Collocations are combinations of words, which frequently appear together. Using them makes your English sound more natural. Knowledge of collocations is often tested in examinations such as Cambridge FCE, CAE, CPE and IELTS. This book is suitable for students at good intermediate level and above.

Using collocations will improve your style of written and spoken English:

• Instead of 'a big amount', say 'a substantial amount'
• Instead of 'think about the options', say 'consider the options'
• Using collocations will make your English sound more natural:
  • Instead of 'get ill', say 'fall ill'
  • Instead of 'a big fine', say 'a heavy fine'

Using collocations will help you avoid common learner errors:

• Instead of 'do a choice', say 'make a choice'
• Instead of 'make your homework', say 'do your homework'

English Collocations in Use Intermediate

• 60 easy-to-use two-page units: collocations are presented and explained on left-hand pages with a range of practice exercises on right-hand pages.
• Presents and explains approximately 1,500 collocations in typical contexts using short texts, dialogues, tables and charts.
• Contains a comprehensive answer key and full index for easy reference.
• Highlights register to help students choose the appropriate language for particular situations.
• Informed by the Cambridge English Corpus to ensure that the most frequently used collocations are presented.

What is a collocation?

Collocation means a natural combination of words; it refers to the way English words are closely associated with each other. For example, do and homework go together, as do make and mistakes; tall goes with man/woman and high with mountain.

Why learn collocations?

You need to learn collocations because they will help you to speak and write English in a more natural and accurate way. People will probably understand what you mean if you talk about ‘making your homework’ or say ‘My uncle is a very high man’ but your language will sound unnatural and might perhaps confuse. Did you mean that your uncle is two metres tall or did you mean that he has a high position in government or business?

Learning collocations will also help you to increase your range of English vocabulary. For example, you’ll find it easier to avoid words like very or nice or beautiful or get by choosing a word that fits the context better and has a more precise meaning. This is particularly useful if you are taking a written exam in English and want to make a good impression on the examiners.

How were the collocations in the book selected?

The collocations presented in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant by the Cambridge International Corpus of written and spoken English (now known as the Cambridge English Corpus) and also the CANCODE corpus of spoken English, developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press. The Cambridge English Corpus is a vast database of real English taken from a range of sources, such as books, newspapers, advertising, letters and emails, websites, conversations and speeches, radio and television. By studying this corpus we obtained a representative picture of how English is really used and which words naturally and frequently go together. We also made much use of the Cambridge Learner Corpus, a corpus of learner English made up of exam scripts from students taking Cambridge English examinations all over the world. This particular corpus showed us what kind of collocation errors learners tend to make.

These corpora show that there are many thousands of collocations in English. So how could we select which ones would be most useful for you to work on in this book?

Firstly, of course, we wanted to choose ones that you might want to use in your own written and spoken English. So, in the unit on Eating and drinking we include, for example, have a quick snack and processed food but not cocoa butter, which is a very strong collocation, but one which has very limited use for most people.

Secondly, we decided it would be most useful for you if we focused on those collocations which are not immediately obvious and which the Cambridge Learner Corpus shows can cause problems for students. A friendly girl, cold water or to eat an apple are all collocations, but they are combinations which you can easily understand and produce yourself without any problems. So we deal here with less obvious – though equally useful – word combinations, with, for instance, make friends (not get-friends) and heavy rain (not strong rain).

Idioms are a special type of collocation where a fixed group of words has a meaning that cannot be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. We deal with them separately in English Idioms in Use and so do not focus on them here.
How is the book organised?

The units are organised into different sections. First we start with important information about collocations in general. Then there are sections looking at grammatical and other special aspects of collocations. The rest of the book deals with collocations that relate to particular topics such as Weather or Business, concepts such as Time or Change and functions such as Agreeing and disagreeing or Liking and disliking.

The book has a key to all the exercises and an index which lists all the collocations we deal with and indicates the units where they can be found.

How should I use this book?

We recommend that you work through the five introductory units first so that you become familiar with the nature of collocations and with how best to study them. After that, you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need a notebook or file in which you can write down the collocations that you study in this book as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. We strongly recommend the Cambridge Learner’s Dictionary or the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary, as both of these give exactly the kind of information that you need to have about collocations. They do this both through the examples provided for each word entry and through their special collocations boxes or mini-panels.

For more information about Cambridge dictionaries and to do online searches you could go to http://dictionary.cambridge.org. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you will find useful.

So, a study of collocation is highly recommended (Unit 6) if you want to make a good impression (Unit 2) with your natural and accurate use of English. Above all, we hope that you will not only learn a lot but will also have fun (Unit 9) as you do the exercises (Unit 7) in this book.
What is a collocation?

A collocation is a pair or group of words that are often used together. These combinations sound natural to native speakers, but students of English have to make a special effort to learn them because they are often difficult to guess. Some combinations just sound ‘wrong’ to native speakers of English. For example, the adjective fast collocates with cars, but not with a glance.

Learning collocations is an important part of learning the vocabulary of a language. Some collocations are fixed, or very strong, for example take a photo, where no word other than take collocates with photo to give the same meaning. Some collocations are more open, where several different words may be used to give a similar meaning, for example keep to / stick to the rules. Here are some more examples of collocations.

You must make an effort and study for your exams (NOT do an effort)
Did you watch TV last night? (NOT look at TV)
This car has a very powerful engine. It can do 200 km an hour. (NOT strong engine)
There are some ancient monuments nearby. (NOT antique monuments)

Sometimes, a pair of words may not be absolutely wrong, and people will understand what is meant, but it may not be the natural, normal collocation. If someone says I did a few mistakes, they will be understood, but a fluent speaker of English would probably say I made a few mistakes.

Compounds and idioms

Compounds are units of meaning formed with two or more words. Sometimes the words are written separately, sometimes they have a hyphen and sometimes they are written as one word. Usually the meaning of the compound can be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. Some examples of compounds are car park, post office, narrow-minded, shoelaces, teapot.

It is not always easy to separate collocations and compounds and, where they are useful for learners or an important part of the vocabulary of a topic, we include some compounds in this book too.

Idioms are groups of words in a fixed order that have a meaning that cannot be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. For example, pass the buck is an idiom meaning ‘to pass responsibility for a problem to another person to avoid dealing with it oneself’. We deal with idioms in detail in the book English Idioms in Use in this series.

Why learn collocations?

Learning collocations is a good idea because they can:

a) give you the most natural way to say something: smoking is strictly forbidden is more natural than smoking is strongly forbidden.

b) give you alternative ways of saying something, which may be more colourful/expressive or more precise: instead of repeating It was very cold and very dark, we can say It was bitterly cold and pitch dark.

c) improve your style in writing: instead of saying poverty causes crime, you can say poverty breeds crime; instead of saying a big meal you can say a substantial meal. You may not need or want to use these in informal conversations, but in writing they can give your text more variety and make it read better: this book includes notes about formality wherever the collocations are especially formal or informal.
Exercises

1.1 Read A and B and answer these questions.

1. What is a collocation?
2. Which of these words does fast collocate with: car, food, glance, meal?
3. Which of these are compounds: computer, narrow-minded, teapot, ancient monument, car park?
4. What do we call expressions like pass the buck and be over the moon?

1.2 Make ten collocations from the words in the box.

an effort ancient bitterly make breakfast cold dark engine forbidden mistakes have make meal monument pitch powerful strictly substantial TV watch

1.3 Are these statements about collocations true or false?

1. Learning collocations will make your English sound more natural.
2. Learning collocations will help you to express yourself in a variety of ways.
3. Learning collocations will help you to write better English.
4. Using collocations properly will get you better marks in exams.
5. You will not be understood unless you use collocations properly.

1.4 Put the expressions from the box into the correct category in the table below.

make a mistake a storm in a tea cup live music checkpoint key ring pull somebody's leg heavy snow valid passport teapot bitterly disappointed

1.5 Underline the collocations in this text.

When I left university I made a decision to take up a profession in which I could be creative. I could play the guitar, but I'd never written any songs. Nonetheless, I decided to become a singer-songwriter. I made some recordings but I had a rather heavy cold, so they didn't sound good. I made some more, and sent them to a record company and waited for them to reply. So, while I was waiting to become famous, I got a job in a fast-food restaurant. That was five years ago. I'm still doing the same job.
Finding, recording and learning collocations

Finding collocations

There are two main ways in which you can find collocations.

● You can train yourself to notice them whenever you read or listen to anything in English.

Look at the collocations that are worth learning from this short text in English.

After giving Mark a lift to the airport, Julie made her way home. What an exciting life he led! At times Julie felt desperately jealous of him. She spent her time doing little more than taking care of him and the children. Now her sister was getting divorced and would doubtless be making demands on her too. Julie had promised to give her sister a call as soon as she got home but she decided to run herself a bath first. She had a sharp pain in her side and hoped that a hot bath might ease the pain.

Tip
Get into the habit of making a note of any good collocations you come across in any English text you read.

● You can find them in any good learner’s dictionary.

For example, if you look up the word sharp you will find some of these collocations:

a sharp pain
a sharp bend/turn a sharp contrast/difference/distinction a sharp rise/increase/drop

Tip
When you look up a new word, make a point of noting it down in several different collocations.

Recording collocations

The best way to record a collocation is in a phrase or a sentence showing how it is used. Highlight the collocation by underlining it or by using a highlighting pen.

For example: I don’t have access to that kind of secret information.
Or: Jim gave me a very useful piece of advice.

Learning collocations

Learning collocations is not so different from learning any vocabulary item. The key things are to:

● regularly revise what you want to learn

● practise using what you want to learn in contexts that are meaningful for you personally

● learn collocations in groups to help you fix them in your memory. You might group together collocations relating to the same topic. Or you might group collocations based on the same word, for example:

I must find a way to help him.
Can you find your way back to my house?
I learnt the hard way that Jack can’t be trusted.
Please tell me if I’m getting in your way.
You must give way to traffic from the left.
I’ve tried every possible way to get him to change his mind.
Exercises

2.1 Underline 11 collocations in this text.

My friend Abigail is desperately worried about her son at the moment. He wants to enrol on a course of some sort but just can’t make a decision about what to study. I gave Abigail a ring and we had a long chat about it last night. She said he’d like to study for a degree but is afraid he won’t meet the requirements for university entry. Abigail thinks he should do a course in Management because he’d like to set up his own business in the future. I agreed that that would be a wise choice.

1. She’s having her duty.
2. She’s taking a lecture.
3. She’s giving a party.
4. She’s making an exam.
5. She’s doing good progress.

2.3 Correct the eight collocation errors in this text. Use a dictionary to help you if necessary.

In the morning I made some work in the garden, then I spent a rest for about an hour before going out to have some shopping in town. It was my sister’s birthday and I wanted to do a special effort to cook a nice meal for her. I gave a look at a new Thai cookery book in the bookshop and decided to buy it. It has some totally easy recipes and I managed to do a good impression with my very first Thai meal. I think my sister utterly enjoyed her birthday.

2.4 Look at this entry for the verb lead in the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary. What collocations could you learn from this entry? Underline or highlight them. Then write one new sentence for each of them.

lead [LED] /li:d/ verb [I or T] (led, led) to control a group of people, a country, or a situation: I think we’ve chosen the right person to lead the expedition. ○ I’ve asked Gemma to lead the discussion. ○ Who will be leading the inquiry into the accident?

● lead sb by the nose INFORMAL to control someone and make them do exactly what you want them to do

See also Unit 3, Using your dictionary.

Over to you

Use a dictionary to find three or four other good collocations for each of these words:
desperately     pain     wise     run

Write the collocations you find in an appropriate way in your vocabulary notebook.
Using your dictionary

A good learner’s dictionary will give you information on collocations. Sometimes the information is highlighted in some special way. In other cases, the examples used in the dictionary include the most common collocations.

In the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary (CALD), common and useful collocations are given in bold type. Look at the CALD entry for the word pain and note how useful collocations are highlighted in bold.

pain /ˈpeɪn/ noun [C or U] 1 a feeling of physical suffering caused by injury or illness: *Her symptoms included abdominal pain and vomiting. ○ Are you in (= suffering from) pain? ○ She was in constant pain. ○ These tablets should help to ease the pain. ○ I felt a sharp pain in my foot. ○ He’s been suffering various aches and pains for years. 2 emotional or mental suffering: It’s a film about the pains and pleasures of parenthood. ○ The parents are still in great pain over the death of their child.

- a pain (in the neck) INFORMAL someone or something that is very annoying: That child is a real pain in the neck.

Online dictionaries are very useful because you can search for a lot more information very quickly. The Cambridge Dictionary (dictionary.cambridge.org) provides definitions as well as more examples including the key word and links to the SMART Thesaurus. The SMART Thesaurus gives synonyms, related words and phrases of the word you are looking up. Here is the entry for ‘advice’ in the Cambridge online dictionary.

advice /ədˈvaɪs/ noun [U]

- an opinion that someone offers you about what you should do or how you should act in a particular situation:
  - Steven gave me some good advice.
  - I think I’ll take your advice (= do what you suggest) and get the green dress.
  - Can I give you a piece of advice?
  - I need some advice on which computer to buy.
  - (informal) My advice is to go by train.
  - We went to Paris on Sarah’s advice.

- More examples
  - The centre provides expert advice for people with financial problems.
  - I decided to follow her advice and go to bed early.
  - The service offers young people practical advice on finding a job.
  - I’ve always valued her advice.
  - You should get some legal advice before you take any further action.

A good dictionary will also tell you if a collocation is formal or informal. For example, CALD indicates that to take somebody up on an offer is an informal collocation (accept an offer would be a more formal alternative).

offer /ˈɑːfər/ noun [C]

- when someone asks you if you would like to have something or if you would like them to do something: If you like I can do some shopping for you.” “That’s a very kind offer.” ○ I must say the offer of a weekend in Barcelona quite tempts me.
- INFORMAL One day I’ll take you up on (= accept) that offer.

Tip

When you buy a dictionary, make sure it gives good, clear information about collocations. When you look up words, if you don’t know the collocations, highlight them in your dictionary or transfer them to your vocabulary notebook.
Exercises

3.1 Answer these questions about collocations and dictionaries.

1. How does the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary show collocations?
2. Which five collocations can you see in the top box on the opposite page?
3. Why is an online dictionary particularly useful?
4. What information does the online Thesaurus usually show?
5. How does the Cambridge Advanced Learner’s Dictionary indicate that a collocation is informal?
6. Look at the dictionary that you normally use. Does it indicate collocations? If so, how?
7. Look up pain in your own dictionary. Which of the collocations on the left-hand page does it either highlight or illustrate in example sentences?
8. Look up the noun offer in your own dictionary. What collocations can you find? Does the dictionary indicate whether the collocations are formal or informal? If so, how?

3.2 Put the expressions from the box into the correct category in the table below.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>making others experience pain</th>
<th>the experience of being in pain</th>
<th>making pain go away</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>to alleviate pain</td>
<td>to cause pain</td>
<td>to complain of pain</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>to suffer pain</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

3.3 Look in a good learner’s dictionary. What collocations do you find there for the word ache?

Over to you

Look up two or three words that you have recently learnt, using a good learner’s dictionary. Write down any interesting collocations that are shown for those words.
There are many different types of collocation. Here are some examples.

Adjectives and nouns

Notice adjectives that are typically used with particular nouns.

Emma always wears red or yellow or some other bright colour.
We had a brief chat about the exams but didn’t have time to discuss them properly.
Unemployment is a major problem for the government at the moment.
Improving the health service is another key issue for government.

Nouns and verbs

Notice how nouns and verbs often go together. The examples below are all to do with economics and business.

The economy boomed in the 1990s.
The company has grown and now employs 50 more people than last year.
The company has expanded and now has branches in most major cities.
The two companies merged in 2013 and now form one very large corporation.
The company launched the product in 2012.
The price increase poses a problem for us.
The internet has created opportunities for our business.

Noun + noun

There are a lot of collocations with the pattern a … of … .

As Max read the lies about him, he felt a surge of anger.
Every parent feels a sense of pride when their child does well or wins something.
I felt a pang of nostalgia when I saw the old photos of the village where I grew up.

Verbs and expressions with prepositions

Some verbs collocate with particular prepositional expressions.

As Jack went on stage to receive his gold medal for the judo competition you could see his parents swelling with pride.
I was filled with horror when I read the newspaper report of the explosion.
When she spilt juice on her new skirt the little girl burst into tears.

Verbs and adverbs

Some verbs have particular adverbs which regularly collocate with them.

She pulled steadily on the rope and helped him to safety.
He placed the beautiful vase gently on the window ledge.
‘I love you and want to marry you,’ Dylan whispered softly to Madison.
She smiled proudly as she looked at the photos of her new grandson.

Adverbs and adjectives

Adjectives often have particular adverbs which regularly collocate with them.

They are happily married.
I am fully aware that there are serious problems.
Harry was blissfully unaware that he was in danger.
Exercises

4.1 Complete each sentence with a collocation from A.
1. Come to my office ten minutes before the meeting so we can have …
2. With her lovely dark hair Ella looks best when she wears …
3. In your essay on the influence of TV, don’t forget to discuss these …
4. There is some crime in our town but it isn’t …

4.2 Replace the underlined words with a collocating verb from B.
1. We are going to introduce an exciting new product in June.
2. The economy was extremely high 30 years ago.
3. The new university they are planning will provide a lot of job opportunities.
4. There are always some problems when two companies join together but I think it will be worth it in the long run.
5. The increase in oil prices certainly creates a problem for us.
6. The company got bigger and has now added children’s clothing to its product range.

4.3 Choose the correct feeling from the box to complete each sentence.

Over to you

Make a page in your vocabulary notebook for each of the types of collocation listed on the opposite page.
Often, collocations rather than individual words suggest a particular register. For example, phrases using pretty meaning fairly sound informal when used with negative adjectives (pretty awful, pretty dreadful, pretty dull), and are typical of spoken English.

Spoken English

Here are some more collocations which are almost exclusively found in spoken English.

I’m bored stiff in this lesson!

You badly need a haircut!

I’ll have a think about it and let you know.

Give me a ring when you get home.

Formal English

Some collocations are typical of formal English and are most likely to be found in an official, often legal, context, such as in notices.

Passengers must not alight from the bus whilst it is in motion.

[Cyclists must dismount here]

[Trespassers will be prosecuted]

Please dispose of unwanted items in the receptacle provided

Newspaper English

Some collocations – particularly ones that use short, dramatic words – are found mainly in newspapers. In most cases they would not normally be used in everyday conversation.

Computer Factory to Axe Jobs

[make staff redundant]

Airline Slashes Prices

[cuts prices drastically]

Police Crack Down on Speeding

[start dealing with it in a more severe way]

Police Quiz 16-Year-old in Murder Enquiry

[ask questions]

Flu Outbreak Hits Southern Europe

Business English

Some collocations are characteristic of business English.

to submit a tender [present a document offering to do a job and stating the price]

to raise capital [get money to put into a business]

to go into partnership with someone [agree to start or run a business with someone]

to start up a business
Exercises

5.1 Underline formal (F) or informal (I) collocations in these sentences (one per sentence) and put F or I in the brackets at the end.

1. Cyclists should dismount before crossing the footbridge. ( )
2. Never dispose of batteries and similar items by throwing them onto a fire. ( )
3. The students were all bored stiff by the lecture. ( )
4. Passengers must alight from the bus through the rear door. ( )
5. The grass badly needs cutting. ( )
6. Please place all used tickets in the receptacle provided as you leave the building. ( )

5.2 Underline typical news/media collocations in these newspaper clips.

1. OIL COMPANIES SLASH PRICES
There was good news for motorists today as pump prices were lowered by the major oil companies.

2. DETECTIVES QUIZ BUSINESSMAN OVER MISSING TEENAGER
Senior detectives interviewed a man who has been named as prime suspect in the case of a missing 18-year-old who is feared to have been abducted.

3. FLOODS HIT CENTRAL REGION
Towns and villages in the Central region were battling against floods tonight as heavy rain continued.

4. CAR FIRM TO AXE 200 JOBS
The Presco car firm has announced that 200 workers will be made redundant at its Kenton factory. The job losses are the result of falling profits.

5.3 Rewrite the headlines in exercise 5.2 using collocations more typical of ordinary conversation, as if you were telling a friend the news. Start each answer with ‘Have you heard …?’ Use a dictionary if necessary.

5.4 Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right to make typical collocations used in business English.

1. We raised partnership to develop a new range of products.
2. They submitted capital to expand the business.
3. They went into a business to supply sports equipment to schools.
4. We started up a tender for the new stadium.

5.5 Choose a formal or informal collocation as instructed at the end of each sentence. Use a dictionary if necessary.

1. She was dead / extremely keen to meet the new coach. (informal)
2. We will be boarding the aircraft / getting on the plane in about ten minutes. (formal)
3. Mr Trotter paid for / bore the cost of the repairs. (formal)
4. I withdrew from / dropped out of my university course after a year. (informal)
5. The marketing manager launched into / embarked upon a detailed explanation of her new strategy. (informal)
Intensifying adverbs

In English there are lots of other ways of saying very or very much. For example, we can use words such as highly, utterly, bitterly, deeply. These alternatives collocate strongly with specific words, and other combinations often sound unnatural.

Highly

<td>ridiculous stupid impossible wrong alone appalled convinced devastated miserable</td>
<td>Absolutely and (slightly more formal) utterly combine with adjectives with very extreme meanings where we can’t use very. For example, we say absolutely/utterly exhausted, not very exhausted, whereas we say very tired, but not absolutely or utterly tired. Often, but not always, these words have negative connotations.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

6.2 Use a collocation from exercise 6.1 to complete each of these sentences.

1. The flight from London to Rome was ________________ ________________. It only cost 20 euros.
2. Some people love her new book, others are very angry about it. It is ________________ ________________.
3. His father was a peace campaigner all his life and was ________________ ________________ to war.
4. The exam results were ________________ ________________ for the whole class. We had all expected to do much better.
5. When I realised how much my selfish behaviour had upset everyone, I was ________________ ________________.
6. In the 1990s she ran a(n) ________________ ________________ company which made outstanding profits.
7. Everyone got more than 95% correct in the test; it was ________________ ________________.
8. You must apologise immediately. It was a(n) ________________ ________________ remark to make.
9. She has always been ________________ ________________ about the environment and would like to work for a conservation agency.
10. That you should even think that I would steal money from you is ________________ ________________! You must be crazy!

6.3 In each of these sets of phrases, one is not a correct collocation. Cross out the incorrect one.

1. strongly recommend  strongly influence  strongly love  strongly dislike
2. highly educated  highly profitable  highly unusual  highly exhausted
3. bitterly regard  bitterly regret  bitterly resent  bitterly criticise
4. absolutely convinced  absolutely tired  absolutely devastated  absolutely absurd
5. deeply unhappy  deeply religious  deeply successful  deeply committed

6.4 In this short text, the writer has often misused the word strongly. Correct the wrong collocations using adverbs from the box. Use each adverb once only.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Everyone was complaining strongly when they heard about the new plan. People were strongly shocked to hear that children would be strongly forbidden to use the sports ground and most people were strongly opposed to the new rules. Even people who normally never expressed an opinion were strongly appalled by the proposals.

English Collocations in Use Intermediate 17
This unit deals with make and do, two verbs that many learners have problems with. If you remember that the basic meaning of make is about producing something and the basic meaning of do is about performing an action, then the collocations on this page may seem more logical.

Make

Tip

Notice all the patterns that you can see in these tables. For example, make a comment, make an excuse and make a contribution to a discussion are all connected with saying things. Noticing connections like this may help you to remember the correct collocation.
Exercises

7.1 Use a collocation with make and a noun instead of the underlined words in each of these conversations.

1  Naomi: The bill says we’ve had three desserts. We only had two.
    Stella: The waiter must have been mistaken.

2  Avery: It’s so difficult. Should I take the job or not?
    Owen: I know it’s difficult. But you have to decide one way or the other.

3  Grace: Can you and Ethan come to dinner on Saturday?
    Lily: Yes, we’ll have to arrange to get a babysitter, but it should be OK.

4  Zoe: Did you hear about the air traffic controllers’ strike in the USA?
    Aaron: Yes. We had to change our travel itinerary because of it.

5  Luke: Can I have chips and rice with my lunch?
    Clare: No, you have to choose, chips or rice, but not both.

6  Gavin: Do you intend to speak at the meeting?
    Victoria: Yes, I hope I can contribute to the debate.

7.2 Choose the correct collocation, do or make.

1  Did the fire do / make much damage to the factory?

2  I hate doing / making my homework at the last minute.

3  You must do / make an effort to work harder.

4  Did you do / make any work at the weekend?

5  We are trying to do / make improvements to the system for registering.

6  Do you think it would do / make any harm if I cut some leaves off this plant?

7.3 You are designing a questionnaire for your school website. Complete each question with do or make.

1. Do you ........................................ your best to be on time when meeting a friend?
   - ALWAYS  - SOMETIMES  - NEVER

2. Do you ever ........................................ the cooking at home?
   - ALWAYS  - SOMETIMES  - NEVER

3. Do you ........................................ excuses if someone asks you to ........................................ a big favour for them?
   - ALWAYS  - SOMETIMES  - NEVER

4. Do you ever ........................................ negative comments about your friends’ hair, clothes, etc?
   - ALWAYS  - SOMETIMES  - NEVER

5. Do you find it easy to ........................................ friends?
   - ALWAYS  - SOMETIMES  - NEVER

Give yourself three points for ‘always’, two for ‘sometimes’, one for ‘never’. Turn the page to find out how nice you really are.
Get is a very common verb in English, but it is not always appropriate for talking about changes. Note also alternatives to get which can improve your style.

Go, not get

Go is used for changes in people’s personality, appearance and physical abilities:

People go mad/bald/grey/blind/deaf.

Go is often used for sudden, usually negative, changes:

He was very embarrassed and his face went red. Suddenly the sky went very dark and it started to rain.

Go can also be used for slower colour changes:

The pages of the book had gone yellow over the years.

Turn, not get

Turn often collocates with colours:

The sky turned gold as the sun set.

When the tomatoes turn red, the farmers pick them and sell them.

The news gave his mother such a shock that her hair turned white overnight.

Get and become

Get and become can often be used with the same collocations, but become is more formal and is therefore more appropriate in essays:

She gave up smoking when she became pregnant.

I would like to become involved in raising money for charity.

The same is true for collocations with adjectives such as angry, bored, excited, depressed, upset, impatient, violent:

He became depressed after his wife's death.

Become, not get, is used with the following: extinct, (un)popular, homeless, famous.

Our local baker's has become famous for its apple tarts.

Alternatives to get and become

She fell ill and was taken to hospital.

Everyone fell silent when they heard the shocking news.

As my father grew older, he spent less time working.

The noise grew louder and soon we realised it was a plane approaching.

Overusing and misusing get

Here are some sentences from students’ essays where get is wrongly used.

Exercises

8.1 Answer these questions using collocations from A and B.

1. What can happen to men as they get older? (Clue: Think of their hair.)
2. What can happen if you are embarrassed? (Clue: Think of your face.)
3. What can happen if you get bad news? (Clue: Think of your face or hair.)
4. What can happen to the pages of a newspaper after a long time?
5. What happens to strawberries as they ripen?
6. The poet John Milton lost his eyesight at the end of his life. What is another way of saying that?
7. The composer Beethoven lost his hearing at the end of his life. What is another way of saying that?
8. At the end of Shakespeare’s play, Hamlet loses his mind. What is another way of saying that?
9. If it is about to rain, what might happen to the sky?

8.2 Look at C, D and E opposite. Correct these sentences.

1. Dinosaurs got extinct thousands of years ago.
2. When I get married, I’d like to get lots of children.
3. Jasmine fell depressed after failing her final exams.
4. Niklas has always dreamt of getting famous.
5. Would you be interested in growing involved in this project?
6. More people have got homeless this year than in any previous year.
7. My sister got a baby last week.
8. My grandfather got a heart attack last winter.

8.3 Replace each use of get with a verb from the box.

fall    become    grow    have    make

As you get older, you’ll begin to understand your parents better. Getting angry with them all the time doesn’t help. You may not want to go to summer camp when none of your friends will be there, but your parents know you will soon get new friends there. You would all have gone on a family holiday together if your grandmother hadn’t got ill, but surely you can understand why they don’t want to leave her. You’ll feel much more sympathetic to your parents’ feelings when you get a child of your own!

8.4 Complete the collocations in these sentences.

1. I think I’d go ______________ if I had to put up with such a terrible boss!
2. It was a wonderful sunset. The sky ______________ gold and we sat on the terrace enjoying it.
3. Once upon a time the walls were probably cream but they have _______________ brown now and badly need repainting.
4. When I start _______________ grey, I’m definitely going to dye my hair.
5. As the head teacher walked into the hall, the children all _______________ silent.
6. The noise on the street ________________ louder and I looked out of the window to see what was happening.
7. My grandmother is a little afraid of ________________ ill while she is abroad.
8. I was so embarrassed that I ________________ bright red.
Have

Note that these verbs collocate with have rather than any other verb (e.g. get or make).

Take

Hi, Jean,

We’re so glad we decided to take a holiday here. Yesterday we took a trip to the mountains. First we took a train to a little town and then we took a bus going to various villages and got off when we saw one that we took a liking to. Of course, we were taking a risk as we didn’t know exactly what we’d find there. But we were lucky. Some kids took an interest in us and showed us some great places. We took a lot of photos. Have you done anything yet about your job? I’d take a chance and leave if I were you. No point in staying somewhere where the boss has taken a dislike to you! Take advantage of being in London – there are always plenty of jobs there. You’ll soon find something else, so take action, that’s my advice! Good luck!

Ellen

Tip

There are other common verbs in English which have strong and possibly surprising collocations. Notice any that you find with, for example, break, fall, run and take.
Exercises

9.1 Complete the questions using collocations from A opposite.

1 You want a friend to look at a letter you have written before you send it.
   YOU: Could you .........................................................................................................................................................................................?

2 You want to know why your two friends aren’t speaking to each other.
   YOU: Why aren’t you speaking to Hazel? Did you ..........................................................................................................................................................?

3 A friend comes to school on crutches with a bandage round her head.
   YOU: What happened? Did you .................................................................................................................................................?

4 You want to know if a friend did lots of enjoyable things on their recent holiday.
   YOU: How was the holiday? Did you ..................................................................................................................................?

5 You are having a meeting with some colleagues. You think it is time to stop for half an hour or so.
   YOU: Shall we .............................................................................................................................................................................................?

6 A friend has just bought a new bicycle. You’d like to ride it to see what it’s like.
   YOU: Nice bike! Can I .........................................................................................................................................................................?

7 You want to talk informally to your tutor about what to do next year.
   YOU: When you’re free, could I .................................................................................................................................................?

8 A friend is trying with difficulty to read your address, which you have just written down for them.

8 I went to Douglas Farnham’s funeral to give / take / pay my last respects to a fine man.

9 I think I’ll take / make / do a chance and leave my flight booking till the last minute.
   I may get a cheaper ticket.

10 Shall we make / get / have a party for Ruby? She’s moving to Manchester next week.

11 We need to make / get / take action immediately!

12 I had / got / took a feeling that he was trying to hide something from me.

9.3 Which collocations in this text could be replaced by collocations with take instead of the verbs used?

Next time you go on a trip to the coast, why not get the train? Why suffer endless delays in long traffic jams? And why run risks when you’re travelling? Travel by train and arrive safely. What’s more, if you decide to have a holiday in the capital city, you’ll have a more relaxing time if you go by rail. Or why not pay a surprise visit to an old friend during an off-peak time? | (a) close
(b) shut  | The chairperson closed the meeting at 4.30. [We close meetings/discussions/conferences, etc.] | She was very rude. She said ‘Shut your mouth!’ [impolite way of telling someone not to speak] A dentist might ask you to close your mouth. Shut is generally more informal. |
| (a) start
(b) begin | It was a cold morning and I could not start my car. [Start, NOT begin, is used for engines and vehicles.] | Before the universe began, time and space did not exist. [Begin is preferred in more formal and abstract contexts.] |
| (a) big
(b) large | It was a big decision to make. There were some big problems to solve. | I wanted the sweater in the large size but they only had medium. |
| (a) end
(b) finish | The film ended with the hero dying. They ended their relationship a year ago. [End here means decide to stop.] | I haven’t finished my homework yet. [Finish here means complete.] |

Groups of words with similar meanings
Words meaning ‘old’
I met an old friend the other day. It’s a very old building. She studied ancient history. In ancient times, life was very hard. This shop sells antique furniture. She collects antique jewellery. [old and valuable] I helped an elderly person who was trying to cross the road. [elderly is more polite than old]

Words meaning ‘with no one or nothing else or with nothing similar’
Donna is a single parent; it’s difficult for her to work full time. He lives in a very lonely place/spot up in the mountains. At first I felt desperately lonely when I moved from London to the countryside. I live alone, but I don’t like travelling alone; it’s nice to be with someone. There was just one solitary figure on the otherwise deserted beach. [one person on their own] She was the sole survivor of the crash. Everyone else died. [only survivor] I am an only child; I sometimes wonder what it would be like to have a brother or sister. This is a unique occasion, with three past Prime Ministers all together in one room.

11.3 Correct the nine collocation errors in this paragraph.

Last year I got a new job and started gaining a lot more money. I realised I could afford to use more money on my holiday than I usually do and decided to pass a month in Australia. I knew it would be hot there and so I wouldn’t need to carry warm clothes with me. In fact, I used a t-shirt and jeans all the time I was there. I carried a hat all the time too, of course, to protect me from the sun. It was fantastic there. I passed a week sightseeing in Sydney and then stayed the rest of the time travelling round the country. I even did my lifelong ambition of stroking a koala.

11.4 Change the underlined words so that each sentence has the opposite meaning.

1. The Democratic Party _lost_ the election.
2. The ruling power _has lost_ control of the situation.
3. Our team _was defeated in_ the match.
4. I _spent_ a lot of money last month.
5. Our company _made a loss_ last year.

11.5 Complete these questions. Then answer them.

1. Where did you ________________ your last holiday?
2. How much money did you ________________ last week?
3. What do you always ________________ with you when you go out?
4. Have you ever ________________ a trophy?
5. What aim would you particularly like to ________________ in life?
If someone uses a metaphor, they use a word in a way that is slightly different from its basic meaning. For example, the first meaning of sunny is connected with the weather, so we talk about a sunny day. However, sunny can also be used in expressions like a sunny smile, the children’s sunny faces to mean happy; in these collocations sunny is used in a metaphorical way. Metaphors are more common in written than spoken English and often have the effect of sounding quite poetic.

Light and dark

Light in English is associated with happiness. So a face shines with pleasure and eyes shine with excitement or delight. If someone’s face lights up or their eyes light up, they show that they suddenly feel happy. If an atmosphere lightens or a mood lightens, it becomes more relaxed or cheerful than it was.

Darkness is associated with unhappiness and negative feelings. Dark thoughts are gloomy or sinister ones and dark days or dark times are unpleasant times to live through. If someone’s face darkens or their eyes darken or someone’s expression darkens, then we know that that person is unhappy, often because they are feeling angry.

</tr>
</tbody>

Fire and heat

Words associated with fire and heat often suggest anger in English. A heated debate, a heated discussion or a heated conversation is one in which people disagree in an angry way with each other. If you say that someone has a fiery temper, you mean that they often get suddenly angry. The word flare means show a bright light in the dark. If you say tempers flared, you mean that people became angry with each other. Similarly violence flares up and troubles flare up. These all mean that problems which existed in the past suddenly become serious again.

However, not all metaphors relating to fire suggest anger. If you feel very embarrassed, your cheeks burn with embarrassment. A blaze is a very bright fire. We talk about a blaze of glory or a blaze of publicity meaning there is a lot of it and it is spectacular.

Tip

When you are reading English, try to notice metaphorical uses of language. This will help you to see how familiar words can be used in extra, interesting ways.

Travel, journey, trip

Look at these emails and note the different collocations for travel, journey and trip.

Clara,
Have you made your travel arrangements for the sales conference yet? If you want a good travel agent, I can recommend Atlas World. They specialise in business travel. Their number is 2587996. They’re very helpful.
Noah

Hi Natalie,
I know next week is a business trip, but you must do some sightseeing too. I suggest we take a day trip to Canamuca. It’s about two hours by car, and we can take a boat trip to the island and have lunch there. Looking forward to seeing you. Safe journey².
David

Hi Mia,
I’d finally here after an extremely tiring journey! The flight was three hours late, they lost my luggage, then there were no taxis at the airport. I hope my return journey¹ is better! I’m at the Hotel Rex, room 1305, tel: 987745. Give me a call.

² said to someone who is about to make a journey

Flights

These collocations are all rather formal ones connected with flying:

Palair offers excellent in-flight entertainment, with the latest films and music. The in-flight magazine includes maps and information about major airports. [announcement by a cabin attendant] Ladies and gentlemen, we’ll shortly be landing at Dublin Airport. Please fasten your seatbelts.
The passenger boarded the plane on time, but it was delayed taking off and she missed her connecting flight in Amsterdam. Domestic flights are often more expensive than international ones. [flights within a country]
Do you normally prefer a window seat or an aisle seat when you fly?
We managed to get a charter¹ flight; it was half the price of the scheduled² flight.

² regular flight organised by the company which owns the plane

The weather en route is fine, and we anticipate a smooth flight³ to Stockholm today.

³ The opposite is a bumpy flight.

Accommodation

We stayed in a small, family-run hotel. The Panorama is a rather run-down hotel in a back street near the city centre. The Palace is a luxury hotel on the main square of Porto Alegre.
I can’t afford to stay in smart hotels. I always have to look for budget accommodation. [very cheap]
I’d advise you to make a reservation before you go. The hotels near the beach are very popular and get fully booked during the summer.

6 What is the opposite of outward journey?
7 If a hotel is family-run, is it especially trying to attract families as guests?

14.4 Write about 100 words describing a recent personal travel experience. Use the collocations from this unit.

Over to you

Next time you fly, look at the signs at the airports you pass through, which are often in English as well as the local language(s). Find and make a note of three useful collocations.
Writing about the landscape

From my room I look out over the surrounding countryside. It’s very different from the familiar landscape I see from the windows at home. At home it’s a gentle landscape with open fields. Here it’s a bleak landscape with rocky mountains in the distance.

Yesterday we followed a path down to the lake. As we turned a corner, we caught a glimpse of a kingfisher standing in the water. John tried to take a picture of it but it caught sight of us and flew off. A little further on we rounded a bend and St John’s Abbey came into view. The Abbey fell into ruin about three hundred years ago. Although it lies in ruins, it is well worth seeing as it stands in a dramatic setting on a steep slope beside a fast-flowing river with mountains towering above it.

The cottage is in some wonderful unspoilt countryside on the edge of a dense forest. Unfortunately the trees block the view of the snow-covered mountains. It has a little garden with a stream at the end of it. The stream winds through the forest. They wanted to build a timber factory here but the local people said that it would destroy the countryside and, fortunately, their campaign to protect the environment succeeded.

collocation | example
---|---
uninterrupted view | From most rooms there are uninterrupted views of the castle. [nothing blocks the views of the castle]
panoramic view | From the top floor restaurant diners have a panoramic view of the countryside. [view over a very wide area]
spectacular view | From the balcony there is a spectacular view of the mountains. [very dramatic view]
enjoy/admire a view | We stopped for a few minutes to admire the view.
breathtaking scenery | The area has some breathtaking scenery – mountains, cliffs, lakes. [extremely striking and beautiful views]
dominate the landscape | The castle dominates the landscape for miles around. [can be seen from a long way away]
beach stretches | A beautiful beach stretches for miles along the coast.
sandy beach | The hotel has its own sandy beach.
secluded beach | You’ll love the secluded beaches. [without many people] golden sands | You can wander for miles along the golden sands.
peaceful/tranquil countryside | You can quickly go from the hustle and bustle of the town to the tranquil countryside. [formal]
Exercises

15.1 Look at A. Complete the collocations to fit these pictures.

1 Near the lake there is an old house that ............................................... ............................................... ruin about a hundred years ago. It stands in a lovely landscape, surrounded by ............................................... fields.
2 We ............................................... a footpath along the river for about three kilometres. In the distance there were snow-............................................... mountains.
3 We walked through a ............................................... forest; it was very dark among the trees.

15.2 Correct the underlined collocation errors in this paragraph.

A chain of snowy mountains runs down the east of the country. The Wassa River, the country’s biggest, dances slowly from the northern mountains to the sea. Even in summer it is a sour landscape, with its dark, stony mountains and its cold streams. But for me it is the family landscape of my childhood and I am happy that the government has decided to guard this environment. It is a dramatic set which is a lot worth visiting for anyone who likes spectacle views.

15.3 Choose the correct collocation.

1 We made / took / put a lot of photographs because it was such a beautiful day.
2 As I returned / turned the corner I made / caught / took a glimpse of the house through the trees.
3 A long sanded / sandy beach reached / ran / stretched for miles in front of us.
4 Unfortunately, the new hotel blocks / jams / stops the view of the castle.

15.4 Complete this collocation web for countryside.

adjective meaning ‘beautiful because it has not been changed or damaged by people’ verb meaning ‘damage something so badly that it no longer exists or cannot be used’ adjective meaning ‘peaceful, quiet’ surrounding

Example: adjective meaning ‘lying around it’

15.5 Replace the words in brackets in each sentence with one word which collocates with the underlined word.

1 It’s a beautiful town and the countryside (which is all around it) is even more beautiful.
2 The tower (is the most important and visible thing on) the landscape. From the top of the tower, you get a view (which allows you to see a very wide stretch) of the surrounding area.
3 There are lovely beaches (with very few people on them).
4 We travelled through some scenery (which was extremely exciting and beautiful).
5 From the windows of our villa we had views (which were continuous, without any obstacles,) of the lakes and mountains.
Describing towns and cities for visitors

Look at these extracts from a magazine article about tourist cities.

The city skyline is a wonderful mix of old and new, and the city itself has a lot of busy, narrow cobbled streets. The old town is a conservation area and it has a lot of quaint old buildings dating back to the city’s foundation in the 1500s.

Doradella Street has a lot of upmarket shops and rather pricey, sometimes overpriced, restaurants, but not far away is the Genasia district, where you’ll find restaurants which offer good value and a more relaxed atmosphere.

Royal Avenue runs from north to south, and is lined with shops. Behind it, the streets are full of lively bars and fashionable clubs. The pavement cafés and shops of Luna Square are pleasant but very expensive.

As you drive into the city, the tree-lined avenues of the residential areas are soon replaced by the high-rise flats of the inner city. Then come the imposing buildings of the Parliament and government departments.

B

Towns and cities and their problems

Here are some descriptions of the more negative aspects of towns and cities.

Some of the inner-city areas are an urban wasteland and are somewhat dangerous for visitors. In fact some streets have become no-go areas, with high crime. Many streets are strewn with litter and there are numerous run-down buildings. There are some deprived areas round the city centre with huge social problems. The industrial zones which lie on the edge of the city are grey and polluted.

Triope is a sprawling city with bumper-to-bumper traffic all day long. The exhaust fumes can be a nightmare. The volume of traffic has increased in recent years and the incessant roar of trucks and buses makes the city centre an extremely noisy place. The comfortable suburbs away from the city centre contrast sharply with the poor shanty towns one sees on the way to the airport.

Words describing people’s physical appearance

Read these quotations taken from essays where students were asked to describe their family members.

My father has a round face and a droopy moustache. My mother has a more pointed face and a straight nose. My younger sister is more like my father. She has an oval face and an upturned nose. My older sister is like a model. She has a slim figure and a slender waist. She has a lovely complexion and beautiful sleek, shoulder-length hair, and she’s always immaculately groomed. I feel so ordinary next to her – I’ve got coarse hair and rather broad hips, but she always says I look nice.

More collocations describing appearance

A short, dumpy woman was selling flowers at a stall on the street corner. [short and quite fat woman; used more often of women than of men. This collocation is slightly negative, so be careful how you use it.]

A portly gentleman answered the door. [fat and round; usually used of middle-aged and older men]

A lanky youth was standing at the street corner. [tall and thin and tending to move awkwardly]

I wouldn’t like people to see me with dishevelled hair and dirty clothes. [very untidy; used of people’s hair and appearance]

He bears a striking resemblance to his father. [looks remarkably like]

The lady who entered the room had a very striking appearance. [unusual appearance, in a positive, attractive sense]

Tip

Sometimes words are very restricted in what they can collocate with. The colour adjectives blonde, ginger and auburn are only used of people’s hair (not, for example, their clothes or other objects). When a word has restricted collocations, make a special note in your vocabulary notebook.

1 reddish brown

1 long and hanging down heavily
2 shaped like an egg
3 attractively slim (a rather formal, poetic word)
4 the natural colour and quality of a person’s skin
5 smooth and shiny
6 her appearance is always tidy and looked after with great care
7 rough, and not smooth or soft
8 have strong, attractive bodies
9 very thick
10 fat in a pleasant and attractive way
11 completely black
12 a red or orange-brown colour; used of people’s hair

My father and my two older brothers are all well-built with broad shoulders. My father is going bald but he still has a very youthful appearance for someone who is over forty. My brothers both have thick hair and bushy eyebrows. My younger brother is only two, but he’s very cute, with chubby cheeks. My mother’s side of the family mostly have dark hair – in fact my mother had jet-black hair when she was younger, before she went grey – but on my father’s side, some have fair hair and some have ginger hair.

4 My hair is so ______________ and ugly; Sally’s is so ______________ and lovely.

Over to you

Think of a relative or friend of yours. Write a short description using collocations from this unit.
Family relationships
Sociologists talk about nuclear and extended families. A nuclear family is just parents and children. An extended family is a wider network including grandparents, cousins, etc.

Close relatives are those like parents, children, brothers or sisters. Distant relatives are people like second cousins [the children of a cousin of your mother or father] or distant cousins.

Close/immediate family refers to people who are your nearest blood relatives: I don’t have much close/immediate family. She’s a distant cousin of mine; she’s not a blood relative. Close can also be used to mean that the relationship is a very strong one: We are a very close family. or We are a very close-knit family.

These adjectives also collocate with family: loving, respectable, dysfunctional [unhappy, not working in a healthy way] Henry came from a respectable family, so Ella’s parents felt happy about the marriage.

Someone’s late husband/wife is one who has died. An estranged [formal] husband/wife is one who lives in a different place and has a difficult relationship with their husband/wife. They may be having a trial separation and may eventually decide to get a divorce. In some cases it can be a bitter/acrimonious divorce. [full of anger, arguments and bad feeling] A person’s ex-husband/ex-wife is a man/woman that she/he used to be married to.

Children whose parents have separated or divorced are said to come from a broken home. If their family is a strong, loving one it can be called a stable home. If it is a poor one, not having the things that are necessary for a pleasant life, such as enough money, food or good living conditions, it can be called a deprived home.

A confirmed bachelor is a man who seems to have no intention of ever marrying.

Exercises

19.1 Fill the gaps in this old man’s memories about his life with words from A.

I grew up in an (1) ________________ family as my grandparents and a couple of aunts and an uncle, who was a (2) ________________ bachelor, lived with us. We saw a lot of our (3) ________________ relatives as well as our close ones. I think that families tended to be much more (4) ________________ then – we talked to each other more and did things together more. I’m sure there are far more (5) ________________ families now than there used to be – you know, where parents hardly spend any time with their children, or with each other – and a lot of parents who are divorced. My (6) ________________ wife, who died two years ago, used to say that it is not fair on children to let them grow up in (7) ________________ homes.

19.2 Look at B. Correct the six collocation errors in this young woman’s plans for the future.

James and I are hoping to begin a family soon. We both want to get lots of children. Ideally, I’d like to have my first baby next year, when I’ll be 32. My sister is waiting a baby now. It’s coming next month. She’s going to be a sole parent and it’ll be hard for her to grow up a child on her own.

19.3 Match the two parts of these collocations.

1 apply for cousin
2 get separation
3 estranged custody
4 nuclear home
5 provide for wife
6 distant family
7 set up your family
8 trial a divorce

19.4 Answer these questions.

2 Do you have much contact with your distant relatives? If so, when?
3 Where did your parents first set up home?
4 Which would most children prefer to live in, and why, a stable home or a deprived home?
5 What collocation means the same as to be pregnant?
6 Can dysfunctional families also be respectable ones?
7 What can be put before the words wife and husband to indicate that they are no longer married to someone?
8 What is a more formal alternative for give custody?

More than just good friends
A love story

I fell madly in love with Anton from the moment I met him. It was certainly love at first sight. I knew at once that he was the love of my life but at first I was not sure if my love was returned or not. Within a few days, however, he had told me that he was desperately in love with me too. A couple of weeks later, we realised that we wanted to make a commitment to each other and, when Anton asked me to marry him, I immediately accepted his proposal. I’m sure we will always love each other unconditionally\(^1\). Neither of us would ever consider having an affair\(^2\) with someone else.

---

\(^1\) love that is total and does not change regardless of what you or the object of your love does

\(^2\) having a sexual relationship with someone outside marriage

Houses, flats and rooms

Finding somewhere to live

1. We can also say build an extension = build an extra room or two onto an existing house.
2. Repair, repaint and decorate (a house).

Describing your house/flat/room

Hi Mila,

Luke and I have just moved into our dream home. It’s a big old four-storey house. It’s got a spacious living room which has a wonderful view of the park, and a cozy study where we can both work. And there are some lovely light, airy bedrooms which overlook the garden.

There is a separate basement flat, which we might turn into a granny flat for my mother. And if we want to add an extension there’s room for that too. It needs to be completely refurbished, but Luke and I have always wanted to do up an old house.

Come and visit.

Love, Julia

Hi Julia,

You’re so lucky! I’d love to move out of my awful one-room flat. It’s in such a dilapidated building. You go into a draughty hall, down a chilly corridor and into this really cramped room. I want to buy a place of my own but there’s a shortage of affordable housing here and I don’t want to take out a big mortgage. I’d love to see your house. I hope you’ll invite me to your house-warming party.

Big hug,

Mila

Collocations with home

She left home to go to university, but moving away from her family made her feel homesick.

Peter’s back from a year abroad. His family are throwing a party to welcome him home.

(To a guest who’s just arrived) Come in and make yourself at home while I finish getting dinner ready. [relax and make yourself comfortable]

I haven’t lived in Oxford for long but I already feel at home here.

I’d like to buy a second home near the coast. [house used only for weekends, holidays, etc.]
Exercises

21.1 Answer these questions using collocations from A.
1. What kind of accommodation would suit a student who has no furniture of his or her own?
2. What kind of accommodation would suit someone who is only going to be in a place for three months?
3. What part of town would you want to live in if you wanted to be somewhere where there are lots of private houses and no factories or other work places?
4. What kind of accommodation would suit a young single person who would prefer to live alone rather than to share?
5. If accommodation doesn’t have its own garage, what else might it have to make life easier for car-owning residents?
6. If you are moving into a new unfurnished house, but don’t need to take a washing machine, cooker or fridge with you, what does the house have?

21.2 Look at B. Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right.
1. We want to turn our garage into a house-warming party.
2. Harper has invited me to her mortgage.
3. Next week I have to move out of my own.
4. Xavier makes a business out of doing up the flat.
5. Our bedroom overlooks my flat.
6. Our house needs to be completely the garden.
7. I hope that one day I’ll have a place of old houses.
8. The bank can help if you want to take out a refurbished.

21.3 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.
1. We live on a busy road, but we’re lucky because we have off-road park.
2. Gemma has moved off from her old flat and has now got a new place in Walville Street.
3. We’re building an expansion to our house which will give us a bigger kitchen.
4. The flat is totally furnished, which is good because I have no furniture of my own.
5. She had to get out a big mortgage as the house was very expensive.
6. There is no buyable housing for young people in this area; prices are ridiculously high.
7. New people have entered into the house next door. I haven’t met them yet.
8. It’s a very spatial apartment with a huge living room and a big kitchen.
9. The flat is accessible to rent from the first of March onwards.
10. My brother and his wife live in a windy old cottage.

Talking about types of food

Tom: Kids eat far too much junk food.
Lucy: Yeah, but it’s hard to get them to eat nourishing meals\(^1\). They think they’re boring.

Sergio: Have you tried the new supermarket yet?
Jim: Yes. The fresh produce\(^2\) is excellent, and they have a big organic food section.
Sergio: Mm, yes. I actually think their ready meals\(^3\) are good too.

Liam: I can’t believe food additives\(^4\) are good for our long-term health.
Ryan: No, and I think processed foods\(^5\) in general are probably bad for us, not to mention GM foods\(^6\)!

Stella: The restaurant was leaving perishable food\(^7\) lying round outside the fridge, and some people got food poisoning, so the authorities closed it down.
Jaxon: Oh dear.

Eating and drinking

Eva and Leo are in the Old Port restaurant area looking for somewhere to eat.

OLD PORT

Whether it’s a light meal or a substantial\(^1\) meal you’re looking for, whether you want a slap-up meal\(^2\), a gourmet\(^3\) meal or just tasty, home-cooked food, there’s something for everyone in the Old Port restaurant area. Enjoy good food in a pleasant setting.

1 large 2 unusually large and good 3 high-quality

Eva Let's find a café and have a quick snack. And I could really do with a refreshing drink.
Leo I’m dying of hunger! I need a decent meal.
Eva I know you have a healthy appetite, but you had a hearty breakfast only three hours ago! Well, how about having a soft drink and a bag of crisps now, and a proper lunch later?
Leo Crisps will only spoil your appetite. Look, this restaurant looks good and the set menu is reasonably priced. Let’s go in.

Common mistakes

We say international food/cuisine, NOT world-wide food/cuisine. A Chinese/ Mexican/French meal is what you eat in a restaurant. When referring in general to the food of a country or culture we say Chinese/Mexican/French food/cooking/cuisine.

4 It’s always better to buy .............................................. .............................................. instead of canned or frozen foods.
5 The .............................................. .............................................. is usually cheaper than ordering dishes separately in a restaurant.

22.3 Read these remarks by different people, then answer the questions.
Logan: I’ve got some cheese and milk. Is there a fridge here I could put them in?
Connor: I feel so hungry! I can’t believe it!
Layla: I’ve been sick and my stomach is aching. Must be something I ate.
Michael: No matter how much I eat, I always want more.
Scarlett: All these vegetables have been grown without any chemicals at all.
Bella: I always enjoy my food and look forward to it.

22.4 Replace the underlined words with suitable collocations from the opposite page.
1 Foods which are changed or treated as part of an industrial operation may damage our health in the long term.
2 Some people always have three full, satisfying meals a day, but I prefer a large breakfast and then a small meal around midday and a more sizeable meal in the evening.
3 There are some overpriced restaurants in the city centre, but down at the beach, there are some nice, not too expensively priced ones.
4 On my birthday my parents took me out for a big, good meal. They wanted to go for a very high quality meal but I said I’d prefer something more ordinary.
5 Iced tea is a drink that cools you and makes you feel less tired on a hot day, and is probably better for you than non-alcoholic drinks such as cola or lemonade.
6 Let me take you out to dinner on your birthday. Or would you prefer a meal prepared at home? I could make dinner for you at my place.
Talking about films and books

When a new book or film comes out, newspapers and websites, like BookLikes and IMDb, will review it. The people who review the book/film are called book reviewers/film critics and they write book/film reviews. If they don’t like a book/film they give it a bad review. We can say that a novel or film is based on a true story. We say that a book/film captures an atmosphere or that a book/film deals with a topic. We talk about the opening/closing scenes of a film and the opening/closing chapters of a book. We talk about the beginning and end of a book/film (NOT start and finish). If everything works out well for the central characters, we say that the book/film has a happy ending. You may recommend a book/film that you enjoyed to a friend. If a lot of people have enjoyed it, it is highly recommended.

Just about films and acting

I’ve never had any desire to go on the stage myself but I’d love to produce a film. I think historical dramas work particularly well on the big screen and I’d love to make a film about Vikings in Britain. There’d be plenty of opportunities to use special effects during battle scenes. I’d want the male lead to be played by Hugh Jackman, while Jennifer Lawrence could have the female lead. Liam Neeson could play the role of a Viking warrior and I’d like Judi Dench to take on a cameo role. I’m sure that, as always, she would give an excellent performance. My dream is to make a film that would be nominated for an Oscar. Of course, I’d also like it to be an immediate box-office hit, playing to full houses worldwide.

Common mistakes

Critics review books and films, NOT criticise them. To criticise a book or film means to say negative things about it. Remember that you watch television, NOT see television, but you can see or watch a film or programme on television. We usually say see a film at the cinema.
23.1 Use collocations from A opposite instead of the underlined words in this conversation. The conversation has no errors, but the changes will improve it.

Matthew: Have you downloaded that new e-book that has just appeared about Ireland?
Camilla: No, I don’t use my e-book reader app much and I don’t visit websites with articles discussing new books. What’s it about?
Matthew: Well, it concerns the Irish War of Independence. It’s very authentic and it manages to give the atmosphere of Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century.
Camilla: Is it just historical facts, then?
Matthew: No, the main people are two brothers who have different opinions about the war and this divides their family. In the first chapters they’re happy and do everything together, but by the last chapter they have become enemies.
Camilla: Mm, it sounds a bit depressing to me.
Matthew: Well, it certainly doesn’t finish in a happy way, but I liked it, and it’s recommended very much by all the critics.
Camilla: So, a book with a pleasant start and a sad finish. Not for me, I’m afraid. I prefer the opposite.

The Year in Review: Music

Bloom  Music from the Centre of the Earth
(Palm records 234655)

New arrivals on the rock music scene, Bloom are already making a big impact. If you’re looking for background music, then this is not for you, but if you want music to blast out from your hi-fi and annoy the neighbours, then Bloom’s debut album, with tracks from their live performance at the Delaya Stadium, may be just what you want.

Johnny MacRoy  Songs we loved
(Kase Phonograph 488792)

For fans of easy listening and catchy tunes, this is all you need. In fact it’s so relaxing you might just fall asleep. MacRoy gives a sentimental performance of these old love songs. At 47, he’s not exactly a pop idol but his adoring fans will love it.

The Divide  Amphibian
(Fono Corp 3321978)

This is a rock symphony, an extraordinary piece of music. After their massive hit in 2015 with Megalith, their record company has released this album hoping for another big hit. The band themselves wrote the music. They have a huge following and are due to go on tour later this year.

The Oxbridge Symphonia  British classics old and new
(Rotor Records 775537)

Haunting melodies and the occasional virtuoso performance from its two soloists mark this collection of popular British classical music, which aims to capture a wider audience for the classics and to promote Britain’s musical heritage. Roger Crow conducts the orchestra. Crow himself composed two of the pieces, hence the title. Good birthday present for your uncle and aunt. But if you’re a real classical music lover, save your money.

BUST-OUT WITH JOLA V

BLAZE MAMA  (Presto 58843)

Bust-out’s new double album features Jola V, a young rap artist from Miami. Jola used to be with Chicago hip-hop band Frenzy, but went solo in 2015. The band have remixed four tracks from earlier albums and Jola’s up-tempo numbers just add to the excitement.

1. sound extremely loud
2. presented to the public for the first time
3. music that is not serious or difficult
4. pleasant and easy to remember
5. extremely skilful
6. includes as an important part
7. rock music in which rhymed lyrics are spoken over rhythm tracks
8. made a new version of a musical track
9. played at a fast beat

Playing music

I saw Martin strumming a guitar the other day. I didn’t know he could play.

He can’t. He just likes people to think he can. He’s got no musical talent whatsoever.

I’ve taken up the guitar. I’ve had three lessons so far.

Well, the first week was all about tuning the instrument. I’ve got to play a piece for my teacher next week.

That’s great. I love live music. What can you play?
Exercises

24.1 Change the underlined words using collocations from A so that each sentence has the opposite meaning.

1 The band’s last album was a minor hit. (give two answers)
2 There are some great slow numbers on this new album.
3 The band has a small following of dedicated fans.
4 Music was playing quietly on the hi-fi when I entered the house.
5 Maria Plurosa gave a poor performance of Heder’s violin concerto last night.

24.2 Correct the eight collocation errors in this paragraph. The first one is done for you.

For all folk music lovers, Johnny Coppin’s new album, The Long Harvest, published last week, will be a great addition to their collection. Johny recently got solo after five years with the folk band Blue Mountain. He is proud of the musical inheritance of his native Kentucky. Tracks 3 and 7 comprise his old friend Wiz Carter on guitar. With this album Coppin says he hopes to control a wider audience for folk music. His excellent living performance at the recent Lockwood Folk Festival suggests he has a good chance of succeeding. He makes a tour next month. Don’t miss him.

24.3 What word(s) mean …?

1 … music that is playing while you are doing something else and not really listening to it?
2 … music that is not complicated or difficult to listen to?
3 … a pop musician who is a very big star with many fans?
4 … a type of performer who speaks rhymed lyrics over rhythm tracks?
5 … to tighten or loosen the strings of an instrument till they make the correct note?
6 … a way of playing a guitar by moving your fingers across the strings?

24.4 Complete these sentences with suitable collocations.

1 Hundreds of .............................................. fans were waiting for Shamira to come out of the concert hall.
2 The orchestra gave a wonderful .............................................. of some popular classics.
3 It was a very .............................................. tune; you only had to hear it once and you were singing it.
4 I’d love to .............................................. .............................................. a musical instrument but I don’t have time.
5 It is one of those .............................................. melodies which you never forget, so beautiful, yet so sad.
6 There’s a lot of musical .............................................. in the family; all the children play an instrument.

Now, for twenty thousand dollars, who wrote Beethoven’s Fifth Symphony?
Do, play and go

The table below gives examples of common sporting collocations with do, play and go.

You can also say you go to aerobics/judo/yoga/karate – this means that you go to a class in this sport.

Common mistakes

Learners often make mistakes with some common collocations connected with sport. Make a point of learning these commonly used collocations.

- You do or play sport. (NOT make sport)
- You do exercises. (NOT make exercises)
- You play computer or other games. (NOT do games)
- You have/play a game of cards. (NOT do a game)
- You go skiing. (NOT make skiing)
- You do activities. (NOT make or practice activities)

If you are a serious sportsperson, you will certainly practise your sport, but that has a specific meaning, which is to do something again and again in order to get better at it, in other words to train. If you are a footballer you might practise taking a penalty, for example.

Winning and losing

Sportsmen and sportswomen want to win matches, not lose matches. But you can’t win all the time! Sometimes a team or player deserves to win, but gets narrowly defeated/beaten.

Before they go in for / enter a competition, athletes train hard. They probably attend/do at least five training sessions a week. They are likely to put up a fight to gain/get a place in the next stage/round of the competition. Of course, a sportsperson’s ultimate aim is to break the world record in their sport. If they succeed, they set a new world record and become a world record holder. They are sure to come up against fierce/intense competition as they try to achieve their ambitions. Sometimes they are satisfied if they just achieve a personal best.

Some sports people so desperately want to win that they take drugs to enhance their performance. This will be discovered when they fail a drugs test.

Football

You can play or have a (football) match / game (of football). It might be a home or an away match depending on whether you’re playing on your team’s home ground or not.

The aim is to score a goal. Players may tackle an opponent to try to take possession of the ball. If you tackle in an illegal way, you foul your opponent. This will lead to the referee blowing his whistle and an opponent taking a penalty or taking a free kick. If someone isn’t playing very well the manager may decide to drop the player from the team or bring on a substitute. Both teams hope that they will have taken the lead by half-time.

1 get the ball 2 replace one player with another 3 be in a winning position

Giorgio 26 May at 12:59
Hi José,
Do you fancy coming on a sporting weekend with me next month? It sounds great – would make a change from playing computer games. You can make lots of different activities. You could even do fishing, I think. You can’t go skiing at this time of year but you can make water skiing, if you like. Everyone has to make general exercises first thing in the morning and then you can make whatever sport you like, more or less. I’ve never practised badminton so I think I’m going to do that. Then in the afternoon I’m looking forward to the chance to practise my tennis serve with their professional coach. Please try to come!

Online research

Online Research
What’s the best way to use the Internet for your research? Here’s our quick guide:

A good place to start is by looking at a definition of your topic or your essay question and making a note of any keywords. Use those to do a web search and start reading through the results.

You may not find what you need first time, but there are a lot of online resources¹ to help you search effectively. For example, many search engines have ‘hints and tips’ pages which show you how to use them more efficiently and this can help you to refine your search².

It’s important to evaluate sites critically³, so check who wrote the information and when.

One way to access reliable information is to subscribe to online journals⁴ to get more information on specific topics such as medicine, science etc. You can often search by keyword in back issues⁵ to find older articles that might be relevant.

And remember, once you’ve found information you want to use, don’t just copy and paste it into your essay! You will need to rewrite the information in your own words. Be sure you keep a record of the source so you can reference it correctly in your work.

Problems and solutions

Problems and solutions

Here are some important ‘do’s and don’t’s for computer security:

- Make sure you install anti-virus software. This will protect your computer from viruses.
- Update your anti-virus program regularly to make sure you are always protected against the latest threats.
- Never click on a link or open an attachment in an email if you do not know the person who sent it.
- Only download free applications from companies that you trust. Some apps contain malware which could allow someone to hack into⁶ your computer and steal personal information such as passwords or bank details.
- Always back up your files³ and any documents (such as notes and assignments) you are working on. You can upload your files to a cloud⁴ storage system or use a memory stick⁵. This means if your computer crashes and you lose your files, you will always have another copy.

References:

² make your search more accurate (e.g. by searching for more words or changing the settings)
³ think carefully about whether something is reliable or truthful
⁴ to pay for or ask to receive (journals) regularly
⁵ previous editions of a magazine, newspaper or journal

Common mistakes

Don’t confuse pass an exam with sit/take an exam. Pass means to be successful in an exam or test. Say ‘I did my homework’, NOT ‘I made my homework.’

Look at these conversations between a teacher and students. Note how the teacher uses more formal collocations to repeat what each student says.

Student: Do we have to go to all the lectures to do the course or just yours?
Teacher: You must attend all the lectures to complete the course.

Student: Excuse me. Where will next week’s class be? In this room?
Teacher: No. Next week’s class will be held in Room 405.

Student: When do we have to give you our essays?
Teacher: You have to hand in your essays on Friday.

Student: When do we have to send in our university applications?
Teacher: You have to submit your application by December 1st.

Student: What do I have to do if I want to leave the course?
Teacher: If you want to withdraw from the course, you have to go to the College Office.

More collocations connected with study and learning

Do you keep a vocabulary notebook? It’s a good way of recording new collocations. I did the first draft of my essay last week and the final draft this week. I have to hand it in tomorrow. Then the teacher gives us feedback after about a week.

We don’t have exams at my school. We have continuous assessment. [system where the quality of a student’s work is judged by pieces of course work and not by one final examination]

The local technical college provides training for young people in a variety of professions. After secondary school, 30% of the population go on to higher/tertiary education, and 20% of adults do some sort of further education course during their lives.

Does your government recognise foreign qualifications for school teachers?
Exercises

28.1 Replace all the uses of do or get in this paragraph with more interesting words.

I have three daughters. The oldest one did a degree in Economics. She got her bachelor's degree last year and is now doing some research on taxation laws in different countries. The second one is doing a course at Newcastle University. She's doing History. She loves it, though she says she has to do far too many assignments. My youngest daughter is still at school. She's doing her school-leaving exams in the summer. She'll go to university next year if she gets good enough grades in her exams. She wants to do Sociology and then get a social work qualification. My daughters are all getting a much better education than I ever had.

28.2 Complete these questions.

1. What homework do we have to ________________ tonight?
2. In which month do students usually ________________ their final exams in your country?
3. Who do we have to ________________ our essays in to?
4. Who is ________________ today's lecture on Shakespeare?
5. What do we need to do if we want to ________________ from the course?
6. In which room is the translation class going to be ________________?
7. Have you done the first ________________ of your essay yet?
8. Do you prefer exams or continuous ________________?
9. Do you always ________________ to all your lectures?
10. Does the college ________________ training in computer skills?

28.3 Choose the correct collocation.

1. I'm happy to say that you have all sat / taken / passed your maths test.
2. Will the teacher give / provide / make us some feedback on our essays?
3. The university agrees / recognises / takes the school-leaving exams of most other countries.
4. It isn't compulsory to assist / attend / listen all the lectures at this university.
5. How long will it take you to complete / carry out / fulfil your degree?
6. You must submit / send / write your application in before the end of June.
7. Several students have decided to withdraw / go / leave the course this year.
8. I want you all to write / hold / keep a vocabulary notebook.

28.4 Answer these questions about education.

1. At what age do children in your country sit their final school exams?
2. How long does it take in your country to do a degree in Medicine?
3. Give one advantage you think continuous assessment has over traditional exams.
4. What sort of feedback might a teacher give a student who has just given a presentation in class?
5. Give one advantage for a learner of English of doing homework.
6. What advice about keeping a vocabulary notebook would you give to someone starting to learn English?
7. What is the difference between further education and higher or tertiary education?
8. What would you expect to be the difference between the first draft of an essay and the final draft?
Giving a presentation

Visual aids

Clear visual aids\(^1\) are a great way to make/have an impact\(^1\) on your audience. Using PowerPoint\(^6\) slides or other presentation software can create a very effective presentation. You should keep slides simple\(^2\) with just a few words or images on each one. Be sure to use a clear font which is easy to read. Think about your key points\(^3\) for each area and try to write these in just a few words on the slide. You might want to use bullet points\(^4\) to help the audience follow your argument\(^3\). If you are presenting numbers or data, pie charts\(^3\), bar charts\(^3\) or graphs are often the clearest way to present them. Using pictures or animations can help bring the presentation to life\(^4\) and make it more memorable, but too many can be confusing and distracting.

---

\(^1\) the most important point(s)
\(^2\) the people you are focusing on
\(^3\) a presentation which involves the audience
\(^4\) the way you move, stand, hold your arms etc
\(^5\) keep your back straight and your shoulders back
\(^6\) a movement of your hands
\(^7\) the sound and volume of your voice
Exercises

29.1 Look at A. Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right.

1 Nick is quite a shy person, so maintaining eye .............................................. a) with questions at the end of the presentation.

7 Scott is very well-respected in his field, but he doesn’t really connect .............................................. g) the audience’s attention by asking questions.

29.2 Look at B. Correct the eight collocation errors in this text about presentations.

Do you want to give great presentations which give an impact on the audience? Firstly, make sure that your slides are easy to watch. Don’t use an unusual or small font. Also, don’t have too much text on each slide. Keep them simply so people can take your argument. Use pictures or examples to carry your ideas to life. You can also use cake charts or bar tables to show figures or data more clearly. Finally, repeat your big points several times to make sure the audience has understood your message.

29.3 Read these remarks by different people. Then answer the questions.

Rory made us all answer questions and get involved in his presentation – it was great!
Isabel repeated the main point at least three times, but at least we all remembered it!
Jason’s sales presentation was really successful – we all wanted to buy his products.
Amelia used lots of slides with pictures and even some short video clips.
John gave us all a printed copy of the main points from the presentation at the end.
Fiona’s slides only had three or four short bullet points on them.

1 Who had prepared handouts? .............................................. 4 Who kept their slides simple? ..............................................
2 Who gave an interactive presentation? .............................................. 5 Who gave an effective presentation? ..............................................
3 Who used a lot of visual aids? .............................................. 6 Who had a clear core message? ..............................................

Things you might do at work

Bella has a job as a PA. Basically her role is to take charge of her boss, who is not a very organised person, and make sure nothing goes wrong. She makes appointments for her boss and she makes sure he keeps his appointments. She spends a lot of time answering the phone and fielding telephone calls on his behalf. When her boss has to travel, she makes the reservations for him. When her boss has to give a presentation, she makes all the preparations that are required, including making photocopies of any papers that he needs. She arranges meetings for him and she takes the minutes at the meetings. Bella is a very well-organised person. She keeps a record of everything she does at work and sets herself targets. She does her best to achieve her goals. Every morning she makes a list of everything she needs to do. Today the first thing on her list is ‘Hand in my notice’! But she’s not going to take early retirement. She’s got a new job where she will be the boss and will have her own PA.

1 dealing with all the calls she can handle herself and only putting the most urgent ones through to her boss
2 keeps the official record of a meeting
3 resign, inform her boss she’s planning to stop working for him

Kika started out in a dead-end job in a jam factory but she ended up with a glittering career on the stage, a career spanning five decades. She is quoted as saying ‘Stage acting may not be a particularly lucrative job but it has to be one of the most rewarding jobs in the world.’
Going into business

Interviewer: When did you first go into business?

Jeffries: I set up a small business selling office equipment in 2001. Then in 2003, I went into partnership with my old friend, Ethan Smith. We made a loss for the first two years, but then things got better and we've made a profit for most years ever since. But there have been bad times, too.

Interviewer: In what way?

Jeffries: Well, during the economic recession, a lot of small businesses were going under, and I thought our business would fold. All around us, small firms were going bankrupt. But in 2010 we won a contract, despite stiff competition, to supply the local government offices. That was an important moment for us. We took on staff and expanded. We were proud that we had created jobs for local people at a time when unemployment was high. Our sales figures improved steadily and soon we had an annual turnover of more than eighteen million pounds.

Interviewer: So what's the secret of your success?

Jeffries: Well, we're quite cautious. For instance, we always carry out market research before launching a new product. But we also firmly believe in customer service, especially after-sales service. But at the end of the day, running a successful business is a combination of hard work, luck and intuition.

Interviewer: Finally, there are rumours that you may float the company on the stock market.

Jeffries: At the moment we have no intention of going public. People shouldn't believe everything they read online!

Reviewing the work of academics

Look at these extracts from reviews in academic journals.

In 1998, Lucas Georgescu published the results of his groundbreaking research on genetics. His latest paper also makes a significant contribution to the field. He sets out some powerful arguments which will shape our thinking for years to come.

In this latest book, Marina Kass gives an account of Karl Marx’s philosophy and provides evidence to support the claim that Garpov seriously misinterpreted Marx. In addition, the book offers a concise summary of the present state of Marxist philosophy.

Partridge strenuously defends her theory, which has come under attack recently in several journals. She argues that the Prime Minister played a central role in the political crisis of 1811, and goes into great detail to support her argument.

Nathan Peel attempts to establish a connection between mobile phone use and physical damage to users’ brains, but he does not offer irrefutable proof and the statistics do not show any significant trends.

Stating things strongly and less strongly

The sentences below express opinions, either strongly or less strongly.

Strong expressions of opinion

The invention of the steam engine was the key factor in the birth of the industrial revolution. The events of 1954 are a perfect example of how political leaders make misjudgements that have serious long-term effects. This is a clear illustration of the importance of a strong monetary policy.

Less strong expressions of opinion

The figures offer a tentative explanation of the causes of acid rain pollution. [an explanation given by someone who is not totally certain that it is the correct explanation] The statistics broadly support the view that the economy is heading towards recession.

Other general academic collocations

There is a strong tendency in the work of some linguists to suggest that spoken language is inferior to written language.

We must first gather evidence, then carry out a detailed study of all the factors that play a part in social conditioning.

You cannot expect your claim to be accepted if you cannot offer supporting evidence. Simon Hart challenges the theory of social change put forward by Professor Kemp.

It is important in academic writing always to acknowledge your sources. If you fail to do this, you will commit plagiarism. [use another person’s idea or a part of their work and pretend that it is your own]

Common mistakes

We do research or carry out research, NOT make research.

Someone puts forward a theory or proposes a theory, NOT gives a theory.

Academic writing 2: structuring an argument

Organising the text
Here are some useful collocations for organising one’s arguments.

Adverbs in English fall into two main categories: those ending in -ly (e.g. softly) and those with other endings (e.g. well).

In this chapter, I draw a distinction between societies where democracy has developed slowly and those where it came about quickly or suddenly.

But we also need to take into consideration the economic history of Latin America as a whole.

Later, I shall make reference to the work of Georgi Perelmutter, a leading figure in the field of zoology.

Chapter 3 raises important questions about the need for transport planning in rapidly growing urban environments. It also touches on issues such as pollution.

This chapter makes a case for re-examining the assassination of President Kennedy in the light of evidence which has emerged since 1963.

B

Reinforcing arguments
Look at these extracts from university lectures and note the collocations.

Many studies have attempted to assess the significance of diet in the prevention of cancer.

Wastov lays emphasis on examining the vital first three years of a child’s development.

These statistics lend support to the view that attitudes to the environment are changing fundamentally.

Some economists hold firmly to the belief that a certain level of unemployment is inevitable.

More collocations for referring to arguments

The book The Eye of the Universe draws an analogy between the birth of the universe and a lottery. It also draws parallels between the formation of new stars and the birth and death of flowers. It presents the case for a complete rethinking of how we understand space. The author, Patrick Rivaux, puts forward the argument that the universe is as it is because we humans are here looking at it. The author takes up / adopts the position that the universe cannot have any beginning or end, and states his opinion that we can never understand the universe using the human ideas of time and space. He argues convincingly that the universe has a unique nature. He draws attention to new research which suggests that other universes may also exist alongside ours. He briefly summarises the views of leading physicists and mathematicians, disagrees profoundly with some of them and draws the conclusion that science alone cannot solve the mystery of the universe.

1 makes a comparison between things which have similar features, to help explain an idea
2 says that something is very similar to something else
3 argues in a way that makes people believe that something is true or right
4 expresses the most important ideas in a short and clear form
5 disagrees very strongly or in an extreme way

3 The author of the book adopts / adapts / affects an unusual position on the topic.
4 The writer of the article explains / states / declares his opinion very clearly.
5 The article concludes by briefly / shortly / precisely summarising the main points that the author wishes to put across.
6 The writer does / draws / creates some interesting parallels between life now and life in the Middle Ages.
7 I keep / take / hold firmly to my belief in the importance of basic human rights.
8 The book rises / arises / raises some key questions but fails to deal with them in a satisfactory manner.

33.4 Correct the nine collocation errors in this review of an academic article.

Kerr takes in a controversial position in his latest article. He gets forward the argument that differences in behaviour between the sexes can be explained totally by the genes. He attempts to do a case for educating boys and girls separately in their primary school years. He argues, occasionally persuasively, that both sexes would benefit from this. He pulls attention to recent research which, he claims, makes support for his argument. However, he fails to draw a number of important factors into consideration. He also gives no reference to the important work of Potter and Sinclair in this field. I am sure that I will not be alone in disagreeing highly with many of his conclusions.

34.1 Choose the correct verb from A to fill the gaps in this paragraph. Use each verb once only and put it in the correct form.

In law-abiding societies ordinary citizens are usually happy to (1) ......................... or (2) ......................... the law. But there are also rather different societies where most people feel that it is not such a serious matter to (3) ......................... the law. In such places, people do not seem to (4) ......................... the law and even the most honest of citizens does not expect always to (5) ......................... within it. The rulers of such societies have no difficulty in (6) ......................... or (7) ......................... new laws but the police have considerable problems when it comes to (8) ......................... or (9) ......................... those laws.

1. The rules apply with the regulations.
2. The rules prohibit to all students in the college.
3. The rules allow students the rules to allow Mary to submit her coursework a little late.
4. The regulations stipulate to book college guestrooms at weekends.
5. Most students follow the use of mobile phones in class.
6. The authorities bent that coursework must be handed in on time.
7. All students must comply the rules without too many complaints.

34.3 Put these events in a crime story in order.

a) A number of witnesses appear in court.
b) Bill Sikes goes on trial.
c) Bill Sikes is found guilty.
d) Bill Sikes is severely punished.
e) Bill Sikes robs a bank.
f) The jury reaches its verdict.
g) The police carry out an investigation.

34.4 Answer these questions using one of the collocations from C opposite.

1. What does every lawyer in a trial hope to do?
2. What does every wrongly accused person who appears in court hope to receive?
3. What do the police do after a major crime is committed?
4. What may happen to people in some countries if they are found guilty of a very serious crime like murder or terrorism?
5. How might the death penalty help to prevent serious crime?
6. What does the jury have to do at the end of a trial?
7. What kind of punishments does a hard-hearted judge give?
8. What kind of fine might a judge impose if the offence is quite serious?

34.5 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets, so that it keeps the same meaning.

1. Everyone must observe these regulations. (COMPLY)
2. All citizens must obey these rules. (APPLY)
3. The jury found the accused guilty. (REACHED)
4. The police are investigating the bank robbery. (INVESTIGATION)
5. Our company would never break the law. (ACTS)
6. The rules prohibit eating and drinking in the classrooms. (ALLOW STUDENTS)
Talking about criminals
Note the collocations in these news clips.

The Judge, Mr Newell, said that Hickey was a hardened criminal\(^1\) who had committed 12 serious offences. He ordered that Hickey should serve a sentence of at least 15 years in prison.

The Justice Minister said that the men were not political prisoners but were common criminals\(^3\) who had committed acts of terrorism.

Politicians often make speeches about crime. Here are some extracts from recent ones.

“In the fight against crime we will not just target serious crime, but all crime, including street crime and vehicle crime, so that the streets will be safer for everyone.”

“If someone breaks into your house, steals your car, or robs you in the street, then of course you feel society has let you down. That’s why we’re determined to tackle crime.”

“We are doing everything in our power to combat crime. The crime rate has come down, and that is because we have put 10,000 more police officers on the streets and focused on juvenile crime\(^1\), because that is where the problem begins.”

“This government is doing very little to fight crime. We have all had some experience of the recent crime wave in our cities, whether it is petty crime\(^2\) or more serious offences.”

“The crime figures are the worst since 1995. We have had a spate\(^3\) of burglaries in this part of the city, vehicle theft, drug abuse and so on, and police have reported a staggering increase in the number of acts of mindless vandalism. It is time the party in power did something.”

Don’t forget the difference between steal and rob. A person steals something, e.g. He stole a car / some money, but robs someone or an institution, e.g. She robbed an elderly person / a bank. Steal is often used in the passive, e.g. My car was stolen.

Prices

Many collocations including the word price are connected with height. Prices can be high or low. If they are very low, they may be called (usually by advertisers) rock-bottom prices. Prices may increase, prices go up and prices rise. If they go up very fast we say that prices soar. Occasionally prices go down. If you say that something is reasonably priced, you think it is neither too cheap nor too expensive. Calling something a ridiculous price may mean it is much too cheap or much too expensive.

Getting money

Henry and his brother grew up in a family where money was always tight. Henry hoped that when he was grown-up, money would be never be in short supply for him. Henry's brother only wanted a steady income but Henry wasn’t interested in just earning a good salary, he wanted to make big money, to be seriously rich. He started making money at school when he sold the sandwiches his mother had made him to other children. He also worked in his school holidays to earn money. He put this money in a bank account and hardly ever made a withdrawal from it. When he left school, he raised enough money through the bank to buy his first shop. He got a really good deal because he found a shop that was going cheap. By the time he was twenty he had already made a small fortune though, of course, most of his money was tied up in his business.

1 there wasn’t much money
2 informal: a lot of money
3 informal: very rich
4 took money out of the bank
5 informal: got a bargain
6 informal: selling for a low price
7 made a large amount of money
8 not available for spending because it was needed for his business

War

When war broke out, my grandfather joined the army. War was declared on his 25th birthday. He didn’t want to go to war but he had no choice. The government were sending troops to the south, where they expected fierce fighting. At first there were just minor incidents but soon it developed into all-out war. My grandfather has told me how terrified he was the first time he came within firing range of the enemy. They saw him and opened fire but he was able to escape. A couple of his friends, though, were killed or taken prisoner. After several months, our army went into action in the first decisive battle of the war. The battle raged for several days. My grandfather said he hated being involved in fighting the war and that the only armies we should have should be peacekeeping forces. He can never forget the horrors of war, and he believes that we must do everything we can to avert war in the future. I agree.

Global problems

The environment

Look at these extracts from letters to an international magazine.

Your article on climate change was excellent. Rising sea levels and the increase in greenhouse gases\(^1\) are the result of our actions. We are disturbing the ecological balance everywhere, as can be seen in the decrease in fish stocks\(^2\) in the oceans.

We must accept that we have seriously depleted the ozone layer in the last few decades by our selfish actions. Embracing green politics may be our best hope in the long term, but we need urgent short-term measures too.

It is clear that we must tackle pollution before it is too late. Exhaust fumes from millions of vehicles and the burning of fossil fuels\(^3\) are causing irreparable damage to our environment.

Crops fail year after year in some of the poorest parts of the world. This has brought devastating famines to some regions and equally devastating floods to others. We call these natural disasters, but it is human beings who are causing them.

\(2\) the number of fish

\(3\) fuels such as gas, coal and oil

\(4\) which cannot be repaired (also irreversible)

\(5\) reduced something in size or amount, especially supplies of energy, money, etc.

\(6\) causing a lot of damage or destruction

B

Poverty

Look at this radio interview with Pascal Delrio, an international expert, talking about poverty.

Interviewer: Mr Delrio, do you believe we can solve the problem of world poverty?

Delrio: I am more optimistic now than before. Millions of people have succeeded in escaping poverty in the last decade, but it is also true that in some regions, more people than ever are living below the poverty line, and we must help these people to lift them out of poverty.

Interviewer: But how can we achieve that?

Delrio: I accept that there is no simple solution. The widening gulf\(^1\) between rich and poor in some countries is often due to external forces beyond their control. Some of the most deprived regions have large populations living on the margins of society, and it is for these specific groups that we can do most.

Interviewer: But poverty is not just an issue for developing countries, is it? We have thousands sleeping rough\(^2\) every night in cities like London and New York, and street children in a lot of big cities around the world.

Delrio: I agree, and I accept that children and adults who live on the streets are in desperate need, and that these social conditions breed crime. But so much depends on the global economy. Right now, we have a golden opportunity to combat poverty. Perhaps we cannot eradicate poverty altogether, but we can certainly alleviate poverty, and that is our challenge.

Interviewer: Mr Delrio, thank you very much.

\(1\) an important difference between the ideas, opinions, or situations of two groups of people

\(2\) in the open, without shelter

\(3\) get rid of completely

\(4\) make less serious

Other global problems

Thousands of people seek political asylum in other countries every year. Most are genuine asylum seekers, but some are economic migrants looking for a better life.

Hundreds of people took to the streets to demonstrate about third-world debt repayments. A terrible earthquake hit the region last year. The death toll was massive. The sexual exploitation of children is a world-wide problem, as is child labour.

Past and future

The past few weeks have been really difficult for Tina’s two grown-up children. They’re both at university writing dissertations. Her son’s is on early 21st century fiction while her daughter’s is about life in prehistoric times – she’s not interested in the recent past at all. They are both working very hard. They are nearly finished but there are lots of last-minute things left to do. They set their alarms for five o’clock and get up as soon as the alarm goes off. They work *from dawn till dusk*¹ and indeed sometimes they stay up until *the small hours*². Tina can’t wait until they stop working such *ungodly hours*³. It’s taking them ages to complete their work but Tina is sure it will eventually all be *worth their while*⁴. She is sure they both have a great future ahead of them. She thinks they will both get good academic jobs in the not too distant future. Of course, no one can know what the future holds, but I hope she is right.

³ unreasonably late or early hours
⁴ worth the time spent

Sounds in nature

Look at these extracts from short stories.

At first there was an eerie silence, then there was a rumble of thunder in the distance. Soon the wind was whistling through the trees and we could hear the waves crashing on the beach. The storm had begun.

Verbs and sounds

A person can give a sigh, a laugh, a loud cry, a cry of pain/surprise/alarm, a gasp, a groan.

41.1 Look at A. Choose the correct collocation.

My friends and I went camping this weekend. We put up our tent in a lovely spot beside a (1) babbling / whistling stream. The birds were (2) piercing / singing and it felt great to be so far from the noisy traffic of the town. The weather wasn’t very good but it was cosy listening to the (3) rumble / pitter of rain on the roof of the tent. When it eventually stopped, there was (4) an eerie / a piercing silence all around us. The silence was suddenly (5) broken / closed when a shot (6) crashed / rang out. Someone was shooting rabbits.

41.2 Are these noises loud or soft? Write L (loud) or S (soft) after each collocation.

1 a deafening sound  7 an almighty bang
2 a dull thud  8 an ear-splitting noise
3 music blaring out  9 a machine humming
4 a machine whirring  10 someone giving a sigh
5 raucous laughter  11 leaves making a rustling sound
6 a shrill voice  12 a muffled sound

41.3 Match each statement 1–8 with a response a–h.

1 Our neighbours really make excessive noise, I think.  a Yes, you can tell by their raucous laughter.
2 Did the group react negatively to the news that the flight was delayed?  b Yes, I thought I heard a rumble of thunder in the distance.
3 I think the neighbours might be having a party.  c Yes, she gave a cry of pain.
4 I hate it when chalk makes that horrible noise on the board.  d Yes, the roar of the traffic kept me awake most of the night.
5 I think this wonderful weather is going to change soon.  e Yes, it really is too much to play such loud music after midnight.
6 It’s a comfortable hotel but it’s a bit noisy, isn’t it?  f Yes, I was woken by what sounded like a loud explosion.
7 Did you hear that almighty bang in the middle of the night?  g Yes, they all gave a groan of disappointment.
8 Did the child react when she had the injection?  h Yes, it’s a horrible grating sound, isn’t it?

41.4 Answer these questions.

1 What is more likely to make a dull thud – a person falling out of bed onto a carpeted floor in the room above you or a heavy metal box falling onto a stone floor?
2 Who is more likely to have shrill voices – primary schoolchildren or old age pensioners?
3 If waves are crashing on the beach, are they more likely to be little waves or big waves?
4 If you hear a piercing cry, is it more likely to be from a machine or from a bird?
5 What is more likely to make an ear-splitting noise – a group of motorbikes roaring past or a large waterfall in a fast-running river?

Little, small and large

We talk about low prices, low wages, low levels. (NOT small)

We say small quantities, small numbers, small amounts, a small increase. (NOT little)

The opposite is large quantities, large numbers, large amounts, a large increase.

Similarly, we talk about problems or objects being on a large scale or on a small scale:

If you are walking in the mountains you need a large scale map.

The UK has similar problems to the USA, but on a smaller scale.

In informal spoken English we often use little after another adjective to make it sound more friendly, e.g. poor little Joe, dear little dog, nice little room.

Little can also mean young, e.g. little brother [informal: younger brother, NOT small brother; the opposite is big brother]. Sometimes little or small suggests that something is not very important, e.g. a little problem, I’ve got a lot of little things to do, to make someone look small, to make small talk [talk socially, about unimportant subjects].

Other size collocations

We can talk about fat books and slim books as well as fat people and slim people. Only people (not books) can be plump or skinny or painfully thin.

We use a great deal of (NOT large or big) in contexts like this:

She should be able to help you because she has a great deal of time / a great deal of money / a great deal of energy / a great deal of enthusiasm.

Major and minor often collocate with words relating to problems or points in an argument, e.g. major/minor difference, major/minor change, major/minor effect, major/minor difficulty, major/minor point, major/minor issues, major/minor factor.

Common mistakes

Take care with the different collocations that go with tall and high. We talk about tall people, tall trees, tall buildings, but high mountains, high prices, high interest rates, high heels, high tide, high jump. Make a note of any collocations with tall or high as you notice them.

Describing colours

Look at these letters to Home Making magazine, asking for advice about colours.

HOME MAKING: Your Letters

I put a pair of red socks in the washing machine with my white shirt and my pale blue shorts and the colour ran.

E. Jitt (Mr)

With black jeans the colour always fades after two or three washes. Is there any way to stop this?

A. Lacey (Ms)

I love bright colours. I have a bright yellow jacket and I think the colour goes well with my bright green trousers. But my best friend thinks the colours clash. She says I should get some yellow trousers to match the jacket. Who is right?

K. Williams (Mrs)

My clothes are so dull, and I always wear subdued colours. My favourite is dark green. How can I add a touch of colour to my wardrobe without spending too much money?

B. Grey (Mr)

Describing light

Look at these extracts from short stories, where the writers describe different kinds of light.

It had grown dark, the candle flickered and Bertram could see almost nothing, but suddenly a powerful beam of light shone into the room and a police officer entered, with a torch in her hand.

A ray of sunlight fell on his face and woke him up. It was 6 am. Soon the glare of the sun would make it difficult to see his way across the desert. He must get to the village at once.

Above her, the stars twinkled in the night sky. Then she saw a pinpoint of light in the distance. As she walked towards it she realised it was a man on a bicycle coming towards her.

Frequency

Widespread [existing or happening in many places or among many people] collocates strongly with a lot of words relating to either attitude (widespread interest, widespread support) or problems (widespread damage, widespread poverty):
There has been widespread support for the government’s new policy on education.
The heavy winds at the weekend have caused widespread damage.

Rare [infrequent and special] collocates with things in the natural world (rare disease, rare bird, rare species) and also with collectable items of special interest (rare coins).
If someone repeatedly does something that annoys you, you can use the expression keeps asking, keeps interrupting, keeps hitting, etc. This is common in informal spoken English:
Please don’t keep interrupting me when I’m trying to work.
The children keep asking me when we’re going to buy a new computer.

Constant and continual also convey the idea of something happening repeatedly:
I couldn’t get on with my work today because of constant interruptions – the phone kept ringing every five minutes.
It was a mistake to go on holiday with them. Their continual complaining drove us mad.

Describing graphs and charts

Profits rose sharply/steeply in July, but fell sharply/steeply in September.

48.1 Complete the collocations in these work emails between Chris and Elena.

Hi Elena,
I've ___________________________ a couple of modifications to the schedule for the sales conference. I know we've always done it the same old way, but I think we should ___________________________ the habit this year and try a new format. See the attachment. What do you think?

Chris

Chris,
I'm worried about these changes, especially losing the coffee break. Lots of us are addicted to our coffee break and couldn't kick the ___________________________ if we tried. I'm sure if you just ___________________________ a few minor adjustments or a ___________________________ alteration to the timetable here and there it would be fine, but big changes like this will be unpopular!

Elena

Hi again Elena,
Thanks for your comments. I wasn't trying to revolutionise the ___________________________ we do things, but I do think we should ___________________________ a new approach. The sales conference is serious work, not an excuse for time off. But let's think about it.

Chris

Wedding speech

Whenever I make a speech I always try to get to the point as quickly as possible. I could tell a lot of stories about James, my best friend since childhood, but I don’t want to embarrass him, so I won’t. Also, before the wedding, I gave him my word that I wouldn’t crack any jokes, as I’m really bad at telling jokes. So I’ll do no more than wish James and Sophia luck and hope they have a long and happy life together.

Business conversation

Olivia: I wonder if I could have a brief chat with you about our new office assistant?
David: Mm. Yes. I had a quick word with Mel yesterday; she said there have been problems.
Olivia: Could we talk now? I know it’s a delicate subject but I don’t think we need to make it a lengthy discussion with everyone involved.
David: Well, actually, I’m rather glad you raised the subject. Yes, let’s talk.
Olivia: Well, speaking off the record 1, every time you give her instructions, she never seems to understand, and if you challenge her directly she just pleads ignorance 2. The other assistants are complaining bitterly that they end up doing her work. One of them dropped a hint that she might resign if nothing is done about it. I could tell by the tone of her voice that she was serious.
David: Oh dear. I’ll have a word with her and make it clear that she has to improve.
Olivia: Thanks, David. Anyway, let’s change the subject. How’s the sales plan going?
David: Oh, not bad, but I have to tell you the truth, I’ve been very busy with other things lately. In fact I was going to ask you a favour …

Ask Chloe

Dear Chloe, I find it difficult to get into conversation with new people, or to join in a conversation that’s already started. And even if I do talk to someone, I feel as if I’m boring them. I like meeting people and I want to be able to get to know them and not just make polite conversation. What can I do? Sophia T.

Dear Chloe, A friend of mine made an interesting observation the other day: she said I always address people too politely and I apologise too profusely if I do something wrong. Why am I like this? Why can’t I relax and be informal? Cooper M.

Dear Chloe, I was at a party recently and I heard my friend Margie strike up a conversation with a handsome man sitting next to her. Then, after a while, during a lull in the conversation, I heard her whisper softly to him that she was not married. She is. Why did she tell a lie? Should I have told him? Madison C.

Key walking collocations
Cathy always preferred to go places on foot rather than driving. She loved going for a walk in the park in the early morning. There were always a surprising number of people around. Some were taking a stroll with their dogs, while more energetic people chose to go running. Cathy preferred to go for a run in the evenings. In the morning she liked a brisk walk. Today she was surprised to see a man pacing up and down beside the lake. He was taking long steps as if he was measuring the length of the lake. Cathy was puzzled but thought little more of it at the time.

Walking through life
Walking collocations are often used metaphorically. Notice the examples in this text.

Jack always did very well at school. He walked every exam he ever went in for. His teachers used to call him a walking encyclopaedia. It was only when he left school that he began to run into problems. He couldn’t decide what job to choose. Many different walks of life appealed to him. He didn’t want to rush headlong into something that he would later regret. Eventually he decided he most wanted to become a writer. The next day he took his first faltering steps at writing a novel. After only a month or two he had made great strides and was ready to take his book to a publishing house. It was here that he ran up against some opposition. He seemed to get off on the wrong foot with the publishers, who didn’t like him and turned his book down. They’re sorry now! A second publisher accepted his novel and it’s already a best-seller world-wide.

1 passed very easily (informal)   2 start doing something too quickly
3 not very confident steps. You can also talk about careful/tentative steps when someone is doing something which they are not confident about.
4 made great progress             5 make a bad start to a relationship

Success
Notice the collocations for talking about success in this schoolboy's end-of-term report.

James Turner

MATHS: James has made a breakthrough in his maths this year, doing excellent work in comparison with last year. A remarkable achievement.

ENGLISH: This year has seen a dramatic improvement in James's English. His crowning achievement was his performance in the school production of Othello.

FRENCH: James has an excellent grasp of French. This will come in useful for the school trip to France next year, and we hope he will take advantage of the opportunities to speak French there.

SCIENCE: James has done very well this year, passing his exams without any problems. If he continues to work hard, his success next year is guaranteed.

GEOGRAPHY: James has made good progress with his geography this year, gaining good marks in the end-of-year exam.

HISTORY: James's history project was a great success. His use of original sources was highly effective. He makes useful contributions in class and has the ability to explain difficult ideas clearly to less able pupils.

ART: James found some effective ways of working with natural materials this year and his self-portrait was a brilliant success.

SPORT: James has been training hard and, as a member of the First Football Team, is now able to enjoy the fruits of his hard work. Playing for the school has certainly brought out the best in him and he has rightly won the respect of all his team-mates.

Failure
Notice the collocations relating to failure in these extracts from a newspaper called Today’s Bad News.

Unfortunately the peace talks now seem likely to fail miserably. [be totally unsuccessful] Although a lot of money was invested in the film it has proved to be a spectacular failure. [extremely unsuccessful] O'Connor's first play was a great success but his second play flopped. [failed to attract audiences] Hopes that the play would enjoy a long run in London were dashed. [hopes have had to be abandoned] Unfortunately, more pupils than ever are said to be failing their final exams. The mountaineer's attempt to climb Mt Everest went badly wrong. Everyone agrees that the peace talks are doomed to failure. [are certain to fail] Hopes were initially high for the new project but it has proved to be a dismal failure. [a total failure] A couple of major companies in the area went out of business last month. [stopped doing business] I think the new plans for cutting railway costs are a recipe for disaster. [will certainly lead to major problems] At the last moment the Olympic ski jumper lost his nerve and did not take part in the competition. [was not brave enough] The President's speech was disappointing as it totally missed the point. [failed to understand what is really important]

Remembering

Notice all the memory collocations in this dialogue between two old school friends.

Beth: I saw Terry last night. Do you remember her? We were at school together.

Emma: No, my long-term memory is terrible these days. Come to think of it, my short-term memory isn’t that brilliant either. And I used to have such a good memory! Anyway, give me a clue.

Beth: She was the one with long black hair and glasses. You always used to say that she reminded you strongly of that singer you used to like.

Emma: Oh, yes. I vaguely remember her now. She used to be friends with Jo, didn’t she?

Beth: Yes. I’d clean forgotten about her too. She ran over to me in the street and said hello. My mind went blank. I could remember her face but I’d completely forgotten her name. But once we started talking, the memories came flooding back. My earliest memory of her is that we all went to the beach with her parents one weekend when we were about 12.

Emma: Oh yes. Now you’re stirring up memories for me. I can distinctly remember being stung by a jellyfish in the water.

Beth: I can see why you wanted to blot out that memory!

Emma: I can vividly remember it now though. Actually, the whole weekend was an unforgettable experience. We told ghost stories all night if I remember rightly.

Beth: Oh yes, that’s right. Now I remember it well. It’s terrible how memories fade as time passes, isn’t it! Mind you, I’m happy to lose some of my more painful memories of school.

Common mistakes

I’ve forgotten my homework. I left it at home. NOT I’ve forgotten my homework at home.

Sensing

Read these problem letters from a magazine and notice the collocations relating to sensing.

When I first met my new boss, I had/got the impression that he might be a difficult person to work for. I sensed some tension between us. Now I have a feeling that he is trying to make things difficult for me. I don’t know whether I should trust my intuition and hand in my resignation. Or am I just being ridiculously over-sensitive?

For the last few weeks I’ve been much more sensitive to heat and sensitive to light than I used to be. I’ve always had sensitive skin and sensitive teeth but this is much worse than ever before. My hands have also started going numb if I get at all cold. I used to have an acute sense of smell and acute hearing but I don’t any more.

Kim T.

Jan P.

Common mistakes

Remember the difference between a sensitive person [a person who is easily upset] and a sensible person [a person with good judgement].

Speaking about beliefs and opinions

I firmly believe that young people should have the right to vote at 16.

I share your opinion on the issue of hunting. I'm a great believer in animals' rights.

Contrary to popular belief, it is not true that blondes are dumb.

We have reason to believe that you witnessed the accident.

We are poles apart in our attitudes to life.

It's a matter of opinion whether men are better drivers than women.

I had a difference of opinion with my brother.

I've got a sneaking suspicion you may be right.

More formal ways of discussing beliefs

Look at this extract from a student essay and notice the collocations referring to beliefs.

The writer seems to make assumptions based on an unshakeable belief in the superiority of her own value system. She seems to be unaware of the extent to which her own set of beliefs has coloured her judgement. Her research leads her to conclude that military action was justified. However, her evidence is based on one single document and attaches too much importance to this. I do not trust her judgement. Moreover, other documents cast doubt on her conclusions. Opinions on the issue are divided and my own considered opinion is that the writer is not to be trusted. I have serious misgivings about her research and I have doubts about the accuracy of some of her facts.

1 thinks or says things are true without enough evidence
2 affected her judgement
3 suggest something may be wrong with 4 people have different opinions
5 opinion after much thought

56.2 Correct the seven collocation errors in this text.

I wish we can solve a big problem we have regarding our student committee. Opinions are separated about how to approach the issue and, naturally, some members have very heavy opinions. Some of their views are based on their unstirred belief that they are always right and that no one can challenge their group of beliefs. My own thoughtful opinion is that we should have new elections, but I know that others have quite a different meaning.

Decisions and judgements

Note the collocations in bold in these emails between colleagues.

Hi Rita,
Have you made a decision yet about the new job? It must be difficult. It’s such a big decision to have to move to London and everything. I always put off making decisions till the last possible moment. I bet you’re the same. I detected a slight hesitation in your last email. Are you having second thoughts? Anyway, let me know.
Paul

Dear Carl,
You’ve probably heard that the management have taken the decision to close the Madrid office. There was a lot of discussion, but apparently it was a unanimous decision in the end. There’s always been a degree of uncertainty surrounding the future of the Madrid office, but let’s just hope this will now be seen as a wise decision by everyone.
Elizabeth

Dear Mary,
After weeks of hesitating, it seems Matt has arrived at a decision about the research fund. He’s going to increase it by £10,000. I think that’s a sensible decision that combines generosity and sound judgement. But he’s also defending his decision to close down the San Antonio project, which is losing a lot of money. However, he’s reserving judgement on the Berlin project until he gets more reliable information.

Choices, opportunities, advice

Tim: I’m going to have to make a choice soon about next year. I’ve been given the chance of going on a six-month expedition to South America and I’ve been offered a job in a bookshop here.
Laura: Wow! South America! That sounds like the opportunity of a lifetime! How could you say no?
Tim: Well, believe it or not, I don’t have a burning desire to see the world, I’d much prefer just to stay at home. Anyway, I’m going to consider all the options before I decide.
Laura: Well, believe it or not, I don’t have a burning desire to see the world, I’d much prefer just to stay at home. Anyway, I’m going to consider all the options before I decide.
Tim: I know, I know, but it’s a tough choice. You wouldn’t understand.
Laura: Well, I think you’re just taking the soft option if you choose the bookshop. I can’t believe you’re going to pass up the opportunity of a trip to South America.
Tim: Well, we all face difficult choices now and then.
Laura: Difficult! You’re mad! Look, just don’t reject South America out of hand. Promise me you’ll think about it.
Tim: Yes, yes, I already said I’m going to weigh up the options and come to a decision.

Tip

Horoscopes often focus on choices and decisions in people’s lives. Read horoscopes in English and note any new collocations connected with decisions and choices.

57.3 Read these remarks by different people, then answer the questions.

Ava: I think I’ll choose the supermarket job; the job at the children’s hospital seems like very hard work. I want something easy.
Amelia: I’ve decided to say no to the offer to join the conservation team in Canada.
Riley: I desperately want to see the world; I’ll take any job if it means I can travel.
Lucas: I don’t want to sell my flat but I have no other way of getting money.
Matthias: Me, work in a zoo? Never, absolutely not! I’m not even prepared to consider it!
Penelope: I’ve been offered a job singing on a cruise ship. It’s fantastic! I’ll never get an offer like this, ever again.

Making accusations

A government minister is today facing accusations of taking bribes. There have been heavy hints about this for some time. An article in The Moon last week clearly implied that a top political figure was involved in a scandal and dropped a number of broad hints as to who it was. A leaked document published in today’s Moon, however, makes a number of serious allegations, which openly accuse the Minister of corruption. The Minister has issued a statement, saying the claims are unfounded. He claims that he has been wrongly accused by The Moon because of its long-running battle with the government.

Putting forward a point of view

Jones puts forward an interesting theory of language learning, backing up his argument with thorough data. Fully accepting the fact that different learners find different methods useful, Jones makes the point that motivation is the key factor in most learners’ success. Although this has been widely acknowledged in general terms for some time, Jones is more precise than most, stating clearly that motivation is more important than all other factors, and substantiating this claim with impressive data.

¹ a feeling of strong dislike or a lack of willingness to do something

Verbs and nouns

These people are talking about their favourite airlines.

I think Globe Air are pretty good. You can state your preference for a special low fat menu, or seafood or vegetarian. They have great in-flight entertainment too – they try to cater for everyone’s tastes. They seem to take pride in their service.

I do a lot of long-distance flying and I don’t relish the thought¹ of a twelve-hour flight with no leg-room, so I usually fly with Arrow. They give you a lot of space, even in economy. And they seem to take pleasure in looking after you.

¹ don’t like to think that it is going to happen

I think most people take offence² if they’re just treated like a number. I have no sympathy for airlines that lose customers because they’re too lazy to give them a warm welcome when they step on board. Visa Airlines are always very friendly.

² become upset because someone has insulted or disrespected them

Other useful collocations for likes and dislikes

I like most James Bond Films, but Goldfinger is my absolute/all-time favourite.

I’ve always been a great lover of Mozart’s operas.

She’s a(n) ardent/dedicated fan of American football. [showing strong feelings]

I’m a keen admirer of the new President. He is such a strong leader.

My wife’s father always filled me with admiration. He achieved so much during his life.

It always gives me pleasure when I see my children doing well at school.
Exercises

59.1  Look at A. Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets, so that it keeps the same meaning.

1. In the survey most people said they much preferred coffee to tea. (preference)
2. Karl really dislikes people using mobile phones in restaurants. (aversion)
3. The staff all think very highly of their managing director. (regard)
4. I’ve enormously enjoyed getting to know you. (pleasure)
5. Suzie genuinely likes cowboy films. (genuine)
6. My parents absolutely detest most modern architecture. (hatred)
7. We enormously enjoy our weekends in the country. (great)
8. Rex knew at once that he could never like his new flatmate. (instant)

59.2  Mark the statements with + if they are about liking and – if they are about disliking.

1. I have no sympathy for anyone who takes such foolish risks.
2. Jane Austen is my all-time favourite writer.
3. I’m a dedicated fan of Robin Williams.
4. I don’t relish the thought of a holiday with all my cousins.

6. I take pride in doing my work as neatly as I can.
7. I must say I rather took offence at what she said to me.
8. I’m a great lover of the open air life.
9. I’ve always been a keen admirer of Nelson Mandela.

59.3  Choose the correct collocation.

I went to a new Italian restaurant last night. It claimed to (1) cater / cook / feed for everyone’s tastes. I went there with my brother. We both have a (2) large / heavy / strong preference for Italian food. We also both have a (3) peculiar / special / particular liking for sitting out-of-doors and this restaurant had a lovely terrace. Unfortunately, the food did not (4) make / give / pass us quite so much pleasure. Although the staff gave us a very (5) warm / hot / boiling welcome when we arrived, they didn’t seem to (6) take / do / make much pride in their service or their cooking. I certainly don’t much relish the (7) suggestion / proposal / thought of going there again.

59.4  Answer these questions.

1. Does it give you more pleasure to give a present or to receive a present?
2. Are you more likely to take an intense dislike to a person or a place?
3. If you are asked to state your preference for a window or an aisle seat on a plane, what do you normally go for?
4. Which singer is your absolute favourite?
5. Name one person who has filled you with admiration in the last five years.
6. Do you take more pride in your work or your home?
7. Name three people or things that you feel great love for.
8. Do you get more pleasure from reading or from listening to music?
Praising

I have nothing but praise for this production of Dragon Knights and offer my congratulations to all the cast. The thunderous applause at the end of last night’s performance was richly deserved. The actors had managed to put on a simply dazzling production. James King, in particular, gave an outstanding performance. Of course, the cast cannot take full credit for its success; we must also warmly congratulate the director. He has received critical acclaim many times in the past. He justly deserves all the rave reviews he will undoubtedly receive from many others as well as myself. We must also give credit to the production’s wardrobe department. I am sure they will also win a lot of praise for their original and exciting costumes.

Also note these collocations relating to praise:

- The orchestra received a standing ovation for their performance of the symphony. [the audience liked the performance so much that they stood up to applaud]
- Your boss thinks the world of you. He’s always singing your praises to me. [informal]
- My parents always used to speak well/highly of that journalist.
- Her father warmly/heartily approves of her new boyfriend.
- I hope you will give your blessing to the plan. [say you wish it well]
- Let’s give the winner a big clap / a round of applause.
- You deserve a pat on the back for such excellent marks! [you deserve praise]

Criticising

When you are criticised, you come in for criticism. You may respond to this criticism, you may counter the criticism [criticise your critic back] or you may dismiss the criticism [say it is untrue or unimportant].

A person may show his/her disapproval or express his/her disapproval and this is often done by giving a look of disapproval or with a frown of disapproval.

Exercises

60.1 Complete these extracts from TV programmes where the speakers are praising people.

For this young violinist, Nuria Shilov, her performance ends with a (1)................................................. ovation and (2)................................................. applause. Her playing has received critical (3)................................................. in the last year in her home country, and now her talent has been recognised by an international audience.

Now the President of the National Badminton Federation (4)................................................. congratulates Wang Shih-Ping on his (5)................................................. deserved victory in this year’s tournament. His skilful playing has (6)................................................. a lot of praise from commentators, though he personally refuses to (7)................................................. full credit for his achievements, and (8)................................................. credit instead to his manager, Karla Ennace.

Well, the team manager is ecstatic and is at this moment making a speech (9)................................................. the praises of the captain, Blake Samson, and the rest of the team. And there is no doubt that they (10)................................................. deserve all this praise for such a remarkable victory.

So, at the end of this week’s quiz, the blue team have won. Let me (11)................................................. my congratulations to you all. You’ll be coming back next week. And let’s give the losers a (12)................................................. of applause. The red team also played a great game.

60.2 Circle T (True) or F (False) after each statement. If you circle F, say why.

1 If you speak highly of someone, you praise them.  T  F
2 If you have nothing but praise for someone, you do not approve of what they do.  T  F
3 If you criticise someone roundly, you criticise them only slightly.  T  F
4 If you heartily approve of something, you are in favour of it.  T  F
5 If you counter criticism, you just accept it.  T  F
6 If someone gives their blessing to something, they are against it.  T  F
7 If you give someone a clap, it is usually because you like what they have done.  T  F
8 If you give constructive criticism, you normally have a positive intention.  T  F

60.4 Complete the collocations in this text.

This is the last exercise in this book. May we give you a pat on the ____________ for getting to this point. Indeed, you ____________ deserve a ____________ clap. We have ____________ but praise for you and would like to ____________ you our warm congratulations!
The most useful collocations to learn are underlined here.

When I left university I made a decision to take up a profession in which I could be creative. I could play the guitar, but I’d never written any songs. Nonetheless I decided to become a singer-songwriter. I made some recordings but I had a rather heavy cold so they didn’t sound good. I made some more, and sent them to a record company and waited for them to reply. So, while I was waiting to become famous, I got a job in a fast-food restaurant. That was five years ago. I’m still doing the same job.

The first four statements are all true. The final statement is probably not true. You may well be understood if you use less natural collocations but you will not sound as you probably wish to sound.

1. Last year I got a new job and started earning/making a lot more money. I realised I could afford to spend more money on my holiday than I usually do and decided to spend a month in Australia. I knew it would be hot there and so I wouldn’t need to take warm clothes with me. In fact, I wore a t-shirt and jeans all the time I was there. I wore a hat all the time too, of course, to protect me from the sun. It was fantastic there. I spent a week sightseeing in Sydney and then spent the rest of the time travelling round the country. I even achieved my lifelong ambition of stroking a koala.

1 A bumpy flight.
Most people prefer smooth flights – though some people perhaps enjoy it when it is bumpy because it is more exciting!
A scheduled flight.
In-flight magazines.
A business trip is one specific journey for business purposes, whereas business travel refers to travelling in general for business purposes.
Return journey.
Not necessarily – family-run means that the main hotel staff are largely from the same family.

Possible answer based on the experience of one of the authors:
Last year I went to California. I made all the travel arrangements myself over the internet so it was cheaper than using a travel agent. I got a charter flight and good budget accommodation in San Francisco for a few nights. Although it was a long, tiring journey from London, it was worth it. While in San Francisco, I took a day trip to the other side of the Bay, across the Golden Gate Bridge, and also went on a boat trip, which was fun. I had a smooth flight on the return journey but I was exhausted when I got home.

Unit 17

17.1 These collocations clearly describe negative aspects of character:

- a selfish streak
- bear a grudge
- make a fool out of someone
- hurt someone’s feelings

These collocations may describe negative aspects of character – it depends on your point of view:

- lose your temper
- painfully shy
- snap decisions
- brutally honest

17.2 1 I know that I have a tendency to bear a grudge, but I just can’t forget something bad a friend did to me recently. She has a selfish streak and doesn’t care sometimes how much she hurts my feelings. I am finding it increasingly hard to keep my temper with her. But perhaps it might be better to lose my temper and let her know how I really feel?

2 I have always tried to put others first and not to think of myself. I believe you should not lose your patience with your friends, but if someone seems to enjoy making a fool out of you in front of other people, do those rules of friendship still apply?

3 I’m a little shy, though not painfully shy, but sometimes I think I give the impression that I’m unfriendly. How can I convince people that I’m good company and worth getting to know?

4 Should I talk about personal matters to my closest colleague at work? She is not very good at keeping secrets and she has a very vivid imagination. She always promises not to tell other people, but I’m not sure she always keeps her word.

5 My boyfriend has a really friendly, outgoing personality and a great sense of humour. He’s highly intelligent and has a razor-sharp mind. The perfect man. We’ve been together now for a year, and I like him a lot, but don’t love him any more. Should I be brutally honest with him and tell him?

6 I think a friend is destroying himself with drugs. I feel a sense of responsibility towards him. He has always been fiercely loyal to me in good and bad times, which is a wonderful aspect of his personality. I feel I ought to contact the police or social services, but I don’t want to make a snap decision which I’ll regret later.

17.3 1 B: Yes, he’s found it hard to come to terms with his new situation.

2 B: No, it’s true. He just can’t take a joke, can he?

3 B: Yes, it certainly revealed her true character.

4 B: Yes, she always sets high standards for herself.

5 B: Well, two-year-olds often throw tantrums.

17.4 Other collocations you might find are:

4 On my birthday my parents took me out for a slap-up meal. They wanted to go for a gourmet meal but I said I’d prefer something more ordinary.
5 Ice tea is a refreshing drink on a hot day, and is probably better for you than soft drinks such as cola or lemonade.
6 Let me take you out to dinner on your birthday. Or would you prefer a home-cooked meal? I could make dinner for you at my place.

Unit 23

23.1 Matthew: Have you downloaded that new e-book that has just come out about Ireland?
Camilla: No, I don’t use my e-book reader app much and I don’t visit websites with book reviews. What’s it about?
Matthew: Well, it deals with the Irish War of Independence. It’s very authentic and it manages to capture the atmosphere of Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century.
Camilla: Is it just historical facts, then?
Matthew: No, the central characters are two brothers who have different opinions about the war and this divides their family. In the opening chapters they’re happy and do everything together, but by the closing chapter they have become enemies.
Camilla: Mm, it sounds a bit depressing to me.
Matthew: Well, it certainly doesn’t have a happy ending, but I liked it, and it’s highly recommended by all the critics.
Camilla: So, a book with a pleasant beginning and a sad ending. Not for me, I’m afraid. I prefer the opposite.

Do you fancy coming on a sporting weekend with me next month? It sounds great – would make a change from playing computer games. You can do lots of different activities. You could even go fishing, I think. You can’t go skiing at this time of year but you can go water skiing, if you like. Everyone has to do general exercises first thing in the morning and then you can do/play whatever sport you like, more or less. I’ve never played badminton so I think I’m going to do that. Then in the afternoon I’m looking forward to the chance to practise my tennis serve with their professional coach. Please try to come!

Kerr takes up a controversial position in his latest article. He puts forward the argument that differences in behaviour between the sexes can be explained totally by the genes. He attempts to make a case for educating boys and girls separately in their primary school years. He argues, occasionally convincingly, that both sexes would benefit from this. He draws attention to recent research which, he claims, lends support to his argument. However, he fails to take a number of important factors into consideration. He also makes no reference to the important work of Potter and Sinclair in this field. I am sure that I will not be alone in disagreeing profoundly with many of his conclusions.

1 cater 3 particular 5 warm 7 thought
2 strong 4 give 6 take

Possible answers:
1 I like both, but I suppose it is a fantastice feeling when you give something and you can tell that the person you give it to really likes it.
2 I think I am more likely to take an intense dislike to a person than a place as my feelings in general – both liking and disliking – are stronger for people than places.
3 I normally go for an aisle seat because I like to be able to stretch my legs.
4 I don’t have a singer who I could call my absolute favourite – I like a lot of different people, and who I want to listen to depends on my mood.
5 Hilary Benn, a British politician, has filled me with admiration over the last five years. I think he is principled and intelligent, which is not something that can be said about all politicians.

6 I take more pride in my work, if, by home, you mean the house that I live in. But if by home you mean family, then I take more pride in my home.

7 I feel great love for my husband, my son and my nephews.

8 I personally get more pleasure from reading.
