I love casual clothes. I used to work as a waiter in a restaurant on Saturdays and I had to wear formal clothes. I hated it. I just want to wear some worn jeans and a T-shirt. I like wearing unusual T-shirts. You know, I tried making my own T-shirts once, but they looked horrible. So after that, I started decorating trainers. I take an old pair and make them look trendy. It usually works and it’s always fun.

People usually think I’m older than I really am. That’s probably because most of my clothes are quite formal. I never wear T-shirts and I used to wear jeans, but not any more. I like my shoes to be comfortable but I only wear trainers when I go to the gym. I’m fond of accessories, too, especially jewellery. I love anything that’s sparkly.

Donna
I hate baggy clothes and formal clothes, too. I don’t really care if I’m out of fashion. I just wear what I think looks good. I like to look different from others, so I make a lot of my own clothes. They are usually dark colours, but I wear colourful accessories with them. I also enjoy buying shoes. I wear a different colour every day, usually to match the colour of my hair. Today, I’m wearing red shoes.

All you do is get inside the ball and then somebody rolls you along the ground or down a hill. Don't worry. It's not as dangerous as it seems because the zorb is made of soft plastic and is full of air.

From the very beginning, people enjoyed zorbing and soon it became a very popular free-time activity. Today, you can go zorbing in many countries around the world and there are different kinds of zorbing. You can get in a water ball and roll across a lake or the sea. Antoni Gaudí’s Work of Art

Anyone who has ever visited Barcelona has seen the works of the city’s most famous architect, Antoni Gaudí. Gaudí was born in Reus, Spain, in 1852, and studied architecture in Barcelona between 1873 and 1878. He spent most of his life there and designed many wonderful buildings like the Casa Battló, the Casa Mila and Park Güell.

The Sagrada Familia however, is his most famous work and has become a symbol of Barcelona. Gaudí started this project in 1883 and spent the rest of his life working on it. He wanted to build a very impressive cathedral with 18 towers up to 170 metres high. When he died in 1926, only a small part was ready. Work continued, but in 1936 a bomb ruined Gaudí’s study with all his notes and designs.

In 1952, a team of architects decided to make Gaudí’s dream come true. They started work on the Sagrada Familia again. They have already built the facade and most of the towers. Four of the towers are open to visitors and provide amazing views of the city. However, work on the cathedral hasn’t finished yet and probably won’t for quite some time.

1. Who was Antoni Gaudí?

Edinburgh is a city in the south of Scotland and it is one of the most wonderful places I've ever visited. It is the second largest city and the capital of Scotland with over 1 million people. One of the city's many sights is Edinburgh Castle. This building is in the centre of the city and it is one of Scotland's most visited tourist attractions. Another building worth visiting is the Scott Monument. This is a 61m tower with a view of all of Edinburgh from the top. You must also take a tour of Edinburgh's Old Town where you'll see some of the many buildings. Of course, Edinburgh isn't only famous for its sights. There are many things to do there. You can go for a walk along Princes Street and do some shopping. If you want to relax, you can enjoy a walk in Princes Street Gardens which is a beautiful public park in the middle of Edinburgh. When you get thirsty or hungry, you can have a coffee or a meal at one of the cafes and restaurants. Edinburgh's definitely a place worth visiting and I hope to go to this city again one day.

Dear Mr Taylor,

We need to make a few changes in our plans. The date will stay the same. But Dr Gillian Stevens can’t make it so the topic won’t be Ancient Egyptian Art. Fortunately, Dr Helen Porter is free. She can give the tour but she will talk about Ancient Greek Art instead. She will meet you outside the museum shop which is near the entrance at half past eight. I think if you leave at half past seven, you will arrive on time. Please inform your students about the changes. If you have any questions, call me.

SIGN LANGUAGE

The ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle believed that people could learn only by hearing spoken words. In the 18th century, the invention of sign language changed people's opinions. The first school for deaf people was opened in Paris in the 1750s by Abbe Charles Michel L'Épée. He created a language of signs that became known as Old French Sign Language, and it spread throughout Europe as more and more schools were opened.

Sign language is the system of signs and gestures that deaf people use to communicate. Today, almost every country has its own sign language. For example in the UK, there is BSL (British Sign Language) and in the USA, ASL (American Sign Language). However, sign languages are very different from spoken languages. They have different grammar and vocabulary. Also, you can even express two or more signs at the same time.

So even though British and American people speak English, BSL and ASL aren't the same at all. However, in other countries things are different. South Africa has 11 official spoken languages but only one sign language. There is an international sign language called Gestuno, but this is only used at international deaf events, such as the Deaflympics, or the Olympics for the deaf.

2. Well, after I left school, I worked at a few summer camps. I wasn’t a camp leader then and I didn’t get any money for it, but I learnt what a good leader needs to do. Old School Weather Forecasting!

In the past people didn't have technology so they had to use other ways to predict the weather. Here are a few.

You can actually predict the weather just by touching grass. If the grass is dry when the sun rises, then it means it will be cloudy or there will be strong winds, which can mean rain that day. If the grass is wet, then it probably won't rain. But this method doesn't work if it has rained during the night.

Another good thing to know is that most storms travel from west to east. So, if you see a rainbow in the west, then rain is probably coming. Also, if you see a red sky in the west during the evening, it means lots of dry air with dust in it is heading towards you. But a red sky in the morning means the dry air has passed and rain is coming. This is why people say 'Red sky at night, sailor's delight. Red sky in the morning, sailors take warning.'

Clouds can tell you a lot about the weather, too. If they are moving in different directions, (some towards the west and others towards the north), bad weather is coming. Also, there are some clouds called Altostratus clouds, which are high in the sky and have a spotted pattern. Sailors always believed they brought storms. And it's true, these clouds usually mean rain within the next 36 hours.

Lastly, looking at animals can also help you guess what the weather will be like. Cows usually crowd together just before a storm, or sometimes they lie down. And most animals, especially birds, go quiet just before it rains.

1. Wet grass in the morning means it may rain that day. ✔
2. A rainbow is always a sign of good weather. ❌
3. Scientists study the colour of the sky to tell the weather. ❌
4. There won't be any rain the next day if you see a red sky at night. ❌
5. Clouds moving north means a storm is coming. ✔
6. The only way sailors used to predict the weather was by looking at the clouds. ✔
7. Sailors thought Altostratus clouds brought bad weather. ❌
8. Cows lie down when it's going to be sunny. ✔

WHAT A NIGHT!

One night last November, something terrible happened. We were getting ready to go to bed when it started raining. We weren't worried because it often rains here, but there are rarely any serious problems.

At 2am my sister woke me up and said, 'There's water everywhere!' From the top of the stairs, the living room downstairs looked like a lake! We went downstairs and saw our parents trying to get the furniture off the wet floor. Our father told us not to panic. He had started taking some things upstairs, so we helped him. Of course we got really wet. Half an hour later, our father called the fire brigade because more water was coming in. They told us to turn off the electricity and wait. The whole town had flooded and they couldn't help everyone. I started crying, 'We're going to drown!' I shouted. My mother took my sister and me back to bed. However, the temperature had dropped so it was very cold and we couldn't sleep.

The rain stopped the next morning. A fire engine arrived at noon and the firefighters started pumping out the water. As soon as they left, we started cleaning up. We were exhausted but relieved. It was a difficult job because everything was a mess. The flood had destroyed lots of our things. We even had to throw away my new computer and all my computer games. It was a terrible night!

Wall-E is a CGI animated film about a little robot. It was directed by Andrew Stanton and it was created by Pixar Animation Studios. Most of the characters in the film are robots so there aren’t many speaking parts for actors.

The story follows Wall-E, the robot that was designed to clean up the Earth which is full of rubbish. Humans, who evacuated the Earth 700 years earlier because they had destroyed the environment, live on a huge spaceship in another part of the galaxy. In the beginning, many robots like Wall-E were created but now Wall-E is the only one left. During all these years, he has built huge towers of rubbish. Another robot called Eve is sent to Earth to search for life. Wall-E becomes friends with her and shows her a plant he has found. She returns to the spaceship with the plant to show that life has returned to Earth. Wall-E follows her and they begin an exciting space adventure.

THE KING OF PLANETS!

Jupiter is the largest planet in our solar system. It's so big that you could fit fourteen Earths inside it! It's also one of the brightest objects in the night sky. Actually, when seen from Earth, Jupiter is the third brightest object in the sky at night after the Moon and Venus. So it's quite easy to find it even without a telescope.

Now, if you look at Jupiter through a telescope, you will see some of its moons. Can you guess how many moons it's got? Well, there seem to be at least forty-nine, but astronomers are still finding new ones. Galileo Galilei discovered the first four moons in 1610. They are called Io, Europa, Ganymede and Callisto, or the Galilean moons. Ganymede is the largest moon in our solar system.

There are many other interesting facts worth knowing about Jupiter, too. For example, its year, which is the time it takes to go around the sun once, is very long. A year on Jupiter is almost twelve Earth years. But a day on this planet, which is the amount of time it takes to spin around itself once, is much shorter than a day on Earth - it's only about ten hours long. That's less than half an Earth day. Also, the most fascinating feature on Jupiter's surface is the Great Red Spot, which is a type of storm like a hurricane here on Earth. At its widest, this spot is about three times the size of the Earth! There are many storms happening around Jupiter but, there's no other storm bigger or older. Believe it or not, this storm started more than three hundred years ago! Amazing, right?

1. What is true about Jupiter?
   a. It's as big as fourteen Earths.
   b. It's as bright as the Moon and Venus.
   c. It's larger and brighter than the Moon and Venus.

2. What is not true about Jupiter's moons?
   a. They haven't all been discovered yet.
   b. One of them is bigger than our Moon.
   c. They were all discovered in the 17th century.

3. What is true about time on Jupiter?
   a. Days and years are longer than Earth days and years.
   b. Years are longer than Earth years but days are shorter.
   c. Earth days and years are shorter.

4. What is true about the Great Red Spot?
   a. It's a storm that occurred 300 years ago.
   b. It's three times smaller than the Earth.
   c. It's the largest and oldest storm on Jupiter.

SLEEPING DISORDERS

There are many different problems you can have with sleeping. Some are medical problems where you need to see a doctor, others are just annoying.

Sleepwalking is probably the most common sleeping disorder. It can be just sitting up in bed while you're asleep or walking around and doing activities, where accidents can happen. These activities can include walking to the bathroom or cleaning but also dangerous activities like cooking or even driving. Some people have even said they were sleepwalking when they committed a crime. Sleepwalking can last from 30 seconds to 30 minutes. Sleepwalkers show no emotion on their faces and their eyes are open, however, they don't remember anything when they wake up.

Insomnia is not being able to sleep. This happens to most people at some point, but when it lasts for a long time it can be bad for your health. The Guinness World Records used to have world records for people staying awake, but they stopped because it's too dangerous. Some people have somniphobia, which is the fear of sleeping. They're too scared to go to sleep, perhaps because of nightmares that they've had, or sometimes they are scared they will die in their sleep. Narcolepsy, on the other hand, is not being able to stay awake. People with this disorder often don't sleep well at night. This causes them to be so tired during the day that they can't stop themselves from falling asleep. Obviously, this can be quite embarrassing.

1. Why is sleepwalking dangerous?

2. How long can someone sleepwalk for?

3. What do sleepwalkers remember when they wake up?

4. Why has the Guinness World Records stopped having 'staying awake' records?

5. What may cause people to be somniphobic?

6. Why could narcolepsy be embarrassing?

D. Read the text about a nurse called Fran and write T for True, F for False or NM for Not Mentioned.

I’ve been a nurse for fifteen years. After I finished nursing school, I worked at a hospital for a while. But when I saw a documentary about the situation in Africa, I decided I needed to do more to help people. I became a volunteer and spent ten years helping people in countries with wars and terrible diseases. I wish the world was a better place.

Anyway, during a short trip home to visit family and friends, something terrible happened. I was walking down a street in the city centre when I heard a loud noise. Then I saw two men running from a bank and getting into a car. I immediately ran into the bank to see if I could do anything to help. There, I found a security guard on the floor. They had hurt him very badly. Someone had called for an ambulance, but I wasn’t sure it would arrive in time.

So, I did what I could to save his life. I used all the skills I had learnt from my time as a volunteer. And in the end, that is what saved his life.

I returned to Africa the week after. While I was there, a friend sent me a copy of the local newspaper, and I was amazed to see a story in it about me being a hero. It put a smile on my face, but I’m not really a hero. It’s all part of the job.

Hi Oliver!

How's it going? Listen, next Sunday we are planning a day trip to Stonehenge. It’s a fantastic place, and it’s easy to get to from London. That’s why we chose it. Would you like to join us? We’re going to have a great time there! Matt and Kevin are coming, too!

So, we’re leaving at 7am from Victoria Coach Station and we are arriving at Salisbury at about 9. We will then catch a local bus to Stonehenge. The good thing is that on that day there are some celebrations there and we can take part as well. After that, we were thinking of going to one of the nearby parks to have our lunch. Any ideas of what each of us can prepare? And at about 5 or 6 o'clock we can take a coach back to London.

We can...

Anyway, let me know if you’re joining us. Write back soon.

Take care,
Dave

Hi there!

Thanks for the invitation. (1)___________________________

I’ve never been there before and I’ve heard so many things about it! So, you can count me in. And I really want to see Matt and Kevin again. I haven’t seen them for ages.

Also, I’m really excited about the celebrations you mentioned in your e-mail! As for the food, here are my ideas. (3)___________________________

How's your studying going? We're having a great time camping. I didn't think I'd like it but it's good fun. I've created a new soup recipe and your dad really loves it. Neal hardly touches it, he just eats sandwiches and crisps all day. The tents are a bit uncomfortable, but I sleep all right. Must be the fresh country air.

Talk to you soon,
Mum

Dear Kim,

Sorry you can't be with us. We're having lots of fun. Our new tents are brilliant and we've found a great place right next to a river. Your brother and I had our first experience fishing but we were unsuccessful, which wasn't a shock. We had good fun, though. Your mum keeps making a very unpleasant soup. I asked her if I could make some dinner, but she says she doesn't mind cooking for us. What can I do?

Take care,
Dad

Mum has come up with a new soup recipe and it's disgusting. She asked Dad if he liked it, and he said yes! Now she's making it every day. Also, I want my room back, I can't sleep in my tent!

VISIT MALTA

The Republic of Malta is a group of three islands, just off the coast of Sicily. Malta, Gozo and Comino are rich in history and culture. They are found right in the middle of the Mediterranean, which means sun all year round, making it a perfect holiday destination.

Malta is the largest island with a population of about 400,000. The capital is Valletta and its population is about 6500. Here you can visit museums and see lovely historic architecture. The largest city on the island is Birkirkara with a population of 21,775. Of course, the main reason people visit Malta is for the beautiful beaches and clear blue waters and you don't have to go far to find them.

Gozo is the greenest of the three islands. It is covered with beautiful Mediterranean trees. The Ggantija temples are the most important tourist sight. They are 5500 years old, which means they are older than the Pyramids of Giza in Egypt. If you want to relax in the sun, go to Ramla Bay, which is famous for its red sand and clear blue waters.

Comino is the smallest of the islands with a population of just 8. There are a few buildings on the island, like St. Mary's Tower and two hotels, but no cars! It's the perfect place for those who want a bit of peace and quiet. Comino's Blue Lagoon is a popular place for water sports, especially scuba-diving. Comino is also a popular location for filmmakers and the 2004 film Troy starring Brad Pitt was filmed there.
