BECKY’S BLOG

Hi guys!

My uncle Dan has got a great job. I’d really like to do it, too. He’s an English teacher, but he doesn’t teach in a school – he teaches online. He teaches English to students from different countries. He’s got students from Japan, Spain, Mexico, Turkey... all in the same class! But he isn’t in a classroom with a board and chairs and desks. He sits and talks to a camera on a computer. It’s cool.

Every day at the same time the students go online and connect to the class. Then they have a lesson. Of course, it’s a different time in the different countries. Sometimes it’s in the morning, but sometimes it’s at night and the students are a bit sleepy!

It’s just like a real classroom. They ask him questions and they can talk to the other students, too. They talk about their hobbies and sports and films. Some of them are good at sports or play different instruments. It’s very interesting – but everything is in English. Imagine! They don’t only chat – they learn grammar and vocabulary, too! Then they do their homework and send it to my uncle online. He marks it and sends it back. Sometimes when they have problems they chat to him online after the lesson. Uncle Dan tells them the things they need to practice.

Uncle Dan teaches lots of lessons every day and he loves it! The students love learning like this, too. What a good way to learn a language and find friends in different countries. Would you like to be in my uncle’s English classes? Here’s the weblink.

Hi!

I'm from Australia. I live in Canberra, the capital city. I've got two sisters. Their names are Jessica and Sarah, and they're thirteen and seven. Here's a photo of me and my sisters with our mum and dad. I've got brown eyes and dark hair, and I'm tall. I'm not really fat or thin, and I've got glasses but I only wear them at school. Jessica and I go to a big secondary school called Cowbridge. There are 31 students in my class! My favourite subjects are Sports, Biology and Geography. I like ICT too.

I get up at seven and I cycle to school. My school is 20 minutes away by bike. After school on Wednesdays, I play rugby. My sister Jessica doesn't play rugby, but she plays football and she's really good at it! Please write back soon and tell me about yourself and your family.

Bye for now!

1 Look at the photos. How many people do you think live in the house? Then read and check.

THE NARROWEST HOUSE IN THE WORLD?

How big is your house? Are there two, three or maybe four bedrooms? Is there a dining room as well as a living room? Can you put a bed, desk, chair, wardrobe and cupboards in your bedroom? Perhaps there are windows to let in the light. Well, imagine living in the narrowest house in the world! It’s only one and a half metres wide and it’s too small for stairs. There’s a ladder to go up to the very, very small bedroom.

This house is called Keret House and it belongs to Israeli writer, Etgar Keret. Etgar thinks we need more houses today. Many people don’t have homes and this is a big problem. His very narrow house shows that people can live in small places. He built it between two other big buildings.

There aren’t many rooms in Etgar’s house. There’s a tiny kitchen with a sink – you can put two cups and plates in it! – and a small cooker. There’s a fridge too, but there isn’t space for food, only two drinks. There’s also a dinner table with chairs for two people. There isn’t a bath, but Etgar washes under a shower which is above the tiny toilet. Up the ladder, there is one small bed and a little desk with a light. There are some books on a shelf behind his bed. And that’s it! There aren’t real windows, only two holes in the wall. Etgar can see if it’s light or dark outside.

Etgar built this house because he wants people to think about housing problems. It was an art project. Now, he sometimes stays and works there. It’s OK for one person for a short time, but for a family? No way! Would you like to live here?

1 Read the text. Are the sentences True (T), False (F) or is the information Not Mentioned (NM) in the text?

CHESS IS COOL!

Ask a young person today, ‘Do you like chess?’ and the answer is usually, ‘No, I don’t – it’s boring!’ There are a lot of different activities nowadays for young people to do in their free time. They think chess is a game for old people. But today in Norway chess is very popular. It’s cool to play chess and that’s because of a young man called Magnus Carlsen.

Norway is sometimes called ‘The land of the midnight sun’. In the summer, the sun doesn’t set for two and a half months. But in the north, in the cold winter, there is no sun for nearly two months! Teenagers in Norway have got a lot of free time when there is no daylight. There’s lots of time to play board games like chess. Perhaps that is why the best young chess player in the world is a Norwegian – 24-year-old Magnus Carlsen.

Magnus, ‘the Mozart of chess’, is a ‘grand master’. That means he plays top level chess. He’s good-looking and speaks good English. He enters a lot of competitions and practises chess for four or five hours every day. He usually wins competitions with players from all over the world. He’s the best player in the world, and so he doesn’t have a normal life. He advertises clothes on television with famous actresses and he earns millions of pounds every year!

Magnus loves playing chess, but he has other hobbies, too. He surfs the Internet, and plays sport. He loves football, skiing and ski jumping. He likes reading, especially chess books. Does he like being a chess superstar? He is happy that chess is now more popular in Norway because of him. A lot of teenagers think it’s cool to play chess now. But Magnus thinks that football superstars are better!

1 In Norway they have sun at midnight during the winter. T/F/NM
2 People have a lot of free time when it’s dark all day long. T/F/NM
3 Magnus Carlsen loves music by Mozart. T/F/NM
4 Magnus only speaks Norwegian. T/F/NM
5 Magnus is a ‘grand master’. T/F/NM
6 He plays in chess competitions for four or five hours every day. T/F/NM
7 Magnus enjoys doing sport. T/F/NM
8 Teenagers in Norway want to be like Magnus and play chess. T/F/NM
9 Magnus is also very good at playing football. T/F/NM
10 Magnus likes books about football. T/F/NM

You don’t have to wait for ages like at the airport and we got here so quickly! But Janie lost her ticket at the station and we had to spend a long time looking for it. Then I couldn’t find my passport. In the end I found it in my bag.

But this city is great – I love Paris! It’s very beautiful. Yesterday morning we went to the top of the Eiffel Tower. The view from the top is amazing. You can see clearly all over the city.

In the afternoon we went on a boat trip on the River Seine. The French guide gave us a lot of information. She spoke in French, but she also spoke English really well. Janie could understand the French, but I only understood the English.

I can’t speak French at all! After the boat trip I bought some souvenirs for my friends. They were quite expensive – just T-shirts and some books, but I spent most of my money. Paris isn’t a cheap city!

We had to get back to the hotel early last night because we had some tickets for a theatre show in the evening. It was brilliant! There was lots of music and dancing. We went to bed really late and today I’m very tired. And I must get up early tomorrow to catch the train back. But I’m really enjoying Paris!

I can tell you more about the trip when I see you.

Bye for now!

4 Write the names of the objects using the underlined words from the text.

Cooking healthy food doesn't have to be really difficult! And healthy food doesn't have to be boring. We all need to eat some fruit at breakfast. This recipe is a healthy but tasty way to have some. And you know that you aren't eating any additives or preservatives. The recipe needs some blueberries, but if you haven't got any, you can use other fruit, too. You can also put in some chocolate if you want a treat! It's a piece of cake!

INGREDIENTS
125 g plain flour
75 g wholemeal flour
200 g rolled oats
75 g brown sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 bananas, mashed
2 large eggs, separated
3 tablespoons sunflower oil
250 ml milk
125 g blueberries
(or strawberries, chocolate, etc.)

METHOD
1 Put all the flour, oats, sugar, baking powder and salt in a big bowl.
2 Make a hole in the centre and add the bananas, egg yolks, milk and oil. Mix them all together gently.
3 In another bowl whisk the egg whites for a couple of minutes. You need to whisk hard!
4 Add the egg whites to the mixture gently. Add the blueberries or some chocolate and mix again gently.
5 Put the mixture into 12 muffin cases. Lay the cases on a baking tray. Put the tray in the oven and cook for 25 minutes at 200°C.
6 Leave them to cool on a wire rack and then put them into a plastic container. You can keep them for 4–5 days.

1 Read the texts. Are the sentences about Green’s (G), The Star (S) or both (B)?

The Good Food Review ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Star is a new restaurant that serves traditional English food. It is owned by Tom Blossom, an excellent chef who had his own cooking series on television last year. Tom started his career as a chef about twenty years ago. He was working for his father in the family restaurant when he realised that he wanted to become a chef in his own right. Tom didn’t train as a chef – he learned everything from his father. His traditional English meals are excellent and they don’t cost much money. Visitors to The Star on a Sunday shouldn’t miss the roast chicken. It is served with some delicious vegetables, including Tom’s famous roast potatoes. But there aren’t many healthy dishes on the menu!

The Star is in the countryside close to a river. At the moment it is quite small, but Tom plans to build another room at the back and there are some beautiful pieces of furniture. While I was waiting for my meal to arrive I enjoyed the spectacular view over the river and countryside. You shouldn’t miss the opportunity to try The Star. It’s the perfect place for a meal with your family.

Green’s

A new restaurant opened last night near the town of Lemstock. ‘Green’s’ is a top class restaurant and its owner is the famous TV chef Craig Green. Craig is a young talented chef. While he was training to be a chef he entered a TV cooking competition and won. Now he is one of the most famous chefs in the country. ‘Green’s’ is his first restaurant, but he plans to open more restaurants in London, Manchester and Birmingham. Last night there were a lot of famous people and journalists in the restaurant for opening night.

Craig Green cooks a mixture of traditional British food and food from different countries. The menu was excellent, but there weren’t any cheap dishes on it! Craig is famous for creating some wonderful salads and delicious cakes. But the amazing thing is, they haven’t got any fat or additives in them and all of the dishes are healthy.

I also really liked the design of the restaurant. It was simple and modern with some beautiful paintings on the walls. It didn’t feel too dark or serious like many expensive restaurants. You should definitely go to Green’s for a meal on a special occasion.

1 It isn’t in the town centre. 5 The meals aren’t expensive.
2 The owner has qualifications in cooking. 6 The food here is from one country.
3 The owner appeared on television. 7 The things you can see in the restaurant are from a long time ago.
4 The owner wants more restaurants.

1 Read the rules about will and won’t and decide if they are True (T) or False (F).

We use will and will not to talk about the future and make future predictions.

The contractions are ’ll and won’t.

We use the verb without to after will and won’t.

T/F

2 Match the halves to make sentences.

1 Take an umbrella with you

2 The roads will be icy

3 Temperatures won’t go above 14°C

4 In the afternoon we’ll see the sun.

5 The roads will dry quickly

6 There will be strong winds

a so don’t forget your jackets.

b and falling trees.

c so drive carefully.

d because it will rain later.

e when the sun comes out.

f but later it will rain again.

3 Read the answers and complete the questions. Use will and the main verb.

1 Do you think your parents will take you to the zoo?

Yes, they will. They’ll take you too, if you want.

2 We don’t see any gorillas in the mountains in Ghana?

No, we won’t. We’ll only see them in Uganda.

3 You to my house after school?

Yes, OK. I’ll come at four.

4 the pandas the visitors?

No, I don’t think so. They won’t attack anything.

5 What do you think? it again today?

Yes, it will. Look at the sky. It snows every day here.

6 she a camera with her?

Of course she will. She takes that camera everywhere.

4 Make predictions with will or won’t and these verbs.

be • come • do • drive • eat • go

1 My sister a dancer when she’s older because she can’t dance.

2 Uncle Adam any gardening this afternoon because it’s raining.

3 We big cars in 2050. Petrol costs more every day.

4 The dog that piece of fish. He hates fish.

5 Don’t open the window or the rain in.

6 Tamsin to Ben’s party tonight. She’s on holiday.

1. Correct eight mistakes with word order in Annie’s email message.

Hi Maisy,
Good to from you hear. I’m looking forward to seeing you on Saturday. I know we’re meeting at 10 am, but where we are meeting? Are going we to go shopping? I go often shopping on Saturdays. I want to buy some jeans new. Are you going to dinner have with us? We eat usually fish and chips on Saturdays. Let me know what you think!
Later see you!
Annie

2. Read the email message and underline the three pieces of information that Bailey wants to know.

Hi Angela,
It was great to see you today – I had a great time! The film was really good and the food was delicious. And it was fun looking at the shops. Did your mum like the present? I hope your journey home wasn’t too long and difficult. Were the trains delayed because of the weather? Let’s make some arrangements for next weekend. Shall we go to the cinema again? Let me know and I’ll meet you at the station again.
Have a good week!
Bailey

5. Yes, I’d like to! Why don’t we do our homework together? I’m sure you can help me a lot!
6. No, I don’t usually catch the train to school – I get the bus. If it’s busy, it takes longer. But today it was fine.

4. Read the email message from your friend Jenny. Write a short reply to her and answer all her questions.

Hi!
I am so happy that you’re coming to visit England! It’s going to be great! We’re going to stay in London for two days. What would you like to see and do there? And do you like all types of food? Mum’s a great cook. Tell me if there’s any English food you’d like to try. My dad is going to meet you at the airport. I’ll be at school, unfortunately. When and where are you arriving?
Write back soon,
Jenny

1 Look at the photos and the introduction to the posts. Read the text quickly to match each moment with the correct post. You do not need to use them all.
1 going to the concert of a famous singer
2 getting a new car
3 recovering after an accident
4 winning a competition
5 learning to drive
6 reading about something important
7 entering a talent show
8 becoming a doctor

2 Read the posts again. Who says what? Write A, B, C or D.
1 There may be more moments like this again soon.
2 Now I can do a lot of things I couldn’t do before.
3 I know what I want to do in the future.
4 It happened in front of a lot of people.
5 I did things like this before, but I didn’t feel the same afterwards.
6 I was worried for a long time.
7 My dream is now coming true.
8 He had a bad experience on holiday.

Tell everyone about the happiest moment of your life!

A KeiraKiosk
I think that my happiest moment was when I passed my driving test! At school I took lots of big exams and I was happy to pass them. But my driving test was more difficult so I was happier when I passed than I was very frightened and worried. Then, when I passed, I felt so relieved. Now you can drive you can be more independent and more responsible. I mean, now I can go out on my own at night and I don’t need Mum or Dad to get me.

B Brad4ever
My brother was in an skiing accident last year and he broke his leg. And worse than that, he hit his head hard and he was unconscious for two days. We were so worried about him, but then he just opened his eyes and looked at me. And now he’s fine. That was my happiest moment!

C ArtyAmy
My dream is to be a writer. I started writing short stories when I was ten years old and last year I sent one of my stories to a magazine for a competition. This story was a bit different, it was longer than my earlier stories. I also think it was funnier than some of the others. I won the competition with that story and they published my story in the magazine. When I read the magazine and saw my story there on the page, I cried. I was so happy and proud! And now I’m writing more stories for the magazine – it’s amazing! Perhaps I will be a novelist one day.

D Nerys14
Last week my sister entered a TV talent show. She is a better singer than a lot of professionals. I went with her to London. The show was in a big theatre and there were thousands of people in the audience. My sister was very nervous, it was her first time on a stage, but she sang beautifully and at the end everyone stood up. It was brilliant! The judges all stood up and clapped too. The show is going to be on TV next month – I hope she wins!

Developing writing

1 Read the newspaper article and answer these questions.

UK TEENAGERS GOT MORE POCKET MONEY FIVE YEARS AGO

A recent survey showed that, on average, a British teenager gets £6.50 pocket money every week. This is lower than five years ago, when the average was £9.75. The explanation is probably that many more parents are unemployed and so families are poorer. Teenagers say that life is more expensive these days, and that £6.50 is not enough. Today’s teenagers need to work for their money, according to the writer of the survey.

1 How much pocket money did teenagers get in the past?

2 How much do they get now?

3 Why are families poorer?

4 What do teenagers say about £6.50 pocket money?

5 What do teenagers need to do?

2 Read this letter to the editor. Correct the beginning and ending of the letter. Then put the paragraphs into the correct order.

Dear Sir/Madam

Firstly, in my view, teenagers today are very lazy. They get too much pocket money and they don’t do anything to earn it. £6.50 a week is a lot of money. When I was a child, my father gave me a pound a week, but I didn’t get it for nothing. I washed his car and cut the grass in the summer.

As a parent, I feel very strongly about the question of pocket money. I want to know what other people think about this.

I am writing about your article in last night’s newspaper. I agree completely with the writer of the survey. Personally, I think the real problem is this.

All teenagers do is spend money. Shopping is their favourite hobby! Everything they buy costs a lot of money. It is also very unfair to ask parents for more money. Children need to think of the whole family and not just themselves.

Yours truly,
Barney Pitt

3 Here is some information about writing formal letters of opinion. Find and correct three mistakes.

- In formal letters, we usually use contractions. For example, we write I’m interested not I am interested in other people’s opinions.
- To express our opinions we use words and phrases like I agree / I disagree / Personally / When I was a child / In my opinion / In my view.

4 What do you think about the article in 1? Do you agree with the writer of the letter or not? Answer the questions to help you.

Do you get any pocket money?
How much pocket money do you get?
How much did you get last year?
Do you have to do chores in the house?
Do you agree that teenagers are lazy?
Are your parents fair, in your opinion?

5 Write your letter to the editor. Use the information in 3 and follow the correct paragraph order in the letter in 2. Give your opinion with your ideas from 4.

THE BUMBLEBEE

I think the bumblebee is the most interesting insect. The bumblebee is a type of large bee. It's not the same as a honey bee. Its body is rounder and fatter and it's got bright yellow and black hairs on its back. Bumblebees don't produce very much honey, so there isn't enough for people to collect and eat. These bees aren't dangerous and they hardly ever sting. When honey bees sting, they die, but after a sting a bumblebee won't die. A bumblebee can sting several times.

Most bumblebees live in small colonies or groups of about 50 bees and they have a queen. The queens lay eggs after sleeping all winter. People should realise that these bees are very important to the world. While they are visiting flowers looking for food, they help new flowers to grow by spreading pollen. Without the bumblebees many flowers and fruit trees cannot grow.

There are about 250 types of bumblebee in the world, but they are having a lot of problems. Three types are now extinct and scientists believe many others will disappear in a few years. There are many reasons for this. A lot of bumblebees are dying from a disease that they get when they visit certain flowers. Scientists are going to do more studies in the future to try and find the best way to protect bumblebees against this disease.

Another reason is that a lot of large fields are disappearing. This means there are fewer places where bumblebees can find food. Gardens are a very good habitat for bumblebees and we should make our gardens better places for them to visit. Plant lots of flowers and more bumblebees will fly into your garden. The best flowers are the most brightly coloured - especially purple, blue and pink. Scientists say that bumble bees can’t see the colour red! I'm going to plant flowers in a box outside my bedroom window this year. It will be great to see and hear the bees, and help the environment, too.

1. The bumblebee looks ...
   a) fatter and more dangerous than a honey bee.
   b) round and brightly coloured.
   c) large and black.
2. Bumblebees do not normally ...

   b) sting people when they collect the honey.
   c) make very much honey.
3. Bumblebees ...
   a) are very dangerous.
   b) have a queen.
   c) live alone.
4. The queen bees sleep ...
   a) after they’ve laid their eggs.
   b) between March and May.
   c) in the winter, then lay their eggs.
5. There are ...
   a) fewer types of bumblebee than there were.
   b) more than 250 types of bumblebee.
   c) 25 types of bumblebee in danger of extinction.
6. Bumblebees are useful because ...
   a) they are good for the environment.
   b) we need their honey.
   c) they make our gardens peaceful places.
7. Bumblebees will come into our garden when ...
   a) they are not in danger.
   b) we plant the flowers they like.
   c) they see red flowers.
8. Bumblebees help ...
   a) bees to make honey.
   b) new flowers to grow.

MY FAVOURITE NEW INVENTIONS

I've read a lot about new inventions and advanced technology recently for a school project. Technology is progressing so quickly that it's really quite scary! Every year, smaller computers are developed and technology is used more than ever. Here are some of my favourite recent inventions.

A Everyone knows that old people sometimes get lonely. The Japanese have invented a special robot. It is designed to look and act like a small, furry animal! These robots are used a lot by old people in Japan. When these robot pets are talked to, they turn their heads and move. They also make little noises like an animal when they are stroked! It's just like having a real pet so it makes you feel better when you spend time with it. Awesome!

B Another of my favourite inventions is the 3D printer. They're expensive now, but in a few years they'll be cheaper and I will be able to buy one. The 3D printer was invented in 1984 – but it didn't become popular then. Now more and more companies are starting to use them. Ordinary printers print onto flat paper. The 3D printer produces models. It can copy nearly anything, from small models of houses to jewellery! Soon every home will have one.

C Wearable technology has progressed a lot recently. I remember the first time I heard about it. Skiers were given goggles with built-in computers. The ski goggles didn't look different, but there was a tiny screen and it was connected to buttons in the skiers' jackets. When these buttons were pressed, the skier was shown information about his speed and where the other skiers were. Soon we will all have tiny computer screens near our eyes. I wear normal glasses now but I'd love to have ones with computers in them like Google glasses.

Which is your favourite? Leave your comments here.

CRITICAL THINKING

According to the text which of these options answer the question: Why is it important to have new inventions?
1. They make our lives easier.
2. They make our lives more interesting.
3. They make our lives cheaper.
4. They make our lives faster.
5. They make us healthier.

1 Read the text. Are the sentences True (T), False (F) or Not Mentioned (NM)?

Many online stores have started ... and have stopped again. But some have continued to get bigger and bigger. The most successful online businesses are eBay, Yahoo, Google and Amazon. They have made online shopping very popular today. This is the story of Amazon.

Amazon.com was started by Jeff Bezos from the US. He sold books on the Internet. He did not have a lot of money, but he had some very good ideas. The business started in his garage in 1994. Then $40,000 was invested by a man called Nick Hanauer. This helped, but the website was dull and not very exciting. It was not a great success at first.

The money for a better website was given to Bezos by a second investor, Tom Alburg. His $100,000 helped Amazon to become one of the most successful online businesses we have ever seen.

Bezos has given online shoppers more than just a good price and free postage. For example today, visitors to Amazon.com are asked to write book reviews. And if you buy a book, other books are recommended. This helps customers make a choice. Electronic books are also sold on the site. If you buy one, you can download it immediately, so you don’t have to wait for the post.

This and many other new ideas have made Amazon.com one of the biggest Internet sellers of books, CDs and films. But now it is popular for more than just entertainment. Today, millions of different items are bought from Amazon every week. It sells clothes, beauty products, furniture, toys, and electronics. They haven’t started selling cars and houses yet ... but who knows!

1 Jeff Bezos was a writer before he started Amazon. T/F/NM
2 He was rich, but did not have any investors. T/F/NM
3 Amazon.com was an immediate success. T/F/NM
4 Bezos was helped by two investors. T/F/NM
5 The second website was better than the first. T/F/NM
6 Buyers can write about their opinions of books on the website. T/F/NM
7 Amazon now sells houses. T/F/NM
8 More people buy things online today than in shops. T/F/NM

Writing

4 Write a short biography of someone who is important to you. Write about:
   • where and when they were born
   • their childhood and adolescence
   • their adult life
   • why they are important to you

COMMON MISTAKES

5 Correct the mistakes in the sentences. In some sentences, there is more than one mistake.
1 I am born in the US but I am lived in the UK now.
2 My favourite book was written from Jane Austen.
3 Do you have seen Matt Damon's new film?
4 If you will go to my town the next year, you will see a beautiful new building.
5 I have climbing a mountain but I have ever walking across a desert.
6 If I cook rice, I am always burning it.
7 Thank you for shopping here. Here's your money.
8 We haven't been to the museum already. We're going tomorrow.
9 Do you like a bag?
10 These houses are built a hundred years ago.
11 I have seen just Rosie in the park.
12 To conclusion, I want to say that I really enjoyed the holiday.
Study skills

Unit 1

GRAMMAR: USING THE GRAMMAR REFERENCE
- The Grammar reference section appears at the end of every unit of the Student's Book. It gives information about the grammar you study in the unit. Use it to revise and check that you understand the grammar.
- Then use the Grammar in context exercises in this book to practise and check that you can use the grammar.

LISTENING: UNDERSTANDING THE BASIC INFORMATION IN A TEXT
- The first time that you listen to a text, it is good to understand the basic information in the text. It isn’t necessary to understand everything. The second time you listen, listen for more detail.

Unit 2

READING: PREDICTION
- Look at the photos, pictures and titles that go with a text. They help you to know things about a text before you read.

SPEAKING: LEARNING TO SPEAK ENGLISH
- To speak English you need to practise. Use every opportunity to speak in class (and outside).
- Speak in a loud, clear voice. Look at the person you are speaking to. Don’t think about mistakes all the time. The important thing is to speak.

Unit 3

VOCABULARY: KEEPING A RECORD OF NEW VOCABULARY
- To learn new vocabulary, you need to revise it regularly. To be able to do this, write the new words down in a vocabulary notebook or in a list.
- Remember vocabulary by writing words in groups. One word in a group helps you to remember other words in the same group. For example, make three lists from page 26 in Unit 2: Rooms, Household objects and Furniture.

LISTENING: BEFORE YOU LISTEN
- Always look at the pictures before you listen to a text. They help you to know what the situation is.
- Read the questions, too. They give you an idea about what comes in the text. They help you to know what is important in the text and what isn’t. Underline the words in questions that you think are important.

Unit 4

READING: UNDERSTANDING THE GIST OF A TEXT
- The first time that you read a text, read quickly. Don’t stop when there are new words. The idea is to understand the basic information in the text. We call this understanding the ‘gist’ of a text.
- When we read the text again, we start looking at specific details.

VOCABULARY: LEARNING SPELLING
Here are some ideas to help you learn the spelling of new words.
- Write all words down in a vocabulary list, even the ones you know the meaning of. Look at your list frequently to learn the spelling.
- Test yourself. Look at a word, cover it, try to spell it, and check it. Or ask a partner to read out words and you try to spell them.
- When there are rules, learn them, e.g. regular past form -ed endings.
- Use a dictionary to check your spelling when you write in English.
- Read lots of English. When you see a word again and again, it becomes easy to remember the spelling.
Unit 6
LISTENING: LISTENING OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM
Listen to as much English as possible. Apart from listening in class, try to listen to:
- CDs or MP3s that come with books or readers
- the original versions of films
- DVDs in English (with or without subtitles)
- songs
- radio or Internet radio in English

WRITING: PLANNING BEFORE YOU WRITE
- Before you write in English, it is always a good idea to plan. This helps you to think of ideas. It helps you to organise the information in a clear logical way. It also helps you not to repeat yourself.
- Planning takes a little time, but it saves time when you start to write. It also helps you to write a good, interesting text.

Unit 7
READING: GUESSING NEW WORDS FROM CONTEXT
- When there are words in a text that you do not understand, look carefully at the context to help you guess the meaning.
- Look at the sentences and words just before and just after the word. This can help you to find out the type of word (noun, verb, adjective, etc.) and the meaning.

WRITING: KNOWING WHO THE READER IS
- When we write to friends and family, we use informal expressions and contractions.
- We use formal expressions when we write to somebody that we do not know personally, such as to a newspaper, a company on a school, university or hospital. In these cases, we do not usually use contractions.

Unit 8
VOCABULARY: LEARNING OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM
- Reading is a great way to learn new vocabulary. Outside the classroom you can read reviews, novels, readers, poems, the words to songs, web pages, comics, newspapers and magazines.
- When you read longer texts, like readers or novels, don’t worry about every new word. Try to get a general understanding of the text. Only look up words that seem very important or common.

WRITING: PARAGRAPHS
- A paragraph is made up of different sentences which talk about one main topic.
- Paragraphs help you to organise and structure your writing. This makes your written work easy to understand. When there are no paragraphs, compositions can be confusing and repetitive.

Unit 9
VOCABULARY: REMEMBERING NEW WORDS
- The best way to remember new vocabulary is to use it. When you learn a new group of words, use your things to help you remember the words. You can stick Post-its or sticky labels around your room or around your house with the word of the object on it.
- Play memory games with yourself. Read through the vocabulary words, then cover up the words and use the pictures to see what you can remember. Ask your friends to test you.

SPEAKING: SPEAKING ENGLISH BETTER
- Some people speak very correct English, but they speak very slowly. In that case, relax. Don’t worry too much about mistakes. Practise speaking for longer periods without stopping.
- Some people speak a lot, and fast, but they make lots of mistakes. When there are a lot of important mistakes it can be difficult for other people to understand you. Slow down. Correct yourself if you know that you made a mistake.
- Listen to and read lots of English. The more you listen and read, the easier it is to speak.

Unit 10
VOCABULARY: EVALUATING YOUR PROGRESS
- When you learn a language, it’s useful to think about your own progress. What can you do better now? What do you need to do to continue making progress?
- The end of a course is a good time to evaluate your progress. Remember to be realistic in your evaluation and your ambitions.

SPEAKING: INTONATION
- In English, how we say something is very important. If we use the correct intonation, we can sound interested and polite. If we don’t, we can sound bored or rude and make people angry.
- In public situations, the intonation usually goes up and down more than usual. Try to use the correct intonation to create a good impression.
