18 My local park
A video about everyday life in an English park

1 Describe the place in the photo. How do you think the person feels?

2 Listen to a description of the place in the photo. Answer the questions.
1 Where is Bukhansan National Park?
2 How many people visit it every year?
3 Why do they go there?

3 Work in pairs. Look at the activities in the box. Which activities do you often do? When do you do them? Tell your partner.

cycle through the countryside  do sport and exercise  chat on social media  cook a meal  go clubbing go for long walks  go jogging  play computer games  play a musical instrument  read books  watch videos

I often go for long walks in the evening.
1a How well do you sleep?

Vocabulary everyday routines
1 Work in pairs. Match the two parts of the expressions for everyday routines. Then describe your typical day using some of the expressions.

I often get home late from work ...

1 get a asleep
2 do b early
3 feel c hours
4 fall d break
5 take a e TV
6 watch f exercise
7 work long g home late
8 wake up h tired
9 get up about i until midnight
10 stay up j eight

Grammar present simple and adverbs of frequency
3 Turn to page 153 and find out what your answers say about your lifestyle.

4 Look at these sentences from the questionnaire. Match the sentences (1–2) with their uses (a–b).

1 I work long hours and get home late.
2 The average human needs around eight hours of sleep per night.

a to talk about things that are always true
b to talk about habits and routines

PRESENT SIMPLE
I/you/we/they sleep he/she/it sleeps
I/you/we/they don’t sleep he/she/it doesn’t sleep
Do I/you/we/they sleep ... ? Does he/she/it sleep ... ?

For further information and practice, see page 156.

How well do you sleep?

1 Do you often feel tired?
   A No, I never feel tired during the day.
   B I sometimes feel tired after a long day at work.
   C All the time! I’m always ready for bed.

2 How many hours do you usually sleep at night?
   A Between seven and eight hours.
   B More than nine. I rarely stay up late.
   C Fewer than six.

3 Before I go to bed, I often:
   A watch TV or read a book.
   B do some exercise.
   C do some work.

4 At the weekend, I:
   A usually sleep the same amount as any other day.
   B sometimes sleep for an extra hour or two.
   C always sleep until midday! I never get up early.

5 How often do you wake up in the middle of the night?
   A I never wake up before morning.
   B I rarely wake up more than once, and I usually fall asleep again quite quickly.
   C Two or three times a night.

6 Are you often tired during the day?
   A No, I’m never tired at work.
   B Sometimes, so I take a nap after lunch. After that I’m ready for work again.
   C Always! That’s because I work long hours and get home late.

take a nap / have a short sleep during the day
5 Look at the grammar box. Complete the article about sleep with the present simple form of the verbs.

The secrets of sleep

Why do sleep (we / sleep)?
From birth, we (spend) a third of our lives asleep, but scientists still (not / know) exactly why.

Why (we / have) problems sleeping?
In modern society, many adults (not / get) the seven or eight hours sleep they need every night. We (work) long hours and we rarely (go) to bed at sunset.

Why (we / sleep) differently?
It (depend) on the time of year and also our age. Teenagers usually (need) more sleep than adults. Lots of elderly people (not / sleep) longer than four or five hours at night, but they often (take) naps during the day.

6 Pronunciation /sl/, /z/ or /lz/?

a [3] Listen to the endings of these verbs.
Is the sound /sl/, /z/ or /lz/?
1. feels /z/
2. needs /z/
3. watches /lz/
4. sleeps /lz/
5. goes /sl/
6. dances /sl/
7. does /z/
8. works /sl/

b [3] Listen again and repeat the verbs.
Think about how you say the endings.

7 Discuss the questions.
1. What time do you and your friends normally get up? How late do you stay up?
2. Does anyone in your family ever take a nap in the afternoon?
3. How does this change during the year? Do people sleep longer in the summer or in the winter?

8 Look at the list. Then underline the adverbs of frequency in the questionnaire and write the adverbs in the list.

100% always usually 2 not often
0%

9 Look at the grammar box. Notice the position of the adverbs and expressions of frequency in the sentences. Then choose the correct options to complete the rules (1–2).

1. An adverb of frequency goes after / before the verb to be, but it normally goes after / before the main verb.
2. An expression of frequency (e.g. twice a week) usually goes at the beginning / in the middle or at the end of a sentence.

10 Put the adverb or expression in brackets in the correct place in the sentence. Sometimes there is more than one correct answer.

Always.
1. My brother [plays tennis] on Saturday mornings. (always)
2. We [eat out] at a restaurant. (about once a month)
3. I [take a bus] to school. (every day)
4. She [is at home] in the middle of the day. (rarely)
5. They [go on holiday]. (twice a year)
6. Are you late for work? (often)

11 Work in pairs. Find out about your partner’s habits. Ask questions with How often ...? and these ideas. Answer using an adverb or expression of frequency.

A: How often do you eat out?
B: About once a month.

be late for work/college  take public transport eat out in restaurants  check your phone for messages play board games  go on holiday check your emails  be stressed at work

12 Work in groups. Prepare a questionnaire about lifestyle for another group. Start each question with How often ...? Are you often ...? or Do you often ...? and offer three choices of answer (A, B or C).

13 Work with another group and ask your questions from Exercise 12. Tell the class about the other group’s answers.
1b The secrets of a long life

Reading
1 Who is the oldest person you know? How old is he or she? How healthy is their lifestyle?

My grandfather is the oldest person I know. He’s 83 and still plays golf.

2 Work in pairs. Read the article The Secrets of a Long Life. Answer the questions.
1 Where is Okinawa Island?
2 Why is Okinawa famous?
3 What kind of food do the people eat?
4 Which of their activities do you do?
   I don’t go fishing but I do gardening.

Wordbuilding collocations with do, play and go

We use certain nouns with certain verbs. These are called collocations.
go fishing NOT do fishing or play fishing
For further practice, see Workbook page 11.

Listen in search of a long life

Look at the wordbuilding box. Read the article again and find the collocations with do, play and go. Complete the table.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Do</th>
<th>Go</th>
<th>Play</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>fishing</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Add these activities to the table in Exercise 3. Use a dictionary if necessary. Then think of one more activity for each verb.
cards hiking homework nothing running shopping tennis the piano yoga football karate surfing

Work in pairs. Tell your partner about people you know using the collocations in the table.

My brother does karate. He’s a black belt.

The Secrets of a Long Life

The island of Okinawa in Japan has some of the oldest people in the world. It’s famous for its high number of centenarians — men and women who live beyond one hundred years of age. Some of the reasons for their good health are that they:

- go fishing and eat what they catch.
- do a lot of gardening and grow their own fruit and vegetables.
- go cycling and never drive when they can walk.
- often spend time with friends. They meet at people’s houses and play games.
- rarely buy food from a supermarket.
- do regular exercise, go swimming and lead active lives.

An 89-year-old woman from Okinawa picks seaweed. It’s part of her everyday food.

Listening

6 Listen to a radio interview with photographer David McLain. Tick the topics the speakers talk about.
1 the age of men and women
2 family life
3 sleep
4 food
5 exercise

7 Listen again. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?
1 David McLain is travelling to different countries.
2 He's talking to the radio presenter in the studio.
3 In Sardinia, men don’t live the same number of years as women.
4 Sardinian families often eat together.
5 David says life in Sardinia is less stressful than in other places.
6 Younger people are eating more unhealthy food and they aren’t doing much exercise.

8 Think about the lifestyle of people in your country. Is it similar to the lifestyle in Sardinia? How traditional is your country? Tell the class.

Grammar present simple and present continuous

9 Look at the sentences from the interview. Which two sentences use the present simple? Why?
1 Well, one man is trying to answer these questions and that man is photographer David McLain.
2 He’s speaking to us right now on the phone.
3 Men live to the same age as women.
4 Every Sunday the whole family eats a big meal together.
5 Also, more and more young people are moving to the city these days, and they are doing less exercise because of their lifestyle.

10 The three other sentences in Exercise 9 use the present continuous. How do you form the present continuous?

11 We use the present continuous to talk about something happening now or around now. Match the three present continuous sentences in Exercise 9 with the specific uses (a-c).

a to talk about a changing situation
b to talk about something happening around now, but not necessarily at this exact moment
c to talk about something actually in progress now

PRESENT CONTINUOUS

I’m speaking you’re speaking he/she/it’s speaking
I’m not travelling you’re/they aren’t travelling he/she/it isn’t travelling
Am I working?
Are you/they working?
Is he/she/it working?

For further information and practice, see page 156.

12 Complete the sentences with the present simple or present continuous form of these verbs.

check not / do not / eat go learn play read spend

1 We’re learning a new language at the moment.
2 My friends and I often spend time at each other’s houses.
3 Can you wait a moment? I need my emails.
4 How often do you go to the gym?
5 I need a really interesting book at the moment.
6 Currently, a friend of mine loves any sweets and he says he feels healthier.
7 I’m nearly eighty, but I do any exercise!
8 More old people play computer games these days. It isn’t just the young people.

Speaking my life

13 Write pairs of questions. Use the present simple in one question, and the present continuous in the other.

1 a How / usually spend your free time?
   How do you usually spend your free time?
b / you / do / much sport these days?
   Are you doing much sport these days?

2 a / often / read novels?
b / read / any good books at the moment?
3 a Where / normally go on holiday?
b Where / plan to go this year?
4 a / speak / any other languages?
b / learn / any new languages?

14 Work in pairs. Ask and answer your questions from Exercise 13.
1c Nature is good for you

Reading
1 Look at the photo. Where is the woman? What can she see?

2 Read the article. Match the topics (a–c) with the paragraphs in the article (1–3).
   a how much time we spend outdoors
   b making nature part of city life
   c studies by doctors

3 Read the article again. Answer the questions.
   1 What do most people think about nature?
   2 What is the main change in how people spend their time?
   3 What is happening at national parks in Canada?
   4 After the maths test, where did some people look at nature?
   5 In Toronto, where did healthier people live?
   6 What are they going to build in Dubai?
   7 Where can children study in Switzerland?
   8 In South Korea, how many people visit the new forests every year?

Word focus feel
4 Underline three phrases with feel in the first paragraph of the article. Match the phrases to the uses (1–3).
   1 to talk about your emotions or health
   2 to talk about wanting to do something
   3 to talk about an opinion

5 Complete the questions with these words.
   better  like  that
   1 What do you usually feel _______ doing after a day at work?
   2 Do you feel _______ nature is good for us? Why? / Why not?
   3 After a difficult day, what makes you feel _______ in the evening?

6 Work in pairs. Take turns to ask and answer the questions from Exercise 5.
   A: What do you usually feel like doing after a long day at work?
   B: Going for a run in my local park and then eating dinner. Sometimes I go out and meet friends.

Critical thinking giving examples
7 When writers give an opinion in an article, they often support the idea with examples. Look at these sentences from paragraph 1. Which sentence has the main idea? Which sentences give examples?
   a For example, the number of visitors to Canada’s national parks is getting lower every year.
   b Humans are spending more time inside and less time outside.
   c And in countries such as the USA, only 10% of teenagers spend time outside every day.

8 Read paragraphs 2 and 3 of the article. Find the sentence with the main idea and sentences with examples. Underline the words and phrases for giving examples.
   For example, the number of visitors to Canada’s national parks is getting lower every year.

9 Complete these sentences in your own words. Use examples from your own life. Then tell your partner.
   1 I relax in my free time in different ways. For example, ...
   2 My home town has some places with trees and nature, such as ...
   3 There are some beautiful national parks in my country. A good example is ...

Speaking my life
10 Work in groups of four. Imagine your town has some money to make people’s lives healthier. Look at the ideas below and think of one more.
   - one hundred new trees in the town
   - a 400-metre running track in the park
   - a new park with a children’s play area
   - two cycle paths across the town
   - a bridge across the river with a garden

11 Discuss the ideas in your group and choose the best idea. Give reasons and examples.
   I think cycle paths are a good idea because cycling is good for your health and good for the environment.

12 Present your idea to the class. Then compare your ideas. Try to agree on the best idea.
How do you feel about nature? After spending hours indoors, do you often feel like going outside for a walk? Or if you work for hours at your office desk, do you feel better when you take a break and visit your local park? Most people think that nature is good for us; it's good for our bodies and good for our brains. However, humans are spending more time inside and less time outside. For example, the number of visitors to Canada's national parks is getting lower every year. And in countries such as the USA, only 10% of teenagers spend time outside every day. Many doctors feel that this is a problem in the twenty-first century, and that it is making our physical health worse.

As a result, some doctors are studying the connection between nature and health: one example of this is the work of Dr Matilda van den Bosch in Sweden. The doctor gave people a maths test. During the test, their heart rate was faster. After the test, one group of people sat in a 3D-virtual-reality room for fifteen minutes with pictures and sounds of nature. Their heart rates were slower than people's in the other group.

The virtual contact with nature helped them feel more relaxed. Another good example of how nature is good for health comes from Canada. In Toronto, researchers studied 31,000 people living in cities. Overall, they found that healthier people lived near parks.

Because of studies like these, some countries and cities want nature to be part of people's everyday life. In Dubai, for example, there are plans for a new shopping mall with a large garden so shoppers can relax outside with trees, plants and water. In some countries such as Switzerland, 'forest schools' are popular; schoolchildren study their subjects in the forests and do lots of exercise outside. And South Korea is another good example: it has new forests near its cities and around 13 million people visit these forests every year. So after building cities for so long, perhaps it's now time to start rebuilding nature.

CRAZY COMPETITIONS!
There are lots of competitions in the USA and some of them are a bit crazy!

A The Idiotarod
The Idiotarod is an annual race in twenty different US cities. Each team must have five people and a shopping cart. One person usually rides in the cart and four people pull it. Teams can decorate the shopping cart but they can’t change the wheels. All the teams have to start and finish at the same place but they don’t have to run on the same roads. The members of each team must cross the finish line together and they mustn’t finish without the cart!

B The Mud Bowl Championship
Mud Bowl football is similar to normal American football, so players can pick up the ball and run with it. There are also two teams, but the match is shorter. The winner is the team with the most goals at the end of sixty minutes. The really big difference is that the players have to play in a field with half a metre of mud!
Grammar verbs for rules

VERBS FOR RULES

Each team must have five people and a shopping cart.
They can’t change the wheels.
All the teams have to start and finish at the same place.
They don’t have to run on the same roads.
They mustn’t finish without the cart!
Players can pick up the ball and run with it.

For further information and practice, see page 158.

7 Look at the sentences in the grammar box. Complete the explanations (a–d) with the verbs in bold in the grammar box.

a We use must or have to when the rules say it’s obligatory.
b We use can when it’s allowed in the rules.
c We use mustn’t or can’t when something is not obligatory but is allowed by the rules.
d We use must or have to when it isn’t allowed in the rules.

8 Choose the correct option to complete the sentences about different sports.

1 In golf, you have to / don’t have to hit the ball into nine or eighteen holes.
2 Competitors can / mustn’t argue with the referee.
3 In football, a goalkeeper is the only player who can / has to pick up the ball.
4 Players can’t / must throw the ball backwards in rugby.
5 A referee can / mustn’t send a player off the pitch when he breaks the rules of the game.
6 In table tennis, the ball has to / can’t hit the table.
7 In tennis, the players must / don’t have to win every point to win a match.

9 Complete the description of another competition with these verbs. Use each verb once only.

must | have to | don’t have to | can’t | can

Every year, over three hundred competitors enter the Beard and Moustache competition in Alaska. The rules are simple. You 1 must be over eighteen years old and you 2 have to have a moustache or a beard, or both. Also, you 3 mustn’t put on false hair! In total, there are eighteen different categories, but competitors 4 must only enter one category. There are categories for short beards and different moustaches, so you 5 can’t have the longest moustache or the biggest beard to win a prize.

Speaking my life

10 Work in pairs. You are going to explain the rules for a sport or competition. Choose one of the following. Make a list of six to seven rules.

1 Which of the six sports do you think are the most popular?
2 Which sports don’t people like watching?
3 Which two activities would your group like to have at the next Olympics?
In Bolivia, football is the country's national sport but the country is also famous for another sport – wrestling. Local people like watching the wrestling and it's very popular with tourists. It's an exciting mixture of sport, drama and entertainment. When modern wrestling started in Bolivia in the 1950s, the competitors were all men, but nowadays women are also competing in the ring.

The city of El Alto is a good place to watch the wrestling. Hundreds of spectators go to the fights in the evening. This evening, the crowd is sitting round a huge wrestling ring and they shout: 'Bring them on! Bring them on!' Suddenly, the commentator is speaking into a microphone: 'Ladies and Gentlemen. It's time for Yolanda and Claudina!' The crowd is screaming with excitement as two women in colourful clothes enter the ring.

Yolanda and Claudina are like famous pop stars. They smile and wave to their fans. The music stops and the referee starts the fight. Claudina jumps on Yolanda. Then Yolanda throws Claudina on the floor. As Claudina lies on the floor, Yolanda smiles and waves to the crowd. Then, Claudina gets up and pushes Yolanda onto the ground. One minute Yolanda is winning. The next minute, Claudina is winning. The spectators go crazy!

Away from the ring, many wrestlers are women with families. At home Yolanda has a normal and quiet family life. She has two daughters and she makes clothes for a living. Her father was also a wrestler, so it's a family tradition. In answer to the question, 'Would your daughters like to become wrestlers one day?' Yolanda says they wouldn't. She answers: 'My daughters ask me why I do this. It's dangerous and they complain that wrestling doesn't bring any money into the house.' So why does she do it?

Yolanda loves wrestling because of her fans, and she has lots of them. One of her fans is called Esperanza Cancina. She pays $1.50 (a large part of her salary) to sit near the ring. Esperanza likes watching the wrestling because she says: 'We laugh and we forget our problems for three or four hours.'

6 Pronunciation silent letters

15 Some letters in English words are not pronounced. Listen to these words from the conversation and cross out the silent letters. Then listen again and repeat.
   1 interested
   2 should 3 friends
   4 write
   5 half
   6 what

7 Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.
   1 Would you like to join one of the clubs in Exercise 2? Why? / Why not?
   2 What other types of clubs would you like to join? Why would you like to join them?
2e Advertising for members

Writing an advert or notice

1 What makes a good advert and a bad advert? Think about adverts you like and don’t like in magazines, on TV or online.

2 Read the advice about how to write effective adverts and notices. Then look at the adverts on page 28. Answer these questions.
1 Which advert follows most of the advice?
2 How could you improve the other adverts?

How to WRITE EFFECTIVE ADVERTS AND NOTICES

- Start with a good headline. You could ask a question or solve a problem.
- The advert should explain the reasons for buying something or joining a club.
- If possible, offer something for free or a prize.
- Include any other important information (dates, times, location, etc.).
- Photos, pictures or images always help.

3 Work in pairs. You are going to plan a new club. Discuss the questions.
1 What type of club is it? (e.g. a chess club, a tennis club, a walking group)
2 Who is the club for?
3 Are there any rules for members?
4 Is there a membership fee? How much is it?
5 How often will it meet?
4 Plan and write an advert for your club.

5 Writing skill checking your writing a It is important to check your writing for mistakes before people read it. Read these sentences from adverts and find one mistake in each sentence. Circle the mistake and write the correct symbol from the correction code.

1 Would you like to learn a musical instrument?
P
2 Enter our exciting competition!
3 Are you good at play tennis?
4 We meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
5 It’s fun way to get fitter.
6 Join this club now!
7 Get healthy and play yoga.
8 Call Peter on 077 237 5980.

Writing correction code

Sp = spelling mistake
MW = missing word
P = punctuation mistake
Prep = preposition mistake
Gr = grammar mistake
WO = word order mistake
C = capital letter mistake
WW = wrong word

b Read your advert from Exercise 4 again. Are there any mistakes?

6 Display your adverts around the classroom. Walk around and read about each other’s new clubs. Think about these questions.
- Which clubs would you like to join?
- Which adverts are effective? Why?

   1 How do you go to your place of work or study?
   2 Do you use public transport?
   3 Are there often traffic problems?

2 Read the article about four solutions to transport problems. Match the paragraphs (A–D) with the photos (1–4).

3 Look at the photos and read the article again. Which types of transport (A–D) do you think the sentences describe? Some sentences describe more than one type.
   1 It moves over people’s heads.
   2 It’s a faster way to commute.
   3 It needs human energy.
   4 It uses energy from the wind or the sun.
   5 It makes travel cheaper.
   6 It isn’t for long distances.

Vocabulary transport nouns

WORDBUILDING compound nouns

We can join two nouns to make a new noun: bus + stop = bus stop, air + port = airport
A compound noun can be two words (bus stop) or one word (airport).

For further practice, see Workbook page 27.

4 Find these compound nouns in the article. Match the nouns with the definitions (1–7).
   carbon emissions city centres container ships fuel costs rush hour speed limit traffic jam

1 the maximum speed you can legally drive speed limit
2 a long line of vehicles moving slowly on the road rush hour
3 the time in the day when lots of people travel to/from work speed limit
4 the money you spend on petrol or diesel in transport fuel costs
5 the amount of CO₂ that a type of transport produces carbon emissions
6 the middle of cities city centres
7 transport for moving products around the world container ships

5 Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.
   1 Which of the four transport solutions in the article do you think are a good idea?
   2 Which traffic problems will they solve in your area?
Grammar comparatives and superlatives

6. Listen to a short conversation between two colleagues at work. Which types of transport do they talk about? What advantages and disadvantages do they mention?

7. Listen again. Choose the correct option in these sentences.

10. Complete this report about a transport survey. Write the correct comparative or superlative form of the adjectives.

Report on local transport

For commuting and daytime travel in our town, the best (popular) form of transport is the bus because it’s the cheapest than going by car or taxi. However, some people in the survey want the good cycle paths because the bus is slower than a bicycle in the rush hour. Everyone said that parking in the town centre is the biggest (big) problem, so people don’t often use their cars. As a result, taxis are more popular than private cars in the evenings, even though taxis are the most (expensive) type of transport.

Speaking

11. Work in pairs. Make comparative and superlative sentences with these transport words and adjectives. How many sentences can you make in three minutes?

trains cars taxis fast cheap bad buses planes slow popular ships bicycles expensive safe motorbikes quick good

Trains are quicker than cars but planes are the fastest type of transport.

12. Find out about your partner’s journey to work or college. Ask these questions.
   1. How far do you travel to work or college?
   2. How long does it take?
   3. How much does it cost every week?

13. Make sentences comparing your journeys.

My home is further from college than yours. / Your home is nearer than mine.

14. Work with another pair. Compare your information. Find out:
   1. who lives the nearest to / furthest away from work / college
   2. who has the shortest / longest commute
   3. who has the cheapest / most expensive journey each week
   4. which type of transport is the least / most popular in the group
3b Transport around the world

Listening

1 Work in pairs. Look at the photos of the camel and the huskies. Where in the world do you think they are? What are the advantages of using animals for transport in these parts of the world?

2 Listen to a documentary about animal transport. Why does the presenter say camels and huskies are better than cars?

3 Listen to the documentary again. What do these numbers describe? Make notes.

Camels
50 degrees
40 kilometres
3 to 5 days
160 words

Huskies
-50 degrees
6 and 8 huskies
1,600 kilometres

Grammar as ... as

1 In some parts of the world, animal transport is as popular as these modern types of transport.
2 In winter, northern Alaska can be as cold as the North Pole.
3 For long distances, modern vehicles are not as good as camels.
4 A camel isn't as comfortable as a car.

For further information and practice, see page 160.

4 Look at the grammar box and answer these questions.
   a Which two sentences say two things are the same or equal?
   b Which two sentences say two things are different, and one thing is less than the other?

5 Read the first sentence. Then complete the second sentence. Use as ... as or not as ... as and the adjective in brackets.

1 An underground train across London costs £6 and a taxi costs £15.
   An underground train across London isn't as expensive as a taxi.
   (expensive)

2 A ferry from England to France takes 90 minutes. A train through the tunnel takes 35 minutes.
   A train from England to France is faster than a ferry.
   (slow)

3 In the New York rush hour, cycling to work and going by bus takes the same amount of time.
   In the New York rush hour, cycling to work is going by bus.
   (fast)

4 In Germany and in Finland, 9% of journeys are by bicycle.
   Cycling in Germany is more popular than in Finland.
   (popular)

5 London Heathrow airport has 75 million passengers per year.
   Atlanta airport has over 100 million passengers per year.
   London Heathrow airport is less busy than Atlanta.
   (busy)
6 Pronunciation sentence stress

Listen to these sentences. Underline the stressed words in each sentence.

1 Cycling is as popular as jogging.
2 Trains aren’t as expensive as taxis.
3 Los Angeles airport is as busy as London Heathrow.
4 A car isn’t as fast as a bicycle in a traffic jam.

7 Work in pairs. Ask questions to find out how similar or different you are. Then write sentences.

Is your partner ... as tall as you? / as old as you? / as interested in sport / music / films as you?
Is your partner’s ... family as large as yours? / day at work or college as long as yours? / English book as new as yours?

Carlos is as tall as me. / Carlos isn’t as short as me.

Vocabulary transport adjectives

8 Read part of a news article about taxis in London. What does it compare?

BATTLE OF THE TAXIS

When you travel in London, the city’s famous black taxis or black cabs are a convenient type of transport. On any main road there are frequent cabs, and even with four or five people they’re comfortable to ride in. But now the traditional black cab has competition from private hire taxis such as Uber, Karhoo or Addison Lee. Using your mobile phone, you can book a private hire taxi for a certain time and they are very punctual. Sometimes these private taxis are also a bit cheaper and a little faster. However, in bad traffic, black-cab drivers say theirs are much faster. They have to learn all the roads around London, so they don’t use sat nav, and they know the best routes around the city. They think that private taxis are a lot less reliable in rush-hour traffic.

9 Find these words in the article. Then match them with the definitions (1–6).

- convenient
- frequent
- comfortable
- traditional
- punctual
- reliable

1 It’s always on time.
2 It comes often or regularly.
3 It’s always been the same.
4 It’s nice to sit in.
5 It’s near or easy to use.
6 It does what you need it to.

Grammar comparative modifiers

COMPARATIVE MODIFIERS

Sometimes these private taxis are a bit cheaper and a little faster. Black cab drivers are much faster because they know the best routes. They think that Uber taxis are a lot less reliable.

For further information and practice, see page 160.

10 Look at the grammar box. Complete these rules with the correct modifiers.

1 To talk about a small difference, we use or before a comparative adjective.
2 To talk about a big difference, we use or before a comparative adjective.

11 Work in pairs. Look at the information about transport for visitors to London. Write sentences using these ideas and comparative modifiers.

1 A London bus is / expensive than ... _A London bus is a lot less expensive than a black cab._
2 London buses are / frequent than ... _London buses are much more frequent than ..._
3 The river boat is / comfortable than ... _The river boat is more comfortable than ..._
4 A black cab is / convenient than ... _A black cab is more convenient than ..._

12 Make three more sentences with comparative modifiers using the information about London transport in Exercise 11.

Speaking my life

13 What advice would you give a visitor who arrives in your country for the first time? What are the best ways to get around? Tell your partner.

From the airport to the city centre, there are buses. They’re a lot more frequent than the trains.
3c The end of the road

Reading
1 You are going to read an article about a city in India. Write one thing you know about India. Then tell the class.

2 Read the article. Which paragraph talks about:
   a why people like rickshaws in Kolkata?
   b modern transport in Kolkata?
   c the end of the old rickshaws in Kolkata?

3 Read the article again and answer the questions.
   1 What is the population of Kolkata?
   2 Why is Kolkata noisy?
   3 Where is it safer for pedestrians to walk? Why?
   4 In paragraph 2, why do these people take rickshaws?
      • children
      • commuters
      • housewives
      • tourists
   5 Some politicians want a new type of rickshaw. Why is it different?
   6 How many people pull the old rickshaws in Kolkata?
   7 Why don’t the drivers want the new rickshaws?

Critical thinking opinions for and against 6 There are five different groups of people in the article: shoppers, tourists, politicians, parents and rickshaw drivers. Which groups:
   1 are for hand-pulled rickshaws in Kolkata?
   2 are against the rickshaws?

Underline the reasons in the article for each group’s opinions.
7 Do you think the writer gives a balanced view of the opinions on both sides? Why? / Why not?

Speaking my life
8 Look at this advert for pedicabs. Do you have them in your country? Why are they popular?
   ✔ Pedicabs are greener than taxis
   ✔ They take two passengers
   ✔ Friendly drivers cycle you anywhere
   ✔ No engine, so it’s quieter
   ✔ Great for sightseeing

9 Work in groups. You want to start a pedicab company in your town or city. Discuss the questions and make notes.
   1 Who are your main customers? (commuters, tourists, etc.)
   2 Why are pedicabs better than other types of transport (buses, taxis, etc.)?
   3 How much do you charge? Are you cheaper or more expensive than other transport?
   4 What is the name of your business? How can you advertise your business? (on the internet, on TV, etc.)

10 Give a presentation about your pedicab company to the class. Listen to other groups and compare your ideas. Which group has the best ideas?
Kolkata is the capital of West Bengal in India. It has a population of around 15 million people and the rush hour starts early in the morning. All day there are traffic jams with cars, public buses, taxis, motorbikes and pedicabs, and drivers honk their horns from morning to night. You can also catch the train or get on the underground, but those are busy too. For pedestrians, Kolkata can be dangerous – crossing the road is especially difficult. Fortunately, the old parts of the city have smaller streets which are better if you go on foot. Cars can’t drive down them so they are much quieter and a lot safer.

In these old streets, you’ll see men pulling rickshaws. They are a traditional type of transport in the city and local people still like using them. Early in the day, the drivers pick up children and take them to school. And if you miss your bus to work, a hand-pulled rickshaw is much cheaper than taking a taxi. Then, later on in the day, housewives often prefer to go by rickshaw to the local markets. The driver drops the women off with their shopping outside their house; no other type of public transport can do that! So rickshaws are popular with many local people.

When the traffic is very bad, you can go anywhere by rickshaw. Kolkata is one of the last cities in the world with hand-pulled rickshaws, so the drivers also make money from tourists. Visitors to the city often want to get a photograph sitting on a rickshaw because it’s a famous symbol of Kolkata.

However, not everyone thinks the famous rickshaws are a good idea. Some local politicians don’t like this old type of transport because they think it’s wrong for one human to pull other humans. Instead, they want more rickshaw drivers to use pedicabs or modern electric rickshaws, which are clean and fast. The problem is that Kolkata has around 2,000 rickshaw drivers who pull their passengers by hand. They are often men from villages in the countryside and they don’t have any other job. The new electric rickshaws are very expensive, so these drivers can’t afford them. For these men, it’s probably the end of the road for the traditional rickshaw and their way of life.

electric rickshaw (n) /'lektrən kətʃ ʃəʊ/ a modern type of rickshaw with an electric engine honk your horn (exp) /hɒŋk hɔːn/ make a loud noise in a car to tell people you are there pedicab (n) /ˈpedɪkəb/ a type of taxi with no engine. The driver cycles.
3d Getting around town

Vocabulary taking transport

1 Look at these pairs of words. Match the words with the correct definition (a or b).

1 stop / rank
   a where you can get a taxi
   b where you can get a bus
2 fare / price
   a the money you pay for a journey by bus, train or taxi
   b the amount of money something costs 3 change / receipt a the money you get back when you pay more than the price
   b the piece of paper you receive to show you paid for something 4 gate / platform a where you get on a train
   b where you get on a plane 5 book / check in a when you buy a ticket in advance
   b when you confirm your flight or leave your bags

Real life going on a journey

2 Listen to five conversations. Javier and Shelley are going to the airport, but they take different transport. Answer the questions.

1 At the taxi rank: where does Javier want to go?
2 In the taxi: how much is the fare? Does Javier want a receipt?
3 At the bus stop: where does Shelley want to go? What type of ticket does she buy?
4 At the train station: how much is the ticket? Which platform does the train leave from?
5 At the airport: what does Shelley give the woman? How many bags does she check in?

3 Look at the expressions for going on a journey.
Then listen to the conversations again. Tick the sentences you hear.

GOING ON A JOURNEY

In a taxi
I'd like to go to the station please.
You can stop here.
How much is that?
Do you have change?
Do you want a receipt?

On a bus
Do you stop at the airport?
A single or return ticket?
Please stop at next one.

At the train station
A return ticket to the airport,
please.
First or second class?
Single or return?
Which platform is it?

That's two pounds.

At the airport
Can I see your passport?
How many bags are you checking in?
I only have this carry on.
Window or aisle?
Can I have a seat next to my friend?

4 Pronunciation intonation a In everyday English, people don’t always use full questions. For example, they can say Single or return? instead of Do you want a single or return ticket? Listen to these questions. Mark the intonation ↘ or ↗.

1 Single or return? 4 Bus or train?
2 Window or aisle? 5 North or south?
3 Credit card or cash? 6 First or second class?

b Listen again and repeat the sentences.

5 Work in pairs. Look at the four situations (a–d) with people going to an airport. Act out conversations using the expressions for going on a journey to help you.

Student A: You are the passenger.
Student B: Take the other role in the conversations (e.g. the taxi driver).

Then change roles and repeat.
3e Quick communication

Writing notes and messages

1 How do you normally send notes and messages to friends and colleagues? By text or email? What other ways do you use?

2 Read the notes and messages (1–8). Match them with the reasons for writing (a–e).
   a thanking b apologizing
   c giving travel information d suggesting a time and place
   e giving a message from someone else

3 Writing skills: writing in note form a People often miss out words in notes and messages. Look again at the notes and messages in Exercise 1. Find places where the writers have missed out these kinds of words.

   - articles (e.g. a, the)
   - pronouns (e.g. I, me)
   - auxiliary verbs (e.g. do, are)
   - polite forms (e.g. Would you like to ...? Can we ...?)

(Can we) Meet outside (the) airport at 2? (Is that) OK?

b Rewrite these phone messages as shorter text messages.

1 ‘I’m sorry but I’m stuck in a traffic jam. I’ll see you in half an hour.’
   Sorry. Stuck in traffic. See you in 30 mins.

2 ‘Thank you for booking the train tickets. I’ll pay you when we meet at the station.’

3 ‘Take the underground to Oxford Street and the Moon café is opposite the station.’

4 ‘Peter wants to come with us in the taxi. Can you call him and tell him where to meet us?’

5 ‘My flight is an hour late. Meet me in the arrivals area at five o’clock.’

Work in pairs. Write a short note or message for each situation.

1 You have to work late. Write a text to your friend. Say you will arrive at the bus station an hour later.

2 You are meeting tonight in the city centre. Suggest your friend takes a taxi from the taxi rank outside the train station.

3 You cannot travel with your friend on the underground to the airport. Explain you will travel by bus and meet him/her at the check-in desk.

5 Write a short message to your partner. Then exchange messages. Can you understand the other person’s message? Write a reply if necessary!
Indian Railways

At the Victoria Terminus in Mumbai, India, it always seems to be rush hour.
Before you watch

1 Work in groups. Look at the photo and the caption. Why do you think trains are a popular type of transport in India?

2 Key vocabulary

a Read the sentences. The words in bold are used in the video. Guess the meaning of the words.

1 Don’t walk on the railway track! A train might come.
2 Some of the trains in India have impressive names like The Himalayan Queen.
3 I live in a rural village about thirty miles from the nearest town.
4 This toy train is a miniature of the real thing.
5 My company has a large workforce. We employ over five hundred people.

b Match the words in bold in Exercise 2a with these definitions.

a important-sounding b the metal line that a train runs on c the group of people who work for a company d in the countryside
e a small copy

While you watch

3 Watch the video about Indian Railways with the sound OFF. Number these actions in the order you see them (1–6).

a A man is checking the railway track.
b A train is travelling in the Indian countryside.
c Hundreds of people are walking on a platform during the rush hour.
d People are playing a game.
e A man with a white beard is dancing with two swords.
f Someone is serving food.

4 Watch the video with the sound ON. Underline the correct words.

1 Every day approximately two hundred thousand / two million passengers pass through Mumbai train station.
2 There are over two billion / one billion people in India.
3 The British built the railways in India in the eighteenth / nineteenth century.
4 The first steam train in India was in eighteen thirty-three / fifty-three.
5 There are over thirty-eight thousand / three thousand eight hundred miles of railway track in India.
6 The Grand Trunk Express has travelled through India since nineteen thirty-nine / nineteen twenty-nine.
7 India’s railways carry four billion / four million passengers every year.
8 Indian Railways employ one hundred thousand / one and a half million staff.

After you watch

5 Vocabulary in context

a Watch the clips from the video. Choose the correct meaning of the words and phrases.

b Work in pairs. Ask and answer these questions.

1 Does your country have an enormous public transport system? Is the transport system in your country in good condition? Why / Why not?
2 What everyday situations do you find most stressful (e.g., taking exams, driving in busy traffic)? Why?
3 In your region, which company is one of the largest employers? What do they make or provide?

6 You are going to prepare a narration for a new version of the Indian Railways video. It’s called A one-minute journey on the Indian Railways. As you watch, take notes about what you see in each part.

• Rush hour in Mumbai (0–15)
• On the train (16–38)
• The workforce (39–50)
• At the station (51–60)

7 Now write a script for the new video. Describe what you can see in the video and any important facts and figures about the Indian railway. Try to use some of these words and phrases.

checking the track cities and rural villages dancing everous good condition passengers platform playing games rush hour station stressful workforce

8 Work with a partner. Your teacher will play the video twice. As you watch, take turns to read your script and narrate the video.

Unit 4 Challenges

Features

46 Adventurers of the year
Profiles of some of the world’s top adventurers

48 An impossible decision
The real-life story of two climbers and a difficult decision

50 Challenge yourself
Find out about some challenges for the mind

54 A microadventure
A video about two friends who spend 24 hours in Croatia

1 Look at the photo. Where is the man? Do you think this activity looks exciting or dangerous? Would you like to do this?

2 Listen to another caver talking about his hobby. Answer the questions.
   1 Why do colleagues at work think he is ‘a bit crazy’?
   2 Why do cavers work in teams?
   3 How do you get to Rumbling Falls Cave?

3 Look at these sentences from Vic’s description. Match the words in bold with the definitions (a–c).
   1 Sometimes you have to take a risk when you go caving.
   2 Every cave gives you a new challenge.
   3 Rumbling Falls cave was probably my biggest achievement as a caver.

   a do something which can be dangerous b success in something after a lot of hard work and effort (e.g. passing an examination)
   c something very difficult to do

4 Work in groups. Discuss the questions.
   1 Are you a person who takes risks or are you usually very careful?
   2 What is a big achievement in your life so far?
   3 What will be a big challenge for you in the future?
   4 Is there any kind of risky activity you would like to try in the future?
4a Adventurers of the year

Reading
1 Read the article. Are these sentences about Pasang, Marjan, or both of them? Write 1–6 in the diagram.
   1 She was born in Nepal.
   2 Her father helped her.
   3 She started when she was a teenager.
   4 She trained for her job.
   5 She competed in other countries.
   6 She changed other people’s lives.

2 Read the article again. Work in pairs and discuss the questions.
   1 What do you think was Pasang’s biggest challenge?
   2 Why is she famous?
   3 What was Marjan’s ambition?
   4 What were her team’s achievements?

Grammar past simple

We use the past simple to talk about finished actions, events or situations in the past.

Pasang Lhamu Sherpa Akita lived with her younger sister in Lukla.
Marjan Sadequi grew up in the capital city of Kabul.
People didn’t have homes or food.
It wasn’t easy to practise around the roads of Kabul.

For further information and practice, see page 162.

EVERY YEAR, READERS OF NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE VOTE FOR THEIR ADVENTURERS OF THE YEAR. HERE ARE TWO OF THEM.

THE MOUNTAINEER
As a child, Pasang Lhamu Sherpa Akita lived with her younger sister in Lukla, a town in northeastern Nepal. Her parents died when she was young. As a teenager she trained as a mountaineer. She worked as a mountain guide and she climbed Mount Everest when she was only 22. In 2015, there was a terrible earthquake in Nepal and many people didn’t have homes or food, so Pasang helped them. Nowadays she also works to improve education in Nepal and is famous for her voluntary work as well as her mountaineering.

THE CYCLIST
Marjan Sadequi was born in Afghanistan and grew up in the capital city of Kabul. Her father was the national cycling coach for the men’s team and from very early on in life, Marjan had an ambition to become a cyclist. Her father gave Marjan her first bicycle when she was a teenager, and he soon saw how much Marjan loved cycling. As a result, he built a new women’s cycling team with his daughter and ten other women. It wasn’t easy to practise around the roads of Kabul, but in 2013, the team went to New Delhi and they had their first international competition against other female cycling teams. They didn’t win, but they entered more races in Pakistan, Kazakhstan and South Korea and because of Marjan and her team’s achievements, more women are now cycling in Afghanistan.
3 Look at the grammar box on page 46. Underline the past simple forms in the article. Which are regular? Which are irregular?

4 Answer these questions.
1 What do we add to regular verbs to form the past simple? What do we add if the verb ends in -e? What if the verb ends in -y?
2 What is the infinitive form of the irregular verbs you underlined?
   grew up — grew up
3 How do we form the negative of most past simple verbs? How do we form the negative of be?

5 Pronunciation /d/, /t/ or /id/a Listen to the -ed ending of these regular verbs. Is the sound /d/, /t/ or /id/? Notice how /id/ comes after the letters t or d and adds an extra syllable.

1 lived /d/ 5 waited
2 finished /t/ 6 looked
3 wanted /id/ 7 decided 4 studied /d/ 8 climbed b Listen again and repeat.

6 Complete the text about another adventurer with the past simple form of the verbs.

7 Read the text about Reza again. Answer the questions.
1 When was Reza born?
2 Where did he study architecture?
3 What did he love when he was a teenager?
4 What did he do after university?
5 Did he want to take photos of local news?
6 When did he go abroad?

PAST SIMPLE QUESTIONS
When was Reza born?
Where did he study architecture?
Did he want to take photos of local news?

For further information and practice, see page 162.

8 Look at the grammar box. Choose the correct option (a–b) to complete these rules.
1 With most regular and irregular verbs, we make questions with:
a the past simple form of the verb.
b did + infinitive.
2 With be, we make questions with:
a was and were.
b did + infinitive.

9 Read these questions and answers from interviews with Pasang and Marjan. Complete the questions.
1 I: Where did you live as a child?
P: In Lukla, in northeastern Nepal.
2 I: When Mount Everest?
P: When I was 22 years old.
3 I: Who loved photography and after university, he got a job with a local newspaper as a photographer. But he wanted to take photos of local news, so in 1978 he went abroad and he took photos of wars. Nowadays he works for National Geographic magazine.
4 I: When did you born?
M: In Afghanistan
5 I: What your first international competition?
M: In 2013.
6 I: Who won the race in New Delhi?
M: No, we didn’t.

Speaking _my life_

10 Write six questions to ask your partner about the past. Use some of these ideas.
   where / be / born? where / grow up?
   when / learn / to ride a bike?
   when / start / studying English?
   where / go / holiday / last year?
   go / abroad / last year? go / university?
   what / be / first job?

11 Work in pairs. Take turns to ask and answer your questions. Make notes about your partner.

12 Work with a new partner. Describe your first partner’s life.
Vocabulary personal qualities

1 Work in groups. Read this English expression and discuss the questions.

'Two heads are better than one.'
1 What do you think the expression means?
2 Do you have a similar expression in your language?
3 What are the advantages and disadvantages of working in teams with other people?
4 What do you think makes a good team member?

2 Read the sentences (1–7) about what makes a good team member. Match these adjectives with the sentences.

experienced friendly hard-working intelligent kind patient positive

A good team member:
1 likes meeting people and gets on with everyone. friendly
2 is a good listener and thinks about other people.
3 gives people the time they need and waits for them.
4 is always happy and looks for the good things in life.
5 works extra hours when it's necessary.
6 knows a lot about his or her area of work.
7 is good at learning and understanding.

3 Work in pairs. Which qualities in Exercise 2 do these people have? Why?

a close friend  a language learner
a manager  a parent  a president  a teacher

A good teacher is patient because the students need time to learn.

Listening

4 What difficult decisions do people have to make in life? What decisions do you have to make at work or for your studies? Tell your partner.

I left my old company last year. It was difficult because I had lots of good colleagues there. But I wanted a new job.

5 29 Listen to the first part of a true story about two climbers called Joe Simpson and Simon Yates. Number these pictures in the correct order (1–6).
6 Work in pairs. What was Yates’ impossible decision at the end? What do you think he did?

7 ▶ 30 Now listen to the whole story and answer the questions.
1 What two personal qualities from Exercise 2 did Simpson and Yates have?
2 Why didn’t they stay at the top of the mountain for very long?
3 What decision did Yates make in the end?
4 The next day, what did Yates think about Simpson?
5 What did Yates hear in the night?
6 How did the story of Yates and Simpson become famous?

Grammar past continuous and past simple

▶ PAST CONTINUOUS and PAST SIMPLE

While they were going down the mountain, Simpson fell. He wasn’t moving, but he was still breathing.

Note: We often use when and while to talk about one action happening at the same time as another.

For further information and practice, see page 162.

8 Look at the sentences in the grammar box. Answer these questions.
1 Which verb(s) talk about completed actions?
2 Which verb(s) talk about actions in progress at a moment in the past?
3 We often use the two verb forms together. Which verb form is used for the longer, continuing activity? Which form is used for the shorter, finished action?
4 What is the auxiliary verb in the past continuous? What is the form of the main verb?

9 ▶ 30 Read the sentences from the story about Simpson and Yates. Choose the correct option. Then listen and check.
1 The sun shone / was shining when Simpson and Yates left their tents on the first day.
2 When they reached the top of the mountain, it snowed / was snowing.
3 While they were going down the mountain, Simpson broke / was breaking his knee.
4 For an hour, Yates held the rope, but it pulled / was pulling him off the mountain.
5 Yates was sleeping in his tent but he suddenly woke up / was waking up.
6 Finally, he found / was finding Simpson on the ground.

10 Complete the sentences with one verb in the past continuous form and one verb in the past simple form.

1 I was working (work) on my own when a group of people came (come) into my office.
2 We met (meet) them when they lived (live) above our apartment.
3 They didn’t get on (not get on) very well, so the team agreed (agree) to have a meeting.

5 I saw you across the street but I didn’t (not stop) because I ran (run) to my job interview!
6 What did he do (do) when you phoned (phone) him?
7 Which cities did they visit (visit) while they traveled (travel) through Brazil?
8 Why didn’t you answer (answer) that call while we watched (watch) the film?

11 Pronunciation was/were a ▶ 31 Listen to sentences 1 to 4 from Exercise 10. Notice the pronunciation of was, were, wasn’t and weren’t. Which are stressed and which are unstressed?

b ▶ 31 Listen again and repeat the sentences.

Speaking ▶ my life

12 Which of these events happened to you in the past? Write some sentences about them and say when the events happened.

broke a bone achieved something with a team of other people first fell in love got my first job had an accident had an argument with a close friend received really good news was late for an important meeting

I broke a bone in my arm on my sixth birthday.

13 Work in pairs. Take turns to tell your partner about the things that happened to you. Ask and answer questions about what you were doing when it happened.

A: I broke a bone in my arm on my sixth birthday.
B: What were you doing when it happened?
A: I was riding my first bicycle when I fell off.
4c Challenge yourself

Reading

1. Work in pairs. Do you like doing crosswords, quizzes or puzzles? How much time do you spend playing video and computer games every week? Tell your partner.

2. Answer this riddle and solve the matchstick puzzle, then take the numbers memory challenge on page 51. Turn to page 155 to find the answers.

A riddle: What is yours, but other people use it more than you?

A puzzle: Move two matchsticks and make four equal squares.

3. Why do you think people like taking these types of challenge?

4. Read the second part of the article. Are these sentences true (T) or false (F)?

   1. Professor Rubik taught students about architecture.
   2. He made the cube to teach his students about puzzles.
   3. Professor Rubik solved the problem of the cube straight away.
   4. A robot can solve a Rubik’s cube faster than a human.
   5. Some scientists think puzzles and games are only good for older people’s brains.
   6. A study showed some adults over sixty are better at video games than other adults over sixty.

Wordbuilding verbs and nouns

Some words have a verb form and a noun form. Sometimes the verb and noun form are the same: challenge (v) challenge (n) Sometimes the forms are different: achieve (v) achievement (n)

For further practice, see Workbook page 35.

6. Read these ideas from the article and answer the questions (1–2).
   a. The Rubik’s cube became one of the most popular toys in history.
   b. Our brain naturally loves solving problems.
   c. Some scientists think puzzles and games can improve memory in the elderly.

   1. Which two ideas have lots of evidence in the article to support them? Underline this evidence.
   2. Which idea doesn’t have much evidence in the article? (It’s the writer’s opinion.)

7. Look at the wordbuilding box. Complete this table with words from the article.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Noun</th>

Writing and speaking

8. Complete these questions about learning English with a verb or noun from the table. Then ask your partner the questions.

   1. What do you think is the biggest ________ when learning English?
   2. Do you like ________ problems in English on your own or working with other learners? Why?
   3. What do you think is the best way to ________ new words in English?
   4. When you study for a ________ or exam, how do you do it?

9. Work in pairs. Write a list of tips for someone who is a beginner in English. Give them advice about the best ways to learn.
CHALLENGE YOURSELF

THE NUMBERS MEMORY CHALLENGE

Cover the groups of numbers in this list. Then look at the first group, cover it again, and try to say the numbers. Then look at the second group of numbers, cover them and try to say them.

Continue down the list. When do you stop remembering all the numbers in a group?

5 7 8 4 3
9 5 3 4 5 6
7 4 3 0 6 7 3
8 9 3 1 4 2 8 9
6 3 9 8 1 8 5 3 1
9 2 7 8 3 6 9 7 0 8

In 1974, Professor Erno Rubik was looking for an interesting way to teach his architecture students about 3D geometry. To do this, he made a cube with nine other cubes on each of its sides. The smaller cubes were different colours and you could turn them in different directions. The challenge was to make each side all one colour. The problem was that there were 43 quintillion (43,000,000,000,000,000) ways to move the cubes. As a result, it took Professor Rubik over a month to solve his own problem.

In the end, the Rubik’s cube became one of the most popular toys in history. Over 400 million Rubik’s cubes have been sold around the world and one in seven people have played with one. In 2008, a Dutch teenager called Mats Valk solved the Rubik’s cube in 5.55 seconds. It’s still the world record for a human; a robot beat him with a time of 1.019 seconds.

So why do humans love challenging themselves with puzzles like the Rubik’s cube? It’s the same reason we like crossword puzzles and video games in newspapers, or why we play video games on our phones and tablets. Our brain naturally loves solving problems.

Some scientists also think puzzles and games can improve memory in the elderly. In one study at Illinois University, the researchers studied how video games help older people’s mental health. In their study, twenty adults over the age of sixty played a video game for a long period, while another twenty adults over sixty did not. Afterwards, they gave all forty adults a test of memory and mental skill. Overall, the video game players scored higher on the test, which means a challenging video game could be good for our brains.

3D (adj) /ˈθriː diː/ three dimensional geometry (n) /dʒiˈɒmətri/ mathematical subject about shapes and sizes 4d True stories

Real life telling a story

1. Do you ever go camping at weekends or on holiday? Why? / Why not?

2. Listen to two friends talking about a camping trip. Answer the questions.
   1. Was the start of the weekend good or bad?
   2. When did Mark and the others leave the house?
   3. What happened to the car?
   4. Who helped them?
   5. What was the problem when they found the campsite?
   6. Where did they go instead?

3. Listen again. Complete the conversation.
   A: Hi Mark. How was your camping trip?
   B: It was great in the end, but we had a terrible time at the beginning.
   A: Why?
   B: We left the house late, and then after half an hour the car broke down.
   A: Oh no! We arrived at the forest, it was getting dark.
   B: There was a garage nearby and the mechanic fixed the problem. But
   1. we drove around for about an hour, we found the campsite, but it was completely dark by then. And it was raining!
   A: Really? So?
   B: We found a nice, warm hotel down the road!
   A: That was lucky!
   B: Yes, it was a great hotel and we stayed there for the whole weekend.
   A: !

4. Look at the expressions for telling a story. Match the expressions (1–9) in Exercise 3 with the headings (a–d).

5. Pronunciation intonation for responding

Listen to the expressions for reacting to good and bad news. Notice how the listener uses intonation to show interest. Listen again and repeat.

Why? / Really?
That was a good idea!
Oh no!

6. Work in pairs. Practise the conversation from Exercise 3. Take turns to be person A. Be careful with your intonation when you are responding.

Student A: Use these ideas to tell a story to your partner.
   - You had a terrible journey to work.
   - You were cycling and it started raining.
   - A car hit your bike.
   - You weren't hurt.
   - The driver was very nice. He owns a bicycle shop.
   - He gave you a new bike! It's much better than your old one!

Student B: Listen to your partner and respond with comments and questions.

8. Now change roles.

Student B: Use these ideas to tell a story to your partner.
   - You went hiking with a friend in the mountains.
   - It started snowing.
   - You went back towards the town, but it was getting dark.
   - You passed a large house with the lights on.
   - The people in the house invited you in. They made you dinner and you stayed the night.
   - The next day the sun was shining. You reached the top of the mountain.

Student A: Listen to your partner and respond with comments and questions.

9. Think of a bad journey you had. Did it have a happy ending? Make a list of the events. Then tell your partner the story.
4e A story of survival

Writing a short story

1 What is an interesting story in the news at the moment? Is it good news or bad news?

2 Stories in the news answer some or all of these questions. Read the short story and answer the questions.
   1 Where did it happen?
   2 What was the weather like? Who was there? What were they doing?
   3 What went wrong?
   4 What surprising event happened? Who was there? What were they doing?
   5 Did the story have a happy or sad ending?

3 Writing skill structure your writing

The story has a five-part structure. Number the parts (a–e) in the correct order (1–5).

a The day the story starts, the background events (such as the weather) and what happened at first.

b An important moment when something goes wrong, and what happens next.

c There is a happy (or sad) ending.

d The place and the typical lives of the people.

e A surprising (and often positive) change in the story after a long time.

4 Time expressions help the structure of a story. Look at this example and underline the other time expressions in the story.

The islands of Atafu are in the middle of the Pacific Ocean and the people there go fishing every day. One day, the sun was shining and the sea was calm, so three teenage boys went fishing in a small boat. In the evening, they didn’t arrive home, so the islanders went out and looked for them. After many days there was no sign of them and everyone thought the boys were dead.

Fifty days later, some fishermen were sailing in the middle of the Pacific Ocean when they saw a small boat in the distance. The three boys were in the boat, over 1,500 kilometres from their home. They were living on fish from the sea and rainwater. In the end, they returned to their families alive and well.

5 You are going to write a short story. Use a story from your own life or a story in the news. Plan the story using the five-part structure and make notes to answer the questions in Exercise 2.

6 Write your short story in about 80–100 words. Use some time expressions to help the structure.

7 Work in pairs. Take turns to read your stories. Does your partner use the five-part structure and time expressions?
4f A microadventure
Before you watch

1. Make a list of things you did in the last 24 hours. Write as many things as you can in two minutes. Then work in pairs. Take turns to read your lists. Who wrote the longest list?

   I got up, I brushed my teeth, I ate breakfast, ...

1 Look at the photo and the caption. What do you think of the home in the photo? Would you like to stay there? Which of these materials did Jaime use?

- cardboard
- glass
- leather
- metal
- paper
- plastic
- wood

2 ▶ 35 Listen to part of a documentary about Jaime and the house in the photo. Answer the questions.
1 What everyday objects does the speaker talk about?
2 What did Jaime do with these objects?
3 What does he want people to think about?

A dictionary is made of paper. You use it for looking up words.

- a dictionary
- a mobile phone
- a pen
- scissors
- a tin can

4 Work in pairs. Think of other everyday objects. Don’t tell your partner the object, but describe what it’s made of and what you use it for. Your partner has to guess the object.
5a Recycling

Vocabulary recycling

1 What kind of rubbish do you throw away or recycle every week? What percentage of each type (a–e) is in your rubbish?

About 25% of my rubbish is glass.

a electronics
b glass
  c paper and cardboard
  d metal
e plastic

2 Match these objects to the type of rubbish (a–e) in Exercise 1. Some items match two categories.

1 computer a
  2 bottle b, e
  3 jar
  4 aluminium foil
  5 milk carton
  6 tin can
  7 TV
  8 cereal box
  9 magazine
  10 bag

Reading

3 Look at the photos with the article. What do you think e-rubbish is? Why is the boy holding part of an old computer?

4 Read the article and check your ideas from Exercise 3.

5 Read the article again and answer these questions.

1 Where did Peter Essick follow the e-rubbish to?
2 What did he find in the markets of Ghana?
3 Why do people melt parts of the broken computers?
4 Why is recycling the metal dangerous?
5 What is it bad for?
6 What types of electronic products are environmentally friendly?

E-RUBBISH

Do you ever throw away any electronic rubbish (or e-rubbish)? Perhaps you have some old technology that doesn't work, like an out-of-date phone, or a slow computer. But when you throw away these objects, do you know where they go? The journalist Peter Essick has followed this e-rubbish to different countries around the world.

Essick found a lot of e-rubbish in Ghana, with thousands of old computers in the local markets. Here, the sellers resell a few computers to people for their homes and offices, but you can't sell many computers in the market because a lot of them don't work. So they melt some parts of the computers to recycle the metal. These parts don't have much metal, but there is a little gold inside.

Unfortunately, recycling the metal can be dangerous for the workers because it produces a lot of chemicals which are bad for workers' health. As a result, Peter Essick thinks we shouldn't send any e-rubbish to other countries. It's bad for the environment and it's bad for people's health. He believes we need to produce more environmentally-friendly electronics in the future; in other words, electronic products which you can recycle safely and in the country where they were made.
Grammar quantifiers

Which of these nouns are countable? Which are uncountable? Write C or U.

rubbish U  computer C  plastic bag box magazine paper metal

> QUANTIFIERS

We use quantifiers with countable and uncountable nouns to talk about quantity.

Do you ever throw away any electronic rubbish?
Perhaps you can sell many computers in the market.

The sellers resell a few computers.

You can't sell many computers in the market.

These parts don't have much metal.

There is a little gold inside.

We shouldn't send any e-rubbish to other countries.

For further information and practice, see page 164.

7 Look at the sentences in the grammar box. Then complete these sentences with the correct quantifiers.

1 We use ________ and ________ in affirmative sentences with countable or uncountable nouns.
2 We use ________ in questions with countable or uncountable nouns.
3 We talk about small quantities with ________ in affirmative sentences with countable nouns.
4 We talk about small quantities with ________ in affirmative sentences with uncountable nouns.
5 We use any and ________ in negative sentences with countable nouns.
6 We use ________ and ________ in negative sentences with uncountable nouns.

8 Choose the correct quantifier. In one sentence both quantifiers are correct.

1 How much / many rubbish do you recycle?
2 I recycle a few / a little glass and plastic bottles.
3 I don't recycle many / much glass.
4 I recycle a few / a little paper each week.
5 Do you have much / any recycling bins?
6 There are some / any old TVs for sale at the market.
7 A lot of people on my street don't recycle many / much plastic.
8 You shouldn't throw away many / any paper! Always recycle it.
9 Nowadays, a lot of / some cities and towns have special places to take recycling.

Speaking my life

9 Read these sentences about recycling. If necessary, change the words in bold so the sentences are true for you.

1 I throw away a lot of paper every week.
2 In my area, a few places have recycling bins.
3 My school / place of work doesn't have any recycling bins for paper.
4 Some people in my country think recycling is important.

10 Work in pairs. Ask and answer questions about your sentences in Exercise 9. Start your questions like this:

1 How much paper ...?
2 Do any places ...?
3 Does your school / place of work ...?
4 How many people ...?

A: How much paper do you throw away?
B: I don't throw away any paper. We recycle it in the special green bins.
5b Managing the environment

Vocabulary results and figures

1 Discuss the questions.
   1 How often do you read news about the environment? Is it always bad news?
   2 Do you have any good news about the environment in your country?

2 Read a newspaper report about Portugal. Is it good news or bad news?

Portugal powered the whole country using only solar, wind and hydroelectric energy for about a hundred hours last week. Exactly a year ago, the country produced under a quarter of its electricity from wind power and nearly half of its total energy came from renewable energy. So it's a huge achievement for the country to live off renewable energy for over four days.

3 Look at the phrases in bold in the newspaper report. Find the phrases that have a similar meaning to the exact information a–e.
   a 48%
   b 107
   c from May 7 to May 11
   d 22%
   e 12 months

4 Work in pairs. Answer these questions about your life using over, under, nearly and about.

Ice towers
In the spring and summer there is often a water shortage in the Himalayan mountains. So during the winter, a long pipe is taken up the mountain and then the pipe is cut and a fountain is made to make an ice tower in the village. Then it melts in the spring so farmers can use it on their land.

Fog collectors
The Atacama desert in Chile is one of the driest parts of the world. There is very little rain, but there is fog, and fog contains water. To get this water, some scientists are trying to collect the water in a big net. The net catches drops of water, and it can collect between five and thirty litres of water per day.

Speaking my life

7 Work in groups and discuss these questions.

1 Do you think environmental projects like the Plastiki make a difference to people’s attitudes to rubbish? Will de Rothschild’s journey make people change their behaviour? Why? / Why not?
2 In your country, does anyone (e.g. the government, the police, charities) try to change people’s behaviour in these areas?
   • recycling more rubbish
   • stopping smoking cigarettes
   • driving over the speed limit
   • eating too much food
   • anything else?
   The government tries to stop people smoking cigarettes.
3 How do they try to do this? What are some good ways to change people’s attitudes and behaviour? (e.g. TV advertising, making people pay a fine)
A BOAT made of BOTTLES

A boat with a difference
The Plastiki looks similar to many other boats in Sydney harbour. It's eighteen metres long, six metres wide and it weighs about twelve thousand kilograms. It carries a crew of six people and has an average speed of five knots. However, once you get near to the Plastiki you realize there's a big difference. It's made of twelve thousand five hundred re-used plastic bottles.

How did the Plastiki begin?
David de Rothschild is an environmentalist who has crossed Antarctica and explored the Ecuadorean Amazon. One day he was reading some information about all the plastic in the seas and oceans. He couldn't believe what he was reading. For example, humans throw away four out of every five plastic bottles they use, and plastic rubbish causes about eighty percent of the pollution in the sea. In addition, scientists think that around one million seabirds die every year from plastic pollution. De Rothschild decided he wanted to help the fight against pollution in the sea. To help more people understand the problem, he started building a boat made of plastic bottles.

Designing the Plastiki
As well as building the boat with recycled plastic, it was important for him to make the boat environmentally friendly and user-friendly. The boat uses renewable energy such as wind power and solar energy. The crew can make meals with vegetables from the small garden at the back of the boat. They can take a break from work and get some exercise by using the special exercise bicycle. The energy from the bike provides power for the boat's computers. And if anyone needs to take a shower, the boat's shower uses saltwater from the sea.

The journey
De Rothschild sailed the Plastiki across the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco to Sydney. That's fifteen thousand three hundred and seventy-two kilometres. On the way, de Rothschild took the special boat through the 'Great Garbage Patch'. It is a huge area in the Pacific with 3.5 billion kilograms of rubbish. You can see every kind of human rubbish here: shoes, toys, bags, toothbrushes, but the worst problem is the plastic. It kills birds and sea life.

How well did the Plastiki survive the journey?
The journey wasn't always easy and de Rothschild and his crew had to take care during storms. There were giant ocean waves and winds of over one hundred kilometres per hour. The whole journey took one hundred and twenty-nine days. Originally, de Rothschild thought the boat could only travel once, but it lasted so well that he is planning to sail it again one day.

Grammar

1 Choose the correct options to complete the article about recycling.

Recycling around the World

A new report looks at recycling in different countries and what they can learn from each other.

Switzerland
A. The Swiss have different types of recycling bins and so local people only throw away a little of a few household items. For example, they recycle about 80% of their plastic bottles which is a lot higher than other countries in Europe.

USA
Overall, the USA doesn’t recycle as much as a country like Switzerland but it’s introduced a lot of any new projects in recent years. This year it recycled 48% of its paper, 40% of its plastic bottles and 65% of its cans.

Senegal
Senegal recycles a few of its waste industrially, but people don’t throw away much of the items that they can use for something else. For example, you can buy shoes made from old plastic bags and drinking cups made from tin cans.

B early teens mid-twenties fifties late thirties early eighties

3 Work in pairs. Think of five people you both know (e.g. the leader of your country, a famous celebrity). What age do you think they are?

Reading
4 Read the article on page 71 about Rich and Amanda. What was their stage in life when they left their jobs? Why did they decide to leave?
5 Read the article again and answer the questions.
1 Did they do anything fun at the weekends?
2 What did they realize they wanted to do?
3 Why did they buy a campervan?
4 Where did they plan to travel to by container ship?
5 What did colleagues find difficult to understand?
6 What did friends think they were crazy to do?
7 What did Rich and Amanda start to do after they left home?

Grammar to + infinitive

TO + INFINITIVE
1 We intend to leave our jobs.
2 Let’s buy a campervan to travel in.
3 It’s difficult to understand your decision.

For further information and practice, see page 166.

6 Look at the grammar box. Match the sentences (1–3) with the different forms (a–c). a a verb + to + infinitive
b an adjective to + infinitive
c to + infinitive explains the purpose of an action

7 Read about three people’s future plans. Choose the correct options to complete the three texts. What is each person’s stage in life?

‘One day I plan 1 to / go / to go to university, but this year I’m working in a supermarket 2 to earn / earn some money. Then I’d 3 like / to like to travel round the world for six months.’

‘I’m so happy to retire / to retire! Some people tell me I should 4 to relax / relax at this stage in my life, but I don’t want 5 to sit / sit at home doing nothing.’

‘These days it’s really difficult 6 to buy / to buy a house. Me and my husband can’t 7 afford / to afford one, so we’re living with his parents and saving money 8 to buy / to buy a place of our own. It’s hard 9 not to feel / not to feel unhappy about it.’
Rich and Amanda Ligato were professional people with successful careers. Every week, they worked hard. They always intended to do something fun and exciting at the weekend but, in the end, there was never time. One day they asked themselves, 'Is this all there is?'

They realized that they wanted to stop working and to go travelling. Or, as Rich said, 'to buy our freedom'. But first they needed to save some money. Every month they lived on Rich's salary and saved Amanda's. Then they bought a campervan to travel from the bottom of South America to Brazil, and from there they hoped to get to Africa on a container ship.

Colleagues at work found it difficult to understand their decision. Even their closest friends thought they were crazy to go on this kind of journey, but finally, the day came. They left their home and started to live their dream.

8 Look at the correct options in Exercise 7. Which options use to + infinitive? Match them to the uses (a–c) in Exercise 6.

9 Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–6) with the endings (a–f).

1 One day I intend to
2 I want to take a year off
3 I'd be

11 Write your own sentences using the sentence beginnings (1–6) in Exercise 9. Then work in pairs. Read out your sentences and compare your ideas.

One day I intend to start my own business.

12 Work in groups. You plan to take six months off from your job or your studies and have the trip of a lifetime! Discuss the following questions and make notes about your plans. You can use the world map on pages 6–7 to help your planning.

- Which countries and continents do you plan to visit?
- Why do you want to visit these places?
- What type of transport do you intend to use?
- What do you hope to do in each place that you visit?
- What do you think will be easy to do on the trip? What do you think will be difficult to do?

13 Present your 'trip of a lifetime' to the rest of the class.

We plan to visit parts of Asia. First of all, we want to visit Vietnam to see its beautiful and ancient places …
World party

People in different countries celebrate Mardi Gras with live music, costumes, fireworks, parades and lots of good food. The most famous celebrations are in New Orleans, Venice, Rio de Janeiro and Port-of-Spain.

New Orleans, USA
Small parties for Mardi Gras began in the 1700s. By the 1800s they were huge events with masks, costumes and jazz bands. Visitors also have to try 'king cake' with its gold, purple and green decorations.

Venice, Italy
Mardi Gras is called Carnevale in this beautiful city. The first celebrations were in the 11th century and it is still a big celebration today. Visitors to the city can enjoy the costumes, candles and fireworks at night from a gondola in Venice's canals.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
The world-famous parades started in the mid-1800s, with decorated floats and thousands of people dancing to samba. People eat a famous meat and bean stew called feijoada.

Port-of-Spain, Trinidad
The French arrived here in the 18th century and brought Mardi Gras with them. Nowadays, everyone enjoys the parties and concerts with the famous steel drums playing from morning to midnight.

COMING of AGE

Quinceañera
In Latin-American cultures, Quinceañera is a well-known celebration for girls around their fifteenth birthday. Many people believe the celebration started when the Spanish first came to parts of the Caribbean, Central America and South America. Of course, ancient tribes like the Inca, Maya and the Aztecs probably had their own coming-of-age ceremonies already, but the Spanish changed these to include European features such as the Quinceañera waltz, which was introduced in the 19th century by Emperor Maximilian and his wife Carlota. This waltz between the teenage girl and her father symbolizes her coming of age.

Cattle jumping
The whole economy of the Hamar tribe in southern Ethiopia is based on traditional farming. The importance of farming is seen in the coming-of-age ceremony in Hamar culture. As part of the celebration, young men must jump over a line of fifteen cows. They have to do this before they can marry. After that, the man’s family chooses a wife and they have to pay the bride’s family about thirty goats and twenty cows. Sometimes the man will have to pay the family back over his whole life. Because of the costs involved, Hamar men are usually in their mid-thirties and the women aged about seventeen when they marry. As a result, the husband often dies many years before his wife, and traditionally, she then gets financial control over the husband’s younger brothers’ money (if the parents are also dead) and all their cattle.

Seijin-no-Hi
The second Monday of January is a public holiday in Japan. It’s a day when all twenty-year-olds are supposed to celebrate their coming of age. It’s called Seijin-no-Hi and the young men and women wear formal clothes and attend ceremonies. Twenty is an important age in Japanese society because you get several adult legal rights, such as voting in elections. However, in recent years, the number of young people celebrating Seijin-no-Hi has decreased. This is partly because of Japan’s low birth rate, but maybe it’s also because it’s too expensive and modern twenty-year-olds are less interested in these kinds of social traditions.

Celebrations
IN MADAGASCAR

I was staying in Madagascar with a family and they invited me to their daughter's wedding. On the big day, I arrived outside an enormous tent. There was a zebu (a type of cow) at the entrance and it looked miserable. Inside the tent, there were beautiful decorations and over 300 excited relatives and guests were waiting for the bride and groom to arrive. The women wore colourful dresses. The older men wore smart suits but the younger men were less formally dressed. I even saw jeans and T-shirts. Finally, the ceremony began with some very long and sometimes dull speeches. But the crowd listened politely and sometimes they laughed and applauded. Finally, it was dinner and I suddenly realized what the zebu was for. We ate from massive plates of meat. I felt sad for the zebu but the meat was the best part of the ceremony! It was delicious.

2 Writing skill descriptive adjectives a When you write about places or special events, it's important to use interesting and very descriptive adjectives. Match the highlighted adjectives in the travel blog with these less descriptive adjectives (1-4).

1 big enormous
2 unhappy
3 nice beautiful
4 boring

b Work in pairs. Improve these sentences with more descriptive adjectives. You can use words from Exercise 2 or your own ideas.

- beautiful ancient
1 Venice is a nice city with lots of old buildings.
2 In the USA, you can buy big burgers.
3 The parade was a bit boring after a while.
4 The crowd was happy because the nice fireworks started.
5 All the costumes were nice.
6 I was very sad to leave Paris.
7 I tried sushi for the first time and it was really good.
8 The view of the mountains was nice.

c Work in pairs. Look at the topics in Exercise 1. Think of two or three interesting adjectives for each one. Use a dictionary to help you. Then work with another pair and compare your adjectives.

- food and meals – delicious, tasty, disgusting

3 Choose one of these topics and write a short description (one paragraph) for the travel blog.

- a day you remember from a holiday
- your favourite place in the world
- a special occasion in your life
- a festival or celebration

4 Work in pairs. Read your partner's description. Does he/she use interesting adjectives?

Reading

4. Read the article about people living and working in Pennsylvania. Match the jobs (1–3) with the people in the article.

1. businessman
2. trainee driver
3. farmer

5. Read the article again and answer the questions.

1. When did the first energy company discover natural gas in Pennsylvania?
2. What does Donald get from the energy company?
3. What job does Lee want to get?
4. What training is she doing?
5. What kind of company does Paul run?
6. Why is Paul’s business ‘looking good’?

WHEN JOBS CAME TO PENNSYLVANIA

In 2004, an energy company discovered gas under the ground in the State of Pennsylvania in the USA. Now there are lots of energy companies in Pennsylvania and many people’s lives have changed.

Donald Roessler lives on a farm. He has lived there for most of his life, but he hasn’t made much money from it. Two years ago, however, an energy company wanted the gas under his farm. Now they pay Donald a regular monthly income for the energy.

Lee hasn’t had a job since she lost her old job at a bottle factory. But recently, a lot of the energy companies have employed new drivers, so now she’s learning to drive trucks.

Paul Battista has run his company selling construction equipment for about thirty-five years. He’s had some bad times, but since they discovered natural gas, Paul’s profits have increased and business is looking good.
Grammar present perfect and past simple

In 2004, an energy company discovered gas under the ground.
Many people’s lives have changed.
Donald Roessler has lived on his farm for most of his life, but he hasn’t made much money from it.

For further information and practice, see page 168.

6 Look at the sentences in the grammar box. Underline the verb in the past simple and circle the verbs in the present perfect. Then choose the correct option in these sentences (a–c).

a If we say when something happened, we use the past simple / present perfect.
b If we don’t know or don’t say when something happened, we use the past simple / present perfect.
c For something that started in the past and continues now, we use the past simple / present perfect.

7 Underline other verbs in the article in the present perfect (have / has + past participle). Write the past participles in the correct category.

- Regular past participles: changed, lived
- Irregular past participles: made

8 Read about an engineer in Pennsylvania. Choose the correct options.

I’ve gone / I went to university when I was nineteen and I qualified / I’ve qualified as an engineer about four years later. Now I live here in Pennsylvania with my wife and children, but we haven’t lived / didn’t live here very long. I’ve worked / I worked in six other places and last year I’ve spent / I spent three months working overseas. But now I think we’ll stay in Pennsylvania. It’s been / It was good for us living here. At first some of the local people haven’t been / weren’t friendly because they were worried about the local environment, but the natural gas industry has created / created new jobs and has improved / improved the local economy, so things are better now.

9 You are going to listen to an interview with a scientist for a natural gas company. Write questions to ask about his life. Use the present perfect or the past simple.

- How long have you worked for your company?
- When did you go to college?
- When / You ever live / in Pennsylvania?
- When / You move back here?
- When / You ever / work / overseas?
- It / be / easy living here?

10 Listen to the interview. Check your questions from Exercise 9 and write the scientist’s answers.

Grammar present perfect with for and since 11 Look at the grammar box. Read the scientist’s answer to the question and complete this sentence with for and since.

We use 1 ______ and a point in time (e.g. 2015, yesterday) and we use 2 ______ and a period of time (e.g. ten minutes, six months).

12 Complete the phrases with for or since.

1 ______ 2008

   4. People like Pat Crisswell become cowboys for:
      a. the long holidays.
      b. the salary.
      c. job satisfaction.

Critical thinking analysing comparisons in a text

4. The aim of the writer is to help us understand the life of a modern cowboy. He uses several comparisons to do this. Look at the pairs of ideas (1–4). Write words and phrases from the article that describe each idea, and decide if the two ideas are similar or different.
   1. a. the cowboy in the Hollywood films freedom, adventure, romantic image
      b. the real life of a cowboy hard, dangerous, physical, long hours, low pay
      The two ideas are very different
   2. a. the life of a cowboy in the past
      b. the life of the modern cowboy
   3. a. cowboys like Blaine and Tyrel
      b. cowboys like Pat Crisswell

   8. ________ work

7. Work in pairs. Ask your partner three questions using phrases with make and do.
   What kind of job do you want to do in the future? Is it important to make a lot of money?

Speaking my life

8. Read the last sentence of the article again. Do you think Pat Crisswell was crazy to give up his job in the city, or do you think job satisfaction is more important than money?

9. When you look for a job, what things on this list are most important? Put the items in order of importance from 1 to 8 (1 = most important, 8 = least important).
   • learning new skills
   • a good salary
   • working with a team of people
   • making your own decisions
   • getting regular promotion
   • working outdoors
   • opportunities to travel to different places
   • long holidays

10. Work in groups. Tell the rest of the group your order and explain why.
    I think working with a team is important because it’s more interesting than working on your own.
Cowboys have lived and worked in the west and southwest of the United States for over three centuries and they are a famous symbol of the USA. When you watch those old Hollywood cowboy films from the fifties and sixties, you don't see a job; you see a life of freedom and adventure. It's a romantic image which we love to believe in. However, the real job of an American cowboy has always been hard and sometimes dangerous; it's physical with long hours and low pay.

No one knows exactly how many people still do the job of a cowboy in the twenty-first century, but the number is probably between ten and fifty thousand. Life hasn't changed much for cowboys since the early days. The cattle walk across huge plains to eat the grass and the cowboy rides on his horse to bring them home. Like the cowboys of the past, a twenty-first century cowboy still gets up early on freezing cold mornings and makes breakfast over a fire. He can't take days or weekends off and there is no paid holiday. And when you are in the middle of nowhere, your mobile phone doesn't work, so you can't make a call to family or friends when you feel lonely.

So why does a man – because it is usually a man – become a cowboy? For some, it isn't a choice, because they are born into the life; men like Blaine and Tyrel. They are brothers and have worked with cows since they were children. Their mother had a ranch and they rode a horse before they could walk. Both Blaine and Tyrel have large moustaches and wear traditional cowboy clothes with the famous hat and boots. They prefer the traditional cowboy culture: 'It's a real life about you, your horse and the open country.' Last winter, they looked after 2,300 cows. Every day from December until April, they rode across nearly 100,000 acres of land with only the cattle and the horses for company.

Unlike Blaine and Tyrel, some people choose the job later in life. Pat Criswell had an office job with the US government. He made good money, but he didn't like city life and spending all day inside. He wanted to do something different. So one day, he gave up his job and moved to a ranch in Texas, earning much less money as a cowboy. He remembers his work colleagues in the city on the day he left. They all thought Pat was crazy, but he wanted job satisfaction. And for a cowboy, job satisfaction doesn't come from the money or a comfortable office; it comes from being free to wake up under the sky and being your own boss.

- acre (n) / ˈækər/ measurement of land
- good money /ˈɡʊd mənɪ/ expression meaning 'a lot of money' or 'well-paid'
- middle of nowhere /ˈmɪdl ʌv ˈnoʊwər/ informal expression meaning a place far away from a town, city or other people
- plain (n) /pleɪn/ grassy areas of open land
- ranch (n) /ræŋk/ large farm for cattle, horses or sheep

   6. I ________ to a daily podcast which gives me all the latest news.
   7. My friends and family ________ their photos and share them on social networking sites.
   8. I use online banking because it’s so easy. You just ________ with a password and your account details.
   9. There’s no wifi here, so I can’t ________ to the internet.

3. Which of the sentences in Exercise 2 are true for you? Change any sentences which are not true or give more details.

   I write a blog, but I don’t write about my family. I talk about what my friends and I like doing.

Reading

4. Read the blog. Who do you think wrote it? Why did the person write it?

5. Read the blog again and choose the correct option in these sentences.

   1. The team had an easy / hard journey to the Karimskaya River.
   2. The weather was good / terrible when they arrived.
   3. The blogger says that communication was fairly similar / very different for explorers in the past.
   4. He thinks social media is a waste of time / useful for modern explorers.
   5. The writer / Someone else touched a strange plant.
   6. The writer got a message from a person he knew / didn’t know.

</table>

For further information and practice, see page 170.

6 Look at the grammar box and complete these sentences.

1. We use a zero / first conditional sentence to talk about things that are generally true.
2. We use a zero / first conditional sentence to talk about a possible future situation.
3. In a zero / first conditional sentence we use if + present simple + present simple (or present simple + if + present simple).
4. In a zero / first conditional sentence we use if + present simple + will (or will + if + present simple).
5. If can come at the beginning of the sentence or in the middle. If it is at the beginning, we use / don’t use a comma in the middle.

7 Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–6) with the endings (a–f). Then decide if the sentence is zero conditional (0) or first conditional (1).

1. If I get lost on the way to your house, d (1)
2. If you click on this link, c (0)
3. You can’t read the articles on the website b (0)
4. If there’s a red sign on the screen, a (0)
5. I’ll call you from the top of the mountain e (0)
6. I only write my blog f (0)

a. you have a virus.
b. it downloads the video for free.
c. if you don’t subscribe.
d. I’ll use the satnav in my car.
e. if I have something interesting to write about.

f. if I can get a phone signal.

8 Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs. Then listen and check your answers.

1. If I __________ (go) on holiday, I take lots of sun cream.
2. We __________ (need) a torch if we go out late tonight.
3. We always get lost if my brother __________ (drive).
4. If we __________ (see) a supermarket, I’ll stop and buy some sandwiches for the journey.
5. If that old phone stops working, I __________ (buy) a new one.

6. I can’t buy food if the supermarket __________ (not / be) open.
7. You __________ (ring) this number if you have any questions.
8. If you don’t try harder, you __________ (not pass) your exam.

Speaking my life

9 Have you ever been on a camping trip? What did you take?

10 Work in groups. You are going to the mountains for two days. The weather forecast is for sun on the first day and rain on the second. Because you are walking and camping, you don’t want to take too many items. You have tents, rucksacks and food. Look at the photos. Discuss these items and choose the five most useful. Give reasons for taking them.

A: If we take ..., we won’t need ...
B: We’ll need ... if it rains ...

- camera
- gas cooker
- mobile phone
- hairdryer
- laptop
- hat
- towel
- matches
- satnav

USEFUL TECHNOLOGY

95
8b Invention for the eyes

Speaking

1 Work in groups. Discuss the importance of these inventions. Put the inventions in order from 1 (the most important) to 7 (the least important).
   - the aeroplane
   - the bicycle
   - the camera
   - the engine
   - the internet
   - the telephone and mobile phone
   - the washing machine

2 Present your list to the class and compare it with other groups. What other important inventions would you add to the list? Why?

Listening

3 Listen to a science programme. Answer the questions.
   1 What is the problem for more than one billion people in the world?
   2 What has Joshua Silver invented?

4 Listen to the first half of the programme again. Number the instructions on the diagram in the correct order (1–4).

5 Listen to the second half of the programme again. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?
   1 Silver had to do experiments with the glasses before they worked properly.
   2 A man in Ghana used the glasses first.
   3 The glasses are expensive to produce.
   4 The centre is making a big difference in cities around the world.

Grammar defining relative clauses

DEFINING RELATIVE CLAUSES

The underlined part of each sentence is a defining relative clause. This clause gives essential information about the noun.

There is a scientist who has solved the problem.
Joshua Silver has invented glasses which don't need an optician.
They live in places where there aren't any opticians.
Note: We sometimes use that instead of who or which (but not where); Joshua Silver has invented glasses that don’t need an optician.

For further information and practice, see page 170.
6 Look at the sentences in the grammar box. Which word (who, which or where) do we use:
   a for people?
   b for things?
   c to talk about what exists or happens in a place?

7 Look at these sentences from the listening.
   Underline the relative clause.
   1 A man in Ghana was the first person who used the new glasses.
   2 Silver started an organization which is called the ‘Centre for Vision in the Developing World’.
   3 The centre works with schools in countries where people can’t get glasses easily.

8 Complete these sentences with who, which or where.
   1 Thomas Edison is the person ___________ invented the electric light bulb.
   2 I live in a village ___________ there is no public transport.
   3 The Tesla is the first sports car ___________ uses electricity.
   4 Silicon Valley is a place ___________ many successful technology companies like Apple and Microsoft are based.
   5 In 1800 Alessandro Volta made an invention ___________ was the first battery.
   6 Maria Beasley was the inventor ___________ made the first life raft.

9 In which sentences in Exercise 8 can you use that at the beginning of the relative clause?

10 Look at the photo and the text about another invention, LifeStraw. Complete the text with who, which or where and these phrases.

   LifeStraw is an invention ___________ cleans water ___________ you drink, so it’s useful in areas ___________ water supply. It’s also small, so you can carry it to places ___________ or river and it’s popular with people ___________. LifeStraw can turn 1,000 litres into drinking water and it doesn’t have any moving parts ___________. The people ___________ also make other products for cleaning water in 64 countries around the world.

11 Think of a famous person, an invention, and a place or city. Write a sentence to define or explain each one. Then exchange sentences with your partner. Can your partner guess what they are?

   It’s a thing ___________ you use to find information and to contact people. (a mobile phone)
   It’s a city ___________ you can see Big Ben. (London)

12 Work in groups. Invent something which will help you, your family or your friends in their everyday life. Discuss these questions and draw a simple design of the invention with any important information on a large sheet of paper.

   • What is the invention for? (e.g. a robot for cleaning the house)
   • Who will use it? (e.g. busy working people)
   • Where can you use it? (e.g. around the office)

13 Prepare a short presentation about your invention. Give your presentation to the class.

   Our new invention is a machine ___________.
   It’s for people ___________.
   You can use it in a place ___________...
8c Designs from nature

Reading

1 Photos 1–5 on page 99 show inventions. Photos a–e show the animals and plants which gave the inventors their ideas. Match the inventions (1–5) with the animals and plants (a–e).

2 Read the article and check your answers from Exercise 1.

3 Read the article again. Choose the correct option (a–b) to complete these sentences.
   1. Geckos are amazing because they:
      a. can walk upside down.
      b. can walk on glass and plastic.
    2. Engineers, designers and scientists can learn a lot from:
      a. how nature copies things.
      b. how nature designs things.
    3. The wind turbine engineers and the car manufacturer studied:
      a. shapes in nature.
      b. size in nature.
    4. George de Mestral got the idea for Velcro:
      a. by studying other types of clothing.
      b. by chance.
    5. Wilhelm Barthlott got his idea from:
      a. the inside of the leaf.
      b. the outside of the leaf.
    6. The writer thinks designers:
      a. will learn a lot from nature in the future.
      b. have looked at most of the possibilities.

Critical thinking the writer’s sources

7 To write an article, a writer often uses different ‘sources’ to find information. Which of these sources (1–6) do you think were most useful for writing Designs from nature? Say which parts of the article used information from the sources.

8 Work in pairs. Which sources would you use to write about these topics? Use the sources in Exercise 7 and your own ideas.

   a. people’s favourite type of everyday technology
   b. famous inventors in history
   c. new types of technology in the future

Wordbuilding dependent prepositions

4 These eight words often have prepositions after them. Find the words in the article and write the preposition.

   1. problem ________  5. work ________
   2. good ________  6. think ________
   3. interested ________  7. similar ________
   4. depend ________  8. idea ________

5 Look at the wordbuilding box. Match the words in Exercise 4 with the categories (verb, adjective, noun).

6 Choose three of the words with a dependent preposition in Exercise 4 and write a sentence with each word. Then work in pairs. Take turns to read your sentences but do not say the preposition. Your partner must say the preposition.

Speaking my life

9 Work in pairs. Do some research for a short article about different people’s favourite technology (e.g. a smartphone). Prepare questions to ask people to find out about these things:

   a. what their favourite technology is
   b. how often they use it
   c. what it’s used for
   d. its design (colour, shape, size)
   e. its manufacturer
   f. anything else that’s important

10 Work with other pairs and interview them using your questions.

A: What’s your favourite piece of technology?
B: Definitely my phone. I love it! I take it everywhere!
In a room at Stanford University, scientists have a problem with their robot. It can walk up and down walls made of glass and plastic, but it can’t walk upside down. So today they have a gecko in the room and they are studying how it walks. It’s an amazing animal. Like the robot, it’s very good at moving up and down trees, but the gecko can also walk upside down. In particular, the scientists are interested in the gecko’s feet. They want to learn from its feet and use the same design on their robot.

Animals and plants can teach humans a lot about design and engineering. As a result, many engineers, scientists and designers spend time studying them. When they have a question, nature often has the answer. This science is called biomimetics. Bio- means ‘living things’ and mimetics means ‘copying’. In other words, these scientists – or biomimeticists – depend on animals and plants to help them with design.

Two types of sea animals helped engineers in Canada and Germany. When engineers in Canada were working on improving wind turbines, they studied a whale’s flippers because these animals move so easily through water. And when the car company Mercedes-Benz wanted to think of a new design for a car, they looked at a boxfish. The result was a car that was very similar to the shape of a boxfish and that used less fuel than other cars.

The world of plants helped with the invention of Velcro and a new type of paint. In 1948, the Swiss engineer George de Mestral was walking in the countryside when he pulled a plant’s bur from his trousers. He noticed how the bur stuck really well to his clothes, and so he had the idea of Velcro. And in 1982, Wilhelm Barthlott, an inventor who was studying the leaves of a lotus plant, noticed that water always ran off the leaf and it cleaned itself. Barthlott copied the leaf’s design and produced a type of paint which stays cleaner than normal paint because the water and dirt run off it.

In conclusion, biomimetics has helped to design the modern world, and there are many more future possibilities. It might take a long time to discover all of them, because after all it has taken nature millions of years to design its animals and plants.

- flipper (n) /ˈflɪpər/ the flat arm or leg of a sea animal, used for swimming
- bur (n) /br/ a type of seed from a plant
- zip (n) /zip/ two rows of metal, teeth-like parts which come together (e.g. on a coat)
8d Gadgets

Vocabulary instructions

1 When you buy new technology for the first time, do you ever:
   • read the instruction manual?
   • watch a ‘How to’ video online?
   • ask a friend for help?
   • telephone a customer helpline?
   • turn it on and see what happens?

2 Match the verbs (1–5) with the phrases (a–e) to make instructions. Then match the instructions with the pictures (A–E).

   1 turn on  a the battery
   2 pull  b the button
   3 charge  c the remote control
   4 press  d the lever forwards
   5 push  e the lever backwards

3 Pronunciation linking a 67 A word ending with a consonant sound links to the next word if it starts with a vowel sound. Listen and practise saying these instructions.

   1 Turn it on.  4 Push it forwards.
   2 Charge it overnight.  5 Pull it back.
   3 Press it down.

b Work in pairs. Think of items you often use at home or at work and make sentences using the verbs in Exercises 2 and 3a. Be careful with linking where necessary.
   I turn on my mobile in the morning and charge it overnight.

Real life finding out how something works

4 Listen to two people talking about a new gadget called a drone. Number the pictures in Exercise 2 in the order they talk about them (1–5).

5 Read the list of expressions for finding out how something works. Then listen to the conversation again and tick the questions you hear.

Finding out how something works

Can you show me how this works?
Can you explain the instructions?
Have you charged the battery?
How do I turn it on?
How did you do that?
What is this (other one) for?
What does this (one) do?
What happens if I press this button?
How do you make it (record/go up)?

6 Work in pairs. Choose objects from the box or gadgets in your bag or in the school. Take turns to ask how they work.

a computer game  your favourite app a mobile phone  a photocopier a tablet  a USB stick  a printer a vending machine

A: Can you show me how this works?
B: Yes. First of all, you need to turn it on, here.
8e An argument for technology

Writing a paragraph

1 Read this paragraph. Where do you think it comes from? Choose the correct option (a–c).

a an instruction manual
b a report on energy in the workplace
c a message to a colleague at work about the lighting

Since the late twentieth century, the internet has completely changed our lives. ________, it has delivered information to every house with a computer. ________, you can type in any word and find thousands of pages on the subject. ________, with faster speeds, it can show videos and explain how things work. ________, some people think it can be dangerous, especially for young people. ________, if we teach people how to use it safely, then it’s like having a library in your home. ________, I think every home should have internet access.

2 Writing skill connecting words

Look back at the highlighted connecting words in the paragraph in Exercise 1. Match the words with their uses (1–6).

1 to put ideas and sentences in order ________
2 to introduce contrasting information ________
3 to say the same thing in a different way ________
4 to add extra information to support your main idea ________
5 to introduce an example ________
6 to introduce a result ________

GPS is a good idea for anyone who travels a lot

• GPS maps are always up-to-date and correct
• safer to use when driving
• more expensive than a normal map
• saves time (and money on petrol)

3 Read these notes for a paragraph about GPS technology. The notes give the main idea of the paragraph and arguments for and against. Write a paragraph using the notes and the connecting words from Exercise 2.

4 Choose one of these types of technology. Plan a paragraph about why it is useful. Make notes like the ones in Exercise 3.

5 Now write your paragraph. Use connecting words.

6 Exchange paragraphs with a partner. Does your partner’s paragraph:

• introduce the main idea of the paragraph?
• give reasons why the technology is useful?
• use connecting words?
Ancient languages, modern technology

Using modern technology to record ancient languages in Arunachal Pradesh, India
Before you watch

1. Look at the photo and read the caption. What kind of technology can you see? How do you think these people are using it?

2. Key vocabulary

   Read the sentences. The words in bold are in the video. Match the words with the definitions (a–f).

   a. every two weeks, a language disappears and no one ever uses it again.
   b. how much awareness is there of the problem?
   c. many languages could die out in the next few years because no one speaks them.
   d. humans can’t survive if there isn’t any water.
   e. in recent years, there’s been a shift in the way we communicate because of technology.
   f. don’t neglect your school work over the holidays.

   a. stops existing
   b. change in something
   c. knowledge or understanding of a situation
   d. become less common and finally disappear
   e. forget about
   f. continue to live or exist in a difficult situation

While you watch

3. Watch the video and number these actions in the order they happen (1–4).

   a. the team go to a region in northeast India where there are many different languages.
   b. the three men leave but they hope that the local communities will use the technology kits.
   c. the team visit Australia to interview the last speaker of a language.
   d. the team visit a large village where the older people speak a language called Apatani.

4. Watch the video again and decide if the sentences are true (T) or false (F).

   1. the aim of the National Geographic’s Enduring Voices project is to help save ancient languages which are disappearing and dying out.
   2. the Australian man speaks a language which people thought had already disappeared.
   3. there used to be seven thousand known languages in the world, but now there are only half that amount.
   4. one language disappears every two weeks around the planet.
   5. in the end, Greg and David can’t make the equipment work, so they don’t record the speakers.
   6. in the village, the young people aren’t interested in learning new languages.
   7. no one in the village speaks both English and Apatani.

   8. local people learn to use the technology kits, with a laptop computer, video cameras, and basic recording equipment.
   9. the team hope people will keep their old language alive and speak it themselves.

After you watch

5. Vocabulary in context

   Watch the clips from the video. Choose the correct meaning of the words and phrases.

   Complete this paragraph about a language using words from the video.

   National Geographic Enduring Voices Project

   In North America there are between 150 and 170 k languages. Many of these are native American languages which are d. now, National Geographic Enduring Voices Project is trying to help native speakers save their languages so we don’t lose them. They use special recording e to interview older people speaking the language, and try to translate some of the b words. As a result of this work, the language of Salish, which was dying out, has s. a few years ago, only about 50 people aged over 75 spoke the language of Salish, but now the tribe offers courses in Salish and the children are s in the language.

7. Work in groups. Discuss some or all of these questions.

   - Is your country’s native language a global or important language? Why? Why not?
   - If your native language is dying out, how can you save it? How can technology help to save it?
   - How much is your native language changing? For example, does it use any English words? (e.g. computer)
   - How important is a global language like English in your country? Do most people speak or try to learn a second language like English?
   - How useful is technology for learning and communicating in a new language?
   - How do you use technology for learning English?

   abandon (v) /əbændərn/ stop using hassle (n) /ˈhæsəl/ an annoying or difficult situation loss (n) /lɒs/ the state of no longer having something

Grammar

1 Complete the sentences with the present simple or will form of these verbs.

- not call  - not go  - love  - pass  - press  - work

1 When you ______ this button, the TV comes on.
2 If you put new batteries in, it ______ again.
3 When it's sunny, we ______ to go to the beach.
4 If he ______, we won't know what time to meet him.
5 I ______ hiking if the weather is bad.
6 If you work hard, you ______ the exam.

2 Complete the defining relative clauses with who, which or where.

1 The internet is an invention ______ has changed the modern world.
2 My best friend is someone ______ is always happy to see me.
3 They live in a place ______ there's no internet.
4 A satnav is something ______ tells you where you are.
5 Your teacher is someone ______ helps you learn English.
6 The space shuttle was the first spacecraft ______ travelled to from and to Earth.

3 Complete these sentences so they are true for you. Then work in pairs. Explain the sentences to your partner.

1 ______ is someone who is important in my life.
2 ______ is an invention which improves my life.

4 Complete the sentences with one word.

1 To ______ an account, create a password.
2 P ______ the button here.
3 Plug it in here to c ______ the battery.
4 This is a type of t ______ which flies and takes photographs.
5 I'm interested in ______ robots.
6 Use your email to l ______ in.
7 Did you s ______ the problem with your laptop?
8 I have a question a ______ this grammar.
9 We g ______ hungry at midday.
10 Do you like to p ______ video games?

5 Choose three more words from the unit. Write a sentence with each word, but miss out the key word. Then work in pairs. Take turns to read your sentences and guess the missing word.

I CAN

- talk about technology
- use dependent prepositions

Real life

6 Put these words in the correct order to make questions.

1 switch / it / how / do / I / on?
2 / if / I / happens / button? / press / this / what
3 / can / me / you / how / this / works? / show
4 you / did / that? / do / how 5 charged / battery? / the / you / have 6 / this / button / do? / / what / does

7 Match these responses (a–c) with the questions (1–6) in Exercise 6. One response matches two questions.

a Sure. First, switch it on.
b Yes, I have. It should work now.
c It restarts it.
d By pressing this.
e You turn it off.

8 Work in pairs. Look at these two inventions from Unit 8. Try to describe:

- what they do.
- how they work.
- the different parts.

It's something which .... If you turn this, it ...

I CAN

- find out how something works
- give instructions

   1. When was your last holiday?
   2. Where did you go?
   3. What type of accommodation did you stay in?
   4. What activities did you do?
   5. What do you think makes a good holiday?
9a Holiday stories

Reading

1 Work in groups. Have you ever had these problems or other problems on holiday? What did you do?
- It rained all the time.
- You missed your plane / train / bus / ferry.
- The hotel wasn’t very good.
- You couldn’t find your bag at the airport.
- You got lost when you went sightseeing.
- Your family or friends couldn’t agree on what to do.

2 Read a story about a holiday. Why wasn’t the tourist happy with her room? What did she do?

Holiday Stories

I was in a foreign country for the first time in my life. It had sounded amazing in the brochure:
‘Enjoy seven days in one of the most beautiful cities in the world while staying at a luxury hotel.’

I had been excited about the trip, but now I wasn’t so sure. I had waited at reception for fifteen minutes before someone checked me in. And my room was small and dark, with a window looking over a car park. I tried to be positive and I unpacked my bags. I decided to have a shower before going sightseeing. However, the shower wasn’t working so I called hotel reception.

An hour later, an engineer arrived. He hit the pipes a few times. ‘Sorry, but I cannot fix it today. Maybe, tomorrow.’ Then he held out his hand. He wanted a tip for doing nothing! I was furious. But suddenly, I had a thought. He hadn’t fixed my shower, but I gave him the money anyway. Two minutes later, I was at the reception desk. I explained the problem to the hotel manager and gave him a very large tip.

Fifteen minutes later, I moved into room 405. It was twice the size of room 308, it had a wonderful view of the city, a comfortable bed and, most importantly, there was water in the bathroom.

3 Read the story again. Number the events (a–i) in the order they happened (1–9).
  a gave the manager a tip
  b arrived at the hotel
  c the engineer looked at the shower d gave the engineer a tip e booked the holiday
  f tried to turn on the shower
  g called reception
  h moved to room 405
  i waited at reception

4 When do people give tips in your country?
How much do they give?

Grammar past perfect simple

1. I had been excited about the trip, but now I wasn’t so sure.
2. He hadn’t fixed my shower, but I gave him the money anyway.
Note: In informal English we often use ‘d.
(I’d been = I had been)

For further information and practice, see page 172.

7. Look at the grammar box. How do we form the past perfect simple?

8. Answer the questions (a–b) for each sentence (1–2) in the grammar box.
   a. Which is the main action? Which action happened earlier?
   b. Which verb is in the past simple and which is in the past perfect?

9. Read this conversation between two friends about a holiday. Choose the correct options. Then listen and check your answers.
   A: How was your holiday?
   B: To be honest, I’m really happy to be home!
   A: Why? What happened / had happened?
   B: Well, on the first day at the hotel, someone stole my bag at the reception desk.
   A: Did you catch the person?
   B: No. He ran / ‘d run out of the hotel entrance, so it was too late. The hotel reported / had reported it to the police, but I never got it back. Fortunately, I packed / ‘d packed my passport and money in a different bag, so as soon as I bought / ‘d bought some new clothes I went sightseeing.
   A: Great.
   B: The rest of the holiday went well until the last evening. Suddenly there was no electricity in the hotel. I went to find the manager, but she left / ‘d left for the night. But luckily the assistant manager had / had had some torches and candles and all the hotel guests sat in the reception area and sang traditional songs from their different countries. That was fun. In fact, that was / had been probably the best night of the holiday!

   3 to suggest visiting some of the tunnels
   4 to support the police in their work to stop people entering the tunnels
   5 to inform the reader about something they don’t know about 6 to criticize people who use the unofficial tunnels
When tourists visit Europe, Paris is usually top of their list. It’s a city where you can see some of the most famous art and architecture in the world. Most tour groups start by going up the Eiffel Tower for a view of the city, or they visit a museum or art gallery. After a busy morning, it’s time to find a good place to eat. There’s nothing better than sitting outside a café or restaurant in Paris, watching people walking by, and eating some of the best food in the world. The city is also famous for its fashion, so after lunch it’s time for some shopping. And in the evening, there’s a huge number of theatres and nightclubs to choose from.

That’s the city that most tourists see when they visit Paris. But there is another amazing part of Paris you could visit – and it’s underground. Paris has hundreds of kilometres of tunnels. Tourists can visit part of these tunnels called the catacombs, where over six million people were buried in the nineteenth century. ‘Normal’ tourists are allowed here, but you have to walk down two hundred steps and through long, dark corridors to see the bones and skeletons. Some tourists have even paid to stay down here overnight.

However, this public part of the tunnels is quite small. There are another 250 kilometres of the tunnels which are closed to the public. They are dangerous and the police don’t want people to go down there. Nevertheless, a lot of people find their way into these tunnels through secret entrances. The police often search the area and once they found a cinema down here. It’s well known that art shows and theatre performances sometimes take place in the tunnels, and that they are popular with university students for parties.

There are ‘unofficial’ tours of the tunnels with tour guides like Dominique and Yopie (not their real names). If you pay, they will take you deep underground. It’s no place for anyone who is frightened of the dark or small places. The stone tunnels are small and it’s easy to hit your head on the ceiling. After two hours you arrive in a room which isn’t on any official map. Yopie and his friends built it. It’s comfortable and clean with a table and chairs, and a bed. Yopie says there are many other rooms like this under Paris. ‘Many people come down here to party, some people to paint. We do what we want here.’

2. Read the email and answer the questions.
   1. What is the writer's reason for writing?
   2. What two things does he want to know?

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to request more information about the 'Explorer's Holidays' on your website. In particular, could you provide me with more details of your next tour to Alaska?

Currently, the website says that you will confirm the exact dates of tours for next year in the near future. I would be grateful if you could inform me as soon as they become available.

My second question is about accommodation. It seems to include camping and staying in hotels, but the information on the site is not very clear. I would like to receive more details about this.

Thank you in advance for providing this information.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
William P Faversham

   • Do you know where it was made?
10a A lesson in logos

Reading

1 Look at the product in the photo. Do you recognize the logo on the laptop? What is wrong with it? Read the article and check your ideas.

A LESSON IN LOGOS

A logo is how people recognize your company. When you see a tick logo on an advertisement, for example, you know it’s Nike sportswear. The gold ‘M’ on red says ‘McDonalds’. And everyone knows who made the technology you are using when it has an apple on it. The Apple logo is one of the simplest but most successful logos in the world. Apple products are used in millions of homes and offices. Over five hundred iPhones are sold every minute and the company makes more than two hundred billion dollars a year. An Apple product is recognized by people all over the world because of its design and the famous logo. However, when the first Apple laptops were produced in 1999, Apple realized they had a problem with their logo. When the laptop was put on a table, the customer saw the Apple logo on the top of the laptop. But when the laptop was open, the logo was upside down. This wasn’t a problem for the person using the laptop, but it didn’t look good to other people. In the end, the logo was turned round so that the logo was seen correctly by other people. Why was it so important to Apple? Because when you see other people using a product, you are more likely to buy it.

2 Read the article again. Are these sentences true (T) or false (F)?

1 The writer thinks everyone knows about Apple products.
2 On the first laptops, the company didn’t use the Apple logo.
3 When you closed the first laptops, you saw the logo upside down.
4 On modern Apple laptops, other people can see the logo correctly when you are using it.
5 If we see other people doing something, we often copy them.

3 Discuss these questions as a class.

1 Do you agree with the last sentence in the article? Is it true for you? Why? / Why not?
2 How important do you think logos are? Do they make you buy products?

   - Present the problem.
   - Present the reasons.
   - Present the solutions.

10. Work with another pair. Take turns to give your presentations and convince the other pair of your opinions.

Today we'd like to talk to you about the stuff in your home. Do you spend time every day at the shops or online buying more things?
IS STUFF WINNING?

I bought another book today and have put it on a pile of unread books on my new coffee table. There’s no more space on the table, which also has digital devices, coffee cups, and some socks I need to put away in my bedroom. But my bedroom is also full of stuff. I pick up my phone. The email inbox shows 243 unread emails. I’ve already missed three calls this morning.

I know that I want less stuff in my life, but at the moment the stuff is winning. I seem to spend all my time buying things, and then putting them away, when really I’d like more time for family, friends and hobbies. The good news is that now there is an excellent website to help people like me, called The Minimalists. When Ryan Nicodemus and Joshua Fields Millburn set up this website, they had 52 visitors in the first month. Two years later, it has over two million visitors a month.

Ryan Nicodemus explains how it began. He was working between sixty and eighty hours a week and spending his free time buying more products to make himself feel better. One day, he decided to start working fewer hours and to get rid of all his stuff. After a while, he realized he was much happier and he wanted to share his ideas with others. So he set up the website with Joshua to give advice to other people about how to become ‘minimalist’. On the website there are blog posts and lots of practical ideas. One of their ideas is to play the thirty-day minimalism game. On day one you throw out, sell, recycle or give away one object in your life. Then on day two, two objects. On day three, three objects.

In the same way that stuff can fill the space in our homes, some people think that there is a problem with having lots of stuff in our heads. Often people go online because they don’t want to be doing nothing, so they keep their brains busy with unnecessary activities. According to a recent survey, most people born between 1980 and 2000 use their phones when they have nothing else to do: 46% check their social media, 43% play games, and a fifth do some online shopping.

In the same survey, some people said they were bored with their screens and online life; for example, 27% of them said they were bored of watching TV and 14% were bored of social media. So perhaps we need more time without all these devices and, like Nicodemus and Millburn who have less stuff in their homes, we should also have less stuff in our heads.

1. Read the review of a website and answer the questions.
   1. What is the purpose of the website?
   2. Why does the writer like the website?
   3. What is one problem with the site?
   4. What is the writer’s conclusion about the site?

One of my favourite websites is a free photo-sharing site called www.photoshowme.com. It’s a great place for photographers to show their photos to other people.

The site has quite a few good features. Firstly, it’s easy to find photographs that you are interested in. They are organized into different categories like ‘travel’, ‘food’ or ‘people’ so you can search for things you want to look at. Another good point is that you can comment on each other’s photos, and every month a professional photographer is invited to make comments. In my opinion, you learn a lot from this person’s comments.

The only problem is that it has too much advertising. I think that’s how the site makes money, but when you are looking at beautiful photographs, it’s annoying when an advert appears on the screen.

On the whole, it’s a useful website for anyone who loves taking photographs and communicating with other people about them.

2. Writing skill giving your opinion

a. Write down any useful phrases in the review that:
   a) give positive opinions
   b) give negative opinions
   c) sum up the writer’s main opinion

b. Match these phrases to the uses (a–c) in Exercise 2a.
   1. One thing I really like is that …
   2. In general, …
   3. Another bad point is that …
   4. One big advantage is that …
   5. To sum up …

3. Think of a website you often use. Make notes to answer the questions and plan a review of the website.

   Paragraph 1:
   What is the website? What is it for?

   Paragraph 2:
   In your opinion, what are the good points about the website?

   Paragraph 3:
   Are there any bad points or problems with the site?

   Paragraph 4:
   On the whole, what do you think about the site?

4. Write your review. Use the useful phrases in Exercise 2.

5. Exchange reviews with your partner. Use these questions to check your partner’s review.
   - Does it explain the purpose of the website?
   - Does the review give positive opinions?
   - Does it give negative opinions?
   - Does it sum up the writer’s main opinion?

Grammar

1 Choose the correct options.

IKEA furniture 'sells / is sold' by the company from nearly 400 different shops around the world, and from its online store. However, the company 'didn't use / didn't use to make' furniture. It 'started / was started' in 1943 in Sweden by Ingvar Kamprad. Ingvar 'use to / used to' sell small objects like watches and pens by post. As the company grew, it 'produced / was produced' larger household furniture and today around 12,000 different products 'make / are made', including chairs, beds, cupboard, and pictures.

IKEA is famous for changing the way we buy products. In the past, furniture 'finished / was finished' in the factory and customers 'were bought / used to buy' it ready-made from a shop. But modern IKEA furniture 'builds / is built' by the customer after they buy it. Also, furniture shops 'used to / didn't use' to be in the centre of cities, but IKEA 'built / was built' its shops outside the city centre. This idea was popular with customers and nowadays you often see large shops outside the centre of cities.

A timeline of VIDEO GAMING

The first video games appeared in the 50s and 60s but the first really successful game was ‘Pong’, which came out in 1972. People said that they had never seen anything like it before. It was one of the first home video games that you played against another person for points.

When people remember playing video games in the late 70s and early 80s, they often think of Space Invaders. That’s because everyone was talking about it at the time – people of all ages said they loved it.

Much smaller video game devices became available in the 90s. For example, you could take the Game Boy with you anywhere. It had lots of different games, including Tetris, which was the most popular. Many gamers said they played Tetris for hours and weren’t able to stop!
Grammar reported speech

REPORTED SPEECH
We use reported speech to report what someone said in the past.
1. People said that they had never seen anything like it.
2. People of all ages said they loved it.
3. Nintendo said they were working on a new type of gaming device.
4. They said they would produce games for the whole family to play.
Note: After the reporting verb said, you can use that but you don’t have to.

For further information and practice, see page 176.

6 Look at the grammar box. Match the sentences with reported speech (1–4) to these sentences with direct speech (a–d).
   a. People of all ages said, ‘We love it.’
   b. Nintendo said, ‘We are working on a new type of gaming device.’
   c. Nintendo said, ‘We will produce games for the whole family to play.’
   d. People said, ‘We’ve never seen anything like it.’

7 Underline the verbs in the direct speech in Exercise 6 and in the reported speech in the grammar box. Then complete this table.

Critical thinking emotion words

4 Look at these sentences and compare them with the sentences in the article. What extra words does the author use in the article?

1 These people are here to discover more about Egypt’s history. (paragraph 2)
2 Her team are trying to save the history at Abu Sir al Malaq. (paragraph 3)
3 It continues to be big business. (paragraph 4)

5 Why does the writer use these words? What do they tell us about the writer’s opinion?

Word focus one

6 Read these sentences from the article. Match the use of one in the sentences to the explanations a-e.

1 Busiris was one of ancient Egypt’s largest cities.
2 There is only sand and stone, with one or two small villages nearby.
3 They are moving the ancient objects one by one to museums and safe places.
4 One day in 2012, she was working here.
5 Maybe one day the problem will be solved.

a to talk about a particular day in the past
b to talk about a careful process
c to talk about one in a group of people or things d to talk about a small number of people or things e to talk about some point in the future

Reading

2 Look at the title of the article. What do you think it is about? Why will it talk about the four types of people in Exercise 1?

3 Read the article and check your answers from Exercise 2. Then answer these questions.

1 What was the name of Abu Sir al Malaq in the past?
2 Why was it famous?
3 What sort of people work at Abu Sir al Malaq?
4 Why do criminals come to Abu Sir al Malaq?
5 What is Amal Farag trying to do?
6 The robbers take some objects to sell. What do they often do with the other objects?
7 In the past, who else has stolen from Egypt?
8 Why does the problem continue?

Speaking my life

7 Work in groups. You would like to open a new museum about your local town or city. Make notes about the following.

- what your town was famous for in the past
- what historical objects you can show in the museum
- what you can tell visitors about

8 Work with another group. Present your ideas and try to convince the other group that your idea is the best. Use emotion words.

This town desperately needs a new museum for a number of reasons. Firstly, ...
Abu Sir al Malaq is a place about one hundred kilometres south of Cairo in Egypt. In ancient times it was called Busiris. Busiris was one of ancient Egypt’s largest cities and it was famous for its architecture and buildings. Nowadays, there is only sand and stone with one or two small villages nearby. But the area of Abu Sir al Malaq is still famous because of its history.

When you arrive at Abu Sir al Malaq you meet a lot of archaeologists from museums. These hard-working people are here to discover more about Egypt’s history. Inside the old tombs they can find pots and paintings which tell us more about this period of history. Surprisingly, there are also soldiers with guns, who protect the archaeologists and the ancient tombs. That’s because robbers often come to Abu Sir al Malaq and try to steal things. They can sell these historical items for large amounts of money to collectors around the world.

Amal Farag is one person who wants to protect the area from the robbers. She works for the government and her team are desperately trying to save the ancient objects at Abu Sir al Malaq. They are moving them one by one to museums and safe places. However, it’s almost impossible to save everything. She shows me a tomb on the hillside. One day in 2012, she was working here with a colleague when she suddenly met three men. They were stealing some historical objects from a tomb. When they saw Amal and her colleague, they quickly ran away. Typically, robbers take the good pieces and throw away the rest. ‘For every nice piece’, says Amal, ‘they destroy hundreds.’

It’s wrong to think that stealing historical objects is a modern problem in Egypt. History books describe how people stole from tombs over three thousand years ago. When Roman armies arrived in Egypt, they took gold and valuable objects back to Rome on their ships. And from the 16th to the mid-20th century, different countries controlled Egypt and took away statues and beautiful art. Nowadays, there are laws controlling the movement of historical objects to and from Egypt. Maybe one day the problem will be solved, but in the meantime, it continues – sadly – to be big business.

Real life giving a short presentation

1 Do you ever give talks or presentations in your own language (or in English)? What are they about? Why would people give talks or presentations in these situations?

- at work
- at school or university
- at the meeting of a local club or town council
- at a special occasion (e.g. a wedding)

2 Listen to parts of a presentation about Peru and Machu Picchu. Which of the topics (a–f) does the presenter talk about?

a the people in Peru and their customs b the history of Machu Picchu
c the history of the Incas d the capital city of Peru
e his own journey
f the food in Peru

3 Listen again and complete the expressions for giving a short presentation.

4 Pronunciation pausing a Presenters often pause at the end of a sentence, the end of a phrase, or before and after important words they want to emphasize. Listen and read the first part of the presentation. Notice the first four pauses (/) and write in the other pauses.

Good morning / and thank you all for coming. / Today / I’d like to talk about my holiday in Peru / and in particular, about my journey to Machu Picchu. It’s also called ‘The Lost City of the Incas’. Let me begin by telling you about the history of Machu Picchu.

b Work in pairs. Try reading the same part of the presentation with similar pauses.

5 Prepare a short presentation for your partner. Think about a historical place you have visited and make notes for these questions. Then give your presentation.

- Where is it?
- Why is it important?
- Who lived there in the past?
11e The greatest mountaineer

Writing a biography

1 Think of three pieces of information you would expect to find in a biography. Work in pairs and compare your ideas.

2 Read the biography of Reinhold Messner. Does it include your ideas from Exercise 1? Which paragraphs (1–4) mention these topics (a–f)?
   a when and where he was born
   b facts about his childhood and early life
   c why he became well known d something he said
   e what other people think or have said about him
   f what he is doing now

3 Writing skill punctuation in direct speech a The biography of Messner includes direct speech. Underline three examples of direct speech in the text.

b Answer these questions about punctuation rules for direct speech.
   1 Where do you put the two quotation marks?
   2 Do you always put a full stop at the end of the quotation or only if it ends the sentence?
   3 Where do you use a comma? What does it separate?

The world’s greatest mountaineer

Reinhold Messner has been described as the greatest mountaineer in history. He’s famous for being one of the first men to climb Mount Everest without oxygen in 1978. But he was also the first man to climb all fourteen of the world’s mountains over eight thousand metres.

Messner was born in 1944 in a small village in the mountains of northern Italy. When he talks about the area he still says, ‘It’s the most beautiful place in the world.’ His father was a climber and took his son up a mountain when he was only five. As a teenager, Messner climbed with his younger brother Günther.

In their twenties, the two brothers started climbing in the Himalayas, but Günther died in an accident and Reinhold lost six toes. Nevertheless, Reinhold continued climbing and he became a legend among other mountaineers. The climber Hans Kammerlander believes Reinhold changed climbing. ‘Reinhold had so many new ideas,’ says Kammerlander. ‘He found new ways, new techniques.’

Nowadays Messner spends more time at home with his family and he has written over sixty books. In 2006 he opened the first Messner Mountain Museum, where people can find out more about the world he loves.

Reading

3 Read the article. What kind of questions does Randall answer on his blog?

4 Read the article again and answer these questions with yes or no.
   1 Does Randall work for NASA?
   2 Do people send in questions about things that really happened?
   3 Does Randall use scientific facts to answer the questions?
   4 Are you safer from lightning on a submarine than on a boat?
   5 Can the electricity from lightning move across water?
   6 Can hail break a car windscreen?

WHAT IF ...?

Randall Monroe is a scientist and he used to work for NASA. One day he started a blog called What if ...? Every week people send Randall questions about unlikely or impossible things, and Randall gives scientific answers.

Here are some What ... if ...? questions about weather and nature.

What would happen if lightning hit you in a submarine? What if you were in a boat?
If you were in a submarine, you’d be safe because you’d be underwater. However, lightning usually hits the tallest thing, so if you were on a flat surface, like in a boat on the sea, you wouldn’t be as safe.

Would I be safe if I was in a swimming pool during a thunderstorm?
You wouldn’t be safe if your head was above the water. Lightning might hit you. And if the lightning hit the water near you, the electrical energy would spread outwards across the water.

If it was raining, how fast would you have to drive to break the car windscreen?
The rain would break the glass if you drove at the speed of sound. But if you did that, the car would take off! Rain wouldn’t break the glass if you drove at a normal speed. But in freezing temperatures, hail would break the windscreen if you drove fast. In fact, that sometimes happens in some parts of the world.
Grammar  second conditional

SECOND CONDITIONAL

If you were in a submarine, you'd be safe.
If you were in a boat, you wouldn't be as safe.
You wouldn't be safe if your head was above the water.
The rain would break the glass if you drove at the speed of sound.

Would I be safe if I was in a swimming pool during a thunderstorm?
What would happen if lightning hit you in a submarine?

5 Look at the grammar box. Then choose the correct option (a–b) to complete these sentences.

1 We form the second conditional with:
   a if + past simple + would + verb.
   b if + present simple + will + verb.

2 We use the second conditional to talk about:
   a real situations.
   b impossible or unlikely situations.

3 The second conditional refers to situations in:
   a the past.
   b the present or future.

4 A comma separates the two clauses when:
   a the first clause begins with if.
   b the second clause begins with if.

6 Put these words in the correct order to make second conditional sentences. The first word is correct.

1 If / time, / 1/ had / you / help / 1/ with / your /'d/ homework / .
2 You / need / help / wouldn't / listened / class / if / you / in / .
3 Would / you / for / ask / friends / your / money / if / didn't / you / have / any / ?
4 1 / ancient / Rome /'d/ visit / if / time / travel / possible / was / .
5 They / use / translator / a / wouldn't / English / they / if / spoke / .
6 If / business, / a / new / started / you / would / produce / what / you / ?

7 Complete the text with the correct form of the verbs.

8 Complete the second sentence using the second conditional. Describe the opposite situation to the first sentence.

1 It doesn’t rain here so the land is very dry.

Speaking  my life

10 Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

1 Would you live in another country if you could? Where would you move to? Why?
2 If you could meet someone famous, who would it be? What would you ask him or her?
3 If you won a lot of money, would you stop working / studying? How would you spend the money?

I'd like to live in another country if I could. I'd probably move to Canada, because it has beautiful places.

What would happen if there wasn’t a Gulf Stream?

The Gulf Stream is a stream of warm water which begins in Florida and travels across the Atlantic Ocean. As a result, countries on the west coast of Europe have warmer climates. If the Gulf Stream stopped flowing, Europe's (be) very different. Countries like Great Britain (become) much colder, especially in winter. If the sea was colder, spring and summer (not / last) as long. Farmers (not / be able) to produce certain types of food and heating costs (go up). So if we didn't have the Gulf Stream, a lot of Europeans (have to) change the way they live.

   d At three.

Speaking my life

8 Work in pairs. Imagine you are Jane Goodall. Answer these questions with the information from paragraphs 1 and 2 of the article.
   1 When did you first arrive in Africa?
   2 What possessions did you have with you?
   3 When did you see a chimpanzee for the first time?
   4 What three discoveries did you make about chimpanzees?

9 With your partner, write four more questions for Jane Goodall using the information in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5.

10 Work with another pair and take turns to ask and answer your questions.
   A: What happened to you in 1966?
   B: I became a Doctor.

11 Write down five important dates in your life. Give them to your partner. Ask and answer questions about your dates.
Jane Goodall and her mother started their new life in Africa on July 14, 1960. They arrived on the east shore of Lake Tanganyika in the Gombe National Park. A group of men met them and carried their luggage. They didn't have very much: a tent, a few clothes and a cup. Later on the same day, somebody said they had seen a chimpanzee. Straight away, Jane started running towards the forest, where she saw a chimpanzee for the first time.

Jane had always dreamed of visiting Africa and studying chimpanzees, but she didn't know much about them and she had no scientific qualifications. However, after she arrived in Gombe, she spent many months watching groups of these animals and learning about them. She started to write about them in her diary and after many months of difficult work, she made three important and new discoveries: chimpanzees ate meat, they used tools to get food and they also made tools.

She began to publish articles in journals such as National Geographic magazine. After a while, scientists started reading her articles and Jane was offered a place at university. Finally, in 1966, she became Doctor Jane Goodall. Her work also made her famous. There was a film documentary, Miss Goodall and the Wild Chimpanzees (1963) and then the first of many books, called My Friends the Wild Chimpanzees (1969).

During the seventies, there was a war in the region and Gombe became a dangerous place. Many foreigners left, but Jane stayed. Eventually the war ended, but there was another problem at the start of the 1980s. As the human population increased in Gombe, more trees were cut down. With fewer trees, the chimpanzees lost their natural habitat and it became difficult for them to survive.

By the end of the decade, only about a hundred chimpanzees were living in Gombe. At this time, Jane started working with local people to grow more trees in the region. After 1989, Jane left Gombe and started travelling to other parts of the world. She gave lectures about her work and she organized safe places for young chimps whose parents had died or been killed. Now in her eighties, she spends about three hundred days a year giving interviews, talks and lectures, meeting with government officials about animal conservation and raising money for the Jane Goodall Institute which continues her research. And she still spends part of every year in the forest in Gombe, watching her chimpanzees.

Real life finding a solution

1 Look at the photo of the tiger in a zoo and answer the questions.
   1 How do you think the tiger feels? How do the girls feel?
   2 Do you ever visit zoos? Why? / Why not?

2 Read the newspaper extract below. Answer the questions.
   1 Is it certain that the zoo will close?
   2 What problem does the council need to solve?
   3 What would happen to the animals if it closed?

Animals have nowhere to go

The city’s zoo is going to close in six months’ time if the city council cannot solve the problem of low visitor numbers and lack of money. The zoo manager is worried about the animals at the zoo. ‘If the zoo closed, they wouldn’t be able to go back into their natural habitat. We’d have to find them a new home.’

3 Listen to a conversation between the leader of the city council and the zoo manager. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?
   1 If the zoo doesn’t receive more money, it will close.
   2 Lots of people visit the zoo.
   3 The zoo manager thinks zoos help some animals to survive.
   4 The zoo manager likes the suggestion about advertising.
   5 The zoo manager likes the suggestion about sponsorship.

4 Complete the sentences with these phrases. Then listen again and check.
   But if we don’t ... I’m sorry but that isn’t we can’t ... How about ... What if you why don’t you ... You might 1 _______________ giving us more money?
   2 _______________ the council doesn’t have any more money for the zoo.
   3 _______________ find a solution soon, then we’ll have to close it.
   4 _______________ advertised the zoo more?
   5 But if we don’t have any money, _______________ advertise.
   6 Well, _______________ try sponsorship?
   7 Actually, _______________ a bad idea.
   8 _______________ be right!

12e The Eden Project

Writing an article
1 Read the article about a place called The Eden Project and answer the questions.
1 What can you see at the Eden Project?
2 Why do people visit the Eden Project?

The Eden Project

Since it opened in 2001 in the south-west of England, millions of people have visited the Eden Project and learned about the natural world. It is one of England’s most important tourist destinations.

As soon as you arrive, you see the huge plastic domes called ‘biomes’. The two biggest biomes are the Rainforest Biome and the Mediterranean Biome. The Rainforest Biome has a warm climate, with plants from parts of Asia, Africa and South America. The Mediterranean Biome has over 1,000 different plants from countries around the Mediterranean Sea and from California and South Africa.

In addition to the biomes, the Eden Project also has outdoor gardens with plants and flowers you can use for medicine, fuel and food. There are also art exhibitions, theatre performances, and outdoor concerts throughout the year. Groups of school children regularly visit and there are courses for adults about plants and nature.

So the Eden Project is not just a tourist attraction. It aims to educate people about the importance of plants in our lives and to protect plants which are in danger of disappearing from the Earth.

Writing skill planning an article a Work in pairs. The writer used the Eden Project website to research and plan this article. Think of three more ways to research an article.

b When you plan an article, it’s useful to write questions and organize the information from your research using a mind map. Match the questions (a–f) to the information (1–6) in the mind map.

1 What is the place?
2 Why is it important?
3 When and where did it open?
4 What’s the most interesting thing about the place?
5 What else is there?
6 Who visits it?

1 the introduction (paragraph 1)
2 paragraph 2
3 paragraph 3
4 the conclusion (paragraph 4)

Plan and write an article about a place you know or would like to visit. Write 120–140 words. Follow these steps.
1 Decide where you can research the information.
2 Write questions you want to answer and find the information.
3 Plan the article with a mind map. Write the questions and information on your mind map.
4 Decide which information will go in which paragraph.
5 Write the article using the mind map.

UNIT 1a Exercise 3, page 10

How well do you sleep?

 Mostly A answers:
The average human needs around eight hours of sleep per night. You probably get this because you usually sleep very well. You have regular routines and you are hardly ever tired.

 Mostly B answers:
You sleep fairly well. Maybe you wake up once or twice a night and that’s normal. But you have a busy life, so you need extra hours in bed. Try to go to bed early during the week and sleep an extra hour at the weekend.

 Mostly C answers:
You work hard and get home late, and sometimes work in the evening at home, so you probably don’t get the sleep you need. Try to relax in the evening and go to bed early.

We use the present simple:
- to talk about habits and routines.
  I play tennis every week.
- to talk about things that are always true.
  Sleep is really important for health.

Form
We form the present simple with the infinitive form of the verb. To make negative sentences, we add don’t before the verb. To make questions, we add do before the subject.
After he, she, it, etc. we add -s to the verb. We use doesn’t in negative sentences, and does in questions.

Position
Frequency adverbs and expressions of frequency go in different places in a sentence.
- Adverbs of frequency go before the main verb, but after the verb to be.
  They never go out.
  She’s always out at the weekend.
  I don’t often do sport.
- Expressions of frequency normally go at the beginning or end of a sentence.
  I go out with friends three or four times a week.
  Once a week, I go for a run.

Exercises 2 and 3

Present continuous

Use
We use the present simple to talk about things we do or that happen regularly. We use the present continuous to talk about something in progress in the present. This can be:
- something actually in progress at this moment.
  I can’t answer the phone because I’m driving.
- something happening around now, but not necessarily at this moment.
  I’m looking for a new job.
- a changing situation.
  More and more people are changing their diet.

Form
We form the present continuous with be + verb + -ing.

Some verbs describe states (for example, agree, believe, hate, know, like, love, prefer, want). We don’t use these verbs with the continuous.

He’s owning a really nice car.
He owns a really nice car.

Exercises 4, 5 and 6
Exercises

1 Complete the sentences with the present simple form of the verbs in brackets.

1. Sam ________ (not live) near me.

Exercises 1, 2 and 3

-ing form

We use the -ing form of a verb after be to form the present or past continuous:

- I’m getting ready to go out.
- I was watching a film.

However, we also use the -ing form in some other ways.

-ing form as the subject of a sentence

We can make a verb the subject of a sentence. When we do this, we usually use the -ing form.

Playing sport is great for your health.

-ing form after prepositions

When a verb comes after a preposition, it is always in the -ing form.

- I’m not very good at swimming.

-ing form after some verbs

We sometimes put two verbs together in a sentence.

The form of the second verb depends on the first verb. After the verbs like, dislike, love, hate, can’t stand, enjoy and don’t mind, the second verb is in the -ing form.

Jan loves watching sport.

I don’t mind running in the cold.

Exercises 4 and 5
Exercises

1 Match the rules (1–6) with the meanings (a–c). a  Do this.
   b  Don’t do this.
   c  This is allowed.
   1 You must wear your seat belt in a car.
   2 You can’t hit the ball with your hand in football.
   3 Boxers have to wear special gloves.
   4 You can walk in a marathon.
   5 The students can’t use their mobile phones during the exam.
   6 We can take photos during the tennis match.

2 Choose the correct form to complete the sentences. In one case, both answers are possible.
   1 You must / don’t have to kick the ball when you play basketball. You can only use your hands.
   2 We must / don’t have to go to the football game. We can watch it on television.
   3 If the fire alarm rings, you must / don’t have to go straight outside. It’s important to be quick.
   4 In many countries, you must / mustn’t wait until you are 18 to drive. It’s not possible if you’re younger.
   5 Visitors must / have to go to reception when they arrive.
   6 You don’t have to / mustn’t come tonight. Stay at home if you prefer.

3 Choose the correct options to complete the email.
   How are you? I’m doing well. You asked me in your email about the gym I go to, so here’s some information for you. You have to / must pay for a whole month – you don’t have to / can’t pay for one visit. When you pay, they give you a gym card. You don’t have to / mustn’t forget this card because you need it to get in the gym.

   I like to use the bikes in the gym. I usually cycle for about an hour, but when there are a lot of people, you can’t / mustn’t use the bikes for a long time. I also do a yoga class once or twice a week. You don’t have to / mustn’t book before, so I usually decide when I arrive. One last thing – you have to / can’t remember to bring a towel with you because the gym doesn’t give them to you.

   Why don’t you come with me to the gym next week? I can show you everything. Let me know!

4 Complete the sentences with the -ing form of a verb from the box.
   do  fail  play  help  watch  wake up  read

   1 She’s really good at _________ the piano.
   2 I don’t like _________ TV – it’s so boring!
   3 _________ exercise is very good for your health.
   4 He hates _________ early at the weekends.
   5 I’m worried about _________ my exam.
   6 _________ a book is a great way to pass the time on a train.
   7 Thank you for _________ me with my work.

5 Choose the correct form to complete the dialogue.
   A: Why are you cleaning / clean the house?
   B: It’s dirty. Why?
   A: It’s such a nice day – why don’t we doing / do something outside? Staying / Stay at home is so boring.
   B: OK. What do you think about go / going for a run?
   A: I hate run / running!
   B: OK, how about going / go for a walk in the mountains?
   A: That’s a good idea. We could taking / take a picnic with us.
   B: Great! I love cat / eating outside on a sunny day.
   A: Good – you can making / make the picnic for us, then!
Comparatives and superlatives

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For most one-syllable adjectives, we add -er to form the comparative and we add -est to form the superlative.

- fast → faster / fastest
- old → older / oldest

For most adjectives that have two syllables or more, we use more + adjective to form the comparative and we use most + adjective to form the superlative.

- useful → more useful / most useful
- expensive → more expensive / most expensive

For some two-syllable adjectives (often adjectives that end in -y, -le, -ow and -er), we can either use -er or more to form the comparative, and -est or most to form the superlative. We sometimes use one form more than the other (e.g. narrower is more common than more narrow, whereas friendlier and more friendly are both common).

- friendly → friendlier or more friendly
- simple → simpler or more simple
- narrow → narrower or more narrow

Spelling rules

Note the following spelling rules when adding -er or -est to adjectives.

- For adjectives that end in -e, we just add -r or -st.
  - nice → nicer / nicest
- For adjectives that end in -y, we change the y to i and add -er or -est.
  - busy → busier / busiest
- For one-syllable adjectives that end in consonant-vowel-consonant, we generally double the final consonant.
  - big → bigger / biggest
  - wet → wetter / wettest

However, we do not double w, x or y.

- slow → slower / slowest

Irregular forms

There are three common irregular adjectives.

- good → better / best
- bad → worse / worst
- far → further or farther / furthest or the farthest

Less and the least

To make a negative comparison, we use less + adjective to form the comparative and the least + adjective to form the superlative.

- fun → less fun / least fun
- popular → less popular / least popular

Use

We use comparative adjectives to compare things. We often use it with than.

- A taxi will be quicker than a bus.
- We could get a bus, but a taxi will be quicker.
- This one's more expensive than the others.
- They're less popular than they used to be.

We use superlative adjectives to compare one thing with other things in a group. We usually use the before a superlative.

- What's the easiest way to get to the town centre?
- We can also use a possessive form (the company's, New York's, my, etc.) and words such as the second, the third, the next, etc.
  - Waterloo is London's busiest underground station and King's Cross is the second busiest.

Exercises 1 and 2

as ... as

We use as + adjective + as to say things are the same.

- Cycling there is as quick as going by bus.
- It's as old as I am.

To say things are not the same, we use not as + adjective + as. The thing we mention first is smaller or less busy / heavy, etc.

- The UK is not as big as Italy.
- The town isn't as busy as it used to be.

Exercises 3 and 4

Comparative modifiers

We use comparative modifiers when we say there is a big or small difference between things that we are comparing.

To say there is a big difference, we can use a lot or much.

To say there is a small difference, we can use a bit or a little.

- Public transport is much more expensive than it used to be.
- Lucy's house is a bit nearer than Sue's.
  - We usually fly from Manchester if possible – Heathrow is a lot less convenient.

GRAMMAR SUMMARY

UNIT 4

Past simple

Use
We use the past simple to talk about finished actions, events or situations in the past.

I visited the Taj Mahal last year.
We saw a great film at the weekend.

Form
Past simple forms can be regular or irregular.

• We form the past simple of regular verbs by adding -ed to the infinitive form.
  want → wanted look → looked

• If the verb ends in -e, we just add -d:
  like → liked hope → hoped

• We form the past simple of verbs ending in consonant + -y by changing -y to -ied.
  study → studied try → tried

• We don’t form the past simple of irregular verbs with -ed.
  go → went hear → heard see → saw

For a list of common irregular past simple forms, see page 180.

To form negatives in the past simple, we use didn’t + infinitive.

</table>

The verb be is different from other verbs. Its past simple form is was or were. We don’t use did to form negatives.

► Exercises 1 and 2

Past simple questions
We make questions in the past simple with did + infinitive.

Why did you choose to visit Turkey?
Did she have fun on holiday?

When we make questions in the past simple with the verb be, we use was and were. We do not add did.

Were you tired after your trip?
Where was your hotel?

► Exercise 3

Past continuous and past simple

Use
We use the past continuous to talk about an action in progress at a moment in the past.

I was watching TV at eight o’clock last night.
Tony was living in Madrid in 2015.

Form
We form the past continuous with was/were and the -ing form of the main verb.

We often use the past continuous and the past simple together. We use the past continuous for a longer, continuing activity and the past simple for a shorter, finished action.

phone rang now |

Jack was watching a movie when his phone rang.
I met my husband when I was travelling around India.

We often use when and while to join the two parts of a sentence with past continuous and past simple together. We use when before a past simple or a past continuous verb. We normally only use while with a past continuous verb.

I met Matteo when I was studying at university.
Someone stole my camera while I was eating in a restaurant.

When we use when with the past simple, it can also mean ‘after’.

I called Sylvia when I read her message.

If the part of the sentence with when or while comes first, we put a comma after it.

When I met Matteo, I was studying at university.

Remember that we don’t use verbs that describe states (e.g. believe, like, love, prefer) with a continuous tense.

GRAMMAR SUMMARY

UNIT 5

Quantifiers
We use quantifiers with nouns to talk about quantity. The choice of quantifier depends on:

- if the noun is countable or uncountable.
- if we are talking about small or large quantities.

Some nouns are countable. This means they can become plural, for example computer, bag, box, magazine. Other nouns are uncountable. This means they cannot normally become plural, for example rubbish, plastic, paper, metal.

<table>
<thead>

</table>

We use a lot of or lots of with countable and uncountable nouns to talk about large quantities. The meaning of a lot of and lots of is the same.

There was a lot of rubbish on the streets after the party.
We have lots of great shops in my neighbourhood.

We use some with both countable and uncountable nouns. It does not refer to a specific amount – we use it to talk about quantities that are not large and are not small.

I found some really useful books in the library.
(\(=\) not a lot)

In more formal English, we use many + plural noun to talk about large quantities.

There are many interesting places to visit in the city.

We also use many and much in questions.

Are there many good shops where you live?
Do you have much free time?

We don't normally use many and much in affirmative sentences in spoken English. We use a lot of or lots of instead.

We use not much and not many to talk about small quantities. We use not much with uncountable nouns and not many with plural countable nouns.

There weren't many people at the party.
They don't have much money.

Note that not always goes with the verb in the sentence.

We also use a few and a little to talk about small quantities. We use a few with plural countable nouns and a little with uncountable nouns:

I have a few really good friends.
There's a little milk in the bottle.

We use not any with countable and uncountable nouns to talk about zero quantity (when there is nothing).

I don't have any money.
There weren't any shops open when we arrived.

Note that not always goes with the verb in the sentence.

We also use any with countable and uncountable nouns to ask questions:

Are there any good beaches in the area?
Do you have any orange juice?

Exercises 1, 2 and 3

Articles (a/an, the or no article)

We use a/an:

- to talk about something that isn't specific.
  Have you got a pen? (not a particular pen)
- the first time we mention something.
  I saw a beautiful painting in the museum.

We use the:

- the second time we mention something.
  A man and a woman were waiting for us at the airport.
  The man helped us with our suitcases.
- when something is unique.
  The sun looked really beautiful from the top of the mountain.
- with superlatives.
  It was the best holiday of my life.
- with the names of some places, such as oceans (e.g. the Atlantic Ocean), deserts (e.g. the Sahara Desert) and mountain ranges (e.g. the Himalayas).

We use no article:

- to talk about plural or uncountable nouns in general.
  I never stay in (-) hotels because they're so expensive.
  (-) Tourism brings a lot of money to the area.
- the names of most places, for example the names of continents, countries, cities and lakes.

to + infinitive
We use the to + infinitive form of the verb in different situations.

verb + to + infinitive
Sometimes, two verbs appear together in a sentence. The form of the second verb depends on the first verb. After many verbs (e.g. decide, help, hope, intend, learn, need, plan, pretend, promise, want, would like) the second verb has the form to + infinitive.

I need to go to the shops.
We decided to move abroad.

adjective + to + infinitive
When a verb appears after an adjective, it often has the form to + infinitive:
It's exciting to visit new places.
It's nice to see you again.

► Exercise 1

infinitive explaining the purpose of an action
We also use the to + infinitive form to say why we do something.

I went to the library to look for a book.
She's going to Paris to visit a friend.

We don't use for + verb to give reasons.

I called Jan to invite her to my party.
I called Jan to invite her to my party.

Note that the negative of to + infinitive is not to + infinitive.

I promise not to do that again.
It's important not to work too hard.

See Unit 2 for when we use the -ing form of the verb.

► Exercises 2 and 3

future forms

Present continuous
We use the present continuous to talk about a fixed arrangement in the future, for example when we have agreed something with other people or when we have already spent money. We normally mention a specific time.

We're getting the train at 11.20 a.m.
I'm going to the theatre with Michele tonight.

be going to
We use be going to + infinitive to talk about general plans and intentions.

I'm going to travel around Asia this summer.
We're going to go to the cinema this weekend.

We form questions and negatives with going to in the same way as in the present continuous.

I'm not going to have time to see you.
Are you going to drive to the party?

will
We use will + infinitive (without to) when we make a decision while we're speaking.

A: What can I bring you?
B: I'll have the tuna salad, please.

We also use will to make promises and offers.

We'll meet you at the train station.
I'll pay for your ticket.

   a I made an appointment at a gym for this Friday at 10 a.m.
   b This is my idea, but I haven’t organised anything yet.
Present perfect and past simple

Present perfect: form
We form the present perfect with have/has + past participle.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I/you/we/they</th>
<th>-</th>
<th>-</th>
<th>-</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I've arrived</td>
<td>They haven't arrived</td>
<td>Have you arrived?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>have/has</td>
<td>hasn't been arrived</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Regular past participles end in -ed and are the same as regular past simple forms (e.g. change - changed, live - lived).

Many past participles are irregular. Some irregular past participles are the same as the irregular past simple form:

- make (infinitive), made (past simple), made (past participle)
- write (infinitive), wrote (past simple), written (past participle)

Other irregular past participles are different from the irregular past simple form:

We use the present perfect:

- to talk about events and experiences, when we don’t know when something happened, or we don’t say because it’s not important.
  I've visited over fifty countries.
  He's written some really important books.

- to ask about people’s experiences, using ever.
  Have you ever worked abroad?
  Has Jeanne ever seen this film?

- for something that started in the past and continues now.
  I've always loved working with numbers. (= I loved it in the past, and I still love it.)

We use the past simple when we know the exact time something happened:

- I saw Max this morning.
- I visited our Los Angeles office last year.

When we have conversations about experiences in our life, we often start with the present perfect to talk about the experience in general, and then use the past simple to give details.

A: Have you ever been skiing?
B: Yes, I have. I tried it in California last year.

Present perfect with for and since
We use the present perfect with for and since to talk about a situation that started in the past and continues now.

We use for with a period of time.
I've worked here for three years.

We use since with a point in time (when the situation started).
I've known Taylor since 2005.

We never use from with present perfect in this way.
I've lived in Manchester from six months.
I've lived in Manchester for six months.

Exercise 4

Prepositions of place and movement
Prepositions can tell us where something or someone is or the direction something or someone moves.

Prepositions of place at in above under below opposite between in front behind next to near on of

We use at to talk about where we work, live and study:

- at home, at work, at school, at university.
- We use in with towns, cities, countries and continents: in London, in Mexico, in Asia.
- We use on to say where on a road places are: The bank is on the left. My house is on the right.
- We also use on with floors in a building: on the first floor, on the second floor.

Exercise 5

Prepositions of movement
We use prepositions of movement after a verb that describes a movement (e.g. go, come, walk, climb) down up out of inside outside past through along across

Oh, my building is 5. __________ two amazing restaurants – on the right, there’s a great Greek restaurant, and on the left there’s a really good Mexican place. I’m also really 6. __________ the metro station, so I can get to work really quickly.

6. Look at the map and choose the correct preposition to complete the directions.

   Everyone in the office is really looking forward to meeting you. Here are the directions you asked for. First, go 1. out of / down the railway station, and then turn right. Go 2. past / across the bridge and then walk 3. along / outside Bridge Street for about three minutes. Go 4. past / through the bank and the post office, then turn left and walk 5. through / along the park. The building is opposite the park gates. Walk 6. inside / up the steps and you’ve arrived! Call me when you’re there and I’ll come 7. out of / outside to meet you.
GRAMMAR SUMMARY UNIT 8

Zero and first conditional

Zero conditional
We use the zero conditional to talk about things that are generally true. The form is:
- If + present simple + present simple
  - If there’s important news, everyone on Twitter talks about it.
- If I get an email, I don’t always read it straight away.
- If the weather’s bad, do you still cycle to work?

We can also use when instead of if. The meaning is the same.

► Exercise 1

First conditional
We use the first conditional to talk about a possible future situation. The form is:
- If + present simple + will/won’t
  - If I hear something about the job, I’ll send you a message.
  - If you don’t read my blog, you won’t hear all my news.

Note: we never use a future form in the if clause.
- If it will rain at the weekend, we’ll stay at home.
- If it rains at the weekend, we’ll stay at home.

Order in conditional sentences
Conditional sentences have two parts: the if clause and the main clause. The main clause describes the result of the situation in the if clause.
- If clause, we’ll stay at home.
    - If it rains, we’ll stay at home.

We can put the if clause first or the main clause first. When the if clause comes first, we put a comma before the main clause. When the if clause comes second, we don’t need a comma.

We’ll stay at home if it rains.

► Exercises 2 and 3

Defining relative clauses

Defining relative clauses give essential information about a person, thing or place. They say exactly which person, thing or place we are talking about.
- Look at the box that’s on the table. (the relative clause tells us exactly which box)
- He’s the scientist who was on the TV news yesterday. (the relative clause tells us exactly which scientist)

Form
To make a relative clause, we add a relative pronoun after a noun. The choice of relative pronoun depends on the type of noun:
- for a relative clause about a person, use who:
  - That’s the woman who we saw yesterday.
- for a relative clause about a thing, use which:
  - Did you get the message which I sent you?
- for a relative clause about a place, use where:
  - This is the place where they made the first battery.

We can also use that instead of who or which (but not where).
- She’s the artist that I told you about.
  - I’d love to have a machine that can cook dinner while I’m at work.

The relative pronouns which, who and that can be the subject or the object of a relative clause. If it is the subject, we don’t need another subject:
- This is an invention that it could change the world!

If it is the object, we don’t need another object:
- Did I tell you about the film that I saw it last week?

► Exercises 4, 5 and 6
Exercises

4 We liked the chocolate _________ you bought us.
5 I got this present from the old lady _________ lives on our street.
6 This is the café _________ I first met my wife.
7 Can you see the cat _________ is lying on top of the car?

4b Tick the sentences in 4a in which that can be used as a relative pronoun.

5 Correct the mistakes in these sentences. Two sentences are correct.

1 They have a daughter who is a doctor.
2 This is the house that I want to buy it.
3 She bought the car who she saw last week.
4 Look! That's the friend which I was talking about yesterday.
5 Those are the students they are looking for a flat.
6 I watched the documentary that was on TV yesterday evening.
7 He didn't see the person who he took his wallet.

6 Complete the text with the phrases below and who, which, that or where.

a I didn't want to be friends with again
b lived next door to me
c she gave me for my eight birthday d we always played together
e we did together
f you haven't seen for a long time

Facebook is a fantastic way to find old friends 1 . When I was a small girl, I was best friends with Elena, the girl 2 . I have a lot of memories of the things 3 and I still have the doll 4 ! When I joined Facebook, I wasn't sure about it at first. There were a lot of people 5 . But one day I saw that Elena wanted to be friends with me. We started chatting online and after a few months we agreed to meet – in the park 6 when we were children. It was so nice to see her and to be friends again. And it's all thanks to Facebook!
Past perfect simple

Form
We form the past perfect simple with had + past participle. See page 180 for a list of irregular past participles.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>+</th>
<th>-</th>
<th>?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I/you/we/they</td>
<td>had arrived.</td>
<td>They hadn’t arrived.</td>
<td>Had you arrived?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>he/she/it</td>
<td>He had arrived.</td>
<td>She hadn’t arrived.</td>
<td>Had it arrived?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In spoken English and informal written English, we use ‘d instead of had, especially after pronouns.
I’d already seen her.

Use
We use the past perfect simple when we need to make it clear that one past action happened before another past action. For the action that happened first, we use the past perfect. For the action that happened second, we use the past simple.

When we arrived at the airport, the plane had left.

plane leaves — we arrive at the airport — now

We only use the past perfect when we need to make it clear which action happened first. If the order is obvious, we just use the past simple for all the actions.

When I got to the station, I bought a ticket and waited for the train. (all past simple)

We often use linking words and phrases like but, because, so and as soon as to link past simple with past perfect sentences.

I’d booked the hotel months before, but when I got there they said they were full.
I was tired because I’d been at work all day.
It had rained all night so the roads were very wet.
The children ran outside as soon as the sun had come out.

Subject questions

Other questions
We can use questions to ask about different things, for example time, places, things, or reasons:
When did you visit Brazil? (asking about a time)
Where are you staying? (asking about a place)
What are you eating? (asking about a thing)
Why didn’t you like the hotel? (asking about a reason)

To form most questions, we put an auxiliary verb before the subject. To form present simple questions, we need to add the auxiliary verb do or does. To form past simple questions, we need to add the auxiliary verb did.

Subject questions
We can also use questions to ask about the subject of a sentence:
Who lives here? (Answer: Katrin lives here.)

Who likes the food? (Answer: We all like the food.)

The grammar in subject questions is different from other questions. In subject questions:
• the word order is the same as a statement and the question word replaces the subject:
  Gheorghe lives here. Who lives here?
  • we do not use the auxiliary verb do or did
  Who wants a coffee?
  Who wants a coffee?

Exercise 4
We often ask subject questions using who, which, what, and how many.
Who put this suitcase here?
Which hotel has the best prices?
What caused the delay?
How many people came to the party?

Exercises 5 and 6
Exercises

1 Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–8) with the endings (a–h).

1 As soon as the rain had stopped,
2 When I got home,
3 He checked his phone,
4 She was so happy
5 She realized she'd forgotten to bring any money,
6 They told him to get off the train
7 I arrived late at work
8 Sarah had had an argument with her best friend,

a because he hadn't bought a ticket.
b so she was very upset.
c because she'd passed her exam.
d but the message still hadn't arrived.
e because I'd had a problem with my car.
f I realized I had forgotten my door key.
g so she needed to go home and get some.
h we went for a walk.

2 Complete the text with the past perfect of these verbs.

ask buy not check happen spend think try

I decided to have a holiday with a difference last summer – I stayed at home for a week! Why? Well, just my first home and I didn't have any money. I did lots of different things during my holiday. I went to a museum and learnt about the local history – I didn't know that so many interesting things 2 where I live. One evening, some friends came to my new house for a barbecue. I 5 everyone to bring something to eat and it was great! Another day, I went to my local swimming pool for the first time. I 6 always looked a bit old and dirty, but it was really nice inside. Most nights I ate at local restaurants. There were some excellent places – I 5 never Ethiopian food before. The only bad day was when I decided to go walking in the local countryside. I 6 the weather and it rained all day! At the end of the week, I felt really relaxed. And I 7 much less money than I normally do on a holiday. I might even do it again next year!

3 Complete the sentences with these pairs of verbs. Use one past simple form and one past perfect form in each sentence.

call + receive feel + forget not go + see say + help sleep + feel study + fail

1 I ________ to the cinema with my friends because I ________ already ________ the film.

4 Tick the subject questions.

1 Who wrote this message?
2 Where did you buy this?
3 What did she tell you?
4 How many people live here?
5 Who wrote this song?
6 Why didn't you come?
7 Who called you earlier?
8 When did it happen?

5 Put words in order in order to make subject questions.

1 put / bag / here / who / this
2 which / best / computer / works
3 my / broke / glasses / who 4 speaks / French / who
5 work / how / many / people / here
6 the / won / who / race

6 Write questions about the underlined words in each sentence. Some are subject questions.

1 I went to Spain last year.

2 Kate's behaviour made me really angry.

3 270 people live in this building.

4 I went outside to get some fresh air.

5 Isabella left her coat here.

6 Julia has spoken to Paolo today.
The passive (present simple, past simple)

Active vs. passive
Verbs in English can be active or passive. We normally use the active form when the focus of the sentence is on the ‘agent’ – the person or thing that does an action.

Apple produced the first Macbook in 2006.
My father built this house in 2004.

When we use the passive, a sentence isn’t about the ‘agent’ any more.

The first Macbook was produced in 2006.
This house was built in 2004.

The focus of the first sentence here is ‘the first Macbook’, not the company that produced it. The focus of the second sentence is ‘this house’, not the person who built it.

Form
When we use the passive, the object of the active sentence becomes the subject of the passive sentence.

People all over the world love Rihanna’s music.

Rihanna’s music is loved by people all over the world.

We form the passive with the verb be and the past participle of the main verb. We can use the passive in affirmative sentences, negative sentences and in questions. The form of be shows the tense.

▶ Exercises 1 and 2

Common uses of the passive
We often use the passive voice when it’s obvious or not important who does an action.

Millions of smartphones are sold every year.
(obviously shops sell smartphones)

by
We can use by + noun to say who does or did the action in a sentence with a passive verb.

Facebook was created by Mark Zuckerberg.

When we do this, we make this information sound new or important.

▶ Exercises 3 and 4

used to

Use
We use used to to talk about habits or situations in the past that are not true now.

I used to live in California but now I live in New York.
I used to go to concerts often, but now I don’t have time.

We don’t use used to to talk about single actions at a specific time in the past. We use past simple instead.

I used to hear a really good song on the radio yesterday.
I heard a really good song on the radio yesterday.

▶ Exercise 5

Form
Used to is always followed by the infinitive. We use the same form for all persons (I, you, he/she/it etc.) In negatives and questions, we use the form use to not used to.

+ I used to love rock music.
- I didn’t use to like listening to music at work.
? Did you use to own a Walkman?

There is no present form of used to. To talk about habits in the present, we use the present simple with usually.

I use to go to the gym twice a week.
I usually go to the gym twice a week.

▶ Exercises 6 and 7
Exercises

1. Read the sentences. Say if each one is active (A) or passive (P).
   1. Most people recognize the Coca Cola logo. A

Most tablets 6 are bought / are buying for games, photos and the internet, but tablets are also 7 found / find in schools, universities and workplaces around the world.

5. Change the past simple verbs in the sentences to a form with use(d) to + infinitive when possible. Tick the sentences that cannot be changed.
   1. I took guitar lessons every week when I was younger. *
   2. Did you see Jack at the concert? *
   3. I took two really good photos this morning. *
   4. I didn’t like going to the cinema when I was young. *
   5. I played guitar in a band when I was at university. *
   6. I didn’t enjoy the food last night. *
   7. Did you like football when you were younger? *
   8. I met a really famous musician last year. *

6. Look at the pictures. Write affirmative and negative sentences about Tony when he was a teenager with a form of use(d) to and the prompts.

When Tony was a teenager, he ...

1. listen / to music / on CDs
2. have / a smartphone
3. buy / CDs
4. own / a car
5. use / a skateboard
6. wear / glasses
7. be / a student
8. wear / a suit

7. Complete the blog post with the correct form of use(d) to and a verb from the box.

be / get up / go out / have own / play / practise

Well, it’s six months since I started my job. Life is so different now. When I was at university, I 1 early – never before 9.30 a.m. Now I have to be at work at 9 a.m. I 2 with friends a few times a week, but I’m always too tired after work now. I also 3 the saxophone in a band – we 4 two afternoons a week, but I can’t do that any more!

Of course, it’s not all bad. I 5 much money when I was a student. I 6 a really cheap mobile phone, but now I’ve got a smartphone. What about you? How 7 your life different before you started working?
Reported speech

When we want to say what another person said, we can use direct speech. This means we try to use exactly the words the person said.

Mike said, 'I'll see you tomorrow.'

We can also use reported speech.

Mike said that he'd see me tomorrow.

When we use reported speech, we normally change the verb forms.

- present simple becomes past simple:
  'I live in Brighton.' → She said she lived in Brighton.

- present continuous becomes past continuous:
  'I'm waiting for the bus.' → Julie said she was waiting for the bus.

- present perfect becomes past perfect:
  'We've seen this film before.' → They said they'd seen this film before.

- past simple becomes past perfect:
  'I passed my exam.' → He said he'd passed his exam.

- will becomes would:
  'I'll help you.' → Mike said he'd (= would) help me.

▶ Exercise 1

We often also need to make changes to other words, like pronouns and possessive forms, in reported speech.

'I love you.' → He said he loved me.

This is my Xbox.' → He said this was his Xbox.

We live here.' → They said they lived there.

*‘I'll see you tomorrow.’ →
He said he'd see me the next day.*

▶ Exercises 2, 3 and 4

Reporting verbs (say and tell)

We use both say and tell to report another person’s words. We normally use say and tell in the past simple.

With tell, we always use an object before the reported speech. The object is often a pronoun.

Sam told me he wanted to come.

Clara told Simon she would be late.

With say, we never use an object before the reported speech.

He said me that he was really happy.

After both say and tell, we can use that but it is not necessary.

I said (that) he had won the game.

They told us (that) we needed to leave.

▶ Exercises 5 and 6
Exercises

1 Choose the correct option to complete the reported speech.

1 ‘I’ll have the pasta.’
   She said she would have / will had the pasta.
2 ‘I’m playing a game.’
   He said he was playing / had played a game.
3 ‘I really don’t like this film.’
   She said she really wasn’t liking / didn’t like the film.
4 ‘I’ve visited Canada twice.’
   She said she visited / had visited Canada twice.
5 ‘I lost my phone.’
   He said he lost / he’d lost his phone.

2 Complete the reported speech with these words and phrases.

his me the day before the next day then there they

1 ‘I want to go there tomorrow.’ → She said she wanted to go there
2 ‘It’s my new car.’ → He said it was new car.
3 ‘We love this restaurant.’ → They said loved that restaurant.
4 ‘We live here.’ → They said they lived
  ...
5 ‘I’ll help you.’ → He said he’d help
6 ‘I’m at home now.’ → She said she was at home
7 ‘We missed our flight.’ → They said they’d missed flight.
8 ‘We went there yesterday.’ → They said they’d gone there

3 Complete the direct speech.

1 She said Mike had already left.
   ‘Mike
   ____________.’
2 Sally said she’d help me with my work.
   ‘I help you with your work.’
3 Greta said she didn’t speak Portuguese.
   ‘I Portuguese.’
4 Martin said it had been cold the day before.
   ‘It cold yesterday.’
5 Fatima said she was arriving at 9 p.m.
   ‘I at 9 p.m.’

4 Look at these sentences and complete the reported speech.

1 ‘I lost the match.’
   Jan said
2 ‘I’ll see you tomorrow.’
   She said
3 ‘Your email hasn’t arrived.’
   Mehmet said
4 ‘I don’t want to speak to you.’
   He said
5 ‘I’m trying to watch the TV.’
   Luke said

5 Three of these sentences are incorrect. Correct the sentences by adding or deleting a word.

1 He told that he was really tired.
2 Laura said the food was good.
3 She said me that she needed my help.
4 Stephen told me that he had got the job.
5 He said that he would fix my computer.
6 Anna told she was working today.

6 Read the dialogue. Then complete the sentences
   (1–5) with reported speech.

John: I’ve found something interesting.
Jack: You’re holding an ancient Greek vase!
John: It’s really beautiful.
Jack: It was probably lost in the sea for thousands of years.
John: I’ll call the museum right away!

1 John said
2 Jack told
3 John said
4 Jack said
5 John told
Second conditional

We use the second conditional to talk about impossible or unlikely situations in the present or future. The form is:
If + past simple + would + verb
If I had enough money, I would love to visit the USA.
What would you do if you saw a tornado?

In spoken English and informal written English, we use 'd instead of would, especially after pronouns.
Note: we never put would in the if clause. We always use a past tense.
If I had more time, I'd go out more.
If I had more time, I'd go out more.

When the main clause comes before the if clause, we don't add a comma between the two clauses.

► Exercises 1, 2 and 3

anywhere, everyone, nobody, something, etc.

Words like anywhere, everyone, nobody and something are 'indefinite pronouns'. They can end in -where, -one, -body, or -thing. We use pronouns ending in:
- -where to talk about places.
- -one or -body to talk about people (there is no difference in meaning).
- -thing to talk about objects.

Positive meaning

We use everywhere, everyone/everybody, or everything to talk about all places, people or objects.
I think that everywhere in Spain is beautiful.
Everybody can do more to help the environment.
Everything in the shop was really expensive.

We use somewhere, someone/somebody, or something to talk about places, people or objects without being specific.
We need to find somewhere to eat. (= It's not important where.)
Somebody told me about this place.
I think something's moving in the forest.

Negative meaning

We use nowhere, no one/nobody and nothing to say there is no place, no people or no things.
I found nowhere to sit on the train.
We saw nobody in the mountains all day.
There's nothing interesting to do in my city.

We also use anywhere, anybody/anyone and anything with a negative verb (e.g. isn't, haven't, don't want) for the same meaning.
I didn't find anywhere to sit on the train.
We didn't see anybody in the mountains all day.
There isn't anything interesting to do in my city.

Note that anything, anyone/anybody and anywhere don't have a negative meaning without a negative verb.
Who lives in this old house?
Nobody. It's empty.

In questions

We use anywhere, anyone, anybody or anything to ask general questions.
Is there anywhere to park near here?
Can anybody help me?
Did you see anything interesting in the park?
We use something, someone, somebody and somewhere in questions when we make offers.
Would you like something to eat?
Do you want me to ask somebody to help you?
Would you like to go somewhere quieter?

► Exercises 4, 5 and 6
Exercises

1. Complete the first and second conditional sentences with the correct form of the verb.
   1. If it rains, all the clothes will / would get wet.

Unit 1

P = patient, D = doctor

1
D: Good morning. So what's the problem?
P: I've got earache in this ear. It's really painful.
D: Let me have a look. ... ah ... yes, it's very red in there.
What about the other one?
P: It feels fine.
D: Hmm. It's a bit red as well. Do you feel sick at all?
P: No, not really.
D: Let me check your temperature. ... Yes, it's higher than normal. OK, I'll give you something for your earache. You need to take one of these pills twice a day for seven days. They might make you sleepy so go to bed if you have to. And if you still feel ill, then come back and see me again.

Unit 2

An Ironman competition has three different races. In the swimming race, the competitors swim for 3.86 kilometres. Then they cycle for 180 kilometres, and finally they run a marathon at the end. The world final of the Ironman Championship is in Hawaii and it's very competitive. Every year, around 1,900 people compete against each other in front of thousands of spectators.

Learning to win and lose is important in a child's education because it teaches you about life. So I think competitive sports in schools are good for teaching children. They're also good for their physical health, because when children try to win, they work harder and get more exercise. The other good thing about competitive sports is that you learn to work well in teams when you play in matches. Competitions are a great lesson in teamwork.

Some children aren't good at sport, so when school sports are competitive, they always lose. That's really bad for the child. The fact is that not all children are the same and some children don't like doing sport. I think schools in my country should be more like the schools in Finland. They get good results but they aren't competitive and they don't have competitive sports either. So when a child can't do a sport very well, that's OK as long as they do their best and try hard at everything they do.

We have a sports day at my school and the children love it. Yes, winning is nice for a child, but the whole day is also a lot of fun. So overall I don't think there's a problem with having competitive sports in school - the problem is with some of the mothers and fathers. Some parents hate losing and they get very competitive. When there's a race or a match some of them shout at their kids. They think it's the Olympic Games or something!
12
A: What's on TV?
B: Cycling from France. It's the Tour de France. I love watching it.
A: Oh no! I think it's boring!
B: I really enjoy seeing them on the mountains.
A: Sitting in front of the TV all day is not exciting. I'm bored with doing nothing. Are you any good at tennis? We could play this afternoon.
B: But I want to watch this.
A: I see. Are you afraid of losing?

13
1 thing, 2 win, 3 bank, 4 sing, 5 ran, 6 pink

15
A: Hey! Have you seen this?
B: What?
A: This advert. You're really good at doing that.
B: Yes, but I have so much work at the moment, I don't have time.
A: So this is a good way to relax.
B: I can take a good picture of friends and family, but I'm not very creative with it.
A: Alright. Well, what about joining something else? Er, this one! Are you interested in acting?
B: You're joking. I hate standing up in front of people. You're more of a performer than me.
A: Yes, but it's a musical. I'm not very good at singing.
B: Let's have a look at that. But it says here enthusiasm is more important than talent. Go on. I think you'd enjoy it.
A: Mm, well maybe, but I think I'd like to join this on Wednesday evenings.
B: What? You? Do exercise?
A: What do you mean? Anyway, it looks like fun. Why don't you come too?
B: But I can't run!
A: No, but that's the point. There's a beginner's group. You should do it with me.

17
This photo is on a train in Bangladesh. It was the end of Ramadan and lots of people travel home at that time of year. Train tickets sell out quickly, so you often see people riding on top of the trains and the carriages. In this picture the woman is sitting between the carriages because there isn't space on top of the train. It looks a bit dangerous, but she doesn't look very worried.

19
A: Sorry I'm late. Eight thirty in the morning is the worst time for traffic.
B: I know what you mean. My bicycle is faster than your car in the rush hour!
A: I'm sure it is, but I travel further than you. It'd take me hours by bicycle.
B: There's also the cost of petrol. It's so expensive!
A: Tell me about it. In fact, last week I went to look at an electric car.
B: Good idea. They're better for the environment.
A: They're better, but they're also more expensive. In fact, a new electric car is the most expensive type of car.
B: Really? Anyway, what about public transport? Isn't there a bus stop near your house?
A: Yes, but the fastest bus takes over an hour. It stops everywhere!

When we talk about transport, most people think of buses, cars, bicycles and so on. But in some parts of the world, animal transport is as popular as these modern types of transport, and sometimes more popular. Because at certain times of year, animals are the only way to travel. Take the desert for example, with its 50-degree temperatures. Yes, you can cross it in the right vehicles, but for long distances, modern vehicles are not as good as camels. A camel can travel over 40 kilometres per day and go without water for three to five days. Yes, it's slower, and maybe a camel isn't as comfortable as a car. But a camel's big feet make it more reliable in the sand - unlike a car, it doesn't get stuck. Camels are so important in the desert that there are around 160 different ways of saying the word 'camel' in Arabic. In winter, northern Alaska can be as cold as the North Pole. Temperatures go down to minus 50 degrees. Your engine can freeze, and even if your car starts, snow and ice on the road can make driving impossible. When the weather is as bad as this, the only way to travel is by sledge with a team of between six and eight huskies. These famous dogs can pull heavy sledges for hundreds of kilometres. There is even a race for huskies in Alaska called the Iditarod, where large teams of huskies pull sledges over 1,600 kilometres.

24
J = Javier, D = driver
1
J: Hello? Are you the next taxi?
D: Yes, that's right.
J: I'd like to go to the station, please.
D: Bus or train?
J: Oh, sorry. The train station.
D: OK. Get in then.
2
D: There are road works up by the entrance.
J: You can stop here. It's fine. How much is that?
D: Six pounds thirty.
J: Sorry, I only have a twenty-pound note. Do you have change?
D: Sure. So, that's thirteen pounds seventy. Do you want a receipt?
J: No, it's OK, thanks. Bye.
S = Shelley, D = driver

3
S: Hi. Do you stop at the airport?
D: Yeah, I do. Which terminal is it? North or south?
S: Err. I need to get to the north terminal.
D: OK. A single or return ticket?
S: Single, please.
D: That’s two pounds.

J = Javier, T = ticket office clerk

4
J: A return ticket to the airport, please.
T: OK. The next train goes in five minutes.
J: Right. That one, please.
T: First or second class?
J: Second.
T: OK. That’s fourteen pounds fifty.
J: Wow! I don’t think I have the cash.
T: Credit card is fine.
J: Oh, no... maybe I have enough left.
T: OK. Here you are.
J: Which platform is it?
T: Err, platform six.

A = attendant, S = Shelley, J = Javier

5
A: Hello. Can I see your passport?
S: Here you are.
A: That’s OK. How many bags are you checking in?
S: None. I only have this carry on.
A: OK. Window or aisle?
S: Err, I don’t mind, but can I have a seat next to my friend?
A: Has he already checked in?
S: No, I’m waiting for him.
A: Well, I can’t...
J: Shelley!
S: Where have you been?
J: It’s a long story.

Unit 4

29
In May 1985, Joe Simpson and Simon Yates climbed the Siula Grande mountain in the Andes. It’s a dangerous mountain, but Simpson and Yates were very experienced climbers and positive about the challenge. The sun was shining when they left their tents on the first day and everything went well. Three days later, they reached the top of the mountain, but they didn’t stay there long. It was snowing and the weather was getting worse. While they were going down the mountain, Simpson fell and broke his knee. Yates tied a rope between them and slowly lowered Simpson down the mountain with the rope. Sometime later, when they were getting nearer to the bottom of the mountain, Simpson slipped and fell over a cliff. For an hour, Yates held the rope while his friend was hanging in the air. But the rope was getting too heavy and it was pulling Yates off the mountain. Simon Yates had an impossible decision. Either he could hold the rope, but then they might both die, or he could cut the rope and save himself...

(The first part of the story is repeated from track 29.)
... At the last second, Yates cut the rope. The next day, Yates looked for his friend, but couldn’t find him. Sadly, he decided he was dead. But amazingly, Simpson was still alive and he started to crawl towards their camp. Three days later, Yates was sleeping in his tent and planned to go home the next morning. But at midnight he suddenly woke up. Someone was shouting his name. He ran outside and looked everywhere. Finally, he found Simpson on the ground. He wasn’t moving, but he was still breathing. Yates carried him to the tent and Simpson survived. Later, their story became famous as a book and a film.

31
1. I was working on my own when a group of people came in to my office.
2. We met them when they were living above our apartment.
3. They weren’t getting on very well, so the team agreed to have a meeting.
4. The weather was cold this morning but it wasn’t raining so I cycled to work.

33
A: Hi Mark. How was your camping trip?
B: It was great in the end, but we had a terrible time at the beginning.
A: Why?
B: First, we left the house late, and then after only half an hour the car broke down.
A: Oh no! What did you do?
B: Fortunately, there was a garage nearby and the mechanic fixed the problem. But when we arrived at the forest, it was getting dark. After we drove around for about an hour, we finally found the campsite, but it was completely dark by then. And it was raining!
A: Really? So what happened?
B: We found a nice, warm hotel down the road.
A: That was lucky!
B: Yes, it was a great hotel and in the end we stayed there for the whole weekend.
A: Sounds great!
Unit 5

Every day we throw away objects such as wood, old household appliances, and glass bottles. But an artist from Uruguay called Jaime built a house made from these types of objects. The house is in Brazil and it has a bedroom, a kitchen, and a bathroom. There are shelves made from trees and old wood and there’s lots of light. That’s because Jaime used coloured glass from bottles in the walls. When people visit the house, Jaime wants them to think about the environment and about how we recycle and reuse everyday objects.

Nearly thirty percent of the land on Earth is desert. While the ice in the two cold deserts of the Arctic and Antarctica is starting to melt, hot deserts such as the Gobi Desert and the Sahara are getting bigger. Some countries are trying to stop them growing.

Take China, for example. People know about the Great Wall of China, but China has another wall called the Great Green Wall. In 1978, the Chinese started planting a wall of trees to stop the Gobi Desert growing towards the cities of northern China. Now the wall has about 66 billion trees and by 2050 it will be 4,500 kilometres long with about 100 billion trees.

There is a similar problem with the Sahara Desert, which is the largest hot desert in the world. Twenty countries in Africa are working together to build a wall of trees all the way from Senegal to Djibouti. The new forest will stop the desert destroying more homes and farms in the region.

Eventually, the forest will be about fifteen kilometres wide and 7,775 kilometres long.

Unit 6

These three people are waiting in a train station in Winterthur in Switzerland. I like the picture because it shows three people at different stages in their life communicating in different ways. The elderly lady and the middle-aged lady are chatting and the young adult woman, maybe she’s eighteen or nineteen, is probably texting her friends or using social media.

Dia 1

One day I intend to buy my own house.
2 I want to take a year off to travel overseas.
3 I’d be happy to live in another country.
4 In the future I’d like to learn to play a musical instrument.
5 When I get older I hope to spend more time with my family.
6 These days it’s difficult not to take work home.

Unit 7

V = recorded voice, C = customer care assistant, J = Jane

V: Thank you for calling Teco Art dot com. Your call is important to us. For information about our latest products, press one. For orders, press two. For problems with your order, press three. … All our customer service assistants are busy. We apologize for the delay. Your call is important to us. One of our customer service assistants will be with you as soon as possible.

C: Good morning. Can I help you?
J: Hi, I’m calling about an order for a Computer Circuit Board Clock from your website but I received an email saying I have to wait seven more days.
C: One moment … Do you have the order number?
J: Yes, it’s 8-0-5-3-1-A.
C: Is that A as in alpha?
J: That’s right.
C: Is that Ms Jane Powell of 90 North Lane?
J: Yes, it is.
C: Hmm. Can I put you on hold for a moment?
J: Sure.
C: Hello?
J: Yes, hello.
C: I’m very sorry but this product isn’t in stock at the moment. We’ll have it in seven days.
J: I already know that. But it’s my husband’s birthday tomorrow.
C: Ah, I see. Well, would you like to order a similar clock? We have an Apple iPod one for thirty-five pounds.
J: Hmm. I really liked the one I ordered.
C: Oh, I’m sorry about that. Would you like to cancel the order?
J: Yes, I think so. How does that work?
C: Well, we’ll refund the amount of thirty-nine pounds to your credit card.
J: OK. Thanks.
C: And would you like confirmation by email?
J: Yes, please.
C: Let me check. Your email is J powell at S mail dot com.
J: That’s right.
C: Is there anything else I can help you with?
J: No, thanks. That’s everything.
C: OK. Goodbye.
J: Bye.
Unit 7

When I left school at 18, I didn’t have a proper job at first. I worked part-time in a restaurant and I also did some manual work for a construction company. In the end, I applied for a job as a steel worker at our local steel mill. Pennsylvania has a large steel industry, though it doesn’t employ as many people nowadays. Anyway, I’ve been here for about five years now. At first it was all low-paid work, but I did a lot of training and learned new skills so now my salary is better.

There are eight people in my team: six men and two women, and we all get on really well. It’s hard work and the hours are long. You’re inside most of the day and you’re working with steel at temperatures which can reach three thousand degrees, so it gets pretty hot round here! Sometimes people are surprised when I tell them where I work. I don’t think they expect women to work in a place like this, but there are quite a few other women working in this kind of industry. In fact, my supervisor is also a woman.

Interviewer, S = scientist

I: How long have you worked for your company?
S: For five years. Since I left college.
I: When did you go to college?
S: I started when I was nineteen and I qualified with my degree about four years later.
I: And have you always lived in Pennsylvania?
S: No, I haven’t. I grew up here but then I went to university in Boston and I’ve lived in one or two other places.
I: So, when did you move back here?
S: In 2015.
I: Have you ever worked overseas?
S: Yes, I have. I worked in Dubai, in the Middle East, two years ago.
I: And how does Pennsylvania compare with other places? Has it been easy living here?
S: Yes, it has, overall.
2
C: Hello, Richard Roberts speaking.
D: Hi, I'm here to fix your photocopier, but I don't know which office. I'm standing at the entrance to the building.
C: OK. Great. So you need to come into the entrance and go up to the third floor. Go through the door on your right and the photocopying room is there. My office is next to it, so I'll meet you.
D: OK. See you in a minute.

H: Hania, M = manager
M: Right. Have a seat, Hania.
H: Thanks.
M: I've looked at your CV and see that you're from Poland. How long have you been in England?
H: I've been here last year to improve my English and then I came back to study fashion this year.
M: I see. So why do you want this job?
H: I have some spare time in the evenings after college and I'd like to earn some extra money.
M: OK. And last year you worked in another restaurant. What did you like about your last job?
H: Helping the customers and trying to give good service.
M: How did you deal with any difficult situations?
H: At the weekends we were very busy in the evenings so sometimes customers had to wait for their food. But I found that most customers are OK if you are friendly and polite. Also you need to apologize when the food is late.

M: Good. Well, I think that's everything. Do you have any questions for me?
H: Yes, it says in the advert you provide training. Can you give me more information about that?
M: Well you have lots of experience, so you probably won't need very much. But on your first day, you work with another waiter and learn about the menu and the different kinds of pizza...

Unit 8

It's difficult to remember what life was like before the types of modern technology we have today. Technology solves mathematical problems for us. It sends messages to friends in a second. It even cooks dinner for us. When technology makes a mistake, it's only because a human has given the wrong instructions. So, what's the next big step in technology? Robots are common in industries such as car manufacturing, and recently NASA sent the first humanoid robot into space, where it works on the International Space Station. It's called Robonaut 2 or R2 and it does all the simple or repetitive jobs so the astronauts can spend more time doing experiments. Perhaps in a few years' time every home will have their own robot to do all the boring work around the house.

More than one billion people in the world need glasses but cannot get them, because they live in places where there aren't any opticians. But now there's a scientist who has solved the problem. Joshua Silver has invented glasses which don't need an optician. They look like a pair of normal glasses, but there is a pump on each side which uses silicone oil. First, you turn a wheel which controls the pump. The pump pushes the silicone oil through the pipe and it moves into the lenses. As the lens fills with oil, the shape of the lens changes and you turn the wheel until you can see correctly.
Silver had the idea a few years ago and he did many experiments before he got it right. A man in Ghana was the first person who used the new glasses. The man made clothes, but he had bad eyesight and found it difficult to work. When the man put on the glasses, he could start working again. Silver says, 'I will not forget that moment.' As a result of this successful test, Silver started an organization which is called the 'Centre for Vision in the Developing World'. The glasses are cheap to produce and over one hundred thousand people now wear them. In particular, the centre works with schools in countries where people can't get glasses easily. Being able to see well can have a big effect on their education.

A: What's the problem?
B: A friend gave me this drone as a present, but I don't understand the instructions.
A: Oh yes. I have one like this.
B: Can you show me how this works?
A: Sure. It looks complicated, but it's really easy to use. First of all, have you charged the battery?
B: Yes, I've done that.
A: So now, turn on the remote control.
B: How did you do that?
A: I turned it on here. It's the button on the side.
B: Oh, ok.
A: So, you have two levers. The left and the right. Let's start with the left. If you push it forwards, the propellers go faster and the drone starts to go up. If you pull it back, the propellers slow down and it comes back down.
B: And what is this other one for?
A: When your drone is in the air, you can move this right lever forwards, backwards, right or left and the drone flies in that direction.
B: OK. And what happens if I press this button?
A: It takes photos. Or if you hold it for longer, it makes a video.
B: Cool. Let's try it.
Unit 9

(The words of Zoltan Takacs are spoken by an actor.)

1
My name’s Zoltan and I spend a lot of time travelling and studying snakes around the world, from the rain forests to the oceans. For me, my work and my holiday is the same thing. When I travel with my family and friends, I often go diving and looking for sea snakes. I’ve even kept sea snakes in the hotel bath. That’s what I call a holiday.

2
My name’s Greg and I have a camping and caravan site in the south of England. Our busiest time is the summer, so I always have my holiday later in the autumn. Because England can be cold later in the year, I put my tent in the car, drive to southern Europe and go camping and hiking in the mountains. My friends think I’m a bit crazy. They think I should do something different for my holidays, but I love camping.

3
I’m Moira and I’m a pilot for an international airline. People think my job is a good way to see the world. Sometimes I have a few hours in a city to go sightseeing, but usually I only see the airport and a hotel room. However, the good thing about my job is that I get a discount on flights, so when I have a holiday, I like flying back to some of the interesting cities I’ve been to and spending more time there.
I also prefer to stay in bed and breakfast accommodation instead of hotels because I think you meet more of the local people that way.

A: How was your holiday?
B: To be honest, I’m really happy to be home!
A: Why? What happened?
B: Well, on the first day at the hotel, someone stole my bag at the reception desk.
A: Did you catch the person?
B: No. He’d run out of the hotel entrance so it was too late. The hotel reported it to the police, but I never got it back. Fortunately, I’d packed my passport and money in a different bag, so as soon as I’d bought some new clothes I went sightseeing.
A: Great.
B: The rest of the holiday went well until the last evening.
Suddenly there was no electricity in the hotel. I went to find the manager, but she’d left for the night. But luckily the assistant manager had some torches and candles and all the hotel guests sat in the reception area and sang traditional songs from their different countries.
That was fun. In fact, that was probably the best night of the holiday!

We’d had a wonderful meal, so we gave the waiter a big tip.
I’d left my passport at home by mistake, so I had to go back.
Unit 10

This man and his family make these baskets in his home in Hung Yen in Vietnam. Local fishermen buy them for catching fish, but some people also use them in the home for storing food. Every morning the man puts as many baskets as he can on his bicycle and slowly cycles around the area. As he goes, people stop him to look at the baskets and discuss a price. At the end of the day he hopes to arrive back home with none left.

Unit 11

Just over one hundred years ago, the British explorer Captain Robert Falcon Scott died with his team of men in the snow and ice of Antarctica. He had reached the South Pole, but never returned to this hut, which was the starting point for his expedition. Now the hut is falling down under the snow, and we would like to save it – not just because of its connection to Scott, though this of course is important. Actually, we are more interested in what you find inside the hut. Because of the freezing temperatures in this part of the world, the hut has become a time capsule. There are items of food, such as butter, biscuits and tins of meat, which are one hundred years old. The ice has preserved them all. There are even some of Scott’s old possessions and equipment, and things like soap and medicine bottles. When you go inside the hut, it’s almost as if he has only just left it. I think we need to look after it because it tells us so much about Scott, but also about our own past.
Last week the captain of a Scottish fishing boat pulled an old bottle out of the sea in one of his fishing nets. He told news reporters that he had been very curious when he’d seen the message inside. However, the message was a bit disappointing. It wasn’t a love letter or a message from someone lost at sea. Instead, the writer said the message needed to be returned to an address. In fact, the bottle was part of a scientific experiment which had begun 98 years before, when scientists threw 1,900 bottles into the sea in order to find out more about the movement of the oceans. It took nearly one hundred years for someone to find this bottle. So it’s the oldest message in a bottle ever found – it’s a world record.

Of course, the history of messages in bottles goes back many hundreds of years. Over two thousand years ago, the ancient Greeks put bottles in the sea to find out if the Mediterranean Sea and the Atlantic Ocean were connected. And sailors in World War I sent messages home by bottles. For example, one sailor in 1915 wrote a love letter to his wife. The message said that his boat was sinking and that he loved her.

Good morning and thank you all for coming. Today I’d like to talk about my holiday in Peru, and in particular, about my journey to Machu Picchu. It’s also called ‘The Lost City of the Incas’. Let me begin by telling you about the history of Machu Picchu. It was discovered by the explorer Hiram Bingham in 1911...

So, that’s everything I wanted to say about Hiram Bingham. Now, let’s look at the history of the Incas and why they built Machu Picchu. The first Incas lived in the region of Peru around the thirteenth century...

OK. Now, the next part of my presentation is about my own journey through Peru and up to Machu Picchu. For this, I’d like to show you some of my photos. So, this first one is a picture of me in the town of Aguas Calientes. You have to catch the bus from here to Machu Picchu...

OK, so to sum up, Peru, and especially Machu Picchu is a magical place and anyone who’s interested in history should go there. Are there any questions?

When a tornado is coming, most people drive in the opposite direction. But storm chasers look for tornadoes and drive towards them. Some storm chasers are scientists and they try to learn more about how tornadoes are formed. Other storm chasers are just everyday people who are interested and want to get good photos. The most common time of day to see a tornado is between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m., but they can be very unpredictable. They can change direction at any moment and so they are difficult to follow. That also makes them extremely dangerous. They can destroy trees and houses in seconds and some storm chasers have died while they were following tornadoes.
