let down, to reduce the level of activity; to fail to support or satisfy, to disappoint; to lengthen (a garment) by adjusting the hem; let one's hair down, to abandon conventional restraint in one's behavior; let him down gently, do not treat him too severely. let fly, to shoot or send out violently; to hurl strong abuse. let go, to set at liberty; to loose one's hold of; to cease discussion of, to ignore; let oneself go, to behave in an unrestrained way, to cease to take trouble. let in for, to involve in (loss or difficulty). let loose, to release. let off, to fire (a gun); to cause (a bomb) to explode; to ignite (a firework); to excuse from doing (duties etc.); to give little or no punishment to. let off steam, to allow it to escape; to do something that relieves one's pent-up energy or feelings. let on, (slang) to pretend, the impostor let on he was a company executive; to reveal a secret, don't let on that I am ill. let out, to release from restraint or obligation; to make (a garment) looser by adjusting the seams. let slip, to reveal a secret; to miss an opportunity. let up, (informal) to become less intense, to relax one’s efforts.

lev suffix used to form nouns meaning small or minor, as in booklet, starlet.

let-down (let-down) n. 1. a disappointment. 2. the descent of an airplane, as when preparing for landing. 3. a slow-down or slackening.

le-thal (lee-thal) adj. causing or able to cause death. le-thal-ly adv. le-thal-i-ty (lee-thal-i-tee) n.

leth-ar-jee (leth-ar-ji) adj. extreme lack of energy or vitality. le-thar-gic (le-thar-jick) adj. le-thar-gy n.

lett (let-er) n. 1. a member of a people living near the Baltic Sea, mainly in Latvia. 2. the Lettish language.

letter (let-er) n. 1. a symbol representing a sound used in speech. 2. a written message addressed to one or more persons, usually sent by mail. letter v. to inscribe letters on, to draw or inscribe letters.

letter-er (let-er-er) n. a letter bomb, a terrorist explosive device disguised as a letter sent by mail. letter box, a mailbox. letter carrier, a mail carrier, a postman.

letter of the law, its exact requirements (as opposed to its spirit or true purpose).

letters patent, a written document from a government granting some specific rights, as to land or an invention, to a person. man of letters, a scholar, a literary man. to the letter, paying strict attention to every detail.

letter head (let-er-hed) n. a printed heading on stationery, stationery with this.

letter-ing (let-er-ing) n. 1. the act of marking something with letters by printing, writing, etc. 2. the actual letters.

letter-per-fect (let-er-pur-fikt) adj. perfect or correct in every detail.

letter-press (let-er-pres) n. 1. printing from raised type, not from plates, blocks, etc. 2. the contents of an illustrated book other than the illustrations.

Lettish (let-ish) adj. of the Letts or their language. Lettish n. the language of the Letts.

let-tuce (let-is) n. a garden plant with broad crisp leaves much used as salad.

let-up (let-up) n. a reduction in intensity, relaxation of effort.

leu-ke-mia (loo-ke-mi-á) n. a disease in which the white corpuscles multiply uncontrollably in the body tissues and usually in the blood. leu-ke-mic adj.

leu-co-cyte (loo-kó-sit) n. a white or colorless corpuscle of blood also found in the lump etc., a white blood cell.

leu-kor-rhe-a (loo-kó-rhe-a) n. an abnormal white discharge from the vagina.

Lev. abbr. Leviticus.

Lev-ant (lee-vant) n. the countries and islands in the eastern part of the Mediterranean Sea. Le-van-tine (lev-an-tin) adj. & n.

lev-ee (lev-e) n. 1. an assembly of visitors or guests, especially at a formal reception.

levée (lev-e) n. 1. an embankment against river floods. 2. a landing place by a river.

lev-el (lev-èl) n. 1. an imaginary line or plane joining points of equal height. 2. a measured height or value etc., position on a scale, the level of alcohol in the blood. 3. relative position in rank or class or authority, decision at cabinet level. 4. a more or less flat surface or layer or area. 5. an instrument for testing a horizontal line or plane. level adj. 1. horizontal. 2. (of ground) flat, without hills or hollows. 3. on a level with, at the same height or rank or position on a scale. 4. steady, uniform, (of a voice) not changing in tone. level v. lev-eled, lev-el-ing 1. to make or become level or even or uniform; level up or down, to bring up or down to a standard; level out, to become level. 2. to knock down (buildings) to the ground. 3. to aim (a gun or missile). 4. to direct (an accusation or criticism) at a person. lev-ely adv. lev-el-er n. lev-el-less n.

do one’s level best (informal) to make all possible efforts. find one’s level, to reach one’s right place in relation to others. level with, (informal) to tell the truth to. on the level, (informal) with no dishonesty or deception.

lev-el-head-ed (lev-el-hed-id) adj. mentally well balanced, sensible.

lev-er (lev-èr, lee-ver) n. 1. a bar or other device pivoted on a fixed point (the fulcrum) in order to lift something or force something open. 2. a projecting handle used in the same way to operate or control machinery etc. lever v. to use a lever, to lift or move by this.

lev-er-age (lev-è-røj) n. 1. the action or power of a lever. 2. power, influence.

lev-i-a-than (li-vi-à-than) n. something of enormous size and power. > Named after a sea monster in the Bible.

Lev-It’s (lee-viz) n. pl. (trademark) a type of usually blue denim jeans.

lev-i-tate (lev-i-tayt) v. lev-i-tat-ed, lev-i-tat-ing to rise or cause to rise and float in the air in defiance of gravity.

lev-i-tation (lev-i-tay-shon) n.

Lev-it-i-cus (li-vit-i-kus) n. the third book of the Old Testament containing details of the law and ritual of the Le-vities.

lev·i·ty (lev-i-tee) n. a humorous attitude, especially toward matters that should be treated with respect.

lev·y (lev-ee) v. (lev·ied, lev·y·ing) to impose or collect (a payment etc.) by authority or by force. levy n. (pl. lev·ies) 1. levying. 2. the payment levied.

lew·d (lood) adj. indecent, treating sexual matters in a vulgar way. lewd·ly adv.

lew·dness n.

lex. abbr. lexicon.

lex·i·cal (lek-si-kəl) adj. 1. of the words of a language as distinguished from its grammatical structure. 2. of a lexicon.

lex·i·cal·ly adv.

lex·i·co·graph·ic (lek-si-kə-graf·ik) adj. lex·i·co·graph·i·cal adj.

lex·i·con (lek-zi-kan) n. 1. a dictionary of certain languages, especially Greek or Hebrew. 2. the special vocabulary of a person, a branch of knowledge, a profession, etc.

l.f. abbr. (in printing) lightface.

L.F. abbr. low frequency.

LG abbr. 1. liquefied gas. 2. Low German.

lg. abbr. 1. large. 2. long.

LGk. abbr. Late Greek.

LH abbr. 1. left hand. 2. lower half.

Li symbol lithium.

li·bil·i·ty (li·bil-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being liable. 2. (informal) a handicap, a disadvantage. 3. liabilities, debts, obligations.

li·ble (li-bəl) adj. 1. held responsible by law, legally obliged to pay a tax or penalty etc. 2. able or likely to do or suffer something, cliff is liable to crumble.

li·al (lee-əl) adj. 1. communication and cooperation between units of an organization. 2. a person who acts as a link or go-between. 3. a secret or illicit relationship.

li·ar (li·ər) n. a person who tells lies.

lib (lib) n. (informal) liberation, women's lib. lib·ber n. (informal) a person who advocates liberation.

lib. abbr. 1. liberal. 2. librarian. 3. library.

li·ba·tion (li·bay-shən) n. 1. the pouring of a drink such as wine as an offering to a god. 2. a drink offered to a god. 3. (informal) an alcoholic drink. li·ba·tion·ar·y (li·bay-shər·ner·ee) adj.

li·bel (li·bəl) n. 1. a published false statement that damages a person's reputation. 2. the act of publishing it, was charged with libel. 3. (informal) a statement or anything that brings discredit on a person or thing, the portrait is a libel on him. libel v. (li·beled, li·be·ling) to utter or publish a libel against. li·bel·er n. li·bel·ist n. li·bel·ous adj.

li·ber·al (li·ber·əl) adj. 1. giving generously. 2. ample, given in large amounts. 3. not strict or literal, a liberal interpretation of the rules. 4. (of education) broadening the mind in a general way, not only training it in technical subjects. 5. tolerant, open-minded, especially in religion and politics. 6. favoring democratic reform and individual liberty, moderately progressive. liberal n. lib·er·al·ly adv. lib·er·al·ism n. lib·er·al·ity (li·ber·əl·i·tee) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·ate (li·ber·ət) v. (lib·er·at·ed, lib·er·at·ing) to set free, especially from control by an authority that is considered to be oppressive. lib·er·a·tor n. lib·er·a·tion (li·ber·ə·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.

li·ber·al·i·za·tion (li·ber·ə·li·za·shən) n.
libretto / lieutenant these are kept. 3. a similar collection of records, films, etc.

lib-ret-to (li-bret-oh) n. (pl. -toes) the words of an opera or other long musical work.

Li-bre-ville (lee-brè-veel) the capital of Gabon.

Lib·y·a (lib-i-ə) a country in North Africa. Liby·an adj. & n.

lince see louse.

li·cen·sion (li-sens·shun) n. 1. a permit from the government or other authority to own or do something or to carry on a certain trade. 2. permission. 3. a disregard of rules or customs etc., lack of due restraint in behavior. 4. a writer's or artist's exaggeration, or disregard of rules etc., for the sake of effect, poetic license. license v. (ill-censed, ill-cens·ing) to grant a license to or for, to authorize, licensed to sell alcoholic beverages.

li·cen·see (li-sen·see) n. a person who holds a license.

li·cen·ti·ate (li-sen·sh-ət) n. a person who holds a certificate showing that he is competent to practice a certain profession.

li·cen·ti·ous (li-sen·shuhs) adj. disregarding the rules of conduct, especially in sexual matters. li·cen·ti·ous·ness n. li·cen·ti·ous·ly adv.

li·che (like) n. 1. a dry-looking plant that grows on rocks, walls, tree trunks, etc., usually green or yellow or gray.

lic·it (lis·it) adj. lawful, not forbidden.

lic·it·ly adv.

lick (lick) v. 1. to pass the tongue over, to take up or make clean by doing this. 2. (of waves or flame) to move like a tongue, to touch lightly. 3. (slang) to defeat. 4. (slang) to thrash. lick n. 1. an act of licking with the tongue. 2. a blow with a stick etc. 3. a salt lick. □lick and a promise, (informal) hasty performance of a task. □lick a person's boots, to be servile toward him. □lick into shape, to make presentable or efficient. □lick one's lips, to show pleasure and eagerness or satisfaction. □lick one's wounds, to remain in retirement trying to recover after a defeat.

lick·e·ty·split (lik·e·tee·split) adv. (informal) at full speed, headlong.

lick·ing (lick·ing) n. (slang) 1. a defeat. 2. a thrashing.

lick·spit·tle (lik·spit·tl) n. a sycophant, a toady.

lic·o·rice (lik·o·ris, -rish) n. 1. a black substance used in medicine and as a candy. 2. the plant from whose root it is obtained.

lid (lid) n. 1. a hinged or removable cover for a box or pot etc. 2. an eyelid. lid·dled adj. lid·dled·ness adj. □keep the lid on, to prevent a situation from getting out of control. with the lid off, with all the horrors etc. exposed to view.

lie1 (li) n. 1. a statement that the speaker knows to be untrue, tell a lie. 2. a thing that deceives, an imposture. lie v. (liled, ly·ing) 1. to tell a lie or lies. 2. to be deceptive. □give the lie to, to show that something is untrue. lie detector, an instrument that can detect changes in the pulse rate, respiration, etc. brought on by the tension caused by telling lies.

lie2 v. (lay, lain, ly·ing) 1. to have or put one's body in a flat or resting position on a more or less horizontal surface. 2. (of a thing) to be at rest on a surface. 3. to be or be kept or remain in a specified state, the road lies open; machinery lay idle; lie in ambush. 4. to be situated, the island lies near the coast. 5. to exist or be found, the remedy lies in education.

lie n. the way or position in which something lies. □how the land lies, what the situation is. It lies with you, it is your business or right. lie down, to have a brief rest in or on a bed etc. lie low, to conceal oneself or one's intentions. take it lying down, to accept an insult etc. without protest. □See the note under lay.

Liech·ten·stein (lik·ten·stein) a country in Europe between Austria and Switzerland.

lied (leed) n. (pl. lied·er, pr. lee·dee) a German song or ballad.

leef (leaf) adv. (old use) gladly, willingly.

lege (leej) n. 1. a vassal. 2. a ruler or feudal lord. leg·e adj. faithful, loyal.

legen (leen) n. the right to keep another person's property until a debt owed in respect of it (such as for repairing it) is paid.

lieu (loo) n. in lieu, instead, in place, accepted a check in lieu of cash.

lieut. abbr. lieutenant.

lieu·ten·ant (loo·ten·ant) n. 1. a navy officer next below a lieutenant commander. 2. an officer ranking just below one specified, lieutenant colonel, lieutenant com·mander, lieutenant general. 3. a deputy, a chief assistant. lieu·ten·an·cy (loot·en·ən·see) n. □first lieutenant, an Air Force, Army, or Marine Corps officer next below a captain. lieu·ten·ant·gov·ern·or, an elected state official next below a governor, substituting for him in case of his absence, incapacity, or death. lieu·ten·ant junior grade, a Navy officer next below lieutenant. second lieu·ten·ant, an Air Force, Army, or Marine Corps officer next below a first lieutenant.

life (lif) n. (pl. lives, pr. livz) 1. being alive, the ability to function and grow that distinguishes animals and plants (before their death) from rocks and synthetic substances. 2. living things, plant life; is there life on Mars? 3. a living form or model, portrait is drawn from life. 4. liveliness, interest, full of life. 5. the period for which a person or organism is or has been or will be alive; life imprisonment or a life sentence, a sentence of imprisonment for the rest of one’s life. 6. (informal) a life sentence. 7. a person’s or people’s activities or fortunes or manner of existence, in private life; village life. 8. the business and pleasures and social activities of the world, we do see life! 9. a biography. 10. a period during which something exists or continues to function, the battery has a life of two years. □ a matter of life and death, an event or decision etc. that could cause a person to die; something of vital importance for life, for the rest of one’s life. for one’s life or for dear life, in order to escape death or as if to do this. life belt, a life preserver worn as a belt. life buoy, a device to keep a person afloat. life cycle, the series of forms into which a living thing changes until the first form appears again. life jacket, a life preserver worn as a jacket. life preserver, a belt, jacket, or other device of buoyant or inflatable material to support a person’s body in the water. life raft, a raft used during emergencies at sea when people have to abandon ship. life sciences, biology and related subjects. life-support system, (in a spacecraft) equipment that provides an environment in which the crew can live. not on your life, (informal) most certainly not. this life, life on Earth (as opposed to an existence after death). to the life, exactly like the original.

life-blood (lif-blud) n. 1. a person’s or animal’s blood, necessary to his or its life. 2. an influence that gives vitality to something.

life-boat (lif-boht) n. 1. a small boat carried on a ship for use if the ship has to be abandoned at sea. 2. a boat specially constructed for going to the help of people in danger at sea along a coast.

life-guard (lif-gahrd) n. an expert swimmer employed to rescue bathers who are in danger of drowning.

life-less (lif-lis) adj. 1. without life, dead or never having had life. 2. unconscious. 3. lacking vitality. life-less-ly adv.

life-less-ness n.

life-like (lif-lsk) adj. exactly like a real person or other living thing.

life-line (lif-lin) n. 1. a rope etc. used in rescuing people, as one attached to a life belt. 2. a diver’s signaling line. 3. a sole means of communication or transport.

life-long (lif-lawng) adj. continued all one’s life.

life-er (lif-er) n. (slang) 1. a person sentenced to life imprisonment. 2. one who spends a career in military service.

life-sav-ing (lif-say-ving) adj. designed for or concerning the protection of human life. life-sav-er n.

life-size (lif-siz), life-sized (lif-szd) adj. of the same size as the person or thing represented.

life-style (lif-stil) n. (informal) a person’s way of life.

life-time (lif-tim) n. the duration of a person’s life or of a thing’s existence; the chance of a lifetime, the best chance one will ever get.

life-work (lif-wark) n. the major or total work of a person’s life.

LIFO (lif-wurk) n. a system for valuing inventories. △ From last in first out.

lift (lift) v. 1. to raise to a higher level or position; lift one’s eyes, look up. 2. to take up from the ground or from its resting place. 3. (informal) to steal, to copy from another source. 4. to go up, to rise, (of fog etc.) to disperse. 5. to remove or abolish (restrictions). lift n. 1. lifting, being lifted. 2. (informal) a ride as a passenger without payment. 3. a device for lifting a vehicle in a garage for repairs. 4. a ski lift or chair lift. 5. the upward pressure that air exerts on an aircraft in flight. 6. a feeling of elation, the praise gave me a lift. 7. one layer of leather in the heel of a boot or shoe. △ have one’s face lifted, to have an operation for removing wrinkles on the face by tightening the skin.

lift-off (lift-awf) n. the vertical takeoff of a rocket or spacecraft.

lig-a-ment (lig-a-ment) n. the tough flexible tissue that holds bones together or keeps organs in place in the body.

li-gate (li-gat) v. (lig-gat-ed, lig-gat-ing) to tie with a ligature. li-ga-tion (li-gay-shun) n.

lig-a-ture (lig-a-chur) n. 1. a thing used in tying, especially in surgical operations. 2. a slur in music. 3. joined printed letters such as æ.

light (lilt) n. 1. the agent that stimulates the sense of sight, a kind of radiation. 2. the presence or amount or effect of this. 3. a source of light, especially an electric light, leave the light on. 4. a flame or spark, something used to produce this.
light / like

5. brightness, the bright parts of a picture etc. 6. enlightenment; light dawned on him, he began to understand. 7. the aspect of something, the way it appears to the mind, sees the matter in a different light; did his best according to his lights. 8. a window or opening to admit light. 9. a traffic light. light adj. 1. full of light, not in darkness. 2. pale, light blue. light v. (light-ed or lit, light-ing) 1. to set burning, to begin to burn. 2. to cause to give out light. 3. to provide with light, to guide with a light. 4. to brighten. lightness n. bring or come to light, to reveal or be revealed, to make or become known. in the light of this, with the help given by these facts. light bulb, a rounded glass container enclosing a filament that is made to glow by electricity. light meter, an exposure meter. light show, a display of changing colored lights for entertainment. light up, to make or become bright with light or color or animation; to begin to smoke a pipe or cigarette. shed or throw light on, to help to explain.

light² adj. 1. having little weight, not heavy, easy to lift or carry or move. 2. of less than average weight or amount or force, light traffic; light artillery, armed with lighter weapons than heavy artillery. 3. (of work) needing little physical effort. 4. not intense; a light sleeper, one easily awakened. 5. not dense, light mist. 6. (of food) easy to digest. 7. moving easily and quickly. 8. cheerful, free from worry, with a light heart. 9. not profound or serious, intended as entertainment, light music. light adv. lightly, with little load, we travel light. lightly adv. lightness n. light heavy-weight, a boxer between middleweight and heavyweight weighing up to 175 pounds. light industry, industry producing small or light articles. light opera, a play with music, operetta. make light of, to treat as unimportant; made light of his injuries, said they were not serious.

light³ v. (lighted or lit, light-ing) to find accidentally, to settle on, we lighted on this book. light into, (slang) to attack. light out, (slang) to depart, lit out for home.

light·en¹ (lt·en) v. 1. to shed light on. 2. to make or become brighter. 3. to produce lightning.

lighten² v. 1. to make or become lighter in weight. 2. to relieve or be relieved of care or worry.

light-er¹ (lt·er) n. a device for lighting cigarettes and cigars.

lighter² n. a flat-bottomed boat used for loading and unloading ships that are not brought to a wharf or into a harbor, and for transporting goods in a harbor.
example, in subjects like music. like prep. in the manner of, to the same degree as, he swims like a fish. like conj. (informal) 1. in the same manner as, to the same degree as, do it like I do. (A careful person avoids this construction and uses instead do it as I do or do it like me.) 2. as if, she doesn’t act like she belongs here. like adv. (informal) likely, as like as not they’ll refuse. like n. one that is like another, a similar thing, shall not see his like again; the likes of you, people like you. and the like, and similar things.

like v. (liked, lik-ing) 1. to find pleasant or satisfactory. 2. to wish for, would like to think it over. likes n. pl. the things one likes or prefers. ➔ It is incorrect to say I’d like for you to do this. Delete for.

-like suffix used to form adjectives meaning similar to, in flowerlike, ladylike. like-li-hood (Irk-li-huud) n. being likely, probability. like-ly (Irk-lee) adj. (like-li-er, like-li-est) 1. such as may reasonably be expected to occur or be true etc., rain is likely. 2. seeming to be suitable, the likeliest place. 3. showing promise of being successful, a likely lad. likely adv. probably. like’li-ness n. ➔ not likely!, (informal) this will certainly not be possible. ➔ The use of likely as an adverb without very, most, or more (for example in the rain will likely die out) is incorrect.

like-mind’ed adj. having the same tastes or opinions. like’mind’ed-ness n.

lik-en (Irk-kên) v. to point out the resemblance of one thing to another, likened the heart to a pump.

like-ness (Irk-nis) n. 1. being like, a resemblance. 2. a copy, portrait, or picture.

like-wise (Irk-wiz) adv. 1. moreover, also. 2. similarly, do likewise.

lik-ing (Irk-king) n. 1. what one likes, one’s taste, is it to your liking? 2. one’s feeling that one likes something, a liking for it.

li-lac (Irk-lák) n. 1. a shrub with fragrant purplish or white flowers. 2. pale purple. lilac adj. of lilac color.

li-lí-pú-tian (lil-i-pyoo-shan) adj. very small. li-lí-pú-tian n. a very small person. ➔ Named after the inhabitants of Lilliput, a country in Swift’s Gulliver’s Travels, who were only six inches tall.

lik (lilt) n. a light pleasant rhythm, a song or tune having this. lilt’ing adj.

li-lí (li-lí) n. (pl. li-lí-s) 1. a plant grown from a bulb, with large white or reddish flowers. 2. a plant of this family. lily of the valley, a spring flower with small fragrant white bell-shaped flowers. lily pad, a floating leaf of a water lily.

li-lí-y-liv’ered (lil-ee-liv-er’d) adj. (slang) cowardly.

li-lí-y-white (lil-ee-hwrt) adj. 1. as white as a lily. 2. (of an organization etc.) prohibiting participation by blacks.

lim. abbr. limit.

li-ma (lee-má) the capital of Peru. ➔ lima (Ir-má) bean, a bean plant bearing pods that contain flat white or pale green edible seeds; the seed.

limb (lim) n. 1. a projecting part of an animal body, used in movement or in grasping things, an arm or leg. 2. a main branch of a tree. out on a limb, isolated, stranded; at a disadvantage because separated from others. tare limb from limb, to dismember completely with violence.

lim’ber (lim-bér) adj. flexible, supple, lithe. limber v. to make limber. ➔ limber up, to exercise in preparation for athletic activity.

lim’bo (lim-bo) n. (pl. -bos) 1. Limbo, in certain Christian teachings, the supposed abode of souls not admitted to heaven (as of a person not baptized) but not condemned to punishment. 2. an intermediate state or condition (as of a plan not yet accepted but not rejected), a condition of being neglected and forgotten.

limbo² n. (pl. -bos) a West Indian dance in which the dancer bends back and passes repeatedly under a gradually lowered horizontal bar.

lim’burt’er (lim-bürt’er) n. a soft white cheese with a characteristic strong smell, originally made in Limburg, Belgium.

li-mé (lim) n. a white substance (calcium oxide) used in making cement and mortar and as a fertilizer. lime v. (limed, lim’ing) to treat with lime.

li-mé³ n. 1. a round fruit like a lemon but smaller and more acid. 2. (also lime green) its yellowish-green color. lime’-ade (lim-ayd) n. a drink made of lime juice, water, and a sweetener. lime’-kiln (Irk-kiln) n. a furnace or kiln in which lime is made by heating limestone or shells.

lime’-light (lim-lít) n. great publicity. ➔ Named after the brilliant light, obtained by heating lime, formerly used to illuminate the stages of theaters.

lim’er’ick (lim-ér’ik) n. a type of humorous poem with five lines. ➔ Named after Limerick, a town in Ireland.

lime’-stone (Irk-stohn) n. a kind of rock from which lime is obtained by heating.

lim’it (lim-it) n. 1. the point or line or level beyond which something does not continue. 2. the greatest amount allowed, the speed limit. 3. (slang) something that is as much as or more than one can tolerate, she really is the limit! limit v. to set or serve as a limit, to keep within limits.

limit-‘less adj.

lim·i·ta·tion (lim-i-ta-shən) n. 1. limiting, being limited. 2. a lack of ability; knows his limitations, knows what he cannot achieve.

lim·i·ta·tive (lim-i-ta-tiv) adj. 1. confined within limits. 2. restricted, scanty. □limited war, a war in which the belligerents do not seek total victory.

limn (lim) v. (old use) 1. to paint (a picture). 2. to depict, to portray.

lim·o (lim-ə) n. (pl. lim·os) (informal) a limousine.

lim·ous·ine (lim-o-zaen) n. 1. a luxurious car, often driven by a chauffeur. 2. an airport bus.

limp1 (limp) v. to walk or proceed lamely.

limp n. a limping walk.

limp2 adj. 1. not stiff or firm. 2. lacking strength or energy, wilting. limp·ly adv. limp·ness n.

lim·pet (lim-pit) n. a small shellfish that sticks tightly to rocks.

lim·pid (lim-pid) adj. (of liquids etc.) clear, transparent.

ln. abbr. 1. lineal. 2. linear.

ln·age (l-nij) n. 1. the number of lines in printed matter. 2. payment according to this. □Do not confuse lineage with lineage.

linch·pin (linch-pin) n. 1. a pin passed through the end of an axle to keep the wheel in position. 2. a person or thing that is vital to an organization or plan etc.

Lin·coln (ling-kən) the capital of Nebraska.

Lin·coln, A·bra·ham (1809–65) the sixteenth president of the U.S. 1861–65.

lin·den (lin-dên) n. a tree with smooth heart-shaped leaves and fragrant yellow flowers.

line1 (lm) n. 1. a straight or curved continuous extent of length without breadth. 2. a long narrow mark on a surface. 3. something resembling this, a band of color, a wrinkle or crease in the skin. 4. an outline, the shape to which something is designed; a proposal along these lines, with these general features. 5. a limit, a boundary. 6. one of a set of military fieldworks or boundaries of an encampment. 7. a row of people or things, a row of words on a page or in a poem; an actor’s lines, the words of his part in a play. 8. a series of people awaiting their turns for something, a queue. 9. a brief letter, drop me a line. 10. a series of ships or buses or aircraft etc. regularly traveling between certain places, the company running these, Cunard Line. 11. a connected series, several generations of a family, a line of kings. 12. a direction or course or track, line of march. 13. a single track of rails in a railroad, one branch of a system, the main line north. 14. a course of procedure or thought or conduct, in the line of duty; don’t take that line with me. 15. a department of activity, a type of business; not my line, not among my interests or skills. 16. a class of goods, a nice line of handbags. 17. a piece of cord used for a particular purpose, fishing with rod and line. 18. a wire or cable used to connect electricity or telephones, connection by this, the line is bad. 19. (in football) the center, guard, tackles, and ends together. 20. (slang) an exaggerated story or a fabrication told to win sympathy or justify oneself, gave us a line about his bad luck. line v. (lined, lin·ing) 1. to mark with lines. 2. to arrange in a line, them up. □come or bring into line, to become or cause to become a straight line or row; to conform or cause to conform with others. down the line, wholly or completely. draw the line, see draw. get a line on, (informal) to discover information about. hold that line, (in football) do not let the opposing players break through the line. hold the line, see hold. in line, so as to form a straight line; waiting one’s turn (to buy a ticket, etc.); in accordance with expectations or general practice, it would be in line for you to give her a call. in line for, likely to get (a promotion etc.). in line with, in accordance with. line drawing, a drawing done with pen or pencil or a pointed instrument, chiefly in lines and solid masses. line drive, (in baseball) a batted ball hit low and straight. line of scrimmage, on a football field, an imaginary line on each side of which the opposing players line up before a play. line score, a score of a baseball game that shows the hits, runs, and errors of each team. on the line, (slang) at great risk, in a dangerous spot; with money instead of credit. out of line, not in line; not in accordance with expectations or general practice; his remarks were way out of line, were inappropriate.

line2 v. (lined, lin·ing) 1. to cover the inside surface of (a thing) with a layer of different material. 2. to be the lining of.

□line one’s pockets, to make a lot of money, especially by underhand or dishonest methods.

lin·e·age (lin-ee-j) n. ancestry, the line of descendants of an ancestor. Do not confuse lineage with line age.

lin·e·al (lin-ee-äl) adj. of or in a line, especially as a descendant.

lin·e·a·ments (lin-ee-ä-mënts) n. pl. distinguishing features, especially of the face.

lin·e·ar (lin-ee-är) adj. 1. of a line, of length. 2. arranged in a line.

line·back·er (ln·bak·ër) n. a football player who is positioned just behind the line on defense.

line·man (ln-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) 1. a person who works on power communication lines. 2. one of the players on the forward line in a football game.

lin·en (ln-in) n. 1. cloth made of flax. 2. sheets, tablecloths, etc., which were formerly made of this, bed linen; table linen.

lin·er1 (ln-në-r) n. a ship or airplane traveling on a regular route.

liner2 n. a removable lining.

lines·man (linz-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) an official assisting the referee in tennis, football, etc., especially in deciding whether or where a ball crosses a line.

line·up (ln-up) n. 1. persons or things lined up for identification or inspection. 2. the members of a team participating in a game.

ling1 (ling) n. a kind of heather.

ling2 n. a sea fish of northern Europe, used (usually salted) as food.

ling. abbr. linguistics.

lin·ger (ling-gër) v. 1. to stay a long time, especially as if reluctant to leave. 2. to dawdle. 3. to remain alive although becoming weaker.

lin·ge·rie (lahn-zhë-ree) n. women's underwear.

lin·go (ling-goh) n. (pl. -goes) (informal) a foreign language, jargon.

lin·gu·a·fri·ca (lin-gwá fraŋk-kâ) a language used between the people of an area where several languages are spoken.

lin·gual (ling-gwâl) adj. 1. of or formed by the tongue. 2. of speech or languages.

lin·gust (ling-gwist) n. 1. a student of linguistics. 2. a person who knows foreign languages well.

lin·gu·is·tic (ling-gwís-tik) adj. of language or linguistics.

lin·gu·is·tics (ling-gwís-tiks) n. the scientific study of languages and their structure.

lin·ment (lin-i-mënt) n. a liquid for rubbing on the body to relieve aches or bruises.

lin·ing (lin-ning) n. 1. a layer of material used to line something, the material itself. 2. the tissue covering the inner surface of an organ of the body.

link (lingk) n. 1. one ring or loop of a chain. 2. a cuff link. 3. a connecting part, a person who is a connection between others. link v. to make or be a connection between; link hands, to hold the hand of a person on each side, as in a chain.

link·age (ling-kj) n. linking, a link.

links (lingks) n. pl. a golf course.

link·up (lingk-up) n. 1. a meeting, connection, or contact. 2. something functioning as a linking device or system.

lin·net (lin-it) n. a small Old World finch.

li·no·le·um (li-noh-li-üm) n. a kind of floor covering made by pressing a thick coating of powdered cork and linseed oil etc. on to a canvas backing. □linoleum block, a piece of linoleum mounted on a wood block into which a pattern etc. has been incised or carved for use in making prints.

Lin·o·type (lin-ö-tip) n. (trademark) a machine that sets a line of type as a single strip of metal.

lin·seed (lin-seed) n. the seed of flax, pressed to form linseed oil, an oil used in paint and varnish.

lin·sey-wool·sey (lin-zee-wuul-zee) n. (pl. -seys) an inferior wool material woven on cotton warp.

lint (lint) n. 1. fluff, tiny bits of thread or fiber. 2. staple cotton fiber. 3. (chiefly British) a soft material for dressing wounds.

lin·tel (lin-tël) n. a horizontal piece of timber or stone etc. over a door or other opening.

li·on (li-ôn) n. 1. a large powerful flesh-eating animal of the cat family. 2. the Lion, a sign of the zodiac, Leo. li·on·ess (li-ô-nis) n. fem. □the lion's share, the largest or best part of something that is divided.

li·on·heart·ed (li-ôn-hahr-tid) adj. very brave.

li·on·ize (li-ô-niz) v. (li·on·ized, li·on·iz·ing) to treat (a person) as a celebrity.

lip (lip) n. 1. either of the fleshy edges of the mouth opening. 2. (slang) impudence. 3. the edge of a cup or other hollow container or of an opening. 4. a projecting part of such an edge shaped for pouring. lipped adj. □keep a stiff upper lip, see stiff. lip reading, understanding what a person is saying by watching the movements of his lips, not by hearing. lip sync, synchronizing movement of lips with recorded sound.

pay lip service to, to state that one approves of something but fail to support it by actions.

lip·stick (lip-stik) n. 1. a stick of cosmetic for coloring the lips. 2. this cosmetic.

liq. abbr. 1. liquid. 2. liquor.
liq·ue·fy (lik-wé-fi) v. (liq·ue·fied, liq·ue·fy·ing), to make or become liquid. liq·ue·fl·er n. liq·ue·fl·a·ble adj.
liq·ue·fac·tion (lik-wé-fak-shón) n.
li·que·ur (leer-uh) n. a strong sweet alcoholic liquor with fragrant flavoring.
liq·uid (lik-wid) n. a substance like water or oil that flows freely but is not a gas.
liq·uid adj. 1. in the form of a liquid. 2. having the clearness of water. 3. (of sounds) flowing clearly and pleasantly, a thrush’s liquid notes. 4. (of assets) easily converted into cash.
liq·ui·date (lik-wi-dát, liq·ui·dat·ed) 1. to pay or settle (a debt). 2. to close down (a business) and divide its assets among its creditors. 3. to get rid of, especially by killing.
liq·ui·da·tion (lik-wi-day-shón) n. liq·uid·a·tion, of a business to be closing or closed down with its assets divided, especially in bankruptcy.
liq·ui·dize (lik-wi-diz) v. (liq·ui·dized, liq·ui·dizing) to liquefy.
liq·ui·tor (lik·ør) n. 1. alcoholic drink. 2. juice produced in cooking, liquid in which food has been boiled.
li·ra (ler-uh) n. (pl. li·res, pr. leer-ay, li·ras) the unit of money in Italy and Turkey.
Lis·bon (lis-bón) the capital of Portugal.
lis·le (litl) n. a fine smooth cotton thread formerly used for stockings.
lisp (lisp) n. a speech defect in which s is pronounced like th (as in thin) and z like zh (as in they). lisp v. 1. to speak or utter with a lisp. 2. to speak in a childish or affected manner.
lis·some, lis·som (lis·óm) adj. lithe, agile.
lis (list) n. a series of names, items, figures, etc. written or printed. list v. to make a list of, to enter (a name etc.) in a list. □enter the lists, to make or accept a challenge, especially in a controversy. list price, the published or advertised price of merchandise.
lis·t v. (of a ship) to lean over to one side.
list n. a listing position, a tilt.
lis·t v. (old use) to listen.
list·en (lis·en) v. 1. to make an effort to hear something, to wait alertly in order to hear a sound. 2. to hear by doing this, to pay attention. 3. to allow oneself to be persuaded by a suggestion or request.
list·en·er (lis·en·er) n. 1. a person who listens; a good listener, one who can be relied on to listen attentively or sympathetically. 2. a person listening to a radio broadcast.
list·less (list·lis) adj. without energy or vitality, showing no enthusiasm.
li·ter (lit) see light1, light2.
lit. abbr. 1. liter(s). 2. literal. 3. literally. 4. literary. 5. literature.
lit·a·ny (lit·á·nee) n. 1. a form of prayer consisting of a series of supplications to God and with set responses by the congregation. 2. a long monotonous recital, a litany of complaints.
lit·chli (lee-chee) n. (pl. -tchlies) 1. (also litchi nut) a fruit consisting of a sweetish white pulp in a thin brown shell. 2. the tree (originally from China) that bears this.
li·ter (lee·tér) n. a unit of capacity in the metric system (about 1.057 liquid quarts, about 0.908 dry quart).
lit·er·a·cy (lit·er·a·see) n. the ability to read and write.
lit·er·al (lit·er·ál) adj. 1. in accordance with the primary meaning of a word or the actual words of a phrase, as contrasted with a metaphorical or exaggerated meaning; a literal translation, keeping strictly to the words of the original. 2. (of a person) tending to interpret things in a literal way, unimaginative. liter·al·ly adv. liter·al·ness n. □The word literally is sometimes used mistakenly in statements that are clearly not to be taken literally, as in he was literally glued to the TV set every night.
lit·er·al·ism (lit·er·al-iz·ém) n. 1. adherence to the exact meaning. 2. complete realism in art, literature, etc. liter·a·tic (lit·er·al·tik) adj.
lit·er·ary (lit·er·ar·ee) adj. liter·ar·ily adv. or concerned with literature.
lit·er·ate (lit·er·at) adj. able to read and write. literate n. a literate person.
lit·e·ra·tii (lit·e·rah-tee) n. pl. men and women of letters (see letter).
lit·e·ra·tim (lit·e·ray·tim) adv. letter for letter. □Latin.
lit·er·a·ture (lit·er·a·chur) n. 1. writings that are valued for their beauty of form, especially novels and poetry and plays etc. as contrasted with technical books and journalism. 2. the writings of a country or a period or a particular subject. 3. (informal) printed pamphlets or leaflets etc., some literature about bus tours.
li·th. abbr. 1. lithograph. 2. lithographic. 3. lithography.
lithe (lith) adj. flexible, supple, agile.
lithe·some (lith-sóm) adj. flexible, supple.
lith·i·um (lith-i-úm) n. a soft silver-white metallic element, the lightest alkali metal.
lith·o (lith-oh) n. the lithographic process.
lith·o·graph (lith-o-graf) n. a picture etc. printed by lithography. lithograph v. 1. to print by lithography. 2. to write or engrave on stone. li·thog·ra·pher (li-thog-ráf-er) n.
lith·o·graph·phy (li-thog-rá-fí) n. a process of printing from a smooth surface (such as a metal plate) treated so that ink will adhere to the design to be printed and not to the rest of the surface. lith·o·graph·ic (lith-o-gráf-ik) adj.
lith·o·graph·y (li-thog-rá-fí) n. the scientific study of the nature and composition of stones and rocks. lith·o·log·ic (lith-ó-löl-ik) adj.
lith·o·sphere (lith-o-sfeer) n. the earth's crust.
Lith·u·a·ni·a (lith-oo-ay-ni-á) a republic in the U.S.S.R., bordering on the Baltic Sea. Lith·u·a·ni·an adj.
lit·gant (lit-gánt) n. a person who is involved in a lawsuit, one who brings suit.
lit·gate (lit-gát) v. (lit·gat·ed, lit·gat·ing) 1. to go to law, to be a party to a lawsuit. 2. to contest (a point) at law.
lit·ga·tion (lit-gá-shón) n. a lawsuit, the process of bringing a suit.
lit·gi·ous (li-tj-ús) adj. 1. inclined to litigation, fond of going to law. 2. disputable at law, offering matter for a lawsuit. 3. of lawsuits. li·tig·i·ous·ness n.
lit·mus (lit-mús) n. a blue coloring matter that is turned red by acids and can be restored to blue by alkalis. litmus pa·per, paper stained with this, used to tell whether a solution is acid or alkaline.
li·tre = liter.
lit·ter (lit·ér) n. 1. odds and ends of trash left lying about. 2. straw etc. put down as bedding for animals. 3. the young animals brought forth at a birth. 4. a stretcher on which an ill or wounded person is carried. 5. a conveyance consisting of a couch on shafts, which can be carried by men or animals. litter v. 1. to make untidy by scattering odds and ends, to scatter as litter. 2. to give birth to (a litter of young). li·ter·basket, a container for deposit of waste paper etc.
lit·ter·bug (lit·ér-bug) n. (informal) a person who carelessly leaves refuse on the street.
lit·tle (lit·él) adj. (-tler, -tiest) 1. small in size or amount or intensity etc., not great or big or much. 2. smaller than others of the same kind, little finger; Little Italy, a small area having many Italians. 3. young, younger, our little boy; his little sister. 4. unimportant, bothers me with every little detail. litt·le adv. 1. to a small extent only, little-known authors. 2. not at all, he little knows. li·tly by little, gradually, by a small amount at a time. Little Dipper, see dipper. little people, the fairies; ordinary people without particular wealth or influence. Little Rock, the capital of Arkansas. litt·le slam, see slam. little theater, a non-commercial and experimental drama group performing to small audiences. litt·le woman, (informal, now sometimes considered derogatory) a man's wife. make little of, see make. think little of, to consider insignificant or contemptible.
lit·tle·neck (lit·ēl·nek) n. (also littleneck clam) a young quahog clam.
lit·to·ral (lit·ō·rál) adj. of or on the shore.
lit·to·ral·tory n. the region lying along the shore.
lit·ur·gy (lit·ū·r-je) n. (pl. -gies) a fixed form of public worship used in churches.
li·tur·gi·cal (li-tur·jí-kál) adj. li·tur·gi·cal·ly adv.
liv·a·ble (liv·ā-bél) adj. suitable for living; felt that life wasn't livable, was unbearable.
live1 (liv) adj. 1. alive. 2. actual, not pretended, a real live burglar. 3. glowing, burning, a live coal. 4. (of a shell or match) not yet exploded or used. 5. (of a wire or cable etc.) carrying electricity. 6. of interest or importance at the present time, pollution is a live issue. 7. (of a broadcast) transmitted while actually happening or being performed, not recorded or edited. li·ve·wire (informal) a highly energetic forceful person. live oak, an evergreen oak of the southeastern U.S.
live2 (liv) v. (lived, liv·ing) 1. to have life, to be or remain alive, (of things without life) to remain in existence. 2. to be kept alive, living on fruit. 3. to get a livelihood, they lived on or off her earnings; live by one's wits, to get money or food etc. by ingenious or dishonest methods. 4. to have one's dwelling place, have lived in tents. 5. to conduct one's life in a certain way, lived like a hermit; lived a peaceful life; live a lie, express it by one's life.
6. to enjoy life to the full, I don't call that living. □ live down, to live in such a way that a past guilt or scandal etc. becomes forgotten. live in or out, (of an employee) to live on or off the premises, the elevator man lives in. live it up, (informal) to live in a lively extravagant way. live together, to live in the same house etc.; (of a man and woman not married to each other) to live as man and wife. live up to, to live or behave in accordance with, didn't live up to his principles. live with, to live together; to tolerate, you'll have to learn to live with it.

lived-in (livd-in) adj. inhabited, (of a room) used frequently.
live·li·hood (liv·lee·huud) n. a means of living, a way in which a person earns a living.
live·long (liv·lawng) adj. the livelong day, the whole length of the day.
live·ly (liv·lee) adj. (live·li·er, live·li·est) full of life or energy, vigorous and cheerful, full of action. live·li·ness n.

liven (liv·en) v. to make or become lively, liven it up; things livened up.
live·er (liv·er) n. 1. a large organ in the abdomen, secreting bile. 2. the liver of certain animals, used as food. 3. dark reddish brown.
live·er·led (liv·er·reed) adj. wearing a livery.
live·er·ish (liv·er·ish) adj. 1. resembling liver, especially in color. 2. irritating, glum.
live·er·wort (liv·er·wurt) n. any of numerous mosslike plants growing in damp places.
live·er·wurst (liv·er·wurst) n. a sausage made with a large amount of liver.
live·er·y (liv·er·ee) n. (pl. -er·ies) a distinctive uniform worn by male servants in a great household. □ livery stables, stables where horses are kept for their owner in return for a fee, or where horses may be hired.
live·er·y·man (liv·er·ee·mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a keeper of or attendant in a livery stable.
lives see life.
live·stock (liv·stok) n. animals kept for use or profit, such as cattle or sheep etc. on a farm.
liv·ld (liv·id) adj. 1. of the color of lead, bluish gray. 2. furiously angry.
liv·ing (liv·ing) adj. 1. alive. 2. (of a likeness) exact, true to life, she's the living image of her mother. 3. (of rock) not detached from the earth, (of water) always flowing. living n. 1. being alive.

2. a means of earning or providing enough food etc. to sustain life. 3. a manner of life, their standard of living. 4. the living, those now alive (as opposed to the dead). □ living room, a room for general use during the day. living wage, a wage on which it is possible to live. within living memory, within the memory of people who are still alive.

liz·ard (liz·árd) n. a reptile with a rough or scaly hide, four legs, and a long tail.

LL. abbr. Late Latin.

ll. abbr. lines.

lla·ma (lah·má) n. a South American animal related to the camel but with no hump, kept as a beast of burden and for its soft woolly hair. □ Do not confuse llama with lama.

lla·no (lah·noh) n. (pl. -nos) any of the treeless grassy plains of Latin America.

LL.B. abbr. Bachelor of Laws.

LL.D. abbr. Doctor of Laws.

LM abbr. lunar module.

LNG abbr. liquefied natural gas.

lo (loh) interj. (old use) see.

loach (loch) n. a small edible freshwater fish of Europe and Asia.

load (lohd) n. 1. something carried. 2. the quantity that can be carried, as on a cart. 3. a unit of weight or measure for certain substances. 4. the amount of electric current supplied by a dynamo or generating station. 5. a burden of responsibility or worry or grief. 6. (informal) plenty, loads of time. load v. 1. to put a load in or on, to fill with goods or cargo etc., to receive a load. 2. to fill heavily. 3. to weight with something heavy. 4. to put ammunition into (a gun) or film into (a camera), to ready for use. 5. to add an extra charge to (an insurance premium etc.) for special reasons. □ get a load of this, (slang) take notice. loaded question, one that is worded unfairly.

load shedding, cutting off of the supply of electric current on certain lines when the demand is greater than the supply available. load the dice, to weight dice to give the owner of them unfair advantage; to take unfair advantage of; the dice were loaded against him, he did not have a fair chance.

load·ed (lohd·id) adj. (slang) 1. very rich. 2. drunk.

load·er (lohd·dér) n. a person or machine that loads things.

load·stone (lohd·ston) n. an iron ore having magnetic properties.

loaf1 (lof) n. (pl. loaves, pr. loh vž) 1. a mass of bread shaped in one piece. 2. (also meat loaf) ground meat molded into a loaf pan and baked.
lobed n. shaped like moccasins with flat heels.
loam n. rich soil containing clay and sand and decayed vegetable matter.
loam’y adj.
loan n. 1. something lent, especially a sum of money. 2. lending, being lent; on loan, lent; have the loan of. loan v. to lend. △ Many writers prefer lend over loan as a verb.
loan•word n. a word adopted by one language from another.
loath (loh-th) adj. unwilling, was loath to depart. □ nothing loath, quite willing. △ Do not confuse loath with loathe.
loath•some (loh-th-sôm) adj. arousing loathing, repulsive.
lob v. (lobbed, lob•bing) to send or strike (a ball) slowly or in a high arc in tennis etc. lob n. a lobbed ball in tennis etc.
lobar adj. of the lung, lobar pneumonia.
lob•by (lob•by) n. (pl. -bles) 1. an entrance hall used as a waiting room. 2. a body of people engaged in lobbying for a particular cause. lobby v. (lob•bled, lob•by•ing) to seek to persuade (a legislator) to support one’s cause. lob•by•ist n.
lobe n. a rounded flattish part or projection (especially of an organ of the body), the lower soft part of the ear.
lobed adj. having lobes.
lob•la (lob•la) n. a low-growing garden plant with blue, red, white, or purple flowers.
lob•my n. (lob•my) an incision into the frontal lobe of the brain to relieve some cases of mental illness.
lob•ster (lob•ster) n. (pl. -sters, -ster) 1. a large shellfish with eight legs and two long claws that turns scarlet after being boiled. 2. its flesh as food. lobster Newburg, a dish consisting of pieces of cooked lobster in a rich cream sauce containing brandy or sherry. lobster pot, a slatted wooden box for trapping lobsters. lobster thermidor, a mixture of lobster meat, mushrooms, cream, egg yolks, and sherry cooked in the lobster shell.
lob•ule n. a small lobe. lob•ular adj.
loc•cal (loh•kal) adj. 1. belonging to a particular place or a small area, letters for local delivery; local bus, of the neighborhood and not long-distance. 2. affecting a particular place, not general, a local anesthetic. local n. 1. an inhabitant of a particular district. 2. a bus, train, subway, etc. making all stops. 3. the local branch of a labor union, etc. loc•cal•ty n. the scene or locality of operations or events.
loc•cal•ized, loc•al•iz•ing (loh•kal•iz•ed, lo•cal•iz•ing) to make local not general, to confine within a particular area, a localized infection.
loc•al•i•za•tion (loh•kal•i•za•tion) n.
loc•ate (loh•kat) v. (loc•at•ed, loc•at•ing) 1. to discover the place where something is, locate the electrical fault. 2. to assign to or establish in a particular location; the town hall is located in the city center, is situated there. 3. (informal) to take up residence or business, they located in Chicago.
loc•ation (loh•kay•shun) n. 1. the place where something is situated. 2. finding the location of, being found. □ on location, (of a film) being filmed in a suitable environment instead of in a film studio.
loc. cit. abbr. in the passage already quoted. △ Latin, = in the place cited.
loch (lok) n. (Scottish) a lake or an arm of the sea.
lock n. 1. a portion of hair that hangs together. 2. locks, the hair of the head.
lock (lok) n. 1. a device for fastening a door or lid etc. into position when it is closed, with a bolt that needs a key or other device to work it; under lock and key, locked up. 2. a wrestling hold that keeps an opponent’s arm or leg etc. from moving. 3. a mechanism for exploding the charge of a gun. 4. a section of a canal or river where the water level changes, fitted with gates and sluices so that water can be let in or out to raise or lower boats from one level to another. 5. a decompression chamber. 6. the interlocking of parts. lock v. 1. to fasten or be able to be fastened with a lock. 2. to shut into a place that is fastened by a lock; locked in or into the situation, hindered by circumstances. 3. to store away securely or inaccessibly, his capital is locked up in land. 4. to bring or come into a rigidly fixed position, to jam.

lock keeper, a person in charge of a lock on a canal or river. lock out, to shut out by locking a door. lock stitch, a sewing machine stitch that locks threads firmly together. lock, stock, and barrel, completely, including everything.

lock·er (lok-ér) n. a small compartment where things can be stored safely, especially for an individual's use in a public place. locker room, a room adjacent to a gymnasium etc., equipped with lockers.

lock·et (lok-it) n. a small ornamental case holding a portrait or lock of hair etc., worn on a chain around the neck.

lock·jaw (lok-jaw) n. a form of tetanus in which the jaws become rigidly closed.

lock·nut (lok-nut) n. a nut screwed down on another to keep it tight.

lock·out (lok-owt) n. an employer's procedure of refusing to allow workers to enter their place of work until certain conditions are agreed to.

lock·smith (lok-smith) n. a maker and mender of locks.

lock·step (lok-step) n. a way of marching in a very close single file.

lock·up (lok-up) n. (informal) a jail.

lo·co (loh-koh) adj. (slang) crazy.

lo·co·mo·tion (loh-kō-mō-shōn) n. moving or the ability to move from place to place.

lo·co·mo·tive (loh-kō-mō-tiv) n. an engine for drawing a train along rails. locomotive adj. of locomotion, locomotive power.

lo·co·mo·tor (loh-kō-mō-tōr) adj. of or affecting locomotion; locomotor ataxia, a disease affecting the coordination of bodily movements.

lo·co·weed (loh-kō-weed) n. a poisonous plant of the southwestern U.S. causing disease in livestock.

lo·cus (loh-kūs) n. (pl. -cis, pr. -si) 1. the exact place of something. 2. the line or curve etc. formed by all the points satisfying certain conditions. locus clas·si·fied (klas-si-kūs), the best-known or most authoritative passage on a subject.

lo·cust (loh-kūst) n. 1. a kind of grasshopper that migrates in swarms and eats all the vegetation of a district. 2. the cicada. 3. an American tree with thorny branches and white flowers.

lo·cu·tion (loh-kyoo-shōn) n. a word or phrase.

lo·de (lohd) n. a vein of metal ore.

lo·den (loh-dēn) n. a thick waterproof woolen cloth. loden green, the dark green color in which this is often made.

lo·de·star (lohd-stahr) n. a star used as a guide in navigation, especially the North Star.

lo·de·stone = loadstone.

lodge (loj) n. 1. a country house for use in certain seasons, a hunting lodge. 2. the main building of a camp or resort. 3. the members or meeting place of a branch of a society such as the Freemasons. 4. a beaver’s or otter’s lair. lodge v. (lodged, lodg·ing) 1. to provide with sleeping quarters or temporary accommodations. 2. to live as a lodger. 3. to deposit, to be or become embedded, bullet lodged in his brain. 4. to present formally for attention, lodged a complaint.

lodg·ment n.

lodg·er (loj-er) n. a person living in another's house and paying for his accommodations.

lodg·ing (loj-ing) n. a place where one lodges.

lodg·ings (loj-ings) n. pl. a room or rooms rented for living in.

lo·ess (loh-es, les, lus) n. a deposit of fertile yellowish-brown windblown dust.

lo·ess·i·al (loh-ess-i-ēl, les-, lus-) adj.

loft (lawft) n. 1. an upper floor of a factory or warehouse. 2. a space under the roof of a house. 3. a space under the roof of a stable or barn, used for storing hay etc. 4. a gallery or upper level in a church or hall, the organ loft. 5. a backward slope in the face of a golf club. 6. a lofted stroke. loft v. to send (a ball) in a high arc.

loft·y (lawf-tee) adj. (loft-i·er, loft-i·est) 1. (of things) very tall, towering. 2. (of thoughts or aims etc.) noble. 3. haughty, a lofty manner. loft-i·ly adv.

loft-i·ness n.

log· lawg) n. 1. a length of tree trunk that has fallen or been cut down. 2. a short piece of this, especially as firewood. 3. a device for gauging a ship's speed. 4. a detailed record of a ship's voyage or an aircraft's flight, any similar record.

log v. (logged, log·ging) 1. to cut trees down for lumber. 2. to enter (facts) in a logbook. 3. to achieve a certain speed or distance or number of hours worked etc., as recorded in a logbook or similar record, the pilot had logged two hundred hours on jets. log·cab·in, a dwelling built of logs.

log2 n. a logarithm, log tables.

lo·gan·ber·ry (loh-gan-ber-ee) n. (pl.-ries) a large dark red fruit resembling a blackberry.

log·a·rithm (law-gā-rith-ēm) n. a number showing the power to which a certain fixed number (the base) must be raised.
to yield a specified number (adding together the logarithms of the two numbers gives the logarithm of the two numbers' product). log·a·rith·mic (law-gá-rith·mik) adj.

log·book (lawg-buuk) n. a book in which details of a voyage etc. or of the registration details of a motor vehicle are recorded.

log (lozh) n. a box in a theater etc. or the forward section of the lowest balcony.

log·ger·head (lawg·ger·hed) n. a large-headed turtle of Atlantic waters. flat loggerheads, disagreeing, arguing, or quarreling.

log·gia (loj-á) n. an open-sided gallery or arcade, especially one looking on an open court or forming part of a house and facing a garden.

log·ic (loj-ik) n. 1. the science of reasoning. 2. a particular system or method of reasoning. 3. a chain of reasoning regarded as good or bad. 4. the ability to reason correctly.

log·i·cal·ly (loi·kal·i-) adv. log·i·cal·i·ty (loj·i-kal·i-ty) n.

lo·gi·cian (loh·jish·án) n. an expert or specialist in logic.

lo·gis·tics (loh-jis-tiks) n. the organization of supplies and services etc. lo·gis·tic adj.

log·jam (lawg-jam) n. 1. an immovable mass of logs floating in a river. 2. any similar blockage or deadlock.

lo·go·go (loh-gog) n. (pl. -gos) = logotype.

log·o·type (law-gó-typ) n. a symbol used by a corporation or business company etc. as its emblem.

log·roll·ing (lawg-roh·ling) n. 1. mutual help, especially to aid each other's political projects. 2. a sport in which contestants try to knock each other off floating logs.

lo·gy (loh-gee) adj. (lo·gi·er, lo·gi·est) lethargic, sluggish, dull.

-logy suffix used to form nouns meaning character of speech or language, as in tautology; subject of study, as in mineralogy, theology.

loid (loid) v. (slang) to force back the spring lock on (a door) by insertion of a piece of celluloid or plastic.

loin (loin) n. 1. the side and back of the body between the ribs and the hipbone. 2. a cut of meat that includes the vertebrae of this part.

loin·cloth (loin-klawth) n. a piece of cloth worn around the body at the hips, especially as the only garment.

lol·ter (loh·ter) v. to linger or stand about idly, to proceed slowly with frequent stops. lol·ter·er n. one who spends time this way.

loll (lol) v. 1. to lean lazily against something, to stand or sit or lie lazily. 2. to hang loosely, tongue lolling out.

lol·i·pop (loh·i·pop) n. a large round usually flat candy on a small stick.

lol·ly·gag (loh·i·gag) v. (lol·ly·gagged, lol·ly·gag·ging) = lallygag.

Lo·mé (law·may) the capital of Togo.

Lond. abbr. London.

Lon·don (lan·don) the capital of England and of the United Kingdom. Lon·don·er n. London brull, a broiled flank steak served in thin slices.

lone (lohn) adj. solitary, without companions, a lone horseman: play a lone hand, to take action without the support of others; lone wolf, a person who prefers to do this or to be himself.

lone·ly (lohn·lee) adj. (lone·li·er, lone·li·est) 1. solitary, without companions. 2. sad because one lacks friends or companions. 3. (of places) far from inhabited places, remote, not often frequented, a lonely road. lone·li·ness n.

lon·ely heart, a person who feels permanently lonely. lonely hearts column, a newspaper column of advice to those who ask for help with personal problems.

lon·er (lohn·er) n. (informal) a person who prefers not to associate with others.

lon·some (lohn·some) adj. lonely, causing loneliness. lone·some·ness n.

long·i·tude (lawng·i·tud) adj. 1. having great length in space or time. 2. having a certain length or duration, two miles or two hours long. 3. seeming to be longer than it really is, ten long years. 4. lasting, going far into the past or future, a long memory: take the long view, consider the later effects. 5. (informal) having much of a certain quality, he's not long on tact. 6. of elongated shape. 7. (of vowel sounds) having a pronunciation that is considered to last longer than that of a corresponding "short" vowel (the a in cane is long, in can it is short). long n. 1. a long time, will you be gone for long? 2. a long syllable or vowel, a mark indicating this. 3. a size in clothing. long adv. 1. for a long time, by a long time; I shan't be long, shall not take a long time. 2. throughout a specified time, all day long: I am no longer a child, am not one now or henceforth. as or so long as, provided that, on condition that. before long, soon.

In the long run, in the end, over a long period. long division, the process of dividing one number by another with all calculations written down. long face, a dismal expression. long in the tooth, rather old. long Johns, (informal) underwear with long legs. long jump, an athletic competition of jumping as far as possible along the ground in one leap.

long odds, very uneven odds in betting. long shot, an enterprise or wager with very slight chances for success. long suit, many playing cards of one suit in a hand; a thing at which one excels, modesty is not his long suit. long ton, see ton. the long and the short of it, all that need be said; the general effect or result.

long² v. to feel a longing.

long. abbr. longitude.

long-boat (lawng-boht) n. a sailing ship's largest boat.

long-bow (lawng-boh) n. a bow drawn by hand and shooting a long feathered arrow.

long-dis-tance (lawng-dis-tåns) adj. traveling or operating between distant places.

long-gev-i-ty (lon-jev-i-tee) n. 1. long life. 2. length of life.

long-hair (lawng-hair) n. (slang) 1. an intellectual. 2. a lover of classical music.

long-haired adj.

long-hand (lawng-hand) n. ordinary writing, contrasted with shorthand or typing or printing.

long-horn (lawng-horn) n. one of a breed of cattle with long horns.

long-ing (lawng-ing) n. an intense persistent wish. long-ing-ly adv.

long-ish (lawng-ish) adj. rather long.

long-itude (lon-jë-tood) n. the distance east or west (measured in degrees) from the meridian that runs from pole to pole through Greenwich, England.

long-lin-dal (lon-di-ühl) n. 1. longitude. 2. of or in length, measured lengthwise.

long-leg-ued (lawng-leg-id) adj. having long legs.

long-lived (lawng-lîvd) adv. having a long life, lasting for a long time.

long-play-ing (lawng-play-ing) adj. of or relating to microgroove phonograph records that play at 33⅓ revolutions per minute.

long-range (lawng-ray-nj) adj. having a long range, relating to a period far into the future.

long-shore-man (lawng-shohr-mân) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) one who is employed in loading and unloading ships.

long-standing (lawng-stan-ding) adj. having existed for a long time, a long-standing grievance.

long-suf-fer-ing (lawng-suf-ør-ing) adj. bearing provocation patiently.

long-term (lawng-tørn) adj. of or for a long period.

long-time (lawng-tím) adj. having been for a long time.

long-ways (lawng-wayz), long-wise (lawng-wiz) (informal) adv. lengthwise.

long-wind-ed (lawng-win-did) adj. talking or writing at tedious length.

loo-fah (loo-fâ) n. the dried pod of a kind of gourd, used as a rough sponge.

look (luuk) v. 1. to use or direct one's eyes in order to see or search or examine. 2. to direct one's eyes or one's attention, to consider; they look to her for help, rely on her to provide it. 3. (of things) to face in a certain direction. 4. to have a certain appearance, to seem to be, the fruit looks ripe; made him look foolish.

look n. 1. the act of looking, a gaze or glance. 2. an inspection or search, take a look. 3. appearance, is blessed with good looks; wet-look paint; I don't like the look of this, find it alarming. □ look after, to take care of; to attend to. □ look down on or look down one's nose at, to regard with contempt. □ look for, to expect, to hope or be on the watch for. □ look forward to, to be waiting eagerly for an expected thing or event. □ look here, an exclamation of protest. □ look in, to make a short visit. □ looking glass, a glass mirror. □ look into, to investigate. □ look on, to be a spectator. □ look out, to be vigilant. □ look over, to inspect. □ look sharp, be alert. □ look to, to attend to; to rely on. □ look up, to search for information about, look up words in a dictionary; to improve in prospects, things are looking up; to go to visit, look us up. □ look up to, to admire and respect as superior.

look-a-like (luuk-á-lîk) n. a person or thing closely resembling another.

look-out (luuk-ówt) n. 1. looking out, a watch. 2. one who keeps watch. 3. a place from which observation is kept. 4. a person's own concern, that's his lookout.

look-see (luuk-see) n. (informal) a quick overall survey.

loom¹ (loom) n. an apparatus for weaving cloth.

loom² v. to come into view suddenly, to appear close at hand or with threatening aspect.

loon (loon) n. a diving bird with a loud wild cry.

loon-y (loo-nee) n. (pl. loon-ies) (slang) a lunatic. loony adj. (slang) crazy.

loon² (loop, slang) a mental hospital.

loop (loop) n. 1. the shape produced by a curve that crosses itself. 2. any path or pattern shaped roughly like this. 3. a length of cord or wire etc. forming a curve, a curved piece of metal serving as a handle. 4. a complete circuit for electrical current. 5. a flying stunt in which an airplane does a vertical circle, turning upside down between climb and dive. 6. a film whose ends have been spliced together so that it will run continuously. 7. a contraceptive coil. loop v. 1. to form into a loop or loops. 2. to fasten or join with a loop or loops. 3. to enclose in a loop. □ the Loop, the central part of Chicago, within a loop of elevated railroad tracks. □ Do not confuse loop with louver.

loop-hole (loop-hohl) n. 1. a narrow opening in the wall of a fort etc., for shooting or looking through or to admit light or air. 2. a way of evading a rule or contract etc., especially through an omission or inexact wording in its provisions.

loose (loos) adj. (loos-er, loos-est) 1. freed from bonds or restraint, (of an animal) not tethered or shut in; a loose ball, (in football etc.) not in any player’s possession. 2. detached or detachable from its place, not rigidly fixed. 3. not fastened together, not held or packed or contained in something. 4. not organized strictly, a loose confederation. 5. slack, relaxed, not tense or tight; loose skin; loose bowels, with a tendency to diarrhea; a loose tongue, indiscreet. 6. not compact, not dense in texture, arranged at wide intervals, a loose weave. 7. inexact, vague; a loose translation, approximate, not close to the original. 8. slack in moral principles or conduct, promiscuous, loose women. loose adv. loosely, loosely-fitting.

loose v. (loosed, loosing) 1. to release. 2. to untie or loosen. 3. to fire a gun or missile, loose off a round of ammunition. loose-ly adv. loose-ness n. □ at loose ends, without definite occupation. loose end, a point that has not been settled. on the loose, having a spree; free, not confined.

loose-joint-ed (loos-joint-td) adj. having supple joints.

loose-leaf (loos-leaf) adj. (of a notebook etc.) with each leaf separate and removable.

loose-limbed (loos-limd) adj. having supple limbs.

loos-en (loos-én) v. to make or become loose or loosener. □ loosen a person’s tongue, to make him talk freely. loosen up, to relax, to limber up.

loose-strife (loos-strif) n. a kind of marsh plant.

loose-tongued (loos-tungtd) adj. speaking freely or too freely.

loot (lōot) n. 1. goods taken from an enemy or by theft. 2. (informal) a collection of gifts, awards, or purchased goods. loot v. 1. to plunder, to take as loot. 2. to rob or steal from stores or houses that are left unprotected after a violent event.

lōot' er n.

lop1 (lōp) v. (lapped, lōping) to cut away branches or twigs of, to cut off.

lop2 v. (lapped, lōping) to hang limply.

lope (lōp) v. (loped, lōping) to run with a long bounding stride. lōpe n. a long bounding stride.

lope-eared (lōp-eer’d) adj. having drooping ears.

lop-sid-ed (lop-sid-did) adj. with one side lower or smaller or heavier than the other. lōp’-sid’-ed’-ly adv. lōp’-sid’-ed’-ness n.

loq. abbr. he or she speaks (with speaker’s name added, as a stage direction or to inform the reader). □ Latin loquitur.

lo-qua-cious (loh-kwā-shūs) adj. talkative. lo-qua-cious’-ly adv. lo-qua-cious’-ty (loh-kwās-i-tee) n.

lor-an (loh-ran) n. a system of navigation using signal pulses from radio transmitters. □ From lo(ng) ra(nge) n(avigation).

lord (lōrd) n. 1. a master or ruler or sovereign. 2. a nobleman; live like a lord, live sumptuously. 3. the Lord, God, the translation for several biblical words referring to the God of the Old Testament and to Christ. 4. the title or form of address to certain high officials in Britain, the Lord Chief Justice. 5. the Lords, the British House of Lords. lord v. to dominate, lording it over the whole club. □ lord of the manor, (in the Middle Ages) the master from whom men held land and to whom they owed service. Lord’s day, the sabbath or day of rest in Judaism and Christianity, observed by Jews and some Christians on Saturday and by the majority of Christians on Sunday. Lord’s Prayer, the prayer taught by Christ to his disciples, beginning “Our Father.” Lord’s Supper, the Eucharist.

lord-ly (lōrd-ly) adj. (lord-li-er, lord-li-est) 1. haughty, imperious. 2. suitable for a lord, a lordly mansion.

lor-do-sis (lor-doh-sis) n. an abnormal forward curvature of the spine.

lord-ship (lord-ship) n. a title used in speaking to or about a man of the rank of Lord, your lordship.

lore (lōr) n. a body of traditions and knowledge on a subject or possessed by a class of people, bird lore; gypsy lore.

lor-gnette (lōrn-yet) n. a pair of eye-lose (looz) v. (lost, los·ing) 1. to be deprived of, (as by death or accident). 2. to cease to have or maintain, lose confidence; lose one’s balance; car lost speed. 3. to become unable to find, to miss from among one’s possessions. 4. to fail to keep (a thing etc.) in sight or to follow (a piece of reasoning) mentally; lose one’s way, to fail to find the right path etc. 5. to fail to obtain, lost the contract. 6. to get rid of, lose weight; managed to lose our pursuers. 7. to be defeated in a contest or lawsuit or argument etc. 8. to forfeit, he lost his right of appeal by pleading guilty. 9. to waste time or an opportunity, lost twenty minutes because of a flat tire. 10. to suffer loss, to be worse off, we lost on the deal. 11. to cause (a person) the loss of, delay lost them the contract. 12. (of a clock) to become slow; it loses two minutes a day, becomes this amount behind the correct time.

loser n. □ lose ground, to be forced to retreat or give way. lose heart, to become discouraged. lose one’s heart, to fall in love. lose one’s life, to be killed. lose out, (informal) to be unsuccessful; to suffer loss. losing battle, one in which defeat seems certain.

loss (laws) n. 1. losing, being lost. 2. a person or thing lost. 3. money lost in a business transaction, the excess of outlay over returns. 4. a disadvantage or suffering caused by losing something; it’s no loss, the loss does not matter. □ be at a loss, to be puzzled, to be unable to know what to do or say. loss leader, a popular article sold at a loss to attract customers who may then buy other articles.

lost (lawst) v. see lose. lost adj. 1. strayed or separated from its owner, a lost dog. 2. engrained, lost in thought. □ be lost on, to fail to influence or draw the attention of, our hints were lost on him. get lost!, (slang) cease being annoying. lost cause, an undertaking that can no longer be successful.

lot (lot) n. 1. one of a set of objects used in making a selection by methods depending on chance, cast or draw lots for it. 2. this method of selecting, the choice resulting from it, was chosen by lot; the lot fell on me. 3. a person’s share, what falls to him by lot or chance, his fate or appointed task etc. 4. a piece of land, an area for a particular purpose, a parking lot. 5. an article or set of articles put up for sale at an auction etc. 6. a number of people or things of the same kind; the lot, the total quantity. 7. (also lots) (informal) a large number or amount, has a lot of friends; there’s lots of time, plenty. 8. (also lots) (informal) much, feeling a lot better; feeling lots better. □ bad lot, a person of bad character. cast or throw in one’s lot with, to decide to join and share the fortunes of.

loath = loath.

Lo·thar·i·o (loth-thair-i-o) n. (pl. -os) a libertine.

tion (loh-shon) n. a medicinal or cosmetic liquid applied to the skin.

ter·y (lot-ē-ree) n. (pl. -ter·ies) 1. a system of raising money by selling numbered tickets and distributing prizes to the holders of numbers drawn at random. 2. something whose outcome is thought to be governed by luck, marriage is a lottery.

lot·to (lot-oh) n. a game of chance resembling bingo.

tus (loh-tus) n. (pl. -tus·es) 1. a kind of tropical water lily. 2. a mythical fruit represented as inducing a state of lazy and luxurious dreaminess. □ lotus position, a cross-legged position in yoga, adopted for meditation.

loud (lowd) adj. 1. easily heard, producing much noise. 2. (of colors etc.) unpleasantly bright, gaudy. loud adv. loudly. loud’ly adv. loud’ness n.

mouth (lowd-mouth) n. (pl. -mouths, pr. -mowthz) a person who talks loudly and annoyingly. loud·mouthed (lowd-mowthd, -mowtht) adj.

speak·er (lowd-spee-kér) n. an apparatus (especially part of a radio) that converts electrical impulses into audible sound.

Lou·i·si·an·a (loo-ee-zi-an-ä) a state of the U.S.

lounge (lounj) v. (lounged, loung·ing) to loll, to sit or stand about idly. lounge n. 1. a waiting room at an airport etc., with seats for waiting passengers. 2. a public room (in a hotel etc.) for sitting in. loung’er n.

loupe (loop) n. a magnifying instrument consisting of a lens mounted on a frame, jeweler’s loupe. □ Do not confuse loupe with loop.

lour (lour) = lower².

louse (lows) n. (pl. lice, pr. lëz) 1. a small insect that lives as a parasite on animals or plants. 2. (pl. lous·es) (slang) a contemptible person. □ louse up, (slang) to make a mess of.

lousy (low-zee) adj. (lous·er, lous·i·est) 1. infested with lice. 2. (slang) disgusting, very bad or ill, I feel lousy. 3. (slang) well provided, swarming, he's lous with money; lousy with tourists.

love’s`l-ly adv. lous’l-ness n.

lout (lou’t) n. a clumsy ill-mannered young man.

lout-ish (lou’-tish) adj. like a lout.

lou-ver (lou’-vér) n. one of a set of overlapping slats arranged to admit air but exclude light or rain. lou’vered adj.

love-a-ble (luv-a-b’l) adj. easy to love.

love-age (luv’-i-j) n. an herb with leaves that are used for flavoring soups and in salads.

love (luv) n. 1. warm liking or affection for a person, affectionate devotion; there’s no love lost between them, they dislike each other. 2. sexual affection or passion, the relation between sweethearts. 3. God’s benevolence toward mankind. 4. strong liking for a thing, love of music. 5. affectionate greetings, send one’s love. 6. a loved person, a sweetheart, (informal) a familiar form of address. 7. (in games) no score, zero; love all, neither side has yet scored; a love game, in which the loser has not scored at all.

love v. (loved, lov’-ing) 1. to feel love for. 2. to like greatly, to take pleasure in having or doing something. for love, because of affection; without receiving payment; cannot get it for love or money, by any means. in love, feeling love (especially romantic or sexual love) for another person. love affair, a romantic or sexual relationship between two people who are in love. love apple, (old use) the tomato. love beads, a long string of beads worn by members of both sexes to indicate freedom from traditional attitudes and customs. love feast, a meal in token of brotherly love among early Christians; a modern religious service in imitation of this; any convivial gathering. love-hate relationship, an intense emotional response involving both love and hate. love knot, a kind of double knot with interlacing bows on each side, symbolizing true love. love letter, a letter between sweethearts and concerning their love. love match, a marriage made because the two people are in love with each other. love seat, an armchair or sofa for two persons. love song, a song expressing love. love story, a novel etc. of which the main theme is romantic love. make love, see make.

love-bird (luv’-burd) n. a kind of parakeet that seems to show great affection for its mate.

love-less (luv’-lis) adj. without love, a loveless marriage.

love-lorn (luv’-lorn) adj. pining with love, forsaken by one’s lover.

love-ly (luv’-lee) adj. (love-ly•er, love-ly•est) 1. beautiful, attractive. 2. (informal) delightful, having a lovely time. lovely n. (pl. -lies) (informal) a pretty woman. love’l-ness n.

love-mak-ing (luv-may-king) n. 1. courtship. 2. sexual intercourse.

love-er (luv’-ær) n. 1. someone (especially a man) who is in love with another person, a suitor. 2. a person having an illicit love affair. 3. one who likes or enjoys something, lover of music; music lovers.

lovers’ lane, a secluded road or place used by couples seeking privacy.

love-sick (luv-sik) adj. languishing because of love. love’sick•ness n.

love-ing (luv’-ing) adj. feeling or showing love. lov’ing-ly adv. lovers’ cup, a large drinking vessel with two or more handles, passed around at a banquet; a sports cup (see cup n., definition 4).

low (luv) n. the deep sound made by cattle, a moo. low v. to make this sound.

low’ adj. 1. not high or tall, not extending far upward. 2. (of ground) not far above sea level, low in relation to surrounding land. 3. ranking below others in importance or quality. 4. ignoble, vulgar, low cunning; keeps low company. 5. less than what is normal in amount or intensity etc., low prices; a low opinion, unfavorable. 6. (of a sound or voice) deep, not shrill, having slow vibrations. 7. not loud, spoke in a low voice. 8. lacking in vigor, depressed. low n. 1. a low level or figure, stock prices reached a new low. 2. an area of low barometric pressure. low adv. 1. in or at or to a low level or position. 2. in or to a low degree. 3. in a low tone, (of sound) at a low pitch.

low’ness n. low beam, the short range of an automobile headlight. Low Church, that section of the Anglican Church that gives only a low place to ritual and the authority of bishops and clergy. Low Countries, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg.

lowest common denominator, see denominator. lowest common multiple, see least. low frequency, (in radio) thirty to three hundred kilohertz.

low gear, the motor vehicle gear that produces the most power and least speed.

Low German, the dialects of the German language that are not High German.

low profile, deliberately restrained behavior to avoid being noticed. low season, the period when a resort etc. has relatively few visitors. low tide, the tide at its lowest level; the time when this occurs. low water, low tide.

low’-boy (luv’-boi) n. a chest with drawers and fairly short legs.

low’-brow (luv’-brow) adj. (informal) not intellectual or cultured. lowbrow n. (informal) a lowbrow person.

low-cal (loh-kal) adj. (informal) having very few calories.

low-class (loh-klas) adj. of low quality or social class.

low-down (loh-down) adj. dishonorable.

lowdown (loh-down) n. (slang) the true facts, inside information.

low·er1 (loh-er) adj. 1. less high in place or position. 2. situated on less high land or to the south; Lower Egypt, the part nearest to the Nile Delta. 3. ranking below others; the lower animals or plants, those of relatively simple structure, not highly developed; lower classes, people of low social or cultural rank. lower adv. in or to a lower position etc. lower v. 1. to let or haul down. 2. to make or become lower, to reduce in amount or quantity etc.; lower one's eyes, to direct one's gaze downward. □lower case, letters (for printing type) that are not capitals.

lower house, the more broadly representative (and usually larger) body in a bicameral legislature, as the U.S. House of Representatives (as distinct from the Senate).

low·er2 (loh-er) v. 1. to frown or scowl. 2. (of clouds or the sky etc.) to look dark and threatening.

low·er·class (loh-er-klas) adj. relating to the lowest class in society.

low·er·class·man (loh-er-klas-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a freshman or sophomore in a high school or college.

low·er·most (loh-er-mohst) adj. below all else, the lowest.

low-key (loh-kee) adj. restrained.

low·land (loh-länd) n. low-lying land.

lowland adj. of or in lowland.

low·land·er (loh-länd-ër) n. a native or inhabitant of lowlands, especially those of Scotland.

low·ly (loh-lee) adj. (low-li-er, low-li-est) of humble rank or condition. low' li·ness n.

low-pitched (loh-picht) adj. 1. (of sound) low. 2. (of a roof) not very steep.

low-rise (loh-riz) adj. (of buildings) having few stories and no elevators.

low·ten·sion (loh-ten-shün) adj. having or operating at low voltage.

lox1 (loks) n. smoked salmon.

lox2, LOX n. liquid oxygen.

loy·al (lō-lāl) adj. steadfast in one's allegiance to a person or cause or to one's country. loy'al·ly adv. loy'al·ty (lō-lāl-tē) n. (pl. -ties).

loy·al·ist (lō-lā-list) n. 1. a person who is loyal, especially to the established government during a revolt. 2. Loyalist, a colonist loyal to the British government during the American Revolution.

loz·enge (loz-inj) n. 1. a four-sided diamond-shaped figure. 2. a small tablet of flavored sugar or medicine to be dissolved in the mouth.

LP abbr. (pl. LPS, LP's) a long-playing record.

L·P, abbr. low pressure.

LPG abbr. liquefied petroleum gas.

LPN abbr. licensed practical nurse.

Lr symbol lawrencium.

LR abbr. living room.

L·S, abbr. 1. left side. 2. letter signed. 3. the place of the seal (Latin locus sigillii).

LSD (el-es-dee) n. a powerful drug that produces hallucinations (= lysergic acid diethylamide).

LSS abbr. life-support system.

lt. abbr. light.

Lt. abbr. lieutenant.

L·T, abbr. 1. long ton. 2. low-tension.

Lt. Col., LTC abbr. lieutenant colonel.

Lt. Comdr. abbr. lieutenant commander.

Ltd. abbr. Limited.

Lt. Gen., LTG abbr. lieutenant general.

ltr. abbr. letter.

lu symbol lutetium.

Lu·an·da (loo-ahn-dā) the capital of Angola.

lu·au (loo-ow) n. (pl. lu·aus) a Hawaiian feast.

lub·ber (loh-bér) n. 1. a big clumsy person, especially a seaman. 2. a landlubber.

lub·ber·ly adv.

lube (loob) n. (informal) lubricant.

lu·bri·cant (loo-bri-kānt) n. a lubricating substance.

lu·bri·cate (loo-bri-kāt) v. (lu·bri·cat·ed, lu·bri·cat·ing) to oil or grease (machinery etc.) so that it moves easily. lu·bri·ca·tion (loo-bri-kā-shon) n.

lu·bri·clous (loo-brīsh-ūs) adj. 1. slippery, smooth, oily. 2. lewd, salacious. lu·bric·i·ty (loo-brī-sī-ty) n.

lu·cent (loo-sēnt) adj. 1. shining, luminous. 2. translucent.

lu·cid (loo-sid) adj. 1. clearly expressed, easy to understand. 2. sane; lucid intervals, periods of sanity between periods of insanity. lu·cid·ly adv. lu·cid·ness n. lu·cid·i·ty (loo-sī-dī-ty) n.

lu·cl·fer (loo-sī·fēr) n. the chief rebel angel, Satan, before his fall.

lu·cite (loo-sīt) n. (trademark) a tough unsplinterable transparent acrylic thermoplastic, much lighter than glass.

luck (luk) n. 1. chance thought of as a force that brings either good or bad fortune. 2. the events etc. (either favorable or unfavorable to one's interests) that it brings. 3. good fortune, it will bring you luck. □in luck, having good fortune.

out of luck, not In luck.
lucky (luk-ee) adj. (luck·i·er, luck·i·est) having or bringing or resulting from good luck. luck·i·ly adv.
lu·cra·tive (loo·krä·tiv) adj. profitable, producing much money. lu·cra·tive·ness n. lu·cra·tive·ly adv.
lu·cre (loo·kür) n. (contemptuous) money, money-making as a motive for action.
lu·cu·bra·tion (loo·ku·brä·shon) n. 1. studying hard, especially late at night. 2. a literary work, especially of pedantic or elaborate character.
lu·di·crous (loo·diks) adj. absurd, ridiculous, laughable. lu·di·crous·ly adv. lu·di·crous·ness n.
luff (luf) v. to bring a ship's head nearer to the direction from which the wind is blowing. luff n. the side of a fore-and-aft sail next to the mast or stay.
lug1 (lug) v. (lugged, lug·ging) to drag or carry with great effort.
lug2 n. an earlike part or projection on an object, by which it may be carried or fixed in place etc. ❑ lug nut, a heavy-duty nut for securing a wheel to a motor vehicle. lug wrench, a tool for tightening or removing a lug nut.
lug·gage (lug·ij) n. a traveler's baggage.
lu·gu·bru·ous (lu·goo·bru·üs) adj. dismal, mournful. lu·gu·bru·ous·ly adv. lu·gu·bru·ous·ness n.
lug·worm (lug·wurm) n. a large marine worm used as bait.
luke·warm (look·worm) adj. 1. only slightly warm. 2. not enthusiastic, got a lukewarm reception.
lull (lul) v. 1. to soothe or send to sleep. 2. to calm (suspicions etc.). 3. (of a storm or noise) to lessen, to become quiet. lull n. a temporary period of quiet or inactivity.
lull·a·by (lul·ä·bì) n. (pl. -bles) a soothing song sung to put a child to sleep.
lum·ba·go (lum·bay·goh) n. rheumatic pain in the muscles of the lower back.
lum·bar (lum·bahr, -bahr) adj. of or in the lower back.
lum·ber1 (lum·ber) n. timber sawed into planks. lumber v. to cut lumber or saw it into planks. lum·ber·man n. lum·ber·jack, a cold-weather hip-length jacket.
lum·ber2 v. to move in a heavy clumsy way.
lum·ber·jack (lum·ber·jak) n. a person whose trade is the cutting or conveying or preparing of timber.
lum·ber·yard (lum·ber·yahrd) n. a place where lumber and various building materials are sold.
lu·mi·nar·y (loo·mi·nar·ee) n. (pl. -nar·ies) 1. a natural light-giving body, especially the sun or the moon. 2. a person having much intellectual, moral, or spiritual influence.
lu·mi·nes·cent (loo·mi·nes·cent) adj. emitting light without being hot. lu·mi·nes·cence n.
lu·mi·nous (loo·mi·nüs) adj. emitting light, glowing in the dark. lu·mi·nos·i·ty (loo·mi·nos-i·ty) n.
lum·max (lum·max) n. (informal) a clumsy or stupid person.
lump1 (lump) n. 1. a hard or compact mass, usually one without a regular shape. 2. a protuberance or swelling. 3. (informal) a heavy dull or stupid person. 4. lumps, (slang) misfortunes or criticism or punishment. lump v. to put or consider to-gether, to treat as alike, lump them together. ❑ lump in the throat, a feeling of pressure there caused by emotion.
lump·sugar, sugar in small lumps or cubes. lump sum, a single payment covering a number of items or paid all at once, not in installments.
lump2 v. lump it, (informal) to put up with something one dislikes.
lump·ish (lump·ish) adj. heavy and dull or stupid.
lump·y (lump·pee) adj. (lump·i·er, lump·i·est) full of lumps, covered in lumps. lump·i·ness n. lun·a·cy (loo·nä·sec) n. 1. insanity. 2. great folly.
lun·nar adj. of the moon.
 ❑ lunar month, the interval between new moons (about 29½ days); four weeks.
lun·na·tic (loo·nä·tik) n. an insane person, one who is extremely foolish or reckless. lun·atic adj. insane, extremely foolish or reckless. ❑ lunatic asylum, (old use) a mental hospital. lunatic fringe, a few eccentric or fanatical members of a political or other group.
lunch (lunch) n. a meal taken in the middle of the day. lunch v. to eat lunch.
lunch box, a small metal or plastic case used by working people to carry sandwiches and other food for lunch to their jobs. lunch break, time given to employees for eating lunch. lunch counter, a restaurant with quick service of lunches. out to lunch, (slang) silly or distracted.
lunch·eon (lun·chohn) n. (formal) lunch.
lunch·eon meat, any of several kinds of meat loaf sliced and served cold for sandwiches or salads.
luncheonette (lun-cho-net) n. an establishment selling light lunches.
lunch-room (lunch-room) n. a luncheonette, a cafeteria or room where food may be eaten, as in a school or place of work.
lunch-time (lunch-trm) n. the time when lunch is eaten.
lune (loon) n. a crescent-shaped figure formed on a sphere or plane by two arcs intersecting at two points.
lunette (loo-net) n. a crescent-shaped or semicircular object or opening or space.
lung (lung) n. either of the two breathing organs, in the chest of man and most vertebrates, that draw in air and bring it into contact with the blood.
lunge (lunj) v. (lunged, lung-ing) to make a lunge.
lunge (lunj) n. a sudden forward movement of the body toward something, a thrust.
lunge (lunge) v. (lunger, lung-er) to make a lunge.
lunge (lunger) v. to make such a movement, to stagger.
lure (lour) n. 1. something that attracts or entices or allures. 2. its power of attracting. 3. a bait or decoy for wild animals or for fish, a device used to attract and recall a trained hawk. lure v. (lured, lur-ing) to entice, to attract by the promise of pleasure or gain.
lurid (loor-id) adj. 1. in glaring colors or combinations of color. 2. sensationally and shockingly vivid, the lurid details.
lurk (lurk) v. 1. to lie hidden while waiting to attack. 2. to wait near a place furtively or unobtrusively. 3. to be latent or lingering, a lurking sympathy for the rebels.
Lu-sa-ka (loo-sah-kä) the capital of Zambia.
lus-cious (lush-ús) adj. 1. richly sweet in taste or smell. 2. voluptuously attractive, a luscious blonde. lus-cious-ly adv. lus-cious-ness n.
lush1 (lush) adj. 1. (of grass etc.) growing thickly and strongly. 2. luxurious, lush furnishings. lus'hilly adv. lus'hiness n.
lush2 n. (slang) a drunkard.
lust (lust) n. 1. intense sexual desire. 2. any intense desire for something, lust for power. lust v. to feel lust. lust'ful adj.
luster (lus-tër) n. 1. the soft brightness of a smooth or shining surface. 2. glory, distinction, add luster to the assembly. 3. a kind of metallic glaze on pottery and porcelain. lust'er-less adj. lust'rous (lus-trús) adj.
lust'ral (lus-tral) adj. of or used in ceremonial purification.
lust'y (lus-trè) adj. (lust'le-er, lust'le-est) strong and vigorous, full of vitality. lust'il-ly adv. lust'il-ness n.
lute (lOOT) n. a guitarlike instrument with a pear-shaped body, popular in the 14th–17th centuries.
lute (lute) n. a rare-earth metallic element.
Lu-ther-an (loo-thë-rän) adj. 1. of Martin Luther (1483–1546), leader of the Protestant Reformation in Germany, or his teachings. 2. of the Christian denomination bearing his name. Lutheran n. a member of a Lutheran church. Lu'ther-an-ism n.
Lux-em-bourg (lux-sém-burg) 1. a country in Europe between France and Germany. 2. its capital city.
lux'u-ri-at-e (lug-zhoor-ee-e-at) v. (lux'u-ri-at-ed, lux'u-ri-at-ing) to feel great enjoyment, to enjoy as luxury, luxuriating in the warm sun.
lux'u-ry (lug-zhöo-ree) n. (pl. -ries) 1. surroundings and food, dress, etc. that are choice and costly; a luxury apartment, comfortable and expensive. 2. luxuriousness, self-indulgence. 3. something costing that is enjoyable but not essential.
lv. abbr. leave.
-ly1 suffix used to form adjectives, especially from nouns, meaning having the qualities of, as in kingly, motherly; recurring at intervals of, as in daily, hourly.
-ly2 suffix used to form adjectives meaning in a (specified) manner, as in boldly, nastily, pathetically; to or from a (specified) point of view, as in gradually, outwardly.

ly-ce-um (I-see-um) n. a literary institution or lecture hall.

lye (I) n. any strong alkaline solution, especially for washing.

ly·ing (I-ing) see lie¹, lie².

ly·ing-in (I-ing-in) n. (pl. ly·ings-in, ly·ing-ins) confinement at childbirth.

lymph (limf) n. a colorless fluid from tissues or organs of the body, containing white blood cells. lym·phat·ic (lim-fat·ik) adj. lym·phoid (lim·foi·d) adj.

lymph node, a small mass of tissue where lymph is purified.

lynn·ch (linch) v. (of a mob) to execute or punish violently, without a lawful trial.

lynx (lingks) n. (pl. lynx·es, lynx) a wild animal of the cat family with spotted fur, noted for its keen sight.

lynx-eyed (lingks-id) adj. keen-sighted.

ly·on·naise (I-ö-nayz) adj. cooked with onions.

lyre (Itr) n. an ancient musical instrument with strings fixed in a U-shaped frame.

lyre·bird (Itr-burd) n. an Australian bird, the male of which can spread its tail in the shape of a lyre.

lyr·ic (Itr-ik) adj. of poetry that expresses the poet’s thoughts and feelings. lyr·ic n. 1. a lyric poem. 2. (also lyrics) the words of a song.

lyr·i·cal (Itr-i-kal) adj. 1. lyric, using language suitable for this. 2. (informal) expressing oneself enthusiastically. lyr·i·cal·ly adv.

lyr·i·clist (Itr-i-sist) n. a person who writes lyrics, especially for popular songs.

ly·ser·gic acid dl·eth·yl·a·mide (dl·eth·il·a·mid) = LSD.

ly·sin (I-r-sin) n. an antibody that destroys bacterial cells.

LZ abbr. landing zone.
M, m (em) (pl. Ma, M’s, m’s) 1. the thirteenth letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral symbol for 1,000.
m abbr. 1. meter(s). 2. mile(s). 3. million(s).
M abbr. 1. Mach. 2. mass. 3. medium.
m. abbr. 1. male. 2. mark. 3. married. 4. masculine. 5. medium. 6. meter(s). 7. minim. 8. minute. 9. month. 10. moon.
ma (mah) n. (informal) mother.
MA abbr. 1. Massachusetts. 2. mental age.
M.A. abbr. Master of Arts.
ma’am (mam) n. (informal) (as a form of address) madam.
ma’ca*bre (mā-kah-brē, mā-kahb) adj. gruesome, suggesting death.
mac-ad-am (mā-kad-ām) n. layers of broken stone used in road making, usually with hot tar or asphalt, each layer being rolled hard before the next is put down.
mac-ad’am-ized adj. paved in this way.
ma-caque (mā-kahk) n. a monkey of Asia and North Africa.
mac-a-ro-ni (mak-ā-roh-nee) n. 1. pasta formed into long tubes. 2. (old use) an 18th-century dandy affecting continental manners and fashions.
mac-a’roon (mak-ā-roon) n. a cookie made with sugar, white of egg, and ground almonds or coconut.
ma-caw (mā-kaw) n. a brightly colored South and Central American parrot with a long tail.
mace1 (mays) n. 1. a medieval weapon. 2. a ceremonial staff as the symbol of a public official’s authority.
mace2 n. a spice made from the dried outer covering of nutmeg.
Mace (mays) n. (trademark) a chemical sprayed in the face in order to subdue or disable by causing tears, dizziness, and nausea. mace v. (maced, mac-ing) to attack with Mace.
mac-é-doine (mas-ē-dwahn) n. a mixture of chopped fruits or vegetables, often served set in jelly.
mac-er-ate (mas-ē-rayt) v. (mac-er-at-ed, mac-er-at-ing) to make or become soft by steeping in a liquid. mac-er-a-tion (mas-ē-ray-shōn) n.
Mach (makh) n. Mach number, the ratio of the speed of a body to the speed of sound in the same medium; a body traveling at Mach one is traveling at the speed of sound, Mach two is twice this.
mach. abbr. 1. machine. 2. machinery. 3. machinist.
ma-chet-e (mā-shet-ē) n. a broad heavy knife used in Central America and the West Indies as a tool and weapon.
mach-i-l-a-vil-ll-an (mak-i-ā-vi-l-ān) adj. elaborately cunning or deceitful.
> Named after Niccolo dei Machiavelli (1469–1527), an Italian statesman who advised the use of any means, however unscrupulous, that would strengthen a nation. mach-i-l-a-vi-l-ll-an-ism n.
ma-chic-o-la-tion (mā-chik-ō-lay-shōn) n. an opening in the floor of a parapet, used for dropping stones etc. on attackers. ma-chic-o-late (mā-chik-ō-layt) v. (ma-chic-o-lat-ed, ma-chic-o-lat-ing) to provide with machicolations.
mach-i-na-tions (mak-i-nay-shōnz) n. pl. clever scheming, things done by this.
ma-chine (mā-shen) n. 1. an apparatus for applying mechanical power, having several parts each with a definite function. 2. something operated by such apparatus, as a bicycle or aircraft. 3. a complex controlling system of an organization, the political machine. ma-chine v. (ma-chined, ma-chin-ing) to make or produce or work on (a thing) with a machine. □ machine n. a mounted gun mechanically operated and used to deliver a rapid and continuous fire of bullets. machine language, the signs, symbols, numbers, and letters used by a computer. machine tool, a mechanically operated tool.
ma-chine-gun (mā-shen-gun) v. (ma-chine-gunned, ma-chine-gun-ning) to shoot at with a machine gun.
machinery / Mae West 532 ma·chin·er·y (mā-sheen-nē-rec) n. (pl. -er·ies) 1. machines. 2. mechanism. 3. an organized system for doing something.

ma·chin·ist (mā-sheen-nist) n. a person who makes or works machinery, one who operates machine tools.

ma·chi·so (mah-chiz-moh) n. the need to prove one's virility or courage by daring action.

ma·cho (mah-choh) n. (pl. -chos) a virile courageous man. macho adj. virile, manly.

mack·er·el (mak·er·el) n. (pl. -el, -els) an edible seashell. □ mackerel sky, rows of small white fleecy clouds.

mack·i·naw (mak·i·naw) n. 1. a heavy woolen cloth. 2. a warm belted coat of this.

mack·in·tosh (mak·in-tosh) n. 1. (chiefly British) a raincoat. 2. a waterproof material of rubber and cloth.

mac·ra·mé (mak·ra·may) n. 1. a fringe or trimming of knotted thread or cord. 2. the art of making this.

mac·ro·bi·ot·ic (mak·ro·bi·ot·ik) adj. of or relating to a diet of pure vegetable foods etc. intended to prolong life.

mac·ro·ce·phal·ic (mak·ro·se·fal·ik) adj. having a long or large head. mac·ro·ceph·a·lous (mak·ro·sef·ā·lus) adj.

mac·ro·cos·mic (mak·ro·koz·mik) adj.

mac·cron (may·kron) n. the written or printed mark placed over a long or stressed vowel.

mac·ro·cos·mic (mak·ro·koz·mik) adj.

mac·cron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) adj.

mac·cron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) n. the great world, the universe. 2. any great whole.

mac·ro·cos·mic (mak·ro·koz·mik) adj.

mac·cron (may·kron) n. the written or printed mark placed over a long or stressed vowel.

mac·ro·cos·mic (mak·ro·koz·mik) adj.

mac·cron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) adj.

mac·cron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) n. the great world, the universe. 2. any great whole.

mac·ron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) adj.

mac·cron (may·kron) n. the written or printed mark placed over a long or stressed vowel.

mac·ron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) adj.

mac·cron·a·men·tos (māk′ron·a·men·tōs) n. the great world, the universe. 2. any great whole.

mad (mad) adj. (mad·er, mad·est) 1. having a disordered mind, not sane. 2. extremely foolish, a mad scheme. 3. wildly enthusiastic, is mad about sports. 4. (informal) very annoyed. 5. frenzied, a mad scramble. 6. of an animal) suffering from rables, a mad dog. mad·ly adv.

mad·ness n. □ like mad, with great haste or energy or enthusiasm.

mad·a·gas·car (mā·dah-gās·kār) an island off the southeast coast of Africa, part of the Malagasy Republic.

mad·am (mad·ăm) n. 1. a word used in speaking politely to a woman, or prefixed to the name of her office in formal address, Madam Chairman. 2. a woman in charge of a brothel.

Ma·de·mam (mā·dē-mam) n. (pl. Mes·dames, pr. may·dāms) the title of a French-speaking woman, = Mrs. or madam.

mad·cap (mad·kap) n. a wildly impulsive person. madcap adj. wildly impulsive.

mad·den (mad·dēn) v. to make mad or angry, to irritate. mad·den·ing adj. mad·den·ing·ly adv.

mad·der (mad·er) 1. an Old World plant with yellowish flowers. 2. a red dye prepared from its root or made synthetically.

mad·den·ing (mad·ing) adj. (old use) maddening. □ the maddening crowd, the frenzied crowd.

made (mayd) see make.

Ma·del·na (mā·deh·nā) a fortified white wine produced on the island of Madeira.

mad·e·le·ine (mā·dē-lēn) n. a small rich plain cake baked in a round tapering tin.

Ma·de·mol·selle (mā·dé·mol·zāl) n. (pl. Mes·de·mol·selles, pr. may·dé·mō·zel) the title of a French-speaking girl or unmarried woman, = Miss or madam.

made·to·or·der (mayd·too·or·dēr) adj. made according to specific instructions.

made·up (mayd·up) adj. 1. fabricated, concocted. 2. wearing makeup. 3. put together.

mad·house (mad·hous) n. (informal) 1. a mental hospital. 2. a scene of confused uproar.

Ma·di·na do Boe (mā·dee-nā dō boh) the capital of Guinea-Bissau.

Mad·l·son (mād·lōn) the capital of Wisconsin.

Mad·l·son (mād·lōn) James (1751–1836) the fourth president of the U.S. 1809–17.

mad·man (mā·mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mēn) a man who is a lunatic.

Ma·don·na (mā·dohn·ā) n. 1. the Virgin Mary. 2. a picture or statue of the Virgin Mary. □ Madonna lily, a tall lily with white flowers.

mad·ras (mā·dōr·as, mā·dōras) n. a light cotton fabric often with colored stripes.

ma·drid (mā·drīd) the capital of Spain.

mad·ril·gal (mā·dī·gāl) n. a part song for voices, usually without instrumental accompaniment.

mad·wom·an (mā·wūum·ān) n. (pl. -wom·en, pr. -wim·en) a woman who is a lunatic.

mael·strom (mā·el·strōm) n. 1. a great whirlpool. 2. an agitated or tumultuous state of affairs.

ma·ned (mā·ned) n. 1. a Bacchante, a priestess of Bacchus. 2. a riotous or frenzied woman.

ma·es·tro (mā·es·trō) n. (pl. ma·es·tres, ma·es·tri, pr. mā·stree) 1. a great musical composer or teacher or conductor. 2. a master of any art.

Mae West (may west) (slang) an inflatable life jacket. ▲ Named after an American film actress (1892— ) noted for her large bust.

Ma·fi·a (mà-fi-à) n. 1. a secret organization in Sicily, opposed to legal authority and engaged in crime. 2. a criminal organization involved in smuggling, racketeering, etc.

ma·fi·o·so (mà-fi-oh-soh) n. (pl. -si, pr. -see) a member of the Mafia.

mag. abbr. 1. magnesium. 2. magnetic. 3. magnetism. 4. magneto. 5. magnitude.

mag·a·zine (mag-à-zeen) n. 1. a paper-covered illustrated periodical publication containing articles or stories etc. by a number of writers. 2. a store for arms and ammunition, or for explosives. 3. a chamber for holding cartridges to be fed into the breech of a gun. 4. a similar device in a camera or slide projector.

mag·en·ta (mà-jen-tà) adj. & n. bright purplish red.

mag·got (mag-ót) n. a larva, especially of the bluebottle. mag‘got·y adj.

Ma·gli (mà-jì) n. pl. the three wise men from the East who brought offerings to the infant Christ at Bethlehem.

mag·ic (maj-ik) n. 1. the supposed art of controlling events or effects etc. by supernatural power. 2. superstitious practices based on belief in this. 3. a mysterious and enchanting quality, the magic of a spring day. 4. a type of entertainment such as sleight of hand. magic adj. of magic, used in producing magic, magic words. mag‘i·cal adj. mag‘i·cal·ly adv. □魔法 carpet, a mythical carpet able to transport a person to it on any place.

mag·i·clan (mà-jish-àn) n. 1. a person who is skilled in magic. 2. a conjurer.

mag·is·te·ri·al (maj-i-ste-ri-àl) adj. 1. of a magistrate. 2. having or showing authority, imperious. mag‘is·te·ri·al·ly adv.

mag·is·tral (maj-i-sträl) adj. 1. of a master or masters. 2. of a remedy devised by a physician for a particular case, not included in the pharmacopoeia.

mag·is·trate (maj-i-strät) n. a minor judge, a civil officer who administers the law. mag‘is·tra·cy (maj-i-strä-se) n.

mag·ma (mag-mà) n. 1. a crude pasty mixture of mineral or organic matter. 2. a semi-molten stratum under the solid crust of Earth, from which igneous rock is formed by cooling. mag‘ma·tic (mag-mat-ik) adj.

Mag·na Char·ta (mag-nà kahr-tà) the charter establishing the English people’s rights concerning personal and political liberty, obtained from King John in 1215.

mag·na·cum lau·de (mag-nà kum law-dee) with great academic distinction. ▲ Latin.

mag·nan·l·mous (mag-nan-l-mús) adj. 1. noble and generous in one’s conduct, not petty. 2. above revenge, forgiving. mag·nan·l·mous·ly adv. mag·nan‘l·mous·ness n. mag·na·nim·i·ty (mag-nà-nim-i-te) n.

mag·na·te (mag-nayt) n. a wealthy and influential person, especially in business. ▲ Do not confuse magnate with magnet.

mag·ne·sia (mag-ne-zi-à) n. a white powder that is a compound of magnesium, used as an antacid and mild laxative. mag‘ne·sian adj.

mag·ne·sium (mag-ne-zi-àm) n. a silvery white metal that burns with an intensely bright flame.

mag·net (mag-nit) n. 1. a piece of iron or steel etc. that can attract iron and that points north and south when suspended. 2. a person or thing that exerts a powerful attraction. ▲ Do not confuse magnet with magnate.

mag·net·ic (mag-net-ik) adj. 1. having the properties of a magnet. 2. produced or acting by magnetism. 3. having the power to attract people, a magnetic personality. mag·net‘i·cal·ly adv.

□ magnetic compass, one using a magnetic needle that points north and south. magnetic core, iron material that forms the center of an electromagnet, transformer, etc.; a small magnetized iron loop that stores bits of information, acting as one of the basic elements of a computer memory. magnetic field, the force field around a magnetic substance.

magnetic flux, the total of all the lines of force in a magnetic field. magnetic induction, magnetizing a body by bringing it close to a magnetized body. mag·net·ic needle, a rod that, when used in a compass, indicates the direction of north and south. magnetic north pole, the point indicated by a magnetic needle, close to the geographic North Pole but not identical with it. magnetic pickup, a phonograph pickup that converts the vibrations of the stylus into electric impulses through the use of a coil in a magnetic field. magnetic pole, either pole of a magnet. magnetic recording, the process of recording sounds or signals on a magnetic tape, disk, or cartridge. magnetic storm, a disturbance of Earth’s magnetic field by charged particles from the sun etc. magnetic tape, a strip of plastic coated or impregnated with magnetic particles for use in the recording and reproduction of sound.

mag·net·ism (mag-nèt-iz-èm) n. 1. the magnetite / mail

properties and effects of magnetic substances. 2. the scientific study of these. 3. great charm and attraction, personal magnetism.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ik·li) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ik·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag-net·ite (mag-nē-tīt) n. a magnetic iron oxide.

mag-net·ize (mag-nē-tīz) v. (mag-net·ized, mag-net·iz·ing) 1. to give magnetic properties to. 2. to attract as a magnet does. 3. to exert attraction on (a person or people). mag-net·iz·er n.

mag·net·ic (mag-net·ik) adj. magnet·i·za·tion (mag-nē-ti·za·tion) n.

mag·net·ic·ly (mag-net·ic·ly) adv.

mag·net·ic·ness (mag-net·ic·nēs) n.
mail order, an order for goods to be sent by mail; mail-order firm, a firm doing business mainly by this system.

mail train, a train carrying mail.

mail* n. body armor made of metal rings or chains. mail v. to clothe with mail.

malled adj.

mail-bag (mail-bag) n. a large bag for carrying mail.

mail-box (mail-boxes) n. 1. a public box for holding letters etc. to be transmitted. 2. a private box for holding letters etc. delivered by the mailman.

mail-lot (mail-yoh) n. (pl. -lots, pr. -yohz) 1. a woman's one-piece bathing suit. 2. a jersey. 3. a dancer's or gymnast's tights.

mail-man (mail-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a man who delivers mail.

mailm (maym) v. to wound or injure so that some part of the body is useless.

main (mayn) adj. principal, most important, greatest in size or extent.

main n. the main pipe or channel or cable in a public system for conveying water, gas, etc.

main'ly adv. □In the main, for the most part, on the whole.

main line, the chief railroad line; the chief road or street; (slang) a principal vein, especially as the site of drug injection.

Main Line, a fashionable residential area extending for approximately twenty miles west of Philadelphia and served by a railroad line.

Maine (mayn) a state of the U.S.

main-land (mayn-land) n. a country or continent without its adjacent islands.

main-line (mayn-lin) v. (main-lined, main-lined) (slang) to take illegal drugs through injection into a vein.

main-mast (main-mast, -mást) n. the principal mast of a sailing ship.

main-sail (main-sayl, -sail) n. the lowest sail on the mainmast in a square-rigged vessel, the sail set on the aft part of the mainmast in a fore-and-aft-rigged vessel.

main-spring (mayn-spring) n. 1. the principal spring of a watch or clock etc. 2. the chief force motivating the actions of a person or group.

main-stay (main-stay) n. 1. the strong cable that secures the mainmast. 2. the chief support.

main-stream (mayn-stream) n. the dominant trend of opinion or style etc.

main-tain (mayn-tayn) v. 1. to cause to continue, to keep in existence. 2. to keep in repair, the house is well maintained. 3. to support, to provide for, to bear the expenses of, maintaining his son at college. 4. to assert as true.

main-tenant adj.

main-tenance (mayn-të-näns) n. 1. maintaining, being maintained. 2. keeping equipment etc. in repair; maintenance man, one employed to do this. 3. provision of the means to support life, an allowance of money for this.

ma|te (ma-tay) a rum drink with lemon and pineapple juice on ice.

mail-tr d' (may-tër dee, may-trë) (pl. mail-tres d', pr. may-tër dee, may-trëz) (informal) = maître d'hôtel.

mail-tr d'hotel (may-tër doh-tel, may-trë) (pl. mail-trs d'hotel, pr. may-tër doh-tel, may-trë) 1. a major-domo. 2. a head waiter. □French.

mailze (mayz) n. 1. Indian corn. 2. (British) corn. 3. the yellow color of corn.

Maj. abbr. Major.

ma|jes|tic (ma|jes|tik) adj. stately and dignified, imposing.

ma|jes|ti-cal adj.

ma|jes|ti-cal-ly adv.

maj-es-ty (maj|ës|tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. impressive stateliness. 2. sovereign power.

3. the title used in speaking of or to a sovereign or a sovereign's wife or widow, His or Her or Your Majesty.

ma|jol-i|ca (ma|jol|ë|cka) n. 1. Renaissance Italian earthenware with colored ornamentation on opaque enamel. 2. a modern imitation of this.

ma|jor (may-jor) adj. 1. greater, very important, major roads. 2. (of a surgical operation) involving danger to the patient's life. 3. (in music) of or based on a scale that has a semitone next above the third and seventh notes and a whole tone elsewhere.

major n. 1. an army officer below lieutenant colonel and above captain. 2. an officer in charge of a section of band instruments, drum major. 3. a course of study in which one is specializing. 4. the majors, (informal) the major leagues.

major v. to specialize (in a certain subject) at a college or university. □major general, an army officer next below a lieutenant general.

major league, either of the two highest ranking professional baseball leagues.

major leaguer, a member of a major league baseball team.

major suit, (in bridge) spades or hearts.

ma|jor-do|mo (may-jor-doh-moh) n. (pl. -mos) the head steward of a great household.

ma|jor|ette (may-jor-ret) n. a drum majorette (see drum).

ma|jor|i|ty (ma|jor|i|tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the greatest part of a group or class. 2. the number of votes for one party etc. above half of those cast. 3. (in law) legal age, attained his majority. □majority rule, the principle that no minority (especially an ethnic or religious one) should hold political power greatly disproportionate to its numbers. A majority is distinguished from a plurality as follows: a majority is more than 50% of votes cast; a plurality is the margin of victory for the winner over his nearest rival.

ma·jus·cu·le (mā-jus-kyool) n. a large letter, capital, or uncial. majuscule, ma·jus·cu·lar adj. written in such letters.

make (mayk) v. (made, mak·ling) 1. to construct or create; to prepare or from other substances. 2. to draw up as a legal document or contract, make a will. 3. to establish (laws or rules or distinctions). 4. to arrange ready for use, make the beds. 5. to cause to exist, to produce, make difficulties; make peace. 6. to result in, to amount to, two and two make four. 7. to cause to be or become, it made me happy; don’t make a habit of it; make a day of it, to carry on an activity etc. so that it fills a day. 8. to frame in the mind, made a decision. 9. to succeed in arriving at or achieving a position, we made Las Vegas by midnight; she finally made the team. 10. (slang) to catch (a train etc.). 11. to form, to serve for, to turn out to be, this makes pleasant reading: she made him a good wife. 12. to gain or acquire, make a profit; make friends, to become friends. 13. to consider to be, what do you make the time?; see what you can make of her letter, how to interpret it. 14. to cause or compel, make him repeat it. 15. to perform (an action etc.), make an attempt; make war. 16. to ensure the success of, wine can make the meal; this made my day.

make n. 1. making, the way a thing is made. 2. the origin of manufacture, British make; our own make of shoes. □ a made man, one who has attained success in his life or career. be made for, to be ideally suited to. be the making of, to be the main factor in the success of. have it made, (slang) to be sure of success. have the makings of, to have the essential qualities for becoming, she had the makings of a good manager. make believe, to pretend. make do, to manage with something that is not really adequate or satisfactory. make for, to proceed toward, to try to reach; to tend to bring about, it makes for domestic harmony. make fun of, to ridicule. make good, to become successful or prosperous; make good the loss, pay compensation; make good the damage, repair it; made good his escape, succeeded in escaping. make it, to achieve what one wanted, to be successful. make it up, to become reconciled after a quarrel.

make it up to someone, to compensate him. make love, to embrace and kiss in courtship; to have sexual intercourse. make money, to make a large profit. make much or little of, to treat as important or unimportant; make much of a person, to give him much flattering attention. make off, to go away hastily. make off with, to carry away, to steal. make out, to write out (a list etc.); to manage to see or read something, made out a shadowy figure; to understand the nature of, I can't make him out; to assert or claim or pretend to be, made him out to be a fool; (informal) to fare, how did you make out?: (slang) to pet erotically. make over, to transfer the ownership of; to convert for a new purpose. make room, to clear a space for something by moving another person or thing. make time, to contrive to find time to do something. make up, to form or constitute; to put together, to prepare (medicine etc.); to invent (a story etc.); to compensate (for a loss or mistake), they made up for lost time; to complete (an amount) by supplying what is lacking; to apply cosmetics to; to reconcile, let’s make up and be friends again; make up one’s mind, to decide. make up to, to court, to curry favor with. make way, to forge ahead, to progress, to open a way for someone or something. on the make, (slang) intent on gain; seeking a sexual partner.

make·be·live (mayk-bē-leev) adj. pretended. make·believe n. pretense.

mak·er (may-kēr) n. one who makes something. □ our or your Maker, God.

make·shift (mayk-shift) n. a temporary or improvised substitute. make·shift adj. serving as this.

make·up (mayk-up) n. 1. cosmetics applied to the skin, especially of the face. 2. the way something is made up, its composition or constituent parts. 3. a person’s character and temperament.

make·work (mayk-wurk) n. busywork that prevents idleness on the part of workers but does not accomplish anything of value.

mak·lings (mayk-lingz) n. pl. the essential qualities for becoming.

mal·prefix badly, faulty, as in maladjusted, malfesance.

Ma·la·bo (mā-lah-boh) the capital of Equatorial Guinea.

Ma·lac·ca (mā-lak-ā) n. (also Malacca cane) a brown walking stick made from the stem of a kind of palm tree.

mal·ach·ite (mal-ā-kīt) n. a green mineral that can be polished.
maladapted / malleable maladapted adj. ill suited to a particular environment or purpose or condition.

mal-ad-just-ed (mal-a-jus-tid) adj. (of a person) not well-adjusted to his own circumstances. mal-ad-just'ment n.

mal-ad-min-istr (mal-a-min-i-stér) v. to administer (a business or public affairs) badly or improperly. mal-ad-min-i-stration (mal-a-min-i-strá-shon) n.

mal-a-drot (mal-a-drot) adj. bungling. mal-a-drot'ly adv. mal-a-drot'teness n.

mal-a-dy (mal-a-dee) n. an illness, a disease.

Mal-a-gas-y (mal-a-gas-ce) n. 1. the language of Madagascar. 2. a native or inhabitant of Madagascar. Malagasy adj. of Madagascar. Malagasy Republic, a country, including Madagascar, in the Indian Ocean.

mal-a-lase (má-lay-z) n. a feeling of illness or mental uneasiness.

mal-a-mute (mal-a-myoot) n. an Eskimo dog.

mal-a-prop-ism (mal-a-prop-iz-em) n. a comical confusion of words, as in it will percussion the blow (for cushion the blow).

mal-a-thion (mal-a-thi-on) n. an insecticide containing phosphorus.

Mal-a-wi (mah-lah-wee) a country in southeast Africa.

Mal-a-y (má-lay) adj. of a people living in Malaysia and Indonesia. Malay n. 1. a member of this people. 2. their language.

Mal-a-y-a (má-lay-a) a group of states forming part of Malaysia. Mal-a-y'an adj. & n.

Malay Archipelago a group of islands in the Indian and Pacific oceans southeast of Asia.

Mal-a-y-sia (má-lay-z/&) n. formerly the Maldives Islands. Mal-di'velan adj. & n.

male (mayl) adj. 1. of the sex that can beget offspring by fertilizing egg cells produced by the female. 2. (of a plant) having flowers that contain pollen-bearing organs and not seeds. 3. of a man or men, male voice choir. 4. (of parts of machinery etc.) designed to fit into a corresponding female part, a male screw. male n. a male person or animal or plant. male'ness n.

Ma-ley (mah-lee) the capital of the Maldives.

mal-e-di-c-tion (mal-e-dik-shon) n. a curse.

mal-e-ic (má-lef-ik) adj. (of magical arts etc.) harmful, baleful.

mal-e-ic-ent (má-lef-ent) adj. 1. hurtful. 2. criminal. mal-e-ic-en'tence n.

mal-e-v-o-ent (má-lef-ó-ent) adj. wishing harm to others. mal'e-vo'ent-ly adv. mal-e'vo-len'ce n.

mal-e-sance (má-le-sanz) n. an unlawful act, evildoing, especially official misconduct.

mal-form'a-tion (mal-form-may-shdn) n. faulty formation. mal-form'ed adj.

mal-func-tion (mal-fungk-shon) n. faulty functioning. malfunction v. to function faultily.

Ma-ll (mah-lee) a country in West Africa.

Ma-il-an adj. & n.

mal-ice (má-lis) n. a desire to harm others or to tease.

mal-il-rious (má-lish-ús) adj. feeling or showing or caused by malice. mal-il'rous-ly adv.

mal-il'gn (má-lign) adj. 1. harmful, a malign influence. 2. showing malice. malign v. to say unpleasant and untrue things about, maligning an innocent person.

mal-il-ni'ty (má-nil-ni-tee) n.

mal-il'nant (má-nil-nánt) adj. 1. (of a tumor) growing uncontrollably. 2. feeling or showing great ill will. mal'il'nant-ly adv. mal'il-nan'cy (má-nil-nán-see) n.

mal-in'ger (má-nil'gér) v. to pretend to be ill in order to avoid work. mal'in'ger'er n.

mall (mawl) n. 1. (old use) a sheltered walk. 2. a shopping center (see shopping). 3. a paved or grassy strip dividing a highway.

mal-lard (mal-ard) n. (pl. -lard, -lords) a kind of wild duck, the male of which has a glossy green head.

mal-le-a-ble (má-lé-a-bél) adj. 1. able to be hammered or pressed into shape. 2.
easy to influence, adaptable. mal’le-a-bly adj. mal-le-a-bil-i-ty (mal-i-a-bil-i-tee) n.
mal-let (mal-it) n. 1. a hammer, usually of wood. 2. a similarly shaped instrument with a long handle, for striking the ball in croquet or polo.
mal-le-us (mal-i-ūs) n. (pl. mal-le-l, pr. mal-i-) a bone of the middle ear.
mal-low (mal-oh) n. a plant with hairy stems and leaves, bearing purple or pink or white flowers.
alm-shey (mahm-zee) n. a kind of strong sweet wine.
mal-nour-ish-ed (mal-nur-ish-ed) adj. poorly nourished.
mal-nu-tri-tion (mal-noo-trish-ōn) n. insufficient nutrition.
mal-oc-clu-sion (mal-ō-kloo-zhōn) n. faulty contact of upper and lower teeth in biting.
mal-prac-tice (mal-prak-tis) n. wrongdoing.
malt (mawlt) n. 1. grain (usually barley) that has been allowed to sprout and then dried, used for brewing or distilling or vinegar making. 2. (informal) malt liquors. malt v. to make or be made into malt. malt’y adj. •malted milk, a drink made from dried milk and malt.
Mal-ta (mawl-tā) a country in the Mediterranean Sea.
Mal-tese (mawl-tez) n. (pl. -tese) 1. the language of Malta. 2. a native or inhabitant of Malta. Maltese adj. of or relating to its people or their language. •Maltese cat, a cat of a bluish-gray short-haired breed. Maltese cross, a cross with four equal arms broadening outward, often indented at the ends. Maltese dog, Maltese terrier, a spaniel or terrier of a small breed.
Mal-thu-si-an (mawl-thoo-zi-an) n. a supporter of the ideas of Malthus. D> T. R. Malthus (1766–1835) was an English clergyman who argued, in an essay, that population increases faster than the means of subsistence and that its increase should be checked, mainly by sexual restraint. Malthusian adj. of Malthus.
Mal-thu-si-an-is-m n.
malt-ose (mawl-tohs) n. a sugar produced by the hydrolysis of starch.
mal-treat (mal-treat) v. to treat badly. mal-treat’ment n.
ma-ma (mah-mā, må-måh) n. (informal) mother.
mam-ba (mahm-bah) n. a poisonous black or green South African tree snake mam-bo (mahm-boh) n. (pl. -bohs) 1. a Latin American dance like the rhumba. 2. the music for it. mambo v. to dance the mambo.
mam’ma (mah-mā) n. (informal) mother.
mam-mal (mah-mål) n. a member of the class of animals that suckle their young.
mam-mal’-an (må-mål-Ån) adj.
mam-ma-ry (må-mår-ē) adj. of the breasts. •mammary gland, a milk-secreting gland.
mam-mo-graph (måm-ō-graf) n. an x-ray of the breast for the purpose of detecting cancer. mam-mo-graph-y (ma-mog-rā-fē) n.
mam-mon (måm-ōn) n. (also Mammon) wealth personified, regarded as an evil influence.
mam-moth (måm-ōth) n. a large extinct elephant with a hairy coat and curved tusks. mammoth adj. huge.
mam-my (måm-ē) n. (pl. -mies) 1. (informal) mother. 2. (old use) a black woman in charge of white children.
man (man) n. (pl. men) 1. a human being, distinguished from other animals by superior mental development, power of articulate speech, and upright posture. 2. mankind. 3. an adult male person. 4. an individual male person considered as an expert or one’s assistant or opponent etc., if you want a good teacher, he’s your man. 5. a person of unspecified sex, an individual, every man for himself. 6. a manly person; is he man enough to do it?, is he brave enough? 7. a male servant or employee or workman, masters and men. 8. an ordinary soldier etc., not an officer. 9. one of the set of small objects moved on a board in playing board games such as chess and checkers. 10. the man (slang, among blacks) white men, especially the police. man v. (manned, man-ning) to supply with men for service or to operate something, man the pumps. •as one man, in unison. be one’s own man, to be independent. man about town, a man who spends much of his time in sophisticated social amusements. man Friday, a male assistant doing general duties in an office etc. (> From Man Friday, a character in the novel Robinson Crusoe by Daniel Defoe.) man in the street, an ordinary person, not an expert. man of the house, the male head of a household.
man of the world, see world. man on man, (in sports) with one player directly responsible for guarding another one. man to man, with frankness, let’s speak man to man. to a man, all without exception.
man. abbr. manual.
Man. abbr. Manitoba.
man·a·cle (man·ā-kēl) n. one of a pair of fetters for the hands. manacle v. (man·a·clen, man·a·cling) to fetter with manacles.

man·age (man·ij) v. (man·aged, man·ag·ing) 1. to have under effective control. 2. to be the manager of (a business etc.). 3. to succeed in doing or producing something (often with inadequate means), to be able to cope, managed without help. 4. to contrive to persuade (a person) to do what one wants, by use of tact or flattery or other means.

man·age·a·ble (man·i-jā·bēl) adj. able to be managed. man'age·a·bly adv. man'age·a·ble·ness n. man·age·a·bil·i·ty (man·i·jā·bil·i·tee) n.

man·age·ment (man·ij·mēnt) n. 1. managing, being managed. 2. the process of managing a business, people engaged in this.

man·ag·er (man·i-jēr) n. 1. a person who is in charge of the affairs of a business etc. 2. one who deals with the business affairs of a sports team or entertainer etc. 3. one who manages household affairs in a certain way, she is a good manager.

man·a·ge·ri·al (man·i-jēr·i·al) adj. man·ag·ing (man·i-jing) adj. having executive control or authority, managing editor.

Ma·na·gua (mā-nah-gwā) the capital of Nicaragua.

Ma·na·ma (ma·na-mā) the capital of Bahrain.

ma·nā (mā·nyah-nā) adv. & n. tomorrow, as a symbol of easygoing procrastination in Spanish-speaking countries.

man·a·tee (man·ā-tē) n. a large aquatic herbivorous mammal, a sea cow. Man·chuo (man·choo) n. (pl. -chus, -chu) 1. a member of the Tartar people forming the last Chinese imperial dynasty. 2. their language. Manchu adj.

Man·chu'ri·a (man·choor·i·ā) n. a region in northeast China. Man·chu·ri·an adj. & n.

man·da·mus (man·day·mūs) n. a judicial writ issued as a command to an inferior court, or ordering a person or corporation to perform a public or statutory duty.

man·da·rin (man·dā·rin) n. 1. a high-ranking influential official. 2. (also mandarin orange) a small flattened orange with a skin easy to peel. □ mandarin collar, a high upright collar not quite meeting in front.

Man·da·rin (man·dā·rin) n. the standard language of China.

man·date (man·dayt) n. authority given to someone to perform a certain task or apply certain policies. mandate v. (man·dat·ed, man·dat·ing) to give by a mandate.

man·da·to·ry (man·dā·tohr·ee) adj. obligatory, compulsory.

man·di·ble (man·dī·bēl) adj. 1. a jaw. 2. either of the parts of a bird's beak. 3. the corresponding part in insects etc. man·di·b·u·lar (man·dī·yu·lār) adj.

man·do·lin (man·dō·lin) n. a musical instrument rather like a guitar, played with a plectrum.

man·do·lin·ist (man·dō·lin·ist) n. a person who plays the mandolin.

man·drag·o·ra (man·drag·ō·ra) n. the mandrake, especially as a narcotic.

man·drape·ry (man·drape·rē) n. 1. a poisonous plant with white or purple flowers and large yellow fruit. 2. May apple (see May).

man·drel, man·dril (man·drīl) n. a shaft to which work is fixed while being turned, as in a lathe.

man·drill (man·drīl) n. a large fierce baboon of western Africa.

mane (mayn) n. 1. the long hair on a horse's or lion's neck. 2. a person's long hair. maned adj.

man·eat·er (man·ee·tēr) n. a cannibal, shark, tiger, etc. that eats human flesh.

man·ed·ly (man·ed·ly) adv.

ma·nége, ma·nege (ma·nezh) n. 1. a riding school. 2. the movements of a trained horse. 3. horsemanship.

ma·nes, Ma·nes (may·neez, mah·nes) n. pl. 1. the deified souls of departed ancestors. 2. (as n. sing.) the spirit of a departed person as an object of reverence.

ma·nu·ver (mā·noo·vēr) v. 1. to move a thing's position or course etc. carefully, maneuvered the car into the garage. 2. to perform maneuvers. 3. to guide skillfully or craftily, maneuvered the conversation toward money. maneuver n. 1. a planned and controlled movement of a vehicle or a body of troops etc. 2. a skilful or crafty proceeding, a trick. 3. maneuvers, the large-scale exercises of troops, warships, etc., on maneuvers.

ma·nu·ver·a·ble (ma·nu·ver·ā·bēl) adj. ma·nu·ver·er (ma·nu·ver·ēr) n. ma·nu·ver·a·bil·i·ty (mā·noo·vē·rā·bil·i·tee) n.

man·ful (man·fūl) adj. brave, resolute. man·ful·ly (man·fū·lē) adv.

man·ga·nese (mang·gā·neez) n. a hard brittle gray metal or its black oxide.

mange (maynj) n. a skin disease affecting hairy animals, caused by a parasite.

man·ger (mayn·jēr) n. a long open trough or box in a stable etc. for horses or cattle to eat from.

man·gle (man·gāl) n. a wringer. man·gle v. (man·gled, man·gling) to press (clothes etc.) in a mangle.
mangle² v. (man·gled, man·gling) to damage by cutting or crushing roughly, to mutilate. man·gler n.
man·go (man-goh) n. (pl. -goes, -gos)
1. a tropical fruit with yellowish flesh. 2. the tree that bears it.
man·grove (man-groh) n. a tropical tree or shrub growing in tidal areas and swamps, with many tangled roots above ground.
man·gy (mahn-jee) adj. (man·gier, man·gliest) 1. having mange. 2. squalid, shabby.
man·han·die (man-han-dè) v. (man·han·died, man·han·dled) 1. to move (a thing) by human effort alone. 2. to treat roughly. man·han·dler n.
man·hat·tan (man-hat·án) n. (often Man·hat·tan) a cocktail made of whiskey and sweet vermouth etc. ▷ Named after Manhattan, a borough of New York City.
man·hole (man-hohl) n. an opening (usually with a cover) through which a person can enter a sewer or pipe or boiler etc. to inspect or repair it.
man·hood (man-hood) n. 1. the state of being a man; reach manhood, become an adult male person. 2. manly qualities, courage. 3. the men of a country.
man·hour (man·howr) n. the amount of work that one person can do in one hour, considered as a unit.
man·hunt (man-hunt) n. an organized search for a person, especially a criminal.
ma·ni·a (may-ni·ā) n. 1. violent madness. 2. an extreme enthusiasm for something, a mania for sport.
-mania comb. form meaning a special type of madness, as in kleptomania; eager pursuit, as in bibliomania.
ma·ni·ac (may-ni·ak) n. a person affected with mania.
ma·ni·ac·al (mā-ni·ə-kal) adj. of or like a mania or a manic. ma·ni·ac·al·ly adv.
ma·ni·cic (man·ik) adj. of or affected by mania.
ma·ni·cic·de·pres·sive (man·ik·de·pres·iv) adj. of a mental disorder with alternating bouts of excitement and depression. man·ic-de·pres·sive n. a person suffering from this disorder.
man·i·cure (man·i·kyoor) n. cosmetic care and treatment of the hands and fingernails. manicure v. (man·i·cured, man·i·cur·ing) to apply such treatment to.
man·i·cur·ist (man·i·kyoor·ist) n. a person whose job is to manicure people’s hands.
man·i·fest (man·i·fest) adj. clear and unmistakable. manifest v. 1. to show (a thing) clearly, to give signs of, the crowd manifested its approval by cheering. 2. to become apparent or visible, no disease manifested itself. manifest n. a list of cargo or passengers carried by a ship or aircraft etc. man·i·fest·ly adv. man·i·fes·ta·tion (man·i·fest·a·shún) n.
man·i·fes·to (man·i·fes·tō) n. (pl. -tos, -toes) a public declaration of principles and policy.
man·i·fold (man·i·fold) adj. of many kinds, very varied. manifold n. 1. a pipe or chamber (in a piece of mechanism) with several openings that connect with other parts. 2. a copy, a facsimile. mani·fold v. to make several copies of.
man·i·kin, man·i·kin (man·i·kin) n. 1. a little man, a dwarf. 2. an artist’s lay figure. 3. an anatomical model of the body. 4. a mannequin.
Ma·ni·la (mā·ni·lā) the administrative capital of the Philippines. □Manila hemp, a strong fiber of a Philippine tree.
Manila paper, a brown wrapping paper made from Manila hemp. Manila rope, a rope made of Manila hemp. man·i·oc (man·i·ok) n. 1. cassava. 2. flour made from this.
man·i·pul·u·late (mā·nip·yū·lat) v. (mā·nip·yū·lat·ed, mā·nip·yū·lat·ing) 1. to handle or manage or use (a thing) skillfully. 2. to arrange or influence cleverly or craftily; manipulate figures, alter or adjust them to suit one’s purposes. man·i·pul·u·late·tor n. man·i·pul·u·late·tive (mā·nip·yū·lā·tīv) adj. man·i·pul·u·late·tion (mā·nip·yū·lā·shún) n.
Man·i·to·ba (man·i·toh·bā) a province of Canada.
man·i·tou (man·i·too) n. a good or evil spirit as an object of reverence among American Indians.
man·k·ind (man·kind) n. human beings in general, the human race.
man·like (man·lik) adj. 1. having the qualities of a man. 2. (of a woman) mannish. 3. (of an animal) resembling a human being.
man·ly (man·ly) adj. having the qualities expected of a man (as strength and courage), suitable for a man. man·li·ness n.
man·made (man·mayd) adj. made by man not by nature, synthetic.
man·na (man·nā) n. 1. (in the Bible) a substance miraculously supplied as food to the Israelites in the wilderness after the exodus from Egypt. 2. something unexpected and delightful.
manned (mand) v. see man. manned adj. (of a spacecraft etc.) carrying a human crew, manned flights.
man·ne·quin (man·é·kin) n. 1. a woman who models clothes. 2. a dummy for displaying clothes in a shop.

man-ner (man-ér) n. 1. the way a thing is done or happens. 2. a person’s bearing or way of behaving toward others. 3. kind, sort; all manner of things, every kind of thing. 4. a style in literature or art, sketch in the manner of Rembrandt. 5. manners, social behavior, good manners; polite social behavior, has no manners.

man-nish (man-ish) adj. having masculine characteristics, suitable for a man. man' nish-ly adv. man’ nish-ness n.

man-or (man-ór) n. a large country house or the landed estate belonging to it; manor house, this house. ma-no-ri-al (má-nohr-i-al) adj.

man-pow-er (man-pow-ér) n. 1. power supplied by human physical effort. 2. the number of people working on a particular task or available for work or service.

man-qú (mahng-kay) adj. that might have been but is not, not fulfilled; a Beethoven manqué, an unsuccessful composer. □French.

man-sard (man-sahrd) n. (also mansard roof) a type of roof that has a steep lower part and a less steep upper part on all four sides of a building.

manse (mans) n. a Presbyterian minister’s house and land, especially in Scotland.

man-ser vant (man-sur-vánt) n. (pl. men-ser-vants, pr. men-sur-vánts) a male servant.

man-sion (man-shón) n. a large stately house.

man-sized (man-sizd) adj. (also man-size) 1. of the size of a man. 2. adequate for a man, a man-sized sandwich.

man-slaugh-ter (man-slaw-ter) n. the act of killing a person unlawfully but not intentionally, or by negligence.

man-sue-tude (man-swé-tood) n. (old use) meekness, docility, gentleness.

man-ta (man-tá) n. a shawl or cloak from the southwestern U.S. and Latin America. □manta ray, a very large ray (fish) with large flaps on each side of the head.

man-teau (man-toh) n. a loose cloak.

man-tel (man-tél) n. a structure of wood or marble etc. above and around a fireplace.

man-tel-piece (man-tél-piece) (man-tél-pieces) n. a shelf above a fireplace.

man-til-la (man-til-á, -tee-á) n. a lace scarf worn by Spanish women over the hair and shoulders.

man-tis (man-tis) n. (pl. -tis-es, -tis, pr. -teez) (also praying mantis) an insect resembling a grasshopper.

man-tis-sa (man-tis-sa) n. the decimal part of a logarithm.

man-tie (man-ti) n. 1. a loose sleeveless cloak. 2. something likened to this, a covering, a mantle of secrecy. 3. a fragile gauzy cover fixed around the flame of a gas lamp, producing a strong light when heated. 4. the geological region between the crust and core of Earth. 5. a mantel. mantle v. (man-tied, man-tling) to envelop or cover as if with a mantle.

man-tle-rock (man-tél-rok) n. the layer of crumbled rock fragments, including soil, that covers Earth’s solid rock.

man-tra (man-trá) n. a Hindu or Buddhist devotional incantation.

man-u-al (man-yoo-ál) adj. 1. of the hands. 2. done or operated by hand, manual labor; manual gearshift, operated by the driver, not automatically.

manual n. 1. a handbook. 2. an organ keyboard that is played with the hands, not with the feet. 3. a military exercise in handling the rifle. man’ u-al-ly adv.

man-u-al alphabet, a system of signs made with the hands, representing letters etc., for communication with deaf people. manual training, training in woodwork, metalwork, etc.

manuf. abbr. 1. manufacture. 2. manufacturing.

man-u-fac-ture (man-yú-fak-chúr) v. (man-u-factured, man-u-facturing) 1. to make or produce (goods) on a large scale by machinery. 2. to invent, manufactured an excuse. manufacture n. the process of manufacturing. man-u-fac-tur-er n.

man-u-nure (má-noor) n. any substance such as dung or compost or artificial material used as a fertilizer; manure v. (ma-nured, ma-nur-ing) to apply manure to. □green manure, see green.

man-u-script (man-yú-skript) n. 1. something written by hand, not typed or printed. 2. an author’s work as written or typed, not a printed book.

Manx (mangks) adj. of the Isle of Man.
Manx n. 1. the Manx, Manx people. 2. their Celtic language. □Manx cat, a tailless variety of domestic cat.

man-y (men-ee) adj. (more, most) great in number, numerous; many a time, many times. many pronoun many persons or things, many were lost. many n. a large number of people or things, the many.

man-y-sid-ed (men-ee-si-did) adj. having many sides, aspects, capabilities, interests, etc.

Mao-ri (mow-ree) n. (pl. -ris) a member of a brown aboriginal race in New Zealand. Maori adj.

map (map) n. a representation (usually on a plane surface) of Earth's surface or a part of it, or of the sky showing the positions of the stars etc. map v. (mapped, mapping) 1. to make a map of. 2. to plan in detail, map out one's time. map' per n. □ put a thing on the map, (informal) to make it become famous or important.

ma-ple (má-pél) n. a kind of tree with broad leaves, grown for ornament or for its wood. □ maple sugar, a sugar made by evaporating the sap of the maple. maple syrup, a syrup made by boiling down the sap of the maple.

Ma-pu-to (má-poo-toh) the capital of Mozambique.

mar (mahr) v. (marred, marrying) to damage, to spoil.

mar. abbr. 1. maritime. 2. married.

Mar. abbr. March.

mar-a-bou (má-ra-boo) n. (pl. -bous, -bou) 1. a large stork of Africa. 2. its down used as a trimming.

ma-ra-ca (má-rah-ka) n. a hand-held club-like gourd containing beans, beads, etc., shaken in pairs as percussion instruments.

ma-r-a-schino (má-ra-skee-noh, -shee) n. (pl. -nos) 1. a strong sweet liquor made from small black Dalmatian cherries. 2. (also maraschino cherry) a cherry cooked in syrup and flavored with maraschino.

ma-r-a-thon (má-ra-thon) n. 1. a long-distance foot race, especially that of 26 miles 385 yards in the modern Olympic Games. (Named after Marathon in Greece, where an invading Persian army was defeated in 490 B.C.; a man who fought at the battle ran to Athens, announced the victory, and died.) 2. any very long race or other test of endurance.

ma-raud-ing (má-raw-ding) adj. going about in search of plunder or prey.

ma-raud’er n. one who does this.

mar-bie (mahr-bél) n. 1. a kind of limestone that can be polished, used in sculpture and building. 2. a piece of sculpture in marble, the Elgin Marbles. 3. a small ball made of glass or clay etc. used in games played by children. marble adj. like marble, hard and smooth and white or mottled.

mar-bled (mahr-beld) adj. 1. having a veined or mottled appearance. 2. of meat with alternating layers of lean and fat.

mar-bling (mahr-bling) n. 1. (in meat) the alternation of fat and lean. 2. a pattern resembling marble.

mar-ca-site (mahr-kä-sit) n. crystallized iron pyrites, a piece of this used as an ornament.

mar-cel (mahr-sel) n. a kind of deep wave in the hair. marcel v. (marcelled, marcel-ling) to wave the hair in this manner.

march (mahrch) v. 1. to walk in a military manner with regular paces, to walk in an organized column. 2. to walk purposefully, marched up to the manager. 3. to cause to march or walk, marched them up the hill; he was marched off. 4. to progress steadily, time marches on.

march n. 1. marching, the distance covered by marching troops etc.; a protest march, a demonstration taking the form of a parade. 2. progress, the march of events. 3. music suitable for marching to. march'er n. □ get one's marching orders, to be told to go. on the march, marching, advancing.

March (mahrch) n. the third month of the year.

march-es (mahr-chiz) n. pl. (old use) border regions.

mar-chio-ness (mahr-shö-nis) n. 1. the wife or widow of a marquis. 2. a woman holding the rank of marquis in her own right.

Mar-di gras (mahr-dee grah) merrymaking on the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday.

mare (mair) n. the female of a horse or related animal. □ mare's nest, a discovery that is thought to be interesting but turns out to be false or worthless; a very complicated or confused situation; his room is a mare's nest, is very disorderly.

ma-re (mahr-ay) n. (pl. ma·ri·a, pr. mahr-i-ā) a large flat dark area on the moon, once thought to be a sea. □ mare clau-sum (klow-suam), a sea under the jurisdiction of a particular country. mare li-be·rum (leebé-ruum), a sea open to all nations.

mar-ga-rine (mahr-jär-rin) n. a substance used like butter, made from animal or vegetable fats.

mar·gin (mahr-jín) n. 1. an edge or border of a surface. 2. a blank space around printed or written matter on a page. 3. an amount over and above the essential minimum, was defeated by a narrow margin; margin of safety. 4. (in business) the difference between cost price and selling price, profit margins.

mar·gín·al (mahr-ji-nál) adj. 1. written in a margin, marginal notes. 2. of or at an edge. 3. very slight in amount, its usefulness is marginal. mar·gín·al·ly adv.

mar·gi·n·a·lly (mar-i-jin-a-ly) adv.

mar–gin·nul·la (mahr-gi-nul-ly) n. pl. marginal notes.

mar·grave (mahr-grave) n. the hereditary title of some princes of the Holy Roman Empire.

mar·gue·rite (mahr-gür·reit) n. a large daisy-like flower with a yellow center and white petals.

mar·i·a·chi (mahr-i–ah·che) n. 1. a strolling Mexican band. 2. a member of such a band. 3. its music.

mar·i·gold (mahr-i-gold) n. a garden plant with golden or bright yellow flowers.

mar·i·ja·na (mahr-i–jah·ná) n. the dried leaves, stems, and flowering tops of the hemp plant, used to make a hallucinogenic drug, especially in the form of cigarettes.

mar·im·ba (mahr–i·má-bá) n. 1. a xylophone of African and Central American natives. 2. a modern orchestral instrument evolved from this.

mar·i·na (mahr–i·ná) n. a harbor for yachts and pleasure boats.

mar·i·nade (mahr-i–nád) n. a seasoned flavored liquid in which meat or fish is steeped before being cooked. mar·i·nade (mahr-i–nád) v. (mar·i·nád·ed, mar·i·nád·ing) to marinate.

mar·i·nat·e (mahr-i·ná·t) v. (mar·i·nat·ed, mar·i·nat·ing) to steep in a marinade.

mar·ine (mahr·i·n) adj. 1. of or living in the sea, marine animals. 2. of shipping, nautical, marine insurance. 3. for use at sea. marine n. 1. a country’s shipping, the merchant marine. 2. a member of a body of troops trained to serve on land or sea. □Tell it to the marines, (informal) I do not believe you. U.S. Marine Corps, the Marines, a branch of the U.S. Navy trained for land and sea operations.

mar·i·ner (mahr·i·nár) n. a sailor, a seaman.

mar·i·o·net·te (mahr·i–ó·net) n. a puppet worked by strings.

mar·i·tal (mahr·i·tal) adj. of marriage, of or between husband and wife. □Do not confuse marital with marital.

mar·i·time (mahr·i·tím) adj. 1. living or situated or found near the sea, maritime provinces. 2. of seafaring or shipping, maritime law.

mar·jo·ra·mum (mahr·jō·rá·rām) n. an herb with fragrant leaves, used in cooking.
márk (mahrk) n. the unit of money in East Germany.

márk (mahrk) v. 1. something that visibly breaks the uniformity of a surface, especially one that spoils its appearance. 2. a distinguishing feature or characteristic. 3. something that indicates the presence of a quality or feeling, as a mark of respect. 4. a symbol placed on a thing to indicate its origin or ownership or quality; Mark I or II, the first (or second) design of a machine or piece of equipment etc. 5. a written or printed symbol, punctuation marks. 6. a lasting impression, poverty had left its mark. 7. a unit awarded for the merit or quality of a piece of work or a performance, got high marks; deserves a good mark for effort, deserves credit. 8. a target, a standard to be aimed at; not feeling up to the mark, not feeling well. 9. a line or object serving to indicate position. mark v. 1. to make a mark on. 2. to distinguish with a mark, to characterize. 3. to assign marks of merit to. 4. to notice, to watch carefully, mark my words! □Make one’s mark, to make a significant achievement, to become famous. mark down, to notice and remember the place etc. of; to reduce the price of. mark off, to separate by a boundary. mark out, to mark the boundaries of; to destine, to single out, is marked out for promotion. mark time, to move the feet rhythmically as if in marching but without advancing; to occupy time in routine work without making progress. mark up, to increase the price of. off the mark, off the point, irrelevant; having made a start. on the mark, ready to start; correct, right on the mark.

Mark (mahrk) n. 1. one of the twelve Apostles, companion of Peter and Paul, possibly the author of the second Gospel. 2. the second Gospel.

mark·down (mahrk·down) n. 1. a reduced price. 2. the amount of this reduction.

marked (mahrkd) adj. clearly noticeable, a marked improvement. mark·ed·ly (mahr·kid·li) adv. □A marked man, one who is singled out as an object of vengeance.

mark·er (mahr·kár) n. 1. a person or tool that marks. 2. something that serves to mark a position. 3. (slang) an IOU.
market / martial

mar\\-ket (mahr-kit) n. 1. a gathering for the sale of goods or livestock. 2. a space or building used for this. 3. the conditions or opportunity for buying or selling, found a ready market. 4. a place where goods may be sold, a particular class of buyers, foreign markets; the teenage market. 5. the stock market. market v. to offer for sale; go marketing, to go buying food etc. for domestic use. □ be in the market for, to wish to buy. market day, the day on which a market is regularly held. market research, study of consumers' needs and preferences. market town, one where a market is held regularly. market value, the amount for which something can be sold, its current value. on the market, offered for sale.

mar\\-ket\\-a\\-ble (mahr-ki-tâ-bêl) adj. able or fit to be sold.

mar\\-ket\\-place (mahr-kit-pla) n. an open space where a market is held in a town.

mark\\-ing (mahr-king) n. 1. a mark or marks. 2. the coloring of an animal's skin or feathers or fur.

marks\\-man (mahrks\-mân) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mên) a person who is a skilled shot.

marks'\-man\-ship n.

mark\\-up (mahrk-up) n. the amount a seller adds to the cost price of an article to determine the selling price.

mar\\-lin (mahr-lin) n. (pl. -lin, -lins) a large saltwater fish with a pointed snout.

mar\\-line\\-spike, mar\\-lin\\-spike (mahr-lin-spik) n. a pointed iron tool used to separate strands of rope or wire.

mar\\-ma\\-lade (mahr-mâ-lad) n. a kind of jam made from citrus fruit, especially oranges.

mar\\-mo\\-re\\-al (mahr-mohr-\-i-\-al) adj. of or like marble.

mar\\-mo\\-set (mahr-mô-set) n. a small bushy-tailed monkey of tropical America.

mar\\-mot (mahr-môt) n. a small burrowing animal of the squirrel family.

ma\\-room\(^{1}\) (mâ-\-room) n. a brownish-red color. maroon adj. brownish red.

maroon\(^{2}\) v. to abandon or isolate (a person), as on an island or in a deserted place.

mar\\-que\\-e (mahr-kee) n. 1. a canopy over the entrance to a building. 2. a large tent used for a party or an exhibition etc.

mar\\-que\\-ss (mahr-kwêz) = marquis.

mar\\-que\\-try (mahr-\-ki-\-tree) n. inlaid work in wood or ivory etc.

mar\\-quis (mahr-kwis, mahr-kee) n. a nobleman ranking between duke and earl or count.

mar\\-quise (mahr-keez) n. (pl. quises, pr. -kee-zis) 1. (in European nobility) a marchioness. 2. a finger ring set with an oval pointed cluster of gems.

mar\\-qu\\-il\\-sette (mahr-\-ki-zet) n. a fine light net fabric used for curtains etc.

mar\\-ri\-age (mar-\-ij) n. 1. the state in which a man and a woman are formally united for the purpose of living together (usually in order to procreate children) and with certain legal rights and obligations toward each other. 2. the act or ceremony of being married.

mar\\-ri\-age\\-a\\-ble (mar-i-\-jâ-bêl) adj. old enough or fit for marriage.

mar\\-row (mahr-\-oh) n. the soft fatty substance in the cavities of bones; felt chilled to the marrow, right through.

mar\\-row\\-bone (mahr-\-oh\-bohn) n. a bone containing edible marrow.

mar\\-ry (mahr-\-ee) v. (mar\-ried, mar\-ry\-ing) 1. to unite or give or take in marriage. 2. to take a husband or wife in marriage, she never married. 3. to unite, to put (things) together as a pair.

mar\-ried (mahr\-ceed) adj.

Mars (mahrz) n. a planet in the solar system.

Mar\-sa\-la (mahr-sah-la) n. a dark sweet fortified wine of a kind originally made in Sicily.

Mar\-sell\-aise (mahr-say\-ez) n. the national anthem of France.

marsh (mahrsh) n. low-lying watery ground. marsh\'y adj. □ marsh gas, methane. marsh marigold, a golden-flowered plant growing in moist meadows etc.

mar\\-shal (mahrsh-\-al) n. 1. an officer of high or the highest rank, Air Marshal; Field Marshal. 2. an administrative officer of a federal court. 3. the head of a police or fire department. 4. an official with responsibility for arranging certain public events or ceremonies. marshal v. (mar\-\-shaled, mar\-shaled\-ing) 1. to arrange in proper order. 2. to cause to assemble. 3. to usher, marshaled him into the governor's office.

marsh\-land (mahrsh-land) n. marshy land.

marsh\-mal\-low (mahrsh-\-mel-oh) n. a soft confection made from sugar, egg white, and gelatin.

mar\-su\-pi\-al (mahr-soo-pi-\-al) n. an animal, such as the kangaroo, the female of which has a pouch in which its young are carried until they are fully developed.

marsupial adj. of a marsupial.

mart (mahrt) n. a market.

mar\-ten (mahr-tên) n. a weasel-like animal with thick soft fur.

mar\-tal (mahr-shal) adj. of war, warlike, martial music. mar\-\-tal\-ly adv. mar\-\-tail\-ism n. mar\-\-\-tail-\-ist n. □ martial arts, ways of fighting, especially without weapons. martial law, military rule imposed on a country temporarily in an emergency, suspending ordinary law.

Mar-tian (mahr-shan) adj. of the planet Mars. Martian n. (in science fiction etc.) an inhabitant of Mars.

mar-tin (mahr-tin) n. a bird of the swallow family.

mar-ti-net (mahr-ti-net) n. a person who demands strict obedience.

mar-ti·n·gale (mahr-ti-nayl) n. 1. a strap or set of straps fastened to prevent a horse from rearing. 2. a rope for holding down a jib boom. 3. a gambling system of continually doubling the stakes in hope of an eventual win that must yield an overall profit.

mar-ti·ni (mahr-tln) n. 1. a cocktail of gin or vodka etc. and dry vermouth.

mar-tyr (mahr-tyr) n. 1. a person who suffers death rather than give up religious faith. 2. one who undergoes death or great suffering in support of a belief or cause or principle. 3. one who suffers greatly; is a martyr to rheumatism, suffers constantly from this. martyr v. to put to death or torment as a martyr.

mar-tyr·dom (mahr-tyr-dom) n.

mar·vel·ous (mahr-vel-ūs) adj. astonishing, excellent. mar·vel·ous·ly adv. mar·vel·ous·ness n.

Marx·ism (mahrk-siz-em) n. the political and economic theory of Karl Marx, a German socialist writer (1818–83), on which Communism is based. Marx’ist adj. & n. Marx’ist·an adj. & n.

Mar·y·land (mer-i-länd) a state of the U.S.

mar·zi·pan (mahr-zip-ən) n. a paste of ground almonds, egg whites, and sugar, made into small cakes or candies or used to coat large cakes.

 masc. abbr. masculine.

mas·ca·ra (mas-kər-ə) n. a cosmetic for darkening the eyelashes.

mas·co·ny (mas-kən-ə) n. a concentration of dense matter below the moon’s surface, with strong gravitational pull.

mas·cot (mas-kot) n. a person or thing believed to bring good luck.

mas·cu·line (mas-kə-lin) adj. 1. of or like or suitable for men, having the qualities or appearance considered characteristic of a man. 2. having the grammatical form suitable for the names of males or for words corresponding to these, “hero” is a masculine noun, “heroine” is the corresponding feminine noun. masculine n.
what one is not, masqueraded as a policeman. masquerader.

mass (mas) n. 1. a coherent unit of matter with no specific shape. 2. a large quantity or heap, an unbroken extent; the garden was a mass of flowers, was full of flowers.
3. (in technical usage) the quantity of matter a body contains (called weight in nontechnical usage). 4. the masses, the common people. mass v. to gather or assemble into a mass. mass-less adj.

mass hysteria, hysteria affecting many persons at the same time. mass media, the media (see media). mass meeting, one attended by a large number of people. mass number, the total number of protons and neutrons in the atomic nucleus. mass production, the manufacture in large numbers of identical articles by standardized processes.

Mass (mas) n. (especially in the Roman Catholic Church) 1. a celebration of the Eucharist. 2. the form of service used in this, a musical setting for the words of it.

Mas-sa-chu-setts (mas-á-choo-sits) a state of the U.S.

mas-sa-cr (mas-á-kár) n. slaughter of a large number of people or animals. mas-sac-cre v. (mas-sa-cred, massacc-ing) to slaughter in large numbers.

mas-sage (ma-sahzh, -sahzh) n. rubbing and kneading the body to lessen pain or stiffness. massage v. (mas-saged, mas-saging) to treat in this way.

mas-sag'er n. mas-sag'ist n. massage parlor, an establishment for massage and prostitution.

mas-sa-sai (ma-sasai) n. a man who practices massage professionally.

mas-seuse (mas-seusz, -sooz) n. a woman who practices massage professionally.

mas-tiff (mas-sef) n. mountain heights forming a compact group.

mas-sive (mas-iv) adj. 1. large and heavy or solid. 2. unusually large. 3. substantial, a massive improvement. mas-sively adv. mas-sive-ness n.

mass-pro-duce (mas-proodooz) v.
(mass-produced, mass-pro-ducing) to manufacture by mass production (see mass).

mast (mast) n. 1. a long upright pole that supports a ship's sails. 2. a tall pole from which a flag is flown. 3. a tall steel structure for the aerials of a radio or television transmitter. mast-ed adj. before the mast, (old use) serving as an ordinary seaman (quartered in the forecastle).

mas-tard n. the fruit of beech, oak, chestnut, and other forest trees, used as food for pigs.

mas-tec-to-my (mas-tek-to-mee) n. (pl. mastectomies) surgical removal of a breast.

mas-ter (mas-tér) n. 1. a man who has control of people or things. 2. the captain of a merchant ship. 3. the male head of a household. 4. the male owner of a dog etc. 5. an employer, masters and men. 6. a male teacher, a schoolmaster.

Master, the holder of a university degree awarded for study beyond the level of a bachelor's degree; Master of Arts or Science, a master's degree or its holder.

1. a respected teacher. 9. a person with very great skill, a great artist. 10. a chess player of proven ability at international level. 11. a document or film or record e tc. from which a series of copies is made.

Master, a title prefixed to the name of a boy who is not old enough to be called Mr. master v. 1. to overcome, to bring under control. 2. to acquire knowledge or skill in. master chef, the chief chef. master chief petty officer, a U.S. Navy petty officer of the highest rank. master gunnery sergeant, a U.S. Marine Corps noncommissioned officer. master key, a key that opens a number of locks, each also opened by a separate key. master mariner, the captain of a merchant ship. master of ceremonies, a person in charge of a social or other occasion, who introduces the events or performers. master plan, an overall plan, a guide for all actions to be taken. master sergeant, a non-commissioned officer of second highest rank in the U.S. Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps.

mas-ter-ful (mas-tér-fuhl) adj. 1. dominineering. 2. very skillful. mas-ter-fully adv.

mas-ter-ly (mas-tér-lee) adj. worthy of a master, very skillful.

mas-ter-mind (mas-tér-mind) n. 1. a person with outstanding mental ability. 2.
the person directing an enterprise. mastermind v. to plan and direct, master-mined the whole scheme.

mas-ter-piece (mas-tér-pees) n. 1. an outstanding piece of workmanship. 2. a person's best piece of work.

mas-ter-stroke (mas-tér-stroh) n. an outstandingly skillful act of policy etc.

mas-ter-work (mas-tér-wurk) n. a masterpiece.

mas-ter-y (mas-tér-ree) n. 1. complete control, supremacy. 2. thorough knowledge or skill, his mastery of Arabic.

mast-head (mast-hed) n. 1. the highest part of the mast, especially of the lower mast as a place of observation or punishment. 2. the title etc. of a newspaper etc.
were matched with or against each other. 2. to equal in ability or skill etc. 3. to be alike or correspond in color, quality, quantity, etc. 4. to find something similar to, I want to match this wool. 5. to put or bring together as corresponding, matching unemployed workers with available jobs. match'er n. □match point, the stage in a match when one side will win if it gains the next point; this point.

match-book (mach-buuk) n. a cardboard folder for holding matches.

match-box (mach-boks) n. a box for holding matches.

match-less (mach-lis) adj. unequalled.

match-less-ly adv.

match-mak'er (mach-may-kér) n. 1. a person who is fond of scheming to bring about marriages, one who arranges marriages. 2. a person who arranges boxing matches and wrestling matches.

match/mak'-ling adj. & n.

match-wood (mach-wuud) n. 1. wood that splinters easily. 2. wood reduced to splinters.

mate¹ (mayt) n. 1. a partner in marriage. 2. one of a mated pair of birds or animals. 3. a fellow member or sharer, teammate; roommate. 4. an officer on a merchant ship ranking next below the master.

mate v. (mach-ed, mat-ing) 1. to put or come together as a pair or as corresponding. 2. to put (two birds or animals) together so that they can breed, to come together in order to breed.

mate² n. a checkmate.

ma-te-ri-al-al (má-teer-i-ál) n. 1. the substance or things from which something is or can be made or with which something is done, clay is used as material for bricks; materials to do the job; select those regarded as officer material, those with qualities that make them suitable to become officers. 2. cloth, fabric. 3. facts or information or events etc. to be used in composing something, gathering material for a book on poverty. material adj. 1. of matter, consisting of matter, of the physical (as opposed to spiritual) world, material things; had no thought of material gain. 2. of bodily comfort, our material well-being. 3. important, significant, at the material time; is this material to the issue? ma-te'-ri-al-ly adv.

ma-te'-ri-al-ism (má-teer-i-á-liz-ém) n. 1. belief that only the material world exists. 2. excessive concern with material possessions rather than spiritual or intellectual values. ma-te'-ri-al-ist n. ma-te'-ri-al-ism (má-teer-i-á-lis-tik) adj. ma-te'-ri-al-iz-es'tic ly adv.

ma-te'-ri-al-ize (má-teer-i-á-liz) v. (mamatériel, matériel / mature te·ri·al·ized, ma·te·ri·al·iz·ing 1. to appear or become visible, the ghost didn’t materialize; the boy failed to materialize, did not come. 2. to become a fact, to happen, if the threatened strike materializes, ma·te·ri·al·iza·tion (má-teer-i-á-li-zá-shún) n.

ma·tér·nal (má-tur-nál) adj. 1. of a mother, of motherhood. 2. motherly. 3. related through one’s mother; materna·l un·cle, one’s mother’s brother. ma·ter·nal·ly adv.

ma·ter·ni·ty (má-tur-ni-tee) n. motherhood. matern·ity adj. of or suitable for caring for women in pregnancy or childbirth, maternity dress; maternity ward.

math (math) n. (informal) mathematics.

math, abbr. 1. mathematical. 2. mathematician. 3. mathematics.

math·e·ma·ti·cian (math·é-ma·ti·kian) n. a person who is skilled in mathematics.

math·e·mat·ics (math·é-ma·tiks) n. 1. the science of number, quantity, and space. 2. the use of this science. math·e·mat·i·cal adj. math·e·mat·i·cal·ly adv.

mat·i·née, mat·i·née (mat·é-nay) n. an afternoon performance at a theater.

mat·i·ne·s (mat-inz) n. 1. (in the Church of England) morning prayer. 2. (in the Roman Catholic Church) prayers said between midnight and four A.M.

ma·tri·arch (may-tri-arh) n. a woman who is head of a family or tribe. ma·tri·arch·al (may-tri-ar-chál) adj.

ma·tri·arch·y (may-tri-ar-kee) n. (pl. -chies) 1. a social organization in which the mother is head of the family and descent is through the female line. 2. a society in which women have most of the authority.

ma·tri·cide (mat-ri-sid) n. 1. a person who kills his mother. 2. the crime itself.

ma·tri·cal·lal (mat-ri-sir-dal) adj.

ma·tric·u·late (má-trik-yü-lat) v. (ma·tric·u·lat·ed, ma·tric·u·lat·ing) to enroll or be enrolled as a student at a college or university.

ma·tric·u·la·tion (má-trik-yü-lá-shün) n.

ma·tric·u·mo·ny (mat-ri-moh-nee) n. marriage. ma·tric·u·mo·ni·al (mat-ri-moh-ni-ál) adj. ma·tric·u·mo·ni·al·ly adv.

ma·trix (may-triks) n. (pl. -trix·es, -trix·ses, pr. -tri·seez) 1. a mold in which something is cast or shaped. 2. a place in which a thing is developed.

ma·trix·ing (may-trik-sing) n. an electronic process by which four-channel sound can be recorded in a two-channel form, to be played back by reconversion to four channels.

ma·trona (may-trón) n. 1. a married woman, especially one who is middle-aged or elderly and dignified. 2. a woman attendant in a prison. 3. the head nurse in a hospital or other institution. ma·tron· of honor, a married woman as the chief attendant of the bride at a wedding.

ma·tron·ly (may-tron-lee) adj. like or suitable for a dignified married woman.

ma·tron·ly·ness n.

matt, matte = mat.

Mat., abbr. Matthew.

mat·er· (mat·ér) n. 1. that which occupies space in the visible world, as opposed to spirit or mind or qualities etc. 2. a particular substance or material, coloring matter. 3. a discharge from the body, pus. 4. material for thought or expression, the content of a book or speech as distinct from its form, subject matter. 5. things of a specified kind, reading mat·er. 6. a situation or business being considered, it’s a serious matter; a matter for complaint. 7. a quantity, for a matter of forty years. mat·er v. to be of importance, it doesn’t matter. a mat·er of course, an event etc. that follows naturally or is to be expected. for that mat·er, as far as that is concerned. mat·e·r of fact, something that is a fact not an opinion etc. no mat·er, it is of no importance. the mat·er, the thing that is amiss, the trouble or difficulty, what’s the mat·er?

mat·er·of·fact (mat·ér-öv-fakt) adj. strictly factual and not imaginative or emotional, down-to-earth. mat·e·r of fact·ly adv. mat·e·r of fact·ness n.

Mat·he·w (math-yoo) n. 1. one of the twelve Apostles, traditionally but erroneously thought to be the author of the first Gospel, which was written after A.D. 70 and was based largely on St. Mark. 2. the first Gospel.

mat·ting (mat·ing) n. mats, material for making these.

mat·tock (mat·ök) n. a farm tool with the blade set at right angles to the handle, used for loosenacing soil and digging out roots.

mat·ress (mat·ris) n. a fabric or heavy cloth case filled with soft or firm or springy material, used on or as a bed.

mat·u·rate (má-chü-er·at) v. (mat·u·rat·ed, mat·u·rat·ing) (of a boil etc.) to come to maturation.

mat·u·ra·tion (má-chü-ray-shün) n. the process of maturing, ripening. mat·u·ra·tion·al (math·ű-rah·shün) adj. mat·u·ra·tive (má-chöör·a·tiv) adj.

mat·ure (má-toor, -choor) adj. 1. having reached full growth or development. 2. having or showing fully developed men-Maypole / means

550

mayor's ceremonial duties. 2. a woman mayor.

May-pole (may-pohl) n. a tall pole for dancing around on May Day, with ribbons attached to its top.

maze (maze) n. 1. a complicated network of paths, a labyrinth. 2. a network of paths and hedges designed as a puzzle in which to try and find one's way. 3. a state of bewilderment. maz' y adj.

ma-zel (mah-zel) n. (informal) luck.

ma-zel tov (tawv), an expression of pleasure or congratulations among Jews.

Yiddish, = good luck.

ma-zur-ka (mā-zur-kā) n. a lively Polish dance in triple time, music for this.

MBA abbr. Master of Business Administration.

Mba-bane (ṃ-bar-bānā) the capital of Swaziland.

mc abbr. megacycle.

MC abbr. 1. Marine Corps. 2. Medical Corps. 3. Member of Congress.

M.C. abbr. 1. Master of Ceremonies. 2.
Member of Congress.

Mc-Coy (mā-koi) n. (informal) the real thing, the genuine article, this pearl's the real McCoy.

Mc-Kin-ley (mā-kin-lee), Wil-lam (1843–1901) the twenty-fifth president of the U.S. 1897–1901.

MCPO abbr. master chief petty officer.

mc/s abbr. megacycle(s) per second.

Md symbol mendelevium.

MD abbr. 1. Maryland. 2. Middle Dutch.

Md. abbr. Maryland.

M.D. abbr. Doctor of Medicine.

mdse. abbr. merchandise.

MDT abbr. Mountain Daylight Time.

me (mē) pronoun 1. the objective case of
I. (⇒See the note under between.) 2.
(informal) = I, it's me. ⇒Only the most cautious speaker says, "It is I" when this statement stands alone, but it would be incorrect to use me in the sentence "It is I who will have to pay."

ME abbr. 1. Maine. 2. Middle English.

Me. abbr. Maine.

M.E. abbr. 1. Mechanical Engineer. 2. Middle English. 3. Mining Engineer.

mead (meed) n. an alcoholic drink of fermented honey and water.

mead-ow (med-oh) n. a field of grass.

mead-ow-land (med-oh-land) n.
meadow.

mead-ow-lark (med-oh-lahrk) n. an American songbird of open fields.

mead-ow-sweet (med-oh-sweet) n. a North American meadow plant with fragrant creamy-white flowers.

mea-ger (mē-gēr) adj. scanty in amount.

mea'ger-ly adv.

mea'l (meel) n. 1. an occasion when food is eaten. 2. the food itself. ⇒make a meal of, to consume as a meal. meal ticket, a ticket entitling one to a meal; (informal) a person or thing that provides one with food.

meal'2 n. coarsely ground grain.

meal-time (meal-tīm) n. the usual time for a meal.

meal-y (mē-lee) adj. (meal-i-er, meal-i-est) 1. like or containing meal, dry and powdery. 2. mealymouthed.

meal-y-bug (mē-lee-bug) n. an insect infesting vines etc., whose body is covered with a white powdery secretion.

meal-y-mouthed (mē-lee-mouthd, -mowthd) adj. trying excessively to avoid offending people.

mean1 (mēn) adj. (of a point or quantity) equally far from two extremes, average.

mean n. a middle point or condition or course etc. ⇒mean time or mean solar time, the time based on a fictitious sun moving in the celestial equator at the mean rate of the real sun.

mean2 v. (meant, mean-ing) 1. to have as one's purpose or intention. 2. to design or destined for a purpose; it was meant for you, you were intended to receive or hear it. 3. to intend to convey (a sense) or to indicate or refer to (a thing). 4.
(of words) to have as an equivalent in the same or another language, "maybe" means "perhaps." 5. to entail, to involve, it means catching the early train. 6. to be likely or certain to result in, this means war. 7. to be of a specified importance, the honor means a lot to me. ⇒mean business, (informal) to be ready to take action, not merely talk. mean well, to have good intentions. what do you mean by it?, can you justify such behavior?

mean3 adj. 1. poor in quality, value, or appearance, low in rank; he is no mean golfer, he is a very good one. 2. unkind, small-minded, spiteful, a mean trick.
3. not generous, miserly. 4. vicious.

mean'ly adv. mean'ness n.

mea-n'ner (mē-an-dér) v. 1. (of a stream) to follow a winding course, flow-ning slowly and gently. 2. to wander in a leisurely way. mea-ner n. a winding course. mea-an'er n.

mean-ling (mē-nil) n. what is meant.

meaning adj. full of meaning, expressive, gave him a meaning look; a well-meaning teacher, one with good intentions. mean-ing-less adj. ⇒with meaning, full of meaning, significantly.

mean-ing-ful (mē-nil-fūl) adj. significant. mean-ing-ful-ly adv.

means (mēnz) n. sing. that by which a meant / mechanize result is brought about; transported their goods by means of trucks, by using trucks.

means n. pl. resources, money or other wealth considered as a means of supporting oneself, has private means. □by all means, certainly. by no means, not nearly, it is by no means certain. means test, an inquiry to establish a person's neediness before financial help is given.

meant (ment) see mean².

mean·time (meen-tim) n. an intervening period of time, in the meantime. mean·time adv. meanwhile.

mean·while (meen-hwal) adv. 1. in the intervening period of time. 2. at the same time, while something else takes place. meanwhile n. meantime, in the meanwhile.

mean·y, mean·ly (meen-nee) n. (pl. mean·lies) (informal) a small-minded or miserly person.

meas. abbr. measure.

mea·sles (mee-zelz) n. an infectious disease producing small red spots on the whole body.

mea·sly (mee-zlee) adj. 1. affected with measles. 2. (slang) meager.

mea·sur·a·ble (mezh-ū-rā-bel) adj. able to be measured. mea·sur·a·bly adv.

mea·sure (mezh-ūr) n. 1. the size or quantity of something, found by measuring. 2. extent or amount, he is in some measure responsible; had a measure of success. 3. a unit or standard or system used in measuring, the meter is a measure of length. 4. a device used in measuring, such as a container of standard size (pint measure) or a marked rod or tape. 5. the rhythm or meter of poetry, the time of a piece of music, a bar of music. 6. suitable action taken for a particular purpose, a law or proposed law, measures to stop tax evasion. measure v. (mea·sured, mea·sur·ing) 1. to find the size or quantity or extent of something by comparing it with a fixed unit or with an object of known size. 2. to be of a certain size, it measures two feet by four. 3. to mark or deal out a measured quantity, measured out their rations. 4. to estimate (a quality etc.) by comparing it with some standard. meas·ur·er n. □be·yond measure, very great, very much, kind or kindness beyond measure. for good measure, in addition to what was needed; as a finishing touch. made to measure, made in accordance with measurements taken. measure up to, to reach the standard required by.

mea·sured (mezh-ūr·d) adj. 1. rhythmical, regular in movement, measured tread. 2. carefully considered, in measured language.

mea·sur·ment (mezh-ūr·ment) n. 1. measuring. 2. size etc. found by measuring and expressed in units.

meat (meet) n. animal flesh as food (usually excluding fish and poultry). meat' less adj. □meat packing, killing and butchering of animals for food.

meat·ball (meet-bawl) n. 1. chopped or ground meat shaped into a ball before cooking. 2. (slang) a clumsy person.

meat·head (meet-hed) n. (slang) a clumsy person.

meat·man (meet-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) (informal) a butcher.

meat·y (mee-tee) adj. (meat·i·er, meat·i·est) 1. like meat. 2. full of meat, fleshy. 3. full of subject matter, a meaty book.

Mec·ca (mek-ā) 1. a city in Saudi Arabia, the birthplace of Muhammad and chief place of Muslim pilgrimage. 2. a place that a person or people with certain interests are eager to visit.

mech. abbr. 1. mechanical. 2. mechanics. 3. mechanism.

me·chan·ic (mē-kan-ik) n. a skilled workman who uses or repairs machines or tools.

me·chan·i·cal (mē-kan-i·kāl) adj. 1. of machines or mechanism. 2. worked or produced by machinery. 3. (of a person or action) like a machine, as if acting or done without conscious thought. 4. (of work) needing little or no thought. 5. of or belonging to the science of mechanics. me·chan·i·cal·ly adv. □me·chan·ical·advantage, the ratio of a machine's output of force to that supplied to it. me·chan·ical·draw·ing, drawing done with compasses etc. me·chan·ical·engineer, one who engages in mechanical engineering. me·chan·ical·en·gine·ring, engineering dealing with the design and development of machinery.

me·chan·ics (mē-kan-iks) n. sing. 1. the scientific study of motion and force, me·chan·ics is dif·ficult to learn. 2. the science of machinery. 3. me·chan·ics, n. pl. the processes by which something is done or functions, the mechanics of that process are too difficult for me.

mech·an·ism (mek-ā-niz-ēm) n. 1. the way a machine works. 2. the structure or parts of a machine. 3. the process by which something is done, the mechanism of government.

mech·an·i·ze (mek-ā-niz) v. (mech·a·nized, mech·a·niz·ing) to equip with machines, to use machines in or for; a mechanized army unit, one that is equipped with tanks and armored cars etc. mech·a·ni·zer n. mech·a·ni·za·tion (mek-ā-ni·zay-shōn) n.
med. abbr. 1. medical. 2. medicine. 3. medieval. 4. medium.

M.Ed. abbr. Master of Education.

med-al (med-əl) n. a small flat piece of metal, usually shaped like a coin, bearing a design and commemorating an event, saint, etc. or given as an award for an achievement. □Medal of Honor, the highest military award given by the U.S. Congress, for conspicuous gallantry above and beyond the call of duty.

med-al-ist (med-ə-list) n. one who wins a medal as a prize, gold medalist.

med-al-ion (med-al-ən) n. 1. a large medal. 2. a large circular ornamental design, as on a carpet.

med-die (med-əl) v. (med-dled, med-dling) 1. to interfere in people's affairs. 2. to tinker. med'dler n.

med-die-some (med-əl-səm) adj. often meddlesome.

Mede (med) n. one of the inhabitants of ancient Persia. □the law of the Medes and Persians, an unchanging law.

me-di-a (mee-də-ə) n. pl. see medium. □the media, newspapers and broadcasting, by which information is conveyed to the general public. □This word is the plural of medium and should have a plural verb: the media are (not is) influential. It is incorrect to refer to one of these services, such as television, as a media or the media, or to several of them as medias.

me-di-ae-val (mee-di-ə-vəl) = medi-eval.

me-di-al (mee-di-əl) adj. situated in the middle, intermediate between two extremes. me'di-al-ly adv.

me-di-an (mee-di-ən) adj. medial. me'di-an n. a median point or line etc.

me-di-ate (mee-di-ət) v. (me-di-at-ed, me-di-at-ing) 1. to act as negotiator or peacemaker between the opposing sides in a dispute. 2. to bring about (a settlement) in this way. me'di-a-tor n.

me-di-a-tion (mee-di-ə-shən) n.

me-di-c (med-ik) n. (informal) 1. a doctor. 2. a medical student. 3. a medical corpsman.

Med-i-caid (med-i-kayd) n. a joint federal and state health insurance program aiding those unable to pay for hospital and medical care.

med-i-cal (med-i-kəl) adj. of or involving the science of medicine, of this as distinct from surgery; medical examination, physical examination by a doctor to determine a person's state of health. med-i-cal n. (informal) a medical examination. med'i-cal-ly adv. □medical examiner, a coroner. medical practitioner, a physician or surgeon.

med-i-ca-ment (mē-dik-ə-ment, med-i-kənt) n. any medicine or ointment etc.

Med-i-care (med-i-kair) n. a federal program of health insurance for those over sixty-five.

med-i-cate (med-i-kat) v. (med-i-cat-ed, med-i-cat-ing) to treat or impregnate with a medicinal substance, medicated gauze. med-i-ca-tive (med-i-kə-tiv) adj. med-i-ca-tion (med-i-kə-shən) n.

med-i-cral (med-i-ər-al) adj. of a medicine, having healing properties. med'i-cral-ly adv.

med-i-cine (med-i-sin) n. 1. the scientific study of the prevention and cure of diseases and disorders of the body. 2. this as distinct from surgery. 3. a substance used to treat a disease etc., especially one taken by mouth. □a dose of one's own medicine, treatment such as one is accustomed to giving others. med-i-cine ball, a stuffed leather ball used in exercise. med-i-cine chest, a wall cabinet in a bathroom. med-i-cine man, a witch doctor. take one's medicine, to submit to punishment for one's wrongdoing.

med-i-co (med-i-koh) n. (pl. -cos) (informal) a doctor or medical student.

me-di-eval (mi-dee-ə-vəl) adj. of the Middle Ages.

me-di-eval-ist (mi-dee-ə-vəl-ist) n. a specialist in the study of the literature etc. of the Middle Ages.

me-di-o-cre (mē-dē-ək-ər) adj. 1. of medium quality, neither good nor bad. 2. second-rate. □It is incorrect to say that something is very mediocre, just as we should not say that something is very average or very second-rate.) me-di-o-crit-y (mē-di-ə-kər-tē) n.

med-i-tate (med-ə-tayt) v. (med-i-tat-ed, med-i-tat-ing) 1. to think deeply and quietly, to contemplate. 2. to plan in one's mind. med-i-tation (med-i-ta-shən) n.

med-i-tate (med-i-tayt) v. (med-i-tat-ed, med-i-tat-ing) adj. meditating, accompanied by meditation. med'i-ta-tive (med-i-ta-tiv) adj.

Med-i-terr-an-e-an (med-i-tə-rə-nən) adj. of or characteristic of the Mediterranean Sea or the regions bordering on it. Mediterra-nean n. the Mediterranean Sea. □Mediter-ranean Sea, a sea lying between Europe and North Africa.

me-di-um (mē-di-əm) n. (pl. -di-a, -di-ums) 1. a middle quality or degree of intensiveness etc.; the happy medium. avoidance of unpleasant extremes. 2. a substance or surroundings in which something exists or moves or is transmitted, air is the medium through which sound travels. 3. an environment. 4. a mediumistic / melancholia liquid (as oil or water) in which pigments are mixed for use in painting. 5. an agency or means by which something is done, the use of television as a medium for advertising. (See the entry for media.) 6. the material or form used by an artist or composer, sculpture is his medium. 7. (pl. mediums) a person who claims to be able to communicate with the spirits of the dead. medium adj. intermediate between two extremes or amounts, average, moderate.

me·di·um·is·tic (mee-di-û-mis-tik) adj. of spiritualist mediums.

med·lar (med-lär) n. 1. an Old World fruit like a small brown apple that is not edible until it begins to decay. 2. the tree that bears it.

med·ley (med-lee) n. (pl. -leys) 1. an assortment of things. 2. music combining passages from different sources. medley relay, a relay race between teams in which each member runs a different distance or uses a different swimming stroke.

me·du·la (mi-du·lä) n. (pl. -las, -du·las, -du·læs, pr. -du·lee) the marrow of bone, the spinal marrow. medulla oblongata, the hindmost section of the brain.

meek (mee·k) adj. quiet and obedient, making no protest. meek·ly adv. meek·ness n.

meer·schaum (meer-shu̇m, -shu̇m) n. a tobacco pipe with a bowl made from a white claylike substance.

meet (mee) adj. (old use) suitable, proper. meet·ly adv. meet·ness n.

meet (mee) v. (met, meet·ing) 1. to come face to face with, to come together (as socially or for discussion). 2. to come into contact, to touch. 3. to go to a place to be present at the arrival of, I will meet your train. 4. to make the acquaintance of, to be introduced. 5. to come together as opponents in a contest or battle. 6. to find oneself faced (with a thing), to experience or receive, met with difficulties; met his death. 7. to deal with (a problem), to satisfy (a demand etc.), to pay (the cost or what is owing). meet n. a meeting of people and hounds for a hunt, or of athletes etc. for a competition. meet a person halfway, to respond readily to his suggestions; to make a compromise with him. meet the eye or ear, to be visible or audible; there's more in it than meets the eye, there are hidden qualities or complications; meet a person's eye, to look directly at the eyes of a person who is looking at one's own. meet up with, (informal) to meet (a person), to encounter (a thing).
(mel-an-kol-ik) adj. mel-an-chol’i-cal-ly adv.

mel-an-chol’y (mel-an-kol-ee) n. (pl. -chol-ies) 1. mental depression, thoughtful sadness. 2. an atmosphere of gloom. melancholy adj. sad, gloomy, depressing.

Mel’a-ne*si*a (mel-a-nee-zhā) a group of South Pacific islands northeast of Australia. Mel’a-ne’slian n. 1. a native of Melanesia. 2. the language of Melanesia. Mel’a-ne’slian adj.

mé-langé (may-lahnzh) n. a mixture.

mel-an-in (mel-an-in) n. dark pigment in skin and hair. mel-an-ic (mel-an-ik) adj. & n.

mel-a-nism (mel-a-niz-em) n. darkness of color resulting from the abnormal development of dark pigment in the skin, hair, etc.

mel-a-no*ma (mel-a-noh-mā) n. (pl. -mas, -ma, pr. -mā-tā) a dark colored usually malignant tumor of the skin.

Mel’ba (mel-bā) toast thin crisp roast.

meld1 (meld) v. (in some card games) to declare for a score.meld n. melding, a group of cards for melding.

meld2 v. to merge, to blend, to combine.

me*lay (may-lay, may-lay) n. 1. a confused fight. 2. a muddle.

me*lío-rate (meel-yō-rayt) v. (me*lío-rated, me*lío-rated) to improve.

me*lío-ra*tive (meel-yō-ray-tiv) adj.

me*lío*ra*tion (meel-yō-ray-shōn) n.

mel-lif*lu*ous (me-lif-loo-ūs) adj. sweet sounding. mel-lif’lu*ously adv. mel-lif’lu*ous*ness n.

mel*low (mel-oh) adj. 1. sweet and rich in flavor. 2. (of sound or color) soft and rich, free from harshness or sharp contrast. 3. made kindly and sympathetic by age or experience. 4. genial, jovial. mellow v. to make or become mellow.

mel’low*ly adv. mel’low*ness n.

mel*ode*on (mē-loh-di-ōn) n. a small organ in which air is drawn through reeds.

mel*odic (mē-lō-dik) adj. of melody. mel*od’i*cal*ly adv.

mel*o-dis*ous (mē-loh-di-ūs) adj. full of melody. me*lo’di*ous*ly adv. me*lo’di*ous*ness n.

mel’o*dra*ma (mel-ō-drah-mā) n. 1. a play full of suspense in a sensational and emotional style. 2. a situation in real life resembling this. mel’o*dra*ma*tic (mel-ō-drah-mat-ik) adj. mel’o*dra*mat’i*cal*ly adv.

mel’o*dra*ma*tics (mel-ō-drah-mat-iks) n. pl. melodramatic behavior.

mel*o*dy (mel-ō-dee) n. (pl. -dies) 1. sweet music, tunefulness. 2. a song or tune, old Irish melodies. 3. the main part in a piece of harmonized music.

mel:on (mel-ōn) n. 1. the large sweet fruit of various gourds. 2. (slang) spoils or profits to be shared.

melt (melt) v. 1. to make into or become liquid by heat. 2. (of food) to be softened or dissolved easily, it melts in the mouth. 3. to make or become gentler through pity or love. 4. to dwindle or fade away, to pass slowly into something else, one shade of color melted into another. 5. (informal, of a person) to depart unobtrusively. melt n. 1. a melted metal etc. 2. the amount melted at one time. 3. the process of melting. □melt down, to melt (metal objects) in order to use the metal as raw material; (of metal objects) to be melted thus. melting point, the temperature at which a solid melts.

melting pot, a place or situation where things are being mixed or reconstructed, the United States was thought of as a melting pot for all the peoples of the world.

melt*down (mel-down) n. a nuclear accident in which the reactor core could melt, the melting of nuclear fuel rods.

melt*wa*ter (mel-taw-tēr) n. the water formed by melting snow and ice, especially from a glacier.

mem. abbr. 1. member. 2. memoir. 3. memorial.

mem*ber (mem-bēr) n. 1. a person or thing that belongs to a particular group or society. 2. a part or organ of the body, especially a limb.

mem*ber*ship (mem-bēr-ship) n. 1. being a member. 2. the total number of members.

mem*brane (mem-brān) n. thin flexible skinlike tissue, especially that covering or lining organs or other structures in animals and plants. mem*bra*nous (mem-brā-nōs) adj.

me*men*to (mē-men-toh) n. (pl. -tos, -toes) a souvenir.

mem*o (mem-oh) n. (pl. mem*os) (informal) a memorandum.

mem*oir (mem-ohr) n. a written account of events that one has lived through or of the life or character of a person whom one knew, write one’s memoirs.

mem*o*ra*bil’ia (mem-ō-rā-bil-ē-ā) n. pl. memorable things.

mem*o*ra*ble (mem-ō-rā-bēl) adj. worth remembering, easy to remember. mem’o*ra*ibly adv. mem’o*ra*bile*ness n.

mem*o*ra*bil’ity (mem-ō-rā-bil-ī-te) n.

mem*o*ran*du*m (mem-ō-ron-dūm) n. (pl. -dums, -da, pr. dā) 1. a note or record of events written as a reminder, for future use. 2. an informal written communication from one person to another in an office or organization.

memorial adj. serving as a memorial. Memorial Day, once May 30, commemorating those who died in active military service, now observed on the last Monday in May.

men-de-le-vi-um (men-de-lee-um) n. an object or institution or custom established in memory of an event or person. memorial adj. serving as a memorial. Memorial Day, once May 30, commemorating those who died in active military service, now observed on the last Monday in May.

mem*o*ry (mem-oh-ri) n. the ability to keep things in one's mind or to recall them at will. 2. remembering, a thing remembered, memories of childhood; of happy memory, remembered with pleasure. 3. the length of time over which people's memory extends, within living memory. □ from memory, recalled into one's mind without the aid of notes etc. in memory of, in honor of a person or thing that is remembered with respect. memory bank, the part of a computer in which data are stored for retrieval.

men (men) see man.

men*ace (men-iss) n. 1. something that seems likely to bring harm or danger, a threatening quality. 2. an annoying troublesome person or thing. menace v. (men-aced, men-acing) to threaten with harm or danger. menacing adj.

mé*nage (may-nahzh) n. a household.

ménage à trois (a treh), a household consisting of husband, wife, and the lover of one of these.

me*nag-er*ie (me-nahr-kee) n. a collection of wild or strange animals in captivity, for exhibition.

me*nar*che (me-nahr-kee) n. the onset of first menstruation.

mend (mend) v. 1. to make whole (something that is damaged), to repair. 2. to make or become better; mend one's manners, improve them; mend matters, to set right or improve the state of affairs.

mend n. a repaired place. mend'er n.

□ on the mend, improving in health or condition.

men*da*clous (men-day-shus) adj. untruthful, telling lies. men*da*clous-ly adv. men*da*cul*ty (men-das-i-tee) n. men*de*le*vi*um (men-de-lee-um) n. an artificially produced chemical element.

men*di*can (men-di-kant) adj. begging; mendicant friars, friars who depend on alms for a living. mendicant n. a beggar, a mendicant friar. men*di*can*cy (men-di-kun-si) n.

mend*ing (mend-ing) n. clothes to be mended.

men*folk (men-folk), men*folks (men-foks) n. pl. (informal) men in general, the men of one's family.

men*na*den (men-hay-den) n. (pl. -den, -dens) a large herring from the east coast of North America.

men*hir (men-heer) n. a tall upright stone set up in prehistoric times.

men*ni*al (men-ni-ahl) adj. lowly, degrading, menial tasks. menial n. (contemptuous) a servant, a person who does humble tasks. men*ni*al*ly adv.

me*nin*ges (me-mi-neez) n. pl. (sing. me*ninx), pr. n. me*ninxs) the membranes that enclose the brain and spinal cord. me*nin*ge*al (me-mi-n-je-al) adj.

me*nin*gi*tis (men-in-jee-tis) n. inflammation of the meninges.

me*nis*cus (me-mi-cus) n. (pl. -nis*cles, pr. -nis-i, -nis*cu*ses) 1. a lens that is convex on one side and concave on the other. 2. (in mathematics) a figure of crescent form. 3. (in physics) a curved upper surface of liquid in a tube.

Men*non*ite (men-non-ite) n. a member of a Protestant sect with evangelical beliefs.

me*nopau*sal (men-oh-pawl) adj. the time of life during which a woman finally ceases to menstruate.

me*nopause (men-oh-pawz) n. the time of life during which a woman finally ceases to menstruate.

me*nor*ah (me-nohr-ah) n. a seven-branched candelabrum used in Jewish worship.

men*ses (men-seez) n. pl. the blood etc. discharged in menstruation.

men*stru*al (men-stroo-ral) adj. of or in menstruation.

men*stru*ate (men-stroo-ayt) v. (men*stru*ated, men*stru*ating) to experience the discharge of blood from the uterus that normally occurs in women between puberty and middle age at approximately monthly intervals. men*stru*a*tion (men-stroo-ay-shun) n.

men*sur*a*tion (me-mus-ri-a-shun) n. the measurement, having fixed limits. men*sur*a*ble (men-shoo-ray-bel) adj. measurable.

men*sur*a*ble (men-shoo-ray-bel) adj. measurable, having fixed limits. men*sur*a*ble (men-shoo-ray-bil) adj. men*sur*a*ble (men-shoo-ray-bil) adj. men*sur*a*ble (men-shoo-ray-bil) adj.

mental / meretricious

men·tal (men-tal) adj. 1. of the mind, existing in or performed by the mind; mental arithmetic, calculations done without the aid of written figures. 2. (informal) suffering from a disorder of the mind, mad, a mental case. men·tal·ly adv.

men·tal·age, the level of a person's mental development expressed as the age at which this level is reached by an average person. mental deficiency, lack of normal intelligence through imperfect mental development. mentally deficient, suffering from this. mental home or hospital, an establishment for the care of patients suffering from mental illness. mental reservation, see reservation. mental retardation, mental deficiency.

men·tal·ist (men-tal·ist) n. a mind reader.

men·tal·i·ty (men-tal·i·ty) n. (pl. -ties) a person's mental ability or characteristic attitude of mind.

men·thol (men-thohl) n. a solid white substance obtained from peppermint oil or made synthetically, used as a flavoring and to relieve pain.

men·tho·lat·ed (men-tho-lat-ed) adj. impregnated with menthol.

men·tion (men·shun) v. to speak or write about briefly, to refer to by name. mention n. mentioning, being mentioned; won honorable mention, formal recognition of merit, especially of a candidate or competitor just below those receiving prizes. don't mention it, a polite reply to thanks or to an apology. not to mention, and as another important thing.

men·tor (men-tor, -tôr) n. a trusted adviser.

men·u (men-yoo) n. a list of dishes to be served or available in a restaurant etc.

me·ow (me-ow) = mew.

me·phit·ic (me·fit·ik) adj. (of vapors etc.) smelling unpleasant, poisonous.

mer. abbr. meridian.

mer·can·tile (mur·kan·teel, -til) adj. trading, of trade or merchants.

mer·ce·nar·y (mur·se·ner·ee) adj. 1. working merely for money or other reward, grasping. 2. (of professional soldiers) hired to serve a foreign country. mercenary n. (pl. -nar·ies) a professional soldier serving a foreign country.

mer·ce·nar·i·ness (mur·se·nar·i·ness) n. mer·ce·nar·i·ly adv.

mer·cer (mur·sèr) n. (old use) a dealer in textiles, especially silks and other costly materials. mer·cer·y n.

mer·cer·ized (mur·ser·ized) adj. (of cotton fabric or thread) treated with a substance that gives greater strength and a slight gloss.

mer·chan·dis·e (mur·chan·dis·e) n. goods or commodities bought and sold, goods for sale. merchandise v. (mer·chan·dised, mer·chan·dis·ed) 1. to buy and sell, to trade. 2. to promote sales of (goods etc.). mer·chan·dis·er n.

mer·chant (mur·chánt) n. 1. a wholesale trader who buys and sells for profit. 2. a retail trader, a storekeeper. 3. ( slang) a person who is fond of or proficient in a certain activity, speed merchant.

mer·chant bank, a bank dealing in commercial loans and the financing of businesses. merchant marine, shipping employed in commerce. merchant ship, a ship carrying merchandise.

mer·chant·a·ble (mur·chánt·a·bel) adj. salable, marketable.

mer·chant·man (mur·chánt-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a merchant ship.

mer·ci·ful (mur·si·ful) adj. 1. showing mercy. 2. giving relief from pain or suffering, a merciful death. mer·ci·ful·ly adv.

mer·ci·less (mur·si·less) adj. showing no mercy. mer·ci·less·ly adv.

mer·cu·rical (mur·kyoor-ik) adj. 1. having a lively temperament. 2. liable to sudden changes of mood. mer·cu·ri·al·ly adv. mer·cu·ri·al·ness n.

mer·cu·ric (mur·kyoor·ik) adj. of or containing mercury.

Mer·cu·ro·chrome (mur·kyoor·ochrohm) n. (trademark) a mercuric compound used as an antiseptic solution.

mer·cu·ry (mur·kyoor·ee) n. (pl. -ries) 1. a heavy silvery normally liquid metallic element, used in thermometers and barometers etc. 2. Mercury, a Roman god of eloquence, skill, poise, etc., and messenger of the gods. 3. Mercury, a planet in the solar system.

mer·cy (mur·sec) n. (pl. -cies) 1. refraining from inflicting punishment or pain on an offender or enemy etc. who is in one's power. 2. a disposition to behave in this way, a tyrant without mercy. 3. a merciful act, a thing to be thankful for, it's a mercy no one was killed. mercy interj. an exclamation of surprise or fear. mercy on us! at the mercy of, wholly in the power of; liable to danger or harm from. mercy killing, euthanasia.

mere (meer) adj. nothing more or better than what is specified, she is a mere child; mere words, words alone, without deeds; it's no mere theory, is not only a theory.

mere·ly adv.

mer·est (meer·est) adj. very small or insignificant, the merest trace of color.

mer·e·tri·cious (mer·e·tri·chus) adj. showily attractive but cheap or insincere.
mer·e·tri'cious·ly adv. mer·e·tri'cious·ness n. mer·g-an·ser (mēr-gan-sēr) n. a diving duck that feeds on fish.
merge (murj) v. (merged, merg·ling) 1. to unite or combine into a whole, the two companies merged or were merged. 2. to pass slowly into something else, to blend or become blended.
merr·er (mur-jēr) n. the combining of two or more business organizations etc. into one.
mer·rid·i·an (mēr-rid-i-ān) n. any of the great semicircles on the globe, passing through a given place and the North and South Poles; the meridian of Greenwich, that passing through Greenwich, England, shown on maps as 0° longitude.
me·ringue (mé-rang) n. 1. a mixture of sugar and white of egg baked crisp. 2. a cake of this.
me·ril·no (mē-reel-nō) n. (pl. -nos) 1. a kind of sheep with fine soft wool. 2. a kind of fine soft woolen fabric.
mer·it (mer·it) n. 1. the quality of deserving to be praised, excellence. 2. a feature or quality that deserves praise; judge it on its merits, according to its own qualities.
mer·i·to·ra·cy (mer-i-tō·ra·see) n. (informal) to praise; (mer·i·to·ra·see·ing) to hypno-tize, to dominate the attention or will of.
mes·e·tri'cious·ly adv. mer·i·to·ri·cious·ness n.
mer·maid (mur-mayd) n. an imaginary sea creature, a woman with a fish’s tail in place of legs.
mer·man (mur-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an imaginary male sea creature similar to a mermaid.
mer·ril·ment (mer-i-mēnt) n. being merry, hilarity, fun.
mer·ry (mer-e) adj. (mer·ri·er, mer·ri·est) cheerful and lively, joyous.
mer·ri·ly adv. make merry, to hold lively festivities.
mer·ry·go·round (mer-e·go·round) n. 1. a machine at amusement parks with a circular revolving platform with models of horses or other animals etc. for riding on while it revolves. 2. a busy series of occupations or events in social or business life.
mer·ry·mak·ing (mer-e·mak·ing) n. lively festivities. mer·ry·mak·er n.
me·sa (may-sā) n. a high rocky plateau with steep sides.
més·al·li·ance (may-ō-lē-āns, may-zal-i-āns) n. a marriage with a person of inferior social position. D French.
mes·ca·line (mes-kā·lin) n. a hallucinogenic drug, made from the buttonlike tops of a Mexican cactus.
Mes·dame see Madame.
Mes·de·mol·sells see Mademou. selle.
mes·em·b·ry·o·ni·um (mē-zem·bri-an-thē·mūm) n. a low-growing plant with pink, orange, or white daisy-like flowers opening at about noon.
mesh (mesh) n. 1. one of the spaces between threads in a net or sieve or wire screen etc. 2. network fabric. mesh v. 1. to catch in a net, to entangle. 2. to come together, to coordinate, to match. 3. (of a toothed wheel) to engage with another or others.
mesh·work (mesh-wurk) n. mesh or netted work.
mes·mer·ize (mez·mer·īz) v. (mes·mer·ized, mes·mer·iz·ling) to hypnotize, to dominate the attention or will of.
mes·mer·ism n. mes·mer·ic (mez·mer·ik) adj.
mes·o·lith·ic (mez·ō-lith·ik) adj. of the Stone Age between paleolithic and neolithic.
me·son (mē·son) n. an elemental particle intermediate in mass between a proton and an electron.
mes·o·spher·ic (mez·ō-sfer·ik) adj. of the geologic era before the Cenozoic and after the Paleozoic and marked by the appearance and eventual disappearance of dinosaurs. Mesozoic n. the Mesozoic era.
mes·quite (mez·skēt) n. a North American tree bearing beanie-like pods, found especially in Mexico and southwestern U.S.
mess (mes) n. 1. a dirty or untidy condition, an untidy collection of things, something spilled. 2. a difficult or confused situation, trouble. 3. any disagreeable substance or concoction, a domestic animal’s excreta. 4. (informal) a person who looks untidy or dirty or slovenly. 5. (in the armed forces) a group who take meals together, the place where such meals are eaten, the meals themselves.
mess v. 1. to make untidy or dirty. 2. to muddle or bungle (business etc.), messed it up. 3. (informal) to putter, mess about or around. 4. (informal) to meddle or tinker, don’t mess with the transistor. 5. to take one’s meals with a military or other group, they mess together.
make a mess of, to bungle.
message / mete

des·sage (mes-ij) n. 1. a spoken or written communication. 2. the inspired moral or social teaching of a prophet or writer etc., a film with a message.

des·sen·ger (mes-ên-jér) n. the bearer of a message.

Mes·si·ah (mes-sr-á) n. 1. the expected deliverer and ruler of the Jewish people, whose coming was prophesied in the Old Testament. 2. Christ, regarded by Christians as this. messiah, aly deliverer.

Mes·si·an·ic (mes-se-an-ik) adj. of the Messiah. messianic adj. of a messiah.

Mes·sie·urs see Monsieur.

mess·mate (mes-mayt) n. (informal) a person with whom one eats regularly in the same mess aboard ship.

Mes·srs. see Mr.

mes·sy (mes-ee) adj. (mes-si·er, mes·sí·est) 1.untidy or dirty, slovenly. 2. causing a mess, a messy task. 3. complicated and difficult to deal with. mes·sí·ly adv. mes·sí·ness n.

mes·ti·zo (mes-tee-zoh) n. (pl. -zos, -zoes) a person of mixed ancestry, especially the offspring of a Spaniard and an American Indian.

met (met) see meet?.

met. abbr. 1. meteorology. 2. metropolitan.

des·ta·bo·liz·ing (met·a-bol·iz·ing) v. (met·a·bol·iza·tion) n. to process (food) in metabolism.

met·a·car·pus (met-ä-kahr-pus) n. the part of the hand between the wrist and the fingers, the set of bones in this.

met·a·gal·ax·y (met-a-gal-äk-se) n. the entire universe, all the galaxies.

met·al (met-al) n. any of a class of mineral substances such as gold, silver, copper, iron, uranium, etc., or an alloy of any of these. metal adj. made of metal. ➢ Do not confuse metal with mettle.

met·al·lic (met-al·ik) adj. 1. of or like metal. 2. (of sound) like metals struck together, sharp and ringing. met·al·li·cal·ly adv.

met·al·lif·er·ous (met-ä-li·fër-üs) adj. containing metal.

met·al·loid (met-ä·loid) n. a nonmetal element that has the properties of a metal and a nonmetal. metalloid adj. having the form or appearance of metal.

met·al·lurgy (met-ä-lur·jë) n. the scientific study of the properties of metals and alloys, the art of working metals or of extracting them from their ores. met·al·ly·cal·ly adj.

met·al·ware (met-ä·wär) n. household utensils made of metal.

met·al·work (met-ä·wörk) n. 1. the process of shaping objects from metal. 2. these objects. met·al·work·er n. met·al·work·ing n.

met·a·mor·phic (met-ä·mor·fik) adj. of or characterized by metamorphosis.

met·a·mor·phose (met-ä·mor·fohz) v. (met·a·mor·phosed, met·a·mor·phos·ing) to change or be changed in form or character.

met·a·mor·phos·is (met-ä·mor·foz·is) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sez) a change of form or character.

met·a·phor (met-ä·for) n. the application of a word or phrase to something that it does not apply to literally, in order to indicate a comparison with the literal usage, as the evening of one’s life, food for thought, cut off one’s nose to spite one’s face. ➢ mixed metaphor, an unsuitable combination of metaphors, as in the only thing this government will listen to is muscle.

met·a·phor·i·cal (met-ä·for·i·kal) adj. in a metaphor, not literal. met·a·phor·ic·al·ly adv.

met·a·phys·ics (met-ä·fiz·iks) n. a branch of philosophy that deals with the nature of existence and of truth and knowledge.

met·a·tas·ta·sis (me-tas-ta-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sez) transference of a disease, tumor, etc., from one part or organ to another. met·a·tas·ta·size v. (met·a·tas·ta·sized, met·a·tas·ta· siz·ing) to pass from one part or organ of the body to another. met·a·stat·ic (met-ä·stat·ik) adj.

met·a·tar·sus (met-ä·tahr-sus) n. 1. the part of the foot between the ankle and toes. 2. the set of bones in this. met·a·tar·sal (met-ä·tahr-sal) adj.

me·tath·et·ic (mé·tath·ë-tik) adj. (mé·tath·ë-tik) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sez) 1. the transposition of sounds or letters in a word. 2. chemical interchange of atoms or groups of atoms between two molecules. met·a·thet·ic (met-ä-thet-ik) adj. met·a·thet·ic·al adj.

me·tath·et·ic·al·ly (mé·tath·ë-tëk·ël·ë·lë) adv.

me·tath·et·ism (mé·tath·ë-tëz·ëm) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sez) 1. to transfer by metathesis. 2. to undergo metathesis.

mete (meet) v. (met·ed, met·ing) me·te metempsychosis / metrology meth-ane (meth-ayn) n. a colorless inflammable gas that occurs in coal mines and marshy areas.

meth-a-nol (meth-ä-nohl) n. methyl alcohol.

meth-a-qua-lone (meth-ä-kwah-lohn) n. a nonbarbiturate drug used as a sedative and to induce sleep.

meth-thinks (mi-thingks) v. (past tense meth-thought, pr. mi-thawt) (old use) it seems to me.

meth-od (meth-öd) n. 1. a procedure or way of doing something. 2. orderliness, he's a man of method.

meth-thod-i-cal (meth-i-d-i-käl) adj. orderly, systematic. me-thod-i-cal-ly adv. me-thod-i-cal-ness n.

meth-thod-i-cal-ism n.

meth-thod-ize (meth-ö-diz) v. (meth-ö-dized, meth-ö-diz-ing) to reduce to order, to arrange in an orderly manner.

meth-thod-o-o-ny (meth-ö-dol-ö-nee) n. (pl. -gies) the body of methods used in a particular branch of activity. meth-thod-o-o-log-i-cal (meth-ö-dol-o-jik) adj.

meth-yll (meth-il) n. a chemical unit present in methane and in many organic compounds. methyl alcohol, a colorless volatile inflammable liquid, the simplest alcohol.

me-tic-u-lous (mé-tik-yü-lus) adj. giving or showing great attention to detail, very careful and exact. me-tic-u-lous-ly adv. me-tic-u-lous-ness n.

me-tier (may-tay, may-tay) n. 1. a person's trade, profession, or department of activity. 2. a person's forte. □ French.

me-tic-ri-cal (mé-tik-ri-käl) adj. of or using the metric system. 2. of poetic meter. met-ri-cal-ly adv. □ go metric, (informal) to adopt the metric system. metric sys-tem, a decimal system of weights and measures, using the meter, liter, and gram as units. metric ton, one thousand kilograms (2205 lbs.).

met-ri-cal (met-ri-käl) adj. of or composed in rhythmic meter, not prose, metrical psalms. met-ri-cal-ly adv.

met-ri-cate (met-ri-kayt) v. (met-ri-cat-ed, met-ri-cat-ing) to change or adapt to the metric system of measurement.

met-ri-ca-tion (met-ri-kay-shän) n.

met-ro (met-roh) n. (pl. -ros) (informal) a subway train.

me-tro-o-gy (me-tro-o-jee) n. the science or system of weights and measures. me-tro-o-gist n. me-tro-o-log-i-cal metronome / microencapsulate met-*ro-nome (met-ró-nom) n. a device, often with an inverted pendulum, that sounds a click at a regular interval, used to indicate tempo while practicing music.

me•trop•o•lis (mê-trop•o-lîs) n. (pl. -lis•es) the chief city of a country or region.

met•ro•pol•i•tan (met-ró-pol-i-tan) adj. of a metropolis. metropolitan n. the chief bishop in an ecclesiastical province.

met•tle (met-ël) n. courage or strength of character. test his mettle. □ on one’s mettle, determined to show one’s courage or ability. □ Do not confuse mettle with metal.

met•tle•some (met-ël-söm) adj. spirited, courageous.

MEV abbr. million electron volts.

mew (myoo) n. the characteristic cry of a cat. mew v. to make this sound.

mews (myooz) n. a set of what were formerly stables in a small street or square, now rebuilt or converted into dwellings or garages.

Mex•ic•o (mek-sî-kô) a country in North America. Mex•ic•an adj. & n. □ Mex•i•co City, its capital city.

mez•za•nne (mez•á•neen) n. an extra story between the ground floor and the first floor, often in the form of a wide balcony.

mez•zo (met•soh) adv. (in music) moderately; mezzo forte, moderately loudly.

mez•zo•so•pran•o (met•zoh-so•prah•nô) n. 1. a voice between soprano and contralto. 2. a singer with this voice. 3. a part written for it.

MF abbr. 1. medium frequency. 2. Middle French.

MFA abbr. Master of Fine Arts.

mfd. abbr. manufactured.

mfg. abbr. manufacturing.

mfr. abbr. 1. manufacturer. 2. manufacturer.

mg abbr. milligram(s).

Mg symbol magnesium.

MG abbr. 1. machine gun. 2. major general. 3. military government.

mgr. abbr. 1. manager. 2. monseigneur. 3. monsignor.

mtg. abbr. management.

M.H. abbr. medal of honor.

mho (moh) n. a unit of electrical conductance. □ From ohm reversed.

MHz abbr. megahertz.

ml (me) n. a name for the third note of a scale in music.

Ml abbr. 1. Michigan. 2. military intelligence.

ml. abbr. mile(s).

MIA abbr. missing in action.

Mi•am•i (mi-am•ee) n. (pl. -am•i•, -am•is) a member of an Indian tribe originally from Indiana and Wisconsin.

mi•aow (me•eo•) = mew.

mi•as•ma (mi•az•mã, mee•) n. (pl. -ma•ta, pr. -mã•tá, -mas) unpleasant or unwholesome air. mi•as•mic adj. mi•as•mal adj. mi•as•mat•ic (mi•az•mat•ik, mee•) adj.

mi•ca (mi•kã) n. a mineral substance used as an electrical insulator.

mice (mis) see mouse.

Mic•h•i•gan (mish•i•gä•n) a state of the U.S.

Mick•ey Finn (mik•ee fin) (slang) a substance added to a drink to make the drinker unconscious.

Mic•ma•c (mik•mäk) n. (pl. -mac, -macks) a member of an Indian tribe from eastern Canada.

micro- prefix small; one millionth of a unit, as in microgram.

mi•cro•be (mi•kroh•b) n. a microorganism, especially one that causes disease or fermentation. mi•cro•bi•al (mi•kroh•bi•ål) adj.

mi•cro•bi•ol•o•g•i•st (mi•kroh•bi•ol•oh•jist) n. an expert in microbiology.

mi•cro•bi•ol•o•gy (mi•kroh•bi•ol•oh•jee) n. the scientific study of microorganisms.

mi•cro•bi•ol•o•g•i•cal (mi•kroh•bi•ohl•oh•jik) adj.

mi•cro•bus (mi•kroh•bus) n. (informal) a station wagon bus.

mi•cro•cap•sule (mi•kroh•kap•soul) n. a small capsule that releases its contents through breaking, dissolving, or melting.

mi•cro•chip (mi•kroh•chip) n. a small piece of silicon holding a complex electronic circuit.

mi•cro•cir•cuit (mi•kroh•sur•kit) n. an integrated circuit or other very small electronic circuit.

mi•cro•cli•mate (mi•kroh•kl•mi•t) n. the climate of a small area. mi•cro•cli•ma•to•ry (mi•kroh•kl•mô•trî•) adj.

mi•cro•cop•y (mi•kroh•kop•ee) n. (pl. -cop•ies) a miniature scale reproduction of a photograph.

mi•cro•cosm (mi•kroh•kôz•ëm) n. a world in miniature, something regarded as resembling something else on a very small scale.

mi•cro•dot (mi•kroh•dot) n. a photograph of a document etc. reduced to the size of a dot.

mi•cro•ele•c•tron•ics (mi•kroh•i•lek•tron•iks) n. the design, manufacture, and use of microcircuits. mi•cro•ele•tron•i•c adj.

mi•cro•en•cap•su•late (mi•kroh•in•kap•soul•ë) v. (mi•cro•en•cap•su•} commodity between producer and consumer.

mid·die-of-the-road (mid-ēl-ōv-thē-rohd) adj. favoring a moderate policy, avoiding extremes.

mid·die-sized (mid-ēl-sizd) adj. of medium size.

mid·die-weight (mid-ēl-wayt) n. a boxer between welterweight and lightweight weighing up to 160 pounds.

mid·dling (mid-ling) adj. & adv. moderately good, moderately well.

mid·dy (mid-ee) n. (pl. -dies) (informal) a midshipman. middy blouse, a woman’s or child’s loose blouse with a collar as worn by sailors.

Mid·east (mid-eest) n. the Middle East.

mid·ge (mij) n. a small biting gnatlike insect.

mid·g·et* (mij-get) n. an extremely small person or thing. midget adj. extremely small.

mid·i·l (mid-ee) n. a woman’s or girl’s garment of medium length, between maxi and mini.

mid·land (mid-land) adj. of the middle part of a country. the Midlands, the inland counties of central England.

mid·night (mid-nit) n. twelve o’clock at night, the time near this. midnight blue, very dark blue. midnight sun, the sun visible at midnight during the summer in the polar regions.

mid·point (mid-point) n. a point in the middle of a journey, task, etc.

mid·rif (mid-rif) n. the front part of the body or of a garment just above the waist.

mid·sec·tion (mid-sek-shōn) n. 1. (informal) the midriff. 2. the middle part.

mid·ship·man (mid-ship-mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mēn) a Navy or Coast Guard student officer.

midst (midst) n. the middle part.

in the midst of, among, surrounded by.

mid·stream (mid-strem) n. the middle of a stream. change horses in midstream, to change one’s plans etc. in the middle of a project.

mid·sum·mer (mid-sum-ār) n. the middle of the summer.

mid·term (mid-turm) n. 1. the middle of a term of public office or of school. 2. an examination in the middle of a school term.

mid·town (mid-town) n. the central area of a city.

mid·way (mid-way) adv. halfway between places. midway n. the carnival section of a fair.

mid·week (mid-week) n. the middle of the week.

Mid·west (mid-west) n. the Middle West.

mid·wife (mid-wīf) n. (pl. -wives, pr. -wīvz) a person trained to assist women in childbirth.

mid·wife·ry (mid-wī-fē-re) n. the work of a midwife.

mid·win·ter (mid-win-tēr) n. the middle of the winter.

mid·year (mid-year) n. 1. a point at the middle of the calendar or school year. 2. an examination taken at midyear.

mi·len (meen) n. a person’s manner or bearing.

miff (miif) n. (informal) a petty quarrel, a huff. miff v. (informal) to put out of humor, to offend.

might1 (mīt) n. great strength or power, with all one’s might. □ with might and main, with all one’s power and energy.

might2 auxiliary verb used as the past tense of may; you might call at the baker’s, I should like you to do so; you might have offered, ought to have offered. □ Note that might in the second sense implies a missed responsibility: if you had thought about it, you might have offered.

might·have·been (mi-hav-bin) n. (pl. -beens) an event that might have happened but did not.

might·n’t (mi-tēnt) = might not.

might·y (mi-tee) adj. (might·l-er, might·l-est) 1. having or showing great strength or power. 2. very great in size. mighty adv. (informal) very, mighty fine. might·l·ly adv. might·l·ness n.

mi·gnon·ette (min-yō-net) n. an annual plant with fragrant grayish-green leaves.

mi·graine (mi-grayn) n. a severe form of headache that tends to recur.

mi·grant (mi-grānt) adj. migrating. migrant n. a migrant person or animal. □ migrant worker, an agricultural laborer etc. who moves from one place to another in search of work.

mi·grant·ed (mi-grayt) v. (mi·grat·ed, mi·grat·ing) 1. to leave one place and settle in another. 2. (of animals, birds) to go periodically from one place to another, living in each place for part of a year.

mi·gra·tion (mi-gray-shōn) n. mi·gra·tion·al adj.

mi·gra·to·ry (mi-grā-toh-re) adj. of or involving migration, migrating.

Mi·ka·do (mi-kah-dō) n. (pl. -dos) the emperor of Japan.

mi·ke (miik) n. (informal) a microphone.

mil (mil) n. one-thousandth of an inch.

Do not confuse mile with mill. (See mill2.)

mil. abbr. military.

mi·la·dy (mi-lay-dee) n. (pl. -dies) 1. a title used of or to an English noblewoman. 2. a fashionable woman.
milch (milch) adj. giving milk. milch cow, a cow kept for its milk rather than for beef.
mild (mild) adj. 1. moderate in intensity or character or effect, not severe or harsh or drastic. 2. (of a person) gentle in manner. 3. not strongly flavored, not sharp or strong in taste. mild’ly adv. mild’ness n.
mil-dew (mil-doo) n. a minute fungus that forms a white coating on things exposed to moisture. milde w v. to become coated with mildew. mil’dewed adj.
mile (mīl) n. 1. a measure of length, = 5280 feet (about 1.609 kilometers); nautical mile, a unit used in navigation, 6075 feet (1.852 kilometers). 2. (informal) a great distance, the two sides were miles apart. 3. a race extending over a distance of one mile.
mile-age (mīl-ij) n. 1. distance measured in miles. 2. the number of miles a vehicle travels on one gallon of fuel. 3. traveling expenses at a fixed rate per mile. 4. (informal) benefit, he gets a lot of mileage out of his family name.
mile-post (mīl-pōst) n. a post that shows the distance in the miles to a given place. mile•er (mīl-ër) n. a person who specializes in races that are one mile in length.
mile•stone (mīl-stōhn) n. 1. a stone set up beside a road to show the distance in miles to a given place. 2. a significant event or stage in life or history.
mil‘ieu (mīl-yōo) n. (pl. -lieus, -lieux, pr. -yooz) environment, surroundings.
mil•i•tant (mīl-i-tant) adj. 1. prepared to take aggressive action in support of a cause. 2. involved in warfare or fighting.
militant n. a militant person. mil’i•tant•ly adv. mil’i•tan•cy (mīl-i-tan•see) n.
mil•i•ta•rism (mīl-i-tā-rij-ēm) n. reliance on military strength and methods. mil’i•tar•ist n. mil’i•tar•is•tic (mīl-i-tā-ris•tik) adj.
mil•i•ta•rise (mīl-i-tā•riz) v. (mil•i•ta•rized, mil•i•ta•riz•ing) 1. to provide with armed forces. 2. to infuse with military spirit.
mil•i•tar•y (mīl-i-ter•ē) adj. of soldiers or the army or all armed forces, military service; the military, armed forces as distinct from police or civilians. mil’i•tar•i•ly (mīl-i-ter•ē•lē) adv. military band, a combination of woodwind, brass, and percussion instruments. military-industrial complex, an unofficial combination in the U.S. of senior officers of the armed forces and companies supplying aircraft, guns, etc. military police, soldiers assigned to police work. mil•i•ta•tate (mīl-i-tāt) v. (mil•i•ta•tated, mil•i•ta•tat•ing) to serve as a strong influence, several factors militated against the success of our plan. □ Do not confuse militate with mitigate.
mil•i•l•ta•n•cy (mīl-i-lit•ā•nj) n. a military force, especially one consisting of civilians trained as soldiers and available to supplement the regular army in an emergency.
mil•i•l•ta•man (mīl-i-lit•ā•mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mēn) a person who serves in the militia.
milk (mīlk) n. 1. a white fluid secreted by female mammals as food for their young. 2. the milk of cows, used as food by human beings. 3. a milklke liquid, such as that in a coconut. milk v. 1. to draw milk from (a cow or goat etc.). 2. to extract juice from (a tree etc.). 3. to exploit or get money undeservedly from, milking the welfare state. □ milk and honey, abundant means for gratifying one’s material needs. milk bar, a bar for the sale of nonalcoholic drinks, especially those made from milk, and light refreshments. milk chocolate, chocolate (for eating) made with milk. milk glass, an opaque white glass. milking machine, an electric machine for milking several cows at the same time. milking stool, a stool used when milking animals. milk of magnesia, a milky white laxative or antacid. milk punch, an alcoholic drink with a milk base. milk shake, a drink made of milk and flavoring, mixed or shaken until frothy. milk snake, a harmless brightly colored kingsnake. milk toast, buttered toast served in warm milk with salt and pepper or with sugar. milk tooth, any of the first (temporary) teeth in young mammals.
milk•er (mīlk•ēr) n. 1. a person who milks an animal. 2. an animal that gives milk, that cow is a good milker.
milk•maid (mīlk•mād) n. a woman who milks cows.
milk•man (mīlk•mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a man who delivers milk to customers’ houses.
milk•sop (mīlk•sōp) n. a boy or man who is weak or timid, a weakling.
milk•weed (mīlk•wi•d) n. any of several wild plants with milky juice.
milk•white (mīlk•hwit) adj. white like milk.
milk•y (mīk•ē) adj. (mīlk•i•er, milk•i•est) 1. of or like milk. 2. made with milk, containing much milk. 3. (of a gem or liquid) cloudy, not clear. milk’i•ness n. □ Milky Way, the broad faintly luminous band of stars encircling the sky, the Galaxy.
mill (mīl) n. 1. machinery for grinding grain, a building fitted with this. 2. any machine for grinding or crushing a solid substance into powder or pulp, coffee mill. 3. a machine or a building fitted with machinery for processing material of certain kinds, cotton mill; paper mill; sawmill. mill v. 1. to grind or crush in a mill. 2. to produce in a mill. 3. to produce regular markings on the edge of (a coin), silver coins with a milled edge. 4. to cut or shape (metal) with a rotating tool. 5. (of people or animals) to move around and around in a confused mass.

mill adj. 1. on the mill. 2. on the mill. 3. on the mill.

mill 2 n. one-tenth of a cent. ▶ Do not confuse mill with mil.

mill-age (mil-ij) n. a tax rate expressed in mills.

mill-dam (mil-dam) n. a dam to make a millpond.

mill-en-ni-um (mil-en-ni-üm) n. (pl. -en-ni-ums, -en-ni-a, pr. -en-ni-a) 1. a period of one thousand years. 2. the thousand-year reign of Christ on Earth prophesied in the Bible. 3. a period of great happiness and prosperity for everyone. mill-en’ni-al adj.

mill-er (mil-ér) n. a person who owns or runs a mill for grinding grain.

mill-let (mil-it) n. 1. a kind of cereal plant growing three to four feet high and producing a large crop of small seeds. 2. its seeds, used as food.

mill-pen prefix one-thousandth.

mil-li-am-peer (mil-lam-peer) n. one-thousandth of an ampere.

mil-li-bar (mil-lí-bahr) n. one-thousandth of a bar as a unit of pressure in meteorology.

mil-li-gram (mil-lí-gram) n. one-thousandth of a gram.

mil-li-ter (mil-lí-ter) n. one-thousandth of a liter.

mil-li-me-ter (mil-lí-mee-tér) n. one-thousandth of a meter (0.04 inch).

mil-lin-er (mil-lín-er) n. a person who makes or sells women's hats.

mil-li-ner-y (mil-lí-nér-ee) n. milliner's work, women's hats sold in a shop.

mil-ling (mil-ing) n. the regular markings on the edge of a coin.

mil-lion (mil-yón) adj. & n. 1. one thousand dollars (1,000,000). 2. a million dollars or pounds etc. 3. an enormous number. mil-lionth (mil-yónth) adj. & n.

mil-lion aire (mil-yón-air) n. a person who possesses a million dollars, one who is extremely wealthy.

mil-li-pede (mil-lí-peed) n. a small crawling creature like a centipede but usually with two pairs of legs on each segment of its body.

mil-li-sec-ond (mil-i-sek-önd) n. one-thousandth of a second.

mil-li-volt (mil-lí-volt) n. one-thousandth of a volt.

mil-li-watt (mil-lí-wot) n. one-thousandth of a watt.

mil-pond (mil-pond) n. the water dammed in a stream for use in a water mill; the sea was like a millpond, very calm.

mil-race (mil-rays) n. the channel in which flows the water driving a mill.

mil-stone (mil-stohn) n. 1. one of a pair of circular stones between which grain is ground. 2. a heavy mental or emotional burden, a millstone around one's neck.

mil-work (mil-wurk) n. the woodwork produced in a sawmill.

mil-wright (mil-rett) n. a person who builds mills or installs and maintains their equipment.

mil-que-toast (milk-tohst) n. an easily dominated timid man.

milt (milt) n. the roe of a male fish, fish sperm discharged into the water over the eggs laid by the female.

mime (mim) n. 1. acting with gestures and without words, a performance using this. 2. a performer in this. mime v. (mimed, mim-ing) to act with mime.

mim-e-o-o (mim-i-oh) n. & v. (informal) mimeograph.

mim-e-o-o-graph (mim-i-ò-graf) n. an apparatus for making copies from stencils of written pages. mimeograph v. to make copies on such an apparatus.

mi-mic-sis (mi-mee-sis) n. imitation, mimicry; many insects find protection in mimicry, their close resemblance to other insects which are distasteful or harmful to predators.

mim-ic (mim-ik) v. (mim-icked, mim-ick-ing) 1. to copy the appearance or ways of (a person etc.) playfully or for entertainment. 2. to pretend to be, (of things) to resemble closely. mimic n. a person who is clever at mimicking others, especially for entertainment.

mim-i-cry (mim-i-kree) n. (pl. -ries) mimicking, a thing that mimics another.

mi-mo-sa (mi-moh-sa) n. any of several usually tropical trees or shrubs, especially the kind with clusters of small ball-shaped fragrant flowers.

min. abbr. 1. mineralogical. 2. mineralogy. 3. minim(s). 4. minimum. 5. mining. 6. minor. 7. minute(s).

min-a-re-t (min-ä-ret) n. a tall slender tower on or beside a mosque, with a bal-minatory / minestrone cony from which a muezzin calls Muslims to prayer.

min-a-to·ry (min-ä-to·ree) adj. threatening.

mince (mins) v. (minced, minc·ing) 1. to cut into small pieces with a knife or mincer. 2. to walk or speak in an affected way, trying to appear refined. □ make mince pie, a pie containing mincemeat. not to mince matters or words, to speak bluntly.

mince·meat (mins-meet) n. a mixture of currants, raisins, sugar, apples, candied peel, etc., used in pies. □ make mincemeat of, to destroy utterly in argument.

minc·er (min·sər) n. a machine with revolving blades for mincing food.

mind (mind) n. 1. the ability to be aware of things and to think and reason, originating in the brain. 2. a person’s thoughts and attention, keep your mind on the job. 3. remembrance, keep it in mind. 4. opinion, change one’s mind; to my mind he’s a genius. 5. a way of thinking and feeling, state of mind. 6. sanity, normal mental faculties; in one’s right mind, sane; out of one’s mind, insane or extremely agitated. 7. a person, as embodying mental qualities, she is one of the best minds of our generation. mind v. 1. to take care of, to attend to, minding the baby or the shop. 2. to feel annoyance or discomfort at, to object to, she doesn’t mind the cold; I shouldn’t mind a cup of tea, should like one. 3. to bear in mind, to give heed to or concern oneself about, never mind the expense; mind you, please take note. 4. to remember and take care, mind you lock the door. 5. to be careful about, mind the step; mind how you carry that tray. □ bear or keep in mind, to keep in one’s thoughts, to remember. have a good or half a mind to, to feel tempted or inclined to. have a mind of one’s own, to be capable of forming opinions independently of others. In mind, in one’s thoughts. make up one’s mind, to decide; made up her mind to work, resolved to do so. mind one’s P’s and Q’s, to be careful in one’s speech or behavior. mind over matter, determination overcoming physical or other obstacles. mind reader, an entertainer who pretends to read people’s thoughts. mind’s eye, the faculty of imagination. on one’s mind, constantly in one’s thoughts, causing worry. put a person in mind of, to remind him of.

mind-bend·ing (mnd-ben·ding) adj. (slang) strongly influencing the mind.

mind-blow·ing (mnd-blo·ing) adj. (slang) overwhelming or astounding, affecting one in the manner of a psychedelic drug.

mind·ed (mnd·did) adj. 1. having a mind of a certain kind, independent-minded. 2. having certain interests, politically minded; car-minded. 3. inclined or disposed to do something, if she’s minded to help; could do it if he were so minded.

mind-ex·pand·ing (mnd·ek-sa·nd·ing) adj. distorting one’s perceptions inordinately, as by using psychedelic drugs.

mind·ful (mnd·ful) adj. taking thought or care of something, mindful of his public image. mind’ful·ly adv. mind’ful·ness n.

mind·less (mnd·lis) adj. without a mind, without intelligence, 2. careless. mind’less·ly adv. mind’less·ness n.

mine1 (min) possessive pronoun the thing(s) belonging to me, mine are missing. mine adj. (old use) of or belonging to me, mine enemies. □ The old adjective mine was used only before words beginning with a vowel sound.

mine2 n. 1. an excavation in the earth for extracting metal or coal etc. 2. an abundant source of something, a mine of information. 3. a receptacle filled with explosive, placed in or on the ground (also called land mine), or in water, ready to explode when something strikes it or passes near it. mine v. (mined, min·ling) 1. to dig for minerals, to extract (metal or coal etc.) in this way. 2. to lay explosive mines in (an area). □ mine detector, an instrument for detecting the presence of land mines.

mine·field (mnd·feld) n. an area where explosive mines have been laid.

mine·lay·er (mnd·lay·ər) n. a ship or aircraft for laying mines.

min·er (mi·nər) n. a person who works in a mine.

min·er·al (mi·nər·əl) n. 1. an inorganic substance that occurs naturally in the earth. 2. an ore or other substance obtained by mining. mineral adj. of or containing minerals. □ mineral jelly, a petroleum jelly used in stabilizing explosives. mineral oil, an oily colorless liquid distilled from petroleum. mineral spring, a spring of natural mineral waters. mineral water, water that is found naturally containing dissolved mineral salts or gases; a nonalcoholic usually fizzy drink.

min·er·al·o·gy (mi·nər·əl·o·je) n. the scientific study of minerals. min·er·al·o·gist n. an expert in mineralogy.

min·er·al·og·i·cal (mi·nər·əl·o·jik·əl) adj.

min·e·strone (mi·nə·strō·nə) n. an minstrel / misapprehend

min·strel (min-strēl) n. 1. a traveling singer and musician in the Middle Ages. 2. a performer in a minstrel show. □ minstrel show, a formerly popular entertainment in which white performers in black makeup sang and danced and told jokes.

mint1 (mint) n. 1. a place authorized to make a country's coins. 2. a vast amount, left him a mint of money. mint v. 1. to make (coins) by stamping metal. 2. to invent or coin (a word etc.). mint' er n. □ in mint condition, fresh and unsoiled as if newly from the mint.

mint2 n. 1. a plant with fragrant leaves that are used for flavoring sauces and drinks etc. 2. peppermint, a candy flavored with this. mint'y adj. □ mint jul·e·p, a frosted drink of bourbon, ice, sugar, and mint.

mint·age (min-tij) n. 1. minting money. 2. the mark imprinted on a coin showing where it was minted.

min·u·end (min-yoo-end) n. a quantity or number from which another is to be subtracted.

min·u·et (min-yoo-et) n. a slow stately dance in triple time, music suitable for this.

mi·nus (mi-nūs) prep. 1. reduced by the subtraction of, seven minus three equals four (7 – 3 = 4). 2. below zero, temperatures of minus ten degrees Centigrade (–10° C). 3. (informal) without, returned minus his shoes. minus adj. less than zero (= negative), less than the amount or number indicated, a minus quantity: A—that is, a grade slightly below A. minus n. 1. the sign —. 2. a disadvantage. □ minus sign, the sign —.

mi·nus·cule (min-ūs-kōol) adj. extremely small. minuscule n. a lower case letter.

min·ute1 (min·it) n. 1. one-sixtieth of an hour. 2. a very short time, a moment. 3. an exact point of time. 4. one-sixtieth of a degree used in measuring angles. 5. minutes, an official record of the proceedings of an assembly or committee etc. made during a meeting. □ minute hand, the long hand that marks the minutes on the face of a clock or watch. minute steak, a thin slice of steak that can be cooked quickly.

mi·nute2 (mi-noot, -nyoot) adj. 1. extremely small. 2. very detailed and precise, a minute examination. mi·nute'ly adv. mi·nute'ness n.

Min·ute·man (min-it-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an American militiaman of the Revolutionary War period. □From the requirement to be ready to march at a minute's notice.

mi·nu·ti·ae (mi-noo-shē-ē) n. pl. (sing. mi·nu·ti·a, pr. mi-noo-shē-ā) very small details.

minx (mingks) n. a cheeky or mischievous girl.

Mi·o·ce·ne (mi-ō-seen) adj. of the geologic epoch of the Tertiary period before the Pliocene and after the Oligocene. Miocene n. the Miocene epoch.

mi·r·a·cle (mir-ā-kēl) n. 1. a remarkable and welcome event that seems impossible to explain by means of the known laws of nature and is therefore attributed to a supernatural agency. 2. a remarkable example or specimen, it's a miracle of ingenuity.

mi·rac·u·lous (mi-rak-ū-lūs) adj. of or like a miracle, wonderful. mi·rac·u·lous·ly adv. mi·rac·u·lous·ness n.

mi·rage (mi-rāzh) n. an optical illusion caused by atmospheric conditions, especially making sheets of water seem to appear in a desert or on a hot road.

mire (mir) n. 1. swampy ground, bog. 2. mud or sticky dirt.

mi·r·ror (mir·ər) n. a piece of glass backed with silver so that reflections can be seen in it. mirror v. to reflect in or as if in a mirror. □ mirror image, a reflection or copy in which the right and left sides of the original are reversed.

mirth (murth) n. merriment, laughter. mirth'ful adj. mirth'ful·ly adv. mirth'ful·ness n.

MIRV (murv) n. multiple independently targeted reentry vehicle (a type of missile carrying warheads separately aimed at various targets).

mis- prefix badly, wrongly.

mis·a·den·ture (mis-ad-ven-chūr) n. a piece of bad luck.

mis·a·lig·n (mis-ā-lin) v. to align incorrectly. mis·a·line·ment (mis-ā-lin·ment) n.

mis·a·li·ance (mis-ā-li-ans) n. an unsuitable alliance, especially an unsuitable marriage.

mis·a·lo·cate (mis-ā-lo-kayt) v. to distribute in an improper or faulty manner.

mis·a·lo·ca·tion (mis-ā-lo-kay-shōn) n.

mis·a·no·th·ro·py (mis-ā-nō-thrō-pee) n. dislike of people in general.

mis·a·no·thro·pl·ist n. mis·a·no·thro·ple (mis-ā-nō-throhp) n. mis·a·no·thr·op·ic (mis-ā-nō-throp-ik) adj.

mis·a·pl·y (mis-ā-pl) v. (mis·ap·plied, mis·a·pl·y·ing) to apply wrongly, especially funds. mis·a·pl·ica·tion (mis-ap·li-kay-shōn) n.

mis·a·pre·hen·d (mis-ap·ri-hend) n. to misunderstand. mis·a·pre·hen·sion (mis-ap·ri-hen-shōn) n. misappropriate / miserable mis·ap·pro·pri·ate (mis-ə-proh·pri-ət) v. (mis·ap·pro·pri·at·ed, mis·ap·pro·pri·at·ing) to take dishonestly, especially for one’s own use. mis·ap·pro·pri·a·tion (mis·ə-proh·pri·ə-shən) n.

mis·be·a·tten (mis-bi-gət·ən) adj. contemptible.

mis·be·have (mis-bi-hāv) v. (mis·be·haved, mis·be·hav·ing) to behave badly. mis·be·ha·vior (mis-bi-hāv·yər) n.

mis·brand (mis-brand) v. to brand in a misleading or illegal manner.

misc. abbr. 1. miscellaneous. 2. miscellany.

mis·cal·cu·late (mis·kal·kyū·lat) v. (mis·cal·cu·lat·ed, mis·cal·cu·lat·ing) to calculate incorrectly. mis·cal·cu·la·tion (mis·kal·kyū·la·shən) n.

mis·cal·cu·la·tion (of) (mis·cal·ku·la·tion) n.

mis·call (mis·kal) v. to give a wrong or inappropriate name to.

mis·car·riage (mis·kar·ij, -kar·ij) n. 1. abortion occurring without being induced. 2. a mistake or failure to achieve the correct result, a miscarriage of justice. 3. the miscarriage of a letter or goods or of a scheme etc.

mis·car·ry (mis·kar·) v. (mis·car·ried, mis·car·ry·ing) 1. (of a pregnant woman) to have a miscarriage. 2. (of a scheme etc.) to go wrong, to fail. 3. (of a letter etc.) to fail to reach its destination.

mis·cast (mis·kast) v. (mis·cast, mis·cast·ing) to cast (an actor) in an unsuitable role.

mis·ce·ge·na·tion (mis·sē·jē·nay·shən, mi·sē·jē·-ə) n. marriage or interbreeding of races, especially of whites with non-whites.

mis·cel·la·ne·ous (mis·sē·lə·nē·əs) adj. 1. of various kinds, miscellaneous items. 2. of mixed composition or character, a miscellaneous collection. mis·cel·la·ne·ous·ly adv. mis·cel·la·ne·ous·ness n.

mis·cel·la·ny (mis·sē·lə·nē) n. (pl. -nies) a collection of various items.

mis·chance (mis-chans) n. misfortune.

mis·chief (mis·chif) n. 1. conduct (especially of children) that is annoying or does slight damage but is not malicious. 2. a tendency to tease or cause annoyance playfully, full of mischief. 3. harm or damage, did a lot of mischief. □do someone a mischief, to injure him. make mischief, to cause discord or ill-feeling.

mis·chief·mak·er (mis·chif·may·kər) n. a person who makes mischief.

mis·chie·vous (mis·chē·vəs) adj. (of a person) full of mischief, (of an action) brought about by mischief. mis·chic·vous·ly adv. mis·chic·vous·ness n. □Do not put an extra i after the v in any of these words.

mis·cl·a·ble (mis·kl·ə-ble) adj. able to be mixed. mis·cl·a·bi·l·i·ty (mis·kl·ə·bə·li·tē) n.

mis·com·mu·ni·cate (mis-kəm·myoo·ni·kət) v. (mis·com·mu·ni·cat·ed, mis·com·mu·ni·cat·ing) to communicate incorrectly. mis·com·mu·ni·ca·tion (mis·kəm·myoo·ni·kə·shən) n.

mis·con·ce·lve (mis·kon·selv) v. (mis·con·celved, mis·con·cel·ving) to misunderstand, to interpret incorrectly.

mis·con·cep·tion (mis·kən·sep·shən) n. a wrong interpretation.

mis·con·duct (mis·kon·dəkt) n. 1. bad behavior. 2. adultery. 3. mismanagement.

mis·con·strue (mis·kon·stroo) v. (mis·con·strued, mis·con·stru·ing) to misinterpret. mis·con·struc·tion (mis·kon·struk·shən) n.

mis·cop·y (mis·kop·s) v. (mis·cop·ied, mis·cop·y·ing) to copy incorrectly.

mis·count (mis·koun·t) v. to count incorrectly. mis·count (mis·koun·t) n. an incorrect count.

mis·cre·ant (mis·krip·ənt) n. a wrongdoer. a villain.

mis·cue (mis·kyoo) n. a failure to strike a ball properly in billiards. mis·cue (mis·cued, mis·cu·ing) to make a miscue.

mis·date (mis·dayt) v. (mis·dat·ed, mis·dat·ing) to date (an event, a letter, etc.) wrongly.

mis·deal (mis·deel) v. (mis·dealt, mis·deal·ing) to make a mistake in dealing playing cards. mis·deal (mis·deal) n. an incorrect dealing.

mis·deed (mis·deed) n. a wrong or improper act, a crime.

mis·de·mean·or (mis·di·mē·nər) n. 1. a misdeed, wrongdoing. 2. an indictable offense less serious than a felony.

mis·di·rect (mis·di·rek) v. to direct incorrectly. mis·di·rec·tion (mis·di·rek·shən) n.

mise-en·scène (mez·ən·sən) 1. the scenery and properties of an acted play. 2. the surroundings of an event. □French.

mi·ser (mi·zər) n. a person who hoards money and spends as little as possible. mi·ser·ly adv. mi·ser·ly·ness n.

mi·ser·able (mi·zər·əbəl) adj. 1. full of misery, feeling very unhappy or uneasy or uncomfortable. 2. surly and discontented, disagreeable. 3. unpleasant, mis·er·able·ly. 4. wretchedly poor in quality or surroundings etc., a miserable attempt; miserable slums. mis·er·a·ble·ly adv. mis·er·a·ble·ness n.
miser
d bly adv. mis'er-a·ble·ness n.
mis'·er·y (miz'-ë-ree) n. (pl. -er·ies) 1. a feeling of great unhappiness or discomfort. 2. something causing this. 3. (often pl.) (informal) a physical discomfort or pain, I've got the miseries.
mis'·fe·a·sance (mis-fee-zänz) n. a transgression, especially the wrongful exercise of lawful authority.
mis'·file (mis-flë) v. (mis·filed, mis'·fil·ling) to file in the wrong place.
mis'·fire (mis·fir) v. (mis·fired, mis'·flir·ing) 1. (of a gun) to fail to go off correctly. 2. (of an engine etc.) to fail to start, to function incorrectly. 3. to fail to have the intended effect, the joke misfired.
mis'fire n. a misfiring.
mis'·fit (mis·fit, mis·fit) n. 1. a garment etc., that does not fit the person it was meant for. 2. a person who is not well suited to his work or to his environment.
mis'·for·tune (mis·for-chün) n. bad luck, an unfortunate event.
mis'·giv·ing (mis·giv·ing) n. a feeling of doubt or slight fear or mistrust.
mis'·gov·ern (mis·gu·ë·rn) v. to govern badly. mis'·gov·ern·ment n.
mis'·guid·ed (mis·guid·ed) adj. mistaken in one's opinions or actions, ill-judged.
mis'·guid·ed·ly adv.
mis'·han·dle (mis·han·del) v. (mis·han·dling, mis·han·dling) to deal with (a thing) badly or inefficiently.
mis'·hap (mis·hap, mis·hap) n. an unlucky accident.
mis'·hear (mis·heer) v. (mis·heard, mis·hear·ing) to hear incorrectly.
mis'·shash (mish·mosh, -mash) n. a confused mixture.
mis'·in·form (mis·in·form) v. to give wrong information to. mis'·in·for·ma·tion (mis·in·for·may·shün) n.
mis'·in·ter·pret (mis·in·ter·pret) v. to interpret incorrectly. mis'·in·ter·pre·ta·tion (mis·in·ter·pré·ta·shün) n.
mis'·judg·e (mis·juj) v. (mis·judged, mis·judg·ing) to have a wrong opinion of, to estimate incorrectly. mis'·judg·ment n.
mis'·la·bel (mis·lay·bel) v. (mis·la·beled, mis·la·beled·ing) to label incorrectly or misleadingly.
mis·lay (mis·lay) v. (mis·laid, mis·lay·ing) to put (a thing) in a place and be unable to remember where it is, to lose temporarily.
mis·lead (mis·leed) v. (mis·led, mis·lead·ing) to cause (a person) to gain a wrong impression of something. mis·lead·ing·ly adv.
mis·man·age (mis·man·ij) v. (mis·man·aged, mis·man·age·ing) to man-age (affairs) badly or wrongly. mis·man·age·ment n.
mis·match (mis·mach) v. to match unsuitably or incorrectly. mismatch (mis·mach, mis·mach) n. a bad match.
mis·name (mis·naym) v. (mis·named, mis·nam·ing) to miscall.
mis·no·mer (mis·noh·mër) n. a name or description that is wrongly applied to something.
mis·so·g·a·mist (mis·so·g·a·mist) n. a person who hates marriage. mis·so·ga·my n.
mis·so·y·nist (mis·so·y·nist) n. a person who hates women. mis·so·y·ny n.
mis·place (mis·plays) v. (mis·placed, mis·plac·ing) 1. to put (a thing) in the wrong place. 2. to place (one's confidence etc.) unwisely. 3. to use (words or action) in an unsuitable situation, misplaced humor.
mis·play (mis·play) n. a wrong or ineffective play in a game, contest, etc. mis·play v. to play in a wrong or ineffective manner.
mis·print (mis·print, mis·print) n. an error in printing. mis·print (mis·print) v. to print incorrectly.
mis·pri·son (mis·priz·h·ön) n. a wrong action or omission by a public official.
mis·pris·mion of felony, the concealment of knowledge that a felony has taken place.
mis·pro·nounce (mis·pro·nows) v. (mis·pro·nounced, mis·pro·nounced·ly) to pronounce wrongly. mis·pro·nun·ci·a·tion (mis·pro·nun·si·ay·shün) n.
mis·quote (mis·kwoht) v. (mis·quot·ed, mis·quot·ing) to quote incorrectly. mis·quo·ta·tion (mis·kwo·tay·shün) n.
mis·read (mis·reed) v. (mis·read, mis·read·ing) to read or interpret incorrectly.
mis·rep·re·sent (mis·rep·ri·zent) v. to represent in a false or misleading way. mis·rep·re·sen·ta·tion (mis·rep·ri·zen·tay·shün) n.
mis·rule (mis·rool) n. bad government. mis·rule v. (mis·ruled, mis·rul·ing) to govern badly.
mis·s (mis·s) v. 1. to fail to hit or reach or catch (an object). 2. to fail to see or hear or understand etc., we missed the signpost; missed that remark. 3. to fail to catch (a train etc.) or keep (an appointment) or meet (a person), to fail to seize (an opportunity). 4. to omit, to lack. 5. to notice the absence or loss of. 6. to feel regret at the absence or loss of; old Smith won't be missed, no one will feel regret at his absence or death. 7. to avoid, go this way and you'll miss the traffic.
8. (of an engine etc.) to misfire. miss n. 1. failure to hit or attain what is aimed at. 2. (informal) a miscarriage. □ a miss is as good as a mile, a narrow margin (of escape, failure, etc.) is a margin nonetheless. miss out, to omit. miss out on, to fail to get benefit or enjoyment from. miss the boat, (informal) to lose an opportunity.

miss

1. a girl or unmarried woman.
2. Miss, a title used of or to a girl or unmarried woman, Miss Smith (pl. the Miss Smiths); Miss America, Miss New England, the title of the winner of a beauty contest in the specified region etc.
3. one of a range of sizes of garments suitable for women of average build, miss size 14; misses’ dresses.

Miss. abbr. Mississippi.

mis-sal (mis-á) n. a book containing the prayers used in the Mass of the Roman Catholic Church.

mis-send (mis-send) v. (mis-sent, mis-sent-ing) to send incorrectly.

mis-shape (mis-shayp) v. (mis-shaped, mis-shap-en, mis-shap-ing) to give a bad shape or form to.

mis-sile (mis-il) n. an object or weapon suitable for throwing or projecting at a target.

mis-sile-man (mis-il-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person who designs, builds, or launches guided missiles.

mis-sile-ry (mis-il-ré) n. the construction and use of guided missiles.

mis-ing (mis-ing) adj. 1. lost, not in its place, two pages are missing. 2. not present, he’s always missing when there’s work to be done. 3. absent from home and with one’s whereabouts unknown, she’s listed as a missing person. 4. (of a soldier etc.) neither present after a battle nor known to have been killed, he was reported as missing in action. □ missing link, a thing lacking to complete a series; a type of animal supposed to have existed between the anthropoid apes and the development of man.

mis-sion (mis-shon) n. 1. a body of envoys sent to a foreign country or to an international organization. 2. an establishment of missionaries. 3. an organization for spreading the Christian faith, a series of religious services etc. for this purpose.
4. the work or premises of a religious or other mission. 5. a person’s vocation, his mission in life.

mis-sion-ar-y (mis-shon-ár-i) n. a person who is sent to spread the Christian faith among members of a community. missionary adj. of or concerned with religious or similar missions; I was impressed with her missionary zeal, her enthusiasm and persistence.

mis-sion-er (mis-shon-ér) n. a missionary.

mis-sion-pl-an (mis-sion-plán) adj. 1. of a Paleozoic period about 300 to 350 million years ago. 2. of the state of Mississippi. Mississippi plan n. a native or inhabitant of Mississippi.

mis-sive (mis-iv) n. a written message, a letter.

Mis-sou-ri (mi-zoor-i) a state of the U.S. Mis-sour’-i-an adj. & n.

mis-spell (mis-spell) v. (mis-spelled or mis-spelt, mis-spell-ing) to spell incorrectly.

mis-spend (mis-spend) v. (mis-spent, mis-spend-ing) to spend badly or unwisely.

mis-state (mis-stat) v. (mis-stat-ed, mis-stat-ing) to state wrongly. mis-state’ment n.

mis-step (mis-step) n. a wrong step or action.

mist (mist) n. 1. water vapor near the ground in drops smaller than raindrops, clouding the atmosphere less thickly than fog does. 2. condensed vapor clouding a window etc. 3. something resembling mist in its form or effect. mis-ty to cover or become covered with mist, the windshield misted up.

mis-tak-a-ble (mi-stay-kä-bel) adj. able to be mistaken for another person or thing.

mis-take (mi-stayk) n. an incorrect idea or opinion, something done incorrectly.

mistake v. (mis-took, mis-tak-en, mis-tak-ing) 1. to misunderstand the meaning or intention of. 2. to choose or identify wrongly, mistake one’s vocation; she is often mistaken for her sister. □ by mistake, as the result of carelessness or forgetfulness etc.

mis-tak-en (mis-tay-kên) adj. 1. wrong in one’s opinion, you are mistaken. 2. applied unwisely, mistaken kindness. mis-tak’-en-ly adv.

mis-ter (mis-tér) n. (informal) a form of address to a man, used without his name. (See Mr.).

mis-time (mis-tim) v. (mis-timed, mis-tim-ing) to say or do (a thing) at a wrong time.

mis-tle-toe (mis-tl-toe) n. a plant with white berries that grows as a parasite on trees.

mis-tral (mis-trál, mi-strahl) n. a cold north or northwest wind in the Mediter-misan treat (mis-treat) v. to treat badly.
mis
treat'ment n.
mis
tress (mis-tris) n. 1. a woman who is in a position of authority or control. 2. the female head of a household. 3. the female owner of a dog or other animal. 4. a female teacher. 5. a man’s female lover with whom he has a continuing illicit sexual relationship.
mis
tri al (mis-tri-āl) n. a trial that is invalid because of procedural error.
mis trust (mis-trust) v. to feel no trust in. mistrust n. lack of trust. mis trust’ful adj. mis trust’ful
ly adv. mis
trust’ful
ness n.
mis
ty (mis-tee) adj. (mist ler, mist lest) 1. full of mist. 2. indistinct in form or idea etc. mist ly adv. mist
ness n.
mis
un der stand (mis-un der stand) v. (mis
un der stood, mis
un der stand
ling) to form an incorrect interpretation or opinion of.
mis
un der stand ling (mis-un der
stand
ling) n. 1. a disagreement. 2. a misinterpretation.
mis
us age (mis-yoo
ij) n. 1. bad treatment. 2. misuse, especially of words.
mis
use (mis yooz) v. (mis used, mis
us ing) 1. to use wrongly or incorrectly. 2. to treat badly. misuse (mis yoos) n. wrong or incorrect use.
mite (mit) n. 1. a very small spiderlike parasitic animal found in food, cheese mites. 2. a very small contribution, offered a mite of comfort. 3. a very small creature, a small child.
mit
er (mit
r) n. 1. the tall headdress worn by bishops as a symbol of office. 2. a joint or joining of two pieces of wood with their ends evenly tapered so that together they form a right angle. miter v. to join in a miter.
mil gate (mit
-gayt) v. (mil
-gat
ed, mil
-gat
ling) to make less intense or serious or severe; mitigating circumstances, facts that partially excuse wrongdoing. mil
-gator n. mil
-gative (mil
-gay-tiv) adj. mix
-tor v. (mix
-tor) adj. (mix
-tor
ce) adj. mix
-tion (mix
-
shōn) n. Do not confuse mitigate with militate. mit
to sis (mit
to
sis) n. division of a cell or nucleus. mit
to lc (mit
-to
k) adj.
mitt (mit) n. 1. a mitten. 2. (informal) a baseball glove, usually one worn by a catcher or first baseman. 3. (slang) a hand.
mitt
ten (mit
n) n. a kind of glove that leaves the fingers and thumb tip bare or that has no partition between the fingers.
mix (miks) v. 1. to put different things together so that the substances etc. are no longer distinct, to make or prepare (a thing) by doing this. 2. to be capable of being blended, oil will not mix with water. 3. to combine, to be able to be combined, mix business with pleasure; drinking and driving don’t mix. 4. (of a person) to be sociable or harmonious.
mix n. 1. a mixture. 2. a mixture prepared commercially from suitable ingredients for making something, cake mix; concrete mix. mix’a bie adj. mix it up, (informal) to fight. mix up, to mix thoroughly; to confuse (things) in one’s mind; to make (a person) feel confused; be mixed up in a crime etc., to be involved in it.
mixed (mikst) adj. 1. composed of various qualities or elements. 2. containing people from various races or social classes. 3. for people of both sexes, mixed swimming. mixed bag, an assortment of different things or people. mixed blessing, a thing that has advantages and also disadvantages. mixed doubles, a doubles game in tennis with a man and woman as partners on each side. mixed farming, farming of both crops and livestock. mixed feelings, a mixture of pleasure and dismay at the same event.
mixed grill, a dish of various grilled meats and vegetables. mixed marriage, marriage between people of different race or religion. mixed number, a number containing an integer and a fraction.
mixed-up (mikst up) adj. (informal) having problems of the emotions and behavior through not being well adjusted socially.
mix er (mik
sr) n. 1. a device that mixes or blends things, food mixers. 2. a person who gets on in a certain way with others, a good mixer. 3. a gathering designed to help people become acquainted with one another.
mixt. abbr. mixture.
mix ture (miks-chür) n. 1. mixing, being mixed. 2. something made by mixing, a combination of things or ingredients or qualities etc.
mix
up (miks
up) n. a confusion.
miz
zen (miz
en) n. the lowest fore-and-aft sail of a fully rigge d ship.
miz
zen mast (miz en-mast, māst) n. 1. the aftmost mast in a vessel with two or three masts. 2. the third mast in a vessel with four or more masts.
Mk. abbr. mark.
mks abbr. meter-kilogram-second.
mktg abbr. marketing.
ml abbr. milliliter(s).
ML abbr. Medieval Latin.
Mlle. abbr. Mademoiselle.
Miles. abbr. Mesdemoiselles. mm abbr. millimeter(s).
MM. abbr. Messieurs.
Mme. abbr. Madame.
Mmes. abbr. Mesdames.
Mn symbol manganese.
MnO symbol molybdenum.
MO abbr. Missouri.
M.O. abbr. 1. mail order. 2. medical officer.
moan (mohn) n. 1. a low mournful inarticulate sound, usually indicating pain or suffering. 2. a grumble. moan v. 1. to utter a moan, to say with a moan. 2. (of wind etc.) to make a sound like a moan. 3. to grumble. moan'er n.
moat (moht) n. a deep wide ditch surrounding a castle or house etc., usually filled with water.
moat-ed (moh-tid) adj. surrounded by a moat.
mob (mob) n. 1. a large disorderly crowd of people. 2. the mob, the common people, the rabble. 3. (slang) a gang. mob v. (mobbed, mob-bing) to crowd around in great numbers either to attack or to admire. mob rule, rule imposed and enforced by the mob.
mobile (moh-bil) adj. 1. movable, not fixed, able to move or be moved easily and quickly; mobile shop, one accommodated in a vehicle so that it can be driven from place to place. 2. (of the features of the face) readily changing expression. mobile (moh-beel) n. a structure of metal or plastic or cardboard etc. that may be hung so that its parts move freely in currents of air. mobile home, a large automotive vehicle or trailer equipped as a home.
mo-blize (moh-bliz) v. (mo-blized, mo-bliz-ing) 1. to assemble (troops) for service, to prepare for war or other emergency. 2. to assemble for a particular purpose, they mobilized support from all parties. mo-bliz'er n. mo-bliz-a-tion (moh-bliz-ay-shon) n.
mob-ster (mob-stér) n. (slang) a gangster.
moc-ca-sin (mok-á-sin) n. 1. a kind of soft leather shoe, stitched around the vamp. 2. a poisonous snake of the south-eastern U.S. moc-cha (moh-ká) n. a kind of coffee, flavoring made with this.
mock (mok) v. 1. to make fun of by imitating, to mimic. 2. to scoff or jeer, to defy contemptuously. mock adj. sham, imitation, a mock battle. mock orange, a shrub with strongly scented white flowers. mock turtle soup, soup made from calf's head or other meat, to resemble turtle soup.
mock-er-y (mok-er-ee) n. (pl. -er-ies) 1. ridicule, contempt. 2. a ridiculous or unsatisfactory imitation, a travesty.
mock-he-ro-ic (mok-he-ro-ick) adj. burlesque heroic style.
mock-ing-bird (mok-ing-burd) n. a bird that mimics the notes of other birds.
mock-up (mok-up) n. an experimental model showing the appearance of a proposed book, ship, etc. mod (mod) adj. (informal) modern, bold and not traditional in style of dress. mod n. (informal) 1. a young person who adopts a mod style. 2. a modification.
mod. abbr. 1. moderate. 2. modern.
mode (mohd) n. 1. the way in which a thing is done. 2. the current fashion. 3. the value of a variable corresponding to its greatest frequency of occurrence. mod-al (moh-dal) adj.
mod-el (mod-1) n. 1. a three-dimensional reproduction of something, usually on a smaller scale. 2. a design or style of structure, as of a car, this year's model. 3. a garment by a well-known designer, a copy of this. 4. a person or thing regarded as excellent of its kind and worthy of imitation. 5. a person employed to pose for an artist. 6. a person employed to display clothes in a shop etc. by wearing them. model adj. excellent of its kind, exemplary; a model child, well behaved. model v. (mod-eled, mod-e-ling) 1. to make a model of (a thing) in clay or wax etc., to shape (clay etc.) into a model. 2. to design or plan (a thing) in accordance with a model, the new method is modeled on the old one. 3. to work as an artist's model or as a fashion model, to display (clothes) in this way.
mod-er-ate (mod-1-rit) adj. 1. medium in amount or intensity or quality etc. 2. keeping or kept within reasonable limits, not extreme or excessive; a moderate climate, mild, not intensely hot or intensely cold. 3. not holding extremist views.
mod-er-a-tion (mod-1-ray-shon) n. 2. to preside at a meeting. moderate (mod-1-rit) n. a person who holds moderate opinions, especially in politics. mod-er-a-ty (mod-1-ray-shon) adv. mod-er-a-tion (mod-1-ray-shon) n. eration, in moderate amounts.

mod·er·a·tor (mod-ə-ray-tör) n. 1. a person who presides at a meeting. 2. a Presbyterian minister presiding over a church court or assembly.

mod·ern (mod-ərn) adj. 1. of the present or recent times, modern history. 2. in current fashion, not antiquated. 3. (of artistic or literary forms) new and experimental, not following traditional styles.

modern n. a person of modern times or with modern tastes or style. mod'ern·ly adv. mod'ern·ness n. mod·ern·i·ty (mô·dur·ni·té) n. □ Modern English, the English language from 1500 onward.

mod·ern·ism (mod·ər·niz·əm) n. modern views or methods.

mod·ern·ist (mod·ə·rin·ist) n. a person who favors modernism.

mod·ern·ize (mod·ər·niz) v. (mod·ər·niz·ed, mod·ər·niz·ing) to make modern, to adapt to modern ideas or tastes etc. mod'ern·iz·er n. mod·ern·i·za·tion (mod·ər·ni·za·shən) n. mod·est (mod·est) adj. 1. not vain, not boasting about one's merits or achievements. 2. rather shy, not putting oneself forward. 3. moderate in size or amount etc., not showy or splendid in appearance. 4. (of a woman) showing regard for conventional decencies in dress or behavior. mod'est·ly adv. mod'est·ty n.

mod·i·cum (mod·ə·küm) n. a small amount.

mod·i·fy (mod·i·fi) v. (mod·i·fied, mod·i·fy·ing) 1. to make less severe or harsh or violent. 2. to make partial changes in, some clauses in the agreement have been modified. 3. (in grammar) to qualify by describing, adjectives modify nouns. mod·i·fi·ca·tion (mod·i·fi·ka·shən) n. mod·i·fi·er (mod·i·fi·ər) n.

mod·ish (moh·dish) adj. fashionable.

mod·ish·ly adv. mod·ish·ness n.

mo·diste (moh·deest) n. (old use) a milliner, a dressmaker.

mod·u·lar (moh·ə-lər) adj. constructed of standardized units.

mod·u·lar·ize (moh·ə-lər·iz) v. (mod·u·lar·ized, mod·u·lar·iz·ing) to construct of standardized units.

mod·u·late (moh·ə-lət) v. (mod·u·lat·ed, mod·u·lat·ing) 1. to adjust or regulate, to moderate. 2. to vary the tone or pitch of (one's voice). 3. to pass from one key to another in music. 4. to alter the amplitude or frequency or phase of (a carrier wave) so as to convey a particular signal. mod·u·la·tor n. mod·u·la·tion mod·u·lia·tion (moh-ə·li·ə·shən) n.

mod·u·lus·im (moh·ə·li·uz·əm) n. a unit or standard used in measuring, a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lus (moh-ə-lus) n. 1. a unit of measurement. 2. a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lum (moh-ə·lum) n. 1. a unit or standard used in measuring, a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lum (moh·ə·lum) n. 1. a unit or standard used in measuring, a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lum·a·tion (moh·ə·lum·a·shən) n. 1. a unit or standard used in measuring, a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lus·a·tion (moh·ə·lus·a·shən) n. 1. a unit or standard used in measuring, a standardized part or an independent unit in furniture or buildings or a spacecraft etc.

mod·u·lus·o·sis (moh·ə·lus·o·sis) n. 1. a thick sticky liquid produced when sugar is refined.

mold n. soft fine loose earth that is rich in organic matter, leaf mold.
mold n. 1. a hollow container into which a soft or liquid substance is poured to set or cool into a desired shape. 2. a pudding, gelatin dessert, etc. made in a mold.
mold v. 1. to cause to have a certain shape, to produce by shaping. 2. to guide or control the development of, mold a person’s character.
mold n. a fine furry growth of very small fungi forming on things that lie in moist warm air. mold v. to become moldy.
mold’y adj. mold’i ness n.
Mol-da’vl-a (mol-day-vee-â) a republic of the U.S.S.R. bordering on Rumania.
Mol-da’vl-an adj. & n.
mold-board (mohld-bohrd) n. a board in a plow that turns over the furrow slice.
mold’er1 (mohl-der) v. to decay into dust, to rot away.
molder2 n. a person who molds or shapes things.
molding (mohld-ding) n. 1. shaping in a mold. 2. a molded object, especially an ornamental strip of plaster or wood etc. decorating or outlining something.
mole1 (mohl) n. a small permanent dark spot on the human skin.
mole2 n. a structure built out into the sea as a breakwater or causeway.
mole3 n. a small burrowing animal with dark velvety fur and very small eyes.
mole4 n. a unit of molecular weight.
mol’e-cule (mol-ë-kyool) n. 1. the smallest unit (usually consisting of a group of atoms) into which a substance can be divided without a change in its chemical nature. 2. a small particle.
molecular adj.
mole’hill (mohl-hil) n. a small mound of earth thrown up by a burrowing mole.
make a mountain out of a molehill, to behave as if a small difficulty were a very great one.
mole’skin (mohl-skin) n. 1. the fur of the mole. 2. a fabric having a soft thick nap.
mol’est (moh-est) v. to annoy or pester a person in a hostile way or in a way that causes injury. mol’ester n. omes’tation (mohl-stay-shun) n.
moll (mol) (informal) a gangster’s female companion.
mol’li’fy (mol-li-fi) v. (mol’li-fled, mol’li’fy ing) to soothe the anger of. mol’li-fication (mol-lif-kay-shun) n. mol’lusk, mol’lus’c (mol’usk) n. any of a group of animals that have soft bodies and hard shells (such as snails, oysters, mussels) or no shell (such as slugs, octopuses).
mol’lus’ken, mol’lus’can (mohl-lus-keen) adj.
mol’ly (mol-ee) n. (pl. -lies) a freshwater aquarium fish whose young are born alive, not in the form of eggs.
monarchy / monitor

n. mon·ar·chist·ic (mon-är-kis-tik) adj.
mon·ar·chy (mon-är-kee) n. (pl. -chies) 1. a form of government in which a monarch is the supreme ruler. 2. a country with this form of government.
mon·as·ter·y (mon-ä-stér-ee) n. (pl. -ter-ies) a building in which monks live as a secluded community under religious vows. mon·as·ter·i·al (mon-ä-stér-i-äl) adj.
mo·nas·tic (mō-nas-tik) adj. of monks or monasteries. mo·nas·tic·al·ly adv.
mo·nas·ti·cism (mō-nas-ti-siz-ëm) n.
mon·au·ral·ly (mo-nor-äl) adj. monophonic. mon·au·ral·ly adv.
Mon·day (mound-day) n. the day of the week following Sunday.
mon·e·tar·ism (mon-ē-tar-ëz-ëm) n. the theory that governments create inflation by putting too much money into the economy.
mon·e·tar·ist (mon-e-ta-riz-ëm) n. a person who supports this theory.
mon·e·tar·y (mon-ē-tar-ë) adj. 1. of a country's currency, our monetary system. 2. of or involving money, its monetary value. ▶ Do not confuse monetary with financial. Monetary experts pay attention to the amount of currency in circulation. Financial experts are concerned with banking, business, or governmental transactions involving money.
mon·ey (mun-ë) n. 1. coin, portable pieces of stamped metal in use as a medium of exchange. 2. coins and banknotes. 3. (pl. moneys or monies) specific sums of currency. 4. an amount of money, wealth; they've got plenty of money, are wealthy; there's money in it, much profit can be made from it.
□ get one's money's worth, to get good value for one's money. In the money, (informal) winning money prizes; (slang) having plenty of money.
make money, to make a profit; to become rich by doing this. marry money, to marry a rich person. money box, a closed box into which savings or contributions are dropped through a slit.
money of account, a unit of money used in reckoning for which there may or may not be an equivalent coin or paper money.
money order, a printed order for the payment of money, issued by a post office, bank, etc. for payment at any of its branches.
money supply, the amount of currency, plus demand or checking account deposits, in public hands. ▶ Note that there is rarely a need for the plural form of money (see definition 3 above for one use of the plural form.)
mon·ey·back (mun-ë-bak) adj. (of a guarantee) promising to return a customer's money if he is not satisfied.
mon·ey·bags (mun-ë-bagz) n. (slang) a rich person.
mon·ey·chang·er (mun-ë-chayn-jër) n. a person whose business is to change money at a stated rate.
mon·eyed (mun-ëd) adj. wealthy.
mon·ey·grub·ber (mun-ë-grub-ër) n. a person who is greedily intent on making money.
mon·ey·lend·er (mun-ë-len-dër) n. a person whose business it is to lend money on which the borrower will pay interest.
mon·ey·mak·er (mun-ë-may-kërr) n. a person or business etc. that is successful in making a profit.
mon·ey·mak·ing adj. & n.
Mon·gol (mong-gol) adj. Mongolian.
Mon·gol·ia (mong-gol-ë) n. a Mongolian person.
Mon·go·li·a (mong-gol-ë-ä) a region north of China, including Inner Mongolia, controlled by China, and the Mongolian People's Republic.
Mon·go·li·an adj. & n.
Mongolian (mong-gol-ë-an) People's Republic a country in north central Asia.
Mon·go·lis·m (mong-gol-ëz-ëm) n. an abnormal congenital condition in which a person suffers from mental deficiency and has a Mongoloid appearance, Down's syndrome.
Mon·go·loid (mong-gol-oid) adj. 1. resembling the Mongols in racial characteristics, having yellowish skin, a broad flat face, and straight black hair. 2. of or suffering from mongolism.
Mongol·oid n. 1. a Mongoloid person. 2. a person suffering from mongolism.
mon·goose (mong-gos) n. (pl. -gooses) a weasel-like tropical animal that can attack and kill poisonous snakes.
mon·grel (mong-grël) n. 1. a dog of no definable type or breed. 2. an animal or plant of mixed breed. mongrel adj. of mixed origin or character.
mon·ick·er, mon·i·ker (mon-i-kërr) n. (slang) a person's name.
mon·ism (mon-iz-ëm) n. the doctrine that only one ultimate principle or being exists. mon·i·list (mun-ë-lëst) n. mo·nis·tic (mō-nis-tik) adj.
mo·ni·tion (mō-nish-ën) n. 1. a warning of danger. 2. a formal notice from a bishop or an ecclesiastical court admonishing someone to refrain from some offense.
mon·i·tor (mon-i-tërr) n. 1. a pupil who is given special duties in a school. 2. a device used for observing or testing the operation of something. 3. a person who monitors broadcasts etc. 4. a television set used in a studio to check or select transmissions. monitor v. to keep watch over, to record or test or control the working of.

mon-i-to-ry (mon-i-toh-ee) adj. serving as a warning, admonitory.

monk1 (mungk) n. a member of a community of men living apart from the world under the rules of a religious order.

monk’s cloth, a rough cotton cloth of basket weave.

monk2 n. (informal) monkey.

mon-key (mung-kee) n. (pl. -keys) 1. an animal of a group closely related to man, especially one of the small long-tailed species. 2. a mischievous person. monkey v. (mon-keyed, mon-key-ing) to play about mischievously; don’t monkey with the switch, do not tamper with it.

monkey business, (slang) mischief; underhand dealings. monkey suit, (slang) a uniform, a man’s formal evening dress. monkey wrench, a wrench with adjustable jaws.

mon-key-shines (mung-kee-shinz) n. pl. (slang) mischief or tricks.

monk-lish (mung-kish) adj. of or like a monk. monk’ish-ly adv. monk’ish-ness n.

monks’ hood (mungks-huud) n. a poisonous plant with blue hood-shaped flowers.

mono1 (mon-oh) adj. monophonic.

mono n. (pl. mon-os) 1. monophonic sound or recording. 2. a monophonic record.

mono2 n. (informal) mononucleosis.

mono- prefix one, single, alone.

mon-o-chrome (mon-oh-krohm) adj. done in only one color, black and white. mon-o-chro-ma-tic (mon-oh-kroh-mat-ik) adj.

mon-o-cle (mon-oh-kél) n. an eyeglass for one eye only.

mon-o-cot-y-le’don n. a flowering plant with a single cotyledon. mon-o-cot’y-le’don-ous adj.

mo-noc-u-lar (mō-nok-yū-lər) adj. with one eye, using or intended for use with one eye.

mon-o-dy (mon-oh-dee) n. (pl. -dies) 1. an ode sung by a single actor in a Greek tragedy. 2. a poem in which a mourner bewails someone’s death. mon-o-dist n. mon-o-di-c (mon-o-di-ik) adj.

mon-o-fil’a-ment (mon-oh-fil-ah-ment) n. a single untwisted synthetic filament.

mo-nog’a-my (mō-nog-ā-mē) n. the system of being married to only one person at a time. mo-nog’a-mist n. mo-nog’ a-mous adj. mon-o-ga-mic (mon-oh-gam-ik) adj.

mon-o-gram (mon-oh-gram) n. two or more letters (especially a person’s initials) combined in one design. mono-gram v. (mon-o-grammed, mon-o-gram-ling) to mark with a monogram. mon-o-grammed adj.

mon-o-graph (mea-oh-graf) n. a scholarly treatise on a single subject or on some aspect of a subject.

mon-o-lin’gual (mon-oh-ling-wal) adj. expressed in or knowing or using only one language.

mon-o-lith (mon-oh-lith) n. a large single upright block of stone.

mon-o-lith’ic (mon-oh-lith-ik) adj. 1. consisting of one or more monoliths. 2. like a monolith in being single and massive, a monolithic organization.

mon-o-logue n. (mon-oh-lawg) n. a long speech by one performer or by one person in a group. mon-o-log’ lat (mō-nol-ō-jist) n.

mon-o-ma’ni-a (mon-oh-ma-ni-ə) n. an obsession with one idea or interest.

mon-o-ma’ni-ac n.

mon-o-mer (mon-oh-mér) n. a chemical compound that can be polymerized.

mon-o-mo’ral (mon-oh-mo-ral) n. an algebraic expression consisting of one term. monomial adj.

mon-o-nu’cle-o’sis (mon-oh-noo-kli-osis) n. an infectious disease with swelling of the lymph glands.

mon-o-pho’nic (mon-oh-fon-ik) adj. (of sound reproduction) using only one transmission channel. mon-o-pho’ni-cal’ly adv.

mon-o-plan’e (mon-oh-plan) n. a type of airplane with only one set of wings.

mon-o-p’o-list (mon-oh-poh-list) n. a person who has a monopoly. mon-o-p’o-lis’tic (mon-oh-poh-lis-tik) adj.

mon-o-p’o-lize v. (mon-oh-poh-liz) to take exclusive control or use of; monopolize the conversation, give others no chance to join in. mon-o-p’o-la’zation n. (mon-op-oh-li-ray-osh) n.

mon-o-p’o-ly (mon-oh-poh-lee) n. (pl. -lies) 1. exclusive possession of the trade in some commodity. 2. sole possession or control of anything. 3. Monopoly, (trade-mark) a board game in which squares represent properties which players buy with imitation money.

mon-o-rail (mon-oh-rayl) n. a railway in which the track consists of a single rail.

mon-o-so’di-um (mon-oh-so-dee-um) n. also mon-o-sodium (mon-oh-so-dee-um) n. a form of salt used as a flavoring agent in food and other products.

mon-o-syl’la’ble (mon-oh-sil-ah-bel) n. a word of one syllable. mon-o-syl’lab’ic (mon-oh-sil-ah-bik) adj. mon-o-syl’lab’i-cal’ly adv.
mon*o*the*ism (mon-0-the-iz-ém) n. the doctrine that there is only one God.
mon*o*the*ist n. mon*o*the*is*tic (mon-0-the-iz-tik) adj.
mon*o*tone (mon-0-tohn) n. a level unchanging tone of voice in speaking or singing.
mo*not*o*rous (m0-not-0-nus) adj. lacking in variety or variation, tiring or boring because of this. mo*not*o*rous*ly adv. mo*not*o*ny n.
mon*ox*ide (m0-nok-sid) n. an oxide with one atom of oxygen.
Mon*roe (m0n-roh), James (1758–1831) the fifth president of the U.S. 1817–25.
Mon*ro*vi*a (m0n-roh-vi-a) the capital of Liberia.
Mon*sel*gneur (mon-sen-yur) n. the title of an eminent French person, especially a prince, cardinal, archbishop, or bishop.
Mon*sieur (m0n-yur) n. (pl. Mes*sieurs, pr. mes-erz, may-syur) the title of a Frenchman, = Mr. or sir.
Mon*si*gnor (mon-seen-yor) n. the title of certain Roman Catholic priests and officials.
mon*soon (mon-soon) n. 1. a seasonal wind blowing in South Asia, especially in the Indian Ocean. 2. the rainy season accompanying the southwest monsoon.
mon*ster (mon-stér) n. 1. a large ugly or frightening imaginary creature. 2. an animal or plant that is very abnormal in form. 3. anything of huge size. 4. an extremely cruel or wicked person.
mon*stra*nce (mon-stráns) n. (in the Roman Catholic Church) a framed open or transparent holder in which the consecrated bread of the Eucharist is exposed for veneration.
mon*stros*ity (mon-stros-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a monstrous thing.
mon*strous (mon-strús) adj. 1. like a monster, huge. 2. outrageous, very wrong or absurd. mon*strous*ly adv. mon*strous*ness n.
Mont. abbr. Montana.
mon*tage (mon-tahzh) n. 1. the joining of a number of short disconnected shots (in a motion picture) to indicate passage of time, change of place, etc. 2. the process of making a composite picture by putting together pieces from other pictures or designs. 3. a picture produced in this way.
Mon*tan*a (mon-tan-á) a state of the U.S.
Mon*tan’an adj. & n.
Mon*tes*so*ri (mon-té-sohr-re) method a method of educating very young children by direction of their natural activities rather than by strict control.
Mon*te*vi*de*o (mon-té-vi-day-oh) the capital of Uruguay.
Mont·gom·er·y (mont-gum-er-ee) the capital of Alabama.
month (m0nth) n. 1. any of the twelve portions into which a year is divided. 2. the period between the same dates in successive months. □ month of Sundays, a very long time.
month•ly (m0nth-lee) adj. happening or published or payable etc. once a month. monthly adv. once a month. monthly n. a monthly magazine etc.
Mont•pel•ier (mont-peel-yér) the capital of Vermont.
mon*u*ment (mon-yú-mén-t) n. 1. anything (especially a structure) designed or serving to celebrate or commemorate a person or event etc. 2. a structure that is preserved because of its historical importance.
mon*u*men•tal (mon-yú-men-tal) adj. 1. of or serving as a monument, monumental brasses in the church. 2. (of a literary work) massive and of permanent importance. 3. extremely great, a monumental achievement or blunder. mon*u*men•tal•ly adv.
moo (m0o) n. the low deep sound made by a cow. moo v. to make this sound.
mooch (mooch) v. (slang) to obtain (money, cigarettes, etc.) by cadging. mooch’er n.
mood1 (mood) n. 1. a temporary state of mind or spirits. 2. the feeling or tone conveyed by a literary or artistic work, the visual mood of a film. 3. a fit of bad temper or depression, he’s in one of his moods.
mood2 n. a grammatical form of a verb that shows whether it is a statement (he stopped) or a command (stop!) etc.
mood•y (moo-dee) adj. (mood•i•er, mood•i•est) gloomy, sullen, liable to become like this. mood•i•ly adv. mood•i•ness n.
moon (m0on) n. 1. the natural satellite of Earth, made visible by light that it reflects from the sun. 2. this when it is visible, there’s no moon tonight. 3. a natural satellite of any planet. 4. something regarded as unlikely to be attained, reach for the moon; promised us the moon, made very extravagant promises. moon v. to move or look or pass time dreamily or listlessly. □ once in a blue moon, hardly ever.
moon•beam (moo-n-beem) n. a ray of moonlight.
moo•le (moo-nee) n. (slang) a follower of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon, a Korean evangelist in the U.S. moon•less (moo-lis) adj. without a moon, moonless nights.
moon•light (moo-lit) n. light from the moon. moonlight v. (informal) to have two paid jobs, one during the day and the other in the evening. moon'light'er n.

moon-lit (moon-lit) adj. lit by the moon.

moon-rise (moon-riz) n. the rising of the moon, the time of this.

moon-scape (moon-skayp) n. 1. the scenery of the moon. 2. a picture of this.

moon-shine (moon-shin) n. 1. foolish ideas. 2. moonlight. 3. (informal) illegally distilled or smuggled whiskey.

moon-shot (moon-shot) n. the launching of a spacecraft or rocket traveling to the moon.

moon-stone (moon-stohn) n. a semiprecious stone with a pearly appearance.

moon-struck (moon-struk) adj. 1. deranged in mind, supposedly because of the influence of the moon. 2. romantic.

moon-walk (moon-wawk) n. a walk on the surface of the moon.

moon-y (moon-nee) adj. (moon-ler, moon-l'est) listless, dreamy.

moor1 (moor) n. (British) a stretch of open uncultivated land with low shrubs.

moor2 v. to secure (a boat or other floating thing) to a fixed object by means of cable(s).

Moor (moor) n. a member of a Muslim people living in northwest Africa. Moor'ish adj.

moor-ings (moor-ingz) n. pl. 1. cables etc. by which something is moored. 2. a place where a boat is moored.

moose (moos) n. (pl. moose) 1. a large animal of North America belonging to the deer family. 2. the European elk.

moot (moot) adj. debatable, undecided, that's a moot point. moot v. to raise (a question) for discussion. mōot court, a law students' court for trying hypothetical cases. □ Do not confuse moot with mute.

mop (mop) n. 1. a bundle of yarn or cloth etc. fastened at the end of a stick, used for cleaning floors. 2. a small device of similar shape for various purposes, dish mop. 3. (informal) a thick mass of hair.
mop v. (mopped, mop'pling) to clean or wipe with a mop etc., to wipe away.
□ mop up, to wipe up with a mop etc.; to finish off a task; to clear (an area) of the remnants of enemy troops etc. after a victory.

mope (mohp) v. (moped, mop'ing) to be in low spirits and listless.

moped (moh-ped) n. a motorized bicycle.
mop'pet (mop-it) n. a young child.
mop-quett' (moh-ket) n. a material with raised loops or cut pile used for carpets and upholstery.
mop'rain (mō-rayn) n. a mass of debris carried down and deposited by a glacier.

mor-al (mor-äl) adj. 1. of or concerned with the goodness and badness of human character or with the principles of what is right and wrong in conduct, moral philosophy. 2. virtuous. 3. capable of understanding and living by the rules of morality. 4. based on people's sense of what is right or just, not on legal rights and obligations, we had a moral obligation to help. 5. psychological, mental not physical or concrete, moral courage: moral support, encouragement and approval. moral n. 1. a moral lesson or principle. 2. morals, a person's moral habits, especially sexual conduct. mor'al*ly adv. □ moral certainty, a probability so great that no reasonable doubt is possible. moral victory, a triumph, although nothing concrete is obtained by it. □ Do not confuse moral with morale.

mor-ale (mōr-al) n. the state of a person's or group's spirits and confidence. □ Do not confuse morale with moral.

mor-al-ist (mor-äl-list) n. a person who expresses or teaches moral principles.
mor'al-ist'ic (mor-äl-lis-tik) adj. mor'al-ist'i-cal*ly adv.

mor-al-i-ty (mōr-al-i-tee) n. pl. -ties 1. moral principles or rules. 2. a particular system of morals, political morality. 3. being moral, conforming to moral principles, goodness or rightness. □ morality play, a kind of drama with abstract qualities as the main characters and teaching a moral lesson, popular in the 16th century.

mor-al-ize (mor-äl-liz) v. (mor'al-ized, mor'al-iz'ing) to talk or write about the principles of right and wrong and conduct etc. mor'al-iz'er n. mor'al-i-za'tion (mor-äl-liz-a'shun) mor-ral (mōr'al) adj. 1. (of the mind or ideas) unwholesome, preoccupied with gloomy or unpleasant things. 2. caused by or indicating disease, unhealthy, a morbid growth. mor'bidity adv. mor'bid-ness n. mor'bid'i*ty n.

mor-dant (mor-dant) adj. characterized by a biting sarcasm, his mordant wit. mor'dant'ly adv.
more (mohr) adj. greater in quantity or intensity etc. more n. a greater quantity or number. more adv. 1. in a greater degree, was more frightened than hurt. 2. again, once more. more or less, in a greater or less degree; approximately.

mo-rel (mô-rel) n. a type of edible mushroom with a soft cap.

mo-rel-lo (mô-rel-oh) n. (pl. -los) a kind of sour dark cherry.

more-o-ver (mohr-oh-vër) adv. besides, in addition to what has already been said.

mo-res (mohr-ayz) n. pl. the customs or conventions regarded as essential to or characteristic of a community.

Mor-gan (mor-gân) n. one of a North American breed of light saddle and carriage horses descended from a stallion named Justin Morgan.

mor-ga-nat-lc (mor-gâ-nat-ik) adj. (of a marriage) between a man of high rank and a woman of low rank who retains her former status, their children having no claim to the father's possessions or title.

morgue (morg) n. a mortuary.

mor-1-bund (mor-i-bund) adj. in a dying state; a moribund institution, no longer effective.

Mor-mon (mor-môn) n. a member of a religious organization (the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints) founded in the U.S. in 1830. Mor'mon-ism n.

morn (morn) n. (poetical) morning.

morning (mor-ning) n. 1. the early part of the day, ending at noon or at the mid-day meal. 2. sunrise, dawn, when morning broke. 3. (informal, used as a greeting) = good morning. morning after, (informal) a hangover. morning dress, formal dress for a man consisting of a tailcoat, striped trousers, and top hat. morning glory, a climbing plant with trumpet-shaped flowers that often close in the afternoons. morning sickness, nausea in the morning during early pregnancy. morning star, a bright star or planet (especially Venus) seen in the east before sunrise.

Mo-rocco (mó-rok-oh) a country in North Africa. morocco n. a fine flexible leather made (originally in Morocco) from goatskins, or an imitation of this.

Mo-roc-can (mó-rok-ân) adj. & n.

mo-ron (mohr-on) n. 1. an adult with intelligence equal to that of an average child of eight to twelve years. 2. (informal) a very stupid person. mo-ron-lc (mô-ron-ik) adj. mo-ron'1-cal-ly adv.

Mo-ro-ni (mô-roh-nee) the capital of the Comoro Islands.

mo-rose (mô-rohs) adj. sullen, gloomy, and unsociable. mo-rose'ly adv. mo-rose'ness n.

mor-pheme (mor-feem) n. the smallest meaningful grammatical unit of a language, such as in, come, -ing. or. mor-phem-lc (mor-feem-ik) adj.

mor-phi-a (mor-fi-â) n. morphine.

mor-phine (mor-feen) n. a drug made from opium, used for relieving pain.

mor-phol-o-gy (mor-fol-ô-ji) n. 1. the study of the form of animals and plants. 2. the study of the form of words, the system of forms in a language.

mor-phol-o-gist (mor-fol-ô-jist) n. mor-pho-log-l-cal (mor-fô-loj-i-kal) adj.

mor-ris (mor-is) dance a traditional English folk dance performed by men in costume with ribbons and bells, morris dancers.

mor-row (mor-oh) n. (old use) the following day.

Morse (mors) code a code used in signaling in which letters of the alphabet are represented by various combinations of short and long sounds or flashes of light (dots and dashes).

mor-set (mor-sel) n. a small quantity, a small amount or piece of food.

mor-tal (mor-tal) adj. 1. subject to death. 2. causing death, fatal, a mortal wound. 3. deadly, lasting until death, mortal enemies; in mortal combat. 4. intense, in mortal fear. 5. (slang) without exception, sold every mortal thing. mortal n. a person who is subject to death, a human being. mor-tal-ly adv. mor-tal sin, (in Roman Catholic teaching) sin that causes death of the soul or that is fatal to salvation.

mor-tal-ty (mor-tal-i-tee) n. 1. being mortal, subject to death. 2. loss of life on a large scale. mortality rate, the death rate. mortality tables, tables showing the expectation of life of people according to their age.

mor-tar1 (mor-tär) n. a mixture of lime or cement with sand and water, for joining bricks or stones. mortar v. to plaster or join (bricks etc.) with mortar.

mortar2 n. 1. a vessel of hard material in which substances are pounded with a pestle. 2. a short cannon for firing shells at a high angle.

mor-tar-board (mor-tär-bohrd) n. a stiff square cap worn as part of academic dress.

mort-gage (mor-gij) v. (mort-gaged, mort-gag-ing) to give someone a claim on (property) as security for payment of a debt or loan. mortgage n. 1. mortgaging. 2. an agreement giving a claim of this kind. 3. the amount of money borrowed or lent against the security of a property in this way.

mort·ga·gee (mort-gá-jee) n. a firm (such as a bank) or a person to whom property is mortgaged.

mort·ga·gor, mort·gag·er (mort-gá-jér) n. a person who mortgages his property.

mor·ti·clan (mort-i-clán) n. an undertaker.

mor·ti·fy (mort-i-fi) v. (mor·ti·fied, mor·ti·fy·ing) 1. to Humiliate greatly. 2. To subdue by discipline or self-denial. 3. (of flesh) to become gangrenous.

mor·ti·fy·ing·ly adv. mor·ti·fi·ca·tion (mort-i-fi-ká·shon) n.

mor·tise (mort-is) n. a hole in one part of a framework into which the end of another part is inserted so that the two fit together. mortise v. (mor·tised, mor·tis·ing) to cut a mortise in, to join with a mortise.

mor·tu·ar·y (mortoo-ar·e) n. (pl. -ar·ies) a place where dead bodies may be kept temporarily.

mos. abbr. months.

mo·sa·ic (mohs-é-ik) n. a pattern or picture made by placing together small pieces of glass or stone etc. of different colors.

Mo·sa·sic (moh-sa·sik) adj. of Moses or his teaching, Mosaic Law.

Mos·cow (mos·kói) the capital of the U.S.S.R.

mo·selle (moh-zel·e) n. a dry white wine from the Moselle valley in Germany.

mo·sey (moh-zee) v. (mo·seyed, mo·sey·ing) (informal) to walk in a leisurely or aimless manner.

Mos·lem (mohs-lém, mos·) adj. & n. = Muslim.

mosque (mosk) n. a Muslim place of worship.

mos·qui·to (mós·ki·to) n. (pl. -toes) a kind of gnat, the female of which bites and sucks blood from people and animals. mosquito boat, a light motorized boat used chiefly to launch torpedoes. mosquito net, a net of fine mesh used to keep out mosquitoes.

moss (maws) n. a small flowerless plant that forms a dense growth on moist surfaces or in bogs; a rolling stone gathers no moss, one who constantly moves about or changes jobs will not grow rich.

moss·back (maws-bak) n. (informal) a very old-fashioned conservative person.

moss·y (maw·see) adj. (moss·y·er, moss·y·est) like moss, covered in moss.

most (mohst) adj. greatest in quantity or intensity etc. most n. the greatest quantity or number. most adv. 1. in the greatest degree. 2. very, a most amusing book.

most prefix used to form adjectives carrying a superlative meaning, as in foremost, uppermost.

most·ly (mohst·lee) adv. for the most part.

mot (moh) n. (pl. mots, pr. mohz) a witty saying. mot justé (zhoost), the expression that conveys a desired shade of meaning with more precision than any other. > French.

mote (moh) n. a particle of dust.

mo·tel (moh·tel) n. a roadside hotel or group of furnished cabins providing accommodation for motorists and their vehicles.

moth (mawth) n. 1. an insect resembling a butterfly but usually flying at night. 2. (also clothes moth) a small similar insect that lays its eggs in cloth or fur fabrics on which its larvae feed.

moth·ball (mawth·bawl) n. a small ball of pungent substance for keeping moths away from clothes. In mothballs, stored out of use for a considerable time.

moth·ball fleet, naval vessels stored for later use.

moth·eat·en (mawth·ee·tén) adj. 1. damaged by moth larvae. 2. antiquated, decrepit.

moth·er (muth·ér) n. 1. a female parent. 2. a quality or condition that gives rise to another; necessity is the mother of invention. 3. a woman who is head of a female religious community, Mother Superior. 4. (informal) a title used in addressing an old woman. 5. an apparatus generating warmth, used for rearing chickens without a hen. mother v. to look after in a motherly way.

moth·er·hood n. Mother Church, a church from which others have sprung, mother country, a country in relation to its colonies. Mother Hubbard, a woman’s loose shapeless dress. mother lode, a rich or important vein of metal ore.

Mother of God, the Virgin Mary.

Mother’s Day, the second Sunday in May. mother ship, the ship in charge of a group of torpedo boats, submarines, etc. mother tongue, one’s native language.

moth·er·in·law (muth·ér·in·law) n. (pl. moth·ers·in·law) the mother of one’s wife or husband.

moth·er·land (muth·ér·land) n. one’s native country.
motherless

moth·er·less (moth·er·lis) adj. without a living mother.

moth·er·ly (moth·er·lee) adj. like a mother, showing a mother's kindliness and tenderness. motherliness n.

moth·er·of·pearl (moth·er·of·pearl) n. a pearly substance lining the shells of oysters and mussels etc.

mo·tiv·ate (moh-tay·vat) v. to make a person do something, motivated him to sit beside her.

do through the motions, to do something in a perfunctory or insincere manner. In motion, moving, not at rest; set something in motion, to start it working or operating.

motion picture, a story or record of events recorded on film for showing to an audience. motion sickness, a feeling of queasiness experienced by a passenger in a moving vehicle or boat.

mo·tion·less (moh-tay·liss) adj. not moving. motion·less·ly adv. motion·less·ness n.

mo·ti·va·tion (moh-tay·va·tion) n. 1. moving, change of position. 2. manner of movement. 3. change of posture, a particular movement, a gesture. 4. a formal proposal that is to be discussed and voted on at a meeting. motion v. to make a gesture directing a person to do something, motioned him to sit beside her.

driven or moving, or to drive, to run. motor v. a light-weight motorcycle.

mo·tor·bike (moh·tor·bik) n. a two-wheeled motor-driven road vehicle that cannot be driven by pedals. motorcycle v. (motor·cy·cle, motor·cy·cling) to drive or ride on a motorcycle.

mo·tor·cy·cle (moh·tor·si·kel) n. a two-wheeled motor-driven road vehicle that cannot be driven by pedals. motorcycle v. (motor·cy·cle, motor·cy·cling) to drive or ride on a motorcycle.

mo·tor·car (moh·tor·kar) n. an automobile.

mo·tor·cy·cle (moh·tor·si·kel) n. a two-wheeled motor-driven road vehicle that cannot be driven by pedals. motorcycle v. (motor·cy·cle, motor·cy·cling) to drive or ride on a motorcycle.

mo·tor·ize (moh·tor·ize) v. (motorized, motor·iz·ing) 1. to equip with a motor or motors. 2. to equip (troops) with motor vehicles. motor·iza·tion (moh·tor·ize·ta·tion) n.

mo·tor·man (moh·tor·man) n. (pl. men, pr. -men) a driver of a subway train, trolley car, etc.

mot·tle (mot·a) v. (mot·ted, mot·ting) to mark or pattern with irregular patches of color.

mot·to (moh·tay·to) n. (pl. -toes, -toes) a short sentence or phrase adopted as a rule of conduct or as expressing the aims and ideals of a family or country or institution etc.

moue (mou) n. a pouting facial expression.

mound (mound) n. a mass of piled-up earth or stones, a small hill; pitcher's mound, the elevated ground on which a baseball pitcher stands when pitching.

mount1 (mount) n. a mountain or hill, Mount Everest.

mount2 v. 1. to ascend, to go upward, to rise to a higher level. 2. to get or put on to a horse etc. for riding, to provide with a horse for riding. 3. to increase in amount or total or intensity, the death toll mounted. 4. to put into place on a support, to fix in position for use or display or study. 5. to take action to bring into being; mount an offensive, to arrange and begin it. 6. to place on guard, mount sentries around the palace; mount guard over it, keep watch to protect it. mount n. 1. a horse for riding. 2. something on which a thing is mounted for support or display etc.

mount·ain·tain (mount·a·nay·tay·n) n. 1. a mass of land that rises to a great height, especially of over one thousand feet. 2. a large heap or pile, a huge quantity.

mountain ash, a species of ash bearing red or orange berries and white flowers. mountain tain chain, a connected series of mountains. mountain dew, whiskey, especially when illicitly distilled. mountain goat, a white goatlike animal of the Rocky Mountains and north to Alaska. mountain laurel, a North American evergreen shrub with white flowers and glossy leaves. mountain lion, a puma. mountain range, a line of mountains connected by high ground.

moun-tain·eer (mown-ti·ner) n. a person who is skilled in mountain climbing. moun-tain·eer·ing (mown-ti·ner·ing) n. the sport of climbing mountains.

moun·ta·nous (mown-ti·nus) adj. full of mountains, mountainous country. 2. huge.

moun·tain·side (mown-tin-sid) n. the slope of a mountain below the summit.

moun·tain·top (mown-tin-top) n. the summit of a mountain.

moun·te·bank (mown·te·bangk) n. a swindler or charlatan.

mount·ed (mown-tid) adj. serving on horseback, mounted police.

Moun·tie (mown·tee) n. (informal) a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

moun·ting (mown·ting) n. a mount, setting, or support for something.

mourn (mohrn) v. to feel or express sorrow for a person who has died or regret for a thing that is lost or past.

mourn·er (mohr·ner) n. a person who mourns, one who attends a funeral.

mourn·ful (mohr·ful) adj. sorrowful, showing grief. mourn·ful·ly adv.

mourn·ful·ness n.

mourn·ing (mohr·ning) n. 1. black or dark clothes worn as a conventional sign of bereavement. 2. the period during which a death is mourned.

mouse (mows) n. (pl. mice) 1. a small rodent with a long thin tail. 2. a shy or timid person. 3. (slang) a black eye.

mouse·col·ored (mows·kul·ord) adj. dull grayish-brown.

mous·er (mow·zer) n. a cat as a hunter of mice.

mouse·trap (mows·trap) n. 1. a trap for catching mice. 2. a stratagem for trapping or deceiving an unwary opponent.

build a better mousetrap, to improve on an existing product.

mous·ing (mow·sing) n. hunting mice.

mous·sa·ka (moo·sah·kah) n. a Greek dish consisting of layers of ground lamb and eggplant, usually topped with cheese sauce.

mousse (moos) n. 1. a dish of cream or a similar substance flavored with fruit, chocolate, etc. 2. meat or fish puree mixed with cream etc. and shaped in a mold.

mous·se·line (moos·leen) n. 1. muslin. 2. a kind of thin soft dress material.

mous·tache = mustache.

mous·y, mous·ey (mow·see) adj. 1. mouse-colored. 2. quiet and shy or timid.

mouth (mowth) n. (pl. mouths, pr. mowth) 1. the opening in the face through which food is taken in. 2. the opening of a bag, cave, cannon, trumpet, etc. 3. the place where a river enters the sea. mouth (mowth) v. 1. to form (words) with the lips without speaking them aloud. 2. to declaim pompously or with exaggerated distinctness. □ big mouth, see big. down in the mouth, see down. keep one's mouth shut, (slang) to refrain from revealing a secret.

mouth organ, a harmonica. out of a person's own mouth, by using his own words. put one's money where one's mouth is, (informal) to be ready to support one's opinions by action. put words into a person's mouth, to tell him what to say; to represent him as having said this. take the words out of a person's mouth, to say what he was about to say.

mouth·ful (mowth·fuul) n. (pl. -fuls, pr. mowth·fulz) 1. an amount that fills the mouth. 2. a small quantity of food etc. 3. a lengthy word or phrase, one that is difficult to utter. 4. (slang) an important statement, you said a mouthful.

mouth·piece (mowth·pees) n. 1. the part of a device or musical instrument etc. that is placed between or near the lips. 2. (slang) a person who speaks on behalf of another or others, a lawyer.

mouth·wash (mowth·wawsh) n. a liquid for cleansing the mouth.

mouth·wa·ter·ing (mowth·waw·ter·ing) adj. so appetizing as to cause saliva to flow.

mou·ton (moo·ton) n. 1. a sheepskin sheared and processed to resemble seal or beaver. 2. a coat made of this.

mov·a·ble (moo·vah·bel) adv. able to be moved. □ movable feast, a religious celebration that changes its date each year (such as Easter).

move (moov) v. (moved, mov·ing) 1. to change or cause to change in position or place or posture. 2. to be or cause to be in motion. 3. to change one's place or residence. 4. to cause (bowels) to empty, to be emptied thus. 5. to make progress, the work moves slowly. 6. to make a move at chess etc. 7. to provoke a reaction or emotion in, moved her to laughter. felt very moved, very affected.
with emotion. 8. to prompt or incline, to motivate, what moved them to invite us? he works as the spirit moves him, only when he chooses. 9. to put forward formally for discussion and decision at a meeting. 10. to initiate some action, unless the employers move quickly, there will be a strike. 11. to live or be active in a particular group, she moves in the best circles. 12. (slang) to sell (merchandise). move n. 1. the act or process of moving. 2. the moving of a piece in chess etc., a player’s turn to do this, it’s your move. 3. a calculated action done to achieve some purpose, a move toward settling the dispute. □ get a move on, (slang) to hurry. move in, to take possession of a new dwelling place etc. move out, to give up possession of a dwelling place etc.; to leave a bivouac or fortified position to go into combat etc., the regiment moved out at dawn. move over or up, to alter position in order to make room for another. on the move, moving from one place to another; progressing.

move-a-ble = movable.

move-ment (moov-ment) n. 1. moving, being moved. 2. action, activity, watch every movement. 3. the moving parts in a mechanism, especially of a clock or watch. 4. a series of combined actions by a group to achieve some purpose, the group itself, the Women’s Lib movement. 5. a trend, the movement toward more casual styles in fashion. 6. market activity in some commodity; the movement in stocks and bonds, their rise and fall in price. 7. one of the principal divisions in a musical work. 8. emptying of the bowels, feces.

mov-er (moo-va-) n. 1. one who moves. 2. a person or company in the business of moving furniture etc. from one residence etc. to another. 3. (slang) a person who makes progress.

mov-le (moo-vec) n. (informal) 1. a motion picture. 2. a motion-picture theater. 3. the movies, the motion-picture industry.

mov-ing (moo-ving) adj. affecting the emotions, a very moving story. □ moving picture, a motion picture. moving sidewalk, a structure like a conveyor belt for carrying pedestrians. moving van, a truck used by furniture movers.

mow1 (moh) v. (mowed, mown, mow-ling) to cut down (grass or grain etc.), to cut the grass etc. from, mow the lawn. □ mow down, to kill or destroy at random or in great numbers.

mow2 (mow) n. 1. a stack of hay or grain.

2. the place in the barn where mows are kept.

mow-er (moh-er) n. a person or machine that mows.

Mo-zam-bique (moh-zam-beek) a country in southeastern Africa.

mooz-za-rel-la (mot-sa-rel-ah) n. a white mild unripened soft Italian cheese.

MP abbr. military policeman.

mp. abbr. melting point.

M.P. abbr. 1. Member of Parliament. 2. military policeman.

MPG, mpg abbr. miles per gallon.

mph, m.p.h. abbr. miles per hour.

Mr. (mis-tir) n. (pl. Messrs., pr. mes-terz) the title prefixed to a man’s name or to the name of his office, Mr. Jones; Mr. Chairman.

Mrs. (mis-iz) n. (pl. Mrs.) the title prefixed to a married woman’s name.

MS, ms abbr. manuscript.

Ms. (miz) n. the title prefixed to a woman’s name without distinction of married or unmarried status.

msec. abbr. millisecond(s).

MSG abbr. monosodium glutamate.

mag. abbr. message.

Megr. abbr. Monsignor.

M Sgt. abbr. master sergeant.

M.S.L. abbr. mean sea level.

MSS, ms abbr. manuscripts.

Mt. abbr. Mount.

mtg. abbr. 1. meeting. 2. mortgage.

mtge. abbr. mortgage.

mu (myoo) n. the twelfth letter of the Greek alphabet (M μ).

much (much) adj. existing in great quantity. much n. a great quantity. much adv. 1. in a great degree, much to my surprise. 2. approximately, much the same. □ thought as much, I thought so. make much of, see make. much as, even though, however much, I can’t go, much as I should like to, not much, (slang) certainly not; not much of a poet, not a good one.

mu-cl-lage (myoo-sil-ij) n. a type of adhesive. mu-cl-lag-i-nous (myoo-sil-laj-i-nus) adj.

muck (muk) n. 1. farmyard manure. 2. (informal) dirt, filth. 3. (informal) untidy things, a mess. muck v. to make dirty, to mess. □ muck about or around, (slang) to mess about. muck out, to remove muck from, mucking out the stable. muck up, (slang) to spoil.

muck-rak-er (muk-ray-ker) n. 1. a person who looks for and exposes scandal. 2. a book that exposes scandal in government, business, etc.

muck-rak-ing (muk-ray-king) n. looking for and exposing scandal.
mucky (muk-ee) adj. (muck-ler, muck-lest) covered with muck, dirty.
mucous (myoo-kus) adj. of or like mucus, covered with mucus. □ mucous membrane, the moist skin lining the nose, mouth, throat, etc. □ Do not confuse mucous (adjective) with mucus (noun).
mucus (myoo-kus) n. the moist sticky substance that lubricates and forms a protective covering on the inner surface of hollow organs of the body. □ Do not confuse mucus (noun) with mucous (adjective).
mud (mud) n. wet soft earth. □ his name is mud, (informal) he is in disgrace.
mud flat, a stretch of muddy land left uncovered at low tide.
mud-dle (mud-ér, mud-dling) v. 1. to bring into a state of confusion and disorder. 2. to confuse (a person) mentally. 3. to confuse or mistake (one thing for another). muddle n. a muddled condition, disorder. mud-dier n. □ muddle on or along, to work in a haphazard way. muddle through, to succeed in the end despite one’s inefficiency.
mud-dle-head-ed (mud-él-head-id) adj. liable to muddle things, mentally confused.
mud-dy (mud-ee) adj. (mud-ler, mud-dyest) 1. like mud, full of mud. 2. (of color) not clear or pure. 3. mentally confused or unclear. muddy v. (mud-dled, mud-dy-ing) to make muddy. muddy-ness n.
mud-guard (mud-gahrd) n. a flap behind the wheel of a vehicle to prevent mud from being thrown up as it travels.
mud-pup-py (mud-pup-cee) n. (pl. -pies) a large salamander.
mud-room (mud-room) n. (informal) a room near a side door of a home in which damp outer clothing may be removed before entering another room of the house.
mud-sling-ing (mud-sling-ing) n. (slang) speaking evil of someone, trying to damage someone’s reputation. mud-slinger n. muell-ster (munn-stér, muun-) n. a mild white soft cheese.
mue-ez-zin (myoo-ez-in) n. a man who proclaims the hours of prayer for Muslims, usually from a minaret.
muff (muf) n. a short tubelike covering of fur etc. into which both hands are thrust from opposite ends to keep them warm.
muff v. (informal) to bungle or blunder, to miss (a catch) in a game. muff n. (informal) a failure to catch a ball.
muf-fin (muf-in) n. a light round cake, eaten toasted and buttered.
muf-flle (muf-él) v. (muf-fled, muf-fling) 1. to wrap or cover for warmth or protection. 2. to wrap up or pad in order to deaden the sound of. 3. to deaden, to make less loud or less distinct, fog muffled the sound.
muf-fler (muf-lér) n. 1. a scarf worn around the neck for warmth. 2. something used to muffle sound, an engine muffler.
muf-ti (muf-tee) n. plain clothes worn by one who has the right to wear a uniform, in mufi.
mug (mug) n. 1. a large drinking vessel (usually with a handle) for use without a saucer. 2. its contents. 3. (slang) the face or mouth. 4. (slang) a person who is easily deceived. 5. (slang) a ruffian or thug. mug v. (mugged, mug-ging) 1. to assault, to rob with violence, especially in a public place. 2. (slang) to photograph (a person under arrest) for police records. 3. (slang) to make faces, especially before an audience or camera. mug’ger n. □ mug shot, (slang) an identification photograph made by police.
mug-ging (mug-ing) n. an assault or robbery with violence, especially in a public place.
mug-gy (mug-ee) adj. (mug-gler, mug-giest) oppressively damp and warm, a muggy day; muggy weather. mug-gi-ness n.
mug-wump (mug-wump) n. 1. a person who stands aloof from party politics. 2. a person who avoids declaring support for either side in an election etc.
Mu-ham-mad (muu-ham-ád) n. the founder of Islam.
Mu-ham-mad-an (muu-ham-á-dan) n. a Muslim. Mu’ham-mad-an-ism n. muk-luk (muk-luk) n. an Eskimo boot made of the skin of the reindeer or seal.
mu-lat-to (mu-lát-oh) n. (pl. -toes) a person who has one white and one black parent.
mul-berry (mul-ber-cee) n. (pl. -ries) 1. a purple or white fruit rather like a blackberry. 2. the tree that bears it. 3. dull purplish red.
mulch (mulch) n. a mixture of wet straw, grass, leaves, etc., spread on the ground to protect plants or retain moisture. mulch v. to cover with a mulch.
mulct (mulkt) v. to take away money from (a person), as by a fine or taxation, or by dubious means.
mule (myool) n. an animal that is the offspring of a horse and a donkey, known for its stubbornness. □ mule deer, a deer with long ears found in western North America.

mule  n. a backless slipper.

mul*teer (myoo-lé-teer)  n. a mule driver.

mul*i*eb*ri*ty (myoo-li-eb-ri-tee)  n. womanhood, normal characteristics of a woman.

mul*lah (myoo-lish) adj. stubborn. mul*lish-ly adv. mul*lish-ness n.

mul* (mul) v. to heat (wine or beer etc.) with sugar and spices, as a drink.

mul* over, to think over, to ponder, mulled it over.

mul*lah (mul-ä)  n. a Muslim who is learned in Islamic theology and sacred law.

mul*lein (mul-in)  n. a biennial herb with downy leaves and tall spikes of yellow flowers.

mul*let (mul-it)  n. a kind of fish used for food.

mul*ig*an (mul-i-gän) n. (also mulligan stew) (slang) a stew of odds and ends of meat, vegetables, etc.

mul*ga*law (mul-i-ga-law-nee)  n. a highly seasoned sauce flavored like curry.

mul*lion (mul-yon)  n. an upright strip between the panes of a tall window.

mul*-prefix many.

mul*ti*cel*lu*lar  adj. having many cells.

mul*ti*col*ored (mul-ti-kُlُ-o-rُd)  adj. of many colors.

mul*ti*men*son.al (mul-ti-tee-men*son-al)  adj. (of a problem, a personality, etc.) having many dimensions.

mul*ti*rec*tion.al (mul-ti-tee-rec-ku-shän)  adj. able to send or receive or to be sent or received in more than one direction, a multidirectional signal; a multidirectional antenna.

mul*ti*engined (mul-ti-ee-jënd)  adj. having three or more engines.

mul*ti*fac*et*ed (mul-ti-fak-*tëd)  adj. having many facets, complex.

mul*ti*fa*m*i*ly (mul-ti-fa*m-i-lee)  adj. designed for several families, multigeneration.

mul*ti*far*ious (mul-ti-far-i-üs)  adj. very varied, of many kinds, his multiform.

mul*ti*far*ious*ly adv. mul*tifor*mi*ness n.

mul*ti*form (mul-ti-form)  adj. having many forms, of many kinds.

mul*ti*for*mi*ty (mul-ti-for-mi-tee)  n.

mul*ti*lat*eral (mul-ti-lat-ë-rä)  adj. (of an agreement etc.) involving three or more parties.

mul*ti*lev*el (mul-ti-lev-ël)  adj. having several levels, a multilevel apartment.

mul*ti*ling*ual (mul-ti-ling-gwäl)  adj. in or using many languages. mul*ti*ling*ual*ism n.

mul*ti*me*dia (mul-ti-me-di-ä)  adj. using several media; multimedia instruction, employing books, film, etc.; the candidate launched a multimedia campaign, used radio and television commercials and newspaper advertisements.

mul*tim*ion.ale (mul-ti-mi-on-al)  adj. (of a business company) operating in several countries. mul*ti*na*tion*al n. a multinational company.

mul*ti*ple (mul-ti-pël)  adj. having several or many parts or elements or components. mul*ti*ple*ly adv. a quantity that contains another (a factor) a number of times without remainder, is a multiple of.

mul*ti*pl*ex (mul-ti-pleks)  adj. 1. having many parts or forms, consisting of many elements. 2. involving simultaneous transmission of several messages in a channel of communication.

mul*ti*pl*cand (mul-ti-pl-kand)  n. a quantity to be multiplied by a multiplier.

mul*ti*pl*ca*tion (mul-ti-pl-kä-shän)  n. multiplying, being multiplied. mul*ti*pli*cation*sign, the sign × (as in 2 × 3) or · (as in 2a · 3b) indicating that one quantity is to be multiplied by another. mul*ti*pli*cation*tables, a series of lists showing the results when a number is multiplied by each number (especially 1 to 12) in turn.

mul*ti*pl*ix*ty (mul-ti-pl-ë-i-tee)  n. a great variety.

mul*ti*pr*er (mul-ti-pr-ër)  n. the number by which a quantity is multiplied.

mul*ti*ply (mul-ti-plë)  v. (mul-ti-plied, mul*ti*ply*ing) 1. (in mathematics) to take a specified quantity a specified number of times and find the quantity produced, multiply 6 by 4 and get 24. 2. to make or become many; multiply examples, to produce large numbers of examples; rabbits multiply rapidly, they increase in number by breeding.

mul*ti*pur*pose (mul-ti-pur-pös)  adj. serving more than one purpose, a multipurpose vehicle.

mul*tr*i*ca*li*al (mul-ti-ray-shän) adj. composed of people of many races, a multiracial society.
muscular system of a body or organ.

muse (myooz) v. (mused, mus·ing) to ponder.

Muse (myooz) n. 1. one of the nine sister goddesses in Greek and Roman mythology, presiding over branches of learning and the arts. 2. a poet’s inspiring goddess, a poet’s genius.

mu·sette (myoo-zet) n. (also musette bag) a small knapsack.

mu·se·um (myoo-zee-úm) n. a building or room in which antiques or other objects of historical or scientific interest are collected and exhibited. □ museum piece, a fine specimen suitable for a museum; (contemptuous) an antiquated person or thing.

mush1 (mush) n. 1. soft pulp. 2. boiled corn meal. 3. (slang) feeble sentimentality.

mush2 v. to journey across snow with a dog sled; (as a command to sled dogs) get moving! mush n. such a journey.

mush·room (mush-room) n. an edible fungus with a stem and domed cap, noted for its rapid growth. mushroom v. 1. to spring up rapidly in large numbers, fast-food restaurants mushroomed. 2. to rise and spread in the shape of a mushroom. □ mushroom cloud, a cloud of mushroom shape, especially from a nuclear explosion.

mush·y (mush-e) adj. (mush·i·er, mush·i·est) 1. as or like mush. 2. feebly sentimental. mush‘i·ness n.

mu·sic (myoo-zik) n. 1. the art of arranging the sounds of voice(s) or instrument(s) or both in a pleasing sequence or combination. 2. the sound(s) or composition(s) produced, a written or printed score for this. 3. any pleasant sound or series of sounds, such as bird song. □ face the music, see face. music box, a box with a mechanical device that produces music by means of a toothed cylinder that strikes a comb-like metal plate. music hall, a hall or theater used for variety entertainment.

mu·sic·al (myoo-zí-kál) adj. 1. of music; musical instruments, devices producing music by means of tuned strings or membranes or air in pipes, or electronically. 2. fond of or skilled in music. 3. accompanied by music, set to music. musical n. a musical comedy, a motion picture film resembling this. mu·sic·al·ly adv. □ musical chairs, a game in which players walk around chairs (one fewer than the number of players) until the music stops, when the one who finds no chair is eliminated and a chair is removed before the next round. musical comedy, a light play in which songs and dancing alternate with the dialogue.

mu·si·cian (myoo-zí-ka) n. a social entertainment featuring music.

mu·si·clan (myoo-zí-lín) n. a person who is skilled at music, one whose profession is music. mu·si·clan·ship n. proficiency in performing music.

mu·si·col·o·gy (myoo-zí-kol·o-jí) n. the study of music other than that directed to proficiency in performance or composition.

mu·si·col·o·gist n. mu·si·col·o·gical (myoo-zí-kol·o·jí·kal) adj. mu·si·col·o·gical·ly adv.

musk (musk) n. 1. a substance secreted by male musk deer or certain other animals, or produced artificially, used as the basis of perfumes. 2. a plant with a musky smell. □ musk deer, a small hornless deer of central Asia. musk gland, the gland of the male musk deer which secretes musk. musk ox, a shaggy animal with curved horns native to Arctic America. musk rose, a rambling European rose with large white flowers that have a musky fragrance.

mus·ke·g (mus·ke·g) n. a level swamp or bog in northern North America.

mus·kel·lunge (mus·kél·lunj) n. (pl. -lunge) a large North American pike especially prevalent in the Great Lakes.

mus·ket (mus·kit) n. a large-caliber gun with a long barrel formerly used by infantry, now replaced by the rifle.

mus·ket·eer (mus·két·eer) n. a soldier armed with a musket.

mus·ket·ry (mus·kit·ri) n. 1. the art of firing muskets. 2. muskets or those who fire them.

mus·k·mel·on (mus·kmel·ón) n. any of several varieties of oblong or round fruits, as the cantaloupe.

mus·k·rat (mus·krat) n. a large ratlike water animal of North America, valued for its fur.

mus·k·y (mus·kí) adj. (mus·k·i·er, mus·k·i·est) smelling like musk. musk‘i·ness n.

Mus·lim (múz·lim) n. a person who believes in the Islamic faith. Muslim adj. of Muslims or their faith.

mus·lin (múz·lin) n. a kind of thin cotton cloth.

muss (mús) v. (also muss up) (informal) to make untidy.

mus·sel (mus·él) n. a kind of bivalve mollusk, the marine variety of which is edible.

Mus·sol·mán (mus·sol·mán) adj. & n. (pl. -mans) (old use) Muslim.

must (must) auxiliary verb used to express necessity or obligation (you must go), certainty (night must fall), insistence (I must repeat, all precautions were taken). must mustache / mycology

n. (informal) a thing that should not be overlooked or missed, the exhibition is a must.

must·tache (mù-stash, mus-tash) n. hair allowed to grow on a man’s upper lip.

mus·tard (mus-tard) n. 1. a plant with yellow flowers and with black or white sharp-tasting seeds in long pods. 2. these seeds ground and made into paste as a condiment. 3. darkish yellow color.
mustard adj. darkish yellow.

mus·tate (mut·a·tis) n. 1. to be assembled or caused to assemble. 2. to summon, muster or muster up one’s strength. muster n. an assembly or gathering of people or things. muster out, to discharge (military personnel) from service. pass muster, to be accepted as adequate.

must·n’t (mus·nt) = must not.

mus·ty (mus·ty) adj. (mus·ti·er, mus·ti·est) 1. stale, smelling or tasting moldy. 2. antiquated. must·ty·ly adv. must·ty·ness n.

mu·ta·bie (myoo·tah·bail) adj. liable to change, fickle.

mu·tant (myoo·tahn·te) n. a living thing that differs basically from its parents as a result of genetic change. mutant adj. differing in this way.

mu·tate (myoo·tayt) v. (mu·tat·ed, mu·tat·ing) to undergo or cause to undergo mutation. mu·ta·tive (myoo·tah·tiv) adj.

mu·ta·tion (myoo·tay·shun) n. 1. change or alteration in form. 2. a mutant. mut·ation·al adj.

mu·ta·tis mu·tan·dis (moo·tah·tees moo·ta·hah·deez) when the necessary alteration of details has been made (in comparing things). ▶ Latin.

mute (myoot) adj. 1. silent, refraining from speaking. 2. not having the power of speaking. 3. not expressed in words, in mute adoration. mute n. 1. a person who is mute. 2. a device fitted to a musical instrument to deaden its sound. mute v. (mut·ed, mut·ing) to deaden or muffle the sound of. mute·ly adv. mute·ness n. ▶ Do not confuse mute with moot.

mu·ti·late (myoo·ti·layt) v. (mu·ti·lat·ed, mu·ti·lat·ing) to injure or disfigure by cutting off an important part.

mu·ti·la·tor n. mu·ti·la·tion (myoo·ti·lah·shun) n.

mu·ti·neer (myoo·ti·neer) n. a person who mutinies.

mu·ti·nous (myoo·ti·nus) adj. rebellious, ready to mutiny. mu·ti·nous·ly adv.

mu·ti·ny (myoo·ti·nay) n. (pl. -nies) open rebellion against authority, especially by members of the armed forces against their officers. mutiny v. (mu·ti·nied, mu·ti·nied·ly) to engage in mutiny.

mutt (mut) n. (slang) a mongrel dog.

mut·ter (mut·er) v. 1. to speak or utter in a low unclear tone. 2. to utter subdued grumbles. mutter n. muttering, muttered words.

mu·ton (mut·on) n. the flesh of sheep as food. mut·ton·y adj.

mu·ton·chop·s (mut·on·chops) n. pl. side whiskers that are bushy and broad at the bottom, in the shape of a mutton chop.

mu·tu·al (myoo·choo·ahl) adj. 1. (of a feeling or action) felt or done by each toward or to the other, mutual affection; mutual aid. 2. having the same specified relationship to each other, mutual enemies. 3. common to two or more people, our mutual friend. mut·u·al·ly adv. ▶ mutual fund, an investment company that invests shareholders’ pooled funds in various types of securities.

muu·muu (moo·moo) n. a loose brightly colored dress.

Mu·zak (myoo·zak) n. (trademark) piped music, recorded light music as a background.

muz·zle (muz·zle) n. 1. the projecting nose and jaws of certain animals (such as dogs). 2. the open end of a firearm. 3. a strap or wire etc. put over an animal’s head to prevent it from biting or feeding.
muzzle v. (muz·zled, muz·zling) 1. to put a muzzle on (an animal). 2. to silence, to prevent (a person or newspaper etc.) from expressing opinions freely.

muz·zle·load·er (muz·zle·load·er) n. a gun that is loaded through the muzzle.
myelitis (mi-e-lish) n. inflammation of the spinal cord.

Mylar (mi-lahr) n. (trademark) polyester film used in recording tape, electrical insulation, etc.

my-na, mynah (mi-nah) n. an Asian bird of the starling family.

myopic (mi-op-i-ik) adj. 1. inability to see clearly what is close. 2. (informal) lack of foresight. myopic (mi-op-ik) adj. my-op'i-cal*ly adv.

myriad (mi-rayd) n. a vast number.

myristic (mi-ri-stik) adj. 1. of hidden or symbolic meaning, especially in religion, mystic ceremonies. 2. inspiring a sense of mystery and awe. mystic n. a person who seeks to obtain union with God by spiritual contemplation and self-surrender.

myrtle (mi-trel) n. an evergreen shrub with dark leaves and scented white flowers.

myself (mi-self) pronoun corresponding to I and me, used in the same ways as himself.

myte-rionous (mi-te-ri-us) adj. full of mystery, puzzling or obscure. myte-ri'ous-ly adv. myte-ri'ous-ness n.

myster-y (mis-te-ree) n. (pl. -teries) 1. a matter that remains unexplained or secret. 2. the quality of being unexplained or obscure, its origins are wrapped in mystery. 3. the practice of making a secret of things. 4. a religious truth that is beyond human powers to understand. 5. a story or play that deals with a puzzling crime.

myestinal (mis-ti-kal) adj. 1. of mystic or mysticism. 2. having spiritual meaning or value or symbolism. mystic (mis-ti-cal) adj.

myth (mith) n. 1. a traditional story containing ideas or beliefs about ancient times or about natural events (such as the four seasons). 2. such stories collectively, in myth and legend. 3. an imaginary person or thing. 4. an idea that forms part of the beliefs of a group or class but is not founded on fact. mythic adj.

mythology. abbr. 1. mythological. 2. mythology.

mythical (mi-thal-ik) adj. 1. of myths, existing in myths. 2. imaginary, fancied.

mythology (mi-the-o-je) n. (pl. -gies) 1. a body of myths, Greek mythology. 2. the study of myths. mythes of -i-kal) adj.
N, n (en) (pl. Ns, N's n's) the fourteenth letter of the English alphabet.

N symbol nitrogen.

n. abbr. 1. name. 2. net. 3. neuter. 4. nominative. 5. noon. 6. north. 7. northern. 8. note. 9. noun. 10. number.

N. abbr. 1. Navy. 2. noon. 3. (in chemistry) normal. 4. Norse. 5. north. 6. northern. 7. November.

-n suffix see -en.

Na symbol sodium.

N.A. abbr. 1. North America. 2. not applicable. 3. not available.

NAACP abbr. National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

nab (nab) v. (nabbed, nab-bing) (slang) 1. to catch (a wrongdoer) in the act, to arrest. 2. to seize, to grab.

na-bob (nay-bob) n. 1. a Muslim official or governor under the Mogul empire. 2. (old use) a wealthy luxury-loving person, especially a European returned from India with a fortune.

na-celle (nay-sel) n. the outer casing of an airplane's engine.

na-cre (nay-kir) n. a shellfish that yields mother-of-pearl.

na-dir (nay-dir) n. the lowest point, the time of deepest depression.

nae (nay) adj. & adv. (Scottish) no.

nae·vus = nevus.

nag1 (nag) n. (informal) a horse.

nag2 v. (nagged, nag·ging) 1. to make scolding remarks to, to find fault continually. 2. (of pain or worry) to be felt persistently. nag'ger n.

nai·ad (nay-ad) n. (pl. -ads, -a·des, pr. -a-deez) a water nymph.

na·if (nay·ef) = naive.

nail (nayl) n. 1. the layer of horny substance over the outer tip of a finger or toe. 2. a claw or talon. 3. a small metal spike driven in with a hammer to hold things together or as a peg or protection or ornament. nail v. 1. to fasten with a nail or nails. 2. (informal) to catch or arrest, nailed the intruder. 3. (informal) to hit or strike (a person). □ hit the nail on the head, see hit. nail down, to establish clearly; to make (a person) agree to keep a promise or arrangement etc. or declare his intentions definitely. nail file, nail scissors, those designed for shaping and trimming the nails. nail polish, a substance for giving a shiny tint to the nails.

nail·brush (nayl-brush) n. a brush for scrubbing one's nails.

nail·head (nayl-head) n. an architectural ornament like the head of a nail.

nailn·sook (nayn-suuk) n. a kind of fine soft cotton fabric, shiny on one side.

Nai·ro·bi (nay-ro·bee) the capital of Kenya.

na·ive, na·ive (nah-eev) adj. showing a lack of experience or of informed judgment. na·ive·ly adv. na·ive·ness n.

na·ive·té, na·ive·té (nah-eev-tay) n. 1. the state or quality of being naive. 2. a naive action.

na·ked (nay-kid) adj. 1. without clothes on, nude. 2. without the usual coverings or ornamentation etc.; a naked sword, without its sheath. 3. undisguised, the naked truth. na·ked·ly adv. na·ked·ness n.

naked eye, the eye unassisted by a telescope or microscope etc.

nam·by-pam·by (nam-bee-pam-bee) adj. lacking positive character, feeble, not manly. nam·by-pam·by n. (pl. -bles) a person of this kind.

name (naym) n. 1. a word or words by which a person or animal or place or thing is known or indicated. 2. a reputation, has got a bad name; made a name for himself; became famous. 3. a famous person, the film has some big names in it. name v. (named, nam·ling) 1. to give a name to. 2. to state the name(s) of. 3. to nominate or appoint to an office etc. 4. to mention or specify; name your price, say what price you want; name the day, to arrange a date, especially of a woman fixing the date for her wedding.

□ call a person names, to speak abusively to him or about him. have to one's name, to possess. In name only, so called but not so in reality. In the name of, invoking or calling to witness, in the name of God, what are you doing?; by authority of, open in the name of the law; under the designation or pretense of, did it all in the name of friendship.

name day, the day of a saint after whom a person is named. the name of the game, (informal) the purpose or essence of an activity.

name-able (nay-mä-bèl) adj. able to be named.

name-dropper (naym-dropp-ing) n. mention of famous people’s names in order to impress others by implying that one is familiar with such people. name-drop-per n.

name-less (naym-lis) adj. 1. having no name or no known name. 2. not mentioned by name, anonymous, others who shall be nameless. 3. too bad to be named, nameless horrors. name-less-ly adv.

name-ly (naym-lee) adv. that is to say, specifically.

name-plate (naym-playt) n. a plaque affixed with the name of the occupant.

name-sake (naym-sayk) n. a person or thing with the same name as another.

Nan-mb-l-a (nä-mib-i-a) a country in southwest Africa, formerly South West Africa.

nan-keen (nan-keen) n. a kind of cotton cloth, originally made in Nanking in China from naturally yellow cotton.

nan-ny (nan-ee) n. (pl. -nies) 1. chiefly British a child’s nurse. 2. a nanny goat.

nanny goat, a female goat.

na-no-me-ter (nay-nô-mee-tèr) n. a unit of measurement, one billionth of a meter.

na-no-sec-ond (nay-no-sek-ônd) n. a unit of time, one billionth of a second.

nap1 (nap) n. a short sleep or doze, especially during the day. nap v. (napped, nap-ping) to have a nap. catch a person napping, to catch a person off his guard.

nap2 n. short raised fibers on the surface of cloth or leather. nap-less adj.

na-palm (nay-palm) n. a jellylike gasoline substance used in incendiary bombs, flamethrowers, etc.

nape (náp) n. the back part of the neck.

na-pear-y (nay-pë-ree) n. (old use) household or table linen.

nap-ha (naf-tha) n. an inflammable oil obtained from coal or petroleum, used in making plastics.

nap-ha-ene (naf-tha-leen) n. a strong-smelling white substance obtained from coal tar, used in dyes and as a moth repel- lent.

nap-kin (nap-kin) n. a square piece of cloth or paper used at meals to protect one’s clothes or for wiping one’s lips or fingers.

nap-ko-le-on (nä-poh-li-ôn) n. 1. a many-layered cream-filled pastry. 2. a French gold twenty-franc piece of Napoleon I.

Na-ko-le-on-i-c (nä-poh-li-on-ik) adj. of Napoleon (1769–1821), a French general, emperor of France 1804–15.

narc (nahrk) n. (slang) a government narcotics agent.

nar-cis-sism (nahr-sis-izm) n. a tendency to self-worship, excessive or erotic interest in one’s own personal features.

nar-cis-sist n.

nar-cis-sus (nahr-sis-ús) n. (pl. -cis-sus, -cis-sus-es, -cis-si, pr. -sis-us,) any of a group of flowers including jonquils and daffodils, especially the kind with heavily scented single white flowers.

nar-co-sis (nahr-koh-sis) n. a state of sleep or drowsiness produced by drugs or by electricity.

nar-cot-ic (nahr-kot-ik) adj. causing sleep or drowsiness. narcotic n. a narcotic drug.

nar-co-tize (nahr-kō-tiz) v. (narc-o-tized, nar-co-tiz-ing) 1. to induce a state of drowsiness, sleep, or unawareness in. 2. to treat with a narcotic.

nard (nahr-d) n. 1. a fragrant balsam believed to have been used by the ancients. 2. the plant yielding this.

nark = narc.

Nar-ri-gan-sett (när-á-gan-sit) n. a member of an Indian tribe from Rhode Island.

nar-rate (när-ayt, när-rayt) v. (nar-rat-ed, nar-rat-ing) to tell (a story), to give an account of, to utter or write a narrative. nar-ra-tor n. nar-ra-tion (na-ray-shôn) n.

nar-ri-tive (när-ë-tiv) n. a spoken or written account of something. narrative adj. in the form of a narrative.

nar-row (när-oh) adj. 1. of small width in proportion to length. 2. having or allowing little space, within narrow bounds. 3. with little scope or variety, small, a narrow circle of friends. 4. with little margin, a narrow escape; a narrow majority. 5. narrow-minded. narrow v. to make or become narrower. nar-row-ly adv. nar-row-ness n.

nar-row-pas-sage (när-oh-z) n. a narrow passage in a body of water, a strait.

nar-thex (nahr-theks) n. the railed-off western porch in an early Christian church, used by women, penitents, etc.

nar-whal (nahr-wal) n. an arctic animal related to the whale, the male of which has long spirally grooved tusk.

na·ry (nair-ee) adj. nary a, (old use) not a, not one.

NAS abbr. 1. National Academy of Sciences. 2. Naval Air Station.

NASA (nas-á) n. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

na·sal (nay-zål) adj. 1. of the nose. 2. (of a voice or sound) sounding as if the breath came out through the nose. nasal n. 1. a nasal letter or sound. 2. a nose-piece on a helmet. na·sal·ly adv.

na·sal·ize (nay-zål-iz) v. (na·sal·ized, na·sal·iz·ing) 1. to speak with a twang described as speaking through the nose. 2. to make nasal. na·sal·i·za·tion (nay-zål-i-zá-shón) n.

nas·cent (nas·ént, nay-sént) adj. 1. in the act of being born, just beginning to be, not yet mature. 2. (of a chemical element) just being formed and therefore unusually reactive. nas·cent·ness n.

Nash·ville (nash-vil) the capital of Tennessee.

Nas·sau (nas-aw) the capital of the Bahamas.

na·st·ri·um (na-strí-úm) n. a trailing garden plant with bright orange or yellow or red flowers and round flat leaves.

nas·ty (nas·te) adj. (nas·ti·er, nas·ti·est) 1. unpleasant. 2. unkind, spiteful. 3. difficult to deal with, a nasty problem. nas·ti·ly adv. nas·ti·ness n.

nat. abbr. 1. national. 2. native. 3. natural.

na·tal (nay-tál) adj. of or from one's birth.

na·tal·i·ty (nay-tal-i-tee) n. the birthrate.

na·tes (nay-teez) n. pl. 1. the buttocks. 2. the anterior pair of optic lobes in the brain.

na·tion (nay-shón) n. a large community of people of mainly common descent, language, history, etc., usually inhabiting a particular territory and under one government.

na·tion·al (nash-ó-nál) adj. of a nation, common to a whole nation. national n. a citizen or subject of a particular country. na·tion·al·ly adv. na·tion·al·ism, a song of loyalty or patriotism adopted by a country. national anthem, one chartered under the federal government. national debt, the total amount owed by a country to those who have lent money to it. national forest, a forest maintained by the federal government. National Guard, a U.S. military reserve force maintained by the states but available for federal use. national monument, a building, natural site, or structure designated in commemoration of a person, event, etc. and maintained by the federal government. national park, an area of historical, scientific, or scenic significance declared to be public property for the use and enjoyment of the people.

na·tion·al·ism (nash-ó-nál·iz·ém) n. 1. patriotic feeling or principles or efforts. 2. a movement favoring independence for a country that is controlled by or forms part of another.

na·tion·al·ist (nash-ó-nál·ist) n. a supporter of nationalism. na·tion·al·is·tic (nash-ó-nál·is·tic) adj.

na·tion·al·i·ty (nash-ó-nál·i·tee) n. (pl. -ties) the condition of belonging to a particular nation.

na·tion·al·ize (nash-ó-nál·iz) v. (na·tion·al·ized, na·tion·al·iz·ing) to convert (industries etc.) from private to government ownership. na·tion·al·iza·tion (nash-ó-nál·i·za·tion) n. national·wide (nay-shón-wid) adj. extending over the whole of a nation.

na·tive (nay-tiv) adj. 1. belonging to a person or thing by nature, inborn, natural. 2. (of a person) belonging to a particular place by birth, (of a thing) belonging to a person because of his place of birth, one's native land or language. 3. grown or produced or originating in a specified place. 4. of the natives of a place. native n. 1. a person who was born in a specified place or country. 2. a local inhabitant of a place, as opposed to strangers, visitors, foreigners. 3. an animal or plant grown or originating in a specified place.

na·tiv·ism (nay-tiv-iz·ém) n. the doctrine that innate ideas exist.

na·tiv·i·ty (nay-tiv-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a person's birth with regard to its place or circumstances, especially the Nativity, that of Christ. 2. Nativity, a picture of a scene with Christ as a newborn infant.

□ Nativity play, a play dealing with the birth of Christ.

nati., nat'l. abbr. national.

nat·ty (nat-te) adj. (nat·ti·er, nat·ti·est) neat and trim, dapper. nat·ti·ly adv.

nat·u·ral (nach-ú·rál) adj. 1. of or existing in or produced by nature; a country's natural resources, its mineral deposits, forests, etc. 2. in accordance with the course of nature, normal, a natural death. 3. (of a person) having certain inborn qualities or abilities, a natural leader. 4. not looking artificial, not affected in manner etc. 5. not surprising, to be expected. 6. (in music, of a note) neither sharp nor flat, B natural. natural n. 1. a person naturalism / navigate or that which seems to be naturally suited for something. 2. (in music) a natural note, the sign for this (b). 3. pale fawn color. nat-ur-al-ly adv. nat-u-ral-ness n. □ natural childbirth, a system of childbirth in which the mother has been taught to relax and so needs little or no anesthetic. natural gas, gas found in the earth's crust, not manufactured.

natural history, the study of animal and vegetable life. natural science, see science. natural selection, survival of the organisms that are best adapted to their environment while the less well adapted ones die out.

nat-u-r-al-ism (nach-u-rá-liz-ém) n. realism in art and literature, drawing or painting or representing things as they are in nature. nat-u-r-al-ist'ic (nach-u-rá-lis-tik) adj.

nat-u-r-al-ize (nach-u-rá-лиз) v. (nat-u-rål-ized, nat-u-rål-из-ing) 1. to admit (a person of foreign birth) to full citizenship of a country. 2. to adopt (a foreign word or custom) into the language or customs of a country. 3. to introduce and acclimatize (an animal or plant) into a country where it is not native. 4. to cause to appear natural; daffodil bulbs suitable for naturalizing, suitable for planting so that they appear to be growing wild. nat-u-r-al-i-za-tion (nach-u-rá-li-за-tion) n. an expert in natural history.

na-tu-re (nay-chür) n. 1. the world with all its features and living things, the physical power that produces these; Nature, this power personified. 2. a kind or sort or class, things of this nature; the request was in the nature of a command. 3. the complex of qualities and characteristics innate in a person or animal. 4. a thing's essential qualities, its characteristics.

□ back to nature, returning to what are regarded as the natural conditions of living before the spread of civilization.

in a state of nature, in an uncultivated or undomesticated state; totally naked.

nature study, (in schools) the practical study of plant and animal life. nature trail, a path through woods or country-side where interesting natural objects can be seen. nature walk, a walk through nature trails, often under the guidance of a leader who points out interesting objects of nature.

Na-u-ga-hyde (naw-gá-hyd) n. (trade-mark) a vinyl material often used for upholstery.

naught (nawt) n. (old use) nothing.

naugh-ty (naw-tee) adj. (naugh-ti-er, naugh-ti-est) 1. behaving badly, disobeient. 2. improper, shocking or amusing people by mild indecency. naught'-i-ly adv. naught'-i-ness n.

Na-u-ru (nah-o-ro) a country in the central Pacific, near the equator. Na-u-rus- an adj. & n.

nau-se-a (naw-zí-ä) n. a feeling of sickness or disgust.

nau-se-ate (naw-zí-at) v. (nau-se- at-ed, nau-se-a't-ing) to affect with nausea. nau-se-at-ing) nau-se-ous adj. 1. causing nausea. 2. (informal) experiencing nausea. □ Careful writers do not use nauseous in its second sense. Write we felt nauseated not we felt nauseous.

naut. abbr. nautical.

nautch (nawch) n. an Indian exhibition of dancing girls.

nau-ti-cal (naw-ti-kál) adj. of sailors or seamanship.

nau-ti-cal mile, see mile.

nau-ti-lus (naw-ti-lüs) n. (pl. -lus-es, -lı, pr. -li) a deep sea mollusk with a spiral shell divided into many chambers by thin pearly walls. □ paper nautilus, a small mollusk of which the female has a very thin shell and webbed sail-like arms.

nav. abbr. 1. naval. 2. navigable. 3. navigation.

Nav-a-ho, Nav-a-jo (nav-á-hoh) n. (pl. -ho, -hos, -hoes) 1. a member of a large Indian tribe living in New Mexico and Arizona. 2. the language of these people.

nav-al (nav-ál) adj. of a navy, of warships; a naval power, a country with a strong navy. □ naval stores, cordage, tar, timber, and other materials much used in former times in building wooden sailing ships; rosin, tar, turpentine, and other products of the pine tree, used in manufacture of paint, roofing, lubricants, etc. □ Do not confuse naval with navel.

nave (nayv) n. the body of a church apart from the chancel, aisles, and transepts.

nav-er (nav-er) n. 1. the small hollow in the center of the abdomen where the umbilical cord was attached. 2. the central point of something. □ naval orange, a large orange with a navel-like formation at the top. □ Do not confuse navel with naval.

nav-i-ga-tion (nav-i-gá-shun) n. 1. of rivers or seas) suitable for ships to sail in. 2. (of a ship etc.) able to be steered and sailed. nav-i-ga-tion adv. nav-i-ga-tion n.

nav-i-gate (nav-i-gät) v. (nav-i-gät-ed, nav-i-gät-ing) 1. to sail in or through (a sea or river etc.). 2. to direct the course of (a ship or aircraft or vehicle necessitate / negate out which life cannot be maintained or is exceedingly harsh.

nectarine (nek-tar-ine) v. (ne-nectar-xi-tate (në-ses-i-tayt) v. (ne-nectar-tate, nectari-ty (në-ses-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) neck (nek) n. 1. the narrow part of the body connecting the head to the shoulders. 2. the part of a garment around this. 3. the length of a horse's head and neck as a measure of its lead in a race. 4. the flesh of an animal's neck as food. 5. a narrow part of anything (especially of a bottle or cavity), a narrow connecting part or channel. neck v. (slang) of couples) to kiss and caress each other lovingly. ⎠get it in the neck, (slang) to suffer a reprimand or a severe blow.

neck and neck, running level in a race.

risk or save one's neck, to risk or save one's own life. up to one's neck in, (informal) very deeply involved in.

neck-band (nek-band) n. a strip of material around the neck of a garment.

necklace (nek-lis) n. an ornament of precious stones or metal or beads etc. worn around the neck.

necklace (nek-lis) n. the outline formed by the edge of a garment at or below the neck.

necktie (nek-tie) n. a strip of material worn around the neck, passing under the collar and knotted in front.

neckwear (nek-wair) n. ties and other articles worn around the neck.

neckling (nek-lings) n. a list of persons recently dead. 2. an obituary.

neckro-man-cy (nek-ro-man-see) n. 1. the art of predicting events by allegedly communicating with the dead. 2. witchcraft. necro-man-ner n.

neckcrop (nek-crop) n. (pl. -crops) the cemetery of an ancient city.

neckcroshsis (nek-krôsh-sis) n. the death of a piece of tissue, especially of the bones.

neckrotic (nek-rot-ik) adj.

necktar (nek-tar) n. 1. (in Greek mythology) the drink of the gods. 2. any delicious drink. 3. sweet fluid produced by plants and collected by bees for making honey.

neck-tarine (nek-tar-ine) n. a kind of peach that has a thin skin with no down and firm flesh.

nectarial (nek-tar-ial) n. the nectar-secreting part of a plant or flower.

nee, née (nay) adj. born (used in giving a married woman's maiden name, Mrs. Jane Smith, née Jones).

need (need) n. 1. circumstances in which a thing or course of action is required, there is no need to worry. 2. a situation of great difficulty or misfortune, a friend in need. 3. lack of necessaries, poverty. 4. a requirement, a thing necessary for life, my needs are few. need v. 1. to be in need of, to require. 2. to be under a necessity or obligation, need you ask?

fairly. If need be, if necessary.

needful (need-ful) adj. necessary.

needful (need-ful) adj. necessary.

nee-dle (nee-del) n. 1. a small thin piece of polished steel with a point at one end and a hole for thread at the other, used in sewing. 2. something resembling this in shape or use, such as one of the long thin leaves of pine trees, a sharp pointed rock, an obelisk (Cleopatra's needle), the sharp hollow end of a hypodermic syringe. 3. a long thin piece of smooth metal or plastic etc. with one or both ends pointed, used in knitting by hand. 4. the pointer of a compass or gauge.

needle v. (nee-dled, nee-dling) to annoy or provoke. ⎠needle in a hays-tack, a thing so buried among others that search for it is hopeless.

nee-dlecraft (nee-del-kraft) n. skill in needlework.

nee-dlepoint (nee-del-point) n. a kind of fine embroidery on canvas.

nee-dleless (nee-del-less) adj. not needed, unnecessary. need'less-ly adv. need'less-ness n.

nee-dlewom-an (nee-del-wuwm-an) n. (pl. -women, pr. -wim-in) a woman with a certain skill in needlework, a good needlewoman.

nee-dlewor-ke (nee-del-wurk) n. sewing or embroidery.

nee-n't (nee-dënt) = need not.

nee-ds (needz) adv. of necessity; must needs do it, foolishly insists on doing it, cannot help doing it; needs must do it, must do it.

nee'd-y (nee-dee) adj. (need-l-er, need-l-est) lacking the necessaries of life, extremely poor.

nee'er (nair) adv. (old use) never.

nee'er-do-well (nair-doo-wel) n. a good-for-nothing person.

nee-fair-l-ous (ni-fair-l-ius) adj. wicked.

nee-fair-l-ously adv. nee-fair-l-ous-ness n.

nee-gate (ni-gayt) v. (nee-gat-ed, nee-negative / neocolonialism 596 gat·ing) to nullify, to disprove. ne·ga·tion (ni-gay-shón) n. eg·a·tive (neg-ă-tiv) adj. 1. expressing or implying denial or refusal or prohibition; a negative reply, saying "no." 2. not positive, lacking positive qualities or characteristics; the result of the test was negative, indicated that a specific substance etc. was not present. 3. (of a quantity) less than zero, minus. 4. in the direction opposite of that regarded as positive. 5. containing or producing the kind of electric charge carried by electrons; negative terminal of a battery, the one through which current enters an external circuit. 6. (of a photograph) having the lights and shades of the actual object or scene reversed, or its colors represented by complementary ones. negative n. 1.
a negative statement or reply or word;
the answer is in the negative, is "no." 2.
a negative quality or quantity. 3. a negative photograph, from which positive pictures can be obtained. negative
v. (neg·a·tived, neg·a·tiv·ing) 1. to veto.
2. to contradict (a statement). 3. to neutralize (an effect). neg·a·tive·ly adv. □negative pole, the south-seeking pole of a magnet. negative sign, the sign —.

neg·a·tiv·ism (neg·ä-tiv·iz·əm) n. an attitude of confirmed skepticism, denial of accepted beliefs.

ne·glect (ni-glekt) v. 1. to pay no attention or not enough attention to. 2. to fail to take proper care of. 3. to omit to do something, as through carelessness or forgetfulness. neglect n. neglecting, being neglected. ne·glect·ful adj.

neg·li·ge·e (neg·li·zhé) n. a woman's light flimsy ornamental dressing gown.

neg·li·gence (neg·li-jen·s) n. lack of proper care or attention, carelessness.
ne·gli·gent adj. ne·gli·gent·ly adv. □
Do not confuse negligent with negligible.

neg·li·gi·ble (neg·li·jē·bəl) adj. very small in amount etc. and not worth taking into account. □ Do not confuse negligi-gible with negligible.

neg·go·ti·able (ni-goh-shi-ə-bəl) adj. 1. able to be modified after discussion, the salary is negotiable. 2. (of a check etc.) able to be converted into cash or transferred to another person.

neg·go·ti·ate (ni-goh-shi-ət) v. (ne-go·ti·a·ted, ne·go·ti·at·ing) 1. to try to reach an agreement or arrangement by discussion, to arrange in this way, negotiated a treaty. 2. to get or give money in exchange for (a check or bonds etc.). 3. to get over or through (an obstacle or difficulty) successfully. ne·go·tia·tor n. ne·go·ti·a·tion (ni-goh-shi-ay-shón) n.

neg·ri·tu·de (neg-ri·tūd) n. 1. the quality of being a black. 2. affirmation of the value of black culture.

Ne·gro (nee-groh) n. (pl. Ne·gros) a member of the black-skinned race of mankind. Negro adj. of this race, black-skinned. Ne·gro·ld (nee-grohd) adj. & n.
□ These words are considered offensive by many people, who prefer the word black.

Ne·he·mi·ah (nee·ē-mē·ā) n. a historical book of the Old Testament telling of the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem.

neigh (nay) n. the long high-pitched cry of a horse. neigh v. to make this cry.

neigh·bor (nay·bor) n. 1. a person who lives near or next to another. 2. a person to whom one should be friendly or kind.
3. a person or thing situated near or next to another. Britain's nearest neighbor is France. neigh·bor v. to join, to border on.

neigh·bor·hood (nay·bor·hood) n. 1. a district. 2. the people living in it.
□ in the neighborhood of, somewhere near, approximately, in the neighborhood of five hundred dollars.

neigh·bor·ing (nay·bor·ing) adj. living or situated near by.

neigh·bor·ly (nay·bor·lee) adj. kind and friendly, as one neighbor should be to another. neigh·bor·li·ness n.

nei·ther (nee·thér, nē-) adj. & pronoun not either, neither of them likes it. (Note the use of the singular verb; neither of them like it would be incorrect.) neither adv. & conj. 1. not either, she neither knew nor cared. 2. also not, you don't know and neither do I. 3. (incorrect use) either, I don't know that neither. □ be neither here nor there, to be of no importance or relevance.

nel·son (nel·son) n. a kind of hold in wrest-ing in which the arm is passed under the opponent's arm from behind and the hand applied to his neck.

ne·m·a·tode (nem·ä-tohd) n. a worm of slender unsegmented cylindrical shape.

nematode adj.

ne·m·e·sia (nem·ē-si·ə) n. 1. retributive justice. 2. a downfall. 3. the agent of downfall, a victorious rival.

neo- prefix new, recent, a new form of.
ne·o·clas·sic (nee-oh·klas·ik) adj. of a revival of classical style or treatment in art, literature, music, etc. ne·o·clas·sical adj. ne·o·clas·si·cism (nee-oh·klas·i·zim) n.

ne·o·co·lo·ni·al·ism (nee-oh·kō-loi·āl·izəm) n. the use of economic, political, or other means to obtain or retain nest, adj. 1. remaining when nothing more is to be taken away; net profit, profit after tax etc. has been deducted from the gross profit; net weight, weight of contents only, excluding wrappings. 2. (of an effect etc.) positive, excluding unimportant effects or those that cancel each other out, the net result. net v. (net-ted, net-ting) 1. to make by forming threads into a net, to make netting. 2. to place nets in, to cover or confine with or as if with a net. 3. to catch in or as if in a net.

net adj. 1. openwork material of thread or cord or wire etc. woven or joined at intervals. 2. a piece of this used for a particular purpose, as covering or protecting something, catching fish, dividing a tennis court, surrounding a goal space etc. net v. (net-ted, net-ting) 1. to make by forming threads into a net, to make netting. 2. to place nets in, to cover or confine with or as if with a net. 3. to catch in or as if in a net.

Neth. abbr. Netherlands.

neth-er (neth-er) adj. lower, the nether regions. neth-er-most adj.

Neth-er-lands (neth-er-ländz), the (also Holland) a country in Europe. Neth-er-land'er n.

neth-er world (neth-er-world) n. the underworld, hell.

net-ting (net-ing) n. fabric of netted thread or cord or wire etc.

nettle (net-él) n. 1. a common wild plant with hairs on its leaves that sting and reddens the skin when they are touched. 2. a plant resembling this. nettle v. (net-tled, net-ting) 1. to sting with nettles. 2. to irritate, to provoke, to annoy.

nettler n. □ nettle rash, an eruption on the skin with red patches like those made by nettle stings.

nettle-some (net-él-sôme) adj. causing irritation or annoyance.

net-work (net-wirk) n. 1. an arrangement or pattern with intersecting lines, a network of railroads. 2. a chain of interconnected people or operations, or broadcasting stations, a spy network.

neural (nuor-ál) adj. of nerves.

neuralgia (nuor-ál-já) n. sharp intermitneutralism (noo-träl-liz-ēm) n. the policy of neutrality in international relations.

neutral-ty (noo-träl-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties)
1. the state of being neutral. 2. the policy or status of a nation that does not participate in a war.

neutral-ize (noo-träl-īz) v. (neu-tral-ized, neu-tral-iz-ing) to make ineffective by means of an opposite force or effect. neutral-iz-a-tion (noo-träl-i-zā-shōn) n.

neutral (noo-träl) n. a particle with no electric charge, present in the nuclei of all atoms except those of certain isotopes of hydrogen. neutron bomb, a nuclear bomb that kills people by intense radiation but does little damage to buildings etc.

Nev. abbr. Nevada.

Ne·vád·a (né-väd-ä) a state of the U.S. New·va·dan adj. & n.

new·er (nev-er) adj. 1. at no time, on no occasion; never-ending, never-failing, not ending or failing ever. 2. not at all, never fear. 3. (informal) surely not, you never left the key in the lock! 4. not, never a care in the world. never mind, do not be troubled; do not trouble about you may ignore, never mind the bread; I refuse to answer your question. never·never·land, an imaginary place, a fantasyland. well I never!, an exclamation of surprise.

new·er·more (nev-er-mohr) adv. at no future time.

new·er·the·less (nev-er-thē-les) adv. & conj. in spite of this.

new·vus (nee-vūs) n. (pl. -vī, pr. -vī) a birthmark consisting of a mole or a red patch on the skin.

new (noo) adj. 1. not existing before, recently made or invented or discovered or experienced. 2. unfamiliar, unaccustomed, it was new to me; I am new to the job. 3. recently changed or renewed, different, the new chairman. new adv. newly, recently, just, new born; new-laid.

new·ness n. new blood, a recent arrival in an organization, expected to bring new ideas and revitalize the system.

New Brunswick, a province of Canada.

New Deal, the economic and administrative policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the 1930s, designed for economic recovery and social reform.

New Delhi, the capital of India. New England, a group of six states in the northeast of the U.S. New Englander, a native or inhabitant of New England. New Hampshire, a state of the U.S. New Jersey, a state of the U.S. New Jerseyite, a native or inhabitant of New Jersey.

New Left, a radical movement launched in the mid-1960s seeking social, political, and economic change. New math, (informal) mathematics based on the set theory. New Mexico, a state of the U.S.

new moon, the moon when it is seen in the evening as a crescent; (on calendars) the precise moment when the moon is in conjunction with the sun and is invisible. New South Wales, a state of Australia. New Testament, see testament. new wave, a French cinematic movement of the late 1950s and 1960s that emphasized innovations in photography, story, and style. New World, the Americas.

new·year's (nev-er-mohr) adj. 1. recently born. 2. born anew. new born n. (pl. -born, -borns) a newborn baby or animal.

new·com·er (noo-kum-er) n. a person who has arrived recently.

new·el (noo-ēl) n. 1. (also newel post) a post that supports the handrail of a stair at the top or bottom of a staircase. 2. the center pillar of a winding stair.

new·fan·gled (noo-fang-geld) adj. objectionably new in method or style.

new·found (noo-fownd) adj. recently discovered or disclosed.

New·found·land (noo-fund-länd) n. 1. a province of Canada. 2. a dog of a large breed with a thick dark coat. New·found·land·er n.

new·ish (noo-ish) adj. fairly new.

new·ly (noo-leē) adv. recently, freshly.

new·ly·wed (noo-lee-wed) adj. recently married. newlywed n. a recently married person.

news (nooz) n. 1. information about recent events. 2. a broadcast report of this. 3. newsworthy information, when man bites dog, that's news. news vendor, a newspaper seller.

news·boy (nooz-boi) n. a boy who delivers or sells newspapers.

news·cast (nooz-kast) n. a broadcast news report.
news-dealer (nooz-dee-lér) n. a dealer in newspapers etc.

news-letter (nooz-let-ěr) n. an informal printed report giving information that is of interest to members of a club etc.

news-magazine (nooz-mag-ă-zeen) n. a magazine providing a summary and analysis of the news, usually issued weekly or biweekly.

news-man (nooz-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a newsdealer. 2. a journalist.

news-paper (nooz-pay-për) n. 1. a printed publication, usually issued daily or weekly, containing news reports, advertisements, articles on various subjects, etc. 2. the sheets of paper forming this, wrapped in newspaper.

news-paper-man (nooz-pay-për-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a journalist. 2. the owner of a newspaper.

new-speak (noo-speek) n. vague and misleading language as used especially by government spokesmen trying to conceal truth and influence public opinion. ▲The artificial official language in George Orwell’s 1984.

news-print (nooz-print) n. the type of paper on which a newspaper is printed.

news-reel (nooz-reel) n. a film showing current items of news.

news-stand (nooz-stand) n. a stall for the sale of newspapers.

news-wor-thy (nooz-wur-thee) adj. important or interesting enough to be mentioned as news.

news-y (noo-zee) adj. (news-i-er, news-i-est) (informal) full of news. news’i-ness n.

newt (noot) n. a small lizardlike creature that can live in water or on land.

New-to-ni-an (nooz-toh-ni-ăn) adj. of the theories etc. devised by the English scientist Sir Isaac Newton (1642–1727).

next (nekst) adj. 1. lying or living or being nearest to something. 2. coming nearest in order or time or sequence, soonest come to. next adv. in the next place or degree, on the next occasion. next n. the next person or thing. next prep. in or into the next place to, on the next occasion to, in the next degree to.

next best, second best. next door, in the next house or room. next door to, not far from, almost, it’s next door to impossible. next of kin, one’s closest relative. next world, life after death.

next-door (nekst-dohr) adj. living or situated next door.

nex-us (nek-sửs) n. (pl. -us-es, -us) a connected group or series.

Nez Percé (nez purs) (pl. Nez Percé, Nez Percés) a member of an Indian tribe from Idaho, Washington, and Oregon.

Nfld. abbr. Newfoundland.

n.g. abbr. no good.

N.G. abbr. 1. National Guard. 2. no good.

NGk abbr. New Greek.

ni symbol nickel.

ni-a-clin (ni-a-sín) n. nicotinic acid.

ni-ag-ra (ni-ag-ră) n. a cataract, torrent, or deluge, a Niagara of lame excuses.

Nla-mey (nyah-may) the capital of Niger.

nib (nib) n. the metal point of a pen.

nib-ble (nib-ĕl) v. (nib-bled, nib-bling) 1. to take small quick or gentle bites. 2. to eat in small amounts, no nibbling between meals. 3. to show interest in an offer etc. but without being definite. nibble n. 1. a small quick bite. 2. a small amount of food. nib’bler n.

nib-lick (nib-lik) n. a golf iron with a large round heavy head, used especially for playing out of bunkers.

nice (nis) adj. (nic-i-er, nic-i-est) 1. pleasant, satisfactory. 2. (ironically) difficult, bad, this is a nice mess. 3. needing precision and care, involving fine distinctions, it’s a nice point. 4. fastidious. nice’ly adv. nice’ness n.

ni-ce-ty (ni-sé-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. precision. 2. a subtle distinction or detail. 3. (usually niceties) dainty or refined elegance.

niche (nich) n. 1. a shallow recess, especially in a wall. 2. a position in life or employment to which the holder is well suited, has found his niche.

nick (nik) n. a small cut or notch. nick v. to make a nick in. □ in the nick of time, only just in time.

nick-el (nik-ĕl) n. 1. a hard silvery white metal much used in alloys. 2. a five-cent piece. □ nickel silver, an alloy of nickel, zinc, and copper.

nick-el-o-de-on (nik-ĕl-de-ôn) n. 1. an early movie theater with an admission price of five cents. 2. a jukebox.

nick-name (nik-naym) n. a name given humorously to a person instead of or as well as his real name. nickname v. (nick-named, nick-nam’ing) to give a nickname to.

Nic-o-si-a (nik-o-see-a) the capital of Cyprus.

nic-o-tine (nik-o-teen) n. a poisonous substance found in tobacco.

nic-o-ton-ic (nik-o-ton-ik) adj. relating to nicotine. □ nicotinic acid, a vitamin of the B group obtained from nicotine.
niece (nees) n. one's brother's or sister's daughter.
nift-ty (nift-te) adj. (-tl-er, -tl-est) (informal) 1. spruce, smart, stylish. 2. excellent. 3. clever.
Ni*ger (ni-jer, nee-zhair) a country in central Africa. Ni·ge*rois (nee-zher-wah) n.
Ni·ge·ri·a (ni-jeer-i-a) a country in West Africa. Ni·ge·rian (ni-jeer-ee-an) adj. & n.
nig·gard (nig-ard) n. a very stingy person.
nig·gard·ly adj. nig·gard'li·ness n.
nig·gle (nig-egl) v. (nig-gled, nig-gling) to fuss over details, to find fault in a petty way.
  n. nig'gler.
nig·gling (nig-gling) adj. 1. petty. 2. showing or demanding much attention to details.
nig'gling'ly adv.
nigh (nī) adj., adv., & prep. (old use) near.
night (nīt) n. 1. the dark hours between sunset and sunrise. 2. nightfall. 3. a specified or appointed night, an evening on which a performance or other activity occurs, the first night of the play. □ make a night of it, to spend a night in festivity etc. night and day, at all times, without ceasing. night blind·ness, poor vision in twilight and the dark.
night crawler, a large earthworm that comes out of the earth at night.
night light, a faint light kept burning in a bedroom (as for a child or invalid) at night.
night owl, (informal) a person active at night.
night school, a school where instruction is provided in the evening for people who are at work during the day.
night shift, a shift of workers employed during the night.
night table, a small stand or table placed next to a bed.
night watchman, a person keeping watch at night, especially in a building that is closed for business.
night·cap (nīt-kap) n. 1. a soft cap formerly worn in bed. 2. a drink taken just before going to bed.
night·clothes (nīt-klohz) n. pl. garments for wearing in bed.
night·club (nīt-klub) n. an establishment open at night, providing meals and entertainment.
night·dress (nīt-dres) n. a nightgown. night·fall (nīt-fawl) n. the coming of darkness at the end of the day.
night·gown (nīt-gown) n. a woman's or girl's loose garment for sleeping in.
night·hawk (nīt-hawk) n. 1. a night-flying bird similar to a whippoorwill. 2. (informal) a night owl.
night·ie (nī-tee) n. (informal) a nightgown.
night·in·gale (nīt-ing-gayl) n. a small reddish-brown thrush, the male of which sings melodiously both by night and in the day.
night·jar (nīt-jahr) n. an Old World night-flying bird with a harsh cry. night·life (nīt-lf) n. urban entertainment open at night, such as theaters, restaurants, and nightclubs.
night·long (nīt-lang) adj. & adv. throughout the night.
night·ly (nīt-lee) adj. 1. happening or done, or existing etc. in the night. 2. happening every night. nightly adv. every night.
night·mare (nīt-mair) n. 1. a bad dream.
  2. (informal) a terrifying or very unpleasant experience.
night·mar·ish adj.
night·rid·er (nīt-rī-dēr) n. a member of a secret terrorist group riding at night and committing acts of violence.
night·shade (nīt-shayd) n. any of several wild plants with poisonous berries.
night·shirt (nīt-shurt) n. a boy's or man's long shirt for sleeping in.
night·stick (nīt-stik) n. a short club carried by a policeman or policewoman.
night·time (nīt-tim) n. night.
night·walk·er (nīt-waw-kēr) n. a person who is out and about at night for no good purpose.
Nih abbr. 1. National Institutes of Health.
  2. not invented here.
ni·hil·ism (ni-liz-ëm) n. 1. a negative doctrine, the total rejection of current beliefs in religion or morals. 2. a form of skepticism that denies all existence.
ni·hil·ist n. ni·hil·ist·ic (ni-liz-tik) adj.
nil (nil) n. nothing.
nim·ble (nim-bēl) adj. (-bler, -blest) 1. able to move quickly, agile. 2. (of the mind or wits) able to think quickly. nim·bly adv. nim·ble·ness n.
nim·bus (nim-būs) n. (pl. -bl, pr. -bi, -bus·es) 1. a bright cloud imagined as surrounding deities when they appear on earth. 2. a halo shown around the head of a sacred figure. 3. a rain cloud.
Nim·rod (nim-rod) n. a great hunter or sportsman. □ Named after Nimrod in the Bible.
nin·com·poop (nin-kom-poop) n. a fool·ish person.
nine (nim) adj. & n. one more than eight (9, IX). □ dressed to the nines, dressed very elaborately. nine days' wonder, something that attracts much attention at first but is soon forgotten.
nine·pins (nim-pinze) n. 1. a game played with nine objects to be knocked down by rolling a ball. 2. ninepin, one of these objects.
nine·teen (nim-teen) adj. & n. one more than eighteen (19, XIX). nine'teenth' as a denial or refusal of something. 2. not at all, no better than before. no n. (pl. noes, nos) a negative reply or vote, a person voting against something. □ no go, (informal) the task is impossible, the situation is hopeless. no man’s land, a space between the fronts of two opposing armies in war. no one, no person, nobody. no way, (informal) that (method etc.) is impossible.

No, Noh (noh) n. traditional Japanese drama with dance and song, evolved from Shinto rites.

No symbol nobelium.

No, no. abbr. number.

No-bel-ist (noh-bel-ist) n. a person who wins a Nobel prize.

No-bel (noh-bel) prize any of the prizes awarded annually for outstanding achievements in the sciences, literature, economics, and the promotion of world peace, from the bequest of Alfred Nobel (1833–96), the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

No-bil-i-ty (noh-bil-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) nobleness of mind or character or rank; the nobility, people of aristocratic birth or rank, titled people.

No-ble (noh-bel) adj. (-bler, -blest) 1. belonging to the aristocracy by birth or rank. 2. possessing excellent qualities, especially in one’s character, free from pettiness or meanness. 3. imposing in appearance, a noble edifice. noble n. a nobleman or noblewoman. nobly adv.

No-ble•ness n.

No-blesse o-blige (noh-bles oh-bleez) noble people must behave nobly, privi-lege entails responsibility. □ French.

No-bod-y (noh-bod-ee) pronoun no person. nobody n. (pl. -bod-ies) a person of no importance or authority, he’s nobody or a nobody. □ like nobody’s business, (informal) very much, intensively.

No-cur-nal (nok-tur-nál), adj. 1. of or in the night. 2. active in the night, nocturnal animals. no-cur-nal-ly adv.

No-cum-she (nok-turn) n. a dreamy piece of music.

No-cu-sseous (nok-yoo-ús) adj. noxious, harmful. noc’u-sous-ly adv.

No-d (nod) v. (nod-ded, nod-ding) 1. to move the head down and up again quickly as a sign of agreement or casual greeting, to indicate (agreement etc.) in this way. 2. to let the head fall forward in drowsiness, to be drowsy. 3. (of plumes or flowers etc.) to bend downward and sway. nod n. a nodding movement in agreement or greeting; give or get the nod, to give or get agreement or a signal to proceed. □ a nodding ac- quaintance, a slight acquaintance with a person or subject. land of Nod, sleep.

Nod-dle (nod-dəl) n. (informal) the head.

Nod-dy (nod-dee) n. (pl. -dies) 1. a simpleton. 2. a tropical seabird resembling the tern.

Noe (noh-el) n. (in carols) Christmas. noes (nohz) n. see no.

No-fault (noh-fawlt) n. 1. a form of automobile insurance that is valid regardless of allocation of blame for an accident. 2. a type of divorce awarded without attaching blame to either party.

No-frills (noh-frilz) adj. with no luxuries or extras.

No-gin (noh-gin) n. 1. a small measure of alcohol, usually one-fourth pint. 2. a small mug. 3. (informal) the head.

No-good (noh-guud) adj. (informal) of very poor quality, worthless. no-good n. (informal) a worthless or undepend-a ble person.

Noh = No.

No-hit-ter (noh-hit-ër) n. a baseball game in which one team makes no hits.

No-how (noh-how) adv. in no way.

Noise (noiz) n. a sound, especially one that is loud or harsh or confused or undesired.

Noise v. (noised, nois-ing) to make public; noise it abroad, made it generally known. noise’less adj. □ noise pollution, disturbance of human activity by harmful levels of noise.

Noise-mak-er (noiz-may-kër) n. a device for making loud noise at a festivity etc.

Noi-some (noi-söm) adj. 1. harmful, noxi-ous. 2. evil smelling. 3. objectionable, offensive. □ This word is unrelated to noise.

Noi-sy (noi-zëe) adj. (nols’-ër, nois-ë-st) making much noise. nols’ë-ly adv. noi-së-ness n.

No-knock (noh-nok) adj. no-knock law, a law permitting forcible entry by the police into one’s home or business.

No-load (noh-lohd) n. (also no-load fund) a mutual fund with no sales charge.

No-lo-con-ten-de-re (noh-loh kon-tendē-ree) a legal plea acknowledging validity of conviction but not guilt. □ Latin, = I do not wish to contend.

nom. abbr. nominal.

no·mad (noh-mad) n. 1. a member of a tribe that roams from place to place seeking pasture for its animals. 2. a wanderer.

no·mad·ic (noh-mad-ik) adj.

nom de guerre (nom de gair) a pseudonym, an assumed name under which a person fights, plays, writes, etc. □ French, = war-name.

nom de plume (nom de ploom) a writer’s pseudonym. □ The French words mean “pen name,” but the expression is not used in French.

no·men·cla·ture (nō-men-kla-chūr) n. a system of names, such as those used in a particular science.

nom·i·nal (nom-i-nāl) adj. 1. in name only, nominal ruler of that country. 2. (of an amount or sum of money) very small but charged or paid as a token that payment is required, a nominal fee.

nom·i·nal·ly adv. □ nominal value, the face value of a coin etc.

nom·i·nate (nom-i-nāt) v. (nom·i·nat·ed, nom·i·nat·ing) 1. to name as candidate for or future holder of an office. 2. to appoint to an office. nom·i·na·tor n. nom·i·na·tion (nom-i-nā-shōn) n.

nom·i·nate·ive (nom-i-nā-tiv) n. the form of a noun or pronoun used when it is the subject of a verb.

nom·i·nee (nom-i-nee) n. a person who is nominated by another.

non· prefix not. □ The number of words with this prefix is almost unlimited, and many of those whose meanings are obvious are not listed below.

non·a·bra·sive adj.
non·ab·so·lute adj. & n.
non·ab·so·bent adj. & n.
non·ac·a·dem·ic adj.
non·ac·e·p·tance n.
non·ac·id adj. & n.
non·ac·tive adj.
non·a·dap·tive adj.
non·ad·dict·ing adj.
non·ad·dic·tive adj.
non·ad·ja·cent adj.
non·ad·just·able adj.
non·af·fil·i·ated adj.
non·a·gree·ment n.
non·an·a·lyt·ic adj.
non·ap·pear·ance n.
non·ap·pli·ca·ble adj.

non·ar·o·mat·ic adj.
non·Ar·y·an adj. & n.
non·as·ser·tive adj.
non·as·ser·tive·ly adv.
non·ath·let·ic adj.
non·at·tend·ance n.
non·be·lie·ver n.
non·be·liger·ent adj. & n.
non·can·cer·ous adj.
non·can·cer·ous·ly adv.
non·can·di·date n.
non·car·bo·nat·ed adj.
non·Cath·olic adj. & n.
non·Cau·cas·ian adj. & n.
non·cel·lu·lar adj.
non·Chris·tian adj. & n.
non·co·ag·u·lat·ing adj.
non·co·he·sive adj.
non·col·lect·ible adj.
non·com·bus·tile adj.
non·com·mer·cial adj.
non·com·mer·cial·ly adv.
non·com·mu·ni·cal adj.
non·com·mu·ni·cal·ly adj.
non·com·mit·ting adj.
non·com·mit·ting·ly adv.
non·com·mission·ed adj.
non·com·mis·sioned adj.
non·com·mit·ted adj.
non·com·mit·tee·ed adj.
non·con·cili·a·ble adj.
non·con·clu·si·ve adj.
non·con·clu·si·ve·ly adv.
nonconductor / nonferrous nonconductor (non-kon-dukt-or) n. a substance that does not conduct heat or electricity.

nonconducting adj.
nonconformist (non-kon-form-ist) n. 1. a person who does not conform to established principles. 2. Nonconformist, a member of certain Protestant sects that do not conform to the teaching or practices of the Church of England or other established churches.
nonconformity (non-kon-for-mi-ty) n. failure to conform to a principle or rule or tradition etc.
noncontributory (non-trib-u-to-ry) adj. not involving the payment of contributions, a noncontributory pension scheme.
noncooperation (non-koh-op-er-a-shun) n. 1. an unwillingness to work together for a common purpose. 2. refusal to cooperate with the government by engaging in civil disobedience.
noncreditable (non-kred-it-able) adj. of or relating to a course of study that does not fulfill a requirement for a degree; a noncredit course, one not recognized by a school as a requirement for a degree. nondairy (non-dair-i) adj. containing no milk or dairy products. nondairy creamer, = creamer (definition 2). nondeductible (non-di-dukt-ible) adj. not able to be deducted, as from a bill or tax assessment. nondeductible n. a nondeductible item.
nondenominal (non-di-nom-i-nal) adj. (non-dinom-i-nay-sho-nal) adj. not restricted to one religion or religious denomination.
nondependence (non-di-pen-dence) n. the state of not being dependent on a drug after rehabilitation.
nondescript (non-di-skript) adj. lacking in distinctive characteristics and therefore not easy to classify. nondescript n. a nondescript person or thing.
non discredit (non-di-skrid-it) adj. making no distinction in favor of or against a person or thing based on prejudice.
nondiscriminatory (non-dis-krim-i-ni-ter-oi-dee) adj. incapable of being educated, as certain types of people and those with certain levels of mental retardation.
nonenlistment (non-en-list-ment) n. a person or thing of no importance.
nones (nohnz) n. pl. 1. the 9th day by inclusive reckoning before the ides in the Roman calendar (7th day of March, May, July, and October, 5th of other months). 2. the 5th of the canonical hours of prayer, originally said at the 9th hour.
nonesuch (nun-such) n. a person or thing that is unrivaled, a paragon. noneless (nun-thel-ess) adv. nevertheless.
onevent (non-i-vent) n. an event that was expected or intended to be important but proves to be disappointing.
oneexstent (non-ig-zis-tent) adj. not existing. nonexistent n. nonfat (non-fat) adj. containing no or very little animal fat; nonfat milk, milk with less animal fat than found in low-fat milk.
nonferrous (non-fer-úss) adj. of non-restrictive / Nor.

non-restrictive (non-ri-strik-tiv) adj. 1. (of a clause, etc.) describing the antecedent, but not limiting its meaning. 2. (of membership etc.) open to all.

non-turnable (non-tur-nä-bäl) adj. not able to be returned, as an item purchased from a store.

nor (non-rig-id) adj. 1. limp, flexible. 2. (of a type of airship) without supporting framework and held in shape only by the pressure of internal gas.

nonsalaried (non-sal-ā-reed) adj. not paid a regular wage or salary for one's work, as an employee who is paid a commission or a consultant who receives a fee.

nonscheduled (non-skej-oold) airline one operating without a regular timetable.

nonsensical (non-sen-si-kal) adj. not restricted to or not affiliated with any particular religion.

nonsensical (non-sens) n. 1. words put together in a way that does not make sense. 2. absurd or foolish talk or ideas or behavior.

nonsensical (non-sen-si-kal) adj. not making sense, absurd, foolish. nonsensical (non-sen-si-kal-ly) adv.

nonsequitur. (non-sek-wi-tür) a conclusion that does not follow from the evidence given. >Latin, = it does not follow.

nonskidded (non-skid) adj. (informal) nonscheduled. nonskidded n. (informal) a nonscheduled airline or cargo plane.

nonskidded (non-skid) adj. (of tires) designed to prevent or reduce skidding.

nonsmoking (non-smok'ing) adj. n. 1. a person who does not smoke. 2. a train or airplane compartment where smoking is forbidden.

nonsensical (non-stan-där) adj. (of language) varying in usage from what is usually regarded as preferred or correct.

nonsensical (non-spe'cial-lized) adj.

nonsensical (non-stain'ing) adj.

nonsensical (non-stim-u-lat-ing) adj.

nonsensical (non-stra-te'gic) adj.

nonsensical (non-strik'er) adj.

nonsensical (non-strik'ing) adj.

nonsensical (non-sur'gi-cal) adj.

nonsensical (non-sus-tain'ing) adj.

nonsensical (non-tax'a'ble) adj.

nonsensical (non-tech'ni-cal) adj.

nonsensical (non-think'ing) adj.

nonsensical (non-tox'i-cal) adj.

nonsensical (non-trans'er-a'ble) adj.

nonsensical (non-vas'cu-lar) adj.

nonsensical (non-ven'om-ous) adj.

nonsensical (non-ver'bal) adj.

nonsensical (non-vi'a'ble) adj.

nonsensical (non-vi-o-lence) n. the policy of refraining from the use of violence to gain one's objectives. nonsensical (non-vi'o-len't adj.

nonsensical (non-vot'er) n. a person who is eligible to vote but does not.

nonsensical (non-white) adj. not belonging to the white race of mankind.

nonsensical (noo-dle) n. 1. a strip of dough made of flour and eggs, dried and used in soups etc. 2. (informal) the head.

nonsensical (nook) (nuuk) n. a secluded place or corner, a recess.

nonsensical (noon) n. twelve o'clock in the day, midday. noon-day (noon-day) n.

nonsensical (noon-time) (noon-trm) n.

nonsensical (noose) (noos) n. a loop of rope etc. with a knot that tightens when pulled.

nonsensical (nor-par) adj. having no face value.

nonsensical (nópe) (nohp) interj. (informal) no.

nonsensical (nor) adv. & conj. and not.

nonsensical (Nor.) abbr. 1. Norway. 2. Norwegian.

Nor·dic (nor-dik) adj. of the racial type found especially in Scandinavia, tall and blond with blue eyes.

Nor·folk (nor-fôk) jacket a man’s loose-belted jacket with box pleats.

norm (norm) n. 1. a standard or pattern or type considered to be representative of a group. 2. a standard amount of work etc. to be done or produced.

nor·mal (nor-mal) adj. 1. conforming to what is standard or usual. 2. free from mental or emotional disorders.

nor·mal·cy (nor-mal-se) n. nor·mal·i·ty (nor-mal-i-tee) n. □ normal school, (old use) a school for training teachers.

nor·mal·ize (nor-mal-ize) v. (nor·mal·ized, nor·mal·iz·ing) to make normal or conforming.

Nor·man (nor-măn) adj. of the Normans. Norman n. a member of the people of Normandy in northern France. □ Norm·man Conquest, see conquest.

nor·ma·tive (nor-ma·tiv) adj. of or establishing a norm. nor·ma·tive·ly adv.

Nor·se (nors) adj. of ancient Norway or Scandinavia. Norse n. the Norwegian language or the Scandinavian group of languages.

Nor·se·man (nors-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mên) a native of ancient Norway, especially of Norway.

north (north) n. 1. the point or direction to the left of a person facing east. 2. the northern part of something. north adj. & adv. toward or in the north; a north wind, blowing from the north. □ North America, the northermost continent of the Western Hemisphere. North Amer·ican, of or relating to North America or an inhabitant of North America. North Carolina, a state of the U.S. North Carolina, a native or inhabitant of North Carolina. North Dakota, a state of the U.S. North Dakota, a native or inhabitant of North Dakota. North Korea, a country formed in 1948 by the division of Korea, situated in northeastern Asia. North Pole, the northernmost point of Earth. north pole, (of a magnet) the pole that is attracted to the north. North Star, the pole star.

North Vietnam, a former country of southeast Asia, now reunited with South Vietnam as Vietnam. the North, the northern part of the U.S., north of the Ohio River and the Mason-Dixon line; the Union side in the Civil War.

north·bound (north-bound) adj. traveling northward.

north·east (north-east) n. 1. the point or direction midway between north and east. 2. Northeast, the northeastern region of the U.S. northeast adj. & adv. toward or in the northeast. north·east·ward (north-east-wârd) adj. & adv. north·east·wards adv. toward the northeast. north·east·ern adj. north·east·er·ly adj. & adv.

north·east·er (north-east-er) n. a northeast wind or storm.

north·er (nor-ther) n. a strong cold north wind blowing in autumn and winter over Texas, Florida, and the Gulf of Mexico.

north·er·ly (nor-ther-lee) adj. in or toward the north; a northerly wind, blowing from the north (approximately).

northerly n. a northerly wind.

north·ern (nor-thern) adj. of or in the north. □ Northern Hemis·phere, the half of Earth north of the equator. Northern Ireland, see Ireland. northern lights, the aurora borealis.

north·ern·er (nor-ther-ner) n. 1. a native or inhabitant of the northeast U.S. 2. a Union supporter in the Civil War.

north·ern·most (nor-thern-most) adj. farthest north.

north·ward (north-ward) adj. toward the north, in the north. north·ward·ly adv. toward the north.

north·west (north-west) n. 1. the point or direction midway between north and west. 2. Northwest, the northwest region of the U.S. northwest adj. & adv. toward or in the northwest. north·west·ward (north-west-wârd) adj. & adv. north·west·wards adv. toward the northwest. north·west·ern adj. north·west·er·ly adj. & adv. □ North·west·Ter·ritories, the part of Canada lying north of the 60th parallel.

Nor·w. abbr. 1. Norway. 2. Norwegian.

Nor·way (nor-way) a country in northern Europe.

Nor·we·gian (nor·we·jân) adj. of Norway or its people or language. Norwe·gi·an n. 1. a native or inhabitant of Norway. 2. the language of Norway.

Nos., nos. abbr. numbers.

nose (nohz) n. 1. the organ at the front of the head in man and animals, containing the nostrils and used for breathing and smelling. 2. a sense of smell. 3. the ability to detect things of a particular kind, has a nose for scandal. 4. the open end of a tube or piping etc. 5. the front end or projecting front part of something. nose v. (nosed, nos·ing) 1. to detect or search by using one’s sense of nosebag / nothingness smell. 2. to smell at, to rub with the nose, to push the nose against or into. 3. to push one's way cautiously ahead, the car nosed past the obstruction. □ by a nose, by a very narrow margin. keep one's nose clean, to stay out of trouble. nose cone, the cone-shaped nose of a rocket or missile. nose dive, an airplane's steep downward plunge with the nose first; any sudden drop or plunge. pay through the nose, to pay an unfairly high price. put someone's nose out of joint, to make him envious because of another's success or promotion etc. rub his nose in, to remind him humiliatingly of his error. turn up one's nose at, to reject or ignore contemptuously. under a person's nose, where he can or should see it clearly. with one's nose in the air, haughtily.

nose·bag (nohz-bag) n. a bag containing fodder, for hanging on a horse's head.

nose·band (nohz-band) n. the lower band of a bridle passing over the nose and attached to the cheek straps.

nose·bleed (nohz-bleed) n. bleeding from the nose.

nose·dive (nohz-drv) v. (nose-dived, nose-div·ling) (of an airplane etc.) to plunge straight down.

nose·gay (nohz-gay) n. a small bunch of flowers.

nose·piece (nohz-pees) n. 1. the part of a helmet protecting the nose. 2. the bridge of a pair of eyeglasses.

nosh (nosh) n. (slang) food. nosh v. (slang) to snack. nosh'er n. (slang) a habitual snacker.

no·show (noh-shoh) n. (informal) a person who reserves a seat, especially on an airplane, but who does not use it or cancel it.

nos·tal·gia (no-stal-jä) n. sentimental memory of or longing for things of the past.

nos·tal·gi·cal·ly adv.

nos·tri·um (nos-tri-um) n. of the two openings in the nose through which air is admitted.

nos·trum (nos-trum) n. a quack remedy.

nos·y, nos·ey (noh-zee) adj. (nos·y·er, nos·y·est) (informal) inquisitive. nos·y·ly adv. nos·y·ness n. □ Nosy or Nosey Parker, (informal) an inquisitive person, a busybody.

not (not) adv. expressing a negative or denial or refusal. □ not at all, a polite reply to thanks. not half, not nearly, not half enough; (informal) not at all, it's not half bad.

no·ta·be·ne (noh-tä-be-nee, bay-nay) observe what follows, note well. □ Latin.

no·ta·bil·i·ty (noh-tä-bil-i-tee) n. 1. being notable. 2. a notable person.
	no·ta·ble (noh-tä-bèl) adj. worthy of notice, remarkable, eminent. notable n. an eminent person.

no·ta·bly (noh-tä-blee) adv. remarkably, especially.

no·tar·al·al adj. (noh-tair-i-āl) adj. of a notary public.

no·ta·ri·ze (noh-tä-riz) v. (no·ta·ri·zed, no·ta·ri·zing) to attest as a notary.

no·ta·ry (noh-tä-rey) public (pl. no·ta·ries public) a person officially authorized to witness the signing of documents and to perform other formal transactions.

no·ta·tion (noh-tay-shōn) n. a system of signs or symbols representing numbers, quantities, musical notes, etc.

notch (noch) n. 1. a V-shaped cut or indentation. 2. a narrow pass through mountains. 3. one of the levels in a graded system, everyone moved up a notch.

notch v. 1. to make a notch or notches in. 2. to score, notched up another win.

notch·y adj.

note (noht) n. 1. a brief record of something, written down to aid the memory. 2. a short or informal letter, a memorandum, a formal diplomatic communication. 3. a short comment on or explanation of a word or passage in a book etc. 4. a promise to pay money, a promissory note. 5. a tone of definite pitch made by a voice or instrument or engine etc. 6. a written sign representing the pitch and duration of a musical sound. 7. one of the keys on a piano etc. 8. a significant sound or indication of feelings etc., a note of optimism. 9. eminence, distinction, a family of note. 10. notice, attention; take note of what he says, pay attention to it. note v. (not·ed, not·ing) 1. to notice, to pay attention to. 2. to write down, noted it down.

note·book (noht-buk) n. a book with blank pages on which to write memorama etc.

not·ed (noh-tid) adj. famous, well-known.

not·ed·ly adv.

note·pa·per (noht-pay-për) n. paper for writing letters on.

note·wor·thy (noht-wur-thee) adj. worthy of notice, remarkable.

noth·ing (nuth-ing) n. 1. no thing, not anything. 2. no amount, naught. 3. nonexistence, what does not exist. 4. a person or thing of no importance. nothing adv. not at all, in no way, it's nothing like as good. □ for nothing, without payment, free; without a reward or result. nothing doing, (slang) a statement of refusal or failure.

noth·ing·ness (nuth-ing-nis) n. nonexistno*ti*fy (noh-tih-fih) v. 1. to inform. 2. to report, to make (a thing) known. no*ti*fic*a*tion (noh-tih-fih-kay-shuhn) n.

no*ti*a*ble (noh-ti-sah-bel) adj. easily seen or noticed. no*tic*a*ble*ly adv.

no*ti*cle (noh-tih-kle) n. (pl. -cles). 1. a news or information of what has happened or is about to happen; at short notice, with little time for preparation. 2. a formal announcement that one is to end an agreement or leave a job at a specified time, gave him a month's notice. 3. written or printed information or instructions displayed publicly. 4. attention, observation, it escaped my notice. 5. an account or review in a newspaper. notice v. (no-tic*ed, no*tic*ing). 1. to perceive, to become aware of, to take notice of. 2. to remark upon, to speak of. □ take notice, to show signs of interest; take no notice of it, ignore it, take no action about it.

no*ti*cable (noh-tih-kuh-buhl) adj. noticeable. notice n. noun nou*veau (noh-voh) adj. (slang) new, especially as seen now. nou*veaux (noh-voo-ayz) n. pl. of nou*veaux, of, especially as seen now.

nour*ish (noo-rihs) v. 1. to keep (a person or animal or plant) alive and well by means of food. 2. to foster or cherish (a feeling etc.). nour*ish*ment n.

nou*veaux riches, pr. noo-vo-uh reesh) (contemptuous) a person who has recently acquired wealth and is ostentatious. ▲ French.

Nov. abbr. November.

no*va (noh-vah) n. (pl. -vas, -vae, pr. -vee) a star that suddenly becomes much brighter for a short time.

No*va Sco*ti*a (noh-vah skoh-shuh) a province of Canada. No'va Sco*ti*a n. & n.

nov-el (nov-uhl) n. a book-length story. novel adj. of a new kind, a novel experience.

nov-el*ette (nov-uhl-aht) n. a short novel.

nov-el*ist (nov-uhl-ist) n. a writer of novels.

nov-el*ize (nov-uhl-iz) v. (nov-uhlized, novel*ized, -iz*ing) to convert into a novel.

nov-el*iza*tion (nov-uhl-iz-ay-shuhn) n.

no*vel*la (noh-vel-lah) n. (pl. -vel*las, -vel*lae, pr. -vel-le) a short novel or narrative.

nov-el*ty (nov-uhl-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the quality of being novel. 2. a novel thing or occurrence. 3. a small unusual object, especially one suitable for giving as a present, a store selling novelties.

Nov*em*ber (noh-vem-bur) n. the eleventh month of the year.

no*ve*na (noh-veh-nah) n. (pl. -nas, -nae, pr. -nee) a Roman Catholic devotion consisting of special prayers or a service on nine successive days.

nov*ice (nov-is) n. 1. a person who is inexperienced in the work etc. that he is doing, a beginner. 2. one who has been accepted into a religious order but has not yet taken the final vows.

no*vil*la*te (noh-vish-luh-tay) v. (nov-il-late) to make (a person or thing) suitable for giving as a present, a store selling novelties.

Nov*ocaine (noh-voh-kayn) n. (trademark) procaine.

now (now) adv. 1. at the time when or of which one is writing or speaking. 2. by this time. 3. immediately, must go now. 4. (with no reference to time, giving an explanation or comfort etc.) I beg or wonder or warn you or am telling you, now why didn't I think of that? now conj. as a consequence of the fact, simultaneously with it, now that you have come, we'll start; I do remember, now you mention it. now n. the present time, they ought to be here by now. now adj. (slang) 1. current or of the present, the now people. 2. stylishly new, clothes with a now look. □ for now, until a later time, good-bye for now. now and again or now and then, occasionally.

NOW (now) n. 1. National Organization for Women. 2. (also N.O.W.) negotiable order of withdrawal for a checking account (a NOW account) that earns interest. now-a-days (now-a-dayz) adv. at the present time (contrasted with years ago).

no-way (noh-way) adv. (informal) in no way, to no degree, she felt noway responsible for his errors.

no-where (noh-hwair) adv. not anywhere. nowhere n. a place that is obscure or remote or unknown, etc. come from nowhere, to be suddenly present. get nowhere, to make no progress. in the middle of nowhere, (informal) not near any towns etc. nowhere near, not nearly. The word nowhere is incorrect.

no-wise (noh-wrz) adv. in no way, not at all.

nox-lous (nok-shüs) adj. unpleasant and harmful. nox'lous-ly adv. nox'lous-ness n.

noz-zle (nоз-zл) n. the vent or spout of a hose etc. through which a stream of liquid or air is directed.

np abbr. 1. no pagination. 2. no place (of publication). 3. notary public.

NP symbol neptunium.

NP abbr. 1. no protest. 2. notary public. 3. noun phrase.

NRC abbr. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

NS abbr. 1. not specified. 2. nuclear ship. 3. National Security Agency.

NSF abbr. 1. National Science Foundation. 2. not sufficient funds.

nth (enth) adj. to the nth degree, to the utmost.

NTP abbr. normal temperature and pressure.

nt. wt. abbr. net weight.
	nu (noo) n. the thirteenth letter of the Greek alphabet (N ν).

NU abbr. name unknown.
	nu-ance (noo-ahns) n. a subtle difference in meaning, a shade of meaning.

nub (nub) n. 1. a small knob or lump. 2. the central point or core of a matter or problem.

nub-blin (nub-in) n. 1. a stunted or imperfect ear of corn. 2. anything small or stunted.

nub-by (nub-ce) adj. (-bl-er, -bl-est) full of small lumps, nubby tweeds.

nu-bile (noo-bil) adj. marriageable, physically attractive, nubile young women.

nu-cle-ar (noo-kle-ær) adj. 1. of a nucleus. 2. of or using nuclear energy, nuclear weapons; nuclear power. nuclear energy, energy that is released or absorbed during reactions taking place in the nuclei of atoms. nuclear family, father, mother, and children. nuclear physics, the branch of physics dealing with atomic nuclei and their reactions. Do not pronounce nuclear noo-kyu-lär.

nu-cle-ate (noo-kle-at) v. (nu-cle-at-ed, nu-cle-at-ing) to form into a nucleus. nu-cle-a-to-r n. nu-cle-a-tion (noo-kli-ay-sh6n) n.

nu-cle-ic (noo-kl-ik) acid any of a group of complex organic substances present in all living cells.

nu-cle-on (noo-kli-on) n. a proton or neutron, especially as a particle in an atomic nucleus. nu-cle-on-lc (noo-kl-ik) adj.

nu-cle-on-lcs (noo-kli-on-lks) n. the branch of science and engineering that deals with the practical uses of nuclear energy.

nu-cle-us (noo-kli-us) n. (pl. -cle-l, pr. -kli-l, -cLe-us-es) 1. the central part or thing around which others are collected. 2. something established that will receive additions, this collection of books will form the nucleus of a new library. 3. the central positively charged portion of an atom. 4. the dense central part of a plant or animal cell containing genetic material.

nu-clide (noo-kli-did) n. a particular kind of atom defined by the composition of its nucleus. nu-clid-lc (noo-kli-did-ik) adj.

nude (nood) adj. not clothed, naked. nude n. a nude human figure in a painting etc. nud-i-ty (nood-i-tee) n. In the nude, not clothed, naked.

nudge (nuj) v. (nudged, nudging) 1. to poke (a person) gently with the elbow in order to draw his attention quietly. 2. to push slightly or gradually. nudge n. this movement. nudg'er n.

nud-lst (noo-dist) n. a person who believes that going unclothed is good for the health. nudl'ism n. nudl'st camp, a settlement where people live unclothed.

nu-ga-to-ry (noo-ga-toh-re) adj. 1. trifling, worthless, futile. 2. inoperative, not valid.

nug-get (aug-it) n. 1. a rough lump of gold or platinum as found in the earth. 2. something small and valuable, nuggets of information.

nul-sance (noo-sänz) n. a source of annoyance, an annoying person or thing. Nul-sance tax, a tax collected in small amounts directly from a person or business. Nul-sance value, capacity to harass or frustrate.
nul-li-fy (nul-i-fi) v. (nul-i-fied, nul-li-fy-ing) 1. to make (a thing) null. 2. to cancel or neutralize the effect of. nul-li-fi-ca-tion (null-i-fy-shon) n.

num.-ber (num-bér) n. 1. a symbol or word indicating how many, a numeral. 2. a numeral identifying a person or thing (such as a telephone or a house in a street) by its position in a series. 3. a single issue of a magazine. 4. a song or piece of music etc., especially as an item in a theatrical performance. 5. (informal) an object (such as a garment or car) considered as an item. 6. a total of people or things; a number of, some; numbers of, very many. 7. the category “singular” or “plural” in grammar. 8. numbers, arithmetic, does numbers well. 9. Numbers, the fourth book of the Old Testament, a part of which contains the census of the Israelites. number v. 1. to count, to find out how many. 2. to amount to. 3. to assign a number to (each in a series), to distinguish in this way. 4. to include or regard as, I number him among my friends. □ by numbers, following simple instructions identified by numbers. do it by the numbers, to follow a prescribed procedure. have a person’s number, (slang) to understand him or his motives. his days are numbered, he has not long to live or to remain in his present position. number one, (slang) oneself, always takes care of number one. the numbers game, a lottery based on the occurrence of unpredictable numbers in the results of races etc. without number, innumerable.

num-bler than = nurnskull.

nu-mer-a-ble (nu-mér-a-bél) adj. able to be numbered or counted.

nu-mer-al (nu-mér-ál) n. a symbol that represents a certain number, a figure. numerical adj. of or denoting a number or numbers.

nu-mer-a-te (nu-mér-a-té) v. (nu-mer-at-ed, nu-mer-at-ing) to enumerate.

nu-mer-a-tion (nu-mér-a-shon) n.

nu-mer-a-tor (nu-mér-a-tor) n. the number above the line in a fraction.

nu-mer-i-cal (nu-mér-i-kál), nu-mer-i-ly adv. a number or series of numbers, placed in numerical order.

nu-mer-i-cal-ly adv.

nu-mer-ous (nu-mér-ús) adj. many, consisting of many items. nu-mer-ous-ly adv. nu-mer-ous-ness n.

num. abbr. numeral.

numb (num) adj. deprived of the power to feel or move, numb with cold or shock. numb v. to make numb. numb’ly adv.

numb’ness n.

nur-ry (nur-ri) n. 1. a place, including its equipment, for nursery work. 2. a nursery school, a school for children below normal school age.

nurse (nurs) n. 1. a person trained in caring for sick or injured or infirm people. 2. a woman employed to take charge of young children. nurse v. (nursed, nurs-ing) 1. to work as a nurse, to look after in this way. 2. to feed or be fed at the breast or udder. 3. to hold carefully. 4. to give special care to; nurse a constituency, try to keep its favor by continued attentions. □ nursing home, a privately run hospital or home for invalids. nursing mother, one who is suckling an infant.

nurse-maid (nurs-mayd) n. a woman employed to take charge of young children.

nurs-e-ry (nur-sé-re) n. (pl. -er-ies) 1. a room set apart for young children. 2. a place where young plants are reared for transplanting and usually for selling. □ nursery rhyme, a simple traditional song or story in rhyme for children.

nursery school, a school for children below normal school age.

nurs-er-man (nur-sé-ri-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person who owns or works in a plant nursery.

nurs-ing (nurs-ling) n. a baby or young animal that is being suckled.

ture (nur-chér) v. (nur-tured, nur-tur-ing) 1. to nourish and rear. 2. to bring up, a delicately nurtured girl. nurture n. the process of nurturing.

nut (nut) n. 1. fruit consisting of a hard shell around an edible kernel. 2. this kernel. 3. (slang) the head. 4. (slang) an insane or excitable person. 5. a small piece of metal with a hole in its center, designed for use with a bolt; the nuts and bolts of something, practical details.

nut-brown (nut-brown) adj. brown like a ripe hazelnut.

nut-crack-er (nut-krack-ér) n. a pair of pincers for cracking nuts.

nut-hatch (nut-hach) n. a small climbing bird that feeds on nuts and insects.

nut-meat (nut-meat) n. the kernel of a nut.

nut-meg (nut-meg) n. the hard fragrant seed of a tropical tree, ground or grated as spice.

nut-pick (nut-pik) n. a sharp table instrument for the removal of the kernel of a nut.

nut-shell (nut-shel) n. the hard outer shell of a nut. in a nutshell, expressed in the briefest possible way.

nut-ty (nut-te) adj. (-ti-er, -ti-est). 1. full of nuts. 2. tasting like nuts. 3. (slang) crazy.

nuz-zle (nuz-el) v. (nuz-zled, nuz-zling) to press or rub gently with the nose.

NV abbr. Nevada.

NW, N.W. abbr. 1. northwest. 2. northwestern.

NWT abbr. Northwest Territories.

nylon (ni-lon) n. 1. a synthetic fiber of great lightness and strength. 2. fabric made from this.

nymph (nimf) n. 1. (in mythology) a semi-divine maiden living in the sea or woods etc. 2. a young insect that resembles its parents in form.

nympho-mani-a (nim-fö-ma-ni-ä) n. excessive and uncontrollable sexual desire in women.

nympho-mani-ac (nim-fö-ma-ni-ak) n. a woman suffering from nymphomania.

nys-tag-mus (ni-stag-müs) n. abnormal continual rapid involuntary movement of the eyeballs.

O, o (oh) (pl. Os, O's, o's) the fifteenth letter of the alphabet.
O interj. 1. (old use) prefixed to a name, especially in a formally expressed wish or entreaty, O God our help. 2. a natural exclamation of sudden feeling.
O abbr. 1. ohm. 2. Old.
O symbol. 1. oxygen. 2. zero.
o. abbr. 1. old. 2. off. 3. (in baseball) out(s).
O. abbr. 1. ocean. 2. October. 3. Ohio.
o/a abbr. on or about.
oaf (ohf) n. (pl. oafs) an awkward lout.
oafish adj. oafish-ly adv. oafish-ness n.
oak (ohk) n. 1. a deciduous forest tree with irregularly shaped leaves, bearing acorns. 2. its wood.
oak-en (oh-ken) adj. made of oak.
oak-kum (oh-kum) n. loose fiber obtained by picking old rope to pieces, used in caulking wooden ships.
oar (ohr) n. 1. a pole with a flat blade at one end, used to propel a boat by its leverage against water. 2. an oarsman, he's a good oar. □ put one's oar in, to interfere.
oar-lock (ohr-lock) n. a device on the side of a boat serving as a fulcrum for an oar and keeping it in place.
oars-man (ohrz-mahn) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mèn) a rower.
oars-man-ship (ohrz-mahn-ship) n. skill in rowing.
OAS abbr. Organization of American States.
o·a·sis (oh-ay-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -seez) a fertile spot in a desert, with a spring or well of water.
oat (oh) n. 1. a hardy cereal plant grown in cool climates for food (oats for horses, oatmeal for people). 2. its grain. □ feel one's oats, to be lively; to be self-important. sow one's wild oats, to lead a wild life while young, before settling down.
oat-cake (oht-kayk) n. a thin cake made of oatmeal.
oath (ohnth) n. 1. a solemn promise to do something or that something is true, appealing to God or a revered object as witness. 2. casual use of the name of God etc. in anger or to give emphasis. □ on or under oath, having made a solemn oath.
oat·meal (oht-meel) n. 1. meal prepared from oats. 2. a breakfast food cooked from this.
OB abbr. obstetrics.
ob. abbr. 1. he or she died (› Latin obitii). 2. incidentally (› Latin obiter).
ob·bi·ga·to (ob-li-gah-toh) n. (pl. -tos) an important accompanying part in a musical composition.
ob·du·rate (ob-du-rate) adj. stubborn and unyielding. ob·du·ra·cy (ob-du-rā-see) n.
ob·be·di·ent (oh-bee-di-ent) adj. doing what one is told to do, willing to obey. ob·be·di·ent·ly adv. o·be·di·ence n.
ob·bei·sance (oh-bay-sens) n. a deep bow or curtsy. o·bei·sant adj.
ob·e·lisk (oh-ē-lisk) n. a tall pillar set up as a monument.
ob·ese (oh-bees) adj. very fat. o·be·si·ty (oh-bee-si-tee) n.
ob·ey (oh-bay) v. (o·beyed, o·be·y·ing) to do what is commanded by (a person or law or instinct etc.), to be obedient.
ob·fu·cating (oh-fus-cating) v. (ob·fu·cated, ob·fu·cat·ed) 1. to darken or obscure, confuse. 2. to stupefy or bewilder. ob·fu·ca·tion (oh-fū-skay-shōn) n.
obl (oh-bee) n. (pl. o·blis, pr. oh-beez) a bright broad sash worn with a kimono by Japanese women and children.
ob·it (oh-bit) n. (informal) obituary.
ob·i·ter·dic·tum (ob-i-tēr dik-tūm) (pl. dic·ta, pr. dik-tā) 1. a judge's expression of opinion uttered in arguing a point or giving judgment but not essential to his decision and therefore without binding authority. 2. an incidental remark. †Latin, = thing said by the way.
ob·it·u·rar·y (oh-bich-oo-er-ee) n. (pl. -ar·ies) a notice of a person's death, especially in a newspaper, often with a short account of his life and achievements.

obj. abbr. 1. object. 2. objection. 3. objective.

ob-ject (ob-jekt) n. 1. something solid that can be seen or touched. 2. a person or thing to which some action or feeling is directed, an object of pity. 3. a purpose, an intention. 4. (in grammar) a noun or its equivalent acted upon by a transitive verb or by a preposition (him is the object in the dog bit him and against him). object (ob-jekt) v. to say that one is not in favor of something, to protest. objectionor n. □ no object, not forming an important or limiting factor; expense is no object, cost is not a consideration. object lesson, a striking practical illustration of some principle.

ob-jec-tion (ob-jek-shôn) n. 1. a feeling of disapproval or opposition, a statement of this. 2. a reason for objecting, a drawback in a plan etc.

ob-jec-tion-a-ble (ob-jek-shû-nä-bôl) adj. causing objections or disapproval, unpleasant. objectionable adv.

ob-jec-tive (ob-jektiv) adj. 1. having real existence outside a person's mind, not subjective. 2. not influenced by personal feelings or opinions, an objective account of the problem. 3. (in grammar) of the objective case. objective n. something one is trying to achieve or reach or capture. objectively adv. objectivity n. objectively (ob-jektiv-i-tee) n. □ objective case, the form of a word used when it is the object of a verb or preposition.

ob-jet d'art (ob-zhay dahr) (pl. ob-jets d'art, pr. ob-zhay dahr) a small artistic object. □ French.

ob-jet trou-vé (ob-zhay troo-vay) n. (pl. ob-jets trou-vés, pr. ob-zhay troo-vay) a found object (see found'). □ French.

obl. abbr. 1. oblique. 2. oblong.

ob-late (ob-layt) adj. (of a spheroid) flattened at the poles.

ob-la-tion (ob-lay-shôn) n. a religious offering, sacrifice, or donation.

ob-li-gate (ob-li-gayt) v. (ob-li-gat-ed, ob-li-gat-ing) to bind (a person) legally or morally to do something.

ob-li-gation (ob-li-gay-shôn) n. 1. being obliged to do something. 2. what one must do in order to comply with an agreement or law etc., one's duty. □ under an obligation, owing gratitude to another person for some service or benefit.

obligate (ob-lig-ät) v. (ob-lig-cat-ed, ob-lig-cat-ing) required by law or rule or custom, compulsory not optional.

oblige (ob-lîj) v. (ob-lîged, ob-lîg-ing) 1. to compel by law or agreement or custom or necessity. 2. to help or gratify by performing a small service, oblige me with a loan. □ be obliged to a person, to be indebted to him for some service. much obliged, thank you.

oblige-ing (ob-lîj-ing) adj. courteous and helpful. oblige'ingly adv.

ob-lin-gate (ob-lîn-gät) adj. 1. slanting. 2. expressed indirectly, not going straight to the point, an oblique reply. oblique'ly adv. oblique'ness n. □ oblique angle, an acute or obtuse angle.

ob-lit'er-ate (ob-lit-ér-at, ob-lit-ér-at-ing) to blot out, to destroy and leave no clear traces of. obliteration n.

ob-liv-i-on (ob-liv-î-on) n. 1. the state of being forgotten. 2. the state of being oblivious.

ob-liv-i-ous (ob-liv-i-ûs) adj. unaware or unconscious of something, oblivious of or to her surroundings. oblivious of or to her surroundings. oblivious of or to her surroundings.

ob-long (ob-lawng) n. a rectangular shape that is longer than it is broad. oblong adj. having this shape.

ob-lo-que (ob-lok) 1. pr. (ob-ló-ku) n. (pl. -quales) 1. verbal abuse or censure. 2. being generally spoken ill of.

ob-nox-i-ous (ob-noks-î-ûs) adj. very unpleasant, objectionable. obnoxious ly adv. obnoxious ness n.

oboe (ob-boh) n. a woodwind instrument of treble pitch.

oboe (ob-boh-ist) n. a person who plays the oboe.

obs. abbr. 1. observation. 2. observatory. 3. obsolete.

ob-scene (ob-seen) adj. indecent in a repulsive or very offensive way. obscene ly adv.

ob-scen-i-ty (ob-seen-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being obscene. 2. an obscene action or word etc.

obscenity (ob-seen-î-ti) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being obscene. 2. an obscene action or word etc.

ob-scru'rant-ism (ob-skyoor-ân-tiz-ëm) n. 1. opposition to inquiry, enlightenment, and reform. 2. deliberate avoidance of clarity or explanation. obscure'ness n. □ obscure'ness adj. & n.

ob-scru-ration (ob-skyû-ray-shôn) n. making or being made obscure.

ob-scure (ob-skyoor) adj. (scur-er, -scur-est) 1. dark, indistinct. 2. remote from people's observation. 3. not famous, an obscure poet. 4. not easily understood, not clearly expressed. obscure v. (ob-scured, ob-scur-ing) to make-obsequies / obviate

scur, to conceal from view. ob·scure·ly adv. ob·scure·ly (ŏb-škyoor-î-tee) n.

ob·se·ques (ŏb-sĕ-kweez) n. pl. funeral rites, a funeral.

ob·se·qui·ous (ŏb-see-kiw-ŭs) adj. ex cessively or sickeningly respectful. ob·se·qui·ous·ly adv. ob·se·qui·ous·ness n.

ob·serv·a·ble (ŏb-zur-vă-bĕl) adj. able to be observed.

ob·serv·ance (ŏb-zur-văns), n. the keeping of a law or rule or custom etc., the keeping or celebrating of a religious festival or of a holiday.

ob·serv·ant (ŏb-zur-vănt) adj. 1. quick at noticing things. 2. attentive in observance, acute or diligent in taking notice. 3. careful in observing law or ritual, especially in religious matters. ob·serv·ant·ly adv.

ob·serv·a·tion (ŏb-zər-vā-shŏn) n. 1. observing, being observed. 2. a comment or remark. 3. the gathering and recording of data about the natural world for scientific analysis.

ob·serv·a·to·ry (ŏb-zur-vă-tohr-ē) n. (pl. -ries) a building designed and equipped for scientific observation of the stars or weather.

ob·serve (ŏb-zurv) v. (ob·served, ob·serv·ing) 1. to see and notice, to watch carefully. 2. to pay attention to (rules etc.). 3. to keep or celebrate, not all countries observe New Year's Day. 4. to remark. 5. to make scientific observations. ob·serv·er n.

ob·ses (ŏb-ses) v. to occupy the thoughts of (a person) continually.

ob·ses·sion (ŏb-sesh-ŏn) n. 1. obsessing, being obsessed. 2. a persistent idea that dominates a person's thoughts. ob·ses·sion·al adj.

ob·ses·sive (ŏb-ses·iv) adj. or of causing or showing obsession. ob·ses·sive·ly adv.

ob·sid·i·an (ŏb-sĭd-i-ăn) n. dark vitreous lava or volcanic rocklike glass.

obsole·scence (ŏb-soh-lez-ĕns) n. the passing out of use or out of fashion. ob·so·les·cence n.

ob·so·lete (ŏb-soh-lĕt, ŏb-soh-lĕt) adj. no longer used, antiquated.

ob·sta·cle (ŏb-stă-kĕl) n. a thing that obstructs progress. ob·stacle·course an athletic or a military training track in which artificial or natural obstacles have to be passed. obstacle·race a race over such a track.

obstet. abbr. obstetrics.

ob·ste·tri·cian (ŏb-stĕ-trish-ăn) n. a specialist in obstetrics.

ob·stet·rics (ŏb-stet·ricks) n. the branch of medicine and surgery that deals with childbirth. ob·stet·ri·cal adj.

ob·sti·nate (ŏb-sti-nit) adj. 1. keeping firmly to one's opinion or to one's chosen course of action, not easily persuaded. 2. not easily overcome, an obstinate cold.

ob·sti·nate·ly adv. ob·sti·na·cy (ŏb-sti-nä-see) n.

ob·struc·tion (ŏb-struk·shŏn) n. 1. obstructing, being obstructive. 2. a thing that obstructs.

ob·struc·tion·ist (ŏb-struk·shŏ-nist) n. a person who seeks to obstruct plans or legislation etc. ob·struc·tion·ism n.

ob·struc·tive (ŏb-struk·tiv) adj. causing or intended to cause obstruction. ob·struc·tive·ly adv. ob·struc·tive·ness n.

ob·tain (ŏb-tayn) v. (ob·tained, ob·taining) 1. to get, to come into possession of (a thing) by effort or as a gift. 2. to be established or in use as a rule or custom, this custom still obtains in some districts. ob·tain·ment n.

ob·tain·able (ŏb·tayn·ə-ble) adj. able to be obtained.

ob·trude (ŏb-trod) v. (ob·trud·ed, ob·trud·ing) 1. to force (oneself or one's ideas) on others. 2. to thrust or push out.

ob·tru·sive (ŏb·troo·siv) adj. obtruding oneself, unpleasantly noticeable. ob·tru·sive·ly adv. ob·tru·sive·ness n.

ob·tu·se (ŏb-toos) adj. 1. of blunt shape, not sharp or pointed. 2. stupid, slow at understanding. ob·tu·se·ly adv. ob·tu·se·ness n. ob·tu·se·angle an angle of more than 90° but less than 180°.

obv. abbr. obverse.

ob·verse (ŏb-vurs) n. 1. the side of a coin or medal etc. that bears the head or the principal design. 2. a counterpart. ob·verse (ŏb-vurs, ŏb-vurs) adj. 1. turned toward the observer. 2. acting as a counterpart. 3. narrower at the base or the point of attachment than at the apex or top. ob·verse·ly adv.

ob·vi·ate (ŏb·vi·ayt) v. (ŏb·vi·at·ed, ŏb·vi·at·ing) to make unnecessary, the bypass obviates the inconvenience of driving through the city. ob-\textit{vi-a\textsuperscript{t}ion} (ob-vi-ay-sh\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{n.}

\textit{ob-vi-o\textsuperscript{u}s} (ob-vi-\textit{\textdegree}s) \textit{adj.} easy to see or recognize or understand. \textit{ob-vi-o\textsuperscript{u}s-ly\textit{ adv.} ob-vi-o\textsuperscript{u}s-ness \textit{n.}

\textit{o-c\textsuperscript{a}-ri-na} (ok-\textit{\textdegree}-ree-n\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{n.} a small egg-shaped terra cotta or metal wind instrument.

OCAS \textit{abbr.} Organization of Central American States.

\textit{occ.\textsuperscript{\textdegree}r. occupation}.

\textit{occas.\textsuperscript{\textdegree}r.} \textit{adj.} 1. occasional. 2. occasionally.

\textit{oc-ca\textsuperscript{\textdegree}s-ion} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kay-zh\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{n.} 1. the time at which a particular event takes place. 2. a special event, \textit{this is \textit{\textdegree} quite an occasion}. 3. a suitable time for doing something, an opportunity. 4. a need or reason or cause, \textit{had no occasion to speak French}. \textit{occasion} \textit{v.} to cause. \textit{\square} \textit{on occasion}, when need arises, occasionally.

\textit{oc-ca\textsuperscript{\textdegree}s-ion-al} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kay-zh\textsuperscript{n}-n\textsuperscript{\textdegree}l) \textit{adj.} 1. happening from time to time but not regularly or frequently, \textit{occasional showers}. 2. used or meant for a special event, \textit{occasional verses}. \textit{oc-ca\textsuperscript{\textdegree}s-ion-al-ly\textit{ adv.}

\textit{\square} \textit{occasional table}, a small table for use as required.

\textit{oc-cl\textsuperscript{\textdegree}dent} (ok-si-d\textsuperscript{\textdegree}nt) \textit{n.} the West as opposed to the Orient.

\textit{oc-cl\textsuperscript{\textdegree}den\textsuperscript{\textdegree}tal} (ok-si-den-t\textsuperscript{\textdegree}l) \textit{adj.} western. \textit{Occidental} \textit{n.} a native of the western world.

\textit{oc-cl\textsuperscript{\textdegree}de\textsuperscript{\textdegree}ue} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kloo-d\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{v.} \textit{(oc-clu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}de\textsuperscript{\textdegree}d, oc-clu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}de\textsuperscript{\textdegree}d-ing)} 1. to stop up, close, obstruct. 2. (in chemistry) to absorb and retain (gases). 3. to meet with opposite surfaces together, as the teeth when the jaws are closed. \textit{oc-clu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}son} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kloo-zh\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{n.}

\textit{oc-clu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}sive} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kloo-siv) \textit{adj.}

\textit{oc-cult\textsuperscript{\textdegree}t} (\textit{os\textdegree}-kult, ok\textsuperscript{\textdegree}lt) \textit{adj.} 1. secret, hidden except from those with more than ordinary knowledge. 2. involving the supernatural, \textit{occult powers}. \textit{\the} \textit{occult}, the world of the supernatural, mystical, or magical.

\textit{oc-cult\textsuperscript{\textdegree}ism} (\textit{o\textdegree}-kul-tiz\textsuperscript{\textdegree}m) \textit{n.} belief in or study of the occult, practicing occult arts. \textit{oc-cult\textsuperscript{\textdegree}ist} \textit{n.}

\textit{oc\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}pant} (ok-yu-p\textsuperscript{\textdegree}nt) \textit{n.} a person occupying a place or dwelling or position. \textit{oc\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}pan\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cy} (ok-yu-p\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n-se\textsuperscript{\textdegree}e) \textit{n.}

\textit{oc\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}pa\textsuperscript{\textdegree}tion} (ok-yu-pay-sh\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n) \textit{n.} 1. occupying, being occupied. 2. taking or holding possession by force, especially of a defeated country or district. 3. an activity that keeps a person busy, one's employment.

\textit{oc\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}pa\textsuperscript{\textdegree}tion-al} (ok-yu-pay-sh\textsuperscript{\textdegree}n-n\textsuperscript{\textdegree}l) \textit{adj.} of or caused by one's occupation. \textit{oc\textsuperscript{\textdegree}cu\textsuperscript{\textdegree}pa\textsuperscript{\textdegree}tion-al-ly\textit{ adv. \textit{occupational hazard}, a risk of accident or illness associated with a certain job. \textit{occu-
Oct. abbr. October.

Octagon (ok-tä-gon) n. a geometric figure with eight sides.

Octagon (ok-tä-gon) n. a figure with eight sides.

Octagonal (ok-tä-gon-al) adj. having eight sides.

Octadrone (ok-tä-hee-drōn) n. (pl. -drons, -dra, pr. -dră) a solid figure with eight faces.

Octane (ok-tān) n. a hydrocarbon compound occurring in motor fuel. High octane gasoline, fuel having a high percentage of a 'certain form of octane and therefore good anti-knock properties.

Octane number, a measure of the anti-knock properties of a gasoline in comparison with those of a fuel taken as standard.

Octave (ok-tāv) n. 1. a note that is eight degrees (counting inclusively) above or below a given note. 2. the interval between these notes. 3. the series of notes filling this.

Octavo (ok-tah-vo) n. (pl. -vos) the size of a book or page given by folding a sheet of standard size three times to form eight leaves.

Octet (ok-tet) n. a group of eight instruments or voices, a musical composition for these.

October (ok-tō-bér) n. the tenth month of the year.

October 1st (ok-tō-r-i-an) n. a person who is in his or her eighties.

October 1st (ok-tō-r-i-an) n. a person of one-eight black ancestry.

Octopus (ok-tō-pūs) n. (pl. -pus-es, -pl, pr. -pi) a sea mollusk with a soft body and eight long tentacles.

Octopus (ok-tō-pūs) n. an offspring of a quadroon and a white, a person of one-eighth black ancestry.

Octosyllabic (ok-tō-sil-lāb-ik) adj. having eight syllables.

Ocular (ok-yū-lār) adj. of or for or by the eyes, visual. Ocular n. an eyepiece.

Ocular list (ok-yū-list) n. 1. an ophthalmologist. 2. an optometrist.

Ode (oh-dee) n. (slang) an overdose of a narcotic. OD v. (OD'd, OD'ing) (slang) to take such an overdose.

Od, O.D. abbr. 1. officer of the day. 2. olive drab. 3. outside diameter. 4. overdraft. 5. overdrawn.

O.D. abbr. Doctor of Optometry.

Odd (od) adj. 1. (of a number) not even, not exactly divisible by two. 2. designated by such a number. 3. belonging to a pair or set or series of which the other member(s) are lacking, found an odd glove; several odd volumes; you’re wearing odd socks, two that do not form a pair. 4. exceeding a round number or amount, keep the odd change; forty odd, between 40 and 50. 5. not regular or habitual or fixed, does odd jobs; at odd moments. 6. unusual, strange, eccentric, an odd sort of person. Oddly adv. Oddness n. Odd man out, a person or thing differing in some way from others of a group.

Oddball (od-bawl) n. (slang) an eccentric person.

Odd-even (od-ee-ven) adj. based on odd and even numbers, we have not seen the last of the odd-even gasoline rationing.

Oddly (od-ly) (od-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. strangeness. 2. an unusual person or thing or event.

Oddments (od-ment) n. something left over, an isolated article.

Odds (odz) n. pl. 1. the probability that a certain thing will happen, this expressed as a ratio, the odds are five to one against throwing a six. 2. the ratio between amounts staked by parties to a bet, gave odds of three to one. At odds with, in disagreement or conflict with.

Oddly (od-ly) (od-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. strangeness. 2. an unusual person or thing or event.

Ode (oh-dee) n. a poem expressing noble feelings, often addressed to a person or celebrating an event.

Odium (oh-di-üm) n. widespread hatred or disgust felt toward a person or his or her actions.

Odometer (oh-dom-e-ter) n. an instrument for measuring the distance traveled by a wheeled vehicle.

Odor (oh-dör) n. a smell. Odorless adj.

Odoriferous (oh-dör-ì-ús) adj. diffusing a usually agreeable scent.

Odoriferous (oh-dör-ì-ús) adj. smelly.

Odyssey (od-i-sey) n. (pl. -seys) a long adventurous journey. Named after the Odyssey, a Greek epic poem telling of the wanderings of the hero Odysseus.

OE, O.E. abbr. Old English.

OED abbr. Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

Oedipal (ed-i-pal, ee-di-) adj. of or relating to the Oedipus complex.

Oedipus (ed-i-pus, ee-di-) complex sexual feelings toward one's parents, involving attraction to the parent of the opposite sex (especially the mother) and jealousy of the other parent. Named after Oedipus in Greek legend, who in ignorance killed his father and married his mother.

oenophile (ee-nō-fil) n. a connoisseur of wines.

o'er (oh-ər) adv. & prep. (poetical) over.

oeuf-vre (uu-vrē) n. (pl. -vres, pr. -vre) the totality of the works of an author, painter, composer, etc.

of (uv, ov) prep. indicating relationships, 1. belonging to or originating from. 2. concerning, told us of his travels. 3. composed or made from, built of brick; a farm of 100 acres. 4. in regard to, with reference to, never heard of it. 5. for or involving or directed toward, love of one's country. 6. so as to bring separation or relief from, cured him of smoking. 7. during, he visits of an evening. 8. owing to, he was proud of his son's accomplishments. 9. connected to or associated with, he's a friend of mine. 10. named, called, or signified as, the state of Oregon. 11. before, she called at five of seven. 12. characterized or identified by, he of the rose tattoo. off itself, by itself or in itself.

It is incorrect to use of in place of have in such phrases as could have been, might have seen.

OF, O.F. abbr. Old French.

off (awf) adv. 1. away, at or to a distance, rode off; is three miles or three years off. 2. out of position, not touching or attached, separate, take the lid off. 3. disconnected, not functioning, no longer obtainable, canceled, turn the gas off; the wedding is off; take the day off, away from work. 4. to the end, completely, so as to be clear, finish it off; sell them off. 5. situated as regards money or supplies, how are you off for cash? off prep. 1. from, away from, not on, fell off a ladder; off duty. 2. abstaining from, not attracted by for the time being, is off his food or off smoking; off form or off his game, not performing as well as usual. 3. leading from, not far from, in a street off Grand Avenue. 4. at sea a short distance from, sank off Cape Horn. 5. at the expense of, by the means provided by, he lived off his capital. off adj. 1. more distant or remote. 2. detached, disconnected, not on, the radio is off. 3. not functioning or continuing, the engine is off. 4. less or fewer, business is off. 5. inferior, below standard; an off day, a day when a person is not at his best. 6. wrong, incorrect, the measurement is off. 7. slight or remote, an off chance. 8. in a particular condition. off v. (slang) 1. to go away. 2. to kill, to murder. off and on, now and then; wavering.

off chance, a remote possibility. off color, not the right color, in bad taste.

off hour, an unusual hour (for a specified activity). off limits, an area forbidden to a specified group. off the wall, (slang) bizarre, foolish. off year, a year in which there are no major elections; a year in which production falls or business slows down.

It is incorrect to write off of in place of off in such phrases as off the bus, off the table.

off. abbr. 1. office. 2. officer. 3. official.

off-fal (aw-fal) n. 1. the parts cut off as waste from a butchered animal. 2. refuse or waste in general.

off-beat (awf-beet) adj. 1. unconventional, unusual. 2. of the unaccented part of a musical bar.

off Broadway (awf brawd-way) low-cost and usually experimental drama staged in New York City theaters outside the Broadway theater district.

off-fend (ə-fend) v. 1. to cause offense or displeasure to. 2. to do wrong, offend against the law. 3. to sin, to act immorally. off-fend'er n.

off-fense (ə-fens) n. 1. breaking of the law, an illegal act. 2. a feeling of annoyance or resentment, give or take offense.

off-fen'sive (ə-fen-siv) adj. 1. causing offense, insulting, offensive remarks. 2. disgusting, repulsive, an offensive smell. 3. used in attacking, aggressive, offensive weapons. offensive n. an aggressive, action or campaign; take the offensive, to begin hostilities. off-fen'sive-ly adv. of-fen'sive-ness n.

off-fer (aw-fər) v. (of-fered, of-fer-ing) 1. to present (a thing) so that it may be accepted or rejected, or considered. 2. to state what one is willing to do or pay or give. 3. to show for sale. 4. to provide, to give opportunity, the job offers prospects of promotion. 5. to show an intention, the dog didn't offer to bark. 6. to present to a deity by way of sacrifice, to give in worship or devotion. offer n. 1. an expression of willingness to give or do or pay something. 2. an amount offered, offers above $500.

off-fer-ing (aw-fər-ing) n. 1. a gift or contribution etc. that is offered. 2. a presentation or gift as an act of religious worship.

off-fer-to-ry (aw-fər-toh-ree) n. (pl. -ries) 1. the act of offering bread and wine for consecration at the Eucharist. 2. money collected in a religious service.

off-hand (awf-hand) adj. 1. without previous thought or preparation. 2. (of behavoffice / off-the-shelf ior etc.) casual or curt and unceremonious. offhand adj. in an offhand way.

off'hand-ed adj. off'hand-ed-ly adv.
off·fice (aw-fis) n. 1. a room or building used as a place of business, especially for clerical and similar work or for a special department, the exchange office. 2. the staff working there. 3. a branch of the U.S. government next in rank below a department, the Office of Management and Budget. 4. a position of authority or trust, the holding of an official position, seek office; be in office, hold such a position. 5. an authorized form of Christian worship, the Office for the Dead. 6. offices, a piece of kindness or a service, through the good offices of his friends; the last offices, ceremonial rites for the dead. □office boy, a youth employed to do minor jobs in a business office. office hours, the hours during which business is regularly conducted. office seeker, a candidate for public office. office worker, a clerk in a business office.

of·fice·hold·er (aw-fis-hohl-dër) n. a person holding a public office.
of·fic·er (aw-fi-sér) n. 1. a person holding a position of authority or trust, an official, customs officers. 2. a person who holds authority in any of the armed services (especially with a commission), merchant marine, or on a passenger ship. 3. a policeman. □officer of the day, the military officer responsible for the guard, inspection, and barracks on an assigned day. officer of the guard, the officer under the orders of the officer of the day who is directly responsible for the guard.
of·fi·cial (ō-fish-əl) adj. 1. of an office or position of authority, in his official capacity. 2. suitable for or characteristic of officials and bureaucracy, official red tape. 3. properly authorized, the news is official. official n. a person holding office. of·fi·cial·ly adv. □Do not confuse official with officious.
of·fi·cial·dom (ō-fish-əl-dōm) n. those people holding public office or engaged in official duties.
of·fi·cial·ese (ō-fish-əl-ēz) n. (informal) the jargon often used by officials, characterized by long words and complicated construction.
of·fi·cial·ism (ō-fish-əl-iz-əm) n. very strict adherence to official systems and routines.
of·fi·ci·ant (ō-fish-ə-ənt) n. a person who performs a priestly office, performs a divine service, etc.
of·fi·ci·ate (ō-fish-ə-ət) v. (of·fi·ci·at·ed, of·fi·ci·at·ing) to act in an official capacity, to be in charge.
of·fi·cial·ous (ō-fish-ə-lus) adj. asserting one's authority, bossy. of·fi·cial·ous·ly adv.
of·fi·cial·ness n. □Do not confuse officious with official.
off·ling (aw-fîng) n. in the offing, in view, not far away in distance or future time.
of·fish (aw-fish) adj. (informal) included to aloofness.
of·fi·key (awf-ke-ə) adj. 1. out of tune. 2. not quite appropriate or normal.
of·line (aw-fîn) adj. & adv. (of computer operations) not on-line, not directly connected to the central processor.
off·load (awf-lohd) v. (informal) to unload.
off·peak (awf-pek) adj. in or used at a time that is less popular or less busy, off-peak electricity.
off·print (awf-print) n. a separately produced reprint of part of a book or magazine.
off·put·ting (awf-puut-ing) adj. (informal) repellent, disconcerting.
off·sea·son (awf-sea-zon) n. the time when business etc. is fairly slack.
off·set (awf-set) n. 1. an offshoot. 2. anything that balances or compensates for or neutralizes etc. something else. 3. a method of printing in which the ink is transferred to a rubber surface and from this to paper. 4. the sloping ledge of a wall where the thickness of the part above is diminished. 5. the bend made in a pipe to carry it past an obstacle. 6. a short distance measured perpendicularly from the main line of measurement in surveying. off·set, off·set·ting v. (off·set, off·set·ting) 1. to counterbalance or compensate for. 2. (in printing) to make an offset. 3. to form an offset in (a wall).
off·shoot (awf-shoot) n. 1. a side shoot. 2. a subsidiary product.
off·shore (awf-shohr) adj. 1. (of wind) blowing from the land toward the sea. 2. at sea some distance from the shore. offshore adv. at a distance from the shore.
off·side (awf-sid) adj. & adv. (of a player or an action in sports) in a position where a play is forbidden by the rules.
off·spring (awf-spring) n. (pl. -spring) 1. the child or children of a particular person or persons. 2. the young of an animal.
off·stage (awf-stayj) adj. & adv. in the wings or behind the stage set of a theater, not seen by the audience.
off·the·record (awf-the-rek-ərd) adj. unofficial, not for publication or quotation.
off·the·shelf (awf-the-shelf) adj. (goods) at hand and ready to be sold.
off-track (awf-trak) adj. of a means of legal betting on horse races other than at the site of the races.

off-white (awf-hwät) adj. white with a gray or yellowish tinge.

oft (awft) adv. (old use) often.

of-ten (aw-f-ên) adv. 1. frequently, many times, at short intervals. 2. in many instances.

of-ten-times (aw-f-ên-timz), oft-times (awf-timz) adv. (old use) often.

• gle (oh-gé) v. to eye flirtatiously.

• gre (oh-gër) n. 1. a cruel or man-eating giant in fairy tales and legends. 2. a terrifying person.

• gress (oh-gris) n. fem.

oh (oh) interj. 1. an expression of surprise or delight or pain. 2. used for emphasis, oh yes I will.

OH abbr. Ohio.

• hi-o (oh-hr-oh) a state of the U.S.

• hi-o-an adj. & n.

ohm (ohm) n. a unit of electrical resistance.

ohm-eter (ohm-mee-tér) n. an instrument for measuring ohms.

• ho (oh-hob) interj. an expression of surprise or exultation.

oil (oil) n. 1. a thick slippery liquid that will not dissolve in water. 2. petroleum.

3. a form of petroleum used as fuel; oil heater, oil lamp, oil stove, domestic appliances using oil as fuel. 4. oil color. 5. (informal) an oil painting. 6. (slang) flattery. oil v. to apply oil to, to lubricate or treat with oil; oiled silk, silk made waterproof by being treated with oil.

oil'er n. oil color, paint, paint made by mixing powdered pigment in oil. oil field, an area where oil is found in the ground or beneath the sea. oil painting, a picture painted in oil colors. oil shale, a shale that yields oil through distillation. oil tanker, a ship with tanks for transporting fuel oil in bulk. oil the wheels, to make things go smoothly by tactful behavior or flattery etc. oil well, a well yielding mineral oil.

oil-can (oil-kan) n. a can with a long nozzle through which oil flows, used for oiling machinery.

oil-cloth (oil-klawth) n. strong fabric treated with oil and used to cover tables etc.

oil-fired (oil-fird) adj. using oil as fuel.

oil-skin (oil-skin) n. 1. cloth waterproofed by treatment with oil. 2. (often oildskins) waterproof clothing made of this.

oil-y (oi-lee) adj. (oil-l'é, oil-l'est) 1. of or like oil, covered in oil, containing much oil. 2. unpleasantly smooth in manner, trying to win favor by flattery.

oil-l'ness n.

oink (oingk) n. the sound made by a pig grunting. oink v. to make such a sound.

ointment (oim-t-mont) n. a thick slippery paste rubbed on the skin to heal roughness or injuries or inflammation etc. or for cosmetic purposes.

O-jib-wa, O-jib-way (oh-jib-way) n. (pl. -was, -wa or ways, -way) 1. a member of an Algonquian Indian tribe living near Lake Superior. 2. the language of this tribe.

OJT abbr. on-the-job training.

OK abbr. Oklahoma.

OK, O.K. (oh-kay) adj. & adv. (informal) all right, satisfactory. OK, O.K. n. (pl. OK's, O.K.'s) (informal) approval, agreement to a plan etc. OK, O.K. v. (OK'd, OK'ing, O.K.'d, O.K.'ing) (informal) to give one's approval or agreement to.

• ka-pl (oh-kah-pee) n. (pl. -pis, -pl) an animal of central Africa, like a giraffe but with a shorter neck and a striped body.

• kay = OK, O.K.

• key-doke (oh-kee-dohk), • key-do-key (oh-kee-kay) adv. (slang) OK.

Oklahoma abbr. Oklahoma.

• kla-ho-ma (oh-kla-ho-ma) a state of the U.S. O-kla-ho'man adj. & n.

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma.

• kra (oh-kra) n. a tropical plant with seed pods that are used as a vegetable.

old (ohld) adj. 1. having lived or existed for a long time; the old, old people. 2. made long ago, used or established or known for a long time. 3. shabby from age or wear. 4. of a particular age, ten years old, a ten-year-old. 5. not recent or modern, in the old days. 6. former, original, in its old place. 7. skilled through long experience, an old hand at negotiating. 8. (informal) used for emphasis in friendly or casual mention, good old Winnie; any old time. old'ness n.

• of old, of or in former times; we know him of old, since long ago. old age, the period of a person's life from about 65 to 70 onward. old boy, (informal) an elderly man, a man or male animal regarded affectionately.

old country, mother country of colonists or immigrants. Old Dominion, the state of Virginia. Old English, the English language from the 5th to the 12th century. Old French, the French language from the 9th to the 16th century. old girl, (used in ways corresponding to old boy). Old Glory, the U.S. flag. old goat, a mean unpopular old man; an aging lecher.

old gold, dull gold color. old guard, the original or past or conservative members of a group.

old hand, a practiced workman, someone with a lot of experience.
olden / omit old hat, (informal) out-of-date, no longer in vogue; commonplace, trite. Old High German, the High German language prior to the 12th century. old lady, (informal) a mother or wife. Old Low German, the German lowland language before the 12th century. old maid, an elderly spinster; an old-maidish person. old man, (informal) one’s employer or manager or husband or father. old master, a great painter of former times (especially 13th–17th centuries in Europe); a painting by such a painter. Old Nick, the Devil. Old Testament, see testament. old wives’ tale, an old but foolish belief. old woman, a fussy or timid man; (informal) a wife. Old World, Europe, Asia, and Africa, as distinct from the Americas. old year, the year just ended or about to end. See the note under elder.

old-en (ohl-dën) adj. (old use) old-time.

old-fash-ioned (ohl-fash-ônd) adj. in a fashion that is no longer in style, having the ways or tastes current in former times. Old Fashioned, a cocktail made of water or soda water, whiskey, bitters, and sugar, and containing slices of citrus fruit.

old-le (ohl-dee) n. (informal) an old person or thing.

old-ish (ohl-dish) adj. fairly old.

old-line (ohl-lin) adj. established, conservative. old’-lin’er n.

old-maid-lish (ohl-may-dish) adj. fussy and prim.

old-stér (ohl-stér) n. an old person.

old-time (ohl-tim) adj. belonging to former times.

old-tim-ér (ohl-tîm-ér) n. (informal) a person with long experience or standing.

olé (oh-lay) n. a shout of approval or encouragement.

olé-ag-i-lous (oh-li-aj-l-nûs) adj. like oil, containing or producing oil.

olé-an-der (ohl-de-an-dûr) n. a poisonous evergreen shrub of warm climates, with red or white or pink flowers.

olé-o (oh-li-oh) n. (informal) oleomargarine.

olé-fac-to-ry (oh-fak-to-ree) adj. concerned with smelling, olfactory organs.

olé-garch (oh-lé-gahrk) n. a member of an oligarchy.

olé-gar-chy (oh-lé-gahr-kee) n. (pl. -chies) 1. a form of government in which power is in the hands of a few people. 2. these people. 3. a country governed in this way. olé-gar-chic (oh-lé-gahr-chik) adj. olé-gar-chi-cal adj.

olé-go-cene (oh-lé-goh-seen) adj. of the middle geologic epoch of the Tertiary period. Oligocene n. the Oligocene epoch.

olé-0 (oh-li-oh) n. (pl. olé-0s) 1. a miscellaneous collection. 2. a stew of meats and vegetables.

olé-ive (ohl-iv) n. 1. a small oval fruit with a hard stone and bitter pulp from which an oil (olive oil) is obtained. 2. the evergreen tree that bears it. 3. a greenish color. olive adj. greenish like an unripe olive or (of the complexion) yellowish brown. olivé branch, something done or offered to show one’s desire to make peace. olive drab, the grayish olive color of U.S. Army uniforms.

olé-vine (ohl-iv-ee) n. magnesium iron silicate, a mineral, usually olive green.

olé-mi-pa (oh-lé-mi-pe-ah) the capital of Washington.

olé-mi-pān (oh-lé-mi-pān) adj. (of manners etc.) majestic and imposing.

olé-mi-pík (oh-lé-mi-pík) adj. of the Olympic Games, athletic and other contests held every fourth year at Olympia in Greece in ancient times and revived since 1896 as international competitions, held each time in a different part of the world.

olé-mi-pics (oh-lé-mi-piks) n. pl. the Olympic Games.

om (awm) n. a word of fulfillment or affirmation, intoned as part of a mantra while meditating.

om-a-ha (oh-mah-ha) n. (pl. -has, -ha) a member of an Indian tribe that migrated from the Ohio River Valley to northeastern Nebraska.

om-a-ni (oh-mah-nee) a country in the Middle East. O-ma-ni (oh-mah-nee) adj. & n. (pl. -nis).

OMB abbr. Office of Management and Budget.

om-buds-man (om-buuds-mân) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mën) an official appointed to investigate individuals’ complaints about maladministration by public authorities.

om-e-ga (oh-mee-ga) n. the twenty-fourth (last) letter of the Greek alphabet (Ω ω).

om-e-let, om-e-lette (om-lit) n. a dish made of beaten eggs cooked in a frying pan, often served folded around a filling.

om-en (oh-mên) n. an event regarded as a prophetic sign.

om-i-cron (om-i-kron) n. the fifteenth letter of the Greek alphabet (Ο ω).

om-i-nous (om-i-nûs) adj. looking or seeming as if trouble is at hand, an ominous silence. omi-nous-ly adv. omi-nous-ness n.

om-i-sion (oh-mish-ôn) n. 1. omitting, being omitted. 2. something that has been omitted or not done.

om-it (oh-mit) v. (o-mit-ted, o-mit-ting) 1. to leave out, not insert or inom·ni·bus (om-ni-būs) n. 1. a bus. 2. a volume containing a number of books or stories. omnibus adj. serving several objects at once, comprising several items.

om·ni·p·o·tent (om-ni-pō-tent) adj. having unlimited power or very great power.

om·ni·p·o·ten·tial (om-ni-pō-ten·tīl) adj. present everywhere at the same time, widely or constantly met with.

om·ni·pres·ence (om-ni-pre̊s-ēns) n.

om·nis·cient (om-ni-sē-ent) adj. knowing everything, having very extensive knowledge. omnis cient·ly adv. omnis cient·ness n.

om·ni·um-gath·er·um (om-ni-ūm-gath·ē-rūm) n. (pl. -ums) a miscellaneous assemblage of persons or things, a strange mixture.

om·ni·v·o·rous (om-ni-vo-rūs) adj. 1. feeding on both plants and animal flesh. 2. (humorous) reading whatever comes one's way.

om·ni·v·o·rous·ly adv. omni·v·o·rous·ness n.

on (on) prep. 1. supported by or attached to or covering, sat on the floor; lives on her pension; got any money on you?, are you carrying any with you? 2. using as a basis or ground or reason etc., was arrested on suspicion; profits on sales. 3. close to, in the direction of, they live on the coast; the army advanced on Paris; on form or on his game, performing at his usual high standard. 4. (of time) exactly at, during, on the next day. 5. in a certain manner or state, on one's best behavior. 6. concerning, engaged with, so as to affect, a book on grammar; on holiday; is on the pill, taking it; the drinks are on me, at my expense. 7. added to, 5¢ on the price of gasoline. on adv. 1. so as to be supported by or attached to or covering something, put the lid on. 2. farther forward, toward something, move on; from that day on; broadside on, with that part forward. 3. with continued movement or action, slept on. 4. in operation or activity, (of a play etc.) being performed or broadcast, (of an actor etc.) performing on the stage, (of gas or water or electric current) running or available or activated, (of an event) due to take place, not canceled, (of an employee) on duty. on adj. 1. turned on, the radio is on. 2. planned for, the party is on.

be on, (informal) to be willing to participate in something; to be practicable or acceptable; you're on!, I accept your proposition or wager. be on to a thing, to notice it or realize its importance.

or keep on it, (informal) to nag. on and off, from time to time, not continually. on high, in or to heaven or a high place.

on to, to a position on (see onto).

once (wuns) adv., conj. & n. 1. on one occasion only, one time or occurrence, once is enough. 2. at all, ever, as soon as, once I can get this job done. 3. formerly, people who once lived here.

at once, see at. once and for all, in a final manner, conclusively. once in a while, from time to time, not often. once more, an additional time. once upon a time, at some vague time in the past.

once·o·ver (wuns-oh-voir) n. (informal) a rapid inspection, give it the once-over.

on·com·ing (on-kum-ing) adj. approaching.

one (wun) adj. single, individual, forming a unity. one n. 1. the smallest whole number (1, 1). 2. a single thing or person. 3. (informal) a joke, do you know the one about the dog that could play poker? 4. (informal) a blow, belted him one.

one pronoun 1. a thing or person, loved ones. 2. any person, the speaker or writer as representing people in general, one doesn't want to seem mean. 3. a thing of the kind referred to, the book is a good one.

one another, each other. one armed bandit, (slang) a slot machine operated by pulling down an armlike handle. one day, at some unspecified date. one too many for, such as to out-wit or baffle (a person).

one-track mind, a mind that can think of only one topic. one up, scoring one point more than an opponent; having an advantage.

one-way street, a street in which traffic may move in one direction only. one-way ticket, a single ticket, not a return.

O·ne·i·da (oh-ni·da) n. (pl. -das, -da) 1. a member of an Indian tribe that used to live in New York. 2. the language of this tribe.

one-lin·er (wun-lin·ner) n. a very brief joke or comical saying.

one-man (wun-man) adj. done or managed by one person, a one-man job.

one·ness (wun-nis) n. 1. being one, singleness. 2. unity, union, agreement, concord.

on·er·ous (on·er·ūs) adj. burdensome.

on·er·ous·ness n.

one·self (wun-self) pronoun corresponding to one (pronoun, definition 2), used in the same ways as himself.

one·sid·ed (wun·sid·ed) adj. (of opinions or judgments) unfair, prejudiced.

one·time (wun·tim) adj. former.

one-to-one (wun·tō·wun) adj. with correspondence of one member of one group to one of another.

one-up-man-ship (wun-up-mán-ship) n. (informal) the art of gaining and maintaining a psychological advantage over others.

on-go-ing (on-goh-ing) adj. continuing to exist or progress.

on-ion (un-yōn) n. a vegetable with an edible rounded bulb that has a strong smell and strong flavor. on‘ion-y adj.

know one’s onions, (slang) to know one’s subject or one’s job thoroughly.

on-ion-skin (un-yōn-skin) n. 1. the outermost or any outer coat of an onion. 2. thin smooth translucent paper.

on-line (on-lin) adj. & adv. operated directly by a computer, directly connected to the central processor.

on-look-er (on-look-ér) n. a spectator.

on-ly (ohn-lee) adj. 1. being the one specimen or all the specimens of a class, sole. 2. most or best worth considering, gliding is the only sport. only adv. 1. without anything or anyone else, and that is all. 2. no longer ago than, saw her only yesterday. only conj. but then, he makes good resolutions only he never keeps them.

only too, extremely, we’ll be only too pleased.

on-o-mat-o-po-e-ia (on-ō-mat-ō-pē-ē-ā) n. formation of words that imitate or suggest what they stand for, as cuckoo, plop, sizzle. on·o·mat·o·po·e·i·cal (on·o·mat·o·po·e·i·cal) adj. on·o·mat·o·po·et·ic (on·o·mat·o·po·et·ic) adj. on·o·mat·o·po·et·i·cal ly adv.

On·on-da-ga (on·on-dah-gā) n. (pl. -gas, -ga) 1. a member of a tribe of Indians of upper New York and Ontario. 2. the language of this tribe.

on-rush (on-rush) n. an onward rush.

on-set (on-set) n. 1. a beginning, the onset of winter. 2. an attack or assault.

on-shore (on-shōhr) adj. (of wind) blowing from the sea toward the land.

on-slaught (on-slawt) adj. a fierce attack. Ont. abbr. Ontario.

On·tar·i·o (on-tair-i-oh) 1. a province of Canada. 2. one of the Great Lakes between Canada and the U.S. on-to (on-to) prep. to a position on. ▶ Note that onto cannot be used where on is an adverb, as in we walked on to the hotel (= continued walking until we reached it). The cat jumped onto the chair (= jumped from the floor to the seat of the chair). Many people prefer not to use onto, and write on to in all cases.

on·to·g·e·ny (on·to·jē-nee) n. the origin and development of an individual organism.

on-tol·o·gy (on-tol-ō-jē) n. the branch of metaphysics dealing with the nature of existence. on·to·log·i·cal (on-to·lō·jik-al) adj.

o·nus (oh-nūs) n. (pl. o·nus·es) the duty or responsibility of doing something; the onus of proof rests with you, you must prove what you say.

on·ward (on-wārd) adj. & adv. with an advancing motion, father on.

on·wards (on-wārdz) adv. farther on.

on·yx (on·iks) n. a stone like marble with different colors in layers.

oo·dies (oo·dēz) n. (informal) a great quantity.

oo·h (oo) interj. an exclamation of surprise or pleasure or pain.

o·lite (oh·līt) n. a rock, especially limestone, made up of rounded grains.

omph (u·māp) n. (slang) 1. attractiveness, especially sex appeal. 2. energy, enthusiasm.

ooze (ooz) v. (oozed, ooze·ing) 1. (of fluid) to trickle or flow out slowly. 2. (of a substance) to exude moisture. 3. to show (a feeling) freely, ooze confidence. ooze n. mud at the bottom of a river or sea. ooze·y adj. ooze·ly ness n.

o·pac·i·ty (oh·pas·i·tē) n. being opaque.

o·pal (oh·pāl) n. an iridescent quartzlike stone often used as a gem.

o·pal·es·cent (oh·pā·les·sent) adj. iridescent like an opal. o·pal·es·cence n.

o·paque (oh·pāk) adj. not clear, not transparent. o·paqu·e·ly adv. o·paque·ness n.

op (op) art optical art, an abstract art form that causes or seeks to cause optical illusions. op·art·ist n.

op. abbr. in the work already quoted. ▶ Latin opere citato.

ope (ohp) v. (oped, op·ing) (old use) to open.

OPEC (oh-pek) n. Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

op·ed (op-ed) page the page in a newspaper opposite the editorial page, usually for signed articles written by contributors.

o·pen (oh·pēn) adj. 1. not closed or blocked up or sealed or locked. 2. not covered or concealed or restricted; an open championship, for which anyone may enter. 3. admitting visitors or customers, the shops are open. 4. spread out, unfolded. 5. with wide spaces between solid parts, open texture. 6. frank, communicative, was quite open about her reasons. 7. not yet settled or decided. 8. available, three courses are open to us. 9. willing to receive, we are open to offers.
open n. 1. the open, open space or country or air. 2. an open championship or competition. open v. 1. to make or become open or more open. 2. to begin or establish, to make a start, open a business or a debate; to open fire, to begin firing. 3. to declare ceremonially to be open to the public. open-ness n.

in the open air, not inside a house or building. open a person's eyes, to make him see the truth or reality. open classroom, a classroom in which students are free to pursue their activities individually. open-heart surgery, surgery with the heart exposed and with blood circulating temporarily through a bypass. open house, hospitality to all comers. open letter, a letter of comment or protest nominally addressed to a person but sent to and printed in a newspaper. open mind, a mind that is unprejudiced or undecided. open question, a matter on which no final verdict has yet been made or on which none is possible. open (faced) sandwich, a slice of bread covered with a layer of meat or cheese etc. open secret, one known to so many people that it is no longer a secret. open sesame, see sesame. open shop, an establishment in which one can work without belonging to a labor union. with open arms, with an enthusiastic welcome.

open-air (oh-pen-air) adj. taking place in the open air.

open-and-shut (oh-pen-ahn-shut) adj. (informal) perfectly straightforward.

open-ended (oh-pen-en-did) adj. with no fixed limit, an open-ended contract.

open'er (oh-pen-nar) n. 1. a person or thing that opens something. 2. a device for opening cans or bottles. 3. openers, cards entitling the holder to open the betting in poker etc. for openers, (informal) to begin with, for a start.

open-handed (oh-pen-han-did) adj. generous in giving. open-handed'ly adv. open-handed'ness n.

open-ing (oh-pen-ning) n. 1. a space or gap, a place where something opens. 2. the beginning of something. 3. an opportunity.

open-ly (oh-pen-lee) adv. without concealment, publicly, frankly.

open-minded (oh-pen-min-did) adj. with an open mind, unprejudiced. open-minded'ness n.

open-work (oh-pen-wurk) n. a pattern with spaces between threads or strips of metal etc. open-work'd (oh-pen-wurk't) adj.

opera (op-er-a) n. 1. a play in which the words are sung to a musical accompaniment. 2. dramatic works of this kind. opera n. pl. see opus. Opera glasses, small binoculars for use at the opera or theater.

opera•ble (op-er-a-bul) adj. 1. able to be operated. 2. able to be treated by surgical operation. opera•bly adv. opera•bil•i•ty (op-er-a-bil-i-tee) n.

opera•te (op-er-a-tay) v. (opera-tay-ed, opera-tay-ing) 1. to be in action, to produce an effect, the new tax operates to our advantage. 2. to control the functioning of, he operates the crane. 3. to perform a surgical or other operation on.

opera•ting•theater, a room for surgical operations.

opera•tion (op-er-a-shun) n. 1. operating, being operated. 2. the way a thing works. 3. a piece of work, something to be done, begin operations. 4. strategic military activities in war or during maneuvers. 5. an act performed by a surgeon, on any part of the body, to take away or deal with a diseased or injured or deformed part. 6. (in mathematics) the subtraction of a number or quantity or function to a process affecting its value or form, such as multiplication or division.

opera•tion•al (op-er-a-shun-ol) adj. 1. of or engaged in or used in operations. 2. able to function, is the system operational yet?

opera•tive (op-er-a-tive) adj. 1. having an effect, working or functioning. 2. of surgical operations. operative n. 1. a spy or secret agent. 2. an artisan or skilled workman who operates a machine. opera-tive•ly adv.

opera•tor (op-er-a-tor) n. 1. a person who operates a machine or engages in business or runs a business etc. 2. one who makes connections of lines at a telephone exchange. 3. (slang) one who earns a living through clever persuasion and speculation and the avoidance of restrictions and regulations.

opera•ta•ta (op-er-a-tay-tay) n. a short or light opera.

opht•al•mic (of-thal-mik) adj. of or for the eyes.

opht•al•mol•o•gist (of-thal-mol-oh-jist) n. a specialist in ophthalmology.

opht•al•mol•o•gy (of-thal-mol-oh-je) n. the scientific study of the eye and its diseases.

opht•al•mo•scope (of-thal-mo-skohp) n. an instrument for examining the retina and other parts of the eye.

opist•ate (oh-pee-it) n. 1. a sedative drug opine / option containing opium. 2. a thing that soothes the feelings or dulls activity.

opine (oh-pin) v. (o-pined, o-pining) to express or hold the opinion (that).

opin-ion (oh-pi-ni-on) n. 1. a belief or judgment that is held firmly but without actual proof of its truth, a view held as probable. 2. what one thinks on a particular point, public opinion. 3. a judgment or comment given by an expert who is consulted. 4. an estimate, have a low opinion of him.

opinionated (oh-pi-ni-nya-tid) adj. having strong opinions and holding them obstinately.

opium (oh-pi-um) n. a drug made from the juice of certain poppies, smoked or chewed as a stimulant or narcotic, and used in medicine as a sedative.

opossum (oh-pus-sum) n. a small furry American marsupial that lives in trees.

opposed. 2. opposite.

opponent (oh-poh-nent) n. a person or group opposing another in a contest or war.

oppression (op-tres) n. 1. to govern harshly, to treat with continual cruelty or injustice. 2. to weigh down with cares or unhappiness. op-pres'sor n. op-pres'sion (op-tres-on) n.

oppressive (op-pres-iv) adj. 1. oppressing. 2. difficult to endure. 3. (of weather) sultry and tiring. op-pres'sive-ly adv.

oppressions (op-pres-sions) n. adj. or (of words etc.) showing scorn or reproach, abusive. op-pro-bri-ous-ly adv.

oppressive (op-pres-iv) adj. 1. great disgrace brought by shameful conduct. 2. the cause of such disgrace.

opt (opt) v. to make a choice. opt out, to choose not to participate.

optical. 2. optician. 3. optics. 4. optional.

op-ti-cal (op-ti-cal) adj.

op-ti-cian (op-ti-kian) n. a maker or seller of eyeglasses and other optical equipment.

op-tics (op-tiks) n. the scientific study of sight and of light as its medium.

optical art, optical illusion, an involuntary mental misinterpretation of something seen, caused by its deceptive appearance. optical scanner, a photoelectric instrument that converts written or printed matter into machine-readable form.

optical nerve, the nerve of sight between the optic centers of the brain and the eye.

opti-cal (op-ti-cal) adj. 1. of the sense of sight. 2. aiding sight; optical instruments, telescopes etc.

optics (op-tics) n.

opti-mal (op-ti-mal) adj. optimum. op-ti-mal-ly adv.

opti-mism (op-ti-miz-em) n. a tendency to take a hopeful view of things, or to expect that results will be good.

opti-mist n.

opti-mism-tic (op-ti-miz-tik) adj. showing optimism, hopeful. op-ti-mis-tical-ly adv.

opti-mum (op-ti-mum) n. (pl. -mams, -mums) the best or most favorable conditions or amount etc. optimum adj. best, most favorable.

option (op-shon) n. 1. freedom to choose, had no option but to go. 2. a thing that is or may be chosen, none of the options is satisfactory. 3. the right to buy or sell something at a certain price within a limited time, we have ten days' option on order / organic

ord•er (or•dër) n. 1. the way in which things are placed in relation to one another. 2. a proper or customary sequence. 3. a condition in which every part or unit is in its right place or in a normal or efficient state, in good working order; out of order. 4. the condition brought about by good and firm government and obedience to the laws, law and order. 5. a system of rules or procedure. 6. a command, an instruction given with authority, custody by order of the court. 7. a request to supply goods, the goods themselves. 8. a written direction (especially to a bank or post office) to pay money, or giving authority to do something, a postal money order. 9. a rank or class in society, the lower orders. 10. a kind or sort or quality, showed course of the highest order. 11. a monastic organization or institution, the Franciscan Order. 12. orders = holy orders (see below). 13. a company of people to which distinguished people are admitted as an honor or reward, the insignia worn by its members, the Order of the Garter. 14. a style of ancient Greek or Roman architecture distinguished by the type of column used, there are five classical orders. 15. a group of plants or animals classified as similar in many ways. 16. a serving of food as ordered in a restaurant, an order of ham and eggs. order v. 1. to put in order, to arrange methodically. 2. to issue a command, to command that something shall be done. 3. to give an order for (goods etc.), to tell a waiter to serve (certain food). □ holy orders, see holy, in order to or that, with the intention that, with the purpose of. in short order, quickly. made to order, made according to the buyer's instructions. on order, (of goods) ordered but not yet received. order about, to keep on giving commands to. order book, a book in which a tradesman enters orders. order form, a form to be filled in by a customer ordering goods.

ord•er•ly (or•der•lee) adj. 1. well arranged, in good order, tidy. 2. methodical, an orderly mind. 3. obedient to discipline, well behaved, an orderly crowd. orderly n. 1. a soldier in attendance on an officer to assist him or take messages etc. 2. an attendant in a hospital. or'der•li•ness n. □ orderly room, a room where business is conducted in a military barracks.

or•di•nal (or•di•nål) n. any of the ordinal numbers, the numbers defining a thing's position in a series (such as first, fifth, twentieth).

or•di•nance (or•di•näns) n. a rule made by authority, a decree. □ Do not confuse ordnance with ordinance.

or•di•nar•y (or•di•ner•ee) adj. usual, customary, not exceptional. or'di•nar•i•ness n. or'di•nar•i•ly (or•di•ner•i•lee) adv. □ in the ordinary way, if the circumstances were not exceptional. ordinary seaman, one ranking lower than an able seaman.

or•di•nate (or•di•nit) n. the straight line from any point drawn parallel to one coordinate axis and meeting the other.

or•di•na•tion (or•di•nä•shän) n. ordaining or being ordained as a clergyman.

ord•nance (ord•nåns) n. 1. military supplies, especially weapons and their equipment and ammunition. 2. cannon, artillery. □ Do not confuse ordnance with ordinance.

Or•do•vi•cian (or•dö•vish•än) adj. of the geologic period of the Paleozoic before the Silurian and after the Cambrian. Ordovician n. the Ordovician period.

or•dure (or•jür) n. excrement, dung.

ore (ohr) n. solid rock or mineral, found in the earth's crust, from which metal or other useful or valuable substances can be extracted, iron ore.

o•reg•a•no (o•reg•ä•noh) n. a dried wild marjoram used as a seasoning.

Or•e•gon (or•ë•gon) a state of the U.S. Or•e•go•n•al•an adj. & n.

org. abbr. 1. organic. 2. organization. 3. organized.

or•gan (or•gän) n. 1. a musical instrument consisting of pipes that sound notes when air is forced through them, played by keys pressed with the fingers and pedals pressed with the feet. 2. a distinct part of an animal or plant body, adapted for a particular function, digestive organs; organs of speech. 3. a medium of communication (such as a newspaper) giving the views of a particular group. □ organ bank, a supply of human body organs kept frozen for the purposes of transplant and research.

or•gan•dy, or•gan•die (or•gän•dee) n. a kind of fine translucent usually stiffened cotton fabric.

or•gan•ic (or•gän•ik) adj. 1. of or affecting an organ or organs of the body, organic diseases. 2. of or formed from living things, organic matter. 3. (of food etc.) produced without the use of artificial fertilizers or pesticides. 4. organized or arranged as a system of related parts, the business forms an organic whole. or•gan•i•cal•ly adv. □ organic chemistry, chemistry of carbon compounds, which are present in all living matter and in substances derived from it.

*organ*ism (or-gâ-niz-ém) n. a living being, an individual animal or plant. *or*gan*is*mic (or-gâ-niz-mik) adj. or*gan*is*mal adj.

*or*gan*ist (or-gâ-nist) n. a person who plays the organ.

*or*ga*ni*za*tion (or-gâ-ni-zay-shôn) n. 1. organizing, being organized. 2. an organized body of people, an organized system. *or*ga*ni*za*tion*al adj. □*or*gan*iza*tion*al man, a man who regards the needs of the company he serves as taking priority over his own needs and those of other people.

*or*gan*ize (or-gâ-niz) v. (or-gâ-nized, or-gan*iz*ing) 1. to arrange in an orderly or systematic way. 2. to make arrangements for, organize a picnic. 3. to form (people) into an association for a common purpose. or*gan*iz*er n.

*or*gan*za (or-gan-zâ) n. thin stiff transparent fabric of silk or synthetic fiber.

*or*gasm (or-gaz-ém) n. the climax of sexual excitement. or*ga*sm*ic (or-gaz-mik) adj. or*gas*tic (or-gas-tik) adj.

*org*as*tic adj.

*org*y (or-jee) n. (pl. -gles) 1. a wild drunken party or revelry. 2. great indulgence in one or more activities, an orgy of spending.

*or*i*el (ohr-i-îl) n. a kind of projecting window in an upper story, usually supported on corbels.

*or*i*ent (ohr-i-înt) v. 1. to place or determine the position of (a thing) with regard to the points of a compass. 2. to face or be directed (toward a certain direction). 3. to acquaint (a person) with a new environment, orient the new students. *or*ien*ta*tion (ohr-i-în-tay-shôn) n. □orient oneself, to get one’s bearings; to become accustomed to a new situation.

*Ori*ent n. the East, countries east of the Mediterranean, especially East Asia.

*or*i*en*tal (ohr-i-în-tal) adj. of the Orient, of the eastern or Asian world or its civilization. *Ori*ental n. a native of the Orient. □*ori*en*tal rug, a highly prized rug or carpet made by hand in the Orient, usually in Asia, and which achieves the status of an antique after it is one hundred years old.

*or*i*en*tate (ohr-i-în-tayt) v. (or*i*en*tat*ed, or*i*en*tat*ing) to orient. □Careful writers use orient rather than orientate.

*or*i*en*teer*ing (ohr-i-în-teer-ing) n. the sport of finding one’s way on foot across rough country by map and compass.

*or*i*fic (or-i-fis) n. the opening of a cavity etc.

*or*ig. abbr. 1. origin. 2. original. 3. originally.

*or*gi*al (ohr-i-gal) adj. 1. the Japanese art of folding paper into intricate designs. 2. (pl. -mis) an object made in this way.

*or*gi*n (or-i-jin) n. 1. the point or source to which a thing begins its existence. 2. a person’s ancestry or parentage, a man of humble origin. 3. a fixed point from which coordinates are measured.

*or*gi*nal (ôr-gî-nàl) adj. 1. existing from the first, earliest. 2. being a thing from which a copy or translation has been made. 3. firsthand, not imitative, new in character or design. 4. thinking or acting for oneself, inventive, creative, an original mind. *ori*ginal n. 1. the first form of something. 2. the thing from which a copy may be made. or*gi*nal*ly adv. or*gi*nal*ly (ôr-gî-nal*î-tee) n. □original sin, the condition of wickedness thought to be common to all mankind since Adam’s sin.

*or*gi*nate (ôr-gî-nàt) v. (ôr-gî-nat*ed, or-gî-nat*ing) 1. to give origin to, to cause to begin. 2. to have origin, to begin, the quarrel originated in rivalry; from what country did the custom originate? or*gi*nate (ôr-gî-nat*or) n. or*gi*nation (ôr-gî-nay-shôn) n.

*or*gi*ole (ohr-i-îhl) n. 1. an Old World bird of which the male has black and yellow plumage. 2. any of various North American songbirds of which the male has bright yellow or orange and black plumage.

*or*gi*on (oh-rr-în) n. a brilliant constellation on the equator shaped as a hunter with a belt and a sword.

*or*li*son (or-i-zôn) n. (old use) a prayer.

*or*lon (or-lôn) n. (trademark) a lightweight synthetic acrylic textile fiber.

*or*mo*lu (or-mô-lû) n. 1. gilded bronze or a gold-colored alloy of copper, used in decorating furniture. 2. articles made of or decorated with this.

*or*na*ment (ôr-nà-men) n. 1. a decorative object or detail. 2. decoration, adornment, this is for use, not only for ornament. 3. a person or thing that adds distinction, he is an ornament to his profession. *or*na*ment v. to decorate, to be an ornament to.

*or*na*ment*al (ôr-nà-men-tal) adj. serving as an ornament.

*or*na*ment*ation (ôr-nà-men-tay} ornate / ostracize

-šōn) n. an adornment, something that beautifies.

or·nate (or-nət) adj. elaborately ornamented. or·nate·ly adv. or·nate·ness n.

or·ner·y (or-nər-ē) adj. (informal) cantankerous, coarse, unpleasant.

ornith. abbr. 1. ornithological. 2. entomological.

or·ni·thol·og·ist (or-ni-thol-ə-jist) n. an expert in ornithology.

or·ni·thol·o·gy (or-ni-thol-ə-jē) n. the scientific study of birds. or·ni·tho·log·i·cal adj.

or·o·g·eny (ōr-ō-jē-nē) n. the process of the formation of mountains.

or·o·ge·nic (ōr-ō-jē-nik) adj.

or·to·tund (ōr-tō-tund) adj. with full voice, imposing, dignified, pompous.

or·to·tun·di·ty (ōr-tō-tun-di-τē) n.

• Do not confuse ortotund with rotund.

or·phan (or-fān) n. a child whose parents are dead. or·phan v. to make (a child) an orphan.

or·phan·age (or-fā-nij) n. an institution where orphans are housed and cared for.

or·ris (or-is) n. a kind of iris that has a fragrant root (orrisroot) which is dried for use in perfumery and medicine.

or·tho·don·tia (or-thō-don-shē-ə) n. orthodontics.

or·tho·don·tics (or-thō-don-tiks) n. the branch of dentistry dealing with the correction of irregularities in the teeth and jaws. or·tho·don·tic adj.

or·tho·don·tist (or-thō-don-tist) n. a specialist in orthodontics.

or·tho·do·x (or-thō-doks) adj. of or holding correct or conventional or currently accepted beliefs, especially in religion; or·thodox Jews, those who follow traditional observances strictly. or·tho·do·x·y n.

Orthodox Church, the Eastern or Greek Church (recognizing the Patriarch of Constantinople as its head), and the national churches of Russia, Rumania, etc. in communion with it.

or·tho·e·py (or-thō-ē-pē) n. the science of the proper pronunciation of words.

or·tho·e·pis·tic n.

or·thog·ra·phy (or-thō-gra-fe) n. 1. correct or conventional spelling. 2. a perspective projection used in maps or elevations. or·tho·graph·ic (or-thō-graf-ik) adj.

or·tho·pe·dics (or-thō-pē-diks) n. the branch of medicine dealing with the correction of deformities in bones or muscles. or·tho·pe·dic adj.

or·tho·pe·dist (or-thō-pē-dist) n. a specialist in orthopedics.

or·to·lan (or-tō-lān) n. a small European bird frequenting gardens and esteemed as a table delicacy.

Os symbol osmium.

OS, O.S. abbr. ordinary seaman.

O·sage (oh-sayj) n. (pl. -sages, -sage) 1. a member of an Indian tribe formerly occupying territory in Ohio. 2. the language of this tribe.

O·sce·l·late (ō-sil·ət·ed) v. (ō-sil·lat·ed, -sil·lat·ed) 1. to move to and fro like a pendulum. 2. to vary between extremes of opinion or condition etc. 3. to fluctuate between high and low values.

O·sce·l·la·tor (ō-sil·ə-tor) n. O·sce·l·la·tion (ō-sil·ə-tay·shən) n. O·sce·l·la·to·ry (ō-sil·ə-tōr·ē) adj.

O·sce·l·lo·scope (ō-sil·ə-skōp) n. a device for viewing oscillations, usually on a fluorescent screen. O·sce·l·lo·sco·pic (ō-sil·ə-skōp·ik) adj. O·sce·l·lo·sco·pi·cal·ly adv.

O·scu·late (ō-skə·lat) v. (ō-cu·lat·ed, -cu·lat·ed) to kiss.

O·si·er (oh-zēr) n. 1. a kind of willow with flexible twigs used in basketwork. 2. a twig from this.

O·sto·lo (ōz-loh, -lo) the capital of Norway.

O·stens·sion (ō-sten-sl·shən) n. (ō-sten-sl-bel) adj.

O·sto·to·my (ō-stō-to-mi) n. the cutting through bone, muscle, or other tissue to establish communication between partitions of the body.

O·stens·il·lous adj. O·stens·il·ly adv.

O·sto·tac·tion (ō-stō-tak·shən) n. 1. a showy display intended to impress people. O·sto·ta·tious adj. O·sto·ta·tious·ly adv.

O·ste·o·path (ō-stē-ō-pāth) n. a practitioner who treats certain diseases and abnormalities by manipulating bones and muscles. O·ste·o·path·ic (ō-stē-ō-pāth·ik) adj. O·ste·o·path·ic·al·ly adv.
os· tra· ciz· ing) to refuse to associate with, to cast out from a group or from society. os· tra· cli· sm (os-trá-siz-ém) n.

os· trich (os-trich) n. 1. a swift-running African bird that cannot fly, said to bury its head in the sand when pursued, in the belief that it then cannot be seen. 2. a person who refuses to face facts.

OT abbr. 1. Old Testament. 2. overtime.

OTB abbr. offtrack betting.

OTC abbr. over-the-counter.

oth· er (uth· ēr) adj. 1. alternative, additional, being the remaining one or set of two or more, has no other income; try the other shoe; my other friends. 2. not the same, wouldn't want her to be other than she is. other n. & pronoun the other one, the other person or thing, where are the others? other adv. otherwise. □ other world, the future life; some imagined world. the other day or week etc., a few days or weeks etc. ago.

oth· er· wise (uth· ēr-wiz) adv. 1. in a different way, could not have done otherwise. 2. in other respects, is otherwise correct. 3. if circumstances were different, or else, write it down, otherwise you'll forget. otherwise adj. in a different state, not as supposed, the truth is quite otherwise.

oth· er· world· ly (uth· ēr-world· lee) adv. concerned with the future life or some imagined world to the neglect of the present or real one. oth· er· world· li· ness n.

o· ti· ose (oh-shi-ohs) adj. not required, serving no practical purpose.

o· to· lar· yn· gol· o· gist (oh· toh· lar· ing· gol· ô· jist) n. an expert in otolaryngology.

o· to· lar· yn· gol· o· gy (oh· toh· lar· ing· gol· ô· jee) n. the branch of medicine concerned with the ear, nose, and throat.

Ot· ta· wa1 (ot· a· wá) the capital of Canada.

Ottawa2 n. (pl. -was, -wa) 1. a member of a tribe of Indians in Michigan and southern Ontario. 2. the language of this tribe.

ot· ter (ot· ēr) n. a fish-eating water mammal with webbed feet, a flat tail, and thick brown fur.

ot· to· man (ot· ó· mán) n. (pl. -mans) 1. a long cushioned seat without back or arms. 2. an upholstered footstool. 3. a heavy fabric of silk with cotton or wool. 4. Ottoman, a Turk, especially a subject of the former Turkish empire (14th c.–1918). Ottoman adj. of Turkey, especially its former empire.

Oua· ga· dou· gou (wah· gá· dou· go) the capital of Upper Volta.

ou· bil· ette (oo· blee· et) n. a secret dun-geon with entrance only by a trapdoor at the top.

ouch (owch) interj. an exclamation of sudden pain or annoyance.

ought (awt) auxiliary verb expressing duty or rightness or advisability or strong probability. oughtn't = ought not.

Oul· ja (wee· jah, -jee) n. (trademark) a device consisting of a board on which words, letters of the alphabet, and various signs, numbers, and symbols are written, used with a movable pointer in an attempt to obtain messages in spiritualistic seances.

ounce (owns) n. 1. a unit of weight equal to one sixteenth of a pound (about 28 grams). 2. one twelfth of a pound (about 31 grams) in apothecaries' weight, also called a troy ounce. 3. a fluid ounce (see fluid).

our (owr) adj. of or belonging to us.

ours (owrz) possessive pronoun belonging to us, the thing(s) belonging to us, ours was disqualified. □ It is incorrect to write our's (see the note under its).

our· selves (ahr· sel· vz, owr-) pronoun corresponding to we and us, used in the same ways as himself.

-ous suffix used to form adjectives meaning abounding in, characterized by, or of the nature of, as envious, mountainous.

oust (owst) v. to drive out, to eject from office or a position or employment etc.

ou· st· er (ow· stér) n. an expulsion or ejection, a wrongful dispossession.

out (owt) adv. 1. away from or not in a place, not in its normal or usual state, not at home; the tide is out, is low. 2. not in effective or favorable action, no longer in fashion or in office, (in baseball etc.) having had one's batters or runners retired, (of workers) on strike, (of a light or fire etc.) no longer burning. 3. away from the center or inside, the wall juts out. 4. no longer visible, paint it out. 5. not possible, skating is out until the ice thickens. 6. unconscious. 7. into the open, into existence or hearing or view etc., visible, revealed, the sun is out; the secret is out; the flowers are out, opened, no longer in bud. 8. to or at an end, completely, tired out; sold out. 9. in a finished form, type it out. 10. (in radio conversations) transmission ends. out adj. 1. located away or at a distance, an out island. 2. (in baseball) not successful in reaching base. out prep. out of.

out n. 1. a way of escape. 2. a person or thing that is out. 3. a baseball play that retires a batter or base runner. out interj. get out. out v. to become known, murder will out. □ be on the outs with; (informal) to be alienated from (another person). be out to, to be acting with the intention of, is out to cause trouble. out box, a box for documents, letters, etc. that have been dealt with and are to be taken elsewhere. out of, from within or among; beyond the range of; so as to be without a supply of; (of an animal) having as its dam. out of bounds, see bounds. out of date, no longer fashionable or current or valid, this passport is out of date. out of doors, in the open air. out of the way, no longer an obstacle; remote; unusual. out of this world, incredibly good, indescribable. out of work, having no work; unable to find paid employment. out with it, let us eject or dismiss (a person). out with it, say what you are thinking. out- prefix more than, so as to exceed, as in outbid, outgrow, out-talk.

out-age (owt-ij) n. a period during which a power supply is not operating.

out-and-out (owt-än-owt) adj. thorough, extreme.

out-back (owt-bak) n. (Australian) remote inland districts.

out-bal-ance (owt-bal-åns) v. (out-bal-anced, out-bal-anc-ing) to outweigh.

out-bid (owt-bid) v. (out-bid, out-bid-ding) to bid higher than (another person).

out-board (owt-bohrd) adj. (of a motor) placed or attached to the outside of the stern of a boat or near the end of an airplane wing.

out-bound (owt-bownd) adj. outward bound.

out-break (owt-brayk) n. a breaking out of anger or war or a disease etc.

out-build-ing (owt-bil-ding) n. a building (such as a shed or barn etc.) belonging to but separate from a house.

out-burst (owt-burst) n. a bursting out of anger or laughter etc.

out-cast (owt-kast) n. a person who has been driven out of a group or rejected by society.

out-class (owt-klas) v. to surpass greatly.

out-come (owt-kum) n. the result or effect of an event etc.

out-crop (owt-krop) n. 1. part of an underlying layer of rock that projects on the surface of the ground. 2. a breaking out.

out-cry (owt-kri) n. (pl. -cries) 1. a loud cry. 2. a strong protest.

out-dat-ed (owt-day-tid) adj. out of date.

out-dis-tance (owt-dis-tåns) v. (out-dis-tanced, out-dis-tanc-ing) to get far ahead of (a person) in a race etc.

out-do (ownt-doo) v. (ownt-did, out-done, out-do-ing) to do better than (another person).

out-door (ownt-dohr) adj. 1. of or for use in the open air. 2. enjoying open-air activities, she's not an outdoor type.

out-doors (ownt-dohrz) adv. in or to the open air. □ the outdoors, the world outside buildings, the open air.

out-doors-man (ownt-dohrz-mån) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a man who enjoys being in the open air.

out-draw (ownt-draw) v. (ownt-drew, out-drawn, out-draw ing) 1. to ready one's firearm for discharge faster than (one's competitor or opponent). 2. to attract more spectators than (another performer).

out-er (ownt-ær) adj. farther from the center or from the inside, exterior, external. □ outer space, the universe beyond Earth's atmosphere.

out-er-most (ownt-ær-moшt) adj. farthest outward, most remote.

out-er-wear (ownt-ær-wair) n. garments worn over other clothes.

out-face (ownt-fays) v. (ownt-faced, out-fac-ing) to disinconcert (a person) by one's defiant or confident manner.

out-field (ownt-field) n. 1. the outer part of a baseball field. 2. the players (left fielder, center fielder and right fielder) who play the outfield. out-field-er n.

out-flight (ownt-frit) v. (ownt-fought, out-flight-ing) to surpass in flying.

out-fitt (ownt-fit) n. 1. complete equipment or a set of things for a purpose. 2. a set of clothes to be worn together. 3. (informal) an organization, a group of people regarded as a unit. outfit v. (ownt-fit-ted, out-fit-ting) to supply with equipment.

out-fitter (ownt-fit-ær) n. a supplier of equipment or of men's clothing.

out-flank (ownt-flangk) v. to get around the flank of (an enemy).

out-flow (ownt-fløh) n. an outward flow, the amount that flows out.

out-fox (ownt-foks) v. to outwit.

out-go (ownt-goh) n. (pl. -goes) an expenditure, the money paid out.

out-go-ing (ownt-goh-ing) adj. 1. going out. 2. sociable and friendly.

out-grow (ownt-groh) v. (ownt-grew, out-grow, out-grow-ing) 1. to grow faster than. 2. to grow out of (clothes or habits).

out-growth (ownt-grohth) n. 1. something that grows out of another thing. 2. a natural development, an effect.

out-guess (ownt-ges) v. to guess correctly what is intended by (another person).

out-gun (ownt-gun) v. (ownt-gunned, out-gun-ning) to surpass in power of guns.
outhouse (ownt-hows) n. (pl. -hous-eds, pr. -how-ziz) an outdoor toilet.

outing (ownt-ting) n. a pleasure trip, an airing.

outlandish (ownt-lang-dish) adj. looking or sounding strange or foreign. outlandishly adv. outlandishness n.

outlast (ownt-last) v. to last longer than.

outlaw (ownt-law) n. 1. (in the Middle Ages) a person who was punished by being placed outside the protection of the law. 2. a person living as a fugitive. outlaw v. 1. to make (a person) an outlaw. 2. to declare to be illegal. outlawry n.

outlay (ownt-lay) n. what is spent on something.

outlet (ownt-lit) n. 1. a way out for water or steam etc. 2. a means or occasion for giving vent to one's feelings or energies. 3. a market for goods. 4. a point in an electrical wiring system at which current may be drawn by inserting a plug.

outline (ownt-lin) n. 1. a line or lines showing the shape or boundary of something. 2. a statement or summary of the chief facts about something. 3. a sketch containing lines but no shading. outline v. (ownt-lined, ownt-lin-ing) to draw or describe in outline, to mark the outline of.

outlive (ownt-liv) v. (ownt-lived, ownt-liv-ing) to live longer than.

outlook (ownt-luuk) n. 1. a view on which one looks out, a pleasant outlook over the lake. 2. a person's mental attitude or way of looking at something. 3. future prospects.

outlying (ownt-lit-ing) adj. situated far from a center, remote.

outma neuver (ownt-mä-noo-verb) v. to outdo in maneuvering.

outmoded (ownt-moh-did) adj. no longer fashionable.

outmost (ownt-mohst) adj. 1. outermost. 2. uttermost.

outnumber (ownt-num-bur) v. to exceed in number.

out-of-date (ownt-owt-dayt) adj. no longer current, not valid, obsolete.

out-of-town (ownt-owt-tow-n) n. (informal) a visitor from another city or town.

outpace (ownt-pays) v. (ownt-paced, ownt-pac-ing) to go faster than.

outpatient (ownt-pa-tent) n. a person who visits a hospital for treatment but does not remain there.

outperform (ownt-per-form) v. to perform better than.

outplay (ownt-play) v. to surpass in playing.

outpoint (ownt-point) v. to score more points than.

outpost (ownt-pohst) n. 1. a detachment of troops stationed at a distance from the main army. 2. any distant branch or settlement.

outpouring (ownt-pohr-ing) n. 1. what is poured out. 2. a spoken or written expression of emotion.

output (ownt-puut) n. 1. the amount produced. 2. the electrical power produced by a machine. 3. the work done by a computer, especially the transmission of information from an internal computer unit to an external one or to an outside device. output v. (ownt-puut-ed or ownt-put, ownt-put-ing) to produce as output.

outrage (ownt-rayj) n. 1. an act that shocks public opinion. 2. strong resentment (at). 3. an injury or insult. outrage v. (ownt-raged, ownt-rag-ing) 1. to commit an outrage against, to shock and anger greatly. 2. to rape.

outrageous (ownt-ray-jus) adj. greatly exceeding what is moderate or reasonable, shocking. outrageously adv. outrageousness n.

outrank (ownt-rangk) v. to be of higher rank than.

outré (oo-tray) adj. outside the bounds of what is usual or proper. D-French.

outrach (ownt-reech) v. 1. to reach farther than, to surpass. 2. to stretch out (an arm etc.). outreach program, a program run by a social or government agency or a church etc. to help people in a community.

outrider (ownt-re-der) n. a mounted attendant or a motorcyclist riding as guard with a carriage or procession.

outrigger (ownt-ri-gur) n. 1. a beam or spar or structure projecting from the side of a ship for various purposes. 2. a strip of wood fixed parallel to a canoe by struts projecting from it, to give stability. 3. a boat with either of these.

outright (ownt-ri-t) adv. 1. completely, entirely, not gradually; bought the house outright, by a single payment. 2. openly, frankly, told him outright. outright adj. thorough, complete, an outright fraud.

outrightness n.

outrun (ownt-run) v. (ownt-ran, ownt-run, ownt-run-ning) 1. to run faster or farther than. 2. to go beyond (a specified point or limit). 3. to flee or escape from.

outsell (ownt-sell) v. (ownt-sold, ownt-sell-ing) to sell or be sold in greater quantities than.

outset (ownt-set) n. the beginning, from the outset of his career.

outshine (ownt-sharn) v. (ownt-shone, out-shining) v. to outshine.
outsight (owt-sid, owt-sid) n. 1. the outer side of a surface or part. 2. the exterior, the utmost extent or limit, the space beyond. outside adj. 1. of or coming from the outside; her outside interests, interests other than work or household. 2. negligible, remote, an outside chance. 3. greatest possible, the outside price. 4. not belonging to some circle or institution. outside adv. on or at or to the outside, outside prep. 1. on the outer side of, at or to the outside of, other than, has no interests outside his work; outside an hour, for longer than this. 2. beyond the limits of. 3. with the exception of. □ at the outside, (of amounts) at most. outside of, external to, not included in, beyond the limits of, other than, not in.

outsider (owt-sid-er) n. 1. a nonmember of a certain group or profession. 2. a horse or person thought to have no chance in a race or competition for which he has been entered.

outsized (owt-siz), outsized (owt-siztd) adj. much larger than average.

outskirt (owt-skurts) n. pl. the outer districts or outlying parts, especially of a town.

outrank (owt-rank) v. (informal) to outwit.

outspoken (owt-spo-kên) adj. speaking or spoken without reserve, very frank. outspoken ness n.

outspread (owt-spread) adj. spread out.

outstanding (owt-stan-ding) adj. 1. conspicuous. 2. exceptionally good. 3. not yet paid or settled, some of his debts are still outstanding. outstanding ly adv.

outstation (owt-stay-shôn) n. a station at a distance from headquarters or from populous areas.

outstay (owt-stay) v. to stay longer than.

outstretched (owt-strech) adj. stretched out.

outstrip (owt-strip) v. (out-stripped, out-striped, out-striped) 1. to outrun. 2. to surpass.

outvote (owt-vôt) v. (out-vot-ed, out-vot-ing) to defeat by a majority of votes.

outward (owt-wärd) adj. & adv. 1. situated on the outside. 2. going toward the outside. 3. in one's expression or actions etc. as distinct from in one's mind or spirit.

outwardly (owt-wärd-lee) adv. on the outside.

outward (owt-wärdz) adv. toward the outside.

outwear (owt-wair) v. (out-wore, out-worn, out-wear-ing) 1. to wear or endure longer than. 2. to wear out, to exhaust.

outweigh (owt-way) v. to be greater in weight or importance or significance than.

outright (owt-wit) v. (out-wit-ted, out-wit-ting) to get the better of (a person) by one's cleverness or craftiness.

outwork (owt-wurk) n. an advanced or detached part of a fortification. outwork (owt-wurk) v. to work faster or harder than.

outrank (owt-wohrn) adj. worn out, damaged by wear.

ouzo (oo-zoh) n. a Greek liquor flavored with aniseed.

outside. [other] outside. [ovum.

oval (oh-val) n. a rounded symmetrical shape longer than it is broad. oval adj. having this shape. □ the Oval Office, the White House office in which the U.S. President conducts official business.

oval-shaped (oh-val-shôned) adj. oval.

oval-shaped (oh-val) adj. shaped like an egg as a solid or in outline, oval.

outstanding (oh-vay-shôn) n. enthusiastic applause.

over (oh-ver) adv. 1. with movement outward and downward from the brink or from an upright position. 2. with movement from one side to the other or so that a different side is showing. 3. across a street or other space or distance, is over here from England. 4. so as to cover or touch a whole surface, the lake froze over; brush it over. 5. with transference or change from one hand or one side or one owner etc. to another, went over to the enemy; hand it over; over to you, I await your action. 6. (in radio conversation) it is your turn to transmit. 7. besides, in addition or excess. 8. with repetition, ten times over. 9. thoroughly, with detailed consideration, think it over. 10. at an end, the battle is over. over adj. 1. upper. 2. higher. 3. superior. 4. covering. 5. remaining. 6. ended. over prep. 1. in or to a position higher than. 2. above and across, so as to clear. 3. throughout the length or extent of, during, over the years; stayed over the weekend. 4. so as to visit or examine all parts, looked over the house; went over the plan again. 5. transmitted by, heard it over the radio. 6. while engaged with, we can talk over dinner. 7. concerning, quarreled over money. 8. more than, it's over a mile away. 9. in superiority or preference to, their victory over Yale. □over and above, besides. over and over, so that the same point comes uppermost repeatedly; repeated many times.

over- prefix above, as in overlay; too much, excessively, as in overanxiety, overanxious.

o·ver·a·bun·dance (oh-ver-ä-bun-däns) n. an excess over what is desirable or suitable. o'ver·a·bun·dant adj.

o·ver·act (oh-ver-akt) v. to act one's part in an exaggerated manner.

o·ver·ac·tive (oh-ver-akt-iv) adj. too active.

o·ver·age1 (oh-ver-ayj) adj. of more than the normal age.

o·ver·age2 (oh-ver-rij) n. a surplus of goods, especially a larger quantity of merchandise than has been recorded as having been shipped or stored.

o·ver·ag·gre·sive (oh-ver-ä-gres-iv) adj. too aggressive.

o·ver·all (oh-ver-awl) adj. 1. including everything, total. 2. taking all aspects into account. overall (oh-ver-awl) adv. in all parts, taken as a whole.

o·ver·alls (oh-ver-awlz) n. pl. a one-piece garment covering body and legs, worn as protective clothing.

o·ver·anx·i·ous (oh-ver-ang-shus) adj. too anxious.

o·ver·arm (oh-ver-ahrm) adj. 1. performed with the arm above the shoulder. 2. (in swimming) with the arm lifted out of the water and stretched forward beyond the head.

o·ver·awe (oh-ver-aw) v. (o·ver·awed, o·ver·aw·ing) to overcome with awe.

o·ver·bal·ance (oh-ver-bal-äns) v. (o-ver-bal·anced, o·ver·bal·anc·ing) to lose balance and fall over, to cause to do this.

o·ver·bear (oh-ver-bair) v. (o·ver·bore, o·ver·borne, o·ver·bear·ing) 1. to bear down or upset by weight or force. 2. to put down or repress by power or authority. 3. to surpass in importance etc., to overpower.

o·ver·bear·ing (oh-ver-bair·ing) adj. domineering. o·ver·bear·ing·ly adv.

o·ver·bid (oh-ver-bid) v. (o·ver·bid, o·ver·bid·ding) 1. to make a higher bid than. 2. (in bridge) to make a bid higher than the cards in one's hand justifying.

o·ver·blown (oh-ver-blohn) adj. 1. exces- sively pompous or pretentious. 2. rather stout. 3. (of a flower etc.) too fully open, past its prime.

o·ver·board (oh-ver-bohrd) adv. from within a ship into the water. □go overboard, (informal) to be very enthusiastic. throw overboard, to abandon, to discard.

o·ver·bold (oh-ver-bold) adj. more bold than is suitable, rash.

o·ver·book (oh-ver-buuk) v. to book too many passengers or visitors for (an aircraft flight or a hotel etc.).

o·ver·bur·den (oh-ver-bur·dän) v. to burden excessively.

o·ver·buy (oh-ver-buy) v. (o·ver·bought, o·ver·buy·ing) to buy more than is needed.

o·ver·care·ful (oh-ver-kair·ful) adj. excessively careful.

o·ver·cast (oh-ver-kast) adj. (of the sky) covered with cloud. overcast v. (o·ver·cast, o·ver·cast·ing) to stitch over (an edge) to prevent it from fraying.

o·ver·cau·tious (oh-ver-kaw-shus) adj. more cautious than the circumstances warrant.

o·ver·charge (oh-ver-chahjr) v. (o·ver·charged, o·ver·charg·ing) 1. to charge too high a price. 2. to fill too full. overcharge (oh-ver-chahjr) n. an excessive charge, usually of money.

o·ver·cloud (oh-ver-kloud) v. to make obscure, to cover as with clouds or gloominess etc.

o·ver·coat (oh-ver-koh) n. a warm outdoor coat.

o·ver·come (oh-ver-kum) v. (o·ver·came, o·ver·come, o·ver·com·ing) 1. to win a victory over, to succeed in subduing. 2. to be victorious. 3. to make helpless, to deprive of proper control of oneself, overcome by gas fumes or by grief. 4. to find a way of dealing with (a problem etc.).

o·ver·com·pen·sate (oh-ver-kom·pen·sät) v. (o·ver·com·pen·sat·ed, o·ver·com·pen·sat·ing) to correct in an exaggerated manner a real or fancied character defect.

o·ver·con·fi·dent (oh-ver-kon·fi·dënt) adj. too confident. o·ver·con·fi·den·ce n.

o·ver·con·sci·en·tious (oh-ver-kon·shi·en·shus) adj. too painstaking and careful.

o·ver·cooked (oh-ver-kwik) adj. cooked for an excessive length of time.

o·ver·crit·i·cal (oh-ver·krit·i·kal) adj. too inclined to find fault.

o·ver·crowd (oh-ver-krowd) v. to crowd too many people into (a place or vehicle etc.).

over-do (oh-ver-doo) v. (over-did, over-done, over-do-ing) 1. to do (a thing) excessively. 2. to cook (food) too long. overdo it or things, to work too hard; to exaggerate.

over-dose (oh-ver-dohs) n. too large a dose of a drug etc.

over-draft (oh-ver-draft) n. overdrawing of a bank account, the amount by which an account is overdrawn.

over-draw (oh-ver-draw) v. (over-drew, over-drawn, over-draw-ling) to draw more from (a bank account) than the amount credited; be overdrawn, to have done this.

over-dress (oh-ver-dres) v. 1. to dress with too much display or formality, she was overdressed for the party. 2. to dress too warmly for the weather. over-dressed adj.

over-drive (oh-ver-driv) n. mechanism providing an extra gear above the normal top gear in a vehicle.

over-due (oh-ver-doo) adj. not paid or arrived etc. by the due or expected time.

over-ea-ger (oh-ver-eeg-er) adj. unduly eager.

over-eat (oh-ver-eet) v. (over-ate, over-eat-en, over-eat-ing) to eat too much.

over-ed-u-cat-ed (oh-ver-ee-juu-kay-tid) adj. educated too much for one's position.

over-em-pha-sis (oh-ver-em-fah-sis) n. too much stress or importance.

over-em-pha-size (oh-ver-em-fah-siz) v. (over-em-pha-sized, over-em-pha-siz-ing) 1. to put too much stress on (a word etc.). 2. to give too much prominence to (a fact or idea).

over-ex-cite (oh-ver-ik-sit) v. (over-ex-cit-ed, over-ex-cit-ing) to excite excessively.

over-ex-ert (oh-ver-ig-zurt) v. to exert too much.

over-ex-pose (oh-ver-ik-sposh) v. (over-ex-posed, over-ex-pos- ing) to expose for too long. over-ex-po- sure (oh-ver-ik-sposh-zhur) n.

over-ex-tend (oh-ver-ik-stend) v. 1. to extend too much. 2. to commit (oneself) excessively in financial obligations.

over-feed (oh-ver-feed) v. (over-fed, over-feed-ing) to feed too much.

over-fill (oh-ver-fil) v. to fill too full or to overflowing.

over-flow (oh-ver-flo) v. 1. to flow over (the edge or limits or banks etc.). 2. (of a crowd) to spread beyond the limits of (a room etc.). overflow (oh-ver-flo) n. 1. what overflows. 2. an outlet for excess liquid.

over-fly (oh-ver-fl) v. (over-flew, over-flown, over-fly-ing) to fly over (a place or territory). over-flight (oh-ver-flit) n.

over-fond (oh-ver-fond) adj. having too great an affection or liking.

over-full (oh-ver-fuil) adj. overfilled, too full.

over-gener-ous (oh-ver-jen-ers) adj. excessively generous.

over-glaze (oh-ver-glaz) n. a second glaze applied to pottery. over-glaze (oh-ver-glazed, over-glaz-ing) to apply a glaze or overglaze to.

over-graze (oh-ver-grayz) v. (over- grazed, over-graz-ing) to graze (land) to excess.

over-grown (oh-ver-grohn) adj. 1. having grown too large. 2. covered with weeds etc.

over-hand (oh-ver-hand) adj. & adv. = overarm.

over-hang (oh-ver-hang) v. (over- hung, over-hang-ing) 1. to jut out over. 2. to impend, to hang threateningly over. overhang (oh-ver-hang) n. 1. an overhanging part, such as a projection or an upper part of a building beyond the lower part. 2. the extent of such a projection.

over-hast-y (oh-ver-hay-stee) adj. unduly hasty. over-hast'ly adv.

over-hast'ness n.

over-haul (oh-ver-haw) v. 1. to examine and make any necessary repairs or changes. 2. to take over. overhaul (oh-ver-haw) n. an examination and repair etc.

over-head (oh-ver-hed) adj. & adv. above the level of one's head, in the sky. overhead n. the expenses involved in running a business. overhead adj. of or relating to business costs.

over-hear (oh-ver-heer) v. (over- heard, pr. -hurd, over-hear-ing, pr. -heer-ing) to hear accidentally or without the speaker's knowledge or intention.

over-heat (oh-ver-heet) v. to make or become too hot.

over-in-dulge (oh-ver-in-dulj) v. (over-in-dulged, over-in-dulg- ing) 1. to gratify the wishes of (a person) excessively. 2. to consume or enjoy an excessive amount.

over-in-dulgence (oh-ver-in-ful-jens) n. 1. overindulgence. 2. being overindulgent. 3. overconsumption, especially of food or drink. over-in-dul'gent adj.
overinsure / override overinsure (oh-ver-in-shoor) v. to insure for an excessive amount.

overjoyed (oh-ver-joid) adj. filled with very great joy.

overkill (oh-ver-kil) n. a surplus of power above what is needed to defeat an opponent or destroy an enemy.

overland (oh-ver-land) adj. & adv. by land, not by sea.

overlap (oh-ver-lap) v. (over-lapped, over-lapping) 1. to extend beyond the edge of (a thing) and partly cover it. 2. to coincide partially, our holidays overlap.

overlaid, (oh-ver-lay) it. the power overlaid, (over-insured, over-paid, over-paying) to pay too highly.

over-play (oh-ver-play) v. to play a theatrical role with exaggeration. overplay one's hand, to take unjustified risks by overestimating one's strength.

over-pop-u-lat-ed (oh-ver-pop-yu-lay-tid) adj. (of an area) having more people than can be supported by the resources.

over-pop-u-lation (oh-ver-pop-yu-lay-shon) n.

over-power (oh-ver-pow-er) 1. to overcome by greater strength or numbers. 2. to be too intense for, to overwhelm.

over-power-ing (oh-ver-pow-er-ing) adj. (of heat or feelings) extremely intense.

over-praise (oh-ver-prayz) v. to praise too highly.

over-price (oh-ver-pris) v. (over-priced, over-pricing) to price too highly.

over-print (oh-ver-print) v. 1. to print (a photograph) darker than was intended. 2. to print too many copies of (a book etc.). 3. to print further matter on (an already printed surface, especially a postage stamp).

over-pro-duce (oh-ver-pro-doos) v. (over-produced, over-producing) to produce more of (a commodity) than is wanted.

over-pro-dution (oh-ver-pro duk-shon) n. the producing of too much, an amount that has been produced in excess of demand.

over-pro-tec-tive (oh-ver-pro-tek-tiv) adj. supplying more protection than is warranted.

over-proud (oh-ver-prowd) adj. too proud.

over-qual-i-fied (oh-ver-kwol-i-fid) adj. with more experience or education than a job requires.

over-rate (oh-ver-rayt) v. (over-rated, over-rating) 1. to have too high an opinion of. 2. to assess the taxes of (a place) too highly.

over-reach (oh-ver-reech) v. overreach oneself, to fail through being too ambitious. over-reach'er n.

over-act (oh-ver-ri-akt) v. to respond more strongly than is justified.

over-ride (oh-ver-ri-akt) v. to respond more strongly than is justified.

purchasable without a doctor's prescription.

overthrow (o-ver-throh) v. (o-ver-threw, o-ver-thrown, o-ver-throwing) 1. to cause the downfall of. overthrow the government. 2. to throw over or past. 3. to upset or knock down. overthrow (oh-ver-throh) n. downfall, defeat.

over time (oh-ver-tim) n. 1. time worked beyond regular working hours. 2. payment for this. o-ver-time adj. & adv.

over tired (oh-ver-trird) adj. fatigued to the point of exhaustion.

over tone (oh-ver-tohn) n. 1. an additional quality or implication, overtones of malice in his comments. 2. one of the higher tones adding fullness to a musical sound.

over top (oh-ver-top) v. (o-ver-topped, o-ver-top-ping) to be or become higher than, to surpass.

over trick (oh-ver-trik) n. a trick taken in excess of one's contract in the game of bridge.

over ture (oh-ver-chür) n. 1. an orchestral composition forming a prelude to an opera or ballet etc. 2. a composition resembling this. 3. overtures, a friendly approach showing willingness to begin negotiations, a formal proposal or offer.

over turn (oh-ver-turn) v. 1. to turn over, to cause to turn over. 2. to overthrow, to abolish or invalidate.

over use (oh-ver-yooz) v. (o-ver-used, o-ver-us-ing) to use excessively. over use (oh-ver-yoos) n. too much use.

over value (oh-ver-val-yoo) v. (o-ver-val-ued, o-ver-val-u-ing) to put too high a value on.

view (oh-ver-vyoo) n. a general survey.

overween ing (oh-ver-wee-ning) adj. 1. arrogant, presumptuous. 2. excessive.

over weight (oh-ver-wa-yt) adj. weighing more than is normal or required or permissible.

over whelm (oh-ver-hwel-m) v. 1. to bury or drown beneath a huge mass. 2. to overcome completely, especially by force of numbers. 3. to make helpless with emotion.

over whelm ing (oh-ver-hwel-ming) adj. irresistible through force of numbers or amount of influence etc.

over wind (oh-ver-wind) v. (o-ver-wound, pr. -wound, o-ver-wind-ing) to wind (a watch etc.) beyond the proper stopping point.

over work (oh-ver-wurk) v. 1. to work or cause to work so hard that one becomes exhausted. 2. to make excessive use of, an overworked phrase. over work (oh-ver-wurk) n. excessive work causing exhaustion.

over wrought (oh-ver-rawt) adj. in a state of nervous agitation through over-excitement.

over zeal ous (oh-ver-zel-ūs) adj. too zealous.

vi duct (oh-vi-dukt) n. one of a pair of canals through which the eggs pass from an ovary to the exterior.

vi p a ous (oh-vip-ə-rous) adj. producing young by means of eggs expelled from the body before they are hatched.

vi p ar ous ly adv. o-vi-par-i-ty (oh-vi-par-i-tie) n.

void (oh-void) adj. egg-shaped, oval.

ovoid n. an ovoid shape or mass.

vu late (ov-yū-layt) v. (o-vu-lat-ed, o-vu-lat-ing) to produce or discharge an ovum from an ovary. o-vu-lation (ov-yū-lay-shon) n.

vule (oh-vyool) n. 1. a small part in a plant's ovary that develops into a seed when fertilized. 2. an unfertilized ovum.

vum (oh-vüm) n. (pl. o-vu, pr. oh-vä) a female egg cell capable of developing into a new individual when fertilized by male sperm.

ow (ow) interj. an exclamation of surprise or pain.

owe (oh) v. (owed, ow-ing) 1. to be under an obligation to pay or repay (money etc.) in return for what one has received, to be in debt. 2. to have a duty to render, owe allegiance to the flag. 3. to feel (gratitude etc.) toward another in return for a service. 4. to have (a thing) as a result of the work or action of another person or cause, we owe this discovery to Newton; he owes his success to luck.

owing (oh-ing) adj. owed and not yet paid. owing to, caused by; because of.

owl (owl) n. a bird of prey with a large head, large eyes, and a hooked beak, usually flying at night.

owl et (ow-lit) n. a small or young owl.

owl-ish (ow-lish) adj. like an owl. ow lish ly adv.

own 1 (ohn) adj. belonging to oneself or itself. get one's own back, (informal) to have one's revenge. hold one's own, to succeed in holding one's position; not lose strength. of one's own, belonging to oneself exclusively.

of one's own, alone; independently.

own 2 v. 1. to have as one's property, to possess. 2. to acknowledge that one is the author or possessor or father etc. of. 3. to confess, she owns to having said it. own pronoun the one or ones belonging to oneself. own up, (informal) to confess, to admit that one is guilty.
owner / ozonosphere owner (oh-nér) n. a person who owns something as his property. owner·ship n.

owner-less (oh-nér-lis) adj. having no owner or no known owner.

ox (oks) n. (pl. ox·en) an adult castrated bull.

ox·al·ic (ok-sal-ik) acid a sour poisonous acid found in certain plants, used for cleaning and bleaching.

ox·blood (oks-blud) n. a deep dull red color.

ox·bow (oks-boh) n. 1. the U-shaped collar of an ox yoke. 2. a horseshoe bend in a river.

ox·bridge (oks-brij) n. the universities of Oxford and Cambridge in England, as distinct from newer (redbrick) universities.

ox·eye (oks-i) n. any of several daisy-like flowers with a large center from which petals radiate, oxeye daisy.

ox·ford (oks-ford) n. a low shoe laced over the instep.

ox·i·dant (ok-si-dant) n. an oxidizing agent.

ox·i·da·tion (ok-si-day-shon) n. the process of combining or causing to combine with oxygen.

ox·ide (ok-sid) n. a compound of oxygen and one other element.

ox·i·dize (ok-si-diz) v. (ox·i·dized, ox·i·diz·ing) 1. to combine or cause to combine with oxygen. 2. to coat with an oxide. 3. to make or become rusty.

ox·i·diz·er n. ox·i·diz·a·ble adj.

ox·tail (oks-tayl) n. the tail of an ox, used to make soup or stew.

ox·y·a·ce·ty·lene (ok-si-ä-set-ë-leen) adj. using a mixture of oxygen and acetylene, especially in the cutting and welding of metals.

ox·y·gen (ok-si-jën) n. a colorless odorless tasteless gas existing in air and combining with hydrogen to form water. □ oxygen tent, a tentlike covering permitting an ill person to breathe air with increased oxygen content.

ox·y·gen·ate (ok-si-jë-nayt) v. (ox·y·gen·at·ed, ox·y·gen·at·ing) to supply or treat or mix with oxygen.

ox·y·gen·a·tion (ok-si-jë-nay-shon) n.

ox·y·mo·ron (oks-i-moh-rön) n. (pl. -mo·ræ, pr. -moh-ræ) a figure of speech combining seemingly contradictory expressions, as faith unfaithful kept him falsely true.

ox·y·to·cin (ok-si-tob-sin) n. a hormone controlling contractions of the womb, used in synthetic form to induce labor in childbirth.

oys·ter (oi-stër) n. a kind of shellfish used as food, some types of which produce pearls inside their shells. oys·ter·ing n. oys·ter·man n. □ oyster cracker, a small salted cracker usually served with oyster stew or soup.

oz, oz. abbr. ounce(s). □ oz. ap., ounce apothecary’s. oz. av., ounce avoirdupois.

o·zone (oh-zohn) n. 1. a form of oxygen with a sharp smell. 2. (humorous) invigorating air at the seaside.

o·zo·no·sphere (oh-zoh-no-sfeer) n. the atmospheric region about 25 miles above Earth, characterized by a high ozone content.
P, p (pee) (pl. Ps, P’s, p’s) the sixteenth letter of the alphabet.
P symbol phosphorus.

pa (pah) n. (informal) father.
Pa symbol protactinium.
PA abbr. Pennsylvania.
p.a. abbr. per annum.
P.A. abbr. 1. power of attorney. 2. press agent. 3. public address. 4. purchasing agent.

pab-y-lum (pab-yú-lúm) n. 1. a soft food. 2. food for thought.
Pac. abbr. Pacific.
pace1 (pays) n. 1. a single step made in walking or running. 2. the distance passed in this. 3. a style of walking or running (especially of horses). 4. speed in walking or running. 5. the rate of progress in some activity. pace v. (paced, pac-ing) 1. to walk with a slow or regular pace. 2. to walk to and fro across (a room etc.). 3. to measure by pacing, pace it out. 4. to set the pace for (a runner etc.). Keep pace, to advance at an equal rate. put a person through his paces, to test his ability. stand the pace, to be able to keep up with others.

pa-ce2 (pay-see) prep. although (a named person) may not agree. ≠ Latin, = with the permission of.
pace-mak-er (pays-may-kér) n. 1. a runner etc. who sets the pace for another. 2. an electrical device placed under the skin to stimulate contractions of the heart.
pace-r (pay-sér) n. 1. a pacing horse in harness racing. 2. a pacemaker.
piece-set-ter (pays-set-ér) n. a person who sets the standard for achievement.

pa-chi-kō (pá-ching-koh) n. the Japanese form of pinball.

pa-chi-co (pá-choo-koh) n. a member of a street gang. pa-chu’ca n. fem.
pach-y-derm (pak-i-durm) n. a thick-skinned animal, especially an elephant or rhinoceros.
pach-y-san-dra (pak-i-san-drā) n. a low-growing evergreen plant, used as ground cover.
pa-clif-ic (pá-sif-ik) adj. peaceful, making or loving peace. pa-clif‘i-cal-ly adv.
Pa-clif-ic (pá-sif-ik) adj. of or characteristic of the Pacific Ocean or the regions bordering on it. Pacific n. the Pacific Ocean. ■ Pacific Ocean, the ocean lying between the Americas and Asia/Australia.

pac-i-fi-er (pas-i-fr-ér) n. a person or thing that pacifies. 2. a rubber or plastic nipple, we gave the baby its pacifier.
pac-i-fi-st (pas-i-fist) n. a person who totally opposes war, believing that disputes should be settled by peaceful means.
pac-i-fis-m n. pac-i-fis-tic (pas-i-fis-tik) adj.

pac-i-fi-ty (pas-i-fr-t) v. (pac-i-fled, pac-i-fi-ning) 1. to calm and make quiet. 2. to establish peace in. pac-i-fi-ca-tion (pas-i-fr-ká-shn) n.
pack1 (pak) n. 1. a collection of things wrapped or tied together for carrying. 2. a set of things packed for selling. 3. a complete set of playing cards (usually fifty-two). 4. a group of hounds or wolves etc. 5. a gang of people, an organized group of Cub Scouts or Brownies. 6. a large amount or collection, a pack of lies. 7. an absorbent material to be applied to the body or a wound. pack v. 1. to put (things) into a container for transport or storing or for marketing, to fill with things in this way. 2. to be able to be packed, this dress packs easily. 3. to cram or press or crowd together into, to fill (a space) in this way; the hall was packed, was very crowded. 4. to cover or protect (a thing) with something pressed tightly on or in or around it. pack‘er n. Pack a gun, (slang) to carry a pistol or revolver. pack a punch, (slang) to be capable of delivering a powerful blow.
pack ice, large crowded floating pieces of ice in the sea. packing case, a wooden case or framework for packing goods in. pack it in, (slang) to cease doing something; to eat in great amounts. pack off, to send (a person) away. pack rat, a large hoarding rodent; (slang) a hoarder of miscellaneous useless items. pack up, to put one's things together in readiness for departing or ceasing work. send packing, to dismiss abruptly.

pack² v. to select (a jury etc.) fraudulently so that its decision will be in one's favor; the President tried to pack the court, add justices favorable to his policies.

pack-age (pak-ij) n. 1. a parcel. 2. a box etc. in which goods are packed. 3. a package deal. package v. (pack-aged, pack-ag-ing) 1. to put together in a package. 2. to wrap or box, especially in an attractive way to improve sales. □ package deal, a number of proposals offered or accepted as a whole. package store, a liquor store. package vacation or tour, one with set arrangements at an inclusive price.

pack·et (pak-it) n. 1. a small package. 2. a boat that carries mail and cargo following a regular schedule on a set route.

pack·horse (pak-hors) n. a horse for carrying packs.

pack·ing (pak-ing) n. 1. the work of a packer. 2. a substance used to fill gaps in order to protect or cushion what is packed. 3. oil-absorbing material closing a joint or assisting in lubrication of a piston etc.

pack·ing·house (pak-ing-hows) n. (pl. -houses-es, pr. -how-ziz) 1. a slaughterhouse. 2. an establishment for canning or freezing fruits and vegetables for sale.

pack·sad·le (pak-sad-el) n. a saddle adapted for supporting packs and rider.

pack·thread (pak-thred) n. a stout thread for sewing or tying up packs.

pact (pakt) n. an agreement, a treaty.

pad¹ (pad) n. 1. a flat cushion, a piece of soft material used to protect against jarring or to add bulk or to hold or absorb fluid etc., or used for rubbing. 2. a padded protection for the leg and ankle in certain games. 3. a set of sheets of writing paper or drawing paper fastened together at one edge. 4. the soft fleshy underpart of the foot of certain animals. 5. a flat surface from which spacecraft are launched or helicopters take off. 6. (slang) a lodging. pad v. (pad-ded, pad-dling) 1. to put a pad or pads on or into. 2. to stuff. 3. to fill (a book or speech etc.) with unnecessary material in order to lengthen it. □ padded cell, a room with padded walls in a mental hospital etc.

pad² v. (pad-ded, pad-dling) to walk, especially with a soft dull steady sound of steps.

pad·ding (pad-ing) n. material used to pad things.

pad·dle¹ (pad-əl) n. 1. a short oar with a broad blade, used without an oarlock. 2. an instrument shaped like this for beating, stirring, etc. 3. a table tennis racket. 4. one of the boards on a paddle wheel. paddle v. (pad-dled, pad-dling) 1. to propel by using a paddle or paddles. 2. to row gently. □ paddle one's own canoe, to be independent.

paddle wheel, a wheel with boards around its rim that drive a boat by pressing against the water as the wheel revolves.

paddle² v. (pad-died, pad-dling) to paddle (the feet or hands) gently in water.

pad·dock (pad-ək) n. 1. a small field where horses are kept. 2. an enclosure at a racetrack where horses are saddled before a race.

pad·dy (pad-ə) n. (pl. -dies) a field where rice is grown.

paddy wagon (slang) a police van for prisoners.

pad·lock (pad-əlk) n. a detachable lock with a U-shaped bar that fastens through the loop of a staple or ring. padlock v. to fasten with a padlock.

pa·dre (pa-dray) n. 1. the form of address for a priest in Spain, Latin America, Italy, etc. (= father). 2. (informal) a priest or other clergyman. 3. (informal) a chaplain in the armed forces.

pae·an (pee-ən) a song of praise or triumph.

pa·el·la (pa-ay-lə, -ay-yə) n. a Spanish dish of rice, chicken, seafood, etc., cooked and served in a large shallow pan.

pa·gan (pay-gən) adj. heathen. pagan n. a heathen. pa-gan·ism n.

page¹ (payj) n. 1. a leaf in a book or newspaper etc. 2. one side of this. page v. (paged, pag·ing) 1. to number the pages of (a book). 2. to leaf through (a book).

page² n. a uniformed boy or man employed to go on errands, deliver messages, etc. page v. (paged, pag·ing) to summon (a person) by sending a page or by calling his name until he is found.

page·eant (pa·jənt) n. a public show consisting of a procession of people in costume, or a performance of a historical play, page·eant·ry n.

page·boy (payj·boi) n. 1. a page (see page²) 2. a boy employed as a personal attendant of a person of rank.
paginate | pat al i nate (payj-l-nayt) v. (payj-l-nat ed, payj-l-nat-ing) to number the pages (of a book).

paginate | pa gi ne at i on (payj-l-nay-shon) n. the numbering or ordering of the pages of a book.

paint | p a g o da (pah-goh-dah) n. a Hindu temple shaped like a pyramid, or a Buddhist tower with several stories, in India and countries of the Far East.

paint | paid (payd) see pay. paid adj. receiving money in exchange for goods or services, a paid assistant; paid vacation, during which normal wages continue to be paid.

paint | pall (payl) n. a bucket. pallful (payl-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls).

paint | pain (payn) n. 1. an unpleasant feeling caused by injury or disease of the body. 2. mental suffering. 3. (old use) punishment, pains and penalties; on or under pain of death, with the threat of this punishment. 4. pains, careful effort, trouble taken, take pains with the work. pain v. to cause pain to. □ a pain in the neck, (informal) an annoying or tiresome person or thing.

paint | pained (paynd) adj. distressed or annoyed, a pained look. □Do not confuse pained with painful.

paint | painful (paynful) adj. 1. causing pain, a painful condition. 2. (of a part of the body) suffering pain. 3. causing trouble or difficulty, laborious, a painful performance. painful-ly adv. painful-ness n. □Do not confuse painful with pained.

paint | painless (payn-less) adj. not causing pain. painless-ly adv. painless-ness n.

paint | painless-take-ling (paynless-tay-king) adj. careful, useful or done with great care and effort.

paint | paint (paynt) n. 1. coloring matter for applying in liquid form to a surface. 2. paints, a collection of tubes or cakes of paint. paint v. 1. to coat or decorate with paint. 2. to make a picture or portray by using paint(s). 3. to describe vividly; he's not as black as he is painted, not as bad as he is said to be. 4. to apply (liquid or cosmetic) to the skin; paint one's face, to use or apply makeup. □ paint the town red, (slang) to go on a riotous spree.

paint | paint-box (paynt-boks) n. a box holding dry paints for use by an artist.

paint | paint-brush (paynt-brush) n. a brush for applying paint.

paint | painter1 (paynt-tar) n. a person who paints as an artist or as a housepainter.

paint | painter2 n. a rope attached to the bow of a boat for tying it up.

paint | painting (paynt-ting) n. 1. a painted pic-pal·at·ine (pal-ä-tin) n. (old use) a count having sovereign jurisdiction within his territory.

pa·lav·er (pä-lav-ér) n. 1. long aimless talk, idle chatter. 2. (old use) a parley, especially with primitive peoples.

pale1 (payl) adj. (pal·er, pal·est) 1. (of a person's face) having little color, lighter than normal. 2. (of color or light) faint, not bright or vivid. pale v. (paled, pal·ling) to turn pale. pale'ly adv. pale'ness n.

pale2 n. 1. a stake forming part of a fence. 2. a boundary. pale v. (paled, pal·ing) to enclose with pales or stakes, to fence in. □ beyond the pale, outside the bounds of acceptable behavior. the pale, the part of Russia to which Jews were confined.

pa·le·face (pä-lay-fays) n. a white person. □ Said to be the American Indian term for a European.

Pa·le·o·cene (pä-lë-ö-sen) adj. of the earliest geologic epoch of the Tertiary period. Paleocene n. the Paleocene epoch.

pa·le·og·ra·pher (pä-ly-og-rä-fer) n. an expert in paleography.

pa·le·og·ra·phy (pä-ly-og-rä-fe) n. the study of ancient writing and inscriptions.

pa·le·o·lith·ic (pä-lë-ö-lith-ik) adj. of the early part of the Stone Age.

pa·le·o·mag·ne·tism (pä-lë-ö-mag-në-tiz-ëm) n. 1. the magnetism remaining in rocks from past times. 2. the study of this magnetism. pa·le·o·mag·net·ic (pä-lë-ö-mag-net-ik) adj. pa·le·o·mag·net'ic·al·ly adv.

paleon. abbr. paleontology.

pa·le·on·tol·o·gist (pä-lë-on-tol-ö-jist) n. an expert in paleontology.

pa·le·on·tol·ogy (pä-lë-on-tol-ö-jee) n. the scientific study of life in the geologic past.

Pa·le·o·zo·ic (pä-lë-ö-zó-ik) adj. of the geologic era following the Precambrian and containing the oldest forms of highly organized life (reptiles, seed-bearing plants, insects, etc.). Paleozoic n. the Paleozoic era.

Pal·es·tine (pal-ē-stin) the former name of a country at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, now divided between Israel and Jordan. Pal·es·tin·i·an (pal-ē-stin-ë-än) adj. & n.

pal·ette (pal-it) n. a thin board, with a hole for the thumb by which it is held, on which an artist mixes colors when painting. □ palette knife, an artist's knife for mixing or spreading paint. □ Do not confuse palette with palate or pallet.

pal·frey (pawl-fre) n. (pl. -freys) (old use) a saddle horse for ordinary riding, especially for ladies.

Pal·imp·sest (pal-imp-sest) n. writing material or a manuscript from which the original writing has been partially or completely effaced to make room for a second writing.

Pal·in·drome (pal-in-drohm) n. a word or phrase that reads the same backward as forward, as rotator; nurses run; Madam I'm Adam.

pal·ing (paw-ling) n. 1. fencing made of wooden posts or railings. 2. one of its uprights.

pal·i·sade (pal-i-sayd) n. 1. a fence of pointed stakes. 2. palisades, a line of high cliffs.

pal· (pawl) n. 1. a cloth spread over a coffin. 2. something forming a dark heavy covering, a pall of smoke. pall v. to become uninteresting or boring, the subject began to pall on us.

pa·la·di·um (pä-lä-di-üm) a hard white metallic element.

pal·bear·er (pawl-bair-ër) n. one of the people carrying or walking beside the coffin at a funeral.

pal·let (pawl) n. 1. a mattress stuffed with straw. 2. a hard narrow bed, a makeshift bed. □ Do not confuse pallet with palate or palette.

pal·let·t (pawl) n. a large tray or platform for carrying goods that are being lifted or in storage, especially one that can be raised by a forklift. □ Do not confuse pallet with palate or palette.

pal·li·ate (pal-i-ät) v. (pal·li·at·ed, pal·li·at·ing) to make less intense or less severe. pal·li·a·tion (pal·li-ä-shon) n.

pal·li·a·tive (pal·li-ä-tiv) adj. reducing the bad effects of something. palliative n. something that does this.

pal·lid (pal-lid) adj. pale, especially from illness.

pal·lor (pal-ër) n. paleness.

pal· (pawl) n. 1. the inner surface of the hand between the wrist and the fingers. 2. the part of a glove that covers this. palm v. 1. to conceal in one’s hand. 2. to get (a thing) accepted fraudulently; palmed it off on them, induced them to accept something false or inferior, or something they did not want.

pal·mus (pawl-mus) n. 1. a palm tree. 2. an imaginary award for success. □ palm oil, the oil obtained from various palm trees. Palm Sunday, the Sunday before Easter, commemorating Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem when the people strewed leaves in his path. palm tree, a kind of tree growing in warm or tropical climates, with no branches and with large leaves growing in a mass at the top.

palmate (pal-mayt) adj. shaped like a hand with the fingers spread out.

palm-er (pal-mer) n. (old use) a pilgrim, especially one returning from the Holy Land with a palm branch or leaf as a symbol of his pilgrimage.

palm-to (pal-met-oh) n. (pl. -tos) a kind of small palm tree with fan-shaped leaves.

palm-ist (palm-ist) n. a person skilled in palmistry.

palm-is-try (palmi-stree) n. the pretended art of telling a person's future or interpreting his character by examining the lines or creases etc. in the palm of his hand.

palm-y (pahm-mee) adj. (palm-i-er, palm-i-est) 1. full of palms. 2. flourishing, in their former palmy days.

palm-o-mi-no (pahm-oh-mee-noh) n. (pl. -nos) a golden or cream-colored horse with light-colored mane and tail.

palm-ble (pal-pah-bil-i-tee) adj. 1. able to be touched or felt. 2. easily perceived, obvious. palm-bly adv. palm-bil-i-ty (pahm-ah-bil-i-tee) n.

palm-pate (pahm-payt) v. (palm-pat-ed, palm-pat-ing) to examine by feeling with the hands, especially as part of a medical examination. palm-pation (pahm-pay-shoon) n.

palm-tate (pahm-tayt) v. (palm-tat-ed, palm-tat-ing) 1. to pulsate, to throb rapidly. 2. (of a person) to quiver with fear or excitement. palm-tation (pahm-tayt-shoon) n.

palm-sy (pahm-sy) n. (pl. -sies) paralysis, especially with involuntary tremors. palsy adj.

palm-sy-wal-sy (pahm-sy-wal-sy) adj. (informal) very friendly.

pall (pahl) v. (palled, pall-ing) 1. to talk or act insincerely. 2. to haggle.

pall (pahl) adj. (pall-tri-er, pall-tri-est) worthless, trivial, contemptible.

pam. abbr. pamphlet.

pam-pas (pahm-pahs) n. pl. vast grassy plains in South America.

pam-per (pahm-pah) v. to treat very indulgently.

pam-phlet (pahm-flit) n. a leaflet or paper-covered booklet containing information or a treatise.

pan (pan) n. 1. a metal or earthenware vessel with a flat base and often without a lid, used for cooking and other domestic purposes. 2. its contents. 3. any similar vessel. 4. the bowl of a pair of scales. 5. a natural or artificial depression in the land. 6. (informal) hardpan. pan v. (panned, panning) 1. to wash (gravel) in a pan in search of gold. 2. (informal) to criticize severely. pan-ful (pan-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls) pan out, (of circumstances or events) to turn out; to be successful in outcome.

pan (pahm) v. (panned, panning) 1. to turn (a camera) horizontally to give a panoramic effect or follow a moving object. 2. (of a camera) to turn in this way.

Pan. abbr. Panama.

pan prefix all-, of the whole of a continent or racial group etc., as in pan-African, pan-American.

pan-a-ce-a (pan-ah-see-ah) n. a remedy for all kinds of diseases or troubles.

pan-a-ma (pahm-ah) adj. 1. (also Panama hat) a hat of fine pliant strawlike material. 2. a woven fabric used for jackets and skirts etc.

Pan-a-ma (pahm-ah) a country in Central America. Pan-a-ma-ni-an (pahm-ah-may-ni-ahnn) adj. & n. Panama Canal, the canal extending from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean through Panama. Panama City, the capital of Panama.

pan-a-tel-la (pahm-ah-tel-lah) n. a thin cigar.

pan-cake (pahm-kayk) n. 1. a thin round cake of batter fried on both sides, sometimes rolled up with filling. 2. makeup in the form of a flat cake. pancake landing, a landing in which an aircraft descends vertically in a level position.

pan-chro-matic (pahn-ah-chro-mat-ik) adj. sensitive to all colors of the visible spectrum, chromatic film.

pan-crease (pahm-krees) n. a gland near the stomach discharging a digestive secretion into the duodenum and insulin into the blood. pancreatic adj.

pan-da (pahm-dah) n. 1. (also giant panda) a large rare bearlike black-and-white animal living in the mountains of southwest China. 2. (also lesser panda) a raccoon-like animal of India.

pan-dem-i-c (pahm-dem-ik) adj. (of a disease) occurring over a whole country or the whole world.

pan-de-mi-um (pahm-deh-mee-um) n. uproar.

pan-der (pahm-dehr) v. to gratify a person's weakness or vulgar tastes, pandering to the public interest in scandal. panderer n. (also panderer) 1. a pimp. 2. a go-between in an illicit love affair.

P and L abbr. profit and loss.

Pan-do-ra's (pahm-doh-raz) box (in Greek mythology) a box which, when opened, let loose all kinds of misfortunes upon mankind.
pan-dow-ry (pan-dow-dee) n. (pl. -dies) a deep-dish apple (and usually molasses) pie with a thick crust cover.

pane (payn) n. a single sheet of glass in a window or door.

pan-e-ry (pan-e-ri) n. a speech or piece of writing praising a person or thing.

pan-el (pan-ěl) n. 1. a distinct usually rectangular section of a surface. 2. a strip of board or other material forming a separate section of a wall or door or cabinet etc., a section of the metal bodywork of a vehicle. 3. a strip of material set lengthwise in or on a garment. 4. a group of people assembled to discuss or decide something, a panel discussion. 5. a list of jurors, a jury. 6. the part of a vehicle supporting the controls, dials, etc., instrument panel; control panel. panel v. (pan-elled, pan-elling) to cover or decorate with panels. □ panel show, a quiz or similar form of radio or television entertainment in which a panel of people take part. panel truck, a small fully enclosed truck.

pan-el-ing (pan-ěling) n. 1. a series of panels in a wall. 2. wood used for making panels.

pan-el-ist (pan-ělist) n. a member of a panel.

pang (pang) n. a sudden sharp feeling of pain or a painful emotion, pangs of jealously.

pan-hand-ley (pan-hand-dee) v. (pan-handed, pan-handling) (informal) to beg in the street. panhandle n. a long narrow strip of a larger territory, the Texas Panhandle. pan'hand-ler n.

pan-ic (pan-ık) n. 1. sudden terror, wild infectious fear. 2. a sudden rush to sell or buy in the stock market etc. panic v. (panicked, panicking) to affect or be affected with panic. panic-y adj. □ panic button, a button to be pressed as a signal etc. in an emergency.

pan-i-cle (pan-i-kal) n. a loose-branching cluster of flowers.

pan-i-cstrick-en (pan-i-k-strik-en) adj. affected with panic.

pan-jan-drum (pan-jan-drum) n. 1. a mock title of an exalted personage. 2. a pompos official or pretender.

pan-nier (pan-yër) n. a large basket, especially one of a pair carried on either side of a pack animal.

pan-·o·ply (pan-ō-plee) n. (pl. -plies) a splendid array, in full panoply.

pan-o·ram·a (pan-ō-ram-ā) n. 1. a view of a wide area, a picture or photograph of this. 2. a view of a constantly changing scene or series of events. pan-o·ram·ic (pan-ō-ram-ik) adj.

pan·sy (pan-zee) n. (pl. -sies) 1. a garden plant of the violet family, with broad flat rounded richly colored petals. 2. its flower.

pant (pant) v. 1. to breathe with short quick breaths. 2. to utter breathlessly. 3. to be extremely eager. pant n. a panting breath.

pan·ta·lets (pan-tä-lëts) n. pl. (old use) women's long underwear with frills at the ankles.

pan·ta·loons (pan-tä-loonz) n. pl. (old use) men's trousers, especially close-fitting trousers worn in the 1800s.

pan·the·ism (pan-thee-iz-ëm) n. the doctrine that God is everything and everything is God. pan-the·ist n. pan-the·is·tic (pan-thee-istik) adj.

pan·the·on (pan-thee-on) n. 1. a temple dedicated to all the gods, especially the circular one in Rome. 2. the deities of a people collectively. 3. a building in which the illustrious dead are buried or have memorials.

pan·ther (pan-thër) n. 1. a large black leopard. 2. a cougar.

pan·ties (pan-teez) n. pl. (informal) underpants for women or children.

pan·to·mime (pan-to-mim) n. 1. expressive movements of the face and body used to convey a story or meaning. 2. a show or performance done in pantomime. pantomime v. (pan-to·mimed, pan·to·miming) to express a story or meaning by movements. pan·to·mim·ic (pan-to·mim·ik) adj.

pan·try (pan-tree) n. (pl. -tries) a room in which food, china, glasses, etc. are kept.

pants (pants) n. pl. 1. trousers. 2. (informal) underpants.

pant·suit (pant-soot) n. (also pants suit) a woman's tailored suit of jacket and trousers.

pan·ty (pan-tey) hose women's hosiery, combining underpants and stockings.

pan·ty·waist (pan-tey-waist) n. an effeminate person. pantywaist adj.

pan·zer (pan-zër) adj. (of German troops) armored, panzer divisions.

pap (pap) n. 1. soft or semiliquid food suitable for infants or invalids. 2. mash, pulp. 3. undemanding reading matter.

pa·pa (pah-pä) n. (informal) father.

pa·pa·cy (pay-pä-see) n. the position or authority of the pope, the system of Church government by popes.

pa·pa·in (pä-pay-in) n. an enzyme from papaya trees, used to tenderize meat.

pa·pal (pay-päl) adj. of the pope or the papacy.

pa·paw (paw-paw) n. 1. the small fleshy many-seeded fruit of a central and southern North American tree. 2. this tree.
apa-

yapa (pá-pah-yä) n. 1. the oblong orange edible fruit of a palmlike tropical American tree. 2. this tree, whose stem, leaves, and fruit contain papain.
apa- per (pay-pér) n. 1. a substance manufactured in thin sheets from wood fiber, rags, etc., used for writing or printing or drawing on or for wrapping things. 2. a newspaper. 3. wallpaper. 4. a document; a ship's papers, documents establishing its identity etc. 5. an essay or dissertation, especially one read to a learned society. paper v. to cover (walls etc.) with wallpaper. □ on paper, in writing; in theory, when judged from written or printed evidence, the scheme looks good on paper. paper clip, a piece of bent wire or plastic for holding a few sheets of paper together. paper doll, a paper drawing of a human figure that can be dressed in paper clothes. paper money, banknotes as distinct from coins. paper over the cracks, to seek to conceal flaws or disagreement. paper the house, to give away free tickets for a public performance in order to ensure a large audience. paper tiger, a person or thing that has a threatening appearance but can do no harm.
apa-

back (pay-pér-bak) adj. bound in a flexible paper binding, not in a stiff cover. paperback n. a book bound in this way.
apa-

board (pay-pér-bohrd) n. card-board.
apa-

boy (pay-pér-boi) n. a boy who delivers newspapers. papa-girl (pay-pér-gurl) n.

apa-

hang'er (pay-pér-hang-ér) n. a person whose business is to cover walls with wallpaper. papa-hang-ing n.

apa-

weight (pay-pér-wayt) n. a small heavy object placed on top of loose papers to keep them in place.
apa-

work (pay-pér-wurk) n. routine clerical work and record keeping.
apa-

y (pay-pè-ree) adj. like paper in texture and thickness.
apa-

ler-mä-

ché (pay-pé-

mä-shay) n. molded paper pulp, used for making boxes or trays or ornaments etc.
apa-

la (pä-pil-

ä) (pl. -pil-

ae, pr. -pil-ee) a small projection in a part or organ of the body. papil-lar' y (papi-ler-ee) adj.

apa-

lote (pah-pé-yoht) n. a paper decoration or cover for the end of the bone of a lamb chop etc. □ en (ahn) papillote, (of fish etc.) baked within a wrapping of greased paper.

apa-

list (pay-pist) n. (contemptuous) a Roman Catholic.

apa-

oose (pa-póos) n. a North American Indian baby.
apa-

ka (pa-pee-kä) n. a mild spice made of ground sweet red peppers.
apa-

test (also Pap smear) a test for the early detection of uterine cancer. □ The test was devised by George N. Papanicolaou (1883-1962), an American medical scientist.
apa-

u-a (pap-yoo-

ä) New Guinea a country consisting of a group of islands between Asia and Australia.
apa-

ule (pap-yool) n. a pimple. papalar' (pap-yu-

lär) adj.
apa-

rus (pä-

ru-

s) (pl. -rus-

es, -rî, pr. -rî) 1. a reedlike water plant with thick fibrous stems from which a kind of paper was made by the ancient Egyptians. 2. this paper. 3. a manuscript written on this.
apar (pahr) n. 1. an average or normal amount or condition or degree etc., was feeling below par. 2. the face value of stocks and bonds etc.; at par, at face value. 3. (in golf) the number of strokes set as a standard for a hole or course. □ on a par with, on an equal footing with.
apar. abbr. 1. paragraph. 2. parallel. 3. parish.
apa-

ble (par-

bèl) n. a story told to illustrate a moral or spiritual truth.
apa-

bola (pä-

bo-

lå) n. a curve like the path of an object thrown into the air and falling back to earth. papabol'ic (par-

bol-ik) adj.
apa-

chute (par-

shoot) n. an umbrella-shaped device used to slow the descent of a person or heavy object falling from a great height, especially from a moving aircraft; parachute troops, paratroops. parachute v. (par-chut-ed, par-

chut-ing) to descend by parachute, to drop (supplies etc.) by parachute. papa-chut-ist n.

apa-

rade (pä-

rayd) n. 1. a procession of people or things, especially in a display or exhibition. 2. a formal assembly of troops for inspection or roll call etc. 3. an ostentatious display, makes a parade of his virtues. parade v. (pa-rad-ed, pa-rad-ing) 1. to march or walk with display. 2. to make a display of, he paraded his knowledge before us. □ on parade, taking part in a parade.

apa-

digm (par-

dim) n. something serving as an example or model of how things should be done.
apa-

ise (par-dis) n. 1. heaven. 2. Eden. par-di-

sl-a-cal (par-

di-

sl-käl), par-

dis-

ac (par-

dis-

ak) adj.
par-a-dox (par-ə-doks) n. a statement etc. that seems to contradict itself or to conflict with common sense but which contains a truth (as ‘more haste, less speed’). par-a-dox’i-cal (par-ə-dok-si-kål) adj. par-a-dox’i-cal-ly adv.

par-at-fin (par-ə-fin) n. a white waxy substance obtained from petroleum and used for making candles, sealing, and coating.

par-a-gon (par-ə-gon) n. a model of excellence, an apparently perfect person or thing.

par-a-graph (par-ə-graf) n. one or more sentences on a single theme, forming a distinct section of a piece of writing and beginning on a new (usually indented) line. paragraph v. to arrange in paragraphs.

Par-a-guai (par-ə-gwaɪ) a country in South America. Par-a-guai-an (par-ə-gwaɪ-ən) adj. & n.

par-a-keet (par-ə-keet) n. a kind of small parrot, often with a long tail.

par-al-dehyde (pə-rəl-də-hyd) n. a substance used as a sedative.

par-al-lax (par-ə-laks) n. an apparent difference in the position or direction of an object when it is viewed from two different points.

par-al-lel (par-ə-lel) adj. 1. (of lines or planes) continuously at the same distance from each other. 2. having this relationship, the road runs parallel to (or with) the railroad. 3. similar, having features that correspond, parallel situations. parallel n. 1. an imaginary line on Earth’s surface or a corresponding line on a map parallel to and passing through all points equidistant from the equator. 2. a person or situation etc. that is parallel to another. 3. a comparison, drew a parallel between the two situations. parallel v. (par-al-leled, par-al-lel-ing) 1. to be parallel to. 2. to find or mention something parallel or corresponding, to compare. par-al-lel-ism n. □ in parallel, (of electrical conductors etc.) arranged so as to join at common points at each end. parallel bars, a pair of parallel rails supported on posts for gymnastic exercises.

par-al-lel-o-gram (par-ə-lel-o-gram) n. a plane four-sided figure with its opposite sides parallel to each other.

par-a-lyz (pə-rə-liz) n. 1. loss of the power of movement, caused by disease or injury to nerves. 2. inability to move normally.

par-a-lyt-ic (par-ə-lit-ik) adj. affected with paralysis. paralytic n. a person affected with paralysis.

par-a-lyze (par-ə-лиз) v. (par-a-lyzed, par-a-lyzed) 1. to affect with paralysis, to make unable to act or move normally. 2. to bring to a standstill.

par-a-mar-i-bo (par-ə-mar-i-bo) the capital of Surinam.

par-a-me-cli um (par-ə-mee-si-əm) n. (pl. -cl-ə, pr. -si-ə) a slipper-shaped protozoan that uses cilia to move.

par-a-med-ic (par-ə-med-ık) adj. (of services etc.) supplementing and supporting medical work.

par-a-mon-e-ter (pə-rə-mən-e-ter) n. 1. a variable quantity or quality that restricts or gives a particular form to the thing it characterizes, the parameters studied were height and weight. 2. (informal) a limit, we have the freedom to act within the parameters set by the Constitution. (D Careful writers avoid this use.) par-a-met-ric (par-ə-met-rɪk) adj.

par-a-mil-i-tar-y (par-a-mɪl-ɪ-tər-ɛ) adj. organized like a military force but not a part of the armed services.

par-a-mount (par-ə-mɔnt) adj. chief in importance, supreme.

par-a-mour (par-ə-moor) n. (old use) a married person’s illicit lover.

par-a-nah (pə-rə-nah) n. a heavy Malayian sheath knife.

par-a-nol-a (par-ə-noi-ə) n. 1. a mental disorder in which a person has delusions of grandeur or persecution etc. 2. an abnormal tendency to suspect and mistrust others.

par-a-nol-ac (par-ə-noi-ək) adj. & n. = paranoid.

par-a-noid (par-ə-noid) adj. of or like or suffering from paranoia. paranoid n. a person suffering from paranoia.

par-a-pet (par-ə-pet) n. 1. a low protective wall along the edge of a balcony or roof or bridge etc. 2. a defense of earth or stone to conceal and protect troops.

par-a-pher-na-la (par-ə-fər-nəl-yə) n. numerous small possessions or pieces of equipment etc.

par-a-phrase (par-ə-frayz) v. (par-a-phrased, par-a-phrasing) to express the meaning of (a passage) in other words. paraphrase n. rewording in this way, a reworded passage.

par-a-ple-gl-a (par-ə-ple-gl-ə) n. paralysis of the legs and part or all of the trunk. par-a-ple-glac adj. & n.

par-a-pro-fes-sion-al (par-ə-prə-fəs-ən-əl) n. a person who works as assistant to a professional.

par-a-psy-chol-o-gy (par-ə-si-kəl-ə-jee) n. the scientific study of mental perceptions (as those occurring in clairvoyance and telepathy) that seem to be outside normal mental abilities. par-a-psychol/o-gist n.

par-a-site (par-ə-sīt) n. 1. an animal or plant that lives on or in another from which it draws its nourishment. 2. a person who lives off another and others and gives no useful return. par-a-sit-ism (par-ə-sit-iz-əm) n. par-a-sit-ic (par-ə-sit-ik) adj.

par-a-sit-ize (par-ə-sit-iz)) v. (par-a-sitized, par-a-sit-iz-ing) to infest as a parasite.

par-a-si-to-logy (par-a-si-to-l-o-gy) n. the scientific study of parasites. par-a-sol (par-a-sol) n. a light umbrella used to give shade from the sun.

par-a-sym-pa-thic (par-a-sim-pa-thet-ik) adj. of the part of the nervous system that connects with nerve cells in or near viscera.

par-a-thy-roid (par-ə-thr-oyd) n. (also parathyroid gland) the gland adjacent to the thyroid that secretes a hormone regulating calcium levels in the body.

par-a-troop (par-a-troop) n. pl. troops trained to be dropped into battle by parachute. par-a-troop-er (par-a-troop-er) n. > It is incorrect to use “a paratroop” to mean “a paratrooper.”

par-a-ty-phoid (par-ə-tri-foid) n. (also paratyphoid fever) a kind of fever resembling typhoid but milder.

par-boll (par-boll) v. to boil (food) until it is partly cooked.

par-cell (pahr-cell) n. 1. a thing or things wrapped up for carrying or for sending by mail. 2. a piece of land. parcel (par-cell, par-cell-ing) to divide into portions, parcelled it out. parcel post a postal service dealing with packages; the parcels handled by this service.

par-ch (pahrch) v. to make hot and dry or thirsty.

par-ch-ment (pahrch-ment) n. 1. a heavy paperlike material made from animal skins. 2. a kind of paper resembling this.

pard (pahrd) n. 1. (old use) a leopard. 2. (slang) a partner or comrade.

par-don (pahrd-on) n. 1. forgiveness. 2. cancellation of a punishment incurred through a crime or conviction. 3. a kind of indulgence, as for a slight discourtesy or for failing to hear or understand. I beg your pardon. pardon (par-doned, par-don-ing) to forgive, to overlook (a slight discourtesy etc.) kindly.

par-don-a-ble (pahrd-o-nah-bel) adj. able to be pardoned. par-don-a-bly adv.

par-don-er (pahrd-nor) n. (old use) a person licensed to sell religious pardons or indulgences.

pare (pair) v. (pared, par-ing) 1. to trim by cutting away the edges of, to pcl. 2. to reduce little by little, pared down their expenses.

par-e-gor-ic (par-ə-gor-ik) n. a camphorated tincture of opium, used to stop diarrhea.

paren. abbr. parenthesis.

par-ent (pair-ent) n. 1. one who has procreated offspring, a father or mother. 2. an ancestor. 3. a person who has adopted a child. 4. an animal or plant from which others are derived. 5. a source from which other things are derived, the parent company. par-ent-hood n.

par-ent-age (pair-en-tij) n. descent from parents, ancestry.

par-ent-tal (pər-ən-tal) adj. of parents.

par-ent-the-sis (pər-ren-θē-sis) n. (pl. par-entheses, pr-seez) 1. an additional word or phrase or sentence inserted in a passage that is grammatically complete without it, and usually marked off by dashes or commas or parentheses. 2. either of the pair of curved marks (like these) used to mark off a parenthesis or to group some symbols in a mathematical expression.

par-en-thet-lc (par-ən-thet-ik) adj. 1. of or as a parenthesis. 2. interposed as an aside or digression. par-en-thet-l-cal adj. par-en-thet-l-cal-ly adv.

par-esis (par-ës-is) n. partial paralysis, affecting muscular movement but not sensation. par-et-lc (par-et-ik) adj. & n.

par-ex-cellence (pahr ek-sel-lahnz) more than all others, in the highest degree. > French.

par-fait (pahr-fay) n. 1. a rich iced custard made of eggs and cream or ice cream. 2. layers of ice cream and fruit etc. served in a tall glass.

par-riah (pah-ri-ah) n. an outcast.

par-ri-e-tal (pər-ri-ē-tal) adj. 1. of the wall of the body or of any of its cavities; the parietal bones, those forming part of the sides and top of the skull. 2. of or relating to residence within a college; parietal rules, those governing the conduct of resident students.

par-i-myoo-choo-el (par-i-myoo-choo-el) n. a form of betting in which the losers’ stakes (less a percentage for the track and taxes) are divided among the winners.

par-ing (pair-ing) n. a piece pared off, apple parings.

par-ri pas-su (pah-ri pas-so) with equal pace, simultaneously and equally. > Latin.

Par-is (par-is) the capital of France. Par-lis (pə-ree-zhān) adj. & n.

par-lsh (par-ish) n. 1. an area within a diocese, having its own church and clergyman. 2. (in Louisiana) a governmental unit equivalent to a county. 3. the people of a parish. □ parish register, a book recording the baptisms, marriages, and burials that have taken place at a parish church.

par·ish·ion·er (pä'rish-ö-nér) n. an inhabitant or member of a parish.

par·i·ty (pär'i-tē) n. (pl. -ties) 1. equality, equal status or pay etc. 2. being valued at par.

park (pārk) n. 1. a public garden or recreation ground. 2. a field or stadium for sporting events. park v. 1. to place and leave (a vehicle) temporarily. 2. (informal) to deposit temporarily; park oneself, to sit down. □ parking lot, an outdoor area for parking vehicles. parking meter, a coin-operated meter in which fees are inserted for parking a vehicle beside it on the street. parking ticket, a notice of a fine imposed for parking a vehicle illegally.

par·ka (pär-kā) n. 1. a fur jacket with hood attached, worn by Eskimos. 2. a jacket or coat shaped like this.

Park-in·son’s (pärk-in-sōn’s) disease a disease of the nervous system causing tremor and weakness of the muscles.

Parkinson’s law any of several facts humorously formulated by C. Northcote Parkinson, especially “work expands so as to fill the time available for its completion.”

park·way (pärk-way) n. a wide high-speed landscaped highway.

parl. abbr. 1. parliament. 2. parliamentary.

par·lan·ce (pär-lan's) n. phraseology.

par·ley (pär-lē) v. 1. to use (money won on a bet) as a further stake. 2. to increase in value by parlaying. parlay n. (pl. -leys) a bet so made, the act of parlaying. □ Do not confuse parlay with parley.

par·ley·ing (pär'lē-îng) n. (pl. -lings) a discussion or conference, especially between enemies or opponents to settle points in dispute. parley v. (par·leyed, par·ley·ing) to hold a parley. □ Do not confuse parley with parley.

par·li·ment (pär-lī′ment) n. an assembly that makes the laws of certain countries; Parliament, that of the United Kingdom, consisting of the House of Commons and the House of Lords.

par·li·men·tar·y (pär-lī′men·tar·ē) adj. of or involving a parliament, parliamentary government. □ parliamentary procedure, formal rules for debate in an assembly, club, etc.

par·lor (pär′lōr) n. 1. (old use) the living room of a family in a private house. 2. a room or establishment for a particular kind of activity or business, beauty parlor; milking parlor, a place for milking cows. □ parlor car, a luxurious fitted railroad passenger car. parlor game, an indoor game.

par·lous (pär′lōs) adj. (old use) perilous.

parlous adv. (old use) extremely.

Par·me·san (pär-mē′zan) n. a kind of hard cheese made at Parma, Italy, and elsewhere, usually grated before use.

par·mil·gna·na (pär-mil′ja-nä) adj. cooked with sliced Parmesan cheese, eggplant parmigiana.

par·ro·chial (pär′rok-ē′l) adj. 1. of a parish. 2. merely local, showing interest in a limited area only. □ par·ro′chial·ism n. □ parochial school, a school maintained by a church parish or religious body.

par·o·dy (pär′ō-dē) n. (pl. -dies) 1. a comic imitation of a well-known person or literary work or style etc. 2. a grotesque imitation, a travesty. parody v. (par′ō-did, par′ō·dy′ing) to mimic humorously, to compose a parody of.

par·role (pär′ō-rol) n. release of a convicted person from a prison before his sentence has expired, on condition of good behavior. parole v. (par′ō·oled, par′ō·ling) to release on parole. par·rol·ee (pär′ō-lee) n. □ parole violation, breaking the terms of parole.

par·ox·ys·m (pär′ōk-siz′əm) n. a spasm, a sudden attack or outbreak of pain or rage or laughter etc. par·ox·ys·mal (pär′ōk-siz′məl) adj.

par·quet (pär′kāt) n. 1. flooring of wooden parquetry. 2. the main floor of a theater.

par·quet·ry (pär′kāt-ri) n. inlaid wood for a floor.

par·ra·kee·t = parakeet.

par·ric·ide (pär′ri-sid) n. 1. the act of killing one’s father, mother, or near relative. 2. a person who commits parricide. par·ri·cil·dal (pär′ri-sil′dəl) adj.

par·rot (pär′ōt) n. 1. a tropical bird with a short hooked bill and often with brightly colored plumage. 2. a person who repeats another’s words or imitates his actions unintelligently. parrot v. to repeat (words etc.) mechanically; parroted her, repeated everything she said. □ parrot fever, psittacosis.

par·ry (pär′ē) v. (par·ried, par·ry′ing) 1. to ward off (an opponent’s weapon or blow) by using one’s own weapon etc. to block the thrust. 2. to evade (an awkward question) skilfully.

parry n. (pl. -ries) an action of this kind.

parse (pahrs) v. (parsed, pars-ing) to explain the grammatical form and function of (a word or words in a sentence).

par-sec (pahr-sek) n. a unit of distance used in astronomy, about 3.26 light-years.

par-si-mo-ni-ous (pahr-si-moh-ni-tus) adj. stingy, very sparing in the use of resources.

par-si-mo-ny (pahr-si-moh-nee) n.

pars-ley (pahrs-lee) n. a garden plant with crinkled green leaves used for seasoning and decorating food and in sauces.

pars-nip (pahrs-nip) n. 1. a plant with a large yellowish tapering root that is used as a vegetable. 2. this root.

par-son (pahrs-suhn) n. a Protestant minister.

par-son-age (pahrs-soh-nij) n. a house provided by a church for its parson.

par-t (pahrt) n. 1. some but not all of a thing or number of things. 2. a division of a book or broadcast serial etc., especially as much as is issued at one time. 3. a region. 4. an integral element, she’s part of the family. 5. a distinct portion of a human or animal body or of a plant. 6. a component of a machine or structure. 7. each of several equal portions of a whole; a fourth part, a quarter; three parts, three-quarters. 8. a portion allotted, a share of work etc. 9. the character assigned to an actor in a play etc., the words spoken by this character, a copy of these. 10. the melody or other line of music assigned to a particular voice or instrument. 11. a side in an agreement or in a dispute; for or on my part, as far as I am concerned. 12. a line where hair is combed away in different directions. part adv. in part, partly. part v. 1. to separate or divide, to cause to do this; part one’s hair, to make a part in it. 2. (informal) to pay out (money), he couldn’t bear to part with a dollar □a man of parts, one with many abilities. in good part, good-humoredly, without taking offense. in part, partly. part and parcel of, an essential part of. part company, to go different ways after being together; to cease to associate; to disagree, on that subject you and I part company. parting shot, a sharp remark made by a person as he departs (see Parthian). part of speech, one of the classes into which words are divided in grammar (noun, adjective, pronoun, verb, adverb, preposition, conjunction, interjection). part owner, one who shares the ownership of something with other people. part song, a song with three or more voice parts, often without accompaniment. part time, less than full time. part with, to give up possession of, to hand over.

part. abbr. 1. participial. 2. participle. 3. particular.

par-take (pahr-tayk) v. (par-took, par-tak-en, par-tak-ing) 1. to participate. 2. to take a part or portion, especially of food.

par-take’er n.

par-terre (pahr-tair) n. 1. the level space in a garden occupied by flower beds. 2. the part of the ground floor of an auditorium or theater that lies under a rear balcony.

par-the-no-gen-e-sis (pahr-theh-noh-jen-eh-siss) n. a process of reproduction without fertilization, especially in invertebrates and the lower plants.

par-thi-an (par-thi-an) adj. Parthian shot, a parting shot. □The horsemen of ancient Parthia were renowned for turning to shoot their arrows at the enemy while retreatting.

par-ti-al (pahrt-i-cal) adj. 1. in part but not complete or total, a partial eclipse. 2. biased, unfair. parti-cil-ly adv. □be partial to, to have a strong liking for.

par-ti-al-i-ty (pahrt-i-ali-tee) n.

par-ti-cipate (pahrt-i-sip-ate) v. (pahrt-i-sip-ated, par-ti-cip-a-ted) to have a share, to take part in something.

par-tic-i-pate (pahrt-i-see-pate) n. par-ti-cip-a-tor n.

par-ti-cip-a-tion (pahrt-i-sip-a-shun) n.

par-ti-cip-a-to-ry (pahrt-i-sip-a-toh-ree) adj. sharing, taking a part in something.

par-ti-cip-ate (pahrt-i-sip-ate) n. a word formed from a verb (as going, gone; burning, burned) and used in compound verb forms (she is going or has gone) or as an adjective (a going concern).

par-ti-cip-ate’al (pahrt-i-sip-i-ahl) adj. □past participle, one that expresses completed action, as burned, frightened, wasted. present participle, one that expresses continuing action, as burning, frightening, wasting.

par-ti-cle (pahrt-i-kal) n. 1. a very small portion of matter, a subatomic particle. 2. the smallest possible amount, he hasn’t a particle of sense. 3. a part of speech that connects or limits or shows the relation of other units, such as a conjunction, preposition, or article. □particle board, a board made of bonded wood chips.

par·ti·col·ored (pahr-tik-ə-lərd) adj. colored partly in one color and partly in another or others.

par·tic·u·lar (pahr-tyk-ə-lər) adj. 1. relating to one person or thing as distinct from others, individual; this particular tax is no less others. 2. special, exceptional, took particular trouble. 3. selecting carefully, insisting on certain standards, is very particular about what he eats. particular n. a detail, a piece of information, gave particulars of the stolen property. par·tic·u·lar·ly adv. par·tic·u·lar·i·ty (pahr-tik-ə-lər-i-tē) n.

In particular, particularly, especially, we liked this one in particular; specifically, did nothing in particular.

par·tic·u·lar·ize (pahr-tyk-ə-lər-ız) v. (par·tic·u·lar·ized, par·tic·u·lar·iz·ing) to specify, to name specially or one by one.

par·tic·u·late (pahr-tik-ə-lət) adj. (of matter) in the form of separate particles.

part·ing (pahr-tīng) n. leave-taking.

par·ti·san (pahr-ty-sən) n. 1. a strong and often uncritical supporter of a person or group or cause. 2. a guerrilla. partisan adj. characteristic of partisans. part·i·san·ship n.

par·ti·tion (pahr-tish-ən) n. 1. division into parts. 2. a part formed in this way. 3. a structure that divides a room or space, a thin wall. partition v. 1. to divide into parts, to assign parts (of a task, territory, etc.) in this way. 2. to divide (a room etc.) by means of a partition.

par·ti·tive (pahr-ti-tiv) adj. (in grammar) denoting part of a collective whole. partitive n. 1. a word of this kind (as some, any). 2. the grammatical case employing a partitive.

part·ly (pahr-tə-ly) adv. to some extent but not completely or wholly.

part·ner (pahr-ter-nər) n. 1. one who shares with another or others in some activity, especially in a business firm where he shares risks and profits. 2. either of two people dancing together or playing tennis or cards etc. on the same side. 3. a husband or wife. part·ner·ship n.

par·took (pahr-tuk) see partake.

par·trige (pahr-trij) n. (pl. -triges, -tridge) 1. a game bird with brown feathers and a plump body. 2. its flesh as food.

part-time (pahr-tīm) adj. for or during only part of the working day or week.

part·tim·er (pahr-ti-mər) n. a person employed in part-time work.

par·tu·ri·tion (pahr-chú-rish-ən) n. the process of giving birth to young, childbirth.

part·way (pahr-wə-way) adv. (informal) partly, to some extent.

par·ty (pahr-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a social gathering, usually of invited guests. 2. a number of people traveling or working together as a unit, a search party. 3. a group of people united in support of a cause or policy etc., especially a political group organized on a national basis to put forward its policies and candidates for office. 4. the person(s) forming one side in an agreement or dispute. 5. a person who participates in or knows of or supports an action or plan etc., refused to be a party to the conspiracy. 6. (informal) a person. party v. (par·tie·d, par·ty·ing) (informal) to give or to attend social gatherings. □ party line, a shared telephone line; the set policy of a political party.

par·ve (pahr-ve) adj. (of food in the Jewish tradition) permitted to be eaten both with meat and with dairy products.

par·ve·nu (pahr-ve·nū) n. a person of obscure origin who has gained wealth or position, an upstart.

pas (pahs) n. (pl. pas, pr. pah) a step in dancing. □ pas de deux (pah de duh), a ballet dance for two persons.

pas·chal (pah·skal) adj. 1. of the Jewish Passover. 2. of Easter. □ Paschal lamb, the lamb slaughtered for the feast on the first night of Passover. Paschal Lamb, Jesus as the Lamb of God (see lamb).

pa·sha (pah-shə) n. a former Turkish title (placed after a name) for an official of high rank, Glibb Pasha.

pass (pahs) v. (passed, pass·ing) 1. to go or proceed or move onward or past something. 2. to cause to move across or over or past. 3. to go from one person to another, to be transferred, his title passed to his eldest son. 4. to hand or transfer, (in football etc.) to throw the ball to another player of one's own side. 5. to discharge from the body as or with excreta. 6. to change from one state or condition into another. 7. to come to an end. 8. to happen, to be done or said, we heard what passed between them. 9. to occupy (time). 10. to circulate, to be accepted or currently known in a certain way. 11. to be tolerated or allowed. 12. to examine and declare satisfactory, to approve (a law etc.), especially by vote. 13. to achieve the required standard in performing (a test), to be accepted as satisfactory. 14. to go beyond. 15. to utter, to pronounce as a decision, passed some remarks; pass judgment. 16. (in cards) to refuse one's turn (as in bidding). pass
n. 1. passing, especially of an examination or at cards. 2. a movement made with the hand(s) or something held. 3. a permit to go into or out of a place or to be absent from one's quarters. 4. a throw of the ball to another player of one's own side in football etc. 5. a gap in a mountain range, allowing access to the other side. 6. a critical state of affairs, things have come to a pretty pass. pass'er n. □ bring to pass, to cause to happen. make a pass at, to attempt but without much effort; (informal) to try to attract sexually. pass away, to cease; to die. pass for, be accepted as, he passed for Lebanese. pass off, to offer or dispose of (a thing) under false pretenses, passed it off as his own; to evade or dismiss (an awkward remark etc.) lightly. pass out, (informal) to faint. pass over, to disregard; to ignore the claims of (a person) to promotion etc. pass the buck, see buck'. pass up, (informal) to refuse to accept (an opportunity etc.). pass water, to urinate. pass. abbr. 1. passenger. 2. passive.

pass-a-ble (pas-a-bel) adj. 1. able to be passed on traversed. 2. satisfactory, fairly good but not outstanding. pass'a-bly adv.
pas-sage (pas-iij) n. 1. the process of passing. 2. the right to pass through, right of conveyance as a passenger by sea or air, book your passage. 3. a journey by sea or air. 4. a way through, especially with walls on either side. 5. a tubelike structure through which air or secretions etc. pass in the body. 6. a particular section of a literary or musical work.
pas-sage-way (pas-iij-way) n. a passage giving a way through.
pas-sa-lage-book (pas-sa-laj-ook) n. a book recording a customer's deposits and withdrawals from a bank account.
pas-sé (pa-say) adj. past its or his prime, no longer fashionable. □ French.
pas-sel (pas-el) n. (informal) a large group, a passel of children.
pas-sen-ger (pas-en-jer) n. a person (other than the driver or pilot or member of crew etc.) traveling in a vehicle or ship or aircraft. □ passenger seat, the seat beside the driver's seat in a car or truck. passenger train, a train for carrying passengers not goods.
pas-ser-by (pas-ser-by) n. (pl. -ers-by) a person who happens to be going past a thing.
pas-sim (pas-im) adv. in many places in a book etc. □ Latin.
pas-sing (pas-ing) adj. not lasting long, casual, a passing glance. passing n. the end of something, a death.
pas-sion (pas-6n) n. 1. strong emotion. 2. an outburst of anger. 3. sexual love. 4. great enthusiasm for something, the object of this, chess is his passion. 5. Passion, the sufferings of Christ on the Cross, the account of this in the Gospels, a musical setting for this account. pas'sion-less adj. □ Passion Sunday, the Sunday two weeks before Easter in the Christian calendar.
pas-sion-ate (pas-6-nit) adj. 1. full of passion, showing or moved by strong emotion. 2. (of emotion) intense. pas'sion-ate-ly adv.
pas-sion-flow'er (pas-6n-flow-er) n. a climbing plant with flowers thought to resemble the crown of thorns and other things associated with the Passion of Christ.
pas-sion-fruit (pas-6n-froot) n. the edible fruit of some kinds of passionflower.
pas-sive (pas-iv) adj. 1. acted upon and not active. 2. not resisting, submissive. 3. lacking initiative or forceful qualities. 4. (of substances) inert, not active. pas-sive n. the form of a verb used when the subject of the sentence receives the action, such as was seen in he was seen there. pas'sive-ly adv. pas'sive-ness n. pas-siv-i-ty (pas-iv-i-tee) n. □ passive resistance, resistance by refusal to cooperate.
pas-key (pas-kee) n. 1. a key to a door or gate. 2. a master key.
Pass-ow-ver (pas-oh-ver) n. a Jewish festival commemorating the liberation of the Jews from slavery in Egypt.
pas-sport (pas-pohrt) n. 1. an official document issued by a government identifying the holder as one of its citizens and entitling him to travel abroad under its protection. 2. a thing that enables one to obtain something, such ability is a passport to success.
pas-word (pas-wurd) n. a selected word or phrase known only to one's own side, enabling sentries to distinguish friend from enemy.
past (past) adj. belonging to the time before the present, (of time) gone by. past n. 1. time that is gone by, in the past. 2. past events. 3. a person's past life or career, especially one that is discreditable, a man with a past. past prep. 1. beyond in time or place, hurried past me. 2. beyond the limits or power or range or stage of, past belief; she's past caring what happens. past adv. beyond in time or place, up to and farther, drove past. □ past master, a thorough master in or of a subject, an expert. would not put it past him, (informal) regard him as morally capable of doing it.
pasta / patent

pas-ta (pahst-ah) n. 1. dried paste made with flour and produced in various shapes (such as macaroni, spaghetti). 2. a cooked dish made with this.
paste (payst) n. 1. a moist fairly stiff mixture, especially of a powdery substance and a liquid. 2. an adhesive. 3. an edible doughy substance, almond paste. 4. an easily spread preparation of ground meat or fish etc., anchovy paste. 5. a hard glassy-like substance used in making imitation gems. paste v. (past-ed, past-ing) 1. to fasten with paste. 2. to coat with paste.

paste-board (payst-bohdl) n. a kind of thin board made of layers of paper or wood fibers pasted together.
pas-tel (pa-stal) n. 1. a chalklike crayon. 2. a drawing made with this. 3. a light delicate shade of color. pastel adj. (of color) pale and subdued.
pas-ter-n (pas-ter-n) n. the part of a horse's foot between fetlock and hoof.
pas-teur-ize (pa-shur-iz) v. (pas-teur-ized, pas-teur-iz-ing) to sterilize (milk etc.) partially by heating and then chilling it.
pas-teur-iz'ing (pa-shur-iz-ing) n. The method was devised by Louis Pasteur (1822-95), a French chemist.
pas-tiche (pa-stesh) n. a musical or other composition made up of selections from various sources.
pas-tille (pa-stil) n. a small flavored candy for sucking, a lozenge.
pas-time (pas-time) n. something done to pass time pleasantly, a recreation.
pas-tor (pas-tor) n. a minister in charge of a church or congregation.
pas-to-ral (pas-to-ral) adj. 1. of shepherds or country life, a pastoral scene. 2. of a pastor, concerned with spiritual guidance. pastoral n. a poem, picture, etc. dealing with country life.
pas-tor-ate (pas-tor-at) n. 1. a pastor's official residence. 2. his term of office. 3. pastors as a unit.
pas-tra-m (pah-strah-mee) n. a highly seasoned smoked beef.
pas-try (pay-stree) n. (pl. -tries) 1. dough made of flour, fat, and water, used for covering pies or holding filling. 2. food made with this. 3. a cake in which pastry is used.
pas-tur-age (pas-chur-ij) n. 1. pasture land. 2. the right to graze animals on this.
pas-ture (pas-chur) n. 1. land covered with grass and similar plants suitable for grazing cattle. 2. grass etc. on such land.
pasture v. (pas-tured, pas-tur-ing) 1. to put (animals) to graze in a pasture. 2. (of animals) to graze.
leather, leather with a glossy varnished surface. patent office, the government office from which patents are issued. patent pending, notice that a patent has been applied for but not yet received. patentable (pay-tənt-əl) adj. obvious, unconcealed, his patent dislike of the plan.

pat·ent·ee (pat·ən·tē) n. a person who holds a patent.

pat·ent·ly (pay·tənt·li) adv. obviously, his suggestion was patently ridiculous.

pa·ter·fa·mil·i·as (pay·tər·fə·mil·i·əs) n. (pl. -as-es) (informal) the head of the family or household.

pa·ter·nal (pə·tur·nal) adj. 1. of a father, of fatherhood. 2. fatherly. 3. related through one's father; paternal grandmother, one's father's mother.

pa·ter·nal·ism (pə·tur·nəl·iz·əm) n. the policy of governing or controlling people in a paternal way, providing for their needs but giving them no responsibility.

pa·ter·nal·ty (pə·tur·nəl·tē) n. 1. fatherhood, being a father. 2. descent from a father. □ paternity test, a test to determine from blood samples whether a man may be the father of a particular child.

pa·ter·nos·ter (pə·tur·nəs·tər) n. the Lord's Prayer, especially in Latin.

path (path) n. (pl. paths, pr. path) 1. a way by which people pass on foot, a track. 2. a line along which a person or thing moves. 3. a course of action.

path. abbr. 1. pathological. 2. pathology.

pa·thet·ic (pə·thet·ik) adj. 1. arousing pity or sadness. 2. miserably inadequate.

pa·thet·i·cal·ly adv.

path·find·er (pə·thind·ər) n. an explorer.

path·o·gen (pə·thə·jən) n. an agent (such as a bacterium or virus) causing disease.

path·o·gen·ic (pə·thə·jən·ik) adj.

path·ol. abbr. 1. pathological. 2. pathology.

path·o·log·i·cal (pə·thə·lo·jik·əl) adj. 1. of pathology. 2. of or caused by a physical or mental disorder, a pathological liar. path·o·log·i·cal·ly adv.

pa·thol·o·gist (pə·thə·lō·jist) n. an expert in pathology.

pa·thol·o·gy (pə·thə·lō·jə) n. 1. the scientific study of diseases of the body. 2. abnormal changes in body tissue, caused by disease.

pa·thos (pə·thəs) n. a quality that arouses pity or sadness.

path·way (pə·thə·wā) n. a path.

pa·ti·ence (pə·thi·əns) n. 1. calm endurance of hardship or annoyance or inconvenience or delay etc. 2. perseverance. 3. a card game (usually for one player) in which cards have to be brought into a particular arrangement. □ have no patience with, to feel irritated by.

pa·ti·ent (pə·thi·ənt) adj. having or showing patience. patient n. a person receiving treatment by a doctor or dentist etc.

pa·ti·ent·ly adv.

pa·ti·na (pə·tə·nə) n. 1. an attractive green incrustation on the surface of old bronze. 2. a gloss on the surface of woodwork, produced by age.

pa·ti·o (pə·ti·ə) n. (pl. -os) 1. an inner courtyard, open to the sky, in a Spanish or Spanish-American house. 2. a paved area beside a house, used for outdoor meals or relaxation.

pa·tols (pə·tə·lōz, pr. pə·tə·lōz) a dialect.

pat· pend. abbr. patent pending.

pa·tri·arch (pə·trə·árk) n. 1. the male head of a family or tribe; the Patriarchs, the men named in the book of Genesis as the ancestors of mankind or of the tribes of Israel. 2. a bishop of high rank in certain churches. 3. a venerable old man.

pa·tri·arch·al (pə·trə·árk·əl) adj.

pa·tri·arch·al·ism (pə·trə·árk·əl·iz·əm) n.

pat·ric·ian (pə·trə·kē·ən) n. 1. a member of the aristocracy, especially in ancient Rome. patrician adj. aristocratic.

pa·tri·cly·de (pə·trə·sild) n. 1. the act of killing one's father. 2. a person who commits this crime.

pa·tri·cil·al·ly (pə·trə·sild·əl) adv.

pa·tri·ci·al·ly (pə·trə·si·əl) adj. property inherited from one's father or ancestors, a heritage.

pa·tri·mo·ny (pə·trə·mə·nē) n. property inherited from one's father or ancestors, a heritage.

pa·tri·mo·ni·al (pə·trə·mə·nē·əl) adj.

pa·tri·ot·ic (pə·trə·ōt·ik) adj. a patriotic person.

pa·tri·ot·ism (pə·trə·ōt·iz·əm) n. 1. the study of the early Christian writers or their works.

pa·tro·l (pə·trōl) v. (pa·trolled, pa·tro·ling) to walk or travel regularly through (an area or building) in order to see that all is secure and orderly. patrol n. 1. patrolling, on patrol. 2. the person(s) or ship(s) or aircraft whose job is to patrol an area. □ patrol wagon, a police van for prisoners.

pa·tro·man (pə·trōmən) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mən) a policeman assigned to foot patrol.

pa·tron (pə·tros) n. 1. a person who gives encouragement or financial or other support to an activity or cause etc. 2. a regular customer of a shop or restaurant etc.

pa·tron·ess (pə·tros·əs) n. fem.
patron saint, a saint regarded as giving special protection to a person or place or activity.

patronage (pay-trô-nij) n. 1. support given by a patron. 2. the right of appointing a person to a job in government.

patronize (pay-trô-niz) v. (pa-trô-nized, pa-trôn-iz-ing) 1. to act as a patron toward, to support or encourage. 2. to be a regular customer at (a store etc.). 3. to treat in a condescending way.

patronizing adj. condescending. patro-niz-ing-ly adv.

patronymic (pat-ro-nim-ik) n. a name derived from the name of a father or ancestor.

patron (pâ-trôon) n. (old use) the owner of a landed estate with rights to levy taxes and fees.

patter (pat-see) n. (pl. -ties) (slang) a person who is ridiculed or deceived or victimized.

pattern (pat-ér) v. 1. to make a series of light quick taps. 2. to run with short quick steps. patter n. a series of light quick tapping sounds.

patrification (paw-trô-nil-azh) n. 1. to decorate with a pattern.

patronage (paw-trôn-azh) n. 1. a temporary stop in action or speech. pause v. (paused, pa-trô-nil-ing) to make a pause. □ give pause to, to cause (a person) to hesitate.

pave (payv) v. (paved, pav-ing) to cover (a road or path etc.) with stones or concrete etc. to make a hard surface. pav-ing n. □ pave the way, to prepare the way for changes etc. paving stone, a slab of stone for paving.

pave-ment (payv-mênt) n. a paved surface, a paved path for pedestrians at the side of a road.

devil (pâ-vil-yôn) n. 1. a light building or other structure used as a shelter, as in a park. 2. an ornamental building used for dances and concerts etc.

paw (paw) n. 1. the foot of an animal that has claws. 2. (informal) a person's hand.

crawling (pay-rling) v. 1. to strike with a paw. 2. to scrape (the ground) with a hoof. 3. (informal) to touch awkwardly or rudely with the hands.

pawl (pawl) n. a lever with a catch that engages with the notches of a ratchet wheel.

paw (pau) n. 1. a musician of the smallest size and value. 2. a person whose actions are controlled by others.

pawn (pau) v. to deposit (a thing) with a pawnbroker as security for money borrowed.

pawn n. something deposited as a pledge. □ in pawn, deposited as a pawn.

pawn ticket, a receipt for a thing deposited with a pawnbroker.

pawnbroker (paw-brok-ker) n. a person licensed to lend money on the security of personal property deposited with him.

Pawnee (pa-wnee) n. 1. a member of an Indian tribe from Kansas and Nebraska. 2. the language of this tribe.

pawn-shop (paw-shop) n. a pawnbroker's place of business.

paw-paw = papaw.

pay (pay) v. (paid, pay-ing) 1. to give (money) in return for goods or services. 2. to give what is owed, to hand over the amount of (wages, a debt, ransom, etc.). 3. to bear the cost of something. 4. to be profitable or worthwhile. 5. to bestow or render or express, pay attention; paid them a visit; paid them a compliment. 6. to let out (a rope) by slackening it. pay n. 1. payment. 2. wages. 3. paid employment, he is in the pay of the enemy. pay'er n. □ pay as you go, living within one's means, not relying on credit or borrowing, a pay-as-you-go policy. pay for, to suffer or be punished because of (a mistake etc.). paying guest, one who pays for his board and lodging. pay its way, to make enough profit to cover expenses. pay off, to pay in full and be free from (a debt) or discharge (an employee); to yield good results, the risk paid off. pay one's way, not get into debt. pay phone, a coin-operated telephone. pay up, to pay in full; to pay what is demanded.

payable (pay-a-bôl) adj. that must or may be paid.
paycheck (pay-check) n. wages or salary, a check paying this.
pay·ee (pay-e) n. a person to whom money is paid or is to be paid.
pay·load (pay-lohd) n. 1. the part of an aircraft’s load from which revenue is derived (passengers or cargo). 2. the total weight of bombs or instruments carried by an aircraft or rocket etc.
pay·mas·ter (pay-mas-tér) n. an official who pays troops or workmen etc.
pay·ment (pay-mént) n. 1. paying. 2. money given in return for goods or services. 3. reward, compensation.
pay·off (pay-awf) n. (slang) 1. payment. 2. reward or retribution. 3. a climax, especially of a joke or story.
pay·o·la (pay-oh-lá) n. 1. a bribe offered to one who promotes a commercial product by dishonestly making use of his position or influence etc. 2. bribery of this kind.
pay·roll (pay-rohl) n. a list of a firm’s employees receiving regular pay.
Pb symbol lead.
PBB n. a toxic chemical. >From poly-brominated biphenyl.
PBS abbr. Public Broadcasting Service.
PBX abbr. private branch exchange (a private telephone system).
PCB n. a toxic chemical. >From poly-chlorinated biphenyl.
PCP n. a hallucinogenic drug. >From phencyclidine pill.
pct. abbr. percent.
Pd symbol/ palladium.
Pd abbr. Police Department.
pt. abbr. paid.
P.D.Q. abbr. (slang) pretty damn quickly.
PDT abbr. Pacific Daylight Time.
PE abbr. 1. physical education. 2. printer’s error. 3. Professional Engineer. 4. Protestant Episcopal.
pee (pee) n. (pl. pees) 1. a climbing plant bearing seeds in pods. 2. the seed of certain varieties of this, used as a vegetable.
pee·green, bright green, like vegetable peas. pee souper, (informal) a thick yellowish fog.
pee (pees) n. 1. a state of freedom from war, cessation of war. 2. a treaty ending a war, signed the peace. 3. freedom from civil disorder, a breach of the peace. 4. quiet, calm; peace of mind, freedom from anxiety. 5. a state of harmony between people, absence of strife. Peace Corps, an organization of Americans who work in the developing countries.
peace offering, something offered to show that one is willing to make peace.
peace officer, a policeman. peace pipe, a tobacco pipe as a token of peace among North American Indians.
pee·a·ble (pee-sá-bél) adj. 1. not reassuring, desiring to be at peace with others. 2. peaceful, without strife, a peaceable settlement. peace’a·bly adv.
pee·ful (pees-fúl) adj. 1. characterized by peace. 2. belonging to a state of peace not of war, peaceful uses of atomic energy. peace’ful·ly adv. peace’ful·ness n.
pee·keep·ing (pees-kee-ping) adj. refraining from or preventing strife.
pee·keep·er n.
pee·mak·er (pees-may-kér) n. a person who brings about peace.
pee·time (pees-tim) n. a period when a country is not at war.
pee (peech) n. 1. a round juicy fruit with downy yellowish or reddish skin and a rough stone. 2. the tree that bears this. 3. (slang) a person or thing that is greatly admired, an attractive young woman. 4. yellowish-pink color. peach adj. yellowish pink. peach’y adj.
pee·choc·köt (pee-kok) n. a male bird with long tail feathers that can be spread upright like a fan. peach, a dish of ice cream and peaches with raspberry syrup.
pee·cock (pee-kok) n. a male bird with long tail feathers that can be spread upright like a fan. peace, a dish of ice cream and peaches with raspberry syrup.
pee·cent (pee-cent) adj. containing a cent.
pee·jacket a sailor’s short double-breasted overcoat of coarse woolen cloth.
pee (peek) n. 1. a pointed top, especially of a mountain. 2. the mountain itself. 3. any shape or edge or part that tapers to form a point. 4. a projecting part of the edge of a cap. 5. the point of highest value or achievement or intensity etc., at the peak of her career; peak hours, the hours when traffic is heaviest or consumption of electric current etc. is at its highest. peak v. to reach a peak in value or intensity etc.
pee·kid (pee-kid) adj. having a drawn and sickly appearance.
pee (peel) n. 1. the loud ringing of a bell or set of bells. 2. a set of bells with different notes. 3. a loud sustained sound of thunder or laughter. peace v. to sound or cause to sound in a peal.
pee·nut (pee-nut) n. 1. a plant bearing pods that ripen underground, usually containing two edible seeds. 2. this seed. 3. peanuts, (informal) a trivial or contemptibly small amount of money. peanut brittle, a hard caramel and peanut candy. peanut butter, a spread of ground roasted peanuts. peanut gallery, (informal) the rear section of a theater balcony. peanut oil, oil derived from peanuts.

pear (pair) n. 1. a rounded fleshy fruit that tapers toward the stalk. 2. the tree that bears this.

pearl (puril) n. 1. a round usually white mass of a lustrous substance formed inside the shells of certain oysters, valued as a gem. 2. an imitation of this. 3. something resembling it in shape. 4. something valued because of its excellence or beauty. cast pearls before swine, to offer a good thing to someone who is incapable of appreciating it. pearl barley, barley grains ground small. pearl diver, one who dives or fishes for oysters containing pearls. pearl gray, a pale bluish gray.

peared (purld) adj. formed into or covered with pearlike drops.

pearl-y (pur-lee) adj. (pearl-1-er, pearl-1-est) 1. like pearls. 2. with pearls. Pearly Gates, (informal) the gates of heaven.

peas-ant (pez-änt) n. (in some countries) a member of the class of farm laborers and small farmers.

peas-ant-ry (pez-änt-tree) n. peasants.

pea-shoot-er (pee-shoo-tér) n. a toy tube from which peas or pellets are shot by blowing.

peat (peet) n. vegetable matter decomposed by the action of water in marshes etc. and partly carbonized, used in horticulture or cut in pieces as fuel. peat’y adj. peat moss, moss that has formed peat, used to improve soil.

peb·ble (peb·ël) n. a small stone worn round and smooth by the action of water.

pebble v. (peb·bled, peb·bling) 1. to cover with pebbles. 2. to give a textured surface to (leather or paper). peb·bly adj.

pe·can (pi-kahn) n. 1. a smooth edible nut of a hickory tree. 2. the tree bearing this nut.

pec·ca·dil·lo (pek·á-dil-oh) (pl. -loes, -los) a trivial offense.

pec·ca·ry (pek-á-ree) (pl. -ries, -ry) a wild pig of tropical America.

peck¹ (pek) n. 1. a dry measure, = 8 quarts or one-quarter of a bushel. 2. a lot, a peck of trouble.

peck² v. 1. to strike or nip or pick up with the beak. 2. to make (a hole) with the beak. 3. to kiss lightly and hastily. peck n. 1. a stroke or nip made with the beak. 2. a light hasty kiss. peck’er n. peck at, to eat (food) lightly. pecking order, a social hierarchy, originally as observed among domestic fowl.

pec·tin (pek-tin) n. a gelatinous substance found in ripe fruits etc., causing jams and jellies to set. pec’tic adj.

pec·to·ral (pek-tór-ál) adj. 1. of or in or on the chest or breast, pectoral muscles. 2. worn on the breast, a pectoral cross.

pec·u·la·tion (pek-yü-lay-shon) n. embezzlement.

pe·cu·liar (pi·kyoo·li·är) adj. 1. strange, eccentric. 2. belonging exclusively to a particular person or place or time, customs peculiar to the 18th century. 3. particular, special, a point of peculiar interest.

pe·cu·liar·ty (pi·kyoo·li·är·ti) n. 1. in a peculiar way. 2. especially, peculiarly annoying.

pe·cu·liar·ly (pi·kyoo·li·är·li) adj. of or in money, pecuniary aid.

ped·a·gogue (ped·ä-gog) n. a person who teaches in a pedantic way.

ped·a·go·gy (ped·ä-go-jí) n. the art of teaching. ped·a·gog·ic (ped·ä-go-jík) adj. ped·a·gog·i·cal adj.

ped·al (ped·äl) n. a lever operated by the foot in a motor vehicle or cycle or other machine, or in certain musical instruments. pedal v. (ped·aled, ped·al·ing) 1. to work the pedal(s) of. 2. to move or operate by means of pedals, to ride a bicycle. pedal pushers, women’s short slacks reaching below the knee. □ Do not confuse pedal with peddle.

ped·al·boat (ped·äl·boht) n. a pleasure boat operated by pedals.

ped·ant (ped·ánt) n. a person who parades his learning or who insists unimaginatively on strict observance of formal rules and details in the presentation of knowledge. ped·ant·ry (ped·ánt-ri) n. ped·an·tic (pi·dan·tik) adj. ped·an·ti·cal adv.

ped·dle (ped·ël) v. (ped·dled, ped·dling) to sell (goods) as a peddler. □ Do not confuse peddle with pedal.

ped·ler (ped·ler) n. a person who goes from house to house selling small articles.

ped·er·as·ty (ped·ér-ast) n. a man who commits sodomy with a boy. ped·er·as·ty (pi·der·as·ter) n.

ped·es·tal (ped·ész-stäl) n. a base supporting a column or pillar or statue etc. □ put a person on a pedestal, to admire or respect him greatly or excessively.

ped·es·tri·an (pek·des·tr-án) n. a person who is walking, especially in a street. pedestrian adj. 1. of walking, of or for pedestrians. 2. unimaginative, dull. □ pedestrian crossing, see crossing (definition 3).
pediatrician / pelage pedi·at·ri·cian (pee-di-ä-trish-án) n. a specialist in pediatrics.

ped·i·at·rics (pee-di-at-riks) n. the branch of medicine dealing with the diseases of children. pedi*at*ric adj.

ped·i·cab (ped-i-kab) n. a rickshaw pulled by a cyclist.

ped·i·cure (ped-i-kyoor) n. care and treatment of the feet and toenails. ped*i·cur*ist n.

ped·i·gree (ped-i-ghree) n. a line or list of ancestors, especially of a distinguished kind. pedi*gree adj. (of animals) having a recorded line of descent that shows pure breeding, pedi*gree cattle.

ped·i·ment (ped-i-ment) n. a triangular gable crowning the front of a building of the classical Greek style.

ped·lar (ped-lär) n. (old use) a peddler.

pe·dom·e·ter (pé-dom-e-ter) n. a device that calculates the distance a person walks by counting the number of steps taken.

pe·dun·cle (pi-dun-kël) n. the stalk of a flower, fruit, or cluster, especially the main stalk bearing a solitary flower or subordinate stalk.

pee (pee) v. (peed, pee-ing) (informal) to urinate. pee n. (informal) 1. urination. 2. urine.

peek (peek) v. to peep or glance. peek n. a peep or glance.

peel (peel) n. the skin of certain fruits and vegetables. peel v. 1. to remove the peel of. 2. to strip away, to pull off (a skin or covering). 3. to be able to be peeled. 4. to come off in strips or layers, to lose skin or bark etc. in this way. □ peel off, to veer away from a formation of which one formed a part.

peel*ing (pee-ing) n. a strip of skin peeled from potatoes etc.

peen (peen) n. the wedge-shaped or spherical end of the head of a hammer. peen v. 1. to hammer with this. 2. to treat with a stream of metal shot.

peep¹ (peep) v. 1. to look through a narrow opening. 2. to look quickly or surreptitiously or from a concealed place. 3. to come briefly or partially into view, to show slightly. peep n. a brief or surreptitious look. □ peeping Tom, a man who furtively watches someone undressing or engaging in sexual activities. (Named after the Coventry tailor in the story of Lady Godiva.) peep show, a small exhibition of pictures etc. viewed through a lens in a small opening.

peep² n. a weak high chirping sound like that made by young birds. peep v. to make this sound. □ didn't make a peep, (informal) made no sound or complaint.

peep·hole (peep-hohl) n. a small hole to peep through.

peer¹ (peer) v. 1. to look searchingly or with difficulty. 2. to peep out.

peer² n. 1. one who is equal to another (or others) in rank or merit or quality etc. 2. a member of the peerage in Great Britain, a duke, marquis, earl, viscount, or baron, also called peers of the realm, with the right to sit in the House of Lords. □ has no peer, is unequaled in merit, quality, etc. peer group, a group of people who are of equal status, similar occupation, etc.

peer·age (peer-ij) n. 1. peers, the nobility. 2. the rank of peer or peeress. 3. a book containing a list of peers.

peer·ess (peer-es) n. a female peer, a peer's wife.

peer·less (peer-lis) adj. without equal, superb.

peeve (peeve) n. (informal) 1. a cause of annoyance, my pet peeve. 2. a mood of vexation, in a peeve. peeve v. (peoved, peeve-ing) (informal) to annoy.

pee·vish (pee-vish) adj. irritable. pee'vish*ly adv. pee'vish*ness n.

pee·wee (pee-wei) n. (informal) an unusually small boy.

peg (peg) n. 1. a wooden or metal pin or bolt for fastening things together, hanging things on, holding a tent rope taut, or marking a position; a peg on which to hang a sermon, a suitable theme or pretext for it. 2. a wooden screw for tightening or loosening the strings of a violin. 3. (slang) a throw of a baseball.

peg v. (pegged, peg-ging) 1. to fix or mark by means of a peg or pegs. 2. to keep (wages or prices) at a fixed amount. 3. (slang) to throw (a baseball).

□ peg away, to work diligently, to be persistent in doing something. peg leg, (slang) an artificial leg. take a person down a peg, to reduce his pride, to humble him.

peg·board (peg-bohrd) n. a board with holes and pegs.

pelg·n·olr (payn-wahr) n. a woman's dressing gown.

pe·jo·ra·tive (pi-jor-ä-tiv) adj. disparaging, derogatory. pe·jo*ra*ti*ve*ly adv.

peke (peek) n. (informal) a Pekingese dog.

Pe·ki·ng·ese (pee-ki-neez) n. (pl. -ese) a dog of a breed with short legs, flat face, and long silky hair.

pe·ko (pee-ko) n. (informal) made no sound or complaint.

pel·age (pel-i-j) n. the fur, hair, wool of a mammal.
pelagic / penetrate

pel-lag-lc (pel-lag-ik) adj. of, or performed on, the open sea.

e livelihood, wealth.

e pel (pelf). n. (contemptuous) money.

pel-1-can (pel-i-kān) n. a large water bird of warm regions, with a pouch in its long bill for storing fish.

pel-la-gra (pel-la-grā) n. a deficiency disease causing cracking of the skin, disorders of the nervous system, and diarrhea.

pel-let (pel-it) n. 1. a small rounded closely packed mass of a soft substance. 2. a small bullet or shot.

pel-l-mell (pel-mel) adj. & adv. in a hurry ing disorderly manner, headlong.

pel-lu-clid (pel-loo-sid) adj. very clear.

pel-t (pelt) n. an animal skin, especially with the fur or hair still on it.

pel-t (pel-t) v. 1. to throw missiles at. 2. (of rain etc.) to come down fast.

pel-vis (pel-vis) n. the basin-shaped framework of bones at the lower end of the body. pel’vic adj.

pem-mi-can, pem-i-can (pem-i-kān) n. a North American Indian cake of dried and pounded meat mixed with melted fat.

pen (pen) n. a small fenced enclosure especially for cattle, sheep, poultry, etc.

pen (penned, penning) to shut in or as if in a pen.

pen n. a device with a metal point, rolling ball, felt tip, etc. for writing with ink.

pen (penned, penning) to write (a letter etc.). pen name, an author’s pseudonym.

pen pal, a friend with whom a person corresponds without meeting.

pen n. a female swan.

pen n. (slang) a penitentiary.

pen. abbr. peninsula.

P.E.N. abbr. International Association of Poets, Playwrights, Editors, Essayists, and Novelists.

pen-nal (pee-nāl) adj. of or involving punishment, especially according to law.

penal code, the body of laws concerned with punishment of criminals.

pen-ize (pee-nā-liz) v. (penalized, penalizing) 1. to inflict a penalty on. 2. to place at a serious disadvantage.

pen-al-ty (pen-äl-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a punishment for breaking a law or rule or contract. 2. a disadvantage or hardship brought on by some action or quality, the penalties of fame. 3. a disadvantage to which an athlete or team must submit for breaking a rule. penalty area, an area in front of the goal on a soccer field in which a foul by the defenders involves the award of a penalty kick.

penalty box, a place for penalized play ers in hockey. penalty kick, a free kick at goal awarded as a penalty in soccer.

pen-ance (pen-āns) n. 1. an act performed as an expression of penitence. 2. (in the Roman Catholic and Orthodox Churches) a sacrament including confession, absolution, and an act of penitence imposed by a priest. do penance, to perform an act of this kind.

pen-cence (pens) n. pl. (British) a plural form of penny, used for a sum of money, the fare has increased to 20 pence. This form is like the U.S. 20 cents, which means coins totaling this amount, not 20 pennies. See penny.

pen-chant (pen-chant, pahn-shahn) n. a liking or inclination, has a penchant for Indian music.

pen-cl (pen-sil) n. 1. an instrument for drawing or writing, consisting of a thin stick of graphite or colored chalk etc. enclosed in a cylinder of wood or fixed in a metal case. 2. something used or shaped like this. pencil v. (pencil ed, penciling) to write or draw or mark with a pencil.

pencil box, a container for pencils.

pen-dant (pen-dant) n. a hanging ornament, especially one attached to a chain worn around the neck.

pen-dent (pen-dent) adj. hanging.

pend-ing (pen-ding) adj. 1. waiting to be decided or settled. 2. about to come into existence, your pending promotion.

pending prep. 1. during, pending these negotiations. 2. until, pending his return.

pen-du-lous (pen-ju-lus) adj. hanging downward, hanging so as to swing freely.

pen-du-lum (pen-ju-lum) n. 1. a weight hung from a cord so that it can swing freely. 2. a rod with a weighted end that regulates the movement of a clock etc. swing of the pendulum, the tendency for public opinion to favor an opposite policy or political party etc. after a time.

pen-e-plain (pee-ne-playn) n. a region that is almost a plain, as a result of erosion.

pen-e-trate (pen-e-trāt) v. (penetrated, penetrating) 1. to make a way into or through, to pierce. 2. to enter and permeate. 3. to see into or through, our eyes could not penetrate the darkness. 4. to discover or understand, penetrated their secrets. 5. to be absorbed by the mind, my hint didn’t penetrate.
penetrating / Pentecost pen's-tra-tor n. pen's-tra-tion (pen'-tray-shôn) n. pen's-tra-tion (pen'-tray-ting) adj. 1. having or showing great insight. 2. (of a voice or sound) loud and carrying, piercing.

pen's-tra-tive (pen'-tray-tiv) adj. able to penetrate, penetrating.

pen'-guln (pen-gwin, peng-) n. a seabird of the Antarctic and nearby regions, with webbed feet and wings developed into flippers used for swimming.

pen'-hold-er (pen-hohl-dêr) n. a wooden or plastic rod holding a nib.

pen'-il (pen-îl) n. an antibiotic of the kind obtained from mold fungi.

pen'-in-su-la (pe-in-sû-lâ) n. a piece of land that is almost surrounded by water or that projects far into the sea.

pen in'su-lar adj.

pen'-nis (pee-nîs) n. (pl. -nis'es, -nes, pr. -neez) the organ by which a male animal copulates and (in mammals) urinates.

pen'-i-tent (pen-i-tênt) adj. feeling or showing regret that one has done wrong.

pen-i-tent n. a penitent person. pen'-i-ten-ly adv. pen'-i-ten-cy n.

pen'-i-tent-tial (pen-i-ten-shal) adj. of penitence or penance.

pen'-i-tent-ry (pen-i-ten-shâ-rî) n. a prison for offenders convicted of serious crimes.

pen'-knife (pen-nîf) n. (pl. -knives, pr. -nîvz) a small folding knife, usually carried in a person’s pocket.

pen'-light (pen-lît) n. a small flashlight shaped like a fountain pen.

pen'-man (pen-mân) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an expert in penmanship.

pen'-man-ship (pen-mân-ship) n. skill in writing with a pen, his penmanship is poor.

Penn., Penna. abbr. Pennsylavnia.

pen'-nant (pen-ânt) n. 1. a long tapering flag flown on a ship. 2. a flag as a symbol of achievement; they won the American League Pennant, won the championship. □ pennant race, the competition between baseball teams in a league.

pen'-ni-less (pen-i-lîs) adj. having no money, very poor, destitute.

pen'-non (pen-ôn) n. 1. a nautical flag, especially a long narrow triangular or swallow-tailed one. 2. a long pointed streamer on a ship.

Penn'syl-vâ-ni-a (pen-sîl-vây-nî-â) a state of the U.S. Penn'syl-vâ'ni-an adj. & n.

pen'-ny (pen-ce) n. (pl. -nies) 1. a U.S. coin worth one cent. 2. a British coin worth one-hundredth of a pound. (The British plural form 20 pennies means 20 individual coins, just as it does in the U.S. See the note under pence.) 3. a very small sum of money, won’t cost you a penny. □ penny ante, a poker game played for small stakes; (informal) a trivial matter. penny arcade, an amusement area having coin-operated machines and games. penny loafers, (informal) loafers that have leather slots in front in which a penny or other coin is placed. penny wise and pound foolish, careful in small matters but wasteful in large ones. pretty penny, (informal) a large amount of money.

pen'-ny-pin-ching (pen-ce-pin-ching) adj. niggardly. penny-pinching n. niggardliness.

pen'-ny-ro'y-al (pen-ce-roi-âl) n. a species of mint, containing a pungent oil.

pen'-ny-weight (pen-ce-wayt) n. a measure of weight = 24 grains, one-twentieth of a troy ounce.

pen'-ol-o-gy (pi-nol-o-jé) n. the scientific study of crime, its punishment, and prison management.

pen'-sion (pen'shôn) n. 1. a periodic payment made by the government or a former employer to a person who is retired, disabled, or widowed. 2. (pr. pen-syova) a boarding house in Europe. pension v. 1. to pay a pension to. 2. to dismiss or allow to retire with a pension, pensioned him off.

pen'-sion-er (pen-shôn-er) n. a person who receives a pension.

pen'-sive (pen-sîv) adj. deep in thought, thoughtful and gloomy. pen'-sive-ly adv. pen'-sive-ness n.

pen'-stock (pen-stok) n. 1. a sluice or floodgate. 2. a channel for conveying water to a water wheel.

pent (pent) adj. shut in a confined space, pent in or up.

pen'-ta-cle (pen-tâ-kêl) n. a pentagram or other figure used as a symbol, especially in magic.

pen'-ta-gon (pen-tâ-gon) n. a geometric figure with five sides. □ the Pentagon, a five-sided building near Washington, D.C., headquarters of the U.S. Department of Defense and of the leaders of the armed forces; the department itself.

pen'-ta-nal (pen-tâ-nâl) (pen-ta-nâl) adj. five-sided.

pen'-ta-gram (pen-tâ-gram) n. a five-pointed star.

pen'-tam-e-ter (pen-tam-è-ter) n. a line of verse with five metrical feet.

Pen-ta-teuch (pen-ta-toolk) n. the first five books of the Old Testament.

pen'-tath-lon (pen-thath-lôn) n. an athletic contest in which each competitor takes part in the five events it includes.

Pen-te-cost (pen-te-kawst) n. 1. the Jewish harvest festival (Shabuoth), falling fifty days after the second day of Passover. 2. the Christian festival commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles, falling on the seventh Sunday (Whitsunday) after Easter.

Pen·te·cost·al (pen-tek-aw-stal) n. a member of a highly evangelistic Christian church. Pentecostal adj. Pen·te·cost·al·ism n.

pent-house (pent-hows) n. (pl. -hou·ses, pr. -how-ziz) an apartment (usually with a terrace) on the roof of a tall building.

pent-up (pent-up) adj. 1. shut in. 2. kept from being expressed openly, pent-up anger.

pe·nul·ti·mate (pi-nul-ti-mit) adj. next to last.

pe·num·bra (pi-num-brá) n. (pl. -brae, pr. -bree, -bras) the partly shaded region around the shadow of an opaque body, especially around the total shadow of the moon or Earth in eclipse.

pe·nu·ri·ous (pi-nu-ri-ús) adj. 1. stingy. 2. poverty-stricken.

pen·u·ry (pen-yú-ree) n. extreme poverty.

pe·o·ny (pee-6-nee) n. (pl. -nies) a garden plant with large round red or pink or white flowers.

peo·ple (pee-pel) n. pl. 1. human beings in general. 2. the persons belonging to a place or forming a group, the subjects or citizens of a state. 3. ordinary persons, those who have no special rank or authority. 4. a person's parents or other relatives. people n. sing. the persons composing a community or tribe or race or nation, a warlike people; the English-speaking peoples were united during the war. people v. (peo·pled, peo·pling) to fill (a place) with people, to populate.

pep (pep) n. vigor, energy. pep v. (pepped, pep·ping) (informal) to fill with vigor, to enliven, pep it up. pep·py adj. pep·pil, a pill containing a stimulant drug. pep talk, a talk urging the hearer(s) to great effort or courage.

pep·per (pep-er) n. 1. a hot-tasting powder made from the dried berries of certain plants, used to season food. 2. a kind of capsicum grown as a vegetable, its fruit used unripe (green pepper) or ripe (red or yellow pepper); sweet pepper, one with a relatively mild taste. pepper v. 1. to sprinkle with pepper. 2. to pelt with small missiles. 3. to sprinkle here and there, a speech peppered with jokes.

pepper box, a small container with a perforated lid for sprinkling pepper on food. pepper mill, a device for grinding peppercorns. pepper pot, a West Indian stew of meat, vegetables, etc.

pep·per·and·salt (pep-er-án-sawl) adj. woven with light and dark threads producing an effect of small dots.

pep·per·corn (pep-er-korn) n. the dried black berry from which pepper is made.

pep·per·mint (pep-er-mint) n. 1. a kind of mint grown for its strong fragrant oil, used in medicine, candies, etc. 2. the oil itself. 3. a candy flavored with this.

pep·per·y (pep-er-ee) adj. 1. like pepper, containing much pepper. 2. sharp-tongued. 3. easily angered.

pep·sin (pep-sin) n. an enzyme contained in gastric juice, helping to digest food.

pep·tic (pep-tik) adj. of digestion.

pe·p·tic·ul·cer (pee·pik·u·lar) n. an ulcer in the stomach or duodenum.

per (pur, un·stressed per) prep. 1. for each, $2 per gallon. 2. per (informal) in accordance with, as per instructions; as per usual, (informal) as usual. 3. (old use) by means of, per post. per an·num (an-úm), for each year. per cap·i·ta (kap-i-tá), for each person. per di·em (dee-úm), for each day. Many writers avoid the use of per except in business expressions.

per abbr. 1. period. 2. person.

per·ad·ven·ture (per-ad-vén-chur) n. (old use) uncertainty, chance, conjecture, doubt.

per·am·bu·late (per-am-byú-layt) v. (per-am·bu·lat·ed, per·am·bu·lat·ing) 1. to walk through or over or around (an area), to travel through and inspect. 2. to walk about. per·am·bu·la·tion (per-am-byú-lá-shon) n.

per·am·bu·la·tor (per-am·byú-lá-tor) n. a baby carriage.

per an. abbr. per annum.

per·cale (per-kayl) n. a closely woven cotton fabric.

per·ce·ive (per-sevv) v. (per·celved, per·celv·ing) to become aware of, to see or notice.

per·cen·tage (per-sen-tij) n. 1. a rate or proportion expressed as a percent. 2. a proportion or part.

per·sen·tile (per-sen-tal) n. (in statistics) one of 99 values of a variable dividing a population into 100 equal groups in regard to the value of that variable.

per·cep·ti·ble (per-sep-ta-bl) adj. able to be perceived. per·cep·ti·ble·ly adv.

per·cep·ti·bil·ity (per-sep-tí-bil-i-te) n.

per·cep·tion (per-sep-shon) n. perceiving, the ability to perceive. perceptive / perfumery perceptive (pēr-sep-tiv) adj. having or showing insight and sensitive understanding. perceptive-ly adv. perceptiveness n.

per-cut-al (pēr-sep-choo-āl) adj. of or involving perception. per-cut-ally adv.

perch (purch) n. 1. a bird's resting place (such as a branch), a bar or rod provided for this purpose. 2. a high place or narrow ledge etc. on which a person sits or positions himself. perch v. to rest or place on or as if on a perch.

perch* n. (pl. perch) an edible freshwater fish with spiny fins.

per-chance (pēr-chans) adv. (old use) perhaps.

per-clp-i-ent (pēr-slip-i-ent) adj. perceiving, perceptive. per-clp-i-ence n.

per-co-late (pur-kō-lay) v. (per-co-lat-ed, per-co-lat-ing) 1. to filter or cause to filter, especially through small holes. 2. to prepare (coffee) in a percolator. per-co-la-tion (pur-kō-lay-shon) n.

per-co-lato-r (pur-kō-lay-tōr) n. a pot in which coffee is made and served, in which boiling water is made to circulate repeatedly up a central tube and downward through ground coffee held in a perforated drum near the top.

per-cus-sion (pēr-kush-ōn) n. 1. the striking of one object against another. 2. the percussion instruments in an orchestra. per-cus-sion-ist n. □ per-cus-sion cap, a small metal device containing explosive powder that explodes when it is struck, used as a detonator.

per-cus-sion instrument, a musical instrument (such as drum, cymbals, tambourine) played by striking.

per-di-tion (pēr-di-shōn) n. eternal damnation.

per-dur-a-ble (pēr-door-ā-bēl) adj. very durable, permanent. per-dur-a-bil-ity (pēr-door-ā-bil-i-tee) n.

per-e-cri-na-tion (pēr-e-grī-nay-shōn) n. traveling, a journey.

per-e-grine (pēr-e-grīn) n. (also per-e-grine falcon) a kind of falcon that can be trained to hunt and catch small animals and birds.

per-empt-or-y (pēr-empt-or-ē) adj. imperious, insisting on obedience, a peremptory order. per-empt-or-ily (pēr-empt-or-ē-ly) adv.

per-enn-i-al (pēr-ren-i-āl) adj. 1. lasting a time long or forever, constantly recurring, a perennial problem. 2. (of a plant) living for several years. perennial n. a perennial plant. per-enn-i-al-ly adv.

perf. abbr. 1. perfect. 2. perforated.

per-fect (pur-fekt) adj. 1. complete, having all its essential qualities. 2. faultless, excellent. 3. exact, precise, a perfect circle. 4. entire, total, a perfect stranger. perfect (pēr-fekt) v. to make perfect. perfect (pur-fikt) n. the perfect tense. □ perfect tense, a tense indicating a completed action or event viewed in relation to the present or to a specified time. (See tense.)

per-fec-ta (pēr-fek-tā) n. a system of betting in which thebettor must name the first and second horses or dogs to finish in a race.

per-fec-ti-ble (pēr-fek-ti-bēl) adj. able to be perfected. per-fec-ti-ble-ly (pēr-fek-ti-bil-i-tee) n.

per-fec-tion (pēr-fek-shōn) n. 1. making or being perfect. 2. a person or thing considered perfect. □ to perfection, perfectly.

per-fec-tion-ist (pēr-fek-shōn-ist) n. a person who is satisfied with nothing less than what he thinks is perfect. perfection-ism n.

per-fec-tly (pēr-fek-tē) adv. 1. in a perfect way. 2. completely, quite, perfectly satisfied.

per-fec-to (pēr-fek-to) n. (pl. -tos) a large thick cigar pointed at each end.

per-fid-i-ous (pēr-fid-i-ous) adj. treacherous, disloyal. per-fid-i-ous-ly adv. per-fid-ity (pur-fid-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties).

per-form (pēr-fōrm) v. 1. to carry into effect, to accomplish, to do. 2. to go through (a particular proceeding), to execute, performed the ceremony. 3. to function, the car performed well when tested. 4. to act in a play etc., to play an instrument or sing or do tricks before an audience. per-form-er n. □ per-forming arts, those arts, such as drama etc., that require public performance.

per-form-ance (pēr-for-mans) n. 1. the process or manner of performing. 2. a notable action or achievement. 3. the performing of a play or other entertainment, two performances a day.

per-fume (pēr-fyoom, pur-fyoom) n. 1. a sweet smell. 2. a fragrant liquid for giving a pleasant smell, especially to the body. perfume (pēr-fyoom) v. (per-fum-ed, per-fum-ing) to give a sweet smell to, to apply perfume to.

per-fum-er-y (pēr-fyoo-mē-ree) n. (pl. -er-ies) perfumes, the preparation of these.
perfunc·to·ry (për-fûŋk-tô-ree) adj. 1. done as a duty or routine but without much care or interest. 2. (of a person) acting in this way. perfunc·to·ri·ly adv. perfunc·to·ri·ness n.

per·go·la (pur-gô-lâ) n. an arbor or covered walk formed of 'climbing plants trained over trellises.

per·h. abbr. perhaps.

per·haps (për-haps) adv. it may be, possibly.

per·i·car·pi·um (për-i-kahr-pî-um) n. (pl. -di-a, pr. -di-â) the membranous sac enclosing the heart.

per·i·carp (për-i-kahrp) n. a vessel containing seed formed from the wall of a ripened ovary or fruit.

per·i·gee (për-i-jee) n. the point (in the orbit of the moon, a planet, or an artificial satellite) nearest to Earth.

per·i·he·li·on (për-i-he-li-ôn) n. (pl. -he-li-a, pr. -he-li-â) the point (of a planet's or comet's orbit) nearest to the sun.

per·il (për-il) n. serious danger.

per·il·lous (për-il-lûs) adj. full of risk, dangerous. perillously adv.

per·il·lune (për-i-loon) n. the point in an object's orbit about the moon where it is closest to the moon's center.

per·im·e·ter (pë-rim-i-ter) n. 1. the outer edge or boundary of a closed geometric figure or of an area. 2. the length of this.

per·i·ne·um (për-i-ne-ûm) n. (pl. -ne-a, pr. -nee-â) the region of the body between the anus and the scrotum or vulva.

per·i·ne·al (për-i-ne-èl) adj.

per·i·od·od (për-i-ôd) n. 1. a length or portion of time. 2. a time with particular characteristics, the colonial period. 3. the time allocated for a lesson in school. 4. an occurrence of menstruation. 5. a mark of punctuation . used at the end of a sentence, to indicate an abbreviation etc. 6. the geologic time forming part of an era. period adj. (of furniture or dress or architecture) belonging to a past age.

per·i·od·ic (për-i-ôd-ik) adj. occurring or appearing at intervals. [periodic table, a chart depicting the arrangement of elements in order of atomic numbers and in which elements of similar chemical properties appear at regular intervals.

per·i·od·i·cal (për-i-ôd-i-kal) adj. periodic. periodic adj. a magazine etc. published at regular intervals. period·i·cal·ly adv.

per·i·o·don·tal (për-i-ô-don-tôl) adj. of the tissues surrounding and supporting the teeth.

per·i·pa·tet·ic (për-i-pâ-tet-ik) adj. going from place to place.

per·i·ph·er·al (për-rif-è-râl) adj. 1. of or on the periphery. 2. of minor importance to something.

per·i·ph·er·y (për-rif-è-re) n. (pl. -er·ies) 1. the boundary of a surface or area, the region immediately inside or outside this. 2. the fringes of a subject etc.

per·i·ph·ra·lis (për-rif-râ-lis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -seez) a roundabout phrase or way of speaking, a circumlocution.

per·i·scope (për-i-skôp) n. an apparatus with a tube and mirror(s) by which a person in a trench or submerged submarine or at the rear of a crowd etc. can see things that are otherwise out of sight.

per·ish (për-îsh) v. 1. to suffer destruction, to become extinct, to die a violent or untimely death. 2. to distress or wither by cold or exposure.

per·ish·a·ble (për-i-shâ-bêl) adj. liable to decay or go bad in a short time.

per·ish·a·bles (për-i-shâ-bêlz) n. pl. perishable foods.

per·i·stal·sis (për-i-stawl-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -seez) the automatic muscular movement, consisting of successive wavelike contractions and relaxations, by which the contents of the alimentary canal etc. are propelled along it. per·i·stal·tic (për-i-stawl-tik) adj.

per·i·stal·ty (për-i-stawl-ter) n. 1. a row of columns surrounding a temple, court, building, etc. 2. the space so surrounded.

per·i·to·ne·um (për-i-tô-ne-ûm) n. the membrane lining the abdomen.

per·i·to·ni·lis·is (për-i-tô-ni-lis) n. inflammation of the peritoneum.

per·i·wi·lage (për-i-wîl-i) n. a evergreen trailing plant with blue or white flowers.

periwinkle2 n. an edible small sea snail.

per·i·jure (për-jûr) v. (për-jûred, per·i·jur·ing) perjure oneself, to make a perjured statement. per·i·jur·er n.

per·jú·ry (për-jû-ree) n. (pl. -ries) the deliberate giving of false evidence while on oath, the evidence itself.

perk v. (informal) to raise (the head etc.) briskly or jauntily. perk up, to regain or cause to regain courage or confidence or vitality.

perk n. (informal) a perquisite.

perk v. (informal) to percolate (coffee), to bubble up in a percolator.

perk·y (pur-kee) adj. (perk·y·er, perk·y·est) lively and cheerful. perk·ily adv. perk·i·ness n.

per·lit·te (për-lît) n. a volcanic rock, expandable by heating, used in insulating material, concrete, etc.

perm. abbr. permanent.
perma-frost (pur-má-frost) n. the permanently frozen subsoil in polar regions.
per-ma-nent (pur-má-nént) adj. lasting or meant to last indefinitely. permanent n. a permanent wave. per-ma-nent-ly adv. per-ma-nence n. per-ma-nen-cy (pur-má-nén-sí) n. □ permanent press, (of a fabric) requiring little or no ironing because of its wrinkle-resistant quality. permanent wave, a long-lasting artificial wave in the hair. per-me-a-bile (pur-mi-á-bél) adj. able to be permeated by fluids etc. per-me-a-ble-ty (pur-mi-á-bél-i-tee) n.
per-me-ate (pur-mi-ay) v. to pass or flow or spread into every part of. per-me-a-tion (pur-mi-ay-shón) n. per-mi-an (pur-mi-án) adj. of the latest geologic period of the Paleozoic era. Permian n. the Permian period.
per-mis-si-bly adv.
per-mis-si-on (pur-mish-ón) n. consent or authorization to do something.
per-mis-sive (pur-mis-iv) adj. 1. giving permission. 2. tolerant, allowing much freedom in social conduct and sexual matters, or in raising children. per-mis-sive-ness n.
per-mit (pur-mit) v. (per-mit-ted, per-mit-ting) 1. to give permission or consent, to authorize. 2. to give opportunity, to make possible, weather permitting. permit (pur-mit) n. a written order giving permission, especially for entry into a place. □ See the note under allow.
per-mu-ta-tion (pur-myú-tay-shón) n. 1. variation of the order of a set of things. 2. any one of these arrangements.
per-mute (pur-myoot) v. (per-mut-ed, per-mut-ing) to vary the order or arrangement of.
per-nil-ous (pur-nil-ús) adj. having a very harmful effect. per-nil'ous-ly adv. □ pernicious anemia, a severe progressive frequently fatal form of anemia.
per-o-ra-tion (per-ó-ray-shón) n. a lengthy speech, the last part of this.
per-o-xide (pur-óx-íd) n. 1. a compound containing the maximum proportion of oxygen. 2. hydrogen peroxide (see hydrogen). perox-ide v. (per-o-x-id-ed, per-ox-id-ing) to bleach with hydrogen peroxide.
perp. abbr. perpendicular.
per-pen-dic-u-lar (pur-pén-dik-yú-lár) adj. 1. at a right angle (90°) to another line or surface. 2. upright, at right angles to the horizontal. 3. (of a cliff etc.) having a vertical face. 4. Perpendicular, of the style of English Gothic architecture in the 14th–15th centuries, with vertical tracery in large windows. per-pen-dic-u-lar n. a perpendicular line or direction. per-pen-dic-u-lar-ly adv. per-pen-dic-u-lar-ty (pur-pén-dik-yú-lár-i-tee) n.
per-pe-trate (pur-pé-trat) v. (per-pe-trat-ed, per-pe-trat-ing) to commit (a crime or error), to be guilty of (a blunder etc.). per-pe-tra-tion (pur-pé-tray-shón) n. per-pe-tra-tor n.
per-pet-u-al (pur-pech-oo-ál) adj. 1. lasting for a long time, not ceasing. 2. (informal) frequent, often repeated, this perpetual quarreling. per-pet-u-al-ly adv. □ perpetual calendar, one that can be used for any year or over a long period.
per-pet-u-ate (pur-pech-oo-ay) v. (per-pet-u-at-ed, per-pet-u-at-ing) to preserve from being forgotten or from going out of use, his invention will perpetuate his memory. per-pet-u-a-tion (pur-pech-oo-ay-shón) n.
per-per-tu-a-ty (pur-pé-too-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) the state or quality of being perpetual. □ in perpetuity, forever.
per-pex (pur-péks) v. 1. to bewilder, to puzzle. 2. to make more complicated.
per-pex-ed-ly (pur-pék-sid-lee) adv. in a perplexed way.
per-pilex (pur-pileks) v. 1. to bewilder, to puzzle. 2. to make more complicated.
per-pilex-ed-ly (pur-pilex-sid-lee) adv. in a perplexed way.
per-pilex-i-ty (pur-pilex-si-tee) n. (pl. -ties) bewilderment.
per-quil-site (pur-kwi-zit) n. a profit or allowance or privilege etc. given or looked upon as one's right in addition to wages or salary. □ Do not confuse perquisite with prerequisite.
per se (pér say) by or in itself, intrinsically. □ Latin.
per-se-cute (pur-sé-kyoot) v. (per-se-cut-ed, per-se-cut-ing) 1. to subject to constant hostility or cruel treatment, especially because of religious or political beliefs. 2. to harass. per-se-cu-tor n. per-se-cu-tion (pur-sé-kyoo-shón) n. □ persecution complex, an insane delusion that one is being persecuted. □ Do not confuse prosecute with prosecute.
per-se-ver-ence (pur-sé-ver-ans) n. per-se-ver-ing, per-se-ver-ly adv. (pur-se-ver-ans) to continue steadfastly, especially in something that is difficult or tedious. per-se-ver-ance (pur-sé-ver-ans) n.
Per-sia (pur-z/ša) the ancient and now the alternative name of Iran.
Per-sian (pur-zhán) adj. of Persia or its people or language. Persian n. 1. a native or inhabitant of Persia. 2. the language of Persia. 3. a Persian cat. □ Per-sian cat, a cat of a breed that has long silky fur. Persian lamb, the silky tightly curled fur of lambs of a kind of Asian sheep.

persistent (pər-sist) v. 1. to continue firmly or obstinately, she persists in breaking the rules. 2. to continue to exist, the custom persists in some areas.

person (pər-sən) n. 1. an individual human being. 2. the living body of a human being; offenses against the person, bodily attacks. 3. (in Christian doctrine) one of the three modes of being of the Godhead; the three Persons of the Trinity, the Father (First Person), the Son (Second Person), the Holy Spirit (Third Person).

4. (in grammar) any of the three classes of personal pronouns and verb forms, referring to the person speaking (first person = I, me, we, us), or spoken to (second person = thee, thou, you), or spoken of (third person = he, him, she, her, it, they, them). □ in person, physically present.

persuadable (pər-səd-ə-bəl) adj. having a pleasing manner, good-looking.

personage (pər-sənj) n. a person, especially one of importance or distinction.

personal (pər-sən-əl) adj. 1. one's own or a particular person's own, will give it my personal attention. 2. of one's own or another's private life, a personal matter. 3. making remarks about a person's appearance or his private affairs, especially in a critical or hostile way, let's not become personal. 4. done or made etc. in person, several personal appearances. 5. of the body and clothing, personal hygiene. 6. existing as a person, a personal God. □ personal column or personals, a column of private messages or advertisements in a newspaper.

personal effects, articles belonging to a person, such as clothing. personal pronoun, see pronoun. □ Do not confuse personal with personnel.

personality cult, veneration of a famous or successful person, hero worship.

personalize (pər-sə-nal-iz) v. (pər-sən-al-ized, pər-sən-al-iz-ing) to make personal, especially by marking as one's own property.

personalize (pər-sə-nal-li) adv. 1. in person, not through an agent, showed us around personally. 2. as a person, in a personal capacity, we don't know him personally. 3. in a personal manner, don't take it personally. 4. as regards oneself, personally, I like it.

personalize (pər-sə-nal-iz-ə-nə) n. 1. the body of people employed in any work, staff. 2. the department (in a business firm etc.) dealing with employees and their problems and welfare. □ Do not confuse personnel with personal.

persuadible (pər-səd-ə-bəl) adj. having or showing great insight. persuadible (pər-səd-ə-bəl) adj. easily understood, clearly expressed. persuade (pər-səd, pər-səd-ing) to sustain. persuasion (pər-sə-zi-ā-shən) n. □ Do not confuse perspicacious with perspicuous. persuasive / peter

n. 3. belief, especially religious belief, people of the same persuasion.

per·sua·sive (për-sway-siv) adj. able or trying to persuade. per·sua·sive·ly adv. per·sua·sive·ness n.

pert (pur·t) adj. 1. cheeky. 2. lively. pert'ly adv. pert'ness n.

PERT (pert) n. program evaluation and review technique.

per·t·a·in (për·tay·n) v. 1. to be relevant, evidence pertaining to the case. 2. to belong as part, the responsibilities pertaining to high office.

per·ti·na·clous (pur·ti·nay·shus) adj. holding firmly to an opinion or course of action, persistent and determined.

per·ti·na·clous·ly adv. per·ti·na·clous·ness n.

per·ti·nent (pur·ti·nent) adj. pertaining, relevant. per·ti·nent·ly adv. per·ti·nence n.

per·turb (për-turb) v. to disturb greatly, to make anxious or uneasy. per·turb·a·tion (pur·turb·a·shun) n. per·turb·a·ble adj. per·turb·ed·ly adv. per·turb·a·ble·ness n.

Pe·ru (pë·roo) n. 1. country in South America. Pe·ru·vi·an (pë·rov·ve·ë·ë·ë) adj. & n.

pe·ru·ke (pë·rök) n. (old use) a wig.

pe·ru·se (pë·rouz) v. (pë·rus·ed, pe·rus·ing) to read or examine (printed material), especially with great care. pe·rus·al n.

per·vade (për·vayd) v. (per·vad·ed, per·vad·ing) to spread or be present throughout, to permeate, a pervading atmosphere of optimism. per·va·sion (për·vay·shun) n.

per·va·sive (për·vay·siv) adj. pervading. per·va·sive·ness n.

per·verse (për·vurs) adj. 1. obstinately doing something different from what is reasonable or required, intractable. 2. indicating or characterized by a tendency of this kind, a perverse satisfaction. per·verse·ly adv. per·verse·ness n. per·ver·si·ty (për·vur·si·të) n. (pl. -ties).

pes·sow (pes·soh) n. (pl. -soh) the unit of money in Spain.

es·ky (pes·kee) adj. (pes·ki·er, pes·ki·est) (informal) troublesome, annoying.

pes·so (pes·so) adj. 1. something of the kind of small bombshell; hoist with his own pet·tard, injured by his own devices against others.

pe·ter (pee·tër) v. peter out, to dimin-

n. 1. kindness, affection, attachment, like, or sympathy.

pes·ter (pes·ter) v. to disturb with many requests, to annoy with frequent requests or questions.

pes·tic·ide (pes·tie·ëd) n. a substance for destroying harmful insects etc.

pes·ti·fic·ious (pes·tie·fik·ës) adj. showing pessimism. pes·tic·i·fic·ious·ly adv.

pes·ti·len·ce (pes·tie·lin·së) n. a disease or condition that is destructive to cultivated plants or stored food etc.

pes·ti·len·tial (pes·tie·lin·sël) adj. causing death or destruction; deadly.

pes·ti·li·cal·ly (pes·tie·li·kal·ë) adv.

pes·ti·lic·ide (pes·tie·li·sëd) n. a club-shaped instrument for pounding substances in a mortar.

pes·ti·li·men·tious (pes·tie·li·men·tree·sës) adj. for pesti·lic·ide.

pet·al (pet·al) n. 1. a petal of a flower.

pet·e·ter (pee·tër) v. pet·er out, to diminish.
ish gradually and cease to exist.

Pet-er (pee-tër) n. 1. one of the twelve Apostles. 2. either of two books of the New Testament ascribed to him.

pet·i·ole (pet-i-ohl) n. a slender stalk joining leaf to stem.

pe·til·lent (pet-ee) adj. petit bourgeois, a member of the lower middle class. petit four, a small fancy cake. petit jury, a jury convened to hear civil or criminal cases at trial, as distinct from a grand jury (see grand). petit larceny, larceny involving property of small value. petit mai, a mild form of epilepsy without loss of consciousness. petit point, embroidery on canvas using small stitches.

pet·ite (pee-té) adj. (of a woman) of small dainty build.

pe·ti·tion (pë-tish-ôn) n. 1. an earnest request. 2. a formal document appealing to an authority for a right or benefit etc., especially one signed by a large number of people. 3. a formal application made to a court of law for a writ or order etc. petition v. to make or address a petition to. pet·i·tion·er n.

pet·rel (pet-rél) n. a kind of seabird that flies far from land.

pet·ri·fi·ed (pet-ri-fi) v. (pet·ri·fi·ing, pet·ri·fi·en·tion) adj. 1. to cause or change to cause into a stony mass. 2. to paralyze or stun with astonishment or fear etc. pet·ri·fi·ca·tion (pet-ri-fi·kay-shôn) n.

pet·ro·chem·i·cal (pet·ro-kem·i-kál) n. a chemical substance obtained from petroleum or natural gas.

pet·ro·chem·is·try (pet·ro-kem·i-stree) n.

pet·ro·dol·lar (pet·ro·dol·år) n. a dollar earned by a country that exports petroleum (= oil).

pe·tro·gra·phy (pi-tro·gra·fè) n. the scientific description of the composition and formation of rocks. pe·tro·gra·pher n. pet·ro·graph·ic (pet·ro·graf·ik) adj. pet·ro·graph·i·cal adj.

pet·rol (pet-ról) n. (British) gasoline.

pet·ro·lum (pet·ro·lüm) n. petroleum jelly.

pet·ro·le·um (pë-tro·li-üm) n. a mineral oil found underground, refined for use as fuel (as, gasoline, kerosene) or for use in dry cleaning etc. pet·ro·leum jelly, a greasy translucent substance obtained from petroleum, used as a lubricant etc.

pet·rol·o·gy (pi-trol·o·jè) n. the scientific study of the origin, structure, etc. of rocks. pet·rol·o·gist n. pet·rol·o·gy (pet·ro·lo·jè) adj. pet·rol·o·gical adj.

pet·ti·coat (pet-i-koh) n. a woman’s or girl’s dress-length undergarment worn hanging from the shoulders or waist beneath a dress or skirt. pet·ti·coat·gov·ernment, (com·pete·rous) dominance of women in the home or in politics.

pet·ti·fog (pet·ti·fog) v. (pet·ti·fogged, pet·ti·fog·ging) 1. to quibble. 2. to engage in legal trickery. pet·ti·fog·ger n.

pet·ting (pet·ting) n. 1. affectionate treat·ment. 2. (informal) kissing and fondling.

pet·tish (pet·ti) adj. peevish, irritable or unreasonably impatient. pet·tish·ly adv. pet·tish·ness n.

pet·ty (pet·ti) adj. (pet·ti·er, pet·ti·est) 1. unimportant, trivial, petty details; petty jury = petit jury (see petit); petty larceny = petit larceny (see petit). 2. small-minded, petty spite. pet·ti·ly adv.

pet·ty·cash n. a small amount of money kept by an office etc. for or from small payments. petty officer, a noncommissioned officer in the navy.

pet·u·lant (pech-ú-lant) adj. peevish, unreasonably impatient. pet·u·lan·tly adv. pet·u·lan·ce n.

pe·tu·ni·a (pë-too·ni·ä) n. a garden plant with funnel-shaped flowers in bright colors.

pew (pyoo) n. one of the long bench-like seats with a back and sides, usually fixed in rows, for the congregation in a church.

pe·wee (pee-wee) n. a phoebe.

pe·we·ter (pyoo-tër) n. 1. a gray alloy of tin with lead or other metal, used for making mugs and dishes etc. 2. articles made of this.

pe·yo·te (pay-oh-të) n. 1. a Mexican cactus. 2. the hallucinogenic drug prepared from this plant.

pf. abbr. 1. pfennig. 2. preferred.

PFC abbr. private first class.

pfd. abbr. preferred.

pfen·nig (fan·jig) n. (pl. pfen·nigs, pfen·ni·ge, pr. fan·i·gë) a German coin worth one-hundredth of a mark.

PG abbr. 1. parental guidance. 2. postgraduate.

pg. abbr. page.

pH *pë·ách) n. a measure of the acidity or alkalinity of a solution.

pha·e·ton (fay·ë·tôn) n. an old type of open horse-drawn carriage with four wheels.

phage (faj) n. a bacteriophage.

pha·lan·x (fay·länks, fäl·angks) n. (pl. pha·lan·xes, pha·lan·ges, pr. fäl·an·jëz) a number of people forming a compact mass or banded together for a common purpose.

pha·lan·rops (fäl·ä·rohp) n. a small wading and swimming bird resembling the sandpiper.
ing. phi-lat’e-list n. phi-a-tel’ic (fil-ā-tel-ik) adj.

phil·har·mon·ic (fil-hahr-mon-ik, fil-ār-ik) adj. (in names of symphony orchestras and music societies) devoted to music.

Phil·ip·ans (fi-lip-ee-anz) n. a book of the New Testament, the epistle of St. Paul to the Church at Philippi.

phi·lip·pic (fi-lip-ik) n. 1. a tirade. 2. philippics, a series of bitter verbal attacks.

Phil·ip·pine (fil-ep-īn) adj. of the Philippines, Filipino. Philippines n.pl. the Philippine Islands, a country consisting of a group of islands in the western Pacific.

Phil·is·tine (fil-ī-stēn) n. 1. a member of a people in ancient Palestine who were enemies of the Israelites. 2. philistine, an uncultured person, one whose interests are material and commonplace. philis·tine adj. having or showing uncultured tastes.

phil·o·den·dron (fil-ō-den-drōn) n. (pl. -drons, -dra, pr. -drā) a tropical American climbing plant.

phi·lo·lo·gy (fi-lō-lō-jē) n. the scientific study of languages and their development. phi·lo’lo·gist n. phi·lo·log·ic (fī-lo-log’ik) n. (pl. -log’ics) 1. a philologist. 2. calmly reasonable, bearing unavoidable misfortune unemotionally.

phi·lo·soph’ic (fī-lo-sōf’ik) adj. phi·lo·soph’i·cal (fī-lo-sōf’ē-kāl) adj. 1. of philosophy. 2. calmly reasonable, bearing unavoidable misfortune unemotionally.

phi·lo·soph’i·cal·ly adv.

phi·lo·sophize (fi-lō-sōf’iz) v. (phi·los·o·phiz·ed, phi·los·o·phiz·ing) to reason like a philosopher, to moralize.

phi·los·o·phy (fi-lō-sō-fē) n. (pl. -phies) 1. the search, by logical reasoning, for understanding of the basic truths and principles of the universe, life, and morals, and of human perception and understanding of these. 2. a system of ideas concerning this or a particular subject, a system of principles for the conduct of life. 3. the ideas or teaching of a particular philosopher. 4. advanced learning in general, Doctor of Philosophy. 5. calm endurance of misfortune etc.

phi·ler·ter (fi-lēr-tēr) n. a supposedly magic potion.

phle·bi·ts (flē-brī-tēz) n. inflammation of the walls of a vein.

phle·bot·o·my (flē-bot-ō-mē) n. (pl. -mies) blood-letting as a medical operation.

phlegm (flem) n. thick mucus in the throat and bronchial passages, ejected by coughing.

phleg·mat·ic (fleg-mat-ik) adj. 1. not easily excited or agitated. 2. sluggish, apathetic. phleg·mat’i·cal·ly adv.

 phi·lo·em (fil-ō-em) n. the soft tissue of plant stems.

phi·lox (flōks) n. a plant with a cluster of reddish or purple or white flowers at the end of each stem.

Phnom Penh (nom pen, pē-nom) the capital of Kampuchea.

pho·bi·a (foh-bē-ā) n. a lasting abnormal fear or great dislike of something.

phoe·be (fee-bee) n. a small grayish-brown bird with a call resembling its name.

Phoe·ni·can (fō-nee-shān) n. 1. a member of an ancient Semitic people of the eastern Mediterranean. 2. their language. Phoenician adj. of the Phoenicians or their language.

phoe·nix (fee-niks) n. 1. a mythical bird of the Arabian desert, said to live for hundreds of years and then burn itself on a funeral pyre, rising from its ashes young again to live for another cycle. 2. Phoenix, the capital of Arizona.

phon. abbr. phonetics.

phone (fohn) n. a telephone. phone v. (phon·ed, phon·ing) to telephone.

□ on the phone, using the telephone.

over the phone, by use of the telephone.

pho·nem (foh-neem) n. a unit of significant sound in a specified language, as m in mute and b in bag. pho·ne·mic (fō-ne-mik) adj.

phonet. abbr. phonetics.

phon·et·ic (fō-net’ik) adj. 1. representing each speech sound by a particular symbol that is always used for that sound; the phonetic alphabet, a set of symbols used in this way. 2. (of spelling) corresponding to pronunciation. pho·net’i·cal·ly adv.

phon·ics (fō-net-iks) n. the study of speech sounds.

phon·i·cal·ly adv.

phon·ics (fō-neks) n. 1. the study of sound. 2. the use of sound in teaching people to read.

pho·no·graph (foh-no-graf) n. a record player. pho·no·graph·ic (foh-no-graf’ēk) adj.
photomural / pl pho·to·mu·ral (foh-toh-myoor-āl) n. a large photograph used as a mural or wall decoration.

pho·ton (foh-ton) n. a quantum of electromagnetic radiation energy, proportional to the frequency of radiation.

pho·to·play (foh-toh-play) n. (old use) a screenplay.

pho·to·sen·si·tive (foh-toh-sen-si-tiv) adj. reacting chemically etc. to light.

pho·to·sen·si·ti·za·tion (foh-toh-sen-si-ti-zā-shon) n.

pho·to·sphere (foh-toh-sfeer) n. the luminous envelope of the sun or a star from which its light and heat radiate.

pho·to·spher·ic (foh-toh-sfer-ik) adj.

pho·to·stat (foh-tō-stat) n. (trademark) 1. a type of photocopier. 2. (also photo·stat) a copy made with this. photo·stat v. to photocopy with this machine. pho·to·stat·ic adj.

pho·to·syn·the·sis (foh-toh-sin-thē-sis) n. the process by which green plants use sunlight to convert carbon dioxide (taken from the air) and water into complex substances.

pho·to·syn·the·tic (foh-toh-sin-thē-tik) adj.

pho·to·vol·ta·ic (foh-toh-vol-tay-ik) adj. of or relating to the production of electric current at the junction of two substances exposed to light.

phr. abbr. phrase.

phrase (frayz) n. 1. a group of words forming a unit, especially as an idiom or a striking or clever way of saying something. 2. a group of words (usually without a finite verb) forming a unit within a sentence or clause, as in the garden. 3. the way something is worded, we didn’t like his choice of phrase. 4. a short distinct passage forming a unit in a melody. phrase v. (phrased, phrasing) 1. to express in words. 2. to divide (music) into phrases. phrases’ing n.

phrase book, a book listing common phrases and their equivalents in a foreign language, for use by travelers.

phra·se·ol·o·gy (frayz-ō-lō-je) n. wording, the way something is worded.

phren·et·ic = frenetic.

phren·ic (fren-ik) adj. of the diaphragm.

phren·ol·ogy (fri-nol-ō-je) n. the study of the external shape of a person’s skull as a supposed indication of his character and abilities.

PHS abbr. Public Health Service.

phy·lac·ter·y (fi-lak-tē-ree) n. (pl. -ter·ies) a small leather box containing Hebrew texts on vellum, worn by Jews at morning weekday prayer to remind them to keep the Jewish religious law.

phy·log·e·ny (fi-loj-ē-nee) n. the evolution of an animal or plant type.

phy·lum (fr-lūm) n. (pl. -la, pr. -la) a major division of the animal or plant kingdom, containing species having the same general form.

phys. abbr. 1. physical. 2. physician. 3. physics.

phys·ic (fiz-ik) n. (informal) a laxative.

phys·i·cal (fiz-i-kāl) adj. 1. of the body, physical fitness. 2. of matter or the laws of nature (as opposed to moral or spiritual or imaginary things), the physical world; a physical map, one showing mountains and rivers and other natural features. 3. of physics. phys·i·cal n. (informal) a physical examination. phys·i·cal·ly adv. □ physical chemistry, a branch of chemistry in which physics is used to study substances and their reactions. physical education, a course of study emphasizing sports, exercise, and hygiene. physical examination, a medical examination. physical geography, a branch of geography dealing with the natural features of Earth’s surface (such as mountains, lakes, rivers). physical science, see science. physical therapy, physiotherapy.

phys·i·cian (fi-zish-ān) n. a doctor, especially one who practices medicine (as distinct from surgery).

phys·i·cist (fiz-i-sist) n. an expert in physics.

phys·ics (fiz-iks) n. 1. the scientific study of the properties and interactions of matter and energy. 2. these properties and interactions.

phys·i·o·no·my (fiz-i-ō-nō-mē) n. (pl. -mes) the features of a person’s face.

phys·i·o·gra·phy (fiz-i-ō-grā-fee) n. a description of nature, of natural phenomena, or of a class of objects. phys·i·o·graph·ic (fiz-i-ō-grā-fik) adj.

physiol. abbr. 1. physiologist. 2. physiology.

phys·i·o·log·ist (fiz-i-ō-lō-je) n. an expert in physiology.

phys·i·ol·ogy (fiz-i-ō-je) n. 1. the scientific study of the bodily functions of living organisms and their parts. 2. these functions. phys·i·o·log·ical (fiz-i-ō-loj-ik) adj. phys·i·o·log·ic·al·ly adv.

phys·i·o·ther·a·py (fiz-i-o-ther-ē-pee) n. treatment of a disease or injury or deformity or weakness by massage, exercises, heat, etc. phys·i·o·ther·ap·ist n.

phys·ique (fi-zhek) n. a person’s physical build and muscular development, a man of powerful physique.

pl (pi) n. (pl. pis, pr. piz) the sixteenth pi, pie / pickle letter of the Greek alphabet (Π π). > π is used as a symbol for the ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter (approximately 3.14159).

pi², pie (pt. v. (pied, pl. -ing)) to mix up (printing type).

pi-a-nis-si-mo (pi-ā-nis-si-mo) adv. (in music) very softly.

pi-an-ist (pi-an-ist, pie-a-nist) n. a person who plays the piano.

pi-an-o² (pi-an-o) n. (pl. -an-os) a musical instrument in which metal strings are struck by hammers operated by pressing the keys of a keyboard.

piano roll, a roll of perforated paper used in operating a player piano. piano wire, a thin strong steel wire.

piano² (pi-an-no) adv. (in music) softly.

pi-an-o-for-te (pi-an-ō-for-te) n. a piano.

pi-as-ter, pi-as-tre (pi-as-tēr) n. a small coin of various Middle Eastern countries.

pi-az-za (pi-ā-zā) n. (pl. -az-zas) 1. a porch. 2. a public square in an Italian town.

pi-broch (pee-brok) n. a series of variations on a theme, for bagpipes. > Note that this does not mean the bagpipes.

pi-ca (pi-kā) n. 1. a size of letters in type-writing (ten per inch). 2. a unit of type size = one-sixth inch.

pic-a-dor (pi-kā-dor) n. a mounted man with a lance in bullfighting.

pic-a-resque (pi-kā-resk) adj. (of fiction) dealing with the adventures of rogues, a picaresque novel.

pic-a-yune (pi-kā-yoon) adj. 1. trifling, petty. 2. mean, contemptible.

pi-ca-li-lé (pi-kā-lil-ē) n. a relish of pickled chopped vegetables, mustard, and hot spices.

pi-co-lo (pi-kō-lo) n. (pl. -los) a small flute, sounding an octave higher than the ordinary one.

pick¹ (pi-k) n. 1. a tool consisting of a curved iron bar with one or both ends pointed, mounted at right angles to its handle, used for breaking up hard ground, stones, etc. 2. a spectrum.

pick² v. 1. to use a pointed instrument or the fingers or beak etc. in order to make a hole in or remove bits from (a thing); pick at one's food, to eat it in small bits or without appetite. 2. to detach (a flower or fruit) from the plant bearing it. 3. to select carefully; pick a winner, choose a person or thing that will later prove to be successful. pick n. 1. picking. 2. selection; have first pick, have the right to choose first. 3. the best part; pick of the bunch, the best of the lot. pick'er n.

pick a lock, to use a piece of wire or a pointed tool to open it without a key. pick and choose, to select with excessive care. pick a person's brains, to extract ideas or information from him for one's own use. pick a person's pocket, to steal its contents while he is wearing the garment. pick a quarrel, to provoke one deliberately. pick at, to pick on; to eat without interest. pick holes in, to find fault with. pick off, to pluck off; to select and shoot or destroy one by one; the pitcher turned quickly and picked him off, put him out before he could return to the base. pick on, to single out, especially as a target for nagging or harassment. pick out, to take from among a number of things; to recognize; to distinguish from surrounding objects or areas; to play (a tune) by searching for the right notes.

pick over, to select the best of. pick up, to lift or take up; to call for and take with one, to take aboard (passengers or freight etc.); (of police etc.) to catch, to find and take into custody; to get or acquire by chance or casually; to meet casually and become acquainted with; to succeed in seeing or hearing by means of a telescope, a radio, etc.; to recover health, to show an improvement; to recover speed; pick up speed, accelerate; pick up the bill, be the one who pays it. pick up on, (slang) to understand; to agree with.

pick-a-back (pi-kā-bak) = piggyback.

pick-a-nin-ny (pi-kā-nin-ee) n. (pl. -nies) (contemptuous) a black child.

pick-ax (pi-kāks) n. pick (see pick¹, definition 1).

pick-er-el (pi-kē-rel) n. (pl. -els, -el) any of several small species of pike.

pick-er-el-weed (pi-kē-rel-weed) n. a North American flowering plant found in shallow fresh waters.

pick-et (pi-kīt) n. 1. a pointed stake set into the ground to form a palisade, secure a tent, tether an animal, etc. 2. an outpost of troops, a party of sentries. 3. a person or group of persons stationed by strikers outside their place of work to dissuade others from entering. picket v. (pick-et-ed, pick-et-ing) 1. to secure or enclose with a stake or stakes. 2. to station or act as a picket during a strike.

picket line, a group of pickeks outside a building or other site.

pick-ings (pi-kings) n. pl. 1. scraps of good food etc.; remaining, gleanings. 2. odd gains or perquisites, profits from stealing.

pick-le (pi-kēl) n. 1. food (especially a cucumber) preserved in vinegar or brine. 2. vinegar or brine used for this. 3. (informal) a plight, a mess. pickle v. (pickled, pick·ling) to preserve in vinegar or brine.
pick·led (pik-ld) adj. (slang) drunk.
pick·lock (pik-lɔk) n. 1. a device used for picking locks. 2. a person who picks locks.
pick·me·up (pik-mee-up) n. a tonic to restore health or relieve depression. pick·pock·et·ed (pik-pok-it) n. a thief who picks pockets.
pick·up (pik-up) n. 1. the process of picking up. 2. an acquaintance met informally. 3. a small open truck. 4. the part carrying the stylus in a record player.
pick·y (pik-ee) adj. (pick′-er, pick′-y·est) excessively fastidious, a picky eater.
pic·nic (pik-nik) n. 1. an informal meal taken in the open air for pleasure, an excursion for this. 2. (informal) something very agreeable or easily done. pic·nic v. (pic·nicked, pic·nick·ing) to take part in a picnic. pic′nick·er n.
pl·co·se·cond (pl-koh-sek′-ond) n. a unit of time, = one-trillionth of a second.
pic·cot (pee-koh) n. one of a series of small loops of twisted thread forming an ornamental edging. pic·ric (pik-rik) acid a yellow substance used in dyeing and in explosives.
Pict (pikt) n. a member of an ancient people of northern Britain. Pict·ish adj.
pic·to·graph (pik-tə-graf) n. 1. a pictorial symbol. 2. a primitive record consisting of these. pic·to·graph·ic (pik-tə′graf′ik) adj.
pic·to·ri·al (pik-toh′rəl) adj. 1. of or expressed in a picture or pictures. 2. illustrated by pictures. pic·to′ri·al·ly adv.
pic·ture (pik-chər) n. 1. a representation of a person or people or object(s) etc., made by painting, drawing, or photography, especially as a work of art. 2. a portrait. 3. something that looks beautiful, the garden is a picture. 4. a scene, the total impression produced on one's sight or mind. 5. a perfect example, she is the picture of health. 6. a motion picture. 7. the image on a television screen. picture v. (pic·tured, pic·tur·ing) 1. to represent in a picture. 2. to describe vividly. 3. to form a mental picture of, picture to yourself a deserted beach.
□In the picture, (of a person) considered important, powerful, etc.; fully informed, let me put you in the picture. out of the picture, (of a person) no longer considered important, powerful, etc. picture gallery, a hall etc. containing a collection of pictures. picture hat, a woman's wide-brimmed highly decorated hat. picture postcard, a postcard with a picture on one side. picture tube, a cathode ray tube forming the screen of a television set. picture window, a large window facing an attractive view. pic·tur·es·que (pik-chər′resk) adj. 1. forming a striking and pleasant scene, picturesque villages. 2. (of words or a description) very expressive, vivid. pic·tur·es·que·ly adv. pic·tur·es·que′ness n.
pil·die (pid-ī) v. (pid·dled, pil·dling) 1. to spend time idly, paddle away the afternoon. 2. (informal) to urinate.
pil·ding (pid′ling) adj. trivial, unimportant, piddling problems.
pil·g·in (pi′jin) n. a simplified form of English or another language, containing elements of the local language(s) and used for communication (in parts of the Far East etc.) between people speaking different languages, pidgin English.
pie (pi) n. a baked dish of fruit or meat or fish etc. enclosed in or covered with pastry or other crust. □pie in the sky, a prospect (considered unrealistic) of future happiness.
pie·bald (pi′bawl) adj. (of a horse etc.) with irregular patches of white and black or other dark color. piebald n. a piebald horse.
piece (pees) n. 1. one of the distinct portions of which a thing is composed or into which it is divided or broken; worked piece by piece, one after another until all were done. 2. one of a set of things, three-piece suite. 3. something regarded as a unit, a fine piece of work. 4. a musical or literary or artistic composition. 5. a poem, speech, etc. learned by a child for recitation before adults. 6. a coin, ten-cent piece. 7. one of the set of small objects moved on a board in playing board games, a chessman other than a pawn. 8. a fixed unit of work; payment by the piece, piece rates, payment according to this (not by the hour). 9. a slice, as of bread or pie. piece v. (pieced, piec·ling) to make by joining or adding pieces together; piece it together, put parts together to form a whole. □go to pieces, (of a person) to lose one's strength or ability etc., to collapse. In one piece, not broken; arrived in one piece, without mishap. of a piece, of the same kind, consistent. piece goods, fabric cut and sold to the customer's order. piece of cake, (informal) something very easy or pleasant. piece of one's mind, reproach or scolding giving one's frank criticisms. say one's piece, to make a prepared statement; to give one's opinion. pi·ce de ré·sil·tance (pyes dé ray-zeestahns) (pl. pièces de ré·sil·tance, pr. pyes dé ray-zees-tahns) 1. the principal dish at a meal. 2. the most important or remarkable item. D French.

pi·cet·meal (pees-meel) adj. & adv. done piece by piece, part at a time.

pi·ce·work (pees-wurk) n. a type of work paid according to the quantity done, not by the time spent on it.

pled (pid) adj. parti-colored, Pled Piper (dressed in parti-colored clothing).

pi·el·ad·ter·re (pi-ed-a-terre) p. (pl. pi·els·ad·ter·re, pr. pi·ed·a·terre) a small place for use as temporary quarters when needed. D French.

pi·eye·ed (pi-rd) adj. (slang) drunk.

pi·le·plant (pr-plant) n. the rhubarb plant, used in pies.

pler (peer) n. 1. a structure built out into the sea to serve as a breakwater or dock or amusement area. 2. one of the pillars or similar structures supporting an arch or bridge. 3. solid masonry between windows etc.

pi·er·ce (peers) v. (pi·erced, pi·er·cing) 1. to go into or through like a sharp-pointed instrument, to make a hole in (a thing) in this way. 2. to force one's way into or through.

Pi·erce (peers), Frank·lin (1804–69) the fourteenth president of the U.S. 1853–57.

pi·er·cing (peer-sing) adj. (of cold or wind etc.) penetrating sharply, (of a voice or sound) shrilly audible.

Pi·erre (peer) the capital of South Dakota.

pi·e·ty (pr-tee) p. (pl. -ties) piousness.

pi·e·zo·e·lec·tr·ic (pi-ay-zoh-i-lik-trik) adj. becoming electrically polarized under pressure.

pl·fle (pl-fel) n. (slang) nonsense, worthless talk. pfifle v. (pl-fled, pf·flying) (slang) to talk nonsense.

pl·flying (pf-ling) adj. (slang) trivial, worthless.

pi·g (pig) n. 1. a domestic or wild animal with short legs, cloven hoofs, and a broad blunt snout. 2. (informal) a greedy, dirty, or unpleasant person. 3. (slang, contemptu·ous) a policeman. 4. an oblong mass of metal from a smelting furnace, pig iron. □ buy a pig in a poke, to buy a thing without seeing it or knowing whether it will be satisfactory. pig iron, crude iron from a smelting furnace. Pig Latin, made-up jargon that systematically moves the initial consonants of words to the ends of the words and adds "ay," as ademay for made, adsay for sad.

pi·ge·on (pi-jon) n. 1. a bird of the dove family. 2. (slang) a victim of fraud or deception. □ pigeon breast, a deformed chest in which the breastbone forms a protruding curve.

pi·ge·on·hole (pij-ôn-hohl) n. 1. a small recess for a pigeon to nest in. 2. one of a set of small compartments in a desk or cabinet, used for holding papers or letters etc. pigeonhole v. (pi·geon·holed, pi·geon·hol·ing) 1. to put away for future consideration or indefinitely. 2. to classify mentally as belonging to a particular group or kind.

pi·geon·toed (pij-ôn-tohd) adj. having the toes turned inward.

pi·g·ish (pig-ish) adj. like a pig, dirty or greedy.

pi·g·gy (pig-ee) adj. (-gl·er, -gl·est) like a pig; piggly eyes, small eyes like those of a pig. □ piggy bank, a toy bank made in the shape of a pig.

pi·g·gy·back (pig-ce-bak) adj. & adv. carried on the shoulders and back or on the top of a larger object.

pi·g·head·ed (pig·hed·id) adj. obstinate, stubborn.

pi·gel·et (pig·lit) n. a young pig.

pi·g·ment (pig·ment) n. coloring matter.

pi·g·ment·v. to color (skin or other tissue) with natural pigment. pi·g·men·ta·tion (pi·mén·tay·shun) n.

pi·g·my = psy·my.

pi·g·pen (pig·pen) n. a pigsty.

pi·g·skin (pig·skin) n. 1. leather made from the skin of pigs. 2. (informal) a football.

pi·g·sty (pig·st) n. (pl. -sties) 1. a partly covered pen for pigs. 2. a very dirty or untidy place.

pi·g·tail (pig·tail) n. long hair worn hanging in a braid at the back of the head.

pi·ke (pi·k) n. a long wooden shaft with a pointed metal head. pi·ke v. (pi·ked, pi·k·ling) to stick, to wound or to kill with a pike.

pi·ke·2 n. a large voracious freshwater fish with a long narrow snout.

pi·ke·3 n. a turnpike, a main road; down the pike, a long way off.

pi·ker (pi·kër) n. (informal) a person who does things in a timid way.

pi·la·f (pi·laft) n. an oriental dish of rice or wheat with meat and spices.

pi·las·ter (pi·las·ter) n. a rectangular column, especially an ornamental one that projects from a wall into which it is set.

pi·lad·chard (pi·lad·chard) n. a small sea fish related to the herring.

pi·le (pi·l) n. a heavy beam of metal or concrete or timber driven vertically into the ground as a foundation or support for a building or bridge. □ pi·le driver, a machine for driving piles into the ground.

pi·le·2 n. 1. a number of things lying one pil-low (pil-oh) n. a cushion used (especially in bed) for supporting the head.

pil-low v. to rest or prop up on or as if on a pillow.

pil-low-case (pil-oh-kays) n. a cloth cover into which a pillow is placed for use.

pil-low-slip (pil-oh-slip) n. a pillowcase.

pil-lot (pil-lot) n. 1. a person who operates the flying controls of an aircraft. 2. a person qualified to take charge of ships entering or leaving a harbor or traveling through certain waters. 3. a guide. pilot v. (pi-lot-ed, pil-lot-ing) 1. to act as pilot of. 2. to guide. pilot adj. experimental, testing (on a small scale) how an idea etc. will work, a pilot project. □pilot light, a small jet of gas kept lit and lighting a larger burner when this is turned on; an electric indicator light.

pil-low-age (pi-lö-tyj) n. piloting, the charge for this.

pil-lot-fish (pi-lot-fish) n. (pl. -fish-es, -fish) a small fish said to act as pilot to food for a shark.

pil-lot-house (pi-lot-hows) n. (pl. -hous-es, pr. -how-ziz) an enclosed shelter for the ship's pilot and his equipment on the upper deck of a ship.

pil-lot-less (pi-lot-less) adj. having no pilot.

pil-men-to (pi-men-toh) n. (pl. -tos) 1. allspice, the West Indian tree yielding this. 2. a sweet pepper.

pimp (pimp) n. a man who solicits clients for a prostitute or brothel. pimp v. to be a pimp.

pil-low-box (pil-lö-box) n. 1. a small round box for holding pills. 2. a hat shaped like this. 3. a small concrete shelter for a gun emplacement.

pil-lion (pil-yön) n. a saddle for a passenger seated behind the driver of a motorcycle.

pil-low-ry (pil-ö-ree) n. (pl. -ries) a wooden framework with holes for the head and hands, into which offenders were formerly locked for exposure to public ridicule. pillowery v. (pill-ö-ried, pil-lö-ry-ing) 1. to put into the pillory as a punishment. 2. to hold up to public ridicule or scorn.

pil-low v. to rest or prop up on or as if on a pillow.
curl made in the hair while wet and held in place by a hairpin or clip. pin down, to establish clearly; to make (a person) agree to keep to a promise or arrangement etc. or declare his intentions definitely. pin money, money allowed to a woman or earned by her for private expenses; a trivial amount of money. pins and needles, a tingling sensation; on pins and needles, in a state of anxiety or suspense. pin seal, leather made from young seals.

pin-a-fore (pin-a-fohr) n. 1. a woman's or girl's sleeveless dress, resembling a full apron and usually closing at the back. 2. a girl's apron like this.

pin-ball (pin-bawl) n. a game played on a sloping board on which a ball is projected so that it strikes pins or targets or falls into a pocket. pinball machine, a coin-operated machine for playing pinball.

pince-nez (pans-nay) n. (pl. pince-nez, pr. pans-nays) a pair of glasses with a spring that clips on the nose and no sidepieces.

pin-cers (pin-sërz) n. pl. 1. a tool for gripping and pulling things, consisting of a pair of pivoted jaws with handles that are pressed together to close them. 2. a claw-like part of a lobster etc. pincher movement, an attack in which forces converge from each side on an enemy position.

pinch (pinch) v. 1. to squeeze tightly or painfully between two surfaces, especially between finger and thumb; look pinched with cold, have a drawn appearance from feeling unpleasantly cold. 2. to shorten or remove by squeezing, pinch out the tops of the plants. 3. to stint, to be niggardly, pinching and scrimping. 4. (slang) to steal. 5. (slang) to arrest. pinch n. 1. pinching, squeezing. 2. stress or pressure of circumstances, began to feel the pinch. 3. as much as can be held between the tips of the thumb and forefinger. pincher n. in a pinch, in time of difficulty or necessity.

pinch-hit (pinch-hit) v. (pinch-hit, pinch-hit-tiing) 1. to bat as a replacement for a scheduled baseball batter. 2. (informal) to act as substitute. pinch hitter n.

pin-cush-ion (pin-kuush-on) n. a small pad into which pins are stuck to keep them ready for use.

pine (pin) n. 1. an evergreen tree with needle-shaped leaves growing in clusters. 2. its wood.

pine v. (pined, pin-ing) 1. to waste away through grief or yearning. 2. to feel an intense longing.

pin-e-al (pin-i-al) adj. shaped like a pine cone. pinhead body or gland, an eye-like conical gland of unknown function located in the brain.

pine-apple (pim-ap-ël) n. 1. a large juicy tropical fruit with a tough prickly segmented skin. 2. the plant that bears it.

pin-feath-er (pin-feth-ër) n. a developing feather that has just broken through the skin.

ping (ping) n. a short sharp ringing sound. ping v. 1. to make or cause to make this sound. 2. (of an engine) to make slight explosive sounds when running imperfectly.

Ping-Pong (ping-pong) n. (trademark) table tennis.

pin-head (pin-hed) n. 1. the head of a pin. 2. (slang) a stupid person. pin-head-ed adj. stupid.

pin-hole (pin-bohl) n. a hole made by or as if by a pin.

pin-ion (pin-yön) n. a bird's wing, especially the outer segment. pinion v. 1. to clip the wings of (a bird) to prevent it from flying. 2. to restrain (a person) by holding or binding his arms or legs.

pinion n. a small cogwheel that engages with a larger one or with a rack.

pink (pingk) n. 1. pale red color. 2. a garden plant with fragrant white or pink or variegated flowers. 3. the best or most nearly perfect condition, the pink of perfection. pink adj. 1. of pale red color. 2. (slang) mildly communist. pink'ness n. in the pink, (slang) in very good health. pink elephants, (informal) hallucinations while drunk.

pink (pingk) v. 1. to pierce slightly. 2. to cut a zigzag edge on. pinking shears, dressmaker's scissors with serrated blades for cutting a zigzag edge.

pink'eye (pingk-ë) n. conjunctivitis.

pin-ke (ping-kee) n. (informal) the little finger of the hand. pin-kie ring, a ring worn on this finger.

pink'ish (ping-kish) adj. rather pink.

pin-nace (pin-is) n. a ship's small boat, usually motor-driven.

pin-na-cle (pin-ë-kél) n. 1. a pointed ornament on a roof. 2. a peak. 3. the highest point, the pinnacle of his fame.

pin-nate (pin-ayt) adj. having like parts (leaves, tentacles, branches, etc.) arranged on each side of a common stalk or axis. pin-nate-ly adv.

pin-no-ble (pee-nok-ël) n. a card game played with a double pack of forty-eight cards, ace to nine only.

pin-ion (pin-yön, pea-nöy-ön) n. (pl. pi-ions, pi-ions, pi-ions, pr. pin-yön-nëz) 1. a pine tree of the Rocky Mountain region, bearing nuts. 2. its nut.
pin·point (pin-point) n. 1. the point of a pin. 2. something very small or sharp.

pinpoint adj. showing or requiring care and precision; pinpoint bombing; pinpoint accuracy. pinpoint v. to locate or to identify precisely.

pin·prick (pin-prick) n. 1. a small puncture. 2. a small annoyance.

pin·set·ter (pin-set-er) n. a machine at a bowling alley that clears and resets pins.

pin·stripe (pin-stripe) n. 1. a very narrow stripe in cloth. 2. a suit made from such cloth. pin*strip*ed adj.

pint (pint) n. 1. a measure for liquids = half a quart. 2. this quantity of liquid, especially whiskey.

pin·to (pin-to) adj. mottled, piebald. pinto n. (pl. -tos) a piebald horse.

pin·up (pin-up) n. (informal) 1. a picture of an attractive person (often an attractive scantly clad woman) pinned up on a wall etc. 2. such a person.

pin·wheel (pin-wheel) n. 1. a toy resembling a windmill, with light vanes attached to a stick and able to turn when blown by the wind. 2. a rotating firework.

pin·worm (pin-worm) n. an intestinal parasitic worm in man.

pin·y (pi-nee) adj. like pine trees, a piny smell.

pin·yon = pi*n. yon.

pi·o·neer (pi-o-neer) n. a person who is one of the first to enter or settle a new region or to investigate a new subject or method etc. pioneer v. to be a pioneer, to take part in (a course of action etc.) that leads the way for others to follow.

pi·o·ni·um (pi-oh-ni-um) n. a quasi-atomic particle.

pi·ous (pi-ous) adj. 1. devout in religion. 2. ostentatiously virtuous. pi*ous*ly adv. pi*ous*ness n.

pip1 n. 1. one of the small seeds of an apple, pear, orange, etc. 2. (informal) a wonderful thing or person, a pip of an idea.

pip2 n. 1. a spot on a domino or die or playing card. 2. (informal) a signal on a radar screen.

pip3 n. a disease of poultry and other birds.

the pip, (slang) a feeling of disgust or depression or bad temper.

pip4 n. a short high-pitched sound, as a chirp or peep or one produced mechanically, the six pipes of the time signal.

pipe (pip) n. 1. a tube through which something can flow. 2. a wind instrument consisting of a single tube, each of the tubes by which sound is produced in an organ; the pipes, bagpipes. 3. a boat-swain's whistle, its sounding. 4. a narrow tube with a bowl at one end in which tobacco burns for smoking, the quantity of tobacco held by this. 5. pipes, (slang) the human respiratory system; Caruso had great pipes; sang well and loudly.

pipe v. (piped, pip-ing) 1. to convey (water etc.) through pipes. 2. (informal) to transmit (music or a broadcast program etc.) by wire or cable. 3. to play (music) on a pipe, to lead or bring or summon by sounding a pipe etc. 4. to utter in a shrill voice. 5. to ornament (a dress etc.) with piping. □pipe bomb, a homemade bomb inside a metal pipe.

pipe clay, a fine white clay used for tobacco pipes, for whitening leather etc.

pipe down, (informal) to cease talking, to become less noisy or less insistent.

pipe dream, an impractical hope or scheme.

pipe organ, an organ using pipes as well as reeds.

pipe up, (informal) to begin talking, to complain.

pipe·line (pi-lyn) n. 1. a pipe for conveying petroleum etc. 2. a channel of supply or information. □in the pipeline, on the way, in the process of being prepared.

pi·per (pi-perr) n. a person who plays on a pipe or bagpipes.

pi·pet·te, pi·pet (pi-pet) n. a slender tube used in a laboratory for transferring or measuring small quantities of liquids.

pi·lip·ing (pi-ping) n. 1. pipes, a length of pipe. 2. a pipelike fold (often enclosing a cord) ornamenting edges or seams of clothing or upholstery. □pip·ing hot, (of water or food) very hot.

pip·It (pip-it) n. a kind of small bird resembling a lark.

pi·kip·kin (pi-kin) n. a small earthenware pot or pan.

pi·pip·in (pip-in) n. a kind of apple.

pi·p·squack (pip-skweek) n. (slang) a small or unimportant but self-assertive person.

pi·quant (pee-kant, -kahnt) adj. 1. pleasantly sharp in its taste or smell. 2. pleasantly stimulating or exciting to the mind.

pi*quant*ly adv. pi·quan·cy (pee-kans-see, -kahhn-) n.

pique (peek) v. (piqued, piq·uing) 1. to hurt the pride or self-respect of. 2. to stimulate, their curiosity was piqued.

pique n. a feeling of hurt pride.

pi·que (pi-kay) n. a firm fabric especially of cotton, with a lengthwise corded effect or (waffle piqué) a woven honeycomb pattern.

pi·quet (pi-ket) n. a card game for two players with a pack of thirty-two cards, ace to seven.

pi·ra·nha (pi-rahn-yâ) n. a voracious South American freshwater fish.

pit•rate (pit-rät) n. 1. a person on a ship who unlawfully attacks and robs another ship at sea, or who makes a plundering raid on the shore. 2. the ship used for this. 3. one who infringes another's copyright or business rights, or who broadcasts without authorization, a pirate radio station. pirate v. (pit-rät-ed, pit-rät-ing) to reproduce (a book etc.) or trade (goods) without due authorization.

pir•ou•ette (pir-oo-et) n. a spinning movement of the body while balanced on the point of the toe or the ball of the foot. pirouette v. (pir•ou•et•ted, pir•ou•et•ting) to perform a pirouette.

pis•ca•to•ri•al (pis-kä-toh-ri-əl) adj. pl. pis•ca•to•ries (pi-säs-tor-ēz) n. a kind of nut with an edible green kernel.

pis•til (pis-tĭl) n. the seed-producing part of a flower, comprising ovary, style, and stigma. pis•til•late (pis-tĭl-lāt) adj.

pis•tom (pis-tŏm) n. a small gun. □ pistol grip, a handle shaped and held like the butt of a pistol.

pis•ton (pis-tŏn) n. 1. a sliding disk or cylinder fitting closely inside a tube in which it moves up and down as part of an engine or pump. 2. the sliding valve in a trumpet or other brass wind instrument.

pit•1 (pit) n. 1. a hole in the ground, especially one from which material is dug out, chalk pit. 2. a depression in the skin or in any surface; pit of the stomach, the depression between the ribs below the breastbone. 3. a part of the floor of a commodity exchange assigned to special trading, the wheat pit. 4. a sunken area at the front of a theater where musicians sit, orchestra pit. 5. a sunken area in a garage floor, giving access to the underside of motor vehicles. 6. a place (at a racetrack) at which racing cars are refueled etc. during a race. pit v. (pit•ted, pit•ting) 1. to make pits or depression in, to become marked with hollows, pit•ted with crater. 2. to match or set in competition, was pitted against a strong fighter. □ pit stop, a stop during a race during which racing cars are refueled etc.; (slang) refreshment time, a stop for food, drink, etc. pit viper, a poisonous snake with a pit between eye and nostril. the pits, a mine, he's spent his life in the pits; (slang) the worst of anything, his jokes are the pits.

pit•2 n. the stone of a fruit, such as the peach.

pit•a•pat (pit-ā-pat) n. a quick tapping sound. pit•a•pat adj. with this sound.

da•pitch (pitch) n. a dark resinous tarry substance that sets hard, used for caulking seams of ships etc. pitch v. to coat with pitch. □ pitch• black, pitch• dark, quite black, with no light at all. pitch• pine, a kind of pine tree that yields much resin.

pitch•2 v. 1. to throw or fling. 2. to erect and fix (a tent or camp). 3. to set at a particular degree or slope or level, pitched their hopes high. 4. to fall heavily. 5. (in baseball) to throw (the ball) to the batter for hitting. 6. (of a ship or vehicle) to plunge up and down or forward and backward alternately. 7. (slang) to attempt to sell (a product or service) using persuasive talk or advertising. pitch n. 1. the act or process of pitching. 2. the steepness of a slope. 3. the intensity of a quality etc. 4. the degree of highness or lowness of a musical note or a voice. 5. a throw of the ball to the batter in baseball. 6. (slang) a salesman’s persuasive talk; made a big pitch, worked hard at selling. □ pitched battle, a battle fought by troops in prepared positions, not a skirmish. pitch in, (informal) to begin to work vigorously. pitch into, (informal) to attack or reprimand vigorously. pitch out, (in baseball) to pitch wide of the strike zone and beyond the batter’s reach in order to enable the catcher to prevent a base runner from stealing a base. pitch pipe, a small pipe blown by mouth to set the pitch for singing or tuning. pitch shot, (in golf) a lofted approach shot with little run to the ball after landing on the green.

pitch•blende (pitch-blend) n. a mineral ore (uranium oxide) that yields uranium and radium.

pitch•er (pitch-er) n. the baseball player who throws the ball to the batter. □ pitcher’s duel, a low-scoring baseball game whose outcome depends on the skill of the two pitchers. pitcher’s mound, the raised area in the infield between home plate and second base on which the pitcher stands for pitching.

pitcher•n. a vessel for holding and pouring liquids, a jug. □ little pitchers have big ears, children are apt to overhear things. pitcher plant, a plant with pitcher-shaped leaves holding a secretion in which insects become trapped.
fork used for pitching hay. pitchfork
v. to lift or move (a thing) with a pitchfork. pitch·man (pich-män) n. (pl. -men, pr.
mén) 1. a traveling salesperson dealing in patent medicines etc., a street vendor.
2. (slang) a high pressure salesperson. pit·e·ous (pit-i-ús) adj. deserving or arousing pity. pit'e·ous·ly adv.
pit·fall (pit-fawl) n. an unsuspected danger or difficulty.
pith (pith) n. 1. the spongy tissue in the stems of certain plants. 2. the essential part, the pith of the argument. pith·y (pith-ee) adj. (pith·li·er, pith· li·est) 1. like pith, containing much pith.
2. brief and full of meaning, pithy commments.
pit·i·a·ble (pit-i-á-bél) adj. deserving or arousing pity or contempt. pit‘i-a·bly adv.
pit·i·ful (pit-i-fúl) adj. pitiable. pit’iful·ly adv.
pit·i·less (pit-i-lis) adj. showing no pity.
pit‘i-less·ly adv.
pl·ton (pee-ton) n. a spike or peg with a hole through which a rope can be passed, driven into a rock or crack as a support in mountain climbing.
pit·tance (pit-áns) n. 1. a very small allowance. 2. a very small amount.
pit·ted (pit-íd) adj. 1. filled with pits, pockmarked. 2. (of fruit) with pits removed, pitted cherries.
pit·ter·pat·ter (pit-ér-pat-chér) n. a light tapping sound. plitter-planter v. to make such a sound.
pi·tu·lar·y (pi-too-i-ter-e) n. (pl. -tar· ies) (also plittuary gland) a small ductless gland at the base of the brain, with important influence on growth and bodily functions.
pit·y (pit-ee) n. (pl. pit·ies) 1. a feeling of sorrow for another person’s suffering.
2. a cause for regret, what a pity. pity
v. (pit·led, pit·y·ing) to feel pity for.
□ take pity on, to feel concern for and therefore help (a person who is in difficulty).
plv·ot (piv-ót) n. 1. a central point or shaft
e tc. on which something turns or swings.
2. a pivoting movement. pivot v. (plvot·ed, plv·ot·ing) to turn or place to turn on a pivot. plv·ot·al (piv-ót-tál) adj.
plx·le, plx·y ( pik-see) n. a small supernatural being in fairy tales.
plz·za (peet-sá) n. an Italian dish consisting of a layer of dough baked with a topping of tomato sauce, cheese, spices, etc. □ pizza parlor, a pizzeria.
plz·zazz (pi-zazz) n. (slang) 1. flamboyant elegance. 2. vitality, zest, lots of pizzazz.
plz·ze·ri·a (pekt-sé-ree-á) n. a place where pizzas are made and sold.
plz·zi·ca·to·to (pit-sii-kah-tóh) adv. plucking the string of a musical instrument (instead of using the bow).
pj’s (pee-jayz) n. pl. (informal) pajamas.
pk. abbr. 1. pack. 2. park. 3. peak. 4. peck.
pkg. abbr. package.
pkt. abbr. 1. packet. 2. pocket.
pkwy. abbr. parkway.
pl. abbr. 1. place. 2. plate. 3. plural.
plac·ard (plak·árd) n. a poster or other notice for displaying. placard v. to post placards on (a wall etc.).
pl·cate (play-kayt) v. (pla·cat·ed, pla-cat·ing) to pacify, to conciliate. plac-a·to·ry (plak·á-toh-ree) adj.
place (plays) n. 1. a particular part of space or of an area on a surface. 2. a particular town or district or building etc., one of the places we visited. 3. (in names) a short street, a square or the buildings around it. 4. a passage or part in a book etc., the part one has reached in reading, lose one's place. 5. a proper position for a thing, a position in a series, one's rank or position in a community, a duty appropriate to this, not his place to give orders. 6. a position of employment. 7. a space or seat or accommodation for a person, save me a place on the train. 8. one's home or dwelling. 9.
(in dog or horse racing) the position of second to finish a race. 10. a step in the progression of an argument or statement, in the first place, the dates are wrong.
11. the position of a figure after a decimal point etc., correct to three decimal places. place v. (placed, plac·ing) 1. to put into a particular place or rank or position or order etc., to find a place for. 2. to locate, to identify in relation to circumstances etc., I know his face but can't place him. 3. to put or give, placed an order with the firm. 4. (of a horse in a race) to finish second. □ In place, in the right position; suitable. In place of, instead of. out of place, in the wrong position or environment; unsuitable. place mat, a small mat on a dining table for one place setting. place setting, a set of dishes or cutlery for one person at a dining table.
pla·ce·bo (pla-see-boh) n. (pl. -bos) a harmless substance given as if it were medicine, to humor a patient or as a dummy pill etc. in a controlled experiment.
place·kick (plays-kik) n. a kick made in football when the ball is placed on the ground for that purpose. placekick v.
to kick the ball in such a manner.
place·kicker n.
place·ment (plays-mént) n. placing.
placement office, an agency at a college or school that helps students and graduates find jobs.

placenta (plá-se-n-tá) n. (pl. -tas, -tæ, pr. -tæ) an organ that develops in the womb during pregnancy and supplies the fetus with nourishment. placenta/planetary placeration (play-sər) n. a deposit of sand, gravel, etc., in a stream bed containing valuable minerals in particles. placering, removing the valuable minerals from a placer by washing.

placid (plá-cid) adj. calm and peaceful, not easily made anxious or upset. placidy adv. placid-ly adv. placid-ity n.

plague (playg) n. 1. a deadly contagious disease, especially the bubonic plague in Europe between 1340 and 1700. 2. an infestation of a pest, a plague of caterpillars. 3. (informal) a nuisance. plaguing v. (plagued, plaguing) to annoy, to pester.

placering, removing the valuable minerals from a placer by washing.

plaguing v. (plagued, plaguing) to annoy, to pester.

place (plays) n. (pl. place) a kind of flatfish used as food.

plaider (play-dar) n. 1. a long piece of woolen cloth, usually with a tartan or similar pattern, worn over the shoulder as part of Highland dress. 2. this pattern.

plainer (plain-er) n. adj. 1. unmistakable, easy to see or hear or understand. 2. not elaborate or intricate or luxurious, plain cooking; plain soda, without flavoring etc. 3. straightforward, candid, some plain speaking. 4. ordinary, homely in manner, without affectation. 5. lacking beauty. plain adv. plainly, simply, it's plain stupid. plain n. a large area of level country. plainly adv. plainly-ness n.

plain (playn) adj. 1. something plafted. 2. a pleat.

plan (plan) n. 1. a drawing showing the relative position and size of parts of a building etc. 2. a map of a town or district. 3. a method or way of proceeding thought out in advance; it all went according to plan, happened as planned. plan v. (planned, planning) 1. to make a plan or design of. 2. to arrange a method etc. for, to make plans. plan-ner n. planned parenthood, the practice of birth control in order to regulate the number and frequency of children.

planetary geometry, geometry that deals with figures in one plane.

plain-2 n. 1. a flat or level surface. 2. an imaginary surface of this kind. 3. a level of thought or existence or development, on the same plane as a savage. 4. an airplane. plane adj. lying in a plane, level, a plane figure or surface. plane angle, an angle formed by two intersecting lines.

plane (playn) n. 1. a tall spreading tree with broad leaves, the London plane. 2. a sycamore.

plane-3 n. 1. a tool with a blade projecting from the base, used for smoothing the surface of wood by paring shavings from it. 2. a similar tool for smoothing metal.

plane v. (planned, planning) to smooth or pare with a plane.

plane-load (playn-löd) n. a load of passengers or cargo that fills a plane to capacity.

plane-4 n. 1. one of the heavenly bodies moving around the sun. plan-e-ter-oid (plan-ë-ter-é) adj.

planet-esimal (plan-ë-te-si-mal) n. one of the vast number of minute bodies that, according to the planetesimal hypothesis, formed the planets by accretion in a cold state.
plan·e·t·oid (plan·e·t·oid) n. an asteroid.
plan·e·t·o·gy (plan·e·t·o·gy) n. the branch of astronomy that deals with the planets.
plan·g·ent (plan·jent) adj. (of sounds) 1. resonant, reverberating. 2. loud and mournful.
plan·gen·cy (plan·jen·see) n.
plank (plangk) n. 1. a long flat piece of timber several inches thick. 2. one of the basic principles of a political platform.
plank v. 1. to lay with planks. 2. to cook and serve (fish etc.) on a board.
plank·ing (plang·king) n. a structure or floor of planks.
plank·ton (plangk·ton) n. the forms of organic life (chiefly microscopic) that drift or float in the sea or in fresh water.
plank·ton·ic (plangk·ton·ik) adj.
planned (pland) see plan.
plan·ning (plan·ning) n. making plans, especially with reference to the controlled design of buildings and development of land, town planning.
plant (plant) n. 1. a living organism that makes its own food from inorganic substances and has neither the power of movement nor special organs of sensation and digestion. 2. a small plant (distinguished from a tree or shrub). 3. a factory or its machinery and equipment. 4. (slang) a person or thing deliberately placed for discovery by others, a hoax or trap. plant v. 1. to place in the ground or in soil for growing, to put plants or seeds into (ground or soil) for growing. 2. to fix or set or place in position, planted his foot on the ladder; planted the idea in her mind. 3. to station (a person) as a lookout or spy. 4. to conceal (stolen or incriminating articles) in a place where they will be discovered and mislead the discoverer, planted the evidence. □ plant food, nourishment for plants. plant kingdom, the division of the natural world comprising all living things that are not animal. plant louse, a small insect that infests plants, especially the aphid. plant pathology, the branch of botany that deals with diseases of plants.
plan·t·ain (plan·tin) n. a common wild plant with broad flat leaves, bearing seeds that are used as food for cage birds.
plantain n. a tropical tree with fruit resembling the banana.
plan·tar (plan·tar) adj. of the sole of the foot.
plan·ta·tion (plan·tay·shon) n. 1. a number of cultivated plants or trees, the area of land on which they grow. 2. an estate on which cotton or tobacco or tea etc. is cultivated.
plant·er (plan·ter) n. 1. a person who owns or manages a plantation, especially in a tropical or subtropical country. 2. a machine for planting things, potato planter. 3. a container for decorative plants. □ planter’s punch, an iced drink made from rum, lime, sugar, and water or soda.
plaque (plak) n. 1. a flat metal or porcelain plate fixed on a wall or on a piece of wood as an ornament or memorial. 2. film on teeth, where bacteria can live.
plash (plash) v. to splash. plash n. a splashing sound.
plas·ma (plaz·ma) n. 1. the colorless fluid part of blood, in which the corpuscles are suspended. 2. whey. 3. a kind of gas containing positively and negatively charged particles in approximately equal numbers.
plan·ning (plan·ning) n. making plans, especially with reference to the controlled design of buildings and development of land, town planning.
plant (plant) n. 1. a living organism that makes its own food from inorganic substances and has neither the power of movement nor special organs of sensation and digestion. 2. a small plant (distinguished from a tree or shrub). 3. a factory or its machinery and equipment. 4. (slang) a person or thing deliberately placed for discovery by others, a hoax or trap. plant v. 1. to place in the ground or in soil for growing, to put plants or seeds into (ground or soil) for growing. 2. to fix or set or place in position, planted his foot on the ladder; planted the idea in her mind. 3. to station (a person) as a lookout or spy. 4. to conceal (stolen or incriminating articles) in a place where they will be discovered and mislead the discoverer, planted the evidence. □ plant food, nourishment for plants. plant kingdom, the division of the natural world comprising all living things that are not animal. plant louse, a small insect that infests plants, especially the aphid. plant pathology, the branch of botany that deals with diseases of plants.
plan·tar (plan·tar) adj. of the sole of the foot.
plan·ta·tion (plan·tay·shon) n. 1. a number of cultivated plants or trees, the area of land on which they grow. 2. an estate on which cotton or tobacco or tea etc. is cultivated.
plant·er (plan·ter) n. 1. a person who owns or manages a plantation, especially in a tropical or subtropical country. 2. a machine for planting things, potato planter. 3. a container for decorative plants. □ planter’s punch, an iced drink made from rum, lime, sugar, and water or soda.
plaque (plak) n. 1. a flat metal or porcelain plate fixed on a wall or on a piece of wood as an ornament or memorial. 2. film on teeth, where bacteria can live.
plash (plash) v. to splash. plash n. a splashing sound.
plas·ma (plaz·ma) n. 1. the colorless fluid part of blood, in which the corpuscles are suspended. 2. whey. 3. a kind of gas containing positively and negatively charged particles in approximately equal numbers.
plan·ning (plan·ning) n. making plans, especially with reference to the controlled design of buildings and development of land, town planning.
plant (plant) n. 1. a living organism that makes its own food from inorganic substances and has neither the power of movement nor special organs of sensation and digestion. 2. a small plant (distinguished from a tree or shrub). 3. a factory or its machinery and equipment. 4. (slang) a person or thing deliberately placed for discovery by others, a hoax or trap. plant v. 1. to place in the ground or in soil for growing, to put plants or seeds into (ground or soil) for growing. 2. to fix or set or place in position, planted his foot on the ladder; planted the idea in her mind. 3. to station (a person) as a lookout or spy. 4. to conceal (stolen or incriminating articles) in a place where they will be discovered and mislead the discoverer, planted the evidence. □ plant food, nourishment for plants. plant kingdom, the division of the natural world comprising all living things that are not animal. plant louse, a small insect that infests plants, especially the aphid. plant pathology, the branch of botany that deals with diseases of plants.
plan·tar (plan·tar) adj. of the sole of the foot.
plan·ta·tion (plan·tay·shon) n. 1. a number of cultivated plants or trees, the area of land on which they grow. 2. an estate on which cotton or tobacco or tea etc. is cultivated.
or other rigid material. 6. this coated with material sensitive to light or other radiation, for use in photography etc. 7. a flat piece of metal on which something is engraved. 8. a piece of metal, plastic, etc. in a printing press, which is inked and transfers an impression to the paper.

9. an illustration on special paper in a book. 10. a thin flat structure or formation in a plant or animal body. 11. a piece of plastic material molded to the shape of the gums or roof of the mouth for holding false teeth, (informal) a denture. 12. a flat piece of whitened rubber marking the station of the batter (home plate) in baseball.

plate v. (plat-ed, plat-ing) 1. to cover with plates of metal. 2. to coat (metal) with a thin layer of silver or gold or tin. □ on one’s plate, (informal) for one to deal with or consider, he had too much on his plate.

plate glass, glass of fine quality for shop windows etc. plate rack, a rack in which plates are kept or placed to drain.

plateau (pla-toh) n. 1. an area of fairly level high ground. 2. a state in which there is little variation following an increase, the firm’s export trade reached a plateau.

plateful (playt-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls) 1. as much as a plate will hold. 2. (informal) a large amount of work etc. to deal with.

plateen (plat-en) n. 1. a plate in a printing press by which paper is pressed against type. 2. the corresponding part in a typewriter etc.

plateform (plat-form) n. 1. a level surface raised above the surrounding ground or floor, especially one from which a speaker addresses an audience. 2. a raised area along the side of the rails at a railroad station, where passengers get on or off the trains. 3. the declared policy or program of a political party.

plat-ing (play-tin) n. a coating of gold, silver, etc.

plat-i-num (plat-i-nüm) n. a silver-white metallic element that does not tarnish. □ platinum blonde, a woman with very light blonde hair.

plat-i-tude (plat-i-tood) n. a commonplace remark, especially one uttered solemnly as if it were new.

plat-i-tu-dinous (plat-i-to-di-nüs) adj.

plat-on-i-c (plä-ton-ik) adj. (often Platonic) of the ancient Greek philosopher Plato (4th century B.C.) or his doctrines. □ platonic love or friendship, affection that does not involve sexual love.

platoon (plä-toon) n. a subdivision of a military company.

plat-ter (plat-er) n. 1. a flat dish or plate, often of wood. 2. a large shallow dish or plate for serving food. 3. (informal) a phonograph record. □ on a platter, (informal) available without the recipient having to make an effort.

plat-y (plat-ee) n. (pl. plat-y, plat-ys, plat-les) a brightly colored freshwater fish often kept in aquariums.

plat-y-pus (plat-i-pús) n. (pl. -pus-es, -pl. pr. -pt) an Australian animal with a duck-like beak and a flat tail, which lays eggs but suckles its young.

plau-dits (plaw-dits) n. pl. a round of applause, an emphatic expression of approval.

plau-si-ble (plaw-zí-bël) adj. 1. (of a statement) seeming to be reasonable or probable but not proved. 2. (of a person) persuasive but deceptive.

adv. plau-si-ble-ly play (play) v. 1. to occupy oneself in a game or other recreational activity. 2. to take part in (a game), play football. 3. to compete against (a player or team) in a game. 4. to occupy (a specified position) in a game. 5. to move (a piece) or put (a card) on the table or strike (a ball etc.) in a game. 6. to act in a drama etc., to act the part of; play the fool, to behave like one. 7. to perform (a part in a process). 8. to perform on (a musical instrument), to perform (a piece of music). 9. to cause (a record player or tape recorder etc.) to produce sound. 10. to move lightly or irregularly, to allow (light or water) to fall on something, (of a fountain or hose pipe) to discharge water. 11. to allow (a hooked fish) to exhaust itself by its pulling against the line.

play n. 1. playing; a play on words, a pun. 2. a move or action in a game, a chess play; a football play. 3. activity, operation, other influences came into play. 4. a literary work written for performance on the stage, a similar work for broadcasting. 5. free movement, bolts should have half an inch of play.

play’a-ble adj. □ In or out of play, (of a ball) being used, or temporarily out of use according to the rules, in a game. make a play for, (informal) to try to win as a girlfriend or boyfriend. play along, to cooperate unenthusiastically. play around, to behave irresponsibly. play at, to perform in a trivial or halfhearted way. play ball, (informal) to cooperate. play both ends against the middle, to manipulate two opposing groups, taking advantage of both for personal gain. play by ear, to perform (music) without having seen a written score; to proceed step by step, going by one’s instinct or by results. play down, to minimize the importance of. played out, exhausted, used up. play for time, to seek to gain time by delaying. play games, to act without serious intent. play group, a group of young children who play together regularly under supervision. playing card, one of a pack or set of fifty-two oblong pieces of pasteboard used to play a variety of games, marked on one side to show one of thirteen ranks in one of four suits. playing field, a field used for outdoor games. play into someone's hands, to do something that unwittingly gives him an advantage. play off one person against another, to oppose one person to another in order to serve one's own interests. play on, to affect and make use of (a person's sympathy etc.). play one's cards right or well, to make good use of one's opportunities. play safe, to act with caution. play the field, (informal) to avoid exclusive commitment to one person. play the game, to keep the rules; to behave honorably. play the market, to speculate in stocks etc. play up to, to try to win the favor of or encourage (a person) by flattery etc. play with, to toy with; play with fire, to treat frivolously something that could prove dangerous.

pla*ya (plá-á) n. a desert basin that becomes a lake after a heavy rainfall.

play-act-ing (play-ak-tîng) n. 1. the playing of a part in a play. 2. the act of pretending.

play-back (play-bak) n. 1. the playing back of sound. 2. a device for doing this. play-back v. to play (what has recently been recorded) on a tape recorder etc.

play-book (play-bîk) n. a placard or program of a theatrical play.

play-boy (play-boi) n. a pleasure-loving usually rich man.

play-by-play (play-bî-play) n. a detailed account, such as a broadcast of a sports event.

play-er (play-ér) n. 1. a person who takes part in a game. 2. a performer on a musical instrument. 3. an actor. □player piano, a piano fitted with apparatus that enables it to play automatically.

play-ful (play-fûl) adj. 1. full of fun. 2. in a mood for play, not serious. play-'ful-ly adv. play-'ful-ness n.

play-go-er (play-goh-er) n. a person who frequently attends theatrical plays.

play-ground (play-ground) n. 1. a piece of ground for children to play on. 2. a favorite place for recreation.

play-house (play-hous) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-zîz) 1. a theater. 2. a small house that children play in.

play-let (play-lît) n. a short play.

play-mate (play-mayt) n. a child's companion in play.

play-off (play-awf) n. a match played to decide a draw or tie.

play-pen (play-pen) n. a portable enclosure for a young child to play in.

play-suit (play-soot) n. a garment for a young child to play in.

play-thing (play-thing) n. 1. a toy. 2. something treated as a thing to play with.

play-time (play-trm) n. time assigned for children to play.

play-wright (play-rît) n. a person who writes plays, a dramatist.

pla-za (plá-á) n. a public square or open space in a city or town.

plea (plee) n. 1. a formal statement (especially of "guilty" or "not guilty") made by or on behalf of a person charged in a court of law. 2. an appeal or entreaty, a plea for mercy. 3. an excuse, on the plea of ill health. □plea bargaining, the procedure whereby a defendant agrees to plead guilty in return for a light sentence or other leniency.

plead (pleed) v. (pled-*ed or pled, pleading) 1. to put forward as a plea in a court of law. 2. to address a court of law as an advocate, to put forward (a case) in court. 3. to make an appeal or entreaty; plead with a person, to entreat him. 4. to put forward as an excuse, pleaded a previous engagement.

pleas-ant (plez-ânt) adj. 1. pleasing, giving pleasure, to the mind or feelings or senses. 2. having an agreeable manner.

pleas-ant-ly adv. pleas-ant-ness n.

plea-ant-ry (plez-ânt-tree) n. (pl. -lies) 1. a courteous or friendly remark. 2. a humorous or playful remark or act.

please (pleez) v. (pleased, pleas-ing) 1. to give pleasure to, to make (a person etc.) feel satisfied or glad. 2. to be so kind as to, please ring the bell. 3. to think fit, to have the desire, take what you please. please, a polite phrase of request. □If you please, (formal) please; an ironical phrase, pointing out unreasonableness, and so, if you please, we're to get nothing! please oneself, to do as one chooses.

pleased (pleezd) adj. feeling or showing pleasure or satisfaction.

pleas-ur-a-bie (plez-hú- rá-bî) adv. causing pleasure. pleas'ur-a-bly adv.

pleas-ure (plez-húr) n. 1. a feeling of satisfaction or joy, enjoyment. 2. a source of pleasure, it's a pleasure to talk to him. 3. choice, desire, at your pleasure. pleas-ure adj. done or used for pleasure, a pleat (pleet) n. a flat fold made by doubling cloth on itself. pleat v. to make a pleat or pleats in pleat-ed (plee-tid) adj. having pleats, as a skirt.

plebe (pleeb) n. a member of the lowest (freshman) class at the U.S. Naval Academy or the U.S. Military Academy.

ple-be-ian (plee-be-ian) adj. 1. of the lower social classes. 2. uncultured, vulgar, plebean tastes. plebelian n. a member of the lower classes.

pleb-i-sit (plee-bee-ant) n. held for one's vote.

pl-eat (pleet) n. a referendum, a vote by all the people of a country etc. on an important public matter.

pl-ebs (pleez) n. (pl. ple-bees, pr. ple-beez) 1. the common people of ancient Rome. 2. the common people.

plec-trum (plek-trum) n. a musical instrument.

pleg-de (plej) n. 1. a solemn promise. 2. a thing deposited as security for payment of a debt or fulfillment of a contract etc., and liable to be forfeited in case of failure. 3. a token of something, as a pledge of his devotion. 4. a toast drunk to someone's health. 5. a provisional member of a fraternity or sorority. pledge v. (pledged, pledging) 1. to promise or cause to promise solemnly. 2. to deposit (an article) as a pledge. 3. to drink to the health of. 4. to promise to join (a fraternity, sorority, etc.).

pleis-to-cene (plis-to-seen) adj. of the earlier geologic epoch of the Quaternary period. Pleistocene n. the Pleistocene epoch.

ple-ge-nary (plee-nar-ree) adj. 1. attended by all members, a plenary session of the assembly. 2. full, complete, a legislature with plenary powers.

pl-e-n-i-po-ten-ti-a-ry (plen-i-po-ten-shi-er-ee) n. (pl. -ar-les) an envoy with full powers to take action or make decisions etc. on behalf of the government he represents. plenipotentiary adj. having these powers.

pl-e-n-i-tude (plen-i-tood) n. abundance, a plenitude of flowers; trees in plenitude.

ple-ni-te-ous (plen-i-űs) adj. plentiful.

pl-e-ni-ti-ful (plen-i-ti-ful) adj. in large quantities or numbers, abundant. plenitifully adv.

pl-e-n-ty (plene-tee) n. (pl. -tles) quite enough, as much as one could need or desire. plenty adv. (informal) quite, fully, it's plenty big enough.

ple-ni-num (plee-nûm) n. (pl. -nums, -na, pr. -nā) 1. a space filled with matter. 2. a full assembly.

ple-o-nasm (plee-ŏ-naz-ĕm) n. an expression in which a word is redundant, as in hear with one's ears.

ple-th-o-ra (plee-thô-ra) n. an overabundance.

pleu-ri-sy (ploor-ĕ-see) n. inflammation of the membrane (the pleura) lining the chest and surrounding the lungs.

Plex-i-glas (plek-si-glas) n. (trademark) plexiglass.

plex-i-glass (plek-si-glas) n. a transparent acrylic plastic, used in signs, windows, etc.

plex-us (plex-ŭs) n. (pl. -usses, -us) 1. a network of nerves or blood vessels. 2. a network, a complication.

pl-i-a-ble (plî-a-bîl) adj. 1. bending easily, flexible. 2. easily influenced. pliably adv. pli-a-ble (plî-a-bîl-at) adj. pliable. pli-a-ble (plî-a-bîl-at-er) v. (pledged, pledging) 1. to promise or cause to promise solemnly. 2. to deposit (an article) as a pledge. 3. to drink to the health of. 4. to promise to join (a fraternity, sorority, etc.).

pl-i-o-cene (plî-ŏ-seen) adj. of the latest geologic epoch of the Tertiary period. Pliocene n. the Pliocene epoch.

PLO abbr. Palestine Liberation Organization.

plod (plod) v. (plod-ded, plod-ding) 1. to walk doggedly or laboriously, to trudge. 2. to work at a slow but steady rate. plod n. plodding. plod-der n. ploddingly adv.

plop (plop) n. a sound like that of something dropping into water without a splash. plop v. (plopped, plopping) to cause to fall in this manner, plop an ice cube into this glass.

plot (plot) n. 1. a small measured piece of land, building plots. 2. the plan or story in a play or novel or film. 3. a conspiracy, a secret plan, Gunpowder Plot. plot v. (plot-ted, plot-ting) 1. to make a plan or map of. 2. to mark on a chart or diagram. 3. to plan secretly, to contrive a secret plan. plot-ter n.

plov-er (pluv-ër, plohv-ër) n. (pl. -ers, -er) a kind of wading bird.

plow (plow) n. 1. an implement for cutting furrows in soil, drawn by a tractor or pleasure trip. □with pleasure, willingly, gladly.

pleat / plow
by draft animals. 2. an implement resembling a plow, snowplow. plow v. 1. to turn up (earth) or cast out (roots etc.) with a plow, to cut (a furrow). 2. to clear snow from (a driveway etc.). 3. to make one's way laboriously, plowed through the mud or through a book. □ plow back, to turn (growing grass etc.) into the soil to enrich it; to reinvest profits in the business that produced them.

plow'er n. plow'a-ble adj.
plow'man (plow-mán) n. (pl. -men, plr. -mén) a man who guides a plow.
plow'share (plow-shear) n. the cutting blade of a plow.

ploy (ploi) n. a cunning maneuver to gain an advantage.

pluck (pluk) v. 1. to pick (a flower or fruit), to pull out (a hair or feather etc.). 2. to strip (a bird) of its feathers. 3. to pull at or twitch. 4. to sound (the string of a musical instrument) by pulling and then releasing it with the finger(s) or a plectrum. pluck n. 1. plucking, a pull. 2. courage, spirit. □ pluck up courage, to summon up one's courage.

pluck'y (pluk-ee) adj. (pluck-i-er, pluck-i-est) showing pluck, brave.
pluck' i-ly adv.

plug (plug) n. 1. something fitting into and stopping or filling a hole or cavity. 2. a device with metal pins that fit into an outlet to make an electrical connection. 3. a spark plug. 4. a cake of tobacco, a piece of this cut off for chewing. 5. (informal) a piece of favorable publicity for a commercial product. 6. an artificial fishing lure. 7. (slang) an old worn-out horse. plug v. (plugged, plug-ging) 1. to put a plug into, to stop with a plug. 2. (slang) to shoot (a person etc.). 3. (informal) to mention favorably, to seek to popularize (a song or product or policy etc.) by constant commendation. □ plug away, to work diligently or persistently. plug in, to connect electrically by inserting a plug into a socket.

plum (plum) n. 1. a fleshy fruit with sweet pulp and a flattish pointed pit. 2. the tree that bears it. 3. (old use) a dried grape or raisin used in cooking; plum cake or pudding, containing such fruit.
4. reddish-purple color. 5. a good thing, the best of a collection, something considered good and desirable, the job was a real plum.

plum'age (ploo-mij) n. a bird's feathers.

plumb (plum) n. a piece of lead tied to the end of a cord, used for finding the depth of water or testing whether a wall etc. is vertical. plumb adj. exactly vertical, straight up and down. plumb adv. 1. exactly, plumb in the middle. 2. (informal) completely, plumb crazy. plumb v. 1. to measure or test with a plumb line. 2. to reach, plumb the depths of the lake. 3. to get to the bottom of (a matter). □ plumb bob, the weight attached to a plumb line. plumb line, a cord with a plumb attached.

plumb-er (plum-er) n. a person whose job is to fit and repair plumbing. plumb v. to work as a plumber. □ plumb'er helper, a plumber's assistant; (informal) = plunger (definition 2).

plumb-ing (plum-ing) n. a system of water pipes, water tanks, drainpipes, etc. in a building.

plume (ploom) n. 1. a feather, especially a large one used for ornament. 2. an ornament of feathers or similar material.
3. something resembling this, a plume of smoke. plume v. (plumed, plumb-ing) to preen, the bird plumed itself or its feathers.

plumed (ploomd) adj. ornamented with plumes.

plum-met (plum-it) n. a plumb or plumb bob. plummet v. (plum-met-ed, plum-met-ing) to fall or plunge steeply.

plump1 (plump) adj. having a full rounded shape. plump v. to make or become plump, to plump a pillow. plump'ness n.

plump2 v. to drop or plunge abruptly, plumped down. plump adv. with a sudden or heavy fall. □ plump for, to choose or vote for wholeheartedly, to decide on.

plun-der (plun-dér) v. to rob (a place or person) forcibly or systematically, to steal or embezzle. plunder n. 1. the taking of goods or money etc. in this way. 2. the goods etc. acquired. plun'der-er n.

plunge (plunj) v. (plunged, plung-ing) 1. to thrust or go forcefully into something. 2. to descend suddenly. 3. to jump or dive into water. 4. to enter or cause to enter a condition or set of circumstances, plunged the world into war. 5. (of a horse) to start forward violently, (of a ship) to thrust its bow down into the water, to pitch. 6. to gamble heavily or run deeply into debt. plunge n. plunging, a dive. □ take the plunge, to take a bold decisive step.

plung-er (plun-jér) n. 1. the part of a mechanism that works with a plunging or thrusting movement. 2. a rubber cup on a handle for removing blockages by alternate thrusting and suction. 3. a reckless gambler, a speculator.

plunk (plungk) v. 1. (informal) to throw or place or drop down heavily. 2. to hit unexpectedly. 3. to pluck the strings of...
a harp, banjo, etc. plunk n. the sound or act of plunking. □plunk down, to drop heavily.

plu•per•fect (plō-pur-fikt) adj. & n. = past perfect (see tense).

plu•ral (plōr-āl) n. the form of a noun or verb used with reference to more than one person or thing, the plural of "child" is "children." plural adj. 1. of this form. 2. of more than one.

plu•ral•ism (plōr-ā-liz-ēm) n. a form of society in which members of minority groups maintain independent traditions.

plu•ral•ist adj. plu•ral•ist•ic (plōr-ā-lis-tik) adj.

plu•ral•i•ty (plōr-ā-lī-tee) n. (pl. -ties).

1. the state of being plural. 2. the number of votes by which the total cast for the winner exceeds that of his nearest rival. □See the note under majority.

plu•ral•ize (plōr-ā-liz) v. (plu•ral•ized, plu•ral•iz•ing) to make or express as plural.

plu•ral•iza•tion (plōr-ā-liz•ā-shun) n.

plus (plus) prep. 1. with the addition of. 2. above zero, temperature between minus ten and plus ten degrees. plus n. (pl. plus•es) 1. the sign +. 2. an advantage. plus adj. more than the quantity indicated; B plus (B+), a grade slightly above B.

plus fours, knickers once worn especially by golfers (▷so named because the length was increased by four inches to produce the overhang). plus sign, the sign +.

plush (plush) n. a kind of cloth with long soft nap, used in home furnishings.

plush adj. 1. made of plush. 2. plushy.

plush•y (plush-y) adj. (plush•i•er, plush•i•est) luxurious. plush•i•ness n.

Plu•to (plō-tō) n. 1. a planet in the solar system. 2. the god of the underworld in Greek mythology.

plu•toc•ra•cy (plō-tōk-rā-se) n. (pl. -cies) 1. rule of the wealthy. 2. a nation ruled by the wealthy.

plu•to•crat (plō-tō-krat) n. a person who is powerful because of his wealth. plu•to•crat•ic (plō-tō-krat•ik) adj.

plu•to•ton•ium (plō-tō-tō-ne) n. a body of rock exposed after solidification at a great depth.

plu•to•ni•um (plō-tō-ne•um) n. a radioactive chemical element, used in nuclear weapons and reactors.

plu•vi•al (plō-vē-āl) adj. 1. of rain, rainy. 2. (in geology) caused by rain.

plu•vi•om•e•ter (plō-vē-om•ē•ter) n. a rain gauge.

ply1 (plī) n. (pl. ples) 1. a thickness or layer of wood or cloth etc. 2. a strand in yarn, three-ply wool.

ply2 v. (plied, ply•ing) 1. to use or wield (a tool or weapon). 2. to work at, ply one's trade. 3. to work steadily. 4. to keep offering or supplying, plied her with food or with questions. 5. to go to and fro regularly, the boat plies between the two harbors.

Plym•outh (plīm-ūth) Rock 1. a medium-sized breed of domestic fowl of American origin. 2. a boulder on the coast at Plymouth, Massachusetts, said to be the landing place of the Pilgrim Fathers.

ply•wood (plĭ-wud) n. strong thin board made by gluing layers with the grain crosswise.

Pm symbol promethium.

pm. abbr. premium.

p.m. abbr. post meridiem.

P.M. abbr. 1. paymaster. 2. postmaster. 3. post meridiem. 4. postmortem. 5. Prime Minister. 6. provost marshal.

pmk. abbr. postmark.

pmt. abbr. payment.

PN abbr. promissory note.

pneu•mat•ic (nuh-mah-tik) adj. filled with or operated by compressed air, pneumatic tires; pneumatic drills. pneu•mat•ic•al•ly adv.

pneu•mat•ics (nuh-mah-tiks) n. the branch of physics that deals with the physical properties of gases.

pneu•mo•co•dn•osis (nuh-moh-koh-ni-oh-sis) n. a lung disease caused by inhalation of dust etc.

pneu•mo•nia (nuh-moh-ni-ah) n. inflammation of one or both lungs.

Po symbol polonium.

P.O. abbr. 1. petty officer. 2. post office.

poach1 (pōch) v. 1. to cook (an egg removed from its shell) in boiling water or in a poacher. 2. to cook (fish or fruit etc.) by simmering it in a small amount of liquid.

poach2 v. 1. to take (game or fish) illegally from private land or water. 2. to trespass or encroach on something that properly belongs to another person. poach•er1 n. a person who poaches.

poach•er2 (pōch-chër) n. a pan with one or more cup-shaped containers in which eggs are placed for cooking over boiling water.

POB abbr. post office box.

POC abbr. port of call.

pock (pōk) n. (also pockmark) 1. one of the spots that erupt on the skin in smallpox. 2. a scar left by this.

pock•et (pōk-it) n. 1. a small baglike part sewn into or on a garment, for holding money or small articles. 2. one's resources of money; beyond my pocket, more than I can afford. 3. a pouchlike compartment in a suitcase or on a car door etc. 4. one of the pouches at the corners or sides of a pool table, into which balls are driven. 5. an isolated group or area, small pockets of resistance. pocket adj. of a size or shape suitable for carrying in a pocket, pocket calculator. pocket v. 1. to put into one's pocket. 2. to take for oneself (dishonestly or otherwise). 3. to send (a ball) into a pocket on a pool table. 4. to suppress or hide (one's feelings), pocketing his pride. In a person's pocket, completely under his influence. In pocket, having gained in a transaction. out of pocket, having lost in a transaction. out-of-pocket expenses, cash expenses incurred while doing something. pocket gopher, = gopher. pocket money, money for small expenses. pocket veto, an indirect veto of a bill by a president or governor etc. who retains the bill unsigned until after adjournment of the legislature. pocket watch, a watch designed to be carried in a special pocket of a man's suit.

pocketbook (pok-it-buuk) n. 1. a purse or handbag. 2. financial resources. 3. a paperback book, small enough to be carried in a pocket.

pocketful (pok-it-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls) the amount that a pocket will hold.

pocketknife (pok-it-nf) n. (pl. -knives, pr. nivz) a knife with a folding blade or blades, for carrying in the pocket.

pocket-marked (pok-mahrkt) adj. marked by scars or pits.

pod (pod) n. 1. a long seed vessel like that of a pea or bean. 2. a compartment suspended under an aircraft. pod v. (podded, podding) to bear or form pods.

POD abbr. 1. pay on delivery. 2. port of debarkation.

podiatrist (pod-iar-tist) n. an expert in podiatry.

podiatry (pod-i-a-tree) n. the study and treatment of ailments of the human foot, as bunions, calluses, etc.

podium (poh-dium) n. a pedestal or platform.

POE abbr. 1. port of embarkation. 2. port of entry.

poem (poh-em) n. a literary composition in verse, especially one expressing deep feeling or noble thought in an imaginative way.

poetry (poh-e-tee) n. (pl. -ties) (old use) the art of poetry.

poet (poh-it) n. a writer of poems. poetess (poh-its) n. fem. Many regard the word poetess as objectionable and prefer to use poet for women as well as for men.

poetic (poh-eti-k) adj. of or like poetry, of poets. = poetic justice, well-deserved punishment or reward.

poetical (poh-et-ik) adj. poetic, written in verse, poetical works. poetical adj.

poetry (poh-i-tree) n. 1. poems, a poet's art or work. 2. a quality that pleases the mind as poetry does, the poetry of motion.

pocket (pok-it) n. 1. a pocketbook, having a hanger. 2. a small amount of paperback signed breasts, pocket. 3. a pocket, more especially an organized massacre, originally and especially of Jews in Russia.

poki (poh-i) n. a Hawaiian food made from the taro root.

gn -ant (poh-nant) adj. arousing sympathy, deeply moving to the feelings, keenly felt, poignant grief. = poignantly adv.

pock-marked (pok-mahrkt) adj. marked by scars or pits.

pocket (pok-it) n. 1. a pocketbook, having a hanger. 2. a small amount of paperback signed breasts, pocket. 3. a pocket, more especially an organized massacre, originally and especially of Jews in Russia.

poki (poh-i) n. a Hawaiian food made from the taro root.

gn -ant (poh-nant) adj. arousing sympathy, deeply moving to the feelings, keenly felt, poignant grief. = poignantly adv.

pocket (pok-it) n. 1. a pocketbook, having a hanger. 2. a small amount of paperback signed breasts, pocket. 3. a pocket, more especially an organized massacre, originally and especially of Jews in Russia.

poki (poh-i) n. a Hawaiian food made from the taro root.

gn -ant (poh-nant) adj. arousing sympathy, deeply moving to the feelings, keenly felt, poignant grief. = poignantly adv.
one to return to the starting point; the point after which one cannot withdraw from an action. point of view, a way of looking at a matter. point out, to indicate, to draw attention to. point up, to emphasize. stretch a point, to exaggerate or misrepresent the fact. to the point, relevant, relevantly.

Point·blank (point·blank) adj. 1. (of a shot) aimed or fired at very close range. 2. (of a remark) direct, straightforward, a pointblank refusal. pointblank adv. in a pointblank manner, refused pointblank.

Point·ed (point·ted) adj. 1. tapering or sharpened to a point. 2. (of a remark or manner) clearly aimed at a particular person or thing, emphasized. point·ed·ly adv.

Point·er (poin·t·er) n. 1. a thing that points to something, a mark or rod that points to figures etc. on a dial or scale. 2. a rod used to point to things on a blackboard etc. 3. (informal) a brief piece of advice, pointers on good grooming. 4. a dog of a breed that on scenting game stands rigidly with muzzle pointing toward it.

Point·illism (pwan·tī·lis·əm) n. (in painting) a technique of producing light effects by crowding a surface with small spots of various colors, which are blended by the spectator’s eye.

Point·il·list (pwan·ti·list) n. a painter who uses pointillism.

Point·less (point·less) adj. 1. without a point. 2. having no purpose or meaning. point·less·ly adv.

Poise (poiz) v. (poid, pol·ing) 1. to balance or be balanced. 2. to hold suspended or supported. poise n. 1. balance, the way something is poised. 2. a dignified and self-assured manner.

Poised (poizd) adj. having poised of manner.

Po·son (pō·zōn) n. 1. a substance that can destroy the life or harm the health of a living animal or plant. 2. a harmful influence. poison v. 1. to give poison to, to kill with poison. 2. to put poison on or in. 3. to corrupt, to fill with prejudice, poisoned their minds. po·son·er n. □ poison hemlock, a poisonous herb of the carrot family. poison ivy, a climbing plant with shiny leaves that secrete an irritant oil. poison oak, a plant closely related to poison ivy and possessing similar properties. poison pen, a person who writes malicious or slanderous anonymous letters, poison pen letters.

Po·son·ous (pō·zō·nūs) adj. 1. containing or having the effect of poison. 2. likely to corrupt people, a poisonous influence.

Poke¹ (pōk) v. (poked, pok·ing) 1. to thrust with the end of a finger or a stick etc.; poke the fire, stir it with a poker. 2. to thrust or be thrust forward, to protrude. 3. to produce by poking, poked a hole in it. 4. to search, to pry, poking about in the attic. 5. to move slowly, to dawdle, they were poking along to school as if they had all day. 6. (informal) to punch (a person). poke n. poking, a thrust or nudge. □ poke fun at, to ridicule. poke one’s nose into something, to pry or intrude.

Poke² n. (informal) a bag or sack, buy a pig in a poke (see pig).

Pok·er¹ (pōk·ker) n. a stiff metal rod for poking a fire.

Poker² n. a card game in which players bet on whose hand of cards has the highest value. □ poker face, a face that does not reveal thoughts or feelings; a person with such a face.

Poke·weed (pōk·weed) n. a tall American plant with purple berries and white flowers.

Pok·y (pōk·ē) adj. (pok·i·er, pok·y·est) 1. slow to accomplish something or get somewhere. 2. small and cramped, poky little rooms. poky, pok·y·ey n. (slang) jail.

Pol (pol) n. (informal) a politician.

Pol·i·br. 1. political. 2. politics.

Pol·i. abbr. 1. Polish.

Po·land (pō·lānd) a country in eastern Europe.

Po·lar (pō·lar) adj. 1. of or near the North Pole or South Pole. 2. of one of the poles of a magnet. 3. directly opposite in character or tendency. □ polar bear, a white bear living in arctic regions.

Po·lar·is (pō·lar·is) n. the North Star.

Po·lar·i·ty (pō·lar·i·ty) n. (pl. -ties) the possessing of negative and positive poles.

Po·lar·ize (pō·lar·ız) v. (pō·lar·ized, po·lar·iz·ing) 1. to confine similar vibrations of (light waves etc.) to a single direction or plane. 2. to give polarity to. 3. to set or become set at opposite extremes of opinion, public opinion had polarized. po·lar·i·za·tion (pō·lar·i·za·shen) n.

Po·lar·oid (pō·lar·oid) n. (trademark) 1. a material that polarizes the light passing through it, used in spectacle lenses etc. to protect the eyes from glare. 2. a kind of camera that develops and prints a photograph rapidly when an exposure is made.

Po·ler·n. a piece of low-lying land reclaimed from the sea or a river, especially in the Netherlands.

pole (pohl) n. 1. a long slender rounded piece of wood or metal, especially one used as part of a supporting structure. 2. a unit of measurement = rod. pole v. (poled, pol-ing) to push along (a raft etc.) by using a pole. □pole vault, a vault over a high crossbar with the help of a pole held in the hands.

pole n. 1. either extremity of Earth's or another body's axis, either of two points in the sky about which stars appear to rotate, the North Pole or South Pole. 2. each of the two points in a magnet that attract or repel magnetic bodies. 3. the positive or negative terminal of an electric cell or battery. 4. each of two opposed principles. □be poles apart, to differ greatly.

Pole (pohl) n. a Polish person.

pole-ax (pohl-aks) n. 1. a battle-ax with a long handle. 2. a butcher's implement for slaughtering cattle. pole-ax v. (poleaxed, pole-ax-ing) to strike down with or as if with a poleax.

pole-cat (pohl-kat) n. 1. a skunk. 2. (slang) a rascal.

po-le-mic (po-lém-ik) n. 1. a verbal attack on a belief or opinion. 2. polemics, the practice of argumentation. polemic adj. 1. controversial. 2. argumentative.

po-le-mi-cal (po-lém'i-kal) adj. po-le-mi-cal-ly (po-lém'i-kl-é) adv. po-le-mi-cal-ness (po-lém'i-kl-néz) n.

pole-star (pohl-stahr) n. a star in the Little Bear, near the North Pole in the sky, Polaris.

po-lice (pök-lis) n. 1. a civil force responsible for the keeping of public order, its members, the police have been called. 2. a force responsible for enforcing the regulations of an organization etc., military police; campus police. police v. (pol-iced, po-líc-ing) to keep order in (a place) by means of police, to patrol. □police action, a military action taken without formal declaration of war when international peace or order is violated or threatened. police car, a special car for policemen to use while on duty. police court, a municipal court for trying persons accused of minor offenses or for referring to a higher court those accused of major offenses. police dog, a German shepherd or dog of another breed used to assist the police. police officer, a policeman or policewoman. police power, a nation's sovereign power to regulate the conduct of its citizens. police state, a country (usually a totalitarian state) in which political police supervise and control citizens' activities. police station, the office of a police force. police wagon, a van used by police for transporting prisoners.

po-lice-man (pök-lis-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -män) a man who is a member of a police force.

po-lice-wom-an (pök-lis-wööm-ään) n. (pl. -women, pr. -wöm-in) a woman member of a police force.

pol-i-cy (pol'i-sé) n. 1. the course or general plan of action adopted by a government or party or person.

pol-i-cy (pol'i-sé) n. 1. a contract of insurance, the document containing this. 2. (slang) a gambling game in which bets are made on the occurrence of three numbers that are unpredictable, such as the last three digits in a parimutuel pool.

pol-i-cy-hold-er (pol'i-see-hohl-dër) n. a person or firm for which an insurance policy is written.

po-li-o (pök-lë-ô) n. poliomyelitis.

po-li-o-my-e-li-tis (pök-lë-ô-my-ë-lë-tis) n. an infectious disease caused by a virus, producing temporary or permanent paralysis.

pol-i-sh (pök-lësh) v. 1. to make or become smooth and glossy by rubbing. 2. to make better by correcting or putting finishing touches. polish n. 1. smoothness and glossiness. 2. the process of polishing. 3. a substance for polishing a surface. 4. a high degree of elegance. pol-i-sh-er n. □polish off, to finish off.

po-li-sh (pök-lësh) adj. of Poland or its people or language. Polish n. 1. the language of Poland. 2. the Polish, the people of Poland.

pol-i-shed (pök-lëشd) adj. elegant, refined, perfected, polished manners; a polished performance.

pol-i-tic (pök-lit) n. 1. an individual member of a political party or group. 2. a person engaged in politics. 3. the science, or practical art, of government. pol-i-tic (pök-lit) adj. political. 2. politics.

Po-lit-bu-ro (po-lit-byoo-ro) n. (pl. -ros) the principal committee of a Communist party.

po-lit (pök-lit) adj. (-lit-er, -lit-est) 1. having good manners, socially correct. 2. refined, polite society. po-lit'ly adv. po-lit'ness n.

po-lit-i-cal (pök-lit-i-kal) adj. showing good judgment, prudent. □the body politic, see body.

po-lit-i-cal (pök-lit-i-kal) adj. (-lit-i-kal) 1. of or engaged in politics. 2. of the way a country is governed, its political system. po-lit'i-cal-ly adv. □political asylum, refuge in foreign territory for refugees from political persecution. political prisoner, a person imprisoned for a political offense.

po-lit-i-clan (pök-lit-i-tshan) n. a person who is engaged in politics.

po-lit-i-cize (pök-lit-i-siz) v. (po-lit'i-ized, po-lit'i-izing) 1. to give political character to, politicized the Department of Public Welfare. 2. to engage in talk politics.

pol-l'·tick (pol-i-tik) v. (informal) to engage in or talk politics.

po-lit·i·co (pö-lit-i-koh) n. (pl. -cos) (slang) a politician.

pol·i·tics (pol-i-tiks) n. sing. 1. the scicence and art of governing a country. 2. political affairs or life. 3. maneuvering for power etc. within a group, office politics.

pol·ly·m·er·i·ze (po-ly-mér-i-zé) to commbine or become combined into a pol·ly·mer·i·za·tion (po-ly-mér-i-zatshun) n.

pol·l·o (pö-loh) n. a game played by teams on horseback with long-handled mallets.

pol·o coat, a double-breasted coat, usually of camel’s hair. polo shirt, a short-sleeved sport shirt.

pol·o·na·ise (pö-ö-näyz) n. a stately dance of Polish origin, music for this or in this style.

pol·o·ni·um (pö-loh-ni-üm) n. a pola-
rade.

pol·i·ty (pol-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the form or process of civil government. 2. a nation or other politically organized society.

Polk (pök), James K. (1795–1849) the eleventh president of the U.S. 1845–49.

pol·ka (pöhl-kä) n. a lively dance for couples, of Bohemian origin. polka v. to dance the polka.

pol·ka (pöhl-kä) dots round dots, evenly spaced to form a pattern on fabric.

pol·lack (pöhl-ak) n. (pl. -lacks) a sea fish related to the cod, used as food.

pol·lard (pöhl-ard) n. 1. a tree that is polled so as to produce a close head of young branches. 2. an animal that has cast or lost its horns, an ox or sheep or goat of a hornless breed. pollard v. to make a (tree) into a pollard, pollarded willows.

polled (pöhlld) adj. made hornless.

pol·len (pö-lên) n. a fine powdery substance produced by the anthers of flowers, containing the fertilizing element.

pol·li·cate (pol-ë-kät) v. (pol-lë-kat-ëd, pol-lë-nat-ëd, pol-lë-nat-ëd-ing) to shed pollen on, to fertilize with pollen.

pol·li·tion (pol-ë-shon) n.

pol·li·wog (pol-i-wög) n. a tadpole.

pol·lit·er (pol-lë-tër) n. a person who conducts opinion polls.

pol·lu·tant (pö-loo-tänt) n. a substance causing pollution.

pol·lut·ing (pö-lut·ing) v. (pol-lut·ëd, pollut·ëd-ing) 1. to make dirty or impure, es-especially by adding harmful or offensive substances. 2. to corrupt, polluting the mind. pol·lut·er n. pol·lut·i·on (pöloo-shon) n.

pol·lo (pö-loh) n. a game played by teams
on horseback with long-handled mallets.

polo coat, a double-breasted coat, usually of camel’s hair. polo shirt, a short-sleeved sport shirt.

pol·o·na·ise (pö-ö-näyz) n. a stately
dance of Polish origin, music for this or
in this style.

pol·o·ni·um (pö-loh-ni-üm) n. a pola-
rade.

pol·i·ty (pol-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the
form or process of civil government. 2. a nation or other politically organized society.

Polk (pök), James K. (1795–1849) the eleventh president of the U.S. 1845–49.

pol·ka (pöhl-kä) n. a lively dance for couples, of Bohemian origin. polka v. to dance the polka.

pol·ka (pöhl-kä) dots round dots, evenly spaced to form a pattern on fabric.

pol·lack (pöhl-ak) n. (pl. -lacks) a sea fish related to the cod, used as food.

pol·lard (pöhl-ard) n. 1. a tree that is polled
so as to produce a close head of young branches. 2. an animal that has cast or lost its horns, an ox or sheep or goat of
a hornless breed. pollard v. to make a (tree) into a pollard, pollarded willows.

polled (pöhlld) adj. made hornless.

pol·len (pö-lên) n. a fine powdery substance produced by the anthers of flowers, containing the fertilizing element.

pol·li·cate (pol-ë-kät) v. (pol-lë-kat-ëd, pol-lë-nat-ëd, pol-lë-nat-ëd-ing)
to shed pollen on, to fertilize with pollen.

pol·li·tion (pol-ë-shon) n.

pol·li·wog (pol-i-wög) n. a tadpole.

pol·lit·er (pol-lë-tër) n. a person who conducts opinion polls.

pol·lu·tant (pö-loo-tänt) n. a substance
causing pollution.

pol·lut·ing (pö-lut·ing) v. (pol-lut·ëd, pollut·ëd-ing) 1. to make dirty or impure, es-specially by adding harmful or offensive substances. 2. to corrupt, polluting the

mind. pol·lut·er n. pol·lut·i·on (pöloo-shon) n.
polymer. pol·y·m·er·i·za·tion (pō-lim-ĕ-ri-zā-shōn) n.
Pol·y·ne·si·a (pol·i-ne-zhā) a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean, including New Zealand, Hawaii, and Samoa. Pol·y·ne·si·an adj. & n.
pol·y·no·mi·al (pol·i-nō-mī-āl) n. an algebraic expression of more than two terms. polynomial adj.
pol·y·phonic (pol·i-fon·ik) adj. (of music) having two or more intertwined melodic lines. po·ly·phony (pō-lī-phon·ē) n.
pol·y·sty·rene (pol·i-str-ē-ten) n. a kind of hard plastic, a polymer of styrene.
pol·y·syl·lab·ic (pol·i-sil·i-lab·ik) adj. having three or more syllables, polysyllabic words.
pol·y·syl·la·ble (pol·i-sil·ā-bē) n. a word of three or more syllables.
pol·y·tech·nic (pol·i-tek·nik) n. an institution giving instruction in many subjects, especially technical ones and industrial arts.
pol·y·the·ism (pol·i-thee·iz·əm) n. belief in or worship of more than one god.
pol·y·the·ist n. pol·y·the·is·tic (pol·i-the·is-tik) adj.
pol·y·un·sat·u·rat·ed (pol·i-un-sach·ū-ray-tid) adj. of a kind of fat or oil that (unlike animal and dairy fats) is not associated with the formation of cholesterol in the blood.
pol·y·ur·eth·ane (pol·i-yoor·ē-thān) n. a kind of synthetic resin or plastic.
pol·y·vi·ny·l (pol·i-vī-nīl) adj. made from polymerized vinyl. pol·yvinyl chlor·ide, a plastic used for insulation, floor coverings, fabrics, etc.
pom·ade (pō-mayd, -mahd) n. a scented ointment for the hair. pom·ade v. (po·mad·ed, po·mad·ing) to apply pomade to.
pom·an·der (pō-mân·der, pōm·an·der) n. (also pomander ball) a ball of mixed sweet-smelling substances or a round container for this, used to perfume closets etc.
pom·e·gran·ate (pōm·ē-gran·it, pom·ē-gran·it) n. 1. a tropical fruit with tough rind and reddish pulp enclosing many seeds. 2. the tree that produces it.
Pom·er·a·ni·an (pōm·ē-rā·ni·ān) n. a dog of a small silky-haired breed.
pom·mel (pōm·ēl) n. 1. a knob on the handle of a sword. 2. an upward projection at the front of a saddle. pom·mel v. (pom·mel·ed, pom·mel·ing) to pummeled.
pomp (pomp) n. a stately and splendid ceremonial.
pom·pa·dour (pōm-pā-dōr) n. a hair-style in which the hair is brushed up and back from the forehead.
pom·pa·no (pōm-pā-no) n. (pl. -nos, -no) a food fish from the West Indies and South America.
pom·po·m (pōm·pōm) n. 1. a decorative tuft or ball on a cap or costume. 2. a type of dahlia or other flower with small tightly clustered petals.
pom·pon (pōm·pon) n. a pom-pom.
pom·pous (pōm·pūs) adj. full of ostentatious dignity and self-importance.
pom·pos·i·ty adv. pom·po·si·ty (pōm·pos·i·tee) n.
pom·po·cho (pōm·po·cho) n. (pl. -chos) 1. a blanketlike piece of cloth with a slit in the center for the head, worn as a cloak. 2. a garment shaped like this.
pontoon (pon·toon) n. a small area of still water.
pont·o·un·der (pōn·tō·der) v. 1. to be deep in thought. 2. to think something over thoroughly.
pont·o·un·der·o·sa (pōn·dē·ro·sa) pine 1. a tall tree of western North America. 2. its wood.
pont·o·un·der·ous (pōn·dē·rōs) adj. 1. heavy, unwieldy. 2. laborious in style. pont·o·un·der·ous·ly adv.
pone (pōn) n. a fine light bread made with milk, eggs, etc.
pone·gee (pōn·je) n. a soft silk fabric, usually in its natural tan color.
pone·lard (pōn·yar·d) n. a dagger.
pone·tiff (pōn·tiff) n. 1. the Pope. 2. a bishop. 3. a high priest.
pone·tiff·i·cal (pōn·tiff·i·kal) adj. 1. or relating to the Pope or pontiff. 2. pompously dogmatic. pon·tiff·i·cal·ly adv. Pon·tical Mass, one celebrated by a bishop in full vestments.
pone·tiff·i·cate (pōn·tiff·i·kat) v. (pon·tiff·i·cat·ed, pon·tiff·i·cat·ing) to speak in a pontifical way. pontifificate (pon·tiff·i·kit) n. the office of a pontiff.
pone·toon (pōn·toon) n. 1. a kind of flat-bottomed boat. 2. one of a number of boats or hollow metal cylinders etc. used to support a temporary bridge. pon·toon bridge, a temporary bridge held in place by pontoons.
pone·ny (pōn·ne) n. (pl. -nies) 1. a horse of any small breed. 2. a crib for students. 3. a small serving of whiskey etc.
pone·ny·tail (pōn·ne·tayl) n. a woman's or girl's long hair drawn back and tied at the back of the head so that it hangs down.
pooch (pōoch) n. (slang) a dog.
poodle / popularize poodle (poo-dé) n. a dog with thick curly hair often clipped or shaved in a pattern.

pooh (poo) interj. an exclamation of impatience or contempt.

Pooh Bah (poo bah) a person who holds many offices at once. ▶ From a character in W. S. Gilbert's The Mikado.

pooh-pooh (poo-poo) v. to dismiss (an idea etc.) scornfully.

pool1 (pool) n. 1. a small area of still water, especially one that is naturally formed. 2. a shallow patch of water or other liquid lying on a surface, a puddle. 3. a swimming pool. 4. a deep place in a river.

pool2 n. 1. a common fund, such as one containing the total stakes in a gambling venture. 2. a common supply of vehicles or commodities or services etc. for sharing among a number of people or firms. 3. a game resembling billiards but played on a pool table. pool v. to put into a common fund or supply, for sharing. □ pool hall or room, a place for playing pool. pool table, a table with six pockets for playing pool.

pop1 (pop) n. the stern of a ship, a raised deck at the stern.

pop2 n. (slang) information.

pop3 n. (slang) feces, especially of animals or children. □ pop'per scooper, a scoop designed for picking up feces from sidewalks and streets.

pooped (poppt) adj. (slang) of a person tired. □ pop out, (slang) to become too tired to continue.

poor (poor) adj. 1. having little money or means; the poor, poor people. 2. deficient in something, poor in minerals. 3. scanty, inadequate, less good than is usual or expected, a poor crop; he is a poor driver; poor soil, not fertile; a poor loser, one who is resentful at losing. 4. lacking in spirit, despicable. 5. deserving pity or sympathy, unfortunate, poor fellow poor'ness n. □ poor boy, a hero sandwich, poor laws, those relating to support of paupers.

poor-house (poor-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-ziz) a public institution for paupers.

poor-ly (poor-lee) adv. in a poor way, badly. poorly adj. unwell, feeling poorly. ▶ Careful speakers say feeling poor.

poor-mouth (poor-mouth) v. (informal) to complain about one's poverty, using it as an excuse.

pop1 (pop) n. 1. a small sharp explosive sound. 2. a carbonated drink, soda pop. pop v. (popped, pop-ping) 1. to make or cause to make a pop. 2. to cause to burst with a pop, to heat (corn) until it bursts open. 3. to put quickly or suddenly, pop it in the oven. 4. to come or go quickly or suddenly or unexpectedly, popped out for coffee. □ pop fly, (in baseball) a high fly ball that does not travel far. pop off, (slang) to speak loudly or indiscreetly; to die. pop out, (in baseball) to be out by hitting a pop fly that is caught. pop the question, (informal) to propose marriage.

pop2 n. (informal) father.

pop3 adj. in a popular modern style. pop n. pop music; top of the pops, most popular of current recordings; pop group, performing pop music; pop festival, at which pop music is performed. □ pop art, a style of art that relies on images in posters and comic strips.

pop. abbr. 1. popular. 2. population.

pop'corn (pop-korn) n. 1. a kind of corn with hard kernels that burst outward when heated. 2. this corn when popped, used as a snack food. □ popcorn ball, a ball of popcorn held together by a candy syrup.

pop (pohp) n. (often Pop) the bishop of Rome, head of the Roman Catholic Church.

pop-eyed (pop-id) adj. with bulging eyes.

pop-gun (pop-gun) n. a child's toy gun that shoots a cork etc. with a popping sound.

pop-in-jay (pop-in-jay) n. a vain talkative person.

pop-ish (poh-pish) adj. (contemptuous) of Roman Catholicism or the papal system.

pop-lar (pop-lar) n. a kind of tall slender tree often with leaves that quiver easily.

pop-o-ver (pop-oh-ver) n. a light puffy muffin with a hollow center.

pop-pa (pop-a) n. (informal) father.

pop-pet (pop-it) n. (also poppet valve) a type of valve operated by a rising and falling stem.

pop-py (pop-ee) n. (pl. -pies) a plant with showy flowers and milky juice. □ poppy seed, the seed of the poppy.

pop-py-cock (pop-ee-kok) n. (slang) nonsense.

pop-u-lace (pop-yu-lis) n. the general public.

pop-u-lar (pop-yu-lar) adj. 1. liked or enjoyed by many people. 2. of or for the general public. 3. (of a belief etc.) held by many people, popular superstitions.

pop-u-lar-ity adv. pop-u-lar-i-ty (pop-yu-lar-i-tee) n. □ popular front, a political party representing left-wing groups.
u·lar·ized, pop·u·lar·iz·ing) 1. to make generally liked. 2. to make generally known, to present (a subject etc.) so that it can be understood by ordinary people. pop·u·lar·i·zer n. pop·u·lar·iza·tion (pop·yú·la·ri·za·shon) n.
pop·u·late (pop·yu·lay·t) v. (pop·u·lat·ed, pop·u·lat·ing) to supply with a population, to form the population of, densely populated.
pop·u·la·tion (pop·yu·lay·shon) n. the inhabitants of a place or district or country, the total number of these. □popu·la·tion explosion, a rapid or sudden increase in population.
pop·u·list (pop·yu·list) adj. of a political party or movement claiming to represent the whole of the people. populism n.
pop·u·lous (pop·yu·lus) adj. thickly populated.
pop-up (pop·up) n. a pop fly.
p.o.r. abbr. pay on return.
por·ce·lain (pohr·se·lin) n. 1. a fine kind of usually translucent pottery with a transparent glaze. 2. objects made of this.
por·ce·lain·ize (pohr·se·li·z) v. (por·ce·lain·ized, por·ce·lain·iz·ing) to coat with a porcelain glaze.
porch (pohrch) n. 1. an open or enclosed room at the side of a house. 2. a roofed shelter forming the approach to the entrance of a house.
por·cine (por·sin) adj. of or like pigs. por·cu·pine (por·kyü·pin) n. a rodent with a body and tail covered with protective spines.
pore1 (pohr) n. one of the tiny openings on an animal's skin or on a leaf, through which moisture may be emitted (for example as sweat) or taken in.
pore2 v. (pored, por·ing) pore over or through, to study (a thing) with close attention.
por·gy (por·gee) n. (pl. -gles, -gy) a perchlike sea fish.
pork (pohrk) n. unsalted pig flesh as food. □pork barrel, (slang) government funds used as a source of political benefit.
pork·er (pohrk·er) n. a pig raised for food, a young fattened pig.
pork·pie (pohrk·pi) n. a pie filled with chopped pork. □porkpie hat, a hat with a flat rimmed crown and a brim turned up all around.
porn (porn) n. (slang) pornography.
por·no·gra·phy (por·no·gra·fee) n. writings or pictures or films etc. that are intended to stimulate erotic feelings by description or portrayal of sexual activity.
por·no·gra·pher n. por·no·graph·lc (por-no·graf·ik) adj.
po·rous (pohr·uhs) adj. 1. containing pores. 2. able to be permeated by liquid or air. po·ros·i·ty (pö·ros·i·tee) n.
por·phy·ry (por·fi·ree) n. (pl. -ries) a kind of rock containing crystals of minerals.
por·poise (por·po·s) n. (pl. -poises, -poise) a sea animal resembling a dolphin or small whale, with a blunt rounded snout.
por·ridge (por·ij) n. (chiefly British) a food made by boiling oatmeal or other meal or cereal to a thick paste-in water or milk.
por·ri·n·ger (por·in·jer) n. (old use) a low cup or dish from which soup or porridge is eaten, especially by children.
port1 (pohrt) n. 1. a harbor, a town with a harbor, especially one where goods are imported or exported by ship. 2. an airport where goods pass in and out of a country and where customs officers are stationed to supervise this. □Port Louis, the capital of Mauritius. Port Moresby, the capital of Papua New Guinea. port of call, a place where a ship stops during a journey. port of entry, a place where goods may be cleared through a customs house; a place where aliens may enter a country.
port2 n. 1. an opening in a ship's side for entrance, loading, etc. 2. a porthole.
port3 n. the left-hand side (when facing forward) of a ship or aircraft. port v. to turn this way, port your helm.
port4 n. a strong sweet usually dark red wine of Portugal. Port. abbr. 1. Portugal. 2. Portuguese.
pop·a·ble (pohr·t-bəl) adj. able to be carried, portable typewriters. portable n. a portable kind of typewriter, television set, etc. port·a·ble·ty (pohr·t-bə·lə·tie) n.
por·tage (pohr·tij) n. the carrying of boats or goods overland between two rivers etc., the route for this. portage v. (por·taged, por·tag·ing) to carry over a portage.
por·tal (pohr·təl) n. a doorway or gateway, especially an imposing one. □por·tal-to-portal pay, wages that include allowances for the time a workman spends in going from the entrance of his factory, mine, etc. to his work station and back to the exit at the close of the work day.
Port-au-Prince (pohrt-oh-prins) the capital of Haiti.
pot·cul·lis (pohrt·kul·is) n. a strong heavy vertical grating that can be lowered in grooves to block the gateway to a castle etc.
porte-co·chere (pohrt·koh·shair) n. a portend (pohr-tend) v. to foreshadow.
portent (pohr-tent) n. an omen, a significant sign of something to come. portentous (pohr-ten-tůs) adj.
porter (pohr-těr) n. 1. a person employed to carry luggage or other burdens. 2. an attendant on a railroad sleeping car. 3. (old use) a dark ale.
porterhouse (pohr-těr-hohs) n. (also porterhouse steak) a choice cut of beef.
port-fo-lío (pohr-fō-li-o) n. (pl. -li-os) 1. a case for holding loose sheets of paper or drawings etc. 2. a set of investments held by one investor. 3. (in some countries) the position of a cabinet officer; held the Treasury portfolio, was in charge of the Treasury Department. □ minister without portfolio, (in some countries) a cabinet officer who is not in charge of any government department.
port-hole (pohr-hohl) n. a window-like structure in the side of a ship or aircraft.
portico (pohr-tě-kō) n. (pl. -coes) a structure consisting of a roof supported on columns, usually forming a porch to a building.
portière (pohr-tyār) n. a curtain hung over a doorway.
portion (pohr-shōn) n. 1. a part or share of something. 2. the amount of food allotted to one person. 3. one's destiny or lot. 4. a dowry. portion v. to divide into portions, to distribute in portions, portion it out.
portionless (pohr-shōn-lis) adj. without an inheritance or dowry.
portland (pohr-lānd) cement a kind of cement colored like Portland stone from the Isle of Portland, in Dorset, England.
portly (pohr-lee) adj. (port-lěr, port-lě-est) (of a man) stout, corpulent.
portliness n.
portmanteau (pohr-mahn-tō) n. (pl. -teaus, -teaux, pr. -tohz) (chiefly British) a trunk for clothes etc. that opens into two equal parts. □ portmanteau word, an invented word combining the sounds and meanings of two others, as motel (from motor and hotel), moped (from motor and pedal).
Port-of-Spain (pohr-ōv-spāyn) the capital of Trinidad and Tobago.
Porto (pohr-to, nōh-voh) the capital of Benin. portrait (pohr-trit) n. 1. a picture or drawing or photograph of a person or animal. 2. a description in words. portraitist n. portraiture (pohr-tri-chür) n. 1. the making of portraits. 2. a portrait.
portray (pohr-tray) v. 1. to make a picture of. 2. to describe in words or represent in a play etc., she is portrayed as a pathetic character. portray'al n.
Port-Salut (pohr-sá-lou) n. a pale mild type of French cheese.
Porto-gál (pohr-chú-gáh) a country in southwest Europe.
Portuguese (pohr-chú-geez) adj. of Portugal or its people or language. Portuguese n. (pl. -guees) 1. a native of Portugal. 2. the language of Portugal. □ Portuguese man-of-war, a sea animal with tentacles that have a poisonous sting.
pos' er (poh-zér) n. a puzzling question or problem.
poser² n. a person who poses.
posér (poh-zur) n. a person who poses for effect or behaves affectedly.
push (pohsh) adj. (lang) very smart, luxurious. □ This word is sometimes said to have derived from the initials of "port out, starboard home," referring to the more expensive side for accommodation on ships formerly traveling between England and India. This suggestion lacks foundation. The origin of push is uncertain.
pos' it (pohz-it) v. to present or assume as fact.
position (pō-zish-ōn) n. 1. the place occupied by a person or thing. 2. the proper place for something, in or out of position. 3. an advantageous location, maneuvering for position. 4. the way in which a thing or its parts are placed or arranged. 5. a situation in relation to other people or things, this puts me in a difficult position. 6. a point of view, what is their position on tax reform? 7. rank or status, high social standing, people of position. 8. paid employment, a job. position v. to place in a certain position. □ position paper, a document that presents one's position as a basis for negotiation or discussion.
pos' i-tive (pohz-i-tiv) adj. 1. stated formally or explicitly, positive rules. 2. definite, leaving no room for doubt, we have...
positive proof. 3. holding an opinion confidently. 4. (informal) clear, out-and-out, it's a positive miracle. 5. constructive and helpful, made some positive suggestions. 6. having specific or definite qualities or characteristics; the result of the test was positive, indicated that a specific substance etc. was present. 7. (of a quantity) greater than zero. 8. containing or producing the kind of electrical charge produced by rubbing glass with silk; positive terminal of a battery, the one through which electric current enters the battery. 9. (of a photograph) having the lights and shades or colors as in the actual object or scene photographed, not as in a negative. positive n. a positive quality or quantity or photograph etc.

post-market (poz-ir-ton) n. an elementary particle with the mass of an electron and a charge of the same amount as the electron's but positive.

poss. abbr. possessive.

posse (pos-ee) n. a body of men legally empowered to assist a sheriff etc. in arresting criminals etc.

possess (poz-ees) v. 1. to hold belonging to oneself, to have or own. 2. to occupy or dominate the mind of, be possessed by a devil or with an idea; fought like one possessed, as if strengthened by an evil spirit or a powerful emotion.

possessed of, having, owning.

possession (poz-esh-ón) n. 1. possessing, being possessed. 2. a thing possessed.

take possession of, to become the owner or possessor of.

possessionive (poz-ess-ive) adj. 1. of or indicating possession; the possessive form of a word, such as your, John's, the baker's. 2. showing a desire to possess or to retain what one possesses, a possessive attitude toward her books. 3. showing a desire to control or dominate (a person), a possessive husband. possessive·ly adv. possessive·ness n. pos·sum (pos-üm) n. an opossum possessive, to pretend to be unaware of something. > From the opossum's habit of feigning death when in danger.

post (pohst) n. 1. a piece of timber or metal set upright in the ground etc. to support something or to mark a position. 2. the starting post or winning post in a race; left at the post, outdistanced from the start. post v. to announce by putting up a notice or placard etc.; post no bills, a warning that notices must not be posted up; the ship was posted as missing, was announced to be missing.

post time, the time at which all horses running in a race are required to be at the starting post.

poste (poz-t) n. 1. the place where a soldier is on watch, a place of duty, the sentries are at their posts. 2. a place occupied by soldiers, especially a frontier fort, the soldiers there. 3. a place occupied for purposes of trade, especially in a region that is not yet fully settled, trading posts. 4. a position of paid employment, got a post with a textile firm. post v. 1. to place or station, we posted sentries. 2. to appoint to a post or command.

post exchange, a store on government base for military personnel and their families.

postage (poh-stij) n. the charge for sending something by mail. postage meter, a machine that marks the postage and postmark on mail and records the cost of postage incurred. postage stamp, a small adhesive stamp for sticking on things to be mailed, showing the amount paid.

postal (poh-stal) adj. of the post.

postal card, a postcard. postal permit, a printed marking on mail indicating that postage has been paid. postal service, a government agency or department that handles the transmission of mail.

postcard (pohst-kahr'd) n. a card for juana. pot n. (pot-ted, pot-ting) 1. to plant, preserve, or cook in a pot. 2. to shoot, to kill by a potshot. □ go to pot (slang) to deteriorate, to become ruined.

dot cheese, cottage cheese. pot holder, a small thick pad used for handling hot pots and pans. pot liquor, the broth remaining in a pot after food has been cooked in it. pot roast, a piece of meat cooked slowly in a covered pot.

pot. abbr. potential.

da-tible (poh-tah-bil) adj. drinkable.

doa-tage (poh-tah-zh) n. a thick soup.

> French.

da-tash (poh-tash) n. any of various salts of potassium.

da-tasi-um (poh-tas-i-um) n. a soft silvery-white metallic element.

potato (poh-ta-toh) n. (pl. -toes) 1. a plant with starchy tubers that are used as food. 2. one of these tubers. □ potato beetle, a striped beetle that feeds on potato leaves. potato bug, a potato beetle. potato chip, a thin crisp fried slice of potato, usually salted.

pot-belly (poh-bel-ee) n. (pl. -billes) 1. a protuberant belly. 2. a person with this.

pot-bell-ied adj. □ potbelly stove, a stove shaped like a protuberant belly.

pot-bol-er (poh-bel-er) n. a work of literature or art done merely to make a living.

pot-teen (poh-teen) n. whiskey (especially Irish) that has been distilled illegally.

potent (poh-tent) adj. having great natural power or influence, able to have a strong effect, potent drugs. po-ten-cy (poh-ten-see) n.

pot-ten-tate (poh-ten-tayt) n. a monarch or ruler.

poten-tial (poh-ten-shal) adj. capable of coming into being or of being developed or used etc., a potential source of energy.

potential n. 1. ability or capacity available for use or development, her potential for greatness. 2. a measure of the voltage between two points. po-ten-tial-ly adv.

po-ten-tial-i-ty (poh-tay-shal-i-tee) n. □ potential energy, (in physics) the energy a body possesses because of its position or shape.

po-ten-tial-ate (poh-tay-shal-ayt) v. (po-ten-tial-ate, po-ten-tial-ated, po-ten-tial-at-ing) 1. to make (especially a drug) more powerful. 2. to make possible. po-ten-tial-a-tion (poh-tay-shal-ay-shon) n.

pot-head (poh-ted) n. (slang) a person who uses marijuana frequently.

poth-er (poh-thar) n. 1. a verbal commotion, a fuss. 2. a cloud of dust or choking smoke.

pot-herb (poh-urb) n. a herb prepared and used as food or as seasoning for food.

pot-hole (poh-hohl) n. 1. a hole in the surface of a road. 2. a deep cylindrical hole formed in rock by the action of water, an underground cave.

pot-hook (poh-huuk) n. 1. a hook used for hanging pots or kettles over an open fire. 2. a curved stroke in writing.

pot-lion (poh-shon) n. a liquid for drinking as a medicine or drug etc.

pot-luck (poh-luek) n. whatever food is available for a meal etc., take potluck with us.

pot-pie (poh-pie) n. 1. a deep-dish pie with meat, chicken, etc. 2. a stew with meat, chicken, etc. and dumplings.

pot-pour-ri (poh-poo-ree) n. 1. a scented mixture of dried petals and spices. 2. a literary or musical medley.

pot-sherd (poh-sherd) n. a broken piece of earthenware, especially in archaeology.

pot-shot (poh-shot) n. 1. a casual shot. 2. a shot aimed at an animal etc. within easy reach. 3. a critical remark made casually.

pot-tage (poh-tay) n. a thick soup or stew.

> sell one's soul for a mess of pot-tage, to sacrifice one's principles for material comfort.

pot-ted (poh-ted) v. see pot, potted adj.

1. (of plants) grown in a flower pot. 2. (slang) (of a person) drunk. 3. (of food) cooked or preserved in a pot.

pot-ter (poh-ter) n. a person who makes earthenware dishes or ornaments etc.

potter's wheel, a rotating disk on which clay is shaped by a potter.

potter2 = putter.

pot-ter's (poh-terz) field a burial place for paupers, strangers, etc. □ From the mention in Matthew 27:7 of the use of a field for this purpose.

ter-per-y (poh-ter-ee) n. 1. vessels and other objects made of baked clay. 2. a potter's work or workshop.

pot-ty1 (poh-ty) adj. (pot-ty, pot-ti-est) 1. (slang) tipsy. 2. (chiefly British slang) crazy.

potty2 n. (pl. -tles) (informal) a pot for a child to use as a toilet. □ potty chair, a small chair with an opening over a removable pot for toilet training a child.

potty seat, a small seat fitting over a toilet seat for use by a child.

pouch (pouk) n. a small bag or baglike formation, tobacco pouch; the kangaroo's pouch. pouch v. (pouched, pouched) to put into a pouch, to pocket.

poul (pohlt) n. the young of domestic fowl, turkey, pheasant, etc.

poul-er (pohlt-er) n. (old use) a dealer in poultry and game.

poul-tice (pohltis) n. a soft heated mass of bread or kaolin etc. applied to an inpoultry / powerful flamed or sore area of skin. poultice v. (poul·ticed, poult·tic·ing) to apply a poultice to.

poultry (pohl-tree) n. domestic fowl, ducks, geese, turkeys, etc., especially as a source of food.

pound (pouns) v. (pounced, poun·ding) to spring or swoop down on and grasp, as for prey; pounce on a mistake, to spot it quickly. pounce n. a pouncing movement.

pound1 (pownd) n. 1. a measure of weight, 16 ounces avoirdupois (0.4536 kg) or 12 ounces troy (0.3732 kg). 2. the unit of money of Britain and certain other countries. □ pound cake, a rich cake made with eggs, butter, sugar, and flour.

pound note, a British paper bill worth one pound.

pound2 n. a place where stray animals, or motor vehicles left in unauthorized places, are taken and kept until claimed.

pound3 v. 1. to crush or beat with heavy repeated strokes. 2. to deliver heavy blows or repeated gunfire etc. 3. to make one’s way heavily, pounding along. 4. (of the heart) to beat heavily, to thump.

pound-age (pown-dij) n. 1. pounds, weight in pounds. 2. a charge based on weight in pounds.

pound-fool·ish (pownd-foo-lish) adj. foolish about large sums of money etc. □ From the phrase penny-wise and pound-foolish (see penny).

pour (pohr) v. 1. to flow or cause to flow in a stream or shower. 2. to pour tea etc. into cups, to serve by pouring. 3. to rain heavily. 4. to come or go or send out in large amounts or numbers, refugees poured out of the country; letters poured in. 5. to send (words or music etc.) out freely, he poured out his story.

pourer n. □ pour cold water on, see cold.

pour-boire (poor-bwahr) n. a gratuity or tip. □ French.

pour-par·ler (poor-pahr-lay) n. an informal discussion preliminary to negotiation. □ French.

pousse-ca·fé (poos-ka-fay) n. (pl. -ca·fés, pr. -ka-fayz) a drink of one or more liqueurs taken especially with coffee after dinner. □ French.

pout (pout) v. to push out one’s lips, (of lips) to be pushed out, especially as a sign of annoyance or sulking. pout n. a pouting expression or attitude.

pov·er·ty (pov·er-tee) n. 1. being poor, great lack of money or resources; monks who took a vow of poverty, who renounced the right to individual ownership of property. 2. scarcity, lack. 3. inferiority, poorness. □ poverty line or level, the minimum income level needed to obtain the necessities of life.

pov·er·ty-strick·en (pov-er-tee-strik·en) adj. affected by poverty.

P.O.W. abbr. prisoner of war.

pow·der (powdér) n. 1. a mass of fine dry particles. 2. a medicine or cosmetic in this form. 3. gunpowder. powder v. to apply powder to, to cover with powder. □ powder blue, pale blue. powder flask, a small container formerly used for carrying gunpowder. powder keg, a barrel for gunpowder; a very dangerous situation. powder puff, a soft or fluffy pad for applying powder to the skin.

powder room, a women’s rest room; a lavatory. powder snow, loose dry snow.

pow·der·ed (pow·der·dëd) adj. made into powder, powdered milk.

pow·der·y (pow·der·ë) adj. like powder.

pow·er (pow·er) n. 1. the ability to do something. 2. vigor, energy, strength. 3. a property, great heating power. 4. control, influence, the party in power. 5. authority, their powers are defined by law. 6. an influential person or country or organization etc. 7. (informal) a large amount, did me a power of good. 8. (in mathematics) the product of a number multiplied by itself a given number of times, the third power of 2 = 2 × 2 × 2 = 8. 9. mechanical or electrical energy as opposed to hand labor; power tools, tools using such energy. 10. the electrical supply, a power failure. 11. capacity for exerting mechanical force, horsepower. 12. the magnifying capacity of a lens. power v. to supply (vehicles etc.) with mechanical or electrical energy.

□ power brakes, brakes applied by compressed air or another power source and requiring little pressure on the pedal.

power broker, (informal) a person who exerts influence (in government etc.) behind the scenes. power dive, an aircraft’s dive made without shutting off engine power. power of attorney, the legal authority to act for another person.

power plant or station, a building where electric power is generated for distribution. power play, (in sports) an offensive play in a team game directed by one team against a particular weakness of the other. power politics, political action based on threats to use force. the powers that be, the people in authority.

pow·er·boat (pow·er·boht) n. a motorboat.

pow·ered (pow·er·dëd) adj. equipped with mechanical or electrical power.

pow·er·ful (pow·er·fël) adj. having great power or strength or influence. powerfully adv.

power-house (pow-ér-hows) n. (pl. -houses-es, pr. -how-ziz) 1. a power station. 2. an individual or group with great energy or force.

power-less (pow-ér-lis) adj. without power to take action, wholly unable.

power-wow (pow-wow) n. (informal) a meeting for discussion.

pox (poks) n. 1. a virus disease characterized by pocks. 2. (informal) syphilis. 3. a plant disease causing pocklike spots.

PP abbr. 1. parcel post. 2. past participle.

pp. abbr. 1. pages. 2. pianissimo.

ppd. abbr. 1. prepaid. 2. postpaid.

P.P.S. abbr. post-postscript, = an additional postscript.

ppt. abbr. precipitate.

P.Q. abbr. Province of Quebec.

Pr symbol praseodymium.

PR abbr. 1. payroll. 2. public relations. 3. Puerto Rico.

pr. abbr. 1. pair(s). 2. present. 3. price. 4. pronoun.

practi-cal (prakti-kal) adj. involving activity as distinct from study or theory, has had practical experience. 2. suitable for use, an ingenious but not very practical invention. 3. (of people) clever at doing and making things, a practical handyman. 4. virtual, he has practical control of the firm. practical n. a practical examination, practical study.

practi-cal-i-ty (prakti-kal-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) □practical joke, a humorous trick played on a person by a practical joker.

practical nurse, a nurse who is trained in routine nursing but without the training of a registered nurse. □Do not confuse practical with practicable.

practi-cal-ly (prakti-kal-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) □practical joke, a humorous trick played on a person by a practical joker.

practi-cal-ly (praktik-lis) adv. 1. in a practical way. 2. virtually, almost.

prac-tice (prak-tis) n. 1. action as opposed to theory, it works well in practice. 2. a habitual action, custom, it is our practice to supply good material. 3. repeated exercise to improve one's skill, a spell of this, target practice. 4. professional work, the business carried on by a doctor or lawyer, the patients or clients regularly consulting these, has a large practice. practice v. (practiced, practic-ing) 1. to do something repeatedly in order to become skillful. 2. to carry out in action, to do something habitually, practice what you preach. 3. to do something actively, a practicing Catholic. 4. (of a doctor or lawyer etc.) to be actively engaged in professional work. □out of practice, no longer possessing a former skill.

prac-ticed (prak-tist) adj. experienced, expert.

prac-ti- tion-er (prak-tish-ō-nér) n. a professional or practical worker, especially in medicine.

prag-mat-ic (prag-ma-tick) adj. treating things from a practical point of view, a pragmatic approach to the problem.

prag-ma-ti-cal-ly (prag-ma-ti-cal-lee) adv.

prag-ma-tism (prag-ma-tiz-əm) n. 1. the matter-of-fact treatment of things. 2. the theory that the truth or falsity of an idea can be judged only by the practical effects that arise from it.

Prague (prahg) the capital of Czechoslovakia.

Pral-a (präl-ə) the capital of Cape Verde Islands.

pral-rie (prahl-ree) n. a broad, largely flat tract of grassland, especially in central North America. □prairie dog, a small burrowing North American rodent with a bark like a dog's. prairie schooner, a covered wagon used by pioneers in crossing the prairies.

praise (prayz) v. (praised, praising) 1. to express approval or admiration of. 2. to honor (God) in words. praise n. praising, approval expressed in words.

praise-wor-thy (prayz-wur-thee) adj. deserving praise.

p.r.a-line (prahl-leen, prahl-) n. a candy made by boiling nuts in boiling sugar.

pram (pram) n. (chiefly British) a perambulator.

prance (prans) v. (pranced, prancing) to move springily in eagerness, prancing horses. prance n.

prank (prangk) n. mischief, a practical joke. prankster n.

prase-o-dym-i-um (praz-ō-di-əm) n. a metallic element.

prat (prat) n. (slang) the buttocks.

prate (prayt) v. (prated, prating) to chatter, to talk too much.

prat-fail (prat-fail) n. (informal) 1. a fall on the buttocks. 2. a humiliating failure.

prat-tique (prat-tik) n. a license to have dealings with a port, granted to a ship after quarantine.

prat-tie (prat-ē) v. (pratted, prat-tling) to chatter in a childish way. prat-tle n. childish chatter.

prawn (prawn) n. an edible shellfish like a large shrimp.

pray (pray) v. 1. to say prayers. 2. to entreat. 3. □please, pray be seated.

praying mantis, see mantis.

prayer (prayr) n. 1. a solemn request or thanksgiving to God or to an object of weship. 2. a set form of words used in this, the Lord’s Prayer. 3. a religious service, morning prayer. 4. the act of praying. 5. entreaty to a person. a prayer book, a book of set prayers. prayer mat, a small carpet on which Muslims kneel to pray. prayer-ful (prair-ful) adj. devout, expressing prayer. prayer’ful-ly adv.

pre- prefix before, beforehand, as in prearm.

preach (preech) v. 1. to deliver (a sermon or religious address), to speak in public in support of a religion; preach the gospel, make it known by preaching. 2. to advocate, to urge people to a certain quality or practice or action, they preached economy. 3. to give moral advice in an obtrusive way. preacher n. preach’er n. preach’ment n.

preach-y (pree-chee) adj. (preach-er, preach-est) (informal) fond of or preening or moralizing or holding forth.

pre-ad-o-less-ence (pre-ad-ø-les-ens) n. the stage of growth just before adolescence. pre-ad-o-less-ent adj. & n.

pre-am-ble (pree-am-bel) n. a preliminary statement, the introductory part of a document or law etc.

pre-amp (pree-amp) n. (informal) preamplifier.

pre-am-pli-fler (pree-am-pli-fler) n. a device that amplifies weak electronic signals before feeding them to other amplifier circuits.

pre-arm (pree-ahrm) v. to arm in advance.

pre-ar-range (pre-ar-raynj) v. (pre-ar-ranged, pre-ar-rang-ing) to arrange beforehand. pre-ar-range ment n.

pre-as-car-tain (pree-as-car-tayn) v. to learn beforehand.

pre-as-sem-ble (preas-sem-bel) v. (pre-as-sem-bled, pre-as-sem-bling) to assemble beforehand.

pre-as-sign (pree-as-siin) v. to assign in advance.

preb-end (preb-ænd) n. 1. the part of the revenue of a cathedral or collegiate church granted to a canon or a member of the chapter as a stipend. 2. the portion of land or tithe from which this stipend is drawn.

preb-en-dar-y (preb-en-der-ee) 1. a clergyman receiving a stipend from a cathedral revenue. 2. an honorary canon (not receiving such a stipend).

prec. abbr. 1. preceded. 2. preceding.

Pre-cam-bri-an (prekam-bry-an) adj. of the earliest geologic era, marked by the formation of Earth’s crust and the earliest appearance of life. Precambrian n. the Precambrian era.

pre-can-cel (prek-an-sel) v. to cancel before using, as a postage stamp. pre-can-cel-a-tion (prek-an-sel-lay-shun) n.

pre-can-cer-ous (prek-an-ser-ous) adj. likely to turn into cancer.

pre-car-i-ous (pri-kair-i-us) adj. unsafe, not secure. pre-car’i-ous-ly adv. pre-car’i-ous-ness n.

pre-cast (pree-kast) adj. (of concrete) cast in blocks before use.

pre-cau-tion (pri-kaw-shun) n. something done in advance to avoid a risk; take precautions, do things as a precaution. pre-cau’tion-ar-y adj.

pre-cede (pri-seed) v. (pre-ced-ed, pre-ced-ing) to come or go or place before in time or order etc.

pre-c-e-dence (pres-ë-dens) n. priority in time or order. take precedence, to have priority.

pre-c-e-dent (pres-ë-dent) n. a previous case that is taken as an example to be followed. precedent (pri-seed-ent) adj. preceding in time, order, rank, etc.

pre-ced-ing (pre-seed-ing) adj. previous, coming or going before; the preceding page, the page before this one.

pre-cen-tor (pri-seen-tor) n. a member of the clergy of a church or cathedral who is in general charge of music there.

pre-cep (pre-sep) n. a command, a rule of conduct.

pre-cep-tor (pri-sep-tor) n. a teacher, an instructor. pre-cep-tress (pri-sep-tris) n. fem.

pre-ces-sion (pri-seh-shun) n. 1. the slow movement of an axis of a spinning body, such as a gyroscope etc., around another axis. 2. an act of preceding. pre-ces-sion-al (pri-seh-shun-al) adj.

pre-Chris-tian (pri-kris-chan) adj. of the time before Christianity, pre-Christian era.

pre-cinct (prek-singkt) n. 1. a subdivision of a county or city or ward for election and police purposes. 2. a limited area. 3. an enclosed area, a boundary. 4. pre-cincts, the area surrounding a place, in the precincts of the forest.

pre-cious (presh-us) adj. 1. of great value or worth. 2. beloved. 3. affectedly refined. 4. (informal, used ironically) considerable, did him a precious lot of good. precious adv. (informal) very, there's precious little money left. pre-cious-ly adv. pre-cious-ness n. precious metal, gold, silver, and platinum. pre-Time, a piece of mineral having great value, especially as used in jewelry.

precipitous (pri-sip-i-tus) adj. steep or vertical face of a cliff or rock.

precipitation (pri-sip-i-ta-shun) n. the act of precipitating, or the state of being precipitated.

precipitate (pri-sip-i-tat) v. 1. to throw down headlong. 2. to send rapidly into a certain state or condition, precipitated the country into war. 3. to cause to happen suddenly or soon, this action precipitated a crisis. 4. to cause (a substance) to be deposited in solid form from a solution in which it is present. 5. to condense (vapor) into drops that fall as rain or dew etc. precipitate (pri-sip-i-tat-ed, pri-sip-i-tat-ing) 1. to throw down headlong. 2. to send rapidly into a certain state or condition, precipitated the country into war. 3. to cause to happen suddenly or soon, this action precipitated a crisis.

precipitous (pre-sip-i-tus) adj. like a precipice, steep.

precise (pri-sis) adj. exact, correctly and clearly stated. 2. taking care to be exact, she is very precise.

precise-ness n.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

predicament (pre-di-men-tid) adj. agreed on or planned in advance.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.

prediction (pre-di-kashun) n. 1. the doctrine that God has foreordained all that happens, or that certain souls are destined for salvation and eternal life and others are not. 2. destiny, fate.
sentences that says something about the grammatical subject, as “is short” in life is short. predicate (pred-i-kayt) v. (pred-i-lay-cat-ed, pred-i-lay-cat-ing) 1. to assert or affirm as true or existent. 2. to found or base (a statement or idea etc.) on something. 3. to assert (a thing) about a subject. pred-i-ca-tion (pred-i-kay-shon) n.
pred-i-ca-tive (pred-i-kay-tiv) adj. forming part or the whole of the predicate, as “old” in the dog is old (but not in the old dog). pred-i-ca-tive-ly adv.
pred-ict (pri-dikt) v. to forecast, to prophesy. pred-ict’or n. pred-ict-ion (pri-dikt-shon) n.
pred-ict-a-ble (pri-dikt-a-bel) adj. able to be predicted. pred-ict-a-bly adv.
pred-ict-a-bil-i-ty (pri-dikt-a-bil-i-tee) n.
pred-i-ges-tion (pree-di-ges-shun) n. the artificial partial digestion of food, used especially to facilitate digestion for those who are ill. pred-i-gest (pree-di-jest) v.
pred-i-lec-tion (pred-i-lek-shon) n. a special liking, a preference.
pred-i-pose (pred-i-spohz) v. (pre-*dis-*posed, pre-*dis-*posed-ing) 1. to influence in advance, circumstances predispose us to be lenient; we are predisposed in his favor, inclined to favor him. 2. to make liable, as to a disease.
pred-i-so-li-on (pree-dis-puh-zish-uhn) n. a state of mind or body that renders a person liable to act or behave in a certain way or to be subject to certain diseases, a predisposition to bronchitis.
pred-i-dom-*nant (pri-dom-i-nant) adj. predominating. pred-i-dom-i-nant-ly adv. pred-i-dom*i-nance n.
pred-i-dom*i-nate (pri-dom-i-nat) v. (pri-dom*i-nat-ed, pri-dom*i-nat-ing) 1. to be greater than others in number or intensity etc., to be the main element. 2. to have or exert control.
pree-mie (pree-mee) n. (informal) a premature baby.
pree-mi-*ent (pree-mee-i-ent) adj. excelling others, outstanding. pred-i-mi-*en-ti-ly adv. pred-i-mi-*ence n.
pred-empt (pree-empt) v. to take possession of (a thing) before anyone else can do so. pred-em-p-tion (pred-emp-shon) n.
pred-em-p-tive (pree-emp-tiv) adj. preempting; a preemptive attack, one intended to disable an enemy and so prevent him from attacking.
preen (preen) v. (of a bird) to smooth (its feathers) with its beak. preeen one-self, to groom oneself; to congratulate oneself, to show self-satisfaction.
or charges etc., a bonus. 3. a gift provided with a purchase. □ at a premium, above the nominal or usual price; highly valued or esteemed. put a premium on, to provide an incentive to (a certain action etc.).

pre-mix (pre-miks) v. to mix in advance of use.

pre-mo-lar (pre-moh-lär) adj. in front of the true molar teeth.

pre-mo-ni-tion (pre-mö-nish-öon, pre-mö-n-ö-) n. a presentiment. pre-mon-i-to-ry (pre-mö-ni-toh-re) adj.

pre-na-tal (pre-nay-täl) adj. occurring or existing before birth or before giving birth.

pre-nuptial (pre-nup-shäl) adj. before marriage or before a wedding ceremony.

pre-op-er-a-tive (pre-op-er-a-tiv) adj. preparatory.

pre-op-e-ra-tion (pre-op-e-ra-tion) n. 1. the state of being unoccupied. 2. a thing that fills one's thoughts.

pre-op-er-a-tion (pre-op-er-a-tion) n. 1. the state of being unoccupied. 2. to occupy fully by absorbing the attention.

pre-op-er-a-tive (pre-op-er-a-tive) adj. taking place before a surgical operation.

pre-or-daIn (pre-ör-däIn) v. to ordain beforehand. pre-or-di-na-tion (pre-ör-di-nay-shän) n.

prep (prep) v. (prepped, prep-pling) (in-formal) to prepare, especially to prepare (a patient) for an operation. □ prep school, a preparatory school.

prep. abbr. 1. preparation. 2. preparatory. 3. preposition.

pre-pack-age (pre-pak-ij) v. (pre-pack-ai-d, pre-pack-ag-ing) to pack (goods) ready for sale before distributing them.

pre-paid (pre-payd) see pay pre.

prep-a-ra-tion (prep-a-ray-shän) n. 1. preparing, being prepared. 2. a thing done to make ready for something; make preparations for, prepare for. 3. a substance or mixture (such as food or medicine) prepared for use, a preparation of bismuth.

pre-par-a-to-ry (pri-par-a-toh-re, prep-a-rä-) adj. preparing for something, preparatory training. preparatory adv. in a preparatory way. □ preparatory school, a school where pupils are prepared for college.

pre-pare (pri-pair) v. (pre-şared, pre-par-ing) 1. to make or get ready. 2. to make (food or other substances) ready for use. □ be prepared to, to be ready and willing to (do something).

pre-par-ed-ness (pri-pair-id-nis) n. readiness, especially military readiness for war.

pre-pay (pre-pay) v. (pre-paid, pre-pay-ing) to pay (a charge) beforehand, to pay the postage of (a letter etc.) beforehand, as by buying and affixing a postage stamp. pre-pay'ment n.

pre-plan (pre-plan) v. (pre-planned, pre-plan-ning) to arrange or plan beforehand.

pre-pon-der-a nt (pri-pon-dér-ant) adj. preponderating. pre-pon'der-ant ly adv. pre-pon'der-ance n.

pre-pon-der-ate (pri-pon-dér-ät) v. (pre-pon-der-at-ed, pre-pon-der-at-ing) to be greater than others in number or intensity etc.

pre-pon'der-ance (pre-pon'der-äns) n. a word used with a noun or pronoun to show place or position or time or means, such as at home, in the hall, on Sunday, by train. pre-pon'der-al adj.

pre-pon'der-sess (pre-pon'der-ses) v. 1. to imbue or inspire (a person) with a feeling etc. 2. to take possession of. 3. to prejudice, usually favorably and at first sight.

pre-pon'der-sing (pre-pon'der-sing) adj. attractive, making a good impression, not very prepossessing.

pre-pon'ter-ous (pri-pont'-räs) adj. utterly absurd, outrageous.

pre-pucé (pre-pyös) n. 1. the foreskin. 2. a similar structure at the tip of the clitoris.

Pre-Raph-a-e-li-te (pre-raf-a-ë-lit) n. one of a group of 19th-century artists who aimed at producing work in the style of the Italian artists of before the time of Raphael.

pre-record (pre-ri-kord) v. to record (a television or radio show) before actually broadcasting it.

pre-Re-for-ma-tion (pre-ref-or-ma-shän) adj. before the Reformation.

pre-reg-is-ter (pre-reg-i-stër) v. to register beforehand. pre-reg-is-tra-tion (pre-reg-i-stray-shän) n.

pre-Ren-ais-sance (pre-reñ-ä-sahnse) adj. before the Renaissance.

pre-requisite (pri-rejikit) adj. required as a condition or in preparation for something else. prerequisite n. a prerequisite thing. □ Do not confuse prerequisite with perquisite.

pre-ro-ga-tive (pri-rog-a-tiv) adj. a right or privilege belonging to a particular person or group.

pres. abbr. 1. present. 2. presidency. 3. president.

Pres. abbr. President.

pres-age (pres-i) n. an omen, portent, or foreboding. presage (pres-i, pri-say) v. (pres-aged, pres-ag-ing) to portend, to foreshadow.

pres-by-o-pl-a (prez-bi-oh-pi-ä) n. a form of farsightedness that comes with old age. pres-by-op-i-ic (prez-bi-op-ik) adj.

pres-by-ter (prez-bi-tër) n. 1. (in the Episcopal Church) a priest. 2. (in the Presbyterian Church) an elder.

Pres-by-ter-i-an (prez-bi-ter-i-än) adj. of a Presbyterian Church, which is governed by elders who are all of equal rank. Presbyterian n. a member of the Presbyterian Church. Pres-by-te-r'i-an-ism n.

pre-school (prey-skool) adj. of the time before a child is old enough to attend school. pre' school'er n.

pre-sci-ence (prey-shëns, presh-i-) n. foreknowledge. pres' sci-ent adj.

pre-scribe (pri-skrib) v. (pre-scribed, pre-scrib-ing) 1. to advise the use of (a medicine etc.) 2. to lay down as a course or rule to be followed.

pre-script (prey-skrip't) n. a law or rule or command.

pre-scrip-tion (pri-skrip'shën) n. 1. a doctor's written instruction for the composition and use of a medicine. 2. the medicine prescribed in this way. 3. prescribing.

pre-scrip-tive (pri-skrip'tiv) adj. 1. prescribing. 2. laying down rules; a prescriptive dictionary, one that makes recommendations about usage etc.

pres-ence (pres-enz) n. 1. being present in a place, your presence is required. 2. a person's bearing, impressiveness of bearing, has a fine presence. 3. a person or thing that is or seems to be present in a place, felt a presence in the room.

presence of mind, ability to act quickly and in a practical way in an emergency.

pres-ent adj. 1. being in the place in question, no one else was present. 2. being dealt with or discussed, in the present case. 3. existing or occurring now, the present mayor. present n. 1. present time, the time now passing. 2. the present tense. at present, now.

for the present, for now, temporarily.

present participle, see participle. present perfect, present tense, see tense.

present n. something given or received as a gift. present (pri-zent) v. 1. to give as a gift or award, to offer for acceptance; the check has not been presented, has not been handed in for payment. 2. to introduce (a person) to another or others. 3. to bring (a play or new product etc.) to the public. 4. to show, to reveal, presented a brave front to the world. 5. to level or aim (a weapon). present' er n. present arms, to hold a rifle etc. vertically in front of the body as a salute.

present oneself, to appear or attend, as for an examination.

pre-sent-a-ble (pri-zên-tä-bël) adj. fit to be presented to someone, of good appearance. pre-sent'a-ble adv.

pre-sen-ta-tion (prez-en-tay-shën) n. 1. presenting, being presented. 2. something that is presented.

pre-sent-day (prez-ënt-day) adj. of present times, modern.

pre-sen-ti-ment (pri-zên-ti-mënt) n. a feeling that something is about to happen, a foreboding.

pre-sent-ly (prez-ënt-le) adv. 1. soon, after a short time. 2. (informal) now.

> Careful writers avoid use of presently in its second sense. Write I am studying French now not presently studying French.

pre-ser-va-tion (prez-e-ray-shën) n. preserving, being preserved.

pre-serv-a-tive (pri-zur-vë-tiv) adj. preserving things. preservative n. a substance that preserves perishable foods.

pre-serve (pri-zurv) v. (pre-served, pre-serv-ing) 1. to keep safe, to keep in an unchanged condition. 2. to keep from decay, to treat (food, such as fruit or meat) so that it can be kept for future use. 3. to keep (game, or a river etc.) undisturbed, for private use. preserve n. 1. (also preserves) preserved fruit, jam. 2. an area where game or fish are preserved. 3. activities or interests etc. regarded as belonging to a particular person. pre-serv'er n.

pre-set (prez-set) v. (pre-set, pre-set-ting) to set beforehand.

pre-shrink (pre-shrungk) adj. (of fabric) subjected to a shrinking process before being used or sold, so that it will not shrink further when laundered.

pre-side (pri-zid) v. (pre-sid-ed, pre-sid-ing) to be president or chairman, to have the position of authority or control.

pre-ident (prez-i-dënt) n. 1. a person who is the head of a club or society or corporation etc. 2. (often President) the elected or appointed head of a republic.

pre-i-den-tial (prez-i-dën-shal) adj.

pre-i-den-ty (prez-i-dën-shë) n.

pre-sid-i-um (prez-i-dë-ëm) n. (pl. -i-öms) (in Spain and South America) a fort or garrison town.

pre-sid-i-um (prez-i-di-öm) n. (pl. -i-di-a, pr. -i-di-i-å, -i-di-ums) the standing committee in a Communist organization, especially that of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R.

pre•soak (pree-sohk) n. 1. a substance in which laundry may be soaked before washing. 2. the process of presoaking. presoak v. to soak beforehand.

pres. part. abbr. present participle.

press (pres) v. 1. to apply weight or force steadily to (a thing). 2. to squeeze juice etc. from. 3. to make by pressing. 4. to flatten or smooth, to iron (clothes etc.). 5. to exert pressure on (an enemy etc.), to oppress. 6. to urge or entreat, to demand insistently, press for a 35-hour week. 7. to force the acceptance of, they pressed candy upon us. 8. to insist upon, don't press that point. 9. to throng closely. 10. to push one's way. press n. 1. pressing, give it a slight press. 2. crowding, a throng of people. 3. hurry, pressure of affairs, the press of modern life. 4. an instrument or machinery for compressing or flattening or shaping something. 5. a printing press, a printing or publishing firm. 6. newspapers and periodicals, the people involved in writing or producing these, a press photographer. □ be pressed for, to have barely enough of, we are pressed for time. press agent, a person employed to take care of publicity. press box, a reporters' enclosure, especially at a sports event. press clipping, a cutting from a newspaper. press conference, an interview given to journalists by a person who wishes to make an announcement or answer questions. press gallery, a gallery for reporters, especially in a legislative assembly. press release, a news release, written information given to the press for publication.

press (presh) v. (old use) to force to serve in the army or navy. □ press into service, to bring into use as a makeshift.

pressing (pres-ing) adj. 1. urgent, a pressing need. 2. urging something strongly, a pressing invitation. pressing n. a thing made by pressing, a phonograph record or series of these made at one time.

press•man (presh-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) the operator of a printing press.

press•room (pres-room) n. 1. the room in a printing factory where the presses are kept. 2. a room set aside for reporters and journalists.

press•sure (presh-ûr) n. 1. the exertion of continuous force upon something. 2. the force exerted, that of the atmosphere, pressure is high in eastern areas. 3. a compelling or oppressive influence, is under pressure to vote against it; the pressures of business life. pressure v. (prespresoak / presumptuous

sured, pres•sur•ing) to try to compel (a person) into some action. □ pressure center, (in meteorology) a condition of the atmosphere with pressure above or below average. pressure cooker, a pot in which things can be cooked quickly by steam under high pressure. pressure gauge, a device for showing the pressure of air, steam, etc. pressure group, an organized group seeking to influence policy by concerted action and intensive propaganda. pressure point, a sensitive point on the skin; a part of the body which when pressed arrests the flow of blood through an artery lying close to the surface. pressure suit, a pressurized suit.

pres•sur•ize (presh-ûr-iz) v. (pres•sur•ized, pres•sur•iz•ing) to keep (a closed compartment, such as an aircraft cabin) at a constant atmospheric pressure. pres•sur•iza•tion (presh-ûr-iz-ay-shôn) n. □ pressurized cabin, an aircraft cabin in which normal atmospheric pressure is maintained. pressurized suit, an inflatable suit designed to protect the body from low pressure when flying at a high altitude.

pres•ti•dig•i•ta•tion (pres-ti-dig-i-tay-shôn) n. slight of hand. pres•ti•di•gor (pres-ti-dij-gor) n. □ press·tige, a respect for a person resulting from his good reputation, past achievements, etc.

pres•ti•glous (pres-stij-ûs) adj. having or bringing prestige. pres•ti•glous•ly n.

pres•to (pres-toh) adv. (especially in music) quickly. presto! interj. a conjurer's word used at a moment of sudden change.

pre•stressed (pree-strest) adj. (of concrete) strengthened by means of stretched wires within it.

pres•um•a•ble (pri-zoo-má-bêl) adj. able to be presumed. pres•um•a•bly adv.

pres•ume (pri-zoom) v. (presumed, pres•sum•ing) 1. to take for granted, to suppose to be true. 2. to take the liberty of doing something, to venture, may we presume to advise you? 3. to be presumptuous. □ presumably, to take unwarranted liberties because of, they are presuming on her good nature. □ See the note under assume.

pre•sum•p•tion (pri-zump-shôn) n. 1. presuming a thing to be true, something presumed. 2. presumptuous behavior. pre•sum•p•tive (pri-zump-tiv) adj. giving grounds for presumption. □ heir presumptive, see heir. □ Do not confuse presumptive with presumptuous.

pre•sum•tu•ous (pri-zump-choo-ûs) adj. behaving with impudent boldness, acting without authority. pre·sump·tu·ous·ly adv. pre·sump·tu·ous·ness n. Do not confuse presumptuous with presumptive.

pre·sup·pose (pree-süb-pohz) v. (pre·sup·posed, pre·sup·pos·ing) 1. to take for granted. 2. to require as a prior condition, effects presupposes causes. pre·sup·po·si·tion (pree-sup·o-zish·ən) n.

pre·tax (pree-taks) adj. existing before taxes are deducted, pretax earnings.

pre·teen (pre·teen) n. a child who has not yet become a teenager. preteen adj.

pre·tend (pri·tend) v. 1. to create a false appearance of something, either in play or so as to deceive others. 2. to claim falsely that one has or is something. 3. to lay claim, he pretended to the title; pretended to exact knowledge, claimed to have this. pre·tend·ed·ly adv.

pre·tend·er (pri·ten·dər) n. 1. a person who pretends. 2. a person who claims a throne or title etc.

pre·tense (pree·tens, pri·tens) n. 1. pretending, make-believe. 2. claim to merit or knowledge etc. 3. pretentiousness.

pre·ten·sion (pri·ten·shən) n. 1. the assertion of a claim to something. 2. pretentiousness.

pre·ten·ti·ous (pri·ten·shūs) adj. showy, pompous. pre·ten·ti·ous·ly adv. pre·ten·ti·ous·ness n.

pre·ter·mi·nal (pree·ter·mi·nəl) adj. happening before death.

pre·ter·na·tural (pree·ter·nə·rəl) adj. outside the ordinary course of nature, unusual. pre·ter·na·tural·ly adv.

pre·test (pree·test) n. a preliminary test. pre·test (pree·tekst) n. a reason put forward to conceal one's true reason.

pre·to·ri·a (pri·toh·ri·ə) the administrative capital of the Republic of South Africa.

pre·ti·fy (pree·ti·fi) v. (pre·ti·fied, pre·ti·fy·ing) to make (a thing) look superficially pretty or pleasing. pre·ti·fy·ca·tion (pree·ti·fə·kā·shən) n.

pre·ty (pre·ti) adj. (pre·ti·er, pre·ti·est) 1. attractive in a delicate way. 2. considerable; cost me a pretty penny, a lot of money. pretty adv. fairly, moderately, it looks pretty good. pre·ti·ly adv. pre·ti·ness n. pretty much or nearly or well, almost.

pre·ty·pre·ty (pree·ce·pree·tie) adj. with the prettiness overdose.

pre·zel (pre·zel) n. a crisp biscuit baked in the shape of a loose knot or a stick and salted on the outside.

prev. abbr. 1. previous. 2. previously.

pre·vail (pri·vayl) v. 1. to be victorious, gain the mastery. 2. to be more usual or frequent than others, to exist or occur generally, a prevailing wind. pre·vail·ing·ly adv. prev·ail on, to persuade. pre·vail·a·ment (prev·ə-ləment) adj. existing or occurring generally, widespread. pre·vail·a·ment·ly adv. prev·a·lence n.

pre·var·i·cate (pri·var·ə-kat) v. (pre·var·i·cat·ed, pre·var·i·cat·ing) to tell lies, to speak evasively. pre·var·i·ca·tor n. pre·var·i·ca·tion (pri·var·ə·kā·shən) n.

pre·ven·t (pri·vent) v. 1. to keep (a thing) from happening, to make impossible. 2. to keep (a person) from doing something. pre·ven·tion (pri·ven·shən) n.

pre·ven·ta·ble (pri·ven·tə·bəl) adj. able to be prevented.

pre·ven·ta·tive (pri·ven·tə·tiv) adj. preventive. pre·ven·ta·tive·ly adv. a preventive. prev. See the note under preventive.

pre·ven·tive (pri·ven·tiv) adj. preventing something. preventive n. a thing that prevents something. pre·ven·ti·ven·cy, dentity, dentistry that is intended to prevent decay or malformations of the teeth. pre·ven·ti·ve·dent, (in British law) imprisonment of a person who is thought likely to commit a crime. pre·ven·ti·ve·dent·i·cy, the branch of medicine concerned with the prevention of disease. prev. Careful writers use preventive rather than preventative.

pre·ver·bal (pre·vər·bəl) adj. not yet having acquired the ability to speak.

pre·view (pre·vju) n. an advance showing or viewing of a film or play etc. before it is shown to the general public. pre·view v. to view in advance of public presentation.

pre·vi·ous (pre·vi·u̇s) adj. 1. coming before in time or order. 2. done or acting prematurely, you have been a little too previous. pre·vi·ous·ly adv. pre·vi·ous·ness n. previous engagement, an appointment that prevents one from accepting another engagement. previous to, before.

pre·vi·sion (pre·vi·zhən) n. foreseeing, prescience.

pre·war (pre·wər) adj. existing or occurring before a certain war, especially before World War I or World War II.

pre·x·y (prek·sə) n. (pl. pre·xes) (slang) president of a college or university.

prey (pray) n. 1. an animal that is hunted or killed by another for food. 2. a person or thing that falls victim to an enemy or fear or disease etc. prey v. (preyed, prey·ing) prey on, to seek or take as prey; to have a harmful influence on, the problem preyed on his mind. pre·y·ed·ly adv. pre·y·ed·ly·ing prey or beast of prey, one that kills and eats other animals.

prf. abbr. proof.
priaplic / primate

priaplic (pri-ap-ik) adj. phallic.
price (pris) n. 1. the amount of money for which a thing is bought or sold. 2. what must be given or done etc. in order to achieve something, peace at any price.
price v. (priced, pric·ing) to fix or find or estimate the price of. □ a price on someone’s head or life, a reward offered for his capture or killing, at a price, at a high cost. price·earn·ings ratio, the market price of a share of stock divided by the earnings per share. price oneself out of the market, to charge such a high price for one’s goods or services that no one will buy them. price support, maintenance of the price of a product, usually by the government.
price war, a time of keen competition among retailers, when prices are continually cut.
price·less (pris-lis) adj. 1. invaluable. 2. (slang) very amusing or absurd. price·less·ly adv.
prick (prik) v. 1. to pierce slightly, to make a tiny hole in; prick the bubble, to show that something that has seemed important is nothing. 2. to goad by causing mental awareness, my conscience is prick·ing me. 3. to feel a prickling sensation. 4. to mark (a pattern etc.) with pricks or dots. prick n. 1. prickling, a mark or puncture made by this. 2. the sensation caused by a mark or puncture. 3. a thing that pricks. □ prick up one’s ears, (of a dog) to raise the ears erect when on the alert; (of a person) to become suddenly attentive.
prick·er (prik-er) n. 1. a thorn or brier. 2. a pricking instrument.
prick·le (prik-é) n. 1. a small thorn. 2. a pricking sensation. prick·le v. (prick·led, prick·ling) to feel or cause a sensation of prickling.
prick·ly (prik-lee) adj. (ill·er, ill·est) 1. having prickles. 2. (of a person) irritable, touchy. prick·ly·ness n. □ prickly heat, an inflammation of the skin near the sweat glands with itching and a prickly sensation.
prick·ly·pear (prik-ly·pear) n. a kind of cactus with pear-shaped edible fruit; its fruit.
pride (prid) n. 1. a feeling of pleasure or satisfaction in one’s actions or qualities or possessions etc. 2. a person or thing that is a source of pride. 3. a proper sense of what is fitting for one’s position or character, self-respect. 4. unduly high opinion of one’s own qualities or merits. 5. a company (of lions). pride v. (prid·ed, prid·ing) pride oneself on, to be proud of. □ pride of place, the most prominent position, awareness of this, arrogance.
pride·dle (pree-dyu) n. (pl. -dleus, -dleux, pr. dyuux) a kneeling desk, especially for prayer.
priest (priest) n. 1. a clergyman. 2. a person who is appointed to perform religious rites in non-Christian religions.
priest’hood n.
priest·ly (priest-lee) adj. of or like or suitable for a priest.
prig (prig) n. a self-righteous person, one who displays or demands exaggerated correctness, especially in behavior.
prig·glash adj. prig·glash-ness n.
prim (prim) adj. (prim·mer, prim·mest) stiffly formal and precise in manner or appearance or behavior, disagreeing what is rough or improper. prim·ily adv. prim·ness n.
prim. abbr. 1. primary. 2. primitive. pri·ma (pree-ma) adj. prima ballerina, the chief female dancer in a ballet. prima donna, the chief female singer in an opera; (informal) a temperamental person.
pri·ma·cy (pri-ma-see) n. 1. preeminence. 2. the office of a primate of the church.
pri·ma·fa·cie (pri-ma fay-sha) based on the first impression; made out a prima facie case against him, one that seemed, at first sight, to be valid; prima facie evidence, evidence that is immediately apparent.
prim·al (prim-äl) adj. 1. primitive, primeval. 2. chief, fundamental. □ primal scream, a primitive infantile scream, used in one kind of treatment of mental disorders.
prim·a·ry (pri-me-ree, -mé-ree) adj. 1. earliest in time or order, first in a series, the primary meaning of a word. 2. of the first importance, chief. 3. not derived, a primary source. pri·ma·ri·ly adv. primary n. (pl. -ries) 1. a thing that is first in order, time, importance, etc. 2. a primary election. □ primary accent, the most important stress of a word. primary cell, a battery that generates electricity by irreversible chemical reaction. primary colors, those colors from which all others can be made by mixing, (of paint) red and yellow and blue, (of light) red and green and violet.
primary education or school, that in which the rudiments of knowledge are taught, the first three or four years of elementary school. primary election, a political election for selecting convention delegates or party nominees.
pri·mate (pri-mayt, for definition 1 also prr-mit) n. 1. an archbishop or bishop who ranks first among other bishops in a certain province or country. 2. a member of the highly developed order of ani-imals that includes man, apes, and monkeys. pri-ma-tial (pri-may-shəl) adj.

prime1 (prim) adj. 1. chief, most important, the prime cause. 2. first rate, excellent, prime beef. 3. basic, fundamental.

pri-mi-mer-ian, the zero meridian passing through Greenwich, England, from which longitude is reckoned east and west. prime minister, the chief minister in a government. prime mover, the initial source (natural or mechanical) of motive power. prime number, a number (as 2, 3, 5, 7, 11) that can be divided exactly only by itself and 1. prime rate, the lowest rate at which money can be borrowed commercially. prime time, the time at which the highest rates are charged, especially to advertisers on television.

prime2 n. 1. the state of greatest perfection, the best part, in the prime of life. 2. the symbol ' added to a letter etc. as a distinguishing mark, or to a number as a symbol for minutes or feet.

prime3 v. (primed, prim-ing) 1. to prepare (a thing) for use or action; prime a pump, cause liquid to flow into it to start it working. 2. to prepare (a surface) for painting by coating it with a substance that prevents the first coat of paint from being absorbed. 3. to equip (a person) with information. 4. to give (a person) plenty of food or drink in preparation for something.

prim-e-er1 (pri-mər-ər) n. 1. a substance used to prime a surface for painting. 2. a detonator for explosives.

prim-e-er2 (prim-ér) n. an elementary textbook.

pri-me-val (pri-mee-vəl) adj. of the earliest times of the world, ancient.

prim-i-tive (prim-i-tiv) adj. 1. of or at an early stage of civilization, primitive tribes. 2. simple or crude, using unsophisticated techniques, primitive tools. primitive n. 1. an untutored painter with a naive style. 2. a picture by such a painter. primitive-ly adv.

prim-i-tiv-ism (prim-i-tiv-iz-əm) n. 1. primitive behavior. 2. belief in the superiority of what is primitive. 3. the style of a primitive painter.

pri-mo-gen-i-tor (pri-mō-jen-i-tôr) n. the earliest ancestor.

pri-mo-gen-i-ture (pri-mō-jen-i-chôr) n. 1. the fact of being a firstborn child. 2. the system by which an eldest son inherits all his parents' property.

primp (primp) v. 1. to use great care in making one's appearance tidy. 2. to groom (hair, clothes, etc.).

prim·rose (prim-röz) n. 1. (also prim·ula) a perennial plant bearing pale yellow flowers in the spring (English primrose) or variously colored flowers. 2. its flower. 3. pale yellow. • primrose path, a way of life devoted to ease and pleasure.

prin·u·la (prim-yoo-lə) see primrose.

prin. abbr. 1. principal. 2. principle.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.

prin·ces·s (prin-sis) n. 1. a male member of a royal family, (in Britain) a son or grandson of the sovereign. 2. a ruler, especially of a small state, Prince Rainier of Monaco. 3. a nobleman of various countries. 4. a man with outstanding qualities.
sarily the details. on principle, because of the principles of conduct one accepts, we refused on principle. □ See the note under principal.

prink (pringk) v. to dress up, to primp.

print (print) v. 1. to press (a mark or design etc.) on a surface, to impress or stamp (a surface or fabric etc.) in this way. 2. to produce (lettering on a book or newspaper etc.) by applying inked type to paper, to publish in this way. 3. to write with unjoined letters like those used in printing books etc. 4. to produce a positive picture from (a photographic negative or transparency) by transmission of light. print n. 1. a mark or indentation left where something has pressed on a surface. 2. printed lettering or writing, words in printed form. 3. a printed picture or photograph or design. 4. printed fabric. □ In print, (of a book) available from a publisher. out of print, (of a book) not available from a publisher.

printed circuit, an electric circuit with thin strips of conducting material on a flat insulating sheet (instead of wires).

printed matter, material that is printed and is eligible for special postal rates.

print-a-ble (prin-tä-bä) adj. 1. capable of being printed. 2. worthy of publication.

prin-ta tion, a machine for printing on paper etc. from type or plates.

print-out (print-owt) n. material produced in printed form from a computer or teleprinter.

pri-or (prir-er) adj. earlier, coming before another or others in time or order or importance. prior adv. □ prior to, before, prior to that date.

pri-or ty (pri-or-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being earlier or more important, precedence in rank etc., the right to be first. 2. something that is more important than other items or considerations, has got his priorities wrong.

pri-va-ty (pri-vä-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a monas-privateer. / proboscis wholly by pupils' fees or endowments.

prl·va·te·er (pri-vä-teer) n. 1. an armed vessel owned and commanded by private persons holding a commission from the government and authorized to use it against a hostile nation, especially to capture merchant shipping. 2. the commander or a member of the crew of this.
prl·va·te·er'ing n.
prl·va·tion (pri-ray-shōn) n. loss or lack of something, especially of the necessities of life.
priv·et (priv-it) n. a bushy shrub with small leaves, much used for hedges.
priv·i·lege (priv-i-lēj) n. a special right or advantage granted to one person or group. privilege v. (priv-i·leged, priv·i·leg·ing) to grant a privilege to.
priv·i·leged (priv-i-lējəd) adj. having privileges; privileged information, information that need not be disclosed in a court of law, etc.
priv·y (priv-ee) adj. 1. (old use) hidden, secret. 2. sharing secret knowledge. 3. private.
privy n. (pl. priv·ies) a toilet, especially one in an outhouse. privy·ly adv. □ be privy to, to be sharing in the secret of (a person's plans etc.). privy council, a body of distinguished advisers, as those advising the British sovereign on matters of state.
prix fixe (pree fık's) (pl. prix fixes, pr. pree fık's) a set price charged for any meal chosen from the menu listings.
prize1 (priz) n. 1. an award given as a symbol of victory or superiority. 2. something striven for or worth striving for. 3. something that can be won in a lottery etc. prize v. (prized, prize·ing) to value highly. prize adj. winning or likely to win a prize, excellent of its kind. □ prize ring, an enclosed area for prizefighting, the practice of prizefighting.
prize2 n. a ship or property captured at sea during a war.
prize3 v. (prized, prize·ing) to force out or open by leverage, to pry2, definition 1.
priz·e·fight (priz-fīt) n. a boxing match, usually for pay. prize·fight·er n.
priz·e·win·ner (priz-win-ər) n. the winner of a prize.
pro1 (proh) n. (pl. pros) (informal) a professional.
pro2 adv. in favor of. pro n. (pl. pros) 1. a person favoring one side of an issue or argument. 2. an argument in favor of something. □ pro and con, for and against.
pro· prefix favoring or siding with, as in pro-American; forward, downward, onward, as in proclaim, proceed; substituting for, as in pronoun.
pro·a·bor·tion (proh-á-bor-shōn) adj. favoring the right to choose to undergo or to perform an abortion.
pro·a·min·is·tra·tion (proh-ad-min-i-stray-shōn) adj. on the side of the administration.
prob. abbr. 1. probable. 2. probably. 3. problem.
pro·a·bil·i·ty (proh-á-bil-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being probable. 2. something that is probable, the most probable event. 3. a ratio expressing the chances that a certain event will occur. □ in all probability, most probably.
pro·a·ble (proh-á-bəl) adj. likely to happen or be true. pro·a·bil·ly adv.
pro·bate (proh-bayt) n. 1. the official process of proving that a will is valid. 2. a copy of a will with a certificate that it is valid, handed to executors. probate v. (pro·bat·ed, pro·bat·ing) to prove (a will) authentic or valid. □ probate court, a court that oversees the administration of estates of deceased persons.
pro·ba·tion (proh-bay-shōn) n. 1. the testing of a person's behavior or abilities etc. 2. a system whereby certain offenders are supervised by an official (probation officer) as an alternative to imprisonment.
pro·ba·tion·al adj.
pro·ba·tion·ary (proh-bay-shō-nərē) adj.
pro·ba·tion·er (proh-bay-shō-nér) n. a person who is undergoing a probationary period of testing.
pro·ba·tive (proh-bə-tiv) adj. 1. providing proof. 2. designed to test or try something.
pro·be (prohb) n. 1. a device for exploring an otherwise inaccessible place or object etc., a blunt-ended surgical instrument for exploring a wound; space probe, an unmanned exploratory spacecraft transmitting information about its environment etc. 2. a penetrating investigation, ordered a probe into their expense accounts.
probe v. (probed, pro·bing) 1. to explore with a probe. 2. to penetrate with something sharp. 3. to make a penetrating investigation of.
pro·bl·ty (proh-bi-tee) n. honesty, integrity.
prob·lem (prob-ləm) n. 1. something difficult to deal with or understand. 2. something difficult that has to be accomplished or answered or dealt with. 3. an exercise in a textbook or examination.
prob·lem·at·ic (prob-lə-mat-ik), prob·lem·at·i·cal adj. 1. difficult to deal with or understand. 2. questionable, doubtful.
pro·bos·cis (prohb-oß-iks) n. (pl. -bos·cis, -bos·ci·des, pr. -boh·i-deez) 1. a long flexible snout, an elephant's trunk.
2. an elongated mouthpart in certain insects, used for sucking things.

pro-business (pro-biz-nis) adj. favoring the interests of business over those of labor.

proc. abbr. 1. procedure. 2. proceedings. 3. process.

pro-caine (proh-kayn) n. a chemical compound used as a local anesthetic.

pro-cap-i-tal-list (proh-kap-i-tal-list) adj. favoring capitalism or capitalist interests.

pro-ca-the-dral (proh-ká-thee-dráll) n. a church used as a cathedral temporarily.

pro-ce-dure (proh-see-júr) n. a series of actions done or appointed to be done in order to accomplish something, a way of conducting business, parliamentary procedure. pro-ce-dur-al adj.

pro-ceed (proh-seed) v. 1. to go forward or onward, to make one's way. 2. to continue, to carry on an activity, please proceed with your work. 3. to start a lawsuit, he proceeded against the newspaper for libel. 4. to come forth, to originate, the evils that proceed from war.

pro-ceed-ing (proh-see-dingz) n.pl. 1. a lawsuit, start proceedings for divorce. 2. what takes place at a formal meeting of a society etc. 3. a published report of a discussion or conference etc., Proceedings of the Modern Language Association.

pro-ceeds (proh-seedz) n.pl. the amount of money produced by a sale or performance etc.

pro-ces-s (proh-cek-ses, proh-ses) n. 1. a series of actions or operations used in making or manufacturing or achieving something. 2. a series of changes, a natural operation, the digestive process. 3. a course of events or time. 4. a lawsuit, a summons or writ. 5. a natural projection on the body or one of its parts. process v. to put through a manufacturing or other process or course of treatment; your application is being processed, is being dealt with.

pro-ces-s-or, pro-ces-s-er n. data processing, see data. process cheese, cheese treated to avoid further ripening or deterioration during storage.

process printing, a way of printing colors by combining separate color plates.

process server, a person who serves legal documents such as writs or warrants.

process shot, (in film) a shot in which certain images are made to appear by artificial means.

pro-ce-sion (proh-sesh-ón) n. a number of people or vehicles or boats etc. going along in an orderly line.

pro-ce-sion-al (proh-sesh-ó-nál) adj. of or for a procession. pro-ce-sion-al n. a processional hymn, religious music for a procession.

pro-claim (proh-klaym) v. 1. to announce officially or publicly, to declare. 2. to make known unmistakably as being, his accent proclaimed him a Scot. pro-cla-mation (proh-lá-may-shón) n.

pro-civ-il-ty (proh-kliv-i-tee) n. (pl.-ties) a tendency.

pro-com-mu-nist (proh-kom-yú-nist) adj. favoring communist principles or ideas.

pro-con-sul (proh-kon-sul) n. (in Roman history) the governor of a province. pro-con-su-lar adj. pro-con-su-late (proh-kon-sú-lit) n.

pro-cre-ate (proh-kreet-ayt) v. (pro-cre-at-ed, pro-cre-at-ing) to bring (a living thing) into existence by the natural process of reproduction, to generate.

pro-cre-a-tor n. pro-cre-a-tive adj. pro-cre-a-tion (proh-kreet-ay-shôn) n.

pro-crus-te-an, pro-crus-te-an (proh-kruhs-te-án) adj. seeking to enforce conformity with a theory etc. by violent methods (as by omitting all that contradicts it). Named after Procrustes, a robber in Greek legend, who fitted victims to his bed by stretching them or lopping bits off.

pro-tol-o-gist (proh-tol-o-jist) n. an expert in proctology.

pro-tol-o-gy (proh-tol-o-je) n. a branch of medicine dealing with the structure and diseases of the rectum and anus. pro-tol-o-gic (proh-tol-0-jik) adj. pro-tol-o-gi-cal adj.

proctor v. to perform this function.

proctor (proh-tor) n. an official or a teacher who supervises an examination.

proctoral adj.

pro-cur-a-tor (proh-yú-ray-tor) n. 1. the treasurer officer in an imperial province of ancient Rome. 2. an agent or proxy.

pro-cure (proh-kyoor) v. (proh-cured, pro-cur-ing) to obtain by care or effort, to acquire. pro-cur-ment n.

pro-cur-er (proh-kyoor-ér) n. 1. one who procure.s something. 2. a pimp.

pro-cur-ess (proh-kyoor-ës) n. a female pimp.

prod (prod) v. (prod-ded, prod-ding) 1. to poke. 2. to urge or stimulate into action. prod n. 1. a poke. 2. a stimulus prohib / promise

prohib-it (proh-hib-it) v. (proh-hib-it-ed, proh-hib-it-ing) to forbid.

prohib-i-tion (proh-i-bish-ôn) n. 1. forbidding, being forbidden. 2. an edict or order that forbids. 3. Prohibition, a period from 1920–1933 when the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks were forbidden by law in the U.S. proh-i-bi-tion-ist n.

prohib-i-tive (proh-i-bi-tiv) adj. preventing or intended to prevent the use or abuse or purchase of something, prohibitive taxes. proh-i-bi-tive-ly adv.

prohib-i-to-ry (proh-i-toh-ree) adj.

pro-in-dus-try (proh-in-dus-tree) adj. favoring the interests of industry rather than those of government etc.

pro-in-tegra-tion (proh-in-teh-gray-shon) adj. favoring racial integration in schools, housing, etc.

pro-ject (prôjekt) v. 1. to extend outward from a surface, a projecting balcony. 2. to cast or throw outward. 3. to cause (a picture or shadow) to fall on a surface. 4. to imagine (a thing or oneself) in another situation or another person’s feelings or a future time. 5. to plan (a scheme or course of action). 6. to represent (a solid thing) systematically on a plane surface, as maps of Earth are made. project (prôjekt) n. 1. a plan or scheme or undertaking. 2. a task set as an educational exercise, requiring students to do their own research and present the results.

pro-jec-tile (prô-jekt-il) n. a missile (as a bullet or arrow or rocket) that can be projected forcefully.

pro-jec-tion (prô-jek-shôn) n. 1. projecting, being projected. 2. something that projects from a surface. 3. a thing that is projected. 4. a representation of the surface of Earth on a plane surface. 5. an estimate of future situations or trends etc. based on a study of present ones.

projection booth, a room in a movie theater where the motion picture projectors and spotlights are kept.

pro-jec-tion-ist (prô-jek-shôn-ist) n. a person whose job is to operate a projector.

pro-jec-tor (prô-jek-tôr) n. an apparatus for projecting photographs or a motion picture etc. onto a screen.

pro-la-bor (proh-lay-bôr) adj. favoring the interests of labor over those of business.

pro-lapse (proh-laps) v. (proh-lapsed, proh-laps-ing) (of an organ of the body) to slip forward or down out of its place. prolapse (proh-laps) n. the prolapsing of an organ of the body.

pro-le-gom-e-non (proh-leh-gohm-eh-n) n. (pl. -na, pr. -nâ) preliminary matter in a book, the introduction.

pro-le-tar-ian (proh-leh-tair-ee-ahn) adj. of the proletariat. proletarian n. a member of the proletariat.

pro-le-tar-iat (proh-leh-tair-ee-ahht) n. the working class (contrasted with the bourgeoisie).

pro-lif-er-ate (proh-lif-er-ayt) v. (proh-lif-er-at-ed, proh-lif-er-at-ing) to produce new growth or offspring rapidly, to multiply. proh-lif-er-a-tion (proh-lif-er-ay-shôn) n.

pro-lif-ic (proh-lih-fik) adj. producing much fruit or many flowers or offspring; a prolific writer, one who writes many works. proh-lif-i-cal-ly adv.

pro-lin (proh-lin) adj. lengthy, tediously wordy.

pro-logue, pro-log (proh-lawg) n. 1. an introduction to a poem or play etc. 2. an act or event serving as an introduction to something.

pro-long (proh-lawnj) v. to lengthen (a thing) in extent or duration. proh-lon-ga-tion (proh-lawnj-gay-shôn) n.

pro-longed (proh-lawnj-d) adj. continuing for a long time.

prom (prom) n. (informal) a dance, usually formal, given at a school or college.

prom-e-naude (prom-e-nayd, -nahd) n. 1. a leisurely walk in a public place. 2. a paved public walk (especially along a sea front), an esplanade. promenade v. (prom-e-nad-ed, prom-e-nad-ing) to go or take for a promenade, to parade.

promenade deck, an upper deck on a passenger ship, where passengers may promenade.

pro-meth-ium (proh-mee-thi-ûm) n. a radioactive metallic element.

pro-mil-i-tar-y (proh-mil-i-ter-ee) adj. favoring policies promoted by the military.

pro-min-e-nce (proh-mi-nens) n. 1. the state of being prominent, a prominent thing. 2. a cloud of incandescent gas jetting out from the sun.

pro-mi-nent (proh-mi-neeht) adj. 1. jutting out, projecting. 2. conspicuous. 3. important, well-known. prominent citizens.

pro-mi-nent-ly adv.

pro-mis-cu-ous (proh-mis-kuoo-ûs) adj. 1. indiscriminate. 2. having sexual relations with many people. proh-mis-ku-ous-ly adv. proh-mis-ku-ous-ness n.

pro-mis-cu-i-ty (proh-mis-kuoo-itee) n.

prom-i-se (proh-miss) n. 1. a declaration that one will give or do or not do a certain thing. 2. an indication of something that may be expected to come or occur. 3. an indication of future success or good results, his work shows promise. promise v. (prom-ised, prom-ised-ing) 1. to make a promise to, to declare that one will give or do or not do something. 2. to make (a thing) seem likely; it promises well, seems likely to give good results.

Promised Land, Canaan, which was promised by God to Abraham and his descendants; any place of expected happiness.

prom-ising (prom-i-sing) adj. likely to turn out well or produce good results.

prom'is-ing-ly adv.

prom-i-sor-ry (prom-i-sor-ee) adj. conversing a promise. □promissory note, a signed promise to pay a sum of money.

pro-mon-ar-chist (pro-mon-ar-chist) adj. favoring a monarch or monarchy.

pro-on-to-ry (pro-on-to-ry) n. high land jutting out into the sea or a lake.

pro-mote (pro-mot) v. (pro-mot-ed, pro-mot-ing) 1. to raise (a person) to a higher rank or office. 2. to initiate or help the progress of, promote friendship between nations. 3. to publicize (a product) in order to sell it.

pro-mot'er (pro-mot-er) n. a person who publicizes a product or event.

pro-mo-tion (pro-mo-tion) n. 1. promoting, being promoted. 2. the publicity and advertising for a product. pro-mo-tion-al adj.

prompt (prompt) adj. 1. made or done or something without delay. 2. punctual. prompt adv. punctually. prompt v. 1. to incite or stimulate (a person) to action. 2. to cause (a feeling or thought or action). 3. to assist by supplying (an actor or speaker) with words that should or could come next. prompt'ly adv.

prompt'ness n.

prompt-book (prompt-book) n. a copy of a play for a prompter's use.

prompt'er (prompt-er) n. a person (placed out of sight of the audience) who prompts actors on the stage.

prom-ul-gate (prom-ul-gate) v. (pro-mul-gat-ed, pro-mul-gat-ing) to make known to the public, to proclaim.

prom-ul-ga-tor n. prom-ul-ga-tion (prom-ul-gay-shun) n.

pron. abbr. 1. pronoun. 2. pronounced. 3. pronunciation.

pro-na-tion-al-list (pro-nah-tsh-6-nah-list) adj. favoring a nationalistic government or group.

prone (prohn) adj. 1. lying face downward (contrasted with supine). 2. likely to do or suffer something, prone to jealousy.

prone'ness n.

prong (prong) n. one of the projecting pointed parts of a fork.

pronged (prong-ed) adj. having a certain number or kind of prongs, two-pronged; a three-pronged attack, in three areas.

prong-horn (prong-horn) n. a deerlike animal of western North America resembling an antelope.

pro-noun (pro-noun) n. a word used as a substitute for a noun; demonstrative pronouns, this, that, these, those; interrogative pronouns, who? what? which? etc.; personal pronouns, I, me, we, us, thou, thee, you, ye, he, him, she, her, it, they, them; possessive pronouns, mine, yours, his, hers, its, ours, theirs; reflexive pronouns, myself, oneself, etc.; relative pronouns, who, what, which, that. pro-nom-i-nal (pro-nom-in-al) adj.

pro-nounce (pro-noun) v. (pro-nounced, pro-nounc-ing) 1. to utter (a sound) distinctly or correctly or in a certain way, can't pronounce the letter r. 2. to declare formally, I now pronounce you man and wife. 3. to declare as one's opinion, the wine was pronounced excellent. pro-nounce'a-ble adj.

pro-nounced (pro-nounced) adj. definite, noticeable, walks with a pronounced limp.

pro-nounce-ment (pro-nounced-ment) n. a declaration.

pron-to (pron-to) adv. (slang) immediately.

pro-nun-ci-a-men-to (pro-nun-ci-a-men-to) n. (pl. -tos) a proclamation, manifesto, or pronouncement.

pro-nun-ci-a-tion (pro-nun-ci-a-shun) n. 1. the way a word is pronounced. 2. the way a person pronounces words.

proof (proof) n. 1. a fact or thing that shows or helps to show that something is true or exists. 2. a demonstration of the truth of something, in proof of my statement. 3. the process of testing whether something is true or good or valid, put it to the proof. 4. a standard of strength for distilled alcoholic liquors, 86 proof. 5. an impression of printed matter, produced so that corrections can be made. 6. a trial print of a photograph.

proof adj. able to resist or withstand penetration or damage, bulletproof; proof against the severest weather.

proof-read (proof-read) v. (proof-read, pr.-red, proof-read-ing, pr.-red-ed) to read and correct proofs.

proof-read'er n. proof-read-ing n.

prop (prop) n. 1. a support used to keep something from falling or sagging. 2. a person or thing depended on for support or help. prop v. (propped, prop-ping) to support with or as if with a prop, to keep from falling or failing, prop it up.

prop' n. (informal) a stage property.

prop' n. (informal) a propeller.
prop. abbr. 1. property. 2. proposition. 3. proprietary. 4. proprietor.
prop-a-gan-da (prop-ā-gan-dā) n. publicity intended to spread ideas or information that will persuade or convince people. prop-a-gan’dist n.
prop-a-gan’dize (prop-ā-gan-diz) v. (prop-a-gan’dized, prop-a-gan’diz-ing) 1. to spread propaganda, to spread (ideas) in this way. 2. to subject to propaganda.
prop-a-gate (prop-ā-gayt) v. (prop-a-gat-ed, prop-a-gat-ing) 1. to breed or reproduce from parent stock, propagate these plants from seeds or cuttings. 2. to spread (news or ideas etc.). 3. to transmit, the vibrations are propagated through the rock. prop’a-ga’to r n.
prop-a-ga’tion (prop-ā-ga-shon) n.
pro-pane (proh-payn) n. a hydrocarbon gas used as a fuel.
pro-pel (prō-pel) v. (pro-pelled, pro-pel-ling) to drive or push forward, to give an onward movement to.
pro-pel-lant, pro-pel-lent (prō-pel-ānt) n. a propelling agent, such as an explosive that propels a bullet from a firearm, fuel that provides thrust for a rocket, compressed gas that forces out the contents of an aerosol container.
pro-pel-ler (prō-pel-ər) n. a revolving device with blades for propelling a ship or aircraft to which it is fitted.
pro-pen-si-ty (prō-pen-si-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a tendency or inclination, a propensity to laziness.
pro-pèr (pro-pər) adj. 1. suitable, appropriate, not a proper time for singing. 2. correct, according to rules, the proper way to hold the bat. 3. according to social conventions, respectable. 4. strictly so called, we drove from the suburbs to the city proper. prop’er-ly adv. prop'er-ness n. □ proper fraction, one that is less than 1, with the numerator less than the denominator, as 3/4. proper name or noun, the name of an individual person or thing, as Jane, Seattle.
pro-pèr-tied (pro-pər-ted) adj. having property.
pro-pèr-ty (pro-pər-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a thing or things owned. 2. real estate, someone’s land, their property borders on ours. 3. a movable object (such as furniture) used on stage during a performance of a play etc. 4. a quality or characteristic, it has the property of dissolving grease.
proph’e-cy (prof-ē-see) n. (pl. -cies) 1. the power of prophesying, the gift of prophecy. 2. a statement that tells what will happen. □ Do not confuse prophecy with prophesy.
proph’e-sy (prof-ē-si) v. (proph-e-sied, proph-e-sy-ing) to declare beforehand (what will happen), to foretell things as if by divine inspiration.
proph’e-si-er n. □ Do not confuse prophesy with prophecy.
proph-et (prof-it) n. 1. a person who foretells the future. 2. a divinely inspired teacher, revealer, or interpreter of God’s will. 3. Prophets, twelve prophetical writers whose writings form a group of books of the Old Testament. proph-et-ess (prof-i-tis) n. fem. □ the Prophet, Muhammad.
pro-phèt’ic (prō-fet-ik) adj. prophesying the future. prophet’i-cal adj. proph-et’i-cal-ly adv.
pro-phèt’ic Cal (proh-fi-lak-tik) adj. tending to prevent a disease or misfortune, prophylactic measures were taken against the spread of cholera. prophylactic n. a prophylactic substance or procedure. pro-phyl’a’tic-cal-ly adv.
pro-phèt’ic Cal (proh-fi-lak-sis) n. preventive treatment against a disease etc.
pro-pin-qui-ty (proh-ping-ki-tee) n. nearness.
pro-pl-a-tate (proh-play-ayt) v. (pro-pla-ted, pro-pla-ting) to win the favor or forgiveness of, to placate.
pro-pla-ta-tion (proh-pla-tay-shon) n.
pro-pla-tous (proh-pla-us) adj. favorable, giving a good omen or a suitable opportunity. pro-pla’tous-ly adv.
pro-jet (proh-jet) n. 1. a turboprop engine. 2. an airplane propelled by a turboprop engine.
pro-man (proh-man) n. (pl. -men, pr.-men) a person responsible for theatrical stage properties.
pro-po-nent (proh-poh-nent) n. a person who puts forward a motion, theory, or proposal.
pro-por-tion (proh-pohr-shon) n. 1. a fraction or share of a whole. 2. a ratio, the proportion of skilled workers to unskilled. 3. the correct relation in size or amount or degree between one thing and another or between parts of a thing. 4. proportions, size, dimensions, a ship of majestic proportions. proportion v. (pro-por-tioned, pro-por-tion-ing) to make proportionate.
pro-por-tion-al (proh-pohr-shō-nal) adj. in correct proportion, corresponding in size or amount or degree. pro-por’tion-al-ly adv. pro-por-tion-al-ly ty (proh-pohr-shoh-nal-ee-tee) n. □ proportional representation, an electoral system in which each party has a number of seats in proportion to the number of votes for its candidates.
prosper (pros-për) v. to be successful, to thrive.

prosperity (pros-per-i-tec) n. being prosperous.

prosperous (pros-për-rūs) adj. financially successful. prosperously (pros-per-o-sē-ly) adv.

prostate (pros-tāt) n. (also prostate gland) a gland around the neck of the bladder in males. prostatitis (pros-tä-tis) adj.

prostate (pros-tāt) inflamation of the prostate gland.

prosthesis (pros-the-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sezz) 1. the addition of a letter or syllable at the beginning of a word, as be-in beloved. 2. an artificial limb, tooth, or other part of the body. 3. the making up of deficiencies by supplying such devices.

prosthetic (pros-thēt-ik) adj.

prosthetic (pros-thēt-ik) n. the branch of medicine concerned with the replacement of parts of the body with artificial devices.

prosthetics (pros-thēt-icks) n. prostetics (pros-thēt-iks) n.

prostrate (pros-trāt) adj. 1. face downward. 2. lying horizontally. 3. overcome, exhausted, prostrate with grief. prostrate v. (pros-trāt-ed, pros-trāt-ing) to cause to be prostrate; prostrate oneself, to cast oneself face downward on the ground in humility or adoration.

prostration (pro-strā-shōn) n.

protest (pros-trest) n. a person who engages in promiscuous sexual intercourse for payment. prostitute v. (pros-trest-ed, pros-trest-ing) 1. to make a prostitute of, prostitute oneself. 2. to put to an unworthy use, prostituting their artistic abilities.

protection (pros-ti-kāt-ik) n. (especially informal) protection.
a group of one-celled usually microscopic animals.

pro-to-zoi-ol-o-gy (proh-tō-zoh-ol-ō-jee) n. the branch of zoology that deals with protozoa.

pro-trac (proh-trak) v. to prolong in duration. pro-trac-tion (proh-trak-shōn) n.

pro-trac-tor (proh-trak-tōr) n. an instrument for measuring angles, usually a semicircle marked off in degrees.

pro-trude (proh-troof) v. (proh-trud-ed, proh-trud-ing) to project from a surface. pro-tru-sion (proh-troof-zi-on) n. pro-tru-sive (proh-troof-siv) adj.

pro-tu-ber-ance (proh-too-bē-rants) n. a bulging part.

pro-tu-ber-ant (proh-too-bē-rant) adj. bulging outward from a surface.

proud (proud) adj. 1. feeling or showing justifiable pride. 2. marked by such feeling, a proud day for us. 3. full of self-respect and independence, too proud to ask for help. 4. having an unduly high opinion of one’s own qualities or merits. proud adv. (informal) proudly; they did us proud, treated us lavishly or with great honor; our children did us proud, made us feel proud. proud’ly adv.

pro-un-ion (proh-yoo-n-yon) adj. favoring the interests of labor unions over those of industry.

prov. abbr. 1. province. 2. provincial. 3. provisional. 4. provost.

prov-a-ble (proo-vā-bēl) adj. able to be proved.

prove (proov) v. (proved, proved or prov-en, prov-ing) 1. to give or be proved. 2. to establish the validity of (a will). 3. to be found to be, it proved to be a good thing. 4. to test or try out. prove oneself, to show that one has the required character or abilities. prov-ing *ground, a place or context for trying something out. ▶ The past participle proved is preferred by careful writers. They have proved their assertion not have proven.

prov-en (proov-ən) adj. proved, a person of proven ability.

prov-e-nance (proov-ə-nəns) n. (of a work of art etc.) a place of origin.

Pro-ven’çal (proh-vuh-nyal) adj. of Provence, a region of southern France.

prov-en-der (proo-vən-dər) n. 1. fodder. 2. (humorous) food.

pro-ve-nil-ence (proov-ə-nil-ənς) n. provenance.

prov-erb (proov-ərb) n. 1. a short well-known saying stating a general truth, as many hands make light work. 2. Proverbs, a book of the Old Testament, containing proverbs ascribed to Solomon and others.

pro-verb-ial (prov-ər-bial) adj. 1. of or like a proverb, mentioned in a proverb. 2. well-known, notorious, his meanness is proverbial. pro-verb’al-ly adv.

pro-vid-e (proov-əd) v. (proov-əd-ed, proov-əd-ing) 1. to cause (a person) to have possession or use of something, to supply. 2. to give or supply the necessities of life, has to provide for his family. 3. to make suitable preparation for something, try to provide against emergencies. 4. to stipulate (that), the law provides that controls will be imposed. pro-vid’er n.

pro-vid-ed (proov-əd-id) adj. on the condition, we will come provided that our expenses are paid.

pro-vid-ence (proov-əd-əns) n. 1. being provident. 2. God’s or nature’s care and protection.

Pro-vi-dence (proov-əd-əns) n. 1. God. 2. the capital of Rhode Island.

pro-vid-ent (proov-əd-ənt) adj. showing wise forethought for future needs or events, thrifty. pro-vid’ent-ly adv.

pro-vid-en-tial (prood-ən-jal) adj. happening very luckily. Pro-vi-den’tial-ly adv.

pro-vi-ding (proov-əding) conj. provided.

pro-vinc’al (proov-ən-səl) adj. 1. of one of the principal administrative divisions in certain countries. 2. a district consisting of a group of adjacent dioceses, under the charge of an archbishop. 3. a range of learning or knowledge or responsibility or concern, estimates of expenditure are the treasurer’s province. □ the provinces, the whole of a country outside its capital city or metropolitan areas.

pro-vin’cial (proo-veen-shəl) adj. 1. of a province or provinces, provincial government. 2. having only limited interests and narrow-minded views, provincial attitudes. provincial n. a native or inhabitant of a province or of the provinces.

pro-vin’cial-ism n.

pro-vi-sion (proov-shən) n. 1. providing, preparation of resources etc. for future needs, made provision for their old age. 2. a statement or clause in a treaty or contract etc. stipulating something, under the provisions of his will. 3. provisions, a supply of food and drink. provision v. to supply with provisions of food etc.

pro-vi-sion-al (proo-vizh-ə-nəl) adj. arranged or agreed upon temporarily but possibly to be altered later. pro-vi-sion-al-ly adv.

pro-vi-so (proo-vəzho) n. (pl. -sos) something that is insisted upon as a condition of an agreement.
falsely represented as being scientific.

psf abbr. pounds per square foot.

pshaw (shaw) interj. an expression of contempt or impatience.

psl (si) n. (pl. psls, pr. siz) 1. the twenty-third letter of the Greek alphabet (Ψ υ).
2. parapsychological factors or faculties collectively.

ps abbr. pounds per square inch.

psit-ta-co-sis (sit-ä-koh-sis) n. parrot fever, a contagious disease of birds that can be transmitted to human beings as a form of pneumonia.

psa-ro-ri-a-sis (sö-rr-ä-sis) n. a skin disease causing red scaly patches.

psst (pst) interj. an exclamation to attract someone's attention furtherly.

PST abbr. Pacific Standard Time.

psych (sik) v. (slang) 1. to work out the intentions of (a person) or the solution of (a problem etc.) by use of psychology. 2. to intimidate (a person) by making him feel mentally uneasy. psych out (sling) to analyze (a situation or person) beforehand. psych up (sling) to ready oneself emotionally, he was psyched up for the concert.

psych. abbr. 1. psychologist. 2. psychology.

psy-che (si-kee) n. 1. the human soul or spirit. 2. the human mind.

psy-che-del-i-c (si-kë-del-ik) adj. of or producing hallucinations and similar experiences, full of vivid or luminous colors. psy-che-del'i-cal-ly adj.

psy-chi-a-trist (si-kii-ah-trist) n. an expert in psychiatry.

psy-chi-a-try (si-ki-at-rik) n. branch of medicine dealing with mental disorders. psy-chi-at-ric (si-ki-at-rik) adj.

psy-chi-c (si-kik) adj. 1. of the soul or mind. 2. concerned with processes that seem to be outside physical or natural laws, having or involving extrasensory perception or occult powers. psy-chi-c n. a person apparently susceptible to psychic influence, a medium.

psy-ch-o (si-koh) adj. (slang) psychotic.

psycho n. (pl. choss) (sling) a psychotic person.

psy-ch-o-ac-t-i-v e (si-koh-ak-tiv) adj. affecting the mind.

psy-ch-o-a-nal-y-sis (si-koh-ah-nal-i-sis) n. a method of examining or treating mental conditions by bringing to light certain things in a person's subconscious mind that may be influencing behavior and mental state. psy-ch-o-an-a-lyt-i-cal (si-koh-ah-nal-i-tik) adj. psy-ch-o-an-a-lytical adj.
plumage that turns white in winter.

PT (pee-tee) boat a motor torpedo boat.

pter·o·dac·tyl (ter-ō-dak-tēl) n. an extinct reptile with wings.

ptg. abbr. printing.

pto·ma·ine (toh-mayn) n. a chemical substance, often poisonous, formed by bacteria in decaying matter. Ptomai ne poisoning, an intestinal disorder caused by eating contaminated food.

Pu sumbol/plutonium.

pub (pub) n. (informal) a bar. Pu An abbreviation of public house (British).

pub. abbr. 1. public. 2. publication. 3. published. 4. publisher. 5. publishing.

pub·ber·ty (pyoo-bēr-tee) n. the stage at which a person’s reproductive organs are in the process of becoming mature and he or she becomes capable of producing offspring. Pub·ber·tal adj.

pub·bes (pyoo-beez) n. (pl. -bes) the lower part of the abdomen, covered with hair at and after puberty.

pub·bes·cen·ce n.

pub·lic (pyoo-bik) adj. of or for or known to people in general, not private, a public holiday; in the public interest; public parks. Public n. members of the community in general or a particular section of this, the American public. In the public domain, belonging to the community as a whole, especially no longer protected by copyright. Public account, an accountant available to the public at large. Public address system, a system of loudspeakers to make something audible over a wide area. Public defender, a lawyer appointed at public expense to represent the needy in criminal cases. Public enemy, a criminal whom special efforts are made to apprehend. Public house, (British) a building (not a hotel) licensed to sell beer and other alcoholic drinks to the general public for consumption on the premises (and not only with meals). Public opinion, the collective opinion of many individuals on a conflict or issue. Public opinion poll, a poll taken to sample public opinion. Public relations, the promotion of goodwill between an organization etc. and the general public; the goodwill resulting from such activity.

pub·li·can (pub-li-kān) n. 1. (British) the keeper of a public house. 2. (in the Bible) a tax collector.

pub·li·ca·tion (pub-li-kā-shōn) n. 1. publishing, being published. 2. something published, such as a book or newspaper.

pub·li·clist (pub-li-sist) n. an individual in the publicity business, especially a press agent.

pub·li·ciz·ing (pub-li-siz-ing) v. to bring to the attention of the public, to advertise.

pub·li·cy (pub-li-see) adv. in public, openly.

pub·li·spir·it·ed (pub-li-spir-i-tid) adj. ready to do things for the benefit of people in general.

pub·lish (pub-lish) v. 1. to issue copies of (a book etc.) to the public. 2. to make generally known. 3. to announce formally, publish the banns of marriage. Pub·lish·er (pub-li-shēr) n. a person or firm that issues copies of a book or newspaper etc. to the public (distinguished from a printer, who prints books etc. but does not issue them).

puce (pyoos) adj. & n. brownish purple.

puck1 (puk) n. a mischievous or (old use) evil sprite.

puck2 n. the hard rubber disk used in ice hockey.

puck·er·er (puk·er) v. to come together in small wrinkles or bulges, to cause to do this. Pucker n. a wrinkle or bulge made in this way.

puck·ish (puk·ish) adj. impish.

pud·ding (pudd-ing) n. a dessert of a soft creamy or spongy consistency.

pud·ding·head (pudd-ing-head) n. (slang) a stupid person.

pud·dle (pudd·el) n. a small pool, especially of water left after rain on a road or other surface. Pud·dly adj.

pud·ding·ling (pudd·ling) n. the process of producing wrought iron by stirring molten pig iron so as to expel carbon.

pu·den·da (pyoo·den·dā) n. pl. the genitals, especially of a woman. Pu·den·dal adj.

pud·gy (puj·ee) adj. (pudd·g·i·er, pud·g·i·est) short and fat.

pue·blo (pweb·lö) n. (pl. -lohs) 1. a communal village dwelling of flat-roofed stone or adobe built by Indians in Mexico and the southwest U.S. 2. Pueblo, a member of a tribe living in these.
pu'er*le (pyoo-č-rəl) adj. showing immaturity, suitable only for children, asking puerile questions. pu'er*li-ty (pyoo-č-rə-lə-ti) n.

pu'er*per*al (pyoo-ar-pə-rəl) adj. of or associated with childbirth. □puerperal fever, a fever that results from an infection of the womb following childbirth or abortion.

Puer*to Ri'co (pwer-tô ree-koh) an island in the West Indies. Puer*to Ri'can adj. & n.

puff (puf) n. 1. a short light blowing of breath or wind etc., smoke or vapor sent out by this. 2. a powder puff. 3. a pastry filled with cream etc., cream puffs. 4. a piece of extravagant praise in a review or advertisement for a book or play etc.
puff v. 1. to send out a puff or puffs, to blow (smoke etc.) in puffs, to smoke (a pipe etc.) in puffs. 2. to breathe hard, to pant. 3. to make or become inflated, to swell. □puff adder, a large poisonous African viper that inflates the upper part of its body when excited. puff pa*stry, very light flaky pastry. puff or puffed sleeve, a sleeve that is very full at the shoulder. puff up, to swell with pride.

puff-ball (puf-bawl) n. a fungus with a ball-shaped spore case that bursts open when ripe.

puf*fin (puf-in) n. a seabird with a short striped bill.

puf*fy (puf-ce) adj. (puf*fl*er, puf*fi*est) puffed out, swollen. puf*fi*ness n.

pug1 (pug) n. a dog of a dwarf breed resembling the bulldog. □pug nose, a short flattish turned-up nose.

pug2 n. (slang) a puglist.

pu*gli*st (pyoo-gl̩-list) n. a professional boxer. pu*gli*ism n. pu*gli*ls*tic (pyoo-gl̩-ls-tik) adj.

pu*gnac*ious (pyoo-näk-shūs) adj. eager to fight, aggressive. pu*gnac*ious*ly adv. pu*g*nac*ility (pyoo-näk-sə-lə-ti) n.

pu*ls*ance (pyoo-lə-səns) n. great power or strength. pu*ls*ant adj.

puke (pyook) v. (puked, pu*k-ing) (slang) to vomit. puke n. (slang) vomit.

pu*k-a (puk-ə) adj. (informal) real, genuine.

pu*lchri*tu*de (pul-kri-tood) n. beauty. pu*lchri*tu*di*ous (pul-kri-too-di*əs) adj.

pule (pyool) v. (puled, pu*l-ing) to cry weakly, to whimper or whine.

pull (puul) v. 1. to exert force upon (a thing) so as to move it toward oneself or toward the source of the force; pull a muscle, damage it by abnormal strain; pull a gun, draw it and prepare to use it; pull a horse, to check it so as to lose a race. 2. to remove by pulling, pull the cork. 3. to propel (a boat) by pulling on its oars. 4. to exert a pulling or driving force, the engine is pulling well. 5. to attract, attractions that pull the crowds.
pull n. 1. the act of pulling, the force exerted by this. 2. (slang) a means of exerting influence. 3. a deep draft of a drink, a draw at a pipe etc. 4. a prolonged effort in walking etc., the long pull up the hill.
pull'er n. □pull a fast one, (slang) to act unfairly in order to gain an advantage. pull a person's leg, to tease him. pull back, to retreat or withdraw, to cause to do this. pull down, to demolish a building. pull in, to obtain as wages or profit; (of a train) to enter and stop at a station; (of a vehicle) to move to the side of the road or off the road; (informal) to take into custody. pull off, to succeed in achieving or winning something, pulled it off. pull oneself together, to regain one's self-control. pull one's punches, to avoid using one's full force. pull one's weight, to do one's fair share of work. pull out, to withdraw or cause to withdraw; (of a train) to move out of a station; (of a vehicle) to move away from the side of a road, or from behind another vehicle to overtake it. pull rank, to make unfair use of one's senior rank in demanding obedience. pull strings, to use one's influence, often secretly. pull through, to come or bring successfully through an illness or difficulty. pull together, to cooperate. pull up, to stop or cause (a person or vehicle etc.) to stop; to reprimand.
pul*let (pul-lit) n. a young domestic hen from the time of beginning to lay until the first molt.

pul*ley (pul-le) n. (pl. -leys) a wheel over which a rope or chain or belt passes, used in lifting things or to drive or be driven by an endless belt.

Pull*man (pul-mən) n. (trademark) a type of railroad sleeping car or parlor car.

pull*out (pul-owt) n. 1. the act of pulling out. 2. a planned withdrawal or retreat. 3. a page in a book that folds out for easy reference.

pull*o*ver (pul-ə-ver) n. a kind of sweater (with or without sleeves) with no fastenings, put on by being pulled over the head.

pu*mo*nar*y (pul-mō-nar*y) (pu-lō-mō-nar*ye, pul-) adj. of or affecting the lungs.

Pul*mo*tor (pul-mō-tôr) n. (trademark) a type of mechanical device to assist in breathing.

pulp (pulp) n. 1. the soft moist part of fruit. 2. the soft tissue inside a tooth. 3. any soft moist mass of material, especially of wood fiber as used for making paper. pulp v. to reduce to pulp, to become pulpy. □ pulp magazine, a cheap popular magazine (originally of the kind printed on rough paper made from wood pulp).

pulp-it (pulp-īt) n. a raised enclosed platform in a church, used for preaching from.

pulp-wood (pulp-ūweed) n. timber suitable for making pulp.

pulp-y (pulp-ī) adj. like pulp, containing much pulp.

pul-que (pul-ke) n. a Mexican alcoholic drink made from the sap of the agave.

pul-sar (pul-sahr) n. a cosmic source of regularly and rapidly pulsating radio signals.

pul-sate (pul-sat) v. (pul-sat-ed, pul-sat-ing) 1. to expand and contract rhythmically, to vibrate, to quiver. pulsa-tion (pul-sa-shōn) n.

pul-sate (pul-satz) v. (pul-satz-ed, pul-satz-ing) to expand and contract rhythmically, to vibrate, to quiver. pulsa-tion (pul-sa-shōn) n.

pul-sa-tion (pul-sa-shōn) n. the rhythmic throbbing of the arteries as blood is propelled along them, this as felt in the wrists or temples etc. 2. any steady throb. 3. a single beat or throb. pulse v. (pulsed, puls-ing) to pulsate.

pulp n. the edible seed of peas, beans, lentils, etc.

pul-ver-ize (pul-vē-riz) v. (pul-ver-ized, pul-ver-iz-ing) 1. to crush into powder. 2. to become powder. 3. to defeat thoroughly. pul-ver-i-za-tion (pul-vē-ri-zay-shōn) n.

pu-ma n. a large American animal of the cat family, a cougar.

pum-ice (pum-ich) n. a light porous kind of lava used for rubbing stones from the skin or as powder for polishing things.

pum-ice stone (pum-i-ki stone), pumice; a piece of this.

pum-ic-ine (pum-ik-i-ne) v. (pum-ic-ine-d, pum-ic-ine-d) to strike repeatedly, especially with the fist(s).

pump (pump) n. a machine or device for forcing liquid, air, or gas into or out of something. pump v. 1. to raise or move or inflate by means of a pump. 2. to use a pump. 3. to empty by using a pump, pump the ship dry. 4. to move vigorously up and down like a pump handle. 5. to pour or cause to pour forth as if by pumping. 6. to question (a person) persistently to obtain information. □ pump gun, a rifle or shotgun with pump action.

pump priming stimulation of the economy by increasing public spending.

pump n. a light shoe worn for dancing etc.

pump-ac-tion (pump-āk-shōn) adj. of a rifle or shotgun that ejects a spent cartridge and loads a new cartridge by manual force.

pum-per (pum-per) n. 1. a small, round, dark round orange-colored fruit of a trailing vine, used as a vegetable and as a filling for pies.

punch (pun) n. a humorous use of a word to suggest another that sounds the same.

punch v. (punned, punning) to make a pun. punster n.

punch (punch) v. 1. to strike with the fist. 2. to herd, cow punching. punch n. 1. a blow with the fist. 2. (slang) vigor, effective force, a speech with plenty of punch in it. puncher n. □ punching bag, a suspended ball or bag that can be punched, as a form of exercise. punch line, words that give the point of a joke or story.

punch n. a device for making holes in metal or leather, or for stamping a design on material. punch v. to perforate with a punch, to make (a hole etc.) with a punch. □ punch or punched card, a perforated card used to feed information into a machine, such as a computer.

punch press, a machine for cutting, drawing, or shaping material under pressure. punch or punched tape, perforated paper tape used to feed information into a machine, such as a computer.

punch n. a drink made of wine or spirits mixed with fruit juices etc. □ punch bowl, a bowl in which this is mixed.

punch-drunk (punch-drungk) adj. 1. stupefied through being severely or repeatedly punched. 2. (informal) dazed or bewildered.

punch-er n. a cask to hold liquids.

punch (punch) adj. (informal) 1. punch-drunk. 2. (of writing style) forceful.

punc-ti-lious (pungk-til-i-us) adj. 1. careful to the point of ceremony or honor. 2. care in observing etiquette.

punc-ti-lious-ness n.

punc-tual (pungk-choo-al) adj. arriving or doing things at the appointed time, neither early nor late. punc-tu-al-ly adv. punc-tu-al ity (pungk-choo-al-ī-te) n.

punc-tu-late (pungk-choo-āt) v. (punc-tu-āt-ed, punc-tu-āt-ing) 1. to insert punctuation marks in. 2. to interrupt at intervals, her speech was punctuated with.
cheers. 3. to emphasize, punctuated his remarks by pounding the desk.

punctu•a•tion (pungk-choo-ay-shŏn) n. the art or practice of punctuating, the marks used for this. □ punctuation mark, any of the marks (period, comma, question mark, etc.) used in written or printed material to separate sentences etc. and to make the meaning clear.

puncture (pungk-chūr) n. a small hole made by something sharp. my left rear tire has a puncture. puncture v. (punctured, punctur•ing) 1. to make a puncture in, to suffer a puncture. 2. to reduce the pride or confidence of, punctured his conceit.

pun•dit (pun-dit) n. a person who is an authority on a subject.

pun•gent (pun-jent) adj. 1. having a strong sharp taste or smell. 2. (of remarks) penetrating, biting. pun•gent•ly adv. pun•gen•cy (pun-jen-see) n.

pun•ish (pun-ish) v. 1. to cause (an offender) to suffer for his offense. 2. to inflict a punishment for, vandalism should be severely punished. 3. to treat roughly, to test severely, the race was run at a punishing pace.

pun•ish•a•ble (pun-i-shä-bēl) adj. liable to be punished, especially by law, punishable offenses.

pun•ish•ment (pun-ish•ment) n. 1. punishing, being punished. 2. that which an offender is made to suffer because of his wrongdoing, let the punishment fit the crime.

pu•ni•tive (pyoo-nee-tiv) adj. inflicting or intended to inflict punishment.

punk (pungk) n. 1. (slang) a worthless person, a young ruffian. 2. (slang) an inexperienced or insignificant young person. 3. a devotee of punk rock. punk adj. 1. (slang) worthless. 2. of punk rock or its devotees. □ punk rock, a type of pop music involving outrage and shock effects in music, behavior, and dress.

punk (pungk) n. 1. rotten wood used as tinder. 2. a stick-shaped substance that smolders when lit.

punt (punt) n. a flat-bottomed boat propelled by thrusting a long pole against the bottom of a river. punt v. 1. to propel (a punt) with a pole in this way. 2. to carry or travel in a punt. punt•er1 n.

punt v. to kick (a football) after it has dropped from the hands and before it touches the ground. punt n. a kick of this kind. punt•er2 n.

pun•ny (pyoo-nee) adj. (-ni•er, -ni•est) undersized, feeble. pu•ni•ly adv. pu•ni•ness n.

pup (pup) n. 1. a young dog. 2. a young wolf, rat, or seal. pup v. (pupped, pup•ped) to give birth to a pup or pups. □ pup tent, a small tent of simple design.

pu•pa (pyoo-pā) n. (pl. -pae, pr. -pee, -pas) a chrysalis. pu•pal adj.

pu•pill (pyoo-pil) n. a person who is taught by another.

pupil n. an opening in the center of the iris of the eye, through which light passes to the retina.

pup•pet (pur•pet-it) n. 1. a kind of doll that can be made to move by various means as an entertainment. 2. a person or group whose actions are entirely controlled by another. □ puppet government, a government that appears to be autonomous but is controlled by another group or power. puppet show, an entertainment using puppets.

pu•pet•eer (pur•pē-er) n. a person who handles puppets or marionettes.

pu•py (pur•pee) n. (pl. -pi•les) a young dog.

puppy love, immature romantic affection.

pur•blind (pur-blind) adj. 1. partly blind, dimsighted. 2. mentally obtuse or slow.

pur•chase (pur-chās) v. (pur-chased, pur-chas•ing) to buy. purchase n. 1. buying. 2. something bought. 3. a firm hold to pull or raise something or prevent it from slipping, leverage. pur•chas•er n.

pur•dah (pur-dā) n. 1. the system in Muslim or Hindu communities of keeping women from the sight of men or strangers. 2. (in India etc.) a veil or curtain, especially one used in this system.

pure (pur) adj. (pur•er, pur•est) 1. not mixed with any other substance, free from impurities. 2. mere, nothing but, pure nonsense. 3. free from evil or sin. 4. chaste. 5. dealing with theory only, not with practical applications, pure mathematics. pur•ness n.

pure-blood•ed (pyoor-blood-ed) adj. pure-bred.

pure•bred (pyoor-bred) adj. (of an animal) of unmixed descent.

pur•ée, pu•re•e (pyoor-ray) n. pulped fruit or vegetables etc. cooked, and passed through a sieve or otherwise reduced to a uniform mass. purée v. (pur•réed, pur•réed•ing) to make into purée.

pur•ly (pyoor-lee) adv. 1. in a pure way. 2. entirely, only, came purely out of interest.

pur•ga•tive (pur-gā-tiv) n. a strong laxative. purgative adj.

pur•ga•to•ry (pur-gā-tohr-ee) n. 1. (in Roman Catholic belief) a place or condition in which souls undergo purification by temporary punishment. 2. a place or purge (purj) v. (purged, purging) 1. to cause emptying of the bowels of (a person) by means of a purgative. 2. to rid of people or things considered undesirable or harmful. 3. to atone for (an offense, especially contempt of court).

purge n. purging, ridding of undesirable things etc. pur-ga-tion (pur-gā-shōn) n.

Pu-rim (poor-im) n. a Jewish festival commemorating the defeat of Haman's plot to destroy the Jews in ancient Persia.

pu-rine (pyoor-ēn) n. 1. a white crystalline base forming uric acid on oxidation.

*pur-*ist (pyoor-ist) n. a stickler for correctness. *pur-*ist'lic adj. *pur-*ism n.

Pu-ril-tan (pyoor-i-tān) n. 1. a member of the party of English Protestants in the 16th and 17th centuries who wanted simpler forms of church ceremony and strictness and gravity in behavior. 2. puritan, a person who is extremely strict in morals and who looks upon some kinds of fun and pleasure as sinful.

*pur-*i*tan-*i*cal (pyoor-i-tān-i-kāl) adj.

pur-ri-ty (pyoor-i-tee) n. cleanness, freedom from physical or moral pollution, pureness.

*pur*1 (purjl n. a knitting stitch that produces a ridge toward the knitter. pur v. to make this stitch.

*pur*2 v. (of a brook etc.) to flow with a swirling motion and babbling sound.

pur n. this motion or sound.

*pur-lieu (pur-loo, purl-yoo) n. (pl. -lieus) a suburb, an outlying district.

*pur-lōn (pur-lōn) v. (formal or humorous use) to steal.

*pur-ple (pur-pēl) n. a color obtained by mixing red and blue. purple adj. of this color.

purple v. (pur-pled, pur-pling) to make or become purple. born to the purple, (old use) born in a reigning family; born into an aristocratic or influential family. Purple Heart, a U.S. decoration for members of the armed forces wounded in action.

purple martin, a large American swallow with blue-black feathers. purple passage, a passage of purple prose. purple prose, very ornate writing in a literary work.

*pur-plish (pur-plish) adj. rather purple.

*pur-port (pur-pohrt) n. the meaning or intention of something said or written.

purport (pur-pohrt) v. to pretend, to be intended to seem, the letter purports to come from you.

*pur-*port’ed*ly* adv.

*pur-pose (pur-pōs) n. 1. an intended result, something for which effort is being made, this will serve our purpose. 2. intention to act, determination. *pur-*pose v. (pur-posed, pur-poz-ing) to intend.

*pur-*pose*fully* adv. *pur-*pose*ful*ly* adv. *pur-*pose*ful*ness* n.

*pur-*pose*less* (pur-pōz-lis) adj. without a purpose.

*pur-*pose*ly* (pur-pōz-lee) adv. on purpose, intentionally.

pur (pur) v. 1. (of a cat etc.) to make the low vibrant sound that a cat makes when pleased. 2. (of machinery etc.) to make a similar sound. pur n. a purring sound.

*pur-se (purs) n. 1. a small pouch of leather etc. for carrying money. 2. a handbag. 3. money, funds. 4. a sum of money as a present or prize. purse v. (pursed, pur-sing) to pucker, pursing her lips.

hold the purse strings, to have control of expenditure.

*purs-er (pur-sēr) n. a ship's officer in charge of accounts, especially on a passenger ship.

*purs-lane (purs-layn) n. a low trailing succulent herb sometimes used in salads.

*pur-*su-ance (pur-soo-āns) n. performance or carrying out of something, in pursuance of my duties.

*pur-*su-ant (pur-soo-ānt) adj. pursuant to, in accordance with, according to.

*pur-sue (purs) v. (pur-sued, pur-suing) 1. to chase in order to catch or kill. 2. to afflict continually, was pursued by misfortunes. 3. to continue, to proceed along, we pursued our course. 4. to engage in, pursuing her hobby. 5. to strive for. *pur-su*er n.

*pur-suit (purs-soot) n. 1. pursuing, in pursuit of the fox. 2. an activity, something at which one works or gives one's time, stamp collecting and similar pursuits.

pu-ru-lent (pyoor-u-lent) adj. containing or consisting of pus, discharging pus.

pu-ru-lence n.

*pur-vey (pyoor-vay) v. (pur-veyed, pur-vey-ing) to supply (articles of food) as a business. *pur-vey or n.

*pur-view (pur-vyoo) n. 1. scope, intention, or range, especially of a particular law, document, scheme, etc. 2. range of physical or mental vision.

pus (pus) n. thick yellowish matter produced from inflamed or infected tissue.

push (puush) v. 1. to exert force upon (a thing) so as to move it away from oneself or from the source of the force; push one’s way, go forward by pushing. 2. to thrust or cause to thrust outward. 3. to extend by effort, the frontier was pushed farther north. 4. to make a vigorous effort in order to succeed or to surpass others. 5. to press (a person) to do something, to put a strain on the abilities or tolerance of, don’t push him for payment; pushed to the wall, brought to insolvency. 6. to urge the use or adoption of (goods or ideas etc.), as by advertisement. 7. (slang) to sell (drugs) illegally. push n. 1. the act of pushing, the force exerted by this. 2. a vigorous effort, a military attack made in order to advance. 3. enterprise, self-assertion, determination to get on.

Push for, to have barely enough of, I’m pushed for time. push around, to treat contemptuously and unfairly; to bully. push broom, a long-handled wide broom used for sweeping. push button, a button to be pushed to operate an electrical circuit etc. push off, (slang) to go away. push one’s luck, to take undue risks.

push-button (push-button) adj. operated automatically by pressing a button.
push-cart (push-kart) n. a handcart pushed by a street vendor.
push-er (push-er) n. 1. a person or thing that pushes. 2. (slang) a seller of illegal drugs.
push-ing (push-ing) adj. 1. self-assertive, determined to get on. 2. having nearly reached a certain age, pushing forty.
push-over (push-over) n. 1. an opponent or difficulty that is easily overcome. 2. a person who is easily persuaded, convinced, etc.
push-up (push-up) n. an exercise in which a person lies face downward and presses down on his hands so that the shoulders and trunk are raised.
push-y (pushy) adj. (pushy-er, pushy-est) unpleasantly presuming and self-assertive.
pu-si-lan-i-mous (pyoo-si-lan-im-us) adj. timid, cowardly.
pu-sil-la-ni-mi-ty (pyoo-si-lay-nim-i-tee) n. puss1 (puus) n. a cat.
puss2 n. (slang) a face.
puss-y1 (puus-ee) n. (pl. -ies) (children’s use) a cat. pussy willow, a willow with furry catkins.
pus-sy-2 (puus-ee) adj. (sissy, sissy-est) full of or like pus.
puss-y-cat (puus-ee-kat) adj. 1. a kitten or cat. 2. (informal) a sweet person.
puss-y-foot (puus-ee-fuut) v. 1. to move stealthily. 2. to act cautiously, to avoid committing oneself.

put (put) v. (put, put-ting) 1. to move (a thing) to a specified place, to cause to occupy a certain place or position. 2. to cause to be in a certain state or relationship, put the machine out of action; put her at her ease. 3. to subject, put it to the test. 4. to estimate, I put the cost at $400. 5. to express or state, put it tactfully. 6. to impose as a tax etc. 7. to stake (money) in a bet. 8. to place as an investment, put his money into land. 9. to lay (blame) on. 10. (of ships) to proceed, put into harbor. put n. 1. a throw of the shot or weight. 2. an option to sell a specified amount of stock at a fixed price within a given period of time.

put down, to suppress by force or authority; to snub; to enter (a person’s name) as one who will subscribe; to reckon or consider, put him down as a fool; to attribute, put it down to nervousness; (slang) to humiliate or speak ill of. put in, to enter (a claim); to spend (time) working. put in for, to apply for. put it on, (informal) to pretend an emotion. put off, to postpone; to postpone an engagement with (a person); to make excuses and try to avoid; to dissuade, to repel, the smell puts me off. put on, to stage (a play etc.); to increase, putting on weight; to cause to operate; to mislead deliberately, to fool; put someone on, (informal) mislead him by pretending the truth of that which is really false; to pretend (an emotion etc.). put one’s feet up, to take a rest. put one’s foot down, to insist on something firmly. put one’s foot in it or in one’s mouth, to make a blunder. put out, to disconnect or annoy or inconvenience (a person); to extinguish (a light or fire); to dislocate (a joint); (in baseball) to cause (a base runner) to be out. put over, to put across; put something over on a person, to deceive him. put pen to paper, to start writing. put the clock back, to go back to a past age or an out-of-date practice. put the shot or weight, to hurl it as an athletic exercise. put through, to complete (a business transaction) successfully; to connect by telephone; to cause to undergo, put it through severe tests. put two and two together, to draw a conclusion from the facts one knows.
put up, to construct or build; to raise the price of; to provide or contribute, the firm will put up the money; to offer for sale; to give or receive accommodation; to pack up into a parcel or receptacle; to attempt or offer, they put up no resistance. put upon, to impose on. put up to, to instigate (a person) in, who put him up to it? put up with, to endure, to tolerate.

putative (pyoo-ta-tiv) adj. reputed, supposed, his putative father.

put-down (put-down) n. (slang) a snub.

put-on (put-on) n. a spoof, a parody, something intended to mislead. put-on adj. pretended, deliberately misleading.

put-out (put-out) n. (in baseball) a play in which a base runner is caused to be out.

pyrotechnic (pyoo-tre-fi) adj. firework, pyrotechnical.

putrefy (pyoo-tre-fi), putrify (pyoo-tre-fi) v. to putrefy, to decay or cause to decay. putrefaction (pyoo-trak-shon) n. putrefactive (pyoo-trak-tiv) adj.

putrescent (pyoo-tres-cent) adj. decaying, rotting. putrescence n.

pyridine (pyoo-trid-i-tee) n. n.

pyridine (pyoo-trid-i-tee) n. n.

pyridine (pyoo-trid-i-tee) n. n.

pyriform (pyoo-tre-form) adj. in the form of a pear.

pyruvic (pi-rue-vek) adj. of pyruvic acid.

pure (pyor) adj. 1. free from any foreign matter; 2. with complete purity.

purée (pyor-ee) n. a food prepared by cooking in a liquid and pureeing until smooth.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowel). purge (pyorj) n. a quantity of such material or the act of purging.

purge (pyorj) v. to expel from the body (especially by the bowl.
pyro·tech·nics (pi-rō-tek-niks) n. 1. a firework display. 2. a display of brilliant wit etc.

Pyrrhic (pir-ik) victory a victory gained at too great a cost, like that of Pyrrhus (king of Epirus) over the Romans in 279 B.C.

Pythagorean theorem, the theorem stating that a square erected on the hypotenuse of a right triangle is equal to the sum of squares erected on the other two sides.

Pythagorean theorem, the theorem stating that a square erected on the hypotenuse of a right triangle is equal to the sum of squares erected on the other two sides.

Pytho·nean (pi-thag-ō-nee-an) adj. of Pythagoras (6th century B.C.), philosopher and mathematician of Samos.

python (pi-thon) n. a large snake that crushes its prey.

pyx (piks) n. a vessel in which bread consecrated for Holy Communion is kept.
Q, q (kyoo) (pl. Qs, Q’s, q’s) the seventeenth letter of the alphabet.
Q abbr. 1. quarto. 2. Quebec. 3. Queen. 4. question.
q. abbr. 1. quart(s). 2. quarto. 3. queen. 4. query. 5. question. 6. quire.
Qa·tar (gah-tahr) a country in the Middle East on the Arabian Gulf.
Qa·ta·ri (gah-tahr-ee) n. a native of Qatar.
Q.E.D. abbr. which was the thing that had to be proved. ▷ From the Latin quod erat demonstrandum.
Qi·a·na (ki-ah-nä, -an-ä) n. (trademark) a silky synthetic fiber or fabric.
QM abbr. Quartermaster.
QMC abbr. Quartermaster Corps.
QMg abbr. Quartermaster General.
qq. v. abbr. which (things) see. ▷ From the Latin quae vide.
qr. abbr. 1. quarter. 2. quire.
qt. abbr. quart(s).
q.t. (kyoo-tee) n. on the q.t., (slang) on the quiet.
qto. abbr. quarto.
qty. abbr. quantity.
qu. abbr. question.
qua (kway, kwah) adv. in the capacity or character of, putting his duty qua citizen above other loyalties; art qua art.
quack1 (kwak) n. the harsh cry of a duck.
quack v. to utter this sound.
quack2 n. a person who falsely claims to have medical skill or to have remedies that will cure diseases etc. quack2 er-y n. quack‘ish adj.
quad1 (kwod) n. (informal) a quadrangle.
quad2 n. (informal) one of a set of quadruplets.
quad3 adj. (informal) quadraphonic.
quad. abbr. quadrant.
Quad·ra·ges·i·ma (kwod-rä-jes-i-mä) n. the first Sunday in Lent.
quad·ran·gle (kwod-rang-gël) n. 1. a geometric figure with four corners. 2. a four-sided court bordered by large buildings.
quad·ran·gu·lar (kwod-rang-gyü-lär) adj.
quad·rant (kwod-ránt) n. 1. a quarter of a circle or of its circumference. 2. an instrument with an arc of 90° marked off in degrees, for measuring angles. 3. any one of the four parts of an area divided by perpendicular lines.
quad·ra·phon·ic (kwo-drä-fon-ik) adj. (of sound reproduction) using four transmission channels. quadraphonic n. quadraphonic transmission. quad·ra·phon·ic·al·ly adv.
quad·rat·ic (kwo-drat-ik) adj. involving the second and no higher power of an unknown quantity or variable. ▷ quad·ra·tiv·ic, quad·ra·tiv·ality adj.
quad·rat·ics (kwo-drat-iks) n. the branch of algebra dealing with quadratic equations.
quad·ren·ni·al (kwo-dren-i-äl) adj. 1. lasting for four years. 2. happening every fourth year.
quad·ren·ni·um (kwo-dren-i-üm) n. (pl. quad·ren·ni·ums, quad·ren·ni·a, pr. kwo-dren-i-ä) a period of four years.
quad·ri·cen·ten·ni·al (kwod-ri-sen-të-nël) n. a four-hundredth anniversary. quadricentennial adj.
quad·ri·lat·er·al (kwod-ri-lat-ë-rål) n. a geometric figure with four sides. quadri·lat·eral adj. having four sides.
quad·ri·dril·le·le (kwo-dril-yön) n. a million billions.
quad·ri·par·ti·tie (kwod-ri-pahr-tee) adj. 1. consisting of four parts. 2. shared by four participants, a quadripartite agreement.
quad·ri·ple·gy·a (kwod-ri-plee-ji-ä) n. paralysis of both arms and both legs.
quad·ri·ple·g·ic adj. & n.
quad·riv·i·um (kwo-driv-i-üm) n. a medieval university course of arithmetic, geometry, astronomy, and music.
quad·roon (kwo-droon) n. an offspring of a mulatto and a white.
quad·ru·ped (kwod-rü-ped) n. a four-footed animal. quad·ru·pe·dal (kwo-droo-pë-dal) adj.
quad·ru·pie·e (kwo-droo-pël, -drup-ël) adj. 1. consisting of four parts, involving four... people or groups, a quadruplet alliance. 2. four times as much as, shall need quadruple that number of lights. quadruple v. (qua-drup-led, qua-drup-ling) to multiply or become multiplied by four; costs had quadrupled, had increased to four times the original amount. quadruple n. a number or amount four times greater than another.

quad-ru-plet (kwod-roo-plit) n. one of four children born at a birth.

quad-ru-pli-cate (kwo-droo-pliti-kit) n. in quadruplicate, in four exactly similar examples or copies. quadrupli-cation (kwo-droo-pli-kay-shon) n.

quaaff (kwahf) v. to drink (a thing) in long drafts. quaaff n. a long draft.

qua-g-mire (kwag-mir) n. a bog or marsh. qua-hog, qua-haug (kwah-hog) n. an edible round clam of the Atlantic coast.

qua-li-l (kwayl) n. (pl. quall, qualls) a bird related to the partridge, used as food.

qua-li-ly adv. qua-liness n.

qua-kle (kwayk) v. (qua-ked, qua-kling) to shake or tremble from unsteadiness, to shake with fear. quake n. 1. a quaking movement. 2. (informal) an earthquake. ☐ quaking aspen, a tree of northern North America having small shimmering leaves that flutter in the slightest breeze.

qua-ker (kwayk-er) n. a member of the Society of Friends, a Christian sect opposed to war and formerly noted for simplicity of dress and of living. ☐ Quaker meeting, a religious meeting of Friends, silent until a member is moved to speak.

qua-lifi-ca-tion (kwol-lif-i-kay-shon) n. 1. qualifying, being qualified. 2. a thing that qualifies a person to do something or to have a certain right etc. 3. something that limits or restricts a meaning, this statement needs certain qualifications.

qua-lif-y (kwol-lif) v. (qua-lifed, qua-lifying) 1. to make or become competent or eligible or legally entitled to do something. 2. to make (a statement etc.) less general or extreme, to limit its meaning, “in all cases” needs to be qualified as “in all known cases”; gave it only qualified approval, not complete approval. 3. to describe, to attribute some quality to, they qualified him as ambitious; adjectives qualify nouns. qua-lier n.

qua-lif-a-tive (kwo-lif-ay-tiv) adj. of or concerned with quality, qualitative analysis. quai-lif-a-tive-ly adv.

qua-ly (kwol-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a degree or level of excellence, goods of high quality. 2. general excellence, it has quality. 3. a characteristic, something that is special in a person or thing, has the quality of inspiring confidence. ☐ quality control, a system that maintains a certain standard of quality in a process or product.

qua-lim (kwa-him) n. 1. a misgiving, a pang of conscience. 2. a sudden feeling of sickness or faintness.

qua-ni-da-ry (kwan-da-rec) n. (pl. -ries) a state of perplexity, a difficult situation. qua-ta see quantum.

qua-ti-fi-a-ble (kwan-tee-fi-ah-bel) adj. able to be quantified.

qua-ti-fy (kwan-tee-fi) v. (qua-ti-fied, qua-ti-fy-ing) to express as a quantity.

qua-ti-tive (kwan-tee-tiv) adj. of or concerned with quantity, quantitative analysis. qua-ti-tive-ly adv.

qua-ti-ty (kwan-tee-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. an amount or number of things, a specified or considerable amount or number; it is found in quantity or in quantities, in large amounts. 2. ability to be measured through having size or weight or amount or number. 3. a thing that has this ability, a figure or symbol representing it.

qua-tize (kwan-tiz) v. (qua-tized, qua-tizing) 1. to form into quanta. 2. to apply quantum mechanics to.

qua-ti-za-tion (kwan-tay-zyay-shon) n.

qua-tum (kwan-tum) n. (pl. -ta, pr. -tah) 1. the amount required or desired. 2. (in physics) a unit quantity of energy proportional to frequency of radiation. ☐ quantum theory, a theory of physics based on the assumption that energy exists in indivisible units.

qua-rantel (kwar-ANG-teen) n. 1. isolation imposed on people or animals that may have been exposed to an infectious or contagious disease which they could spread to others. 2. the period of this isolation. quarantine v. (qua-rantel, qua-rantel-ing) to put into quarantine.

qua-rk (kwork) n. one of three components of elementary particles assumed to exist as the basic units of all matter.

qua-rrel (kwar-el) n. 1. a violent disagreement, breaking of friendly relations. 2. a cause for complaint against a person or his actions, we have no quarrel with him. quarrel v. (qua-rarelled, qua-rrel-ling) 1. to engage in a quarrel, to break off friendly relations. 2. to disagree with or complain about, we are not quarreling with this decision. qua-rrel-er n.
quar·rel·some (kwor-əl-səm) adj. liable to quarrel with people.
quar·ry1 (kwor-ə) n. (pl. -ries) 1. an intended prey or victim being hunted. 2. something that is sought or pursued.
quar·ry2 n. an open excavation from which stone or slate etc. is obtained. quarry v. (quar·ried, quar·ry·ing) to obtain (stone etc.) from a quarry.
quart (kwart) n. a measure of capacity for liquids, two pints or a quarter of a gallon.
quar·ter (kwor·tər) n. 1. one of the four equal parts into which a thing is divided. 2. a quarter of a dollar, twenty-five cents. 3. one of four parts of an animal’s or bird’s carcass, each including a leg (or wing). 4. a fourth part of a calendar year, three months. 5. a fourth part of a lunar month. 6. a point of time fifteen minutes before or after every hour. 7. a direction or point of the compass, a district, a division of a town. 8. a person or group, especially regarded as a possible source of help or information etc., got no sympathy from that quarter. 9. mercy toward an enemy or opponent, gave no quarter. 10. quarters, lodgings, accommodation; married quarters, accommodation for married people. quarter v. 1. to divide into quarters. 2. to put (soldiers etc.) into lodgings. 3. (of a dog etc.) to search (ground) in every direction. □ quarter binding, a bookbinding with narrow leather along the back and none at the corners. quarter horse, a strong horse of a breed able to run a quarter mile at high speed. quarter note, a musical note lasting one-quarter of the time of a full note. quarter rest, a musical pause lasting as long as a quarter note. quarter section, a tract of land half a mile square, containing 160 acres or one quarter of a square mile.
quar·ter·back (kwor·tər-bæk) n. the member of a football team who calls the signals. quarterback v. 1. to direct the offense of (a football team). 2. (informal) to lead or manage.
quar·ter·deck (kwor·tər-dek) n. the part of the upper deck of a ship nearest the stern, usually reserved for the ship's officers.
quar·ter·fi·nal (kwor·tər-fə-nəl) n. one of the matches or rounds preceding a semifinal.
quar·ter·ly (kwor·tər-ly) adj. produced or occurring once in every quarter of a year, a quarterly dividend. quarterly n. (pl. -lies) a quarterly periodical.
quar·ter·mas·ter (kwor·tər-mas·tər) n. 1. a military officer in charge of stores and assigning quarters etc. 2. a naval petty officer in charge of steering and signals etc. □ Quartermaster Corps, the branch of the U.S. Army that deals with supplies. Quartermaster General, the general who commands the Quartermaster Corps.
quar·ter·staff (kwor·tər-staf) n. a stout pole six to eight feet long formerly used as a weapon.
quar·tet (kwor·tet) n. 1. a group of four instruments or voices, a musical composition for these. 2. a set of four.
quar·to (kwor·toh) n. (pl. -tos) 1. the page size (about 9 x 12 inches) given by folding a sheet of paper twice. 2. a book made with pages so folded and cut.
quartz (kworts) n. a kind of hard mineral occurring in various forms. □ quartz crystal, a thin section of quartz precisely ground to vibrate at a certain speed. quartz glass, silica glass, highly transparent to ultraviolet light. quartz lamp, a quartz tube containing mercury vapor and transmitting ultraviolet light. quartz·ite (kworts·it) n. a compact granular quartz rock.
qua·sar (kwa·sar) n. a starlike object that is the source of intense electromagnetic radiation. □ From quas(is)stellar ra·dio source.
quash (kwosh) v. 1. to annul, to reject (by legal authority) as not valid, quashed the conviction. 2. to suppress or crush (a rebellion etc.). □ Do not confuse quash with squash.
qua·si (kwah·zī) adj. seeming to be, a quasi science. quasi adv. seemingly, quasi serious.
qua·si·prefix seeming to be something but not really so, as in a quasiscientific explanation.
quar·ter·cen·te·nar·y (kwah·tər-SEN·te·ner·ee) n. a four-hundredth anniversary. Quar·ter·nary n. the Quaternary period.
qua·t·rain (kwah·trayn) n. a stanza of four lines.
quar·re·foil (kat·ər·foil) n. 1. a representation of a flower having four petals. 2. an architectural ornament having four lobes.
qua·ver (kwah·vər) v. 1. to tremble, to vibrate. 2. to speak in a trembling voice. quaver n. 1. a quavering sound. 2. a trill.
quay (kee) n. a landing place, usually built of stone or steel, alongside which ships can be tied up for loading and unloading. quay·side (kee·srd, kā·-) n. land forming or beside a quay.
Que. abbr. Quebec.
quea·sy (kwē·ze) adj. (si·er, -si·est) 1. feeling slightly sick. 2. having a Quebec (kwí-bék) a province of Canada. Quebecois (kwé-bék-wáz) n. (pl. -ois) a native or inhabitant of Quebec.

queen (kwén) n. 1. a woman who is the supreme ruler of an independent country by right of succession to the throne. 2. a king's wife. 3. a woman or place or thing regarded as supreme in some way, Venice, the queen of the Adriatic. 4. a playing card bearing a picture of a queen. 5. a piece in chess. 6. a perfect fertile female of a bee or ant or similar insect.

queen v. to convert (a pawn in chess) to a queen when it reaches the opponent's end of the board, to be converted in this way. □ Queen Anne's lace, the wild carrot. queen bee, a fully developed fertile female bee. queen consort, a reigning king's wife. queen mother, a dowager queen who is the mother of a reigning king or queen. queen's pawn, knight, bishop, etc., the pieces in chess placed nearest the queen at the start.

queen'-ly (kwén-lee) adj. like a queen in appearance or manner. queen-li*ness n.

queen-size (kwén-siz) adj. (also queen-sized) (of a bed etc.) having dimensions of about five feet by seven feet.

queer (kwēr) adj. 1. strange, odd, eccentric. 2. causing one to feel suspicious, of questionable character. 3. slightly ill or faint, felt queer. queer v. to spoil.

queer'ly adv. queer'ness n. □ queer as a three-dollar bill, (slang) counterfeit; strange, odd.

quell (kwél) v. to suppress, to reduce to submission, quelled the rebellion.

quench (kwénch) v. 1. to extinguish (a fire or flame). 2. to satisfy (one's thirst) by drinking something. 3. to cool (a heated thing) by water. quench'er n. quench'-a-ble adj. quench-less adj.

quer'-ous (kwé-r-ú-lús) adj. complaining peevishly. quer'-ous-ly adv.

ques'tion (kwés-ch'n) n. 1. a question. 2. a question mark. query v. (que'-ried, que'-ry-ing) to ask a question or express doubt about.

quest (kwést) n. the act of seeking something, a search.

ques'tion (kwés-ch'n) n. 1. a sentence requesting information or an answer. 2. something being discussed or for discussion, a problem requiring solution. 3. the raising of doubt, whether we shall win is open to question. question v. 1. to ask questions of (a person). 2. to express doubt about. ques'tion·er n. □ In question, being referred to or discussed; being disputed, his honesty is not in question. It is a question of, this is what is required or involved; it is only a question of time, it will happen sooner or later. no question of, no possibility of. out of the question, completely impracticable. question mark, the punctuation mark ? placed after a question.

ques'tion·a·ble (kwés-ch'n-bél) adj. open to doubt or suspicion, not certainly true or advisable or honest.

ques'tion·a·ble·ly adv. ques'tion·a·ble·ness n.

ques'tion·a·bil·i*ty (kwés-ch'n-ba-lí-te) n.

ques'tion·né·ral (kwés-ch'n-nor) n. a list of questions seeking information about people's opinions or customs etc., especially for use in a survey.

quet·zal (ket-sahl) n. (pl. -zals, -za·les, pr. -sah-les) a tropical American bird, the male of which has long green tail feathers.

queue (kyou) n. 1. a pigtail. 2. a line or series of people awaiting their turn for something. queue v. (queue-d, queu-ing) to wait in a queue, queuing up.

Que·zón (ka·zón) City the capital of the Philippines.

qui·ble (kwib·él) n. a petty objection.

que·bble v. (qui·bled, qui·bling) to make petty objections.

qui·le (ki·sh) n. an open unsweetened pastry shell with a rich custard filling, often flavored with bacon, mushrooms, etc.

quick (kwik) adj. 1. taking only a short time to do something or to be done. 2. able to notice or learn or think quickly. 3. (of temper) easily aroused. 4. (old use) alive, the quick and the dead. quick n. the sensitive flesh below the nails; be cut to the quick, to have one's feelings deeply hurt. quick adv. quickly, quick-drying.

quick'ly adv. quick'ness n. □ quick bread, any bread leavened with baking powder, soda, etc. that can be baked as soon as it is mixed. quick time, a military marching pace of 120 steps to the minute. quick trick, a sure bridge trick that can be taken in the first or second round of play.

quick·en (kwik·én) v. 1. to make or become quicker. 2. to stimulate, to make or become livelier, our interest quickened. 3. to reach a stage in pregnancy (the quickening) when the fetus makes movements that can be felt by the mother.

quick·freeze (kwik·freez) v. (quick·froz, quick·froz·en, quick·freez·ing) to freeze (food) rapidly for storing, so that it keeps its natural qualities.

quick·le (kwik·le) n. (informal) something done or made quickly or hastily.

quicklime / kwɪlɪm = lime.1

quick-sand (kwɪk-sænd) n. an area of loose wet deep sand into which heavy objects will sink.

quick-sil-ver (kwɪk-sɪl-vər) n. mercury.

quick-step (kwɪk-step) n. a ballroom dance with quick steps, music for this.

quick-tem-pered (kwɪk-tem-pərd) adj. easily angered.

quick-wit-ted (kwɪk-wɪt-ɪd) adj. quick at understanding a situation or making jokes.

quid (kwɪd) n. a lump of tobacco for chewing.

quid pro quo (kwɪd prə kwɒ) a thing given in return for something. > Latin, = something for something.

qui-es-cent (kwɪ-ɪs-ənt) adj. inactive, quiet. qui-es-cence (kwɪ-ɪs-əns) n.

qui-es-cy (kwɪ-ɪs-ə-si) n.

qui-et (kwɪ-ɪt) adj. 1. with little or no sound, not loud or noisy. 2. with little or no movement. 3. free from disturbance or vigorous activity, peaceful. 4. silent, be quiet! 5. unobtrusive, done in a restrained manner, had a quiet laugh about it. 6. (of colors or dress etc.) subdued, not showy. qui-et-ness n.

qui-et-ly adv. qui-et-ness.

quill (kwɪl) n. 1. one of the large feathers on a bird’s wing or tail. 2. an old type of pen made from this, a quill pen. 3. one of a porcupine’s spines. 4. the hollow stem of a feather, a plectrum or other device made of this.

quilt (kwɪlt) n. a padded bed cover. quilt v. to line with padding and fix with crosslines of stitching. □ quilting bee, a social gathering at which women quilt.

quince (kwɪns) n. 1. a hard yellowish pear-shaped fruit used for making jam. 2. the tree bearing it.

quin-cent-enary (kwɪn-sɛnt-ər-ə) n. a five-hundredth anniversary. quin-centenary quin-nine (kwɪn-nɪn) n. a bitter medicinal drug used to treat malaria and in tonics.

□ quinine water, a soft drink tasting of quinine, often mixed with gin or vodka.

Quin-qua-ger-ia (kwɪn-kwa-ʒə-nə-ma) n. the Sunday before Lent (fifty days before Easter).

quin-que-nal (kwɪn-kwə-nəl) adj. 1. lasting for five years. 2. happening every fifth year.

quin-sy (kwɪn-zə) n. (old use) severe inflammation of the throat, often with an abscess on one of the tonsils.

quint (kwɪnt) n. (informal) one of a set of quintuplets.

quin-tes-sence (kwɪn-tes-əns) n. 1. an essence of a substance. 2. the essence or essential part of a theory or speech or condition etc. 3. a perfect example of a quality. quin-tes-sent (kwɪn-təs-sənt) adj.

quintet (kwɪnt-eɪt) n. 1. a group of five instruments or voices, a musical composition for these. 2. a set of five.

quin-til-lion (kwɪn-tɪl-ɪn) n. a billion billions.

quin-tu-ple (kwɪn-tu-pəl, -twp-əl) adj. 1. consisting of five parts, involving five people or groups. 2. five times as much.

quintuple v. (kwɪn-tu-plid, quin-tu-pling) to multiply or become multiplied by five.

quin-tu-plet (kwɪn-tu-plit, -twp-plit) n. one of five children born at one birth.

quip (kwɪp) n. a witty or sarcastic remark.

quip v. (quipped, quip-pling) to utter as a quip.

quire (kwɪr) n. twenty-four sheets of paper bound or collected as a unit.

quirk (kwɜrk) n. 1. a peculiarity of a person’s behavior. 2. a trick of fate.

quirt (kwɜrt) n. a short-handled riding whip with a braided leather lash.

quis-ling (kwɪs-lɪŋ) n. a traitor, especially one who collaborates with an enemy occupying his country. > Named after V. Quisling, a pro-Nazi Norwegian leader in World War II.

quit (kwɪt) v. (quit or quit-ted, quit-ting) 1. to give up or abandon (a task etc.), quit her job. (informal) to cease, quit grumbling. 3. to go away from, to leave, quit the premises. quit adj. rid (of an obligation), glad to be quit of it.

quit-claim (kwɪt-kleɪm) n. the renunciation of a right, especially to land.

quite adv. 1. completely, entirely, quite finished. 2. to some extent, somehow, what, quite a long time. 3. really, actually, it’s quite a change. □ quite a few, a considerable number. quite something, a remarkable thing.

Qui-to (kee-toh) the capital of Ecuador.

quits (kwɪts) adj. even with, on even terms as a result of retaliation or repayment.

□ call it quits, to acknowledge that things are now even, to agree to cease quarreling.

quit-ter (kwɪt-ər) n. (informal) a person who gives up too easily.

quiver v. to shake or vibrate with a slight rapid motion. quiver n. a quivering movement or sound.

qui vive (kee vev) on the qui vive, on the alert, watchful. ▷ French.

quix-ot-ic (kwik-sot-ik) adj. chivalrous and unselfish to an exaggerated extent.

quiz v. (quizzed, quizzing) to examine by questioning. □ quiz show, a radio or television program that tests the knowledge of participants.

quiz-mas-ter (kwiz-i-mas-ter) n. a person who asks the questions in a quiz show.

quiz-zi-cal (kwiz-i-kaal) adj. 1. done in a questioning way. 2. gently amused. quiz'zi-cal-ly adv. quiz'zi-cal-ness n.

quiz-zi-cal-i-ty (kwiz-i-kaal-i-tee) n.

quoin (koin, kwoin) n. 1. the external angle of a building. 2. the stone or brick forming this angle, the cornerstone. 3. a wedge for locking type, raising the level of a gun, keeping a barrel from rolling, etc.

quolt (kwoit) n. a ring of metal or rubber or rope thrown to encircle a peg in the game of quolts.

Quon-set (kwon-sit) hut (trademark) a prefabricated semicylindrical building made of corrugated metal.

quo-rum (kwoh-rüm) n. the minimum number of people that must be present at a meeting before its proceedings are to be regarded as valid.

quot. abbr. quotation.

quo-ta (kwoh-ta) n. 1. a fixed share that must be done or contributed or received. 2. the maximum number or amount of people or things that may be admitted, as to a country or institution, import quotas.

quot-a-ble (kwoh-ta-bel) adj. worth quoting.

quo-ta-tion (kwoh-tay-shen) n. 1. quoting, being quoted. 2. a passage quoted. 3. an amount stated as the current price of stocks or commodities. 4. a contractor's estimate of the cost of a piece of work to be done. □ quotation marks, marks of punctuation (either single ' ' or double " ") enclosing words quoted or used for other reasons of style.

quote (kwoht) v. (quoted, quoting) 1. to repeat or write out words from a book or speech, quote the Bible or from the Bible. 2. to mention in support of a statement, can you quote a recent example? 3. to state the price of (goods or services), to give a quotation or estimate. 4. (in dictation etc.) begin the quotation, open the quotation marks (see unquote).

quote n. (informal) 1. a quotation. 2. quotes, quotation marks.

quoth (kwohth) v. (old use) said.

quox-ti-an (kwox-ti-an) adj. 1. daily. 2. commonplace, trivial.

quo-tient (kwoh-shent) n. the result obtained when one amount is divided by another, as 3 in "12 ÷ 4 = 3."

q.v. abbr. which see (used as an indication that the reader should look at the reference given). ▷ From the Latin quod vide.

qy. abbr. query.
R, r (ahr) (pl. Rs, R's, r's) the eighteenth letter of the alphabet.

R. abbr. 1. rare. 2. rod(s). 3. roentgen(s).
4. (in baseball) run(s).

R. abbr. 1. radius. 2. railroad. 3. railway.
4. Republican. 5. right. 6. river. 7. road.

Ra symbol radium.

RA abbr. Regular Army.

R.A. abbr. Royal Academy.

Ra-bbet (rah-bbet) one of the two capitals of Morocco.

Ra-bbed (ra-bid) adj. 1. furious, fanatical, rabid hate; a rabid socialist. 2. affected with rabies. ra-b'bed-ly adv. ra-b'bed-ness n.

Ra-blies (ray-beez) n. a contagious fatal virus disease affecting dogs and similar animals, transmitted to man usually by the bite of an infected animal.

Ra-coon (ra-coon) n. (pl. -coons, -coon) a nocturnal animal of North America, with grayish-brown fur, a sharp snout, and a bushy tail.

race (rays) n. 1. a contest of speed in reaching a certain point or in doing or achieving something; a race against time, an effort to get something done before a certain time. 2. a strong fast current of water. 3. a channel for the balls in a ball bearing. rac'er n. race v. (raced, rac-ing) 1. to compete in a race, to have a race with. 2. to engage in horse racing, a racing man. 3. to move or cause to move or operate at full speed, raced his engine. □ racing form, an information sheet giving details about horse races.

the races, a series of races for horses or dogs at fixed times on a regular course.

race' n. 1. one of the great divisions of mankind with certain inherited physical characteristics in common (such as color of skin and hair, shape of eyes and nose). 2. a number of people related by common descent. 3. a genus or species or breed or variety of animals or plants; the race or the human race, mankind. □ race relations, relations between members of different races in the same country. race riot, an outbreak of violence arising from racial antagonism.

race-course (rays-kohrs) n. a racetrack.

race-horse (rays-hors) n. a horse bred or kept for racing.

rac-e-mee (ray-seem) n. flowers evenly spaced along a central stem, with the ones at the base opening first (as in lupines, hyacinths, etc.).

rac-e-mose (ras-i-mohs) adj. in the form of a raceme.

race-track (rays-trak) n. a track for horse or vehicle races.

race-way (rays-way) n. 1. a racetrack for harness racing. 2. a channel for water.

ra-cli-tis (ra-kli-tis) n. rickets. ra-cli-tic (ra-kli-tik) adj.

ra-cli-al (ray-shal) adj. of or based on race.

ra-cli-al-ly adv.

rack / radio

3. the theory that human abilities are determined by race. racist n.

rack1 (rak) n. 1. a framework, usually with bars or pegs, for holding things or for hanging things on. 2. a shelf or framework of bars for holding light luggage in a train or bus etc. 3. a bar or rail with teeth or cogs into which those of a wheel or gear etc. fit. 4. an instrument of torture on which people were tied and stretched. 5. a triangular structure for setting up balls in the game of pool. rack v. 1. to inflict great torment on, was racked with pain. 2. to stretch the joints of (a person) by force, especially with a rack. □rack and pinion, a mechanism producing motion by gearing or by matching teeth on a bar (rack) with teeth on a pinion. rack one's brains, to think hard about a problem. rack up, (informal) to score as in sports; to achieve.

rack2 n. destruction, go to rack and ruin.

rack-et1, rack-quet (rak-it) n. a stringed bat used in tennis and similar games.

rack-et2 n. 1. a din, a noisy fuss. 2. a business or other activity in which dishonest methods are used. racket v. to move about noisily, to engage in wild social activities, racketing about.

rack-ette1, rack-quet (rak-it) n. a person who runs or works in a racket or dishonest business. rack-ette-ering n.

rack-ette (rak-i-tee) n. a person who tells anecdotes, a good raconteur.

rack-quet see racket1.

rac-y (ray-see) adj. (rac-i-er, rac-ci-est) 1. spirited and vigorous in style, a racy description of his adventures. 2. risqué. racily adv. raciness n.

rad. abbr. 1. (in mathematics) radical. 2. radio. 3. radius.

ra*dar (ray-dahr) n. 1. a system for detecting the presence or position or movement etc. of objects by sending out short radio waves that they reflect. 2. apparatus used for this. □radar trap, an arrangement using radar to detect vehicles traveling faster than the speed limit.

ra*dar-scope (ray-dahr-skohp) n. the screen on which radio waves from a radar receiver are displayed.

ra*dial (ray-di-ål) adj. of rays or radii, having spikes or lines etc. that radiate from a central point. radial n. a radial tire. ra*dial-ly adv. □radial engine, an internal combustion engine with cylinders arranged along radii. radial tire, a tire strengthened with cords nearly at right angles to the center line of the tread.

ra*diant (ray-di-ånt) adj. 1. giving out rays of light. 2. looking very bright and happy. 3. transmitting heat by radiation, (of heat) transmitted in this way. ra*diant-ly adv. ra*dial-ly (ray-di-ånt-ly) n. ra*dian-cy (ray-di-ån-see) n. □radient energy, energy transmitted in the form of electromagnetic waves. radient heat, heat transmitted by radiation, not by conduction or convection.

ra*dial-ate (ray-di-åyt) n. (ra-di-*at- ed, ra-di-*at-ing) 1. to spread outward (especially in lines or rays) from a central point, to cause to do this. 2. to send out (light or heat etc.) in rays, to be sent out as radiation. 3. to give forth a feeling of, she radiated confidence.

ra*dial-*ti on (ray-di-åy-shôn) n. 1. radiating, being radiated. 2. sending out of the rays and atomic particles characteristic of radioactive substances, these rays and particles. □radiation sickness, illness caused by exposure to excessive radiation, with symptoms of nausea, vomiting, loss of hair and teeth, and damage to blood-forming tissue.

ra*dial-tor (ray-di-åy-tör) n. 1. an apparatus that radiates heat, especially a metal case through which steam or hot water circulates. 2. an engine-cooling apparatus in a motor vehicle or an aircraft.

ra*dial-cal (rad-i-kål) adj. 1. going to the root or foundation of something, fundamental. 2. drastic, thorough, radical changes or reforms. 3. desiring radical reforms, holding extremist views. 4. (in mathematics) of the root of a number or quantity. radical n. 1. a person desiring radical reforms or holding extremist views. 2. an element or atom, or group of these, normally forming part of a compound and remaining unaltered during the compound's ordinary chemical changes. 3. (in mathematics) a quantity forming or expressed as the root of another. rad-i-cal-ly adv. rad-i-cal-ness n. rad-i-calism n. □radical sign, (in mathematics) \( \sqrt{} \), \( \sqrt[3]{\cdot} \), \( \sqrt[4]{\cdot} \), etc. indicating that the square, cube, fourth etc. root of the number following is to be taken.

ra*dial-ize (rad-i-kål-iz) v. (rad-i-kål-ized, rad-i-kål-iz*ing) to make radical, especially in politics. rad-i-cal-i*zation (rad-i-kål-*iz*at-ion) n.

ra*dial-cle (rad-i-kël) n. an embryo root (as of a pea or bean).

ra-di-i see radius.

ra*di-o (ray-di-o) n. (pl. -di-os) 1. the process of sending and receiving messages etc. by electromagnetic waves without a connecting wire. 2. an apparatus for sending or receiving messages etc. in this way, a transmitter or receiver. 3. sound broadcasting, a sound-broadcast-radioactive / raft

ing station, National Public Radio. radio adj. of or using radio. radio v. (ra-di·o·ed, ra-di·o·ing) to send or signal or communicate with by radio. radio astronomy, the study of radio waves received or reflected from stars or other celestial bodies. radio beacon, a radio station that continually transmits a signal used by ships and planes for navigational purposes. radio car, a car equipped with radio for communication. radio frequency, the frequency of radio waves, between 10 kilohertz and 300,000 megahertz, used in radio and television transmission. radio station, a broadcasting station; an organization involved in commercial broadcasting on assigned frequency; a station for transmitting and receiving radio signals.

ra·di·o·ac·tive (ray-di-oh-ak-tiv) adj. of or showing radioactivity. ra·di·o·ac·tive·ly adv.

ra·di·o·ac·tiv·i·ty (ray-di-oh-ak-tiv-i-tee) n. the property of having atoms that break up spontaneously and send out radiation capable of penetrating opaque bodies and producing electrical and chemical effects.

ra·di·o·car·bon (ray-di-oh-kahr-bon) n. a radioactive form of carbon that is present in organic materials. radiocarbon dating, a method of deciding the age of prehistoric objects by measuring the decay of radiocarbon in them.

ra·di·o·gen·ic (ray-di-oh-jen-ik) adj. produced by radioactivity.

ra·di·o·gram (ray-di-oh-gram) n. 1. a radiograph. 2. a message transmitted by radiotelegraphy.

ra·di·o·graph (ray-di-oh-graf) n. a picture obtained by x-rays, gamma rays, etc. radiograph v. to make a radiograph of.

ra·di·o·graph·ic (ray-di-oh-graf-ik) adj. ra·di·o·graph·i·cal·ly adv. ra·di·og·ra·phy (ray-di-og-ra-fee) n.

ra·di·o·iso·tope (ray-di-oh-i-so-tope) n. a radioactive isotope.

ra·di·ol·o·gist (ray-di-ol-o-jist) n. an expert in radiology.

ra·di·ol·o·gy (ray-di-ol-o-je) n. the scientific study of x-rays and similar radiation, especially as used in medicine.

ra·di·o·man (ray-di-oh-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person who operates a radio or maintains and repairs radio equipment.

ra·di·om·e·ter (ray-di-om-ë-tër) n. an instrument for measuring the intensity of radiant energy. ra·di·om·e·try n. ra·di·om·et·ric (ray-di-oh-met-rik) adj. ra·di·om·et·ri·cal·ly adv.

ra·di·o·phone (ray-di-oh-fohn) n. a radiotelephone.

ra·di·os·co·py (ray-di-oh-kö-pee) n. the examination by x-rays etc. of objects opaque to light. ra·di·os·cop·ic (ray-di-oh-skop-ik) adj.

ra·di·o·son·de (ray-di-oh-sond) n. a miniature radio transmitter carried up in a balloon to broadcast information about pressure, temperature, etc. at various levels.

ra·di·o·tel·e·graph (ray-di-oh-tel-é-graf) n. a telegraph using radio waves in the transmission of a signal or message. ra·di·o·tel·e·graph·ic (ray-di-oh-tel-é-graf-ik) adj. ra·di·o·tel·e·graph·y (ray-di-oh-tel-é-graf-é) n.

ra·di·o·tele·phone (ray-di-oh-tel-fohn) n. a telephone utilizing radio waves to transmit sound. ra·di·o·tele·pho·ny (ray-di-oh-tel-fon-ik) adj. ra·di·o·tele·phea·py (ray-di-oh-tel-fé-pee) n.

ra·di·o·ther·a·py (ray-di-oh-ther-ä-pee) n. the treatment of disease by x-rays or other forms of radiation. ra·di·o·ther‘ ap·ist n.

rad·ish (rad-ish) n. 1. a plant with a crisp hot-tasting root that is eaten raw. 2. its root.

ra·di·um (ray-di-üm) n. a radioactive metallic element obtained from pitchblende. radium therapy, treatment of disease by the use of radium.

ra·di·us (ray-di-üs) n. (pl. -di·l, pr. -di·i, -di·us·es) 1. a straight line extending from the center of a circle or sphere to its circumference. 2. the length of this line, the distance from a center, all schools within a radius of 20 miles. 3. the thickest of the two long bones in the human forearm, the corresponding bone in animals.

Radm abbr. Rear Admiral.

ra·dome (ray-dohm) n. a dome covering or protecting radar equipment, especially on the outer surface of aircraft.

ra·don (ray-don) n. a gaseous radioactive inert element arising from the disintegration of radium.

ra·fi·a (raf-i-ä) n. soft fiber from the leaves of a kind of palm tree, used for tying up plants and for making mats etc.

raft·ish (raf-ish) adj. looking vulgarly flashy or disreputable or rakish. raft‘ish·ly adv. raft‘ish·ness n.

ra·f·le (raf-ël) n. a lottery with an object as the prize, especially as a method of raising money for a charity. raf·ley v. (raf·le·d, raf·ling) to offer (a thing) as the prize in a raffle.

raft (raft) n. a flat floating structure made of timber or other materials, used especially as a substitute for a boat. raft v.
raft1 (rayl) n. 1. a horizontal or sloping bar forming part of a fence or the top of banisters or a protection against contact or falling over etc., or for hanging things on. 2. one of the lines of metal bars on which trains or other wheeled vehicles run. 3. railroads as a means of transport, send it by rail.

raft2 v. to fit or protect with a rail, rail it off. □ go off the rails, (informal) to become disorganized or out of control or insane.

raft3 n. a kind of small wading bird.

raft4 v. to complain or protest or reproach strongly, railing at him.

raft5 (rayl-hed) n. 1. the farthest point reached by a railroad under construction. 2. the point on a railroad at which road transport of goods begins.

raft6 (rayl-ling) n. a fence of rails supported on upright metal bars.

raft7 (rayl-ler-y) (rayl-ler-ree) n. (pl. -lers) good-humored joking or teasing.

raft8 (rayl-rohd) n. 1. a system of transport using rails on which trains run. 2. the organization, equipment, and people required for its working. railroad v. 1. to rush, to force into hasty action, railroaded him into accepting. 2. to send by railroad. 3. to rush (a bill) through the legislature. 4. (informal) to convict and sentence in great haste. railroaded or railroad-ing n. □ railroad flat, an apartment arranged like a railroad car with all the rooms in a row and no hallway.

raft9 (rayl-way) n. 1. a track for wheeled equipment. 2. (British) a railroad.

raft10 (rayl-ment) n. (old use) clothing.

raft11 (rayn) n. 1. condensed moisture of the atmosphere falling in separate drops. 2. a fall or spell of this; the rains, the rainy season in tropical countries. 3. a shower of things. rain v. to send down or fall as or like rain; it rains or is raining. rain falls; it rains in, rain penetrates the house etc. □ be rained out, (of a program held outdoors) to be prevented by rain from taking place. rain check, a ticket given for later use when a sports event etc. is rained out; (informal) a promise that an offer will be maintained though deferred. rain date, the date on which an event will take place if the original date is canceled because of rain. rain forest, a thick forest where there is heavy rainfall. rain hat, a waterproof or water-resistant hat or head covering.

raft12 (rayn-bow) (raya-boh) n. an arch of colors formed in rain or spray by the sun's rays. □ rainbow trout, a large trout of Pacific coastal waters and streams of North America, colored red, pink, and lavender with a side stripe. raincoat (rayn-kohht) n. a waterproof or water-resistant coat.
rain drop (rayn-drop) n. a single drop of rain.
rain fall (rayn-fawl) n. the total amount of rain falling within a given area in a given time.
rain make ing (rayn-may-king) n. an attempt to increase rainfall by artificial means. rain make er n.
rain spout (rayn-spawt) n. a duct for draining a roof gutter.
rain storm (rayn-storm) n. a storm with heavy rainfall.
rain water (rayn-waw-ter) n. water that has fallen as rain, not obtained from wells etc.

ra in y (ray-ne) adj. (rain i er, rain i est) in or on which much rains falls.

- save for a rainy day, to save money etc. for a time when one may need it.

raise (rayz) v. (raised, rais ing) 1. to bring to or toward a higher or upright position. 2. to increase the amount or heighten the level of, raise prices. 3. to cause, to rouse, raise doubts; raise a laugh, cause people to laugh. 4. to breed or grow, raise sheep or corn. 5. to bring up, to rear, raise a family. 6. to collect, to manage to obtain, raise an army; raise a loan. 7. to put forward, raise objections. 8. to cause to come or appear, raise the ghost. raise n. 1. an increase in wages or salary. 2. an act or instance of raising.

raise er n. raise Cain or hell etc., (informal) to make an uproar; to show great anger.

- raise one's eyebrows, to show disdain or suspicion. raise one's glass to, to drink a toast to. raise one's voice, to speak; to speak more loudly.

- raise the alarm, to give a warning of imminent danger. raise the siege, to end it by withdrawing the besieging forces or compelling them to withdraw.

- Do not confuse raise with rise. Stores raise their prices. Prices rise. Stores raised their prices. Prices rose.

rake sin (ray-zin) n. a partially dried grape.
rake son d'etre (ray-zohn det-re) the reason for or purpose of a thing's existence.

- French, = reason for being.

rajah, raj (rah-jah) n. (in former times) an Indian king or prince.

rake (rayk) n. 1. a long-handled tool with prongs used for drawing together hay or fallen leaves etc. or for smoothing loose soil or gravel. 2. any similar implement, such as that used by a crouper for drawing in money at a gambling table or by a person digging clams. rake v. (raked, rake ing) 1. to gather or smooth with a rake. 2. to search, have been raking among old records. 3. to direct gunfire along (a line) from end to end, to use one's eyes or a camera in this way.

rake up, (informal) to revive the memory of (a quarrel or other unpleasant incident).

rake n. a backward slope (as of a ship's mast or funnel, or of a driver's seat). rake v. (raked, rake ing) to set at a sloping angle.

rake n. a man who lives an irresponsible and immoral life.
rake off (rayk-awf) n. (informal) an illicit commission or share of profits.
rak ish (ray-kish) adj. 1. (of a ship) smart and fast looking. 2. (of a person) debonair and jaunty in appearance or manner.

rakish adj. immoral or debauched. rak ish ly adv. rak ish ness n.

Ra leigh (raw-lee) the capital of North Carolina.

ral ly (ral-ee) v. (ral-led, ral-ly ing) 1. to bring or come together for a united effort. 2. to assemble for effort after defeat. 3. to rouse or revive, rally one's courage. 4. to recover one's strength after illness. 5. (of stock exchange prices etc.) to increase after falling, rally n. (pler lies) 1. an act of rallying, a recovery of energy or spirits etc. 2. (in tennis etc.) a series of strokes before a point is scored.

3. a mass meeting of people with a common interest. 4. a driving competition for cars or motorcycles over public roads.

rally v. (ral led, ral-ly ing) to ridicule, to tease.

ram (ram) n. 1. an uncastrated male sheep. 2. the Ram, a sign of the zodiac, Aries. 3. a battering ram or similar device. 4. a striking or plunging device in various machines. ram v. (rammed, ram ming) 1. to force or drive into place by pressure. 2. to strike and push heavily, to crash against.

Ram a dan (ram-á-dahn) n. the ninth month of the Muslim year, when Muslims fast between sunrise and sunset.

ram ble (ram bel) v. (ram bled, ram bly ing) 1. to take a ramble. 2. to take or write disconnectedly, to wander from the subject. ramble n. a walk taken for pleasure, with or without a definite route.

ram bler (ram bler) n. 1. a person who rambles, one who goes for a ramble. 2. a climbing rose.

ram bling (ram bling) adj. 1. wandering. 2. speaking or spoken or written disconnectedly, wandering from one subject to another. 3. (of a plant) straggling, climbing. 4. (of a house or street or village etc.) extending in various directions irregularly.
ram-bun-ci-ous-ness n.
ram-e-kin (ram-i-kin) n. 1. a small mold for baking and serving an individual portion of food. 2. something baked and served in this, cheese ramekins.
ram-le (ram-e) n. 1. a tall East Asian plant. 2. its fiber, woven into durable material.
ram-l-fi-ca-tion (ram-i-fi-ka-shōn) n. 1. an arrangement of branching parts. 2. a part of a complex structure, something arising from it, the ramifications of the plot.
ram-l-fy (ram-i-fi) v. (ram-i-fled, ram-i-fy-ing) to branch out or cause to branch out, to arrange into subdivisions or branches.
ram-jet (ram-jet) n. a type of jet engine in which air is drawn in and compressed by the forward movement of the aircraft.
ramp (ramp) n. 1. a slope joining two levels of floor or road etc. 2. a movable set of stairs put beside an aircraft so that people may enter or leave.
ramp-age (ram-payj) v. (ram-paged, ramp-aged, ramp-ing) to behave violently, to race about wildly or destructively. ramp-age (ram-payj) n. violent behavior.
ramp-er (ram-pay-jer) n. ramp-a-geous (ram-pay-jūs) adj. □ on the rampage, rampaging.
ramp-ant (ram-pant) adj. unrestrained, flourishing excessively, disease was ramp-ant in the poorer districts. ramp-ant-ly adv.
ram-part (ram-paḥrt) n. a broad bank of earth built as a fortification, usually topped with a parapet and wide enough for troops etc. to walk on.
ramp-rod (ram-rod) n. 1. an iron rod formerly used for ramming a charge into muzzle-loading guns; like a ramrod, stiff and straight. 2. a cleaning rod for small guns.
ram-shack-le (ram-shak-čl) adj. tumble-down, rickety.
ran (ran) see run.
ranch (ranch) n. 1. a cattle breeding establishment. 2. a farm where certain other animals are bred, a mink ranch. ranch v. to farm on a ranch. ranch’er n. ranch-man (ranch-mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. mēn) □ ranch house, a house with all the rooms on the same level and a low-pitched roof.
ran-cho (ran-chō) n. (pl. -chos) a ranch.
ran-cld (ran-sid) adj. smelling or tasting unpleasant like stale fat. ran-cld-ness n. ran-cld-ly (ran-sid-i-tee) n.
ran-cor (rang-kōr) n. bitter feeling or ill will. ran-cor-ous adj. ran-cor-ous-ly adv.
rand (rand) n. (pl. rand) the unit of money in South Africa and in certain other countries. R & B abbr. rhythm and blues. R & D abbr. research and development.
ran-dom (ran-dom) adj. done or made or taken etc. at random, a random choice. ran-dom-ly adv. ran-dom-ness n. □ at random, without a particular aim or purpose or principle. random access, access to computer data in any order the user desires. R and R abbr. 1. rest and recreation. 2. rest and recuperation.
ran-d-y (ran-dee) adj. (ran-d-l-er, ran-d-l-est) lustful, eager for sexual gratification. ran-dl-ness n. ra-nee = ranl.
rang (rang) see ring2.
range (raynj) n. 1. a line or tier or series of things, a range of mountains. 2. an extent, the limits between which something operates or varies. 3. the distance over which one can see or hear, or to which a sound or signal or missile can travel, the distance that a ship or aircraft etc. can travel without refueling. 4. the distance to a thing being aimed at or looked at, at close range. 5. a large open stretch of grazing or hunting ground. 6. a place with targets for shooting practice. 7. an electric or gas stove with burners and an oven. range v. (ranged, rang-ing) 1. to arrange in a row or ranks or in a specified way. 2. to extend, to reach. 3. to vary between limits. 4. to wander or go about a place. □ range finder, a device for calculating the distance of an object to be shot at or photographed. range-land (raynj-land) n. land suitable for grazing livestock.
rang-er (rayn-jer) n. 1. a forest warden. 2. a member of a body of troops policing a thinly populated area. 3. a person who ranges. 4. a specially trained assault soldier.
Ran-goon (rang-goon) the capital of Burma.
rang-y (rayn-jē) adj. (rang-l-er, rang-l-est) tall and thin.
ra-nil (ra-nee) n. 1. the wife of a rajah. 2. a Hindu female ruler.
rank1 (rangk) n. 1. a line of people or things; the ranks, ordinary soldiers (not officers). 2. a place in a scale of quality or value etc., a position or grade, of Cabinet rank. 3. high social position, people of rank. rank v. 1. to arrange in a rank. 2. to assign a rank to. 3. to have a certain rank or place, he ranks among the great rank / rasp

statesmen. □ close ranks, to maintain solidarity. the rank and file, the ordinary undistinguished people of an organization.

rank\(^2\) adj. 1. growing too thickly and coarsely. 2. (of land) full of weeds. 3. foul-smelling. 4. unmistakably bad, out-and-out, rank poison; rank injustice.
rank'ly adv. rank'ness n.
rank-ing (raang-king) adj. senior in position, foremost, highly regarded.
ran-kle (rang-kël) v. (ran-kled, ran-kling) to cause lasting and bitter annoyance or resentment. ran-sack (ran-sak) v. 1. to search thoroughly or roughly. 2. to rob or pillage (a place). ran'sack'er n.
ran-som (ran-som) n. the release of a captive in return for money or other payment demanded by his captors, the payment itself, ransom v. to obtain the release of (a captive) in return for payment. □ hold for ransom, to hold (a captive) and demand ransom for his release; to demand concessions from (a person etc.) by threatening some damaging action.
rant (rant) v. to make a speech loudly and violently and theatrically. rant'er n. rant'ing-ly adv.
ra-nun-cu-lus (ra-nung-kyū-lūs) n. (pl. -lus'es, -ll, pr. -ll) a plant of the buttercup family.
rapp\(^1\) (rap) n. 1. a quick sharp blow. 2. a knock, a tapping sound. 3. (slang) blame, punishment. 4. (slang) a conversation.
rap v. (rapped, rap'ping) 1. to strike quickly and sharply. 2. to make a knocking or tapping sound. 3. to reprimand. 4. (slang) to talk. □ rap out, to say suddenly or sharply. take the rap, (slang) to take the blame, to suffer the punishment.
rap\(^2\) n. (informal) the least bit. □ not care or give a rap, not care at all.
rap-a-cious (rā-pa-shūs) adj. greedy and grasping (especially for money), plundering and robbing others. rap-a-cious'ly adv. rap-a-cious'ness n. ra-pac'i-ty (rā-pas-i-tee) n.
rape\(^1\) (rap) n. the act or crime of having sexual intercourse by using force, especially with a woman. rape v. (rapped, rap'ping) to commit rape on. rap'er n. rap'ist n.
rape\(^2\) n. a European plant of the mustard family grown as food for sheep and for its seed, from which oil is obtained.
rap-id (rap-id) adj. quick, swift. rap'id-ly adv. rap'id-ness n. ra-pid'i-ty (rā-pid-i-tee) n. rapid n. (usually rapids) a swift current in a river, usually over obstructions. □ rapid eye movement, rapid movement of the eyes during sleep, especially during dreaming, associated with changes in electrical activity of the brain. rapid transit, high-speed urban transport of passengers.
rap-pel (rap-pel) v. (rap-pelled, rap-pel'ing) to make such a descent.
ra-pin (rap-in) n. plundering, robbery.
rap-pel (rā-pel) n. the descent of a steep cliff by using a double rope fixed at a higher point. rap-pel v. (rap-pelled, rap-pel'ing) to make such a descent.
rap-port (ra-pohr) n. a harmonious and understanding relationship between people.
rap-proche-ment (ra-prosh-mahn) n. the recommencement of harmonious relations. □ French.
rap-scal-lion (rap-skal-yōn) n. a rascal.
rap't (rapt) adj. very intent and absorbed, enraptured. rap'tly adv. rap'tness n.
rap-ture (rap-chūr) n. intense delight.
rap'tur-ous adj. rap'tur-ous'ly adv.
□ in raptures, feeling or expressing rapture. raptures of the deep, caisson disease.
ra-ra a-vis (rair-ā ay-vis) a person or thing rarely encountered, a rarity. □ Latin.
rare\(^1\) (rare) adj. (rar'er, rare'est) 1. seldom found or occurring, very uncommon. 2. (informal) exceptionally good, had a rare time. 3. of low density, thin, the rare atmosphere in the Himalayas. rare'ly adv. rare'ness n. □ rare earth, any of a group of metallic elements with similar chemical properties.
rare\(^2\) adj. (rar'er, rare'est) (of meat) undercooked. rare'ness n. rare-bit (rare-bit) n. Welsh rarebit, Welsh rabbit (see rabbit).
rap-e-fy (rār-e-fy) v. (rār'e-fled, rap'e-fy'ing) (of air etc.) to make or become less dense than is normal. rap'e-fac'tion (rār-e-fak-shōn) n.
rap-ing (rair-ing) adj. (informal) enthusiastic, raging to go.
rap-i-ty (rair-i-tee) n. 1. rareness. 2. something uncommon, a thing valued because it is rare.
ras-cal (ras-kāl) n. 1. a dishonest person. 2. a mischievous person. ras'cal-ly adv. & adv. ras'cal-i-ty (ras'kal-i-tee) n.
ras'h (ras'h) n. 1. an eruption of spots or patches on the skin. 2. a sudden outbreak of unpleasant events, a rash of robberies.
rash\(^2\) adj. acting or done without due consideration of the possible consequences or risks. rash'ly adv. rash'ness n. rash'er (rair-ēr) n. 1. a slice of bacon or ham. 2. a serving of bacon or ham.
rasp (rasp) n. 1. a coarse file with raised sharp points on its surface. 2. a rough stems. 2. a piece of rattan stem used as cane, wickerwork, etc.

rat•ter (rat-ér) n. a dog or cat as a hunter of rats.

rat•tie (rat-él) v. (rat•tied, rat•ting) 1. to make or cause to make a rapid series of short sharp hard sounds, to cause such sounds by shaking something. 2. to move or travel with a rattling noise. 3. to utter rapidly, rattled off the oath. 4. (slang) to agitate or fluster, to make nervous.

rattle n. 1. a rattling sound. 2. a device or toy for making a rattling sound. 3. noise, an uproar. rat•tly adv.

rat•tie•brain (rat-él-brayn) n. (informal) a foolish or frivolous person. rat•tie•brain•ed' adj.

rat•tier (rat-lér) n. 1. a rattlesnake. 2. a person or thing that rattles.

rat•tie•snake (rat-él-snayk) n. a poisonous American snake with a rattling structure in its tail.

rat•tie•trap (rat-él-trap) n. a rickety object, especially an old car.

rat•ting (rat-ling) adj. (informal) vigorous, brisk, a rattling pace. rattling adv. (informal) very, a rattling good story.

rat•trap (rat-trap) n. 1. a trap for catching rats. 2. a filthy dilapidated building, place, etc.

rat•ty (rat-ty) adj. (-ti•er, -ti•est) 1. of or relating to rats. 2. infested with rats. 3. (slang) shabby.

rau•cous (raw-kús) adj. loud and harsh sounding. rau'cous•ly adv. rau'cous•ness n.

raun•chy (rawn-chee) adj. (-chi•er, -chi•est) (slang) 1. slovenly, disreputable. 2. coarsely outspoken, earthy. raun'chi•ness n. (slang).

rau•wolf•fi•a (raw-wul-fi-á) n. 1. an extract from the root of an Indian tree, with medicinal properties. 2. this tree.

rav•age (rav-ij) v. (rav-aged, rav•ag•ing) to do great damage to, to devastate. rav'âg•er n. ▷ Do not confuse ravage with ravish.

rav•ag•es (rav-i-jiz) n. pl. damage, devastation.

rave (ravv) v. (raved, rav•ing) 1. to talk wildly or furiously, to talk nonsensically in delirium; raving mad, completely mad. 2. (of the wind or sea) to howl, to roar. 3. to speak with rapturous admiration.

rave n. 1. an act or instance of raving. 2. (informal) a very enthusiastic review of a book or play etc. ▷ ravaging beauty, a notably beautiful person.

rav•el (rav-él) v. (rav•eled, rav•el•ling) 1. to separate or untwist the threads or fibers of (cloth). 2. to tangle, to become tangled. ravel n. a tangle.

ra•ven (ray-vën) n. a large bird with glossy black feathers and a hoarse cry. raven adj. (especially of hair) glossy black.

rav•en•ing (ray-én•ing) adj. hungrily seeking prey.

rav•en•ous (ray•-n̩ús) adj. very hungry.

rav•en•ous•ly adv. rav•en•ous•ness n.

ra•vine (râ-veen) n. a deep narrow gorge or cleft between mountains.

ra•vi•o•li (ray-î-oh-lee) n. an Italian dish consisting of small pasta cases containing meat.

rav•ish (ray-ish) v. 1. to rape (a woman or girl). 2. to fill with delight, to enrapture. rav'ish•er n. rav'ish•ment n. ▷ Do not confuse ravish with ravage.

rav•ish•ing (ray-î-shîng) adj. very beautiful, filling people with delight.

raw (raw) adj. 1. not cooked. 2. in its natural state, not yet or not fully processed or manufactured, raw hides. 3. (of alcohol) undiluted. 4. crude in artistic quality, lacking finish. 5. inexperienced, untrained, fresh to something, raw recruits. 6. stripped of skin and with the underlying flesh exposed, sensitive because of this. 7. (of an edge of cloth) not a selavage and not hemmed. 8. (of weather) damp and chilly. raw'ly adv. raw'ness n.

in the raw, in a raw state; crude, without a softening or refining influence, life in the raw; (slang) naked.

raw deal, unfair treatment. raw material, any material or product that is processed to make another; that from which something is made; people who are to be trained.

raw•boned (raw-bohd) adj. gaunt.

raw•hide (raw-hid) n. 1. untaught leather. 2. a rope or whip made of this.

ray (ray) n. 1. a single line or narrow beam of light or other radiation. 2. a trace of something good, a ray of hope. 3. one of a set of radiating lines or parts of things.

ray n. 1. any of several large sea fishes related to the shark and used as food, especially the skate.

ray•on (ray-on) n. a synthetic fiber or fabric made from cellulose.

raze (rayz) v. (razed, ra•z•ing) to destroy completely, to tear down to the ground. ▷ Do not confuse raze with raise.

ra•zer (ray-zór) n. an instrument with a sharp blade or cutters, used in cutting hair especially in shaving. ▷ razor clam, a bivalve mollusk with a shell like the long thin handle of a razor.

ra•zor•back (ray-zór-bak) adj. having a back that is narrow and sharp.

ra•zor•back n. a hog with a sharp back, common in the southern U.S.

ra•zor•backed' adj.

razz (raz) v. (slang) to ridicule, to tease.
razz n. (slang) a raspberry (definition 3).

raz-zle-daz-zle (raz-əl-daz-əl) n. (informal) excitement, a stir with some confusion.

raa-zz-ma-tazz (raz-mə-tazz) n. (informal) razzle-dazzle.

Rb symbol rubidium.

RBI, R.B.I. abbr. (in baseball) run(s) batted in.

R.C. abbr. 1. Red Cross. 2. Roman Catholic.

RCAF abbr. Royal Canadian Air Force.

R.C.Ch. abbr. Roman Catholic Church.

RCMP abbr. Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

rcpt. abbr. receipt.

crt. abbr. recruit.

dd. abbr. 1. road. 2. road(s). 3. round.

R.D. abbr. 1. refer to drawer (written on a check to a bank when the account has insufficient money to pay it). 2. rural delivery.

re (ree) prep. in the matter of, about, concerning. re (ray) n. a name for the second note in a scale of music.

Re symbol rhenium.

re- prefix again, as in rebuild; back again, as in recurve. □ The number of words with this prefix is almost unlimited, and many of those whose meanings are obvious are not listed below.

REA abbr. Rural Electrification Administration.

reach (reech) v. 1. to stretch out or extend. 2. to go as far as, to arrive at. 3. to stretch out one's hand in order to touch or grasp or take something, reached for his gun. 4. to establish communication with, you can reach me by phone. 5. to achieve, to attain, reached a speed of 100 mph; reached a conclusion. reach n. 1. an act of reaching. 2. the distance over which a person or thing can reach, the extent covered by one's mental powers or abilities. 3. a continuous extent, especially of water.

reach-a-ble (ree-chä-bäl) adj. able to be reached.

re-ac-t v. (ree-akt) v. to cause or undergo a reaction.

re-ac-tance (ree-ak-täns) n. a component of impedance of an alternating current circuit etc. due to capacitance or inductance or both.

re-ab-sorb' v. ed, -mat-ing) re-ab-sorp'tion n.

re-ac'cill-mate v. (-mat-

re-ac-quaint' v.

re-ac-quaint'ance n.

re-ac-quire' v. (-quired, -quir-ing) re-ac-qual-si'tion n.

razzle-dazzle / read arms against it. 2. to resist authority or control, to refuse to obey, to protest strongly. rebel (reb-əl) n. a person who rebels. rebel (reb-əl) adj. rebellious, in rebellion.

re-bel-lion (ri-bel-ən) n. open resistance to authority, especially organized armed resistance to an established government.

re-bel-lious (ri-bel-əs) adj. rebellious, insubordinate. re-bel'li-ous·ly adv. re-bel'li-ous·ness n.

re-birth (ree-birth) n. a return to life or activity, a revival.

re-born (ree-born) adj. 1. born again. 2. spiritually regenerated.

re-bound (ri-bound) v. 1. to spring back after an impact with something. 2. to have an adverse effect upon the originator. 3. (in basketball) to take possession of the ball rebounding from the basket.

re-bound (ree-bound) n. 1. an act or instance of rebounding. 2. a basketball as it bounces off the basket rim or backboard. □ on the rebound, (of a hit or catch) made to a ball that is rebounding; (of an action etc.) done while still reacting to depression or disappointment.

re-bo-zo (ri-boh-zoh) n. (pl. -zos) a long scarf worn over the head and shoulders by women of Spain and some Latin American countries.

re-buff (ri-buf) n. an unkind or contemptuous refusal, a snub. rebuff v. to give a rebuff to.

re-build (ree-built) v. (re·built, re·build·ing) to build again after destruction or demolition.

re-buke (ri-byook) v. (re·buked, re·buk·ing) to reprove sharply or severely. rebuke n. a sharp or severe reproof.

re-bus (ree-büs) n. (pl. re-buss) a riddle in which pictures represent words or phrases.

re-but (ri-but) v. (re·but·ted, re·but·ting) to refute or disprove (evidence or an accusation). re·but·tal n. re·but·ter n.

rec. abbr. 1. receipt. 2. record. 3. recording. 4. recreation.

re-cal·ci-trant (ri-kal-si-trant) adj. disobedient, resisting authority or discipline.

re-cal·ci-trance n. re-cal·ci-trancy (ri-kal-si-tran-see) n.

re-call (ri-kawl) v. 1. to summon (a person) to return from a place. 2. to bring back into the mind, to remember or cause to remember. 3. to revoke, to annul. 4. to call back a defective product. recall (ri-kawl, ree-kawl) n. 1. recalling, being recalled. 2. a summons to come back. 3. the suspension of a public official from office by popular vote. 4. the act of remembering. 5. the act of annulling.

re·can·ta·tion (ree-kan-tay-shon) n.

re·cap (ree-kap, ree-kap) v. (re·capped, re·cap·ping) (informal) to recapitulate. recap (ree-kap) n. (informal) a recapitulation.

re-cap·ture (ree-kap-chur) v. (re·cap· tured, re·cap·tur·ing) 1. to capture (a person or thing that has escaped or been lost to an enemy). 2. to succeed in experiencing (a former state or emotion) again. recap capture n. recapitulating.

re·cast (ree-kast) v. (re·cast, re·cast·ing) to cast again, to put into a different form, recast the question in different words.

reccd., rec'd. abbr. received.

re·cede (ri-seed) v. (re·ced·ed, re·ced·ing) 1. to go or shrink back from a certain point, to seem to go away from the observer, the floods receded; the shore receded as we sailed away. 2. to slope backward, receding chin.

re·celept (ri-seet) n. 1. receiving, being received, on receipt of your letter. 2. a written acknowledgment that something has been received or that money has been paid. 3. (old use) a recipe. 4. receipts, the amount of money received. receipt v. to mark (a bill) as having been paid.

re·ceiv·a·ble (ri-see·va·bel) adj. 1. capable of being received. 2. subject to payment, accounts receivable. re·ceiv·a·bil·i·ty (ri-see·va-bil·i-tee) n.

re·cei·ve (ri-seey) v. (re·ceived, re·cei·ving) 1. to acquire or accept or take in (something offered or sent or given). 2. to experience, to be treated with, it received close attention. 3. to take the force or weight or impact of. 4. to serve as a receptacle for. 5. to allow to enter as a member or guest. 6. to greet on arrival. □ be on the receiving end, to be the one who has to submit to something unpleasant. receiving line, a line re·bill' v.

re·boll' v.
formed by the host, hostess, and guests of honor to greet the guests.

re·cel·ver (ri-sev-ver) n. 1. a person or thing that receives something. 2. one who accepts stolen goods while knowing them to be stolen. 3. a person appointed by a court to be custodian of a business or property or funds of parties involved in a lawsuit. 4. a radio or television apparatus that receives broadcast signals and converts them into sound or a picture. 5. the part of a telephone that receives the incoming sound and is held to the ear.

re·cel·ver·ship (ri-sev-ver-ship) n. the position or function of an official receiver. □ In receivership, under the jurisdiction of a court-appointed receiver.

re·cen·t (ree-sent) adj. 1. not long past, happening or begun in a time shortly before the present. 2. Recent, of the most recent geologic epoch, including the present time. Recent n. the Recent epoch.

re·cep·ta·cle (ri-sep-ta-kel) n. 1. something for holding or containing what is put into it. 2. an electrical outlet.

re·cep·tion (ri-sep-shun) n. 1. receiving, being received. 2. the way something is received, the speech got a cool reception. 3. an assembly held to receive guests, wedding reception. 4. the receiving of broadcast signals, the efficiency of this, reception was poor. □ reception room, a room where visitors are received.

re·cep·tion·ist (ri-sep-shun-ist) n. a person employed to receive and direct callers or clients or patients.

re·cep·tive (ri-sep-tiv) adj. able or quick or willing to receive knowledge or ideas or suggestions etc. re·cep·tive·ly adv. re·cep·tive·ness n. re·cep·tive·tly ty (ri-sep-tiv-ty) n.

re·cep·tor (ri-sep-tor) n. an organ able to respond to light, heat, drugs, etc. and transmit a signal to a sensory nerve.

re·ces·sion (ri-ses-ee) n. 1. a part or space set back from the line of a wall etc., a small hollow place inside something. 2. temporary cessation from business, a time of this, while Congress is in recess. recess v. to make a recess in or of (a wall etc.), to set back.

re·ces·slion (ri-ses-lish-ən) n. 1. receding from a point or level. 2. a temporary decline in economic activity or prosperity. re·ces·slion·ary adj.

re·ces·sion·al (ri-ses-shə-nal) n. a hymn sung while clergymen and choir withdraw after a church service.

re·ces·sive (ri-ses-iv) adj. 1. tending to recede. 2. (of inherited characteristics) remaining latent when a dominant characteristic is present.

re·charge (ree-chahrj) v. (re-charged, re·charg·ing) to charge (a battery or gun etc.) again. □ recharge one's batteries, to have a period of rest and recovery.

re·charge·a·ble (ree-chahr-jä-bel) adj. able to be recharged.

re·cher·ché (rē-shar-shay) adj. 1. devised or selected with care. 2. farfetched.

re·cid·i·vist (ri-sid-i-vist) n. a person who constantly commits crimes and seems unable to be cured of criminal tendencies, a persistent offender. re·cid·i·vis·m n. re·cid·i·vis·tic (ri-sid-i-vis-tik) adj.

rec·l. abbr. 1. reciprocal. 2. reciprocity.

rec·l. pe (res-i-pee) n. 1. directions for preparing a dish etc. in cookery. 2. a way of achieving something, a recipe for success.

re·cipient (ri-sip-ent) n. a person who receives something.

re·cip·ro·cal (ri-sip-ro-kal) adj. 1. given or received in return, reciprocal help. 2. given or felt by each toward the other, mutual, reciprocal affection. 3. corresponding but the other way around, I thought he was a waiter, while he made the reciprocal mistake and thought that I was. reciprocal n. a mathematical expression related to another in the way that 2/3 is related to 3/2. re·cip·ro·cal·ly adv.

re·cip·ro·cate (ri-sip-ro-kayt) v. (re·cip·ro·cat·ed, re·cip·ro·cat·ing) 1. to give and receive, to make a return for something done or given or felt. 2. (of a machine part) to move backward and forward alternately. re·cip·ro·cat·ive (ri-sip-ro-kay-tiv) adj. re·cip·ro·ca·tion (ri-sip-ro-kay-shun) n. □ reciprocating engine, one in which the backward and forward motion of pistons produces rotary movement of the crankshaft.

rec·l. pro·c. ty (res-i-pro-s-tee) n. a reciprocal condition or action, the giving of privileges in return for similar privileges, especially a foreign trade exchange or agreement.

re·cit·al (ri-sit-əl) n. 1. reciting. 2. a long account of a series of events. 3. a musical entertainment given by one performer or group, a similar entertainment of any kind (as by a dancer). re·cit·al·is·t n.

rec·l. ta·tion (res-i-tay-shun) n. 1. reciting. 2. a thing recited. recitative / reconcile recitative (res-i-ta-tev) n. a narrative or conversational part of an opera or oratorio, sung in a rhythm imitating that of ordinary speech.

recite (ri-sit) v. (re-cit-ed, re-cit-ing) 1. to repeat (a passage) aloud from memory, especially before an audience. 2. to state (facts) in order. re-cit'er n.

reckless (rek-lis) adj. wildly impulsive, rash. reck‘less-ly adv. reck‘less-ness n.

reckon (rek-on) v. 1. to count up. 2. to include in a total or as a member of a particular class. 3. to have as one's opinion, to feel confident, I reckon we shall win. 4. to rely or base one's plans, we reckoned on your support. reck'on-er n. □reckon with, to take into account; a person or thing to be reckoned with, one that must be considered as important.

reckoning (rek-on-ing) n. 1. a time of reckoning. 2. a settling of accounts. 3. a calculation or expectation. □day of reckoning, the time when one must come alone or face its consequences.

reclaim (ree-klaym) v. 1. to take action so as to recover possession of. 2. to make (flooded or waste land) usable, as by draining or irrigating it. 3. to reform (a person). re-claim'a-ble adj. re-cla'ma-tion (rek-lay-may-shon) n.

recline (ri-klin) v. (re-clined, re-clin-ing) to have or put one's body in a more or less horizontal or leaning position.

recliner (ri-klet-nër) n. 1. a person who reclines. 2. a chair with an adjustable sloping back.

recluse (rek-loos, ri-kloos) n. a person who lives alone and avoids mixing with people.

recognize (rek-ogniz) v. (recognizing) to recognize, being recognized; a presentation in recognition of his services, as a token of appreciation.

recognizable (rek-ognizable) adj. able to be recognized. rec'ogn-i-za'bi-ly adv.

recognition (rek-o-ni-sa-shon) n. a pledge made to a law court or magistrate that a person will observe some condition (such as to keep the peace) or appear when summoned, a sum of money pledged as surety for this.

recognize (rek-ognize) v. (recognizing, recognized, rec-ogni-tion) 1. to know again, to identify from one's previous knowledge or experience. 2. to realize or admit the nature of, recognized the hopelessness of the situation. 3. to acknowledge or accept formally as genuine or valid. 4. to show appreciation of (ability or service etc.) by giving an honor or reward. 5. (of a chairman in a formal debate) to allow (a particular person) the right to speak next.

reckless (rek-o-koi) v. 1. to move or spring back suddenly, to rebound. 2. to draw oneself back in fear or disgust. 3. to have an adverse effect upon the originator. re-coll (rek-coil) n. the act or sensation of recoiling. re-coll'less adj.

recollection (rek-ol-ek't) v. to remember.

recollection (rek-ol-leck'ion) n. recol·lect (rek-ol·lect) v. or relating to new combinations of genetic material.

recommend (rekom-mend) v. (recom-mended, recom-mencing) to begin again. recom-mence'ment n.

recognize (rek-o-mend) v. 1. to advise (a course of action or a treatment etc.). 2. to praise as worthy of employment or favor or trial etc. 3. (of qualities or conduct) to make acceptable or desirable, this plan has much to recommend it. recom-mend'a-ble adj. recom-mend'ing'er n. recom-mend-ability recom-mend-ation (rek-om-men-dä-to-ry) adj. recom-mend·a·tion (rek-om-men-day-shon) n.

recommence (rek-om-pense) v. (recom-mended, recom-mencing) to repay or reward, to compensate. recom-pense n. payment or reward etc. in return for something.

re·com·mence (rek-o-mend) v. recom·mended (rec·om·mended, recom·mencing) to begin again. recom·mence'ment n.

reconcile (rek·on·cil) v. (re·con·ciled, re·con·ciling) 1. to restore friendship between (people) after an estrangement or quarrel. 2. to induce (a person or oneself) to accept an unwelcome fact or situation, is now reconciled to living far from home. 3. to bring (facts or statements etc.) into harmony or compatibility when they appear to conflict. re·con·cil·a·ble adj. re·con·cili·a·bly adv. re·con·ciled·er n. re·con·cile·ment n. re·con·ciled·ing re·con·cil·a·tion (rek·on·sil-ay-shon) n. recondite / recreation

re-condite (rek-ôn-dit, ri-kon-dit) adj.
(of a subject) obscure, (of an author) writing about an obscure subject. re-con'dite-ly adv. re-con'dite-ness n.
re-con'di-tion (ree-kôn-dish-ôn) v. to overhaul and make any necessary repairs to.
re-con-nais-sance (ri-kon-à-sâns) n. an exploration or examination of an area in order to obtain information about it (especially for military purposes), a preliminary survey.
re-con-noiter (ree-kô-nôl-têr) v. to make a reconnoissance of (an area), to make a preliminary survey.
re-con-sid-er (ree-kôn-sid-ér) v. to consider again, especially with the possibility of changing one's former decision. re-con-sid-er-a-tion (ree-kôn-sid-ér-ray-shôn) n.
re-con-sti-tute (ree-kôn-sti-toot) v. (re-con-sti-tut-ed, re-con-sti-tut-ing) to reconstruct, to reorganize. re-con-sti-tu-tion (ree-kôn-sti-too-shôn) n.
re-con-struct (ree-kôn-strukt) v. 1. to construct or build again. 2. to create or enact (past events) again, as in investigating the circumstances of a crime. re-con-struc-tive adj. re-con-struc-tion n. (ree-kôn-struk-shôn) Re-construc-tion, the reincorporation of the seceded states into the U.S. (1865-77) after the Civil War.
re-cord (rek-ôrd) n. 1. information preserved in a permanent form, especially in writing. 2. a document etc. bearing this. 3. a disk bearing recorded sound. 4. facts known about a person’s past, has a good record of service; have a record or a police record, to have past criminal convictions that are on record. 5. the best performance or most remarkable event etc. of its kind that is known; hold the record, to be the one who achieved this. record adj. best or highest or most extreme hitherto recorded, a record crop.
record (ri-kord) v. 1. to set down in writing or other permanent form. 2. to preserve (sound) on a disk or magnetic tape for later reproduction. 3. to register on a measuring instrument. □for the record, so that facts may be recorded. off the record, stated unofficially or not for publication. on record, pre served in written records. record changer, that part of a record player that moves the records into playing position or removes them after playing. record player, an apparatus for reproducing sound from disks on which it is recorded.
re-cord-break-ing (rek-ôrd-bray-king) adj. surpassing all previous records.
re-cord-er (ri-kor-dêr) n. 1. a person that records something. 2. a judge in certain law courts. 3. a kind of flute held forward and downward from the mouth as it is played. 4. a machine or device that records sound.
re-cord-ing (ri-kor-ding) n. sound recorded on a disk or magnetic tape etc.
re-count (ri-kownt) v. to narrate, to tell in detail, recounted his adventures.
re-count (ree-kownt) v. to count again. re-count (ree-kownt) n. a second counting, especially of election votes to check the totals.
re-coup (ri-koup) v. 1. to recover what one has lost or its equivalent, recoup oneself or recoup one’s losses. 2. to reimburse or compensate, recoup a person for his losses.
re-couse (ree-kohrs) n. a source of help. □have recourse to, to turn to (a person or thing) for help.
re-cov-er (ri-kuv-er) v. 1. to regain possession or use or control of. 2. to obtain as compensation, sought to recover damages from the company. 3. to return to a normal condition after illness or unconsciousness. re-cov-er-a-ble adj. re-cov-er-y n. □recover oneself, to regain consciousness or calmness, or one’s balance.
re-cov-er (ri-kuv-er) v. to cover again, as a couch.
re-cov-ant (rek-ri-ânt) n. a coward, a traitor. recreant adj. craven, cowardly. re-cov-er-ly adv. rec-re-ance n. rec-re-ancy (rek-ri-an-see) n.
rec-re-a-te (rek-ri-ay-t) v. (rec-re-at-ed, rec-re-at-ing) to give new life or freshness to. rec-re-a-tive (rek-ri-ay-tiv) adj.
re-create (ree-kri-ayt) v. (rec-re-at-ed, rec-re-at-ing) to create over again.
rec-re-a-tion (rek-ri-ay-shôn) n. the process or means of refreshing or entertaining oneself after work by some pleasurable activity. re·c·re·a·tion·al adj. re·c·re·a·tive (rek-ri-ay-tiv) adj. re·cre·ation ground, a public playground for children.

re·cre·a·tion (ree-kri-ay-shən) n. a rebirth.

re·cric·l·nate (ri-krim′-l-nat) v. (re·cric·l·nat·ed, re·cric·l·nat·ing) 1. to indulge in counter charges. 2. to retort with an accusation. re·cric·l·na·tive (ri-krim′-l-nat-tiv) adj. re·cric·l·na·to·ry (ri-krim′-l-nə-toh-rəl) adj. re·cric·l·n·a·tion (ri-krim′-l-nə-shən) an angry retort or accusation made in retaliation.

re·cru·des·ce (ree-kroo-ə-des) v. (re·cru·des·ced, re·cru·des·cing) (of a disease or sore or discontent) to break out again. re·cru·des·cence n. re·cru·des·cent adj.

re·cruit (ri-kroot) n. 1. a person who has just joined the armed forces and is not yet trained. 2. a new member of a society or other group. re·cruit v. 1. to form (an army or other group) by enlisting recruits. 2. to enlist (a person) as a recruit. 3. to refresh, recruit one's strength. re·cru·t'ing er n. re·cru·tment m.

rect. abbr. 1. receipt. 2. rectangle. 3. rectangular. 4. rectified. 5. rector. 6. rectory.

rect·al (rek-təl) adj. of the rectum. re·c'tal·ly adv.

rec·tan·gle (rek-tang-gəl) n. a four-sided geometric figure with four right angles, especially one with adjacent sides unequal in length. rec·tan·gu·lar (rek-tan′-gu-lər) adj.

rec·ti·fi·a·ble (rek-ti′-fi-ə-bəl) adj. able to be rectified.

rec·ti·fi·er (rek-ti′-fi-ər) n. 1. an object that converts alternating current to direct current. 2. a person that makes things right or adjusts or corrects things.

rec·ti·fy (rek-ti′-fi) v. (rec·ti·fied, rec·ti·fy·ing) 1. to put right, to correct, rectify the error. 2. to purify or refine, especially by distillation. 3. to convert (alternating current) to direct current. rec·ti·fi·ca·tion (rek-ti′-fi-kə-shən) n.

rec·ti·lin·e·ar (rek-ti′-lin-ə-rər) adj. bounded by straight lines, a rectilinear figure.

rec·ti·tu·de (rek-ti′-tood) n. moral goodness, correctness of behavior or procedure.

rec·to (rek-tō) n. (pl. -tohs) the right-hand page of an open book.

rec·tor (rek-tōr) n. 1. a clergyman in charge of a parish. 2. the head of certain universities, colleges, schools, and religious institutions. rec·tor·ate (rek-tō′rat) n.

rec·to·ry (rek-tō-ree) n. (pl. -ries) the house of a rector.

rec·tum (rek-təm) n. (pl. -tums, -ta, pr. -tā) the last section of the large intestine, between colon and anus.

rec·um·bent (ri-kum′-bənt) adj. lying down, reclining.

re·cu·per·ate (ri-koo′-pə-rayt) v. (re·cu·per·a·ting) 1. to recover, to regain (one's health or strength) after illness or exhaustion. 2. to recover (losses). re·cu·per·a·tion (ri-koo′-pə-ray-shən) n.

re·cu·per·a·tive (ri-koo′-pə-ray-tiv) adj. of recuperation, great recuperative powers.

re·cur (ri-kur) v. (re·curred, re·cur·ring) to happen again, to keep occurring.

re·cur·re·ncy (ri-kur′-əns) n. recurring, a recurrent problem. re·cur′re·nely adv. re·cur′rence n.

re·cur·ve (ri-kur′v) v. (re·curved, re·cur·ving) to bend or be bent backward, a flower with recurved petals.

re·cy·cle (ri-si′-kəl) v. (re·cy·cled, re·cy·cling) to convert (waste material) into a form in which the same figures are repeated indefinitely, such as 3.999 . . . or 0.14014 . . .

re·cy·cla·ble (re-si′-klə-bəl) adj. re·cy·cla·bil·i·ty (re-si′-klə-bil′-ti) n.

red (red) adj. (red′er, red′est) 1. of the color of blood or a color approaching this. 2. (of the face) flushed with anger or shame, (of the eyes) bloodshot or reddened with weeping. 3. Communist, favoring Communism, Red China. 4. anarchist. red n. 1. red color. 2. a red substance or material, red clothes. 3. a red light. 4. the debit side of an account; in the red, having a debit balance, in debt. 5. a Communist. 6. an anarchist. red′ly adv. red′ness n. □ red alert, a most urgent alert of imminent enemy attack.

red alga, an alga containing red pigment. Red Army, the army of the U.S.S.R. red blood cell, a cell containing hemoglobin, carrying oxygen throughout the body, a red blood corpuscle. red carpet, privileged treatment given to an important visitor. red cedar, an American juniper tree; the wood of this tree. red cent, the smallest possible coin; not worth a red cent, of no value re·crys·tal·lize (ri-kris′-tal · liz) v. (lized, liz′ing) at all. red clover, a red-flowered clover, used as forage. Red Cross, an international organization for the treatment of the sick and wounded in war and the help of those afflicted by large-scale natural disasters. red deer, a European and Asian deer with a red-brown coat. red flag, one used as a warning of danger; the symbol of a left-wing revolutionary group. red fox, a fox with red-brown fur. red giant, a star in evolution with reddish hue, low surface temperature, and great volume. red herring, a misleading clue; something that draws attention away from the matter under consideration. red lead, red oxide of lead, used as a pigment. red-letter day, a day that is memorable because of some joyful occurrence. red light, a signal to stop on a road or railroad; a danger signal. red-light district, one containing many brothels. red oak, a common North American oak tree with spiny-tipped leaves; its wood. red pepper, a pepper with yellow or red pods that are used as a condiment; cayenne pepper. red salmon, a food fish of the North Pacific (also sockeye salmon). Red Sea, a narrow extension of the Indian Ocean between Africa and Arabia, connected to the Mediterranean by the Suez Canal. red shift, a displacement of spectral lines to longer wavelengths in radiation from distant galaxies etc. red snapper, a food fish of the Gulf of Mexico. red spider, a mite infesting hothouse plants, especially vines. red squirrel, a common squirrel with a reddish upper body. red-tailed hawk, a hawk common to North America, with a short red tail. red tape, excessive formalities in official transactions. red tide, a red discoloration of seawater, fatal to fish and other marine organisms.

redact (ri-dakt) v. to put into literary form, to arrange for publication, to edit. redacttor n. redaction (ri-dak-shon) n. redactional adj. red-blooded (red-bld-id) adj. full of vigor. red-blooded n. red-breed (red-breid) n. a robin. red-brick (red-brik) adj. (British) of English universities founded in the 19th century or later, as distinct from Oxford and Cambridge (Oxbridge).

red-cap (red-kap) n. a railroad porter.

red-coat (red-koyt) n. a British soldier in the American Revolution.

red-den (red-ên) v. to make or become red.

red-dish (red-ish) adj. rather red. reddish ness n.

red-dog (red-dog) n. (red-dogged, red-dogging) (in football) to pursue (the opposing quarterback) doggedly while he is trying to throw a forward pass.

red-o-rate (ree-dek-ô-rayt) v. (ree-dom-o-rate, re-de-o-rate-ing) to decorate freshly. red-o-rate (ree-dek-ô-ray-shôn) n.

red-deem (ri-deem) v. 1. to buy back, to recover (a thing) by payment or by doing something. 2. to clear (a debt etc.) by paying it off. redeem the mortgage. 3. to convert (bonds or tokens) into cash or merchandise. 4. to purchase the freedom of a person by payment. 5. to save from damnation or from the consequences of sin. 6. to make up for faults or deficiencies, it has one redeeming feature. redeem oneself, to make up for one's former fault(s).

red-deem-a-ble (ri-dee-ma-bell) adj. able to be redeemed.

red-deem-er (ri-dee-mor) n. a person who redeems something. the Redeemer, Christ as the redeemer of mankind.

red-dep (ri-dep-shon) n. redeeming, being redeemed. red-deptive adj. red-dep-to-ry (ri-dep-tô-ree) adj.

red-deploy (ree-di-plô) v. to send (troops or workers etc.) to a new place or task.

red-deployment n.

red-devel-op (ree-di-vél-op) v. 1. to remodel or to reconstruct (buildings). 2. to convert to a new use (land already developed). red-devel-op-er n. red-devel-op-ment n.

red-hand-ed (red-han-did) adj. in the act of crime, was caught red-handed.

red-head (red-hed) n. a person with reddish hair. red-head-ed adj.

red-hot (red-hot) adj. 1. so hot that it glows red. 2. highly excited or angry. 3. (of news) (informal) fresh, completely new.

red-direct (ree-di-rekt, -di-) v. to direct or send to another place, to readdress, red-direct-ion (ree-di-rek-shôn, -di-) n.

red-dis-trict (ree-di-trikt) v. to alter the boundaries of the districts of (an area), especially to change their political representation.

red-lin-ing (red-lin-ing) n. a practice by banks of arbitrarily denying mortgages in certain urban areas. red-line v. (red-lined, red-lin-ing) to treat in this way.

red-neck (red-neck) n. (contemptuous) a member of the white rural working class of the southern U.S.

re-do (ree-doo) v. (ree-di, re-done, re-do-ing) 1. to do again. 2. to redecorate.

red-o-lent (red-0-lent) adj. 1. smelling strongly, redolent of onions. (Do not write redulent of the smell of onions.) 2. full of memories, a town redolent of age and romance.

red-o-lent-ly adv. red'0*lent*iy red-double (ree-dub-èl) v. (ree-doubled, re-doubling) 1. to double again. 2. to make or become more intense, redoubled their efforts. 3. (in bridge) to double again a bid already doubled by an opponent. redouble n. (in bridge) the redoubling of a bid.

re-doubt (ri-dowt) n. a small fortified place without flanking defenses.

re-doubt-a-ble (ri-dow-tà-bèl) adj. formidable, especially as an opponent.

re-dound (ri-downd) v. to come back as an advantage or disadvantage, to accrue, this will redound to our credit.

re-dress (ri-dres) v. to set right, to rectify, redress the balance. redress n. reparation, amends for a wrong done, has no chance of redress for this damage.

red-skin (red-skin) n. (contemptuous) a North American Indian.

red-start (red-start-hart) n. a kind of songbird with black feathers marked with orange on the wings and tail.

re-duce (ri-dooz) v. (reduced, re-ducing) 1. to make or become less. 2. to make lower in rank or status. 3. to trim. 4. to subdue, to bring by force or necessity into a specified state or condition, was reduced to despair or to borrowing. 5. to convert into a simpler or more general form, reduce the fraction to its lowest terms; the problem may be reduced to two main elements. 6. to restore (a fractured or dislocated bone) to its proper position. re-duc'er n. re-duc-tive (ri-duk-tiv) adj. reduced circumstances, poverty after a period of prosperity. reducing agent, a substance that removes oxygen or adds hydrogen or electrons, especially one that converts an oxide to metal.

re-duc'-i-ble (ri-doo-si-bèl) adj. able to be reduced. re-duc'-i-bly adv.

re-duc-ti-o ad ab-sur-dum (ri-duksi-oh ad ab-sur-dum) 1. proof of falsity by showing an absurd logical consequence. 2. proof of truth by demonstrating the falsity of alternatives. 3. the carrying of a principle to impractical lengths. > Latin.

re-duc'tion (ri-duk-shôn) n. 1. reducing, being reduced. 2. the amount by which something is reduced, especially in price. 3. anything made by reducing.

re-dun-dant (ri-dun-dant) adj. 1. superfluous. 2. no longer needed. re-du'n-dant-ly adv. re-dun'dan-cy (ri-dun-dân-sèe) n.

re-du-pli-cate (ree-doo-pli-kayt) v. (re-du-pli-cat-ed, re-du-pli-cat-ing) to duplicate (a letter or syllable) such as bye-bye, goody-goody, super-duper.

red-wing (red-wing) blackbird a North American blackbird with a red and yellow patch on the wings.

red-wood (red-wuud) n. 1. a very tall evergreen coniferous tree of California. 2. its reddish wood.

re-ech-o (ree-ek-h) v. (re-ech-ed, re-ech-o-ing) to echo, to echo repeatedly, to resound.

reed (reed) n. 1. a water or marsh plant with tall straight hollow stems. 2. its stem. 3. a vibrating part that produces the sound in certain wind instruments.

reed-y (ree-dee) adj. 1. full of reeds. 2. like a reed, in slenderness or (of grass) thickness. 3. (of the voice) having the thin high tone of a reed instrument.

reed'-i-ness n.

reed-f (reef) n. a ridge of rock or coral or sand that reaches to or close to the surface of water.

reed^n. one of several strips at the top or bottom of a sail that can be drawn in so as to reduce the area of sail exposed to the wind. reef v. to shorten (a sail) by drawing in a reef or reefs.

reef'er (ree-fer) n. a thick double-breasted jacket.

reefer n. (slang) a marijuana cigarette.

reef (reef) knot a symmetrical double knot that is very secure.

reek (reek) n. a foul or stale smell. reek refinery / refrain reflux (ree-flux) v. to boil so that a vapor is liquefied and returned to the boiler.

reflux (ree-fluxes) n. 1. this method of boiling. 2. a backward flow.

re-frame v. (-framed, -fram-ing)
re-form (ri-form) v. to make or become better by removal or abandonment of imperfections or faults. reform n. reforming, being reformed. re-formed' adj. re-formed'a-ble adj. re-formed'a-tive adj. re-form'er n. □Reformed Church, one that accepted the principles of the Reformation, especially the Calvinist Church. reformed spelling, any of several suggested systems for simplifying the spelling of English words, especially by leaving out unpronounced letters.

re-form (ree-form) v. to form again. re-form'a-tion (ree-form-ay-shun) n.
refrain (ree-frain) v. to interrupt singing. refrainer n.
refrain (ree-frain) n. 1. the lines of a song that are repeated at the end of each verse. 2. the main part of a song, after the verse. 3. the music for either of these.
refrain2 v. to keep oneself from doing something, please refrain from talking. refrainment n.

re-form (ri-form) v. to make or become better by removal or abandonment of imperfections or faults. reform n. reforming, being reformed. re-formed' adj. re-formed'a-ble adj. re-formed'a-tive adj. re-form'er n. □Reformed Church, one that accepted the principles of the Reformation, especially the Calvinist Church. reformed spelling, any of several suggested systems for simplifying the spelling of English words, especially by leaving out unpronounced letters.

re-form (ree-form) v. to form again. re-form'a-tion (ree-form-ay-shun) n.
refrain (ree-frain) v. to interrupt singing. refrainer n.
refrain (ree-frain) n. 1. the lines of a song that are repeated at the end of each verse. 2. the main part of a song, after the verse. 3. the music for either of these.
refrain2 v. to keep oneself from doing something, please refrain from talking. refrainment n.

re-form2 v. to reform something, please refrain from talking. refrainment n.

reflexive (ri-flex-iv) adj. 1. being reflected. 2. reflective, thought, in a reflective mood. reflexive'ly adv.
reflexive pronoun, see pronoun.

reflexive pronoun, see pronoun.

reflex'ive-ly adv.
reflex'ive ness n. □reflexive pronoun, see pronoun.

reflex'ive ness n. □reflexive pronoun, see pronoun.
refresh / regatta

re-fresh (ri-fresh) v. 1. to restore the strength and vigor of (a person etc.) by food or drink or rest. 2. to make cool again. □ refresh a person's memory, to stimulate his memory by reminding him.

re-fresh·er (ri-fresh-er) n. (informal) a drink. □ refresh·er course, a course of instruction enabling a qualified person to keep abreast of recent developments in his subject.

re-fresh·ing (ri-fresh-ing) adj. 1. restoring strength and vigor. 2. welcome and interesting because of its novelty. re-fresh'ing·ly adv.

re-fresh·ment (ri-fresh-ment) n. 1. refreshing, being refreshed. 2. something that refreshes, especially food and drink. 3. refreshments, food and drink that does not constitute a meal.

refrig. abbr. 1. refrigerating. 2. refrigeration.

re-frig·er·ant (ri-frig-ē-rant) n. a substance used for cooling foods or for keeping things cold.

re-frig·er·ate (ri-frig-ē-rat) v. (re-frig·er·at·ed, re-frig·er·at·ing) to make extremely cold, especially in order to preserve and store food.

re-frig·er·a·tion (ri-frig-ē-ray-shūn) n.

re-frig·er·a·tor (ri-frig-ē-ray-tor) n. a cabinet or room in which food is stored at a very low temperature.

re-fu·el (ree-fyoo-ēl) v. (re-fu·eled, re-fu·eling) to replenish the fuel supply of.

ref·u·ge (ref-yooj) n. shelter from pursuit or danger or trouble, a place giving this; took refuge in silence, became silent in order to avoid difficulty.

ref·u·gee (ref-yū-je, ref-yū-je) n. a person who has left his home and seeks refuge elsewhere, as from war or persecution or some natural disaster.

re-fu·l·gence (ri-fyū-lēns) n. a shining and gloriously bright state.

re-fund (ri-fund) v. to pay back (money received, or expenses that a person has incurred). refund (ree-fund) n. money refunded, repayment.

re-fund'a·ble adj. re-fund'er n.

re-fur·bish (ree-fur-bish) v. to make clean or bright again, to redecorate.

re-fus·al (ri-fyoo-zal) n. refusing, being refused. □ first refusal, the right to accept or refuse something before the choice is offered to others.

re-fuse'1 (ri-fyooz) v. (re-fused, re-fus·ing) to say or to show that one is unwilling to accept or give or do something, refused to go; refused him permission to go; refused my request; car refused to start, would not start.

re·fu·se2 (ref-yoos) n. what is rejected as worthless, waste material.

re·fu·ta·ble (ri-fyooz-ah-b'l) adj. able to be refuted.

re·fute (ri-fyoot) v. (re·fut·ed, re·fut·ing) to prove that (a statement or opinion or person) is wrong. (>It is incorrect to use refute to mean "to deny" or "to repudiate.") re·fut'e·r n. re·fut·a·tion (ri-yū-tay-shūn) n.

reg. abbr. 1. regiment. 2. region. 3. register. 4. registered. 5. regular. 6. regulation.

re·gain (ri-gayn) v. 1. to obtain possession or use or control of (a thing) again after loss. 2. to reach again, regained the shore.

re·gain'er n.

re·gal (ree-gāl) adj. like or fit for a king.

re·gal'ly adv.

re·gale (ri-gāl) v. (re·galed, re·gal·ling) to feed or entertain well, regaled themselves on caviar; regaled them with stories of the campaign.

re·gale·ment n.

re·gal·li·a (ri-gayl-ē-ā) n. pl. 1. the emblems of royalty used at coronations, the regalia include crown, scepter, and orb. 2. the emblems or costumes of an order (such as the Order of the Garter) or of a certain rank or office; the mayoral regalia, the mayor's chain of office etc. 3. elaborate dress.

re·gal·li·ty (ri-gal-i-te) n. the attribute of kingly power.

re·gard (ri-gahrd) v. 1. to look steadily at. 2. to consider to be, we regard the matter as serious. 3. to concern or have a connection with, he is innocent as regards the first charge. regard n. 1. a steady gaze. 2. heed, consideration, acted without regard to the safety of others. 3. respect, we have a great regard for him as our chairman. 4. regards, greetings conveyed in a message, give him my regards. re·gard'ful adj.

re·gard·ing (ri-gahr·ding) prep. concerning, with reference to, laws regarding picketing.

re·gard·less (ri-gahrd-lis) adv. heedlessly, paying no attention to something, regardless of expense. >The word irregardless is incorrect.

re·gat·ta (ri-ga·tā) n. a number of boat or yacht races organized as a sporting event.

ref·reeze' v. (-froze, -fro·zen, -freez·ing) re·fur'nish v. re·gath' er v.
regd. abbr. registered.
regency (ree-jén-see) n. (pl. -cles) 1. being a regent, a regent's period of office. 2. a group of people acting as regent. 3. the Regency, the period 1810–20 in England, when George, Prince of Wales, acted as regent.
regenerate (ri-jen-ē-rayt) v. (re-gen-er-at-ed, re-gen-er-at-ing) 1. to give new life or vigor to. 2. to reform spiritually or morally. 3. to form afresh, to renew, or to restore by growing new tissue. regenerate a tor n. region (ri-jen-ē-ray-shn) n. regionate (ri-jen-ē-ray-shn) v. able to generate again, able to bring into renewed existence.
regent (ree-jént) n. 1. a person appointed to rule a country while the monarch is too young or unable to rule, or is absent. 2. a member of the governing board of an educational institution. regent adj. acting as regent, Prince Regent.
reggae n. (ree-jé) a West Indian style of music with a strongly accented subsidiary beat.
regicide (ri-jé-sid) n. 1. a person who kills or participates in the killing of a king. 2. the crime itself. regicidal (ri-jé-si-dal) adj.
regime (ré-zheem) n. a method or system of government or administration.
regime n. (ree-jé-mén) n. 1. a prescribed course of exercise or way of life, especially a diet. 2. a government.
regiment (ri-jé-mént) n. a military unit of ground forces organized into two or more battalions. regiment adj. v. to organize (people or work or data etc.) rigidly into groups or into a pattern.
regimentation (ri-jé-men-ta-shon) n.
regimental (ri-jé-men-tal) adj. of an army regiment.
regional (ree-jé-o-nal) adj. of or relating to a particular area. regional adj.
regioned (ree-jé-o-ned) adj. of, relating to, or typical of a large geographical region or of a particular bodily region. regionally adv.
regionality n.
regionism (ree-jé-o-niz-ēm) n. 1. a characteristic of an area. 2. a word or expression belonging to a particular area.
regionalism n.
registrar (re-ji-s-trahr) n. a letter sent by mail with special precautions for its safety. registered nurse, a graduate nurse who has been licensed by a state authority after passing a qualifying examination.
registrar (re-ji-st-arah) n. an official with responsibility for keeping written records or registers especially at a school or university.
registration (rej-i-stray-shn) n. 1. registering, being registered. 2. documentation showing that someone or something has been registered.
registration number, a combination of letters and figures identifying a motor vehicle etc.
registrar (re-ji-st-arah) n. (pl. -tries) 1. registration. 2. a place where written records or registers are kept.
regional (ri-gé-nal) adj. of or relating to a sovereign's reign.
regnant (re-jé-naht) adj. 1. reigning. 2. predominant. 3. prevalent.
regolith (ri-gol-lith) n. the layer of rock fragments immediately above the solid rock of Earth's crust.
regress (ri-gres) v. to go back to an earlier or more primitive form or state. regress n. regressing. regressor n.
regressive (ri-gres-siv) adj. 1. a backward movement, a retreat. 2. a return to an earlier stage of development.
regret (ri-gret) n. a feeling of sorrow for the loss of a person or thing, or of annoyance or disappointment or repentance; send one's regrets, to send polite expressions of regret or apology. regret v. (re-llev-ing) 1. to give relief to, to bring or be a relief to. 2. to introduce variation into, to make less monotonous. 3. to take a thing from (a person), the thief had relieved him of his watch. 4. to raise the siege of (a town). 5. to release (a person) from a duty or task by taking his place or providing a substitute. relieve oneself v. relieve oneself, to urinate or defecate. relieve one's feelings, to use strong language or vigorous behavior when annoyed.

relig. abbr. religion.

religion (ri-lj-lon) n. 1. belief in the existence of a superhuman controlling power, especially of God or gods, usually expressed in worship. 2. a particular system of faith and worship, the Christian religion. 3. something compared to religious faith as a controlling influence on a person's life. football is his religion.

religious (ri-lj-ús) adj. 1. of religion, a religious service. 2. believing firmly in a religion and paying great attention to its practices. 3. of a monastic order; a religious house, a monastery or convent. 4. very conscientious, with religious attention to detail. religious n. a person bound by monastic vows. religiously adv. religiously. n. n. n. n. n.

relinquish (ri-linsk-wish) v. 1. to give up or cease from (a plan or habit or belief etc.). 2. to surrender possession of. 3. to cease to hold, relinquished the reins.

relinquished the reins.

remainder n. to dispose of unsold copies of (a book) at a reduced price.

remains (ri-maynz) n. pl. what remains after other parts or things have been removed or used. 2. ancient buildings or objects that have survived when others are destroyed, relics. 3. a dead body, his mortal remains.

remark (ree-mahrk) n. a written or spoken comment, anything that is said. remark v. 1. to make a remark, to say. 2. to notice.

remarkable (ree-mahr-ká-bél) adj. worth noticing, exceptional, unusual. remarkably adv. remarkably. n. n. n. n. n. n. n.

remarkable (ree-mahr-ká-bél) adj. capable of being remedied.

remedial (ree-mée-dé-al) adj. providing a remedy for a disease or deficiency, remedial exercises.

remedy (rem-é-dee) n. (pl. -dies) something that cures or relieves a disease or that puts right a matter. remedy v. (rem-é-died, rem-é-dying) to be a remedy for, to put right.

remember (ri-mem-bér) v. 1. to keep in mind; to recall; to have in one's memory; to think about. 2. to keep in mind in a particular way; to heed.

remember (ri-mem-bér) v. to remember.
in one's mind. 2. to recall knowledge or experience to one's mind, to be able to do this. 3. to make a present to, remembered me in his will. 4. to mention as sending greetings, remember me to your mother. re-mem-ber-a-ble adj. re-mem-ber-er n. □ remember oneself, to remember one's intentions or to behave with suitable dignity after a lapse.

re-mem-brance (ri-mem-brâns) n. 1. remembering, being remembered, memory. 2. something that reminds people, a memento or memorial. 3. the length of time over which a person's memory extends. 4. remembrances, greetings conveyed in a message.

re-mind (ri-mind) v. to cause to remember or think of something.

re-mind-er (ri-mind-âr) n. a thing that reminds someone, a letter sent to remind someone.

re-mi-nisce (rem-i-nis) v. (re-mi-nisced, rem-i-nisc-ing) to talk or talk about past events and experiences.

re-mi-nis-cence (rem-i-nis-sâns) n. 1. thinking or talking about past events. 2. a remembered impression. 3. (often reminiscences) a spoken or written account of what one remembers.

re-mi-nis-cent (rem-i-nis-cent) adj. 1. inclined to reminisce, she was in a reminiscent mood. 2. having characteristics that recall something to one's mind, his style is reminiscent of Picasso's. rem-i-nis-cently adv.

re-miss (ri-miss) adj. negligent, you have been remiss in your duties or very remiss. re-miss-ly adv. re-miss-less ness n.

re-mis-sion (ri-mish-ân) n. 1. God's pardon or forgiveness of sins. 2. the remitting of a debt or penalty, shortening of a convict's prison sentence on account of his good behavior. 3. reduction of the force or intensity of something, slight remission of the pain.

re-mit (ri-mit) v. (re-mit-ted, re-mit-ting) 1. (of God) to forgive (sins). 2. to cancel (a debt), to refrain from inflicting (a punishment). 3. to make or become less intense, we must not remit our efforts. 4. to send (money etc.) to a person or place, please remit the interest to my home address. 5. to send (a matter for decision) to some authority. 6. to postpone.

re-mit-tance (ri-mit-âns) n. the sending of money to a person, the money sent.

re-mnant (rem-nânt) n. 1. a small remaining quantity or part or number of people or things. 2. a surviving trace of something. 3. a small piece of cloth left when the rest of the bolt has been used or sold.

re-mod-el (rec-mod-âl) v. (re-mod-eled, re-mod-el-ing) to model again or differently, to reconstruct or reorganize. re-mod-el-er n.

re-mon-strance (ri-mon-strâns) n. remonstrating, a protest. re-mon-strant adj. re-mon-strant-ly adv.

re-mon-strate (ri-mon-strat) v. (re-mon-strat-ed, re-mon-strat-ing) to make a protest, remonstrated with him about his behavior. re-mon-strat-ive (ri-mon-strâ-tiv) adj. re-mon-strat-er n. re-mon-stration (ree-mon-strâ-shân) n.

re-mo-ra (rem-ô-râ) n. a fish that attaches itself to ships, sharks, etc.

re-morse (ri-mors) n. deep regret for one's wrongdoing. re-morse-ful adj. re-morse-ful-ly adv.

re-morse-less (ri-mors-lis) adj. relentless. re-morse-less-ly adv.

re-mote (ri-moht) adj. (-mot-er, -mot-est) 1. far apart, far away in place or time, the remote past. 2. far from civilization, a remote village. 3. not close in relationship or connection, a remote ancestor; remote causes. 4. slight, I haven't the remotest idea. re-mote-ly adv. re-mote-ness n. □ remote control, control of apparatus etc. from a distance, usually by means of an electrically operated device, radio, etc.

re-mount (ree-mount) v. to mount again.

remount (ree-mount) n. a fresh horse for a rider.

re-mov-a-ble (ri-moo-vâ-bêl) adj. able to be removed.

re-mov-al (ri-moo-vâl) n. 1. removing, being removed. 2. transfer of furniture etc. to a different house etc.

re-move (ri-moov) v. (re-moved, re-mov-ing) 1. to take off or away from the place occupied. 2. to take off (clothing). 3. to dismiss from office. 4. to get rid of, this removes the last of my doubts. remove n. 1. the act of removing. 2. a stage or degree, a degree of difference, this is several removes from the truth. re-mov'er n.

re-moved (ri-moovd) adj. distant, remote, an accent not far removed from ours; a cousin once removed, a cousin's child or parent; twice removed, a cousin's grandchild or grandparent.

re-mu-ner-ate (ri-myoo-nô-rayt) v. (re-} re-mort'gage v. (-gaged, -gag-ing) muner-at-ed, re-mun-er-at-ing) to pay or reward (a person) for services rendered. re-mun-er-a-tor n. re-mun-er-a-tion (ri-myoo-né-ray-shén) n. re-mun-er-a-to-ry (ri-myoo-né-rá-tohr-ee) adj.

re-mun-er-a-tive (ri-myoo-né-rá-tiv) adj. giving good remuneration, profitable. re-mun-er-a-tive-ly adv. re-mun-er-a-tive-ness n.

Renais-sance (ren-ás-sáns) n. 1. the revival of art and literature in Europe (influenced by classical forms) in the 14th-16th centuries, the period of this. Renaissance, any similar revival.

re-nal (re-nál) adj. of the kidneys.

re-name (rec-náym) v. (re-named, re-nam-ing) to give a new name to.

re-nas-cence (ri-nas-éns, -nay-séns) n. 1. a rebirth, a renewal. 2. = Renaissance.

re-nas’cent adj.

rend (rend) v. (rend, rend-ing) v. to tear. rend’er n.

re-der’ (rend-dér) v. 1. to give, especially in return or exchange or as something due, a reward for services rendered. 2. to present or send in; account rendered, a bill previously sent in and not yet paid. 3. to cause to become, rendered him helpless. 4. to portray (a scene or figure etc.), to give a performance of (a play or character). 5. to translate, rendered into English. 6. to melt down (fat). rend’er n.

re-der-ing (rend-dér-ing) n. 1. the act of one who renders. 2. a translation. 3. a drawing of a building etc. done in perspective.

ren-dez-vous (rahn-di-vo) n. (pl. -vous, pr. -voox) 1. a prearranged meeting. 2. a prearranged or regular meeting place. rendezvous v. (ren-dez-voused, pr. -voood, ren-dez-vous-ing, pr. -vooo-ing) to meet at a rendezvous.

ren-di-tion (ren-di-shón) n. the way a dramatic role or musical piece etc. is rendered or performed.

re-neg (ri-ne-gag) n. someone who deserts from a group or cause or faith etc.

re-nege (ri-ne-g, -neg) v. (re-neged, re-ne-g-ing) to fail to keep a promise etc., reneged on their agreement. re-neg’er n.

re-ne-go-tiat-ing (ree-ni-goh-shi-ayt-ing) to negotiate once again, as a contract. re-ne-go-tiat’ (ree-ni-goh-shi-ayt-ing) n.

re-new (ri-noo) v. 1. to restore to its original state. 2. to replace with a fresh supply, baking supplies need renewing. 3. to get or make or give again, renewed their acquaintances or requests. 4. to arrange for a continuation or continued validity of, renew one’s subscription or lease or license. re-new’al n. re-new’er n.

re-new-a-bie (ri-noo-á-bél) adj. able to be renewed.

re-net (ren-it) n. a substance used to curdle milk in making cheese or junket.

re-nin (re-in) n. a substance in the processing of cheese.

re-nounce (ri-nouns) v. (re-nounced, re-noun-c-ing) 1. to give up (a claim or right etc.) formally, renounced his title. 2. to reject, to refuse to abide by (an agreement etc.) re-noun-c’ment n.

re-o-rate (ree-ni-goh-shi-ayt) v. (re-o-rate-d, re-o-rate-d-ing) to repair, to renew. re-o-rate-r n. re-o-rate’ (ree-ni-goh-shi-ayt) n.

re-noun (ri-noun) n. fame.

re-nouned (ri-nounded) adj. famous, celebrated.

rent’ (rent) v. see rend. rent n. a torn place in a garment etc., a split.

rent’d n. payment made periodically for the use of land or living quarters or machinery etc. rent v. 1. to pay rent for temporary use of. 2. to allow to be used in return for payment of rent. for rent, available to be rented.

rent-a-bie (rent-tá-bél) adj. able to be rented.

rent-al (ren-tál) n. 1. the amount paid or received as rent. 2. renting. 3. a rented house etc.

rent-free (rent-free) adj. & adv. with exemption from payment of rent.

renunci-a-tion (ri-nun-si-ay-shén) n. renouncing, giving something up.

re-open (ree-oh-pen) v. to open again.

re-oder (ree-or-dér) v. 1. to order again, to order further supplies of. 2. to put into a different order. reorder n. 1. a repeated order of products from the same source. 2. the products thus supplied.

re-organ-ize (ree-or-ga-niz) v. (re-or-ga-nized, re-or-ga-niz-ing) to organize in a new way. re-organ-iz-a-tion (ree-or-ga-niz-a-shén) n.

rep’ (rep) n. a textile fabric with a corded effect, used for curtains and upholstery.
rep² n. (informal) 1. repertory. 2. a representative. 3. reputation.
rep. abbr. 1. report. 2. reporter. 3. representative. 4. republican.
repair¹ (ri-pair) v. 1. to put into good or sound condition after damage or the effects of wear and tear. 2. to put right, to make amends for; repaired the omission; did what had been omitted. repair n. 1. the act or process of instance of repairing something. 2. condition as regards being repaired, keep it in good repair. re-pair' er n. repair² v. (old use) to go, repaired to the music room.
re-pair-a-ble (ri-pair-a-bêl) adj. able to be repaired.
re-pair-man (ri-pair-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person whose job is to repair things. re-pa-ration (rep-a-ray-shôn) n. 1. making amends. 2. reparations, compensation for war damages, demanded by the victor from a defeated enemy.
rep-a-tee (rep-a-tee) n. a witty reply, ability to make witty replies.
re-past (ri-past) n. (formal) a meal.
re-pa-tri-ate (ree-pay-tri-at-ed, re-pa-tri-at-ing) v. to send or bring back (a person) to his own country. re-pa-tri-ate (ree-pay-tri-at-it) n. a person who has been repatriated.
re-pa-tri-a-tion (ree-pay-tri-ay-shôn) n.
re-pay (ri-pay) v. (re-paid, re-pay-ing) 1. to pay back (money). 2. to do or make or give in return, repaid kindness with kindness. re-pay-ment n.
re-pay-a-ble (ri-pay-a-bêl) adj. able or needing to be repaid.
re-peal (ri-peal) v. to withdraw (a law) officially. repeat n. the repeating of a law. re-peal' er n.
re-peat (ri-peat) v. 1. to say or do or occur again. 2. to say aloud (something heard or learned by heart), repeat the oath after me. 3. to tell another person (something told to oneself). repeat n. 1. repeating. 2. something that is repeated, such as a television or radio broadcast or a passage of music. re-peat' able adj. □ repeating decimal, a recurring decimal. repeating rifle, a firearm that fires several shots without reloading. repeat itself, to recur in the same form. repeat oneself, to say or do the same thing again.
re-peat-ed (ri-pee-tid) adj. recurring or done again and again. re-peat-ed-ly adv.
re-peat-er (ri-pee-têr) n. 1. a device that repeats a signal. 2. a repeating rifle or other firearm.
re-pel (ri-pel) v. (re-pelled, repel-ling) 1. to drive away, repelled the attackers. 2. to refuse to accept, repelled all offers of help. 3. to be impossible for (a substance) to penetrate, the surface repels moisture. 4. to push away from itself by an unseen force (the opposite of attract), one north magnetic pole repels another. 5. to be repulsive or distasteful to.
re-pel-ent, re-pel-lant (ri-pel-ênt) adj. 1. repelling, arousing distaste. 2. not penetrable by a specified substance, the fabric is water-repellent. repellent, repellant n. a substance that repels something, insect repellents. re-pel-lent-ly adv. re-pel-lant-ly adv.
re-pent (ri-pent) v. to feel regret about (what one has done or failed to do). re-pent'er n. re-pent'ant adj. re-pent'ance n.
re-per-cus-sion (ree-pér-kush-ôn) n. 1. the recoil of something after impact. 2. an echo. 3. an indirect effect or reaction.
re-per-cus-sive (ree-pér-kus-iv) adj.
re-per-toire (ree-per-twar) n. a stock of songs or plays or acts etc. that a person or company knows and is prepared to perform.
re-per-to-ry (ree-per-toh-ri) n. (pl. -ries) 1. a repertoire. 2. theatrical performances of various plays for short periods (not for indefinite runs as in Broadway theaters). □ repertory company or theater, one giving such performances.
re-pe-ti-tion (rep-e-tish-ôn) n. repeating, being repeated, an instance of this.
re-pet-i-tive (ri-pet-i-tive) adj. characterized by repetition. re-pet-i-tive-ly adv. re-pet-i-tive-ness n.
re-pin (ri-pin) v. (re-pined, re-pin-ing) to fret, to be discontented. re-pin'er n.
re-plac. abbr. 1. replace. 2. replacement.
re-place (ri-plays) v. (re-placed, re-plac-ing) 1. to put back in place. 2.
to take the place of. 3. to find or provide a substitute for. re-plac'er n. re-place'ment n.
re-place'a-ble (ri-play-sä-bēl) adj. able to be replaced.
re-play (ree-play) v. to play (a match or recording etc.) again. replay (ree-play) n. replaying of a match or of a recorded incident in a game etc.
re-plen'ish (ri-plen-ish) v. to fill (a thing) again, to renew (a supply etc.). re-plen'ish'er n. re-plen'ish'ment n.
re-plete (ri-pleet) adj. 1. well-stocked or supplied. 2. full, gorged. re-plete'ness n. re-ple-tion (ri-plee-shon) n.
re-plev'in (ri-plev-in) n. 1. the restoration or recovery of sold merchandise for submission to trial and judgment. 2. the writ granting replevin. 3. the lawsuit arising out of replevin.
re-pli-ca (rep-li-kā) n. an exact copy or reproduction of something.
re-pli-cate (rep-li-kayt) v. (rep-li-cat-ed, rep-li-cat-ing) 1. to repeat. 2. to make a replica of. 3. to fold back on itself. replicate n. an identical or repeated procedure or experiment. re-pli-cation (rep-li-kay-shn) n.
re-pli-ly (ri-pli) v. (re-plied, re-pli-ling) to make an answer, to say in answer. reply n. (pl. -plies) 1. replying. 2. what is replied, an answer.
re-port (ri-pohrt) v. 1. to give an account of (something seen or done or studied), to tell as news; report progress, to state what has been done so far. 2. to write or give a description of (an event etc.) for publication or broadcasting. 3. to make a formal accusation about (an offense or offender). 4. to present oneself as arrived or returned, report to me on Monday. 5. to be responsible to a certain person as one's superior or supervisor. report n. 1. a spoken or written account of something seen or done or studied. 2. a description for publication or broadcasting. 3. a periodical statement about a pupil's or employee's work and conduct. 4. rumour, a piece of gossip. 5. an explosive sound like that made by a gun. re-port'a-ble adj. □ report card, a record of a student's academic achievement.
re-port-age (ri-pohr-tij, rep-ör-tahzh) n. the reporting of news for the press etc., a typical style of doing this.
re-port-ed-ly (ri-pohr-tid-lee) adv. according to reports.
re-port'er (ri-pohr-tër) n. a person employed to report news etc. for publication or broadcasting. rep-or-to-ri-al (rep-ör-tohr-i-al) adj.
re-pose1 (ri-pohz) n. 1. rest, sleep. 2. a peaceful state or effect, tranquility. re-pose v. (re-posed, re-pos-ing) to rest, to lie. re-pose'er n. re-pose'ful adj. □ in repose, (of a dead person) awaiting burial.
repose2 v. (re-posed, re-pos-ing) to place (trust etc.) in.
re-pos-i-tor-y (ri-poz-i-tohr-ee) n. (pl. -tor-ies) a place where things are stored.
re-pos-sess (ree-pō-zes) v. to regain possession of (goods on which payments have not been kept up). re-pos-ses'sion (ree-pō-zesh-ōn) n.
re-re-hend (rep-rē-hend) v. to rebuke. re-re-hen-sion (rep-rē-hen-shōn) n.
re-re-hen-sible (rep-rē-hen-sī-bēl) adj. deserving rebuke. re-re-hen'sibly adv.
re-re-sent (rep-ri-zent) v. 1. to show (a person or thing or scene) in a picture or play etc. 2. to describe or declare to be, representing himself as an expert. 3. to state in polite protest or remonstrance, we must represent to them the risks involved. 4. to symbolize, in Roman numerals C represents 100. 5. to be an example or embodiment of, the election results represent the views of the electorate. 6. to act as a deputy or agent or spokesman for, the President was represented by his wife.
re-re-sen-ta-tion (rep-ri-zen-tay-shn) n. 1. the act of representing or being represented. 2. the group of elected representatives serving a constituency. 3. a statement made by way of allegiance or to convey opinion. 4. a picture or image that represents something else. re-re-sen-ta'tion-al adj.
re-re-sen-ta-tive (rep-ri-zen-tā-tiv) adj. 1. typical of a group or class. 2. containing examples of a number of types, a representative selection. 3. consisting of elected representatives, based on representation by these, representative government. representative n. 1. a sample or specimen of something. 2. a person's or firm's agent. 3. a person chosen to represent another or others, or to take part in a legislative assembly on their behalf. 4. a member of the House of Representatives. re-re-sen'ta-tive-ly adv. re-re-sen'ta-tive-ness n. □ House of Representatives, the lower house of Congress in the U.S. repress (ri-pres) v. to keep down, to suppress, to keep (emotions etc.) from finding an outlet. re-pres-sion (ri-presh-ōn) n.

repressed (ri-prest) adj. suffering from repression of the emotions.

re-pres-sive (ri-pres-iv) adj. serving or intended to repress a person or thing.

re-prieve (ri-preev) n. 1. postponement or cancellation of a punishment, especially of the death sentence. 2. temporary relief from danger, postponement of trouble. repreive v. (re'-prived, re-priev-ing) to give a reprieve to.

repri-mand (rep-ri-mand) n. a rebuke, especially a formal or official one. repri-mand (rep-ri-mand) v. to give a reprieve to.

re-print (ri-print) v. to print again in the same or a new form. reprint (re-print) n. the reprinting of a book, a book reprinted.

re-pris-al (ri-prätzal) n. an act of retaliation; take reprisals, retaliate.

re-prise (ri-prez) n. a repeated action, especially a repeated passage in music.

re-pro (ree-proh) n. (pl. -pros) (informal) a reproduction. re-pro proof, (informal) a reproduction proof.

re-proach (ri-proch) v. to express disapproval to (a person) for a fault or offense. reproach n. 1. reproaching, an instance of this. 2. a thing that brings disgrace or discredit. re-proach'a-ble adj. re-proach'ing-ly adv. re-proachful adj. re-proach'ful-ness n. re-proach'ful-ly adv.

re-probate (rep-robat) n. an immoral or unprincipled person. reprobate adj. immoral or unprincipled.

re-pri-bation (rep-roh-bay-shon) n. strong condemnation.

re-pro-cess (ree-proses, -proh-ses) v. to process again.

re-produce (ree-proh-dooz) v. (re-produced, re-produc-ing) 1. to produce a copy of (a picture etc.). 2. to cause to be seen or heard again or to occur again. 3. to have a specified quality when reproduced, some colors don't reproduce well. 4. to produce further members of the same species by natural means, to produce (offspring). re-produc'er n.

re-produc'ible (ree-proh-dooh-si-bel) adj. able to be reproduced.

re-produc-tion (ree-proh-duk-shon) n. 1. reproducing, being reproduced. 2. a copy of a painting etc.; reproduction furniture, made in imitation of an earlier style. re-produc-tion proof, a proof suitable for making a photographic plate.

re-produc-tive (ree-proh-kiv) adj. of or belonging to reproduction, the reproductive system.

re-pro-ga-phy (ri-prog-fay) n. the science and practice of copying documents by photography, xerography.

re-proof (ri-proof) n. an expression of condemnation for a fault or offense.

re-prove (ri-prov) v. (re-proved, re-prov-ing) to give a reproof to. re-prov'er n. re-prov'ing-ly adv.

rept. abbr. report.

rep'tile (rep-tile, -til) n. a member of the class of cold-blooded animals with a backbone and relatively short legs or no legs at all, such as turtles, snakes, lizards, crocodiles. rep'til-i-an (rep-till-é-an) adj.

Repub. abbr. 1. Republic. 2. Republican.

re-pub-lic (ri-puh-lik) n. a country in which the supreme power is held by the people or their elected representatives, or by an elected or nominated president.

Republic of China, also Taiwan a country off the southeast coast of China.

re-pub-lic-an (ri-puh-lik-án) adj. of or like or advocating a republic. republic-an n. 1. a person advocating republican government. 2. Republican, a member of the Republican Party, one of the two main political parties in the U.S. re-pub-lic-can-ism n.

re-pu-di ate (ri-pyooh-di-ayt) v. (re-pu-di-at-ed, re-pu-di-at-ing) to reject or disown utterly, to deny, repudiate the accusation; repudiate the agreement, to refuse to abide by it. re-pu-di-a-tor n. re-pu-di-a-tion (ri-pyooh-di-ayshon) n.

re-pug-nant (ri-pug-nant) adj. distasteful, objectionable. re-pug'nant-ly adv. re-pug'nan-cence n.

re-pulse (ri-puls) v. (re-pulsed, re-puls-ing) 1. to drive back (an attacking force). 2. to reject (an offer or help etc.) firmly, to rebuff. repulse n. 1. the act of repulsing or being repulsed. 2. a rebuff.

re-pul-sion (ri-puhl-shon) n. 1. repelling, being repelled. 2. a feeling of strong distaste, revulsion. 3. (in physics) the tendency of bodies to repel each other.

re-pul-sive (ri-puhl-siv) adj. arousing dis-company reserves the right to offer a substitute. 3. to order or set aside (seats or accommodation etc.) for a particular person to use at a future date. 4. to postpone, reserve judgment. reserve n. 1. something reserved for future use, an extra amount or stock kept available for use when needed. 2. (also reserves) forces outside the regular armed services and liable to be called out in an emergency, a member of these. 3. an area of land reserved for some special purpose, a nature reserve. 4. a limitation on one's agreement or acceptance of an idea etc. 5. a reserve price. 6. a tendency to avoid showing one's feelings and to lack cordiality toward other people. reserve adj. 1. being a reserve. 2. kept in reserve, reserve funds. □In reserve, in a state of being unused but available. reserve price, the lowest price that will be accepted for something sold at public auction.

re-served (ri-zurvd) adj. (of a person) showing reserve of manner. re-serv-ed-ly (ri-zur-vid-lee) adv. re-serv-ed-ness n.

re-serv-lst (ri-zur-vist) n. a member of a country's reserve forces.

re-ser-voir (rez-er-vwahr) n. 1. a natural or artificial lake that is a source or store of water for a town etc. 2. a container for a supply of fuel or other liquid. 3. any large extra or reserve supply.

re-shuf-fle (ree-shuf-él) v. (ree-shuf ted, re-shuf-fling) 1. to shuffle (cards) again. 2. to interchange the posts or responsibilities (of a group of people). re-shuffle n. reshuffling; a Cabinet reshuffle, redistribution of Cabinet posts among the same people.

re-side (ri-zid) v. (re-sid-ed, re-sid-ing) 1. to have one's home (in a certain place), to dwell permanently. 2. to be present or vested in a person, supreme authority resides in the President.

re-si-dence (rez-i-déns) n. 1. a place where one resides. 2. the act or period of residing in a particular place; take up one's residence, to begin to dwell. □In residence, living in a specified place for the performance of one's work or duties.

re-si-den-cy (rez-i-dén-sée) n. (pl. -cies) 1. residence (definition 2). 2. a period of specialized medical training.

re-si-dent (rez-i-dén-t) adj. residing, in residence. resident n. 1. a permanent inhabitant of a place, not a visitor. 2. a physician undergoing specialized medical training at a hospital.

res-i-den-tial (rez-i-den-shal) adj. 1. containing or suitable for private houses, a residential area. 2. connected with or based on residence, residential qualifications for voters. re-sid-u-al (ri-zij-oo-äl) adj. left over as a residue. residuals n. payments (to an actor or writer) for each rerun of a television program or film. re-sid'u-al-ly adv.

re-sid-u-ar-y (ri-zij-oo-er-ee) adj. residual. 2. of the residue of an estate; residuary legatee, the one who inherits the remainder of an estate after specific items have been allotted to others.

re-si-due (rez-i-doo) n. 1. the remainder, what is left over. 2. the substance left after combustion or evaporation.

re-sid-u-um (ri-zij-oo-üm) n. (pl. -sid-u-a, pr. -zij-oo-ä) residue.

re-sign (ri-zin) v. to give up or surrender (one's job or property or claim etc.). □resign oneself to, to be ready to accept and endure, to accept as inevitable.

re-sig-na-tion (rez-ig-nay-shon) n. 1. resigning. 2. a document or statement conveying that one wishes to resign. 3. a resigned attitude or expression.

re-signed (ri-zinnd) adj. having or showing patient acceptance of an unwelcome task or situation. re-sig-ned-ed-ly adv. □be resigned to, to resign oneself to.

re-sil-i-ent (ri-zil-yent) adj. 1. springing back to its original form after being bent or stretched, springy. 2. (of a person) readily recovering from shock or depression etc. re-sil-ent-ly 'adv. re-sil'ence n. re-sil-len-cy (ri-zil-yén-seé) n.

re-lin (rez-in) n. 1. a sticky substance that oozes from fir and pine trees and from many other plants, used in making varnish etc. 2. a similar substance made synthetically, used as a plastic or in making plastics. re-slin-ous adj.

re-lit (ri-zist) v. 1. to oppose, to use force in order to prevent something from happening or being successful. 2. to regard (a plan or idea) unfavorably. 3. to be undamaged or unaffected by, to prevent from penetrating, pans that resist heat. 4. to refrain from accepting or yielding to, can't resist chocolates or temptation. re-lit'er n. re-lit'ble adj. re-lite'less adj.

re-lit-ance (ri-zis-täns) n. 1. resisting, the power to resist something. 2. an influre-set n.

re-set' v. (-set, -set-ing)

re-set'tle v. (-tled, -tling) re-set'tle-ment n.

re-shape' v. (-shaped, -shap-ing)

re-sharp'en v.
ence that hinders or stops something. 3. the property of not conducting heat or electricity, the measure of this. 4. a secret organization resisting the authorities, especially in a conquered or enemy-occupied country. □ the line of least resistance, the easiest method or course.

resist-ant (ri-zis-tant) adj. offering resistance, capable of resisting, heat-resistant plastics.

res-i-s-tiv-i-ty (ree-sis-tiv-i-tee) n. the power of a specified material to resist the passage of electric current.

res-i-s-tor (ri-zis-tor) n. a device having resistance to the passage of electric current.

re-so-lve (ree-solv) v. (re-solved, re-solving) 1. to decide firmly. 2. (of a committee or assembly) to pass a resolution. 3. to solve or settle (a problem or doubts etc.). 4. to separate into constituent parts; the resolving power of a lens, its ability to magnify things distinctly.

resolve n. 1. something one has decided to do, a resolution, and she kept her resolve. 2. great determination. re-solv'er n. re-solv'a-ble adj.

re-solved (ri-zolv'd) adj. (of a person) resolute.

res-o-nance (rez-o-nans) n. 1. the state of being resonant. 2. a prolonged response or increase of sound in one body reacting to sound waves from another body that is vibrating.

res-o-nant (rez-o-nant) adj. resounding, echoing. res'o-nant-ly adv.

res-o-nate (rez-o-nate) v. (re-so-nat-ed, re-so-nat-ing) to produce or to show resonance, to resound. re-so-nat-or n.

re-sorp-tion (ri-sorp-shun) n. the act of absorbing again or being absorbed, especially absorption of tissue within the body.

re-sort (ri-zort) v. 1. to turn for help, to adopt as an expedient, resorted to violence. 2. to go, especially as a frequent or customary practice, police watched the bars to which he was known to resort.

resort n. 1. an expedient, resorting to this, compulsion is our only resort; without resort to violence. 2. a place resort to, a popular holiday place. re-sort'er n. □ in the last resort, when everything else has failed.

re-sound (ri-zow'd) v. 1. (of a voice or sound etc.) to fill a place with sound, to produce echoes. 2. (of a place) to be filled with sound, to echo.

re-sound-ing (ri-zown-ding) adj. (of an event etc.) notable, a resounding victory. re-sound'ing-ly adv.

re-source (ree-sorhs, ri-sorhs) n. 1. something to which one can turn for help or support or to achieve one's purpose. 2. a means of relaxation or amusement. 3. ingenuity, quick wit. 4. resources, available assets, we pooled our resources; a source of wealth to a country, natural resources such as minerals.

re-source'ful (ri-sorhs-fül) adj. clever at finding ways of doing things. re-source'ful-ly adv. re-source'ful-ness n.

resp. abbr. 1. respective. 2. respectively.

re-spect (ri-spekt) n. 1. admiration felt toward a person or thing that has good qualities or achievements, politeness arising from this. 2. attention, consideration, showing respect for people's feelings. 3. relation, reference, this is true with respect to English but not to French. 4. a particular detail or aspect, in this one respect. 5. respects, polite greetings; pay one's respects, make a polite visit; pay one's last respects, attend a person's funeral or wake etc. respect v. to feel or show respect for. re-spect'er n.

be no respecter of persons, to treat everyone in the same way without being influenced by their importance.

re-spect'a-ble (ri-spek-tä-bël) adj. 1. of moderately good social standing, honest and decent, proper in appearance or behavior. 2. of a moderately good standard or size etc., not bringing disgrace or embarrassment, a respectable score. re-spect'a-bly adv. re-spect'a-bil-i-ty (ri-spek-tä-bil-i-tee) n.

re-spect'ful (ri-spek-fü-l) adj. showing respect. re-spect'ful-ly adv. re-spect'ful-ness n.

re-spect'ing (ri-spek-ting) prep. concerning, with respect to.

re-spec-tive (ri-spek-tiv) adj. belonging to each as an individual, were given places according to their respective ranks.

respectively / restoration re·spec·tive·ly (ri-spek-tiv-lee) adv. for each separately, in the order mentioned.

re·pli·ca·tion (res-pli-ray-shun) n. 1. breathing. 2. a plant's absorption of oxygen and emission of carbon dioxide.

re·pli·ca·tor (res-pli-ray-tor) n. 1. a device worn over the nose and mouth to filter or purify the air before it is inhaled. 2. an apparatus for giving artificial respiration.

re·pli·ra·to·ry (res-pli-rä-tohr-ee) adj. of or involving respiration.

re·spir (ri-spir) v. (re·spired, re·spir·ing) to breathe, (of plants) to perform the process of respiration. re·spir·a·ble adj. re·spir·a·bil·i·ty (ri-spir-ä-bil-it-ee) n.

re·pite (res-pit) n. 1. an interval of rest or relief. 2. delay permitted before an obligation must be fulfilled or a penalty suffered.

re·splend·ent (ri-splen-dent) adj. brilliant with color or decorations. re·splend·ent·ly adv. re·splend·ence n.

re·spond (ri-spond) v. to make an answer. re·spond·er n. [respond to] to act or behave in answer to or because of, the horse responds to the bridle; the vehicle responds to its controls; the disease did not respond to treatment, was not cured or relieved by it; she responds to kindness, behaves better if treated kindly.

re·spond·ent (ri-spond-dent) n. a person who responds, especially a defendant in various legal proceedings. respondent adj. making answer.

re·sponse (ri-spons) n. 1. an answer. 2. any part of the liturgy said or sung in answer to the priest. 3. an act or feeling or movement produced by a stimulus or by another's action.

re·spon·si·bil·i·ty (ri-spon-si-bil-it-ee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being responsible. 2. something for which one is responsible.

re·spon·si·ble (ri-spon-sibl) adj. 1. legally or morally obliged to take care of something or to carry out a duty, liable to be blamed for loss or failure etc. 2. having to account for one's actions, you will be responsible to the president himself. 3. capable of rational conduct. 4. trustworthy, a responsible person. 5. involving important duties, a responsible position. 6. being the cause of something, the plague was responsible for many deaths. re·spon·si·bly adv. re·spon·si·ble·ness n.

re·spon·sive (ri-spon-siv) adj. responding warmly and favorably to an influence. re·spon·sive·ly adv. re·spon·sive·ness n.

rest1 (rest) v. 1. to be still, to cease from movement or action or working, especially in order to regain one's energy. 2. to cause or allow to do this, sit down and rest your feet. 3. (of a matter under discussion) to be left without further investigation. 4. to place or be placed for support, rested the parcel on the table. 5. to rely, the case rests on evidence of identification. 6. (of a look) to slight, to be directed, his gaze rested on his son. rest n. 1. inactivity or sleep as a way of regaining one's energy, a period of this. 2. a prop or support for an object. 3. an interval of silence between notes in music, a sign indicating this. rest·er n. [at rest, not moving; (of the dead) free from trouble or anxiety; set your mind at rest, stop being anxious. come to rest, to cease movement. lay to rest, see lay] rest cure, a prolonged period of rest, usually in bed, as medical treatment. rest home, a place where old or frail people can be cared for. rest room, a public toilet.

rest2 v. 1. to be left in the hands or charge of, it rests with you to suggest terms. 2. to remain in a specified state, rest assured, it will be a success. rest n. the rest, the remaining part, the others.

res·tau·rant (res-ta-rant) n. a place where meals can be bought and eaten.

res·ta·ra·teur (res-ta-rah-tur) n. the proprietor of a restaurant.

rest·ful (rest-ful) adj. giving rest or a feeling of rest. rest·ful·ly adv. rest·ful·ness n.

res·ti·tu·tion (res-ti-too-shun) n. 1. restoration of a thing to its proper owner or its original state. 2. reparation for injury or damage.

res·ti·ve (res-tiv) adj. restless, resisting control because made impatient by delay or restraint. res·ti·ve·ly adv. res·ti·ve·ness n.

rest·less (rest-lis) adj. 1. unable to rest or to be still. 2. without rest or sleep, a restless night. rest·less·ly adv. rest·less·ness n.

res·to·ra·tion (res-to-ray-shun) n. 1. restoring, being restored. 2. an object restored to its original state, as a painting, an old building, etc. the Restoration, the reestablishment of the monarchy in England in 1660 when Charles II became king.

restorative (ri-stö-rə-tiv) adj. tending to restore health or strength. restorative n. a restorative food or medicine or treatment.

restore (ri-stör) v. (re-störed, re-störing) 1. to bring back to its original state by repairing or rebuilding etc. 2. to bring back to good health or vigor. 3. to put back in its former position, to reinstate. restorer n., restorative adj.

strain (ri-strān) v. to hold back (a person or thing) from movement or action, to keep under control. strain'er n., strainable adj.

strained (ri-strānd) adj. showing restraint. strain-ed-ly (ri-strāy-nid-lee) adv.

strain (ri-strāint) n. 1. restraining, being restrained. 2. something that restrains, a limiting influence. 3. avoidance of exaggeration in literary or artistic work. restraint of trade, an action seeking to interfere with free-market conditions.

strict (ri-strīkt) v. to put a limit on, to subject to limitations. strict-ion (ri-strīk-shōn) n. strict'ed ed adj. strict'ed-ly adv.

strict'ive (ri-strīk-tiv) adj. restricting. strict'ive-ly adv. strict'iveness n. restrictive clause, a clause that limits the meaning of a word or phrase, as "that she carried" in the bag that she carried was heavy. restrictive practices, agreements to limit competition or output in industry.

result (ri-zult) n. 1. that which is produced by an activity or operation, an effect. 2. a statement of the score or marks or the name of the winner in a sporting event or competition or examination. 3. an answer or formula etc. obtained by calculation. result v. 1. to occur as a result, the troubles that resulted from the merger. 2. to have a specified result, the match resulted in a draw. get results, to achieve a significant and satisfactory result.

result-ant (ri-zul-tānt) adj. occurring as a result, the resultant profit. resultant n. a force etc. equivalent to two or more of these acting in different directions at the same point.

resume (ri-zoom) v. (re-sumed, re-sum-ing) 1. to get or take or occupy again; resume one's seat, to sit down again. 2. to begin again, to begin to speak or work or use again. resume (ri-zump-shōn) n. ré-su-mér, ré-su-me (rez-ú-may) n. 1. a summary. 2. a brief account of one's qualifications and experience, prepared for use in applying for a job.

supply (ree-sū-plē) v. (re-supplied, re-supplying) to supply again.

surface (ree-sūr-fis) v. (re-surfaced, re-surfacing) 1. to put a new surface on (a road etc.). 2. to come to the surface again; the problem resurfaced, reappeared.

sur-gence (ri-sur-jens) n. a rise or revival after defeat or destruction or disappearance etc. sur'gent adj.

res-us-cit-ate (ri-sus-i-tät) v. (resus-ci-tät-ed, resus-ci-tät-ing) 1. to bring or come back from unconsciousness. 2. to revive (a custom or institution etc.). resus-ci-ta-tion (ri-sus-i-tä-shōn) n.

res-us-cit-ate (ri-sus-i-tät-tōr) n. 1. a person or thing that resuscitates. 2. a respiratory machine that provides oxygen or a mixture of oxygen and carbon dioxide to a person's lungs to restore respiration.

retain a. retain. 2. retired. 3. return.

retail (ree-tayl) n. the selling of goods to the general public (not for resale). retail adj. & adv. in the retail trade. retail v. 1. to sell or be sold in the retail trade. 2. to recount, to relate details of. retailer n.

retain (ri-tayn) v. 1. to keep in one's possession or use. 2. to continue to have, not lose, the fire had retained its heat. 3. to keep in one's memory, she retained a clear impression of the building. 4. to hold in place; a retaining wall, one sup-policy of seeking to recover lost territory etc.

reveal (ri-vel v. to make known, to uncover and allow to be seen. reveal-ment n. reveal-ing ly adv.

reveal-elle (rev-é-lee) n. a morning bugle call to awaken military personnel.

reveal (rev-él) v. (rev-él-ed, rev-él-ing) 1. to take great delight, some people revel in gossip. 2. to hold revels. reveal n. 1. reveling. 2. revels, an occasion of boisterous merrymaking. reveal er n.

revel-a-tion (rev-é-lay-shon) n. 1. revealing, making known something that was secret or hidden. 2. something revealed, especially something surprising. 3. Revelation, the last book of the New Testament (see Apocalypse). (This book is often referred to incorrectly as Revelations.) reveal a-tion al adj. reveal-ation-a-ry (ri-vel-a-ry-tohr-ee, rev-é-lá-) adj.

reveal-ry (rev-él-ree) n. reveling, revels.

revenge (ri-vénj) n. 1. punishment or injury inflicted in return for what one has suffered. 2. a desire to inflict this. 3. opportunity to defeat in a return game an opponent who won the first game. revenge v. (revenge ed, revenge ing) to avenge; be avenged or revenge oneself. to get satisfaction by inflicting vengeance. revenge er n. revenge ful adj.

revenue (rev-é-noo, -nyoo) n. a country's annual income from taxes, duties, etc., used for paying public expenses. revenue cutter, a small armed government ship used to prevent smuggling. revenue officer, a government agent concerned with the enforcement of revenue laws and the prevention of smuggling. revenue stamp, a stamp that indicates a tax has been paid.

reverb (ri-vurb, rev-urb) n. (informal) 1. reverberation. 2. an echo produced electronically in recorded music. 3. a device for producing this.

reverberate (ri-vur-bé-rayt) v. (re-verber-at-ed, re-verber-at-ing) to echo, to resound. reverber ator n. reverber a tion (ri-vur-bé-ray-shon) n.

revere (ri-ver) v. (re-ver ed, re-ver ing) to feel deep respect or religious veneration for.

reverence (rev-ér-éns) n. 1. a feeling of awe and respect or veneration. 2. (old use or humorous) a title used in speaking to or about a clergyman, your or his reverence. reverence v. (rev-ér-enced, revernorish v. rever lification n. reverl ify v. (-fled, -flying) to feel or show reverence toward.

reverend (rev-ér-énd) adj. 1. deserving to be treated with respect. 2. the Reverend, the title of a clergyman (see the note under Rev.). reverend n. (informal) a clergyman.

reverent (rev-ér-ént) adj. feeling or showing reverence. reverent ly adv.

reverential (rev-ér-en-shal) adj. reverent.

reverie (rev-ér-ée) n. a daydream, a state of daydreaming.

reversal (ri-vur-sal) n. reversing, being reversed.

reverse (ri-vurs) adj. facing or moving in the opposite direction, opposite in character or order, upside down. reverse v. (re-versed, re-vers-ing) 1. to turn the other way around or up or inside out. 2. to convert to the opposite kind or effect, reversed the tendency; reverse the charges, make the recipient (not the caller) pay for a telephone call. 3. to annul (a decree or decision etc.). 4. to move in the opposite direction, (of a vehicle) to travel backward. 5. to make (an engine or machine) work in the opposite direction, to cause (a vehicle) to travel backward. reverse n. 1. the reverse side or effect. 2. the opposite of the usual manner, the name was printed in reverse. 3. a piece of misfortune, suffered several reverses. 4. reverse gear. revers er n. reverse ly adv. reverse gear, a gear used to make a vehicle etc. travel backward.

reversible (ri-vur-si-bel) adj. able to be reversed, (of a garment) able to be worn with either side turned outward.

reversible n. a reversible garment. reversible bly adv. reverser reversible bil ly-ty (ri-vur-si-bil-i-tee) n. reversible ness n.

reversion (ri-vur-zhon) n. 1. reverting. 2. the legal right to possess something when its present holder relinquishes it, the returning of a right or property in this way. reversion ar y (ri-vur-zhon er-ee) adj. Note that reversion does not mean reversal.

revert (ri-vurt) v. 1. to return to a former condition or habit or type. 2. to return to a subject in talk or thought. 3. (of property etc.) to return or pass to another owner by reversion. revert bly adj.

review (ri-vyu) n. 1. a general survey of past events or of a subject. 2. a reexamination or reconsideration; the salary scale is under review, is being reconsidered. 3. a ceremonial inspection of troops or a fleet etc. 4. a published report assessing the merits of a book or play etc. review v. 1. to survey. 2. to reexamine or reconsider. 3. to inspect (troops or a fleet etc.) ceremonially. 4. to write a review of a book or play etc.. review er (ri-vyo0-er) n. ▷ Do not confuse review with revue.

revile (ri-vil) v. (reviled, reviling) to criticize angrily in abusive language. revil er n. revilement n.

revise (ri-viz) v. (revised, revising) 1. to reexamine and alter or correct. 2. to go over (work already learned) in preparation for an examination. revis er n. revis or revisable adj.

revised (ri-vizh-on) n. ▷ Revised Version, the revision (1870–84) of the Authorized Version of the Bible. Revised Standard Version, the revision (1937–52) of the American Standard Version of the Bible.

revis ion ist (ri-vizh-0-nist) n. a Communist who insists on modifying the Marxist theories or practices that are considered authoritative. revis ion ism n.

revitalize (rec-viz-ta-liz) v. (revital ized, revitalizing) to bring back vitality to. revital ization (rev-iz-ta-li-za tion) n.

revive (ri-viv) v. (revived, reviving) 1. to come or bring back to life or consciousness or strength. 2. to come or bring back into use or activity or fashion etc. reviver n.

revify (ri-viv-i-fi) v. (revified, revifying) to give new life to. revification (ri-viv-i-fi-ca tion) n.

revocable (rev-o-kā-bel) adj. able to be repealed, withdrawn, or rescinded.

revoke (ri-vohk) v. (revoked, revoking) 1. to withdraw or cancel (a decree or license etc.). 2. to fail to follow suit in a card game when able to do so.

revoker n. revocation (rev-o-kā-shōn) n.

revolt (ri-vohlt) v. 1. to take part in a rebellion. 2. to be in a mood of protest or defiance. 3. to feel strong disgust. 4. to cause a feeling of strong disgust in (a person). revolt n. 1. an act or state of rebelling or defying authority. 2. a sense of disgust. revolt er n.

revolt ing (ri-vohl-ting) adj. causing disgust. revolt ing ly adv.

revolution (rev-ō-loo-shōn) n. 1. substitution of a new system of government, especially by force. 2. any complete change of method or conditions etc., a revolution in the treatment of burns. 3. revolving, rotation, a single complete orbit or movement of this kind.

revolution ary (rev-ō-loo-shō-ner) adj. 1. of political revolution. 2. involving a great change, revolutionary new ideas. revolutionary n. (pl. -ar-ies) a person who begins or supports a political revolution. ▷ Revolutionary War, see American Revolution.

revolution ary ism (rev-ō-loo-shō-niz m) n.

revolve (ri-volv) v. (revolved, revolving) 1. to turn or cause to turn around, to rotate. 2. to move in a circular orbit. 3. to turn over (a problem etc.) in one’s mind. revolver a bomb with several partitions turning around a central axis.

revolving fund, a fund from which loans are made by using money repaid on earlier loans.

revolver (ri-vol-vor) n. a pistol with a revolving mechanism that makes it possible to fire it a number of times without reloading.

revue (ri-vyoo) n. a theatrical entertainment consisting of a series of unrelated skits and musical episodes, often satirizing current events. revue ist n. ▷ Do not confuse revue with review.

revolution sion (ri-vul-shōn) n. 1. a feeling of strong disgust. 2. a sudden violent change of feeling, a revulsion of public feeling in favor of the accused woman.

reward (ri-word) n. 1. something given or received in return for what is done or for a service or merit. 2. a sum of money offered for the detection of a criminal, return of lost property, etc. reward v. to give a reward to.

rewarding (ri-wor-ding) adj. (of an occupation) well worth doing.
ri'-bbed (ribd) adj. 1. with raised ridges. 2. knitted in rib.

ri'-bbon (rib-on) n. 1. a narrow band of fine ornamental material used for decoration or for tying something. 2. a ribbon of special color or pattern worn to indicate the award of a medal or order etc. 3. a long narrow strip of material, such as an inked strip used in a typewriter; in ribbons or torn to ribbons, torn into ragged strips.

ri'-bo-fla-vin (ri-boh-flay-vin) n. the chief growth-promoting factor in the vitamin B complex, occurring in eggs, liver, milk, leafy vegetables, etc.

ri'-bo-nu-cle*i-c (ri-boh-noo-klee-ik) adj. a nucleic acid controlling the synthesis of proteins.

ri'-bo-some (ri-boh-som) n. a minute particle containing ribonucleic acid and proteins. ri'-bo-so-mal (ri-boh-soh-mal) adj.

ri'-ce (ris) n. 1. a kind of grass grown in marshes in hot countries, producing seeds that are used as food. 2. these seeds. ri'-cers (rico, ricer-ing) to pass (cooked potatoes etc.) through a device to form thin strings. ric'er n.

ri'-ch (rich) adj. 1. having much wealth. 2. having a large supply of something; the country is rich in natural resources. 3. splendid, made of costly materials, elaborate, rich furniture. 4. producing or produced abundantly, rich soil; a rich harvest. 5. (of food) containing a large proportion of fat, butter, eggs, or spices etc. 6. (of a mixture in an internal combustion engine) containing more than the normal proportion of fuel. 7. (of a color or sound or smell) pleasantly deep or strong. 8. (informal) highly amusing. ri'-chess n. ri'-ch, the rich, people having great wealth.

ri'-ches (rich-iz) n. pl. a great quantity of money or property or valuable possessions.

ri'-ch-ly (rich-lee) adv. 1. in a rich way. 2. thoroughly, the book richly deserves its success.

ri'-ch-mond (rich-mond) the capital of Virginia.

ri'-ch-ter (rik-tor) scale a scale ranging from 0 to 10 for measuring the magnitude of earthquakes.

ri'-ck (rik) n. a built stack of hay etc.

ri'-ck-ets (rik-its) n. a children's disease caused by deficiency of vitamin D, resulting in softening and deformity of the bones.

ri'-cet-si-a (ri-ket-si-ä) n. (pl. -as) a parasitic microorganism causing typhus.
rickety / rifleman

rick·et·y (rik-ë-te) adj. shaky, insecure.

rick·ey (rik-e) n. a drink usually containing lime juice and gin.

rick·rack (rik-rak) n. zigzag braid used for trimming.

rick·shaw, rick·sha (rik-shaw) n. a light two-wheeled hooded vehicle drawn by one or more persons.

ric·o·chet (rik-ō-shay, rik-ō-shay) v. (ric·o·cheted, ric·o·cheted, or ric·o·chet·ted, ric·o·chet·ting) to rebound from a surface as a missile does when it strikes with a glancing blow. ricochet n. a rebound of this kind, a hit made by it.

ri·cot·ta (ri-kot-tä) n. an Italian cottage cheese.

rid (rid) v. (rid or rid·ded, rid·ding) to free from something unpleasant or unwanted, rid the house of mice; was glad to be rid of him. rid·der n. □ get rid of, to cause to go away; (informal) to succeed in selling.

rid·dance (rid-åns) n. riding. □ good riddance, a welcome freedom from a person or thing one is rid of.

rid·den (rid·ën) adj. full of or dominated by, rat-ridden cells; drug-ridden.

rid·dle1 (rid·el) n. 1. a question or statement designed to test ingenuity or give amusement in finding its answer or meaning. 2. something or someone puzzling or mysterious.

rid·dle2 v. (rid·died, rid·dling) 1. to pierce with many holes, riddled the car with bullets. 2. to permeate thoroughly, riddled with disease.

ride (rid) v. (rode, rid·den, rid·ling) 1. to sit on and be carried by (a horse etc.). 2. to go on horseback or bicycle or train or other conveyance. 3. to sit on and manage a horse. 4. to be supported on, to float or seem to float, the ship rode the waves or rode at anchor; the moon was riding high. 5. to yield to (a blow) so as to reduce its impact. 6. (informal) to try to annoy or to tease. ride n. 1. a spell of riding. 2. a journey in a vehicle, only a short ride into town. 3. the feel of a ride, the car gives a smooth ride. 4. a thing to ride for fun, such as a merry-go-round or roller coaster. □ let it ride, to take no further action. ride down, to overtake or tramplé deliberately while riding on horseback. ride for a fall, to act riskily. ride high, to be successful.

ride out the storm, to survive a storm or difficulty successfully. ride up, (of a garment) to work upward when worn. take for a ride, (slang) to take away by car and murder (a person); to deceive or swindle.

rid·er (rr-deir) n. 1. a person who rides a horse or bicycle etc. 2. an additional clause supplementing a statement etc., an expression of opinion added to a verdict.

rid·er·less (rr-deir-lis) adj. without a rider.

rid·er·ship (rr-deir-ship) n. the people who travel by a particular form of public transportation during a specified period of time.

ridge (rij) n. 1. a narrow raised strip, a line where two upward-sloping surfaces meet. 2. an elongated region of high barometric pressure. ridge v. (ridged, ridg·ing) 1. to break up into ridges. 2. to mark with ridges. 3. to plant in ridges. ridg‘y adj. (ridg·i-er, ridg·i-est) □ ridge line, a line marking the top of the ridge.

ridged (rijd) adj. formed into ridges.

ridge·pole (rij-pohl) n. the horizontal pole of a long tent.

rid·i·cule (rid·i-kyool) n. the process of making a person or thing appear ridiculous. ridicule v. (rid·i·cu·led, rid·i·cu·ling) to subject to ridicule, to make fun of.

ri·dic·u·lous (ri-dik-yu-lus) adj. 1. deserving to be laughed at, especially in a malicious or scurrilous way. 2. not worth serious consideration, preposterous. ri·dic·u·lous·ly adv. ri·dic·u·lous·ness n.

Ries·ling (reez-ling) n. a kind of dry white wine.

rife (rif) adj. 1. occurring frequently, widespread, crime was rife in the city. 2. well provided, full, the country was rife with rumors of war. rife·ly adv. rife·ness n.

rif·f (rif) n. a short repeated phrase in jazz and similar music.

rif·f·le (rif·el) v. (rif·led, rif·fling) 1. to turn (pages) in quick succession, to leaf through quickly, rifled through the book. 2. to shuffle (playing cards) rapidly by flexing and combining two halves of the pack.

rif·f·raff (rif·raf) n. the rabble, disreputable people.

ri·fle1 (rr-fel) n. 1. a gun with a long barrel cut with spiral grooves to make the bullet spin and so travel more accurately when fired. 2. rifles, troops equipped with rifles.

ri·fler n.

rif·le2 v. (rr·fled, rr·fling) 1. to search and to rob, rifled the safe. 2. to cut spiral grooves in (a gun barrel).

ri·fle·man (rr·fel·man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) 1. a person using a rifle. 2. a soldier, especially in the infantry, armed with a rifle.
rifling (ri-fling) n. 1. the process of cutting spiral grooves (in a gun barrel). 2. these grooves.

rift (rif) n. 1. a cleft in earth or rock. 2. a crack or split in an object, a break in a cloud. 3. a breach in friendly relations between people or in the unity of a group.

rift valley, a steep-sided valley formed by subsidence of the earth's crust.

g1 (rig) v. (rigged, rig-ging) 1. to provide with clothes or equipment, rigged them out. 2. to fit (a ship) with spars, ropes, sails, etc. 3. to set up (a structure) quickly or with makeshift materials. rig n. 1. the way a ship's masts and sails etc. are arranged. 2. the equipment for a special purpose, as for drilling an oil well, a test rig; an oil rig. 3. (informal) an outfit of clothes. rig'ger n.

rig2 v. (rigged, rig·ging) to manage or control fraudulently, the election was rigged; rig the market, to cause an artificial rise or fall in stock prices.

rig·a·ma·role (rig·ä·mä·rohl) = rigma-role.

rig·ging (rig-ing) n. the ropes etc. used to support masts and set or work the sails on a ship.

right (rit) adj. 1. (of conduct or actions etc.) morally good, in accordance with justice. 2. proper, correct, true, the right answer; right side, (of fabric) the side meant to show. 3. in a good or normal condition, all's right with the world; in his right mind, sane. 4. (informal) real, properly so called, made a right old mess of it. 5. of the right-hand side. right n. 1. what is just, a fair claim or treatment, something one is entitled to. 2. the right-hand part or region. 3. the right hand, a blow with this. 4. the right foot in marching. 5. the Right, the right wing of a political party or other group. right v. 1. to restore to a proper or correct or upright position, managed to right the boat. 2. to set right, to make amends or take vengeance for, to right the wrong. 3. to correct, the fault will right itself. right adv. 1. on or toward the right-hand side, turn right. 2. straight, go right on. 3. (informal) immediately, I'll be right back. 4. all the way, completely, went right around it. 5. exactly, right in the middle. 6. very, fully, dined right royally. 7. rightly, you did right to come. 8. all right, that is correct, I agree. • by right or rights, if right were done. In the right, having justice or truth on one's side. on the right side of, in the favor of or liked by (a person); on the right side of forty, not yet 40 years old. right about face, a right turn continued to face rear; a reversal of policy; a retreat.

right angle, an angle of 90°; at right angles, placed at or turning through a right angle. right away, immediately.

right circular cone, a cone resulting from the rotation of a triangle on one of its legs. right face, a right turn. right field, the part of the baseball field to the catcher’s right and beyond first base.

right of way, the right to pass over another’s land; a path that is subject to such a right; the right to proceed while another vehicle must wait. right on!, (slang) an exclamation of agreement or encouragement, especially to a speaker.

right wing, those who support more conservative or traditional policies than others in their group.

right-ar·gled (ritt-ar·gäl·d) adj. having a right angle.

right·eous (rit-chës) adj. 1. doing what is morally right, making a show of this. 2. morally justifiable, full of righteous indignation. right'teous·ly adv. right'teous·ness n.

right·ful (rit·fúl) adj. in accordance with what is just or proper or legal. right'ful·ly adv. right'ful·ness n.

right-hand (rit·han·d) adj. of or toward this side of a person or the corresponding side of a thing. • right-hand man, a person’s indispensable or chief assistant.

right-hand·ed (rit·han·did) adj. 1. using the right hand, usually by preference. 2. made with or operated by the right hand, as a blow or tool. 3. to be turned toward the right, as a screw. right·hand·ed·ly adv. right·hand·ed·ness n.

right-hand·er (rit·han·dër) n. a right-handed person or blow.

right·ist (rit·ist) n. a member of the right wing of a political party. rightist adj. of the right wing in politics etc. right·ism n.

right·ly (rit·lee) adv. justly, correctly, properly, justifiably.

right·mind·ed (rit·mînd·did) adj. having proper or honest principles.

right·ness (rit·nis) n. being just or correct or proper or justifiable.

right-to-work (rit·to·wurk) adj. of or relating to laws banning the union shop.

right·y (rit·tee) n. (pl. right·ies) (informal) a right-handed person, especially a right-handed baseball pitcher.

rig·id (rij·id) adj. 1. stiff, not bending or yielding. 2. strict, inflexible, rigid rules. rig·id·ly adv. rig·id·ness n. rig·id·ly·ty (rij·id·ly·tee) n.

rig·ma·role (rig·ma·rohl) n. 1. a long rambling statement. 2. a complicated formal procedure.

rig·or (rig·ör) n. 1. severity, strictness. 2. harshness of weather or conditions, the rigors of famine. □ rigor mortis, the stiffening of the body after death.

rig· or· ous (ri-g̩-r̩-əs) adj. 1. strict, severe, rigorous discipline. 2. strictly accurate or detailed, a rigorous search. 3. harsh, unpleasant, a rigorous climate. rig | or | ous·ly adv.

rile (ril) v. (riled, ril·ling) (informal) to annoy, to irritate.

ril· l n. a small stream.

ri· m n. 1. a long valley on the moon.

rim (rim) n. 1. the edge or border of something more or less circular. 2. the outer edge of a wheel, on which a tire is fitted. rim v. (rimmed, rim· ming) 1. to furnish with or to serve as a rim. 2. to edge, to border.

rime 1 (rim) n. frost. rime· y adj.

rime 2 = rhyme.

rimed (rimed) adj. coated with frost.

rim· fire (rim· fir) adj. 1. designed for the use of a cartridge that has the primer around the rim of the base, as a gun. 2. having the properties of such a cartridge.

rim· less (rim· lis) adj. (of eyeglasses) made without frames.

rind (rind) n. a tough outer layer or skin on fruit, cheese, bacon, etc.

ring 1 (ring) n. 1. the outline of a circle. 2. something shaped like this, a circular band. 3. a small circular band of precious metal worn on the finger. 4. a circular or other enclosure for a circus or sports event or cattle show etc., a square area in which a boxing match or wrestling match is held. 5. the ring, prize fighting. 6. a combination of people acting together for control of operations or policy etc. ring v. 1. to enclose with a ring, to encircle. 2. to put a ring on (a bird etc.) to identify it. 3. to cut a ring in the bark of (a tree), especially to retard its growth and improve fruit production. □ ring· finger, the third finger, especially of the left hand, on which a wedding ring is worn. ring· necked pheasant, a pheasant, the male having a ring of white feathers around the neck. ring· necked snake, a common grass snake with rings of color around the neck. run· rings· around, to do things much better than (another person).

ring 2 v. (rang, rung, ring· ing) 1. to give out a loud clear resonant sound, like that of a bell when struck. 2. to cause (a bell) to do this. 3. to sound a bell as a summons, to signal by ringing, bells rang out the old year. 4. to be filled with sound, the stadium rang with cheers. 5. (of ears) to be filled with a ringing or humming sound. 6. to telephone. ring n. 1. the act of ringing a bell. 2. a ringing sound or tone. 3. a tone or feeling of a particular kind; it has the ring of truth, sounds true.

4. (informal) a telephone call. □ ring· a bell, (informal) to arouse a vague memory; to sound faintly familiar. ring the curtain up or down, to signal that the curtain on a theater stage should be raised or lowered; to mark the beginning or end of an enterprise etc. ring up, to record (an amount) on a cash register.

ring· er 1 (ring· ěr) n. 1. a person, a thing that encircles. 2. a horseshoe or a quoit that is thrown over a peg.

ring· er 2 n. 1. a person who rings bells. 2. (slang) a racehorse etc. fraudulently substituted for another. 3. (slang) a person’s double.

ring· lead· er (ring· lee· dər) n. a person who leads others in mischief or wrongdoing or opposition to authority.

ring· let (ring· lit) n. a small curly lock of hair.

ring· mas· ter (ring· mas· tér) n. the person in charge of a circus performance.

ring· side (ring· sīd) n. the area immediately beside a boxing ring. □ rings· side seat, a position from which one has a clear view of the scene of action.

ring· tailed (ring· tāl· ed) adj. 1. with the tail ringed in alternate colors. 2. with the tail curled at the end.

ring· worm (ring· wurm) n. a skin disease producing round scaly patches on the skin, caused by a fungus.

rink (rink) n. a skating rink (see skate 2).

rink· y· dink (rink· kee· digrnk) adj. (slang) small-time, shabby, unsophisticated.

risky· dink n. (slang) a person or thing of this kind.

rinse (rins) v. (rinsed, rins· ing) 1. to wash lightly with water. 2. to wash out soap or impurities from. rinse n. 1. rinsing. 2. a solution washed through hair to tint or condition it.

rl· ot (rō· t) n. 1. a wild disturbance by a crowd of people. 2. a profuse display of something, a riot of color. 3. (informal) a very amusing thing or person. riot v. to take part in a riot or in disorderly revelry. rl· ot· er n. □ read the riot act, to insist that disobedience etc. must cease. riot· gun, a gun for use in dealing with riots. riot· squad, a special squad of police trained in dealing with riots. run· riot, to behave in an unruly way; (of plants) to grow or spread in an uncontrolled way.

rl· ot· ous (rō· tōs) adj. 1. disorderly, unruly. 2. boisterous, unrestrained, riotous laughter. rl· ot· ous·ly adv. rl· ot· ous· ness n.

rip 1 (rip) v. (ripped, rip· ping) 1. to tear apart, to remove by pulling roughly. 2.
to become torn. 3. to rush along. rip n. a ripping, a torn place. rip'per n. □ let rip, (informal) to refrain from checking the speed of (a thing) or from interfering; to speak or utter violently. rip cord, a cord for pulling to release a parachute from its pack. rip into, to criticize or scold severely. rip off, (slang) to defraud; to steal.

rip² n. a stretch of turbulent water in a sea or river.

R.I.P. abbr. rest in peace. □ From the Latin requiescat (or requiescens) in pace.

ri-par-i-an (ri-par-i-an) adj. of or on a riverbank, a riparian proprietor; riparian rights.

ripe (rip) adj. (rip-er, rip-est) 1. (of fruit or grain etc.) ready to be gathered and used. 2. matured and ready to be eaten or drunk, ripe cheese. 3. (of a person's age) advanced, lived to a ripe old age. 4. ready, prepared or able to undergo something; the time is ripe for revolution; the land is ripe for development. rip'ly adv. ripe'ness n.

rip'én (ri-pén) v. to make or become ripe.

rip'off (rip-awf) n. (slang) a fraudulent thing or act.

ri-poste (ri-pohst) n. a quick counter-stroke, a quick retort. riposte v. (ri-post-ed, ri-post-ing) to deliver a riposte.

rip'ple (rip-él) n. 1. a small wave or series of waves. 2. something resembling this in appearance or movement. 3. a gentle sound that rises and falls, a ripple of laughter. ripple v. (rip-pied, rip-pling) to cause or to form ripples. rip'ply adj. □ ripple effect, a set of related consequences started by one event.

rip-roar-ing (rip-rohr-ing) adj. (informal) wildly noisy.

rip'saw (rip-saw) n. a coarse saw used for cutting wood in the direction of the grain.

rip'snort'er (rip-snor-tér) n. (informal) an energetic person or thing. rip'snort'ing adj.

rip'tide (rip-tid) n. a tide running against another or others, creating turbulent waters.

rise (riz) v. (rose, ris'en, ris'ing) 1. to come or go or grow or extend upward. 2. to get up from lying or sitting or kneeling, to get out of bed. 3. (of a meeting) to cease to sit for business. 4. to become upright or erect. 5. to come to life again after death, Christ is risen. 6. to rebel, rise in revolt. 7. (of the wind) to begin to blow or to blow more strongly. 8. (of the sun etc.) to become visible above the horizon. 9. to increase in amount or number or intensity, prices are rising; her spirits rose, she began to feel more cheerful. 10. to achieve a higher position or status, rose to the rank of colonel; rise to the occasion, to prove oneself able to deal with an unexpected situation. 11. (of bread or cake etc.) to swell by the action of yeast or other raising agent. 12. to have its origin, to begin or begin to flow, the Mississippi rises in Minnesota. rise n. 1. rising, an upward movement. 2. an upward slope, a small hill. 3. an increase in amount or number or intensity, an increase in wages. 4. an upward movement in rank or status. □ get a rise out of, to draw (a person) into a display of annoyance or into making a retort. give rise to, to cause. rise and shine, get up with bed etc., get up from sleep. rise up, to come back to life; to revolt. rising generation, young people, those who are growing up. □ See the note under raise.

ris'er (ri-zér) n. 1. a person or thing that rises, an early riser. 2. a vertical piece between treads of a staircase.

ris'ible (riz-i-bél) adj. 1. of or relating to laughter. 2. ludicrous, laughable. ris'ibility, ris'ibility n.

risk (risk) n. 1. the possibility of meeting danger or suffering harm or loss, exposure to this. 2. a person or thing insured or similarly representing a source of risk, not a good risk. risk v. to expose to the chance of injury or loss, to accept the risk of.

risk'y (ris-ké) adj. (risk-i-er, risk'i-est) full of risk. risk'ily adv. risk'iness n.

ri-sot-to (ri-soht-oh) n. (pl. -tos) an Italian dish of rice containing chopped meat or cheese and vegetables.

ris'qué (ri-skah) adj. (of a story) slightly indecent.

rite (ritt) n. a religious or other solemn ritual. □ rite of passage, a ritual used when a person reaches a new status in life, as adolescence, marriage, etc.

rit-u-al (rich-oo-ál) n. 1. the series of actions used in a religious or other ceremony, a particular form of this. 2. a procedure regularly followed. ritual adj. of or done as a ritual. rit-u'al-ly adv.

ritz-y (rit-see) adj. (ritz-i-er, ritz'i-est) (informal) high class, luxurious.

ritz'i-ly adv. ritz'i-ness n. □ Ritz was the name of luxurious hotels owned by César Ritz of Switzerland.

riv. abbr. river.

ri-val (ri-väl) n. 1. a person or thing competing with another. 2. a person or thing that can equal another in quality. rival adj. being a rival, competing. rival v. (rivaled, ri-val-ing) 1. to be comparable to, to seem or be as good as. 2. to try to be as good as or outdo. ri'val-ry n. (pl. -ries).

rive (riv) v. (rived, rived or riv-en, riv-ing) 1. to tear open or apart. 2. to split, as wood.

riv-en (riv-en) adj. split, torn violently.

riv-er (riv-èr) n. 1. a large natural stream of water flowing in a channel. 2. a great flow, rivers of blood.

riv-er-bank (riv-èr-bangk) n. the land along the side of the river.

riv-er-bed (riv-èr-bed) n. the channel in which a river flows.

riv-er-boat (riv-èr-boht) n. a boat used on a river.

riv-er-side (riv-èr-sid) n. the ground along the side of the river. riverside adj. on or near the riverside.

riv-er-et (riv-èr-it) n. a nail or bolt for holding two pieces of metal together, its headless end being beaten or pressed down to form a head when it is in place. rivet v. (riv-èr-et-ed, riv-èr-et-ing) 1. to fasten with a rivet. 2. to flatten (the end of a bolt) when it is in place. 3. to fix, to make immovable, she stood riveted to the spot. 4. to attract and hold the attention of. riv'et-er n.

Riv-l-er-a (riv-i-a-ri-á) the region along the Mediterranean coast of southeast France, Monaco, and northwest Italy, famous for its natural beauty and containing many holiday resorts.

riv-y-let (riv-yu-lit) n. a small stream.

Ri-yadh (ree-yahd) the royal capital of Saudi Arabia.

ri-yal (ree-yawl) n. the unit of money in Saudi Arabia and the Yemen Arab Republic.

rm. abbr. 1. rem. 2. room.

Rn symbol radon.

R.N. abbr. registered nurse.

RNA abbr. ribonucleic acid.

rnd. abbr. round.

ro. abbr. rood(s).

roach1 (roch) n. 1. a cockroach. 2. (slang) a marijuana cigarette butt.

roach2 n. (pl. roach-es, roach) a small European freshwater fish related to the carp.

road (rohd) n. 1. a way by which people or animals or vehicles may pass between places, especially one with a prepared surface. 2. a way of reaching or achieving something, the road to success; you're in the road, in the way, as an obstruction. 3. (often roads) an area of water near the shore where ships can ride at anchor. on the road; traveling, especially as a salesman or performer or beggar. road company, a touring theatrical group.

road hog, a reckless or inconsiderate and especially obstructive driver. road map, a map showing the roads of an area or country. road sense, ability to behave safely on roads, especially in traffic. road show, a theatrical performance by a company on tour. road test, a test of a vehicle by using it on a road.

road-a-bli-ty (roh-dá-bli-tee) n. the desirable qualities of an automobile on the road.

road-bed (rohd-bed) n. 1. the foundation structure of a railroad. 2. the whole material laid down for a road.

road-block (rohd-blok) n. 1. a barricade set up by the police or army to stop traffic for inspection or search etc. 2. anything that interferes with progress.

road-house (rohd-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -house-ziz) an inn or club or restaurant on a country road.

road-runner (rohd-run-èr) n. a long-tailed bird of southwestern North America, able to run quickly.

road-side (rohd-sid) n. the border of a road. roadside adj. at or close to the roadside.

road-stor (rohd-stor) n. an open car without rear seats.

road-way (rohd-way) n. a road, this as distinct from a footpath beside it.

road-work (rohd-wurk) n. running long distances when training for athletic contests.

roam (rohm) v. to wander. roam n. a wanderer.

roan (rohn) adj. (of an animal) having a coat that is thickly sprinkled with white or gray hairs; strawberry roan, red mixed with white or gray. roan n. a roan horse or other animal.

roar (rohr) n. 1. a long deep loud sound, like that made by a lion. 2. loud laughter. roar v. 1. to give a roar. 2. to express in this way, the crowd roared its approval. 3. to be full of din. roar'er n.

roar-ing (rohr-ing) adj. 1. noisy. 2. briskly active, did a roaring trade. roaring adv. noisily, roaring drunk. roaring n. 1. the act of a person or animal that roars. 2. the loud deep noise made by an animal that roars.

roast (rohst) v. 1. to cook (meat etc.) in an oven or by exposure to heat. 2. to expose to great heat. 3. to undergo roasting. 4. to criticize, to honor with insulting remarks. roast adj. roasted, roast beef. roast n. 1. roast meat, a joint of meat for roasting. 2. an event in which the guest of honor is humorously subjected to severe criticism.
roast·er (roh-stər) n. 1. a dish for roasting food in. 2. a chicken, pig, etc. fit for roasting.

roast·ing (roh-sting) adj. very hot.

rob (rob) v. (robbed, rob·bing) 1. to steal from, to take unlawfully. 2. to deprive of what is due or normal, robbing us of our sleep. rob·ber n. rob·ber·y n. (pl. -ber·ies) robber fly, a predatory fly.

rob Peter to pay Paul, to pay one debt by borrowing what one needs and so incurring another.

robe (rohb) n. a long loose garment, especially a ceremonial one or one worn as an indication of rank etc. robe v. (robed, rob·bing) to dress in a robe.

robe·in (rob-in) n. a red-breasted thrush.

rob·bing (rob-bing) n. 1. a machine resembling a person, able to perform simple manual tasks when directed. 2. a piece of apparatus operated by remote control. 3. a person who seems to act like a machine.

robot bomb, a rocket-propelled and gyroscopically guided bomb.

Rob Roy (rob-roy) a cocktail with Scotch, sweet vermouth, and bitters.

ro·bust (roh-büst, rob-büst) adj. strong, vigorous. ro·bust·ly adv. ro·bust·ness n.

rock1 (rok) n. 1. the hard part of the earth’s crust, underlying the soil. 2. a mass of this, a large stone or boulder. 3. something like a rock in solidness or firmness.

on the rocks, (informal) short of money; ruined, broken down; (of a drink) served undiluted, with ice cubes.

rock bass, a freshwater game fish like a sunfish.

rock candy, a hard sweet candy.

rock crystal, a transparent colorless quartz usually in hexagonal prisms.

rock garden, a garden with plants arranged among rocks.

rock hound, (informal) a person who collects rocks; a geologist.

rock salt, common salt as a solid mineral.

rock wool, mineral wool made from limestone etc. and used as insulation.

rock2 v. 1. to move or be moved gently to and fro while supported on something. 2. to shake violently. 3. to disturb greatly by shock, the scandal rocked the country.

rock n. 1. rocking, a rocking movement. 2. a kind of popular modern music usually with a strong beat, rock-’n’-roll.

rocking chair, a chair mounted on rockers or with springs so that it can be rocked by the sitter. rocking horse, a wooden or plastic horse mounted on rockers or springs so that it can be rocked by a child sitting on it.

rock the boat, (informal) to do something that upsets the plans or progress of one’s group.

rock-bot·tom (rok-bot·əm) adj. (in-wordal) of prices etc. very low.

rock-bound (rok-bownd) adj. (of a coast) full of rocks.

rock·er (rok-ər) n. 1. a thing that rocks something or is rocked. 2. one of the curved bars on which a rocking chair etc. is mounted. 3. a rocking chair. 4. a switch that pivots between the “on” and “off” positions.

rock·ers (rok-ərz) any rope, the thing that the rope is tied to.
boastful talk. rodomontade adj. boastful.

roe (roh) n. a mass of eggs in a female fish's ovary, a male fish's milt.

roe(2) n. (pl. roes, roe) a kind of small deer.

roe·buck (roh-buk) n. a male roe deer.

dro·ent·gen·ol·ogy (roent-gé-nol-é-je) n. the science of using x-rays in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. roent·gen·ol·o·gist n. roent·gen·o·log·ic (rent-gé-nol-é-jik) adj. roent·gen·o·log·ic·al adj.

roll (rol) v. 1. to make (water etc.) turbid by stirring. 2. to annoy, to vex.

dro·les·ter·ing (roil-sté-ring) adj. & n. merry-making noisily. rol·is·ter·er n.

role, rôle (roh-l) n. 1. an actor's part. 2. a person's or thing's function.

roll (roh) v. 1. to move or cause to move along in contact with a surface, either on wheels or by turning over and over.

2. to turn on an axis or over and over, to cause to revolve. 3. to form into a cylindrical or spherical shape; rolled into one, combined in one person or thing.

4. to wind in or as a covering. 5. to flatten by means of a roller, roll out the pastry. 6. to rock from side to side, as in walking.

7. to move or pass steadily, the years rolled on. 8. to undulate, rolling hills.

9. to make a long continuous vibrating sound, the thunder rolled. 10. (slang) to attack and rob (a person). roll n. 1. a cylinder formed by turning flexible material over and over upon itself without creasing it. 2. something having this shape, an undulation, rolls of fat. 3. a small individual portion of bread baked in a rounded shape 4. an official list or register; strike off the rolls, to debit (a person) from practicing his profession, as after dishonesty. 5. a rolling movement.

6. a long steady vibrating sound. roll back, to cause to retreat or decrease. roll bar, an overhead metal bar to protect the occupants of a motor vehicle in the event of its overturning. roll call, the calling of a list of names, to check that all are present. rolled gold, a thin coating of gold applied to another metal.

roll in, to arrive in great numbers or quantities; (informal) to arrive casually. roll·ing mill, a machine or factory for rolling metal into various shapes.

dro·lit·ing pin, a cylindrical device rolled over dough to flatten this. roll·ing stock, railroad cars and locomotives etc.

roll·ing stone, a person who does not settle and live or work in one place. roll of honor, a list of people whose achievements are honored. roll up, (informal) to arrive in a vehicle, to arrive casually.

roll·back (rohl-bak) n. the act of rolling back, especially prices.

roll·er (roh-lér) n. 1. a cylinder used for flattening or spreading things, or on which something is wound. 2. a long swelling wave. roll·er be·ar·ing, a bearing like a ball bearing but with small cylinders instead of balls.

roll·co·aster, an amusement park ride with a series of alternate steep descents and ascents. roll·er Derby, (trademark) a roller-skating contest between two teams skating on an oval track. roll·er skate, one of a pair of sets of four wheels attached to the soles of boots or shoes so that the wearer can glide over a hard surface. roll·er towel, a towel with its ends joined so that it is continuous, hung over a roller.

roll·er·skate (roh-lér-skat) v. (-skat·ed, -skat·ing) to move on roller skates.

roll·er·skat·er n.

roll·lick·ing (rol·i-king) adj. full of boisterous high spirits.

roll·mop (rohl-mop) n. a rolled pickled herring fillet.

roll·on (rohl-on) adj. applied by means of a ball that rotates in the neck of a container, as a cosmetic etc.

roll·o·ver (roh-oh-vér) n. 1. rolling over. 2. a bank deposit or loan etc. that may be renewed.

roll·top (roh-l-top) desk a desk with a flexible cover that slides in curved grooves.

ro·ly·po·ly (roh-lee-poh-lee) adj. plump, pudgy.

roma. abbr. roman type.

Rom. abbr. 1. Roman. 2. Romania. 3. Romans.

ro·ma·line (roh-mayn) n. a lettuce with long leaves.

Ro·man (roh-mán) adj. 1. of ancient or modern Rome. 2. of the ancient Roman republic or empire. 3. of the Christian Church of Rome, Roman Catholic. Rom·an n. 1. a member of the ancient Roman republic or empire. 2. a native or inhabitant of Rome. 3. roman, plain upright type (not italic), like that used for the definitions in this dictionary. 4. Romans, a book of the New Testament, the epistle of St. Paul to the Church at Rome.

□ Roman candle, a tubular firework that sends out colored balls. Roman Catholic, of the church that acknowledges the Pope as its head; a member of this church. Roman Catholicism, the faith of the Roman Catholic Church.

Roman Empire, the empire established by Augustus in 27 B.C. and lasting until 395 A.D. Roman nose, a nose with a high bridge. Roman numerals, letters representing numbers (I = 1, V = 5, X = 10, L = 50, C = 100, D = 500, M = 1000).

ro·man·cle (roh-mahn klay) (pl. ro·mans·cle, pr. roh-mahnz klay) a novel presenting real events and people disguised as fiction. □ French, = novel with a key.

ro·mance (roh-mans) n. 1. an imaginative story, literature of this kind, medieval romances. 2. a romantic situation or event or atmosphere. 3. a love story, a love affair resembling this. 4. a picturesque exaggeration or falsehood.
rom·ance v. (ro·manced, ro·manc·ing)
1. to exaggerate or distort the truth in an imaginative way. 2. to engage in romantic activities or courtship. ro-manc·er n. □ Romance languages, those descended from Latin (French, Italian, Spanish, etc.).

Ro·man·esque (roh-ma-nesk) n. a style of art and architecture in Europe in about 1050–1200, with massive vaulting and round arches.

Ro·ma·ni·a (roh-may-nee-ä) = Rumania.

Ro·ma·no (roh-mahn-noh) n. an Italian cheese.

Ro·man·sh (roh-mahnsh) n. Alpine dialects derived from Latin, especially spoken in East Switzerland.

ro·man·tic (roh-mahn-tik) adj. 1. appealing to the emotions by its imaginative or heroic or picturesque quality. 2. involving a love affair. 3. enjoying romantic situations etc. 4. (of music or literature) richly imaginative, not conforming to classical conventions. rom·antic n. a person who enjoys romantic situations etc. ro·man·ti·cal·ly adv.

ro·man·ti·cism (roh-mahn-ti-siz-ëm) n. a literary or artistic style characterized by grandeur or picturesque ness or passion rather than careful finish and proportion.

ro·man·ti·cize (roh-mahn-ti-siz) v. (roman-ti·cized, ro·man·ti·ciz·ing) 1. to make romantic. 2. to have romantic ideas.

Rom·a·ny (rom-ë-në, roh-mä-ë) n. (pl.
-nies) 1. a Gypsy. 2. the language of Gypsies. Romany adj. of Romanians or their language.

Rome (rohm) 1. the capital of Italy. 2.
the ancient Roman republic or empire.

romp (romp) v. 1. to play about together in a lively way, as children do. 2. (informal) to get along easily; romped home, came in as an easy winner. romp n. a spell of romping. romp’er n.

rom·pers (rom-përz) pl. a young child’s one-piece garment, usually covering the trunk only.

ron·do (ron-doh) n. (pl. -dos) a piece of music with a theme that recurs several times.

rood (rood) n. 1. a crucifix. 2. a quarter of an acre. □ Holy Rood, (old use) the Cross of Christ.

roof (roof) n. 1. a structure covering the top of a house or building. 2. the top of a car or tent etc.; roof of the mouth, a structure forming the upper part of the mouth cavity. roof v. to cover with a roof, to be the roof of. □ have a roof over one’s head, to have somewhere to live. hit or raise the roof, (informal) to become very angry. roof garden, a garden on the flat roof of a building.

roof·er (rooфер) n. a maker or mender of roofs.

roof·ling (roo·ling) n. roof material.

roof·less (roof-lis) adj. without a roof.

roof·top (roof-top) n. the outer surface of the roof.

roof·tree (roof-tree) n. the ridge piece of a roof.

rook1 (ruuk) n. a black crow that nests in colonies. rook v. to swindle, to charge (a person) an extortionate price.

rook2 n. a chess piece with a top shaped like battlements.

rook·er·y (ruuk·er·ë) n. (pl. -ers·ës) 1.
a colony of rooks, a place where these nest. 2. a colony or breeding place of penguins or seals.

rook·ie (ruuk·ë) n. 1. a new member of a team. 2. a new recruit in the army or on a police force.

room (room) n. 1. space that is or could be occupied by something; make room for, to clear a space or position etc. for a person or thing. 2. part of a building enclosed by walls or partitions, the apartment has three rooms. 3. opportunity or scope or ability to allow something, no room for dispute. 4. rooms, a set of rooms occupied by a person or family. room
v. to live in a room or rooms, my son rooms with my neighbor’s son. □ room and board, lodging and food. room clerk, a hotel desk clerk. room divider, a piece of furniture used to divide a room into sections. room·ing house, a house roomer  /  rosewood

with furnished rooms for rent. room service, service of food etc. to a hotel guest in his room.

room·er (roo-mér) n. a person who rents a room in another's house and lives there.

room·ette (roo-met) n. a small private sleeping room on a train.

room·ful (room-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls) the amount that a room will hold.

room·mate (room-mayt) n. a person sharing a room with another.

room·y (roo-mee) adj. (room·i-er, room·i-est) having plenty of room to contain things.

room'ful·ly adv. room·i·ness n.

Roo·se·velt (roh-zé-velt), Frank·lin Del-a·no (del-á-noh) (1882–1945) the thirty-second president of the U.S. 1933–45.

Roosevelt, The·o·dore (1858–1919) the twenty-sixth president of the U.S. 1901–09.

roost (roost) n. a place where birds perch or where they settle for sleep. roost v. (of birds) to perch, to settle for sleep. □ come home to roost, (of an action) to react unfavorably on the doer.

roost·er (roo-stér) n. a male domestic fowl.

root¹ v. (slang) to support actively by applause etc., rooting for their team.

root·less (root- lis) adj. 1. having no root or roots. 2. (of a person) having no roots in a community.

root·let (room-lit) n. a small root.

root·stock (root-stok) n. a rhizome.

rope (rohp) n. 1. strong thick cord, a length of this. 2. a quantity of similar things strung together, a rope of pearls.

rope v. (roped, rop·ing) 1. to fasten or secure or catch with rope. 2. to fence off with rope(s). □ give a person enough rope, to allow him freedom of action in the hope that he will bring about his own downfall. know or learn the ropes, to know or learn the procedure for doing something. rope in, to persuade (a person) to take part in an activity. rope ladder, a ladder made of two long ropes connected by short crosspieces.

Roque·fort (roh-kfört) n. a kind of blue cheese, originally made from ewes' milk.

Ror·shach (roh-shahk) test a psychological test in which standard ink blots are presented to a person for a statement of what they suggest to him.

ro·sa·ceous (rohz-ay-shus) adj. of a rose.

ro·sa·ry (roh-zá-ree) n. (pl. -ries) 1. a set series of prayers used in the Roman Catholic Church, a book containing this. 2. a string of 55 or 165 beads for keeping count of this.

rose¹ (rohz) n. 1. a bush or shrub bearing ornamental usually fragrant flowers. 2. its flower. 3. deep pink color; roses in her cheeks, a rosy complexion. rose adj. deep pink. □ rose fever, hay fever caused by rose pollen. rose window, a circular window in a church, with a pattern of tracery.

rose² see rise.

ro·se·ate (roh-zay) adj. of the color pink.

ro·se·ate (roh-zay) adj. deep pink, rosy.

rose·bud (roh-z-bud) n. the bud of a rose.

rose·bud (roh-z-bud) n. the bud of a rose.

rose·bus·h (roh-z-bush) n. a rose plant.

rose·col·ored (roh-z-kul-ord) adj. 1. optimistic, sanguine, cheerful. 2. rosy.

□ see things through rose-colored glasses, to take an unduly cheerful view of things.

rose·mar·y (roh-z-mair-ee) n. (pl. -mar·lies) a fragrant evergreen shrub with leaves that are used for flavoring.

ro·sette (roh-zet) n. 1. a rose-shaped badge or ornament made of ribbon etc. 2. a rose-shaped carving.

rose·wood (roh-z-wuud) n. any of several fragrant close-grained woods used for making furniture.
Rosh Hashanah, Rosh Hashana / roughhouse 790

Rosh Ha-sha·nah, Rosh Ha-sha·na (rosh hā-shah-nā) the Jewish New Year.

ros·in (roz-in) n. a kind of resin.

ros·ter (ros-tér) n. 1. a list showing people’s turns of duty etc. 2. a list of persons.

ros·trum (ros-trūm) n. (pl. -trums, -tra, pr. -trā) a platform for public speaking.

ro·s·y (ros*y) adj. (ros*y-er, ros*y-est) 1. rose-colored, deep pink. 2. promising, hopeful. ro·syl adj. ros*y-ness n.

erod (rot) v. (rot·ted, rot·ting) 1. (of animal or vegetable matter) to lose its original form by chemical action caused by bacteria or fungi etc. 2. to perish or become weak through lack of use or activity. rot n. 1. rotting, rottenness. 2. (slang) nonsense, an absurd statement or argument.

Ro·tar·i·an (roh-tair-i-an) adj. (roh-tair-i-an) n. rotary adj. rotary- ness n.

rot·ary (roh-ta-ree) adj. rotary, acting by rotating, a rotary drill. rotary n. (pl. -ries) 1. a rotary machine. 2. a traffic circle.

Ro·ta·tion (roh-ta-tyon) n. ro·ta·tion al adj.

ro·tate (roh-tayt) v. (roh-tat·ed, roh-tat·ing) 1. to revolve or cause to revolve. 2. to arrange or deal with in a recurrent series. ro·ta·tor n. ro·ta·tion (roh-tay-shōn) n. ro·ta·tion al adj.

Ro·ta·ry Club, a local branch of an international association formed by businessmen for the purpose of rendering service to the community.

ru·ble = ruble.

rou·e (roo·ay) n. a dissolve elderly man.

rou·ge (roo·zh) n. 1. a reddish cosmetic for coloring the cheeks. 2. a fine red powder used for polishing metal. rouge v. (rouged, rou·ging) to color with rouge.

rough (ruf·) adj. 1. having an uneven or irregular surface, coarse in texture, not level or smooth. 2. not gentle or restrained or careful, violent; rough weather, stormy. 3. lacking finish or delicacy, not perfected or detailed; a rough estimate, approximate; rough accommo·dations, lacking ordinary comfort or convenience. 4. (informal) unpleasant or disagreeable, had a rough time. rough n. 1. something rough, rough ground. 2. hardship, take the rough with the smooth. 3. an unfinished state. 4. a rough drawing or design etc. 5. (in golf) the rough ground off the fairway between the tee and the green. rough v. 1. to make rough. 2. to shape or plan or sketch roughly, roughed out a scheme. rough adj. in a rough manner. rough·ly adj.

rough·ness n. □ In the rough, in a rough, incomplete, or crude state. rough lt, to do without ordinary comforts.

rough stuff, (slang) violent behavior. rough up, (slang) to treat (a person) violently.

rough·age (ruf·ij) n. indigestible material in plants that are used as food (such as bran, green vegetables, and certain fruits), which stimulates the action of the intestines.

rough·and·rea·dy (ruf·än·red·ee) adj. 1. full of rough vigor and not refined. 2. rough or crude but effective.

rough·and·tum·ble (ruf·än·tum·bēl) n. a haphazard fight or struggle. rough·and·tum·ble adj. disorderly, irregular.

rough·cast (ruf·kast) n. plaster of lime and gravel, used for covering the outsides of buildings. roughcast v. (rough·cast, rough·cast·ing) to coat with this.

rough·cut (ruf·kut) adj. cut in small uneven pieces.

rough·en (ruf·ën) v. to make or become rough.

rough·hew (ruf·hyoo) v. (rough·hewed, rough·hewn, rough·hew·ing) to shape roughly.

rough·house (ruf·hows) adj. uncouth.
with violent behavior or fighting. roughhouse v. (rough-housed, pr. ruf-howst, -howzd, rough-hous-ling, pr. ruf-how-sing, -how-zing) to make such a disturbance, to handle (a person) roughly.

dullneck (ruf-nek) n. 1. a rowdy. 2. a skilled worker on an oil rig.

rough-shod (ruf-shod) adj. (of a horse) having shoes with the nail heads left projecting to prevent slipping. □ride roughshod over, to treat inconsiderately or arrogantly.

roulade (roo-lahd) n. 1. a florid passage of runs in solo vocal music, usually sung to one syllable. 2. a dish of thin-sliced meat rolled around a filling and cooked.

roulette (roo-leet) n. a gambling game in which a small ball falls at random into one of the compartments on a revolving wheel.

Rou-ma-nil-a (roo-ma-nil-ah) = Rumania.

round (round) adj. 1. having a curved shape or outline, shaped like a circle or sphere or cylinder. 2. full, complete, a round dozen. round n. 1. a round object. 2. a circular or recurring course or series; the daily round, ordinary occupations of the day; a round of drinks, one for each person in a group. 3. a round on which things are to be inspected or delivered, make or go on one's rounds; a round of golf; playing all holes on a course once. 4. a musical composition for two or more voices in which each sings the same melody but starts at a different time. 5. a single shot or volley of shots from one or more firearms, ammunition for this. 6. one stage in a competition or struggle, one section of a boxing match. 7. a cut of beef between the rump and the leg. round adv. & prep. around. round v. 1. to make or become round. 2. to make into a round figure or number; round it off, increase or decrease it in order to make it the nearest multiple of ten (as making $1.96 into $2.00). 3. to travel around (something), the car rounded the corner. □In the round, (of sculpture) with all sides shown, not attached to a background; (of a theater) with seats on all sides of the stage. round and round, turning or going around several times.

round dance, one in which dancers form a ring; a dance performed by couples progressing around a room. round figure or number, a whole number, usually a multiple of ten. round lot, the standard unit in which stock exchange commodities or securities are bought and sold, 100 shares in active stock, 10 shares in inactive stock. round robin, a tournament in which each competitor plays against every other. round table, a conference where people meet around a table to discuss something. round trip, a trip to one or more places and back again.

round up, to gather (animals or people or things) into one place.

round-a-bout (round-a-bowt) adj. indirect, not using the shortest or most direct route, heard the news in a roundabout way.

roun-de-lay (rown-de-lay) n. a short simple song with a refrain.

round-house (round-hows) n. (pl. -hous-es, pr. -how-ziz) 1. a blow given with a wide swing of the arm. 2. a locomotive repair shed. 3. a cabin or set of cabins on the after part of the quarter-deck, especially on a sailing ship.

round-ish (rown-dish) adj. approximately round in shape.

round-ly (round-lee) adv. 1. thoroughly, severely, was roundly scolded. 2. in a rounded way.

round-shouldered (round-shohl-derd) adj. bent forward so that the back is convex.

round-up (round-up) n. the gathering up of animals or people or things into one place; roundup of the news, a summary of events.

round-worm (round-wurm) n. a worm with a rounded body.

rouse (rowz) v. (roused, rous-ing) 1. to cause (a person) to wake. 2. to cause to become active or excited. 3. (of a person etc.) to wake. rous'er n.

rous-ing (row-zing) adj. vigorous, stirring, three rousing cheers.

roust-a-bout (rows-ta-bowt) n. an unskilled worker in an oil field or on the docks or in a circus.

rouv (rowv) v. utter defeat, a disorderly retreat of defeated troops. rot v. to defeat completely, to put to flight.

rouv2 v. 1. to fetch or force out, routed him out of bed. 2. to rummage.

route (root) n. the course or way taken to get from starting point to destination.

route v. (rou-ted, rout-ing) to send by a certain route.

rou'tine (roo-teen) n. 1. a standard course of procedure, a series of acts performed regularly in the same way. 2. a set sequence of movements in a dance or other performance. routine adj. in accordance with routine. rou'tine-ly adv. rou'tine-ly (rout'ine-ly) adv. rou'tine-ly (rout'ine-ly) adv.

roux (roo) n. a mixture of heated fat and flour used as a basis for a sauce.

rove (rohv) v. (roved, rov-ing) to roam.
rov'er n. □ roving eye, a tendency to flirt.

row1 (roh) n. 1. a number of people or things in a more or less straight line. 2. a line of seats across a theater etc. □ row house, a house in a row of nearly identical houses joined together next by shared walls.

row2 v. 1. to propel (a boat) by using oars. 2. to carry in a boat that one rows. 3. to row a race with. row n. a spell of rowing, an excursion in a rowboat.

row'er n. □ rowing machine, a machine for exercising the muscles that are used in rowing.

row3 (row) n. (informal) 1. a loud noise. 2. a quarrel, a heated argument. 3. the process or condition of being reprimanded, got into a row for being late.

row v. (informal) 1. to quarrel or argue heatedly. 2. to reprimand.

row'an (roh-án) n. the European mountain ash.

row'boat (roh-boht) n. a boat for rowing.

row'dy (row-dee) adj. (-dl'er, -dl'est) noisy and disorderly. rowdy n. a rowdy person. row'di-ly adv. row'di-ness n. row'dy-ism n. row'dy-ish adj.

row'el (row-èl) n. a spiked revolving disk at the end of a spur on a riding boot.

rowel v. to use a rowel.

roy'al (roi-ál) adj. 1. of or suitable or worthy of a king or queen. 2. belonging to the family of a king or queen, in the service or under the patronage of royalty; Royal Air Force, Royal Marines, Royal Navy, the British air force etc. □ Royal Academy, (British) the Royal Academy of Arts.

roy'al blue, deep pure vivid blue. royal colony, a colony administered and governed by the crown through an appointed representative or council. royal flush, see flush. royal jelly, a substance secreted by the honeybee workers and fed to the future queen bees. royal palm, a tall feather palm tree. royal road, a way of attaining something without trouble.

roy'al-ist (roi-á-list) n. 1. a person who favors monarchy. 2. a diehard conservative, economic royalist.

roy'al-ty (roi-á-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being royal. 2. a royal person or persons, in the presence of royalty. 3. payment by a mining or oil company to the owner of the land, oil royalties. 4. payment to an author etc. for each copy of his book sold or for each public performance of his work, payment to a patentee for the use of his patent.

rpm, RPM abbr. revolutions per minute.

R.P.O abbr. railway post office.

rpm abbr. revolutions per second.

rpt. abbr. revolutions per second.

R.R. abbr. 1. railroad. 2. rural route.

RSFSR abbr. Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic.

RSV abbr. Revised Standard Version.

R.S.V.P. abbr. (in an invitation) please reply. □ From the French, répondez s'il vous plaît.

rt. abbr. right.

te. abbr. route.

Ru symbol ruthenium.

rub (rub) v. (rubbed, rub·bing) 1. to press something against (a surface) and slide it to and fro, to apply in this way. 2. to polish or clean by rubbing, to make or become dry or smooth or sore etc. in this way; rub brasses, to take an impression of brass memorial tablets by rubbing colored wax or chalk etc. over paper laid upon them. rub n. 1. the act or process of rubbing. 2. a difficulty or impediment, there's the rub. □ rub a person's nose in it, see nose. rub down, to dry or smooth or reduce the level of (a thing) by rubbing. rub it in, to emphasize or remind a person constantly of an unpleasant fact. rub off, to be removed or transferred by or as if by rubbing. rub out, to remove (marks etc.) by using an eraser; (slang) to murder.

rub shoulders with, to associate with (certain people). rub the wrong way, to irritate or repel (a person) by one's action.

rub·ber1 (rub·èr) n. 1. a tough elastic substance made from the coagulated juice of certain tropical plants or synthetically. 2. an eraser. 3. a person who rubs something, a device for rubbing things. □ rubber band, a loop of rubber to hold papers etc. together. rubber cement, a kind of glue. rubber check, a check that bounces (see bounce). rubber plant, a plant yielding rubber. rubber stamp, a device for imprinting a mark on to a surface; one who mechanically gives approval to the actions of another person or group. rubber tree, a tree yielding rubber.

rub·ber2 n. a match of two or three successive games at bridge etc.

rub·ber·ize (rub·èr-iz) v. (rub·ber·ized, rub·ber·iz·ing) to treat or coat with rubber.

rub·ber·neck (rub·èr-nek) n. (slang) a gaping sightseer, an inquisitive person.

rub·ber·neck v. to behave as a rubberneck.

rub·ber·stamp (rub·èr-stamp) v. (informal) to approve automatically without due consideration.
rubbery adj. like rubber.
rub·blish (rub·lish) n. 1. waste or worthless material. 2. nonsense. rub·bish·y adj.
rub·ble (rub·bl) n. waste or rough fragments of stone or brick etc.
rub·down (rub·down) n. a massage.
rube (roob) n. (slang) a country bumpkin.
rue·ful (rue·ful) adj. showing or feeling good-humored regret. rue·ful·ly adv. rue·ful·ness n.
ruff (ruf) n. 1. a deep starched pleated frill worn around the neck in the 16th cent. 2. a projecting or colored ring of feathers or fur around the neck of a bird or animal. ruffed adj. ruff·like adj.
ruff·ed grousé, a North American game bird with black feathers on each side of the neck.
ruf·flan (ruf·i·an) n. a violent lawless person.
ruf·fle (ruf·el) v. (ruf·elled, ruf·fling) 1. to disturb the smoothness or evenness of. 2. to upset the calmness or even temper of (a person). 3. to become ruffled. ruffle n. a gathered ornamental frill.
rug (rug) n. 1. a thick floor mat. 2. a lap robe. (slang) a toupee. ruf·like adj.
□ pull the rug from under, to remove the support of (a theory etc.).
rug·by (rug·bee) n. (also Rugby) the game of Rugby football, a kind of football played with an oval ball that may be kicked or carried. □ Named after Rugby School in Warwickshire, England, where it was first played.
rug·ged·ly adv. 1. having an uneven surface or an irregular outline, craggy. 2. rough and unyielding, a rugged individualist. rug·ged·ly adv. rug·ged·ness n.
rue (ru) n. 1. severe damage or destruction. 2. complete loss of one's fortune or resources or prospects. 3. the remains of something decayed or destroyed, the house was a ruin; the ruins of Pompeii. 4. a cause of ruin. ruin v. to damage a thing) so severely that it is useless, to bring into a ruined condition. ru·in·a·tion (roo-i-nay-shon) n.
rue·ful·ness n.
rue·ful·ly adv.
rue·ful·ness n.
rul·er (ru-l’er) n. 1. a person or group that is incompletely developed. 2. rudiments, basic or elementary principles, learning the rudiments of chemistry.
rue·men·ta·ry (roo-men-ta·ree) adj.
rue (ru) n. a shrub with bitter leaves formerly used in medicine. □ rue anemone, a small delicate spring plant having pinkish or white flowers.
rue2 v. (rued, ru·ing) to repent or regret; he'll live to rue it, will some day regret it.
rue·ful adj. showing or feeling good-humored regret. rue·ful·ly adv. rue·ful·ness n.
ruff (ruf) n. 1. a deep starched pleated frill worn around the neck in the 16th cent. 2. a projecting or colored ring of feathers or fur around the neck of a bird or animal. ruffed adj. ruff·like adj.
ruff·ed grousé, a North American game bird with black feathers on each side of the neck.
ruf·flan (ruf·i·an) n. a violent lawless person.
ruf·fle (ruf·el) v. (ruf·elled, ruf·fling) 1. to disturb the smoothness or evenness of. 2. to upset the calmness or even temper of (a person). 3. to become ruffled. ruffle n. a gathered ornamental frill.
rug (rug) n. 1. a thick floor mat. 2. a lap robe. (slang) a toupee. ruf·like adj.
□ pull the rug from under, to remove the support of (a theory etc.).
rug·by (rug·bee) n. (also Rugby) the game of Rugby football, a kind of football played with an oval ball that may be kicked or carried. □ Named after Rugby School in Warwickshire, England, where it was first played.
rug·ged·ly adv. 1. having an uneven surface or an irregular outline, craggy. 2. rough and unyielding, a rugged individualist. rug·ged·ly adv. rug·ged·ness n.
rue (ru) n. 1. severe damage or destruction. 2. complete loss of one's fortune or resources or prospects. 3. the remains of something decayed or destroyed, the house was a ruin; the ruins of Pompeii. 4. a cause of ruin. ruin v. to damage a thing) so severely that it is useless, to bring into a ruined condition. ru·in·a·tion (roo-i-nay-shon) n.
rue·ful·ness n.
rue·ful·ly adv.
rue·ful·ness n.
rul·er (ru-l’er) n. 1. a person or group that is incompletely developed. 2. rudiments, basic or elementary principles, learning the rudiments of chemistry.
rue·men·ta·ry (roo-men-ta·ree) adj.
rue (ru) n. a shrub with bitter leaves formerly used in medicine. □ rue anem-
one, a small delicate spring plant having pinkish or white flowers.
person or feeling etc.) under control, to dominate. 3. to give a decision as judge or other authority, the chairman ruled that the question was out of order. 4. to draw (a line) using a ruler or other straight edge, to mark parallel lines on (writing paper etc.). □ as a rule, usually, more often than not. rule of the road, the rules regulating the movements of vehicles or riders or ships with respect to each other. rule of thumb, a rough practical method or procedure. rule out, to exclude as irrelevant or ineligible. rule the roost, to be the dominant person.

rul·er (roo-lər) n. 1. a person who rules by authority. 2. a straight strip of wood or metal etc. used for measuring or for drawing straight lines.

rum (rum) n. alcoholic spirit distilled from sugar cane residues or molasses.

Rum. abbr. 1. Rumania. 2. Rumanian.

Ru·ma·ni·a (ru-ma-ne-ä) a country in southeastern Europe. Ru·ma·ni·an adj. & n.

rum·ba (rum-ba) n. a ballroom dance of Cuban origin, music for this.

rum·ble (rum-bəl) v. (rum·bled, rum·bling) 1. to make a deep heavy continuous sound, like thunder. 2. to utter in a deep voice. rumble n. 1. a rumbling sound. 2. (slang) a street gang fight. rum·bler n. rum·bly adj. rum·bling·ly adv.

rum·bly·ing (rum-blin-g) n. 1. a rumbling sound. 2. (often rumblings) signs of unrest.

ru·mi·nate (roo-mi-nät) v. (ru·mi·nat·ed, ru·mi·nat·ing) 1. to chew the cud. 2. to meditate, to ponder. ru·mi·nat·ing·ly adv. ru·mi·nat·ive (roo·mi·nät·iv) adj. ru·mi·na·tion (roo·mi·nä·shən) n.

rum·mage (rum·ij) v. (rum·aged, rum·mag·ing) to make a search by turning things over or disarranging them. rummage n. a search of this kind. □ rummage sale, a sale of miscellaneous second-hand goods to raise money for a charity.

rum·my1 (rum·mi) adj. a card game in which players try to form sets or sequences of cards.

rummy2 n. (pl. -mies) (slang) a drunkard.

ru·mor (roo·mor) n. information spread by word of mouth but not certainly true. □ be rumored, to be spread as a rumor.

rump (rump) n. 1. the buttocks, the corresponding part of an animal or bird. 2. a cut of meat from an animal’s hindquarters.

rum·ple (rum·pəl) v. (rum·pled, rum·pl·ing) to make or become crumpled, to make (something smooth) untidy. rum·ply adj.

rum·pus (rum·pus) n. (informal) an up roar, an angry dispute. □ rumpus room, a room, usually in the basement of a house, for games, hobbies, etc.

rum·run·ner (rum·run·ner) n. a smuggler of rum or other liquor. rum·run·ning adj. & n.

run (run) v. (ran, run·ning) 1. to move with quick steps, never having both or all feet on the ground at once. 2. to go or travel smoothly or swiftly, (of salmon) to go up river in large numbers from the sea. 3. to compete in a race or contest, to seek election, ran for presidential. 4. to spread rapidly or beyond the intended limit, the dye has run. 5. to flow or cause to flow, to exude liquid, run some water into it; smoke makes my eyes run; run dry, to become dry. 6. to function, to be in action, left the engine running. 7. to travel or convey from point to point, the bus runs every hour; we’ll run you home; run the blockade, to continue to pass through it; run contraband goods, smuggle them in. 8. to extend, a fence runs around the estate; the show runs almost two hours, lasts that long. 9. to be current or operative or valid, the lease runs for 20 years; musical ability runs in the family. 10. to be in a specified condition, feeling ran high; run a temperature, to be feverish. 11. to cause to run or go or extend or function. 12. to manage, to organize, who runs the country? 13. to own and use (a vehicle etc.). 14. (of a newspaper) to print as an item. 15. to sew (fabric) loosely or quickly. 16. to be expressed in a specific manner; his statement ran as follows, was expressed in these words. run n. 1. an act or spell or course of running. 2. a point scored in baseball. 3. a vertical flaw in a stocking etc. caused by a stitch or stitches becoming undone through several rows. 4. a continuous stretch or sequence or spell, a production run; a run in hearts, a numerical sequence in this suit of cards. 5. a general demand for goods etc., there’s been a run on canned meat; a run on the bank, a sudden withdrawal of deposits by many customers. 6. a large number of salmon going up river from the sea. 7. a general type or class of things. 8. an enclosure where domestic animals can range. 9. a track for some purpose, ski run. 10. permission to make unrestricted use of something, he has the run of the house. run·less adj. □ in the long run, over a period of time. on the run, fleeing from pursuit or capture; hurrying about. run across, to happen to meet or find. run afoul of, to run into trouble with. run after, to seek the company or attentions of. run around with, to keep company with. run away, to leave quickly or secretly. run away with, to elope with (a person); to win (a prize etc.) easily; to accept (an idea) too hastily; to carry off (stolen property). run down, to stop because not rewound; to reduce the numbers of; to knock down with a moving vehicle or ship; to discover after searching; to speak of in a slightly way; be run down, to be dilapidated or weak or exhausted. run for it, to try to escape by running. run in, (informal) to arrest and take into custody. run into, to collide with; to happen to meet. run off, to run away; to produce (copies) on a machine. run on, to talk continually. run out, (of time or a stock of something) to become used up, (of a person) to have used up one's stock; to escape from a container. run over, to knock down or crush with a vehicle; to study or repeat quickly. run risks, to take risks. run through, to study or repeat quickly. run up, to raise (a flag) on a mast; to allow (a bill) to mount; to add up (a column of figures); to make quickly by sewing, run up some curtains.

run-a-bout (run-a-bowt) n. a light automobile or motorboat.
run-a-round (run-a-round) n. an evasive response.
run-a-way (run-a-way) n. a person who has run away. runaway adj. 1. having run away or being out of control. 2. won easily, a runaway victory.
run-down (run-down) n. a detailed analysis.
run-down (run-down) adj. 1. in a state of neglect. 2. weakened, as from overwork, poor nutrition, etc.
rune (roon) n. any of the letters in an alphabet used by early Germanic peoples.
rung1 (rung) n. one of the crosspieces of a ladder etc. rung-less adj.
rung2 see ring2.
run-in (run-in) n. a direct confrontation, a quarrel.
run-let (run-lit) n. a small stream.
run-nel (run-él) n. a brook.
run-ner (run-ér) n. 1. a person or animal that runs, one taking part in a race. 2. a messenger. 3. a creeping stem that issues from the main stem and takes root. 4. a groove or rod or roller for a thing to move on, one of the long strips on which a sledge etc. slides. 5. a long narrow strip of carpet, or of ornamental cloth for a table etc.
run-ner-up (run-ér-up) n. a person or team finishing second in a competition.
run-ning (run-ing) see run. running adj. 1. performed while running, a running jump or kick. 2. following each other without interval, for four days running. 3. continuous, a running battle; running commentary, one on an event as it happens. running n. the act of running. run or out of the running, with a good or with no chance of winning. running board, a ledge formerly under the doors of a car to assist passengers in getting in and out of the car. running gear, the working mechanisms of a vehicle, those not used for power. running lights, the lights on boats and aircraft at night. running mate, a candidate for a secondary position in an election. running stitch, a line of evenly spaced stitches made by a straight thread passing in and out of the material. run-ny (run-ee) adj. (-ni-er, -ni-est) 1. semiliquid. 2. tending to flow or exude fluid. run-off (run-awf) n. 1. liquid that drains off, as water after a rain. 2. a deciding race after a tie.
run-of-the-mill (run-óv-thé-mil) adj. ordinary, not special.
run-on (run-on) n. 1. printing that continues on the same line as that which precedes. 2. a line of poetry to be read as continuing the sense of the preceding line. run-on adj.
runt (runt) n. an undersized person or animal; the runt of a litter, the smallest animal in a litter. runt'y adj. (runt-l-er, runt-l-est) runt-l-ness n.
run-way (run-way) n. a prepared surface on an airfield, on which aircraft take off and land.
ru-pee (roo-pee, roo-pee) n. the unit of money in India, Pakistan, and certain other countries.
rup-ture (rup-chúr) n. 1. breaking, breach. 2. an abdominal hernia. rupture v. (rup-tured, rup-tur-ing) 1. to burst or break (tissue etc.), to become burst or broken. 2. to affect with hernia.
ru-ral (roof-ál) adj. of or in or like the countryside. ru-ral-ly adv. ru-ral-lism n. □ rural free delivery, free postal delivery service in country areas.
ruse (rooz) n. a deception or trick.
rush1 (rush) n. a marsh plant with a slender pithy stem used for making mats, chair seats, baskets, etc.
rush2 v. 1. to go or come or convey with great speed. 2. to act hastily, to force into hasty action. 3. to attack or capture with a sudden assault. rush n. 1. rushing, an instance of this. 2. a period of great activity. 3. a sudden great demand for goods etc. 4. (informal) the first print of a motion picture before it is cut and edited. rush adj. done with haste or with minimum delay, a rush job. rush'er n. rush'ing-ly adv. rush hour, the time each day when traffic is busiest.

rusk (rusk) n. a kind of dry toasted bread, especially used for feeding babies.

Russ. abbr. 1. Russia. 2. Russian.

rus-set (rus-it) adj. soft reddish brown.

russet n. 1. russet color. 2. an apple with a rough skin of this color.

Russ-i-a (rush-à) a country extending from eastern Europe to the Pacific, the U.S.S.R.

Russ-i-an (rush-án) adj. of Russia or its people or language. Russian n. 1. a native or inhabitant of Russia. 2. the language of Russia. Russian dressing, a salad dressing with mayonnaise, chopped pickles and pimentos, chili sauce, etc. Russian Orthodox Church, the church that was once the established church of Russia. Russian roulette, an act of bravado in which a person holds to his head a revolver of which one (unknown) chamber contains a bullet, and pulls the trigger. Russian wolfhound, a borzoi.

rust (rust) n. 1. a reddish-brown or yellowish-brown coating formed on iron or other metal by the effect of moisture, and gradually corroding it. 2. reddish brown. 3. a plant disease with rust-colored spots, the fungus causing this. rust v. 1. to affect or be affected with rust. 2. to lose quality or efficiency by lack of use. rust'less adj.

rus-tic (rus-tik) adj. 1. having the qualities ascribed to country people or peasants, simple and unsophisticated, rough and unrefined. 2. made of rough timber or untrimmed branches, or bridge. rustic n. a countryman, a peasant. rus-ti-cal-ly adv. rus-tic-l-ty (rus-tis-i-tie) n.

rus-ti-cate (rus-ti-kayt) v. (rus-ti-S, s (es) (pl. S's, S's, s's) the nineteenth letter of the alphabet.

s suffix used to form the plural of nouns, abbreviations, numbers, letters, and symbols; used to form adverbs, as in evenings, always, besides; used to form third person singular present indicative of verbs, as in eats, says.

S symbol sulfur.

s. abbr. 1. saint. 2. second. 3. section. 4. series. 5. shilling(s). 6. sign. 7. singular. 8. small. 9. son. 10. south. 11. stere(s). 12. substantive.

's 1. contraction of is, as in he's here. 2. contraction of has, as in he's gone. 3. contraction of does, as in what's he do? 4. contraction of us, as in let's go. 5. possessive form of singular and plural nouns not ending in s, as in man's, people's, men's.

S.A. abbr. 1. Salvation Army. 2. seaman apprentice. 3. South Africa.

Sab•bath (sab-áth) n. 1. a rest day appointed for Jews on the last day of the week (Saturday). 2. Sunday as a Christian day of abstination from work and play.

Sab•bat•i•cal (sab-bat-i-kál) adj. of or like the Sabbath. □ sab•bat•i•cal leave, leave granted at (often seven-year) intervals to a university professor etc. for study and travel.

sa•ber (say-bér) n. a cavalry sword with a curved blade. □ sab•er rattling, a display of military strength. sab•er saw, a lightweight electric saw.

Sa•bin (say-bin) vaccine a polio vaccine, taken orally. □ Named after Albert B. Sabin (1906— ), the American physician who developed it.

sa•bie (say-bé) n. 1. a small weasel-like animal of arctic and adjacent regions, valued for its dark brown fur. 2. its fur. 3. the color black. sa•bie adj. 1. of the sable's fur, a sable coat. 2. black.

Sab•ot (sab-oh) n. (pl. -o•tas) a shoe lowed out from one piece of wood, or with a wooden sole.

Sab•o•tag•e (sab-ô-tahzh) n. willful damaging of machinery or materials, or disruption of work, by dissatisfied workmen or hostile agents. sab•o•tag•e v. (sab•o•tag•ed, sab•o•tag•ing) 1. to commit sabotage on. 2. to destroy or render useless, sabotaged my plans.

Sab•o•teur (sab-ô-fur) n. a person who commits sabotage.

Sa•bra (sah-brá) n. a native-born Israeli.

Sa•bre = sab•er.

Sac (sak) n. a bag-like part in an animal or plant.

SAC abbr. Strategic Air Command.

Sac•cha•rin (sak-á-rin) n. a very sweet substance used as a substitute for sugar.

Sac•cha•rine (sak-á-rin) adj. intensely and unpleasantly sweet, saccharine sentiments.

Sac•er•do•tal (sas-ér-doh-tál, sak-á) adj. of priests or the priesthood, priestly.

Sac•er•do•tal•ly adv. sac•er•do•tal•ism n.

Sa•chem (say-chém) n. the supreme chief of some American Indian tribes.

Sa•chet (sa-shay) n. a small bag filled with a sweet-smelling substance for laying among clothes etc. to scent them.

Sack1 (sak) n. 1. a large bag of strong coarse fabric etc. for storing and carrying goods. 2. this with its contents, the amount it contains. 3. the sack, (informal) dismissal from one's employment or position, got the sack. 4. (informal) a bed; hit the sack, go to bed.

Sack v. 1. to put into a sack or sacks. 2. (informal) to dismiss from a job.

Sack'ful n. (pl. -fuls, pr. -fúlz) □ sack race, a race in which each competitor is tied in a sack up to his waist or neck and moves by jumping.

Sack2 v. to plunder (a captured town etc.) in a violent destructive way. Sack n. the act or process of sacking a place.

Sack3 n. a dry Spanish wine.

Sac•cloth (sak-klawth) n. a coarse fabric for making sacks; sackcloth and ashes, a symbol of regret and repentance.
From the ancient custom of wearing sackcloth and sprinkling ashes on one's head in penitence or mourning.

sack-ling (sak-ling) n. material for making sacks.

sac-ra-ment (sak-rā-mēnt) n. 1. a formal symbolic religious rite, especially the Christian ceremonies of baptism and the Eucharist. 2. (often Sacrament) the consecrated elements in the Eucharist, especially the bread, receive the Sacrament.

Sac-ra-men-to (sak-rā-men-toh) the capital of California.

sa-cred (say-krid) adj. 1. associated with or dedicated to God or a god, or regarded with reverence because of this. 2. dedicated to some person or purpose, sacred to the memory of those who fell in battle. 3. connected with religion, not secular, sacred music. 4. sacrosanct.

sa-cred-ly adv. sa-cred-ness n. □ sacred cow, an idea or institution that its supporters will not allow to be criticized.

The phrase refers to the Hindus' respect for the cow as a sacred animal.

sa-cril-fice (sak-rī-fis) n. 1. the slaughter of a victim or the presenting of a gift or doing of an act in order to win the favor of a god. 2. the giving up of a valued thing for the sake of another that is more important or more worthy. 3. the thing offered or given up. 4. the sale of something at much less than its real value. 5. (in baseball) a fly ball or a bunt hit by a batter for the purpose of advancing a base runner. sacrifice v. (sa-cril-ficed, sa-cril-fic-ing) 1. to offer or give up as a sacrifice. 2. to give up (a thing) in order to achieve something else, her description of events sacrificed accuracy to vividness. 3. to sell (a thing) at much less than its real value.

sa-cril-lege (sak-kri-lij) n. disrespect or damage to something regarded as sacred.

sa-cris-tan (sak-rī-stān) n. the person in charge of the contents of a church, especially the sacred vessels etc. used in worship.

sa-cris-ty (sak-rī-stee) n. (pl. -ties) the place in a church where sacred vessels etc. are kept.

sa-cri-ll-i-ac (sak-roh-il-i-ak) n. the joint between the bone of the hip and the five fused vertebrae close to the base of the spine.

sa-cri-sanct (sak-rō-sangkt) adj. revered or respected and therefore secure from violation or damage.

sa-cr-um (sak-rūm, say-kruhm) n. (pl. sac-ra, pr. sak-rā, say-krā) the composite triangular bone of fused vertebrae forming the back of the pelvis.

sad (sad) adj. (sad-der, sad-dest) 1. showing or causing sorrow, unhappy. 2. regrettable. sad-ly adv. sad-ness n. □ sad sack, (slang) a very incompetent person.

sad-den (sad-ën) v. to make sad.

sad-dle (sad-ēl) n. 1. a seat for a rider, placed on a horse or other animal or forming part of a bicycle etc. 2. a saddle-shaped thing, a ridge of high land between two peaks. 3. a cut of meat consisting of the two loins. saddle v. (sad-dled, sad-dling) 1. to put a saddle on (an animal). 2. to burden (a person) with a task. In the saddle, in a controlling position. saddle blanket, a blanket or pad laid on a horse's back under the saddle to prevent irritation. saddle horse, a horse for riding. saddle shoe, a shoe with a contrasting band of color across the instep. saddle soap, a soap used for cleaning and preserving leather. saddle sore, an irritation or sore on a horse's back caused by a badly fitted saddle; a sore or irritation on a person caused by horseback riding. saddle stitching, a long running stitch made with thick thread, used decoratively.

sad-dle-backed (sad-ēl-bakt) adj. with the upper outline concave.

sad-dle-bag (sad-ēl-bag) n. a strong bag fixed behind a saddle or one of a pair slung over a horse etc.

sad-dle-bow (sad-ēl-bō) n. the arched front of a saddle.

sad-dle-cloth (sad-ēl-klawth) n. (pl. -cloths) the pad placed under a racehorse saddle, showing the horse's number.

sad-der (sad-lēr) n. a person who makes or deals in saddles and harness.

sad-dler-y (sad-lē-ree) n. a saddler's goods or business.

Sad-du-cee (saj-ū-see) n. a member of the Jewish sect or party of the time of Christ that denied the resurrection of the dead, the existence of spirits, and the obligation of the traditional oral law. Sad-du-cee-ism n. Sad-du-cee-an (saj-ū-see-an) adj.

sad-ism (sad-iz-ēm, say-diz-) n. enjoyment of inflicting or watching cruelty, this as a form of sexual perversion. sad-ist adj. & n. sa-dis-tic (sā-dis-tik) adj. sa-dis-ti-cal-ly adv.

sad-o-mas-o-chie (sad-oh-mas-ō-kiz-ēm, say-doh-) n. the combination of sadism and masochism in one person. *saf-o-mas/-o-chist n. *saf-o-mas/-o-chie-tic (sad-o-mas-6-kis-tik, say-doh-)= adj.

safar-i (sâ-fahr-e) n. 1. a hunting or exploratory expedition, especially in East Africa. 2. a similar expedition organized as a vacation tour. □safari jacket, a belted jacket in linen or similar fabric. safari park, an amusement park where exotic wild animals are kept in the open for visitors to see.

safe (sayf) adj. (saf-er, saf-est) 1. free from risk or danger, not dangerous. 2. providing security or protection. safe adv. safely; play safe, not take risks. safe n. a strong locked cupboard or cabinet for valuables. safe'ly adv. safe'ness n. □on the safe side, allowing a margin of security against risks. safe con duct, the right to pass through a district on a particular occasion without risk of arrest or harm (as in time of war). safe period, (in birth control) the time in a woman’s menstrual cycle when sexual intercourse is least likely to result in conception.

safe-crack-er (sayf-krack-ér) n. a criminal who breaks safes open.

safe-de-posit (sayf-de-poz-it) box a box in a bank vault that is rented out for the keeping of a person’s valuables.

safe-guard (sayf-gahrhd) n. a means of protection. safeguard v. to protect.

safe-keep-ing (sayf-kee-ping) n. preservation in a safe place.

safe-ty (sayf-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being safe, freedom from risk or danger. 2. (in football) a position in the defensive backfield, a player who plays this position.

□safety catch, a device that prevents a mechanism from being operated accidentally or dangerously; a locking device on a gun trigger. safety glass, glass that will not splinter when broken.

safety lamp, a miner’s lamp with the flame protected so that it will not ignite gases. safety match, a match that ignites only on a specially prepared surface. safety net, a net placed to catch an acrobat etc. in case he falls from a height. safety pin, a pin with a guard protecting the point to prevent it from pricking the user or coming out. safety razor, a razor with a guard to prevent the blade from cutting the skin deeply.

safety valve, a valve that opens automatically to relieve excessive pressure in a steam boiler; an outlet for releasing feelings of anger or excitement etc. harmlessly.

saf-flower (saf-low-ér) n. a thistlelike plant yielding a red dye used in rouge etc. and seeds rich in oil. □safflower oil, its edible oil.

saf-fron (sâf-rôn) n. 1. the orange-colored stigmas of a kind of crocus, used for coloring and flavoring food. 2. the color of these.

S. Afr. abbr. South Africa.

sag (sag) v. (sagged, sag-ging) 1. to sink or curve down in the middle under weight or pressure. 2. to hang loosely and unevenly, to droop. sag n. sagging.

sag-a-go (sah-gâ) n. a long story with many episodes.

sag-a-clus (sâ-gay-shûs) adj. showing wisdom in one’s understanding and judgment of things. sa-ga’clus-ly adv.

sag-a-ty (sâ-gas-i-té) n. 1. an herb with fragrant grayish-green leaves used to flavor food. 2. sagebrush.

sage2 adj. (sag-er, sag-est) profoundly wise, having wisdom gained from experience. sage n. a profoundly wise man.

sage’ly adv. sage’ness n.

sage-brush (sayj-brush) n. a growth of plants native to the dry plains of the western U.S.

sag-it-ta-ri-us (saj-i-tair-i-us) n. a sign of the zodiac, the Archer. Sag-it-ta’ri-an adj. & n.

sago (say-goh) n. a starchy food in the form of hard white grains, used in puddings, obtained from the pith of a kind of palm tree (the sago palm).

sag-uaro (sâ-wahr-oh) n. (pl. -ros) a giant cactus of the southwestern U.S. and Mexico.

sah-ib (sah-ib) n. a former title of address to European men in India.

sail (sayl) n. 1. a piece of canvas or other fabric spread on rigging to catch the wind and drive a ship or boat along. 2. these sails collectively. 3. a journey by ship or boat, Haifa is three days’ sail from Naples. 4. something resembling a sail in function, the sails of a windmill. sail v. 1. to travel on water by use of sails or engine power. 2. to start on a voyage, we sail next week. 3. to travel on or over (water) in a ship or boat, sailed the seas. 4. to control the navigation of (a ship), to set (a toy boat) afloat. 5. to move swiftly and smoothly, to walk in a stately manner, she sailed into the room.

□sailing ship, a ship driven by sails.

sail into, (slang) to attack physically or verbally, sailed into him; to begin to work vigorously on, sailed into my work. set sail, to begin a sea voyage.

sail-boat (sayl-boht) n. a boat propelled by sail.

sail-cloth (sayl-klawth) n. 1. canvas for sails. 2. a strong canvasslike dress material.
sail-fish (sail-fish) n. a large marine fish with a sail-like dorsal fin.
sail-or (say-lor) n. 1. a man who works as a member of a ship’s crew, a member of a country’s navy, especially one below the rank of officer. 2. a traveler considered as liable or not liable to seasickness, a bad or good sailor. □sailor hat, a straw hat with a flat top and straight brim.
sail-plane (sayl-playn) n. a glider designed for soaring.
saint (saynt) n. 1. a holy person, one declared (in the Roman Catholic or Orthodox Church) to have won a high place in heaven and to be worthy of veneration. 2. Saint, the title of such a person or of one receiving veneration. 3. one of the souls of the dead in paradise. 4. a member of the Christian Church or (in certain religious bodies) of one’s own branch of it. 5. a very good or patient or unselfish person. saint’ed adj. saint’dom n. saint’hood n. □St. Andrew’s Cross, an X-shaped cross. St. Bernard, a very large dog originally kept by the monks of Hospice on Great St. Bernard Pass in the Alps for the rescue of travelers. St. Lucia (loo-sha) an island country in the West Indies. St. Patrick’s Day, March 17, in honor of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland. St. Paul, the capital of Minnesota. St. Valentine’s Day, February 14, in honor of St. Valentine, involving the exchange of valentines. St. Vitus’ dance, a children’s disease in which the limbs twitch uncontrollably.
saint’ly (saynt-lee) adj. (-ll’er, -ll’est) like a saint. saint’liness n.
sake1 (sayk) n. for the sake of, in order to please or honor (a person) or get or keep (a thing).
sak-e2, sa’ki (sah-kee) n. a Japanese rice wine.
salaam (sá-la-hém) n. an Oriental salutation, a low bow. salaam v. to make a salaam to.
sal-ad (sal-ád) n. a cold dish consisting of one or more vegetables (usually raw), often chopped or sliced and seasoned. □salad days, the time when one was youthful and inexperienced. salad dressing, a sauce used with salad.
sal-a-man’der (sál-a-man-dér) n. 1. a lizard-like animal related to the newts. 2. (in mythology) a lizard-like animal living in fire.
sal-a-mi (sá-la-mí) n. a strongly flavored sausage, originally Italian.
sal-a-ried (sál-a-reed) adj. receiving a salary.
sal-a-ry (sal-a-ree) n. (pl. -ries) a fixed payment made by an employer at regular intervals to a person, usually calculated on an annual or monthly basis.
sale (sayl) n. 1. selling, being sold. 2. an instance of this, the amount sold, made a sale; our sales were enormous. 3. an event at which goods are sold, especially by public auction or for charity. 4. disposal of a shop’s stock at reduced prices, as at the end of a season. sal’a-ble adj. □for or on sale, offered for purchase.
sales department, the department concerned with selling its firm’s products. sales promotion, the techniques used for increasing sales of a product. sales resistance, the opposition or apathy of a prospective customer etc. to be overcome by salesmanship. sales talk, persuasive talk designed to make people buy goods or accept an idea. sales tax, the tax on receipts from sales.
Sa’lem (say-lém) the capital of Oregon.
sales-clerk (saylz-klurk) n. a salesman or saleswoman.
sales-girl (saylz-gurl) n. a saleswoman.
sales-man (saylz-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a man employed to sell goods or services.
sales-man’ship (saylz-mán-ship) n. 1. the principles and techniques of selling, no understanding of salesmanship. 2. skill in selling, admiration for his salesmanship.
sales-per’son (saylz-pur-són) n. a salesman or saleswoman.
sales-wom’an (saylz-wuüm-án) n. (pl. -wom’en, pr. -wim-in) a woman employed to sell goods or services.
sal-l’i-cyl’ic (sal-l-isl-ik) acid a benzene derivative used in the manufacture of aspirin etc.
sal-l’i-ent (say-li-ent) adj. projecting, prominent, most noticeable, the salient features of the plan. salient n. a projecting part, especially of a battle line. sal’i-en’ty adv. sal’i-en’cence n. sal’i-en’cy (say-li-en-see) n.
sal’i-line (say-li-leen) adj. salty, containing salt or salts. sal’i-line’ty (sá-lin-i-tee) n.
Salis’bur-y (sáwiz-ber-ee, -bü-ree) the capital of Zimbabwe, formerly Rhodesia.
Salisbury steak a ground beef steak fried or broiled and often served with a sauce. ▲Named after J. H. Salisbury, a 19th century English dietitian.
sal’i-va (sá-li-va) n. the colorless liquid discharged into the mouth by various glands, assisting in chewing and digestion.

salivary (sal-i-ver-e) adj. of or producing saliva, salivary glands.

salivate (sal-i-vat-ed, sal-i-vat-ing) to produce saliva.

Salk (sawk) vaccine the first vaccine developed against polio. Named after J. E. Salk (1914-), the microbiologist who developed it.

sal-vage (sal-ij-vay-shuhn) n.

take it with a grain or pinch of salt, not believe it wholly. worth one's salt, competent, deserving one's position.

SALT (sawlt) n. Strategic Arms Limitation Talks.

salted (sa-lid) adj. of or living in salt water. saltwater taffy, a chewy sugar and molasses candy, traditionally sold at the seashore.

sa-lu-brl-ous-ly (sawl-oo-brul-i-see) adv. health-giving.

sal-u-brl-ty (sawl-oo-brul-i-tee) n.

Sa-lu-brl-ous-ness (sawl-oo-brul-ous-ness) n.

Sa-lu-brl-ty (sawl-oobri-tee) n.

SALVADOR (sawlt-oh) adj. health-giving. sa-lu-bri-ous-ly adv. sa-lu-' bri-ous-ness n. sa-lu-bri-ty (sawl-oo-bri-tee) n.

Sa-lu-ki (sawlt-oh-kee) n. (pl. -kis) also sa-lu-luk) a tall swift slender silty-coated dog.

sa-lut-ed (sa-lut-ed) adj. of or living in salt water. saltwater taffy, a chewy sugar and molasses candy, traditionally sold at the seashore.

sal-u-tation (sa-lu-tay-shuhn) n. 1. a word or words or gesture of greeting, an expression of respect. 2. a formal word or phrase (as "Dear Sir") at the head of a letter.

sa-lu-ta-tion (sa-lu-tay-shuhn) n. 1. a gesture of respect or greeting or polite recognition. 2. a formal military movement or position of the body, or a discharge of guns or use of flags, as a sign of respect. salute v. (sa-lut-ed, sa-lut-ing) 1. to greet with a polite gesture. 2. to perform a formal military salute, to greet with this. 3. to express respect or admiration for.

Sa-va-do-ran (sawlt-oh-kee) adj. of El Salvador.

sal-u-ta-tion (sa-lu-tay-shuhn) n. 1. a gesture of respect or greeting or polite recognition. 2. a formal military movement or position of the body, or a discharge of guns or use of flags, as a sign of respect. salute v. (sa-lut-ed, sa-lut-ing) 1. to greet with a polite gesture. 2. to perform a formal military salute, to greet with this. 3. to express respect or admiration for.

Sa-va-do-re-an (sawlt-oh-reek-ee-ahn) n. a native of El Salvador.

sal-vage (sal-vaj) n. 1. rescue of a wrecked...

City, the capital of Utah. salt lick, a place where animals go to lick rock or earth impregnated with salt. salt marsh, a marsh that is flooded by the sea at high tide. salt of the earth, people with a wholesome influence upon society. salt pan, a natural or artificial hollow by the sea where salt is obtained from seawater by evaporation. salt pork, pork cured with salt. salt shaker, a container of salt for sprinkling on food.
salvation / sanctuary or damaged ship or its cargo, rescue of property from fire or other disaster. 2. the goods or property saved. 3. the saving and use of waste paper, scrap metal, etc. 4. the items saved. salvage v. (salvaged, salvaged, salvaged) to save from loss or for use as salvage. salvageable adj.

salvation (sal-vay-shon) n. 1. saving of the soul from sin and its consequences, the state of being saved. 2. preservation from loss or calamity, a thing that preserves from these, the loan was our salvation. salvation n. 2. Salvation Army, an international Christian organization founded on military lines to do charitable work and spread Christianity.

salve (say) n. 1. a soothing ointment. 2. something that soothes conscience or wounded feelings. salve v. (salved, salved, salved) to soothe (conscience etc.).

salver (sal-vur) n. a tray (usually of metal) on which letters or cards or refreshments are placed for handing to people.

salvia (sal-via) n. a plant with spikes of red or blue flowers.

salvo (sal-vo) n. (pl. -vos, -vos) 1. the firing of a number of guns simultaneously, especially as a salute. 2. a volley of applause.

SAM (sam) n. surface-to-air missile.

Samuel (sam) abbr. Samuel.

S. Am. S. Amer. abbr. 1. South America. 2. South American.

Samaritan (sah-ma-re-sahn) n. a native of Samaria, a district of ancient Palestine. Samaritan n. 1. someone who readily gives help to a person in distress who has no claim on him. 2. Named after the parable of the Good Samaritan, in Luke.

Samaritan (sah-ma-re-sahn) n. a rare-earth metallic element.

samba (sam-bah) n. (pl. -bas) 1. a Brazilian dance of African origin, a ballroom dance imitative of this. 2. the music for this dance. samba v. (samba, samba, samba) to dance the samba.

same (say) adj. 1. being of one kind, not changed or changing or different. 2. previously mentioned. 3. the same, the same thing, would do the same again; in the same manner, we still feel the same about it. same adv. & pronoun (informal) = the same (definition 3 above), same for me, please; we feel the same as you do. sameness n. being the same, lack of variety. same here (informal) the same applies to me; I agree.

samizdat (sam-iz-dat) n. a system of clandestine publication of banned literature in the U.S.S.R.

Samoa (sah-moa) a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean, of which the eastern part (American Samoa) is a territory of the U.S., and the western part (Western Samoa) is an independent country. Samoa n. adj. & n.

samovar (sam-o-vahr) n. a metal urn with an interior heating tube to keep water at boiling point for making tea, used in Russia and elsewhere.

SAME (sam) n. 1. a member of a people of Siberian Mongols. 2. the language of these people. 3. a dog of white arctic breed.

sample (sam-pul) n. a small flat-bottomed boat used along coasts and rivers of China.

sample (sam-pul) n. a small separated part showing the quality of the whole, a specimen. sample v. (sampled, sample, sampling) to test by taking a sample or getting an experience of.

sample (sam-plur) n. 1. a person who samples. 2. a piece of embroidery worked in various stitches to display skill in needlework.

Samuel (sam) n. 1. a Hebrew prophet. 2. either of two books of the Old Testament telling the story of his times.

Samurai (sam-oo-ri) n. (pl. -rai) 1. a Japanese army officer. 2. a member of the former military caste in Japan.

Samana (samana) the capital of the Yemen Arab Republic.

sanatorium (sam-an-um) (san-ah-toh-rim) n. (pl. -toh-rums, -toh-ri, pr. -toh-ri) 1. a sanatorium. 2. a health resort.

sanctify (sangk-ti-fi) v. (sanctified, sanctified, sanctifying) to make holy or sacred. sanctifier n. sanctification (sangk-ti-fi-kay-shun) n. sanctified (sangk-ti-fi-kay-shun) n. 1. making a show of righteousness or piety. sanctified (sangk-ti-fi-kay-shun) n. 1. hypocritical righteousness or piety.

sanction v. to give sanction or approval to, to authorize. 2. action taken by a country to penalize or coerce a country or organization that is considered to have violated a law or code of practice or basic human rights. sanction n. sanctioner n. sangk-ti-fi (sangk-ti-fi) n. (pl. -ties) sacredness, holiness.

sangk-ti-fi (sangk-ti-fi) n. (pl. -ties) sacredness, holiness.
encouraged to breed. 3. refuge, a place of refuge, seek sanctuary.

sanc·tum (sangk-túm) n. (pl. -tums, -ta, pr. -tá) 1. a holy place. 2. a person’s private room.

sand (sand) n. 1. very fine loose fragments resulting from the wearing down of rock, found in deserts, seashores, riverbeds, etc.; the sands are running out, the time allowed is nearly at an end. 2. an expanse of sand, a sandbank, White Sands. 3. light brown color like that of sand.

sand v. 1. to sprinkle or cover with sand. 2. to smooth or polish with sand or sandpaper.

sand·er n. □sand castle, a structure of sand made for recreation on the seashore. sand dollar, a round flat sea urchin. sand dune, loose sand formed into a mound by wind. sand painting, an American Indian ceremonial design made with colored sands.
sand shark, a shark found in the shallow coastal water of the Atlantic. sand trap, (in golf) a hazard, usually near the putting green, consisting of a shallow sandy pit.

san·dal (san-dal) n. a light shoe consisting of a sole with straps or thongs over the foot.

san·daled (san-dáld) adj. wearing sandals.

san·dal·wood (san-dál-wúd) n. a kind of scented wood from a tropical tree.

sand·bag (sand-bag) n. a bag filled with sand, used to protect a wall or building (as in war, or as a defense against rising floodwater), or as a weapon. sandbag v. (sand-bagged, sand·bag·ging) 1. to protect with sandbags. 2. to hit with a sandbag. sand·bag·ger n.

sand·bank (sand-bangk) n. a deposit of sand under water, causing a river etc. to be shallow at that point.

sand·bar (sand-bahr) n. a sandbank at the mouth of a harbor or river.

sand·blast (sand-blast) v. to clean or treat with a jet of sand driven by compressed air or steam. sand·blast·er n.

sand·box (sand-boks) n. a box containing sand for children to play in.

sand·hog (sand-hog) n. 1. a person who works in sand. 2. a person employed in digging underwater tunnels.

S&L abbr. savings and loan.

sand·lot (sand-lot) n. an unoccupied sandy lot used for games, usually by children. □sandlot baseball, a baseball game played in a sandlot.

sand·lot·ter (sand-lot-ér) n. a person who plays sandlot baseball.

sand·man (sand-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) the personification of tiredness causing children’s eyes to close toward bedtime.

sand·pa·per (sand-pay-pér) n. paper with a coating of sand or other abrasive substance, used for smoothing or polishing surfaces. sandpaper v. to smooth or polish with sandpaper.

sand·pl·per (sand-pl-pér) n. any of several birds with long pointed bills, living in open wet sandy places.

sand·stone (sand-stohn) n. a rock formed of compressed sand.

sand·storm (sand-storm) n. a desert storm of wind with clouds of sand.

sand·wich (sand-wich) n. 1. two or more slices of bread with a layer of filling between. 2. something resembling this in arrangement. sandwich v. to insert (a thing) between two others. □sandwich coin, a U.S. coin with a layer of one metal between layers of another metal.
sandwich man, a man walking in the street and carrying advertising signs, which hang before and behind.

sand·y (san-dee) adj. (sand·ly, sand·ly) 1. like sand, covered with sand. 2. (of hair) yellowish red, (of a person) having hair of this color. sand·ly ness n.

sane (sayn) adj. (san·er, san·est) 1. having a sound mind, not mad. 2. showing good judgment, sensible and practical. sane·ly adv. sane·ness n.

San·for·lzed (san-fór-rizd) adj. (trade-mark) (of fabric) treated to resist shrinking.

sang (sang) see sing.

sang·frold (sahn-frwah) n. calmness in danger or difficulty.

san·gri·a (sang-gree-á) n. a Spanish drink of red wine with lemonade etc.

san·gui·nar·y (sang-gwin-ar-ee) adj. full of bloodshed. 2. bloodthirsty.
san·gui·nar·i·ly adv.

san·gul·ne (sang-gwin) adj. hopeful, optimistic, they are not very sanguine about their chances of winning.

san·i·tar·y (san-i-tair-i-um) n. (pl. -tar·i-ums, -tar·i-a, pr. -tar·i-á) an establishment for treating chronic diseases (such as tuberculosis) or for convalescents.

san·i·tar·y (san-i-tar-ee) adj. 1. of hygiene, hygienic. 2. of sanitation. □san·i·tar·y napkin, an absorbent pad worn during menstruation.

san·i·ta·tion (san-i-tay-shón) n. arrangements to protect public health, especially by drainage and the efficient disposal of sewage.

san·i·tize (san-i-tiz) v. (san-i-tized, san·i·tiz·ing) to make hygienic.
San·ti*a (san-ti-ah) n. being sane.
San Jo· sé (san hoh-zay) the capital of Costa Rica.
San Juan (san wahn) the capital of Puerto Rico. sank (sangk) see sink.
San Ma· ri· no (san mä-ree-noh) 1. a small independent republic in northeast Italy. 2. its capital.
sans (sanz) prep. without. □sans serif, a form of type without serifs.
San·skrit (san-skrít) n. the ancient language of the Hindus in India, one of the oldest known Indo-European languages.
San·ta Claus (san-ta klawz) a person said to fill children’s stockings with presents on the night before Christmas. △From the Dutch name Sante Klaus = St. Nicholas.
San·ta Fe (san-ta fay) the capital of New Mexico.
San· ti· a· go (san-ti-ah-go) the capital of Chile.
São To· mé (sown tuu-may) the capital of São Tomé and Príncipe (preen-si-pay), a country consisting of two islands off the west coast of Africa.
sap1 (sap) n. the vital liquid that circulates in plants, carrying food to all parts. sap v. (sapped, sap· ping) to exhaust (strength etc.) gradually. sap/per n.
sap2 n. a trench or tunnel made in order to get closer to an enemy. sap v. (sapped, sap· ping) 1. to dig a sap. 2. to undermine, to make insecure by removing foundations, to destroy insidiously. sap/per n. sap3 n. (slang) a foolish person.
sa· pi·ent (say-pi-ént) adj. pretending to be full of wisdom. sa·pi·en· tly adv.
sa·pi·ence n.
sap·ling (sap-líng) n. a young tree.
sa· pon· i·fy (sä-pon-i-fí) v. (sa· pon· i·fied, sa· pon· i·fy· ing) 1. to turn (fat or oil) into soap by decomposition with an alkali. 2. to convert (an ester) to acid and alcohol.
sap· phire (sat-ir) n. 1. a transparent blue precious stone. 2. its color. saphire adj. bright blue.
sap· py (sap-ee) adj. (-pl·er, -pl·est) adj. 1. full of sap. 2. (slang) silly. sap· pl·ness n.
sap· ro· phyte (sap-rö-fít) n. a fungus or similar plant living on decayed organic matter. sap· ro·phyt· ic (sap-rö-fít-ik) adj.
sap· suck· er (sap-suk-ér) n. an American woodpecker that drills holes in trees in order to drink sap from them.
sap· wood (sap-wuud) n. the soft outer layers of recently formed wood between the heartwood and the bark.
Sar· a· cen (sar-ä-sên) n. an Arab or Muslim at the time of the Crusades. Sar· a· cen· ic (sar-ä-sen-ik) adj.
sar· cas· ma (sahr-kaz-ém) n. 1. an ironical remark or taunt. 2. the use of such taunts.
sar· cas· tic (sahs-kas-tik) adj. using or showing sarcasm. sar· cas· ti·cal· ly adv.
sar· co· ma (sah-kr-kö-mä) n. (pl. -mas, -ma·ta, pr. -mä-tä) a malignant tumor on connective tissue.
sar· coph· a· gus (sah-söf-kö-güs) n. (pl. -gl, pr. -ji, -gi, -gus·es) a stone coffin, often decorated with carvings.
sar· dine (sahr-deen) n. a small herring or similar small fish, often canned as food tightly packed in oil.
sar· don· ic (sahr-deen-ik) adj. humorous in a grim or sarcastic way. sar· don· i· cal· ly adv.
sarge (sahrj) n. (slang) sergeant.
sa· ri (sahr-e) n. (pl. -ris) a length of cotton or silk cloth draped around the body, worn as the main garment by Hindu women.
sa· rong (sah·rawng) n. a Malay and Javanese garment worn by both sexes, consisting of a strip of cloth worn tucked around the waist or under the armpits.
sar· sa· pila· la (sah-sä-pä-ri-lä) n. 1. a tropical American plant with trailing roots. 2. the roots. 3. (pr. sa-sä-pä-ri-lä) soda water made from the dried roots, as root beer etc.
sar· to· ri· al (sahs-tohr-i-äl) adj. of tailoring, of men’s clothing. sar· to‘ri· al· ly adv.
sash1 (sash) n. a long strip of cloth worn around the waist or over one shoulder and across the body for ornament or as part of a uniform.
sash2 n. either of a pair of frames holding the glass panes of a window and sliding up and down in grooves. □sash cord, strong cord used for attaching a weight to each end of a sash so that it can be balanced at any height.
sash· shy (sah-shay) v. to walk or move ostentatiously, casually, or diagonally.
Sask. abbr. Saskatchewan.
Sas· katch· e· wan (sas-kach-ě-wan) a province of Canada.
sass (sas) n. (slang) impudence, impertinent speech, don’t give me any of your sass.
sas· sa· fras (sah-sä-fras) n. 1. a North American tree with a bark used medicinally or in perfumery. 2. its bark.
sas· sy (sas-ee) adj. (-sli·er, -sli·est) (in·for·mal) saucy.
sat see silt.
SAT abbr. Scholastic Aptitude Test.
sat. abbr. 1. saturate. 2. saturated. 3. sat-uration.
Sat. abbr. 1. Saturday. 2. Saturn.
Sa-tan (say-tān) the Devil.
Sa-tan-ism (say-tā-niz-īm) n. worship of Satan, often using distorted forms of Christian worship.
sat-ech (sach-ē) n. a small bag for carrying light articles, sometimes hung over the shoulder or carried on the back.
sate (sāt) v. (sat-ed, sat-ing) to satsiat.
sa-teen (sa-teen) n. a closely woven cotton fabric resembling satin.
sat-el-lite (sat-ē-līt) n. 1. a heavenly body revolving around a planet, an artificial body placed in orbit to revolve similarly. 2. a person’s follower or hanger-on. 3. a country that is subservient to another and follows its lead.
sa-ti-a-ble (sa-tī-a-bēl) adj. able to be sated. sa-ti-a-bly adv.
sa-ti-ate (sa-tī-at ed, sa-ti-at-ing) to satisfy an appetite fully, to glut or cloy with an excess of something. sa-ti-a-tion (sa-tī-a-shōn) n.
sa-ti-e-ty (sa-tī-ē-tee) n. the condition or feeling of being sated.
sat-in (sat-in) n. a silky material woven in such a way that it is glossy on one side only. sat-in adj. smooth as satin.
sat’in-y adj.
sat-in-wood (sat-in-woo’d) n. 1. the smooth hard wood of various tropical trees, used for making furniture. 2. a tree yielding this.
sat-ire (sat-ēr) n. 1. the use of ridicule or irony or sarcasm in speech or writing. 2. a novel or play or film etc. that ridicules people’s hypocrisy or foolishness in this way, often by parody.
sat-ir-ist (sat-ir-ist) n. a person who writes satires or uses satire.
Sat-ir-ize (sat-ir-iz) v. (sat-ir-ized, sat-ir-iz-ing) to attack with satire, to describe satirically. Sat-ir’l-ize-r n.
sat-is-fac-tion (sat-is-fak-shōn) n. 1. satisfying, being satisfied. 2. something that satisfies a desire or gratifies a feeling. 3. compensation for injury or loss, demand satisfaction.
sat-is-fac-tor-y (sat-is-fak-tō-ri) adj. satisfying expectations or needs, adequate. Sat-is-fac-to-ri-ly adv.
sat-is-fy (sat-is-fi) v. (sat-is-fied, sat-is-fy-ing) 1. to give (a person) what he wants or demands or needs, to make pleased or contented; be satisfied with something or to do something, to demand no more than this, to consider that this is enough. 2. to put an end to (a demand or craving) by giving what is required, satisfy one’s hunger. 3. to provide with sufficient proof, to convince; the police are satisfied that his death was accidental, they feel certain of this. 4. to pay (a creditor). Sat-is-fi-ce n. Sat-is-fi-cing ly adv.
sat-o-ri (sat-o-rē) n. (in Zen Buddhism) sudden enlightenment.
sat-trap (say-trap) n. 1. the governor of a province in the ancient Persian empire. 2. a subordinate ruler, a colonial governor, etc.
sat-u-rate (sach-ū-rate) v. (sat-u rat-ed, sat-u-rat-ing) 1. to make thoroughly wet, to soak. 2. to cause to absorb or accept as much as possible; the market for used cars is saturated, can take no more. Sat-u-ra-tion (sach-ū-rā-shōn) n. Sat-u-rat-ing (sach-ū-rā-tēng) n. Sat-ur-a-tion point, the stage beyond which no more can be absorbed or accepted.
Sat-ur-day (sat-ūr-day) n. the day of the week following Friday. □ Saturday night special, (slang) a small inexpensive pistol.
Sat-urn (sat-ūrn) n. 1. the Roman god of agriculture. 2. a planet in the solar system.
Sat-ur-nine (sat-ūr-nin) adj. (of a person or his looks) having a gloomy forbidding appearance. Sat-ur-nin’l-ty (sat-ūr nîn-l-tee) n.
Sat-yr (sa-tār) n. 1. one of a class of woodland gods in ancient Greek and Roman mythology, in human form but having a goat’s ears, tail, and legs. 2. a grossly lustful man.
Sat-yr-a-sis (sa-tār-a-sis) n. excessive uncontrollable sexual desire in males.
sauce (saw스) n. 1. a liquid or semiliquid preparation served with food to add flavor or richness. 2. (informal) impudence. 3. (slang) whiskey.
sauce-pan (saw스-pan) n. a metal cooking pot with a long handle at the side, used for boiling things over heat.
sauc-er (saw-sir) n. 1. a small shallow curved dish on which a cup stands. 2. something shaped like this.
sau-cy (saw-sē) adj. (-cl-er, -cl-elst) 1. impudent. 2. jaunty. Sau-čy adv. Sau-čy-ness n.
Sa-ur-di A-ra-bi-a (sa-hoo-dee ā-ray-bisauerbraten / saxifrage

ä) a country in the Middle East. Saudi
n. (pl. -dis) a native or inhabitant of Saudi Arabia.

sau•er•bra•ten (saw•er•brah•tèn) n. a German pot roast marinated in vinegar, sugar, and seasonings.
sau•er•kraut (saw•er•krowt) n. a German dish of shredded pickled cabbage. sau•na (saw•nà) n. a Finnish-style steam bath, a building or room for this.
sau•ner (saw•nèr) v. to walk in a leisurely way. saunter n. a leisurely walk or walking pace. sau•nter•er n. sau•ril•an (saw•ri•l•án) adj. of or like a lizard.
saurian n. an animal of the lizard family.

sau•sage (saw•sij) n. chopped seasoned meat enclosed in a cylindrical case made from animal entrails or synthetic material. □ sausage meat, meat prepared for this or as a stuffing etc.
sau•té (saw•tay) v. (sau•tèed, sau-tè•ing) to fry quickly in a small amount of fat. sauté n. a dish prepared in this way.
sau•terne (saw•tór•nè) n. a light sweet white French wine.

sav•age (saw•ij) adj. 1. in a primitive or uncivilized state, savage tribes. 2. wild and fierce, savage animals. 3. cruel and hostile, savage criticism. 4. (informal) very angry. savage n. a member of a savage tribe. savage v. (sav•aged, sav•ag•ing) to attack savagely, to maul. sav•age•ly adv. sav•age•ness, sav•age•ry n.
sa•van•na, sa•van•nah (saw•van•ná) n. a grassy plain in hot regions, with few or no trees.
sa•vant (saw•vont) n. a learned person.
sa•vate (saw•vát) n. a form of boxing in which the feet as well as the fists are used.
save (sawv) v. (saved, sav•ing) 1. to rescue, to keep from danger or harm or capture. 2. to free from the power of sin or its spiritual consequences. 3. to avoid wasting, save fuel. 4. to keep for future use or enjoyment, to put aside (money) for future use. 5. to make unnecessary, did it to save a trip. 6. in sports, to prevent an opponent from scoring.
save n. the act of saving in soccer etc.
save prep. except, in all cases save one.
sav•er n. sav•a•ble adj. □ save one's breath, to keep silent because it would be useless to speak. save grace, a good quality that redeems a persons whose other qualities are not good.
sav•ing (saw•ving) prep. except.
sav•ings (saw•vingz) n. pl. money put aside for future use. □ savings account, a deposit account on which interest is paid. savings bank, a bank that primarily receives savings accounts.
sav•lor (saw•vôr) n. a person who rescues or delivers people from harm or danger; the or our Savior, Christ as the savior of mankind.
sa•voir faire (saw•wahr fair) knowledge of how to behave in any situation that may arise, social tact. □ French. sa•vor (saw•vôr) n. 1. the taste or smell of something. 2. the power to arouse enjoyment, felt that life had lost its savor. savor v. 1. to have a certain taste or smell. 2. to taste or smell (a thing) with enjoyment. 3. to give a certain impression, the reply savors of impertinence.
sav•ry•y1 (saw•vô•ree) n. a low-growing herb with a spicy smell and flavor, used in cooking.
sav•ory2 adj. 1. having an appetizing taste or smell. 2. having a salt or piquant and not sweet flavor. sa•vor•i•ness n. sa•voy (saw•voi) n. a hardy cabbage with wrinkled leaves.
sav•vy (saw•vee) n. (slang) common sense, understanding. savvy v. (sav•ved, sav•vy•ing) (slang) to understand.
saw1 (saw) see see1.
saw2 n. a tool with a zigzag edge for cutting wood etc. saw v. (sawed, sawned or sawning, saw•ing) 1. to cut with a saw.
2. to make a to-and-fro movement like that of sawing. □ saw grass, a plant with leaves having toothed edges like a saw.
saw3 n. a proverbial saying, an old maxim.
saw•bones (saw•bohnz) n. (slang) a surgeon.
saw•buck (saw•bûk) n. (slang) a ten-dollar bill.
saw•dust (saw•dust) n. powdery fragments of wood produced when timber is sawed.
saw•fish (saw•fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish• es) a large fish having a blade-like snout with jagged edges that it uses as a weapon.
saw•fly (saw•fly) n. (pl. -flies) an insect that is destructive to plants, which it pierces with a jagged organ in order to lay its eggs.
saw•horse (saw•hors) n. a rack supporting wood for sawing.
saw•mill (saw•mil) n. a mill with power-operated saws where timber is cut into planks etc.
sawn (sawn) see saw2.
saw•toothed (saw•tooth) adj. shaped like the teeth of a saw.
saw•yer (saw•yer) n. a workman who saws timber.
sax (saks) n. (informal) a saxophone.
sax•i•frage (sax•si•frij) n. a rock plant with clusters of small white, yellow, or red flowers.

Saxon (sak-sön) n. 1. a member of a Germanic people who occupied parts of England in the 5th to 6th centuries. 2. their language. Saxon adj. of the Saxons or their language.

sax-o-phone (sak-sö-fohn) n. a wind instrument with a reed in the mouthpiece, and with keys operated by the player's fingers. sax'-o-phon-i-st n.

say v. (said, say-ing) 1. to utter or recite in a speaking voice. 2. to state, to express in words, to have a specified wording, the notice says "keep out." 3. to give as an argument or excuse, there's much to be said on both sides. 4. to give as one's opinion or decision, it's hard to say which one of them is taller. 5. to suppose as a possibility, to take (a specified amount) as being near enough, let's allow, say, an hour for the meeting. say n. the power to decide, has no say in the matter. say interfer. (informal) used to gain attention or show approval, say, can we get some service over here? say, that's a good idea. □ have one's say, to say all one wishes to say. I'll say, (informal) yes indeed.

say-ing (say-ing) n. a well-known phrase or proverb or other statement.

say-so (say-soh) n. 1. the power to decide something. 2. a command. 3. a mere assertion without proof.

Sb symbol antimony.

Sc symbol scandum.

SC abbr. South Carolina.

sc. abbr. 1. scale. 2. scene. 3. science. 4. scientific.

Sc. abbr. 1. Scotch. 2. Scotland. 3. Scots. 4. Scottish.

scab (skab) n. 1. a crust forming over a sore as it heals. 2. a skin disease or plant disease that causes scablike roughness. 3. (informal, contemptuous) a person who refuses to join a strike or labor union or takes a striker's place or breaks the rules of his trade or group. scab v. (scabbed, scab-bling) 1. (of sores) to form a scab, to heal over. 2. (informal, of persons) to act as a scab. scab'by adj. scab'bi-ly adv. scab'bi-ness n.

scab-bard (skab-árd) n. the sheath of a sword or dagger or bayonet.

scab-bles (skay-beez) n. a contagious skin disease causing itching.

scab-bi-ous (skay-bi-ús) n. a wild or cultivated annual herbaceous plant with thickly clustered blue, pink, or white flowers.

scab-rous (skab-rús) adj. 1. (of persons or plants etc.) having a rough skin or surface, scurfy. 2. (of a subject or situation etc.) requiring tactful treatment, hard to handle with decency. 3. indecent, salacious. 4. behaving indecently or im morally.

scads (skadz) n. (slang) large quantities, scads of money.

scaf-fold (skaf-ól) v. 1. a temporary structure of poles and planks etc. providing workmen with a platform on which to stand while constructing or repairing or cleaning a house etc. 3. a wooden platform for the execution of criminals; the scaffold, death by execution. scaffold v. to fit scaffolding to (a building).

scaf-fold-ing (skaf-ól-ding) n. 1. a scaffold or a group of scaffolds. 2. the poles etc. from which scaffolds are made.

scalan-ble (skay-lá-béél) adj. able to be scaled.

scallen-wag (skai-lá-wag) n. 1. (informal) a rascal, a good-for-nothing person. 2. a white Southerner who supported Republican Party policy during the Reconstruction period after the Civil War.

scald (skawlvd) v. 1. to injure or pain with hot liquid or steam. 2. to heat (milk) to near boiling point. 3. to cleanse (pans etc.) with boiling water. scald n. an injury to the skin by scalding.

scale1 (skayl) n. 1. one of the thin overlapping plates of horny membrane or hard substance that protect the skin of many fishes and reptiles. 2. something resembling this (as on a plant), a flake of skin. 3. an incrustation inside a boiler or kettle etc. in which hard water is regularly used, a similar incrustation on teeth. scale v. (scaled, scal-ing) 1. to remove scales or scale from. 2. to come off in scales or flakes. scaled adj. scale'less adj. □ scale insect, a small insect that attaches itself to the food plant and is covered by a waxy tough scale.

scale2 n. 1. the pan of a balance. 2. (often scaled) an instrument for weighing things; the Scales, a sign of the zodiac, Libra. □ tip or turn the scale(s), to be the decisive factor in a situation. tip the scales at, to weigh, tipped the scales at two hundred pounds.

scale3 n. 1. an ordered series of units or degrees or qualities etc. for purposes of measurement or classification. 2. an arrangement of notes in a system of music, ascending or descending by fixed intervals. 3. the ratio of the actual measurements of something and those of a drawing or map or model of it, a line with marks showing this, the scale is one inch to the mile; a scale model, one with measurements in uniform proportion to those of the original. 4. the relative size or extent of something, war on a grand scale.

scale v. (scaled, scal-ing) 1. to climb, scaled the cliff. 2. to represent in measurements or extent in proportion to the size of the original; scale it up or down, make it larger or smaller in proportion.

scal-e-n-e (skay-leen, skay-leen) adj. having unequal sides, scalene triangle.

scal-e-lon (skal-yan) n. 1. a long-necked onion without a normal bulb. 2. a shallot.

scal-e-op (skal-op) n. 1. a shellfish with two hinged fan-shaped shells. 2. the edible muscle of this. 3. one shell of this, used as a container in which food is cooked and served. 4. one of a series of semicircular curves used as an ornamental edging. scallop v. (scal-opered, scal-l-op-ing) 1. to ornament with scallops. 2. in cooking, to escallop.

scal-ly-wag = scalawag.

scalp (skalp) n. 1. the skin of the head excluding the face. 2. this with the hair, formerly cut from an enemy’s head as a trophy by American Indians. scalp v. to take the scalp of.

scal-pel (skal pel) n. a surgeon’s small light straight knife.

scal-y (skay-lee) adj. (scal-i-er, scal-i-est) covered with scales or scale (see scale).

scam (skam) n. (slang) a fraudulent scheme, especially for making money quickly.

scamp (skamp) n. a rascal. scamp v. to do (work) hastily and inadequately.

scam-per (skam-per) v. to run hastily, to run about playfully as a child does. scamper n. a scampering run.

scam-ple (skam-pee) n. pl. large prawns or shrimps, these used as food especially fried in oil and garlic.

scan (skan) v. (scanned, scan-ning) 1. to look at all parts of (a thing) intently. 2. to glance at quickly and not thoroughly. 3. to sweep a radar or electronic beam over (an area) in search of something. 4. to resolve (a picture) into elements of light and shade for television transmission. 5. to analyze the rhythm of (a line of verse). 6. (of verse) to be correct in rhythm. scan n. the act or process of scanning.

Scand. abbr. 1. Scandinavia. 2. Scanda-vian.

scan-dai (skan-dal) n. 1. something shameful or disgraceful. 2. gossip about other people’s faults and wrongdoing. scandal sheet, a newspaper etc. giving prominence to gossip and scandal.

scan-dal-ize (skan-dal-iz) v. (scan-dal-ized, scan-dal-iz-ing) to shock by something shameful or disgraceful.

scan-dal-iz-er n.

scan-dal-mon-ger (skan-dal-mong-gar) n. a person who invents or spreads scandal.

scan-dal-ous (skan-dal-ous) adj. 1. shameful, disgraceful. 2. containing scandal, scandalous reports. scan’dal-ous-ly adv.

Scan-di-na’v!-ia (skan-di-nay-vee-uh) Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Iceland considered as a unit. Scan-di-na’vi-an adj. & n.

scan-di-num (skan-di-num) n. a rare metallic element.

scan-sion (skan-shun) n. the scanning of lines of verse, the way verse scans.

scant (skant) adj. scanty, insufficient, was treated with scant courtesy. scant v. to skimp, to stint, to provide grudgingly.

scan-ties (skan-tees) n. pl. women’s short panties.

scant-y (skant-lee) adj. (scant-i-er, scant-i-est) of small amount or extent, scanty vegetation. 2. barely enough.

scant’-ly adv. scant’-ly-ness n.

scape-goat (skayp-goht) n. a person who is made to bear blame or punishment that should rightly fall on others. ▲ Named after the goat which, in ancient Jewish religious custom, was allowed to escape into the wilderness after the high priest had symbolically laid the sins of the people upon it.

scape-grace (skayp-grayz) n. a rascal, a rogue, a person who is constantly getting into trouble.

scap-u-la (skap-yu-la) n. (pl. -lae, pr. -lee, -las) the shoulder blade. scap-u-lar adj.

scap-u-lar (skap-yu-lar) n. 1. a monk’s short cloak covering the shoulders. 2. a badge of affiliation with an ecclesiastical order, consisting of two strips of cloth hanging down the breast and back and joined across the shoulders.

scar (skahr) n. 1. a mark left where a wound or injury or sore has healed, or on a plant from which a leaf has fallen. 2. a mark left by damage. 3. a lasting effect produced by grief etc. scar v. (scarred, scar-ring) to mark with a scar, to form a scar or scars. scar’less adj.

scar-ab (skar-ab) n. 1. a sacred beetle of ancient Egypt. 2. a carving of this, engraved with symbols on the flat side and used in ancient Egypt as a charm.

scarce (skairs) adj. (scarc-en, scar-ce) not enough to supply a demand or scarce•ly (skair-si-tee) adv. 1. only just, almost not; she is scarcely seventeen years old; I scarcely know him. 2. not, surely not, you can scarcely expect me to believe that.

scar•cl•ty (skair-si-tee) n. being scarce, a shortage.

scare (skair) v. (scared, scar•ing) to frighten or become frightened suddenly.

scar n. a sudden fright, alarm caused by a rumor, a bomb scare.

scar•crow (skair-kroh) n. 1. a figure of a man dressed in old clothes, set up in a field to scare birds away from crops. 2. a badly-dressed or grotesque person.

scar•ed•y-cat (skair-dee-kat) n. (informal) a timid person.

scar•men•ger (skair-mong-ger) n. a person who raises unnecessary or excessive alarm. scarn•mon•ger•ing n.

scarf (skahrf) n. (pl. scarfs, scarves, pr. skahrvz) 1. a long narrow strip of material worn for warmth or ornament around the neck. 2. a square of material worn around the neck or tied over a woman's hair.

scar•l•y (skar-li) v. (scar•lied, scar•li•ng) 1. to make slight cuts in (skin or tissue) surgically. 2. to pain (a person) by severe criticism etc. 3. to loosen the surface of (soil etc.).

scar•l•fi•ca•tion (skar-li-fi-kay-shon) n.

scar•lat•ness (skahr-lett-ness) n. a characteristic smell scar•let (skahr•lit) adj. of brilliant red color. scarlet n. 1. scarlet color. 2. a scarlet substance or material, scarlet clothes. □scarlet fever, an infectious fever caused by bacteria, producing a scarlet rash. scarlet letter, a scarlet letter A formerly worn by a person convicted of adultery. scarlet pimpernel, a variety of the pimpernel plant with scarlet flowers. scarlet runner, a climbing bean with scarlet flowers. scarlet tanager, an American bird, the male of which has bright red plumage with black wings and tail during the mating season. scarlet woman, (old use) a notorious prostitute.

scar•p (skahrp) n. a steep slope on a hillside.

scar•y (skair-ee) adj. (scar•i•er, scar•i•est) 1. frightening. 2. easily frightened. scar•i•ness n.

scat (skat) v. (scat•ted, scat•ting) (informal) to depart quickly.

scath•ing (skay-thing) adj. (of criticism) very severe. scath•ing•ly adv.

sca•tol•o•gy (skay-tol-oh-gee) n. 1. preoccupation with excrement. 2. preoccupation with obscene literature. 3. the study of fossil excrement. scat•o•log•i•cal (skat-o-loj-i-kal) adj.

scat•ter (skat•er) v. 1. to throw or put here and there, to cover in this way, scatter gravel on the road or scatter the road with gravel; there were some scattered villages, situated far apart. 2. to go or send in different directions. scatter n. scattering, the extent over which something is scattered. □scatter pin, a small ornamental pin, usually worn with others on a dress etc. scatter rug, a small rug, one of several to be placed here and there in a room.

scat•ter•brain (skat•er•brayn) n. a person who is unable to concentrate or do things in a systematic way. scat•ter•brained adj.

scaup (skawp) n. a kind of diving duck of northern coasts.

scav•enge (skav-inj) v. (scav•enged, scav•eng•ing) 1. (of an animal) to search for decaying flesh as food. 2. to search for usable objects or material among rubbish or discarded things.

scav•en•ger n.

sce•nar•i•o (si-nair•i•oh) n. (pl. -os) 1. the outline or script of a film, with details of the scenes. 2. a detailed summary of the action of a play, with notes on scenery and special effects. 3. an imagined sequence of future events.

sce•nar•list n.

scene (seen) n. 1. the place of an actual or fictional event; the scene of the crime, where it happened. 2. a piece of continuous action in a play or film, a subdivision of an act. 3. an incident thought of as resembling this. 4. a dramatic outburst of temper or emotion, a stormy interview, made a scene. 5. a stage set. 6. a landscape or view as seen by a spectator, the rural scene before us. 7. (slang) an area of action, a way of life, the drug scene; not my scene, not what I like or want to take part in. □be on the scene, to be present. make the scene, (slang) to participate in a particular activity, to be in a particular place.

scen•er•y (see•ne•ree) n. 1. the general appearance of a landscape. 2. picturesque features of a landscape. 3. structures used on a theater stage to represent features in the scene of the action.

scen•ic (see•nik) adj. having fine natural scenery, the scenic road along the coast.

sce•ni•cal•ly (sce•ni•cal•ly) adv. □scenic railway, a miniature railway running through artificial picturesque scenery as an amusement at a fair etc.

scent (sent) n. 1. the characteristic smell of something. 2. a sweet-smelling liquid made from essence of flowers or aromatic chemicals. 3. the trail left by an animal and perceptible to hounds’ sense of smell, indications that can be followed similarly, followed or lost the scent; on the scent of talent. 4. an animal’s sense of smell, dogs hunt by scent. scent v. 1. to discover by sense of smell, the dog scented a rat. 2. to begin to suspect the presence or existence of, she scented trouble. 3. to put scent on (a thing), to make fragrant. scent’ed adj. scent’less adj.

scep’ter (sep-tər) n. a staff carried by a king or queen as a symbol of sovereignty.

sch. abbr. school.

schedule (skĕj-ool) n. a program or timetable of planned events or of work. schedule v. (sched’u-led, sched’u-l’ing) to include in a schedule, to appoint for a certain time, the train is scheduled to stop at Norwalk. sched’u-lar adj. □ on schedule, punctual according to the timetable.

sche*mat’ic (ski-mat-ik) adj. in the form of a diagram or chart. schematic n. a schematic diagram. sche*mat’i-cal*ly adv.

scheme (skeem) n. 1. a plan of work or action. 2. a secret or underhand plan, a scheme to defraud people. 3. an orderly planned arrangement, a color scheme. scheme v. (schemed, schem’-ing) to make plans, to plan in a secret or under-handed way. schem’er n. schem’ing adj.

sché-ter (sep-tər) n. (pl. -zos, -zi, pr. -tsee) a lively vigorous musical composition or independent passage in a longer work.

Schick (shik) test a test to determine immunity to diphtheria. ▪ Named after B. Schick (1877–1967), the pediatrician who developed it.

schil*ling (shil-ling) n. the unit of money in Austria.

schism (siz-ĕm) n. division into opposing groups because of a difference in belief or opinion, especially in a religious body.

schis*mat’ic (siz-mat-ik) adj. of or involving schism. schismatic n. a person who takes part in a schism.

schis*t n. a rock with layers of different minerals that splits into thin irregular plates. schis*tose (shis-toh) adj. schis*tous (shis-tus) adj.

schiz*o (skit-soh, skid-zoh) adj. & n. (pl. -os) (informal) schizophrenic.

schiz*old (skit-soid) adj. resembling or suffering from schizophrenia. schizoid n. a schizoid person.

schiz*o*phre*ni*a (skit-sŏ-fren-i-ă) n. a severe mental disorder in which a person becomes unable to act or reason in a rational way, often with delusions and withdrawal from social relationships.

schiz*o*phren*ic (skit-sŏ-fren-ik) adj. of or suffering from schizophrenia. schizophrenic n. a schizophrenic person.

schle*miel (shlē-mēl) n. (slang) a bungling or unlucky person.

schlepp, schlep (shlep) v. (slang) to carry. schlepp n. (slang) a clumsy stupid person.

schlock (shlok) adj. (slang) of poor quality, secondhand, trashy. schlock n. (slang) a thing or things of this kind.

schmaltz (shmahlts) n. sugary sentimentality, especially in music or literature. schmaltzy adj.

schmo (shmoh) n. (pl. schmooes) (slang) a foolish or stupid person.

schmooze (shmooz) v. (schmoozed, schmoozen, schmoozing) (slang) to gossip, to chat. schmooze n. (slang) such talk.

schnapps (shnahps) n. a kind of strong liquor.

schnau*zer (shno-zer) n. a house dog of a German breed with a close wiry coat.

schnitzel (shnitzel) n. a fried veal cutlet.

schnook (shnuuk) n. a stupid or easily deceived person.

school (skoöl) n. 1. a person with great learning in a particular subject. 2. a person who is skilled in academic work. 3. a person who holds a scholarship.

school*ar*ly adj. school*ar*il*ness n.

school*ar*ship (skoöl-šip) n. 1. a grant of money toward a person’s education.

school*ar*ship (skoöl-šip) n. 1. a grant of money toward a person’s education.

school*ar*ship (skoöl-šip) n. 1. a grant of money toward a person’s education. 2. great learning in a particular subject.

scho*la*tic (sko-las-tik) adj. of schools or education, academic. scho*la*ti*cal*ly adv.

scho*la*tic*ism (sko-las-ti-siz-ĭm) n. the theology and philosophy of the Middle Ages under the influence of Aristotle and the early Christian writers.

school (skoöl) n. a great number of fish or whales etc. swimming together.

school (skoöl) n. 1. an institution for educating children or for giving instruction. 2. its buildings. 3. its pupils. 4. the time during which teaching is done there, school ends at 4:30 p.m. 5. the process of being educated in a school, always hated school. 6. experience that gives discipline or instruction, learned his tactics in a hard school. 7. a group or succession of philosophers, artists, etc. following the same teachings or principles. school v. to train or discipline. □ of the old school, according to old standards, a gentleman of the old school. school age, the age range in which children normally attend school. school board, the local body in charge of public education. school of thought, either of two ways of looking at a problem; the holder of one of these. school year, the months of the year in which children are required to attend school.

school-bag (skool-bag) n. a bag for carrying books etc. to and from school.

school-boy (skool-boi) n. a boy at school.

school-child (skool-child) n. (pl. -chi-l-*dren, pr. -chi-dr-in) a child at school.

school-girl (skool-gurl) n. a girl at school.

school-house (skool-hows) n. (pl. -hous-es, pr. -how-ziz) a building used as a school.

school-ing (skoo-ling) n. education in a school.

school-marm (skool-mahrm) n. a woman teacher, especially a prim and fussy one who is devoted to her work.

school-mas-ter (skool-mas-tër) n. a male schoolteacher.

school-mate (skool-mayt) n. a classmate.

school-mis-tress (skool-mis-tris) n. a female schoolteacher.

school-room (skool-room) n. a room used for lessons in a school or private house.

school-teach-er (skool-tee-chër) n. a teacher in a school.

schooner (skoo-nër) n. 1. a kind of sailing ship with two or more masts. 2. (in-*for*mal) a very tall glass for beer etc.

schot-tische (shot-ish) n. 1. a kind of slow polka. 2. music for this dance.

schuss (shuus) n. a straight downhill run on skis. schuss v. to execute a schuss.

schuss-boom-er (shuus-boo-mér) n. a skier who executes a schuss, especially with skill.

schwa (shwah) n. an indistinct vowel sound, as in the second syllable of com- *m*on or comma.

scl. abbr. 1. science. 2. scientific.

sclat-ic (si-at-ik) adj. of the hip or the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the human body, running from pelvis to thigh.

sclat-ic-n (si-at-i-kä) n. neuralgia of the hip and thigh, pain in the sciatic nerve.

sclenence (si-ëns) n. 1. a branch of knowledge requiring systematic study and method, especially one of those dealing with substances, animal and vegetable life, and natural laws; natural sciences, biology, geology, etc.; physical sciences, physics, chemistry, etc. 2. an expert's skillful technique, with skill and science.

science fiction, stories based on imaginary future scientific discoveries or changes of the environment or space travel and life on other planets.

scien-tif-ic (si-ën-tif-i-k) adj. 1. of or used in a science, scientific apparatus. 2. using careful and systematic study, observations, and tests of conclusions etc.

scien-tif-ic-ly adv.

scien-tist (si-ën-tist) n. an expert in one or more of the natural or physical sciences.

scler (si-lér) n. (in-*for*mal) science fiction.

scil-la (sil-ä) n. a plant with small blue hanging flowers, growing from a bulb.

scim-tar (sim-i-tär) n. a short curved Oriental sword.

scintil-la (sin-til-a) n. a trace, not a scin-*til*la of evidence.

scintil-late (sin-ti-lat) v. (scin-ti-lat-ed, scin-ti-lat-ing) 1. to sparkle, to give off sparks. 2. to be brilliant, a scintillating discussion. scin-ti-*lat-ing-ly adv. scin-ti-lation (sin-ti-lay-shon) n.

scion (si-on) n. a descendant of a family, especially a noble one.

scissors (siz-örz) n. pl. a cutting instrument made of two blades with handles for the thumb and finger(s) of one hand, pivoted so that the cutting edges can be closed on what is to be cut. scissors v. to cut with scissors. scissors kick or scissors kick, a movement of the legs in swimming, resembling the action of scissors.

sci-ro-sis (ski-ro-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sees) a diseased condition in which soft tissue (as of the arteries) hardens or thickens. sci-rot-ic (ski-rot-ik) adj.

scoff (skof) v. to jeer, to speak contemptuously. scoff' fer n. scoff' ing-ly adv.

scuff-law (skof-law) n. a person who habitually flouts the law, especially one who does not pay traffic fines etc.

scold (skohl'd) v. to rebuke (a child or servant). scold n. a constantly nagging person.

scolding (skohl-ding) n. a lengthy rebuke to a child or servant.

sconce (skons) n. an ornamental bracket fixed to a wall for holding a candle or electric light etc.

scone (skohn, skon) n. a soft flat cake of barley meal or oatmeal or flour, baked quickly and eaten buttered.

scoop (skoop) n. 1. a deep shovel-like tool for taking up and moving grain, sugar, coal, etc. 2. a ladle, a device with a small round bowl and a handle used for serving ice cream etc. 3. a scooping movement. 4. a piece of news discovered and published by one newspaper in advance of its rivals. scoop v. 1. to lift or hollow with or as if with a scoop. 2. to forestall (a rival newspaper) with a news scoop.

scout (skout) v. to run or dart, to go away hastily.

scout-er (skoo-tër) n. 1. a child's toy vehicle with a footboard on wheels and a long steering handle. 2. a kind of lightweight motorcycle.

scope1 (skohp) n. 1. the range of something, the subject is outside the scope of this inquiry. 2. opportunity, outlet, a kind of work that gives scope for her abilities.

scope2 n. (informal) a viewing-instrument, as a microscope, periscope, telescope, etc.

scoop-a-mine (skō-pol-a-mēn) n. a water-soluble alkaloid used as a sedative and for other medicinal purposes.

scor-bu-tic (skor-byoo-tik) adj. of or like or affected by scurvy.

scorch (skorch) v. 1. to burn or become burned on the surface, to make or become discolored in this way. 2. (slang) to drive or ride at a very high speed.

scorch n. a mark made by scorching.

scorch-ing-ly adv. scorched earth policy, the deliberate burning of crops etc. and removing or destroying anything that might be of use to an enemy occupying the country.

scorch-er (skor-chēr) n. (informal) a very hot day.

scorch-ing (skor-ching) adj. (informal) extremely hot.

score (skohr) n. 1. the number of points made by each player or side in a game, or gained in a competition etc. 2. a record of this, a tally. 3. a reason or motive, was rejected on the score of being old-fashioned; on that score, so far as that matter is concerned. 4. a set of twenty; scores of things, very many. 5. a line or mark cut into something. 6. a copy of a musical composition showing the notes on sets of staves. 7. the music for an opera or musical comedy etc. score v. (scored, scor-ing) 1. to gain (a point or points) in a game etc., to make a score. 2. to keep a record of the score. 3. to be worth as points in a game, a goal scores 6 points. 4. to achieve, scored a great success. 5. to have an advantage, he scores by knowing the language well. 6. to make a clever retort that puts an opponent at a disadvantage. 7. to cut a line or mark(s) into (a thing); score it out, cancel it by drawing a line through the words etc. 8. to write out as a musical score, to arrange (a piece of music) for instruments.

scor-er n. score-less adj. know the score, (informal) to be aware of the essential facts. settle old scores, to get even with a person for past wrongdoing.

score-board (skohr-bohrd) n. a board where the score of a game is displayed.

score-card (skohr-kahrhd) n. a card for entering scores.

scor-i-a (skohr-i-ä) n. (pl. scor-i-ae, pr. skohr-i-ee) 1. cellular lava or fragments of it. 2. the slag or dress left after melting metal.

score (skorn) n. strong contempt; laughed it to score, ridiculed it. score v. 1. to feel or show strong contempt for. 2. to reject or refuse scornfully, would score to ask for favors.

scorn-er n.

scorn-ful (skorn-füll) adj. feeling or showing scorn. scorn-ful-ly adv. scorn-ful-ness n.

Scor-pi-o (skor-pē-oh) n. a sign of the zodiac, the Scorpion. Scor-pi-an adj. & n.

scor-pi-o-n (skor-pē-õn) n. 1. a small animal of the spider group with lobster-like claws and a sting in its long jointed tail. 2. the Scorpion, Scorpio.

Scot (skot) n. a native of Scotland.

Scot. abbr. 1. Scotland. 2. Scottish.

scotch (skoch) v. to put an end to, scotched the rumor.

Scotch (skoch) adj. of Scotland or Scottish people or their form of English. († Modern Scots prefer to use the words Scott and Scottish, not Scotch, except when the word is applied to whisky and in the compounds listed below.) Scotch n. 1. the Scottish dialect. 2. Scotch whisky, the kind distilled in Scotland especially from malted barley. Scotch broth, soup or stew containing pearl barley and vegetables. Scotch pine, a Eurasian pine. Scotch tape, (trademark) an adhesive tape, usually transparent or semitransparent. Scotch terrier, a small terrier with rough hair and short legs. Scotch woodcock, scrambled eggs on toast, garnished with anchovies.

scot-free (skot-free) adj. 1. unharmed, not punished. 2. free of obligation.

Scot-land (skot-lând) the country forming the northern part of Great Britain.

Scotland Yard 1. the headquarters of the London Metropolitan Police. 2. its Criminal Investigation Department.

Scot-ti-clasm (skot-i-siz-ēm) n. a Scottish word or phrase.

Scot-ish (skot-ish) adj. of Scotland or its people or their form of the English language.

scoun-drel (skown-drēl) n. a dishonest or unprincipled person.

scour1 (skowr) v. 1. to cleanse or brighten by rubbing. 2. to clear out (a channel or pipe etc.) by the force of water flowing through or over it. 3. to purge drastically. scour n. scouring, the action of water on a channel etc., the scour of the tide. scour' er n.

scour v. to travel over (an area) in search of something, to search thoroughly.

scourge (skurj) n. 1. a whip for flogging people. 2. a person or thing regarded as a great affliction, the scourge of war. scourge v. (scourged, scour- ing) 1. to flog with a whip. 2. to afflict greatly. scout (skowt) n. 1. a person sent out to gather information, as about an enemy's movements or strength. 2. a ship or aircraft designed for reconnoitering. Scout, a member of the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts of America. scout v. to act as scout, to make a search.

scout-mas- ter (skowt-mas- tør) n. 1. an officer in charge of scouts. 2. the adult leader of a group of Boy Scouts.

scow (skow) n. a flat-bottomed boat used as a lighter etc.

scowl (skowl) adv.

SCPO abbr. senior chief petty officer.

scrab-blen (skrab- él) v. (scrab-bled, scrab-bling) 1. to make a scratching movement or sound with the hands or feet. 2. to grope busily or struggle to find or obtain something. scrub' bler n.

Scrab-blen (skrab- él) n. (trademark) a game played on a board in which words are built up from letters printed on small square counters.

scrag-gly (skrag- lee) adj. (-gli-er, -gli- est) 1. shaggy, unkempt. 2. jagged, uneven.

scrag-gy (skrag- ee) adj. (-gli-er, -gli- est) scrawny. scrag' gi- ness n.

scram (skram) v. (scrammed, scram- ming) (slang) to go away.

scram' 1. v. (scrammed, scram- ming) 1. to stop the reaction in (an atomic reactor) by inserting the control rods. 2. (of a reactor) to stop in this way.

scram-blen (skram- bel) v. (scram-bled, scram-bling) 1. to move as best one can over rough ground, to move hastily and awkwardly. 2. to struggle eagerly to do or obtain something. 3. (of aircraft or their crew) to hurry and take off quickly, as to attack an invading enemy. 4. to mix together indiscriminately. 5. to cook (egg) by mixing its contents and heating the mixture in a pan until it thickens. 6. to make (a telephone conversation etc.) unintelligible except to a person with a special receiver, by altering the frequencies on which it is transmitted.

scramble n. 1. a climb or walk over rough ground. 2. an eager struggle to do or obtain something.

scram-blen (skram- bler) n. 1. one who scrambles. 2. an electronic device for scrambling a transmitted telephone conversation or unscrambling it at the receiving end.

scrap 1 (skrap) n. 1. a small detached piece of something, a fragment, a remnant. 2. rubbish, waste material, discarded metal suitable for being reprocessed. scrap v. (scraped, scrap- ping) to discard as useless. □ scrap heap, a heap of waste material. scrap metal, metal collected for reworking.

scrap 2 n. (informal) a fight or quarrel.

scrap v. (scraped, scrap- ping) (informal) to fight, to quarrel. scrap' per n.

scrap-book (skrap- buuk) n. a book in which newspaper clippings and similar souvenirs are mounted.

scrape (skrap) v. (scraped, scrap- ping) 1. to make (a thing) clean or smooth or level by passing the hard edge of something across it. 2. to pass (an edge) across in this way. 3. to remove by doing this, scrape mud off shoes. 4. to excavate by scraping, scrape a hole. 5. to damage by scraping. 6. to make the sound of scraping. 7. to pass along or through something with difficulty, with or without touching it. 8. to obtain or amass with difficulty or by careful saving, scrape a living; scrape something together or up. 9. to be very economical. scrape n. 1. a scraping movement or sound. 2. a scraped mark or injury. 3. an awkward situation resulting from an escapade. □ scrape through, to get through a situation or pass an examination by only a very narrow margin. scraping the barrel, driven to using one's last and inferior resources because the better ones are finished.

scrap-er (skray- pér) n. a device used for scraping things.

scrap-ings (skrap- ingz) n. pl. fragments produced by scraping.

scrap-ple (skrap- él) n. a cornmeal mush loaf made with pork, onion, spices, etc.

scrap-py 1 (skrap- ee) adj. (-pli-er, -pli- est) made up of scraps or odds and ends or disconnected elements.

scrapy 2 adj. (-pli-er, -pli- est) pugnacious, aggressive.

scratch (skrach) v. 1. to make a shallow mark or wound on (a surface) with something sharp. 2. to form by scratching. 3. to scrape with the fingernails in order to relieve itching; scratch my back and I'll scratch yours, promote my interests and I will promote yours. 4. to make a thin scraping sound. 5. to obtain with difficulty, scratch a living. 6. to cancel by drawing a line through, scratch it out. 7. to withdraw from a race or competition, was obliged to scratch; scratched his horse. scratch n. 1. a mark or wound made by scratching. 2. a spell of scratching. 3. a line from which competitors start in a race when they receive no handicap; a scratch player, one who receives no handicap in a game. scratch adj. collected from whatever is available, a scratch team. • scratch pad, a pad of paper for jotting or scribbling. scratch paper, paper for jotting or scribbling. scratch sheet, a publication that provides information on the horses and betting odds during a racing day. scratch test, a test for allergy in which the skin is scratched and various allergens are applied to the scratch. start from scratch, to begin at the very beginning; to begin with no advantage or preparation. up to scratch, up to the required standard.

scratch-y (skrach-ee) adj. (scratch·ly, scratch·er, scratch·est) 1. (of a pen) tending to make a scratching sound or catch in paper. 2. (of cloth etc.) tending to cause itching. 3. (of a drawing) looking like a series of scratches. 4. (of a record) producing noise caused by scratches on its surface. scratch·ly adv. scratch·ly ness n.

scrawl (skrawl) n. bad handwriting, something written in this. scrawl v. to write in a scrawl. scrawl·y adj.

scrawny (skraw-nee) adj. (scrawn·ier, scrawn·iest) lean and bony.

scream (skream) v. 1. to make a long piercing cry of pain or terror or annoyance or excitement. 2. to utter in a screaming tone. 3. (of the wind or a machine etc.) to make a loud piercing sound. 4. to laugh uncontrollably. scream n. 1. a screaming cry or sound. 2. (slang) an extremely amusing person or thing.

scream·ing·ly (skree-ning-lee) adv. so as to cause screams of laughter, screamingly funny.

screed (skreed) n. a mass of loose stones on a mountain side, sliding when trodden on.

screech (skreek) n. a harsh high-pitched scream or sound. screech v. to make a screech, to utter with a screech. screech·y adj. (screech·ier, screech·iest) • screech owl, an owl that makes a screeching cry (not a hoot).

screen (skreen) n. 1. an upright structure used to conceal or protect or divide something. 2. anything serving a similar purpose, under the screen of night. 3. a fine mesh used on windows and doors etc. to keep insects out. 4. a blank surface on which photographic slides, movies, television transmissions, etc. are projected. 5. a large sieve, especially one used for sorting grain or coal etc. into sizes. screen v. 1. to shelter or conceal or protect. 2. to protect (a person) from discovery or deserved blame by diverting suspicion from him. 3. to show (slides, movies, etc.) on a screen. 4. to pass (grain or coal etc.) through a screen. 5. to examine systematically in order to discover something, such as the presence or absence of a substance or disease. screen·er n. • screen pass, a football play in which a pass receiver is protected from tacklers by a screen of blockers. screen test, a test of a person's suitability for taking part in a film.

screen·ing (skree-ning) n. 1. fine mesh used for making screens for windows, doors, etc. 2. the showing of a film.

screen·play (skreen-play) n. the script of a film.

screen·writ·er (skreen-rt-tër) n. a writer of film scripts.

screw (skroo) n. 1. a metal pin with a spiral ridge (the thread) around its length, used for holding things together by being twisted in under pressure, or secured by a nut. 2. a thing turned like a screw and used for tightening something or exerting pressure. 3. a propeller, especially of a ship or motorboat. 4. the act of screwing. 5. (slang) a prison guard. screw v. 1. to fasten or tighten with a screw or screws. 2. to turn (a screw), to twist or become twisted; screw up one's face, to twist it out of the natural expression, as in disgust. 3. to oppress, to extort, screwed a promise out of her. 4. (vulgar slang) to cheat, to trick, how much did they screw you out of? • have a screw loose, (informal) to be slightly mad. have one's head screwed on the right way, to have sound common sense. put the screws on, (informal) to put pressure on, as to intimidate or extort money. screw up, (slang) to bungle (a task etc.). screw up one's courage, to muster courage.

screw·ball (skroo-bawl) n. (slang) 1. a crazy person. 2. (in baseball) a pitch that curves to the right when thrown by a right-handed pitcher and to the left when thrown by a left-handed pitcher.

screw·driv·er (skroo-dri-vër) n. 1. a tool with a narrow flattened end for turning screws that have a slotted head into which this fits. 2. a cocktail made of vodka and orange juice.

screw-y (skroo-ee) adj. (screw-i-er, screw-i-est) (slang) crazy, eccentric.

scrib-ble (skrib-əl) v. (scribbled, scribbled, scribbled) 1. to write hurriedly or carelessly. 2. to make meaningless marks; scribble it out, obliterate it by scribbling on it. scribble n. something scribbled, hurried or careless writing, scribbled meaningless marks. scribbler n.

scribe (skrib) n. 1. a person who (before the invention of printing) made copies of writings. 2. (in New Testament times) a professional religious scholar.

scrim (skrim) n. a loosely woven cotton fabric.

scrim-mage (skrim-ij) n. 1. a confused struggle, a skirmish. 2. (in football) the sequence of play beginning with the snapping of the ball and ending when the ball is declared out of play. 3. a football practice session. scrimmage v. (scrimmaged, scrimmaged, scrimmage) to engage in a football scrimmage, especially during a practice session.

scrimp (skrimp) v. to supply or use rather less than what is needed, to skimp.

scrim-shaw (skrim-shaw) n. 1. the art of carving shells, walrus tusks, etc. 2. an example of this work.

scrip (skrip) n. 1. a certificate showing that the holder is entitled to a payment or other benefit. 2. paper certificates used in place of money (as by an employee in a company store) or as legal currency in an emergency. □ Do not confuse scrip with script.

script (skrip) n. 1. handwriting. 2. a style of printed or typewritten characters resembling this. 3. the text of a play or film or broadcast etc. script v. to write a script for (a film etc.). □ Do not confuse script with scrip.

script-ure (skrip-chur) n. 1. any sacred writings. 2. Scripture or the Scriptures, the sacred writings of the Christians (the Old and New Testaments) or the Jews (the Old Testament). scriptural adj. scriptur-al adj.

scribe-nner (skrīv-nér) n. (old use) 1. a copyist, a drafter of documents. 2. a notary.

scrod (skrod) n. a young cod or haddock.

scrof-u-la (skrof-yū-lə) n. a disease causing glandular swellings.

scroll (skrohl) n. 1. a roll of paper or parchment. 2. an ornamental design resembling a scroll or in spiral form.

Scrooge (skrooj) n. a miser. □ Named after a character in Dickens’ novel A Christmas Carol.

scro-tum (skroh-tūm) n. (pl. -ta, pr. -tā, -tums) the pouch of skin that encloses the testicles in most mammals, behind the penis.

scrounge (skrawnj) v. (scrounged, scroung-ing) (slang) 1. to ask for as a gift, to go about begging. 2. to collect by foraging. scrounger n. (slang).

scrub1 (skrub) n. vegetation consisting of stunted trees or shrubs, land covered with this. □ scrub oak, a dwarf oak.

scrub2 v. (scrubbed, scrub-bing) 1. to rub hard with something coarse or briskly. 2. (slang) to cancel, to scrap, we’ll have to scrub our plans. scrub n. scrubbing, being scrubbed, give it a scrub.

scrub nurse, a nurse trained to assist surgeons during surgery. scrub up, (of a surgeon etc.) to clean the hands and arms by scrubbing, before an operation.

scrub-ber (skrub-ər) n. an apparatus for purifying gases emitted from a furnace.

scrub-by (skrub-ee) adj. (-bi-er, -bi-est) small and mean or shabby.

scruff (skrf) n. the back of the neck as used to grasp or lift or drag a person or animal.

scruff-y (skruf-ee) adj. (scruff-i-er, scruff-i-est) shabby and untidy.

scru-pul-ous (skrump-shūs) adj. (informal) delicious, delightful. scrupulous-ly adv. scrupulous-ness n.

scrunch (skrunch) v. to crunch.

scru-ple (skroo-pēl) n. a feeling of doubt or hesitation about doing or allowing an action, produced by one's conscience or principles. scruple v. (scrupled, scrupeling) to hesitate because of scruples.

scrup-u-lous (skroo-pyu-lōs) adj. 1. very conscientious even in small matters, painstakingly careful and thorough. 2. strictly honest or honorable, they are not very scrupulous in their business dealings. scrupulous-ly adv. scrupulous-ness n. scrupulous-ness n. scrup-ulous-i-ty (skrū-pyū-lōs-i-tee) n.

scru-ti-nize (skroo-ti-mz) v. (scru-ti-ning, scru-ti-nies) to look at or examine carefully. scrutiny n.

scru-ti-ny (skroo-ti-nee) n. (pl. -nies) a careful look at or examination of something.

scu-ba (skoo-bā) n. a self-contained underwater breathing apparatus.

scud (skud) v. (scud-ded, scud-ding) to move along straight and fast and smoothly, clouds were scudding across the sky. scud n. clouds or spray driven by the wind.

scuff (skuf) v. 1. to scrape or drag (one’s feet) in walking. 2. to mark or wear away by doing this. 3. to scrape (a thing) with one’s foot or feet. scuff n. 1. the act of scuffing, the sound or mark produced by this. 2. a backless slipper.

scut- (skuf-) n. a confused struggle or disorderly fight at close quarters.

scuffle v. (scuf-tled, scuf-ting) to engage in a scuffle.

scull (skul) n. 1. one of a pair of small oars used by a single rower. 2. an oar that rests on the stern of a boat, worked with a scullerly movement. 3. a light racing boat. scull v. to row with sculls.

scul-ler-y (skul-er-ee) n. (pl. -ler-les) a room where dishes etc. are washed up.

sculp-tor (skulp-tor) n. a person who makes sculptures. sculp-ture (skulp-tris) n. fem.

sculp-tur-al (skulp-chur-al) adj. of sculpture.

sculp-ture (skulp-chür) n. 1. the art of carving in wood or stone or producing shapes in cast or welded metal etc. 2. a work made in this way. sculpture v. (sculp-tured, sculpt-tur-ing) to represent in sculpture, to decorate with sculptures, to be a sculptor.

scum (skum) n. 1. impurities that rise to the surface of a liquid, a film of material floating on the surface of a stretch of water. 2. people regarded as the most worthless part of the population. scum’ my adj.

scup-per (skup-er) n. an opening in a ship’s side to carry off water from the deck.

scurf (skurf) n. 1. flakes of dry skin, especially from the scalp. 2. any dry scaly matter on a surface. scurf’ y adv.

scur-ri-lous (skur-lōs) adj. 1. abusive and insulting, a scurrilous attack on his character. 2. coarsely humorous. scur-ry lous-ly adv. scur-ry lous-ty (skū-ril-i-tee) n.

scur-ry (skur-ce) v. (scur-ried, scar-ry-ing) to run or move hurriedly, especially with quick short steps, to hurry. scurry n. (pl. -ries) scurrying, a rush.

scur-ry (skur-vee) n. a disease caused by lack of vitamin C in the diet. scurvy adj. (scur-vey er, scur-vey est) controllable, a scurvy fellow.

scut (skut) n. a short tail, especially that of a hare or rabbit or deer.

scutch-een (skuch-ôn) n. an escutcheon.

scut-tle (skut-él) n. a bucket or portable boxlike container for holding a supply of coal in a room.

scuttle 2 n. a small opening with a lid, on a ship’s deck or side or in a roof or wall.

scuttle v. (scut-tied, scut-tling) to let water into (a ship) in order to sink her.

scuttle 3 v. (scut-tied, scut-tling) to scurry, to hurry away. scuttle n. a scurrying movement.

scut-tle-butt (skut-él-but) n. 1. a water cask usually on a ship’s deck with a hole in the top for dipping. 2. (informal) rumor, gossip.

scythe (sith) n. an implement with a slightly curved blade at an angle to the handle, used for cutting long grass or grain. scythe v. (scythe’d, scythe ing) to cut with a scythe.

SD abbr. standard deviation.

s.d. abbr. without naming a date.

S.D. abbr. 1. Doctor of Science. 2. South Dakota. 3. standard deviation.

Se symbol selenium.

SE abbr. southeast.

sea (see) n. 1. the expanse of salt water that covers most of Earth’s surface and surrounds the continents. 2. any part of this as opposed to dry land or fresh water, a named section of it partly enclosed by land, the Mediterranean Sea. 3. a large inland lake of either salt or fresh water, the Sea of Galilee. 4. the waves of the sea, the movement or state of these; a heavy sea, with great waves. 5. a vast expanse of something, a sea of faces.

sea at sea, in a ship on the sea; perplexed, not knowing how to proceed. by sea, carried or conveyed in a ship. on the sea, in a ship on the sea; situated on a coast. sea anchor, a baglike contrivance to retard drifting and maintain the direction of a ship or seaplance. sea anemone, a tube-shaped sea animal with petallike tentacles around its mouth. sea bass, a seaish like a bass. sea bird, a bird that frequents the sea or the land near the sea. sea biscuit, hardtack. sea breeze, a gentle wind blowing landward from the sea. sea calf, a common seal. sea change, a transformation. sea chest, a sailor’s storage chest. sea cow, a walrus, a manatee. sea cucumber, a sea animal with a long body and tentacles at one end. sea dog, a common seal; an old experienced sailor. sea fan, a fanlike polyt. sea green, bluish green. sea holly, an evergreen plant with spiny leaves and blue flowers. sea horse, a small fish with a horselike head at right angles to its body, and a tail that can be wrapped around a support. Sea Island cotton, a fine quality of cotton originally grown on the islands off Georgia and South Carolina. sea lane, a lane for ships (see lane, definition 5). sea legs, ability to walk steadily on the deck of a moving ship, hasn’t got his sea legs yet. sea level, the level corresponding to that of the surface of the sea halfway between high and low water. sea lion, a kind of large seal of the Pacific Ocean. sea power, the ability to control and make successful use of the sea, especially in war; a country having this. sea room, a clear space at sea allowing a ship to turn etc. sea rover, a pirate ship. sea salt, salt obtained from seawater by evaporation. sea serpent, a huge serpentine monster reported as seen in the sea. sea shell, the shell of any mollusk living in salt water. sea snake, a poisonous marine snake with a finlike tail. sea urchin, a sea animal with a round shell covered in sharp spikes. sea wolf, a sea elephant; a bass or wolfish; a pirate.

sea-bed (see-bed) n. the ocean floor. Sea-bee (see-bee) 1. a U.S. naval construction battalion. 2. a member of this. sea-board (see-bohrd) n. the coast or its outline.

sea-borne (see-bohrn) adj. conveyed by sea.

sea-coast (see-kohst) n. the land adjacent to the sea.

sea-far-er (see-fair-ér) n. a seafaring person.

sea-far-ing (see-fair-ing) adj. & n. working or traveling on the sea, especially as one’s regular occupation.

sea-food (see-food) n. fish or shellfish from the sea eaten as food.

sea-front (see-frunt) n. the part of a town facing the sea.

sea-go-ing (see-goh-ing) adj. 1. (of ships) oceangoing. 2. (of people) seafaring.

sea gull a gull.

seal1 (seel) n. an amphibious sea animal with short limbs that serve chiefly for swimming, and thick fur or bristles. seal v. to hunt seals, they went sealing.

seal2 n. (pl. seals, seal) 1. a substance or fitting used to close an opening etc. and prevent air or liquid etc. from passing through it. 2. a gem or piece of metal etc. with an engraved design that is pressed on wax or other soft material to leave an impression; seals of office, those held by a person while he holds a certain position. 3. this impression or a piece of wax bearing it, attached to a document as a guarantee of authenticity, or to an envelope or box or room etc. to show that (while the seal is unbroken) the contents have not been tampered with since it was affixed. 4. a mark or event or action etc. serving to confirm or guarantee something, gave it their seal of approval. 5. a small decorative paper sticker resembling a postage stamp. seal v. 1. to close securely so as to prevent penetration, to coat or surface with a protective substance or sealant, to stick down (an envelope etc.); it’s a sealed book to me, it is a subject of which I have no understanding. 2. to affix a seal to. 3. to stamp or certify as authentic in this way. 4. to settle or decide, his fate was sealed. □ sealed orders, orders for a procedure, not to be examined before a specified time. sealing wax, a substance that is soft when heated but hardens when cooled, used for sealing letters or for impressing with an engraved design. seal off, to prevent access to (an area).

seal-ant (see-lánt) n. a substance used for coating a surface to make it watertight or airtight.

seal-er (see-lér) n. 1. a ship or person engaged in seal hunting. 2. an inspector of weights and measures. 3. a sealant.

seal-skin (seel-skin) n. the skin or prepared fur of a seal used as a clothing material.

Seal-y-ham (see-li-hám) n. a terrier of a breed that has short legs and wiry hair.

seam (seem) n. 1. the line or groove where two edges join, especially of cloth or leather etc. or wood. 2. a surface line, such as a wrinkle or scar. 3. a layer of coal etc. in the ground. seam v. 1. to join by means of a seam. 2. to mark with a wrinkle or scar etc. seam/less adj.

seaman (see-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) 1. a sailor, especially one below the rank of officer. 2. a person who is skilled in seafaring. seaman ship n.

seaman apprentice, an enlisted navy man or woman one rank below a seaman. seaman recruit, the lowest ranking navy man or woman.

sea-mount (see-mownt) n. an underwater mountain.

seam-stress (seem-stris) n. a woman whose job is sewing things.

seam-y (see-mee) adj. (seam-l-er, seam-l-est) 1. unpleasant, unattractive, a seamy neighborhood. 2. showing seams. □ the seams y side, the less presentable or less attractive aspect of life.

sé ance (say-ahns) n. a spiritualist meeting.

sea-plane (see-playn) n. an airplane designed to land on and take off from a stretch of water.

sea-port (see-pohrt) n. a port on the coast.

sear (seer) v. to scorch or burn the surface of; a searing pain, a burning pain.
search (surch) v. 1. to look or go over (a place etc.) in order to find something. 2. to examine the clothes and body of (a person) to see if something is concealed there. 3. to examine thoroughly, search your conscience. search n. the act or process of searching. search’er n.

search party, a group of people organized to look for a lost person or thing.

search warrant, a warrant allowing officials to enter the premises of a person thought to be concealing stolen property etc.

search’ing (sur-ching) adj. (of an investigation or scrutiny) thorough.

search’light (surch-lit) n. 1. an outdoor electric lamp with a reflector producing a powerful beam that can be turned in any direction, used for discovering hostile aircraft etc. 2. its beam.

sea’-scape (see-skap) n. a picture or view of the sea.

sea’-shore (see-shohr) n. land close to the sea.

sea’-sick (see-sik) adj. made sick or queasy by the motion of a ship. sea’-sick’-ness n.

sea’-side (see-sid) n. the seacoast, especially as a place for vacations.

sea’-son (see-zön) n. 1. a section of the year with distinct characteristics of temperature and rainfall. 2. the time of year when something is common or plentiful, or when an activity takes place, the hunting season; the baseball season. season v. 1. to give extra flavor to (food) by adding salt or pepper or other sharp-tasting substances. 2. to bring into a fit condition for use by drying or treating or allowing to mature, to become seasoned in this way. 3. to make (people) experienced by training and practice, seasoned soldiers. sea’-son’-er n. □ in season, (of food) available plentifully and in good condition for eating; (of an animal) in heat; (of advice) given when likely to be heeded. out of season, (of food) not in season. season ticket, a ticket that allows a person to attend performances, games, etc. for a specified period.

sea’-son’-a’-ble (see-zö-nä-bel) adj. 1. suitable for the season, frost is seasonable in winter. 2. timely, opportune. sea’-son’-a’-bly adv. □ Do not confuse seasonable with seasonal.

sea’-son’-al (see-zö-nal) adj. of a season or seasons, varying according to these; he found only seasonal work, he worked only during certain seasons. sea’-son’-al’-ly adv. □ Do not confuse seasonal with seasonable.

sea’-son’-ing (see-zö-ning) n. a substance used to season food.

seat (seet) n. 1. a thing made or used for sitting on. 2. a place where one sits, a place for one person to sit in a theater or vehicle etc. 3. the right to sit as a member of a council or committee or legislative body etc. 4. the horizontal part of a chair etc. on which a sitter's body rests. 5. the part supporting another part in a machine. 6. the buttocks, the part of a skirt or trousers covering these. 7. the place where something is based or located, the seat of government; a seat of learning. seat v. 1. to cause to sit; seat oneself or be seated, to sit down. 2. to provide sitting accommodation for, the hall seats five hundred. 3. to put a seat on (a chair). □ by the seat of one’s or the pants, by instinct rather than rule. seat belt, a strap securing a person to his seat in a vehicle or aircraft, for safety.

seat’-ed (see-tid) adj. sitting.

seat’-ing (see-ting) n. 1. the act of providing with or escorting to a seat. 2. the seats in a theater etc., considered collectively, seating for five hundred. 3. the upholstery for a chair etc.

sea’-wall (see-wawl) n. a wall or embankment made to check the encroachment of the sea.

sea’-ward (see-wärd) adj. & adv. toward the sea.

sea’-wards (see-wärdz) adv. seaward.

sea’-wa’-ter (see-wawt-er) n. the salt water of a sea or an ocean.

sea’-way (see-way) n. 1. an inland waterway open to seagoing ships. 2. a ship’s progress.

sea’-weed (see-weed) n. any plant that grows in the sea or on rocks washed by the sea.

sea’-wor’thy (see-wur-thhee) adj. (of a ship) in a fit state for a sea voyage. sea’-wor’thi’-ness n.

se’-ba’-ceous (si-bay-shus) adj. secreting an oily or greasy substance, sebaceous glands.

sec. abbr. 1. second. 2. secondary. 3. secretary. 4. section.

se’-cat’ (see-kant) n. 1. an intersecting line, especially the radius of a circle produced through one end of an arc to meet tangent to the other end. 2. the ratio of this line to the radius.

se’-cede (si-seed) v. (se’-ced-ed, se’-ced’-ing) to withdraw oneself from membership of an organization. se’-ced’er n.

se’-ces’-sion (si-sesh-ôn) n. 1. seceding. 2. Secession, the withdrawal from the Union (1860–61) of eleven U.S. southern states.

secessionist (si-sek-shə-nist) n. a person or group supporting the right of secession. secessionist adj.

seclude (si-klood) v. (se-clud-ed, se-clud-ing) to keep (a person) apart from others.

seclusion (si-kloo-zən) n. secluding, being secluded, privacy.

secluded (si-klu-sid) adj. (of a place) screened or sheltered from view.

second (sek-ənd) adj. 1. next after first. 2. another after the first, a second chance. 3. of a secondary kind, subordinate, inferior, second quality; the second team. second n. 1. something that is second, the second day of a month. 2. second gear. 3. an attendant of a person taking part in a duel or boxing match. 4. a sixtieth part of a minute of time or angular measurement. 5. (informal) a short time, wait a second. 6. an item of inferior quality. second adv. in second place or rank or position. second v. 1. to assist. 2. to state formally that one supports a motion that has been put forward by another person, in order to show that the proposer is not isolated or as a means of bringing it to be voted on. seconder n. at second hand, obtained indirectly, not from the original source. second base, (in baseball) the second in order of bases from home plate; the portion of the field near this base. second baseman, the baseball player stationed at second base. second best, of second or inferior quality; come off second best, to be the loser in a contest or dispute. second childhood, childishness caused by mental weakness in old age. second class, the second best quality; the second best accommodation in a boat etc. second coming, the return of Christ, especially as preliminary to his expected personal reign on Earth. second cousin, see cousin. second fiddle, a subsidiary or secondary role, had to play second fiddle to his brother. second gear, the second lowest gear in a motor vehicle. second growth, the plant growth coming after a virgin forest is destroyed. second in command, the person next in rank to the commanding or chief officer or official. second lieutenant, see lieutenant. second mate, an officer immediately below first mate on a merchant ship. second name, a surname. second nature, a habit or characteristic that has become automatic, secrecy is second nature to him.

second officer, a second mate. second person, see person. second sight, the supposed power to foresee future events. second string, (informal) (in sports) the players of a team less proficient than first string. second teeth, adults' permanent teeth, appearing after the milk teeth have fallen out. second thoughts, a change of mind after reconsideration. second wind, recovery of one's ease of breathing during exercise, after having become out of breath; renewed energy for effort.

secondly (sek-ənd-le) adj. 1. coming after what is primary. 2. of lesser importance or rank etc. than the first. 3. derived from what is primary or original, secondary sources. secondary n. (in football) the players in the defensive backfield. secondary accent, (in a word) a stress accent not as strong as a primary accent. secondary boycott, a boycott against a firm by a labor union that is not directly involved in its dispute with another firm. secondary colors, colors obtained by mixing two primary colors. secondary education or school, that for people who have received primary education but have not yet proceeded to a university or an occupation. secondary sex characteristic, a characteristic that is distinctive of one sex but not directly related to reproduction.

second-class (sek-ənd-klas) adj. & adv. 1. of second or inferior quality. 2. in or traveling by less good accommodation than first-class. 3. (of mail) to be given lower priority than first-class mail. second-class citizen, (informal) a person treated badly by society.

second-degree (sek-ənd-de-gree) burn a burn with blistering.

second-guess (sek-ənd-ges) v. (informal) to criticize (a person etc.) or explain (a situation) from hindsight.

second-hand (sek-ənd-hand) adj. & adv. 1. bought after use by a previous owner. 2. dealing in used goods, a secondhand shop. 3. (of information) taken on another's authority and not obtained by original observation or research.

secondly (sek-ənd-lee) adv. second, as a second consideration.

second-rate (sek-ənd-rayt) adj. inferior in quality.

seconds (sek-əndz) n. pl. 1. goods of second quality, having some flaw(s). 2. a second helping of food.

second-story (sek-ənd-sto-ar-ee) man (informal) a cat burglar.

secrecy (see-kre-si) n. (pl. -cies) 1. being kept secret. 2. keeping things se-secret, was pledged to secrecy.

secret (sec-ret) adj. 1. kept or intended to be kept from the knowledge or view of others, to be known only by specified people. 2. working or operating secretly.

secret n. 1. something kept or intended to be kept secret. 2. a mystery, a thing no one properly understands, the secrets of nature. 3. a method (not known to everyone) for attaining something, the secret of good health. secret-ly adv.

secret agent, a spy acting for a country. secret ballot, one in which individual voters' choices are not made public. secret police, a police force operating in secret for political purposes. Secret Service, an agency of the U.S. government chiefly concerned with arresting counterfeiters and with protecting the lives of the president, presidential candidates, their immediate families, etc. secret society, a society whose members are sworn to secrecy about it.

sec·re·tar·i·al (sek-re-ter-i-äl) adj. of the work of a secretary.

sec·re·tar·i·at (sek-re-ter-i-ät) n. 1. the members of a government administrative office collectively. 2. the buildings or rooms occupied by a secretariat.

sec·re·tar·y (sek-re-ter-ee) n. (pl. -tar·ies) 1. a person employed to help deal with correspondence, typing, filing, and similar routine work. 2. an official in charge of the correspondence and records of an organization. 3. an official in charge of a particular government department, Secretary of Labor. 4. a writing desk with drawers. secretary bird, a long-legged African bird with a crest likely to quill pens placed behind a writer's ear.

sec·re·tar·y·gen·er·al n. (sek-re-ter-ee-jen-äräl) the principal administrator of certain large organizations.

se·cre·te (si-kreet) v. (se·cre·ted, se·cre·ting) to put (an object) into a place of concealment.

secre·te v. (se·cre·ted, se·cre·ting) to form and send out (a substance) into the body, either for excretion (kidneys secrete urine) or for use within the body (the liver secretes bile).

se·cre·tion (si-kreet-shun) n. 1. secreting, being secreted. 2. a substance secreted by an organ or cell of the body. se·cre·to·ry (si-kreet-ó-ree) adj.

se·cre·tive (see-kré-tiv, si-kreet-iv) adj. making a secret of things unnecessarily, uncommunicative. se·cre·tive·ly adv.

secretive n.

sect (sekt) n. a group of people with religious or other beliefs that differ from those more generally accepted.

sect. abbr. section.

sec·tar·i·an (sek-tair-i-än) adj. 1. of or belonging to a sect or sects. 2. narrowly-mindedly putting the beliefs or interests of one's sect before more general interests. sectarian n. a person adhering to a sect, especially in a bigoted fashion.

sec·tar·i·an·ism n.

sec·tion (sek-shun) n. 1. a distinct part or portion of something. 2. a cross section. 3. the process of cutting or separating something surgically. section v. to divide into sections. section gang, a group of railroad workers who maintain a section of track.

sec·tion·al (sek-shun-al) adj. 1. of a section or sections. 2. of one section of a group or community as distinct from others or from the whole. 3. made in sections, sectional fishing rod.

sec·tor (sek-tör) 1. one of the parts into which a battle area is divided for the purpose of controlling operations. 2. a similar division of an activity, the private sector of the economy. 3. a section of a circular area between two lines drawn from its center to its circumference.

sec·u·lar (sek-yú-lar) adj. 1. concerned with worldly affairs rather than spiritual ones. 2. not involving or belonging to religion, secular music; secular clergy, clergy who are not members of a monastic community.

sec·u·lar·ly adv.

sec·u·lar·ism (sek-yú-lar-iz-ëm) n. a secular system of belief, an opposition to or rejection of religion. sec·u·lar·ism adj. & n. sec·u·lar·ist (sek-yú-lar-ist) adj.

sec·u·lar·ize (sek-yú-lar·iz) v. (sec·u·lar·ized, sec·u·lar·iz·ing) 1. to make secular. 2. to separate from sacred or religious connections. sec·u·lar·ization n.

sec·u·lar·ized (sec-yú-lar·ized) v.

sec·u·lar·ize·ment (sek-yú-lar·iz·ment) (sek-yú-lar·iz·ment) n.

sec·u·lar·ly adv.

sec·u·lar adj. safe (especially in attack), certain not to slip or fail, reliable. secure v. (sec·ured, sec·ur·ing) 1. to make secure. 2. to fasten securely. 3. to obtain. 4. to guarantee by pledging something as security, the loan is secured on their business. secure·ly adv. secure·ness n. secure·er n.

sec·u·ri·ty (si-kyoor·i·tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a state or feeling of being secure, something that gives this. 2. the safety of a country or organization against espionage or theft or other danger. 3. a thing that serves as a guarantee or pledge, offered the deed of his house as security for the loan. 4. a certificate showing ownership of financial stocks or bonds.
secy. abbr. secretary.

sedative adj. calm and dignified, not lively. sedate v. (see-dät-ed, se-dät-ing) to treat (a person) with sedatives. sedate'ly adv. sedate'ness n.

sedimentary adj. a sedimentary medicine or influence.

sedentary adj. 1. spending much time seated, sedentary work. seden'tar*inity n.

Se-dar (say-dér) n. the ritual for the first night or first two nights of Passover.

sedge (sej) n. a grasslike plant growing in marshes or near water, a bed of this. sedgy adj.

sediment n. 1. very fine particles of solid matter suspended in a liquid or settling to the bottom of it. 2. solid matter (such as sand, gravel) that is carried by water or wind and settles on the surface of land. sedim'en-tation (sed-i-men-ta-shôn) n.

sedimentary adj. of or like sediment; sedimentary rocks, those formed from sediment carried by water or wind.

sedimentary adj. words or actions that make people rebel against the authority of the government. sedi'men-tar'y n.

seduce (si-dûs) v. (se-dûced, se-dûcing) 1. to persuade (especially into wrongdoing) by offering temptations, was seduced into betraying his country. 2. to tempt (a person) into sexual intercourse. se-dúc'er n.

seductive adj. 1. seducing, being seduced. 2. a tempting and attractive feature, the seductions of country life. se-dúc'tive adj.

seed (seed) n. (pl. seeds or seed) 1. a fertilized ovule of a plant, capable of developing into a plant like its parent. 2. seeds as collected for sowing, to be kept for seed. 3. semen, milt. 4. (old use) offspring, descendants, Abraham and his seed. 5. something from which a tendency or feeling etc. can develop, sowing the seeds of doubt in their minds. 6. (informal) a seeded player, as in a golf or tennis tournament. seed v. 1. to plant seeds in, to sprinkle with seeds. 2. to place plants in (a cloud) to cause condensation and produce rain. 3. to remove seeds from (fruit). 4. to name (a strong player) as not to be matched against another named in this way in the early rounds of an elimination tournament, so as to increase the interest of later rounds.

seed'ery n. to go or run to seed, to cease flowering as seed develops; to become shabby and careless of appearance; to deteriorate in ability or efficiency.

seed bed, a bed of fine soil in which seeds are sown.

seed money, money to initiate a project. seed pearl, a very small pearl.
seedless / select seedless (seed-less) adj. not containing seeds. seedling (seed-ling) n. a very young plant growing from a seed.

seed-y (see-dee) adj. (seed-l-er, seed-l-est) 1. full of seeds. 2. shabby and disreputable.
seed*ly adv. seed*l*ness n.

see-ing (see-ing) see see*. □ Seeing Eye dog, a dog trained to guide a blind person.
seeing that, in view of the fact that, because.
seek (seek) v. (sought, seek-ing) to make a search or inquiry for, to try to find or obtain or do. seek*er n. □ seek out, to seek specially, to make a special effort to meet and address (a person).
seem (seem) v. to appear to be or exist or be true.

seem*ing (see-ming) adj. having an appearance of being something but not necessarily being this in fact. seem*ly adv. seem*ing*ness n.

seem-ly (seem-lee) adj. (-ll-er, -ll-est) proper, suitable, in accordance with accepted standards of good taste.
seem*ly ness n.

seen (seen) see see*.

seep (seep) v. to ooze slowly out or through.

seep-age (see-pij) n. seeping, the amount that seeps out.

seer (see-er) n. a prophet, a person who sees visions.
seer*ess (see-er*-es) n. fem.

seer-suck*er (seeer-suk-*er) n. fabric having a puckered surface and often a striped pattern.

see-saw (see-saw) n. 1. a children’s amusement consisting of a long board balanced on a central support so that when a child sits on either end the two of them can make each end go up and the other end down alternately. 2. an up-and-down change that is constantly repeated.

seesaw v. to ride on a seesaw, to make this movement.

seeth (seeth) v. (seethed, seeth*ing) 1. to bubble or surge as in boiling. 2. to be very agitated or excited.

seeth*ing*ly adv.

see-through (see-thruh) adj. (informal) transparent.

seg*ment (seg-ment) n. a part cut off or separable or marked off as though separable from the other parts of a thing.

segment (seg*ment) v. to cut or separate into segments.

seg*men*tal (seg-men-tal) adj. seg*men*ta*tion (seg-men-ta-shon) n.

seg*ment*ed (seg-men-tid) adj. divided into segments.

seg*re*gate (seg-re-gay) v. (seg*re*gate*ed, seg*re*gate*ing) 1. to put apart from the rest, to isolate. 2. to separate (people) according to their race.

se*ga*ton (seg-re gay-shon) n.

seg*ra*tion*ist (seg-re ga*shun) n. a person who is in favor of racial segregation.

sel*g*neur (say-nyur) n. a feudal lord, a lord of the manor.

segin*lor (sayn-yor, see-n-) n. a feudal lord, a gentleman.

sel*gn*lo*ri*al (say-nyor-i-al, see-n-) adj.

sel*ne (sayn) n. a large fishing net that hangs vertically with floats at the top and weights at the bottom, the ends being drawn together to enclose fish as it is hauled ashore.

sel*ne v. (seened, sel*ne*ing) to fish or catch with a seine.

sel*ne*r n.

seism (sx-zem) n. an earthquake.

seis*mic (sxz-mik) adj. of an earthquake or earthquakes.

seis*mi*cal*ly adv. seis*mi*cal*ty (sxz-mis-i-tee) n.

seis*mo*gram (sxz-mo-gram) n. a record given by a seismograph.

seis*mo*graph (sxz-mo-graf) n. an instrument for detecting, recording, and measuring earthquakes.

seis*mo*graph*ic (sxz-mo-graf-ik) adj.

seis*mo*graph*er (sxz-mo-graf-er) n. an expert in the use of seismographs.

seis*mo*log*ist (sxz-mo-log-ist) n. an expert in seismology.

seis*mo*log*y (sxz-mo-log-y) n. the study of earthquakes and their phenomena.

seis*mo*log*ic (sxz-mo-log-ik) adj.

seis*mo*me*ter (sxz-mo-me-ter) n. an instrument showing the force, direction, etc. of an earthquake by measuring the actual movement of the ground.

seis*mo*met*ric (sxz-mo-me-trik) adj.

seize (sez) v. (seized, seiz*ing) 1. to take hold of (a thing) forcibly or suddenly or eagerly. 2. to take possession of (a thing) forcibly or by legal right, seize smuggled goods. 3. to have a sudden overwhelming effect on, panic seized us; the swimmer was seized by a cramp. □ seize on, to make use of (an excuse etc.) eagerly.

sei*zure (sezhur) n. 1. seizing, being seized. 2. a sudden attack of epilepsy or apo phlexy etc.

seil. abbr. 1. select. 2. selected. 3. selection.

seil*dom (sel-dom) adv. rarely, not often.

sele*ct (si-lek) v. to pick out as best or most suitable.

select adj. 1. chosen for excellence. 2. (of a society) exclusive, admitting only certain people as members.

sele*CT*ness n. sele*CT*or n. □ sele*CT committee, a small committee appointed to make a special investigation.

selectee (si-lek-tee) n. a conscript.

section (si-lek-shon) 1. selecting, being selected. 2. the people or things selected. 3. a collection of things from which a choice can be made, they stock a large selection of goods.

selective (si-lek-tiv) adj. chosen or choosing carefully. selectively adv.

selec'tive-ly (si-lek-tiv-lee) n. □selective service, a U.S. government system for selecting personnel for compulsory military service.

self-e-nite (sel-é-nit) n. a gypsum occurring as transparent crystals or thin plates.

self-nil'um (si-lee-nil-um) n. a nonmetallic element of the sulfur group that varies in its electrical resistivity with the intensity of its illumination.

self-nog-ra'phy (sel-é-nog-ra-fee) n. the study or mapping of the moon.

self-nog'ra-pher n.

self-nol-o-gy (sel-é-nol-o-jee) n. the scientific study of the moon.

self (self) n. (pl. selves, pr. selvz) 1. a person as an individual, one's own self. 2. a person's special nature; she is her old self again, has regained her former personality. 3. one's own interests or advantage or pleasure, always puts self first.

self- adj. of the same color or material as that used for the whole, a dress with self belt.

self- prefix meaning of or to be done by oneself or itself, as in self-accuser, self-explanatory, self-inflicted.

self-ab-ne-ga'tion (self-ab-ne-gay-shon) n. self-denial.

self-act-ing (self-ak-ting) adj. automatic.

self-ad-dressed (self-ah-drest) adj. (of an envelope for containing a reply) addressed to oneself.

self-ag-gran-dize'ment (self-ah-gran-diz-ment) n. an increase of one's own power, rank, wealth, etc.

self-ag-gran-diz'ing adj.

self-as-ser'tive (self-as-sur-tiv) adj. asserting oneself confidently.

self-as-ser'tive-ness n.

self-cen-ter'd (self-sen-terd) adj. thinking chiefly of oneself or one's own affairs, selfish.

self-'cen-ter'd-ly adv. self-'cen-ter'd-ness n.

self-con-fessed (self-kohn-fess) adj. openly admitting oneself to be, a self-confessed glutton.

self-con-fi-dent (self-kon-fi-dent) adj. having confidence in one's own abilities.

self-con-fi-dence n.

self-con-grat-u-la'tion (self-koh-grah-cut-ee-son) n. an expression or feeling of satisfaction with oneself.

self-con-sci'ous (self-kon-shus) adj. embarrassed or unnatural in manner from knowing that one is being observed by others.

self-con-sci'ous-ly adv. self-con-sci'ous-ness n.

self-con-tained (self-kohn-taynd) adj. 1. complete in itself. 2. (of a person) able to do without the company of others, reserved.

self-con-trol (self-kohn-trol) n. ability to control one's behavior and not act emotionally.

self-con-trolled' adj.

self-cor-rec'ting (self-koh-rikting) adj. automatically adjusting to correct mistakes.

self-crit-i-cism (self-krit-i-siz-m) n. criticizing oneself.

self-de-cep'tion (self-de-sep-shon) n. deceiving oneself.

self-de-feat-ing (self-de-fee-ting) adj. serving to defeat one's own purpose.

self-de-fense (self-de-fens) n. defense of oneself, or of one's rights or good reputation etc., against attack.

self-de-nil'al (self-de-nil-al) n. deliberately going without the things one would like to have.

self-de-struct (self-de-struct) v. (in-formal) to destroy itself at a designated time. self-de-struct'ive adj.

self-de-struct'ion (self-de-struct-shon) n. destruction of oneself.

self-de-ter-mi-na'tion (self-de-tur-mi-nay-shon) n. the ability to decide one's purpose, direction, etc.

self-de-von'tion (self-de-voh-shon) n. devotion of oneself to a person or cause.

self-dis-ci-pline (self-dis-ci-plin) n. training oneself to produce self-control or a particular skill etc.

self-doubt (self-dout) n. a feeling of un-self-educated / self-respect certainty about one's own motives, abilities, etc.

self-educed (self-educ-ed) adj. lacking formal education, educated by one's own efforts.

self-effacing (self-i-fay-sing) adj. tending to avoid the notice of others, humble.

self-employed (self-em-ployed) adj. working independently and not for an employer. self-em-ploy'ment n.

self-esteem (self-e-stem) n. a favorable opinion of oneself, self-respect.

self-ident (self-ev-i-dent) adj. clear without proof or explanation or further evidence.

self-examination (self-ex-am-i-na-tion) n. examination of one's motives, actions etc.

self-explainatory (self-ex-plan-atory) adj. explaining itself, requiring no further explanation.

self-expression (self-ex-pres-sion) n. expression of one's own thoughts or feelings through painting, literature, etc.

self-fertilization (self-fur-ti-li-za-tion) n. the fertilization of a plant by a gamete from the same plant.

self-full-filling (self-fuul-fil-ing) adj. 1. of or relating to the fulfillment of one's ambitions etc. 2. (of prophecy) turning out to be correct because actions taken by the person making the prophecy have a direct influence on the events. self'-ful-fill'ment n.

self-governing (self-guv'er-ning) adj. (of a country) governing itself. self'gov'er-ment n.

self-help (self-help) n. use of one's own powers to achieve things, without dependence on aid from others. self-help adj. (of books etc.) intended to aid in self-help.

self-imposed (self-im-pohzd) adj. imposed by oneself on oneself.

self-improvement (self-im-prov'ment) n. bettering one's mind or character etc. by one's own efforts.

self-induced (self-in-doost) adj. produced or caused by oneself or itself.

self-inclined (self-in-dul-gent) adj. readily yielding to temptations of ease or pleasure etc. self'-in-dul'gence n.

self-instructed (self-in-flict-ed) adj. inflicted by oneself on oneself.

selfish (self-fish) adj. acting or done according to one's own interests and needs without regard for those of others, keeping good things for oneself and not sharing. self'ish-ly adv. self'ish-ness n.

self-knowledge (self-nol-ij) n. understanding or knowledge of one's motives, abilities, etc.

selfless (self-lis) adj. unselfish. self'less-ly adv. self'less-ness n.

self-made (self-mayd) adj. having risen from poverty or obscurity and achieved success by one's own efforts, a self-made man.

self-operating (self-op'er-at-ing) (self-op'er-ray-ting) adj. automatic.

self-pity (self-pit-ce) n. pity for oneself.

self-pollination (self-pol-li-na-tion) n. the transfer of pollen from the anther to the stigma of the same flower.

self-portrait (self-por-trait) n. a portrait of himself by an artist, an account of himself by a writer.

self-protection (self-prez-er-va-tion) n. protection of oneself from harm or injury, the instinct to ensure one's own survival.

self-protection (self-prö-tek'shön) n. protection of oneself or itself.

self-reliant (self-re-li-ant) adj. independent, relying on one's own abilities and resources. self-re-li'ance n.

self-righteous (self-ri-self-righteous (self-ri-righteous) adj. disapproval of oneself for a fault or offense.

self-respect (self-ri-spekt) n. proper re-self-identified (self-identified) n.

self-hypnosis n.

self-instruction (self-in-dren't fi-lac- tion n.

self-kindness n.

self-immured (self-lu'br-i-ca'ted) adj.

self-perpetuating (self-per-pet'u-at'ing adj.

self-proclaimed adj.
self-restraint / semblance self-rise-ing (self-ri-zing) adj. (of flour) rising without the addition of a leavening agent.

self-same (self-saym) adj. the very same, died in the selfsame house where he was born.

self-sat-is-fied (self-sat-is-fid) adj. pleased with oneself and one's own achievements, conceited.

self-sea-king (self-see-king) adj. self-right-eousness.

self-sea-king (self-see-king) adj. & n. seeking to promote one's own interests rather than those of others.

self-seek-er n.

self-ser-vice (self-sur-vis) adj. (of a restaurant or shop or filling station) at which customers help themselves and pay a cashier for what they have taken.

self-serv-ing (self-sur-ving) adj. (of an automobile tire etc.) capable of sealing itself.

self-start-er (self-stahr-tër) n. 1. a device for starting the engine of a motor vehicle without the use of a crank. 2. a person who has initiative.

self-styled (self-styled) adj. using a name or description one has adopted for oneself, usually without right, one of these self-styled fast safe drivers.

self-suf-fil-ment (self-suf-ful-ment) n.

self-sup-port-ing (self-suf-pohr-ting) adj. able to support oneself or itself without outside help.

self-taught (self-tawt) adj. having taught oneself without formal teaching from another person.

self-willed (self-wild) adj. obstinately doing what one wishes, stubborn.

self-wind-ing (self-wind-ing) adj. (of a watch or clock) having a mechanism that winds it automatically.

sell (sel) v. (sold, sell-ing) 1. to transfer the ownership of (goods etc.) in exchange for money. 2. to keep a stock of (goods) for sale, to be a dealer in, do you sell tobacco? 3. to promote sales of, the author's name alone will sell many copies. 4. (of goods) to find buyers, the book is selling well. 5. to be on sale at a certain price, it sells for $1.50. 6. to persuade a person into accepting (a thing) by convincing him of its merits, tried to sell him the idea of merging the two departments. sell n. 1. the manner of selling something; hard sell, aggressive salesmanship. 2. (informal) a deception, a disappointment. ■sell down the river, (informal) to betray or defraud.

sell-er (sel-ër) n. 1. a person who sells something. 2. a thing that sells well or badly, those sandals were good sellers.

sell-er's market, a state of affairs when goods are scarce and prices are high.

sell-out (sel-ownt) n. 1. the selling of all tickets for a show etc., a great commercial success. 2. a betrayal.

sell-zer (sell-zer) n. 1. a medicinal mineral water, originally from Nieder-Selters, in Germany. 2. seltzer, an artificial substitute for this, soda water.

sell-vage (sel-vij) n. an edge of cloth so woven that it does not unravel.

self service

selves see self.

sem. abbr. seminary.

se-man-tic (si-man-tik) adj. 1. relating to meaning in language. 2. relating to the connotation of words.

se-man-tics (si-man-tiks) n. 1. the branch of philology dealing with meanings. 2. meaning, connotation. 3. the interpretation of symbols other than words (such as road signs).

sem-aphore (sem-ah-fohr) v. (sem-a-phored, sem-a-phor-ing) to signal by semaphore.

sem-blance (sem-blans) n. 1. an outward appearance (either real or pretended), a show, spoke with a semblance of friendship. 2. a resemblance or likeness to something.

sem·en (see-mên) n. the whitish sperm-bearing fluid produced by male animals.

sem·es·ter (si-mës-tër) n. a half-year course or term in a school or university.

sem·es·tral (si-mës-trål) adj. of a semester.

sem·i·ar·id (sem-i-ar-id) adj. (of a region, land, etc.) having little rainfall.

sem·i·au·to·mat·ic (sem-i-aw-tó-mat·ik) adj. 1. partially automatic. 2. (of a rifle) having automatic cartridge action but requiring manual pressure on the trigger for each shot.

sem·i·cir·cle (sem-i-sur-kël) n. half of a circle, something arranged in this shape.

se·mi·sur·ky·lär (se-mi-sur-kyu-lär) adj.

se·mi·con·duc·tor (se-mi-kôn-duk-tôr) n. a substance that (in certain conditions) conducts electricity but not as well as most metals do.

se·mi·co·lon (se-mi-koh-lôn) n. the punctuation mark ; used to separate parts of a sentence where there is a more distinct break than that represented by a comma.

se·mi·con·scious (se-mi-kôn-shûs) adj. not fully conscious.

se·mi·con·scious·ness n.

se·mi·de·tached (se-mi-di-tacht) adj. (of a house) being one of a pair of houses that have one wall in common with each other but are detached from other houses.

se·mi·fi·nal (se-mi-fi-nál) n. the match or round preceding the final.

se·mi·flu·id (se-mi-floo-id) adj. of a consistency between solid and fluid.

se·mi·mon·th·ly (se-mi-mûn-th-le) adj. occurring or published etc. twice a month.

se·mi·nal (se-mi-nal) adj. 1. of seed or semen. 2. giving rise to new developments, seminal ideas.

se·mi·nar (se-mi-när) n. a small class for advanced discussion and research.

se·mi·nar·y (se-mi-när-ee) n. (pl. -nar·ies) a school for training priests or ministers or rabbis.

se·mi·no·le (se-më-nohl) n. (pl. -noles, -nole) 1. a member of an American Indian tribe of Florida. 2. the language of this tribe.

se·mi·per·me·a·ble (se-mi-per-mi-ä-bël) adj. permeable to some substances but not to others.

se·mi·pre·cious (se-mi-pre-chëss-ës) adj. (of a gemstone) less valuable than those called precious.

se·mi·pri·vate (se-mi-priv-it) adj. having some privacy but not fully private.

se·mi·pro (se-mi-proh) n. (pl. -pros) (informal) a semiprofessional football player etc.

se·mi·pro·fes·sion·al (se-mi-prô-fesh·ô-nal) adj. 1. engaged on a part-time basis in a sport etc. for pay. 2. of or involving a person or work that does not have or require the skill and knowledge of a profession.

se·mi·pro·fes·sion·al n. semiprofessional n.

se·mi·skilled (se-mi-skild) adj. having or requiring some training but less than that needed for skilled work.

se·mi·soft (se-mi-sawft) adj. having a consistency that is neither hard nor soft but somewhere in between.

se·mi·sweet (se-mi-sweet) adj. (of chocolate or cookies) slightly sweetened.

se·mites (se-mët) n. a member of the group of races that includes the Jews and Arabs and formerly the Phoenicians and Assyrians.

se·mit·ic (si-mët-ik) adj. of the Semites or their language. Semitic n. a family of languages including Hebrew and Arabic.

se·mi·tone (se-mi-tohn) n. (in music) a half step or half tone, an interval midway between two whole tones.

se·mi·trail·er (se-mi-tray-lër) n. a trailer having wheels at the back but supported by a towing vehicle in the front, used for hauling freight.

se·mi·trans·par·ent (se-mi-trans-par·ënt) adj. not quite transparent.

se·mi·vow·el (se-mi-vow-ël) n. a sound, or a letter (such as y and w) representing a sound, intermediate between a vowel and a consonant.

se·mi·week·ly (se-mi-week-le) adj. occurring or published etc. twice a week.

se·mi·o·li·na (se-më-olë-nä) n. hard round grains left when wheat has been ground and sifted, used to make puddings and pasta. sem • per fl • de • lls (sem • per fl-day • lis) always faithful, the motto of the U.S. Marine Corps. □ Latin.

Sen., sen. abbr. 1. senate. 2. senator. 3. senior.

sen • ate (sen-it) n. 1. a legislative council. 2. Senate, the upper house of the legislatures of the U.S. and many of its state governments, and of Canada, France, and certain other countries. 3. the governing body in the ancient Roman republic.

sen • a • tor (sen-á-tór) n. a member of a senate. sen • a • to • ri • al (sen-á-tohr-i-ál) adj.

send (send) v. (sent, send-ing) 1. to order or cause or enable to go to a certain destination, to have (a thing) conveyed. 2. to send a message or letter, she sent to say she was coming. 3. to cause to move or go; sent him flying, knocked him headlong; sent his temperature up; the lecture sent us to sleep. send'er n. □ send away for, to order (goods etc.) by mail. send for, to order (a person) to come to one's presence; to order (a thing) to be brought or delivered from elsewhere. send up, (slang) to sentence to prison, he was sent up for twenty years. (□ From send up the river to Sing Sing, a prison 35 miles north of New York City on the Hudson River.) send word, to send information.

send • off (send-awf) n. a friendly demonstration at a person's departure.

Sen • e • ca (sen-é-ká) n. (pl. -cas, -ca) 1. a member of a tribe of the Iroquois Confederacy of North American Indians. 2. the language of this tribe.

Sen • e • gal (sen-é-gawl) a country in West Africa. Sen • e • ga • lese (sen-é-gá-leez) adj. & n. (pl. -lese).

se • nes • cence (si-nes-éns) n. the state or process of growing old. se • nes • cent adj.

se • nilte (see-nil) adj. 1. suffering from bodily or mental weakness because of old age. 2. (of illness etc.) characteristic of elderly people, senile diabetes. se • nil • tye (si-nil-i-ty) n.

sen • lor (seen-yór) adj. 1. older in age; Tom Brown senior, the older person of that name. 2. higher in rank or authority. 3. for older children, senior school. sen • lor n. a senior person, a student in his last year of high school or college; he is my senior, is older than I am. □ senior chief petty officer, (in the U.S. Navy) the petty officer ranking below master chief petty officer. senior citizen, an elderly person, one who has retired and is living on Social Security. senior high school, one that offers only the last two or three years of ordinary high school study, senior master sergeant, a non-commissioned officer ranking below chief master sergeant.

sen • lor • i • ty (seen-yor-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the state of being senior. 2. precedence by reason of length of service, as in a profession, union, etc.

sen • na (sen-á) n. the dried pods or leaves of a tropical tree, used as a laxative.

se • nôr (sen-yor) n. (pl. se • nôrs, se • nô-res, pr. sen-yor-es) the title of a Spanish-speaking man, = Mr. or sir.

se • no • ra (sen-yor-á) n. the title of a Spanish-speaking woman, = Mrs. or madam.

se • no • ri • ta (sen-yó-ree-tá) n. the title of a Spanish-speaking girl or unmarried woman, = Miss.

sen • sa • tion (sen-say-shón) n. 1. an awareness or feeling produced by stimulation of a sense organ or of the mind. 2. ability to feel such stimulation, loss of sensation in the fingers. 3. a condition of eager interest or excitement or admiration aroused in a number of people, a person or thing arousing this.

sen • sa • tion • al (sen-say-shón-ál) adj. 1. producing eager interest or excitement or admiration in many people. 2. (informal) extraordinary. sen • sa • tion • al • i • ty adv.

sen • sa • tion • al • ism (sen-say-shón-ál-iz-ém) n. use of subject matter or words or style etc. (in a book, newspaper, film etc.) in order to produce excessive emotional excitement in people.

sen • sa • tion • al • i • st n.

sense (sens) n. 1. any of the special powers by which a living thing becomes aware of things; the five senses, the faculties of sight, hearing, smell, taste, and touch, by which the external world is perceived. 2. ability to perceive or feel or be conscious of a thing, awareness or recognition of something, has no sense of shame; sense of humor, ability to appreciate humor. 3. the power of making a good judgment about something, practical wisdom, had the sense to get out of the way. 4. the way in which a word or phrase or passage etc. is to be understood, its meaning or one of its meanings. 5. possession of a meaning or of reasonableness.

sense v. (sensed, sens-ing) 1. to perceive by one of the senses. 2. to become aware of (a thing) by getting a mental impression, sensed that he was unwelcome. 3. (of a machine) to detect.

□ come to one's senses, to regain consciousness; to become sensible after behaving stupidly. In a sense or in one sense, if the statement is understood in a particular way, what you say is true in a sense. make sense, to have a meaning; to be a sensible and practicable idea. make sense of, to find a meaning in.

senseless (sen-sis-lis) adj. 1. not showing good sense, foolish. 2. meaningless, purposeless, senseless violence. 3. unconscious. sense'less adv. sense'less-ly adv. sense'less-ness n.

sense organ any of the organs (such as the eye or ear) by which the body becomes aware of stimuli from the external world.

sen-si-bil-i-ty (sen-si-bil-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) the ability to feel things mentally, sensitiveness, delicacy of feeling. ▪ This word does not mean "possess of good sense."

sen-si-bi-le (sen-si-bel) adj. 1. having or showing good sense. 2. aware, we are sensible of the honor you have done us. 3. (of clothing etc.) practical rather than fashionable, sensible shoes. sen'si-bly adv. *sen'si-ble*ness n.

sen-si-tive (sen-si-tiv) adj. 1. affected by something, responsive to stimuli, plants are sensitive to light. 2. receiving impressions quickly and easily, sensitive fingers. 3. alert and considerate about other people's feelings. 4. easily hurt or offended. 5. (of an instrument etc.) readily responding to or recording slight changes of condition. 6. (of a subject) requiring tactful treatment. *sen'si-tive*ly adv. *sen'si-tive*ness n. sen'si-tiv-i-ty (sen-si-tiv-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) □ sensitive plant, a mimosa or other plant with leaves that fold or droop when touched.

sensitiveness training, training conducted in group sessions to increase the social and occupational effectiveness of the group members.

sen-si-tize (sen-si-tize) v. (sen-si-tized, sen-si-tiz-ing) to make sensitive or abnormally sensitive. sen'si-tiza'tion (sen-si-tay-shun) n.

sen-sor (sen-sör) n. a device (such as a photoelectric cell) that reacts to a certain stimulus.

sen-so-ry (sen-so-re) adj. of the senses, receiving or transmitting sensations, sensory nerves.

sen-su-al (sen-shoo-al) adj. 1. physical, gratifying to the body, sensual pleasures. 2. indulging oneself with physical pleasures, showing that one does this, a sensual face. sen'su-al-ly adv. sen'su-al-ness n. sen'su-al-ist n. sen'su- sense (sen-sēn) v. (sent, sen'ced, sen'sing) 1. to feel, show awareness of (a thing), sense that, sense this, sense it, sense this, sense that, sense it, sentence (sen-tēns) n. 1. a set of words containing a verb (either expressed or understood) that is complete in itself as an expression of thought. 2. the punishment awarded by a law court to a person convicted in a criminal trial, declaration of this. sentence v. (sent'enced, sen'tencing) to pass sentence upon (a person), to condemn to (punishment).

senten'tious (sen-te'nshus) adj. putting on an air of wisdom, dull and moralizing. sen'ten'tious-ly adv. *sen'en'tious*ness n.

sentient (sen-shēnt) adj. capable of perceiving and feeling things, sentient beings. *sentient*ly adv.

sentimental (sen-ti-ment-al) (sen-ti-ment-al) adj. 1. showing or influenced by romantic or nostalgic feeling. 2. characterized by emotions as opposed to reason, sentimentality.

sentiment (sen-ti-ment) n. 1. a mental attitude produced by one's feeling about something, an opinion. 2. emotion as opposed to reason, sentimentality.

sentimental-ize (sen-ti-men-tal-ize) v. (sentimentalized, sentimentalizing) to make sentimental, to have sentimental feelings toward (a person or thing). sentimen'tal-ly adv. sentimen'tal-ism n.

sentinel n. 1. a sentry. sentin'el n.

sentry (sen-tree) n. (pl. -tries) □ a soldier posted to keep watch and guard something. □ sentry box, a wooden structure large enough to shelter a standing sentry.

Seoul (sohl) the capital of South Korea.

sep. abbr. 1. separate. 2. separated.

sepal (see-pal) n. one of the leaflike parts forming the calyx of a flower.

separa'ty (sep-ārā-tee) adj. to be separated. separa'tion n.

separate (sep-āt, sep-āt) adj. forming a unit by itself, not joined or united with others. sep’ar-rate·ly adv. sep’ar-rate·ness n.
sep’ar-rates (sep-ə-rits, sep-rites) n. pl. individual items of clothing for wearing together in various combinations.
sep’ar-tion (sep-ə-ray-shən) 1. separating, being separated. 2. a legal arrangement by which a married couple live apart but without ending the marriage. □ separation center, a place for processing military personnel for return to civilian life.
sep’ar-tis (sep-ə-rā-tis) n. a person who favors separation from a larger unit, as to achieve political independence.
sep’ar-tive (sep-ə-ray-tiv) adj. 1. tending to cause separation. 2. tending toward separation. 3. expressing separation.
sep’ar-tor (sep-ə-ray-tōr) n. a machine that separates things (such as cream from milk).

Se·phar·di (si-fahr-dī) Jew a Jew of Spanish or Portuguese descent.
sep·pi (sep-pi-ə) n. 1. brown coloring matter used in inks and watercolors. 2. dark or yellowish brown color. sepi adj. of sepia color.
sep·po (see-pō) n. (in former times) an Indian soldier under European, especially British, discipline.
sep’si (sep-si) n. a septic condition. Sept. sept (sep-t) adj. September. Sep. sept·em·ber (sep-tēm-bər) n. the ninth month of the year.
sept·et (sep-tet) n. a group of seven instruments or voices, a musical composition for these.
sep·tic (sep-tik) adj. infected with harmful microorganisms that cause pus to form. □ septic tank, a tank into which sewage is conveyed and in which it is disintegrated through bacterial activity.
sep·ti·ce·mi·a (sep-tē-sē-mē-ə) n. blood poisoning.
sept·u·a·ge·na·lar·i·an (sep-tō-ə-gē-nā-lē-ən) n. a person in his or her seventies.
Sep·tu·ages·i·ma (sep-tō-ə-jē-zi-mə) n. the third Sunday before the beginning of Lent.
Sep·tu·a·gi·nt (sep-tō-ə-jē-nt) n. the earliest Greek version of the Old Testament.
sep·tum (sep-tüm) n. (pl. -ta, pr. -tā) a partition between two cavities, such as that in the nose between the nostrils.
sep·tu·ple (sep-tū-pəl) adj. sevenfold. septuple v. (sep-tū·pled, sep-tū·pling) to make or become seven times greater.
sep·ul·cher (sep-əl-kər) n. a tomb.

se·pul·chral (si-pul-krəl) adj. 1. of a tomb, sepulchral monument. 2. looking or sounding dismal, funereal; a sepulchral voice, deep and hollow-sounding.
sep’ul·chral·ly adv.
sep·ul·ture (sep-əl-chūr) n. burying, putting in the grave.
seq. abbr. the following (item). △ Latin sequens.
seqq. abbr. the following (items). △ Latin sequentia.
se·quen·tial (si-kan-tē-əl) adj. 1. following as a sequence or consequence, consecutive. 2. occurring as a result. se·quen·ti·al·ly adv. se·quen·ti·al·ty (si-ken-ti·əl·ti) n. (si-kwen-ti·əl·ti) n. 1. the following of one thing after another in an orderly or continuous way. 2. a series without gaps, a set of things that belong next to each other in a particular order; in sequence, in this order; out of sequence, not in it. 3. a section dealing with one scene or topic in a film.
se·quent (see-kwənt) adj. 1. to seclude. 2. to confine.
se·ques·tra·tive (si-kwēs-trə-tiv) adj. (such a quality). 1. to sequester. se·ques·tra·tion (si-kwēs-trə-shən) n.
se·quin (see-kwin) n. a circular spangle ornamenting clothing or other material.
se·quin·ned adj.
se·quoi·a (si-kwō-ə) n. a coniferous tree of California, growing to a great height.
ser. abbr. 1. serial. 2. series.
se·ra see serum.
se·rag·gi·o·la (si-rā-ggi-əl-ə) n. (pl. -ra·ggi·o·las) the hareem of a Muslim palace.
se·ra·pe (seh-ray-pə) n. a shawl or blanket worn as a cloak by Spanish Americans.
ser·aph (ser-əf) n. (pl. -aphs, -əphləm, pr. -ə-fam) a member of the highest order of angels in ancient Christian belief. ser·a·phic (se-rā-fik) adj. seraph·ic·al·ly adv.

Serb (surb), Ser·bi·an (sur-bē-ən) n. 1. a native or inhabitant of Serbia. 2. the language of Serbia.
Ser·bi·an (sur-bē-ən) a the southeast portion of Yugoslavia.
Ser·bo-Cro·a·t·ian (sur-bo-kroh-ay-shən) n. the Slavonic language of the Serbs and Croats.
ser·e (seer) adj. withered, dried up.
ser·e·nade (ser·ē-nād) n. a song or tune played by a lover to his lady, or suitable for this. serenade v. (ser-e-nad-ed, ser-e-nad-ing) to sing or play a serenade to. ser-e-nad-er n.

ser-en-dip-i-ty (ser-en-dip-i-tee) n. the making of pleasant discoveries by accident, the knack of doing this. ser-en-dip-i-tous adj.

se-re-ne (sê-re-ne) adj. 1. calm and cheerful. 2. the title used in speaking of or to members of certain European royal families, His or Her or Your Serene Highness. se-re-ne-ly adv. se-re-ne-ness n.

se-ren-i-ty (sê-ren-i-tee) n. (sê-ren-i-tee) serf (surf) n. 1. a farm laborer who was forced to work for his landowner in the Middle Ages. 2. an oppressed laborer. serf-dom n.

Serg., Sergt. abbr. Sergeant.

serge (surj) n. a strong twilled worsted fabric used for making clothes.

ser-ge-ant (sahr-jânt) n. 1. a noncommissioned army officer ranking above corporal. 2. a police officer ranking below captain or lieutenant. sergeant at arms, an officer of a group or organization in charge of preserving the rules and regulations and in maintaining order. sergeant first class, a noncommissioned officer above a staff sergeant. sergeant major, the highest noncommissioned rank in the U.S. Army and Marine Corps.

ser-al-tim (ser-i-a-tim) adv. point by point, taking one subject etc. after another in an orderly sequence.

ser-ies (ser-ez) n. (pl. -ries) 1. a number of things of the same kind, or related to each other in a similar way, occurring or arranged or produced in order. 2. a set of stamps or coins etc. issued at one time or in one country.

ser-if (ser-if) n. a small line finishing off the strokes of a letter, as in T.

ser-i-graph (ser-i-graf) n. a print made by means of a silk screen. se-ri-graph-er (si-ri-graph-er) n. se-ri-graph-phy n.

ser-i-o-com-i-c (ser-i-oh-kom-ik) adj. partly serious and partly comic.

ser-i-ous (ser-i-ús) adj. 1. solemn and thoughtful, not smiling. 2. sincere, in earnest, not casual or lighthearted, made a serious attempt. 3. important, this is a serious decision. 4. causing great concern, not slight, serious illness. ser-i-ous-ly adv. ser-i-ous-ness n.

ser-mon (su-môn) n. 1. a talk on a religious or moral subject, especially one delivered by a clergyman during a religious service. 2. a long moralizing talk.

ser-mon-ize (sur-mô-niz) v. (ser-mon-ized, ser-mon-ized, ser-mon-iz-ing) to give a long moralizing talk.

ser-rol-ogy (si-rol-ô-jee) n. the scientific study of sera and their effects. se-ro-log-ic (ser-o-log-ik) adj. se-ro-log-i-cal adj.

se-rous (ser-ús) adj. of or resembling serum.

ser-phant (sur-pînt) n. a snake, especially a large one.

ser-pen-tine (sur-pên-teen) adj. twisting and curving like a snake, a serpentine road. serpentine n. a soft mineral rock usually dark green, used as decorative material.

ser-rate (ser-it, -ayt), ser-rat-ed (ser-ay-tid, si-ray-) adj. having a series of small projections like the teeth of a saw. ser-ration (si-ray-shôn) n.

ser-ried (ser-êd) adj. (of rows of people or things) arranged in a close series.

se-ram (ser-êm) n. (pl. se-ram, pr. se-er, se-erums) 1. the thin yellowish fluid that remains from blood when the rest has clotted. 2. this taken from an immunized animal and used for inoculations. 3. any watery fluid from animal tissue (as in a blister).

serv. abbr. service.

ser-val (sur-vâl) n. a tawny black-spotted long-legged African tiger cat.

serv-ant (sur-vânt) n. 1. a person employed to do domestic work in a household or as a personal attendant. 2. an employee considered as performing services for his employer, a faithful servant of the company.

serve (surv) v. (served, serv-ing) 1. to perform services for (a person or community etc.), to work for, served his country; served the national interest, helped it. 2. to be employed or performing a spell of duty, to be a member of the armed forces, served in the Navy. 3. to be suitable for, to do what is required, it will serve our purpose; it will serve. 4. to provide a facility for, the area is served by a number of buses. 5. to spend time in, to undergo, served his apprenticeship; served a prison sentence. 6. (of a male animal) to copulate with. 7. to set out or present (food etc.) for others to consume, to attend to (customers in a shop). 8. (of a quantity of food) to be enough for, this recipe serves six persons. 9. to set the ball in play at tennis etc. 10. to assist in a religious service. 11. to deliver (a legal writ etc.) to the person named, served him with the writ or served the writ on him. 12. to treat in a certain way, she was most unjustly served. serve n. a service in tennis etc., a person's turn for this, the ball served. serve n. if it serves him right, an expression of satisfaction at seeing a person get something unpleasant that he deserved. serve up, to offer for acceptance, served up the same old entertainments again.

service (sur-vis) n. 1. (old use) being a servant, a servant's status, be in service. 2. the occupation or process of working for an employer or of assisting another person or persons. 3. an agency of a government, the Foreign Service; state employment service. 4. a system or arrangement that performs work for customers or supplies public needs, laundry services are available; the bus service; essential services, public supply of water, electricity, etc. 5. a branch of the armed forces; the services, the navy, army, marines, and air force. 6. use, assistance, a helpful or beneficial act, did me a service; be of service, to be useful, to help. 7. a meeting of a congregation for worship of God, a religious ceremony. 8. the serving of a legal writ. 9. the serving of food or goods, provision of help for customers or clients, quick service. 10. a set of dishes, plates, etc. for serving a meal, a dinner service. 11. the act or manner or turn of serving in tennis etc., the game in which one serves, lost his service. 12. maintenance and repair of a car or of machinery or appliances at intervals. 13. the serving of a mare etc. by a male animal. service v. (serviced, servicing) 1. to maintain or repair (a piece of machinery etc.). 2. to supply with service(s). 3. to pay the interest on, the amount needed to service this loan. 4. to serve (definition 6). at the service of, ready to obey orders or be used. be of service, to be useful or helpful. service area, an area beside a freeway or expressway where gasoline and refreshments etc. are available. service charge, an additional charge for service. service module, that part of a spacecraft containing the main engine and power supplies. service station, a place where gasoline and automobile repair etc. are available. service stripe, a military stripe indicating time on active duty, worn on an enlisted man's sleeve.

serviceable (sur-vi-sä-bel) adj. 1. usable. 2. suitable for ordinary use or wear, hard-wearing. serviceably adv. serviceable ness n. serviceability n.

serviceman (sur-vis-man) n. (pl. men, pr. men) 1. a man who is a member of the armed services. 2. a man whose job is to repair or maintain equipment. servicewoman (sur-vis-woman) n. (pl. -women, pr. -women) a woman who is a member of the armed services.

servile (sur-vil) adj. 1. suitable for a servant, menial, servile tasks. 2. excessively submissive, lacking independence, servile flattery or imitation. servility adv.

servitor (sur-vi-tor) n. an attendant, a servant.

servitude (sur-vi-tood) n. the condition of being forced to work for others and having no freedom.

servo (sur-vo) n. (pl. -vos) (informal) a servomechanism.

servomechanism (sur-vo-mek-ä-nize-m) n. a controlling mechanism that is activated electronically by a radio etc. signal.

servomotor (sur-vo-moh-tor) n. the motor part of a servomechanism.

sesame (ses-ä-mee) n. 1. a plant of tropical Asia with seeds (sesame seeds) that are used as food or as a source of oil. 2. its seeds. open sesame, a special way of obtaining access to something that is usually inaccessible. These words were used, in one of the Arabian Nights stories, to cause a door to open.

sesquicentennial (ses-ki-win-sen-tien-ä-l) adj. of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary.

sesquipedalian (ses-ki-pi-day-li-ään) adj. 1. having many syllables. 2. tending to use long words.

session (ses-il) adj. 1. (of a flower, leaf, etc.) attached directly by the base without the stalk or peduncle. 2. fixed in one position, immobile.

session (sesh-än) n. 1. a meeting or series of meetings for discussing or deciding something. 2. a period spent continuously in an activity, an all-night session of poker. 3. the academic year or term in certain universities. 4. the governing body of a Presbyterian church.

set (set) v. (set, setting) 1. to put or place, to cause to stand in position. 2. to put in contact with; set fire to, to cause to burn. 3. to fix in position, to adjust the hands of (a clock) or the mechanism of (a trap etc.); set the table, lay it for a meal. 4. to represent as happening in a certain place, or at a certain time, the story is set in Egypt in 2000 B.C. 5. to provide a tune for, set it to music. 6. to make or become hard or firm or established; they are set against change, have this as a permanent attitude. 7. (of fabric etc.) to fall or hang in a certain way, the collar sets well. 8. to fix or decide or appoint, set a date for the wedding. 9. to arrange and protect (a broken bone) so that it will heal. 10. to fix (hair) while it is damp so that it will dry in the desired style. 11. to place (a jewel) in a surrounding framework, to decorate with jewels, the bracelet is set with emeralds. 12. to establish, set a new record for the high jump. 13. to offer or assign as something to be done, set them a task. 14. to put into a specified state, set them free; set it swinging. 15. to have a certain movement, the current sets strongly eastward. 16. to be brought toward or below the horizon by Earth's movement, the sun sets. 17. (in certain dances) to face another dancer and make certain steps, set to your partners. 18. (in bridge) to defeat an opposing partnership's contract. 19. to arrange or compose type. set n. 1. a number of people or things that are grouped together as similar or forming a unit. 2. a group of games forming a unit or part of a match in tennis etc. 3. (in mathematics) a collection of things having a common property. 4. a radio or television receiver. 5. the way something sets or is set or placed or arranged, the set of his shoulders. 6. the process or style of setting hair. 7. the scenery in use for a play or film, the stage etc. where this is being performed, be on the set by 7 a.m. set adj. 1. fixed, predetermined, a set time; set menu. 2. firm, hard, established, he was set in his opinions. 3. ready, prepared, are you set for the trip? □ be set on, to be determined about. set about, to begin (a task). set apart, to save for a special purpose; to distinguish from others in a group, his sense of humor set him apart. set aside, to save or reserve (a thing). set back, to halt or slow the progress of, to cause a change for the worse; (slang) to cost, it set me back $50. set eyes on, to catch sight of. set forth, to set out. set in, to become established, depression had set in. set off, to begin a journey; to cause to begin, set off a chain reaction; to ignite or cause to explode; to improve the appearance of (a thing) by providing a contrast. set one's hand to, to begin (a task); to sign (a document). set one's teeth, to clench them. set out, to declare or make known, set out the terms of the agreement; to begin a journey; set out to do something, make a start with a particular intention. set sail, to hoist sail(s); to begin a voyage. set the- ory, the study of sets in mathematics, without regard to the nature of their individual constituents. set to, to begin doing something vigorously; to begin fighting or arguing. set up, to place in view; to arrange; to begin or create (a business etc.); to establish in some capacity; to begin making (a sound); to cause; set up housekeeping, to establish a household. set upon, to attack. □ Do not confuse set with sit. It is incorrect to write that idea sets well with me or I set in my chair all evening. Write idea sits well and sat in my chair.

set-back (set-bak) n. 1. something that sets back progress. 2. (in architecture) the placement of an upper story of a building back from the edge of the lower part, such a story.

set·tee (se-tee) n. a long seat with a back and usually with arms, for two or more people.

set·ter (set-er) n. 1. a person or thing that sets something, typesetter. 2. a dog of a long-haired breed that is trained to stand rigid when it scents game.

set·ting (set-ing) n. 1. the way or place in which something is set. 2. music for the words of a song etc. 3. a set of dishes or silverware for one person.

set·tie1 (set-él) n. a wooden seat for two or more people, with a high back and arms.

settle2 v. (set-tied, set-tling) 1. to place (a thing etc.) so that it stays in position. 2. to establish or become established more or less permanently. 3. to make one's home, to occupy as settlers, settled in Canada; colonists settled the coast. 4. to sink or come to rest, to cause to do this, to become compact in this way, dust settled on the shelves. 5. to arrange as desired, to end or arrange conclusively, to deal with, settled the dispute. 6. to make or become calm or orderly, to stop being restless. 7. to pay (a debt or bill or claim etc.). 8. to bestow legally, settled all his property on his wife. □ settle down, to become settled after wandering or movement or restlessness or disturbance etc. settle up, to pay what is owing.

set·tie·ment (set-él-mént) n. 1. settling, being settled. 2. a legal or financial arrangement. 3. an amount or property settled legally on a person. 4. a place occupied by settlers or colonists etc.

set·tier (set-ér) n. a person who goes to live permanently in a previously unoccupied land.

set·to (set-too) n. (pl. -tos) (informal) a fight or argument.
set-up (set-up) n. 1. (informal) the structure of an organization. 2. (slang) a situation contrived to cheat a person or fix blame on him. 3. (informal) the things needed (other than whiskey) for serving alcoholic drinks.

sev-en (sev-ên) adj. & n. one more than six (7, VII). □ the seven seas, the waters of the world that can be navigated by ships.

sev-en-fold (sev-ên-folded) adj. & adv. seven times as much or as many.

sev-en-teen (sev-ên-teen) adj. & n. one more than sixteen (17, XVII). sev-en-th (adj. & n. 1. next after-sixth. 2. one of seven equal parts of a thing. sev-en-th-ly adv. □ seventh heaven, a state of intense delight.

sev-en-ties (sev-ên-teez) n. pl. the numbers or years or degrees of temperatures from seventy to seventy-nine.

sev-en-ty-eight (sev-ên-ti-ayt) n. (informal) a phonograph record designed to be played at a speed of 78 revolutions per minute.

sev-er (sev-êr) v. to cut or break off from a whole, to separate; sever a contract, to end it.

sev-er-al (sev-êr-al) adj. 1. a few, more than two but not many. 2. separate, individual, we all went our several ways. sev-eral pronoun several people or things.

sev-er-al-ly (sev-êr-al-lee) adv. separately.

sev-er-an-ce (sev-êr-ân-suh) n. severing, being severed. □ severance pay, an amount of money paid to an employee on termination of his contract.

se-vere (se-vêr) adj. (-ver-er, -ver-est) 1. strict, without sympathy, imposing harsh rules on others. 2. intense, forceful, severe gales. 3. making great demands on endurance or energy or ability etc., the pace was severe. 4. plain and without decoration, a severe style of dress. se-vere-ly adv. se-vere-ness (n. se-vere-ly) n.

Se-ville (se-vil) n. (also Seville) a bitter orange used for making marmalade. □ Named after Seville in Spain.

Sèvres (se-vr) n. fine porcelain made at Sévres in France.

sew (soh) v. (sewed, sewn or sewed, sew-ing) 1. to fasten by passing thread again and again through material, using a threaded needle or an awl etc. or a sewing machine. 2. to make or attach or fasten by sewing. 3. to work with needle and thread or with a sewing machine. □ sewing machine, a machine for sewing or stitching things.

sew-age (soo-ij) n. liquid waste matter drained away from houses, towns, factories, etc. for disposal.

sew-er1 (soh-êr) n. a person or thing that sews.

sew-er2 (soo-êr) n. a drain for carrying away sewage.

sew-er-age (soo-ê-rij) n. a system of sewers, drainage by this.

sew-ing (soh-ing) n. 1. the work or activity of one who sews. 2. work in the process of being sewn.

sewn (sohn) see sew. □ have a thing sewn up, (informal) to have it all arranged or won.

sex (seks) n. 1. either of the two main groups (male and female) into which living things are placed according to their reproductive functions, the fact of belonging to one of these. 2. sexual feelings or impulses, attraction between members of the two sexes. 3. (informal) sexual intercourse, have sex with someone. sex v. to judge the sex of, to sex chickens.

sex act, sexual intercourse. sex appeal, sexual attractiveness. sex change, a change of sex, usually by surgical means. sex chromosome, a chromosome concerned in determining the sex of an organism.

sex-a-ge-nar-i-an (sek-sä-jë-nair-ë-an) n. a person in his or her sixties.

Sex-a-ges-i-ma (sek-sä-jë-së-më-ë-mă) n. the second Sunday before Lent.

sexed (sekst) adj. having sexual characteristics or impulses, highly sexed.

sex-lst (sek-sist) adj. 1. discriminating in favor of members of one sex. 2. assuming that a person’s abilities and social functions are determined by his or her sex.

sexist n. a person who does this. sex’ ism n.

sex-less (seks-lis) adj. 1. lacking sex, neutral. 2. not involving sexual feelings.

sex-less-ly adv. sex’less-ness n.

sex-ol-o-gist (sek-sol-ô-jëst) n. an expert in sexology.

sex-ol-o-gy (sek-sol-ô-jë) n. the study of human sexual relationships. sex’ o-log-i-cal (sek-sô-log-i-kal) adj.

sex-pot (seks-pot) n. (slang) a sexy person.

sex-starved (seks-stärvd) adj. (informal) lacking sexual gratification.

sex-tant (seks-tânt) n. an instrument used in navigating and surveying, for finding one’s position by measuring the altitude of the sun etc.
sex·tet, sex·tte (seks-tet) n. a group of six instruments or voices, a musical composition for these.

sex·tile (seks-tile) adj. (of stars) in the position of being 60° distant from each other.

sex·ton (seks-ton) n. an official whose job is to take care of a church and church property.

sex·tu·ple (seks-too-pəl) adj. sixfold.

sex·tu·plet (seks-tu-plet) n. one of six children born at one birth.

sex·u·al (sek-shoo-əl) adj. 1. of sex or the sexes or the relationship or feelings etc. between them. 2. (of reproduction) occurring by fusion of male and female cells.

sex·tu·plet (seks-tu-plet) n. 1. the fact of belonging to one of the sexes. 2. sexual characteristics or impulses.

sex·y (sek-see) adj. (sex·i·er, sex·i·est) sexually attractive or stimulating.

sex·y·ly adv. sex·y·ness n.

Sey·chelles (say-shelz) a country on a group of islands in the Indian Ocean.

SF abbr. 1. (in baseball) sacrifice fly. 2. science fiction.

SFC abbr. sergeant first class.

SG abbr. 1. senior grade. 2. sergeant. 3. solicitor general. 4. surgeon general.

Sgt. abbr. sergeant.

Sgt. Maj. abbr. sergeant major.

sh (sh) interj. hush.

sh. abbr. share.

shab·by (shab-ee) adj. (-bl·er, -bl·est) 1. worn and threadbare, not kept in good condition, (of a person) poorly dressed. 2. unfair, dishonorable, a shabby trick.

shab·bi·ly adv. shab·bi·ness n.

shack (shak) n. a roughly built hut or shed.

shack·le (shak·əl) n. one of a pair of iron rings joined by a chain, for fastening a prisoner's wrists or ankles.

shack·le v. (shack·led, shack·ling) 1. to put shackles on. 2. to impede or restrict, shackled by tradition.

shad (shad) n. (pl. shad, shads) a deep-bodied fish that goes upriver to spawn, used as food. □ shad roe, the eggs of the female shad, used as food.

shade (shayd) n. 1. comparative darkness or coolness found where something blocks rays of light or heat. 2. shelter from the sun's light and heat, a place sheltered from these. 3. the darker part of a picture. 4. a color, a degree or depth of color, in shades of blue. 5. a differing variety, all shades of opinion. 6. a small amount, she's a shade better today. 7. a ghost. 8. a screen used to block or moderate light or heat, a translucent cover for making a lamp less glaringly bright or for directing its beam, an eye shield. 9. a window blind. shade v. (shad·ed, shad·ing) 1. to block the rays of. 2. to give shade to, to make dark. 3. to darken (parts of a drawing etc.) so as to give effects of light and shade or gradations of color. 4. to pass gradually into another color or variety, the blue here shades into green; where socialism shaded into communism. □ put in the shade, to cause to appear inferior by contrast, to outshine.

shades (shaydz) n. pl. 1. the darkness of night or evening. 2. (slang) sunglasses. 3. reminders of some person or thing, shades of the 1930s.

shad·ing (shay-ding) n. (in art) gradation of color produced by darkening parts of a drawing, especially with parallel pencil lines.

shad·ow (shad-oh) n. 1. shade. 2. a patch of this with the shape of the body that is blocking the rays. 3. a person's insep­arable attendant or companion. 4. a slight trace, no shadow of doubt. 5. a shaded part of a picture. 6. gloom, the news cast a shadow over the proceedings. 7. something weak or unsubstantial, a ghost, worn to a shadow. shadow v. 1. to cast shadow over. 2. to follow and watch secretly. shad·ow·er n. shad·ow·y adj.

shad·ow·less n. □ Shadow Cab­inet, (British) members of an opposition party who act as spokesmen on matters for which Cabinet ministers hold responsibility.

shad·ow·box·ing (shahd-oh-bok-sing) n. boxing against an imaginary opponent as a form of training.

shad·y (shay-dee) adj. (shad·i·er, shad·i·est) 1. giving shade. 2. situated in the shade, a shady corner. 3. disreputable, not completely honest, shady dealings. shad·i·ly adv. shad·i·ness n.

shaf·t (shaf) n. 1. a spear or arrow or similar device, its long slender stem. 2. a remark aimed or striking like an arrow, shafts of wit. 3. a ray (of light), a bolt (of lightning). 4. any long narrow straight part of something, as of a supporting column or a golf club. 5. a large axle. 6. one of a pair of long bars between which a horse is harnessed to draw a vehicle. 7. a vertical or sloping passage giving access to a mine, or containing an elevator, or giving an outlet for air or smoke etc. 8. (slang) inconsiderate or unjust treatment, gave him the shaft.

shaf·t v. 1. to propel with a pole. 2. (slang) to treat inconsiderately or unjustly.

shag (shag) n. 1. a rough mass of hair or fiber. 2. a long-napped rough cloth. 3. a strong coarse kind of cut tobacco.
shaggy (shag-ge) adj. (-gl-er, -gl-est) 1. having long rough hair or fiber. 2. rough and thick and untidy, shaggy hair. shag'gi-ly adv. shag'gi-ness n. —shaggy dog story, a lengthy anecdote with a peculiar twist of humor at the end.

Shah (shah) n. the title of the former king of Iran.

shake (shayk) v. (shook, shak-en, shak-ing) 1. to move quickly and often jerkily up and down or back and forth. 2. to dislodge by doing this, shook snow off his hat. 3. to make uneasy, to shock or disturb, to upset the calmness of. 4. to make less firm. 5. (of a voice) to tremble, to become weak or faltering. 6. to shake hands, let's shake on it. shake n. 1. shaking, being shaken. 2. a shaking movement. 3. a jolt or shock. 4. a milk shake. 5. a moment, be there in two shakes. shak'able adj. —no great shakes, (slang) not very good. shake down, to become harmoniously adjusted to new conditions etc.; (slang) to extort money from. shake hands, to clasp right hands in greeting or parting or agreement. shake in one's shoes, to tremble with fear. shake off, to get rid of, as dust etc., illness, a bad habit, an undesirable companion. shake one's fist, to make this threatening gesture at a person. shake one's head, to turn it from side to side in refusal or denial or disapproval. shake up, to mix by shaking; to restore to shape by shaking; to rouse from a stagnant or lethargic or convention-ridden state. the shakes, a fit of trembling or shivering. two shakes of a lamb's tail, a very short time.

shake down (shak-down) (slang) n. 1. a thorough search. 2. an extortion scheme. shakedown adj. as for or for a period of adjustment etc., the ship's shake-down cruise.

shak-er (shak-er) n. 1. a person or thing that shakes something. 2. a container in which ingredients for cocktails etc. are mixed by being shaken. 3. Shaker, a member of an American religious sect with a simple life in celibate mixed communities.

Shake·spear·e·an (shayk-speer-i-an) adj. of Shakespeare.

shake-up (shak-up) n. an upheaval, a reorganization.

shak-0 (shak-oh, shay-koh) n. (pl. -os, -oes) a form of military hat, more or less cylindrical with a peak and an upright plume or tuft.

shak-y (shay-kee) adj. (shak-i-er, shak-i-est) 1. shaking, unsteady, trembling.

2. unreliable, wavering. shak'-i-ly adv. shak'-i-ness n.

shale (shayl) n. stone that splits easily into fine pieces, rather like slate. shale oil, oil obtained from bituminous shale.

shall (shalt) auxilliary verb (shalt) is used with thou 1. used with I and we to express the future tense in statements and questions (but will is used with other words, I shall arrive tomorrow (but they will arrive); shall I open the window? 2. used with words other than I and we in promises or statements of intention or obligation, you shall have it (but I will have it = I intend to have it); thou shalt not kill. 3. sometimes shall is used in questions with words other than I and we because will would look like a request, as in shall you take the children? (See tense-.)

shal·lop (shal-op) n. a light open boat for shallow water.

shal·lot (shah-lot, shal-ot) n. an onionlike plant that forms clusters of bulbs as it grows.

shal·low (shal-oh) adj. 1. not deep, a shallow stream. 2. not thinking or thought out deeply, not capable of deep feelings, a shallow person or book. shallow n. (often shallows) a shallow place. shal'low·ly adv. shal'low·ness n.

sha·lom (sha-lohm) n. a salutation at meeting or parting, used among Jews. > Hebrew, = peace.

shalt (shalt) see shall.

sham (sham) n. 1. a pretense, a thing or feeling that is not genuine. 2. a person who shams. sham adj. pretended, not genuine. sham v. (shammed, sham·ming) to pretend or pretend to be, to sham illness. sham'ner n.

sha·man (shah-mán, shay-) n. a priest or witch doctor among certain peoples, claiming to have sole contact with the gods etc.

sha·man·ism (shah-má-níz-ém, shay-) n. a primitive Asiatic religion believing in the power of the shaman.

sham·ble (sham-bél) v. (shamed, sham·bing) to walk or run in an awkward or lazy way. shamble n. a shambling movement.

sham·bles (sham-bélz) n. a scene or condition of great bloodshed or disorder.

shame (shaym) n. 1. a painful mental feeling aroused by a sense of having done something wrong or dishonorable or improper or ridiculous. 2. ability to feel this, he has no shame. 3. a person or thing that causes shame. 4. something regrettable, a pity, it's a shame you can't come. shame v. (shamed, sham·ling) to bring shame on, to make ashamed, to compel by arousing feelings of shame, was shamed into contributing more.

shame-faced (shaym-fayst) adj. 1. looking ashamed. 2. bashful, shy. shame·fac·ed·ly (shaym-fay-sid-lee) adv. shame·fac·ed·ness n.

shameful (shaym-fül) adj. causing shame, disgraceful. shame·ful·ly adv. shame·ful·ness n.

shameless (shaym-lis) adj. having or showing no feeling of shame, impudent. shame·less·ly adv. shame·less·ness n.

sham·my (shaym-ee) n. (pl. -mies) cham·ois leather.

sham·poo (sham-poo) n. 1. a liquid used to lather and wash the hair; dry shampoo, a powder brushed into hair to clean without wetting it. 2. a liquid or chemical for cleaning the surface of a carpet or upholstery, or for washing a car. 3. shampooing, had a shampoo and set.

shampoo v. (sham-pooed, sham·poo·ing) to wash or clean with a shampoo. sham·poo·er n.

sham·rock (sham-ruk) n. a cloverlike plant with three leaves on each stem, the national emblem of Ireland.

sha·mus (shah-mus, shay-) n. (pl. -mu·ses) (slang) a police detective or private detective.

shang·hai (shang-hi, shang-hi) v. (shang-haied, shang·hai·ing) to take (a person) by force or trickery and compel him to do something.

Shan·grila (shang-grila) n. an imaginary paradise on Earth. <From the name of a hidden valley in James Hilton’s novel Lost Horizon.

shank (shangk) n. 1. the leg, long shanks. 2. the leg from knee to ankle, the corresponding part of an animal’s leg (especially as a cut of meat). 3. a long narrow part of something, a shaft. □shanks’ mare, one’s own legs used for walking; ride shanks’ mare, to walk.

shan’t (shant) = shall not.

shan·tung (shan-tung) n. a kind of soft Chinese silk, fabric resembling this.

shan·ty1 (shanty) n. (pl. -ties) a shack.

shanty2 n. (pl. -ties) = chantey.

shan·ty·town (shan-tey-town) n. a town consisting of shanties.

shape (shayp) n. 1. an area or form with a definite outline, the appearance produced by this. 2. the form or condition in which something appears, a monster in human shape. 3. the proper form or condition of something, get it into shape. 4. a pattern or mold. shape v. (shaped, shap·ing) 1. to give a certain shape to. 2. to develop into a certain shape or condition; it is shaping up well, looks promising. 3. to adapt or modify (one’s plans or ideas etc.). shap·er n. □shape up, (informal) to get into better physical condition; to improve in performance of a job etc. take shape, to take a specified form.

SHAPE (shayp) n. Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers, Europe.

shape·less (shayp-lis) adj. 1. having no definite shape. 2. not shapely. shape·less·ly adv. shape·less·ness n.

shape·ly (shayp-lee) adj. (-li·er, -li·est) having a pleasing shape, well formed or proportioned. shape·li·ness n.

shard (shahr)d n. 1. a potsherder. 2. the wing case of a beetle.

share1 (shair) n. 1. a part given to an individual out of a larger amount that is being divided or of a burden or achievement, the part one is entitled to have or do. 2. one of the equal parts forming a business company’s capital and entitling the holder to a proportion of the profits. share v. (shared, shar·ing) 1. to give portions of (a thing) to two or more people, share equally. 2. to give away part of, would share his last crust. 3. to have a share of, to use or possess or benefit from (a thing) jointly with others, share a room; we share the credit.

shar·er n.

share2 n. a plowshare.

share·crop·per (shair-krop-er) n. a tenant farmer who pays part of his crop as rent to the owner.

share·crop·ping n.

share·hold·er (shair-hold·er) n. a person who owns a share in a business company.

shark (shahrk) n. 1. a seafish with a triangular fin on its back, some kinds of which are large and dangerous to people. 2. a person who ruthlessly extorts money from another or others, a swindler.

shark·skin (shahrk-skin) n. a dull-surfaced smooth usually heavy fabric.

sharp (shahrp) adj. 1. having a fine edge or point that is capable of cutting or piercing, not blunt. 2. narrowing to a point or edge, a sharp ridge. 3. steep, angular, not gradual, a sharp slope; a sharp turn. 4. well-defined, distinct, in sharp focus. 5. intense, forceful, loud and shrill, (of temper) irritable; she has a sharp tongue, often speaks harshly and angrily. 6. (of tastes and smells) producing a smearing sensation. 7. quick to see or hear or notice things, intelligent. 8. quick to seize an advantage; be too sharp for someone, to outwit him. 9. unscrupulous. 10. vigorous, brisk, a sharp walk. 11. (of clothes) flashy. 12. (in mu-sharpen / sheep

sic) above the correct pitch; C sharp, F sharp, etc., a semitone higher than the corresponding note or key of natural pitch. sharp adj. 1. punctually, at six o'clock sharp. 2. suddenly, stopped sharp. 3. at a sharp angle, turn sharp right at the junction. 4. above the correct pitch in music, was singing sharp. sharp n. 1. (in music) a note that is a semitone higher than the corresponding one of natural pitch, the sign $ indicating this. 2. (informal) a swindler. sharply adv. sharp'ness n. □ sharp practice, business dealings that are dishonest or barely honest.

sharp'en (shahr-p'en) v. to make or become sharp. sharp' en'er n.

sharp' er (shahr-pler) n. a swindler, especially at cards.

sharp-eyed (sharp-id) adj. quick at noticing things.

sharp' le (shahr-pel) n. (slang) 1. a clever alert person. 2. a sharper. 3. a man who dresses in flashy clothes.

sharp' shoot'er (shahrp-shoo-ter) n. a skilled marksman. sharp' shoot ing n.

shat'ter (shat-er) v. 1. to break or become broken violently into small pieces. 2. to destroy utterly, shattered our hopes. 3. to disturb or upset the calmness of, we were shattered by the news. shat'ter ing ly adv. shat'ter proof (shat-er-proof) adj.

shave (shayv) v. (shaved, shaved, shav'ing) 1. to scrape (growing hair) off the skin with a razor, to remove hair from the chin etc. 2. to cut or scrape thin slices from the surface of (wood etc.). 3. to graze gently in passing. 4. to reduce or remove, shave production costs; shave ten percent off our estimates.

shave n. the shaving of hair from the face, needs a shave. shav'a ble adj. □ close shave, see close1. shaving brush, a brush for lathering the chin etc. before shaving. shaving cream, cream for applying to the chin etc. to assist shaving.

shav'er (shay-vër) n. 1. a person or thing that shaves. 2. an electric razor. 3. (informal) a youngster.

shave' tail (shayv-tayl) n. (slang) 1. a newly commissioned officer, a second lieutenant. 2. a newly broken-in mule.

shav'ings (shay-vings) n. pl. thin strips of wood etc. shaved off the surface of a piece.

shawl (shawl) n. a large piece of fabric worn around the shoulders or head, or wrapped around a baby, as a covering. □ shawl collar, a rolled collar extended downward to meet or cross at the waist.

Shea nee (shaw-nee) n. (pl. -nees, -nee) a member of an Algonquin-speaking tribe of Indians in Oklahoma.

she (shee) pronoun the female person or animal mentioned, a thing (such as a vehicle or ship or aircraft) personified as female. she n. a female animal; she-wolf, a female wolf.

sheaf (sheef) n. (pl. sheaves, pr. sheevz) 1. a bundle of stalks of corn etc. tied together after reaping. 2. a bundle of arrows or papers or other things laid lengthwise together.

shear (sheer) v. (sheared, shorn or sheared, shear ing) 1. to cut or trim with shears or another sharp device, to remove (a sheep's wool) in this way. 2. to strip bare, to deprive, shorn of his glory. 3. to break because of strain, with lateral shift of layers. shear n. the strain produced by pressure in the structure of a substance, its successive layers being shifted laterally over each other.

shears (sheerz) n. pl. a clipping or cutting instrument working like scissors but much larger and usually operated with both hands.

shear' wa ter (sheer-waw-tar) n. a seabird with long wings, skimming close to the water as it flies.

sheath (sheeth) n. (pl. sheaths, pr. sheethz) 1. a close-fitting covering, a cover for a blade or tool. 2. a woman's close-fitting dress. □ sheath knife, a daggerlike knife carried in a sheath.

sheathe (sheeth) v. (sheathed, shear ing) 1. to put into a sheath. 2. to encase in a covering.

sheath ing (shee-thing) n. 1. a covering or casing that sheathes something. 2. the act of putting something in a sheath.

sheave (shiv, sheev) n. a pulley with a grooved wheel for a rope to run on.

she' bang (shi-bang) n. a small building, usually one-storied, for storing things or sheltering livestock etc. or for use as a workshop.

shed1 (shed) n. a small building, usually one-storied, for storing things or sheltering livestock etc. or for use as a workshop.

shed2 v. (shed, shed' ding) 1. to lose (a thing) by a natural falling off, trees shed their leaves. 2. to take off, shed one's clothes. 3. to allow to pour forth, shed tears; shed one's blood, to be wounded or killed for one's country etc. 4. to send forth, shed light.

she'd (shed) = she had, she would.

sheen (sheen) n. gloss, luster. sheen'y adj.

sheep (sheep) n. (pl. sheep) a grass-eating animal with a thick fleecy coat, kept in flocks for its fleece and for its flesh as meat. □ like sheep, (of people) easily led or influenced. make sheep's eyes at, to gaze at amorously. separate the sheep from the goats, to separate the good from the wicked. sheep farmer, one who breeds sheep.

sheep-dip (sheep-dip) n. a liquid for cleansing sheep of vermin or preserving their wool.

sheep-dog (sheep-dawg) n. a dog of a breed trained to guard and herd sheep.

sheep-lish (sheep-lish) adj. bashful, embarrassed through shame. sheep'lish-ly adv. sheep'lish-ness n.

sheep-shank (sheep-shangk) n. a knot used to shorten a rope without cutting it.

sheeps-head (sheeps-hed) n. a large edible sea fish with a sheeplike head.

sheep-skin (sheep-skin) n. 1. a garment or rug made of sheep's skin with the fleece on. 2. leather made from sheep's skin. 3. (informal) a diploma.

sheer (sheer) adj. 1. pure, not mixed or qualified, sheer luck. 2. (of a rock or waterfall etc.) having a vertical or almost vertical surface, with no slope. 3. (of fabric) very thin, transparent. sheer adv. directly, straight up or down, the cliff rises sheer from the sea. sheer-ly adv. sheer-ness n.

sheer v. to swerve from a course.

sheet (sheet) n. 1. a large rectangular piece of cotton or similar fabric, used in pairs as inner bedclothes between which a person sleeps. 2. a large thin piece of any material (such as paper, glass, metal). 3. a piece of paper for writing or printing on, a complete and uncut piece (of the size in which it is made). 4. a wide expanse of water or snow or flame etc. sheet lightning, lightning that looks like a sheet of light across the sky. sheet music, music published on loose sheets of paper and not bound into a book.

sheet (sheet) n. a rope or chain attached to the lower corner of a sail, to secure or adjust it.

sheik, sheikh (sheek, shayk) n. the leader of an Arab tribe or village.

sheik-dom, sheikh-dom (sheek-dom, shayk-) n. the territory of a sheik.

shek-el (shek-él) n. 1. an ancient Hebrew etc. weight and silver coin. 2. shekels, (slang) money, riches. 3. the unit of money in Israel.

shel-drake (shel-drake) n. (pl. -drakes, -drake) a wild duck with bright plumage.

shel-duck (shel-duk) n. (pl. -ducks, -duck) a female sheldrake.

shelf (shelf) n. (pl. shelves, pr. shelvz) 1. a flat rectangular piece of wood or metal or glass etc. fastened horizontally to a wall or in a cupboard or bookcase for things to be placed on. 2. something resembling this, a ledge or steplike projection. on the shelf, of (a person) made to be inactive as no longer of use. shelf life, the time for which a stored thing remains usable.

shell (shell) n. 1. the hard outer covering of eggs, nuts, and of animals such as snails and crabs and tortoises. 2. the walls of an unfinished or burned-out building or ship. 3. any structure that forms a firm framework or covering. 4. the metal framework of the body of a vehicle. 5. a light boat for rowing races. 6. a metal case filled with explosive, to be fired from a large gun. shell v. 1. to remove the shell of, shell peas. 2. to fire explosive shells at. shelled adj.

sheller n. come out of one's shell, to become more sociable and less shy.

shell bean, a bean with seeds that are removed before cooking, and used as food. shell game, a swindling sleight-of-hand game using shells; (slang) any fraud or deceit. shell out, (slang) to pay out (money, or a required amount). shell shock, (informal) nervous breakdown resulting from exposure to battle conditions.

shell'll (shell) = she will.

shel-lac (shē-lak) n. thin flakes of a resinous substance used in making varnish.

shel-lac v. (shel-lacked, shel-lack-ing) 1. to varnish with shellac. 2. (slang) to defeat or thrash soundly. shel-lack'er n.

shel-back (shel-bak) n. an old sailor.

shel-fire (shel-fr) n. the firing or shooting of explosive shells.

shel-fish (shel-fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish'es) a water animal that has a shell, especially one of edible kinds such as oysters, crabs, and shrimps.

shel-ter (shel-tér) n. 1. something that serves as a shield or barrier against attack, danger, heat, wind, etc. 2. a structure built to keep rain etc. off people, a bus shelter. 3. refuge, a shielded condition, sought shelter from the rain. shelter v. 1. to provide with shelter. 2. to protect from blame or trouble or competition. 3. to find or take shelter.

shelve (shelv) v. (shelved, shelving) 1. to arrange on a shelf or shelves. 2. to fit (a wall or cupboard etc.) with shelves. 3. to put aside for later consideration, to reject (a plan etc.) temporarily or permanently. 4. to slope, the river bottom shelves here. shelver n.

shelv-ing (shel-ving) n. shelves, material for making these.

she-nan-gans (shē-nan-i-ganz) n. pl.
shepherd / shingle

(slang) 1. high-spirited behavior. 2. trickery.

shep·herd (shep-ərd) n. a man who tends a flock of sheep while they are at pasture.
shepherd v. to guide or direct (people).
shep·herd·ess (shep-ərd-əs) n. fem.

Sher·a·ton (shər-a·tən) n. a late 18th-century style of English furniture, named after Thomas Sheraton (1751-1806), its designer.

shar·bet (shar-bit) n. a frozen dessert usually flavored with fruit.

Sher·iff (shər·if) n. 1. the chief law-enforcing officer of a county or similar subdivision of a state. 2. a county official in England.

Sher·pa (shər-pə) n. (pl. -pas, -pa) a member of a Himalayan people living on the borders of Nepal and Tibet.

sherry (shər·i) n. (pl. -ries) a fortified wine (either sweet or dry), originally from southern Spain.

she's (sheez) = she is, she has.

Shet·land (shet-lənd) n. an island area of Scotland. Shetland adj. of the Shetlands or Shetland Islands, an island area of Scotland. □ Shetland pony, a pony of a very small rough-coated breed. Shetland sheepdog, a dog of a breed resembling a small collie. Shetland wool, fine loosely twisted wool from Shetland sheep.

Shet·land·er (shet-lənd·ər) n. a native or inhabitant of the Shetlands.

Shi·ah (shee-ə) n. a Muslim sect, especially in Iran, that regards Ali as the first successor of Muhammad and rejects the first three Sunnite caliphs.

shib·bo·leth (shib·ə·bo·lēth) n. 1. a test word or principle or behavior or opinion, the use of or inability to use which reveals one's party, nationality, orthodoxy, etc. 2. an old slogan or principle that is still considered essential by some members of a party, outworn shibboleths. ▷ From the story in the Bible, in which "shibboleth" was a kind of password.

shiel·ed (shield) n. 1. a piece of armor carried on the arm to protect the body against missiles or thrusts. 2. a trophy in the form of this. 3. an object or structure or layer of material that protects something. shiel·ed v. to protect or screen, to protect from discovery. shiel·ed·er n.

shift (shift) v. 1. to change or move from one position to another. 2. to change form or character. 3. to change (gears) in a motor vehicle. 4. to transfer (blame or responsibility etc.). 5. to manage to do something; shifted for himself; managed without help. shift n. 1. a change of place or form or character etc. 2. a set of workers who start work as another set finishes, the time for which they work, the night shift. 3. a gear shift. 4. a piece of evasion. 5. a scheme for achieving something. 6. a woman's straight-cut dress. □ shift one's ground, to change the basis of one's argument.

shift·less (shift·liss) adj. lazy and inefficient, lacking resourcefulness. shift·less·ly adv. shift·less·ness n.

shift·y (shift·ee) adj. (shift·i·er, shift·i·est) evasive, not straightforward in manner or character, untrustworthy. shift·i·ly adv. shift·i·ness n.

Shi·ite (shee·it) n. a member of the Shiah sect, one of the two branches of Islam.

shill (shill) n. (slang) a person employed to decoy or entice others. shill v. (slang) to decoy, to entice.

shil·le·lagh, shil·la·lah (shil·lay·lə, -lay·lee) n. an Irish cudgel of blackthorn or oak.

shil·ling (shil·ling) n. a former British coin.

shil·ly-shal·ly (shil·ə·shəl·ə) v. (shil·i·ly-shal·led, shil·i·ly-shal·ling) to be unable to make up one's mind firmly.

shil·ly·shal·li·er n.

shim (shim) n. a thin slip or wedge used in machinery etc. to make parts fit.

shim·mer·y (shim·ə·rē) adj. shimmer·ly adv.

shim·mer·ing (shim·ə·ring) v. to shine with a soft light that appears to quiver. shimmer n. a shimmering effect. shim·mer·ly·ing adv.

shim·my (shim·ə·my) n. (pl. -mies) 1. a ragtime dance characterized by rapid shaking of the body. 2. an abnormal vibration of the front wheels of a motor vehicle.

shim·my·ing (shim·ə·my·ing) 1. to dance the shimmy. 2. to vibrate abnormally.

shin (shin) n. 1. the front of the leg below the knee. 2. the lower part of the foreleg in cattle, especially as a cut of beef. shin v. (shinned, shin·ning) to climb by using arms and legs (not on a ladder).

shin·bone (shin·bohn) n. the inner and usually larger of the two bones from knee to ankle.

shin·dig (shin·dig) n. (informal) a festive gathering, especially a boisterous one.

shine (shin) v. (shone or shined, shin·ing) 1. to give out or reflect light, to be bright, to glow. 2. to cause to shine, shine your flashlight on it. 3. (of the sun etc.) to be visible and not obscured by clouds. 4. to excel in some way, does not shine in math; shining example, an excellent one. 5. to polish. shine n. 1. brightness. 2. a high polish. □ take a shine to, (informal) to take a liking to.

shin·er (shin·er) n. (slang) a black eye.

shin·gle (shin·gal) n. a rectangular slip of wood used in rows for covering roofs.

shingle v. (shin·gled, shin·gling) 1.
to roof with shingles. 2. to cut (a woman's hair) in a short tapering style at the back, with all ends exposed.

shin'gler

shingle² n. small rounded pebbles, a stretch of these on a shore. shin'gly adj.

shin-gles (shing-gëlz) n. a painful disease caused by the chicken pox virus, with blisters forming along the path of a nerve or nerves.

shin·ny (shin-ee) v. (shin·ned, shin·ny·ing) to shine up a tree etc.

Shin·to (shin-toh) n. a Japanese religion revering ancestors and nature spirits.

Shin·to·ism n. Shin·to·ist adj. & n.

Shin·to·is·tic (shin-toh-is-tik) adj.

shin·y (shin·ee) adj. (shin·l·er, shin·l·est) shining, rubbed until glossy. shin'l·ly adv. shin'l·ness n.

ship (ship) n. a large seagoing vessel. ship v. (shipped, ship·ping) 1. to put or take on board a ship for conveyance to a destination. 2. to transport. □ship biscuit, a hard coarse biscuit formerly used on board ship. ship of state, a nation, compared to a ship at sail. ship of the line, a heavily armed warship.

ship one's oars, to take them from the oarlocks and lay them in the boat. ship out, to put out to sea on a ship. ship's boy, a steward, a cabin boy. ship's papers, documents establishing the ownership, nationality, nature of the cargo, etc. of a ship.

ship suffix used to form abstract nouns from adjectives, as in hardship, or nouns meaning status, honor, office, skill, etc., as in friendship, statelessness.

ship·board (ship·bohrd) adj. happening on board a ship, a shipboard encounter.

shipboard n. □on shipboard, on board a ship.

ship·build·er (ship·bil·dër) n. a person engaged in shipbuilding.

ship·build·ing (ship·bil·ding) n. the business of constructing ships.

ship·fit·ter (ship·fit·ter) n. a person who forms plates etc. for use in shipbuilding.

ship·load (ship·load) n. as much as a ship will hold.

ship·mate (ship·mayt) n. a person traveling or working on the same ship as another.

ship·ment (ship·ment) n. 1. the putting of goods on a ship etc. 2. the amount shipped, a consignment.

ship·own·er (ship·own·er) n. a person who owns a ship or holds shares in a shipping company.

ship·per (ship·ër) n. a person or firm whose business is transporting goods by ship.

ship·ping (ship·ing) n. 1. ships, especially those of a country or port. 2. transporting goods by ship.

ship·shape (ship·shayp) adj. & adv. in good order, tidy.

ship·side (ship·sid) n. the area alongside a ship.

ship·ment

ship·port (ship·port) n. a place where ships are built.

ship·worm (ship·wurm) n. a worm-shaped mollusk boring into ship timbers.

ship·wreck (ship·reck) n. destruction of a ship by storm or striking rock etc.

ship·wrecked (ship·reckt) adj. having suffered a shipwreck.

ship·wright (ship·wright) n. a shipbuilder.

ship·yard (ship·yahrk) n. a shipbuilding establishment.

shire (shir) n. a county in Great Britain.

shirk (shurk) v. to avoid (a duty or work etc.) selfishly or unfairly. shirk'er n.

shirr (shur) v. 1. to gather (cloth) with parallel threads run through it. 2. to bake (eggs without their shells) in a small dish or casserole.

shir·ring (shur·ing) n. shirred material.

shirt (shirt) n. a loose-fitting garment of cotton or silk etc. for the upper part of the body. shirtless adj. □In one's shirt sleeves, with no jacket over one's shirt; ready to go to work. keep one's shirt on, (slang) to keep one's temper. lose one's shirt, (slang) to lose all one's money by betting it (on a horse etc.).

shirt·dress, a woman's dress with the bodice shaped like a shirt.

shirt·ing (shur·ting) n. material for making shirts.

shirt·wast (shur·wast) n. a woman's blouse resembling a man's shirt.

shish ke·bab (shish kë-bob) a dish of Middle Eastern origin, consisting of pieces of marinated meat and vegetables cooked on skewers.

shiv (shiv) n. (slang) a knife, a switchblade.

Shi·va·va (shee·vë) a Hindu god held supreme by his special votaries, and held, by others to be the principle of destruction, associated with Brahma and Vishnu in a triad.

shiv·a·ree (shiv·a·ree) n. a serenade played for a newly married couple, using pots and pans and horns etc. shivā·rēe v. (shiv·a·reed, shiv·a·ree·ing) to serenade in this way.

shiv·er¹ (shiv·ër) v. to tremble slightly especially with cold or fear. shiver n. a shivering movement; it gives me the shivers, makes me shiver with fear or horror.

shiv·er·y adj. shiv·er·ing·ly adv. shiv·er·er n.

shiver² v. to shatter.

shiv·ers (shiv·ërz) n. pl. shattered fragments.

shoal n. 1. a shallow place, an underwater sandbank. 2. shoals, hidden dangers or difficulties. shoal'y adj.

shoat (shoht) n. a young pig.

shock1 (shok) n. a bushy untidy mass of hair.

shock2 n. 1. the effect of a violent impact or shake. 2. a violent shake of the earth's crust in an earthquake. 3. a sudden violent effect upon a person's mind or emotions (as by news of a disaster), his death was a great shock to her. 4. an acute state of physical collapse caused by physical injury or pain or by mental shock, went into shock. 5. an electric shock (see electric). shock v. 1. to affect with great indignation or horror or disgust, to seem highly improper or scandalous or outrageous to (a person). 2. to give an electric shock to. 3. to cause an acute state of weakness in (a person or animal).

shock absorber, a device for absorbing vibration in a vehicle. shock tactics, sudden violent action taken to achieve one's purpose. shock therapy, treatment of psychiatric patients by means of an electric shock (electroshock) or a drug causing a similar effect. shock treatment, shock therapy; (slang) harsh treatment designed to change a person's attitude (as toward work etc.). shock troops, troops specially trained for violent assaults. shock wave, a sharp wave of increased atmospheric pressure, caused by an explosion or by a body moving faster than sound.

shock3 n. a group of sheaves of corn etc. bundled together and standing upright in a field.

shock4 n. (informal) a shock absorber.

shock·er (shok·er) n. (informal) a shocking person or thing, a very bad specimen of something.

shock·ing (shok·ing) adj. causing great astonishment or indignation or disgust, scandalous. shock·ing·ly adv.

shod (shod) see shoe.

shod·dy (shod·ee) n. (pl. -dies) 1. fiber made from old cloth shredded. 2. cloth made partly from this. shoddy adj. (-di·er, -di·est) of poor quality or workmanship. shod·di·ly adv. shod·di·ness n.

shoe (shoo) n. 1. an outer covering for a person's foot, with a fairly stiff sole. 2. a horseshoe. 3. an object like a shoe in appearance or use. 4. the part of a brake that presses against the wheel or its drum in a vehicle. shoe v. (shod or shoed, shoe·ing) to fit with a shoe or shoes.

be in a person's shoes, to be in his situation or plight.

shoe·bill (shoo·bil) n. a large African bird resembling a stork, with a bill shaped somewhat like a shoe.

shoe·horn (shoo·horn) n. a curved piece of metal or other stiff material for easing one's heel into the back of a shoe.

shoe·lace (shoo·laces) n. a cord for fastening together the edges of a shoe's uppers.

shoe·mak·er (shoo·mak·er) n. a person whose trade is making or repairing boots and shoes.

shoe·shine (shoo·shin) n. the polishing of shoes.

shoe·string (shoo·string) n. a shoelace.

on a shoestring, with only a small amount of capital and resources, as in running a business. shoestring catch, (in baseball) a catch of a ball made by an outfielder at his shoestrings. shoestring potato, a long thin fried potato. shoestring tackle, (in football) a tackle made at or near the ball-carrier's ankles.

shoe·tree (shoo·tree) n. a shaped block for keeping a shoe in shape.

sho·gun (shuh·gun) n. a Japanese hereditary commander in chief and virtual ruler before 1868.

shone (shohn) see shine.

shoo (shoo) interj. a sound uttered to frighten animals away. shoo v. (shooed, sho·ing) to drive away by this.

shoo·in (shoo·in) n. (informal) something easy or certain to succeed.

shook (shuuk) see shake. shook up, (slang) emotionally unsettled.

shoot (shoot) v. (shot, shoot·ing) 1. to fire (a gun or other weapon, or a missile), to use a gun etc., can't shoot straight. 2. to kill or wound with a missile from a gun etc. 3. to hunt with a gun for sport, to go over (an area) in shooting game. 4. to send out swiftly or violently, the fountain shot water high into the air. 5. to move swiftly, the car shot past me. 6. (of a plant) to put forth buds or shoots. 7. to slide (the bolt of a door) into or out of its fastening. 8. to have one's boat move swiftly over (rapids etc.). 9. to take a shot at the goal in basketball, hockey, etc. 10. to photograph or film. 11. shoot!, (slang) say what you have to say. shoot n. 1. a young branch or new growth of a plant. 2. an expedition for shooting game. shoot·er n. 1. have shot one's bolt, to have made one's last possible effort. shoot at or for, to try for; to strive toward. shoot dice, to play at dice. shoot down, to cause (a flying aircraft) to fall to the ground by shooting; (informal) to argue effectively against (a proposal etc.). shooting gallery, a place for shooting at targets with shop / short-circuit

shop (shop) n. 1. a building or room where goods or services are on sale to the public, a store. 2. a workshop. 3. one’s own work or profession as a subject of conversation, is always talking shop. shop v. (shopped, shop•ping) to go to a shop or shops to buy things. □ shop around, to look for the best bargain. shop steward, a labor union official elected by fellow workers as their spokesman.

shop•keep•er (shop-kee-pér) n. a person who owns or manages a shop.

shop•lift•er (shop-lift•ér) n. a person who steals goods that are on display in a store, after entering as a customer. shop’lift•ing n.

shoppe (shop) n. (usually in a name) a small shop.

shop•per (shop-ér) n. a person who shops.

shop•ping (shop-ing) n. 1. buying goods. 2. the goods bought. □ shopping bag, a bag for holding goods bought. shopping center, a group of stores built as a unit and sharing parking facilities.

shop•talk (shop-tawk) n. discussion about one’s work or profession.

shop•worn (shop-worn) adj. (of goods) soiled or faded from being on display.

shore (shör) n. 1. the land along the edge of the sea or of a large body of water. shore•less adj. □ shore leave, in the Navy etc.) permission to go ashore.

shore patrol, U.S. Navy police.

shore v. (shored, shore•ing) to prop or support with a length of timber set at a slant. shore n. a support of this kind.

shore•bird (shör•bird) n. a bird normally found at the seashore.

shore•line (shör•line) n. the line formed at the meeting place of shore and water.

shore•ward (shör•ward) adj. & adv. toward the shore. shore•wards (shör•wärds) adv.

shore•ing (shör•ing) n. a number of timbers etc. supporting something.

shorn (shörn) see shear.

short (short) adj. 1. measuring little from end to end in space or time. 2. seeming to be shorter than it really is, for one short hour. 3. not lasting, not going far into the past or future, a short memory. 4. insufficient, having an insufficient supply, water is short; we are short of water; short-staffed. 5. (informal) having little of a certain quality, he’s short on tact. 6. concise, brief. 7. curt. 8. (of vowel sounds) relatively brief or light (see long, definition 7). 9. (of an alcoholic drink) small, a short beer. 10. (of temper) easily lost. 11. (of pastry) rich and flaky through containing much shortening. 12. (of a sale of stocks etc.) made without the seller’s actually owning what he sells.

short adv. suddenly, abruptly, stopped short.

short n. (informal) 1. a short drink. 2. a short circuit. 3. shorts, trousers that do not reach to the knee; athletic shorts, those worn in sports; men’s underpants. short v. (informal) to short-circuit.

short’ness adj. □ cut short, to bring abruptly to a halt. for short, as an abbreviation, Raymond is called Ray for short. get or have by the short hairs, (slang) to have at one’s mercy. in short, in brief, in summary. in short supply, scarce. make short work of, to deal with (a thing) rapidly. sell short, to disparage; to sell (stocks etc.) when one does not own them. short circuit, a connection (usually a fault) in an electrical circuit in which current, finding a path of lesser resistance, flows by a shorter route than the normal one. short division, the process of dividing one number by another without writing down one’s calculations. short for, an abbreviation of, “Ray” is short for “Raymond.” short odds, nearly even odds in betting. short of, without going the length of, will do anything for her short of inviting her to stay. short rations, very small rations. short shift, curtailment. short story, a story with a fully developed theme but shorter than a novel. short ton, see ton.

short’age (shör-tij) n. a lack of something that is needed, insufficiency.

short’bread (short-bred) n. a rich sweet cookie.

short’cake (short-kayk) n. a cake of short pastry usually served with strawberries or other fruit.

short’change (short-chayj) v. (short-changed, short-chang•ing) 1. to rob by giving insufficient change. 2. to cheat (a person).

short•circuit (short-sur•kit) v. 1. to cause a short circuit in. 2. to bypass.
shortcoming / shout short·com·ing (short-kum-ing) n. failure to reach a required standard, a fault.

short·cut (short-kut) n. a route or method that is quicker than the usual one.

short·en (short-tén) v. to make or become shorter. short·en·er n.

short·en·ing (short-tén-ing) n. fat used to make pastry etc. rich and crumbly.

short·fall (short-fawl) n. a deficit.

short·hand (short-hand) n. a method of writing very rapidly, using quickly made symbols.

short·hand·ed (short-hand-did) adj. having an insufficient number of workmen or helpers.

short·horn (short-horn) n. one of a breed of cattle with short horns.

short·lived (short-lvíd, -lvíd) adj. having a short life, not lasting long.

short·ly (short-lee) adv. 1. in a short time, not long, soon, coming shortly; shortly afterward. 2. in a few words. 3. curtly.

short·or·der (short-or-dér) cook a cook who prepares fast foods.

short·range (short-raynj) adj. having a short range, relating to a short period of future time, a short-range plan.

short·sight·ed (short-sít-éd) adj. 1. able to see clearly only what is close. 2. lacking foresight. short·sight·ed·ly adv.

short·sight·ed·ness n.

short·sleeved (short-sleevd) adj. with sleeves not reaching below the elbow.

short·stop (short-stop) n. (in baseball) 1. the position between second and third base. 2. the player at this position.

short·tem·pered (short·tem·pěrd) adj. easily becoming angry.

short·term (short·term) adj. of or for a short period.

short·wave (short·wav) n. a radio wave of about sixty meters wavelength.

short·wind·ed (short·win·did) adj. 1. having easily exhausted breathing power, short of breath. 2. unable or unwilling to speak or perform at length.

Sho·sho·ne, Sho·sho·ni (shó-shoh·nee) n. (pl. -nes, -ne, -nls, -nl) 1. a member of a group of Indian tribes of the southwestern U.S., speaking a common language. 2. this language.

shot (shot) see shoot. shot n. (pl. shots, shot) 1. the firing of a gun etc., the sound of this. 2. a person with regard to his skill in shooting, he's a good shot. 3. (pl. shot) a single missile for a cannon or gun, a nonexplosive projectile, as a BB. 4. lead pellets for firing from small guns. 5. a heavy ball thrown as a sport. 6. (informal) the launching of a rocket or spacecraft. 7. a stroke in tennis or billiards etc. 8. an attempt to hit something or reach a target. 9. an attempt to do something, have a shot at this word. 10. an injection. 11. a small measure (often one ounce) of straight liquor. 12. a photograph, the scene photographed, a single continuous photographed scene in a film. shot adj. (slang) exhausted. □ call the shots, (slang) to control or direct; to make the decisions. like a shot, without hesitation, willingly. shot glass, a small glass for measuring or serving a shot of liquor. shot in the arm, a stimulus or encouragement. shot in the dark, a mere guess. shot put, the sport of putting the shot.

short·gun (short-gun) n. a gun for firing small shot at close range. □ shotgun wedding, one that is enforced, especially because the bride is pregnant.

should (shuud) auxiliary verb, used to express 1. duty or obligation, you should have told me. 2. an expected future event, they should be here by ten. 3. a possible event, if you should happen to see him. 4. with I and we to form a polite statement or a conditional or indefinite clause, I should like to come; if their forecast had been right, they would have won and we should (not would) have lost.

shoul·der (shohl-dér) n. 1. the part of the body at which the arm or foreleg or wing is attached, the part of the human body between this and the neck. 2. the part of a garment covering the shoulder. 3. the upper foreleg and adjacent parts of an animal as a cut of meat. 4. a projection compared to the human shoulder, the shoulder of a bottle. shoulder v. 1. to push with one's shoulder. 2. to take (a burden) upon one's shoulders. 3. to take (blame or responsibility) upon oneself. □ cry on someone's shoulder, to tell another person one's problems in order to get sympathy. put one's shoulder to the wheel, to make an effort. shoulder arms, to hold a rifle with the barrel against one's shoulder. shoulder bag, a handbag hung on a strap over the shoulder. shoulder belt, a bandolier or other band passing over one shoulder and under the opposite arm. shoulder blade, either of the two large flat bones at the top of the back. shoulder patch, an identification patch worn on or near the shoulder of a uniform. shoulder strap, a strap that passes over the shoulder, especially to support something. shoulder to shoul·der, side by side and close together.

shoul·der-high (shohl·der-hí) adj. up to or as high as the shoulders.

should·n't (shuud·ént) = should not.

shout (showt) n. a loud cry or utterance of words calling attention or expressing joy or excitement or disapproval. shout
v. to utter a shout, to utter or call loudly.
shout'er n. □ shout down, to silence (a person) by shouting.
shove (shuv) n. a rough push. shove v.
(shoved, shov'in) 1. to push roughly.
2. (informal) to put, shove it in the drawer. □ shove off, to push a boat so that it moves from the shore; (informal) to go away.
shov'el (shuv-é'l) n. 1. a tool for scooping up earth or snow etc. 2. a large mechanically operated device used for the same purpose. shovel v. (showed, shov' el-ing) 1. to shift or clear with or as if with a shovel. 2. to scoop or thrust roughly, shoveling food into his mouth. shov'el-ful n. (pl. -fuls). shov'el-er (shuv-él-ér) n. a duck with a broad shovel-like beak.
show (shoh) v. (showed, shown or showed, show-ing) 1. to allow or cause to be seen, to offer for inspection or viewing. 2. to demonstrate, to point out, to prove, to cause (a person) to understand, show us how it works; showed them the door, dismissed them. 3. to conduct, show them in or out. 4. to present an image of, this picture shows the hotel.
5. to exhibit in a show. 6. to treat in a certain way, showed us much kindness.
7. to be able to be seen, the lining is showing. 8. (informal) to prove one's ability or worth to, we'll show them! show n. 1. showing, being shown. 2. a display, a public exhibition for competition or entertainment or advertisement etc., a pageant, a dog show; a puppet show; the boat show. 3. any public performance or broadcast. 4. (informal) any business or undertaking, he runs the whole show.
5. an outward appearance, an insincere display, under a show of friendship. 6.
a pompous display. □ give the show away, (informal) to reveal things that were intended to be secret. nothing to show for it, no visible result of one's efforts. run the show, (informal) to control or manage a business etc. show bill, an advertising poster. show biz (slang) = show business, the entertainment or theatrical profession. show girl, a female dancer in the chorus line of a nightclub etc. show jumping, the sport of riding horses to jump over obstacles, in competition. show off, to display well or proudly or ostentatiously; to try to impress people. show of hands, raising of hands to vote for or against something.
show oneself, to be seen in public.
show one's face, to let oneself be seen.
show up, to be clearly visible; to reveal (a fault or inferiority etc.); (informal) to appear, to be present. show window, a store window for displaying goods.
steal the show, to outshine other performers etc. unexpectedly; to receive credit or applause due to others, she does all the hard work but she steals the show.
stop the show, to perform so well as to cause a temporary halt in performance because of prolonged applause.
show'boat (shoh-boht) n. a river steamboat in which theatrical performances are given. showboat v. (informal) to perform in a manner designed to attract attention.
show'case (shoh-kays) n. a glass-covered case in which things are exhibited.
show'down (shoh-down) n. a final test, disclosure of intentions or conditions etc.
show'er (shoh-ér) n. 1. a brief fall of rain or snow etc., or of bullets, dust, or stones etc. 2. a sudden influx of letters or gifts eetc. 3. a device or stall in which water is sprayed on a person's body to wash him, a wash in this. 4. a party for giving presents to a person, especially to a bride-to-be. shower v. 1. to pour down or come in a shower. 2. to send or give (many letters or gifts etc.) to. 3. to wash oneself in sprayed water. □ shower bath, a bath in which water is sprayed from above; the apparatus or premises for this.
show'er-proof (shoh-er-proof) adj. (of fabric) able to keep out slight rain.
show'erproof v. to make showerproof. show'er·y (shoh-ree) adj. (of weather) with many showers.
show·ing (shoh-ing) n. the evidence or quality that a person shows, on today's showing, he will fail.
show·man (shoh-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr.
-men) 1. an organizer of theatrical events, circuses, or similar entertainment. 2. a person who is good at showmanship.
show·man·ship (shoh-mán-ship) n. skill in presenting an entertainment or goods or one's abilities to the best advantage. shown (shohn) see show.
show·off (shoh-awf) n. a person who tries to impress others.
show·piece (shoh-pees) n. an excellent specimen used for exhibition.
show·place (shoh-plays) n. a place that tourists etc. go to see.
show·room (shoh-room) n. a room in which goods are displayed for inspection and purchase.
show·stop·per (shoh-stop-ér) n. a performer or performance or part of a performance receiving prolonged applause.
show·y (shoh-ee) adj. (show·i·er, show·i·est) 1. making a good display.
brilliant, gaudy. show’l-ly adv. show’l-ness n. shpt. abbr. shipment.
shrank (shrankk) see shrink.
shrap•nel (shrap-nēl) n. 1. an artillery shell containing bullets or pieces of metal that it scatters as it explodes. 2. the pieces it scatters.
shred (shred) n. 1. a small piece torn or cut from something. 2. a small amount, not a shred of evidence. shred v. (shred•ded, shred•ding) to tear or cut into shreds. shred•der n.
shrew (shroo) n. 1. a small mouselike animal. 2. a sharp-tempered scolding woman.
shrewd (shrood) adj. having or showing sound judgment and common sense, clever. shrewd•ly adv. shrewd•ness n.
shrew•ish (shroo-ish) adj. sharp-tempered and scolding. shrew•ish•ness n. shriek (shrīk) v. to make a shriek, to utter with a shriek.
shrimp (shrimp) n. (pl. shrimps, shrimp) 1. a small shellfish often used as food, pink when boiled. 2. (slang) a very small person.
shrimp•ing (shrimp-ing) n. fishing for shrimp.
shrine (shrin) n. an altar or chapel or other place that is hallowed because of its special associations.
shrink (shrinkk) v. (shrank or shrunk, shrunk or shrink•en, shrink•ing) 1. to make or become smaller, especially by the action of moisture or heat or cold, it shrunk; it has shrunk. 2. to draw back so as to avoid something, to withdraw, to be unwilling to do something (as because of shame or dislike). shrink n. (slang) a psychiatrist or other psychotherapist (>short for head shrinker). shrink•a•ble adj. □shrinking violet, a shy modest person.
shrink•age (shring-kij) n. the process of shrinking, the amount by which something has shrunk.
shrink•wrap (shringk-rap) v. to wrap (an article) in material that shrinks tightly around it.
shrive (shrīv) v. (shrove or shrived, shriv•en or shrived, shriv•ing) (old use) 1. to hear the confession of, to assign penance to and absolve. 2. to confess one’s sins to a priest for this purpose. shriv•el (shriv-ĕl) v. (shriv•eled, shriv•el•ing) 1. to shrink and wrinkle from great heat or cold or lack of moisture. 2. to cause to shrivel.
shroud (shrood) n. 1. a sheet in which a dead body is wrapped for burial, a garment for the dead. 2. something that conceals, wrapped in a shroud of secrecy. 3. one of a set of ropes supporting the mast of a ship. shroud v. 1. to wrap in a shroud. 2. to protect or conceal in wrappings. 3. to conceal, his past life is shrouded in mystery.
Shrove (shrohv) Tuesday the day before Ash Wednesday. shrub (shrub) n. a woody plant smaller than a tree and usually divided into separate stems from near the ground.
shrub•by (shrub•by) adv.
shrub•ber•y (shrub•ber•i) n. (pl. -ber•ies) 1. an area planted with shrubs. 2. shrubs collectively.
shrug (shrug) v. (shrugged, shrug•ing) to raise (the shoulders) as a gesture of indifference or doubt or helplessness. shrug n. this movement. □shrug off, to dismiss (a thing) as unimportant.
shrunk (shrunk), shrunk•en (shrunk•en) see shrink.
sht. abbr. sheet.
shtg. abbr. shortage.
shtick (shтик) n. (slang) a short comic routine or other short performance.
shuck (shuk) n. 1. a husk, a pod. 2. the shell of an oyster or clam. shuck v. to remove the shucks of, to shell.
shucks (shiks) interj. a mild expression of distaste or disappointment.
shud•der (shud•der) v. 1. to shiver violently with horror or fear or cold. 2. to make a strong shaking movement. shudder n. a shuddering movement. shud•der•ing•ly adv.
shuf•fle (shuf•el) v. (shuf•led, shuf•fling) 1. to walk without lifting the feet clear of the ground, to move (one’s feet) in this way. 2. to slide (cards) over one another so as to change their order. 3. to rearrange, to jumble. 4. to keep shifting one’s position. 5. to get rid of (a burden etc.), shuffled off the responsibility on to others; shuffled out of it. shuffle n. 1. a shuffling movement or walk. 2. shuffling of cards etc. 3. a rearrangement, the latest Cabinet shuffle. shuf•fle•r n.
shuf•fle•board (shuf•el•bohrd) n. a game in which disks are driven over a marked surface.
shun (shun) v. (shunned, shun•ning) to avoid, to keep away from. shun•ner n.
shunt (shunt) v. 1. to divert into an alternative course. 2. to move (a train) on to a side track. shunt n. shunting, being shunted. shunter n.

shush (shush) (informal) = hush.

shut (shut) v. (shut, shut-ting) 1. to move (a door or lid or window etc.) into position so that it blocks an opening. 2. to move or be moved into such a position, the lid shuts automatically. 3. to prevent access to (a place or receptacle etc.) by shutting a door etc.; shut one's eyes or ears or mind to a thing, to refuse to take notice of it or hear it. 4. to bring or fold the parts of (a thing) together, shut the book. 5. to keep in or out by shutting a door etc., shut out the noise. 6. to trap (a finger or dress etc.) by shutting something on it. □ shut a person's mouth, (slang) to prevent him from revealing something. shut down, to cease working or business, either for the day or permanently; to cause to do this. shut off, to stop the flow of (water or gas etc.) by shutting a valve. shut out, to exclude (a landscape etc.) from view; to keep someone or something out; to prevent (an opponent) from scoring. shut up, to shut securely; to shut all the doors and windows of (a house); to put away in a box etc.; (informal) to stop talking or making a noise, to cause to do this, to silence. shut your mouth, (slang) be silent.

shut-down (shut-down) n. the process or an instance of ceasing working or business, either for the day or permanently.

shut-eye (shut-eye) n. (slang) sleep.

shut-in (shut-in) n. a person forced to remain indoors (as in a hospital) by disease etc.

shut-out (shut-out) n. (in baseball etc.) a game in which one side fails to score.

shut-ter (shut-er) n. 1. a panel or screen that can be closed over a window. 2. a device that opens and closes the aperture of a camera lens to allow light to fall on the film.

shut-ter-bug (shut-er-bug) n. (informal) a devoted amateur photographer.

shut-tered (shut-erd) adj. 1. fitted with shutters. 2. with the shutters closed.

shut-tie (shut-tie) n. 1. a holder carrying the weft thread to and fro across the loom in weaving. 2. a holder carrying the lower thread in a sewing machine. 3. a bus, plane, train, etc. used in a shuttle service. shuttle v. (shut-tled, shut-tling) to move or travel or send back and forth. □ shuttle service, a transport service in which a vehicle etc. goes to and fro over a relatively short distance.

shut-ter-ock (shut-er-ock) n. 1. a small rounded piece of cork with a ring of feathers, or of other material made in this shape, struck back and forth in badminton. 2. something that is passed repeatedly back and forth.

shy (shy) adj. (shy-er, shy-est) 1. (of a person) timid and lacking self-confidence in the presence of others, avoiding company, reserved. 2. (of behavior) showing shyness, a shy smile. 3. (of an animal) timid and avoiding observation.

shy v. (shied, shy-ing) to jump or move suddenly in alarm, the horse shied at the noise. shy'ly adv. shy'ness n.

shy-lock (shy-lock) n. a hard-hearted moneylender. ▷ From Shylock, a moneylender in Shakespeare's The Merchant of Venice (1600).

shy-ster (shy-stér) n. (informal) a person who is unscrupulous in professional matters, especially a tricky lawyer.

Sl symbol silicon.

Si abbr. Système International. ▷ French, = International System of Units.

Si-a-mese (si-a-més) adj. of Siam (now called Thailand) or its people or language. Siamese n. (pl. -mese) 1. a native of Siam. 2. the language of Siam. 3. a Siamese cat. □ Siamese cat, a cat of a breed that has short pale fur with darker face, ears, tail, and feet. Siamese twins, twins whose bodies are joined in some way at birth. ▷ Named for two Siamese males, born joined at the waist, who were exhibited in America by P. T. Barnum (1811–1874).

Si-be-ri-an (si-be-ri-an) adj. of Siberia, a northern region of the U.S.S.R.

sib-illant (sib-il-lant) adj. having a hissing sound. sibilant n. one of the speech sounds that sound like hissing, such as s, sh, sib-il-lant-ly adv. sib-il-lance n. sib-il-late (sib-il-lat) v. (sib-il-lat-ed, sib-il-lat-ing).

sib-ling (sib-ling) n. a child in relation to another or others of the same parent, a brother or sister.

sib-yll (sib-il) n. 1. one of the women who in ancient times acted in various places as a reputed mouthpiece of a god, uttering oracles and prophecies. 2. a fortune-teller. 3. a witch. sib-yll-line (sib-il-lin) adj.

sic (sik) adv. used or spelled in that way. (Latin, = thus). ▷ This word is placed in brackets after a word that seems odd or is wrongly spelled, to show that one is quoting it exactly as it was given. Write it thus [sic].

sic v. (sicked, sick-ing) to urge or command (a dog) to attack.

Si-cl-an (si-sil-yán) adj. of Sicily, an Italian island in the Mediterranean. Sicilian
n. a native or inhabitant of Sicily.
sick (sik) adj. 1. physically or mentally unwell. 2. likely to vomit, feel sick. 3. distressed or disgusted, sick at heart; their ignorance makes me sick. 4. bored with something through having already had or done too much of it, I'm sick of cabbage. 5. finding amusement in misfortune or in morbid subjects, sick jokes.
sick′ish adj. be sick, to vomit. sick bay, a room or rooms for sick people in a ship. sick headache, a migraine.
sick leave, leave of absence because of illness. sick list, a list of people who is sick, especially in a military unit; on the sick list, ill. sick pay, pay given to an employee who is absent through illness.
sick·bed (sik-bed) n. the bed of a sick person. sick·en (sik′ën) v. 1. to begin to be ill. 2. to make or become distressed or disgusted, the sight of blood sickened him.
sick·en·ing (sik-ën′ing) adj. annoying, disgusting. sick′en·ly adj. adv.
sick·le (sik′lē) n. 1. a tool with a curved blade and a short handle, used for cutting grain etc. 2. something shaped like this, such as the crescent moon. sick·cell anemia, a severe hereditary anemia characterized by fragile sickle-shaped red blood cells.
sick·ly (sik′li) adj. (li·er, li·est) 1. often ill, a sickly child. 2. unhealthy looking. 3. causing ill health, a sickly climate. 4. causing sickness or distaste, sickly smell; sickly sentimentality. 5. weak, sickly smile.
sick·ness (sik′nis) n. 1. illness. 2. a disease. 3. vomiting.
sick·out (sik′owt) n. a stoppage of work by workers who cannot legally strike but stay away from their jobs claiming illness.
sick·room (sik′room) n. a room occupied by a sick person, or kept ready for the sick.
side (sid) n. 1. one of the more or less flat inner or outer surfaces of an object, especially as distinct from the top and bottom, front and back, or ends. 2. either surface of a flat object (such as a piece of paper). 3. any of the bounding lines of a plane figure such as a triangle or square. 4. either of the two halves into which an object or body can be divided by a line down its center. 5. the part near the edge and away from the center of something; take or put to one side, put aside. 6. a slope of a hill or ridge. 7. the region next to a person or thing, stood at my side. 8. one aspect or view of something, study all sides of the problem; she is on the fat side, rather fat. 9. one of two opposing groups or teams etc. 10. the line of descent through father or mother, his mother's side of the family. side adj. at or on the side, side door.
side v. (sid·ed, sid·ing) to take the side of a person in a dispute, sided with his son. ∎on the side, (informal) as a sideline; as a surreptitious or illicit activity; (in ordering food in a restaurant) as a side dish, salad on the side. side arm, a weapon, as a pistol or bayonet etc., carried at the side or waist. side by side, standing close together. side dish, extra food subsidiary to the main dish.
side effect, a secondary (usually less desirable) effect. side issue, an issue that is not the main one. side road, a road leading off a main road; a minor road. side street, a street lying aside from main ones. side table, a table at the side of a room or apart from the main table. side view, a view of something sideways. side whiskers, whiskers on the cheek. side wind, a wind from one side (not front or back).
side·arm (sid·ahrn) adj. & adv. with a throwing motion that sweeps the arm forward at approximately shoulder height and parallel to the ground.
side·board (sid·bohrd) n. a table or flat-toped piece of dining room furniture with drawers and cupboards for china etc.
side·burns (sid·burnz) n. pl. short side whiskers.
side·car (sid·kahr) n. 1. a small vehicle attached to the side of a motorcycle, to seat a passenger. 2. a cocktail of orange liqueur, lemon juice, and brandy.
side·kick (sid·kik) n. (informal) a close associate.
side·light (sid·līt) n. 1. light from one side (not front or back). 2. minor or casual light shed on a subject etc. 3. a light at either side of a ship under way.
side·line (sid·lin) n. 1. something done in addition to one's main work or activity. 2. sidelines, lines bounding a football field etc. at its sides, the space just outside these, a place for spectators as distinct from participants. sideline v. (side·lined, side·lin·ing) to remove (an athlete) from a game or from regular participation in a sport. ∎on the side·lines, not participating, acting as a spectator.
side·long (sid·lawng) adj. & adv. to one side, sideways, a sidelong glance.
side·man (sid·man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an instrumentalist in an orchestra.
or band, especially one who supports a soloist.

side-piece (sred-pees) n. a piece in or on or forming the side of something.

side-re-al (sred-deer-i-äl) adj. of or measured by the stars.

side-sad-dle (sred-sad-dël) n. a saddle for a woman rider to sit on with both feet on the same side of the horse. sidesad-dle adv. sitting in this way.

side-show (sred-shoh) n. 1. a minor show attached to a principal one, as at a circus. 2. a minor incident or affair.

side-slip (sred-slip) v. (side-slipped, side-slip-ping) to skid, to move sideways instead of forward.

side-split-ting (sred-split-ing) adj. causing violent laughter.

side-step (sred-step) v. (side-stepped, side-step-ping) 1. to avoid by stepping sideways. 2. to evade (a question or responsibility etc.).

side-stroke (sred-strokh) n. 1. a stroke toward or from a side. 2. a swimming stroke in which the swimmer lies on his side.

side-swipe (sred-swip) n. a glancing blow along the side. sideswipe v. (side-swiped, side-swip-ping) to hit (a person or thing) in this way.

side-track (sred-trak) v. 1. to turn into a sidings, to shunt. 2. to divert (a person) from the main issue. 3. to postpone or evade action or decision upon (a matter).

side-walk (sred-wawk) n. a path, usually paved, at the side of a street, for use by pedestrians.

side-wall (sred-wawl) n. the side of a tire between its tread and the rim of the wheel.

side-ways (sred-ways) adj. & adv. 1. to or from one side (not forward or back). 2. with one side facing forward, sat sideways in the bus.

side-wheel-er (sred-hwee-lër) n. a steamer with a paddle wheel on each side.

side-wind-er (sred-win-dër) n. 1. a side-ways blow. 2. a small rattlesnake that moves forward diagonally.

sid-ling (srid-ding) n. 1. a short stretch of track by the side of a railroad track and opening into it at one end or both for shunting purposes. 2. material for covering the outside walls of a frame house, aluminum siding.

si-dle (sred-dël) v. (si-dled, si-dling) to advance in a timid or furtive or cringing manner, to edge.

siege (seej) n. the surrounding and blockading of a town or fortress by armed forces, in order to capture it. lay siege to, to begin besieging. raise the siege, see raise. siege gun, a gun used in sieges, too heavy for field use.

si-en-na (si-en-a) n. a kind of clay used as coloring matter. burnt sienna, redish brown. raw sienna, brownish yellow.

si-er-ra (si-er-a) n. a long chain of mountains with sharp slopes and an irregular outline, in Spain or the Americas.

si-er-ra Le-o-ne (si-er-a li-o-në) a country in West Africa. Si-er'ra Le-o'ne-an adj. & n.

si-es-ta (si-es-tä) n. an afternoon nap or rest, especially in hot countries.

sieve (siv) n. a utensil consisting of a frame with wire mesh, used for sorting solid or coarse matter (which is retained in it) from liquid or fine matter (which passes through), or for reducing a soft mixture squeezed through it to a uniform pulp. sieve v. (sieved, siev-ing) to put through a sieve.

sift (sift) v. 1. to sieve. 2. to sprinkle lightly from a perforated container. 3. to examine carefully and select or analyze. 4. (of snow or light) to fall as if from a sieve. sift'er n.

sig. abbr. 1. signal. 2. signature.

sigh (si) n. a long deep breath given out audibly, expressing sadness, tiredness, relief etc. sigh v. 1. to give a sigh, to express with a sigh. 2. (of wind etc.) to make a similar sound. 3. to yearn. sigh'er n.

sight (sigt) n. 1. the faculty of seeing, ability to see. 2. seeing or being seen, lost sight of it. 3. the range over which a person can see or an object can be seen, within sight of the castle. 4. a thing seen or visible or worth seeing, a display, our tulips are a wonderful sight this year; see the sights of New York, its noteworthy places. 5. (informal) something regarded as unsightly or looking ridiculous, she looks a sight in those clothes. 6. (informal) a great quantity, it cost a sight of money; a darned sight better. 7. a device looked through to help aim or observe with a gun or telescope etc., aim or observation using this; set one's sights on, strive for, aim at. sight v. 1. to get a sight of, to observe the presence of, we sighted land. 2. to aim or observe by using the sight in a gun or telescope etc. at or on first sight, on first glimpse or impression. catch sight of, to glimpse, catch sight of the church steeple in the distance. In sight, visible, clearly near at hand, victory was in sight. know by sight, to recognize (a person or thing) seen before. lower one's sights, to adopt a less ambitious policy. not by a long sight, definitely not. out of sight, not visible; (in-sighted / signora formal) marvelous. sight draft, a bank draft to be paid upon presentation. sight for sore eyes, (informal) a person or thing one is glad to see. sight line, the line from a person's eye to what is seen. sight unseen, without previous inspection.

sight-ed (sight-tid) adj. having sight, not blind.

sight-less (sight-lis) adj. blind.

sight-ly (sight-lee) adj. (-li-er, -li-est) attractive to the sight, not unpleasantly.

sight'-line n.

sight-read v. (sight-read, sight-read-ing) to read or perform (music etc.) at first sight, without preparation. sight'-read-er n. sight-read-ing n.

sight-see-ing (sight-see-ing) n. visiting places of interest in a town etc.

sight-se-er (sight-se-er) n. one who goes sightseeing.

sig'-ma (sig-má) n. the eighteenth letter of the Greek alphabet (Σ ς).

sign (sin) n. 1. something perceived that suggests the existence of a fact or quality or condition, either past or present or future, it shows signs of decay or of being a success. 2. a mark or device with a special meaning, a symbol. 3. a sign-board, road sign, or billboard, the device on these, a notice. 4. an action or gesture conveying information or a command etc. 5. any of the twelve divisions of the zodiac (see zodiac), a symbol representing one of these. sign v. 1. to make a sign, signed to me to come. 2. to write (one's name) on a document etc. to guarantee that it is genuine or has one's authority or consent etc., signed his name; signed the letter; sign here. 3. to convey by signing a document, signed away her right to the house. 4. to engage or be engaged as an employee by signing a contract of employment. 5. to communicate in sign language. sign'-er n. sign, in, to sign something as an indication that one has arrived or is present. sign language, the gestures used for communication with deaf people. sign off, (in broadcasting) to announce the end of one's program or transmission. sign on or up, to sign a contract of employment; to enlist in a military service; to register oneself for a program, benefit, etc. sign out, to sign something as an indication that one is departing.

sig'-nal (sig-nal) n. 1. a sign or gesture giving information or a command, a message made up of such signs. 2. an act or event that immediately produces a general reaction, his arrival was the signal for an outburst of cheering. 3. an object placed to give notice or warning, traffic signals; railroad signals. 4. a sequence of electrical impulses or radio waves transmitted or received. signal v. (sig-naled, sig-nal-ing) to make a signal or signals, to direct or communicate with or announce in this way. signal adj. remarkably good or bad, a signal success. sig’nal-ly adv. sig’nal-er n. □ Signal Corps, a U.S. Army corps responsible for military communications etc.

sig'-nal-ize (sig-nal'-ized) v. (sig-nal-ized, sig-nal-ize-ing) to make noteworthy. sig'nal-iza'tion (sig-nal-ize-ay-shóhn) n.

sig'-nal-man (sig-nal-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) one who is responsible for displaying naval signals or operating railroad signals.

sig’na-to-ry (sig-nan-toh-ee) n. (pl. -lies) any of the parties who sign a treaty or other agreement.

sig-na’ture (sig-nah-chur) n. 1. a person's name or initials written by himself in signing something. 2. a key signature or time signature in music. 3. a section of a book made from one sheet folded and cut, often marked with a letter or figure as a guide to the binder. □ key signature, the sharps or flats after the clef in a musical score, showing its key. time signature, a fraction (such as ¾) printed at the beginning of a piece of music, showing the number of beats in the bar and their rhythm.

sign-board (sign-board) n. a board bearing a sign or advertisement.

sig’net (sig-nit) n. a person's seal used with or instead of a signature. □ signet ring, a finger ring with an engraved design, formerly used as a seal.

sig-nif’icance (sig-nif-i-káns) n. 1. what is meant by something, what is the significance of this symbol? 2. being significant, important, the event is of no significance. sig-nif’icant (sig-nif-i-kant) adj. 1. having a meaning. 2. full of meaning, a significant glance. 3. important, noteworthy, significant developments. sig’ni-ficant-ly adv.

sig-nil-fi-ca’tion (sig-nil-fi-ca-shon) n.

sig-nil-fi’fy v. (sig-nil-fi’d, sig-nil-fi’-ing) 1. to be a sign or symbol of. 2. to have as a meaning. 3. to make known, signified her approval. 4. to be of importance, to matter, it doesn't signify.

si’gnor (seen-yohr) n. (pl. si’nors, si’nor-ri, pr. seen-yohr-e) the title of an Italian man, = Mr. or sir.

si’gnor-ri (seen-yohr-ri) n. (pl. si’gnor-as, si’nors, pr. seen-yohr-ay) the title of an Italian woman, = Mrs. or madam.

si·gno·ri·na (seen-yō-ree-nā) n. (pl.
-nas, -ne, pr. -nay) the title of an Italian unmarried woman or girl, = Miss.

sign·post (sun-pohst) n. 1. a post to which a sign is attached. 2. an indication.

Sikh (seek) n. a member of a certain Hindu religious sect. Sikh′ism n.

si·lage (si-li-j) n. green fodder stored and fermented in a silo.

si·lence (si-lens) n. 1. absence of sound.
2. avoidance or absence of speaking or of making a sound. 3. the fact of not mentioning something or of refusing to betray a secret; a vow of silence. silence
v. (si·lenced, si·lenc′ing) to make silent. in silence, without speaking or making a sound.

si·lence·er (si-lens′ər) n. a device for reducing the sound made by a gun.

si·lent (si-lent) adj. 1. not speaking, not making or accompanying by a sound. 2. saying little. si·lent·ly adv. si·lent· ness n. silent majority, people of moderate opinions who rarely make themselves heard. silent partner, an inactive partner, one not sharing in the actual work of the firm.

sil·hou·ette (sil-oo-et) n. 1. a dark shadow or outline seen against a light background. 2. a profile portrait in solid black. silhouette v. (sil·hou·et·ted, sil·hou·et·ting) to show as a silhouette, was silhouetted against the screen.

sil·i·ca (sil-i-kā) n. a compound of silicon occurring as quartz or flint and in sandstone and other rocks. silica gel, a gelatinous form of silica used chiefly to dehumidify and dehydrate the air in containers etc.

sil·i·cate (sil-i-kit, -kāt) n. any of the insoluble compounds of silica.

sil·i·ce·ous (si-lish-ūs) adj. of or like silica.

sil·i·con (sil-i-kon) n. a chemical found widely in the earth in its compound forms. silicon chip, a microchip.

Do not confuse silicon with silicone.

sil·i·cone (sil-i-kōn) n. any of the organic compounds of silicon, widely used in paints, varnish, and lubricants. Do not confuse silicone with silicon.

sil·i·co·sia (sil-i-kō-sis) n. an abnormal condition of the lungs caused by inhaling dust that contains silica.

silk (silk) n. 1. the fine strong soft fiber produced by a silkworm in making its cocoon, or by certain other insects or spiders. 2. thread or cloth made from it, fabric resembling this. 3. clothing made from silk. 4. fine soft strands like threads of silk. 5. silks, a jockey's cap and jacket in the horse owner's colors.

silk′hat, a tall cylindrical hat covered with silk plush.

silk′en (sil-ken) adj. like silk.

silk·screen (silk-skreen) n. 1. a print-making process using a screen of silk or other fine fabric as a stencil, with one or more inks being pressed through the fabric and on to the paper etc. below.
2. a print made by this process.

silk·stock·ing (silk-stok-ing) adj. (informal) wealthy, aristocratic, they lived in a silk-stocking district.

silk·worm (silk-wurm) n. a caterpillar (of a kind of moth) that feeds on mulberry leaves and spins its cocoon of silk.

silk·y (sil-kee) adj. (sil-kĭ-er, silk′- est) as soft or fine or smooth as silk.

silk′ly adv. silk′liness n.

sil·lo (sil-lo) n. (pl. -los) 1. a pit or airtight structure in which green crops are pressed and undergo fermentation for use as fodder. 2. a pit or tower for storing grain or cement or radioactive waste. 3. an underground place where a missile is kept ready for firing.

silt (silt) n. sediment deposited by water in a channel or harbor etc. silt v. to block or clog or become blocked with silt, the harbor is or has silted up. silt′y adj. silttation (sil-ta-shōn) n.

silt·stone (silt-stohn) n. rock of hardened silt.

Sil·u·ri·an (si-lur-i-án) adj. of the geologic period of the Paleozoic era before the Devonian and after the Ordovician.

Silurian n. the Silurian period.

sil·ver (sil-vēr) n. 1. a shiny white precious metal. 2. coins made of this or of an alloy resembling it. 3. silver dishes or ornaments, metal eating utensils. 4. a silver medal (awarded as second prize). 5.
the color of silver. silver′ adj. made of silver, colored like silver. silver v. 1. to coat or plate with silver. 2. to give a silvery appearance to, to become silvery, (of hair) to turn gray or white. born with a silver spoon in one's mouth, born or destined to be wealthy. silver anniversary, the 25th anniversary, especially of a wedding. silver birch, = yellow birch. silver bromide, silver chloride, a light-sensitive compound used in photographic emulsions. silver lining, a consolation or hopeful prospect in the midst of misfortune, every cloud has a silver lining. silver maple, a maple with light green and silvery white leaves. silverfish, a water-soluble poisonous compound used in photography, optics, and as an antiseptic etc. silver plate, vessels, spoons, etc. of silver or of copper plated with silver. silver screen, motion pictures collectively; a superior type of screen on which to project motion pictures. Silver Star, a medal awarded to a soldier for gallantry in action.

silverfish (sil-vehr-fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish-es) 1. a silver-colored fish, especially a colorless goldfish. 2. A small insect with a fishlike body, found in books and damp places.

sil-ver-plate (sil-vehr-playt) v. (sil-ver-plat-ed, sil-ver-plat-ing) to plate with silver.

sil-ver-smith (sil-vehr-smith) n. a person whose trade is making articles in silver.

sil-ver-tongued (sil-vehr-tungd) adj. eloquent, persuasive.

sil-ver-ware (sil-vehr-wair) n. 1. articles made of silver. 2. eating utensils made of silver, silverplate, stainless steel, etc.

sil-ver-y (sil-vehr-ree) adj. 1. like silver in color or appearance. 2. having a clear gentle ringing sound.

sim-i-lar-iti-ies (sim-i-lar-ityz) n. a comparison or resemblance.

sim-i-lar-ly adv. sim-i-ler, sim-i-lar-est adj. 1. like or resemble something but not the same. 2. of the same kind or nature or amount.

sim-i-lar-ly adv. sim-i-lar-ly adv.

sim-i-lar-i-ty (sim-i-lar-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a figure of speech using as or like in which two unlike things are compared, such as he's fit as a fiddle; went through it like a hot knife through butter.

si-mil-i-tude (si-mil-i-tood) n. similarity.

si-mul-cast (si-muhl-ca斯特) v. to broadcast the same program on radio and television at the same time. simulcast n. a program broadcast this way.

si-mul-tan-eous (si-muhl-tan-ee-us) adj. occurring or operating at the same time.
sin / sink

si·mul·ta·ne·ous·ly adv. si·mul·ta·ne·ous·ness n. si·mul·ta·ne·i·ty (si-mül-tä-ne-ë-i-tee) n.

sin (sin) n. 1. the breaking of a religious or moral law, an act that does this. 2. a serious fault or offense. 3. something contrary to common sense, it's a sin to stay indoors on this fine day. sin v. (sinned, sin·ning) to commit a sin.

for my sins, (humorous) as a penalty for something or other that I have done.

live in sin, (informal) to cohabit without marrying.

since (sins) adv., conj., & prep. 1. after (a certain event or past time), between then and now. 2. ago, before now, it happened long since. 3. for the reason that, because, since we have no money, we can't buy it.

sin·cere (sin-seer) adj. (-cer·er, -cer·est) free from pretense or deceit in feeling or manner or actions. sin·cere·ly adv. sin·cer·i·ty (sin-ser-ë-i-tee) n.

sine (sin) n. (in a right-angled triangle) the ratio of the length of a side opposite one of the acute angles to the length of the hypotenuse.

si·ne·cure (si-në-kyoor) n. an official position that gives the holder profit or honor with no work attached.

si·ne·di·e (si-ne·di·ë) indefinitely, without appointed date, the business was ad·journed sine die. > Latin, = without a day.

si·ne·qua·non (si-ne·kwë·non) n. an indispensable condition or qualification. > Latin, = without which not.

sin·ew (sin-yoo) n. 1. tough fibrous tissue uniting muscle to bone. 2. a tendon. 3. sinews, muscles, strength.

sin·ew·y (sin-yoo-ë) adj. like sinew, muscular.

sin·ful (sin-fü) adj. full of sin, wicked.

sin·ful·ly adv. sin·ful·ness n.

sing (sing) v. (sang, sung, sing·ing) 1. to make musical sounds with the voice, especially in a set tune. 2. to perform (a song). 3. to make a humming or buzzing or whistling sound, the kettles sing. 4. (slang) to turn informer. □ sing a person's praises, to praise him greatly. sing out, to call out loudly.

sing. abbr. singular.

Sin·ga·pore (sing-ä-pohr) 1. a country consisting of a group of islands south of the Malay peninsula. 2. its capital city.

sing (sing) v. (singed, singe·ing) to burn slightly, to burn the ends or edges of. singe n. a slight burn.

sing·er (sing-ër) n. a person who sings, especially as a professional.

Sin·ga·pore (sing-ga-pöör) = Sinha·lese.

sin·gle (sing-gel) adj. 1. one only, not double or multiple. 2. designed for one person or thing, single beds. 3. taken separately, every single thing. 4. unmarried. 5. (of a flower) having only one circle of petals. single n. 1. one person or thing, a single one. 2. a room etc. for one person. 3. a single ticket. 4. a pop record with one piece of music on each side. 5. (in baseball) a hit that enables the batter to advance to first base. 6. (in·formal) a one-dollar bill. 7. (informal) an unmarried person, a singles party. 8. singles, a game with one player on each side, as in tennis, a singles match. sing·ly adv. sin·gle·ness n. □ single bond, one covalent bond linking two atoms of a molecule. single combat, a duel. sin·gle·cut, (of a file) with grooves cut in one direction only. sin·gle·decker, a bus with only one deck. sin·gle·file, see file. sin·gle·stand·ard, a single set of rules or criteria applying to everyone.

sin·gle·ac·tion (sing-gel-ak-shën) adj. (of a gun) needing to be cocked by hand before every shot.

sin·gle·breast·ed (sing-gel-bres-tid) adj. (of a coat) fastening but not overlapping widely across the breast.

sin·gle·hand·ed (sing-gel-han-did) adj. without help from other persons.

sin·gle·mind·ed (sing-gel·mind·id) adj. with one's mind set on a single purpose.

sin·gle·space (sing-gel·space) v. (-spaced, -spac·ing) to type (copy) leaving no blank spaces between lines.

sin·gle·ton (sing-gel·ton) n. something occurring singly, not as one of a group.

sin·gle·tree (sing-gel-tree) n. a whiffle-tree.

sin·gle·song (sing·seen) v. with a monotonous rise and fall of the voice in speaking. sing·song n. a singsong manner of speaking.

sin·gu·lar (sing-gü-lär) n. the form of a noun or verb used with reference to one person or thing, the singular is "man," the plural is "men." sin·gu·lar adj. 1. of this form. 2. uncommon, extraordinary, spoke with singular shrewdness. sin·gu·lar·ly adv. sin·gu·lar·i·ty (sing-gü-lär-i-tee) n.

Sin·ha·lese (sing-hä-lees) adj. of Sri Lanka or its people or language. Sin·ha·lese n. (pl. Sinha·lese) 1. a native of Sri Lanka. 2. the Sinhalese language.

sin·is·ter (sing-i-stërr) adj. 1. suggestive of evil. 2. involving wickedness, criminal, sinister motives. sin·is·ter·ly adv.

sink (sink) v. (sank or sunk, sunk or sink} sinker / sit

sunk\-en, sink\-ing) 1. to fall slowly downward, to come gradually to a lower level or pitch. 2. to become wholly or partly submerged in water etc., (of a ship) to go to the bottom of the sea. 3. to pass into a less active condition, she sank into sleep. 4. to lose value or strength etc. gradually. 5. to cause or allow to sink. 6. to dig (a well) or bore (a shaft). 7. to send (a ball) into a pocket or hole in billiards, golf, etc. 8. to invest (money). sink n. 1. a fixed basin with a drainage pipe and usually with a water supply, in a kitchen etc. 2. a cesspool; a sink of iniquity, a place where evil people or practices tend to collect. 3. a marsh or pool in which water (as from a river) disappears by evaporation or percolation. 4. a sinkhole. sink\'a\-ble adj. sink\' in, to penetrate; to become understood. sinking feeling, a feeling caused by hunger or fear. sinking fund, a fund set aside for the purpose of wiping out a country's or business company's debt gradually.

sink\-er (sing-kür) n. 1. a weight used to sink a fishing line or a line used in taking soundings. 2. (slang) a doughnut. 3. (in baseball) a pitch that dips sharply as it reaches home plate.

sink\-hole (singk-höll) n. 1. low land where drainage collects. 2. a cavity formed in rock by water.

sin\-less (sin-lis) adj. free from sin.

sin\-ner (sin-ér) n. a person who sins.

Si\-nol\-og\-y (si-nol-óg-je) n. the study of the Chinese language, history, culture, etc.

Si\-nol\-o\-gist n.

sin\-u\-ous (sin-yoo-úz) adj. with many curves, undulating. sin\'u\-ous\-ly adv.

sin\-u\-os\-ty (sin-yoo-os-ti) n.

si\-nus (si-nús) n. (pl. -núz-es) a cavity in bone or tissue, especially that in the skull connecting with the nostrils.

si\-nus\-i\-tis (si-núz-i-tis) n. inflammation of one or more sinuses in the skull.

Si\-oux (soo) n. (pl. Sioux) a member of a group of Indian tribes formerly living in the western U.S.

slip (sip) v. (slipped, slip\-ping) to take a slip of, to drink in small mouthfuls. slip n. 1. the act of sipping. 2. a small mouthful of liquid.

si\-phon (si-fôn) n. 1. a pipe or tube in the form of an upside-down U, used for forcing liquid to flow from one container to another by utilizing atmospheric pressure. 2. a bottle from which aerated water is forced out through a tube by pressure of gas. 3. the sucking tube of some insects or small animals. si\-phon v. 1. to flow or draw out through a siphon. 2. to take from a source, funds were siphoned off for this purpose. si\-phon\'-al adj. si\-phon\'-ic (si-fôn-ik) adj.

sir (sur) n. 1. a polite form of address to a man. 2. Sir, a title prefixed to the name of a knight or baronet, Sir John Moore, Sir J. Moore, Sir John.

sire (sir) n. 1. (old use) a father or male ancestor. 2. (old use) a title of respect, used to a king. 3. the male parent of an animal. sire v. (sired, sir\-ing) (of an animal) to be the sire of, to beget.

si\-ren (si-rén) n. 1. a device that makes a loud prolonged sound as a signal. 2. a dangerously fascinating woman.

Sir\'-i\-us (sir-i-ús) n. the brightest star in the part of the Canis Major constellation.

si\-rō\-lon (sur-lon) n. the upper (best) part of loin of beef.

si\-roc\-co (si-rok-oh) n. (pl. -coos) a hot wind that reaches Italy from Africa.

si\-sal (si-sál, sis-ál) n. 1. rope fiber made from the leaves of a tropical plant. 2. the plant itself.

si\-sī\-kin (sis-kín) n. a greenish songbird of Europe, related to the goldfinch.

si\-sī\-sy (sis-ce) n. (pl. -sis-es) an effeminate boy or man, a cowardly person.

si\-sī\-fled (sis-i-fled) adj.

si\-sī\-ter (sis-tér) n. 1. a daughter of the same parents as another person. 2. a fellow woman, one who is a fellow member of a group or sect. 3. a nun; Sister, the title of a nun. ■ sister ship, a ship built in the same design as another.

si\-sī\-ter\-hood (sis-tér-hood) n. 1. the relationship of sisters. 2. an order of nuns, a society of women doing religious or charitable work.

si\-sī\-ter\-in\-law (sis-tér-in-law) n. (pl. sisters\-in-law) the sister of one's husband or wife, the wife of one's brother.

sit (sit) v. (sat, sit\-ting) 1. to take or be in a position in which the body rests more or less upright on the buttocks, we were sitting gossiping; sit one's horse, to sit or keep one's seat on it. 2. to cause to sit, to place in a sitting position, sat him down. 3. to pose for a portrait. 4. (of birds) to perch, (of certain animals) to rest with legs bent and body along the ground. 5. (of birds) to remain on the nest to hatch eggs. 6. to be situated, to lie. 7. to baby-sit. 8. to occupy a seat as a member of a committee etc. 9. (of a legislative body or a law court or a committee) to be in session. 10. (of clothes) to fit in a certain way, the coat sits badly on the shoulders. □ be sitting pretty, (informal) to be in an advantageous situation. sit at a person's feet, to be his pupil or disciple. sit back, to relax one's efforts. sit down, to take a seat after standing. sit in judgment, to make judgments about other people. sit in on, to be present as an observer at (a meeting etc.). sit on, (informal) to delay action concerning, the Government has been sitting on the report; (slang) to repress or snub, someone should sit on him. sit on the fence, see fence. sit out, to take no part in (a dance etc.); to stay until the end of, had to sit the concert out. sit tight, (informal) to remain firmly where one is, to take no action and not yield. sit up, to rise to a sitting posture from lying down; to sit upright and not slouch; to remain out of bed, sat up late; make a person sit up, to cause him surprise or alarm, to arouse his interest. □ See the note under set.

si·tar (si-tahr) n. an Indian musical instrument resembling a guitar.

si·com (sit-kom) n. (informal) a situation comedy.

si·down (sit-down) adj. (of a meal) taken seated. □ sit-down strike, a strike in which strikers refuse to leave their place of work.

site (sit) n. 1. the ground on which a town or building stood or stands to be. 2. the place where some activity or event takes place or took place, camping site; the site of the battle. site v. (sit·ed, sit·ting) to locate, to provide with a site. □ Do not confuse site with cite.

sit-in (sit-in) n. occupation of a building etc. as a form of protest.

sit·ter (sit-er) n. 1. a person who is seated. 2. one who is sitting for a portrait. 3. a sitting hen. 4. a baby-sitter.

sit·ting (sit-ing) see sit. sit down adj. (of an animal) not running, (of a game bird) not flying, shot a sitting pheasant. sitting n. 1. the time during which a person or assembly etc. sits continuously, lunch is served in two sittings. 2. a clutch of eggs. □ sitting duck or target, (slang) a person or thing that is a helpless victim of attack. sitting room, a room used for sitting in, not a bedroom.

sit·u·ate (sit-oo-a-ayt) v. (sit·u·at·ed, sit·u·at·ing) to place or put in a certain position. □ be situated, to be in a certain position.

sit·u·a·tion (sich-oo-ay-shôn) n. 1. a place (with its surroundings) that is occupied by something. 2. a set of circumstances. □ It is incorrect to use this word in phrases such as "when you're in a strike situation" instead of "when there is a strike.") 3. a position of employment, situations wanted. sit·u·a·tion·al adj.

sit·u·a·tion·comedy, a comedy in which humor derives from characters' misunderstandings and embarrassments.

sit·up (sit-up) n. an exercise in which a person lying supine sits up without bending his legs.

si·lus (si-tús) n. (pl. -tús) 1. the proper or primary position of an organ of the body. 2. location.

sitz (sits, zits) bath 1. a bathtub in which one sits immersed to the hips. 2. a bath taken in such a bathtub.

six (siks) adj. & n. one more than five (6, VI). □ at sixes and sevens, in disorder.

six·fold (siks-fohld) adj. six times as much or as many.

six·foot·er (siks-fuut-er) n. (informal) a person or thing six feet tall.

six·gun (siks-gun) n. a six-chambered revolver.

six·pack (siks-pak) n. six bottles or cans of soda or beer etc. packaged and sold as one unit.

six·pence (siks-pens) n. (British) 1. the sum of 6p (6 pennies). 2. (old use) the sum of 6d (6 old pennies), a coin worth this.

six·shoot·er (siks-shoo-ter) n. a six-gun.

six·teen (siks-teen) adj. & n. one more than fifteen (16, XVI). six'teenth' adj. & n.

sixth (siksth) adj. & n. 1. next after fifth. 2. one of six equal parts of a thing.

six·th·ly adv. □ sixth sense, a supposed extra power of perception other than the five physical ones, intuition.

six·ties (siks-teez) n. pl. the numbers or years or degrees of temperature from sixty to sixty-nine.

six·ty (siks-ti) adj. & n. (pl. -ties) six times ten (60, LX). six·ti·eth (siks-tee-ith) adj. & n. □ like sixty, (informal) very easily or fast. sixty-four (thou·sand) dollar question, the most difficult question of all.

siz·a·ble (siz-zá-bel) adj. of large or fairly large size. siz·a·bly adv.

size 1 (siz) n. 1. the measurements or extent of something. 2. any of the series of standard measurements in which things of the same kind are made and sold. size v. (sized, siz·ing) to group or sort according to size. □ size up, to estimate the size of; (informal) to form a judgment of (a person or situation etc.), the size of it, (informal) the way it is, the facts about it.

size 2 n. a gluey solution used to glaze paper or stiffen textiles etc. size v. (sized, sizing) to treat with size.

sizing (sizing) n. size².

siz·ze·ly (siz-ël) v. (siz-zled, siz·zling) 1. to make a hissing sound like that of frying. 2. (informal) to be very hot, to be angry or resentful. sizzle n. 1. a sizzling sound. 2. a state of great heat or excitement.

S.J. abbr. Society of Jesus.

skeet n. (pl. skate, skates) a large flatfish used as food.

skate 1 (skat) n. (pl. skate, skates) a roller skate. 2. an ice skate.

skate v. (skat·ed, skat·ting) to move on skates, to perform (a specified figure) in this way. skat’er n. □ skating rink n. a stretch of natural or artificial ice used for skating; a smooth floor used for roller skating.

skate·board (skat·bohd) n. a small board with wheels like those of roller skates, for riding on (as a sport) while standing. skateboard v. to use a skateboard. skate’board·er n. skate·board·ing n.

sked·daddy (sked-daddy) v. (sked·daddied, sked·dadding) (slang) to go away quickly.

sked o. (also sked’ shooting) a shooting sport in which a clay target is thrown from a trap to simulate the flight of a bird.

skeln n. 1. a loosely coiled bundle of yarn or thread. 2. a number of wild geese etc. in flight.

skel·e·tal (skel·ë-tal) adj. of or like a skeleton. skel’er·tal·ly adv.

skel·e·ton (skel·ë-tan) n. 1. the supporting structure of an animal body, consisting of bones. 2. the shell or other hard structure covering or supporting an invertebrate animal. 3. a very lean person or animal. 4. any supporting structure or framework, as of a building. 5. an outline of a literary work etc. □ skeleton crew n. a permanent nucleus ready for supplementing. skeleton in the closet, a discreditable secret. skeleton key, a key made so as to fit many locks. skeleton staff, the minimum needed to do the essential things in work that normally requires more staff.

skew·tic (skew·tik) n. a skeptical person, one who doubts the truth of religious doctrines. skew·ti·cism (skew·ti·sis·ëm) n.

skew·ti·cal (skew·ti·kal) adj. inclined to disbelieve things, doubting or questioning the truth of claims or statements etc. skew·ti·cal·ly adv.

sketch (skech) n. 1. a rough drawing or painting. 2. a brief account of something. 3. a short usually comic play. sketch v. to make a sketch or sketches, to make a sketch of. sketch’er n.

sketch·book (skech·book) n. a pad of drawing paper for sketching on.

sketch·y (skech·ë) adj. (sketch·i·er, sketch·i·est) rough and not detailed or careful or substantial. sketch·i·ly adv. sketch·i·ness n.

skew v. slanting, skewing. skew v. to make skew, to turn or twist around.

skew·er (skew·ër) n. a pin thrust through meat to hold it compactly together while it is cooked. skew·er v. to pierce or hold in place with a skewer or other pointed object.

ski (ske) n. (pl. skis) one of a pair of long narrow strips of wood etc. fixed under the feet for traveling over snow. ski v. (skied, ski·ing) to travel on skis.

ski·ler (ski·ler) v. □ ski boot n. a boot to wear while skiing. ski jump, a steep slope leveling off before a sharp drop to allow a skier to leap through the air. ski lift or ski tow, a device for carrying skiers up a slope, usually on seats slung from an overhead cable. ski mask, a mask worn to protect the face while skiing. ski run, a slope suitable for skiing down. ski suit, a protective suit worn while skiing.

skid (skid) v. (skid·ded, skid·ding) (of a vehicle or its wheels) to slide uncontrollably on slippery ground. skid n. 1. a skidding movement. 2. a log or plank etc. used to make a track over which heavy objects may be dragged or rolled. 3. a runner on certain aircraft, for use when landing. 4. a wedge or a wooden or metal shoe that acts as a braking device on the wheel of a cart. skid·dy adv. □ on the skids, (slang) on the way to ruin. put the skids under, (slang) to cause to hurry; to hasten the downfall of. skid row, a slum area where vagrants live.

skiff (skif) n. a small light boat for rowing or sculling.

skill (skill) n. ability to do something well.

skilled (skild) adj. 1. skillful. 2. (of work) needing great skill, (of a worker) highly trained or experienced in such work.

skil·let (skil·let) n. a frying pan.

skill·ful (skil·ful) adj. having or showing great skill. skill·ful·ly adv. skill·ful·ness n.

skim (skim) v. (skimmed, skim·ming) 1. to take (floating matter) from the surface of a liquid, to clear (a liquid) in this way. 2. to move lightly and quickly over a surface, to glide through air. 3. to read quickly, noting only the chief points, skim through a newspaper or skim
it. 4. (slang) to hide (profits) illegally in order to avoid tax payments. skim milk, milk from which cream has been removed. skim the cream off, (informal) to take the best part.
skim-mer (skim-er) n. 1. a ladle etc. for skimming things. 2. a stiff flat straw hat. 3. a long-winged sea bird that feeds by skimming over the water with its lower mandible immersed.
skimo (skee-mo-beel) n. a snowmobile.
skim (skimp) v. to scrimp.
skim-p-y (skimp-pee) adj. (skimp-i-er, skim-p-i-est) scanty, especially through being skimmed. skim-p’i-ly adv. skim-p’i-ness n.
skin (skin) n. 1. the flexible continuous covering of the human or other animal body. 2. an animal’s skin removed from its body, with or without the hair still attached. 3. material made from this. 4. a vessel for water or wine, made from an animal’s whole skin. 5. a person’s complexion. 6. an outer layer or covering, as the rind of fruit or the plating on an aircraft etc. 7. the skinlike film that forms on the surface of certain liquids. skin v. (skinned, skin-n’g) 1. to strip or scrape the skin from. 2. to cover or become covered with new skin, the wound had skinned over. skin’less adj. □be nothing but skin and bone, to be very thin. □by the skin of one’s teeth, only just, barely. get under a person’s skin, (informal) to interest or annoy him greatly. save one’s skin, to avoid injury or loss. skin flick, (slang) a pornographic film. skin game, (slang) a swindling game. skin graft, a piece of skin cut from another part or person and surgically substituted for a damaged part. skin-deep (skim-deep) adj. superficial, not deep or lasting.
skin-dive (skim-dive) v. (skim-dived, skin-div-ing) to swim deep under water with flippers and breathing apparatus.
skin div-ing (skin div-ing) underwater swimming. skin div’er n.
skin-flint (skin-flint) n. a miserly person.
skin-ny (skin-ee) adj. (-ni-er, -ni-est) (of a person or animal) very thin.
skin-ny-dip (skin-ny-dip, skin-ny-dip-ping) (informal) to swim in the nude. skin’ny-dip-per n.
skin-tight (skin-tutt) adj. (of clothing etc.) very close-fitting.
skip (skip) v. (skipped, skip-ping) 1. to move along lightly, especially by taking two steps with each foot in turn. 2. to cause this to happen to (a thing), skip stones across the pond. 3. to pass quickly from one subject or point to another. 4. to omit in reading or dealing with a thing. 5. (slang) to go away hastily or secretly. skip n. a skipping movement. □skip ball, to jump bail (see jump). skip lit, (slang) leave that subject.
ski-plane (skee-playn) n. an airplane that has skis for landing on and taking off from snow.
skipp-per (skip-er) n. 1. one who skips. 2. a small dark thick-bodied butterfly.
skipp-er (skip-er) n. a captain. skipper v. to captain.
skirl, (skurl) n. the shrill shound characteristic of bagpipes. skirl v. to make this sound.
skirmish (skur-mish) n. a minor fight or conflict. skirmish v. to take part in a skirmish. skir’mish-er n.
skirt (skurt) n. a woman’s garment hanging from the waist, this part of a garment. skirt v. 1. to go or be situated along the edge of. 2. to avoid dealing directly with (a question or controversial topic etc.).
skitt (skit) n. a short play or piece of writing that is a humorous imitation of a serious one, a piece of humorous mimicry.
skitt-er (skit-er) v. 1. to skip or glide quickly. 2. to hurry about, to dart off.
skittish (skit-ish) adj. frisky. skit’tish-ly adv. skit’tish-ness n. skivvy (skiv-ee) n. (pl. -vies) (slang) 1. cotton T-shirt. 2. underwear consisting of shorts and a T-shirt.
skoal (skohl) interj. (used as a toast) to your health!
Skt. abbr. Sanskrit.
sku-a (skuo-a) n. a kind of large sea gull.
skul-dug-ger-y (skul-dug-ger-y) n. (informal) trickery.
skulk (skulk) v. to loiter or move or conceal oneself stealthily. skulk’er n.
skull (skul) n. 1. the bony framework of the head, the part of this protecting the brain. 2. a representation of this; skull and crossbones, this with two bones crossed below it as an emblem of death or piracy or as a warning label on bottles etc. of poison.
skull-cap (skul-kap) n. a small close-fitting cap with no brim, worn on top of the head.
skunk (skungk) n. (pl. skunks, skunk) 1. a black and white bushy-tailed North American mammal about the size of a cat, able to spray an evil smelling liquid from glands near its tail. 2. (slang) a contemptible person. skunk v. (slang) to defeat decisively. □skunk cabbage, a broad-leaved plant with an unpleasant smell.
skunkweed / slash skunkweed (skunkg-weed) n. 1. an unpleasant-smelling perennial herb. 2. skunk cabbage.

sky (ski) n. (pl. skies) 1. the region of the clouds or upper air. 2. climate or weather shown by this, the sunny skies of Italy. □ sky marshal, an armed federal security guard assigned to ride in an airplane to prevent skyjacking. sky pilot, (slug) a chaplain or clergyman.
sky-blue (ski-blo) adj. & n. bright clear blue.
sky-cap (ski-kap) n. a baggage porter at an airport.
sky-dive (ski-dive) v. (ski-dived, ski-dyng) to engage in skydiving. sky’-dyer n.
sky-diving (ski-dyng) n. the sport of jumping from an airplane and performing acrobatics before opening the parachute at a low altitude.

Skye (ski) a variety of Scotch terrier with long hair and a long body.
sky-high (ski-hi) adj. & adv. very high.
sky-jack (ski-jak) v. to hijack (an aircraft). sky’-jack’-er n. sky’-jack’-ing n.
sky-lark (ski-lahrk) n. a lark that soars while singing. skylark v. to play about lightheartedly. sky’-lark’-er n.
sky-light (ski-lit) n. a window set in the line of a roof or ceiling.
sky-line (ski-lin) n. the outline of hills, buildings, etc., defined against the sky, the visible horizon.
sky-rock-et (ski-rok-it) n. a rocket that rises high into the air before exploding.
skycracket v. to rise sharply.
sky-scarp-er (ski-skray-er) n. a very tall building with many stories.
sky-ward (ski-ward) adv. toward the sky.
sky-writ-ting (ski-ri-ting) n. legible smoke trails made by an airplane, especially for advertising. sky’-writ’-er n.

slab (slab) n. a flat broad fairly thick piece of something solid.

slack1 (slack) adj. 1. loose, not tight or tense. 2. slow, sluggish, negligent. 3. (of trade or business) with little happening, not busy. slack n. 1. the slack part of a rope etc., haul in the slack. 2. slacks, trousers for informal or sports wear. slack v. 1. to slacken. 2. to be idle or lazy about work. slack’ly adv. slack.er n. slack’ness n. □ slack suit, casual clothes of slacks and a jacket or shirt. □ Do not confuse slack with slate.

slack-en (slak-en) v. to make or become slack.
slash-jawed (slash-jawd) adj. having one’s mouth open, slack-jawed with astonishment.

slag (slug) n. 1. solid nonmetallic waste matter left when metal has been separated from ore by smelting. 2. lava fragments similar to this.

slain (slayn) see slay.

slack (slug) v. (slaked, slack-ing) 1. to satisfy or make less strong, slack one’s thirst. 2. to combine (lime) chemically with water. □ Do not confuse slake with slack.
slab-lom (slah-lom) n. a ski race down a zigzag course.

slam (slam) v. (slammed, slam-ming) 1. to shut forcefully with a loud noise. 2. to put or knock or hit forcefully. 3. (slug) to criticize severely. slam n. 1. a slamming noise. 2. the winning of twelve or thirteen tricks in the game of bridge. □ grand slam, see grand, little or small slam, the winning of twelve tricks in the game of bridge.

slam-bang (slam-bang) adv. (informal) 1. noisily, violently. 2. recklessly, slapdash.

slan-der (slahn-dehr) n. 1. a false statement uttered maliciously that damages a person’s reputation. 2. the crime of uttering this. slander v. to utter a slander about. slan’der-er n. slan’der-ous adj. slan’der-ous’ly adv.

slang (slug) n. words, phrases, or particular meaning of these, that are used very informally for vividness or novelty or to avoid being conventional. slang’y adj. slang’i-ness n. □ In this dictionary, words and definitions marked slang are not acceptable when speaking or writing formally.

slant (slant) v. 1. to slope. 2. to present (news etc.) from a particular point of view. slant n. 1. a slope. 2. the way something is presented, an attitude or bias. slant’ing’-ly adv.

slant-wise (slant-wriz) adv. in a slanting position.

slap (slug) v. (slapped, slug-ping) 1. to strike with the open hand or with something flat. 2. to put forcefully down, slapped the money on the counter. 3. to put hastily or carelessly, slapped paint on the walls. slap n. a blow with the open hand or with something flat. slap adv. with a slap, directly, ran slap into him.

slap’per n. □ slap a person down, (informal) to snub or reprimand him. slap in the face, an insult.

slap-dash (slug-dash) adj. hasty and careless. slapdash adv. in a slapdash way.

slap-hap-py (slug-hap-peek) adj. (informal) 1. punch-drunk. 2. cheerfully casual.

slap-stick (slug-stick) n. comedy with boisterous action.

slash (slug) v. 1. to make a sweeping stroke or strokes with a sword or knife or whip etc., to strike in this way. 2. to make an ornamental slit in (a gar-slat / sleeper

ment), especially to show underlying fabric. 3. to reduce drastically; prices were slashed. 4. to criticize vigorously. slash
n. 1. a slashing cut, a wound made by this. 2. the debris resulting from the falling or destruction of trees. 3. (in printing) a virgule. slash'er n.
slate (slat) n. one of the thin narrow strips of wood or metal or plastic arranged so as to overlap and form a screen, as in a Venetian blind.
slate (slayt) n. 1. a kind of rock that is easily split into flat smooth plates. 2. a piece of this used as roofing material or (formerly) for writing on. 3. a list of nominees for office etc. slate v. (slat-ed, slate-ing) 1. to cover or roof with slates. 2. to nominate, to propose (for office etc.). 3. to make arrangements for (an event etc.). slate'y adj. a clean slate, a record of good conduct with nothing discreditable; wipe the slate clean, to forgive and forget past offenses.
slate-blue (slayt-bloo) adj. & n. grayish-blue.
slate-gray (slayt-gray) adj. & n. bluish-gray.
slat-er (slath-ér) v. 1. to spread thickly. 2. to squander.
slat-ter (slat-ér) n. a slovenly woman.
slat'tern (slat-érn) n. a sledgehammer.
slaughter (slay-v) n. 1. the killing of animals for food. 2. the ruthless killing of a great number of people or animals, a massacre. slaughter v. 1. to kill (animals) for food. 2. to kill ruthlessly or in great numbers. 3. (informal) to defeat utterly. slaughter'er n.
slaughter-house (slaw-cher-hous) n. (pl. -house'es, pr. -how-ziz) a place where animals are killed for food.
Slav (slayv) n. a member of any of the peoples of East and Central Europe who speak a Slavic language.
Slav. abbr. Slavic.
slave (slayv) n. 1. a person who is the property of another and obliged to work for him. 2. one who is dominated by another person or by an influence, a slave to duty. 3. a person compelled to work very hard for someone else, a drudge. 4. a mechanism controlled by another mechanism and repeating its actions. slave v. (slaved, slaughtering) to work very hard. slave bracelet, a bracelet or thin chain worn around the ankle. slave driver, an overseer of slaves at work; a person who makes others work very hard. slave labor, work done by slaves; persons (such as political prisoners) forced to perform labor; any forced or poorly paid labor. slave ship, a ship used in transporting slaves. Slave State, any of the southern states in the U.S. where slavery was legal before the Civil War. slave·er (slayvér) v. to have saliva flowing from the mouth. slave·ery (slay-vé-ree) n. 1. the condition of a slave. 2. the existence of slaves, to abolish slavery. 3. very hard work, drudgery.
Slav·ic (slav-vik) adj. of the Slavs or their languages.
slav·ish (slav-vish) adj. 1. like a slave, excessively submissive. 2. showing no independence or originality. slav'ishly adv. slav·ish'ness n.
Slav·von·ic (slá-von-ik) adj. Slavic.
slaw (slaw) n. (informal) coleslaw.
slay (slay) v. (slew, pr. sloo, slain, slaying) to kill.
slee·zy (slee-ze) adj. (-zi·er, -zi·est) (informal) dirty and slovenly. slee·zi·ly adv. slee·zi·ness n.
sled (sled) n. a narrow cart with runners instead of wheels, used for traveling on snow or bare ground or in sport for traveling downhill at speed.
sledge1 (slej) n. a strong heavy sled used especially for carrying freight across snow or ice.
sledge2 n. a sledgehammer.
sledge·ham·mer (slej-ham·ér) n. a large heavy hammer used with both hands.
sleek (sleek) adj. 1. smooth and glossy, sleek hair. 2. looking well-fed and thriving. sleek v. to make sleek by smoothing. sleek'ly adv. sleek'ness n.
sleep (sleep) n. 1. the natural recurring condition of rest in animals, in which there is unconsciousness with the nervous system inactive and muscles relaxed. 2. a spell of this, a long sleep. 3. the inert condition of hibernating animals. sleep v. (slept, sleeping) 1. to be in a state of sleep. 2. to spend (time) in sleeping; sleep it off, get rid of a hangover etc. by sleeping. 3. to stay for a night's sleep. 4. to provide with sleeping accommodation, the cottage sleeps four.
sleeping bag, a lined bag in which a person may sleep, especially while camping. sleeping car, a railroad car fitted with berths or beds for passengers. sleeping pill, a pill to help a person to sleep. sleeping sickness, a disease with symptoms that include extreme sleepiness, spread by the bite of the tsetse fly. sleep like a top, to sleep soundly. sleep on it, to delay deciding about something until the next day.
sleep·er (slee·pér) n. 1. one who sleeps. 2. a sleeping car, a berth in this. 3. (informal) an unexpected success, such as a book or a political candidate.

sleep-in (sleep-in) adj. sleeping by night at one's place of work, a sleep-in maid.

sleep-less (sleep-lis) adj. unable to sleep, without sleep. sleep'less-ly adv.

sleep'less-ness n.

sleep-walk'er (sleep-waw-kær) n. a person who walks while asleep. sleep' walk-ing n.

sleep'y (slee-pee) adj. (sleep'-i-er, sleep'-i-est) 1. feeling or showing a desire to sleep. 2. inactive, without stir or bustle, a sleepy little town. sleep'i-ly adv. sleep'i-ness n.

sleep'y-head (slee-pee-hed) n. a sleepy person.

sleet (sleet) n. snow and rain falling at the same time, hail or snow that melts while falling. sleet v. to fall as sleet in a shower, it is sleet'ing. sleet'y adj.

sleeve (sleeve) n. 1. the part of a garment covering the arm or part of it. 2. a tube enclosing a rod or another tube. 3. a windsock, a drogue towed by an aircraft. 4. the cover of a phonograph record. sleeved adj. □ up one's sleeve, concealed but available for use, in reserve; laugh up one's sleeve, to laugh secretly or be secretly pleased with oneself.

sleeve-less (sleev-lis) adj. without sleeves.

sleigh (slay) n. a sled, especially one used as a passenger vehicle drawn by horses. sleigh v. to ride in a sleigh. sleigh'ing n.

sleigh (slej) n. sleigh of hand, great skill in using the hands to perform conjuring tricks etc.

slender (slen-dér) adj. 1. slim and graceful. 2. small in amount, scanty, slender means. slen'der-ly adv. slen'der-ness n.

slenderize (slen-dë-riz) v. (slen' derized, slenderizing) to make or become slender.

sleep (slep) see sleep.

sleuth (slooth) n. (informal) a detective.

sleuth-ing n. (slooth-thing) searching for information as a detective does.

slew1 (sloo) = slue.

slew2 see slay.

slew3 n. (informal) a large number.

slew4 n. a slough (= swamp).

slice (sli) n. 1. a thin broad piece (or a wedge) cut from something. 2. a portion or share. 3. an implement with a thin broad blade for lifting or serving fish etc. 4. a slicing stroke in golf. slice v. (sliced, slic-ing) 1. to cut into slices. 2. to cut from a larger piece. 3. to cut cleanly or easily. 4. to strike (a ball, in golf) badly so that it spins away from the direction intended, going to the right of a right-handed player. slice'a-ble adj. slic'er n. □ slice of life, a realistic representation of everyday experience.

slick (slik) adj. 1. done or doing things smoothly and cleverly but perhaps with some trickery. 2. smooth in manner or speech. 3. smooth and slippery, the roads were slick with oil. slick n. a slippery place, a thick patch of oil floating on the sea. slick v. to make sleek. slick'ly adv. slick'ness n.

slick'er (slick'er) n. 1. a raincoat of oilskin or other smooth material. 2. (informal) a stylish person with a smooth but deceptive manner, a city slicker. slick'er-ed adj.

slide (slid) v. (slid, slid'ing) 1. to move or cause to move along a smooth surface with the same area in continuous contact with this. 2. to glide more or less erect over ice or another smooth surface without skates. 3. to move or cause to move quietly or unobtrusively, slid a coin into his hand. 4. to pass gradually into a condition or habit. 5. (in baseball, of a base runner) to drop to the ground and slide rapidly toward a base in order to reach it without being tagged out. slide n. 1. the act of sliding. 2. a smooth surface for sliding on. 3. an inclined plane for goods etc. or for children to play on. 4. a sliding part of a machine or instrument. 5. a small glass plate on which things are placed for examination under a microscope. 6. a mounted picture or transparency for showing on a blank surface by means of a projector. 7. a landslide or avalanche. slid'a-ble adj. □ let a thing slide, to fail to give its proper attention, to make no effort to control it. slide fastener, a zipper. slide rule, a ruler with a sliding central strip, marked with logarithmic scales and used for making calculations rapidly.

slide trombone, a trombone with a slide for controlling pitch. sliding door, a door that slides across an opening, not turning on hinges. sliding scale, a scale of fees or taxes or wages etc. that varies in accordance with the variation of some standard.

slide'er (slid'ër) n. 1. a person or thing that slides. 2. (in baseball) a fast pitch that curves away from the batter as it reaches him.

slight (slit) adj. 1. not much or great or thorough; paid not the slightest attention, paid none at all. 2. slender, not heavily built. slight v. to treat or speak of (a person etc.) as not worth one's attention, to insult by lack of respect or courtesy.
slight n. an insult given in this way. slight’ly adv. slight’ness n.
slim (slim) adj. (slim-mer, slim-mest) 1. of small girth or thickness, not heavily built. 2. small, insufficient, only a slim chance of success. slim v. (slimmed, slim-ming) to make oneself slimmer by dieting, exercise, etc. slim’ly adv. slim’ness n.
slime (slim) n. an unpleasant slippery thick liquid substance.
slim-y (slir-mee) adj. (slim-i-er, slim-i-est) 1. like slime, covered or smeared with slime. 2. disgustingly dishonest or meek or flattering. slim’ly adv. slim’ness n.
sling1 n. 1. a belt or strap or chain etc. looped around an object to support or lift it. 2. a bandage looped around the neck to form a support for an injured arm. 3. a looped strap used to throw a stone or other missile. sling v. (slung, sling-ing) 1. to suspend or lift with a sling. 2. to hurl (a stone) with a sling. 3. (informal) to throw.
sling2 n. a sweetened cocktail of gin etc. and water.
sling-shot (sling-shot) n. a device (often Y-shaped) with elastic for shooting small stones.
slink (slink) v. (slunk, slick-ing) to move in a stealthy or guilty or shame-faced way. slink-y (sling-kee) adj. 1. moving in a slicking way. 2. smooth and sinuous. 3. (informal) (of women’s clothes) close-fitting and flowing.
slip1 v. (slipped, slip-ping) 1. to slide accidentally, to lose one’s balance in this way. 2. to go or put or be put with a smooth movement. 3. to escape hold or capture by being slippery or not grasped firmly. 4. to make one’s way quietly or unobserved. 5. to detach or release; slip a stitch, (in knitting) to transfer it to the other needle without looping the yarn through it. 6. to escape, to become detached from, the ship slipped her moorings; it slipped my memory. 7. to make a careless mistake. 8. to fall below the normal standard, to lapse, to deteriorate. slip n. 1. the act of slipping. 2. an accidental or casual mistake. 3. a petticoat, a pillowcase. 4. a slipway. give a person the slip, to escape from him or avoid him skillfully. let slip, to release accidentally or deliberately; to miss (an opportunity); to reveal news etc. unintentionally or thoughtlessly. slip of the pen or tongue, a small mistake in which one thing is written or said accidentally instead of another. slip out of, to take off easily, as a garment. slipped disk, see disk. slip something over on, to trick. slip stitch, a loose hemming stitch in sewing, a slipped stitch in knitting. slip up, (informal) to make an accidental or casual mistake.
slip2 n. 1. a long narrow strip of thin wood or paper etc. 2. a cutting taken from a plant for grafting or planting. 3. a thin liquid containing fine clay, for coating pottery. a slip of a girl, a small girl.
slip-cover (slip-kuv-er) n. 1. a removable cloth cover for furniture. 2. a book jacket.
slip-knot (slip-not) n. a knot that can slide easily along the rope etc. on which it is tied, or one that can be undone by pulling.
slip-on (slip-on) adj. (of clothes) easily slipped on and off. slip-on n. a slip-on garment.
slip-o-ver (slip-oh-vër) n. a shoe, garment, etc. that can be easily slipped on or off, especially a sweater.
slip-page (slip-ij) n. 1. an amount or extent of slipping. 2. an act or instance of slipping.
slip-per (slip-ër) n. a light loose comfortable shoe for indoor wear. slip-per-y (slip-ë-ree) adj. (-per-i-er, -perl-i-est) 1. smooth and difficult to hold, causing slipping by its wetness or smoothness. 2. (of a person) not to be trusted to keep an agreement etc., a slippery customer. slip’per-i-ness n.
slippery elm, a North American red elm with an inner bark that is used in medicine.
slip-shod (slip-shod) adj. not doing things carefully, not done or arranged carefully.
slip-stream (slip-stream) n. a current of air driven backward as something is propelled forward.
slip-way (slip-way) n. a sloping structure used as a landing stage or on which ships are built or repaired.
slit (slit) n. a narrow straight cut or opening. slit v. (slit, slit-ting) 1. to cut a slit in. 2. to cut into strips. slit trench, a narrow trench for a soldier or weapon.
slithe-er (slith-ër) v. to slide unsteadily, to move with an irregular slipping movement. slithe-r-y adj.
sliver (sliv-ër) n. a thin strip cut or split from wood or glass etc.
slov-o-vitz (sliv-o-vits) n. a Balkan plum brandy.
slob (slob) n. (slang. contemptuous) a stupid or clumsy person.
slob-ber (slob-ër) v. to slaver or dribble; slobber over a person, to behave with repulsively excessive affection to him. slobber n. spittle running from the m outh, slaver. slob'ber-y adj. slob'ber-er •n.
sloe (slož) n. blackthorn, its small bluish-black plumlike fruit. □sloe gin, a gin in which sloes have been steeped.
sloe-eyed (slož-id) adj. with eyes of bluish-black color.
slog (slož) v. (slogged, slog-ging) 1. to hit hard. 2. to work or walk hard and steadily. slog n. 1. a hard hit. 2. a spell of hard steady work or walking. slog¬ger n.
slo-gan (slož-ga'n) n. a word or phrase adopted as a motto, a short catchy phrase used in advertising. slo-gan¬er (slož-ga-ne'er) n.
sloop (sloop) n. a small one-masted fore-and-aft-rigged vessel with a mainsail and jib.
slop 1 (slop) v. (slopped, slop¬ping) 1. to spill over or cause to spill, to splash liquid on. 2. to plod clumsily, especially through mud or puddles etc. 3. to feed (a pig) with slops. slop n. 1. weak unappetizing drink or liquid food. 2. (often slops) a quantity of slopped liquid; (often slops) will fed to pigs.
slop 2 n. 1. a loose outer garment worn by a workman. 2. clothes and bedding supplied to seamen. □slop chest, a store of clothing and personal goods for sale to seamen on a voyage.
slope (slohp) v. (slopped, slop¬ping) 1. to lie or turn at an angle from the horizontal or vertical. 2. to place in this position. slope n. 1. a sloping surface or direction, a stretch of rising or falling ground. 2. the amount by which something slopes.
slop¬py (slop¬ee) adj. (-pl¬er, -pl¬est) 1. having a liquid consistency that splashes easily, excessively liquid, sloppy oatmeal. 2. slipshod. 3. weakly sentimental. slop¬pl¬i¬ly adv. slop¬pl¬i¬ness n.
sloth (slož) v. 1. to pour (liquid) clumsily. 2. to splash, to move with a splashing sound. slosh n. a splashing sound. slosh¬y adj.
sloshed (sloshed) adj. (slang) drunk.
slot (slot) n. 1. a narrow opening through which something is to be put. 2. a groove or channel or slit into which something fits. 3. a position in a series or scheme; the program has its regular slot, its regular time for transmission. slot v. (slot¬ted, slot¬ting) 1. to make a slot or slots in. 2. to put into a slot. □slot car, an electric racing car that runs on a track. slot machine, a machine operated by a coin put in a slot, as to dispense small articles or for gambling.
sloth (slawth) n. 1. laziness. 2. an animal of tropical America that lives in trees and is capable of only very slow movement.
sloth¬ful (slawth¬ful) adj. lazy. sloth¬ful¬ly adv. sloth¬ful¬ness n.
sloch (slowch) v. to stand or sit or move in a lazy awkward way, not with an upright posture. slowch n. 1. a sloaching movement or posture. 2. an awkward, or lazy or incompetent person. sloch¬y adj. sloch¬ing¬ly adv. □sloch hat, a man's hat with a wide flexible brim.
slouth 1 (slož) n. 1. a swamp or marshy place. 2. (pr. slow) a state of hopeless depression.
slouth 2 (sluf) v. to shed, a snake sloughs its skin periodically. slouth n. a snake's cast skin, dead tissue that drops away. Slo¬vak (slovak) n. 1. a member of the Slavic people inhabiting Slovakia etc. 2. the language of these people. Slovak adj. slow¬en¬ly (sluv¬en¬lee) adv. (-en¬li¬er, -en¬li¬est) careless and untidy in appearance, not methodical in work. slow¬en¬li¬ness n.
slow (slož) adj. 1. not quick or fast, acting or moving or done without haste or rapidity. 2. (of a clock) showing a time earlier than the correct one. 3. mentally dull, stupid. 4. lacking livelihood, sluggish, business is slow today. 5. (of photographic film) not very sensitive to light, (of a lens) having only a small aperture. 6. tending to cause slowness. slow adv. slowly, go slow. slow v. to reduce the speed of, to go more slowly, slow down or up. slow¬ly adv. slow¬ness n. □slow motion, the operation of a motion picture that makes movements appear to be performed more slowly than in real life. □Do not confuse the adjective slow with the adverb slow. The adjective slow is used correctly in many expressions: work is slow, his slow pace, my slow mind. The adverb slow is used mainly by highway police, who order us to go slow. Careful writers prefer to use the adverb slowly: work is going slowly, he returned slowly to his seat, I think too slowly.
slow¬down (slož-down) n. 1. an act or instance of slowing down. 2. a deliberately slow pace of work as an organized protest by employees.
slow¬poke (slož-pohk) n. a person who is slow in his actions or work.
slow¬up (slož-up) n. an act or instance of slowing up.
slow¬wit¬ted (slož-wit¬id) adj. mentally slow, having below-average intelligence or understanding. SLR abbr. single-lens reflex. slub (slub) n. 1. a thick place or lump in yarn or thread. 2. wool etc. slightly sludge / small

862
twisted in preparation for spinning. slub
v. (slubbed, slub·bing) to twist (wool etc.) in preparation for spinning.
sludge (sluj) n. thick greasy mud, something resembling this. slug'gy adj.
slue (sloo) v. (slued, slu·ing) to turn or swing around.
slug (slug) n. 1. a small slimy animal like a snail without a shell. 2. a roundish lump of metal, a bullet of irregular shape, a pellet for firing from an air gun.
slug2 v. (slugged, slug·ging) (informal) to strike with a hard heavy blow. slug n. (informal) a blow of this kind.
slug·gard (slug·ard) n. a slow or lazy person. slug·gish (slug·ish) adj. slow-moving, not alert or lively. slug·gish·ly adv. slug·gish·ness n.
sluice (sloos) n. 1. an artificial channel for conducting water in a stream etc. 2. the water controlled by this. 3. a channel carrying off water. 4. a place where objects are rinsed. 5. the act of rinsing.
sluice v. (sluiced, slu·cing) 1. to let out (water) by means of a sluice. 2. to flood or scour or rinse with a flow of water. □sluice gate, a sliding gate or other contrivance for controlling the volume or flow of water in a sluice.
sluice·way (sloos·way) n. 1. an artificial water channel, especially for washing ore. 2. a water channel controlled by a sluice gate.
slum (slum) n. a dirty overcrowded district inhabited by very poor people. slum v. (slummed, slum·ming) to visit a slum, especially out of curiosity or for charitable purposes.
slum·ber (slum·ber) n. sleep. slumber v. to sleep. slum·ber·er n. □slumber party, a pajama party.
slum·ber·ous (slum·ber·ūs), slum·bour·ous (slum·bour·ūs) adj. 1. of or relating to slumber. 2. sluggish, drowsy. 3. causing sleep.
slum·lord (slum·lord) n. a landlord (especially absentee) of slum buildings who charges high rents and refuses to make repairs, improvements, etc.
slump (slump) n. a sudden or great fall in prices or values or in the demand for goods etc. slump v. 1. to undergo a slump. 2. to sit or flop down heavily and slackly.
slung (slung) see sling.
slunk (slungk) see slink.
slur (slur) v. (slurred, slur·ring) 1. to write or pronounce indistinctly with each letter or sound running into the next. 2. to mark (notes) with a slur in music, to perform in the way indicated by this. 3. to pass lightly over (a fact etc.), slurred over it. 4. to speak ill of. slur n. 1. a slurred letter or sound. 2. a curved line placed over notes in music to show that they are to be sung to one syllable or played smoothly without a break. 3. discredit, there is no slur on his reputation.
slurp (slurp) v. (slang) to make a noisy sucking sound in eating or drinking.
slump n. (slang) this sound.
slur·ry (slur·ee) n. (pl. -ries) thin mud, thin liquid cement.
slush (slush) n. 1. partly melted snow on the ground. 2. silly sentimental talk or writing. slush'y adj. slush·ly adv. slush·y·ness n.
□slush fund, a fund of money for illegal purposes such as bribing officials.
slut (slut) n. 1. a slovenly woman. 2. an immoral woman, a prostitute. slut·ish adj. slut·ish·ness n.
sly (sl) adj. (sly·er, sly·est) 1. done or doing things in an unpleasantly cunning and secret way. 2. mischievous and knowing, with a sly smile. sly·ly adv. sly·ness n. □on the sly, slyly, secretly.
Sm symbol samarium.
SM abbr. 1. Master of Science. 2. Sergeant Major.
sm. abbr. small.
smack1 (smak) n. 1. a slap. 2. a hard hit. 3. a loud kiss. smack v. to slap, to hit hard; smack one's lips, to close and then part them noisily in enjoyment. smack adv. (informal) with a smack, directly, went smack through the window.
smack2 n. a slight flavor or trace of something. smack v. to have a slight flavor or trace of something, his manner smacks of conceit.
smack3 n. a boat with a single mast used for coating or fishing.
smack4 n. (slang) heroin.
smack·er (smak·er) n. (slang) a dollar. small (smawl) adj. 1. not large or big. 2. not great in size or importance or number etc. 3. of the smaller kind, the small intestine. 4. doing things on a small scale, a small farmer. 5. petty. small n. the most slender part of something, small of the back, the part of the back at the waist. small adv. in a small size or way, into small pieces, chop it small. small·ish adj. small·ish·ness n. □look or feel small, to be humiliated. no small thing, something considerable; no small excitement, great excitement. small arms, low-caliber firearms. small capital, a letter shaped like a capital but only about as high as a lower-case letter. small change, coins of little value; something trivial. small fry, see fry2. small game, the smaller animals (birds etc.) hunted for sport. small potatoes, (informal) a person or thing of small significance or value. small-minded (smarl-mind-id) adj. narrow or selfish in outlook.

smal-pox (smawl-poks) n. a contagious disease caused by a virus, with pustules that often leave disfiguring scars.

small-scale (smawl-skayl) adj. 1. drawn to a small scale so that few details are shown. 2. not extensive, involving only small quantities etc.

small-time (smawl-tim) adj. of an unimportant level, small-time crooks. small'-time n.

smart (smahr-t) adj. 1. forceful, brisk, a smart pace. 2. clever, ingenious. 3. neat and elegant, a smart dresser. smart v. to feel a stinging pain (bodily or mental).

smart n. a stinging pain. smart'ly adv.

smart'ing-ly adv. smart'ness n.

smart aleck, (informal) a know-it-all.

smart bomb, (slang) a bomb guided to its target by a laser beam or television etc.

smart money, money paid or exacted as a penalty or compensation; money wagered or invested by persons with acumen in financial matte etc., the smart money was on the gray. smart set, the class of wealthy fashionable elegant persons, clothing for the smart set only.

smart'en (smahr-tén) v. (also smarten up) to make or become smarter.

smart' y (smahr-tee) n. (pl. smart-les) (slang) a smart aleck. smartly adj.

smar'y pants, (slang) a would-be clever person.

smash (smash) v. 1. to break or become broken suddenly and noisily into pieces. 2. to strike or move with great force. 3. to strike (a ball) forcefully downward in tennis etc. 4. to crash (a vehicle), to have a crash. 5. to overthrow or destroy, police smashed the drug ring. 6. to ruin or become ruined financially. smash n. 1. the act or sound of smashing. 2. a collision. 3. a disaster, financial ruin.

smash hit, (slang) an extremely successful thing.

smashed (smashpt) adj. (slang) drunk.

smash'er (smash-er) n. an excellent person or thing.

smash'ing (smash-ing) adj. (informal) excellent.

smash-up (smash-up) n. a complete smash, a violent collision of motor vehicles.

smat' ter'ing (smat-er-ring) n. a slight superficial knowledge of a language or subject.

smear (smear) v. 1. to spread with a greasy or sticky or dirty substance. 2. to try to damage the reputation of.

smear n. 1. something smeared on a surface, a mark made by this. 2. a specimen of material smeared on a microscope slide for examination. 3. an attempt to damage a reputation, a smear campaign.

smear'er n.

smear'y (smear-e) adj. 1. smeared. 2. tending to smear things.

smell (smel) n. 1. the faculty of perceiving things by their action on the sense organs of the nose. 2. the quality that is perceived in this way. 3. an unpleasant quality of this kind. 4. an act of smelling something. smell v. (smelled, smeling) 1. to perceive the smell of, to detect or test by one's sense of smell. 2. to give off a smell. 3. to give off an unpleasant smell.

Smelling salts, a solid preparation of ammonia used for smelling as a stimulant to relieve faintness etc.

smell'er (smel-er) n. (slang) the nose.

smell'y (smel-ee) adj. having a strong or unpleasant smell. smell'y ness n.

smelt (smelt) v. to heat and melt (ore) so as to obtain the metal it contains, to obtain (metal) in this way. smell'er n. an apparatus or person that smelts.

smelt'n (smelt'n) n. a small fish related to salmon.

smid-gen, smid-gin (smij-ên) n. (informal) a small bit or amount.

smif-lax (smiz-laks) n. 1. a kind of climbing shrub. 2. a kind of climbing asparagus cultivated for its decorative leaves.

smile (smil) n. a facial expression indicating pleasure or amusement, with the lips stretched and turning upward at their ends. smile v. (smiled, smiling) 1. to give a smile, to express by smiling, smiled her thanks. 2. to look bright or favorable; fortune smiled on us, favored us. smiler n. smil'ing-ly adv.

smirch (smurch) v. 1. to smear or soil. 2. to bring discredit upon (a reputation).

smirch n. a smear, discredit.

smirk (smurk) n. a self-satisfied smile.

smirk v. to give a smirk. smirk'er n.

smirk'ing-ly adv.

smite (smit) v. (smote, smit-ten or smote, smit-ing) 1. to hit hard. 2. to have a sudden effect on, his conscience smote him. smit'er n.

smith (smith) n. 1. a person who makes things in metal. 2. a blacksmith.

smith'er- eens (smith-er-eenz) n. pl. (informal) small fragments.

smith'y (smith-e) n. (pl. smithies) 1. a blacksmith. 2. his workshop.

smit'ten (smit-ên) see smite.
with, affected by (a disease or desire or fascination etc.).

smock (smok) n. an outer garment shaped like a long loose shirt. smock v. to ornament with smocking.

smock- ing (smok-ing) n. a decoration of close gathers stitched into a honeycomb pattern.

smog (smog) n. fog polluted by smoke. smog’gy adj. (-gl-er, -gl-est).

smoke (smok) n. 1. the visible vapor given off by a burning substance. 2. an act or spell of smoking tobacco, wanted a smoke. 3. (informal) a cigarette or cigar. smoke v. (smoked, smok-ing) 1. to give out smoke or steam or other visible vapor. 2. (of a fireplace) to send smoke into a room instead of up the chimney. 3. to darken with smoke, smoked glass. 4. to preserve by treating with smoke, smoked salmon. 5. to draw into the mouth the smoke from a cigarette or cigar or tobacco pipe, to use (a cigarette etc.) in this way, to do this as a habit. □smoke bomb, a bomb that gives out dense smoke when it explodes.

smoke out, to drive out by means of smoke; (informal) to expose. smoke screen, a mass of smoke used to conceal the movements of troops; something intended to conceal or disguise one's activities. smoking car, a railroad car designated for those who smoke. smoking jacket, a man's loose jacket worn for lounging, especially at home.

smoke-eat-er (smok-ee-tar) n. (slang) a fireman.

smoke-house (smok-hous-es, pr. -how-ziz) a building used for smoking meat, fish, etc.

smoke-jump-er (smok-jum-per) n. a fire fighter who parachutes to forest fires not reachable by those on the ground.

smoke-less (smok-lis) adj. 1. free from smoke. 2. producing little or no smoke, smokeless fuel.

smok-er (smok-er) n. 1. a person who smokes tobacco as a habit. 2. (informal) a smoking car.

smoke-stack (smok-stak) n. a pipe carrying off gases and smoke from buildings, locomotives, etc.

smok-ey (smok-kee) n. (in CB radio) a state policeman, a highway patrolman.

smok-y (smok-ee) adj. (smok-ler, smok-est) 1. giving off much smoke. 2. covered or filled with smoke. 3. grayish, smoky blue. smok-’ler ness n.

smol- der (smoh-dar) v. 1. to burn slowly with smoke but no flame. 2. to burn inwardly with concealed anger or jealousy etc. 3. (of feelings etc.) to exist in a suppressed state, discontent smoldered.

smooch (smouch) v. (informal) to engage in kissing and caressing. smooch n. a caress or kiss.

smooth (smooth) adj. 1. having an even surface with no projections, free from roughness. 2. not harsh in sound or taste. 3. moving evenly without jolts or bumping. 4. pleasantly polite but perhaps insincere. smooth adv. smoothly, the course of true love never did run smooth.

smooth v. 1. to make or become smooth. 2. to remove problems or dangers from, smooth a person's path. smooth n. a smooth surface. smooth’ ly adv. smooth-ness n. smooth'er n. □smooth muscle, a muscle without striations, usually in a thin sheet and performing an involuntary function.

smooth-bore (smooth-bohr) adj. (of a firearm) having an un rifled barrel.

smooth'bore n. a smoothbore firearm.

smooth-ly (smooh-thee) n. (informal) a smooth person.

smoke (smok) n. 1. the visible vapor given off by a burning substance. 2. an act or spell of smoking tobacco, wanted a smoke. 3. (informal) a cigarette or cigar. smoke v. (smoked, smok-ing) 1. to give out smoke or steam or other visible vapor. 2. (of a fireplace) to send smoke into a room instead of up the chimney. 3. to darken with smoke, smoked glass. 4. to preserve by treating with smoke, smoked salmon. 5. to draw into the mouth the smoke from a cigarette or cigar or tobacco pipe, to use (a cigarette etc.) in this way, to do this as a habit. □smoke bomb, a bomb that gives out dense smoke when it explodes.

smoke out, to drive out by means of smoke; (informal) to expose. smoke screen, a mass of smoke used to conceal the movements of troops; something intended to conceal or disguise one's activities. smoking car, a railroad car designated for those who smoke. smoking jacket, a man's loose jacket worn for lounging, especially at home.

smoke-eat-er (smok-ee-tar) n. (slang) a fireman.

smoke-house (smok-hous-es, pr. -how-ziz) a building used for smoking meat, fish, etc.

smoke-jump-er (smok-jum-per) n. a fire fighter who parachutes to forest fires not reachable by those on the ground.

smoke-less (smok-lis) adj. 1. free from smoke. 2. producing little or no smoke, smokeless fuel.

smok-er (smok-er) n. 1. a person who smokes tobacco as a habit. 2. (informal) a smoking car.

smoke-stack (smok-stak) n. a pipe carrying off gases and smoke from buildings, locomotives, etc.

smok-ey (smok-kee) n. (in CB radio) a state policeman, a highway patrolman.

smok-y (smok-ee) adj. (smok-ler, smok-est) 1. giving off much smoke. 2. covered or filled with smoke. 3. grayish, smoky blue. smok-’ler ness n.

smol- der (smoh-dar) v. 1. to burn slowly with smoke but no flame. 2. to burn inwardly with concealed anger or jealousy etc. 3. (of feelings etc.) to exist in a suppressed state, discontent smoldered.

smooch (smouch) v. (informal) to engage in kissing and caressing. smooch n. a caress or kiss.

smooth (smooth) adj. 1. having an even surface with no projections, free from roughness. 2. not harsh in sound or taste. 3. moving evenly without jolts or bumping. 4. pleasantly polite but perhaps insincere. smooth adv. smoothly, the course of true love never did run smooth.

smooth v. 1. to make or become smooth. 2. to remove problems or dangers from, smooth a person's path. smooth n. a smooth surface. smooth’ ly adv. smooth-ness n. smooth'er n. □smooth muscle, a muscle without striations, usually in a thin sheet and performing an involuntary function.

smooth-bore (smooth-bohr) adj. (of a firearm) having an un rifled barrel.

smooth'bore n. a smoothbore firearm.

smooth-ly (smooh-thee) n. (informal) a smooth person.

smor-gas-bord (smor-gas-bohrd) n. Swedish hors d'oeuvres, a buffet meal with a variety of dishes.

smote (smoht) see smite.

smoth'er (smuth-er) v. 1. to suffocate or stifle, to be suffocated. 2. to put out or keep down (a fire) by heaping ash on it. 3. to cover thickly. 4. to restrain or suppress, smothered a smile. smoother n. a dense cloud of dust or smoke etc.

smoth'er-y adj.
snack (snak) n. a small or casual or hurried meal. snack v. to have a snack.

snack' er n. □ snack bar, a place where snacks are sold.

snafle (snaf-řl) n. a horse's bit without a curb.

sna-fu (sna-foo) n. (slang) a state of utter confusion. snafu adj. in this state.

> From situation normal, all fouled up.

snag (snag) n. 1. a jagged projection. 2. a tear in fabric that has caught on a snag. 3. an unexpected difficulty. snag v. (snagged, snagging) to catch or tear or be caught on a snag. snag'gy adj.

snail (snayl) n. 1. a soft-bodied animal with a shell that can enclose its whole body. 2. (snayl) v. (snogy) to move, twist, etc. like a snail.

snake'like adj. 1. like a snake.

snake-like adj. 2. like a snake.

snaky adj. 1. like a snake.

snappy adj. 1. like a snake.

snarler (snahrk) v. 1. to growl angrily with the teeth bared. 2. to speak or utter in a bad-tempered way.

snarl'y adj. 1. like a snake.

snarf (snarf) v. 1. to seize quickly or eagerly. 2. to take quickly or when a chance occurs, snatched a few hours' sleep.

snatch (snach) v. 1. to seize quickly or eagerly. 2. to take quickly or when a chance occurs, snatched a few hours' sleep.

snare (snayr) n. 1. a trap for catching birds or animals, usually with a noose. 2. something liable to entangle a person or expose him to danger or failure etc. 3. one of the strings of gut or hide stretched across the lower head of a snare drum to produce a rattling effect. 4. a snare drum.

snare v. (snared, snaring) to trap in a snare.

snare drum, a drum with snares.

snark (snahrk) n. an imaginary animal of ill-defined characteristics and potential.

> From Lewis Carroll's poem "The Hunting of the Snark" (1876).

snarvl (snarl) v. 1. to growl angrily with the teeth bared. 2. to speak or utter in a bad-tempered way.

snarl'y adj. 1. like a snake.

snarling v. 1. to growl angrily with the teeth bared. 2. to speak or utter in a bad-tempered way.

snarl'y adj. 1. like a snake.

snarl up, to make or become jammed or tangled, traffic was snarled up.

snatch (snach) v. 1. to seize quickly or eagerly. 2. to take quickly or when a chance occurs, snatched a few hours' sleep.

snatch n. 1. the act of snatching.

2. a short or brief part, snippets of song: works in snippets, in short spells.

snazzy (snaz-ee) adj. (-zi-er, -zi-est) (slang) smart, stylish.

sneak (sneek) v. (sneaked, sneaking) to go or take or convey furtively.

sneak adj. acting or done without warning, sneak attack.

sneak n. a sneaking or underhand person.
adv. sneak’y adj. sneak’i-ness n. sneak preview, a preview of a motion picture presented so that the producers etc. can observe the audience’s reaction. sneak thief, a burglar who enters by sneaking or reaching through an open door or window. The past form snuck is acceptable only when the writer is attempting to portray regional dialect.

sneak-er (snee-kár) n. a soft-soled shoe.
sneak-ing (snee-king) adj. persistent but not openly acknowledged, had a sneaking affection for him.
sneer (sneer) n. a scornful expression or remark. sneer v. to show contempt by a sneer.
sneer’er n. sneer’ful adj. sneering’ly adv.
sneeze (sneeze) n. a sudden audible involuntary expulsion of air through the nose and mouth, to expel an irritant substance from the nostrils. sneeze v. (sneezed, sneez’ing) to give a sneeze.
sneeze’er n. sneez’y adj. □ not to be sneezed at, (slang) not to be despised, worth having.

snick-er (snik-ér) v. to give a sly giggle. snicker n. this giggle. snick-er’ing ly adv.
snide (sníd) adj. 1. (of a trick etc.) dishonorable, spiteful. 2. sneering or derogatory in a sly way.
sniff (sniff) v. 1. to draw up air audibly through the nose. 2. to draw in through the nose as one breathes, to try the smell of. sniff n. the act or sound of sniffing.

sniff’er n. sniff’ing’ly adv. □ sniff at, (informal) to show contempt for. sniff out, (slang) to perceive, to discover, as by smelling.

sniff’e (sniff’él) v. (sniff’ed, sniff’ling) to sniff slightly or repeatedly. sniffle n. the act or sound of sniffing. sniff’ler n. □ the sniffles, (informal) a slight cold.

sniff’fy (sniff’ce) adj. (-fl’er, -fl’est) (informal) contemptuous. sniff’i-ly adv. sniff’i-ness n.

sniff’ter (sniff’ tér) n. 1. a pear-shaped glass for brandy, liqueur, etc. 2. (slang) a small drink of liquor.

snig’ger (snig’gr) = snicker.
snip (snip) v. (snipped, snip’ping) to cut with scissors or shears in small quick strokes. snip n. 1. the act or sound of snipping. 2. a piece snipped off. 3. (informal) a small or unimportant person.
snipe (snip) n. (pl. snipes, snipe) a wading bird with a long straight bill, frequenting marshes. snipe v. 1. to fire shots from a hiding place. 2. to make sly critical remarks attacking a person or thing.

snip’er (snip’ër) n. 1. a person who fires shots from a hiding place, usually at long range. 2. a person who kills by sniping.

snip’pet (snip-it) n. 1. a small piece cut off. 2. a fragment of information or news, a brief extract.

snip’py (snip-ec) adj. (-pl’er, -pl’est) 1. (informal) short, curt, a snippy reply. 2. scrawny, in snips. snip’pi-ly adv. snip’pi-ness n.

snips (snips) n. pl. hand shears for cutting metal.
snit (snit) n. an agitated state, in a snit.
snitch (snich) v. (slang) 1. to steal. 2. to act as an informer. snitch n. (slang) an informer.

sniv-’el (sniv’él) v. (sniv’eled, sniv’el’ing) to cry or complain in a miserable whining way. snivel n.

snob (snob) n. a person who has an exaggerated respect for social position or wealth or for certain attainments or tastes, and who despises people whom he considers inferior; snob appeal or value, qualities that appeal to people’s snobbish feelings. snob’ber’y n.

snob’ish adj. of or like a snob.

snob’blish (snob’ish) adj. (slang) of or like a snob.

snood (snood) n. a loose baglike ornamental net in which a woman’s hair is held at the back.

snook’er (snuk’ier) n. a game played on a billiard table with fifteen red and six other colored balls.

snook’ered (snuk’erd) adj. 1. in a position in snooker where a direct shot would lose points. 2. (slang) thwarted or defeated.

snoop (snoop) v. (informal) to pry inquisitively. snoop n. snoop’er n. snoop’y adj.

snoot (snoot) n. 1. (slang) the nose. 2. (informal) a snob.

snoot’y (snoot’ty) adj. (snoot’i-er, snoot’i-est) (informal) haughty and contemptuous. snoot’i-ly adv. snoot’i-ness n.

snooze (snooz) n. (informal) a nap. snooze v. (snoozed, snooz’ing) (informal) to take a snooze. snooz’er n.

snore (snor) n. a snorting or grunting sound made during sleep. snore v. (snored, snor’ing) to make such sounds. snor’er n.

snor’kel (snor’kel) n. 1. a breathing tube to enable a person to swim under water. 2. a device by which a submerged submarine can take in and expel air. snorkel v. to swim with the aid of a snorkel.
usually drunk quickly. sne to utter a sneeze. snort n.

snot (snoot) n. (vulgar) 1. mucous discharge from the nose. 2. a contemptible person.

snot’ty adj.

snot (snowt) n. 1. an animal's long projecting nose or nose and jaws. 2. the projecting front part of something.

snow (snoh) n. 1. crystals of ice that form from atmospheric vapor and fall in light white flakes. 2. a fall or layer of snow. 3. something resembling snow. 4. (slang) cocaine. snow v. 1. (of snow) to fall, it is snowing. 2. to scatter or fall like snow. 3. (slang) to attempt to deceive by glib talk. □ snow bird, a white or partly white bird, especially the snow bunting.

snowed in, snowbound. snowed under, covered with snow; overwhelmed with a mass of letters or work etc. snow fence, a barrier against drifting snow. snow goose, a wild white goose of North America. snow job, (slang) an attempt at deception by overwhelming with details. snow line, the level above which an area is covered permanently with snow. snow tire, a tire with a deep tread used for gaining greater traction in the snow.

snowball (snoh-bawl) n. 1. snow pressed into a small compact mass for throwing in play. 2. a shrub with round white flowers. 3. crushed ice flavored with colored syrup and served in a cone-shaped paper cup. snowball v. 1. to throw snowballs at, to play in this way. 2. to grow quickly in size or intensity, as a snowball does when rolled in more snow, opposition to the war snowballed.

snow bank (snoh-bangk) n. a snowdrift, an accumulation of snow created by a snowplow or shoveling.

snow bell (snoh-bel) n. a small tree with white flowers.

snow berry (snoh-ber-e) n. (pl. -ries) a garden shrub with white berries.

snow blind (snoh-blind) adj. unable to see owing to the effects on the eye of the reflection of light off snow. snow blindness n.

snow bound (snoh-bownd) adj. 1. prevented by snow from going out or traveling. 2. blocked by snow.

snow capped (snoh-kapt) adj. (of a mountain) covered at the top with snow.

snow drift (snoh-drift) n. a bank of snow heaped up by wind.

snow drop (snoh-drop) n. 1. a small flower growing from a bulb, with hanging white flowers blooming in early spring.

snow fall (snoh-fawl) n. a fall of snow, the amount that falls.

snow field (snoh-field) n. a permanent wide expanse of snow.

snow flake (snoh-flayk) n. a flake of snow.

snow man (snoh-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a figure made in snow roughly in the shape of a man.

snow mobile (snoh-mo-bel) n. a motor vehicle used to travel over the snow, especially with skis and a caterpillar track.

snow plow (snoh-plow) n. a machine for clearing snow from a road or railroad track etc.

snow shoe (snoh-shoo) n. a racket head, usually strung with rawhide, attached to the foot and enabling the wearer to walk on the snow without sinking in. snow shoe v. (snowshoed, snowshoeing) to travel on snowshoes.

snow storm (snoh-storm) n. a storm in which snow falls.

snow suit (snoh-soot) n. a child's outer garment designed for wear in cold weather.

snow white (snoh-hwrit) adj. pure white.

snow y (snoh-ee) adj. (snow-l-er, snow-l-est) 1. with snow falling, snowy weather. 2. covered with snow. 3. as white as snow. □ snowy egret, a white egret. snowy owl, a large white owl.

snub (snub) v. (snubbed, snubbing) to reject or humiliate (a person) by treating him scornfully or in an unfriendly way.

snub n. treatment of this kind.

snub nosed (snub-nohzd) adj. having a short and stumply nose.

snuck (snuk) see the note under sneak.

snuff (snuf) n. powdered tobacco for sniffing into the nostrils. snuff v. to draw in through the nose.

snuff v. to put out (a candle) by covering or pinching the flame. snuf fer n.

snuff box (snuf-boks) n. a container for holding snuff.

snuff colord (snuf-kul-ord) adj. dark yellowish brown.

snuf fling (snuf-ful) v. (snuf fled, snuf fling) to sniff in a noisy way, to breathe noisily through a partly blocked nose.

snuff lie n. a snuffing sound. snuff ly adj.

snug (snug) adj. (snug-ger, snug- gest) cozy, (of a garment) close-fitting. snug ly adv. snug ness n.

snug gies (snug-ez) n. (informal) long knitted underwear for women and children.

snug gle (snug-egl) v. (snug gled, snug gling) to nestle, to cuddle.

so (soh) adv. & conj. 1. to the extent or in the manner or with the result indicated, it was so dark that we could not see. 2. very, we are so pleased to see you. 3. for that reason, so they ran away. 4. also, if you go, so shall I. so pronoun that, the same thing, do you think so? and so say all of us. so and so, and others of the same kind. or so, or about that number or amount, two hundred or so. so as to, in order to. so far, so good, progress has been satisfactory up to this point. so longi, (informal) goodby till we meet again. so long as, provided that, on condition that. so many, as if they or it were, cried like so many babies. so much, as if it were, melted like so much snow; so much for that idea, no more need be said of it. so that, in order that. so what?, (informal) that fact has no importance.

so so, n. sol.

so., So. abbr. 1. south. 2. southern.

s.o. abbr. strikeout.

soak (sohk) v. 1. to place or lie in a liquid so as to become thoroughly wet. 2. (of liquid) to penetrate gradually, (of rain etc.) to drench. 3. to absorb, soak it up with a sponge; soak up knowledge. 4. (slang) to extract much money from (a person) by charging or taxing him very heavily. soak n. 1. the act or process of soaking. 2. (slang) a heavy drinker.

soak'er n.

so-and-so (soh-án-soh) n. (pl. so-and-sos) 1. a person or thing that need not be named. 2. (informal, to avoid using a vulgar word) a disliked person, he is a so-and-so!

soap (sohp) n. a substance used for washing and cleaning things, made of fat or oil combined with an alkali. soap v. to apply soap to. no soap, (slang) nothing doing. soap bubble, a globe of air enclosed in an iridescent film of soapy water, made especially by blowing through a pipe or ring dipped in soapsuds. soap flakes, soap prepared in small flakes for washing clothes etc.

soap opera, a sentimental broadcast serial with a domestic setting. soap powder, powder of soap with additives.

soap-box (sohp-boks) n. a makeshift stand for a street orator.

soap-stone (sohp-stohn) n. steatite.

soap-suds (sohp-sudz) n. pl. froth of soapy water.

soap'y (sohp-pee) adj. (soap'·i·er, soap'·i·est) 1. like soap. 2. covered or impregnated with soap. 3. (informal) trying to win favor by flattery or excessive politeness. soap'·i·ly adv. soap'·i·ness n.

soar (sohr) v. 1. to rise high in flight. 2. to rise very high, prices soared. soar'er n.

sob (sob) n. uneven drawing of breath in weeping or when out of breath. sob v. (sobbed, sob·bing) to weep or breathe or utter with sobbs. sob'ber n. sob'bing·ly adv. sob sister, a journalist who writes or edits sob stories.

so·ber story, a story intended to arouse sympathy.

so·ber (soh-bér) adj. 1. not intoxicated. 2. serious and self-controlled, not frivolous. 3. (of color) not bright or conspicuous. sober v. to make or become sober, sober up or down. so'ber·ly adv.

so·ber·ness n.

so·bri·ety (sö-bri·ë-tee) n. being sober.

so·bri·quet (soh-bri-kay) n. a nickname.

soc. abbr. 1. social. 2. society.

so·called (soh-ka·wl) adj. called by that name or description but perhaps not deserving it, a so-called expert.

soc·cer (sok-er) n. a game played by two teams of eleven players in which the ball may not be handled during play except by the goalkeeper.

so·cial·ble (soh-shä-bäl) adj. fond of company, characterized by friendly companionship.

so·cial·ity adv. so·cial·bi·li·ty (soh-shä-bil-i-tee) n.

so·cial (soh-shal) adj. 1. living in an organized community, not solitary. 2. of society or its organization, of the mutual relationships of people or classes living in an organized community, social problems. 3. of or designed for companionship and sociability, a social club. 4. sociable. social n. a social gathering, especially one organized by a club, congregation etc. so·cial·ly adv. so·cial climber, a person seeking to gain a higher rank in society.

social science, the scientific study of human society and social relationships. social security, government assistance for those who lack economic security through being unemployed or aged or ill or disabled etc.

so·cial studies, a course of study including civics, geography, history, etc. social work, organized work directed toward helping people with problems of health, housing, education, etc. social worker, a person trained in social work.

so·cial·ism (soh-shä-liz-äm) n. a political and economic theory advocating that land, natural resources, and the chief industries should be owned by the community as a whole. so·cial·ist n. & adj.

so·cial·is·tic (soh-shä-list-tik) adj.

so·cial·ite (soh-shä-lit) n. a person who is prominent in fashionable society.

so·cial·ize (soh-shä-liz) v. (so·cial·ized, so·cial·izing) 1. to organize in a socialistic manner. 2. to behave sociably, to take part in social activities. so· sociology, the provision of medical services for all public funds.

society (sō-sē) n. (pl. -ties) 1. an organized community, the system of living in this. 2. people of the higher social classes. 3. company, companionship, always enjoy his society; he is at his best in society. 4. a group of people organized for some common purpose.

society (sō-šē-tee) n. 1. sociological, its soda, a store or section of a store that serves soda, ice cream, etc. soda jerk, (informal) an attendant at a soda fountain. soda pop, a carbonated drink with artificial flavoring. soda water, water made fizzy by being charged with carbon dioxide under pressure.

dimensional n. made very wet.
dimensional adv. dimensional n. adj.

dimensional n. soda, something for dimensional n. soda, something for

dimensional n. soda, something for

soda, a store or section of a store that serves soda, ice cream, etc. soda jerk, (informal) an attendant at a soda fountain. soda pop, a carbonated drink with artificial flavoring. soda water, water made fizzy by being charged with carbon dioxide under pressure.

soda, a store or section of a store that serves soda, ice cream, etc. soda jerk, (informal) an attendant at a soda fountain. soda pop, a carbonated drink with artificial flavoring. soda water, water made fizzy by being charged with carbon dioxide under pressure.
a sedimentary rock. soft sell, quietly persuasive salesmanship. soft shoulder, the unpaved side of a road. soft soap, semiliquid soap; (informal) persuasive talk, flattery. soft spot, a feeling of affection toward a person or thing. soft touch, a person who is easily duped or who readily gives money when asked; a person or a team that is easily defeated; an activity that is easily accomplished.

soft-ball (sawft-bawl) n. 1. a modified form of baseball using a ball like a baseball but softer and larger. 2. this ball.

soft-boiled (sawft-bold) adj. (of eggs) boiled but without allowing yolk and white to become set.

soft-bound (sawft-bound) adj. paperback.

soft-core (sawft-kohr) adj. (of pornography) not describing or showing sexual acts explicitly.

soft-cover (sawft-kuv-er) adj. paperback. soft-cover n. a paperback book.

soften v. to make or become soft or softer. soften up, to make weaker by attacking repeatedly; to make less able to resist (salesmanship etc.) by making preliminary approaches.

soft-head-ed (sawft-hed-id) adj. idiotic, foolish.

soft-heart-ed (sawft-hahr-tid) adj. compassionate.

softly (sawft-lee) n. (informal) a person who is physically weak or not hardy, or who is soft-hearted.

soft-pedal (sawft-ped-al) v. (aled, al'ing) (informal) to refrain from emphasizing, soft-pedaled his criticism.

soft-shelled (sawft-shel) adj. clam of North American edible clam that has a thin white shell.

soft-shell crab a crab that has a soft shell after a recent molt.

soft-spoken adj. having a soft voice.

soft-ware (sawft-wair) n. computer programs or the tapes containing these (as distinct from hardware).

soft-wood (sawft-wuud) n. the soft light wood obtained from coniferous trees, such as pine.

soggy (sog-ee) adj. (-gl-er, -gl’est) 1. sodden. 2. moist and heavy in texture, soggy bread. soggh’ly adv. soggh’ness n.

sold (sohd) see sell. sold on, (slang) enthusiastic about.

soldier (sod-ér) n. a soft alloy used to cement metal parts together. solder v. to join with solder. soldier v. n. soldering iron, a tool used hot for applying solder.

soldier (sod-ér) n. a member of an army, especially a private or N.C.O. soldier v. 1. to serve as a soldier. 2. to shirk one’s work, he soldiers on the job.

soldier of fortune, an adventurous person ready to serve any country or person that will hire him.

soldierly (sod-ér-lee) adj. like a soldier.

sole (sohl) n. 1. the undersurface of a foot. 2. the part of a shoe or stocking etc. that covers this (often excluding the heel). sole v. (soled, sol’ing) to put a sole on (a shoe).

sole’ (sohl) n. 1. the loose upper layer of earth in which plants grow. 2. ground as territory, on American soil.

sol’-ree, sol’-reé (swah-ray) n. a social gathering in the evening, as for music.

so-journ (soh-jurn) n. a temporary stay.

sojourn (soh-jurn, soh-jurn) v. to stay at a place temporarily. so’journ-er n.

sole (sohl) n. a name for the fifth note of a scale in music.

sole’ (sohl) n. a liquid solution or suspension of a colloid.

Sol (sol) n. the sun.

sol. abbr. 1. soluble. 2. solution.

Sol. abbr. Solomon.

sole’ (sohl) n. comfort in distress, something that gives this. solace v. (sol’-aced, sol’-ac-ing) to give solace to. sol’-ac’er n.

sol’-lar (sohl-lar) adj. 1. of or derived from the sun, solar energy. 2. reckoned by the sun, solar time. solar battery, a device to convert solar radiation into electricity. solar eclipse, an eclipse of the sun.

solar flare, a small outburst of gases from the sun’s surface. solar heating, heating derived from solar energy.

solar home, a home heated by or otherwise equipped to use solar energy. solar month, one-twelfth of a solar year. solar plexus, the network of nerves at the pit of the stomach; this area.

solar system, the sun with the heavenly bodies that revolve around it. solar wind, a continuous flow of charged particles from the sun.

solar year, the time between one vernal equinox and another.

solarium (sod-lair-i-um) n. a room or balcony, often enclosed with glass, where sunlight can be enjoyed for medical purposes or for pleasure.

sole (sohld) see sell.
sole adj. 1. one and only, our sole objection is this. 2. belonging exclusively to one person or group, we have the sole right to sell these cars. sole'ly adv.

sol·e·ci·um (sol-e-siz-ém) n. a mistake in the use of language, an offense against good manners or etiquette.  ▶ Do not confuse solemicism with solipsism.

sol·em·n (sol-ém) adj. 1. not smiling or cheerful. 2. dignified and impressive, a solemn occasion. 3. formal, accompanied with a religious or other ceremony. sol·em·n·ly adv. sol·em·n·ness n. sol·em·ni·ly adv. sol·em·ni·ty so·le·no·id (sō·lé-nō·id) n. a magnetic device constructed to make or become solid. sol·i·ld·if·ic·ation (sō·līd·i-fik·ā·shún) n.

sol·id·ate (sol·ìd·ät) adj. using transistors (which make use of the electronic properties of solids) instead of electron tubes.

so·li·c·i·tous (sō·li·s·kī·təs) adj. solicitous or solicitousness (sō·li·s·kī·təs·nəs) n. solicitously adv. solicitor general, the law officer below attorney general.

sol·lic·i·ta·tion (sō·lik·i·ta·shún) n.

so·lic·i·tous (sō·lik·i·təs) adj. anxious and concerned about a person’s welfare or comfort. sol·lic·i·tous·ly adv. sol·lic·i·tous·ness n.

sol·lic·i·tude (sō·lik·i·tūd) n. solicitous concern.

sol·id (sol-íd) adj. 1. keeping its shape, firm, not liquid or gas. 2. not hollow. 3. of the same substance throughout, solid silver. 4. continuous, without a break, for two solid hours. 5. strongly constructed, not flimsy. 6. having three dimensions, concerned with solids, solid geometry. 7. sound and reliable, there are solid arguments against it. 8. unanimous, the miners are solid on this issue. solid n. 1. a solid substance or body or food. 2. a body or shape with three dimensions. sol·i·dity (sō·lī·dĭ·tē) n. solid geometry, the geometry dealing with bodies or surfaces having three dimensions. Solid South, the bloc of southern states that formerly supported the Democratic Party in elections. ▶ Do not confuse solid with stolid.

sol·i·dar·i·ty (sō·lī·dar·i·tē) n. unity resulting from common interests or feelings or sympathies.

so·lid·i·fy (sō·līd·i·fī) v. (so·līd·i·fied) solid·i·fy·ing to make or become solid. solid·i·fy·ing (sō·līd·i·fìng) n.

so·lid·st·ate (sol·īd·stāt) adj.

sol·u·ble (sol·yū·bəl) adj. 1. able to be dissolved in liquid. 2. able to be solved, a soluble problem. sol·u·bil·i·ty (sol-yū-bil-i-te) n.
sol·ute (sol-yoot) n. a dissolved substance.
sol·u·tion (sō-lō-shōn) n. 1. a liquid in which something is dissolved. 2. dissolving or being dissolved into liquid form.
3. the process of solving a problem etc., the answer found.
solv·a·ble (sol-vā-bēl) adj. able to be solved.
solve (solv) v. (solved, solv·ing) to find the answer to (a problem or puzzle) or the way out of (a difficulty). solv·er n.
sol·vent (sol-vent) adj. 1. having enough money to pay one's debts and liabilities. 2. able to dissolve another substance.
solvent n. a liquid used for dissolving something. sol·ven·cy (sol-ven-see) n.
So·ma·li·a (sō-mah-li-a) a country in East Africa. So·ma·li (sō-mah-lee) n. (pl. -lis, -li) So·ma·li·an adj. & n. so·ma·tic (soh-mat-ik) adj. of the body, corporeal, physical.
so·mat·i·cal·ly adv. □ somatic cell, a cell of the body organs and tissues, as opposed to a germ cell.
som·ber (som-bér) adj. dark, gloomy, dismal. som’ber·ly adv.
som·bre·ro (som-brair-oh) n. (pl. -ros) a felt or straw hat with a very wide brim, worn especially in Latin American countries.
some (sum) adj. & pronoun 1. an unspecified quantity, buy some apples. 2. an amount that is less than the whole, some of them were late. 3. an unspecified person or thing, some fool locked the door.
4. a considerable quantity, that was some years ago. 5. approximately, waited some twenty minutes. 6. (slang) remarkable, that was some storm! some adv. (informal) 1. to some degree or extent, we talked some. 2. to a great degree or extent, that's going some. □ some time, unspecified time in the future, let's meet some time (≠ not sometime).
-some suffix used to form adjectives meaning action, quality, state, as in quarrelsome, burdensome.
-some suffix used to form nouns from numbers meaning group of, as in foursome.
some·bo·dy (sum-bod-ee) n. & pronoun
1. an unspecified person. 2. a person of importance.
some·day (sum-day) adv. in the future.
some·how (sum-how) adv. 1. in some unspecified or unexplained manner, I never liked her, somehow. 2. by one means or another, must get it finished somehow.
some·one (sum-wun) n. & pronoun somebody.
some·place (sum-plays) adv. somewhere.
som·er·sault (sum·er-sawlt) n. an acrobatic movement in which a person rolls his body head over heels on the ground or in the air. somersault v. to turn a somersault.
some·thing (sum-thing) n. & pronoun 1. an unspecified thing; see something of a person, meet him occasionally or for a short time; he is something of an expert, to some extent. 2. an important or praiseworthy thing; □ make something of oneself, to make oneself important, to improve one's station in life. something like, approximately, it cost something like ten dollars; rather like, it's something like a rabbit; (informal) impressive, that's something like it!
some·time (sum-tim) adj. former, her sometime friend. sometime adv. at an unstated or indefinite time.
some·times (sum-timz) adv. at some times but not all the time.
some·way (sum-way) adv. (informal) (also some·ways) somehow, in some manner.
some·what (sum·hwot) adv. to some extent, it's somewhat difficult. □ more than somewhat, (informal) very.
some·where (sum·hwair) adv. at or in or to an unspecified place or position. □ get somewhere, (informal) to achieve some success.
som·me·ler (sum·el-yay) n. (pl. -liers) a waiter in charge of wine in a restaurant.
som·nam·bu·lism (som-nam-byū-liz·ēm) n. sleepwalking. som·nam·bu·list n.
som·no·lent (som·no·lent) adj. sleepy, asleep. som’no·lence n.
son (sun) n. 1. a male child in relation to his parents. 2. a male descendant. 3. a form of address to a boy or young man. 4. the Son, the second person of the Trinity, incarnate in Christ. □ son of a gun, (humorous) a person.
sō·nar (soh-nahr) n. a device for detecting objects under water by reflection of sound waves. □ From sound navigation (and) ranging.
sō·na·ta (sō-nah-tā) n. a musical composition for one instrument or two, usually with three or four movements. □ sonata form, a type of composition in which two themes are successively set forth, developed, and restated.
sōn·a·ti·na (sōn·ā-te·nā) n. a simple or short sonata.
sonde (sond) n. a device sent up to obtain information about atmospheric conditions.
song (sawng) n. 1. singing. 2. a musical composition for singing. □ for a song, very cheaply. make a song and dance, (informal) to make a great fuss. song cycle, a series of songs composed around a central event or idea. Song of Solomon or Song of Songs, a poetic book of the Old Testament, traditionally attributed to Solomon.

songbird (sawng-burd) n. a bird with a musical cry.

songfest (sawng-fest) n. an informal gathering at which songs are sung.

songster (sawng-stér) n. 1. a singer. 2. a songbird.

songstress (sawng-stris) n. a female singer.

sonic (son-ik) adj. of or involving sound waves. □ sonic barrier, the sound barrier. sonic boom, a loud noise heard when the shock wave caused by an aircraft traveling at supersonic speed reaches the hearer.

son-in-law (sun-in-law) n. (pl. sons-in-law) a daughter's husband.

sonnet (son-iter) n. a poem of fourteen lines with lengths and rhymes in accordance with one of several patterns. sonneteer (son-i-teer) n. □ sonnet sequence, a set of sonnets on one theme.

sonny (sun-ee) n. (pl. -nies) (informal) a form of address to a boy.

sonorous (só-nohr-ús) adj. resonant, giving a deep powerful sound. sonorously adv. sonority (só-nor-i-ty) n. (pl. -ties).

soon (soon) adv. 1. in a short time, not long after the present or a specified time. 2. early, quickly, spoke too soon. 3. willingly, I'd as soon stay at home. □ sooner or later, at some time, eventually.

soot (suut) n. the black powdery substance that rises in the smoke of coal or wood etc.

sooth (sooth) n. (old use) truth, fact, in sooth.

soothed (soothed, sooth-ing) v. to calm, to ease (pain etc.). soother n. soothliness adj. soothself, soothsaying adv. soothsayer (sooth-sayér) n. a person who foretells the future.

sooty (suut-ee) adj. (soot-i-er, soot-i-est) 1. full of soot, covered with soot. 2. like soot, black.

sop (sop) n. 1. a piece of bread dipped in liquid before being eaten or cooked. 2. a concession that is made in order to pacify or bribe a troublesome person.

sop (sopped, sop-pling) 1. to dip (a thing) in liquid. 2. to soak up (liquid) with something absorbent.

soph (sof) n. (informal) a sophomore.

sophism (sof-iz-ém) n. a false argument, especially one intended to deceive.

sophist (sof-ist) n. 1. a person who uses sophistry, a quibbler. 2. Sophist, (in ancient Greece) a paid teacher of philosophy and rhetoric.

so phis ti cate (sö-fis-ti-kayt) v. (so phis ti cat ed, so phis ti cat ing) to make sophisticated. sophisticated (sö-fis-tik) n. a sophisticated person.

so phis ti cat ed (sö-fis-ti-kay-tid) adj. 1. characteristic of fashionable life and its ways, experienced in this and lacking natural simplicity. 2. complicated, elaborate, sophisticated electronic devices.

sophistication (sö-fis-ti-kay-shün) n.

sophistry (sö-fis-teree) n. (pl. -ries) clever and subtle but perhaps misleading reasoning.

sophomore (sof-ö-mohr) n. a second-year university or high school student.

so pho mor ic (sof-ö-mor-ik) adj. 1. of or like a sophomore. 2. intellectually pretentious and overconfident like the traditional sophomore.

sophisticated (sö-fis-ti-kayt-id) adj. tending to cause sleep. soporific n. a medicinal substance that causes sleep.

soporificaly adv.

soporific (sop-ö-rif-ik) adj. very wet, drenched.

soporify (sop-ö-rif-i) v. (sop-ö-rif-i-er, -est) 1. very wet. 2. (informal) in a sickly way.

soporiferous (sop-ö-rif-i-rös) adj.

sorcerer (sor-cë-ter) n. a magician, especially one supposedly aided by evil spirits.

sorceress (sor-see-ress) n. fem.

sorcery (sor-se-ri) n. (pl. -ceries) a sorcerer's art or practices.

sordid (sor-did) adj. 1. dirty, squalid. 2. (of motives or actions) lacking dignity, not honorable, mercenary.

sor dily adv. sordidness n.

sore (sor) adj. (sor-a, sor-est) 1. causing pain from injury or disease. 2. suffering pain, felt sore all over. 3. causing mental pain or annoyance, a sore subject. 4. (old use) serious, in sore need. 5. distressed, vexed. sore n. 1. a sore place, especially where the skin is raw. 2. a source of distress or annoyance.

sorely adv. soreness n. □ sore throat, a throat that is painful or sensitive because of inflammation.

sorehead (sor-head) n. (informal) a grumpy person.

sorghum (sor-gùm) n. a tropical cereal grass.

sorority (sör-rö-ri-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a women's society in a college or universor'ority house, a building providing living accommodations for the members of a sorority.

sor'p-tion (sorp-shən) n. absorption and adsorption considered jointly.

sor'ril (sor-əl) n. a plant with sharp-tasting leaves used in salads, etc.

sorrel (sahr-əl) n. light reddish brown, a horse of this color.

sor'row (sor-ə) v. to feel sorrow, to grieve.

sor'row-ful (sər-ər-fəl) adj. feeling or showing sorrow.

sor'row-ful-ly adv.

sor'row-ful-ness n.

sor'ry (sər-ə) adj. (rī-ər, rī-əst) 1. feeling pity or regret or sympathy; sorry! I am sorry, I beg your pardon. 2. wretched, in a sorry plight.

sor'riless n.

sort (sərt) n. 1. a particular kind or variety. 2. (informal) a person with regard to his character, quite a good sort.

sort v. to arrange according to sort or size or destination etc.

sort'er n. □ of a sort or of sorts, not fully deserving the name given.

out of sorts, slightly unwell or depressed.

sort of, (informal) somewhat, rather, I sort of expected it.

(▷ Careful writers use somewhat or rather in such sentences.) sort out, to disentangle; to select from others; sort out the men from the boys, show which people are truly competent etc.

sor'tie (sor-tē) n. 1. an attack by troops coming out from a besieged place. 2. a flight of an aircraft on a military operation.

SOS the international code signal of extreme distress. SOS (es-əh-es) n. an urgent appeal for help or response.

so-so (soh-soh) adj. & adv. (informal) only moderately good or well.

sol (sol) n. a drunkard.

sol'tish adj.

sol'tishly adv.

so-to-vo-ce (sət-ə-vəches) in an undertone. △ Italian.

sou (soo) n. a former French coin of various values. □ not worth a sou, worth no money at all.

sou'brette (sō-brēt) n. 1. a maidservant or similar character (especially with the implication of pertness or coquetry) in a comedy. 2. a person playing such a role. 3. a lively or pert woman.

soufflė (soō-flē) n. a light spongy dish made with beaten egg white.

sough (sow) n. a moaning, whistling, or rushing sound as of wind in the trees etc. soug̩ v. to make this sound.

sought (sawt) see seek.

sought-afer (sawt-afer) adj. much sought for purchase or use etc.

soul (sohl) n. 1. the spiritual or immortal element in a person. 2. a person's mental or moral or emotional nature, his whole soul revolted from it; cannot call his soul his own, is completely under the control of another person. 3. a personification or pattern; she is the soul of honor, incapable of dishonorable conduct. 4. a person, there's not a soul about. □ soul brother, a fellow black male.

soul food, the traditional food of American blacks.

soul mates, people ideally suited to each other.

soul sister, a fellow black woman.

soul'ful (sohl-fəl) adj. 1. having or showing deep feeling. 2. emotional.

soul'ful-ly adv.

soul'ful-ness n.

soul'less (sohl-lis) adj. 1. lacking sensitivity or noble qualities. 2. dull, uninteresting.

soul'less-ness n.

soul-search-ing (sohl-sur-ching) n. examination of one's own conscience.

sound (sωnd) n. 1. vibrations that travel through the air and are detectable (at certain frequencies) by the ear. 2. the sensation produced by these vibrations, a particular kind of it, the sound of music.

3. any articulate utterance made in speech.

4. sound reproduced in a film etc.

5. the mental impression produced by a statement or description etc., we don't like the sound of the new scheme.

sound v. 1. to produce or cause to produce sound, sound the trumpet. 2. to utter, to pronounce, the "h" in "hour" is not sounded.

3. to give an impression when heard, it sounds like an owl; the news sounds good, seems to be good.

4. to give an audible signal for, sound the retreat.

5. to test by noting the sound produced, the doctor sounds a patient's lungs with a stethoscope.

sound'er n.

sound'less adj. □ sound barrier, the high resistance of air to objects moving at speeds near that of sound.

sound booth, a soundproof booth for testing hearing etc.

sound effects, sounds (other than speech or music) made artificially for use in a play or film etc.

sound ing board, a board to reflect sound or increase resonance.

sound off, (informal) to express one's opinions loudly and freely.

sound truck, a truck equipped with a loudspeaker for making announcements, speeches etc.

sound'ly adj. 1. healthy, not diseased or damaged. 2. correct, logical, well-founded, sound reasoning.

3. financially secure, a sound investment.

4. thorough, a sound thrashing; sound sleep, deep and unbroken.

sound adv. soundly, is sound sound / southerly

- asleep. sound'ly adv. sound'ness n.
sound v. 1. to test the depth or quality of the bottom of (the sea or a river etc.) especially by a weighted line (sounding line), to measure depth etc. in this way. 2. to examine with a probe. 3. (of a whale or fish) to drive to the bottom. sound n. a surgeon's probe. sound'er 2 n. □ sound out, to question (a person), especially in a cautious or reserved manner, about his opinions or inclinations, sound him out about cooperating with us.
sound 4 n. 1. a strait. 2. an arm of the sea.
sound-ing (sown-ding) n. measurement of the depth of water (see sound 4). sound-ing adj. resounding.
sound-proof (sownd-proof) adj. not able to be penetrated by sound. soundproof v. to make soundproof.
sound-track (sownd-trak) n. 1. a narrow strip at the side of motion picture film for carrying recorded sound. 2. the sound itself.
soup (soop) n. liquid food made of stock from stewed meat or fish or vegetables etc. □ in the soup, (slang) in difficulties.
soup and fish, (slang) evening dress for a man.
soup kitchen, a place where soup and other food is supplied free to the needy in times of distress.
soup up, (informal) to increase the power of (an engine); to enliven. soupçon (soop-son, soop-son) n. a very small quantity, a trace, add a soupçon of garlic. ▷ French.
soup·y (soo-pee) adj. (soup·i·er, soup·i·est) 1. like soup. 2. foggy, cloudy. 3. (sloppy) over-sentimental.
sour (sowr) adj. 1. tasting sharp like unripe fruit. 2. not fresh, tasting or smelling sharp or unpleasant from fermentation or staleness. 3. (of soil) excessively acid, deficient in lime. 4. bad-tempered, disagreeable in manner, gave me a sour look.
sour n. an acid drink; a whiskey sour, whiskey with lemon juice or lime juice.
sour v. to make or become sour, was soured by misfortune. sour'ly adv. sour'ness n. □ sour cream, cream deliberately fermented by the action of bacteria.
sour grapes, said when a person pretends to despise something he cannot have. ▷ From the fable of the fox who wanted some grapes but found that they were out of reach and so pretended that they were sour and undesirable anyway.)
sour mash, a brewed or distilled mash made acid to promote fermentation.
sour salt, a citric acid crystal used in flavoring foods etc.
sour·ball (sowr-bawl) n. a hard round candy with tart or acid flavor.

source (sohrs) n. 1. the place from which something comes or is obtained. 2. the starting point of a river. 3. a person or book etc. supplying information. □ at the source, at the point of origin.
sour·dough (sowr-doh) n. 1. a fermented bread dough. 2. (slang) a pioneer, an old-timer, especially in Alaska. □ sour·dough bread, a bread leavened with sourdough.
sour·puss (sowr-puus) n. (slang) a sour-tempered person.
souse (sows) v. (soused, sous-ing) 1. to steep in pickling brine, soused herrings. 2. to plunge or soak in liquid, to drench, to throw (liquid) over a thing. 3. (slang) to make drunk. soused n. 1. a dip or plunge or drenching in water. 2. food steeped in pickle, especially a pig's head, ears, and feet. 3. (slang) a drunkard.
soused (sowst) adj. (sang) drunk.
south (sowth) n. 1. the point or direction opposite north. 2. the southern part of something. south adj. & adv. toward or in the south; a south wind, blowing from the south. □ South African, of southern Africa or of the Republic of South Africa; a native or inhabitant of the Republic of South Africa. South America, a continent in the southern Western Hemisphere.
South American, of South America or its inhabitants. South Carolina, a state of the U.S. South Carolinian, a native or inhabitant of South Carolina.
South China Sea, part of the Western Pacific between southeast Asia and the Philippines. South Dakota, a state of the U.S. South Dakotan, a native or inhabitant of South Dakota.
south pole, (of a magnet) the pole that is attracted to the south. South Pole, the southernmost pole of Earth. South Sea, the southern Pacific Ocean.
South Sea Islands, islands in the South Sea.
the Republic of South Africa, a country in the south of Africa. the South, the area of the U.S. south of Pennsylvania and east of the Mississippi River; those states in that geographical region that were part of the Confederacy.
south·bound (sowth-bounded) adj. traveling southwards.
south·east (sowth-east) n. adj. traveling southeast.
south·east adj. & adv. toward or in the southeast. south·east ern adj. south·east·er·ly adv. & adv.
south·east·ward (sowth-east-ward) adj. & adv. south·east·wards adv.
south·er·ly (southern-lee) adj. & adv. in or toward the south; a southerly wind, blowing from the south (approximately).
southerly n. (pl. -lies) a southerly wind.
south·ern (suth·èrn) adj. of or in the south. □ Southern Hemisphere, the half of Earth between the South Pole and the equator. southern lights, the aurora australis.
south·ern·er (suth·èrn·èr) n. 1. a native or inhabitant of the south. 2. a native or inhabitant of the southern U.S.
south·ern·most (suth·èrn·mòst) adj. farthest south.
south·land (sowth·land) n. a southern part of a country etc.
south·paw (sowth·paw) n. (informal) a left-handed person, especially in sports.
south·ward (sowth·wàrd) adj. toward the south, in the south. south·ward·ly adj. & adv.
south·west (sowth·west) n. 1. the point or direction midway between south and west. 2. Southwest, the southwest region of the U.S. southwest adj. & adv. toward or in the southwest. south·west·ern adj. south·west·er·ly adj. & adv.
south·west·ward (sowth·west·wàrd) adj. & adv. south·west·wards adv.
south·west·er· (sowth·west·èr) n. (also sowth·west·èr, pr. sowth·west·èr) a waterproof hat with a broad flap at the back. 2. a strong wind or storm from the southwest.
sou·ve·né·ir (soo·vé·né·èr) n. something bought or given or kept as a reminder of an incident or a place visited.
sov·er·eign (so·vè·rin, so·vè·rin) n. 1. a king or queen who is the supreme ruler of a country. 2. a British gold coin, nominally worth one pound. sovereign adj. 1. supreme, sovereign power. 2. possessing sovereign power, independent, sovereign states. 3. very effective, a sovereign remedy. so·vè·rein·ty n. (pl. -ties).
so·vi·et (so·vi·èt) n. an elected council in the U.S.S.R. Soviet adj. of the Soviet Union. so·vi·et·ism n. so·vi·et·ize v. (so·vi·et·ized, so·vi·et·iz·ing) to bring under Soviet control or into a Soviet type of government. □ Soviet Union, the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet, the governing council of the U.S.S.R. or of one of its constituent republics.
so·vi·et·ol·o·gist (so·vi·è·t-òl·ò·jist) n. a person who makes a special study of the Soviet Union.
sow¹ (sow) v. (sowed, sown or sowed, sow·ing) 1. to plant or scatter (seed) for growth, to plant seed in (a field etc.). 2. to implant or spread (feelings or ideas), they sowed hatred among the people.
sow² (sow) n. a fully grown female pig.
sox (soks) n. see sock¹.
soy (soi) n. the soybean. □ soy sauce, a sauce made by fermenting soybeans in brine.
soy·bean (soi·been) n. a kind of bean (originally from southeast Asia) from which an edible oil and flour are obtained.
SP abbr. Shore Patrol.
sp. abbr. 1. special. 2. species. 3. specimen. 4. spelling. 5. spirit.
spa (spah) n. a curative mineral spring, a place with such a spring.
space (spays) n. 1. the boundless expanse in which all objects exist and move. 2. a portion of this, an area or volume for a particular purpose, the box takes too much space; parking spaces. 3. an interval between points or objects, an empty area, separated by a space of ten feet; there’s a space for your signature. 4. the area of paper used in writing or printing something, would take too much space to explain in detail. 5. a large area, the wide open spaces. 6. outer space (see outer). 7. an interval of time, within the space of an hour. space v. (spaced, spac·ing) to arrange with spaces between, space them out. □ space bar, a bar in a typewriter for making a space between words etc. space heater, a self-contained device for heating the room etc. in which it is placed. space out, to put more or wider spaces or intervals between. space probe, an unmanned rocket with instruments to detect conditions in outer space. space shuttle, a spacecraft for repeated use, as between Earth and a space station. space station, an artificial satellite used as a base for operations in space. space travel, travel in outer space. space walk, physical activity by an astronaut in space outside his spacecraft. space·craft (spays·kraft) n. (pl. -craft) a vehicle for traveling in outer space.
spaced-out (spayst·øw) adj. (slang) under the influence of drugs or alcohol.
space·flight (spayst·flit) n. 1. a flight into space. 2. space travel.
space·man (spayst·màn) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an astronaut.
space·ship (spayst·ship) n. a spacecraft, especially one manned by a crew.
space·sult (spayst·soot) n. a sealed pressurized suit allowing the wearer to leave a spacecraft and move about independently in outer space.
space·time (spayst·tèrn) continuum fusion of the concepts of space and time, with time as a fourth dimension.
space·cloud (spay·shùs) adj. providing much space, rooky: sp'a-clous-ly adv. sp'a-clous-ness n. sapde1 (spayd) n. 1. a tool for digging ground, with a broad metal blade and a wooden handle. 2. a tool of similar shape for other purposes. spade v. (spad-ed, spad-ing) to dig with a spade. spade-ful (spayd-fuul) n. (pl. -fuls). □ call a spade a spade, to call a thing by its proper name, to speak plainly or bluntly.
sapde2 n. a playing card of the suit (spades) marked with black figures shaped like an inverted heart with a short stem.
spade-work (spayd-wurk) n. hard work done in preparation for something.
spa-dlx (spay-diks) n. (pl. -dlx-es, -dlxes, pr. -dlx-sees) a spike of flowers closely arranged around a fleshy axis and usually enclosed in a spathe.
spa-ghet-til (spä-get-ce) n. pasta made in solid sticks, between macaroni and vermicelli in thickness.
Spain (spayn) a country in southwest Europe.
spake (spayk) see speak.
Spam (rhymes with ham) n. (trademark) a canned luncheon meat.
span (span) n. 1. the distance (about nine inches or twenty-three centimeters) between the tips of a person’s thumb and little finger when these are stretched apart. 2. the distance or part between the uprights supporting an arch or bridge. 3. length across something, as an airplane’s or bird’s wings. 4. length in time from beginning to end, the span of life. 5. a matched pair of horses, mules, etc. span v. (spanned, span-ling) 1. to extend across, to bridge. 2. to stretch one’s hand across in one span, span an octave on the piano.
Span. abbr. Spanish.
span-gle (spang-gel) n. a small thin piece of glittering material, especially one of many ornamenting a dress etc. spangle v. (span-gled, span-gling) to cover with spangles or sparkling objects.
span-gly adv.
Span-lard (span-yard) n. a native of Spain.
span-leel (span-yel) n. a kind of dog with long drooping ears and a silky coat.
Span-lish (span-ish) adj. of Spain or its people or language. Spanish n. the language of Spain and of most countries in Central and South America. □ Spanish America, the Spanish-speaking countries of Central America and South America. Spanish-American adj. of these Spanish-speaking countries. Spanish fly, a bright green beetle dried and powdered, used as an aphrodisiac, irritant, etc. Spanish moss, a moss of the southern U.S. that hangs from the branches of trees. Spanish omelet, an omelet with chopped vegetables. spank (spangk) v. to slap on the buttocks. spank n. such a slap.
spank-ing (spang-king) adj. (informal) brisk, lively, a spanking pace. spankling adv. (informal) excellently, strikingly, aspanking fine horse.
span-ner (span-er) n. a type of wrench.
span1 (spahr) n. a strong pole used for a mast or yard or boom on a ship.
span2 n. any of several kinds of nonmetallic minerals that split easily.
span3 v. (spared, spar-ing) 1. to box, especially for practice. 2. to quarrel or argue. □ sparring partner, a boxer employed to give another boxer practice; a person with whom one enjoys frequent arguments.
Spar (spahr) n. an enlisted woman in the U.S. Coast Guard women’s reserve. spare (spair) v. (spared, spar-ing) 1. to be merciful toward, to refrain from hurting or harming; spare me this ordeal, do not inflict it on me; if I am spared, if I live so long. 2. to use with great restraint; does not spare himself, works very hard. 3. to part with, to be able to afford to give, we can’t spare him until next week; can you spare me a moment? enough and plenty to spare, more than is needed.
spare adj. (spar-er, spar-est) 1. additional to what is usually needed or used, in reserve for use when needed, a spare wheel, spare time, time not needed for work or other purposes. 2. thin, lean. 3. small in quantity, on a spare diet.
spare n. a spare part or thing kept in reserve for use when needed. spare’ly adv. spare’ness n. □ spare tire, (informal) a roll of fat around the waist.
spare-rib (spair-rib) n. a cut of pork from the lower ribs.
spar-ing (spair-ing) adj. economical, not generous or wasteful. spar-ing-ly adv.
spark1 (spahrk) n. 1. a fiery particle, as one thrown off by a burning substance or caused by friction. 2. a flash of light produced by an electrical discharge. 3. a particle of a quality or of energy or genius, hasn’t a spark of generosity in him. spark v. to give off a spark or sparks. □ spark off, to trigger off. spark plug, a device producing an electrical spark to fire the mixture in an internal combustion engine.
spark2 n. a lively young man, a dandy. spark v. (informal) to court.
ness. sparkle n. a sparkling light or brightness. □ sparkling wine, that is effervescent.

spar-kler (sahr-kler) n. 1. a sparkling firework. 2. sparkers (sling) diamonds.

spar-row (spar-oh) n. a small brownish-gray bird. □ sparrow hawk, a small American falcon or European hawk that preys on small birds.

sparse (spahrs) adj. (spars-er, spars-est) thinly scattered, not dense. sparsely adv. sparseness n. sparsi-ty (spahr-si-tee) n.

Spar-tan (sahr-tan) adj. (of conditions) simple and sometimes harsh, without comfort or luxuries. □ Named after the citizens of Sparta, a city in ancient Greece, who were renowned for hardship.

spasm (spaz-am) n. 1. a strong involuntary contraction of a muscle. 2. a sudden brief spell of activity or emotion, a spasm of coughing.

spas-mo-lic (spaz-mo-lik) adj. 1. occurring at irregular intervals. 2. of or like a spasm, characterized by spasms. spasmodically adv.

spas-tic (spaz-tik) adj. physically disabled because of cerebral palsy, a condition in which there are faulty links between the brain and the motor nerves, causing jerky or involuntary movements through difficulty in controlling the muscles.

spastic n. a person suffering from this condition. spasticity n. spas-ti-cal-ly adv.

spat (spat) see spit.

spat² n. a short garter covering the instep and ankle.

spat³ n. (informal) a slight quarrel. spat v. (spat-ted, spat-ting) (informal) to bicker.

spat⁴ n. the spawn of a bivalve shellfish, especially an oyster.

spate (spayt) n. a sudden flood or rush, a spate of orders.

spathe (spayth) n. a large petal-like part of a flower, surrounding a central spike.

spatial (spay-shal) adj. of or relating to space, existing in space. spatially adv.

spatter (spat-er) v. 1. to scatter or fall in small drops. 2. to splash with drops, spattered her dress with mud. spatter n. a splash or splashes, the sound of spattering.

spat-ü-la (spach-ü-lä) n. a tool like a knife with a broad blunt flexible blade. spat-ü-lar adj.

spat-ü-late (spach-ü-lit,-lat) adj. shaped like a spatula, with a broad rounded end.

spav-in (spav-in) n. a disease of a horse's hock with a hard bony tumor or swelling. spav-vined adj.

spawn (spawn) n. 1. the eggs of fish or frogs or shellfish. 2. (contemptuous) offspring. 3. the threadlike matter from which fungi grow, mushroom spawn.

spay v. 1. to deposit spawn, to produce from spawn. 2. to generate, especially in large numbers, the reports spawned by that committee. spay'ner n.

spay (spay) v. to sterilize (a female animal) by removing the ovaries.

speak (speek) v. (spoke or old use) spake, spo·ken, speak·ing 1. to utter words in an ordinary voice (not singing), to hold a conversation, to make a speech, spoke for an hour. 2. to utter (words), to express or make known, spoke the truth. 3. to use or be able to use (a certain language) in speaking, we speak French. 4. to make a polite or friendly remark, she always speaks when we meet; they haven't spoken for years, avoid conversing through not being on friendly terms. 5. to be evidence of something; it speaks volumes for his patience, is good or favorable evidence of it; the facts speak for themselves, need no supporting evidence. speak·able adj.

□ be on speaking terms, to be on friendly terms with each other. no or nothing to speak of, very little, only very slightly. so to speak, if I may express it this way. speak for oneself, to give one's own opinion. speak·ing in tongues, glossolalia. speak·ing tube, a tube for conveying a voice from one room etc. to another. speak one's mind, to give one's opinion frankly. speak one's piece, to speak bluntly and frankly. speak out, to speak loudly or freely; to speak one's mind. speak up, to speak more loudly, to speak out.

speak·e·asy (speek-e-eez) n. (pl. e·as·es or e·asy·es) a place selling liquor illegally during the period of Prohibition.

speak·er (speek-kär) n. 1. a person who speaks, one who makes a speech. 2. a loudspeaker. 3. the Speaker, the presiding officer in a legislative assembly, with responsibility for keeping order etc., Speaker of the House.

spear (spier) n. 1. a weapon for hurling, with a long shaft and a pointed tip. 2. a pointed stem, as of asparagus. spear v. to pierce with or as if with a spear.

spear·er n. □ spear gun, a device used to propel a spear in underwater fishing.

spear·fish (spier-fish) v. to use a spear gun in underwater fishing.

spearfish² n. (pl. -fish, -fish·es) a large sea fish with a spearlike upper jaw.

spearhead (speer-hed) n. the foremost part of an attacking or advancing force.

spearhead v. to be the spearhead of.

spearmint (speer-mint) n. a common garden mint used in cooking and to flavor chewing gum.

spec 1. (spek) n. specification. □ spec sheet, (informal) a sheet enumerating the specifications of an appliance, machinery, etc.

spec 2. n. on spec, (slang) as a speculation, without being certain of achieving what one wants.

spec abbr. 1. special. 2. specially. 3. specification.

spec'ial (spek) adj. 1. of a particular kind, for a particular purpose, not general, a special key; special training. 2. exceptional in amount or quality or intensity, take special care of it. special n. a special thing, a special train or edition etc. special-ly adv. □ special delivery, mail delivered in advance of regular mail. Special Forces, a branch of the U.S. army consisting of soldiers who are trained in guerrilla warfare.

spec'-ial-ist (spek-shal-) n. a person who is an expert in a special branch of a subject, especially of medicine.

spec'-ial-ized, spec'-ial-iz'-ing v. (spek'-ial-ized, spek'-ial-iz'-ing) 1. to become a specialist. 2. to have a product etc. to which one devotes special attention, the shop specializes in sports goods. 3. to adapt for a particular purpose, specialized organs such as the ear. special-ization (spesh-al-iz-a-shun) n.

spec'-ial-ty (spesh-al-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a special quality or characteristic or product, an activity in which a person specializes.

spec'-le (spee-shle) n. coin as opposed to paper money.

spec'-les (spee-shiez) n. (pl. -cles) 1. a group of animals or plants within a genus, differing only in minor details from the others. 2. a distinct kind or sort, a species of athlete.

spec-f.'f 1. specific. 2. specifically.

spec'-if-ic (spi-sif-ik) adj. 1. particular, clearly distinguished from others, the money was given for a specific purpose. 2. expressing oneself in exact terms, not vague, please be specific about your requirements. specific n. a specific aspect or influence, a remedy for a specific disease or condition. specific-ly adv.

spec'-if-ic-ity (spef-ik-i-tee) n. □ specific gravity, the ratio between the weight of a substance and that of the same volume of a standard substance (usually water for liquids and solids, air for gases).

spec'-if-i-ca'-tion (spes-i-fik-shun) n. 1. specifying, being specified. 2. the details describing something to be done or made.

spec'-if-i-ca'-tion 1. v. (spec-i-fled, spec'-if-i-ca'-tion) to mention (details, ingredients, etc.) clearly and definitely, to include in a list of specifications.

spec'-if-i-men (spes-i-men) n. 1. a part or individual taken as an example of a whole or of a class, especially for investigation or scientific examination. 2. a quantity of a person’s urine etc. taken for testing. 3. (informal) a person of a specified sort, he seems a peculiar specimen.

spec'-if-i-ly (spes-ih-shul-ly) adv. seeming good or sound at first sight but lacking real merit, specious reasoning. spe'ci'-ous n.

speek (spek) n. a small spot or particle.

speek v. to mark with specks.

speek'le (speek-uhl) n. a small spot, a speck, especially as a natural marking. speckle v. (speek-led, speck-ling) to mark with speckles.

speek-led (speek-eld) adj. marked with speckles. □ speckled trout, a brook trout.

specs (speks) n. pl. (informal) 1. spectacles. 2. specifications.

spec-ta'cle (speek-ta-kel) n. 1. a striking or impressive sight, a magnificent spectacle. 2. a lavish public show or pageant. 3. a ridiculous sight, made a spectacle of himself. 4. spectacles, eyeglasses.

spec-tac'u'-lar (spes-tak-yu-lar) adj. striking, impressive, amazing. spectacular n. 1. a spectacular performance. 2. a lavishly produced film etc. spectac'u'-lar-ly adv.

spec-ta'-tor (speek-tay-tor) n. a person who watches a show or game or incident etc. □ spectator sports, sports that attract many spectators.

spec'-ter (speek-tor) n. 1. a ghost. 2. a haunting fear of future trouble, the specter of defeat loomed over them.

spec-tral (spes-tral) adj. 1. of or like a specter. 2. of the spectrum.

spec-tral n. □ spectrograph, a record obtained with a spectograph.

spec-tral n. □ spectrograph, an apparatus for photographing spectra of substances. spec-tral-graph'ic (spes-tral-graf-ik) adj. □ spectrograph'ic-ly adv.

spec-trom'e-ter (speek-trom-et-er) n. a spectroscope that can be used for the measurement of observed spectra. spec-tro'-met-ric (spes-tror-met-rik) adj.
spectroscope (spek-trö-sköhp) n. an instrument for producing and examining spectra. spectroscopic (spek-trö-skop-ik) adj. spectroscopicˈi-cal adj. spectroscopicˈi-calˈly adv. spectroscopicˈly adv. spectroscopicˈly adj. & n. spectroˈic adj. spectroˈically adv. spectroˈicˈly adj. spectroˈicˈly adv. spectroˈicˈly adj. spectroˈicˈly adv. spectroˈicˈly adj. spectroˈicˈly adv. speed (sped) see speed.

speed\(\) (speech) n. 1. the act or power of speaking or manner of speaking; have speech with a person, talk with him. 2. words spoken, a spoken communication to an audience. 3. language or dialect. □ speech clinical, a clinic at which speech therapy is provided by specialists. speech therapy, treatment to improve a stammer or other defect of speech.

speedˈi-fyˈingˈ (spech-i-fr-ing) n. (informal) making a speech or speeches, talking as if doing this.

speedˈless (spech-lis) adj. silent, unable to speak because of great emotion etc. speedˈlessˈly adv.

speed (speed) n. 1. the rate of time at which something moves or operates. 2. rapidity of movement. 3. the sensitivity of photographic film to light, the power of a lens to admit light. 4. (slang) an amphetamine drug. speed v. (sped or speedˈed, speedˈing) 1. to move or pass quickly, the years sped by. 2. to send quickly, to speed you on your way. 3. to travel at an illegal or dangerous speed. speedˈer n. speedˈing adj. & n. speedˈi adj. speedˈiˈly adv. speedˈster n. □ at full or top speed, as rapidly as possible. speedˈ limit, the maximum permitted speed of a vehicle on a road etc. speed trap, a radar trap or other arrangement to detect vehicles that are traveling faster than the speed limit. speed up, to move or work or cause to work at greater speed.

speedˈboat (speed-boht) n. a fast motor-boat.

speedˈomˈeˈter (spi-domˈe-tër) n. a device in a motor vehicle, showing its speed.

speedˈway (speed-way) n. 1. a course for automobile or motorcycle racing. 2. a road or track reserved for fast traffic.

speedˈwell (speed-wel) n. a wild plant with small blue flowers.

speedˈy (speed-dec) adj. (speedˈiˈer, speedˈiˈest) 1. moving quickly. 2. done or coming without delay. speedˈiˈly adv. speedˈiˈness n.

speleˈolˈoˈgist (speel-i-olˈo-jist) n. an expert in speleology.

speleˈolˈoˈgy (speel-i-olˈo-jee) n. the exploration and scientific study of caves.

speleˈoˈlogˈiˈcal (speel-i-olˈo-jikˈal) adj.

spellˈ (spelˈed or spelˈt, spelˈling) 1. to write or name in their correct sequence the letters that form (a word or words). 2. (of letters) to form as a word, c a t spells “cat.” 3. to have as a necessary result, these changes spell ruin to the farmer. □ spelling bee, a competition in spelling. spelling book, a book for teaching spelling. spell out, to spell aloud; to make out (words) laboriously letter by letter; to state explicitly, to explain in detail.

spellˈa (spelˈed or spelˈt, spelˈling) 1. a period of time. 2. a period of a certain type of weather, during the cold spell. 3. a period of a certain activity, did a spell of driving. spell v. (spelled, spellˈing) to relieve (a person) in work etc. by taking one's turn.

spellˈbindˈer (spelˈbind-ear) n. a speaker, especially a politician, who can hold audiences spellbound. spellˈbindˈing adj.

spellˈbound (spelˈbound) adj. with the attention held as if by a spell, entranced.

spellˈdown (spelˈdown) n. a spelling competition in which each contestant who makes a spelling error sits down.

spellˈer (spelˈur) n. 1. a person with regard to his spelling ability, a bad speller. 2. a spelling book.

speltˈ (spelt) see spellˈ.

speltˈ2 n. a kind of wheat.

speˈlunkˈing (speˈlungˈking) n. the sport of exploring caves. speˈlunkˈer n.
spend (spend) v. (spent, spend-ing) 1. to pay out (money) in buying something. 2. to use for a certain purpose, to use up, don’t spend too much time on it. 3. to pass, spend a holiday in Greece.

spend’er n.

spend-thrift (spend-thrift) n. a person who spends money extravagantly and wastefully.

spent (spent) v. see spend. spent adj. used up, having lost its force or strength; a spent match, one that has been struck and extinguished and is now useless.

sperm (spurm) n. (pl. sperm, sperms) 1. a male reproductive cell, capable of fertilizing an ovum. 2. semen. □ sperm whale, a large whale from which a waxy oil is obtained.

sper-ma-cet-i (spur-mä-set-ee, -see-tic) n. a white waxy substance contained in the head of a sperm whale etc., used for candles and ointments.

sper-mat-ic (spur-mat-ik) adj. of sperm; spermatogenic, that supporting the testicle within the scrotum.

sper-ma-to-zo-on (spur-mä-tö-zö-ön, -mat-ö-) n. (pl. -zo-a, pr. -zö-a) the male fertilizing element contained in the semen of animals.

sper-mi-cide (spur-mi-sid) n. a substance that kills sperm. sper-mi-cid-al (spur-mi-sid-äl) adj.

spew (spyo) v. 1. to vomit. 2. to cast out in a stream.

sp. gr. abbr. specific gravity.

sphag-num (sfag-nüm) n. a kind of moss that grows in bogs.

sphere (sfeer) n. 1. a perfectly round solid geometric figure. 2. something shaped like this. 3. a field of action or influence or existence, a person’s place in society, took him out of his sphere. sphe-ric-al-ly (sfir-i-käl-ë) adv.

sphe-roid (sfir-oïd) n. a spherelike but not perfectly spherical body. sphe-ro-dal (sfir-oïd-äl) adj.

sphe-nic-tar (sfengk-tar) n. a ring of muscle surrounding an opening in the body and able to close it by contracting.

sphe-xis (sfijks) n. (pl. sphex-es, sphex-es, pr. sfex-jeez) 1. the Sphinx. (in Greek mythology) a winged monster at Thebes that killed all who could not answer the riddle it put to them. 2. any of the ancient stone statues in Egypt with a recumbent lion’s body and a human or animal’s head, especially the large one near the pyramids at Giza. 3. a statue resembling these. 4. a person who does not reveal his thoughts and feelings.

sphyg-mo·ma·nom·e·ter (sfig-moh-mä-nom-ë-tër) n. an instrument for measuring blood pressure.

dice (spis) n. 1. a substance (obtained from plants) with a strong taste or smell, used for flavoring food. 2. such substances collectively, the spice market. 3. a thing that adds zest or excitement, variety is the spice of life. dice v. (spiced, spic-ing) to flavor with spice. □ Spice Islands, the Molucca Islands.

spice-bush (spis-bush) n. a fragrant North American shrub, also called Benjamin bush.

spick-and-span (spik-änd-span) adj. neat and clean, new looking.

dic·ule (spi-kool) n. a small sharp pointed part. dic-ul-ar (spik-yo-lär) adj.

spic-y (spi-see) adj. (spic-l-er, spic-l-est) 1. like spice, flavored with spice. 2. (of stories) slightly scandalous or improper. spic-l-ly adv. spic-l-ness n.

spider (spid-er) adj. a small animal (not an insect) with a segmented body and eight jointed legs, spinning webs to trap insects that are its prey. □ spider plant, a grasslike plant with arching stems carrying young plants.

spider-y (spid-ë-ri) adj. 1. having thin angular lines like a spider’s legs. 2. like a cobweb. 3. full of spiders.

spied (spid) see spy.

spiel (spiel) n. a glib or lengthy speech, usually intended to persuade. spiel v. (spied-ed, spiel-ing) (slang) to talk glibly or lengthily. spiel’ er n.

spiff-y (spif-ë) adj. (spiff-l-er, spiff-l-est) (slang) smart, handsome. spiff-l-ly adv. spiff-l-ness n.

spig-ot (spig-ö) n. a plug or used to stop the vent of a cask or to control the flow of a tap.

spike (spik) n. 1. a sharp projecting point, a pointed piece of metal. 2. spikes, shoes (worn by runners, baseball players, etc.) fitted with spikes. spike v. (spiked, spik-ing) 1. to put spikes on, spiked running shoes. 2. to pierce or fasten with a spike. 3. (informal) to add alcohol to (a drink). 4. (in volleyball, football, etc.) to hit or throw (the ball) almost straight down. spik’ y adj. (spik-l-er, spik-l-est). □ spike a person’s guns, to thwart him.

spike (spik) n. 1. an ear of corn. 2. a long cluster of flowers with short stalks or no stalks on a central stem.

spill (spil) n. a thin strip of wood or of twisted paper used to transfer flame, as for lighting a pipe.

spill (spill) v. (spilled or spilt, spill-ing) 1. to cause or allow (a liquid etc.) to run over spillage / spirit

the edge of its container. 2. (of liquid etc.) to become spilled. 3. to throw from a horse or vehicle. 4. (slang) to make known, spilled the news. spill n. spilling, being spilled, a fall. spill'a-ble adj. □spill blood, to shed blood in killing or wounding. spill over, to overflow from something that is full. spill the beans, (slang) to let out information indiscreetly.

spill•age (spill-ij) n. spilling, the amount spilled. spill•way (spill-way) n. a passage for surplus water from a dam. split (spilt) see spill2.

spin (spin) v. (spun, spin•ning) 1. to turn or cause to turn rapidly on its axis; spin a coin, toss it; my head is spinning. I feel dizzy. 2. to draw out and twist (raw cotton or wool etc.) into threads, to make (yarn) in this way. 3. (of a spider or silkworm) to make from a fine thread-like material emitted from the body, spinning its web. spin n. 1. a spinning movement. 2. a short drive in a vehicle. □spin a yarn, to tell an invented story, especially in order to deceive someone. spin cast, to cast a fishing line on a stationary spool. spinning jenny, an early machine for spinning with more than one spindle at a time. spinning wheel, a household implement for spinning yarn or thread with a spindle driven by a wheel-driven crank or treadle. spin off, to throw off by centrifugal force in spinning; to create as a spinoff. spin out, to cause to last a long time.

spin•ach (spin-ich) n. a vegetable with dark green leaves. spin•nal (spi-nál) adj. of the spine. □spinal anesthesia, anesthesia produced by the injection of an anesthetic into the spinal column providing an insensitivity to pain without loss of consciousness. spinal column, the spine. spinal cord, the rope-like mass of nerve fibers enclosed within the spinal column. spinal tap, the removal of spinal fluid by needle, usually for diagnostic tests. spin•dle (spin-dél) n. 1. a slender rod on which thread is twisted or wound in spinning. 2. a pin or axis that revolves or on which something revolves. 3. a spindle tree. spin'dling adj. □spindle tree, a European shrub or small tree with pink or red berries (spindle berry) and hard wood formerly used for spindles.

spin•dly (spin-lec) adj. (-dli•er, -dli•est) long or tall and thin. spin•drift (spin-drift) n. spray blown along the surface of the sea. spin•dry (spin-dri) v. (spin-dried, spin-dry'ing) to dry in a machine with a rapidly rotating drum in which moisture is removed from washed articles by centrifugal force.

spine (spin) n. 1. the backbone. 2. one of the sharp needlelike projections on certain plants (such as cacti) and animals (such as hedgehogs). 3. the part of a book where the pages are hinged, this section of the jacket or cover.

spine-chill•ing (spin-chill-ing) adj. (of a book or film etc.) causing a thrill of terror.

spin•nel (spi-nel) n. a hard crystalline mineral of various colors consisting chiefly of magnesia and alumina.

spin•less (spin-lis) adj. 1. having no backbone. 2. lacking determination or strength of character. spin'less-ness n.

spin•et (spin-it, spin-net) n. a kind of small piano or harpsichord.

spin•na•ker (spin-ä-kär) n. a large triangular extra sail on a racing yacht.

spin•ner (spin-ør) n. a person or thing that spins.

spin•ner•et (spin-ør-ët) n. 1. the spinning organ of a spider, silkworm, etc. 2. a device for forming filaments of synthetic fiber.

spin•off (spin-awf) n. a benefit or product produced incidentally from a larger product or process or while developing this.

spin•ster (spin-stér) n. a woman who has not married. spin•ster•hood (spin-stér-hood) n.

spin•y (spin-nee) adj. (spin-•l-er, spin•l-est) full of spines. prickly. □spiny lobster, a lobster-like creature with a spiny shell and no claws.

spin•ra•cle (spin-ä-kël) n. 1. a small opening in an insect’s body, used for breathing. 2. the blow hole of a whale etc.

spin•ral (spin-rul) adj. advancing or ascending in a continuous curve that winds around a central point or axis. spiral n. 1. a spiral line, a thing of spiral form. 2. a continuous increase or decrease in two or more quantities alternately because of their dependence on each other, the spiral of rising wages and prices. spiral v. (spi•raled, spi•ral•ing) to move in a spiral course. spi•ral•ly adv.

spire (spir) n. a pointed structure in the form of a tall cone or pyramid, especially on a church tower. spir'y adj.

spir•al (spir-ál) n. 1. a person’s mind or feelings or animating principle as distinct from his body, shall be with you in spirit. 2. soul. 3. a disembodied soul, a ghost.
spirited / splatter

4. life and consciousness not associated with a body, God is pure spirit; the Spirit, the Holy Spirit (see holy). 5. a person's nature. 6. a person with certain mental or moral qualities, a few brave spirits went swimming. 7. the characteristic quality or mood of something, the spirit of the times; the spirit of the law, its real purpose as distinct from a strict interpretation of its words. 8. liveliness, readiness to assert oneself, answered with spirit. 9. spirits, a person's feeling of cheerfulness or depression, raised their spirits. 10. a distilled extract. 11. strong distilled alcoholic drink, such as whiskey or gin. spirit v. to carry off swiftly and secretly, spirited him away. □ spirit gum, a quick-drying solution of gum used especially for attaching false hair. spirit lamp, a lamp that burns methylated spirit or a similar fluid. spirit level, a glass tube nearly filled with liquid and containing an air bubble, used to test whether something is horizontal by means of the position of this bubble. spir'it-ed (spir'-i-tid) adj. 1. full of spirit, lively, ready to assert oneself. 2. having mental spirit or spirits of a certain kind, a poor-spirited creature. spir'it-ed·ly adv. spir'it-less (spir'-i-tis) adj. not spirited. spir'it-less·ly adv. spir'it·u·al (spir-i-too-al) adj. 1. of the human spirit or soul, not physical or worldly. 2. of a church or religion. spir·itu·al n. a religious folk song of American blacks or one resembling this. spir'it·u·al·ly adv. spir'it·u·al·i·ty (spir'-i-too-á-i-tee) n. Do not confuse spiritual with spirituous. spir'it·u·al·ism (spir-i-too-á-liz'-em) n. the belief that spirits of the dead can and do communicate with the living, practices based on this. spir'it·u·al·ist n. spir'it·u·al·is·tic (spir-i-too-á-lis-tik) adj. spir'it·u·al·ize (spir-i-too-á-liz) v. (spir-i-too-á-lized, spir-i-too-á-liz·ing) to make spiritual. spir'it·u·al·ous (spir-i-too-á-us) adj. containing much alcohol; spirituous liquors, those that are distilled and not only fermented. □ Do not confuse spirituous with spiritual. spir·i·ro·chete (spir'-ó-keet) n. a spiral-shaped bacterium. spat (spat) v. (spat or spat, spat·ting) 1. to eject from the mouth, to eject saliva. 2. to make a noise like spitting as a cat does when angry or hostile, (of a person) to show anger, spitting with fury. 3. to utter violently, spat curses at me. spatter n. 1. spittle. 2. the act of spitting. spitt·er n. □ spit and polish, cleaning and polishing of equipment etc., especially by soldiers. spit curl, a curl of hair pressed tight against the cheek or forehead. spit it out, (slang) say what you wish without delay. spitting image or spit and image, (informal) an exact likeness. spit·ball (spit-bawl) n. 1. a ball of chewed paper used as a missile. 2. (in baseball) an illegal pitch in which the pitcher moistens the ball with saliva to impart spin. spit (spit) n. malicious desire to hurt or annoy or humiliate another person. spit v. (spit·ed, spit·ting) to hurt or annoy etc. from spit, did it just to spit him. □ in spit of, not being prevented by, enjoyed ourselves in spite of the weather. spit·ful (spit·fül) adj. full of spit, showing or caused by spit. spit·ful·ly adv. spit·ful·ness n. spit·fire (spit·fir) n. a fiery-tempered person. spit·tie (spit·čl) n. saliva, especially that ejected from the mouth. spit·toon (spi·toon) n. a receptacle for spitting into. spitz (spits) n. a small dog with a pointed muzzle, especially a Pomeranian. splash (splash) v. 1. to cause (liquid) to fly about in drops, to wet with such drops. 2. (of liquid) to be splashed. 3. to move or fall with splashing, we splashed through the puddles. 4. to decorate with irregular patches of color etc. 5. to display in large print, the news was splashed across the Sunday papers. 6. to spend (money) freely and ostentatiously. splash n. 1. splashing, a sound or mark made by this. 2. a quantity of liquid splashed. 3. (informal) a small quantity of soda water or other liquid in a drink. 4. a patch of color or light. 5. a striking or ostentatious display or effect. splash'·y adj. (splash·i·er, splash·i·est) splash·i·ly adv. splash·i·ness n. □ splash down, (of a spacecraft) to alight in the sea. splash·board (splash·bohd) n. a guard in front of a vehicle or over or beside the wheel of a vehicle to keep mud etc. off the occupants. splash·down (splash·down) n. the alighting of a spacecraft on the sea. splat·ter (splat·čr) v. to splash noisily. splatter n. a noisy splashing sound.
splay (splay) v. to spread apart, to slant (the sides of an opening) so that the inside is wider than the outside or vice versa; splayed his feet, placed them with the toes turned outward not forward. splay adj. splayed. splay n. a splayed position or side etc.
splay-foot (splay-foot) n. a broad flat foot turned outward. splay-foot-ed adj.
spleen (spleen) n. an organ of the body situated at the left of the stomach and involved in maintaining the proper condition of the blood.
splen-did (splen-did) adj. 1. magnificent, displaying splendor. 2. excellent, a splendid achievement. spleen-did-ly adv.
splen-dor (splen-dor) n. brilliance, magnificent display or appearance, grandeur.
splen-drous adj.
sple-net-ic (sple-net-ik) adj. (of a person) ill-tempered, peevish. 2. of the spleen.
splen-net-ic (splen-ik) adj. of or in the spleen.
splint (splint) n. a strip of rigid material bound to an injured part of the body to prevent movement, as while a broken bone heals. splint v. to secure with a splint.
splin-ter (splin-tér) n. a thin sharp piece of wood or stone etc. broken off from a larger piece. splinter v. to break or become broken into splinters. splin-ter-y adj. splinter group, a small group that has broken away from a larger one, as in a political party.
split (split) v. (split, split-ting) 1. to break or become broken into parts, especially lengthwise or along the grain of wood etc. 2. to divide into parts, to divide and share. 3. to come apart, to tear, this coat has split at the seams. 4. to divide or become divided into disagreeing or hostile groups. 5. (slang) to depart, to quit one another’s company; the couple split, were separated. split n. 1. splitting, being split. 2. the place where something has split or torn. 3. something split or divided. 4. a sweet dish of split fruit with cream or ice cream etc., banana split. 5. an acrobatic position in which the legs are stretched along the floor in opposite directions and at right angles to the trunk. split decision. (in boxing, law cases, etc.) a decision in which the judges or jurors are not unanimous. split hairs, see hair. split infinitive, an infinitive with a word placed between to and the verb, as in to thoroughly understand. (Many people dislike this construction and it can usually be avoided, as by writing to understand thoroughly.) split one’s sides, to laugh very heartily. split second, a very brief moment. split shift, a shift in which there are two or more periods of duty. split the difference, to take an amount halfway between two proposed amounts. split ticket, a ballot cast for candidates of more than one party.
split-lev-er (split-lev-er) adj. (of a building) having adjoining rooms at levels midway between stories in other parts.
split-sec-ond (split-sec-ond) adj. 1. very rapid. 2. accurate to a very small fraction of time, split-second timing.
split-ting (split-ing) adj. (of a headache) very severe, feeling as if it will split one’s head.
split-up (split-up) n. a splitting or separation.
splotch (sploch) n. a splash or blotch on material etc. splotch v. to mark with splotches. splotch’y adj.
splurge (splurj) n. an ostentatious display, especially of wealth. splurge v. (splurged, splurg-ing) to make a splurge, to spend money freely.
splut-ter (splut-er) v. 1. to make a rapid series of spitting sounds. 2. to speak or utter rapidly or indistinctly (as in rage). splutter n. a spluttering sound.
splut’ter-er n.
spool (spool) v. (spooled or spool, spoll-ing) 1. to damage, to make useless or unsatisfactory. 2. to become unfit for use. 3. to harm the character of (a person) by lack of discipline or excessive generosity or pampering. spoils n. plunder. 2. benefits gained by a victor, profitable advantages of an official position. spoils system, the practice of giving public offices to supporters of the successful party. spoil-age (spoil-aj) n. be spoiling for, to desire eagerly, he is spoiling for a fight.
spoil-er (spoi-lér) n. 1. a person or thing that spoils. 2. a device on an aircraft or vehicle to reduce its speed by interrupting air flow.
spool-sport (spool-sport) n. a person who spoils the enjoyment of others.
spoke1 (spohk) n. one of the bars or wire rods that connect the center or hub of a wheel to its rim. put a spoke in a person’s wheel, to thwart his intentions.
spoke2 (spohk), spo-ken (spohk-shen) see speak.
spoke-shave (spohk-shayv) n. a tool for planing something curved.
spokes•man (spohk•mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mēn) a person who speaks on behalf of a group. spokes•woman (spoks•wum•ān) n. fem. (pl. -wom•en, pr. -wim•in). spokes•per•son n. either of these.

spoon-ing (spoun•ing) 1. to wipe or wash with a sponge. 2. to live off the generosity of others, to scrounge, to sponge on people. □ sponge cake, a cake with a light open texture. sponge rubber, rubber made with many small spaces like a sponge. throw in the sponge, see throw.

spoon-er (spun•jēr) n. a person who sponges on others.

spoon-ful (spoun•ful) n. a measure of something consisting of a springy foot consisting of two long syllables.

spoon (spoon) n. 1. a kind of water animal with a porous structure. 2. the skeleton of this, or a substance of similar texture, used for washing, cleaning, or padding. 3. a thing of light open texture, something absorbent. 4. sponging, washing with a sponge. spoon v. (sponged, spoon•ing) 1. to wipe or wash with a sponge. 2. to live off the generosity of others, to scrounge, to sponge on people. □ sponge cake, a cake with a light open texture. sponge rubber, rubber made with many small spaces like a sponge. throw in the sponge, see throw.

spoon•bil (spoon•bil) n. a wading bird with a very broad flat tip to its bill.

spoon•er•ism (spoon•er•iz•ēm) n. interchange of the initial letters of two words, usually as a slip of the tongue, such as boiled sprats (= spoiled brats). □ Named after the Reverend W. A. Spooner (1884–1930), said to have made such errors in speaking.

spoon•feed (spoon•feed) v. (spoon•fed, spoon•feed•ing) 1. to feed with liquid food from a spoon. 2. to give excessive help to (a person etc.) so that the recipient does not need to make any effort.

spoor (spoor) n. the track or scent left by an animal.

spor•ad•ic (spōr•ad•ik) adj. occurring here and there, scattered. spor•ad•i•cal•ly adv.

spor•tan•gl•um (spōr•tan•ji•ūm) n. (pl. -gl•a, pr. -ji•ā) a receptacle in which spores are formed in certain plants.

spore (spohr) n. one of the tiny reproductive cells of plants such as fungi and ferns.

sport (spohrt) n. 1. an athletic (especially outdoor) activity. 2. any game or pastime, an outdoor pastime such as hunting or fishing. 3. such activities or pastimes collectively, the world of sport. 4. amusement, fun, said it in sport. 5. (slang) a sportsmanlike person. 6. an animal or plant that is strikingly differently from its parent(s). 7. (informal) a person who spends money freely. sport v. 1. to play, to amuse oneself. 2. to wear or display, sported a gold tie pin. □ make sport of, to make fun of. sport fish, a game fish. sports car, an open low-built fast car. sports coat or jacket, a man’s jacket for informal wear (not part of a suit). sport shirt, a man’s casual long- or short-sleeved shirt usually worn without a tie.

sport•ing (spohr•ting) adj. 1. interested in sport, concerned with sport, a sporting man. 2. sportsmanlike. □ a sporting chance, a reasonable chance of success. sporting house, (old use) a brothel.

spor•ti•ve (spohr•ti•v) adj. playful. spor•ti•ve•ly adv.

sports•cast (spohrts•kast) n. a broadcast of sporting news or a sporting event.

sports'cast·er n.

sports·man (sphohrts·mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) 1. a man who takes part in sports. 2. a sportsmanlike person.

sports·man·like (sphohrts·mán·lik) adj.

sports·man·ship (sphohrts·mán·ship) n.

1. the ability and attitude of a sportsman. 2. sportsmanlike behavior.

sports·wear (sphohrts·wair) n. clothing worn for sports, any clothing resembling this.

sports·wom·an (sphohrts·wuum·ān) n. (pl. -wom·en, pr. -wim·in) a woman who takes part in sports.

sports·writ·er (sphohrts·ri·tir) n. a person who writes (especially as a journalist) about sports. sports·writ·ing n.

sport·y (sphohrts·tee) adj. (sport·l·er, sport·l·est) (informal) 1. fond of sport. 2. dashing.

spot (spot) n. 1. a roundish area different in color from the rest of a surface. 2. a roundish mark or stain. 3. a particular place or locality. 4. (informal) a brief advertisement on radio or television. 5. a drop, a few spots of rain. 6. a spotlight.

spot v. (spot·ted, spot·ting) 1. to mark with a spot or spots. 2. (informal) to catch sight of, to detect or recognize, spotted him at once as an Englishman. 3. to watch for and take note of, train-spotting. spot·ted adj. □ hit the spot, to be very satisfying, as of thirst or hunger etc. in a spot, (slang) in difficulties. on the spot, without delay or change of place; at the scene of action; (of a person) alert, equal to dealing with a situation; put a person on the spot, to put him in a difficult position, to compel him to take action or justify himself. spot cash, cash down. spot check, a check made suddenly on something chosen at random. spotted fever, any of various fevers, such as typhus, in which spots appear on the skin. spotted hyena, an African hyena with a yellow-gray coat and brown or black spots. spotted sandpiper, a North American sandpiper with spotted plumage in the summer. spot welding, welding of small areas that are in contact.

spot·less (spot·lis) adj. free from stain or blemish, perfectly clean. spot·less·ly adv.

spot·light (spot·lit) n. 1. a beam of light directed on a small area, a lamp giving this. 2. public attention; in the spotlight, receiving full attention or publicity. spotlight v. 1. to direct a spotlight on. 2. to draw attention to, to make conspicuous.

spot·ter (spot·er) n. 1. (in wartime etc.) a civilian who watches for approaching enemy aircraft. 2. a person employed in a drycleaning establishment to clean spots off clothing.

spot·ty (spot·ee) adj. (-ti·er, -ti·est) 1. marked with spots. 2. inconsistent, uneven. spot·ti·ly adv. spot·ti·ness n.

spouse (spows) n. a person’s husband or wife.

spout (spowt) n. 1. a projecting tube through which liquid is poured or conveyed. 2. a jet of liquid. spout v. 1. to come or send out forcefully as a jet of liquid, water spouted from the pump; the wound was spouting blood. 2. to utter or speak lengthily.

spp. abbr. species (pl.).

sprain (sprayn) v. to injure (a joint or its muscles or ligaments) by wrenching it violently. sprain n. an injury caused in this way.

sprang (sprang) see spring.

sprat (sprat) n. a small herringlike European fish.

sprawl (sprawl) v. 1. to sit or lie or fall with the arms and legs spread out loosely. 2. to spread out in an irregular or straggling way. sprawl n. a sprawling attitude or movement or arrangement. sprawl·er n.

spray (spray) n. 1. a single shoot or branch with its leaves and twigs and flowers. 2. a bunch of cut flowers etc. arranged decoratively. 3. an ornament in similar form.

spray (informal) 1. water or other liquid dispersed in very small drops. 2. a liquid preparation for spraying. 3. a device for spraying liquid. spray v. to send out (liquid) or be sent out in very small drops, to wet with liquid in this way. spray·er n.

spray·gun, a gunlike device for spraying liquid.

spread (spred) v. (spread, spreading) 1. to open out, to unroll or unfold, the peacock spreads its tail; spread the map out. 2. to become longer or wider, the stain began to spread. 3. to cover the surface of, to apply as a layer, spread the bread with jam; spread the paint evenly. 4. to be able to be spread, it spreads like butter. 5. to make or become more widely known or felt or suffered, spread the news; panic spread. 6. to distribute or become distributed, settlers spread inland. 7. to distribute over a period, spread the payments over twelve months. spread n. 1. spreading, being spread. 2. the extent or expanse or breadth of something. 3. expansion; middle-aged spread, increased bodily girth in middle age. 4. a bedspread. 5. (in-spread-eagle / spumoni, spumoné spread-eagle (spread-ee-gel) v. (ea-gled, -ea-gling) to spread out (a person’s body) with arms and legs extended.

spree (spree) n. (informal) 1. a lively outing, some fun; a shopping or spending spree, an outing or period in which one shops or spends freely. 2. a drinking bout.

spring (spring) v. (spring or sprung, sprung, spring-ing) 1. to jump, to move rapidly or suddenly, especially in a single movement. 2. to grow or issue, to arise, weeds sprung up; their discontent springs from distrust of their leaders. 3. to become warped or split. 4. to rouse (game) from cover or from a hole; spring a prisoner from jail, to arrange his escape. 5. to cause to operate suddenly, sprang the trap. 6. to produce or develop suddenly or unexpectedly, sprang a surprise on us.

sprink-le (sprit-lee) adj. (-ll-er, -ll-est) lively, full of energy. sprinkle n.

sprink-le-er (sprin-kler) n. a device for sprinkling water.

spring-kling (spring-kling) n. 1. something sprinkled. 2. a few here and there.

sprinkling can, a watering can.

spring (spring) v. (spring) to run at full speed, especially over a short distance. spring n. a run of this kind, a similar spell of maximum effort in swimming, cycling, etc.

spring-er n.

spring (spring) v. (sprout) n. 1. to begin to grow or appear, to put forth shoots. 2. to cause to spring up as a growth, has sprouted horns. spring n. the shoot of a plant.

spruce1 (spros) adj. (spruc-er, spruc-est) neat and trim in appearance, smart.

spruce v. (spruced, spruc-ing) to smarten, spruce oneself up. spruce‘ly adv. spruce‘ness n.

spruce2 n. 1. a kind of fir with dense foliage. 2. the wood of this tree.

spring (spring) see spring.

spry (spr) adj. (spry-er or spri-er, spry-est or spri-est) active, nimble, lively. spry‘ly adv. spry‘ness n.

spud (spud) n. 1. a small narrow spade for digging up weeds or cutting their roots. 2. (slang) a potato.

spume (spyoom) n. froth, foam.

spu-mo-ní, spu-mo-ne (spú-moh-nee) spun / square

n. an Italian ice cream usually containing chopped fruit and nuts.

spun (spun) see spin. □ spun glass, fiber-glass. spun silk, yarn or fabric made from waste silk. spun sugar, a fluffy mass made from boiled sugar drawn into long threads.

spunk (spunk) n. (slang) courage. spunk'y adj. (spunk-l-er, spunk-l-est) spunk'l-ness n.

spur (spur) n. 1. a pricking device with a projecting point or toothed wheel, worn on a horseman's heel. 2. a stimulus or incentive. 3. something shaped like a spur, a hard projection on a cock's leg, a slender hollow projection on a flower. 4. a ridge projecting from a mountain. 5. a branch road or railroad.

spur v. (spurred, spur-ring) 1. to urge (one's horse) on by pricking it with spurs. 2. to urge on, to incite, spurred the men to greater effort. 3. to stimulate, spurred their interest. □ on the spur of the moment, on an impulse, without previous planning. win one's spurs, to prove one's ability, to win distinction.

spurge (spurg) n. a kind of plant or bush with a bitter milky juice.

spu'ril*ous (spyr-i-üs) adj. not genuine or authentic. spu'ril*ous*ly adv. spu'ril*ous*ness n.

spurn (spurn) v. to reject scornfully.

spurred (spurd) adj. having spurs, fitted with spurs.

spurt (spurt) v. 1. to gush, to send out (a liquid) suddenly. 2. to increase one's speed suddenly. spurt n. 1. a sudden gush. 2. a short burst of activity, a sudden increase in speed.

sput·nik (sput-nik) n. a Russian artificial satellite orbiting Earth.

sput·ter (sput-ér) v. to splutter, to make a series of quick explosive sounds, sausages sputtered in the pan. sputter n. a sputtering sound. sput'ter*er n.

sput·tum (spyoö-tüm) n. (pl. -ta, pr. -tä) spittle, matter that is spat out.

spy (spi) n. (pl. spleis) a person whosecretly watches or gathers information about the activities of others and reports the result, one employed by a government to do this in another country. spy v. (spied, spy-ing) 1. to see, to catch sight of. 2. to be a spy, to keep watch secretly, he was spying on them; spy out the land, investigate its features etc. secretly.

spy·glass (spi-glas) n. a small telescope.

sq. abbr. 1. squadron. 2. square. 3. the one following (▷ Latin sequens).

sq. abbr. the ones following (▷ Latin sequentia).

squab (skwob) n. (pl. squabs, squab) a young pigeon.

squab·bie (skwob-é) v. (squab-bied, squab-bling) to quarrel in a petty or noisy way, as children do. squabbable n. a quarrel of this kind.

squad (skwod) n. a small group of people working or being trained together, especially in the armed forces. □ squad car, a police car having a radio link with headquarters.

squad·ron (skwod-rôn) n. a military or naval unit varying in size and nature.

squal·id (skwol-id) adj. 1. dirty and unpleasant, especially because of neglect or poverty. 2. morally degrading. squal'id*ly adv. squal'id*ness n. squal'or n.

squali1 (skwawl) n. a sudden storm of wind, especially with rain or snow or sleet. squal'ly adj.

squali2 n. a harsh cry or scream, especially of a baby. squall v. to utter a squall.

squan·der (skwon-dér) v. to spend wastefully.

square (skwair) n. 1. a geometrical figure with four equal sides and four right angles. 2. an area or object shaped like this. 3. a four-sided area surrounded by buildings, Washington Square. 4. (in astrology) the aspect of two planets 90° apart, regarded as having an unfavorable influence. 5. an L-shaped or T-shaped instrument for obtaining or testing right angles. 6. the product obtained when a number is multiplied by itself, nine is the square of three (9 = 3 x 3). 7. (slang) a person considered old-fashioned or conventional, one who does not know or does not like the current trends. square adj. (squar'er, squar'est) 1. of square shape. 2. right-angled, the desk has square corners. 3. of or using units that express the measure of an area; one square mile, a unit equal to the area of a square with sides one mile long. 4. of comparatively broad sturdy shape, a man of square frame. 5. equal, with no balance of advantage or debt etc. on either side, the golfers were all square at the fourth hole. 6. straightforward, uncompromising, got a square refusal. 7. substantial, a square meal. 8. fair, honest, a square deal. 9. (slang) old-fashioned, conventional. square adv. squarely, directly, hit him square on the jaw. square v. (squared, square-ing) 1. to make right-angled, square the corners. 2. to mark with squares, squared paper. 3. to place evenly or squarely, squared his shoulders. 4. to multiply (a number) by itself, three squared is nine (3² = 9).
3 × 3 = 9. 5. to settle or pay, that squares the account. 6. to be or make consistent, his story doesn’t square with yours; try and square the two stories. square’ly adv. square’ness n. □a square deal, fair treatment, a fair bargain. back to square one, back to the starting point in an enterprise etc., with no progress made. on the square, (informal) honest, honestly. square dance, a dance in which four couples face inward from four sides. squared away, tidied up. square knot, a knot with the free ends paralleling the fixed ends. square measure, measure expressed in square feet etc. square off, to get ready to fight, to assume the attitude of a boxer. square peg in a round hole, a person who is not fitted for his job. square root, a number of which the given number is the square (see n. definition 6), three is the square root of nine. square sail, a four-sided sail extended on a yard slung to the mast by the middle. square shooter, an honest person. square up, to pay or settle an account etc. square with, to be consistent with.

square-rigged (skwair-rig’d) adj. with the principal sails at right angles to the length of the ship. square’-rig’-ger n. a ship with square-rigged sail.

square-shoul’dered (skwair-shohl’-dèrd) adj. having broad and not sloping shoulders.

squar’ish (skwair-ish) adj. approximately square.

squash1 (skwosh) v. 1. to crush, to squeeze or become squeezed flat or into pulp. 2. to pack tightly, to crowd, to squeeze into a small space. 3. to suppress, squashed the rebellion. 4. to silence with a crushing reply. squash n. 1. a crowd of people squashed together. 2. the sound of something being squashed. 3. the game of squash racquets. squash’y adj. (squash’-i-er squash’-i-est)

□ squash racquets, a game played with rackets and a small ball in a closed court. □ Do not confuse squash with quash.

squash2 n. (pl. squash’es, squash) a kind of gourd used as a vegetable, the plant that bears it.

squat (skwot) v. (squat’-ted, squat’-ting) 1. to sit on one’s heels or crouch with knees drawn up closely. 2. (of an animal) to crouch close to the ground. 3. (informal) to sit. 4. to be a squatter, to occupy as a squatter. squat n. 1. a squatting posture. 2. the act of squatting. squat adj. short and thick, dumpy. squat’ness n.

squat’ter (skwot’-ær) n. 1. one who sits in a squatting posture. 2. a person who settles on unoccupied land in order to acquire a legal right to it. 3. a person who takes temporary possession of unoccupied buildings for living in, without authority. □ squatter’s right, the right of squatters to claim land as their own after a prescribed period of continuous occupancy.

squaw (skwaw) n. a North American Indian woman or wife.

squawk (skwawk) n. a loud harsh cry. squawk v. 1. to utter a squawk. 2. (slang) to complain. squawk’er n. □ squawk box, (informal) a loudspeaker.

squaw (skwaw) man a non-Indian man, especially a white man, married to a squaw.

squeak (skweek) n. a short high-pitched cry or sound. squeak v. to utter or make a squeak. squeak’er n. □ a narrow squeak, a narrow escape from danger or failure.

squeak’y (skwée-kee) adj. (squeak’-i-er, squeak’-i-est) making a squeaking sound.

squeal (skweel) n. a long shrill cry or sound. squeal v. to utter a squeal, to make this sound. 2. (slang) to protest sharply. 3. (slang) to become an informer. squeal’er n.

squeam’ish (skwee-mish) adj. 1. easily sickened or disgusted or shocked. 2. excessively scrupulous about principles.

squeam’ish’ly adv. squeam’ish’ness n.

squeee-gee (skwee-gee) n. a tool with a rubber blade on a handle, used for sweeping or squeezing away water or moisture.

squeeegee v. (squeee-geed, squeee-gee-ing) to treat with a squeeegee.

squeeeze (skweez) v. (squeezed, squeezing) 1. to exert pressure on from opposite or all sides. 2. to treat in this way so as to extract moisture or juice, to extract (moisture etc.) by squeezing. 3. to force into or through, to force one’s way, to crowd, we squeezed six people into the car; she squeezed through the gap. 4. to produce by pressure or effort. 5. to obtain by compulsion or strong urging, squeezed a promise from them. 6. to extort money etc. from, to harass in this way, heavy taxation is squeezing small firms. squeeze n. 1. squeezing, being squeezed. 2. an affectionate clasp or hug. 3. a small amount of liquid produced by squeezing, a squeeze of lemon juice. 4. a crowd or crush, the pressure of this, we all got in, but it was a tight squeeze. 5. hardship or difficulty caused by shortage of money.
squeezer / stack

or time etc. 6. restrictions on borrowing etc. during a financial crisis, a credit squeeze. □ squeeze bottle, a flexible container whose contents are extracted by squeezing it. squeeze play, (in baseball) a play in which the ball is bunted to enable a runner on third base to break for home plate as soon as the ball is pitched.

squeezer (skwee-zer) n. a device for squeezing juice from fruit by pressure.

tsquelch (skwelch) v. 1. to stamp on, to crush flat. 2. to suppress, to quell. 3. to silence, as with a crushing reply. 4. to make a sound like someone treading on thick mud. squelch n. the act or sound of squelching. squelcher n.

squib (skwib) n. 1. a small firework that makes a hissing sound and then explodes. 2. a short satirical composition, a lampoon.

squid (skwid) n. (pl. squids, squids) a sea creature related to the cuttlefish, with ten arms around the mouth.

squiggle (skwig-el) n. a short curly line, especially in handwriting. squiggle v. (squig-led, squig-glung) to make such a line, to draw as a squiggle. squiggliness adj.

squint (skwint) v. 1. to look at (a thing) with the eyes turned sideways or half shut, or through a narrow opening. 2. to be cross-eyed. squint n. 1. a squinting position of the eyelids or eyeballs. 2. a stealthy or sideways glance. 3. (informal) a look, have a squint at this. squintier n. squintiest adj.

squint-eyed (skwint-ed) adj. 1. cross-eyed. 2. looking spiteful or malicious.

squire (skwir) n. 1. a country gentleman in England, especially the chief landowner in a district. 2. (old use) an attendant on a knight. 3. a woman's escort. 4. (as a title of respect) a magistrate or lawyer. squire v. (squired, squired) to escort.

squirm (skwirm) v. 1. to wriggle or writhe. 2. to feel embarrassment or uneasiness. squirm n. a squirming movement.

squirmier n. squirmiest adj.

squirl (skwur-l) n. (pl. -rels, -rel) 1. a small tree-climbing animal with a bushy tail and usually red or gray fur. 2. its fur. □ squirrel away, to hoard (a thing).

squirl-ly (skwur-lee) adj. (slang) eccentric, odd.

squirt (skwurt) v. to send out (liquid) or be sent out from or as if from a syringe, to wet in this way. squirt n. 1. a syringe. 2. a jet of liquid. 3. (informal) a small or unimportant but annoying person.

Sr symbol strontium.

Sr. abbr. 1. Senior. 2. Señor. 3. Sir. 4. Sister.

Sri Lanka (sree lang-kä) a country (formerly called Ceylon) in the Indian Ocean. Sri Lankan adj. & n.

SRO abbr. standing room only.

ss. abbr. 1. sections. 2. shortstop.

SSA abbr. Social Security Administration.

SSE abbr. south-southeast.

SSgt abbr. staff sergeant.

SSR abbr. Soviet Socialist Republic.

SSS abbr. Selective Service System.

SST abbr. supersonic transport.

SSW abbr. south-southwest.

st. abbr. 1. stanza. 2. state. 3. stitch. 4. stone (weight).

St. abbr. 1. Saint. 2. statute(s). 3. Strait. 4. Street.

s.t. abbr. short ton.

sta. abbr. 1. station. 2. stationary.

stab (stab) v. (stabbed, stabbing) 1. to pierce or wound with a pointed tool or weapon. 2. to aim a blow with or as if with a pointed weapon. 3. to cause a sensation of being stabbed, a stabbing pain. stab n. 1. the act of stabbing, a blow or thrust wound made by stabbing. 2. a sensation of being stabbed, felt a stab of fear. 3. (informal) an attempt; make or take or have a stab at it, try to do it. □ a stab in the back, a treacherous attack.

stabile (stay-beel) n. an abstract sculpture or structure of sheet metal, etc.

stabile (stay-bil-i-tee) n. being stable.

stabilize (stay-bil-ize) v. (stabilized, stabilizing) to make or become stable. stabilization n. (stabilized) a state.

stabilizer (stay-bil-i-zer) n. a device to prevent a ship from rolling or to keep an airplane steady during flight.

stably adv.

stably adv.

stable (stak) n. 1. a building in which horses are kept. 2. an establishment for training racehorses, the horses from a particular establishment. stable v. (stabled, stabilizing) to put or keep in a stable.

stableboy (stak-boi) n. a person (of either sex) who works in a stable.

stacato (stah-kah-toh) adj. & adv. (especially in music) in a sharp disconnected manner, not running on smoothly.

stack (stak) n. 1. a circular or rectangular pile of hay etc., usually with a pointed top. 2. an orderly pile or heap. 3. (informal) a large quantity, have stacks or a whole stack of work to get through. 4. a smokestack. 5. stacks, the section of a library where most of the books are kept. stack v. 1. to pile in a stack or stacks. 2. to arrange (cards) secretly for cheating; the cards were stacked against him, circumstances put him at a disadvantage. 3. to instruct (aircraft) to fly around the same point at different altitudes while waiting to land. 4. blow one's stack, (slang) to show great anger. stack up, (informal) to compare, how do these results stack up against the earlier ones?

sta-di-um (stay-di-üm) n. (pl. -di-ums, -di-a, pr. -di-ä) an enclosed athletic or sportsworld with tiers of seats for spectators.

staff (staff) n. (pl. staffs for definitions 2, 3 & 4; also staves, pr. stavyz; for 1 & 5) 1. (pl. staves or staffs) a stick or pole used as a weapon or support or measuring stick, or as a symbol of authority. 2. a body of officers assisting a commanding officer and concerned with an army or regiment or fleet etc. as a whole. 3. a group of assistants by whom a business is carried on, those responsible to a manager or person of authority. 4. people in authority within an organization (as distinct from pupils etc.), or those doing administrative work as distinct from manual work. 5. (pl. staves or staffs) one of the sets of five horizontal lines on which music is written. staff v. to provide with a staff of employees or assistants. staff'er n. □ staff officer, a member of a military staff (see definition 2). staff of life, bread. staff sergeant, a noncommissioned officer ranking (in the U.S. Army) below a sergeant first class and above a sergeant, (in the Air Force) below a technical sergeant and above a sergeant, (in the Marine Corps) below a gunnery sergeant and above a sergeant.

stag (stag) n. a fully grown male deer. stag adj. of or for men only. stag adv. not accompanied by a woman. □ stag beetle, a beetle with branched projecting mouth parts that resemble a stag's antlers. stag party, a party of or for men only.

stage (stayj) n. 1. a platform on which plays etc. are performed before an audience. 2. the stage, theatrical work, the profession of actors and actresses. 3. a raised floor or platform, as on scaffold ing. 4. a point or period in the course or development of something, the talks have reached a critical stage. 5. a stoping place on a route, the distance between two of these; we traveled by easy stages, a short distance at a time. 6. a section of a space rocket with a separate engine, jettisoned when its fuel is exhausted. stage v. (staged, stag-ing) 1. to present (a play etc.) on the stage. 2. to arrange and carry out, decided to stage a sit-in. □ go on the stage, to become an actor or actress. stage door, the actors' and crew's etc. entrance from the street to the backstage area of a theater. stage fright, nervousness on facing an audience. stage left, the part of the stage that is on an actor's left as he faces the audience. stage-manage, to organize things as or like a stage manager. stage manager, the person responsible for the scenery and other practical arrangements in the production of a play. stage right, the part of the stage that is on an actor's right as he faces the audience. stage whisper, a whisper that is meant to be overheard.

stagecoach (stayj-kohch) n. a large closed horse-drawn coach formerly running regularly by stages between places.

stagecraft (stayj-kraft) n. skill or experience in writing or staging plays.

stagedoor (stayj-dohr) John*ny (informal) a man who spends time at a theater courting an actress or chorus girl.

stagehand (stayj-hand) n. a person handling scenery etc. during a performance on the stage.

stag-ger (stag-ër) v. 1. to move or go unsteadily, as if about to fall. 2. to shock deeply, to cause astonishment or worry or confusion to, we were staggered by the news. 3. to place in a zigzag or alternating arrangement. 4. to arrange (people's holidays or hours of work etc.) so that their times do not coincide exactly. stagger n. an unsteady staggering movement. stag-ger*ing-ly adv.

stagger*ing (stayj-ing) adj. bewilder ing, astonishing, the total cost is stagger ing.

staging (stay-ing) n. 1. scaffolding, a temporary platform or support. 2. the presentation of a production on the stage. □ staging area, an intermediate assembly point for troops in transit. staging post, a regular stopping place on a long route.
stagnant (stág-nánt) adj. 1. (of water) not flowing, still and stale. 2. showing no activity, business was stagnant.

stagnate (stág-nát) v. (stág-nát-ed, stág-nát-ing) 1. to be stagnant. 2. (of a person) to become dull through inactivity and lack of variety or opportunity. stag·nation (stág-ná-shon) n.

stain (stayn) n. v. 1. to discolor or become discolored by a substance. 2. to blemish, it stained his good reputation. 3. to color with a pigment that penetrates. stain n. 1. a mark caused by staining. 2. a blemish, without a stain on his character. 3. a liquid used for staining things. stain·er n. □stained glass, glass colored with transparent coloring.

stain·less (stayn-lis) adj. free from stains or blemishes. □stainless steel, steel containing chromium and not liable to rust or tarnish under ordinary conditions.

stair (stair) n. 1. one of a flight of fixed steps. 2. stairs, a flight of steps. □stair rod, a rod for securing a stair carpet in the angle between two stairs.

stair·case (stair-kays) n. a flight of stairs (often with banisters) and its supporting structure.

stair·way (stair-way) n. a staircase.

stair·well (stair-wel) n. (in a building) the vertical area in which the stairs are located.

stake (stayk) n. 1. a stick or post sharpened at one end for driving into the ground as a support or marker etc. 2. the post to which a person was bound for execution by being burned alive; the stake, this method of execution. 3. money etc. wagered on the result of a race or other event; stakes, (in names of horse races) money offered as a prize, the race itself, the Belmont Stakes. 4. something invested in an enterprise and giving a share or interest in it. stake v. (staked, stake·ing) 1. to fasten or support with stakes. 2. to mark (an area) with stakes. 3. to wager or risk (money etc.) on an event. 4. (informal) to give financial or other support to. □at stake, being risked, depending on the outcome of an event. pull up stakes, to depart, to go to live elsewhere. stake a claim, to claim or obtain a right to something. stake out, to mark (an area) with stakes; (informal) to place (an area etc.) under surveillance, to assign (a person) to such a task. stake race, a horse race for which the owners of the horses put up part of the prize money.

stake·out (stayk-owt) n. surveillance of a building etc., as by police.

stal·ac·tile (stá-lak-tit) n. a deposit of calcium carbonate hanging like an icicle from the roof of a cave etc.

stal·ag·mite (stá-lag-mit) n. a deposit like a stalactite but standing like a pillar on the floor of a cave etc.

stale (stál) adj. (stal·er, stal·est) 1. lacking freshness, dry or musty or unpleasant because not fresh. 2. uninteresting because not new or because heard often before, stale news or jokes. 3. having one's ability to perform spoiled by too much practice. stale v. (staled, stale·ing) to make or become stale. stale·ly adv. stale·ness n.

stale·mate (stálm-mat) n. 1. a drawn position in chess, in which a player can make no move without putting his king in check. 2. a deadlock, a drawn contest.

stalemate v. (stale·mat·ed, stale·mat·ing) to bring to a position of stalemate or deadlock.

Sta·lin·ism (stah-li-niz-ém) n. the policy of Joseph Stalin (1879–1953) in government of the U.S.S.R. Sta·lin·ist adj. & n.

stall (stawl) n. 1. the main stem of a plant. 2. a stem attaching a leaf or flower or fruit to another stem or to a twig. 3. a similar support of a part or organ in animals or of a device. stalled adj.

stall v. 1. to walk in a stately or imposing manner. 2. to track or pursue (game etc.) stealthily. stall·er n. □stalling horse, a person or thing used to conceal one's real intentions.

stall (stawl) n. 1. a stable or cow barn, a compartment for one animal in this. 2. a compartment for one person. 3. a seat with its back and sides more or less enclosed, in a church etc. 4. a booth or stand or table where goods are displayed for sale. 5. stalling of an engine or aircraft. stall v. 1. to place or keep (an animal) in a stall, especially for fattening. 2. (of an engine) to stop suddenly because of an overload or insufficient fuel. 3. (of an aircraft) to begin to drop because the speed is too low for the plane to answer to its controls. 4. to cause (an engine or aircraft) to stall. 5. to use delaying tactics in order to gain time, to turn aside (a person or request) in this way.

stall·ion (stál-yón) n. an uncastrated male horse, especially one kept for breeding.

stal·wart (stawl-wart) adj. 1. sturdy. 2. strong and faithful, stalwart supporters. stalwart n. a stalwart person.

sta·men (stay-mén) n. (pl. sta·mens) the male fertilizing organ of flowering plants, bearing pollen.

stam-l-nate n. staying power, ability to withstand prolonged physical or mental strain.

stam'-l-nate adj. 1. having stamens but no pistils. 2. having stamens.

stam'-mer v. to speak or utter with involuntary pauses or rapid repetitions of the same syllable. stam'-mer n. stammering speech, a tendency to stammer. stam'-mer-er n. stammering.

stamp v. 1. to bring one's foot down heavily on the ground, stamped hard or stamped his foot. 2. to walk with loud heavy steps. 3. to strike or press with a device that leaves a mark or pattern etc., to cut or shape in this way. 4. to fix a postage or other stamp to. 5. to give a certain character to, this achievement stamps him as a genius. stamp n. 1. the act or sound of stamping. 2. an instrument for stamping a pattern or mark, the mark itself. 3. a piece of paper bearing an official design, for affixing to an envelope or document to indicate that postage or duty or other fee has been paid. 4. a distinguishing mark, a clear indication, the story bears the stamp of truth. stamp collecting, the collecting of postage stamps as objects of interest or value. stamping ground, (informal) a person's or animal's usual haunt or place of action. stamp on, to crush by stamping; to quell. stamp out, to extinguish by stamping, stamped out the fire; to suppress (a rebellion etc.) by force.

stam'-pede n. 1. a sudden rush of a herd of frightened animals. 2. a rush of people under a sudden common impulse, stampeded to buy gold. stam-pede v. (stam'-ped-ed, stam'-ped-ing) to take part or cause to take part in a stampede, to cause to act hurriedly.

stance n. 1. the position in which a person or animal stands. 2. an attitude, usually toward a specific issue etc., a positive stance on civil liberties.

stanch v. to restrain the flow of (blood etc.) or from (a wound).

stanch² = staunch¹.

stan-chion (stan-chōn) n. an upright bar or post forming a support.

stand v. (stood, stand-ing) 1. to have or take or keep a stationary upright position, we were standing talking about the weather. 2. to be of a specified height, stands six feet two inches. 3. to be situated. 4. to place, to set upright, stand the vase on the table. 5. to remain firm or valid or in a specified condition, the offer still stands; the thermometer stood at 90°. 6. to remain stationary or unused. 7. to offer oneself for election, she stood for Congress. 8. to undergo, he stood trial for murder. 9. to steer a specified course in sailing. 10. to put up with, to endure, can't stand that noise. 11. to provide at one's own expense, stood him a drink. stand n. 1. a stationary condition. 2. a position taken up, took his stand near the door. 3. resistance to attack, the period of this, make a stand. 4. a halt to give a performance, the band did a one-night stand. 5. a rack or pedestal etc. on which something may be placed, umbrella stand. 6. stands, a raised structure with seats at a sports ground etc. 7. a small often temporary structure for displaying goods, newspaper stand. 8. a standing place for vehicles, taxi stand. 9. a witness box. □ as it stands, in the present state of affairs; in its present condition, unaltered, leave it as it stands. It stands to reason, it is obvious or logical. stand a chance, to have a chance of success. stand alone, to be unequaled. stand by, to look on without interfering; to support or side with (a person) in difficulty or dispute; to stand ready for action; to keep to (a promise or agreement). stand for, to represent, a policeman's badge stands for law and order; "U.S." stands for "United States"; (informal) to tolerate. stand off, to remain at a distance. stand on, to insist on formal observance of, stand on ceremony. stand on end, (of hair) to become erect from fear or horror. stand one's ground, not yield. stand on one's own feet, to be independent. stand out, to be conspicuous. stand over, to supervise (a person or thing) closely; to be postponed. stand treat, (informal) to pay for another person's drink or entertainment etc. stand up, to come to or place in a standing position; to be valid, to endure, that argument won't stand up; stand a person up, fail to keep an appointment with him. stand up for, to defend or support (a person or opinion). stand up to, to resist courageously; to remain durable in (hard use or wear).

standard (stan-dārd) n. 1. a thing or quality or specification by which something may be tested or measured. 2. the required level of quality, was rejected as being below standard. 3. the average quality, the standard of her work is high. 4. a specified level of proficiency. 5. the prescribed proportion of the weight of fine metal to be used in coins. 6. the basis to which the value of a monetary system is related, the gold standard. 7. a distinctive flag, the royal standard. 8. an upright support. standard adj. 1. serving as or conforming to a standard, standard measures of length. 2. of average or usual quality, not of special design etc., the standard model of this car. 3. of recognized merit or authority, the standard book on spiders. 4. widely used and regarded as the usual form, standard car battery. □ standard English, the form of English speech used, with local variations, by the majority of educated English-speaking people. standard gauge, the standard width of a railroad track, four feet, eight and one-half inches between the rails. standard of living, the level of material comfort enjoyed by a person or group. standard time, the uniform time for places in approximately the same longitude, and established in a country or region by law or custom. standard bearer (stan-där-bair-är) n. a prominent leader in a political party or a cause.

standard-bred (stan-där-bred) n. a horse of a breed used chiefly for harness racing.

standardize (stan-där-iz) v. (standardized, standardizing) to cause to conform to a standard. standardization (stan-är-diz-ä-shun) n.

stand-by (stand-bi) n. (pl. -bys) a person or thing available as a substitute or in an emergency. standby adj. ready for use or action as a substitute etc.

standee (stan-dee) n. (informal) a person who stands in a bus or theater etc. because all seats are occupied.

stand-in (stand-in) n. 1. a person who takes the place of an actor while lighting etc. is arranged. 2. (informal) a person who deputizes for another.

standing (stand-ing) adj. 1. upright; standing corn, not yet harvested. 2. (of a jump) performed without a run. 3. permanent, remaining effective or valid, a standing invitation. standing n. 1. status, people of high standing. 2. past duration, a friendship of long standing. □ standing army, a permanently maintained army. standing committee, a permanent committee. standing room, space for people to stand in.

standoff (stand-off) n. (informal) a draw or tie in a game.

standoffish (stand-offish) adj. (informal) aloof in manner.

standout (stand-out) n. a remarkable person or thing.

standard pipe (stand-pip) n. a vertical pipe for fluid to rise in, as to provide a water supply outside or at a distance from buildings.

standard point (stand-point) n. a point of view.

standard still (stand-still) n. a stoppage, an inability to proceed.

standup (stand-up) adj. 1. (of a collar) upright, not turned down. 2. (of a meal) eaten while standing. 3. (of a comedian) performing (often while standing) alone on stage.

stank (stank) see stink.

standard-bearer (stan-zě) n. a group of lines, often rhymed, forming a subdivision of a poem.

-stas (stay-pēz) n. (pl. -pes) a small stirrup-shaped bone in the ear of a mammal.

staph (staf) n. (informal) staphylococcus.

staphy-lo-co-cus (staf-fy-lo-kök-ús) n. (pl. -co-cus, pr. -kok-si) a kind of microorganism that causes pus to form.

staphy-lo-co-cal (stan-dee) adj.

staple (stay-pål) n. 1. a U-shaped piece of metal or wire for holding something in place. 2. a piece of metal or wire driven into papers etc. and clenched to fasten them. staple v. (stapled, stapling) to secure with a staple or staples. stapler n.

staple (stay-pål) adj. principal, standard, rice is their staple food. staple n. a staple food or product etc.

star (stahr) n. 1. a celestial body appearing as a point of light in the night sky. 2. (in astronomy) any large light-emitting gaseous ball, such as the sun. 3. a heavenly body regarded as influencing a person’s fortunes, thank your lucky stars. 4. a figure or object or ornament with rays or radiating points, an asterisk, a star-shaped mark indicating a category of excellence. 5. a brilliant person, a famous actor or actress or other performer. star v. (starred, starring) 1. to put an asterisk or star symbol beside (a name or item in a list etc.). 2. to present or perform as a star actor. starless adj. starlike adj. □ Star Chamber, an English civil and criminal court noted for arbitrary procedure and severe treatment, abolished in 1604; any arbitrary oppressive tribunal. star cut, a gem cut having one large hexagonal surface surrounded by six smaller facets in the shape of equilateral triangles. star dust, a multitude of stars looking like dust; a romantic sensation. star of Bethlehem, a plant having white starlike flowers striped with green. Star of David, the six-pointed star used as a Jewish and Israeli symbol. star route, a postal deliver route served by private contractors. Stars and Bars, the flag of the Confederate States of America. Stars and Stripes, the national flag of the U.S. star sapphire, a sapphire, polished but not faceted, that reflects light in the shape of a six-rayed star. star shell, a military shell designed to burst in air and light up the enemy's position.

star-board (stahr-börd) n. the right-hand side (when facing forward) of a ship or aircraft. starboard adj.

starch (stahrch) n. 1. a white carbohydrate that is an important element in human food. 2. a preparation of this or other substances for stiffening fabrics. 3. stiffness of manner. starch v. to stiffen with starch.

starch-y (stahr-ché) adj. (starch-ly, starch-ly-est) 1. of or like starch. 2. containing much starch. 3. stiff and formal in manner. starch’l-ness n.

star-crossed (stahr-krawst) adj. (informal) ill-fated.

star-dom (stahr-döm) n. being a star actor or performer.

stare (stahr) v. (stared, staring) 1. to gaze fixedly with the eyes wide open, especially in astonishment. 2. (of the eyes) to be wide open with fixed gaze. stare n. a staring gaze. □stare a person in the face, to be glaringly obvious or clearly imminent, ruin stared him in the face.

star-fish (stahr-fish) n. a star-shaped sea creature.

star-gaze (stahr-gayz) v. (stared, gazing) 1. (humorous) to study the stars as an astronomer or astrologer.

2. to daydream. star’gaz*er n.

stark (stahrk) adj. 1. stiff in death. 2. desolate, cheerless, stark prison conditions. 3. sharply evident, in stark contrast. 4. downright, complete, stark madness. stark adv. completely, wholly, stark rav ing mad. stark’ly adv. stark’ness n.

star-let (stahr-lit) n. a young film actress who shows promise of becoming a star.

star-light (stahr-lit) n. light from the stars.

star-ling (stahr-ling) n. a noisy bird with glossy blackish speckled feathers that forms large flocks.

star-lit (stahr-lit) adj. lit by starlight.

star-ry (stahr-ee) adj. (-r*ly, -r*est) 1. set with stars. 2. shining like stars.

star-ry-eyed (stahr-eye-d) adj. 1. romantically enthusiastic. 2. enthusiastic but impractical.

Star-Span-gled (stahr-span-gel’d) Banner, The the national anthem of the U.S. star-stud*ded (stahr-stud-id) adj. containing many stars, the show has a star-studded cast.

start (stahr) v. 1. to begin or cause to begin a process or course of action, (of an engine) to begin running. 2. to cause or enable to begin, to establish or found, the parents started a play group; start a baby, to conceive. 3. to begin a journey. 4. to make a sudden movement from pain or surprise etc., started at the sound of gunfire. 5. to spring suddenly, started from his seat. 6. to rouse (game etc.) from its lair or covert. start n. 1. the beginning of a journey or activity or race, the place where a race starts. 2. an opportunity for or assistance in starting. 3. an advantage gained or allowed in starting, the amount of this, had ten seconds or ten yards start. 4. a sudden movement of surprise or pain etc. □for a start, as a thing to start with. start in, (informal) to begin. starting gate, a removable barrier behind which horses are lined up at the start of a race. starting point, the point from which something begins. start off, to begin, to begin to move. start out, to begin, to begin a journey; to intend when starting, started out to write a novel. start up, to start; to set in motion, to start an activity etc.

star-er (stahr-tér) n. 1. a person or thing that starts something. 2. one who gives the signal for a race to start. 3. a horse or competitor at the start of a race, list of probable starters. □for starters, (slang) to start with.

star-let (stahr-tel) v. (stellar, start-ling) to cause to make a sudden movement from surprise or alarm, to take by surprise.

star-ling (stahr-tling) adj. surprising, astonishing.

starve (stahrv) v. (starved, starving) 1. to die or suffer acutely from lack of food, to cause to do this. 2. to suffer or cause to suffer for lack of something needed, was starved for affection. 3. (informal) to feel very hungry or very cold. 4. to force by starvation, starved them into surrender. star-vation (stahr-vay-shon) n. □starvation diet, not enough food to support life adequately.

starve-ling (stahrv-ling) n. a starving or ill-fed person or animal.

stash (stahsh) v. (slang) to stow. stash n. (slang) 1. a hiding place for something. 2. the thing hidden.

stat. abbr. 1. statutory. 2. statute. 3. statute(s).

state (stayt) n. 1. the quality of a person's or thing's characteristics or circumstances. 2. an excited or agitated condition of the mind, she got into a state.
3. a grand imposing style, arrived in state.
4. (often State) an organized community under one government (the State of Israel) or forming part of a federal republic (the state of Vermont).
5. civil government, matters of state. state adj. 1. of or for or concerning with the state. 2. involving ceremony, used or done on ceremonial occasions. state occasions state v. (stat-ed, stat-ing) 1. to express in spoken or written words. 2. to fix or specify, must be inspected at stated intervals.

state in state, to be laid out for viewing before burial. State Department, the department of foreign affairs in the U.S. government.

state of the art, the current state of development or knowledge of a subject.

state's evidence, evidence given for or by the state in a criminal case, especially by the accused's accomplice who becomes a voluntary witness.

state trooper, a member of the police force of a state of the U.S. the States, the U.S.

statecraft (stayt-kraft) n. the art of conducting affairs of state.

statehood (stayt-huud) n. the condition or status of being a state, Alaska achieved statehood in 1959.

statehouse (stayt-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-ziz) the building where a state legislature meets.

stateless (stayt-lis) adj. (of a person) not a citizen or subject of any country.

state-ly (stayt-lee) adj. (-li-er, -li-est) dignified, imposing, grand.

stateliness n.

statement (stayt-ment) n. 1. stating. 2. something stated. 3. a formal account of facts, a written report of a financial account.

stateroom (stayt-room) n. a passenger's private compartment on a ship or train.

stateside (stayt-sid) adj. of, in, or toward the U.S., as viewed from outside the country. stateside adv. in or toward the U.S.

statesman (stayts-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -män) a person who is skilled or prominent in the management of state affairs.

states'man-like adj. states'manship n. states'woman (stayts-wuwmän) n. fem. (pl. -women, pr. -wim-in).

static (stat-ik) adj. 1. of force acting by weight without motion (as opposed to dynamic). 2. not moving, stationary. 3. not changing. static n. 1. atmospheres. 2. static electricity. 3. radio interference caused by atmospheric electricity, the noise of this. 4. (slang) criticism. 5. statics, a branch of physics that deals with bodies at rest or forces in equilibrium.

static electricity, electricity present in a body and not flowing as current.

station (stay-shôn) n. 1. a place where a person or thing stands or is stationed.

station, an establishment or building where a public service is based or which is equipped for certain activities, the fire station; an agricultural research station.

3. a broadcasting establishment with its own frequency. 4. a stopping place on a railroad or bus route with buildings for passengers or goods or both. 5. position in life, status, she had ideas above her station.

station v. to put at or in a certain place for a purpose, the regiment was stationed in Germany.

station break, a pause between or during broadcast programs for identification of the station transmitting them.

stations of the cross, a series of fourteen images or pictures representing events in Christ's Passion before which prayers are said in certain churches.

station wagon, an automobile having as its trunk area an extension of the seating area, and with folding or removable rear seats.

stationary (stay-shôner-ee) adj. 1. not moving, not movable. 2. not changing in condition or quantity etc. Do not confuse stationary with stationery.

stationer (stayt-shên) n. a person who sells writing materials (paper, pens, ink, etc.).

stationery (stayt-shên-er-ee) n. writing paper, envelopes, and other articles sold by a stationer. Do not confuse stationery with stationery.

stationmaster (stayt-shôn-masz-ter) n. the official in charge of a railroad station.

statistic (stâ-tis-tik) n. an item of information expressed in numbers, there is no reliable statistic or there are no reliable statistics on this problem. See the note under statistics.

statistician (stâ-st-i-shân) n. an expert in statistics.

statistics (stâ-tis-ticks) the science of collecting, classifying, and interpreting information based on the numbers of things. statistic'ical adj. statistic'ically adv. Note that statistics in this meaning is singular, statistics is my favorite subject.

statue (stâsh-oo-er-ee) n. statues.

statue (stâsh-oo) n. a sculptured or cast or molded figure of a person or animal, usually of life size or larger. Do not confuse statue with statue.

statues (stach-ooz) adj. like a statue in size or dignity or stillness.

status (stach-ooz) n. a small statue.

statute (stach-ûr) n. 1. the natural height of the body. 2. greatness gained by ability or achievement.

sta•tus (stay-túss, stá-túss) n. (pl. -tus•es) 1. a person’s position or rank in relation to others, a person’s or thing’s legal position. 2. high rank or prestige.

status symbol, a possession or activity etc. regarded as evidence of a person’s high status.

sta•tus quo (stay-túss kwóh, stá-túss) the state of affairs as it is or as it was before a recent change, maintain the status quo.

▷ Latin, = the state in which.

sta•tute (stach-oot) n. 1. a law passed by a legislative body. 2. one of the rules of an institution, the university statutes.

statute mile, see mile. statute of limitations, a statute specifying the period of time beyond which legal action may not be taken. ▷ Do not confuse statute with statute.

stat•u•to•ry (stach-ú-toh-ree) adj. fixed or done or required by statute. statu•to•ri•ly adv. statutory law, statutes collectively, as opposed to case law or common law.

staunch1 (stawnch) adj. firm in attitude or opinion or loyalty. staunch•ly adv. staunchness n.

staunch2 = staunch1.

stave (stayv) n. 1. one of the curved strips of wood forming the side of a barrel or tub. 2. a staff in music (see staff definition 5). stave v. (staved or stow•ing) to dent or break a hole, stow or staved in. ▷ stave off, to ward off permanently or temporarily, we staved off disaster (▷ not stow in this sense).

stayed (stayd, stay•ing) 1. to continue to be in the same place or state, stay here; stay awake; stay away from the meeting, not go to it. 2. to remain or dwell temporarily, especially as a guest or visitor. 3. to satisfy temporarily, we stayed our hunger with a sandwich. 4. to postpone, stay judgment. 5. to pause in movement or action or speech. 6. to show endurance, as in a race or task; stay the course, be able to reach the end of a race etc. stay n. 1. a period of temporary dwelling or visiting, made a short stay in Athens. 2. a postponement, as of carrying out a judgment, was granted a stay of execution. ▷ staying power, endurance.

stay-at-home (stay-á-tō-hom) adj. remaining at home habitually. stay-at-home n. a person who does this.

stay•er (stay-ár) n. a person with great staying power.

stbd. abbr. starboard.

std. abbr. standard.

Ste. abbr. Saint (female). ▷ French sainte.

stead (sted) n. in a person’s or thing’s stead, instead of him or it. stand a person in good stead, to be of great advantage or service to him.

stead•fast (sted-fast) adj. firm and not changing or yielding, a steadfast refusal.

stead•fast•ly adv. stead•fast•ness n.

stead•y (sted-ee) adj. (stead•i•er, stead•i•est) 1. firmly supported or balanced, not shaking or rocking or tottering. 2. done or operating or happening in a uniform and regular manner, a steady pace. 3. behaving in a serious and dependable manner, not frivolous or excitable. steady n. (informal) a regular boyfriend or girlfriend. steady adv. steadily. steady v. (stead•ied, stead•y•ing) to make or become steady.

stead•ily adv. stead•iness n. ▷ go steady, (informal) to go about regularly with a member of the opposite sex though not yet engaged to be married to him or her. steady state theory, the theory holding that the universe was not created by any past event and that it is limitless and ever expanding.

steak (stayk) n. a thick slice of meat (especially beef) or fish, cut for grilling or frying etc. ▷ steak knife, a sharp table knife, usually with a serrated edge, for cutting steak etc.

steak•house (stayk-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-ziz) a restaurant that specializes in serving steaks.

steal (stel) v. (stole, sto•len, steal•ing) 1. to take another person’s property without right or permission, to take dishonestly. 2. to obtain by surprise or a trick or surreptitiously, stole a kiss; stole a look at her. 3. to move secretly or without being noticed, stole out of the room. 4. (in baseball) to gain (a base) without the aid of a hit or an error, by deceiving the fielders. steal n. 1. stealing, theft. 2. (slang) an easy task, a good bargain. ▷ steal a march on, to gain an advantage over (a person) secretly or slyly or by acting in advance of him. steal the show, to outshine other performers unexpectedly.

stealth (stelth) n. stealthiness.

stealth•y (stel-thee) adj. (stead•i•er, stealth•i•est) acting or done in a quiet or secret way so as to avoid being noticed. stealth•ily adv. stealth•iness n.

steam (stem) n. 1. invisible gas into which water is changed by boiling, used as motive power. 2. the mist that forms when steam condenses in the air. 3. energy or power; run out of steam, to become exhausted before something is finished.

steam v. 1. to give out steam or vapor. 2. to cook or treat by steam. 3. to move by the power of steam, the ship steamed down the river. 4. to cover or become covered with condensed steam, the windows were steamed up. 5. let off steam, see let. steam bath, a bath in which the bather or the substance to be heated is immersed in steam. steamed up, (slang) excited or angry. steam engine, an engine or locomotive driven by steam.

steam fitter, a person whose work is installing or repairing steam pipes etc. steam heat, heat given out by steam from radiators etc. steam iron, an electric iron that can emit jets of steam from its flat surface. steam room, a room equipped as a steam bath. steam shovel, a large machine for excavating worked by steam. steam table, a counter (in restaurants etc.) fitted with containers for food that is heated from below by steam or hot water. steam up, to cover or become covered with condensed water vapor; (slang) to make or become excited or angry.

steamboat (steam-boht) n. a steam-driven boat, especially a relatively small one used in inland waters.

steam-er (steam-er) n. 1. a steam-driven ship. 2. a container in which things are cooked or treated by steam. 3. a soft-shelled clam. 4. steamer rug, a heavy blanket of the kind used on deck chairs on passenger ships. steamer trunk, a large low trunk.

steam-roll-er (steam-rol-lur) n. a heavy slow-moving engine with a large roller, used in road-making. steamroller v. to crush or defeat by weighty influence.

steam-ship (steam-ship) n. a steam-driven ship.

steam-y (steam-ee) adj. (steam-i-er, steam-i-est) like steam, full of steam. steam-’i-ly adv. steam-’i-ness n.

stear-ic (stear-ik) acid a white fatty acid obtained from animal or vegetable fats.

stea-a-tite (stee-a-tit) n. a grayish talc that feels smooth and soapy, soapstone.

steed (steed) n. (poetical) a horse.

steel (steel) n. 1. a very strong alloy of iron and carbon much used for making vehicles, tools, weapons, etc.; nerves of steel, very strong nerves. 2. a tapered usually roughened steel rod for sharpening knives. steel v. to make hard or resolute, steel oneself or steel one’s heart.

steel band, a band of West Indian musicians with instruments made from oil drums. steel blue, a metallic gray-blue. steel engraving, an engraving on or an impression taken from a steel plate. steel gray, a dark gray. steel mill, a steelworks. steel wool, fine shavings of steel massed together for use as an abrasive.

steel’work (steel-wurk) n. 1. articles made of steel. 2. steelworks, a place where steel is manufactured.

steel’work’er (steel-wur-kur) n. a person who works in a steelworks.

steel’y (stee-lee) adj. (steel’-i-er, steel’-i-est) like steel in color or hardness. steel’-i-ness n.

steel’yard (steel-yahrd) n. a kind of balance with a short arm to take the thing being weighed and a long graduated arm along which a weight is moved until it balances this.

steep (steep) v. 1. to soak or be soaked in liquid. 2. to permeate thoroughly, steeped in mystery.

steep (steep) adj. 1. sloping sharply not gradually. 2. (informal, of a price) unreasonably high. steep’ly adv. steep’ness n.

steep-en (stee-pen) v. to make or become steeper.

steep-ple (stee-pel) n. a tall tower with a spire on top, rising above the roof of a church. steep’pled adj.

steep-ple-chase (stee-pel-chays) n. 1. a horse race across country or on a course with hedges and ditches to jump. 2. a cross-country race for runners.

steep-ple-jack (stee-pel-jak) n. a man who climbs tall chimneys or steeples to do repairs.

steer (steer) n. a young male of domestic cattle, castrated and raised for beef.

steer (steer) v. 1. to direct the course of, to guide (a vehicle or boat etc.) by its mechanism. 2. to be able to be steered, the car steers well. steer’er n. steer’a’ble adj.

steer clear of, to take care to avoid. steering committee, a committee deciding the order of dealing with business, or priorities and the general course of operations. steering wheel, a wheel for controlling the steering mechanism of a vehicle or boat etc.

steer-age (steer-ij) n. 1. steering. 2. (old use) the cheapest section of accommodation for passengers in a ship, situated below decks.

steers-man (steerz-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a person who steers a ship.

stein (stin) n. a large mug especially for beer.
ste·la (stee-lá) n. (pl. ste·lae, pr. stee·lee) = stele, definition 1.
ste·le (stee-lē) n. (pl. ste·les) 1. an upright slab or pillar, usually with an inscription and sculpture, especially one used as a gravestone. 2. the central tube in the stem or root of a vascular plant.
stel·lar (stel-ār) adj. of a star or stars.
stem1 (stem) n. 1. the main central part (usually above the ground) of a tree or shrub or plant. 2. a slender part supporting a fruit or flower or leaf. 3. any slender upright part, as that of a wineglass between bowl and foot. 4. the winding shaft of a type of watch. 5. the main part of a noun or verb, from which other parts or words are made, as by altering the endings. 6. the curved timber or metal piece at the fore end of a ship, a ship’s bows.
stem v. (stemmed, stem·ming) to remove the stem from. □ from stem to stem, from end to end of a ship.
stem from, to arise from, to have as its source.
stem2 v. (stemmed, stem·ming) 1. to check the flow of, to dam up. 2. (in skiing) to slow one’s movement by forcing the heel of one or both skis outward. □ stem turn, a turn made by stemming with one ski.
stem·ware (stem-wair) n. glasses with stems.
stem·wind·er (stem-wind·er) n. a watch wound by turning a knob on the end of the stem.
stench (stench) n. a foul smell.
sten·cil (sten·sil) n. 1. a sheet of metal or card etc. with a design cut out, painted or inked over to produce a corresponding design on the surface below. 2. a waxed sheet from which a stencil is made by a typewriter. 3. the decoration or lettering etc. produced by a stencil.
stencil v. (sten·ciled, stencil·ling) to produce or ornament by means of a stencil.
sten·o (sten·oh) n. (pl. -os) (informal) 1. a stenographer. 2. stenography.
steno., stenog. abbr. 1. stenographer. 2. stenography.
step·o·graph·er (step·o·graf·ér) n. a person who can write shorthand, one employed to do this.
step·o·graph·y (step·o·graf·ē) n. shorthand.
step·o··type (step·o··tik) n. 1. a letter or letters representing syllables or units of sound. 2. Stenotype, (trademark) a machine like a typewriter used for typing these.
step·to·ri·an (step·to·rī·ān) adj. (of a voice) extremely loud.
step (step) v. (stepped, step·ping) 1. to lift and set down the foot or alternate feet as in walking. 2. to move a short distance in this way, step aside; step into a job, to acquire it without effort. step n. 1: complete movement of one foot and leg in stepping. 2. the distance covered by this. 3. a short distance, it’s only a step to the bus stop. 4. a series of steps forming a particular pattern in dancing. 5. the sound of a step, a manner of stepping as seen or heard, I recognized your step. 6. a rhythm of stepping, as in marching. 7. one of a series of things done in some process or course of action, discussed the next step. 8. a level surface for placing the foot on in climbing up or down. 9. a stage in a scale of promotion or precedence. □ in step, stepping in time with other people in marching or dancing; conforming to what others are doing. out of step, not in step. step by step, one step at a time; proceeding steadily from one stage to the next. step down, to decrease, step down the voltage; to resign, stepped down from the board. step in, to intervene. step on it, (slang) to hurry. step out, to walk briskly, to stride; to take part in lively social activities. step up, to increase, step up the voltage. take steps, to begin to do what is necessary for a certain purpose. watch your step, (informal) be careful.
step·pre·fix meaning related by remarriage of one parent. step·child (pl. -child·ren), step·daugh·ter, step·son n. the child of one’s wife or husband, by an earlier marriage. step·broth·er, step·sis·ter n. the child of one’s stepfather or stepmother. step·fa·ther, step·moth·er, step·par·ent n. the husband or wife of one’s parent, by a later marriage.
step·h·a·no·sis (step·hā·nōsis) n. a tropical climbing plant with fragrant white waxy flowers.
step·ing (step·ing) adj. (of a garment) put on by being stepped into, without fastenings.
step·lad·der (step·lad·er) n. a short ladder with flat steps (not rungs) and a framework that supports it.
step·pe (step·pe) n. a level grassy plain with few trees, especially in southeast Europe and Siberia.
step·ping·stone (step·ing·stohn) n. 1. a raised stone providing a place to step on in crossing a stream etc. 2. a means or stage of progress toward achieving something.
ster. abbr. sterling.
stere (stere) n. a unit of volume equal to one cubic meter.
step·e·o (step·e·ō) n. (pl. -eos) 1. stereophonic sound or recording. 2. a stereophonic record player or radio set. stereo adj. stereophonic.

ster-e-o-phon-ic (ster-i-ō-fon-ik) adj. (of sound reproduction) using two transmission channels in order to give the effect of naturally distributed sound. stereo-cal-ly adv.

ster-e-o-scope (ster-i-ō-skohp) n. a device for viewing a pair of photographs taken at slightly different angles, looking at each with one eye, the combined images giving an impression of depth and solidity.

ster-e-o-scop-ic (ster-i-ō-skop-ik) adj. giving a three-dimensional effect. stereo-cal-ly adv.

ster-e-o-tape (ster-i-ō-tayp) n. magnetic tape on which stereophonic sound is recorded and played back.

ster-e-o-type (ster-i-ō-tip) n. 1. a printing plate cast from a mold of type. 2. an idea or character etc. that is standardized in a conventional form without individuality. stereotype v. (stere-o-typed, stere-o-typ-ing) to make stereotypes of.

ster-e-o-typed (ster-i-ō-ti-pēd) adj. standardized and hackneyed, stereotyped phrases such as "it takes all sorts to make a world."

ster-ile (ster-il) adj. 1. barren. 2. free from living microorganisms. 3. unproductive, a sterile discussion. ster-i-ty (stē-ril-i-tee) n.

ster-i-lize (ster-i-liz) v. (ster-i-lized, ster-i-liz-ing) 1. to make sterile or free from microorganisms. 2. to make unable to produce offspring, especially by removal or obstruction of reproductive organs. ster-i-liz-er n. ster-i-liza-tion (ster-i-liz-ā-shun) n.

ster-ling (stur-ling) n. 1. British money. 2. tableware made of sterling silver. sterling adj. 1. (of precious metal) genuine, of standard purity. 2. excellent, of solid worth, her sterling qualities. sterling adj. 3. the implement used to propel the ball in hockey, polo, etc. 4. a slender often cylindrical piece of a substance, as sealing wax, chewing gum, dynamite. 5. a number of bombs released in succession to fall in a row.

ster (sturn) adj. strict and severe, not lenient or cheerful or kindly. stern-ly adv. stern-ness n.

stern n. the rear end of a boat or ship.

ster-num (stur-nūm) n. (pl. -nums, -na, pr. -nā) the breastbone. ster-nal adj.

ster-wheel-er (sturn-hwee-lér) n. a steamboat propelled by one large paddle wheel at the stern.

ster-oid (ster-oid) n. any of a group of organic compounds that includes certain hormones and other bodily secretions.

ster-ol (ster-awl) n. one of a group of complex solid alcohols, such as cholesterol.

ster-to-rous (stur-tō-rūs) adj. making a snoring or rasping sound. ster-to-rous-ly adv.

stet (stet) v. (stet-ted, stet-ting) 1. (placed beside a word that has been crossed out by mistake) let it stand as written or printed. 2. to write "stet," to cancel a correction. □Latin, let it stand.

steth-o-scope (steth-ō-skohp) n. an instrument for listening to sounds within the body, such as breathing and heartbeats. steth-o-scop-ic (steth-i-skop-ik) adj. steth-tho-sco-py (ste-thos-kō-pee) n.

Stet-son (stet-sōn) n. a slouch hat with a very wide brim and a high crown.

ste-ve-dore (stē-vē-dohr) n. a man employed in loading and unloading ships.

stew (stoo) v. 1. to cook or be cooked by simmering for a long time in a closed vessel. 2. (informal) to be worried or anxious. stew n. a dish (especially of meat) made by stewing. □In a stew, (informal) in a state of great anxiety or agitation. stew in one's own juice, to be obliged to suffer the consequences of one's own actions.

steward (stoo-ärd) n. 1. a person employed to manage another's property, especially a large estate. 2. one whose job is to arrange for the supply of food to a ship or club etc. 3. a passengers' attendant and waiter on a ship or airplane or train. 4. one of the officials managing a horse race or show etc.

steward-ess (stoo-är-dis) n. a woman attendant and waitress on a ship or aircraft.

stewed (stood) adj. (slang) drunk.

stg. abbr. sterling.

stick (stik) n. 1. a short relatively slender piece of wood for use as a support or weapon or as firewood; only a few sticks of furniture, items of furniture. 2. a cane. 3. the implement used to propel the ball in hockey, polo, etc. 4. a slender often cylindrical piece of a substance, as sealing wax, chewing gum, dynamite. 5. a number of bombs released in succession to fall in a row. 6. (informal) a stupid or uninteresting person. □stick insect, an insect with a twiglike body. stick shift, a manually operated gearshift in an automobile. the sticks, (slang) rural areas.

stick v. (stuck, stick-ing) 1. to thrust (a thing or its point) into something, to stab. 2. to fix by means of a pointed object. 3. (informal) to put, stick the parcel on the table. 4. to fix or be fixed by glue or suction etc. or as if by these. 5. to stickball / stillborn fix or be fixed in one place and unable to move, the boat stuck on a sandbank; I was stuck on the last question, found it too difficult to do. 6. (informal) to remain in the same place, they stuck indoors all day. 7. (informal, of an accusation) to be established as valid, we couldn't make the charges stick. 8. (slang) to endure, to tolerate. 9. (informal) to impose a difficult or unpleasant task upon, we were stuck with the job of clearing up. 10. to provide (a plant) with a stick as a support. □stick around, to linger, remain near the same place. stick at it, (informal) to continue one's efforts. sticking plaster, a strip of fabric with an adhesive on one side, used for covering small cuts etc. stick in one's throat, to be against one's principles. stick it out, to endure to the end in spite of difficulty or unpleasantness. stick one's neck out, to expose oneself deliberately to danger or argument. stick out, to stand above the surrounding surface; to be conspicuous. stick to, to remain faithful to (a friend or promise etc.); to abide by and not alter, he stuck to his story; stick to it (= stick at it. stick to one's guns, to hold one's position against attack or argument. stick to the ribs, (of food) to keep one from soon becoming hungry. stick up, (slang) to rob by threatening with a gun. stick up for, (informal) = stand up for. stick with, to remain with or faithful to. stick-ball (stick-bawl) n. a game similar to baseball played on city streets using a rubber ball and a broom handle.

stick-er (stick-ər) n. 1. an adhesive label or sign. 2. a person who persists in his efforts.

stick-in-the-mud (stick-in-thə-mud) n. a person who will not adopt new ideas etc. stick-le back (stick-əl-bak) n. a small fish with sharp spines on its back.

stick-ler (stick-ər) n. a person who insists on something, a stickler for punctuality.

stick-to-it-ive ness (stick-too-it-iv-nis) n. (informal) persistence.

stick-up (stick-up) n. (slang) a robbery at gunpoint.

stick-y (stick-ə) adj. (stick-ər, stick-ə-ləst) 1. sticking or tending to stick to what is touched. 2. (of weather) hot and humid, causing perspiration. 3. (informal) making objections, he was very sticky about giving me leave. 4. (slang) very unpleasant, sticky situation. stick'y adv. stick'y-ness n.

stick-y-fin-gered (stick-e-fin-gərd) adj. liable to steal things.

stiff (stıf) adj. 1. not bending or moving or changing its shape easily. 2. not fluid, thick and hard to stir, a stiff dough. 3. difficult, a stiff examination. 4. formal in manner, not pleasantly sociable or friendly. 5. (of a price or penalty) high, severe. 6. (of a breeze) blowing briskly. 7. (of a drink or dose) strong. 8. (informal) to an extreme degree, bored stiff. stiff n. (slang) 1. a corpse. 2. a hopeless person; big stiff, complete fool. stiff'ly adv. stiff'ness n. □stiff upper lip, for-titude in enduring grief etc.

stiff-en (stıf-ən) v. to make or become stiff. stiff'en-er n.

stiff-necked (stıf-nık) adj. 1. obstinate. 2. haughty.

stif-fle (stıf-fl) v. (stıf-led, stıf-ling) 1. to suffocate, to feel or cause to feel unable to breathe for lack of air. 2. to restrain or suppress, stifled a yawn. stıf'ling adj. stıf'ling-ly adv.

stig-ma (stıg-ma) n. (pl. stıg-mas, stig-ma-ta, pr. stig-mah-ta, stig-mə-ta) 1. a mark of shame, a strain on a person's good reputation. 2. the part of a pistil that receives the pollen in pollination. 3. stigmata, marks corresponding to those left on Christ's body by the nails and spear at his crucifixion. stıg-mat-ic (stig-mat-ik) adj.

stig-ma-tize (stıg-ma-tız) v. (stig-ma-tızed, stig-ma-tız-ing) to brand as something disgraceful, he was stigmatized as a coward.

stile (stıl) n. an arrangement of steps or bars for people to climb in order to get over or through a fence etc. but preventing the passage of sheep or cattle.

stilet-to (stı-let-oh) n. (pl. -tos, -toes) 1. a dagger with a narrow blade. 2. a pointed device for making eyelet holes etc. □stiletto heel, a high pointed heel on a shoe.

still (stıll) adj. 1. without or almost without motion or sound. 2. (of wine etc.) not sparkling or fizzy. still n. 1. silence and calm, in the still of the night. 2. a photograph as distinct from a motion picture, a single photograph taken from a motion picture film. still v. to make or become still, to still the waves. still adv. 1. motionlessly, stand still. 2. then or now or for the future as before, the Pyramids are still standing. 3. nevertheless. 4. in a greater amount or degree, that would be still better or better still. still'ness n. □still life, a painting of lifeless things such as cut flowers or fruit.

still' n. a distilling apparatus, especially for making whiskey.

still-birth (stıll-birth) n. a birth of a dead child.

still-born (stıll-born) adj. 1. born dead. 2. (of an idea or plan) not developing.
stilt (stilt) n. 1. one of a pair of poles with a rest for the foot some way up it, enabling the user to walk with feet at a distance above the ground. 2. one of a set of piles or posts supporting a building etc. 3. a long-legged marsh bird.

stilt-ed (stil-tid) adj. stiffly or artificially formal, written in stilted language.

Stilt-ton (stil-ton) n. a rich blue-veined cheese.

stim-u-lant (stim-yu-lant) adj. stimulating. stimulant n. a stimulant drug or drink, a stimulating event etc. Do not confuse stimulant with stimulus.

stim-u-late (stim-yu-layt) v. (stim-u-lat-ed, stim-u-lat-ing) 1. to make more vigorous or active. 2. to apply a stimulus to. stim-u-la-tor n. stim-u-la-tion (stim-yu-lay-shon) n. stim-u-lat-ing li adv.

stim-u-la-tive (stim-yu-lay-tiv) adj. stimulating.

stim-u-lus (stim-yu-lus) n. (pl. -ll, pr. -lit) something that rouses a person or thing to activity or energy or that produces a reaction in an organ or tissue of the body. Do not confuse stimulus with stimulant.

sting (sting) n. 1. a sharp-pointed part or organ of an insect etc., used for wounding and often injecting poison. 2. a stiff sharp-pointed hair on certain plants, causing inflammation if touched. 3. infliction of a wound by a sting, the wound itself. 4. any sharp bodily or mental pain, a wound- ing effect, the sting of remorse. 5. (slang) a swindle. sting v. (stung, sting-ing) 1. to wound or affect with a sting, to be able to do this. 2. to feel or cause to feel sharp bodily or mental pain. 3. to stimulate sharply as if by a sting, was stung into answering rudely. 4. (slang) to cheat (a person) by overcharging, to extort money from. sting-ing-ly adv.

sting-er (sting-er) n. 1. the stinging part of an insect etc. 2. a cocktail made from brandy and crème de menthe. 3. (slang) a swindle.

sting-ray (sting-ray) n. a tropical fish with sharp spines that can cause severe wounds.

sting-er (sting-er) n. 1. the stinging part of an insect etc. 2. a cocktail made from brandy and crème de menthe. 3. (slang) a swindle.

stink (stink) n. 1. an offensive smell. 2. (informal) an offensive fuss, made a stink about it. stink v. (stank or stunk, stink-ing) 1. to give off an offensive smell. 2. to seem very unpleasant or unsavory or dishonest, the whole business stinks. stink bomb, a small bomb emitting an offensive smell when exploded.

stink-bug (stink-bug) n. any insect having an unpleasant odor.

stink-er (stink-ker) n. 1. a person or thing that stinks. 2. (slang) something offensive or severe or difficult to do.

stink-horn (stink-horn) n. a fungus with an offensive smell.

stink-ing (stink-ing) adj. (slang) very bad. stinking adv. (slang) extremely, stinking rich.

stink-pot (stink-pot) n. 1. a missile containing explosives etc. that give offensive vapors, formerly used in naval warfare. 2. an objectionable person or thing. 3. any receptacle containing something that stinks.

stink-weed (stink-weed) n. any of several plants with an offensive smell.

stint (stint) v. to restrict to a small allowance, to be niggardly, don't stint on food.

stint n. 1. a limitation of supply or effort, gave help without stint. 2. a fixed or allotted amount of work, did her stint of filing.

stint'er n. stint-ing adj. stint-ing-ly adv.

stip-end (str-pend) n. a salary, a fixed money allowance at regular intervals.

stip-pend-les adj.

stip-ple (spell-eh) v. (stip-pled, stip-pling) 1. to paint or draw or engrave in small dots (not in lines or strokes). 2. to roughen the surface of (cement etc.). stipple n.

stip-u-late (stip-yu-layt) v. (stip-u-lat-ed, stip-u-lat-ing) to demand or insist upon as part of an agreement.

stip-u-la-tion (stip-yu-lay-shon) n. 1. stipulating. 2. something stipulated.

stir (stir) v. (stirred, stir-ring) 1. to move or cause to move, not a leaf stirred; wind stirred the sand. 2. to mix or move (a substance) by moving a spoon etc. around in it. 3. to arouse or excite or stimulate, the story stirred their interest; stir up trouble. stir n. 1. the act or process of stirring, give the soup a stir. 2. a commotion or disturbance, excitement, the news caused a stir. stir'rer n.

stir (stir) n. (slang) prison, in stir.

stir-cra-zy (str-cr-kray-ee) adj. mentally abnormal from being imprisoned or otherwise confined.

stir-ring (stir-ing) adj. exciting, stimulating. stir-ring-ly adv.

stir-rup (stir-up, stir-) n. a metal or leather support for a rider's foot, hanging from the saddle. stirrup cup, a drink handed to a rider on horseback at a meet.

stirrup pump, a small portable pump with a stirrup-shaped footrest, used for extinguishing small fires.
stitch (stich) n. 1. a single movement of a threaded needle in and out of fabric in sewing or tissue in surgery. 2. a single complete movement of a needle or hook in knitting or crochet. 3. the loop of thread made in this way. 4. a particular method of arranging the thread, cross-stitch; purl stitch. 5. the least bit of clothing, without a stitch on. 6. a sudden sharp pain in the muscles at the side of the body. stitch v. to sew, to join or close with stitches. In stitches, (informal) laughing uncontrollably.

stk. abbr. stock.

stoat (stoh't) n. the ermine, especially when its fur is brown.

stock (stok) n. 1. an amount of something available for use, has a stock of jokes. 2. the total of goods kept by a trader or shopkeeper. 3. livestock. 4. a line of ancestry, a woman of Irish stock. 5. raw material used in manufacturing something. 6. the capital of a business company, represented by shares. 7. a person's standing in the opinion of others; his stock is high. he is well thought of. 8. liquid made by stewing bones or meat or fish or vegetables, used as a basis for making soup, sauce, etc. 9. a garden plant with fragrant single or double flowers. 10. the lower and thicker part of a tree trunk. 11. a growing plant into which a graft is inserted. 12. a part serving as the base, holder, or handle for the working parts of an implement or machine; the stock of a rifle, the wooden or metal part to which the barrel is attached. 13. stocks, a wooden framework with holes for the legs of a seated person, used like the pillory; the framework on which a ship rests during construction; on the stocks, being constructed or repaired. stock adj. 1. kept in stock and regularly available, one of our stock items. 2. commonly used, a stock argument. stock v. 1. to keep (goods) in stock. 2. to provide with goods or livestock or a supply of something, stocked his farm with Jersey cows; a well-stocked library. In stock, available in a shop etc. without needing to be obtained specially. out of stock, sold out. stock car, an ordinary car strengthened for use in racing; a railroad boxcar for transporting livestock. stock company, a group of actors who appear regularly at a particular theater; a company or corporation that issues shares to represent its capital. stock exchange, a place where stocks and other securities are publicly bought and sold; an association of dealers conducting such business according to fixed rules. stock market, the stock exchange or transactions there. stock size, one of the standard sizes in which ready-made garments are made. stock up, to assemble a stock of goods etc. take stock of, to make an inventory of; to observe with a view to estimating character etc.

stock-ade (stok-kayd) n. a protective fence of upright stakes.

stock-breed-er (stok-bree-dër) n. a farmer who raises livestock. stock' breeding n.

stock-brok-er (stok-broh-kër) n. a person who buys and sells securities on behalf of customers.

stock-hold-er (stok-hohl-dër) n. a person who holds stock in a company.

Stock-holm (stok-holm) the capital of Sweden.

stock-ing (stok-ing) n. a close-fitting covering for the foot and part or all of the leg. In one's stocking feet, wearing stockings but not shoes. stocking cap, a knitted usually conical cap. stocking mask, a stocking worn over the head as a criminal's disguise.

stock-in-trade (stok-in-trayd) n. all the stock and other requisites for carrying on a trade or business.

stock-man (stok-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a man owning or raising livestock. 2. a person in charge of a stock of goods in a warehouse etc.

stock-ple (stok-pl) n. an accumulated stock of goods or materials etc. kept in reserve. stockpile v. (stock-plied, stock-pl'ing) to accumulate a stockpile of.

stock-pot (stok-pot) n. (in cooking) a pot for making or keeping stock (definition 8).

stock-room (stok-room) n. a room where goods kept in stock are stored.

stock-still (stok-still) adj. motionless.

stock-tak-ing (stok-tay-king) n. 1. making an inventory of the stock in a shop etc. 2. a review of one's position and resources.

stock-y (stok-ee) adj. (stock-i er, stock-i est) short and solidly built. stock'i ly adv. stock'i ness n.

stock-yard (stok-yahrd) n. an enclosure with pens etc. for the sorting or temporary keeping of livestock.

stod-gy (stoh-ee) adj. (stog-d i er, stog-d i est) 1. (of food) heavy and filling, indigestible. 2. (of a book etc.) written in a heavy uninteresting way. 3. (of a person) uninteresting, not lively. stog'd i ly adv. stog'd i ness n.

sto-lc (stoh-ilk) n. a stoical person.

sto-lcal (stoh-il-kal) adj. calm and not excitable, bearing difficulties or discomfort.
stoicism / stoop

without complaining. sto'î-cal-ly adv.
sto'î-clism (stoh-i-siz-ëm) n. being stoical. stoke (stohk) v. (stoked, stok-îng) to tend and put fuel on (a furnace or fire etc.). □ stoke up, to stoke and add fuel; (informal) to eat large quantities of food.
stok*er (stoh-kër) n. 1. a person who stokes a furnace etc., especially on a ship.
2. a mechanical device for doing this.
STOL (stohl) n. short takeoff and landing. stole1 (stohl) n. 1. a woman's wide scarf-like garment worn around the shoulders.
2. a clergyman's vestment consisting of a long strip of silk or other material worn around the neck with the ends hanging down in front.
stole2, sto-len (stoh-lën) see steal.
stol'îd (stol-id) adj. not feeling or showing emotion, not excitable. stol'îd-î-ty n. □ Do not confuse stolid with solid.
stol*â (stoh-mâ) n. (pl. -mâ-ta, pr.-mâtä, -mas) 1. a small mouthlike opening of lower animals. 2. a minute opening in the epidermis of a leaf etc.
stom-âch (stum-âk) n. 1. the internal organ in which the first part of digestion occurs. 2. the abdomen. 3. appetite for food. 4. appetite or spirit for danger or an undertaking etc.; had no stomach for the fight. stomach v. to endure or tolerate, can't stomach all that violence. □ stomach pump, a suction pump for emptying the stomach.
stom-âch-ache (stum-âk-ayk) n. pain in the belly or bowels.
stom-âch-er (stum-â-kër) n. an ornamented front piece of a woman's dress (originally worn also by men) covering the breast and stomach, especially in the 15th–17th centuries.
sto-mâch-i-c (stoh-mak-ik) adj. 1. of the stomach. 2. aiding stomach action, promoting digestion or appetite.
stomp (stomp) v. 1. to tread heavily.
2. to stamp one's feet. 3. to injure by stamping on. stamp n. 1. a stamping of the foot. 2. a lively jazz dance with heavy stamping. stamp'én n.
stone (stohn) n. 1. a piece of rock, usually detached from the earth's crust and of fairly small size. 2. stones or rock as 4. substance or material, as for building.
3. a piece of stone shaped for a particular purpose, as for a tombstone or millstone.
4. a precious stone (see precious). 5.
a small piece of hard substance formed in the bladder or kidney or gallbladder.
6. the hard case around the kernel of certain fruits, the seed of grapes. 7. (pl. stone) a British unit of weight, = fourteen pounds. stone adj. made of stone, stone |floors. stone v. (stoned, ston-îng) 1.
to pelt with stones. 2. to remove the estones from (fruit). □ leave no stone untouched, to try every possible means.
Stone Age, the very early period of civi-ilization when weapons and tools were made of stone not metal. stone marten, a white-breasted marten found in souther Europe and Asia. stone's throw, a short distance.
stone-blind (stohn-blind) adj. completely blind.
stone-broke (stohn-brokk) adj. entirely without money.
stone-chat (stohn-chat) n. a small Old World black-and-white songbird with a rattling cry.
stone-crop (stohn-krop) n. a kind of sedum with yellow flowers, often growing on rocks and walls.
stoned (stohnd) adj. (slang) drunk or under the influence of a drug.
stone-dead (stohn-deed) adj. (slang) completely dead.
stone-deaf (stohn-def) adj. (informal) completely deaf.
stone-ma*son (stohn-may-so'n) n. a person who cuts and dresses stones or builds in stone.
stone-wall (stohn-wawl) v. (informal) to obstruct by stonewalling.
stone-wall-ing (stohn-waw-ling) n. (informal) obstructing a discussion etc. by noncommittal replies.
stone-ware (stohn-wair) n. very hard pottery made from clay containing much silica or from a composition of clay and flint.
stone-work (stohn-wurk) n. masonry. ston-y (stohn-nee) adj. (ston-lër, stonl-eat) 1. full of stones. 2. hard as stone, unfeeling. 3. not responsive, a stony gaze.
ston'l-î-ly adv. ston'l-î-ness n.
stood (stuud) see stand.
stooge (stooj) n. (slang) 1. a comedian's assistant, used as a target for jokes. 2.
a subordinate who does routine work.
3. a person whose actions are entirely controlled by another. stooge v.
(stooged, stoog-îng) (slang) to act as a stooge.
stool (stool) n. 1. a movable seat without arms or back. 2. a footstool. 3. feces.
□ stool pigeon, a person acting as a decoys, especially to trap a criminal; an informant.
stoop1 (stoop) v. 1. to bend forward and down. 2. to condescend, to lower oneself morally, he wouldn't stoop to cheating. stoop n. a posture of the body with shoulders bent forward, he walks with a stoop. stoop'îng-îy adv.
stoop2 n. a small porch at a door to a house.
stop (stop) v. (stopped, stop·ping) 1. to put an end to (movement or progress or operation etc.), to cause to halt or pause. 2. to refrain from continuing, to cease motion or working. 3. (slang) to receive in one’s body, stopped a bullet. 4. (informal) to stay, we stopped for lunch. 5. to close by plugging or obstructing, stop the holes or stop them up. 6. to keep back, to refuse to give or allow; stop a check, order the bank not to honor it when it is presented for payment. 7. to press down a string or block a hole in a musical instrument in order to obtain the desired pitch. stop n. 1. stopping, being stopped, a pause or check, ran without a stop; put a stop to it, cause it to cease. 2. a place where a train or bus etc. stops regularly. 3. (chiefly British) a punctuation mark, especially a period. 4. an obstruction or device that stops or regulates movement or operation. 5. a row of organ pipes providing tones of one quality, the knob or lever controlling these; pull out all the stops, make all possible efforts. 6. a key or lever regulating pitch in a wind instrument. 7. one of the standard sizes of aperture in an adjustable lens. □ stop at nothing, to be completely ruthless or unscrupulous. stop by or in, to call or visit briefly, often on the way to or from another place. stop down, to reduce the aperture of a lens in photography. stop off or over, to break one’s journey. stop order, an order to a stockbroker to sell a stock when it falls to a specified price. stop up, to clog, to obstruct. stop·cock (stop·kok) n. an externally operated valve inserted in a pipe to regulate passage of its contents. stop·gap (stop·gap) n. a temporary substitute. stop·light (stop·lit) n. 1. a red light in traffic signals. 2. one of a pair of red lights on the rear of a motor vehicle, showing when the brakes are applied. stop·o·ver (stop·oh·ver) n. a break in one’s journey, especially for a night. stop·page (stop·i) n. 1. stopping, being stopped. 2. an obstruction. stop·per (stop·er) n. a plug for closing a bottle etc. stopper v. to close with a stopper. stop·pie (stop·el) n. the stopper of a bottle or other vessel. stopple v. (stop·peld, stop·pling) to close with a stopple. stop·watch (stop·woch) n. a watch with a mechanism for starting and stopping it at will, used in timing races etc. stor·age (stohr·ij) n. 1. storing of goods etc. 2. space available for this. 3. the charge for it. □ storage battery, a rechargeable battery that stores electrical energy in a chemical form. store (stohr) n. 1. a stock or supply of something available for use. 2. a retail establishment selling goods of many kinds. 3. stores, articles of a particular kind or for a special purpose accumulated for use, a supply of things needed, naval stores. 4. a device in a computer for storing and retrieving information. store v. (stored, stor·ing) 1. to collect and keep for future use. 2. to put (furniture etc.) into a warehouse for temporary keeping. 3. to stock with something useful, a mind well stored with information. □ In store, being stored; kept available for use; destined to happen, imminent, there’s a surprise in store for you. set store by, to value greatly. store·front (stohr·frunt) n. the wall and windows etc. of a store on the side facing the street. store·house (stohr·hows) n. (pl. -hous·es, pr. -how·ziz) a building where things are stored; a storehouse of information, a book or person etc. containing much information. store·keep·er (stohr·kee·për) n. a person who owns or manages a store. store·room (stohr·room) n. a room used for storing things. sto·rey = story. sto·ried (stohr·eed) adj. celebrated in legend, associated with stories or legends or history. stork (stork) n. a large long-legged wading bird with a long straight bill, sometimes nesting on buildings and humorously pretended to be the bringer of babies. storm (storm) n. 1. a violent disturbance of the atmosphere with strong winds and usually rain or snow or thunder etc. 2. a violent shower of missiles or blows. 3. a great outbreak of applause or anger or criticism etc. 4. a violent military attack on a place. storm v. 1. (of wind or rain) to rage, to be violent. 2. to move or behave violently or very angrily, to rage, stormed out of the room; stormed at us for being late. 3. to attack or capture by storm, they stormed the citadel. □ storm cellar, a cellar or other underground shelter providing refuge during cyclones etc. storm center, the area at the center of a storm; the center of a disturbance or trouble. storm door, an additional outer door for protection in bad weather or winter. storm lantern, a hurricane lamp. storm sewer, a sewer designed to carry away rainfall. storm trooper, a member of the Nazi political militia. storm warning or signal, a warning that a storm is approaching; any sign that trouble is approaching. storm window, an additional window outside another for extra protection against cold weather. take by storm, to capture by a violent attack; to captivate rapidly.

storm-y (storp-me) adj. (storm-i-er, storm-i-est) 1. full of storms, affected by storms, a stormy night; stormy coasts. 2. (of wind etc.) violent as in a storm. 3. full of violent anger or outbursts, a stormy interview. storm'y-ly adv. storm'ystory (stohr-li) n. 1. an account of an incident or of a series of incidents, either true or invented. 2. a report of an item of news, material for this. 3. (informal) a lie.

story-board (stohr-li-bohdr) n. 1. a series of sketches showing the significant changes of scene etc. in a film etc. 2. a careful plan with sketches for a projected work.

story-book (stohr-li-buuk) n. a book of fictional stories. storybook ending, a very happy ending.

story-tell-er (stohr-li-tel-lir) n. 1. a person who narrates stories. 2. (informal) a liar. story-telling n.

stoup (stoup) n. a stone basin for holy water, especially in the wall of a church.

stout (stout) adj. 1. of considerable thickness or strength, a stout stick. 2. (of a person) solidly built and rather fat. 3. brave and resolute, a stout heart. stout n. a strong dark beer brewed with roasted malt or barley. stout'ly adv. stout'-ness n.

stout-heart-ed (stowt-hahr-tid) adj. courageous.

stove (stohv) n. an appliance in which heat is produced by combustion of fuel or electrically for use in cooking or in warming rooms etc.

stove-2 see stave.

stove-pipe (stohv-pip) n. a metal pipe conducting smoke and gases from a stove to a chimney. stovepipe hat, a tall silk hat.

stow (stoh) v. to place in a receptacle for storage. stow away, to put away in storage or in reserve; to conceal oneself as a stowaway.

stow-age (stoh-i) n. 1. stowing, being stowed. 2. space available for this. 3. the charge for it.

stow-a-way (stoh-á-way) n. a person who conceals himself on a ship or airplane etc. so as to travel without charge or unseen.

S.T.P. abbr. standard temperature and pressure.

strait-mus (strai-biz-mus) n. a squint, cross-eye.

strad-icle (strad-i-kl) v. (strad-iled, strad-ilng) 1. to sit or stand across (a thing) with the legs wide apart. 2. to stand with the legs wide apart. 3. to extend across. 4. to waver between two policies etc. regarding (an issue). straddle n. the position or act of straddling.

strad-dler n.

Strad-i-var-i (strad-i-var-i-us) n. a violin or other stringed instrument made by the Italian violin-maker Antonio Stradivari (c.1644–1737) or his followers.

strafe (strayf) v. (strafed, straf-ing) to attack (ground troops etc.) with machine guns from a low-flying airplane.

strag-gle (strag-gle) v. (strag-gled, strag-gling) 1. to grow or spread in an irregular or untidy manner, not remaining compact. 2. to go or wander separately not in a group, to drop behind others. strag'gler n. strag-gly (strag-lee) adj. straggling.

straight (strayt) adj. (Do not confuse straight with strait.) 1. extending or moving continuously in one direction, not curved or bent. 2. correctly arranged, in proper order, tidy. 3. in unbroken succession, ten straight wins. 4. candid, not evasive, honest. 5. (slang) heterosexual. 6. not modified or elaborate, without additions, (of alcoholic drinks) not diluted. straight adv. 1. in a straight line; he shoots straight, with good aim. 2. direct, without delay, went straight home. 3. straightforwardly, told him straight. straight n. 1. the straight part of something, as the last section of a race-track. 2. (slang) a heterosexual person. 3. (in poker) a sequence of five cards. straight'ly adv. straight'-ness n.

straight-go, to live an honest life after being a criminal. straight and narrow, the way of virtuous conduct. straight angle, an angle of 180°. straight away or straight off, without delay. straight face, without a smile even though amused. straight flush, see flush.

straight from the shoulder, honestly and directly. straight man, a person who says things so that a comedian can make jokes about them. straight off, without hesitation or deliberation etc., can't tell you straight off. straight razor, a razor with a long blade that folds into its handle for storage. straight shooter, an honest person. straight ticket, a canstrain (n.) 1. a means of applying stress to something, in order to break it. 2. a force or effort, as in a physical activity. 3. a state of affairs, in dire straits. □ Do not confuse strain with strain.

straight-arm / straphanger strapless / streamlined way, bus, or train passenger who has to stand and hold a strap for lack of sitting space.

strap-less (strap-lis) adj. without shoulder straps.

strapped (strap-t) adj. (slang) short of something, strapped for cash.

strap-ping (strap-ing) adj. tall and healthy looking. strapping n. straps, material for making these.

stra-ta see stratum.

stra-ta-gem (strat-ä-jem). n. a cunning method of achieving something, a piece of trickery.

stra-te-gic (strä-tee-jik) adj. 1. of strategy. 2. giving an advantage, a strategic position. * stra-te-gic (strat-e-je) adj. n. 1. the planning and directing of the whole operation of a campaign or war. 2. a plan or policy of this kind or to achieve something, our economic strategy.

stra-te-sy (strat-e-je) n. *a kind of Scottish dance, music for this.

stra-te-sus (stray-toh-kyoo-myu-lus, strat-o-h-) n. *(pl. -ll, pr. it) clouds combining features of stratus and cirrus or cumulus.

stra-tosphere (strat-o-sfeer) n. a layer of Earth's atmosphere between about six and fifteen miles (ten and sixty kilometers) above Earth's surface. *the stratosphere.

stra-tum (stray-tüm, strat-üm) n. *(pl. stra-ta, pr. stray-tä, strat-ä) 1. one of a series of layers, especially of rock in the earth's crust. 2. a social level or class, the various strata of society. *It is incorrect to use strata as a singular.

stra-tus (stray-tüs, strat-üs) n. *(pl. stra-ti, pr. stray-ti, strat-ä) a continuous horizontal sheet of cloud.

straw (straw) n. 1. dry cut stalks of grain used as material for bedding, thatching, fodder, etc. 2. a single stalk or piece of this. 3. a narrow strawlike tube of paper or plastic etc. for sucking up liquid in drinking. 4. an insignificant amount, don't care a straw. a straw in the wind, a slight indication of how things may develop. straw boss, an assistant foreman, someone with little authority.

straw man, a stuffed effigy; an imaginary person set up as an opponent etc.; a sham argument set up for demolition.

straw poll or straw vote, an unofficial poll as a test of general feeling.

straw-ber-ry (straw-ber-ee) n. *(pl. -ries) a soft juicy edible red fruit with yellow seeds on the surface, the plant that bears it. strawberry adj. reddish blond. strawberry mark, a reddish birthmark.

stray (stray) v. 1. to leave one's group or proper place with no settled destination or purpose, to roam. 2. to deviate from a direct course or from a subject. stray adj. 1. having strayed. 2. isolated, occurring here and there not as one of a group, a stray taxi. stray n. a person or domestic animal that has strayed, a stray thing.

stray'er n.

streak (streak) n. 1. a thin line or band of a different color or substance from its surroundings; a streak of lightning, a flash. 2. an element in a person's character, has a jealous streak. 3. a spell or series, had a long winning streak. streak v. 1. to mark with streaks. 2. to move very rapidly. 3. to run naked through a public place as a humorous or defiant act. streak'er n.

streak'y (stree-kee) adj. full of streaks, (of bacon etc.) with alternate layers or streaks of fat and lean. streak'y-ness n.

stream (stream) n. 1. a body of water flowing in its bed, a brook or river. 2. a flow of any liquid or of a mass of things or people. 3. the current or direction of something flowing or moving, against the stream. stream v. 1. to flow or move as a stream. 2. to emit a stream of, to run with liquid, the wound streamed blood; with streaming eyes. 3. to float or wave at full length. stream'y adj.* on stream, in active operation or production. stream of consciousness, a style of writing depicting the continuous flow of a person's thoughts.

stream-bed (stream-bed) n. the channel or former channel of a stream.

stream-er (stream-mër) n. 1. a long narrow flag. 2. a long narrow ribbon or strip of paper attached at one or both ends.

stream-let (stream-lit) n. a small stream.

stream-line (stream-lin) v. *(stream-lined, stream-lin-ing) 1. to give a streamlined form to. 2. to make more efficient by simplifying, removing superfluities, etc.

stream-lined (stream-lind) adj. having a smooth even shape that offers the least resistance to movement through air or water.
stream-liner (stream-lí-nér) n. a fast streamlined passenger train.

street (street) n. 1. a public road in a town or village with houses on one or both sides. 2. a street Arab, a homeless child who makes a living by stealing or begging. street cleaner, a person employed to clean streets and sidewalks.

street-car (street-kahr) n. a public passenger vehicle running on rails laid in the street.

street-walker (street-waw-kér) n. a prostitute seeking customers in the street.

strength (strenghk, strength) n. 1. the quality of being strong, the intensity of this. 2. a source of strength, the particular respect in which a person or thing is strong, his strength is in his mathematical ability. 3. the number of people present or available, the full complement, the department is below strength. 4. in strength, in large numbers, supporters were present in strength on the strength of, on the basis of, using (a fact etc.) as one's support.

strength-en (strengk-thén, strengr-) v. to make or become stronger. strength'ener n.

stren'u*ous (stren-yoo-ús) adj. 1. energetic, making great efforts. 2. requiring great effort, a strenuous task. stren'u*ous-ly adv. stren'u*ous-ness n.

strep (strep) n. (informal) streptococcus.

strep-to-co-cus (strep-tó-kok-ús) n. (pl. -co-cil, pr. -kok-si) any of a group of bacteria that cause serious infections.

strep-to-co-cal adj.

strep-to-my-cin (strep-tó-mi-sín) n. a kind of antibiotic drug.

stress (stres) n. 1. emphasis, don't lay too much stress on last year's results. 2. the extra force used in speaking a particular syllable or word, or on a sound in music. 3. pressure, tension, strain. stress v. to lay stress on.

stretch (strestch) v. 1. to pull out tightly or into a greater length or extent or size. 2. to be able to be stretched without breaking, to tend to become stretched, knitted fabrics stretch. 3. to be continuous from a point or between points, the wall stretches right around the estate. 4. to thrust out one's limbs and tighten the muscles after being relaxed. 5. to make great demands on the abilities of (a person). 6. to strain to the utmost or beyond a reasonable limit; stretch the truth, to exaggerate or lie. stretch n. 1. stretching, being stretched. 2. the ability to be stretched, this elastic has lost its stretch. 3. a continuous expanse or tract, a continuous period of time. 4. (slang) a period of service or imprisonment. stretch adj. able to be stretched, stretch fabrics.

stretch'a-ble adj. 1. at a stretch, without interruption. stretch a point, to agree to something beyond the limit of what is normally allowed. stretch one's legs, to go walking as a relief from sitting or lying. stretch out, to extend (a hand or foot) by straightening the arm or leg.

stretch'er (stretch-ér) n. 1. a framework of poles, canvas etc. for carrying a sick or injured person in a lying position. 2. any of various devices for stretching things or holding things taut or braced.

stretcher bearer, a person who helps to carry a stretcher.

stretch-y (stretch-é) adj. (stretch-lí-er, stretch-lí-est) (informal) able to be stretched, liable to become stretched.

strew (strew) v. (strewed, strewed or strewn, strew'ing) to scatter over a surface, to cover with scattered things.

strí-a (strí-a) n. (pl. strí-ae, pr. strí-e) a linear mark on a surface, a slight ridge or furrow.

strí-at-ed (strí-ay-tid) adj. marked with striations.

strí-a-tion (strí-ay-shún) n. one of a series of ridges or furrows or linear marks.

strick-en (strik-én) adj. 1. affected or overcome by an illness or shock or grief, stricken with flu; grief-stricken. 2. deleted.

strict (strik) adj. 1. precisely limited or defined, without exception or deviation. 2. requiring or giving complete obedience or exact performance, not lenient or indulgent. strict'ly adv. strict'ness n.

strictly speaking, if one uses words in their exact sense.

stríc-ture (strík-chúr) n. 1. severe criticism or condemnation. 2. abnormal con- striction of a tubelike part of the body.

stride (stríd) v. (strode, stríd-den, stríd-ing) 1. to walk with long steps. 2. to stand astride. stride n. 1. a single long step, the length of this. 2. a person's manner of striding. 3. progress, has made great strides toward independence.

stríd'er n. 1. get into one's stride, to settle into a fast and steady pace of work. take it in one's stride, to do it without needing a special effort.

strí-dent (strí-dént) adj. loud and harsh.

strí-dent-ly adv. strí-dent-cy (strí-dén-se) n.

strike (strík) v. (struck, struck or strick-en, strík-ing) 1. to bring or come into sudden hard contact with, to inflict (a blow), to knock with a blow or stroke. 2. to attack suddenly, (of a disease) to afflict. 3. (of lightning) to descend upon and blast. 4. to produce (sparks or a sound etc.) by striking something, to produce (a musical note) by pressing a key, to make (a coin or medal) by stamping metal etc.; strike a match, ignite it by friction; strike a bargain, make one. 5. to bring into a specified state by or as if by striking, he was struck blind. 6. to indicate (the hour) or be indicated by a sound, clock struck two; two o'clock struck. 7. (of plant cuttings) to put down roots. 8. to reach (gold or oil etc.) by digging or drilling. 9. to occur to the mind of, to produce a mental impression on, an idea struck me; she strikes me as being efficient. 10. to lower or take down (a flag or tent etc.). 11. to stop work in protest about a grievance. 12. to penetrate or cause to penetrate, to fill with sudden fear etc. 13. to proceed in a certain direction, strike northwest through the forest. 14. to arrive at (an average or balance) by balancing or equalizing the items. 15. to assume (an attitude) suddenly and dramatically. strike n. 1. an act or instance of striking. 2. an attack. 3. a workers' refusal to work, in protest about a grievance. 4. a sudden discovery of gold or oil etc. 5. (in baseball) a batter's unsuccessful attempt to hit a pitched ball, or any other event counting similarly against him. on strike, (of workers) striking. strike home, to get a blow right to the target; to have the desired effect, the message struck home. strike it rich, to find a source of prosperity. strike off, to cross off; to remove (a person) from a professional register because of misconduct. strike oil, to find oil by drilling etc.; to find a source of prosperity. strike out, to cross out; to fail; (in baseball) to retire or be retired by a strikeout; to begin a trip etc. vigorously. strike pay, an allowance made by a trade union to members on strike. strike up, to begin playing or singing; to start a friendship etc.) rapidly or casually. strike while the iron is hot, to take action promptly at a good opportunity. strike zone, (in baseball) the space directly above home plate and between the batter's shoulders and knees.

strike-bound (strik-bownd) adj. immobilized by a workers' strike.

strike-break-er (strik-bray-kér) n. a person who is employed in place of strikers.

strike-break-ing n.

strike-out (strik-owt) n. (in baseball) an out resulting from three strikes.

strike-er (strik-kér) n. 1. a person or thing that strikes. 2. a worker who is on strike.

strike-ing (strik-ing) adj. sure to be noticed, attractive and impressive. strike-ly adv.

string (string) n. 1. narrow cord. 2. a length of this or some other material used to fasten or lace or pull something, or interwoven in a frame to form the head of a racket. 3. a piece of catgut or cord or wire stretched and caused to vibrate so as to produce tones in a musical instrument. 4. a strip of tough fiber on a bean etc. 5. a set of objects strung together or of people or events coming after one another. 6. the racehorses trained at one stable. 7. something ranked as one's first or second etc. resource; have two strings to one's bow, not be obliged to rely on only one resource. 8. a condition that is insisted upon, the offer has too many strings attached. 9. strings, strunged instruments, or their players.

string v. (strung, string-ing) 1. to fit or fasten with string(s). 2. to thread (beads etc.) on a string. 3. to trim the tough fiber from (beans). pull strings, see pull. string along, (informal) to deceive. string along with, (informal) to accompany; to have faith in. string bean, a green bean having a long pod and eaten as a vegetable. string out, to spread out in a line. string quartet, a quartet for strunged instruments. string tle, a very narrow necktie, usually tied in a bow. string up, to kill by hanging.

string-course (string-kohrs) n. a raised horizontal line of bricks etc. around a building.

strunged (stringd) adj. (of instruments) having strings that are played by touching or with a bow or plectrum.

string-gent (strin-jent) adj. 1. (of a rule) strict. 2. (of financial conditions) tight.

string-ent-ly adv. string-gen-cy (strin-jen-see) n.

string-er (string-ër) n. 1. a long horizontal structural member, especially a piece of timber, that supports two upright pieces in a framework. 2. a news correspondent working as a free lance.

string-y (string-ee) adj. (string-ë-er, string-ë-est) 1. like string. 2. (of beans etc.) having a strip of tough fiber. string'-i-ness n.

strip1 (strip) v. (stripped, strip-ping) 1. to take off (clothes or coverings or parts etc.); strip a machine down, take it apart to inspect or adjust it. 2. to undress oneself. 3. to deprive, as of property or titles. 4. to tear away; stripped the gearwheel, store off its cogs. strip joint, (slang) a club at which striptease performances are given. strip mine, a mine worked by removing the surface material that overlies the ore etc. strip poker, a poker game in which the losers of a hand are required to remove an article of clothing.

strip² n. a long narrow piece or area.

strip cropping or farming, the planting of ground with alternating strips of different crops to prevent erosion of the soil. strip lighting, lighting by long tubular fluorescent lamps. strip map, a long narrow map charting only the immediate area around a particular route.

stripe (strip) n. 1. a long narrow band on a surface, differing in color or texture from its surroundings. 2. a chevron on a sleeve, indicating the wearer's rank. 3. a type of character, opinion, etc., a man of that stripe. stripe v. (striped, strip-ing) to mark with stripes. striped bass, a game fish of North America with black-striped sides.

strip-er (strip-er) n. a striped bass.

strip-ling (strip-ling) n. a youth.

strip-tease (strip-teez) n. an entertainment in which a woman (or occasionally a man) gradually undresses before an audience. strip-teas-er n.

strive (striv) v. (strove, striv-en or strived, striv-ing) 1. to make great efforts. 2. to carry on a conflict. striv-er n.

strobe (strohb) n. (informal) a strobe-meter. strobe adj. (informal) stroboscopic.

stro-bo-scope (stroh-bō-skohp) n. 1. a lamp made to flash intermittently. 2. a device using this to determine speeds of rotation, etc. 3. an electronic flash that fires repeatedly with hundreds or thousands of flashes per second, used especially to produce photographs of movement at successive stages. stro-bo-scop-ic (stroh-bō-skop-ic) adj.

strode (strohd) see stride.

stroke¹ (strokh) n. 1. an act of striking something. 2. a single movement or action or effort, a successful or skillful effort, hasn't done a stroke of work; a stroke of genius; a stroke of luck, a sudden fortunate occurrence. 3. one of a series of repeated movements, a particular sequence of these (as in swimming). 4. one hit at the ball in various games, (in golf) this used as a unit of scoring. 5. one of the oarsman nearest the stern of a racing boat, setting the time of the stroke. 6. a mark made by a movement of a pen or paintbrush etc. 7. the sound made by a clock striking; on the stroke of ten, exactly at ten o'clock. 8. an attack of apoplexy or paralysis. stroke v. (stroked, strok-ing) to act as stroke to (a boat or crew).

stroke² v. (stroked, strok-ing) to pass the hand gently along the surface of.

stroll (strohl) v. to walk in a leisurely way. stroll v. a leisurely walk.

stroll-er (stroh-lēr) n. 1. a person who is strolling. 2. a folding chair on wheels, in which a child can be pushed along.

strong (strawg) adj. (strong-er, strong-est) 1. having power of resistance to being broken or damaged or captured etc. 2. capable of exerting great power, physically powerful, powerful through numbers or resources or quality; a strong candidate, one likely to win; strong acids, those with a powerful chemical effect. 3. concentrated, having a large proportion of a flavoring or coloring element, (of a drink) containing much alcohol. 4. having a considerable effect on one of the senses, a strong smell. 5. having a certain number of members, an army five thousand strong. 6. (of verbs) changing the vowel in the past tense (as ring/rang, strike/stuck), not adding a suffix (as float/floated). strong adv. strongly, vigorously, going strong. strong-'ly adv. strong language, forcible language, oaths or swearing.

strong point, a thing at which one excels. strong suit, a suit (in a hand of cards) in which one can take tricks; a thing at which one excels.

strong-arm (strawg-ahrm) adj. using force or sheer strength, strong-arm tactics. strong-arm v.

strong-box (strawg-boks) n. a strongly made small chest for valuables.

strong-hold (strawg-hohl) n. 1. a fortified place. 2. a center of support for a cause etc.

strong-man (strawg-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a muscular person, especially one performing feats of strength etc. in a circus. 2. a masterful or capable person, as in a business. 3. a dictator.

strong-mind-ed (strawg-min-did) adj. having a determined mind.

strong-point (strawg-point) n. a specially fortified position in a system of defenses.

strong-room (strawg-room) n. (chiefly British) a room designed for storage and protection of valuables against fire or theft.

stron-†-um (stron-chi-ūm) n. a soft silver-white metal, having a radioactive isotope (strontium 90) that concentrates in bones when taken into an animal's body.

strop (strop) n. a strip of leather on which a razor is sharpened, an implement or machine serving the same purpose.

strope v. (stropped, stropped·ping) to sharpen on or with a strope.

strove see strive.

struck (strok) see strike.

structural (stuk-chür·tal) adj. 1. of a structure or framework. 2. used in construction of buildings etc., structural steel. structural·al·ly adv.

structure (stuk-chür) n. 1. the way in which something is constructed or organized. 2. a supporting framework or the essential parts of a thing. 3. a constructed thing, a complex whole, a building. structure v. (struct·ured, struc·tur·ing) to give structure to, to organize.

strudel (stroo·děl, skhroo·dēl) n. a pastry usually made of thin dough rolled around a filling of fruit or cheese etc.

strug·gle v. (strug·gled, strug·gling) 1. to move one’s limbs or body in a vigorous effort to get free. 2. to make a vigorous effort under difficulties, to make one’s way or a living etc. with difficulty. 3. to try to overcome an opponent or problem etc. struggle n. a spell of struggling, a vigorous effort, a hard contest. strug·gler n.

strum (strum) v. (strummed, strum·ming) to play (a stringed instrument) with a light sweeping motion across the strings. strum n. the act or sound made by strumming.

strum·pet (strum·pet) n. (old use) a prostitute.

strung (strung) see string.

strut (strut) n. 1. a bar of wood or metal inserted into a framework to strengthen and brace it. 2. a strutting walk. strut v. (strut·ted, strut·ting) to walk in a pompous self-satisfied way.

strych·nine (strik·nīn) n. a bitter highly poisonous substance, used in very small doses as a stimulant.

stubb (stubb) n. 1. a short stump. 2. a detachable section of a check or ticket etc. kept as a record after the rest has been torn off. stub v. (stubbed, stub·bing) to strike against a hard object, stub one’s toe; stub out a cigarette, extinguish it by pressing it against something hard.

stubble (stubb·él) n. 1. the lower ends of the stalks of grain left in the ground after the harvest is cut. 2. a short stiff growth of hair or beard, especially that growing after shaving. stub·bly adj.

stubby (stubb·ē) adj. obstinate, not docile, not easy to control or deal with.

stubby·ly adv. stub·by·ness n.

stubby (stubb·ē) adj. (bi·er, bi·est) like a stub, short and heavy or thick.

stubby·ness n.

stucco n. (stuc·co, stuc·coed, stuc·co·ing) to coat with stucco.

stuck (stuk) see stick. stuck adj. 1. unable to move or make progress, I’m stuck! 2. (of an animal) that has been stabbed or had its throat cut. stuck on, (slang) infatuated with (a person or thing). stuck with, (informal) unable to get rid of.

stuck-up (stuk·up) adj. (informal) conceited, snobbish.

stud 1. (stud) n. 1. a short large-headed nail, a rivet, a small knob projecting from a surface. 2. a device like a button on a shank, as used to fasten a detachable shirt collar. 3. the upright beam used in a wall to form a frame for plaster etc.

stud v. (stud·ded, stud·ding) to decorate with studs or precious stones set into a surface, to strengthen with studs.

stud 2. n. 1. a male horse or other animal kept for breeding. 2. the place where these are kept. at stud, (of a male horse) available for breeding on payment of a fee. stud farm, a place where horses are bred. stud poker, a form of poker with betting after the dealing of successive rounds of cards face up.

stud abbr. student.

stud·book (stud·book) n. a book containing the pedigrees of horses.

stud·ding (stud·ing) n. studs (nails, beams, etc.), material for these.

stud·ent (stoo·dent) n. a person who is engaged in studying something, a pupil at a university or other place of higher education or technical training, medical students.

stud·led (stud·led) adj. carefully and intentionally contrived, answered with studied indifference. studied·ly adv.

stud·di·o (stoo·di·oh) n. (pl. -o·s) 1. the working room of a painter, sculptor, photographer, etc. 2. a room or premises where motion pictures are made. 3. a room from which radio or television programs are regularly broadcast or in which recordings are made. at studio apartment, a one-room apartment with a kitchen and bathroom. studio couch, a divanlike couch that can be converted into a bed.

stud·di·ous (stoo·di·ūs) adj. 1. involving study, habitually spending much time in studying. 2. deliberate, painstaking, studious politeness. studied·li·ously adv. studied·li·ous·ness n.

stud·y (stud·ee) n. (pl. stud·ies) 1. the process of studying, the pursuit of some branch of knowledge. 2. its subject, a thing that is investigated; the proper study of mankind is man. 3. a work presenting the result of investigations into a particular subject, the program is a study of race relations in the South. 4. a musical composition designed to develop a player's skill. 5. a preliminary drawing, a study for the Mona Lisa. 6. a room used by a person for work that involves studying.

study n. (studied, studying, -ling) 1. to give one's attention to acquiring knowledge of (a subject). 2. to examine attentively, we studied the map. 3. to give care and consideration to, she studies the convenience of others. study v.

stuff (stuff) n. 1. material. 2. (slang) unnamed things, belongings, subject matter, activities, etc., leave your stuff in the hall; Westerns are kid stuff; he knows his stuff; is an expert in his subject or trade; do your stuff, your task or performance; that's the stuff, that is good or what is required. 3. (slang) valueless matter, trash, stuff and nonsense! stuff v. 1. to pack or cram, to fill tightly, to stop up. 2. to fill the empty carcass of (a bird or animal) with material to restore its original shape, as for exhibition in a museum. 3. to fill with padding. 4. to fill with seasoned stuffing. 5. to fill (a person or oneself) with food, to eat greedily.

stuffed shirt, (informal) a pompous person. stuff up, to plug, to stop up.

stuffing (stuff-ing) n. 1. padding used to stuff cushions etc. 2. a seasoned mixture of bread crumbs etc. put as a filling into poultry, rolled meat, vegetables, etc. before cooking. □knock the stuffing out of, (informal) to make feeble or weak, to defeat utterly. stuffing box, (in a machine) a boxlike structure around a moving shaft where this enters an enclosed space, packed with grease etc. to prevent leakage of gas or liquid at this point.

stuffy (stuff-ee) adj. (stuff-ier, stuffiest) 1. lacking fresh air or sufficient ventilation. 2. dull, uninteresting. 3. (of the nose) blocked with secretions so that breathing is difficult. 4. (informal) old-fashioned and narrow-minded. 5. (informal) showing annoyance. stuffily adv. stuffiness n.

stul-ti-fy (stul-ti-fi) v. (stul-ti-plied, stul-ti-lying) to impair or make ineffective, their uncooperative approach has stultified the discussions. stul-ti-fi-ca-tion (stul-ti-fi-kā-shōn) n.

stumbling (stum-bling) v. (stum-bled, stumbling) 1. to strike one's foot on something and lose one's balance. 2. to walk with frequent stumbles. 3. to make a blunder or frequent blunders in speaking or playing music etc., stumbled through the recitation. stumble n. an act of stumbling. stum-bler n. stum-bly adj. □stumble across or on, to discover accidentally. stumbling block, an obstacle, something that causes difficulty or hesitation.

stumble-bum (stum-bé-bum) n. (slang) an incompetent hobo, especially a third-rate boxer.

stump (stump) n. 1. the base of a tree remaining in the ground when the rest has fallen or been cut down. 2. a corresponding remnant of broken tooth or amputated limb or of something worn down. 3. a place used by an orator, especially a politician, for speechmaking. stump v. 1. to walk stiffly or noisily. 2. (in politics) to travel through a district making speeches in different places. 3. (informal) to be too difficult for, to baffle, the question stumped him.

stumpy (stum-pee) adj. (stumpier, stumpiest) short and thick. stumpiness n.

stun (stun) v. (stunned, stunning) 1. to knock senseless. 2. to daze or shock by the impact of strong emotion.

stung (stung) see sting.

stunk (stunk) see stink.

stunning (stun-ing) adj. (informal) extremely attractive. stunningly adv.

stunt (stunt) v. to hinder the growth or development of. stunt ed ness n.

stunt1 n. (informal) something unusual or difficult done as a performance or to attract attention, a publicity stunt. □stunt man, a person employed to take an actor's place in performing dangerous stunts.

stupendous (stoo-pé-dus) adj. amazing, exceedingly great, they took stupendous risks. stupendously adv.

stupendous (stoo-pid) adj. 1. not intelligent or clever, slow at learning or understanding things. 2. in a state of stupor, he was knocked stupid. stupendously adv.

stupid-ness (stoo-pid-néz) n.

stupor (stoo-por) n. a dazed or almost unconscious condition brought on by shock, drugs, drink, etc. stuporous adj.

sturdy (stur-dee) adj. (dil-er, dil-iest) strongly built, hardy, vigorous. sturdy-ness n.

sturgeon (stur-jón) n. (pl. -geons, -geons) a large sharklike fish with flesh that is valued as food and roc that is made into caviar.

stutter (stut-ér) v. to stammer, especially by repeating the first consonants of words. stutter n. stammering speech, a tendency to stutter. stutter-er n. stutter-ing-ly adv.

St. Vi-tus' (saynt vi-tūs) dance see saint.

sty (stī) n. (pl. stīes) a pigsty.

sty, stye n. an inflamed swelling on the edge of the eyelid.

Styg-i-an (stij-i-an) adj. 1. of the river Styx. 2. murky, gloomy.

style (stīl) n. 1. the manner of writing or speaking or doing something (contrasted with the subject matter or the thing done). 2. shape or design, a new style of coat. 3. elegance, distinction. 4. a narrow extension of the ovary in a plant, supporting the stigma. style v. (styled, styl-ling) to design or shape or arrange, especially in a fashionable style. styl-ing n.

styl-lish (str-lish) adj. in fashionable style, elegant. styl-lish-ly adv. styl-lish-ness n.

styl-ist (str-list) n. 1. a person who achieves or aims at a good style in what he does. 2. a person who styles things.

styl-is-tic (str-lis-tik) adj. of literary or artistic style. styl-ic-cal-ly adv.

styl-is-tics (str-lis-tiks) n. the study of literary style.

styl-ize (str-liz) v. (styl-ized, styl-iz-ing) to make (an artistic representation etc.) conform to a conventional style. styl-ized adj.

sty-lus (str-lūs) n. (pl. -lūs-es) 1. a pen or other pointed tool used for writing on wax or engraving or cutting stencils etc. 2. a needlelike device used to cut grooves in records or to follow such grooves in reproducing sound from records.

sty-mie (str-mē) n. 1. (in golf) a situation on the putting green when one ball lies between another ball and the hole, formerly a possible obstruction to the play of the farther ball. 2. something that blocks or thwarts one's activities, lay someone a stymie. sty-mie v. (sty-mied, sty-mie-ing) to block or thwart the activities of.

styp-tic (stip-tik) adj. checking the flow of blood by causing blood vessels to contract. styptic n. a stick of a styptic material used to dry up small cuts or sores.

sty-rene (str-een) n. a liquid hydrocarbon easily polymerized and used in making plastic.

Sty-foam (str-fōm) n. (trade-mark) a lightweight polystyrene foam used as insulation, packing material, etc.

Styx (stiks) n. (in Greek mythology) the river over which the souls of the dead had to pass to reach Hades.

sua-sion (swā-zhōn) n. persuasion. moral suasion, a strong recommendation that is not an order.

suave (swāv) adj. smooth-mannered.

suave-ly adv. suave-ness n. suav-i-ty (swāv-ī-tee) n.

sub (sub) n. (informal) 1. a submarine. 2. a substitute. sub v. (subbed, sub-bing) to substitute.

sub-prefix meaning under, as in submarine; subordinate, as in subservient.

sub-a-cute (sub-a-kyoot) adj. (in medicine) between acute and chronic.

sub-al-pine (sub-al-pin) adj. of the higher slopes of mountains just below the timberline.

sub-a-que-o-us (sub-ay-kwē-ūs) adj. underwater.

sub-arctic (sub-ahrk-tik) adj. of or like regions somewhat south of the Arctic Circle.

sub-as-sem-bly (sub-ā-sem-blee) n. (pl. -bles) an assembly within an assembly.

sub-a-tom-ic (sub-ā-tom-ik) adj. occurring in or smaller than an atom.

sub-base-ment (sub-bays-mēnt) n. a story below the basement.

sub-ca-t-e-gory (sub-kat-e-go-ri) n. (pl. -ries) a division of a category.

sub-class (sub-klass) n. a division of a class.

sub-com-mit-tee (sub-kō-mit-see) n. a committee formed for a special purpose from some members of the main committee.

sub-com-pact (sub-kom-pakt) n. a very small automobile, smaller than a compact.

sub-con-sious (sub-kōn-šūs) adj. of our own mental activities of which we are not aware.

sub-con-scious n. the part of the mind in which these activities take place. sub-con-scious-ly adv. sub-con-scious-ness n. Do not confuse subconscious with unconscious.

sub-con-tinent (sub-kōn-ti-nənt) n. a large land mass that forms part of a continent.

sub-con-tinental (sub-kōn-tin-ətal) adj.

sub-con-tract (sub-kōn-trakt) v. to give or accept a contract to carry out all or part of another contract. sub-contract (sub-kōn-trakt) n. sub-con-tractor n.

sub-cul-ture (sub-kul-chūr) n. a social culture within a larger culture.

sub-cu-ta-neous (sub-kōt-tay-ni-ūs) adj. under the skin, subcutaneous injection; subcutaneous tissue.
sub·de·b (sub-deb), sub·de·bu·tante (sub-deb-yu·taht) n. a girl who is about to become a debutante, or one of corresponding age.

sub·di·dis·ci·pline (sub-dis-kə-pline) n. a division within a branch of learning.

sub·di·vide (sub-di·vrid) v. (sub·di·vid·ed, sub·di·vid·ing) to divide into smaller parts after a first division.

sub·di·vision (sub-di·vĭs·ĭn) n.

sub·due (sub·doo) v. (sub·dued, sub·du·ing) 1. to overcome, to bring under control. 2. to make quieter or less intense; subdued lighting, not strong or intense.

sub·ed·i·tor (sub·ed·i·tər) n. an assistant editor.

sub·floor (sub·flōr) n. a foundation for a floor in a building.

sub·freez·ing (sub·freez·ing) adj. below freezing.

sub·group (sub·groop) n. a division of a group.

sub·head (sub·hed) n. (informal) a subheading.

sub·head·ing (sub·hed·ing) n. a subordinate heading.

sub·hu·man (sub·hyoo·mən) adj. less than human, not fully human.

subj. abbr. 1. subject(s). 2. subjective. 3. subjunctive.

sub·ject (sub·jikt) adj. 1. not politically independent, subject peoples. 2. owing obedience to, under the authority of, we are all subject to the laws of the land. subj. n. 1. a person subject to a particular political rule, any member of a state except the supreme ruler, British subjects. 2. the person or thing that is being discussed or described or represented or studied. 3. the word or words in a sentence that name who or what does the action or undergoes what is stated by the verb, as "the book" in the book fell off the table. 4. the theme or chief phrase in a sonata etc. subj. (sub·jekt) v. 1. to bring (a country) under one’s control. 2. to cause to undergo or experience, subjecting the metal to severe tests. subj. n. subject, the matter treated in a book or speech etc. subj. to, liable to, trains are subject to delay during fog; depending upon as a condition, subject to your approval; subject to contract, provided that a contract is made.

sub·jec·tive (sub·jekt·iv) adj. 1. existing in a person’s mind and not produced by things outside it, not objective. 2. depending on personal taste or views etc. subj. n. subject·ive·ly adv. subject·ive·ness n. subject·ive·ly adv. subject·ive·ness. n. subject·ive·ly adv. subject·ive·ness n.

sub·join (sub·join) v. to add at the end.

sub·ju·di·ce (sub·ju·di·see) n. under judicial consideration, not yet decided.

sub·ju·gate (sub·ju·gate) v. (sub·ju·gated, sub·ju·gat·ing) to subdue or bring (a country etc.) into subjection.

sub·ju·ga·tion (sub·ju·ga·shən) n.

sub·junc·tive (sub·jungk·tiv) adj. of the form of a verb used in expressing what is imagined or wished or possible, such as "were" in if I were you. subjunctive n. a subjunctive form.

sub·lease (sub·leas) v. (sub·leased, sub·lease·ing) to sublet. sublease (sub·leez) n. a lease granted by subletting.

sub·let (sub·let) v. (sub·let·ted, sub·let·ting) to let (accommodation etc. that one holds by lease) to a subtenant, to obtain a lease of as a subtenant.

sub·le·thal (sub·lee·thəl) adj. not quite lethal.

sub·li·mate (sub·li·mayt) v. (sub·li·mat·ed, sub·li·mat·ing) 1. to divert the energy of (an emotion or impulse arising from a primitive instinct) into a culturally higher activity. 2. to sublime.

sub·li·ma·tion (sub·li·may·shən) n.

sub·lim·ed (sub·lim·id) adj. 1. of the most exalted or noble or impressive kind. 2. extreme, lofty, like that of a person who does not fear the consequences, with sublimed indifference. sublimed n. (sub·lim·ed, sub·lim·ing) to convert (a substance) from its solid state directly to its vapor by heat (and usually to allow it to solidify again). sub·lim·ed·ly adv.

sub·lim·en·ess n. sub·lim·el·ty (sub·lim·i·tee) n.

sub·lim·i·nal (sub·lim·i·nal) adj. below the threshold of consciousness; subliminal advertising, advertising presented by a very brief television picture etc. that influences the viewer without his consciously perceiving it. sub·lim·i·nal·ly adv.

sub·lu·nar (sub·lu·nahr) n. (sub·lu·nar·y) adj. 1. beneath the moon. 2. of this world, earthly.

sub·ma·chine (sub·ma·sheen) gun a lightweight machine gun held in the hand for firing.

sub·ma·rine (sub·ma·reen) n. a ship that can operate under water. 2. a hero sand·wich.

sub·mar·ine (sub·mar·in·er) n. sub·mar·in·cy n. sub·mar·ine chaser, a small patrol boat equipped for military operations against submarines.
sub·max·ill·a (sub·mak-sil-lā) n. (pl. -lae, pr. -lee) the lower jaw.

sub·max·ill·a·ry (sub·mak-sil-lar-ee) adj.

sub·merge (sūb·mürj) v. (sub·merged, sub·merg·ing) 1. to place below water or other liquid, to flood. 2. (of a submarine) to dive, to go below the surface.

sub·mer·gence n. sub·mer·g’le adj. sub·mer·gil·bi·l·ty (sū-bur-mür-fē-bil-i-tee) (especially in) n. a ship capable of submerging.

sub·mers·ible (sūb·mur-sī·bəl) adj. capable of being submerged. sub·mers·sible n. a ship capable of submerging.

sub·mers·i·bil·i·ty (sū·bur-mür-sī-bil-i-tee) n.

sub·mi·cr·o·sco·p·ic (sub·mi·krō-skop·ik) adj. too small to be seen by an ordinary microscope.

sub·min·i·a·ture (sub·min·i·ā-chūr) adj. 1. of greatly reduced size. 2. (of a camera) using extremely narrow film (especially 16 millimeter).

sub·min·i·a·tur·ize (sub·min·i·ā-chū·rīz) v. (sub·min·i·ā-chū·riz·ed, sub·min·i·ā·tur·iz·ing) to make or design (especially electronic components) very small.

sub·min·i·a·tur·i·za·tion (sub·min·i·ā-chū·ri·za·shun) n.

sub·mis·sion (sūb·mis·shun) n. 1. submitting, being submitted. 2. something submitted, a theory etc. submitted by counsel to a judge or jury. 3. being submissive, obedience.

sub·mis·sive (sūb·mis·iv) adj. submitting to power or authority, willing to obey. sub·mis·sive·ly adv. sub·mis·sive·ness n.

sub·mit (sūb·mit) v. (sub·mit·ted, sub·mit·ting) 1. to yield (oneself) to the authority or control of another, to surrender. 2. to subject (a person or thing) to a process. 3. to present for consideration or decision.

sub·mo·lec·u·lar (sub·mō·lek-yū·lăr) adj. smaller than a molecule.

sub·mul·ti·ple (sub·mul·ti·pēl) n. a number that will divide exactly another specified number.

sub·nor·mal (sub·nor·māl) adj. 1. less than normal. 2. below the normal standard of intelligence.

sub·nor·mal·i·ty (sub·nor·māl-i·ty) n.

sub·or·bi·tal (sub·or·bi·tal) adj. not completing a full orbit around Earth etc.

sub·or·der (sub·or·dēr) n. a division of an order.

sub·or·di·nate (sū·bor·di·nāt) adj. 1. of lesser importance or rank. 2. working under the control or authority of another person. sub·or·di·nate n. a person in a subordinate position.

sub·or·di·nate (sū·bor·di·nāt) adj. to make subordinate, to treat as of lesser importance than something else. sub·or·di·nate·ly adv.

sub·or·di·na·tion (sū·bor·di·nā·shun) n. sub·or·di·na·tive clause, a clause that modifies the principal clause in a sentence, as “since winter arrived” in It has been cold since winter arrived.

sub·orn (sū·bor·n) v. to induce (a person) by bribery or other means to commit perjury or some other unlawful act.

sub·or·na·tion (sū·bor·na·shun) n. a category of plants and animals between phylum and class.

sub·plot (sub·plot) n. a subordinate plot in a play etc.

sub·po·na (sū·pō·nā) n. a writ commanding a person to appear in a law court.

subpoena v. (sub·po·ne·a, sub·po·ne·a·ing) to summon with a subpoena.

sub·ro·gate (sub·ro·gāt) v. (sub·ro·gat·ed, sub·ro·gat·ing) to substitute one person (or party in a legal proceeding) for another, especially a creditor. sub·ro·ga·tion (sub·ro·ga·shun) n.

sub·ro·sa (sub·ro·zā) in confidence, in secrecy. D Latin, = under the rose, which was an emblem of secrecy.

sub·scrib·e (sūb·skrip·bē) v. (sub·scribed, sub·scrib·ing) 1. to contribute (a sum of money); subscribe to a periodical, pay in advance for a series of issues. 2. to sign, subscribe one’s name; subscribe a document. 3. to express one’s agreement, we cannot subscribe to this theory.

sub·scrib·er (sūb·skrip·bēr) n. a person who subscribes.

sub·script (sub·skrip·tē) adj. written or printed below (and sometimes to the right of) another symbol. sub·script n. a subscript symbol.

sub·scrip·tion (sūb·skrip·shun) n. 1. subscribing. 2. money subscribed. 3. the right to receive a periodical for a certain period of time upon payment of a fee.

sub·sec·tion (sub·sek·shun) n. a division of a section.

sub·se·quent (sub·sē·kwēnt) adj. following in time or order or succession, coming after. sub·se·quent·ly adv.

sub·ser·vi·ent (sūb·ser·vi·ēnt) adj. 1. subordinate. 2. servile, obsequious. sub·ser·vi·ent·ly adv. sub·ser·vi·ence n. sub·ser·vi·ency (sūb·ser·vi·ěn·sē) n.

sub·set (sub·set) n. (in mathematics) a set made up of parts of a larger set.

sub·side (sūb·sid) v. (sub·sid·ed, sub·sid·ing) 1. to sink to a lower or to the normal level. 2. (of land) to sink because of mining operations etc. underneath. 3. to become less active or intense, the excitement subsided. 4. (of a person) to sink into a chair etc.

subsidence n.

subsidiary (sub-sid-er-e) adj. 1. of secondary importance. 2. (of a business company) controlled by another. subsidiary n. (pl. -ar-ies) a subsidiary thing.

subsidize (sub-si-diz) v. (sub-si-dized, sub-si-diz-ing) to pay a subsidy to, to support by subsidies.

subsidies (sub-si-dee) n. (pl. -dies) a grant of money paid to an industry or other cause needing help, or to keep down the price at which commodities etc. are sold to the public.

subside (sub-sist) v. to exist or continue to exist, to keep oneself alive, managed to subsist on a diet of vegetables.

subsistence (sub-sis-tens) n. subsisting, a means of doing this. subsistence allowance, an allowance or advance of pay granted for maintenance. subsistence level, merely enough to supply the bare necessities of life.

subsoil (sub-soil) n. soil lying immediately beneath the surface layer.

subsonic (sub-son-ik) adj. (of speed) less than the speed of sound, (of aircraft) flying at subsonic speeds, not supersonic.

species (spe-cies) n. (pl. -cies) a division of a species. specif-ic (sub-spi-sif-ik) adj. specif-ic-ally adv.

substantive adj. 1. substantive. 2. substantively. 3. substitute.

substance (sub-stans) n. 1. matter with more or less uniform properties, a particular kind of this. 2. the essence of something spoken or written, we agree with the substance of this argument. 3. reality, solidity. 4. (old use) wealth and possessions, waste one's substance.

substandard (sub-stan-dard) adj. below the usual or required standard.

substantial (süb-stan-shal) adj. 1. of solid material or structure. 2. of considerable amount or intensity or validity, a substantial fee; substantial reasons. 3. possessing much property or wealth, substantial farmers. 4. in essentials, virtual, we are in substantial agreement. substan-tial-ly adv.

substitute (sub-sta-tate) (süb-stan-shal-ly) adv. substitute (sub-stan-tial) v. (sub-stan-shial) adj. (of solid material or structure. 2. of considerable amount or intensity or validity, a substantial fee; substantial reasons. 3. possessing much property or wealth, substantial farmers. 4. in essentials, virtual, we are in substantial agreement.

subtotal (sub-tot-tal) n. the total part of a group of figures. subtotal (sub-tot-tal) v. (sub-to-taled, sub-to-tal-ing) to add up part of a (group of figures).

subtraction (sub-strak-shun) n. a subtraction, as for the distribution of electric current.

substitute (sub-sti-toot) n. a person or thing that acts or serves in place of another. substitute v. (sub-sti-tut-ed, sub-sti-tut-ing) 1. to put or use as a substitute. 2. to serve as a substitute. substitute adj. acting or serving in place of another. substitution (sub-sti-toot-tion) (sub-sti-to-oo-tion) (sub-sti-too-tion) (sub-sti-too-shon) n.

sub stance (sub-stance) n. a substanc-ious, etc. a flying, etc. a down thing.

subson ic (sub-son-ik) adj. less than the speed of sound, etc.

subsidence (sub-sis-tens) n. subsiding, a means of doing this. subsidence allowance, an allowance or advance of pay granted for maintenance. subsidence level, merely enough to supply the bare necessities of life.

subtotal (sub-sum-ed, sub-sum-ing) to bring or include under a particular rule or classification etc. subtotal (sub-sis-tem) n. a subordinate system.

subtotal (sub-toh-tal) n. a subtotal.

subtotal (sub-total) n. the total part of a group of figures. subtotal (sub-tot-tal) v. (sub-to-taled, sub-to-tal-ing) to add up part of a (group of figures).

subtract (süb-strak) v. to deduct, to remove (a part or quantity or number) from a greater one. subtract (süb-trak-shon) n.

subtotal (sub-tra-hend) n. a quantity or number to be subtracted. sub-trop-i-cal (sub-trop-i-kál) adj. of regions bordering on the tropics.

sub-urb (sub-urb) n. a residential community lying outside the central part of a town.

sub-ur-ban (sù-bur-bán) adj. of a suburb or suburbs.

sub-ur-ban-ite (sù-bur-bán-ít) n. a person who lives in a suburb.

sub-ur-bi-a (sù-bur-bí-á) n. suburbs and their inhabitants.

sub-ven-tion (sùb-vén-shón) n. a subsidy.

sub-ver-sion (sùb-vur-zhón) n. subverting.

sub-ver-sive (sùb-vur-siv) adj. tending to subvert. subversive n. sub-ver-sive-ly ad\v.

sub-ver-t (sùb-vurt) v. to overthrow the authority (of a religion or government etc.) by weakening people's trust or belief. sub-ver'ter n.

sub-way (sùb-wáy) n. a railroad track in the ground or below it.

sub-ze-ro (sub-zer-oh) adj. (of temperatures) below zero.

suc-céed (sùk-seed) v. 1. to be successful. 2. to come next to in time or order, to follow, to take the place previously filled by. Hoover succeeded Coolidge. suc-céed'er n.

suc-ces (sùk-ses) n. 1. a favorable outcome, doing what was desired or attempted, the attainment of wealth or fame or position. 2. a person or thing that is successful.

suc-ces-sion (sùk-sesh-én) n. 1. following in order, a series of people or things following each other. 2. succeeding to the presidency or to an inheritance or position, the right of doing this, the sequence of people with this right. suc-ces-sion-al adj. in suc-ces-sion, one after another.

suc-ces-sive (sùk-ses-iv) adj. following one after another, in an unbroken series. suc-ces-sive-ly adv.

suc-ces-sor (sùk-ses-ór) n. a person or thing that succeeds another.

suc-cin-t (sùk-sin-kít) adj. concise, expressed briefly and clearly. suc-cin-tly adv. suc-cin-tess-ness n.

suc-cor (suk-ór) n. help given in time of need. succor v. to give such help.

suc-co-tash (suk-ó-tash) n. a dish of beans and kernels of corn boiled together.

Suc-coth = Sukkoth.

suc-cu-lent (suk-yú-lent) adj. 1. (of food) juicy. 2. (of plants) having thick fleshy leaves or stems. succulent n. a succulent plant. suc-cu-lent-ly adv. suc-cu-lence n. suc-cu-lent-ly (suk-yú-lén-see) n.

suc-cumb (sù-kumb) v. to give way to something overpowering. suc-cumb'er n.

such (such) adj. 1. of the same kind or degree, people such as these. 2. of the kind or degree described, there's no such person. 3. so great or intense, it gave her such a fright. such pronoun that, the action or thing referred to, such being the case, we can do nothing. as such, what has been specified, in itself, interested in getting a good photograph, not in the castle as such.

such-and-such (such-an-such) adj. particular but not specified, says he will arrive at such-and-such a time but is always late.

such-like (such-lik) adj. (informal) of the same kind. and suchlike, and things of this kind.

suck (suk) v. 1. to draw (liquid or air etc.) into the mouth by using the lip muscles, to draw liquid etc. from (a thing) in this way. 2. to squeeze in the mouth by using the tongue, sucking a candy. 3. to draw in, plants suck moisture from the soil; the canoe was sucked into the whirlpool.

suck n. the act or process of sucking.

suck up to (sling) to toady to.

suck-er (suk-ór) n. 1. a person or thing that sucks. 2. an organ of certain animals, or a device of rubber etc., that can adhere to a surface by suction. 3. a shoot coming up from the roots or underground stem of a tree or shrub. 4. (sling) a person who is easily deceived. 5. a lolli-pop. 6. a freshwater fish of North America that has a mouth shaped as if for sucking together. be a sucker for, (sling) to be always unable to resist the attractions of. sucker bet, a bet that the taker has no chance of winning.

suck-ie (suk-ì) v. (suck-led, suck-ling) 1. to feed (young) at the breast or udder. 2. (of young) to take milk in this way.

suck-ing (suk-ling) n. a child or animal that is not yet weaned.

Su-cre (soo-kré) the capital of Bolivia.

su-crose (soo-krohs) n. sugar obtained from plants such as sugar cane or sugar beet.

suc-tion (suk-shön) n. 1. sucking. 2. production of a partial or complete vacuum so that external atmospheric pressure forces fluid or other substance into the vacant space or causes adhesion of surfaces, vacuum cleaners work by suction. suc-tioned adj. suction pump, a pump that draws liquid through a pipe.
into a chamber from which the air is drawn by a piston.

Su·dan (soo-dan) a country in northeast Africa. Su·da·ne·se (soo-da-neez) adj. & n. (pl. -neese).

su·den (sud·en) adj. happening or done quickly or unexpectedly or without warning. su·den·ly adv. su·den·ness n. □ all of a sudden, suddenly. su·den death, (informal) the decision of a tied contest by the next game, the next score made, etc.

suds (suddz) n. pl. 1. soapsuds. 2. (slang) beer. sud'sy adj. (suds·y·er, sud'sy·est).

sue (soo) v. (sued, su·ing) 1. to bring legal proceedings against. 2. to make an application, sue for peace. su·er n.

suede (sayd) n. leather with the flesh side rubbed so that it has a velvety nap. □ suede cloth, woven cloth imitating this.

su·et (soo-it) n. hard fat from around the kidneys of cattle and sheep, used in cooking.

suff. abbr. 1. sufficient. 2. suffix.

su·fer (suf·er) v. 1. to undergo or be subjected to (pain, loss, grief, damage, etc.). suffers from neuralgia. 2. to feel pain or grief, to be subjected to damage or a disadvantage. 3. to permit. 4. to tolerate; she does not suffer fools gladly, behaves intolerantly toward incompetent people. su·fer·er n. su·fer·able adj.

su·fer·ance (suf·er-ans) n. on sufferance, tolerated but only grudgingly or because there is no positive objection.

su·fice (suf·fis) v. (su·ficed, su·ficed·ly) to be enough, to meet the needs of.

su·fli·clent (su·fish·ent) adj. enough.

su·fli·clent·ly adv. su·fli·clen·cy (su·fish·en·see) n.

su·fix (suf·iks) n. (pl. -fix·es) a letter or combination of letters added at the end of a word to make another word (such as y added to rust to make rusty) or as an inflection (such as ing added to suck to make sucking). suffix v. to add at the end, especially as a suffix. su·fix·ion (su·fish·shun) n.

su·fo·cate (su·fok·at) v. (su·fo·cat·ed, su·fo·cat·ing) 1. to kill by stopping the breathing. 2. to cause discomfort to (a person) by making breathing difficult. 3. to be suffocated. su·fo·cat·ing·ly adv. su·fo·cat·ion (su·fok·a·shun) n.

su·fra·gan (su·fr-a·gahn) n. 1. a suffra·gan bishop, a bishop consecrated to help the bishop of a diocese with administration. 2. a bishop in relation to an archbishop.

su·fra·ge (su·fraj) n. the right to vote in political elections. su·fra·gist n.

su·fra·gette (su·fray·jet) n. a woman who, in the early 20th century, agitated for women to have the right to vote in political elections.

su·fuse (su·fus) v. (su·fused, su·fused·ly) (of color or moisture) to spread throughout or over. su·fu·sion (su·fyo·shun) n.

su·fl (soo-fl) n. (pl. -flas) a member of an ascetic and mystical Muslim sect. Su·fism (soo-fliz·em) n. Su·fl·ism (soo-fliz·iz·em) n. Su·fi·tic (soo-fi·tik) adj.

su·gar (shuug·ahr) n. a sweet crystalline substance obtained from the juices of various plants. sugar v. to sweeten with sugar, to coat with sugar. su·gar·less adj. □ sugar beet, the kind of beet from which sugar is obtained. sugar cane, a tropical grass with tall jointed stems from which sugar is obtained. sugar daddy, (informal) an elderly man who lavishes gifts on a young woman. sugar loaf, a solid cone-shaped mass of sugar, as sold in former times. sugar maple, a tree of eastern North America from the sap of which syrup or sugar can be made.

su·gar·coat (shuug·a·koht) v. 1. to enclose (food) in sugar. 2. to make superficially attractive or less unpleasant.

su·gar·plum (shuug·ahr-plum) n. a candy, especially a small ball of boiled sugar.

su·gar·y (shuug·ahr-i) adj. 1. containing or resembling sugar. 2. sweet, excessively sweet in style or manner. su·gar·ness n.

su·gest (sug·jest) v. 1. to cause (an idea or possibility) to be present in the mind. 2. to propose (a plan or theory) for acceptance or rejection.

su·gest·ion (sug·jes·te·shun) n. 1. suggesting, being suggested. 2. something suggested. 3. a slight trace, he speaks with a suggestion of a French accent.

su·gest·ive (sug·jes·tiv) adj. 1. conveying a suggestion. 2. tending to convey an indecent or improper meaning. sug·ges·tive·ly adv. sug·ges·tive·ness n.

su·i·cid·al (soo·i·sid·al) adj. 1. of suicide. 2. (of a person) liable to commit suicide. 3. destructive to one's own interests.

su·i·cid·ed (soo·i·sid·id) n. 1. the intentional killing of oneself, an instance of this. 2. a person who commits suicide. 3. an act that is destructive to one's own interests; political suicide, ruination of one's own or one's party's political prospects. □ commit suicide, to kill oneself intentionally. suicide pact, an agreement between two people to commit suicide together.

sui generis (soo-ee jen-ee-ris) of its own kind, unique. □ Latin.

suit (soot) n. 1. a set of clothing to be worn together, especially a jacket and trousers or skirt. 2. clothing for use in a particular activity, a business suit. 3. a set of armor. 4. any of the four sets (spades, hearts, diamonds, clubs) into which a pack of cards is divided. 5. a lawsuit. 6. (formal) a request or appeal; press one's suit, to request persistently.
suit v. 1. to satisfy, to meet the demands or needs of. 2. to be convenient or right for. 3. to give a pleasing appearance or effect upon, red doesn't suit her. 4. to adapt, to make suitable, suit your style to your audience; suit action to the word, do at once the action just promised. □ suit yourself, do as you please; find something that satisfies you. □ Do not confuse suit with suite.

suit-a-ble (soo-tá-bel) adj. right for the purpose or occasion. suit-a-ble adv. suit-a-ble-ness n. suit-a-bil-i-ty (soo-tá-bil-i-tee) n.

suit-case (soot-kays) n. a rectangular case for carrying clothes, usually with a hinged lid and a handle.

suite (sweet) n. 1. a set of rooms or furniture. 2. a set of attendants, a retinue. 3. a set of musical pieces or extracts. □ Do not confuse suite with suit.

suit-ing (soo-ting) n. material for making suits.

sul- or (soo-tor) n. 1. a man who is courting a woman. 2. a person bringing a lawsuit.

Suk-koth (suuk-ôs, soo-kot) a Jewish Thanksgiving festival celebrated in autumn to commemorate the sheltering of the Jews in tents in the wilderness after the exodus from Egypt.

sul-fa (sul-fa) n. sulfia drug, any of a group of chemical compounds with antibacterial properties, related to sulfanilamide.

sul-fa-nil-a-mide (sul-fa-nil-ah-mid) n. a synthetic organic chemical compound with antibacterial properties.

sul-fate (sul-fayt) n. a salt of sulfuric acid.

sul-fide (sul-fid) n. a compound of sulfur with another element or radical.

sul-fite (sul-fit) n. a salt of sulfurous acid.

sul-fur (sul-fur) n. a pale yellow substance that burns with a blue flame and a stiffening smell, used in industry and in medicine.

sul-fu-re-ous (sul-fyuor-i-ôs) adj. □ sulfur dioxide, a poisonous gas formed in the burning of sulfur, used in industry.

sul-fu-ric (sul-fyuor-ik) adj. containing a proportion of sulfur. □ sulfuric acid, a strong corrosive acid.

sul-fu-rous (sul-ф-rús) adj. 1. of or like sulfur. 2. containing a proportion of sulfur. □ sulfurous acid, a weak unstable acid.

sulk (sulk) v. to be sulky. sulk n. (also sulks) a fit of sulkiness.

sulk-y (sul-kee) adj. (sul-kel-er, sulk-ë-est) sullen, silent or aloof because of resentment or bad temper. sulky n. a light two-wheeled carriage for one person, especially as used in harness racing.

sul'1-ly adv. sulk'1-ness n.

sul-len (sul-lén) adj. 1. gloomy and unresponsive from resentment or bad temper. 2. dark and dismal, sullen skies. sul'len-ly adv. sul'len-ness n.

sul-ly (sul-le) v. (sul-pled, sul-ly-ing) to stain or blemish, to spoil the purity or splendor of, sullied his reputation.

sul-tan (sul-tan) n. the ruler of certain Muslim countries.

sul-tan-a (sul-tan-å) n. 1. a seedless raisin; sultana grape, the small yellow grape from which it is produced. 2. the wife, mother, sister, or daughter of a sultan.

sul-tan-ate (sul-tan-åt) n. the territory of a sultan.

sul-try (sul-tree) adj. (-tri-er, -tri-est) 1. hot and humid. 2. (of a woman) of dark mysterious beauty. sul'tri-ness n.

sum (sum) n. 1. a total. 2. a particular amount of money, for the sum of $5. 3. a problem in arithmetic, good at sums. sum v. (summed, sum-ming) to find the sum of. □ sum total, a total. sum up, to give the total of; to summarize; (of a judge) to summarize the evidence or argument; to form an opinion of, sum a person up.

su-mac (soo-mak) n. a shrub or small tree with feathery leaves and clusters of usually red berries.

Su-me-ri-an (soo-meer-i-ån) adj. of the ancient civilization of Sumer, a region in southern Mesopotamia. Sumerian n. 1. the Sumerian language. 2. a Sumerian person.

sum-ma cum lau-de (sum-å kum law-dee) with greatest academic distinction. □ Latin, = with highest praise.

sum-ma-ri-ze (sum-å-rez) v. (sum-ma-ri-zed, sum-ma-ri-zing) to make or be a summary of. sum-ma-ri-za-tion (sum-å-re-zay-shon) n.

sum-ma-ry (sum-å-ree) n. (pl. -ries) a statement giving the main points of something briefly. summary adj. 1. brief, giving the main points only, a summary account. 2. done or given without delay or attention to detail or formal procedure. sum•ma•tion (sun•mah•shən) n. finding of a total or sum, summing up. sum•mer (sun•mər) n. the warmest season of the year, from June to August in the northern hemisphere. □ summer camp, a camp providing sporting facilities etc. for children during their summer vacation. summer school, a course of lectures etc. held during the summer vacation. summer solstice, see solstice. summer squash, a squash that is eaten before it fully ripens, such as zucchini. summer stock, the production of plays by a company of actors during the summer. summer time, daylight saving time (see daylight). sum•mer•house (sun•mər•hous) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -howziz) a light building in a garden or park, providing shade in summer. sum•mer•time (sun•mər•tīm) n. the season of summer. sum•mer•y (sun•mər•ē) adj. like summer, suitable for summer. sum•mit (sun•mit) n. the highest point of something, the top of a mountain. □ summit conference, a meeting between heads of two or more governments. sum•mon (sun•mən) v. 1. to send for (a person), to order to appear in a law court. 2. to call together, to order to assemble, summon a meeting. 3. to gather together (one's strength or courage) in order to do something. 4. to call upon (a person etc.) to do something, summon the fort to surrender. sum•mon•er n. sum•mons (sun•məns) n. (pl. -mons•es) 1. a command to do something or appear somewhere. 2. an order to appear in a law court, a document containing this. summons v. to serve with a summons. □ It is equally correct to use summon as a verb with this meaning. sun•mo (sun•mō) n. a Japanese form of wrestling in which defeat follows touching the ground except with the feet, or failure to keep within a marked area. sum•p (sunp) n. a hole or low area into which waste liquid drains. sum•p•tu•ous (sunp•choo•əs) adj. splendid and costly looking. sum•p'tu•ous•ly adv. sum•p'tu•ous•ness n. sun (sun) n. 1. the star around which Earth travels and from which it receives light and warmth. 2. this light or warmth, let the sun in. 3. any fixed star with or without planets. sun v. (sunned, sun•ning) to expose to the sun; sun oneself, to bask in sunshine. □ sun dance, a dance of North American Indians in honor of the sun. sun deck, a flat roof or raised open platform exposed to the sun. sun god, the sun worshipped as a god. sun hat, sun helmet, a hat or helmet worn to protect the head from sun. sun lamp, a lamp producing ultraviolet rays, with effects like those of the sun. sun visor, see visor. Sun. abbr. Sunday. sun•bat (sun•bat) n. exposure of one's body to the sun. sun•bathe (sun•bath) v. (sun•bathed, sun•bat•ing) to expose one's body to the sun. sun•bat•er n. sun•beam (sun•beam) n. a ray of sun. sun•belt (sun•belt) n. (informal) the southwestern U.S. sun•bon•net (sun•bon•it) n. a bonnet shaped so as to shade the face and neck. sun•burn (sun•burn) n. tanning or inflammation of the skin caused by exposure to sun. sunburn v. to undergo or cause to undergo this. sun•burst (sun•burst) n. 1. a burst of sunlight, as through parted clouds. 2. a firework or ornament or piece of jewelry imitating the sun and its rays. sun•dae (sun•day) n. a dish of ice cream and crushed fruit, nuts, syrup, etc. Sun•day (sun•day) n. the first day of the week, observed by Christians as a day of rest and worship. □ Sunday best, best clothes, kept for Sunday use. Sunday painter, an amateur painter, one who paints solely for pleasure. Sunday punch, (slang) a boxer's most powerful punch; anything capable of maximum effectiveness against an opponent. Sunday school, a school for religious instruction of children, held on Sundays. sun•der (sun•dər) v. to break or tear apart, to sever. sun•dew (sun•doo) n. a small bog plant with hairs secreting moisture that traps insects. sun•di•al (sun•di•əl) n. a device that shows the time by means of the shadow of a rod or plate on a scaled dial. sun•down (sun•down) n. sunset. sun•dress (sun•dress) n. a dress allowing arms, shoulders, and back to be exposed to sun. sun•dries (sun•dri•z) n. pl. various small items not named individually. sun•dry (sun•dri) adj. various, several. sun•fish (sun•fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish•es) 1. a large ocean fish with an almost spherical body. 2. a small flat-bodied freshwater fish of North America.
sunflower / superficial 922 sun·flower·er (sun-flow-ér) n. a tall garden plant bearing large flowers with golden petals around a dark center, producing seeds that yield an edible oil.

sung (sung) see sing.

sun·glass·es (sun-glas-iz) n. eyeglasses with tinted lenses to protect the eyes from sunlight or glare.

sink (sungk), sunk·en (sung-kén) see sink. sunk, sunken adj. 1. submerged. 2. lying below the level of the surrounding area. 3. depressed or hollow, sunken cheeks.

sun·less (sun-lis) adj. without sunshine.

sun·light (sun-lit) n. light from the sun.

sun·lit (sun-lit) adj. lit by sunlight.

Sun·na (suun-á) n. the traditional portion of Muslim law based on Muhammad's words or acts but not written by him.

Sun·nite (suun-it) n. a member of the Muslim religious sect that opposes the Shiite sect in accepting the first four caliphs as legitimate successors of Muhammad and viewing Sunna as a basis for law.

sun·ny (sun-ee) adj. (-ni'er, -ni'est) 1. bright with sunlight, full of sunshine. 2. (of a person or mood) cheerful. sun·ni·ly adv. sun'ni·ness n. □ sunny side, the more cheerful aspect of circumstances. sunny side up, (of a fried egg) not turned over during cooking.

sun·rise (sun-riz) n. the rising of the sun, the time of this.

sun·roof (sun-roof) n. a sliding panel in the roof of an automobile.

sun·seek·er (sun-see-kér) n. a person who travels to a warmer climate to enjoy the sunshine.

sun·set (sun-set) n. 1. the setting of the sun, the time of this. 2. the western sky full of color at sunset. □ sunset law, a law requiring periodic evaluation of government agencies and programs, to justify their continuing existence.

sun·shade (sun-shayd) n. 1. a parasol. 2. an awning.

sun·shine (sun-shin) n. direct sunlight uninterrupted by clouds. □ sunshine law, a law making official meetings and records of most government agencies accessible to the public.

sun·spot (sun-spot) n. one of the dark patches sometimes observed on the sun's surface.

sun·stroke (sun-strohk) n. illness caused by too much exposure to sun.

sun·tan (sun-tan) n. a tan produced by exposure to the sun. sun'tanned adj.

sun·up (sun-up) n. sunrise.

sup (sup) v. (supped, sup·ping) to eat supper.

sup. abbr. 1. superior. 2. superlative. 3. superfine
superfine sugar.
superflu-i-ty (soo-per-flu-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a superfluous amount.
superflu-ous (soo-pur-flu-ús) adj. more than is required. superflu-ously adv. superflu-ous ness n.
super-gal-a-cy (soo-per-gal-ák-sē) n. (pl. -ax·ies) a galaxy composed of other galaxies. super-gal-a-tic (soo-per-gá-lak-tik) adj.
superheat (soo-per-heet) v. to heat (liquid) above its boiling point without allowing it to vaporize, to heat (vapor) above boiling point.
superhet-er-o-dyne (soo-per-het-ér-ō-dyn) adj. of a system of radio reception using ultrasonic frequency to secure greater selectivity.
super-high-way (soo-per-hi-wāy) n. a broad main highway for fast traffic.
superhu-man (soo-pur-hyoo-mān) adj. 1. beyond ordinary human capacity or power. 2. higher than humanity, divine.
superhu-man·ly adv.
super-im-pose (soo-pur-im-pōz) v. (soo-pur-im-pōz-ing) to lay or place (a thing) on top of something else. super-im-po·si·tion (soo-pur-im-pō-zish-ōn) n.
super-in-tend (soo-per-in-tend) v. to supervise. super-in·tend·ence n. super-in-tend·ency (soo-per-in-tend·ēn-se) n. superin-tend·ent (soo-per-in-tend·ēnt) n. 1. a person who superintends. 2. a person in charge of the upkeep of a building, especially an apartment house.
superior (soo-per-i-or) adj. 1. higher in position or rank. 2. better or greater in some way, of high or higher quality. 3. showing that one feels oneself to be better or wiser etc. than others, conceited, supercilious. 4. not influenced by, not giving way to, she is superior to flat-tery. superior n. 1. a person or thing of higher rank or ability or quality. 2. the head of a monastery or other religious community. super·i·or·ly adv.
superior·ity (soo-per-i-or·i-ti) n. 1. a person or thing of higher rank or ability or quality. 2. the head of a monastery or other religious community. super·i·or·ly adv.
superjet (soo-per-jet) n. a jet airplane capable of traveling at supersonic speed. superl. abbr. superlative.
super-la-tive (soo-per-lā-tiv) adj. 1. of the highest degree or quality, a man of superlative wisdom. 2. of a grammatical form that expresses the highest or a very high degree of a quality, such as dearest, shiest, best. superlative n. a superlative form of a word. super·la·ti·ve·ly adv.
super-la·ti·veness n.
superliner (soo-per-lī-ner) n. a very large or very fast ocean liner.
super·man (soo-per-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a man of superhuman powers.
super·mar·ket (soo-pur-mahr-kit) n. a large self-service store selling groceries and household goods.
super·nal (suu-pur-nāl) adj. 1. heavenly, divine. 2. of the sky. 3. lofty.
super·nat·u·ral (soo-pur-nach-ū-rāl) adj. of or caused by power above the forces of nature. super·nat·u·ral·ly adv. super·nat·u·ral·ness n. super·nat·u·ral·ism n.
super·no·va (su·pər-nō·və) n. a star that suddenly increases very greatly in brightness because of an explosion ejecting most of its mass.
super·nu·mer·ar·y (soo-pur-noo·mer·ē·re) adj. in excess of the normal number, extra. supernumerary n. (pl. ar·les) 1. a supernumerary person or thing. 2. an actor who appears on stage but does not speak.
superphosphate (soo-pər-fəs·fāt) n. a fertilizer containing soluble phosphates.
super·pose (soo-pər-pōz) v. (su·per·posed, su·per·pos·ing) 1. to place on or above something else. 2. to bring into the same position so as to coincide. super·pos·a·ble adj. super·po·si·tion (soo-pər-pō·zish-ōn) n.
super·pow·er (soo-pər-pō·wr) n. one of the most powerful nations of the world.
super·sales·man (soo-pər-sāl·mān) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) an extremely skilled and persuasive salesman.
super·sat·u·rate (soo-pər-sach·ū·rāt) v. (su·per·sat·u·rated, su·per·sat·u·rat·ing) to add to (especially a solution) beyond the saturation point. su·per·sat·u·ra·tion (soo-pər-sach·ū·rā·shōn) n.
super·scri·be (soo-pər-skrīb) v. (su·per·scrib·ed, su·per·scrib·ing) to write at the top of or on the outside of (a document etc.).
super·script (soo-pər-skrīpt) adj. written or printed above and to the right of another symbol. superscript n. a superscript symbol.
super·scrip·tion (soo-pər-skrīp·shōn) n. a word or words written at the top or on the outside of a letter etc.
super·seed·e (soo-pər-seed) v. (su·per·seed·ed, su·per·seed·ing) 1. to take the place of; cars have superseded horse-drawn carriages. 2. to put or use in place of (another person or thing).
super·son·ic (soo-pər-sōn·ik) adj. of or having a speed greater than that of sound. super·son·i·cal·ly adv.
supersonics / supposition supersonics (soo-pər-son-iks) n. the science that studies supersonic phenomensupestar (soo-pər-stahr) n. a great star in entertainment etc.

supersition (soo-pər-stish-ən) n. 1. belief that events can be influenced by certain acts or circumstances that have no demonstrable connection with them, an idea or practice based on this. 2. a belief that is held by a number of people but without foundation.

supersitious (soo-pər-stish-əs) adj. based on or influenced by superstition.

supersitiously (soo-pər-stish-ə-lē) adv.

supersstructure (soo-pər-struk-chər) n. a structure that rests upon something else, a building as distinct from its foundations.

supertanker (soo-pər-tang-kər) n. a very large tanker.

supervene (soo-pər-ven) v. (supervened, su-pər-ven-ing) to occur as an interruption or a change from some condition or process. supervenion (soo-pər-ven-ən) n.

supervise (soo-pər-viz) v. (supervised, su-pər-vi-zed, su-pər-vi-sing) to direct and inspect (work or workers or the operation of an organization). supervisor n. supervision (soo-pər-vi-zhən) n.

supervisory (soo-pər-vi-zər-ē) adj. supervising, supervisory duties.

superwoman (soo-pər-wu-mən-ən) n. (pl. -women, pr. -wim-in) a woman of superhuman powers.

supine (soo-pən) adj. 1. lying face upward (contrasted with prone). 2. not inclined to take action, indolent. supine/ly adv.

supineness n.

supp. suppl. abbr. 1. supplement. 2. supplementary.

supper (su-pər) n. an evening meal, the last meal of the day. □ supper club, a nightclub.

supperless (soo-pər-lis) adj. without supper.

supertime (soo-tərm) n. the time when supper is served.

supplant (su-plənt) v. to oust and take the place of. supplanter n. supplantation (soo-plənt-ə-shən) n.

supple (soo-plə) adj. (suppler, supplest) bending easily, flexible, not stiff. supple/ly adv. supple/ness n.

supplement (su-lə-mənt) n. 1. a thing added as an extra or to make up for a deficiency. 2. a part added to a book etc. to give further information or to treat a particular subject, a set of special pages issued with a newspaper. supplement (su-lə-mənt) v. to provide or be a supplesuppleman.tary (su-lə-men-tər-i) adj. serving as a supplement.

suppliant (soo-plənt) n. a person asking humbly for something. suppliant adj.

suppliantly (soo-plənt-lē) adv.

suppliantly (soo-plənt-lē) adv.

supply (su-plə) v. (supplied, supply-ing) 1. to give or provide with (something needed or useful), to make available for use. 2. to make up for, to satisfy, supply a need. supply n. (pl. supplies) 1. providing of what is needed. 2. a stock or store, an amount of something provided or available, the water supply; an inexhaustible supply of fish. 3. supplies, provisions kept in storage and distributed when needed. 4. the quantity of commodities or services available in the market, especially at a specific price. supplier n.

support (su-pərt) v. 1. to keep from falling or sinking, to hold in position, to bear the weight of. 2. to give strength to, to enable to last or continue, too little food to support life. 3. to supply with necessities, he has a family to support. 4. to assist by one's approval or presence or by subscription to funds, to be a fan of (a particular sports team); support a resolution, speak or vote in favor of it. 5. to take a secondary part, the play has a strong supporting cast. 6. to corroborate, to bring facts to confirm (a statement etc.). 7. to endure or tolerate, we cannot support such insolence. support n. 1. supporting, being supported, we need your support. 2. a person or thing that supports. supporter n. supportive adj. supportive adj.

suppose (soo-pə兹) v. (supposed, suppos-ing) 1. to be inclined to think, to accept as true or probable, I don't suppose they will come. 2. to assume as true for the purpose of argument, suppose the world were flat. 3. to consider as a proposal, suppose we try another. 4. to require as a condition, to presuppose, that supposes a mechanism without flaws. □ be supposed to, to be expected or intended to, to have as a duty.

supposed (soo-pə兹d) adj. believed to exist or to have a certain character or identity, his supposed brother.

suppositional (soo-pə-zish-ən) n. supposing, what is supposed, the article is suppositious / surface bóased on supposition not on fact.

sup-po-si-tious (sup-ō-zish-ūs) adj. hypothetical, based on supposition.

sup-po-si-tious (sū-poz-i-tish-ūs) adj. substituted for the real person or thing, spurious.

sup-po-si-ti-ry (sū-poz-i-tohr-ee) n. (pl. -ries) a solid piece of medicinal substance placed in the rectum or vagina or urethra and left to melt.

sup-press (sū-prez) v. 1. to put an end to the activity or existence of, especially by force or authority, suppress the rebellion. 2. to keep from being known or seen, suppress the truth; suppress a newspaper, prevent its publication.

sup-pres-sive adj. sup-pres-sion (sū-presh-ūn) n.

sup-pres-si-ble (sū-pres-i-bēl) adj. able to be suppressed.

sup-pres-sor (sū-prez-ōr) n. a person or thing that suppresses, a device to suppress electrical interference.

sup-put-rate (sū-pū-rayt) v. (sup-pu-rate-ed, sup-pu-rate-ing) to form pus, to fester. sup-put-ra-tive (sū-pū-ray-tiv) adj. sup-put-ra-tion (sū-pū-ray-shūn) n.

su-pra (sū-prā) adv. above or before (in a book or writing). ▲ Latin, = above.

su-prem-a-clast (sū-prem-ā-sist) n. an advocate of some group's (especially a racial group's) supremacy.

su-prem-a-cy (sū-prem-ā-see) n. being supreme, the position of supreme authority or power.

su-prem-e (sū-prem) adj. 1. highest in authority or rank, the supreme commander. 2. highest in importance or intensity or quality, most outstanding, supreme courage; the supreme sacrifice, involving one's death (as in war). 3. (of food) served in rich cream sauce, chicken supreme. su-prem-e'ly adv. su-prem-e-ness n. □ Supreme Being, God. supreme commander, military commander of all allied forces. Supreme Court, the highest of the U.S. and of most states.

supt. abbr. superintendent.

supvr. abbr. supervisor.

sur-charge (sūr-chahrj) n. 1. payment demanded in addition to the usual charge. 2. an additional or excessive load. 3. a mark printed over a postage stamp, changing its value. surcharge (sūr-chahrj) v. (sur-charged, sur-charg-ing) 1. to make a surcharge on, to charge extra. 2. to overload. 3. to print a surcharge on (a stamp). sur-charg'er n.

sur-cin-gle (sūr-sing-gēl) n. a band around a horse's body to keep a pack etc. in place.

sur-coat (sūr-koht) n. (old use) a loose robe worn over armor.

surd (sūrd) adj. 1. a mathematical quantity (especially a root) that cannot be expressed in finite terms of whole numbers or quantities. 2. a sound uttered with the breath and not the voice, as f or s.

sure (shooor) adj. (sur-er, sur-est) 1. having or seeming to have sufficient reason for one's beliefs, free from doubts; be sure of a person, able to rely on him. 2. certain to do something or to happen, the book is sure to be a success. 3. undoubtedly true, one thing is sure. 4. reliable, secure, unfailing, there's only one sure way; be sure to write, do not fail to write. sure adv. (informal) certainly, it sure was cold. ▲ Careful writers use surely in this sentence.) sure'ness n. □ as sure as, as certainly as. for sure, (informal) for certain. make sure, to act so as to be certain; to feel confident (perhaps mistakenly), confound that man! I made sure he would be here in time. sure enough, certainly, in fact. sure thing, a certainty. to be sure, it is admitted, certainly, she's not perfect, to be sure.

sure-fire (shooor-frēr) adj. certain to succeed.

sure-foot-ed (shooor-fu't-id) adj. never slipping or stumbling. sure'foot-ed-ness n.

sure-ly (shooor-lee) adv. 1. in a sure manner, without doubt, securely. 2. used for emphasis, surely you won't desert us? 3. (as an answer) certainly, “Will you help?” “Surely.”

sure-ty (shooor-ē-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a guarantee. 2. a person who makes himself responsible for another person's payment of a debt or performance of an undertaking.

surf (sūrf) n. the white foam of waves breaking on a rock or shore. surf v. to go surfing. □ surf casting, fishing from the shore into the sea.

sur-face (sūr-fis) n. 1. the outside of an object. 2. any of the sides of an object. 3. the uppermost area, the top of a table or desk etc., a working surface. 4. the top of a body of water. 5. the outward appearance of something, the qualities etc. perceived by casual observation (as distinct from deeper or hidden ones).

surface adj. of or on the surface only, of the surface of land or sea (as distinct from in the air or underground, or under water). surface v. (sur-faced, sur-fac-ing) 1. to put a specified surface on. 2. to come or bring to the surface.

□ surface mail, mail carried by sea not sur*face-to-air / surrender by air. surface tension, the tension of the surface film of a liquid, tending to minimize its surface area.

surf-ace-to-air (sür-fis-tō-air) adj. of a missile, message, etc. that can be sent from a point on land or sea to a target in the air.

surf-ace-to-sur*face (sür-fis-tō-sur-fis) adj. of a missile, message, etc. that can be sent from a point on land or sea to a target elsewhere on land or sea.

surf-face-to-un*der*wa*ter (sür-fis-too-un-der-waw-tər) adj. of a missile, message, etc. that can be sent from a point on land or sea to an underwater target.

surf-board (sürf-bôhrd) n. a long narrow board used in surfing.

surf*fei*t (sür-fit) n. too much of something (especially food and drink), a feeling of discomfort arising from this. surf*feit v. to cause to take too much of something, to satiate, to cloy.

surf*er (sür-fər) n. a person who goes surfing.

surf*ing (sür-fing) n. the sport of balancing oneself on a board while being carried on waves to the shore.

surg. abbr. 1. surgeon. 2. surgery. 3. surgical.

surge (sürj) v. (surged, surf*ing) to move forward in or like waves, to increase in volume or intensity. surge n. a wave, a surging movement or increase, an onrush.

sur*ge*on (sür-jōn) n. a medical practitioner who performs surgical operations, a specialist in surgery. □ surgeon general the head of a public health service or of the medical service in a branch of the armed forces.

sur*ger*y (sür-jē-ree) n. (pl. sur*ger*ies) 1. the treatment of injuries and disorders and disease by cutting or manipulation of the affected parts. 2. an operating room.

sur*gi*cal (sür-jī-kāl) adj. of surgery or surgeons, used in surgery. surf*gi*cal*ly adv.

Su*ri*nam (soor-i-nahm) a country on the north coast of South America. Su*ri*nam'er n.

sur*ly (sür-lee) adj. (ill'er, ill'est) bad-tempered and unfriendly. surf'll*ly adv. surf'll*ness n.

sur*mis*e (sür-miz) n. a conjecture. surf*mis*e v. (sur*mised, surf*mised) to conjecture.

sur*mount (sür-mount) v. to overcome (a difficulty), to get over (an obstacle). □ be surmounted by, to have on or over the top, the spire is surmounted by a weather vane.

sur*mount*a*ble (sür-moun-ta-bəl) adj. able to be overcome.

sur*name (sür-nām) n. the name held by all members of a family. surname v. (sur*named, surf*named) to give as a surname.

sur*pass (sür-pas) v. to do or be better than, to excel. sur*pass'a*ble adj.

sur*pass'ing (sür-pas'ing) adj. greatly excelling or exceeding others. surf*pass'ing*ly adv.

sur*place (sür-plis) n. a loose white vestment with full sleeves, worn over the cassock by clergy and choir at a religious service.

sur*plus (sür-plus) n. an amount left over after what is required has been used, especially an excess of public revenue over expenditure during a budgetary year.

sur*plus adj. being a surplus. □ surplus value, the difference between the value of work done and wages paid.

sur*prise (sür-priz) n. 1. the emotion aroused by something sudden or unexpected. 2. an event or thing that arouses this emotion. 3. the process of catching a person etc. unprepared; a surprise at tack or visit, one made unexpectedly.

sur*prise v. (sur*prised, surf*pris*ing) 1. to cause to feel surprise. 2. to come upon or attack suddenly and without warning, to capture in this way. 3. to startle (a person) into action by catching him unprepared. 4. to discover (a secret etc.) by unexpected action. surf*pris'er n. □ surprised at, scandalized by, we are surprised at your behavior.

sur*prise party, a party given for a person who has not been told in advance, and which is intended to surprise him.

sur*prised (sür-prizd) adj. experiencing surprise.

sur*pris*ing (sür-priz-ing) adj. causing surprise. surf*pris'ing*ly adv.

sur*re*al (sür-ruh-lē) adj. 1. of the surreals. 2. as if out of a dream. surf*real*ly adv.

sur*re*al*ism (sür-ruh-liz-*əm) n. a 20th-century movement in art and literature that seeks to express what is in the subconscious mind by depicting objects and events as seen in dreams etc. surf*real*al*ism (sür-ruh-liz-*əm) adj. surf*real*al*ist adj. & n. surf*real*al*is*tic (sü-rē-ral-i-sī-tik) adj. surf*real*al*is*ti*cal*ly adv.

sur*ren*der (sür-ren'dər) v. 1. to hand over, to give into another person's power or control, especially on demand or under compulsion. 2. to give oneself up, to accept an enemy's demand for submission. 3. to give way to an emotion, surren*der*ed herself to grief. 4. to give up one's rights under (an insurance policy) in return for a smaller sum payable immediately. surf*ren*der n. surrendering, being surrendered.
sur-rey (sur-ee) n. (pl. -reys) a light four-wheeled carriage with two seats facing forward.
sur-ro-gate (sur-ö-git) n. 1. a deputy. 2. a substitute.
sur-round (sú-rownd) v. 1. to come or lie or be all around. 2. to place all around, to encircle with enemy forces. surround n. a border or edging. ❄️be surrounded by or with, to have on all sides.
sur-round-ings (sú-rownd-dingz) n. pl. the things or conditions around and liable to affect a person or place.
sur-tax (sur-taks) n. an additional tax imposed on income or goods already taxed.
sur-tout (súr-too) n. (old use) an overcoat or frock coat.
surv. abbr. 1. survey. 2. surveying. 3. surveyor. sur-veil-lance (súr-vay-láns) n. supervision or close observation, especially of a suspected person.
sur-vey (súr-vay) v. 1. to look at and take a general view of. 2. to make or present a survey of, the report surveys progress made in the past year. 3. to examine the condition of (a building etc.). 4. to measure and map out the size, shape, position, and elevation etc. of (an area of land). survey (sur-vay) n. (pl. -veys) 1. a general look at something. 2. a general examination of a situation or subject, an account of this. 3. the surveying of land etc., a map or plan produced by this.
 inversión's chain, a distance of sixty-six feet, a basic unit in surveying.
surveyor's measure, a system of measuring used in surveying.
sur-vey-ing (súr-vay-ing) n. the work of a surveyor. sur-vey-or (súr-vay-ör) n. a person whose job is to survey land or buildings.
sur-viv-al (súr-ví-vál) n. 1. surviving. 2. something that has survived from an earlier time. ❄️survival of the fittest, the process or result of natural selection (see natural).
sur-vive (súr-viv) v. (sur-vived, sur-viv-ing) 1. to continue to live or exist. 2. to live or exist longer than, to remain alive or in existence after, few flowers survived the frost.
sur-vi-vor (súr-vi-vör) n. one who survives, one who survives another.
sus-cep-ti·bil·i·ty (sus-sep-ti-bil-i-tee) n. 1. being susceptible. 2. susceptibilities, a person's feelings that may be hurt or offended.
sus-cep-ti·ble (sus-sep-ti-bé) adj. 1. liable to be affected by something; susceptible to colds, catching colds easily. 2. impressionable, falling in love easily. 3. able to undergo something; susceptible of proof, able to be proved. sus·cep·ti·bly adv.
sus·cep·ti·live (sú-ssep-tiv) adj. susceptible.
sus·pect (sú-spekt) v. 1. to have an impression of the existence or presence of, we suspected a trap. 2. to have suspicions or doubts about, to mistrust, we suspect their motives. 3. to feel that (a person) is guilty but have little or no proof. suspect (suspekt) n. a person who is suspected of a crime etc. suspect (suspekt, sú-spék-t) adj. suspected, open to suspicion.
sus·pend (sú-spend) v. 1. to hang up. 2. to keep from falling or sinking in air or liquid etc., particles are suspended in the fluid. 3. to postpone, suspend judgment. 4. to put a temporary stop to, suspend play. 5. to deprive temporarily of a position or a right. ❄️suspended animation, a state of cessation of vital functions without death. suspended sentence, a sentence of imprisonment that is not enforced subject to good behavior.
sus·pen·der (sú-spen-dér) n. (usually suspenders) straps used to keep trousers up, fastened to the waistband and passing over the shoulders.
sus·pen·sion (sú-spen-shún) n. a state or feeling of anxious uncertainty while awaiting news or an event etc. sus·pen·sion'ful adj.
sus·pen·sion (sú-spen-shún) n. 1. suspending, being suspended. 2. the means by which a vehicle is supported on its axles. ❄️suspension bridge, a bridge suspended from cables that pass over supports at each end.
sus·pen·so·ry (sú-spen-so-ree) adj. (of a ligament, muscle, bandage, etc.) holding an organ etc. suspended.
sus·pi·cion (sú-spish-ón) n. 1. suspecting, being suspected. 2. a partial or unconfirmed belief. 3. a slight trace.
sus·pi·cious (sú-spish-ús) adj. feeling or causing suspicion. sus·pi·cious·ly adv.
sus·pi·cious·ness n.
sus·tain (sú-stayn) v. 1. to support. 2. to keep alive; sustaining food, food that keeps up one's strength. 3. to keep (a sound or effort etc.) going continuously. 4. to undergo, to suffer, sustained a defeat. 5. to endure without giving way, sustained the attack. 6. (of a court or other authority) to confirm or uphold the validity of, the objection was sustained. sus·tain'a·ble adj.
sus·te·nance (sus-te-náns) n. 1. the process of sustaining life by food. 2. the food itself, nourishment.

sutra (soo-trä) n. 1. a saying or set of sayings in Hindu literature. 2. the narrative part of Buddhist literature.

sūtēe (su-tee) n. 1. the Hindu custom formerly requiring a widow to throw herself on her husband’s funeral pyre. 2. a widow who did this.

sūtēr (soo-chur) n. surgical stitching of a wound, a stitch or thread etc. used in this. suture v. (sū-tured, sū-tur·ling) to stitch (a wound).

Su·va (soo-vah) the capital of Fiji.

su·ze·rain (soo-zē-rin) n. 1. a country or ruler that has some authority over another country that is self-governing in its internal affairs. 2. an overlord in feudal times. su’ze·rain·ty n.

s.v. abbr. under the word, for “span” see s.v. “spick.” △ Latin sub voce or sub verbo.

svc., svce. abbr. service.

svelte (svelt) adj. (svelt·er, svelt·est) (of a person) slender and graceful.

svgs. abbr. savings.

SW, S.W. abbr. 1. southwest. 2. southwestern.

Sw. abbr. Swedish.

swab (swob) n. 1. a mop or absorbent pad for cleansing or drying or absorbing things. 2. a specimen of a secretion taken with this. 3. (slang) a sailor. swab v. (swabbed, swab·bing) to cleanse or wipe with a swab.

swad·die (swod·či) v. (swad·died, swad·dling) to swathe in wraps or clothes or warm garments. □swaddling clothes, strips of cloth formerly wrapped around a newborn baby to restrain its movements.

swag (swag) n. loot.

swag·ger n. a swaggering walk or way of behaving. swag’ger·er n. □swag·ger stick, a short cane sometimes carried by army officers or soldiers.

Swa·hī·li (swah-hee-lee) n. a Bantu language widely used in East Africa. Swa·hī·lin·an adj.

swain (swayn) n. (old use) 1. a lover or suitor. 2. a young rustic.

swal·low (swol-oh) v. 1. to cause or allow (food etc.) to go down one’s throat, to work the muscles of the throat as when doing this. 2. to take in so as to engulf or absorb, she was swallowed up in the crowd. 3. to accept; swallow a story, believe it too easily; swallow an insult, accept it meekly. 4. to repress (a sound or emotion etc.), swallowed his pride. swallow n. the act of swallowing, the amount swallowed in one movement.

swallow3 n. a small migratory insect-eating bird with a forked tail and long pointed wings.

swal·low-tailed (swol·oh-tayld) adj. having a deeply forked tail.

swam (swam) see swim.

swa·mī (swah-mee) n. (pl. -mīs) a Hindu religious teacher.

swamp (swomp) n. 1. a marsh. swamp v. 1. to flood, to drench or submerge in water. 2. to overwhelm with a great mass or number of things. swamp’y adj. swamp’l·ness n. □swamp fever, malaria.

swamp·land (swomp-land) n. a swamp.

swan (swon) n. a large usually white water bird with a long slender neck. □swan dive, a dive executed with arms outspread until close to the water.

swank (swangk) n. (informal) 1. elegance or smartness. 2. boastful behavior, ostentation. swank adj. (informal) swanky.

swank·y (swang-kee) adj. (swanka·ler, swank·a·lest) informal 1. elegant or smart. 2. boastful, ostentatious.

swans·down (swonz-down) n. 1. a swan’s fine soft down, used for trimmings and especially in powder puffs. 2. a kind of thick cotton cloth with a soft nap on one side.

swap (swop) v. (swapped, swap·ping) (informal) to exchange. swap n. (informal) 1. an exchange. 2. a thing suitable for swapping.

sward (sword) n. an expanse covered with short grass, lawnilike ground.

swarm1 (sworm) n. 1. a large number of insects or birds or small animals or people flying or moving about in a cluster. 2. a cluster of honeybees leaving the hive with a queen bee to establish a new home.

swarm v. 1. to move in a swarm, to come together in large numbers. 2. (of bees) to cluster in a swarm. 3. (of a place) to be crowded or overrun, swarming with tourists.

swarm2 v. swamp up, to climb by gripping with arms and legs.

swarth·y (swor-thee) adj. (swarth·ler, swarth·lest) having a dark complexion. swarth‘l·ness n.

swash·buck·ling (swosh-buk-ling) adj. swaggering aggressively. swash’buck·ler n.

swas·ti·ka (swos-ti-kä) n. a symbol formed by a cross with the ends bent at right angles, used as a Nazi emblem.

swat (swot) v. (swat·ted, swat·ting) to hit hard with something flat, to crush (a fly etc.) in this way. swat’ter n.

swatch (swoch) n. a sample, especially of cloth or fabric.
swath (swoth) n. 1. the space that a scythe or mowing machine cuts in one sweep or passage. 2. a line of grass or wheat etc. lying after being cut. 3. a broad strip.

swathe (swoth, swathy) v. (swathed, swathing) to wrap in layers of bandage or wrappings or warm garments.

sway (sway) v. 1. to swing or cause to swing gently, to lean from side to side or to one side. 2. to influence the opinions or sympathy or actions of, his speech swayed many voters. 3. to waver in one’s opinion or attitude. sway n. 1. a swaying movement. 2. influence, power, hold sway.

sway-back (sway-back) n. an abnormal inward curvature of the spine, especially in horses. sway-backed adj.

swear (swair) v. (swore, sworn, swearing) 1. to state or promise on oath, swear it or swear to it. 2. (informal) to state emphatically, swore he hadn’t touched it. 3. to cause to take an oath, swore him to secrecy; the jury had been sworn. 4. to use curses or profane language in anger or surprise etc. swear'er n.

swear by, (informal) to have great confidence in. swear in, to admit (a person) to office etc. by causing him to take an oath. swear off, to swear to abstain from.

swear word (swair-wurnd) n. a profane word used in anger etc.

sweat (swet) n. 1. moisture that is given off by the body through the pores of the skin. 2. a state of sweating or being covered by sweat. 3. (informal) a state of great anxiety. 4. (informal) a laborious task. 5. moisture forming in drops on a surface, as by condensation. sweat v. (sweat or sweat-ed, sweating) 1. to give out sweat, to cause to do this. 2. (informal) to be in a state of great anxiety. 3. (informal) to work long and hard.

no sweat, (informal) there is no need to worry. sweat blood, (slang) to work very hard at something; to be in a state of great anxiety. sweat gland, a spiral tubular gland secreting sweat below the skin. sweat it out, (informal) to endure it to the end. sweat off, to get rid of by sweating. sweat pants, loose trousers with tight-fitting cuffs, worn especially by athletes. sweat shirt, a sleeved sweater worn especially by athletes. sweat socks, heavy socks worn by athletes to absorb perspiration. sweat suit, sweat pants and a sweat shirt worn together.

sweat-band (swet-band) n. a band of absorbent material for absorbing or wiping away sweat.

sweat'er (swet'er) n. a pullover or knitted jacket.

sweat-shop (swet-shop) n. a business, especially a factory, that employs workers at low wages for long hours under poor conditions.

sweat'y (swet-ee) adj. (sweat-i-er, sweat-i-est) damp with sweat.

sweat-ly adv. sweat-i-ness n.

Swede (swed) n. a native of Sweden.

Swe*den (swee-den) a country in northern Europe.

Swe*dish (swee-dish) adj. of Sweden or its people or language. Swedish n. the language of Sweden.

sweep (sweep) v. (sweep, sweeping) 1. to clear away with or as if with a broom or brush. 2. to clean or clear (a surface or area) by doing this. 3. to move or remove by pushing, the floods swept away fences. 4. to go smoothly and swiftly or majestically, she swept out of the room. 5. to extend in a continuous line or slope, the mountains sweep down to the sea. 6. to pass quickly over or along, winds swept the hillside; a new fashion is sweeping America. 7. to touch lightly. 8. to win all possible games, prizes, etc. sweep n. 1. a sweeping movement. 2. a sweeping line or slope. 3. the act of sweeping with a broom etc., give it a good sweep. 4. a chimney sweep. 5. the winning of all the prizes, nearly all of the votes, etc. make a clean sweep, to get rid of everything or of all staff etc.; to win all the prizes. sweep all before one, to be very successful.

sweep the board, to win all the prizes.

sweep'er (sweep-er) n. 1. a person who sweeps a place. 2. a thing that sweeps, a carpet sweeper.

sweep-ing (sweep-ing) adj. 1. of great scope, comprehensive, sweeping changes. 2. (of a statement) making no exceptions or limitations, sweeping generalizations.

sweeping n. the act of sweeping.

sweepings n. pl. dust or scraps etc. collected by sweeping.

sweep*stake (sweep-stayk) n. 1. a form of gambling on horse races etc. in which the money staked is divided among those who have drawn numbered tickets for the winners. 2. a race etc. with betting of this kind. 3. a lottery.

sweet (sweet) adj. 1. tasting as if containing sugar, not bitter. 2. fragrant. 3. melo- dious. 4. fresh, (of food) not stale, (of water) not salt. 5. pleasant, gratifying, (informal) pretty or charming. 6. having a pleasant nature, lovable. sweet n. a candy or other sweet food. sweet'ly adv. sweet'ness n. at one's own sweet will or in one's own sweet time, just as or when one pleases. sweet basil, basil. sweet cider, see cider. sweet clover, any of various plants grown as fodder or to improve the soil. sweet corn, a kind of corn with sweet grains and eaten while young, sweet gum, an American tree having hard wood and yielding sap used commercially in making medicines and perfumes. sweet marjoram, an herb used in cooking. sweet on, (informal), fond of or in love with. sweet pea, a climbing garden plant with fragrant flowers in many colors. sweet pepper, see pepper. sweet potato, a climbing plant with sweet tuberous roots used for food. sweet talk, flattery. sweet tooth, a liking for sweet things. sweet William, a garden plant with clustered fragrant flowers. sweet-and-sour (sweet-ân-sowrr) adj. cooked in sauce containing sugar and either vinegar or lemon. sweet-bread (sweet-bred) n. an animal's thymus gland or pancreas used as food. sweet-bri-er (sweet-bri-ër) n. a small fragrant wild rose of Europe and central Asia. sweet-en (sweet-ën) v. to make or become sweet or sweeter. sweet-en'er (sweet-ën-ër), sweet-en-ing (sweet-ën-ing) n. a substance used to sweeten food or drink. sweet-heart (sweet-haheart) n. a person's beloved, one of a pair of people who are in love with each other. sweetheart contract, (slang) a labor contract dishonestly made and unduly favorable to management. sweet-ie (sweet-tee) n. (informal) a sweetheart. sweet-ish (sweet-ish) adj. rather sweet. sweet-meat (sweet-meet) n. any very sweet food, especially candy or preserved fruit. sweet-talk (sweet-tawk) v. (informal) to flatter, to coax. swell (swel) v. (swelled, swelled or swol-len, swell-ing) 1. to make or become larger because of pressure from within, to curve outward. 2. to make or become larger in amount or volume or numbers or intensity. swell n. 1. the act or state of swelling. 2. the heaving of the sea with waves that do not break. 3. a gradual increase of loudness in music, a mechanism in an organ for obtaining this. 4. (slang) a person of high social position. swell adj. (informal) smart, excellent. swelled head, (slang) conceit. swell-ing (swel-ing) n. an abnormally swollen place on the body. swell-ter (swel-ter) v. to be uncomfortably hot, to suffer from the heat. swept (swept) see sweep. swept-wing (swept-wing) adj. (of an aircraft) with wings slanting markedly backward from the direction of flight. swerve (swuvr) v. (swerved, swerv-ing) to turn or cause to turn aside from a straight course. swerve n. a swerving movement or direction. swift (swift) adj. quick, rapid. swift n. a swiftly flying insect-eating bird with long narrow wings. swift'ly adv. swift'ness n. swig (swig) v. (swigged, swig-ging) (informal) to take a drink or drinks of, swigging beer. swig n. (informal) a drink or swallow. swill (swil) v. 1. to feed to animals, swill the pigs. 2. (of water) to pour. 3. to drink in large quantities. swill n. 1. a sloppy mixture of waste food fed to pigs. 2. garbage. swill'er n. swim (swim) v. (swam, swum, swim- ming) 1. to propel the body through water by movements of the limbs or fins or tail etc. 2. to cross by swimming, swim the English Channel. 3. to cause to swim, swim your horse across the stream. 4. to float. 5. to be covered or flooded with liquid, eyes swimming in tears. 6. to seem to be whirling or wavy, to have a dizzy sensation, everything swim before her eyes; my head is swimming. swim n. 1. a period of swimming. 2. the main current of affairs. swim'ner n. In the swim, active in or knowing what is going on. swim bladder, a fish's air bladder. swimming pool, an artificial pool for swimming in. swim-ming-ly (swim-ming-lee) adv. with easy unobstructed progress. swim-suit (swim-soot) n. a garment worn for swimming. swim-wear (swim-wair) n. clothing for swimming. swim-dle (swim-dël) v. (swim-dled, swim-dling) to cheat (a person) in a business transaction, to obtain by fraud. swindle n. a piece of swindling, a fraudulent person or thing. swin'dler n. swine (swim) n. (pl. swine) 1. a pig. 2. (informal) a hated person or thing. swine-herd (swin-hurd) n. (old use) a person taking care of a number of pigs. swing (swing) v. (swung, swing-ing) 1. to move to and fro while hanging or supported, to cause to do this. 2. to hang by its ends, swung a hammock between the two trees. 3. to turn (a wheel etc.) smoothly, to turn to one side or in a curve, the car swung into the drive. 4. to walk or run with an easy rhythmical movement. 5. to lift with a swinging movement. 6. to change from one opinion or mood etc. to another. 7. to influence (voting etc.) decisively; swing the deal, (informal) to succeed in arranging it. 8. (slang) to be executed by hanging. 9. to play (music) with a swing rhythm. 10. (slang) to be lively or up-to-date.

swing n. 1. a swinging movement or action or rhythm. 2. a seat slung by ropes or chains for swinging in, a spell of swinging in this. 3. the extent to which a thing swings, the amount by which votes or opinions or points scored etc. change from one side to the other. 4. a kind of jazz with the time of the melody varied while the accompaniment is in strict time. swing'y adj. swing'er n. □ in full swing, with activity at its greatest. swing' bridge, a bridge that can be swung aside to allow ships to pass. swinging door, a door that opens in either direction and closes itself when released. swing' shift, a late work shift, usually from 4 P.M. until midnight.

swing-ing (swing-ing) adj. (slang) lively and up-to-date.

swin-ish (swi-nish) adj. like a swine, beastly.

swipe (swip) v. (swiped, swip·lng) (informal) 1. to hit with a swinging blow. 2. to steal, especially by snatchng.

swipe n. (informal) a swinging blow.

swirl (swirll) v. to move or flow or carry along with a whirloming movement. swirl n. a swirling movement. swirl'y adj.

swish (swish) v. to strike or move or cause to move with a hissing sound. swish n. a swishing sound.

Swiss (swish) adj. of Switzerland or its people. Swiss n. (pl. Swiss) a native of Switzerland. □ Swiss chord, see chord.

Swiss cheese, a hard pale cheese with internal holes. Swiss Guards, a body of soldiers at the Vatican, serving the pope. Swiss steak, steak with flour pounded in, and cooked with vegetables.

switch (switch) n. 1. a device that is operated to complete or break an electric circuit. 2. a device at the junction of railroad tracks for diverting trains from one track to another. 3. a flexible shoot cut from a tree, a tapering rod or whip resembling this. 4. a tress of real or false hair tied at one end. 5. a shift or change in opinion or methods or policy etc.

switch v. 1. to turn (an electrical or other appliance) on or off by means of a switch. 2. to transfer (a train) to another track. 3. to divert (thoughts or talk) to another subject. 4. to change or exchange (positions or methods or policy etc.). 5. to whip with a switch. 6. to swing around quickly, to snatch suddenly, the cow switches her tail; switched it out of my hand. □ switched on, (slang) alert to what is going on, up-to-date. switch hitter, (in baseball) a player who can bat equally well right-handed or left-handed.

switch·back (switch-bak) n. a zigzag road for ascending or descending steep slopes.

switch·blade (switch-blayd) n. a pocketknife with a blade released by a spring.

switch·board (switch-bohdr) n. a panel with a set of switches for making telephone connections or operating electric circuits.

switch·man (switch-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a person in charge of railroad switches.

Switz. abbr. Switzerland.

Swit·zer·land (swit-sér-lánd) a country in central Europe.

swiv·el (swiv-èl) n. a link or pivot between two parts enabling one of them to revolve without turning the other. swivel v. (swiv·eled, swiv·el·ing) to turn on or as if on a swivel. □ swivel chair, a chair with a seat that can turn horizontally on a pivot.

swiz·zie (swiz-èl) n. a frothy mixed drink of rum, lime juice, and sugar. □ swizzle stick, a stick used for stirring a drink to make it frothy or flat.

swol·len (swoh-lén) see swell.

swoon (swoon) v. to faint. swoon n. a faint. swoon·ing·ly adv.

swoop (swoop) v. to come down with a rushing movement like a bird upon its prey, to make a sudden attack. swoop n. a swooping movement or attack. □ at one fell swoop, see fell.

swap (swap) = swap.

sword (sohrd) n. a weapon with a long blade and a hilt. □ at swords' points, (of two or more persons) ready to fight, showing hostility toward each other. sword dance, a dance in which swords are brandished or a performer treads about swords placed on the ground.

sword·fish (sohrd-fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish·es) a sea fish with a long swordlike upper jaw.

sword·play (sohrd-play) n. 1. the act or the art of using a sword. 2. fencing.

sword·sman (sohrdz-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a person having skill in the use of a sword. swords·man·ship n.

sword·tail (sohrd-tayl) n. a brightly colored tropical fish with a tail resembling a sword.
swore (swohr), sworn (swohnrn) see swear. sworn adj. open and determined in devotion or enmity, sworn friend, sworn foes.

swum (swum) see swim.

swung (swung) see swing.

symb·a·rite (sib·a·rit) n. a person who is excessively fond of comfort and luxury.

symb·a·rit·ic (sib·a·rit-ik) adj.

syc·c·o·phan·tic (sik-a-fan-tik) adj. sympathetic.

syc·o·phan·tic (sik-o-fan-tik) adj. determined, as by vows.

syc·o·phan·tic (sik-o-fan-tik) adj. sworn.

syc·o·ph·a·n·cy (sik-o-fan-se) n.

syc·o·ph·a·n·cy (sik-o-fan-se) n. to swear, think, or speak falsely.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-a-nt-ik) adj. suggestive.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-a-nt-ik) adj. of or for use as a symbol.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-a-nt-ik) adj. excessively, as in one's use of language.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. by means of symbols to express things.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. use of symbols to express things.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. to represent by means of a symbol.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. being symmetrical.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. pleasing proportion between parts of a whole.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. to feel or expressing or resulting from sympathy.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. likable, he's not a sympathetic character.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. showing approval or support, he is sympathetic to our plan.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. a system of nerves uniting the interior organs and the blood vessels and passing along the spinal column.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. to feel or express sympathy.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. sharing or the ability to share another person's emotions or sensations.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. and their mutual advantage.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. a feeling of pity or tenderness toward one suffering pain or grief or trouble.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. liking for each other produced in people who have similar opinions or tastes.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. approval of an opinion or desire.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. in sympathy with, to feel approval of (an opinion or desire).

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. sympathy strike, a strike by workers in support of other strikers.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. a long elaborate musical composition (usually in several parts) for a full orchestra.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. a large orchestra playing symphonies etc.

syc·o·ph·a·nt·ic (sik-o-fan-see) n. a sign of the existence of a condition, especially a perceptible change from what is normal in a special meaning, such as mathematical signs (as + and — for addition and subtraction), punctuation marks, written or printed forms of notes in music.
the body or its functioning, indicating disease or injury.

sympto-mat.ic (simp-tō-mat-ik) adj. serving as a symptom.

syn. abbr. 1. synonym. 2. synonymous. 3. synonymy.

syn-a-gogue (sin-a-gog) n. a building for public Jewish worship.

syn-apse (sin-aps) n. a place where nerve cells join.

sync, synchron (singk) n. (informal) synchronization.

syn-chro-nic (syn-chro-nik) adj. exhibiting a subject (especially a language) as it exists at a particular time.

syn-chro-nize (sing-kro-niz) v. (syn-chro-nized, syn-chro-niz-ing) 1. to occur or exist at the same time. 2. to operate at the same rate and simultaneously. 3. to cause to occur or operate at the same time, to cause (clocks etc.) to show the same time. syn'cho-niz'er n. syn-chro-ni-za'tion (sing-krō-ni-zay-shon) n.

syn-chro-nous (sing-kro-nūs) adj. 1. existing or occurring at the same time. 2. operating at the same rate and simultaneously. syn'cho-nous-ly adv.

syn-co-pate (sing-kō-payt) v. (syn-co-pat-ed, syn-co-pat-ing) v. to change the beats or accents in (a passage of music) by putting a strong stress instead of a weak one (and vice versa). syn-co-pa'tion (sing-kō-pay-shon) n.

syn-co-pe (sing-kō-pe) n. 1. a faint, fainting. 2. the shortening of a word by dropping sounds or letters from within the word.

syn-cret.ic (sin-kret-ik) adj. combining different beliefs or principles.

syn-d. abbr. 1. syndicate. 2. syndicated.

syn-di-cate (sin-di-kit) n. an association of people or firms combining to carry out a business or commercial undertaking. syn-dicate (sin-di-kayt) v. (syn-di-cat-ed, syn-di-cat-ing) 1. to combine into a syndicate. 2. to publish through an association that acquires stories, articles, cartoons, etc. for simultaneous publication in numerous newspapers and periodicals. syn-di-ca'tion (sin-di-kay-shon) n.

syn-drome (sin-drohm) n. 1. a set of signs and symptoms that together indicate the presence of a disease or abnormal condition. 2. a combination of opinions, behavior, etc. that are characteristic of a particular condition.

syn-ec-do-che (si-nek-dō-kee) n. a figure of speech in which a part is named but the whole is understood (as fifty strings for fifty stringed instruments) or vice versa (as the United States beat Russia at hockey).

syn-er-glam (sin-ér-jiz-əm) n. the combined effect of drugs etc. that exceeds the sum of their individual effects.

syn-od (sin-ōd) n. a council attended by senior clergy or church officials to discuss questions of policy, teaching, etc. syn'od-al adj. syn-od-ic (si-nōd-ik) syn-od'i-cal adj.

syn-onym (sin-ōn-im) n. a word or phrase with a meaning similar to that of another in the same language.

syn-on-y-mous (si-non-i-mūs) adj. equivalent in meaning. syn-on-y-my (si-non-i-me) n.

syn-op-sis (sin-op-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr.-seez) a summary, a brief general survey.

syn-op-tic (sin-op-tik) adj. 1. of or forming a synopsis. 2. of the synoptic Gospels, those of Matthew, Mark, and Luke, which have many similarities (whereas that of John differs greatly). syn-op'ti-cal adj.

syn-tax (sin-taks) n. the way in which words are arranged to form phrases and sentences. syn-tac-tic (sin-tak-tik) adj. syn-tac'ti-cal adj. syn-tac'ti-cal ly adv.

syn-thes-i-sis (sin-thē-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr.-seez) 1. the combining of separate parts or elements to form a complex whole. 2. the combining of substances to form a compound, artificial production of a substance that occurs naturally in plants or animals.

syn-thes-i-size (sin-thē-siz) v. (syn-thes-i-sized, syn-thes-i-siz-ing) to make by synthesis. syn-thes-i-sis' er n.

syn-thet-ic (sin-thet-ik) adj. 1. made by synthesis, manufactured as opposed to produced naturally, synthetic rubber. 2. (informal) artificial, affected, decorated in synthetic Tudor style. synthetic n. a synthetic substance or fabric (as nylon). syn-thet'i-cal ly adv.

syphil-is (si-fil-is) n. a venereal disease transmitted by contact or contracted by an unborn child from its mother's blood.

syphilit-ic (si-fil-ik) adj. & n.

Syria (seer-i-a) a country in the Middle East. Syr'i-an adj. & n.

syrinx (si-ring-gā) n. 1. the botanical name for lilac. 2. (old use) the mock orange.

syringe (si-ring) n. 1. a device for drawing in liquid and forcing it out again in a fine stream. 2. a hypodermic syringe (see hypodermic). syringe v. (sy-ring-ed, sy-ring-ing) to wash out or spray with a syringe. syrinx (sir-ingks) n. (pl. syrinxes, pr. si-rin-jeez, syrinx-es) the part of a bird's throat where its song is produced.
syrup (sir-iip) n. 1. a thick sweet liquid, water in which sugar is dissolved, often with added flavoring or medication. 2. the boiled-down juice of a plant or fruit, maple syrup.
syrupy adj.
syst. abbr. system.
system (sis-tém) n. 1. a set of connected things or parts that form a whole or work together, a railroad system; the nervous system, (see nervous); the solar system, (see solar). 2. an animal body as a whole, too much alcohol poisons the system. 3. a set of rules or principles or practices forming a particular philosophy or form of government etc. 4. a method of classification or notation or measurement etc., the metric system. 5. orderliness, being systematic, she works without system.
get a thing out of one's system, to be rid of its effects. systems analyst, analysis of an operation in order to decide how a computer may be used to perform it. systems analyst, an expert in systems analysis.
systematic adj. methodical, according to a plan and not casually or at random. systematically adv.
systematize (sis-te-ma-tiz) v. (systematized, systematizing) to arrange according to a system. systems analysis, analysis of an operation in order to decide how a computer may be used to perform it. systems analyst, an expert in systems analysis.
Szechwan (se-chwahn) a province in central China.
T

T, t (tee) (pl. Ts, T's, t's) the twentieth letter of the alphabet. ☐ to a T, perfectly fits her to a T.

t. abbr. 1. teaspoon(s). 2. temperature. 3. (in grammar) tense. 4. time. 5. ton(s).
6. transit. 7. transitive. 8. troy.

T. abbr. 1. tablespoon(s). 2. Territory. 3. Testament. 4. true. 5. Tuesday.
't (t) it (in shortened form); 'tis, it is.

Ta symbol tantalum.

tab (tab) n. a small projecting flap or strip, especially one by which something can be grasped or hung or fastened or identified. tab v. (tabbed, tab·bing) 1. to provide with tabs. 2. (informal) to designate, to choose. ☐ keep a tab or tabs on, (informal) to keep account of, to keep under observation. pick up the tab, (informal) to be the one who pays the bill. tab key, (informal) the tabulator key on a typewriter.

tab·ard (tab·árd) n. a short tunic-like garment open at the sides, worn by a herald, emblazoned with the arms of the sovereign.

Ta·bas·co (ta·bas-koh) n. (trademark) a very hot peppery sauce used for seasoning.

tab·by (tab·ee) n. (pl. -bles) (also tabby cat) a cat with gray or brownish fur and dark stripes.

tab·er·nac·le (tab·er-nak·él) n. 1. (often Tabernacle) the portable shrine used by the Israelites during their wanderings in the wilderness. 2. a receptacle containing consecrated elements of the Eucharist. 3. a meeting place for worship.

ta·ble (tay·bél) n. 1. a piece of furniture consisting of a flat top supported on one or more legs. 2. food served on a table; she sets a good table, provides good meals. 3. a group of people seated at a table. 4. a list of facts or figures systematically arranged, especially in columns; learn one's tables, to learn the multiplications tables etc. in mathematics. tab l v. (ta·bled, ta·bling) 1. (in parliamentary procedure) to set aside (a motion, bill, etc.) indefinitely. 2. (British) to submit for discussion. ☐ at table, (chiefly Brit·ish) while taking a meal at a table. on the table, (of a motion, bill, etc.) postponed. table linen, tablecloths, napkins, etc. table manners, ability to behave properly while eating at the table. table salt, salt powdered for use in a saltcellar. table tennis, a game like tennis played on a table with a net across it.

tab·leau (tab·lo·w) n. (pl. -leaux, -leaus, pr. -lohz) 1. a silent and motionless group of people etc. arranged to represent a scene. 2. a dramatic or picturesque scene.

ta·ble·cloth (tay·bél-klawth) n. a cloth for covering a table, especially at meals.

ta·ble d'hôte (tay·bél doht) (pl. ta·bles d'hôte, pr. tab·élz doht) (of a restaurant meal) served at a fixed inclusive price. △ French, = host's table.

ta·ble·hop (tay·bél-hop) v. (ta·table·hopped, ta·ble·hop·ping) (informal) to move from one table to another, talking to those seated at each. ta·ble·hop·per n. (informal).

ta·ble·land (tay·bél-land) n. a plateau of land.

ta·ble·spoon (tay·bél-spoon) n. 1. a large spoon for serving food at the table. 2. a measurement used in cooking, = one tablespoonful. ta·ble·spoon·ful n. (pl. -fuls) ½ fluid ounce.

tab·let (tab·lit) n. 1. a slab or panel bearing an inscription or picture, especially one fixed to a wall as a memorial. 2. sheets of paper glued together along one edge. 3. a small measured amount of a drug compressed into a solid form.

ta·ble·ware (tay·bél-wair) n. dishes, silver, etc. for use at the dining table.

tab·loid (tab·loid) n. 1. a newspaper (usually containing numerous pictures) printed on sheets that are half the size of larger newspapers. 2. such a newspaper containing sensational news.

ta·boo, ta·bu (ta·boo) n. (pl. -boos, -bus) a ban or prohibition on something that is regarded by religion or custom as not to be done or touched or used etc. taboo adj. prohibited by a taboo, taboo words. taboo v. (ta·boed, ta·boo·ing) to place under a taboo.
ta·bor (tay-bôr) n. a small drum, especially one formerly used to accompany a pipe or fife.
tab·u·lar (tab-yû-lâr) adj. arranged or displayed in a table or list. tab'u·lar·ly adv.
tab·u·late (tab-yû-lat) v. (tab·u·lat·ed, tab·u·lat·ing) to arrange (facts or figures) in the form of a table or list. tab·u·la·tion (tab-yû-lay-shôn) n.
tab·u·la·tor (tab-yû-lay-tôr) n. 1. a person or thing that tabulates facts or figures. 2. a device on a typewriter for advancing to a series of set positions in tabular work, operated by a tabular key.
TAC abbr. Tactical Air Command.
tach (tak) n. (informal) a tachometer.
tach·o·me·ter (ta-koh-mé-tër) n. an instrument for measuring speed of rotation.
tach·y·car·di·a (tak-i-kahr-di-ä) n. abnormally rapid heartbeat.
tac·it (tas-it) adj. implied or understood without being put into words. tac'it·ly adv. tac'it·ness n.
tac·i·turn (tas-i-turn) adj. habitually saying very little, uncommunicative. tac'i·tur·n·ly adv. tac·i·tur·n·ness n.
tack (tak) n. 1. a small nail with a broad head. 2. a long stitch used to hold fabric in position lightly or temporarily, or (tailor's tacks) to mark the place for a tack etc. 3. the direction of a ship's course as determined by the position of its sails, a temporary oblique course to take advantage of a wind; port tack, with the wind on the port side. 4. a course of action or policy, he's on the wrong tack. 5. riding harness, saddles, etc. tack v. 1. to nail with a tack or tacks. 2. to stitch with tacks. 3. to add as an extra thing, a service charge was tacked onto the bill. 4. to sail a zigzag course in order to take advantage of a wind, to make a tack or tacks. tack'er n. □ tack ham·mer, a light hammer for driving tacks.
tack·room, the room where tack for riding is kept.
tack·le (tak-ël) n. 1. a set of ropes and pulleys for lifting weights or working a ship's sails. 2. equipment for a task or sport, fishing tackle. 3. the act of tackling in football. 4. either of two linemen on a football team, positioned between a guard and an end. tackle v. (tack·led, tack·ling) 1. to grapple with, to try to deal with or overcome (an awkward thing or an opponent or problem); tackle a person about something, to initiate a discussion with him about an awkward matter. 2. (in football) to seize and stop by forcing to the ground (an opponent running with the ball). tack'ler n. tack·y (tak-ë) adj. (tack·i·er, tack·i·est) of paint or varnish etc.) slightly sticky, not quite dry. tack'î·ness n. tacky adj. (tack·i·er, tack·i·est) (informal) shabby, cheap. tack'î·ness n.
ta·co (tah-koh) n. (pl. -cos) a tortilla folded up and filled, usually with a spicy meat sauce.
tac·o·ni·te (tak-ö-nit) n. an iron ore of low grade.
tact (takt) n. skill in avoiding giving offense or in winning goodwill by saying or doing the right thing.
tact·ful (takt·fül) adj. having or showing tact. tact'ful·ly adv.
tac·tic (tak-tik) n. 1. a means of accomplishing a goal. 2. tactics, the art of placing or maneuvering forces skillfully in a battle (distinguished from strategy). 3. any maneuvering, a procedure adopted in order to achieve something.
tac·ti·cal adj. (tak-ti-kal) adj. 1. of tactics (distinguished from strategic). 2. planning or planned skillfully. tac'ti·cal·ly adv.
□ tactical weapons, see strategic weapons.
tac·ti·clan (tak-tish-än) n. an expert in tactics.
tac·tile (tak-til) adj. of or using the sense of touch, tactile organs.
tact·less (takt·lis) adj. lacking in tact.
tact'less·ly adv. tact'less·ness n.
tad (tad) n. (informal) a little child.
ta·da (tah-dah) interj. (informal) listen, an introduction or announcement is about to be made.
tad·pole (tad-pohl) n. the larva of a frog or toad etc., at the stage when it lives in water and has gills and a tail.
Ta·dzhik·i·stan (tâ-jik-i-stan) a republic of the U.S.S.R. bordering on China and Afghanistan.
taf·fe·ta (tah-fë-të) n. a crisp shiny silkmike dress fabric.
taff·rall (taf-rayl) n. a rail around the stern of a vessel.
taff·fy (taf-ë) n. a chewy candy made by boiling sugar or molasses and pulling it until it reaches the desired color and consistency. □ taffy pull, a social gathering at which taffy is made.
tag (tag) n. 1. a metal or plastic point at the end of a shoelace etc. 2. a label tied or stuck into something to identify it or show its price etc. 3. any loose or ragged end or projection. 4. a stock phrase or much-used quotation. 5. a descriptiive word or phrase. tag v. (tag·ged, tag·ging) 1. to label with a tag. 2. to tag  n. a children’s game in which one chases the rest until he touches another.
tag  v. (tagged, -ging) to catch up with and touch, as in the game of tag.
tag out, to tag (a person) who is then out of the game; (in baseball) to touch (a base runner) with the ball held in the hand or glove before he reaches base.

TAG  abbr. 1. talented and gifted. 2. The Adjutant General.

Ta-ga-log (tah-gah-log) n. (pl. -logs, -log) 1. a member of a Malayon people of the Philippine Islands. 2. the principal language of these islands.

Ta-hi-ti (tah-hee-tee) an island in the south Pacific.

Tai chi (tr jee) (also t’ai chi ch’uan, pr. chwahn) a stylized form of warlike movements, developed as exercises by the Chinese.

tai-ga  n. the evergreen forests of the far northern regions, especially of Canada and Russia.

tail  (tayl) n. 1. the hindmost part of an animal, especially when extending beyond the rest of the body; with his tail between his legs, (of an animal or person) looking defeated or dejected. 2. something resembling this in its shape or position, the rear part, an inferior part, a part that hangs down or behind. 3. (informal) a person following or shadowing another. tail v. (slang) to follow closely, to shadow. □ on a person’s tail, following him closely. tail end, the hindmost or very last part. tail wind, a following wind.

tail-back (tayl-bak) n. (in football) in certain offensive formations the back farthest from the line of scrimmage.

tail-coat (tayl-koh) n. a man’s coat with the skirt tapering and divided at the back, worn as part of formal evening dress or morning dress.

tail-gate (tayl-gayt) n. a door or gate, often downward hinged, at the rear of a motor vehicle. tailgate v. (tail-gat-ed, tail·gate·ing) to follow dangerously close behind another motor vehicle.

tail-ing (tay-ling) n. 1. the part of a projecting stone or brick that is cemented into a wall. 2. tailings, leftover or inferior parts of ore, grain, etc.

tail-less (tayl-lis) adj. having no tail.

tail-light (tayl-lit) n. a light, usually red, at the back of a vehicle.

tail-or (tayl-lor) n. a maker of men’s clothes, especially to order. tailor v. 1. to make (clothes) as a tailor, to make in a simple smooth-fitting design. 2. to make or adapt for a special purpose, the new factory is tailored to our needs.

tail·or·made (tayl-lor-mayd) adj. 1. made by a tailor. 2. made in a simple smooth-fitting design. 3. perfectly suited for the purpose.

tail·piece (tayl-piece) n. a decoration printed in the blank space at the end of a chapter or book.

tail·pipe (tayl-pipe) n. the exhaust pipe of a motor vehicle.

tails (taylz) n. pl. 1. an evening suit with a tailcoat. 2. the reverse of a coin, turned upward after being tossed.

tail·spin (tayl-spin) n. 1. an aircraft’s spiral dive with the tail making wider circles than the front. 2. (informal) a state of panic or depression etc.

tail·stock (tayl-stok) n. the adjustable part of a lathe, holding a spindle that does not rotate.

taint (taynt) n. a trace of some bad quality or decay or infection. taint v. to affect with a taint; tainted meat, slightly decayed.

Tai·pel (ti-pay) the capital of the Republic of China.

Tai·wan (ti-wahn) an island off the southeast coast of China. See Republic of China.

Tai·wan·ese (ti-wahn-eez) adj. & n. 1. of or relating to Taiwan. 2. a native or inhabitant of Taiwan.

take (tayk) v. (took, pr. tuuk, tak·en, tak·ing) 1. to get into one’s hands etc. 2. to get possession of, to capture, to win, took many prisoners; took first prize. 3. to be successful or effective, the inoculation did not take. 4. to remove from its place, someone has taken my bicycle. 5. to subtract. 6. to make use of, to indulge in, take this opportunity; take a holiday; take the first turn on the left, go into it. 7. to occupy (a position), especially as one’s right; take a chair, sit down on one; take the chair, act as chairman. 8. to obtain after fulfilling necessary conditions (take a degree), to obtain the use of by payment (take an apartment), to buy (a certain newspaper etc.) regularly. 9. to use as a means of transport, take the train. 10. to consume, we’ll take tea now. 11. to require, it takes a strong man to lift that; these things take time, require much time; it takes some doing, is hard to do; do you take sugar?, do you use it in tea etc.? 12. to cause to come or go with one, to carry or remove, take the letters to the post office. 13. to be affected by, to catch, the child took sick. 14. to experience or exert (a feeling or effort), took pity on him; take care. 15. to find out and record, take his name; we'll take your measurements. 16. to interpret in a certain way, we take it that you are satisfied; I take your point, accept that it is valid. 17. to adopt a specified attitude toward, take things coolly; take it well, not be upset or resentful. 18. to accept, to endure, take risks; he can't take a joke, resents being laughed at. 19. to perform, to deal with; to move around or over, take a decision; took the corner too fast; take an examination, sit for it; take a subject at school, study it. 20. to make by photography, to photograph (a person or thing). take n. 1. the amount of game or fish etc. taken or caught. 2. an instance of photographing a scene for a motion picture. 3. (slang) money taken in business, receipts. □ be taken by or with, to find attractive. be taken ill, to become ill. for the taking, available, yours for the taking. on the take, (slang) seeking profit or advantage selfishly; willing to obtain money dishonestly, especially by taking bribes. take advantage of, to seize (an opportunity); to use (another person) unfairly. take after, to resemble (a parent etc.). take away, to remove or carry away; to subtract. take back, to withdraw (a statement); to carry (a person) back in thought to a past time. take care, to be careful. take care of, to look after, to be responsible for. take down, to write down (spoken words); to humiliate; to remove (a building or structure) by taking it to pieces. take exception, to disagree. take for, to regard as; to mistake for. take in, to accept into one's house etc.; to include; to make (a garment etc.) smaller; to understand; to deceive or cheat (a person); (informal) to visit (a place) en route. take it, to suppose; (slang) to withstand hardship, criticism, etc. take it into one's head, to decide suddenly. take it on the chin, to suffer a severe blow from an event etc. take it out of, to exhaust the strength of. take it out on, to work off one's frustration by attacking or maltreating (a person etc.). take it upon oneself, to undertake, to assume a responsibility. take life, to kill. take off, to take (clothing etc.) from the body; to mimic humorously; to leave the ground and become airborne; take oneself off, depart; I take off my hat to him, applaud him as admirable. take on, to acquire; to undertake (work or responsibility); to engage (an employee); to agree to play against (a person in a game); (informal) to show great emotion, to make a fuss. take one's time, to loiter, not to hurry in doing something. take out, to escort on an outing; to obtain or get (an insurance policy etc.) issued; (slang) to destroy, to kill; take a person out of himself, make him forget his troubles. take over, to take control of (a business etc.). take part, to share in an activity. take sides, to support one side or another. take stock, to make an inventory of the stock in a shop etc.; to examine one's position and resources. take to, to adopt as a habit or custom or course; to go as a refuge; to develop a liking or ability for. take up, to take as a hobby or business; to make a protégé of (a person); to occupy (time or space); to begin (residence etc.); to resume at the point where something was left; to absorb (a liquid); to investigate (a matter) further; to shorten (a garment); to accept (an offer etc.); take a person up on his offer, accept it. take-up spool, the spool on which film or tape etc. is wound after use. take up with, to begin to associate with. □ See the note under bring.

take-off (tayk-awf) n. 1. a piece of humorous mimicry. 2. the process of taking off in flying.

take-out (tayk-owt) adj. 1. (of food) bought at a restaurant for eating elsewhere. 2. (of a restaurant) selling such food.

take-over (tayk-oh-vër) n. assumption of control, especially of a business.

take-er (tay-kér) n. a person who takes something (especially a bet), there were no takers.

take-ing (tay-king) adj. attractive, captivating.

talc (talk) n. 1. a soft smooth mineral that is powdered for use as a lubricant. 2. talcum powder.

talcum (tal-küm) n. = talc. □ talcum powder, talc powdered and usually perfumed, applied to the skin to make it feel smooth and dry.

tale (tayl) n. 1. a narrative or story. 2. a report spread by gossip. 3. a lie or falsehood.

tale-bear-er (tayl-bair-ër) n. a person who tells tales (see tell).

tal-ent (tal-ent) n. 1. special or very great ability, people who have this. 2. a unit of money used in certain ancient countries. □ talent scout, a person whose talented / tam-pon ta-ler (tal-uhr) n. any of numerous large cows formerly used in German states.

tales-man (taylz-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person summoned to jury duty.
tal-is-man (tal-is-man) n. (pl. -mans) an object supposed to bring good luck.
talk (tawk) v. 1. to convey or exchange ideas by spoken words. 2. to have the power of speech, child is learning to talk. 3. to express or utter or discuss in words, you are talking nonsense; talk scandal.

tales-man (taylz-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a person summoned to jury duty.
tal-is-man (tal-is-man) n. (pl. -mans) an object supposed to bring good luck.
material inserted into the body to stop bleeding or absorb natural secretions.

tank (tan) v. (tanned, tank·ning) 1. to convert (animal hide) into leather by treating it with tannic acid or mineral salts etc. 2. to make or become brown by exposure to sun. 3. (slang) to trash. tank n. 1. yellowish brown. 2. brown color in skin exposed to the sun. 3. tree bark in tanning hides. tank adj. (tan·ner, tan·nest) yellowish brown.

tan² abbr. tangent.

tan·a·ger (tan-ä-jér) n. an American songbird, the male usually having brilliant plumage.

Ta·na·na·rive (ta-na-na-reev) the capital of the Malagasy Republic.

tan·bark (tan-bahrk) n. the bark of certain trees used in tanning.

T & E abbr. travel and entertainment.

tan·dem (tan-dém) n. 1. a bicycle with seats and pedals for two or more people one behind another. 2. an arrangement of people or things one behind another. tandem adv. one behind another. tandem adj. with parts or things placed one behind the other. □In tandem, arranged in this way; working together.

tang (tang) n. 1. a strong taste or flavor or smell. 2. a projection on the blade of a knife or chisel etc. by which it is held firm in its handle.

tan·ge·lo (tan-jé-loh) n. (pl. -los) 1. a hybrid between a tangerine and a grapefruit. 2. its fruit.

tan·gent (tan-jěnt) n. a straight line that touches the outside of a curve but does not intersect it. tangent adj. touching.

tan·gen·tial (tan-jen-shal) adj. tangential adj. tangen·ti·al·ly adv. tan·gen·ti·al·i·ty (tan-jen-shi-al-i-tee) n. □go off on or at a tangent, to diverge suddenly from a line of thought etc. or from the matter in hand.

tan·ge·rine (tan-jě-reen) n. 1. a kind of small flattened orange, a variety of mandarin. 2. its deep orange-yellow color.

tan·gl·ble (tan-gl-bel) adj. 1. able to be perceived by touch. 2. clear and definite, real, tangible advantages. tan·gible adv. tan·gible·ness n. tan·gible·ly (tan-gl-bil-i-ty) n. (tan-gl-bil-i-tee) n.

tan·gle (tang-gel) v. (tan·gled, tan·gling) 1. to twist or become twisted into a confused mass. 2. to entangle. 3. to become involved in conflict with. tangled n. a tangled mass or condition. □tangle with, to argue or fight with.

tan·go (tang-go) n. (pl. -gos) a ballroom dance with gliding steps, music for this.

tan·y (tang-ce) adj. (tang·l·er, tang·l·est) having a strong taste or flavor or smell.

tank (tangk) n. 1. a large container for holding liquid or gas. 2. a heavily armored fighting vehicle carrying guns and moving on caterpillar tracks. tank v. tank up, to fill the tank of a vehicle etc.; (slang) to drink heavily. tank·ful n. (pl. -fuls) □tank farm, an area where petroleum is stored in tanks. tank suit, a simple bathing suit. tank town, a small town, especially one where trains obtain water.

tank·ard (tang-kard) n. a large one-handled drinking vessel, usually of silver or pewter and often with a lid.

tank·er (tang-kér) n. a ship or aircraft or vehicle for carrying oil or other liquid in bulk.

tan·ner (tan-ér) n. a person who tans hides into leather.

tan·ner·y (tan-è-ree) n. (pl. -ner·ies) a place where hides are tanned into leather.

tan·nic (tan-ik) adj. of tannin. □tannic acid, tannin.

tan·nin (tan-in) n. any of several compounds obtained from oak galls and various tree barks (also found in tea), used chiefly in tanning and dyeing.

tan·s·y (tan-zee) n. (pl. -sies) a plant with yellow flowers in clusters and feathery leaves.

tan·ta·lize (tan-ta-liz) v. (tan·ta-lized, tan·ta·liz·ing) to tease or torment by the sight of something that is desired but kept out of reach or withheld. □In Greek mythology, Tantalus was condemned to stand in Hades surrounded by water and fruit that receded when he tried to reach them.) tan·ta·liz·ing·ly adv. tan·ta·liz·er n. tan·ta·lia·tion (tan-ta-li-zay-shdn) n.

tan·ta·lum (tan-ta-lum) n. a rare hard white metallic element highly resistant to heat and to the action of acids.

tan·ta·mount (tan-ta-mownt) adj. equivalent, the Queen's request was tantamount to a command.

tan·trum (tan-trum) n. an outburst of bad temper, especially in a child.

Tan·za·ni·a (tan-zä-ne-è-ä) a country in East Africa. Tan·za·nian adj. & n.

Tao·ism (dow-iz-èm) n. a religious doctrine originally based on writings attributed to the Chinese philosopher Lao-te, who lived around 500 B.C. Tao·ist adj. & n.

tap¹ (tap) n. 1. a device for drawing liquid from a cask or for allowing liquid or gas to come from a pipe in a controllable flow. 2. a device for cutting a screw thread inside a cavity. 3. a connection for tapping a telephone. tap v. (tapped, tap 1. to fit a tap into (a cask) in order to draw out its contents. 2. to draw off (liquid) by means of a tap or through an incision. 3. to extract or obtain supplies or information from. 4. to cut a screw thread inside (a cavity). 5. to make a connection in (a circuit etc.) so as to divert electricity or fit a lighting device for overhearing telephone communications. tap/ per n. □ on tap, (of liquid or gas) ready to be drawn off by a tap; (informal) available. tap water, water supplied through pipes to taps in a building.

tap2 v. (tapped, tap/pling) 1. to strike with a quick light blow, to knock gently on (a door etc.). 2. to strike (an object) lightly against something. tap n. a quick light blow, the sound of this. tap/ per n. □ tap dance, a dance in which an elaborate rhythm is tapped with the feet.

tape (tapp) n. 1. a narrow strip of woven cotton etc. used for tying or fastening or labeling things, a piece of this stretched across a racetrack at the finish line. 2. a narrow continuous strip of paper or other flexible material (as that on which a teleprinter prints a message), adhesive tape, insulating tape, magnetic tape. 3. a tape measure. 4. a tape recording. tape v. (taped, tap/pling) 1. to tie or fasten with tape. 2. to record on magnetic tape. □ tape cartridge, a cassette containing recording tape. tape deck, see deck1. tape measure, a strip of tape or flexible metal marked in inches or centimeters etc. for measuring length. tape/ player, a machine that plays back tape recordings. tape recorder, an apparatus for recording sounds on magnetic tape and playing back the recording. tape recording, a recording made on magnetic tape.

ta/per (tay-per) n. a wick coated thinly with wax, burned to give a light or to light candles etc. taper v. to make or become gradually narrower. □ taper off, to become less in amount etc. or cease gradually.

tape/re-cord (tayp-ri-kord) v. to record on a tape recorder.

tape/try (tayp-i-stree) n. (pl. -tries) a piece of strong fabric with a pictorial or ornamental design woven into it or embroidered on it, used for hanging on walls or as an upholstery material.

tape-worm (tayp-wurm) n. a tapelike worm that can live as a parasite in the intestines of man and other animals.

tap/-/i-ca (tayp-ee-oh-kâ) n. a starchy substance in hard white grains obtained from cassava and used for making puddings.

ta/pir (tayp-pir) n. (pl. -pirs, -pir) a small piglike animal with a long flexible snout.

tap/pet (tayp-it) n. a projection in a piece of machinery that causes a certain movement by tapping against something, as used to open and close a valve.

tap/room (tayp-room) n. a room where alcoholic drinks are on tap, a bar.

tap/root (tayp-root) n. the chief root of a plant, growing straight downward.

taps (taps) n. pl. a signal given by a bugle for lights to be put out in soldiers' quarters, a similar signal at a military funeral or a memorial service.

tar1 (tahr) n. 1. a thick dark inflammable liquid obtained by distilling wood or coal or peat etc. 2. a similar substance formed by burning tobacco. tar v. (tarded, tar/ ring) to coat with tar. □ be tared with the same brush, to have the same faults as someone else. tar and feather, to punish (a person) by smearing with tar and then covering with feathers.

tar2 n. (informal) a sailor.

tar-an/-tel-la (tar-an-tel-la) n. a rapid whirling dance of southern Italy.

tar/-an-tu/la (tahr-an-chu-la) n. (pl. -lae, -lae) 1. a large black spider of southern Europe. 2. a large hairy American spider.

tar/boosh (tahr-boosh) n. a cap like a fez, worn alone or as part of a turban.

tar/dy (tahr-dee) adj. (tar-di-er, tar-di-est) adj. 1. slow to act or move or happen. 2. behind time. tar/di/ly adv.

tar/di/ness n.

tare1 (tair) n. a kind of vetch.

tare2 n. an allowance made to the purchaser for the weight of the container in which goods are packed, or for the vehicle transporting them, in instances where the goods are weighed together with their container or vehicle.

tar/get (tahr-git) n. 1. the object or mark that a person tries to hit in shooting etc., a disk painted with concentric circles for this purpose in archery. 2. a person or thing against which criticism or scorn etc. is directed. 3. an objective, a minimum result aimed at, export targets. target v. to make a target of. □ target date, the date aimed for in planning something.

tar/iff (tahr-if) n. 1. a list of fixed charges, especially for rooms and meals etc. at a hotel. 2. duty to be paid on imports or exports.

tar/mac (tahr-mak) n. 1. (trademark) material for surfacing roads etc., consisting of broken stone or slag mixed with tar. 2. tarmac, an area surfaced with this, especially on an airfield.

tarn (tahrm) n. a small mountain lake.

tar-na/tion (tahr-nay-shôn) interj. damnation, hell. * tarnish (tahr-nish) v. 1. to lose or cause (metal) to lose its luster by exposure to air or damp. 2. to stain or blemish (a reputation etc.). tarnish n. loss of luster, a stain or blemish.

ta-ro (tahr-oh) n. (pl. -ros) 1. a tropical plant with a tuberous root. 2. this root used as food especially in Polynesian islands.

ta-rot (ta-rah) n. 1. a deck of twenty-two cards with special pictures, used in fortunetelling. 2. a game played with a pack of seventy-eight cards that are used also for fortunetelling.

tar-pap-per (tahr-pay-per) n. thick paper impregnated or coated with tar and used as a building material, especially to waterproof roofs.

tar-paulin (tahr-paw-lin, tahr-puh-) n. 1. canvas made waterproof, especially by being tared. 2. a sheet of this used as a covering.

tar-pon (tahr-pohn) n. (pl. -pons, -pon) a large silvery game fish common in the Gulf of Mexico.

tar-ra-gon (tahr-a-gon) n. a plant with leaves that are used for flavoring salads and in making a vinegar.

tar-ry¹ (tahr-rey) adj. (-ri-er, -ri-est) of or like tar. tar-ry-ness n.

tar-ry² (tahr-rey) v. (tahr-ried, tahr-ry-ing) to delay in coming or going.

tar-sal (tahr-sal) adj. of the tarsus. tarsal n. one of the tarsal bones.

tar-si-er (tahr-si-er) n. a small monkeylike animal of the East Indies, with large eyes and a long tail.

tar-sus (tahr-sus) n. (pl. -si, pr. -si) the seven small bones that make up the ankle.

tart¹ (tahr-t) adj. 1. sharp-tasting, acid. 2. sharp in manner, biting. a tart reply. tart-ly adv. tart-ness n.

tart² n. 1. a pie containing fruit or sweet filling. 2. a piece of pastry with jam etc. on top. 3. (slang) a girl or woman of immoral character, a prostitute.

tar-tan (tahr-tan) n. 1. the distinctive pattern of a Highland clan, with colored stripes crossing at right angles. 2. a similar pattern. 3. fabric woven in such a pattern.

tar-tar (tahr-tar) n. 1. a hard chalky deposit that forms on the teeth. 2. a reddish deposit that forms on the side of a cask in which wine is fermented. □ cream of tartar, see cream.

Tar-tar (tahr-tar) n. 1. a member of a group of Central Asian peoples including Mongols and Turks. 2. (often tartar) a person who is violent-tempered or difficult to deal with.

tar-tar-ic (tahr-tar-ik) adj. of or derived from tartar, tartaric acid.

tar-tar (tahr-tar) sauce, sauce tartare (tahr-tahr) a sauce of mayonnaise containing chopped pickles etc.

tar-tar (tahr-tar) steak raw ground beef-steak, blended with raw egg, chopped onion, salt, and pepper.

task (task) n. a piece of work to be done. task v. to make great demands upon (a person's powers). □ take a person to task, to rebuke him. task force, a group and resources specially organized for a particular task.

task-mas-ter (task-mas-tar) n. a person considered with regard to the way in which he imposes tasks, a hard taskmaster.

Tas-ma-ni-a (taz-may-ni-a) an island off the southeast coast of Australia. Tas-ma-ni-an adj. & n.

Tass (tahs) n. the official news agency of the Soviet Union.

tas-sel (tas-eye) n. 1. a bunch of threads tied at one end and hanging loosely, used as an ornament. 2. the tassel-like head of certain plants (as corn).

tas-seled (tas-eld) adj. ornamented with a tassel or tassels.

taste (tayst) n. 1. the sensation caused in the tongue by things placed upon it. 2. the faculty of perceiving this sensation. 3. a small quantity of food or drink taken as a sample, a slight experience of something, a taste of fame. 4. a liking, she has always had a taste for foreign travel; add sugar to taste, in the amount that is liked. 5. ability to perceive and enjoy what is beautiful or harmonious or to know what is fitting for an occasion etc., choice made according to this; the remark was in bad taste, was unsuitable or offensive. taste v. (tast-ed, tast-ing) 1. to discover or test the flavor of (a thing) by taking it into the mouth. 2. to be able to perceive flavors. 3. to have a certain flavor, it tastes sour. 4. to experience, taste the joys of freedom. tast'er n. □taste bud, one of the small projections on the tongue by which flavors are perceived. to one's taste, pleasing.

taste'ful (tayst-ful) adj. showing good taste. taste'ful-ly adv. taste'ful-ness n.

taste-less (tayst-lis) adj. 1. having no flavor. 2. showing poor taste, tasteless decorations. taste'less-ly adv. taste'less-ness n.

tast'y (tay-stee) adj. (tast-i-er, tast-i-est) having a strong flavor, appetizing. tast'i-ly adv. tast'i-ness n.
tat (tatt) v. (tat-ting, tat-ted, tat-ti) to do tat-ting, to make by tat-ing.

tat’2 see tit.

ta·ta·mi (ta-ta-mee) n. (pl. -mi, -mis) a Japanese floor mat made of rice straw.

tat-ter (tat-ër) n. an irregularly torn piece, especially of cloth, left hanging. tatter v. to tear to tatters, to become ragged.

tat·ter·de·mal·lon (tat-ë-di-mayl-yën) n. a ragamuffin.

tat·tered (tat-ërd) adj. ragged, torn into tatters.

tat·ers (tat-ërz) n. pl. rags, irregularly torn pieces. [in tatters, in rags; ripped apart.

tat·ter·sall (tat-ër-sawl) n. a pattern of colored lines forming squares like a tartan. [From R. Tattersall, an English horseman who died in 1795.

tat·ting (tat-ing) n. 1. a kind of lace made by hand with a small shuttle. 2. the process of making this.

tat·tile (tat-ël) v. (tat-tied, tat-tling) to chatter or gossip idly, to reveal information in this way. tattle n. idle chatter or gossip.
tat’tier n.

tat·tile·tale (tat-ël-tayl) n. a tattler, especially a child who informs against another.

tat·too1 (ta-too) n. (pl. -toos) 1. an evening drum or bugle signal calling soldiers back to their quarters. 2. an elaboration of this with music and marching, as an entertainment. 3. a drumming or tapping sound.

tat·too2 v. (tat-tooed, tat-too-ing) to mark (skin) with indelible patterns by puncturing it and inserting a dye, to make (a pattern) in this way. tattoo n. a tattooed pattern. tat-too'er n. tat·too’ist n.

tau (taw) n. the nineteenth letter of the Greek alphabet (Tr).

taught see teach.

taunt (taunt) v. to jeer at, to try to provoke with scornful remarks or criticism. taunt n. a taunting remark. taunt’ing-ly adv. taunt’er n.
taupe (tohp) n. a dark gray color with a brownish tinge.

Taur·us (tor-us) n. a sign of the zodiac, the Bull. Tau·re·an (tor-i-an) adj. & n. taut (taut) adj. stretched firmly, not slack. taut’ly adv. taut’ness n.
tau·to·o·gy (taw-tal-ë-je) n. (pl. -gies) saying of the same thing twice over in different words, especially as a fault of style, such as they arrived one after the other in succession. tau·to·o·gous adj.
tau·to·log·i·cal (taw-tal-ë-loj-i-kal) adj.
tau·to·log·i·cal·ly adv.
tav·ern (taw-ërn) n. 1. a bar. 2. (old use) an inn.
taw (taw) n. 1. a large marble for shooting in the game of marbles. 2. the line from which the players shoot.

taw·dry (taw-dri) adj. (dri-er,-dri·est) showy or gaudy but without real value. taw’dri·ly adv. taw’dri·ness n.

taw·ny (taw-nee) adj. (-nëer, -nëest) brownish yellow, brownish orange.
taw’ni·ness n.

tax (taks) n. 1. a sum of money to be paid by people or business firms to a government, especially or for public purposes. 2. something that makes a heavy demand, a tax on one’s strength. tax v. 1. to impose a tax on, to require (a person) to pay tax. 2. to make heavy demands on. 3. to accuse in a challenging or reproving way, taxed him with having left the door unlocked. tax’er n. tax’a·tion (tak-sa-sh’n) n. [tax deduction, an expense that can be deducted from income before computing the tax; a person whose support is considered to be such an expense. tax evasion, the crime of avoiding payment of some or all the tax that is due. tax loss, a net capital loss established at year’s end and used as a tax deduction. tax rate, the percentage of value or income etc. required to be paid in taxes. tax return, the printed form that is filled in and sent with a tax payment. tax shelter, a financial operation for the purpose of acquiring expenses or depreciation allowances etc. that will reduce income tax due. tax stamp, a stamp placed on certain products, papers, etc. to indicate that taxes have been paid.
tax·a·ble (tak-sä-bël) adj. able or liable to be taxed.
tax·de·duct·i·ble (taks-di-dukt-ë-bël) adj. allowed to be deducted from income before computing the tax.
tax·ex·empt (taks-ëg-zemp) adj. not taxable.
tax·i (taxi) n. (pl. tax·is, tax·ies) a taxicab. taxi v. (tax·ied, tax·i·ing or tax·y·ing) 1. to go or convey in a taxi. 2. (of aircraft) to move along ground or water under its own power, especially before or after flying. [taxi dancer, a dancing partner who is paid for each dance.
tax·i·cab (taxi-kab) n. a car that carries paying passengers, usually with a meter to record the fare payable.
tax·i·der·my (taxi-dur-mee) n. the art of preparing and mounting the skins of animals in lifelike form. tax‘i·der·my n.
tax·i·me·ter (taxi-me-tër) n. an automatic device fitted to a taxicab and indicating the fare due for the distance traveled.

tax·o·my (tak-söm-é) n. the principles of science. classification, especially in biology. tax·o·num·list n. tax·o·nom·ic (tak-söm-nóm-ik) adj. tax·o·nom·ical adv.
tax·pay·er (taks-pay·ér) n. a person who pays tax (especially income tax). tax·pay·ing adj.

Tay·lor (tay·lor), Zach·a·ry (1784–1850) the twelfth president of the U.S. 1849–50.

Tb symbol terbium.

Tb abbr. tablespoon.

T. B. abbr. tuberculosis.

T-bar (tee-bahr) lift a ski lift with T-shaped bars against which skiers may lean as they are carried uphill while wearing their skis.

T·bone (tee·bohn) steak steak from the thin end of the loin, containing a T-shaped bone.

tbs., tbsp. abbr. tablespoon(s).

Tc symbol technetium.

T·C abbr. teachers college.

TCBM abbr. transcontinental ballistic missile.

TD abbr. 1. touchdown. 2. Treasury Department.

TDY abbr. temporary duty.

Te symbol tellurium.

tea (tee) n. 1. the dried leaves of the tea plant. 2. the hot drink that is made by steeping these in boiling water. 3. a drink made by steeping the leaves of other plants in water, camomile tea; herb tea. 4. a late afternoon social gathering or reception at which tea and coffee are served. □ tea bag, a small porous bag holding about a teaspoonful of tea for steeping. tea biscuit, a kind of small soft sweetened biscuit. tea cozy, a cover placed over a teapot to keep the tea hot. tea dance, an afternoon tea with dancing. tea leaf, a leaf of tea, especially after steeping. tea party, a party at which tea is served. tea plant, an evergreen shrub grown in China, India, etc. tea rose, a kind of delicately scented rose. tea service, a teapot with matching containers for sugar and cream and sometimes other pieces. tea set, a set of cups and plates etc. for serving tea. tea table, a small table for serving tea. tea wagon, a small table with wheels, used for serving tea.

tea·cake (tee·kayk) n. a small sweet cake.

tea·cart (tee·kahrt) n. a tea wagon.

Teach (tech) v. (taught, pr. tawt, teach·ing) 1. to impart information or skill to (a person) or about (a subject etc.). 2. to do this for a living. 3. to put forward as a fact or principle; Christ taught forgiveness, taught that we must forgive our enemies. 4. to cause to adopt (a practice etc.) by example or experience, (in·for·mal) to deter by punishment etc., that will teach you not to meddle.

teach·a·ble (tee·cha·bel) adj. 1. able to learn by being taught. 2. (of a subject) able to be taught.

Teach·er (tee·cher) n. a person who teaches others, especially in a school.

Teach·ers' aide, a classroom assistant to a schoolteacher. Teachers college, a college where the students are trained to be teachers in primary or secondary schools.

Teach·ing (tee·ching) n. what is taught, the teachings of the church.

Teach·ing aid, something used by a teacher to help to instruct pupils or to arouse their interest.

Teach·ing assistant or fellow, a graduate student who receives a grant for which some time must be spent teaching or assisting a teacher.

Teach·ing fellowship, a graduate scholarship that requires the recipient to teach while pursuing his studies.

Teach·ing hospital, a hospital where medical students are taught. Teaching machine, a mechanical or electronic device for giving instruction.

Tea·cup (tee·kup) n. a cup from which tea is drunk.

Tea·house (tee·hows) n. (pl. -hous·es, pr. -how·ziz) a restaurant in the Far East in which tea and other refreshments are served.

Teak (teek) n. 1. (also teakwood) the strong heavy wood of a tall evergreen Asian tree, used for making furniture and in shipbuilding. 2. the tree itself.

Tea·ket·tie (tee·ket·él) n. a kettle with a handle and a spout, used to boil water.

Teal (teel) n. (pl. teals, teal) a kind of small freshwater duck.

Teal·blue (tee·lblu) a deep greenish blue.

Teem (teem) n. 1. a set of players forming one side in certain games and sports. 2. a set of people working together. 3. two or more animals harnessed together to draw a vehicle or farm implement. Team v. to combine into a team or set or for a common purpose.

Team·mate (teem·mayt) n. a fellow member of a team.

Team·ster (teem·ster) n. 1. a truck driver, especially a member of the Teamsters Union. 2. (old use) the driver of a team of horses.

teamwork (team-wurk) n. organized cooperation.

tea-pot (tee-pot) n. a vessel with a lid and spout in which tea is made and from which it is poured.

tear1 (tair) v. (tore, pr. tohr, torn, pr. tohrn, tear-ing) 1. to pull forcibly apart or away or to pieces. 2. to make (a hole or a split) in this way. 3. to become torn, to be able to be torn, paper tears easily. 4. to subject (a person etc.) to conflicting desires or demands, torn between love and duty. 5. to run, walk, or travel hurriedly.

tear n. a hole or split caused by tearing.

tear oneself away, to leave in spite of a strong desire to stay. tear one's hair, to pull it in anger or perplexity or despair.

tear2 (teer) n. a drop of the salty water that appears in or flows from the eye as the result of grief or other emotion, or irritation by fumes etc. tear'y adj. (tear-li-er, tear-li-est) □ in tears, shedding tears. tear gas, a gas that causes severe irritation of the eyes.

tear-drop (teer-drop) n. a single tear.

tearful (teer-full) adj. shedding or ready to shed tears, sad. tearful-ly adv.

tear-jerk-er (teer-jur-kär) n. (informal) a story or motion picture etc. calculated to produce tears of sadness or sympathy.

tea-room (tee-room) n. a restaurant serving tea or coffee etc. and light meals, favored by women customers.

tease (teez) v. (teased, teas-ing) 1. to try to provoke in a playful or unkind way by jokes or questions or petty annoyances. 2. to beg or urge persistently. 3. to pick (wool etc.) into separate strands. 4. to fluff (hair) by holding the ends and combing toward the scalp. 5. to brush up the nap on (cloth). tease n. a person who is fond of teasing others. teasing-ly adv.

teas'er (tee-zar) n. (informal) 1. one who teases. 2. a problem that is difficult to solve.

tea-spoon (tee-spoon) n. 1. a small spoon for stirring tea. 2. a measurement used in cooking, = one teaspoonful. tea' spoonful n. (pl. -fuls) ½ fluid ounce.

teat (teet, tit) n. a nipple on an animal's milk-secreting organ.

tea-time (tee-trim) n. the time at which tea is served, usually in the late afternoon.

tech. abbr. 1. technical. 2. technician. 3. technological. 4. technology.

tech-ne-ti-um (tek-nee-shi-üm) n. an artificially produced radioactive metallic element.

tech-nic (tek-nik) n. technique.

tech-ni-cal (tek-ni-käl) adj. 1. of the mechanical arts and applied sciences, a technical education or school. 2. of a particular subject or craft etc. or its techniques, the technical terms of chemistry; technical skill. 3. (of a book etc.) requiring specialized knowledge, using technical terms. 4. in a strict legal sense, technical assault. tech'-ni-cal-ly adv. tech'-ni-cal-ness n. □ technical knockout, (in boxing) a referee's ending of a match because one of the boxers is unable to continue, his opponent being declared the winner. technical school, a school that teaches applied science or vocational subjects. technical sergeant, a non-commissioned officer in the U.S. Air Force ranking next above a staff sergeant.

tech-ni-cal-ity (tek-ni-käl-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. being technical. 2. a technical word or phrase or point, was acquitted on a technicality.

tech-ni-clan (tek-nish-an) n. an expert in the techniques of a particular subject or craft.

Tech-ni-col-or (tek-ni-kul-ór) n. (trade-mark) a process for making motion pictures in color.

tech-nique (tek-neek) n. the method of doing or performing something (especially in an art or science), skill in this.

tech-noc-ra-cy (tek-nok-rä-see) n. (pl. -cies) government by technical experts, as scientists, engineers, etc. tech-no-crat (tek-nô-krot) n. tech-no-cratic (tek-nô-krot-ik) adj.

tech-nol-o-gist (tek-nol-ö-jist) n. an expert in technology.

tech-nol-o-gy (tek-nol-ö-je) n. 1. the scientific study of mechanical arts and applied sciences (as engineering). 2. these subjects, their practical application in industry etc. tech-no-log-ic (tek-nô-loj-ik) adj. tech-no-logi-cal-ly adv.

tec-ton-ics (tek-ton-iks) n. 1. the study of geological structural features. 2. the whole art of producing beautiful and useful buildings. tec-ton'ic adj.

ted-dy (ted-ee) bear a soft furry toy bear.

Te De-um (tay-düm) a Latin hymn beginning “Te Deum laudamus” (= we praise thee O God).

ted-dous (tee-di-üs) adj. tiresome because of its length or slowness or dullness, boring. te'dous-ly adv. te'dous-ness n.

ted-dum (tee-di-üm) n. tediousness.

tee (tee) n. 1. the cleared space from which a player strikes the ball in golf at the beginning of play for each hole. 2. a small peg on which the ball is placed for being struck. tee v. (teed, teed-ing) to place (a ball) on a tee in golf. □ tee off, to play the ball from the tee; (slang) to make angry. tee up, to tee.

tee

1 (teem) v. 1. to be full of, the river was teeming with fish. 2. to be present in large numbers, fish teem in that river.
tee

2 v. (of water or rain etc.) to pour.
teen-age (teen-ayj) adj. of teenagers.
teen-aged (teen-ayj-d) adj. in one's teens.
teen-ag-er (teen-ay-jér) n. a person in his or her teens.
teen (teenz) n. pl. the years of a person's age from 13 to 19.
teen-ly-ween-ly (teen-see-ween-see) adj. (informal) tiny.
teen-ny (teen-nee) adj. (-ni-er, -ni-est) (informal) tiny.
teen-ny-bop-per (teen-nee-bop-ér) n. (informal) a teenage girl who follows the latest fashions in clothes and pop music etc.
teen-ny-wee-ny (teen-nee-wee-nee) adj. (informal) tiny.
tee-pee (tee-pah) n. a hut used by a person's (informal) tiny.
tee-shit = T-shirt.
teer (tee-ér) v. to stand or move unsteadily.
teer-tot-ter (tee-tot-tor-ér) n. a seesaw. teeter-totter v. to seesaw.
tooth see tooth.
teeth (teeth) v. (teethe, teeth-ing) (of a baby) to have its first teeth beginning to grow through the gums. □ teething ring, a small ring for a baby to bite on while teething.
tee-to-tal (tee-toh-tal) adj. abstaining completely from alcoholic drinks. tee-to-tal-er n. tee-to-tal-ism n.

teflon (tef-lon) n. (trademark) a plastic used to line pans etc. to prevent sticking.
te-goo-cl-gal-pa (te-goo-see-gahl-pah) the capital of Honduras.
te-he-ran, Te-hran (te-rahn) the capital of Iran.
tek-tite (tek-titt) n. a small roundish glassy body thought to originate in outer space.
tek-tit-ic (tek-titt-ik) adj.
tel. abbr. 1. telegram. 2. telegraph. 3. telephone.
tel-e-cast (tel-e-kast) v. (tel-e-cast or tel-e-cast-ed, tel-e-cast-ing) to broadcast by television. telecast n. a television broadcast. tel-e-cast-er n.
tel-e-com-mu-ni-ca-tions (tel-e-koh-myo-oo-ni-kay-shoonz) n. the means of communication over long distances, as by cable or telegraph or telephone or radio or television.
telegraphy.
tel-e-gen-ic (tel-e-jen-ik) adj. (of a person) appearing attractive on television.
tel-e-gam (tel-e-gam) n. a message sent by telegraph.
tel-e-graph (tel-e-graf) n. a system or apparatus for sending messages over a distance, especially by transmission of electrical impulses along wires. telegraph v. to send (a message) or communicate with (a person) by telegraph.
tel-e-gram (tel-e-gram) n. a message whose job is to send and receive messages by telegraph.
tel-e-gram-ic (tel-e-gram-ik) adj. tel-e-graph'ic cal-ly adv. □ telegraphic address, an abbreviated or other registered address for use in telegrams.
tel-e-k-i-ne-sis (tel-e-ki-nee-sis) n. the process of moving things without touching them and without using ordinary physical means.
tel-e-ly-ter (tel-e-ly-ter) n. an apparatus for recording the readings of an instrument that is at a distance, usually by means of radio. telemeter v. to record readings thus, to transmit (readings) to a telemeter. tel-e-ly-try n.
tel-e-path-ic (tel-e-path-ik) adj. or of using telepathy, able to communicate by telepathy. tel-e-path'ic cal-ly adv.
tel-e-path-ic (tel-e-path-ik) adj. or of using telepathy, able to communicate by telepathy. tel-e-path'ic cal-ly adv.
tel-e-phot-o-phone (tel-e-foh-nah) n. a system of transmitting sound (especially speech) over a distance by wire or cord or radio. 2. an instrument used in this, with a receiver and mouthpiece and a bell to indicate an incoming call. telephone v. (tel-e-phoned, tel-e-phone-ing) to send (a message) or speak to (a person) by telephone. tel-e-phon-er n. tel-e-phon-ic (tel-e-phon-ik) adj. □ telephone book or directory, a book listing the names and telephone numbers of people who have a telephone. telephone booth, a booth containing a telephone for public use. telephone number, a number assigned to a particular instrument and used in making connections to it. telephone pole, a pole that supports telephone wires.
tel-e-phot-o-phone (tel-e-foh-ton) adj. tele-photographic. □ telephoto lens, a lens producing a large image of a distant object that is photographed.
tel-e-phot-o-graph (tel-e-foh-toh-graf) n. a photograph of a distant object taken by a combination of a telescopic and an ordinary photographic lens giving a large image. tel'·e·pho·to·graph·ic (tel-é-foh-tó-graf-ik) adj. te·le·pho·to·graph·y (tel-é-fó-to-grá-fick) n.

tel·e·play (tel-é-play) n. a play for television.

Tel·e·prompt·er (tel-é-promp-tér) n. (trademark) a device by which persons speaking on television can read a script while appearing to look at the camera.

tel·e·scope (tel-é-skohp) n. an optical instrument using lenses or mirrors or both to make distant objects appear larger when viewed through it. te·le·scopic adj. (tel-é-skop-ik) adj. 1. of a telescope, magnifying like a telescope. 2. visible only through a telescope, telescopic stars. 3. capable of being telescoped, telescopic antenna. te·le·scope·i·cal·ly adv. te·le·scopic sight, a telescope fitted to a rifle for magnifying the image of the target.

tel·e·thon (tel-é-thon) n. a televised fund-raising program of long duration.

tel·e·type (tel-é-tip) n. (trademark) a teletypewriter.

tel·e·type·write·er (tel-é-tip-rí-tér) n. a telegraph instrument for transmitting messages by typing. te·le·type·write·er n.

tel·e·view (tel-é-vyoo) v. to watch by means of television. te·le·view·er n.

tel·e·vis (tel-é-viz) v. (tel-e·vis·ed, tel·e·vis·ing) to transmit by television.

tel·e·vi·sion (tel-é-vizh-óon) n. 1. a system for reproducing on a screen a view of scenes or events or plays etc. by radio transmission. 2. (also television set) an apparatus with a screen for receiving pictures transmitted in this way. 3. televised programs, television as a medium of communication.

Tel·ex (tel-eks) n. 1. (trademark) a system for sending or receiving messages on a teletypewriter using public telecommunication lines. 2. telex, a message sent by this. te·lex v. to send (a message), to communicate with (a person) thus.

tell (tel) v. (told, tell·ing) 1. to make known, especially in spoken or written words. 2. to give information to. 3. to utter, tell the truth. 4. to reveal a secret, promise you won't tell. 5. to decide or determine, how do you tell which button to press? 6. to distinguish, I can't tell him from his brother. 7. to produce a noticeable effect, the strain began to tell on him. 8. to direct or order, tell them to wait. tell·a·ble adj. tell fortures, see fortune. tell of, (informal) to reprimand or scold. tell on, (informal) to reveal the activities of (a person) by telling others. tell tales, to report what is meant to be secret. tell the time, to read the time from a clock. you're telling me, (slang) I am fully aware of that.

tell·er (tel-ér) n. 1. a person who tells or gives an account of something. 2. a person appointed to count votes. 3. a bank cashier. tel·ler·ship n.

tell·ing (tel-ing) adj. having a noticeable effect, striking, a telling argument. tell·ing·ly adv.

tell·tale (tel-tayl) n. 1. a person who tells tales. 2. a mechanical device that serves as an indicator. telltale adj. revealing or indicating something, a telltale blush.

tel·lu·ri·an (te-loor-í-án) adj. of the earth.

tel·lu·ri·um (te-loor-í-úm) n. a rare brittle lustrous silver-white element.

tel·ly (tel-ee) n. (British slang) television, a television set.

tem·blor (tem-blór) n. an earthquake.

> Do not confuse tremblor with trembler.

te·mer·i·ty (te-mer-i-tee) n. audacity, rashness.

temp (temp) n. (informal) a temporary employee.

temp. abbr. 1. temperature. 2. temporary.

tem·per (tem-pér) n. 1. the state of the mind as regards calmness or anger, in a good temper. 2. a fit of anger, in a temper. 3. calmness under provocation, keep or lose one's temper. 4. a tendency to have fits of anger, have a temper. 5. the condition of a tempered metal as regards hardness and elasticity. temper v. 1. to bring (metal) or be brought to the required degree of hardness and elasticity by heating and then cooling. 2. to bring (clay etc.) to the required consistency by moistening and mixing. 3. to moderate or soften the effects of; temper justice with mercy, be merciful in awarding punishment.

tem·per·a (tem-pè-râ) n. 1. a method of painting using colors mixed with egg. 2. a painting done in this way.

tem·per·a·ment (tem-pè-râ·mânt) n. 1. a person's nature as it controls the way he behaves and feels and thinks, a nervous temperament. 2. a nature that is liable to produce temperamental behavior.

tem·per·a·men·tal (tem-pè-râ·men·tal) adj. 1. of or in a person's temperament. 2. not having a calm temperament, having fits of excitability or moody be-temperance / tendency havior. tem·per·a·men·tal·ly adv.

tem·per·ance (tem-pē-rāns) n. 1. self-restrain in one’s behavior or in eating and drinking. 2. total abstinence from alco-holic drinks.
tem·per·a·tive (tem-pē-rēt) adj. 1. self-restrained in one’s behavior, moderate. 2. (of climate) having a mild temperature without extremes of heat and cold. tem·per·a·tive·ly adv. tem·per·a·tive·ness n.

Tem·per·ate Zone, the area of Earth’s surface between the Arctic Cir-cle and the tropic of Cancer or between the Antarctic Circle and the tropic of Capricorn, with a temperate climate.
tem·per·a·ture (tem-pē-rārē) n. 1. the intensity of heat or cold in a body or room or country etc. 2. a measure of this shown by a thermometer. 3. an abnormally high temperature of the body, have a temperature. □ take a person’s temperature, to measure it in order to ascertain any variation from normal.
tem·pest (tem-pēst) n. a violent storm.

tempest in a teapot, great excite-ment over a trivial matter.
tem·pes·tu·ous (tem-pēs-choo-ūs) adj. stormy, full of commotion. tem·pes·tu·ous·ly adv. tem·pes·tu·ous·ness n.

Tem·pi·lar (tem-plār) n. a member of a medi eval religious and military order (Knights Templars) for protection of pilgrims to the Holy Land.
tem·plate (tem-plāt) n. 1. a pattern or gauge, usually of thin board or metal, used as a guide for cutting metal or stone or wood etc. 2. a timber or metal plate used to distribute weight in a wall or under a beam.
tem·ple1 (tem-pēl) n. a building dedicated to the presence or service of a god or gods.
tem·ple2 n. the flat part at each side of the head between forehead and ear.
tem·po (tem-pō) n. (pl. -pos, -pl, pr. -pee) 1. the time or speed or rhythm of a piece of music, in waltz tempo. 2. the pace of any movement or activity, the tempo of the war is quickening.
tem·po·ral1 (tem-pō-rāl) adj. 1. secular, of worldly affairs as opposed to spiritual. 2. of or denoting time.
tem·po·ra·l2 adj. of the temple(s) of the head, the temporal artery.
tem·po·rar·y (tem-pō-rer-e) adj. lasting or meant to last for a limited time only, not permanent. temporary n. (pl. -rar·ies) a person employed temporarily.
tem·po·rar·i·ness n. tem·po·rar·i·ly (tem-pō-rer-i-le) adv.
tem·po·ri·ze (tem-pō-riz) v. (tem-poor behave, a tendency to fat or toward fatness; homicidal tendencies. 2. the direction in which something moves or changes, a trend, an upward tendency.

ten·den·tious (ten-den-shuhs) adj. (of a speech or piece of writing etc.) aimed at helping a cause, not impartial. ten·den·tious·ly adv. ten·den·tious·ness n.

ten·der (ten-dér) adj. 1. not tough or hard, easy to chew, tender meat. 2. easily damaged, delicate, tender plants; of tender age, young and vulnerable. 3. sensitive, painful when touched. 4. easily moved to pity or sympathy, a tender heart. 5. loving, gentle. ten·der·ly adv. ten·der·ness n.

tender² v. 1. to offer formally, tender one’s resignation. 2. to make a tender (for goods or work). tender n. a formal offer to supply goods or carry out work or buy at a stated price; put work out to tender, ask for such offers. ten·der·a·ble adj. ten·der·er n. □ legal tender, currency that must, by law, be accepted in payment.

tender³ n. 1. a person who tends or looks after something. 2. a vessel or vehicle traveling to and from a larger one to convey stores or passengers etc. 3. a car attached to a steam locomotive, carrying fuel and water etc.

ten·der·foot (ten-dér-fuut) n. (pl. -feets, -feet) a newcomer who is unused to hardships, an inexperienced person.

ten·der·heart·ed (ten-dér-hahr-tid) adj. having a tender heart, easily moved by pity. ten·der·heart·ed·ness n.

ten·der·ize (ten-dér-iz) v. (ten·der·ized, ten·der·iz·ing) to make more tender. ten·der·iz·er n.

ten·der·loin (ten-dér-loin) n. 1. the middle part of a beef or pork loin. 2. (in·for·mal) the district of a city known for its corruption and high crime rate.

ten·don (ten-don) n. a strong band or cord of tissue connecting a muscle to some other part. ten·di·ous (ten-di-nūs) adj.

ten·drill (ten-dril) n. 1. a threadlike part by which a climbing plant clings to a support. 2. a slender curl of hair etc.

ten·e·bru·ous (ten·e-brūs), ten·e·neb·ri·ous (tē-neb-ri-ūs) adj. (old use) dark, gloomy.

ten·e·men·t (ten·e·mēnt) n. 1. a badly maintained apartment house, generally in a crowded urban area. 2. any house with apartments for rent. 3. (in law) land or other permanent property held by a tenant, lands and tenements.

ten·et (ten-it) n. a firm belief or principle or doctrine of a person or group.

ten·fold (ten-fold) adj. & adv. ten times as much or as many.

10–4 (ten-four) n. (in CB radio) a term meaning “OK” or “yes” etc.

Tenn. abbr. Tennessee.

Ten·nes·see (ten·ē·see) a state of the U.S. Ten·nes·see·an adj. & n.

ten·nis (ten-is) n. a game for two or four persons played by striking a ball with rackets over a low net. □ tennis ball, a fuzzy-coated rubber ball used for playing tennis. tennis elbow, an inflamed elbow bursa caused by strain as in playing tennis. tennis shoe, a very flexible shoe with a soft rubber sole, worn for playing tennis.

ten·on (ten-on) n. a projection shaped to fit into a mortise.

ten·or (ten-ōr) n. 1. the general routine or course of something, disrupting the even tenor of his life. 2. the general meaning or drift, the tenor of his lecture. 3. the highest normal adult male singing voice, a singer with this, a part written for it. 4. a musical instrument with approximately the range of a tenor voice, tenor saxophone.

ten·pen·ny (ten-pen·ē) adj. costing ten pennies. □ tenpenny nail, a three-inch-long nail.

ten·pin (ten-pin) n. 1. a bowling pin. 2. tenpins, the game of bowling with ten bowling pins.

ten·sile (ten·sil) adj. tensile strength, resistance to breaking under tension. 2. capable of being stretched.

ten·slon (ten·shōn) n. 1. stretching, being stretched. 2. tenseness, the condition when feelings are tense. 3. the effect produced by forces pulling against each other. 4. electromotive force, voltage, high-tension wires. ten·slon·al adj.
tent (tent) n. a portable shelter or dwelling made of canvas etc. tent v. 1. to camp in a tent. 2. to cover (as) with a tent. □ tent caterpillar, a caterpillar that lives in groups in large webs spun on trees. tent show, a show presented in a tent, as a circus.

ten·ta·cle (ten-tä-kēl) n. a slender flexible part extending from the body of certain animals (as snails, octopuses), used for feeling or grasping things or moving. ten'ta·cled adj. ten·ta·cule (ten-tak-yŏ-lăr) adj.

ten·ta·tive (ten-tä-tiv) adj. hesitating, not definite, done as a trial, a tentative suggestion. ten'ta·tive·ly adv. ten'ta·tive·ness n.

ten·ter (ten-'ter) n. 1. each of the hooks that hold cloth stretched for drying during its manufacture. □ on tenterhooks, in a state of suspense or strain because of uncertainty.

tenth (tenth) adj. & n. 1. next after ninth. 2. one of ten equal parts of a thing. tenth'ly adv.

10–13 (ten-thur-teen) n. (in CB radio) weather and road conditions.

ten·u·ous (ten-yoo-ūs) adj. 1. very thin in form or consistency, tenuous threads. 2. having little substance or validity, very slight, tenuous distinctions. ten'u·ous·ly adv. ten'u·ous·ness n. ten·u·lty (ten-ú-lē) n.

ten·ure (ten-yūr) n. 1. the holding of office or of land or other permanent property or accommodation etc., the period or manner of this, freehold tenure. 2. a permanent appointment as a teacher etc.

ten·ured (ten-yūrd) adj. having tenure.

teo·sin·te (tay-oh-sin-tee) n. a tall grass of Mexico and Central America resembling corn and used as fodder.

tee·pee (tee-pe) n. a conical tent of the American Indians, made of skins, cloth, or canvas.

tep·id (tep-id) adj. slightly warm, lukewarm. tep'id·ly adv. tep'id·ness n. tep·id·ity (tep-id-i-tee) n.

tequi·la (tē-kee-lā) n. a Mexican liquor distilled from mescal.

ter. abbr. 1. terrace. 2. territorial. 3. territory.

ter·bi·um (tur-bi-ūm) n. a metallic element of the lanthanide series.

ter·cen·te·nar·y (tur-sen-te-ner-ee) n. (pl. -na·ries) a 300th anniversary. ter·cen·ten·ni·al (tur-sen-ten-i-āl) n. & adj.

term (term) n. 1. the time for which something lasts, a fixed or limited time, during his term of office; a term of imprisonment. 2. completion of this, a pregnancy approaching term. 3. one of the periods, each lasting for a number of weeks, during which instruction is given in a school, college, or university or in which a law court holds sessions, alternating with holidays or vacations. 4. each of the quantities or expressions in a mathematical series or ratio etc. 5. a word or phrase considered as the name or symbol of something, "the clink" is a slang term for "prison." 6. language or the manner of its use, protested in strong terms. 7. stipulations made, conditions offered or accepted, peace terms. 8. payment offered or asked, buy on easy terms. 9. a relation between people, on friendly terms term v. to call by a certain term or expression, this music is termed plainsong. □ bring to terms, to compel agreement to conditions. come to terms, to reach an agreement; to reconcile oneself to a difficulty etc., came to terms with his handicap. In terms of, expressed with regard to, what will you need in terms of equipment? term insurance, life insurance bought for a specific number of years and expiring completely at the end of the specified time.

ter·ma·gant (tur-mā-gant) n. a shrewish bullying woman.
ter·mi·na·ble (tur-mī-nā-bēl) adj. able to be terminated. □ Do not confuse terminable with terminal.
ter·mi·nal (tur-mī-nāl) adj. 1. of or forming or situated at the end or boundary of something. 2. forming or undergoing the last stage of a fatal disease, terminal cancer. terminal n. 1. a terminating point or part. 2. a terminus for railroad trains or long-distance buses, a building (at an airport or in a town) where air passengers arrive and depart. 3. a point of connection in an electric circuit or device. ter'mi·nal·ly adv. □ Do not confuse terminal with terminable.
ter·mi·nate (tur-mī-nāt) v. (ter-mī-nat-ed, ter-mī-nat·ing) to end. ter·mi·na·tor n. ter·mi·na·tive (tur-mī-nāt·iv) adj. ter·mi·na·tion (tur-mī-nā·shōn) n.
ter·mi·no·l·o·gy (tur-mī-nō-lō-jē) n. (pl. -gles) 1. the technical terms of a particular subject. 2. proper use of words as names or symbols. ter·mi·no·log·i·cal·ly adv.
ter·mi·nus (tur-mī-nūs) n. (pl. -ni, pr. -ni, -nūs·es) the end of something, the last station at the end of a railroad or bus route.
ter·mite (tur-mīt) n. a small insect that is very destructive to timber, especially in tropical areas (also called white ant, but not of the ant family). tern (turn) n. a seabird with long pointed wings and a forked tail.

ter-na-ry (tur-nú-ree) adj. 1. composed of three parts. 2. using three as a base, as in mathematics. 3. third.

terp-si-*cho-re-an (turp-sí-kó-ree-án) adj. having to do with dancing.

terr. abbr. 1. terrace. 2. territorial. 3. territory.

ter-race (ter-á) n. 1. a raised level place, one of a series of these into which a hillside is shaped for cultivation. 2. a nearly flat strip of land with an abrupt or sloping descent along the edges. 3. a paved area beside a house. 4. a small outside balcony. 5. the flat roof of a house, especially in the Far East. terrace v. (ter-raced, ter-rac-ing) to form into a terrace or terraces.

ter-ra cot-ta (ter-á kot-á) 1. a kind of brownish-red unglazed pottery. 2. its color.

ter-ra flíma (ter-á fur-má) dry land, the ground.

ter-rain (tě-rayn) n. a stretch of land, with regard to its natural features.

ter-ra in-co-gni-ta (ter-á in-kog-ní-tá) unknown or unexplored regions.

Latin.

ter-ra my-cin (ter-á mi-sín) n. (trade-mark) an antibiotic.

ter-rar-i-um (tě-rar-ee-úm) n. (pl. -rar-i-ums, -rar-i-a, pr. -rar-ce-á) a sealed transparent globe etc. containing growing plants. 2. a place where land animals are kept in nearly their natural state for observation.

ter-ráz-zo (tě-ráz-oh) n. a flooring material of stone chips set in concrete and given a smooth surface.

ter-res-tri-al (tě-res-trí-ál) adj. 1. of the earth. 2. of or living on land. terr-es-tri-al.ly adv.

ter-ri-ble (ter-i-bél) adj. 1. appalling, distressing. 2. extreme, hard to bear, the heat was terrible. 3. (informal) very bad, I'm terrible at tennis. ter-ri-bly adv. ter-ri-bly ness n.

ter-ri-er (ter-ee-ér) n. a kind of small hardy active dog.

ter-ri-fic (ter-ri-ík) adj. (informal) of great size or intensity, a terrific storm. 2. excellent, did a terrific job. ter-ri-fí-cal-ly adv.

ter-ri-fied (ter-i-fíd) adj. feeling terror.

ter-ri-to-ri-al (ter-i-toh-ri-ál) adj. 1. of territory or land. 2. limited to a district. territorial waters, the sea within a certain distance of a country's coast and subject to its control.

ter-ri-to-ry (ter-i-toh-ree) n. (pl. -ries) 1. land under the control of a ruler or state or city etc. 2. Territory, a country or area forming part of the U.S. or Australia or Canada but not ranking as a state or province. 3. an area for which a person has responsibility or over which a salesman etc. operates. 4. a sphere of action or thought, a province. 5. an area claimed or dominated by one person or group or animal and defended against others.

ter-ror (ter-ór) n. 1. extreme fear. 2. a terrifying person or thing. 3. (informal) a formidable person, a troublesome person or thing.

ter-ri-ter-lism (ter-ó-riz-em) n. use of violence and intimidation, especially for political purposes. ter-ror-ist n. & adj.

ter-ry (ter-ee) n. (pl. -ries) (also terry cloth) a cotton fabric used for towels etc., with raised loops left uncut.

ter-se (turs) adj. (ters•er, ters•est) concise, curt. terse•ly adv. terse•ness n.

ter•ti-ar-y (tur-shí-er-ee) adj. 1. coming after secondary, of the third rank or stage etc. 2. Tertiary, of the first geologic period of the Cenozoic era. Tertiary n. the Tertiary period.

tes-sel-late (tes•el-layt) v. (tes•sel-lat-ed, tes•sel-lat-ing) to make or lay out in a mosaic pattern of small square blocks, tesselated pavement. tes•sel-la-tion (tes•el-lay-shon) n.

test (test) n. 1. a critical examination or evaluation of the qualities or abilities etc. of a person or thing. 2. a means or procedure for making this. 3. an examination (especially in a school) on a limited subject. test v. to subject to a test. put to the test, to cause to undergo a test. stand the test, to undergo it successfully. test ban, a ban on tests, especially tests of nuclear bombs. test case, a lawsuit providing a decision that is taken as applying to similar cases in the future. test drive, a drive taken in order to judge the performance of a car before buying it. test pattern, a pattern on a television screen, used for adjusting reception. test pilot, a pilot employed to fly new airplanes in order to test their performance. test tube, a tube of thin glass with one end closed, used in laboratories. test-tube baby, (informal) a baby conceived by artificial insemination, or developing elsewhere than in a mother's body.

test. abbr. 1. testator. 2. testatrix. 3. testimony.

Test. abbr. Testament.

tes-tamen-t (tes-tä-men-t) n. 1. a will. 2. a written statement of one's beliefs. □ Old Testament, the books of the Bible telling of the history of the Jews and their beliefs. New Testament, the books of the Bible telling of the life and teaching of Christ and his earliest followers.

tes-tan-tes (tes-tän-tës) n. In the Old Testament, the persons who have made a will.

tes-ta-tor (tes-tä-tör) n. a person who has made a will.

tes-ta-triek (tes-tä-triks) n. a woman testator.

tes-ter (tes-tër) n. 1. a person or thing that tests.

test-er² (tes-tër) n. a canopy, especially over a four-poster bed.

tes-tes see testis.

tes-tic-le (tes-tik-lë) n. a male reproductive organ in which sperm-bearing fluid is produced, (in man) each of the two enclosed in the scrotum.

tes-ti-fly (tes-të-flëy) v. (tes-të-flëd, tes-ti-fly-ing) 1. to bear witness to (a fact etc.), to give evidence. 2. to be evidence of.

tes-ti-mo-ni-al (tes-të-mo-në-ël) adj. being or given in a person's will.

tes-ti-fi (tes-të-fe) v. (tes-të-fëd, tes-të-fëd-ing) 1. to bear witness to (a fact etc.), to give evidence. 2. to be evidence of.

-tes (tes-tës) n. (pl. -ties, pr. teez) a testicle.

tes-tos-ter-one (tes-tos-të-ron) n. a male sex hormone formed in the testicles.

teta-nus (tet-ä-nuhs) n. a disease in which the muscles contract and stiffen (as in lockjaw), caused by bacteria that enter the body. tet-a-nal adj.

tète-à-tète (tayt-à-tayt) n. a private conversation, especially between two people.

tète-à-tète adj. & adv. together in private.

teth-er (teth-ër) n. a rope or chain by which an animal is fastened while grazing. tether v. to fasten (an animal) with a tether. □ at the end of one's tether, having reached the limit of one's endurance.

tet-rah-dron (tet-rah-dron) n. (pl. -drons, -dra, pr. -dë-rah) a solid with four sides, a pyramid with three triangular sides and a triangular base. tetrahedral adj.

tetra-m-e-ter (tet-ra-më-ter) n. a line of verse with four metrical feet.

tetra-rh (tetrohr) n. 1. one of four joint rulers. 2. (in Roman history) the governor of the fourth part of a country or province.

tetra-v-lent (tet-ra-vay-lënt) adj. having a valence of four.

tetra-xide (tet-rah-xid) n. an oxide having four oxygen atoms in each molecule.

Teut. abbr. Teutonic.

Teu-ton-ic (too-ton-ik) adj. 1. of the Germanic peoples or their languages. 2. German. Teu-ton (too-ton) n.

Tex. abbr. Texas.

Tex-as (tek-sas) a state of the U.S. Tex' an adj. & n. □ Texas leaguer, (in baseball) a fly ball that falls to the ground between the infield and the outfield and results in a base hit.

text (tekst) n. 1. the wording of something written or printed. 2. the main body of a book or page etc. as distinct from illustrations or notes. 3. a sentence from Scripture used as the subject of a sermon or discussion. 4. a book or play etc. prescribed for study.

tex-tile (teks-tël) n. woven or machine-knitted fabric. textile adj. of textiles.

tex-tu-al (teks-choo-al) adj. of or in a text. tex-tu-al-ly adv.

tex-tu-re (teks-chur) n. the way a fabric or other substance feels to the touch, its thickness or firmness or solidity. tex-tu-ral adj.

tex-tured (teks-chured) adj. 1. having a certain texture, coarse-textured. 2. (of yarn or fabric) crimped or curled or looped.

T (tee) formation (in football) an offensive formation in which the quarterback stands directly behind the center, the fullback behind the quarterback, and the halfbacks on either side, forming a T.

T-group (tee-group) n. a group involved in sensitivity training.

Th symbol thorium.

Th. abbr. Thursday.
theater / theosophy eye; the rich), or an occupation or pursuit etc. (too fond of the bottle). 2. (pr. the) used to emphasize excellence or importance; he's the Sir Lawrence, the one who is so famous. 3. (informal) my, our, your, etc., the wife. 4. (of prices) per, shoes at $55 the pair. the adv. in that degree, by that amount, all the better; the more the merrier.

theat. abbr. 1. theater. 2. theatrical.
theater (thee-ə-ter) n. 1. a building or outdoor structure for the performance of plays and similar entertainments. 2. a room or hall for lectures etc. with seats in tiers. 3. an operating theater. 4. a scene of important events, Belgium was the theater of war. 5. the writing, acting, and producing of plays. □theater of the absurd, drama that uses seemingly pointless or ridiculous episodes and language in an effort to depict futility, loneliness, and anxiety in 20th-century life.

theater weapons, those that are intermediate between tactical and strategic.

theater-in-the-round (thee-ə-ter-in-the-round) n. a dramatic performance on a stage surrounded by spectators.

theatre = theater.

theatrical (thi-at-ri-kəl) adj. 1. of or for the theater. 2. (of behavior) exaggerated and designed to make a showy effect. theatrical (theatrical) adj. theatrical (theatrical) adj. theatrical (theatrical) adj.

theater adj. 1. a building or outdoor structure for the performance of plays and similar entertainments. 2. a room or hall for lectures etc. with seats in tiers. 3. an operating theater. 4. a scene of important events, Belgium was the theater of war. 5. the writing, acting, and producing of plays. □theater of the absurd, drama that uses seemingly pointless or ridiculous episodes and language in an effort to depict futility, loneliness, and anxiety in 20th-century life.

theater weapons, those that are intermediate between tactical and strategic.

theater-in-the-round (theater-in-the-round) n. a dramatic performance on a stage surrounded by spectators.

theater adj. 1. a building or outdoor structure for the performance of plays and similar entertainments. 2. a room or hall for lectures etc. with seats in tiers. 3. an operating theater. 4. a scene of important events, Belgium was the theater of war. 5. the writing, acting, and producing of plays. □theater of the absurd, drama that uses seemingly pointless or ridiculous episodes and language in an effort to depict futility, loneliness, and anxiety in 20th-century life.

theater weapons, those that are intermediate between tactical and strategic.

theater-in-the-round (theater-in-the-round) n. a dramatic performance on a stage surrounded by spectators.

thee (thee) pronoun the objective case of thou1.

theft (theft) n. stealing.

their (their) adj. or of belonging to them.

Do not confuse their with there or they're.

theirs (theirs) possessive pronoun of or belonging to them, the thing(s) belonging to them. It is incorrect to write their's (see the note under its).

theism (thee-iz-əm) n. belief in the existence of gods or a god. theist adj. & n. theistic (theistic) adj. theistic (theistic) adj. theistic (theistic) adj.

them (them) pronoun 1. the objective case of they, we saw them. 2. (informal) they, it's them all right.

theme (them) n. 1. the subject about which a person speaks or writes or thinks. 2. a melody that is repeated or on which variations are constructed. 3. a school composition or essay on a given subject. thematic (thematic) adj.

themetic (themetic) adj. 1. of or relating to themes. 2. of, relating to, or having to do with music or music composition. □theematic music, music composed to illustrate a literary or historical subject.

themee (theme) n. 1. the subject about which a person speaks or writes or thinks. 2. a melody that is repeated or on which variations are constructed. 3. a school composition or essay on a given subject. thematic (thematic) adj. thematism (thematism) n. thematize (thematize) v. thematizing (thematizing) n. thematize (thematize) v. thematization (thematization) n. thematize (thematize) v.

themef (theme) n. 1. the subject about which a person speaks or writes or thinks. 2. a melody that is repeated or on which variations are constructed. 3. a school composition or essay on a given subject. thematic (thematic) adj.

themefor (theme-for) n. (pl. -fors) 1. a set of ideas formulated (by reasoning from known facts) to explain something, Darwin's theory of evolution. 2. an opinion or supposition in general (contrasted with practice). 3. ideas or suppositions which are based, theory of music.

theosophy (theosophy) n. (pl. -phies) any of several systems of philosophy which aim at a direct knowledge of God by means of spiritual ecstasy and contemplation. the·os’·o·phist n. the·o· soph·ic (the·os’·of·ik) adj. the·o· soph·i·cal adj. the·o· soph·i·cal ly adv.
ther·a·peu·tic (ther·a·pyoo·tik) adj. of the healing of disease, curative. ther·a·peu·ti·cal ly adv.
ther·a·peu·tics (ther·a·pyoo·tiks) n. medical treatment of disease.
ther·a·pist (ther·a·pit) n. a specialist in a certain kind of therapy.
ther·a·py (ther·a·pee) n. (pl. -pies) 1. any treatment designed to relieve or cure an illness or disability. 2. physiotherapy, psychotherapy.
there (thair) adv. 1. in or at or to that place. 2. at that point in a process or series of events. 3. in that matter, I can’t agree with you there. 4. used for emphasis in calling attention, hey, you there! 5. used to introduce a sentence where the verb comes before its subject, there was plenty to eat. there n. that place, we live near there. there interj. an exclamation of satisfaction or dismay (there! what did I tell you!) or used to soothe a child etc. (there, there!). > Do not confuse there with their or they’re.
there·a·bout (thair·a·bowts), there·a·bout (thair·a·bowt) adv. 1. somewhere near there. 2. somewhere near that number or quantity or time etc.
there·a·fter (thair·a·fter) adv. after that.
there·at (thair·at) adv. 1. at that place. 2. on that account. 3. after that.
there·by (thair·br, thair·bi) adv. by that means; thereby hangs a tale, there is something that could be told about that.
there·for (thair·for) adv. in return for.
there·fore (thair·fohr) adv. for that reason.
there·from (thair·from) adv. (old use) from that or it.
there·in (thair·in) adv. (formal) in that place, in that respect.
there·in·a·fter (thair·in·a·fter) adv. (formal) later in the same document.
there·of (thair·of) adv. (formal) of that, of it.
there·on (thair·on) adv. 1. on that or it. 2. (old use) thereafter.
there·to (thair·too) adv. (formal) to that, to it.
there·to·fore (thair·tō·fohr) adv. (formal) before that time.
there·up·on (thair·ū·pon) adv. in consequence of that, immediately after that.
there·with (thair·with, -with) adv. 1. (formal) with that. 2. (old use) thereafter. therm. abbr. thermometer.
ther·mal (thir·məl) adj. 1. of heat, using or operated by heat. 2. warm or hot, thermal springs. 3. designed to provide insulation and help retain heat, thermal under\nwear; thermal windows. thermal n. a rising current of hot air. ther·mal·ly adv. □ thermal barrier, the limit imposed on the speed of a rocket or airplane etc. by the high temperature resulting from friction between such objects and Earth’s atmosphere when traveling at supersonic speeds. thermal pollution, pol\nution caused by discharging heated water into a river or lake etc. to the detriment of plant and animal life. ther\nal spring, a spring producing water that is relatively warm. thermal unit, a unit for measuring heat.
ther·mic (thir·mik) adj. thermal.
therm·i·on·ic (thir·mi·on·ik) tube a vacuum tube in which a flow of electrons is emitted by heated electrodes, used in radio etc.
ther·mis·tor (thir·mis·tər) n. an electrical resistor whose resistance is greatly reduced by heating.
ther·mo·cline (thir·mə·klən) n. a layer of water in a large body of water that separates warmer water above from colder water below. ther·mo·cline·al (thir·mə·klin·əl) adj.
ther·mo·cou·ple (thir·mə·kup·əl) n. a device for measuring temperatures by means of the thermoelectric voltage de\veloping between two pieces of wire of different metals joined to each other at each end.
ther·mo·dy·nam·ics (thir·mə·də·nam·iks) n. a branch of physics dealing with the relation between heat and other forms of energy. ther·mo·dy·nam·ic (thir·mə·də·nam·ik) adj. ther·mo·dy·nam·ical·ly adv.
ther·mo·e·lec·tric (thir·mə·e·lek·trik) adj. producing electricity by difference of temperature. ther·mo·e·lec·tri·cal·ly adv. ther·mo·e·lec·tri·cal·ly adv.
thet·ro·mum·e·ter (thir·mə·mə·tər) n. an instrument for measuring temperature, especially a graduated glass tube containing mercury or alcohol that expands when heated. ther·mom·e·try n. ther·mo·met·ric (thir·mə·met·rik) adj. ther·mo·met·ri·cal adj. ther·mo· met·ri·cal·ly adv.
ther·mo·nu·cle·ar (thir·mə·nuˈklēər) adj. of nuclear reactions that occur at very high temperatures. □ thermonuclear bomb, a bomb that uses such reactions.
ther·mo·plas·tic (thir·mə·plas·tik) adj. becoming soft and plastic when heated and hardening when cooled. thermo\plastic n. a thermoplastic substance. ther·mo·plas·tic·i·ty (thir·mə·plas·tik·əˈti) n.
ther·mo·reg·u·la·tor (thür-moh-reg-yū-lay-tör) n. a device that regulates temperature.
ther·mos (thür-mōs) n. a kind of vacuum bottle.
ther·mo·set·ting (thür-mō-set-ing) adj. (of plastics) setting permanently when heated.
ther·mo·sphere (thür-mō-sfēr) n. the upper region of Earth's atmosphere that extends from the mesosphere to outer space and in which the temperature increases with distance away from Earth.
ther·mo·spher·ic (thür-mō-sfēr-ik) adj.
ther·mo·stat (thür-mō-stat) n. a device that automatically regulates temperature by cutting off and restoring the supply of heat to a piece of equipment or a room etc. ther·mo·stat·ic (thür-mō-stat-ik) adj. ther·mo·stat·i·cal·ly adv.
ther·mo·stat·ics (thür-mō-stat-iks) n. the branch of physics that deals with the equilibrium of heat.
thes·au·rus (thes-ör-ūs) n. (pl. -sau·rus·es, -sau·ri, pr. -sor-ī) 1. a dictionary or encyclopedia, a thesaurus of slang. 2. a book containing sets of words grouped according to their meanings.
thes·sis (thee-sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -seez) 1. a statement or theory put forward and supported by arguments. 2. a lengthy written essay submitted by a candidate for a university degree.
Thes·plan (thes-plan) adj. (also thes·plan) of drama and the theater. thes·plan n. an actor or actress.
Thes·sa·lo·nian (thes-ə-lō-nē-ən) n. either of two books of the New Testament, written by St. Paul to the Church at Thessalonica.
the·ta (thay-tə) n. the eighth letter of the Greek alphabet (Θ). they (they) pronoun 1. the people or things mentioned. 2. people in general, they say the play is a success. 3. those in authority, they are putting a tax on margarine. 4. used informally instead of “he or she.” I am never angry with anyone unless they deserve it.
they'd (thayd) = they had, they would.
they'll (thayl) = they will.
they're (thair) = they are. ❚ Do not confuse they're with their or there.
they've (thayv) = they have.
thi·a·mine (thĭ-ə-min) n. (also thiamin) vitamin B, essential to nerve function.
thick (thik) adj. 1. of great or specified distance between opposite surfaces. 2. (of a line etc.) broad not fine. 3. made of thick material, a thick coat. 4. having units that are crowded or numerous, dense, a thick forest; thick fog; thick darkness, difficult to see through. 5. densely covered or filled, her roses were thick with aphids. 6. (of a liquid or paste) relatively stiff in consistency, not flowing easily; thick soup, thickened. 7. (of the voice) not sounding clear. 8. (of an accent) very noticeable, a thick brogue. 9. stupid. 10. (informal) on terms of close association or friendliness, her parents are very thick with mine. thick adv. thickly, blows came thick and fast. thick n. the busiest part of a crowd or fight or activity, in the thick of it. thick·ly adv. ❚ a bit thick, (slang) beyond what is reasonable or endurable. thick·head, stupidity; a feeling of confusion. through thick and thin, in spite of all the difficulties.
thick·en (thik·en) v. to make or become thicker or of a stiffer consistency; the plot thickens, becomes more complicated.
thick·ened·er (thik·en·ər) n. thick·en·ing n. thick·en·ing·ly adv. thick·et (thik·it) n. a number of shrubs and small trees etc. growing close together.
thick·head·ed (thik·hed·id) adj. stupid.
thick·ish (thik·ish) adj. rather thick.
thick·ness (thik·nis) n. 1. the quality of being thick, the extent to which something is thick. 2. a layer, use three thicknesses of cardboard. 3. the part between opposite surfaces, steps cut in the thickness of the wall.
thick·set (thik·set) adj. 1. with parts set or growing close together, a thickset hedge. 2. having a stocky or burly body.
thick·skinned (thik·skind) adj. not very sensitive to criticism or snubs.
thick·wit·ted (thik·wit·id) adj. stupid.
thief (theef) n. (pl. thieves, pr. theevz) one who steals, especially stealthily and without violence. thiev·ish (thee-vish) adj.
thiev·ous (theev·i·əs) n. (pl. thiefes, pr. theevz) the act of stealing, theft, or thieves.
thin·kle·ful (thĭn·kle·ful) n. (pl. -fuls) a very small quantity of liquid to drink.
Thin·bu (tim·boo) the capital of Bhutan. thin (thin) adj. (thin·ner, thin·nest) 1. of small thickness or diameter. 2. (of a line etc.) narrow, not broad. 3. made of thin material, a thin dress. 4. lean, not plump. 5. not dense or plentiful. 6. having units that are not crowded or numerous. 7. (of a liquid or paste) flowing easily, not thick. 8. lacking strength or substance or an important ingredient, feeble, a thin excuse. thin adj. thinly, cut the bread thin. thin v. (thinned, thinning) to make or become thinner. thinly adv. thinness n. 1. thin out, to make or become fewer or less crowded; thin out seedlings, remove a few to improve the growth of the rest.

thine (thin) adj. (old use) of or belonging to thee. thine possessive pronoun (old use) the thing(s) belonging to thee.
	hing (thing) n. 1. whatever is or may be an object of perception or knowledge or thought. 2. an unnamed object or item, there are six things on my list. 3. an inanimate object as distinct from a living creature. 4. (in pity or contempt) a creature, poor thing! 5. an act or fact or idea or task etc., a difficult thing to do; she takes things too seriously. 6. a specimen or type of something, the latest thing in hats. 7. things, personal belongings, clothing, pack your things; implements or utensils, my painting things; circumstances or conditions, things began to improve.

\[\text{do one's own thing, (informal)}\] to follow one's own interests or urges. have a thing about, (informal) to have an obsession or prejudice about. make a thing of it, to get excited about it; to insist that it is important. the thing, what is conventionally proper or is fashionable; what is important or suitable, that bowl is just the thing for roses.

thing-a-ma-jig (thing-a-ma-jig), thing-u ma-bob (thing-u ma-bob) n. (informal) what'd-you-call-it.

think (thingk) v. (thought, think-ing) 1. to exercise the mind in an active way, to form connected ideas. 2. to have as an idea or opinion, we think we shall win. 3. to form as an intention or plan, can't think what to do next; she's thinking of emigrating; I couldn't think of doing that, I regard that course as unacceptable. 4. to take into consideration, think how nice it would be. 5. to call to mind, to remember, can't think where I put it. 6. to be of the opinion, to judge, it is thought to be a fake. think n. (informal) an act of thinking, must have a think about that.

think-a-ble adj. think'a-bly adv.

\[\text{put on one's thinking cap, (informal)}\] to try to find a solution to a problem by thought. think again, to reconsider and change one's mind. think aloud, to utter one's thoughts as they occur. think better of it, to change one's mind after reconsideration. think nothing of, to consider unremarkable.

think out, to analyze or produce by thought. think over, to reach a decision about by thinking. think tank, (informal) a research organization that analyzes political or social or economic etc. problems for the government or for business firms. think twice, to consider very carefully before doing something. think up, (informal) to invent or produce by thought.

think'er (thing-ker) n. a person who thinks deeply or in a specified way, an original thinker.

think'ing (thing-king) adj. using thought or rational judgment about things, all thinking men.

think'er (thin'er) n. a substance for thinning paint.

think'ish (thin-ish) adj. rather thin.

think'lin'ned (thin-skind) adj. 1. having a thin skin. 2. oversensitive to criticism or snubs.

third (third) adj. next after second. third n. 1. something that is third. 2. third gear. 3. one of three equal parts of a thing. third adv. in the third place.

third'ly adv. \[\text{third base, (in baseball)}\] the third in order of bases from home plate; the portion of the field near this base. third baseman, the player stationed at third base. third class, a low class in accommodations etc.; a class of mail for printed circulars etc. third degree, (slang) long and severe questioning by police to get information or a confession. third dimension, depth, the quality that makes an object solid; that which adds to reality or significance.

third party, another person etc. besides the two principal ones involved. third-party insurance, that in which the insurer gives protection to the insured against liability for damage or injury to any other person. third person, see person.

third rail, the rail of an electric railroad that carries the electric current. Third World (often third world), the developing countries of Asia, Africa, and Latin America not politically aligned with Communist or Western nations.

third-rate (third-rayt) adj. very inferior in quality.

thirst (thirst) n. 1. the feeling caused by a desire or need to drink. 2. a strong desire, a thirst for adventure. thirst v. to feel a thirst.

thirst'y (thur-stee) adj. (thirsty): thirst-i-er, thirst-i-est 1. feeling thirst. 2. (of land) in need of water. 3. (informal) causing thirst, thirsty work. thirst'ily adv. thirst'i-ness n.

thir-teen (thur-teen) adj. & n. one more than twelve (13, XIII). thir'teenth adj. & n. thir·ties (thr-tiez) n. pl. the numbers or years or degrees of temperature from 30 to 39.
thir·ty (thr-tee) adj. & n. (pl. -ties) three times ten (30, XXX). thir'ti·eth adj. & n.
this (this) adj. & pronoun (pl. these, pr. theez) 1. the person or thing close at hand or touched or just mentioned or about to be mentioned, the nearer or more obvious one of two. 2. the present day or time, she ought to have been here by this. this adv. (informal) to such an extent, we're surprised he got this far.
this and that, various things. this world, see world (definition 5).
this·tie (this-eh) n. a prickly plant with purple, white, or yellow flowers. this'tily adj.
this·tie·down (this-eh-down) n. the very light fluff on thistle seeds by which they are carried by the wind.
thith·er (thith-er) adv. (also thither·ward, pr. thith-er·ward) to or toward that place. thither adj. on the more distant side.
tho, tho' (informal) = though.
thole (thohl) n. (also hole·pin) a peg set in the gunwale of a boat to serve as an oarlock.
thong (thong) n. a narrow strip of hide or leather used as a fastening or lash etc.
tho·rax (thohr-aks) n. (pl. tho·raxes, tho·ra·ces, pr. thoehr-ä-seez) the part of the body between head or neck and the abdomen. tho·rac·ic (thoh-rik) adj.
tho·ril·um (thohr-ih-um) n. a radioactive metallic substance.
thorn (thorn) n. 1. a sharp pointed projection on a plant. 2. a thorny tree or shrub. thorn·less adj. thorn·proof' adj. a thorn in one's flesh, a constant source of annoyance. thorn apple, a prickly poisonous fruit, especially of jimson weed; the fruit of the hawthorn.
thorn·y·ly (thorn·ee·ly) adv. (thorn·i·er, thorn·i·est) 1. having many thorns. 2. like a thorn. 3. troublesome, difficult to deal with, a thorny problem. thorn·ly adj. thor·n·less n.
tho·ron (thohr-ohn) n. a radioactive isotope of radon resulting from the decomposition of thorium.
thor·ough (thoh·oh) adj. complete in every way, not merely superficial, doing things or done with great attention to detail. thor·ough·ly adv. thor·ough·ness n.
thor·ough·bred (thoh·oh·bred) adj. (especially of a horse) bred of pure or pedigree stock. thoroughbred n. a thoroughbred animal.
thor·ough·fare (thoh·oh·fair) n. a public way open at both ends.
thor·ough·go·ing (thoh·oh·go·ing) adj. thorough.
tho·se see that.
thou (thou) pronoun (old use) you.
thou (thou) n. (pl. thou·s, thou) (slang) a thousand, especially a thousand dollars.
though (thoh) conj. in spite of the fact that, even supposing, it's true, though hard to believe. though adv. (informal) however, she's right, though.
thought (thawt) (tense) 1. thinking deeply, often absorbed in thought. 2. (of a book or writer or remark etc.) showing signs of careful thought. 3. showing thought for the needs of others, considerate. thought·ful·ly adv. thought·ful·ness n. thought·less (thawt·lis) adj. 1. not alert to possible effects or consequences. 2. inconsiderate. thought·less·ly adv.
thought·less·ness n.
thought·pro·vok·ing (thawt·prö·vök·king) adj. giving rise to serious thought.
thou·sand (thow·zand) adj. & n. (pl. -sands, sand) ten hundred (1000, M). thou·sandth adj. & n.
thou·sand·fold (thow·zand·fohld) adj. & adv. one thousand times as much or as many.
thrall (thrawl) n. 1. a slave of or to a person or thing. 2. bondage, in thrall.
thrall·dom (thrawl·döm) n. bondage.
thrash (thras) v. 1. to beat with a stick or whip. 2. to defeat thoroughly in a contest. 3. to thrash. 4. to hit with repeated blows like a flail, to make violent movements. thrash·er n. thrash out, to discuss thoroughly.
thras·her (thras·her) n. a long-tailed thrushlike bird of North America.
thread (thred) n. 1. a thin length of any substance. 2. a length of spun cotton or wool etc. used in making cloth or in sewing or knitting. 3. something compared to this; lose the thread of an argument, lose the chain of thought connecting it;
pick up the threads, proceed with something after an interruption. 4. the spiral ridge of a screw. thread v. 1. to pass a thread through the eye of (a needle). 2. to pass (a strip of film etc.) through or around something into the proper position for use. 3. to put (beads) on a thread. 4. to cut a thread on (a screw). thread'er n. □ thread one's way, to make one's way through (a crowd or streets etc.).

thread-bare (thread-bair) adj. 1. of (cloth) with the nap worn off and threads visible. 2. (of a person) wearing threadbare or shabby clothes.

threat (threat) n. 1. an expression of one's intention to punish or hurt a person or thing. 2. an indication of something undesirable, there's a threat of rain. 3. a person or thing regarded as liable to bring danger or catastrophe, machinery was seen as a threat to people's jobs.

threat'en (threat'en) v. 1. to make a threat or threats against (a person etc.), to try to influence by threats. 2. to be a warning of, the clouds threatened rain. 3. to seem likely to be or do something undesirable, the scheme threatens to be expensive. 4. to be a threat to, the dangers that threaten us. threat'en-er n. threat'en-ing ly adv.
	hree (three) adj. & n. one more than two (3, III). □ three base hit, (in baseball) a hit that allows the batter to advance to third base. three-four time, three-quarter time. three-point landing, a perfect landing of an airplane on the two main wheels and the tail wheel or skid simultaneously. three-ring circus, a circus having performances in three rings at the same time; (informal) a scene of complete confusion, an extravagant performance.

three-bag·ger (three-bag'er) n. (informal) a three base hit.

three-cor·nered (three-kor-nerd) adj. 1. triangular. 2. (of a contest) between three parties.

three-di·men·sion·al (three-di-men-shō-nāl) adj. (also 3-D) having three dimensions (length, breadth, depth), or appearing to have depth as well as length and breadth.

three-fold (three-fōld) adj. & adv. 1. three times as much or as many. 2. consisting of three parts.

three-hand·ed (three-han·did) adj. (of a card game) played by three people.

three-lane (three-layn) adj. marked out for three lanes of traffic.

three-legged (three-leg-id) adj. having three legs; three-legged race, a race between pairs of runners with the right leg of one tied to the left leg of the other.

three-ply (three-pli) adj. made of three strands or layers.

three-quar·ter (three-kwōr-tār) adj. consisting of three quarters of a whole.

three-quarter time, (in music) three beats in a bar, with a time signature of 3/4, waltz time.

three·score (three-skōhr) n. (old use) sixty; threescore years and ten, the age of 70 as a normal limit of life.

three·some (three-sóm) n. three people together, a trio.

three-wheel·er (three-hwel·lər) n. a vehicle with three wheels, as a tricycle.

thren·o·dy (thren·o·dē) n. (pl. -dēs) a song of lamentation, especially on a person's death.

thresh (thresh) v. 1. to beat out or separate (grain) from wheat, rye, etc. 2. to make violent movements, threshing about.

thresh'er n.

thresh·old (thresh·old) n. 1. a piece of wood or stone forming the bottom of a doorway. 2. the entrance of a house etc. 3. the point of entry or beginning of something, on the threshold of a new era. 4. the lowest limit at which a stimulus becomes perceptible. 5. the highest limit at which pain etc. is bearable.

threw see throw.

thrice (thris) adv. (old use) three times.

thrift (thrift) n. economical management of money or resources. thrift'less adj.

thrift·shop, a shop selling used articles, especially for charity.

thrift·y (thrift·tee) adj. (thrift·l·er, thrift·l·est) practicing thrift, economical.

thrift·l·ly adv. thrift·l·ness n.

thrift (thril) n. a nervous tremor caused by emotion or sensation, a wave of feeling or excitement. thrill v. to feel or cause to feel a thrill. thrill'ing·ly adv.

thrift·er (thril·ər) n. an exciting story or play or film, especially one involving crime.

thrips (thrips) n. (pl. thrips) an insect that is harmful to plants. □ Note that a thrips is the correct singular form, not a thrip.

thrive (thrv) v. (throve or thrived, thrived or thriv·en, thriv·ing) 1. to grow or develop well and vigorously. 2. to prosper, to be successful, a thriving industry.

throat (throtch) n. 1. the front of the neck. 2. the passage in the neck through which food passes to the esophagus and air passes to the lungs. 3. a narrow passage or funnel.

throat·y (throh·tee) adj. (throat·l·er, throat·l·est) 1. uttered deep in the throat. 2. hoarse. throat'ly adv. throat'ness n.
throb (throb) v. (throbbed, throbbing) 1. (of the heart or pulse, etc.) to beat with more than usual force or rapidity. 2. to vibrate or sound with a persistent rhythm; a throbbing wound, giving pain in a steady rhythm. throb n. throbbing.
throe (throe) n. (pl. throes) a severe pang of pain. □ in the throes of, (informal) struggling with the task of, in the throes of spring-cleaning.
throm·bo·sils (throm·bo·sis) n. (pl. -ses, pr. -sees) formation of a clot of blood in a blood vessel or organ of the body. throm·bot·ic (throm·bot·ic) adj.
throm·bus (throm·bus) n. (pl. -bi, pr. -bi) a clot formed in thrombosis.
throne (thron) n. 1. the special chair or seat used by a king, queen, or bishop etc. on ceremonial occasions. 2. sovereign power, came to the throne.
throng (throng) n. a crowded mass of people. throng v. 1. to come or go or press in a throng. 2. to fill (a place) with a throng.
throt·tle (throt·el) n. a valve controlling the flow of fuel or steam etc. to an engine, the lever or pedal operating this. throttle v. (throt·tled, throt·tling) 1. to strangle. 2. to suppress. throt·tler n. □ throttle back or down, to obstruct the flow of fuel or steam and reduce the speed of (an engine).

through (thru) prep. 1. from end to end or side to side of, entering at one side and coming out at the other. 2. between or among, scuffling through fallen leaves. 3. from beginning to end of, so as to have finished or completed; he is through his exam, has passed it. 4. up to and including, Friday through Tuesday. 5. by reason of, by the agency or means or fault of, lost it through carelessness. through adv. 1. through something. 2. with a connection made to a desired telephone etc., you're through to Chicago. 3. finished, wait till I'm through with these papers. 4. having no further dealings, I'm through with that monster! through adj. going through something, (of traffic) passing through a place without stopping, (of travel or passengers etc.) going to the end of a journey without a change of line or vehicle etc. □ through and through, through again and again; thoroughly, completely. through street, a street where traffic has the right of way at intersections.

through·out (thru·out) prep. right through, from beginning to end of (a place or course or period). throughout adv. in every part, in all respects, timber was rotten throughout.

through·way = thruway.
throve (throv) see thrive.
throw (throb) v. (threw, pr. throo, thrown, throw·ing) 1. to send with some force through the air or in a certain direction; throw a shadow, cause there to be one. 2. to use as a missile, throw stones. 3. to hurl to the ground, the horse threw its rider. 4. (informal) to discount, the question threw me. 5. to put (clothes etc.) on or off hastily or casually. 6. to cause (dice) to fall to the table, to obtain (a number) by this. 7. to shape (rounded pottery) on a potter's wheel. 8. to turn or direct or move (a part of the body) quickly, threw his head back. 9. to cause to be in a certain state, they were thrown out of work; thrown into confusion. 10. to cause to extend, threw a bridge across the river. 11. to move (a switch or lever) so as to operate it. 12. to have (a fit or tantrum), throw n. 1. the act of throwing. 2. the distance something is or may be thrown. 3. a light shawl or blanket. throw'er n. □ throw a party, (slang) to hold a party. throw away, to part with as useless or unwanted; to fail to make use of, throw away an opportunity. throw in, to include (a thing) with what one is selling, without additional charge; to put in (a remark) casually or as an addition. throw in the towel or sponge, to admit defeat or failure and abandon a contest or effort. (D From the practice of admitting defeat in a boxing match by throwing into the ring the towel or sponge used between rounds.) throw off, to manage to get rid of or become free from, throw off a cold or one's pursuers; to confuse or distract (a person); to compose easily as if without effort, throw off a few lines of verse. throw oneself into, to engage vigorously in. throw oneself on, to entrust oneself entirely to (a person's mercy etc.). throw out, to put out suddenly or forcibly; to expel (a troublemaker etc.); to throw away; to reject (a proposed plan etc.). throw over, to desert or abandon. throw rug, a small carpet that is easily moved about. throw the book at, (informal) to make all possible charges against (a person). throw together, to bring (people) casually into association. throw up, to vomit; to raise quickly or suddenly; to resign from, throw up one's job. throw weight, the weight of a missile payload that can be lifted by the launcher. throw·a·way (throb·á·way) n. 1. a manufactured item to be thrown away after one use. 2. a handbill or circular. throw-away adj. designed to be thrown away after being used once.

throw-back (throb-bak) n. an animal etc. showing characteristics of an ancestor that is earlier than its parents.

thru (thru) adj., adv., & prep. (informal) through.

thrum (thrum) v. (thrummed, thrumming) to strum, to sound monotonously. thrum n. a thrumming sound.

thrust (thrust) v. (thrust, thrust-ing) 1. to push forcibly. 2. to make a forward stroke with a sword etc. 3. to put forcibly into a position or condition, to force the acceptance of, some have greatness thrust upon them. thrust n. 1. a thrusting movement or force. 2. a hostile remark aimed at a person. thrust'er n.

thru-way (thru-way) n. an expressway.

thud (thud) n. a low dull sound like that of a blow or something that does not resound. thud v. (thud-ded, thud-ding) to make a thud, to fall with a thud. thud-ding-ly adv.

thug (thug) n. a vicious or brutal ruffian.

thug'ish adj. thug'ger-y n.

Thu-le (too-lee) n. the ancient name for the world's northernmost region.

thu-li-um (thoo-li-um) n. a metallic element in the rare-earth group.

thumb (thum) n. 1. the short thick finger set apart from the other four. 2. the part of a mitten or glove covering this. thumb v. to wear or soil or turn pages etc. with the thumbs; a well-thumbed book, one that shows signs of much use. be all thumbs, to be very clumsy at handling things. thumb a ride, to get a ride by signaling with one's thumb; to hitchhike. thumb index, a set of notches in the edges of a book's leaves, marked with letters etc. to enable the user to open the book directly at a particular section. thumb one's nose, to place one's thumb to the nose with fingers spread out as a gesture of contempt or defiance. thumbs down, a gesture of rejection. thumbs up, a gesture of satisfaction. under a person's thumb, completely under his influence.

thumb-nail (thum-nayl) n. the nail of the thumb. thumbnail sketch, a brief description of something.

thumb-screw (thum-skroo) n. 1. an instrument of torture for squeezing the thumb. 2. a screw with a flattened head for the thumb to turn.

thumb-tack (thum-tack) n. a tack with a wide flat head permitting it to be pressed into soft wood etc. with the thumb.

thump (thump) v. to beat or strike or knock heavily (especially with the fist), to thud. thump n. a heavy blow, a dull sound made by this.

thump-ing (thum-ping) adj. (informal) large, a thumping lie.

thun-der (thun-dér) n. 1. the loud noise accompanying lightning. 2. any similar noise, thunders of applause. thunder v. 1. to sound with thunder, it thundered. 2. to make a noise like thunder, to sound loudly, the train thundered past. 3. to utter loudly, to make a forceful attack in words, reformers thundered against gambling. thunder-y adj. thunder-er n. □ steal a person's thunder, to forestall him by using his ideas or words etc. before he can do so himself. From the remark of a dramatist when the stage thunder intended for his play was taken and used for another.

thun-der-a-tion (thun-dér-shun) interj. an exclamation of anger or surprise.

thun-der-bird (thun-dér-burd) n. (in the mythology of some American Indian tribes) a large bird thought to bring thunder, lightning, and rain.

thun-der-bolt (thun-dér-bohl) n. 1. an imaginary destructive missile thought of as sent to Earth with a lightning flash. 2. a very startling and formidable event or statement.

thun-der-clap (thun-dér-klap) n. a clap of thunder.

thun-der-cloud (thun-dér-klowd) n. a storm cloud charged with electricity and producing thunder and lightning.

thun-der-head (thun-dér-hed) n. a rounded cumulus cloud projecting upward and heralding thunder.

thun-der-ous (thun-dér-ous) adj. like thunder. thunder-ous-ly adv.

thun-der-show'er (thun-dér-show'er) n. a rain shower accompanied by thunder and lightning.

thun-der-storm (thun-dér-storm) n. a storm accompanied by thunder and lightning.

thun-der-striek (thun-dér-strik) adj. amazed.

Thur., Thurs. abbr. Thursday.

Thurs-day (thurz-day) n. the day of the week following Wednesday.

thus (thus) adv. 1. in this way, like this, hold the wheel thus. 2. as a result of this, he was the eldest son and thus heir to the title. 3. to this extent, thus far. The word thusly as a substitute for thus is always incorrect.

thwack (thwak) v. to strike with a heavy blow. thwack n. a heavy blow, the sound of this. thwack'er n. thwart (thwart) v. to prevent (a person) from doing what he intends, to prevent (a plan etc.) from being accomplished.
thwart n. an oarsman’s bench across a boat. thwart adj. lying across (a ship).
thwart adv. (on a ship) crosswise.
thy (thi) adj. (old use) of or belonging to thee.

thyme (tim) n. any of several herbs with fragrant leaves.
thy-mine (thi-meen) n. a crystalline base found as a constituent of DNA or derived from the thymus gland.
thy-mus (thi-müs) n. (also thymus gland) a ductless gland near the base of the neck (in man, it becomes much smaller at the end of childhood).
thy-roid (thi-roid) n. (also thyroid gland) a large ductless gland at the front of the neck, secreting a hormone that regulates the body’s growth and development. thyroid adj. of or relating to the thyroid gland.
thy-rox-line (thi-rok-seen) n. a white crystalline amino acid, the active constituent of the thyroid gland’s secretions.
thy-self (thi-self) pronoun corresponding to thee and thou, used in the same ways as himself.

ti (tee) n. a name for the seventh note of a scale in music.

TI  symbol titanium.

Ti-ar-a (ti-ar-ä) n. 1. a woman’s ornamental crescent-shaped headdress, worn on ceremonial occasions. 2. the pope’s diadem, pointed at the top and surrounded by three crowns.

Ti-bet (ti-bet) a former country north of India, now part of China. Ti-bet’an adj. & n.

tib-i-a (tib-i-ä) n. (pl. tib-i-ae, pr. tib-i-ee, tib-i-as) the shinbone. tib-i-al adj.

tic (tik) n. an involuntary spasmatic twitching of the muscles, especially of the face.

tick1 (tik) n. 1. a regularly repeated clicking sound, especially that of a watch or clock. 2. a mark (often ✓) placed against an item in a list etc. to show that it has been checked or is correct. tick v. 1. (of a clock etc.) to make a series of ticks. 2. to put a tick beside (an item). □ tick off, to mark with a tick; (slang) to anger or annoy. what makes a person tick, what makes him behave as he does.

tick2 n. any of several bloodsucking mites or parasitic insects.

tick3 n. the case of a mattress or pillow or bolster, holding the filling.

tick-er (tik-er) n. 1. a telegraphic device that receives and prints stock prices on paper tape (ticker tape). 2. (slang) the heart. □ ticker-tape parade, a parade in which tape from stock tickers and shredded paper are thrown from windows to greet a celebrity.

tick’et (tik-it) n. 1. a written or printed piece of card or paper that entitles the holder to a certain right (as to travel by train or bus etc., or to occupy a seat in a theater etc.) or serves as a receipt. 2. a certificate of qualification as a ship’s master or pilot etc. 3. a label attached to a thing and giving its price or other particulars. 4. an official notification of a traffic offense, parking ticket. 5. a list of the candidates put forward by one party in an election. ticket v. (tick-et-ed, tick-et-ing) to put a ticket on (an article for sale etc.). □ that’s the ticket, (slang) that is the correct or desirable thing.

tick’ing (tik-ing) n. strong fabric for making ticks for mattresses or pillows etc.

tick-le (tik-ël) v. (tick-led, tick-ling) 1. to touch or stroke lightly so as to cause a slight tingling sensation, usually with involuntary movement and laughter. 2. to feel this sensation, my foot tickles. 3. to amuse, to please (a person’s vanity or sense of humor etc.). tickle n. the act or sensation of tickling. tick’ler n.

□ tickled pink or to death, (informal) extremely amused or pleased. tickle one’s memory, to jog one’s memory.
tickler file, a memorandum book or card file etc. to jog one’s memory.

tick’lish (tik-lish) adj. 1. sensitive to tickling. 2. (of a problem) requiring careful handling. tick’lish-ly adv. tick’lish-ness n.

tick-tack-toe; tic-tac-toe (tik-tak-toh) n. a game of alternating turns in which each player tries to fill in a straight line of O’s or X’s in a nine-square figure before his opponent does so.

tick-tock (tik-tok) n. the ticking sound of a clock.

tid’al (tr-dál) adj. of or affected by a tide or tides. tid’al-ly adv. □ tidal basin, an artificially made body of water that is subject to the rise and fall of the tide.
tidal flat, flat marshy tideland. tidal wave, a great ocean wave, such as one caused by an earthquake; a great wave of enthusiasm or indignation etc.
tid-bit (tid-bit) n. a choice bit of something, as of food or gossip or information.
tid’ly-wink (tid-lee-wink) n. one of the small counters flicked into a cup in the game of tiddlywinks.

tide (tíd) n. 1. the regular rise and fall in the level of the sea, caused by the attraction of the moon and the sun. 2. water as moved by this. 3. a trend of opinion or fortune or events, the rising tide of tideland / tightlipped discontent. 4. (old use) a season, yuletide.

tide v. (tid-ed, tid-ing) to float with the tide. tide-less adj. tide a person over, to help him through a difficult period by providing what he needs.
tide-land (trd-land) n. land that is submerged at high tide.
tide-mark (trd-mahrk) n. a mark made by the tide at high water.
tide-way (trd-way) n. the channel where a tide runs, the tidal part of a river.

tie (ti) v. (tied, ty-ing) 1. to attach or fasten by a cord or something similar. 2. to arrange (string or ribbon or a necktie etc.) to form a knot or bow, to form (a knot or bow) in this way. 3. to unite (notes in music) with a tie. 4. to make the same score as another competitor, they tied for second place. 5. to restrict or limit to certain conditions or to an occupation or place etc. tie 1. a cord etc. used for fastening or by which something is tied. 2. a necktie. 3. something that unites things or people, a bond. 4. something that restricts a person’s freedom of action. 5. a curved line (in a musical score) over two notes of the same pitch, indicating that the second is not sounded separately. 6. equality of score between two or more competitors. 7. one of the parallel crossbeams used to support the rails of a railroad track. http://tie to be tied, (slang) very angry. tie beam, a horizontal beam connecting rafters. tie breaker, a means of deciding the winner when competitors have tied. tie clasp or clip, an ornamental clip for holding a necktie in place. tie down, to restrict or bind; the children tie her down, prevent her from pursuing other interests. tie in, to link to or (of information or facts) to agree or be connected with something else. tie rod, a connecting rod, especially that between the wheels of a vehicle, controlling its steering. tie up, to fasten with a cord etc.; to restrict movement or passage, the accident tied up traffic for miles; to invest or reserve (capital etc.) so that it is not readily available for use; to make restrictive conditions about (a bequest etc.); to occupy (a person) so that he has no time for other things; (of a boxer) to make (an opponent) unable to strike effective blows.
tie-back (tr-bak) n. a strip of cloth or cord fastening a curtain back from a window.
tie-dye (tr-di) v. (tie-dyed, tie-dy-ing) to produce dyed patterns by tying parts of a fabric so that they are protected from the dye. tie-dy-ing n.
tie-in (tr-in) n. 1. a close association or connection. 2. a marketing arrangement for related products.
tie-pin (tr-pin) n. an ornamental pin for holding a necktie in place.
tier (teer) n. any of a series of rows or ranks or units of a structure placed one above the other.
tiered (teerd) adj. arranged in tiers.
tie-up (tr-up) n. 1. a connection, a link. 2. a temporary obstruction or stoppage, as of traffic or work etc.
tiff (tiff) n. a petty quarrel.
tiger (tr-gër) n. a large Asian animal of the cat family, with yellowish and black stripes. tiger -ish adj. tiger -ess (tr-gris) n. fem. tiger cat, a domestic cat with dark stripes. tiger lily, a tall garden lily with dark-spotted orange flowers. tiger moth, a moth with wings that are streaked like a tiger’s skin. tiger shark, a voracious warm-water shark.
tiger’s-eye (tr-gër-s) n. 1. a yellow-brown gem of brilliant luster. 2. a pottery glaze of similar appearance.
tight (tit) adj. 1. fixed or fastened or drawn together firmly and hard to move or undo. 2. fitting closely, made so that a specified thing cannot penetrate, a tight joint; watertight; tight controls, strictly imposed. 3. with things or people arranged closely together, a tight little group; a tight schedule, leaving no time to spare. 4. tense, stretched so as to leave no slack. 5. (informal) drunk. 6. (of money or materials) not easily obtainable, (of the money market) in which money and credit are severely restricted. 7. stingy, tight with his money. tight adv. tightly, hold tight. tight ‘ly adv. tight-ness n. http://in a tight corner or spot, in a difficult situation.
tight-en (tr-tên) v. to make or become tighter. http://tighten one’s belt, to content oneself with less food etc. when money or supplies are scarce.
tight-fist-ed (trt-fis-tid) adj. stingy.
tight-knit (trt-nit) adj. well organized, a tight-knit group.
tight-lipped (trt-lipt) adj. 1. keeping the lips compressed firmly together to restrain one's emotion or comments. 2. grim-looking.

tight-rope (tīt-rōhp) n. a rope stretched tightly high above the ground, on which acrobats perform. □tightlyrope walker, an acrobat who walks on a tightrope.

tight (tīt) n. pl. 1. a close-fitting garment covering the legs and lower part of the body, worn by acrobats, dancers, etc. 2. panty hose.

tight-wad (tīt-wad) n. (slang) a stingy person.

tight-gion (trīt-gōn) n. the offspring of a tiger and a lioness.

til-de (til-de) a. a mark û put over a letter, as the n in Spanish when pronounced ny, as in señor, or the o or i in Portuguese when nasalized as in São Paulo.

tile (tīl) n. 1. a thin slab of baked clay or other material used in rows for covering roofs or walls or floors; carpet tiles, carpet made in small squares for laying in rows. 2. a length of earthenware or concrete pipe, used for land drainage, in sewers, etc. 3. one of the small flat pieces used in mahjong. tile v. (tilled, tiling) to cover with tiles. til’er n.

til-ing (trīt-ling) n. a surface made of tiles.

till1 (til) v. to prepare and use (land) for growing crops. till’er1 n. till’a-ble adj.

till2 n. a drawer for money behind the counter in a shop or bank etc.

till-age (til-ij) n. 1. tilling land. 2. land that has been tilled.

till’er2 (til-er) n. a horizontal bar by which the rudder of a small boat is turned in steering.

tilt (tīlt) v. 1. to move or cause to move into a sloping position. 2. to run or thrust with a lance in jousting. tilt n. tilting, a sloping position. □at full tilt, at full speed, with full force. tilt at windmills, to battle with enemies who are only imaginary. □From the story of Don Qui- xote who attacked windmills, thinking they were giants.

tim-bale (tim-bāl) n. a dish of minced meat, fish, or vegetables in a small drum-shaped pastry shell.

Tim-ber (tim-bēr) n. 1. wood prepared for use in building or carpentry. 2. growing trees suitable for this. 3. a piece of wood or a wooden beam used in constructing a house or ship. timber v. to build, support, or cover with timber. timberl interj. a shouted warning that a tree is about to fall. □timber rattlesnake, a rattlesnake found in the eastern U.S. timber wolf, a large gray wolf of North America.

tim-bered (tim-bērd) adj. 1. (of a building) constructed of timber or with a tim-ber framework. 2. (of land) wooded.

Tim-ber-ling (tim-bē-ring) n. timbers, work made of timber.

Tim-ber-line (tim-bēr-lin) n. (also timber line) tree line.

Tim-bre (tam-bēr) n. the characteristic quality of the sound produced by a particular voice or instrument.

Tim-brel (tim-brēl) n. (old use) a tambou-rine or similar instrument.

Tim-buk-tu (tim-buk-too) a very remote place. □From Timbuktu in Mali.

time (tim) n. 1. all the years of the past, present, and future. 2. the passing of these taken as a whole, time will show who is right. 3. a portion of time associated with certain events or conditions or experiences, in the time of the Tudors; in Tudor times; in times of hardship; have a good time, enjoy oneself. 4. a portion of time between two points, the point or period allotted or available or suitable for something, the time it takes to do this; now is the time to buy; lunchtime. 5. the point of time when something must occur or end. 6. an occasion or instance, the first time we saw him; I told you three times; four times three, three taken four times. 7. a point of time stated in hours and minutes of the day, the time is exactly two o'clock. 8. any of the standard systems by which time is reck- oned, Mountain Standard Time. 9. measured time spent in work etc., on short time; paid time and a half, paid at one and a half times the usual rate. 10. tempo in music, rhythm depending on the num-ber and accentuation of beats in a bar.

time v. (timed, tim-ing) 1. to choose the time or moment for, to arrange the time of. 2. to measure the time taken by (a race or runner or process etc.). □against time, with the utmost speed so as to reach a goal by a specified time, racing against time. ahead of the times, having ideas too enlightened to be accepted by one's contemporaries. ahead of time, earlier than expected or promised. at the same time, in spite of this, however. at times, sometimes. behind the times, see behind. behind time, late. do time, (slang) to serve a prison sentence. for the time being, until some other arrangement is made. from time to time, at intervals. half the time, (informal) as often as not. have a time, to have a very bad (or very good) time. have no time for, to be unable or unwilling to spend time on, to despise. in good time or all in good time, see good. in no time, in an in-stant, very rapidly. in one's time, at a previous period in one's life. in time, not late; eventually, sooner or later. keep time, to walk, dance, sing, etc. in tempo; keep good time, (of a clock) to work accurately. on one's own time, outside working hours. on time, punctually. take one's time, see take. the time of one's life, a period of exceptional enjoyment. time after time, on many occasions, in many instances. time and again or time and again, time after time. time and motion study, a means of measuring the efficiency of industrial or other operations.

time bomb, a bomb that can be set to explode after a certain interval. time capsule, a container filled with objects typical of the present time, buried in the foundation of a new building etc. for discovery in the future. time clock, a clock with a device for recording workmen's hours of work. time deposit, a bank deposit not repayable before a set date or without advance notice. time exposure, a photographic exposure in which the shutter is left open for more than a second or two and not operated at an automatically controlled speed. time limit, a limit of time within which something must be done. time lock, a lock that cannot be opened before a set time, as that of a bank vault. time machine, (in science fiction) a machine that would enable people to move backward or forward in time. time of day, the hour by the clock. time sharing, the use of a computer by several subscribers. time sheet, a record of hours worked. time signal, an audible indication of the exact time of day. time zone, a region (between two parallels of longitude) where a common standard time is used.

time card (tim-kahr'd) n. a card for recording a workman's hours of work.
time-con-sum-ing (tim-kön-soo-ming) adj. occupying much time.
time-hon-ored (tim-on-ör'd) adj. honored because of long tradition or custom.
time-keep-er (tim-kee-pér) n. a person who records time, especially of workmen or in a game.
time-lag (tim-lag) n. an interval of time between two connected events.
time-lapse (tim-laps) adj. (of motion-picture photography) containing frames taken at long intervals but shown at a normal pace to accelerate the viewing of events, as the opening of a bud into a flower.
time-less (tim-lis) adj. 1. not to be thought of as having duration. 2. not affected by the passage of time. time-less-ly adv. time-less-ness n.
time-ly (tim-lee) adj. occurring at just the right time, a timely warning. time'-li-ness n.
time-out (tim-owt) n. a brief intermission, especially in a game.
time-piece (tim-péz) n. a clock or watch.
tim'er (tim-ér) n. 1. a person who times something. 2. a timing device.
time-sav-ing (tim-say-ving) adj. reducing the time it takes to do something, a timesaving device.
time-ser-ver (tim-sur-vér) n. a person who, especially for selfish ends, adapts himself to opinions of the times or of persons in power.
time-ta-ble (tim-tay-bél) n. a list showing the times of arrival and departure of buses, railroad trains, etc.
time-worn (tim-wôrn) adj. 1. worn by long use. 2. trite, hackneyed.
tim-id (tim-id) adj. easily alarmed, not bold, shy. tim/id-ly adv. tim/id-ness n. tim-id-l-i-ty (tim-id-i-tee) n.
tim-ing (tim-ing) n. the way something is timed.
tim-or-ous (tim-ór-rús) adj. timid. tim/or-ous-ly adv. tim/or-ous-ness n.
tim-o-thy (tim-ô-the) n. a kind of grass grown as fodder for cattle.
Tim-o-thy (tim-ô-the) n. (in the New Testament) either of two epistles of St. Paul addressed to Timothy, his convert and assistant.
tim-pa-nil (tim-pá-nee) n. pl. kettledrums, used especially in a symphony orchestra.
tim-pan-ist (tim-pá-nist) n. a person who plays the drums in a symphony orchestra.
tin (tin) n. 1. a silvery-white metal. 2. tin plate. tin v. (tinned, tin-ning) 1. to coat with tin. □ tin ear, (informal) tone deafness. tin god, a person who is unjustifiably given great veneration. tin lizzie, a small cheap automobile. Tin Pan Alley, the world of the composers and publishers etc. of popular music. tin plate, sheet iron or sheet steel coated thinly with tin. tin soldier, a toy soldier made of tin or lead.
tinct. abbr. tincture.
tinc-ture (tingk-chür) n. 1. a solution consisting of a medicinal substance dissolved in alcohol. 2. a slight tinge or trace of some element or quality. tincture v. (tinc-tured, tinc-tur-ing) to tinge.
tin-der (tin-dér) n. any dry substance that catches fire easily.
tin-der-box (tin-dér-boks) n. a metal box formerly used in kindling a fire, containing dry material that caught fire from a spark produced by flint and steel.
tine (trim) n. any of the points or prongs of a fork or harrow or antler.
tin•foil (tin-foil) n. a thin sheet of tin or tin alloy, used for wrapping and packing things.

ting (ting) n. a sharp ringing sound. ting v. to make a ting.

ting-a-ling (ting-ə-ling) n. the sound of a small bell.

tinge (ting) v. (tinged, tinge•ing) 1. to color slightly, tinged with pink. 2. to give a slight trace of some element or quality to, their admiration was tinged with envy. tinge n. a slight coloring or trace.

tin•gle (tin-gel) v. (tin•gled, tin•ging) to have a slight pricking or stinging sensation. tingle n. this sensation. tingly adj.

tin•horn (tin-horn) n. ( slang) a pretentious but unimpressive person. tinhorn adj. ( slang) cheap, unimportant, a tinhorn gambler.

tank•er (ting-kər) n. (old use) a traveling mender of pots and pans. tank v. to work at something clumsily, trying to repair or improve it. tanker n.\[n. tanker's dam or damn, something without value; don't care a tanker's dam, do not care at all.

tin•kle (ting-kəl) n. a series of short light ringing sounds. tinkle v. (tin•kled, tin•kling) to make or cause to make a tinkle.

tin•ny (ting•ni) adj. (-ni•er, -ni•est) 1. of or like tin, (of metal objects) not looking strong or solid. 2. having a metallic taste or a thin metallic sound. tin•nily adv. tin•ni•ness n.

tin•plate (tin-ple•t) adj. coated with tin.

tin•sel (tin•sel) n. a glittering metallic substance used in strips or threads to give an inexpensive sparkling effect. tin•sely adj.

tin•smith (tin-smith) n. a worker in tin and tin plate.

tint (tint) n. 1. a variety of a particular color. 2. a slight trace of a different color, red with a bluish tint. tint v. to apply or give a tint to, to color slightly. tint•er n.

tin•tin•nab•u•lation (tin-ti•nab•y-lā•shən) n. the sound of bells ringing.

tin•type (tin-tip) n. an old kind of positive photograph made from the exposure of a sensitized plate of enameled iron or tin.

tin•ware (tin-wair) n. pots or pans etc. made of tin or tin plate.

tin•works (tin-wurks) n. (pl. -works) a place where tin is mined or processed or made into articles.

ti•ny (ti•nee) adj. (-ni•er, -ni•est) very small. ti•ni•ness n.

tip1 (tip) n. 1. the very end of a thing, especially of something small or tapering. 2. a small part or piece fitted to the end of something, cigarettes with filter tips. tip v. (tipped, tip•ping) to provide with a tip, filter-tipped. on the tip of one's tongue, just about to be spoken or remembered. tip of the iceberg, see iceberg.

tip2 v. (tipped, tip•ping) to tilt or topple, to cause to do this. tip n. a slight tilt or push. on the tip of balance or scale, to be just enough to cause one scale pan to go lower than the other; to be the deciding factor for or against something.

tip3 v. (tipped, tip•ping) to strike or touch lightly. tip n. a light stroke or touch.

tip4 v. (tipped, tip•ping) 1. to make a small gift of money to (a person), especially in acknowledgment of his services. 2. to name as a likely winner of a contest etc. tip n. 1. a small gift of money. 2. private or special information (as about horse races or the stock market) likely to profit the receiver if he acts upon it. 3. a small but useful piece of advice on how to do something. off, to give an advance warning or hint or inside information to (a person).

tip-in (tip-in) n. 1. a special page in a book or magazine pasted at the inside edge of a regular page. 2. (in basketball) a goal made by tipping the ball into the basket at close range.

tip•off (tip•awf) n. advance or inside information.

tip•per (tip•per) n. a person who leaves a gratuity.

tip•pet (tip•it) n. a small cape or collar of fur etc. with ends hanging down in front.

tip•ple (tip•ple) v. (tip•pled, tip•pling) to drink (wine or whiskey etc.), to be in the habit of drinking. tip•pler n.

tip•ster (tip•ster) n. (informal) a person who gives tips about horse races etc.

tip•sy (tip•see) adj. (-si•er, -si•est) slightly drunk, showing or caused by slight intoxication, a tipsy lurch. tip•sily adv. tip•si•ness n.

tip•toe (tip•toh) v. (tip•toed, tip•toeing) to walk very quietly or carefully, with heels not touching the ground. tip•toe n. the tip of toe. tip•toe adv. on tip•toe. on tiptoed, walking or standing on one's toes.

tip•top (tip•top) n. the highest point. tip•top adj. excellent, very best, tip•top quality.

ti•rade (ti•rayd) n. a long angry or violent piece of criticism or denunciation.

Ti•ra•na (ti-ra•nə) the capital of Albania.

tire1 (tir) v. (tired, tir•ing) to make or become tired.

tire2 n. a covering fitted around the rim.
of a wheel to absorb shocks, usually of reinforced rubber filled with air or covering a pneumatic inner tube.

tired (tird) adj. feeling that one would like to sleep or rest. □ tired of, having had enough of (a thing or activity) and feeling impatient or bored.

tire-less (tr-lis) adj. not tiring easily, having inexhaustible energy. tire-less-ly adv. tire-less-ness n.

tire-some (tr-som) adj. annoying. tire-some-ly adv. tire-some-ness n.

tis (tiz) (old use) = it is.

tis-sue (tish-oo) n. 1. the substance forming an animal or plant body, a particular kind of this, muscular tissue. 2. tissue paper. 3. a disposable piece of soft absorbent paper used as a handkerchief etc. 4. fine gauzy fabric. 5. something thought of as an interwoven series, a tissue of lies. □ tissue paper, very thin soft paper used for wrapping and packing things.

tit (tit) n. any of several small birds, especially the titmouse.

tit² (tit) n. tit for tat, an equivalent given in retaliation for an injury etc.

tit³ n. (slang) 1. a nipple or teat. 2. either of a woman’s breasts.

ti-tan (tr-tän) n. a person of great size or strength or importance. □ The Titans were a race of giants in Greek mythology.

ti-tan-ic (tr-tan-ik) adj. gigantic, immense.

ti-ta-ni-um (tr-tay-ni-üm) n. a gray metallic element occurring in many clays and used to clean and harden molten steel.

tithe (tithe) n. one-tenth of the annual produce of agriculture etc., formerly paid as tax to support clergy and church. tithe v. (tithed, tithe-ing) to contribute one-tenth of one’s income to one’s church. tithe-er n.

ti-tian (tish-an) n. bright golden auburn as a color of hair. □ Named after Tiziano Vecelli (Titian) an Italian painter of the 15th-16th centuries.

tit-il-late (tit-il-layt) v. (tit-il-lat-ed, tit-il-lat-ing) to excite or stimulate pleasurably. tit-il-lat-ing-ly adv. tit-il-lat-ion (tit-il-lay-shön) n.

tit-il-vate (tit-il-vayt) v. (tit-il-vat-ed, tit-il-vat-ing) (informal) to smarten up, to put the finishing touches to. tit-il-va-tion (tit-il-vay-shön) n.

ti-tle (tr-tıl) n. 1. the name of a book or poem or picture etc. 2. a word used to show a person’s rank or office (as king, mayor, captain) or used in speaking of or to him or her (as Lord, Mrs., Doctor). 3. the legal right to ownership of property, a document conferring this. 4. a championship in sport, the world heavy-weight title. title v. (ti-tled, ti-tling) to give a title to (a book etc.). □ title deed, a legal document proving a person’s title to a property. title page, a page at the beginning of a book giving the title, author’s name, and other particulars. title role, the part in a play etc. from which the title is taken, as the part of Hamlet in the play of that name.

ti-tled (tr-tıld) adj. having a title of nobility, titled ladies.

tit-mouse (tit-mows) n. (pl. -mice, pr. -mss) any of a number of small songbirds usually having soft dull plumage.

tit-er (tit-ér) n. a high-pitched giggle. tit-er v. to give aitter. tit-er-ing-ly adv.

tit-tle (tit-l) n. a very small piece.

tit-u-lar (tich-ú-lär) adj. 1. of or belonging to a title. 2. having the title of ruler etc. but without real authority, the titular head of the state.

Ti-tus (tr-tús) n. (in the New Testament) the epistle of St. Paul addressed to Titus, his convert and assistant.

tit-zy (tiz-ce) n. (pl. -zies) (slang) a state of nervous agitation or confusion, in a tizzy.

tk. abbr. 1. tank. 2. truck. TKO abbr. technical knockout.

tkt. abbr. ticket.

Ti symbol thallium.

TLC abbr. tender loving care.

Tm symbol thallium.

TN abbr. Tennessee.
	n. abbr. 1. ton(s). 2. town.

trg. abbr. training.

tpk. abbr. turnpike.

TNT abbr. trinitrotoluene, a powerful explosive.

to (too) prep. 1. in the direction of, so as to approach or reach or be in (a place or position or state etc.), walked to the station; rose to power; was sent to prison; back to back. 2. as far as, not falling short of, patriotic to the core; from noon to two o’clock; goods to the value of $100; cooked to perfection. 3. as compared with, in respect of, won by three goals to two; made to measure; his remarks were not to the point. 4. for (a person or thing) to hold or possess or be affected etc. by, give it to me; spoke to her; kind to animals; accustomed to it; drank a toast to the bride. to (with a verb) 1. forming an infinitive, or expressing purpose or consequence etc., he wants to go; does it to annoy. 2. used alone when the verb is understood, meant to call but forgot to. to adv. 1. to or in the normal or required position, to a closed or almost closed position, push the door to. 2. into a state of consciousness, when she came to. 3. into a state of activity, set to.

do and fro, backward and forward.
do with wilt, see wilt. □ Do not confuse to with too or two.

toad (tohd) n. a froglike animal living chiefly on land and having a clumsy and usually warty body.

toad-stool (tohd-stool) n. a fungus (especially a poisonous one) with a round top and a slender stalk.

*toad*y (toh-dee) n. (pl. toad-ies) a person who flatters and behaves obsequiously to another in the hope of gain or advantage for himself. toady v. (toad-led, toad-y-ing) to behave as a toady.

toast (tohst) n. 1. a slice of toasted bread. 2. the person or thing in whose honor a company is requested to drink, the call to drink or an instance of drinking in this way. toast v. 1. to brown the surface of (bread etc.) by placing before a fire or other source of heat. 2. to warm (one's feet etc.) in this way. 3. to honor or pledge good wishes to by drinking.

toast-er (toh-stér) n. an electrical device for toasting bread.

toast-mas-ter (tohst-mas-tér) n. a person who announces the toasts at a public dinner etc. toast-mis-tris (tohst-mis-tris) n. fem.

to-bac-co (tò-bak-oh) n. (pl. -cos, -coes) 1. a plant grown for its leaves, which are used for smoking or for making snuff. 2. its leaves, especially as prepared for smoking.

to-bac-co-nist (tò-bak-ô-nist) n. a shopkeeper who sells cigarettes, cigars, and pipe tobacco.

To-ba-go (tò-ba-goh) an island in the West Indies (see Trinidad).

to-be (tò-bée) adj. future, soon to become, the bride-to-be.

to-bog·gan (tò-bog-ân) n. a long light narrow sled curved upward at the front, used for sliding downhill. toboggan v. to ride on a toboggan. to·bog·gan·list n.

to-ca-ta (tò-kah-tâ) n. a musical composition for a piano or organ etc.

to-cé·sin (tök-sin) n. 1. a bell rung as an alarm. 2. a signal of disaster.

to-day (tò-day) n. this present day or age. today adv. 1. on this present day. 2. at the present time.

tod·dle (tòd-él) v. (tod·dled, tod·dling) 1. (of a young child) to walk with short unsteady steps. 2. (informal) to walk.

tod·dler (tòd-lér) n. a child who has only recently learned to walk.

tod·dy (tòd-é) n. (pl. -dies) a sweetened drink of liquor and hot water.

to-do (tò·doo) n. a fuss or commotion.

toe (toh) n. 1. one of the divisions (five in man) of the front part of the foot. 2. the part of a shoe or stocking that covers the toes. 3. anything similar to a toe in form or position. toe v. (toed, toe·ing) to touch or reach with the toes.

be on one's toes, to be alert or eager.

toe dance, a dance performed on the tips of the toes. toe in, (of vehicle wheels) to be set so that the front part points slightly inward. toe out, (of vehicle wheels) to be set so that the back part points slightly inward. toe the line, to conform (especially under compulsion) to the requirements of one's group or party.

toe·cap (toh·kap) n. the outer covering of the toe of a boot or shoe.

toe·hold (toh·hold) n. a slight foothold.

toe·nail (toh·nayl) n. the nail of a human toe.

toe·shoe (toh·shoo) n. a ballet slipper worn for dancing on the tips of the toes.

tof·fee (taw·fe) n. (pl. -fees) 1. a candy similar to taffy but more brittle in texture. 2. (chiefly British) taffy.

to·fu (toh·foo) n. bean curd.

tog (tòg) v. (togged, tog·ging) (informal) to get up or out, to dress.

tog·ga (tò-gà) n. (pl. -gas) a loose flowing outer garment worn by men in ancient Rome. to·gaa (toh-gàd) adj.

tog·ge·ther (tòg·ge·ther) adv. 1. in or into company or conjunction, toward each other, so as to unite. 2. one with another, compare them together. 3. simultaneously, both together exclaimed. 4. in an unbroken succession, he is away for weeks together. tog·ge·ther·ness n. □ get it (all or one's act) together, (informal) to organize or control oneself; to work productively. together with, as well as, and also.

tog·ger·y (tòg·ger·y) n. (informal) clothing.

tog·gle (tòg·gél) n. a fastening device consisting of a short piece of wood or metal etc. secured by its centers and passed through a loop or hole etc. toggle v. (tog·gled, tog·ging) to furnish or fasten with a toggle. □ toggle bolt, a screwlike device that spreads out to hold in a hollow wall. toggle switch, a switch operated by a projecting lever.

To·go (tò·go) a country in West Africa.
To-go-les (toh-gō-leez) adj. & n. (pl. -les).

togs (togz) n. pl. (informal) clothes.

toll (toil) v. 1. to work long or laboriously. 2. to move laboriously, we toiled up the hill. toll n. hard or laborious work.

toll’er n.

toll’-et (toil-let) n. 1. a bowl-shaped structure used for defecation and urination, usually a fixture and with a drainage pipe and flushing apparatus. 2. a room with this. 3. the process of dressing and grooming oneself. \[\text{toilet paper}, thin soft tissue for cleaning oneself after using the toilet. toilet soap, soap for washing oneself. toilet training, the process of training a child to control urination and defecation and use a toilet. toilet water, scented water for use on the skin.\] tol·let·ries (tol-i-trees) n. pl. (in shops) articles or preparations used in washing and grooming oneself.

tol·lette (twah-leet) n. 1. toilet (sense 3). 2. style of dress.

toll’-worn (toll-wohrn) adj. worn by toll, showing marks of this.

To·kay (toh-kay) n. 1. a sweet aromatic dessert wine made in Hungary. 2. a similar California wine.

toke (tohk) v. (toked, tok-ing) (slang) to smoke marijuana. toke n. (slang) a puff of a marijuana cigarette.

to·ken (toh-kên) n. 1. a sign or symbol or evidence of something, a token of our esteem. 2. a keepsake or memorial of friendship etc. 3. a device like a coin bought for use with machines etc. or for making certain payments, bus tokens. token adj. serving as a token or pledge but often on a small scale, token resistance. \[\text{by the same token}, similarly, moreover.\]

To·ken·ism (toh-kē-niz-ēm) n. a policy of making only a token effort or of doing no more than is nominally necessary.

To·ky·o (toh-ki-ō) the capital of Japan.

To·bu·ta·mide (tol-byoo-ta-mid) n. a drug for mild cases of diabetes, taken orally.

told (tohd) see tell. \[\text{all told}, counting everything or everyone, we were sixteen all told.\] tole (tohl) n. a kind of lacquered or enamelled metalware, used for trays, lamp shades, etc.

tol·er·able (tol-ē-rā-bēl) adj. 1. able to be tolerated, endurable. 2. fairly good, passable. tol·er·a·bly adv.

tol·er·ance (tol-ē-rāns) n. 1. willingness or ability to tolerate a person or thing. 2. the permitted variation in the measurement or weight etc. of an object.

tol·er·ant (tol-ē-rānt) adj. having or showing tolerance. tol·er·ant·ly adv.

tol·er·ate (tol-ē-rāt) v. (tol·er·at·ed, tol·er·a·ting) 1. to permit without protest or interference. 2. to bear (pain etc.), to be able to take (a medicine) or undergo (radiation etc.) without harm.

tol·er·a·tor n. tol·er·a·tive (tol-ē-ray-tiv) adj. tol·er·a·tion (tol-ē-ray-shōn) n.

toll’ (tohl) n. 1. a tax or duty paid for the use of a public road or harbor etc. or for service rendered. 2. the loss or damage caused by a disaster or incurred in achieving something; the death toll in the earthquake, the number of deaths it caused. \[\text{take its toll}, to be accompanied by loss or injury etc. toll bridge, a bridge at which a toll is charged. toll call, a telephone call for which the charge is higher than for local calls. toll road, a highway on which a toll is charged.

toll’ v. 1. to ring (a bell) with slow strokes, especially for a death or funeral. 2. (of a bell) to sound in this way, to indicate by tolling. toll n. the stroke of a tolling bell.

toll’-booth (tohl-booth) n. a booth where a toll is paid, as on entering a toll road.

toll’-gate (tohl-gayt) n. a bar or gate across a road to prevent the passage of persons or vehicles etc. until the toll is paid.

toll’-house (tohl-hows) n. a house occupied by the collector of tolls on a road etc. \[\text{tollhouse cookie}, a cookie containing chocolate chips.\] tol·u·ene (tol-yoo-en) n. a colorless aromatic liquid hydrocarbon derivative of benzene.

tom (tom) n. 1. a male animal, especially a male cat. 2. a male turkey.

Tom (tom) n. Tom Collins, a tall iced drink made with gin, soda water, lemon or lime juice, and sugar. Tom, Dick, and Harry, (contemptuous) ordinary people, people taken at random.

tom·a·hawk (tom-ä-hawk) n. a light ax used as a tool or weapon by North American Indians. tomahawk v. to strike or cut or kill with a tomahawk.

To·ma·to (tō-may-tō, -mah-) n. (pl. -toes) 1. a plant bearing a glossy red or yellow fruit eaten as a vegetable, the fruit itself. 2. (slang) a pretty girl.

tomb (toom) n. 1. a grave or other place of burial. 2. a vault or stone monument in which one or more people are buried.

tom·bo·y (tom-boi) n. a girl who is boisterous and boyish.

tomb·stone (toom-stohn) n. a memorial stone set up over a grave.

tom·cat (tom-kat) n. a male cat.
tome (tohm) n. a book or volume, especially a large heavy one.

tom•fool (tom•fool) adj. extremely foolish..tomfool n. an extremely foolish person.
tom•fool•er•y n.

tom•my (tom•ee) gun a submachine gun.
tom•my•rot (tom•ee•rot) n. (slang) nonsense, an absurd statement or argument.
to•mor•row (tö•mor•oh) n. 1. the day after today. 2. the near future. tomorrow adv. on the day after today, at some future date.
tom•tom (tom•tom) n. 1. an African or Asian drum beaten with the hands. 2. a tall drum used in jazz bands.
ton (tun) n. 1. a measure of weight, either 2240 lbs. or 1016.06 kg. (long ton) or 2000 lbs. or 907.20 kg. (short ton). 2. a measure of capacity for various materials, 40 cubic feet of timber. 3. a unit of cargo-carrying capacity for ships, usually estimated at 40 cubic feet. 4. (informal) a large amount, tons of money.
ton•al (tohn•ál) adj. 1. of a tone or tones. 2. of tonality. ton•al•ly adv.
to•nal•ity (tohn•al•i•tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the character of a melody, depending on the scale or key in which it is composed. 2. the color scheme of a picture. tone (tohn) n. 1. a musical or vocal sound, especially with reference to its pitch and quality and strength. 2. the manner of expression in speaking or writing, an apologetic tone. 3. any one of the five intervals between one note and the next which, together with two semitones, make up an octave. 4. proper firmness of the organs and tissues of the body, muscle tone. 5. a tint or shade of a color, the general effect of color or of light and shade in a picture. 6. the general spirit or character prevailing, set the tone with a dignified speech. tone v. (toned, ton•ing) 1. to give a particular tone of sound or color to. 2. to give proper firmness to (muscles or organs or skin etc.). ton•er n. □ tone arm, the tubular arm containing the pickup of a record player.
tone down, to make or become softer in tone of sound or color; to make (a statement) less strong or harsh. tone poem, an orchestral composition illustrating a poetical idea. tone up, to make or become brighter or more vigorous or intense.
ton•de•def (tohn•de•f) adj. unable to perceive accurately differences of musical pitch. tone•de•fness n.
ton•less (tohn•lis) adj. without positive tone, not expressive. tone•less•ly adv.
tong (tawn•g) n. a Chinese guild, association, or secret society in the U.S.

Ton•ga (tong•gá) (also Friendly Islands) a country consisting of a group of islands in the Pacific. Ton•gan adj. & n.

tong (tawng•z) n. pl. an instrument with two arms joined at one end, used for grasping and holding things.
tongue (tun) n. 1. the fleshy muscular organ in the mouth, used in tasting, licking, swallowing, and (in man) speaking. 2. the tongue of an ox etc. as food. 3. the ability to speak or manner of speaking, a persuasive tongue; have lost one's tongue, be too bashful or surprised to speak. 4. a language, his native tongue is German. 5. a projecting strip or flap. 6. a tapering jet of flame. tongue v. (tongued, tongu•ing) to produce staccato or other effects in a wind instrument by use of the tongue. □ tongue depressor, a flat thin wooden stick used to hold down the tongue while the throat is being examined. tongue twister, a sequence of words that is difficult to pronounce quickly and correctly, as she sells sea shells with one's tongue hanging out, thirsty; eagerly expectant. with tongue in cheek, speaking with sly sarcasm.

tongued (tung•d) adj. 1. having a tongue. 2. having a certain manner of speaking, sharp-tongued. tongue•lash•ing (tung•lash•ing) n. a severe rebuke.
tongue•tied (tung•tied) adj. 1. silent because of shyness or embarrassment. 2. unable to speak normally because the ligament connecting the tongue to the base of the mouth is abnormally short.
ton•ic (ton•ik) n. 1. a medicine with an invigorating effect, taken after illness or weakness. 2. anything that restores people's energy or good spirits. 3. a keynote in music. 4. tonic water. tonic adj. having the effect of a tonic, toning up the muscles etc. □ tonic water, mineral water, especially if slightly flavored with quinine.
to•night (tö•nert) n. 1. the present evening or night. 2. the evening or night of today. tonight adv. on the present evening or night or that of today.

ton•nage (tun•ij) n. 1. the carrying capacity of a ship or ships, expressed in tons. 2. the charge per ton for carrying cargo or freight. ton•neau (tu•noh) n. (pl. -neaus, -neaux, pr. -noh) the section for back seats in an early automobile.
ton•sil•l (ton•sil) n. either of two small organs at the sides of the throat near the root of the tongue.

ton•sil•lec•to•my (ton•sil•lek•tö•mee) n. (pl. -mies) surgical removal of tonsils.
tonsillitis (ton-sil-lit-is) n. inflammation of the tonsils.
tonsillar (ton-sil-lar) adj. pertaining to the tonsils.
toof (too) n. (slang) a tooth. tool (tool) n. 1. an implement for a particular use; an instrument.
2. any implement; an implement.
3. (slang) a weapon.
tools, tooling n. a collection of tools.
tool shed (too-uhl-shed) n. a shed for tools.
tooling (too-lung) n. the act of tooling.
toofy (too-thee) adj. (tooth-)er, tooth-iest.
tooth (tooth) n. (pl. teeth, pr. teeth) 1. one of a set of hard bony structures rooted in the gums, used for biting and chewing. 2. a raised area of the mouth or alimentary canal of certain invertebrate animals. 3. a toothlike part or projection, as on a gear, saw, comb, or rake. 4. a liking for a particular kind of food, he has a sweet tooth. cut one's teeth on, to use or learn about when young or inexperienced. get one's teeth into, to begin serious work on. in the teeth of, in spite of; in opposition to; directly against (the wind). put teeth into, to make (a law or regulation) able to be applied effectively. tooth and nail, fiercely; with all one's might. tooth powder, powder for cleaning the teeth.
toothache (tooth-ayk) n. an ache in a tooth or teeth.
toothbrush (tooth-brush) n. a brush for cleaning the teeth.
toothed (tooth-t) adj. having teeth or teeth of a certain kind, sharp-toothed.
toothless (tooth-less) adj. having no teeth.
toothpaste (tooth-past) n. paste for cleaning the teeth.
toothpick (tooth-pik) n. a small pointed piece of wood etc. for removing bits of food from between the teeth.
toothsome (tooth-som) adj. 1. pleasant to eat. 2. attractive, a toothsome blonde.
toothsome-ness n.
tooth-y (too-thee) adj. (tooth-er, tooth-iest) having many or large teeth. tooth'-ly adv.
toots (tuuts) n. (slang) a term of endearment.
toot-see (too-tsee) n. (pl. -sles) (slang) 1. a foot. 2. a girlfriend, she's his tootsy.
top (top) n. 1. the highest point or part of something, the upper surface. 2. the highest rank or degree, the highest or most honorable position, he is at the top of his profession. 3. the utmost degree or intensity, shouted at the top of his voice. 4. a thing forming the upper part of something, the creamy part of milk, a garment covering the upper part of the body. 5. the covering or stopper of a bottle or tube. top adj. highest in position or rank or place or degree, at top speed; top prices. top v. (topped, top-ping) 1. to provide or be a top for. 2. to reach the top of. 3. to be higher than, to surpass; top the list, to be at the top of it. 4. to add as a final thing or finishing touch. 5. to remove the top of (a plant or fruit). 6. (in golf) to strike (the ball) above its center. at the top, in the highest rank in a profession etc. blow one's top, see blow'. on top, above; in a superior position; in addition. on top of, in addition to; having mastered (a thing) thoroughly; be on top of the world, very happy. the tops, the very best. top banana, (slang) the first or leading comedian in a show; a person who excels or leads in a particular field. top brass, see brass, definition 6. top dog, (slang) the master or victor. top drawer, (informal) the highest social position or quality, out of the top drawer. top hat, a man's tall stiff black or gray hat worn with formal dress. top kick, (slang) a first sergeant. top off, to put a finishing touch to; to fill an almost full automobile gas tank. top out, (of plants) to grow tops, tassels, etc.; to reach a peak or level off, (of business activity or the stock market) to reach a peak before going down. top secret, one of the highest categories of secrecy. top sergeant, (slang) a first sergeant.
top² n. a toy that spins on its point when set in motion by hand or by a string or spring etc.
topaz (toh-paz) n. 1. a semiprecious stone of various colors, especially yellow. 2. the yellow color of a topaz.

topcoat (top-koht) n. a lightweight overcoat.

top-dress (top-dres) v. to apply manure etc. on the top of (soil) without plowing it in.

top-dress-ing (top-dres-ing) n. 1. the process of top-dressing soil. 2. the substance used for this.

Top (tohp) v. (toped, top-ing) to drink intoxicating liquor to excess, especially habitually. top'er n.

top* n. a dome-shaped Buddhist monument for religious relics.

Topeka (toh-pee-kah) the capital of Kansas.

top-flight (top-flirt) adj. in the highest rank of achievement.

top-heavy (top-hev-ee) adj. over-weighted at the top and therefore in danger of falling over. top'-heav'-i-ness n.

to-pi*ar*y (tohp-i-er) n. a light pith sun helmet.

to*pi*a*y (tohp-i-er-ee) n. 1. the art of clipping shrubs etc. into ornamental shapes. 2. (pl. -ar*ies) an example of this. toplary adj. of or involving this art.

top*ic (top-ik) n. the subject of a discussion or written work.

top*i-cal*ly (top-i-kal) adj. having reference to current events. top'i-cal*ly adv.

top*i-cal*ty (top-i-kal-tee) n.

top* knot (top-not) n. a tuft or crest or knot of ribbon etc. on top of the head.

top*less (top-lis) adj. 1. (of a woman's garment) leaving the breasts bare. 2. (of a woman) wearing such a garment.

top*less*ness n. □ topless bar, a bar featuring bare-breasted waitresses or dancers.

top*lev*el (top-lev-ee) adj. of the highest level, top-level diplomatic meeting.

top*mast (top-mast, -mast) n. the mast of a sailing ship next above the lower mast.

top*most (top-mohst) adj. highest.

top* notch (top-noch) adj. (informal) first-rate.

topog. abbr. 1. topographic(al). 2. topography.

to*po*gra*phy (tohp-og-ra-fee) n. (pl. -phies) the features of a place or district, the position of its rivers, mountains, roads, buildings, etc. to*po*gra*pher n.

top*o*gra*ph*ic (top-oh-graph-ik) adj.

top*o*gra*phy (top-oh-graph'-ee) n. □ topographical adj. top-o*gra*phy (top-oh-graph'-ee) n.

top*ping (top-ing) n. something forming a top, especially a sauce on top of a dessert.

top*ple (top-ple) v. (top-pled, top-pling) 1. to fall headlong or as if top-heavy, to totter and fall. 2. to cause to do this. 3. to overthrow, to cause to fall from authority, the crisis toppled the government in England.

top*rank*ing (top-rang-king) adj. of the highest rank.

top*sale (top-sayl, -säl) n. the square sail next above the lowest on a square-rigged sailing ship.

top*side (top-sid) adv. 1. on deck. 2. to or on the surface or top.

top*slides (top-sidz) n. pl. the sides of a ship above the waterline.

top*soil (top-soil) n. the top layer of soil as distinct from the subsoil.

top*sy-tur*vey (top-si-tur-vee) adj. & adv. in or into a state of great disorder.

to*que (tohk) n. a woman's close-fitting brimless hat with a high crown.

Tor (tor) n. a hill or rocky peak.

To-rah (toh-rah) n. 1. the Pentateuch or a scroll containing this. 2. torah, all of the sacred Jewish religious writings and law.

torch (torch) n. 1. a burning stick of resinous wood, or of combustible material fixed on a stick and ignited, used as a light for carrying in the hand. 2. any of several devices that direct a very hot flame on a selected spot. □ carry a torch for, to be filled with unreturned love for (a person). torch song, a sentimental song of unrequited love.

torch*bear*er (torch-bair-er) n. 1. a person who carries a torch. 2. a person who leads or inspires etc., the party's torch-bearer.

torch*light (torch-lit) n. the light of a torch or torches; a torchlight procession, one in which burning torches are used.

tore see tear.

Tor*e*a* dor (tor-i-ä-dor) n. a bullfighter, especially on horseback.

To-re* ro (tor-i-rah-oh) n. a bullfighter.

tor*ment (tor-ment) n. 1. severe physical or mental suffering. 2. something causing this. torment (tor-ment) v. 1. to subject to torment. 2. to tease or try to provoke by annoyances etc. tort tor*ment*ed*ly adv. tor*ment*ing*ly adv.

torn see tear.

tor*na*do (tor-nay-doh) n. (pl. -does, -dos) a violent and destructive whirlwind advancing in a narrow path.

tor*pe*do (tor-pe-doh) n. (pl. -does) 1. a cigar-shaped explosive underwater missile, launched against a ship from a submarine or surface ship or aircraft. 2. (slang) a hired assassin. torpedo v. (tor-pe-doed, tor-pe-do*ing) 1. to destroy or attack with a torpedo. 2. to ruin or wreck (a policy or conference torpid / totalizator ect.) suddenly. □ torpedo boat, a small fast lightly armed warship for carrying or discharging torpedoes. torpedo tube, the tube from which torpedoes are discharged.

tor·pl·d (tor-pid) adj. sluggish and inactive.

tor·pl·d·ly adv. tor·pl·d·ly·ty (tor-plid-tee) n.

tor·por (tor-por) n. a torpid condition.

torque (tork) n. a force causing rotation or torsion in machinery. □ torque converter, a device to transmit the correct torque from engine to axle in a motor vehicle.

torr (tor) n. a unit of pressure in measuring a partial vacuum, = 1/760 of standard atmosphere.

tor·re·nt (tor-ent) n. 1. a rushing stream of water or lava. 2. a downpour of rain. 3. a violent flow, a torrent of words.

tor·ren·tial (taw-ren-sial) adj. like a torrent.

tor·rid (tor-id) adj. 1. (of climate or land) very hot and dry. 2. intense, passionate, torrid love scenes. tor·rid·ly adv. tor·rid·ly·ness n. tor·rid·l·y·ty (tor-id-tee) n.

• Torrid Zone, the tropics.

tor·sion (tor-shun) n. 1. twisting, especially of one end of a thing while the other is held fixed. 2. the state of being spirally twisted. tor·sion·al adj. tor·sion·al·ly adv.

tor·so (tor-so) n. (pl. -sos) 1. the trunk of the human body. 2. a statue lacking head and limbs.

tort (tort) n. (in law) any private or civil wrong (other than breach of contract) for which the wronged person may claim damages.

torte (tort) n. (pl. tortes) a kind of rich round layer cake.

tor·ti·la (tor-te-ya) n. a flat round bread made of cornmeal.

tor·tise (tor-tos) n. a land turtle of warm climates. □ tortoise shell, the semi-transparent mottled yellowish-brown shell of certain turtles, used for making combs etc.; a cat or butterfly with mottled coloring resembling this.

tor·tise·shell (tor-tos-shell) adj. having coloring and markings like a tortoise shell.

tor·to·ni·ri (tor-toh-nee) n. a rich frozen dessert made of heavy cream, eggs, sugar, and often chopped cherries or almonds or macaroon crumbs.

tor·to·u·ous (tor-choo-ous) adj. 1. full of twists and turns. 2. (of policy etc.) devious, not straightforward. tor·to·u·ous·ly adv. tor·to·u·ous·ness n.

tor·ture (tor-chur) n. 1. the infliction of severe pain as a punishment or means of coercion. 2. a method of torturing.

3. severe physical or mental pain. tortu·re v. (tor·tur·ed, tor·tur·ing) 1. to inflict torture upon, to subject to great pain or anxiety. 2. to force out of its natural position or shape. tor·tur·er n. tor·tur·ed·ly (tor-chur-ed-lee) adv.

To·ry (toh-re) n. (pl. -ries) 1. (in Great Britain) a member of the Conservative Party. 2. a colonist loyal to England during the American Revolution. 3. (in England during the 18th century) the party that supported George III and the established order in Church and State. 4. (often tory) a person of conservative opinions. Tora, tory adj. conservative.

toss (taws) v. 1. to throw lightly or carelessly or easily; toss one’s head, to throw it back in contempt or impatience. 2. to send (a coin) spinning in the air to decide something according to the way it lies after falling. 3. to throw or roll about from side to side restlessly or with an uneven motion. 4. to coat (food) by gently shaking it in dressing etc. toss n. 1. a tossing action or movement. 2. the result obtained by tossing a coin.

toss·off, to drink off rapidly; to finish or compose rapidly or without much thought or effort.

toss·pot (taws-pot) n. a heavy drinker.

toss·up (taws-up) n. 1. the tossing of a coin. 2. an even chance.

tot1 (tot) n. 1. a small child. 2. (chiefly British informal) a small quantity of alcoholic drink.

tot2 v. (tot·ted, tot·ting) tot up, (informal) to add up, tot this up; it tots up to $20.

tot. abbr. total.

to·tal (toh-tal) adj. 1. including everything or everyone, comprising the whole, the total number of persons; a total eclipse, in which the whole disk of the moon etc. is obscured. 2. utter, complete, in total darkness. total n. the total number or amount, a count of all the items. total v. (to·taled, to·tal·ing) 1. to reckon the total of. 2. to amount to. 3. (slang) to demolish (an automobile) totally. to·tal·ly adv. □ total recall, the ability to remember everything in complete detail.

to·tal·i·tar·i·an (toh-tal-i-tair-i-an) adj. of a form of government in which no rival parties or loyalties are permitted, usually demanding total submission of the individual to the requirements of the state. to·tal·i·tar·i·an·ism n.

to·tal·i·ty (toh-tal-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the quality of being total. 2. a total number or amount.

to·tal·i·za·tor (toh-tal-i-za-tor) n. a device automatically registering the number and amount of bets staked, with a view to dividing the total amount among those betting on the winner.

to-tal-i-ze (toh-tä-liz) v. (to-tal-ized, to-tal-iz-ing) to find the total of. to-tal-iz'er n.

tote1 (toht) v. (tot-ed, tot-ing) (informal) to total. tote n. (informal) a totalizer.

tote board, (informal) a totalizer.

tote2 v. (tot-ed, tot-ing) (informal) to carry. tote bag, a large bag for carrying books or other items.

to-tém (toh-tém) n. 1. a natural object, especially an animal, adopted among North American Indians as the emblem of a clan or family. 2. an image of this.

totem pole, a pole carved or painted with a series of totems.

t'oth-er (tuth-ér) = the other.

tot-tér (tot-er) v. 1. to walk unsteadily.

tot-ter n. an unsteady or shaky walk or movement. tot-ter-y adj. tot-ter-er n.

tou-can (too-kan) n. a tropical American bird with an immense beak.

touch (tuch) v. 1. to be or come together so that there is no space between, to meet (another object) in this way. 2. to put one's hand etc. on (a thing) lightly. 3. to press or strike lightly. 4. to draw or paint with light strokes, touch in the details. 5. to move or meddle with, to harm, leave your things here, no one will touch them. 6. to have to do with the slightest degree, to attempt, the firm doesn't touch business of that kind. 7. to eat or drink even a little of, she hasn't touched her breakfast. 8. to reach, the speedometer touched 120. 9. to equal in excellence, no other cloth can touch it for quality. 10. to affect slightly. 11. to rouse sympathy or other emotion in. 12. (slang) to persuade to give (money) as a loan or gift, touched him for a dollar. touch n. 1. the act or fact of touching. 2. the faculty of perceiving things or their qualities through touching them. 3. small things done in producing a piece of work, add the finishing touches. 4. a performer's way of touching the keys or strings of a musical instrument etc. 5. a manner or style of workmanship, a person's special skill, he hasn't lost his touch. 6. a relationship of communication or knowledge, we've lost touch with her. 7. a slight trace, there's a touch of frost in the air; a touch of flu. 8. (slang) the act of obtaining money from a person. touch'er n.

In touch with, in communication with; having interest in or information about. out of touch, no longer in touch (with a person or subject etc.). soft touch, see soft. touch bottom, to reach the worst point of misfortune etc.

touch down, (of an aircraft) to land.

touch football, football in which touching is used instead of tackling. touch off, to cause to explode; to cause to start, his arrest touched off a riot. touch on, to deal with or mention (a subject) briefly. touch up, to improve (a thing) by making small alterations or additions.

touch wood, to touch something made of wood in superstitious or humorous hope that this will avert ill luck.

touch-a-ble (tuch-a-bèl) adj. able to be touched.

touch-and-go (tuch-and-gó) adj. uncertain as regards result.

touch-back (tuch-bak) n. a football play in which the ball is kicked into or beyond the end zone, or is intercepted or recovered there by the defending team.

touch-down (tuch-down) n. 1. (in football) a play scoring six points made by carrying or catching the ball beyond the opponent's goal line. 2. (of an aircraft or spacecraft) the moment of landing.

tou-ché (too-shay) interj. an acknowledgment that one's opponent has made a hit in fencing or a valid accusation or criticism in a discussion.

touch-ing (tuch-ing) adj. rousing kindly feelings or sympathy or pity. touching prep. concerning. touch'ing-ly adv.

touch-stone (tuch-stohn) n. a standard or criterion by which something is judged. ▲ Alloys of gold and silver were formerly tested by being rubbed against a fine-grained stone.

Touch-Tone (tuch-tohn) n. (trademark) a telephone that is dialed by touching buttons that produce tones to activate the mechanism.

touch-type (tuch-tip) v. (touch-typed, touch-typ-ing) to use a typewriter without looking at the keys. touch'-typ-ist n.

touch-wood (tuch-wuud) n. wood in a soft rotten state and easily inflammable, used as tinder.

touch-y (tuch-ee) adj. (touch-i-er, touch-i-est) easily offended. touch'i-ly adv. touch'i-ness n.

tough (tuf) adj. 1. difficult to break or cut or chew. 2. able to endure hardship, not easily hurt or damaged or injured. 3. unyielding, stubborn, resolute; get tough with a person, to adopt a firm attitude in dealing with him. 4. difficult, a tough job. 5. (of luck etc.) hard, unpleasant. 6. vicious, rough and violent. tough n. a rough and violent person, young toughs. tough'ly adv. tough'ness n.

tough-en (tuf-èn) v. to make or become tough.
in a compact planned group in a town.

townsfolk (towns-folhk) n. townspeople.

town-ship (town-ship) n. 1. a division of a county. 2. a district six miles square.

towns-man (towns-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a man who lives in a town.

towns-people (towns-pee-pél) n. pl. the people of a town.

toc v. (tray-sé-ri) 1. each of the two side straps or chains or ropes by which a horse draws a vehicle. □ kick over the traces, (of a person) to become insubordinate or reckless.

trace-able (tray-sá-bél) adj. able to be traced.

tracer *(tray-sér) n. 1. a person or thing that traces. 2. (also tracer bullet) a bullet that leaves a trail of smoke etc. by which its course can be observed. 3. a radioactive substance that can be traced in its course through the human body or a series of reactions etc. by the radiation it produces.

tracer-y (tray-sé-re) (pl. -er-ies) 1. an openwork pattern in stone (as in a church window). 2. a decorative pattern of lines resembling this.

trachea *(tray-ki-á) (pl. -che-ae, pr. -ki-ee) the windpipe, tracheal adj.

tracheostomy *(tray-koh-sto-mé) (pl. -mes) an opening made surgically into the trachea from the outside of the neck.

trachoma *(trá-koh-má) a contagious disease of the eye causing inflammation of the inner surface of the eyelids.

tracking *(tray-sing) n. a copy of a map or drawing etc. made by tracing it.

tracing paper, transparent paper for making tracings.

track *(trak) n. 1. a mark or series of marks left by a moving person or animal or thing. 2. a course taken. 3. a course of action or procedure; you’re on the right track, following the right line of procedure or inquiry etc. 4. a path or rough road, especially one made by people or animals or carts etc. passing. 5. a prepared course for racing etc. 6. a section of a phonograph record with a recorded sequence, one channel of a recording tape. 7. a continuous line of a railroad; single track, only one pair of rails. 8. the continuous band around the wheels of a tank or tractor etc. track v. 1. to follow the track of, to find or observe by doing this. 2. (of wheels) to run so that the hind wheel is exactly in the forward wheel’s track. 3. (of a stylus) to follow a groove. 4. (of a motion-picture camera) to move along a set path while taking a picture. □ in one’s tracks, (slang) where one stands, instantly keep or lose track of, to keep or fail to keep oneself informed about. make tracks, (slang) to go away. make tracks for, (slang) to go to or toward. off the track, away from the subject at hand. on the right or wrong track, following the right or wrong line of inquiry etc. on or from the wrong side of the tracks, in or from the socially inferior part of town. track and field, a variety of running and throwing events, as pole vaulting, broad jumping, shot-putting, etc. engaged in on an oval track and the field it surrounds. track down, to reach or capture by tracking. track events, (in sports) races as distinct from field events (see field). tracking station, a radar or radio station that monitors and maintains communication with a satellite or rocket. track meet, a sports contest with a variety of running and jumping events. track record, (informal) a person's past achievements. track shoes, spiked shoes worn by a runner. track suit, a warm loose-fitting suit worn by an athlete etc. during practice.

track-age (trak-ij) n. the total amount of track owned by a railroad.

track-er (trak-ij) n. a person or thing that tracks.

track-less (trak-lis) adj. 1. showing no tracks. 2. not on tracks.

track-walk-er (trak-waw-ker) n. a person employed to walk along railroad track and inspect it.

tract1 (tract) n. 1. a large stretch of land.

tract2 n. a pamphlet containing a short essay, especially on a religious subject.

tra-cle (trak-tse-bel) adj. easy to manage or deal with, docile. trac’ta-bly adv.

tra-cile (trak-tay-ti) ty (trak-tay-ti-tee) n.

tra-cate (trak-tayt) n. a treatise.

trac-tion (trak-shon) n. 1. pulling or drawing a load along a surface. 2. the grip of a tire on the road or a wheel on a rail etc. 3. continuous pull on a limb etc. in medical treatment. trac’tion-al adj. trac-tive (trak-tiv) adj.

trac’tion engine, a steam or diesel engine for drawing a heavy load along a road or across a field etc.

trac-tor (trak-tor) n. a powerful motor vehicle for pulling farm machinery or other heavy equipment. tractor trailer, a truck with a tractor unit and a trailer unit.

trade (trayd) n. 1. exchange of goods for money or other goods. 2. business of a particular kind, the tourist trade. 3. business carried on to earn one's living or for profit (distinguished from a profession), a skilled handicraft, he's a butcher by trade; learn a trade. 4. the people engaged in a particular trade, we sell furniture to the trade, not to private buyers. 5. a trade wind. trade v. (traded, trad-ing) 1. to engage in trade, to buy and sell. 2. to exchange (goods etc.) in trading. trade’er n. trade book, a book sold to the general public in stores, as distinguished from a textbook etc. trade in, to give (a used article) as partial payment for another article. trade name, a name given by a manufacturer to a proprietary article or material; the name by which a thing is known in the trade; the name under which a person or firm trades. trade on, to make great use of for one's own advantage, trading on his brother's reputation. trade paperback, a large softbound book sold in bookstores. trade route, a route usually taken by traders, caravans, merchant vessels, etc. trade school, a high school emphasizing the skilled trades. trade secret, a technique used in the trade, especially by one company, but kept from being generally known. trade union, (pl. trade unions) a labor union. trade wind, one of the winds blowing continually toward the equator over most of the tropics, from the northeast in the northern hemisphere and southeast in the southern hemisphere.

trade-in (trayd-in) n. an article given as partial payment for a newly purchased one.

trade-mark (trayd-mahrk) n. a manufacturer's or trader's registered emblem or name etc. used to identify his goods.

trade-off (trayd-awf) n. an exchange, especially by way of compromise.

trade’er (tray-dér) n. a person engaged in trading.

trading (tray-ding) post 1. a store established in an undeveloped area, for exchanging goods. 2. a station of the floor of a stock exchange for the trading of a particular stock or bond.

trading stamp a stamp given by a shopkeeper to a customer, quantities of which are exchangeable for various articles or for cash.

trag-d’ion (trah-dish-on) n. 1. the handing down of beliefs or customs from one generation to another, especially without writing. 2. a belief or custom handed down in this way, a long-established custom or method of procedure. tra-d’ion-al adj. tra-d’ion-al-ly adv.

trag-d’ion-less adj.

trag-d’ion-al-ist (trah-dish-0-nal-ist) n. a person who follows or upholds traditional beliefs etc.

tra’duce (tra-dooz, tra’dus) v. (tra’duced, tra’dus-ing) to misrepresent, to slander.

tra’dus’er n. tra’dus’ment n.

tra-flc (tra-flk) n. 1. pedestrians or vehicles or ships or aircraft moving along a route. 2. trading, especially when illegal or morally wrong, drug traffic. traffic
v. (traf·icked, traf·ick·ing) to trade.
traf·ick·er n. □ traffic circle, a circular roadway at the intersection of two or more roads for enabling easy movement of cars. traffic jam, a condition in which road traffic cannot proceed freely and comes to a standstill. traffic light, an automatic signal controlling traffic at junctions etc. by means of colored lights. traffic manager, a person who manages the transportation or routing of goods or items of business. traffic pattern, a pattern above an airfield for planes to use in preparing to land.

trag·i·cal (trag·i-kəl) adj. 1. adj. disastrous. tragic flaw, the flaw in a tragic hero's character that brings about his downfall.

trag·i·com·e·dy (trag·i-kəm-e·de) n. (pl. -dies) 1. a serious play with unhappy events or a sad ending. 2. the branch of drama that consists of such plays. 3. an event that causes great sadness, a calamity.

trag·ic (trag·ik) adj. 1. of or in the style of tragedy, he was a great tragic actor. 2. sorrowful. 3. causing great sadness, calamitous. □ tragic flaw, the flaw in a tragic hero's character that brings about his downfall.

trag·i·cal·ly (trag·i-kəl·i·kəl·i·kəl·i·kəl) adv. causing great sadness. trag·i·cal·ly adv.

trag·i·com·ic (trag·i-kəm·ik) adj. 1. of or in a play with both tragic and comic elements. trag·i·com·ic n. (pl. -dies) a play with both tragic and comic elements.

trag·i·cal·ly (trag·i-kəl·i) adj. 1. sorrowful. 2. causing great sadness. trag·i·cal·ly adv.

trail (trayl) v. 1. to drag or be dragged along behind, especially on the ground. 2. to hang or float loosely, (of a plant) to grow lengthily downward or along the ground. 3. to move wearily, to lag or straggle. 4. to be losing in a game or other contest. 5. to diminish or become fainter, her voice trailed away. 6. to follow the trail of, to track. trail n. 1. something that trails or hangs trailing. 2. a line of people or things following behind something. 3. a mark left where something has passed, a trace, wandals left a trail of wreckage; a snail's slimy trail. 4. a track or scent followed in hunting. 5. a beaten path, especially through a wild region. □ trail bike, a lightweight motorcycle with large heavy-tread balloon tires for riding on dirt trails. trail·ing arbutus, a North American creeping herb with fragrant white or pink flowers.

trail·blaz·er (trayl-blayz·ər) n. 1. a person who beats a path through a wild and unsettled region. 2. a person who pioneers new approaches or new fields of endeavor. trail·blaz·ing adj. & n.

trail·er (tray·lər) n. 1. a truck or other container designed to be hauled by a vehicle. 2. a vehicle used as a home or office and drawn from place to place by another vehicle. 3. a short extract from a film, shown in advance to advertise it. 4. a person or thing that trails. □ trailer camp or trailer park, a place for trailers or mobile homes to park, providing electrical outlets and water.

train (trayn) n. 1. a locomotive with a series of linked railroad cars. 2. a number of people or animals moving in a line, a camel train. 3. a body of followers, a retinue. 4. a sequence of things, a train of events; a train of thought; certain consequences followed in its train, after it, as a result. 5. a set of parts in machinery, acting one another in a series. 6. a part of a long dress or robe that trails on the ground behind the wearer. train v. 1. to bring to a desired standard of efficiency or condition or behavior etc. by instruction and practice. 2. to undergo such a process, she trained as a secretary. 3. to make or become physically fit for a sport by exercise or diet. 4. to teach and accustom (a person or animal) to do something. 5. to aim (a gun or camera etc.), trained his gun on the doorway. 6. to cause (a plant) to grow in the required shape. trained adj. train·ing n. □ in training, undergoing training for a sport; physically fit as a result of this.

out of training, not fit in this way. • training pants, heavy absorbent underpants worn by a child who is not completely toilet trained. • training ship, a ship for training sailors in seamanship.

train·a·ble (trayn·ə·bəl) adj. able to be trained.

train·ee (tray·nə) n. a person being trained for an occupation etc.

train·er (tray·ner) n. 1. a person who trains, one who trains racehorses or athletes etc. 2. an aircraft or device simulating it used to train pilots.

train·load (trayn·lōd) n. the full capacity of a train, freight or passengers.

train·man (trayn·man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mən) a person who works on a railroad train, as a brakeman, a conductor, etc.

train·sick (trayn·sik) adj. made sick or queasy by the motion of a train. train·sick·ness n.

trai·pse (traip·sə) v. (traip·sed, traip·sin·g) (informal) to trudge.

tralt (trayt) n. a characteristic.

tral·tor (tray·tər) n. a person who behaves disloyally, one who betrays his country. tral·tor·ous adj.
transmissible / transubstantiation soul, the passing of a person's soul into another body after his death.

transmissible see transmit.

transmission (trans-mish-ôn) n. 1. transmitting, being transmitted. 2. a broadcast. 3. the gear by which power is transmitted from engine to axle in a motor vehicle.

transmit (trans-mit) v. (trans-mit-ted, trans-mit-ting) 1. to send or pass on from one person or place or thing to another, transmit the message; the disease is transmitted by mosquitoes. 2. to allow to pass through or along, to be a medium for, iron transmits heat. 3. to send out (a signal or program etc.) by telegraph wire or radio waves. transmitable adj. transmitten n. transmittance n. transmissible (trans-mis-û-bl) adj.

transmitting (trans-mit-ing) v. (transmitting, transmitting) to cause (a thing) to change in form or nature or substance. transmitable adj.

transplant (trans-plant) n. 1. the transplantation of tissue or an organ. 2. the thing transplanted. transplanter n. transplanter's adj. across the north or south poles.

transponder (trans-poh-lár) adj. for receiving a radio signal and automatically transmitting a different signal.

transport (trans-port) v. 1. to convey from one place to another. 2. (old use) to deport to a penal settlement, as a criminal. transport (trans-port) n. 1. the act or process of transporting something. 2. means of conveyance, have you got transport? 3. a ship or airplane for carrying troops or supplies. 4. the condition of being carried away by strong emotion, in transports of rage. transporter n. transportable adj.

transposed (transposed, transposing) 1. to cause (two or more things) to change places, to change the position of (a thing) in a series. 2. to put (a piece of music) into a different key. transposition (trans-po-si-shôn) n.

transsexual (trans-sex-û-al) n. 1. a person who emotionally feels himself or herself to be a member of the opposite sex. 2. a person who has had surgery and hormone treatment to change sex.

transship (trans-ship) v. (trans-shipped, trans-ship-ping) to transfer (cargo) from one ship or conveyance to another. transshipment n.

transistor (trans-is-ór) adj. across or beyond Siberia transistor = transonic.

transubstantiation (trans-sûb stan-ði-a-shôn) n. the doctrine that the bread and wine in the Eucharist are converted by consecration into the body and blood of Christ, though their appearance remains the same.

trans-uranic / traverse transuranic (trans-yú-rá-ník) adj. belonging to a group of radioactive elements whose atoms are heavier than those of uranium.

transverse (trans-vúr-se, trans-vúr-s) adj. lying or acting in a crosswise direction. transverse n. something transverse. transverse-ly adv.

transves-tism (trans-véz-tíz-ém) n. dressing in clothing of the opposite sex, as a form of psychological abnormality.

trap (trap) n. 1. a device for catching and holding animals. 2. an arrangement for capturing or detecting a person unawares or making him betray himself, anything deceptive. 3. a golf bunker. 4. a device for sending something into the air to be shot at. 5. a device for preventing the passage of water or steam or silt etc., a U-shaped or S-shaped section of a pipe that holds liquid and so prevents foul gases coming up from a drain. 6. a two-wheeled carriage driven by a horse. 7. (slang) the mouth, trap your trap. 8. traps, percussion instruments in a jazz band. trap v. (trapped, trap-ping) to catch or hold in a trap.

trap² n. a dark colored igneous rock.

trap-door (trap-dör) n. a door in a floor or ceiling or roof.

trap-eze (trap-ez) n. a horizontal bar hung by ropes as a swing for acrobatics.

trap-e-zoid (trap-e-zóid) n. a four-sided figure having two sides parallel, two sides not.

trap-per (trap-pér) n. a person who traps animals, especially for furs.

trap-pling (trap-ling) n. pl. ornamental accessories or adjuncts, he had all the trapplings of high office but very little power.

trap-pist (trap-ist) n. a member of an order of monks and nuns founded at La Trappe in France, noted for silence and other austerities.

trap-rock (trap-rok) n. = trap².

trap-shoot (trap-shoo) n. the sport of shooting at objects released from a trap.

trash (trash) n. 1. worthlessness stuff, rubbish. 2. (informal) worthless people. trash-y adj.

trau-ma (trow-má) n. (pl. -mas, -ma-ta, pr. -má-tá) 1. a wound or injury. 2. emotional shock producing a lasting effect upon a person. trau-matize (trow-má-tíz) v. (trau-matized, trau-mat-izing).

trau-mat-ic (trau-mat-ik) adj. 1. of or causing trauma. 2. (informal, of an experience) very unpleasant. trau-mat-ic-ly adv.

tra-vell (trá-vèl) n. 1. a painful or laborious effort. 2. (old use) the pangs of childbirth. travelling v. 1. to make a painful effort. 2. (old use) to suffer the pangs of childbirth.

trav-erse (trav-ér-s) v. (trav-erled, trav-er-lined) 1. to go from one place or point to another, to make a journey. 2. to journey along or through, to cover (a distance) in traveling. 3. to go from place to place as a salesman. 4. to move or proceed in a specified manner or at a specified rate, light travels faster than sound. 5. (informal) to associate or to be in company with, he travels with a rough crowd. 6. (informal) to withstand a long journey, some wines travel badly. 7. (in basketball) to take too many steps while in possession of the ball. 8. (informal) to move at high speed along a road etc., the car was certainly traveling.

travel n. 1. traveling, especially in foreign countries. 2. the range or rate or method of movement of a machine part. 3. travels, a series of journeys or wanderings. travel agent, one making arrangements for travelers. travel alarm, a small alarm clock in a case. travel bag, a small bag carried in the hand, usually for a traveler’s clothes. traveling salesman, a salesman who travels in a specified area for the purpose of soliciting business for his company.

trav-el-ed (trav-él-éd) adj. having traveled widely.

trav-el-er (trav-él-ér) n. 1. a person who travels or is traveling. 2. a traveling salesman. traveler’s check, a check for a fixed amount, sold by a bank etc. and usually able to be cashed in various countries.

trav-el-ogue, travel-log (trav-él-lawg) n. a film or illustrated lecture about travel.

trav-erse (trav-ér-s) n. 1. a thing (especially part of a structure) that lies across another. 2. a zigzag course or road, each leg of this. 3. a lateral movement across something. 4. a steep slope that has to be crossed from side to side in mountaineering. traverse (trá-vúr-s) v. (trav-er-sed, trav-er-sed) to travel or lie or extend across. traverse-al (trá-vúr-sál) n. traverse (trá-vér-s) rod, a rod for draperies that allows them to be opened or closed at the pull of a cord.
travesty / treat

travesty (trav-i-stee) n. (pl. -ties) an absurd or inferior imitation, his trial was a travesty of justice. travesty v. (trav-es-tyed, trav-es-ty-ing) to make or be a travesty of.

travels (trav-ols) n. (pl. -vols) a North American Indian vehicle of two joined poles pulled by a horse etc. and carrying a burden.

trawl (trawl) n. a large wide-mouthed fishing net dragged along the bottom of the sea etc. by a boat. trawl v. 1. to fish with a trawl or seine. 2. to catch by trawling.

trawl-er (trawl-er) n. a boat used in trawling.

tray (tray) n. 1. a flat utensil, usually with a raised edge, on which small articles are placed for display or carrying. 2. a tray of food, have a tray in one's room. 3. an open receptacle for holding a person's correspondence in an office. 4. a traylike (often removable) receptacle forming a compartment in a trunk or cabinet or other container.

treacherous (trech-er-ous) adj. 1. behaving with or showing treachery. 2. not to be relied on, deceptive, not giving a firm support, the roads were icy and treacherous. treacherously adv.

treachery n. 1. (British) molasses. 2. cloying flattery.

tread (tred) v. (trod, trod·den or trod, tread·ing) 1. to set one's foot down, to walk or step, of (a foot) to be set down. 2. to walk on, to press or crush with the feet, to make (a path or trail or mark etc.) by walking. 3. (of a male bird) to copulate with (a female bird). tread n. 1. the manner or sound of walking, a heavy tread. 2. the top surface of a stair. 3. the part of a wheel or tire etc. that touches the ground. □tread on a person's toes, (informal) to offend or vex him. tread water, to keep oneself upright in water by making treading movements with the legs.

treadle (tred-el) n. a lever worked by the foot to drive a wheel, as in a lathe or sewing machine. treadle v. (treadelled, tread·ling) to work a treadle.

treadmill (tred-mill) n. 1. a wide mill wheel turned by the weight of people treading on steps fixed around its edge, formerly worked by prisoners as a punishment. 2. tiring monotonous routine work.

treasure abbr. 1. treasure. 2. treasury.

treas. (treez) n. one's country or its ruler. trea'son·ous adj.

treas·on·able (tree-zö-nä-bel) adj. involving the crime of treason.

treasure (trezh-ur) n. 1. precious metals or gems, a hoard of these, buried treasure. 2. a highly valued object, art treasures. 3. a beloved or highly valued person. treasure v. (treas·ured, treas·ur·ing) to value highly, to keep or store as precious, a treasured possession; treasure it. treasures (trez·u·ures) n., adj. treasure house, a place in which treasure is stored or where things of great value or interest are to be found. treasure hunt, a search for treasure; a game in which players try to find a hidden object. treasure trove, gold or silver coins or plate or bullion found hidden and of unknown ownership; something very useful or desirable that a person finds.

treasurer (trez·h-er) n. a person in charge of the funds of an institution or club etc.

treasury (trez̷-ur·ee) n. (pl. -ur·ies) 1. a treasure house, something regarded as containing things of great value or interest, the book is a treasury of useful information. 2. the Treasury, the department managing the public revenue of a country. □treasury bill, a U.S. government certificate of obligation maturing in about 90 days and bearing no interest but sold in the open market at a discount. treasury bond, an interest-bearing U.S. Treasury Department bond. treasury certificate, a U.S. government certificate of obligation maturing in one year or less with interest payable upon the submission of coupons.

treat (treat) v. 1. to act or behave toward or deal with (a person or thing) in a certain way, treated him roughly; treat it as a joke. 2. to present or deal with (a subject), recent events are treated in detail. 3. to give medical or surgical treatment to, treated him for sunstroke; how would you treat a sprained ankle? 4. to subject (a substance or thing) to a chemical or other process. 5. to supply (a person) with food or entertainment etc. at one's own expense in order to give pleasure, to buy or give or allow to have as a treat, treated myself to a taxi. 6. to negotiate terms, treating with their enemies to secure a cease-fire. treat n. 1. something that gives great pleasure, especially something not always available or that comes unexpectedly. 2. an entertainment etc. designed to do this. 3. the treating of others to something at one's own expense; it's my treat, I will pay. treat'er n. treatise (tree-tis) n. a written work dealing systematically with one subject.

treatment (tree-men-tment) n. 1. the process or manner of dealing with a person or thing. 2. something done in order to relieve or cure an illness or abnormality etc.

treaty (tree-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a formal agreement between two or more countries.

treble (treb-él) adj. 1. three times as much or as many. 2. (of a voice etc.) high-pitched, soprano. treble n. 1. a treble quantity or thing. 2. a high-pitched or soprano voice etc., a person or musical instrument with this. treble v. (treb-eld, trebling) to make or become three times as much or as many, costs had trebled. trebly adv. □treble clef, a musical sign that places G above middle C on the second lowest line of the staff.

tree (tree) n. 1. a perennial plant with a single stem or trunk that is usually without branches for some distance above the ground. 2. a framework of wood for various purposes, as in shothooe. 3. a family tree (see family). tree v. (treed, treeling) to force (a person or animal) to take refuge up a tree. □cannot see the forest for the trees, cannot get a clear view of the whole because of too many details. tree farm, an area of trees grown for commercial purposes, employing a system of reforestation to produce timber continuously. tree fern, a large fern with an upright woody stem. tree frog, a frog that lives in trees. tree house, a structure built in a tree, for children to play in. tree line, the line above which no trees grow. tree of heaven, an ornamental Asian tree with ill-scented flowers. tree surgeon, a person who treats damaged or diseased trees in order to preserve them. up a tree, (slang) in great difficulties.

trebleless (tree-less) adj. without trees.

treetop (tree-top) n. the topmost branches of a tree.

treefoil (tree-foil) n. 1. a plant with three leaflets, as clover. 2. an ornament or design shaped like this.

trek (trek) n. a long arduous journey. trek v. (trekked, trekging) to make a trek. trekker n.

trelis (trell-is) n. a light framework of crossing wooden or metal bars, used to support climbing plants. trellis v. to furnish or to support a vine with a trellis.

trematode (trema-toyd) n. a parasitic flatworm, as a fluke (see flukes).

tremble (trem-bél) v. (trembled, trembling) 1. to shake involuntarily from fear or cold etc., to quiver. 2. to be in a state of great anxiety or agitation, I tremble to think what has become of him. tremble n. a trembling or quivering movement, a tremor. tremblingly adv. trembler n. □Do not confuse trembler with temblor.

tremely (trem-blee) adj. (bli-er, -blest) (informal) trembling.

tremendous (tri-men-dus) adj. 1. immense, a tremendous quantity of coal. 2. (informal) excellent, gave a tremendous performance. tremendously adv. tremendousness n. □Careful writers do not use tremendous in its second definition.

tremolo (trem-o-lo) (trem-o-lo) n. (pl. -los) a trembling or vibrating effect in music or in singing.

tremor (tremér, tree-mor) n. 1. a slight shaking or trembling movement, a vibration; an earth tremor, a slight earthquake. 2. a thrill of fear or other emotion.

tremulous (trem-yú-lus) adj. 1. trembling from nervousness or weakness. 2. easily made to quiver. tremulously adv. tremulousness n.

trench (trench) n. a deep ditch dug in the ground, as for drainage or to give troops shelter from enemy fire. trench v. to dig trenches in (ground). □trenchcoat, a belted coat or raincoat with pockets and flaps like those of a military uniform coat. trenchfoot, a disease of the feet caused by excessive moisture and cold. trenchknife, a short knife used in hand-to-hand combat. trenchmouth, Vincent's angina, a disease with ulcers of the mucous membranes in the mouth and throat. trenchwarfare, hostilities carried on from more or less permanent trenches.

trenchant (trench-chant) adj. (of comments or policies etc.) penetrating, strong and effective, made some trenchant criticisms or reforms. trenchantly adv. trenchancy n.

trencher (trenchur) n. 1. a digger of trenches. 2. (old use) a wooden platter for serving food.

trencherman (trench-chér-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a person who eats heartily.

trend (trend) n. the general direction that something takes, a continuing tendency, the trend of prices is upward. trend v. 1. to have specified a general direction, to bend or to turn away in a specified direction. 2. to be chiefly directed, to have a general and continued tendency.

trendily adv. trendiness n.

trendsetter (trend-setér) n. a person who leads the way in fashion etc.
tricera-tops (tri-ser-a-tops) n. a dinosaur with a bony crest on the neck, two long horns from the forehead, and one short bone from the nose.

trich-ló-ma (tri-klo-ma) n. (pl. -nae, pr. -nee) a hairlike worm parasitic in the body of man and carnivores.

trich-i-no-sis (tri-kno-sis) n. the disease caused by eating undercooked pork containing trichinae.

trich-o-lo-gy (tri-kohl-oh-jee) n. the scientific study of hair and its diseases. trich-o-log-ist n.

trick (trik) n. 1. something done in order to deceive or outwit someone. 2. a deception or illusion, a trick of the light. 3. a particular technique, the exact or best way of doing something. 4. a feat of skill done for entertainment, conjuring tricks. 5. a mannerism, he has a trick of repeating himself. 6. a mischievous or foolish or discreditable act, a practical joke. 7. the cards played in one round of a card game, the round itself, a point gained as a result of this. 8. a person's turn of duty at the helm of a ship, usually for two hours. trick v. 1. to deceive or persuade by a trick, to mislead. 2. to deck or decorate, tricked out in all her finery. trick'er n. □ do the trick, (informal) to achieve what is required. how's tricks?, (slang) how are things? not miss a trick, (slang) to be alert to everything. trick knee, (informal) a condition in which the knee suddenly stiffens or gives way. trick or treat, a Halloween tradition among children who call at houses and threaten to play pranks if candy and gifts are not given to them. trick out or up, to dress, to decorate. trick-er-y (trik-er-ee) n. (pl. -er-ies) use of tricks, deception.

trick-le (trik-uhl) v. (trik-lid, trick-ling) 1. to flow or cause to flow in a thin stream. 2. to come or go slowly or gradually, people trickled into the hall. trickle n. a trickling flow, a small amount coming or going slowly, a trickle of information.

tricks-ter (trik-stehr) n. a person who tricks or cheats people.

trick-y (trik-ee) adj. (trick-l-er, trick-l-est) 1. crafty, deceitful. 2. requiring skillful handling, a tricky task. trick'il-ly adv. trick'il-ness n.

tri-color (tri-kolor) n. a flag with three colors in stripes, especially that of France. tricolor adj. having three colors.

tri-cot (tree-koh) n. fine jersey fabric.

tri-cy-cle (tri-si-kel) n. a three-wheeled pedal-driven vehicle.

tri-dent (tri-dent) n. a three-pronged fishing spear, carried by Neptune and Bri-tannia as a symbol of power over the sea.

tried (trid) see try. tried and true, tested and proven worthy or good.

tri-er (tri-ehr) n. a person who tries hard, one who always does his best.

tri-fi (tri-fel) n. 1. something of only slight value or importance. 2. a very small amount, especially of money, it cost a mere trifle; he seems a trifle angry, slightly angrily. trifle v. (tri-fled, tri-fling) to behave or talk frivolously. tri-fler n. □ tri-fold with, to toy with; to treat casually or without due seriousness.

tri-fling (tri-fling) adj. trivial. tri-fling-ly adv.

tri-focal (tri-fok-al) n. a pair of eye-glasses with three lenses, for near and intermediate and far distances.

tri-foc-al-ly (tril-oh-jee) adj. 1. of a compound leaf with three leaflets. 2. of a plant having such leaves.

trig. abbr. trigonometry.

trig-ger (trig-er) n. a lever or catch for releasing a spring, especially so as to fire a gun. trigger v. to set in action, to be the immediate cause of. □ quick on the trigger, quick to respond. trigger finger, the finger that pulls the trigger of a gun. trigger off, to trigger.

trig-ger-hap-py (trig-er-hap-pee) adj. apt to shoot on slight provocation.

trig-ger-man (trig-er-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) (slang) 1. a man employed to kill with a gun. 2. a gangster's bodyguard.

tri-glyc-er-ide (tri-glis-er-id) n. an ester of glycerol.

tri-go-nom-e-tree (trig-oh-nom-e-tree) n. the branch of mathematics dealing with the relationship of sides and angles of triangles etc. trig{o}no{met}ric (tri-gon{met}ri-cal) adj. trig{o}no{met}ri-cal adj. trig{o}no{met}ri-cal-ly adv.

tri-lat-er-al (tri-lah-ral) adj. having three sides or three participants.

tri-lin-gual (tri-lin-gual) adj. speaking or using three languages.

trill (trill) n. 1. a vibrating sound made by the voice or in bird song. 2. quick alteration of two notes in music that are a tone or semitone apart. trill v. to sound or sing with a trill.

tril-lion (tril-yon) n. a million millions. tril{l}ionth adj. & n.

tril-li-um (tril-yum) n. an herb having a circular arrangement of three leaves with a single flower.

tril-o-gy (tril-oh-jee) n. (pl. -gies) a group of three related literary or operatic works.

trim (trim) adj. (trim-mer, trim-mest) neat and orderly, having a smooth outline or compact structure. trim v. (trimmed, trim-ming) 1. to make neat or smooth by cutting away irregular parts. 2. to remove or reduce by cutting. 3. to ornament. 4. to make (a boat or airplane) evenly balanced by arranging the position of its cargo or passengers etc. 5. to arrange (sails) to suit the wind. 6. (informal) to punish or beat etc. 7. (informal) to cheat. trim n. 1. condition as regards readiness or fitness, in good trim. 2. trimming on a dress or furniture etc., the color or type of upholstery and other fittings in a car. 3. the trimming of hair etc. trim'ly adv. trim'ness n. trim'mer n.

trian*l*an (tri-ma-ran) n. a vessel like a catamaran, with three hulls side by side.

tri*mes*ter (tri-mes-tér, tri-mes-) n. a period of three months.

trim*e*ter (trim-e-ter) n. a verse of three measures.

trim*ming (trim-ing) n. 1. something added as an ornament or decoration on a dress or furniture etc. 2. (informal) a punishment or beating. 3. (informal) a cheating. 4. trimmings, pieces cut off when something is trimmed; the usual accompaniments of something, extras, roast turkey with all the trimmings.

tri*month*ly (tri-month-lee) adj. occurring every three months.

trine (trin) n. 1. a set of three. 2. (in astrology) the aspect of two planets one-third of the zodiac (= 120°) apart, regarded as having a favorable influence. trine adj. of or having this aspect.

Trin*i*dad (trin-i-dad) an island in the West Indies, forming part of the country of Trinidad and Tobago.

Trin*i*dad and Tobago (trin-i-dad-and-tobago) adj. & n.

Trin*i*tar'i*an (trin-i-tar-i-an) n. a person who believes in the doctrine of the Trinity. Trin*i*tar'i*an*ism n.

trin*i*ty (trin-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) a group of three. the Trinity, the three persons of the Godhead (Father, Son, Holy Spirit) as constituting one God. Trinity Sunday, the Sunday after Whitsunday, celebrated in honor of the Holy Trinity.

trin*ket (tring-kit) n. a small fancy article or piece of jewelry.

tri*no*mi*al (tri-no-mi-ál) adj. consisting of or relating to three terms. trinomial n. an algebraic expression or scientific name consisting of three terms.

tri*o (tree-oh) n. (pl. -os) 1. a group or set of three. 2. a group of three singers or players, a musical composition for these.

tri*ode (trri-ohd) n. a vacuum tube having three electrodes.

tri*o*let (trri-o-lit) n. a poem with eight lines and two rhymes, of which the first, fourth, and seventh lines are the same and the eighth line is the same as the second.

tri*ox*ide (trri-ok-sid) n. an oxide containing three oxygen atoms.

trip (trip) v. (tripped, trip-ping) 1. to walk or run or dance with quick light steps, (of rhythm) to run lightly. 2. (informal) to have a long visionary experience caused by a hallucinogenic drug. 3. to stumble, to catch one's foot on something and fall, to cause to do this. 4. to make a slip or blunder, to cause to do this. 5. to release (a switch or catch) so as to operate a mechanism. trip n. 1. a journey or excursion, especially for pleasure. 2. (informal) a long visionary experience caused by a hallucinogenic drug. 3. a stumble. 4. a device for tripping a mechanism. □ trip hammer, a large hammer operated by a tripping mechanism. trip up, to stumble or cause to stumble; to make a slip or blunder, to cause (a person) to do this so as to detect him in an error or inconsistency.

trir*par*tite (tri-par-tit) adj. consisting of three parts.

tripe (trip) n. 1. the stomach of an ox etc. as food. 2. (slang) nonsense, something worthless.

triph*thong (tri-thawng) n. three vowel characters representing a sound of a single vowel, as in beau.

tripl*ane (tripl-playn) n. an airplane with three sets of wings.

trip*le (trip-él) adj. 1. consisting of three parts, involving three people or groups. 2. three times as much or as many. triple n. 1. a set of three. 2. a number or amount three times greater than another. 3. a three base hit. triple v. (trip-led, trip-ling) 1. to make or become three times as much or as many. 2. (in baseball) to hit a triple. □ triple crown, the winning by the same horse of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness, and the Belmont Stakes in one season; any comparable feat in other sports. triple threat, a person skilled in three fields or in three areas within the same field, as in football with running, punting, and passing.

trip*let (trip-lit) n. 1. one of three children or animals born at one birth. 2. a set of three things.

trip*lex (trip-leks) adj. triple, threefold.

triplex n. an apartment with rooms on three floors.
triplicate (trip-ll-kit) n. one of three things that are exactly alike. triplicate adj. threefold, being a triplicate. triplicate (trip-ll-kay-t) v. (trip-ll-cat-ed, trip-ll-cat-ing) to make or be three identical copies of. triplicate (trip-ll-cat-ion) (trip-ll-kay-shn) n.

tripl. ply (trip-lee) adv. in a triple manner.

tripl. pod (trr-pod) n. a three-legged stand for a camera or surveying instrument etc.

trip-o-dal (trip-ö-däl) adj.

Trip-o-lil (trip-ö-lee) the capital of Libya.

trip-tych (trip-tik) n. a picture or carving on three panels fixed or hinged side by side, especially as an altarpiece.

tri-rene (tri-reem) n. an ancient warship with three banks of oars, especially a Greek one.

tri-sect (tri-sekt) v. to divide into three equal parts. tri-sect-ion (tri-sek-shn) n.

trite (trit) adj. (trit-er, trit-est) (of a phrase or opinion) commonplace, hackneyed. trite’ness n.

trit-l-um (trit-i-üm) n. a heavy radioactive isotope of hydrogen with a mass about three times that of ordinary hydrogen.

trit-om (trit-tön) n. a nucleus of a tritium atom, consisting of a proton and two neutrons.

trit-u-rate (trich-ü-rayt) v. (trit-u-rate-ed, trit-u-rate-ing) 1. to grind to a fine powder. 2. to masticate thoroughly. trit-u-rate (trich-ü-rät-bel) adj. trit-u-rate-tion (trich-ü-ray-shn) n.

triumph (trrr-ümf) n. 1. the fact of being successful or victorious, joy at this. 2. a great success or achievement. triumph v. to be successful or victorious, to rejoice at one’s success etc.; triumph over difficulties, overcome them.

triumphal (trrr-üm-fäl) adj. of or celebrating a triumph. triumphal arch, one built to commemorate a victory.

triumphant (trrr-üm-fant) adj. 1. victorious, successful. 2. rejoicing at success etc. triumphant adj. adv.

triumvir (trrr-üm-vir) (pl. -vir-s, -vi-ri, pr. -vi-ri) a person united with two others in office, a member of a triumvirate.

triumvir (trrr-üm-vir) n. 1. the office of a triumvir. 2. a set of triumvirs or of any three persons, especially in authority.

triumvirate (trrr-üm-vir-it) n. 1. a short-legged metal plate upon which hot dishes are placed. 2. an iron stand, especially a tripod, for a kettle or pot etc. placed over a fire.

troop-ly (trrr-ih-ä) n. pl. unimportant matters or things.

troop-i-al (trrr-ih-äl) adj. of only small value or importance. troop-i-al-ly adv. troop-i-al-ty (trrr-ih-äl-i-te) n.

troop-i-um (trrr-ih-üm) n. (pl. troop-i-a) a medieval university course of grammar, rhetoric, and logic.

troop-week-ly (trrr-week-lee) adj. produced or occurring three times in a week or every three weeks.

troop (troop) n. 1. a company of people or animals. 2. troops, soldiers, armed forces. troop v. to assemble or go as a troop or in great numbers. troop carrier, a large aircraft or armored vehicle for transporting troops. troop the...
color, the ceremony of carrying the regimental flag along ranks of soldiers. trooper (troo-pér) n. 1. a soldier in a cavalry or armored unit. 2. a member of a state police force. 3. a police officer on horseback. □ swear like a trooper, to swear forcibly. □ Do not confuse trooper with trouper.
troop (troop) n. a ship for transporting troops. tropic, abbr. 1. tropic. 2. tropical.
trope (trop) n. the use of a word in other than its literal sense.
trophy (troh-fee) n. (pl. -phies) 1. something taken in war or hunting etc. as a souvenir of success. 2. an object awarded as a prize or token of victory.
tropical adj. of or relating to the tropics.
trope (trop) 1. cal (trop-i-kal) adj. of or found in or like the tropics. trope’i-cal-ly adv.
troplasm (troo-pliz-ém) n. a turning of an organism in a particular direction in response to an external stimulus.
troposphere (trop-oh-sfer) n. the layer of atmospheric air extending about seven miles upward from Earth's surface.
tropic adj. of or relating to the tropics.
troop ship (troop-ship) n. a ship for transporting troops.
troop (trot) 1. the running action of a horse etc. with legs moving as in a walk. 2. a slowish run. trot v. (trotted, trotting) 1. to go or cause to go at a trot. 2. (informal) to walk or go, trot around to the drugstore. □ trot out, (informal) to produce, to bring out for inspection or approval etc., trotted out the same old excuse. trotting race, a race in which horses pull small vehicles at a trot.
troth (trowth) n. (old use) 1. truth. 2. faith, loyalty.
Trotskyism (trot-ski-iz-ém) n. the political or economic principles of Leon Trotsky (1879-1940), a Russian leader and revolutionary urging worldwide socialist revolution. Trot’sky-ist adj. & n. Trot’sky-ite (trot-ski-it) n. troter (troo-tér) n. a horse of a special breed trained for trotting races.
trouba (trou-) n. a horse of a special breed trained for trotting races.
troubadour (troo-bá-doehr) n. 1. a lyric poet in southern France in the 11th-13th centuries. 2. a wandering musician.
trouble (trub-éll) n. 1. difficulty. inconvenience, distress, vexation, misfortune. 2. a cause of any of these. 3. conflict, public unrest. 4. unpleasantness involving punishment or rebuke. 5. faulty functioning of mechanism or of the body or mind, engine trouble, stomach trouble. trouble v. (troubled, troubling) 1. to cause trouble or distress or pain or inconvenience to. 2. to be disturbed or worried, to be subjected to inconvenience or unpleasant exertion, don’t trouble about it. 3. to cause to move irregularly, wind troubled the waters. □ be no trouble, to cause no inconvenience or difficulty. go to some trouble, = take trouble. in trouble, involved in something liable to bring punishment or rebuke; (informal) pregnant while unmarried. make trouble, to stir up disagreement or disturbance or unpleasantness. take trouble, to use much care and effort in doing something; take the trouble to do something, exert oneself to do it. trouble spot, a place where trouble frequently occurs. trouble maker (trub-él-may-kér) n. a person who habitually stirs up trouble.
trouble shoot (trub-él-shoot) v. (troubled shoot-ed or troublé-shot, troublé-shooting) to be a trouble-shooter, to deal with by doing this.
trouble shoot-er (trub-él-shoo-tér) n. a person employed to trace and correct faults in machinery etc. or to act as a mediator in disputes.
trouble some (trub-él-sóm) adj. giving trouble, causing annoyance. trouble-some-ly adv.
trough (trowf) n. 1. a long narrow open receptacle, especially for holding water or food for animals. 2. a channel for conveying liquid. 3. a depression between two waves or ridges. 4. an elongated region of low atmospheric pressure.
trouncer (trouns) v. (trounced, trouncing) 1. to thrash. 2. to defeat heavily.
trounce (troun-sér) n. a company of actors or acrobats etc.
trooper (troop) n. a company of actors or acrobats etc.
trooper (troo-pér) n. 1. a member of a theatrical troupe. 2. a staunch colleague, a good trooper. □ Do not confuse trooper with trouper.
troopers (trow-zérz) n. pl. a two-legged outer garment reaching from the waist usually to the ankles.
trousers (trou-sé) n. pl. -seaux, -seaux, pr. -sohz) a bride's collection of clothing etc. to begin married life.
trouser (trowt) n. (pl. trousers, trouts) any of several chiefly freshwater fish valued as food and game.
trowel (trow-él) n. 1. a small tool with a flat blade for spreading mortar etc. 2. a small garden tool with a curved blade for lifting plants or scooping things.
troy (troi) adj. expressed or measured in troy weight. □ troy weight, a system of weights used for precious metals and truant / trunk

gems, in which 1 pound = 12 ounces or 5760 grains.

truant (troo-ant) n. 1. a child who stays away from school without leave. 2. a person who absents himself from work or duty. truant v. to play truant. truant adj. as or like a truant. truant officer, an officer of a public school who investigates absences of pupils.

truce (troos) n. an agreement to cease hostilities temporarily.

truck1 (truk) n. 1. a large automotive vehicle designed to carry heavy loads. 2. an open container on wheels for transporting loads, a hand cart. 3. a swiveling frame with one or more pairs of wheels under each end of a railroad or subway car etc. truck v. 1. to convey on or in a truck. truck’er n.

truck2 v. to exchange, to barter. truck n. 1. garden produce grown for the market. 2. (informal) dealings; have no truck with, to have no dealings with. truck farm, a farm raising produce for the market.

truck-age (truk-ij) n. 1. transportation by truck. 2. the charge for this transport.

truck-ing (truk-ing) n. the business or act of transporting goods by truck.

truck-le (truk-él) v. (truck-led, truck-ling) to submit obsequiously, refusing to truckle to bullies. truck’er n. truck’ bed, a trundle bed.

truck-load (truk-lohd) n. the full load of a truck.

trudge (truj) v. (trudged, trudg-ing) to walk laboriously. trudge n. a trudging walk.

true (troo) adj. (tru-er, truest) 1. in accordance with fact. 2. in accordance with correct principles or an accepted standard, rightly so called, genuine and not false, he was the true heir; the true north, according to Earth’s axis, not the magnetic north. 3. exact, accurate, (of the voice etc.) in good tune. 4. accurately placed or balanced or shaped. 5. loyal, faithful. true adv. truly, accurately. true n. exact position or adjustment; out of true, misaligned. true v. (trued, truing or true-ing) to make true. true-ness n. true bill, a bill of indictment endorsed by the grand jury as being sustained by evidence.

true-blue adj. completely true to one’s principles, firmly loyal.

true-heart-ed (troo-hahr-tid) adj. faithful, loyal.

true-fle (truf-él) n. 1. a rich-flavored fungus that grows underground and is valued as a delicacy. 2. a soft candy made of a chocolate mixture.

true-ism (troo-iz-ém) n. 1. a statement that is obviously true, especially one that is hackneyed, as nothing lasts forever. 2. a statement that merely repeats an idea already implied in one of its words, as there’s no need to unnecessarily careful. □ Do not confuse truism with truth.

true-ly (troo-lee) adv. 1. truthfully. 2. sincerely, genuinely, we are truly grateful. 3. faithfully, loyally. □ yours truly, see yours.

True-man (troo-mán), Har’ry S. (1884–1972) the thirty-third president of the U.S. 1945–53.

trump (trump) n. 1. a playing card of a suit (trump or trumps), both treated as singular) temporarily ranking above others. 2. (informal) a person who behaves in a helpful or useful way. trump v. to take (a card or trick) with a trump, to play a trump. trump card, a card of the trump suit; a valuable resource, a means of gaining what one wants. trump up, to invent (an excuse or accusation etc.) fraudulently.

trump’er-y (trump-pé-re) n. (pl. -eries) 1. worthless finery. 2. rubbish, nonsense. trumpery adj. showy but worthless.

trump’et (trump-it) n. 1. a metal wind instrument with a bright ringing tone, consisting of a narrow straight or curved tube flared at the end. 2. something shaped like this. trumpet v. (trump’ett-ed, trump’et-ing) 1. to blow a trumpet, to proclaim by or as if by sound of a trumpet. 2. (of an elephant) to make a loud resounding sound with its trunk.

trump’et-er (trump-pé-tër) n. a person who plays or sounds a trumpet. □ trumpeteter swan, a large North American wild swan having a loud cry.

trun’cate (trung-kayt) v. (trun’cate-d, trun’cat-ing) to shorten by cutting off the top or end. truncate adj. truncated. trunc’ca-tion (trun-kay-shon) n. trunc’cheon (trun-chon) n. (British) a policeman’s nightstick.

trun’die (trun-dél) v. (trun’die-d, trun’ding) to roll along, to move along heavily on a wheel or wheels, trundling a wheelbarrow; a bus trundled up. trun’der n. trundle bed, a low bed on wheels that may be pushed under another.

trunk (trungk) n. 1. the main stem of a tree. 2. the body apart from head and limbs. 3. a large box with a hinged lid for transporting or storing clothes etc. 4. the compartment of an automobile for carrying luggage. 5. the long flexible nose of an elephant. 6. trunks, men's shorts for swimming, boxing, and other athletics. 7. trust line, a main long-distance railroad line or truck route; a main telephone line.

truss (trus) n. 1. a framework of beams or bars supporting a roof or bridge etc. 2. a padded belt or other device worn to support a hernia. truss v. 1. to tie or bind securely, trust him up; truss a chicken, fasten its legs and wings securely before cooking. 2. to support (a roof or bridge etc.) with trusses.

trust (trust) n. 1. firm belief in the reliability or truth or strength etc. of a person or thing. 2. confident expectation. 3. responsibility arising from trust placed in the person given authority, a position of trust. 4. property legally entrusted to a person with instructions to use it for another's benefit or for a specified purpose. 5. an association of business firms, formed to reduce or defeat competition; antitrust legislation, laws to combat this. trust v. 1. to have or place trust in, to treat as reliable. 2. to entrust. 3. to hope earnestly, I trust he is not hurt. trust'er n. 4. In trust, held as a trust (definition 4). on trust, accepted without investigation, don't take the statement on trust; on credit, they bought goods on trust.

trust account, an account holding property in trust for distribution during the life or after the death of the grantor. trust company, a company formed to act as trustee or to deal with trusts.

trust fund, money etc. held in trust. trust territory, a territory under trusteeship of a country designated by the U.N. trust to, to place reliance on, trusting to luck.

trus'tee (trus-tee) n. 1. a person who holds and administers property in trust for another. 2. a member of a group of people managing the business affairs of an institution.

trust'tee-ship (trus'tee-ship) n. 1. the function of a trustee. 2. the management of a territory by a country as granted by the U.N.

trust'ful (trust'ful) adj. full of trust, not feeling or showing suspicion. trust'ful ly adv. trust'ful ness n.

trust'worthy (trust-wur-thee) adj. worthy of trust, reliable. trust'wor-thi-ness n.

trus'ty adj. (trust-y) adj. (trust-i'er, trust'i-est) (old use) trustworthy, his trusty sword. trusty n. (pl. -ies) a prisoner who is granted special privileges or given responsibilities because of continuous good behavior.

truth (trooth) n. 1. the quality of being true. 2. something that is true. truth serum, a substance administered on the supposition that it will make a person tell the truth. 3. Do not confuse truth with truism.

truth'ful (truth'ful) adj. 1. habitually telling the truth. 2. true, a truthful account of what happened. truth'ful ly adv. truth'ful ness n.

try (trii) (tried, try-ing) v. 1. to attempt, to make an effort to do something. 2. to test, to use or do or test the possibilities of something in order to discover whether it is satisfactory or useful for a purpose, try your strength; try soap and water; try the public library; try shaking it. 3. to try to open (a door or window) in order to discover whether it is locked. 4. to be a strain on, small print tries the eyes; you are trying my patience. 5. to examine and decide (a case or issue) in a law court, to hold a trial of (a person), he was tried for murder. try n. (pl. tries) an attempt; the old college try, a whole-hearted attempt. 6. try for, to attempt to reach or attain or obtain; to compete for. try it on, (informal) to do something experimentally in order to discover whether it will be tolerated. try on, to put (a garment etc.) on to see whether it fits and looks well. try one's hand, to attempt something for the first time. try one's luck, to attempt something to see if one can be successful. try out, to test by use. try out for, to compete for (a role in a play, membership in a team, etc.).

try'ing (try-ing) adj. putting a strain on one's temper or patience, annoying. try'ing ly adv.

try'out (try-owt) n. a test of effectiveness, popularity, etc.

tryst (trist) n. (old use) an appointed meeting, an appointment, especially one made by lovers. tryst v. (old use) to meet for a tryst.

tsar = czar.

tset-se (tset-see, tsee-tsee) fly a tropical African fly that carries and transmits disease (especially sleeping sickness) by its bite.

T.Sgt. abbr. technical sergeant.

T-shirt (tee-shurt) n. a short-sleeved shirt having the shape of a T when spread out flat.

tsp. abbr. 1. teaspoon(s). 2. teaspoonful(s).

T (tee) square a T-shaped instrument for measuring or constructing right angles.

tsu-na-mi (tsu-neh-mee) n. a series of huge sea waves caused by disturbance of the ocean floor or by seismic movement. tsu-na’milc adj.
tub (tub) n. 1. an open flat-bottomed usually round container used for washing or for holding liquids or soil for plants etc. 2. a bathtub.
tu·ba (too-bà) n. a large low-pitched brass wind instrument.
tub·by (tub-e) adj. (-bl·er, -bl·est) short and fat. tub‘bl·i·ness n.
tube (toob) n. 1. a long hollow cylinder, especially for holding or conveying liquids etc. 2. anything shaped like this. 3. a cylinder of flexible material with a screw cap, holding pastes etc. ready for use. tube‘less adj. tube‘like adj. □down the tube, (informal) wasted, ruined. the tube, (informal) television.
tu·ber (too-bêr) n. a short thick rounded root (as of a dahlia) or underground stem (as of a potato), producing buds from which new plants will grow.
tu·ber·cle (too-bêr-kêl) n. a small rounded projection or swelling.
tu·ber·cu·lar (tuu-bur-kyu-lar) adj. of or affected with tuberculosis.
tu·ber·cu·lin (tuu-bur-kyu-lin) n. the sterile liquid from cultures of tubercle bacillus, used in diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis.
tu·ber·cu·lo·sis (tuu-bur-kyu-lo-sis) n. 1. an infectious wasting disease affecting various parts of the body, in which tubercles appear on body tissue. 2. tuberculosis of the lungs. tu·ber·cu·lo·ous (tuu-bur-kyu-lûs) adj.
tube·rose (toob-rohz) n. a tropical plant with fragrant white funnel-shaped flowers.
tu·ber·ous (too-bê-rûs) adj. of or like a tuber, bearing tubers.
tub·ing (too-bîng) n. tubes, a length of tube.
tu·bu·lar (too-byû-lar) adj. tube-shaped, (of furniture) made of tube-shaped pieces. tu·bu·lar·ly adv.
tu·bule (too-byool) n. a small tube or tube-shaped part.
tuck (tuk) n. a flat fold stitched in a garment etc. to make it smaller or as an ornament. tuck v. 1. to put a tuck or tucks in (a garment etc.). 2. to turn (ends or edges etc.) or fold (a part) in or into or under something so as to be concealed or held in place. 3. to cover snugly and compactly, tucked him in bed. 4. to put away compactly, tucked it in a drawer. □tuck in, (slang) to eat (food) heartily. tuck·er (tuk·er) v. (informal) to tire, to weary. □tuckered out, (informal) tired, exhausted.
Tu·dor (too-dôr) adj. of or belonging to the period of time in England from Henry VII to Elizabeth I, as a style of houses etc.

Tues., Tue. abbr. Tuesday.
Tues·day (tooz-day) n. the day of the week following Monday.
tu·fa (too-fâ) n. a porous rock formed around mineral springs. tu·fa·ceous (too-fay-shûs) adj.
tuft (tuft) n. a bunch of threads or grass or feathers or hair etc. held or growing together at the base. tuft v. to make depressions in (a mattress or cushion) by stitching tightly through it at a number of points, so as to hold the stuffing in place.
tuft·ed (tuf·tid) adj. having a tuft or tufts, (of a bird) having a tuft of projecting feathers on its head.
tug (tug) v. (tugged, tug·ging) 1. to pull vigorously or with great effort. 2. to tow by means of a tug. tug n. 1. a vigorous pull. 2. a tugboat. tug‘ger n. □tug of war, a contest in which two teams hold a rope at opposite ends and pull until one hauls the other over a central point.
tug·boat (tug·boht) n. a small powerful boat for tow ing others.
tu·li·tion (too-ish·on) n. 1. the process of teaching, instruction. 2. a fee for instruction.
tu·la·re·mi·a (too-lâ-re·mi·à) n. a severe infectious bacterial disease of man and domestic animals, transmitted by contact or by insect bites.
tu·lip (too-lip) n. a garden plant growing from a bulb, with a large cup-shaped flower on a tall stem.
tulip tree 1. a kind of magnolia. 2. a North American tree with large greenish tulip-like flowers.
tulle (tool) n. a kind of fine silky net used for veils and dresses.
tum·ble (tum-bel) v. (tum·bled, tum·bling) 1. to fall helplessly or headlong, to cause to do this (as by pushing). 2. to fall in value or amount. 3. to roll over and over or in a disorderly way. 4. to move or rush in a hasty careless way, tumbled into bed. 5. to throw or push carelessly in a confused mass. 6. to rumple or disarrange. tumble n. 1. a tumbling fall. 2. an untidy state, things were all in a tumble. □tumble to, (informal) to realize or grasp (the meaning of something).
tum·ble·down (tum·bêl·down) adj. falling or fallen into ruin, dilapidated.
tum·blor (tum·blër) n. 1. a person who turns somersaults etc., an acrobat. 2. a drinking glass with no handle or stem. 3. a pivoted piece in a lock that holds the bolt until lifted by a key. 4. any of several kinds of pivoted or swiveling parts in a mechanism.

tumbleweed (tum-bell-weed) n. a plant, especially of the prairies, forming a globular bush that breaks off in late summer and is rolled about by the wind.

tumbrel (tum-brël) n. (old use) an open cart, especially the kind used to carry condemned people to the guillotine during the French Revolution.

tumescent (too-mes-ent) adj. becoming tumid, swelling. tumes'cence n.
tumid (too-mid) adj. 1. (of parts of the body) swollen, inflated. 2. bombastic. tumid'i-ty (too-mid-i-tee) n. tumultuous (tum-oo-lus) adj. making a tumult, tumultuous applause.
tun (tun) n. a large cask for wine or beer etc.
tuna (too-nà) n. (pl. -na, -nas) 1. a large seafood used as food. 2. (also tuna fish) its flesh (usually tinned) as food.
tunica (tun-dra) n. the vast level treeless arctic regions where the subsoil is frozen.
toon (toon) n. a melody, especially a well-marked one. tune v. (tuned, tun-ing) 1. to put (a musical instrument) in tune. 2. to tune in (a radio receiver etc.). 3. to adjust (an engine) to run smoothly. tun'able adj. tun'ably adv. tun-able-l-y (too-nah-bil-i-tee) n. □ in tune, playing or singing at the correct musical pitch; in tune with one's company, in harmonious adjustment to it. out of tune, not in tune. to the tune of, to the considerable sum or amount of, received compensation to the tune of $5000. tune in, to set a radio receiver to the right wavelength to receive a certain transmitted signal; (slang) to listen carefully, to be enthusiastic. tune out, to cut out radio signals etc. by tuning; (slang) to stop listening. tune up, (of an orchestra) to bring instruments to the correct or uniform pitch. tuning fork, a steel device like a two-pronged fork, which produces a note of fixed pitch, usually middle C, when struck. tuneful (toon-ful) adj. melodious, having a pleasing tune. tune'ful-ly adv. tune'ful-ness n.
tun-less (toon-lis) adj. not melodious, without a tune. tune'less-ly adv.
tuner (too-nér) n. 1. a person or thing that tunes. 2. the part of a radio receiver that selects wavelengths.
tune-up (toon-up) n. the adjustment of a car engine etc. to bring it to its most efficient condition.
tungsten (tung-stén) n. a heavy gray metallic substance used for the filaments of electric lamps and in making a kind of steel (tungsten steel). tungsten'ic (tung-sten-ik) adj.
tunicle (too-nikl) n. 1. a close-fitting jacket worn as part of a uniform. 2. a woman's light hipline garment, often worn over trousers or a skirt.

Tu-na (too-nà) the capital of Tunisia.

Tu-nis (too-nis) a country in North Africa. Tu-nisian adj. & n. tunnel (tun-ël) n. an underground passage, a passage for a highway or railroad through a hill or under a river etc., a passage made by a burrowing animal. tunnellable (tun-neled, tun-nel-ing) to dig a tunnel, to make a tunnel through.
tunnel vision, defective vision in which a person can see only straight ahead in a very narrow field; narrow-mindedness, especially in solving problems.

Tu-pl (too-pl) n. (pl. -pls, -pl) 1. a South American Indian tribe. 2. the language of this tribe.
tuque (took) n. a stocking cap worn in Canada.
turbulence (tur-bu-lëns) n. a man's headdress consisting of a scarf wound around a cap, worn especially by Muslims and Sikhs. 2. a woman's hat resembling this.
turbid (tur-bid) adj. 1. (of liquids) muddy, not clear. 2. confused, disordered, a turbid imagination. turbid'ity adv. turbid'ness n. □ turbid'i-ty (turb-id-i-tee) n. □ Do not confuse turbid with turgid.
turbine (tur-bin) n. a machine or motor driven by a wheel that is turned by the pressure of air, steam, water, or gas, gas turbine.

turbo-electric (tur-bo-lek-trik) adj. of or using a generator driven by a turbine.

turbofan (tur-bo-fan) n. a jet engine using air in the combustion of fuel.

turbojet (tur-bo-jet) n. 1. a turbine engine that delivers its power in the form of a jet of hot gases. 2. an aircraft driven by this instead of by propellers.

turboprop (tur-bo-prop) n. 1. a jet engine in which a turbine is used as a turbojet and also to drive a propeller. 2. an aircraft driven by this.

turboset (tur-bo-set) n. (pl. -sets, -bots) a large flat sea fish of European waters valued as food.

turbulent (tur-byu-lënt) adj. 1. in a state of commotion or unrest, (of air or water) moving violently and unevenly. 2. un-ruly. tur'bu-lent-ly adv. tur'bu-lence n.

tu·re-en (tuu-reen) n. a deep covered dish from which soup is served at the table.

turf (turf) n. (pl. turfs) 1. short grass and the surface layer of earth bound together by its roots. 2. a piece of this cut from the ground. 3. a slab of peat for fuel. 4. the turf; the racecourse, horse racing. 5. (slang) one's own neighborhood or territory. turf v. to lay (ground) with turf.

tur·gid (tur-jid) adj. 1. swollen or distended and not flexible. 2. (of language or style) pompous, not flowing easily. tur·gid·ly adv. tur·gid·i·ty (tur-jid-i-tee) n. Do not confuse turgid with turbid.

Turk (turk) n. a native or inhabitant of Turkey. □ Young Turk, a member of a Turkish reformist party of 1908; (young Turk), a political reformist.

Turk. abbr. 1. Turkey. 2. Turkish.

tur·key (tur-kee) n. (pl. -keys, -key) 1. a large bird reared for its flesh. 2. its flesh as food. □ cold turkey, see cold. talk turkey, (informal) to talk in a frank and businesslike way. turkey buzzard, an American carrion vulture. turkey cock, the male turkey; a pompous or self-important person. turkey vulture, a turkey buzzard.

Tur·key (tur-kee) a country in Asia Minor and southeast Europe.

Turk·ish (tur-kish) adj. of Turkey or its people or language. Turkish n. the language of Turkey. □ Turkish bath, exposure of the whole body to hot air or steam to induce sweating, followed by washing. Turkish coffee, strong usually sweet black coffee made from very finely ground beans. Turkish delight, a candy consisting of lumps of flavored gelatine coated with powdered sugar. Turkish towel, a towel made of terry cloth.

Turk·me·ni·stan (turk-me-ni-stan) a republic of the U.S.S.R. bordering on Iran and the Caspian Sea. Tur·ko·man (tur-kö-mân) n. a native or inhabitant of Turkmenistan.

tur·me·lic (tur-mé-rik) n. 1. a plant of the ginger family. 2. its root powdered for use as a dye or stimulant or flavoring, especially in curry powder.

tur·moll (tur-moil) n. a state of great disturbance or confusion.

turn (turn) v. 1. to move or cause to move around a point or axis; turn somersaults, perform them by turning one's body; it would make him turn in his grave, would disturb a dead person's eternal rest if he knew about it. 2. to change or cause to change in position so that a different side becomes uppermost or nearest to a certain point. 3. to give a new direction to, to take a new direction, to aim or become aimed in a certain way, the river turns north at this point; turn the hose on them; our thoughts turned to Christmas presents. 4. to go or move or travel around, to go to the other side of; turn the enemy's flank, pass around it so as to attack him from the side or rear. 5. to pass (a certain hour or age), it's turned midnight. 6. to cause to go, to send or put, turn the horse into the field. 7. to change or become changed in nature or form or appearance etc., the caterpillar turned into a chrysalis; he turned Communist; the leaves turned or turned brown. 8. to make or become sour, the milk has turned. 9. to make or become nauseated, it turns my stomach. 10. to shape in a lathe. 11. to give an elegant form to, turned phrases that delighted us. 12. to make (a profit), turned an honest penny.

turn n. 1. turning, being turned, a turning movement. 2. a change of direction or condition etc., the point at which this occurs. 3. an angle, a bend or corner in a road. 4. character or tendency, he's of a mechanical turn of mind. 5. service of a specified kind, did me a good turn; it served its turn, served a useful purpose. 6. an opportunity or obligation etc. that comes to each of a number of people or things in succession, wait your turn. 7. a short performance in an entertainment. 8. (informal) an attack of illness, a momentary nervous shock, gave me a turn. □ at every turn, in every place; continually. □ in turn, in succession; in one's turn, when one's turn comes. not know which way to turn, not know how to proceed or where to seek help. not turn a hair, to show no agitation. out of turn, before or after one's turn; speak out of turn, to speak in an indiscreet or presumptuous way. to a turn, so as to be cooked perfectly. turn against, to make or become hostile to. turn away, to send away, to reject. turn down, to fold down; to reduce the volume or flow of (sound or gas or heat etc.) by turning a knob or tap; to reject. turn in, to hand in; to deliver as a score etc.; (informal) to go to bed. turn loose, to let (a person or thing) go; to put into operation; to give (a person) freedom to take action. turn off, to enter a side road; to stop the flow or operation of by turning a tap or switch; (slang) to cause to lose interest. turn on, to depend on; to start the flow or operation of by turning a tap or switch; (slang) to excite (a person) sexually or with drugs etc.; turn upon (see below). turn one's back on, to abandon. turn out, to expel; to turn off (an electric light etc.); to equip or dress, well turned out; to produce by work; to empty, turn out the attic; (informal) to come out; to call (a military guard) from the guardroom; to prove to be, to be eventually, we'll see how things turn out. turn over, to hand over; to transfer; to consider carefully, turn it over in your mind. turn over a new leaf, to abandon one's previous bad ways. turn tall, to run away. turn the corner, to pass a critical point safely, as in an illness. turn the tables, to reverse a situation and put oneself in a superior position. turn to, to set about one's work. turn turtle, to capsize. turn up, to discover or reveal; to be found; to make one's appearance; to happen or present itself; to increase the volume or flow of (sound or gas or heat etc.) by turning a knob or tap. turn upon, to become suddenly hostile to, turned upon me for no reason.

turn-a-bout (turn-a-bowt) n. a change or reversal of loyalty, opinion, belief, etc. turn-a-round (turn-a-rownd) n. 1. a place to turn a vehicle around. 2. a turnabout. 3. the process of unloading and reloading of a ship etc., making it ready to leave.
turn-buck·le (turn-buk-é) n. a device for tightly connecting parts of a metal rod or wire.
turn-coat (turn-coht) n. a person who changes his principles. turn-down (turn-down) adj. folding downward, as a collar. turn-down (n. (informal) a rejection.
turn·er (tur-nér) n. 1. a person who works with a lathe. 2. a device for turning things, as a pancake turner.
turn·ing (tur-níng) n. 1. the action or course of a person or thing that turns. 2. the point at which a thing changes direction. □ turning point, a point at which a decisive change takes place.
turn-nip (tur-nip) n. 1. a plant with a round white root used as a vegetable and for feeding cattle etc. 2. its root.
turn-key (turn-key) n. (pl. -keys) a person in charge of prison keys.
turn-off (turn-awf) n. a side road or ramp branching off a main road.
turn-out (turn-owt) n. 1. the process of turning out an attic etc. 2. the number of people who come to a public or social function. 3. something arrayed, an outfit.
turn-o·ver (turn-oh-vér) n. 1. turning over. 2. a small pie in which a piece of pastry is folded over so as to enclose filling. 3. the amount of money turned over in a business. 4. the rate at which goods are sold. 5. the rate at which workers leave and are replaced, a rapid turnover of staff.
turn-pike (turn-pik) n. 1. (old use) a tollgate. 2. a high-speed expressway on which users pay tolls.
turn-spit (turn-spit) n. 1. a rotating spit. 2. a person or device that turns a spit.
turn-stile (turn-stil) n. a device for admitting people to a building etc. one at a time, with barriers (often of horizontal bars) that revolve around a central post as each person passes through.
turn·ta·ble (turn-tay-bé) n. a circular revolving platform or support, as for the record in a record player.
tur·pen·tine (tur-pen-tin) n. an oil distilled from the resin of certain trees, used for thinning paint and as a solvent.
tur·pi·tude (tur-pi-tood) n. wickedness.
turps (turps) n. (informal) turpentine.
tur·quoise (tur-kwoiz, -koiz) n. 1. a sky-blue precious stone. 2. sky-blue or greenish-blue color. turquoise adj. of this color.
tur·ret (tur-it) n. 1. a small towerlike projection on a building or defensive wall. 2. a low usually revolving structure protecting a gun and gunners in a ship or airplane or fort or tank. 3. a rotating holder for various dies and cutting tools in a lathe or drill etc. tur·ret·ed adj.
tur·tle (tur-tel) n. (pl. -tles, -tule) 1. a slow-moving four-footed reptile with its body enclosed in a hard shell, living on land or in fresh or salt water. 2. its flesh, used for making soup.
tur·tle·dove (tur-tel-duvé) n. a wild European dove noted for its soft cooing and for its affection toward its mate and young.
tur·tle·neck (tur-tel-nek) n. a shirt or sweater with a high round close-fitting neck.
tusk (tusk) n. one of the pair of long pointed teeth that project outside the mouth in the elephant, walrus, etc.
tusk·ed adj.
tusk·er (tus·ker) n. an elephant or wild boar with developed tusks.
tus·tle (tus·tul) n. a struggle, a conflict. tussle v. (tus·sled, tus·slung) to take part in a tussle.
tus·sock (tus·sk) n. a tuft or clump of grass. tus·sock·y adj. □ tussock moth, a moth with tufted larvae.
tu·te·lage (too·tē·lij) n. 1. guardianship. 2. instruction.
tu·te·lar·y (too·tē·ler·ee) adj. serving as guardian, protective. tu·tor (too·tōr) n. 1. a private teacher. 2. (in some universities) a teacher below professorial rank. tutor v. to act as tutor to, to teach.
tu•to•r•ial (too-tohr-i-əl) adj. of or relating to a tutor. tutorial n. a type of college course.
tut•ti•fru•ti (too-tee-froo-tee) n. ice cream containing or flavored with mixed fruits.
tu•tu (too-too) n. a ballet dancer's short skirt made of layers of stiffened frills. tux (tuks) n. (informal) a tuxedo.
tux•e•do (tuk-se-doh) n. (pl. -dos) a dinner jacket, evening dress including this.
TV (tee-vee) n. television. □ TV dinner, a cooked meal for one person, packed and frozen in a foil tray and ready for heating.
TVA abbr. Tennessee Valley Authority.
twad•dle (twad-əl) n. nonsense, twaddle
v. (twad•dled, twad•dling) to talk nonsense twad’dler n.
twain (twayn) adj. & n. (old use) two.
twang (twang) n. 1. a sharp ringing sound like that made by a tene wire when plucked. 2. a nasal intonation in speech.
twang v. to make or cause to make a twang, to pluck (a guitar etc.) by plucking the strings. twang’y adj.
'twas (twuz) (old use) = it was.
tweak (tweek) v. to pinch and twist sharply, to pull with a sharp jerk. tweak n. a sharp pinch or twist or pull.
tweed (twed) n. 1. a twilled usually woolen material, often woven of mixed colors. 2. tweeds, clothing made of tweed.
tweed’y adj. (tweed’l•er, tweed’l•est).
t‘tween (tween) prep. (old use) between.
tweet (tweet) n. the chirp of a small bird. tweet v. to make a tweet.
tweet’er (tweed•tər) n. a small loudspeaker for accurately reproducing high-frequency signals.
tweeze (tweez) v. (tweezed, tweez•ing) to pull out with tweezers, as hair, thorns, etc.
tweez•ers (tweez•ərz) n. pl. small pincers for picking up or pulling very small things.
twelfth (twelfth) adj. & n. 1. next after eleventh. 2. one of twelve equal parts of a thing.
twelve (twelv) adj. & n. one more than eleven (12, XII). □ twelve-tone scale, a musical scale using twelve chromatic notes of an octave arranged in chosen order without a conventional key.
twen’ties (tween•teez) n. pl. the numbers or years or degrees of temperature from 20 to 29.
twen’ty (tween•tee) adj. & n. (pl. -ties) twice ten (20, XX). twen’ti•eth adj. & n. □ twenty-twenty vision or 20/20 vision, normal standard of vision.
twen•ty-one (tween•tee•wun) n. a card game (also called blackjack) in which the players try to get cards totaling as close as possible to twenty-one points but without exceeding that amount.
twere (twur) = it were.
twerp (turp) n. (slang) a stupid or insignificant person.
twice (twis) adv. 1. two times, on two occasions. 2. in double amount or degree, twice as strong.
twid•dle (twid–əl) v. (twid•dled, twid•dling) to twirl or handle aimlessly, to twist (a thing) quickly to and fro. twid•dle n. 1. a slight twirl. 2. a twirled mark or sign. □ twiddle one’s thumbs, to twist them around each other idly for lack of occupation. twid’ler n.
twig (twig) n. a small shoot issuing from a branch or stem. twig’gy adj.
twil•light (twil•lɪt) n. light from the sky when the sun is below the horizon (especially after sunset), the period of this.
□ twilight sleep, a partial narcosis, especially as a means of making childbirth less painful.
twill (twill) n. textile fabric woven so that parallel diagonal lines are produced.
twillied (twild) adj. woven so that parallel diagonal lines are produced.
twin (twin) n. 1. one of two children or animals born at one birth. 2. one of two people or things that are exactly alike. 3. the Twins, a sign of the zodiac, Gemini. twin adj. being a twin or twins, twin sister. twin v. (twinned, twin•ing) to combine as a pair. □ twin beds, a pair of single beds. twin-engine plane, an aircraft with two engines.
twine (twin) n. strong thread or string made of two or more strands twisted together. twine v. (twined, twin•ing) to twist, to wind or coil.
twinge (twin’j) n. a slight or brief pang. twinge v. (twinged, twing•ing) 1. to give the mind or body a sudden pain. 2. to have a twinge.
twin•kle (twing•kl) v. (twin•kled, twin•kling) 1. to shine with a light that flickers rapidly, to sparkle. 2. (of the eyes) to be bright or sparkling with amusement. 3. (of the feet in dancing etc.) to move with short rapid movements. twinkle n. a twinkling light or look or movement. twin’ker n.
twin•kling (twin•kling) n. 1. an instant. 2. the act of shining brightly intermitently. □ in the twinkling of an eye, in an instant.
twirl (twur) v. to twist lightly or rapidly. twirl n. 1. a twirling movement. 2. a twist / tympanum

twirl ed mark or sign. twirl' er n.
twist (twist) v. 1. to wind (strands etc.) around each other so as to form a single cord, to interweave. 2. to make by doing this. 3. to pass or coil around something. 4. to give a spiral form to, as by turning the ends in opposite directions. 5. to take a spiral or winding form or course, to turn or bend around, the road twisted and turned; he twisted around in his seat. 6. to rotate or revolve, to cause to do this; twist slowly in the wind, stand helpless as though subject to every turn of fate. 7. to wrench out of its normal shape; a twisted mind, one that works in a perverted way. 8. to distort the meaning of, tried to twist his words into an admission of guilt. twist n. 1. twisting, being twisted. 2. something formed by twisting, a turn in a twisting course. 3. a peculiar tendency of mind or character. 4. a dance with twisting gyrations of the body and arms. 5. (informal) a sliver of lemon peel etc., for adding to a drink. twist'a ble adj. □ twist a person's arm, (informal) to coerce him or her. twist er (twis-ter) n. 1. a person or thing that twists. 2. (in baseball) a batted or pitched ball that moves with a spin. 3. (informal) a tornado or whirlwind.
twift (twit) v. (twit-ted, twit-ting) to taunt. twit n. a taunting remark.
twift (twit) prep. (old use) betwixt.
two (too) adj. & n. one more than one (2, II). □ be of or in two minds, to be undecided. two bits, (slang) twenty-five cents. □ Do not confuse two with to or too.
two-bag' ger (too-bag-er) n. (informal) a double in baseball.
two-bit (too-bit) adj. (slang) 1. cheap. 2. small-time, insignificant.
two-by-four (too-bi-four) adj. 1. two units thick and four units wide. 2. (slang) very small, as a two-by-four room. two-by-four n. a long piece of wood measuring two inches thick and four inches wide.
two-di-men'sion'al (too-di-men-shō-nal) adj. having two dimensions, as length and breadth.
two-edged (too-ej'd) adj. 1. having two cutting edges. 2. cutting both ways.
two-faced (too-fayst) adj. insincere, deceitful.
two-far (too-før) n. (informal) a ticket allowing a person to buy two theater tickets for the regular price of one.
two-fist-ed (too-fis-tid) adj. (informal) vigorous.
two-fold (too-fold) adj. & adv. 1. twice as much or as many. 2. consisting of two parts.
2,4-D a white crystalline powder, used as a weed killer.
2,4,5-T a solid compound, used for brush and weed control.
two-hand-ed (too-han-did) adj. 1. having two hands. 2. requiring to be used with both hands. 3. able to be worked, played, etc. by two persons.
two-ply (too-pli) adj. made of two strands or layers.
two-seat'er (too-see-tër) n. a vehicle, an aircraft, etc. having two seats.
two-sid'ed (too-sid-did) adj. having two sides or aspects etc.
two-some (too-söm) n. two people together, a couple or pair.
two-step (too-step) n. a dance with a sliding step in march or polka time.
two-time (too-tim) v. (two-timed, two-tim-ing) (slang) to doublecross. two'tim'er n.
two-tone (too-tohn) adj. having two colors or sounds.
'twould (twuud) = it would.
two-way (too-way) adj. involving two ways or participants; two-way switch, a switch that allows electric current to be turned on or off from either of two points; two-way traffic, lanes of traffic traveling in opposite directions.
two-wheel'er (too-hwee-lër) n. (informal) a vehicle with two wheels.
twp. abbr. township.
TX abbr. Texas.
-ty suffix used to form nouns meaning quality or condition, as in priority, subtlety.
ty-coon (tr-koon) n. a wealthy and influential businessman or industrialist, a magnate.
ty-ing (tr-ing) see tie.
tyke ( tik) n. (informal) a small child.
Ty-ler (ti-lër) n. John (1790–1862) the tenth president of the U.S. 1841–45.
tympan'ic (tim-pā-nīk) adj. relating to the tympanum of the ear. □ tympanic membrane, the eardrum, which separates the middle ear from the external ear passage.
tym'pa-num (tim-pā-nūm) n. (pl. -nums, 998

998

998

998

998

998

998

998

998

998

998
U

U, u (yoo) (pl. Us, U's, u's) the twenty-first letter of the alphabet.
U symbol uranium.
U. abbr. 1. unit. 2. university.
U·boe the capital of Nauru. The pronunciation of Uboe has not been determined.
U·biqui·tous (yoo-bik-wi-tūs) adj. being everywhere at the same time.
U·boat (yoo-boht) n. a German submarine, especially in World War II.
U.c. abbr. upper case.
U·der (ud-ér) n. a bag-like milk-secreting organ of a cow or ewe or female goat etc., with two or more teats.
UFO abbr. unidentified flying object.
U·gan·da (yoo-gan-dā) a country in East Africa. U·gan'dan adj & n.
ugh (ug) interj. an exclamation of disgust or horror.
ug·li (ug-lee) n. (pl. -liss, -lies)-(also ugli fruit) a mottled green and yellow citrus fruit, a hybrid of a grapefruit and a tangerine.
ug·ly (ug-lee) adj. (-l·er, -l·est) 1. unpleasant to look at or hear. 2. unpleasant in any way, hostile and threatening, the crowd was in an ugly mood. ug·li·ness n. ugli· customer, an unpleasantly formidable person. ugli duckling, a person who at first seems unpromising but later becomes much admired or very able (like the cygnet in the brood of ducks in Hans Christian Andersen's story).
uh (u) interj. an exclamation indicating a pause.
UHF abbr. ultrahigh frequency.
U.K. abbr. United Kingdom.
U·kase (yoo-kays) n. 1. an edict of the czarist Russian government. 2. an arbitrary order.
U·kraine (yoo-krayn) a republic of the U.S.S.R., north of the Black Sea. U·kraín·i·an (yoo-krayn-ィ-an) n. 1. a native of the Ukraine. 2. the language of the Ukraine.
U·ku·le·le (yoo-kū-lay-lee) n. a small four-stringed guitar.
UL abbr. Underwriters' Laboratories.
U·lan Ba·tor (oo-lahn bah-tor) the capital of the Mongolian People's Republic.
ul·cer (ul-sēr) n. an open sore on the surface of the body or one of its organs.
ul·cer·ous adj.
ul·cer·ate (ul-sē-rayt) v. (ul·cer·at·ed, ul·cer·at·ing) to cause an ulcer in or on, to become affected with an ulcer.
ul·cer·a·tion (ul-sē-ray-shon) n.
ul·lage (ul-ij) n. the amount by which a cask etc. falls short of being full, the loss by evaporation or leakage.
ul·na (ul-nā) n. (pl. -nae, pr. -nee, -nas) the thinner of the two long bones in the forearm, the corresponding bone in an animal. ul'nar adj.
Ul·ster (ul-stēr) 1. a former province of Ireland comprising the present Northern Ireland and the counties of Cavan, Donegal, and Monaghan (which are now in the Republic of Ireland). 2. (used loosely) Northern Ireland. 3. ulster, a long loose overcoat of rough cloth, often with a belt.
ult. abbr. ultimate.
ul·te·ri·or (ul-teer-i-ór) adj. beyond what is obvious or admitted, ulterior motives.
ul·ti·mate (ul-ti-mit) adj. 1. last, final; the ultimate deterrent, threatened use of nuclear weapons. 2. basic, fundamental, the ultimate cause. ul'ti·mate·ly adv.
ul·ti·ma·tum (ul-ti-mā-tum, -mah-) n. (pl. -tums, -ta, pr. -tā) a final demand or statement of terms, rejection of which may lead to the ending of friendly relations or a declaration of war.
ul·tra (ul-trā) adj. extreme, beyond the usual. ultra n. a person favoring extreme views or measures, especially in religion or politics.
ultra- prefix beyond, extremely, excessively, as in ultraconservative, ultramodern.
ul·tra·cen·tri·fuge (ul-trā-sen-три-fyooj) n. a high-speed centrifuge used to determine the size of small particles and large molecules by their rate of sedimentation.
ultraconservative / un-ul·tra·cen·trif·u·gal (ul·tra·sen·trif·yü·gal) adj. ul·tra·cen·trif·u·ga·tion (ul·tra·sen·trif·yü-gay-shon) n.

ul·tra·con·ser·va·tive adj. extremely conservative.

ul·tra·fash·ion·a·ble (ul·tra·fash·ion·bāl) adj. extremely fashionable.

ul·tra·fiche (ul·tra·feesh) n. an extremely reduced microfiche.

ul·tra·high (ul·tra·hī) adj. (of frequency) in the range of 300 to 3000 megahertz.

ul·tra·ma·rine (ul·tra·mā·reen) adj. & n. bright blue.

ul·tra·mi·cro·scope (ul·tra·mi·kro·skōp) n. an instrument revealing, by scattered light, objects too small to be seen with an ordinary microscope.

ul·tra·mi·cro·scoop·lc (ul·tra·mi·kro·skōp·ik) adj. too small to be seen with an ordinary microscope.

ul·tra·min·i·a·tion (ul·tra·mī·nē·ā·shon) ••• ul·tra·mod·ern (ul·tra·mod·ērn) adj. extremely modern, as a design, idea, etc.

ul·tra·mon·tane (ul·tra·mon·tān) adj. 1. situated south of the Alps. 2. favorable to the absolute authority of the pope in matters of faith and discipline.

ul·tra·mon·tism (ul·tra·mon·tizm) n.

ul·tra·pure (ul·tra·pyoor) adj. extremely pure.

ul·tra·pure·ly adv.

ul·tra·short (ul·tra·short) adj. extremely short.

ul·tra·son·ic (ul·tra·son·ik) adj. (of sound waves) with a pitch that is above the upper limit of normal human hearing.

ul·tra·son·ic·al·ly adv.

ul·tra·son·ics (ul·tra·son·iks) n. the scientific study of ultrasonic waves and their use.

ul·tra·sound (ul·tra·sound) n. sound having ultrasonic frequency, ultrasonic waves.

ul·tra·violet·let (ul·tra·vū·lēt·lēt) adj. 1. (of radiation) having a wavelength that is slightly shorter than that of visible light rays at the violet end of the spectrum. 2. of or using this radiation, an ultraviolet lamp.

ul·tra·violet·ly adv.

ul·tra·vi·res (ul·tra·vi·rēz) beyond one's legal power or authority. D Latin.

ul·u·late (yool·ū·lat) v. (ul·ū·lat·ed, ul·ū·lat·ing) 1. to howl, to wail. 2. to hoot. ul·u·la·tion (yool·ū·la·shon) n.

um·bel (um·bēl) n. a flower cluster in which the flowers are on stalks of nearly equal length springing from the same point on the main stem. um·bel·late (um·bēl·lat) adj.

um·ber (um·bēr) n. a natural coloring matter like ocher but darker and browner. um·ber·ly adj. of the color umber. D burnt umber, reddish brown.

um·bil·i·cal (um·bil·i·kal) adj. of the navel. D umbilical cord, the flexible tubular structure of tissue connecting the placenta to the navel of the fetus and carrying nourishment to the fetus while it is in the womb.

um·bil·i·cus (um·bil·i·kus) n. (pl. -cil, pr. -ki, -si, -cus·es) the navel.

um·bra (um·brā) n. (pl. -bras, -brae, pr. -bree) 1. the total shadow cast by Earth or the moon in an eclipse. 2. the dark central part of a sunspot. um·bral adj.

um·brage (um·brāj) n. a feeling of being offended. D take umbrage, to take offense.

um·brel·la (um·brel·ā) n. 1. a portable protection against rain, consisting of a circular piece of fabric mounted on a foldable frame of spokes attached to a central stick that serves as a handle. 2. any kind of general protective force or influence; the contract included an umbrella clause, one providing protection against unspecified conditions. D umbrellal stand, a stand for holding closed umbrellas, usually with a pan at the bottom to catch drippings. umbrella tree, a small magnolia with leaves in an umbrella-like whorl at the end of each branch.

um·i·ak (oo·mi·ak) n. an Eskimo skin-and-wood open boat propelled by paddle.

um·laut (um·laut) n. 1. a vowel change in Germanic languages by which the vowel is influenced by a vowel or semivowel in the following syllable. 2. the mark ï used to show this in German and other languages, as in führer.

ump (ump) n. & v. (informal) umpire.

um·pire (um·pir) n. a person appointed to see that the rules of a game or contest are observed and to settle disputes (as in a game of baseball etc.), or to give a decision on any disputed question. ump·ire·ly adv. (ump·ir·ed, um·pir·ing) to act as umpire in (a game).

ump·teen (ump·teen) adj. (slang) very many. ump·teenth' adj.

UMT abbr. universal military training.

Um·ta·ta (uum·ta·tā) the capital of Transkei.

UMW abbr. United Mine Workers.

UN abbr. United Nations.

un- prefix 1. not, as in uncertain, uncertainty. 2. reversing the action indicated by the simple verb, as in unlock = release from being locked. D The number of words with this prefix is almost unlim-unavailing / unbutton un·com·mit·ted (un-kóm-mit-id) adj. not committed, especially to a specific course of action.
un·com·mon (un-kóm-ón) adj. not common, unusual. un·com·mon·ly adv.
un·com·mon·ness n.
un·com·mu·ni·ca·tive (un-kóm-myoo·ni-kay-tív) adj. not inclined to give information or an opinion etc., silent. un·com·mu·ni·ca·tive·ness n.
un·com·pro·mis·ing (un-kóm-pró-mi·zíng) adj. not allowing or seeking compromise, inflexible. un·com·pro·mis·ly adv.
un·con·cern (un-kón-súrn) n. 1. freedom from anxiety. 2. indifference, apathy.
un·con·cerned (un-kón-surnd) adj. not feeling or showing concern, free from anxiety. un·con·cern·ed·ly (un-kón-sur-nid-lee) adv.
un·con·di·tion·al (un-kón-dish-ón-nál) adj. not subject to conditions or limitations, unconditional surrender. un·con·di·tion·al·ly adv.
un·con·di·tioned (un-kón-dish-ón·díd) adj. 1. not subject to conditions. 2. not determined by previous conditions.
un·con·gen·ial (un-kón-jeen-yáhl) adj. not congenial.
un·con·quer·able (un-kóng-kér-á-bél) adj. not able to be conquered.
un·con·scion·able (un-kón-sho-ná-bél) adj. 1. unscrupulous. 2. contrary to what one's conscience feels is right, outrageous. un·con·scion·a·bly adv.
un·con·sci·ous (un-kón-shoı̇s) adj. 1. not conscious, not aware. 2. done or spoken etc. without conscious intention, unconscious humor. 3. the unconscious, the part of the mind containing thoughts not normally accessible to consciousness but found to affect behavior. (Do not confuse unconscious with subconscious.) un·con·sci·ous·ly adv. un·con·sci·ous·ness n.
un·con·fi·rm·ed adj.
un·con·fi·rmed' adj.
un·con·gealed adj.
un·con·nec·ted adj.
un·con·quered adj.
un·con·se·crated adj.
un·con·sid·ered adj.
un·con·sole·d adj.
un·con·so·lable adj.
un·con·so·lable·ly adv.
un·con·so·lating adj.
un·con·tinued adj.
un·con·tem·plat·ed adj.
un·con·tem·plative adj.
un·con·tem·plative·ly adv.
un·con·tem·plation n.
un·con·tem·plated adj.
un·con·trolled adj.
un·con·tro·lled' adj.
un·con·ver·ted adj.
un·con·vict·ed adj.
un·con·vinced adj.
un·con·vin·cing adj.
un·con·vin·cing·ly adv.
un·con·victed adj.
un·un·count·a·ble adj.
un·con·struct·ed adj.
un·con·sum·ed adj.
un·con·sum·ed·ly adj.
un·con·sum·mation n.
un·con·sum·mated adj.
un·con·sum·mation·al·ly adv.
un·con·sum·mation·al·ty n.
un·con·sti·tu·tion·al (un-kon-sti-tú·shún·ál) adj. not in accordance with a political constitution or with procedural rules. un·con·sti·tu·tion·al·ly adv.
un·con·stir·tu·tion·al·ty (un-kon-stir·tu·tion·ál·tie) n.
un·con·trol·la·ble (un-kón-trohl·á-bél) adj. not able to be controlled. un·con·trol·la·bly adv.
un·con·ven·tion·al (un-kon-ven·shún·ál) adj. 1. not bound by convention or custom. 2. unusual. un·con·ven·tion·al·ly adv. un·con·ven·tion·al·ty (un-kón-ven·shún·ál·tie) n.
un·co·op·er·a·tive (un-kóop·é-ra·tiv) adj. not cooperative.
un·cork (un-kork) v. to draw a cork from; uncork one's feelings, give vent to them.
un·count·ed (un-kón-tid) adj. 1. not counted. 2. beyond counting, innumerable.
un·cou·ple (un-kúp·él) v. (un·cou·pled, un·cou·pling) to disconnect (railroad cars etc.) from being connected by a coupling.
un·couth (un-kóoth) adj. awkward or clumsy in manner, boorish. un·couth·ness n.
un·cov·er (un-kuv·ér) v. 1. to remove the covering from. 2. to reveal or expose, their deceit was uncovered.
un·crit·i·cal (un-krit·i-kál) adj. 1. not critical, disinclined or not competent to criticize. 2. not in accordance with principles of criticism. un·crit·i·cal·ly adv.
un·cross (un-kraws) v. to remove from a crossed position, as legs, arms, knives, etc.
un·c·tion (ungk-shón) n. 1. anointing with oil, especially as a religious rite. 2. pretended earnestness, excessive politeness. un·c·tion adj.
un·c·tu·ous (ungk-choo-ús) adj. having an oily manner, smugly earnest or virtuunderline / understand

under-line (un-dér-lin, un-dér-lìn) v. (un-der-lined, un-der-lin-ing) 1. to draw a line under. 2. to emphasize. under-line n. a line drawn under a word etc.

under-lin (un-dér-lin) n. a subordinating under-lip (un-dér-lip) n. the lower lip.

under-ly-ing (un-dér-li-ing) see under-line.

under-manned (un-dér-mand) adj. (of a ship etc.) having too few people to operate it properly, understaffed.

under-men-tioned (un-dér-men-shond) adj. mentioned below.

under-mine (un-dér-min) v. (un-der-mined, un-der-min-ing) 1. to make a mine or tunnel beneath, especially one causing weakness at the base. 2. to weaken gradually, his health or confidence was undermined.

under-most (un-dér-mohst) adj. & adv. lowest in rank or position etc.

under-neath (un-dér-neeth) prep. beneath or below or on the inside of (a thing). underneath adv. at or in or to a position underneath something.

under-nourished (un-dér-nur-ish) adj. inadequately nourished for normal development. under-nour/lish-ment n.

under-paid (un-dér-payd) adj. paid too little.

under-pants (un-dér-pants) n. pl. an undergarment covering the lower part of the body.

under-part (un-dér-pahrht) n. the part underneath.

under-pass (un-dér-pas) n. a road that passes under another, a crossing of this kind.

under-pay (un-dér-pay) v. (under-paid, under-pay-ing) to pay less money than is deserved.

under-pin (un-dér-pin) v. (under-pin-ning) to support, to strengthen from beneath.

under-pin-ning (un-dér-pin-ing) n. a support system of machinery etc. under a wall or foundation; underpinnings of the theory, the facts supporting it.

under-play (un-dér-play, un-dér-play) v. 1. to underact. 2. to understate.

under-pop-u-lat ed (un-dér-pop-yū-lay-tid) adj. lightly populated.

under-power-ered (un-dér-pow-èrd) adj. not adequately powered, as an engine.

under-priced (un-dér-prisht) adj. priced below the standard price.

under-priv-i-ledged (un-dér-priv-i-lijed) adj. less privileged than others, not enjoying the normal standard of living or rights in a community.

under-pro-duce (un-dér-prô-doos) v. (un-der-pro-duced, un-der-pro-duc-ing) to produce less than is usual or required. under-pro-duc-tion (un-dér-prô-duk-shôn) n.

under-rate (un-dér-rayt) v. (under-rat-ed, under-rat-ing) to underestimate.

under-re-pres-ent-ed (un-dér-rep-res-ènt-id) adj. inadequately represented.

under-score (un-dér-skohr) v. (under-scored, under-scor-ing) to underline. underscore (un-dér-skohr) n. an underline.

under-sea (un-dér-sea) adj. & adv. below the surface of the sea. under-seas (un-dér-seez) adv.

under-sec-re-tar-y (un-dér-sek-rè-ter-ee) n. (pl. -tar-les) a person who is directly subordinate to an official who has the title of "secretary."

under-sell (un-dér-sell) v. (under-sold, under-sell-ing) to sell at a lower price than (another person).

undersell oneself, to undervalue one's own merits.

under-sexed (un-dér-sekst) adj. having less than the normal degree of sexual desires.

under-shirt (un-dér-shirt) n. an undergarment worn under a shirt, especially by men and children.

under-shoot (un-dér-shoot) v. (under-shot, under-shoot-ing) (of an airplane) to land short of, the plane undershot the runway.

under-shorts (un-dér-shorts) n. pl. short underpants.

under-shot (un-dér-shot) adj. 1. (of a water wheel) turned by water flowing under it. 2. (of the lower jaw) projecting beyond the upper jaw.

under-side (un-dér-sid) n. the side or surface underneath.

under-signed (un-dér-sind) adj. who has or have signed at the bottom of this document, we, the undersigned.

under-sized (un-dér-sizd), under-size (un-dér-siz) adj. of less than the usual size.

under-skirt (un-dér-skurt) n. a skirt for wearing beneath another, a petticoat.

under-slung (un-dér-slung) adj. 1. supported from above. 2. (of a vehicle chassis) hanging lower than the axles.

under-staffed (un-dér-staff) adj. having less than the necessary number of staff.

under-stand (un-dér-stand) v. (under-stood, un-der-stand-ing) 1. to perceive the meaning or importance or nature of; we understand each other, we know each other's views or are in agreement. 2. to know the ways or workings of, to know how to deal with, he understands machinery. 3. to know the explanation and not be offended, we shall understand if you can't come. 4. to become aware from information received, to draw as a conclusion, I understand she is in Paris. 5. to take for granted, your expenses will be paid, that's understood. 6. to supply (a word or words) mentally, before "coming?" the words "are you" are understood.

un-der-stan-dable adj. able to be understood. un-der-stand'able adv.

un-der-stand-ing (un-dér-stan-ding) adj. having or showing insight or good judgment, or sympathy toward others' feelings and points of view. understanding n. 1. the power of thought, intelligence. 2. ability to understand. 3. ability to show insight or feel sympathy, kindly tolerance. 4. harmony in opinion or feeling, a better understanding among nations. 5. an informal or preliminary agreement, reached an understanding.

un-der-stan-ding ly adv.

un-der-state (un-dér-stët) v. (un-der-state-ed, un-der-state-ing) to state (a thing) in very restrained terms, to represent as being less than it really is. un-der-state ment n.

un-der-steer (un-dér-stëer) v. (of a car etc.) to have a tendency to turn less sharply than was intended.

un-der-sto od (un-dér-stëd) adj. 1. implied without being put into words. 2. agreed upon.

un-der-study (un-dér-stëdi) n. (pl. -studies) a person who studies the part in a play or the duties etc. of another in order to be able to take his place at short notice if necessary. understudy v. (un-der-stëdi-ed, un-der-stëdi-ing) to act as understudy, to, to learn (a part etc.) as understudy.

un-der-surface (un-dér-sur-fës) n. a lower or under surface.

un-der-take (un-dér-täk) v. (un-der-täk-ken, un-der-täk-en, un-der-täk-ing) 1. to agree or promise to do something, to make oneself responsible for, undertook the cooking or undertook to do the cooking. 2. to guarantee, we cannot undertake that you will make a profit. un-der-täk-er (un-dér-täk-ër) n. a person whose business is to prepare the dead for burial or cremation and make arrangements for funerals.

un-der-täk-ing (un-dér-täk-ëng) n. 1. work etc. undertaken. 2. a promise or guarantee. 3. the business of an undertaker.

un-der-the-table (un-dér-thë-tay-bël) adj. transacted in an underhand or illegal way.

un-der-things (un-dér-thëngz) n. pl. women's underwear.

un-der-tone (un-dér-tohn) n. 1. a low or subdued tone; they spoke in undertones, spoke quietly. 2. a color that modifies another, pink with mauve undertones. 3. an underlying quality or implication, an undertone of feeling, a threatening undertone.

un-der-tow (un-dér-tôw) n. a current below the surface of the sea, moving in an opposite direction to the surface current.

un-der-trick (un-dér-trëk) n. a trick not taken and by which players fall short of a contract made in the game of bridge.

un-der-water (un-dér-wat-ër) adj. situated or used or done beneath the surface of water. underwater adv. beneath the surface of water.

un-der-wear (un-dér-wër) n. garments worn under indoor clothing.

un-der-weight (un-dér-wëght) adj. weighing less than is normal or required or permissible.

un-der-went (un-dér-wënt) see undergo.

un-der-world (un-dér-wërld) n. 1. (in mythology) the abode of spirits of the dead, under the earth. 2. the part of society habitually engaged in crime.

un-der-write (un-dér-rët, un-dér-rët) v. (un-der-wërt, un-der-wërt-en, un-der-wërt-ing) 1. to sign and accept liability under (an insurance policy), thus guaranteeing payment in the event of loss or damage. 2. to undertake to finance (an enterprise). 3. to undertake to buy all the stock in (a company etc.) that is not bought by the public. un-der- wërt er n.

un-der-served (un-di-zërvd) adj. not deserved as reward or punishment. un-der-served-ed ly (un-di-zërvd-ëly) adv.

un-der-sir-a-ble (un-di-zër-a-bël) adj. not desirable, objectionable. undesirable n. a person who is undesirable to a community.
undeveloped / unemployed un·de·vel·oped (un-di-bel-ôpt) adj. not developed.

un·de·vi·at·ing (un-dee-vi-at-ing) adj. keeping a definite course. un·de‘vi·at·ing·ly adv.
un·dies (un-deez) n. pl. (informal) women's underwear.
un·dig·ni·fied (un-dig-nil-fid) adj. not dignified.
un·dis·tor·ted (un-dis-tor-tid) adj. not distorted.
un·do (un-doo) v. (un·did, un·done, un·do·ing) 1. to unfasten, to untie, to unwrap. 2. to annul, to cancel the effect of, to undo anything.
un·do·ing (un-doo-ing) n. bringing or being brought to ruin, a cause of this, drink was his undoing.
un·done (un-dun) adj. 1. unfastened. 2. not done, left the work undone. 3. (old use) brought to ruin or destruction, we are undone!
un·doubt·ed (un-dow-tid) adj. not regarded as doubtful, not disputed. un·doubt·ed·ly adv.
un·dreamed (un-dreamd), un·dreamt (un-dreamt) adj. undreamed-of, undreamt-of, not imagined, not thought to be possible.
un·dress (un-dres) v. to take off one's clothes or the clothes of another person. undress n. 1. the state of being not clothed or not fully clothed. 2. clothes or a uniform for nonceremonial occasions.
un·due (un-doo) adj. excessive, disproportionate.
un·du·lant (un-jû-lânt) adj. moving like waves. un·du·lance n.
un·du·late (un-jû-lat) v. (un·du·lat·ed, un·du·lat·ing) to have or cause to have a wavy movement or appearance.
un·du·la·tion (un-jû-lay-shôn) n.
un·du·ly (un-doo-lee) adv. excessively, disproportionately.
un·dy·ling (un-dri-ing) adj. everlasting, never-ending, undying fame. un·dy·ling·ly adv.
un·earned (un-urad) adj. not earned.
un·earned income, income from interest on investments and similar sources, not wages or salary or fees. un·earned run, (in baseball) a run scored as the result of an error or a walk etc.
un·earth (un-urth) v. 1. to uncover or obtain from the ground by digging. 2. to bring to light, to find by searching.
un·earth·ly (un-urth-lee) adj. 1. not earthly. 2. supernatural, mysterious and frightening. 3. (informal) absurdly early or inconvenient, getting up at this unearthly hour.
un·eas·y (un-ee-zee) adj. (-eas·i·er, -eas·i·est) 1. not comfortable, passed an uneasy night. 2. not confident, worried. 3. worrying, they had an uneasy suspicion that all was not well. un·easi·ly adv. un·eas·i·ness n.
un·eat·a·ble (un-ee-tâ-bêl) adj. not fit to be eaten (because of its condition).
un·e·co·nom·ic (un-ee-kô-nom-ik, -ek-ô-) adj. not profitable, not likely to be profitable.
un·e·co·nom·i·cal (un-ee-kô-nom-i-kâl, -ek-ô-) adj. not economical. un·e·co·nom·i·cal·ly adv.
un·ed·uc·at·ed (un-ej-û-kay-tid) adj. not educated, ignorant.
un·em·ploy·a·ble (un-em-ploi-â-bêl) adj. unfit for paid employment because of character, lack of abilities, etc.
un·em·ployed (un-em-ploid) adj. 1. hav-no employment, temporarily without a paid job. 2. not in use. un·em·ploy·ment n.
un·end·ing (un-en·ding) adj. endless. un·end·ing·ly adv.
un·e·qual (un·ee·kwāl) adj. 1. not equal.
2. (of work or achievements etc.) not of the same quality throughout. 3. not with equal advantage to both sides, not well matched, unequal bargain or contest. un·e·qual·ly adv. □ be unequal to, (of a person) to be more strong or not clever enough etc. for, was unequal to the task.
un·e·qua·led (un·ee·kwāl·d) adj. without an equal.
un·e·quiv·o·cal (un·i·kwiv·ō-kał) adj. clear and unmistakable, not ambiguous. un·e·quiv·o·cal·ly adv.
un·err·ing (un·ur·ing) adj. making no mistake, with unerring accuracy. un·err·ing·ly adv.
un·es·cap·a·ble (un·es·skā-pā·bēl) adj. unavoidable, unable to be escaped. un·es·cap·a·bly adv.
UNESCO (yoo·nes·kō) n. United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization.
un·eth·i·cal (un·eth·i-kāl) adj. not ethical, unscrupulous in business or professional conduct. un·eth·i·cal·ly adv.
un·e·ven (un·ee·vēn) adj. 1. not level or smooth. 2. varying, not uniform. 3. unequal. un·e·ven·ly adv. un·e·ven·ness n.
un·e·vent·ful (un·i·vent·fül) adj. not eventful. un·e·vent·ful·ly adv.
un·ex·am·pled (un·ig·zam·pēld) adj. having no preceding or nothing else that can be compared with it, an unexampled opportunity.
un·ex·cep·tion·a·ble (un·ik·sep·shō·nē·bēl) adj. with which no fault can be found. un·ex·cep·tion·a·bly adv.
>Do not confuse unexceptionable with unexceptional.
un·ex·cep·tion·al (un·ik·sep·shō·nāl) adj. not exceptional, quite ordinary. >Do not confuse unexceptional with unexceptionable.
un·ex·pect·ed (un·ik·spe·k-tid) adj. not expected, surprising. un·ex·pect·ed·ly adv. un·ex·pect·ed·ness n.
un·fal·ling (un·fay·ling) adj. never ending, constant, reliable, his unfailling good humor. un·fal·ling·ly adv. un·fal·ling·ness n.
un·fair (un·fair) adj. not impartial, not in accordance with justice. un·fair·ly adv. un·fair·ness n.
un·faith·ful (un·fayth·fül) adj. 1. not loyal, not keeping to one's promise. 2. having committed adultery. un·faith·ful·ly adv. un·faith·ful·ness n.
un·fal·ter·ing (un·fawl·ter·ing) adj. not faltering. un·fal·ter·ing·ly adv.
un·fa·mil·lar (un·fa·mil·yər) adj. not familiar. un·fa·mil·lar·ly adv. un·fa·mil·lar·ty n. un·fas·ten (un·fas·tēn) v. to make loose, to open the fastening(s) of.
un·fa·vor·a·ble (un·fay·vō·rā·bēl) adj. not favorable. un·fa·vor·a·bly adv.
un·fazed (un·fayzd) adj. not fazed, not discharged.
un·fe·el·ing (un·fee·ling) adj. 1. lacking the power of sensation or sensitivity. 2. unsympathetic, not caring about others' feelings. un·fe·el·ing·ly adv. un·fe·el·ing·ness n.
un·fe·ign·ed (un·fay·nd) adj. not feigned, genuine.
un·fet·ter (un·fet·ăr) v. 1. to remove from fetters. 2. to liberate.

un·en·closed' adj.
un·en·cum·bered adj.
un·en·force·a·ble adj.
un·en·forced' adj.
un·en·light·ened adj.
un·en·rolled' adj.
un·en·ter·ed adj.
un·en·ter·pris·ing adj.
un·en·thu·si·as·tic adj.
un·en·thu·si·as·ti·cal·ly adv.
un·en·vi·la·ble adj.
un·en·vi·la·ble·ly adv.
un·e·quit·ed' adj.
un·e·quipped' adj.
un·es·cort·ed adj.
un·es·sent·tial adj.
un·es·tab·lished adj.
imes. United States Marine Corps, the ground combat branch of the U.S. Navy. United States Navy, the permanent naval forces of the U.S. armed services, including the Navy, Marine Corps, and at times the U.S. Coast Guard. United States of America or United States, a country in North America consisting of 50 states and the District of Columbia. United States Postal Service, the U.S. governmental service responsible for the transportation of mail.

un·ni·tize (yoo-ni-tiz) v. (yoo-ni-tized, un·ni·tiz·ing) 1. to make into a unit. 2. to make into units.

un·ni·ty (yoo-ni-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the state of being one or a unit. 2. a thing forming a complex whole. 3. the number one in mathematics. 4. harmony, agreement in feelings or ideas or aims etc., dwell together in unity.

univ. abbr. 1. universal. 2. university.

Univ. abbr. University.

un·ni·va·lent (yoo-ni-vay-lent) adj. having a valence of one.

un·ni·valve (yoo-ni-vals) adj. having one valve. univalve n. a univalve mollusk.

un·ni·ver·sal (yoo-ni-ver-sal) adj. of or for or done by all. un·ni·ver·sal·ly adv. un·ni·ver·sal·i·ty (yoo-ni-ver-sal-i-tee) n. 1. universal joint, a joint that connects two shafts in such a way that they can be at any angle to each other. universal product code, a code of short black lines on a product, for use by an electronic cash register.

Un·ni·ver·sal·ist (yoo-ni-ver-sä-list) n. a member of a denomination of Christians, now combined with the Unitarians, who hold that all mankind will eventually be saved.

un·ni·verse (yoo-ni-vers) n. all existing things, including Earth and its creatures and all the heavenly bodies.

un·ni·ver·si·ty (yoo-ni-ver-si-tee) n. (pl. -ties) an educational institution, composed of one or more colleges and graduate schools, that provides instruction and facilities for research in many branches of advanced learning, and awards degrees.

un·just (un-just) adj. not just or fair. un·just·ly adv. un·just·ness n.

un·ju·st·fl·a·ble (un-ju-st-fr-ä-bäl) adj. not able to be justified.

un·kept (un-kept) adj. looking untidy or neglected.

un·kind (un-kind) adj. not kind, harsh.

un·kind·ly adv. & adj. un·kind·ness n.

un·know·ing (un-noh-ing) adj. not knowing, unaware. un·know·ing·ly adv.

un·known (un-nohn) adj. not known, not identified. unknown n. an unknown person or thing. unknown adv. □ un·known to, without the knowledge of.

un·lace (un-lays) v. (un-laced, un·lac·ing) 1. to undo the laces of. 2. to unfasten or loosen in this manner.

un·latch (un-lach) v. to unfasten by lifting a latch.

un·law·ful (un-law·füll) adj. 1. not according to the law, illegal. 2. born of parents not married to each other. un·law·ful·ly adv. un·law·ful·ness n.

un·lead·ed (un-led-ld) adj. not containing lead, unleaded gasoline.

un·learn (un-lurn) v. to cause (a thing) to be no longer in one's knowledge or memory.

un·leash (un·lesh) v. 1. to set free from a leash or restraint. 2. to set (a thing) free so that it can attack or pursue something.

un·leav·ened (un-lev·ënd) adj. not leavened, (of bread) made without yeast or other leavening agent.

un·less (un·les) conj. if . . . not, except when, we shall not move unless we are obliged to.

un·let·tered (un·let·erd) adj. 1. uneducated. 2. illiterate.

un·li·cen·sed (un·li·senst) adj. 1. not licensed. 2. unrestrained.

un·lik·ly (un-lik·ly) adj. 1. not like, different from. 2. not characteristic of, such behavior is quite unlike him. unlikely prep. differently from, unlike her mother, she enjoys riding. un·like·li·hood n. un·like·li·ness n.

un·like·ly (un-lirk·ly) adj. 1. not likely to happen or be true, an unlikely tale. 2. not likely to be successful, the most unlikely candidate. un·like·li·hood n. un·like·li·ness n.

un·lim·ber (un·lim·bër) v. to make (a gun etc.) ready for action.

un·lim·it·ed (un·lim·i·tid) adj. not limited, very great in number or quantity.

un·li·ned (un·lid) adj. 1. without a lining. 2. not marked with lines or wrinkles.

un·list·ed (un·lis·tid) adj. not included in a list, not in a published list of telephone numbers or stock exchange prices.
un-load (un-lōd) v. 1. to remove a load from (a ship etc.), to remove cargo. 2. to get rid of. 3. to remove the charge from (a gun etc.).

un-lock (un-lōk) v. 1. to release the lock of (a door etc.). 2. to release by or as if by unlocking.

un-looked-for (un-luukt-for) adj. unexpected.

un-loose (un-loos) v. (un-loosed, un-loos-ing) 1. to release. 2. to untie or loosen.

un-mask (un-mask) v. 1. to remove the mask from, to remove one's mask. 2. to expose the true character of.

un-matched (un-macht) adj. not matched in abilities or characteristics etc.

un-mean-ing (un-mee-ning) adj. having no significance, meaningless.

un-meet (un-meet) adj. not suitable.

un-men-tion-a-ble (un-men-shō-nā-bēl) adj. so bad or embarrassing or shocking that it may not be spoken of. unmentionables n. pl. unmentionable things or people; her unmentionables, her undergarments.

un-mind-ful (un-mind-fūl) adj. not mindful, neglectful.

un-mis-tak-a-ble (un-mis-tāk-a-bēl) adj. clear and obvious, not able to be mistaken for another. un-mis-tak-a-bly adv.

un-mit-l-i-gat-ed (un-mit-l-i-ga-tēd) adj. not modified, absolute, an unmitigated scoundrel.

un-mo-or (un-mō-rāl) adj. not concerned with morality. un-mo-ri-al-ty (un-mō-ral-i-tee) n.

un-moved (un-mōvd) adj. not moved, not changed in one's purpose, not affected by emotion.

un-muz-zle (un-muz-ēl) v. (un-muzzled, un-muzzling) 1. to remove a muzzle from. 2. to relieve of an obligation to remain silent.

un-nat-u-ral (un-nach-u-rāl) adj. 1. not natural or normal. 2. lacking natural feelings of affection. 3. artificial. un-nat'u-ral-ly adv. un-nat'u-ral-ness n.

un-nec-e-s-sary (un-nēc ē-sār-ē) adj. 1. not necessary. 2. more than is necessary, with unnecessary care. un-nec-e's-sar-i-ty (un-nēc ē-sēr-i-tee) n.

un-nerv (un-nūr) v. (un-nerv-ed, un-nerv-ing) to cause to lose courage or determination.

un-num-ber-ed (un-num-bĕrd) adj. 1. not marked with a number. 2. countless.

un-ob-tra-sive (un-ōb-tra-siv) adj. not obtrusive, not making oneself or itself noticed. un-ob-tra'sive-ly adv.

un-oc-cur-red (un-ok-yū-rid) adj. 1. without occupants or inhabitants. 2. (of a person) doing no work, not active.

un-of-fend-ing (un-ō-fen-ding) adj. not offending, harmless, innocent.

un-or-gan-ized (un-or-gā-nizd) adj. 1. not organized, without orderly structure.
un-pack (un-pak) v. to open and remove the contents of (luggage etc.), to take out from its packaging or from a suitcase etc.

un-paid (un-payd) adj. 1. (of a debt) not yet paid. 2. not receiving payment for work etc.

un-par-aled (un-par-ə-ləd) adj. not paralleled, never yet equaled, unparalleled enthusiasm.

un-par-la-men-ta-ry (un-par-lə-men-tə-ree) adj. contrary to parliamentary custom.

un-per-son (un-per-sən) n. a person whose name or existence is ignored or denied.

un-pile (un-pI) v. (un-piled, un-pi-ling) to remove from a piled condition.

un-pin (un-pin) v. (un-pinned, un-pin-ning) to unfasten or detach by removing pins.

un-pleas-ant (un-plez-ənt) adj. not pleasant. un-pleas’ant-ly adv. un-pleas’ant-ness n.

un-plug (un-plug) v. (un-plugged, un-plug-ging) 1. to remove a plug from. 2. to disconnect electrically by removing a plug from an outlet.

un-plumbed (un-plum’d) adj. 1. not tested or measured with a plumb line. 2. not explored thoroughly, unplumbed meanings.

un-pre-cen-dent-ed (un-pres-ən-den-ted) adj. for which there is no precedent, unparalleled.

un-pre-jud-iced (un-prej-əd-iced) adj. not prejudiced.

un-pre-med-i-ta-ted (un-pre-med-i-ta-ted) adj. not planned beforehand.

un-pre-pared (un-pre-paired) adj. not prepared beforehand, not ready or equipped to do something.

un-pre-pos sess-ing (un-pre-pə-səs-ing) adj. unattractive, not making a good impression.

un-pre-tend-i-ous (un-prə-tend-i-əs) adj. not pretentious, not showy or pompous.

un-pre-tend’i-ous-ly adv. un-pre-tend’i-ous-ness n.

un-prin-cl-led (un-prən-səl-dəd) adj. without good moral principles, unscrupulous.

un-print-a-ble (un-print-tə-bəl) adj. too rude or indecent to be printed.

un-pro-fes-sion-al (un-prə-fəs-ən-əl) adj. contrary to professional standards of behavior.

un-prof-it-a-ble (un-prof-i-tə-bəl) adj. 1. not producing a profit. 2. serving no useful purpose, quarreling is unprofitable.

un-prof’it-a-bly adv.

un-no’tice-a-ble adj.
un-no’tice-a-bly adv.
un-no’ticed adj.
un-ob-ject-ion-a-ble adj.
un-ob-li-ged’ adj.
un-ob-li-g’ing adj.
un-ob-scured’ adj.
un-ob-serv’ant adj.
un-ob-served’ adj.
un-ob-serv’ing adj.
un-ob-struc’ted adj.
un-ob-tain’a-ble adj.
un-of-fin’er-able adj.
un-of-fin’er-ably adv.
un-of-fered adj.
un-o’pened adj.
un-op-posed’ adj.
un-or-da’ined adj.
un-or-ri-g’inal adj.
un-or-tho-do-x adj.
un-os-ten-ta-tious adj.
un-os-ten-ta-tious-ly adv.
un-own’ed’ adj.
un-pac-t’i-fied adj.
un-paint’ed adj.
un-pal’at-a’ble adj.
un-par’don’a-ble adj.
un-par’don’a-bly adv.
un-pat’ent-ed adj.
un-pat’ent-ed-ly adv.
un-pa-tri-o’tic adj.
un-pa-tri-o’ti-cal-ly adv.
un-paved’ adj.
un-pe’n’er-ed adj.
un-per’-ed adj.
un-per-cep’t’i-ble adj.
un-per-cep’t’i-ble-ly adv.
un-per-cep’t’i-ve adj.
un-per-cep’t’i-ve-ly adv.
un-per-fect’ed adj.
un-per-form’ed adj.
un-per-suad’ed adj.
un-per-su’a’sive adj.
un-per-su’a’sive-ly adv.
un-per-tur’b’a-ble adj.
un-per-turb’a-bly adv.
un-picked’ adj.
un-planned’ adj.
un-plant’ed adj.
un-play’a-ble adj.
un-pleased’ adj.
un-pleas’ing adj.
un-pleas’ing-ly adv.
un-plowed’ adj.
un-po’t’i-cal adj.
un-po’t’i-cal-ly adv.
un-pil’ed adj.
un-pre’i-med-i-ty adv.
un-pre’t’i-fied adj.
un-pre’i-fied-ly adv.
un-pre’med-i-ta-ted adj.
un-pre’med-i-ta-tion n.
un-pre’sent’ed adj.
un-pre’sent’a-ble adj.
un-pre’ser’ved adj.
un-pres’ed adj.
un-pre’vent’a-ble adj.
un-pro’ess-ed adj.
un-pro-claimed’ adj.
un-pro’cur’a-ble adj.
un-pro’duc’tive adj.
un-pro’duc’tive-ly adv.
heroism has not been honored or acclaimed.

*un-sus*pect*ing* (un-sús-pekt-ing) adj. feeling no suspicion.

*un-swerv*ing (un-swur-ving) adj. not turning aside, unchanging, unwavering loyalty.

*un-tan*gle (un-tang-gel) v. to free from tangles or confusion.

un-tapped (un-tapt) adj. not tapped, not yet made use of, the country's untapped resources.

un-taught (un-taught) adj. 1. not taught, not instructed by teaching, ignorant. 2. not acquired by teaching, natural, spontaneous.

*un-tend*ed (un-tend-ed) adj. not tending, not tending to.

*un-talk*ing (un-talk-ing) adj. thoughtless, done or said etc. without consideration.

*un-think*ing (un-think-ing) adj. not thinking, not willing, not able to be thought.

*un-thought*ful (un-thoughtful) adj. thoughtless, not perceived, not deliberate.

un-tie (un-tie) v. (un-tied, un-ty-ing) to unfasten, to unfasten, to release from being tied up.

un-til (un-till) prep. & conj. up to (a specified time), up to the time when, until.

un-used (un-used) adj. not used, not used.

un-varnished (un-varnished) adj. 1. not varnished. 2. (of a statement etc.) plain and straightforward, the unwar¬nished truth.

un¬veil (un-vayl) v. 1. to remove a veil from, to remove one's veil. 2. to remove concealing drapery from, as part of a cer¬emony, unveiled the portrait. 3. to disclose, to make publicly known.

un¬versed (un-vurst) adj. not experienced in something, he was unveiled in the ways of polite society.

un¬volced (un-voist) adj. not spoken, not voiced.

un¬want¬ed (un-want-ed) adj. not desired, unworthy, not deserving, he is unworthy of this honor.

un¬wise'ly adv. not wisely, somewhat un¬wise'ly.

un¬wise'y adj. awkward to move or control because of its size or shape or weight. un¬wield'y ness n.

un¬wield¬y (un-well-dee) adj. awkward, un¬wield'y.

un¬wind (un-wind) v. (un-wound, un¬wind-ing) 1. to draw out or become drawn out from being wound. 2. (in¬formal) to relax after a period of work or tension.

un¬wise (un-wiz) adj. not wise, foolish.

un¬wise'ly adv.

un¬wished (un-wishes) adj. not wished.

un¬wit¬ting (un-wit-ing) adj. 1. unaware. 2. unintentional.

un¬won¬ted (un-won-tid) adj. not customary or usual, spoke with unwonted rudeness.

un¬wor'ry adj. un¬wor'th'ly ad
v. un¬wor'ry est
ly adv. un¬wor'th'li ness n.

un¬wor'y ing adj.
un¬woven adj.
un¬woven'ed adj.
un¬weak'en ed adj.
un¬weak'en ing adj.
un¬weak'en ed' adj.
un¬work'a'ble adj.
un¬work'ed adj.
un¬wor'ted adj.
un¬wor'ried adj.
un¬wor'th'ly adv. un¬wor'ry ing ness n.

un¬wound (un-wound) v. (un-wound, un¬wound'ing) to open or become opened from being wrapped.

un¬written (un-rap) adj. not written.

un¬yield'ing (un-yell-ing) adj. firm, not yielding to pressure or influence.

un¬yoke (un-yok) v. (un-yoked, un¬yoked) to free from a yoke.

un¬zip (un-zip) v. (un-zipped, un¬zipped) to open or become opened by the undoing of a zipper.

un¬zipped (un-zipt) adj. 1. (of a zipper) open. 2. (informal) bearing no zip code, unzipped mail.

up (up) adv. 1. to an erect or vertical position, stand up. 2. to or in or at a higher place or level or value or condition, to a larger size, farther north; they are two goals up, are winning by this amount. he's up in years, he is old; the sun is up, has risen. 3. so as to be inflated, pump up the tires. 4. to the place or time or amount etc. in question, up till now; can take up to four passengers. 5. out of bed, (of a stage curtain) raised at the start of a performance, (of a jockey) in the saddle. 6. into a condition of activity or efficiency, getting up steam; stirred up trouble; house is up for sale; the team is up for the game, (informal) at its best. 7. apart, into pieces, tore it up. 8. apiece; the score was 13 up, tied at 13 points for each side. 9. into a compact state, securely, pack it up; tie it up. 10. to be finished, your time is up. 11. happening (especially of something unusual or undesirable), something is up. 12. (in baseball) at bat. up prep. 1. upward along or through or into, from bottom to top of. 2. at a higher part of, build it farther up the slope. up adj. directed upward, un¬vari'ing adj. un¬var'ied" adj.

un¬var'i'fled adj.
un¬var'ied adj.
un¬var'i'fl eed adj.
un¬var'y ing adj.
un¬var'y ed adj.
un¬var'y ing' ed adj.
un¬vary ed adj.
un¬var'y ed adj.
un¬var'y ed adj.
the up escalator. up v. (upped, up-ping) (informal) 1. to begin to do something suddenly or unexpectedly. he upped and demanded an inquiry. 2. to increase, they promptly upped the price.

□ on the up and up, (informal) honest, honestly. up against, close to; in or into contact with; (informal) faced with, as an opponent or problem; up against it, in great difficulties. up and around or about, recovered from an illness. up in or on, (informal) knowledgeable about, not up in mathematics. ups and downs, alternate good and bad fortune. up to, occupied with, doing, what is he up to?; required as a duty or obligation from, it's up to us to help her; capable of, don't feel up to a long walk. up to date, in current fashion; in accordance with what is now known or required, bring the files up to date.

up-and-coming (up-án-kum-ing) adj. (informal) enterprise and likely to be successful.

u·pas (yoo-pás) n. a Javanese tree yielding a poisonous sap.

up·beat (up-beat) n. (in music) the unaccented beat before a downbeat, the upward swing of a conductor's hand to indicate this. upbeat adj. optimistic, cheerful.

up·braid (up-brayd) v. to reproach. up·braid'er n.

up·bring·ing (up-bring-ing) n. training and education during childhood.

UPC abbr. universal product code.

up·chuck (up-chuk) v. (slang) to vomit.

up·com·ing (up-kum-ing) adj. about to take place.

up·country (up-kun-tree) adj. & adv. toward the interior of a country.

up·date (up-datey) v. (up·dat·ed, up·dat·ing) to bring up to date. update (up-datey) n. updated news or information. up·dat·a·ble adj.

up·draft (up-draft) n. an upward current of air or gases.

up·end (up-end) v. to set or rise up on end.

up·grade (up-grayd) v. (up·grad·ed, up·grad·ing) to raise to a higher grade or rank. upgrade (up-grayd) n. an upward incline or slope. □ on the upgrade, going up, rising in quality or rank.

up·growth (up-growth) n. the process or result of growing upward.

up·heav·al (up-hee-vál) n. 1. a sudden heaving upward. 2. a violent change or disturbance.

up·heave (up-heev) v. (up-heaved, up·heav·ing) to lift forcibly.

up·hill (up-hill) adj. in an upward direction, on an upward slope. uphill adj. 1. going or sloping upward. 2. difficult, it was uphill work.

up·hold (up-hold) v. (up·held, up·hold·ing) 1. to support, to keep from falling. 2. to support a decision or statement or belief. up·hold·er n.

up·hol·ster (up-hohl-stér) v. to put a fabric covering, padding, springs, etc. on (furniture). up·hol·ster·er n.

up·hol·ster·y (up-hohl-sté-ri) n. (pl. -ster·ies) 1. the work of upholstering furniture. 2. the material used for this.

up·keep (up-keep) n. keeping something in good condition and repair, the cost of this.

up·land (up-lánd) n. the higher or inland parts of a country. upland adj. of or in uplands.

up·lift (up-lift) n. 1. being raised. 2. a mentally or morally elevating influence. uplift (up-lift) v. to raise. up·lift‘ment n.

up·most (up-mohst) adj. uppermost.

up·on (u·pon) prep. on. Stratford upon Avon; Christmas is almost upon us; row upon row of seats. □ once upon a time, see once.

up·per (up·er) adj. 1. higher in place or position. 2. situated on higher ground or to the north; Upper Egypt, the part farthest from the Nile delta. 3. ranking above others; the upper class, people of the highest social class. upper n. 1. the part of a boot or shoe above the sole; on one's uppers, very short of money. 2. (slang) a stimulant drug. 3. an upper berth. □ upper case, capital letters for printing type. upper crust, (informal) the highest social group. upper hand, mastery, dominance, gained the upper hand. upper house, one, generally smaller, branch of a bicameral legislature, as the U.S. Senate. Upper Volta, a country in West Africa.

up·per·class (up·per·klas) adj. relating to the highest class in society.

up·per·class·man (up·per·klas·mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a junior or senior in high school or college.

up·per·cut (up·er·kut) n. a blow in boxing, delivered upward with the arm bent.

up·per·most (up·er·mohst) adj. highest in place or rank. uppermost adv. on or to the top or most prominent position.

up·plish (up-ish) adj. (informal) pert, arrogant.

up·pi·ty (up·i·te) adj. (informal) arrogant, snobbish.

up·raise (up·rayz) v. (up·raised, up·rais·ing) to raise up.

up·right (up·rít) adj. 1. in a vertical position. 2. (of a piano) with the strings mounted vertically. 3. strictly honest or honorable. upright n. 1. a post or rod placed upright, especially as a support. 2. an upright piano. up\'right-ly adv.
up\'right-ness n. □ upright piano, a piano with vertical strings.
up-ris\-ing (up-riz\-ing) n. a rebellion, a revolt against the authorities.
up-riv\-er (up-riv-\'er) adj. & adv. toward the starting point of a river.
up-roar\'i*ous* (up-rohr-i-*u*s) adj. very noisy, with loud laughter. up-roar\'i*ous-ly adv. up-roar\'i*ous-ness n.
up-root (up-root) v. 1. to pull out of the ground together with its roots. 2. to force to leave a native or established place, we don’t want to uproot ourselves and live abroad.
UPS abbr. United Parcel Service. up-set (up-set) v. (up-set, up-set\-ting) 1. to overturn, to become overturned. 2. to disrupt, fog upset the timetable. 3. to distress the mind or feelings of, to disturb the temper or digestion of. 4. to defeat unexpectedly (a formidable opponent), especially in politics or sports. upset (up-set) n. 1. upsetting, being upset, a stomach upset. 2. the defeat of a person or group expected to win. □ upset price, the lowest acceptable selling price in an auction. upset the applecart, to spoil a situation or someone’s plans.
up-shift (up-shift) v. to shift into a higher gear as a vehicle increases speed. upshift n.
up-shot (up-shot) n. outcome.
up-side-down (up-sid-down) adj. & adv. 1. with the upper part underneath instead of on top. 2. in great disorder. □ upside-down cake, a cake baked with fruit on the bottom, turned over and served with the fruit on top.
up-si\-lon (youp-si-lon) n. the twentieth letter of the Greek alphabet (Τ \(\text{v}\)).
up-stage (up-stayj) adj. & adv. 1. nearer the back of a theater stage. 2. snobbish, snobbishly. upstage v. (up-staged, up-stag\-ling) 1. to move upstage from (an actor) and make him face away from the audience. 2. to divert attention from or outshine (a person).
up-stairs (up-stairz) adv. up the stairs, to or on an upper floor. upstairz adj. situated upstairs. upstairz n. the upper floor of a house.
up-stand\-ing (up-stand-*ing) adj. well set up, honest.
up-start (up-stahr) n. a person who has risen suddenly to a high position, especially one who behaves arrogantly. up-start adj. of or like an upstart.
up-state (up-stayt) adj. & adv. in or toward the northern part of a state, especially the part that is north of a major city; upstate New York, the part of New York State remote from New York City.
up-state n. this part of a state.
up-stream (up-stream) adj. & adv. in the direction from which a stream flows.
up-stroke (up-strohk) n. an upward stroke.
up-surge (up-surj) n. an upward surge, a rise. up-swept (up-sweet) adj. 1. combed up and arranged on top of the head, as hair. 2. curved or sloped upward.
up-swing (up-swing) n. an upward movement or trend.
up-take (up-tayk) n. 1. (informal) ability to understand what is meant, quick in or on the uptake. 2. a ventilating duct rising from below.
up-thrust (up-thrust) n. 1. an upward thrust. 2. an upward displacement of part of Earth’s crust.
up-tight (up-tit) adj. (informal) 1. nervously tense. 2. angry. up-tight\'ness n.
up-to-date (up-to-dayt) adj. 1. in current fashion, up-to-date clothes. 2. extending to the present time, including the latest information.
up-town (up-town) adj. & adv. in or toward the upper part of a city. uptown n. this part of a city. up-turn (up-turn) v. to turn upward, to turn upside down, to turn up (ground, in plowing etc.). up-turn (up-turn) n. 1. an upheaval. 2. an upward trend in business or fortune etc., an improvement.
up-ward (up-ward) adj. & adv. moving or leading or pointing toward what is higher or more important or earlier. upwards adv. toward what is higher etc. up-ward-ly adv. up-ward-ness n. □ up-ward mobility, movement to a higher economic or social status. upward of, more than.
up-wind (up-wind) adj. & adv. in the direction from which the wind is blowing.
ur-a*cll (your-*a*sil) n. a crystalline compound formed by the hydrolysis of RNA.
ur-a*nc (yoo-ran-ik) adj. of or containing uranium.
ur-a*ni*um (yoo-ray-ni-*um) n. a heavy gray metallic element used as a source of nuclear energy.
ur-a*nus (your-*a*nus, yoo-ray-) n. 1. a planet in the solar system. 2. the ruler of the heavens in Greek mythology.
ur-a*ni*an (yoo-ray-ni-*an) adj.
ur-ban (ur-ban) adj. of or situated in a urbane / use

city or town. □ urban guerrilla, a terrorist operating in an urban area. urban renewal, slum clearance. urban sprawl, uncontrolled expansion of urban areas.

ur-bane (ur-bayn) adj. having manners that are smooth and polite. ur-bane'ly adv. ur-ban-ly adv (ur-ban-ly-tee) n.

ur-ban-ite (ur-ba-nit) n. a dweller in a city or town.

ur-ban-ize (ur-ba-niz) v. (ur-ban-ized, ur-ban-iz-ing) to change (a place) into a town-like area. ur-ban-iz-ation (ur-ba-ni-zay-shdn) n.

ur-echin (ur-ech) n. 1. a mischievous or needy boy. 2. a sea urchin.

Ur-du (oor-doo) n. a language related to Hindi, one of the official languages of Pakistan.

u-re-a (yuu-ree-a) n. a soluble colorless crystalline compound contained especially in the urine of mammals.

u-re-mi-a (yuu-ree-mi-a) n. a toxic condition resulting from retention in the blood of wastes normally excreted in the urine.

u-re-ter (yuu-ree-ter) n. either of the two ducts by which urine passes from the kidneys to the bladder.

u-re-thra (yuu-ree-thra) n. (pl. -thras, -thrae, pr. -three) the duct by which urine is discharged from the body. u-re-thral adj.

urge (urj) v. (urged, urg-ing) 1. to drive onward, to encourage to proceed, urging them on. 2. to try hard or persistently to persuade, urged him to accept the job. 3. to recommend strongly with reasoning or entreaty, urged on them the importance of keeping to the schedule. urge n. a feeling or desire that urges a person to do something.

ur-gent (ur-jent) adj. 1. needing immediate attention or action or decision. 2. showing that something is urgent, spoke in an urgent whisper. ur-gent-ly adv.

ur-gen-cy (ur-jen-se) n.

u-ric (yoor-ik) adj. of urine. □ uric acid, a compound found in small quantities in the healthy urine of mammals, the chief constituent in the urine of birds and reptiles.

u-ri-nal (yor-in-nal) n. 1. a receptacle for urine, for use by a bedridden male person. 2. a structure to receive urine in a man's lavatory, a room or building containing this.

u-ri-nal-i-sis (yor-in-nal-i-sis) n. the chemical analysis of urine, especially for diagnostic purposes.

u-ri-nar-y (yor-in-nar-ee) adj. of urine or its excretion, urinary organs.

u-ri-ne (yor-in) n. waste liquid that collects in the bladder and is discharged from the body.

urn (urn) n. 1. a vase, usually with a stem and base, especially one used for holding the ashes of a cremated person. 2. a large metal container with a tap in which tea or coffee is made or from which it is served.

ur-og-en-i tal (yor-oh-jen-i-tal) adj. of or pertaining to urinary and genital organs.

u-ro-gist (yor-uh-gist) n. a specialist in urology.

u-ro-gy (yor-uh-gee) n. the branch of medicine that deals with the urinary system.

u-ro-log-ic (yor-oh-log-ik) adj. u-ro-log-i-cal cal adj.

ur-sine (ur-sin) adj. of or like a bear.

ur-ti-car-lia (ur-ti-kair-i-a) n. a skin eruption, hives.

U-ru-quay (yor-oo-gay) n. a country in South America. U-ru-quay-an (yor-oo-gay-an) adj. & n.

us (us) pronoun 1. the objective case of we. 2. (informal) = we, it's us. 3. (informal) me, give us your hand.

us-a-ble (yoo-zah-bel) adj. able to be used, fit for use. us-a-ble-ness n. us-a-bil-i-ty (yoo-zah-bil-i-tee) n.

us-age (yooz-aj) n. 1. the manner of using or treating something, it was damaged by rough usage. 2. a habitual or customary practice, especially in the way words are used, modern English usage.

USCG abbr. United States Coast Guard.

USDA abbr. United States Department of Agriculture.

use (yooz) v. (used, us-ing) 1. to cause to act or serve for a purpose or as an instrument or as material for consumption. 2. to cause oneself to be known or addressed by (a name or title). 3. to treat in a specified way, to behave toward, they used her shamefully. 4. to exploit selfishly. use (yooz) n. 1. using, being used. 2. the right or power of using something, lost the use of his arm. 3. the purpose for which something is used, work that a person or thing is able to do. us'er n. □ have no use for, to have no purpose for which a thing can be used; to refuse to tolerate, to dislike. make use of, to use, to exploit. used to, was or were accustomed in the past, we used to go by train; they used not to do this; having become familiar with (a thing) by practice or habit, is used to getting up early. use up, to use the whole of (material etc.); to find a use for (remaining material or time); to exhaust or tire out.

used (yoozd) adj. (of clothes or vehicles etc.) secondhand.

use-ful (yooz-fu) adj. able to produce good results, able to be used for some practical purpose. use'ful-ly adv. use'ful-ness n. □ make oneself useful, to perform some practical or beneficial service.

use-less (yooz-lis) adj. serving no useful purpose, not able to produce good results. use'less-ly adv. use'less-ness n.

ush-er (ush-er) n. 1. a person who shows people to their seats in a public hall etc. or into someone's presence. 2. an official acting as doorkeeper. 3. a member of the groom's wedding party, who assists the guests to their seats in the church etc. usher v. to lead in or out, to escort as usher.

ush'er-ette (ush-er-ret) n. a woman who ushers people to their seats in a theater.

USIA abbr. United States Information Agency.

USMC abbr. United States Marine Corps.

USN abbr. United States Navy.

USO abbr. United Service Organization.

U.S.S. abbr. United States Ship.

usu. abbr. 1. usual. 2. usually.

u-su-al (yoo-zoo-al) adj. such as happens or is done or used etc. in many or most instances; the usual or my usual, what I usually have, my usual drink etc. u-su'al-ly adv. u-su'al-ness n.

u-su-fruct (yoo-zoo-frukt) n. the right of enjoying the use and advantages of another's property short of destruction or waste of its substance. u-su-fruc-tu-ar-y (yoo-zoo-fruk-choo-er-ee) n. (pl. -ar-ies).

u-su-rer (yoo-zoo-rer) n. a person who lends money at excessively high interest.

u-surp (yoo-surp, -surp) v. to take (power or a position or right) wrongfully or by force. u-surp'er n. u-sur-pa-tion (yoo-sur-pay-shon) n.

u-su'ry (yoo-zoo-ree) n. (pl. -ries) 1. the lending of money at excessively high interest. 2. an excessively high rate of interest. u-su-'ril-ous (yoo-zoo-oor-i-us) adj.

UT, Ut. abbr. Utah.

U-tah (yoo-taw) a state of the U.S.

Ute (yoot) n. (pl. Utes) a member of an Indian tribe of Utah and Colorado.

u-ten-sil (yoo-ten-sil) n. an instrument or container, especially for domestic use.

u-ter-in (yoo-teh-rin) adj. of the uterus.

u-ter-us (yoo-teh-rus) n. (pl. -ter-i, pr. -te-ri, -us-es) the hollow organ (in woman and other female mammals) in which a child or the young is conceived and nourished while developing before birth, the womb.

u-ti-li-tar-i-an (yoo-teh-i-ter-i-ahn) adj. 1. designed to be useful rather than decorative or luxurious, severely practical. 2. of utilitarianism.

u-ti-li-ty (yoo-teh-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. usefulness. 2. a useful thing; public utilities, public services such as the supply of water or gas or electricity etc. utility adj. severely practical. □ utility infielder, utility outfielder, (in baseball) a player who can play well in a variety of positions on the field. utility room, a room containing one or more large fixed domestic appliances (as a washing machine). utility vehicle, a vehicle serving various purposes.

u-ti-lize (yoo-teh-liz) v. (u-ti-lized, u-ti-liz-ing) to use, to find a use for. u-ti-liz'a-ble adj. u-ti-liz'er n. u-ti-liza-tion (yoo-teh-i-liz-shon) n.

ut-most (ut-mohst) adj. furthest, greatest, extreme, with the utmost care. utmost n. the furthest point or degree etc. □ do one's utmost, to do as much as possible.

U-to-pla, u-to-pla (yoo-toh-pla) n. 1. an imaginary place or state of things where everything is perfect. 2. an impractical scheme for achieving such a state. U-to-plan, u-to-plan (yoo-toh-plan) adj. & n.

ut-ter1 (ut-er) adj. complete, absolute, utter bliss. ut-ter-ly adv.

utter2 v. to make (a sound or words) with the mouth or voice, uttered a sigh. ut-ter'er n. ut-ter-ance n.

ut-ter-most (ut-er-mohst) adj. & n. utmost.

U-turn (yoo-turn) n. 1. the driving of a vehicle in a U-shaped course so as to proceed in an opposite direction. 2. (informal) a reversal of policy.

UV abbr. ultraviolet.

u-vu-la (yoo-vu-la) n. (pl. -las, lae, pr.
-lee) the small fleshy projection hanging from the back of the roof of the mouth above the throat.\textit{u'vu·lar} adj.
\textit{ux.} abbr. wife.  \textit{UX.}= \textit{Uzbek-i·stan} (\textit{uuz-bek-i-stan}) a republic of the U.S.S.R. bordering on Afghanistan. \textit{Uz'bek} n. 1. a native or inhabitant of Uzbekistan. 2. a language of this region.
V, v (vee) (pl. Vs, V's, v's) 1. the twenty-second letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral symbol for 5.
V abbr. 1. vector. 2. velocity. 3. Vice. 4. victory. 5. Village. 6. volts.
V symbol vanadium.
v. abbr. 1. velocity. 2. verb. 3. verse. 4. version. 5. versus. 6. voice. 7. voltage. 8. volts. 9. volume.
VA abbr. 1. Veterans Administration. 2. vice admirall. 3. Virginia.
Vacancy, the condition of being vacant, emptiness.
1. an unoccupied position of employment, we have a vacancy for a typist. 3. unoccupied accommodation, this hotel has no vacancies.
vacant (vay-kant) adj. 1. empty, not filled or occupied, a vacant seat; applied for a vacant position. 2. showing no sign of thought or intelligence, having a blank expression. vacancy (vay-kay-shun) n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vacate (vay-kayt) v. (vaccate, vacating) to cease to occupy (a place or position).
vacation (vay-kay-shun) n. 1. a time of rest and recreation away from one’s work or school, a holiday. vacation v. to spend a holiday. vacationer, vacationist n.
vague / value

adv. va-gran-cy (vay-grän-sce) n. vague (vagy) adj. (vagu-er, vagu-est)
1. not clearly expressed or perceived or identified. 2. not expressing one's thoughts clearly or precisely. vague'ly adv. vague'ness n.
vain (vayn) adj. 1. conceited, especially about one's appearance. 2. having no value or significance, vain triumphs. 3. useless, futile, in the vain hope of persuading him. vain'ly adv. vain'ness n.
   □In vain, with no result, uselessly, we tried, but in vain. take God's name in vain, to use it irreverently.
vain·glo·ry (vayn-glohr-ee) n. extreme vanity, boastfulness. vain·glo·ri·ous (vayn-glohr-i-ús) adj.
val. abbr. 1. value. 2. valued.
val·a·nce (val-ans, vay-lans) n. a short curtain around the frame or canopy of a bedstead, or above a window or under a shelf. ▷ Do not confuse valance with valence.
val·e (vayl) n. a valley. □valé of tears, the world as the scene of life, trouble, etc.
val·e·dic·tion (val-ë-dik-shôn) n. saying farewell, the words used in this.
val·e·dic·to·ri·lan (val-ë-dik-tôr-i-ân) n. the highest ranking member of a graduating class, giving the valedictory oration at commencement exercises.
val·e·dic·to·ry (val-ë-dik-tô-ree) adj. saying farewell, valedictory remarks.
va·ledictory n. (pl. -leys) a valedictory oration, especially in college, usually given by the valedictorian.
va·lence (vay-léns) n. the capacity of an atom to combine with another or others, as compared with that of the hydrogen atom, carbon has a valence of four. ▷ Do not confuse valence with valance.
Val·en·ci·ennes (vä-len-si-ezn) n. a rich lace. □ Named for the city in northeastern France where it was made in the 17th–18th centuries.
val·en·cy (vay-len-se) n. (pl. -cies) valence.
val·en·tine (vay-len-tin) n. 1. a sweetheart chosen on St. Valentine's Day (February 14, on which birds were supposed to pair). 2. a card or gift or picture etc. sent on this day (often anonymously) to one's valentine.
val·e·ri·an (vah-leer-i-ân) n. a strong-smelling herb with pink or white flowers.
val·et (val-it, va-lay) n. 1. a man's personal attendant who takes care of clothes etc. 2. a hotel employee with similar duties.
valet v. (val-et-ed, val-et-ing) to act as valet to. □ valet parking, (at restaurants etc.) parking service in which an attendant parks patrons' automobiles.
val·e·tu·di·nar·i·an (val-ë-too-di-nair-i-ân) n. a person who pays excessive attention to preserving his health. val·e·tu·di·nar·i·an·ism n.
Val·hal·la (val-hal-lô) n. (in Norse mythology) the hall in which the souls of slain heroes feasted.
val·lant (val-yânt) adj. brave, courageous. val·lant·ly adv. val·lan·cy n.
val·id (val-id) adj. 1. having legal force, legally acceptable or usable, a valid passport. 2. (of reasoning etc.) sound and to the point, logical. val·id·ity adv. val·id·ness n. va·lid·i·ty (vâ-lid-i-tee) n.
val·i·date (val-i-dayt) v. (val·i·dat-ed, val·i·dat·ing) to make valid, to confirm. val·i·da·tion (val-i-day-shôn) n.
val·i·se (vâ-lees) n. a small suitcase.
Val·li·um (val-i-ûm) n. (trademark) a tranquilizer.
Val·ky·re (val-keer-ee) n. (in Norse mythology) one of the war maidens who selected heroes who were to die in battle.
Val·let·ta (val-yet-â) the capital of Malta.
val·ley (val-ee) n. (pl. -leys) 1. a long low area between hills. 2. a region drained by a river, the Nile Valley.
val·or (val-ôr) n. bravery, especially in fighting. val'or·ous adj. val'or·ous·ly adv.
val·or·ize (val-ôr-iz) v. (val·or·iz·ed, val·or·iz·ing) to raise or fix the price of a commodity by artificial means, especially by government action. val·or·iza·tion (val-ôr-iz-a-shôn) n.
val·se (vahls) n. = waltz.
val·u·a·ble (val-yoo-â-bël) adj. of great value or price or worth. valuables n. pl. valuable things, especially small personal possessions. ▷ Do not confuse valuable with invaluable.
val·u·ate (val-yoo-ât) v. (val·u·at-ed, val·u·at·ing) to make a valuation of. val'u·a·tor n.
val·u·a·tion (val-yoo-a-shôn) n. estimation of a thing's value (especially by a professional appraiser) or of a person's merit, the value decided upon.
val·ue (val-you) n. 1. the amount of money or other commodity or service etc. considered to be equivalent to something else or for which a thing can be exchanged. 2. desirability, usefulness, importance, he learned the value of regular exercise. 3. the ability of a thing to serve a purpose or cause an effect, the food value of milk; news value. 4. the amount or quantity denoted by a figure etc., the duration of a musical sound indicated by a note, the relative importance of each playing card etc. in a game; tone values in a painting, the relative lightness and darkness of its parts. 5. values, standards or principles.
considered valuable or important in life, lack of moral values. value v. (val-ued, val-u-ing) 1. to estimate the value of. 2. to consider to be of great worth or importance. val-u-er n.

val-ue-add-ed (val-yoo-ad-id) tax on the amount by which the value of an article has been increased at each stage of its production.

val-ued (val-yood) adj. highly regarded, a valued friend.

va-lue-less (val-yoo-lis) adj. having no value. □ Do not confuse valueless with invaluable.

valve (valv) n. 1. a device for controlling the flow of gas or liquid through a pipe. 2. a structure in the heart or in a blood vessel allowing blood to flow in one direction only. 3. a device for varying the length of the tube in a brass wind instrument. 4. each half of the hinged shell of mollusks such as oysters. valved adj.

va-lve-less adj.

val-vu-lar (val-vu-lar) adj. of the valves of the heart or blood vessels.

va-moose (va-moos) v. (va-moosed, va-moos-ing) (slang) to go away hurriedly.

vamp1 (vamp) n. 1. the upper front part of a boot or shoe. 2. (in music) a brief accompaniment. vamp v. 1. to make from odds and ends, we'll vamp something up. 2. to improvise a musical accompaniment to a song or dance.

vamp2 n. a seductive woman who uses her attraction to exploit men, an unscrupulous flirt. vamp v. to exploit or flirt with (a man) unscrupulously.

va-mpire (va-mpir) n. 1. a ghost or reanimated body supposed to leave a grave at night and suck the blood of living people. 2. a person who preys on others. □ vampire bat, a tropical bloodsucking bat.

van1 (van) n. 1. a covered vehicle for transporting goods or horses etc. or prisoners, moving van; police van. 2. a similar vehicle equipped for camping, recreation, etc.

van2 n. the vanguard, the forefront.

va-na-di-um (va-nay-di-um) n. a hard gray metallic element, used for strengthening some steels.

Van Al-len (van al-en) belt one of two regions partly surrounding Earth at heights of several thousand miles, containing intense radiation and many high-energy charged particles.

Van Bu-ren (van byoor-en), Mar-tin (1782–1862) the eighth president of the U.S. 1837–41.

van-dal (van-dal) n. 1. a person who willfully or maliciously damages public or private property or the beauties of nature. 2. Vandal, a member of a Germanic people who, in the 4th–5th centuries, ravaged Gaul, Spain, North Africa, and Rome, destroying many books and works of art. van’dal-ism n.

van-dal-ize (van-dal-iz) v. (van-dal-ized, van-dal-iz-ing) to damage willfully or maliciously, vandalism the synagogue.

Van-dyke (van-drik) (also vandyke) n. a neat pointed beard like those in portraits by Van Dyck, a 17th-century portrait painter.

vane (vain) n. 1. a weather vane. 2. the blade of a propeller, sail of a windmill, or similar device acting on or moved by wind or water.

van-guard (van-gahr) n. 1. the foremost part of an army or fleet advancing or ready to do so. 2. the leaders of a movement or fashion etc.

va-nil-la (va-nil-ə) n. 1. a flavoring obtained from the pods of a tropical climbing orchid, or made synthetically. 2. this orchid.

van-ish (van-ish) v. to disappear completely. van’ish-er n. □ vanishing act, an unannounced or unauthorized departure; a magician’s illusion causing his assistant to appear to vanish. vanishing point, the point at which parallel lines viewed in perspective appear to meet.

van-i-ty (van-i-tee) n. (pl. -ties) 1. conceit, especially about one’s appearance. 2. futility, worthlessness, something vain, the pomp and vanity of this world. □ vanity case, a small bag or case used by a woman for carrying cosmetics etc.

vanity plate, (informal) an automobile license plate bearing the owner’s name or distinctive letters or numbers. vanity press, a publisher who will publish anyone’s work for a fee.

van-quish (van-kwish) v. to conquer. van’quish-er n.

van-tage (van-tij) n. a superior position or opportunity, she spoke from the vantage of great experience. □ vantage point, a place from which one has a good view of something. □ Do not confuse vantage with advantage.

va-pid (va-pid) adj. insipid, uninteresting. va-pid-ly adv. va-pid-ness n. va-pid-ly (va-pid-i-tee) n.

va-por (vy-por) n. 1. moisture or other substance diffused or suspended in air. 2. the airlike substance into which certain liquid or solid substances can be converted by heating (see gas). va-por-ous adj. va-por-ous-ness n. □ vapor lock, a stoppage in the flow of a pump or pipe, caused by an air bubble. vapor rail, (of an aircraft or spacecraft in flight) a condensation trail.

\textbf{var-i-ant} (vār-i-ant) adj. (vār-i-anted, vār-i-ant-ing) to convert or be converted into vapor. vapor-iz-er n. vapor-i-za-tion (vār-pō-rē-zay-shōn) n.

\textbf{va-que-ro} (vāk-ərō) n. (pl. -ros) (in South America) a herdsman.

\textbf{var.} abbr. 1. variable. 2. variant. 3. variation. 4. variety. 5. various.

\textbf{va-ri-a-ble} (vār-i-ā-bel) adj. varying, changeable, (of a star) periodically varying in brightness. variable n. something that varies or can vary, a variable quantity. va-ri-a-bly adv. va-ri-a-ble-ness n. va-ri-a-bl-i-ty (vār-i-ā-bil-i-tē) n.

\textbf{var-i-ance} (vār-i-āns) n. at variance, disagreeing, conflicting, (of people) in a state of discord or enmity.

\textbf{va-ri-ant} (vār-i-ānt) adj. differing from something or from a standard, "gipsy" is a variant spelling of "gypsy." variant n. a variant form or spelling etc.

\textbf{va-ri-a-tion} (vār-i-ā-shōn) n. 1. varying, the extent to which something varies. 2. a variant, a repetition of a melody in a different (usually more elaborate) form.

\textbf{va-ri-colored} (vār-i-kōl-ōrd) adj. 1. variegated in color. 2. of various or different colors.

\textbf{va-ri-cose} (vār-i-kōs) adj. (of a vein) permanently swollen or enlarged. va-ri-cos-i-ty (vār-i-kōs-i-tē) n.

\textbf{var-ied} (vār-iéd) see vary. varied adj. of different sorts, full of variety.

\textbf{va-ri-etal} (vār-i-ē-tāl) adj. of or relating to a variety. va-ri-e-tal-ly adv.

\textbf{va-ri-e-ty} (vār-i-ē-tē) n. (pl. -ties) 1. the quality of not being the same or of not being the same at all times. 2. a quantity or range of different things, for a variety of reasons. 3. a class of things that differ from others in the same general group, a member of such a class, several varieties of spænial. 4. an entertainment (also vari-ety show) consisting of a series of short performances of different kinds (such as singing, dancing, acrobatics). □variety meats, the edible parts of animals other than the flesh. variety store, a store selling many kinds of small items.

\textbf{vaporize} / \textbf{Vatican} vaudeville / Velcro

vaudeville (vawd-vil) n. variety entertainment. vaude-vil-lian (vawd-vil-yán) n. a performer of vaudeville.

vault1 (vawlt) n. 1. an arched roof. 2. a vaultlike covering; the vault of heaven, the sky. 3. a cellar or underground room used as a place of storage. 4. a burial chamber, the family vault. vault v. to form into or cover with a vault.

vault2 v. to jump or leap, especially while resting on the hand(s) or with the help of a pole, vaulted the gate or over the gate. vault n. a leap performed in this way. vault'er n.

vault ed (vawl-tid) adj. 1. covered with a vault. 2. made in the form of a vault.

vault ing (vawl-ting) n. the structure forming a vault.

vaunt (vawmt) v. to boast. vaunt n. a boast. vaunt'ed adj.

vb. abbr. verb.

VC abbr. Vietcong.

VD abbr. venereal disease.

V-Day (vee-day) n. a day of victory.

veal (veel) n. calf's flesh as food.

vec tor (vek-tör) n. 1. something (such as velocity) that has both magnitude and direction. 2. the carrier of a disease or infection. vec-to-ri-al (vek-toh-r-ial) adj.

Ve da (vay-dä) n. the ancient Hindu scriptures, especially the Rig-Veda, Sama-Veda, Yajur-Veda, and Artharva-Veda.

Ve dic adj.

V-E (vee-ee) Day May 8, 1945, the day of victory in Europe for the Allies in World War II.

veep (veep) n. (informal) vice president.

veer (veer) v. to change direction or course, (of wind) to change gradually in a clockwise direction. veer n. a change in direction. veer'ing-ly adv.

veer y (veer-e) n. (pl. veer·les) a thrush of the eastern U.S.

Ve ga (ray-gä) n. a first magnitude star in the constellation Lyra.

vegan (vej-an) n. a strict vegetarian who eats no animal products (such as eggs) at all. veg'án-ism n.

vege ta ble (vej-tä-bel, vej-ë) n. 1. a plant of which some part is used (raw or cooked) as food, especially as an accompaniment to meat. 2. a person leading a dull monotonous life, one who is physically alive but mentally inert owing to injury or illness or abnormality. veg et able adj. of or from or relating to plant life.

veg et al (vej-ë-tal) adj. 1. of the nature of plants. 2. vegetative.

veg etar i an (vej-ë-tair-i-än) n. a person who eats no meat. veg etar'i an ism n.

veg et ate (vej-ë-tayt) v. (veg-ë-tat ed, veg-ë-tat·ing) to live an uneventful or monotonous life.

veg et a tion (vej-ë-tay-shön) n. 1. plants collectively. 2. vegetating. veg et a tion al adj.

veg et a tive (vej-ë-tay-tiv) adj. 1. of vegetation. 2. concerned with growth and development, as opposed to sexual reproduction. 3. living an uneventful or monotonous life.

ve he ment (vee-mënt) adj. showing strong feeling, intense, a vehement denial. ve he ment·ly adv. ve he men·tence n. ve he men·cy (vee-ë-mën-see) n.

ve hi cle (vay-i-kel) n. 1. a conveyance for transporting passengers or goods on land or in space. 2. a means by which something is expressed or displayed, art can be a vehicle for propaganda; the play was an excellent vehicle for this actress's talents.

ve hic·u lar (vee-hik-yü-lar) adj. of vehicles, vehicular traffic.

V-eight, V-8 (vee-aht) an internal combustion engine with four cylinders on each side of the block, arranged in the form of a V.

veil (vayl) n. a piece of fine net or other fabric worn as part of a headdress to protect or conceal the face. veil v. to cover with or as if with a veil; a veiled threat, partially concealed. □ beyond the veil, in the unknown state of life after death. draw a veil over, to avoid discussing or calling attention to. take the veil, to become a nun.

veil·ling (vay-ling) n. thin material for making veils.

vein (vayn) n. 1. one of the tubes carrying blood from all parts of the body to the heart. 2. one of the threadlike structures forming the framework of a leaf or of an insect's wing. 3. a narrow strip or streak of a different color, as in marble. 4. a long continuous or branching deposit of mineral or ore, especially in a fissure. 5. a mood or manner, she spoke in a humorous vein. veil·ling n.

veined (vaynd) adj. filled or marked with veins.

vel. abbr. 1. vellum. 2. velocity.

ve·lar (ve-lar) adj. 1. of a v. l or vellum. 2. (of sound) pronounced with the back of the tongue near the soft palate.

Vel·cro (vel-kroh) n. (trademark) a nylon tape with tiny fibers that adhere easily.
to other surfaces, used to fasten clothing etc.

veld, veldt (veld, felt) n. open grassland in South Africa.

vel-e-lí-ty (vél-e-lí-ti) n. (pl. -ties) 1. a low degree of volition not prompting to action. 2. a slight wish or inclination.

vel-lum (vél-lúm) n. 1. a kind of fine parchment. 2. smooth writing paper.

velocí-pede (vél-los-i-pée) n. a light vehicle propelled by a rider, especially a child’s tricycle.

velocí-ty (vél-los-i-ti) n. (pl. -ties) speed, especially in a given direction.

velour (vél-loor) n. a plushlike fabric.

vel-um (vél-lúm) n. (pl. -la, pr. -là) a membrane or membranous covering, especially the soft palate.

velvet (vél-vit) n. 1. a woven fabric (especially of silk or nylon) with thick short pile on one side. 2. a furry skin covering a growing antler. velvet adj. All velvet, all profit. In or on velvet, in an advantageous or prosperous position.

velvet glove, outward gentleness of treatment cloaking inflexibility.

velvet (vél-vé-teen) n. cotton velvet.

ven. abbr. venerable.

venal (vé-nał) adj. 1. able to be bribed. 2. (of conduct) influenced by bribery.

venal-ly adv. venal-lí-ty (vé-na-lí-ti) n.

vend (vend) v. to sell or offer for sale.

vend’l-bile adj. vending machine, a slot machine where small articles can be obtained.

vend·et·ta (ven·det·á) n. a feud.

vend·or (ven·dör) n. 1. a person who sells something. 2. a vending machine.

vee·ner (vé-neer) n. 1. a thin layer of finer wood covering the surface of cheaper wood in furniture etc. 2. a superficial show of some good quality, a veneer of politeness. veneer v. to cover with a veneer.

ven·er·a·ble (ven·ér-á-bél) adj. 1. worthy of deep respect because of age or associations etc., these venerable ruins. 2. the title of an archdeacon in the Church of England. venerable v. adj. vener·a·ble·ly adv. vener·a·bil·i·ty (vé-nér-á-bil-i-ti) n.

ven·er·ate (ven·ér-á·t ray) v. (ven·ér-at·ed, ven·ér·at·ing) to regard with deep respect, to honor as hallowed or sacred.

ven·er·a·tion (vé-nér-a·shún) n.

ve·ne·re·al (vé-neer-i-ál) adj. (of disease or infection) contracted by sexual intercourse with a person who is already infected.

Ve·ne·tian (vé-nee-shún) adj. of Venice.

Venetian blind, a window blind consisting of horizontal slats that can be adjusted to let in or exclude light.

Ven·e·zue·la (vé-né·zway·lá) a country in South America. Ven·e·zue·lan adj. & n.

venge·ance (ven·jāns) n. retaliation for hurt or harm done to oneself or to a person etc. whom one supports. Take vengeance, to inflict harm in retaliation. with a vengeance, in an extreme degree.

venge·ful (venj·füll) adj. seeking vengeance. venge·ful·ly adv. venge·ful·ness n.

V-en·ge·ance (vén·é·nstructural) an internal combustion engine in which the two cylinder blocks are arranged in the form of a V.

ven·i·al (vé-ní-ál) adj. (of a sin or fault) pardonable, not serious. veni·al-ly adv. Do not confuse venial with venal.

ven·i·punc·ture (vé-ní-punk-chúr) n. the puncture of a vein, especially with a hypodermic needle, to withdraw blood or for intravenous injection.

ven·i·re (vé-ní-ree) n. 1. (also venire fa·cl·as, pr. fay·shi-ás) a writ directing a sheriff to summon people for a jury. 2. a panel of people thus summoned.

ven·i·re·man (vé-ní-rí-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) a person summoned under a writ of venire.

ven·i·son (vé-ní-són) n. deer’s flesh as food.

ven·om (vé-nóm) n. 1. poisonous fluid secreted by certain snakes, scorpions, etc. and injected into a victim by a bite or sting. 2. strong bitter feeling or hatred, venomous words. ven·om·ous·ly adv.

ven·om·ous·ly adv.

vent (vent) n. a slit in a garment (especially a coat or jacket) at the bottom of a back or side seam.

vent·a·tive (vent·a·tiv) adj. to cause air to enter or circulate freely in (a room etc.). 2. to express (an opinion etc.) publicly so that others may consider and discuss it.

vent·a·tion (vent·a·shún) n.

vent·a·tor (vent·a·törr) n. a device for ventilating a room etc.

ven·tral (vé-ntrál) adj. of or on the abdomen, this fish has a ventral fin. ven·tral·ly adv.

ven·tri·cle (vé-ntrik-lé) n. a cavity or chamber in an organ of the body, especially one of the two in the heart that pump blood into the arteries by contracting. ventriliquist (ven-trill-ik-wist) n. an entertainer who produces voice sounds so that they seem to come from a source other than himself. ventriloquist (ven-trill-ik-wist) n. an entertainer who produces voice sounds so that they seem to come from a source other than himself. ventriloquism n. ventriloquy (ven-trill-ik-wi) n. a ventriloquism.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring. ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.

ventricle (ven-trik-uhl) adj. ready to take risks, daring.
ver-min·ous (vur-mi-nūs) adj. infested with vermin.

Ver·mont (vér-mont) a state of the U.S. Ver·mont’er n.

ver·mouth (vèr-muth) n. white wine flavored with fragrant herbs.

ver·nac·u·lar (vèr-nak-yū-lär) 1. the language of a country or district. 2. everyday speech. vernacular adj. ver·nac‘u·lar·ly adv.

ver·nal (vur-näl) adj. of or occurring in the season of spring. vernal'ly adv.

ver·nal equinox, see equinox.

ver·nal·lize (vur-näl-liz) v. (v'ner-nal·ized, ver·nal·lz·ing) to cool (seeds) before planting in order to accelerate flowering.

ver·nal·iza·tion (vur-näl-ī·za·shūn) n.

ver·ni·er (vur-nēr) n. a small movable graduated scale for obtaining fractional parts of the subdivisions on a fixed scale of a barometer, sextant, etc.

ver·ron·di·ca (vē-ron-de-kā) n. an herb often with blue flowers, speedwell.

ver·ru·ca (vē-roo-kā) n. (pl. -cae, pr. -see) a wart.

ver·sa·tile (vur-sä·til) adj. able to do, or be used for, many different things. vers’i·tile·ly adv. ver·sa·til·i·ty (vur-sä-ti·lī·tē) n.

verse (vurs) n. 1. a metrical form of composition, as distinct from prose. 2. a metrical composition. 3. an author’s metrical or poetical works. 4. a group of lines forming a unit in a poem or hymn. 5. each of the short numbered divisions of a chapter of the Bible.

versed (vurst) adj. versed in, experienced or skilled in, having a knowledge of.

ver·si·cle (vur-si-kēl) n. each of the short sentences in the liturgy, said or sung by the clergyman and alternating with the “responses” of the congregation.

ver·si·fy (vər-sə-fi) v. (ver-sə·fied, ver·si·fy·ing) 1. to turn prose into verse. 2. to express in verse. 3. to compose verses.

ver·si·fl·er n. ver·si·fl·ca·tion (vur-sə-fl·kā·shūn) n.

ver·sn·ion (vur-zhōn) n. 1. a particular person’s account of a matter. 2. a translation into another language, the Revised Version of the Bible. 3. a special or variant form of a thing, the deluxe version of this car. ver·sion·al adj.

vers | bre (vair lee-brē) verse with no regular metrical pattern. △French, = free verse.

ver·so (vur-soh) n. (pl. -sohs) the left-hand page of an open book.

ver·sus (vur-sūs) prep. against, Notre Dame versus Purdue.

vert. abbr. vertical.

ver·te·bra (vur-tè-brā) n. (pl. -brae, pr. -bree, -bras) any of the individual bones or segments that form the backbone.

ver·te·bral adj. △vertebral column, a spinal column.

ver·te·brate (vur-tè-brat, -brit) n. an animal that has a backbone. vertebrate adj. of such an animal.

ver·tex (vur·tek) n. (pl. -tex·es, -ti·ces, pr. -ti·sess) the highest point of a hill or structure, the apex of a cone or triangle. △Do not confuse vertex with vortex.

ver·ti·cal adj. 1. perpendicular to the horizontal, moving or placed in this way, upright. 2. in the direction from top to bottom of a picture etc. verti·cal n. a vertical line or part or position.

ver·ti·cal·ly adv. ver·ti·cal·ness n.

ver·ti·cal·ty (vur-ti·kal-i·tē) n.

ver·ti·go (vēr-ti·gō) n. (pl. ver·ti·goes) a sensation of dizziness and a feeling of losing one’s balance.

ver·vain (vur-vain) n. a tall wild plant with hairy leaves and small white or blue or purple flowers.

verve (vurv) n. enthusiasm, liveliness, vigor.

ver·y (vər·ee) adv. 1. in a high degree, extremely, very good. 2. in the fullest sense, drink it to the very last drop. 3. exactly, sat in the very same seat. very adj. 1. itself or himself etc. and no other, actual, truly such, it’s the very thing we need! 2. extreme, utter, at the very end.

ver·y high frequency, a frequency in the range of 30 to 300 megahertz. very low frequency, a frequency between 10 and 30 kilohertz. very well, an expression of consent.

ves·i·can·t (ves-i-kānt) adj. producing blisters. ves·i·can·t n. a substance that acts in this way.

ves·i·cle (ves-i-kēl) n. 1. a small hollow structure in a plant or animal body. 2. a blister. ves·ic·u·lar (vē-sik-yū-lär) adj. ves·ic·u·late (vē-sik-yū-lāt) adj.

ves·per (ves-pür) adj. of evening, of vespers.

ves·pers (ves-pərz) n. pl. (also Vespers) a church service held in the evening, evensong.

ves·per·line (ves-pər·līn) adj. of or occurring in or active in the evening.

ves·sel (ves·əl) n. 1. a structure designed to travel on water and carry people or goods, a ship or boat. 2. a hollow receptacle, especially for liquid. 3. a tubelike structure in the body of an animal or plant, conveying or holding blood or other fluid.
vest (vest) n. 1. a man's close-fitting waist-length sleeveless collarless garment buttoned down the front, usually worn over a shirt and under a jacket. 2. a woman's similar garment. vest v. 1. to confer as a firm or legal right, the power of making laws is vested in the legislature; the legislature is vested with this power. 2. to clothe, especially with ecclesiastical vestments. \[vested\] interest, an advantageous right that is securely held by a person or group.

vest·tal (ves-tal) adj. 1. of the Roman goddess Vesta or of the vestal virgins. 2. chaste. vestal n. a chaste woman. ves·tal·ly adv. \[vestal\] virgin, (in ancient Rome) one of the virgins consecrated to the goddess Vesta and tending the sacred fire kept burning in her temple.

ves·tile·bule (ves-ti-byool) n. 1. an entrance hall or lobby of a building. 2. a church porch. 3. a cavity forming an entrance to another in the body. ves·ti·bu·lar (ves-ti-byu-lar) adj.

ves·tile (ves-ti) n. 1. a trace, a small remaining bit of what once existed, not a vestige of the abbey remains. 2. a very small amount, not a vestige of truth in it.

ves·tile·l·al (ves-ti-l-i ál) adj. remaining as a vestige of what once existed. ves·tile·ly vest·ing (ves·ting) n. 1. a heavy or medium weight cloth with ridges, used for garments. 2. the granting to an employee of rights to pension benefits without regard to future employment status.

vest·ment (vest·ment) n. a ceremonial robe or other garment, especially one worn by clergy or choir at a religious service.

vest·pock·et (vest·pok·ët) adj. 1. suitable for carrying in the vest pocket, a vest pocket notebook. 2. very small, a vest pocket park.

ves·try (ves·tree) n. (pl. -tries) 1. a room or building attached to a church, where vestments are kept and where clergy and choir robe themselves. 2. a chapel or meeting room in some churches. 3. (in the Protestant Episcopal Church) a committee responsible for the temporal affairs of a parish.

vet1 (vet) n. (informal) a veterinarian. vet v. (vet·ted, vet·ting) to examine carefully and critically for faults or errors etc, vetted the manuscript.

vet2 n. (informal) a veteran.

vet. abbr. 1. veteran. 2. veterinarian. 3. veterinary.

vetch (vech) n. a plant of the pea family, used as fodder for cattle.

vet·er·an (vet·ë-rän) n. 1. a person with long experience. 2. a person who has served in the armed forces. veteran adj.

\[Veterans\] Day, November 11, a U.S. holiday in honor of all veterans of the armed services. Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, a society for veterans who served overseas in wartime.

vet·er·i·nar·ian (vet·ë-rë·ner·ë-an) n. a veterinary surgeon or physician.

vet·er·i·na·ry (vet·ë-ri·ner·ë-ri) adj. of or for the treatment of diseases and disorders of farm and domestic animals, veterinary medicine.

ve·to (ve·toh) n. (pl. -toes) 1. an authoritative rejection or prohibition of something that is proposed. 2. the right to make such a rejection or prohibition. veto v. (ve·toed, ve·to·ing) to reject or prohibit authoritative. ve·to·er n.

vex (veks) v. to annoy, to irritate, to cause worry to (a person).

vex·a·tion (veks-ay-shon) n. 1. vexing, being vexed, a state of irritation or worry. 2. something that causes this.

vex·a·tious (veks-ay-shus) adj. causing vexation, annoying. vex·a·tious·ly adv. vex·a·tious·ness n.

VF abbr. voice frequency.

VFD abbr. volunteer fire department.

VFW abbr. Veterans of Foreign Wars.

VHF abbr. very high frequency.

VI, V.I. abbr. Virgin Islands.

vi·br·a·harp (vi-bris-harp) n. a musical instrument with metal bars played with mallets, also having an electronic resonator.

vi·brant (vī-brānt) adj. vibrating, resonant, thrilling with energy or activity. vi′brant·ly adv. vi′brant·cy (vī-brān·see) n.

vi·bra·phone (vī-brā-fohn) n. a vibraphone.

vi·brate (vī-brät) v. (vi·brat·ed, vi·brat·ing) 1. to move rapidly and continuously to and fro. 2. to resound, to sound with a rapid slight variation of pitch.

vi·bra·tion (vī-brā-shun) n. 1. a vibrating movement or sensation or sound. 2. vibrations, mental stimuli thought to be given out by a person or place etc., the emotional sensations these produce. vi′bra·tion·al adj.

vi·bra·to (vī-brä-tō) n. (pl. -tos) a vibrating effect in music, with rapid slight variation of pitch.

vi·bra·tor (vī-brä-tōr) n. a device that vibrates or causes vibration.

vi·bra·to·ry (vī-brä·tōr-ee) adj. causing vibration.

vi·bur·num (vī-bür-nüm) n. a kind of shrub, usually with white flowers.

vic. abbr. vicinity.

vic·ar (vik·är) n. 1. (in the Church of England) a clergyman in charge of a parish. 2. (in the Protestant Episcopal Church) a minister in charge of a chapel in a parish. 3. (in the Roman Catholic Church) a church official who is a deputy for a bishop or the pope. □ Vicar of Christ, the pope.

vic·ar·age (vik·ā-rij) n. the house of a vicar.

vic·ar·ious (vik·ahr·i-ás) adj. (of feelings or emotions) felt through sharing imaginatively in the feelings or activities etc. of another person, vicarious pleasure. vi′car·i·ous·ly adv. vi′car·i·ous·ness n.

vi·ce (vis) n. 1. evil or grossly immoral conduct, great wickedness. 2. a particular form of this, a fault or bad habit, smoking isn’t one of my vices. 3. criminal and immoral practices such as prostitution. □ vice squad, a division of police enforcing laws against prostitution etc.

vi·ce prep. in place of. Mr. Smith has been appointed as chief accountant vice Mr. Brown, who has retired.

vice·prefix (usually written without the hyphen) acting as substitute or deputy for, as in viceroy; next in rank to, as in vice-consul.

vice ad·mi·ral (vis ad-mi·rāl) a naval officer next in rank below an admiral.

vice·con·sul (vis-kon·sūl) n. a consular officer next in rank below the consul.

vi·cen·tial (vi·sen·tē-āl) adj. lasting, or occurring every, twenty years.

vice pres·i·dent (vis prez′-i·dent) the official next in rank to the president. vice pres·i·den·cy (vis prez′-i·den·see) vice pres·i·den·tial (vis prez′-i·den·shul).

vice·re·gal (vis·ree·gāl) adj. of a viceroy.

vice·roy (vis·roi) n. a person governing a colony or province etc. as the sovereign’s representative. vice·roy·al·ty (vis·roi·āl·tē) n.

vice versa (vis·var·sā) the other way around, we gossip about them and vice versa (= and they gossip about us).

vi·ch·y·so·ise (vi·shē·swahz) n. a creamy soup of leeks and potatoes, served chilled.

vi·ch·y (vish·ē) water 1. fizzy mineral water from Vichy in central France. 2. any water like this.

vi·cin·i·ty (vi·sin-i·tē) n. (pl. -ties) the surrounding district; there is no good school in the vicinity, near by.

vi·cious (vish·ēs) adj. 1. acting or done with evil intentions, brutal, strongly spiteful. 2. (of animals) savage and dangerous, bad-tempered. 3. severe, a vicious wind. vi′cious·ly adv. vi′cious·ness n. □ vicious circle, a state of affairs in which a cause produces an effect that itself produces or intensifies the original cause. vicious spiral, a similar continual interaction, as one causing a steady increase of prices and wages, hostility between nations, etc.

vi·ci·si·to·tude (vi·sis-i·tood) n. a change of circumstances affecting one’s life.

vic·tim (vik·tim) n. 1. a person who is injured or killed by another or as the result of an occurrence, victims of the earthquake. 2. a person who suffers because of a trick. 3. a living creature killed and offered as a religious sacrifice.

vic·tim·ize (vik·ti·mez) v. (vic·tim·iz·ed, vic·tim·iz·ing) to make a victim of, to single out a person) to suffer ill treatment. vic′tim·iz·er n. vic′tim·i·za·tion (vik·ti·mez·a·shun) n.

vic·tim·less (vik·ti·lēs) adj. without a victim. □ vic·timless· crime, a crime not involving injury to a person.

vic·tor (vik·tōr) n. the winner in a battle or contest.

vic·to·ri·a (vik·toh·ri·ā) n. a low light four-wheeled carriage with a seat for two, a raised driver’s seat, and a collapsible top.

vic·to·ri·an (vik·toh·ri·ān) adj. 1. belonging to or characteristic of the reign of Queen Victoria (1837–1901) in England. 2. prudish. Vic·to·ri·an·ism n. victorious (vik-tör-i-ús) adj. having gained the victory. vict′to′ri′ous′ly adv. vict′to′ri′ous′ness n.

vict′to′ry (vik-tör-ı-ri) n. (pl. -ries) success in a battle or contest or game etc. achieved by gaining mastery over one's opponent(s) or achieving the highest score. □ Victory Medal, a bronze medal given to all those who served in the U.S. armed forces in the World Wars.

vict′u′al (vit-ı-lər) n. a person who supplies victuals.

vict′uels (vit-ı-zlz) n. pl. food, provisions.

vil′cu-nā, vîl′cu-na (vi-koo-nà) n. 1. a South American animal related to the llama, with fine silky wool. 2. cloth made from its wool, an imitation of this.

vid′e-o (vid-ı-oh) n. television, especially television pictures as distinct from sound, we have lost video but are still receiving audio.

vid′e-o cas′sette (vid-ı-oh kā-set′) a cartridge containing videotape.

vid′e-o disc (vid-ı-ı-disk) n. a disk suitable for recording television pictures and sound.

vid′e-o ta′pe (vid-ı-oh-tayp) n. magnetic tape suitable for recording television pictures and sound. videotape v. (vid′e-o ta′ped, vid′e-o ta′ping) to record on videotape.

vie (vi) v. (vied, vy-ing) to carry on a rivalry, to compete, vying with each other for the title. vîer n.

Vi-en′na (vi-en-ı) the capital of Austria. Vi-len′nes (vee-ön-neez) adj. & n. (pl.-nese).

Vien′tiane (vyen-tyahn) the capital of Laos.

Vi-et′cong (vee-et-kong) n. (pl. -cong) 1. the army and guerrilla force supported by the government of North Vietnam in its war against South Vietnam. 2. a member of this force.

Vi-et′minh (vee-et-minh) n. (pl. -minh) 1. the Vietnamese army that fought against the Japanese and French in Indochina in 1941–1951. 2. a member of this army.

Vi-et′nam (vee-et-nam) a country in southeast Asia. Vi-et′nam-e′se (vee-et-nā-meez) adj. & n. (pl.-ese).

view (vyoo) n. 1. what can be seen from a specified point, fine natural scenery, the view from the summit. 2. range of vision, the ship sailed into view. 3. visual inspection of something, we had a private view of the exhibition before it was opened. 4. a mental survey of a subject etc. 5. a mental attitude, an opinion, they have strong views about tax reform. view v. 1. to survey with the eyes or mind. 2. to inspect, to look over (a house etc.) with the idea of buying it. 3. to watch television. 4. to regard or consider, we view the matter seriously. □ In view of, having regard to, considering, in view of the excellence of the work, we do not mind the cost. on view, displayed for inspection. with a view to, with the hope or intention of.

view′er (vyoo-ı-er) n. 1. a person who views something. 2. a person watching a television program. 3. a device used in inspecting photographic slides etc.

view′find′er (vyoo-fin-dıer) n. a device on a camera enabling the user to see the area that will be photographed through the lens.

view′point (vyoo-point) n. a point of view, a standpoint.

Vi′ges′i′mal (vi-jes-i-mál) adj. 1. of twentieths or twenty. 2. reckoning or reckoned by twenties.

vig′il (vij-il) n. 1. staying awake to keep watch or to pray, a period of this, keep vigil; a long vigil. 2. the eve of a religious festival.

vig′il-an′t adj. watchful, on the lookout for possible danger etc. vig′il-an′t-ly adj. vig′il-lance n.

vig′il-an′te (vij-il-an-tı) n. a member of a self-appointed group of people who try to prevent crime and disorder in a community where law enforcement is imperfect or has broken down.

vig′net′te (vin-yet) n. 1. a photograph or portrait with the edges of the background gradually shaded off. 2. a short description or character sketch. vignet′te v. (vi-gnet′ted, vi-gnet′ting) to shade off in the style of a vignette.

vig′or (vig-ır) n. 1. active physical or mental strength, energy, flourishing physical condition. 2. forcefulness of language or composition etc.

vig′or′ous (vig-ı-rıs) adj. full of vigor. vig′or′ous′ly adv. vig′or′ous′ness n.

Vi′king (vı-kıng) n. a Scandinavian trader and pirate of the 8th–10th centuries.

vil′a (vıl′e) n. pl. abbr. village.

vile (vil) adj. (vil′er, vil′est) 1. extremely disgusting, a vile smell. 2. despicable on moral grounds. 3. (informal) bad, this vile weather. vile′ly adv. vile′ness n.

vil′li′fy (vil-li-fi) n. (vil-li′fed, vil′li′fy′ing) to say evil things about. vil′li′fi′er n. vil′li′fi′ca′tion (vil-li-fi-kay-sh ön) n.

vil′la′ (vil-lā) n. a large and luxurious estate in the country.

vil′lage (vil′ıj) n. a small community in the country. 2. the residents of such a community. □ village green, a small open park in the center of a village.
without a human father. Virgin Islands, either of two groups of islands in the West Indies, one group belonging to the U.S. and the other to Great Britain.

vir·gin·al (vur-jī-nāl) adj. of or being or suitable for a virgin. Virginial n. (often virginals) a keyboard instrument of the 16th–17th centuries, the earliest form of harpsichord. Vir·gin·al·ly adv.

Vir·gin·ia (vir-jin-ē-ə) a state of the U.S. Vir·gin·ian adj. & n. □ Virginia creeper, an ornamental climbing plant with leaves that turn red in autumn. Virginia ham, a ham from a hog cured in hickory smoke. Virginia reel, a country dance.

Vir·go (vur-gō) n. a sign of the zodiac, the Virgin.

Vir·gil (vur·gīl) n. a slanting line / to mark the division of words or lines.

Vir·i·des·cent (vī·rī·des·sēnt) adj. greenish, tending to become green.

Vir·ile (vī·rīl) adj. having masculine strength or vigor, having procreative power.

Vir·il·i·ty (vī·rī·lī·tē) n. the quality or degree of being virile.

Vir·il·o·gy (vī·rī·lō·jē) n. the scientific study of viruses.

Vir·i·lo·gist (vī·rī·lō·jist) n.

Vir·tu·al (vī·rū·tal) adj. being so in effect though not in name or according to strict definition, he is the virtual head of the firm; gave what was a virtual promise. Vir·tu·al·ly adv.

Vir·tu·es (vī·rū·tēz) n. moral excellence, goodness, a particular form of this, patience is a virtue. 2. chastity, especially of a woman. 3. a good quality, an advantage, the seat has the virtue of being adjustable. □ by or in virtue of, by reason of, because of, he is entitled to a pension by virtue of his long service. Make a virtue of necessity, to do with a good grace what one must do anyway.

Vir·tu·o·so (vī·rū·tō·sō) n. (pl. -sos, -sì, pr. -see) a person who excels in the technique of doing something, especially singing or playing music.

Vir·tu·os·ity (vī·rū·tō·sī·tē) n. (pl. -ties).

Vir·tu·ous (vī·rū·tūs) adj. having or showing moral virtue. Vir·tu·ous·ly adv. Vir·tu·ous·ness n.

Vir·u·l·ent (vī·rū·lēnt) adj. 1. (of poison or disease) extremely strong or violent. 2. strongly and bitterly hostile, virulent abuse, Vir·u·lent·ly adv. Vir·u·lence, Vir·u·len·cy n.

Vir·rus (vī·rūs) n. (pl. -rūs-es) a very simple organism (smaller than bacteria) capable of causing disease.

Vis. abbr. 1. visibility. 2. visual.

Vis·a (vī·sā) n. an official stamp or mark put on a passport by officials of a foreign country to show that the holder may enter their country. Visa v. (vi·sæd, vi·sa·ing) to put a visa on (a passport).

Vis·a·ded (vī·sā·dēd) adj. marked with a visa.

Vis·age (vī·zāj) n. a person's face.

Vis·à·Vis (vī-zā-vēz) adv. & prep. 1. in a position facing one another, opposite to. 2. in relation to, as compared with.

Vis·cer·a (vī·zēr·ā) n. pl. the internal organs of the body, especially the intestines.

Vis·cer·al (vī·zēr·āl) adj. 1. relating to the viscera. 2. relating to inward feelings.

Vis·cous (vī·saüs) adj. (of liquid) thick and gluey. Vis·coid·ly adv. Vis·coid·li·ty (vī·sid·i-tee) n.

Vis·cos·ity (vī·kos·ītē) n. the quality or degree of being viscous.

Vis·count (vī-kōnt) n. 1. a nobleman ranking between earl and baron, Viscount Samuel. 2. the courtesy title of an earl's eldest son, Viscount Linley. Vis·count·ess (vī-kōnt·ēs) n. fem.

Vis·cos·ous (vī·kos·ūs) adj. thick and gluey, not pouring easily. Vis·cous·li·ty adv. Vis·cous·ness n.

Vis·e·e (vī·sē) n. an instrument with two jaws that grip a thing securely so as to leave the hands free for working on it, used especially in carpentry and metal working.

Vis·hū (vī·shū) n. a Hindu god regarded by his worshipers as the supreme deity and savior.

Vis·i·bil·i·ty (vī·sē·bil·ī·tē) n. 1. being visible. 2. the range or possibility of vision as determined by conditions of light and atmosphere, the airplane turned back because of poor visibility.

Vis·i·ble (vī·sī·bēl) adj. able to be seen or noticed. Vis·i·bly adv. □ Do not confuse visible with visual.

Vis·i·ble (vī·sī·bēl) adj. of a West Goth, a member of a branch of Goths who settled in France and Spain in the 5th–6th centuries. Vis·i·goth·ic (vī·si-gōth·ik) adj.

Vis·ion (vī·shōn) n. 1. the faculty of seeing, sight. 2. something seen in the imagination or in a dream etc. 3. imaginative insight into a subject or problem etc., foresight and wisdom in planning, a statesman with vision. 4. a person or sight of unusual beauty. Vision v. to see, to envision.

Vis·ion·ar·y (vī·shōn·er·ē) adj. 1. existing only in the imagination, fanciful, not practical, visionary schemes. 2. indulging in fanciful ideas or theories.
n. (pl. -ar·les) a person with visionary ideas.

vi·sit (viz-it) v. 1. to go or come to see (a person or place etc.) either socially or on business or for some other purpose. 2. to stay temporarily with (a person) or at (a place). 3. (in the Bible) to inflict punishment for, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children. visit n. an act of visiting, a temporary stay.

vi·sit·ting fireman, (informal) a person given especially cordial treatment while visiting an organization, city, etc.; a tourist who is expected to spend money freely. visiting nurse, a registered nurse employed by an agency to treat the sick in their homes or to take part in other types of public health programs. visiting professor, a professor spending a semester or more at a university other than his own.

vi·sor (viz-zór) n. 1. the movable front part of a helmet, covering the face. 2. the projecting front part of a cap. vis·or·less adj. sun visor, a fixed or movable flap at the top of a vehicle's windscreen, protecting the eyes from bright sunshine etc.

vi·so·red (viz-zôrd) adj. covered by a visor.

vi·sion (viz·sh·i·sh·ən) n. 1. a view, especially one seen through a long narrow opening such as an avenue of trees. 2. a mental view of an extensive period or series of past or future events.

VISTA (vis·tə) n. Volunteers in Service to America.

vi·su·al (viz·ə·əl) adj. of or used in seeing, received through sight; a good visual memory, ability to remember what one sees. vis·u·al·ly adv. visual aid, a picture or filmstrip etc. as an aid to teaching. visual arts, the arts appreciated through the sense of sight, as painting, sculpture, etc. Do not confuse visual with visible.

vi·su·al·ize (viz·ə·ə·līz) (v. (vis·u·ə·līzed, vis·u·ə·līz·əng) to form a mental picture of. vis·u·al·iz·er (n. vis·u·ə·līz·ər) vi·su·al·iz·a·tion (viz·ə·ə·līz·ə·SHən) n.

vi·tal (vi·tal) adj. 1. connected with life, essential to life, vital functions. 2. essential to the existence or success or operation of something, extremely important. 3. full of vitality, she's a vital sort of person. vi·tal·ly adv. vi·tal·parts, the parts of the body (such as heart, lungs, brain) that are essential to the maintenance of life. vi·tal·signs, the measurable signs of bodily function, such as blood pressure, pulse, and respiration. vi·tal·statistics, statistics relating to population figures or births and deaths; (informal) the measurements of a woman's bust, waist, and hips.

vi·tal·ty (vi·tal·ti) n. (pl. -ties) liveliness, vigor, persistent energy.

vi·tal·ize (vi·tal·iz) v. (vi·tal·ized, vi·tal·iz·ed) to put life or vitality into.

vi·tar·ni·ty (vi·tar·ni·tē) n. vi·tar·ni·za·tion (vi·tar·ni·za·SHōn) n.

vi·tal·i·ty (vi-təl·ə·tē) n. any of a number of organic substances present in many foods and essential to the nutrition of man and other animals. vi·tar·ni·um A, the vitamin found in green and yellow vegetables, egg yolks, etc., essential for growth and the prevention of night blindness etc. vi·tar·ni·um B, a vitamin within the vitamin B complex. vi·tar·ni·um B1, thiamine. vi·tar·ni·um B12, riboflavin. vi·tar·ni·um B6, pyridoxine. vi·tar·ni·um B12, a vitamin found in liver, milk, eggs, fish, etc., used in the treatment of pernicious anemia.

vi·tar·ni·um B complex, a group of vitamins containing vitamin B1, vitamin B2, etc. vi·tar·ni·um C, ascorbic acid. vi·tar·ni·um D, a vitamin found in milk, fish liver oils, etc., which helps prevent rickets. vi·tar·ni·um E, a vitamin found in wheat-germ oil that is said to contribute to the health of the nervous system. vi·tar·ni·um K, the vitamin found in leafy vegetables, rice, bran, etc. that promotes blood clotting.

vi·ti·ate (vish·i·a·tēt) v. (vi·ti·a·tēd, vi·ti·a·ting) to make imperfect, to spoil. 2. to weaken the force of, to make ineffective, this admission vitiates your claim.

vi·ti·a·tor (n. vi·ti·a·tōr) n. vi·ti·a·tion (vish·i·a·SHōn) n.

vi·tar·ni·cul·ture (vit-ar·ni·kul·chūr) n. 1. the cultivation of grapevines. 2. the study of grapes. vi·tar·ni·cul·tur·al (vit-ar·ni·kul·chū·rəl) adj. vi·tar·ni·cul·tur·ist n.

vi·te·rous (vish·ir·əs) adj. having a glasslike texture or finish, vitreous enamel.

vi·tre·ous humor, the transparent jellylike tissue filling the eyeball behind the lens.

vi·tr·i·fy (vitr·i·fī) v. (vitr·i·fied, vit·ri·fy·ed) to convert or be converted into glass or a glasslike substance, especially.
vitriol / voice

vit’ri-ol (vit-ri-ōl) n. 1. sulfuric acid or one of its salts. 2. savagely hostile comments or criticism. vit’ri-ol-ic (vit-ri-ōl-ik) adj.

vit’ties (vit-ēz) n. (informal) vituals.

vi’-tus (vee-vus) n. (of a plant) either of two pairs of opposite leaves growing on either side of a stem or branch. vi’-tu-al ad vi-vip’ar’ous (vi-vip-ā-rōs) adj. 1. of or for or uttered by the voice. 2. expressing one’s feelings freely in speech, he was vocal about his rights. vocal n. a piece of sung music.

vi’cal-ly adv. vocal cords, the folds of lining membrane of the larynx that produce the voice.

vi-cal’ic (voh-kāl’ik) adj. of or consisting of vowels.

vi-cal’is’t (voh-kāl-īst) n. a singer, especially in a pop group.

vi-cal’ize (voh-kāl-iz) v. (vo-cal’iz-ing) 1. to utter. 2. (informal) to use the voice, as in speech or song.

vi-cal’iz’er n. vocal’a-tion (voh-kāl-ā-shōn) n. 1. feeling that one is called by God to a certain career or occupation. 2. a natural liking for a certain type of work. 3. a person’s trade or profession. vocal’a-tional adj.

vocal’c-al’za’tion (vo-cal’kō-za’shōn) n. 1. a choice expression of advice or guidance, advice about suitable careers. vocal’a-cal adj.

vocational guidance, advice about suitable careers. voca’tional school, a school that provides practical training in a trade.

vi-cal’er at’ed (voh-sif-e-rayt) v. (vo-cif’er-at-ed, vo-cif’er-at’ing) to speak or say loudly or noisily, to shout. vo-cal’er-at’sion (voh-sif-e-ray-shōn) n.

vi-cal’er’ous (voh-sif-e-rōs) adj. making a great outcry, expressing one’s views forcibly and insistently. vo-cal’er’ous’ly adv. vo-cal’er’ous’ness n.

vod’ka (vōd-kā) n. alcoholic liquor distilled chiefly from rye, especially in Russia.

vogue (vōgh) n. 1. current fashion, large hats are the vogue. 2. popular favor or acceptance, his novels had a great vogue ten years ago. vogue’ish adj. In vogue, in fashion. out of vogue, out of fashion.

voice (vois) n. 1. sounds formed in the larynx and uttered by the mouth, espe-

Japan surrendered to the Allies in World War II.

vlf abbr. very low frequency.

V.M.D. abbr. Doctor of Veterinary Medicine.

v neck (vey nek) a V-shaped neckline on a sweater etc.

voca’ble abbr. vocabulary.

vo-cal n. a piece of sung music.

vo-cal’ly adv. vocal cords, the folds of lining membrane of the larynx that produce the voice.

vo-cal’ic (voh-kāl’ik) adj. of or consisting of vowels.

vo-cal’is’t (voh-kāl-īst) n. a singer, especially in a pop group.

vo-cal’ize (voh-kāl-iz) v. (vo-cal’iz-ing) 1. to utter. 2. (informal) to use the voice, as in speech or song.

vo-cal’iz’er n. vocal’a-tion (voh-kāl-ā-shōn) n. 1. feeling that one is called by God to a certain career or occupation. 2. a natural liking for a certain type of work. 3. a person’s trade or profession. vocal’a-tional adj.

vocal’a-cal adj.

vocal’c-al’za’tion (vo-cal’kō-za’shōn) n. 1. a choice expression of advice or guidance, advice about suitable careers. vocal’a-cal adj.

vocational guidance, advice about suitable careers. voca’tional school, a school that provides practical training in a trade.

vi-cal’er at’ed (voh-sif-e-rayt) v. (vo-cif’er-at-ed, vo-cif’er-at’ing) to speak or say loudly or noisily, to shout. vo-cal’er-at’sion (voh-sif-e-ray-shōn) n.

vi-cal’er’ous (voh-sif-e-rōs) adj. making a great outcry, expressing one’s views forcibly and insistently. vo-cal’er’ous’ly adv. vo-cal’er’ous’ness n.

vod’ka (vōd-kā) n. alcoholic liquor distilled chiefly from rye, especially in Russia.

vogue (vōgh) n. 1. current fashion, large hats are the vogue. 2. popular favor or acceptance, his novels had a great vogue ten years ago. vogue’ish adj. In vogue, in fashion. out of vogue, out of fashion.

voice (vois) n. 1. sounds formed in the larynx and uttered by the mouth, especially human utterance in speaking, singing, etc. 2. ability to produce such sounds, she has a cold and has lost her voice; she is in good voice, singing or speaking well. 3. expression of one's opinion etc. in spoken or written words, the opinion itself, the right to express opinion, gave voice to his indignation; I have no voice in the matter. 4. any of the sets of forms of a verb that show the relation of the subject to the action, active voice; passive voice (see active and passive). voice v. (voiced, voicing) 1. to put into words, to express, she voiced her opinion. 2. to utter with resonance of the vocal cords (as z), not only with the breath (as s). □ voice box, the larynx. voice vote, a vote taken by noting the relative strength of calls of aye and no. with one voice, unanimously.

voiceless (vois-lis) adj. 1. having no voice. 2. not voiced. voice'less-ly adv.

voicelessness n.

voice-o-ver (vois-oh-ver) n. (in a film, television program, etc.) narration by a voice not accompanied by a picture of the speaker.

voice-print (vois-print) n. a visual record of speech, analyzed with respect to frequency, duration, and amplitude.

void (void) adj. 1. empty, vacant. 2. not legally valid. void n. empty space, emptiness. void v. 1. to make legally void, the contract was voided by his death. 2. to excrete (urine or feces). void'a-ble adj. void'er n.

volie (voil) n. a very thin light dress material.

vol. abbr. 1. volume. 2. volunteer.

vol-a-tile (vol-a-tiil) adj. 1. (of a liquid) evaporating rapidly. 2. (of a person) lively, changing quickly or easily from one mood or interest to another. vola-til-i-ty n.

vol-a-til-ize (vol-a-tiil-ize) v. (vol-a-tiil-ized, vol-a-tiil-iz-ing) to evaporate, to cause to evaporate.

vol-can-ic (vol-kăn-ik) adj. of, like, or produced by a volcano. vol-can'i-cal-ly adv. □ volcanic glass, the natural glass produced by quick cooling of molten lava.

vol-can-ism (vol-kăn-iz-ĭm) n. volcanic power and activity.

vol-ca-no (vol-kăn-oh) n. (pl. -noes, -nos) a mountain or hill with openings through which lava, cinders, gases, etc. from below Earth's crust are or have been expelled.

vol-can-ol-o-gy (vol-kăn-ol-ŏ-je) n. the scientific study of volcanoes and their phenomena. vol-can-o'l-o-gist n.

vol-can-o-log-ic (vol-kăn-ŏ-log-ĭk) adj.

voile (vohl) n. any of several small animals resembling rats or mice.

voil'o-lyon (vŏ-lĭsh-ŏn) n. use of one's own will in choosing or making a decision etc.; she did it of her own volition, voluntarily. voil'o-lyon-al adj. vol'o-lyon-al-ly adv.

vol-le-ye (vol-ee) n. (pl. -leys) 1. simultaneous discharge of a number of missiles, the missiles themselves. 2. a number of questions or curses etc. directed in quick succession at someone. 3. return of the ball in tennis etc. before it touches the ground. volley v. (vol-leyed, volley-ing) 1. to discharge or fly or sound in a volley. 2. to return (a ball) by a volley.

vol'ley'er n.

vol-le-y-ball (vol'ee-bawl) n. a game for two teams of six players volleying a large ball by hand over a net.

vol-plane (vol-playn) (vol-planing) to glide in an airplane.

volt (volt) n. a unit of electromotive force, a force sufficient to carry one ampere of current against one ohm resistance.

vol-tage (vol-taj) n. electromotive force expressed in volts.

vol-ta-ic (vol-tay-ik) adj. of electricity from a primary battery, galvanic.

volte-face (volt-fahs) n. (pl. volte-faces) a complete change of one's attitude toward something. D French.

voltmeter (vol-tme-ter) n. an instrument measuring electric potential in volts.

vol-u-ble (vol-yu-bell) adj. talking very much, speaking or spoken with great fluency. vol'u-bly adv. vol'u-bl'y n.

volume (vol-yum) n. 1. a book, especially one of a set. 2. the amount of space (often expressed in cubic units) that a three-dimensional thing occupies or contains. 3. the size or amount of something, a quantity, the great volume of water pouring over the dam; the volume of business has increased. 4. the strength or power of sound, the noise had doubled in volume.

vol-u-mi-nous (vol-yu-mi-noos) adj. 1. having great volume, bulky; voluminous. 2. (of writings) great in quantity. vol'u-mi-nous-ly adv.

vol-u'mi-nous-ness n. vol'u-mi-nous-ly n.

vol-un-tar-y (vol-un-tar-ee) adj. 1. acting or done or given etc. of one's own free will and not under compulsion. 2. working or done without payment, voluntary workers or work. 3. (of an organization) maintained by voluntary contributions or voluntary workers. 4. (of bodily movements) controlled by the will. voluntary
n. an organ solo played before, during, or after a church service. volunteer volunteer (vol-ūn-teer) n. 1. a person who offers to do something. 2. a person who enrolls for military or other service voluntarily, not as a conscript. volunteer v. to undertake or offer voluntarily, to be a volunteer. □ volunteer army, an army consisting of volunteers.

volute (vol-ūt) n. (pl. -ar-y) a person whose life is devoted to indulgence in luxury and sensual pleasure.

voluptuous (vol-ūp-tōo-o̞s) adj. 1. fond of luxury or sumptuous living. 2. giving a sensation of luxury and pleasure. 3. (of a woman) having a full and attractive figure. voluptuous adj. voluptuous-ly adv.

vomit (vom-it) v. (vom-it-ed, vom-it-ing) to eject (matter) from the stomach through the mouth, to be sick. vomit n. matter vomited from the stomach.

voodoo (voo-doo) n. (pl. -doos) a form of religion based on belief in witchcraft and magical rites, practiced by some people in the West Indies and America.

voracious (vōr-ā-choos) adj. 1. greedy in eating, ravenous. 2. desiring much; a voracious reader, one who reads much and eagerly.

voracious adj. voracious-ly adv.

vortex (vor-tek-ses) n. (pl. -teks-es, -ti-ces, pr. -ti-seez) a whirling mass of water or air, a whirlpool or whirlwind. vortex n. (vort-ik) adj. □ Do not confuse vortex with vertex.

voyage (voj-āj) n. (pl. -ages) 1. a person vowed to the service of God etc., as a priest or nun. 2. an ardent follower, a devoted adherent or advocate of a person, system, religion, occupation, etc.

vow (vōw) n. 1. a formal expression of one’s opinion or choice on a matter under discussion, as by ballot or show of hands. 2. an opinion or choice expressed in this way, the vote went against accepting the plan. 3. the total number of votes given by a certain group, that policy will lose us the labor vote. 4. the right to vote, Swiss women now have the vote. vote v. (vōt-ed, vot-ing) 1. to express an opinion or choice by a vote. 2. to decide by a majority of votes. 3. (informal) to declare by general consent, the meal was voted excellent. 4. (informal) to suggest, I vote that we avoid him in the future.

voteless adj. voter n. □ vote down, to reject (a proposal etc.) by votes. vote in, to elect by votes. voting machine, a machine automatically registering votes.

voth (voth) adj. given in fulfillment of a vow, votive offerings at the shrine.

voucher (voth-ur) v. vouch for, to guarantee the certainty or accuracy or reliability etc. of, I will vouch for his honesty.

voucher n. 1. a document establishing that money has been paid or goods etc. delivered. 2. a document (issued in token of payment made or promised) that can be exchanged for certain goods or services.

vouchsafe (vōch-sāf) v. (vouch-safe, vouch-saf-ing) to give or grant in a gracious or condescending manner, they did not vouchsafe a reply or to reply.

vow (vōw) n. a solemn promise or undertaking, especially in the form of an oath to God or a god or a saint, vow v. to promise solemnly, they vowed vengeance against their oppressor. vow-er n.

vowel (vōw-ul) n. 1. a speech sound made without audible stopping of the breath (opposed to a consonant). 2. a letter or letters representing such a sound, as a, e, i, o, u, ee.

vowel sound (vōw-ūl-sound) n.

vocal (vō-kāl) adj. vocal-ly adv.

vocational (vōk-toh-cha-back) adj. vocational-ly adv.

voice (vōs) n. the power of speaking; a cry, whisper, etc.

voxy po-pūll (voks pō-pūll) public opinion. □ Latin, the people’s voice.

voyage (voj-āj) n. a journey by water (especially a long one) or in space. voyage v. (voy-aged, voy-ag-ing) to make a voyage. voyager n.

voyeur (vō-wyur) n. (voh-yu-riz) a person who enjoys sexual gratification from looking at the sexual actions or organs of others.

voyeurism n. voyeur-ism n.

vulcanize (vul-kan-iz) v. vulcanized rubber, ebonite.

vulcanite (vul-kan-ith) n. a hard black vulcanized rubber, ebonite.

vulcanized (vul-kan-iz) v. vulcanized rubber, ebonite. order to increase its elasticity and strength. vul'can-iz-er n. vul'can-iza-tion (vul-kā-ni-zay-shon) n.
Vulg. abbr. Vulgate. vul·gar (vul-gär) adj. 1. lacking in refinement or good taste, coarse. 2. commonly used and incorrect (but not coarse; see vulgarism, definition 1). vul'gar·ly adv. vul'gar·ness n. vul·gar·i-ty (vul-gar-i-tee) ru {pi-ties). D Vulgar Latin, the informal Latin used in classical times.
vul·gar·i·an (vul-gair-i-an) n. a vulgar person, especially a rich one.
vul·gar·ism (vul-gär-iz-əm) n. 1. a word or phrase used mainly by people who are ignorant of standard usage, “he is learning her to drive” is a vulgar usage or is a vulgarism for “he is teaching her to drive.” 2. a coarse word or phrase.
vul·gar·ize (vul-gar-ız) v. (vul·gar·ized, vul·gar·iz·ing) 1. to cause (a person or his manners etc.) to become vulgar. 2. to reduce to the level of being usual or ordinary, to spoil by making ordinary or too well known. vul’gar·iz·er n. vul·gar·iza·tion (vul-gä-riz-shon) n.
Vul·gate (vul-gayt) n. the 4th-century Latin version of the Bible.
vul·ner·a·ble (vul-ne-ra-bəl) adj. 1. able to be hurt or wounded or injured. 2. unprotected, exposed to danger or attack. vul'ner·a·bil·ity adv. vul'ner·a·bil·i-ty (vul-ne-ra-bil-i-tee) n.
vul·pine (vul-pin) adj. 1. of or like a fox. 2. crafty, cunning.
vul·ture (vul-chur) n. 1. a large bird of prey that lives on the flesh of dead ani-nals. 2. a greedy person seeking to profit from the misfortunes of others.
vul·va (vul-və) n. (pl. -vae, pr. -vee, -vas) the external parts of the female genital organs.
vv. abbr. verses.
vying (vr-ing) see vie.
W, w (dub-él-yoo) (pl. Ws, W's, w's) the twenty-third letter of the alphabet.

W symbol tungsten.

w. abbr. 1. water. 2. watt(s). 3. week(s).
4. weight. 5. west. 6. western. 7. wide.
8. width. 9. wife. 10: with. 11. won.

w/ abbr. with.

Wac (wak) n. a member of the Women's Army Corps.

WAC abbr. Women's Army Corps.

wack-y (wak-ec) adj. (wack-l-er, wack-l-est) (slang) crazy. wack'l-ness n.

wad (wod) n. 1. a lump or bundle of soft material used to keep things apart or in place, stop up a hole, etc. 2. (informal) a collection of documents or banknotes placed together. 3. (slang) a large quantity, especially of money. wad v. (waded, wading) to line or stuff or protect with wadding.

wad-ding (wod-ing) n. soft fibrous material used for padding or packing or lining things.

wad-die (wod-é) v. (wad-died, wading) to walk with short steps and a swaying movement. waddle n. a wadding walk. wad'dier n.

wade (wayd) v. (wad-ed, wading) 1. to walk through water or mud or anything that prevents the feet from moving freely, to walk across (a stream etc.) in this way. 2. to make one's way slowly and with difficulty; wade through a book, read through it in spite of its dullness or difficulty or length etc. wad'a-ble adj. □ wade in, (informal) to intervene, to make a vigorous attack. wade into, (informal) to attack (a person or task) vigorously. wading bird, any long-legged water bird that wades in shallow water.

wad'er (wayd-ér) n. 1. a person who wades. 2. a wading bird. 3. waders, high waterproof boots worn for fishing etc.

wad'el (wah-dee) n. a rocky watercourse that is dry except in the rainy season, in North Africa and the Middle East.

Waf (waf) n. a member of the women's branch of the Air Force.

WAF abbr. Women in the Air Force.

wa-fer (way-fér) n. 1. a kind of thin light cracker or biscuit. 2. a thin disk of unleavened bread used in the Eucharist.

waf-fle1 (wof-él) n. (informal) vague wordy talk or writing showing indecision or evasiveness. waffle v. (waf-ied, waf-ling) (informal) to talk or write waffle, the diplomat waffled on the question of arms control.

waffle2 n. a small cake made of batter and eaten hot, cooked in a waffle iron which has two metal pans hinged together, marked with a projecting pattern that presses into the batter when the pans are closed upon it.

waft (waft) v. to carry or travel lightly and easily through the air or over water.

waft n. 1. a wafted odor. 2. a movement of air.

wag (wag) v. (wagged, wagging) to shake or move briskly to and fro; tongues are wagging, talk or gossip is going on. wag n. 1. a single wagging movement. 2. a person who is fond of making jokes or playing practical jokes.

wage (wayj) v. (waged, wag-ing) to engage in, wage war. wage n. (often wages) regular payment to an employee in return for his work or services, he earns a good wage or good wages.

wage-price (wayj-pris) guideline a ceiling standard set by the federal government for increases in salaries, benefits, and prices.

wa-ger (way-jér) n. a bet. wager v. to bet. wa'ger-er n.

wag-er-y (wag-é-ree) n. (pl. -ger-ies) 1. the actions or humor of a wag. 2. a jest.

wag-glish (wag-ish) adj. of or like a wag, said or done in a joking way. wag'glish-ly adv. wag'glish-ness n.

wag-gle (wag-él) v. (wag-gled, wag-gling) to wag. waggle n. a wagging movement.
wagon / walk

wagon (wag-ôn) n. 1. a four-wheeled vehicle for carrying goods. 2. (informal) a station wagon. 3. (informal) a patrol wagon. □on the wagon or water wagon, (slang) abstaining from alcohol. wagon train, a group of wagons and horses carrying supplies and settlers.

wagon-er (wag-ôr) n. the driver of a wagon.

wagon-tail (wag-tayl) n. any of several small birds with a long tail that moves up and down constantly when the bird is standing.

wagoneer (wa-hoo) n. (pl. -hoos) a North American shrub or tree, so named by the Indians.

wail (wayl) v. 1. to utter a long sad cry, to lament or complain persistently. 2. (of wind etc.) to make a sound like a person wailing. wall n. a wailing cry or sound or utterance.

wagon (wayn) n. (old use) a farm wagon.

wagon-scot (wayn-skôt) n. wooden paneling on the wall of a room, especially a dado of wood. wainscot v. (wain-scot-ed, wain-scot-ing) to panel with wainscot.

wagon-scot-ling (wayn-skoh-ling) n. wainscot, material for this.

wagon-wright (wayn-writ) n. (old use) a wagon builder.

waist (wayst) n. 1. the part of the human body below the ribs and above the bones of the pelvis, normally narrower than the rest of the body. 2. the part of a garment covering this. 3. a narrow part in the middle of a long object. 4. a blouse or bodice.

waistband (wayst-band) n. a band (as at the top of a skirt) that fits around the waist.

waistcoat (wes-kôt) n. (chiefly British) a vest.

waistline (wayst-lin) n. 1. the circumference of the body at the waist. 2. the narrowest part of a garment, fitting at or just above or below the waist.

wait (wayt) v. 1. to postpone an action or departure for a specified time or until some expected event occurs, we waited until evening; wait your turn, wait until it is your turn; we'll wait dinner for you, will postpone it until you are present. 2. to be postponed, this question will have to wait until our next meeting. 3. to wait on people at a meal. wait n. an act or period of waiting, we had a long wait for the train. □ waiting game, deliberate delay in taking action so as to act more effectively later. waiting list, a list of people waiting for a chance to obtain something when it becomes available. waiting room, a room provided for people to wait in, as at a railroad station or a doctor's or dentist's office. wait on, to hand food and drink to (a person or persons) at a meal; to fetch and carry for (a person) as a servant or attendant. □ It is considered incorrect to use wait on in the sense of "to wait for," sorry we have no peas, we're waiting on them.

waiter (way-tér) n. a man employed to serve food and drink to customers at tables in a hotel or restaurant etc. waitress (way-tris) n. fem.

wade (wayv) v. (walled, wald-ing) to refrain from using or insisting upon (one's right or claim or privilege etc.), to forgo or dispense with. □ Do not confuse wade with wave.

wailer (way-ver) n. the waiving of a legal right, a document recording this. □ Do not confuse waver with waver.

wake (wayk) v. (woke or waked, waked or wok-en, wald-ing) 1. = wake up (see below). 2. to disturb with noise, to cause to reecho, the shout woke echoes in the valley. wake n. the watch near a corpse before burial, lamentations and merrymaking in connection with this. □ wake up, to cease to sleep, to cause to cease sleeping; to become alert, to realize, he woke up to the fact that she meant it; to cease or cause to cease from inactivity or inattention etc., he needs something to wake him up.

wake (wayk) n. 1. the track left on water's surface by a ship etc. 2. air currents left behind an aircraft etc. moving through air. □ In the wake of, behind; following after.

wakeful (wayk-fûl) adj. 1. (of a person) unable to sleep. 2. (of a night etc.) with little sleep. wakeful-ness n.

wake-up (wayk-kûp) v. to wake.

wake-up-man (wayk-rob-in) n. a trillium.

wake-ling (wayk-ling) adj. being awake, in his waking hours.

Wal-dorf (wawl-dorf) salad a salad of chopped apples, celery, and nuts mixed with mayonnaise. □ Named for the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

wale (wayl) n. 1. a lengthwise ridge on woven or knitted fabric, especially on corduroy. 2. the weave or texture of a fabric. 3. a welt (definition 2). wale v. (waled, wal-ing) to provide or to mark with wales.

Wales (waylz) the country forming the western part of Great Britain.

walk (wawk) v. 1. to progress by lifting-walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-way (walk-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk·away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.

walk-away (walk-aw-way) n. a passage for walking along (especially one connecting different sections of a building), a wide path in a garden etc.
City, in or near which the chief financial institutions are concentrated.

wall-to-wall (wawl-tó-wawl) adj. 1. (of a carpet) covering the whole floor of a room. 2. (slang) crowded, wall-to-wall people.

walnut (wawl-nut) n. 1. a nut containing an edible kernel with a wrinkled surface. 2. the tree that bears it. 3. the wood of this tree, used (especially as a veneer) in making furniture.

walrus (wawl-rús) n. (pl. -rus-es, -rus) a large amphibious animal of arctic regions, related to the seal and sea lion and having a pair of long tusks. walrus mustache, a long thick mustache that hangs down at the sides.

waltz (wawls) n. 1. a ballroom dance for couples, with a graceful flowing melody in triple time. 2. music for this. waltz v. 1. to dance a waltz. 2. to move (a person) in or as if in a waltz. 3. (informal) to move gaily or casually, came waltzing in. waltzer n.

wampum (wom-püm) n. 1. beads made from shells and strung for money or decoration by North American Indians. 2. (slang) money.

wan (won) adj. (wan-ner, wan-nest) pallid, especially from illness or exhaustion; a wan smile, a faint smile from a person who is ill or tired or unhappy. wan’ly adv. wan’ness n.

wand (wond) n. a slender rod for carrying in the hand, especially one associated with the working of magic.

wander (won-dér) v. 1. to go from place to place without a settled route or destination or special purpose. 2. (of a road or river) to wind, to meander. 3. to leave the right path or direction, to stray from one’s group or from a place. 4. to digress from a subject; his mind is wandering. he is inattentive or speaking disconnectedly through illness or weakness. wander’er n. wandering Jew, a kind of trailing plant. Named for a legendary person said to have been condemned to wander the earth until Christ’s second coming, as a punishment for striking Christ on the day of the Crucifixion.

wan’der-lust (won-dér-lust) n. strong desire to travel.

wane (wawn) v. (waned, wan-ding) 1. (of the moon) to show a gradually decreasing area of brightness after being full. 2. to decrease in vigor or strength or importance, his influence was waning. wane n. the process of waning. on the wane, waning.

wangle (wawl-gel) v. (wawl-gled, wangle) (informal) to obtain or arrange by using trickery or improper influence or persuasion etc. wangler n.

Wankel (vahn-kel, wahn-) engine a rotary internal-combustion engine with a continuously rotated and eccentrically pivoted nearly triangular shaft. Named for its inventor, F. Wankel, German engineer (1902— ).

want (wont) v. 1. to desire, to wish for. 2. to require or need; your hair wants cutting; that wants some doing, is hard to do; you want to be more careful, ought to be more careful. 3. (informal) to desire to come or go or get, the cat wants out. 4. to lack, to have an insufficient supply of. 5. to be without the necessaries of life, waste not, want not; want for nothing, not be needy. 6. (old use) to fall short of, it still wanted two hours till midnight. want n. 1. a desire for something, a requirement, a man of few wants. 2. lack or need of something, deficiency, the plants died from want of water. 3. lack of the necessaries of life, living in great want. want ad, (informal) a newspaper or magazine advertisement by a person or firm seeking something.

wanted (wont-éd) adj. (of a suspected criminal) being sought by the police for questioning or arrest.

wanting (wont-ing) adj. lacking, deficient, not equal to requirements. wanting prep. 1. without, a pot wanting a lid. 2. minus, a year wanting a few days.

wanton (wont-ón) adj. irresponsible, lacking proper restraint or motives. wanton n. an immoral person, especially a woman. wanton’ly adv. wanton’ness n.

warp’-tie (wop-pie-tee) n. (pl. -ties, -tie) the North American elk, resembling a deer but larger.

war (wor) n. 1. strife (especially between countries) involving military or naval or air attacks. 2. open hostility between people. 3. a strong effort to combat crime or disease or poverty etc. war v. (warred, war-ring) to make war, the two nations warred continually; she warred against discrimination, fought vigorously against it. war’less adj. free from war. at war, engaged in a war.

have been in the wars, (humorous) to show signs of injury or rough usage. War Between the States, the American Civil War. war bonnet, an American Indian headdress with long trailing feathers. war chest, (informal) funds for war or for a campaign. war clouds, a state of international affairs that threatens war. war correspondent, a reporter assigned to send reports from the scene of a war. war crime, an action, committed during a war, violating the laws of war or constituting a crime against humanity. war cry, a word or cry shouted in attacking or in rallying one's side; (informal) the slogan of a political or other party. war dance, a dance performed by certain primitive peoples before battle or after a victory. war game, a game in which models representing troops etc. are moved about on maps; a training exercise in which sets of armed forces participate in mock opposition to each other. war horse, a powerful horse used in war; (informal) a veteran soldier or politician. war memorial, a memorial erected to those who died in a war. War of Independence, the American Revolution. war of nerves, an effort to wear down one's opponent by gradually destroying his morale. war paint, paint put on the body by certain primitive peoples before battle; (informal) ceremonial dress, makeup applied to the skin etc. war widow, a woman whose husband has been killed in a war. war zone, a combat area during war in which all, including neutrals, are subject to attack. warble¹ (war-bèl) v. (war-led, warbling) to sing, especially with a gentle trilling note as certain birds do. warble n. a warbling sound.

warble² n. 1. a lump or swelling on a horse's skin caused by excessive rubbing of a saddle. 2. a tumor on cattle, containing warble fly larvae. war'bled adj.

warble fly, an insect whose larvae burrow under the skin of cattle etc.

warbler (war-bler) n. any of several small birds (not necessarily one noted for its song).

ward (word) n. 1. a room with beds for a particular group of patients in a hospital. 2. an administrative division of a city or town, especially for elections. 3. a person, especially a child, under the care of a guardian or the protection of a court. ward v. ward off, to keep at a distance (a person or thing that threatens danger), to fend off. □ ward heeler, (contemptuous) a local worker for a professional politician.

ward suffix used to form adjectives and adverbs meaning to or in the direction of, as in eastward, downward.

war-den (war-dén) n. 1. the chief officer administering a prison. 2. an official responsible for enforcing certain laws or regulations, as an air-raid warden or game warden. 3. a church warden.

wardrobe (word-robb) n. 1. a large cupboard where clothes are stored, usually with pegs or rails etc. from which they hang. 2. a stock of clothes. 3. a theatrical company's stock of costumes.

ward-room (word-room) n. (on a warship) the living quarters used by commissioned officers, especially their dining room.

ware (wair) n. 1. manufactured goods (especially pottery) of the kind specified, Delft ware. 2. wares, articles offered for sale, traders displayed their wares.

ware-house (wair-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-ziz) a building for storing goods or for storing furniture on behalf of its owners. warehouse v. (ware-housed, ware-hous- ing) to store in a warehouse. ware-house-man (wair-hows-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) ware'house'er n.

warfare (wor-fair) n. making war, fighting, a particular form of this, guerrilla warfare.

warhead (wor-hed) n. the explosive head of a missile or torpedo or similar weapon.

war-like (wor-like) adj. 1. fond of making war, aggressive, a warlike people. 2. of or for war, warlike preparations.

war-lock (wor-lök) n. a sorcerer, a male witch.

war-lord (wor-lord) n. a military commander-in-chief, especially one who has seized power over a section of a country.

warm (worm) adj. 1. moderately hot, not cold or cool. 2. (of clothes etc.) keeping the body warm. 3. enthusiastic, hearty, a warm supporter; the speaker got a warm reception, a vigorous response (either favorable or unfavorable). 4. kindly and affectionate, she has a warm heart. 5. (of colors) suggesting warmth, containing reddish shades. 6. (of the scent in hunting) still fairly fresh and strong. 7. (informal) (of the seeker in children's games etc.) near the object sought, on the verge of finding it. warm v. to make or become warm or warmer. warm'ly adv. warm'ness n. warm'er n. □ keep a place warm, to occupy it temporarily so that it can be available for a certain person at a later date. warming pan, a covered metal pan with a long handle, formerly filled with hot coals and used for warming beds. warm to, to become cordial or well-disposed to (a person); to become more animated about (a task). warm up, to make or become warm; to reheat (food etc.); to prepare for athletic exercise by practice beforehand; to make or become more lively.

warm-blood-ed (worm-blud-id) adj. having blood that remains warm (ranging from 36° to 42° C, 96° to 108° F) despite changes in surrounding temperature.

warned-o- ver (wormd-oh-ver) adj. 1. re-war-mong*er warm-
war*
warn warn'
war*hearted
warm-thing
war
war

condition.

direction

expansion, dangerously

the

a

whether hosts

rant

what warrant

for

a warrant

for

for

a

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a warrant

for

for

a
or heal or color something, colors her hair with a wash. 7. a thin coating of color painted over a surface. 8. the erosion of earth by moving water. 9. (in western U.S.) a dry stream bed. 10. liquid food or swill for pigs etc. wash adj. washable, wash pants. □ come out in the wash, (of difficulties) to be eliminated during the progress of work etc.; to become evident. wash dirty linen in public, to discuss one's family scandals or quarrels publicly. wash drawing, a drawing that is made with washes of color, especially black or gray watercolors. wash one's hands of, to refuse to take responsibility for. wash out, to wash (clothes etc.); to make (a game or horse race etc.) impossible by heavy rain; (informal) to cancel; (slang) to fail, he washed out of flight training. wash up, to wash (dishes etc.) after use; to wash oneself; to cast up on the shore; be washed up. (slang) to have failed, to be ruined. Wash. abbr. Washington.

wash·a·ble (wosh-a-bēl) adj. able to be washed without suffering damage. washables n. (informal) items of clothing that are washable. wash·a·bil·i·ty (wosh-a-bil-i-tee) n.

wash-and-wear (wosh-an-wair) adj. easily washed and needing little or no ironing.

wash·ba·sin (wosh-bay-sin) n. a washbowl.

wash·board (wosh-bohrd) n. a corrugated board for use when scrubbing clothes.

wash·bowl (wosh-bohl) n. a bowl or basin (usually fixed to a wall) for washing one's hands in.

wash·cloth (wosh-klawth) n. a small cloth for washing the face or body.

wash·ed·out (wosh-ed-owt) adj. 1. faded by washing. 2. (informal) utterly exhausted.

wash·er (wosh-er) n. 1. a machine for washing things. 2. a ring of rubber or metal etc. placed between two surfaces (as under a nut or at a joint) to give tightness or prevent leakage.

wash·er·woman (wosh-er-wum-ān) n. (pl. -woman, pr. -wim-in) a woman whose occupation is washing clothes etc.

wash·house (wosh-hows) n. an outbuilding where washing is done.

wash·ing (wosh-ing) n. clothes etc. that are being washed or to be washed or have just been washed. □ washing machine, a machine for washing clothes etc.

washing soda, sodium carbonate, used (dissolved in water) for washing and cleaning things. washing up, the process of washing dishes etc. after use, or washing oneself.

wash·ing·ton·ton (wosh-ing-tōn) 1. a state of the U.S. 2. the administrative capital of the U.S., covering the same area as the District of Columbia. □ Washington's Birthday, a legal holiday in February celebrating George Washington's birthday.

wash·ing·ton·ton (wosh-ing-tōn), George (1732–99) the first President of the U.S. 1789–97.

wash·out (wosh-owt) n. (slang) a complete failure.

wash·rag (wosh-rag) n. a washcloth.

wash·room (wosh-room) n. a lavatory.

wash·stand (wosh-stand) n. a piece of furniture to hold a basin and jug of water etc. for washing.

wash·tub (wosh-tub) n. a tub for washing clothes.

wash·y (wosh-ee) adj. (wash·l·er, wash·l·est) 1. (of liquids) thin, watery. 2. (of colors) washed-out. wash·l·ness n.

was·n't (wuz-ēnt) = was not.

wasp (wosp) n. a winged insect with a slender body, a very slender waist, and a formidable sting. wasp'y adj. □ wasp waist, a very slender waist, especially a woman's.

WASP, Wasp (wosp) n. (contemptuous) a white Anglo-Saxon Protestant.

wash·ish (wosh-pish) adj. irritable, sharp in retort. wash·ish·ly adv. wash·ish·ness n.

was·sal (wos-il) n. 1. a festive occasion with much drinking. 2. (old use) a salutation of good health, a toast to a person. 3. a drink consumed on such occasions, as spiced ale etc. wassail v. to make merry, to drink a wassail. was·sal·er n.

Was·ser·man·n (wos·ər·mən) test (also Wasserman) a test for syphilis using a blood sample. □ Named for A. von Wasserman, German pathologist (1866–1925).

wast (wost) (old use) the past tense of be, used with thou.

wast·age (ways-tee) n. loss by waste, use, deterioration etc.

waste (ways) v. (wast·ed, wast·ing) 1. to use extravagantly or needlessly or without an adequate result; he is wasted as a schoolmaster, the job does not use his abilities fully; advice is wasted on him, has no effect when given. 2. to fail to use (an opportunity). 3. to make or become gradually weaker, wasting away for lack of food; a wasting disease. 4. (slang) to kill. waste adj. 1. left over or thrown away because not wanted; waste prod-wastebasket / water

ucts, useless byproducts of manufacture or of a bodily process. 2. (of land) not used or cultivated or built on, unfit for use. waste n. 1. an act of wasting or using something ineffectively, a waste of time. 2. waste material or food, waste products; wastes, excrement. 3. a stretch of waste land. waste' er n. □ waste breath or words, to talk uselessly. waste pipe, a pipe that carries off water etc. that has been used or is not required.

waste' bas' ket (waist-bas-kit) n. an open container in which wastepaper is placed for removal.

waste' ful (waist-fül) adj. using more than is needed, showing waste. waste' ful' ly adv. waste' ful' ness n.

waste' land (waist-länd) n. an expanse of waste land.

waste' pa' per (waist-pay-pär) n. paper regarded as spoiled or valueless and thrown away. □ wastepaper basket, a wastebasket.

wast' rel (ways-trél) n. a wasteful person, especially one who wastes money.

watch (woch) v. 1. to look at, to keep one's eyes fixed on, to keep under observation. 2. to be on the alert, to take heed, watch for an opportunity; watch your chance, wait alertly for the right moment. 3. to be careful about. 4. to safeguard, to exercise protective care, he employed an accountant to watch his interests or watch over them. watch n. 1. the act of watching, especially to see that all is well, constant observation or attention, keep watch. 2. a period (usually four hours) for which a division of a ship's company remains on duty, a turn of duty, the part (usually half) of a ship's company on duty during a watch. 3. a small portable device indicating the time, usually worn on the wrist or carried in the pocket.

watch' er n. □ on the watch, alert for something. watch chain, a metal chain guard for a pocket watch. watch night, a religious service on the last night of the year. watch oneself, to be careful or discreet. watch one's step, to be careful not to stumble or fall or do something wrong. watch out, to be on one's guard. watch pocket, a small pocket for holding a pocket watch, as in a vest or trousers.

watch' band (woch-band) n. the strap or band holding a wristwatch on the wrist.

watch' case (woch-kays) n. the outer metal case enclosing the works of a watch.

watch' dog (woch-dawg) n. 1. a dog kept to guard property etc. 2. a person who acts as guardian of people's rights etc. watch' ful (woch-fül) adj. watching or ob-where animals go to drink water; a spa or seaside resort. waterbed

1. a place where a horse in a steeplechase etc. must jump over water. water level, the surface of water in a reservoir etc., the height of this; = water table (see below).

water lily, a plant that grows in water, with broad floating leaves and white, yellow, blue, or red flowers. water main, a main pipe in a water-supply system.

water mill, a mill worked by a waterwheel. water moccasin, a cottonmouth; a harmless water snake resembling the poisonous cottonmouth. water ouzel, a water bird with thick oily plumage, having a jerking motion when walking or perching. water pipe, a pipe conveying water; a hookah. water pistol, a toy pistol that shoots a jet of water.

water polo, a game played by teams of swimmers with an inflated ball. water rat, a ratlike animal that lives beside a lake or stream; a muskrat; (slang) a person who is excessively fond of swimming.

water ski, either of a pair of flat boards on which a person stands for water-skiing, the sport of skimming over the surface of water while holding a tow line from a motor boat. water snake, a harmless snake living in or near water. water softener, a substance or apparatus for softening hard water. water spaniel, a large spaniel of a variety sometimes used for retrieving waterfowl.

water strider, an insect with hairy feet that enable it to move rapidly about on the surface of the water. water table, the level below which the ground is saturated with water. water tower, a tower that holds a water tank at a height to secure pressure for distributing water.

water wings, floats worn by a person learning to swim.

waterbed (waw-ter-bed) n. a bed having a waterproof mattress filled with water.

waterborne (waw-ter-born) adj. 1. (of goods) conveyed by water. 2. (of disease) communicated or propagated by use of contaminated drinking water.

watercolor (waw-ter-kul-ør) n. 1. artists' paint in which the pigment is diluted with water (not oil). 2. a picture painted with paints of this kind. watercolorist n.

watercourse (waw-ter-kohrs) n. a stream or brook or artificial waterway, its channel.

watercraft (waw-ter-kraft) n. a vessel traveling on water, all such vessels collectively.

watercress (waw-ter-kres) n. a kind of cress that grows in streams or ponds, with strong-tasting leaves, used in salad.

watered (waw-tərd) adj. (of silk fabric) having an irregular wavy marking.

waterfall (waw-ter-fawl) n. a stream that falls from a height.

waterfowl (waw-ter-fowl) n. (pl. fowl) water birds, especially game birds that swim.

waterfront (waw-ter-frunt) n. the part of a town that borders on a river or lake or sea.

watergate (waw-ter-gat) n. a political scandal that involves government officials abusing their powers of office by committing illegal acts, we don't want a new Watergate. ▸ From the name of the building in Washington, D.C., that housed the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee, which was broken into by people connected with the Republican presidential campaign of 1972.

waterless (waw-ter-lis) adj. without water.

waterline (waw-ter-lin) n. the line along which the surface of water touches a ship's side.

waterlogged (waw-ter-lawgd) adj. 1. (of timber or a ship) saturated or filled with water so that it will barely float. 2. (of ground) so saturated with water that it is useless or unable to be worked.

waterloo (waw-ter-loo) n. a decisive defeat. □ meet one's Waterloo, to lose a decisive contest. ▸ From the name of the village in Belgium where Napoleon was defeated in 1815.

watermark (waw-ter-mahrk) n. 1. a mark showing how high a river or tide rises or how low it falls. 2. a manufacturer's design in some kinds of paper, visible when the paper is held against light. watermark v. to impress such a mark on (paper) in making.

watermelon (waw-ter-mel-ən) n. a melon with a smooth green skin, red pulp, and sweet juice.

waterpower (waw-ter-pow-ər) n. the power obtained from flowing or falling water, used to drive machinery or turbines that generate electric current.

waterproof (waw-ter-proof) adj. unable to be penetrated by water. waterproof n. to make waterproof. waterproofing n.

water-repelent (waw-ter-re-pel-ent) adj. not easily penetrated by water.

water-resistant (waw-ter-re-zis-tant) adj. resisting but not completely repelling water.

watershed (waw-ter-shed) n. 1. a line of high land where streams on one side flow into one river or sea and streams on the other side flow into another. 2.
a turning point in the course of events.

3. a region drained by a river or river system.

wa·ter·side (waw-ter-sid) n. the edge of a river or lake or sea.

wa·ter·spout (waw-ter-spowt) n. a funnel-shaped column of water between sea and cloud, formed when a whirlwind draws up a whirling mass of water.

wa·ter·tight (waw-ter-titt) adj. 1. made or fastened so that water cannot get in or out. 2. (of an excuse or alibi) impossible to set aside or disprove, (of an agreement) leaving no possibility of escape from its provisions.

wa·ter·way (waw-ter-way) n. a route for travel by water, a navigable channel.

wa·ter·wheel (waw-ter-hweel) n. a wheel turned by a flow of water, used to work machinery.

wa·ter·works (waw-ter-wurks) n. pl. an establishment with pumping machinery etc. for supplying water to a district.

wa·ter·y (waw-ter-ree) adj. 1. of or like water. 2. made weak or thin by too much water. 3. full of water or moisture, watery eyes. 4. (of colors) pale; a watery moon or sky, looking as if rain will come.

wat·er·grave death by drowning.

WAT·S (wots) n. Wide Area Telephone Service. WATS line, a telephone line permitting unlimited long-distance calls for a monthly charge.

watt (wot) n. a unit of electric power.

watt·age (wot-iij) n. an amount of electric power, expressed in watts.

wat·tie (wot-él) n. 1. a structure of interwoven sticks and twigs used as material for fences, walls, etc. 2. a red fleshy fold of skin hanging from the head or throat of certain birds, as the turkey.

wave (wayv) n. 1. a ridge of water moving along the surface of the sea etc. or arching and breaking on the shore. 2. something compared to this, such as an advancing group of attackers, a temporary increase of an influence or condition (a wave of anger), a spell of hot or cold weather (a heat wave). 3. a wavelike curve or arrangement of curves, as in a line or in hair. 4. an act of waving. 5. the wavelike motion by which heat, light, sound, or electricity etc. is spread or carried, a single curve in the course of this.

wave v. (waved, wav-ing) 1. to move slowly to and fro or up and down. 2. to move (one's arm or hand or something held) to and fro as a signal or greeting. 3. to signal or express in this way, waved him away; waved goodby. 4. to give a wavy course or appearance to. 5. to be wavy. □ wave aside, to dismiss (an objection etc.) as unimportant or irrelevant.

wave band, a range of wavelengths between certain limits. wave down, to signal (a vehicle or its driver) to stop, by waving one's hand. wave front, (in physics) the surface containing points affected in the same way by a wave at a given time. □ Do not confuse wave with waive.

Wave (wayv) n. a woman serving in the U.S. Navy. □ From WAVES, women accepted for volunteer emergency service.

wave·length (waw-length) n. the distance between corresponding points in a sound wave or an electromagnetic wave.

wave·let (waw-lit) n. a small wave.

wa·ver (waw·ver) n. 1. to be or become unsteady, to begin to give way. the line of troops wavered and then broke; his courage wavered. 2. (of light) to flicker. 3. to show hesitation or uncertainty, he wavered between two opinions. □ wa·ver·ing·ly adv. wa·ver·er n. □ Do not confuse waver with waiver.

wav·y (wav·ve) adj. (wav·ly, wav·ly) full of waves or wavelike curves.

wav·y·ness n.

wax1 (waks) n. 1. beeswax. 2. any of various soft sticky substances that melt easily (especially those obtained from petroleum), used for various purposes such as making candles or polishes. 3. a yellow waxlike substance secreted in the ears.

wax v. to coat or polish or treat with wax. wax·er n. □ wax bean, a yellowish string bean with a waxy pod. wax·myrtle, a small tree with berries that have a coating of wax, used in candle making; a bayberry (definition 1). wax·paper, paper waterproofed with a layer of wax.

wax2 v. 1. (of the moon) to show a bright area that is becoming gradually larger until it becomes full. 2. to increase in vigor or strength or importance, kingdoms waxed and waned. 3. (old use) to become, they waxed fat.

wax·en (wak-sén) adj. made of wax, like wax in its paleness or smoothness.

wax·wing (waks-wing) n. any of several small birds with small red tips (like sealing wax) on some of its wing feathers.

wax·work (waks-wurk) n. 1. an object modeled in wax, especially a model of a person with the face etc. made in wax, clothed to look lifelike and to be exhibited. 2. waxworks, a museum of wax figures.

wax·y (wak-see) adj. (wax·ly, wax·ly) like wax. wax·ly·ness n.

way (way) n. 1. a line of communication between places, such as a path or road.
2. the best route, the route taken or intended, asked the way to Boston. 3. a method or style, a person's chosen or desired course of action, do it my way; have one's way, cause people to do as one wishes. 4. traveling distance, it's a long way to Tokyo. 5. the amount of difference between two states or conditions, his work is a long way from being perfect. 6. space free of obstacles so that people can pass; make way, allow room for others to proceed. 7. the route over which a person or thing is moving or would naturally move, don't get in the way of the trucks. 8. a specified direction, which way is she looking? 9. a manner, she spoke in a kindly way. 10. a habitual manner or course of action or events, you'll soon get used to our ways. 11. a talent or skill, she has a way with flowers. 12. advance in some direction, progress, we made our way to the front; he started as office boy and worked his way up. 13. a respect, a particular aspect of something, it's a good plan in some ways. 14. a condition or state, things are in a bad way. way adv. (informal) far, the shot was way off the target. □ by the way, by the roadside during a journey; incidentally, as a more or less irrelevant comment. by way of, as a substitute for or a form of, smiled by way of greeting. come one's way, to fall to one's lot; to become available. give way, see give. in a way, to a limited extent; in some respects. In no way, not at all. In the way, forming an obstacle or hindrance. look the other way, to ignore a person or thing deliberately. make way, see make. on one's way, in the process of traveling or approaching. on the way, on one's way; (of a baby) conceived but not yet born. out of the way, see out. under way, see under. way back, (informal) a long way back. ways and means, methods of achieving something, especially means of providing money for government. way station, a minor station on a railroad.

way bill (way-bill) n. a list of the goods carried by a freight transport vehicle. way-far-er (way-fair-er) n. a traveler, especially on foot. way-far-ing adj. & n.

way-lay (way-lay) v. (way-laid, way-lay-ing) to lie in wait for, especially so as to talk to or rob. way-lay'er n.

way-out (way-owt) adj. (informal) unusual in style, exotic.

-ways suffix used to form adverbs meaning direction or manner, as in lengthways, sideways.

way-side (way-sid) n. the side of a road or path, land bordering this.

way-ward (way-wərd) adj. childishly self-willed, not obedient or easily controlled. way’ward-ness n.

way-worn (way-wohrn) adj. tired with travel.

W.B.C. abbr. white blood cells.

W.C. abbr. water closet.

we (wee) pronoun 1. used by a person referring to himself and another or others, or speaking on behalf of a nation or group or firm etc. 2. used instead of "I" by a royal person in formal proclamations and by the writer of an editorial article in a newspaper etc. 3. (humorous, identifying oneself with the person addressed) you, and how are we today?

weak (week) adj. 1. lacking strength or power or number, easily broken or bent or defeated, a weak barrier; a weak team. 2. lacking vigor, not acting strongly, weak eyes; a weak stomach, easily upset. 3. not convincing or forceful, the evidence is weak. 4. dilute, having little of a certain substance in proportion to the amount of water, weak tea; a weak solution of salt and water. 5. (of verbs) forming the past tense etc. by adding a suffix (as in walk/walked, waste/wasted) not by changing the vowel (see strong, definition 6). □ weak sister, (slang) an ineffective person.

weak-en (wee-kən) v. to make or become weaker. weak’en-er n.

weak-fish (week-fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish·es) an ocean fish found along the East coast of the U.S., used for food.

weak-kneed (week-need) adj. giving way weakly, especially when intimidated.

weak-ling (week-ling) n. a feeble person or animal.

weak-ly (week-lee) adv. in a weak manner. weakly adj. (-ll·er, -ll·est) sickly, not robust.

weak-mind·ed (week-min-did) adj. lacking determination.

weak-ness (week-nis) n. 1. the state of being weak. 2. a weak point, a defect or fault. 3. inability to resist something, a particular fondness, she has a weakness for coffee creams.

wea,l (weel) n. a welt (definition 2).

wea,2 n. (old use) prosperity, well-being.

wealth (wel-thē) adj. (wealth·l·er, wealth·l·est) having wealth, rich.

wealth·l·ness n.

wean (ween) v. 1. to accustom (a baby) to take food other than milk. 2. to cause wean*ling (ween-ling) n. a newly weaned child or animal.

weap*on (wep-ôn) n. 1. a thing designed or used as a means of inflicting bodily harm, such as a gun or bomb or stick, or a horn or claw. 2. an action or procedure used as a means of getting the better of someone in a conflict, use the weapon of a general strike. weap*on-less adj.

weap*on-ry (wep-ôn-ry) n. weapons collectively.

wear (wair) v. (wore, worn, wear*ling) 1. to have on the body, as clothing or ornaments or makeup; she wears her hair long, keeps it that way. 2. to have (a certain look) on one's face, wearing a frown. 3. to injure the surface of or become injured by rubbing or stress or use, to make (a hole etc.) in this way. 4. to exhaust or overcome by persistence, wore down the opposition. 5. to endure continued use, this fabric wears well. 6. (of time) to pass gradually, the night wore on.

wear n. 1. wearing or being worn as clothing, choose cotton for summer wear. 2. clothing, men's wear is on the ground floor. 3. damage resulting from ordinary use. 4. capacity to endure being used, there's a lot of wear left in that coat.

wear'er n. □wear and tear, damage sustained as a result of ordinary use.

wear down, to impair by wearing for a long period of time; to overcome by constant pressure, wore down his opponent. wear off, to disappear slowly or gradually. wear one's heart on one's sleeve, see heart. wear out, to use or be used until no longer usable. wear the pants in one's family, (slang) (of a wife) to dominate her husband.

wear-a'ble (wair-a-bêl) adj. able to be worn.

wea*ri*some (weer-i-sôm) adj. causing weariness. wea'ri-some-'ness n.

wea*ry (weer-ce) adj. (-ri-er, -ri-est) 1. very tired, especially from exertion or endurance. 2. tired of something, weary of war. 3. tiring, tedious. weary v. (wea*ried, wea*ry-ing) to make or become weary. wea'ri-ly adv. wea'ri-*ness n.

wea*sel (wee-zêl) n. a small fierce animal with a long slender body and brown fur, living on small animals, birds' eggs, etc.

weasel v. to quibble. wea'sel-ly adj.

weasel out, to get out of (an obligation etc.). weasel words, words used to remove any real force from the expression containing them.

weath*er (weth*ér) n. the condition of the atmosphere at a certain place and time, with reference to the presence or absence of sunshine, rain, wind, etc. weather adj. windward, on the weather side. weather v. 1. to dry or season by exposure to the action of the weather. 2. to become dry or discolored or worn etc. in this way. 3. to sail to windward of, the ship weathered the Cape. 4. to come safely through, weathered the storm.

□keep a weather eye open or out, to be watchful. under the weather, feeling unwell or depressed. weather vane, a revolving pointer mounted in a high place and turning easily in the wind to show the wind's direction.

weath*er-beat*en (weth-ér-bee-ten) adj. bronzed or damaged or worn by exposure to weather.

weath*er-board (weth-ér-bohrd) n. clapboard. weath*er-board-ling n.

weath*er-bound (weth-ér-bound) adj. unable to proceed owing to bad weather.

weath*er-cock (weth-ér-kok) n. 1. a weather vane in the shape of a cock. 2. a changeable person.

weath*er-glass (weth-ér-glas) n. a barometer.

weath*er-ing (weth-ér-îng) n. the action or effect of weather conditions on exposed wood, rock, etc.

weath*er-man (weth-ér-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a meteorologist, especially one who broadcasts a weather forecast.

weath*er-proof (weth-ér-proof) adj. unable to be penetrated or damaged by rain, wind, cold, etc. weatherproof v. to make weatherproof.

weath*er-strip*ping (weth-ér-strip-ing) n. strips of material used to make doors or windows weatherproof. weath*er-strip v. (weath*er-stripped, weath*er-strip*ping) to apply such material to.

weath*er-worn (weth-ér-wohrn) adj. damaged by storms etc.

weave (wev) v. (wove, wo*ven, weav*lng) 1. to make (fabric etc.) by passing crosswise threads or strips under and over lengthwise ones. 2. to form (thread etc.) into fabric in this way. 3. (of a spider etc.) to spin or form (a cobweb). 4. to put together into a connected whole, to compose (a story etc.). 5. to move from side to side in an intricate course, weaving his way through the crowd. weave n. a style or pattern of weaving, a loose weave. weav'er n.

weav*er*bird (wee-vêr-burd) n. a tropical bird that builds a nest of elaborately interwoven twigs etc.

web (web) n. 1. the network of fine strands made by a spider etc. 2. a network, a webbing / weigh webbing (web-bing) n. strong bands of woven fabric used in upholstery, belts, etc.

web-foot(ed) (web-fut-id) adj. having the toes joined by web.

web (wed) v. (wed-ded or wed, wed-ding) 1. to marry. 2. to unite, if we can wed efficiency to economy. □ wedded to, devoted to and unable to abandon (an occupation or opinion etc.).

Wed. abbr. Wednesday.

we'd (weed) = we had, we should.

wedding (wed-ing) n. 1. a marriage ceremony and festivities. 2. the anniversary of a wedding, our silver wedding. 3. a uniting or blending together. □ wedding cake, a rich iced cake cut and eaten at a wedding. wedding day, the day or anniversary of a wedding. wedding ring, a ring placed on the bride's finger and usually worn permanently afterward; one worn similarly by a married man.

wedge (wej) n. 1. a piece of wood or metal etc. thick at one end and tapered to a thin edge at the other, thrust between things to force them apart or prevent free movement etc. 2. a wedge-shaped thing, a wedge of cake. 3. (informal) a hero sandwich. wedge v. (wedge(d, wed-ding) 1. to force apart or fix firmly by using a wedge. 2. to thrust or pack tightly between other things or people or in a limited space, to be immovable because of this.

Wedgwood (wej-wuud) n. (trademark) 1. a trademark for fine pottery and china made by Josiah Wedgwood (1730–1795) and his successors. 2. the blue color characteristic of this pottery and china.

wedlock (wed-lock) n. the married state; born out of wedlock, illegitimate.

Wednes-day (wenz-day) n. the day of the week following Tuesday.

wee (wee) adj. (we-er, we-est) 1. (Scottish) little, wee Georgie. 2. (informal) tiny, it's a wee bit too long. □ wee hours, the hours soon after midnight.

weed (weed) n. a wild plant growing where it is not wanted. weed v. to remove weeds from, to uproot weeds. weed'er n. □ weed out, to remove as inferior or undesirable.

weed-kill'er (weed-kil-er) n. a substance used to destroy weeds.

weeds (weeds) n. pl. deep mourning formerly worn by widows.

weed'y (wee-dee) adj. (weed-l-er, weed-l-est) 1. full of weeds. 2. thin and weak looking. weed'ly adv. weed'ly-ness n.

week (week) n. 1. a period of seven successive days, especially one reckoned from midnight at the end of Saturday. 2. the six days other than Sunday, the days other than Saturday and Sunday, never go there during the week. 3. the period for which one regularly works during the week, a forty-hour week.

week-day (week-day) n. a day other than Sunday, or other than Saturday and Sunday.

week-end (week-end) n. the period of time between Friday night and Monday morning. weekend v. to spend a weekend.

week-end'er (week-en-d'er) n. 1. a person spending a weekend holiday. 2. a small suitcase suitable for a weekend.

weekly (week-ly) adj. happening or published or payable etc. once a week. weekly adv. once a week. weekly n. (pl. -lies) a weekly newspaper or magazine.

ween (ween) v. (old use) to be of an opinion.

weep'ny (weep-nee) adj. (informal) tiny.

weep (weep) v. (wept, weep-ing) 1. to shed tears. 2. to shed or ooze moisture in drops. weep n. a spell of weeping.

weep'er n.

weep-ing (weep-ing) adj. (of a tree) having drooping branches, weeping willow.

weep'y (weep-y) adj. (weep-l'er, weep-l'est) (informal) inclined to weep, tearful.

weep-ville (weep-ville) n. a kind of small beetle that feeds on farm crops. weep-ville'y adj.

weep-see (weep-see) v. (weep-see, weep-see-ing) (children's use) to urinate. weep-see n. (children's use) urine, urination.

weft (weft) n. (also woof) crosswise threads woven under and over the warp to make fabric.

weigh (way) v. 1. to measure the weight of, especially by means of scales or a similar instrument. 2. to have a certain weight. 3. to consider carefully the relative importance or value of, weigh the pros and cons. 4. to have importance or influence, this evidence weighed with the jury. 5. to be burdensome, the responsibility weighed heavily upon him. weigh'er n. □ under weight, (incorrect use) see under. weigh anchor, to raise the anchor and start a voyage. weigh down, to bring or keep down by its weight; to depress or make troubled, weighed down with cares. weigh in, to be weighed, (of a boxer) before a contest, (of a jockey) after a race. weight in with, (informal) to contribute (a comment) to a discussion. weight one's words, to select carefully those that convey exactly what one means.

weight (wayt) n. 1. an object's mass numerically expressed according to a recognized scale of units. 2. the property of heaviness. 3. a unit or system of units by which weight is measured, tables of weights and measures; troy weight. 4. a piece of metal of known weight used in scales for weighing things. 5. a heavy object, especially one used to bring or keep something down, the clock is worked by weights. 6. a load to be supported, the pillars carry a great weight. 7. a heavy burden of responsibility or worry. 8. importance, influence, a convincing effect, the weight of the evidence is against you.

weight v. 1. to attach a weight to, to hold down with a weight or weights. 2. to burden with a load. 3. to bias or arrange the balance of, the test was weighted in favor of candidates with scientific knowledge.

carry weight, see carry. throw one's weight around, (informal) to use one's influence aggressively. weight lifter, a person who engages in weight lifting, the athletic sport of lifting heavy weights.

weight-less (wayt-lis) adj. having no weight, or with no weight relative to its surroundings (as in a spacecraft that is outside the action of gravity). weight' less-ly adv. weight'less-ness n.

weight-y (way-tee) adj. (weight'-er, weight'-est) 1. having great weight, heavy. 2. burdensome. 3. showing or deserving earnest thought. 4. important, influential. weight'ly adv. weight'ly-ness n.

Wel-mar-an-er (wi-mah-rahn-er) n. a hunting dog with pale eyes and a smooth short usually gray coat.

wel (weer) n. 1. a small dam built across a river or canal so that water flows over it, serving to regulate the flow or to raise the level of water upstream. 2. a fence, as of brushwood or stakes with nets, built in a stream or channel to catch fish.

weird (weerd) adj. strange and uncanny or bizarre. weird'ly adv. weird'ness n.

weird-le (weer-dee), weird-o (weer-doh) n. (slang) an eccentric person.

Welch (welch) adj. & n. = Welsh.

wel-come (wel-köm) adj. 1. received with pleasure, a welcome guest or gift; make a person welcome, cause him to feel welcome. 2. ungrudgingly permitted, anyone is welcome to try it; you're welcome, a polite phrase replying to thanks for something. welcome interj. a greeting expressing pleasure at a person's coming. welcome v. (wel-comed, wel-com'ing) 1. to greet with pleasure or ceremony. 2. to be glad to receive, we welcome this opportunity. welcome n. a greeting or reception, especially a glad and kindly one.

weld (weld) v. 1. to unite or fuse (pieces of metal) by hammering or pressure, usually after softening by heat. 2. to make by welding. 3. to be able to be welded. 4. to unite into a whole. weld n. a joint or union made by welding. weld'er n.

wel-fare (wel-fair) n. 1. well-being. 2. welfare work. 3. government financial assistance to needy persons. on welfare, (informal) receiving financial assistance from the government because of need.

welfare state, a country seeking to ensure the welfare of all its citizens by providing extensive social services. welfare work, organized efforts to secure the welfare of the poor or disabled etc.

wel-kn (wel-kin) n. (poetical) the sky, let the welkin ring.

well (wel) n. 1. a shaft dug in the ground to obtain water or oil etc. from below the earth's surface. 2. a spring serving as a source of water. 3. an enclosed space resembling the shaft of a well, a deep enclosed space containing a staircase or elevator in a building. 4. a source, especially of emotions, information, etc. well v. to rise or spring, tears welled up in her eyes.

well (wel) adv. (better, best) 1. in a good manner or style, satisfactorily, rightly. 2. thoroughly, carefully, polish it well. 3. by a considerable margin, she is well over forty. 4. favorably, kindly, they think well of him. 5. with good reason, easily, probably, you may well ask; it may well be our last chance. well adj. 1. in good health. (See the note under good.) 2. in satisfactory state or position, all's well. well interj. expressing surprise or relief or resignation etc., or used to introduce a remark when one is hesitating. as well, as well as, see as, be well away, to have started and made considerable progress. let well enough alone, to leave things as they are and not meddle unnecessarily.

we'll *(weel) = we shall, we will.

well-ad-vised (wel-ad-vizd) adj. showing good sense.

well-ap-pointed (wel-ap-poin-tid) adj. having the necessary equipment or furniture for efficiency and comfort, a well-appointed kitchen.

well-attended (wel-at-tend-ed) adj. having many people in attendance.

well-balanced (wel-bal-änst) adj. 1. sane, sensible. 2. equally matched.

well-behaved (wel-bi-hayvr) adj. having good manners or conduct.

well-being (wel-bee-ing) n. good health, happiness, and prosperity.

well-born (wel-born) adj. born of a good family.

well-bred (wel-brèd) adj. 1. showing good breeding, well-mannered. 2. (of a horse etc.) of good breed or stock.

well-built (wel-bilt) adj. 1. built correctly. 2. (informal) sturdy, shapely.

well-connected (wel-kö-nek-tid) adj. related to good families.

well-defined (wel-di-fínd) adj. thoroughly defined, accurately outlined, clearly determined or indicated.

well-developed (wel-di-vel-ópt) adj. (informal) sturdy, shapely.

well-disposed (wel-di-spohzd) adj. having kindly or favorable feelings (toward a person or plan etc.).

well-done (wel-dun) adj. 1. done efficiently and with skill. 2. (of meat) cooked thoroughly.

well-dressed (wel-drest) adj. dressed attractively and appropriately.

well-earned (wel-urnd) adj. fully deserved.

well-favored (wel-fay-vórd) adj. good-looking.

well-fed (wel-fed) adj. plump.

well-fixed (wel-fíkt) adj. (informal) wealthy.

well-founded (wel-fown-did) adj. (of a suspicion or other belief or sentiment) having foundation in fact or reason.

well-groomed (wel-groåmd) adj. carefully tended, neat and clean in one's personal appearance.

well-grounded (wel-grown-did) adj. 1. thoroughly trained in the rudiments. 2. well-founded.

well-headed (wel-hed) n. 1. a source, especially of a spring. 2. a shelter built over a well.

well-heeled (wel-heeld) adj. (informal) wealthy.

well-informed (wel-in-formd) adj. having good knowledge or information.

well-liked adj.

well-loved adj.

well-ling-ton (wel-ing-tôn) n. a tall leather boot with the front covering the knee.

well-ling-ton (wel-ing-tôn) the capital of New Zealand.

well-ling-toned (wel-in-ten-shönd) adj. having or showing good intentions.

well-judged (wel-jujed) adj. (of an action) showing good judgment or tact or aim.

well-kept (wel-kept) adj. (of a person) well-groomed, (of a room etc.) tidy; a well-kept secret, one not divulged.

well-nigh (wel-nh) adj. having a compact body, not ungainly.

well-known (wel-nohn) adj. 1. fully known. 2. familiar. 3. widely known.

well-made (wel-mayd) adj. made with care and skill.

well-manered (wel-man-ør'd) adj. having or showing good manners.

well-meaning (wel-mee-ning) adj. (also well-meant, pr. wel-ment) acting or done with good intentions but not having a good effect.

well-nigh (wel-nh) adv. almost.

well-off (wel-awf) adj. 1. in a satisfactory or good situation. 2. fairly rich.

well-olled (wel-ółld) adj. (slang) drunk.

well-ordered (wel-or-đerd) adj. arranged in an orderly manner.

well-prepared (wel-prä-zurvd) adj. showing little sign of age.

well-read (wel-red) adj. having read much literature.

well-reasoned (wel-ree-zónd) adj. based on fact and clear reasoning.

well-rounded (wel-rownd-did) adj. 1. varied and complete. 2. (of a person) having developed many abilities. 3. complete and symmetrical. 4. complete and well-expressed, as a sentence.

well-sea (wel-sea-zönd) adj. 1. thoroughly flavored with condiments etc. 2. sufficiently aged. 3. highly experienced.

well-spoken (wel-spoh-kén) adj. speaking in a polite and correct way.

well-stocked (wel-stokt) adj.

well-trained (wel-tråmd) adj. opportune, timely.

well-traveled (wel-tråvd-lid) adj. widely traveled. well-turned / wet

well-turned (wel-turnd) adj. 1. neatly expressed, as a compliment, phrase, or verse. 2. shaped well.

well-used (wel-yoozd) adj. much used.

well-wish-er (wel-wish-er) n. a person who wishes another well.

well-worn (wel-worn) adj. 1. much worn by use. 2. (of a phrase) much used, hackneyed.

welsh (welsh) v. 1. to fail to pay one's gambling debts, they welshed on us. 2. to break an agreement, they welshed on the agreement. welsh'er n.

Welsh (welsh) adj. of Wales or its people or language. Welsh n. 1. the Welsh language. 2. the Welsh, Welsh people. Welsh·man (welsh-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mên) Welsh·woman (welsh-wuwm-än) n. fem. (pl. -wom·en, pr. -wim-in) □ Welsh corgi, see corgi. Welsh rabbit or rarebit, see rabbit.

welt (wel) n. 1. a strip of leather etc. sewn around the edge of the upper of a boot or shoe for attaching it to the sole. 2. a ridge raised on the flesh by a heavy blow, especially by the stroke of a whip or stick. 3. a ribbed or strengthened border of a knitted garment, as at the waist.

wel·ter (wel-tër) v. 1. to roll, to wallow; weltering in their own blood, prostrate and soaked in it. 2. (of a ship etc.) to be tossed to and fro on the waves. welter n. a state of turmoil, a disorderly mixture.

wel·ter·weight (wel-tër-wayt) n. a boxer between lightweight and middleweight weighing up to 147 pounds.

wen (wen) n. a more or less permanent benign tumor on the skin, especially on the head.

wench (wench) n. (old use) a girl or young woman.

wend (wend) v. wend one's way, to go.

went (went) see go.¹

wept (wept) see weep.

were (wur) see be.

were·n't (wur·ent) = were not.

were·wolf (were-wulf, wur-, wair-) n.

west (west) n. 1. the point on the horizon where the sun sets, the direction in which the point lies. 2. the western part of something. 3. the West, Europe and America in contrast to Oriental countries; the noncommunist countries of Europe and America; the part of the U.S. lying west of the originally settled areas or of the Mississippi. west adj. & adv. toward or in the west; a west wind, blowing from the west. □ West Berlin, the western division of the city of Berlin, the portion of Berlin incorporated into West Germany. West Germany, the republic created in 1949 from the U.S., British, and French occupied zones in Germany.

West Indian, of or from the West Indies, islands off the coast of Central America; a person of West Indian birth or descent. West Point, the U.S. Military Academy. West Virginia, a state of the U.S.

west·bound (west-bownd) adj. traveling westward.

west·er·ling (west-të-ring) adj. (of the sun) moving toward the west.

west·er·ly (west-tër-lee) adj. in or toward the west; a westerly wind, blowing from the west (approximately). westerly n. (pl. -lies) a westerly wind.

west·ern (west-tërn) adj. (also Western) of or in the west. western n. (often Western) a film or story dealing with life in the western U.S. during the wars with the Indians, or with cowboys etc. West·ern·er n. □ Western Hemisphere, the western part of the globe including North and South America with surrounding islands and waters. western omlet, an omlet filled with diced green peppers, ham, and onions. Western saddle, a heavy saddle with a high pommel and a pommel horn, the kind used by cowboys. Western Samoa, an independent state consisting of the western part of Samoa. western sandwich, a sandwich with a western omlet filling.

west·ern·ize (west-tër-niz) v. (west·ern·ized, west·ern·iz·ing) to make (an Oriental person or country) more like the West in ideas and institutions etc. west·ern·i·za·tion (west-tër-ni-zay-shon) n.

west·ern·most (west-tërn-mohst) adj. farthest west.

west·ward (west-wârd) adj. toward the west, in the west. westward, west·wards (west-wârdz) adv. toward the west.

wet (wet) adj. (wet·ter, wet·test) 1. soaked or covered or moistened with water or other liquid. 2. rainy, wet weather. 3. (of paint or ink etc.) recently applied and not yet dry. 4. allowing the sale of alcohol. wet v. (wet·ted, wet·ting) 1. to make or become wet. 2. to urinate. wet n. 1. moisture, liquid that wets something. 2. wet weather. 3. a person who favors the sale of alcohol. wet·ly adv. wet·ness n. wet·ter n. □ all wet, (slang) wrong, in error. wet behind the ears, immature, inexperienced, wet blanket, a gloomy person who prevents others from enjoying themselves. wet cell, a cell with a liquid electrolyte. wet nurse, a woman employed to suckle another's child. wet one's whistle, (informal) to take a drink. wet suit, a rubber garment worn by a skin diver for warmth in cold water. wetting agent, a mixture added to a liquid to increase its ability to spread over a surface.

wet·back (wet-bak) n. (slang) an illegal immigrant from Mexico to the U.S.

weth·er (weth-er) n. a castrated ram.

wet·lands (wet-längdz) n. swamps and other damp areas of land.

wet·nurse (wet-nurs) v. 1. to suckle another's child, to act as a wet nurse. 2. (informal) to look after or coddle as if helpless.

we've (wev) = we have.

whack (hwak) n. 1. a heavy resounding blow or the sound of such a blow. 2. (informal) an attempt, have a whack at it. 3. (slang) a share, a whack of it. whack v. to strike or beat vigorously; whack out a solution to the problem, produce one by vigorous thought. whack'er n. □out of whack, (slang) not in good condition.

whale (hwayl) n. (pl. whales, whale) any of several very large sea animals some of which are hunted for their oil and flesh. whale v. (whaled, whal·ing) (informal) to beat or thrash. □a whale of a, (informal) an exceedingly great or good, had a whale of a time.

whale·boat (hwayl-boht) n. a long narrow boat of a type formerly used in whaling, with a bow at each end for ease in maneuvering.

whale·bone (hwayl-bohn) n. a horny springy substance from the upper jaw of some kinds of whales, formerly used as stiffening.

whal·er (hwayl-er) n. a person or ship engaged in whaling.

whal·ing (hway-líng) n. fishing for whales.

wham (hwam) interj. & n. the sound of a forcible impact. wham v. (whammed, wham·ming) to hit with such a sound.

wham·my (hwam-ee) n. (pl. -mies) (slang) a supernatural power, especially one bringing bad luck, a jinx, she put a double whammy on him.

whang (hwang) v. to strike heavily and loudly. whang n. a whanging sound or blow.

wharf (hworf) n. (pl. wharves, pr. hvoorvz, wharfs) a landing place where ships may moor for loading and unloading.

wharf·age (hvoor-fi) n. 1. the use of a wharf. 2. the charge for this.

wharf·in·ger (hvoor-fin'-er) n. the owner or supervisor of a wharf.

what (hwut) adj. 1. asking for a statement of amount or number or kind, what stores have we got? 2. which, what languages does he speak? 3. how great or strange or remarkable, what a fool you are! 4. the or any that, lend me what money you can spare. what pronoun 1. what thing or things, what did you say?; this is what I mean. 2. a request for something to be repeated because one has not heard or understood. what adv. to what extent or degree, what does it matter? what interj. an exclamation of surprise.

□what about, what is the news about (a subject); what do you think of, how would you deal with; shall we do or have, what about some tea? what·d'you·call it, what's-his (or her or its)-name, substitutes for a name that one cannot remember. what·for?, for what reason or purpose?; give a person what for, (slang) to punish or scold him. what have you, other similar things. what is more, as an additional point, moreover. what·not, other similar things. what·s what, what things are useful or important etc., she knows what's what.

what·with, on account of (various causes), what with overwork and undernourishment he fell ill.

what·ev·er (hwut-ev-er) adj. 1. of any kind or number, take whatever books you need. 2. of any kind at all, there is no doubt whatever. whatever pronoun anything or everything that, no matter what, do whatever you like; keep calm, whatever happens. □or whatever, or anything similar.

what'll (hwut-él) = what shall, what will.

what·not (hwut-not) n. 1. something trivial or indefinite. 2. a stand with shelves for small objects.

what's (hwuts) = what is, what has, what does.

what·so·ev·er (hwut-soh-ev-er) adj. & pronoun = whatever.

wheat (weel) n. 1. a raised itching spot on the skin, as from an insect bite. 2. = weal.

wheat (weezet) n. grain from which flour is made, the plant that produces this.

□wheat germ, the nucleus of the seed of wheat, used as a source of vitamins.

wheat·en (wee-tén) adj. made from wheat flour.

whee·die (wee-dei) v. (whee·died, whee·dilng) to coax, to persuade or obtain by coaxing. whee·dler n.

wheel (weel) n. 1. a disk or circular frame arranged to revolve on a shaft that passes through its center. 2. something resembling this. 3. a machine etc. of which a wheel is an essential part. 4. motion like that of a wheel, or of a line of men that pivots on one end. 5. wheels, (slang) a car. wheel v. 1. to push or pull (a bicycle or cart etc. with wheels) along. 2. to turn or cause to turn like a wheel, to change direction and face another way; he wheeled around in astonishment. 3. to move in circles or curves. wheeled adj. wheel-less adj. [at the wheel, driving a vehicle or directing a ship's course; in control of affairs. wheeling and dealing, (slang) scheming so as to exert influence. wheels within wheels, secret or indirect motives and influences interacting with one another.

wheel-bar-row (wheel-bar-oh) n. an open container for moving small loads, with a wheel or ball beneath one end, and two straight handles (by which it is pushed) and legs at the other.

wheel-base (wheel-bays) n. the distance between the front and rear axles of a vehicle.

wheel-chair (wheel-chair) n. an invalid's chair on wheels.

wheel-er (wheel-lér) n. 1. a person or thing that wheels. 2. a wheelwright.

wheel-er-deal-er (wheel-lér-dee-lér) n. (slang) a person who seeks profit or power by scheming to exert influence.

wheel-horse (wheel-hors) n. 1. a horse harnessed next to the wheels and behind another. 2. a steady worker.

wheel-wright (wheel-rít) n. (old use) a person who makes and repairs wheels.

wheeze (wheeze) v. (wheezed, wheezing) to breathe with an audible hoarse whistling sound. wheezed n. 1. the sound of wheezing. 2. (slang) an old overused saying or joke. wheez'y adj. (wheez·l·er, wheez·l·est).

whelk (whelk) n. any of several spiral-shelled sea mollusks, especially one used as food in Europe.

whelm (whelm) v. (literary) to engulf, to submerge, to overwhelm.

whelp (whelp) n. a young dog, a pup.

whel v. to give birth to (a whelp or whelps).

when (hwen) adv. 1. at what time? on what occasion? 2. at which time, there are times when joking is out of place. when conj. 1. at the time that, on the occasion that, whenever, as soon as. 2. although, considering that, since, why risk it when you know it's dangerous? when pronoun what or which time, from when does the agreement date? when n. the time, told me the when and the how of it.

whence (hwens) adv. & conj. from where, from what place or source, from which. >It is incorrect to write from whence. Omit from. I know not whence he came.

when-ev-er (hwen-ev-ér) adv. & conj. at whatever time, on whatever occasion, every time that.

where (hwair) adv. & conj. 1. at or in what or which place or position or circumstances. 2. in what respect, from what place or source or origin. 3. to what place. 4. in or at or to the place in which, leave it where it is. where pronoun what place, where does she come from? where n. a place, the scene of something, have they fixed the where and when? >It is incorrect to use where to mean when or that. Do not write Lincoln's birthday is a day where there is no school or I can tell by her expression where she is unhappy. Write when there is no school and that she is unhappy.

where-a-bouts (hwair-á-bows) adv. in or near what place. whereabouts n. a person's or thing's approximate location, his whereabouts are or is uncertain.

where-as (hwair-az) conj. 1. since it is the fact that. 2. but in contrast, he is English, whereas his wife is French.

where-by (hwair-br) conj. by which.

where-fore (hwair-för) adv. & conj. (old use) for what reason, for this reason.

wherefore n. the reason.

where-in (hwair-in) adv. & conj. in what, in which.

where-of (hwair-uv) adv. & conj. of which, of what.

where-on (hwair-on) adv. & conj. on which, on what.

where-to (hwair-too) adv. & conj. to what, to which.

where-up-on (hwair-û-pon) adv. & conj. after which, and then.

where-ev-er (hwair-ev-ér) adv. & conj. in or to whatever place, in every place that.

where-with-al (hwair-with-awl) n. (informal) the things (especially money) needed for a purpose.

whet (hwet) v. (whet·ted, whet·ting) 1. to sharpen by rubbing against a stone etc. 2. to stimulate, whet one's appetite or interest. whet·ter n.

wheth·er (hweth-ér) conj. introducing an alternative possibility, we don't know whether she will come or not.

whet·stone (hwet-stohn) n. a shaped stone used for sharpening tools.

whew (hwyo) interj. an exclamation of astonishment or dismay or relief.

whhey (hway) n. watery liquid left when milk forms curds, as in cheese making.

whf. abbr. wharf.

which (hwich) adj. & pronoun 1. what particular one or ones of a set of things or people, which Bob do you mean? 2. and that, we invited him to come, which he did very willingly. which relative pronoun, the thing or animal referred to, the house, which is large, is left to his son. >Used especially of an incidental description rather than one that defines or identifies something. (See the note under that.)

which-ev-er (hwich-ev-ér) adj. & pronoun any which, that or those which, take whichever or whichever one you like.

whiff (hwif) n. a puff of air or smoke or odor. whiff v. 1. to blow or puff lightly. 2. to smell.

whiff-fle-tree (hwif-fél-tree) n. a crossbar, pivoted in the middle, to the ends of which traces are attached for pulling a horse-drawn carriage, cart, etc.

Whig (hwig) n. 1. a supporter of the American Revolution. 2. a member of the political party (1834–56) succeeded by the Republicans, in opposition to the Democratic Party.

while (hwil) n. a period of time, the time spent in doing something, a long while ago; we've waited all this while; worth one's while, see worth. while conj. 1. during the time that, as long as, make hay while the sun shines. 2. although, while I admit that he is sincere, I think he is mistaken. 3. on the other hand, she is dark, while her sister is fair. while v. (whiled, whil-ing) while away, to pass (time) in a leisurely or interesting manner.

whim (hwim) n. a sudden fancy, a sudden unreasoning desire or impulse.

whim-per (hwim-pér) v. to whine softly, to make feeble frightened or complaining sounds. whimper n. a whimpering sound. whimpering adj. whim'per-er n.

whim-sy (hwim-zee) n. (pl. -sies) a whim.

whine (hwine) v. (whined, whin-ing) 1. to make a long high complaining cry like that of a child or dog. 2. to make a long high shrill sound resembling this. 3. to complain in a petty or feeble way, to utter complainingly. whine n. a whining cry or sound or complaint. whin'er n. whin'y adj. whim'ing-ly adv.

whin-ny (hwin-ee) n. a gentle or joyful neigh. whinny v. (whin-nied, whin-ny-ing) to utter a whinny.

whip (hwip) n. 1. a cord or strip of leather fastened to a handle, used for urging animals on or for striking a person or animal in punishment. 2. a blow struck by or as by this, a whipping motion. 3. an official of a political party in a legislative body with authority to maintain discipline among members of his party, especially in voting along party lines. 4. a dessert made by whipping a mixture of cream etc. with fruit or flavoring. whip v. (whipped, whip-ping) 1. to strike or urge on with a whip. 2. to beat (cream or eggs etc.) into a froth. 3. to move or take suddenly, whipped out a knife. 4. (in sewing) to overcast (an edge). 5. (informal) to defeat, to outdo. 6. to thrash or flap about. whip/ per n.

whip-hand, to be in a controlling position. whip into shape, (informal) to bring into line. whip up, to incite, to stir up, whip up support for the proposal.

whip-cord (hwip-kord) n. 1. cord made of tightly twisted strands. 2. a kind of twilled fabric with prominent ridges.

whip-lash (hwip-lash) n. the lash of a whip; whiplash injury, injury to the neck caused by a sudden jerk of the head (as when traveling in a vehicle that collides with something).

whip-per-snap-per (hwip-ér-snap-ér) n. a young and insignificant person who behaves in a presumptuous way.

whip-pet (hwip-it) n. a small dog resembling a greyhound, used for racing.

whip-ing (hwip-ing) boy a person who is regularly made to bear the blame and punishment when someone is at fault. >Formerly, in some countries, a boy was educated with a young prince and whipped in his stead for the prince's faults.

whip-poor-will (hwip-ór-wil) n. a North American bird with a call that resembles the sound of its name.

whip-saw (hwip-saw) n. 1. a narrow saw blade with ends held by a frame. 2. a keyhole saw. whipsaw v. to cheat or be cheated in two ways at the same time.

whirl (hwur) v. (whirred, whir-ring) to move with or to make a continuous buzzing sound. whirl n. a buzzing or vibrating sound like that of a wheel turning rapidly.

whirl (hwurl) v. 1. to swing or spin around and around, to cause to have this motion. 2. to travel swiftly in a curved course. 3. to convey or go rapidly in a vehicle, the car whirled them away. whirl n. 1. a whirling movement. 2. a confused state, her thoughts were in a whirl. 3. a bustling activity, the social whirl. 4. (slang) a try, give it a whirl. whirl' er n.

whirl-pool (hwurl-pool) n. a current of water whirling in a circle, often drawing floating objects toward its center.

whirl-wind (hwurl-wind) n. a mass of air whirling rapidly about a central point; a whirlwind courtship, a very rapid one.
whirl-y·bird (hwur-li-burd) n. (informal) a helicopter.

whish (hwish) v. to move with a swish.

whish n. a whishing sound.

whisk (hwisk) v. 1. to move with a quick light sweeping movement. 2. to convey or go rapidly, he was whisked off to the airport. 3. to brush or sweep lightly from a surface, whisked away the crumbs. 4. to beat (eggs etc.) into a froth. whisk v. 1. a whisking movement. 2. an instrument for beating eggs etc. 3. a bunch of strips of straw etc. tied to a handle, used for flicking flies away etc. □ whisk broom, a short-handled broom for brushing clothes.

whisk·er (hwis-kər) n. 1. one of the long hairlike bristles growing near the mouth of a cat and certain other animals. 2. (informal) a very small distance, within a whisker of it. 3. whiskers, hair growing on a man's face, especially on the cheek.

whisk·ered (hwis-kərd) adj. having whiskers.

whis·key, whis·ky (hwis-kee) n. (pl. -keys, -kies) 1. an alcoholic liquor distilled from a fermented mash of corn, barley, or other grains. 2. a drink of this. □ The spelling whiskey is used for American and Irish products, whisky for Scotch and Canadian.

whis·per (hwis-pər) v. 1. to speak or utter softly, using the breath but not the vocal cords. 2. to converse privately or secretly, to plot or spread (a tale) as a rumour in this way. 3. (of leaves or fabrics etc.) to rustle. whisper n. 1. a whispering sound or remark, whispering speech, spoke in a whisper. 2. a rumor, heard a whisper that the firm was closing down.

whis·per·er n. □ whispering gallery, a gallery or dome in which the slightest sound made at a particular point can be heard at another far off.

whist (hwist) n. a card game usually for two pairs of players.

whis·tle (hwis-təl) n. 1. a shrill sound made by forcing breath through the lips with these contracted to a narrow opening. 2. a similar sound made by a bird or by something thrown, or produced by a pipe etc. 3. an instrument that produces a shrill sound when air or steam is forced through it against a sharp edge or into a bell. whistle v. (whis·tled, whis·tling) to make this sound, to summon or signal or produce a tune in this way.

whis'ter n. □ whistle for, (informal) to expect in vain, to wish for but have to go without. whistle stop, a small unimportant town on a railroad line; a brief stop (during a tour made by a politician etc.), as for purposes of electioneering.

whit (hwit) n. the least possible amount, not a whit better.

white (hwit) adj. (whit·er, whit·est) 1. of the very lightest color, like snow or common salt. 2. having a pale skin. 3. pale in the face from illness or fear or other emotion. white n. 1. white color. 2. a white substance or material, white clothes. 3. a white person. 4. the white part of something (as of the eyeball, around the iris). 5. the transparent substance around the yolk of an egg, turning white when cooked. 6. the white men in chess etc., the player using these.

white·ly adv. white·ness n. □ white ant, a termite. white birch, a European birch. white blood cell, a white or colorless corpuscle. white bread, bread made from very finely ground flour.

white Christmas, one with snow.

white dwarf, a small very dense faint star. white elephant, a useless possession. white feather, a symbol of cowardice. white flag, a symbol of surrender. White Friars, Carmelites. white gold, a pale alloy of gold with nickel etc. white goods, household linens, as towels, sheets, tablecloths, etc.; household appliances, as refrigerators, stoves, etc.

white heat, the temperature at which heated metal looks white.

White House, the official residence in Washington, D.C., of the President of the U.S.; (informal) the executive branch of the government of the U.S. white lie, a harmless lie (as one told for the sake of politeness). white matter, the fibrous part of the brain and spinal cord. white meat, poultry, veal, rabbit, pork; the breast of chicken or turkey.

white paper, a report issued by the government to give information about its policy on a particular matter. white pepper, a condiment made from the ripe or husked dried berries of the pepper plant. white pine, a pine tree of eastern North America. white rat, an albino rat used in experiments.

white room, see clean room. white sale, a sale of household linen. white sauce, a sauce made from butter, flour, seasonings, and milk or stock. white slave, a woman who is tricked and forced into prostitution.

white slavery, this practice or state.

white supremacy, a doctrine based on belief in the supposed natural superiority of white men over blacks and other non-white races, used to justify subordination of nonwhites. white tie, a man's white bow tie worn with full evening dress; men's full evening dress. white water, shallow or foamy water. white wine, amber or golden or pale yellow wine, not red or rosé.

white-bait (hwit-bayt) n. (pl. -bait) a small silvery-white fish.

white-cap (hwit-kap) n. white-crested waves at sea.

white-col·lar (hwit-kol-ár) adj. of workers who are not engaged in manual labor, such as office workers. □ white-collar crime, pilfering, embezzling, etc. carried out in the course of white-collar work.

white-faced (hwit-fa·sted) adj. 1. pale from illness or fright or actors’ makeup etc. 2. (of horses, cattle, etc.) having a white or partially white face.

white-fish (hwit-fish) n. (pl. -fish, -fish·es) a freshwater fish of the Northern hemisphere, used as food.

white-fly (hwit-fly) n. (pl. -flies) a small insect that attacks shrubs etc.

white-head (hwit-head) n. a white-topped pimple.

white-hot (hwit-hot) adj. 1. at white heat, hotter than red-hot, white-hot steel. 2. extremely intense, white-hot anger.

whit·en·er n. whit·en·ing white-tailed (hwit-tayld) deer a North American deer with a white tail.

white-wall (hwit-wawl) n. a tire with a white sidewall.

white-wash v. 1. to paint with white-wash. 2. to clear the reputation of a person etc.) by glossing over mistakes and faults. 3. (informal) to hold scoreless in a sports contest.

white-wood (hwit-wuud) n. a light-colored wood, a tree having such wood.

whith·er (hwith-ér) adv. (old use) to what place.

whit·ing (hwit-ing) n. (pl. -ings) a small sea fish with white flesh, used as food.

whit·ing 2. n. a chalk prepared by drying, grinding, etc. for use in whitewashing or making putty.

whit·ish (hwit-tish) adj. rather white.

whit·low (hwit-lóo) n. a small abscess under or near a fingernail or toenail.

whit·sun (hwit-sun) n. Whitsunday.

whit·sun·day (hwit-sun-day) n. the seventh Sunday after Easter, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles at Pentecost.

whit·tie (hwit-éi) v. (whit·tied, whit· tling) 1. to trim or shape (wood) by cutting thin slices from the surface. 2. to reduce by removing various amounts, whittled down the cost by cutting out all but the essential items. whit·tier n.

whiz (hwiz) v. (whizzed, whiz·zing) 1. to make a sound like that of something moving at great speed through air. 2. to move very quickly. whiz n. (pl. whiz·zes) 1. a whizzing sound. 2. (slang) a remarkably skillful person, a whiz at math. □ whiz·kid, (informal) an exceptionally brilliant or successful young person.

who (hoo) pronoun 1. what or which person or persons. 2. the particular person or persons, this is the man who wanted to see you.

WHO abbr. World Health Organization.

whoa (hwoh) interj. a command to a horse etc. to stop or stand still.

who'd (hood) = who had, who would.

who·dun·it (hoo-dun-it) n. (informal) a detective or mystery story or play etc.

>D Humorous representation of the incorrect phrase “who done it?”

who·ev·er (hoo-ev-ér) pronoun any or every person who, no matter who.

whole (hohl) adj. 1. with no part removed or left out, told them the whole story; whole-wheat. 2. not injured or broken, there’s not a plate left whole. whole n. 1. the full or complete amount, all the parts or members. 2. a complete system made up of parts, the universe is a whole and Earth is part of this. whole·ness n. □ on the whole, considering everything; in respect of the whole though some details form exceptions. whole hog, see hog. whole milk, milk with all its constituents. whole number, a number containing no fractions. whole step, (in music) a whole tone.

whole-heart·ed (hohl-hahr-tid) adj. without doubts or reservations, whole-hearted approval. whole‘heart’ed·ly adv. whole‘heart’ed·ness n.

whole-sale (hohl-sayl) n. the selling of goods in large quantities to be resold by others. wholesale adj. & adv. 1. in the wholesale trade. 2. on a large scale, wholesale destruction. wholesale v. (whole·sale·ed, whole·sal·ing) to sell in the wholesale trade. wholesale·er n.

whole·some (hohl-sóm) adj. good for physical or mental health or moral condition, showing a healthy condition. whole‘some·ly adv. whole‘some·ness n.

whole·wheat (hohl-hweet) adj. containing all the parts of the wheat kernel.

who’ll (hool) = who will. wholly / widespread wholly (hohl-lee) adv. entirely, with nothing excepted or removed.

whom (hoom) pronoun the objective case of who.

whom-ever (hoom-ev-er) pronoun the objective case of whoever.

whom-so-ever (hoom-soh-ev-er) pronoun the objective case of whomever.

whoop (hoop, hwoop) v. to utter a loud cry of excitement. whoop n. this cry.

whoop' er n. □ whooping cough, an infectious disease especially of children, with a cough that is followed by a long rasping indrawn breath. whooping crane, a crane that makes a whooping or whistling sound. whoop it up, (slang) to engage in noisy revelry.

whoop-de-do (hwoop-di-doo) n. (informal) 1. a noisy celebration. 2. great general excitement.

whoop-e (hwoop-ee) interj. an exclamation of exuberant joy. □ make whoopee, (slang) to engage in noisy revelry.

whoops (hwoopers, wuupps) interj. (informal) an exclamation of surprise or apology.

whoosh (huwuush) v. to make or move or be moved with a sound like that of rushing air or water. whoosh n. this sound.

whop-per (hwop-er) n. (informal) 1. something very large. 2. a lie.

whop- ping (hwop-ing) adj. (informal) very large or remarkable, a whoppng lie.

whore (hohr) n. a prostitute, a sexually immoral woman. whor'ish adj.

whorl (hwrll) n. 1. a coiled form, one turn of a spiral. 2. a complete circle formed by ridges in a fingerprint. 3. a ring of leaves or petals around a stem or central point. whorl'ded adj.

whorl-tle-ber-ry (hwur-tellber-ee) n. (pl. -ries) a North European shrub or its blue berry.

who's (hooz) = who is, who has. □ Do not confuse who's with whose.

whose (hooz) pronoun & adj. of whom, of which, whose is this? the people whose house we admired; the house whose owner takes pride in it. □ Do not confuse whose with who's.

who-so-ever (hoo-soh-ev-er) pronoun any or every person who, no matter who.

whs., whse. abbr. warehouse.

whisle. abbr. wholesale.

why (hwi) adv. 1. for what reason or purpose? 2. on account of which, the reason why it happened are not clear. why interj. an exclamation of surprised discovery or recognition. why conj. for what reason, this is why I am leaving. why n. a reason, an explanation. □ why's and wherefores, reasons.

WI abbr. Wisconsin.

W.I. abbr. West Indies.

wick (wik) n. a length of thread in the center of a candle or oil lamp or cigarette lighter etc. by which the flame is kept supplied with melted grease or fuel.

wick-ed (wik-id) adj. 1. morally bad, offending against what is right. 2. very bad or formidable, severe. 3. malicious, mischievous, a wicked grin. wick'ed-ly adv. wick'ed-ness n.

wick-er (wik-er) n. thin canes or reeds woven together as material for making furniture or baskets etc. wicker adj. made of wicker. wick'er work (wik-er-wirk) n.

wick- et (wik-it) n. 1. a small door or gate usually beside or within a larger one for use when this is not open. 2. a small opening in a door or wall, as in a theater's ticket booth. 3. (in croquet) one of the hoops through which the ball must be driven.

wick-l-up (wik-i-up) n. an American Indian hut of frame covered with grass etc.

wid. abbr. 1. widow. 2. widower.

wide (wrd) adj. (wld'er, wld'est) 1. measuring much from side to side, not narrow, a wide river. 2. in width, one meter wide. 3. extending far, having great range, a wide knowledge of art. 4. open to the full extent, staring with wide eyes. 5. at a considerable distance from the point or mark aimed at; his guess was wide of the mark, quite incorrect. wide'ly adv. widely, to the full extent, far from the target. wide'fy adv. wide'ness n. □ give a wide berth to, see berth.

wide world, the whole world, great as it is.

wide-angled (wrd-ang-gel) adj. (of a lens) able to include a wider field of vision than a standard lens does.

wide-a-wake (wrd-á-wayk) adj. 1. completely awake. 2. fully alert.

wide-eyed (wrd-id) adj. with eyes opened widely in amazement or innocent surprise.

wide-mouthed (wrd-mowthd, -mowtht) adj. 1. having a wide mouth, as a person, a river, a jar, etc. 2. having the mouth opened wide because of surprise or fear.

wide-en (wrd-dén) v. to make or become wider. wid'en'er n.

wide-o-pen (wrd-oh-pen) adj. 1. exposed to attack. 2. (of a contest) with no contestant who can be predicted as a certain winner. 3. without laws or law enforcement on gambling, prostitution, etc.

wide-ranged (wrd-rayn-jed) adj. covering an extensive range.

wide-spread (wrd-spread) adj. found or distributed over a wide area.
own actions or those of others. 2. willpower. 3. determination; they set to work with a will, in a determined and energetic way. 4. that which is desired or determined, may God's will be done. 5. a person's attitude in wishing good or bad to others; with the best will in the world, however good one's intentions are. 6. written directions made by a person for the disposal of his property after his death. will v. 1. to exercise one's willpower, to influence or compel by doing this. 2. to intend unconditionally, God has willed it. 3. to bequeath by a will, she willed her money to a hospital. willed adj. □ at will, whenever one pleases, he comes and goes at will. have one's will, to get what one desires.

will-ful (wil-ful) adj. 1. done with deliberate intention and not as an accident, willful murder. 2. self-willed, obstinate, a willful child. will'ful-ly adv. will'ful-ness n.

wil-lies (wil-ez) n. pl. the willies, (slang) nervous discomfort.

will-ing (wil-ing) adj. 1. doing readily what is required, having no objection. 2. given or performed willingly, we received willing help. will'ing-ly adv. will'ing-ness n.

wil-li-waw (wil-i-waw) n. a sudden cold windstorm of mountainous coasts.

will-o'-the-wisp (wil-o-thé-wisp) n. a hope or aim that lures a person on but can never be fulfilled.

will-low (wil-oh) n. 1. any of several trees or shrubs with very flexible branches, usually growing near water. 2. its wood. □ willow pattern, a conventional Chinese design including a willow tree and a river, done in blue on a white background, especially on china.

will-low-ware (wil-oh-wair) n. dinnerware with a willow pattern.

will-low-y (wil-oh-y) adj. full of willow trees. 2. slender and supple.

will-pow'er (wil-pow-er) n. the control exercised by one's will, especially over one's own actions and impulses.

will-ly-nil-ly (wil-ee-nil-ee) adv. whether one desires it or not.

wilt1 (wilt) see will1.

wilt2 v. 1. (of plants or flowers) to lose freshness and droop. 2. to cause to do this. 3. (of a person) to become limp from exhaustion. wilt n. a plant disease that causes wilting.

Wil-ton (wil-ton) n. (also Wilton carpet) a kind of carpet with loops cut into thick pile, first made at Wilton in England.

wil'y (wil-ee) adj. (wil'-er, wil'-est) full of wiles, crafty, cunning. wil'ly-ness n.

wim-ble (wim-bél) n. an instrument for boring holes.

wim-ple (wim-pél) n. a medieval headdress of linen or silk folded around the head and neck, covering all but the front of the face.

win (win) v. (won, win'-ning) 1. to be victorious in (a battle or game or race etc.), to gain a victory. 2. to obtain or achieve as the result of a battle or contest or bet etc. 3. to obtain as a result of effort or perseverance, he won their confidence. 4. to gain the favor or support of, soon won his audience over. win n. victory in a game or contest. □ win through, to achieve success eventually. you can't win, (informal) there is no way of achieving success or of pleasing people.

wince (wins) v. (winced, winc-ing) to make a slight involuntary movement from pain or distress or embarrassment etc. wince n. a wincing movement.

winc'er n.

winch (winch) n. a machine for hoisting or pulling things by means of a cable that winds around a revolving drum or wheel. winch v. to hoist or pull with a winch.

wind1 (wind) n. 1. a current of air either occurring naturally in the atmosphere or put in motion by the movement of something through the air or produced artificially by bellows etc. 2. smell carried by the wind, the deer we were stalking had got our wind. 3. gas forming in the stomach or intestines and causing discomfort. 4. breath as needed in exertion or speech or for sounding a musical instrument. 5. useless or boastful talk. 6. winds, the wind instruments of an orchestra. wind v. 1. to detect by the presence of a smell, the hounds had winded the fox. 2. to cause to be out of breath, we were quite winded by the climb. □ get wind of, to hear a hint or rumor of. In the wind, happening or about to happen. like the wind, very swiftly. take the wind out of a person's sails, to take away his advantage suddenly, to frustrate him by anticipating his arguments etc. wind chill factor, an index of the combined effects of wind and low temperature on a person. wind Instrument, a musical instrument in which sound is produced by a current of air, especially by the player's breath (as a trumpet or flute). wind tunnel, a tunnellike apparatus for producing an air stream of known velocity past a model of an aircraft etc. to investigate the flow or effect of wind pressure on the structure.

wind² (wind) v. (wound, pr. wound, wind-ing) 1. to go or cause to go in a curving or spiral or twisting course, the road winds its way or winds through the hills. 2. to twist or wrap closely around and around upon itself so as to form a ball. 3. to wrap, to encircle, wound a bandage around his finger. 4. to haul or hoist or move by turning a handle or windlass etc., wind the car window down. 5. to wind up (a clock etc.). wind n. a single turn in winding a clock or string etc. wind'er n. □winding sheet, a sheet in which a corpse is wrapped for burial. wind up, to set or keep (a clock etc.) going by tightening its spring or adjusting its weights; to bring or come to an end; to settle and finally close the business and financial transactions of (a company going into liquidation); (of a baseball pitcher) to prepare to deliver a pitch; (informal) to come to a place, he'll wind up in jail.

wind-age (win-dij) n. 1. the influence of wind in changing the course of a missile. 2. the amount by which the course is changed.

wind-bag (wind-bag) n. (informal) a person who talks needlessly.

wind-blown (wind-blohn) adj. 1. blown by the wind, as hair. 2. having growth shaped by the prevailing winds, as trees.

wind-break (wind-brayk) n. a screen or row of trees etc. shielding something from the full force of the wind.

wind-bro·ken (wind-brok-ën) adj. (of horses) affected by impaired breathing.

wind-burn (wind-burn) n. a reddening of the skin caused by excessive exposure to the wind.

wind-fall (wind-fawl) n. 1. an apple or pear etc. blown off a tree by the wind. 2. a piece of unexpected good fortune, especially a sum of money acquired. □windfall profits tax, (informal) a tax levied on sudden and excessive profits made by a business.

Wind-hoek (wind-huuk) the capital of Namibia.

wind-jam·mer (wind-jam-er) n. a merchant sailing ship.

windlass (wind-las) n. a device for pulling or hoisting things (such as a bucket of water from a well) by means of a rope or chain that winds around an axle.

wind-lass (wind-las) adj. without wind.

wind'less·ly adv. wind'less·ness n.

wind·mill (wind-mil) n. a mill worked by the action of wind on projecting parts that radiate from a central shaft.

wind·ow (wind-oh) n. 1. an opening in the wall or roof of a building or in a car etc. to admit light and often air, usually filled with glass in a fixed or hinged or sliding frame. 2. this glass, with or without its frame, broke the window. 3. a space for the display of goods behind the window of a shop etc. 4. an opening resembling a window. win'dow·less wind·ow·box, a trough fixed outside a window, for growing plants and flowers. window dressing, the displaying of goods attractively in a shop window; presentation of facts so as to create a favorable impression. window on the world, a means of observing and learning about people of other countries. window seat, a seat fixed under a window that is in a recess or bay of a room. window sill, the sill or ledge under a window.

wind·ow·pane (wind-oh-payn) n. a sheet of glass in a window.

wind·ow·shop (wind-oh-shop) v. (win·dow-shopped, win·dow-shop·ping) to look at goods displayed in shop windows etc. without necessarily intending to buy. wind·ow·shop·per n.

wind·pipe (wind-prp) n. the principal passage by which air reaches the lungs, leading from the throat to the bronchial tubes.

wind·pro·of (wind-proof) adj. wind-resistant, as a jacket, coat, etc.

wind·row (wind-row) n. a line of raked hay or grain etc. made to permit drying by the wind.

wind·shiel·d (wind-shield) n. the glass in the window at the front of a motor vehicle.

wind·sock (wind-sok) n. a tube-shaped piece of canvas open at both ends, flown at an airfield to show the direction of the wind.

wind·storm (wind-storm) n. a storm with very strong winds and little or no rain.

wind·surf·ing (wind-surf-ing) n. the sport of surfing on a board to which a sail is fixed.

wind·swept (wind-swept) adj. exposed to strong winds.

wind·up (wind-up) n. 1. (informal) a conclusion, a finish. 2. the winding movements made by a baseball pitcher preparing to pitch.

wind·ward (wind-ward) adj. situated in the direction from which the wind blows. windward adv. toward the wind. wind·ward·n the windward side or region. □Windward Islands, a group of islands in the southeast West Indies.

wind·y (wind-dee) adj. (wind·i·er, wind·i·est) 1. with much wind, a windy night. 2. exposed to high winds. 3. windy, full of useless talk, a wind\'ly speaker. wind\'\-ly adv. wind\'\-ness n.

wine (wīn) n. 1. fermented grape juice as an alcoholic drink. 2. a fermented drink made from other fruits or plants, dandelion wine. 3. dark purplish red. wine v. (wined, win\'-ing) to drink wine, to entertain with wine; they wined and dined us, entertained us to a meal with wine.

wine cellar, a cellar in which wine is stored; a store of wine.

wine\-glass (wīn-glas) n. a glass for drinking wine from.

wine\-grow\-er (wīn-groh-ār) n. a person who grows grapes for wine.

wine\-press (wīn-pres) n. a press in which grapes are squeezed.

win\'-er\-y (wīn-nǐ-rē) n. (pl. -er\-ies) an establishment for making wine.

wine\-skin (wīn-skin) n. the whole skin of a goat etc. sewn up and used to hold wine.

wing (wīng) n. 1. one of a pair of projecting parts by which a bird or bat or insect etc. is able to fly. 2. a corresponding part in a nonflying bird or insect. 3. one of the parts projecting widely from the sides of an airplane and acting upon the air so that the airplane is supported in flight. 4. something resembling a wing in appearance or position (such as a thin projection on maple and sycamore seeds). 5. a projecting part extending from one end of a building, the north wing was added in the 17th century. 6. either end of an army or fleet lined up for battle. 7. either of the players (left wing, right wing) in hockey etc. whose place is at the extreme end of the forward line. 8. an air force unit of several squadrons.

wing v. 1. to fly, to travel by means of wings, a bird winging its way home. 2. to wound slightly in the wing or arm.

on the wing, flying. take wing, to fly away. under one\'s wing, under one\'s protection. wing bolt, a bolt with a head resembling a wing nut.

wing chair, an armchair with projecting sidepieces at the top of a high back.

wing collar, a man\'s high stiff collar with the upper corners turned down. wing it, (slang) to throw it; to do something impromptu.

wing nut, a nut with projections so that it can be turned by thumb and finger on a screw.

wing shot, a shot taken at a bird in flight; an expert in shooting birds in flight.

wing tip, the outer end of the wing of a bird or the wing of an aircraft; a style of shoe with a perforated pattern on the toecap and along the sides.

wing\-ding (wīng-ding) n. (slang) a wild party.

winged (wīngd, poetic wing\-id) adj. having wings.

wing\-less (wīng-lis) adj. without wings.

wing\-span (wīng-span) n. 1. the measurement between the tips of an airplane\'s wings. 2. a bird\'s wingspan.

wing\-spread (wīng-spred) n. 1. (of a bird) the measurement across the wings when extended. 2. an airplane\'s wingspan.

wink (wīngk) v. 1. to close and open one eye deliberately, especially as a private signal to someone. 2. (of a light or star etc.) to shine with a light that flashes quickly on and off or twinkle.

wink n. 1. an act of winking. 2. a brief period of sleep, didn\'t sleep a wink.

wink\'er n. wink at, to pretend not to notice something that should be stopped or condemned.

win\-er (wīn\-er) n. 1. a person who wins. 2. something successful, her latest novel is a winner.

win\-ning (wīn-ing) see win. winning adj. charming, persuasive, a winning smile.

win\'-ning\-ly adv.

win\-nings (wīn-ingz) n. pl. money won in betting or at cards etc.

win\-now (wīn-ō) v. 1. to expose (grain) to a current of air by tossing or fanning it so that the loose dry outer part is blown away, to separate (chaff) in this way. 2. to sift or separate from worthless or inferior elements, winnow out the truth from the falsehoods.

win\-o (wīn-ō) n. (pl. -o\-s) (slang) an alcoholic, especially one who is reduced to drinking cheap wine.

win\-some (wīn-sōm) adj. having an engagingly attractive appearance or manner. win\'-some\-ly adv. win\'-some\-ness n.

win\-ter (wīn-tər) n. the coldest season of the year, generally from December to March in the northern hemisphere. winter v. 1. to spend the winter, decided to winter in Arizona. 2. to keep or feed (plants or animals) during the winter.

winter adj. 1. characteristic of or used in or lasting for the winter. 2. (of fruit or vegetables) ripening late or keeping until or during winter. 3. sown in autumn and reaped in spring, winter wheat.

winter sports, open-air sports on snow or ice, as skiing, skating.

win\-ter\-green (wīn-tər-green) n. 1. a shrub with aromatic leaves yielding an oil. 2. the flavor of this oil.
winterize / wish win·ter·ize (win·ter·ize) v. (win·ter·ized, win·ter·iz·ing) to adapt for operation or use for cold weather.

win·ter·kill (win·ter·kill) v. to die or kill by overexposure to the winter cold, as a crop or a plant.

win·ter·time (win·ter·time) n. the season of winter.

win·try (win·try) adj. (tri·er, -tri·est) 1. of or like winter, cold, wintry weather. 2. (of a smile etc.) chilly, lacking warmth or vivacity.

wipe (wi·pe) n. (wi·ped, wi·ping) 1. to clean or dry the surface of by rubbing something over it. 2. to remove by wiping. wipe your tears away. 3. to spread (a substance) thinly over a surface. wipe n. the act of wiping, give this plate a wipe.

wipe out, to cancel; to destroy completely, the whole army was wiped out.

wi·per (wi·per) n. 1. something that wipes or is used for wiping. 2. (also wind·shield wiper) a rubber strip mechanically moved to and fro across a wind·shield to remove rain etc.

wire (wir) n. 1. a strand or slender usually flexible rod of metal. 2. a cable used to carry telephone or telegraph messages. 3. a piece of wire used to carry electric current. 4. (in horse racing) the finish line. 5. (informal) a telegram. wire v. (wired, wir·ing) 1. to provide or fasten or strengthen with wire(s). 2. to install wiring in (a house). 3. (informal) to send a telegram. 4. ( slang) to arrange the outcome of (a sports event) beforehand, the race was wired. get one's wires crossed, to become confused and misunderstand.

under the wire, barely in time. wire·cutter, a tool for cutting wire.

wire recorder, an instrument recording sound on a steel wire by an electromagnet·ic process. wire service, a news·gathering organization that sends news by wire or electronic means to subscribers.

wire wheel, a vehicle wheel with wire spokes.

wire·draw (wir·draw) v. (wire·drew, wire·drawn, wire·draw·ing) 1. to draw metal out into wire. 2. to protract unduly. 3. to refine or apply or press an argument, point, etc. with idle or ex·cessive subtlety.

wire·hair (wir·hair) n. a fox terrier with wiry hair.

wire·haired (wir·haired) adj. (of a dog) having stiff wiry hair.

wire·less (wir·less) adj. 1. without wires. 2. of or relating to radio communications. wireless n. (chiefly British) a radio.

wire·pho·to (wir·photo) n. (trade·mark) a device for sending photographs by wire. wirephoto v. to send in this way.

wire·tap (wir·tap) v. (wire·tapped, wire·tap·ping) to eavesdrop on a telephone conversation by tapping the wire (see tap definition 5). wiretap n. an instrument used in wiretapping. wire·tap·per n.

wire·worm (wir·worm) n. the destructive wormlike larva of a kind of beetle.

wire·ing (wir·ing) n. a system of wires for conducting electricity in a building.

wire·y (wir·ee) adj. (wir·ier, wir·iest) 1. like wire. 2. of a person) lean but strong. wiry ness n.

Wis., Wisc. abbr. Wisconsin.

Wis·con·sin (wis·kon·sin) a state of the U.S.

wis·dom (wiz·dom) n. 1. being wise, soundness of judgment. 2. wise sayings; the Wisdom of Solomon, a book of the Apocrypha.

wis·dom tooth, the third and hindmost molar tooth on each side of the upper and lower jaws, usually cut (if at all) after the age of twenty.

wise1 (wiz) adj. (wis·er, wis·est) 1. having or showing soundness of judgment. 2. having knowledge, where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise. 3. ( slang) aware, informed, be or get wise to something; put him wise to it, tell him about it. wise v. (wis·ed, wis·ing) ( slang) to inform, wise him up about it. wisely adv.

be none the wiser, to know no more than before; to be unaware of what has happened. wise guy, (informal) a know-it-all.

wise2 n. (old use) way, manner, in no wise.

wise suffix used to form adjectives and adverbs of manner, direction, etc., as in clock·wise, lengthwise. The ill-advised practice of attaching -wise to a growing number of words has led to some awkward expressions. Moneywise I am not in good condition means I am nearly out of money. Militarywise we have never been weaker means our military forces need strengthening.

wise·a·cre (wiz·ay·kër) n. a person who pretends to have great wisdom, a know·it-all.

wise·crack (wiz·krak) n. (informal) a witty or clever remark. wisecrack v. (informal) to make a wisecrack.

wish (wish) n. 1. a desire or mental aim. 2. an expression of desire about another person's welfare, with best wishes. wish v. 1. to have or express as a wish. 2. to formulate a wish, wish when you see a shooting star. 3. to hope or express hope about another person's welfare, wish me luck; wish someone well, hope that he prospers; wish him "good day," greet him in this way. 4. (informal) to foist, the dog was wished on us while its owners were on vacation. wish'er n. □ wish for, to desire to have, to express a wish that one may have (a thing).

wish-bone (wish-bohn) n. a forked bone between the neck and breast of a bird (pulled in two between two persons, the one who gets the longer part having the supposed right to magic fulfillment of any wish).

wish-ful (wish-ful) adj. desiring. wish'ful-ly adv. wish'ful-ness n. □ wishful thinking, a belief that is founded on what one wishes to be true rather than on fact.

wish'y-wash'y (wish-ee-wosh-ee) adj. weak or feeble in color, character, etc., lacking strong or positive qualities. wish'y-wash'-i-ness n.

wisp (wisp) n. 1. a small separate bunch or bundle of something, wisps of hair. 2. a small streak of smoke or cloud etc. 3. a small thin person. wisp'y adj. (wisp'-i-er, wisp'-i-est).

wist'ful-a (wi-steer-i-à) n. a climbing plant with hanging clusters of blue, purple, or white flowers.

wist'-ful (wist-ful) adj. full of sad or vague longing. wist'ful-ly adv. wist'ful-ness n.

wit? (wit?) n. 1. the ability to combine words or ideas etc. ingeniously so as to produce a kind of clever humor that appeals to the intellect. 2. a witty person. 3. intelligence, understanding, hadn't the wit to see what was needed; use your wits. □ at one's wits' end, at the end of one's mental resources, not knowing what to do. have or keep one's wits about one, to be or remain mentally alert and intelligent or ready to act. scared out of one's wits, crazy with fear.

wit? v. to wit, that is to say, namely.

witch (wich) n. 1. a person (especially a woman) who practices witchcraft. 2. a bewitching woman; old witch, an ugly woman. witch v. to bewitch. witch'ing adj. & n. □ witch doctor, the tribal magician of a primitive people. witch hazel, a North American shrub with yellow flowers; an astringent lotion prepared from its leaves and bark. witch hunt, a search to find and destroy or persecute people thought to be witches, or others suspected of holding unorthodox or unpopular views. witching hour, the time when witches are active, midnight.

witch'craft (wich-kraft) n. the practice of magic.

witch'er-y (wich-è-ree) n. (pl. -ies) 1. witchcraft. 2. the bewitching power of something.

with (with) prep. 1. in the company of, among. 2. having, characterized by, a man with a sinister expression. 3. using as an instrument or means, hit it with a hammer. 4. on the side of, of the same opinion as, we're all with you on this matter. 5. in the care or charge of, leave a message with the receptionist. 6. in the employment etc. of, he is with Shell. 7. at the same time as, in the same way or direction or degree as, rise with the sun; swimming with the tide; he became more tolerant with age. 8. because of, shaking with laughter. 9. feeling or showing, heard it with calmness. 10. under the conditions of, sleeps with the window open; he won with ease, easily; with your permission, if you will allow it. 11. by addition or possession of, fill it with water; laden with baggage. 12. in regard to, toward, lost my temper with him. 13. in opposition to, he argued with me. 14. in spite of, with all his roughness, he's very good-natured. 15. so as to be separated from, we parted with our luggage reluctantly. □ I'm not with you, (informal) I cannot follow your meaning.

with (with) adv. (old use) 1. in addition. 2. nevertheless. 3. at the same time.

with-draw (with-draw, with-) v. (with-drew, with-drawn, with-draw-ing) 1. to take back or away, withdrew troops from the frontier. 2. to remove (money deposited) from a bank etc. 3. to cancel (a promise or statement etc.). 4. to go away from company or from a place; withdraw into oneself; become unresponsive or unsociable.

with-draw-al (with-draw-al, with-) n. 1. withdrawing. 2. the process of ceasing to take drugs to which one is addicted, often with unpleasant reactions, withdrawal symptoms.

with-drawn (with-drawn, with-) adj. (of a person) unresponsive, unsociable. with-drawn'ness n.

with-er (with'er) v. 1. to make or become shriveled, to lose or cause to lose freshness and vitality. 2. to subdue or overwhelm by scorn, withered him with a glance.

with-ers (with'érs) n. pl. the ridge between a horse's shoulder blades.

with-hold (with-hold, with-) v. (with-hold, with-hold-ing) 1. to refuse to give or grant or allow, withhold permission. 2. to hold back, to restrain, we could not withhold our laughter. with-hold'er n.
Within withholding tax, a tax deducted from income at the source.

Within (with-in) prep. 1. inside, enclosed by. 2. not beyond the limit or scope of. success was within our grasp; he acted within his rights. 3. In a time no longer than, we shall finish within an hour. Within adv. inside, seen from within. Within n. the inner part of a place.

Wit-out (without) prep. 1. not having or feeling or showing, free from, without food; they are without fear. 2. In the absence of, no smoke without fire. 3. With no action of, we can't leave without thanking them. 4. (old use) outside, without a city wall. Without adv. 1. outside, the house as seen from without. 2. Not having (something understood), we'll have to do without. Without prejudice, see prejudice.

Wit-stand (with-stand, with-) v. (withstood, with-standing) to endure successfully.

Wit-less (wit-lis) adj. foolish, unintelligent. Wit-less-ly adv. Wit-less-ness n.

Wit-ness (wit-nis) n. (pl. -ness-es) 1. a person who sees or hears something, there were no witnesses to their quarrel. 2. A person who gives evidence in court. 3. A person who is present at an event in order to testify to the fact that it took place, one who confirms that a signature is genuine by adding his own signature. 4. something that serves as evidence, his tailored clothes were witness to his poverty. Witness v. to be a witness at or of, to sign (a document) as a witness. Wit-ness-er n. ^bear witness, see bear. Witness stand, an enclosure from which witnesses give evidence in court.

Wit-ted (wit-tid) adj. having wits of a certain kind, quick-witted.

Wit-ti-clasm (wit-i siz-em) n. A witty remark.

Wit-ty (wit-ee) adj. (-ti-er, -ti-est) full of wit. Wit-ty-laidy adv. Wit-ty-ness n.

Wive (wiv) v. (wived, wiv-ing) (old use) to provide with a wife, to take a wife. Wives see wife.

Wiz-ened (wiz-end) adj. Full of wrinkles, shriveled with age, a wizened face.

Wk. abbr. 1. week. 2. work.

Wkly. abbr. weekly.

WL abbr. wavelength.

WNW abbr. west-northwest.

WO abbr. warrant officer.

WO abbr. without.

Woad (wohd) n. 1. A kind of blue dye formerly obtained from a European plant of the mustard family. 2. This plant.

Wob-ble (wob-él) v. (wob-bled, wob-blng) 1. To stand or move unsteadily, to rock from side to side. 2. (of a voice) to quiver. Wobble n. A wobbling movement, a quiver. Wob-ly adj. Wob-bil-ness n.

Wo-den (woh-den) n. The chief god of the Anglo-Saxon pagans.

Woe (woh) n. 1. Sorrow, distress. 2. Trouble causing this, misfortune. Woe interj. An exclamation of sorrow or distress.

Woe-be-gone (woh-bi-gawn) adj. Looking unhappy.

Wok (wok) n. A bowl-shaped pot used in cooking Chinese food.

Woke (wohk), Wok-en (woh-kên) see wake.

Wold (wohl) n. An area of open upland country.

Wolf (wuulf) n. (pl. wolves, pr. wuulvz) 1. A fierce wild animal of the dog family, feeding on the flesh of other animals and often hunting in packs. 2. A greedy or grasping person. 3. (slang) A man who aggressively seeks to attract women for sexual purposes. Wolf v. To eat (food) quickly and greedily. ^keep the wolf from the door, to ward off hunger or starvation. Wolf in sheep's clothing, a person who appears friendly or harmless but is really an enemy. Wolf whistle, a whistle uttered by a man in admiration of a woman's appearance.

Wolf-hound (wuulf-hownd) n. Any of several large dogs (such as a borzoi) of a kind originally used for hunting wolves.

Wolf-ram (wuul-främ) n. 1. Tungsten. 2. Wolframite.

Wolf-ram-ite (wuul-främ-it) n. A rare yielding tungsten.

Wolfs-bane (wuulfs-bayan) n. A plant with yellow flowers.

Wolves see wolf.

Wom-an (wuum-ân) n. (pl. wom-en, pr. wim-in) 1. An adult female person. 2. Women in general. 3. (informal) A female servant. ^woman of the streets, a prostitute. Woman of the world, see world. Women's liberation or women's lib, a movement urging the liberation of women from domestic duties and from a subordinate role in society and business etc. Woman's rights, the right of women to have a position of legal and social equality with men.

womanhood (woom-ahn-hood) n. the state of being a woman.

womanish (woom-an-ish) adj. like a woman, suitable for women but not for men.

womanize (woom-an-iz) v. (womanized, womaniz-ing) (of a man) to seek the company of women for sexual purposes. womanizer n.

womanhood (woom-an-kind) n. women in general.

womanlike (woom-an-lik) adj. like a woman.

wondrous (wun-drus) adj. having or showing qualities that are characteristic of or suitable for a woman. womansh n.

woman (woom) n. the uterus. wombed adj.

womanbat (wom-bat) n. an Australian animal resembling a small bear.

women see woman.

womenfolk (wim-in-folk) n. pl. (also womenfolks) women in general, the women of one's family.

won (wun) see win.

wonder (wun-dər) n. 1. a feeling of surprise mingled with admiration or curiosity or bewilderment. 2. something that arouses this, a marvel, a remarkable thing or event. wonder v. 1. to feel wonder or surprise, I wonder that he wasn't killed. 2. to feel curiosity about, to desire to know, to try to form an opinion or decision about, we're still wondering what to do next. wonderer n. □ do or work wonders, to produce remarkably successful results. I shouldn't wonder, (informal) I should not be surprised. no wonder, it is not surprising. wonder drug, a new drug with amazing curative effect.

wonderful (wun-dər-fəl) adj. marvelous, surprisingly fine or excellent. wonderfully adv. wonderfulness n.

wonderland (wun-dər-land) n. a land or place full of marvels or wonderful things.

wonderment (wun-dər-mənt) n. a feeling of wonder, surprise.

wondrous (wun-drəs) adj. wonderful. wondrously adv. wondrousness n.

wont (wohnt) adj. (old use) accustomed, he was wont to go to bed early. wont n. a habit or custom, went to bed early, as was his wont. □ Do not confuse wont with won't.

wontn't (wohnt) = will not. □ Do not confuse wont with won't.

wood (wuud) n. 1. the tough fibrous substance of a tree and its branches, enclosed by the bark. 2. this cut for use as timber or fuel etc. 3. (also woods) trees growing fairly densely over an area of ground. 4. a golf club with a wooden head. wood adj. made of, used for, or dwelling in wood or woods. wood v. 1. to plant with trees. 2. to take in or supply with wood. □ out of the woods, clear of danger or difficulty. wood alcohol, methyl alcohol. wood lobs, an American wading bird frequenting wooded swamps. wood louse, a small wingless creature with seven pairs of legs, living in decaying wood, damp soil, etc. wood pulp, wood fiber reduced chemically or mechanically to pulp as material for paper. wood screw, a screw that has a sharp point allowing it to be screwed into wood. wood thrush, a thrush of eastern North America.

woodbine (wuud-bin) n. any of several climbing vines, including the Virginia creeper and honeysuckle.

woodblock (wuud-blok) n. 1. a woodcut. 2. a block of wood.

woodborer (wuud-bohr-ər) n. 1. a tool for boring wood. 2. an insect that bores into wood.

woodcarver (wuud-kahr-ər) n. a person who carves wood.

woodcutting (wuud-kahr-ing) n. 1. the art of carving objects from pieces of wood. 2. an object carved from wood.

woodchopper (wuud-chop-ər) n. a person who chops wood.

woodchuck (wuud-chuk) n. a North American burrowing marmot.

woodcock (wuud-kok) n. (pl. -cocks, -cock) a kind of game bird related to the snipe.

woodcraft (wuud-kraft) n. 1. knowledge of woodland conditions, especially that used in hunting. 2. woodworking. woodcraftsmen (wuud-kraftsmən) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mən).

woodcut (wuud-kut) n. 1. an engraving made on wood. 2. a print made from this, especially as an illustration in a book.

woodcutter (wuud-kut-ər) n. 1. a person who cuts wood. 2. a maker of woodcuts.
wood·ed (wuud-id) adj. covered with growing trees.

wood·en (wuud-ën) adj. 1. made of wood. 2. stiff and unnatural in manner, showing no expression or animation. wood·en·ly adv. wood·en·ness n. wooded.

wood·Indian, a wooden statue of an Indian, formerly used as an advertisement in front of a cigar store; (informal) a person showing no emotion.

wood·en·head·ed (wuud-ën-hed-id) adj. stupid.

wood·land (wuud-länd) n. wooded country.

wood·lot (wuud-loot) n. an area on a farm set aside for trees.

wood·man (wuud-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a timber cutter, woodman spare that tree. 2. a woodsman.

wood·note (wuud-noht) n. a musical tone occurring in nature or the wild, as that of a bird.

wood·peck·er (wuud-pék-ër) n. a bird that clings to tree trunks and taps them with its beak to discover insects.

wood·pile (wuud-pil) n. a stack of wood, especially for fuel.

wood·ruff (wuud-ruff) n. a white-flowered plant grown especially for its fragrant whorled leaves.

wood·shed (wuud-shed) n. a shed where wood is stored, especially wood for fuel.

woods·man (wuudz-män) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a dweller in or frequenter of woods, a person skilled in woodcraft.

wood·wind (wuud-wind) n. 1. any of the wind instruments of an orchestra that are (or were originally) made of wood, such as the clarinet and oboe. 2. these collectively.

wood·work (wuud-wurk) n. things made from wood, especially the wooden fittings of a house.

wood·work·ing (wuud-wurk-ing) n. the art or practice of making things from wood.

wood·worm (wuud-wurm) n. the larva of a kind of beetle that bores into wooden furniture and fittings.

wood·y (wuud-ee) adj. (wood·i·er, wood·i·est) 1. like wood, consisting of wood, the woody parts of a plant. 2. full of woods, a woody area.

woof (wuuff) n. a weft.

woof·er (wuuf-ër) n. a loudspeaker for accurately reproducing low-frequency sounds.

wool (wuul) n. 1. the fine soft hair that forms the fleece of sheep and goats etc. 2. yarn made from this, fabric made from this yarn. 3. something resembling sheep's wool in texture. pull the wool over someone's eyes, to deceive him.

wool·en (wuul-ën) adj. made of wool.

wool·ens (wuul-ënz) n. pl. woolen cloth or clothing.

wool·gath·er·ing (wuul-gath-ë-ring) n. being in a dreamy or absent-minded state.

wool·grow·er (wuul-groh-ër) n. a person who raises sheep for wool.

wool·ly (wuul-ë) adj. (li·er, li·est) 1. covered with wool or wool-like hair. 2. like wool, woolen, a woolly hat. 3. not thinking clearly, not clearly expressed or thought out, vague.

woolly n. (pl. -lies) (often woollies) (informal) a knitted woolen garment, especially long underwear.

wool·ly·ness n.

wool·ly·shear (wuul-ë-sheer) n. a pungent seasoning sauce first made in Worcester, England.

wo·cres·t·er·shire (wuus-ter-sheer) n. sauce word (wurd) n. 1. a sound or sounds expressing a meaning independently and forming one of the basic elements of speech. 2. this represented by letters or symbols. 3. something said, a remark or statement, he didn't utter a word; too funny for words, extremely funny. 4. a message, information, we sent word of our safe arrival. 5. a promise or assurance; take my word for it, accept my assurance that it is true. 6. a command or spoken signal, don't fire till I give you the word. word. v. to phrase, to select words to express, word it tactfully.

by word of mouth, in spoken (not written) words.

have words, to quarrel. in a word, briefly, to sum up. in so many words, explicitly or bluntly.

man of his word, one who keeps his promises. take someone at his word, to act on the assumption that he means what he says.

the Word or Word of God, the Bible, especially the Gospel; (in the Gospel of St. John) the Second Person of the Trinity.

word for word, in exactly the same words; translate it word for word, literally.

word of honor, a promise made upon one's honor (see honor). word order, the arrangement of words in a sentence etc.
wordage / worker downward in columns give the same words.

word-age (wur-dij) n. 1. words, wording. 2. a count of words, the number of words used. 3. verbiage.

word-book (wurd-buk) n. a book with lists of words, a vocabulary book.

word-ing (wur-ding) n. the way something is worded.

word-less (wurd-lis) adj. without words, not expressed in words, wordless sympathy.

word-play (wurd-play) n. a joke using features of words, a pun, etc.

word-y (wur-dee) adj. (word-‘e-er, word-‘e-est) using too many words.

word’l-ly adv. word’l-ness n.

wore (wohr) see wear.

work (wurk) n. 1. use of bodily or mental power in order to do or make something, especially as contrasted with play or recreation. 2. something to be undertaken, the materials for this. 3. a thing done or produced by work, the result of action. 4. a piece of literary or musical composition, one of Mozart’s later works. 5. what a person does to earn a living, employment. 6. doings or experiences of a certain kind, nice work! 7. ornamentation of a certain kind, articles having this, things or parts made of certain materials or with certain tools, fine filigree work.

8. works. operations in building etc.; the operative parts of a machine; a place where industrial or manufacturing processes are carried on. work v. 1. to perform work, to be engaged in bodily or mental activity. 2. to make efforts, work for peace. 3. to be employed, to have a job, she works in a bank. 4. to operate, to do this effectively, it works by electricity; a-can opener that really works; that method won’t work. 5. to operate (a thing) so as to obtain material or benefit from it, the mine is still being worked; my partner works the Dallas area, covers it in his work. 6. to purchase with one’s labor, work one’s passage. 7. to cause to work or function, he works his staff very hard; can you work the elevator? 8. to bring about, to accomplish, work miracles. 9. to shape or knead or hammer etc. into a desired form or consistency, work the mixture into a paste. 10. to do or make by needlework or fretwork etc., work your initials on it. 11. to excite progressively, worked them into a frenzy; the candidate worked the crowd, sought enthusiastic support for himself. 12. to make (a way) or pass or cause to pass slowly or by effort, the grub works its way into timber; work the stick into the hole. 13. to become through repeated stress or pressure, the screw had worked loose. 14. to be in motion, his face worked violently. 15. to ferment, the yeast began to work. 16. to solve by calculation, work the problem. □ at work, working; at one’s place of employment; operating, having an effect, there are secret influences at work. give him the works, (slang) give or tell him everything; give him cruel or drastic treatment. out of work, unemployed, without a job. work camp, a labor camp for prisoners etc. work clothes, sturdy clothes worn for work by a laborer. worked up, excited. work ethic, a belief in the moral and sociological importance of work. work farm, a farm for juvenile offenders. work force, the total number of workers engaged or available. work in, to find a place for, to insert. work of art, a fine picture or building or composition etc. work off, to get rid of by activity, worked off his annoyance on his secretary. work on, to use one’s influence on (a person). work out, to find or solve by calculation; to be calculated, it works out to $24.50 each; to plan the details etc. of, work out a plan; to have a specified result, it worked out very well; to exercise, to practice for a sports contest. work over, to examine thoroughly; to treat with violence. work sheet, a paper on which work done is recorded. work study, study of people’s work and methods, with a view to making them more efficient. work train, a train transporting railroad maintenance workers. work up, to bring gradually to a more developed state; to excite progressively; to advance in one’s job.

work-a-bie (wur-kà-bël) adj. able to be worked or used or acted upon successfully. work’a-bie-ness n.

work-a-day (wur-kà-day) adj. ordinary, everyday.

work-a-hol-ic (wur-kà-haw-lik) n. (informal) a person obsessed with work. work-a-hol-ism (wur-kà-haw-liz-ëm) n.

work-bag (wurk-bag) n. a bag holding materials and implements for work.

work-bas- ket (wurk-bas-kit) n. a basket holding sewing materials.

work-bench (wurk-bench) n. a bench for mechanical work, especially carpentry.

work-book (wurk-buk) n. 1. an operating manual for equipment. 2. an instructional practice book. 3. a book for recording work completed.

work-box (wurk-boks) n. a box for holding implements and materials for work.

work-day (wurk-day) n. a working day.

work-er (wur-ker) n. 1. a person who works, one who works well or in a certain way, a slow worker. 2. a neuter or undeveloped female bee or ant etc. that does the work of the hive or colony but cannot reproduce. 3. a member of the working class.

work-horse (wurk-hors) n. 1. a horse that performs heavy labor. 2. a person who works extremely hard and accepts extra labor.

work-house (wurk-hows) n. (pl. -houses, pr. -how-ziz) a former public institution where people unable to support themselves were housed and (if able-bodied) made to work.

work-ing (wurk-king) adj. 1. engaged in work, especially manual labor, working-class, a working man. 2. of or for work. 3. adequate or satisfactory for use, a working knowledge of Arabic. working n. 1. the way a thing works or the result of its working. 2. (usually workings) a mine or quarry etc., a part of this in which work is or has been carried on, disused mine workings. □working capital, capital used in the carrying on of business, not invested in its buildings and equipment etc. working class, the class of people who are employed for wages, especially in manual or industrial work. working day, a day on which work is regularly done; the portion of the day spent in working. working hours, the hours regularly spent in work. working knowledge, knowledge adequate for dealing with something. working model, a model of a machine etc. able to operate though on a reduced scale. working order, a condition in which a machine etc. works satisfactorily. working papers, legal papers required for minors etc. for employment.

work-ing-class (wurk-king-klas) adj. of the working class.

work-ing-man (wurk-king-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a man who works, especially one who works at manual labor.

work-ing-wom-an (wurk-king-wuum-an) n. fem. (pl. -women, pr. -wim-in).

work-load (wurk-lohd) n. the amount of work to be done by a particular employee etc.

work-man (wurk-mán) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mén) 1. a man hired to do manual labor. 2. a person who works in a certain way, a conscientious workman. work-wom-an (wurk-wuum-an) n. fem. (pl. -women, pr. -wim-in) □workmen's compensation insurance, insurance that an employer is required to carry for employees who may be injured on the job.

work-man-lik-e (wurk-mán-lik) adj. characteristic of a good workman, practical.

work-man-ship (wurk-mán-ship) n. a person’s skill in working, the quality of this as seen in something produced.

work-out (wurk-owt) n. 1. a practice or test, especially in athletics. 2. physical exercise.

work-room (wurk-room) n. a room in which work is done.

work-shop (wurk-shop) n. 1. a room or building in which manual work or manufacture is carried on. 2. a meeting of trained personnel to engage in discussion, exchange of ideas, etc. for mutual benefit.

work-ta-ble (wurk-tay-bäl) n. a table for work, usually with drawers for materials etc.

work-week (wurk-week) n. the total number of working days or hours in a week.

world (wurld) n. 1. the universe, all that exists. 2. Earth with all its countries and peoples. 3. a heavenly body like it. 4. a section of Earth, the western world. 5. a time or state or scene of human existence; this world, this mortal life. 6. the people or things belonging to a certain class or sphere of activity, the sporting world; the insect world. 7. everything, all people, felt that the world was against him. 8. material things and occupations (contrasted with spiritual), renounced the world and became a nun. 9. a very great amount, it will do him a world of good; she is worlds better today. □ for all the world like, precisely like. how or why in the world, an emphatic form of how, why, etc. man or woman of the world, a person who is experienced in the ways of human society. not for the world or not for all the world, not for anything no matter how great. not of or for this world, supernatural. out of this world, (informal) incredibly good etc., indescribable. think the world of, to have the highest possible opinion of. World Bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. World Court, the Permanent Court of International Justice. world power, a country with influence in international politics. World Series, the series of games that determines the champion major league baseball team in the U.S. world's fair, an international exposition of arts, science, industry, and agriculture. world war, a war involving many important countries; First World War or World War I, that of 1914–18; Second World War, or World War II, 1939–45. World War III, a hypothetical atomic world war of the future.

world-beat-er (wurld-bee-tër) n. a person or thing surpassing all others. world-famous / worthless

World-famous (wurld-fay-mūs) adj. famous throughout the world.

Worldly (wurld-lee) adj. (-ll-el, -ll-eest) 1. of or belonging to life on Earth, not spiritual. 2. devoted to the pursuit of pleasure or material gains or advantages.

Worldliness n. worldly wisdom, wisdom and shrewdness in dealing with worldly affairs.

Worldly-wise (wurld-lee-wiz) adj. having worldly wisdom.

Worldly-weary (wurld-wee-rey) adj. bored with human affairs.

Worldly-wise (wurld-wiz) adj. extending through the whole world.

Worm (wurm) n. 1. any of several types of animal with a soft rounded or flattened body and no backbone or limbs. 2. the wormlike larva of certain insects. 3. worms, parasitic worms in the intestinal tract or other tissues, any disease caused by these. 4. an insignificant or contemptible person. worm v. 1. to move with a twisting movement like a worm; worm one's way or oneself; make one's way by wriggling or with slow or patient progress. 2. to obtain by crafty persistence, wormed the secret out of him. 3. to rid of parasitic worms.

Worm gear n. an arrangement of a toothalm wheel worked by a revolving spiral. worm wheel, the wheel of a worm gear.

Worm-eaten (wurm-ee-tān) adj. full of holes made by insect larvae.

Wormwood (wurm-wuud) n. 1. a woody plant with a bitter flavor. 2. bitter mortification.

Wormy (wurm-ī) adj. (worm-ī-er, worm-ī-est) full of worms, worm-eaten. worm-ī-ness n.

Worn (wōrm) see wear. worn adj. 1. damaged by use or wear. 2. looking tired and exhausted.

Worn-out (wōrm-ōt) adj. 1. used until no longer usable. 2. exhausted.

Worried (wur-ried) adj. feeling or showing worry.

Worried (wur-ried) adj. causing worry. worried adj. & adv.

Worriedly (wur-ried-lī) adv.

Worry (wur-ē) v. (worried, worry-ling) 1. to be troublesome to, to disturb the peace of mind of. 2. to give way to anxiety. 3. to seize with the teeth and shake or pull about, the dog was worrying a rat. worry n. (pl. -ries) 1. a state of worrying, mental uneasiness. 2. something that causes this. worried adj. worried adj. & adv.

Worry beads n. a string of beads for fiddling with to occupy or calm oneself.

Worry through to obtain (a solution to a problem etc.) by persistent effort.

Worried-wart (wur-ē-wart) n. a person who habitually worries needlessly.

Worse (wurs) adj. & adv. 1. more bad, more badly, more evil or ill. 2. less good, in or into less good health or condition or circumstances.

Worriedly (wur-ried-lī) adj. & adv. 1. more bad, more badly, more evil or ill. 2. less good, in or into less good health or condition or circumstances. worse n. something worse, there's worse to come. the worse for wear, damaged by use; injured or exhausted. worse luck, such is my bad fortune.

Worship v. (wor-shipped, wor-ship-ing) 1. to honor as a deity, to pay worship to. 2. to take part in an act of worship. 3. to idolize, to treat with adoration.

Worshipped (wurstid) adv.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. feeling or showing devotion or reverence. worshipful adj. & adv.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. 1. reverence and respect paid to God or a god. 2. acts or ceremonies displaying this. 3. adoration of or devotion to a person or thing. 4. (British) a title of respect used to or of a mayor or certain magistrates, his worship, your worship, their worship.

Worship v. (wor-shipped, wor-ship-ing) 1. to honor as a deity, to pay worship to. 2. to take part in an act of worship. 3. to idolize, to treat with adoration.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. most bad, most badly, most evil or ill, least good. worst n. the worst part or feature or state or event etc., we are prepared for the worst.

Worst (wurst) adj. & adv. 1. the worst part or feature or state or event etc., we are prepared for the worst. worst v. to get the better of, to defeat or outdo. at worst, in the worst possible case. the worst of, to be defeated in. if the worst comes to the worst, if the worst happens. get the worst of in.

Worst (wurst) adj. & adv. 1. the worst part or feature or state or event etc., we are prepared for the worst. worst v. to get the better of, to defeat or outdo. at worst, in the worst possible case. the worst of, to be defeated in. if the worst comes to the worst, if the worst happens. get the worst of in.

Worship v. (wor-shipped, wor-ship-ing) 1. to honor as a deity, to pay worship to. 2. to take part in an act of worship. 3. to idolize, to treat with adoration.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. most bad, most badly, most evil or ill, least good. worst n. the worst part or feature or state or event etc., we are prepared for the worst. worst v. to get the better of, to defeat or outdo. at worst, in the worst possible case. the worst of, to be defeated in. if the worst comes to the worst, if the worst happens. get the worst of in.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. most bad, most badly, most evil or ill, least good. worst n. the worst part or feature or state or event etc., we are prepared for the worst. worst v. to get the better of, to defeat or outdo. at worst, in the worst possible case. the worst of, to be defeated in. if the worst comes to the worst, if the worst happens. get the worst of in.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj. 1. reverence and respect paid to God or a god. 2. acts or ceremonies displaying this. 3. adoration of or devotion to a person or thing. 4. (British) a title of respect used to or of a mayor or certain magistrates, his worship, your worship, their worship.

Worship v. (wor-shipped, wor-ship-ing) 1. to honor as a deity, to pay worship to. 2. to take part in an act of worship. 3. to idolize, to treat with adoration.

Worshipful (wur-she-ful) adj.
worth-while (wurth-hw1l) adj. worth giving time, interest, etc. to, a worthwhile undertaking.

worth-y (wur-th3e) adj. (-thi-er, -thi-est) 1. having great merit, deserving respect or support, a worthy cause; worthy citizens. 2. having sufficient weight or merit, the cause is worthy of support.

worthy n. (pl. thes) a worthy person.

worth’ly adv. worth’ly-ness n.

would (wuu0d) auxiliary verb used 1. in senses corresponding to will in the past tense (we said we would do it), conditional statements (you could do it if you would try), questions (would they like it?) and polite requests and statements (would you come in please?; I would say it’s about right). 2. expressing something to be expected (that’s just what he would do!) or something that happens from time to time (occasionally the machine would go wrong). 3. expressing probability, she would be about sixty when she died. 4. in an incorrect use with I and we (see should definition 4).

would-be (wuu0d-bee) adj. desiring or pretending to be, a would-be humorist.

wouldn’t (wuu0d-нт) = would not.

I wouldn’t know, (informal) I do not know and cannot be expected to know.

wound1 n. (wound) wound 1. injury done to animal or vegetable tissue by a cut, stab, blow, or tear. 2. injury to a person’s reputation or feelings etc. wound v. to inflict a wound or wounds upon. wound’ing-ly adv.

wound2 see wind2.

wove (wuhv) see weave. wove adj. (of paper) made on a frame of closely woven wire.

wo-ven (woh-v3n) see weave.

wow1 (wow) interj. an exclamation of astonishment or admiration. wow n. (slang) a sensational success. wow v. (slang) to impress or excite greatly.

wow2 n. (in sound reproduction) a slow fluctuation of sound, perceptible in long notes.

WP abbr. word processing.

wpm abbr. words per minute.

wpn. abbr. weapon.

wrack1 (rak) n. (old use) ruin, a destroyed remnant.

wrack2 n. seaweed thrown up on the shore or growing there, used for manure.

wrath (rath) n. a ghost, a spectral apparition of a living person supposed to be a sign that he will die soon.

wrangle (rang-gel) v. (wrang-led, wran-gl1ng) 1. to have a noisy angry argument or quarrel. 2. to tend or herd (cattle or horses) in the western U.S. wrangle n. an argument or quarrel of this kind.

wrap (rap) v. (wrapped, wrap-ping) 1. to enclose in soft or flexible material used as a covering. 2. to arrange (a flexible covering or a garment etc.) around a person or thing, wrap a scarf around your neck. wrap n. a shawl or coat or cloak etc. worn for warmth. under wraps, in concealment or secrecy. wrapped up in, with one’s attention deeply occupied by, she is completely wrapped up in her children; deeply involved in, the country’s prosperity is wrapped up in its mineral trade. wrap up, to enclose in wrappings; to put on warm clothing; (slang) to finish, to cease talking.

wrap-a-round (rap-a-rownd) n. an object that extends around a thing, especially a garment that wraps around a person.

wrap-per (rap-er) n. 1. a cover of paper etc. wrapped around something. 2. a loose dressing gown.

wrap-ping (rap-ing) n. material used to wrap something. wrapping paper, paper used for wrapping packages.

wrasse (ras) n. a brightly-colored sea fish with thick lips and strong teeth.

wrath (rath) n. anger, indignation.

wrath’ful adj. full of anger or indignation. wrath’ful-ly adv. wrath’full-ness n.

wreak (reck) v. to inflict, to cause, wreak vengeance on a person; fog wreaked havoc with traffic.

wreath (reeth) n. (pl. wreaths, pr. reethz) 1. flowers or leaves etc. fastened into a ring and used as a decoration or placed on a grave etc. as a mark of respect. 2. a curving line of mist or smoke.

wreathe (reeth) v. (wreathed, wreath’ing) 1. to encircle or decorate with or as if with a wreath. 2. to twist into a wreath; their faces were wreathed in smiles, wrinkled with smiling. 3. to wind, the snake wreathed itself around the branch. 4. to move in a curving line, smoke wreathed upward.

wreck (rek) n. 1. the disabling or destruction of something, especially of a ship by storms or accidental damage. 2. a ship that has suffered wreck. 3. the remains of a greatly damaged building or vehicle or thing. 4. a person whose physical or mental health has been damaged or destroyed, a nervous wreck. wreck v. to cause the wreck of; wrecked the old building, tore it down; a mistake that wrecked his career, ruined it; overwork wrecked her, destroyed her health.

wreck-age (rek-iij) n. 1. the remains of something wrecked. 2. wrecking.

wreck-er (rek-er) n. 1. a person who wrench (rench) v. to twist or pull violently around, to damage or pull by twisting, wrung it off. wrench n. 1. a violent twist or twisting pull. 2. pain caused by parting, leaving home was a great wrench.
3. an adjustable tool for gripping and turning nuts, bolts, etc.

wrest (rest) v. 1. to wrench away, wrested his sword from him. 2. to obtain by effort or with difficulty, wrested a confession from him. 3. to twist or distort. wrest’er n.

wrestle (res’-əl) v. (wrestled, wrestling) 1. to fight (especially as a sport) by grappling with a person and trying to throw him to the ground. 2. to fight with (a person) in this way, police wrestled him to the ground. 3. to struggle to deal with or overcome, wrestled with the problem. wrestle n. a wrestling match, a hard struggle. wrest’ler n.

wrestling (res’-ling) n. a sport in which two opponents grapple with each other in an attempt to press the adversary’s shoulders to the mat.

wretch (rech) n. 1. a very unfortunate or miserable person. 2. a despicable person.

wretched’ed (rech-id) adj. 1. miserable, unhappy. 2. of poor quality, unsatisfactory.
3. causing discomfort or nuisance, confounded, this wretched car won’t start.
wretched’ed-ly adv. wretched’ed-ness n.

wriggle (rig-əl) v. (wriggled, wriggling) to move with short twisting movements; wriggle out of a difficulty, escape from it cunningly. wriggle n. a wriggling movement. wrig’gly adj. wrig’gler n.

wring (ring) v. (wrung, wringing) 1. to twist and squeeze in order to remove liquid. 2. to remove (liquid) in this way.
3. to squeeze firmly or forcibly; they wrung his hand, squeezed it warmly or emotionally; wring one’s hands, squeeze them together emotionally; wring the bird’s neck, kill it by twisting its neck.
4. to extract or obtain with effort or difficulty, wrung a promise from him. wring
n. a wringing movement, a squeeze or twist. wring’ing wet, so wet that moisture can be wrung from it.

wriggle (ring-əl) n. a device with a pair of rollers between which washed clothes etc. are passed so that water is squeezed out.

wring-kle (ring-kəl) n. 1. a small crease, a small furrow or ridge in the skin (especially the kind produced by age). 2. (informal) a clever idea or device. 3. (informal) a slight problem, wrinkles to be ironed out. wrinkle v. (wrinkled, wrinkling) to make wrinkles in, to form wrinkles.

wrist (rist) n. 1. the joint connecting hand and forearm. 2. the part of a garment covering this. □ slap on the wrist, a correction, a warning.

wrist-band (rist-band) n. the band forming or concealing the end of the shirt sleeve, the cuff.

wrist-let (rist-lit) n. a band or bracelet etc. worn around the wrist.

wrist-watch (rist-woch) n. a watch worn on a strap or band etc. around the wrist.

write (rit) v. (wrote, writen, writing) 1. to make letters or other symbols on a surface, especially with a pen or pencil on paper. 2. to form (letters or words or a message etc.) in this way; write a check, write the appropriate figures and words and signature etc. to make it valid.
3. to compose in written form for publication, to be an author, write books or music; he makes a living by writing. 4. to write and send a letter, write to me often. 5. to write to, I will write you soon.
6. to indicate clearly, guilt was written all over her. □ write down, to put into writing. write in, to insert (a name not listed on a ballot etc.) instead of voting for one that is on it. write off, to cancel; to recognize as lost. write out, to write (a thing) in full or in a finished form. write up, to write (a report etc.) of, to record (a sale) etc.

write-in (rit-in) n. 1. a candidate not listed on a ballot, but written in by a voter.
2. a vote for such a candidate. write-in adj.

write-off (rit-awf) n. something written off as lost, such as a vehicle too badly damaged to be worth repairing.

write-er (rit-ər) n. 1. a person who writes or has written something, one who writes in a certain way. 2. a person who writes books etc., an author. □ writer’s cram, cramp in the muscles of the hand.

write-up (rit-up) n. a published account of something, a review.

writh (rit) v. (writhed, writhing) 1. to twist one’s body about, as in pain.
2. to wriggle, writhing snakes. 3. to suffer because of great shame or embarrassment, writhing under the insult.
writing (rw-ting) n. 1. handwriting. 2. literary work, a piece of this, in the writings of Charles Dickens. □ In writing, in written form. the writing on the wall, an event signifying that something is doomed (> after the Biblical story of the writing that appeared on the wall of Belshazzar’s palace, foretelling his doom). writing desk, a desk for writing, especially one with compartments for papers etc. writing paper, paper for writing on, especially for writing letters.

writ-ten (rit-en) see write.

wrong (rawng) adj. 1. (of conduct or actions) morally bad, contrary to justice or to what is right. 2. incorrect, not true. 3. not what is required or suitable or most desirable, backed the wrong horse; get hold of the wrong end of the stick; misunderstand a statement or situation; wrong side, (of fabric) the side that is not meant to show. 4. not in a normal condition, not functioning normally, there’s something wrong with the gearbox. wrong adv. in a wrong manner or direction, mistakenly, you guessed wrong.

wrong n. 1. what is morally wrong, a wrong action. 2. injustice, an unjust action or treatment, they did us a great wrong. wrong v. 1. to do wrong to, to treat unjustly, a wronged wife. 2. to attribute bad motives to (a person) mistakenly. wrong’ly adv. wrong’ness n.

get a person wrong, to misunderstand him. In the wrong, not having justice or truth on one’s side. on the wrong side of, in disfavor with or not liked by (a person); on the wrong side of forty, over forty years old.

wrong-do-ing (rawng-doo-ing) n. action contrary to law or to moral standards.

wrong’do-er n.

wrong-ful (rawng-ful) adj. contrary to what is fair or just or legal. wrong’ful-ly adv. wrong’ful-ness n.

wrong-head-ed (rawng-hed-id) adj. perverse and obstinate. wrong’head-ed-ly adv. wrong’head-ed-ness n.

wrote (roht) see write.

wroth (rawth) adj. (old use) angry.

wrought (rawt) (old use) = worked.

wrought adj. (of metals) beaten out or shaped by hammering. □ wrought iron, iron made by forging or rolling, not cast.

wrought-up (rawt-up) adj. very excited or perturbed.

wrung (rung) see wring.

wry (ri) adj. (wri-er, wri-est) 1. twisted or bent out of shape. 2. twisted into an expression of disgust or disappointment or mockery, a wry face. 3. (of humor) dry and mocking. wry’ly adv. wry’ness n.

WSW abbr. west-southwest.

wt. abbr. weight.

wurst (wurst, woorst) n. (informal) sausage.

WV abbr. West Virginia.

W. Va. abbr. West Virginia.

WW I abbr. World War I.

WW II abbr. World War II.

Wy abbr. Wyoming.

Wyo. abbr. Wyoming.

Wy-o-mining (wr-oh-mining) a state of the U.S.
X, x (eks) (pl. Xs, X's, x's) 1. the twenty-fourth letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral symbol for 10.

x symbol 1. an unknown quantity. 2. times (indicating multiplication), \(2 \times 2 = 4\).
3. power of magnification. 4. by (indicating dimension), a \(3 \times 5\) card.
5. x-rated.

x (eks) v. (x-ed or x'd, x-ing or x'ing) (informal) to cancel by writing a series of x's over, x out your mistakes.

X abbr. experimental.

X symbol 1. Christ (see the note under Xmas). 2. a signature by a person unable to write his name.

x-ax·is (eks-ak-sis) n. (pl. -ax·es, pr. -ak-seez) the horizontal axis in a plane coordinate system, along which the abscissa is measured.

X chromosome a chromosome in which the number of cells of one sex (in humans, the female) is twice that of the other sex.

Xe symbol xenon.

xe·ro·phyte (zeer-ô-fit) n. a plant able to grow in very dry conditions, as in a desert.

Xe·ro·phyt·ism n. xe·ro·phyt·ic adj.

Xer·ox (zeer-oks) n. (trademark) 1. a process for producing xerographic copies without the use of wet materials.
2. a copy made in this way. xerox v. to copy or be copied by a process of this kind.

x·i (zi, si) n. (pl. x·i·a) the fourteenth letter of the Greek alphabet (Ξ ξ).

XL abbr. extra large.

Xmas (kris-mäs) n. = Christmas.

The X represents the Greek letter chi (= ch), the first letter of Christos (the Greek word for Christ).

Xn. abbr. Christian.

Xnty. abbr. Christianity.

x·ra·t·ed (eks-ray-tid) adj. (of films) not to be seen by persons under seventeen years old.

x-ray (eks-ray) n. (also x ray, X-ray) a photograph or examination made by means of a kind of electromagnetic radiation (x-rays) that can penetrate solids and make it possible to see into or through them. x-ray v. to photograph or examine or treat by this radiation.

□x-ray astronomy, the study of the emission of x-rays by stars, observable only from satellites in outer space. x-ray star, a star emitting a high proportion of x-rays.

xy·iem (zx-iem) n. the woody tissue of a plant.

xy·lo·phone (zx-lo-fohn) n. a musical instrument consisting of flat wooden bars, graduated in length, which produce different notes when struck with small hammers.

xy·lo·phon·ist n. xy·lo·phon·ic (zx-lo-fohn-ik) adj.
Y

Y, y (wi) (pl. Ys, Y's, y's) the twenty-fifth letter of the alphabet.

-y suffix used to form adjectives with these meanings: full of; as in messy; having the quality of, as in slang; like, as in gluey; addicted to, as in horsey; inclined to, as in preachy; apt to, as in nippy; somewhat, as in nappy; having marked or superficial characteristics, as in catty.

-y suffix (pl. -les) used to form nouns meaning state or condition or quality, as in glory: action or its result, as in remedy: business or goods, as in bindery: an entire object formed, as in company, library.

-y suffix (pl. -les) used to form diminutive nouns and pet names, as in Franny, Sally.

Y symbol yttrium.

y. abbr. 1. year(s). 2. yard(s).

Y. abbr. 1. YMCA. 2. YMHA. 3. YWCA. 4. YWHA.

yacht (yahht) n. 1. a light sailing vessel for racing. 2. a similar vessel for travel on sand or ice. 3. a power or sailing vessel used for private pleasure excursions.

yacht v. to race or cruise in a yacht.

yacht-ling (yahht-ling) n. racing or cruising in a yacht.

yachts-man (yahhts-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -mên) a person who owns or sails a yacht.

yack = yak².

yak (yahk) interj. an exclamation of scorn of defiance.

ya-hoo (yah-hoo) n. a coarse or brutish person. > The name of an imaginary race of brutish men in Swift's Gulliver's Travels (1726).

Yah-weh (yah-we) n. the ancient Hebrew name for God, corresponding to Jehovah.

yak¹ (yahk) n. a long-haired ox of central Asia.

yak² v. (yakked, yak-king) (slang) to chatter persistently.

yam (yam) n. 1. the edible starchy tuber of a tropical climbing plant, the plant itself. 2. the sweet potato (see sweet).

yam-mer (yam-ér) v. (slang) 1. to wail or grumble. 2. to persist in talking loudly. yam’mer·er n.

yank (yank) v. (informal) to pull with a sudden sharp tug. yank n. (informal) a sudden sharp tug.

Yank (yank) n. (informal) Yankee (definition 1).

Yan·kee (yang-kee) n. 1. an American. 2. an inhabitant of the northern states of the U.S., especially New England. Yankee adj.

Ya·oun·dé (ya-oon-day) the capital of Cameroon.

yap (yap) n. 1. a shrill bark. 2. (slang) a mouth, shut your yap. yap v. (yapped, yap-ping) 1. to bark shrilly. 2. (slang) to chatter, to complain.

yard¹ (yahrd) n. 1. a measure of length, = 3 feet or 0.9144 meter. 2. a long pole-like piece of wood stretched horizontally or crosswise from a mast to support a sail. □ yard goods, fabrics sold by the yard.

yard² n. 1. the grounds around a house or other building. 2. a piece of enclosed ground, especially one attached to a building or surrounded by buildings or used for a particular kind of work etc., a lumber yard. 3. an area of railroad tracks and switches where trains are assembled.

yard-age (yahr-dij) n. a length measured in yards.

yard-arm (yahrd-ahrm) n. either end of a yard supporting a sail.

yard-bird (yahrd-burd) n. (slang) a convict or prisoner.

yard-man (yahrd-man) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) a gardener, a man who does various outdoor jobs.

yard-mas-ter (yahrd-mas-tër) n. the manager of a railroad yard.

yard-stick (yahrd-stik) n. a standard of comparison.

1083
year-mul'ke (yahr-mül-ké) n. a skullcap worn by Jewish men, especially in a synagogue.

yarn (yahrn) n. 1. any spun thread, especially of the kinds prepared for knitting or weaving or rope-making. 2. (informal) a tale, especially one that is exaggerated or invented. yarn v. (informal) to tell yarns.

yar-row (yahr-oh) n. a plant with feathery leaves and strong-smelling white or pinkish flowers.

yaw (yaw) v. (of a ship or aircraft etc.) to fail to hold a straight course, to turn from side to side. yaw n. a yawing movement or course.

yawl (yawl) n. a kind of sailing boat with two masts.

yawn (yawn) v. 1. to open the mouth wide and draw in breath (often involuntarily), as when sleepy or bored. 2. to have a wide opening, to form a chasm. yaw n. the act of yawning. yawn'er n.

yaws (yawz) n. a tropical skin disease causing raspberry-like swellings.

-y-axis (wi-ak-sis) n. the vertical axis in a plane coordinate system, along which the ordinate is measured.

Yb symbol ytterbium.

Y chromosome a chromosome occurring in the cells of only one sex (in humans, the male), whose presence or absence in the zygote determines the sex of the new individual formed in reproduction.

y-clept (ee-klept) adj. (also y-cleped) (old use) called (by the name of).

yd. abbr. yard.

yds. abbr. yards.

ye1 (ye) pronoun (old use) you.

ye2 adj. (supposed old use) the, ye olde teashopper.

yea (yay) adv. & n. (old use) yes.

yeah (yair) adv. (informal) yes. □ oh yeah?, an expression of incredulity.

year (yer) n. 1. the time taken by Earth to make one complete orbit of the sun, about 365 1/4 days. 2. the period from January 1 to December 31 inclusive. 3. any period of twelve consecutive months. 4. years, age in years, he looks younger than his years; a very long time, we've been waiting for years.

year-book (yer-buuk) n. an annual publication containing current information about a particular subject.

year-end (yer-end) n. the end of a year.

year-end adj. occurring at the end of a year.

year-ling (yer-ling) n. an animal between one and two years old.

year-long (yer-lawng) adj. lasting a year.

year-ly (yer-lee) adj. happening or published or payable etc. once a year, annually.

yearn (yarn) v. to be filled with great longing.

year-round (yer-rownd) adj. existing or operating throughout the year.

yeast (yeest) n. a kind of fungus that causes alcohol and carbon dioxide to be produced while it is developing, used to cause fermentation in making beer and wines and as a leavening agent in baking.

yeast-y (yees-tee) adj. (yeast-l-er, yeast-l-est) 1. frothy like yeast when it is developing. 2. tasting of yeast. 3. very enthusiastic or joyful. yeast-l-ly adv. yeast-l-ness n.

yegg (yeg) n. (slang) 1. a safecracker. 2. a thug.

yell (yel) v. to give a loud cry, to shout.

yell n. 1. a loud cry. 2. an organized cry used by students to encourage an athletic team, the college yell. yell'er n.

yel-low (yel-oh) adj. 1. of the color of buttercups and ripe lemons, or a color approaching this. 2. (informal) cowardly. yellow n. 1. yellow color. 2. a yellow substance or material, especially the yolk of an egg. yellow v. to make or become yellow. yel-low-ly adv. yel-low-ness n.

yellow birch, an American tree with silvery or yellowish bark. yellow fever, a tropical disease with fever and jaundice. yellow jack, yellow fever; a flag raised to show that a ship is in quarantine. yellow jacket, a wasp with black and yellow bands around its body. yellow pages, the section of a telephone directory (printed on yellow paper) that lists business subscribers according to the goods or services they offer. yellow peril, the supposed danger that the yellow races may overwhelm the white or overrun the world. yellow streak, (informal) cowardice in a person's character.

yel-low-bellied (yel-oh-bell-ed) adj. cowardly. □ yellowbellled sapsucker or woodpecker, a bird of eastern America with straw-yellow feathers on its belly.

yel-low-dog (yel-oh-dawg) contract an employment contract that prevents workers from joining a labor union.

yel-low-ham-mer (yel-oh-ham-er) n. a kind of European bunting, the male of which has a yellow head, neck, and breast.

yel-low-ish (yel-oh-ish) adj. rather yellow.

yelp (yelp) n. a sharp shrill cry or bark.

yelp v. to utter a yelp.

Yem-en (yem-ën) the name of two countries in the Arabian peninsula, the Yemen yen 1 (yen) n. (pl. yen) the unit of money in Japan.

yen 2 n. (informal) a long, a yearning.
yeo-man (yoh-maen) n. (pl. -men, pr. -men) 1. a petty officer of the U.S. Navy whose duties are chiefly clerical. 2. (British) a man who owns and works a small farm. yeoman service, long and useful service.
yeo-man-ry (yoh-maen-ree) n. a body of yeomen (definition 2).
yes (yes) adv. 1. it is so, the statement is correct. 2. what you request or command will be done. 3. (as a question) what do you want? 4. (in answer to a summons etc.) I am here. yes n. (pl. yes-es) the word or answer "yes." yes man, a man who always agrees with his superior in a weak or sycophantic way.
ye-shi-va (yee-shi-vah) n. (pl. -va) 1. a Jewish elementary school. 2. a seminary for rabbinical students.
yes-ter-day (yeh-ster-day) adv. 1. the day before today. 2. the recent past. yesterday adv. on the day before today, in the recent past.
yes-ter-year (yeh-ster-year) n. last year or recent years.
yet (yet) adv. 1. up to this or that time and continuing, still, there’s life in the old dog yet. 2. by this or that time, so far, it hasn’t happened yet. 3. besides, in addition, heard it yet again. 4. before the matter is done with, eventually, I’ll get even with you yet. 5. even she became yet more excited. 6. nevertheless, strange yet true. yet conj. nevertheless, but in spite of that, he worked hard, yet he failed. as yet, see as.
yet-i (yet-i) n. (pl. yet-i-as) the native (Sherpa) name for the “Abominable Snowman” (see abominable).
yew (you) n. 1. an evergreen tree with dark green needlelike leaves and red berries. 2. its wood.
yid-lish (yid-ish) n. a language used by Jews in or from central and eastern Europe, based on a German dialect and with words from Hebrew and various modern languages.
yield (yeld) v. 1. to give or return as fruit or gain or result, the land yields good crops; the investment yields 15%. 2. to ordered, to do what is requested or ordered, the town yielded; he yielded to persuasion. 3. to be inferior or confess inferiority, I yield to none in appreciation of his merits. 4. (of traffic) to allow other traffic to have the right of way. 5. to be able to be forced out of the natural or usual shape, as when under pressure. 6. to allow another the right to speak in a debate etc. yield n. the amount yielded or produced, the quantity obtained.
yin and yang (yin an yang) (in Chinese philosophy) the passive female (yin) and the active male (yang) principles of the universe.
yip (yip) v. (yipped, yip ping) to yelp. yip n. a yelp.
yip pee (yip-ee) interj. an exclamation of excitement.
y.o. abbr. year(s) old.
y.o.b. abbr. year of birth.
yo-del (yoh-del) v. (yo-deled, yodel ing) to sing, or utter a musical call, so that the voice alternates continually between falsetto and its normal pitch.
yodel n. a yodeling cry. yodel er n.
yo ga (yoh-ga) n. 1. a Hindu system of meditation and self-control designed to produce mystical experience and spiritual insight. 2. a system of physical exercises and breathing control.
yo ghurt, yo gurt (yoh-gurt) n. a food prepared from milk that has been thickened by the action of certain bacteria.
yo gl (yoh-gee) n. (pl. -gles) a devotee of yoga.
yoke (yohk) n. (pl. yok es) 1. a wooden crosspiece fastened over the necks of two oxen or other animals pulling a cart or plow etc. 2. a piece of timber shaped to fit a person’s shoulders and to hold a pail or other load snug from each end. 3. a part of a garment fitting around the shoulders or hips and from which the rest hangs. 4. oppression, burdensome restraint, throw off the yoke of servitude. yoke v. (yoked, yok ing) 1. to put a yoke upon, to harness by means of a yoke, yoke oxen to the plow. 2. to unite, yoked to an unwilling partner. Do not confuse yoke with yolk.
yo kel (yoh-kel) n. a simple country fellow, a country bumpkin. yolk (yohk) n. the round yellow internal part of an egg. Do not confuse yolk with yoke.
Yom Kip pur (yom kip-ur) the Day of Atonement, the most solemn day of the Jewish year, eight days after Rosh Hashanah, observed with fasting and prayers of repentance.
yon (yon) adj. & adv. (old use) yonder.
yon der (yon-dar) adv. over there. yonder adj. situated or able to be seen over there.
yore (yohr) n. of yore, of long ago, in days of yore.
you (yoo) pronoun 1. the person(s) addressed. 2. one, anyone, everyone, you never can tell.
you-all (yoo-awl) pronoun (Southern U.S. informal) you (pl.).
you'd (yood) = you had, you would.
you'll (yool) = you will.
young (yung) adj. 1. having lived or existed for only a short time; the young. young people. 2. not far advanced in time, the night is young. 3. youthful, having little experience. 4. used in speaking of or to a young person, young Smith.
young n. the offspring of animals, before or soon after birth.
□ with young, (of animals) pregnant.
young blood, (informal) young people; new ideas. young lady, a genteel young woman; a man's sweetheart or girl friend. young man, a woman's sweetheart or boy friend.
young-ish (yung-ish) adj. fairly young.
young-ling (yung-ling) n. a young person, animal, or plant.
youngster (yung-stér) n. a young person, a child.
your (yoor) adj. of or belonging to you.
you're (yoor) = you are.
yours (yoorz) possessive pronoun 1. belonging to you, the thing(s) belonging to you, she especially, liked yours. 2. used in phrases for ending letters: yours, used casually to friends. sincerely yours, used in letters to acquaintances and to friends (other than close friends), and often also in business letters addressing a person by name (as beginning "Dear Mr. Brown"), where it is now more frequently used than yours truly. very truly yours, a form of yours truly (now seldom used). yours truly, used to slight acquaintances and in business letters; (informal) = me, the awkward jobs are always left for yours truly. □ It is incorrect to write your's (see the note under its).
yourself (yoor-self) pronoun (pl. -selves, pr. -selvz) corresponding to you, used in the same ways as himself.
youth (yooth) n. (pl. youths, pr. yooth) 1. being young. 2. the period between childhood and maturity, the vigor or lack of experience etc. characteristic of this. 3. a young man, a youth of sixteen. 4. young people collectively, the youth of the country. □ youth hostel, a hostel providing cheap accommodation where young people who are hiking or on tour etc. may stay overnight.
youthful (yooth-ful) adj. 1. young, looking or seeming young. 2. characteristic of young people, youthful impatience.
youthfully adv. youthful ness n.
you've (yoo) = you have.
yowl (yowl) n. a loud wailing cry, a howl.
yowl v. to utter a yowl.
yo-yo (yoh-yoh) n. (pl. -yos) 1. a toy consisting of two circular parts with a deep groove between, which can be made to rise and fall on a string (attached to it) when this is jerked by a finger. 2. (slang) a stupid person.
yr. abbr. 1. year. 2. younger. 3. your.
yrkb. abbr. yearbook.
yrs. abbr. 1. years. 2. yours.
y-t-ter-bi-um (i-tu-ri-bi-üm) n. a metallic element.
y-t-tri-um (ee-tri-üm) n. a metallic element.
yu-an (yoo-ah) n. (pl. yu-an) the unit of money in China.
yucca (yuk-ä) n. a tall plant with white bell-like flowers and stiff spiky leaves.
Yu-kon (yoo-kon) a territory of northwest Canada.
yule (yool) n. (also Yule, yuletide, Yuletide) (old use) the Christmas festival. □ yule log, a large log traditionally burned in the fireplace on Christmas Eve.
yum-my (yum-ee) adj. (-mi-er, -mi-est) (informal) tasty, delicious.
yurt (yoor) n. a circular skin- or felt-covered tent with a collapsible frame, originally used by Mongolian nomads.
YWCA abbr. Young Women's Christian Association.
YWHA abbr. Young Women's Hebrew Association.
Z, z (zee) (pl. Za, Z’s, z’s) the twenty-sixth letter of the alphabet.
Z symbol atomic number.
z. abbr. 1. zero. 2. zone.
Za‘ire (zah-ee-r) a country in Central Africa. Za‘ri-‘lan adj. & n.
Zam‘bi-a (zam-bi-ä) a country in Central Africa. Zam‘bi-‘lan adj. & n.
za‘ny (zay-nee) n. (pl. -nies) a comical or eccentric person. zany adj. (-ni-er, -ni-est) crazily funny. za‘ni-ly adv. za‘ni-ness n.
zap (zap) v. (zapped, zap·ping) (slang) to hit, attack, knock out, or kill.
zeal (zeel) n. enthusiasm, hearty and persistent effort.
zeal-ot (zel-oit) n. a zealous person, a fanatic. zeal-ous (zel-ús) adj. full of zeal. zeal’ous·ly adv. zeal’ous·ness n. ▲ Do not confuse zealous with jealous.
ze·bra (zee-bra) n. (pl. -bras, -bra) an African animal of the horse family with a body entirely covered by black and white stripes.
ze·bu (zee-byoo) n. (pl. -bus, -bu) a humped ox found in India, East Asia, and Africa.
zed (zed) n. (British) the letter z.
Zelt·geist (tsel-gist) n. the trend of thought and feeling in a period. ▲ German, = time spirit.
Zen (zen) n. a form of Buddhism emphasizing the value of meditation and intuition.
za·na·na (zah-nah-nah) n. that part of a house in which women of high-caste families were formerly secluded in India.
ze·nith (zeen-thith) n. 1. the part of the sky that is directly above an observer. 2. the highest point, his power was at its zenith. ze·nith·al (zeen-thith-ah) adj.
ze·o·lite (zee-oh-lite) n. one of a number of minerals consisting mainly of hydrous silicates of calcium, sodium, and aluminum, and used to soften water. ze·o·lit·ic (zee-oh-lith-ik) adj.
ze·ph·yr (zef-ir) n. a soft gentle wind.
Zep·pe·lin, zep·pe·lin (zep·pe·lin) n. a large cylindrical airship having a rigid covered frame containing gas cells, built originally for military use in Germany in the early 20th century. ▲ Named for Count F. von Zeppelin (1838–1917), who constructed the original.
ze·ro (zeer-oh) n. (pl. -ros, -roes) 1. naught, the figure 0. 2. nothing, nil. 3. the point marked 0 on a graduated scale, especially on a thermometer. 4. the temperature corresponding to zero. zero v. (ze·ro·ed, ze·ro·ing) to adjust (an instrument etc.) to zero. zero adj. without quantity, value, or magnitude. ▲ zero hour, the hour at which something is timed to begin. zero in on, to focus one’s aim on, to go purposefully toward.
ze·ta (zay-tah) n. the sixth letter of the Greek alphabet (Ζ).
Zeus (zeos) n. the supreme deity in Greek mythology.
zig·zag (zig-zag) n. a line or course that turns right and left alternately at sharp angles. zigzag adj. & adv. forming or in a zigzag. zigzag v. (zig·zagged, zig·zag·ging) to move in a zigzag course.
zilch (zilch) n. (slang) nothing, zero.
zil·lion (zil-yon) n. (informal) an indefinite large number.
Zim·ba·we (zim-bahb-we) a country in central Africa. Zim·ba·we·an adj. & n.
zinc (zingk) n. a hard bluish-white metallic element. zinc v. (zincked, zinck·ing) to coat or treat with zinc. ▲ zinc ointment, an ointment containing 20% zinc oxide. zinc oxide, a powder used as a pigment, in treating certain skin conditions, and in many other ways.
zing (zing) n. 1. a high-pitched humming sound. 2. (informal) vigor, energy. zing v. 1. to move swiftly or with a zing. 2. (slang) to criticize harshly.
zin·ni·a (zin-nee-a) n. a daisy-like garden plant with brightly-colored flowers.
Zi·on (zi-ôn) n. 1. the holy hill of ancient Jerusalem, Mount Zion. 2. the Jewish people. 3. the Jewish homeland as a symbol of Judaism. 4. the kingdom of heaven.

Zi·on·ism (zi-ō-niz-ĕm) n. a movement founded in 1897 that has sought and achieved the founding and development of a Jewish homeland (now Israel) in Palestine. Zi·on·ist adj. & n.

zip1 (zip) n. 1. a short sharp sound like that of a bullet going through the air. 2. energy, vigor, liveliness. zip v. (zipped, zip·ping) 1. to open or close with a zipper. 2. to move with the sound of "zip" or at high speed. □ zip gun, a homemade gun consisting of a tube attached to a piece of wood etc. and firing real bullets.

zip2 n. (slang) zero, nothing, especially as a score in a sports event.

zip3 v. (zipped, zip·ping) (informal) to put a zip code on.

zip code (also ZIP code) a system of five-figure numbers used to identify postal delivery areas. ▲ From zone improvement plan.

zip·per (zip·ër) n. a fastening device consisting of two flexible strips of material with projections that interlock when brought together by a sliding tab. zipper v. (informal) to fasten with a zipper. zip· per·ed adj.

zip·py (zip·ee) adj. (-pl·er, -pl·est) (informal) lively and vigorous.

zir·con (zur·kon) n. a bluish-white gem cut from a translucent mineral.

zir·co·ni·um (zir·koh·ni·ŭm) n. a gray metallic element used in various industrial applications.

zith·er (zith·ër) n. a musical instrument with many strings stretched over a shallow boxlike body, played by plucking with the fingers of both hands. zith·er·ist n.

Zn symbol zinc.

zo·di·ac (zoh·di-ak) n. (in astrology) 1. a band of the sky containing the paths of the sun, moon, and principal planets, divided into twelve equal parts (called signs of the zodiac) each named from a constellation that was formerly situated in it. 2. a diagram of these signs. zo·di·a·cal (zoh·di·ă·kăl) adj.

Zom·ba (zom·bă) the capital of Malawi.

zom·bie (zom·bee) n. 1. (in voodoo) a corpse said to have been revived by witchcraft. 2. (informal) a person thought to resemble this, one who seems to have no mind or will.

zone (zohn) n. an area that has particular characteristics or a particular purpose or use. zone v. (zoned, zon·ing) 1. to divide into zones. 2. to designate (an area) for a specific use, to arrange or distribute by zones, to assign to a particular area. zon·al adj. zoned adj. zo·na·tion (zoh·nay·shún) n. □ zone defense, a system of defense in basketball or football etc. in which each defensive player has an assigned zone in which to play.

zonked (zongkt) adj. (slang) intoxicated by alcohol or stupefied by a drug.

zoo (zoo) n. (pl. zoos) a place where wild animals are kept for exhibition and study.

zo·o·ge·o·ra·phy (zoh·ō·jē·ō·ra·fē) n. the scientific study of the local distribution of animals. zo·o·ge·o·graph·ic (zoh·ō·jē·ō·graf·i-k) adj. zo·o·ge·o·graph·i·cal adj.

zool. abbr. 1. zoological. 2. zoology.

zo·o·ol·o·gist (zoh·ō·ol·ō·jist) n. an expert in zoology.

zo·o·ol·o·gy (zoh·ō·ol·ō·jē) n. the scientific study of animals. zo·o·log·ic (zoh·ō·lo·jik) n. zo·o·log·ical (zoh·ō·lo·jĭk·ăl) adj. □ zoological garden, a zoo.

zoom (zoom) v. 1. to move quickly, especially with a buzzing sound. 2. to rise quickly, prices had zoomed. 3. (in photography) to alter the size of the image by means of a zoom lens. zoom n. an act of zooming. □ zoom lens, a camera lens that can be adjusted from a long shot to a close-up (and vice versa), giving an effect of going steadily closer to (or farther from) the subject.

zo·o·mor·phism (zoh·ō·mor·fĭz·ĕm) n. 1. belief in gods of animal form. 2. the representation of animal forms in art.

zo·o·phyte (zoh·ō·fīt) n. a plantlike animal, especially coral, sponge, sea anemone, and jellyfish.

zo·o·plank·ton (zoh·ō·plang·kton) n. plankton consisting of animals.

zo·o·spore (zoh·ō·spōr) n. an asexual spore capable of motion.

zoot (zoot) suit (informal) a man's suit with a long loose jacket and high-waisted loose taping trousers. zoot'suit'er n. (informal) a person who wears such clothing.

zo·ro·as·tri·anism (zoh·rō·as·tri·ă·niz-ĕm) n. the religion of the Magi and of ancient Persia, founded by Zoroaster.

zo·ro·as·tri·an adj. & n.

zou·ave (zoo·āv) n. 1. a member of a French infantry corps originally formed of Algerians and retaining their Oriental uniform. 2. a member of any military group wearing such a uniform, especially certain volunteers in the U.S. Civil War.

zow·le (zow·le) interj. (informal) an expression of excitement and approval.

zo·y·si·a (zoi·si·ă) n. a thick creeping perennial grass, sometimes used in lawns.

ZPG abbr. zero population growth.

Zr symbol zirconium.

zuc-chet-to (zoo-ket-oh) n. (pl. -toes) (in the Roman Catholic Church) an ecclesiastical skullcap, black for a priest, purple for a bishop, red for a cardinal, and white for the pope.

zuc-chi-ni (zoo-kee-nee) n. (pl. -ni, -nis) a green-skinned summer squash.

Zu-lu (zoo-loo) n. (pl. -lus, -lu) 1. a member of a Bantu people of South Africa. 2. their language. Zulu adj. of Zulus or their language.

Zu-nil (zoo-nyee) n. (pl. -nis, -nli) 1. a member of an Indian tribe of North America living in western New Mexico. 2. their language. Zu-nil-an adj. & n.

zwie-back (zwi-bak, swi-, zwee-, swee-) n. a kind of bread thickly sliced and toasted until it is very dry.

zy-gote (zi-goht) n. the cell formed by the union of two gametes, the first cell of a new individual. zy-got-ic (zi-got-ik) adj.

zy-mur-gy (zi-mur-je) n. the branch of applied chemistry dealing with the use of fermentation in brewing etc.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>abjure</th>
<th>altogether</th>
<th>be</th>
<th>careless</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>absorb</td>
<td>ambiguous</td>
<td>because</td>
<td>cavalary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>absorbent</td>
<td>amend</td>
<td>behind</td>
<td>censer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abstemious</td>
<td>amid</td>
<td>beside</td>
<td>censor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>accede</td>
<td>among</td>
<td>besides</td>
<td>censure</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>accept</td>
<td>amount</td>
<td>better(^1)</td>
<td>center</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>access</td>
<td>amphitheater</td>
<td>between</td>
<td>ceremonial</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>acclaim</td>
<td>and</td>
<td>beware</td>
<td>ceremonious</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>acclimate</td>
<td>anecdote</td>
<td>biannual</td>
<td>changed</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>across</td>
<td>Antarctica</td>
<td>biennial</td>
<td>change</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>activate</td>
<td>ante-</td>
<td>bimonthly</td>
<td>changes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>actuate</td>
<td>anti-</td>
<td>bisect</td>
<td>chaff</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adapt</td>
<td>anticipate</td>
<td>biweekly</td>
<td>chaise</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjoin</td>
<td>antidote</td>
<td>blame</td>
<td>chanceller</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjourn</td>
<td>anxious</td>
<td>bloc</td>
<td>chancery</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjure</td>
<td>anymore</td>
<td>block</td>
<td>childish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>administer</td>
<td>anyone</td>
<td>bona fides</td>
<td>childlike</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>administrate</td>
<td>anyplace</td>
<td>born</td>
<td>Chinaman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adopt</td>
<td>anyway</td>
<td>borne</td>
<td>classic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adsorb</td>
<td>anywhere</td>
<td>bring</td>
<td>classical</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adsorbent</td>
<td>appraise</td>
<td>broach</td>
<td>cleft(^1)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>advantage</td>
<td>apprise</td>
<td>brooch</td>
<td>climactic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adverse</td>
<td>aqueduct</td>
<td>burst</td>
<td>climate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>advice</td>
<td>around</td>
<td>chaff</td>
<td>clique</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>advise</td>
<td>arrogate</td>
<td>childish</td>
<td>colored</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affect</td>
<td>Asiatic</td>
<td>but</td>
<td>compare</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affectation</td>
<td>assay</td>
<td>buy</td>
<td>compel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affection</td>
<td>assume</td>
<td>calendar</td>
<td>complaisant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aggravate</td>
<td>aural</td>
<td>calender</td>
<td>complaisant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ain't</td>
<td>author</td>
<td>callous</td>
<td>complement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>alibi</td>
<td>averse</td>
<td>callus</td>
<td>complementary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>allow</td>
<td>awful</td>
<td>Calvary</td>
<td>compliment</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>allude</td>
<td>awfully</td>
<td>can(^2)</td>
<td>complimentary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>allusion</td>
<td>back(^2)</td>
<td>candelabrum</td>
<td>comprise</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>almanac</td>
<td>bad</td>
<td>cannon</td>
<td>confidant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>alongside</td>
<td>badly</td>
<td>cannot</td>
<td>confident</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>already</td>
<td>bail(^1)</td>
<td>canon</td>
<td>congenital</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>alternate(^1)</td>
<td>bail(^2)</td>
<td>canvas</td>
<td>connotation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>alternate(^2)</td>
<td>bail(^3)</td>
<td>canvass</td>
<td>consensus</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>alternate(^3)</td>
<td>bale</td>
<td>capital</td>
<td>contact</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>although</td>
<td></td>
<td>capitol</td>
<td>continual</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> stratum subconscious suit suite summons sure take temblor terminable terminal than thankfully that their theirs
there they're thrips
thus
to too translate transliterate transpire tremble tremendous trooper trouper truism truth turbid turgid
two type unconscious unction unctuousness
under underlay underlie unexceptionable unexceptional unintelligent unintelligible uninterested unique until unwanted unwonted valance valence valuable valueless vantage venal venial verbal vertex visible visual viz.
vortex
wait waive waiver wave waver well² whence where which whiskey, whisky who's whose -wise wont won't yoke yolk
yours
yours
zealous
The Metric System of Weights and Measures

Linear Measure

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit</th>
<th>Equivalent in Inches</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 millimeter</td>
<td>0.039 inch</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 centimeter = 10 millimeters</td>
<td>0.394 inch</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 decimeter = 10 centimeters</td>
<td>3.94 inches</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 meter = 10 decimeters</td>
<td>1.094 yards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 dekameter = 10 meters</td>
<td>10.94 yards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 hectometer = 100 meters</td>
<td>109.4 yards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 kilometer = 1,000 meters</td>
<td>0.6214 mile</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Square Measure

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit</th>
<th>Equivalent in Square Units</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 square centimeter</td>
<td>0.155 square inches</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 square meter</td>
<td>1.96 square yards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 are = 100 square meters</td>
<td>119.6 square yards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 hectare = 100 ares</td>
<td>2.471 acres</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 square kilometer</td>
<td>0.386 square mile</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Cubic Measure

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit</th>
<th>Equivalent in Cubic Units</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 cubic centimeter</td>
<td>0.061 cubic inch</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 cubic meter</td>
<td>1.308 cubic yards</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Capacity Measure

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit</th>
<th>Equivalent in Units</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 milliliter</td>
<td>0.002 pint</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 centiliter = 10 milliliters</td>
<td>0.021 pint</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 deciliter = 10 centiliters</td>
<td>0.211 pint</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 liter = 10 deciliters</td>
<td>1.057 liquid quarts, 0.908 dry quart</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 dekaliter = 10 liters</td>
<td>2.642 gallons</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 hectoliter = 100 liters</td>
<td>26.42 gallons</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 kiloliter = 1,000 liters</td>
<td>264.25 gallons</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Weight

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit</th>
<th>Equivalent in Units</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 milligram</td>
<td>0.015 grain</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 centigram = 10 milligrams</td>
<td>0.154 grain</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 decigram = 10 centigrams</td>
<td>1.543 grains</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 gram = 10 decigrams</td>
<td>0.0353 ounce</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 dekagram = 10 grams</td>
<td>0.353 ounce</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 hectogram = 100 grams</td>
<td>0.22 pound</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 kilogram = 1,000 grams</td>
<td>2.205 pounds</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 metric ton = 1,000 kilograms</td>
<td>2205 pounds</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
THE CONCISE COLUMBIA ENCYCLOPEDIA

A new, comprehensive, and authoritative, one-volume encyclopedia of biographies, facts and information for everyday use in the 80's. Written under the guidance of a distinguished panel of scholars in every field. THE CONCISE COLUMBIA ENCYCLOPEDIA is the product of years of careful research and planning to make an encyclopedia's worth of information available in one volume which is small enough to take anywhere!

- Over 15,000 entries covering every field of information
- Over 3,000 articles on up-to-date scientific and technical subjects—from computers to robotics and quarks
- Broad coverage of people and topics of contemporary importance—from Sandra Day O'Connor and Luciano Pavarotti to genetic engineering and herpes simplex
- Over 5,000 biographies of notable men and women, past and present
- Illustrations, diagrams, charts, national and regional maps
- A 16-page world atlas of political and topographical maps
- Over 50,000 cross references to additional information
- Pronunciation guide for difficult names and words
- Metric equivalents for all measurements
- Plus special tables listing U.S. presidents, Supreme Court justices, popes, prime ministers, rulers, royal dynasties, national parks, theaters, orchestras, languages, planets, elements—and much more!

An AVON Trade Paperback

63396-5/$14.95

Buy these books at your local bookstore or use this coupon for ordering:

Mail to: Avon Books, Dept BP, Box 767, Rte 2, Dresden, TN 38225
Please send me the book(s) I have checked above.
☐ My check or money order—for $______ is enclosed (please add $1.00 to cover postage and handling for each book ordered to a maximum of three dollars—Canadian residents add 7% GST).
☐ Charge my VISA/MC Acct# ________ Exp Date ________

Phone No ________ I am ordering a minimum of two books (please add postage and handling charge of $2.00 plus 50 cents per title after the first two books to a maximum of six dollars—Canadian residents add 7% GST). For faster service, call 1-800-762-0779. Residents of Tennessee, please call 1-800-633-1607. Prices and numbers are subject to change without notice. Please allow six to eight weeks for delivery.

Name
Address
City ________ State/Zip ________

CCE 0585