Why was this book written?

It was written to help you improve your knowledge of idioms in English. Idioms are fixed expressions whose meaning is not immediately obvious from looking at the individual words in the idiom. You will come across a great many idioms when you listen to and read English. So it is important that you learn about the meanings of idioms and about how they are used. You can use this book either with a teacher or for self-study.

We wanted to encourage language learners to have a balanced approach to idioms in English. Sometimes in the past, teachers used to argue that it was a waste of time for learners to study idioms as they might start using them in an inaccurate or unsuitable way. But idioms are in such widespread use that it is inappropriate to ignore them. This book focuses just on those idioms which the modern student needs to know and it aims to provide the information and practice which will help you understand and use them correctly.

How were the idioms in the book selected?

There are a great many idioms in English, but some of them sound rather old-fashioned or are not very widely used. The idioms which are worked on in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant based on computer searches of huge language databases: the CANCODE corpus of spoken English, developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press, and the Cambridge International Corpus of written and spoken English (now known as the Cambridge International Corpus). These databases show us how the idioms have actually been used by native speakers of English in conversations, newspapers, novels, and many other contexts. The idioms selected are all also to be found in the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary 4th Edition where additional examples and usage notes will also be found. You can search this dictionary online by going to the following website:

http://dictionary.cambridge.org

How is the book organised?

The book has 62 two-page units. The left-hand page presents the idioms that are worked on in the unit. You will usually find an explanation of the meaning of each idiom, an example of it in use and, where appropriate, any special notes about its usage. The right-hand page checks that you have understood the information on the left-hand page by giving you a series of exercises that practise the material just presented. The exercises pay particular attention to checking your understanding of the idioms and how they are used because this is more important for most learners than being able to actively use the idioms.

The units are organised in three sections:

Idioms to talk about … which groups idioms according to the topic area that they are used to talk about. Thus, be snowed under [have an enormous amount of work to do] is included in Unit 25, Work.

Idioms from the topic area of … which groups idioms according to the image they are based on. Thus, hit the roof [react in a very angry way] is included in Unit 42, Houses and household objects.

Idioms using these keywords which groups idioms according to keywords in them. For example, Unit 50 deals with a set of idioms based on the word head.

The book also has a key to all the exercises and an index which lists the 1,000 idioms we deal with and indicates the units where they can each be found.
How should I use this book?
The first two units of the book, Unit 1, What are idioms? and Unit 2, Using your dictionary are introductory units. It is strongly recommended that you work through these units first. After that, you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?
You need a notebook or file in which you can write down the idioms that you study in this book as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. We strongly recommend the Cambridge Learner’s Dictionary as this gives exactly the kind of information that you need to have about idioms. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you will find useful.

So, we hope that this book will ‘shed light’ on all you need to know about English idioms (see Unit 9) and that, by the time you finish the units, you’ll be saying: ‘English idioms? A piece of cake!’ (see Unit 18).
1 What are idioms?

A Idioms and meaning

Idioms are expressions which have a meaning that is not obvious from the individual words. For example, the idiom drive someone round the bend means make someone angry or frustrated, but we cannot know this just by looking at the words.

The best way to understand an idiom is to see it in context. If someone says:

That noise is driving me round the bend! It's so annoying!

then the context and common sense tells us that drive round the bend means something different from driving a car round a curve in the road. The context tells us the noise is annoying and that it's having an effect on the person hearing it.

Using your dictionary

A What do you look up?
As it can be difficult to work out what an idiom means even when you know all the individual words in the idiom, you will often need to look up idioms in a dictionary. If you are working with an online dictionary, then you will have no problems finding the idiom in question, but working with a traditional dictionary, you have to find where the idiom is listed. As an idiom consists of several words, which of these do you look up in your dictionary? For example, do you try to find kill two birds with one stone under kill, two, birds or stone, or let the cat out of the bag under let, cat or bag?

If you are using either the Cambridge International Dictionary of Idioms (CIDI) or the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary (CALD), then the easiest way of finding what you need is to look in the alphabetical index at the back of the book. This lists all the expressions included in the dictionary with the word where an entry for the expression will be found in the dictionary highlighted in bold. This shows that in CIDI kill two birds with one stone will be found under two and let the cat out of the bag will be found under cat. In CALD these two idioms will be found under kill and cat.

If you are using a different dictionary, read its introductory notes now to see how it deals with idioms. This will avoid the frustration you would otherwise feel on deciding to look up the wrong element of the idiom first.

B What information does your dictionary give you?
Your dictionary will tell you a lot of other things as well as the meaning of the idiom. As idioms are used in such fixed ways, it is important to read the notes in your dictionary carefully if you want to use idioms as well as to understand them.

You will find all these things in a good dictionary of idioms:

- information about words that are interchangeable, e.g. drive/send sb round the bend
- information about how the idiom is used – brackets, for example, show if any words in the idiom can be left out, e.g. I (can) feel it in my bones.
- notes about the grammar of the idiom – there may be notes, for example, to say that an idiom is usually used in a passive construction or in a continuous form or in a negative sentence
- examples of the idiom in use
- comments on register – the register labels used in CIDI are informal, formal, very informal, old-fashioned, taboo, humorous and literary
- notes about regional variations in use – this is important as many British idioms will sound very strange to an American and vice versa

Tip
It is not possible for this book to include as much information about each idiom as you will find in a dictionary. So, look up the idioms that you particularly want to learn from this book in a dictionary as well. In your vocabulary notebook, write any further information or other examples of the idioms in the context that you find in the dictionary.
Exercises

2.1 Look up the idioms in these sentences in your dictionary. What word is each idiom listed under?

1. It's the person in the street who picks up the bill for the government's mistakes.
2. She had a wonderful trip to Australia, but now she's come back down to earth with a bump.
3. John had a furious argument with his supervisor, but he managed to stand his ground.
4. He's feeling very miserable, so there's no need for you to stick the knife in too.
5. You're banging your head against a brick wall trying to get him to help you.
6. You scared the living daylights out of me by creeping up behind me like that.

2.2 Which word(s) could be left out of the idioms in these sentences?

1. It's always hard when you have to come back down to earth with a bump after a holiday.
2. No one thought she could climb the mountain without oxygen, but she succeeded against all the odds.

4. My grandma always used to say that an apple a day keeps the doctor away.
5. The food was so delicious - we stuffed our faces.
6. I hope that what I have said will give you pause for thought.
Happiness and sadness

Extreme happiness
There are many informal idioms which mean extremely happy.

I'm on cloud nine.

I'm thrilled to bits.

I'm over the moon.

I am/feel on top of the world.

I'm in seventh heaven.

C

Sadness

Dear Louise,

Hope all goes well with you. Unfortunately, everyone here is out of sorts. Will is down in the dumps because he doesn’t like his teacher this year. I’ve told him that it’s not the end of the world and that he’d better just grin and bear it, but I think he likes being a misery guts and so he complains about her every night. Pat is also suffering from sour grapes because I got the role in the school play that she wanted. This puts a damper on every meal, so I’m really looking forward to staying with you at the weekend.

Love,

Amelia

1 slightly unhappy or slightly ill
2 unhappy (informal)
3 what has happened won’t cause any serious problems
4 accept a situation you don’t like because you can’t change it
5 someone who complains all the time and is never happy (very informal) 6 being jealous about something you can’t have 7 stop an occasion from being enjoyable (sometimes dampener is used instead of damper)
Exercises

3.1 Combine the words in the box in order to make five expressions meaning extremely happy. Use each word once only.

3.3 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.

1. The child was thrilled for bits to have her photo in the paper.
2. I felt as if I was floating in air as I ran down the hill into his arms.
3. Why does Marti look so out of sort today?
4. Don’t make such a fuss. It’s not the finish of the world!
5. Your telephone call has really done my day!
6. Jill said she was on cloud seven and Jack agreed that he was in ninth heaven.
7. Why does Mark always have to be such a miserable guts?
8. Stereotypically, happy footballers say that they are over the sun.

3.4 Answer these questions.

1. Would a piece of good news or a piece of bad news be more likely to make your day?
2. If you got top marks in an exam, would you feel down in the dumps?
3. Are people more likely to get a kick out of hot-air ballooning or cleaning their boots?
4. Do you have to grin and bear it when you are happy or unhappy about something that has happened?
5. If you are at someone’s birthday party, what would be more likely to put a damper on the event – news of the illness of a close friend or a heavy shower of rain?
6. Do people usually enjoy or not enjoy being in the company of a misery guts?
7. You have a beautiful new sports car that a colleague is rather envious of. What is your colleague more likely to say out of sour grapes? ‘I love its green colour!’ or ‘Of course, that model is very unreliable!’
8. A damper is literally a thing put on piano strings to make the sound less loud. How does knowing this help you to understand the idiom using the word damper?
9. Do you notice anything that a number of the images in the happiness idioms have in common?
Anger

Being angry

These informal idioms can be used either about yourself or about a third person.

I'm fed up (to the back teeth) with trying to live on such a small wage.

I'm at my wits' end trying to keep things in order.

(wits = intelligence, brains)

I've had it up to here with this organisation!

These informal idioms are generally used about other people.

Your boss will have/throw a fit when he finds out you forgot to reply to those letters.

(You can also say go off the deep end / go spare / do his nut / blow a fuse.)

These less informal idioms describe other people's anger and are based on the word blood.

If someone's blood is up, they are very angry and may react in a violent way.

If you are after someone's blood, you want to catch them in order to hurt or punish them.

If you are out for blood, you are determined to find someone to attack or blame for something bad that has happened.

Exercises

4.1 Put the expressions in the box into pairs that mean more or less the same.

went off the deep end  gave him an earful  drove him up the wall  gave him a piece of her mind put his back up  did his nut  rubbed him up the wrong way  sent him round the bend

4.2 Complete each of these idioms.

1. Ethan has had it up to ____________________________ with his work.
2. It's horrible living with two people who are not on speaking _____________________________.
3. It'll really put the ____________________________ among the pigeons if you try to bring that up at the meeting.
4. My sister ____________________________ spare when she found out I'd burnt her new top.
5. Joel is ____________________________ your blood now he knows it was you who told the police.
6. The demonstrators are furious and ____________________________ for blood.
7. Your father will throw a ____________________________ if you go out dressed like that.
8. The baby hardly sleeps at night and her mother is at her ____________________________ end.

4.3 Correct eight mistakes in this paragraph.

Yesterday I had terrible toothache. It hurt a lot and I guess that's why I was in a bad temper all day. Everyone anyone said seemed to put the back up and, in the end, I threw a fuse with the person I share my office with. Even when I'm in a good mood, she sends me up the twist with her constant chatter and yesterday I had it off to here with her after only ten minutes. I really gave her an earful and the result is that we are no longer in speaking terms. I know I'll have to apologise for doing my nuts like that, but perhaps I'll wait a while. It's much easier to work when she isn't talking to me! Perhaps I should give her a piece of my mind more often.

4.4 Answer these questions.

1. Name one thing that drives you up the wall.
2. Find two idioms on the left-hand page that conjure up images of birds.
3. Can you remember a teacher ever going off the deep end? If so, what caused it?
4. Find seven idioms on the left-hand page that are based on parts of the body.
5. Has anyone recently rubbed you up the wrong way? If so, how did they do this?
6. Which idiom in A on the left-hand page do you think is usually accompanied by a gesture?
7. Have you ever given someone a piece of your mind? If so, what about?
8. Find an idiom on the left-hand page connected with electricity.

Coming to conclusions

I didn't actually know where you were staying, but Mark said you were with a relative. So I put two and two together and guessed it was that aunt of yours in Manchester. [concluded from the facts I knew]

I'm sorry, I got (hold of) the wrong end of the stick. I thought you were complaining about something. [came to the wrong conclusion]

'I think he's got hold of the wrong end of the stick.'
Exercises

5.1 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.
1 I don't have even a faint idea where he is today; you'll have to ask somebody else.
2 The title of the book has familiar rings to it, but I don't think I've ever read it.
3 My cousin knows the tax laws outside and in, so if you want advice on your tax, he'll help you.
4 I can't for life think what it was I came into the kitchen for.
5 I saw Tom and Lily together in a restaurant looking adoringly into each other's eyes. I added up two and two, and decided they must be madly in love.

5.2 Use the corrected idioms from exercise 5.1 to rewrite the underlined parts of this paragraph. Use each idiom once only.
I always thought I knew my computer in every detail, but the other day it started to crash every time I opened a certain program. I could not in any way understand why it was doing this, and I didn't have any idea at all about what to do to fix it. I rang the helpline which I had used in the past, and after about 20 minutes I spoke to someone who said his name was Patrick, and that he was there to help me. He gave me some advice which sounded quite familiar to me from previous calls I had made to the same helpline. I thought about all this, put the facts together, and concluded that they give the same advice to everybody, and that it's just a way of getting rid of you. The computer still crashes every time I open the program.

5.3 Write sentences that mean the opposite of these sentences. Use idioms from this unit and make any other necessary changes.
1 Yes, that name is very familiar to me. I think I've met her several times.
2 I'm really up to date with TV soap operas these days. I watch them every day.
3 She knows absolutely nothing when it comes to the history of this area.
4 I correctly interpreted what she was trying to tell me and it solved a big problem.
5 No, sorry, her name means nothing to me. I may have met her, I just can't remember.

5.4 Complete each sentence with a different idiom which refers to 'not knowing'.
1 I ___________________________ how to use the photocopier. Do you think you could help me? (weakest of the three)
2 I ___________________________ where I left that letter I brought for you. I'm really sorry. (stronger than 1)
3 I ___________________________ what she's talking about. She's crazy! (even stronger than 2)

Dealing with problems

A Trying to solve a problem

Rafael needed a bookcase. He had been making do\(^1\) with planks of wood on bricks, but he wanted something nicer now. His sister, Ana, suggested buying a self-assembly bookcase where the pieces came in a flat pack for him to put together himself. Rafael knew he wasn’t much good at that sort of thing, but he decided to give it a shot/whirl\(^2\). When he opened the pack, it all looked very confusing, but he was determined to get to grips with\(^3\) it. After a couple of hours, he had something that looked a bit like a bookcase but was rather wobbly. To be on the safe side\(^4\), he asked Ana to check it for him. ‘There’s something not quite right about this,’ she said. ‘I think we’d better get to the bottom of\(^5\) it before you put your books on it.’

B Light and understanding

The recent release of fifty-year-old documents has shed a great deal of light on the political crises of the 1950s. Some unexpected information about the government of the day has been brought to light and some surprising facts about the politicians of the time have also come to light.

The concept of light is often used to represent mental illumination or understanding. The idiom bring something to light (usually used in the passive – see above) means to discover facts that were previously unknown. Often, though not always, these facts are about something bad or illegal. Come to light gives a similar idea of unknown facts becoming known. Shed/Throw light on something means to help people understand a situation.

It’s been a very difficult year, but at last I feel I can see the light at the end of the tunnel. [something makes you believe that a difficult and unpleasant situation is coming to an end]

C The problem’s over

The Democratic Party is behaving as if victory was already in the bag. [certain to be achieved (informal)]

I was in despair until Chris turned up – the answer to my prayers. [something or someone that you have needed for a long time]

I want to wave a magic wand and make things better. [find an easy way to solve a problem]

I’ve got to tie up a few loose ends before I go on holiday. [deal with the last few things that need to be done before something is completed]

Once Sara explains why she acted as she did, everything will fall into place. [be understood or go well]

After the flood, it took us some time to pick up the pieces. [try to return to normal]

LauraN 1st February at 11:07
During the recent demonstrations in the city centre, we saw protesters taking the law into their own hands\(^1\) and attacking the offices of the company responsible for the pollution of our beaches. While I can understand how angry these protesters must feel, it is clear that the most violent group of demonstrators, the so-called 'Nature's Commandos', have become a law unto themselves\(^2\) and that the police are failing to control the situation. What we now need is a firm government that is prepared to lay down the law\(^3\) to the big corporations which pollute our environment and to stop bending the rules\(^4\) when it is a question of commercial interests. At the same time, the police must take firm action against the most violent groups. Only in this way can we solve the problems we now face.

1 taking action which should be taken by the police or the courts
2 are completely out of control and simply ignore the law
3 be very firm and clear about the law, and enforce it
4 making special exceptions; letting some people disobey the rules/laws

Structuring arguments

On the one hand, I don't think that schoolchildren should have mobile phones at school. It's too easy for them to get distracted on social media. On the other hand, they are a useful way for kids to get in touch with their parents when there is a crisis. Be that as it may, it is still a nuisance when phones go off in the middle of a lesson. To put it in a nutshell, there are a lot of pros and cons with regard to kids and mobiles.

1 and 2 these phrases are used to present two opposite facts or two different ways of looking at the same issue
3 an expression which means you accept that something is true, but it still does not change your opinion
4 indicates that you're describing something as briefly as you can

Over to you

Think of some statements that might prompt the conversational responses in this unit, and use them to learn the responses. For example, Do you like heavy metal music? I can take it or leave it.

Praise and positive comments
In these conversations, the second speaker uses an idiom to repeat and sum up what the first speaker says.

Mieko: That little village was the most wonderful, beautiful place I've ever seen.

Tania: Yes, it really was out of this world, wasn't it?

Nora: Professor Breen is the best lecturer I've ever heard.

Alec: Yes, he's second to none, isn't he?

Lucy: I'm not looking forward to being group leader after John. He's so popular and successful.

Fergus: Yes, he's a hard act to follow!

Jack: Oh, I do like our new sofa. It looks just perfect here.

Rosie: Yes, it's just made for this room, isn't it?

Kirsten: I admire William. He defended himself very well in the face of all the criticism and made some good points against his critics too.

Jamie: Yes, he gave as good as he got, didn't he?

Emilio: I don't think we'll get tickets for the cup final. They're all sold and we'd have to pay a huge sum of money to buy some on the black market.

Chris: Yes, they're like gold dust.

Mark: Dr Zasta's research is incredibly original and he has made some important new discoveries.

Nuria: Yes, he's done some really ground-breaking work.

Criticising people
Read Alice's account of some problems she had with a colleague at work. Note the idioms.

... Well, when I started working with her, at first she was all sweetness and light, but after a while she started getting on my nerves, and we soon began to have arguments over stupid things. If I made even a small mistake with my work, she would give me a hard time, you know, and she would poke fun at me if I smiled at or chatted with any of our male colleagues. To add insult to injury, she began to cast aspersions on my honesty, and one day, when some money disappeared from someone's handbag, she told people she thought I'd stolen it. I don't think she was an out-and-out evil person, but she was certainly asking for trouble, and one day I just lost my temper and, you know, told her exactly what I thought of her and how much I disliked her. She hasn't spoken to me since that day ...
Exercises

13.1 Use an idiom in each sentence to repeat and sum up what the other person says.

Attitudes towards events

When we got to our holiday destination, it was a very long climb up to the cottage that we were renting. John thought nothing of it, but I found it quite difficult. However, when we got to the top, the view was so beautiful that it brought a lump to my throat. We were only going to be there for two weeks, so we were determined to make the most of it. Then my mother rang to say that my grandmother had been taken ill and her life was hanging in the balance. Of course, everything else faded/paled into insignificance then and we agreed that we wouldn't dream of staying away in those circumstances. We caught the next plane home and spent the flight trying to come to terms with the thought that she might die. However, thank goodness, when we got to the hospital, she was sitting up completely recovered and very apologetic that she had spoiled our holiday.

1 did something that other people found difficult very easily
2 moved me so much that I wanted to cry
3 take full advantage of something because it may not last long
4 no one knows what will happen to it in the future
5 did not seem at all important when compared to something else
6 would never do something because we think it is wrong
7 start to accept emotionally and to deal with a difficult situation

Tip

Idioms are frequently used for commenting on your own or others' behaviour and attitudes. Try to notice how idioms are used in this way when you are reading or listening to English. Note the context as well as the idiom in your vocabulary notebook.

Trying

You’re not having much luck getting to the next level of the game, are you? Let me have a go. [try to do something]

I’ll have a bash at painting the fence tomorrow if you like. [more informal way of saying have a go]

I went through the motions of tidying the house, but my thoughts were far away. [did something because you are expected to do it, not because you want to do it. In other words, you do it but without putting much effort or enthusiasm into it]

Saying something is easy or difficult

- child’s play [extremely easy]
- How was your exam?
- as easy as pie [extremely easy (informal)]
- a piece of cake [extremely easy (informal)]
- as easy as taking candy from a baby [extremely easy]
- a doodle [extremely easy (informal)]
- heavy-going [difficult and needed a lot of effort]

1 go all out
2 be a dodgle
3 go through the motions
4 be heavy-going
5 pull your weight
6 have a bash

1 a make an attempt
2 b be difficult or tiresome to do
3 c do your fair share
4 d do something without enthusiasm or effort
5 e make a lot of effort
6 f be very easy to do

18.2 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.

1 I wish you'd pull your hand out and help me move the furniture.
2 Sam didn't like the exam, but I thought it was a slice of cake.
3 I'm going to get the job somehow, by hook and by crook.
4 Hattie could, in a push, take over the project for you.
5 The test was as easy as pudding.
6 Don't worry if you don't win the game – just as long as you give that your all.
7 Why don't you have the go at repairing the washing machine yourself?
8 Persuading him to do what I wanted was like taking candy from a child.
9 Max will always go out of his road to help others.
10 I had no problems using the public transport system there – it was a child's play.

18.3 Complete the idioms in this paragraph with prepositions.

The students in my class have to hand in an assignment on Friday. Masako is going all __________ (1) to get a good mark. Marc usually just goes __________ (2) the motions of writing an essay, but this time he's really pulled his finger __________ (3) and is going __________ (4) __________ (5) his way to write something good. He says that he wants to get an A __________ (6) hook or __________ (7) crook. Paul says he found the assignment as easy as taking candy __________ (8) a baby, but Sandra says that, although she had a good go __________ (9) it, she found it quite heavy-going.

18.4 Rewrite each underlined idiom with another idiom which has the same meaning.

1 A: Do you think I'll be able to manage a snowboard?
   B: Course, you will. It's as easy as taking candy from a baby.
2 A: I can't open this bottle.
   B: Let me have a bash.
3 A: How's John getting on with his new boss?
   B: He is going all out to make a good impression on her.
4 A: Did you find it easy to make that dress?
   B: It was child's play.

18.5 Which of the two speakers in each case is speaking in a more informal way?

1 Matt: I think I'll have a bash at making some bread this weekend.
    Alex: I think I'll have a go at making some bread this weekend.
2 Leah: I wish you'd pull your weight more with the project.
    Sam: I wish you'd pull your finger out and help more with the project.
3 Tom: Getting him to do what I want is child's play.
    Sonya: Getting him to do what I want is a piece of cake.
Necessity

Hi Gerry,
Good to get your e-mail. Things are fine here and we're busy. Nothing to complain about, except that an extra computer wouldn't go amiss.1

Kate,
I feel duty bound4 to tell you that all is not well in the secretaries' office. Nothing to panic about right at the moment, but who knows what will happen?

Hello Kim!
Thanks for your e-mail. Your new job sounds great. Things are horrible here, and if push comes to shove2, I'll just have to leave. If need be3, I'll work in a fast food place just to earn enough to live.

Dear Lorna,
How are you? I'm fine, but I'm a bit angry today. The boss has asked me to go to London tomorrow, and I need a trip to London like I need a hole in the head.5 I may pretend to be ill!

1 would be very useful/good; we need them
2 if the situation becomes very bad, this is what I can do
3 if it is really necessary / if I have no choice
4 I feel that it is my duty / that I really ought to 5 I don't need it at all, and don't want it

Wanting and desirability

In these pairs of sentences, the second sentence means more or less the same as the first.

I'm really really looking forward to meeting your cousin. I'm dying to meet her.
(Note: always continuous tense form)

Nothing would persuade me to ride a motorbike. I wouldn't be seen dead riding one.
(Note the -ing form when a verb follows)

I left home because I wanted to be independent. I just wanted to do my own thing.

I'd do anything for a chance to meet the President. I'd give anything to shake his hand.

His comments were just not appropriate. They were not in keeping with the tone of things.

I would never ever consider a job like that. I wouldn't touch it with a barge pole.
(barge pole = a long pole used to push forward a barge, which is a canal boat)

Other useful related expressions

Customer: Have you got a copy of Advanced English Grammar?

Bookseller: You're in luck. We have just one copy left. [said when you get something good that you were not expecting]

It's not worth my while buying a new car this month. They're always cheaper later in the year. [I will not benefit from doing it]

You need a dictionary? Take your pick. There are three different ones over there on the bookshelf. [choose whichever you want]
19.1 Complete each of these idioms.

1 I wouldn't be __________________________ working in a fast food restaurant. All my friends would laugh at me. I just couldn't do it.
2 I feel duty ____________ to go home and see my parents at least once a month.
3 I've had enough coffee, thanks, but another one of those lovely cakes wouldn't go __________________________.
4 I think that laptop he's trying to sell is stolen. If I were you, I wouldn't __________________________ it with a __________________________.
5 It's not __________________________ my __________________________ trying the exam again. I failed the first time, and I'll probably fail again.

19.2 Complete the crossword.

Across
1 I want to do my own __________________________.
3 You're in __________________________! She's just arrived.
4 If push comes to __________________________.

Down
2 I don't want one in my head.

19.3 Now use the idioms from the crossword to rewrite these sentences.

1 You are very fortunate. We have just one room left for tonight.
2 If the situation really becomes bad enough, we'll just have to sell the apartment.
3 I don't want to go with a big group of people. I want to be independent.
4 I got a bill today for £700 for repairs to my car. I'm telling you, the last thing I need in this world is a bill for £700 right at this moment.

19.4 Answer these questions.

1 Which idiom containing the word need means 'if it is really necessary' / 'if we are forced to act'?
2 What is another way of saying 'choose what you want from the available selection'?
3 What should you remember about the grammar of the idiom with die that means 'want very much' / 'really look forward to'?
4 What idiom is based on the verb keep, and means 'suitable for' / 'in line with'?

19.5 Answer these questions for yourself.

1 Is there anyone that you would give anything to meet?
2 Is there something that you're dying to do in the next few days?

Idioms are usually most common in informal texts – like the e-mails in A opposite. Try to read as many informal English texts as you can, for example, letters to popular magazines from readers, Internet chat and newsgroup texts, tabloid newspaper editorials, etc., and note any idioms you find. If you would occasionally like to try out some of the idioms you have learnt in this book, then informal e-mails are a good, natural context for using them.
Probability

YOUR WEEK IN THE STARS

You try something on the off-chance at work this week and achieve success against all the odds. At home you must be careful not to take someone close to you for granted as, if you do, it is a foregone conclusion that you will regret it sooner rather than later. Others have seen changes in your love life coming a mile off and it is touch-and-go whether your current relationship will survive this week. No prizes for guessing who is to blame for the problems. However, you may still be able to get back together. Do not listen to others when they say that the cards are stacked against you. It is always worth chancing your arm. Whether you succeed or not is in the lap of the gods.

Social status and job/career
These clips from a magazine with stories about people in the news contain idioms that refer to success or status in their careers.

- He was a high-flyer in the world of computers in the 1990s, and went on to become a dot.com millionaire.
- She is one of several up-and-coming actresses who have appeared in the new TV drama.
- He first made a name for himself in the world of classical music.
- The company needed new blood and she provided it. Within months, sales had risen dramatically.
- Edward Briggs is definitely on his way up in the financial world.

Other useful idioms connected with social status/situation
I prefer to keep a low profile at work. I'm not interested in promotion. [not draw attention to myself; be unnoticed]

Oh, you must come to the party! Anybody who is anybody will be there. [all the important people]

Harriet always seems to be the odd one out. She never seems to fit in socially. [different from everyone else]

You can't call someone 'unemployed' any more. The politically correct name is 'unwaged'. [acceptable and non-offensive way of talking about particular social groups; usually used in a slightly negative way to suggest that it is slightly ridiculous to be so careful about choosing words that do not offend anyone]
21.1 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.
1. He is always the odd out one. If all his friends do one sport, he does a different one.
2. When he lost all his money, he still tried to keep appearances even though he could not afford his lifestyle.
3. Sometimes it’s better to give a low profile at work. In that way, nobody asks you to do difficult jobs.
4. She became a name for herself by being the first woman to climb Mount Everest.
5. He’s always putting on air and grace, but everyone knows he’s just an ordinary person with a very ordinary background.

21.2 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom.
1. All the most important people will be at the concert on Friday, so don’t miss it.
2. It’s not socially acceptable to refer to ‘underdeveloped’ countries any more. If you don’t want to offend people, you should say ‘developing nations’.
3. He was voted ‘Best actor who is quickly becoming well-known’ of 2016.
4. They employed a lot of young people as they felt they needed new people with fresh ideas.
5. A lot of the people who live in those huge houses near the beach think they’re a better social class than other people and look down on them.
6. My boss gives the impression of being rather rude and uneducated, but he’s a very nice guy in fact.
7. She was a very respectable member of society, but then it turned out she was involved in the illegal drug trade.

7. If you want to leave early, you'd better try and stay in the boss's good book.
8. Rana really seems to have it out for me today - I don't know how I've upset him.

22.3 Choose the correct answer.

1. The neighbour's pet rat is supposed to be friendly, but I'd rather ....
   a) not keep in touch with him  b) keep him at bay
2. The union and management have been .... ever since management proposed issuing new contracts.
   a) at loggerheads  b) at cross-purposes
3. If you feel so strongly that he is wrong, wouldn't it be better to ... ?
   a) have it in for him  b) have it out with him
4. Her habit of finishing every sentence of mine really ....
   a) rubs me up the wrong way  b) makes it up to me
5. Why don't you .... with my aunt when you go to New York?
   a) get on like a house on fire  b) get in touch

22.4 Answer these questions.

1. What might a young child do to try to get in the teacher's good books?
2. If you are at cross-purposes with someone, are you angry or confused?
3. How might you try to make it up to a friend whose car you've scratched?
4. What are three different ways in which you can keep in touch with distant friends? Which way do you like best?
5. Are there any things that people say that really rub you up the wrong way?
6. What do you think should happen to someone who two-times a boyfriend or girlfriend?
7. If you keep yourself to yourself, are you lonely?
8. If you take a shine to someone or have a soft spot for them, is the feeling mutual?

B Inch, mile and distance

Inch and mile are measurements of distance that are used in the US and are often used in the UK instead of centimetres or kilometres. An inch is 2.54 centimetres, a mile is 1.6 kilometres. Both words are used in many expressions.

Mia: Is she willing to change her mind?

Jordan: No, she refuses to budge an inch.
[change her position even a little bit]

Luke: Are you listening to me?

Anne: Sorry, I was miles away!
[not concentrating, but thinking about something else]

Tom: It's obvious Ruth really likes Jack.

Noel: Yes, you can see/spot that a mile off!
Or it sticks/stands out a mile.
[it's very easy to see / obvious]

Dave: It's a very ugly hotel and the food's awful.

Fran: Yes, it's a far cry from that lovely hotel we stayed in last year.
[very different from]

C Other related expressions

Relatives are nice in small doses, but can be very boring if they stay a long time. [you like them only for short periods]

His new house cost a small fortune. [a huge amount of money]

You can buy sunglasses in all shapes and sizes these days. [a wide variety of types/sizes, etc.]

Joss is an unknown quantity. We'll have to be careful with him. [we know very little about him]

Costs

We had to pay through the nose to get our car repaired, but at least it’s working now. [pay a lot of money]

If you say that something is a rip-off (informal), you mean that it is not worth the money that you paid for it.

We had to spend a small fortune on getting everything we needed for our holiday. [a lot of money. (You can also say that something cost a small fortune)]

Someone can also make a small fortune out of a business or they can lose a small fortune.

Idioms based on the money metaphor

Joe is a generous man who is happy to pick up the tab/bill\(^1\) for anything. He managed to rise to the top of his profession in the police force, but it was at a considerable price\(^2\). His marriage suffered as a result. This was largely because his dedication to his work put paid to\(^3\) his wife’s career as a nurse as soon as their first child came along. Unfortunately, Joe is paying the price for\(^4\) his ambitiousness as his marriage has now broken up.

One man's career

When Jacob started work, he was at the very bottom of the career ladder\(^1\). He had quite a dead-end job\(^2\) doing run-of-the-mill\(^3\) tasks. He stayed there for a couple of years, but then decided he had to get out of a rut\(^4\). He pulled out all the stops\(^5\) and managed to persuade his manager that he should be given more responsibility. The deputy manager got the sack\(^6\) for incompetence and Jacob stepped into his shoes\(^7\). For several months he was rushed off his feet\(^8\) and he had his work cut out\(^9\) to keep on top of things. But he was soon recognised as an up-and-coming\(^10\) young businessman and he was headhunted\(^11\) by a rival company for one of their top jobs. Jacob had climbed to the top of the career ladder\(^12\).

Commenting on things people say

In these remarks, the speaker uses an idiom to repeat or sum up the underlined part of what he/she has just said.

- I knew everything Tess said was completely untrue. It was all a pack of lies.
- I find it very hard to believe he was just hugging her because he thought she was feeling sad. That's a likely story!
- I didn't say it seriously or even think about it. It was just an off-the-cuff remark.
- I'm sorry. I said 'Iceland', but I meant 'Ireland'. It was just a slip of the tongue.
- He just said two completely opposite things. He said he wanted to marry me and live with me, and in the same breath he said he wanted to go off travelling on his own.
- We didn't talk about any serious topics, you know, just the weather, holidays, that sort of thing. It was just small talk really.
- They asked me to make a speech, but I was so overwhelmed by the presents they gave me I couldn't think of anything to say. I was completely lost for words.
- I have a feeling inside me that what she said was a lie. It just didn't ring true.
- I couldn't understand what he was trying to tell me. I just didn't know what he was on about. (very informal)

Commenting on the words you are using

You ask if I think we should help him. In a word, no. [said when you are about to give your opinion in a short, direct way]

I think he's behaved very stupidly. He's an idiot, for want of a better word. [not quite the exact or best word, but good enough for the situation]

I was, to coin a phrase, as sick as a parrot. [said when you use a phrase that sounds a bit silly]

Problems with communication

In these conversations, the second person repeats or sums up what the first person says using an idiom.

Sam: I told Henry a dozen times not to use that computer, but he still keeps asking if he can.

Beth: Yes, he just won't take no for an answer.

Anna: Toby just never stops! You try to tell him something and he goes on talking while you're talking.

Olivia: I know, it's impossible to get a word in edgeways.

Rita: I was trying to tell Liam that I know who stole the key, but he just kept talking about how expensive new locks are, which is a different question altogether.

Steve: I know. It's completely beside the point.

Gina: I think Emma completely misunderstood the main thing we were trying to say.

Jo: Yes, she completely missed the point.

Other useful idioms connected with communication

Don't ask Nathan to relax. He doesn't know the meaning of the word. [it is pointless to talk to him about relaxing; it's not in his character to do so]

She repeated what the doctor said word for word. [using the exact words the doctor had used]

If I were you, I'd read the small/fine print before you use your new credit card. [the rules, restrictions and conditions, which are often written in very small letters]

To ask me to look after her three children for a week is rather a tall order, don't you think? [a task, request or favour which is not reasonable / too big to ask someone to do]

Whether she is cleverer than her brother is a matter of opinion. [something different people will have different opinions about – it usually means you don't agree with the idea]

There's a question mark (hanging) over the future of the tennis club. [nobody knows if it will continue to exist or not]

English is a lingua franca in a lot of countries nowadays. [ˈlɪŋɡwə ˈfraŋkə/ a language used for day-to-day public communication, which is not the speakers' own language]
28.1 Match each idiom on the left with the situation in which it could be used on the right.

1. get a word in edgeways                  a. She keeps on asking, even though we said no.
2. miss the point                          b. She told me exactly what her friend said.
3. speak your mind                         c. It's impossible to interrupt her, she talks non-stop.
4. won't take no for an answer             d. She didn't really understand what I wanted to say.
5. (repeat) word for word                  e. He doesn't hide his personal opinions at all.

28.2 Use the idioms from exercise 28.1 to rewrite these sentences.
1. Sofia will never just accept a refusal.
2. Joss always states his opinions quite openly.
3. Sara never seems to understand what we're trying to say to her.
4. She told us everything the teacher said to her in every detail.
5. I tried to tell her, but it was impossible to interrupt her.

28.3 Answer these questions.
1. There's a question mark hanging over the whole wildlife area project. In your own words, what's the problem?
2. It's no good asking her to help. She doesn't know the meaning of the word. Does she usually help people? Explain.
3. If you read the small print, you'll see you can't get your money back. Where do we usually find small print? What is another way of saying this idiom?
5. English is a lingua franca in several Asian countries. Is English the official language in these countries? Explain.

28.4 Complete each of these idioms.
1. The government's message to the voters is __________________ and clear: vote for us and we'll reduce taxes.
2. I think it's rather a __________________ to ask students to write a 500-word composition in one hour. It would take at least two hours.
3. That has nothing to do with what we are talking about; it's completely __________________ the point.
4. He has a very __________________ way of telling you things: no emotion or feelings whatsoever.

Try to collect more idioms connected with speaking, writing and communicating in general. Look up keywords connected with these topics in a good general dictionary or in an idiom dictionary and see what idioms you find, for example, words like talk, speak, hear, word, etc.

Other related time idioms
He spends money like there’s no tomorrow. [eagerly and very quickly (or, more formally, as if there was/were no tomorrow)]

At the end of the day, you have to be a little selfish. [something you say before stating a very important fact or idea]

The fact that he had been dead for a week in his apartment before anybody found him is a sign of the times. [something that shows that society now is worse than it was in the past]

Language help

Although the idioms on this page do not all contain the word time, their meanings are all related to time in some way. Grouping idioms by meaning is another way of learning them, in addition to grouping them by keywords.
31.1 Match each idiom on the left with the situation in which it could be used on the right.

1. it's early days yet
   a. Someone shows you a car which is driven by solar energy.

2. since the year dot
   b. You tell someone about a very ancient tradition.

3. the shape of things to come
   c. A scientist claims to be on the point of discovering a cure for cancer.

4. on the threshold of
   d. Someone asks you if you like an English course after only one day.

5. like there's no tomorrow
   e. Someone is spending all their savings carelessly.

31.2 Write an appropriate comment for each of the situations in exercise 31.1 using the idiom you chose.

1. This car really is
2. People have been doing this every spring
3. A scientist is
4. I've only been to a couple of lessons.
5. Max is spending money...

31.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom.

1. Some time soon we will inevitably discover life on other planets.
   - looking at the next 30 to 40 years, the outlook is not so good.

2. I think the main point is that you can never trust a politician.
   - I'm solving that problem now by taking lessons.

3. I never learnt the piano as a child, so I'm playing it now.
   - the outlook is not so good.

4. Looking at just the next few years, the economic situation looks good, but looking at the next 30 to 40 years, the outlook is not so good.

5. This bicycle is a bit old and broken down now. I should really get a new one.
   - over a longer period it will be a good investment, I'm sure.

6. Could you use this computer just temporarily till the new one arrives?

7. It's a typical thing about the time we live in that you can't speak to a real human being when you telephone the bank. All you get is an automatic voice.

8. This milk has an old date on it. I'll throw it away and open a new carton.

9. It costs a lot of money now, but over a longer period it will be a good investment, I'm sure.

31.4 These idioms involving time are not in this unit. Using a dictionary if necessary, see if you can find the missing prepositions. Then choose the most suitable paraphrase.

1. I felt as if I was ... a time warp as I sat in the ancient cottage talking to the old man.
   a) time was passing very slowly  b) I felt as if I had gone back in time to a different era

2. My dad can remember the first home computers, but that was ... my time.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>from time to time</td>
<td>sometimes, but not regularly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nine times out of ten</td>
<td>almost always</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

C
Other time idioms
If something goes/works/runs like clockwork, it happens exactly as planned and without problems.
If you do something / start from scratch, you go right back to the beginning and start again.

Tip
Wherever possible, put groups of idioms onto a scale, like the frequency scale in B above. You could use scales for idioms connected with size, feelings, difficulties, etc.

Air

If you pluck a number out of the air, you choose one at random.

If someone blows hot and cold, they sometimes seem to like someone or something and sometimes don't so that others are confused about how they really feel.

If you get wind of something, you hear information that others hoped to keep secret.

If you see how / which way the wind is blowing, you decide to see how a situation develops before making up your mind about it.

Fire

Tanya is playing with fire¹, agreeing to go out with Rick. Rumours about his violent temper have been spreading like wildfire² ever since he moved to the area. Of course, most people sometimes say things in the heat of the moment³ that they do not really mean and I don't know how much truth there is in the rumours. However, you can't help thinking that there's no smoke without fire. Anyhow, don't add fuel to the flames/fire² by criticising Rick in front of Tanya as you'll only make her keener on him.

Black, white and grey

White-collar workers\(^1\) at the Mirage car factory have gone on strike over pay and conditions. The union says management has broken an agreement, and it wants a new one in black and white\(^2\). The management says that the agreement is a grey area\(^3\) that must be made clear in proper discussions. Meanwhile, the factory owners, the Merschott Company of Germany, consider that the plant is a black hole\(^4\), into which more and more money is disappearing. They are threatening to close the factory altogether.

---

\(^1\) workers who work in offices, not doing physical work
\(^2\) written, not just a spoken agreement
\(^3\) something that is a problem, and is not very clear because there are no rules
\(^4\) something which has no bottom, and everything put into it just disappears
34.1 Match each newspaper headline with its text.

1. Health service budget just a black hole, says minister
2. Government promises to deal with grey area of Internet law
3. Green belt round Liverpool extended
4. Children with blue blood no more intelligent than others, say scientists

A. There was a real need to protect the environment from further damage, the Director of Planning said.
B. It was not at all clear what the situation was, and it was now time for governments to co-operate to clarify things.
C. Any claim to the contrary simply could not be proved, said Doctor Wills, one of the team who investigated twenty upper-class families.
D. Every year, more and more money simply disappears, without any real results in terms of improvements, she said.

34.2 Answer these questions.

1. Which kind of workers work in offices and which ones do physical work?
2. What colour are you if you wish you had something someone else has?
3. What colour are you if you repeat something, but the other person pays no attention?
4. What colour is your bank balance when you have spent more money than there was in it?
5. What colour light do you see when someone gives you permission to do something?

34.3 Use the idioms from exercise 34.2 to complete these sentences.

1. I was absolutely ______________________ with ______________________ when she won a trip to Los Angeles.
2. I'm 750 pounds ______________________ the ______________________, and the bank has asked me to pay it back immediately.
3. The ______________________ workers are on strike, but the office staff are still working.
4. You can talk to her till you're ______________________ in the ______________________; she won't listen.
5. If the city authorities ______________________ the ______________________ light to the new conservation project, it will begin next year.

34.4 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom.

1. I want to see a contract in written form, not just an informal agreement.
2. I wanted to apply for a visa, but a friend told me there are so many forms to fill in and complicated rules, so I've decided to forget it.
3. My new house has a big garden, but I'm no good with plants, so I'll probably never do any gardening.
4. She was caught just as she was stealing food from the school kitchen.
5. He's always introducing unimportant points into the discussion which distract everybody from the main argument.

Talking about work

We have a lot of work to finish today. So roll up your sleeves\(^1\) and let's get busy!

Our teacher wears lots of different hats\(^1\). He teaches, coordinates classes, and writes exams.

Clara was a great boss. The new manager will have big shoes to fill\(^2\).

If you need her help, just call. She will come at the drop of a hat\(^2\) and help you.

The job interview went very well. I'm sure I have it in the bag\(^5\).

1 to get ready to work hard
2 without any delay
3 to try to do your job as well as the person who did it before you; especially when that person was very successful
4 to do many different roles or tasks
5 to be in a situation where you are certain to succeed

6 keep your shirt on □ f Martin makes all the decisions in his relationship.

35.3 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.

1 Paul's speech was really long and not very interesting. He really bored the trousers off everyone!

2 The exam is tomorrow? You'd better roll up your shirt and start studying right now.

3 Gary promised to pay me back for the hotel room, but he never did. Now I'm £80 outside the pocket.

4 I just hope I can be as good a teacher as Mr Roberts. I have some big shoes to walk in.

5 Julia is training for a marathon at the same time as writing a book. I really take my cap off to her.

35.4 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom from the left-hand page.

1 Anna told me that she sold our parents' car for £500, but now I find out that she was paid £700 and kept the difference.

2 Even after paying all of our expenses, we have an extra £75.

3 My sister thought she was definitely going to pass her driving test, but then she hit another car!

4 The charity asked people to donate generously to help build a new hospital.

5 I called Beth and she came straight away. She didn't even ask what the problem was.
A Ball games

Right then, I've started the ball rolling\(^1\) by telling you what I think our company should do now. I would like anyone who has any comments or questions to speak now. The ball is in your court\(^2\). Don't forget that our rival companies are on the ball\(^3\) and if we don't act quickly and do something off our own bat\(^4\), they will. And they'd love to throw us a curveball\(^5\) and make life difficult for us. I know my proposals will involve people doing overtime, but I hope that the workers may agree to play ball\(^6\) given the circumstances we are all in. It's not our fault we are in this situation. Different rates of tax in different countries mean that we are not competing on a level playing field\(^7\).

B Cards

If you play your cards right, you behave in the right way to achieve what you want. It is informal and is often used in the expression If (you) play (your) cards right, ....

If you put/lay your cards on the table, you tell someone honestly what you think or what you plan to do.

If you pass the buck, you blame someone or make them responsible for something that must be done next (from an object used in the card game poker).

If you follow suit, you do the same as everyone else has just done. (This is a reference to playing the same suit, i.e. hearts, diamonds, spades or clubs, in cards.)

If you call someone's bluff, you make someone prove that what they are saying is true or prove that they will really do what they say they will do, because you don't believe them. To call someone's bluff in a card game is to force them to show you their cards.

Note also:
There was a fly-on-the-wall documentary on TV last night about hospital waiting-rooms. [programme filmed in a real-life situation, sometimes with hidden cameras]

People’s characters and their actions

- John’s bark is worse than his bite. [he may seem fierce/tough, but he is not really]
- You don’t need to be afraid of him. He wouldn’t hurt a fly. [is totally harmless and would never hurt anyone]
- Harry’s really got the travel bug ever since he won that holiday in the Caribbean. [a strong desire to travel (bug here means virus; the original meaning of bug is a small insect)]
- She’s working very hard for her exams. She’s really got/taken the bit between her teeth. [started to work/act in a very determined way (a bit is a piece of metal put between a horse’s teeth to control it)]
- They’ve given me free rein to do what I like in this new job. [given me complete freedom (reins are what you hold in your hands to control a horse when riding)]
- Josh: How did you know I was getting married?
- Leanne: A little bird told me. [said when someone has told you a secret, but you do not want to say who]
- As soon as the meeting was over, we all made a beeline for the food. We were so hungry! [went quickly and directly to]
- I always have butterflies in my stomach just before an exam. [feel very nervous]
- I made a real pig of myself last night, so I’m not going to eat any lunch today. [ate too much]
- I have so much work to do these days. I’m just chasing my tail trying to catch up. [doing a lot, but it is all pointless / without effect]
37.1 Which idiom can be used to describe ...
1 ... a person who has hidden or unexpected skills or talents that no one knows about?
2 ... a person who loves parties?
3 ... a person who is the subject of an experiment or trial of something new?
4 ... a person who is not very friendly?

37.2 Here are some facts about animals. Which idioms are based on them?
1 When you ride a horse, it has a bit in its mouth, which is a metal bar that helps you control the horse.
2 A bee can fly in a straight line back to a place where it found food.
3 Wolves usually hunt together in a group or pack.
4 Dogs will often bark more out of fear than out of aggression.
5 Cats and dogs often run round in circles thinking their tail is running away from them.
6 Pigs have a reputation for eating a lot of food very quickly.

37.3 Use the idioms from exercise 37.2 to repeat or sum up what the first speaker says.
1 Jack: Harry never seems to want to go out with other people.
   Lucy: No, he's a bit of ____________________________________.
2 Liam: Are you busy these days?
   Chris: Busy! It's ridiculous! I try to keep up with things, but I'm just ____________________________________.
3 Marcus: Dan is in the boss's office again today. That's the third time this week he's gone to complain about the computers.
   Mike: Yes, he won't give up. He's really got ____________________________________.
4 Orla: You seemed to be enjoying your lunch today!
   Emma: Yes, I ____________________________________... I feel so full now!
5 Kallum: Philip scared everyone yesterday. He looked really angry.
   Eve: Oh, don't worry about him. His ____________________________________.
6 Alan: Look at Charles! He's already talking to a gorgeous girl over there!
   Joe: Oh yeah, he always ____________________________________ for the prettiest girl in the room.

37.4 Complete each of these idioms.
1 Big Joe is quite harmless really, although he looks tough. He wouldn't ____________________________ a ____________________________.
2 I already know about Kate getting divorced. A ____________________________ ____________________________ told me.
3 I hate making a speech to a big audience. I always get ____________________________ in my ____________________________.
4 It's a very unusual school. The pupils are ____________________________ free ____________________________ to do just what they like.
5 I really got the travel ____________________________ after I went on a trekking holiday to Nepal. I can't wait to go away again.
6 I'd love to be a ____________________________ on the ____________________________ when Nick tells the boss he's resigning.

The country has gone to the dogs since the new government took over.
We didn’t tell anyone the news, but she let the cat out of the bag and now everyone knows.
Kim’s report really put the cat among the pigeons. Now everyone’s in a state of crisis.
There’s not enough room to swing a cat in our flat, so I don’t think a party is a good idea.

Other animal-related expressions
In these dialogues, the second speaker uses an idiom to repeat and sum up the situation described by the first speaker.

Ryan: Everyone is so selfish. They would sell their own mothers to get what they want, and they don’t care how much other people suffer.

Tania: Yes, it really is the law of the jungle. It’s very depressing.

Becky: We shouldn’t even think of discussing the voting system for the committee. It’s very complicated and unfair in many respects, and could raise huge problems.

Ricky: I agree. It’s a real can of worms. I think we should avoid discussing it.

Iris: If you ask me, it’s a waste of time complaining to Robert. He doesn’t take any notice, no matter how often you do it or no matter how angry you get.

Harry: Yes, it’s like water off a duck’s back.

Edward: We’re all overworked and in a panic. We’re trying to solve too many problems, and ending up not achieving anything!

Nancy: Yes, I agree. We’re all just running round like headless chickens.

Note also:
I don’t use snail mail these days. E-mail’s easier. [the post, often said humorously when contrasting with e-mail]
I don’t know if anyone would really want a job like this one, but we could put out feelers and see if anyone is interested. [make informal enquiries; talk to people unofficially]

When recording idioms in your vocabulary notebook, make notes of typical situations in which they can be used. For example: go to the dogs – typical situation: a restaurant that was very good before is very bad now.
Exercises

38.1 Rewrite each sentence with an idiom that means the opposite of the underlined words.
1. There's plenty of room at my house.
2. I'll let you know by e-mail.
3. Peter has not told anybody the secret news.
4. The economy is getting better and better.
5. The office staff were working very calmly and efficiently.

38.2 Which idioms do these pictures make you think of?

38.3 Match each of the idioms from exercise 38.2 with one of these sentences.
a) What she said has raised some horrible problems which we'd all prefer to forget.
b) Oh dear! That is really going to cause huge problems and upset absolutely everybody!
c) You can insult him and be really awful to him, but he just never seems to care or even notice.

38.4 Answer these questions.
1. If you tell someone a secret, what do you let the cat out of?
2. What can you put out in order to test whether people are interested in an idea?
3. What kind of law do wild animals obey?

38.5 Use a dictionary to find the missing words in these animal idioms if you do not know them. If you think you know the idioms, write your answers and then check them in a dictionary. Make a note of the meaning of the idioms in your vocabulary notebook.
1. take the bull by the ______________________
2. kill two birds with one ______________________
3. at a snail's ______________________
4. like a bear with a sore ______________________
5. a ______________________'s breakfast.

38.6 Use the five idioms from exercise 38.5 to rewrite the underlined parts of this paragraph.

I was trying to finish my essay for my English class by the end of the week, but it all seemed to be going very slowly and I was not very motivated. So I decided to face the situation and act positively. I stayed up until after midnight every day for four days and worked on my essay. I was tired in the mornings, and went round feeling very bad-tempered and irritable all day, but, in the end I managed to do two useful things in one go: I finished the essay and I read a number of important books I should have read weeks ago. My last essay was a bit of a mess, but I'm hoping this one will get a better grade.

Idioms connected with firing/shooting

In these dialogues, the second speaker uses an idiom to repeat part of the question.

Henry: Have you ever tried snowboarding?
Oscar: No, but I'd like to have a shot at it one day.

Hannah: Now that you're the Head of Department, do you find people always blame you immediately for any problems that arise?
Grace: Oh yes, I'm in the firing line all the time.

Mick: So it's Peter Smith who makes all the important decisions and has all the power?
Rita: Oh yes, Peter Smith calls the shots these days.

Lily: It must have been awful for you, being in the middle of such a terrible argument between Roz and Barbara?
Abbie: Yes, I was really caught in the crossfire; I found it very difficult.

Aaron: So you think we should wait and not ask for the funds yet?
Beth: Yes, I think we should hold fire till the future is more certain.

War and fighting in general

The village people are up in arms over the plan to build a motorway very near their homes. [angry and protesting loudly]

Oliver's his own worst enemy when it comes to getting promotion at work. He's just so negative about everything. [his own attitude/behaviour will prevent him from reaching his goal]

I think you're fighting a losing battle trying to get a pay rise. The boss never listens to anyone. [trying to achieve something that you will probably fail to achieve]

I wouldn't give up this job till you're absolutely sure you've got the new one if I were you. You don't want to burn your bridges. [do something that makes it impossible to go back to a situation you were in before]

Joe can be very boring sometimes. He always seems to have an axe to grind. [have a strong view or opinion and want to persuade everyone he is correct; normally used critically]

When it comes to the crunch, I won't let you down. [when a situation becomes serious or difficult]

I think we've found a chink in his armour. [a weak point that we can exploit / take advantage of]
Exercises

39.1 Complete each of these idioms.
1. She was looking ___________ at me last night. I wonder what I’ve done to upset her?
2. Her last remark was so hurtful, especially as I was already upset. I think she was just trying to ___________ the ___________ even further.
3. I really think you should ___________ the bullet, and go and speak to him.
4. She ___________ to her ___________ and didn’t sign the contract. So they’ve changed it.
5. You’re ___________ the gun. Wait till we know whose fault it was before you complain.
6. Freddy really puts the ___________ in sometimes. He is capable of saying such cruel things.

39.2 What could you say? Using idioms from the page opposite tell someone ...
1. ... who is trying to persuade the teacher to tell you the exam questions before the exam takes place that they will not succeed.
2. ... that if a real crisis occurs, you will be there to support them.
3. ... that you yourself are the main problem when it comes to trying to save money.
4. ... that they will be the one to face all the criticisms and complaints in their new job.
5. ... that you’d like to try bungee-jumping one day if you ever get the chance.
6. ... that they should wait before they send a very angry letter they’ve written.

39.3 Horoscopes often use idioms. Read these horoscopes and then say or write exactly what you would tell a friend with that birth-sign about their future, without using the idioms.

TAURUS
Someone you thought was a good friend will say something very hurtful today, and later on will twist the knife even further. Stay calm and don’t lose your temper.

GEMINI
Two people you like and respect will quarrel today, and you’ll be caught in the crossfire. Try to stay neutral, or you’ll risk losing a good friend.

CAPRICORN
Someone close to you will try to tell you what to do, but it’s time you called the shots, so don’t be afraid to make your own decisions.

VIRGO
You’ve always thought of yourself as a strong, determined person, but someone discovers a chink in your armour and makes life difficult for you.

39.4 Choose the correct answer.
1. If you were up in arms, you’d be ....
   a) holding someone you love  b) protesting strongly  c) feeling much stronger than before

2. If someone puts the knife in, they ....
   a) make an important point  b) test the situation before acting  c) do or say something very damaging

3. If you burn your bridges, you ....
   a) make it impossible to return to a former situation  b) get extremely angry and violent  c) destroy a good friendship

4. If you have an axe to grind, you have ....
   a) a serious quarrel with someone  b) a desire to hurt someone  c) a strong opinion and you want to persuade people you’re right

Over to you

If you can, look at a popular English-language magazine or tabloid newspaper and see if the horoscopes contain idioms. Make a note of any idioms you find, especially for your own star sign.
A

Appetite
If something makes your mouth water, it makes you want to eat it:

One look at those cakes makes my mouth water.

If you say that someone has a sweet tooth, you mean that they particularly like sweet things.

The word appetite can be used to refer to a desire for food or for something other than food. In the same way, whet your appetite can be used to mean awaken a desire:

Cinemas use trailers to whet viewers’ appetites and make them want to see the whole film.

Sweet and sour
Sweet things are generally considered to be particularly pleasant and luxurious. The icing on the cake, for example, refers not only to the sugar coating on a cake but also to something that makes a good situation even better:

This trophy is the icing on the cake for Eva, who has had a great year as a tennis player.

The expression you can’t have your cake and eat it or you want to have your cake and eat it is used to refer to the fact that two good things are impossible to do or have at the same time:

He wants to have his cake and eat it: he wants a well-paid secure job, but he doesn’t want to have to work evenings or weekends.

Sour and bitter generally have unpleasant associations in idioms. If an experience leaves a sour taste in your mouth, you have an unpleasant memory of it. If you do something to the bitter end, you see it through to the end even though it takes a long time and is difficult.

D

In the supermarket
If you say something or someone is flavour of the month, it means that that thing or person is very popular. This is a reference to supermarkets’ practice of putting a particular flavour of something – strawberry ice cream, for example – on special offer for a month:

Flavour-of-the-month actress, Becci Carr, stars in tonight’s TV drama.

The phrase be past or pass your sell-by date is often used humorously to refer to a person or thing that is not wanted or used any more because they are too old. It refers to the way supermarket food is marked with a sell-by date after which the product must be removed from the shelves before it goes bad:

I think she’s passed her sell-by date as an actress.
40.1 What might Jo say in each situation? Match the remarks in the box with the situations.

You can't have your cake and eat it. He had egg on his face.
I was left with a sour taste in my mouth! It's the best thing since sliced bread!
It provides the bread and butter.

1. Jo's husband asks her what she thinks of some exciting new computer software she's using.
2. Jo asks her brother how he likes his new, rather boring job.
3. Jo's husband asks her how she felt after a meeting at work where people said some very unpleasant things to each other.
4. Jo tells her husband about her boss – whom she doesn't like – who made a mistake in some basic figures at a meeting where all the main company managers were present.
5. Jo's son tells her that he's going to spend his (not very large) savings on an expensive new guitar as well as going on a trip to Australia.

40.2 Circle the correct word to complete each sentence.

1. Although it was too slow-moving for my taste, I sat through the film to the bitter / sour / sweet end.
2. Watching that cookery programme on TV has really watered / wetted / whetted my appetite for trying some new recipes.
3. All the effort Lucia has put into training is beginning to bear food / fruit / vegetables.
4. Although the pop group DK1 is bargain / flavour / taste of the month at the moment, their popularity is unlikely to last.
5. Grandad was exhausted after his long walk and said he had passed his sell-by day / time / date.
6. Staying in a hotel room that Leonardo di Caprio had once used really was the icing on the biscuit / cake / sugar.
7. Having such a sweet mouth / tongue / tooth makes it very difficult for her to lose weight.
8. The wonderful smells from the kitchen are really making my eyes / mouth / nose water.

40.3 Match an idiom from the page opposite with each of these definitions.

1. love chocolates and cakes
2. be absolutely fantastic
3. be too old to be useful
4. be in an embarrassing position
5. bring about good results
6. make you want something (Give two answers.)

40.4 Complete these sentences in any way you like.

1. ___________________________ is her bread and butter though she still hopes to succeed as an actress.
2. ___________________________ always makes my mouth water.
3. ___________________________ seems to be flavour of the month in the pop music world at the moment.
4. Kate had egg on her face when ___________________________.
5. For me ___________________________ is the best thing since sliced bread.
6. I hope that ___________________________ will bear fruit.

Over to you

Think of idioms connected with roads, paths and tracks in your language. Do any of them match the idioms in this unit? If they don’t, try to find out the equivalent expression in English. Use a dictionary of idioms or another good dictionary.
Houses and household objects

Home
Home is the place where people feel comfortable and safe. If you are/feel at home somewhere, you are/feel comfortable there. If you make yourself at home, you relax and make yourself comfortable. Similarly, if something is as safe as houses, it is extremely safe.

The implications of what she had said didn’t come home to me until some days later. [I didn’t understand it fully]

Her news reports have really brought home to me the horrors of war. [made me understand, usually something unpleasant]

Doors and fences
Doors give you access to somewhere new.

They don’t pay me very well for the work I do there at the moment, but at least I’ve got my foot in the door. [started working at a low level in an organisation because you want to get a better job in the same organisation later on]

Doors have keys and handles.

Female voters hold the key to the party’s success in the election. [provide the explanation for something you could not previously understand]

Her father flew off the handle when she said she wasn’t going to return to university. [reacted in a very angry way (informal)]

A fence marks the boundary between two areas of land.

If you sit on the fence, you delay making a decision or fail to choose between two alternatives. Usually in the end, though, you have to come down on one side or the other. [make a choice]

Household objects

Alf *hit the ceiling/roof*¹ this morning for no reason at all. I thought he’d just *got out of bed on the wrong side*², but then his girlfriend explained that he’s been *burning the candle at both ends*³ because of his exams. I’m glad she *put me in the picture*⁴ because now I can understand why he reacted so crossly. However, I wish he’d *take a leaf out of his girlfriend’s book*⁵ and go to bed at a reasonable time.

² got up in a bad mood and stayed in a bad mood all day
³ staying up late and getting up early
⁴ explained the situation to me – picture also means situation in get the picture [understand the situation (informal)] and keep someone in the picture [keep someone informed]
⁵ copy something someone else does, often in order to gain an advantage that they have
Exercises

1 sitting on the □
2 getting your foot in the □
3 getting out of bed on the wrong □
4 flying off the □
5 putting someone in the □ 6 feeling at □ 7 burning the candle at both ends □

□ a home
□ b handle
□ c fence
□ d picture
□ e ends
□ f door
□ g side

42.2 Answer these questions.
1 Is a decisive person likely to sit on the fence or come down on one side or the other?
2 If a student takes a holiday job in a big company in order to get a foot in the door, what does that suggest about the student’s plans?
3 In what circumstances do people often burn the candle at both ends?
4 Are you more likely to say that something important or something trivial is brought home to you?
5 Do you think someone would be pleased or displeased if you took a leaf out of their book?
6 If you keep someone in the picture, are you being honest to them or not?
7 How do you feel if you get out of bed on the wrong side?
8 If someone hits the roof, what sort of mood are they in?

42.3 Which idioms do these pictures make you think of?

![Images of pictures and a house with a bird flying nearby]

42.4 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom.
1 It will take some time before the impact of the new legislation is fully felt by the person in the street.
2 Sophie will make herself ill if she goes on allowing herself so little sleep.
3 Before you take over the project, I’ll let you know exactly what the situation with it is.
4 The police think that DNA testing will provide the evidence necessary for proving who the murderer must have been.
5 Jim’s been in a really bad mood all day.
6 The government can’t postpone making a decision for ever.
7 Rob gets really angry at the slightest provocation these days. (Give two answers.)
8 If you want to get fit, why don’t you do as Katie has done and join a gym?

42.5 Write sentences using six of the idioms from this unit about your own life or experiences.
In this unit we look at idioms connected with the earth, the planets and the air, and other basic elements.

The air
The air (or sky) is often seen as something associated with feelings and emotions, or is in some way connected with unknown or future events. Look at these newspaper clips.

- There was a sense of relief in the air\(^1\) when the ‘not guilty’ verdict was announced.
- Whether the government will change the law on football hooliganism is up in the air\(^2\) at the moment.
- The discussions have not solved the problem, but they have helped to clear the air\(^3\) to a certain extent.
- The news has come as a breath of fresh air\(^4\) for students worried about the high level of fees.
- Mr Watson said the news had come out of the blue\(^4\) and it had shocked everyone.

1. everyone could feel it
2. something new / more exciting
3. undecided
4. completely unexpectedly
   (the blue = the sky)
5. make bad feelings between people disappear

The earth, planets, ground
Idioms about the earth often refer to the ground beneath our feet and to being practical/realistic.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>If ...</th>
<th>this means ...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>someone is a down-to-earth person</td>
<td>they are very practical</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you come (back) down to earth with a bang</td>
<td>something brings you suddenly back to reality</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>an idea or plan/project bites the dust</td>
<td>it fails/dies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>someone is (living) on another planet</td>
<td>they have no awareness of the real world</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you are over the moon about something</td>
<td>you are extremely happy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>something is/hits rock bottom</td>
<td>it is as low as it can possibly be/go</td>

<td>you see how the situation is before you get involved</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a person is upper-crust(^*)</td>
<td>they belong to a very high social class</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* The crust is the top surface of the earth; under it are other layers of very hot rocks.

Note also:
- If you are in the dark or someone keeps you in the dark, you are not told important things that other people know.
- If you are in your element, you are happy/relaxed in the situation because you are good at the things it involves.
- If you are out of your element, you feel unhappy/uncomfortable because you are not good at the tasks involved. (element here refers to the four basic natural elements: earth, water, fire and air)
43.1 Complete each of these idioms.
1. The news ________________ out of the blue. No one was expecting it.
2. What a crazy idea! I think she's living ________________ another planet.

5. Things are very undecided at the moment. I'll let you know when a decision is made.

43.4 Answer these questions.
1. Think of one person you know who is down-to-earth and another person you know who is just living on another planet. In what ways are they so?
2. When was the last time you felt over the moon, and why?
3. Think of an occasion when someone you hadn't seen for a very long time suddenly appeared out of the blue.
4. Think of one situation where you could personally say 'I'm in my element here!'

43.5 The underlined idioms below are not in this unit. Try to work out the meaning of the idioms from context. If you can't, then check their meaning in a good general dictionary or in a dictionary of idioms.
1. I was shaking like a leaf as I waited to hear if I had passed the exam.
2. I slept like a log last night. It was so quiet and the bed was very comfortable.
3. I hate making big decisions. I usually prefer to just go with the flow.
4. It goes against the grain for him ever to say he was wrong. It is not in his character to admit that he has made a mistake.

Look up sun, star(s), moon, rock(s), sea and mountains in a good dictionary or a dictionary of idioms. What idioms do you find? Write the idioms in sentences which illustrate their meaning.

Engines and cars

Look at these conversations. The second speaker uses an idiom to agree with the first speaker.

Eva: We'll have to get ready to start work on the new system.

Lars: Yes, we'll have to get into gear, I suppose. (like putting a car into gear before driving)

Rob: I hate having Lisa in my car. She always tells you what you're doing wrong, or when the lights have gone red, and so on.

Peter: Yes, she's a real back-seat driver, isn't she?

Olga: I think we've spent over the budget these last three months. We'll have to be more careful.

Mick: Yes, we'll have to put the brakes on our spending; we've paid out some large sums.

Hugh: Things are going well these days, aren't they? Everything's working quietly and smoothly.

Ben: Yes, things are ticking over nicely. (A car engine ticks over when it is running quietly, but the car is not moving.)

Will: Well, it was quite an angry meeting, but I think it was good that people could just say exactly what they were thinking and get angry if they wanted to.

Mia: Yes, I think it was good that they were able to let off steam. (a steam engine lets off steam to reduce pressure)

Theo: Do you want to borrow my alarm clock?

Ross: No, it's OK. I think I'm programmed to wake up at seven o'clock. (like a computer, i.e. always doing the same thing)

9. Their teenage kids never lift a ______________ at home; they just leave everything to the parents.
10. That shop has changed ______________ again. It's owned by someone from Hong Kong now.

1. I think it would be good if you got some direct experience of working in a poor country before working for an aid organisation at home.
2. Jake has withdrawn completely from the club committee. He was so disgusted that he just quit, and never wants to see any of them again.
3. That new power station on the coast is such an ugly sight! You'd think they would have built it to blend in with the landscape.
4. Have you ever had a go at water-skiing? My sister's got a boat if you would like to try.
5. I always have to have the cookbook right next to me when I'm trying out a new recipe.
6. I'm too busy to play football every week now, but I really should play occasionally, just to keep my skills alive.
7. She lost out badly on the stock exchange. She bought shares in an Internet company that went bankrupt.

47.3 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.
1. Do you think you could bring me a hand this weekend? I have to move some furniture to our summer cottage.
2. If you're the sort of person who is prepared to make your hand to anything, you'll be able to earn a lot of money; people are always looking for willing workers.
3. I was very pleased when they told me my project had been given the up-thumb.
4. I decided to wash my hands with the whole idea and to have no involvement whatsoever in it.
5. If you want to make a good impression at a business meeting, it is a good idea to have all the facts and figures in your fingertip.
6. To build a horrible concrete bridge over such a beautiful river is terrible. It stands out like a sick thumb!

Over to you

Look again at the idioms in this unit and see if you can see any further pattern of meanings for the different sets of idioms connected with hands, fingers and thumbs. What do fingers do? Are the thumb idioms different? Make a few notes in your vocabulary notebook and see if your ideas are still valid as and when you add new idioms connected with the keywords.
Foot

Several idioms involving the word foot refer to someone's personal situation.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>She lived at home for a while, but got itchy feet again and went off travelling for a year.</td>
<td>got a desire to travel</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other idioms with foot refer more to actions.

I really put my foot in it when I told Mario I hated Italian food; he's Italian! [accidentally said/did something very embarrassing]

I think you should put your foot down and say no. [assert your authority or independence]

He followed in his father's footsteps and became a doctor. [took the same course of action as somebody else]

Heel and toe

These two idioms with heel refer to preventing or slowing down movement.

I don't think Sara wants to join us; she's dragging her heels a bit. [deliberately being slow]

They're digging their heels in and refusing to compromise. [refusing to change their position]

The boss always keeps us on our toes. [keeps us busy; makes us give our full energy to our work]

Language help

Whenever you find idioms that seem to have something in common in their meaning (as with the two heel idioms or the foot idioms referring to situations), group them together on one page in your vocabulary notebook. Add any new idioms that have similar meanings as you meet them.

<tr>
<td>I have a bone to pick with you.</td>
<td>You have done something that has annoyed me, and we must discuss it.</td>
<td>Animals pick the flesh off bones when they eat their prey.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She's going to get that job; I can feel it in my bones.</td>
<td>I have a feeling deep inside me / an instinct.</td>
<td>Bones are deep inside us.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How best to use the money we raised has become a bone of contention.</td>
<td>People are arguing and disagreeing over it.</td>
<td>Animals fight over bones/food.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Let's try and get to the bare bones of the problem.</td>
<td>the heart / the most basic aspects of the problem.</td>
<td>The bones are our skeleton, our basic form.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Shoulder and arm

Main association: Shoulders support or carry things.

She has a chip on her shoulder about the fact that she was not promoted in her job years ago. [blames other people for something negative that has happened to her and goes on carrying these feelings for ever]

Beth, can I talk to you? I'm having a horrible time and I need a shoulder to cry on. [sympathy or support in time of trouble]

You are not alone in your fight against the authorities. We will stand shoulder to shoulder with you. [support you in a difficult time]

I didn't have much success trying to get to know that good-looking guy at the party. He gave me the cold shoulder. [reacted to me in an unfriendly or cold way for no obvious reason]

Main association: Arms hold and/or control things.

I didn't really want to do the job, but he twisted my arm and I said yes. [persuaded me to do something I didn't really want to do]

I don't really want to talk to her. I've been trying to keep/hold her at arm's length. [keep a distance between myself and her]

Leg

I haven't really won the lottery. I was only pulling your leg. [joking / trying to fool you]

He'll find it difficult to convince the police that he's innocent. He hasn't (got) a leg to stand on really. [has nothing to support his claim or position]

Language help

There are ten units in this book that deal with idioms connected with the body. Try to build a picture in your mind of a human body as you work through the units and remember which parts of the body are most strongly associated with idioms, e.g the hand.
49.1 Use idioms to complete the network.

A bone of __________________

The __________________ bones

I have a bone __________________

I can feel __________________

   a) Rita is trying to persuade Sara even though Sara doesn’t want to do it.
   b) Rita is trying to blackmail Sara to do it.
   c) Rita is trying to pay Sara to lend her car.

5. Laura gave Mark the cold shoulder when he asked her to go with him to the school party.
   a) She put her head on Mark’s shoulder in a romantic way.
   b) She rubbed her shoulder against Mark’s as a way of saying ‘yes’.
   c) She behaved in a rather distant way and said ‘no’.

6. Clare said she would stand shoulder to shoulder with Irene.
   a) She promised to fight Irene with all her strength.
   b) She promised to stand next to Irene in a queue for something.
   c) She promised to support Irene in a difficult situation.

49.4 Write a sentence or a couple of sentences for each of these idioms to show their meaning.

hold/keep someone at arm’s length not have a leg to stand on 49.5 Here are two more idioms using arm which are not on the page opposite. Using a dictionary if necessary, complete each idiom.

1. The tickets for the festival cost us an arm and a __________________; they were the most expensive I have ever bought.

2. I think I’ll __________________ my arm and apply for that job. I know I’m not at all qualified, but I’ve got nothing to lose by applying.
Head

Emotions

Head is used in a number of idioms that relate to emotions and staying calm and in control.

keep your head
[keep calm, especially in a difficult or dangerous situation]

lose your head
[panic or lose control]

laugh/scream/shout your head off
[laugh/scream/shout very much and very loudly (informal)]

If you can keep your head when all around are losing theirs, you'll be a man, my son. (written by 19th century poet Kipling)

They were shouting their heads off until late at night and I just couldn't fall asleep.

Trying to get the boys to tidy their bedroom is just banging your head against a brick wall.

Andy and Jill had been upset with each other for some time, but things eventually came to a head last night when they had a terrible row.

Thought

<table>

<td>Off the top of my head, I couldn't tell you where they live, but I could soon find out.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other head idioms

Rebecca is so beautiful; she always turns heads whenever she walks into a room. My brother Leon is beginning to fall in love with her, but our parents would like to knock that on the head. This is a very busy year for Leon and he is going to have to work very hard to keep his head above water. However, he bites/snaps their heads off if they tell him to ignore her. I'm taking care not to get involved – it's safer to keep my head down.

1. people notice that person because they look interesting or attractive
2. put a stop to it (informal)
3. deal with a difficult situation when he has too much work and not enough time, or when he has just enough money in order to live or keep a business going (an image from swimming)

Hair

Hair in idioms often has associations with being calm and in control.

If you say to someone Keep your hair on! (informal) you mean Calm down!

Her boyfriend has disappeared again. She's tearing/pulling her hair out! [getting very anxious (usually used with continuous verb forms)]

My boss didn't turn a hair when I handed in my notice. [showed no reaction at all]

Neck and chest

It's uncomfortable at home at the moment because my two flatmates, Tom and Ali, are at each other's throats¹ all the time. It started when Tom used Ali's computer and managed to destroy some files. Tom decided to make a clean breast of it². Now Ali won't let him use the computer without breathing down his neck³ all the time and he's always going on about how stupid Tom was. Tom finds this a real pain in the neck⁴ and he wishes he had never got it off his chest⁵, but had just let Ali think it was a computer virus that had destroyed his files. Tom knows he is in the wrong, but he wishes Ali wouldn't keep ramming it down his throat⁶ all the time and would just show his annoyance by giving him the cold shoulder⁷.

¹ arguing in a very angry way
² tell the truth about what he had done so that he did not feel guilty any more
³ paying close attention to what he is doing in an annoying or threatening way
⁴ really annoying
⁵ told him what he was feeling guilty about
⁶ forcing him to listen to his opinions
⁷ ignoring him in a deliberate way

Note how idioms with throat or neck often describe someone behaving in a way that the speaker finds aggressive or intrusive. Note also how the idea of a guilty secret being a weight on your chest is reflected in two idioms – make a clean breast of and get it off your chest.
51.1 Complete each idiom with a word from the box. Use some of the words more than once.

chest face hair neck shoulder throat(s)

I haven’t been enjoying my job recently. On the ____________________ 1 of it, it’s a good job, but my colleagues don’t get on with each other. They are either at each other’s ____________________ 2 or giving each other the cold ____________________ 3 and I don’t know which is worse. My boss is always breathing down my ____________________ 4 and ramming his reactionary views down my ____________________ 5. I find him a terrible pain in the ____________________ 6. I had to get my feelings off my ____________________ 7 and, today, I decided to unburden myself to his secretary. Suddenly, I realised that my boss was standing behind me. ‘You should have told me this ____________________ 8 to ____________________ 9,’ he said and, without turning a ____________________ 10, he added ‘You’re fired!’ I was so angry that I pulled a ____________________ 11 at him and stormed out of the office.

51.2 Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right.

1. You try to keep a straight face
   a. when you get very upset about something.

2. You put a brave face on something
   b. when you admit to doing something wrong.

3. You are pulling your hair out
   c. when you accept it in a straightforward way.

4. You make a clean breast of something
   d. when you are showing your anger.

5. You may make a face
   e. when you want to control your laughter.

6. You take something at face value
   f. when you deliberately ignore them.

7. You may be told to keep your hair on
   g. when you are not pleased about something.

8. You give someone the cold shoulder
   h. when you try to hide your disappointment.

51.3 Correct the mistakes in these idioms.

1. Rose’s father didn’t pull a hair when she told him she was going to get married.

2. I wish my boss would let me get on with my work instead of breathing down the neck.

3. You should tell him directly how you feel rather than just giving him the cold shoulders.

4. Nina is very worried about her husband’s illness, but she’s putting her brave face on it.

5. Keep your hair up!

6. If you take what they say with face value, you’ll soon get disappointed.

7. Having to do homework is such an ache in the neck!

8. I have to tell you a terrible secret. I’ll go mad if I don’t get it on my chest soon.

The eyes are the basis of a large number of idioms. Note the idioms and their meanings in these paragraphs.

I couldn’t believe my eyes when I first saw her. She was so beautiful, I just couldn’t keep my eyes off her. I tried to catch her eye to say hello.

As a teacher myself, I know that teaching is not easy. You always have to keep an eye on the students, but sometimes you just have to turn a blind eye if they behave badly. If you want to be a teacher, you have to go into the profession with your eyes open.

Mia and I were good friends at first, but now we don’t see eye to eye. I know the fact that we stopped being friends raised a few eyebrows at the time.

Could you run/cast your eye over this report and see if there are any spelling mistakes? My computer’s on the blink and the spell-checker refuses to work. These reports are important, and I always have to have/ keep one eye on how the boss will react to them if they look untidy.

It all happened in the blink of an eye and no one could do anything to prevent it. It was horrible. But the police officer standing nearby didn’t bat an eyelid. Then something caught my eye which shocked me even more.

Working in such a poor country opened my eyes to how unjust the world is. It was indeed a real eye-opener.

1 couldn’t believe what I was seeing
2 couldn’t stop looking at her
3 get her attention; make her look at me

15 made me understand for the first time
16 an event or situation that I unexpectedly learnt something from
Exercises

52.1 Write a suitable response to each of these remarks with an idiom. Use the keyword in brackets.

1 A: Oh! We’re doing 58 and the speed limit is 50. There’s a police car there!
   B: Don’t worry, if it’s just over the limit, they usually ____________________________ . (BLIND)

2 A: There’s Petra over there. I wonder if she’s seen us?
   B: I don’t know. Let’s wave and see if we can ____________________________ . (CATCH)

3 A: Are you and Sara not friends any more?
   B: No, not really, we just don’t ____________________________ . (SEE)

4 A: Is there something wrong with this photocopier?
   B: Yes, it’s been ____________________________ for a while now. (BLINK)

5 A: Was it an interesting experience working for Social Services?
   B: Yes, I learnt a lot of things. It was a real ____________________________ . (OPEN)

6 A: Did she react in any way when you told her the awful news?
   B: No, she didn’t ____________________________ . (BAT)

52.2 Circle the correct word to complete each sentence.

1 If you want to be a professional athlete, you have to go into it with your eye / eyes open.
2 Will you cast your eye / eyes over this report? I have to hand it in tomorrow.
3 Erik is so crazy about Amina. Look at him! He can’t keep his eye / eyes off her.
4 The events of last night really opened my eye / eyes to just how arrogant he really is.
5 I couldn’t believe my eye / eyes when I saw what a mess they had made of the room.

52.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an eye idiom.

1 An accident can happen so quickly you can’t stop it.
2 His behaviour at the meeting surprised a few people.
3 You should take into consideration your chances of promotion when taking up a new job.
4 A very strange sight forced me to look as I was driving along the motorway yesterday.

52.4 Here are some random examples from a computer database containing lines from real conversations. The figures in diamond brackets, e.g. <s1>, <s2>, mean ‘first speaker’, ‘second speaker’, etc. How many of the examples use eye as an idiom, and how many use the word eye in its literal sense as ‘the organ we see with’? Use a dictionary if necessary.

Other face idioms: lips, mouth, nose, teeth, tongue

Some literal associations remain strong in these idioms. But remember, these are only guidelines, and some idioms may be less transparent in their meanings.

Main association: Lips are associated with saying/talking.
The company pays lip service to the principle of equal rights for women. [says it believes in, but does not carry out]
I promise I won’t tell anyone. My lips are sealed. [I shall keep the secret / tell no one]

Main association: Mouths are associated with speaking or eating.
I heard about the school by word of mouth. Everyone said it was good. [by being told directly]
Those cream cakes are really mouth-watering / making my mouth water. Take them away before I eat them all! [making me want to eat them]

Main association: Noses are associated with feelings/reactions and involvement.
Stop poking/sticking your nose into other people’s business! [interfering in]
You shouldn’t turn your nose up at 200 pounds a week. It’s better than nothing. [refuse]
That new secretary gets right up everybody’s nose. Someone will have to talk to the boss about it before it’s too late. [annoys/irritates everyone]

Main association: Teeth are associated with hard work / determination / struggles.
He achieved it in the teeth of serious opposition. [despite]
I escaped disaster by the skin of my teeth. [I only just escaped a disaster]
We can’t change what’s happened. We’ll just have to grit our teeth and do our best to carry on as before. [accept the situation and handle it with determination]
Joe is lying through his teeth. I never said any such thing! [telling a deliberate lie]

Main association: Tongues are associated with speaking.
I was upset by her remarks, but I bit my tongue. [remained silent; didn’t react]
Her name’s on the tip of my tongue, but I just can’t remember it. [I know it and will be able to remember it very soon]

Tip

Where idioms do carry indirect associations with their literal meanings, try to group them in some way, e.g. ‘lips and tongue are associated with speaking’, as this may help you to remember them.

54.3 Rewrite each underlined idiom with a literal expression that means the same.

Emily (1) had set her heart on getting a promotion. She had been (2) putting her heart and soul into her work, but had not yet been offered a better position. So she decided to (3) have a heart-to-heart with her boss. Over several cups of coffee she (4) poured her heart out to him, telling him all about her achievements and her ambitions. Her boss listened (5) with a sinking heart. When she had finished (6) baring her heart, he said: ‘You’re a great worker, Emily, and (7) your heart is certainly in the right place. In many ways, (8) you’re a woman after my own heart. But you do need to improve on your people skills before we can consider promoting you. (9) Don’t lose heart, though. I’m sure you will make it one day.’ Emily (10) took his words to heart and was at first very upset. But then she bought a book called People Skills and How to Get Them and decided she’d (11) learn it by heart.

54.4 Answer these questions.

1. What might a boy who is very good at playing the guitar set his heart on doing?
2. If you do something to your heart’s content, do you do it very well or do it a lot?
3. If you say that someone is a woman after your own heart, do you mean that she likes you or that she is like you?
4. If you say that someone’s heart is in the right place, are you praising them?
5. If your heart misses a beat, which of these might you be: sick, excited, afraid, in love?
6. Who does a teenage girl often open her heart to?
7. Why might a woman have a change of heart about getting married and what would she then do?
8. What sort of thing might break a young lover’s heart?
Brain

If you have something on the brain (informal), you can’t stop thinking or talking about one particular thing.

If you pick someone’s brains, you ask for information or advice from a person who knows more about something than you do.

The phrase the brain drain is used to refer to the movement of highly skilled and educated people from their own country to another one where they are paid more.

Blood and guts

If a film is said to be full of blood and guts* (informal), it means that it is very violent.

If something is done in cold blood, or in a cold-blooded way, it is done in a cruelly planned and unemotional way. It is strongly associated with the verbs kill and murder.

If making someone tell or give you something is like getting blood out of a stone, it is very difficult to do.

If you say you have a gut feeling/reaction, you mean that feeling or reaction is instinctive.

If you slog/sweat/work your guts out (informal), you work extremely hard.

* Guts is an informal word for intestines.
55.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

1. Getting him to agree to spend money is like
   a. his mind at rest.
2. He's exhausted because he's been slogging

B

Position

In these idioms back has the sense either of being distant or not taking the main route.

If a plan is on the back burner, it isn’t being dealt with now but hasn’t been totally forgotten.

If somewhere is at/in the back of beyond, it means that it is far from any town.

If you take or an activity takes a back seat, something else becomes more important.

If you say that something came/fell off the back of a lorry, you think it has been stolen.

If something comes by/through the back door, it comes in a way that is not honest or official.

C

Backward(s)

I had leant/bent over backwards to please her [tried very hard]. However, she left without a backward glance [left with no regrets or sad feelings].

Over to you

During the next week, each time the word long comes up in your reading or when you are speaking English, note whether it is being used with its ordinary meanings or in an idiom. If any of the idioms you hear/read are not in this unit, make a note of them in your vocabulary notebook.
Line as track

Imran knew he was in line for promotion last year. However, foolishly, he said something out of line at a meeting and that was the end of his hopes for a while. I'm not sure what he said exactly, but it was something along the lines of the problems of the company being down to inefficient management. Anyway, he's learnt that it is not a good idea to step out of line – at least not in his line of work – and he seems to be going along/on the right lines now. As long as he doesn't say anything along/on the same lines again – at least not until he's got his promotion, when he can be one of the inefficient managers himself.

1 likely to get (used about something good)
2 not suitable, that should not have been said (or sometimes done)
3 similar to
4 behave in a way that is not what is expected of you
5 profession
6 be doing something in a way that will bring good results
7 of a similar kind (sometimes in a similar way)

58.5 Write sentences using six of the idioms from this unit about yourself or people that you know.
Act, action, activity

Idioms with act have two main meanings, one connected simply with doing things, the other with acting as in a theatre or drama. Idioms with action can refer to what is happening or to whether something/someone is working/functioning normally.

Act

Here, the second speaker uses an idiom to repeat or sum up what the first speaker says.

Josh: The boss saw Rory and Emma kissing in the office yesterday. He was furious.

Jack: Yes, I heard about it. They were caught in the act. Amazing!

Kim: Lisa should fill out her application for university or she’ll be too late.

Erica: Yes, it’s time she got her act together.

Paul: Keith wants to join us now that we’re doing well.

Oscar: Yes, now that we’re successful he wants to get in on the act!

Edith: Brian is crying and saying he’s ill. I don’t believe him.

Georgie: I don’t either. I think he’s just putting on an act because he doesn’t want to work.

Note these other idioms with act:

It’s always a difficult balancing act to please the younger people and the older ones at the same time. [a situation where you try to treat the two groups of people equally]

A lot of people think the tabloid newspapers should clean up their act and stop destroying famous people’s lives. [stop doing something a lot of people don’t like or agree with]

Stop behaving like a child! You’re over 18 now. Act your age! [don’t behave in a childish way]

Stop acting the fool/goat! This is a serious matter. [playing around / not taking things seriously]

Action and activity

Note that it would normally be very unusual to find all these similar idioms together in one text.

Normally, the office is a hive of activity\(^1\), but the boss has been out of action\(^2\) for a week, so everyone’s taking it easy. He’ll probably be back in action\(^3\) next week. He says there are opportunities for huge sales on the Internet and that we should get a slice/piece of the action\(^4\). But usually he’s all talk and no action\(^5\), so unless he follows/takes a different course of action\(^6\) from his usual way of doing things, then nothing will happen.

\(^1\) a very busy place (like a beehive) with people working hard all the time

\(^2\) not been working in the normal way, perhaps because he’s ill

\(^3\) be back at work again

\(^4\) take part in something exciting, profit from it

\(^5\) be someone who promises/says they will do a lot of exciting things, but doesn’t do them

\(^6\) acts in a particular way (rather formal)
Exercises

59.1 Use an idiom to repeat or sum up what the other person says.

1 A: James has been off work for a couple of weeks, hasn’t he?
B: Yes, he’s been ________________________ for a while now.

2 A: Lucy is so silly. She’s 31, but she acts like a teenager sometimes.
B: Yes, I agree. She should learn to ________________________.

3 A: Eva is always saying what fantastic plans she has to travel round the world, but she never actually does it.
B: Yes, she’s ________________________.

4 A: Bob should go and get a job. He finished university over a year ago and has never had a job.
B: Yes, it’s time ________________________.

5 A: I think we always have to try to give the kids a lot of fun, but at the same time show their parents we’re giving them a serious education.
B: Yes, it’s a very delicate ________________________.

59.2 Complete the crossword.

Across
1 Time to get your act ________________________.
4 Don’t ________________________ on an act!
5 I want to ________________________ in on the act.

Down
2 Don’t act like this animal.
3 Bees are busy there.

59.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence with an idiom from this unit.

1 He was stealing a car, and the police caught him just at the moment when he was getting into it.
2 I was out of the team for three weeks with a knee problem, but now I’m playing again.
3 I think it’s time we acted in a different way.
4 The film industry should change its present wrong way of doing things and stop making violent films.
5 Everyone wants to be part of the exciting situation now that we are making a lot of money. (Give two answers.)
6 Our office is a very busy place these days as we prepare for the launch of our new products.

Over to you

Try to follow a particular theme and learn as many idioms as you can connected with it. For instance, act gives us idioms connected with the theatre. Look up other theatre words (stage, curtain, scene) and see if you can find any new idioms.
Good and bad

Good and better

Our daughter, Tamsin, wanted to be an actress. I used to be involved in amateur theatre and I think Tamsin wanted to go one better. Against our better judgement, we agreed that she could go to drama school. However, we managed to persuade her to do a secretarial course first – she agreed that this would always stand her in good stead. After completing the course and rather to our relief, she thought better of a life on the stage and decided to go for a job in theatre management instead.

Bad, worse and worst

The company has been in a bad way ever since it lost a major order last July. [in a poor condition]

The situation at school was dreadful last Christmas when a number of teachers were fired and it has gone from bad to worse since then. [got even worse than it was before]

I was learning the piano, but I’ve given it up as a bad job. I couldn’t find time to practise. [stopped because I felt it was not worth continuing]

If the worst comes to the worst, we’ll sell the house and move back to my parents. [if the situation becomes very difficult or serious]

Tip

Use the example sentences on this page as models, but alter them a little if possible so that they describe something in your own life.
Exercises

60.1 Complete each of these idioms with good, bad, better, best, worse or worst.

1. Learning a little Japanese should stand you in ___________ stead when you visit Japan.

3. How are the people at number 10 trying to go one better than their neighbours?
4. In what sense is Mike in a bad way?
5. How might he make the best of a bad job?

60.4 Choose two idioms from each of the three sections on the page opposite. Then write sentences about your own personal experiences.

example: I’m studying English because I’m sure it will stand me in good stead in the future.
The ground, meaning the earth under our feet, is associated with a number of idioms which refer to positions people occupy in giving arguments and opinions. The ground is also seen as a starting point from which plans, actions, etc. can take off, like a plane.

Attitudes, arguments, positions

Agreeing / accepting ideas

We share a lot of common ground, so I think we’ll work well together. [things we agree on; similar opinions and experience]

The idea that organic food is better for people as well as the environment is gaining ground. [becoming more popular/accepted]

Disagreeing/opposing

The Prime Minister’s speech has cut the ground from under the feet of the Opposition. [made their position weaker by saying something better]

She was determined to hold/stand her ground and not to be persuaded by the others. [refuse to change her opinion/behaviour]

I think you’re on dangerous ground if you try to insist that they change the financial system. [hold a view/opinion that will probably offend/upset people]

Changing your opinion/argument

For a long time, neither side would give ground, but now it seems they are ready to consider each other’s position. [change their opinion or accept the other side’s position]

It’s very difficult to argue with Rosa; she keeps shifting her ground. [changing her opinion/argument]

The ground as starting point

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>If someone ...</th>
<th>this means they ...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>gets a project/idea off the ground (or if a project/idea gets off the ground)</td>
<td>help it start off well/successfully (or it starts well/successfully)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>gets in on the ground floor</td>
<td>become involved in something right at the beginning (and which is often successful later)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prepares the ground (for some activity)</td>
<td>create a good/suitable situation for something to take place</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other useful ground idioms

I felt so embarrassed I just wished the ground would swallow me up. [wished I could just disappear]

5 banging could be replaced by hitting
6 scared could be replaced by frightened
2.4 Possible answers:

1. look a gift horse in the mouth – always used in a negative sentence
   You shouldn’t look a gift horse in the mouth!

2. be banging your head against a brick wall – always used in a continuous form
   Trying to reason with him was like banging my head against a brick wall.

3. be on the brink of – always followed by a noun or an -ing form
   Newspaper reports say that the company is on the brink of financial disaster.

4. tie yourself up in knots – always used reflexively
   She tied herself up in knots trying to explain why she had written to him like that.

5. be man enough – always followed by an infinitive with to

9. Quite a lot of the images are based on the concept of happiness making you feel as if you are not on the ground but up in the air.
Unit 4

4.1 These pairs of idioms mean more or less the same thing:
went off the deep end / did his nut gave him an earful / gave him a piece of her mind drove him up the wall / sent him round the bend put his back up / rubbed him up the wrong way

4.2 1. here 2. terms 3. cat 4. went 5. after 6. out 7. fit
8. wits’

4.3 Yesterday I had terrible toothache. It hurt a lot and I guess that’s why I was in a bad temper all day. Everything anyone said seemed to put my back up and, in the end, I blew a fuse with the person I share my office with. Even when I’m in a good mood, she sends me round the twist with her constant chatter and yesterday I had had it up to here with her after only ten minutes. I really gave her an earful and the result is that we are no longer on speaking terms. I know I’ll have to apologise for doing my nut like that, but perhaps I’ll wait a while. It’s much easier to work when she isn’t talking to me! Perhaps I should give her a piece of my mind more often.

4.4 Possible answers:
The answers to the questions with even numbers here are fairly fixed, but those with odd numbers are more open. 47.2
1 I think it would be good if you got some first-hand experience of working in a poor country before working for an aid organisation at home.
2 Jake has washed his hands (completely) of the club committee. He was so disgusted that he just quit, and never wants to see any of them again.
3 That new power station on the coast sticks/stands out like a sore thumb! You’d think they would have built it to blend in with the landscape.
4 Have you ever tried your hand at water-skiing? My sister’s got a boat if you would like to try.
5 I always have to have the cookbook to hand when I’m trying out a new recipe.
6 I’m too busy to play football every week now, but I really should play occasionally, just to keep my hand in.
7 She got her fingers (badly) burnt on the stock exchange. She bought shares in an Internet company that went bankrupt.

1 Do you think you could give me a hand this weekend? I have to move some furniture to our summer cottage.
2 If you’re the sort of person who is prepared to turn your hand to anything, you’ll be able to earn a lot of money; people are always looking for willing workers.
3 I was very pleased when they told me my project had been given the thumbs up.
4 I decided to wash my hands of the whole idea and to have no involvement whatsoever in it.
5 If you want to make a good impression at a business meeting, it is a good idea to have all the facts and figures at your fingertips.
6 To build a horrible concrete bridge over such a beautiful river is terrible. It stands out like a sore thumb!

Over to you
We said at the beginning of the unit that hands in idioms often refer to ownership, control, acting and exercising skills. Idioms which follow those ideas include have something to hand (have it near you, immediately available), be a dab hand at something (be very good / very skilful at something). Fingers seem to touch things. Thumbs seem to be something noticeable, visible, as a signal of something, e.g. thumb a lift meaning to hitch-hike. But remember, these are just general guidelines to meaning, and individual idioms may suggest a different kind of meaning, e.g. be under someone’s thumb meaning to be controlled by them.

  1 bite someone's head off
  2 keep your head down
  3 keep your head above water
  4 be banging your head against a brick wall
  5 turn heads

50.4
  Possible answers:
  Check your answers with your teacher or another good speaker of English if you are not sure whether they are correct or not.
  1 I had my head bitten off by an ex-boss once. It wasn't, I think, because of anything serious that I had done, but was simply because he was having some problems at home at the time.
  2 I'd find it hard to keep my head if I was in an emergency situation in an aeroplane.
  3 Perhaps the last time I laughed my head off was watching the comedy TV quiz show Have I got news for you.
  4 Someone tall, dark and handsome might turn my head in the street or someone wearing very striking clothes.
  5 Various writers, political figures and pop stars have all, at different times, been criticised for putting ideas into young people's heads.
  6 It would depend what its expectations were. It might be pleased that it was not making a loss; on the other hand, it might not be pleased that it was not making a significant profit.

2 His behaviour at the meeting raised a few eyebrows.
3 You should always have/keep one eye on your chances of promotion when you take up a new job.
4 A very strange sight caught my eye as I was driving along the motorway yesterday.

Lines 1, 5, 6 and 11 use the word eye in its literal sense, meaning ‘the organ we see with’. The rest of the lines use eye in idioms, many of which are on the left-hand page. But note the following:

keep an eye out for (lines 2 and 9): be careful and watch for something/someone in your mind’s eye (line 3): in your imagination see someone (or something) out of the corner of your eye (line 12): see them without looking straight in their direction
If you do not know this last group of idioms, make a note of them in your vocabulary notebook.

2 I like both shirts. I can’t make up my mind which one to buy.
3 Don’t think too long about the question. Just tell me your gut feeling/reaction.
4 Why do people enjoy films that are full of blood and guts?
5 Don’t decide until you know all the facts. It’s best to have/keep an open mind until then.
6 I know you must be worried, but I’m sure we can put/set your mind at rest.
7 I’ve had that awful song on the brain ever since hearing it on the radio this morning.
8 Getting him to tell me anything about his work is like getting blood out of a stone.

55.4 These seem to be the basic meanings of these parts of the body in idioms – although some of the idioms have moved quite a long way from these concepts and indeed blood in particular may have several different sets of associations for the English speaker.

mind – thinking
blood – emotion (though is also used in idioms with the physical meaning of blood) brain – intelligence guts – intestines or your insides

Unit 56
