AFIP ATLAS OF TUMOR PATHOLOGY, SERIES 4

The AFIP Atlas of Tumor Pathology has a long and distinguished history. It was first conceived at a cancer research meeting held in 1947 in St Louis, USA, as an attempt to standardize the nomenclature of neoplastic diseases and quickly became among the most influential publications on tumor pathology.

Series 4 includes high-quality images almost exclusively in colour. It provides practising pathologists with thorough, concise and up-to-date information on the nomenclature and classification; epidemiologic, clinical, and pathogenetic features; and, most importantly, guidance in the diagnosis of the tumors and tumor-like lesions of all major organ systems and body sites.
