Of course, it is not just the papers which are to blame. Sex and violence are increasing on the television. Undesirable people fill the 19___________________with equally undesirable material which can be accessed by anyone with a home computer. And the fear of 20___________________prevents many from 21___________________to the Internet.

Many argue that the government should impose stricter 22___________________to prevent such things happening. But others argue that 23___________________is the keystone of a free country. Personally, I take the view that while the media may occasionally abuse its position of power, the benefits greatly outweigh the disadvantages. Our lives would be much emptier without the wealth of information available to us today, and we are better people as a result.

Work

Task 3: Now read this essay and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. You may need to change the form of some of the words.

'Some people live to work, and others work to live. In most cases, this depends on the job they have and the conditions under which they are employed. In your opinion, what are the elements that make a job worthwhile?'

In answering this question, I would like to look first at the elements that combine to make a job undesirable. By avoiding such factors, potential 1________________________ are more likely to find a job that is more worthwhile, and by doing so, hope to achieve happiness in their work.

First of all, it doesn’t matter if you are an 2________________________ worker cleaning the floor, a 3________________________________ worker on a production line in one of the 5________________________, or a 6________________________ worker in a bank, shop or one of the other 7________________________: if you lack 8________________________, with the knowledge that you might lose your job at any time, you will never feel happy. Everybody would like a 9________________________ in which he or she is guaranteed work. Nowadays, however, companies have a high turnover of staff, 10________________________ new staff and 11________________________ others on a weekly basis. Such companies are not popular with their workers.

The same can be said of a job in which you are put under a lot of 12________________________ and worry, a job which is so 13________________________ that it takes over your life, a job where you work 14________________________ and so never get to see your family or friends, or a physical job in which you do the same thing every day and end up with the industrial disease that is always in the papers nowadays-15________________________.

With all these negative factors, it would be difficult to believe that there are any elements that make a job worthwhile. Money is, of course, the prime motivator, and everybody wants a good 16________________________. But of course that is not all. The chance of 17________________________, of being given a better position in a company, is a motivating factor. Likewise, 18________________________ such as a free lunch or a company car, an 19________________________^_ scheme to make you work hard such as a regular 20________________________ above the rate of inflation, 21________________________ in case you fall ill and a company 22________________________ scheme so that you have some money when you retire all combine to make a job worthwhile.

Unfortunately, it is not always easy to find all of these. There is, however, an alternative. Forget the office and the factory floor and become 23________________________ and work for yourself. Your future may not be secure, but at least you will be happy.

Don’t forget to keep a record of the words and expressions that you have learnt, review your notes from time to time and try to use new vocabulary items whenever possible.

Task 3: Now read this passage and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. You may need to change the form of some of the words.

'Financial advice from a father to a son'

In the play ‘Hamlet’ by William Shakespeare, a father gives his son some financial advice. ‘Neither a borrower nor a lender be’, he says. He is trying to tell his son that he should never 1____________________ money from anyone because it will make it difficult for him to manage his finances. Likewise he should never give a financial 2____________________ to a friend because he will probably never see the money again, and will probably lose his friend as well.

The play was written over four hundred years ago, but today many parents would give similar advice to their children. Imagine the conversation they would have now:

Son:     Right dad, I'm off to university now.
Father: All right son, but let me give you some sound financial advice before you go.
Son:     Oh come on dad.....
Father: Now listen, this is important. The first thing you should do is to make sure you balance your 3____________________ - the money you receive from me - and your 4____________________ - the money you spend. If you spend too much, you will end up with an 5____________________ at the bank. Don't expect me to pay it for you.
Son:     But it's so difficult. Things are so expensive, and the 6____________________ goes up all the time. 7____________________ is running at about 10%.
Father: I know, but you should try to 8____________________. Avoid expensive shops and restaurants. Also, put your money in a good 9____________________. They offer a much higher rate of 10____________________ than banks. Also, avoid buying things 11____________________.
Son:     Why?
Father: Because shops charge you an 12____________________ amount of money to buy things over a period of time. It's much better to 13____________________ a little bit of money each week so that when you see something you want, you can buy it outright. Try to wait for the sales, when shops offer huge 14____________________ and you can pick up a 15____________________. And try to get a 16____________________.
Son:     How do I do that?
Father: Easy. When you buy something, ask the shop if they'll lower the price by, say, 10%. Next, when you eventually get a job and are earning a good salary, try to 17____________________ the money in a good company. Buy 18____________________ in government organisations or 19____________________ in private companies.
Son:     OK dad, I've heard enough.
Father: One final piece of advice, son.
Son:     What's that dad?
Father: To thine own self be true.
Son:     You what?

"Environmental degradation is a major world problem. What causes this problem, and what can we do to prevent it?"

There is no doubt that the environment is in trouble. Factories burn 1_________ which produce 2_________ gases rise into the air and contribute 3_________ which threatens to melt the polar ice cap. Meanwhile farmers clear huge areas of 4_________ in places such as the Amazon to produce feeding land for cattle or produce wood for building. Rivers and oceans are so heavily 5_________ by industrial waste that it is no longer safe to go swimming. Cars pump out poisonous 6_________ which we all have to breathe in. 7_________. and overfishing are killing off millions of animals, including whales, elephants and other 8_________. In fact, all around us, all living things large and small which comprise our finely balanced 9_________ are being systematically destroyed by human greed and thoughtlessness.

There is a lot we can all do, however, to help prevent this. The easiest thing, of course, is to 10_________. waste material such as paper and glass so that we can use it again. We should also check that the things we buy from supermarkets are packaged in 11_________. packaging which decomposes easily. At the same time, we should make a conscious effort to avoid foods which are 12_________. (at least until someone proves that they are safe both for us and for the environment). If you are truly committed to protecting the environment, of course, you should only buy 13_________. - fight and vegetables, safe in the knowledge that they have been naturally cultivated. Finally, of course, he should buy a small car that uses 14_________. which is less harmful to the environment or, even better, make more use of public transport.

15_________. however, do much more. They are aware of the global issues involved and will actively involve themselves in 16_________. by making sure our forests are kept safe for future generations. They will oppose activities which are harmful to animals, such as 17_________. And they will campaign to keep the 18_________. around our towns and cities free from new building.

Task 3: Now look at this extract from a magazine article and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible. You may need to change the form of some of the words.

A cure for the future in the past?

For over fifty years, the people of Britain have relied on the 1_____________ to make sure they have adequate health services. But now the National Health Service is sick. Government 2_____________ and 3_____________ are forcing hospitals to close, and waiting lists for treatment are getting longer. Under such circumstances, it is no surprise that more people are turning to private (but expensive) healthcare.

For some, however, there are alternatives. They are turning their back on modern pills, tablets and other 4_____________. It seems paradoxical, but in an age of microchips and high technology, 5_____________ (the old-fashioned cures that our grandparents relied on) is making a comeback. Consider these case studies:

Maude is 76 and has been suffering from 6_____________ for almost ten years. 'The inflammation in my joints was almost unbearable, and my doctor referred me to a 7_____________ at the London Hospital. I was told that I needed 8_____________, but would need to wait for at least two years before I could have the operation. In desperation, I started having massage sessions. To my surprise, these were very 9_____________, and while they didn't cure the disorder, they did relieve it to some extent'.

Ron is 46. His high-powered city job was responsible for a series of 10_____________ illnesses, and the drugs he took did little to relieve the nervous strain. 'I read about treatments which involve the whole person rather than the individual symptoms, but I had always been sceptical about 11_____________. However, my friend recommended a dietician who advised me that part of my problem was 12_____________-related. Basically, the foods I was eating were contributing to my disorder. She gave me a list of foods that would provide the right 13_____________ and 14_____________ to keep me in good health. At the same time, she recommended a more 15_____________ lifestyle - running, swimming, that kind of thing. I'm a bit of a couch potato, and the 16_____________ lifestyle I had lived was compounding the problem. Now I feel great!'

So is there still a place in our lives for modern medicine? While it is true that some infections and viruses may be prevented by resorting to alternative medicine, more serious illnesses such as 17_____________ need more drastic measures. We do need our health service at these times, and we shouldn't stop investing in its future. But we mustn't forget that for some common illnesses, the cure may lie in the past.

We book a two-week 2____________________ with flights and accommodation included (or if we are 3____________________, we make our own way to the country and travel around from place to place with a rucksack on our back). We make sure we have all the right currency, our passport and any 4____________________ that are necessary to get us into the country. We go to the airport and 5____________________. We strap ourselves into our tiny 6____________________ aircraft seats and a few hours later we 7____________________ from the aircraft, strange new sights, smells and sounds greeting us. Nowadays, it seems, the whole world goes on holiday at once: the age of 8____________________ is in full swing!

These people become 17____________________, unwanted and unwelcome. Even if they manage to get into a country, they will often be 18____________________ or repatriated. Their future is uncertain.

Task 3: Now look at this extract from a politician's speech and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible. You may need to change the form of some of the words.

Are you worried about crime? I am. We read it every day in the papers. A terrible crime has been 1________________, the police have 2________________someone, he has appeared in front of a jury in 3________________, he has 4________________his innocence but has been found 5________________of his crime and he has been 6________________ten years in prison. We are all very relieved that the criminal is being punished for his 7________________, and 8________________citizens like you and me can sleep more safely at night.

But what happens next? We all hope, don't we, that the prisoner will benefit from society's 9________________, that a spell in prison will 10________________him and make him a better person. We all hope that he will 11________________and become like us. We all hope that when he is eventually 12________________and let loose on the streets, he will be a good character, the threat of another spell in jail being a suitable 13________________which will stop him from breaking the law again. Oh yes.

But let's face it. The reality is usually very different. The prisoner may be released on 14________________, before the end of his sentence. He will try to re-enter society. But then he often becomes a 15________________himself, unable to find work and rejected by society. It isn't long before he's back in prison again.

So what alternatives are there, I hear you say. What can we do to the 16________________to make sure he doesn't commit another crime? There are alternatives to prison, of course, such as 17________________in which he will provide a service to those around him. Or he can pay a large 18________________. Alternatively, we could establish a more severe system of punishment, including 19________________and 20________________, but we like to consider ourselves civilized, and the idea of beating or executing someone is repellant to us. Oh yes.

The answer, of course, is far simpler. We need to be tough not on the criminal, but on the cause of the crime. We should spend less of the taxpayer's money funding the 21________________and 22________________all the other people who work for the legal system, and put the money instead into supporting deprived areas which are the breeding grounds for crime. We in the ConLab Party believe that everybody needs a good chance in life, and this is a good step forward. Vote for us now!

Task 3: Now look at this essay and fill in the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible. You may need to change some of the word forms.

Technology has come a long way in the last fifty years, and our lives have become better as a result. Or have they?

The second half of the twentieth century saw more changes than in the previous two hundred years. Penicillin has already been 1 __________ and used to treat infections; there have been many remarkable advances in medicine that have helped to increase our average 2 __________ way beyond that of our ancestors. Incredible 3 __________ such as television have changed the way we spend our leisure hours. Perhaps the most important 4 __________, however, has been the microchip. Nobody could have imagined, when it was first 5 __________, that within a matter of years, this tiny piece of silicon and circuitry would be found in almost every household object from the kettle to the video recorder. And nobody could have predicted the sudden proliferation of computers that would completely change our lives, allowing us to access information from the other side of the world via the 6 __________ or send messages around the world by 7 __________ at the touch of a button. Meanwhile, 8 __________ into other aspects of information technology is making it easier and cheaper for us to talk to friends and relations around the world. But everything has a price. The development of 11 __________ led to mass automation in factories, which in turn led to millions losing their jobs. The genius of Einstein led to the horrors of the atomic bomb and the dangerous uncertainties of 12 __________ (we hear of accidents and mishaps at nuclear power stations around the world, where 13 __________ to prevent accidents were inadequate). Most children enjoy eating 1_________________, but scientific tests have shown us that burgers and pizzas can lack essential 2__________________ and 3__________________, which are essential for health and growth, while simultaneously containing large amounts of 4__________________ and 5__________________, which can result in obesity and heart problems. Many children end up suffering from 6__________________, since they eat too much of the wrong sort of food. In fact, in many areas of the developed world, a lot of children show similar symptoms to those in poorer developing countries, where 7__________________ of food causes thousands of deaths from starvation, especially in the wake of natural disasters which ruin crops and in some cases totally destroy the annual 8__________________.

Dieticians tell us that we must eat a 9__________________, as it is essential we consume sufficient quantities of the different food groups. They tell us that we should all eat more 10__________________, which cannot be digested by the body, and fewer foods which are high in 11__________________, as this can block the walls of arteries and lead to heart problems. This is good advice, of course, but our lifestyles often make this difficult. Many of the ready-prepared foods we buy from supermarkets are high in 12__________________, giving us more energy than we actually need. 13__________________ foods are appearing on our supermarket shelves, even though nobody is really sure if altering the composition of food cells is safe. We have the option, of course, of buying 14__________________ foods, but naturally-cultivated fruits and vegetables are expensive. And to make matters worse, we are continually hearing about outbreaks of 15__________________ and 16__________________, which put us off eating certain foods, as nobody wants to spend time in hospital suffering from 17__________________.

Bob's problems began during his 1__________ years. His parents got 2__________ when he was young, and neither of his parents wanted to raise him or his brother and sister, so he was 3__________ by a 4__________ chosen by his parent's social worker. Unfortunately, his foster-father was a strict 5__________, and often beat him. Bob rebelled against this strict 6__________, and by the time he was eight, he was already 7__________, stealing from shops and playing truant. By the time he reached 8__________, sometime around his thirteenth birthday, he had already appeared in court several times, charged with 9__________. The judge blamed his foster parents, explaining that children needed 10__________ parents and guardians who would look after them properly. The foster father objected to this, pointing out that Bob's 11__________ - his two brothers and sister - were 12__________ children who behaved at home and worked well at school.

This has raised some interesting questions about the modern family system. While it is true that parents should not be too 13__________ with children by letting them do what they want when they want, or be too 14__________ by sheltering them from the realities of life, it is also true that they should not be too strict. It has also highlighted the disadvantages of the modern 15__________ family where the child has only its mother and father to rely on (or the 16__________ family, in which the mother or father has to struggle particularly hard to support their 17__________). In fact, many believe that we should return to traditional family values and the 18__________ family: extensive research has shown that children from these families are generally better behaved and have a better chance of success in later life.

Task 3: Now read this article and fill in the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible. You may need to change some of the word forms.

For seven years I lived in Singapore, a 1 of almost three million people. Like London, Paris and New York, Singapore is a 2 city, with people from different parts of the world living and working together. I enjoyed the 3 lifestyle I led there, and made the most of the superb 4, ranging from the excellent shops to some of the best restaurants in the world. In the evenings and at weekends there were always 5; with such diverse attractions as classical western music, an exhibition of Malay art or a Chinese opera in the street, it was difficult to get bored. Perhaps most impressive, however, was the remarkable transport 6, with excellent roads, a swift and efficient bus service and a state-of-the-art underground system which could whisk 7 from the suburbs straight into the heart of the city (this was particularly important, as the government banned private cars from entering the 8 during the morning and afternoon 9 in order to reduce 10 on the roads and 11 from the exhausts).

Of course, living in a city (like this has its disadvantages as well. For a start, the 12 can be very high - renting an apartment, for example, is very expensive. And as the city is expanding, there are a lot of 13 where new apartments are continually being built to deal with the 14 which is a direct result of the government encouraging people to have more children.

Fortunately, Singapore doesn’t suffer from problems that are common in many cities such as 15, which is partly the result of the government imposing very severe penalties on anyone bringing narcotics into the country, so it is safe to walk the streets at night. In fact, the 16 housing estates there are probably the safest and most orderly in the world.

Singapore wouldn’t be ideal for everyone, however, especially if you come from the countryside and are used to a 17 lifestyle. The traditional villages that were once common have disappeared as the residents there realised there were no 18 for their future and moved into new government housing in the city. Nowadays, there is very little 19 around the city, which means that Singapore imports almost all of its food. And despite a ‘green’ approach to city planning, the 20 which has eaten into the countryside has had a detrimental effect on the 21.

Terry: What rubbish! Thank goodness the 2.__________________exists to prevent men from taking advantage of women.

Chris: Well, let's face it, in the workplace women never do as well as their 3.__________________.

Terry: And I suppose you think that women are only good for changing babies' nappies and other tedious aspects of 4.__________________.

Chris: No, but I do believe that in a modern household there should be a clearly-defined 5.___________________. Men are good at DIY, for example. Most women aren't. And I'll always believe that it's the man who should be the 6.___________________, providing food and shelter for his family.

Terry: Well, all I can say is that I'm glad your ideas of 7.__________________ are not shared by most people.

Chris: Nonsense! A lot of people believe in traditional 8.__________________; the man goes out to work, the woman stays at home. It's as simple as that.

Terry: Men at work and women at home? Come on dear, those are such typical 9.___________________.

With people like you around, the 10.__________________will always continue.

Chris: Oh, shut up dad.

Terry: Sorry Christine, but it's an issue I feel strongly about.

Men and women

Task 3: Now read this essay and complete the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks 1 and 2.

'Men and women are, and always will be, different in the way they behave and are treated'. Do you agree with this statement?

A totally (1)________________society, in which sexual (2)________________between men and women is the norm, is still a long way off. This is certainly the case if you watch television, where men are often portrayed as the (3)________________, bringing money home to the wife, who is usually depicted as the (4)________________, prone to extreme emotions and temper tantrums. But is this really the case? Is it still fair to create (5)________________such as this?
After all, as more women go out to work and more men stay at home to look after the house and the kids, it is quite clear that so-called (6)________________are merging and disappearing.

Take the office workplace as an example. For years, businesses and companies were (7)________________ - the directors, managers and businessmen were always men, the secretaries and personal assistants always female. This was probably because men have traditionally been seen as more (8)________________, more able to deal with the cut-and-thrust of business. But now women are proving that they can be equally tough, while simultaneously being more (9)________________and caring. In fact, in many ways, women are more (10)________________than men, a vital aspect of modern business where you are expected to do more than just one job. And thanks to the (11)________________, women are paid the same as men. It would appear that, in many cases, the (12)________________is a dying breed.

At home, too, there is less evidence of (13)________________. It is no longer the woman who does all the cooking and cleaning and (14)________________. Such (15)________________is now often shared equally. (16)________________no longer requires the woman to stay indoors all day while the man stays out until all hours. Whether this is due to the struggle by the (17)________________in the 1960s and 1970s, or whether it is due to a natural shift in attitudes is unclear.

What is clear, however, is that women no longer feel they need to be regarded as (18)________________, the underdogs in a (19)________________with their (20)________________. In fact, many believe that in the (21)________________, it is women who have come out on top.

We began our journey in the capital, Trinufuegos, a 1_____________conurbation of almost ten million. It is not a pretty place; heavily 2_____________with huge factories belching out black fumes, and miles of 3_____________as housing estates and shopping centres spread out from the 4_____________centre for miles. It was a relief to leave.

As soon as we got into the countryside, things improved considerably. The climate is dry and it is difficult to grow anything, but thanks to 5_____________, which helps bring water in from the Rio Cauto (the 6_____________river with its 7_____________, high up in the snow-covered 8_____________, the land is fertile enough to grow the sugar cane on which much of the economy is based. We saw few people, however, as many have moved to the towns and cities to look for more profitable work. It is largely due to this rural 9_____________that the sugar-cane industry is suffering.

Further south and we entered the Holguin 10_____________, with mountains rising high above us on both sides. The land here drops sharply to the sea and the slow-moving waters of the Rio Cauto give way to 11_____________which tumble over cliffs, and small, fast-moving 12_____________which are not even wide enough to take a boat At this point, the road we were travelling along became a 13_____________which was only just wide enough for our vehicle, and then an unpaved 14_____________which almost shook the vehicle to pieces.

And then suddenly, the Pacific 15_____________was in front of us. Our destination was the town of Santiago de Gibara, built on a 16_____________sticking out into the blue waters. The countryside here undulates gently, with low 17_____________covered in rich tropical jungle. The open 18_____________surrounding the 19_____________of the Rio Cauto as it reaches the ocean is rich and 20_____________, ideal for growing the tobacco plants which need a lot of warm, damp soil.

That night I lay in my cheap hotel, listening to the waves gently lapping the 21_____________, and when I eventually fell asleep, I dreamt of the people who had first inhabited this 22_____________almost two thousand years before.

1. advise = advice
Many English words can be nouns and verbs without a change in spelling. However, some words which end in -ice when they are nouns end with -ise when they become verbs. For example, practice (noun) = practise (verb)

2. achieve = achieve
A lot of English words use a combination of i and e. The order of these letters can be confusing.

In most words where these letters are pronounced as ee (as in cheese), the i comes before the e (for example, siege, thief, field, belief, piece) unless the letters are preceded by the letter c (for example, ceiling, conceit, receive, deceive).

However, not all words follow this rule. Exceptions include caffeine, protein, neither, either and seize.

When the letters are pronounced ay (as in hate), the e comes before the i (for example, weigh, veil, neighbour, eight).

There are other words which must be learned individually. These are: foreign, forfeit, height, heir, leisure, their, surfeit, sovereign.

3. aquire = acquire

A lot of English words contain silent letters - in other words, a letter which we do not pronounce when we say the word. There are very few rules to tell you which is which, so you must learn each word individually or use a dictionary to check the spelling of a word if you are not sure.
Answers

Some common examples of silent letters include:

Silent A: February parliament marriage
Silent B: comb bomb womb doubt
Silent C: conscience scene discipline scissors
Silent D: Wednesday handsome
Silent G: campaign design
Silent H: ghost school vehicle rhythm
Silent I: business hygiene nuisance
Silent N: autumn column condemn
Silent T: listen mortgage
Silent U: biscuit colleague (which also has a silent e at the end) guarantee guess
Silent W: answer whole
Silent GH: though thorough weigh height

4. swimming = swimming
We double the last letter of single-syllable words ending with a single vowel and a single consonant when we add a suffix (e.g., -ing):
swim - swimming run - running dip - dipped

We usually do the same thing if a two-syllable word is stressed on the second syllable:
begin - beginning regret - regrettable prefer - preferring

We do not double the last letter in the following cases:
- when a word ends with w, x or y
- when the suffix begins with a consonant (e.g., bad - badly)
- when a word ends with l and the suffix -ly is added (e.g., playful - playfully)
- when two vowels come before the final consonant (e.g., weep - weeping)

5. thieves = thieves
Most nouns are regular. This means that we add an s to make them plural (e.g., car - cars). However, some nouns are irregular - we either do not add an s to the word to make it plural or we add s plus some other letters.

In nouns which end with a consonant and y, the y changes to i and we add s:
party - parties baby - babies worry - worries

In nouns which end with s, sh, tch and x, we add es:
bus - buses dish - dishes watch - watches box - boxes

In some nouns which end in f or fe, we replace the f with a v and add es.
calf - calves half - halves knife - knives life - lives wife - wives

In some words which end with o, we add es.
cargo - cargoes echo - echoes hero - heroes

Some words do not change at all.
fish, deer, sheep

And some words have their own individual rules:
man - men child - children woman - women person - people

6. hoping = hoping
We drop the e from a word when a suffix which begins with a vowel (e.g., -ing) is added to a word which ends in a consonant plus a silent e:
hope - hoping tape - tapping give - giving immature - immaturity
Answers

We also drop the e from a word when a suffix which begins with a vowel is added to a word which ends in a vowel plus a silent e:

come - coming pursue - pursing argue - arguable

When a suffix begins with a consonant (e.g., -ment) we do not usually drop the e, although there are some exceptions (eg., awe - awful, true - truly)

7. happiness = happiness

We change the y to i when it follows a consonant and a suffix is added (e.g., happy - happiness)

We do not usually change the y to i when the y follows a vowel (e.g., play - playful) or when the suffix added is -ing (e.g., pray - praying)

B.
1. acknowledgment = acknowledgement 2. argueable = arguable 3. benefitting = benefiting
4. busness = business 5. campaign = campaign 6. cancellations = cancellations 7. changeable = changeable
8. condeming = condemning 9. consientious = conscientious 10. height = height 11. manageable = manageable

Task 1

Task 2

Note:
Most large towns and cities in Britain have ‘Park and Ride’ schemes. These are large car parks outside city centres where drivers can park their car, usually for free. They can then take a bus into the city centre.

Distances and speed limits in Britain are in miles or miles per hour (1 mile = 1.6 kilometres). The maximum speed limit in Britain is 60mph on single-lane roads outside towns, or 70mph on dual-carriageways or motorways, in most towns and cities, the maximum speed limit is usually 20 or 30 mph. Drivers who are caught speeding can face penalties ranging from a fine to imprisonment, depending on how fast they are driving and where. They can also have their driving licence suspended.

Drink driving is considered a very serious offence. Offenders automatically have their driving licence suspended for at least a year, will normally receive a fine and may go to prison.
